

HOLD RILEY DAY

MISS LAURA SCOTT TELLS INTIMATE STORIES OF THE POET TO LIBRARY CHILDREN

If the children who attended the Story hour at Glendale library, Wednesday, knew nothing else about James Whitcomb Riley, except that he was the author of the child's poem, "The Goble-uns Will Get Ye If Ye Don't Look Out," they came away from that morning's session with a much widened impression of what the deceased poet did and said.

The library was crowded with eager children who have been attending the hour all along. There were also some new faces. "All were profoundly interested in what Miss Laura Scott had to tell them about James Whitcomb Riley, the Hoosier poet. Miss Scott is an Indian herself and was personally acquainted with the poet. She had many interesting stories to tell of his early days when he was a traveling house painter and traversed the length and breadth of the State of Indiana, pursuing his trade and observing the ways and habits and quaint language of the country people; seeing the frost on the pumpkin and fodder in the shock; making merry at Christmas time as Santa Claus and always and everywhere making friends with the children.

Riley, besides being an itinerant painter in his early days, was somewhat of a country fiddler. He could hit off the quaint bowing of "The Arkansas Traveller," "Turkey in the Straw," "Old Dan Tucker" and a score more of the ancient country dances. He could rattle off "Money-musk" in the good, old style and play "Rory O' More" like an Irish bagpiper. He was always welcome wherever he went and all the time he was storing up for future use the manners and incidents of the country folk. They appeared later in his poems.

Miss Scott had a great deal to tell the children of the kindness and sweetness of the poet and the children listened with great pity to the story of his last years, saddened by paralysis but brightened by the un-failing faith and glad temperament of the poet himself.

Miss Scott told the children of how she had written to Riley last summer concerning the work that Mrs. Danford had been doing among the children of Glendale and of how interested he was in the work. She told them how he had got his secretary to write to her and to give her a message to the Glendale Story Hour class and how he had sent them a poem and his picture and of how much the lonely poet delighted in the fact that the children of Glendale had remembered him.

Mrs. Danford read with much good taste and dramatic expression Riley's interesting poem, "Out to Old Aunt Mary's" which was received by the children with much appreciation. Elizabeth Mottern then recited Riley's "Granny" and "A Boy's Mother."

Miss Scott had a number of interesting pictures to show the children, some of which were: James Whitcomb Riley with a group of children; Riley's birthplace in Greenfield, Ind., and his last residence on Lockerbie street, Indiana city; also the Riley room in the State capitol.

Among the interesting stories that Miss Scott had to narrate was the tale of the friendship of Riley and Eugene Field. Field was on the Chicago Daily News staff when Riley was in the habit of tripping it up to Chicago. The two met and became intimate friends. They were close friends for many years, up to the time of the untimely death of the gifted author of "Little Boy Blue."

Altogether this was one of the most interesting and instructive of the Library Story hours, which have grown in popularity and usefulness at each new gathering.

CURIOUS AUSTRALIAN MARSUPIAL IS ENJOYING THE GLENDALE CLIMATE

Dr. and Mrs. William Gray, who recently came to California from Sydney, Australia, and who are now visiting at the home of Dr. Gray's daughter, Mrs. H. E. Royston, 335 Orange street, brought with them some curious native animals of Australia. Two of these—a kangaroo and a parrot—have already been described in the Glendale Evening News. The third member of this interesting trio is a fine specimen of the Australian tree bear.

This curious animal is now getting very rare in Australia and the government there has forbidden the exportation of any of the family. This little pet, however, having been injured by a fall from a tree, the regulations were relaxed. The two badly broken legs that the "Teddy bear" sustained were set and healed up in good shape and "Teddy" is as lively and interesting as ever.

This tree bear, as it is called, belongs to a species that is rapidly becoming extinct before the spread of civilization in Australia. They are known as tree bears because they are usually to be found among the Eucalyptus trees, on which they feed and thrive. As she can get plenty of Eucalyptus leaves in Glendale "Teddy" is healthy and happy here.

This interesting animal looks very much like one of the children's teddy bears. She has a peculiar hooked nose. Her coat is of wool like that of a sheep. She belongs to the order of marsupials, having a pouch for carrying her family, after the manner of the kangaroo. Her claws are prehensile like the fingers of a monkey; or it should rather be said that she has paws like those of the Simian tribe, but that there are claws on the ends of the fingers.

On the way over from Australia Teddy was fed on Eucalyptus leaves that had been stored in the steamship's refrigerator.

