RAINBOW'S HOSE IS POINTED AT HINDUS

Businesslike Nozzle Carried to Crownsnest and Directed at Komagata Maru

HUNDREDS SWARM DOCKS TO SEE WHAT HAPPENS

Military Contingent and Warship Ready to Take Hand in Immigration Matter

ULTIMATUM IS SENT AND TIME LIMIT SET

Vancouver, July 21.—At 2 o'clock Sunday night a reply to the ultimatum sent out this morning by the immigration authorities.

"We will obey the law if you give us sufficient provisions immediately and provide us with passages across the Pacific," was the gist of his reply. He made no answer to the demand of the officials that the Japanese on board be reinstated in command of the Komagata Maru.

Vancouver, July 21.—Outside of the arrival of the Dominion government cruiser Rainbow from Esquimalt nothing very warlike occurred this morning in the case of the Hindus who are still holding the fort on board the Komagata Maru. Thousands of citizens thronged the streets near the waterfront as if a carnival had been in progress. The Rainbow with 230 men aboard arrived in port at 8 o'clock. Two hundred additional men of city military regiments are drawn up at the wharf ready to go on board the Rainbow and assist her men to subdue the unruly Hindus.

After a conference on board the Rainbow it was decided to deliver an ultimatum to the Hindus that they must surrender before noon or take the consequences. Subsequently, in view of some possible negotiations, this time was extended until 2 p.m. A. H. Macneil, attorney for the Hindus, sent a letter just before noon to the officials complaining that many of the Hindus had been starving for four or five days and suggested that if food and funds were provided for their return they might give up. The chief difficulty now appears to be whether the Hindus will submit before or after they get food. The officials are insisting on an unconditional surrender and handing over of the ship before any other terms are granted.

The officials went out aboard the tug Sea Lion, which still carried some of her famous potatoes and cabbages which had come into such prominence as weapons on Sunday morning in the police fight against the Hindus. No policemen were called this morning except to handle the crowds on shore. Last night the official call for the militia was signed by two magistrates, E. J. Clark and Thomas Proctor, and so far as the Hindu situation was concerned the affair was in the meantime out of the hands of the civic authorities.

Rigged from a commanding position in her crew's nest of the Rainbow is a big hose. The two-inch nozzle looked very business-like. With this outfit commander Hose expected to do some preliminary execution which might preclude the necessity of using firearms.

The military contingent lined up just south of Pier A, at the western end of the C. P. R. dock system. "There were in all 204 men in uniform. The 11th Fusiliers furnished 127 men, who had mustered to their headquarters at six o'clock this morning and from there paraded direct to the wharf. They were in charge of Major Victor W. Odum. His assistants were Captain Dowling, Captain Thorne and Captain Grant. Colonel McSpadden, of the Fusiliers, was on the scene, but not in uniform.

The Highlanders furnished 37 men, in charge of Captain Rae and Lieut. Tupper. Forty men were out from the Sixth Regiment, Duke of Connaught's Own. They were in charge of Captain Gardner and Lieut. Buscombe.

By the time the military had lined up and were ready for any duty that the morning might bring about, the crowd all along the waterfront was becoming greatly augmented. Thousands lined the wharves as near as they were allowed by the police to go, and the foot of Granville street and the approaches to the C. P. R. station were literally black with people. All had their eyes either on the narrow awaiting the arrival of the Rainbow or were craning their necks to see what was doing aboard the Komagata Maru. Signs of life could be seen aboard the Komagata Maru. All day yesterday the Hindus aboard had been erecting barricades of wood and carrying up coal from the cargo in the hold. It is not believed that there is more than one revolver aboard the vessel, so that in the way of offence at any distance she was not at all formidable. But it was known that nearly every Hindu aboard had a knife or a dagger and there were many other weapons, many of them home-made.

SULTAN OF PERSIA HAS BIRTHDAY AND IS AGED SIXTEEN

Takes Constitutional Oath of Office at Teheran and Proceeds to Mosque for Prayer.

Teheran, Persia, July 21.—Sultan Ahmed Mirza, the sixteen-year-old ruler of Persia, on attaining his official majority to-day took the constitutional oath of office in the palace of the national council. The ceremony was brief and took place in the presence of the members of the national council, the royal princes, high state officials, foreign diplomatic representatives and their wives.

The little shah, accompanied by the regent, Abul Khan Nasser Elmulk, drove to the palace of the national council in a glass coach drawn by eight white horses. The procession passed through the gaily decorated streets of the Persian capital, which were carefully guarded. Large bodies of police and troops were stationed in strategic positions and the route was lined by police and native gendarme as well as the famous Cossack brigade. Mounted men surrounded the shah's carriage and also those of the court ministers and other officials who followed him.

On entering the palace of the national council the shah bowed to the assemblage and the pronounced the constitutional oath. Immediately after the ceremony he proceeded to the mosque for prayer.

RAINBOW CUTS SORRY FIGURE POLITICALLY

Petty Politicians Out of Their Depth in Handling Hindu Question

Ottawa, July 21.—Some contradictory views relating to the Hindu situation at Vancouver are appearing in the eastern press. The Montreal Daily Mail (Independent) says: "By their refusal to accept the order of the courts of British Columbia upholding the government of Canada in its decision to deport them, the Hindus now on the Komagata Maru at the Pacific coast, have alienated whatever public sympathy had gone out to them in this country. The Canadian government may now take action to deport them as drastic as it chooses. In one way the Hindus have done the Canadian people a service: they have provided some kind of work to be done by the Rainbow and the Niobe. By their exhibition of militancy they have afforded the government an opportunity to use the Canadian navy in the service of the people of the country for the first time since its use at political picnics has gone out of style."

The Ottawa Morning Citizen (Independent Conservative), on the other hand, says: "It would seem to be about time some one in authority realized the gravity of the Hindu problem in British Columbia. The handling of the Japanese steamer Komagata Maru with its shipload of British subjects from India is clearly not a matter to be left to a few machine politicians. It should never have been left to them. Since the coming of the ship to Vancouver it has been painfully evident that the petty politicians, both provincial and federal, were out of their depths. The latest exploit, sending a tug laden with police and armed gunmen to deal with the Hindus at 2 o'clock on a Sunday morning is surely the limit of comic opera government."

After describing the scene at Vancouver on Sunday morning, the Citizen says: "The immigration law with regard to the landing of the Hindus would seem to have been conceived in an evasive way by the Liberals, but it will take something bigger than the statesmanship of Sir Richard McBride and H. H. Stevens, M. P., to get Canada out of the muddle the Dominion and Empire is now in over it, nor will the latest official move to introduce the cruiser Rainbow on the scene add to its dignity. The Rainbow has been a subject of stupid partisan ridicule ever since it came to Canada. After deciding it, to use the little British Canadian cruiser against British Indian subjects would seem to be the height of incompetent imperialism."

VANCOUVER BOY DROWNED.

South Vancouver, July 21.—James Southworth, aged 15, was drowned in the North Arm of the Fraser yesterday while attempting to swim to a boom of logs which was passing under the Fraser street bridge in tow of a tug-boat. The body had not been found at 10 o'clock this morning.

SPENCER'S PLEA REFUSED.

East St. Louis, Ills., July 21.—Henry Spencer, sentenced to death for the murder of Mrs. Mildred Allison Rexroat, a Chicago tango teacher, was refused a stay of execution by justices of the supreme court, who met here yesterday.

CANADIAN EIGHT IS NAMED IN KOLAPORE

British Team Leads at First Range for Celebrated Trophy

AUSTRALIANS REGARDED AS PROBABLE WINNERS

Dominion Riflemen Shoot Well in Alexandra Winning $205

PRINCE OF WALES WON BY SCOTS RESERVE MAN

Bisley Camp, Eng., July 21.—Shooting opened this afternoon in the Kolapore cup at the first range, seven shots at three hundred yards. With precisely the same score as last year the mother country and Australia were first at the end of this range with totals of 265, while Canada also repeated her performance of last year, being third with 255, or one less than last year's total at this range. India occupies fourth place with 250, and Guernsey is last with 241.

Bisley Camp, Eng., July 21.—Delightful shooting conditions, entire absence of wind and a rising barometer opened to-day's shooting. The big events for the Canadians are the Duke of Cambridge in the service rifle championship aggregate and the Elkington challenge cup aggregate consisting of ten shots at 900 yards, but the Kolapore cup open to teams of eight representing units of the Empire, seven shots each at 300, 500 and 600 yards holds the centre of the stage. Shooting for the latter, however, does not open till the middle of the afternoon.

Australia is expected this year to make a particularly good effort towards securing the Kolapore cup, which has now been held by the mother country for four years. It has been shot for annually since 1871 by units of the empire, being given in that year by H. H. the late Rajah of Kolapore.

The team to represent the mother country in the Kolapore cup this year includes five members of last year's team, and is as follows: Lance-Sergt. M. G. Burr, London Rifle brigade, (King's prizeman, 1909). Pte. A. C. Fulton, Queen's Westminster, (King's prizeman, 1912. Staff Sergt. H. G. Amundsen, Fourth Royal Scots reserve, (silver medalist, 906 and 1913, bronze medal, 1912 and 1913, grand aggregate, 1900, 1905, 1910, 1911, 1912.) Sergt. J. Tippins, 8th Essex, Pte. W. Gray, London Scottish. Sergt. Britton, late 7th Argylls. Pte. Douglas, 6th Norths and Lieut. Newton, artillery corps.

The teams to shoot for Canada is as follows: Sergt. J. Armstrong, 6th Regiment, Halifax, N. S.; Sergt. S. G. Bullock, 2nd Queen's Own Rifles, Toronto, Ont.; Pte. C. M. Emsley, 4th Highlanders, Toronto, Ont.; Staff-Sergt. W. A. Hawkins, 4th Highlanders, Toronto, Ont.; Sergt. A. Martin, 103rd Regiment, Calgary; Q.-M.-S. D. McInnes, 19th A. D., Edmonton, Alta.; Sergt. G. W. Russell, G. G. F. G., Ottawa, Ont., and Col.-Sergt. J. Stoddart, 81st Regiment, Hamilton, Ont.

In the Alexandra prize lists issued this morning Canada is absent till the twenty-fourth place, where Pte. Emsley, Toronto, wins $25. Sergt. Russell, Ottawa, who was twenty-third, wins $25. Col. Sergt. Stoddart (30th), Gr. Noble (42nd), Sergt. Armstrong (35th), Staff Sergt. Hawkins (42nd), Lieut. Neale (8th), Sergt. Bullock (100th), and Q.-M.-S. McInnes (109th), each win $15. Sergt. McCoy (155th), Sergt. Graham (179th), Pte. Hendry (198th), Corp. Bea (202nd) each win $10. Pte. Riddell (228th), and Lieut. Brooks (249th), each win $5. The Canadians did remarkably well in the money prizes of the Alexandra this year, winning in all $205. Last year eight Canadians figuring in the prize list could win but $85, while in 1912 eleven Canadians won $150.

The Prince of Wales match also shot yesterday was won by Sergt. Higgins, 4th Scots Reserves, who carries off the badge and $500. Corp. Purves, 2nd, and Capt. Ward, 3rd, each win $50. Sergt. Bullock, 17th, is the first Canadian member appearing on the prize list. Sergt. Martin, 21st, Staff Sergt. Laman, 27th, Sergt. Russell, 41st, and Col.-Sergt. Stoddart, 32nd, each win $10.

