D'ANNUNZIO'S MEN OCCUPY GREATER AREA

LLOYD GEORGE SAID TO HAVE A NEW PLAN READY FOR IRELAND

London Times Says He Will Offer Another Olive Branch; When Reconstructing His Cabinet; Viscount Rothermere As War Secretary

London, Sept. 22.—In a forecast of the coming reconstruction of the Cabinet The Times says that Mr. Lloyd George has decided to offer another olive branch to Ireland, "recognizing, as does Mr. Bonar Law, that resolute government has been carried to the furthest extent possible and that Ireland can not indefinitely be kept under military occupation."
The correspondent, commenting on the fact that Rt. Hon. James Ian Macpherson, Chief Secretary for Ireland, did not accompany Viscount French, Lord Lieutenant and Governor-General of Ireland, on his visit to London for the week-end to discuss the situation, says there is a suspicion that indisposition, which is given as the reason for his absence, may be the prelude to Mr. Macpherson's resignation.

"He (Macpherson) has so identified himself with the policy of strong repression," the correspondent says in this connection, "that any reversal to conciliation must involve his retirement."

Labor.
The Times says the Prime Minister has sounded certain labor leaders on the subject of co-operation, but they have definitely declined, hence, it adds, "the ministerial changes will be few."

Secretary of War.
Viscount Rothermere, who is a zealous economist, according to The Times, probably will be appointed Secretary of War, while Col. the Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, the present Secretary, will go to the Colonial Office, as Viscount Milner, who holds that office, is anxious to retire.

It is pointed out by The Times that the only difficulty attached to the return of Viscount Rothermere to the Ministry is his antagonism to Mr. Bonar Law, but the newspaper says the Prime Minister will find a formula which will enable them to work together, as Mr. Bonar Law is regarded as an indispensable member of the Government.

STEEL WORKERS IN THE STATES STRIKE

Two Versions of Success of Strike From Opposing Sides

Pittsburg, Sept. 22.—"Got away in good shape at most of our plants in and about Pittsburg this morning," said a representative of the Carnegie Steel Company when asked for a statement on the effect of the steel workers' strike, which went into effect to-day.

"We are agreeably surprised at the showing made by our plants," announced William Z. Foster, secretary of the national committee for organizing iron and steel workers, who is in charge of the Pittsburg district.

At Lorraine, Ohio.
Lorraine, Ohio, Sept. 22.—Officials of steel plants here and in Elvira announced that their mills opened as usual this morning with practically all their men working.

At Cleveland.
Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 22.—Union leaders claimed that at least 15,000 steel workers went on strike this morning and that plants of some of the independent mills were closed. Company officials would make no statement.

The sixteen mills of the American Steel and Wire Company, a steel corporation subsidiary employing 9,000 men, were completely closed down. The McKinley Steel Company, largest independent plant, also was shut down. The Bourne-Fuller plant, another independent concern, employing 2,600 men, was reported idle.

At Youngstown, Ohio.
Youngstown, Ohio, Sept. 22.—Early reports from the various plants indicated that men had obeyed the strike order generally and that practically all mills in the Mahoning Valley either were badly crippled or might be forced to suspend operations altogether. At union headquarters it was declared that the strike was a complete success and that every mill was closed.

Sailors Quit.
Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 22.—According to an official of the Lake Seamen's Union here, union sailors at this port this morning quit several

CURRIE GIFT PLAN PROVES POPULAR

Subscription Lists Opened To-day; No Amounts to Be Published

Considerable satisfaction has been expressed over the announcement made in these columns on Saturday to the effect that a movement has been started and is now well under way to present General Sir Arthur W. Currie with a "citizens' gift" on his arrival in the city. An influential committee of citizens is working on the project, and the goal is a popular subscription list containing the names of 25,000 Victorians of all ages.
The nature of the gift has not yet been decided upon, and this will of course depend largely upon the total amount subscribed. The intrinsic value of the gift, however, is of secondary importance. What is most needed is that every man, woman and child should contribute their quota—no matter how small—so that the gift can be truly representative of the people of Victoria in expressing the city's appreciation of the Canadian commander's magnificent record of service.

Subscription lists have been placed in the offices of The Times and the Colonist, and in each of the local banks. From time to time the lists will be published, the names only and not the amounts being announced through the press. This will obviate any invidious comparisons, the poor man's mite being as welcome as the rich man's bounty.

The signing will take place at Versailles and will be private. Jules Cambon, of the French peace mission, alone being present.

Article 61 of the German constitution would have given Austria representation in the German Parliament. The Supreme Council declared that this provision was contrary to the stipulations of the Versailles treaty.

"My centre is giving way; my right is retreating; the situation is excellent. I am attacking."

PRINCE OF WALES REACHES VANCOUVER AND IS GREETED

Vancouver, Sept. 22.—The Prince of Wales arrived in Vancouver at 10.25 a. m. to-day with a brilliant British Columbia sun shining in his eyes and the cheers of thousands of eager spectators ringing in his ears. He was met at the station by Mayor Gale and a civic reception committee, Major-General R. G. E. Leckie, C. M. G., General Officer Commanding Military District No. 11 and formerly of the Canadian Expeditionary Force; Admiral Hugh Rodman, of the American navy, and guards of honor from the Royal Northwest Mounted Police and the Vancouver Seaforth Highlanders.

An Address.
An address from the City of Vancouver, read to the Prince by the Mayor, said in part:
"We venture to hope that this youthful city, hewn out of the forest as recently as the year 1886, having early in its day a baptism of devastating fire, and now with advancing municipalities possessing a population of nearly 300,000, with university, schools, churches and all other amenities of civilized life, may win approval for its enterprise and industry."

Natural Beauty.
"It is so the naturally beauty of our environment rarely falls to win a favorable impression, to be deepened, we hope, in the case of Your Royal Highness, by a knowledge of the loyalty and affection which bind us to the Motherland. Its royal head and constitutional institutions, which fealty and love have been proved by the fact that from Greater Vancouver no fewer than 40,000 men went with loyal readiness to answer the Empire's call in the great war."

"Our archives pleasantly record former progresses of gracious royalty through this country. We cherish most pleasant memories of the visit of your royal father and mother to this city in the year 1901, a memorable event which spurred a young city to ambitious effort."

"We beg to express the sincere hope that the present visit will have pleasant memories for Your Royal Highness as it will leave to those who in simplicity and sincerity tender their full duty and unwavering loyalty."

Prince's Reply.
The Prince replied as follows:
"Mr. Mayor:
"I am most grateful to you and to the citizens of Greater Vancouver for your cordial welcome and your loyal address. I have heard much of this fine city, which, in the thirty-three years of its existence, has been through several grave vicissitudes and has emerged triumphantly from them all. You have reason to be proud of your position and your achievements, and I look forward to exploring the beauties of the city for myself during my stay."

Housing.
"Like all great ports, Mr. Mayor, you have here a considerable population which strives for itself, but can not easily command good, healthy surroundings and the simple amenities of life. I am sure that Greater Vancouver realizes how splendid an opportunity is given to the cities of Canada to avoid such overbuilding and over-crowding in the less prosperous districts as disfigure, through no fault of the present generation, many large cities in the Old World. It will interest me to

In the ensuing by-election he was returned by acclamation for the electoral district of East Nipissing. Until October, 1911, he continued as a member of the Ontario Cabinet, the name of his portfolio being changed in that period to that of Lands, Forests and Mines.

ITALIAN TROOPS LED BY D'ANNUNZIO TAKE HEIGHTS NEAR FIUME

Penetrate Seven Miles into Jugo-Slav Territory and Occupy High Ground Dominating Surrounding Country; No Clash is Reported

Paris, Sept. 22.—Troops under Gabriele d'Annunzio, the insurgent Italian commander at Fiume, have begun extending their zone of occupation into Jugo-Slav territory, according to the Jugo-Slav delegation in Paris. They penetrated seven miles into Jugo-Slavia on Sunday, occupying the heights at Pismiak, dominating the surrounding country.

The Jugo-Slavs did not clash with the d'Annunzio forces executing this movement, the delegation stated.
A dispatch from Rome last night said that The Tribuna had announced that a person returning from Fiume stated that General Badoglio, in charge of the Italian troops outside Fiume, had granted a delay of forty-eight hours to the Italian soldiers in Fiume to return to Italy. It was added that the population of Fiume had decided to make an unmistakable demonstration of its feelings at the expiration of this ultimatum Saturday. Women and children and men of the civil population were to precede the troops to armistice lines, shielding the troops with their bodies in order to see whether General Badoglio's soldiers would fire on them. It was added that d'Annunzio had ordered the sentinels on the Jugo-Slav frontier not to make use of their arms, even if the Jugo-Slavs fired on them, saying:

"Allow yourselves to be killed. We are here for the sake of our sacrifice may lead to the occupation of all of Dalmatia."

The Tribuna said its informant added that some French and British sailors had remained at Fiume and joined the Italian movement.

SAYS BECK WILL LEAVE HIS PARTY

Lieut.-Col. Pratt Leaves Ontario Conservatives; Says Others Will Bolt

Simcoe Ont., Sept. 22.—Lieut.-Colonel Arthur C. Pratt, M. P. for South Norfolk, definitely broke away from the party at a Conservative meeting held at St. Williams on Saturday. Colonel Pratt's defection was not altogether unexpected, as he had not been invited to the convention and a new party candidate was selected at the convention, but his presence and speech he made there caused something of a sensation. He not only parted company with his former political associates and threatened to run as an independent candidate in South Norfolk at the coming provincial election, but he asserted that there were twenty-seven others behind him in his antagonistic attitude toward the Government of Sir William Hearst. He declared that Sir Adam Beck was one of the bolters.

FAIR AT ALBERNI WAS A SUCCESS

Alberni, Sept. 22.—The Fall Fair of the Alberni Agricultural Association in Alberni was a very successful one, all things considered, the display being the best seen at any of the fairs held in the Province so far this year, according to the Department judges sent out by the Government.

The fruit display was of an excellent quality. The ladies' fancy work was one of the best displays of fancy work ever shown here. Field crops, vegetables and livestock were well represented in the various classes. The poultry exhibit was very good.

There were not very many entries for the Floral Section, in the plant line, but the display of cut flowers was extra good and received very favorable mention from the judges. The Domestic Science section was not up to the usual high standard set by the Alberni people, but was very good on the whole. Great credit is due A. W. Heath, the president, and the Rev. H. A. Bain, for the success of the show, which was a great success financially, and otherwise, every one seeming to go away well pleased that the Association had got the Annual Fair under way again after the war.

WOULD CONFISCATE PART OF PROFITS

Winnipeg Soldiers' and Sailors' Labor Party Urges Gratuity

Winnipeg, Sept. 22.—At a mass meeting held in the Walker Theatre here yesterday afternoon, the Soldiers' and Sailors' Labor Party went on record as strongly in favor of a $2,000 war bonus to returned men, and that the amount be obtained from the government by political action, if necessary. The theatre was packed to the topmost seat of the gallery and many returned men unable to get seats, stood up during the proceedings. Everyone present was a returned soldier.

The resolution calls for a war gratuity of $2,000 and to raise the amount of money necessary to pay this it urges the confiscation by the Government of all profits more than seven and one-half per cent. since June 1, 1914, of all business of companies, chartered or unchartered, which were in operation in Canada on or since that date. The vote was taken by a show of hands, and while there were a few who did not vote for this resolution, there were none who voted against it.

ST. CATHARINES, ONT., SEPT. 22.—Veterans and Citizens' Association passed resolutions asking the Militia Department to discharge all returned officers promptly upon their arrival if not receiving treatment and protesting against discrimination between officers and men being retained on the pay list upon their return to Canada.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 22.—Eleven days without food or water, twelve survivors of the recent Gulf hurricane huddled in a lighthouse on North Elbow, a small island in the Florida Straits, which was swept clean of every vestige of human habitation during the storm, were located yesterday by a submarine chaser, which brought back a story of devastation and human suffering surpassed by any that has come from the storm area. Huge waves sweeping over the island carried away sepulchres containing the bodies of former inhabitants. It was reported that all livestock into the sea and destroyed other food supplies, leaving the inhabitants, whose only hope of survival lay in the improbability of the lighthouse, in which they gathered, absolutely destitute.

When the authorities arrived, however, it was found that life was not extinct and he was rushed to the hospital here, where he remained unconscious until death. A preliminary investigation indicated attempted suicide, but subsequent reports are that deceased was believed to have had a large sum of money on his person, and as but a very small sum was in his possession when found unconscious, the police are making further inquiries.

"I WAS AFRAID TO LEAVE THE HOUSE," BOTTREL ASSERTS

Couldn't Stoop Over to Lace Shoes; Walks Two Miles to and From Work, Now

"I never felt better in my life than I do since I commenced taking Tanlac about six weeks ago, and my appetite is so fine that I can hardly get enough to eat," said W. Bottrel, who lives at 4628 East Pender Street, Vancouver, the other day.

"Well, Sir, I was so weak and run-down when I commenced taking Tanlac that I would actually faint if I exerted myself the least bit," continued Mr. Bottrel, "and I was about the bluest man you ever saw, for I had been told that I was liable to pass out most any time. My appetite was very poor, and my stomach was in such bad condition that a little gruel was about the only thing I could eat, and even that would very often cause me to suffer. Gas formed on my stomach, and I had that it would almost cut my breath off, and I would feel just like I was going to smother to death. There was no such thing as a good night's sleep for me, and I felt so weak and had every morning I was hardly able to get out of bed. I finally got to where I was afraid to leave the house at all, for fear I would not be able to get back. Why, I was actually so weak I couldn't stoop over and lace my shoes. I was under treatment all the time, and took all sorts of medicine, but I just kept getting worse all the time.

