I place below a letter from Mr. Sri Prakasa to the Prime Minister dated September 12. The Prime Minister saw Mr. Ayer today and after discussion with him asked me to instruct Mr. Chettur to take over the gold and jewellery which are now in <sup>the</sup> charge of Mr. Murti and keep it in safe custody in the Mission. Mr. Ayer informed the Prime Minister that although Shri Subash Bose's ashes are now in a temple in Tokyo, there should be no difficulty about Mr. Chettur taking charge of them. The Prime Minister suggested our writing to Mr. Chettur to take charge of the ashes from Mr. Murti but not to remove the ashes to the Mission. Mr. Chettur should be informed accordingly and also told that further instruction about the disposal of the ashes and the gold will follow.

2. The Prime Minister suggested to Mr. Ayer that he should draw up a full report on the circumstances resulting in Mr. Bose's death, giving details of the evidence which <sup>he</sup> had collected. On receipt of the report the Prime Minister will consider making a suitable statement before Parliament on the subject of Shri Bose's death.

3. Will DS(FEA) kindly take urgent action?

(2) I. N. A. Treasure:

On 23rd June 1951, the Prime Minister's instructions were conveyed by telegram to Mr. Chettur saying "you should endeavour to get possession of all the treasure on behalf of Government and keep it in safe custody pending further instructions". Mr. Chettur answered "all the treasure, if it existed, save the two boxes now promised by Iyer which are I understand in Ramamurti's possession now, must have long ago been converted into hard cash, commodities and landed property. The proceeds must also have been distributed between the parties concerned", three members of this gang being Ramamurti(IIL), Capt. Thairatatte and Col. Figgess. It was, therefore, too late to undertake a treasure hunt and, in any case, his investigations would involve "a degree of publicity which might well prove embarrassing not only to the Mission but also to the Government of India". In reply, Mr. Chakravarty explained that he did not think it necessary for ILM to start an actual search for the treasure but that they should ask Ramamurti to hand over the gold which was with him. Mr. Chakravarty added that the PM was out of town but he would mention the case again to him and obtain further orders. There is nothing on file to show that this was done or that ILM did actually take over the gold from Ramamurti.

PRIME MINISTER'S SECRETARIAT.

S.A. Ayer saw me some days ago and told me about his visit to Japan and of the inquiries he had made there. I have separately spoken to you about the gold etc. and I understand that our representative has taken possession of this.

2. The other point that Ayer spoke to me about was his inquiry into the air crash which brought about the death of Shri Subhas Chandra Bose. As a result of his inquiry he felt dead sure that there was no doubt at all about Shri Subhas Chandra Bose's death on that occasion. He showed me some papers and some photographs and some documents signed by the Japanese people. I asked him to write out a full report about this. He has sent me the attached bundle of papers, photographs, etc. Please go through them.

33-A

3. It is for us to consider whether we should issue a public statement about this or not. In the balance, I am inclined to think that it would be desirable to issue some statement or to make it in Parliament. On the other hand, this may lead to some controversy, possibly even with Shri Subhas Chandra Bose's family.

4. I think the best course would be for us to draft some such statement and to send it to Shri Subhas Chandra Bose's family. After hearing from them, we could take a final decision about publication.

I told P.M. that it would be inadvisable for him to ~~issue~~<sup>make</sup> a statement now. Whether or not Shri Subhas Bose is dead is not a live issue at present. I have no doubt on the evidence that Shri Bose is dead, but P.M.'s political opponents would utilise any statement made by him for propaganda purposes particularly in view of the forthcoming elections. I ~~did say~~<sup>added</sup> ~~however~~, that there is a significant reference in Habibur Rehman's statement to Netaji Bose's intention to get out of the plane at Dairen and to the intention of the Japanese authorities to let him cross over to the Russian-held territory. Habibur Rehman's is the really important evidence, and those who still cherish the belief that Netaji Bose is alive and is somewhere in Russian-held territory, will seize upon any piece of evidence in support of their theory.

I also pointed out to P.M. that whereas according to Habibur Rehman the dead body was cremated on the 20th August 1945, according to the municipal certificate the cremation took place at 6 p.m. on the 22nd August 1945. One could understand a fictitious name being used in the death certificate and in the cremation certificate, but there was no necessity of using a fictitious date of cremation. Either Habibur Rehman's memory must have played him false or there is something wrong with the cremation certificate.

P.M. asked me to record my remarks and also agreed with me that I should write to Shri Anand Mohan Sahay to whose house Habibur Rehman went on return to Tokyo after the accident. The letter below to Shri Sahay should issue without delay.

Mr. Iyer has spoken, I believe, more than once to P.M. about the INA properties which were in the possession of Mr. Ram Murty and about Netaji Subhas Bose's ashes. Since Dy. Secy. will be busy with the visit of the Chinese Cultural Mission during the next two months, will U.S. (FEA) please prepare a summary of the information received from Mr. Chettur about the properties and the ashes? Mr. Chettur seems to think Mr. Iyer's conduct in regard to the cash and valuables left by Netaji rather suspicious. P.M. ought to know about this.

The papers should be placed before F.S. since he deals with Far East.

MINISTRY OF EXTERNAL AFFAIRS.

Reference: Mr. B.N. Kaul's letter No. DS/11951 dated 4-10-52 to the Foreign Secretary. (F.R).

Subject: I.N.A. TREASURE

Notes

I. In June 1951, when Mr. S.A. Aiyer, formerly Publicity Adviser I.N.A., was on a visit to Japan, the Prime Minister cabled to Mr. K.K. Chettur saying that he should "endeavour to get possession of all the (I.N.A) treasure on behalf of Government and keep it in safe custody pending further instructions".

On his return to India, Aiyer denied that the Embassy had approached him in the matter and urged that they be asked to take over charge of the treasure from his former I.N.A. colleague in Tokyo, Mr. Ram Murthy.

After prolonged correspondence with the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Chettur reported that his Embassy had <sup>formally</sup> ~~formerly~~ taken possession of the I.N.A. treasure on September the 24th. (A list of the articles is attached.) It is worth noting that the whole of the Ambassador's correspondence is charged with deep suspicion of the integrity of Mr. Aiyer who, "apprehensive of the early conclusion of the Peace Treaty" went to Tokyo "to divide the loot and to salve his and Murthy's conscience by handing over a small quantity to Government in the hope that, by doing so, he would also succeed in drawing a red-herring || across the trail".

Subject: I.N.A. TREASURE

In response to our enquiry about the possible transfer of the I.N.A. treasure to India, Mr.Rauf has cabled to say that he is sending it through Mr.Damle of the Agriculture Ministry who is returning to Delhi from Tokyo, on November the 7th.

77-A.

SUGGESTIONS

See 40-B

- (a) Mr.K.K.Chettur's list of the contents of the I.N.A. treasure bears no signature or seal. I feel that we should ask Mr.Rauf to send us a fresh list, duly authenticated.
- (b) It would also facilitate matters if a decision were now taken regarding custodianship of the treasure in New Delhi. I venture to suggest that the Prime Minister authorize the two Secretaries, FS and CS, to take charge of the treasure from Mr.Damle next week. JS(AD) could perhaps arrange to have it duly checked and deposited in his safe?

Please see Foreign Secretary's note, p.I.

A few months ago, the Government of India took over charge, in Tokyo, of some property belonging to the former "Indian National Army". This was done at the specific request of some officers of the I.N.A. who had kept the property with them since the reported death of Shri Subhas Chandra Bose.

By order of the Prime Minister, this INA property has now been sent to India through Mr Damle, Joint Secretary in the Ministry of Food and Agriculture. He is travelling by Pan American Airways flight 3, leaving Tokyo today and reaching Delhi on the evening of Monday, 10th November. The property consists of gold ornaments and dust and broken pieces and is being carried in a steel attache case.

We would be grateful if urgent instructions were kindly issued to the Customs authorities to exempt the contents of this steel attache case from examination and import duty.

Discussed with M(CX).

As pointed out already by Foreign Secretary, even Government imports have to pay Customs duty. The Tariff provides for the levy of duty on goods per se and does not take into account other factors. The gold ornaments etc., being imported from Tokyo are thus liable to duty and we can see no reason for exempting them from payment thereof. We would have no objection to Customs <sup>examination</sup> exemption being waived provided the Ministry of External Affairs have with them a detailed list of the articles in question giving the weights and value of each item thereof. In that case, as is permissible for Government stores, the goods may be cleared under the Note & Pass procedure, under which the goods are cleared immediately on a Kacha Bill of Entry and duty is credited afterwards by book adjustment. If, however, detailed particulars of the articles ~~is~~ <sup>are</sup> not available then it will not be possible to waive Customs examination because the goods will have to be assessed to duty. I have explained the position to Miss Naidu over the telephone and she has stated that we will hear further from them in the matter.

