COURTS DECIDE PUBLICATION OF PAPERS FILED IN ACTION IS NOT LIBEL

Judge E. B. Kinkead of the common pleas court at Columbus, Ohio, handed down his opinion in the case of Samuel Heimlich versus the Ohio State Journal company and the Dispatch Printing company.

The affect of the decision is to make privileged for the first time in the history of Ohio a fair and impartial publication of the contents of any paper once filed in court. This privilege has heretofore been denied by supreme court decision, but having the later act under consideration sustained as constitutional gives a new definition to the liberty of the press.

The action was one of libel, the claim of libel being made by the plaintiff by reason of the publication of a fair and impartial report of an affidavit filed in the police court of Columbus. Therein was set out that as a result of an investigation made by Wallace D. Yaple into the genuineness of a referendum petition filed from that place it was disclosed that the plaintiff, an attorney of Cleveland, who circulated petitions there, was charged with perjury. The perjury consisted in Heimlich swearing that the name of B. F. Butler on a petition that he filed was genuine.

The case against the State Journal embraces the contents of an affidavit filed in the same court sworn to by W. C. Archer, charging Heimlich with perjury in certifying to Butler's name as genuine, and therefore upon the affidavit of Edward Donovan, a deputy fire marshal, Heimlich was charged with perjury in swearing that Harry Walker, who signed a petition for a referendum on the workmen's compensation act, was an elector, it being charged that Walker told Heimlich that he was not of age, but that Heimlich insisted that he sign the petition anyhow, as it would make no difference.

Damages in the sum of $100,000 were claimed against the Dispatch and $75,000 against the Ohio State Journal. Both of the papers pleaded by way of answer that the publication was merely a fair and impartial report of the contents of the affidavit and therefore that the matter published was privileged under a recent law adopted by the legislature of the state of Ohio. The law was one indorsed by the Ohio Associated Dailies. Heimlich's attorneys claimed the law to be unconstitutional and the matter was fully argued about four weeks ago.

STATE LEGISLATURE TO ADJOURN TOMORROW

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 29.—Adjournment of the legislature will be taken at noon Saturday. This action was taken today as result of the unwillingness of the assembly to concur in the senate resolution calling for the legislative labors today. The legislature will reconvene March 2.

CROP PRODUCTION

(By Charles L. Lipman, professor of soil chemistry and bacteriology in the University of California.)
Deep soil, meaning several feet free from coarse gravel, hardpan or standing water, is essential for the production of the best crops in California.

Air, as well as moisture, each to the extent of about one-fourth of the volume of soil, are essential to successful plant growth.

Plant food in available (or "soil water"-soluble) form is essential to successful plant growth.

Maintenance of a plentiful supply of organic matter is essential to successful crop production.

A neutral or slightly alkaline reaction of the soil is essential to the successful growth of most crops. Liming maintains such reaction.

Soil bacteria are essential factors in successful crop production because they help to make plant food available.

Excessive amounts of water-soluble salts (alkali) are detrimental to crop production.

The use of barnyard manure in the case of "white alkali" and of gypsum in the case of "black alkali" prevents the toxicity of these salts to a great degree.

Fertilizers may serve to add to the store of available plant food in the soil, or may stimulate bacterial and physical changes in the interest of soil fertility, or both.

Billy Sunday has dampened the spirits of statesmen somewhat by saying that nobody will sneak into Heaven on the strength of his career as chronicler in the congressional record. This had been, in numerous instances, the only hope.

GOLDEN RAINDROPS

LOCAL WEATHER MAN COMPILES AMOUNT OF RAINFALL THIS SEASON

Up to noon today the rainfall for this storm was 3.65 inch, but from the appearance of the sky at noon there will be considerable moisture precipitated before the storm is over. The total rainfall for the season till noon today was 9.88 inches, against a fall of 19 inches to the same time last year. One of the big rains last year, over six inches, fell during January.

Following is the rainfall for this season in Glendale, according to Mr. H. E. Bartlett's report:

Table with 2 columns: Date, Rainfall (inches). Rows include October 3 (.13), October 30 (.20), November 9 (.20), December 1 (1.03), December 3 (.05), December 6 (.06), December 9 (.60), December 11 (.47), December 17 (1.27), December 20 (1.01), December 22 (.13), January 4 (.39), January 6 (.06), January 8 (.20), January 22 (.15), January 25 (.28), This storm till noon (3.65), Total to date (9.88).

