£18. 18s 1845

This Collection of the Books of Common Prayer are uniformly reprinted in Black Letter, like the original editions. Their importance and value are well known ; but it is remarkable that in no public, or private, or collegiate library can the whole of these Books be found together. A limited number only has been reprinted : and may be subscribed for in sets, but not separately.

The Book of 1662 has been carefully collated with the Sealed Book in the Tower of London, and other copies of the Sealed Book have been occasionally consulted.

- An explanatory introduction by the editor is prefixed. The volume is considered one of the most beautiful specimens of typography, which has appeared in the present day, and has therefore, a value independent of the interest attached to the musical portion of the work.

This masterly work is written in a series of seven dialogues on the model of Plato, a philosopher of whom the author is said to have been very fond; and it professes to be "an apology for the Christian Religion, against those who are called Freethinkers," whom he pursues through the various characters, of atheist, libertine, enthusiast, scorner, critic, metaphysician, fatalist, and sceptic. The Rev. John Ryland, says of it that "it is such a glorious defence of revelation, as every man of taste will wish if possible to read at once." It should be observed that his first English work, called "an Essay towards a new Theory of Vision," and first published in 1709, is reprinted at the end of the second volume of this, for reasons which he has given in the fourth dialogue. Of this Essay Dr. Reid observes, "that it was the first attempt that ever was made to distinguish the immediate and natural objects of sight, from the conclusions we have been accustomed from infancy to draw from them; and of all the author's works this seems to do the greatest honour to his sagacity."

- This author was one of the most learned of the Augustine order; he was Prefect of the celebrated Anglican Library at Florence, and subsequently Professor of Theology at Pisa. His system of Theology was attacked by the Jesuits, as reviving the errors of Jansenius; but on his reply, which forms the two last volumes, the author establishes the difference between the doctrines of Augustine and Jansenius.

This tract is usually supposed to have been written by Edward Seymour, Duke of Somerset, and Protector, during the short reign of Edward VI. who was his nephew; but it is, in fact, the production of Otho Wormulerus, and was first translated into the English language, from the original German of that author, by MYLES COVERDALE.

When the "Protector" sank beneath the violence of party, and was committed to the Tower, a manuscript copy of the "Spiritual Pearl" afforded so much genuine consolation to his hours of melancholy privacy and political disgrace, that, on his release, he caused it to be printed, and prefixed that recommendatory address which does so much honour to his principles and understanding. The firm sense and soundness of general religious opinion contained in the work, caused the edition published by the Duke to be eagerly procured by all parties, and copies have recently sold for as much as TEN GUINEAS.

- It would be quite out of place, as well as unnecessary, to dwell at any length upon the value of this imperishable monument of the indefatigable industry of the original compiler. To the ANTIQUARY and HISTORIAN the Monasticon affords the most ample information respecting our venerable and wealthy Religious Houses. A receptacle for a mass of biographical and historical information, its value is greatly enhanced by the numerous AUTHENTIC CHARTERS preserved in its pages. In this particular, the labours of SIR HENRY ELLIS and the REV. DR. BANDINEL have enriched the work from LEIGER BOOKS, CHARTULARIES, ROLLS, AND OTHER NATIONAL DOCUMENTS, and thus rendered it indispensable to those professional men, who on questions respecting REAL PROPERTY, practise in the highest Courts of the Country, the PRIVY COUNCIL, and the COURT OF CHANCERY.
- To the CLERGY the work possesses an interest, not only of an Antiquarian and Historical character, but one which has a more solid claim to their notice. By its means they are frequently enabled to settle, without employing the costly machinery of the Law, disputed questions respecting the property of the Church; and a reference to the very copious Index, added by the editors to the work, will show at once that there is scarcely a single parish which is not mentioned in its pages.
- Thus the CLERGY, the LAWYER, the ANTIQUARY, the HISTORIAN, the ARCHITECT, and the TOPOGRAPHER, as well as the POSSESSOR OF REAL PROPERTY, and the DESCENDANT OF A NOBLE LINE OF ANCESTORS, will find the Monasticon Anglicanum one of the most interesting and indispensable works, that has ever issued from the press of this country.