I understood from Miss Naidu that most of these articles <sup>are</sup> were broken bits of jewellery etc. They would, therefore, be classified as gold bullion and would require an import licence from the Reserve Bank of India. I have, however, spoken to Mr. S.S. Shiralkar of the Economic Affairs Department of this Ministry and he states that in anticipation of such approval of the Reserve Bank they would have no objection to the gold being cleared without such a permit. FS. may see the notes from minute 90 onwards. At this morning's meeting FS. expressed the view that exemption from duty on these goods might be claimed on the ground that they are objects of historical value. I have spoken to Mr. Rajaram Rao of the CB&I. He tells me that exemption on this ground can be granted only if the articles are to be displayed in a public place such as a museum.

2. If this not the intention duty will have to be paid and it is for consideration who is to pay. H. Dayal

I.N.A. Treasure

This will soon be arriving and will be placed in a safe deposit vault.

2. Most of the treasure consists of damaged articles of jewellery. There are also some gold pieces. There is no provision in the Customs Law for the exemption of such articles from duty. Even Government imports have to pay duty.

3. The only alternative is to treat them as objects of historical value. If it is clearly stated at the time of import that Government's intention is to display them in a public place, such as a museum, they would be exempt from duty. I presume that some time or other, when we have an historical museum, we shall keep these articles there in a special section devoted to India's struggle for freedom. Many objects of interest connected with the INA and other freedom movements could be kept in that section.

4. If P.M. could confirm that it is the intention to keep these articles in a museum at some future date--and not to sell them and use the proceeds for some national purpose--I shall inform the Central Board of Revenue that we are claiming exemption from duty on that ground.

PRIME MINISTER'S SECRETARIAT

It is difficult to say now what we will do with these articles or gold pieces. We may inform the Central Board of Revenue that it is our present intention to treat them as historical articles which might be kept in a museum. In the event of our deciding otherwise later, we shall naturally pay such duty as may be decided upon. You should really find out from the Finance Ministry what they advise in this matter. This is, in a sense, Government property. We do not yet know what the value of it is and what we will do with it.

I.N.A. TREASURE

109-A

Mr. Rauf has just written to say that, in addition to the gold already sent to us, Mr. Murthy had handed over twenty thousand Yens in cash to our Embassy in Tokyo. Mr. Rauf wishes to know whether this amount may be credited to the Embassy account. Even though the Prime Minister has said that the I.N.A. Treasure is "in a sense Government property", a decision is required as to whether Government is, therefore, at liberty to utilise the cash for administrative purposes.

I.N.A. Treasure.

The articles of jewellery, etc. have arrived and have been kept in safe deposit. Dr Rauf is still holding 20,000 Yen in cash which is also part of the treasure. He wishes to know whether this should be credited to the Embassy account.

2. It is our present intention to treat all these articles which have been brought from Japan as historical articles. Later on they may be kept in a museum. If it is decided to keep them in a museum, we shall get the currency notes, etc. which Dr Rauf is holding and put them along with the other articles. If the decision is to sell the articles and use the proceeds for some national purpose, Dr Rauf will be asked to send us the money which will be added on to the other proceeds.

3. As we are still uncertain about the ultimate use of all this treasure, I think Dr Rauf should be asked to keep the currency notes, etc. with him for the present. If he sends the notes to us here, there may be some difficulty in getting them exchanged for rupees in case it is decided to use the proceeds for some national purpose and not to display the articles in a museum.

4. P.M. should see.

The money is not to be credited to the Embassy account, but is to be kept separated in a safe until further instructions are sent to him.

quantities of broken bits of jewellery, etc, which could not easily be itemised. Suggested that PM might see these articles at a convenient time. This was agreed to, and Mr Mathai said he would let me know when PM was free to see them.

2. CBR have been consulted - see minutes 90-93, 99 and 100. It has not yet been finally decided what will be done with these articles - it was thought that they might be placed in a museum (minute 101). The decision will no doubt be taken after PM has seen them.

3. These items were, I believe, roughly valued at Rs 90,000, but an accurate valuation will require examination by a qualified person. There is in addition a sum of 20,000 yen, still with our Embassy at Tokyo.

4. The goods received here have

PM, some time ago, enquired about the I.N.A. treasure. The treasure, apart from the currency notes, has arrived. A list of the articles is attached. External Affairs Ministry say that a more detailed list is not possible to prepare because many of the packages contain quantities of broken bits of jewellery etc., which could not be easily itemized. Central Board of Revenue have been consulted and they are of the view that ~~the~~ duty will be payable unless the articles are treated as articles of historical value and are displayed in a museum. It has not yet been decided what will be done with these articles. These articles are roughly valued at Rs.90,000/-.

2. In addition to these articles, there is a sum of 20,000 yens still lying with our Embassy in Tokyo.

3. The articles which <sup>have</sup> arrived in India are kept in the External Affairs Ministry. P.M., I understand, expressed a desire to see these articles. They can be seen at any time convenient to him.

Duty will not be payable if the articles are kept for display in a public place such as a museum. If it is decided that they should be otherwise disposed of, they will have to be assessed to duty. The Embassy at Tokyo valued them at Rs.90,000 for purposes of insurance. The transfer of the year to India through a bank draft does not require the approval of any authority in India but that of the Japanese exchange control. As it is possible that there would be difficulty in remitting the amount because of exchange control regulations in Japan we would have no objection, on account of the peculiar circumstances of the case, to the alternative course proposed of crediting the amount to the Embassy's account against payment in India. The instructions will have to be issued to the A.G.C.R. for making the payment in India to the appropriate party or fund. The total value involved is only about ₹20.

I.N.A. Treasure.

Some months ago, PM saw the "treasure" received from Tokyo, consisting of some charred and broken pieces of jewellery.

2. We have now received from our Embassy at Tokyo Rs.265/10/-, being the equivalent of the amount of 20,000 Yen, which was ~~was~~ deposited there in cash.

3. The pieces of metal and the cash are in a safe in this Ministry, of which the key is in my personal custody. PM decided that the "treasure" should be kept as evidence of the aircraft accident and subsequent fire. The money too was transferred here on his instructions. Presumably it will be used for a charitable purpose.

4. The use to be made of these articles and of the money in India seems to fall outside the sphere of this Ministry. Would PM's Secretariat kindly take over the "treasure" and the cash?

PRIME MINISTER'S SECRETARIAT.

PM's last decision evidently was that these articles should be kept as evidence of the aircraft accident and of subsequent fire. So long as they are to serve this purpose, I suppose they have an External Affairs ~~responsibility~~. Moreover, questions about Shri Subhas Chandra Bose's death are still being raised. For the present, therefore, to my mind, they should remain with the EA Ministry. When they are to go to a museum, as Prime Minister, at an earlier stage, thought, they may be passed direct to the museum chosen for this purpose.

2. I do not know whether PM, at any stage, expressed the opinion that these articles should be used for a charitable purpose.

Ministry of External Affairs.

The notes from minutes-168 will recall this case. I discussed the question of disposal of the "treasure" with Shri M.O. Mathai during JS(AD)'s absence on leave. Shri Mathai said that he would make enquiries and let us know where the "treasure" could most suitably <sup>be</sup> kept and displayed, and would also <sup>make</sup> arrangements to take it over from us as soon as possible. The "treasure" was ~~not~~ therefore not lodged in the Treasury for safe custody. The box containing it has been sealed and kept in double lock safe of the Treasurer of the Ministry of External Affairs. Shri Mathai may be requested to make arrangements for display of the "treasure" and take it over from us.

2. The "treasure" includes a sum of Rs.265/10/- in cash. Shri Mathai said that he would obtain P.M.'s orders about the disposal of this amount.

Shri M.O. Mathai will recall that I discussed the question of disposal of the INA "treasure" with him some time ago. The "treasure" was received from Tokyo and consists of some charred and broken pieces of jewellery. There is also a sum of Rs.265/10/- in cash, being the equivalent of the amount of 20,000 yen which was deposited with our Embassy. The pieces of metal and the cash are in a locked box which has been put inside a sealed bag and deposited in the cash chest of the Ministry. This is not a very satisfactory arrangement for its safe custody.

2. Shri Mathai said that he would investigate in consultation with the Ministry of Education where the "treasure" could most usefully be kept and displayed, and would then make arrangements to take it over from us. The cash could perhaps be credited to any INA Fund that might still be in existence. We shall be most grateful if he would kindly take action as above and relieve us of the responsibility for the custody of the "treasure". He would, no doubt, obtain P.M.'s orders.

Please see the attached letter from a Buddhist priest in Tokyo. You should send a copy of this letter to our Ambassador there and ask him to get in touch with the writer. The writer should be informed of the receipt of his letter and our thanks should be conveyed to him for his guarding the ashes of Shri Subhas Chandra Bose. He should be told that, of course, at the proper time we shall send for the ashes and have them in India. But, for the present, we should like him to keep them under his safe custody and to look after them.

You might inform the Ambassador that he can help the priest in any way that he thinks proper, including financially in so far as any money might be required for this purpose. You will notice that in the priest's letter some reference is made to his not receiving any help privately or officially.