ELECTRIC POWER TROUBLES

The lack of electric power and light service for several hours on Thursday night and today is not the fault of the Glendale public service department. Last night the cause of lack of service was on account of electric poles being blown down near San Fernando on the trunk line of the Pacific Light and Power company. The cause of today's trouble is unknown to us, more than it is on a trunk line near Eagle Rock.

RUBBERNECKING NEWSPAPERS

A bill has been introduced in the Kansas legislature providing that spectators be barred from hearings in juvenile cases, and cases in which sex is involved shall have private hearings. There is no reason for public hearings of such cases. The shame of the offenders is a greater punishment than the sentences, and many of the witnesses in such cases are innocent and deserve no punishment at all. Moreover, the newspapers have no right to peddle that kind of news. It does no one any good. Divorce cases, for the most part, should have private hearings, and only the most meager details of the pleadings and only the exact facts about the settlements are of public interest.

The sooner we stop rubbernecking in the courtrooms and rubbernecking in newspapers, the better it will be for the country.—California Outlook.

GOSSIP

An exchange delivers itself in the following forceful style on the pernicious evil of gossiping:
"We muzzle the dog, because once in a great while some one happens to get bit by a dog made cross with heat and lack of water, but a gossip can run around with 'its' tongue out and bite more characters than all the dogs in Christendom, and no one ever thinks of muzzling it."

This is a rather severe stricture, we admit; but considering the dastardly work at which it strikes, it seems to be none too severe. Scandal-mongers, backbiters and tattlers are everywhere. Their prevarications and exaggerations curse and damn whole neighborhoods. No refinement of character, no social polish, no modesty of speech, no education, no mental power, is necessary to enable one to start this business. All the equipment necessary is a mean, unsanctified disposition. More the pity that professed Christians stoop to engage in this unholy work!—Signs of the Times.

HEIGHT AT WHICH BIRDS FLY

"It is even more difficult to estimate height than distance, and when one reads how once again the height record has been broken by some daring aviator, one is puzzled how to realize what the figures of his record really mean. Well, at any rate, we have the birds as a standard of comparison. Compared with Mr. Ryan's recent 15,000 feet, the common birds of England are mere groundlings, for generally they fly at no greater height than 300 feet. When migrating, however, they often mount higher, though even then the wild goose (the loftiest of them all) seldom reaches 2000 feet. The highest flier in the world is the great condor, which sometimes rises five miles."—London Chronicle.

PREPARATIONS FOR RACE NEARLY COMPLETE

PROMOTERS SAY RACE WILL BE PULLED OFF TOMORROW IN SPITE OF RAIN—TRACK WILL BE IN GOOD CONDITION WITH TWO HOURS' SUNSHINE—DO NOT FORGET TO PROVE YOUR LOYALTY TO GLENDALE BY PURCHASING A RED TAG

Promoters of the Glendale road race have no intention of postponing the race, even though it should continue raining all day and tonight. If the sun shines on the course for two hours it will be in good condition for the race, say those who know. Rain today doesn't necessarily mean mud tomorrow, in Glendale, where the streets are paved and the soil is sandy. So preparations are going on just as if old Jupiter Pluvius hadn't unloosed the flood gates. While the rain has ruined some of the decorations, it has not served to dampen the ardor of those who are boosting for the race in the least.

By the way, don't forget to purchase a red tag tomorrow. You may as well do it first as last, for the Elks are going to see that everyone wears one of these little ornaments tomorrow. Fifty cents is a reasonable price to pay to witness this race and civic pride will cause all loyal citizens to walk up with the money without being asked.

Glendale has never had any publicity along this line before and the promoters should be encouraged. Fifty cents from every Glendalian will give these fellows a warm feeling around the heart and make them feel that their efforts in bringing Glendale this race have been appreciated.

The official list of entries has been completed and the following well-known drivers will strive for records on the Glendale course tomorrow:
No. 1, Chevrolet, George Hill.
No. 2, Duesenberg, Tom Alley.
No. 3, Duesenberg, Ed. O'Donnell.
No. 4, Renault, Gaston Morris.
No. 5, Gordon Special, Huntley Gordon.

CITRUS FRUITS

(By J. Eliot Coit, professor of citriculture in the University of California.)

The most important factors in successful citriculture are: The soil, favorable climatic conditions, irrigation, fertilization, cultivation, healthy and vigorous trees, careful pruning, membership in a strong selling association.

Sour orange is the best root stock, broadly speaking.

High-budded trees are most resistant to disease.

