PARCIAL GAZETTE OF THE STATE AND CITY. "THE UNION must be preserved,"

THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 9, 1886. Ourselvas. The foreman of this office is on a journey eastward to purchase new materials of every kind for this rezette-type, presses, etc. He has written us word of his wherenbouts and doings; and we hope that his exertions will shortly enable us to present the Bee in an improved apprarance and enlarged size-similar to the New York Even-that there are few if any subjects published in a newspaper, which we read with more attention than what are called the tonats, and sentiments delivered at public festivals of any notoricity; as we fancy they do or should embrace the prominent opinions on the leading topics or events of the dayforming therefore a species of weather-guage or thermomete to an editor, who is more desirous to follow than solicitous to lead public opinion: for the commemoration of anniver. saries and other celebrations differ in proceedings from simi lar meetings in Europe.

Under these impressions we perused the 'toasts' deliver at the last 4th of July celebration of our citizens; and believe that they are in general honorable to their proposers, and presidable to New Orleans. Must of the heading topics or didate for the office of vice president of the United State occurrences of the day are g'anced at in the regular or vo-lunter tuasts. Among the former may be particularly fourth year of his ago—in robust health—and has been noticed.

The United States of America.—For ever palsied be the profithat hitempts to read asunder the bonds of that union which every American heavy feels must be preserved. The State of Louisiana.—Her recent one gette measures in behalf of internal improvements, and her ardent develon to aboral principles, will soon place her in the front rank of our great confideracy.

The Navy and Army of the United States -The proud bulwarks which a free people have creeted bet seen a happy and prosperous trems and foreign appression.

France-Our fondert predilections still cling around the grance—car zondest predilections will cling around the chysicony sily that so generously flew to our assistance in that dark hour that tried inch's souls.

These may justly be said to indicate the state of feeling emong our citizens on those particular topics-nullification, which is abhorred even by the advocates of states' rights; a dispute with France, which is deprecated by all our citizens: and out proper estimate of the defences of the country. We intration of Jefferson and Madison—and with what ener confess we are pleased that the navy has the procedence in gy and enthusiam this veteran and patriot discharged h edl'ocation : for shorify our navy will be found to be our legitimate bullvark, or right arm of defence; and also that the disposition and disposition of our naval forces have been too shamefully neglected.

The political toasts were few but unexceptionable. Mr E. J Peters gave 'France and America; our difficulties have lauve to 'what constitutes a delivery of goods? The object of a chamber of commerce is of such importance that Reropean nations have made it a component part of their administration; but whether its responsibility or utility is enhanced by being confided to merchants congregated in their individual capacity, may be questionable at present; and positively denied, when experience renders such an organization more

We fear that a spirit of illiberality pervades some of the members of our chamber. Some three or four weeks since they proscribed this journal, on account of the freedom of its opinions and remarks; and now they have blackballed one of the most spirited of our citizens-probably for the same reason. Mr Felix Labatut was preposed a member by Mi Cucultu; but had rendered himself obnoxions by his energetic conduct in the state legislature and city council, in determinedly sustaining the interests of his constituents; and ex posing as well as opposing the manœuvres of the speculators and agitators of the upper faubourg. But perhaps a rejection under such circumstances will be more beneficial to him; and that we may ourselves penetrate into the sanctum sanctorum of the chamber-merely to take a peep behind the curtain.

We are obliged to Mr Caldwell for his answer in the American of yesterday; but he is too solicitous to prevoke discussion with us. The proper time has not yet come. When it does, we hope to do him justice even in our neverity for our dispute will be that of an angered friend; and our motto judez damnatur cum nocens absolvitur.

The Bee and Buffeth were singularly proscribed by the committee of arrangements for the celebration of the 4th of July, in their publication of the official account of their dinare proceedings—atthough those two journals certainly possess the greatest influence and circulation in the city; and reduction to the extent of 2,586,000 has naturally been pre-would cheerfully have published the account, evidenced by the experience of builton, and the remaining return the alectity with which both lent their columns to all dataits duots by the operations of the benk. of preliminary arrangements and meetings.

RICHARN M JOHNSON with has been nominated as a candidate for the office of vice president of the United States was born in Kentucky, in 1781. He is now in the fifty-bourt year of his age—in robust health—and has been for nearly thirty years actively and efficiently engaged in the public service.

After having received a liberal education, he qualified himself for the bar, and immediately entered dopon the duties of his prefession, under the most flattering propects. Before he atthised his majority, he was elected in the legislature, and distinguished himself by the display of those cold and useful talents which have marked his earlies of the services to his fellow citizens as any other individual in the United States.

His politics were always sternly and truly democratic—he was identified with that great party from his first appearance in public life, and it will be seen that there have been a stability and consistency in his course, which have marked the career of few if anylof our public men. He was the firm and unbending supporter of the administration of Jefferson and Madison—and with what energy and males of the services, by Lady Morgan.

I however, be pardoned for enumerating the following:

No public document has ever axcited more universal attention and admiration than ca-onel Johnson's raport on Sunday mails. It was laid before the public in 1929, Great excitement prevailed at that time, and powerful tefforts made to prevent the transmission of the mail on Sunday. Colonel Johnson's able and conclusive report, however, settled the question forever; and since that time, however, settled the question forever the mail from travelling on Sunday. His report also in favor of abolishing implianment for debt, has been generally and justly admired. It is a powerful argument; and is marked with that candor, sincerity and humanity, which have always been characteristic of its author.
