SUBJECT: Motion Pictures For Use in Conjunction with Information Programs

TO: See Distribution

1. Transmitted herewith, as inclosure 1, is a listing of motion picture films which may be used in conjunction with information programs. These films have been released by Civil Information and Education Section, Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers, or Japanese producers. Films are listed under the program heading in which they may best be utilized.

2. The CIE prints listed are presently available in the prefectural film libraries, distributed from the Educational Film Unit, CI&E, SCAP. The Japanese-produced prints may be secured by Japanese requesting agencies through direct contact with the producers. Where prices are not listed, direct arrangements may be made with the producers to obtain rental or sale prices. Listing of these films is not to be construed as indorsement of the producer or his product by this headquarters, or as authority or direction for their purchase.

3. Listing of the subject films by program heading does not preclude their use in support of other programs. It is suggested that preview showings of the Japanese produced films, if procured, be made to interested civic and professional groups, to enlist their support and stimulate utilization by the entire community.

4. For additional information concerning the purchase of Japanese documentary films, the prefectural film libraries and interested visual education groups or individuals may be referred to the Ministry of Education or the Motion Picture Association of Japan. In this connection, the Motion Picture Association recently issued a list of documentary and educational films produced in Japan to the Social Education Section of each prefecture.

PREFACE

This bibliography has been prepared for the use of Military Government Labor Officers in the stimulation of labor education in Japan. Most of the various publications listed should be found in a local labor-management library as well as local labor school libraries.

The list will also serve the useful purpose of keeping international labor management scholarship in touch with development of labor education and labor relations in post-war Japan under the Occupation.

Do not send in orders for one or more copies for any publication to ESS, Labor Division. When copies are desired, use local Japanese labor agencies for procurement.

SUBJECT: Labor Background Material

TO: Military Government Labor Officers, Military Government CI&E Officers

1. Labor Division, Economic and Scientific Section, has mailed 117 separate items to Eighth Army Military Government Labor Officers. Due to personnel changes in the field, as well as for other reasons, many Labor Officers report that some pamphlets have not been received. Civil Information and Education Officers interested in stocking local management-labor libraries as completely as possible have given the same report.

2. The following list covers the items sent by Labor Division to Military Government Officers through technical channels during the period 25 October 1946 through 5 September 1947. Much of the material came from the United States and cannot be resupplied, and many Labor Division pamphlets are out of print. If after examination the Military Government Team desires any material listed below, copies should be requested through technical channels and Labor Division will endeavor to fill the order.

TO : Military Government Team Labor Officer

1. Atchd is a copy of a new bibliography of labor literature prepared by the ESS Labor Division entitled, "Labor-Management Books and Pamphlets Published in Japan since the beginning of the Occupation."

2. A copy of this bibliography has been furnished the Welfare Ministry, Tokyo, with the suggestion that it be translated into Japanese and sent out to every Labor Administration Section Chief in Japan.

3. Welfare Ministry has also been instructed to advise each Ken Labor Administration Section to set up a labor-management reading room, if it has not already been done. In some cases, local Prefectures have done this in conjunction with the CI&E Reading Rooms.

4. In addition to usage of the attached document as suggested in the letter, it is also suggested that local newspaper editors may desire to run this bibliography in order to inform laborers on books and pamphlets available on the subject of trade unionism and collective bargaining.

SUBJECT: Labor-Management Books and Pamphlets Published in Japan since the beginning of the Occupation.

TO ; Military Government Labor Officers, Military Government CI&E Officers, and Japanese government and union officials.

1. This list is as complete as possible, lists only Japanese language publications available in Japan, and is presented without comment as to the merit or worth of the items listed. Many of the items are reprints of material prepared by ESS Labor Division.

2. This list can be of great use to Military Government Labor Officers, Military Government CI&E Officers, and Japanese government and union officials in pointing out:

a. Books and pamphlets that should be in the library of every major trade union.

b. Books and pamphlets that should be in the library of both the Ken Labor Relations Committee and the local Management-Labor Reading Room (or CI&E Reading Room).

c. Books and pamphlets which can be used by local union or employer groups as textbooks for possible lectures on labor relations.