LADIES' MISSIONARY CIRCLE

WILL VOTE FOR THE KIDS

Visiting in the San Joaquin valley lately the subject of the wet and dry campaign was touched, when a farm hand present said: "I used to fight prohibition, and I fought it hard; but I have turned square about. I have knocked about all over California and I noticed when in a dry town that the little children were clean and well dressed, and so bright and happy in their faces. They looked as if they were taken care of. But in a wet town the little ones were dirty and poorly dressed, and so neglected looking—poor kids—poor, poor little, helpless, innocent kiddies! I tell you, that is what turned me. Any guy can see for himself—just look about where there are lots of saloons—then go to a dry town and see the difference. I'll vote prohibition every time. Yes-sir-ee!"

Touching another subject, he said: "I have not got religion—I don't know anything about religion—don't believe in it much, anyway."

ADVENTIST PROGRESS

SEVENTH-DAY CHURCH RAISES $17,000,000 IN TEN YEARS

A report just received from the world's headquarters of the Seventh-day Adventists in Washington, D. C., by members of the local church, tells of the remarkable growth of the denomination in North America during the past year. More than five thousand members were added to the church, and contributions received during 1915 amounted to $2,542,682.99, a gain of $213,931.11 over the preceding year. This is an average of $32.71 for every church member in this country. Seventeen million dollars is the sum raised for church work by the Adventists of North America during the last ten years.

The tithe, or tenth of the income, which the Adventists contribute systematically for the support of their ministers, amounted in America last year to $1,337,810.20, this being a gain of $67,848.11 over 1914. The 20-cents-a-week fund for foreign missions, which is contributed largely by the Adventist Sabbath schools, reached $692,477.71 last year. Every Saturday morning, when the Sabbath schools meet for their regular Bible study, just before the preaching services, the members are reminded by a large clock of the goal for North America—an average of 20 cents per week per member for foreign missions. Several large conferences have exceeded the goal thus far this year. The raising of this money and the rapid extension of their missionary work in foreign lands is in harmony with the policy of the Adventists to give the gospel to the world in this generation.

The religious statistics compiled for the Laymen's Missionary Convention, held in Los Angeles, March 1, show that in California Seventh-day Adventists led all other Protestant denominations in per capita contributions in 1915, the amount being an average of 30.61 for the year for every Adventist in the State.

EASTERN STAR PARTY

The regular meeting of Glen Eyrle Chapter, Order Eastern Star, was held at Masonic Temple Thursday evening. After the business of the order had been disposed of a social time was enjoyed, Mrs. A. W. Tower and a capable committee being in charge of the evening. As usual, Mrs. Fern Roberts, the tireless little Worthy Matron, had used much discretion in appointing this committee and a very happy affair was the result. The company of more than sixty guests was divided into two sides and numbers were given each person. Partners were found by matching numbers and the couples took precedence in the order of their numbers in selecting "white elephants." Each guest had brought in a neatly wrapped package a "white elephant" for exchange and the opening of these packages caused much laughter and applause. The evening was one of much enjoyment for all present.

The next regular meeting of Glen Eyrle chapter will be held Thursday, September 14 and will be devoted to making plans for the official visit of the Grand Officers on September 28, the annual banquet of Glen Eyrle to be held on the same date. The committee in charge of arrangements for that evening consists of Miss Cora Hickman, Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mrs. D. H. Imler and Mrs. W. H. Bullis. The members of the Reception committee are Mrs. A. W. Tower, Miss Fredonia Borthick, Mrs. Mary Ogden Ryan, Mr. C. O. Pulliam and Mr. E. U. Emery.

COLOSSUS OF CANYONS

In the laudable policy of "seeing America First," which has received such an impetus this year of grace 1916, on account of the European war, the building of good roads and the use of the automobile, many Americans and some inhabitants of Glendale have been through the famous Canyon of the Colorado river, in Arizona. One and all are agreed that, as Theodore Roosevelt once said, "It is beyond comparison, beyond description; absolutely unparalleled throughout the wide world."

Professor John C. Van Dyke, who has explored many a secret recess of the canyon, and traversed many of the reaches of its mysterious waters, says: "More mysterious in its depth than the Himalayas in their height, the Grand Canyon remains not the eighth but the first wonder of the world. There is nothing like it."