The control of scale insects costs six per cent on two hundred and fifty dollars for each acre annually. Scale-free districts need not pay this tax.

Plow-sole and hardpan decrease yields.

Maintenance of the humus content of arid soils increases yields.

Allowing the roots to dry during transplanting kills trees.

Allowing the soil to become too dry once makes trouble for a year.

Suckers cannot be depended upon to grow into profitable branches.

Frequent pruning of lemons increases yields.

Top-working old orchards is usually unprofitable.

Orchard temperatures may be economically raised ten degrees with oil heaters.

Radiated heat is more effective than heat of convection.

Fruit decays are caused by fungus parasites.

Tent-cured lemons ship better than tree-ripe fruit.

Toadstool fungus is fatal to citrus trees.

Lemon gum disease may be cured with Bordeaux paste.

Scale insects are most economically controlled by fumigation.

SOUTHERN PRODUCTS GO NORTH

The steamer President sailing from San Pedro on Thursday morning carried twenty cars of oranges for consignees as far north as Vancouver, B. C. A thousand crates of lettuce and two cars of beet sugar pulp were consigned to San Francisco.

As the lettuce was being staved from the cars to the President, much surprise was expressed by onlookers that San Francisco should depend on Los Angeles and Southern California for its supply of high-grade table lettuce. Note was made of this fact as it emphasizes the fact that Los Angeles county is rapidly forging to the front as a grower and purveyor of early table vegetables and fruits, as strawberries are now being shipped in constantly increasing quantities for the San Francisco market, and the fact was noted that Southern California is growing something besides climate, tourists and citrus fruits, with an occasional real estate boomer thrown in.

LOCAL OLDSMOBILE AGENCY ESTABLISHED

The Oldsmobile company of America has awakened to the fact that there is a fertile and wealthy section of California known as the San Fernando valley, the queen city of which is Glendale, and has decided to aggressively invade said valley for the purpose of introducing to the up-to-date inhabitants their classy and very highly finished light touring car and roadster. They believe that the people of Glendale, living at the very door of Los Angeles, the greatest automobile city in the world, are particularly well informed in automobile values and qualified to appreciate the tone and quality of their light car, which has been built along the same lines and of the same material and workmanship as its larger brother, the beautiful six-cylinder Oldsmobile, which is so well and favorably known in the three thousand dollar class.

The light car, being the first Oldsmobile built for over eight years to sell at less than the price of the big six, should attract a great deal of attention throughout this valley, as it has done in all the leading cities of the country. And to make it certain that this new 1915 model will be properly shown and made known to our people, the Oldsmobile company, through its California branch at Los Angeles, has made arrangements with one of the best known automobile men in Southern California to act as their general agent for the San Fernando valley, with headquarters in Glendale.

E. J. Bennett, the new agent, has had ten years' experience handling motor cars. He held the Southern California agency for three years on the Wayne cars in the old days. He later introduced the Chalmers cars for the Western Motor Car company, also selling the Buick, Stevens-Duryea and Packard cars. Then as sales manager for the Burkhard-Crippen company he introduced the Interstate and Lexington cars. His success with the latter was so marked that the Lexington factory, in 1912, appointed him their western general manager, representing them over the entire Pacific slope.

Mr. Bennett has opened his general office at 1111 West Broadway, this city, and will have local agents in all the towns and cities in the valley. The Oldsmobile has already made its bow to our people and is calling forth much enthusiasm because of its high quality and low price, the object of the company being to give the people a light car of equal merit with the large, high-priced models and yet within the reach of the great number of users who wish to economize on the operation of their cars.

You cannot defeat an ignorant man in an argument.

IOWANS HOLD REUNION

OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST BY NORTH GLENDALE AND TROPICO CORRESPONDENTS

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wilbur of San Gabriel motored to Glendale Thursday and had as their guests their daughter, Mrs. G. H. Marsh, and Master George W. Marsh of North Glendale; also Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Parker of South Louise street, on a motor trip to Pasadena, where they attended the annual reunion and banquet of former Marshalltown, Iowa, people residing in Southern California. This happy gathering was held at the Shakespeare clubhouse in Pasadena. About one hundred persons enjoyed the banquet and the program of speeches and music.

Mrs. Lewis Cadwallader of 1624 Ruth street was a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Largey of Vine street, Alhambra, the early part of the week.

Mrs. E. H. Tatum and children, Edward and Mary Dean Tatum, of 1300 North Maryland avenue, are guests of Mrs. Tatum's brother, Mr. Harry Martin, of Inglewood, today at a surprise party given in honor of their mother, Mrs. W. T. Tatum, also of Inglewood.

