Needle From Heart of Child

Minneapolis Surgeon Performed Operation Two-Year-Old Boy Injured While Playing

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 8.—A amber needle was removed from the heart of Dawson Sandles, two years old, at the Elliott Memorial Hospital at the University of Minnesota here yesterday in what surgeons term the most remarkable surgical operation ever performed in the northwest. The youngster is expected to recover.

Dawson, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Sandles, St. Paul, stumbled and fell while playing at his home last Friday and a needle from his mother's sewing basket penetrated his left breast. He complained of pain in his chest and an X-ray examination revealed the needle close to the heart.

Dr. A. C. Strachauer, chief of the surgical staff at the hospital, decided to operate yesterday. The surgeon first opened the boy's breast and then the pericardium, where he expected to find the needle, which however, had entered the heart. At each contraction of that organ the head of the small steel needle came into view. With tiny forceps Dr. Strachauer extracted it, and within a short space of time the heart had been beating 120 times a minute, returned to close to normal.

While there are seven candidates for mayor, the choice lies between John F. Hylan, Democrat, incumbent, and Henry R. Curran, Republican, running on a coalition ticket. KING SPOKE IN FEDERAL CAPITAL Ottawa Audience Hears the Liberal Leader

Ottawa, Nov. 7.—Hon. Mackenzie King, addressing an audience of 3,000 here to-night, said that was at least one thing to be thankful for on this Thanksgiving Day, and that was the opportunity of getting rid of the Meighen Government.

Amnunities. Mr. King referred to the shipments of shells discovered by him at Lewis. These shells, he said, were bought with Canadian credits. Credits represent money, and this action was illegal as the Government had admitted that the credit used was established in 1920.

The munitions had been coming into Canada since June last—since Mr. Meighen, Mr. Guthrie and Mr. Eganley went to England to attend the conference of Prime Ministers of the Empire.

"Would they bring in shipments of ammunition, running into millions of dollars, unless it was related to the present election?" Mr. King queried. "Mr. Guthrie must explain the connection with the bill posters of Mr. Meighen," said Mr. King. "There is no scandal comparable with it."

Real issue. "The real issue to-day," said Mr. King, "is whether or not the people are to have the right to carry on the government of this country of their own free will, or whether they are to have their rights usurped by a handful of gentlemen."

Memorial Unveiled
 Nanaimo, Nov. 8.—The memorial erected on Dallas Square by the citizens of Nanaimo as a tribute to her fallen heroes in the Great War was unveiled on Sunday afternoon with imposing ceremonies. The greater part of the population of the city turned out to attend the memorial services and the unveiling which was performed by two girls whose fathers paid the supreme sacrifice, Miss Agnes McCorkindale, daughter of Sergt. P. McCorkindale, of the Imperial Army, and Miss Lorna McCourt, daughter of Private McCourt, of the Canadian Army.

Headed by the Silver Cornet Band, the returned soldiers formed in company at the fire hall and marched through the city to Dallas Square, where the ceremony opened with the singing of the National Anthem, led by the band. This was followed by the hymn, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." Prayer was offered by Rev. S. Ryall, and Rev. W. P. Ewing read a passage from the Scriptures. Following this, "Nearer, My God, to Thee" was rendered, after which the memorial was unveiled. Rev. ITALY'S POLICY LEANS TOWARD BRITISH VIEW

Latin Country Has Political Concerns, But Is Among Most Stable

Rome, Nov. 8.—(By H. V. Kalpenborn)—Italian policy has been leaning more and more toward the British and away from the French point of view in connection with the peace negotiations—there is a general feeling among Italian statesmen that the intransigent French attitude is responsible for keeping Europe in a state of unrest.

Cardinal Gaspari, the Papal Secretary of State, in speaking of the curious state of affairs that has followed the Peace Conference, said: "The Italians to-day hate the French far more than they hate the Germans," but he modified this a moment later by adding: "However, it is not correct to say that the Italians hate anybody. They are a peace-loving people and the expressions of hate come only from a small minority of hot-heads, whose opinions do not count."

It is undeniable that there is a good deal of friction between Italy and France. The first Italian paper to come into my hands featured an acrid debate between the Paris Figaro and the Idea Nazionale as to whether France or Italy had absorbed more alien populations as a result of the peace treaties. A day later the papers were full of the incidents at Milan and Venice that marred the visit of the French Military Mission—shoots and catcalls from the crowd greeting the mission at both places.

From all I can gather it is largely the extreme Nationalists who are stirring up the anti-French sentiment. They feel that France has regarded Italy's military achievements as of no account; that the French overestimate the value of their co-operation on the Italian battlefield, and that the French have never given sufficient weight to the value of Italian neutrality at the beginning of the war. The Marne would have been lost but for the presence in the field of those French divisions which could be withdrawn from the Italian front after Italy's declaration of neutrality.

Considerations such as these may sound strange or trivial but they are big factors in the public opinion of Europe.