Even the most superficial description of this vast panorama is beyond the power of words. The wanderer upon the rim overlooks a thousand square miles of pyramids and minarets carved from the painted depths. Many miles away and more than a mile below the level of his feet he sees a tiny silver thread which he knows is the mighty Colorado river. The spectacle bewilders his brain and benumbs his senses. He stands as though smitten with some supernatural catalepsy. He is frozen as he stands. It is too mighty, too vast, superhuman, titanic. Words despair to express it and before its marvel the human intelligence is arrested and wordless. There is no measure to it. There is nothing that the eye can grasp or the mind fathom.

This catlepsy in the mind of the beholder may continue for hours and it is only after the lapse of a considerable time that he is able to adjust himself to his surroundings and to take in some of the details of the awesome spectacle. Before him serenely the sunlight falls on a myriad canyons, dazzling to the eye in their changing vestments of many colors. To the mind that is able to lift itself up to grasp the infinitude of this astounding scene the mountains are seen to be cliffs carved out by the constant erosion of the descending waters. They look like kings of chaos, stayed on their march in Creation by the voice of the morning stars. The silence is so deep, so awful, that it is eloquence itself and speaks in unmeasured tones of exultant adoration of the hand of the Creator.

To see this wonderful canyon or network of canyons is to have realized in part at least some of those things which "eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither has it entered into the heart of man to conceive." It is easy to pass over in mental flight from the stupendous scenes of the Grand Canyon to those glories which the Almighty hath prepared elsewhere. It is a lesson of great value to see the Grand Canyon. It breathes of infinity and leads even the most commonplace mind to understand that in the presence of the infinitude of the Creator it is never possible wholly to adjust oneself. It plants in the unthinking heart a seed that will grow some day into a wonderful growth. To the ordinary mind it is a revelation. It is a new standpoint whence the teachable soul can rise to higher things. Even the most thoughtless is sobered and disciplined by this scene of marvels. By all means see America first and with all your seeing don't miss the Grand Canyon of Colorado.

PORTO RICO AND SANTO DOMINGO

There is a close connection between Porto Rico and Santo Domingo. They are separated from each other by only a short distance. They are both American inasmuch as Porto Rico was annexed by this country and Santo Domingo is a virtual protectorate of the United States. It may be that under the regime of some United States government with a strong foreign policy Santo Domingo, that paradise of the Antilles, will be annexed and the corrupt black misrule of the island be ended. The people would then breathe freely and voodooism and all its horrors would vanish into the limbo of repudiated heathenisms.

Porto Rico is American. It has American institutions and is gradually evolving a loyal American citizenship out of the Spanish and native elements that the island affords. It is close to Santo Domingo and has had many affiliations with that island through the fact that Porto Ricans have emigrated thither and acquired interests in the land. In the various revolutions that have shaken the island of Santo Domingo during the past fifty years Porto Rico has always been a refuge for the defeated aspirants to the presidency or for the defeated president. Just at this time two former presidents, Borda and the famous Jimenez, are in Porto Rico. Borda was the last president regularly elected by the votes of the people. Jimenez was only recently forced to resign as a result of the present revolution, that has compelled the United States to send marines to the island to protect American interests and those of other nations. Porto Rico is prosperous; Santo Domingo bankrupt.

As the United States through the enunciation of the Monroe Doctrine has served notice on foreign nations that they must not acquire rights and privileges in the West Indies or rather in the Americas, it has become necessary for this country to police such places as Santo Domingo. In doing this duty the United States authorities have brought over to Porto Rico a great many refugees, who have been despoiled of their property in the "black" island and have lost all their savings and been cast out naked and destitute.

Porto Rico itself has great sympathy for the masses of the Dominican people but thinks them incapable of governing themselves. They think that heroic treatment is necessary for the island. It is one of the fairest islands in the world, but is without schools, roads or transportation facilities or even industrial life; yet it has unrivaled assets. It is unequalled as an agricultural center. It affords unrivaled stock-raising opportunities and would prove a wonderful lumber region. The lumber industry in its various forms awaits but the touch of labor and capital.

There are thousands of Dominicans who would be glad to devote themselves to the exploitation of that and of other industries but they dare not. The reign of terror inaugurated by the blacks has never ceased to paralyze the energies and efforts of

FOR AUTO DRIVERS

In caring for a car that was almost new, a reader of the Christian Science Monitor noticed that the mast just underneath the clutch and brake pedals was beginning to show signs of wear, caused by resting the heel of the shoe there so much. Often a hole is worn through to the board in this place, while the rest of the covering is quite good.

