ARMIES ARE STILL FACING EACH OTHER

GERMAN ATTACK IS FIERCE BUT FUTILE

Allies Turn Back the Terrific
Onslaughts Made on Them
at Every Point

FRESH TROOPS POUR IN TO REINFORCE RANKS

Men in Trenches Suffering
Greatly During the Cold Nights

Paris, Oct. 3.—6.35 a. m.—After having tried in vain recently in the north of France to break at Tracy-le-Mont, and then at Roye, the strong line of the allies, the Germans have renewed their fierce attacks between the latter city and the region of Arras. Their latest efforts, in which they have been hurling their forces against the French and British, have had no better results.

The French, in an official statement, frankly admit a slight falling-back at the left of one of their detachments. On the other hand the allies have not only successfully opposed the terrific onslaughts of the enemy at other points but have made gains.

The allies continue to pour in their troops at points where they are needed to replace those worn-out by the hard fighting or to fill gaps in the ranks. It is assumed that Britain's native Indian troops, whose arrival at Marseilles last week has only just been announced, are either at the front or in its vicinity. They have greatly strengthened the French line, which, it is roughly estimated, now numbers 750,000 men.

Lieut.-Colonel Rousset, the military critic of the Petit Parisien, in reviewing the situation says:

"It is on our left that the battle takes on the most imposing proportions. When one considers that after hardly a month of fighting the enemy was nearly at the gates of Paris, it can be seen how much territory we have gained on the Germans, who counted on crushing us."

"The enemy has brought to its right large forces, hoping to break our offensive, and at the same time it returns to attempt the passage of the Meuse. It is making thus a visible effort on two wings, and at the same time guarding on the rest of the front in an expectant attitude. This is the old tactic of flanking, which reappears unfortunately, for it has no more the merit of secrecy than to surprise. We know it too well now to have it still imposed on us."

The troops in the trenches are suffering severely in the chilly nights, and consequently a number of the British supply officers have visited Paris and have purchased all of the available supply of warm clothing, furs, comforters and sweaters. Each man in the field has been supplied with a blanket, a waterproof sheet and an overcoat, but the districts where the fighting is proceeding are subjected to thick mists, making a long sojourn in the open air unendurable.

GERMAN AEROPLANES; JAPANESE WARSHIPS

London, Oct. 3.—An official announcement states that another Japanese mine sweeping boat at Kiao Chau has been sunk after striking a mine. The casualties are given as four killed and nine wounded.

The mine-dragger was known as the Kayo Maru and was sunk in Lao Shan bay.

The German forts and ships, it is also announced, are constantly shelling the Japanese army, which is slowly preparing for the big assault on Tsing Tau, the German stronghold.

Tokio, Oct. 3.—A German aeroplane from Tsing Tau has made two unsuccessful attempts to attack Japanese warships. Japanese aeroplanes went in pursuit of the German air craft and were subjected to bombardment. The captive balloon which has been seen above Tsing Tau has been hauled down. It is believed to have been damaged.

CONTRABAND OF WAR.

Paris, Oct. 3.—11.15 a. m.—The French government has announced a supplementary list of articles declared conditionally to be contraband of war under article XXV. of the Declaration of London. These are iron and steel oxides, sulphates and carbonates of iron, copper, lead, nickel and ferrocyanide, glycerine, leather and pneumatic and other automobile tires, and the materials used in their construction.

HOSTILE ALIENS ARE CLEVERLY TRAPPED BY VANCOUVER POLICE

Vancouver, Oct. 3.—Armed with police and immigration officials, the police launch early this morning captured a large party of Germans and Austrians, who were attempting to smuggle themselves to Seattle and thence doubtless meant to work their way back to their native lands to join the fighting ranks.

There were thirty-five Germans and Austrians in the party, which left Vancouver harbor early in the evening. They were in a scow towed by the tug Clevee. The police launch came alongside so quickly that the officers got on board and clapped the hatch over the only opening in the barge before any chance of fighting occurred.

The entire party was headed back to the wharf and taken to the police station. Most of the men were armed, and were very sullen in demeanor when their expedition was thus interfered with.

DIPLOMATIC ILLNESS OF ROUMANIAN KING

Hohenzollern Selling His Country's Interests to Keep Kaiser's Friendship

Rome, via London, Oct. 3.—(3.40 a. m.)—A dispatch to the Giornale d'Italia from Sofia, Bulgaria, says the condition of King Charles of Roumania has suddenly become worse. The doctors' bulletin to-day declares he must have absolute quiet in order to save his life.

The well-informed, however, according to the dispatch, believe the king's illness is really a political step in an attempt to end the popular agitation to have Roumania join forces with the triple entente.

London, Oct. 3.—In a dispatch from Paris, the correspondent of the Post says a signed statement, attacking the attitude of King Charles of Roumania in the present crisis, has been given out by Victor Jonnesco, nephew of the prime minister of Roumania and at present holding the post of secretary of the treasury of Roumania in Paris. Jonnesco says:

"From the commencement of the European conflict the Roumanian people have been hostile to Germany and Austria. This hostility is pushing the people to drastic action. The cry is for a Greater Roumania and the liberation of our brothers in Transylvania. Undoubtedly the situation has placed King Charles in a dilemma, for he already has made his choice between his duty as a king of a free people and his duty as a Hohenzollern. The latter proved too dear to his heart; he is serving his caste and will do so until his death."

"When Russia proposed to King Charles that he occupy Transylvania and Bukovina, he refused, declaring his forces were needed to guard the frontier. To-day Bukovina, which is just as Roumanian as Transylvania, is occupied by Russian troops and has been declared a Russian province."

"This policy of King Charles will give him in history the role of traitor to the interests of his country, although he is a hero in his staunchness to the Hohenzollern and Hapsburg traditions."

"If his policy is persisted in it will mean that the Roumanian people in Transylvania will shortly be delivered from the Austrian yoke by Russia and henceforth incorporated in the Russian empire."

CHOLERA APPEARS IN GERMANY AND AUSTRIA

London, Oct. 3.—7.50 a. m.—The North German Gazette admits the appearance of cholera in Germany as well as in Austria, says a Rome dispatch to Reuters' Telegram Company, but assures the public that the outbreak is well in hand.

Ancona, via Havre, Oct. 3.—The captain of a Roumanian steamer which has arrived here reports that the bubonic plague and typhoid fever are raging at Constantinople.

PARIS, Oct. 3.—2.59 a. m.—A dispatch to the Havas Agency from Cetinje says:

"The retarded Serbian and Montenegrin advance guard has reached the mountains, where are situated the first fortifications of Sarajevo, capital of Bosnia."

"General Potirek, the Austrian commander, asked for an exchange of prisoners, which was refused by the Montenegrins. They are quoted as having declared that 'No Montenegrin is a prisoner of the Austrians.'"

BRITAIN IS TOLD TO EXPECT A LONG WAR

German Resources Not Yet
Exhausted; Defensive Will Be Strongly Maintained

BATTLE OF AISNE MAY RECUR ON NEW LINES

Meanwhile the Struggle Continues Along the Front, With Allies Gaining

London, Oct. 3, 5 a. m.—The military expert of the Times to-day says: "How- ever much we may bend back the Ger- mans' right wing and relieve Antwerp and whatever confidence we have that the shock of the Russian masses in the east will prove decisive, we must not entertain the slightest illusion regard- ing the hard and trying conditions which await all the allies in the future in operating against Germany reduced to the defensive."

"Germany is still united. Her re- sources grow atop. All her might is in arms, all her arsenals are working at full pressure. Her fleet will strike when the hour comes, probably in co- operation with the army."

"The line of the Aisne, when forced, may prove to be only one of many simi- lar lines prepared in the rear of it. It may take a very long time for the allies to compel Germany to feel a weak- ness. It therefore devolves upon the allies to look forward to a long war."

Commenting on the status of the bat- tle in Northern France, the correspond- ent of the Times at Paris says:

"The violence of the battle seems to be concentrated for the moment on one left wing, which has prolonged itself to a point within thirty or forty miles of the Belgian border, south of Arras. Through this line the Germans have at- tempted to break with the object of iso- lating the forces of the allies in the north."

"The combats in this region have been extremely violent, but the allies hold the enemy well in spite of partial successes by the Germans."

"All along this immense battle line to the right, the left and the centre, the enemy has tried to break through in vain. Nowhere have the French yielded. On the contrary, they have steadily and methodically progressed, especially on their right wing. New progress has also been made in the Argonne region."

Describing the fighting on Friday in the environs of Antwerp, the corre- spondent of the Times says:

"During the early hours of Friday there was a heavy bombardment of the whole line of the Antwerp defences from Boom, five and one-half miles northwest of Malines, to Lierre, nine miles southeast of Antwerp."

It was especially heavy at the fort of Wavre-St. Catherine. Toward midday the firing of the Germans became desultory.

"The Belgian artillery continued ac- tive, but the German reply was inter- mittent and chiefly directed on the bridge in the village of Waelhem."

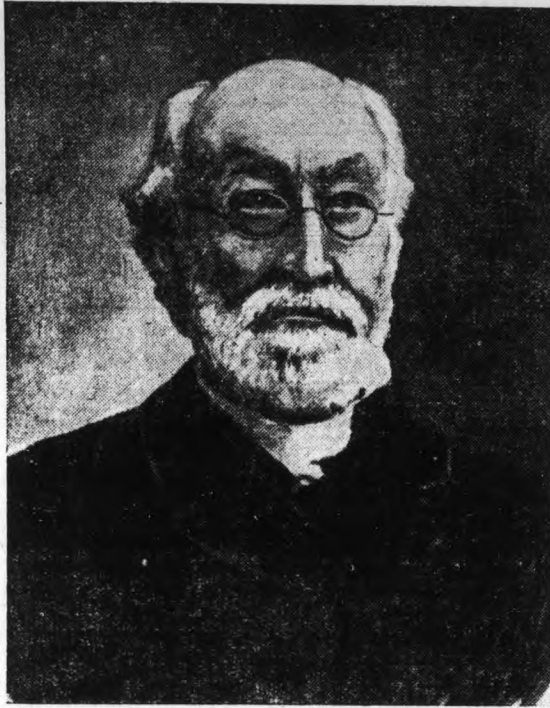

"During the morning the Germans penetrated to the fort of Wavre-St. Catherine but were driven back."

"One of the interesting things," said the Korona's assistant purser, "was the native guard. Every native on the island is happy these days, in spite of his fear of invasion, for he carries a rifle, rides on a bicycle and marches behind a brass band. Some of the strangest-looking bicycles I ever saw have been unearthed by the natives. Some of them are the old high wheel affairs that our fathers rode; some of them have no tires; most of them are red with rust and all of them squeak. And the arms they carry are in the same class. At Bar- badoes every negro and Chinaman on the island has joined the army. They have what they call a 'life guard' to protect the place. They threw up a line of breastworks that the whole of Europe could not take. They fire a cannon every time a ship is sighted and the guard lines up behind the breastworks with their muzzle-loaders and their derringers."

"At Dominguez, near St. Thomas, the natives have built a little fort to fight the German navy when it does come over. In the centre of their fort they have planted a tall flag-pole. Every morning at daylight a man pulls him- self up to the top of that flag-pole in a boatswain's chair with a pulley, and stays there looking out to sea for the German navy. Two hours later he comes down and another man takes his place. This is kept up every day from dawn till darkness."

METHODIST LEADERS--OLD AND NEW

Rev. Albert Carman, D. D., whose familiar features appear above, has been general superintendent of the Methodist church in Canada for thirty years, since the union of the various bodies of that faith, and for nine years before that he was bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church in Canada. He is in his 82nd year, and at the General Conference now closing its sessions in Ottawa he surrendered active office. The conference, to mark its appreciation of his services, appointed him general superintendent emeritus for the coming quadrennium at full salary. Rev. S. D. Chown, D. D. (to the right), assistant superintendent in the west for the past four years, becomes general superintendent for the next eight years. He has been living in Vancouver for the last few years but it is supposed that he will now move back to Toronto, that being the church head-quarters.

WEST INDIANS READY FOR THE GERMAN NAVY

Natives Have Armed With Old-Time Muskets and Built Earthworks

New York, Oct. 3.—The steamer Korona to-day brought a cargo of war tales from the West Indies. Every native there sleeps with his gun under his pillow, said the Korona's sail- ors. Little specks of islands that no one ever heard of north of the Tropic of Cancer are throwing up towering earthworks, and bare-footed natives have armed themselves with rusty flint-lock muskets. This was the war gossip current among sailors from other ports, met on the docks at Santa Lucia.

"One of the interesting things," said the Korona's assistant purser, "was the native guard. Every native on the island is happy these days, in spite of his fear of invasion, for he carries a rifle, rides on a bicycle and marches behind a brass band. Some of the strangest-looking bicycles I ever saw have been unearthed by the natives. Some of them are the old high wheel affairs that our fathers rode; some of them have no tires; most of them are red with rust and all of them squeak. And the arms they carry are in the same class. Two hours later he comes down and another man takes his place. This is kept up every day from dawn till darkness."

"At Santa Lucia we saw the Hamburg-American liner Spreewald, loaded to the gunwales with prime South American beef. She was nosing among the islands when the Berwick spotted her about daylight one morning and captured her. While the Berwick was launching boats to send over a prize crew, the Spreewald's German captain got busy with the refrigerator and the machinery. He opened up the hatches and shut down the plant, and I heard that he fixed it so that a lot of beef got spoiled. Then he threw a wrench into the wireless power plant and put that out of commission."