"Finally, a friend of mine persuaded me to try Tanlac, and my wife went to the drug store and got me a bottle. Well, I will make a long story short by saying that I will tell the world that it hadn't been for Tanlac I believe I would have been in my grave to-day, but as it is I am as well and strong as I ever was in my life. I eat three big meals every day, and I never have a sign of stomach trouble of any kind afterwards. What I eat is doing me lots of good, too, for I have gained a lot in weight and strength. Why, I walk two miles to my work every morning, and when I get there I put in a full day's hard work, and when night comes I walk that two miles back home, and I feel just like when I get there. Now that is what Tanlac did for me, and that is just why I love to talk about this wonderful medicine to everybody I meet, and as long as I live I will never lose an opportunity to say a good word for Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, corner Fort and Douglas—Adv.

REINSCH ON WAY TO WASHINGTON

China Wants ex-American Minister to Act as Adviser

Honolulu, Sept. 22.—According to a cable dispatch from Tokio published by The Nippon Jiji, a Japanese daily newspaper here, the Chinese Government has asked Paul S. Reinsch, who recently resigned his position as American Ambassador to China, to become adviser to China on affairs concerning the League of Nations. It is not known whether he will accept, the dispatch says.

To Washington.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Paul S. Reinsch, who recently resigned his position as American Minister to China, is now en route to the United States, and has just arrived in Tokio, and found awaiting him there instructions from the State Department to report as soon as possible to Washington. It is believed the instructions were dispatched at the direction of President Wilson.

The Government has information that conditions in China are desperate, and that the outlook for that country is very gloomy. Contrary to declarations made at the State Department by the highest officials several weeks ago, the international consortium for advancing loans to China has not yet been organized. According to authoritative statements made at the Department, the State Department regards the position taken by the Japanese bankers' representatives at Paris, who have been exchanging views with the representatives of banking groups in the United States, Britain and France, as the main obstacle to the creation of the consortium. The Japanese representatives following instructions from their Government, insisted upon reservations to the proposed consortium agreement which would exclude Manchuria and Mongolia from the purview of the consortium.

The position taken by the Japanese representatives prompted the American Government to open fresh negotiations with the Tokio Foreign Office, urging that Japan recede from the position taken by the rep-representatives of Japanese financial institutions. It is said at the Department that the negotiations with Japan have not yet been concluded.

She was originally a professional dancer of Tacoma, Wash.

FOOD STILL ON UPWARD COURSE

Increase in Price of One Per Cent. in United States in August

Washington, Sept. 22.—Following announcement by the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Labor that the retail price of food in the United States had increased one per cent. in August over prices in July, despite the strenuous campaign of the Government to reduce it, Assistant Attorney-General Ames has appealed to Congress to hasten enactment of the amendments to the Food Control Act.

Figures from the Department of Labor showing the one per cent. increase in August over July, it was announced, make the total cost of the twenty-two articles of food upon which this comparison is based the highest on record.

The articles which increased in price were eggs and rice, six per cent. each; crisco, potatoes and raisins, four per cent. each; fresh and evaporated milk, coffee and prunes, three per cent. each; pork chops, butter, corn meal, rolled oats, navy beans and sugar, two per cent. each; canned salmon, oleomargarine, cheese, bread, macaroni and oranges, one per cent. each. Ham, nut margarine and tea increased less than five-tenths of one per cent.

The articles which declined in price were sirloin steak, round steak, rib roast, three per cent. each; chuck roast, four per cent., and plate beef, five per cent.

Other articles which declined were onions, twenty per cent.; cabbage, fifteen per cent.; lamb, fourteen per cent.; bacon, flour, corn flakes, baked beans, canned corn, canned peas and canned tomatoes, one per cent. each. Eggs, cream of wheat and bananas declined less than five-tenths of one per cent. and the price of lard, was the same in August as in July.

Based on the average price for the year 1913 as 199, the retail price index number for the twenty-two articles of food, combined, for the United States, was 199 per cent. for July, 1919, and 192 per cent. for August, 1919, a percentage increase of one per cent.

RIO GRANDE IN FLOODED STATE

Score of Towns Near Mouth Inundated; Damage Is Great

McAllen, Texas, Sept. 22.—With a sea of water thirty to forty miles wide and extending for a distance of 199 miles along its lower course, the Rio Grande has flooded a score or more of towns and caused destruction of property amounting to millions of dollars in value.

But for ample warning two or three days in advance of the coming of the unprecedented inundation, the loss of lives probably would have been heavy. While communication with many of the smaller communities along the river is cut off, it is believed the people saved themselves by escaping to higher ground. On the Mexican side of the river, Camargo, Reynosa, Mier and a number of other towns are under water and hundreds of adobe houses have crumbled into heaps of ruins. According to meagre reports from Matamoros, part of that city is flooded. The broad, level valley on both sides of the river below McAllen is one unbroken expanse of water. On the Mexican side the inundation extends south for thirty miles. On the American side army patrol stations are under water, and it is reported that Fort Ringgold, at Rio Grande City, which stands on the banks of the Rio Grande forty-five feet above normal water level, has been swept by the flood. The river has never before known to reach that high point.

Thousands of acres of cultivated crops on both sides of the river have been destroyed. Details of the actual flood conditions in other towns, and possibly loss of life, are lacking here, due to the cutting off of communication.

6,000 CHINESE ARE LANDED IN CANADA

Now Are on Way to This Coast From Halifax

Halifax, Sept. 22.—The first contingent of the 80,000 Chinese who were taken by Britain to the Western front for service behind the lines returned yesterday, when two steamships, landed 4,000 of the Celestials en route for Vancouver. The vessels that arrived yesterday were the Winnifredian, which docked first, followed by the Havreford in the afternoon. The Caronia docked at 8 o'clock this morning with more than 2,000 more. There was no trouble in handling the Chinese, though care was taken that none should get astray, for there is a head tax of $500, and all are in bond.

Seven trains were required to forward those who came yesterday and three more for the Caronia's crowd. Each train takes at least 700 Chinese, who travel in far closer company than did the returned Canadian soldiers. Each section of the ordinary troop trains had three soldiers, but with the Chinese, four go in each section.

REV. J. D. ROBERTSON DIES IN TORONTO

KILLED BY GUN.

Edmonton, Sept. 22.—Ernest A. Lawrence, aged forty, cashier of the Western Grocers here, was instantly killed at Big Lake, near St. Albert, Saturday evening, when his gun, which was lying in a duck punt with the muzzle toward him and both barrels at full cock, went off, the charge passing through his breast. It appears that Lawrence was rowing and the vibration threw the trigger against the canvas of the punt, discharging the left barrel. Deceased leaves a widow and one daughter.

MR. WILSON GOES TO RENO, TEXAS

Begins Another Week of Speech-Making For Peace Treaty

Los Angeles, Sept. 22.—Refreshed by a Sunday rest in Los Angeles, President Wilson will begin to-night another strenuous week of speech-making that will almost complete his country-wide tour for the peace treaty.

The President's special train is due late this afternoon at Reno, Tex., where he will speak to-night. His schedule for the week will take him as far east as Memphis, Tenn., with stops at nine other cities on the way.

Most of yesterday the President and Mrs. Wilson spent quietly, leaving their hotel only to attend service during the morning at St. Paul's Episcopal Pro-Cathedral. A report that they would take an afternoon automobile ride brought a big crowd around the hotel but it waited in vain.

During the afternoon, Mr. Wilson saw the regional committee of the League to Enforce Peace and later made public a list of questions submitted by it regarding the treaty, together with his answers. The replies were a repetition of previous public statements answering similar questions placed before him during the past week.

Joined League.

With the League delegation was Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, of Los Angeles, one of the five women members of the Republican National Executive Committee, who told the President that although she had not been able previously to support the treaty without reservations, she had decided to do so after hearing Mr. Wilson's address at the dinner here Saturday night. Later she accepted membership in the League to Enforce Peace executive committee and announced publicly that she favored immediate ratification of the treaty as it stands.

The President's train will leave Reno immediately after the address to-night. On Tuesday there will be brief stop at Ogden, Utah, but no address is on the official schedule. He will speak Tuesday night in the Tabernacle at Salt Lake City, Utah, and Wednesday afternoon at Cheyenne, Wyo.

During the remainder of the week there will be two stops a day, the President speaking at Denver Thursday morning, at Pueblo, Col., Thursday afternoon, at Wichita, Kas., Friday morning, at Oklahoma City, Okla., Friday night, at Little Rock, Ark., Saturday afternoon, and at Memphis Saturday night.

BEWARE OF TENDER, INFLAMED GUMS

Poorra, with a premature loss of teeth, is almost inevitable if you do not properly care for your gums. Here is the explanation:—As you age, the body tissues naturally relax. You see this tissue loosening in the neck. It goes on in your gums, too. As you grow older, your gums shrink below the normal gum line. Through lack of care they become spongy and inflamed. Then you have Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease). Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea. And many under forty, also.

Don't let a tender gum spot develop. These tender spots breed disease germs which enter the system through tiny openings—inflecting the joints—loosening—causing other ailments. Immediately get Forhan's, which positively prevents Pyorrhea if used in time and used consistently. Forhan's tones the gums and hardens them. They in turn keep the teeth healthy. Brush your teeth with Forhan's. It cleans them scientifically—keeps them white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment. 35c. and 60c. tubes. All druggists.

OFFERS PLAN FOR SHARING PROFITS

George W. Perkins Outlines Business Scheme in Address at New York

New York, Sept. 22.—Profit sharing, as a means of removing "to a considerable degree" the dangers menacing American industry, was advocated here by George W. Perkins in an address before the annual meeting of the National Civic Federation. These dangers, Mr. Perkins said, are caused largely by the feeling on the part of workers that through wages, they are not receiving their proper proportion of the money an industry earns.

should have its fair reward, but we have had too many instances where capital has taken exorbitant reward. "On the other hand, one of the most serious drawbacks to increased output is the listless, indifferent service rendered by a large percentage of the employees. Making partners of employees through a profit sharing would correct this." The United States, according to Mr. Perkins, is rapidly leaving the period when labor disputes can be settled by a mere increase in wages. Details. Outlining his idea of a correct profit sharing plan Mr. Perkins said: "A good many years of actual experience have made me very optimistic regarding profit-sharing plans worked out along the following lines: "1. Every business has first of all to earn operating expenses, depreciation and fair returns on honest capitalization. "2. I believe that every business should consider that the compensation paid employees is for the purpose of earning a sum of money sufficient to pay the above-mentioned items. "3. I believe that any profits over and above such sums should, on some percentage basis, be divided between the capital used in the business and the employees engaged in the business. "I believe that in neither case should these profits be immediately withdrawn from the business; that they should be left in the business for a reasonable length of time to protect increase in financial strength and safety; that, in the case of capital, its shares of these profits should be carried to surplus; that, in the case of employees, their share of these profits should be distributed to them in some form of security representing an interest in the business, and each employee should be required to hold such security for a reasonable length of time, say three to five years. "I believe that the employees' share of these profits should be allotted to them as nearly as possible on the basis of the compensation they receive. Up to date, this has proved to be the best method. "The Brute—"I think that woman are much better-looking than men." "She—"Naturally." "The Brute—"No, artificially."

THE HOME PRODUCTS FAIR.

It may be assumed that the Victoria public will patronize the Home Products Fair which was opened by Premier Oliver this afternoon, as freely as it patronized the fair last year and in that case the success of the event is assured. This is the fifth fair of its kind to be held here since the idea of such a display of home products first took shape, and each has shown a marked improvement in every way upon the one that preceded it, not only in the quality and quantity of the goods exhibited, but in point of public attendance.

It is a happy coincidence that the fair this year should synchronize with the visit of the Prince of Wales, which is bound to draw a large number of people to the city from outside points and thus enlarge the attendance possibilities. But it will not be sufficient for the public to patronize the Home Products Fair. No matter how successful this annual demonstration of the extent and variety of the products of our city is in other ways it is a failure unless it stimulates a larger patronage of the goods that are locally produced. This is its sole object, and it is for the public to show its practical appreciation of the fact by purchasing home products in filling its various needs.

DECORATE!

When the Prince of Wales arrived in Vancouver to-day he found that city ablaze with decorations. When he has reached Victoria tomorrow evening he should find this city no less gaily apparelled. It is true this Royal visit to Canada is not supposed to be an occasion for undue pomp and pageantry any more than for the realization of any element's social aspirations, but it is a notable incident in the life of the community and should be appropriately marked. More than that, there will be a great number of visitors from the neighboring cities on both sides of the international boundary line, and it is desirable that they should be impressed by evidence that Victoria is not without imagination in marking the visit of the heir to the Throne. This city easily lends itself to decoration. Indeed, no other community in America can be so effectively and economically embellished in this way. We owe much to Nature, so much in fact that we should not expect it to work a miracle during the silent watches of the night and stick bunting and flags on our buildings and homes. This is something the people of Victoria must do, and if they desire to have it done as impressively as it has been done in Vancouver, they should set to work on it right away.

WHY THE DELAY?

Some three or four months ago the Belgian Government presented to Canada a block of land in Ypres for the erection of a Canadian Hall of Records as a memorial to the men of this Dominion who fought in the Ypres Salient. Several acres of Vimy Ridge also were offered by the French Government for a similar purpose. According to a dispatch from London, however, the Mayor of Vimy has had no intimation whether the Canadian Government intends to accept either the Vimy or the Ypres offer, although he has been instructed to allocate a site within the territory under his own jurisdiction. It is pointed out, moreover, that unless something is done without delay these sites may pass under the control of the British authorities in London.

Why there should have been any delay in accepting such offers in the first place is difficult to understand. Apparently there is nothing binding on the Canadian Government to erect an edifice at either place immediately; but common courtesy, at least, should have prompted an acknowledgment to the French and Belgian Governments. Both countries realize to the fullest possible extent the heroic sacrifices made by the troops of Canada in the ghastly salient at Ypres and the memorable capture of Vimy Ridge. It would be very fitting indeed, therefore, to erect a memorial at both places as a tangible reminder to posterity of the glorious part Canada played at two of the most vital points in the decisive battle area. Saturday's dispatch from London should be sufficient to stimulate official action immediately.

