IRIS AND PEONIES

To Plant this Summer and Fall

WE TAKE great pleasure in presenting this bulletin of plant material, all of which has proved most satisfactory planted in fall. In order to encourage this fall planting, we offer special reductions, because we have the advantage of a longer planting season.

In addition to the plants listed, our Nurseries are complete with Evergreens, Shade Trees, Flowering Trees, etc., for landscaping the home. We especially call your attention to several hundred big trees which must be moved to clear the ground for the advancing Saw Mill River Parkway.

We offer a complete list of dwarf and standard Fruit Trees and suggest that you write for our General Catalogue.

Visitors at the Nursery are always welcome, and we invite you to personally select your trees and shrubs.

The Cream of a Great Peony Collection

For over twenty-five years Peonies have been a leading specialty at Rosedale Nurseries. Hundreds of varieties have been tested, and we now offer you 70 varieties which have stood the test.

Size of Plants. We offer three sizes: 3 to 5-eye divisions, one-year, and two-year, with a balanced root-system. We recommend one- and two-year sizes because they produce immediate results.

Culture. Peonies are extremely easy to grow and stand shipping and handling better than most perennials. They like rich, deep loam with an abundant supply of moisture. Do not use fresh manure near roots. Plant in September or October; cover eyes not over 2 inches.

Two-year plants are available only in the varieties marked *. For prices of 2-yr. size, double the price of divisions. Postage prepaid east of Mississippi on orders of $2 or more; on other orders add 10c. postage for first plant, 5c. for each additional plant, or shipment may be made by express collect.

Japanese Iris

The blooms of the Japanese Iris are 6 to 10 inches in diameter. They will grow in almost any soil that does not become too dry in summer, but they prefer a warm, sunny location.

The best time to plant is July, and from then on until the middle of September the plants may be safely planted in localities not too far north, so that they may have time to establish themselves before cold weather sets in. If they are planted rather late, they should be freely mulched after the ground is frozen in late autumn to keep the ground from heaving.

ROSEDALE SOIL

Not the least factor in the success of Rosedale Nurseries has been its perfect soil. Did it ever occur to you that the most important requisite for good trees is good soil—soil in which they find just the ingredients that make them grow clean and thrifty? Rosedale soil seems to have been made on purpose for a nursery. At a bend in the Saw Mill River, where the valley is considerably widened, this old river-bottom has been greatly enriched, not only by the sediment brought down the stream at flood-tide, but by the washing down of the good soil and leaf-mould from the surrounding hills. We thus have a gravelly loam, superimposed on a clay subsoil. This not only tends to grow masses of fibrous roots but also to form a solid ball of earth for handling of evergreens. Owing to this soil being naturally rich in tree ingredients, the trees do not have to be forced by intensive fertilizing, which tends to make hothouse growth.

Hardy Phlox

Hardy Perennials

Following the irises and peonies in time of bloom, but in no way behind them in popularity, are the Hardy Perennial Phloxes. We have weeded out all the magentas and purples, and believe that our list is as select as that offered by any firm.

1-year, blooming-size plants, 25 cts. each; $2 for 10. 2-year, heavy, 35 cts. each; $3 for 10.

Five at 10 rate, provided not less than 5 of a kind are ordered.

Phloxes are shallow-rooted plants and should, therefore, be planted a little deeper than most plants, and kept well tilled to conserve the moisture, as they cannot stand dry, packed soil like peonies and irises. No fertilizer should be near the roots. A little bonemeal sprinkled on the surface of the ground before hoeing gives good results, but be careful not to use too much.
