CASA VERDUGO TO VOTE AGAIN ON ANNEXATION

Petition Presented Council Last Night by W. B. Kelly Report of Meeting

Casa Verdugo again seeks annexation to Glendale.
This time the community lying in the county to the north of the city seems nearly united on the proposition with Captain W. B. Kelly presenting the petition to the council at last night's meeting.

City Clerk A. J. Van Wiat was instructed by Councilman Dwight Stephenson, mayor pro tem to check the names and proceed with the necessary legal action. This proposed district includes practically everything north of the city's boundaries to Mt. Verdugo's crest.

All of this occurred a few minutes before 8 o'clock when Councilman C. E. Kimlin withdrew from the session and left his colleagues, Councilmen Lapham and Stephenson, without a quorum to decide a quarrel, several conundrums and officially do nothing.

"One Man Council"
When Acting Mayor Stephenson was called to the telephone a minute later he facetiously stated, "Mr. Lapham, you are the council," proceeded.

W. W. Hunt, president of the local organization of the National Association of Letter Carriers, asked for permission to use the city park for the postal employees' picnic on August 25.

"Granted," ordered the "one man council." "We have decided you may have anything you want."
The use of the dance pavilion and other equipment is included? queried Mr. Hunt.
"Everything," said the council.
"How about a letter of recommendation for this event?" was the next request.

Orders Letter Written
The council instructs the city manager to prepare such a letter," answered Mr. Lapham.

Other requests were granted last night by the three city fathers, including that made by Captain Kelly for a report on public service, including water and light rates, to be circulated in the Casa Verdugo district prior to the introduction. He also invited the city officials and others to attend a mass meeting in that community to answer all questions.

The company, which is operating a plant at Verdugo wash in the Thom property, seeks to have its location restricted from the first-class residential district in order that it may proceed to make use of the fine sands for pottery ware. The necessary hearing will be given August 21. Property owners on State street also are seeking a change in city zoning to eliminate a planing mill from their vicinity.

Change Salary Ordinance
Among other actions initiated was an amendment to the salary ordinance providing for a stenographer in the legal department, a nurse attendant for the municipal plume and a life guard and locker boy for the same establishment; also a caretaker for public parks. Another amendment to the salary ordinance favorably voted upon will give the city nurse $25 more monthly, or a $100 salary.

A resolution adopting plans, maps, specifications, etc., for the gas mains in Verdugo Woodlands will appear in an official minutes tomorrow, were let and it was announced work will start immediately on the South Brand boulevard paving.

PENDROY CLUB MEETS

The members of Pendroy's Progressive Club, of which D. L. Ludring is president, held their regular meeting Monday night on the second floor of the city hall, with about forty-five present. At that time John Swearingin, vice-president and general manager gave a very interesting talk on "Business and Business Conditions." After the regular business session a progressive "500" party was enjoyed. At a late hour the members of the club adjourned to Cook's cafe for refreshments and lunch.

Lapham Favors Securing Elks Band for Park

The excellent Elks Band of the Glendale lodge will play for the public at the new Verdugo city park, if the present plan of the city council go through, Councilman A. H. Lapham announced Monday night at the Elks' Club affair.

According to Councilman Lapham, the Glendale Council is seriously considering paying for the band to play regular Sunday concerts at the Park, the money to come from the advertising and promotion fund.

"Glendale people know and appreciate the Elks Band," Mr. Lapham stated, "but we have many visitors who will be surprised to know the perfection to which that excellent musical aggregation has been developed."

THURSDAY CLUB WILL BUY SITE

Lots Valued at $4500 to Be Acquired by Women's Organization

With enthusiasm as the keynote of a special meeting, the members of the Thursday Afternoon club of Glendale yesterday authorized the purchase of two lots valued at $4500, to be used as a site for a clubhouse. These lots are located on Cypress avenue, near Orange street, and are in the choicest section of southern Glendale. Plans are already in formation in regard to the clubhouse.

After the reading of the question by the secretary, Miss Eva Daniels, the president, Mrs. W. C. Mabry, placed the matter before the club members, with a brief address on the object of the meeting, and the purpose of the proposed purchase of the property.

Dr. W. C. Mabry was then introduced, and described in detail the location of the property, and explained the terms by which it could be acquired, also generously offering his services to the members if he could be of further assistance in the transaction.

Three to Take Charge

After brief and enthusiastic discussion, a rising vote in favor of the movement was carried almost unanimously. A committee of three, composed of the following members, Mrs. W. M. Mabry, president; Mrs. S. E. Brown, treasurer; Miss Eva Daniels, secretary, was appointed to assume entire charge of the negotiations.

A vote of thanks was extended Dr. Mabry for his assistance in securing the option on the property, and his offer of further assistance in completing the purchase.

The members of the club have plans under way for several affairs to take place soon. A picnic show will be given at Yeoman's hall, Saturday night, and plans are well under way for a bazaar to be held in October and an outdoor Spanish dinner, is one of the interesting social affairs that will be announced later.

Arrangements for the purchase of the site finally acquired as the most logical for the proposed clubhouse were made with M. A. Denman by realtor Charles B. Guthrie, who generously and voluntarily relinquished all claims to commission. At the last moment it became known that Mr. Denman last April had given H. L. Miller Co. an exclusive contract for sale of the lot, making it necessary to secure a release from commission to this firm. Through E. T. Allen this complication was speedily removed. Mr. Denman also gave the club a substantial concession in price.

Betty Barnhart Is Honoree on Birthday

Mrs. Jessie Fredericks of 435 West Milford street was hostess yesterday afternoon at a birthday party celebrating the ninth birthday of her niece, Betty Barnhart.

The company included little guests from Alhambra, Pasadena and Glendale and they enjoyed the afternoon with games and music. Late in the afternoon Mrs. Fredericks served a birthday lunch, featured by a birthday cake lighted by nine candles.

Girl Scouts Plan Malibu Camp Trip

Glendale Girl Scouts, Troop 1, met yesterday afternoon at the home of Lucile Beach, 327 Riverside drive, and completed their plans for their camping trip to Malibu mountains next week.

Marjorie Temple was admitted to membership, to fill a vacancy in the troop.

A resolution was passed to purchase a new flag to carry on the coming hike. The retiring officers, Lucile Beach, treasurer, and Amy Bainbridge, were recipients of gold scout badges, as gifts from the captain, in recognition of past service.

VERA McPHERSON, JAMES STOCKER ARE WEDDED

Most Attractive Setting for Ceremony at Bride's Home Last Night

The beauty of the spacious rooms of the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McPherson, 697 North Central avenue, further enhanced with dainty pink floral decorations provided a most attractive setting for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Vera McPherson, to James W. Stocker, which took place last night, Tuesday, August 15, 1922, at 8 o'clock.