Not must it be forgotten that there is a traditional enmity between France and Italy, which the war did not succeed in wiping out. Savoy, the cradle of Italian kings; Nice, the birthplace of Garibaldi; Corsica—all are peopled by Italian stock and it takes a Fascist orator to ring the changes on these facts. But despite all this there is a fundamental kinship between the two great Latin peoples of the continent which offsets other more superficial manifestations. Italy's relations with Yugoslavia are still unsatisfactory. It seems that the Croations, Slovenes, Serbs and Montenegrins are by no means the happy and united family which the Peace Conference expected to create, and it is not easy to do business with them. The Flume business is in a fair way of adjustment, and Italy has withdrawn entirely from Albania. But there are chicaneries regarding railway service and export and import regulations which make trade almost impossible. Austria has resumed exports to Italy and is sending a good deal of lumber and paper. Italy is anxious to put Austria on a footing for several seasons, one of them being that Italian capitalists have bought up some of the most important Austrian mines.

The National Crisis

"My appeal is to the whole people; to every man and woman who wants to do right by this country; to everyone who breathes the spirit of our fathers who founded this British Dominion."

Arthur Meighen

THE Election to be held on December 6th will be the most momentous in Canadian history; for as men and women vote will depend the economic stability, the political stability and, indeed, the national stability of this country.

Today we find group striving against group, class against class, the industrial and financial structure of the country assailed by false and unsound doctrines and theories, while our great neighbour to the south has adopted a trade exclusion policy directed against Canada's vast agricultural interests.

The currencies of nearly every country in the world are depreciated. The Canadian dollar in the United States is subject to a heavy discount causing a loss of over one hundred million dollars in exchange annually.

Europe is overwhelmed with war debts—unemployment is acute—and the restoration to pre-war conditions is slow.

While Canada is in a much more favorable condition than many countries, yet there is evidence of stagnation, instability, unemployment and lack of confidence.

Taxes are heavy because of the country's efforts in the Great War, but have become burdensome on account of the misconceived policies and blunders of Governments that directed Canada's affairs prior to 1911.

These conditions are largely the direct aftermath of the war, but they must be dealt with fearlessly and constructively. This is no time to consider experimental changes, or the theories of visionaries.

This is no time for Crerar and his Free Trade Policy.

This is no time for King and his wobbling "charted" policies, varying with each provincial boundary.

It is the time to cling to orderly, stable Government in the interest of all the people; to be guided by the experience of the past proceeding upon lines that have been proven sound.

It is the time to place the destinies of Canada again in the hands of a Government led by a sane, courageous Canadian who has safely brought the country through the trying years of reconstruction, and upon whom we can rely to retain and initiate policies in the interest, not of a group or class but of all the people.

It is the time to support Arthur Meighen and his Candidates.

Meighen will lead us through

The National Liberal and Conservative Party Publicity Committee.

Extreme Radicalism Dead.

One of my big surprises in coming to Italy was to learn that extreme radicalism is dead. The Communists had their way in Northern Italy and failed. When they undertook to run the factories they made a terrible mess of it and ended by calling in the proprietors and engineers to help them out. They got a paper agreement as to certain concessions by which they were to have a kind of joint control with the proprietors, but when this was put into effect it amounted to nothing. On my first day in Italy an economic expert attached to the American Embassy in Rome warned me that the Italian documents too literally "The Anglo-Saxon comes here with his legalistic mind," he said, "and thinks that because it says black it means black. But it doesn't."

The workmen thought they had everything they wanted, but Italian factories are being run just as before. The workmen have obtained an 8-hour day, and as their wages have gone up from 500 to 600 per cent, against an increase in the cost of living of 475 per cent, they are better off than before the war. But they want to hear no more of Communistic experiments.

As for the Socialists, they are becoming more and more conservative. They have gotten rid of their most radical element and are now negotiating with the Bonomi Ministry to co-operate with the government in the same way as the other parties having grown tired of the policy of permanent opposition. This policy has deprived the government of the support of the largest single party in Parliament (the Socialists still have about 120 members) and has contributed to the instability of the Italian ministries. On the day on which I had an appointment with Bonomi, the Italian Premier, I had a chance to look over his engagement book and learned that four out of his eight appointments for that afternoon were with Socialist groups or Socialist party leaders.

Taking it all in all, Italy is probably farther from revolution than any country on the continent. The point is worth emphasizing because American opinion believes the contrary to be true.

Success of French Mission to Canada Celebrated

London, Nov. 8.—(Canadian Press Cable).—A Reuter dispatch from Paris says Marshal Fayolle and other members of the French mission which crossed the Atlantic to thank Canada for the aid rendered to the Allied cause in the war were entertained last night by the Franco-American Committee in celebration of the success of the Canadian visit.

Gabriel Hanotaux, speaking for the Government, expressed warm thanks to the Canadian Government and presented Marshal Fayolle with a portrait of himself.

TURKS TO BORROW MONEY IN FRANCE

Angora, Nov. 8.—After an exchange of ratifications of the treaty between France and the Turkish Nationalists, the National Assembly has authorized the Finance Minister to contract a loan in France of 10,000,000 Turkish pounds. (A Turkish pound is worth about $4.39).

The loan will be to meet the requirements of the army.

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE MINES

A Valuable Strike

A strike of five feet of nice ore that is pretty nearly steel galena in appearance has been made on the Chambers group of five claims, above Cody, by George Clark, who is working this property under a lease and bond recently secured by him from the eastern owners. While Mr. Clark's control of the mine has been recently acquired, he has had it before and knows the property inside out. The present strike has opened out an ore body that was not known previously to exist.