Mr. H.Dayal, Mr.Roy, Superintendent, Central Asian Antiquities Museum and I saw the 'treasure'. It is a miscellaneous collection of broken fragments of jewellery, ornaments etc., some twisted metal, presumably from an aeroplane and some dust and ashes. The individual items are generally very small and their number is quite large.

All three of us were of the view that it would be difficult to exhibit these things as they are not suitable for exhibition. If there were any personal mementoes of the late Shri Subhas Chandra Bose like a watch or medal, there would have been some interest in the articles. The charred pieces of jewellery, some of which appear to be of gold and some of base metal, are not likely to arouse much interest. As for the twisted metal or dust or ashes, these also are not likely to arouse much public interest.

The best way of dealing with this 'treasure' may perhaps be to hand it over to Shri Bose's family. They may exhibit it in the Subhas Museum which is proposed to be set up in Cuttack or in the house in Elgin Road, where also a collection of his things has been made.

If it is desired that some exhibition of these articles should be made in Delhi, I would suggest that a selection of some of the broken fragments of metal or ornaments may be made and arranged in one or two shelves in a glass case and exhibited in the National Museum for a month or so. Thereafter, this and the rest of the material may be given to the late Mr. Bose's family.

These articles cannot be sent to Shri Subhas Chandra Bose's family. They have shown no interest in them and they are not even now prepared to admit that Shri Subhas Chandra Bose died in this accident.

There is no question of holding an exhibition of them here. But they have to be kept here carefully. There are other articles too which are of historical value. There was a flag, a silver charka etc. All relics of Shri Subhas Chandra Bose should be carefully preserved in proper cases.

Shri Subhas Chandra Bose's ashes are still in Tokyo preserved in a temple. The question of their being brought to India has been raised from time to time, but because of the family's attitude, we have been unable to do anything.

The intention in writing to Rev. M. Dharmeswar that the ashes of Shri Subhas Chandra Bose were in the custody of the Indian Embassy in Tokyo was that the ashes were under the control of the Embassy and within their knowledge even though they were not in their physical possession.

2. In this connection a reference is invited to Shri K.K. Chettur's D.O. No.F.26(14)/48, dated the 1st October 1951, at S.No.37-A in file 25/4/NGO, linked below. The following quotation from this letter is relevant :-

"It may interest you to know that quite some months ago we had arranged with the Japanese Foreign Office here that the ashes would be left undisturbed and under our control in the temple until further instructions were received from this Mission. The priest himself is also

Dear Mr. Trivedi,

Will you please refer to your D.O. No.F.5(1)NGO-I, dated the 11th December 1952, to Miss Naidu, regarding the ashes of Shri Subhas Chandra Bose ?

2. Rev. M. Dharmeswar had asked us if India Government were willing to take any steps about the ashes of Shri Subhas Chandra Bose now lying at Tokyo. Our intention was simply to tell him that the Indian Government and our Embassy in Tokyo were aware of the existence of the ashes and had full control over their disposal even though these were kept in the Renkoji temple. In this connection please refer to Mr. Chettur's D.O. No.F.26(14)/48, dated the 1st October 1951, to Mr. Dutt.

3. To avoid any misunderstanding, however, we are writing to Rev. Dharmeswar again to clarify the position.

EMBASSY OF INDIA IN JAPAN

23rd June, 1954.

D. 2124-NGO/54.

My dear Kaul,

Please refer to your demi-official letter No. F.25/4/NGO, dated the 15th June, 1954, regarding the ashes of Shri Subhas Bose.

2. Miss Naidu had shown me a letter received from Ranbir Singh in which it was suggested that we should donate a receptacle of appropriate material and quality to enshrine the ashes of the late Netaji. She was most anxious, in view of the opinion of the family and some others, that the Government of India should not be committed to an admission that they acknowledged the ashes to be genuine relics.

I, therefore, suggested that I would try to persuade some admirers of Netaji in Rangoon to donate a casket for the purpose. On my way back to Japan, I had only a day and half at Rangoon and, therefore, could not meet a number of people I had intended to approach. However, one gentleman to whom I talked to, was not enthusiastic about the idea.

3. The priest of the Renkoji temple is anxious for a recognition of his own status as the keeper of the ashes. Opinion of Indians here is divided. Any recognition, therefore, would be a source of controversy. It would not so much matter about the Indians locally, but the opinion in Bengal refuses to accept the fact of Netaji's death and, therefore, of the genuineness of the ashes. I would, therefore, suggest that so long as we can, we should try and keep things as they are until opinion in Bengal changes to accept the fact of his death.

My dear Min Naik,

Will you please refer to your D.O. letter No. D.5219-NGO/53, dated the 4th December, 1953, to the Ambassador, which contained certain instructions about Subhas Babu's ashes?

2. In the absence of the Ambassador, I opened your letter and, recently, visited Mochizuki-San at the Renkoji temple. I was accompanied by a colleague, Shri. M.S. Nair, Registrar in our General Section, who speaks Japanese fluently.

3. We thanked the priest, on behalf of the Government of India, for the care he has bestowed on these ashes; and we told him that, at a proper time, they would be sent to India. Should he require financial assistance, we would be happy to provide it; but we hoped for his agreement to continue as the guardian of the ashes for some time.

4. Though repeatedly pressed to accept financial assistance, the priest made it very clear that he had kept the ashes, voluntarily, because of his high regard for Subhas Babu, which, in itself, made it impossible for him to accept any money.

5. He then told us in a round-about-way that the guardianship of these ashes was a source of worry to him; that some of the few-score Indians who have visited the temple and seen the ashes have not behaved with due respect towards them and that he sought to have it stated officially, and publicly, by this Embassy, that the ashes were in his keeping. Finally, could we arrange to provide a receptacle, of artistic design, made preferably in India, in which the ashes would be kept? This receptacle would be on a shelf, in the temple, between two lighted candles; and visitors could make their obeisance before it. Of course, whether Buddhists (Mochizuki-San is a member of the Nichiren sect) or Shintoists, the Japanese venerate, greatly, the ashes of the dead.

6. As you know, many of our fellow-citizens living in Japan, as well as some of those at home, remain convinced either that these ashes are not those of Subhas Babu or that he is still alive. Such evidence as we have, on the relevant file, indicates that he is dead and it is likely, though not absolutely certain, that these ashes are his.

7. Any official statement by this Embassy of the type required by the priest would raise a storm of protest among some of our more obstinate fellow-citizens here.

8. The priest agreed to continue to look after the ashes and we were able to dissuade him from insisting on public acknowledgment which, we implied, would, of course, be given when the ashes were, finally, taken to India.

9. The ashes are, at present, kept in a cupboard in the temple and, when visitors arrive, they are taken out and placed between two candles - below a small photograph of Subhas Babu. They are kept in a small box about 9" X 6", which seems to be either tin or wood, and are covered by a white and somewhat transparent cloth which is almost gauze. This manner of viewing them is rather undignified. I would be grateful to have early instructions about the priest's request for the provision of a suitable receptacle. The points for decision are, firstly, whether we should comply with this request and, secondly, whether the receptacle should be made in India or obtained in Japan. Should it be decided to make one in India, I will consult the priest again and provide details about the sort of receptacle he wishes to have.

10. You may be interested to hear that the priest told me that about one hundred persons, including Indians and Japanese, had visited him and been shown the ashes. Certain Americans had also come, to use his own words, to "worship" the ashes. It was sad to hear that the conduct of some of our own people had been lacking in propriety.

11. The Renkoji temple is fairly large and is well looked after. I am quite convinced that Mochizuki-San does not require financial assistance to look after the ashes. He is a pleasant man of about 60 and I have little doubt that his genuine regard for Subhas Babu derives from his sincere, though metaphysical and ill-founded, belief, that Japan's Asian venture, if successful, would have been the fulfilment of a noble and humanitarian purpose.

12. I shall be grateful for instructions.

Kindest regards,

Yours sincerely,
Ranbir Singh

My dear Rauf,

I enclose a copy of a letter addressed to the Prime Minister by the Priest of Renkoji, a Buddhist temple in Tokyo where the ashes of the late Shri Subhas Chandra Bose are enshrined. The Prime Minister desires that the priest be informed of the receipt of his letter and, on behalf of the Government of India, thanked for his guarding the ashes of Shri Subhas Chandra Bose. He should also be told that, at the proper time, we shall send for the ashes and have them in India. But, for the present, we should like him to keep them under his safe custody and look after them.

In the priest's letter, some reference is made to his not receiving any help privately or officially. The Prime Minister would therefore like you to help him in any way you think proper, including financially in so far as any money might be required for this purpose.

Yours sincerely,

His Excellency,
Dr. Pandit Jawaher Lal Nehru,
The Prime Minister of India.
New Delhi, India.

