A Rare Bit of Criminal History--Cross Secures his own Pardon by Forgery.

The finesse and strategy of Monroe Edwards and other noted criminals are matters of police history. The Eastern Penitentiary holds an occupant in the person of Colonel Cross, who has proved himself the Napoleon of his profession—the brightest star in the constellation of forgers and bogus financiers who have figured in the history of crime.

The President of the New York and Erie Railroad receives a salary of $25,000 a year, a sum equal to that paid to the President of the United States. Other equally brilliant financiers have been paid in proportion; yet we doubt if any man in existence ever possessed greater capacity for extensive operations than Colonel Cross, an inmate of the Eastern penitentiary, who was sentenced eighteen months ago to five years incarceration for the crime of forgery, after running the gauntlet of the Courts in the principal cities of Europe and America.

Of Col. Cross' exploits the tenth part has not been told. It was he who forged a pardon for the forger, H. H. Hinton, by which that distinguished culprit almost escaped from Sing Sing prison, and but for the hesitancy of the Warden, would have been let loose upon the community. Captured himself at last, and immured in Auburn (N. Y.) State prison. Col. Cross forged documents by which a genuine pardon was obtained, and his liberation secured before the fraud was detected and his person detained in custody.

The history of this illustrious culprit is too well known to be here repeated, so far as his career in the East is concerned. Suffice it to say, that Marshal Millard received an envelope from the War Department. The envelope bore the frank of Secretary Stanton, and was postmarked Washington. The inclosure was a letter from Watson, Assistant Secretary of War, directing the Marshal personally to draw up a petition to the Governor asking for the pardon of Col. Cross. He was to take the petition to the various United States officials for signature, and having obtained the pardon, to bring Col. Cross to Washington, where his services were required by the Government.

The document was to the eyes of the Marshal unmistakably genuine. The Sheriff would have hung any prisoner in his charge upon a similar warrant, and the Warden of the Penitentiary upon the like authority would have opened the doors of his "boarders' house," and turned all hands loose. The Marshal, of course, obeyed instructions. He drew up the petition, and District Attorney Coffey, the Collector of the port, and all the United States officials, except the Postmaster, who was not in the city, affixed their signatures to it without the least hesitation, after first reading the letter from the War Department.

Marshal Millard took the documents to Harrisburg, and returned by next train with a full pardon. He took a carriage direct for the Penitentiary, and presented the pardon to the Warden. The genuineness of this document being beyond peradventure, Col. Cross was delivered up. The tidings were conveyed to him in his cell, much to his apparent astonishment, and with a bag over his head, he was brought out to the Warden's office. Here he was dressed in the clothing in which he entered the prison, his striped livery was taken off, and in company with the Marshal and a deputy he was driven to the Baltimore depot. The Marshal still "froze" to him, the instructions being to bring him to Secretary Stanton.

The trip to Washington was made without mishap, and the Marshal, his assistant and Col. Cross drove up to the Secretary's office. They alighted and entered. The Marshal asked for Mr. Stanton, and was shown into his room. Hand-shaking all around until Colonel Cross was reached.

"Mr. Secretary," said the Marshal, "this is Col. Cross whom you have sent for."

"Glad to see Col. Cross; how do you do, sir?" said the affable Secretary, shaking Col. Cross' hand; "but I can't remember sending for you, sir."

"This," said the Marshal, "is Colonel Cross, whom I brought down by your orders from the Eastern Penitentiary at Philadelphia."

"Sir?" exclaimed the Secretary, in utter surprise.

"Col. Cross, sir, I said, pardoned by Gov. Curtin from the Eastern Penitentiary, at your desire, and brought here by me at your request."

Secretary Stanton looked puzzled and rubbed his temples.

"The authority by which I have acted," said the Marshal, "is this," placing in Secretary Stanton's hand the letter from Watson, bearing his own frank.

Stanton took the envelope with a bewildered air. It was a genuine War Department envelope. The frank was identical with his own. The inclosure was an order, written upon the paper used in the War Office, with the imprint of the Department in the manifest hand writing of Watson, Assistant Secretary, to the purpose as above narrated.

The Secretary declared his entire ignorance of the matter, and touched his bell. A messenger responded. The messenger was sent for Watson. Watson entered. Secretary Stanton handed Watson the envelope, and requested to know what it all meant.

Watson opened the letter, looked at it, and was astonished.

"This is my writing," said he at first; "when did I write it? What does it mean?"

He read the signature, which he scanned closely. All doubts were removed. The crossing of the "t" betrayed the fraud.

"This is not my writing," said Watson; "it is a forgery, and the most wonderful one I have ever seen."

"You are sure?" said the Secretary.

"Can it be possible?" echoed the astonished Marshal.

"It is—a forgery—pure and simple."

Here was a scene, at the end of which an inquiry arose what was to be done with Col. Cross.

The Marshal settled the matter by directing Col. Cross to come again to the carriage, to be taken to Philadelphia.

Col. Cross put on the indignant, and demanded by what right he was taken back.

"By my authority," said the Marshal, "because your pardon was procured by forged papers."

"Then, sir, you are transcending your powers," said Cross. "My pardon is a genuine one, at any rate, and you have no right to go behind it."

"Take him back," said Secretary Stanton.

"By what law?" demanded Cross, to whom the air of liberty had gained an additional sweetness from the few moments he had enjoyed it.