The sailors and soldiers of the Empire are doing theirs. I have only to look at this page to see how nobly, and at what a sacrifice.

For men who are giving their lives I cannot do less than the utmost. I can help during the war.

FIGHTING CONTINUES AND ALLIES GAIN ON LONG BATTLE-LINE

Enemy Reported to Have Received Reinforcements Just in Time to Avert Retreat
From the Aisne.

Their Right in Grave Danger, and All Attacks Are Beaten Back by Undaunted
Troops of Britain and France.

Bordeaux, Oct. 3.—Minister of War Millerand stated to-day that only the steady arrival of heavy reinforce- ments had averted disaster for the army of General von Kluck and the entire right wing of the German army.

He said that early in the week the forces of von Kluck were in desperate straits, and part of them had been forced to withdraw from advanced positions to a point northeast of St. Quentin by a raid of French cavalry.

General von Kluck, Minister Millerand said, had called for reinforcements, but their arrival was delayed and they came only in time to prevent a general withdrawal of the German troops.

London, Oct. 3, 10.25 a. m.—Although the German right is less than fifty miles from the Belgian frontier, never since the outbreak of war, apparently, have the people of Great Britain been more reconciled to the idea that the struggle will be long and terrible.

There is nothing from the French battle line this morning to indicate a marked change in the situation. The fiercest fighting appar- ently still centres on that part of the line stretching due north for about forty miles, in an almost straight line from Roye. The vicinity of the little town of Albert has again been the scene of vigorous ac- tion, where the allies make progress. The remainder of the west line is reported quiet with the exception of the region around St. Mihiel, where which the Germans were driven from their southernmost lodge- ment.

Russian Successes Continue.
From Petrograd there continues to pour in uninterrupted reports of Russian successes on the frontier of Poland, but from Galicia, where the Russian and combined German and Austrian forces are at death grips before Cracow, has come nothing to indicate which side has taken the first honors.

A belated dispatch from Copenhagen asserts that Emperor Wil- liam has recently been at Breslau, where he decided on a four-fold offensive movement against Kovno, Warsaw, I dzi and Galicia. When this was under way, it was added, he expected to return to the western theatre of war.

From the southeastern tip of Galicia, Bukovina, filters news of the advanced Russian forces, unheard from for days. It was said that the entering of Transylvania was already under way and that a battle between the Austrians and combined Russian and Servian forces was in immediate prospect.

Operations Before Antwerp.
British critics seem unable to agree as to whether the recent re- vival of German activity in Belgium means a serious attempt to take Antwerp and other points, or whether the operations are merely in- tended to harass the Belgians and prevent them from hampering the Germans along their lines of communication.

Vienna, according to roundabout dispatches, is preparing for a siege and there is talk of removing the seat of government.

The decision of the admiralty to mine a certain area of the North Sea has given Britain an added feeling of security. While no alarm has ever been manifested, the move is hailed as one shielding Dover Straits and the Channel without interfering with the southern exit from the Thames or the routes to Ostend, Dunkirk, Calais and Bou- logne.

Attack on Roye Repulsed.
Paris, Oct. 3, 3.03 p. m.—The official announcement issued this afternoon de- clares that the violent attack of the Germans at Roye has been repulsed by the allies. The official statement was:

"First, on our left wing the violent action which has been progressing since yesterday continues without interruption, particularly in the region of Roye, where we have repulsed all attacks, although on this part of the front the enemy has been reinforced by new additions taken from the enemy's centre, previously reported."

"Second, on the centre, nothing is to be noted from Rheims to the Argonne region. In the Argonne district the 16th German Corps (the army of the crown price), which had attempted to slip by through the woods of Grurie, has been driven back toward the north of the Varennes-Laharaze-Viennas la Ville line."

Continuous Progress on Meuse.
"In the Woivre district and on the heights of the Meuse our progress is al- ways slow, but continuous."

"In the Belgian field the Germans are bombarding the front southeast of the Antwerp position without being yet able to produce any considerable effect on the works. They have delivered many infantry attacks which have been repulsed."

"In the Russian field of operations a strong German army of four corps has taken positions between the frontier of East Prussia and the river Niemen. Its left wing has been thrown back on Mariampol and Suwalki."

"At the centre the city of Augustovo has been taken by the Russians. On the German right wing the struggle continues around Ossovetz (between Lyck and Bielostok)."

"In Galicia the rear guard of the Austrians has retreated in disorder as far as the Vistula."

"In Bosnia, Servian and Montenegrin columns are advancing on Sarajevo."

We are prompt, we are careful, and use only the best in our work.

IMPERIAL GUARD WAS CUT DOWN TO A MAN

French Zouave Tells of Annihilation of German Corps During Fighting at Verdun

Paris, Oct. 3.—An African battalion checked the attack of the German Imperial Guard in the recent fighting near Verdun. This is the inference drawn from details received here of the combat in that section. A survivor of the battle, who has arrived in Paris, told the following story of the fight:

"The sun was just rising when our outposts came back on our main force and informed us that the Imperial Guard was coming. Soon after we could see pointed helmets, glistening in the sunlight, rapidly advancing.

"Deceived by our silence, the guard came on even to the barbed defences and commenced cutting them before our trumpet sounded an order for volley firing. The first line of the enemy seemed just to melt away under our fire. The second line appeared to be shaken for an instant, but on they came.

"We could plainly see the officers in the lead waving their swords and urging their men to the assault. Another volley and the second line thinned out, but a large line came on and the mass crossed the line of wire defences.

"When 'charge' was sounded we rushed forward to meet them. Then our boys commenced to fall, but our impetus was too much for the guard, which was mowed down and dispersed.

"Of one regiment only a single company remained. It was led by a tall lieutenant with a boy's face. He wore a monocle in his eye and carried a revolver in his hand. This company stood to the last man, and that last man was the lieutenant. He refused to surrender and stood his ground alone until the bayonets of the Zouaves brought him down."

ZEPPELIN OFF TO FRONT.

GERMANY BUILDING MORE SUBMARINES

London, Oct. 3.—The German dockyards are working with feverish energy, says a Copenhagen dispatch to the Daily Mail. Fifty submarines are being built, it is reported, the submarine successes having made the Germans clamorous for more ships of this kind. The great lack of benzine, petrol and rubber are seriously affecting the German transport in the field, according to the dispatch, as all secret petrol depots established before the war are exhausted.

GERMANY IS IN BAD WAY INDUSTRIALLY

Press Suppresses News of Closing Factories; How War Loan Was Got

London, Oct. 3.—A dispatch to the Morning Post from Berne, Switzerland, says:

"There has been a great blowing of trumpets of late about the success and speedy raising of the German war loan, not only in the press of Germany, but in neutral countries. A good deal, but not all, of the money appears to have been subscribed by life insurance companies, banks and savings banks. Friedrich Krupp subscribed $12,500,000, and the Westphalian manufacturers about $17,500,000. The Leipzig Mutual Life Insurance company subscribed $4,000,000; the town of Mainz gave $4,054,500; Karlsruhe, Baden, about $3,750,000; Erfurt, $4,375,000; Dresden nearly $25,000,000; the Saxony Land Insurance office, $5,000,000; Hanover and its districts, $17,750,000; and so on.

"The question was raised recently in a leading German newspaper as to whether a person who wished to subscribe to the war loan, but had no ready money, was absolutely debarred from participation. The answer was, No. If, for instance, he had life insurance due him, or rents or other money accruing within a given time, on which he could confidently count, he could subscribe to the war loan on the security of life premiums or rent. There is no doubt that a great deal of the money was so subscribed.

"When I take up the German newspapers, I find many items pointing to everything not being well in the economic and financial world there. Admissions that German export trade with all belligerents is at a standstill and with neutral countries is very much impeded and erratic, are too numerous to cite.

"One writer, referring to Britain's intention to conquer Germany by economic pressure, says: 'This must be checked by a manifest determination to maintain all hungry and necessitous persons who stay at home, such as men incapable of bearing arms, and women and children, by sacrifices on the part of the government and of well-to-do classes. This must be done until the enemies' attack is broken, and we are able to conclude a peace which will enable us to heal our wounds and assert ourselves as a world nation.'

"If no elementary catastrophes occur, the only thing which could compel Germany to sue for peace would be the hunger of those without means of support, but matters will not reach this stage unless those who have something refuse to share with those who have nothing. It may be that we shall see the introduction of a very high income tax."

The most notable characteristic of the German newspapers received here is the avoidance of anything indicating the industrial depression which is known to exist throughout the empire. The Berlin Lokat Anzeiger, of September 27, devotes much space to theatrical, sporting, art and music news, and even has half a column about the moving picture shows. Under the heading, "Sport and Hunt," it describes football matches, bicycle races, the receipts of all of which go to help the Red Cross and other wartime charities. It even announces the personnel of the Berlin football team, which is scheduled to play a game with the Vienna team in the latter city on October 4.

The theatrical notices all tell of well-filled houses, and philharmonic concerts, besides a dozen lesser ones, are granted announcements to take place on the same day. There is also a long account of the pictures sold at the great Berlin art exhibition.

Not a line about the closing of the factories finds its way into print, and only an occasionally carefully worded advertisement reveals the desperate conditions among the poorer classes.

RUSSIANS IN FRANCE BELIEVED IN LONDON

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)
London, Sept. 21.—Thousands of persons in Scotland and England still believe reports that great numbers of Russian troops were sent from Finland to France and Belgium by sea and are fighting with the allies. In spite of emphatic official denials, and rumors will not down and stand as the most interesting myth of the war up to date.

Scores of men still insist they saw Russians moving on trains through England. It would not be impossible to get many affidavits from residents of Southampton who believe they saw Russians embark there for France. At Leith and other Scotch ports there are many honest citizens who stake their honor that they saw Russians land on Scottish soil and start southward into England.

Several restaurant keepers in London swear they fed many Russian officers at the time darkened trains were reported to be carrying Cossacks through London, destined for southern ports.

The number of Russians sent to France and Belgium by vivid imaginations has varied from 50,000 to 250,000. On the strength of the rumors many enterprising public-house keepers in London placed Russian signs on their windows announcing that they had superior vodka for sale, and the crop of Russian flags in shops increased amazingly. Theatre orchestras began playing the Russian national air.

The people of the United Kingdom were unquestionably buoyed up by the report, which is still giving comfort to many persons who will not accept denials.

On the Advice of His Doctor

He Used Dr. Chase's Ointment for Protruding Piles With Splendid Results.

Too often a doctor can only think of an operation when asked for a treatment for piles. Some are sufficiently broad-minded to use the most effective treatment available, which is undoubtedly Dr. Chase's Ointment, as was proven in the case referred to in this letter.

Mr. Simon E. Jones, Railway street, Inverness, N. S., writes: "I have found Dr. Chase's Ointment the best treatment obtainable for protruding piles. For three years I suffered from piles, and was advised by a local physician to try Dr. Chase's Ointment. I had tried many treatments in vain, and therefore know which is the best. I can highly recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment, and you are at liberty to use this statement."

The record of cures of every form of piles which stands behind Dr. Chase's Ointment is the strongest guarantee you can have that it will promptly relieve and cure this ailment, even in the most aggravated form. 60c a box, all dealers

UNION ENDORSED BY GENERAL CONFERENCE ENEMY'S FIRE LESS AND CONTROL POOR

Committee Unanimously Instructed to Continue Negotiations With Other Bodies

Ottawa, Oct. 3.—Without any discussion, the Methodist General Conference of Canada yesterday afternoon unanimously endorsed the recommendation of its special committee appointed to report on the question of church union. As soon as one delegate suggested the wisdom of avoiding discussion, the conference readily agreed and passed the report, of which the following was the significant clause:

"We recommend the general conference to appoint, on the nomination of the committee on church union, a committee of sixty to meet with similar committees already appointed by the Presbyterian General assembly and the Congregational Church union for the purpose of continuing negotiations for the organic union of the above churches; that this committee report the results of its negotiations and deliberations to the general conference special committee which shall also receive the reports of the action of the other negotiating churches in the matter of church union, and if, in the judgment of the general conference special committee, the reports received warrant further action, it may call a special meeting of the general conference to consider the matter of consummating the proposed union."

Some objection was registered following the reading of report of the committee on evangelism at the conference this afternoon. It was true there had been progress and activity in the church during the past quadrennium, began the report, but, it continued:

"Nevertheless, it is impossible to be blind to the fact that our church is not showing the aggressively evangelizing power we might reasonably expect of a body so strong, so well organized, and of such traditions.

"In common with all the churches of Christendom, the Methodist church is failing to meet the demands of the age with that all-conquering enthusiasm which has swept her onward in the great periods of advance in the past, church attendance is declining, preaching is losing its grip on heart and conscience, and over large areas religious life is becoming more formal and superficial.

"We recognize that the problem is world-wide and assumes different phases in different lands. Confining ourselves to America, and especially to Canada, we venture to express the conviction that the church is suffering from success."

Situation Described in Report From Front as Practically Unchanged

London, Oct. 3.—The official bureau issued an official statement last night from the headquarters of the British expeditionary force, under date of September 29, concerning the movements of the British force and the French armies in immediate touch with it. The statement follows:

"The general situation, viewed on the map, remains practically the same as that described in the last letter, and the task of the army has not changed. It is to maintain itself until there is a general resumption of the offensive.