Kyoei Mochizuki
130, 2-chome, Koenji,
Suginami-ku, Tokyo,
Japan.
November 25, 1953,

Dear Sir:

I am the priest of Renkoji, Buddhist temple in the suburbs of Tokyo City. I have the honour to send this letter to you, guided by the soul of the late Sath Chandra Bose ji. I have been keeping the ashes of Netaji safely, and praying for the repose of his soul since September 18 in 1945. Eight years have already passed since that time. Japan was under Occupation eight years ago, during which Japanese people were living their stormy life in social confusion. Therefore, apprehensive of consequences, none would accept Netaji's ashes to keep it safely.

I, a stranger to the late Netaji, was asked to keep the ashes by people who were strangers to me including Indians of whom I have never heard since that time. I thought anyone's soul should be warmly worshipped under whatever circumstances. According to such belief as a religionist who serve the spiritual world, I have secretly been guarding Netaji's ashes at the risk of my life. I have been so watchful that even small noises at midnight startle me.

In June, 1951, Ex-Indian Ambassador to Japan, His Excellency, K.K.Chettur, invited me to his official residence. And I was officially asked to keep the ashes by him, as the representative of the Indian Government. The witness was Mr. Tamura, Chief of the Ceremony Section of the Foreign Office of Japan. So my responsibility and duties for keeping the ashes have become more important.

Frankly speaking, I must inform you that, in spite of many inconveniences and trouble I underwent in keeping the ashes, I have never received any help privately and officially. But I believe I can keep up Netaji's soul perfectly by recognizing the importance of duties assigned me and with my strong belief as a religionist.

Nov. 182

Now Japan is not under Occupation. The peaceful relations between Japan and India have been reestablished. So, it is meaningless and pity for the late Netaji that his ashes should be kept in a temple of a foreign country, lonely and secretly, after all his vain efforts to bring about the independence of India and happiness of Asia. I think now is the time when such a significant plan as vivifies the historical achievements and sacred spirit of Netaji eternally for both Asia and mankind should be adopted.

During the latest equinox week, I dreamed a strange dream of Netaji two nights on end. The dream was enough to make me lose the peace of my mind as a religionist.

Such is the background of my taking the liberty of expressing my personal view in this letter, which I write as a religionist and a priest who is charged with such an important responsibility by the Indian Government.

I should be much obliged if you would kindly understand me, and send me, directly if possible, any suggestions you may have as to the disposal of the late Netaji's ashes.

Sincerely yours,

Sir,

I am directed to say that under instructions from the Prime Minister we have obtained from Japan some property belonging to the former "Indian National Army". This property, which is known as "I.N.A. 2. The Prime Minister has decided that the "treasure" should be kept as evidence of the aircraft accident in which Shri Bose met his death.

3. I am accordingly to request you to authorise the Treasury Officer, New Delhi, to receive the "treasure" into the Treasury for safe custody under Rule 73 of the Treasury Rules. A list of the articles in question is enclosed for your information. FINANCE MINISTER.

No. 167-PSF/53

New Delhi,
January 19, 1953.

My dear Prime Minister,

Sub:- "Indian National Army" Treasure -
Question of exemption from Customs duty thereon.

You mentioned the other day that the Customs authorities had asked for payment of customs duty amounting to about Rs.20,000/- on the import of some personal effects and gold valued at about Rs.80,000/- belonging to the late Shri Subhas Chandra Bose and wondered why the Government in whom this property now vested should be required to pay customs duty.

2. Under the law as it stands, even goods imported by Government have to pay Customs duty unless they are covered by a specific exemption; the Finance Ministry did not consider that there were any strong grounds for grant of exemption from duty in respect of the "I.N.A. Treasure" unless it was of historical interest and was to be exhibited in a public place. Subsequent to our discussion the other day, papers were received from the Ministry of External Affairs in which you recorded a minute on the 11th November 1952 that it is the present intention to treat the I.N.A. Treasure as historical articles which might be kept in a museum and that, in the event of a decision otherwise later, such duty would be paid as may be decided upon. In the circumstances and on the analogy of the free entry permissible under the law of works of art, such as, statuaries and pictures intended to be put up for the public benefit in a public place, instructions are being issued, as a special case, exempting the articles in question from payment of customs duty.

BRING NETAJI'S RELICS TO INDIA, ASIANS SUGGEST

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT)

INDORE, December 3.

IN talks with me at Sanchi this week, people from all over Asia expressed hope that the countrymen of Subhas Chandra Bose would soon take steps to bring his relics to his motherland for being enshrined either at India's capital or at Subhas's birthplace.

The relics of Netaji are now enshrined in a small Buddhist temple near Tokyo where a monk has been offering worship since August 1945, when Subhas Bose expired from burns sustained in a plane accident.

Valuable information was gathered by me at Sanchi, where I met a Buddhist monk, who returned last week from Japan after attending the International Buddhist Conference. This Indian monk has also brought with him details of the plane accident and a photograph of the casket of Netaji's relics which has been placed above a portrait of his military uniform.

Entries in the diary show dates of the death, collection of his relics and their enshrinement in the temple, all of which took place in August 1945. The small temple was chosen for security reasons.

This Buddhist monk was the first man since the enshrinement, who was allowed to touch the relics as he happened to come from Netaji's land.

The Buddhist monk has also brought a copy of the message that was dictated by Subhas Bose before his expiry in the military hospital wherein he has observed that he fought for the country's freedom while alive and was giving his life for the same purpose. The message exhorted his countrymen to intensify the fight for India's independence.

Will you please refer to correspondence ending with your Top Secret telegram No. 27627 of the 12th November regarding I.N.A. properties?

3. As we had reported to you in the letter quoted above, Mr. Murty had also given us Yen 20,000 in cash. I presume you would now want us to credit this amount to our account. If so, please indicate the Head of Account.

I sent a note yesterday to Mr. Rajaram Rao, Joint Secretary, Ministry of Finance (R.D.), asking whether the I.N.A. Treasure, which Mr. Damle is bringing with him, could be exempted from customs examination and duty. This morning, Mr. A.K. Mukherjee, Deputy Secretary, Ministry of Finance (C.B.R), told me over the telephone that they could arrange for exemption from examination at the airport provided we signed a Bill of Entry. He added that this Ministry would later be asked to pay the customs duty. A telegram just received from Tokyo shows that Mr. Damle will not arrive this evening but tomorrow, at 5 P.M., by Pan American Airways Flight 3. I have handed over the telegrams to JS(AD) who has agreed to take necessary action in the matter.

Certain items of INA treasure consisting of gold and other valuables were taken over by the Indian Liaison Mission, Tokyo, some time ago and were in deposit with them. Prime Minister would like to know what is the position about this treasure and what are its contents. ## Mystery of Bose's Treasure Revived With Ayer's Arrival

By WILLIAM CHAPMAN
UP Staff Correspondent

A meeting of two revolutionary lieutenants to the Indian independence martyr, Subhas Chandra Bose, has revived the mystery of the 1945 disappearance of $700,000 in gold and jewels belonging to the ill-fated Indian National Army.

S. A. Ayer, Director of Publicity for the Government of Bombay, is vacationing at the home of M. R. Murti, president of the Far East Trading Company here.

Mr. Ayer was director of the Information Office of Chandra Bose's short-lived Independent Indian Government during World War II. Mr. Murti was the Japanese Government contact man from 1941 to 1945 for Chandra Bose's Indian Independence League.

Their meeting in Tokyo this week was the first for Mr. Ayer and Mr. Murti since August of 1945. Mr. Ayer returned to India shortly after the Japanese surrender, while Mr. Murti remained in Japan.

Members of the Indian community in Japan said both were principal figures in the disappearance of the sizable war chest of the Japanese-supported Indian National Army.

Mr. Murti, however, claims no knowledge of the treasure. Mr. Ayer, when asked about the reports, declined to comment.

Chandra Bose, one of the three great leaders in the Indian independence move, was a man of action in contrast to Mahatma Gandhi or Pandit Nehru. During World War II he allied his movement with the fate of Japan, when Japan offered to help him push the British

Leading an army of Indians recruited from Southeast Asia and from Japanese prisoner-of-war camps after the fall of Singapore, Chandra Bose at the pinnacle of his career pushed the British from the Province of Imphal in India and set up an independent government.

In the last days of the war he traveled through Thailand, Burma and Malaya addressing rallies of Indian trader supporters. When he called for financial aid, his audience often stripped off golden knickknacks and jewelry to contribute.

In August of 1945 Chandra Bose loaded his war fund aboard two planes and took off from Singapore for Tokyo. His plane crashed on Formosa on VJ-day (August 15). The Indian leader died after about six hours in a Taipei hospital.

The gold and jewels aboard the plane were confiscated. Mr. Ayer came to Japan in another plane, and, according to reports from various sections of the Far East, his plane carried the remaining gold and jewels. According to unconfirmed reports, he turned the treasure over to Mr. Murti, the Tokyo representative.

