NO CONFERENCE SAY MINE MEN IN OLD LAND

Workers Refuse to Meet Owners Till Latter's Proposals Withdrawn Decision of Federation Brings Threat of Great Strike Much Nearer

London, July 22.—Possibility of a big coal strike in Great Britain was increased to-day when the miners refused to confer with the owners unless the latter first withdrew their proposals for wage decreases.

The attitude of the workers was expressed when the Miners' Federation announced this morning its refusal of the conference proposed by the owners.

Evan Williams, chairman of the Coal Owners' Association, wrote A. J. Cook, secretary of the Miners' Federation, yesterday suggesting a conference.

AGREEMENT TO END JULY 31 The existing working agreement between the miners and owners in Great Britain will expire July 31. The owners have announced the conditions upon which they will renew the agreement.

Chicago, July 22.—Burglars carried away $75,000 worth of furs after boring through a two-foot wall of the Kaiser Brothers' plant on the fourth floor of a building here.

PRIVATE IMPORTS OF LIQUOR INTO B.C. REACH ENORMOUS FIGURE; NO DROP IN SIGHT

Private liquor importation into British Columbia is reaching enormous proportions and, it is predicted, will continue to grow following the rejection by the Senate of legislation which would have curbed this movement altogether.

Only in the last two years, these figures indicate, has the Provincial Government kept abreast in its importations with private importations. Now apparently the Government importations are greater than ordinary private importations, but it is believed that the liquor brought in on through bills of lading for export, for which no figures are available, actually swells the private total beyond the Government's figures.

Bodies Carried Through the Streets as Warning; Strikers Are Now Drilling

Signs of discord are apparent in the ranks of the Hongkong strikers who were sent here in large numbers. The strikers are now organizing and drilling.

General Hu Hon-Min, speaking for the striking forces to-day, said there would be no further fighting, but unless satisfactory terms of settlement were offered, the general strike of Chinese workers, which had paralyzed the community, would last indefinitely.

When Agreement Reached France Will Reply to Berlin Communication

First Favorable Impression in Paris Not Supported by Study of Text

Paris, July 22.—An exchange of views regarding the German security note began to-day between the French Government and the other governments of the Allies.

Germany appears unwilling to accept the principle of obligatory arbitration with Poland and her other Eastern neighbors. France believes any arbitration treaty would be useless unless it was obligatory and covered all possible disputes.

CONFERENCE PLAN

LARGE PARTY HERE FROM ROYAL CITY

Excursionists Arrived Here To-day on New Westminster Merchant's Outing With a large party of happy holiday makers on board the Princess Victoria docked here, shortly after noon on the annual excursion of the New Westminster Retail Merchants' Association. This is the annual excursion of the Association which has always proved popular, particularly the occasional visits to this city. This year, however, the C.P.R. made a departure—in taking the Princess Victoria to the Royal City by way of the Fraser River, thus giving Vancouver citizens the unusual opportunity to travel by water a route which is now almost exclusively done by road or by interurban line. The vessel lay at New Westminster overnight, and after taking on her passengers at the Royal City proceeded down the river and across the Gulf in time to land passengers here for luncheon. Frank Major's orchestra was on board and played for dancing.

EXPERT TO REPORT WATERWORKS VERY FAULTY IN DESIGN

(Continued from page 1) Tyndal Avenue Hall for to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock, states that points of an expected report will undoubtedly be discussed, these being understood to be strongly denunciatory of the design of the Saanich trunk main system, especially as regards maintenance of a service pressure in Gordon Head. Councillor Vantreight will ask the meeting to-morrow evening to send a strong delegation to the council session of Friday evening, to support his attitude of opposition to the increased water charges. Councillor Kirkham declared great interest in the inquiry. "For years past I have asserted that the Saanich waterworks system is faulty, and that vast sums will have to be spent upon reconstruction of vital sections with larger mains before the system can give proper service. The information I have as to this investigation by the expert waterworks engineer is to the effect that all my contentions are fully supported, and Saanich is faced with the alternative of staggering along under a severe handicap or spending great sums to remedy poor engineering in past years. INQUIRY COMPLETED Councillor Kirkham admitted that a report is expected to be in readiness for Friday session of the council, this being an opinion on possibility of an alternative source of water supply for Saanich. In addition to the facts sought, the engineer has intimated his intention of dealing trenchantly with the present condition of the Saanich system of mains, and has promised to give a summary of remedies advisable, these running into large sums. "I think this inquiry will be a very good thing for Saanich, in the long run," remarked Councillor Kirkham, "preferring to withhold the identity of the engineer retained until the council session of Friday.