"By military law," replied the Secretary, and the redoubtable Colonel was again placed in the carriage. He was brought back to his old quarters, and the Governor revoked his pardon.

Here is the dilemma. It is not yet certain that a pardon can be revoked by its author, and on this point grows an interesting question. If it cannot be revoked, the Government will take charge of the Colonel and send him to Fort Lafayette. In any case he will serve out his five years imprisonment, of which only about eighteen months have expired. Gaining the information at an hour so late that authorities could not be consulted, the reporter was unable to furnish any information upon this point. Suffice it to repeat that Col. Cross was returned to the penitentiary.

SLEEP WALKING.—A case is related of an English clergyman who used to get up in the night, light his candle, write sermons, correct them with interlineations and retire to bed again, being all the time asleep. The Archbishop of Bordeaux mentions a similar case of a student, who got up to compose a sermon while asleep, wrote it correctly, read it from one end to the other, or at least appeared to read it, made corrections on it, scratched out lines and substituted others, put in its place a word which had been omitted, composed music, wrote it accurately down and performed other things equally surprising. Dr. Gall notices a miller, who was in the habit of getting up every night and attending to his usual avocations at the mill, and then returning to bed. On awaking in the morning he recollected nothing of what passed during the night. Martinet speaks of a saddler who was accustomed to rise in his sleep and work at his trade; and Dr. Pritchard, of a farmer who got out of bed, dressed himself, saddled his horse, and rode to market, being all the time asleep. Dr. Blacklock, on one occasion, rose from bed, to which he had retired at an early hour, came into the room where his family was assembled, conversed with them, and afterwards entertained them with a pleasant song, without any of them suspecting that he was asleep, and without his retaining, after he awoke, the least recollection of what he had done. It is a singular, but well authenticated fact that in the disastrous retreat of Sir John Moore, many of the soldiers fell asleep, yet continued to march along with their comrades.

An Irish lawyer once addressed the court as 'gentlemen,' instead of 'your honors.' After he had concluded, a brother lawyer reminded him of his error. He immediately arose to apologize thus: "May it please the court, in the heat of debate I called your honors gentlemen. I made a mistake, yer honors." The gentleman sat down, and the court was no doubt satisfied.

THE unkindest cut of all—dealing a fellow no trump cards at whist.

QUIT not certainty for hope.

The Tax Bill.

Since the report of the tax bill published was given to the public, several new amendments have been made to it, as follows:

For kissing a pretty girl, $1.

For kissing a homely one, $1 50—the extra amount being added probably as a punishment for the man's folly.

For ladies kissing one another, $10—the tax is placed at this rate in order to break up the custom altogether. It being regarded by our M. C.'s as a piece of inexcusable absurdity.

For every flirtation, 10 cents.

Every young man who has more than one "girl" is taxed $5.

For courting in the kitchen, 15 cents.

Courting in the sitting room, 50 cents.

Courting in the parlor, $1.

Courting in a romantic place, $5, and 50 cents for each offense thereafter.

Seeing a lady home from church, 25 cents for each offense.

Seeing her home from the dime society, 5 cents—the proceeds to be appropriated to the relief of army chaplains.

From a lady who paints, 50 cents.

For wearing low decked dresses, $100.

For each curl in a lady's head above ten, 5 cents.

For every unfair offense for entrapping young men into the sins of matrimony, $5.

For wearing hoops larger than ten feet in circumference, 8 cents for each hoop. Old Bach's over thirty are taxed $10.

Over forty, $20.

Over fifty, $50, and sentenced to banishment in Utah.

Each pretty lady is to be taxed from 25 cents to $25, she is to fix the estimate on her own beauty. It is thought that a very large amount will be realized from this provision.

Each boy baby, 50 cents.

Each girl baby, 10.

Families having more than eight babies are not to be taxed.

THE COST OF A SIEGE.—The siege of Sebastopol commenced in October, 1854, and ended by the reduction of the south side of the city in September, 1855—11 months. The French started with 60 pieces of cannon—supposing these to be sufficient. The allies employed 2,587 for which were served 2,381,942 shot and shells, and 11,484,804 pounds of powder, exclusive of what was used by the fleet on the day on which it assisted in the bombardment. The fleet mounted 2,156 guns, half of which were brought to bear on the fortifications Alexander and Constantine, and the quareline and cliff batteries, mounting 261 guns, 200 of which were brought to bear on the squadron. The bombardment lasted 5 1/2 hours, and 968,680 shots and shells were used. For the infantry of the French army there were provided 61,606,899 musket cartridges. The artillery constructed 118 batteries, requiring 800,000 sand bags; 50,000 gabions. The engineer department constructed 69 1/2 miles of entrenchments, requiring 80,000 gabions, 60,000 fascines, and nearly 1,000,000 sand-bags, besides 1,251 metres of mining galleries, some of which were 50 feet below the surface. The French transported to the Crimea, 309,268 men and 41,974 horses and mules; of the men they lost 69,229 by sickness and casualties. The reader can make his own calculations as to the number and tonnage of vessels it would require to transport the men, horses, guns, etc.—Ex.

THE TOBACCO QUESTION.—The same anxiety which the American war inspires in Europe on the supply of cotton extends also to the supply of tobacco. We extract from the Opinion Nationale, the following:

England purchases from the United States about 50,000 hhd., on which she imposes a duty of $5,000,000; and France buys about 20,000 hhd., from which she obtains a revenue of more than $4,000,000.