CORNELIUS QUILTS.

A few days ago a dispatch from New York gave us the momentous news that Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., had obtained a job as a cub reporter on a newspaper in the Atlantic metropolis. On Saturday a dispatch from Calgary stated that this heir to many millions had arrived there from Banff, and that he had left his job not because he did not like it but because his family objected. He did not say whether his family objected because he was working or because they did not like the work he was doing, but whichever it was he evidently decided that he was falling on evil ways and sent him to Western Canada to get him out of temptation.

Obviously, a Vanderbilt on a New York newspaper staff might be a constant source of embarrassment to the family, for he could give the Social and Personal Department of his paper many hitherto undisclosed piquant tit-bits concerning the doings of the financial dynasty founded on the humble, but profitable, ferry-boat service established by the gruff old Commodore Vanderbilt some four or five generations ago. Every "scoop" in the society section of his paper would help Cornelius, Jr., on his way to journalistic eminence, but it might shock the House of Vanderbilt from roof to foundation, besides sowing seeds of deadly enmity between the first families of Manhattan, drawing forth a dreadful array of family skeletons from the crypts of Fifth Avenue and making old Peter Stuyvesant, Wouter Van Twiller, Ten Broecks (Ten Breches) and the other sturdy forebears of New York's Four Hundred turn in their graves. It might, indeed, produce a financial crisis that would shake the whole economic fabric of the republic, for were the rulers of Wall Street to become involved in the social feuds of their respective families precipitated by the journalistic zeal of young Cornelius Vanderbilt, the bottom might drop out of the stock market. So, after all, perhaps it is better all round that Cornelius's family object to his working on a newspaper.

VANDERHOOF AND THE P. G. E.

It cannot be said that the residents of Vanderhoof are lacking in enterprise. On more than one occasion the citizens' committee has prescribed a new route for the Pacific Great Eastern Railway. In its most recent petition to Premier Oliver, however, there is a proposal that appears to be a little ahead of the times. In brief the new location would involve a complete re-survey from the present end of steel by a somewhat circuitous route to the Peace River. This would mean at least an eighteen months' halt in construction and postpone additional revenue for the line for two or three years.

It goes without saying that as the country through which the Vanderhoof people would like the line to go settles up, railways will be essential; but it must not be supposed that when the ultimate programme of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway is complete, railway construction in British Columbia will end. Moreover, it also must be remembered that the various river settlements may be served with railway facilities later from some coast point direct at less expense and delay than would be involved by taking the P. G. E. on a north-westward detour. Nevertheless, it may be necessary, as Premier Oliver points out, to reconsider some possible modifications in the north-eastern stretch from Fort George to the Peace River district.

There are other aspects of the case which the residents of Vanderhoof may have overlooked for the moment. The Province is obliged to pay $907,200 annually for interest charges on P. G. E. bonds. In addition to that, loans under the 1916 Loan Act, amounting to something like $4,000,000 for P. G. E. construction work absorb approximately $200,000 more in annual interest charges. Then again, the road at present costs about $200,000 more per annum to operate than it earns in revenue. So that if construction were to cease while a re-survey is being made the system would be deteriorating, interest charges would still have to be met and no means of new revenue would be created, while interest charges that would have to be paid during the halt would pay almost half the expense of construction between the present end of steel and Fort George.

PRECAUTION STILL NECESSARY.

While recent reports reaching the Forest Branch of the Department of Lands indicate that the forest fire season is well exhausted, it is pointed out that there is every appearance of another bright dry spell. So far there has not been sufficient rain, except in one or two localities, to affect the parched vegetation very materially. In many instances moisture has penetrated but a very little way, and two or three days' warm sun is sufficient to absorb it completely. The Department, therefore, asks the continued co-operation of the public—and particularly the camper and the hunter—in its important endeavor to prevent wastage of extremely valuable timber.

AUTONOMY UNIMPAIRED.

Replying to a question submitted to him in San Francisco President Wilson declared that the League of Nations could not order the dispatch of American troops to foreign countries; that the right of Congress to determine such matters was in no way impaired.

The question is in reference to Article 10 of the Covenant, which we quoted a few days ago, and which is worth repeating in view of similar apprehension expressed on this side of the international boundary line regarding the control of military forces. That Article says: "The members of the League undertake to respect and preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all members of the League. In case of any such aggression or in case of threat or danger of such aggression the Council shall advise upon the means by which this obligation shall be fulfilled."

As President Wilson points out there is nothing in that Article which gives the League of Nations any control or direction of the American troops or in any way impairs the authority of Congress over such matters. Similarly, the Article does not impair the authority of the Canadian Parliament over Canadian troops.

WHERE PEOPLE NEED EVERYTHING.

(Ernest W. Byashe in World Outlook.)
 In one of the ruined villages near Chateau-Thierry I asked a woman for a drink.
 "I cannot even give you a drink of water, monsieur," she said. "The war has not left me even that! The well has fallen upon the pump, you see, and broken it. Besides, it is not possible to drink this water since the Germans were here. But I would like to bring you something will you not, mon cherie?—from yonder, if you have a cup. Gurselves, we have none."
 That was what we found everywhere, such utter need as it will be almost impossible for Americans who have never seen the war fronts in France to understand. It is not only that the refugees have no homes when they come back, after their wanderings, to their shattered villages. They have no possessions of any kind. The women lack the simplest household utensils with which to prepare food for their children; they do not own so much as a plate or a cup or a spoon. The men have not even a spade or a rake or a hoe with which to go to work in their gardens that they may raise a little food toward the coming winter.

see how, from that point of view, this beautifully-situated and rapidly-expanding city is being planned. Services of Province.

"This is my first opportunity of expressing to a representative gathering in British Columbia how highly I esteem the magnificent services rendered to the Empire by this province during the great war. Vancouver contributed generously in men and material to the common cause and I wish to express my lasting sympathy to those whom the war has brought suffering and loss."
 "I thank you, Mr. Mayor, for your warm expression of loyalty to my father, the King. Throughout his history, Vancouver has been a steady bulwark of British institutions and British unity. I wish it a prosperous and happy future under that emblem which it has always so gallantly upheld, the Union Jack."

Decorations.

Vancouver, Sept. 22.—One hundred and eleven officers and other ranks, and in some cases, next-of-kin of deceased soldiers, received decorations from the Prince of Wales in Vancouver to-day. The full list included the following:
 C.M.G., one; O.B.E., three; D.S.O., one; Bar to D.S.O., one; D.F.C., six; Bar to D.F.C., one; M.C., thirty-three; Bar to M.C., five; D.C.M., four; M.M., twenty-nine; Bar to M.M., nine; M.S.M., eight; C.A.F., O.D., one; R.C., one; Mons Star, six; Médaille Militaire, two.
 In some cases these decorations were won many months ago but no opportunity had arisen hitherto for them to be presented to those who had earned them.

Luncheon.

Vancouver, Sept. 22.—Characteristic by reason of its brilliancy and brevity, Greater Vancouver's civic luncheon to the Prince of Wales to-day will remain a municipal function long to be remembered. Never was the handsome ballroom of the Hotel Vancouver more admirable in appearance, nor had its four walls enclosed such a distinguished gathering of personages. Uniforms of British and Allied services—splashed vividly in contrast with the more sombre black of the Prince Alberts worn by 400 men of Greater Vancouver's elective bodies and the smart apparel of those of Vancouver's ladies either included in the elective bodies or the city's invited guests from other organizations.

Applause.

At 1.30 o'clock, when the Prince of Wales arrived at table heading the long procession of distinguished guests gracing the lead board, spontaneous applause rang through the great decorated chamber. The strains of the National Anthem, God Bless the Prince of Wales, etc., rang loud and heartily, while the Welch choir in the balcony commenced the special programme arranged for the function.
 The gathering was democratic enough to have met all requirements and the continuous buzz of animated conversation following the start of the luncheon, from galleries to tables, evidenced the keen appreciation of the function.

Brevity.

It was the expressed wish of the authorities on arrangements that the civic luncheon should not exceed an hour. Speeches of any length were to be dispensed with for the occasion. There were no speeches other than the brief announcement of Mayor Gale, as host for the City of Vancouver, in proposing the royal toast to the Prince, and the reply of the Prince in response.
 The only brief speech provided for was that of Admiral Rodman, commander of the United States Fleet.

who was chosen to respond to the toast "To Our Allies."

Bulwark of Crown.

The Prince responded as follows: This is my first opportunity of addressing a representative gathering in your great province of British Columbia and I want to say how much I am impressed by what you have achieved in building up this western bulwark of the British Crown. I am particularly glad to be in Vancouver, and when I realize that a little more than thirty years ago the Vancouver of that day was swept out of existence, so they are building up a pure British civilization under the Southern Cross.

Railways.

"Having traveled right across the great Dominion from east to west, traversing the great prairies and terminus of the great railway, I can not refrain from saying how much I am impressed by the fact that it is only the railways that have made possible the wonderful growth and progress of the great Dominion during the last thirty years. I would like to pay a tribute to the brains that have planned and built the more than 100,000 miles of the transcontinental railways brought home to him.

Naval Base.

"To me, who was brought up in the Royal Navy, Vancouver and Esquimalt have a special interest from the naval point of view, and their names are household words. I hope that British Columbia will always be one of the great bases of British sea power.
 "I am glad that we are welcoming here to-day the United States ship New Mexico, and I am looking forward to visiting Admiral Rodman on his flagship to-morrow. I need not remind you that Admiral Rodman commanded the American squadron in the North Sea during the last year of the war, and that it became the sixth Battle Cruiser Squadron, which was a splendid and efficient unit. I only regret that the H.M.S. Renown, the battle cruiser which brought me across the Atlantic to Canada, is not alongside her now in your fine harbor.

Sight of Pacific.

"To-day has another special interest for me. Looking out on Burrard Inlet this morning, I had my first view of the waters of the great Pacific Ocean, and I feel closer than I have ever before to two other great Dominions of the British Commonwealth, Australia and New Zealand, where, as in Canada, I have many friends, made on active service during the great war, and which I am looking forward to visiting very soon.

At Home.

"You all know how thoroughly at home I feel in this great Dominion,

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, September 22, 1894.

This is a hard luck year for sealers. The schooner Favorite is home from the sea under seizure upon the silliest charge that could possibly have been used to drive her from the sea, the schooner Florence M.  The wires to the West Coast are down in a couple of places and service even as far as Otter Point is interrupted. It will require a couple of days to restore it to working order.

The work already done by Canadian statesmen, by Canadian men of business, by Canadian writers and by Canadians of all types in binding the Dominion together as a single nation is wonderful.

DELAY BLOCKS THE ESTABLISHMENT OF TWO-YEAR COURSE

University Committee Has Not Met, and Old Conditions Exist at High School

MATTER HAS DRAGGED SINCE LAST SPRING

Delay on the part of the B. C. Universities authority, it was learned to-day, has made improbable the establishment at the Victoria High School this year of the much-needed two-year college course and the abolition of the present much-criticized Senior Matriculation course.

The delay in consideration of one of Victoria's most pressing educational problems is best realized when it is recalled that the Victoria School Board considered the matter on April 23. At that time the Board was informed that a committee of the University Senate had been appointed to investigate the reasons why so few Victoria High School students were attending the University. The Board expressed the hope that this committee would recommend the re-establishment at the Victoria High School of the two-year college course such as existed in affiliation with McGill University before the B. C. institution was created.

Delays Begin.

This committee, however, was not called together until July 7, over two months after the School Board took the matter up. When the committee did meet Victoria School Trustees and representatives of various public bodies urged upon it the re-establishment of the two-year course as a cure for the non-attendance of Victoria students at the University. The committee, it was learned later, was convinced of the justice of these claims, and determined to recommend to the University Senate the re-establishment of the two-year course.

Delay was again evident and the committee was not given an opportunity to report to the Senate until about three weeks ago. It was then decided by the Senate to re-establish the two years course and a committee was formed to arrange the details of this move.

Further Postponements.

Members of this committee realized that the utmost speed was necessary if the course were to be re-established this year, while the School Board had desired from the start to see the speedy re-establishment of the course. But the committee was not called together by the chairman, who is also the president of the University. In spite of the fact that the members of the committee had desired in the first place to settle the matter before disbanding after the Senate meeting and had expected, anyway, to meet again in a few days. The committee has not met yet and the High School has resumed its studies. The Senior Matriculation course, which would have been superseded by the first year of a two-year university course, still exists.

If the matter had been decided a month ago the Victoria School Board was prepared to make the adjustments for the establishment of the two years course. In any case, one year of the course could have been inaugurated this year with the present faculty, members of which teach the Senior Matriculation class. Now, however, the work has commenced. It is thought by the local school authorities, however, that even now if the University Committee could meet without further delay, the Senior Matriculation class could be changed into a first year university class and the adjustment of the text books and so forth. It is pointed out that no time would be lost for the Senior Matriculation class has been at work since September 2, while the University does not open until September 23.

At present the senior matriculation course is admitted to be far more arduous than the first year in the University and it continues for several months longer than the University year. Passage through this class however, entitles a student only to the same qualifications as are gained by passage through the first University year. One of the greatest troubles in the whole situation, in the opinion of members of the School Board, is this difference between the senior matriculation course and the first university year.

Local school authorities and students who are taking the senior matriculation course instead of the year university work, as would be made possible if the two-year course were re-established, are waiting with interest to see when that Senate Committee will meet.