Following are the individual scores of Canadians in the Duke of Cambridge, ten shots at nine hundred yards. Sergt. J. H. Armstrong, Halifax, 45; Lieut. C. N. Bennett, Halifax, 42; Sergt. S. G. Bullock, Toronto, 39; Pte. C. M. Emsley, Toronto, 34; Sergt. Graham, Toronto, 44; Major W. G. King, Bowmanville, 3; Staff Sergt. T. Laman, Halifax, 41; Sergt. A. Martin, Calgary, 36; Lieut. G. W. McLead, Hopewell, 42; Sergt. G. W. Russell, Ottawa, 40; Col. Sergt. J. Stoddart, Hamilton, 44; Lieut. A. Brooks, Okanagan Landing, 44; Pte. H. B. Falconer, Alma, N. B., 48; Staff Sergt. W. A. Hawkins, Toronto, 37; Pte. W. J. Hendry, Dundas, 45; Q.-M.-S. D. McInnes, Edmonton, 44; Piper J. D. McLeod, Toronto, 41; Gr. Noble, Montreal, 2; Lieut. Morrison, Toronto, 40.

ZAPATA NOW WAITS AT GATE OF CAPITAL

Mexican Garrison at Xochimilco Reinforced Last Night by Federals

CARRANZA TROOPS MARCH FROM SAN LUIS POTOSI

Obregon Preparing to Commence Movement South From Irahuateo

CARBALAJ AND CARRANZA ARE TO MEET TUESDAY

Mexico City, July 21.—Up to an early hour to-day followers of Zapata, the rebel leader who has been operating in southern Mexico, had not attacked Xochimilco, a village twenty miles from the capital, which place they began to threaten yesterday.

Xochimilco, which is the gate to this city and is of great strategic value because the capital gets its water supply from the lakes there, is now defended by four thousand federals, the garrison having been reinforced last night by a large body of troops. Federal officials stated to-day that the place was perfectly safe and that fears of a Zapatista attack on the capital were groundless.

The federals who evacuated San Luis Potosi are concentrating in Gonzalez and Queretaro. The constitutionalists troops, it is stated here, have begun their advance south from San Luis Potosi. Reports received from Puebla say the governor of that state has sent delegates to confer with constitutionalist leaders in order to arrange for their peaceful entrance into the state capital.

The constitutionalists commanded by General Alvarado Obregon have arrived in Irahuateo, about 160 miles northwest of the capital, and it is reported they are preparing to advance toward Mexico City. There have been no new developments in the political situation. The general belief is that nothing definite will be done until next Tuesday, when General Carranza or his delegates are expected to arrive here to confer with President Carralaj.

General Orozco and General Arguemedo and other former revolutionary chiefs now serving with the government have offered their services to President Carralaj to check the advance of constitutionalists moving on the capital. President Carralaj has declined the offer.

The Brazilian minister is making energetic representations to the foreign office to restore the management and operation of the cable office to the Mexican Telegraph company. The cable offices were taken over by the Huerta government on April 23 and have since been operated by the government. It is believed the restoration of control to the Mexican Telegraph company will be made this week.

Washington, July 21.—Provisional President Carralaj does not intend to surrender unconditionally to General Carranza and will concentrate his military forces and resist an invasion rather than permit the constitutionalists to enter Mexico City without previous agreements not to weaken vengeance on the lives and property of those who support General Huerta.

This was the tenor of information from authoritative sources to-day in Mexico City to Washington diplomats. It spreads a feeling of pessimism in some quarters over the possibility of an amicable settlement of the revolution.

Another aspect of the situation which was commented on is the knowledge that General Carranza while informing the American consuls at Monterey that he would receive a commission for Carralaj, made it plain that he would do so only to arrange for the unconditional surrender by the Mexico City authorities.

Diplomats were watching with keen interest the reports stating that Gen. Villa was again threatening a break with Carranza. The death of two French clergymen and the imprisonment of eleven others is giving the French government much concern. Charge d'Affaires of the French embassy, had an engagement to present late to-day to President Wilson for urgent representations in that connection.

New York, July 21.—A great religious and educational campaign in Mexico in which all Protestant denominations will unite, is planned now that peace is apparently in sight in that country.

Bishop Oldham, chairman of the general committee representing the various missionary boards, made the announcement to-day. A big co-educational university will be established and at least one high school for each of the sections will be opened in every mission territory. Schools of higher grades will be consolidated and each organized congregation will have its elementary schools where domestic and manual arts will be taught.

KING GEORGE STRONGLY CRITICIZED CONSTITUTIONAL DUTY OVERSTEPPED IN OPINION OF BRITISH NEWSPAPERS

People Versus Aristocracy Is Keynote of Expressions Declaring Displeasure That Matter Concerning People Should Be Taken From Publicity of House of Commons to Buckingham Palace

London, June 21.—For the first time in his reign, King George is criticized strongly, though respectfully, by some of the very important Liberal newspapers, which express the belief that if his majesty forced the holding of a conference on the Home Rule question he overstepped the constitutional duty of a limited monarchy and interfered with the rights of parliament and the responsibility of the cabinet. The Manchester Guardian says: "Any such transfer of the substance of responsibility and initiative, if it has actually taken place, is, of course, to be deprecated."

Obstacles in Way of Government.
The Daily News takes a stronger attitude, saying: "There are profound misgivings on the Liberal benches, where impatience at the obstacles put in the path of the government is reaching the breaking point. It is asked with growing indignation whether the story of the last two years is to be the experience of parliament as every Liberal government is engaged in passing Liberal measures. Have we only escaped the domination of the House of Lords to discover that the aristocracy has equally formidable resources at its command to defeat the will of the country?"

According to the Daily News, which represents the section of the Radicals that resents the king's interference, the king intends to withhold assent from the home rule bill unless the amending bill is presented at the same time for the royal assent, the court view being that the king is entitled to take this course because the introduction of the amending bill has violated the procedure under the parliament act.

The Daily News believes that it was the difficulty thus raised which compelled recourse to the round table conference. It adds that the Unionist leaders at first refused to enter the conference except on the condition that there should be a general election in the autumn. This the government declined to accede to, whereupon the king's summons for a conference was put in the form of a command instead of a request.

The Daily Express sees grave constitutional issues involved in his majesty's intervention. "This method of government," it says, "is novel and high-handed. An innovation which strikes at the theory of cabinet responsibility cannot possibly be welcome to any member of the commons, while the notion that matters can be better managed at Buckingham Palace than at St. Stephen's is equally unsatisfactory. The ministers, however, are alone responsible."

The Daily Citizen, the official organ of the labor unions, under the heading "Buckingham Palace Again," denounces the alleged interference of the throne and says: "The house of commons, and not some private room in a king's palace, is the proper place to debate and settle political differences."

LIBERALS ASK THAT NATIONALISTS SHALL GET FAIR TREATMENT

Several Liberal members of the House of Commons opposed to the conference to-day called a caucus of their sympathizers which probably will adopt resolutions of a similar character to those passed by the Labor members last night referring to the undue interference of the crown which the Labor members said was calculated to defeat the purpose of the parliament act.

PRINCE ALBERT HAS HEAVY FIRE DAMAGE

Prince Albert, Sask., July 21.—Fire this morning gutted the McKay and Adam block, destroying the Manville Hardware company's stock, the McKay and Adam law offices, the offices of McMaster and Christie, surveyors; West Lumber & Supply Co., and part of the furniture of the Carlton club. The blaze started from combustion in the basement of the hardware store and a terrific explosion blew the plate glass fronts across the street. Mrs. Harry Walker, wife of the janitor of the building, was cut badly as she had just come out of the building when the windows blew out. O. B. Manville, president of the Manville Hardware company, is in Europe.

The losses are as follows: McKay and Adam block, $40,000; insurance, $24,000; Manville hardware stock, $40,000; insurance, $25,000. The $100,000 worth of furniture of James McKay, M.P., was destroyed and there was no insurance on it. It was reported to be the best law library in Saskatchewan. Other losses of personal effects in the building will total over $3,000 with little insurance.

BOY KIDNAPPED WHILE SEVERAL PEOPLE LOOK ON

Minneapolis, Minn., July 21.—Sheriff Langum was asked to-day to investigate the sensational seizure of a nine-year-old boy from the yard of a summer cottage near Spring Park, Lake Minnetonka, last night. Three men in an automobile whisked up to the cottage, seized the boy, bundled him into the car in spite of his screams and drove away at top speed. The boy is the son of Professor L. Skinner, of Leeland Stanford university, California. Professor Skinner's wife, from whom he is separated, has been spending some time at Lake Minnetonka with her three children, the boy and two little girls. A half-dozen persons, including Mrs. Skinner, saw the car speed away.

INJURED MEN RECOVERING.

Vancouver, July 21.—Hillis Houston, injured in the automobile accident Friday night, is recovering. Physicians report favorably on his condition to-day. All others hurt in the collision are improving.

Buckingham Palace Conference Lasted Hour and Half Then Adjourned

UNIONISTS PREPARING FOR GENERAL ELECTION

Friendly Though Probably Not Cordial Meeting of Asquith and Law

London, July 21.—So deep is the interest taken by the public of all classes in the crisis which has arisen over the Irish home rule question that great crowds assembled to-day outside Buckingham Palace to witness the arrival of the various party leaders who are to participate in the conference, to bring about a peaceable settlement.

The Right Hon. James Lowther, speaker of the House of Commons, who was chosen to preside over the conference, was the first to appear. He was followed by the eight men who represent the various parties—Liberal, Unionist, Nationalist and Ulsterist. All came in motor cars with the exception of the Marquis of Lansdowne, who walked.

King George, with Baron Stanforth, his private secretary, received the statesmen in the chamber where the privy council always meets, and he shook hands cordially with all of them.

Probably this was the first time that John E. Redmond and John Dillon, the Irish Nationalist leaders, had ever exchanged greetings with their sovereign, as it had been the practice of the Nationalist members of parliament to remain away from all functions where members of the House of Commons were likely to be brought into contact with royalty.

The meeting of the Conservative and Liberal leaders on such intimate footing was apparently friendly, but could not have been cordial, as Premier Asquith and Andrew Bonar Law have been barely on speaking terms as Mr. Law practically accused the premier in the House of Commons of lying about recent government plans to suppress the Ulster volunteers.

The Marquis of Lansdowne, leader of the Unionist in the House of Lords, and David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, two of the other conferees, represent the most extreme aristocratic and democratic schools of British politics, and are generally believed to be bitter personal enemies.

At the same time the members of the Irish Nationalist and Ulster Unionist factions could not have felt much pleasure in finding themselves in such close association. Since personal feeling among politicians in the United Kingdom never ran so high as at present, the atmosphere of the gathering could not have been otherwise than extremely chilly and formal.

After a brief conversation, King George withdrew from the meeting. The conference, after being in session for only about an hour and a half adjourned until to-morrow.

During the time the conferees sat around the table in Buckingham Palace, they found an opportunity to discuss many points of difference, and before adjourning touched on the question of exclusion of the county of Tyrone from the operations of the home rule bill, a point which everybody recognizes as the most thorny one of the subject.

The general impression prevails that the conference will settle this matter, since nobody believes that the question of exclusion of one county will be allowed by eight politicians, possessing the ability of the conferees to turn the scales for civil war.

At the same time it is not thought that parliament will accept any compromise going beyond the offers already made and refused, and if the House of Commons did so, Ireland would not fall into line.

While the leaders of the Liberals, Conservatives, Nationalists and Ulster Unionists were in conference at Buckingham Palace, preparations were being made by the chief Unionist organizer for a general election. He sent orders to all the constituencies to prepare for an election three weeks after the conference, as the leaders are convinced that no matter what may be done at Buckingham Palace, the House of Commons soon must be dissolved. A Liberal caucus summoned, as one of the leaders put it, to "back up" the British government, was attended by upwards of 100 Liberal members of the House of Commons. A resolution was passed to the effect that the members unwaveringly supported the claims of Ireland as put forward by the Nationalists and embodied in the Irish home rule bill, and the gathering showed a determination to see the cause finally won.

The meeting further expressed the opinion that it was the duty of the government to complete its whole programme before making an appeal to the constituencies.

King Confers Knighthood on Admiral Beatty After Attending Manoeuvres

London, July 21.—The King, after visiting the fleet at Portsmouth, received Rear-Admiral David Beatty of the first battle squadron, conferred knighthood upon him and invested him with the insignia of Knight Commander of the Bath.