WIRELESS CLAIMED REAL AID TO PEACE OFFICERS IN EXECUTION OF DUTY

(Continued from page 1) An excellent paper on "Radio and Police," given by a committee headed by L. V. Jenkins, chairman, and J. M. Taylor, secretary, at a meeting under Mr. W. Cole, and an address by Joshua Hincliffe, Conservative member for Victoria, in the British Columbia Parliament, featured the morning session to-day. Through an honest and commonsense application to his duty a police officer could do much to enforce the law in a manner that considered the welfare of the people, said Mr. Hincliffe. All laws were made for that purpose, and yet at times these laws were apt to prove a hardship. The members of the bench were vested with the administration of justice, and had vast powers of discretion with which to temper the rigidity of the law. The police, on the other hand, had only the one function, to enforce the law. In this latter regard—said the speaker—the common-sense to the problems they met in daily life. In some cases an arrest might be indicated by the law but a better purpose would be served by escorting the man home and having him put to bed. It rested a great deal with the individual officer and in this the ideal of useful service should always predominate, concluded Mr. Hincliffe. L. V. Jenkins, in his paper on "Radio and Police," gave an interesting summary of police work as presented in force. Detroit, he showed, had three wireless police cars which toured the city constantly, with detectives in touch by wireless with headquarters. In this manner the cars got to the scene of a robbery or murder in record time, and much good resulted. Scotland Yard and the London Metropolitan forces used wireless police wagons to a great extent, and no less than seven such were on patrol in London areas. These cars could keep up communication to 200 miles while traveling at a speed of forty miles an hour to the scene of a crime. Hand and pocket wireless sets for investigating detectives were now proposed by Scotland Yard, and would in time be perfected and prove of great use. Radio amateurs throughout the country had already proved invaluable aids to law enforcement in the picking up and re-laying of police broadcasts of missing persons; lost and stolen animals, cars and in many other ways. No less than fifty missing people were found by radio in 209 broadcasts in cases where loss of memory or abduction were being traced in one year. Amateur radio fans could be of the utmost assistance to the police in this way if the needs of departments were made known to them, continued the report. One case was cited where a newspaper wanted the wireless embassies in Los Angeles was picked up by wireless amateurs 1,600 miles away, in Yuma, Arizona, after he had driven his car for seventy-three hours in his getaway.

MAN UNCONSCIOUS WHEN AID ARRIVES: DIES IN HOSPITAL

(Continued from page 1) SENDS FOR BROTHER Instead of going to the hospital, however, Mr. Gordon went to the telegraph office and sent a message to his brother in Vancouver, asking him to come to Victoria immediately, as he had important news for him. All this information was given to police officers this morning. His brother arrived here this morning, but Joseph Gordon could not be found. According to medical opinion, there is evidence of poisoning. INQUEST TO-MORROW Coroner E. C. Hart said to-day that an inquest would be held to-morrow morning. Gordon served overseas with the 23rd and 13th battalions, and was four years in the Canadian Army. Police officers responded to the call for assistance from the Brown Block this morning on the discovery of Mr. Gordon in the premises of the Tuberculous Veterans' Association, and an ambulance was rushed to the scene. The man was removed carefully, and rushed to the Jubilee Hospital, but no effort was sufficient to save the fast ebbing life, and Joseph Gordon died before noon. Medical men would give out no information as to the cause of death.