Members of the Indian community in Japan said that when Mr. Ayer left Japan for India, he did not take the bulky treasure with him. Mr. Murti claimed he had no knowledge of the estimated $700,000. Mr. Ayer politely refused any and all comment on the subject.

In the years since the war, Mr. Murti has become a successful and prosperous Tokyo businessman. His trading company is a store which sells fancy, expensive watches, filmy lingerie and other American-made luxuries.

Mr. Murti owns three automobiles—including a Cadillac and a large Chrysler, according to Indian officials here.

Mr. Ayer, returning to India, continued his work in politics, now holding a government job in Bombay.

My dear Jawahar

57A

Kindly refer to your letter regarding the ashes of Subhas Bose.

I referred the matter to Sri Asoke Nath Bose, the eldest son of late Sarat Chandra Bose. He evidently consulted his people and telephoned to me yesterday to say that at the present moment they do not desire to move in the matter, and they also wish that the matter be not pursued at the present moment. So I think there is nothing else to be done for the moment.

My dear Dr Roy,

Will you kindly refer to H.P.M.'s

As desired by H.P.M., I enclose a copy of

My dear Bidhan,

I spoke to you about Subhas Bose's ashes in Tokyo.

One Ayer was Publicity Adviser to Subhas Bose in Malaya during the INA period. He was with him till Subhas left for Japan. In the course of this journey, it has been alleged that Subhas died owing to an air-crash.

Ayer went to Japan in May last to make further inquiries about this matter. He has presented us with a full report containing the evidence of Indians and Japanese, some of them eye-witnesses of the crash. He comes to the firm conclusion that there is not a shadow of a doubt that Subhas Bose died in Formosa in an aircraft accident and that his ashes were taken to Tokyo and are now kept in a temple there.

In answer to a question in Parliament I am going to place Ayer's report on the table of the House. I have no reason to doubt the correctness of this report and I think I must accept the final conclusion also.

The question arises as to what we are to do with the urn containing the ashes which is at present kept in a Japanese temple. We have asked our representative in Tokyo to take formal charge of this, but to leave it in the temple until further directions are given. I should like you to get in touch with Subhas Bose's family and find out from them what they would wish done in this matter. We can then take counsel together and decide.

A copy of Ayer's report will be sent to you from Delhi.

Question 334.

Shri Mamath: In view of the fact that the House is deeply interested in this matter, may I request the Prime Minister to read not the whole of the resume but at least Habib's version on page 2 and 3?

Mr. Speaker: I do not see why the time of the question hour should be taken by such reading. The resume is already there and non-Members may refer to it.

Mr. Kamath: So that separate questions may be put and answered.

Mr. Speaker: He has got a copy of the statement.

Shri Jawaharlal Nehru: May I, Sir, read the last two lines? The report is a detailed version of the enquiry. It also contains a certain version given by Japanese officers who met him. (Mr. Ayer). These are details but the final conclusion I would read from the report.

"In conclusion I would repeat that I have not the faintest doubt in my mind that the ashes that are enshrined in the Renkeji temple in Tokyo are Netaji's."

Mr. Kamath: Did Mr. Ayer in May last visit only Tokyo or also Taihoku, Saigen and other places?

Shri Jawaharlal Nehru: I have to speak from memory. I do not think that he went to Taiwan or Kermesa. I cannot say about any other places either.

Mr. Kamath: The report with me says that at Taihoku after the.....

Mr. Speaker: I do not see the utility of putting these questions. The report is by an officer and it is before the House and all that the hon. Prime Minister is doing is to convey the report to the House. How can he answer questions about the accuracy or otherwise of the report?

Mr. Kamath: Is it not a fact that on several occasions in this House the former Home Minister, Sardar Patel and later Dr. Keskar stated that they had no irrefutable evidence or proof of the death of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose and if so, may I know whether this is taken as the last word on the subject?

Shri Jawaharlal Nehru: This is the fullest and latest account that we have had. Whether it is the last word or some further information may come later I cannot say but it does seem now that it is a fairly convincing account.

Mr. Kamath: Now that Government is satisfied that Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose is definitely no more, is there any proposal before Government to erect a suitable memorial to him in the Red Fort?

Mr. Speaker: I am afraid I must disallow the question. It is a suggestion for action. Next question.

January 30, 1952.

Dear Mr. Sahay, 50A

Thank you for your demi-official letter No. 13-COM/52 of the 17th January. Your note on Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose's activities during the last few months of his life is very interesting, and we are keeping it on record. Incidentally, you may be interested to hear that K.A. Ayer has recently published a book on Netaji. When I saw the book in manuscript, my impression was that the material could have been arranged in a more effective manner and that there was considerable room for improvement of the language and style. I have not seen many reviews of this new book. It is a matter of great pity that Netaji Bose's life has not yet received adequate treatment at the hands of our writers and historians. I have no doubt, however, that the future historians will give him the <sup>his</sup> rightful place in the national struggle for independence.

INA TREASURES AND THEIR HANDLING BY MESSRS
IYER & RAMAMURTHI.

Considerable quantities of gold and treasures were given to the late Shri Subhas Chandra Bose by Indians in the Far East as a part of their war effort. Shri Subhas Chandra carried a part of these "treasures" with him on his ill-fated flight from Saigon to Tokyo; the remaining "treasures" were left in Saigon.

According to photo-static copies of documents the following treasures are reported to have eventually reached Tokyo.

A. Recovered from plane crash	Kg.	gms.
(1) Comparatively pure gold in two wooden boxes and a paper wrapper (weight include weight of gold and wooden box)	7	- 900
(2) One packet gold mixed with molten metal iron etc. (weight includes weight of gold, metal iron etc. and paper wrapper.	3	- 100
B. Brought by S.A. Iyer from Saigon	-	- 300

In addition to the above Mr. S.A. Iyer handed over ₹.20,000/-.

The above treasures were handed over in Tokyo to one Mr. Ramamurthy. Mr. Ramamurthy was on several occasions questioned by representatives of the Government of India regarding these treasures but he denied the existence of the treasure and it was only recently that he admitted that the treasures were in his possession.

(H.B.)
These treasures have now been taken over by the Indian Liaison Mission, Tokyo, and the list of treasures recovered by them is at slip 'X'. The weight of treasures now recovered is considerably more than the weight of treasures that are reported to have been handed over to Mr. Ramamurthy. Further the ₹.20,000/- notes now handed over to Indian Liaison Mission are of current use. (The notes that were handed over to Mr. Ramamurthy in 1945 must have been those which are no longer current in Japan).

Mr. Iyer recently visited Japan with the ostensible purpose of investigating the present position in regard to the treasures. Mr. Iyer's activities in Japan have been rather suspicious and Mr. Chettur's views regarding this are as follows:-

"It appears that Netai had with him in Saigon substantial quantity of gold ornaments and precious stones, but that he was allowed to carry only two suit-cases on the ill-fated flight. These two suit-cases must have carried very much more than has now been handed over to us, and even if allowances are made for the loss of the part of the treasure when the plane crashed, it seems obvious that what was retrieved was substantially very much more than has now been in our possession. What is still more important is that the bulk of the treasure was left in Saigon and it is significant from information that is available that on the 26th January, 1945, Netaji's collection weighed more than himself. In this context you will notice that Aiyer came to Tokyo subsequently from Saigon and that his statement at that time was that "the gold is intact as I have brought it from Saigon, while cash is the balance after changing Piastras into Yens and meeting my expenses during my stay in Japan since August 22nd 1945". There is a party here who has seen the boxes in Aiyer's room and who was also told by Aiyer of the contents of these few boxes. What happened to these boxes subsequently is a mystery as all that we have got from Aiyer is 300 grams of gold, and about 260 rupees gold worth of cash. You will, no doubt, draw your own conclusion from all this, but to me it would appear as if Aiyer, apprehensive of the early conclusion of the Peace Treaty, came to Tokyo to divide the loot and to salve his and Murthy's conscience by the handing over of a small quantity to Government in the hope that by doing so he would also succeed in drawing a red herring across the trail."

Suspicion regarding the improper disposal of the treasure is thickened by the comparative affluence in 1946 of Mr. Ramamurthy when all other Indian nationals in Tokyo were suffering the greatest hardships. Another fact which suggests that the treasures were improperly disposed of is a sudden blossoming out into an Oriental curio expert of Col. Figges, the Military Attache of the British Mission in Tokyo, and the reported invitation extended by the Colonel to Ramamurthy to settle down in U.K.

20th October, 1951.

My dear Dutt,

Please refer to my Top Secret telegram No.74-GS dated the 25th September intimating to you that whatever INA properties Ram Murty handed over to us were in our possession.

2. As arranged with Ram Murthy, Trivedi accompanied by the Office Registrar went to the former's house on the 24th September, and took possession of the various packages after opening and weighing them with our own scale in the presence of Ram Murty and his wife. These packages were in three cloth bundles. In addition there was a paper package containing gold pieces and and ¥ 20,000 in cash handed over by Iyer to Ram Murty. A copy of the detailed list with weights shown against each package is enclosed.