"No ground has been lost, but some has been gained, and every counter-attack has been repulsed, in certain instances with very heavy losses to the enemy.

"Nevertheless, the question of positions is only a part of the battle, and there has been considerable improvement in the situation in another important respect. Recent offensive efforts of the enemy have been made without cohesion, his assaults being delivered by comparatively small bodies acting without co-operation with those on either side. Some of them, indeed, evidence signs of inferior leadership, this being shown by statements made by prisoners as to great losses in officers suffered by the army.

"Further, the fire of the enemy has decreased in volume and deteriorated both in control and discretion. The first is probably due to the transfer of metal to other quarters, but the two latter facts may be the direct result of the activity of our air craft and their interference with the enemy's air reconnaissances.

"The Germans recently have been relying to some extent on observations from captive balloons sent up some distance in the rear of their first line, which method, whatever its cause, is a poor substitute for the direct overhead reconnaissance obtainable from aeroplanes.

"As a consequence, the damage being done to us is wholly disproportionate to the amount of ammunition used by the enemy. For the last few days it has amounted to pitting certain areas with large craters and in rendering some villages unhealthy, as the soldiers put it.

"Of recent events, an actual narrative will be carried from the 25th to the 29th inclusive. During the whole of this period the weather has remained fine, though it has not been so bright as it was. On Friday, the 25th, comparative quiet reigned in our sphere of action. The only incident worthy of special mention was the passage of a German aeroplane over our lines. It was flying high, but drew a general fusillade, with the result that the pilot was killed outright and the observer was wounded. The latter, however, was able to continue the flight for some miles, but was then compelled to descend, his petrol tank having been struck. He was captured by the French.

"That night a general attack was made against the great part of the allies' position, and it was renewed in the early morning of the 26th. The Germans everywhere were repulsed with loss. Indeed, opposite one portion of our lines, where they were caught en masse by our machine guns and howitzers, firing at different ranges, it is estimated that they left 1,000 killed or wounded.

"The mental attitude of our troops may be gauged from the fact that the official report next morning from one corps, of which one division had borne the brunt of the fighting—ran thus:

"The night was quiet, except for a certain amount of shelling from both the enemy and ourselves at 3.40 a. m.

"At 3.45 a. m. an attack was made on our right. At 5 a. m. there was a general attack on the right of the division, but no really heavy firing. Further ineffectual efforts to drive us back were made on Sunday at 8 a. m. and in the afternoon. The artillery fire continued all day.

"The Germans came on in a 'T' formation, several companies shoulder to shoulder, followed almost immediately by a column in support. After a very few minutes the men had closed up into a mob, which afforded an excellent target for our fire."

"On Sunday, the 27th, while the German heavy guns were in action, their brass bands could be heard playing religious music, presumably at divine service.

"The enemy made an important advance on a part of our lines at 6 a. m. and renewed it in strength at one point, with, however, no better success than in the previous night. Sniping continued all day along the front.

"On Monday, the 28th, there was nothing more severe than a bombardment, and this inactively during Tuesday, 29th, our opponent for a night attacking our extreme right."

FRANCE PLACES LARGE MOTOR VEHICLE ORDERS

South Bethlehem, Pa., Oct. 3.—Not only are motor trucks included in the large order of motor vehicles the government of France has requested the Bethlehem Steel company to procure for use in the European war, but touring cars as well.

The company has invited manufacturing concerns to send touring cars to South Bethlehem for tests. The number of such cars is not designated. The recommendations for the types of 1,000 motor trucks of American manufacture have been cabled to the French government and a reply is expected in a day or two. The trucks are to cost $3,000 each.

In addition to motor trucks, the French government directed the steel company to contract for 250 motor tractors and 750 trailers, to cost from $2,000 to $4,500 each.

REFUGEES FLOCK TO VIENNA FROM GALICIA

Venice, via Paris, Oct. 3.—Jewish fugitives from Galicia are continuing to arrive at Vienna in such numbers that it is absolutely impossible to accommodate any more of them.

The stream has now been diverted to various places in Moravia, Upper Austria, and Salsburg. Six thousand of those in Vienna have been sent to Nikolsburg, Moravia, where temporary barracks have been erected to shelter them.

The burgomaster has vigorously protested against an attempt to send in another contingent, declaring that the town already is overcrowded.

Indigestion and Headaches

Arising From Constipation, Cured and Regular Habits Established by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

In the western Provinces, where so many thousands live far from doctors and drug stores, very many rely on Dr. Chase's medicine to cure disease and maintain health and strength. This letter gives some idea of what perfect control Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills exert over the most common ills of life.

Mrs. H. K. Hewer, farmer's wife, Eastburg, Alta., writes: "For about ten years I suffered from constipation, indigestion, headache and languid feelings. Treatment from two or three doctors afforded only temporary relief, so I turned to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and with most satisfactory results. Headaches have disappeared, regular habits established and general health very much better. Both my husband and I can speak highly of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, as we have both been greatly benefited by them." YOUNG SOCIETY MAN FOUND TO BE THIEF

New York, Oct. 3.—The theft last year of gems worth $15,000 from Miss Mary Kohn, daughter of a Paris banker, was cleared up yesterday by a confession attributed to Herbert J. Eaton, a dapper young man who lay at death's door from a detective's bullet.

Eaton, who seemed well-to-do, was shot Wednesday night while running from detectives, who had caught him in a trap set for a thief and baited with a wealthy woman and a roll of bills.

Eaton, apparently about to die, had a long talk with Inspector Fauret, of the detective bureau. When it was over, Inspector Fauret asserted that Eaton had confessed the robbery of Miss Kohn's apartments, in the fashionable section of Madison avenue, in August, 1913. Eaton had met Miss Kohn socially, it was said, and no suspicion was ever attached to his name in connection with the robbery.

Gems, silk dresses and other valuables were stolen. By day Eaton was private secretary to a member of a large wine-importing firm of this city. He seldom left home in the evenings and to all appearances was a model young man with good social connections. He has a wife and baby.

PRISONERS GIVEN A CHANCE AS SOLDIERS

Paris, Oct. 3.—Numerous prisoners who were liable to military service and evaded the order to mobilize have been tried by court-martial and sentenced to prison. In addition the military court decided that after the completion of their prison sentences the offenders should be compelled to fulfil their military duty.

The war office, however, has modified the edict of the court. In an order issued to-day the war office said it would permit the convicted men to go to the front. The order also expresses the hope that the convicted men by good conduct, under fire may earn a reduction in the penalty decreed by the court-martial.

THE WAR.

The French official announcement that one of the detachments operating from Arras has fallen back on the northeast of that place shows the extent to which the allies have worked their way to the north.

The first object of the German attack upon the allies' left was at Tracy-le-Mont in the angle where the Oise joins the Aisne.

Whether the dominant political party in Canada likes it or not it will have to change its fiscal policy or give way to those who will provide the remedy.

The Germans' attempt to penetrate the line of the Meuse between Verdun and Toul has failed and they now are engaged in holding back the French advance on their flank and rear.

present positions the more deadly become their peril. Progress in the east seems to be waiting upon the conclusion of the battle along the frontier of East Prussia.

It is predicted that the end of the war, no matter when it comes, will be followed by an unprecedented immigration into Canada of people from continental Europe.

Will Canada be ready to receive them? If we are not, our immigration authorities simply will have to prevent them from landing.

Much of the land will have to be reclaimed and thrown open to settlement. The motto "give the speculator a chance" will have to be discarded by the government of this province.

The credulous people of Germany, convinced of the invincibility of their armies, are being fed systematically by the Berlin official press on fairy tales.

to the war. We were confronted with them before anybody dreamed the struggle would take place.

CLEAR THE AIR.

Holland's undertaking to prohibit the export of foodstuffs to Germany will be very satisfactory to Great Britain for several reasons.

Both governments, we are confident, are on their guard against the industrious intrigues of von Bernstorff, Dernburg and others to create unpleasant relations between the two countries.

DESPERATE FINANCE.

A few days ago a dispatch from Berlin reported that there was so much ready money on hand in Germany that absolutely no difficulty was encountered in obtaining $1,250,000,000 to carry on the war.

In this way the merchants of Bradford are credited with a subscription to the German war fund aggregating more than $8,000,000, about twice as much as the Krupps have given.

The Chinese government again has protested against the Japanese occupation of the railway station at Wei Hsien.

TO-DAY'S SUMMARY.

French and German reports agree that the fighting on the western end of the battle line in northern France continues without decisive advantage to either side.

In an announcement at 3 o'clock this afternoon in Paris, the French war office says that a violent action progresses in the region of Roye, where the allies have repulsed all German attacks on the left wing.

To-day's French statement says that the army of the Crown Prince has been driven back in the Argonne district and that slow but continuous progress is being made by the allies in the Woëvre district.

The most dependable reports indicate that the really great battle is being fought at Cracow, where an unnumbered Russian force is attacking the Germans and Austrians, there united in immense strength.

A new German casualty list adds 9,600 names to the dead, wounded and missing. The wounded include Prince Joachim, the Emperor's youngest son.

According to Rome advices, a cabinet crisis is approaching, due to differences as to the attitude of Italy.

Tokio announces that another Japanese mine-sweeper has been sunk by a German mine in Lao Shan bay, China.

There is nothing new from Antwerp. The latest Belgian official reports said that the city was resisting successfully the bombardment of the Germans.

BUSINESS LIGHT FOR MEETING ON MONDAY

Aldermen Have Cleared Up Many Details at Meetings This Week

After many meetings this week there will be less business for the meeting of the city council next Monday than has been the case for two weeks past.
The council is promised another discussion of the early-closing-by-law, as Alderman Todd, seconded by Alderman McMicking, has a motion on the board providing for the amendment of the by-law which went into force last Monday.
The alderman wishes the clause establishing compulsory closing at 6 removed.

The matter of supplying food to those who were in need of help was also discussed, and it was decided to make some effort to supply provisions as well as clothes from the Friendly Help room.

NEW FABRICS FOR WINTER COSTUMES

Lace Used Extensively; Fabric Trims Fabric; Skirts Are Wider

New York, Sept. 26.—A new phase of life is appearing in Paris. The men have gone to war but instead of abandoning their businesses they have left them in charge of the women. The great dressmaking establishments are many of them handed over to some trusted woman employee or to some member of the family and it is hoped that they will continue sending new ideas to this continent until the men return, and prove the worth of women in emergencies.

Paris was one of the first to respond to the call to arms and close in his wake went Jouda, the head of the house of Bernard, Worth, Eschoff and Doucet. The Callot sisters are keeping their staff busy no longer entirely upon new creations but upon hospital supplies.

As Americans were expected to be the greatest buyers, if not the only ones, during this period of war, the dressmakers in Paris quickly changed their models to suit the American trade.

The skirts, though wider are not as voluminous as a few years ago. They are cut circular and fit closely about the hips, flaring at the ankles. They are very short, at least five or six inches from the floor. Some of the new tunics are cut with a deep point front and back. This is a very becoming length of tunic for the woman who is seeking to accentuate her height.

The Modern Age frock is having a tremendous vogue. Many of the autumn models hang straight from the shoulder to the hem without a visible waistline. Some have a broad flat belt and others have sashes which tie in a pinafore bow at the back.

The redingote effect is given many of the long-waisted frocks. One dress of dark taupe broadcloth is here illustrated. The waist is of the short-basque variety, with plain short sleeves. A tunic, which does not meet in the front, is worn over a black satin skirt. The skirt is of the same material as the dress and tunic and meets in the back, where it is fastened with snappers placed underneath the cloth-covered buttons. A pointed collar and pointed cuffs of the satin complete the dress.

This is indeed a lace season. For evening dresses and for afternoon dresses lace is used extensively. It forms overdresses for frocks of charmeuse and satin; at times it is only the tunic, or it may be but the bodice of a dress. The margot edged craquelin net is very smart and effective. The evening gown illustrated has a surplice bodice of this craquelin net with the margot edge, and a craquelin net yoke. The skirt is of pink satin with overskirt of lace. Around the waist is worn a wide sash of silver gauze ribbon which ties at a low waistline in the back.

The practical evening wrap of black velvet is popular and may be had in blue and tan or in tan and brown. Caracul velvet and moire chiffon velvet are often used to good advantage. Various Scotch plaid effects are also used for the collar, cuffs, and waistcoat and are very smart. Combinations of materials are seen in these suits such as velvet and fur cloth, velvet and faille silk, blue serge and black satin, and satin and broadcloth.

An ultra touch in the season's frock, whether it be the street suit, the afternoon or the evening dress, is to have a flower, often a rose, of a becoming color tucked into the sash at the waist, or placed coquettishly at the neck. Garlands are placed under chiffon and lace on skirt and waist.

For evening capes and wraps there are exquisite metal brocades from sixteen dollars a yard up, which are both effective and beautiful. These are trimmed with collars of ermine, mink, sable, beaver or kolinsky. The latter is a northern Russian or Siberian mink. Among other materials used for these wraps are Ottoman faille silk, which comes in rich designs, futurist in their colorings and outline. One stunning coat made of this silk had an allover figure that at a distance reminded one of Chinese designs, and the effect was heightened by the shape of the cape which was not unlike a Chinese lantern. It was trimmed with a huge cape of hollinsky and a band of the same fur banded the cape just above the hem. This cape was lined with a plain green, which matched one of the colors in the design.

