This is not the secret War Diary of the Imperial General H. Q. It is merely a copy of a daily report on the progress of the War of Greater East Asia, compiled, reproduced and distributed by the Army Department of the Imperial General H. Q.

This particular volume happens to be a file of distributions kept by the 3rd Section of the 1st Army Technical Laboratory.

If it was a war diary, no ^{mimographed} copy would have been made ^{of it}, nor would it have been distributed to various sections and people for reference.

It contains no clue to the last War Library. The contents are somewhat like the Imperial Communiqués with something more in detail, for which reason this document is marked "Top Secret".

Stamps are those of personnel
Technical Lab. No
Section Chief's "has" appear anywhere. In any case daily report was probably distributed to all Sections G.H.Q. So the ~~stamps~~ ^{stamps} are not specially significant.