3. Trivedi also signed a receipt on the photostat copies of Habibur Rehman's and Iyer's letters to Murty dated the 15th November, 1945, copies of which I had sent to Chakravarty with my Top Secret D.O. letter No.F.5(25)/51 of 6th June 1951.

4. If you compare the lists with the information given in the photostat copies, you will find that there was no wooden box and that the "treasure" was apparently divided into a larger number of paper packages and cloth bundles. Despite the absence of the wooden box, however, the weight is more than that shown in Habib-ur-Rehman's letter, which also does not mention another bundle mostly containing dust and some base metal. Ram Murty told Trivedi that the "treasure" was opened and weighed once again when Iyer came here last. Iyer has jotted down the weights in his handwriting and these slips of paper are with the bundles. Murty also stated that the third bundle was not mentioned in Habib-ur-Rehman's letter as it was practically worthless.

5. Two other points worth noting in this connection are that the twenty thousand Yen handed over by Ram Murty are in current notes of ¥ 1,000 each, and not in notes which were current in 1945 nor in their equivalent in actual value on account of changes in Yen currency values. Secondly, the gold lumps given by Iyer, which are obviously pieces from melted ornaments are bright and completely untarnished. You will no doubt consult experts whether gold will remain entirely untarnished after nearly six years.

6. Incidentally, when Trivedi first called Ram Murty in August 1951 after the receipt of your instructions to take over the "treasure", he admitted that the treasure was in his possession but that he had been denying its existence so far "in view of the risks involved in admitting it", meaning robbery or appropriation by the Occupation or Japanese authorities. As a matter of fact Murty has all along denied the existence of the "treasure" and even Chakravarty questioned him when he was the Head of the Mission (and even though there is no specific noting on our file, it would appear that Rama Rao or Bahadur Singh must also have questioned him.)

7. I may add that we have since been able to secure on a personal and private basis a confidential report from the Japanese Foreign Ministry on the question of Netaji's "treasure". It appears that Netaji had with him in Saigon substantial quantities of gold ornaments and precious stones, but that he was allowed to carry only two suitcases on the ill-fated flight. These two suitcases must have carried very much more than has now been handed over to us and even if allowances are made for the loss of part of the "treasure" when the 'plane crashed, it seems obvious that what was retrieved was substantially very much more than is now in our possession. What is still more important is that the bulk of the treasure was left in Saigon and it is significant from information that is available that on the 26th January 1945, Netaji's collection weighed more than himself. What happened to these boxes subsequently is a mystery as all that we have now got from Iyer is 300 grams of gold and about 260 Rupees worth of cash. You will, no doubt, draw your own conclusions from all this, but to me it would appear uncommonly as if Iyer, apprehensive of the early conclusion of the Peace Treaty, came to Tokyo to divide the loot and to salve his and Murty's conscience by the handing over of a small quantity to the Government in the hope that by doing so he would also succeed in drawing a red herring across the trail. How far he has been successful, time will show.

2. I am afraid there is some misunderstanding here. In none of my earlier letters did I say that the ashes presumed to be those of the late Netaji are at present "in the charge of Mr. Ramamurti". As a matter of fact, these ashes are not in the custody of Ramamurti but under the control of the priest of the Renkoji Temple, who does not recognise the right of Ramamurti to control its disposal. It may interest you to know that quite some months ago we had arranged with the Japanese Foreign Office here that these ashes would be left undisturbed and under our control in the temple until further instructions were received from this Mission. The priest himself is also fully aware of this decision, which was explained to him in person.

Who has first used this ashose? Please trace source generation.

3. You will of course let me know in due course the decision of the Government of India regarding its final disposal.

4. The revival of interest in the ashes and Netaji's treasure raises some misgivings in my mind, a subject which I shall refer to in greater detail when I write to you regarding the taking over of the treasure from Ramamurti.

As reported by you, the ashes presumed to be those of the late Netaji are at present in the charge of Mr. Ramamurti, ex-President of the I.I.L., and are enshrined in the Renkaji Temple at Horinouchi, Suginani-ku, Tokyo, under the supervision of the high priest. SUMMARY.

Subject: Netaji Subas Chandra Bose.

Five questions were asked in Parliament regarding Netaji Subas Chandra Bose in 1946. In answer to Mr. Mangal Singh's question on Netaji's death, the Government made an authoritative statement that Netaji succumbed to injuries sustained in a plane crash at Taihoku airfield on 18 August 1945. Subsequently however, the Government on 30 October 1946 stated, in reply to another question by Mr. Mangal Singh, that they are not in a position to make any authoritative statement on whether Netaji is dead or alive and that they have not made any enquiries in the matter. This apparent contradiction is presumably due to the fact that the former reply was given by the foreign controlled India Government and the latter by Shri Patel after the establishment of the Interim Government.

2. The Hindustan Times published on 12 October 1946 a statement by the Hon'ble the Prime Minister that there was not the slightest justification for the belief that Netaji was alive. This statement also referred to Col. Habibur Rahman's letters to the H.P.M. wherein he had assured the fact of Netaji's death on August 18, 1945. Col. Rahman was himself involved in the plane crash and he had his bed in the hospital side by side with that of Netaji.

3. Capt. Yoshimi Taneyoshi, a medical officer of the Japanese Imperial Army, has, in a long statement, given the details of Netaji's death.

4. ✓ In 1951, two questions were asked in the Parliament in this regard. One referred to the communication received from Major-General J.K. Bhonsle, Chairman, I.N.A. Advisory Committee, wherein was reported that the ashes of Netaji were lying in a temple in Tokyo. The Indian Liaison Mission, Tokyo, were asked to verify this report. The Mission carried out possible investigations and reported that Mr. Ramamurti had confirmed that Aiyer and himself received ashes of Netaji in September 1945 and entrusted them to the custody of Renkoji Temple in Tokyo. The first secretary visited the temple and saw the casket. The Mission had reported that further verification was obviously impossible. They have stated further that according to understanding at time of deposit of ashes, the temple authorities ~~were~~ prepared to despatch the ashes to India provided arrangements are made for receiving the casket with ceremonies and honour compatible with the status of Netaji.

My dear Chettur, 19A

This is in continuation of my letter No. F.25/4/NGO, dated the 12th July, 1951. The Prime Minister came back yesterday and I mentioned the matter to him. From various considerations we think it desirable not to get mixed up with Netaji's Ashes at least for the present. The Ashes may remain where they are. You should, however, try to take possession of the gold from Ramamurti.

As regards the holding of an enquiry the position is as I stated in my letter dated the 12th July and the Prime Minister does not want any open investigations which might prove embarrassing to the Mission and to the Government. If any confidential enquiries are possible without causing any embarrassment to the Mission you will no doubt make such enquiries. Please let us know when you are able to take possession of the gold. The question of its disposal may then be considered.

Yours sincerely,

My dear Chettur,

I enclose a copy of a letter written to Bhat, Chief Secretary of the Bombay Government, by Ayer on his return to India. From your letters I got the impression that Ayer more or less avoided meeting you after the 5th June with the result that you could not communicate the contents of our telegram to him. He seems to suggest that the initiative was with you and that you did not send him any message until the day he left Tokyo. That, however, is probably to be expected.

The Prime Minister is away and I cannot at the moment tell you anything about the ashes, but meanwhile you may ask Ramamurti to make over the gold to you.

I received your d.o. letter No.F.5(25)/51, dated the 29th June 1951 duly. As I had already told you in one of my previous letters there was nothing wrong in your interpretation of the Government's attitude. That was my own interpretation too. But when I talked the matter over with the Prime Minister he definitely said that that is not the Government's attitude. Apparently Harish Dayal's letter was issued without the knowledge of the Prime Minister. In your letter dated the 11th June 1951 you stated that you had heard the most scandalous reports about the Ayer-Ramamurti link and that you had no reason whatsoever to doubt their authenticity, but that in view of the lack of interest evinced by Government in this matter in the past you have refrained from pursuing it. We therefore informed you that Government are greatly interested in recovering all gold and other forms of treasure and suggested that you might pursue the matter. If as you now say that it is too late to undertake a treasure hunt we would certainly not press you to do so, particularly if it means that your "investigations may involve a degree of publicity which might well prove embarrassing not only to the Mission but also to the Government of India". I myself feel that the guilty persons should be exposed. If that cannot be done by confidential enquiries without causing any embarrassment to the Mission I suppose we will have to give up the idea altogether. I have not been able to show your latest letter to the Prime Minister. When he comes back from Bangalore I will mention the case again to him and obtain his orders as to whether he would like the matter to be investigated further. I will let you know his decision in due course.

Yours sincerely,

INDIAN LIAISON MISSION

TOKYO

29th June 1951. (94)

My dear Chakravarty,

Will you please refer to the Ministry's cable No. PRIMIN-21557 dated the 23rd (received 25th) June 1951, which has crossed my top secret D.O. of the 22nd?