This particular area of the Sandon camp has always attracted much interest on account of the float in the draw below. Micky Burns has for years been digging up placer lead from the bottom of the gulch, 1,500 feet below the present strike, and many have sought for the parent ledge from which the float came.

Mr. Clark, who recently worked the Carrion for A. R. Mann, of the Northern Construction Co., came to the Kootenay in 1892, and the Chambers group dates back to the same period. The property adjoins the Noble Five—Nelson News.

AN UNKNOWN CANADIAN.

Canadian sentiment will heartily welcome the suggestion which comes from The Halifax Herald that the body of an unknown Canadian warrior be brought to this country and interred at the national capital.

EXPANSION VS. RESTRICTION.

The leader of the Progressive Party says if he and his associates are returned to power one of the first things they will do will be to try to bring about reciprocity in natural products with the United States.

Mr. Meighen says he would do exactly the opposite. He would keep a high tariff wall around Canada against all the world. His purpose would be to enable the beneficiaries of this protection, or guarantee of profits, to keep up the prices to the Canadian consumer, which would mean, of course, that the buying strike would continue, while our foreign trade of necessity would continue to be on the toboggan slide.

READY TO CONFESS?

Twelve months ago the Premier of Soviet Russia might have staged a quiet celebration in honor of the third anniversary of his own rise to power as a cloak for his desire and plans for further conquest.

ready to accept responsibility for the payment of Imperial Russia's debts indicated a very different attitude from that displayed not so long since.

A MYSTERIOUS OMISSION.

We hear virtually nothing of Senate reform these days. In other years, in fact in almost every other Dominion campaign since Confederation, a political party no more would present a platform to the public without a pledge to overhaul Canada's association of "Elder Statesmen."

Opposition to Empire immigration has come from expected and unexpected quarters in the Old Land. Some object to the Motherland's loss of brain and brawn which any comprehensive scheme would involve while others "live in their own backyard" and do not take the trouble to look over the garden wall.

sence of a co-operative understanding. State-aided emigration is obviously a need of the times; but it can only be a success through the adoption of practical methods.

NOTE AND COMMENT

British miners already are beginning to appeal to the Government for additional subsidies. This time the appeal is not accompanied with a threat to strike.

Jugo-Slav forces are reported to be on the rampage in Albania and Mr. Lloyd George has suggested a wired call to the Council of the League of Nations to deal with the situation.

French military experts have drafted a new set of rules for the future conduct of international warfare which they hope the Washington Conference will consider.

Mr. George Bernard Shaw, has been asked to go to the Washington Conference as a professional journalist; but he has declined mainly because he would learn things which would have to be treated confidentially.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST LIQUOR SMUGGLERS

Measures Along Canadian-American Boundary

New York, Nov. 8.—(Canadian Press)—Prohibition conditions along the Canadian-United States boundary line were discussed at length in Washington, last Saturday by Edward Taylor, Canadian Commissioner of Customs, Ottawa, and the United States National Prohibition Commissioner, Roy C. Haynes, according to information obtained from a member of the prohibition forces at Washington who is in this city.

Oronville, Wash., Nov. 8.—Four automobiles loaded with illicit Canadian liquor are slipping through the little village of Night Hawk, near Oronville, which will continue across the average and entering the United States.

EX-SOLDIER WAS GRATEFUL: SERVED PART OF SENTENCE Fort Leavenworth, Kas., Nov. 8.—Harry W. POLITICS A Long, Dark Road. Can Meighen Keep His Own Seat? Why People Leave Canada. Humanity and Immigration. Open Season on the Dollar Mark. Crerar—Laurier's Successor? Factory Smoke and Grain Fields.

Although he can get his picture splashed across every billboard in Canada and make speeches from one end of the country to the other, Mr. Meighen is finding the going hard, a writer in The Farmers' Sun believes.

For all his bravado and bold challenges, he is travelling a very dark and dispiriting road. In point of quantity his oratory in the Maritime Provinces was amazing, but neutral observers report that its quality was not uniformly good, and that the impression left was not wholly satisfactory.

While the road in the east is not carpeted with roses the Premier may find things just as bad in his own back yard, a correspondent of The Manitoba Free Press forecasts.

When Government supporters have been emphasizing Mr. King's difficulties in North York, they have probably not realized that the Premier has by no means an easy path to victory in Portage la Prairie, the writer declares. "The Progressive nominee is Mr. Harry Leader, of Burnside, and Mr. Meighen is said to have declared that no more formidable opponent for him could have been selected and that a very hard fight confronted him. Mr. Leader was formerly a strong Tory and keen supporter of Mr. Meighen, but the crimes of the Roblin government alienated him from his party and he subsequently took an active part in the grain growers' movement. He is a prosperous farmer and successful breeder of Aberdeen-Angus cattle, living just outside Portage.

When some of the richest counties in old Ontario show an actual decrease in population since 1911 how are the Western Provinces to go ahead, burdened as they are with heavy freight rates? The Ottawa Citizen demands sharply as it attacks the Government's policy towards settlers and immigrants.