- An extremely rare and interesting volume, and for writing which, the author was imprisoned in the Tower, and soon after suffered martyrdom. Hall in his Chronicle, states, that Frith "was after divers and sondry examinations, brought unto the consistory in Paule's Church in London, before divers bisshopes, where after much disputyng for that he woulde not yelde nor submit himselfe to them, they condemned him, and delivered hym to the secular power to be brent as an heretike."

Fur Prædestinatus was published anonymously, and has generally been ascribed to the pen of Abp. Sancroft; it is therefore made a prominent article in the life of that distinguished Prelate, published by Dr. D'Oyly. This however is a mistake. The tract was in existence many years before Sancroft was capable of producing such a composition. It was first published and circulated in Holland, in the early part of the 17th century, when the controversy respecting Predestination was warmly agitated between the Calvinists and Arminians in the United Provinces; and was generally thought to have been the production of Henry Statius, a man of some note amongst the Remonstrants, &c.

- “ From the time of St. Bernard,” says Dupin, “ the Church never had an author of greater reputation, more profound knowledge, more solid piety, than Gerson. His style is harsh and careless ; yet he is methodical, reasons well, and exhausts his subjects. He founds his conclusions upon principles drawn from Scripture, or natural reason. He defends the truth upon all occasions, with an admirable and undaunted courage. He suffered a cruel persecution for a righteous cause, and died in exile for maintaining it with vigour. Many of his books are excellent, and divines cannot profit more than by reading them diligently.”

The variety of the works of Hemmerlein, is attested by a host of bibliographers. Speaking of the first work, Freytag pronounces it, "INTER RARISSIMOS PRIMI ORDINIS LIBROS," and the second he considers, "RARIOR SUPERIORE LIBRO." Fabricius for years hunted for the second in vain; and at last was indebted to his friend Vockerode for a sight of it. In the "Bibliotheca Mediæ et infimæ Latinitatis," he tells us, "Hic liber ante annum M.D. excusus RARISSIME PROSTAT. In Helvetiæ profecto ac vicinis Helvetiæ urbibus, utut adsidue requisitus fuerit, reperiri non potuit."

- The above Treatise on the Regal and Papal Supremacy, was published in the year 1702, when the principles of the Ecclesiastical and Civil Powers had been thrown into confusion by the Revolution of 1688. Its object is to fix the respective limits of these several authorities, and to exhibit the true theory of their combined operation in the so-called union of Church and State.
- It is hoped that its present republication may serve as an antidote to the false opinions which still prevail on this vital question, and at this moment threaten to bring the gravest practical evils upon the Church of England.
- The Treatise, which has become very scarce in its separate form, is reprinted from the Oxford edition of Leslie's Theological Works, and being complete in itself, it is given alone, without the Preface or Supplement, which have a special reference to the controversy of the day.

" To the biblical inquirer, it will present not only a new and wide field of most curious and happy research, but a mine of the most valuable information: to the classical inquirer it will be a most interesting work, as it involves so many points, both with respect to manuscripts and editions, which to him must be highly important. Of a volume that displays so much labour in investigation, so much originality in deduction, and so much sound principle in design, we can in common justice say no less, than that, whatever be the issue of the controversy which it has, we think very seasonably, revived, it reflects honour on the age and nation in which it was produced."—Brit. Crit.

- “ At the head of the Latin writers may justly be placed Rabanus Maurus, whose last office was that of Abp. of Mentz. He was the common preceptor of Germany and France; with whom no one in this (IXth) century can be compared, either for genius or extent of learning, or the multitude of books he composed. Whoever acquaints himself with the opinions of Rabanus Maurus, learns all that the best of the Latins thought and believed for about four centuries; for his writings were in the hands of all the learned.”—Mosheim.

- Paschasius Radbert is said to have been the first promulgator of the doctrine of Transubstantiation, and to have been compelled to resign his Abbacy on that account. His treatise made a great noise on its publication, and drew forth various answers, the chief of which were by Ratsm, John Scot, and the learned Archbishop of Mentz, Rabanus Maurus, who denounces Radbert's theory as an error and a novelty.

- A curious work. The author maintains the doctrine of Metempsychosis, and denies the eternity of future punishment. He not only contends that these were the sentiments of Fenelon, but that they are agreeable to the teaching of the Church.