An important deficit in the supply of tobacco would create grave embarrassments for all the governments of Europe, but above all to the English, French and Dutch. It is to be feared this deficit will be alarmingly large this year. An inexorable fatality seems to follow tobacco at the present moment. For two consecutive years the crop has almost entirely failed in Brazil, and in Cuba the plant has become diseased, greatly reducing the crop. At no time has Europe been so much in need of tobacco of the United States, and they have not enough for their own consumption. The question of tobacco, then, is the order of the day, and requires a solution no less pressing than the cotton question.

A BOY in the West, when called to recite his lesson in history, was asked: "What is the German Diet?" "Sour kroust, schnapps and sausages."

TEARS at a wedding are only the commencement of the pickle that the young folks are getting into.

A Woman who never Gossips.

Oh! no, I never gossip! I have enough to do to take care of my business without talking about the affairs of others. Why, there's Mrs. Crocker—she deals in scandal by the wholesale. It does seem to me as though that woman's tongue must be almost worn out, but no, there's no danger of that. If everybody was like me, there wouldn't be much trouble in the world. But did you know that Miss Elliot had got a new silk dress? You didn't?—well, she has. It's a real brocade; I say it myself. I do say it it's shameful for her to be so extravagant. I mean to give her a piece of my mind. You believe her uncle gave it to her? Well, I don't care if he did. Why, it's only two months since her father failed, and now, to see her dash out in this style, it's a burning shame. I suppose she thinks she's going to catch young lawyer Stantope; but I guess she'll find herself mistaken. He's got more sense than to be caught by her, if she has got a brocade silk dress. And there's that upstart dress maker, Kate Manly, setting her cap for the doctor's son. The impertinence of some people is perfectly astonishing. I don't think she's any better than she ought to be, for my own part. I never did like her, with her mild soft look, when one's around. My word for it, she can look cross enough when there ain't. Then she says she's only seventeen! Goodness knows she's as old as my Arabella Lucretia; and she's—well, I won't say how old, but she's more'n seventeen, and I ain't ashamed to say so, either; but I guess Dr. May's son will have more discretion than to think of marrying her. Some folks call her handsome! Well, I don't. She ain't half so good looking as my daughter Jane. Then the way she does up her hair in such fly away curls; and, if you believe it, she actually had the impudence to tell me that she could not make her hair as straight as my Maria Jane's. Impertinence! If she'd let curling papers and irons alone, I'd risk but what her hair would be as straight as anybody's. But what do you think of the minister's wife? You like her! Well, all I can say is you've got a very peculiar taste. Why, she's a proud as Lucifer, been married a whole week, and hasn't been to see me yet. You presume she hasn't had time? I don't see what the minister wanted to go out of town to get a wife for, any way; and then, above all things, to get that little girlish-looking thing. Why didn't he take one of his parishioners? There's my Arabella Lucretia would have made him a better wife than he's got now. Then she's just about the right age for him. What do you say? Arabella, Jane is two years older than the minister? I should think it was a pity if I didn't know my own daughter's age, Mrs. Smith? If some folks would mind their own business, as I do, I'd thank them!

IN Minnesota, an Irishman by the name of O'Conner, was killed by one of the same persuasion, named Cochran, and on his dead body sat a jury of six men, half a dozen of whom were Irish, who rendered the following verdict, the original copy of which, as a specimen of chirography, orthography, etymology, syntax and prosody, never has been beaten, even in Minnesota. Here it is, all but the spelling, which we have not types to print:

"That Martin O'Conner, here lying dead, came to his death by shot from a gun, which caused the blood to rush in torrents from his body, so that it was impossible for him to live until we could hold an inquest."

THERE is a man out West, by the name of John Hole, who is so lazy that in writing his name he merely makes a J., and then punches a hole through the paper.

A YOUNG lady asks if we can throw any light upon kissing. We don't want to—the thing is done just as well in the dark.

IN most modern criticisms, mediocrity or stupidity fancies itself sitting cross-legged on the body of genius.

WHEN Government is afflicted, the political doctors generally apply leeches to its chest.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.—On Monday next the Board of Supervisors will meet at Woodland.

FAVORS.—We are under obligations to E. Giddings, County Clerk, and Sam. Ruland, Deputy Clerk, for favors.

STAGE LINE.—John O'Keefe has commenced running his stage regular three times a week, from this place to Sacramento via Cacheville and Woodland.

DEMOCRATIC.—The Woodland Precinct Delegates to the Democratic Convention to be held to-day, are John Kelly, James Moore, C. Campbell, J. W. Chiles, J. Clanton, and Walter S. Huston.

SECOND VOLUME.—We are under obligations to H. H. Bancroft & Co., of San Francisco, Publishers, for the 2nd Volume of a Digest of the decisions of the Supreme Court, of the State of California, contained in the sixteen volumes of Reports, from 1850 to 1861, by Henry J. Labatt.

ROBBERY.—We learn that a watch was stolen from the house of John Berry, about three miles west of this place on the Colusa road, Tuesday afternoon last, while the family were absent attending the funeral of Calvin Miller. It is supposed to have been taken by two strangers traveling on foot, who were seen near there about the time of the theft. We have not heard of the recovery of the property, or the detection of the thieves.