The separate tailored coat is made of such warm and thick materials as velour de laine, chevrot and a new fabric called chenille cloth. Velvet and plush are also used.

The trimming of street suits of faille ribbed velour, serge, gabardine, velveteen, corduroy, chiffon velvet, poplin duvetine, "kitten ear," or broadcloth, is confined almost entirely to the cuffs, collars and waistcoat effects. These may be heavily braided with Hercules braid or trimmed with one of the superb metal vestings. The latter are very expensive but a small amount goes a great way. Chiffon velvet in a Roman Save Them from Drink and Unemployment.

Many men drink who desire to stop the habit. Whiskey, however, has undermined the constitution, inflamed the stomach and created a craving that cannot be denied. He must have help.

It is tasteless and odorless, and can be given with or without the patient's knowledge, in tea, coffee, or food. It has cured thousands in Canada, and restored happiness to hundreds of homes.

Read what Mrs. G. H. Hill, Que., says: "It is four months today since I started to use your remedy. I followed the directions and had the best of results. One week after I started using your remedy the patient stopped drinking, and has not drunk a glass of liquor since. I hope you will accept my heartfelt thanks. Hoping God will bless your remedy wherever tried, I remain, 'Mrs. G. H. Hill, Que.' (Name withheld by request.)"

The nuptials of Clara Moira, second daughter of Aeneas McDonald, of Johnson street, and William Mulcahy, son of Lieutenant and Mrs. A. Mulcahy, of Esquimalt, were celebrated on Thursday in St. Andrew's cathedral. Many friends of the bride and bridegroom witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rt. Rev. Mgr. Leternie, V. G. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a smart traveling suit of blue with hat to match. Her sister, Miss Rita McDonald, wearing a plum-colored suit and velvet hat, acted as bridesmaid, like the bride carrying a shower-bouquet. Appropriate music was supplied by the choir of St. Andrew's, to which the bride belonged. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's father, where a delicious repast was served. AT THE THEATRES

"THE WHIP."

Theatre-goers of Victoria will soon have an opportunity to see the great Drury Lane melodrama, "The Whip," which ran for two years in London and electrified New York for an entire season at the Manhattan opera house. This sensational entertainment will come to the Royal Victoria theatre Thursday and Friday, October 15 and 16, and the engagement is a notable one, as no production built on such a scale and with such an enormous company has ever before been seen in this country.

The company and production of "The Whip" are obliged to travel in two sections, as it takes five cars alone to move the scenery for the four acts and thirteen massive scenes. Loconotives, tracks, a race-course, horses, dogs, a reproduction of Mme. Tussaud's famous "Chamber of Horrors," thousands of yards of panoramas and equipment to use it, are a few of the things that are included in this production.

Also there is a company of one hundred, and a number of race-horses and a pack of hounds that are used in the play, so "The Whip" can only be shown on the biggest stages, which must, nevertheless, undergo alterations for several of the greatest scenes. Never before has stage realism been pushed to such a pinnacle.

"HELLO BILL."

One of the secrets of enjoying a play undoubtedly is to go with one's mind made up to enjoy it and to be entertained, but there are some plays that will make one laugh no matter how "krouchy" one may feel at the start. Just such a one is "Hello Bill!" the brilliant farce-comedy to be presented by the Allen Players at the Princess theatre next week. It is just a realistic collection of misunderstandings which are likely to occur in everyday life and which appear very serious to the parties concerned, but are irresistibly funny to the people looking on. To tell one life in order to hide another usually has a funny side, but to have four or five people all doing the same thing at the same time and to see another naturally leads to some extraordinary mix-ups.

In "Hello Bill!" one finds no less than three people all claiming to be a certain man, each one bringing witnesses to prove it who are in turn claiming to be someone they are not. The climax is reached when all the bewildered preparators meet. In the unravelling of the conclusion many other complications arise.

Monday evening will be bargain night as usual, when any seat may be reserved for twenty-five cents.

FIRST AID WORKERS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Secretary's Report Covers Activities of Victoria Centre During Past Year

The third annual meeting of the Victoria centre of the St. John Ambulance association was held in the Y. W. C. A. rest room last night. There was an attendance of about forty, nearly three-fourths being ladies.

In the absence, with the Canadian contingent to Europe, of Dr. David Donald, chairman of the centre, the vice-chairman, A. J. Dallain, presided. Other members of the local committee present were: Dr. L. F. Houghton, Dr. A. B. Hudson, the Rev. E. G. Miller, Deputy Chief of Police Palmer, Mrs. A. J. Jacobs, and E. Jacobs, honorary secretary.

The honorary secretary's report for the year just closed was submitted as follows:

"As compared with last year, our regular classes were few—two women's classes this year as against six last year, and two men's classes, which was the same number as in 1913. Drs. Houghton and Hudson were the lecturers to the women's classes, respectively. Dr. Donald again instructed a class of the Victoria city police; and Dr. E. Perkins a class of civilian men. Dr. W. L. Calvert was good enough to give gratuitous instruction to four members of the Oak Bay police force under a special arrangement with the committee of this centre. Miss Freeman persistently endeavored to organize a women's class in some nursing, but was not successful in obtaining a requisite number of members, so reluctantly gave up her efforts in this connection. These classes, though, by no means represent the full results achieved during the year, since its closing months were marked by unusual activity in the organization of emergency classes, affording them opportunities for receiving general instruction in first aid to the injured, in case occasion should arise.

"Yielding to an appeal received from the representatives of seven chapters of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, your committee promptly arranged for holding special classes to receive an emergency course of instruction. In the city four women's classes were held, these having a total membership of 37, and one class of men with 29 members. Drs. Donald, Houghton, Hudson, and A. V. Popert kindly lectured to one of the women's classes, while Dr. W. J. C. Tomalin took the men's class. The last-mentioned doctor was also good enough to go out to Langford Station on six evenings and there give instruction to a class of 20 members. All these medical men generously gave their services to these classes without charge. By arrangement, the men's class was given two additional lectures by Dr. Tomalin, and a number of the members were afterward examined by Dr. W. E. Scott-Monierieff, also gratuitously. Further results were that the organization at Sidney by Miss Lilla J. Lowndes of a class in home nursing was facilitated, while a class in first aid has been arranged for by Mrs. Henry Pearce in Oak Bay district. These emergency classes, it may fairly be claimed, made the year's work of greater importance than that of either of the previous years of the centre's activities. Your hearty thanks are due to the several doctors, class secretaries and others who so unselfishly gave up much time to make the emergency first aid instruction movement useful and successful.

"The team entered by the Victoria city police in competition for the Wallace Nesbitt trophy, full particulars of which have been published in the press, did themselves and this centre great credit, for they gained second place, and came very near to winning the trophy, notwithstanding that among their competitors were men of much longer experience and training in first aid work and selected from a far larger number of certificated men. These local competitors certainly are entitled to our commendation and hearty congratulations.

"Among a number of other matters that have had the attention of the local committee during the year were the following:

"Candidates' competition: It was desired to have a team of cadets instructed so that they might compete for rifles offered through the Canadian branch council, but the notice received was too short for any effective instruction being given.

"Junior courses: This branch of the work of the association also had due consideration, but conditions were not favorable to the work of organizing and instructing junior classes this year. Dr. Scott-Monierieff, however, kindly gave first aid general instruction to a number of Boy Scouts.

"St. John's Ambulance brigade: This subject was carefully looked into, but as it did not then seem practicable to make a success of any organization of that nature, action in the matter was deferred until some more suitable time. It is now again being considered.

"This brief summary of the year's work and results is respectfully submitted.

"E. JACOBS,

"Hon. Secretary."

On motion the report was adopted. The honorary treasurer presented an account of money received and expended during the year, duly audited by A. J. Dallain. This showed the total receipts to have been, including $28.24 in hand at the close of the previous year, $44.38, while the expenditure had totalled $43.22. Of the receipts, the sum of $356 was from members of emergency classes who had paid a fee of $1 each; by far the greater part of this amount had been expended in purchasing books and bandages and in other disbursements in connection with those classes. The balance at credit of the centre was $101.16. The accounts were adopted.

Officers and committee of the centre for the ensuing year were elected as under: Chairman, A. J. Dallain; vice-chairman, Dr. A. B. Hudson; secretary, E. Jacobs; treasurer, the Rev. E. G. Miller; other members of committee, Dr. D. Donald, Thos. Graham, Dr. L. F. Houghton, Deputy Chief of Police Thos. Palmer, and David Brown.

Officers and other members of committee for the past year were heartily thanked for their services.

The Rev. E. G. Miller explained that in addition to himself in his capacity of a vice-president of the British Columbia council of the association, a duly appointed representative of the Victoria centre would be entitled to attend the annual meeting of the council at the expense of that body. The last meeting was held in Vancouver. He moved the appointment of E. Jacobs as representative of Victoria centre. Dr. Hudson seconded, and appointment was made accordingly.

The Victoria city police team, the present holders of the Sir Richard McBride silver cup, will again compete for it. Then there is the cup presented by the Hon. Wm. Tompkins for competition by civilian teams, now held in Vancouver. Finally, the cup presented by his honor the Lieutenant-governor is to be competed for by winners of the miners', police and civilians' cups. One month's notice of the date for examination of competing teams will be given.

After several other matters had been dealt with, it was resolved to send a letter of greeting and good wishes to Dr. David Donald, now with the Canadian troops in front of the front, who has been a most active and zealous worker in the interests of the St. John Ambulance association, in particular of the Victoria centre.

Five names were added to the list of subscribing members, and those present were requested to commend to the attention of their friends the desirability of also becoming members of the association. The proceedings were then declared closed.

WILL COIVENE HERE

The provincial Sunday School convention will be held in Victoria, October 14 to 16, and arrangements are being made for a very inspiring meeting. Sunday school experts of world-wide reputation will be in attendance and the programme promises more educational features than ever before.

Any Sunday school in the province may send delegates, who will be entertained by the Sunday school workers of Victoria on the Harvard plan, viz: Bed and breakfast.

The transportation companies are giving special convention rates and delegates are being instructed to ask for standard certificates when buying single tickets. Special notice is also given of the change in boat service from Vancouver, there being now only two boats a day, the noon and night boats.

Letters for publication in Daily Times must be received at the Times Office not later than the day before the day of publication. When received later they will be held over until the following day.

While unobjectionable anonymous communications will be published, the name and address of every writer of such letters must be given to the editor.

EMPLOYMENT OF ALIENS.

To the Editor: On behalf of the unemployed, would it not be showing a bit of patriotism if some of the capitalist class would employ the British workman, instead of the Chinese and other foreigners in this beautiful city of ours? I did not notice any Chinamen in uniform nor expected to see any ready to protect our empire. Then why should they get most of the work here? Why not give the white men who have to protect their country a chance? The Chinese are not much good as citizens. They spend their money among themselves and after a few years, when they have saved a bit of money, home to their own country they go. There are hundreds of men in this city that would be glad of the work that they are doing. Why they should get the preference over the white man it's hard to understand. Trusting you will put this in print.

F. TOWNS.

ECONOMY.

To the Editor:—I had begun to think that the labor men in the city had been so badly browbeaten this year that they had no kick left; but an glad to see that J. L. Martin is still to the fore.

Granting that you will allow me space as an old subscriber, I wish to enter my protest against the present administration of city works having anything whatever to do with the proposed relief works. Affairs would only go from bad to worse and we should have men rendered desperate by unfair treatment. They might be put in jail and their families turned over to the Friendly Help or the Patriotic fund. What sort of economy is that?

Mr. Martin is quite right about the organizations, clubs, societies, etc., which are all ignorantly selfish, and should be rigidly excluded from all affairs affecting a man's living. If it cannot be stopped any other way, get a Kitchener at the head. Take my own case, although it is too far to election times yet to open up too much, some people having very convenient memories for forgetting distasteful matters: I worked fairly steady for three years on city work till August, 1913; was then laid off two days after paying the year's taxes. Now I was put off because I persistently neglected to join a certain club or society. I have had no regular work since, about 15 days since January 1 this year from the city. The bureau has been a useless, costly means of causing trouble among men and doing no real, fair good. Of course the members of all the organizations found the bureau all right. My taxes are not paid this year and I do not see any prospect as yet. It is a ridiculous idea, but how would it do to refer the collector to some of the pets who have no property or family but who have been in constant work this year? I could go on for a week enumerating things I have seen myself and am prepared to prove with dates and names, but what is the use just now?

Mr. Martin talks of $2 and $3 for this relief work and different ways of working. If the city wants to economize on one individual for a start, I offer to do any kind of work inside the city limits for the minimum $3 till I get on my feet again, clear of debt; then I will go inside the city hall at $1.50 and give some other poor debtor the job outside. The jobs inside are shorter hours and chances for 40 winks.

It is no use to mince matters; we are patriotic. Some time ago several married men, trying to pay for their homes in this city, were laid off and Austrian reservists kept on, the man at the head of the works saying, when a complaint was made, "that they were his best men" and "had to be kept on in slack time." Who ever heard of an Austrian being able to keep pace with a Briton?