BATHING IN SOUP BOWL OCCURRED NEAR TRENCHES

Bathing in a soup bowl is not an everyday occurrence nor is it likely that anyone would want to do so, but such a bath is better than none at all. A Y.M.C.A. man recently returned tells of an experience he had when with the men who were charging the Germans in their last long retreat. In their haste the Huns left behind them a number of very large soup cauldrons with heaters attached. A certain siege battery had come to the place where these cauldrons were, and were due to stay for a few days. The "Y" man as usual tried to make conditions as good as possible but could find no way of providing a bathing place for the men, nor could they find one for themselves until the idea flashed into the mind of the triangle worker that these soup kettles could be used. By dint of considerable effort water was procured to fill the kettles and in the course of a week the whole battery, some 130 men, had the exquisite pleasure of a bath in a soup bowl. The word passed along the lines and more than one bunch of men made unexpected use of the German's giant soup kettles.

A BEDTIME STORY
UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE GRAPE FRUIT
Copyright, 1915, by McClure newspaper Syndicate. (By Howard R. Garis.)

"Uncle Wiggily! Oh, Uncle Wiggily!" called Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady who kept the hollow stump bungalow for the bunnies.
"Hello! Yes! What's the matter?" asked Mr. Longears, who had not yet come downstairs that morning.
"Oh, nothing is the matter," answered Nurse Jane, "except that I have to run over to see if Mrs. Stubtail, the lady bear, wants to go shopping with me to the eight-and-nine-cent store to-day. I have left your breakfast on the table—all but the grapefruit, and that is in the ice box."
"Oh, all right, Nurse Jane! Thank you!" said Uncle Wiggily, as he finished shaving and started downstairs.
"I can get my own breakfast all right. Stay as long as you like."
When he came downstairs Nurse Jane was gone, but just as she had said, his breakfast was on the table—all except the grapefruit.
There was some cornmeal, all ready to eat, with juice from the milkweed plant and maple sugar from the maple tree. There was a bit of eggplant all ready to boil or fry, just as Uncle Wiggily felt like having it, and, as Nurse Jane had said, there was fruit to start off with—a very proper breakfast for a rabbit gentleman. I should say.
"I'll begin with the grapefruit," said Uncle Wiggily to himself.
"Nurse Jane said it was in the ice box. Grapefruit is best when it is cold."
Soon he was sitting at the table, and in front of him a plate, was half a grapefruit. A grapefruit you know, is much larger than an orange, and it is the color of lemon. In fact it is something between an orange and a lemon, not as sweet as the one nor quite as sour as the other. Sort of between, you know.
Uncle Wiggily began to eat his grapefruit—
"Oh, one moment, if you please. I forgot to tell you that a grapefruit is just full of juice. It has more juice than an orange and a lemon squeezed together. And when you put your spoon in a grapefruit to eat it if it hasn't been all cut up for you before hand why that juice is going to squirt quite some. And Nurse Jane had forgotten to cut up Uncle Wiggily's grapefruit for him, so—"Well, I'll tell you about it.
Uncle Wiggily had seated himself at the breakfast table, and was drawing his grapefruit, or orange-lemmon, toward him, ready to put the first spoon in, when, all of a sudden, the door of his hollow stump bungalow opened and in walked the bad old Skeezicks.
"Oh, good morning, Mr. Longears," said the Skeezicks, sarcastic like and obligatory. "I see you are at breakfast."
"Yes—yes—I'm eating a bit," said the bunny apprehensively.
"Keep right on eating—don't let me stop you!" said the Skeezicks, winding his legs around the chair.
"Go right on with your breakfast. I shall be having mine presently, old dear!" and he looked hungrily at Uncle Wiggily.
"Oh, did you come to breakfast with me?" asked the bunny, not at all invitation-like.
"Perhaps it would be more correct to say that I came to breakfast on you," said the Skeezicks, with a trace of suggestion in his tone. "But proceed, Uncle Wiggily. Eat your meal and then I'll have mine. Your soup looks pretty tender this morning."
Then, indeed, the bunny rabbit knew there was trouble in store for him. But he thought he had better eat his breakfast, so as to be strong for whatever might happen, and he stuck his spoon quite hard into the grapefruit.
"Whizz! Squeal! Squirt!"
A stream of juice, almost as if you had pinched a rubber ball full of water, shot across the room, and went right in one of the Skeezicks' eyes.
"Oh! Wow! How sour!" cried the Skeezicks, dabbing his face with his handkerchief. "What was that?"
"My mistake!" said Uncle Wiggily. "I'm eating grapefruit, you know, and—"
"Yes, I see," said the Skeezicks, but he only had one eye left to see with. The other was full of juice.
"I'll try to be more careful," said the bunny gentleman. "This grapefruit is awful squirty like."
He thrust in his spoon again, and: "Whizz! Whizz! Squabb!"
Another stream of sour juice shot across and went in the Skeezicks' other eye.
"Oh, me! Oh, my!" howled the bad chap. "Now I can't see at all! You'll have to stop eating grapefruit, Uncle Wiggily! Stop it!"
"Yes, I'll stop! I've had enough!"

An engagement is announced between Guy Jones, of Vancouver, and Miss Gladys Dona Layard, of Ganges, third and youngest daughter of the late Mr. E. F. Layard, of Guernsey.

Mrs. John Hart went over to Vancouver on Saturday to meet the Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, on his return from his trip to the North. They returned to Victoria yesterday afternoon.

Miss Gladys Peters, of Esquimalt, was among the guests at a tea given by Mrs. Reginald Tupper in Vancouver on Friday afternoon, in honor of Miss Frances Tupper, whose marriage to Col. Kirkpatrick takes place on Wednesday.

Lieut. H. F. Helmsing, R. N. V. R., Provincial secretary of the Navy League of Canada left yesterday for Vancouver, where he will today act on the reception committee in connection with the visit of the Prince of Wales to the mainland city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lucas, 3166 Carroll Street, announce the marriage of their youngest daughter, Lillian Mabel, to William Davidson, formerly of this city but now a resident of Oakland, Cal. The wedding took place on September 3 in Oakland, where Mr. and Mrs. Davidson will make their home.

Mrs. (Col.) Haggard and Mrs. Payne, of Victoria, were among the out-of-town guests at a delightful function given at the home of Mrs. Herbert Drummond in Vancouver, on Friday afternoon. The affair was given in honor of Mrs. C. G. Henshaw, who left Vancouver last night on her return to England.

Of interest to the many friends of the bride and bridegroom, who are both very well known in Victoria is the announcement of the marriage of David L. Brown, Constable, eldest daughter of Mrs. L. D. Brown-Constable, of 1397 Richardson Street, and Austin Andrew Blyth, third son of A. P. Blyth, of 544 Linden Avenue. The wedding was quietly celebrated on Friday evening, September 19, at St. Michael's Church, Royal Oak, which was celebrated at St. Michael's Church, Royal Oak, which was prettily decorated for the occasion. Rev. C. R. Little performed the ceremony. After a motor tour up the island the bride and groom intend returning to Victoria, where they will make their home.

In the presence of a large congregation of interested friends the marriage was solemnized at St. Savolour's Church, Victoria West, on Saturday afternoon of Miss Amy Ruth Callister, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Callister, Carey Road, to Mr. Albert James Maynard, third son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Maynard, Carberry Gardens. The church had been decorated by girls friends of the bride, ferns, ivy and autumn blooms furnishing an effective setting for the ceremony, which was performed by the rector, Rev. Robert Connell, at 3 o'clock. The bride was charmingly gowned in shell-pink georgette over silk, with a picture hat of black velvet faced with pale pink. She carried a bouquet of bridal roses and sweet peas. Miss Lillian Wilson was the only bridesmaid, attired in sand-colored silk poplin with hat en suite and carrying an arm bouquet of roses and carnations. F. G. Maynard, brother of the groom, was best man. After the ceremony the wedding breakfast was served at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard left by motor for Nanaimo en route for Vancouver and the Sound cities. On their return they will make their home on Sumas Street.

How to Banish Wrinkles and Crow's Feet Quickly
If your face is disfigured with wrinkles, no matter what the cause, you can quickly dispel every line, even the most obstinate, by using a simple, home-made wash lotion. Merely dissolve an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint with hazel-ingredients found in any drug store. Bathe the face in this, and presto—you scarcely believe your own eyes when you look into your mirror and behold the marvelous transformation!
The remarkable astringent action of the saxolite so tightens the skin, wrinkles are literally pressed out. Best of all, this result is not purely temporary, for the lotion cleanses the skin, and adds benefit may be expected with continued use. Use this once a day for awhile; it cannot injure the most delicate skin. The treatment itself leaves no trace—no one guesses the secret of your increasing youthful appearance.

Contributions of Cash and Kind Welcomed on September 30
The Home has found, in common with other philanthropic institutions, great difficulty in meeting the ever-increasing living costs, no public appeal has been made for funds. Each year, however, a "Pound Party" is held at the Home when friends of the institution generously contribute in cash or kind.
The date of the annual pound party for this year has now been set for Tuesday afternoon, September 30, when it is hoped that all citizens who are interested in the work will take the opportunity to visit the Home. Donations of any kind will be gratefully received, and the matron has added a request for donations of clean, old linen, which can be put to many uses.

BABY CLINIC AT DUNCAN FALL FAIR
Mrs. V. E. MacLachlan journeyed up to Duncan last week to confer with the committee in charge of the baby contest and to make final arrangements for the baby clinic to be held at the Cowichan Fall Fair on September 25, 26 and 27.
The arrangements in vogue for the two previous fairs, have been improved upon and elaborated, and every convenience has been planned for the comfort of the babies and their mothers. Any mother who prefers to have a private examination of her baby can do so, when the doors will be closed and only the doctor, nurse, and mother will be present at the examination.
Asks For Addresses.—In view of the many soldiers with their families who will be returning within the next few weeks, the Welcoming Committee find great difficulty in supplying them with addresses for furnished rooms, housekeeping rooms or boarding houses. If there are any people with rooms to let it would be appreciated if they would kindly leave particulars with Mrs. Seabrook Young, telephone 4746, who is chairman of the committee.

CITY NOT DECORATED SUFFICIENTLY YET

Next Few Hours Must See More Elaborate Preparations For Prince

When the Prince of Wales steps off the boat here to-morrow what kind of a city will he see? Will it be a city gay with color and fluttering with bunting or a city showing no outward signs of its appreciation for the honor accorded it?

Those are the questions that the workers of the Rotary Club, who are behind the decorative-your-stores campaign are asking themselves as the hour of arrival approaches. Up to the present there has been a fair response to the plea for decoration, but nothing like that expected. On Peace Day, on the other hand, local business men responded generously and decked their stores in gorgeous fashion, while citizens all over the city displayed flags and bunting on their house fronts. It is felt by the Rotary Club that this effort should be equalled if not surpassed. There are still a few hours left before the Prince arrives. It is for the dealers and owners of business houses to make the most of them.

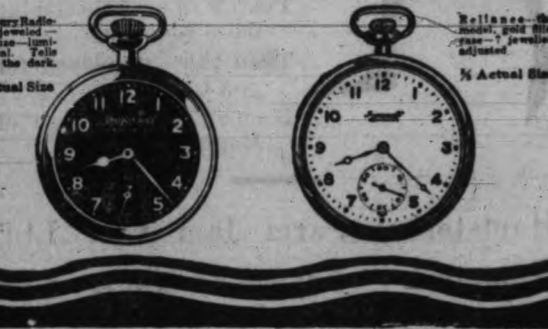

Seven drunks were arraigned in the police court this morning and all pleaded guilty to the charge. They were each fined $5 by Magistrate Jay. This is the largest number of drunks to appear on a morning charge sheet for some time. The men were gathered in by the guardians of the peace during the week-end.

The police report that the condition of many of the men brought to the station under the influence of liquor is quite different to the drunks arrested before prohibition came into force. The men act queerly and dispense a very disagreeable odor. It is believed that most of the "jags" now being developed are from a mixture of Jamaica ginger and near beer.

TO STIMULATE LOCAL INDUSTRY

Object of Fair Explained to Business Men By W. A. McAdam

Publicity Commissioner W. A. McAdam, of the Victoria and Island Development Association to-day issued circular letters to 500 Victoria business men in connection with the opening of the Home Products Fair.

It is unnecessary to draw your attention to the important fact that the primary object of the Home Products Fair is for the stimulation of home industries and the encouragement of the use of home products to the end that manufacture, wholesaler, retailer and the community in general will benefit, says Mr. McAdam.

"It should, however, be realized that a substantial patronage of the Fair is essential to the promotion of the objects for which it was established and for an extension of the undertaking on even a wider scale and that will develop a larger home and up-island trade.

"In addition to the functions of this Association towards bringing tourist travel to our shores, settlers to our lands, the promotion of industrial development, one of the prime objects is to foster industries already established and encourage the consumption of home products to offset the growing mail order trade.

"We know you are proud of your home town. Help to make it more prosperous and buy at home.

OBITUARY RECORD

Out of respect to the late Auguste Francis Borden, the Municipal Waterworks Department was closed this morning to enable the members of the staff to attend the obsequies of the late Water Rate Collector. The cortege left the family residence at 412 Harbinger Avenue at 8.45, proceeding to St. Andrew's Cathedral, where Solemn Mass and funeral service was conducted by the Rev. Father Macdonald. The large congregation included the Mayor and Aldermen and a number of civic officials, as well as a deputation from the Knights of Pythias. Many beautiful flowers paid silent tribute to the memory of this highly-respected citizen. The impressive service at the graveside was conducted by Rev. Father Latour. The pall-bearers were: G. Miller, W. Englehardt, A. Harris, C. J. Mossdale, P. W. Dempster and Fred Shakespeare.

The remains of the late Mrs. J. Martin, who died at Cumberland on September 15, have been brought to Victoria for interment. The remains are reposing at the B. C. Funeral Chapel from where the funeral will be held to-morrow at 2.30. Rev. J. G. Baker will officiate and burial will be made at Ross Bay Cemetery.

Funeral services for the late John Henry Cole, who died suddenly on Friday night, will be held to-morrow afternoon. The cortege will leave the family residence at 1.45, proceeding to St. James Church, where service will be conducted at 2 p. m. Interment will be made at Ross Bay Cemetery.