GRAIN MARKET.—The Bulletin says: The arrivals of new Wheat fall far short of the demand, prices in consequence are a trifle better; choice samples would command $1 55. The same remarks will apply to new Barley, which would to-day command $1 12 1/2 @ 1 15; sales of old to the extent of 1,000 sacks, part for distillation, at $1 20. Flour, fresh ground Alviso Mills, is selling to-day at $7 25 per bbl.

GREAT CHANGES.—The District Court will commence with a new Judge, Judicial District, and County Seat. The last District Court was held by the Hon. B. F. Myers, Judge, in the Eleventh Judicial District, and at the County seat, Washington. The next will be held by Hon. J. H. McKune, Judge, in the Sixth Judicial District, and at Woodland, now the present County seat. In the above notice we should like to fill out the ticket by adding the name of a new District Attorney.

The Bridges on Cache Creek.

Some two months ago the Board of Supervisors appropriated $4,500, to build two bridges across Cache Creek; before this appropriation was made, strife ran high, and the contest was very warm between the two opposing points, each contending for a bridge at their point; but since the Supervisors disappointed both sides, by appropriating money for both sides—there the matter rests. We hear no more about the great need of a bridge across Cache Creek, and from all appearances, this difference will last until the rainy season sets in, and the floods come, then every one will want a bridge, and every one blame some other person rather than himself, that it was not built when it should have been. We would impress upon the friends of the lower bridge, the necessity of stirring themselves in this matter. We have only three months more of dry weather to rely on, and it is time the thing was started. There is not a decent crossing on Cache Creek to-day for loaded teams, and the people of Knight's Landing do not know the amount of trade they are losing, and the quantity of Wheat which diverges to other points, simply because it is almost impossible for a loaded team to cross through the deep sands in the bed of this stream, and there is evidently as much need of a bridge in the Summer season as the Winter. Then let those interested, bestir themselves; for if we won't work for our own interests, we may depend no one will work for us.

Political.

The Democratic County Convention meet to-day at Woodland to nominate a County Judge and Assemblyman; and from all indications, there will be a full attendance. We see a good deal of interest taken in the matter, and the confidence felt in the party, in its success, is greater than could be expected, considering their defeat last fall. In this connection we would offer a word of advice to our Democratic friends, which is: Not to be in too big a hurry in bringing out your candidates; let the other party or parties make their nominations. The Republicans, or Union party, will have candidates. The probability is, the Douglass Democracy will also make nominations, and in the event of the latter party bringing forward men of sound democratic principles, it might be impolitic to run a straight Democratic ticket. On the other hand, should things take some other course, then let the party come up, make strict nominations, and run on the principles; but, at all events, there is no harm in waiting. Let the fusionists fuse, lay back, and see the winning process go on, the wheat is fast separating from the chaff, and when political matters are in a better shape than at present, you can act advisedly.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY MEETING.—At 2 o'clock P. M., on Saturday, 26th inst., a meeting of Democrats was held at the School House in this place, in accordance with previous notice, to elect five Delegates to the Democratic County Convention, to assemble at Woodland on Saturday, Aug. 2nd, when On motion, H. Gwinn, Esqr., was called to the chair, who briefly stated the object of the meeting, and asked that a Secretary be elected. J. W. Baldwin was put in nomination, and declared unanimously elected.

It was moved and carried, that the meeting now proceed to elect, by ballot, five delegates to the County Convention; whereupon H. Gwinn, I. S. Jamison, J. W. Baldwin, Jno. D. Reid and Thomas D. Kirk, were declared duly elected said delegates.

It was then moved and carried, that should a vacancy occur in the delegation the remaining delegates be empowered to cast the entire vote of the precinct.

The meeting then adjourned. H. GWINN, Chairman. J. W. BALDWIN, Secretary.

THE NEXT STATE SENATE.—Twenty-two Senators this year hold over, and eighteen have to be elected. The hold-overs who were elected on the Union Democratic ticket last fall are Shurtliff, Doll, Lewis, Burnell, Pacheco and Quint—6. Those who were chosen on the McConnel ticket are Baker, Bortz, Holden and Vineyard—4. The Republican Union hold-overs are Oulton, Van Dyke, Gastell, Powers, Nixon, Chamberlain, Crane, Perkins, Hathaway, Porter, Hariman and Kutz—12. It will thus be seen that the Union Republicans will only have to elect nine of their nominees to secure the control of the Senate and the Senatorial question, while the Union Democrats will to push eleven of their men through to prevent that result. Senators have to be elected in the following counties: Calaveras and Amador 1, Tuolumne and Mono 1, Mariposa 1, Contra Costa 1, Nevada 1, Santa Clara 1, Sonoma 1, Sacramento 1, San Francisco 3, El Dorado 2, Placer 1, Sierra 1, Butte and Plumas 1, Yuba and Sutter 2—18.—Herald and Mirror.

In referring to the contract for building an iron-clad gunboat for the defense of the harbor of San Francisco, the Washington correspondent of the Bulletin says:

A contract has been made with Peter Donahue of San Francisco, and Secor of New York (who built your sectional floating dock) for the immediate construction in California of an iron gunboat, or floating battery of the Monitor pattern, but of larger size—similar, in fact, to the large one now building by Secor in New York. The price paid, I understand, is about $540,000, and the work to be completed in six months. Ryan, formerly State Senator from Humboldt, is understood to be interested in the contract, which was obtained by the influence of Senators Latham and McDougall.

