2 p. l., 215 p. 20½^{cm}. $1.50

A translation of the rabbinical Book of Yashar compiled from the Babylonian Talmud and other Jewish sources, and intermixed with Arabic legends and passages of the Bible. Three fourths of the book is devoted to the pre-Mosaic period, one fifth to the Mosaic period and only three pages to later history. The original ed. appeared in Naples, 1552, and later repeatedly, Venice, 1625, Cracow, 1628, etc. A Latin version by Johann G. Abicht appeared in Leipzig, 1732, with title: Dissertatio de Libro recti. In 1750 the London printer Thomas Ilive issued an English translation of the work, asserting that he had published the real "Book of Yashar" mentioned in the Bible. The translation published by M. M. Noah appeared in 1840. cf. Jewish encycl.

Finn, James J.

Operative ownership, a system of industrial production based upon social justice and the rights of private property. Designed to enforce a just division between capital and labor of the wealth which they jointly produce, enabling industrial tool-users to become, in whole or in part, tool-owners, thereby effecting a more general diffusion of wealth among the people, inspiring a more general regard for the rights of private property, and, by a real union of capital and labor, providing a safeguard to private industry against excessive governmental regulation. COPYRIGHT BOOKS FORWARDED FOR PRINTED TITLE CARDS.

The catalogue titles for books deposited for copyright registration for which printed cards are furnished to other libraries are prepared by the Catalogue Division of the Library of Congress. These books are indicated in the Catalogue of Copyright Entries by the printer's number attached to each title, which can be used in ordering printed title cards.

The books deposited in the Copyright Office divide themselves into two classes:

Class "a," books received with informal applications or informal affidavits, or without the registration fee; or without the data required in order to make the copyright registration.

In the case of these books, before any action can take place in the Copyright Office to indicate the registration number, correspondence must be had with the depositors. The necessary letters of inquiry are promptly dispatched, but it depends entirely upon the promptness with which replies to these letters of inquiry are received when these books can be numbered and forwarded for cataloguing. They are, however, commonly the less important works and are not received from the leading or regular publishers, but from occasional depositors.

Class "b," books received with the necessary fee, application and affidavit, and these documents in such order that the registration can be promptly proceeded with.

In the case of the books of class "b," the manner of handling them in the Copyright Office enables the larger number to be given promptly a registration number, and such books are sent forward from the Copyright Office for cataloguing, for the most part, on the day of receipt. These are usually books deposited by the regular publishers, and include, therefore, not only the greater part of the books deposited but also nearly all the important books.

During the year 1916, out of a total of 10,763 books received and drawn up into the Library of Congress from the Copyright Office, 7,703 belonged to class "b." Of these, 4,932 were sent up on the day they were received in the Copyright Office and 2,771 on the day following their receipt. Three thousand and sixty belonged to class "a" and were sent up on various dates.

VOLUME INDEX.

New series, Part 1, v. 13, Group 1, for the year 1916.

BOOKS.

This index contains in one alphabet, in addition to the names of the copyright proprietors of books the titles of which have appeared during the year, the names of the authors of the books and the titles of anonymous books.

The figures refer to the citation numbers following the titles in the CATALOGUE.

Figures preceded by the word "Appendix" refer to the list of renewals bound at the end of the volume.