A small piece of oilcloth of suitable color was found and placed on the mat with thumb tacks; later in a five and ten cent store, a small rubber mat was purchased, four inches wide and twelve inches long. This latter has now been used in that particular car for almost a year, and by its use the floor of the car shows no more signs of wear on the side of the driver than on the other side.

A PORTABLE TRAVELING LAMP

A convenient novelty recently introduced is a tiny electric lamp which may be adjusted in a moment at any spot it is needed—at either side of the dressing table, in the Pullman sleeper, at the head of the bed, or in the dark corner of a closet. It folds into compact quarters and may easily be carried about. It is connected wherever needed by a special device in the base.

"Talent without enthusiasm is like the windmill without wind."

Vote August 29th, 1916 to Re-elect

Thomas Lee Woolwine DISTRICT ATTORNEY "HE HAS MADE GOOD"

those who would fain see the island raised from its present low estate. The blacks drive every energetic individual from the paths of peace; industry dare not raise its head and the only people who flourish are the revolutionists and counter-revolutionists.

It would seem the duty of the United States under the Monroe act to go into the island and lay the ghost of anarchy which is ever stalking about there. It is surely a Christian duty to put an end to a reign of gross terrorism, debauchery and murder. "Rum and Rebellion" are the watchwords of the drunken negroes of Santo Domingo.

Bobby, aged four, often called on his nearest neighbor, Mrs. Brown, who usually gave him cookies. If she forgot it, he sometimes reminded her. His father told him he must not do so any more. A day or two later Bobby came home with cookie crumbs in evidence. "Have you been begging cookies from Mrs. Brown again?" asked his father rather sternly. "No," said Bobby. "I didn't beg for any. I just said, 'This house smells as if it were full of cookies, but what is that to me?'"

GLENDALE FOOTHILLS

The second monthly meeting of the Central Avenue P.-T. A., which during the summer have been in the nature of open air basket picnics and entertainments, was held at La Ramada, Thursday, from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m. There was an excellent attendance of members, friends and school children.

The principal guests of the day were Mrs. W. A. Galentine, of Santa Monica, District president of the Mothers' Congress and P.-T. Association, and Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, president of the Glendale Federation of P.-T. A. After the tempting contents of the bulging baskets had been disposed of under the giant pepper tree and the various arbors, the gathering was called to order at 2 p. m. by Mrs. F. C. Kurtz, local P.-T. A. president, who led in a salute to the flag. The following program was given:

Piano solos by Richard Berry (pupil of Roy Hastings): "Rondo Capriccioso (Mendelssohn)" and "To Spring" (Grieg). Scarf Dance—Robert Lehman. Fox Trot—Myra Kohler. St. Denis Dance, Majeska—Master Kohler, Doris Cook.

Address by Mrs. Galentine, in which she outlined the plans of work in the numerous department of the organization which she heads, and emphasized the importance to all women of informing themselves upon the political issues of the State and national campaigns, since women equally with men, constitute the electorate of California, and should exercise the franchise in the most intelligent manner, both with respect to the candidates and the many important questions on the ballots. Mrs. Galentine's remarks especially greeting the children were very pleasing. A reading by Mrs. Jones and a well rendered piano solo by Master William Hager then followed. The exercises closed with greetings extended on behalf of the Glendale Federation P.-T. A. by Mrs. Hutchinson.

Both in the forenoon and afternoon spirited and well contested foot races, arranged by Miss Rowe, playground director of the Central Avenue school, excited the spectators; the rewards of the winners being the honor of wearing blue, red and white ribbons.

Added interest to the occasion was contributed by a troupe of 30 movie actors, who arrived in time for dinner, thus adding to the pressure of the commissary department of this popular resort. As a side show, the "work" of the movies during the afternoon proved of much interest to the gathering. Altogether it was a perfect day, a full day, and a red letter day for everybody.

Mrs. Dr. J. T. Morgan has sold her property at 1219 Viola avenue to A. W. Gowen of Los Angeles.

J. M. Terrell has disposed of his property at 1112 Viola avenue and has purchased a bungalow from Julius Kranz located on Fairview, in the block east of Brand boulevard.

H. E. Sohner has made a deal for his residence property, No. 1113 Viola avenue, and will leave for Illinois with his family on the 14th instant for an indefinite stay at the old home.

Miss Jane Barrett is reported to have exchanged property at Hermosa Beach for 4 lots on Gilbert street near San Rafael avenue.

