< Wikipedia:Meetup

The Princeton University Archives is hosting a Wikipedia Edit-a-Thon!

WHO: Interested University community members (undergraduates, graduate students, professors, staff, community). Limited to 15 participants; please RSVP before Wednesday, 15 February 2012.

WHAT: Creating and expanding existing Wikipedia pages about Princeton's presidents, notable campus architecture, and other Princetoniana, including a focus on women at Princeton as part of WikiWomen's History Month. Participants will set up individual Wikipedia accounts, learn about the Wikipedian principles of neutrality and the structure of online encyclopedia articles, and then apply this knowledge to create Wikipedia articles.

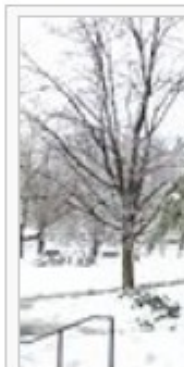

WHEN: Saturday, 18 February 2012, 12:30 P.M.-4:00 P.M. Lunch and snacks will be provided.

WHERE: Wiess Lounge, Seeley G. Mudd Manuscript Library (next to Sherrerd Hall and across from the Friend Center on the Princeton University campus).

WHY: To show how much you want the world to know about Princeton and to learn about Wikipedia, the online encyclopedia you consult for work and read for fun.

OTHER: Please bring your laptop since you will be asked to create a Wikipedia account if you do not already have an account (you are not required to have an account before participating).

IMPORTANT: Please RSVP by adding your name to the list below and sending a message to Undead q \(talk\) before Wednesday, 15 February 2012 because space is limited.

8601 Adelphi Road, College
Park, Maryland

Who should come? You should. Really.

Please join us for the National Archives ExtravaSCANza, January 4–7. The object of the event will be to scan historical documents of interest to Wikipedians, to help improve the quality of our content and provide access for those Wikipedians who cannot physically visit the National Archives. At the same time, we are assisting the National Archives in its digitization efforts, and all documents scanned will be added to NARA's online catalog by staff. See Wikipedia:Meetup/NARA 1 and Wikipedia:Meetup/NARA 2 for background on prior events.

This time, we will be doing things a little differently. We will forgo presentations, tours, or lunch and instead meet directly in the research room. With themed days, we will be less physically scattered within the building and more