2. My interpretation -- which I am now told is wrong -- of Government's attitude towards this matter was based on the Ministry's D.O.No.D.9593-FEA/47 dated the 29/30th December 1947, to which incidentally I invited your attention when I reopened the case in my D.O. of the 21st May 1951 regarding SCAP clearance for Ayer's contemplated visit to this country. To the Mission's request as early as in December 1947 for instructions of Government on the question of the alleged misappropriation of the Netaji collections by Ramamurti, the Ministry's reply was: "In any event, the Govt. of India can hardly claim the assets of the Indian Independence League as its own and this is therefore a matter in which we cannot proceed officially. It is for the accusers of Ramamurti themselves to take such action as they are able".

3. It seems to me too late now to undertake a treasure-hunt on the scale envisaged by you -- for one thing, all the treasure, if it existed, save the two boxes now promised by Ayer, which are I understand in Ramamurti's possession now, must have long ago been converted into hard cash, commodities and landed property. The proceeds must also have been distributed between the parties concerned, and as I observed before, this would appear in some measure to be borne out by Ramamurti's comparative affluence in 1946, Capt. Thairatatte's farming venture in Sendai and Col. Figgess' blossoming out into an Oriental curio expert and a collector of objet d'art. There are others also whose names have been mentioned, though the nature of their participation in this affair still remains to be revealed. The fact however that Ayer refused to see his old Indian Independence League friends, other than Ramamurti, during his recent visit to Tokyo and that he slipped out of Tokyo without calling upon me would appear to show a degree of complicity in the whole affair well worth examining. This I shall do if you agree, though I would also add that the scent is now stone-cold and that many red herrings have been drawn across the trail. You are also aware of the agitation amongst the local Indian community here and that I have had quite a number of promises from many Indians, who have been here since the war, of signed statements setting forth their knowledge of what transpired during this period. It is also probably within your knowledge that certain Japanese informants, who were willing to offer the Mission concrete and conclusive evidence in 1948 with regard to the disappearance of the Netaji collections, were prevented from doing so by interested parties.

4. I am perfectly clear however that any enquiry now will stir up a lot of mud which I would rather avoid, since the principal collaborators are well beyond reach and all that the enquiry would do would be to secure for us a measure of publicity which I for one would most definitely like to avoid. And it seems to me that Government also cannot avoid some measure of responsibility for evading the issue in 1947 -- indeed the feeling here among local Indians was and is that the Government of India displayed an apathy and indifference to the manner of Subhas Chandra Bose's death and the disposal of his collections, which appeared to them to be little short of callous. Ayer is no doubt fully aware of all this -- this is borne out by his clever observation to me that Government would be well advised to let sleeping dogs lie as election time was coming on and that it would hardly do to stir up the whole question of Netaji's death, the manner of his death and the disposal of his collections, which would appear to indicate, at any rate on his part, a very keen interest in letting this matter fade into oblivion.

5. All that we can salvage out of this business therefore would appear to be the two boxes, and as Ayer is now in India I suggest that he be asked to arrange for their being handed over to the Mission. It is interesting, as you observe, that both Ramamurti and Ayer should now admit the existence of this gold when they had originally denied all knowledge of any gold or jewellery -- and particularly when the photostat copies revealed their existence as far back as 1945.

6. I may be doing Ayer an injustice, but I am not sure that he is not a party to the misappropriation. Allegations have also been made here of his misappropriation of the deposits in the Azad Hind Bank in Rangoon, of which he was I understand the Managing Director. It is also stated by an Indian resident here that when he called upon Ayer soon after his arrival in Japan in 1945, his attention was drawn by Ayer himself to two big suitcases containing the personal effects of the late Subhas Chandra Bose, though what transpired later to these boxes has not been revealed. We should I think in this connection have on record an affidavit from Ayer with regard to his knowledge of these matters and I trust that the necessary steps to this end will be taken by you.

7. It would be also interesting in this connection if an affidavit could be secured from Col. Rahman, who is now in Pakistan, so that the two individuals who are known to have seen and/or handled the Netaji collections last may be on record, as it may throw considerable light on the amounts that were saved from the wreck. My own feeling is that Ayer's recent visit to Japan was not for a holiday but for the final disposition of the property, as a peace treaty was due very shortly and it was likely that the Japanese Government themselves might set afoot some enquiry as to the disposition of the treasure, as their good name also has been involved in this matter.

8. You may be interested to know in this connection that the Murti brothers are reported to be seriously contemplating quitting Japan and settling down either in the U.K. or in the U.S.A. -- probably the former and that Col. Figgess, Assistant Military Adviser to the British Embassy here has promised them every assistance if they propose to go to the U.K. It is not also without interest to mention that these ill-gotten gains have brought little happiness to the Murti family, save perhaps their Japanese wives in whose names I gather their property in Japan has been registered. The elder Murti (Ramamurti), though he owns a fine shop on the Ginza, perpetually wears a most harassed look. His asthmatic complaint, in spite of all the latest drugs that modern medicine can supply and his money can buy, have brought him little or no relief. What is even more tragic is that his younger brother (Jayamurti), who suffers from tuberculosis, has I understand had three of his ribs removed and has become practically a permanent invalid.

Yours sincerely,

(K.K. Chettur)

Dear Shri Bhatn

With reference to your D.O. No. C.S./229 of 11th May 1951, I arrived in Tokyo on 24th May and after a stay of 18 days there, returned to Bombay on 13th June. The next day I called on you at the Secretariat and gave you a brief oral report.

During my brief stay in Tokyo, I called at the Indian Liaison Mission and met His Excellency K.K. Chettur, Chief of the Mission, on three days, namely, May 29, May 30 and June 5.

In the course of the second interview I handed to Shri Chettur photostat copies of two documents one of which contained authentic information on what happened to the jewellery which Netaji was carrying with him on his fatal plane dash from Saigon on August 17, 1945.

As for Netaji's sacred ashes, I told Shri Chettur that they were still enshrined in the temple where I had left them in 1945.

In view of the fact that Shri M. Rama Murti, ex-President, Indian Independence League, Japan, had been looking after the security of the ~~ashes~~ ashes as well as the gold for the last six years, I requested Shri Chettur to ask for cabled instructions from the ~~External~~ External Affairs Ministry to relieve Shri Murti of this onerous responsibility which should no longer be allowed to remain a burden on a private individual. Shri Chettur agreed to contact Delhi immediately.

When I called on him six days later, namely, June 5, he said that he had airmailed a letter to Delhi soon after I saw him on May 30, and had not yet had a reply. In my presence, he dictated a cable to Delhi asking for an urgent reply to his letter. He promised to let me know the moment he heard from Delhi. I did not receive any message from him until the day I left Tokyo, namely, the 11th of June.

That, in ~~my~~ brief, is the position as far as I am aware at this moment. I do not know if Shri Chettur has since heard from Delhi. If nothing has yet been done in the matter, I would even now urge Delhi to instruct Shri Chettur to take over the responsibility for the safety of the ashes and the gold.

I need hardly add that I have sufficient proofs to convince any unbiassed person that the ashes are Netaji's. But, in view of the unfortunate attitude still adopted by Netaji's nephews, Shri Amiya Bose and Arvind Bose, the ashes cannot be brought to India yet; nor would it be prudent to make any announcement for the time being, either.

As for the gold, it might be worth our while to wait till the signing of the Japanese Peace Treaty, which event is expected to take place in September next. Then it might be easier to do something with the gold in Japan itself or to bring it to India. For obvious reasons, we can hardly do anything in this connection as long as the American occupation lasts.

All these facts are very well known to Shri Chettur who, I presume, has already communicated them to Delhi.

As I informed you on May 14, I left my post as Director of Publicity, Government of Bombay, that day and took over my new duties as Regional Officer, Bombay, with the Central Board of Film Censors, Ministry of Information and Broadcasting, Government of India, the next day, that is, June 15. I have been rather busy this last fortnight getting into my stride in the new place; hence the delay in writing this letter.

May I request you to be good enough to communicate ~~the~~ contents of this letter to the proper quarters in Delhi at your earliest convenience? They may contact me direct, if they wish to.

My dear Chettur,

Thank you very much for your d.o.letter No. F.5(25)/51, dated the 22nd June 1951. You must have by now got our telegram and my d.o.letter No.25/4/NGO, dated the 25th June 1951 which I wrote after we received the photostats. I do not quite understand why Ayer did not hand over the treasure to you as previously promised. You might enquire from Ramamurti what happened. If Ayer contacts us on his return here we will also tackle him.

As I told you in my last letter we were anxious to know all about the gold and the treasure and we had asked you to make necessary enquiries. We had in view only some confidential enquiries and we never thought that this might lead to any embarrassment. We will naturally have to reconsider the matter if the enquiry involves a degree of publicity which may prove embarrassing not only to the Mission but also to the Government. Before we can consider the matter further I shall be grateful if you will let us know why you think that the enquiry may be embarrassing.