- A Puritan Minister, and Vicar of Weston-upon-Avon. Born 1601, died 1669. This book is of the most extreme rarity, and but seldom seen complete. Mr. Horne, in speaking of the New Testament part, which he says contains "many judicious observations," observes, that "the same author also wrote Commentaries on some parts of the Old Testament," which he had not seen. The truth is, that they are so seldom seen that few know them. Mr. Bickersteth says, that "they contain many useful remarks, with much quaintness of wit." And Granger, "that his character for strictness of life, and as a preacher, was such, that he was, on the foot of his merit, offered very considerable benefices, which he refused to accept, as his condition was equal to his wishes."

 One of the most beautiful little volumes which have issued from the Irish press; the preface and notes of the learned editor abound with interest, in the former of which, he urges the great importance and necessity of the works of Wycliffe being collected and published, before his opinions can be determined, or his real merits fixed as a reformer, and further urges the danger of delay as the chances of their destruction are every day becoming greater. "What nobler, what more imperishable monument, could the gratitude of England, raise to her first reformer, than a complete and uniform edition of his extant writings?"

The Historical Common-place Book of Dr. William Harris, author of the Lives of James I., Charles I., Oliver Cromwell, Charles II., etc. containing, inter alia, some of his materials for a HISTORY OF JAMES II., which it was his intention to publish. MANUSCRIPT, in his own handwriting, folio, in vellum binding, £1. 10s

In addition to the historical matter contained in this volume there are many private memoranda of the author; the following are certainly curious:—

“Dec. 11, 1764. If I dye before the publication of Charles II., I desire my MS. may be sent to Mr. Hollis, (his friend Thomas Hollis, the republican, who had lent him many books), if he survives, to be disposed of as he shall think proper. All his letters I hereby order shall be sought out and returned without perusal to him. Let my policy of insurance be made over immediately in the name of Mrs. Harris, by an indorsement from the office of Exon. I desire Mrs. Harris constantly to have a will by her in due form, otherwise the lawyers may run away with her effects: and that Mr. How, or in case he dies, Mr. Stokes may have the management of her affairs. But never employ Mr. Gidley. Part with no writings without having a receipt for them on your book. This book I give to Molly Freeman, and desire her very carefully to preserve. If Mrs. Macaulay desires ANY MINUTES FOR THE LIFE OF JAMES II. CONTAINED IN THIS BOOK, let them be transcribed and sent her. Will. Harris, Nov. 10, 1767.” There are other testamentary directions.

- 5058 S. LAURENTII JUSTINIANI, Veneti, liber de officio pastoralis. MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM, of the fifteenth century, small folio, in neat half-morocco binding, £2. 2s

Lorenzo Giustiniani, of one of the noblest families of Venice, was consecrated bishop of that city by Eugenio IV. 1431-35, and seems to have said "nolo Episcopari" in earnest, for Cave says he was so appointed "postquam nullas non preces, nullas non artes, ut onus impositum excuteret, adhibuisset. Vir infucata erga Deum pietate, prodiga in pauperes charitate, et cogenti religionis zelo, merito celebrandus." Venice was erected into a patriarchate by Nicolas V. in 1450, and Giustiniani was the first who filled that high dignity. He died in 1450, and was canonized by Clement VII. in 1524.

There is no piece under the above title included in the editions of his printed works, unless it be his treatise "de regimine et institutione Prælatorum." It is certain, however, that this MS. remained in his family, from the following inscription in the hand-writing of his celebrated Nephew, the Historian of Venice, "liber hie est mei Bernardi Justiniaoi, oratoris, procuratoris, nepotis Beati Justiniani suctoris hujus libri, qui est de officio pastoralis." This is the autograph of one who was a pupil of Guarino, of Filelfo, and of George of Trebisond, who was repeatedly ambassador from the Republic, and who was a member of the Council of Ten, and at last Procurator of St. Mark, the second dignity of the state.

We may consider this author as almost belonging to the English series, for the present head of his family, Prince Giustiniani, is the nearest heir to an earldom in this country, the Scotch Peerage of Newburgh, and the title is at present assumed by a younger branch, on the ground that Prince Giustiniani, as an alien, is incapable of inheriting English honours.