Then, while one of the bandits covered them, the other made a hasty search of their persons, missing many valuables by reason of the speed with which he went through their pockets. TWO DOLLARS EACH "Freddie," manager of the establishment, was forced at the point of a revolver to ask his guests to "contribute" a couple of dollars each to the highwaymen, "so we can get rid of them." When the bandits had left, the orchestra began a feeble attempt to start another dance, but most of the patrons had had enough excitement for the time being. The police were summoned and the wounded men conveyed to a nearby hospital. As far as could be learned this morning, not much more than $20 was secured by the robbers.

REDDUCES DANGER BRINGS RELIEF TO PARCHED FORESTS

(Continued from page 1) LONDON, July 22.—Germany's reply to the French Western European security pact note is received very favorably by the London morning newspapers. They say the note is friendly, gives the impression of Berlin's sincerity and justifies hope the negotiations for a security pact will now proceed toward settlement, although this is not necessarily in the immediate view. Another case was cited where an Iowa farmer listening in after his day's work heard of the jail break of two men from a state penitentiary. At that instant the men called at his house and asked food and a night's shelter. He admitted them, and called the police. Wireless, though in its infancy, was already a very valuable aid to the police, concluded the report, which advocated the installation of wireless sets at all police departments, with a general chain of communication throughout the country. The committee who prepared the paper included Messrs. L. V. Jenkins, chairman, Inspector T. M. Shoebottom, R.C.M.P.; J. M. Taylor, all of Mackay, and J. M. Taylor, all of Mackay, who were heartily thanked for their excellent report. At noon the convention rose after half an hour's talk in closed executive session. No action was taken, though consideration was given to various matters dealing with the constitution and by-laws. The chairmen of all committees met the Board of Governors at luncheon to-day. This afternoon the entire membership will attend the international police sports at the Willows. This evening at 7.30 the ladies of the party will be the guests of the officers at the main-convention banquet to be held at the Hudson's Bay Hotel, Douglas Street, when an excellent programme will be staged.

GOVERNMENTS EXCHANGE VIEWS ON SECURITY NOTES

(Continued from page 1) many of the German note was not maintained after a perusal of the text when it was made public. The Journal declares that instead of discussion of a security pact, the German note opens a debate on the main issue of the same opinion. The main issue is the same opinion. WISH TO NEGOTIATE These views are based on Germany's contention in the note that she should be free to negotiate by peaceful agreement such changes in the treaty as she considers are justified by changed circumstances. Germany believes she is entitled to a revision of the Versailles Treaty provisions relating to occupation of German territories. There is no insistence on treaty changes before conclusion of the proposed security pact.

HOPE TO SETTLE CHINESE PROBLEMS

Powers Substantially in Agreement on Course, Say Washington Officials Programme to be Submitted to Peking Government at Early Date Washington, July 22.—Substantial accord has been reached by the powers on a formula to deal with the whole Chinese problem. Formal acquiescence in some elements of the programme still is lacking, but the Peking diplomats are expected to be in a position to submit the formula to the Central Government of China at an early date. A dispatch from Tokio yesterday said: The Japanese Government has sent a favorable reply to the United States note delivered by the United States Embassy last week suggesting a conference on the Chinese custom tariff and the creation of a commission to consider the question of extra-territoriality in China, as agreed to at the Washington Conference. A Foreign Office spokesman said Japan, the United States and Great Britain were in complete accord on all points of policy regarding China. VANCOUVER ISLAND NEWS

VICTORIA BOWLERS PAY DUNCAN VISIT

Suffered Defeat at the Hands of Up-island Club

Special to The Times Duncan, July 22.—Two rinks from the C.P.R. Bowling Club, Victoria, visited Duncan over the week-end and suffered defeat at the hands of the Duncan Club by 60 to 23. The following gentlemen took part: No. 1 rink, Duncan-Jones (skipper), Evans, Campbell and Reeves, total 29 points.

C.P.R. team No. 1.—J. Alexander (skipper), Van Camp, Pickup and W. Wallace, total 5 points.

No. 2 rink, Duncan—T. Wallace (skipper), Tunsted, Maitland and C. Clark, total 31 points.

C.P.R. team No. 2.—Robertson (skipper), Jenkins, Belanger and Dixon, total 18 points.