Few people from the Motherland, finding no improvement under inflated living costs, Canada, are moving away, says The Citizen. So, too, are many Canadians of British descent, while settlers from Central Europe, willing to accept a lower standard of living, are staying.

Table with 3 columns: Electoral District, Population, Decrease 1911. Rows include Huron East, Grey North, Grey South, Haldimand, Huron North, Huron South, Lambton East, Middlesex West, Norfolk, Oxford North, Oxford South, Perth South, Wellington N.

Politicians have a lot to say these days about immigration and the necessity of settling Canada's great west. Now we have the views of an eminent educationalist, Sir Robert Falconer, President of Toronto University. After an extended visit to England last Summer, Sir Robert told a Toronto audience that Canada should adopt an immigration policy covering several years, which would seek to transplant millions of Britain's surplus population on Canada's fertile but vacant lands.

Britain, and he warned that Canada would not be allowed by humanity, itself, to keep its productive fields untilled, but would be forced to accept an immigration less desirable than that of the Saxon peoples of our own stock.

This is the open season on campaign fund contributors. People who dip down deep and flatten their purses for the sake of "the party" may get nothing for their trouble but an official investigation after a new government steps into harness in December, The Toronto Star predicts. "In the past there has been a great deal of censure passed on party campaign funds drawn from interests which expected to be richly repaid," The Star notes. "But in the past this censure did not, for certain reasons, mean much and caused little alarm to those who were censured. It is very different now. Hitherto a political party in office did not greatly fear exposure at the hands of a political party in opposition, because it was well known that neither party would care to face exposure. As between the two parties there was only the difference that one had a great deal more to conceal than the other. There is now a new party in the field determined to expose and put an end to the system by which a gift to the party is equivalent to a purchase from the Government."

Mr. Crerar is Sir Wilfrid Laurier's successor, Dr. Edmund Bourque, Progressive candidate in Ottawa, declared in his opening campaign address the other day. He referred to the Liberal party of 1896 as a Progressive party. The programme outlined by Mr. Crerar, he said, was the ideal to which Sir Wilfrid Laurier had wanted to attain. Sir Wilfrid had failed to reach the ideal, but Mr. Crerar was attaining it.

This picture of Mr. Crerar taking up the torch, otherwise neglected since it slipped from the hands of the great old Liberal chieftain, is the true political situation, The Ottawa Citizen agrees. The late Senator Edwards saw it, and there must be many Liberals who took part in the great convention before the general election of 1896 who are conscious that the spirit of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Liberal party of that day is reflected by Mr. Crerar and the Progressive movement.

The trouble with the Government forces is that they keep their eyes fixed upon the black smoke of the factory and cannot see into the grain fields beyond. Establish the factory by artificial and arbitrary means; it will give employment; the workers will consume the products of the farm. By these means manufacturing centres will arise, the farmers will grow rich by supplying the home markets, and everybody will be happy. Such is the theory of the protectionists, The Manitoba Free Press explains.

There is a contrasted theory which is being vigorously preached these days by Mr. Crerar. It is simply that if agriculture and other primary industries are made the first object of the Government's solicitude, there will be an increase in the rural population and an increase, also, in their prosperity, with the result that there will be a market available for manufactured products that will make possible the profitable operation of factories suitable to this country.

Canada must zealously guard the nationhood finally conceded to her at Versailles, but she should not embarrass the Washington Disarmament Conference by asserting her rights at this time. This is the answer of The Toronto Globe to the proposal that Canada should go to the Conference as a nation, on an equal footing with other nations, or not at all.

The British Government has recognized anew the Statehood of the Dominions by giving their representatives a footing of equality with its own delegates, The Globe observes. It went farther in that direction at the Peace Conference, but it cannot do more at present than it has done, because it cannot dictate the terms of Washington's invitation. All the countries embraced in the League of Nations have already acknowledged the national status of the Dominions.

The United States alone withholds assent, but this cannot long continue. When the Washington Government receives a Canadian Ambassador it will have conceded formally and officially the claims of the Dominions, and direct communication between Canada and the United States will have been opened.

To shape plans for conferences on municipal finance problems with committees of the Provincial Legislature, the Executive and Taxation Committee of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities will meet in the Empress Hotel at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The Union heads will confer with the Municipal Committee of the Legislature Friday morning, Mr. Gray's wire stated.

LOOKS FOR LARGE INFLEX Many Tourists Coming, Says President of Development Association. "The indications are that there will be a greater influx of people from the prairies this winter than we experienced last year," declared J. Carl Pendray, president of the Victoria and Island Development Association, in the course of a talk before the Gyro Club at its luncheon to-day.

Mr. Pendray said that the business conditions in Victoria were better day with the exception of two. He spoke of the plans which the Development Association had under way for the enlightenment of people on the prairies with the advantages of residence in this city.

"We are getting many results for our work," said Mr. Pendray, "and I think the association should be given a great deal of credit. If the association continues to concentrate on its outside advertising I think we will be a great city. If we bring people here instead of trying to get industries first I think you will find that the factories will start as a sequel."

Your Stomach! Does it Work? Gassy, Sour, Heavy After Meals. Drowsy, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. "It's Just the Thing After Meals."