- ii. "A Rich dewry, or jonter, made mee bye my maker, my husband, (the Lord of Hosts is his name,) and my redeemer the holy on of Israel, the God of the whole earth shall he be called: Isaiah, liv. 4. And delivered me bye his survant, my dear loveing husband, as my only, and alone suficient porcion to rest on."

By Mary Cholmley, daughter of Sir H. Cholmley, wife of Henry Fairfax, second son of Thomas, first Lord, and brother of Ferdinando, second Lord Fairfax.

MANUSCRIPT, neatly written, 12mo. £1. 1s

This Manuscript belonged to Bryan Fairfax, son of the above Henry and Mary Fairfax, as appears from his name at the commencement. He has also prefixed this note to the second tract. - 5061 MAZARIN. Lettres et Mémoires du Cardinal Mazarin à Messieurs de Tellier et de Lionne: contenant le secret de la négociation de la paix des Pyrenées, dans les conférences tenues à Saint Jean de Luz en 1669: avec plusieurs lettres du mesme, très curieuses, écrites au Roy et à la Reine pendant son voyage. MANUSCRIPT, very neatly written, large and thick folio, in calf binding, £2. 2s
- These letters contain Mazarin's account of the celebrated negotiation between himself and Don Luis de Haro at St. Jean de Luz, where these two prime ministers of France and Spain completed in person the long pending treaty of Westphalia. This transaction is very properly considered the chef-d'œuvre of Mazarin's policy, and he himself appears to have considered it somewhat in that light, for he wrote this account of the conferences for the King's instruction, and with a view of initiating him into politics. One of his historians justly says, "il n'existe pas de meilleures leçons diplomatiques; ce qui se passait dans ces conférences y est développé avec une netteté, une précision qui met en quelque façon le lecteur en tiers avec les deux plénipotentiaires."
- This MS. may be considered an official copy, as it was procured for Sir Robert Southwell, Secretary of State to William III. and ancestor of the late Lord De Clifford, by William Blathwayt, Secretary at War to James II., and afterwards to William III., whose letter to Sir Robert, dated Whitehall, 23 Jan. 1685, accompanies this volume: in it he says, "Mazarin's letters are in a good forwardness, and will be sent you entire and bound from hence."
- 5062 ——— Some remarks on Cardinal Mazarin's Negotiation of the Pyrenean Peace in 1659. Chiefly for what then related to England; and as now appears from his own letters, printed in two parts, in 1690 and 1693. By Sir Robert Southwell, Knt. MANUSCRIPT, neatly written, folio, £1. 11s 6d
- 5063 MISCELLANEA THEOLOGICA: a Collection of seven Treatises of various authors. MANUSCRIPT on paper, chiefly written by Robert Stockton, an English student at Padua, in the year 1447, 4to. in vellum binding, £1. 1s
- This Manuscript appears to have belonged in 1520 to Robert Whetley, a monk, to whom it was given by Richard Janson; in 1574 it was given by William Beopor, Esq. to John Bidlake, who has inserted some indexes of its contents, which are
- i. S. Gregorii Papæ I. libellus de proprietatibus vocabulorum et animalium.
 - ii. Lotharii diaconi, postea Innocentii Papæ III., de miseria hominis, sive de contemptu mundi liber.
 - iii. Petri Brunicheli opus abbreviatum.
 - iv. S. Augustini Hipponensis liber Soliloquiorum.
- At the end of this we read, "Scriptus a fratre Roberto Stockton, anno Domini 1447, in florentissimo ginguasio Padua nomine."
- v. Quædam excerpts sive dicta Beati Isidori.
 - vi. Beati Bernardi liber de templo spirituali et qualiter in nobis debeat edificari.
 - vii. Ejuadem libellus de miseria hominis.
- 5064 ——— A large and curious Collection of Treatises, some of them unpublished. MANUSCRIPT, written in the latter part of the fifteenth century, thick 4to. in very fine internal condition, £2, 12s 6d
- This Manuscript formerly belonged to the Monastery of Rubea Vallis, (Roode-Clooster) a house of Canons regular, near Brussels, and was, not improbably, written for the use of its monks. A short notice of its contents follows:
- i. Petri de Rosenhaym Roseum memoriale, sive compendium singulorum librorum

At the end is a curious note by the scribe, stating that when he wrote this copy he was not aware that the monastery already possessed the work at the end of the life of St. Gudild, with many additions by a canon regular of Contimpré, near Cambrai, who had sent his work to Ægidius, Prior of the monastery of Oignies.