Tall baskets of delicate, shell pink asters, potted palms and ferns banked the large fireplace in the living room, and it was in front of this that Rev. W. E. Edmonds performed the single ring ceremony and the young people pledged their troth. Sprays of asparagus ferns were artistically arranged over the window draperies and the lights. A large bell of pink carnations was suspended from the arch between the living and dining rooms.

Pretty Processions

Proceeding the ceremony, Mrs. Vera McKeen Neighbors sang "At Dawning" (Cadmus) and "Oh, Promise Me." The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played by Mrs. Melvin West as the bridegroom, James W. Stocker, Rev. W. E. Edmonds and Lawrence Stuart, the best man, entered through the sun room into the living room, and as the bridal party marched down the stairs into the room. Miss Margaret McPherson, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, led the procession. She wore a gown of organdie in pastel shades and carried a bouquet of pink Cecil Brunner roses. The bride entered with her father. Her wedding gown was of white satin and lace and the wedding veil of silk net was caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The bride was given away by her father, Mrs. McPherson, mother of the bride, wore white silk crepe de chine. After the ceremony, Mrs. West played Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

Reception Follows

An informal reception followed the wedding and refreshments were served, including a large wedding cake, decorated with (Continued on Page 3)

APARTMENTS HELD UP BY ZONE LAW

Building of a new 2-story $60,000 apartment court, 120-22 West Elk avenue is held up pending final hearing on John J. Graf's petition to change the zoning ordinance there. He lacks 10 feet frontage for the required 50 per cent permission of property owners affected, it was revealed at last night's council session.

Mr. Graf claims to have originated something in the two-story apartment court, with its individual roof gardens, sun parlors and modern conveniences for twenty families.

The building will cover 13,000 square feet of floor space with 30 rooms? Spanish and Italian design in reinforced concrete and stucco will make it the show place of the city, if built, according to the embryo owner.

To protesting property owners in the vicinity Councilman Stephenson stated that he believed Elk avenue and other streets near Brand boulevard would all be apartment property within five years as it was too valuable for single family dwellings.

Mr. Graf, who is making his home at the Elk club, felt keenly disappointed in having his project delayed. He came from Cincinnati in 1916 and has never returned east as he believes this to be the "garden spot of the world."

Coming to Glendale in 1916 he held confidence in the city's future by investing in vacant property and today stands ready to do his part in its upbuilding.

'Pop' Nagel Has Reputation for Seaworthiness

"Pop" Nagel is one of the popular conductor-motormen on the Eagle Rock line of the Glendale & Montrose railroad which today did such valiant service in transporting the crowds to the new city park.

P. L. Hatch, general manager of the line, who sponsors "Pop," tells this story, which isn't half bad.

"Pop" Nagel accompanied Graf on a Catalina several Sundays ago and when they got out beyond the San Pedro breakerwater the youngster said: "Grandpa, hold my hand. I am afraid I will fall, but you are used to the Eagle Rock cars riding like this."

COMMUNITY PICNIC BEING HELD TODAY AT NEW MUNICIPAL PARK

Today the community picnic is being held all day at the new Glendale municipal park out Verdugo road.

This is a legal holiday for the city. The park is to be officially dedicated, while the picnic is simultaneously held under the auspices of the Merchants' Association.

Music, dancing, serious and humorous contests, ball games, athletic competition, speeches, addresses, horse shoe pitching, and fireworks displays are among the hundred or more attractions scheduled.

The forty-piece Elks' band of Glendale is one of the headliner attractions, and a prize winning waltzing contest tonight at the dancing pavilion will conclude the celebration in a blaze of glory.

Congressman Walter F. Lineberger of the Ninth California district is the principal speaker at the Progressive Club's luncheon which is being held adjacent to the picnic grounds.

The weekly Realty Board luncheon is also staged nearby, at the California pavilion in Verdugo Woodlands.

Scores of early arrivals were on the grounds at 9 o'clock this morning, and numerous activities were under way. The road was busy with motor traffic, and Montrose line street cars on special schedule were carrying many.

Never before has a Glendale event aroused such universal enthusiasm and interest.

It was estimated early today that not less than 15,000 persons will participate in the picnic during the day and evening.

COCA COLA KING'S SON SUED FOR LARGE AMOUNT
ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 16.—The troubles of Walter Candler, the millionaire son of Asa Candler, the Coca Cola king, were added to today when a suit asking $100,000 for an alleged criminal assault was filed by attorneys for Mrs. Clyde Byfield, wife of the man who was sued by Candler on Monday for annulment of a note for $20,500, said by Candler to have been given Byfield after he had been found in Mrs. Byfield's state room on board a steamship.

IRISH FREE STATE TROOPS AGAIN TAKE OFFENSIVE
DUBLIN, Aug. 16.—Free state troops are on the offensive today against republican irregulars in County Louth and the menace to Dublin from the north is considered past. The free states are moving toward the north from Droghda driving back the irregular guerilla bands. Commander Byrne has been killed in fighting around Dundalk. The free state advance in the west continues. Liscarril, near the northwestern border of County Cork, has been captured by regulars.

CHAMPION RADIO BUG SLAYS SELF FOR DREAM GIRL
CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Jilted by the girl of his love dreams, the child for whom he developed a mad infatuation at first sight, T. Ross Kepler, 19, world's champion radio telegrapher, scrawled a tragic message of his blighted romance and fired a bullet into his head in the front vestibule of an apartment house today. Physicians said he had little chance of recovery. The "dream girl" is Miss Olga Stobbe, 18, of Canton, Ohio, night chief operator there for the telephone company, who came here last Friday on a vacation and who was visiting friends at the address where Kepler fired the shot.

FIRE CHIEF CONCLAVE GETS REAL DEMONSTRATION
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Delegates to the international fire engineers' convention now in session here were given a spectacular demonstration of fire fighting not on the program when one three-alarm and two two-alarm fires broke out early today. An Italian restaurant, a former saloon, a dwelling house and some smaller structures were destroyed in the three-alarm fire at Bay and Mason streets in a fire which for a time threatened the North Beach settlement. Two flats were destroyed and their occupants forced out in scant attire in a two-alarm fire at Filbert and Jones streets. A similar blaze shortly afterward caused two alarms to be turned in from Broadway and Hyde streets.