You Feel Insured When You Take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets After Eating. People sometimes get the notion that the stomach has given out and their race is run. And yet it is often astonishing the relief that comes in such cases from taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after eating. This relief is so pronounced that the melancholy loss of appetite and broody fear to eat are quickly dispelled. Sometimes an excess of certain kinds of food may lodge in an acid stomach to cause gas, heartburn, water-brash, a sense of fullness after eating, and a heavy, drowsy feeling after meals. This is dyspepsia and the stomach needs the alkaline effect given by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to bring relief. Get a 50-cent box to-day of any drugist and note how comfortable the stomach feels.

EXCELLENT SERVICE AT NOMINAL FEE BY VICTORIAN ORDER

Local Branch to Open Campaign for Funds Saturday

Philanthropy walks in many guises in these days of unemployment and distress, but in no case does it wear a more welcome garb than the becoming uniform of the Victorian Order nurse, whose business-like blue gown is the harbinger of health in many a home. In season and out of season, without ostentation, these nurses carry on a magnificent work among those sufferers to whom the high price of hospital treatment or the ordinary nursing fees would prove an insuperable barrier to adequate attention.

126 "V. O. N." Babies.

The record of their year's work is a revelation to those who are not brought in contact with these modern Florence Nightingales. During 1920 the local branch, which comprises four nurses, Miss Corbett, Miss Shaw, Miss Norcross and Miss Twenty, nursed 448 cases, and under their care 128 babies first saw the light of day. The total number of visits paid were 4,958, of which 3,980 were nursing visits, entailing professional duties for the patient, Child welfare visits numbered 535, and 10 chronic cases, nine tubercular and 10 syphilitic cases were cared for.

Nominal Fee.

While fees are charged wherever the patient is in a position to pay something for attention, nursing is given wherever needed, irrespective of ability to pay. Last year no fee was charged for 669 visits, while in many other cases only a very nominal fee, sufficient to avert the stigma of charity, was charged. The maximum charge for an ordinary visit is sixty cents, while 85 cents is the maximum for a maternity visit. Nurses will, however, call at any time and give advice free of charge.

Assist Baby Clinic.

In addition to the ordinary nursing work, the head nurse, Miss Corbett attends the weekly baby clinic held under Dr. Price, the City Health Officer, at the city hall, at which an average of twenty babies is examined weekly.

It will readily be understood that such a public health nursing service cannot be conducted on the money paid for the services. The fees charged, although the strictest economy—and most business-like methods are observed in the management of the local branch which is located at 1145 Rockland Avenue. A few generous friends recognizing the tremendous value to the community of such an organization, make frequent contributions to the fund which is used for the need for an appeal to the public.

Such an appeal is to be made by means of a drive which will commence on Saturday of this week, and continue until November 19, inclusive, when a concerted effort will be made to obtain the support of every Victorian for this work. The local board of management, whose chairman is Mrs. Goulding Wilson, feel confident that the public will display towards the V. O. N. the same generous response which has met their appeals in past years.

Daughters of England.—A bazaar under the auspices of the Alexandra Lodge No. 18, Alderson Chapter, are held on Thursday, November 10, at 2.30 p. m. The president, Mrs. Silk, will open the bazaar. The following ladies will preside at the different stalls: Home cooking, Mrs. Coleman; fancy work, Mrs. Bridges; baby stall, Mrs. Hymers; candy, Mrs. Jones; bran tubs, Mrs. Cessford; post office, Mrs. Adams; afternoon tea, Mrs. Hatcher. In the evening a military five hundred dance, including a musical programme.

Lady Alderson Chapter.—Members of the Lady Alderson Chapter are asked to attend at the North Ward School on Armistice Day, Friday, November 11, promptly at 2.30 p. m., when a concert will be given by the "Unknown Warrior" will be presented to the school. Madame Blanche Beruener, "The Poppy Lady," has kindly consented to be the speaker on this occasion, and will be introduced by Mrs. Ricketts, the educational secretary of the Chapter. A large number of members is expected, and the attention of out-of-town members is especially drawn to this notice.

MOTHERHOOD BILL IN AUSTRALIA

For Poor Families, Unmarried Mothers and Orphans

From time to time recommendations are made by women's organizations in Canada urging that steps be taken by the Federal Government towards the endowment of motherhood with a view to encouraging maternity. The first step beyond the resolution stage, partly because social legislation in Canada is still an embryo factor and partly because the women have not made any concerted action to this end.

It is interesting to note that Australia has advanced to the stage where a Motherhood Endowment Bill has been introduced in the Legislature. The bill provides that it contains twenty-three clauses and while it incorporates many features similar to the provisions of the Mothers' Pensions Act of British Columbia, it is much wider in scope.

Payment to Mothers.

Its operations is to be confined to families whose income does not provide more than the basic wage provided by the Board of Trade, as sufficient for the maintenance of a man, his wife, and two children. If a man with three children has an income amounting to 6s per week over the basic wage, his wife shall not receive any subsidy for the third child. She will, however, be entitled to a payment if there are four children, unless the income of her husband is equal to 12s per week above the basic wage, and similarly if there are five children. The fund from which the endowment is to be paid is to be appropriated from the consolidated revenue. No payment is to be made unless the child or children are maintained by the mother. If the mother dies, the payment for the child or children shall be paid to a person approved by the Minister, and the money shall be devoted to the maintenance of the child for whom it is made. Where the mother of any child is dead, or if alive is not maintaining her child, and it is proved to the satisfaction of the Minister that such child is without adequate means of support, the Minister may direct payment to be made to some person approved of by him for the care of such child, the per week in respect of every such child.