Portsmouth, Eng., July 21.—For the first time since the huge mobilization manoeuvres began, the whole British fleet in the channel steamed past the royal yacht yesterday, in three great divisions. The fleet was the largest yet massed together in the world.

The fifty new battleships and battle cruisers, averaged the heaviest and most powerful in the world, while the coterie of light cruisers and scouts, mine layers and mine breakers and torpedo boats gave the first touch of quick movement. It took the two home fleets two hours to pass the royal yacht. One behind the other, they stretched out twenty miles.

An innovation in the manoeuvres was the introduction of extended area operations in conjunction with the mobilization of the warships. Twenty air craft of all kinds were brought from the headquarters at Aldershot and other stations, and dispatched on scouting expeditions. When the long procession of war vessels had gone by and the aeroplanes had sailed overhead, His Majesty signalled the fleet: "Thank you for a very impressive afternoon."

The King returned to Buckingham palace at 11 o'clock in the evening.

FLEMMING'S EVIDENCE DRAWS MANY PEOPLE

Premier of New Brunswick Admits Letter of Law Broken by Him

St. John, N. B., July 21.—Speeding from Fredericton in an automobile, Hon. H. F. McLeod, former provincial secretary, arrived here yesterday after having missed his train at the capital to be ready to answer the personal charges against him should he be called to the witness stand. All morning the hotel corridors had been filled with politicians, who form an animated group discussing the premier's evidence. Every train brought its quota of people from provincial points bent on gaining if possible places in the courtroom.

The evidence of Premier Fleming in the timber land charges was concluded yesterday afternoon and the Valley railway charges are being taken up to-day. The timber land charges will be left open until every means is exhausted to secure the attendance of W. H. Berry, the government sealer, who refuses to return from the United States to testify.

"I still think that the government should make some effort to secure the evidence of Berry before this commission. Personally, I would be very sorry to see the enquiry ended without his testimony. Although Acting Premier Clark has said that he knows of no legal means to compel Mr. Berry to return, he also said that he had not asked him to do so. I think Mr. Clark might at least write Mr. Berry a letter asking him to return to give evidence."

These were the remarks with which Commissioner W. S. Fisher greeted Mr. Carvell's statement that he is still using every effort to secure Mr. Berry's attendance, although his hopes of success are not as strong as they were three weeks ago.

The conversation arose in connection with a discussion regarding the procedure of the enquiry. Mr. Carvell urged that the case should not be closed and counsel compelled to argue until after the evidence in the Valley railway enquiry should be completed in order to give an opportunity for the introduction of Mr. Berry's evidence if it should become available.

Mr. Fowler opposed this, but the commission unanimously decided to leave the crown lands matter open while the railway enquiry proceeded, and to resume the railway enquiry.

Premier Fleming was on the stand again for the entire session yesterday, while Mr. Carvell finished his cross-examination and Mr. Teed his re-examination. One of the premier's admissions on the stand was that he had received a letter from W. H. Berry soon after the missing official had reached Boston. He denied that he had communicated with Mr. Berry in any way, that he had been in communication with C. G. Cutler, or that he knew that Mr. Berry had waited on Mr. Cutler.

The premier denied that any of the lumbermen had paid for the privilege of evading the law regarding the report of pulpwood from crown lands, or for the privilege of cutting under-sized logs, although he admitted that both practices were carried on with his consent under certain circumstances of which he gave details.

The spirit of the law, he asserted, was not violated, if the letter was so.

Premier Fleming's evidence is the last to be introduced in connection with the timber land charges, unless Mr. Berry turns up, and the case is closed except for the arguments of counsel.

CHINESE WITH GUN ROB GAMBLERS AT VANCOUVER

One Arrested and Police Seeking Second Man Who Went to New Westminster.

Vancouver, July 21.—Boldly entering a store at 89 Pender street east at 10 o'clock last night and holding up the inmates at the point of a gun, two Chinese removed the sum of $400 from a table in the room and made their escape. The place where they made their haul was a gambling den, and the money on the table represented the play and winnings for the night.

The room was filled with Chinese at the time, but the two holdup men held the situation in easy command. One held the gun and the other scooped the money into the pockets of his coat. The two then backed out of the room and escaped. They made no attempt to conceal their faces in the room and were recognized by dozens of their countrymen.

The police were notified and arrested Lum Chung. The other Chinese, who assisted in the holdup, was said by the Chinese to have caught the last car for New Westminster. The Royal City police were notified and two Orientals who knew the man were sent over to assist in his capture.

To Properly Treat Obstinate Wrinkles

Particularly where wrinkles are long and deep, the massage devotee is apt to rub too hard and too frequently. This loosens the skin, causes muscles to sag, and the wrinkles are made more conspicuous. The opposite result from that sought. Better than massaging, or anything else, for the most obstinate wrinkles, are the finest lines, is a formula well-known in England, which you may readily avail yourselves of, as you will have no difficulty procuring the inexpensive constituents from druggists in this country. It is this: One ounce powdered saffron, dissolved in one-half pint witch-hazel. Rub the face, neck or hands in this. The effect is really marvellous, not only as to wrinkles, but also in cases of large checks and chin. Marked improvement is noticed after the very first application. The lotion is cooling and soothing, tending to relieve fatigue and remove "that tired look."

MURDER NOT INTENDED IS CAILLAUX DEFENCE

Prisoner Gives Her Explanation of Buying Pistol and Visiting Figaro Office

Paris, July 21.—Mme. Henriette Caillaux, wife of Jos. Caillaux, once premier of France and minister of finances, in the assize court at the Palace of Justice, testified yesterday afternoon the circumstances leading up to the shooting on March 16 of Gaston Calmette, editor of the Figaro, with whose murder she is charged.

Judge Louis Albanel acted as president of the court. The prosecutor-general, Jules Herbaux, had charge of the prosecution, and Fernand Labori, the noted advocate, who was closely identified with the Dreyfus case, was chief counsel for the defence.

Mme. Caillaux held the attention of the crowded court room for three hours. Slight, almost insignificant in appearance, and possessing none of the outward characteristics of romance, she spoke with great assurance, addressing herself in turn to each part of the story in short disconnected sentences, but showed remarkable skill in marshalling her facts so as to present them in the best light for her cause.

Mme. Caillaux told of the shooting in the Figaro office. Prior to this she had been asked by the judge regarding her interview with Fernand Monier, president of the tribunal of the Seine, from whom she had sought information as to whether the attacks of M. Calmette against her husband could be stopped.

M. Monier told her, she said, that this would be impossible, that one could only put up with it, or defend one's self by one's own means. He added, the witness asserted, that it was astonishing that with the French temperament there were not more broken heads.

Maurice Chenu, attorney for M. Calmette's relatives, arose and said M. Monier, before the examining magistrate, had denied giving utterances to anything of the sort.

Explaining the circumstances of buying the pistol, Mme. Caillaux said she had no fixed idea of using it, and in any case had no purpose to kill. She had a revolver which her father gave her, but had lost it. When she reached home after conferring with M. Monier, she was still vacillating as to what to do, whether to go to the Figaro office and see Calmette or go to a tea party. Finally, she decided to leave a letter for her husband when she went to the Figaro.

Judge Albanel read the letter, which follows: "My Beloved Husband.—When I told you this morning of my interview with President Monier, who informed me that we have in France no law to protect us against the calumnies of the press, you said to me that one of these days you would smash the face of the ignoble Calmette. I realized that your desire was irrevocable. My resolve was then made. I shall do justice. France and the republic need you. I will do the deed."

"If this letter reaches you, you will know that I have done, or have tried to do justice. Forgive me, but my patience is exhausted. I love and embrace you from the depths of my heart. Your Henriette."

Judge Albanel: "Explain this letter, which the prosecutor relies upon to establish premeditation."
Mme. Caillaux: "I never meant to say that in going to the Figaro office I had resolved to shoot Calmette. I had not made up my mind what I should do. I had made it perfectly clear to Miss Baxter (the English governess) that she must not give the letter to my husband unless I had not returned at seven."

When pressed by the judge to tell what had happened in the Figaro office, Mme. Caillaux said: "I don't know." "I fired. I did not think I had hit him. It is frightful that those revolvers go off by themselves."

The people in the courtroom laughed, even the judge. Mme. Caillaux looked indignant and explained: "It was all so quick. I assure you I cannot tell precisely what happened."

She was silent for a moment and then the judge asked: "Have you anything further to say?"

She began sobbing and cried out: "I regret it infinitely."
"Do you maintain your statement made to the examining judge that you at no time intended to kill M. Calmette?"

"Certainly, sir. I meant only to make a scandal. I fired low in the direction of his feet. It is such a dreadful burden for me to carry all my life that I have killed a man. Why should I have killed him? Never have I said that the punishment of Calmette should be death. Would I thus have renounced everything, the affection of my husband and my daughter, to kill?"

She struggled for breath, her words came disjointly and sobs broke her utterances. "In trying to avoid a catastrophe I have made it irreparable for myself, my daughter, my poor papa. I had done better to have allowed everything to be published."

New Orleans, La., July 21.—A proposed excursion from New Orleans to Pensacola August 3 was cancelled to-day by the Louisville & Nashville railroad because Pensacola health authorities feared bubonic plague might be introduced from this city. Dr. Tucker, federal assistant surgeon-general in charge of the plague eradication work here assured the Pensacola authorities there was no danger, but without avail.

TURBULENT TIMES IN PORTUGUESE POLITICS

Spectators in Legislative Chamber Armed With Revolvers; Fists Used

Paris, July 21.—Although the Portuguese have had four years' experience with Republican government, recent dispatches from Lisbon have indicated that the legislative machinery is still far from working smoothly. There is hardly a day when there are not riotous scenes in the ancient parliament buildings. The galleries of both houses are filled with armed partisans who applaud, deride, denounce or hiss the utterances of the speakers.

The fact that the presidential and parliamentary elections, the second in the history of the new republic, are pending has lately brought the struggle for power to a high pitch of excitement. The decree of the government fixing the date of elections has not yet been issued, but it is expected that they will be held the latter part of August or early in September. Dr. Manoel Arraigo, the first president under the new constitution, cannot be a candidate for re-election. The election of the president is made by the two houses of parliament.

The Democrats, led by Dr. Alfonso Costa, have a majority in the present house of deputies. A typical scene was witnessed there recently when the Revolutionists, whose chief is Dr. Almeida, accused the Democratic ministry of conniving at gross fraud in connection with a concession to Antonio Maria da Silva, formerly minister of public works, to exploit the water power of Rodman Falls, which engineers consider adequate to supply power and light to Lisbon and all of its surrounding provinces. Silva is now director of posts and telegraphs, and one of the triumvirate ruling the powerful secret society, known as the Carbonaria, with its 20,000 members.

The society is a sort of government in the shadow along side the government in the open. Cabinets come and go, while the Carbonaria exists always. Only vague rumors of intrigue and conspiracy within the society reach the public, but there are frequent instances of the power the society wields.

Debates on the water concession were interrupted by furious cries and disorders in the galleries of the chamber recently. The spectators were all armed with revolvers. When the president of the chamber ordered the police to clear them out, the factionists in the galleries united against the officers and, revolvers in hand, massed at each entrance to the house, defying the police to lay hands on any one. As a result of parleys, the police agreed to make no arrests provided the spectators agreed to leave quietly, as they did.

In the meantime the deputies were using canes and fists upon one another. Dr. Bernardino Machado, the premier, who is conspicuous for his refinement and culture, ran from group to group begging the members, in the name of the Republic, to desist. He, because of his transparent honesty and extraordinary devotion to high principles, is respected by every one, and he succeeded this time, as he has done many times before, in bringing about temporary calm and reconciliation.

Machado, surrounded by politicians of doubtful merit fighting for their own interests, never loses faith in the republic. He declined the premiership because he thought the office could be used to placate the ambition of some other leader, but warring groups would rather trust him as their first minister than any one of their opponents.

