PREFACE.

The problem which first confronts the beginner in the Game of Draughts is how to meet the invincible 11 15. A careful examination of published play would indicate that, of the seven possible replies, the Single Corner is the strongest and the most popular with all grades of players. No other opening, perhaps, offers so great a scope for attack or defense. It may be called the "Battle Royal" of the draught board. The Flora Temple branch of the Single Corner, of which this book treats, is generally considered the strongest line of defense that can be put up by the black side and is the line most frequently adopted by experts. The opening was named by the late John Drummond, who gave an analysis of one hundred and eighty variations upon it in the Scottish Draught Player, edition of 1866. This work, however, has been out of print for a number of years. Drummond formed the opening by the first five moves: 11 15, 22 18, 15 22, 25 18, 9 13, but this formation is rarely adopted at the present day, for in reply to 9 13 white can play 23 19 and throw the game into a well-known variation of the Will O' the Wisp which is considered strong for the second player. The more recently adopted formation is comprised in the following seven moves: 11 15, 22 18, 15 22, 25 18, 12 16, 29 25, 9 13, and upon this formation the present work is based. The author, while beginning the study of the Single Corner opening, found himself greatly handicapped by a lack of published play on the Flora Temple branch, and then began a systematic analysis and compilation of which this book is the outgrowth. Numerous corrections and improvements upon published play appear here, for the first time, and this book will be the exception if the critics do not, in turn, discover some errors in the play presented. It has been the aim to give proper credit for all play taken from other sources, but if any mistakes have been made in the assignment of authorship, they will, if discovered, be rectified in a future edition.

INSTRUCTIONS.

The game of Draughts or Checkers is now so universally played that instructions would seem hardly necessary. By referring to the diagrams on the opposite page it will be seen that at the beginning of a game, the black men occupy the squares from one to twelve and the white men the squares from twenty-one to thirty-two. Black always moves first. The arrangement of play in this volume is the same as that adopted in Kear's reprints of Drummond's works, variation 1 being the last variation from the trunk, etc. This system of grouping will be found a great convenience as it brings all the play on one line together and is considered by many an improvement upon the method of Anderson. The names at the foot of the variations are authorities from whom play is taken, and, where two names appear, the first played the black and the second the white. The figures at the foot of the column indicate the source of the variation.

THE STANDARD LAWS.

1.—The Standard Board must be of light and dark squares, not less than fourteen and one-half inches, nor more than sixteen inches across said squares.

2.—The Board shall be placed so that the bottom corner square on the left hand shall be black.

3.—The Standard Men, technically described as Black and White, must be light and dark (say red and white, or black and white), turned, and round, and not less than one and one-eighth inch, nor more than one and one-fourth inch in diameter.

4.—The men shall be placed on the black squares.

5.—The black men shall invariably be placed upon the real or supposed first twelve squares of the board; the white men upon the last twelve squares.

6.—Each player shall play alternately with black and white men, and lots shall be cast for the colour only once—viz., at the commencement of a match, the winner to have the choice of taking either black or white.

7.—The first move must invariably be made by the person having the black men.

8.—At the end of Five Minutes (if the move has not been previously made), "Time" must be called in a distinct manner, by the person appointed for the purpose; and if the move be not completed on the expiry of another minute, the game shall be adjudged as lost through improper delay.

9.—When there is only one way of taking one or more pieces, "Time" shall be called at the end of one minute; and if the move be not completed on the expiry of another minute, the game shall be adjudged as lost through improper delay.

10.—Either player is entitled, on giving intimation, to arrange his own or his opponent's pieces properly on the squares. After the move has been made, however, if either player touch or arrange any piece without giving intimation he shall be cautioned for the first offence, and shall forfeit the game for any subsequent act of the kind.

11.—After the pieces have been arranged, if the person whose turn it is to play touch one, he must either play it or forfeit the game. When the piece is not playable, he is penalized according to the preceeding law.

12.—If any part of a playable piece be played over an angle of the square on which it is stationed, the play must be completed in that direction.

13.—A capturing play, as well as an ordinary one, is completed whenever the hand is withdrawn from the piece played, even though two or more pieces should have been taken.

14.—When taking, if a player remove one of his own pieces he cannot replace it; but his opponent can either play or insist on his replacing it.

15.—Either player making a false or improper move, shall instantly forfeit the game to his opponent, without another move being made.

16.—The "Huff" or "Blow" is (before one plays his own piece) to remove from the board any one of the adverse pieces that might or should have taken. But the huff or blow never constitutes a play.

17.—The player has the power either to Huff, compel the take, or to let the piece remain on the board, as he thinks proper.

18.—When a Man first reaches any of the squares on the opposite extreme line of the board it becomes a King, and can be moved backwards or forwards, as the limits of the board permit (though not in the same play, and must be crowned—by placing a man on the top of it—by the opponent. If he neglects to do so, and play, any such play shall be put back until the Man be crowned.

19.—A Draw is when neither of the players can FORCE a win. When one of the sides appears stronger than the other, the stronger party is required to complete the win, or to show to the satisfaction of the umpire or referee at least a decided advantage over his opponent within forty of his own moves—to be counted from the point at which notice was given—failing in which he must relinquish the game as a draw.

20.—Anything which may tend either to annoy or distract the attention of the player is strictly forbidden—such as making signs or sounds, pointing or hovering over the board, unnecessarily delaying to move a piece touched, or smoking. Any principal so acting, after having been warned of the consequence and requested to desist, shall forfeit the game.

21.—While a game is pending, neither player is permitted to leave the room without a sufficient reason, or receiving the other's consent or company.

22.—Any spectator giving warning, either by sign, sound, or remark, on any of the games, whether played or pending, shall be ordered from the room during the match, and play will be discontinued until such offending party retires.

23.—A match between equals, wins and draws to count, should consist of an even number of games, so that each player may have the first move the same number of times.

24.—Either player committing a breach of any of these laws must submit to the penalty; and his opponent is equally bound to exact the same.

25.—Should any dispute occur not satisfactorily determined by the preceding laws, a written statement of the facts must be sent to a disinterested arbiter, having a knowledge of the game, whose decision shall be final.

It often occurs that different openings, after a few moves, arrive at the same position. A knowledge of this fact is valuable in cross-board play. Below are given a few examples of the many ways in which different openings become identical with the Flora Temple.