We congratulate the good people of Woodland, Yolo Co., upon the accession to their pleasant society, of Dr. J. L. Downing and family, who recently removed there from Stockton, to make his home there; and we bespeak for him and his a cordial welcome from every good citizen. The Doctor as a Christian is devoted and true, as a man, upright and honest, ever ready to assist his fellow man when in want, as a husband and father, kind and affectionate, as a Physician and Surgeon both eminent and skillful. And last but not least, as a Temperance man, he is uncompromising in principle and ever zealous in the great cause.—U. T. Journal.

BY OVERLAND TELEGRAPH.

The following dispatches are from the Sacramento Union of July 30th:

WASHINGTON, July 26.—The President has issued a brief proclamation, warning all persons within the contemplation of the sixth section of the Confiscation Act, to cease participating in, aiding, countenancing or abetting the rebellion, and to return to their proper allegiance to the United States, on pain of seizure and forfeiture, as within and by the said section provided.

The sixth section of the Confiscation Act, to which President Lincoln's proclamation refers, includes all persons within any State or Territory engaged in armed rebellion against the Government, or aiding and abetting such rebellion, except the President, Cabinet Officers, members of Congress and army and navy officers of the Confederacy. In their case the law goes into immediate effect.

Official documents necessary to consummate the recently arranged agreement for a general exchange of prisoners have been forwarded to Gen. Dix.

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.—A number of wounded who have just arrived from Richmond, say they were well treated while there. The troops from Mississippi and Georgia were especially kind in their treatment of prisoners. United States Treasury Notes were eagerly taken by the rebels. Baltimore notes were also taken, but looked on with suspicion.

LITTLE WASHINGTON, Va., July 26. Gen. Hatch crossed Swift Run Gap to McGaugheystown, and went thence to Luray, which is now occupied by our troops. He saw no enemy in force. Jackson's force is represented to be in the vicinity of Gordonsville, apparently awaiting our advance.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Chaplain O. Hagan, of the Excelsior Brigade, has reached Harrison Landing, from Richmond. He says two iron clads are being built at Richmond, similar to the Merrimac, and that great unanimity exists among the rebels. Jackson and Lee were extremely popular. Magruder has been shelved. Beauregard is fast losing caste. The rebels have lately received a large quantity of boots and shoes from England.

The Times' correspondence of the 25th from the Army of the Potomac says:

Nothing will be done till we are fully reinforced. The need of reinforcements is pressing. The correspondence from Bank's division states that a forward movement is impeded by a flood in Hedge-man river, a tributary of the Rappahannock. Sigel's corps is six miles from Little Washington.

A dispatch dated Headquarters of the Army of the Potomac, July 25th, says: A schooner containing 4,000 bushels of condemned corn, anchored in the river, was boarded by the rebels and the captain taken prisoner. Gen. Halleck, Dix, Meigs and Burnside left here this morning.

The Herald's Washington correspondent says: There is constant intercourse between the rebels of Accomac and Northampton counties on the Eastern shore of the lower Chesapeake Bay, and those of the western shore. They cross the bay in canoes, from the vicinity of Bungat-inge, on the eastern side to a point between Punatunk and Majock rivers, in the night, returning in the morning early, carrying newspapers and everything portable. This matter has been frequently reported to the army officers, but no one takes the trouble to set a watch and catch them.

NASHVILLE, July 26.—The Tenth Ohio Regiment, guarding the Memphis and Charleston road between Decatur and Courtland, are reported to have been attacked yesterday by a large guerrilla force. Thirty or forty are said to have been killed. The road was considerably damaged, but not so as to cut off communication. A large rebel force is reported to be near Tusculumbia. Colonel Forest is also reported at Carthage, Tenn., with the object, it is supposed, of making a descent on Louisville.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—A reconnaissance in force by three regiments of infantry and two battalions of cavalry with a battery of artillery, under Gen. King, left Fredericksburg and marched in the direction of Gordonsville on Friday and returned last night. They advanced nearly to Orange Court House, and within ten miles of Gordonsville. Orange was occupied by a much superior force of the enemy. Having ascertained this fact the Federal force retired and was hotly pursued by a large rebel force of cavalry which attacked the rear guard several times but was repulsed in every instance with loss. We hear of no loss on our side.

The late order of Gen. Pope requiring residents within his lines to take the oath of allegiance or emigrate, is already bearing fruit. Thirty leading rebels of Fredericksburg have gone to Richmond with their families; others are preparing to follow. The rebels here speak confidently of the capture of Washington within a week by Jackson.

MEMPHIS, July 26.—The Commanding General has issued an order prohibiting speculation and paying specie for produce in rebel States, when Treasury notes are refused. Parties refusing the notes will be arrested, and such of their crops as are not needed for the subsistence of their families, will be seized and sold by the nearest Quartermaster. Speculators paying out specie in violation of this order will be arrested and sent north, and property so purchased will be seized for the benefit of the Government.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Com. Porter of the mortar flotilla, arrived this morning via Ft. Monroe—a fact which is considered significant of movements of importance.

The Navy Department has learned that the blockading fleet recently captured the Tubal Cain, a large iron clad steamer off Charleston, while attempting to run the blockade. She was heavily laden with arms and ammunition.