Honest Facts Concerning the

MODART CORSETS Front Laced

When we took up the agency in this city for the MODART CORSET, it was only after careful investigation, whereby we were thoroughly convinced that no better make could possibly be offered to ladies of Victoria. As the following facts will convince, nothing has been spared to bring these Corsets up to the highest possible standard of perfection. No matter what particular detail or requirement, you will always have to admit that the MODART CORSET is

"THE CORSET DE LUXE"

Some Superior Features of All Modart Corsets

- COMFORT—This is a quality that cannot be described. It must be felt and it is only by the use of correct design and superior materials in combination with good workmanship that a corset can be made that will be stylish and comfortable and stay that way until worn out.
- WORKMANSHIP—The best way to see the superior workmanship in all MODART CORSETS is to take any other corset and compare it with the MODART. A minute and careful comparison, item by item, material for material, all the way through will yield a great deal of comparative information.
- MATERIALS—All MODART materials are carefully selected with reference to the particular model in which they are to be used. Both fancy and plain goods are superior in every way.
- BONING—The MODART boning is, in our estimation, superior to any other boning made. It is made of clock spring steel of high carbon test so when it bends it springs back in place again and does not "set," that is, bend and stay bent. MODART boning has waterproof covering and all MODART CORSETS can be washed repeatedly without liability to rust.
- CLASPS—MODART clasps are made of high quality steel and all of the tops for three or four inches are ground thin, making the upper part of the clasp very soft and yielding, so that it does not poke the wearer.
- EMBROIDERY—All MODART embroideries are of special design. Not only each model but each size is so designed that when the corset is worn the embroidery fits perfectly flat. If it were made in straight lengths and not shaped it would not lie flat.
- TAPES—We use a very superior quality of tape in all corsets. It is tough, strong and very much superior to the tape that is ordinarily used in corsets. It does not wear out readily and its quality adds to the long life of the corset.
- LACERS—Superior tubular lacers are used on all MODART CORSETS. They are heavy, made of Sea Island cotton and very durable.
- SUPPORTERS—On practically all models the Lindsay supporter is used. This supporter has a felt button which is superior to a rubber button in that it does not injure the hosiery. All supporters have trimmings made of brass heavily nickeled so there is no possibility of rusting as there would be if they were made of steel and then nickeled. After the nickel wears off the steel rusts.

TO APPOINT SUCCESSOR First Presbyterian Church Will Have New Director of Religious Education to Succeed Rev. Gibson.

A successor is to be appointed to fill the place vacated by the resignation of Rev. A. Raeburn Gibson, director of religious education at the First Presbyterian church. This decision was unanimously agreed to at a congregational meeting held on Thursday evening for the purpose of discussing the matter. Rev. J. G. Inkster, pastor of the church, presided. Coupled with expressions of regret that Mr. Gibson was leaving their midst were warm expressions of appreciation for the excellent work carried on by him during his year's sojourn with the church, and the high measure of success which he had realized in undertaking the experiment.

In all the departments of the church, and more particularly in the Sunday school, his energy had been a force which had done much to cement and build up the religious educational departments of the church had been significantly strengthened and reinforced. Among the different organizations within the church represented in the appreciation expressed were the session, through Messrs. McLorie and Thomson; the board of managers, through James Forman and John Meston; the Young People's society, through Mr. Webster and Miss McGregor; the Young Men's club, through Messrs. McBride and Spears; the Boys' club, through Master Harold McDonald; and the Sunday school, through Miss Gleason. After pointing out the advantages of the officer, as so ably demonstrated by Mr. Gibson, all urged the appointment of a successor to continue the good work.

A question as to the advisability of appointing a successor in view of the financial obligations under which the congregation would be in the near future was introduced by Mr. Forman, but James Porter, speaking for the session, reported that the church was solvent and the finances in a flourishing condition. In view of this optimistic statement the motion to appoint a new director of religious education was adopted without a dissenting vote, and the following were appointed a committee to co-operate with Mr. Inkster to this end: John McLorie, J. D. McDonald and John McBride. Mr. Gibson, who has accepted the call sent by the Presbyterian church at Sidney, will leave the First Presbyterian church on October 15 to take over his new duties.

Columbia Lodge No. 2. Four candidates received the third degree last Wednesday evening. At the conclusion of the degree work Bro. A. Henderson, P. G. M., expressed the wish that all past grades would remain, as he had a proposal to put before them. Bro. Henderson would be pleased to talk the matter over with any past Grand of Columbia lodge who was not present last Wednesday evening. The scheme proposed by Bro. Henderson is worthy of the earnest consideration of all past grades of No. 2.

Dominion Lodge No. 4. The benefit dance held by No. 4 on Thursday night was a complete success in every way. There was a very large attendance, fully fifty couples being on the floor, and everyone thoroughly enjoyed himself. Refreshments were supplied by Colfax Rehekal lodge and were much appreciated. The music supplied by Brother Dresser's orchestra was, as usual, all that could be desired. The consensus of opinion was that it was one of the best dances ever held in the hall and hopes are entertained that No. 4 will soon have another like it. Owing to the dance being held on the regular meeting night, there was very little business laid before the lodge and the members dispersed early. Next week, however, the degree team expect to have some work on hand.

SPORTING NEWS

VICTORIA SOCCER ELEVEN WILL VISIT SEATTLE ON NOVEMBER 8

Local Association Will Have Grounds at Oak Bay; Thistles Sign New Star; Football Gossip

That Victoria will visit Seattle to play the return game with the Seattle Nationals on November 8, seems probable. The schedule for the Sound city club which was issued this week gives the Nationals an open date on November 8 and it is extremely likely that the Victoria All-Star eleven will make the trip then. There was some talk of having the Victoria team play at Seattle on November 26, the American Thanksgiving day, but this will not be decided upon until next Wednesday's meeting of the executive committee. The matter of playing some of the league games at the hospital grounds will also be decided upon. It is now stated that there will be room for Rugby and Soccer at Oak Bay, the B. C. Electric tennis club having decided to move their courts until next year. Thistles announce that they will have Inglis, who played for this club last year, in line a week from today when they play the Wests. Every effort is being made to strengthen this club, and with five North Ward players now in uniform, the Thistles intend making a big bid for the championship. Toronto, Oct. 3.—The Dominion of Canada Football Association has decided to set aside one day upon which all clubs, members of the association, will play their matches with the proceeds to go to the Dominion Patriotic Fund. Clarkston, former North Ward star, has signed with the Jacksons. Goalsie Thorburn, of the Jacksons, plays a steady game. Jack Robertson will play between the posts for the Wests today. Tommy Sherriff will play left back for the Jacksons in future. The Outer Wharf boys have organized an inter-collegiate Rugby team. Victoria Wests have a strong junior soccer team. Tommy Rickerson has signed with the West Juniors. The Fairfields will make a strong bid for the intermediate title. Billy Cox plays a good game on the Fairfield defence. Laity's Empires are favored for the intermediate title. Bobby Lee, former Men's Own player, has signed with the Fairfields.

MONSTER BENEFIT FOR THE WAR FUND

Many Local Clubs Enter Boxes for All-Star Show; Bayley Signs Articles

Billy Davies is awaiting word from the Olympic club, of Vancouver, before he completes his arrangements for the monster benefit smoker which will be given by the Victoria boxers for the war fund. He states that the local clubs are coming forward in fine style with their entries, and a lengthy card will be presented. The officers of Elliott's Horse have announced that they will have at least two boxers, while it is expected that Blaney Scott will represent the B. C. Horse. Frank Gallher will represent the 8th Fusiliers, and there will also be a number of clever boxers from the British ships now at Esquimalt. Sir John Jacksons have sent in the names of three boxers, including J. Stewart, 160 pounds; W. James, 140 pounds; S. James, 128 pounds. The Vancouver Island club now has a big squad in training with Al Davies, Scotty McKay, Jack Larrigan, S. McKay, Al Gerard, G. Martin, Roy Baker, Billy Sneddon, H. Willis, Gunner Ross and several others. It is hoped to secure the Drill hall for the smoker and the boys have offered to compete without any prizes being hung up. Plans are under way, however, to offer a handsome diamond-studded medal to the best boxer in the tourney. Local judges will pick out the fastest bout and the winner will receive the medal. Toronto boxers raised over two thousand dollars for the war fund, and every one of the Queen City boxers gave his services without any thought of reward. Abe Attell, former featherweight champion, is in San Francisco claiming that Johnny Kilbane ran out of the match which was scheduled for November 30. The Cleveland feather claimed he had injured his hand and called off the bout. Frank Mantell, middleweight champion of Canada, entered the heavyweight ranks, and met with a reverse the first night. He fought Jack Dillon Monday at Columbus and received a severe trouncing.

REMARKED ON THE SIDE

What Northwestern League Pilots Will Drop Out? Though the annual meeting of the Northwestern league is not slated until December, it is practically certain that there will be several changes in the managers of the different clubs before 1915 rolls round. First of all Bert Delmas, the Victoria manager, will hardly be retained. The former Oakland infielder did not display any marked ability as a developer of young talent, and to hold a minor league berth this is demanded of a manager. Mike Lynch, the Spokane pilot, is another slated for the hook. Lynch, is a wonderful leader when in the lead, but cannot stand for a loser and is unable to inject a brace into a club that has fallen into a rut. Of the four remaining clubs, Bob Brown owns his team, while McGinnity retired in favor of Russ Hall in the summer. Tealey Raymond is sold at Seattle and if the McCredie brothers have anything to do with the sixth franchise in the Northwestern league next year, Nick Williams will undoubtedly be retained. Harry Ostidek may be recalled by Spokane, while Bill Goodman is anxious to come here for a trial.

Cricketers Leave for the Front. After spending years in gathering together one of the finest cricket combinations in Canada, the McGill cricket club received a severe jolt yesterday, when it was announced that no less than fifteen of its players had volunteered for active service. Of these men, seven figure in the senior eleven while the others are prominent members of the second team. Eastern cricket experts have conclusively stated that in W. B. Burns the McGill team has one of the best bowlers and batsmen that ever trod a local cricket field, but now comes the news that he has enlisted, and will not play for McGill again. Burns was to have played in the All-Montreal and New York cricket game, but failed to put in an appearance owing to the fact that he was forced to settle on his affairs. E. S. Cameron is another good player to leave, while C. F. Lane, a good all-rounder, has also heard the Empire's call. Cameron enjoyed an excellent season at the bat, while Lane was effective in the field. E. A. Boughey, F. B. Cameron, A. D. Ince and R. Crowther are the other "A" division players to leave McGill. The other players who have enlisted are A. R. S. King, W. Stanford, C. H. Grundy, W. Lowe, A. S. Henry, Capt. H. J. Webb, Capt. F. B. D. Larken and R. H. Preston.

MACKMEN ON PAPER SHOULD WIN SERIES

Athletics Outclass Braves in All but Hurling; How the Clubs Compare

Now the Braves-Athletics for the world's series. Connie Mack's team have a winning lead in the American race, and will just work their two veterans, Plank and Bender, enough to keep them in condition, while the Braves have drawn far away from the Giants in the National pennant marathon, and it is likely that James, Tyler and Rudolph will rest up for the gigantic clash. Comparing the two teams, the Athletics appear to have the advantage, in nearly every department, base-running, batting and run-getting. The entire Philadelphia infield with the exception of Jack Barry, are hitting the ball at a 290 clip, while the team batting average is .270, Boston have but one slugger batting over .300, while the team batting is .246. Beginning, to compare first-sackers, Stuffy McInnes, of the Athletics, with Schmidt, of the Braves, the American leaguer leads his rival at batting, fielding, and base-running. The sturdy Stuffy is batting .316, while Schmidt is clouting the ball at a .268 mark. Eddie Collins is playing the game of his life on second base and comparing with Evers shows the Athletic star ahead in every department. He is second in the American league, ranking second to Ty Cobb in batting, his average being .348. He ranks second to Maize in base-stealing honors, while he is head and shoulders above any other American leaguer in run-getting. It is true that Johnny Evers is a wonderful second-sacker, but he does not compare with the speedy Philadelphiaan, Barry, at short, is playing a good defensive game for the American leaguers, but Rabbit Maranville of the opposition party has it on him. "Rabbit" is batting .252 to Barry's .239, while the midget Brave is playing a sensational game in the field. Frank Baker outclasses Tony Smith on third. The sensational "home-run" clouter is hitting .319, is among the leaders in extra base-hitting, while his fielding average is good. Smith is a good fielding third-sacker, but does not begin to compare with Baker as a hitter. "Wally" Schang and "Hank" Gowdy both shine as back-stops, but the American leaguer shows to better advantage at bat and should make a more brilliant showing in the coming series, having had previous experience. Schang also excels Gowdy in throwing to the bases. Connolly, in left for the Braves is the only .300 hitter on the Brave line-up, he ranks ahead of "Rube" Oldring, the Athletic left-gardener, in slugging, but his fielding is not so sensational. In base-running, the Athletic star outclasses his rival. Amos Strunk is playing a wonderful game for the American leaguers in center field and is better than Martin, or Whitford, of Boston. Eddie McFarry and Washie, of Philadelphia, pitted against the Brave utility's Devore, Smith, and Cathers, is an even break, none of the five being anything exceptional. The pitchers will be a big factor in the series—James and Rudolph, for the Nationals, while Bender and Plank will face the brunt of the Athletic hurling. Each team has a number of recruits who may loom up. Bender for the American leaguers first, followed by Bressler, Plank, Bush, Wyckoff, Pennock, Shawkey and Davies. For Boston, Bill James ranks high, having returned victorious on 26 occasions while he met with 6 defeats. Dick Rudolph ranks second; Tyler third, although he got off with a poor start in the spring. Of the youngsters young Crutcher appears to be the most promising, while Strand and Davis also show good form. Otto Hess, a veteran, succeeded in carrying off five victories, while he met with six defeats. Cockreham, another youngster, also looks fair.