SCOTTISH EARL BURIED IN AMERICAN CEMETERY
 Was Known as John Sutherland Sinclair and Lived Three Years at Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, July 21.—The seventeenth Earl of Caithness was buried in a local cemetery last week. Three years a resident of Los Angeles, but two persons here knew that John Sutherland Sinclair, living quietly and simply at the Hotel Biltmore, was of a line that, in the days before Robert Bruce, held almost regal sway over half of Scotland, including the Northern Isles.

Some time this week the letters, under the seal of the crown of Scotland, will be submitted to Judge Rivers in which will show that his full titles were Earl of Caithness, Lord Berridale of Scotland and Baronet of Nova Scotia, and that he was the owner of a castle seat in Aberdeenshire and of much property.

Sir John Sutherland Sinclair, Earl of Caithness, inherited from his father in 1851 the title which was created in 1855, the baronetcy dating from 1621. The seventeenth earl was born in 1857. The heir to the title is Hon. Norman Macleod Buchan, of Auchmacey House, Ellen, Aberdeenshire. He was born in 1862, is married and has four daughters.

Farrell, president and twenty-two other officers and directors of the United States Steel corporation and of its underlying companies to-day made application in common pleas court here for a charter for the pension fund established fourteen years ago.

The petition details that the organization shall maintain a system of benefits, pensions and other aids to employees of the corporation and its successors to them a majority of whose capital stock is owned or controlled by them. The yearly income shall not exceed $1,000,000, and there is to be no capital stock.

Cured of Piles and Eczema
 By Using Three Boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. Abram Buhr, Herbert, Sask., writes: "I want to say that I was troubled with eczema and piles and suffered greatly from the itching, burning sensations caused by these annoying ailments. I sent for a free sample of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and this did me so much good that I bought three boxes more, and after using same was cured of both eczema and piles."

This is the kind of letters we receive daily from people who have been cured of these distressing skin diseases by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. No matter how skeptical you might be, you could not read these letters for many days without concluding that Dr. Chase's Ointment is undoubtedly the most prompt relief and certain cure for these ailments.

If you have doubts send for a free sample box and be convinced. It was by use of a free sample that Mr. Buhr was convinced of the merits of this treatment. For sale at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited Toronto.

Special Window Display of Smart Autumn Coats

Models That Go Further to Emphasize "Campbell's" Supremacy in Ladies' Ready-to-Wear

IT seems hardly possible that only a few years ago a woman's protective garments were her chief sartorial trouble. To be clad for cloudy or rainy days meant "dowdiness" and discomfort. It was impossible to think of wearing the same coat in rain and sunshine, or to go out of town for the week-end with only one outer coat. Therefore, a pean of gratitude is due to the style dictators of "Campbell's" Autumn Coats.

In the materials you'll find the new novelty cobble tweeds, Mexican cloths, plain colored zibelines, overplaids and serviceable striped materials.

Of styles there are quite a variety, the favorite being the cape, which comes just over the shoulder and buttons at the neck. The military cape-coat is another which in reality is a replica of the army coat.

The collars are of various types, including the military, the modified flare, the hood on collar that fastens in the back of the neck and slightly opens in front.

The five-eighths length is popular. Some of the coats are full-lined, others semi-lined. Roll cuffs of contrast shade are still in vogue.

SPOPEE IS ADOPTED BY BLACKFOOT TRIBE

Washington, July 21.—Spoopee, an Indian pardoned by President Wilson recently, after spending 24 years in the government hospital for the insane for murder, has been adopted by the Blackfoot tribe. Word to that effect was received to-day by Indian Commissioner Sells.

Spoopee is a Piegan Indian, but before 1879 had been closely identified with the Blackfeet. The Indian office asked that he be formally adopted by the Blackfoot tribe in order that he might fully share in the rights and privileges of the members of the tribe. The tribal council at a meeting at Browning, Mont., took action and he now will receive his 320 acres of land.

CAPPING THE CLIMAX.

Armament in position, fully manned, H.M.C.S. Rainbow passed out of Esquimalt harbor last night, bound on active service.

Included in the ship's complement are five officers and men of the Royal Garrison Artillery, so we see that the effervescent Mr. Stevens has invoked not only His Majesty's Canadian naval forces in these waters, but His Majesty's Canadian army as well.

The enlistment of the Rainbow with her force of soldiers and sailors is the climax of a chapter of inexcusable blunders, and we are strongly of the opinion that it is the worst blunder of the lot.

Our readers will recollect that among the important Liberal appointees in this province gullitoned by the Borden government was H. A. Bayfield, Superintendent of Dredging, whose retirement followed a farcical investigation inspired by that amiable statesman, J. D. Taylor, member for New Westminster.

Should Mr. Taylor take up these challenges, I have the best of reasons for believing that I can prove: (1) That no part of the evidence taken at the Samson inquiry reflects upon my conduct in the slightest degree; (2) That Mr. Taylor's letter of March 5th to Sir Robert Borden contains statements which are either carefully conceived misrepresentations or absolute untruths, made solely with the object of injuring my reputation.

As we have pointed out, all this trouble, litigation and spectacular demonstrations could have been avoided if the "let-well-enough-alone" motto did not prevail at Ottawa. Had the late administration been in charge of affairs the Komagata Maru never would have left Hongkong.

BIG BUSINESS HIT HARD.

The New York, New Haven & Hartford railway, once the best equipped, best managed and most profitable in the United States, is on the rocks. Investigation has disclosed the fact that ninety million dollars has been lost to the road through corrupt influence and reckless financing.

MR. BAYFIELD'S DISMISSAL.

Is the Mr. Stevens who called out British sailors and soldiers to use force against the British subjects on the Komagata Maru the same Mr. Stevens who made such a fervent speech on Imperialism at the Orangemen's gathering at Beacon Hill last week?

Advertising does not jerk—"IT PULLS," says John Wanamaker. Illustrating this remark the observations of a large roofing manufacturer are interesting. He makes a branded article and advertises it exclusively in the newspapers the world over.

A GOOD BILL AT THE VARIETY.

The Frank Rich company opened their second offering at The Variety theatre last night to large and appreciative audiences. The bill, "The Girl from Vassar," proved a much better show than the opening one, as it is a legitimate farce with musical interruptions and teaming with amusing situations and real comedy lines.

Preparations are being made to make the ball game with Vancouver a social affair. Joshua Kingham has donated the ball park and the Local Council of Women will have a marquee where refreshments will be served.

Invitation was Late.—Owing to the lateness of the hour at which the Board of Trade received its invitation from the Trades and Labor Council to attend the lecture by Fred Bancroft, of Toronto, in the Alexandra club, it is feared by Mr. Shallcross that the representation of the board was very small. The invitation was received with thanks, however, as much interest is felt by the members in the question of workmen's compensation.

Serious Charge Laid.—Bunta Singh, for an alleged assault on whom a white lad was dismissed a couple of days ago, was in the Saanich police court to-day charged, on the complaint of Constable Little, with attempting a serious offence. The boy got his freedom from the charge laid against him on the plea that he had been resisting the attack upon him by the Hindu, and as he proved his case in defence the present charge was laid against the Hindu. A remand was granted until Thursday.

SMART CAPTURE MADE. Constable Bishop Surprises Two Men in Act of Stealing Copper From the Wharf.

Planning New Cable.—The Pacific cable board has applied to the minister of public works for permission to lay a cable from the Pacific cable hut at Banfield to Alberni. The cable for this is now on the way here.

A DANGEROUS CORNER. Mayor's Car is Run Into by Another Motor at Corner of Douglas and Fisgard Streets.

The car in which were Mayor Stewart, City Comptroller Raymer and the representatives of the city's eastern fiscal agents, was yesterday afternoon run into by another car, driven by A. W. Watson, when returning from a trip to the Sooke lake works.

The accident happened at the corner of Douglas and Fisgard streets about 4 o'clock, but fortunately no one was injured and the cars were not damaged. As a portion of the roadway is blocked up on account of the building operations at the new Hudson's Bay store, there appears to be some difference of opinion between the drivers as to where Mr. Watson's car was. He holds that he was on the proper side of the street, while the driver of the city car maintains that he was really on the north side of what is left as roadway for the present, and that he should have gone further over on what ordinarily would have been the proper side of the street in order to allow room for a car to proceed in the other direction if necessary.

Mr. Watson was turning the corner at what he estimates a speed of five miles an hour, and as he saw the other car he put on the brakes and brought his car to a stop in front of the mayor's car, the driver of which claims that he was left no room to turn. Mr. Watson says he sounded his horn.

Planning New Cable.—The Pacific cable board has applied to the minister of public works for permission to lay a cable from the Pacific cable hut at Banfield to Alberni. The cable for this is now on the way here.

HURRY OUT SALE

Store Closed
All Day

Sale Opens
Thursday,
July 23rd
9 a.m.

WHY ?

There is a reason for this gigantic Hurry Out Sale, and a good one. At the present time our store is overloaded with merchandise, and it is but a few weeks before our fall stock will arrive. Where will be put it? That is what's troubling us. We could not display our new fall arrivals properly unless we close out at least one-third of the merchandise we have on hand. This coming sale is inaugurated for the sole purpose of hurrying out our present stock to make room for the new fall and winter goods.

Our stock on hand at present invoices close to $50,000. That's some stock of merchandise for us to be carrying at this time of the year. Too much by at least twenty or twenty-five thousand dollars. One thing to be thankful for is that we still have time to unload before our new fall styles arrive. Of course we can't do it at regular prices and don't intend to try. Our one aim from now on for the next few days will be to cut and slash prices so low that we will practically be assured of five times our regular business.

PRICES

During this sale we intend to cut and slash prices on every article in the store. There will be no one saying that is not on sale. Everything from cellar to garret and wall to wall, be it only a collar-button or the finest suit in our house, is now offered at Hurry Cut Sale Prices. It's not every day that a store offers anything and everything at real sale prices, but we do this time. Others may offer specials, but we say take your choice of the entire stock.

IMPORTANT

The most important thing with some people is how much money I can make. That's alright—make all you can—but don't throw it away. Make it go as far as possible. Get all for your dollar you can every time. If you can save seven to ten dollars on buying your suit do it. If you can save fifty cents to a dollar when buying a shirt, save it. If you are in the market for men's wear, take a few minutes off, look over our stock and take note of the greatly reduced prices.

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE CLUBS WILL TAKE ACTION AGAINST SUSPENSION

Gate Money of Clothier-Meiji Contest Went to Play Japanese Club's Travelling Expenses

A fine old row appears to have been started by the suspension of the five players by the B. C. A. A. U. last night. The officers of the Clothiers announce that they have booked a game for Thursday night, while they will also fill in a number of their week-end fixtures out of town.

The purpose of covering the guarantee required by the Japanese team. The boys suspended are: Cottett and Gravin, of the Bapecos; Moore, of the Red Sox, and McGregor and McIlroy, of the Outlaws.

MORAN'S MANAGER ADMITS FAKE BOUT

Welsh to Retire From Ring in Two Years; Burns a Come-back

London, July 21.—A bombshell was hurled among the thousands of sporting men and fight fans when publicity was given to the complete correspondence and contracts whereby Jack Johnson, who recently defeated Frank Moran in Paris for the heavyweight title, agree on the morning of the fight to give Moran 40 per cent. of the receipts if Moran would lay down in the eighth round.

According to advice from Australia, Tommy Burns, former world's heavy weight champion, is training for two fights to be staged in Sydney. The first is with Sam McVey, a California negro heavyweight, and the other with Bill Lang. It is also stated that Milburn Saylor, of Indianapolis, and Joe Shugru, of New York, are matched to fight in Australia some time in September. This bout is expected to draw about $25,000.

An exhibition of the Carpenter-Smith motion pictures of the fight demonstrated that Smith actually did land a blow while Carpenter's knee was on the floor, but the films showed that it was an apparently harmless right-hand swing that just grazed the Frenchman's head.

