Factional Troubles of the 1920'sPages 132 and 133

The Chinese Communists, who were admitted to membership in the Kuomintang on an equal basis as a result of a conference of delegates in Canton on January 20, 1924, had from the first endeavored to exert pressure on the party. The first indication of serious trouble between the Kuomintang and Communist factions was given early in 1926.

Four young military officers, all graduates of the Whampoa Academy, organized an anti-communist movement. The four men, all destined to become prominent in the next few months in the military drive to the Yangtze Valley, were Li Tsung-jen, Li Chi-sheng, Chu Peh-teh and Wo Ying-chin. General Chiang Kai-shek, head of the Central Military Academy, steered clear of the Kuomintang-Communist controversy, but his trip to Russia in 1924 caused him to be suspected of pro-Red leanings. A record of his activities in Russia, however, indicated that he had been cold to Soviet blandishments. As a result of pressure by the four young military officers, General Chiang, on March 24, 1926, issued a statement that he would follow the teachings of Dr. Sun's Three Principles (see preceding chapter), and would discontinue all connections with the Communist wing.

General Chiang Kai-shek's disinclination to side with the Communists was due to two factors: First, his birth and environment in industrialized, conservative Chekiang Province and his association with the banking and commercial elements from that province which dominated Shanghai business; second, the advice of a fellow provincial, Chang Ching-kiang, an almost mythical character who had become immensely wealthy in the silk and curio trade between China and France in the latter years of the Ching Dynasty. (Many of the rare Chinese works of art purchased by American millionaires came to this country by way of France.) Chang Ching-kiang, the curio dealer, espoused the revolutionary cause and contributed large sums to Dr. Sun's war chest. He participated in the conferences preliminary to the formation of the Nanking Provisional Government, but refused to accept office. Two years later he again helped Dr. Sun in opposing Yuan Shih-kai's monarchist plot, and as a result was proscribed, along with many others, by the Yuan regime. Chang Ching-kiang fled to Paris, where he opened a profitable curio and art store and also a popular restaurant where Chinese foods, particularly soya-bean products, were sold. After the passing of Yuan Shih-kai, Chang returned to Shanghai, where he further increased his fortune in the stock and gold-bar exchanges. It was here that he became acquainted with Chiang Kai-shek, and assisted him financially. In 1925 he went to Canton and became a member of the Constitutional Government. He accompanied General Chiang Kai-shek on the military advance to the Yangtze, and after the split between the Kuomintang and Communist factions he joined the Nanking Government. In his later years his health failed, and it became necessary for him to travel about in a wheel chair. But there was no impairment of his opposition to the Communists.

Pages 133, 134 and 135

Hu Han-min, civilian leader of the right-wing Kuomintang group, also opposed the Communists, but Wang Ching-wei, the other civilian contender for the position held by the late leader of the party, Dr. Sun Yat-sen, sided with the Reds and in company with a number of the Russian and American advisors of the Canton Government departed for Hankow.

By the summer of 1926 the Nationalist army, under the command of Chiang Kai-shek, started its northward advance from Canton. As a result of the anti-imperial propaganda inspired by the Communist faction of the Kuomintang, foreigners, particularly missionaries residing in the interior of the country, were seriously affected by the Nationalist Revolution which was sweeping northward. Mission schools, churches and residences were looted and thousands of missionaries were forced to flee to Shanghai.

But the most dramatic developments of the revolution took place at Hankow, Nanking and Shanghai, where the smoldering hatred and intrigue for power between the Kuomintang and the Communists broke out in furious internecine conflict. General Chiang Kai-shek's charge that the Communists had sent secret emissaries into the cities for the purpose of seizing control prior to the arrival of his troops, was borne out by developments at both Hankow and Shanghai. In both cities Communist activity originally was directed at the control of student and labor organizations.

Students of the Chinese Nationalist Revolution whose sympathies have been on the side of the radical or communist factions have purposely ignored the developments at Hankow which tell the most significant story of the failure of Chinese Communists, and their foreign advisers, to accomplish their ambitious plan of seizing control of the Nationalist movement and establishing communistic government in China. They blame "foreign capitalist-imperialist influence," "new militarism" and native "banker-landlord influence" for their lack of success, but while these elements did contribute, there were other and more fundamental causes.