GRIFFITH BURIED WITH HIGH MILITARY HONORS
DUBLIN, Aug. 16.—With military honors and amidst most impressive demonstrations of grief, Arthur Griffith, Irish patriot, was buried today in Glasneven cemetery, close to the grave of Parnell, another patriot no less famed and revered. The coffin was draped with the Irish tri-color-green, white and yellow. Mrs. Griffith, the widow, had requested that there be no flowers so that the only colors showing would be those of the Irish state. Early in the morning great crowds gathered from all parts of Ireland about the cathedral to which the body had been transferred from the city hall last night. The mighty edifice was jammed and the streets outside were filled with kneeling women and kneeling, bareheaded men as Archbishop Byrne pronounced the solemn requiem mass.

HIGH HOPES FOR SETTLEMENT OF RAIL STRIKE
WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Hopes for a settlement of the railroad strike by mutual agreement between the railroad executives and the strikers themselves were running high in Washington today as President Harding began the preparation of a message to congress dealing with the grave situation. Officials of the four powerful brotherhoods will meet the railway executives in New York tomorrow about the same time the president goes to the capitol to tell congress how serious the situation is, and there is good reason to believe that something will come of the joint conference. The president will tell congress the "whole story" beginning with the Herrin massacre, and winding up with the Arizona deserts where train crews abandoned trains at desert terminal points. He will recount every step taken by the government to try to end the strike by peaceful means. He will then figuratively "wash his hands" of the whole situation and inform congress that the government has reached the end of its rope in trying to establish peace.

COMMEMORATION OBSERVED BY SOLEMNITY

Impressive Exercises for Graduate Nurses Held at Church

Featured by an inspiring address by Dr. H. G. Westphal the graduation of the class of 1922 of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital training school for nurses took place last night at the Seventh-day Adventist church. The church auditorium and annexes were crowded, every available seat being filled and many people standing during the musical numbers and addresses and to witness the administration of the Florence Nightingale pledge and the presentation of diplomas to the fifteen members of the graduating class.

The commencement of a group of students is always marked with solemnity and the exercises last night were beautifully impressive. Orchestral numbers preceded the professional of the graduates into the church auditorium. It was their first appearance in their white uniforms and, as they filed down the aisles between rows of undergraduates and following the alumni to the inspiring strains of Meyerbeer's "The Prophet," they presented a splendid picture. Adding greatly to the effectiveness of the procession was the talented rendition of Meyerbeer's masterpiece by Mrs. Charles E. Swartsfager, violinist; Edwin J. Moore, cellist; Miss Dorothy Thew, pianist; Mrs. A. Belle Johnson, organist.

Other equally enjoyable musical numbers were the baritone solo, "The Day is Ended" (Bartlett), by Clarence W. Dorch; "Remember The Creator" (Rhodes), by the Jubilate Four; and the violin numbers, "The Old Refrain" and "Caprice Viennois" (Kreisler), by Fred L. Clint.

The invocation preceding the address of the evening was given by Dr. Riley Russell.

Dr. Westphal's Address
With the 1922 class motto, "Looking Beyond" as his inspiration, Dr. Westphal said in part:

"It has been a pleasure to be associated with a class of young people who, in their choice of occupation for life, have remained conscious of a great world's need, and, seeing this need, have chosen the motto that, to the limit of their horizon, would spur them on to help meet it. TRAINMEN STONED, SAYS PASSENGER

Delayed over four days in Williams, Arizona, by the strike of Santa Fe employes, C. S. Ash arrived in Glendale yesterday afternoon from Topeka, Kansas, to join his family who have been spending several weeks at the F. A. Sweat home, 225 West Arden avenue.

"It seemed like three years from Thursday night until we left Williams at 12:30 o'clock Monday," said Mr. Ash in telling of the experience.

"Williams is where the main line branches off to the Grand Canyon, consequently the crowd on our train was augmented by people from the canyon either going east or west.

"There was only one thrilling incident in the whole experience, and that occurred yesterday when we came through Needles, where over 200 men and women, strike sympathizers, lined up along the track and threw rocks, bricks and other missiles at the firemen and engineer on our train. The engine was struck by a rock and one of his eyes badly blacked. Following this incident the Pullman conductor told me this morning that the guard on the rear of our train was also hit and knocked off the car platform."

Mr. Ash was in Los Angeles for the Rotary convention and when he returned home he left his family in Glendale. They plan to leave for Topeka next week if traveling conditions are conducive.

Plenty of Seats At Moore Rally, Advises Chairman

W. T. Selleck of La Canada announces that if anyone from Glendale wants to attend a Moore-for-senator meeting at the schoolhouse there on Thursday night there should be plenty of seats.

No one attended the meeting which was called for last week, he says. Marshall Stimson is the unfortunate person selected to speak to the empty chairs. Mr. Selleck is to be chairman, so one seat will be occupied.

La Canada residents are principally fruit growers and behind Senator Johnson almost to a man.

AUTO CLUB ERECTS SIGNS WARNING MOTORISTS

City Limits Marked and Parking Area Posted; Open New Route

The city boundaries of Glendale will be plainly indicated by signs posted along the main highways and principal traveled streets leading into and out of the corporate limits, the Glendale office of the Auto Club of Southern California announced today.

The sign-posting department of the club will proceed at once to erect the permanent notices, in accordance with permission secured from Police Chief Fraser and with the approval of the officials of leading civic organizations.

Three-Hour Parking Limit
The ordinance limiting parking to a continuous period of three hours on Brand boulevard between Colorado boulevard and Wilson avenue and on Broadway between Central avenue and Kenwood street, will soon be strictly enforced, as the Auto Club of Southern California has been authorized to erect signs within prescribed district giving full and complete warning of the requirements of the city law.

The three-hour limitation is to be enforced only 5 p. m. to 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. to 9 p. m.

Route Reduces Hazard
There is a new regulation regarding traffic entering Glendale along Brand boulevard from the south. The old regulation required motorists traveling north on Brand along the west side of the street car tracks to turn to the right at Gardena street in order to continue along Brand on the right or east of the car tracks. When a block further on, at San Fernando Road, those bound for Burbank, San Fernando, or San Fernando valley points were compelled to re-cross the street car tracks in order to go west on San Fernando road.

Signs to Be Displayed
As soon as the Auto club can erect the necessary signs, the new ordinance will be enforced. It will require northbound traffic to Burbank and valley points to turn west from Brand into Gardena, thence one block to Eulalia street, thence north to re-enter San Fernando Road. This route avoids both crossings of the car tracks.

Under the new regulation, Glendale-bound traffic will cross the tracks at Gardena, as heretofore, thence proceeding straight north along Brand on the east side of the tracks or turning east on San Fernando Road.

City Manager Reeves assures the motoring public that Gardena and Eulalia streets will be put into satisfactory condition to carry the traffic over the new route without hardship.

This decision was reached after it was stated they promised the delivery on the pipe 30 days earlier than their competitor.