The greens were in first class condition and the competition was very much enjoyed. The home club entertained the visiting players.

There will shortly be visits from the Victoria Club and Burnside Club and the local men are practicing hard in anticipation of the matches.

The monthly meeting of the Cowichan Golf Club was held on Monday at the Cowichan Merchants. It was decided to prepare a putting green for practice. This will be situated just inside the fence opposite the pavilion and should be a great boon to members practicing.

Mrs. C. A. L. Bigger was elected to membership. A dinner will be held later on when the seniors' and juniors' competitions are finished. At the dinner the cups won in the various matches will be presented to the victors who will be guests of the members. A special committee will be appointed by the captain to deal with and revise many local rules. The financial statement for June showed receipts of $211.52 and disbursements of $213.49. Those present at the meeting were K. F. Duncan, chairman; A. H. Peterson, John Fox, H. R. Punnett and E. W. Carr-Hilton, secretary.

NEW THEATRE The formal opening of the new Capitol Theatre took place last evening. The manager, W. R. Waddell, had very generously sent out some hundreds of invitations to the residents and the house was packed. W. C. Tanner, president of the Board of Trade, in his introductory address congratulated the manager and all who had been associated with him in the enterprise. Mr. Tanner stated that the new theatre was of local production in every way, as the money had been subscribed here. The architect, Douglas James, and the builder, E. W. Lee, were local men. This will be a great asset to the community and there is no question of the venture proving a great success.

Alderman Campbell, in the absence of the mayor through illness, addressed the audience on behalf of the city. He then read a letter from Mayor Muttar who expressed his regret at being unable to attend the opening ceremony but sent his congratulations to all who had brought the enterprise to such a successful issue. He had no doubt that the theatre, "House Full," would be hung outside on numerous occasions.

COUNCIL MEETING The Council of the Municipality of North Cowichan met yesterday. The sum of $300 was appropriated to improve the lower end of Genoa Bay Road. This now makes a total appropriation of $900 for this year on this road. Special grants have been made by previous mill managers for the maintenance of this particular road. The council went on record as agreeable to the principal of granting a franchise to the Corporation of the City of Duncan for the supply of electric power to consumers within the Municipality of North Cowichan, subject to detailed terms to be arranged by the two councils and ratified by the ratepayers of North Cowichan. All the members of the council were present: Reeve J. N. Evans, Councillors Rivett-Carnac, G. E. Fox, J. Paull and G. A. Tidall.

IMPROVEMENTS TO CHEMAMUS HOSPITAL

Favored at General Meeting of Subscribers

Special to The Times Chemamus, July 22.—On Monday afternoon, July 22, a meeting of the subscribers to the Chemamus General Hospital was held to discuss improvements to the hospital and decide if they were in favor of raising their monthly subscription of $1.50 to $2, also if they were in favor of the directors raising a mortgage to provide moneys for improvements, half the cost having been practically promised by the Government and the municipality. The improvements needed were set forth in a circular distributed to the subscribers as follows: 1. Plumbing fixtures which had been examined a month ago by the chief sanitary inspector of hospitals in British Columbia, and who had advised the directors that the present sanitary arrangements could not be permitted to continue. 2. The question of accommodation owing to the expensive rebuilding operations taking place on the Vic-

Domestic products were exported from Canada during the twelve months to the value of $1,078,546,994. In the twelve months ended June 30, 1924, the value of domestic exports was $1,062,243,790, and in the year preceding that again their value was less than $1,000,000,000. There was a steady increase in the value of domestic exports during the past four years.

The value of domestic exports during the three months of the present fiscal year, April, May and June, was $249,729,117. Imports of foreign goods into this country during the twelve months ended June 30 last showed a falling off in value of approximately $46,000,000. IT PAYS TO DO IT

IN TERMS WHICH seemed to imply just a trifle of resentment a member of the Courtenay-Cornox Board of Trade informed his colleagues at a meeting of that body the other day that Victoria was "always urging them to develop the tourist business" and then proceeded to say that "in the tourist business lay Victoria's only salvation."