Of the many causes for the failure of the Red regime at Hankow not the least was the action of the leaders in preaching class warfare and catering to radical student-labor groups in a society which was predominantly agricultural and where there had never been any classes, except the old educated or "literate" group which was, theoretically at least, open to all youths of ability who could pass the official examinations. After the capture of the major cities, which had been accomplished largely by the military strategy of General Chiang Kai-shek, the leftist Chinese leaders and their foreign advisers staged a viritable "Roman holiday" in celebration of their victory over "capitalistic imperialism." There was a trial of two "war prisoners" staged in the Russian manner, the culprits being two northern generals who were captured at Wuchang. Thousands of laborers employed in the mines, factories, and processing plants (Hankow is popularly known as the Pittsburgh of China) ceased work, and led by radical elements spent the days and nights in speech-making, parades, and demonstrations. Streets were filled with marching students and laborers carrying banners inscribed with slogans, "Down with Capitalists and Imperialists," "Support the World Revolution," "Workers of the World, Unite," and similar sentiments. Thousands of young peasants from Hunan Province, where an intense Red propaganda had been conducted for a considerable period, flocked into Hankow to join the festivities.

The industries of the Wu-Han area were forced to close down: press-packing plants where native products were prepared for foreign markets; manufacturing industries, including cotton spinning and weaving mills; vegetable-oil pressing plants, hundreds of small native-owned industries, the great Han Yeh Ping coal and iron interests (controlled by Japan), large cigarette factories owned by Britons and Americans, the shipping industry operating large sea-going steamers on the lower Yangtze and smaller but more powerful steamers capable of negotiating the rapids of the Upper Yangtze, and an enormous junk trade operated by the Chinese on the great canal system and lakes of central China. Thousands of workers, who had been spending their days celebrating the revolution by holding parades and demonstrations, suddenly found themselves without meal tickets.

Since the Government had catered to the radical elements and encouraged the strikes, the student-labor groups naturally turned to it for support. The Government thus found itself in a vicious circle of its own making, and had to adopt the suicidal method of issuing floods of paper money in order to purchase rice for the hungry multitudes. Prices for food, particularly rice, shot up to prohibitive heights.

In order to save the Government itself from retaliation by the hungry crowds, propagandists attempted to turn the revolutionary sentiment against the foreigners. More parades were organized, with banners denouncing foreign imperialism, and the British Concession was over-run. No attempt was made to invade the Japanese Concession, which was bristling with machine guns. The British Concession was guarded only by a small naval contingent and a local volunteer corps and police force. Unable to cope with the excited demonstrators who stormed the borders of their Concession, and fearing a debacle, the British Consul-General, an Irishman named O'Malley, ordered the British population to withdraw to British ships in the harbor which was accomplished without incident. Possessed of more political sagacity than most of his compatriots, Consul-General O'Malley immediately entered into negotiations with the radical Foreign Minister, Eugene Chen, and the outcome was the sensational Chen-O'Malley Agreement whereby Great Britain agreed to return the British Concession at Hankow to China. The official release from the Foreign Office in London stated that the action "accorded with Britain's long-existing intention to return her Concessions to Chinese control."

When the Chinese found themselves in possession of the British Concession calmer counsels prevailed, the excitement died down, and the paraders returned to their quarters.

Another element which had a calming effect on the situation at Hankow was the receipt of alarming reports from Nanking, some four hundred miles down the Yangtze, stating that American gunboats had been forced to fire on a mob of demonstrators, including troops, which were attacking the American community, with officials of the American Consulate and their families. Suddenly realizing the seriousness of the complications in which they had become involved, Foreign Minister Eugene Chen sent a wire to the State Department disavowing responsibility for the Nanking outrages but offering remuneration for damages suffered by foreigners at the hands of Chinese radical elements.

Pages 137 and 138

The Chen-O'Malley Agreement providing for the return of the British Concession at Hankow to Chinese control, and the official telegram from the radical Chinese regime at Hankow to the State Department, marked the high point in the strange career of Eugene Chen, who had figured prominently in Chinese politics for a decade. Born in Trinidad, British West Indies, of a Chinese father and a Trinidad woman, Chen was educated as a British barrister in England and had been admitted to practice in Inner Temple, London. But the pull of his Chinese blood was too strong, and he returned to China, along with thousands of his compatriots from the Seven Seas, to participate in the revolution. Having a fair classical education in English (he could neither read nor speak Chinese), Chen naturally gravitated into newspaper work and on occasion stirred the sluggish English communities in the Far East to white heat with his editorials, filled with classical quotations from English literature. He edited radical papers in Shanghai and Peking, and once when the Chinese authorities in Peking arrested him and threatened him with execution, he remembered his British nationality, through birth in Trinidad, and appealed to the British Minister to save his life. Sir John Jordan, the aged, kindly, and influential British Minister, asked the Chinese authorities to release Chen--who, upon obtaining his liberty, fled to the sanctuary of the International Settlement at Shanghai. Later, Chen went to Canton and joined Dr. Sun Yat-sen's revolutionary Government and participated in the northern advance as a member of the radical faction, becoming Foreign Minister of the Hankow Government.