It is probable that both Mack and Stallings will work one of their youngsters in the series. Last season when things looked blue for the "cunning" Mack he marched along Joe Bush and the youngster easily stopped McGraw's troop. This season he has uncovered another phenom in Bressler, who will likely work in one of the games. Stallings has great faith in Crutcher, and should one of the great trio, James, Rudolph or Tyler, fall down this youngster will be given a trial.

NO GOAL NETS SO POSTPONED MATCH

Failure of the playgrounds management to have goal nets at the Albion grounds yesterday afternoon resulted in the postponement of the first match in the Downwell cup series. This will be played at 4.30 at Central park, play starting on Monday. The Nationals and Centrals are the competing teams, the winners to hold the Robert Downwell cup for one year, and they will also receive the Lally medals.

CHICAGO SERIES.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—The first game in the annual city series between the Chicago White Sox and Cubs will be played on Wednesday, Oct. 7, at the grounds of the American league club on the South Side, it was decided yesterday. The club which is the first to win four games will be declared the city champion.

FEDERALS OFFER M'GRAW BIG BAIT

Will Place Team in New York for Giant's Leader; Stars for Brooklyn Club

Chicago, Oct. 3.—A story printed here to-day says the Federal league has offered J. J. McGraw the management of Federal league club to be placed in New York. The story hints McGraw is dissatisfied with a clause in his contract which provides that he draw $30,000 a year if the Giants were first or second, but cuts the salary to $12,000 should the team end below second. Members of the Ward family, holders of the Federal franchise in Brooklyn, are said to have made McGraw the offer. The story says the Indianapolis team is to be placed in New York if McGraw will take its management. The Brooklyn Federals are said to have signed for next year Walter Johnson, Ray Collins, Hans Lobert, Sherwood Magee and Charles Doolin.

New York, Oct. 3.—Officers of the New York National league club laughed heartily when they heard the story intimating that McGraw might manage a Federal league club next year. Secretary Foster said McGraw was bound to the club by a cast-iron contract which had several years yet to run. Manager McGraw when questioned regarding the report said: "It is a joke yarn. I would not manage any Federal league baseball club at any price if I were a free agent."

HOPPE HAS CHANCE TO WIN TO-NIGHT

New York, Oct. 3.—Melbourne Inman, the world's English billiard champion, finished his five scheduled games of English billiards in the international match here yesterday. He beat Willie Hoppe, the world's balk line champion, in two sessions of 600 points each, at the English style. His score in the afternoon game was 600 to 498, and last night he made 600 points in fourteen innings, while Hoppe counted 212 in thirteen innings. The total scores for the nine games played so far in the match are 3,455 to 2,285, in favor of Inman, who leads the American by 1170 points. To-night the match will be concluded with two 500-point games, and Hoppe is pronounced favorite for the honors, as he far outclasses the British visitor at balk line play.

SPORTING GOSSIP OF THE DAY

Braves are still keeping up their mad pace. Welsh and Hays play rugby to-morrow at Oak Bay. Wests expect to win from the Albert Head eleven. Rube Marquard ought to be a winner for the Cubs. He is about tired of the Giants' inability to get runs for him. Archie Muir plays a sterling game on the Thistle attack. Jimmy Sherriff is again wearing a Victoria West jersey. McDalruid, on the West defence, is a come-back. Ken McDonald will play full-back for the J. B. A. rugby fifteen. Dickie Chungcranes, many seasons ago pride of the South Park football team, returned to the city this week after spending some years in Greece. North Wards are not even represented by a junior league team. Bob Whyte is still the mainstay of the West defence. Art Pike is playing a steady game for the Empires. Diner—"I believe I see several flies in this soup, waiter." Waiter, in surprise—"You must be mistaken, sir. I was very careful to take them all out before I brought it in."

Tire Attacks

Which Goodyears are Best Fitted to Resist

The Fiercest Four
These are the four chief tire troubles:
Rim-Cuts Loose Treads Blow-Outs Punctures

Note, for your own sake, how Goodyears meet them in ways exclusive to these tires.

Rim-cuts are impossible in Goodyear No-Rim-Cut tires. We control the way—the only feasible way—to prevent it.

Blow-outs—most of them—occur in weak spots, due to wrinkled fabric. We remove this cause by our "On-Air" cure, which no one else employs.

Loose treads are combated by a patent method, which creates in each tire hundreds of large rubber rivets.

Punctures and skidding are best met by our exclusive All-Weather tread. It is tough and double-thick. The grips are deep, sharp, resistless. Yet the tread—flat and regular—runs as smoothly as plain treads.

No tire ever built offers one of these features save the Goodyear No-Rim-Cut tire.

It's Up to You

These things mean safety, strength, endurance. They mean maximum mileage and minimum trouble.

Getting them depends on you, for any dealer will supply you Goodyear tires. And at less than usual tire prices because of our mammoth output.

Countless men do get them, and tell other men to get them. More men now buy Goodyears than buy any other tire.

Please remember these things when you next buy tires. Don't trust to luck. Don't think that tires are much alike.

And remember that Goodyear tires are made in Canada—at the Goodyear tire plant, Bowmanville, Ontario, where master standards and equipment mean the best, always.

The only way to save tire troubles is to buy tires that combat them.

SEASON OPENS WELL IN SOOKE DISTRICT

Quail Larger Than Usual; Grouse is Abundant; Many Deer Are to Be Seen

Mixed bags were the order of the first day of the shooting season in the Sooke Harbor district, quail (which are seemingly much larger than usual this season) predominating. With blue grouse, willow grouse and pheasants in the order named. Up the river road P. F. Richardson, working with one dog for less than four hours, bagged eighteen quail and seven grouse; four other shooting season guests of the Sooke Harbor hotel had each from four to eleven grouse and quail in plenty, with an occasional gaudy pheasant to give color to the sport. Numerous deer were seen by the "first-day" hunters, but only one was brought in, having fallen to bird-shot. The grouse supply of the Sooke Harbor territory—furred and feathered—was never so good as this year, and the motor stage and hotel proprietors are making special arrangements so that all may enjoy the present advantages conveniently and economically.

LAWN BOWLING FINAL FOR THANKSGIVING DAY

A match between the president and vice-president lawn bowling teams will close the season at the Beacon Hill Park Lawn Bowling club on Thanksgiving Day. This was announced yesterday. The 1914 schedule was brought to a close on Thursday, when the final in the Shortt, Hill & Duncan competition was played. R. Donn defeated A. R. Langley by 21 to 19, and in the final of the "O.O." cup, G. Roberts defeated W. Wood by 23 to 11.

GRASS HOCKEY LEAGUE WILL BE FORMED HERE

It is expected that enough players will be secured by the local grass hockey enthusiasts to play a practice game on Thanksgiving Day. A meeting of the local enthusiasts was held last night in the Ritz hotel, when the opinion was expressed that there are enough good players in the city to form a strong organization. Another meeting will be held next Wednesday night when the provisional committee will report on its work to that date. Officers will also be elected. This committee consists of: E. D. Freeman, land registry office; H. E. Whyte, telephone 2629; and R. McInnes, telephone 13427.

How Russians Lost the Battle in East Prussia

General Samsonoff Got Into a Trap in Marsh and Lake District and Was Outflanked on Both Sides

The fullest account yet published in this country of the German victory over the Russians in East Prussia on August 26-28 is given by the Petrograd correspondent of the Birmingham Daily Post in a letter which was delayed in transmission.

It should be remembered that the Russians were making a great effort to relieve the pressure on their allies in the west by pushing forward boldly the invasion on the east. Though Samsonoff's defeat meant a sacrifice of 140,000 men killed, wounded and captured, the effort was successful in drawing off at least two German army corps from France and bringing altogether several hundred thousand German troops to the eastern front.

The correspondent of the Birmingham Post says: "Hohenstein is the most decisive battle so far fought. The battle, as described to me by the slightly wounded Captain Plotnikoff, of the staff of the Sixth Army Corps, half of which escaped, was a very simple affair. General Samsonoff, with 200,000 men, advanced into the Allenstein 'Bezirk' of East Prussia, meeting practically no opposition. His plan was to collaborate with Rennenkampf, who had entered via Stallupoenen and Insterburg, in a frontal attack upon the Vistula line. This line consisted of powerful fortresses. At the same time two other Russian armies (Russia before the destruction of Samsonoff's force had nine armies in the field) were to turn the flank of the German position, via Posen.

The Russians seem to have been overconfident, and to have been misled by the current talk about Germany's extraordinary weakness in the east, her concentration of all good troops on the Belgian-French theatre, and so on. As a fact the Germans had in East Prussia about 200,000 men, or nearly half the strength of the Russians in every factor except age. They had splendid field artillery, a park of howitzers, also two of the famous 42-centimetre guns used with such effect in the west, the use of their own railways (which the Russians, having no rolling stock of German gauge, could not use), and splendid automobile transport. On paper far inferior in numbers, their mobility ensured them a superiority at every threatened point.

An Aggressive Old General. The Germans, in addition to other assets, had Hindenburg, an old general, taken out of retirement to command Landwehr troops, but an extremely confident and aggressive commander. Hindenburg is known here. He made a stir in military circles ten years ago by a series of lectures called "Always the Attack." This policy he put in force. He knew that Samsonoff had somewhat imprudently rushed into the Masurian plain, which is nothing but lake, bog, and swamp. A defeat there meant disaster.

Samsonoff was taking the offensive at the moment when Hindenburg was threatening his flanks. After occupying Allenstein, the capital of the "Bezirk," and peace headquarters of a Prussian army corps, Samsonoff set out to advance along the main railway line to Osterode and Deutsch Eylau (the last in West Prussia). East of Allenstein, on the morning of the 26th, Samsonoff met strong opposition from a Landwehr force, which, though small, was newly and heavily armed with artillery from the Vistula line. Samsonoff never reached Osterode. Hindenburg, who held the railway line from Wartenburg to Gardenen, had concentrated a very big force north of Wartenburg and Bischofstein. Samsonoff did not suspect this. The Germans advanced south, and after thirty-six hours fighting occupied Passenheim, a town in the middle of the swamp and lake district. Samsonoff's right wing was now completely ruined.

Still harder fighting took place on the Russian left wing, where the attacking Germans were weaker. The German objective was Neidenburg and Soldau. When Neidenburg was captured, the Russians, if they failed to break through, were practically doomed. Their main force, still fighting desperately against the German centre west of Hohenstein, had behind it nothing but lakes and swamps, and retreat was through this country the gap for retreat was not more than twenty miles broad.

A Massacre by Big Guns. The battle ended by the outgoing Russians being driven in on their centre, mowed down as they fought in close formation by the German artillery, and utterly destroyed as they attempted to retreat. Only the first army corps and half the sixth, neither of which was seriously engaged, got away. The eighth, sixteenth and twenty-third, and half the sixth numbering in all about 40,000, were wholly destroyed. The Russian killed is estimated at 11,000; the number of prisoners was 96,000. As none escaped it may be assumed that over 30,000 were wounded. These corps did not succeed in saving one gun. Most of the guns were run into the lakes or abandoned half-sunken in the swamps.

Although only Russian accounts of this battle are available, there is no doubt that the Russians fought well, and, allowing for their initial mistake, showed great skill. Their attempt to break the German left at Passenheim so as to escape north and join hands with Rennenkampf nearly succeeded. The Russians got again and again into the German trenches. The Germans on the second day were forced altogether to abandon Passenheim, and were in full retreat on Allenstein. This retreat,

WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB MAKES PLANS

Would Assist Further in Patriotic Work; Regular Meetings to Be Continued

A high measure of patriotic feeling marked the opening remarks of the president yesterday at the first meeting since the holidays of the Women's Canadian club. It was, said Mrs. Jenkins, a time for deeds, not words; a time for rallying to the empire's aid in the most practical manner possible.

Reference was made by the speaker to the fruitful study of Canadian history which had formed the club course during the last session. Other clubs had been stimulated to the adoption of a similar course. Members as individuals were no doubt already working, but as a club it was felt that the organization should give some united support to the great needs of the hour.

If Foods were placed in order of merit, you would place Benger's Food first, because it is retained when all other foods are rejected. Although Benger's Food, when prepared, contains all the nutritive elements necessary to sustain life in full vigour, it is so easily digested that the weakest infant or invalid may be fed upon it when other foods fail.

Benger's Food forms, with milk, a delicious food cream, most highly nourishing and quite free from rough particles which irritate delicate stomachs.

Members as individuals were no doubt already working, but as a club it was felt that the organization should give some united support to the great needs of the hour.

MANY FIRMS WILL SHOW AT EXHIBITION

Thirty-One Have Already Signified Intention of Exhibiting Locally-Made Goods

As much of the success of the proposed Made-in-Victoria exhibition hinges on the possibility of securing a proper hall, efforts are being made to get the drill hall on the proposed dates in the third week of October. H. F. Bullen, chairman of the industries committee of the Victoria and Island Development Association, has been in touch with G. H. Barnard, M. P., in connection with the matter, but no answer has yet been received from Ottawa.