THE PRINCE'S RECEPTION

Up till noon to-day nearly two thousand cards of admission had been issued by Mr. Myers, secretary to the Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works, for Wednesday morning's reception to the Prince of Wales. As many of these cards contained two, three, and in some cases, four names, a conservative estimate of those who will pass before His Royal Highness in the Legislative Chamber is placed at 5,000.

TWO MEMBERS OF EXECUTIVE RETURN FROM NORTH TOUR

Hon. John Hart and Hon. J. D. MacLean Impressed With Possibilities

FARMER NOT GROANING UNDER BURDEN OF TAX

Although it has only a very small representation in the Provincial Legislature, compared to its vastness, northern central British Columbia always has had a warm champion in the Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands. He is immovable from his opinion that one day this section of the Province will rival the southern and presently more intensely settled part. He is now supported by the Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, and the Hon. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Education and Provincial Secretary, who returned yesterday from a northern tour lasting two weeks. Neither minister had made the trip before, and in their exploration of new territory they were able to realize the merit of the claims so persistently advanced by the only northern member of the Cabinet.

More Production

Both Mr. Hart and Dr. MacLean were impressed with the operations of the Land Settlement Board in the various districts traversed. On every hand rural populations were very much more hopeful of the future than they were even twelve months ago. Many holders of large areas at present out of production, except in a very modest way, they say, are in search of colonizers who may be dependent upon work the magnificent virgin soil, and because the Government has shown its intention to bring the absentee owner to time, in order that idle lands may be made to produce, many of the settlers have given up the idea of leaving the district to resolve, it is said, quite common a year ago—and are planning to acquire more land themselves.

No "Kick"

While Dr. MacLean discussed educational questions and matters pertaining to the public health, Mr. Hart took the opportunity offered to find out whether the farmer was actually "groaning under his load of taxation." As a result the Minister of Finance was disabused of the suggestion. He reports that the settlers and farmers are satisfied with the Government's policy in general and the administration of its finances in particular. He was told the taxation of the farmer was not being interpreted as a burden in northern central British Columbia.

Mr. Hart also discovered that in the rural communities of the northern country the people kept themselves posted upon the Government's policies. At more than one point there was manifested a sense of general satisfaction that the credit of the Province had so far rehabilitated itself as to make the disposal of British Columbia securities a satisfactory business proposal.

Bright Future

As a result of their very exhaustive inquiry into general conditions, both ministers came to the conclusion that a great deal of attention will be directed to the northern section of the Province at no very distant date. The influx of new settlers during the last twelve months and the class of farm to be seen throughout the area traversed suggested to them a bright future for the north.

Mr. Hart and Dr. MacLean went direct to Prince Rupert and Anxox, striking inland to Hazelton, New Hazelton, Smithers, Telkwa, Burns Lake, Endako, Fort Fraser, Vanderhoof, Prince George, Fort George and back to Prince Rupert, from whence they returned by the G.T.P. boat yesterday morning.

FAIR PRESENTS A FINE DISPLAY

"King Albert of the Belgians" Famous Rabbit at Home Products Fair

The interior of the Hudson's Bay Company's building has been lavishly decorated with flags and other colors for the Home Products Fair, which opened to-day. Exhibitors worked hard all morning putting finishing touches to their stalls. The exhibits cover almost the entire range of industrial and educational endeavor on the southern part of Vancouver Island.

George I. Warren, Manager of the Fair, who has been rushed during the last few days completing the arrangements on which he has been working for months, had a chance to take things a little bit more easy this morning and survey what had been accomplished. He was beaming when he returned to his office in the southwest corner of the main floor after seeing what had been done and what was being done.

"Well, she's all ready for the sight-seeing, now," said Mr. Warren. "We've had to work hard, but everybody has come through and we're going to have a big happy week of it that no one in Victoria can afford to miss. Tell the people to come and see if they can't fill up the building. There are special musical attractions every afternoon and evening besides the lectures that officials of the Victoria Public Library are to give. And the admission is only ten cents."

The first outsider to arrive for the Fair to-day was P. W. Ankettell-Jones, of Chemaluis. He is accompanied by M. S. Middleton, of Vernon, formerly Provincial Government horticulturalist. They started work at 1 o'clock judging the fruit, vegetables, and produce exhibits.

Excellent Arrangements

"Those look as good as you can see anywhere," said Mr. Ankettell-Jones as he came to his first stand and surveyed an exhibit of leeks. "It would be difficult for any show to beat such an exhibit. And then look at the staging of that fruit and those vegetables. The arrangements are magnificent."

The Department of Agriculture, and the Victoria Farmers' Institute, both have large exhibits of fruit and produce. Another large exhibit was being arranged by Park Superintendent T. R. Purdy. It was the exhibition of home grown fruits and vegetables under the city's Increased Production Committee.

"The exhibits may not be as numerous as last year, but you will have to go to beat them," said Mr. Purdy.

Fine Apples

One of the first fruit collections in place was that of David T. Johnson, of Ladysmith. Mr. Johnson arrived in Victoria with a special display of apples, in the growing of which he is making a name for himself and his district. In his exhibit are included specimens of the Winter Bananas, Wealthy, King, Bismarck, Alexander, Gravenstein and Siberian Crab.

Women who were helping in decorating stalls this morning found it hard to keep at their work, and away from inspecting and admiring the lace table cover exhibited in a large case on the west wall of the building. Mrs. E. W. MacIntyre, President of the Cheering Club, besides meeting every host bringing back returning soldiers, execute this work. It is four feet eight inches square and into it are woven the names of the Allied Leaders. Women to-day were busy trying to figure out how many stitches there were in the piece of work, and how many hours it took Mrs. MacIntyre to do it.

Miscellaneous Exhibits

One of the departments being featured by Mr. Warren is that of the miscellaneous exhibits of anything that is in Victoria. There are several of these.

"It doesn't matter what it is, as long as a man has something he has made himself and is proud of it, and thinks that the public will be interested in it, he can show it in this booth," explained Mr. Warren.

Among the articles already turned in are three violins made by a man here in Victoria. There are several pieces of fancy work done by women. Women's Institutes of the neighboring districts have their booths to show the work these organizations are doing to improve rural living conditions.

Board of Health Exhibit

Dr. H. E. Young, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, was at the fair early, seeing that all details were properly carried out in connection with the exhibit of the Board of Health. The object of his exhibit, Dr. Young explained, is to educate people to adopt better living conditions and take care of themselves and their children.

The staff of the Victoria Public Library under Miss Stewart, Chief Librarian, was also at work arranging the library exhibit in the balcony. Besides the exhibit itself, the library staff are to give daily illustrated lectures in connection with the library work.

Original Pathfinder

One of the most interesting exhibits at the Victoria Fall Fair is the Pathfinder 1, the property of the local branch of the Aerial League. This machine was the first passenger carrying machine to fly over Victoria piloted by Jack Clemence on the evening of May 2, 1919. Since that day the Victoria machines have travelled over 9,000 miles.

Pathfinder 1 unfortunately crashed, whilst leaving the ground in Vancouver, the damage necessitating practically the rebuilding of the whole of the machine. This work was undertaken by Mr. Norman A. Yarrow, shipbuilder of warcraft fame. The work was difficult, the firm not having the requisite aeroplane jigs and fittings.

In face of this fact the shipbuilding firm deserves great credit for building a machine having an ordinary factor of safety of about 5 to that of 7, being seven times as strong as would be necessary for straight and careful flying.

The exhibit is in the skeleton form, showing all cross bracing wires, compressing ribs, and controls.

The engine, a 90 h.p. O. X. 5 Curtiss, has a propeller fitted and revolved, showing the valves in motion and different working parts of an aero engine.

The construction of aircraft in Victoria is only a matter of time, and if one machine can be built hundreds can.

Returned Soldiers' Exhibit

A complete electrical shoe shop has been installed by the Vocational Branch of the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment Board. Shoe repairing under the latest improved mechanical system will be shown by a number of returned men who are specializing in this. The returned soldiers also have an exhibit of their furniture and art work exhibited by the occupational and bedside classes.

All the chief industrial organizations of the city have exhibits by stalls, showing their products. In many cases elaborate machinery has been installed to show the public how their goods are produced.

Big Rabbits Shown

One of the busy corners was that occupied by the Victoria and District Rabbit Breeders' Association. There are fifty entries of prize rabbits of the highest class breeds displayed under the direction of Mrs. E. Cheatham, President of the Association.

The chief exhibit is named "Jennie III." She is a Flemish Giant and, although only one year old, weighs sixteen pounds. She is the heaviest animal in the show. She is being exhibited by A. C. McVicker of the Tiswilde Kennels.

Father of Hundreds

Another noteworthy animal is "King Albert of the Belgians." "He has a remarkable constitution," said Mrs. Cheatham, his owner to-day. "Just think, King Albert is four and one-half years old and he has never been sick one solitary day in his life, nor has he ever had to take medicine. He is already the father of several hundred children, and he looks as if he still has a long and vigorous life ahead of him yet."

Several Black Siberian hares are being shown. They are noted for their fur, which is taking the place of fox fur. Mrs. Ellen E. Girling, the well-known fancier, is showing a collection of young stock.

No Street Dancing

In connection with the Fair and Royal Week celebration it does not look to-day as if there is to be any street dancing festival, beyond one night of dancing on the street, Wednesday. The committee in charge of the proposed festival to-day received the following telegram from King Kelly, of Vancouver, who was making arrangements to stage a full week's open-air festival:

"Still waiting advice from E. Westley-Newton regarding estimate of cost of street dancing. He promised to advise me last Tuesday. This late date makes it impossible for me to stage anything in keep with the occasion."

Members of the committee feel somewhat disappointed with this as the street festival which is now not to be held has been extensively advertised in Seattle newspapers. The committee, however, say that the interest of the public will be concentrated on the activities in the interior of the Hudson's Bay Company Building rather than on the street outside.

Seats For Weary

Mr. Warren to-day ordered a large number of seats, which he is distributing around the building so that tired fair visitors may rest themselves.

The King's Daughters have charge of the restaurant and tea room in the balcony. To-morrow will be Navy League Day, and the programme will include:

3 p.m.—Musical programme by Seattle's orchestra.
5 p.m.—Exhibition drill and manoeuvres by the boys of the Naval Brigade of the Navy League.
9 p.m.—Selections by the orchestra.

PRINCE GEORGE AREA FOR ALLOTMENT SOON

Provincial Land Settlement Board Acquires More of Northland

Lands in the Prince George area will shortly be ready for allotment, according to a statement made to The Times representative by M. H. Nelema, Chairman of the Provincial Land Settlement Board, this morning.

"Considerable progress has been made within the past few days in connection with this important area," said Mr. Nelema, "and we have been advised by the solicitor of the North Coast Land Company, Limited, holders of large bodies of the best lands in central British Columbia; that the company is prepared to turn over to the Board at our appraisal prices some 11,000 acres in the Prince George area. These lands are without question among the best in that district. They were selected in 1909, surveyed in 1910, but have never been brought under cultivation."

Early Start Possible.

There are approximately 25,000 acres in the Prince George area, so that the holdings of the North Coast Land Company, when turned over to the Board, will make it possible to commence settlement and development immediately. Some of the lands are within three miles of Prince George. The area is touched by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and through the northern part of it are found good roads.

Additional tracts are being acquired, including the holdings of the late Sir William Coddington, a British investor. It was stated Sir William had paid a large sum for these lands several years ago, but after consideration the executors of the estate decided to turn the lands over to the Board at the appraised price.

"Mr. Nelema stated that no time would be lost in making the final provision for allotments. It was understood that in every instance returned soldiers would have first choice in making selections. The Chairman, accompanied by Directors W. S. Latta and R. D. Davies will visit the Prince George area shortly."

TAKING PRECAUTIONS

Provincial Board of Health is Leaving Nothing to Chance in Matter of Spanish Influenza

Whatever precaution it is practical to take against a possible winter of Spanish influenza this winter is being taken by the Provincial Board of Health. Dr. H. E. Young, secretary of the Board, has addressed a number of questionnaires to the various Medical Health Officers throughout the Province and he finds that skeleton arrangements already have been made with the numerous public and semi-public organizations so that a sudden descent of the epidemic would not find the Province unprepared. Reports are reaching Dr. Young from time to time indicating that so far British Columbia is entirely free from any suggestion of Spanish "flu."

Welcome Ribbons—Ribbons printed in two colors and bearing the picture of the Prince of Wales, with the words "Welcome to Victoria," have been produced by Joe North of this city. The picture is reproduced from a drawing by F. M. Day, engraver at The Times office.

You've noticed we have a good deal to say about robust bodies, keen brains and happy faces. That's because Grape-Nuts food helps wonderfully to produce those happy conditions. All the goodness of wheat and barley, delicious, economical, nourishing!

WILL DEAL WITH SAANICH IRRIGATION

Representatives of All Organizations to Meet Rotary Club on Tuesday

Preparations for a campaign of Victoria and Saanich municipalities to secure an adequate water and irrigation service throughout Saanich and chiefly the Gordon Head Fruit district, are to be made at a meeting at the offices of the Victoria and Island Development Association at 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

Representatives from the various sections of Saanich are being asked to attend to confer with the special committee of the Rotary Club and make known the desires of their sections and their attitude towards extensions of the water service. Professor Lionel Stevenson, of the Dominion Government Experimental Farm at Saanich will attend and give expert advice on the needs of the Saanich district as regards water irrigation.

Logging Operations.

The spur at the mill site of Sangsters Bros., Chemainus, is now complete. The donkey engine has just been unloaded there, which will haul the logs they have on their place, amounting to 2,000,000 feet. It was at first understood that a mill would be erected there for the purpose of cutting the logs. The mill, however, so far has only developed in the erection of a small portable mill to handle ties and crossties, the logs being transported to the Empire Logging Company. The logs will be loaded where flat cars and railed to Crofton, where the Empire people have their booming ground.