Mr. Hunter Graham of Los Angeles was a guest of Mr. Leland Duncan of 1600 Ruth street the early part of this week.

Mrs. Helen Parkes of Santa Monica was a guest of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Miller, of 1604 Fairmount avenue on Wednesday.

TROPICO

A program of unusual interest will be given Sunday evening at 7:30 at the Tropico M. E. church. Mr. C. E. Schaffer, a well-known Los Angeles baritone, will be the soloist and the orchestra will give selections. Miss Helene Constance Morgan, accompanist. The public is cordially invited to attend this service. The program will include a Los Angeles speaker, Miss Esther Turner.

Few of the women's clubs of Southern California have in store for them such a treat as Mrs. Harry Bowman, chairman of the program committee, has arranged for the Thursday afternoon club for the next few months. A series of delightful afternoons with noted speakers and gifted musicians will make the club meetings occasions to be looked forward to.

The name of Irving H. Oliver was given in Thursday's News as having been appointed to fill the place in the board of trustees made vacant by the death of Mr. Rich. This was an error, as Mr. F. A. Alspach has been appointed to fill the vacancy and not Mr. Oliver.

THE CHRONIC KNOCKER

We do not believe that anyone supposes everything in this community is exactly as it should be and that there is no possibility of improvement. And neither do we believe that anyone here thinks that things are at their worst in this community. But nearly everyone does know that there are many things demanding improvement and many conditions which are regrettable. But this does not give free license to the abominable chronic "knocker." The only person who has the right to criticize conditions is the one who can offer a sensible, practical means of righting the conditions and who is willing to offer his personal efforts and support any movement to correct things.—Sawtelle Tribune.

PRESIDENT WILSON VETOES IMMIGRATION BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—President Wilson yesterday forwarded to the house a message vetoing the immigration bill. He based his disapproval on the measure imposing a literacy test on incoming aliens. When read to the house, the message was applauded by the opponents of the bill.

An attempt will be made to pass the bill over the president's veto. A vote will be taken in the house next Thursday. Representative Burnett of Alabama, one of the authors of the bill, is confident he can muster the necessary two-thirds vote to override the veto. Doubt on this point is expressed by other leaders. If the house overrides the veto action will then be taken by the senate.

When a reference to American law was made in a British court, the judge remarked, "I am happy to say I know nothing about it." While ignorance was known to be bliss, and is so recorded, this is perhaps the first instance in which the ignoramus recognized the fact.

GIVE US THE NEWS

COLUMNS ARE OPEN TO COMMUNICATIONS OF ALL WELL-MEANING PEOPLE

Citizens of Glendale are asked to co-operate in making the Evening News a paper well filled with accounts of worthy local happenings.

If there is any good to say about your neighbors and friends, we want it. If there is anything bad to say about them, we do not want it.

The earlier you can get the news to us, the more able we are to handle it in good shape. We solicit communications that are full of valuable suggestions. We are not anxious to use fault-finding communications. You would better take your complaint direct to the person who is responsible for the negligence.

It is the purpose of the management of the Evening News to build up a reliable publication. It is not our desire to advertise any fake concern. It is not our desire to show favoritism. It would show poor business judgment to do that.

In concluding, we will say that the columns of the Evening News are open to every well-meaning citizen. Of course, the publisher reserves the right in all instances to advise as to what kind of reading matter is suitable for publication.

PAN-PACIFIC CONFERENCE OPPORTUNE

An extra meeting of the American Historical association has been called for next July, to be held conjointly with the American Asiatic society, and under the auspices of the Pan-American exposition in San Francisco. Nations facing on the Pacific ocean are to be represented by men competent to deal with past history and present facts. Nothing pertinent to intelligent understanding of changes wrought by territorial expansion of the United States, construction of the Panama canal, Canada's initiation as a military unit of the British empire, China's political revolution, Japan's alliances with its whilom rivals, Russia's development of Northern Asia, and South America's increased share in a Pan-American policy will be overlooked in the discussions that are to follow presentation of formal papers on these and other themes.