3. In speaking to both employer and labor groups, Allied personnel are urged to refer to one or two books in each talk, giving them complete details on title, author, publisher, price, and publishers' address. ESS Labor Division has discovered that despite wide republication of American material in Japanese in Tokyo, the items are NOT getting much of a reading outside Tokyo where the bulk of trade union rank-and-file is located.

4. The list is broken down into seven (7) convenient groups as follows:

a. Trade Union History:

LABOR IN THE UNITED STATES, by Shichiro Matsui, Chikura Shobo, c/o Dai Ichi Sogo Kan Bldg., Kyobashi Ku, Tokyo, August 1946, ¥ 15 per copy.

SUBJECT: Labor Books

The Tokyo CI&E Library is open to Japanese only. Located in the heart of the city, opposite the Hibiya Theatre in Yurakucho, it is open seven days a week. Books cannot be taken from the library, but Japanese are free to spend all day every day reading books which are in English and may be of use to Japanese. .

The following is a list as of 1 February 1947 of the books and other general publications in this CI&E Library. Japanese students and trade unionists are urged to make good use of the CI&E Library.

I. General

Bakke, Edward W.
"The Unemployed Worker" (1940) 331.137
A sociological study of unemployment stressing the attempts at self-help, the use of savings and other resources. Attacks one of our basic problems with all its ramifications in the American way of life. Good reviews.

Bingham, Alfred M.
"Insurgent America: The Revolt of the Middle Classes" (1935) 320
An analysis of the forces for social change in America and the political aspects of the transition from capitalism to 'private collectivism'.

Brooks, Robert R.
"Unions of Their Own Choosing" (1939) 331.88
A thorough discussion of the historical background and the actual work of the National Labor Relations Board. Describes the relationship of the board and its work to other aspects of American life and government. Excellent reviews.

Chernik, Jack
"Guaranteed Annual Wages" (1945) 331.23
A report on the extent of guaranteed annual wage plans now in force in the United States. Discusses the plan as to its advisability as a solution to intermittent employment and indirectly to other forms of unemployment. Perhaps the difficulties of its practice need fuller attention than this book gives them.

Coleman, McAlister
"Men and Coal" (1943) 331
History of the American coal miners' unions and the men who made them. An excellent job of untangling the actual issues involved in current disputes in America.

Dougherty, Carroll
"Labor Problems in American Industry" (1941) 331
A textbook which presents the major areas of maladjustment in industry, and a discussion of the existing and prepared measures for improving industrial relations.

Dougherty, Norbert F.
"Occupational Planning for Tomorrow" (1944) 658.386
Discussion of the selection, training, and promotion of executives in industry based on testing, analysis, etc. Discusses evils of present day schooling for such positions. Much of the material is too generalized and solutions offered are not considered adequate by reviewers of the book.

Douglass, Paul H.
"Social Security in the United States" (1939) 331.25
There is an excellent discussion of how best to utilize the huge reserve created by payroll taxes so as to avoid a deflationary influence during periods of recession.

Floddorus, Mary L.
"Technology and Livelihood" (1944) 338.45
Subtitle: "An inquiry into the changing technological basis for production as affecting employment and living standards." The study is based largely upon government reports. It furnishes a substantial backlog of facts concerning changes in industrial processes within the past three or four decades and their effect upon labor.

Goldon, Clinton S. & Ruttenberg, Harold
"The Dynamics of Industrial Democracy" (1942) 331
A practical study of collective bargaining. Gives case studies with reasons for failures in the past and presents reasons for present successes based on modern methods and techniques of collective bargaining. Received excellent reviews as a valuable and objective book in its field.

Harris, Herbert
"American Labor" (1938) 331
A presentation of the labor problem at the present time from the historical point of view. An attempt to show that the movement is dynamic and to bring some perspective to the interpretation of its present desires, achievements, and defects.

International Labor Office
"The Exploitation of Foreign Labor by Germany" (1945) 331.8
A study and analysis of foreign labor in Germany and foreigners employed by Germany in countries under its control. Their organization, recruitment and distribution, conditions of work and health, provisions for families during their absence, and conditions for returning home on leave are the topics of this research study.

Laidler, Harry W.
"Program for Modern America" (1936) 330.973
A discussion of such current economic problems as child labor, unemployment insurance, shorter work week, etc., with a solution for each problem. Excellent reviews.