Mrs. Kate Walsh, a property owner on Melrose avenue, has sold her residence on Sycamore avenue, 200 feet west of Columbus, and is building a home for herself and daughter on Alessandro street, Edendale, Los Angeles. Miss Walsh is now on a vacation trip in Glacier National park.

J. A. Appfel and family have returned after a four months' sojourn at Ocean Park, to their home at 1125 Melrose avenue. Mr. Appfel left Wednesday morning for a business trip to San Francisco.

Mrs. R. C. Sternberg and family of 1226 Viola avenue are spending the summer at Mountain View, near San Jose, on the old home ranch, with her sister's family. Little Dick and the other children are having the time of their lives.

Mrs. Canney of 1115 N. Central avenue has left for a visit to Chicago.

The Specifications Read

"I agree to use Glendale Mill Co.'s Window and Door Screens, or agree to furnish screens equally as good."
So superior are Glendale Mill screens than most screens on the market, that owners demand that contractors include above clause in their specifications.
Glendale Mill Screens have a large sale in Los Angeles, Hollywood, Pasadena and other Southern California cities in addition to Glendale.
The superiority of their material and workmanship is unquestioned,—the price is as low as many cheaply constructed screens.

MUSIC

There is an organ in my elm,
A harp within my maple tree;
And Maestro Wind from each compels
An equal harmony;—
At morning a sonata clear,
A symphony superb at noon;
And with the soft descent of eve
A pure and pensive tune.

What need have I in crowded towns
To seek for grand orchestral scores,
When daily through my casement drift
These airs of out-of-doors!

"Of all the bad fairies who meddle with life, the worst are a mischievous elf and his wife; so whatever you're doing, beware of these two: They are 'Haven't Much Time' and 'I Guess It Will Do.'"

"What is a man-of-war?" said a teacher to his class.
"A cruiser," was the prompt reply.
"What makes it go?"
"Its screw, sir."
"Who goes with it?"
"Its crew, sir."—Sailor's Magazine.

A LESSON WELL LEARNED
The lesson in natural history had been about the rhinoceros, and the teacher wanted to know how well the lesson had been learned. "Now, name something," she said, "that is very dangerous to get near to, and that has horns."
"An automobile."—Queen's Garden.

If You Live In a Community

If you have children to educate, if you are interested in local social or religious affairs—if you own or expect to own a home or property in your home town it is to your interest to patronize your local stores and home institutions at all times, provided investigation proves that you can do so to as good advantage as elsewhere. A community is built up from within as well as from without. If Glendale would succeed and grow the citizens will have to boost and co-operate for the good of the town.

UNWRITTEN POETRY

Many people suppose that poetry is something to be found only in books, contained in lines of ten syllables with like endings; but wherever there is a sense of beauty, or power, or harmony, as in the motion of a wave of the sea, in the growth of a flower that "spreads its sweet leaves to the air, and dedicates its beauty to the sun,"—there is poetry, in its birth.—Hazlitt.

SELF-CORRECTION

Bear with yourself but do not flatter yourself. Work effectually and steadily, yet calmly and without the impatience of self-love, at the correction of your faults.—Fenelon.

LA CRESCENTA

J. P. Jones is having a beautiful house erected on Briggs avenue. J. E. Polsey, the contractor, has given La Crescenta people the first chance to work on the job and as a result several local boys are now employed there. We wish there were more contractors like Mr. Polsey.

Norman Hawkins is enjoying a vacation in Bear Valley.

Mr. Hooper Barry has returned from his vacation.

Niles Thompson has given up his position with the Los Angeles County Library and is now employed by the Montrose Grocery.

The Wetherbees spent Monday in Los Angeles.

Joe Koolman leaves shortly for his old home in Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Mrs. Miller, our librarian, says there are lots of good books and magazines at the library and she would like to see more readers.

Rehearsals for the play, "Owin' to Maggie" are coming along splendidly. There will be several vocal and instrumental numbers besides the play and you certainly will miss something if you don't come. This will undoubtedly be the best entertainment ever presented in the valley and a large attendance is looked for. Don't forget the time and the place: Friday night, August 11, La Crescenta school. People from neighboring communities are invited. Admission 15 cents.

Honolulu avenue is being fixed up in great style. It is being regraded where necessary and surfaced with gravel.

John Leenhouts, Jr., has discovered a method of making a poison oak remedy from the native herbs and plants which grow in the valley. It has been tried successfully by several persons and many enthusiastic friends are advising young Mr. Leenhouts to have his medicine patented.