Such enterprise and prevision are commendable. The Chicago exposition of 1893 was notable on the intellectual side because of its congress of religions. The exposition at St. Louis in 1904 brought together a remarkable assembly of savants from all parts of the world, who, as specialists, furnished material out of which a synthetic view could be taken of the world's then available knowledge. Now San Francisco, certain of the large part in international as well as national trade which it is to play as a seaport, and stirred by visions of the role that the Pacific coast states are to play in history as the scroll unrolls, summons a Pan-Pacific congress of thinkers who will read the future of the Pacific-fronting nations in the light of their past and present. The propriety of the plan should not obscure its strategy, tactically considered. Sometimes the obvious is the really subtle course. Sometimes an opportunity is so wide that it is overlooked just because it is so spacious. This is a case where common sense and vision are to meet, where opportunity has been seen and seized.

ZOO ANIMALS FOR FOOD

Among the dumb victims of the war are not only innumerable horses and mules, but many wild beasts. When the German bombardment had reached serious proportions, the directors of the Antwerp zoological gardens, realizing the danger to the populace if the animal cages should be broken open by shells and their inmates loosed, ordered the destruction of all of the dangerous carnivora. Four magnificent lions, several tigers, leopards and other animals were shot by their keepers, who approached the task reluctantly, almost tearfully. The death of these fine beasts is described by an eyewitness as one of the pathetic sights incident to the war.—Popular Mechanics.

NATHAN CLOUD

Mr. Nathan Cloud passed away on January 28, 1915, at his home, 327 Eagle avenue, Eagle Rock, Cal. The Pulliam Undertaking company has charge of the remains, which will be shipped to Linwood, Pa., for burial following a short service at the late residence, January 30, at half past two.

To say that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and Mother Jones have kissed and made up, would of course be figurative.

WHERE SYMPATHY IS TOUCHED

Coming as exiles from Kiao-Chow, leaving their husbands and fathers in the Orient as prisoners of war, a group of German women and children lately passed through the port of Los Angeles enroute to their native land. Sad of face were all of them of age sufficient to understand, but they smiled at the welcome that awaited them here on an alien shore. True, the crowd to greet them was made up in large part of their countrymen, naturally alert to receive them cordially, but no less acute was the sympathy felt by the citizens generally. Contact with actual victims of the war touched the emotions. And yet this band did not represent the suffering that has in some parts of Europe become the common lot. At least they know their men are not dead, or fighting among the snows of winter, and they have a hope of seeing them again. They have not suffered for the necessities of life themselves, their government providing for them, and yet their fate seems pitiful, and many strangers looking upon them wept with a genuine grief.

The population of the United States proper soon will reach 100,000,000. This is "some" nation.

Because of the rain, the two-act comedy entitled "Mr. Bob," to have been given this evening in the high school auditorium, has been postponed until Tuesday evening, February 2.

The party which was to have been given by the J. O. C. class of the First Methodist church on Thursday evening of this week, was postponed on account of the rain until Tuesday, Feb. 2, at 8 o'clock.

deserve credit for pulling off the big race tomorrow, which will bring large crowds, and thus advertise our fair city far and near. Most of the Elks are "live wires," but like other people, many of them are poorly protected in Life Insurance.

The protection of their families, if they should die, and of their own old age, if they live, is the most important thing in the world to them. Yet they frequently jeopardize their future in a very thoughtless way. They carry full protection in fire, liability and accident insurance, yet the chances are that they will never have a fire or an accident. They know they are going to die, and are bound to reap the benefit if they carry life insurance, either through their families, or for their own old age.

Better get under one of our splendid Endowment Policies. Largest surplus—lowest cost. Accident and Sick Benefit Insurance also at lowest cost, in another good company.

THE REASON WHY

Do you know that practically every article of your wearing apparel was sewn on a SINGER Machine? Department Stores use SINGER Machines in their Factories and Fitting Rooms.

Ask your modiste, your corsetiere, your shoemaker, your furrier, what sewing machines they use. They will say "THE SINGER." "There's a reason"—superior excellence.

Possibly you have an old sewing machine or one that is not satisfactory. Do you know that a fair allowance will be made for it in exchange for an up-to-date SINGER at the Singer Store, 1020 West Broadway? E. J. Upham, Sunset phone 656W.

There is no place like an Electrical home

—have you applied the same TIME and LABOR SAVING methods in your home that you have in equipping your office, shop or factory

—do you realize that to whatever use ELECTRICITY is applied it is always the EASIEST, CLEANEST and BEST method. Whether lighting your home, washing your clothes, cleaning your house, making your toast and coffee or running your sewing machine it is ALWAYS SUPERIOR to any other method

—we have at your disposal a complete assortment of modern electrical labor saving devices which will add largely to the comforts of your home. Our representative will be glad to demonstrate and explain prices, terms etc.