FR. MONROE, July 26.—We are credibly informed that a large rebel force is being concentrated on the line of the James river, above the junction of the Appomattox and James rivers. They came down from Richmond by the Petersburg and Richmond. It is believed that they already number from 50,000 to 60,000, and that Jackson is in command of them, notwithstanding the rumor that he is in pursuit of Pope. Our informant is very confident that the rebels are now making a bold stand at the above named place, and bringing all the forces there can spare from Richmond. He believes that it is the intention of the rebels to very soon make an attack on Suffolk, as they are within ten miles of that place with a considerable force.

The night before last a company of rebel cavalry came down on Gloucester Point, opposite Yorktown, and seized and carried off a lot of contrabands who had gathered there. They also forced into the rebel army all the males that could be found there capable of bearing arms, and then set fire to the ship timber and left. The rebel cavalry are almost daily prowling about in that region, seeking plunder of any kind, and pressing into the service all men they can find, who they think may be of any service to them. Similar depredations are being committed in the vicinity of Williamsburg, whether by guerrillas or regulars of the rebel army, it is hard to determine as they often go clothed alike. In their masked characters they commit many depredations, telling civilians they have authority for their acts, being regular Confederate cavalry.

A rebel mail carrier was arrested yesterday. Two thousand letters were found in his possessions for persons in Richmond.

The steamship Massachusetts, from Port Royal, has arrived. She reports all quiet on the South Carolina and Georgia coasts.

CAIRO, July 28.—A skirmish is reported to have taken place at Holver, Tenn., yesterday between the Federal troops stationed there and a party of rebels. No particulars have been received. It is also reported that the Federals evacuated Grand Junction, and the rebels occupied the place. It is stated that they now hold almost all the Memphis and Charleston Railroad between Memphis and Corinth. Guerrillas are getting very busy between here and Memphis. The Mississippi river steamers are almost daily fired into.

Reliable authority states that the rebels have taken possession of Humboldt, Tenn., and now hold the Mobile and Ohio Railroad at that place. They have torn up the track for a distance of 10 or 12 miles.

MEMPHIS, July 26.—Communication with the North is very irregular in consequence of all the steamboats having been pressed into service for the use of Gen. Curtis' army. Orders have been issued opening Memphis to trade with the surrounding country, under certain restrictions. Persons will have free intercourse without papers or any hindrance, except search when an officer judges proper. Persons endeavoring to leave or enter the city, except by the roads specified in the order, will be arrested and imprisoned.

CAPE RACE, July 26.—The Edinburg from Liverpool, passed here on Saturday evening.

The Times publishes a letter from Mr. Spencer, of Liverpool, in which he eulogizes the energy and power of the Southern Confederacy in maintaining and organizing armies, and says there is but one source of such strength, namely, the sense of right.

The Times again pitches into the American tariff, and points out the prospective injury to England, but says that will be nothing to what America herself will suffer. It asks—"What have the people of England done that they are made objects of this shortsighted hostility?"

A 125,000 bales of cotton, it is reported, have been shipped in one day from Bombay, India, for Liverpool.

CARIBOO.—A number of Englishmen, who arrived by the last steamer with the intention of going up to Cariboo, where standing in front of a hotel yesterday, smoking their short pipes and discussing the latest news from the hyperborean regions, when one of them exclaimed: "Blast me bloody heyes, lads, but hi think we har sold!" This is the conclusion that nearly all the newly arrived come to, and many of them go directly to our own mines, or return, if able, to their old homes, in disgust with their countrymen who got up the sell.—S. F. Herald.

GEN. PRENTISS, and fifty other Federal officers taken at Shiloh, have been removed to Atlanta, Ga.

The Personal Liberty Bill has been repealed in Wisconsin by the Legislature of that State.

Beauregard to Halleck.

A Mobile paper publishes the following curious letter from General Beauregard:

HEADQUARTERS WESTERN DEPARTMENT,
June 17, 1862.

Gentlemen: My attention has just been called to the following dispatch (published in your issue of yesterday) of Major General Halleck, commanding the enemy's forces, which, coming from such a source, is most remarkable in one respect—that it contains as many misrepresentations as lines:

HALLECK'S HEADQUARTERS,
June 4, 1862.

To the Hon. E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War: General Pope, with 40,000 men is thirty miles south of Corinth, pushing the enemy hard. He already reports 10,000 prisoners and deserters from the enemy and 15,000 stand of arms captured. Thousands of the enemy are throwing away their arms. A farmer says that when Beauregard learned that Colonel Elliott had cut the railroad on his line of retreat, he became frantic, and told his men to save themselves the best way they could.

We have captured nine locomotives and a number of cars. One of the former is already repaired and is running to day. Several more will be in running order in two or three days.

The result is all I could possibly desire.
H. W. HALLECK,
Major General commanding.

General Pope did not "push hard" upon me with 40,000 men thirty miles from Corinth, on the 4th inst., for my troops occupied a defensive line in the rear of "Twenty Mile Creek," less than twenty-five miles from Corinth, until the 8th inst., when the want of good water induced me to retire at my leisure to a better position. Moreover, if General Pope had attempted, at any time during the retreat from Corinth, to "push hard" upon me, I would have given him such a lesson as would have checked his ardor; but he was careful to advance on after my troops had retired from each successive position.

The retreat was conducted with great order and precision, doing much credit to the officers and men under my orders, and must be looked upon in every respect by the country as equivalent to a brilliant victory.

