Rev. B. D. Snudden states that the Sunday morning Easter services at the First Methodist Church of Glendale will be under the new time schedule.

Mrs. Eva Tuft, Chairman of the Surgical Dressings Department of the Red Cross, spent several days in Monrovia recently visiting with old friends.

Mrs. Ida Tompkins and her sister, Miss Elizabeth, of Gallatin, Tenn., who had been visiting in the home of their cousin, H. Douglas, 519 North Brand boulevard, will leave for their southern home tomorrow.

The Good Templars banquet, which was to have taken place at the Jewel City Cafe tonight (Friday), has been postponed. It will be served in the near future and the time and place will be announced in these columns.

David L. Gregg leaves Saturday morning for Salt Lake City to look after his business interests there. He is of the firm of Glendinning & Gregg, dealers in mining and milling machinery and supplies, also railroad equipment.

Oliver C. Logan of Casa Verdugo states that he has recently leased a small store at the corner of Stocker and Central avenues to Miss Mabel Noel, who plans to conduct there a notion store. Miss Noel is a sister-in-law of Mrs. W. J. Hoopes of 1446 Ivy street.

T. B. Thompson, a real estate dealer who formerly resided in Monrovia but who has been making his home in Glendale for several months, and whose wife is ill, has taken over the real estate office of R. M. Jackson on Broadway and will soon be ready for active business there.

Alfred Knight, who has been at Fort Monroe, Va., taking an officer's training course, has received his commission as second lieutenant in the Coast Artillery and has been assigned to Fort MacArthur. His mother, Mrs. Arthur P. Knight of 317 East Second street, says she is expecting him to reach Los Angeles the latter part of next week.

A. J. Van Wie of 221 West Cypress avenue has returned from the east and resumed his duties as night desk sergeant in the police department. He was called east by the death of a brother and was accompanied on the trip by his mother, whose home is in Los Angeles. She remained and will be with a daughter living near Mason City, Iowa, for some time. While away Mr. Van Wie visited Minneapolis, Minnesota, and spent several days in Mason City and Kansas City.

A preliminary meeting of the Liberty Loan Campaign Committee of Casa Verdugo will be held Monday evening at 7:30 at the Logan Armory. Arrangements will then be made for a general meeting for the people of Casa Verdugo and the whole Valley, which will probably take place Wednesday evening and which will be addressed by prominent speakers. Menzo Williams, chairman of the local committee, will have charge of the arrangements.

Officers of the Glendale Branch of the British Ambulance Society are anxious that members and friends should not forget the Scotch Tea which will take place at the Jewel City Cafe, corner of Glendale avenue and Broadway, Monday afternoon. Mesdames George Mitchell and Helen Campbell, the hostesses, will be assisted by members of the Tea Committee. Francis J. Henry will sing some Scotch songs. Miss Devina Woods of the Tropico district will give a Highland fling and sword dance in costume.

AT THE CHURCH TONIGHT

The Christian Church will bring to a close its week of prayer in a great general meeting of all the members and friends at the church tonight at 7:45. This will be especially a prayer service with a message by the pastor fitting the occasion. This church is facing the issues of the present hour the best prepared in its history. These are days when the whole church must make good and it can do nothing more than pray until it has prayed. If Christianity loses out, all is lost and the success of the great war means little.

SWEET PEA LUNCHEON

Mrs. A. R. Chappell entertained Thursday with a beautiful three-course luncheon at her home at 1457 Myrtle street, in honor of her mother, Mrs. Thompson, from Fort Collins, Colo., and Miss Clark Watson of Albuquerque, the house guest of Mrs. Blake Franklin.

Pink sweet peas furnished the motif for very beautiful floral decorations and for the place card favors. Besides the guests of honor and the hostess, covers were laid for Mrs. Gertrude Follansbee, Mrs. Blake Franklin, Mrs. J. H. Franklin, Mrs. Sarah Van Dyke, and Mesdames Wright, Kennedy, Potter and Spaulding. A very pleasant afternoon was spent by the ladies with music, knitting and conversation.