5068 PROPHE TARUM MINORUM fragmenta. Coptice et Latinè. MANUSCRIPT, evidently prepared for the press, in the hand-writing of DR. DAVID WILKINS, the Editor of the Coptic Pentateuch and New Testament, sm. 4to. beautifully written, £2. 2s —

At the sale of the family papers of Lorda Fairfax, little or no care seems to have been taken to preserve them in order, in consequence many of the more curious manuscripts are incomplete, part having fallen to one purchaser, part to another. This has been the case with these curious and valuable fragments of the unpublished part of the Old Testament in Coptic. It is probable that the entire work existed in the Collection, but the following fragments are all that the publisher has been able to find. The MS. contains:—

- Daniel, ch. viii. ver. 1 to ch. xi. ver. 15.
 Bel and the Dragon, complete.
 Hosea, ch. iv. ver. 6. to ch. vii. ver. 14.
 Amos, complete.
 Micah, complete.
 Joel, as far as ch. ii. ver. 22.
 Zephaniah, complete, except part of one verse.
 Haggai, complete.
 Zechariah, as far as ch. i. ver. 9.

5070 VENETIAN RELATIONS, etc. i. Relatione della Republica di Venetia fatta dal Marchese de Bedmar, Ambasciadore Cattolico presso la serenissima Republica de Venetia.

This account of Venice relates to one of the most extraordinary periods of its history. The author, Alfonso de la Cueva, Marquis de Bedmar, one of the most intriguing men of his time, was sent, in 1607, by Philip III. of Spain, as his ambassador to Venice. In 1618 he was sent, in concert with Don Pedro de Toledo, Governor of Milan, and the Duke of Osuna, Viceroy of Naples, to have conspired against the Republic to which he was accredited; Spanish soldiers were to be introduced by stealth, the arsenal fired, the strong posts seized, the nobles murdered en masse, and Venice itself brought under the Spanish yoke. The plot, however, was discovered, or said to be discovered, by the Venetian Senate, and several hundreds fell victims to their vengeance. Five months after the commencement of the executions, either a tardy gratitude or a profane mockery was offered to Heaven; and the Doge and Nobles returned thanks for their great deliverance, by a solemn service at St. Mark's. Bedmar, whose office was respected by the Senate, escaped by their connivance, and took refuge at Milan. He was afterwards, in 1622, created Cardinal by Gregory XV. and appointed Governor of the Low Countries. THIS WORK HAS NEVER BEEN PRINTED.

- ii. Relazione della corte di Roma, fatta nel Senato Veneto alli 22 di Nov. 1623 dal Cavaliere Raniero Zeno.

This is a curious picture of the state of Rome, after the death of Gregory XV. and the election of Urban VIII. The author was the head of the noble house of Zeno, and is here stiled Cavaliere, a title usually given to a noble on his return from an embassy, and accompanied by the distinction of a golden star embroidered on his robe.

- iii. Instruttione data dal Marchese di Bedmar, già Ambasciadore Cattolico in Venetia, à Don Luigi Bravo, suo successore, circa il modo col quale si dovera governare nella sua ambascieria.

This work, which may be called a continuation of the first, is ALSO UNPUBLISHED.

PRICE £31 10s. Hf. Bnd. MOROCCO, UNCUT,

A NEW EDITION OF

Dugdale's Monasticon Anglicanum;

A HISTORY OF THE

ABBEYS, AND OTHER MONASTERIES,

HOSPITALS, FRIARIES, AND

CATHEDRAL AND COLLEGIATE CHURCHES,

IN ENGLAND AND WALES,

AND ALL SUCH SCOTCH, IRISH AND FRENCH MONASTERIES

AS WERE IN ANY MANNER CONNECTED WITH THE RELIGIOUS HOUSES IN ENGLAND.