Any widow with a child or children shall be entitled to either 5s per child per week, as the Minister may approve, but if the mother's private income is sufficient to provide more than 6s per week above the basic wage she will be in the same position as if her husband were alive and not entitled to any endowment money.

For Illegitimate Children.

The mother of an illegitimate child under fourteen years of age, and without adequate means of support, is to be eligible under the Act to receive maintenance for the child.

Benefits or sick pay received during illness from a friendly society will not be deemed income within the meaning of the Act, but the income of a person shall be deemed to include 5 per cent of the capital value of any land or buildings owned or used for private purposes, less a deduction for interest paid on any mortgage which may be in existence upon the property.

For Orphans.

The conductors of orphanages shall be entitled to receive 6s per week in respect of every child inmate where the mother is an orphan within the meaning of the Act.

No payment shall be made in respect of a child where payment is made for it under the Children's Relief Act, the Deserted Wives and Children's Act, or the Infant Protection Act.

No payment is to be made to a mother who is unmarried or if she has not been a bona fide resident of the State for at least two years prior to the date of application for payment or if she is not enrolled as a voter under the Electoral Act.

Payments will cease where the mother is convicted of any offence under the Act, or is not of good repute and character, or is incapacitated by physical or mental infirmity to the care of the child or children, or where she is not expending the moneys properly.

Upon reports by the Board of Trade or any person authorized by the Minister to that effect as to whether the sum payable in respect of a child should be increased or reduced, the payment may be changed accordingly.

FOR CHILDREN THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

THE GREAT BARE TREES

The Great Trees in the forest stood naked and bare, for Old Winter had come and taken away their beautiful colored dresses. Mistress Fall had given them in place of their pretty summer clothes.

But the evergreen trees were still dressed and they cried "Shame!" to the tall bare trees as they shivered in the Winter winds.

At first the Great Trees did not notice the evergreens and held their poor naked heads high with pride above their green-gowned neighbors, but it was no use pretending for, as the day went by the evergreens became more scornful and at last the great trees had to acknowledge to each other that they were a sorry sight.

"It is no use looking for Summer, she went to sleep long ago," said one tall tree, "and Mistress Fall is too far away now to hear our call, and Old Winter has no pity in his cold, hard heart for us."

"We might ask the help of the Forest Goblins," said another tree. "They come out on moonlight nights before the snow comes and they may

Great Trees. They were diamonds and their long branches were powdered with sparkling frost, and there they stood like great kings dressed in white and silver.

The evergreens were certain that the next day, when the sun came out, the Great Trees would be naked again, but they were more wonderful in their splendor as the sunlight fell upon them.

And no more did the evergreens cry "Shame!" to the Great Trees, for all through the Winter did the Fairy Queen keep them dressed in their sparkling clothes.

They told them their troubles, and though the Goblins said they could not help them, they promised to see the Elves, whose queen was a friend of the Queen of the Fairies.

It seemed a round-about way to the Great Trees to get help, but there was nothing else to be done and so they had to wait.

The Fairy Queen had about given up hope and the evergreens grew more scornful every day, but one night when all was still and the wind was cold and blustering, a little fairy alighted on the topmost branch of a great bare tree. She had ridden to the forest on the tail of Blustering Wind without his knowing a thing about it and as he passed along off she jumped.

"I have a message for you from my queen," she whispered to the Great Tree. "The Fairy Queen will help you and she gives you her promise that soon you shall all shine in splendor the evergreens that scorn you."

As old Blustering Wind passed again the fairy caught at his trailing tail and off she went, but the Great Trees felt happier and they waited and watched.

Then one moonlight night, when the evergreens looked up at the great bare trees, their cries of "Shame!" froze before they left their branches. The Great Trees were clothed in gorgeous splendor such as the evergreens had never beheld.

The Fairy Queen had sent the snow fairies and Jack Frost to dress the

Be Suspicious of Tender Gums

Be suspicious of any tenderness or bleeding of the gums. This is usually the first stage of Pyorrhoea—an insidious disease of the gums that destroys the teeth and undermines bodily health.

Gradually the gums become spongy. They inflame, then shrink, thus exposing the unenameled tooth-base to the ravages of decay. Tiny openings in the gums form gateways for disease germs to enter the system.

Medical science has traced many ills to these infecting germs in the gums weakened by Pyorrhoea.

They are now known to be a frequent cause of indigestion, anaemia, rheumatism and other serious conditions.

So watch carefully for that first tenderness or bleeding of the gums. Try Forhan's immediately. It positively prevents Pyorrhoea (Riggs' Disease) if used in time and used consistently.

And in preventing Pyorrhoea—it guards against other ills.

Forhan's (For the Gums) cleans teeth scientifically as well. Brush your teeth with it. It keeps them white and clean.