A local auto concern took a Venice cafe in payment of a first mortgage on a car. The restaurant kept the machine. The new owners of the eating house think they were "taken in."

Same firm sold a used car, nothing down, $15 a month. After 30 days they sent after the old boat, found it was sans gas, three tires flat and the $15 unsecured, it is reported.

George Karr Hangs Shirts on Salesmen In Reciprocal Deals

Co-operation is the watchword of George B. Karr who sets his mail at 1725 South Brand boulevard in the office of the Baldwin Shirt company.

Mr. Karr believes considerably in boosting Glendale and in participating in all movements which are for the good of the community. Consequently, when J. L. S. Pergh and F. W. McIntyre requested him to buy a bond or two in the new hotel, he immediately complied.

A few days later John P. Lampert and John McClish asked him for a donation to the bonus fund for the establishment of electric service on Glendale avenue and he also complied.

But Mr. Karr remained in his office long enough on both occasions to take orders from all four solicitors for new shirts.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

No Overdose of Opinion Get Ready for Tomorrow What We'll Be Doing

Cutting Comment Short

By Gil A. Cowan

SOMEbody says to me this morning, says they: "Gil, the paper is going to be 'tight' today. Cut 'em comments short." I fall for this hopped hair stuff when writing, so "short" is the word. You will not suffer from an overdose of "opinion," as the printer once set the word opium. Of course, we would rather be at a picnic, such as the one being held here in Glendale today, than any other place in the world.

Also, we will have to write a few words of praise for our Friend Richardson, candidate for governor; and deny some mean thing said about our Hiram Johnson who is going to keep his senatorial seat; and make a comment or two about some other candidate who strikes us as honest, sincere and worthy of your votes.

After doing all that today and rushing around like mad to get the paper "early to bed" we will sit back with a smile at the world and be glad that we are not trying to win the fat men's race or some other stunt being staged at the park.

And, Mr. Printer, if Comment isn't short enough today, just leave it out altogether. I thank you. G. A. C.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in uric acid, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

City Hall Mouse Fails to Observe Mourning Period

The Eagle Rock city hall mouse, which lost his mate in the big vault a few weeks ago, has acquired a ready-made family.

Mr. Mouse maintains a winter and summer home. During warm weather he sleeps under the cool, concrete floor, and in the winter moves to a snug little nest inside the large vault in the city hall.

A few weeks ago, however, Mrs. Mouse got caught in the vault when the doors were closed in the afternoon, and died during the night. Offspring remains of her demise remained for many days.

Yesterday the widower mouse came bowing and scraping toward the front of the office to introduce his new wife, and incidentally three little mice.

The only explanation is that he married a widow with three children.

Dr. Edward T. Abbott Becomes Glendalian

Dr. and Mrs. Edward T. Abbott and family, who have been living in Los Angeles for the past eight years, moved to this city yesterday and are now located in their new home at 512 West Wilson avenue. Dr. Abbott, whose offices are in Los Angeles, is well known in Glendale. Besides his regular practice, Dr. Abbott is head of the clinics of the College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons of Los Angeles.

Knows Advertising in the News Pays

Mrs. Albina Rose Laporte, formerly of Glendale, has recently moved to Eagle Rock and is now making her home at 138 North Douglas avenue. Mrs. Laporte is a recent graduate of the Marinello system of beauty culture. Mrs. Laporte has chosen the classified columns of The News to advertise that she is prepared to go direct to the home of milady and practice all lines of beauty culture.

COLLISION REPORTED

A near head-on-collision resulted in front of 614 San Fernando Road at 4:30 last night when Frank Lutar of Los Angeles attempted to pass a truck in front of him and ran into the automobile being driven in the opposite direction by Mrs. George E. Macomber.

DR. BIRD LEAVES ON TRIP TO EAST

Occidental College Head Is Braving Strike Condition; Dean Burt Returns

Dr. Remsen Du Bois Bird, president of Occidental College, Eagle Rock, left last night for a trip to New York. Mrs. Bird accompanied him as far as the northern part of the state. She will visit in San Rafael until Dr. Bird's return.

Due to the unsettled railroad conditions over the country, it is not certain whether Dr. Bird will reach New York as soon as he hopes to. He will try to be back in time for the opening of the college in September. It is stated.

Secretary On Vacation

The nature of Dr. Bird's business in New York has not been announced, but it is understood that at least a part of it is in the interests of Occidental College.

Miss Gertrude S. Griffith, secretary to Dr. Bird, is enjoying a month's vacation prior to the opening of school. She left last Thursday for the northern part of the state. She is expected to return on either September 4 or 5, in time to make preparations for the reception of students as the entrance examination day approaches.

Dean Thomas G. Burt of Occidental College, who, with Mrs. Burt, has been spending a month's vacation at Long Beach, is expected to return next Monday to Eagle Rock.

Realty Deals and Building Operations Continue Active

William Sibold, a furniture manufacturer of Los Angeles, has just purchased the home at 132 East Sycamore avenue from Thomas Clancey. The purchase price was said to be $6850 cash.

C. W. Jones, secretary of the Eagle Rock Realty Board handled the deal, and states that Mr. Sibold proposes to make his permanent residence here, and will move into the home he has just purchased soon.

M. Mollett, proprietor of the Eagle Rock Sand & Gravel company of 117 South Central avenue took out a building permit yesterday for the erection of a large garage at 4549 Glassell avenue. The garage will be used to house his fleet of trucks and is expected to cost in the neighborhood of $2000.

HIS STOPPING POINT

"Paid your tailor's bill yet?" asked a friend.

"Can't," replied the young man.

"Paid the florist?"

"Quite impossible."

"What about your motoring bill?"

"They're still sending it in."

"If you can't pay for your own living," exclaimed his friend in disgust, "why don't you be decent enough to die?"

"And then run up an undertaker's bill?" retorted the young man. "My dear chap, there's a limit!"

SELFISH AUTOIST CAUSE OF WORRY

Treads of Passing Tires Plainly Pucker Plastic Pavements In Protest

"We have had trouble with motorists tearing down barriers closing streets which are being improved, and driving over pavement which has not been completed," declares Claude S. Bramble, Eagle Rock street superintendent.

"There is a city ordinance," he continues, "which prohibits the public from opening a street which has been closed by a city official for the purpose of street improvement, and we are going to enforce the ordinance. A heavy fine or a long jail sentence, or both, may be imposed upon violators of this law, and, unless the practice stops, a number of motorists are going to realize it."

Closed for Improvements. Mr. Bramble points out that a street is closed to traffic so that workmen may properly pave or resurface it. When the paving is still soft, or has not yet been oiled and rolled, a vehicle passing over it leaves ruts which necessitate the working over of the paving before it can be completed. This means not only additional expense to the city, but a delay in finishing and opening the street.