Lauck, William
"Conditions of Labor in American Industries" (1917) 331.82
A summary of the results of recent investigations into conditions of laborers in various industries.

Lorwin, Lewis
"Labor Relations Boards" (1935) 331.1
An analysis of the effects of the N.R.A. section on collective bargaining on the development of the theory of collective bargaining. Describes the growth of administrative institutions aiming to put the statutory requirements into operation.

Lorwin, Lewis
"American Federation of Labor" (1933) 331.88
A history of the American Federation of Labor with an analysis of its organization and a study of its relationship to other aspects of American life. Rigorously objective in handling the subject. Considered the most adequate account of the American Federation of Labor.

Millis, Harry A.
"How Collective Bargaining Works" (1945) 331.88
Contains full-length sketches of the actual workings of collective bargaining in sixteen trades and industries plus short sketches covering thirteen other fields. Each of the larger sketches covers the growth and the present situation of organized labor in the industry concerned.

Nouschutz, Louise
"Jobs for the Physically Handicapped" (1944) 331.86
Presents a list of vocations open to the handicapped with detailed information on training, related reading, and methods of starting and working in the various fields.

Pesotta, Rose
"Bread Upon the Waters" (1945) 331.88
A study of the American labor movement, especially in the needle trades. The author was the only female vice-president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union from 1934 until she resigned in 1943. Some sections of her book are autobiographical.

Peterson, Florence
"American Labor Unions" (1945) 331.88
A description of structural characteristics of labor unions, their rules and regulations, internal government and finances, and their procedural arrangements for dealing with employers as well as methods used in settling employer-employee disputes.

Pink, Louis
"Freedom from Fear, the Interrelation of Domestic and International Programs" (1944) 331.25
The author links internal security with world security and analyzes various postwar social plans -- The Beveridge Plan, etc. He sees a solution in a compromise between extension of individual forms of social insurance and government agencies.

Savage, Marion
"Industrial Unionism in America" (1922) 331.88
An attempt to describe and evaluate industrial unionism with its variations. Also a discussion of the direction in which organized labor seemed to be moving at the time the book was written.

Shreiner, Olive
"Woman and Labor" (1911) 331.4
A collection of musings on some of the problems connected with women's work including parasitism of woman, woman and war, sex differences, objections to women's place in labor and counter-arguments. Sex functions and their influence on woman's place in society are especially emphasized.

Spivak, John
"America Faces the Barricades" (1935) 331
A report based on interviews of the vast problems facing the government of the United States in the 1930's. A conclusion that, regardless of desires, the system we now have must be completely changed to meet the problems of the depression years.

Stewart, Bryce
"Planning the Administration of Unemployment Compensation in the United States" 331.254
A book based on field studies of the administrative set-up and procedure used in administering unemployment compensation.

Stolberg, Benjamin
"Tailor's Progress" (1944) 331.88
The story of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union with much biographical material on the men who have directed the policies of this union. A good history of this labor organization, but reviewers feel he is inadequate as a social critic.

Taylor, Albion
"Labor Problems and Labor Law" (1944) 331
A discussion and study of the close relationship between the problems arising in labor relations and the legal principles, legal traditions, and legal habits of thought. Due to this close relationship, the best way to study labor problems is by an analysis of labor laws and court interpretations of these laws.

Wallace, Betty
"World Labor Comes of Age" (1945) 331.88
The first part presents a description of the trade unions of the world, their history, ideals, methods and achievements. The World Trade Union Conference held in London in February 1945 is analyzed in Part Two.

Wallace, Henry A.
"Sixty Million Jobs" (1945) 330.973
A presentation of the desired goal of full employment by 1950. Contains much pertinent information and many facts on the problem of employment. How the plan is to be instrumented is unanswered, but reviewers give it top rating in sound economics.

Ward, Harry Frederick
"Gospel for a Working World" (1918) 331.8
Home missions must accept their responsibility in the correction of social evils, especially with demands of justice for labor groups.

Walsh, John Raymond
"C.I.O. - Industrial Unionism in Action" (1937) 331.88
A presentation of the historic background of the CIO and its expansion in the steel and automobile industries. Chapters are devoted to the economics, politics and problems of the movement. Good reviews.