J. C. Pendray, chairman of the Victoria branch of the British Columbia Manufacturers' association, announces that thirty-one firms have so far promised to make exhibits and that every class of industry will be represented. It is stated at the offices of the Development association that, should the exhibition be arranged to take place at the drill hall, articles will be shown that have never before been seen at an exhibition here.

The inquiries for space and for inclusion in the list of local manufacturers have been numerous at the exhibition. It is pointed out that the exhibition will provide for the school children preparing for participation in the proposed essay competition, data on the local industries which will greatly aid them in the preparation of their stories. The committee of the Development association has decided to hold a meeting on Tuesday afternoon to receive reports from the various sub-committees which are working upon the different features of the exhibition.

As the result of representations to the B. C. Electric Railway company officials, made for the purpose of ascertaining whether it would be possible to have the electrical display which was to have been a feature of the Dominion exhibition, the committee has learned that the company will be prepared to offer a representative display and make it a feature of the exhibition. The industries committee is also grateful to the B. C. Electric Railway company for undertaking to place the company's accounts for a period of one year. The leaflets will be altered each month. Dealing with the manufacturing prospects of the city, 49 letters on various matters have gone out from the association's office this week. With a suitable hall available, the committee is determined to make a great success of the proposed exhibition.

Saanich Taxes.—A report on the collection of taxes for Saanich will be made to the council on Tuesday evening. The overdraft at the bank has been met, but it is hoped that more taxes will be paid as the amount is still considerably short of the requirements of the year as set out in the municipal estimates. Pending the sale of debentures, the work carried on in the district depends on the amount of money supplied from the taxes.

Sus City Detectives.—Harry G. Ellis has begun an action against Frank Turner and Sam Siciliano, two members of the city detective force, for damages for alleged assault and false imprisonment. Mr. Ellis was arrested and charged in police court about ten days ago with being a loose, idle and disorderly person who having no visible means of support did unlawfully live without employment. The charge was dismissed and Mr. Ellis now seeks damages for the indignity of the position in which he was placed. Aikman & Austin are his solicitors.

DROWNED AT GOLDSTREAM

Private Barnes, of 50th Highlanders, Meets Death While Fishing Below Falls.

Private J. W. Barnes, of the 50th Highlanders, was drowned yesterday evening while fishing at Goldstream. Along with about eighteen others, the deceased had been on sentry duty at the power house, and having an hour or two off duty went with his friend, Private R. Reid, to catch some fish at the foot of the falls.

The two were seated on a rock about four feet above the water, which at this point was swollen through the breaking of the water pipe at Langford, when Reid caught a fish. Private Barnes excitedly jumped up on the rock, and at the very moment his companion was warning him to be careful, slipped and fell into the water. Reid bravely dived in after him, but was nearly dragged under by the deceased, the pair getting almost under the falls. Reid was in an exhausted condition when rescued, but Barnes' body was not to be seen.

Last night Provincial Constable Owens went out to Goldstream and continued dragging operations all night without result. This morning about 6.30, however, Private McMasars dived in with a rope tied to his waist, and succeeded in bringing the body of the unfortunate soldier to the surface. The body was brought to the Victoria Undertaking parlors. Private Barnes was a native of Leeds, England, and his only surviving relative is his mother in Quebec. His wife, Mrs. Barnes, lives in Central park and was shortly to have been married. His untimely end has aroused much sympathy in the camps and full military honors will be accorded the dead soldier at the funeral.

OBITUARY RECORD

The funeral of the late W. J. Hoskin took place this afternoon at 2.15 from the Hanna-Thomson parlors, under Masonic auspices. In recognition of the fact that the deceased was an honored member of the Masonic craft in England, there was a large representation of various local lodges at the obsequies. Wor. Bro. A. S. Ashwell, master of Victoria-Columbia lodge No. 1, officiating. Members of several local lodges and several visiting brothers attended, and the following Masons acted as pallbearers: Dr. R. F. Verrinder, Messrs. Stevenson, J. R. Saunders, V. Fowles, J. O. Stenson and M. M. Smith. There were also many other friends of the deceased present, and numerous beautiful flowers testified to the wide esteem in which he was held. One son, living here, survives; also relatives in the Old Country.

OBITUARY RECORD

The death occurred yesterday, at his late residence, 940 North Park street, of Wong Shu Chin, a Chinese merchant of the city who has lived here for about twelve years. The deceased was proprietor of the store at 639 Flaggard street, known as Nam Sang Lung. He was married and leaves several children. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, and will be held in front of the business premises, and full Confucian rites, with procession, to be held. Further rites will be at the Chinese cemetery, after which the remains will be brought back to the B. C. Funeral parlors and placed in the vault.

GENEROUS OFFERS HELP PATRIOTIC FUND
Over 100 Lists Out; Citizens Responding Splendidly to Appeal

Typical of the many wishes expressed to give help in some form or other is a letter which has been received by the Victoria Patriotic Aid society from a carpenter who, nearly destitute himself and with a family to provide for, is unable to give money, but offers in lieu thereof to do without charge any repairs on the houses of people whose breadwinners have gone to the front in defence of the empire. This same man, who begs to be allowed to do any possible service which he can through carpentering, also offers ten per cent. of any of his earnings in the future to the fund.

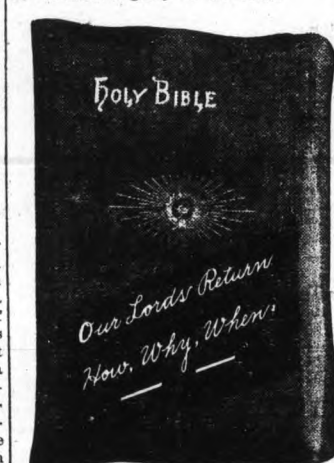

The committee of the patriotic fund desires to warn the public against purchasing books or souvenirs sold "in aid of the patriotic fund. At the very beginning, while the fund was still under consideration, the trustees discussed various plans which occurred to them as the best way in which to start a collection campaign for the funds of the society. Among other suggestions brought forward at that time was that of selling books and souvenirs, but a grave objection was found to the adoption of this course, owing to the difficulty foreseen in preventing unscrupulous people from outside going into the field and offering such to the public on the plea that a certain percentage of the sales would be given to the fund. The trustees appreciate fully the spirit of the people who have in so many instances made absolutely bona fide offers, but believe that with the foregoing explanation everyone will see the justice of the decision.

The public is also cautioned against collectors other than those who carry forms signed by A. C. Flumerfelt and R. H. Swinerton, under the seal of the society. Numbers of generous offers of assistance continue to pour in. Up to the present the committee has not required to avail itself of more than a portion of these, but those who have sent in their names are assured that the committee will avail itself of the kind help professed whenever this is needed. About one hundred committees are out with lists, and subscriptions, which as far as possible should be entirely voluntary, are coming in freely. The Pennock & Godfrey Co., Ltd., which is holding a sale all day to-day, contributing 10 per cent of the proceeds of the total returns to the Patriotic Fund, and the C. & C. pool-rooms, the 18 tables of which were thrown open to-day, are turning over the total proceeds to the trustees of the fund. Godfrey Booth and two other voluntary helpers are in charge of the monies.

Lectures on War.—A course of four Biblical and historical lectures is to be given on successive evenings at Christ Church Cathedral school-room, beginning next Monday evening, by Rev. George B. Berry, B. A., late vicar of Emmanuel church, Plymouth, England, on "The War in Europe; Its Origin, Issue and Results, as Plainly Foretold in Prophecy." The Very Rev. Dean Doull is to take the chair at 8.
Special Sermon.—The subject of Rev. William Stevenson's address at Emmanuel Baptist church to-morrow evening will be "The Great War; Brute Force, Its Glorification and Overthrow."

Special Lecture in Pantages Theatre Sunday Evening

"OUR LORD'S RETURN AND THE REWARD OF THE OVERCOMERS." will be the subject of the special lecture in the Pantages Theatre, Sunday evening at 7.30. The return of the Redeemer, the rewarding of the overcomers and the ushering in of His glorious Kingdom for the blessing of "all the families of the earth," has been the hope of the Christian church ever since Pentecost. According to the Bible testimony, the evidences are that this day of Messiah's glory is at hand.

In the lecture Sunday evening, the speaker will clear up many mysteries from the Scripture concerning this subject, and will deal especially with the manner and object of His return, and the signs of His presence. In times past many good Christian people have associated with our Lord's return a fearful Doomsday, at which time the earth would be burnt up. The Bible declares, however, "the earth abideth forever" that God "formed it not in vain, but to be inhabited." The Apostle Peter says, "Times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord... the restitution of all things." Acts 11, 19-21. Then it is the long-prayed-for Kingdom will be established in power and great glory. When "the desire of all nations shall come," and the poor weary world shall receive the blessings purchased by the Lamb of Calvary, when pain and sorrow and sighing will gradually fade away. The lecture is under the auspices of the International Bible Students' association. Seats are free and no collection is taken.

A BAZAAR Will be held by the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in the Lecture Room on TUESDAY, OCTOBER 6 From 3 to 10 p. m. Formal opening by Mrs. W. J. Bower at 4 p. m. MRS. R. L. PHILIPS, Secretary, 31 Howe Street. To the educated as reader QUALITY OF GOODS is of first importance.—price-concessions secondary.

BULLISH ACTIVITY AT LOCAL SESSION

Portland and Coronation Con- tinue to Rise in Price To-day

The local list had precisely the same aspects to-day as yesterday, but to a more emphasized extent. Coronation Gold was for the third or fourth session bullishly inclined, would-be buyers being compelled to raise their purchase limit in view of lean offerings.

There was no stock for sale below ten cents a share.

Quotations for Portland Canal on the close of session, 3 3/4. The situation in this issue denoted healthy feeling and combined support throughout the market.

As in Coronation, there was but little stock for sale and then only around the 4c level, after just one sale was made at 3c.

The Vancouver stock exchange is to re-open on Monday after having been closed fully two months, which should result in higher prices for issues not for activity here of late.

GOOD DEMAND FOR NUMBER 1 NORTHERN

Winnipeg, Oct. 3.—There was a natural reaction to-day after the slump of Friday, and the profit that in spite of there being little export trade several million bushels of grain have left Atlantic ports in a party dash.

Wheat opened 1/2c to 3/4c up and there was an excellent demand for No. 1 northern wheat, which sold at 40c to 42c over the option. Receipts of No. 1 are steadily declining, Nos. 2 and 3 were not wanted, but No. 4 and lower was in fair demand all morning. No. 2 C. W. oats were also in good demand with little inquiry for lower grades. The close showed wheat to have advanced 1/2c to 1/4c. The flax market was weak and lower.

Export houses admitted fair business after the close Friday, but declared bids out of line on the morning advance. Receipts were 1,169 cars against 1,528 last year, and 776 in sight for the day. Weather in west was generally cloudy, with rain at a few points in northern Manitoba and Saskatchewan, and traces of snow in Southern Alberta.

AERIAL SERVICE HAS BEEN MOST EXCELLENT

Value of Work Done Testified to in Official Statement
Just Issued

London, Oct. 3.—The extent of the value of the services rendered by flying machines and airships co-operating in the naval and military movements is shown by the following statement issued last night by the official press bureau:

"While the expeditionary force was being moved abroad, a strong patrol to the eastward of the Straits of Dover was undertaken by both seaplanes and airships of the naval air service. The airships remained steadily patrolling between the French and English coasts, sometimes for twelve hours, while further to the east, with the assistance of the Belgian authorities, a temporary seaplane base was established at Ostend, and a patrol kept up between Ostend and the English coast.

"By this means it was impossible for the enemy's ships to approach the straits without being seen for many miles. On one occasion during one of the airship's patrol, it became necessary to change a propeller blade of one of the engines. The captain feared it would be necessary to descend for this purpose, but two of the crew immediately volunteered to carry out this difficult task in the air, and climbing out to a bracket carrying the propeller shafting, they completed the hazardous work of changing the blade, 2,000 feet above the sea.

"On August 27, when Ostend was occupied by a force of marines, a strong squadron of aeroplanes, under Commander Sampson, complete with all transport equipment, also was sent over. Later this aeroplane camp was moved and much good work was carried out by aeroplanes supported by armed motors.

"Advanced bases have been established some distance inland. "On several occasions skirmishes have taken place between armed motor car supports and bands of Uhlans. All these affairs have been successful, with a loss to the enemy in killed and in prisoners taken. The naval armed cars and aeroplanes also have assisted the French forces of artillery and infantry on several occasions. Good work has been done in dropping bombs upon positions of military importance and railway communications."

GERMAN SPIES FOUND BEING SHOT SUMMARILY

Paris, Oct. 3.—A French court-martial has begun hearing the cases of German spies taken prisoners by the French while in disguise, and on whose persons there have been found objects of value.

All German prisoners in French hands thus suspected of pillage are to be tried. One such man has just been sentenced to imprisonment for five years, while two others were given sentences of eight months' confinement.

Spies are being judged summarily without the formality of a court-martial. Their executions are being kept a close secret, but it is said that a considerable number already have been shot.

88TH REGIMENT IS AGAIN AT STRENGTH

Organized in Four Full War
Companies; 50th at Field
Manoeuvres

When the Albert train comes in this afternoon with a party of 17 young men who have announced their intention of enlisting in the 88th regiment, that battalion will be at full strength. With a view to being ready for war service at a moment's call, the battalion has been organized in four companies on a war footing instead of the customary eight companies of 56 men each. These double companies are filled as such, and while the strength of the regiment is at the peace establishment its organization is that of half of a regular battalion in the Imperial army.