It is all to the good that the various bodies of Vancouver Island should discuss the subject of tourist travel in an effort to arrive at some idea of its value to the several communities that have much to offer the holidaymaker besides opportunities for commercial investments.

One of the results of the Scopes case will be a spirited revival of interest in the works of Darwin and kindred scientists and we may see the growth of Darwin cults with many devotees who can not understand what it is all about, but who feel they really must take it up to be in the social swim.

tion to them. He is familiar with the more glaring examples of opportunities missed by our own people and the people of Britain.

FINED

IF EMINENT OUTSIDE lawyers looking for a big controversy, if not for big fees, had not intervened, the trial of young John T. Scopes, of Dayton, Tennessee, would not have lasted more than a few minutes.

The attempt of the defence lawyers to transform the proceedings into a controversy on the doctrine of evolution was bound to fail, as it very properly should have failed, because the soundness or unsoundness of that doctrine was not involved in the case.

The larger aspect of the case has to do with the constitutionality of the law prohibiting the teaching of evolution in the schools. The constitution of the United States provides that "no state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States."

If the higher tribunals decide that Tennessee has the right to decide that evolution shall not be taught in the school of that state, even in the science courses, as they probably will in spite of the skilled advocacy of Mr. Darrow and Mr. Malone, the state educational authorities in all fairness should exclude the subject from their text-books.

WHAT THE FRASER CANYON HIGHWAY WILL MEAN

ALREADY THE PEOPLE of the Interior are beginning to look forward to the great tourist movement which will flow through the Province as soon as the trans-provincial highway is pressed into British Columbia's system of road communications.

It should likewise be remembered that statisticians of the Dominion Government now classify tourist travel as third among the leading industries of the country. Automobile tourists alone spent nearly $150,000,000 in Canada last year.

OUR MINERALS AT THE WEMBLEY PAVILION

WHILE IT IS NOT POSSIBLE to hawk the minerals of British Columbia or dispose of mining stock in that section of the Canadian Pavilion at Wembley in which this Province's varied assortment of "rocks" is housed, it is essential that a representative of the Government should be on hand to give such information and advice as may be needed by many who will be interested in these resources.

Commercial Britain is now taking more interest in British Columbia than ever before and it ought to be possible for Mr. Starkey to direct some of that interest towards opportunities for investment in the mineral wealth of the Province.

test, it would at least appear that if the material product of this country is not getting the chance it might with the British housing authorities, Canadian ingenuity in human form will have contributed towards the solution of one of Britain's most vexed problems.

THE CHINESE SITUATION

To the Editor:—Recently a friend of mine and I had quite a long talk on the Chinese question. We had quite an array of figures before us which we believed to be authentic.

For instance, the Chinese population in British Columbia, including women and children, is given at present as 42,000, which would represent 7,000 white families at six per family.

There was forwarded to China in 1924 by the Chinese people $20,000,000, and the largest amount forwarded in any one year was $30,000,000.

WORDS OF WISE MEN

Music washes away from the soul the dust of everyday life.

The true test of poetry is the substance which remains when the poetry is reduced to prose.

Of every noble work the silent part is best.

LABOR DISPUTES CAUSE BIG LOSS TO D.C. INDUSTRY

Troubles Among Workers Last Year Brought 223,876 Days of Idleness

Laboring Men to 3,470 Affected by Nine Controversies With Employers

Labor disputes in British Columbia last year caused a loss of 223,876 working days in industry, according to figures compiled and made public by the Labor Department here today.

In a report submitted by J. D. McNeven, Deputy Minister of Labor, to Hon. A. M. Manson, Minister of Labor, it is stated that the principal area of disturbance was the South-eastern interior, where 100,000 workers were affected.

Another dispute was threatened over the question of whether carpenters in Vancouver should be paid at the rate of $3.50 per day, by the Deputy Minister, after full investigation, decided in favor of the higher figure, contractors for the settlement, who were affected by the fair wage clause, being directed to pay at this rate.