To Represent Courtenay.

Mayor Duncan has been asked by the Courtenay Council to represent the Courtenay Council at the Home Products Fair in Victoria. The secretary is empowered to provide transportation for Mrs. Duncan, who will be touring the island on behalf of the Victoria and Island Development Association getting information making sketches for brochures which will be published.

To Present Awards.

The Prince, when he comes next Friday, will award war honors to four Nanaimo soldiers, to the fathers of three returned men, and to the widow of another. Mr. F. E. McCorkindale will receive the D. C. M., won by her husband, an Imperial reservist, who was killed in March, 1917. Sgt. Matthew Gurnea will be officially presented with his Military Medal; Sgt. John Dudley, with the same, and Corp. Wm. G. Martin, of the 48th Division, with the same. His Royal Highness will arrive at Nanaimo at noon on Friday next, the 26th, and will be taken by automobile to the Court House grounds where the civic children will be presented by Mayor McKenzie. Returned soldiers will form a line at the Court House grounds as a guard of honor, while the school children will render patriotic selections.

West Coast Prospects.

W. G. Martin, local representative of the Soldiers' Civic Re-establishment, returned yesterday from a business trip to the West Coast of the Island. He reports that there are now no unemployed returned soldiers in that section of Vancouver Island. A number are engaged in the fishing industry and find this work remunerative.

Cumberland Band.

The Cumberland City band now has a brand new set of instruments. This very handsome present comes to them from the Canadian Colliers. As they are now wearing their new uniforms they make a very brave showing indeed. They turned out with their new instruments for the first time at the Bevan sports.

Welcoming Prince.

Friday will be a red letter day in the history of Ladysmith. For on that day the Prince of Wales will visit the city while on his trip up the Island. On arriving at the depot he will inspect over two hundred returned soldiers, after which he will be presented with an address of welcome. Immediately on his arrival the school children will sing "God Bless the Prince of Wales," accompanied by the newly formed city brass band. As his stay will be very short, there will be no special function. The mines at Extension have been closed for the day and the rest of the day will be spent as a holiday in honor of the visit. In the evening a dance will be held in Gould's Hall under the auspices of the local branch of the G.W.V.A. It is intended that the occasion shall be one that will remain in the memories of the citizens and school children for a long time.

May Open City Market.

Following the visit of a deputation from the Diamond United Farmers Society to the City Council it is more than probable that Ladysmith will have a market in the city in the very near future. The Market Square being used for the purpose. Every encouragement was given the deputation by the city fathers, who recognized that something must be done to remedy the state of affairs owing to the high cost of living. The details of the project will be furnished to the Council in the course of a few days.

larger and better than it has ever been this year. The benefit to be derived from showing is now generally conceded but it is not within the power of all small breeders to send their animals to Vancouver or outside fairs. Now is their chance to break into the game at Courtenay. There will be many critical strangers in this show. The entries close on Saturday but it will help the secretary very much if intending competitors do not wait until the last minute. There is one day's breathing space and then comes the very delightful little fair at Denman Island. It will not be overshadowed by the Prince's visit, and there should be a good crowd to the Lauches' will be running from Union Bay all morning and afternoon.

Welcome to Nanaimo.

Committees of the City Council and Great West Association, Nanaimo, met last night and completed arrangements for the visit to Nanaimo on Friday next of His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales. According to the programme as at present arranged His Royal Highness and party will arrive in Nanaimo at noon, and will be taken by automobile to the court house grounds, where the civic address will be presented by His Worship Mayor McKenzie, after which the Prince will award war honors to the Nanaimo soldiers who have not as yet been officially presented with the awards won by them on the field of battle. In connection with the reception to the Prince, returned soldiers will form in line on the court house grounds as a guard of honor, while the school children will render patriotic selections appropriate to the occasion.

Trail Receipts.

One receipt in gross tons for the week from September 1 to September 7, 1919, inclusive, received for treatment at the smelter of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co., Trail, totaled 8,510 tons, making the total tonnage handled to date this year 241,148. The largest independent shipper again was the Mandy, Le Pas, Manitoba, with 571 tons, while the Quip, of Washington State, was a close second with 442 tons. The company's mines, of course, were heavy shippers. From the Cement Star, Roseland, came 1,587 tons, and from the Sullivan, Kimberley, 2,720 tons. The Sullivan Mine has passed the 100,000 mark for zinc ore shipments for the current year. During the same period the same mine has contributed a considerable tonnage of lead ore. A new shipper is the Silverite, of Alamo, recently taken over by Mr. Clarence Cunningham.

Again in District.

Sir Donald Mann, owner of the Big Missouri group of claims in the Salmon River district, Portland Canal, which property is to be diamond drilled, is paying another visit, the second in six weeks, to the part of Northern British Columbia in the mineral development of which he is so keenly interested. Coincident with Sir Donald's arrival there are many rumors of possible development, one of which refers to the construction of a railroad from Stewart to the Big Missouri, which ambitious project is justified on the ground that an important discovery of gold-silver ore has been made on the Laura and E. Puribus claims. Professor Bancroft, of McGill University, Montreal, recently left to inspect the Big Missouri and other claims in the district, while F. H. Minard, of New York, consulting engineer for Sir Donald Mann, also is making an inspection of the former property.

Silver Bell.

The equipment of the Silver Bell and Silver Bear mines, situated on the south fork of Kaslo Creek, is being improved, a number of houses for the accommodation of the men having been completed. These silver-bearing properties are being worked under the direction of W. E. Newton.

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE MINES

S. G. Benson and associates have located what are probably the last group of claims on Salmon River. The group is known as the White Mouse and is situated on the Salmon River northwest of the Forty-Nine. A good lead is exposed and an assay across gave returns of 2.50 oz. silver to the ton, with other values.—Portland Canal News, Stewart.

High Grade Silver.

New discoveries of high grade silver ore continue to be made in the Salmon River section. Practically all of the old locations, and new ones as well, when systematically prospected show veins of the character of ore carrying the high grade. The latest property to attract attention by reason of silver discoveries is the Mountain group, owned by O. B. Bush. Three high grade silver veins have been found on this property, which is located in the upper Salmon River valley. The Premier Mine road will be used as far as Bunting's Camp from which point the government road will take a generally northerly direction.

New Road Survey.

The Provincial Government survey, in charge of James P. Suttle, is now engaged in surveying and locating a road to serve the Big Missouri and other properties located in the upper Salmon River valley. The Premier Mine road will be used as far as Bunting's Camp from which point the government road will take a generally northerly direction. The road will probably have a width of 16 feet with a grade not more than 8 per cent. While it is not expected that construction will start till spring, a commencement of clearing may be expected this fall and a snow road made for winter use.

NEW COURSES AT NIGHT SCHOOL

Will Open October 1; Added Opportunities For Students.

With a number of new courses added, the Night School will open on the evening of Wednesday, October 1. Preparations for the opening are now fairly complete, and judging by the arrangements made, the classes will offer far greater opportunity to the student than they did last year. Enrollment already has commenced, and prospective students are urged to apply at the School Board offices for entry immediately.

Among the valuable courses added to the scope of the school is one in home nursing which will be in charge of Miss Sumner, the school nurse. This course will teach students the proper care of invalids and, if it proves a success, it is probable that a course in cooking for invalids will be established. The class in home nursing will be held twice a week, probably on Tuesday and Thursday. Of interest to a wide circle of young women is the decision to continue the classes in millinery under Miss Jamieson who was in charge of this work last year. Cooking classes this year will be held once a week at the Girls' Central Domestic Science Centre. The night set for these classes is Tuesday.

Another important addition to the School will be a class in building trades under the direction of a qualified architect and a practical builder. This year, opportunities for study will be afforded students preparing for the matriculation examinations. It is proposed to allow students to study a few of the necessary subjects, either in preparation for supplemental matriculation examinations or as part of a full course the remainder of which could be studied later.

The prospectus which describes in detail the various courses available will be published to-morrow and will be obtainable at the School Board offices, where applications for entry should be made immediately.

TOTAL NUMBER OF VOTERS NOT KNOWN

Registrar Is Now Receiving Reports; Prime Minister's Message.

According to Capt. Carew Martin, registrar of voters, it is believed that between 12,000 and 15,000 residents of this city registered last week. The returns from the various registration booths are now being submitted to the registrar and it is expected that within a day or two the complete total will be known.

During the early part of the week the registrations were made very slowly, but on Saturday the booths were besieged. The deputies put in a long and tiresome day. It is estimated that about 5,000 voters registered on the last day.

On Friday afternoon the Council of the Board of Trade passed a resolution on the subject. Sir Robert Borden, the Prime Minister, has wired in reply to Mr. Cameron, President, as follows: "In reply to your telegram of the nineteenth I beg to state that by-election Act requires that the returning officer immediately after the receipt of the writ shall appoint registrars and that registrars shall immediately put up notices of meetings, and sit for registration of voters for six days excluding Sunday and prepare preliminary lists within two days after close of registration. Subsequently the returning officer shall after four days' public advertisement sit for six days continuously excluding Sunday, commencing on

All voters who were unable to register before the registrars may still be added before the revising officer.

The revising officer has full power to add the names of qualified voters in the cases where persons have neglected or omitted to apply for registration. See Act, Schedule B, Section 14, Paragraph D.

There should be no difficulty in obtaining full registration of persons qualified to vote.

Please acknowledge receipt of this message.

Constables Tell Court of Raid on Drug Traffickers in Chinatown

Tales of dashes down dark alleys, finding sliding partitions, of constables posted on fences, of sudden slides into deep, dark cellars, and disappearing Chinese, were told Saturday in the Police Court by police officers who participated in the raid on an opium den in Chinatown two nights ago. Testimony was given by a number of inmates of the den lying on couches puffing themselves into oblivion through long pipes, the police discovered that they believe to be one of the centres of the underworld drug distribution organization here.

In their attack on the cocaine traders which were found centred around a dark alley back of Fisgard Street, Sergeant Fry and his squad investigated all sorts of secret passages where they found Chinese opium-eaters.

One man, Yen by name, fled at the approach of Constable Bishop, darted down a dark alley with the constable close behind him, and took a leap into a cellar. The constable told today how the man threw himself down into the cellar head first, struck the bottom with a sickening sound, and before the constable could let himself down to get beside him, the man got up and ran off as if he had only landed on his feet. Constable Bishop, however, followed his prey and arrested him before he could disappear through another hole.

When Constable Bishop searched Yen he found nineteen packets of cocaine in his pockets. Each packet was done up neatly and the police believe that Yen had constituted himself a walking cocaine trader supplying a large number of customers.

Yen had his head bandaged and was able to attend court.

When Magistrate Jay heard the story he fined Yen $25, with $2.50 costs.

Another man also by the name of Yen was also taken in by the police during the same raid and was fined $15 to-day.

There was a long argument in the court to-day about Hing, who was also caught at the same time. Hing is known as the oldest barber in Chinatown. He has been at his business here for twenty-four years.

Constable Larsen told the court that he found Hing in a narrow passageway, and just as Hing caught sight of the constable he threw a small package to the ground. The constable took the package and arrested Hing. He found the package contained cocaine.

Hing swore that he "does not know what cocaine is, that he never used cocaine, tobacco or cigarettes in his life, that he has never seen cocaine before and that he does not know how people use it."

W. C. Moresby, who defended Hing, claimed that Hing was reaching up to turn on an electric light in the passageway and when he moved his hand up, the constable thought that he threw something down. Mr. Moresby said the package of cocaine had been dropped by some of the other Chinese fleeing when the police launched the raid.

Magistrate Jay said that Hing seemed to have a good reputation, but fined him $15.

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restores Health and Strength.

Lansing, Mich.—"After the birth of my child I was not able to stand on my feet. I was so weak I could not get up. I suffered such pains in my back I could not work or undertake care of my baby. One of my neighbors recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I took it and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, and I got better right away and was soon a new woman and could work hard, and I can recommend these remedies to other young mothers who are weak and ailing as I was."—Mrs. ORA O. BOWERS, 622 S. Hosmer Street, Lansing, Mich.

Women who are in Mrs. Bowers' condition should not continue to suffer from weakness and pain—but profit from her experience and give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

Victoria is to be well filled with visitors during the visit of the Prince of Wales this week, according to the demand that is being made on hotels and boarding houses.

During the last couple of days people from Seattle and Washington have been writing to local hotels to make sure that rooms are reserved for them, as they intend to combine a holiday visit here with the celebrations and catch a glimpse of the Prince.

Besides communicating with the hotels, intending visitors are applying to the Victoria and Island Development Association to secure their reservations. This is a result of the advertising campaign which the association is now carrying on in the Seattle newspapers to bring people here next week.

The association has opened a registration department where Victorians who desire to let rooms to visitors for the week may leave their names and addresses. When the hotels are filled the overflow will be directed to these homes.

SPLendid PROGRESS MADE AT MERVILLE

G. W. V. A. Committee of Inspection Thoroughly Satisfied With It

"Soldier settlement at Camp Merville, near Courtenay, in the Comox Valley, is progressing in a highly satisfactory manner," said M. H. Nelems, Chairman of the Provincial Land Settlement Board, to The Times representative this morning after perusing a report just received.

"The undertaking, which is the first attempt at co-operative settlement in Canada, either for returned men or civilians, promises to influence colonization methods in this province," he stated, "and the work at Courtenay is now so far advanced that a comprehensive idea may be gained of what the results will be."

The chairman said there were 350 returned soldiers now busy founding homes at Merville. Approximately fifty women and one hundred children had taken up their residence, and already forty permanent allotments had been made and a dozen permanent homes constructed. In keeping with the policy of development outlined by the Provincial Government last spring, the men had lived in central camps with the married men whose families had joined them taking up their abode in temporary homes surrounding the main camp. There were fifty of these temporary homes, he said.