Gen. Pope must certainly have dreamed of having taken 10,000 prisoners and 15,000 stand of arms, for we positively never lost them. About one hundred or two hundred stragglers would probably cover all the prisoners he took, and about five hundred damaged muskets all the arms he got. These belonged to a convalescent camp, four miles south of Corinth, evacuated during the night, and were overlooked on account of the darkness. The actual number of prisoners taken during the retreat was about equal on both sides, and they were but few.

Major General Halleck must be a very credulous man indeed to believe the absurd story of "that farmer." He ought to know that the turning of two or more cars on a railroad is not sufficient to make "Beauregard frantic," and ridiculous, especially when I expected every moment to hear of the capture of his marauding party, whose departure from Farmington had been communicated to me the day before, and I had given in consequence all necessary orders; but a part of my forces passed Boonville an hour before the arrival of Colonel Elliott's command, and the other part arrived just in time to drive it away and liberate the convalescents captured; unfortunately, however, not in time to save four of the sick, who were barbarously consumed in the station house. Let Colonel Elliott's name descend to infamy as the author of such a revolting deed. General Halleck did not capture nine locomotives. It was only by the accidental destruction of a bridge before some trains had passed that he got seven engines in a damaged condition, the cars having been burned by my orders.

It is indeed lamentable to see how little our enemies respect truth and justice when speaking of their military operations, especially when, through inability or over confidence, they meet with deserved failure.

If the result be "all he desired," it can be said he is easily satisfied; it remains to be seen whether his Government and people will be of the like opinion.

I attest that all we lost at Corinth and during the retreat would not amount to one day's expenses of his army.
Respectfully, your obedient servant,
G. T. BEAUREGARD.

ELECTION PROCLAMATION.—The Governor's proclamation for the election of September 3d, has been filed in the office of the Secretary of State. It provides for the election of Superintendent of Public Instruction, for and against the proposed amendments of the Constitution, for the election of District Judges, County Judges, State Senators and members of Assembly.—Union.

THREE different attempts were made in Yreka on Wednesday morning, July 23d, to fire three buildings. A school house, a barn, and the Methodist church were the objects of the incendiary attempts.

ON HAND.—At the close of business on Saturday last there was in the State Treasury $148,557 28.

BULLION.—There is scarcely a day but what Wells, Fargo & Co. ship from this city as much bullion as the stages can carry, which is about 1,600 pounds, valued at about an average of $60,000. They are constantly in receipt of more bullion than they have capacity for shipping, and usually they have from 500 to 1,200 pounds over each day.—Silver Age.

BUCKEYE MOWER.

Farmers Buy the Best Machine!!!
THE Buckeye has proved itself to be the best Mower, and

MOWER & REAPER COMBINED,
That has ever yet been brought into use. It has the following advantages over other Machines:

It has two driving wheels which support the whole weight of the frame, gearing, driver and raker.

It has a double hinged finger-bar, belonging exclusively to the Buckeye Mower, which conforms to all varieties of surface, and can be easily raised to pass obstructions.

It has no cog gearing in the driving wheels—it is entirely free from side draft—the draft is lighter than ordinary ploughing.

As a REAPER, it has all the advantages of the Mower. The Reed is attached with a flexible joint, which allows it to follow all the movements of the Platform on uneven ground. The platform is readily adjusted to any required height of cut. The weight of the Raker is directly over the axle of the machine instead of being carried on the Platform, where it adds greatly to the side draft. It has many other Improvements over the old style Mower and Reapers.

WE HAVE ALSO THE CELEBRATED IMPROVED
Easterly Mower and Reaper; the Kentucky Harvester, a Combined
Reaper and Mower.

The
KETCHUM MOWER AND REAPER.

Lines on the Death of Lovilla Mize.

BY HER TEACHER.

There is in this house a vacant seat,
Once filled by one so kind and sweet,
That her sister Angels oft did say
That she was too good on earth to stay,
So they have come and took her home,
To dwell with God upon His throne.

Her form was cast in beauteous mold—
Straight, tall and slim, with hair of gold;
Her cheeks were of the roses hue,
And in her eyes shone Heaven's blue.
O, she was lovely, kind and mild,
A perfect lady, yet a child.

She was foremost in her class at school,
And never found breaking any rule;
She studied hard from day to day,
And was ever ready to obey
Her teacher and her parents' care,
Who never more shall meet her here.

All those who knew her, did agree
That there ne'er lived one more kind than she.
To her playmate a Heavenly guide,
Often have I heard her chide.
With kind, persuasive, angelic words,
Some cruel boys for torturing birds.

I know it grieves her parents sore,
To view her on this earth no more;
But let them remember that ere long,
They, too, must leave this worldly throng.
Let them from vice and folly still remain,
Then soon they'll meet with her again.

In a land prepared for all God's guests—
A land of glory, joy, happiness and rest;
Where sin and sorrow, woes and pain,
Can never part their hearts again.
So prepare to meet her in that time,
Where you with her may ever shine.

When I saw her die, or go to sleep,
O with what anguish my heart 'd weep;
When I saw the Doctor close her eyes,
I prayed to God that I might rise
And live in Heaven with Lovilla Mize.

Kind reader, I pray you ever try
To do as you would be done by,
That you may enjoy the promised land,
Prepared by God on His right hand,
The brightest Angel that there will meet your eyes,
Will prove to be dear Lovilla Mize.

g. g. g. s., True Britton. Dam by Gray Hambletonian, he by Bis ops Hambletonian, by Imp. Messenger, by Engineer, by Sampson. The dam of Gray Hambletonian was of pure Messenger blood, and imported from England by Dr. Hamblin of Boston. Imp.
Messenger's dam was by Turf, grand dam by Regulus, out of a sister of Figurette, by Sterling out of the Fox Mare, the dam of Snap.