"Last Sunday," says Bramble, "I drove down to look over the section of Colorado boulevard which we are repaving, and I found that some one had taken the barriers down, and that traffic was going over the soft new pavement as though it had been officially opened. I put the barrier back and nailed them up, but it is impossible to keep watch all the time. In future anyone caught taking down the barriers or driving over pavement not yet opened is going to be arrested and punished."

What No Man Knows In Film at Glendale

What is pronounced by critics to be the best starring vehicle Clara Kimball Young has had in years, will be the offering at the Glendale Theatre beginning today. The picture, "What No Man Knows," was filmed from Sada Cowan's original story and shows how valiantly a real woman can fight for the possession of the greatest thing in life.

In no role of recent or past accomplishment has Miss Young ever appeared to such advantage as in this new picture.

News, comedy and fables complete the pleasing offering for holiday crowds.

Mr. Wilson's many friends are wishing him success and prosperity at his new location.

While Satan Sleeps T. D. & L. Bill Now

The feature picture at the T. D. & L. Theatre today, "While Satan Sleeps," starring Jack Holt, is an outstanding drama of real bigness in treatment, theme, action and production. The story is by Peter B. Kyne. Last night's audiences approved the program immensely.

The personal appearance of the wonder violinist, Master Clyde Morris Gates, as an added attraction, also was good, the boy being a real genius. He received much sincere applause. He works in concert with the Ampico, courtesy of the Shuck Music company. The same performance will be given tonight and Thursday.

You will like this program, says Manager Ralph Allan.

Supervisor Wright Backs Flood Control Projects Near Here
 Supervisor Henry W. Wright, who was for eight years a member of the state legislature and for four years speaker of the assembly, has reason to take pride as a county supervisor in the material part he has had in securing state aid for flood control work in Los Angeles county.
 These appropriations secured from the state have been a material factor in enabling the board of supervisors to construct the Devil's Gate dam above Pasadena, the completion of which just prior to the floods of last winter saved Garvanza, Highland Park and East Los Angeles as well as the territory farther south, from untold damage.
 Supervisor Wright believes that these districts are forever secure from danger from that source. The reservoir has also justified its construction from a water conservation standpoint, and conclusively demonstrates the final solution of "flood control" in Los Angeles county.
 Supervisor Wright is urging the early financing and construction of storage reservoirs in Pacoima, Tujunga, Haynes and other canyons.

 Classification of Business and Professional Folk Fills Glendale Need
 "Fine!"
 "Good idea!"
 "Just the thing we need!"
 Those are some of the favorable comments being made upon the Classified Business and Professional Directory which made its debut in the Glendale Evening News Monday.
 In a rapidly growing city like Glendale, there are always newcomers who want to locate the best physician, furniture dealer, druggist, or in fact any one of a large number of professional and business men who are dependable.
 For this reason the Classified Advertising Department of the News has inaugurated the policy of running in each issue of the paper the classified directory, which is to contain the advertisements of reliable business stores and professional men of Glendale. The directory appears on the classified page of the News, and is doing a service to strangers and others not well acquainted with the better class of business and professional men of Glendale.

The Riddle of the Frozen Flame

They followed the track onward with perfect ease, for the marshy ground was sodden and took every footprint deeply.

And Wynne had left the house by no means sober! "It looks as though he had come here after all!" broke out Tony West, excitedly.

They zig-zagged their tedious way on across the marshy grassland, their thin shoes squelching in the bogs, their trousers unmercifully spattered with the thick, treacherous mud.

"Whew! Eerie task I've ever come across!" ejaculated Stark with a grimace as he looked up for a moment into the dull mist ahead.

"Good Heavens above!" They ran up to him clustering around him in their eagerness, and their torches lent their rays to make the thing he gazed at more distinguishable.

"What the devil is it?" demanded Tony West, getting to his knees and peering at the spot with narrowed eyes.

But there was an answer forthcoming. Every man stood still staring at this strange thing with wide eyes.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE BUTTERCUP "Do you want to come for a walk with me, Susie?" asked Uncle Wiggily one day.

"Go ahead, do it!" invited Susie. And when Uncle Wiggily held the buttercup under the chin of the rabbit girl.

"Well, I guess you like butter all right," said Uncle Wiggily, laughing himself.

"I know what I like!" bellowed the Gator. "I like ears—rabbit ears especially—and I'm going to nibble some right away!"

"Stop! You tickle-ickle!" where ice-cream soda was sold, and the funniest part of it all was that Uncle Wiggily hopped inside and bought some for himself.

"Now for a real adventure!" cried Uncle Wiggily when, a little later, he and Susie were hopping through a field.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

THE LOVE PIG

"Love that asketh love again Finds the barter naught but pain. Love that giveth in full store Love receives as much and more."

I know a woman who is considered by most of the people who know her as extraordinarily unselfish.

And so she is in many ways. But on the other hand she is extraordinarily selfish about one thing. You would never guess what it is. Not clothes, nor jewelry, nor any material possession. Not even about having her own way. The one thing this woman is selfish about is love. She is absolutely greedy about getting all the love she can.

You don't call that selfishness? You call it a commendable ambition? I don't agree with you. I think it is possible to cause almost as much unhappiness by love greediness as by any other kind. And I think this woman does.

Always Love Greedy It has always been so with her and if she has a friend she wanted all of that friend. She hated to have that friend speak cordially of other friends; she hated to have her have a good time with other friends. She wanted not only to be first in her friend's affections but second and third and fourth as well.

In her family it was the same.

She had a favorite sister and did all she could to cut that favorite sister out from the rest of the family and have her for her own. I don't think she realized that she was doing it. But she loved her sister and was eager to do everything she could for her and in return she wanted an extraordinary amount of affection. And to attain this end she unconsciously (I know she would never have done it consciously) tried to make the sister feel that the other sisters did not care as much for her, and that she should not care so much for them.

She Would Think You Insane She is married now and as is inevitable, her love greediness has intensified. She concentrates on her husband. She will do anything for him, and she doesn't ask self-sacrifice in return, in fact, she will not permit it, but she wants a prodigious amount of love. She wants not only the deep quiet affection of a devoted husband, she wants constant expressions of it; she wants to minimize his other contacts, she wants once more not only to be first in his affections, but to be everything. If you should tell her she was selfish, she would think you were insane. "Why, I would do anything on earth for my husband," she would say, her eyes filling with tears. "Selfish. Well, I've never been considered that."

And she would probably be your enemy for life.

But isn't it true? A Drain and a Strain Even if her husband does manage to live up to her expectations, will it not mean a cramping and narrowing of his life? And if he is able to give the emotional intensity she demands, will it not be a drain on him?