Casey and Hennessey Praise Treatment in English Tournaments

New York, July 22.—Raymond Casey of San Francisco and John Hennessey of Indianapolis, official members of the United States lawn tennis team at the recent championships at Wimbledon, England, returned to America yesterday on the Majestic with only praise for the treatment accorded them abroad.

The American combination tasted defeat in three of the five team matches abroad but reached the finals of the English doubles championship where they met Rene La Coste and Jean Borotra, famous French pair, forcing the Europeans to a sensational five-sets before admitting defeat.

PRETTY WEDDING TO-DAY AT HOME OF PREMIER OLIVER

Miss Mabel Ruth Allan Became Bride of Sydney R. Fay of Vancouver

The home of Premier and Mrs. Oliver, "Del Bonita," Fern Street, was the scene of a pretty wedding to-day at 1 o'clock when the Rev. W. G. Wilson, M.A., of the First United Church, united in marriage Mabel Ruth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Allan, of Nelson, B.C., to Sydney R. Fay of Vancouver.

The bride has been for the past year Domestic Science teacher at the South Vancouver school, where she was a popular member of the staff. The bridegroom was born in Bridgeport, N.S., and was educated at King's College, Nova Scotia and at the School of Economics, London, England. He went overseas with the 29th Battalion, C.I.F. (The King's Tigers), and after being wounded was engaged in the publication of The Canadian Daily Record, the official organ of the Canadian troops in France and England, published under the direction of Lord Beaverbrook.

The Premier gave the bride-in-law the bridal party entering the drawing-room to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus," played by Miss Frances Scanlan of Nelson. She made a charming picture in her wedding gown of ivory tulle and lace, and was escorted by her father, Mr. John S. Allan, to the altar.

The reception rooms were gay with pink gladioli, roses and gypsophyls, these flowers being also used in the decoration of the luncheon table, which was centred with the handsome three-tier wedding cake. The young couple, who were the recipients of many beautiful gifts testifying to their popularity, left on the afternoon boat for Seattle on a honeymoon trip, the bride traveling with her maid of honor, Miss Mabel Ruth, and her bridesmaid, Miss Mabel Ruth, and her bridesmaid, Miss Mabel Ruth.

Queen Mary, Queen of Roumania and Queen of Belgians Striking Figures at Yesterday's Gathering at Buckingham Palace.

London, July 22.—The presence of two visiting Queens and a number of other foreign royal personages added brilliance to the garden party which was held at Buckingham Palace yesterday afternoon.

The King and Queen had the traditional "Royal Weather" for the garden party. Although there was a heavy thunderstorm in the early morning, the rain only served to freshen the foliage, the flowers and the lawns, which added beauty to the scene. The afternoon was sunny and warm.

King George wore a grey morning suit and a grey-top hat. He had a white ransome in his buttonhole. Queen Mary was charmingly dressed in pale heliotrope trimmed with pearl ornaments, and carried a heliotrope parasol. Queen Mary was wearing a white and wore large picture hat. The Duchess of York wore a painted chiffon gown with a white ground and a bold floral pattern.

ST ANN'S ACADEMY TO HOLD REUNION OF PUPILS MONDAY

Sisters From All Parts of B.C. and Alaska Now in Strict Retreat

The annual reunion of former pupils of St. Ann's Academy will take place on Monday, July 27. The hours of reception will be from 3 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

An historical programme, commemorative of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Sisterhood, will be given in the evening at 8 o'clock in the Academy Auditorium. Friends, patrons and past pupils are most cordially invited to be present.

In connection with the celebration a very interesting feature will be the meetings between old pupils and their former teachers. Doubtless there will be many such meetings, for the present there are assembled 100 sisters in the convent for the eight-day exercises of the annual retreat, and the annual educational convention which follows it.

The retreat for the sisters is a very strict obligation, and owing to the fact that the sisters are now so numerous, it has been found necessary to divide the retreatants into three groups. The most numerous of these bands has been allotted to the mid-summer period from July 17 to July 25, which is the festival of St. Ann, patroness of the order.

During these days the sisters are wholly absorbed in prayer, piety, reading, meditation upon the eternal truths and the chanting of the office. Absolute silence reigns.