It seemed certain to-day that another bout would be arranged between Carpenter and Smith, to be staged not later than December.

REMARKED ON THE SIDE

Many Changes in Northwest League. Coming along with the removal of the Portland club to Ballard, is the resignation of Fielder Jones, the Northwest league president. The former boss of the Chicago White Sox states that he is not willing to change his residence at Portland, and as he believes that the league should have a president who is a resident of the territory controlled by the league, there is every reason to believe that Seattle man will be appointed to succeed him.

It is all right for the A. A. U. to hold special meetings and suspend players simply because they were accommodating a visiting Japanese team by giving them a game, but by what right have the officers of the B. C. A. A. U. allowed such a charge as that laid by W. H. Davies against Al. Gerard to pass by? The A. A. U. is attempting to handle amateur baseball in this city, yet every day there are cases where the rules are walked upon. In the case of the Clothiers, this team was organized merely for the purpose of giving a number of men an opportunity to play baseball. Any collections that have been taken up were to pay the expenses of the grounds, and the admission fee that was charged at the Meiji-Clothier game went to the visitors who came here under a guarantee.

FEDERAL LEAGUE WINS CHASE CASE

Outlaws May Now Raid Major's; May Arbitrate Kraft Dispute

Chicago, July 21.—President Gilmore, of the Federal league, planned to go to New York to-day for the purpose, it is said, of being on the ground should a break between club owners and players in organized baseball occur. Gilmore said he was going only "to look things over," but it was rumored that a meeting between himself and President Fultz, of the players' fraternity, had been arranged.

The announcement of Gilmore's trip followed closely the news that the Federal league had won a victory in the Chase case at Buffalo, and that decision, combined with the triumph of the outlaws scored in the Johnson case here last week, was received with much joy by the independents.

"We never had any doubts that we would ultimately win all our cases," said Mr. Gilmore. "The law has been plain fought in every one. There is nothing now to prevent our strengthening our teams where strength is needed."

In the event of a players' strike the schedule of the Federal league may be adjusted so that cities without ball through the walkout will be supplied by the independents. It was reported here that the American league magnates in New York in addition to their plans for the crisis brought on by the Fultz ultimatum would discuss the situation, which, it is admitted, will result from the Chase and Johnson decisions.

New York, July 21.—The threatened strike of members of the baseball players' fraternity, growing out of the demands of player Clarence O. Kraft, who recently was suspended by the national commission for refusing to report to the Nashville club of the Southern Association from the Newark International league at a reduction in salary, was the principal subject for discussion to-day by the club owners of the American league, called together here by President Ban Johnson in calling a meeting of his club owners.

Following team will represent Oak Bay in their Senior City league match against Victoria West at Macaulay Point Wednesday evening at 6.15 p.m.: Goal, C. Medrich; point, E. Macdonald; cover point, F. Weaver; 1st defence, E. Braden; 2nd defence, Redgrave; 3rd defence, R. McInnes; centre, White; 3rd home, A. Williams; 2nd home, C. Taylor; 1st home, G. Martin; outside home, C. Macdonald; inside home, W. Mitchell. Reserve defence, Pierce, Knox.

Portland, Ore., July 21.—President Fielder Jones, of the Northwestern league, announced yesterday that he would tender his resignation as head of the league on August 1, as a result of the transfer of the Portland franchise to Ballard, Wash. Jones said he believed the president of the league should reside in a city that has a club and that he was not prepared to change his residence.

Toledo, O., July 21.—Officials of the Canadian league are negotiating by wire relative to the purchase of the Toledo baseball franchise and installing teams here and at Youngstown. The promoters do not say that they want to install a team this year, but they are bidding high with the desire to get Class A rating for the Canadian circuit in 1915. Toledo and Youngstown furnish the necessary population for the rating.

HITLESS BESS WERE SHUT OUT YESTERDAY

Ballard Handed Game on Victoria's Errors; Seattle and Spokane Beaten

Unable to hit the offerings of Salveson, Ballard's youthful right-hander, the Bees got puffed yesterday and threw a game away to the Sound City club that should have gone into extra innings. Bobby Steele held the Ballard club to six singles, but his team mates injected five errors into the fray with the result that the Ballard nine walked off with an easy contest. Victoria gathered but three blows, which in a measure tells of the shut-out, the final score being 2 to 0.

Calvo and Nye helped Steele out in the hit manufacturing game, while Melchior struck the erstwhile Colts with a brace of singles. Coltrin's steal and the snappy work of the Victoria outfield featured the contest.

Miligan scored in the first inning when he reached second on Scanlon's error and completed the circuit when Kelly threw the ball into centre field. Ballard scored again in the fifth, Coltrin walking the bases here last week, was received with much joy by the independents.

VAMOOSE CAPTURES BRENTWOOD TROPHY

Rough Weather Mars International Power Boat Race From Seattle Yesterday

Covering the 100-mile course in 12 hours and 29 minutes, the Vamoose, owned by Capt. M. A. Winningham, of Seattle, captured the first international power boat race for the Brentwood trophy yesterday. The winner had a margin of an hour on the Yrrebeninna, of Vancouver, while the Kathleen III, also of Vancouver, was disabled when nearing the finish line and was towed to the Brentwood club house by the Vamoose.

The boats started from Seattle early yesterday morning, but it was thought that the rough weather might necessitate a postponement of the trip. The hardy crews, however, decided to keep to the course, with the result that the finish at Brentwood last night was unexpected, though no word had been received that the yachts had turned back. Capt. Winningham will hold the trophy for a year, when it will again be raced for. The Vamoose had a goodly handicap, but it was not necessary as she finished well ahead of the Yrrebeninna.

A flannel dance in the evening was greatly enjoyed by all, the competing crews as well as a number of the R. V. Y. C. members, taking part in the dancing. Plymouth, July 21.—Shamrock IV, Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger for the America's cup, which sailed from Portsmouth under convoy of the steam yacht Erin, was forced to put into Plymouth Saturday evening because of stress of weather. The Shamrock was on her way to Falmouth, from which port she will start for the United States. The challenger, however, will remain here until the weather improves.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

The bravest are often the tenderest, and Wolfe, great warrior that he was, was the most considerate of men in his treatment of women and children.

Wolfe made his lovely captives farewell and sent the whole party into Quebec under a flag of truce when Louisbourg was captured.

Wolfe invited the ladies to dine with them. To see Wolfe was to admire him, and the ladies were not slow in accepting the invitation.

The duty of enforcing order and protecting the prisoners fell largely on Wolfe, and he speedily reassured the weeping women and children who had feared rough usage in repayment for the atrocities committed by the French Indians.

Wolfe wrote: "I have just returned from paying my respects to the French ladies, who, poor things, are pale and thin with long confinement in a case-mat, and very badly frightened, but none of them hurt."

GARDEN FETE OPENS UNDER FAIR AUSPICES

Event Organized by Lady Douglas Chapter in Aid of 50th Highland Regiment

Brightest of sunshine and softest of summer breezes heralded the opening of the Lady Douglas chapter, I. O. D. E., garden fete this afternoon in the beautiful grounds kindly lent for the purpose by Honorary Colonel and Mrs. Coy. Rockland.

Already the lawns were liberally sprinkled with visitors, the light summer frocks of the ladies giving an additional touch of gaiety to a picture already pleasing to the eye.

The stone terrace at the top of the grounds, immediately adjoining the house, is being used as the open-air stage, and here the pierrots and other singers are performing.

The grassy slope beneath the stone terrace has been requisitioned by those in charge of the afternoon tea, and daintily arranged tables have been set out where visitors may enjoy the prospect together with the refreshing cup.

The competitions have been withdrawn to the lower lawn, the "Aunt Sally" and "Forcible Feeding" contest alike drawing many interested competitors.

Prizes are being awarded in connection with the latter event, the having been given by Mrs. J. A. Hall, Mrs. Henry Craft, Mrs. Dennis Harris, Mrs. George Turner and Colonel Currie, for presentation to the winners in the three contests which are to be held.

The proceedings will be open all afternoon and evening, and generous public support is hoped for, the proceeds of the undertaking to be devoted to obtaining colors for the 50th Highland regiment.

SOCIETY HAD OUTING

Natural Historians Spent Enjoyable Afternoon at Mount Finlayson; Good Representation.

Mount Finlayson and the surrounding district was the rendezvous of the Natural History society at its first outing of the summer held last Saturday afternoon.

The society was quite well represented, seventeen members in all making the trip, most of whom left the city by the bus which left the city at 1 o'clock.

At Colwood the party disembarked to examine an example of root connection which had been unearthed by C. C. Pemberton to illustrate his contention that trees could obtain nourishment from each other by root connection.

In the instance unearthed the stumps were 40 feet apart, and had received most of their nourishment from the parent tree.

In commenting on Mr. Pemberton's discovery Mr. Anderson paid a tribute to his excellent work along the lines of original investigation, particularly among trees, and said that several scientific men, to whom the question of root connection had been referred, had referred in the highest terms to Mr. Pemberton's researches.

Other examples of peculiar root formation and growth were examined, in one instance a Douglas fir having thrown out long roots 56 ft. and 64 ft. in length in order to find nourishment for a tree which was unable to find sustenance in the soil immediately beside and beneath it.

The party later proceeded to Finlayson Arm road, from which point the more energetic members made the ascent of Mount Finlayson, while others spent the time in the valley examining the rock formation at Niagara canyon, all the members later in the afternoon returning to the city after the enjoyable outing.

WOULD DIVERT LOAN SURPLUS ELSEWHERE

City is Reminded That Seawall Groynes Have Not Been Provided

The necessity of providing further money for improving the Ross Bay cemetery was urged on the city council last evening by Ald. Sargent, chairman of the cemetery committee...

J. O. Case, C. E., wrote on the matter, and referred to the fact that his relative, C. P. Case, C. E., designed the seawall with a plan to have the toe of the wall protected with a proper system of groynes...

The council determined to receive a report on the matter from City Engineer Rust. The finance committee reported that the cost of filling in block Q at the cemetery, which is wanted for burial purposes, will be $5,500, being $2,000 more than estimated on account of the paving of Fairfield road...

Ald. McNeill moved his resolution, and Ald. Sargent thought they should not proceed in view of Mr. Case's letter. Ald. McNeill, said Ald. Sargent, must know the situation about the cemetery. Provision should have been made for the other purposes mentioned in the motion...

Ald. Bell supported the proposal, while Ald. Dilworth, who said it was a shame to take money from the cemetery wall fund, voted to protect the cemetery, which he said, ought to be used to beautify the burial ground. Ald. McNeill replied, stating that it was unnecessary to secure an option to-day, as land was going begging around Victoria...

CAMP IN THE YOHO

Alpine Club of Canada Opened Mountaineering Camp To-day in the Rockies.

The ninth annual camp of the Alpine Club of Canada opened to-day for three weeks in the Upper Yoho valley, in the main range of the Rocky mountains, and just about eighteen miles from Field. The growing popularity of mountaineering among Canadians, which is no doubt largely due to the splendidly organized camps held in the past few years by the Alpine club—is amply demonstrated in the increased number of campers, this year's camp being attended by nearly three hundred. Among those who left Victoria during the last few days for the camp were Miss Cowell, Miss Ada Spenser, Miss McCulloch, Miss Spring and Captain Clarke. W. W. Foster, M. P., chairman of the local section, left about a fortnight ago for the interior, and went into camp at Yoho early this week...