There was an illuminating incident in connection with the British evacuation at Hankow which was prophetic of later developments in British Far Eastern diplomacy. When the British were evacuating their nationals from the Concession to their ships in the harbor, the British Indian community, consisting largely of Sikhs, was overlooked. After the white Britons were safely aboard the ships someone thought about the Sikhs, most of whom had been employed as policemen or guards and watchmen by the various foreign and Chinese business houses and manufacturing establishments. Some had become wealthy as money lenders. One of the consular officials went ashore to rescue the missing Sikhs, who had disappeared completely. While returning to his ship the British consular official stopped to observe a parade which had been organized by the students to celebrate the taking over of the Concession. At the end of the procession, also carrying banners denouncing foreign imperialists, were the missing Sikhs. They had "gone over" to the Chinese and Communist revolutionist.

The action of the little group of British Indians in joining the Chinese revolutionists was prophetic of events to come: events in 1941-42, when British Indian troops at Hong Kong, in Malaya, and in Burma, and the Congress Party in India, either refused to support Great Britain or adopted an attitude of non-cooperation with respect to the war with Japan in the Far East.

The acquisition of the British Concession at Hankow enhanced considerably the prestige of the radical branch of the Kuomintang, but this could not be exchanged for the wherewithal to feed the hordes of unemployed laborers who had been encouraged to strike and agitate against the imperialists and capitalists. With adversity came treachery within the ranks of the radical factions. Wang Ching-wei, who already had a reputation for treachery, grew cold toward the radical Chinese and Russian elements.

Pages 138, 139 and 140

Mao Tse-tung, spokesman of the radical faction, attributed the failure of the Red regime at Hankow to the weakness or treachery of another Chinese leader, Chen Tu-hsiu, who allegedly compromised on fundamental policies concerning land redistribution. Mao was quoted in Edgar Snow's "Red Star Over China" as charging the Russian Advisor Borodin and a British Indian radical named Roy, a delegate of the Comintern, with joint responsibility with Chen Tu-hsiu, the party dictator, for the collapse. According to Mao, Borodin, the official representative of the Moscow Comintern, had ceased being an "adviser" and had become a dictator of the Kuomintang Party. Chen Tu-hsiu had concealed the real situation from the party leaders, but Borodin's activities allegedly were exposed by the Indian delegate Roy. This is said to have caused the defection of Wang Ching-wei and the split in the Hankow Left Government which facilitated the victory of Chiang Kai-shek and the Nanking faction over the Radical-Communist branch.

Another unexpected element in the situation was that the collapse of the radical Hankow Government had serious repercussions in Moscow and contributed considerably to the collapse of Trotsky and advocates of world revolution. Stalin and his group seized upon the failure of the China adventure, which had cost the Soviets large sums of money and great effort, to discredit Trotsky and the whole group of advocates of "permanent world revolution." Borodin returned by a tortuous overland trip to Moscow in disgrace and became editor of the four-page English-language MOSCOW DAILY NEWS.

Sun Fo, son of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, who participated in the Hankow Government, but later withdrew, also confirmed Mao's statements, particularly the reference to the "dictatorial attitude of the Russians." Chen Kung-po, an American returned student and graduate of Columbia University, New York, who had specialized in economics and had served as secretary to Wang Ching-wei, wrote a series of articles (published in the CHINA WEEKLY REVIEW shortly after the collapse of the Hankow Government) in which he analyzed the causes of the collapse of the Hankow Red regime. He concluded by advocating a system of state capitalism and state ownership of industries as a means of surmounting the complications which develop when privately owned industrial establishments suspend operations and throw laborers back on the Government for support. Chen argued that only through the development of state capitalism could the Chinese Government hope to cope with powerful foreign interests established in the country, which in times of crisis usually are able to marshal the support of the large native Chinese industrial and banking interests in opposition to socialist experiments. Chen Kung-po, formerly a political associate of Wang Ching-wei, later became head of the Japanese puppet Government at Nanking, following the death of Wang Ching-wei in Tokyo in 1944. Chen Kung-po was the only Chinese student, educated in the United States, who voluntarily joined the Nanking puppet. No Chinese student of any American university, to the writer's knowledge, ever joined the Chinese Communist faction. Thousands of American returned students are members of the Kuomintang.