My dear Chakravarty,

My top secret D.O. letters of the 6th and 11th June 1951 have obviously crossed yours No.D.1859-NGO/51 of the 7th June. →A 8A

2. I now understand that Ayer left by BOAC on the 11th for Calcutta, though I have not been able to verify the earlier report that he had gone to Hokkaido, as subsequent reports indicated that his ostensible visit to this Island was designed with a view to covering his tracks. One such report alleged that he ~~did~~ not in fact visit Hokkaido, but had gone to Sendai, about 300 miles north of Tokyo, to contact an old Japanese colleague who was also closely connected with Ayer and Ramamurti and the Netaji collections. The last I saw him was on the 5th when he called on me to say that he was definitely leaving on the 8th and to enquire whether any instructions had been received from you regarding his proposal to dispose of the Netaji collections in the manner indicated in paragraph 3 of my D.O. of the 29th May. He also handed to me at the time two photostats which must be in your hands by now. As he was very anxious to ascertain your reactions before his departure, I sent you, at his request, a most immediate cable on the 5th and assured him that a reply would be received by the 7th at the latest. That he did not bother to see me again, much less hand over the gold as previously promised, or even make an attempt to find out whether any reply had been received from you to the cable despatched at his instance, has added to ~~my~~ my suspicions regarding the motives behind his holiday visit to this country. His extraordinary statement that he had received a letter from you, entrusting him with two commissions on behalf of the Government of India, is also a point worth investigating.

3. If Government are seriously interested in unravelling the mystery surrounding the disappearance of the Netaji collections, I shall be only too glad to make further investigations in the matter, but it should be understood that such investigations may involve a degree of publicity which might well prove embarrassing not only to the Mission but also to the Government of India.

D.O.No. 25/4/NCO

25th June 1951.

My dear Chettur, <sup>8A</sup>

Will you kindly refer to your Top Secret d.o.letter No.F.5(25)/51, dated the 11th June 1951, which I received on the 18th of June. As I wanted to mention the case to P.M. I had to wait till he returned from his Nepal and Bihar tours.

P.M. has seen your letter and also the photostat copies of the letters you sent me with your d.o.letter No.F.5(25)/51 dated the 6th June 1951. P.M. did not quite understand why you should think that there is a lack of interest evinced by Government in this matter. I had to refer him to Harishwar Dayal's letter to Rama Rau. P.M. thought that that letter was issued without his being informed about it. He was, therefore, particularly anxious that you should take interest in this matter and take possession of the gold and other treasure that may be possible for you to get now. I sent you a telegram on the 23rd June accordingly. <sup>9A</sup>

When I was in Japan I confess I interpreted Harishwar Dayal's letter in the same way as you have done. I did, however, try to ascertain the facts just about the time I was leaving Japan but I could not make much progress. Ramamurti bluntly denied all knowledge of gold and jewellery. Now that P.M. desires that we must take interest in this matter I would request you to make a confidential enquiry and try to ascertain the facts. Every Indian in Japan says that Ramamurti became rich almost overnight and probably there is some truth in their allegations. But I do not know whether you will get any evidence to prove that he had misappropriated the funds.

Please let us know when you get the treasure. Its disposal may be considered later.

Yours sincerely,

My dear Chakravarty,

In continuation of my top secret D.O.No.F.5(25)/51 of the 6th June, I enclose herewith a press cutting from the Nippon Times of yesterday, which speaks for itself. The fact that the author of the article is a leading member on the staff of the important United Press organisation will give you an indication of the degree of interest that has been aroused in local circles, both Indian and American, in Ayer's holiday in Japan. As I mentioned in my earlier letters, I have heard the most scandalous reports about the Ayer-Ramamurti link -- and I have no reason whatsoever to doubt their authenticity -- but in view of the lack of interest evinced by Government in this matter in the past, I have refrained from pursuing it. In any case, I believe you know as much about the case as I do and my comments on the subject might seem superfluous.

2. SCAP clearance for Ayer's two-week holiday was to have expired on the 8th June, but at his request we have had it extended by one week. He called at my office on the 5th to bid me good-bye and to tell me that the BOAC had confirmed his booking and that he was definitely leaving on the morning of the 8th. I understand, however, that he is still in Tokyo, though he has made no attempt to contact me or to apprise me of the reasons which have led to the extension of his stay in Tokyo -- which incidentally has prevented me from passing on ~~the gist of your~~ to him the gist of your cable of the 6th June.

D.O.No. D. 1859-N GMSI.

Ministry of External Affairs,
New Delhi,
7th June 1951.

My dear Chettur,

Your Secret d.o. letter No. 5(25)/51 dated the 21st May and your Top Secret d.o. letter of the same number dated the 29th May both arrived day before yesterday. Soon after, I received your Top Secret telegram No. 46 GS dated the 5th of June. I replied to your telegram yesterday after consulting the Prime Minister.

Ayer's visit to Japan is by no means official or even officially sponsored. Ayer had approached the Deputy Minister through somebody for obtaining the SCAP clearance and a telegram was sent to you under instructions of the Deputy Minister. Ayer was asked to furnish particulars directly to you.

We wondered what the nature of his business was in Japan and we did not know what he was up to. After some consideration we decided not to ask him point-blank what he was going to do in Japan. We suspected that while in Japan he might be doing something about Netaji's ashes. I therefore rang up the Chief Secretary of the Government of Bombay and requested him to tell Ayer that if he visits Japan and if he can find any authentic information about Netaji's ashes he might pass on that information to you and to us. We thought that this would give both you and us some idea as to what he was doing there. A couple of days later I was rung up by the Chief Secretary of the Bombay Government who told me that SCAP clearance had not been received and that unless the clearance came within the next two or three days Ayer could not go as his leave would expire. We explained to him that unless and until the particulars were made available to you the SCAP clearance could not be obtained. As we did not receive any SCAP clearance I thought that Ayer had not been able to go to Japan. I did not therefore think it worthwhile troubling you. Your letter was the first intimation we received of Ayer's presence in Japan. Apparently the SCAP clearance had been communicated to him at Bombay. I am very sorry for this miscalculation as I now find that in trying to save you from some trouble I have unwittingly placed you in a difficult situation.

These are the facts. We certainly had no intention of seeking Ayer's assistance in getting the ashes. There is no truth in the other stories that he has given you. The statement that he had left behind in Bombay a letter which I am supposed to have written to him to avoid its contents being revealed during the journey or in any customs examination and that this precaution was taken at my instance reads too much like a six-penny novel. In fact I have never written to him. When I was in Japan I also heard about Ramamurti misappropriating the funds of the late Indian Independence League as also the personal property of the late Subhas Chandra Bose. Ayer's name was also mixed up with this. I could not, however, get any reliable evidence. Ramamurti in fact denied all knowledge of gold and jewellery. It is therefore interesting to know that Ayer is now able to produce some part of Netaji's collections. The Prime Minister thought that there is no point in refusing to accept the gold if that is made over to you by Ayer for safe custody. It is realised that it may not be possible to bring this gold out of Japan, but that is a matter which can be considered later. Similarly, if he wanted to show you the papers giving details of what was left there is no objection to your receiving these papers and examining them. A telegram was sent to you accordingly. I would request you to let us know in due course whether these papers throw any light on this question.

Yours sincerely,

Shri K.K. Chettur,

TOKYO
21st May 1951.

My dear Chakravarty,

Will you please refer to the Ministry's secret telegram No.25112 dated the 8th May, asking us to obtain SCAP clearance for Mr. S.A.Ayer to visit Japan by the 15th May on a two-week holiday?

2. Apart from the fact that the particulars required under the existing SCAP regulations, of which the Ministry are no doubt fully aware, did not reach us until the 16th May, I was at a loss to understand why we should have been rushed in this fashion, unless of course Government were particularly interested in the visit, which however seemed unlikely as it had been clearly stated in the telegram that he was coming here for a holiday. We have also had a cable from the Passport Officer, Bombay, in this connection. This sudden hurry over what is purported to be a holiday trip and the fact that he is visiting this country as Ramamurti's guest make one wonder if there may not be more in it than meets the eye. As you are no doubt aware, there have been serious allegations against Ramamurti with regard to the misappropriation of the funds of the late Indian Independence League, as also the personal property of the late Subhas Chandra Bose, consisting of considerable quantities of diamonds, jewellery, gold and other valuable articles. Rightly or wrongly, Ayer's name has also been associated with these charges. The matter was referred to the Ministry in Rama Rau's secret D.O. of the 4th December 1947 to which Dayal replied in his D.O. No.D.9593-FEA/47 dated the 30th December 1947. I thought I should bring this point to your notice for whatever it may be worth.

3. I hope you are not seeking Ayer's assistance with regard to the disposal of Netaji Subhas Bose's ashes now lying in a Tokyo temple, as it is most undesirable that he should, in view of the suspicions surrounding him, be associated in any manner with the taking over of these relics.

Yours sincerely,

(K.K.Chettur)