Herbert Scheuner is having a beautiful new dress made. This may sound queer but nevertheless it is true. Of course, he will not wear it around in the valley on Sunday afternoons. Oh, no! Nothing of the kind. But come to the entertainment Friday night, August 11, with three nickels, and you will see him in the role of a handsome (?) soubrette. But don't forget the other numbers on the program and come prepared to laugh. Bring your friends and come early.

Mr. W. W. Youen of Los Angeles preached morning and evening at the Presbyterian church last Sunday.

Robert Pollard was the victim of a serious accident which occurred on Sunday. While cranking up his automobile the engine "kicked" and in some freak manner his nose was completely slit open. He was rushed to Los Angeles immediately and given medical aid. It is hoped that he will soon recover.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Weetman of Melrose avenue have taken the management of La Ramada, succeeding Mr. and Mrs. Frank England.

Mr. Buck Helman has broken up his bachelor headquarters and departed via the motorcycle route for an indefinite stay among all the Helmans at Ashland, Oregon.

Mrs. N. C. Kelley and son David have returned from a week's visit with friends at Hermosa Beach.

A. C. Robinson, of Valley View road, hit the trail for Inyo county the first of the week, on his annual hike to the mountains. Incidentally Mr. Robinson locates oil and mineral prospects.

J. B. Clarke, representing the Blake-Moffat Towne Co. of Los Angeles, is now in the Imperial Valley, in the interests of the paper trade. He lands carload orders from that section.

Cooper Bros., a member of the firm being J. W. Cooper of Melrose avenue, have established a renovating business in Hollywood, where five-cent carfare and the huge movie industry have been passing round prosperity in a manner comparable only to the rubbing of Aladdin's lamp. Glendale has an equal chance at that lamp however.

All the ranches in the Foothills that grow lemons have profited largely by the rise in prices. All the ranches have been cleared up now and every lemon has been shipped and the returns are exceedingly gratifying.

W. H. Reynolds of Kenneth road has still a fine crop of oranges, which has not yet been picked. It will be shipped to Carpinteria within a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. David Black of Kenneth road, and the daughter, Miss Esther Black, will return Saturday from a three weeks' stay at the beach.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Thompson of Grand View avenue and their family will leave in a few days for the Brand property on Mono Lake, where they will remain for several weeks. Mr. Brand was quite seriously ill for a short time recently but is now better.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Drohan, Kenneth road, entertained Mrs. Dr. Spink of Los Angeles Thursday afternoon. Mr. Drohan's sister was also a guest.

TO A BEE

Columbus in velvet,
This afternoon sunny
How lyric your voyage
To islands of honey!
To ports full of pollen,
Deliciously looming,
You fly; and my garden's
America blooming!
Campanula belfries
In delicate duty
Proclaim at your coming
The sweet of their beauty;
The pansies are wishing
You momentarily nearer,
And rosemary voices
Call quicker and clearer.

The rose in her bounty
Shall fondle and feed you
Till friends in the cottage
Shall have for unloading
Fresh cargoes of honey.

Of honeycomb need you;
And yet, if the morrow
Fall fragrant and sunny,
Columbus in velvet,
Fly hurriedly over
The blossoming beanfield,
The red and white clover,
To find in this garden,
Deliciously looming,
A mainland of honey,
America blooming!
—Norman Gale.

ROBINS IN THE TREE TOP

Robins in the tree top,
Blossoms on the grass,
Green things a-growing,
Everywhere you pass,
Sudden little breezes,
Showers of silver dew,
Black bough and bent twig
Budding out anew;
Pine tree and willow tree,
Fringed elm and larch,—
Don't you think that May-time's
Pleasanter than March?

Apples in the orchard
Mellowing one by one;
Strawberries upturning
Soft cheeks to the sun;
Roses faint with sweetness,
Lilies fair of face,
Drowsy scents and murmurs
Haunting every place;
Lengths of golden sunshine,
Moonlight bright as day,—
Don't you think that summer's Pleasanter than May?
—Thomas Bailey Aldrich.

AUGUST

Buttercup nodded and said good-by,
Clover and daisy went off together,
But the fragrant water-lilies lie
Yet mooring in the golden August weather.
—Celia Thaxter.

Boil several sheets of crepe paper, the shade desired, for 10 minutes. Take out the paper and put in the waists you wish to color, after you have carefully removed all dirt or stains. Boil for 10 minutes. Take out and rinse in cold water. Save the dye water in a can or bottle and, when you wash the waists, color the rinsing water with it. This will help to keep the color longer.