TO-MORROW'S HOROSCOPE By Genevieve Kemble THURSDAY, JULY 23 A day of rather mixed influences is the augury based on the prevailing sidereal operations. Speculation and extravagant expenditure are enjoined against by an unfriendly Jupiter position, and the affliction of Mercury carries certain hazards through writings, publications or contracts. Those in the employment of others are favored, and heart and home affairs are under excellent auspices for happiness and success. Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a flourishing and pleasant year in personal relations, but business may be jeopardized by speculation, extravagant expenditure and carelessness in the handling of papers or writings. A child born on this day should be accomplished, artistic, well-conducted and popular, but free and extravagant with money. It will have success in its undertakings and a pleasant life.

Uncle Wiggly's Crazy Car

Copyright, 1925, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

"Uncle Wiggly, will you please go to the store for me?" called Nurse Jane. "Fuzzy Wuzzy to the bunny rabbit gentleman one morning as she looked out of the window of the hollow stump bungalow.

"It will give me great pleasure to do that," answered Mr. Longears with a low and polite-how of his pink, twinkling nose. "What is it you want from the store?"

"Some molasses to make a ginger cake," answered the mis-trust lady housekeeper, who still lived at the bunny's bungalow, though he had married a widow lady rabbit with forty-seven little bunnies. "But I am in no hurry for the molasses," went on Nurse Jane. "If you wish to go adventuring first you may bring me the sweet stuff afterward."

"All right, then, I'll go slow," said the bunny. "Molasses is slow and I'll be slow, too. And whenever I am in no hurry I go in my crazy car, so I'll use that now."

"What's your crazy car?" asked Nurse Jane, laughing.

"Oh, it's an automobile I had made from an old motor-cycle," said Mr. Longears. "You ought to see it! Why it runs in the craziest way you ever dreamed of! First it runs ahead and then it runs backward and then it goes off to one side and then to the other side. And sometimes it stops and won't go at all! Ho! Ho! Ho! "I should say it was crazy!" laughed Nurse Jane.

Uncle Wiggly rode along.

"Yes, it is well named," agreed Uncle Wiggly. "And as you are in no hurry for the molasses and am in no hurry to find an adventure, I will travel in my crazy car."

Soon after this, Nurse Jane saw the bunny gentleman riding down the woodland road in his queer machine. Just as he had said, it acted in a very strange manner. It would slide along frontward, and then back up like a sawky mule. Then it would swing around in a circle like a top.

"But I like it! Ha! Ha! I love my crazy car!" laughed the bunny. "I am the only one who knows how to run it. I could leave it all alone and never lock it up and no one would run off in it, for they would be afraid and jump out as soon as it began acting crazily with them."

Uncle Wiggly rode along, but he could find no adventure, and so he thought he might as well go to the store and get the jug filled with molasses for Nurse Jane, which he did.

It was when he was riding home in his crazy car that something happened. All of a sudden, out of the bushes crawled what seemed to be an old, gray dog gentleman, very poor and feeble.

"Excuse me, Uncle Wiggly," he said, slowly. "But would you please give me a little ride? I have no money to pay for a taxi."

"Certainly, my poor old dog,"

SERIAL STORY

"THE LOVE CYCLE"

BY MILDRED BARBOUR

Mrs. Mansfield was very pleased, on her superficial prettiness which she, herself, admired.

She found a stranger in her own child, a brain that was quick and keen; fond of knowledge gleaned from books that staggered her; a force of will and sense of judgment that disquieted her; and a background of physical beauty that both disturbed and delighted her.

Mrs. Marlowe was not a clever woman, but it would have taken more sense than she not to realize in her daughter the latent qualities of a personality magnetic, irresistible and subtly charming.

"That Jane was rapidly changing from the chrysalis to the butterfly was noticeable to every one. Even young Mansfield, absorbed as he was in his new secretarial job and his love affair, became aware of it when he met her down town one winter night."

He saw her rarely—once or twice a month, perhaps—at some gathering where the Westons and the Marlowes and the Mansfields appeared, when he never noticed her, because he considered her only a child, and he was close to twenty-two.

