The resolution above quoted, charges in substance that in certain reoccidings relating to the public revenue, the President has usurped authority and power not conferred upon him by the constitution and laws, and that is doing so he violated hold. Any such act constitutes a high crime—one of the heliest, indeed, which the President can commit—a crime which justly exposes him to impreschmently. mit—a crime which justly exposes him to impeachment by the House of Representatives, and upon due confiction to