If gum shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment. 35c and 60c tubes in Canada and U. S. If your druggist cannot supply you, send price to us direct and we will mail tube postpaid.

MAIN STREET THE STORY OF CAROL KENNICOTT

By SINCLAIR LEWIS

From the Gopher Prairie Weekly Dauntless.

One of the most charming affairs of the season was held Tuesday evening in the handsome new residence of Sam and Mrs. Clark, when many of our most prominent citizens gathered to greet the lovely bride of our popular local physician, Dr. Will Kennicott. All present spoke of the many charms of the bride, formerly Miss Carol Milford of St. Paul. Games and stunts were in order of the day, with merry talk and conversation. At a late hour dainty refreshments were served, and the party broke up with many expressions of pleasure at the pleasant affair. Among those present were Mesdames Kennicott, Elder.

Dr. Will Kennicott, for the past several years one of our most popular and skillful physicians and surgeons, gave the bride a delightful surprise when he returned from an extended honeymoon tour in Colorado this week with his charming bride, nee Miss Carol Milford of St. Paul, whose family are socially prominent in Minneapolis and Mankato. Mrs. Kennicott is a lady of manifold charms, not only of striking charm of appearance but is also a distinguished graduate of a school in the East and has for the past year been prominently connected in an important position of the Chamber of Commerce with the St. Paul Public Library, in which city Dr. Will had the good fortune to meet her. The city of Gopher Prairie welcomes her to our midst and prophesies for her many happy years in the energetic city of the twin lakes and the future. The Dr. and Mrs. Kennicott will reside for the present at the Doctor's home on Poplar Street, which his charming mother had been keeping for him who has now returned to her own home at Lac-du-Meuril leaving a host of friends who regret her absence and hope to see her soon with us again.

She knew that if she was ever to effect any of the "reforms" which she had pictured, she must have a starting-place. What confused her during the three or four months after her marriage was not lack of perception but that she must be definite, but sheer careless happiness of her first home.

In the pride of being a housewife she loved every detail—the brocade armchair with the weak back, the hot-water reservoir, when she had become familiar with it by trying to scour it to brilliantness, the radiator. She found maid-plump radiant Bea Sorenson from Scandia Crossing. Bea was full in her attempt to be at once a respectful servant and a friend who regretted her absence and hope to see her soon with us again.

Like a child playing Grandma in a trailing skirt, Carol paraded uptown for her marketing, crying greetings to housewives along the way. Everybody bowed to her strangers and all, and made her feel that they wanted her, that she belonged here. In city shops she was merely a customer—a hat, a voice to bore a harassed clerk. Here she was Mrs. Dr. Kennicott, and her preferences in grape-fruit and manners were known and remembered and worth discussing. . . even if they weren't worth fulfilling.

Shopping was a delight of brisk conferences. The very merchants whose droning she found the duldest at the two or three parties which were given to welcome her were the pleasantest confidants of all when they had something to talk about—lemons or cotton-wool or floor-oil. With that skip-jack Dave Dyer, the druggist, she conducted a long mock-quarrel. She pretended that he cheated her in the price of magazines and candy; he pretended she was a detective from the Twin Cities. He hid behind the prescription-counter, and when she stamped her foot he came out wailing. "Honest, I haven't done nothing crooked to-day—not yet."

She never recalled her first impression of Main Street; never had precisely the same despair at its ugliness. By end of two shopping-tours everything had changed proportions. As she never entered it, Minneapolis House ceased to exist for her. Clark's Hardware Store, Dyer's Drug Store, the groceries of Ole Jensen and Frederick Ludelmeier, and Howland & Goddard, the meat markets, the notions shop—they expanded, and hid all other structures. When she entered Mr. Ludelmeier's store and he wheezed, "Good mornin', Mrs. Kennicott. Well, dis is a fine day," she did not notice the dustiness of the shelves nor the stupidity of the girl clerk; and she did not remember the mute colloquy with him on her first view of Main Street.

She could not find half the kinds of food she wanted, but that made shopping more of an adventure. When she did contrive to get sweet-breads at Dahl & Oleson's Meat Market the triumph was so vast that she buzzed with excitement and admired—the strong-wispy butcher, Mr. Dahl.

She appreciated the homely ease of village life. She liked the old men, farmers, G. A. R. veterans, who when they gossiped sometimes quaffed on the benches on the sidewalk, like resting Indians, and reflectively spat over the curb.

She found beauty in the children. She had suspected that her married friends exaggerated their passion for children. But in her work in the library, children had become individuals to her, citizens of the State with their own rights and their own senses of humor. In the library she had not had much time to give them, but now she knew the luxury of stopping, gravely asking, "Bea, Clark whether her doll had yet recovered from its rheumatism, and agreeing with Oscar Martinson that would be Good Fun to get trapping muskrats."

She touched the thought, "It would be sweet to have a baby of my own. I do want one. Tiny. Not yet! There's so much to do. And I'm still tired from the job. It's in my bones."