The 50th regiment, on the other hand, is organized in the customary eight companies and is also very close to strength. A few more days' recruiting should bring this battalion up to establishment also.

The Highlanders and the B. C. Horse engaged in field manoeuvres this morning in the country near the Willows camp. Another field day will be held to-morrow, the religious service being abandoned. The Fusiliers went on a long route march this morning. This was the second battalion parade since the regiment has been in camp.

A rugby match is scheduled for this afternoon between the Willows and Esquimalt camps. The game will be played at the Willows.

The news has been received that Harry A. Farr of the 50th Highlanders has been selected to be a member of the aviation corps with the Canadian contingent. He was with an airship agency in San Francisco and his mechanical training was responsible for the transfer.

A delightful entertainment was afforded the Fusiliers in the Masonic temple, Esquimalt, by members of the Victoria Amateur Dramatic Society, Reginald Hicks and Miss Phyllis Davis took prominent parts in the programme.

PREPARING WELCOME FOR THE CONTINGENT

London, Oct. 3.—The Canadian War Contingent association is actively pursuing preparations for furthering the well-being of the Canadian contingent. Hon. George H. Perley wishes it to be stated that the association would like to act as agents here of any organization in Canada having similar objects, and to work in co-operation with them.

The organization of the Queen's Canadian military hospital is nearly completed, and will be for the general use of the forces, not for Canadians only. Arrangements are being made for utilizing all offers of help for convalescents which have been made by Canadians resident here. Gifts of linen and clothing already have been extensively sent, but much more will be required later.

It is understood that many associations in Canada, as well as single individuals, are preparing clothing and comforts for the Canadian troops. The association here will be glad to act as distributors, as it is proposed to keep in touch with the regiments during the campaign. With the assistance of the war office distribution probably can be effected better from London than from Canada direct, and thus overlapping may be minimized.

To Prepare Demonstration Plot.

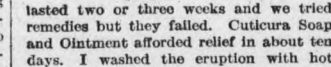

The department of agriculture, in furtherance of its promise, has arranged to confer two demonstration lots in two parts of the city with the object of showing how a constant supply of fruit and vegetables may be grown. The demonstration will be for the benefit of the vacant lot movement. The work will be in charge of the horticultural branch of the department.

RASH COVERED CHEST AND BACK

Itching and Burning Pimples Spread. Clothing Irritated. Used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. Well in Three Weeks.

High River, Alta.—"My baby was a sufferer from an itching and a burning on chest and back. The trouble began with a fine small rash and got quite a skin eruption until his whole chest and back were covered. Some of them were festering and on some the top looked clear. He was fretful and cross and was always rubbing. His clothing irritated him. The trouble caused itching, burning and loss of sleep. His chest and back grew worse and worse; they were a mass of itching pimples. The trouble had lasted two or three weeks and we tried remedies but they failed. Cuticura Soap and Ointment afforded relief in about ten days. I washed the eruption with hot water and Cuticura Soap four times a day, then used the Cuticura Ointment and in three weeks he was well again. He owes it to Cuticura Soap and Ointment." (Signed) Mrs. Alice Wolford, Nov. 1, 1912.

For red, rough, chapped and bleeding hands, itching, burning palms, and painful finger-ends with shapeless nails, a one-night Cuticura treatment works wonders. Soak hands, on retiring, in hot water and Cuticura Soap. Dry, anoint with Cuticura Ointment and wear soft bandages or old, loose gloves during the night. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. For a liberal free sample of each, with 32-p. book, send post-card to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. D, Boston, U. S. A.

Wounded in Accident.—The first reported accident in the hunting season happened on Wednesday when Dennis Coultas, who was shooting near Cowichan, stumbled over a log, exploding the charge in his shot gun. The bullets entered his right arm near the elbow and for some time it was seriously feared that the limb would have to be amputated. But this happily was averted by skilled treatment at the Duncan hospital. The injured man, who is a member of the firm of Coultas and Son, of this city, had to walk the miles to Cowichan station from the scene of the accident.

RANGE WILL BE BUILT.

Aldermen Grant Permission for Erection of Miniature Rifle Range on Burned Area.

The aldermen at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the streets committee, agreed to grant permission for the building by-law to be modified to allow of the erection of a frame building on the burned area, View street, to be used as a miniature rifle range.

The promoters pointed out that every effort to meet the wishes of the building inspector had been made. It would be known as the "Kitchen" range, and would be open for the duration of the war.

The mayor favored granting permission. Alderman Fullerton opposed. The range would be a detriment to the district. He believed that action should be taken only on a petition from storekeepers in the vicinity.

A resolution was passed that a permit for six months should be granted, subject to the control of the building inspector. A committee was appointed to see that the work is carried out satisfactorily.

The outside walls of the building are to be sheathed with galvanized iron. To strive with difficulties and to conquer them is the highest human felicity.—Dr. Johnson.

PAVING COMPANY MAY DO THE SURFACING

Council Will Have Report on Improvement of Two Streets on Monday

At the meeting of the streets committee yesterday afternoon, the aldermen decided to have a report by Monday next as to whether in paving Blackwood street and Gorge road it is necessary for the city to award the contract for surfacing to the Canadian Mineral Rubber company.

Clause 2 of the contract entered into in March of this year between the Canadian Mineral Rubber company and the city, provides: "If the city should desire to proceed with the laying of asphalt surface during the year 1914 on any streets of an area exceeding 95,000 square yards, the city will cause such area not exceeding 10,000 square yards to be laid by the company in accordance with the terms of this contract and the specifications and general conditions." The company has signified its willingness to proceed with this work as soon as the city has completed the concrete foundations.

As this will be part of the relief work, the aldermen fixed the wages for teamsters at $5 a day. Up to the present $6 a day has been paid.

Ald. McNeill said the time had come when economy must be practiced. The people demanded reductions in this time of pressure.

City Engineer Rust drew the attention of the council members to the position in which the passage of the paving committee's report at the last meeting had placed him. The report called for the introduction of the necessary by-laws. The solicitor had asked for information and it would require a considerable expenditure of money for surveys necessary in preparing plans and estimates—a difficult matter if the staff was to be reduced as the aldermen had plainly indicated was to be the case.

There were a number of streets, as Amphion, Bank, Belmont, Bond, Chester, Dundas, Fergus, Henry, St. James, and St. Andrew's, where underground work had been done and it would take about $200,000 to finish that group of streets.

Ald. Todd, acting chairman of the streets committee and chairman of the special paving committee, said it had not been the intention of the committee to follow such a course. Its recommendations were not binding on the council of 1915; they were merely recommendations. Some of the streets named in the report certainly ought to be paved.

Ald. McNeill emphasized the desirability of paving Blanshard street from Pandora avenue to Princess avenue by the Victoria & Sidney depot. It was decided that the special committee and the engineer should confer and make another report.

POWERS ARE LACKING
Bar-tenders Informed Suggested Provisions Cannot Be Put in Liquor By-law Until Legislation Passed.

The bartenders' delegation which the other day waited on the health committee of the city council interviewed the streets committee yesterday afternoon. The provisions which are suggested for inclusion in the liquor license by-law were read and in explanation of them a representative of the union stated that the present liquor license by-law did not give sufficient protection for the bartenders.

MAYOR'S FUND ONE OF THE SUGGESTIONS

Deputations Wait on Aldermen and Discuss Conditions; Many Speakers

Deputations from the Social Service Commission and the Unemployed League of Victoria waited on the city council last evening. The speakers were given great latitude by the mayor. After an hour and three-quarters' discussion, the council promised to take the various recommendations into consideration.

The deputation from the Unemployed League submitted suggestions for immediate public works, asked the council not to break down the civic minimum wage of $3, and urged that if the council could not meet the situation, an appeal for action should be made to the government by the municipalities collectively.

The deputation speaking for the Social Service Commission, urged the establishment of a mayor's fund to deal with relief, and suggested that a total of $250,000 be got in hand to provide for public works.

Christian Sivertz, representing the general committee of the Trades and Labor Council, said his deputation desired to draw attention to the matter of unemployment in the city. The committee desired: (1) Early commencement of the new buildings of the Royal Jubilee hospital, the suggestion being that the city should offer for sale locally $75,000 worth of the debentures authorized in 1912. (2) An early start on the Johnson street bridge. The deputation urged that the government be pressed to make a beginning on the improvement work on the Indian reserve and to commence other public works. (3) Improvement of the waters of the Gorge. (4) Issue of instructions for the cleaning up of lanes and the rear of premises in the city. (5) To protest, in connection with the proposed relief work on streets, against the city's fixing wages at $2 for an eight-hour day; the lower rate would indicate the municipality's "inability to provide the standard rate of wages of $3 a day."

Mr. Sivertz emphasized the fact that those out of work did not want charity, but employment.

John Day, speaking for the Trades and Labor Council committee, advocated the flotation by the city of a sufficient amount of hospital debentures to bring the sum promised by the government up to a total which would enable a start to be made on the new buildings; and second, energetic action by the council in urging on the directors of the Hudson's Bay company the continued construction of the new departmental store.

Rev. R. Connel, a representative of the Unemployment League, declared that it was impossible for the citizens to wash their hands of the unemployment question. The city was suffering the just fruits of the policy which had been maintained by successive councils—a too rapid forward policy of public works—and thus the council had a special responsibility. There could well be a mayor's fund for unemployment.

This, rather than an increase in taxation by a special levy, would solve the problem. He criticized the proposal to establish a $2 wage as bad economics, and wrong from a financial standpoint. He appealed for the single men, and particularly for the children, as well as for the married men. The very imperfect report of the commission showed that 1,400 children were suffering more or less from want.

A. S. Wells, president of the Trades and Labor Council, alluded to the difficulties which a city faced when international credit had broken down. But if work were prosecuted, not only would unemployed men be employed but the change would relieve the general depression in trade. Under existing municipal legislation it was a problem to meet conditions, hence the cities of the province should unite in securing exceptional powers to meet exceptional conditions. So long as the war lasted the people would have to expect a continued condition requiring special treatment.

George Oliver criticized the council's administration and laid emphasis on the advantages of providing a bathing pool at the Gorge by a dam at Selkirk water.

D. W. Pounard supported the proposals for a central relief body and an active labor bureau.

Speaking on behalf of the Social Service Commission, Rev. William Stevenson, the secretary, said the ministers saw a different side of the question from that seen by the average citizen, as they came in contact with the problem of unemployment in an exceptional manner. Something should be done to save the self-respect of the family. He gave pathetic instances and said such cases had to be handled judiciously. He did not believe that half the unemployed had registered. Probably 2,000 men, and perhaps 500 women were out of work.

Rev. Dr. Clay appealed to the council as a sympathetic jury on the matter. He hoped for some solution.

Rev. J. B. Warnicker dealt with the desire for a mayor's fund to meet unemployment. The sum should be about $250,000. He promised the support of the churches. The money could be raised by the issue of bonds, etc., and by public subscriptions.

The Ven. Archbishop Scryven considered that the problem was one of greater difficulty now than in past years. It should be possible for every one who desired to work to have the opportunity. The cultivation of vacant lots would offer a remedy.

Rev. Joseph McCoy urged the clearing up of vacant land under government auspices and the improvement of lots under satisfactory conditions.

Summing up, the mayor pointed out what was being done. As to the points raised, the council was in touch with the Hudson's Bay company regarding the departmental store. The hospital question depended on the sale of bonds; the Johnson street bridge matter was being hastened and the agreements between the various railway companies were being signed. Improvement work depended entirely on the sale of short-term issues.

Alderman Todd believed that increased support of home manufacturers would go a long way toward making an improvement in the matter of employment.

Fame is not just. She never finely or discriminately praises, but coarsely hurries each her ear, and never publishes by her trumpet.—Thorau.

GRAND PATRIOTIC CONCERT

Auspices Victoria Ladies' Musical Club

Royal Victoria Theatre

EVENING OF WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 7TH

In Aid of the Patriotic Fund

The members of the Victoria Ladies' Musical Club have organized this splendid concert with the help of the best local talent. The members of the local military and naval forces have also contributed handsomely. The result is the assurance of an unique programme, the like of which we are not likely to enjoy again.

The curtain will go up at 8.30 sharp, and, following the remarks of a well-known local citizen who will explain the objects of the Fund, a programme at once varied, appropriate, well-balanced and unusual will be introduced. In the main it will consist of tableaux, songs, choruses, fencing exhibitions and instrumental selections interestingly mingled.

In the tableaux as well as in some other items of the programme large numbers of the members of the Fifth Regiment, 50th Gordon Highlanders, 88th Fusiliers, Cadets and Boy Scouts will participate. The tableaux will be made up of patriotic representations of the Allied countries, Great Britain, Belgium, France, Japan and Russia. All National Anthems will be sung in English by large choruses except that of Japan. A special chorus of Japanese will render their own Anthem in their native tongue and the Japanese will also contribute a very interesting exhibition of fencing.

Among the soloists will be Miss Eva Hart, Mrs. Harry Pooley, Mrs. Roy Troup and Dr. Hermann Robertson. Two pianos will be used, the artists to be Mrs. Hermann Robertson and Mrs. Conyers Bridgewater.