The camp this year is in one of the most favored valleys of the tourist visitor in British Columbia, and so high that in a few minutes' walk the climber is on the snow and ice of the Vice-President (10,049 ft.), which will no doubt be one of the most popular ventures of the less ambitious alpinists. The long journey up from Field is probably the most irksome part of the trip to those who are anxious to settle down to genuine achievement by way of climbing, for the district is surrounded with peaks which are well worth the energy of the best climbers: The President, 10,287; the Vice-President, 10,049; Mt. Marpole, 9,822; Mt. Kerr, 9,384, and Mt. Carnarvon, 9,964 on the south side of the valley; at the head of the valley are Kiewitok peak, 9,512; and Mt. Pollinger; on the north isolated peak, 9,224; and from the Wapta icefield Mt. Habel, 10,961, and Mt. Collie, 10,815. Mt. Gordon, 10,320; Mt. Balfour, 10,731 feet, and other peaks can be reached from across the Yoho river...

Owing to its greater accessibility the President will probably be the favorite graduating climb, as having some good rock work and snow plains, it fulfills the requirements of the club in this respect. A. O. Wheeler, the indefatigable director of the Alpine Club of Canada, is, as in previous years, in charge of the camp, and with the help of the capable secretary-treasurer, S. H. Mitchell, the gathering will no doubt enjoy the best of privileges in respect to organized climbs, accommodation, food, and entertainment while in camp.

DEFECTIVE HOME TRAINING.

It is a fact that physical disabilities do affect the personality and misdirect, in many cases, its manifestations. But history—and life—are abundant in instances in which the mental and moral attributes have risen superior to environment and the handicap of physical inefficiency. A great deal of waywardness in both sexes cannot be accounted for by any such reasons, but must be ascribed to the absence of moral training in the home, and the general drift of the time toward laxity and lack of restraint.

SEEK REPAIRS OF ROCK BAY BRIDGE

City Council is Urged by Petition of Business Men to Reopen Trestle to Traffic

The city council will proceed with the repairs of Rock Bay bridge at a cost of $6,500 if funds are available. Such course was decided upon last evening. The repairs to the bridge were brought up in a threefold manner; the first a motion of Alderman Todd's to have the engineer execute the repairs at a cost of $6,500; secondly, in a petition from business men in the district of Rock Bay to have the work proceeded with, and lastly, as part of a motion of Alderman McNeill to use a portion of the surplus of the Ross Bay seawall loan for that purpose, the last named of course involving approval of the ratepayers.

Alderman Todd strongly advocated the improvement of the bridge, and the necessity of doing something for Victoria West people, who were paying for many utilities which they did not share with the citizens on this side of the harbor. They were paying, he instanced, for Sooke waterworks without benefiting thereby, and again they had no park. The street improvements, too, were limited in Victoria West.

Alderman O'Neill also advocated the improvement of the bridge, particularly for vehicular traffic. They had made Store street, he said, a cul de sac, and as a matter of fact, the original charter of the B. C. Electric railway provided for the company to have a line across Rock Bay bridge.

Alderman Fullerton declared they should make transfer from one part of the city to another as easily as possible. The bridge would be greatly used if reopened to vehicular traffic. Alderman McCandless endorsed the proposal, and echoed what had been said about the neglect of Victoria West.

Alderman Porter declared that if the work was done, it could not last long. The structure, he said, was shaky, and it would be a waste of money. The new bridge, in his opinion, should run from Constance street, and then it would be reduced very much in his length. In answer to Alderman Todd, the city engineer said that the cost of a permanent structure would be $90,000, and of filling in the ground, and leaving an opening for navigation, a cost of $50,000.

Alderman McNeill supported the repairs, but not a new structure. Alderman Sargent declared he would like to visit the bridge at the site before he voted, but Alderman Dilworth opposed the repairs of an old structure. In his opinion it would be throwing $6,500 into a hole.

Alderman Bell favored a new bridge, if it could be built of a trestle character at $10,000. Alderman Parter would be willing to vote for a bridge costing $10,000. For the motion of Alderman Todd there voted: The mayor, Aldermen Todd, O'Neill, McNeill and Fullerton. Against: Aldermen Dilworth, Sargent, Bell, Porter and McCandless.

This was a negative motion, the amendment to lay the matter over being thus rejected by a tie vote. On the principal motion, to carry out the work, six voted for it, and four against. Hence the resolution eventually carried.

PENSIONS PLANNED.

Scheme Would Prove Beneficial to Police: Force Personnel. Distributed to the aldermen last evening were copies of the rules and regulations of the Victoria City Police and pensions fund. The matter will be taken up on Friday afternoon. Accompanying are the rules proposed for the administration of the fund, under the control of the police commissioners: 1. Commissioners may retire men at age of 60 years. Monthly payment not to exceed one-half of salary attached to his rank. Officer must have been 25 years in service. 2. JUBILEE HOSPITAL FUNDS

City Council Will Pay Over Remaining Funds to Hospital in Monthly Installments. The city council will pay the balance of the money due for various services at the Jubilee hospital, $7,370.80, in six monthly payments of $1,100, and the balance at the end of the present year. The finance committee of the city council received a committee from the Jubilee hospital board during yesterday afternoon, and the deputation had laid the case for a reconsideration of the method of the city's support of the institution before it. They had also gone into the question of building an infirmary for incurable cases. On the latter matter the committee made no report.

WIFE-BEATER GIVEN A YEAR IN PRISON

Only Escapes Whipping as Well on Account of Its Being His First Offence

A deservedly heavy sentence was meted out to a wife-beater by Magistrate Jay this morning, and the prisoner was warned that if ever he was again guilty of the same offence he would get the lash.

Charles Pardee pleaded guilty when arraigned on Saturday to beating Mrs. Pardee, and was put over until yesterday in order that the wife, who was too ill to appear, might be heard as to the circumstances. She was in court yesterday and detailed how her husband had pommelled her most unmercifully with his fists. He had received no provocation whatever from her. "You have been guilty, on your own confession, to beating your wife," said his worship to the accused. "I cannot conceive of any justification that a man can have for treating his wife in the way you have treated yours. You are liable not only to a term of imprisonment but also to be whipped, and I was at first of opinion that that treatment should be applied to you. Upon further consideration I have come to the decision to give you the benefit of its being your first offence so far as letting you off that penalty, but if ever you come back here on the same charge, and I am here, I can assure you that you will be given a whipping as well as jail. You will go to jail for twelve months at hard labor."

TENT COLONY IS DOOMED

Hollywood Crescent District is to Be Cleared of Canvas Habitations. The tent colony at Hollywood is doomed. The death knell was sounded by the report of the city assessor and fire chief last evening, read to the city council, which recommended that no permits should be issued owing to the fire hazard, and depreciation of property. No tents are to be allowed in the fire limits of the "A" or business district. The officials recommended 25 applications for licenses and recommended the refusal of 19 cases. Alderman Porter hoped that the committee would not be too harsh in cases where tents were used for sleeping only, or where people could not afford a more satisfactory habitation. Alderman McNeill endorsed the suggestion. Alderman McCandless suggested some time would be allowed for people to move out of the tents. The city assessor said no interference had been made with sleeping quarters, but only where stoves were inside, or the Hollywood tent colony adjacent to residential property. The report was received, and adopted.

MOTOR VEHICLES COLLIDE.

Cycle Runs Into Rear of Car on the Sudden Stoppage of the Latter; Police Court Prosecution. The Canadian Mineral Rubber company was defendant in police court today on a charge of the running of a motor on the right-hand side of the street. O. J. Ambers, superintendent of the company, who was in the car at the time, asked for a remand for a day or two in order to get witnesses, and the case was put down for Thursday. On Friday last, about half-past one o'clock, the car was being driven on Government street when it was in collision with a motor cycle and side-car, driven by O. B. Eller, who had C. M. Donnelly as a passenger. According to the report put in by Mr. Eller his cycle ran into the rear of the car by reason of the latter being brought to a sudden stop in the street without any warning being given by the driver of his intention. The car, he says, was being driven rapidly ahead of him. His cycle was damaged. Mr. Ambers' report was that in front of the Westholme hotel he got a signal to stop from the driver of the hotel bus, who desired to turn the vehicle, and he did so. The cycle and side-car ran into him from behind, but no damage was done, according to him.

BETTER BUILDINGS NEEDED.

Every great fire like that at Salem, which involves also loss of life, is an added argument for sound construction in place of the unsound that has characterized so large a proportion of construction in the United States ever since this country was discovered. Insurance men are pleading constantly with the people. The insurance press, both weekly and monthly, devotes a great deal of space to the warning that poor construction is poor business, and yet that kind of construction goes on endlessly. Some improvement is manifest, but not half enough.

HUMAN PROCESSION

To-day is the twenty-seventh of the month Shaban of the year of the Hegira 1332—a memorable date in Persia, since it marks the eighteenth birthday of Ahmed Mirza, his coming of age, and Allah willing, his coronation as Shah of Persia, Lord of the Earth and King of Kings. Ahmed Mirza was born on Shaban 27, 1314, according to the calendar of the "true faith," which, the young Shah would tell you, is that of Allah and Mohammed his prophet, and none other. During his brief life many matters of great moment have happened in and to the ancient land which was once the seat of the world's greatest empire. The Russian bear has come down from the north, and is now squeezing the life-blood from Persia, and the young King of Kings who is now to take his seat on the throne of the Kajars will be but a figurehead, a mere puppet, in the hands of the fierce and bearded diplomats and soldiers of the Czar. The reigning, after a manner of speaking, dynasty of Persia was founded in 1795 by Aga Mohammed Khan, a bloody-handed eunuch who raised himself, by assassination and crime and daring, to the sovereignty. Between 1779 and 1795 there were many competitors for the vacant throne, but after years of plotting and murder the shrewd eunuch triumphed over his enemies, and killed most of them. Aga Mohammed was assassinated in his turn in 1797, but he had established his power so firmly that his appointed successor, Futeh Ali, was able to continue the Turcoman dynasty. Futeh reigned in true despotic fashion until 1834, when he was succeeded by his grandson, Mohammed Shah, who died in 1848. Nasr-ed-Din was his successor, and in the game of diplomacy he favored Great Britain. He twice visited Europe, and on one occasion was an interested spectator at a legal hanging. The victim was a frail man, and the King of Kings was partial to fat men, and wanted to see one of them hanged. He selected an obese cabinet minister for the demonstration, and became very peevish when informed that it would be impossible to carry out his wishes. This amiable prince was succeeded in 1896 by his son, Muzaffar-ed-Din, who reigned until 1896, when he was transported to the hours in Paradise. Mohammed-Ali-Mirza, father of the present Shah, ascended the ancient throne in 1907, at the age of thirty-five. He was the first Persian monarch to rule under a constitution, but he was far from popular, and after a reign of two years he was deposed, and his son Ahmed Mirza, then a schoolboy, became King of Kings. The ex-Shah went to Russia and lived in Odessa until 1911, when he returned to Persia and made a desperate effort to regain the throne. He was foiled in his attempt, but although he won several battles, his army was too small to make any extensive campaign. In 1912 the ex-Shah was said to be the head of a pirate band operating on the Caspian sea, and in the adjacent country. Last year the deposed Shah took the cure in Germany, and later went to the Riviera. Ahmed Mirza, the young Shah of an ancient land, has been well educated. He is proficient in Persian, Russian, Arabic and French, and has been instructed in the Mohammedan religion, the elements of law, writing, painting, arithmetic, Persian and world history, geography, physics, natural history, literature and gymnastics. His first instructor was a Russian officer at Tabriz, but when his father was deposed in 1909 a special school was organized for the Shah, his brother, and a few other boys from the most exclusive families of Persia. At the annual examinations the Shah took nearly all of the first prizes—possibly because of superior scholarship, but more probably because of his teacher's respect for his head.

Anniversary of the Greatest Man in the World's History.

Who was—or is—the greatest man in the history of the world?

The answer to this question will be many and varied, but the honor undoubtedly belongs to an Englishman, Daniel Lambert, of Leicester.

As the date of his birth is not exactly known, an admiring world, if it desires to celebrate Lambert's name and perpetuate his fame, will have to choose the anniversary of his death. It was just 105 years ago to-day, July 21, 1809, that the greatest of men was called to his reward.

