PREFACE

“ The best of the sport is to do the deed, and say nothing. ”

HERBERT'S Jacula Prudentum, 1640.

CHAS. A. BERNAU

25th October 1911

Billiter Square Buildings,

London, E. C.

HOW TO CONSULT THIS BOOK

Before attempting to consult this book, the searcher is recommended to study these three pages.

Please turn to page one, where you will find that the first entry reads :—

“ Abarrowe & Porter, 1564, 32 ”

From this entry, without further reference, we learn that :—

“ AN ABARROWE (bride) married a PORTER (bridegroom) in the year 1564. ”

The sexes are indicated in every entry by the use of italics for the bride's surname.

On pages vii to xvi will be found a “ List of Parishes Indexed,” which supplies a Key to the number (in our example this is “ 32 ”) immediately following the date in each entry in this volume.

Turning to that list and to the number “ 32 ” in it, we are now able to add to our information that the PORTER-ABARROWE marriage of 1564 is to be found in the Registers of St. Dionis Backchurch, London, transcribed by J. Lemuel Chester, LL.D., and published by the Harleian Society, in 1878, as the third volume of its “ Register Section. ”

Having now discovered the locality of the marriage, if we think that the full entry is likely to prove useful to us, we turn to the volume thus indicated and find, under date 5 Nov. 1564, that William PORTER, of St. Sepulchre's parish, London, married Joan ABARROWE, of the parish of St. Dionis Backchurch, London, at the latter Church.

Before finishing with this example, it should be noted that (as with every entry) the same marriage will be found indexed under "Porter", as follows:—

"Porter & Abarrowe, 1564, 32"

A second example will serve to illustrate our procedure when the registers of the parish in question have not yet been printed.

The last entry on page seven reads:—

"Aret & Rigge, 1584, 71"

This entry, with the aid of the former example, will be read as:—

"An ARET (bridegroom) married a RIGGE (bride) in the year 1584 at Hambleton, co. Bucks.; the registers of Hambleton have not yet been printed."

If a full copy of this entry be required, the searcher must write direct to "The Incumbent, Hambleton, Bucks.," mentioning the surnames of bridegroom and bride and the year when the marriage was solemnized, requesting him to send a certified copy of the entry. Enclose with the application the Incumbent's legal fee of three shillings and seven pence (for the search and certificate) and a stamped and addressed envelope for his reply.

The spelling of a surname is of no importance in the XVI. Century.

Do not consult this work only under the modern spelling of your surname, but under every conceivable combination of letters which may reasonably be considered as expressing its modern sound, e.g., if you are in search of the marriage of an ADAMS, look for it under ADAMS, ADAMES, ADAMPS, ADDAMS, ADDAMES, ADDAMYS and even under EDAMS and HADAMS.

HOW TO CONSULT THIS BOOK

Remember that "U" and "V", also "I" and "Y", were interchangeable, that an "H" more or less, as an initial letter, was immaterial, and that surnames in XVI. Century records are frequently to be found with several letters omitted, e.g. "Cart", "Clemt" and "Colma" may be written for "Carter", "Clement" and "Coleman".

An endeavour has been made, however, to preserve the original spelling of the registers; editorial changes having been ignored as frequently misleading.

The arrangement of the entries is intended to be strictly alphabetical.

Where there are several entries relating to the same spelling of a surname these are arranged in order of date (e.g. "HILL"), and further, where there are several of the same year, in the alphabetical order of the surnames of the second parties to the marriages.

It should be remembered that in the XVI. Century the year began on 25th March; therefore the date which we would now write as "24 Feb. 1589-90" is indexed here as "1589."

"Ff" and "ff" as initial letters are replaced by "F." "[]" indicates that the surname of one party to the marriage is either illegible or not given in the original.

There are, of course, mistakes in the work, though every endeavour has been made to avoid them, including the spelling aloud twice of each name in the manuscript and the careful examination under a reading-glass of every letter in the proof-sheets.

The following have kindly assisted the Editor considerably in his work :—

Mr. William BRADBROOK, M.R.C.S., F.S.G., of Bletchley, Bucks.

The Rev. Albert E. BRIGGS, of East Markham, Notts.

The Rev. Wilmot A. BRYAN, of Boyton, Cornwall.