HAIR RESTORATIVE,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS original color. It prevents the hair from falling off. It cures baldness and removes all dandruff from the head. It allays all irritation of the scalp. It cools and refreshes the head, and imparts to the hair a healthy, lively appearance.

P. S.—The properties which remove dandruff and scrub from the head, allay irritation and free the scalp from humors, render this article invaluable as a lotion for all cutaneous affections, such as Itch, Rash, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Chilblains, Ringworms, bites and stings of insects, shingles, and all eruptions of the skin, especially that caused by Poison Oak.

The DINING ROOM is spacious, and is well calculated to accommodate any number of guests.

The BAR-ROOM is also large, and will at all times be supplied with the choicest brands of WINES and LIQUORS that can be procured in the San Francisco market.

The proprietor has spared neither trouble nor expense in fitting up this Hotel in all its essential appointments, to make it the best Hotel north of Sacramento.

Mr. Campbell hopes by strict attention to business, and a desire on his part to please his patrons, to receive a share of the public patronage. W. CAMPBELL.

Reapers and Mowers,

Improved for the harvest of 1862:

Burt's Eagle Combined Machine; New York
do.; McCormick's do.; Heath's Eagle do;
Kentucky Harvesting Machine;
Haines' (Illinois) do.; Ball's
Ohio Reaper and Mower;
Manny's Improved Machine.

Esterly's Improved Machine; Rugg's Combined machine; Vermont mowing machine; Buckeye do.; Bay State
do.; Molly Stark (Ohio) Mower;

And sole agents for the celebrated Norse,
Ketchum & Co's

Manny's Improved Mowers,

With or without Reaper attachments—the best mowing machine in use. They will be furnished this season at greatly reduced prices, bringing them within the reach of every farmer. These machines are very much improved, and never fail in the matted or lodged clover-cutting with equal ease the tall or tangled grass without clogging or breaking; and so close that it will save from one to five dollars' worth of hay per acre more than any other machine. They are furnished with Reaper Attachment, at small cost—making them a good and serviceable combined machine; and when all other machines have failed in the tangled grain, the work has been done by the Ketchum machine to the perfect satisfaction of all. The one horse machine cuts four feet; the light two-horse machine cuts four and a half and five feet—two sizes;
the heavy two-horse machine cuts five and five and a half feet, two sizes. Any boy capable of driving the team can manage the machine; it is not liable to get out of order.

The New Bay State two-wheeled Mower.—We have purchased the patent right to the New Bay State Mower for the State of California.
It is one of the many machines lately invented, and stands far ahead of all others in point of excellence as a two-wheeled mowing machine, having all the new improvements that have been fairly tested. It is very light, strong, durable machine, and cuts full four and a half feet.

The Vermont Mower.—Also, a two-wheeled machine. It is made mostly of iron, simple in construction, and can be managed with ease.

The Buckeye Machine has two driving wheels like the Vermont machine, and is simple in its construction.

The Molly Stark Mower, (manufactured at Canton, Ohio), is a very light mower, of the Buckeye pattern.

The Ball's Ohio Harvester, (manufactured at Canton, Ohio), is a two-wheeled Reaper and Mower. Has two cutter bars—one for reaping and one for mowing. We have imported a few for trial this season.

The Kentucky Harvester cuts about five and a half feet. Said to be a very good machine.

McCormick's Reaper and Mower—a very good reaper—intended for four large horses.

Burt's Eagle Reaper and Mower, (Improved for 1862.) Baker & Hamilton, sole agents for this machine in California and Oregon.

We have imported these machines for the past two years, which were furnished to some of our neighboring farmers and thoroughly tested. They gave general satisfaction both in cutting grain and grass. The style is very much the same as the celebrated Esterly's machine, except that they are better made;
have a strong iron finger bar; are hand-raking reapers and have no side draft. They have a large four foot driving wheel. The outside grain wheel is thirty inches in diameter. The driver's seat is over two iron truck wheels, each 21 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches in diameter, and the machine may be turned round without crowding the horses, as there is no weight upon their necks. They have two sets of gearing for fast and slow motion; a smooth knife for mowing, and a sickle for reaping;
the back of each is made of hammered cast steel. They cut about six and a half feet, and can be worked with two light horses. We have but a few for this season's trade, owing to the fact that the great demand at the factory made it impossible for the manufacturer to fill our orders for a large number in season for shipment to this market.

Rugg's Reaper and Mower cutting six and nine feet. This machine cuts in advance of the horses, and the cutter can be raised by the driver from one to twenty-four inches.
Sold very cheap.

Haine's Illinois Harvester, or Header, cuts ten feet. Improved for the harvest of 1862.
We have also imported complete sets of trucks, or running gear for header-wagons, with neck yokes and whiffletrees complete.

P. Manny's Improved Combined Reaper and Mower.—This is a new style of machine, very light, yet strongly built, lately patented by P. Manny, in which there are many valuable improvements. We are willing to guarantee this Combined Reaper and Mower in every instance.

We have imported a large stock of extras for repairing Reapers, Mowers and Thrashers, all of which will be sold cheap for cash.