"It was the work of several months," said Mr. Nelems "to get sufficient clearing and burning done to enable a decision to be arrived at with regard to the acreage and location of the various farms. A few acres have been cleared on each farm, in addition to certain rough clearing, so that next spring it will be possible to get quite a large acreage into crop."

G. W. V. A. Satisfied.

"The most gratifying feature of this initial effort at co-operative soldier settlement," continued the chairman, "is the satisfaction of the returned men. They have worked faithfully all summer. There have been no delays through complaints and no friction. What few complaints were made were soon cleared up, chiefly by the men themselves, and Captain C. W. Whittaker, President of the Provincial G. W. V. A., recently informed the Board that following a visit of a committee of G. W. V. A. representatives, conditions were found to be highly satisfactory and the men were well pleased with the work as being carried on by the Land Settlement Board."

This is being written at the end of the tenth day's sale, and everybody is doggone tired.

It has been the biggest ten days' business that we thought possible to do in this store.

I have tried to be fair. Not that we are satisfied.

This is because it was impossible for us to see everything at once in the limited time we had in which to get ready.

But, please bear in mind, if you're not satisfied we shall want you to tell us. We will freely exchange anything, or give you your money back.

For we believe all the money in the world will not do Morrin & Thompson any good—

HERBERT BRENON
PRESENTS MELODRAMA

Thrilling Story Based on Louis J. Vance's Book at Variety

Here is what Alan Dale, recognized as the world's most noted theatrical critic, wrote in the Pittsburg Sunday Leader of recent date in a review of "The Lone Wolf." The stirring photodrama which will be screened at the Variety all this week:

"The Lone Wolf" proved to be such a busy melodrama that it was necessary to concentrate very deliberately in order to follow the incidents that were crowded one upon the other.
The doings of the "gang," the exploits of the ubiquitous Lone Wolf, the escapes and surprises and the complications made this new picture the most active thing I have ever witnessed. For relaxation from the intricacies of the plot there was a race between a motor boat and an automobile; also a duel in mid-air between two aeroplanes; and further, the spectacle of an automobile falling into the water from an ocean drawbridge. In fact, there was no rest, and it was even difficult to think. If you did manage to think, you lost your time, for the author was determined that everything should contradict your theories except with regard to the inevitable end, in which the Lone Wolf marries the girl he was expected to marry.

"Mr. Brenon has done some exceedingly clever work.
"Some day, I suppose, there will be "movie" first nights, at which the list of "among those present" will be feverishly chronicled. At present we speak of first performances in connection with the movies. I sampled one of them when Herbert Brenon produced his picturization of Luis Vance's story, "The Lone Wolf" at the Broadway theatre. Everybody appeared to know everybody else. At the function were various movie actors who were recognized among themselves. Then I could hear comment on directors, scenario writers and studio frequenters. It was all quite new. Here was a new world
Thank goodness, we shall never know at the movie first night the horror of the encore."

Variety patrons are to experience a real treat in film entertainment this week with the presentation of "The Lone Wolf."

ALBERTINA RASCH ON ORPHEUM BILL

Attractive Offering For Week-End Engagement at Royal

Whenever Albertina Rasch presents a new offering such as the production she is to appear in as a headline attraction on the Orpheum bill at the Royal Victoria Theatre Friday and Saturday with a Saturday matinee this week, one is always certain of witnessing great accomplishments in her offerings as well as in those of her pupils. Coming from the opera stage where she became famous, says The San Francisco Chronicle, the presence of Albertina Rasch on the vaudeville is to it a compliment. And these sentiments can be echoed by all, for Albertina Rasch has established herself as the best classical dancer of to-day not only for her perfect technique, but for her interpretations of every sort of dance where usually others are associated with only one certain style.
"Sweeties" is modern American for one's best bet in "Sweethearts."
"Sweetie" is the present day term for one's best girl or one's best fellow. William B. Friedlander and Will M. Hough have used the expression as a title for an exceedingly amusing one-act play which might be described as an "International Matrimonial Alliance." The acting is bright, the dialogue sparkles and the entire presentation is unctuous.
The Melotte Duo, two exceedingly clever gymnasts who seemingly understand the laws of gravity, present a novelty balancing and wire act which they call "A Night Out."
As a sensational novelty the Mel-lotte Duo have something worth while.
Music is Esperanto. It speaks the only International tongue, and whether the musician is Pole, Russian, Greek or Persian he is equally understandable. Practically every country has developed one or more great pianists, not even excepting little Persia. Comes here this week, Kharum, the Persian pianist, who is generally credited as a sensation.
Comfort and King in "Coontown Divorcens" will present some neurocharacterizations. "Coontown Div-orcens" is frequently termed by those who have seen it as a colored classic. It certainly accomplishes its purpose in producing plantations of laughter.
Sense and nonsense both pay well.
There is a liberal market for both.
Knowing this to be a fact Harry Norwood and Alpha decided that they would offer for sale a product composed of both. Novelty is a very much abused term these days, but it is said that Mr. Norwood and Miss Hall do not abuse the word.
Bob Tipp and company are athletes and tumblers. If there is a star of the trio it is Tip. Tip happens to be a dog and there are few dogs his equal.
As an additional feature on the bill James J. Morton, announces he will be here. His job is to announce each of the acts and to make the announcing as funny as possible. As an announcer Morton is the life of the party.
The picture section of the Orpheum bill together with that of the musical numbers by the orchestra will be of the same high standard.

ROYAL WILL HAVE TWO DAYS OF FILMS

If you like pictures of the North country—God's own country—of real men and women, with heart interest and suspense, a picture that teaches and entertains, a picture that will leave you something to think about,
go to the Royal Victoria Wednesday or Thursday this week and see one of the greatest pictures of the Northwest ever filmed—"Jacques of the Silver North," Mitchell Lewis' latest picture.
It is the story of Jacques La Rouge, Canuck trapper, who sacrifices everything for the girl he loves. Memory Baird is forced to marry Trefferay, a product of elite society, but a fugitive in the North. Jacques' main aim in life is to make the world as happy a place as possible for Memory. The girl he worships. He frees her from the objectionable bonds that tie her to the man she hates and later sacrifices everything to make her happy.
The story is beautifully told, excellently directed and many exquisite bits of the North country furnish a background for this delightful picture. An excellent cast including Fritzi Brunette, who plays the lead opposite Mr. Lewis, is seen.

Allen Dale, the world's most noted theatrical critic, who has, by the way, criticized but two pictures in his notable career—"Birth of a Nation" and "Lone Wolf," says:

"... For relaxation from the intricacies of the plot, there was a race between a motor boat and an automobile; also, a duel in mid-air between two airplanes; and further, the spectacle of an automobile falling into the water from an open drawbridge. In fact, there was no rest, and it was even difficult to think. If you did manage to think, you lost your time, for the author was determined that every-

THE PATH OF VICTORY WAS EASY FOR ST. PAUL

St. Paul Minn., Sept. 22.—St. Paul yesterday won the American Association baseball pennant by taking the first game of a double-header from Columbus. St. Paul can lose its remaining seven games and still finish ahead of Kansas City, its nearest rival. The locals have held the lead practically all season.

MAINLAND DOZEN LACROSSE CHAMPS

Victoria Won Saturday's Game, But Goal Lead Was Too Great

Playing a strong defensive game, Vancouver Nationals kept out the Island Nationals at Royal Athletic Park, Saturday, in the fight for the provincial title. Although Victoria won the game three goals to two, they fell short of the total goals needed by three and it was on total goals that the championship was decided.

A strong aggregation was sent over from the Mainland with a four goal lead already hung up, but when McInnes's boys scored two in the first quarter things looked bright. For the rest of the game the Mainland men put up a defence like a rock besides adding two more goals and it was not until the last period that Cyril Baker was able to find the net for the winning tally from an assist by Menzies.

Score by Quarters. First quarter—1, Victoria, Cyril Baker (unassisted), 3 min.; 2, Victoria, Cyril Baker, from Thompson, 12 min. Second quarter—2, Vancouver, B. Coray, from Morrow, 20 sec.; 4, Victoria, Menzies, from C. Baker, 6 min.; 5, Vancouver, L. Coray, from Betworth, 4 min. Third quarter—6, Vancouver, Betworth, from L. Coray, 19 min. 20 sec. Fourth quarter—7, Victoria, C. Baker, from Menzies, 5 min. Penalties—None.

SOCCER PLAYERS GETTING IN SHAPE

Practice Games Saturday; More Practice This Week

Practice games and several practice matches kept soccer players busy Saturday getting into shape for the league games which commenced this week. Although it is early to offer any forecasts one thing is certain and that is that there is a surplus of speedy lads this season and the players will have to show their best form to hold a place in any eleven.

The K. of C. men did not make a big impression at Beacon Hill, but Neary did not have many of the men he is relying upon to carry the club colors throughout the season in action. Jack Youdon had a string of Victoria West players out at the Park mixing his seniors and intermediates together for the workout. His juniors that he has lined up look particularly promising and he has plenty of material from which to make his choice.

The North Ward Park was also the scene of a lot of soccer players who were getting into shape. Practices This Week. There will be more practices during the week. The K. of C. team and the Foundation practice to-night at Royal Athletic Park. The Victoria West players will practice Thursday at Beacon Hill Park.

The firemen and the post office teams announced as the latest bidders for the intermediate soccer league title will make an entry of six teams in the intermediate competition. The league, which will be under way during the next two weeks, will probably consist of Victoria West, Army and Navy Veterans, Rowers, Yarrows, and the two clubs first mentioned.

Yarrows Soccer Club will hold a meeting in the Foresters Hall, Broad Street, to-morrow night.

ALBERTA IN FAVOR OF FULL RE-INSTATEMENT

Calgary, Sept. 21.—Stanley Brent, general secretary of Calgary Y. M. C. A., left Saturday for Ottawa to attend the annual meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada as the representative of the Alberta branch. He will vote for full reinstatement, soldiers and otherwise, and also for permission for amateurs to play against professionals in team competition, which has been in vogue in Alberta since the local branch wiped the sheet clean last May.

ALBIONS AND INCOGS IN VIRTUE CUP FINAL

Victoria Club Eliminated in Closing Stages of Cricket Race

The Albions beats the Foundation Ramlers by the narrow margin of five runs, 97-92. The Five C's easily defeated Christ Church 165 to 96. Victoria lost to the Incogs 90-165 and the Foundation Wanderers beat the Congregational by 127 to 113 in Saturday's Virtue Cup cricket games.

The Finalists. As a result of Saturday's games, the Albions and Incogs will have to fight a deciding battle to settle possession of the Virtue Cup for the year, the Victoria club being nosed out of the race in the last two weeks of the contest. The Albions and Incogs both finish the season with 20 points to their credit; Victoria were two points behind before Saturday's games, and had a protest against with Christ Church to play, but cannot now get into the running.

The Albions and Foundation Ramlers' game provided the most exciting of the final games for the Virtue Cup, and seven Incogs batsmen got into double figures. Major headed the list with 30. Kinch got 24 and "extras" came next with 20. J. R. Matson helped Victoria with a well played 42, but Vaughan, 38, was the only other player to make more than nine runs.

CLUB BOWLERS BEAT CIVIL SERVICE MEN

MAYOR FAILS AGAIN TO SEE A GROUSE

Among Victoria sportsmen who have bitter remarks to make about the scarcity of grouse this year is Mayor Porter. His worship, for the sport of the thing, journeyed to Sooke on Saturday on board a gasoline speeder, which carried him to his destination along the C. N. E. railway line in quick time. The Mayor took a gun with him, but failed to see a bird, either on the way out or when he got to Sooke.

FANS GAVE LACROSSE CHAMPIONS A ROYAL WELCOME HOME HERE

Shipbuilders' Band Played and Crowds Cheered as Victorious Stickhandlers Stepped Off Gangplank

Victoria fans jumped at the opportunity to show their pride in producing a world's champion stickhandling aggregation when the victorious players reached Victoria Saturday on their triumphant return from Winnipeg. All the district surrounding the wharf was in festive array. Part of the decorations were for the visit of the Prince of Wales, the Peace Arch was left from the peace celebration, and the rest was in honor of the lacrosse men, and there was quite a lot of "the rest." Two tallhoes gaily flaunting flags and streamers were on hand to parade the invincible shipbuilders through the streets to the Library before they were allowed to proceed to their homes. Twenty or thirty automobiles, many of them decorated for the occasion, joined in the parade. Manager E. E. Jenkins, with a big streamer around his machine, was among the party, and the Foundation band led the procession. Big banners announced the fact that the world's lacrosse champions were back from Winnipeg with the scalps of every lacrosse club bidding for the title, and people en route gave the boys a cheer to show their approval. The banquet which their clubmates are giving in honor of the team will probably be held Friday.

More Games Yet. At least four games are to be played by Cotton's men before the curtain rings down in lacrosse until next summer.

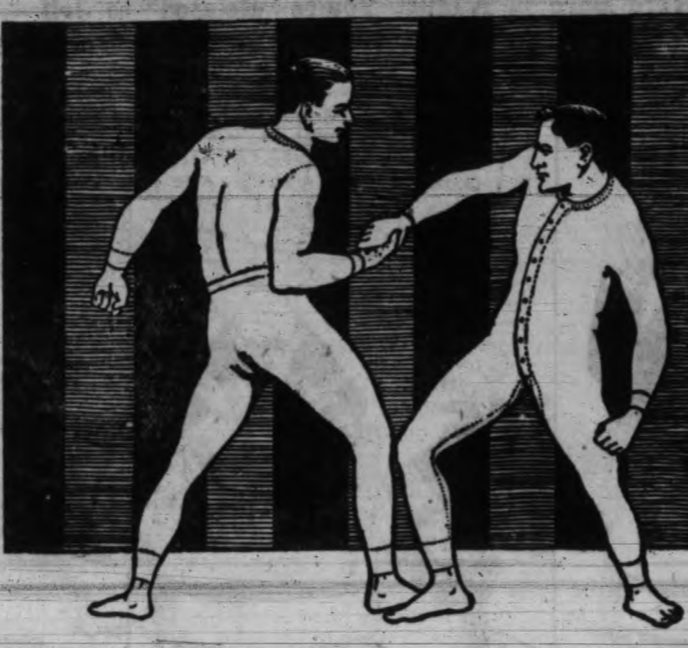

It is planned to have the Foundation team play the Royal City senior amateur a series of two matches for gold medals. The total number of goals scored in the two tilts will settle the issue. The victories of the Foundation lads at the Winnipeg tournament have stirred up a lot of interest in coast amateur lacrosse and hundreds of Vancouverites will make the trip to the Royal City to watch them in action against the Royal City boys.