THIS NEW EDITION OF THE MONASTICON will be reprinted from that edited in 1817, by MESSRS. CALEY, ELLIS AND BANDINEL, and upon which those eminent Antiquaries were employed from the year 1812 to 1830. From the mode of publication then adopted, the work crept slowly through the press during a period of thirteen years, and consequently it was found impossible to keep up an exact uniformity of paper and typography. The great improvements which have taken place in the manufacture of paper, the brilliancy of the ink now employed by our great printers, and the very superior skill of the copperplate printers of the present day, will enable the proprietors to place before the public, at the comparatively low price of £31 10s., a work in every way superior to that for which the former subscribers paid no less than £141 15s. The limited impression of 350 copies, to which the last edition was confined, has in no way injured the copperplates, the greater part of which were executed by the late JOHN CONEY, from sketches made by him expressly for the work. The numerous typographical errors, which unfortunately are to be met with in the impression of 1817—30, will be carefully corrected in the present reprint;* which otherwise will be paginatim, to facilitate reference from the labours of other antiquaries and professional men, who have availed themselves of the valuable information contained in the enlarged edition of the Collections of SIR WILLIAM DUGDALE.

It would be quite out of place, as well as unnecessary, to dwell at any length upon the value of this imperishable monument of the indefatigable industry of the original compiler. To the ANTIQUARY and HISTORIAN the Monasticon affords the most ample information respecting our venerable and wealthy Religious Houses. A receptacle for a mass of biographical and historical information, its value is greatly enhanced by the numerous AUTHENTIC CHARTERS preserved in its pages. In this particular, the labours of SIR HENRY ELLIS and the REV. DR. BANDINEL have enriched the work from LEIGER BOOKS, CHARTULARIES, ROLLS, AND OTHER NATIONAL DOCUMENTS, and thus rendered it indispensable to those professional men, who on questions respecting REAL PROPERTY, practise in the highest Courts of the Country, the PRIVY COUNCIL, and the COURT OF CHANCERY. Hence it will be seen that, acknowledged and admitted as it is, as evidence in all doubtful points as to the distribution of property, and in tracing landed possessions from their earliest proprietors, the Monasticon is indispensable to EVERY LAWYER employed in the higher walks of his profession.

* The revision of this new Edition has been entrusted to an eminent Antiquary.

To the CLERGY the work possesses an interest, not only of an antiquarian and historical character, but one which has a more solid claim to their notice. By its means they are frequently enabled to settle, without employing the costly machinery of the Law, disputed questions respecting the property of the Church; and a reference to the very copious Index, added by the editors to the work, will show at once that there is scarcely a single parish which is not mentioned in its pages. The numerous ground plans, sections, and full descriptions of the Ecclesiastical Edifices of the Middle Ages, have enabled the ARCHITECT, in many cases, to restore those buildings to their original grandeur; whilst it is admitted on all hands, that the great improvement of the National Taste in this respect, during the last ten years, is mainly attributable to the inimitable plates by JOHN CONEY, which adorn the pages of Dugdale's Monasticon.

Thus the CLERGY, the LAWYER, the ANTIQUARY, the HISTORIAN, the ARCHITECT, and the TOPOGRAPHER, as well as the POSSESSOR OF REAL PROPERTY, and the DESCENDANT OF A NOBLE LINE OF ANCESTORS, will find the Monasticon Anglicanum one of the most interesting and indispensable works, that has ever issued from the press of this country. Feeling convinced that their efforts to place the new edition within the reach of all, by reducing the price to less than one-fourth of its original cost, will meet with the encouragement of the learned public, the present proprietors have determined upon reprinting a limited impression, the copies of which will be delivered complete, before the close of the present year, in the order in which they are subscribed for; and a list of the patrons of this noble undertaking will be prefixed to each copy, the subscriber's own name being printed in red ink, to mark his copy to his latest posterity.

To those who may prefer to receive the volumes at an interval of every three months, upon signing an undertaking to purchase the entire work, the eight volumes will be delivered, half-bound in morocco, within two years, upon the quarterly payment of four guineas, commencing from the day of publication. As, however, no volume will be issued till the whole eight are printed, such subscribers will be entitled to receive their copies, in the numerical order in which their names appear in the subscription list.

Anticipating the same success which attended the publication of the former edition, every copy of which had been appropriated before the first part was sent to press, an early application is recommended. Subscribers' names received by