In Lambert's case, "great" is defined as a synonym for "large," and his greatness was a matter of bulk and weight. The mountainous Lambert weighed 739 pounds, a record for corpulence which has never been equalled. Lambert's weight was well attested by the best scientific and medical testimony of the period, and cannot be doubted.

Lambert's death, which occurred suddenly, as he went to bed well and expired before nine the next morning, was viewed with general regret. "A vast multitude" followed the corpse to the grave at Stamford, in Lincolnshire. The coffin was six feet and four inches in length and four feet and four inches in breadth, and was fitted on wheels, upon which the remains of the world's greatest man were rolled to his last resting place in St. Martin's churchyard.

Lambert made a living by exhibiting himself, as many obese persons have since done, and on a visit to London in 1806 his presence was announced by the following advertisement:

"Mr. Daniel Lambert, of Leicester, the heaviest man that ever lived; who, at the age of thirty-six years, weighs upwards of fifty stone, or fifty-two stone eleven pounds, which is ninety-one pounds more than the great Mr. Bright weighed. Tickets of admission, one shilling each."

The "great Mr. Bright" referred to was a tall, slender and grocer of Maldon, in Essex, who died in his twenty-ninth year, in 1750, at the advanced weight of 616 pounds. After his death a wager was made that five ordinary-sized men could be enclosed in his waistcoat. At the test, held in an inn in Maldon, it was found that seven men could be enclosed in the garment without unduly stretching it. Obesity is now declared to be a disease, and the records of all famous fat men bear out this belief. Lambert died at the age of thirty-nine or thereabouts, Bright was ten years younger when he passed away, and one Palmer, a landlord in Brompton, was under thirty. Palmer is said to have died of grief after viewing Lambert, a man so much greater than himself. John Love, a famous heavy man of the eighteenth century, was under forty when he died. An exception to the rule was James Mansfield, who weighed 176 pounds, and who was eighty-two years old when he died in 1856.

It was about a half-century ago when physicians began serious consideration of methods for relieving obesity and reducing weight. In 1864 William Banting, an Englishman of excessive corpulence, published a pamphlet setting forth his system by which he had relieved himself of his superfluous flesh, and within a year more than 50,000 copies had been circulated in Europe and America. Banting recommended a dietary composed principally of raw meat, and urged abstinence from beer, farinaceous food, and vegetables, and great moderation in the use of sugar and starch. In a large measure his recommendations have been found to be good, and methods of reducing flesh have since then been called "banting," after the inventor of the original system.

Centenary of Inventor of Revolver. Not the least important of this year's centenaries is that of Samuel Colt, whose name is inseparably associated with that type of small firearms called the revolver. Sunday marked the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of the inventor of that weapon which has been both a blessing and a curse to humanity, since it has armed the criminal and the assassin as well as officers of the law and other honest men. Revolvers in the hands of anarchists and fanatics have carried death to many rulers, including Francis Ferdinand, heir to the Austrian throne, and his wife.

Samuel Colt was born on July 19, 1814, in Hartford, Conn., the son of a manufacturer of woollens and silks. At ten he left school to enter his father's factory, and at fourteen he ran away to sea and made a voyage to India. It was on this long trip in a sailing vessel that he conceived the idea of the revolver, and made a model of wood.

On his return he studied chemistry, and traveled over the States and Canada lecturing on that science. He was a fluent and entertaining speaker, and the profits from two years on the lecture platform provided him with money to continue his inventive work. In 1835 he visited Europe and patented his revolver in London and Paris, and on his return secured American rights and organized the Patent Arms company. His first crude revolver did not meet with popular approval, and his company failed. Colt's first real success was achieved during the war with Mexico, when Gen. Taylor, after a thorough test, ordered a thousand of the new weapons. The government order was executed in an armory at New Haven. The general demand for the improved revolvers soon necessitated a large factory, and this was built in Hartford, the inventor's native city.

FIRST THINGS

The first railway line in Canada, between St. John's and La Prairie, Quebec, was opened 78 years ago to-day, July 21, 1836. This railway, like all of the few lines projected during the following decade, was only a few miles in length. The first Canadian railway of any great importance was the Grand Trunk, which was commenced in 1847 and was completed from Montreal to Portland, Me., in 1853. The following year another important system, the Great Western, was commenced, and traversed Upper Canada from Toronto to Detroit and from Hamilton to Niagara Falls. When the Dominion of Canada was launched in 1867 the mileage of Canadian railways was about 2,900. The next important project was the Intercolonial railway, connecting the cities on the Atlantic with Quebec, and later with Montreal. The first transcontinental line, the Canadian Pacific, opened a through passenger service between Montreal and Vancouver in 1886. With 2,000 miles of railways in 1867, 4,000 miles in 1874, 18,000 miles in 1900, 25,000 miles in 1912, and over 30,000 miles now in operation or under construction, the story of the Dominion's development is tersely told.

Crippled With Rheumatism

And Skeptical After Trying Many Medicines—Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Cured Him.

When the kidneys fail to purify the blood the poisons left in the system cause pain and suffering such as backache, lumbago and rheumatism. Read how this skeptic was cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Mr. F. W. Brown, Kingsbury, Que., writes: "I have been completely cured of backache and lame back by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I also recommended the pills to a man who was a cripple from rheumatism. He was skeptical, as he said that he had tried nearly everything on earth. Finally he consented to try them, and to his surprise was greatly benefited in the first week, and the pains left his legs until he was so supple he could walk without pain or difficulty. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have worked wonders in this case, and we think there is no medicine like them." Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, 5 for $1.00; all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Would Limit Race Meet—The attorney-general was busy this morning holding conferences with various parties interested in the race meet which it is intended to hold here during the fair, and it is understood that he is endeavoring as far as possible to limit the duration of the meet. Mr. Bowyer stated this morning, however, that he had given no decision on any of the parties, but had merely been consulting with them. J21

Echo of the Past—By passing a fee of $250 for McDiarmid, Gahn and White for services in the Taylor Mill, and Lemon-Gonnason action, the city council finally washed its hands of a lawsuit affecting the rights to water lots on Rock Bay, which began some years ago. When the change in city solicitor occurred, F. A. McDiarmid was instructed to proceed with all lawsuits unfinished at the time, and in this case, or rather double action in which the principle was the same, had been one of the number. J21

His mother, who lives at Salford, Manchester, is anxious to hear from him. J21

He was also authorized to arrange for a meeting if possible of the city council, the council of the board of trade, the council of that association, with the three members from island constituencies, G. P., as a resident of Victoria, to discuss the Seymour Narrows bridge question with them prior to the visit of the prime minister and minister of public works. J21

The council of the association also will do its best to secure the improvement of Sooke harbor, for which the residents have appealed, and the commissioner was authorized to arrange with Mayor Hughes, of the department of public works, for a visit, and report back to the association. J21

Owing to the multitude of engagements this year, the council reluctantly turned down the proposal to organize a tour of the islands, suggested by F. A. Devereux. It is hoped to carry this out on some future occasion. J21

EXAMINING OVERSEAS PROBLEMS PERSONALLY

Sir Hartmann Just, Secretary of Imperial Conference, in Victoria To-day

Sir Hartmann W. Just, secretary of the imperial conference, and assistant under secretary for the colonies, arrived in Victoria this morning, continuing his journey to Vancouver. Sir Hartmann told the Times that he was delighted to be back in Victoria, where he visited some months ago, when touring Canada from the Atlantic seaboard. "I have been," he said, "carrying out a mission in the Australian states and New Zealand in accordance with the policy of the imperial conference, and a permanent official of the colonial office shall get in touch by personal contact with the various ministries and administrations overseas. Sir Chas. Lucas in 1909 was the first to pay a visit of this character to the dominions overseas, and this present tour of mine has been of a somewhat similar character."

Sir Hartmann stated that the position he held prevented him discussing the defence of the Pacific ocean, in which all the British dominions having sea-boards thereon are deeply interested, and also the effect of his tour, which was largely confidential in character. He admitted, however, that the close association of permanent officials with the men who are administering the great expanses of empire cannot but be beneficial, the former learning first hand of conditions, the latter being freed from that suspicion of Whitehall which has become a tradition of diplomacy.

The visitor stated that his Canadian journey had no political significance, and he would merely pass through the country as a traveller, leaving New York on the Cunard liner Lusitania. He was accompanied round Victoria by Hon. R. J. Black, member of the legislative council of New South Wales, who is a prominent man of business in Sydney, and a director of the bank of New South Wales. From that bank was also William McCrae.

Another prominent bank manager on board was Arthur Paterson, manager of the Sydney branch of the Royal Bank of Australia, Ltd. Other leading people included Thomas Hughes, of the Colonial Sugar Refining company, routed to Vancouver to look into affairs at the refinery there; E. Jacob, barrister-at-law, of Vila, New Hebrides; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sully and John Kent. Mrs. Sully is president of the Y. W. C. A., and Mr. Kent is one of the trustees of the association. Accompanying the last three was Miss Heard, president of the national board of the Y. W. C. A. for Australia, who has been granted leave of absence for nine months. She will visit Toronto and New York en route to Europe.

Up to June 30 the Pacific Lock Joint company has laid 4,950 feet of pipe from Sooke lake, of which 870 feet have been tested, and the concrete pipe laying is proceeding satisfactorily now, although held up till recently by various delays. The contractors, who have laid pipe through the Goldstream school house cut of special strength, on account of the fear of a land slide, will now have two shifts working. The gatehouse is finished at Humphback, and fencing of the reservoir is proceeding. Up to June 30 the Burrard Engineering company had made 3,140 feet of steel pipe at Thetis cove, and now the city will be able to open an additional camp near Colwood for the trench work, ready for the advent of the pressure pipe gangs.

BIG SHIPOWNER HERE

Inspects Work on Timber Contract for Toronto Harbor Improvements.

Robert Dollar, of San Francisco, head of the steamship company which bears his name, is in the city on business connected with the big contract to transport the timber from Vancouver Island to Toronto for the harbor improvements which are being carried on there by the Dominion government. Yesterday he and Great Smith, the well-known contractor, motored to Cowichan Lake and Genoa Bay to look over the sub-contracts to supply the timber which the Dollar ships will convey around to the Great Lakes.

WILL TALK ABOUT FARES

Residents of Garden City Want Further Concessions From B. C. Electric Railway.

At Marigold station, B. C. Electric Interurban line, at 8 this evening, a meeting is to be held to talk over the question of the service provided, and the fare charges to Saanich residents on the electric line from Harriet road to Westwoodvale. There have already been meetings on this subject, but the residents of Garden City and adjacent subdivisions are not satisfied that the company's concessions go far enough, and the whole subject will be canvassed this evening. Yesterday he and Great Smith, the well-known contractor, motored to Cowichan Lake and Genoa Bay to look over the sub-contracts to supply the timber which the Dollar ships will convey around to the Great Lakes.

Mr. Dollar left this afternoon for Seattle.

Crowded Houses Delight in Excellently Varied Bill at Vaudeville House; Plenty of Comedy.

A well-balanced bill, one that combines delightful singing with unlimited comedy, is the offering at the Pantages this week, and the popular playhouse was packed for both performances yesterday. Charles Reilly, assisted by a very capable company, scored a big hit in his entertaining playlet, the "Irish Emigrant." Mr. Reilly's singing of the favorite airs of Erin and the dancing of the company were all that could be desired. Olivo Briscoe, a swagger mald with a line of new talk and songs, was also good, while Bombay Deesfoot, an Indian juggler, presented a somewhat unusual act. Delmore and Lee are a pair of splendid singers, who are also clever dancers. The Pantagescope showed a comedy film that started the laughter, the entire bill being well received at both performances.

Alderman McNeill Leaving for Sherbrooke Carries Resolution of Invitation

In order to place themselves in direct touch with Ald. McNeill prior to his departure for the east, to attend the convention of the Union of Canadian municipalities at Sherbrooke, the finance committee of the city council met this afternoon. Ald. Todd, in speaking of the resolution adopted at the meeting of the city council last evening in favor of federal aid to trunk highways, which Ald. McNeill will take east, said that British Columbia has a special claim on the federal government in this regard because of the large tax paid by way of customs duty on cars imported into the province, from which the Dominion treasury benefited.