One condition which Manager Frank M. Kelly made before agreeing to the series was that the salmon-bellies would also provide the opposition for a couple of games in Victoria so that the local fans might see the champions in action again. Neither the games on the Mainland or the games in Victoria will affect the status of the Victoria stickhandlers in the national championship which is bearing on the games for the gold medals. The other game in Victoria will be played around Thanksgiving.

The business manager of the Foundation dozen was appointed secretary of the Canadian Amateur Lacrosse Association for British Columbia during his trip east and reports plans have been formed which will spell the future success of the national game. There will be no tournament for the title in future, he reports. Elimination contests will be played in different districts between the champions of the section so that the expense of a whole string of clubs making the trip to the coast will be eliminated. This, he points out, will pave the way for a championship battle between the two clubs left in the race.

Future Players. Every attention will also be given to developing lacrosse players, and this will be done through school leagues. In Victoria next year a schools league will be fostered with the object of supplying the material for future senior games. In Winnipeg Kelly states he was surprised to find a strong league of schoolboy stickhandlers.

The Mann Cup. The Mann Cup situation looks like being cleared. The Victoria men were asked if they would allow the Mann Cup to be the trophy at the Winnipeg tournament, but pointed out that under the deed of gift the Mann Cup was for twelve-man lacrosse. Another clause in the deed of gift was that no reinstated professional should compete, but all the clubs were not able to live up to this proviso. As a result of the argument it was decided to ask Sir Donald Mann to withdraw his handsome piece of goldware from competition and offer it again to the Canadian Amateur Lacrosse Association under a new deed of gift. The opinion was

TRUSTS AND TRADE COMBINES

Written Specially for The London Daily Chronicle by C. A. Curdy, K.C., M.P., Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Food, Chairman of the Committee on Trusts.

This is the second of a series of three articles written specially for The London Daily Chronicle on the subject of an elaborate system of trusts and trade combinations which have sprung up in Great Britain during the last few years. The author delves fully into his subject and by reason of his important public position the information he has been able to examine places him in a position of advantage and enables him to uncover the ramifications of the various combinations which have been issued with uniformity in this country also.

The Big Five. One of the most interesting examples of a modern trade combination is afforded by the Meat Trust of America, upon whose activities the Federal Trade Commission has recently reported to the President of the United States. From that report it appears that certain packing concerns in North America—Swift, Armour, Morris, Cudahy and Wilson, have attained such a dominant position that they control at will the market in which their product, the market in which they sell their products, and hold the fortunes of their competitors in their hands.

One fact, say the Commissioners, stands out with all possible emphasis: "The small dominant group of American meat packers are now international in their activities." These five corporations, commonly known as the Big Five—Not only have a monopolistic control over the American meat industry, but have secured control, simultaneously in purpose if not yet in extent, over the principal substitutes for meat, such as eggs, cheese and vegetable-oil products, and are rapidly extending their power to cover fish and nearly every kind of foodstuff. In addition to these immense properties in the United States, the Armour, Swift, Morris and Wilson interests, either separately or jointly, own or control more than half of the export meat production of the Argentine, Brazil, and Uruguay, and have large investments in other surplus meat producing countries, including Australia. Under present shipping conditions the big American packers control more than half of the meat upon which the Allies are dependent.

Allegations Against the Trust. The combination among the Big Five is in the opinion of the Federal Trade Commission: "A definite and positive conspiracy for the purpose of regulating, purchasing and controlling the price of meat, the terms of the conspiracy being found in certain documents which are in our possession. The report alleges that: 'The power of the Big Five in the United States has been and is being unfairly and illegally used to: Manipulate livestock markets. Restrict inter-state and international supplies of foods. Control the prices of dressed meats and other foods. Defraud both the producers of food and consumer. Crush effective competition. Secure special privileges from railroads, stockyard companies, the municipalities, and Profiteer. From meat the American Meat Trust is now extending its activities to all staple groceries, to the grain trade, to fertilizers and hides, leather and wool.'

England is one of the countries specially favored by their attentions. According to the report of the Federal Trade Commission it was at meetings held at London in the spring of 1914 that an international meat pool was formed.

By the Armour, Swift, Morris and Sulzberger interests in conspiracy with certain British and South American concerns to regulate and divide the shipments of beef, mutton and other meats from South America to the United States and certain foreign countries, particularly England.

It is interesting to learn from the Commission's report that the packers' profits in 1917 were more than four times as great as the average year before the European war, although their sales in dollars and cents at even the inflated prices of last year had barely doubled. In the year 1915-1916-1917 four of the five packers made net profits of 178,000,000 dollars.

HUGE STEEL CRANE SLIDES INTO HARBOR

A huge crane and derrick escaped from the control of its crew in the Foundation yards this afternoon and slid down the ways into the harbor. It toppled over with such a crash that persons in office buildings on the city side of the harbor heard the noise and rushed to their windows.

Crash Attracts Attention of Persons in City Office Buildings

No one was injured, as all the employees got out of the way of the heavy machine as it started down on its jurgernaut course. The crane is one of the giant steel machines used in the shipbuilding yards to handle heavy timbers. The track on which the crane operates was recently extended to the water's edge, and this is the first time the big implement had a chance to try out its enlarged course.

VICTORIA SAILINGS ARE NOW CANCELLED

Strike at San Francisco Causes Pacific S. S. Co. to Curtail Service

On account of the longshoremen's strike at San Francisco, the Pacific Steamship Company has cancelled all its California sailings with the exception of the liner President. Announcement was made at the local offices of the company on Saturday that the call of the President at Victoria on Monday would be the last pending the settlement of the labor troubles at the Golden Gate.

The curtailment of the sailings will mean the operation of one boat a week out of Seattle, the southern voyage being terminated at San Francisco. The President is scheduled to leave San Francisco to-day and will arrive here on Monday afternoon en route to Seattle. Leaving Seattle at 10 a. m. September 24, the President will proceed direct to San Francisco, omitting the call at Victoria for the time being. On September 27 the President will leave the Golden Gate on the northbound trip, cutting out Victoria on her way to Seattle.

AIR MACHINE WAS REQUISITIONED TO DELIVER GLASSES

Delivery of a pair of eye-glasses by seaplane is the latest method of commercial activity. In the excitement aboard the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services liner Empress of Russia, in port to-day from the Far East, a well-known lady of the Queen City had the misfortune to drop her glasses overboard and faced the prospect of considerable inconvenience during the trans-Pacific passage. The loss was noticed by the lady's friends on the deck and prompt steps were taken to replace the glasses by wiring the prescription to Victoria, in the hope that the order could be filled before the Suwa's departure from the port on her outward trip to the Far East.

SHIP OVERTAKEN

The Boeing seaplane overhauled the Suwa Maru off Port Townsend and manoeuvred aloft to drop the package which had been carefully wrapped in several layers of cotton batten, on the deck of the liner. Expectantly the passengers aboard the ship watched the operations of the airman, who was doing his level best to bomb the liner.

T. S. S. PRINCESS MARGARET

Nearly $2,500,000 was paid by the British Government for the crack C. P. R. coasting steamship Princess Margaret, which was built for the British Columbia trade and commandeered at the outbreak of the war. The actual purchase price has been given out as £495,600 sterling. In the early days of the war the Princess Margaret was fitted out as a mine-layer and performed splendid service in that capacity. The fast vessel is to be attached to the British navy as a dispatch ship.

FOG ENVELOPED RUSSIA OUTSIDE

Bearing Secured From Shaft of Light Penetrating Mist From Lennard Island

Dense fog suddenly shut down last night on the C.P.O.S. liner Empress of Russia as she was heading for the entrance of the Straits of Juan de Fuca.

Up to about 10 o'clock the evening was clear and the stars shone brilliantly, when without warning the great liner was quickly shrouded in fog and had to proceed most cautiously. Captain Samuel Robinson, R. N. R., however, secured his bearings from the Lennard Island light which, peculiarly enough, penetrated a lane in the fogbank. The commander of the Russia had time to observe the characteristics and assure himself that it was Lennard Island, when the bank of fog became thicker than ever. Later Pacheña was picked up and the big liner passed into the straits early this morning.

She steamed in to the bay at William Head at 8.30 o'clock and had to pierce a lane of fog before she finally made fast at the Outer Docks. The Russia docked at 11 o'clock and cleared at 1 o'clock for Victoria, after putting off local passengers and mails. Captain Robinson reported an excellent passage.

FINAL PLANS FOR WEDNESDAY'S BALL

Prince of Wales Will Mingle With Guests Informally

The Secretary, Major George Nicholson, informed The Times this morning that the whole of the thousand tickets for the Prince of Wales' ball were disposed of by Saturday evening, and all invitations posted out that night. That was, the full allotment, and, in fact, all the tickets that were printed, and there are no more available.

Procedure For Admission. For the convenience of the guests attending on Wednesday night the secretary wishes to make clear the detail arrangements and procedure for admission. One door only will be used, that one on the north side, opposite the Belmont Block. Cars will draw up to the door, but must then pass out to the street again and park under arrangement of the city police.

Invitation cards are souvenirs only and need not be brought to the ball for they will not on any account be accepted as admission. Tickets only will be accepted. Such are not transferable, and will admit only the person whose name is written on the face of same at the time issued; these tickets were posted with the invitations. There must be no misunderstanding on this point, and every person must bring his or her own ticket. The crowd will be great and the only method of handling the guests expeditiously is by carrying out the arrangements according to the system laid out, and it is desirable that there be no unnecessary discussion at the door.

There is positively no free list, and no complimentary tickets. Admission will be made only on presentation of ticket. This rule is inviolable. On entering the door all guests will pass through the end of the billiard room, which will be the gentlemen's cloak room, the ladies passing on up the stairs to the first floor, where a section of the front bedrooms have been reserved as cloak rooms for their use.

Arrival of Prince. On the arrival of the Prince, he will be met at the door by Major Edwards and shown to his cloak room, after which General Leckie will present to him the members of the official reception committee. At this moment dancing will cease, and upon his entering the ball room "God Save the King" will be played. From then on the Prince will be one of the crowd to do just as he pleases and the dance will go gaily on. "Just how long he will stay, and whom he dances with will be left to him entirely," said Major Nicholson. "Later on he will take supper just like any other guest with no unnecessary ceremony. For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" three times and all that sort of thing will be in order when he leaves to go home.

Supper Arrangements. Supper arrangements have been well thought out in every detail, and all guests present will have equal opportunity of partaking of their refreshments, but Col. Russell and his committee in charge of this end of the arrangements ask the co-operation of everyone in seeing that there is no undue rush at any one time. The supper will be served in the main dining room, and on the buffet system, and sufficient will be laid out for over three hundred at a time. No special time is set for supper, and the room will be open about half past eleven, and just as soon as the first three hundred are served the room will be cleared and set up again for the next sitting, and the doors opened again immediately. "There will be plenty to eat, and those going in later on in the evening will be in every way as well looked after as the early ones," continued the Major. "Food drinks are to be served throughout the evening in the Palm Room, and in the Grill Room downstairs, and guests are asked to partake of such between dances at these places to avoid congestion in the main supper room."

CONFIDENCE IN COMMITTEE

Massed Meeting of Returned Soldiers Approve G.W.V.A. Action in Regard to Bonus Question.

Expressing confidence in the G. W. V. A. Bonus Committee at Ottawa and making a request that a weekly bulletin be issued by that committee so that soldiers throughout Canada might keep themselves informed as to the progress made in this important matter, a resolution was unanimously passed by a mass meeting of returned soldiers in the G. W. V. A. rooms on Saturday evening.

The rooms were crowded to the doors and the bonus question was thoroughly thrashed out. The following resolution moved in by Comrade Duggan was passed: "Resolved, that this meeting of returned soldiers express their confidence in the G. W. V. A. of Canada Bonus Committee at Ottawa; and further, that this meeting call upon the Victoria branch of the G. W. V. A. to urge upon the Ottawa committee to send a weekly report of the committee to each branch of the G. W. V. A. in Canada during the sitting of the Dominion House, this report to be forwarded to every returned soldiers organization in town."

FIRE CRACKERS AND BOMBS ARE BANNED

The use of fire crackers and toy bombs in the city during Royal Week will be forbidden by the civic authorities.

At a meeting of the Royal Week Executive a returned soldier asserted that the use of these explosives was a torment to returned men suffering from shell shock. J. Axon, president of the Great War Veterans' Association, informed the Executive that fire crackers used during the peace celebration had forced many returned soldiers back to hospital. In some cases months of medical treatment had been undone in a single moment by the explosion of these devices.

Mayor Porter will issue in the near future a proclamation banning the use of fire crackers and bombs during the week and will make clear that anyone arrested for violating this ordinance will be subject to imprisonment as well as fine.

Hundred and Second Battalion.—It is requested that as many men as possible of the 102nd Battalion turn out for the inspection of returned soldiers by H. E. H. the Prince of Wales on Wednesday. Men may turn out either in mufti or in uniform, but if in the former ribbons should be worn on the coat. Men should be ready to take up their stations on the grounds of the Government Building not later than 10 a.m.