Don't you love that verse in the Bible that Mrs. Browning quotes: "He giveth his beloved sheep." Love ought to give and receive peace and content, not restlessness and emotional exactions.

Love greediness causes unhappiness both to the one who makes and the one who receives the demand. To give all the love you can is a beautiful thing. To demand all the love you can get, and to be constantly fearing you aren't getting enough, is very unbecoming.

Tomorrow—They Really Do It

Smoking among the women of England has increased to such an extent that the railroads have provided special smokers.

BEAUTY CHATS

HAVE YOU EXERCISED THIS SUMMER?

If you have been swimming, playing tennis, or any of the other outdoor games, your arms are probably rounded. But there are a great many girls who have been too busy, or not able to enjoy these sports, so I am suggesting some arm development exercises for them.

As such girls are rarely inclined to any strenuous exercising, the following instructions are based upon a combination of exercise and massage, bringing about the same effect as does exercise, but with less outlay of energy. Another advantage lies in the small amount of time expended.

While standing or sitting erectly, stretch the right arm to the front, holding it at such an angle that the tips of the fingers are at the same height as the head, the fingers held straight together and thumb close. Place the left hand with the fingers and thumb close, over the upper side of the right arm at the wrist, clapping the muscles all the way up the arm, keeping to the upper side of the tensed limb. Continue this all the way up over shoulder into the neck. Repeat this performance by massaging the same arm, working along the under side. Repeat all of this with the other arm. Continue until you have had five treatments for each side.

The massage movements are much like a tight clutch, and then a gentle but firm twist of the muscles, until you feel a warmth from the exercise. Judgment will decide how much effort should be put into the massage and the gentle method is best, else the muscles will feel sore later. These exercises should not take longer than three to five minutes.

Reader—White vaseline is very different from red vaseline.

A fine toothed comb is very irritating to the scalp and should never be used except for emergencies. If you must remove the dandruff from your head, massage into it any hot oil (such as crude oil) and let it remain on overnight. Shampoo thoroughly the next day and all this scaly dead skin will come off. With such a condition you should be giving the scalp a daily massage and using a good hair tonic twice each week.

Have You Exercised This Summer?

Mamma—I shall be glad to mail you formulas for creams that will nourish and not grow hair. I am sorry there is not space to print these at this time.

Tomorrow—Choosing a Skin Bleach.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. Practical Housekeeping

CANNING VEGETABLES

When canning vegetables the jars should be sterilized thoroughly and even greater care should be taken than when sterilizing jars for fruit, as they are more subject to fermentation. The method of cooking vegetables in a pot, putting them in a hot jar, filling to overflowing with hot liquid, and then clamping the cover on good and tight, still has many advocates. This is certainly the quickest method, but some of the flavor is lost, and the vegetables are apt to be broken in transferring from the kettle to the jar. Personally, I believe the best and safest method is to cook the vegetables in the jars, giving them three cookings, on as many successive days. The first cooking may kill only the bacteria, but not the spores, the offspring of the parent bacteria. Though boiling will kill the mold and perhaps most of the bacteria, those that escape will again develop spores after the vegetables have cooled. Hence it is necessary to cook all vegetables a second time, and in most cases the third cooking is safest, as it will surely destroy all spores that have developed and are lying dormant. To realize the importance of the repeated cooking, you must remember that one bacteria will develop millions of spores in one day, and as spores contain the greatest amount of vitality, thorough boiling is necessary to insure good results.

The greatest care must be taken in selecting the vegetables. Do not be deluded into thinking anything is good enough. The best is none too good. If you get them from the market, it is well to place them in cold water for a few hours to keep them crisp.

If you have no canning outfit in place a false bottom (such as wooden slats, or poultry netting, etc.), in large kettle or wash boiler, being careful that the surface is kept even. On this place the jars so they will not touch each other. Fill with warm water almost up to necks of jars, cover kettle and bring to boiling point. Add hot water from time to time to keep it up to neck of jars. Corn, peas and beans are very hard to keep, and for this reason it is better to cook an hour each day for three successive days. Loosen tops before each cooking. After each cooking, screw or fasten tops tight again.

String Beans—Select tender, young beans, string them, and cut or break them into suitable lengths. Soak in cold water, in proportion of one teaspoon salt to one quart water. Let stand

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D. Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

DIET IN PREGNANCY—NO. 2

In yesterday's paper on the diet in pregnancy, I emphasized the importance of supplying the needs for proper development of the baby and the needs for the maintenance of health in the mother. I told you that this should be accomplished without increasing greatly the fat of the prospective mother or the baby. I told you that while it is true that the mother must eat for two, it is only during the last half of pregnancy that there is any need for her to increase her diet more than enough to keep herself in good health, and that even in the later half of the pregnancy, when growth is very rapid, the increase should not be more than 20 per cent of her ordinary diet, and less than that if she is overfat, or has markedly lessened her activities.

Overeating during pregnancy is very harmful, for it may cause overfatness in the baby and the mother. It also can cause even graver troubles. Iron is found in many of the foods, the most valuable stores being in egg yolks and green vegetables, especially spinach. These green vegetables, with fruit and the milk, will also supply the needed vitamins.

Sufficient water should be taken to keep the eliminative organs in good condition, probably five or six glasses a day. One can over-do water taking, as well as any other good habit. Constipation can usually be avoided by the addition of sterilized bran, which can be bought from the grocery stores, or by the addition of sugar.

"It is presumed that a pregnant woman is under the care of her family physician or a specialist as soon as possible after her state is known. These directions I have given you are general directions and might have to be modified to suit the individual case. May I caution you again about not over-eating during this period.

HERMAN SMASHES WAY TO FAME AT OMAHA

Hits on High In Western League; Well Known Around Glendale
By W. G. KIBBEY
Residents of Glendale, especially former classmates of the Glendale High, will be highly pleased to learn that "Lefty" Herman, super-star, first-sacker and hitter deluxe of the 1920 team, is showing his well-known heels to other ambitious batsmen in the Western league, while cavorting around the initial bag in sensational style for the Omaha club.

But we must get back to Herman and his present activities in the professional game. Breaking into the more advanced game last season with Gus Gleichman's Edmonton club in the Western Canada league, his work with the willow, as well as his sensational defensive work, was sufficient to draw the magnetic eye, and approval, of several big league scouts, and consequently, he was sold to the Detroit Tigers, whose franchise he occupies by that famous fiery Georgian, Tyrus Raymond Cobb.