He was hurrying from the office to the gym one night in December when the first snow of the year was falling in soft feathery flakes. With his head down protectively against the thick white curtain, he rounded a corner and collided violently with some one.

LORD CHEYLESMORE'S HEIR IN ALBERTA

Edmonton, July 22.—Capt. the Hon. Francis Ormond Henry Eaton, who is farming two sections of land at Alick, Alberta, is the eldest son of Lord Cheylesmore, who was severely injured in England on Saturday, and is now under doctors' care. Lord Cheylesmore's heir has been farming the Happy Valley ranch at Alick since 1921, having come to Alberta on leaving the army.

Capt. Eaton served with distinction in the Great War, and was with the Grenadier Guards, which regiment he joined from Cambridge University in August 1914. He was at the front from the Fall of 1914 until 1917, and was awarded the D.S.O. for gallantry in the field. After the war he was placed upon the retired list and purchased a farm in Alberta, where he spends his summers. In the winter he generally lives in the South of France.

NARCOTIC CHARGE AGAINST TWO MEN

Hull, Que., July 22.—The arrest of two men, Arthur Grenier, believed to be the head of the narcotic drug traffic in Hull and Ottawa, and Antoine Leduc, taxi driver, the uncovering of the movement of large quantities of narcotic drugs to Ottawa and Hull from Montreal, with well-dressed, good-looking women as messengers, and the seizure of a quantity of cocaine at the residence of Grenier, were the result of a raid by the narcotic squad of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police here yesterday.

HAMMOND KELLY DIED AT P.E.I. HOME

Charlottetown, P.E.I., July 22.—Hammond Kelly, prominent agriculturist and horseman, died at his home Clifton Farm near here, yesterday. Death was due to heart failure. He had been owner of some of the fastest horses in the Maritime Provinces. He was prominent in political work.

Sophomore—And you study about all famous engineers?
Senior—Oh, yes.
Sophomore—Well, tell me about this man Pat Pending, whose name I see on all machinery.

THE CAPTIVE

Peering through the gloom of the snow-filled night, Young Mansfield discovered that the small, light burden in his arms was a girl.

He set her on her feet with a hasty apology.

"I say, I am fearfully sorry. Did I hurt you much? The snow blinded me, you see."

She was readjusting her "tam," which had been knocked away by the

NOW, THAT'S MIGHTY STREET OF YOU BOYS, BUT HE'S ALL RIGHT NOW. I BROKE HIS FEVER UP LAST NIGHT BY STANDIN' HIM ON HIS HEAD AND MASHIN' HIM WITH HIS LEGS AT THE NEW MOON— HE'LL BE OUT PLAIN TOMORROW.

OR IF YOU'LL PUT ONE OF THESE BEAMS ON HIS BACK AND ONE ON HIS STOMACH HE'LL BE WELL IN LESSN AN HOUR—

Five minutes later, when Hal, unwilling and disturbed over Jane's persistent refusal to accompany them, found himself rolling homeward in the Weston's warm carriage, with Helen by his side, he realized for the first time that the shackles were cast almost hear the clank of chains about his ankles.

The revelation

Jane bade farewell to Helen and Hal at the door of the latter's office. Young as she was, she realized Helen's eagerness to be rid of her presence. She thought it rather silly, not yet understanding the reasons for the girl's preference for masculine society.

Jane had had no beaux. The tentative efforts at gallantry from boys at school had left her quite indifferent. Romance, to her, was a glamorous country which she could not reconcile with modern manners and conditions. She thought of Abelard and Heloise, of Dante and Beatrice, of Pelles and Melisande, and looked with scorn upon the modern evidences of the so-called love which she saw around her.

She dreamed of a hero, an ideal lover who combined Galahad and Lancelot. She imagined herself wooed beautifully and ideally by some

CLIFF DWELLERS OF THE WILD AID HERO TO ESCAPE

One of the most interesting phases of the early history of this continent is the mute record of the cliff dwellers which can still be found in the West.