一九二四年一月二十日廣東における代表者會議の結果として、對等の立場で国民党への唐次を許容された支那共産主義者は當初から黨に附して匪道を加へるために努力を注いだ。国民党と共産黨との重大な眞摯がはじめて現はれたの一九二六年初頭であつた。

しかし彼がロシアで活動した記録には、彼はソヴィエットの甘苦に對しては冷淡だつたことが示されてゐた。蔣將軍はこの青年將校による歎泊の結果、一九二六年三月二十四日、聲明を發して孫中山の三民主義を踏襲し

（前章参照）共産主義者とはすべて關係を斷絶する旨を發表した。

を孫逸仙に再び援助し、その結果、他の多くの人々と共に袁世凱から追放を受けた。張人傑はパリに逃亡し、そこで利潤の多い骨董美術品店と支那料理、特に大豆製品を賣り捌く大衆料理店を開いた。袁世凱が逝つてから張人傑は上海に舞い戻り、そこで株式、金券爲替相場で巨額の財産を加へた。ここではちめて彼は蒋介石と知合になり彼を財政的に援助した。一九二五年彼は廣東に赴き憲政政府の一員になつた。彼は蒋介石に向作用にも蔣介石を陪同し、國共分裂後は南京政府に合流した。晩年彼は健康を害して、車椅子で歩き廻らねばならなくなつた。しかし彼の共産主義者に対する嫌悪は少しも劣へることはない。

一三三頁—一三四頁—一三五頁

國民黨右翼派の民門指導者たる胡漢民もまた共産主義者を批判したが、前賞指導者たる孫逸仙博士の地位をねらつてゐた同じ民門指導者たる汪精衛は共産派に印して廣東政府の多數のロシア及びアメリカ両間と共に渡口に向つて出發した。

一九二六年の夏には国民党は蔣介石総裁の下に廣東から北方に向つて進撃を開始した。国民党内共産派の煽る反對口主導宣傳の結果として、外國人等に國內奥地に駐在する宣教師は北方に押しません国民革命によって甚大な影響を受けた。ミッショーン。スクール、教会、寄舍等は掠奪され數千の宣教師達は上海に逃避せざるを得なくなつた。しかしながらこの革命中最も劇的な登場は漢口、南京、上海で生起した。

国民党と共産黨間にくすぶつてゐた機械に対する脅威と陰謀とが激烈な政壇的紛争となつて勃發したからである。共産主義者は各都市に寄宿を設つて麻雀が剥削前に都内の工場機械を奪取しようとしてゐたと蔣介石が攻撃した事實は、その後の漢口及び上海での事実の登場によつて明らかされた。その兩市において共産主義者の活動は學生及び勞働団体を手中に入れることに向けられた。

支那国民党の研究家で急進的黨派に同情してゐたものはこの漢口における登場を故意に無視してゐる。しかるにこの事実こそ支那共産主義者

ならびにその外國人顧問が日本革命運動を暗攻して支那に共産政府を樹立しようとした野心の遂行が失敗したことと最も明確に物語るものだつた。共産主義者等は「外國の資本主義的、帝國主義的影響」とか「新軍閥主義」とか土着の金融、地主的影響」等が不成功の原因だとしてゐるがヒテもた諸要素の影響は事實あつたにせよ、その他にも更に根本的な原因があつたのである。

就口赤色政權の失敗に関する原因としては、農業が文體的に有力で、政府試験に合格出来るほどの青年にとつて少くも理論的には誰にも理解されてゐた専門知識階級もしくは「文化人」難を除いては全然無階級の社會において、その地主者、學生群に對して指導者が階級鬥争を攻へ込み、これに迎合したのである。

武漢三大的政略が主として蔣介石派の策略によつて完遂された後、左翼指導者とその外人顧問は、「資本主義的、民主的」に対する彼等の陰利を理解して、ほんとうつくりのローマ式お終一を假した。そこには

D - D - 2021 H P - 52

從來、政府は貧道分子に向つて肩を呈し懇談を要請して來たのであるから、學生、勞働者ダルトフは當然のことながら、政府に向つて援助を求めた。斯くして政府は自ら作り出した惡語環に巻きこまれ、食えた多數民衆のための米を買付けるために紙幣の洪水を起す。さういう自殺的措置を執ら

此情勢下に於ける今一つの要素とも言ふべきものゝ、漢口過激派政府の崩壊がモスクワに重大なる反響を呼び起しトロツキイ及世界