However, Cobb did not see fit to call his youthful prodigy—Herman has not yet reached maturity—into the Tiger fold last spring; this, undoubtedly, was partly due to lack of experience in fast company, and due partly to the fact that the "Tiger" chief is well supplied at first base with the sensational work of that reliable youngster, Lew Blue.

Nevertheless, the crafty leader of the Tigers wisely attached a string on the services of the lanky youngster, and was instrumental in having him placed with the Omaha club, when the Western Canada disbanded.

U. S. Export List Is Growing Fast, Report

WASHINGTON—Increasing demand, and a greater variety of requests for American manufactured products, are pouring into the department of commerce. England wants radio apparatus, leather goods, furniture, shoe trade sundries and some articles of wearing apparel, such as silks. Turkey, which has sought little in the American market for a long time, wishes great quantities of condensed and evaporated milk, edible oils and tallow. Australia wants lumber, glue, matches, paints and varnishes; the Baltic countries desire to purchase sheet iron and tin.

Baseballers Get Cold Feet and a New List Named

The local diamond market was badly disturbed this morning when Maj. H. M. Butts, commander-in-chief of the Nine Buttons baseball team which will meet the Potterman Nine at Verdugo Park today, announced that in lieu of the original list of baseballers supplied by him a new team had been assembled because the numerous excuses found by those originally named. In other words, instead of selecting men of ability or popularity, like the movies do, Major Butts simply had to take those who were willing to sacrifice themselves for the amusement of the public today. Here's the new list of players:

YES—WITH A CLUB
There's "welcome" on the foot-rest.
In the entry by the door.
As cheery a word as ever you heard.
Awaiting forevermore.
The halt, the lame, the blind, the weak
The weary and the foot-sore.
We pay no favorites nor look
For boons they can't afford.
Each visitor here has nothing to fear
We charge no dues nor board.
But the one guest we welcome best,
Our poor but honest landlord.

WELL PLAYED, OLD GANG-NAIL

After due deliberation the British lawn tennis authorities have declined to permit Gerald Patterson to meet the winner of the American singles title in a match that would have established the identity of the world's champion with official finality. The British seem to feel that the Australian became world champion automatically by winning at Wimbledon. And by so doing they obligingly ignore the fact that any one of four Americans might have beaten Patterson on that occasion.

The fellow who coined the expression "a dull and sickening thud" must have been a baseball fan. In no instance does it fit better or more nearly convey the feelings of the spectators than when a batsman is hit in the head by a pitched ball.

The woman who was doing her marketing was difficult to please. She had overhauled everything in the shop and insisted on getting the best in stock at a cent a pound cheaper than market prices, and now it was a question of eggs.

"Are you sure these eggs are fresh?"

"They are, Madam."

"Will you guarantee them?"

"I will, Madam."

"But how are you to know they are fresh?"

"My dear lady," replied the exhausted shopman, with decisive emphasis, "if you will kindly step to the telephone and ring up our farm, you will hear the hens that laid the eggs still cackling."

JOKE ON EDITORS

The editors of the Literary Review are much concerned because they say they recently sent several books on "Birth Control" to one of the new ladies in America qualified to review it. They received the following letter from her husband:

"Mrs. ——— and I haven't been able to review these new books on birth control as promptly as we hoped. She has been at Maternity hospital for the past three weeks, and our new son has required most of her energy. We think the joke is rather on us."

Thrift Is Not Parsimony

Many people confuse the terms "thrift" and "parsimony" and despise the former as they do the latter.

But thrift is not parsimony. It is generosity wisely applied. It means care in managing, wisdom in spending, and diligence in saving.

Thrift is essential to the world today, for it provides the accumulation of capital which makes possible our great industrial development, our water power projects, and our irrigation systems. Without it, we would still move in the dark ages.

And thrift is a habit—not a hardship. You can soon acquire it if you open a Savings Account in this Bank and lay aside a regular sum each week or month.

And the thrift habit is worth while.

Says Johnson Always Was Friend of Former Service Men of Nation

Style Pageant of Women's Wear to Be Staged by Peggy Hamilton

"Fair Play has always been the slogan of the World War veterans, and those who violate the precepts of Fair Play lose the faith of former service men," a disabled veteran declared at the Glendale Johnson-for-Senator headquarters today.

The remark arose from a discussion of the anti-Johnson allegations to the effect that the progressive senator had never helped former service men until he began to do so as a campaign measure. These charges were ridiculed by former soldiers and sailors individually and collectively, and the following letter, signed by twenty-three former service men, is but one of a number of communications filed with the supporters of Johnson and which show that the vets know who has been for them right along:

"Los Angeles, Aug. 8, 1922.

"To whom it may concern:

After having read numerous attacks upon Senator Hiram Johnson relative to a lack of activities in behalf of former service men, we, the undersigned, disabled veterans, desire to publicly declare those statements as being malicious falsehoods and without foundation in fact.

Supports Measures

"Furthermore, Senator Johnson, having by word and effort enthusiastically supported every measure of national veterans' legislation that has come before congress since the war, and having interested himself in and successfully settled hundreds of claims of former service men, we now want to go on record as being opposed to the libellous and untrue statements issued concerning the man who by his human and sympathetic attitude and work has stood always ready and eager to help us; and we do hereby most sincerely endorse the candidacy of Hiram W. Johnson for the United States senate.

More Details Coming

The personnel of the troupe will be made public within the next few days, as will also an announcement of the various special feature acts which have been arranged.

The wearing apparel, which is to be selected from the regular stocks of Glendale merchants and will prove to any who may be misinformed on the subject that the slogan, "Trade At Home," is practical as well as theoretical in the matter of style.

Mrs. E. C. Pendroy, of Pendroy's, who returned last week from her annual buying trip to New York, has announced that she has obtained some of the smartest goods ever to be shown in Glendale, the gowns, dresses, furs, etc., being the latest creations from the nation's fashion center. A more complete announcement of the display will be made at a later date.

Other Exhibitors

C. J. Hatz, whose beautiful wearing apparel is admired by the throngs of Glendale women, will show the same high class display which is to be expected of a firm with such an enviable reputation. Evening dresses, street wear, sport costumes and coats will comprise the principal part of this exhibit.

Josephine Des Mazes, Glendale's newest and most up-to-date milliner and designer of hats, promises to add prestige to the show, her exclusive line of goods establishing her as the highest class milliner in the city. She is a welcome addition to Glendale's rapidly growing corps of successful business women, having located in the attractively constructed court shops on East Broadway.

Sherrod's Specialty Shop will be represented in the all-star program with a showing of an entirely new line of sport wear, in addition to a number of creations which have not yet been made public.

The Glendale Dry Goods company will devote an entire act to the exhibiting of women's and misses' ready-to-wear garments, including dresses, coats, hosiery, etc.