HOLY COMMUNION

Questions have been repeatedly asked if there will be Holy Communion in the English Lutheran church Easter Sunday. It has been the custom from time immemorial—the celebration of the same is held on that day both morning and evening. In some of our very large congregations of 1000 to 2500 members this service is begun on Wednesday night previous to Easter and continued each night, concluding on Easter Sunday night. With us in Glendale, this holy sacrament will be administered both morning and evening. In the morning with it will be Confirmation of the pastor's class of catechumens and in the evening in connection with the communion will be the Bible School Easter entertainment, which will be unusually fine this year. Only the evening service will be run according to the new time. Service at 6 (sunrise), 9:30 and 11 will be on old time unchanged.

GOOD FRIDAY

By Walt. Le Noir Church, State Organizer of "The Californians" Every Friday is a good Friday, either for its obvious benefits or for reproof, instruction and discipline, needed because of our blind ignorance or our wilful violation of God's or Nature's law.

The famous "Black Friday" of Wall Street was a nation-wide experience which brought ultimate good out of evil.

The Friday on which Jesus of Nazareth suffered crucifixion was evil for that deed of horror. Yet out of that savagery came the basic fact on which is based the Christian's hope of resurrection.

On that same Friday was instituted "the Lord's Supper," to this day hallowed in the hearts of all who trust in His promises.

But today is a particularly "Good Friday" in Glendale. We have the cheeriest sunshine and the joy-giving news from somewhere—nearly all where along the fiercest battle line in France.

We have the inspiring hope that "the darkest hour just before day" has passed, after a long night of horrors, and that the sun of world freedom is rising in his might.

RED CROSS JOTTINGS

Needlewomen who served in the Hospital Garments Department under Mrs. Lawrence Ellis at the Red Cross workroom Thursday had a variety of work and much was accomplished in the manufacture of hospital shirts, bed jackets, convalescent robes, taped bed shirts.

At the yarn department, under Mrs. Ezra Parker, knitters were coming and going all the afternoon, returning finished work and negotiating for more material.

In the Surgical Dressings Department there was no less activity, but there is room for more workers, and inasmuch as the heavy fighting on the French front is sure to create an immense demand for dressings, women who can possibly give any time, even if but a few hours a week, to this service, are strongly urged to present themselves at headquarters. A cover-all apron which can be kept at headquarters will be requisite and this can be borrowed from the Chapter temporarily while the applicant is testing the work to see if she will be able to do it. Headdresses are also on hand at the work room.

The department has nearly ready a big case of 4x4 dressings or what is known as "turned sponges" which are used in all cases where it is necessary to avoid any frayed edges. The case when filled will contain 10,600 of these sponges.

Mrs. Edgar W. Pack served as instructor Thursday and workers under her were Mesdames O. R. Hildreth, Joe Hawkins, C. L. Bullard, Archie Parker, H. M. Oswald, N. Reynolds, J. F. Lilly.

ADVENTISTS INTERESTED IN ELECTION

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 29.—The thousands of delegates and visitors who are planning to attend the quadrennial session of the General or World Conference of Seventh-day Adventists in the Exposition Auditorium here March 29 to April 14, are looking forward with great interest to the election of officers, at which time a president, secretary, treasurer, and many departmental secretaries will be elected for a four-year term.

More interest is being manifested in the president's office than any other, as the man who fills this place becomes the administrative head of the entire denomination. The present incumbent, Pastor Arthur G. Daniells, has held the office since 1901, the longest period of any one who has been president since the organization of the church body.

Since President Daniells assumed office, great progress has come to the denomination in the way of membership, finances, the strengthening of organization methods, in the construction of sanitariums, colleges, academies and elementary schools, and in launching out into new mission fields.

In the matter of denominational organization, President Daniells has been especially strong. As soon as he became president of the General Conference, he began to call in capable men to take from his shoulders the responsibility in connection with certain departments of the denomination. This caused the work to develop much more rapidly than it could had he sought to keep the management of affairs entirely in his own hands. As the denomination grew and prospered, new departments were organized and new men especially fitted for a certain line of work were made responsible for its success. Apparently President Daniells patterned the organization of which he was the head after the organization of the national government, the heads of departments forming a cabinet similar to the President's cabinet.