A formal resolution has been prepared, signed by the Mayor of Victoria, the Reeves of Saanich, Oak Bay, and Esquimalt, and carefully decorated, inviting the convention to meet in Victoria in 1915, in the westward trek to the Panama Pacific exposition.

A deputation from the ladies promoting the art gallery waited on the finance committee at its meeting yesterday, but the aldermen gave no promise of the donation of a site, pending the preparation of a permanent scheme for the improvement of the old tide flats, to provide for a social centre as explained in the Times yesterday.

Settlements over property purchased for street widening have been reached for street widening have been reached as follows: Hillside avenue, Andrew Ohison, $5,547; Pandora avenue, S. A. Baird, $2,590; Miss Minnie Ford, in Craigdarroch, $1,010, part of Fort street widening.

Miss Boorman's house on Elford street, which the city purchased some time ago, and which will be pulled down for Pandora avenue extension, will be vacated on August 6, Miss Boorman being given till that time to remove.

NO DUTY ON REPAIRS

Board of Trade Hears That American Ships May Have Work Done in Canadian Port.

A communication has been received by the board of trade intimating that hereafter under a new United States tariff regulation no duty will be charged on repairs to American vessels made in Canadian ports. The news is important to shipbuilders in British Columbia, as many instances have arisen where a ship could more conveniently have its repairs done here than in Seattle, but owing to the duty, has preferred to cross the strait to have the work done. The information comes as the result of a query put through by Yarrows, Limited, of Esquimalt, a firm which is deeply interested in the decision.

KING HEARS CRY OF CIVIL WAR ON LIPS OF MANY SUBJECTS

Political Leaders Urged to Use Patience and Conciliatory Methods

SAYS CIRCUMSTANCES JUSTIFY HIS ACTION

Responsibility Great and Time Short His Majesty Tells Statesmen

London, July 21.—For the first time in the modern history of England the king to-day recognized that the cry of civil war was on the lips of many of his responsible and sober-minded subjects in connection with the Irish home rule crisis.

His speech to the leaders of the various parties called together in conference at Buckingham Palace was very grave in its tone, as he told them he regarded them as the trustees for the honor and peace of all, and left them to confer in view of reaching a settlement.

He told them their responsibilities were great and that time was short, and advised them to exercise patience and to be earnest and conciliatory in their deliberations.

"It is with feelings of satisfaction and hopefulness," said his majesty, "that I receive you here to-day and I thank you for the manner in which you have responded to my summons. It is also a matter of congratulation that the speaker of the House of Commons has consented to preside over your meeting."

"My intervention at this moment may be regarded as a departure, but the exceptional circumstances under which you are brought together justifies my action.

"For months we have watched with deep misgivings the course of events in Ireland. The trend has been surely and steadily toward an appeal to force, and to-day the cry of civil war is on the lips of the most responsible and sober-minded of my people."

"We have in the past endeavored to act as a civilizing example to the world, and to me it is unthinkable, as it must be to you, that we should be brought to the brink of fratricidal strife on issues apparently so capable of adjustment as those you are now asked to consider, if handled in a spirit of generous compromise."

"My comprehension in contemplating such a dire calamity is intensified by my feeling of attachment to Ireland and of sympathy with her people, who have always welcomed me with warm heartfelt affection.

C. P. R. Decline of Yesterday Arrested on Foreign Market Cessation of Sales

Victoria Stock Exchange Disclosed No New Feature To-day

The local list was not without elements of strength this morning, and was generally improved from yesterday, but made no aggressive showing in the way of constructive action. Some intrusion of bids in several of the oil issues excited no real attention, neither did the leaders disclose any new features.

Athabasca dragged rather aimlessly and offers were notably cheaper. News from the company's headquarters shows good progress.

In the oil department Monarch had easy precedence, and was quite strong at $8 bid. Sales of the stock in Calgary were at around the 2 1/2 mark, and advices from there were more buoyant in character.

Nevertheless, other oil issues had only narrow fluctuations here, and offers were heavy.

MINER'S BRAVE ACT

Robert Henderson Decorated for Saving Life in Mine Accident in Natal Last Year.

Robert Henderson, a miner of Sheep Creek, was yesterday the recipient, at the hands of the Lieutenant-governor, of the Edward medal for his exceeding bravery in saving life in a gas-filled mine in Natal eighteen months ago. The presentation was made in the presence of Sir Richard McBride, Hon. H. E. Young and others, all of whom congratulated Mr. Henderson very warmly on the honor which had been done him.

The act for which Mr. Henderson has received a decoration established by King Edward VII, and which is the equivalent of the Victoria Cross in the case of valor shown in mines, is thus described in the London Gazette:

"On January 11, 1913, a number of native 'boys' were engaged in building up the ends of old road in No. 2 North Main Haulage of the Hatting Spruit Colliery, Natal, in order to prevent the fumes of a gas fire from coming out into the haulage. A brattice cloth screen had been placed across the road to keep back the fumes at one point while work was proceeding at other points. The air was quite pure outside the mine. In the absence of Hepburn, who was in charge of the party, two of the 'boys' went through the screen, contrary to orders, to get a shovel, and, as they returned, first one and then the other fell unconscious. Hepburn was informed, and with another 'boy' went in search of the two. His first search of the workings had no result, and he returned through the screen, thinking that he had been misinformed. On being assured that there was no mistake, he went in a second time accompanied by a native, Muzimaceba, and an Indian named Munlan, and found the two missing 'boys'. They dragged one for a few seconds when Hepburn collapsed, and Muzimaceba carried him on his shoulder almost as far as the screen, a distance of at least 100 yards. The attention of those outside the screen was attracted, and assistance arrived to carry Hepburn into safety. Muzimaceba became unconscious, Munlan in the meantime remained behind with the missing 'boys'. Hepburn, though suffering from the effects of gas, managed to tell Easton what had happened. Easton shouted for Henderson, who was near at hand, and both penetrated into the danger area and succeeded in bringing out the missing 'boys' one of whom unfortunately died from the effects of the gas. They were able in their return down the working to discover a shorter way back to the screen, otherwise in all probability they would have lost their lives."

LEADER IN WHEAT TRADE

BOUGHT MILLION BUSHELS

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)

Chicago, July 21.—This market closed 3/4 to 1/2 under top for the day on a little natural reaction and at net gains over close on the day of 3/4 July, 3/8 for the big trading months, September and December. First bullish feature for the day was strong and higher cable. Broomhall received adverse conditions for European crops. Reports from Russia claimed heavy importing needs because of short crop and strong cargoes. Northwest news was bullish and gave market its strongest support about midday when one local leader bought easily a million bushels of September and December and several other local leaders who were sellers considerably under this level, also became netive buyers. The immediate cause of the sharpest buying flurry for the days was the return of two cens in the September at Minneapolis which led the trade to expect more alarming black rust news from that quarter. Before the close Minneapolis price dropped back one cent, other Northwest markets reacting nearly as much and the latter messages from leaders in that quarter claiming a little change of feeling from the bullishness of the morning.

PROMINENT LABOR MAN ADDRESSES WORKERS

Fred Bancroft Tells of the New Compensation Act in Force in Ontario

A small audience of workmen heard an address on the new workmen's compensation act of Ontario last evening from Fred Bancroft, vice-president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, in the ball-room of the Alexandra club. Members of the board of trade and the builders' exchange had been invited to attend, but only one or two were present.

Christian Sivertz presided and briefly introduced the speaker, to whom he gave a great deal of the credit of the movement for an improvement in the law which had resulted in the inquiry conducted by Sir William Meredith, chief justice of Ontario, and the legislation to come into effect not later than January 1 next.

Mr. Bancroft went very fully into a review of the law as it stood formerly, the agitation which led up to the action by the government of Ontario and the outlines of the new act. He laid emphasis on one point—evidently to anticipate criticism which might be levelled against his attitude by "advanced" wings of the labor movement—and this was that no matter how bad or wrong the system of government might be, from the standpoint of the worker, it was the part of wisdom to secure all the favorable legislation possible under present conditions. It would be no satisfaction to the widow and orphan, he urged, or to the man crippled in the pursuit of his trade to be pointed to some general future betterment of things when help might be given them by the adoption of such a law as labor had secured in Ontario.

Five years ago the Trades and Labor Congress had succeeded in its agitation for the appointment of a commission. Mr. Bancroft said, and in the end there was a draft law recommended by the commission to take the place of the existing workmen's compensation act and the common law on the subject. This had been passed by the legislature after a bitter fight against it by the Canadian Manufacturers' association and to become effective on January 1 at latest, but would very likely be put into force at the beginning of the fiscal year this fall. Whatever the administration of it might be, the new law was immeasurably superior to any other of the kind in the empire, and compared favorably with that in Germany.

Under the old law, he said, the worker who was injured, or the dependents who sued on the death of the wage-earner, were not really suing the employer, but the insurance company with which he had insured against the risk of accident to his employees. Thus they had to confront the finest legal talent in the courts, and were harassed from court to court in the event of getting a verdict. It had happened many times that while claimants got a decision in their favor right through the appeal courts, in the end the legal expenses had eaten up the amount of compensation, and left them worse off than they were before they sued.

law in Ontario, as it was in the German and other laws, was that while the capitalistic system endured, the cripples and other human wreckage due to industrial operations cast a social obligation of maintenance on the state, and that the cost of this maintenance was properly to be borne by the industry itself and thus become a part of the cost of manufacture, being borne in the last analysis by the consumer. Industries were divided into groups and all the accidents in each one would be taxed against all the employers in that group. If there were many, the tax would be all the heavier; if few or none, the group would get off with a light tax on none at all.

The result of this, Mr. Bancroft said, was that it gave an inducement to employers to have no accidents in their businesses, and to the group to see that every employer in the same line did all in his power to adopt such safeguards as would reduce accidents to a minimum. The speaker remarked that just as machinery was replacing handicraft, so was the human relationship between employer and employee disappearing. It was a matter of business, pure and simple, and that being so it was only just that each industry should be made to bear the expense of the accidents arising, whether the worker killed or injured was to blame or not. If it was made too expensive for an employer to allow accidents to occur, it would be to his interest to see that none occurred. If Alberta had such a law, he said, the Hillcrest disaster would never have happened, because the mine owners would have found it cheaper to take precautions against accident in the mine than to pay the heavy compensation that the law would compel.

The Ontario act provided for the assessment of a tax on all industries to cover the amount that would be necessary to meet all cases arising in that industry, and the payment of this into the provincial treasury was compulsory. Just as any other tax, the provincial insurance department administered the fund. The basis was that a man should receive fifty-five per cent of his loss of earning capacity. If he was permanently incapacitated from labor, he would receive that percentage of the difference between what he had been making and what he earned afterwards. In case of a man being killed, the widow would receive a monthly payment during her life, and for every child a sum per month would be paid until they reached the age of sixteen.

The result of the present system was that while employers insured, and the worker and the rest of the public paid, only twenty-five cents in the dollar came back to the injured. The companies got the rest of it. Compulsory state insurance, which was what the new law amounted to, resulted in the worker getting ninety-two per cent of the amount paid in, and he got it without having to fight for it.

Replying to questions at the close, Mr. Bancroft stated that farm and domestic servants were the only classes exempt from the operation of the act, and explained that if farm servants had been included in a province like Ontario the act never would have been passed. Even if an employer failed or went out of business, the amount payable to his former employees was a tax on the rest of the men in that industry. Men working on foreign vessels at Canadian docks would have the benefit of such an act, and men working outside the Dominion for a Canadian employer would also share. To a miner Mr. Bancroft said that such an act in this province would be more effectual in preventing mine accidents than the best coal mines regulation act. A vote of thanks to the speaker was adopted unanimously.