Matinee For Ladies

Heading the list in the afternoon matinee, which is to be strictly a lingerie affair for ladies only, the La Facile Corset Shop will exhibit numerous creations in their line, the display to be one of Peggy Hamilton's original ideas and a complete novelty in Glendale. The La Facile Corset Shop is likewise among the city's newest firms, it being conducted in connection with Mile. Des Mazes' millinery store.

Exhibits in the lingerie matinee also will be furnished by Pendroy's, Hatz, Sherrrod's and the Glendale Dry Goods company.

Montrose Organizes Chamber Commerce

Montrose has a chamber of commerce today!

The meeting of progressive business men of Montrose held in that community last night resulted in the organization of the Montrose Chamber of Commerce with the following officers duly elected: James L. Brown, pres.; Frank J. Green, vice-pres.; C. D. Potts, sec.; C. J. Rheinhardt, treas.

Secretary Rhoades of the Glendale chamber was the hustler whom the Montroseans leaned for aid in putting through the actual organization moves according to Hoyle, Roberts, et al, and assistant secretary Sanders put over a talk on the benefits of chamber-of-commerce work that won all those present, numbering seventy-five, all of whom signed up.

A membership committee was appointed and put to work, a by-laws committee was told to get busy, and another meeting is called for next Monday night. Admittedly, the Montrose C. of C. has hit the ball from the start.

Supporting piers are now being made of paper in California. These piles are not subject to attack by the teredo. They are 60 feet in length and from 18 to 30 inches in diameter. A square steel cap is fitted over the top to receive the shocks of the pile-driver.

is more than a passing phrase. Underneath the sentiments prevailed by those two words there lies a depth. The pleasure-seeker sees not its import. If I am able to read into it the care and labor there. No idler back of such a motto; but rather serious thought and patient toil. The foundation of a great career of usefulness is laid of materials backed by just such motives as are found here. The aim of such an expression, and it is the best object in life that I know, is, the means of doing good and then doing it.

"Broader Vision"

"One of the greatest difficulties with men and women is that their vision is too confining, too narrow, falling too often within the precincts of their own door yard. What is needed is a greater vision, an ability to look beyond the threshold of their own firesides, an ability to look beyond themselves and see a world in a definite need and then a definite plan of supply. This vision has been caught by some, I am glad to say, and the world has been blessed by a kindly ministry supplied.

"Numbers of days are not as important a factor in this vision as days well filled with valuable service. Methuselah lived many times longer than Moses, yet there is no comparison in the record of achievement. It is not how much, but how well that counts in life. A workman was doing a piece of sculpture work to adorn the steeple of a church edifice. "Why are you taking so much care," say they, when it is up there so high no one will see it?" "No," said he, "but God will see it."

Tell Real Achievements

"Many of the great achievements of history have been carved out by some obscure workman careless about what men might say or think about it. How many heroic deeds have been left out of the written pages of history that have been faithfully recorded in the books of record of Him who sees throughout the world of happenings. After all, too truly 'looking beyond' does not necessarily mean a place in officialdom. It may not be the one who climbs above his fellows in position that counts most. Humble hands effecting a kindly ministry, a gentle voice that soothes a burdened in the hour of affliction, a sunbeam in the sick room, the passing of a flower, the handing of a cup of cold water; these cheerfully and willingly performed are what makes the world go after all.

Lincoln's Service

"Do not think it is what you would do if you were in the other fellow's shoes but what the other fellow would do if he were in your shoes that counts. It was just that spirit in which Lincoln did all his work and which gave him the largest returns. He put it into a remark made during the last year of his life to his boyhood friend, John R. Speed. One night near midnight a few months before Lincoln's death Mr. Speed found him in his office exhausted after having listened to the appeals of a long line of visitors for hours. Speed protested that Lincoln was wearing himself out needlessly. "You ought not to let those people take your time this way," he said. Lincoln answered that helping people was all the fun he ever had. "Speed," he said, "I want it said of me when I die that I plucked a thistle and planted a flower wherever I thought a flower would grow."

Christ's Reward

"It would be unjust in this connection not to mention the author of this same helpful spirit whose unselfish life was a continual benediction to the sentiments of your motto, 'Looking Beyond.' Hear the wonderful statement written by Paul of him: 'Looking unto Jesus, who, for the joy that was set before him, endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God."

"I feel that I must congratulate the members of this graduating class for the spirit I find animating their work in that they have chosen that better part which shall not be taken away from them. A humble work yet highly essential and helpful. As a final word may I submit the lines of H. W. Longfellow:

We are architects of fate
Working in these walls of time
Some with massive deed and great
Some with ornaments of rhyme.

Nothing useless is or low
Each thing in its place is best
And what seems but idle show
Strengthens and supports the rest.

For the structure that we raise
Time is with materials filled
Our todays and yesterdays
Are the blocks with which we build.

Let us do our work as well;
Both the unseen and the seen.
Make the House where gods may dwell
Beautiful, entire and clean.

Thus alone can we attain
To the summits where the eye
Sees the world as one vast plain
And one boundless reach of sky.

Administrators Pledge

One of the most impressive events of the evening was the administration of the Florence Nightingale pledge to the fifteen graduates by Mrs. Daisy D. Harris, R. N., and superintendent of nurses.

The possibilities and inspiration of the nursing profession is beautifully expressed in the pledge, which reads: "I solemnly pledge myself before God and in the presence of this assembly to pass my life in purity and to practice my profession faithfully. I will abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischievous and will not take or knowingly administer any harmful drug.

"I will do all in my power to elevate the standard of my profession and will hold in confidence all personal matters committed to my keeping, and all family affairs coming to my knowledge in the practice of my calling.

"With loyalty will I endeavor to aid the physician in his work, and devote myself to the welfare of those committed to my care."

Presents Diplomas

Marking the close of the exercises, Dr. William J. Johnson presented diplomas of graduation to the following: Ethel May Anderson, Lela Douglas Barnhart, Bernice Hazelle Christian, Leonie B. Fisher, Judith Louella Harling, Pearl Marjorie Hodge, Elsie May Lord, James Elwood Moore, Mrs. Lottie Eleanor Marple, Celeste Louise Schleifer, Anna Atalita Scheffel, Daisy Vivian Reid, Anna Anora Peters, Marion Evelena Darrell and Norma Holbrook Rogers.

The benediction was given by Pastor W. M. Adams.

Graduates of the training school, numbering 167, who recently organized an alumni association are to gather at the sanitarium this evening to welcome the 1922 class members into the alumni organization. The alumni are in service in all parts of the United States and many foreign countries and the reception will mark the renewal of many acquaintances and interesting accounts of experiences since graduation.