She rested at home. She listened to the village noises common to all the world, jungle prairie; sounds simple and charged with magic—dogs barking, chickens making a gurgling sound of content, children at play, a man beating a rug, wind in the cottonwood trees, a locust fiddling, a footstep on the walk, jaunty voices

AMUSEMENT CENTRE GOES BEFORE FORUM

Big Meeting Thursday Night Will Deal With Subject

The amusement centre plans are now all prepared, and in shape to be laid before the Forum of the Chamber of Commerce, and this will be done at the meeting which will be held in the Chamber auditorium on Thursday evening, commencing at 8 o'clock.

A large number of the members of the Chamber of Commerce have given valuable time and service to the preparation of the plans and an interesting outline of the scheme awaits those who attend on Thursday.

Views of the proposed amusement centre, with plans and details will be shown. C. T. Cross, chairman of the general committee in charge of the plans, will give an address in which he will also explain the details of financing the scheme, the revenues that may be expected, cost and other features of the proposal as outlined by the committee.

The Times recently published the details of the scheme in full as outlined by Mr. Cross. As the matter is of such importance, it is expected that a very large number of the members will attend Thursday's meeting. It is the intention of the Chamber that the ideas should be carried out along lines meeting the views of the majority of the public. The amusement centre will furnish a large number of entertainments and sports features for the residents of the city and island, and will serve to attract large numbers of tourists as well.

General discussion on the topic of an amusement centre will be held on Thursday, and it will be then that the campaign to establish the feature will be launched.

PEPS

COUGHS, Colds, Bronchitis and chest ailments are started by germs you breathe in with the air.

They attack the membrane lining the nostrils, throat, and breathing tubes. Soreness and inflammation speedily develop unless Peps infection-killing tablets are taken quickly.

As Peps dissolve in the mouth they give off powerful healing and germicidal fumes that mix with the breath and circulate through all the air-passages direct into the lungs.

In this efficient way Peps destroy all disease germs. Soreness and inflammation are instantly allayed, the air-passages are soothed and repaired, obstructions of phlegm are cleared away, and the breathing becomes easy.

THE WONDERFUL BREATHEABLE MEDICINE

Peps bring the potent lung-healing balsams of the pine forest and other rich volatile medicines of equal benefit and safety to the youngest child or aged bronchial sufferer. Peps are guaranteed free from opium, morphia, and all dangerous habit-producing drugs.

How much more sensible this direct Peps treatment than dosing and upsetting your stomach with nauseous drug-laden mixtures and syrups!

Get a box of Peps to-day. Once you try these unique breatheable tablets you will never use any other remedy for coughs, colds, chills, sore throat, bronchitis, night-cough, laryngitis, asthma, etc.

You can test Peps at our expense! Send this advertisement and check (for return postage) to The Peps Co., Toronto, for FREE TRIAL PACKAGE. All dealers, 50c. box. 1 for $1.25

SAANICH REGISTRATION

As already emphasized, registration for the Federal elections in the Saanich Peninsula is carried on under the rural system, which means that the Registrars have very wide powers. They may put on or delete a name from a list and when the list is complete it is posted up in public places and afterwards, examining it may be sent at the Court of Revision to adjust errors or omissions.

There is nothing to prevent electors, however, making sure that the name is on the list by applying at once to the Registrars. The following are the Registrars for the Saanich wards, except Ward VI.

Ward I—F. A. Barrackough, corner Cedar Hill Road and Rowan Avenue.
 Ward II—William Graham, Tennyson Avenue.
 Ward III—Robert Peters, Cadboro Bay Nursery.
 Ward IV—William Bradley.
 Ward V—W. Jackson.
 Ward VII—D. Evans, 608 Regina Avenue.

OUR FARMING ON NORTHERN ISLAND

Marten Being Raised Near Ketchikan

The question of utilizing some of the islands on this coast for raising fur-bearing animals has often been considered, says The Prince Rupert News. While the furs in this mild climate are not of the first quality, they command a ready market, and their production might well prove profitable.

E. C. Howard has an island near Ketchikan on which he is raising martens for the skins. In writing about his experiment he says: "I have been very successful in getting fifteen as fine specimens as I have ever seen, and I have not yet now getting more and expect to have my ranch all stocked in the course of the next year."

Plenty of Food.

The island has an acreage of about 4,440 acres with high hills and heavy timber, and I turn the martens loose on it. Up to date they are certainly doing fine, some of them are quite tame and come to the house to get their food, but there is an abundance of food on the island for the number I now have, and I find the most serious mistake that can be made is to over feed them. It is necessary to make them rustle for their living, and compel them to live in their natural state as much as possible.

In order to make it interesting for them I will catch squirrels and mice and put them on the island alive. These the martens will catch, which I assure you they are capable of doing. They are very fond of cabbage and carrots cooked with a little bacon grease, which is given them occasionally. During the berry season they feed almost exclusively on this diet, and it agrees with them. They eat most anything in the sea-food line, including seal meat and porpoise.

Wary in Captivity.

"I do not think these little animals can be raised in captivity successfully, for they are constantly trying to get out of their enclosure, and eventually worry themselves to death. I can understand how one can be made a pet and raised, but when you breed them commercially it is quite a different matter, and I am of the impression that the only way there can be any big money made out of the raising of martens is on the island in their native country, where they can be turned loose and live in their natural state. I look for a great many of the islands along the Alaska coast to be used for this purpose, and I sincerely believe that whoever undertakes the raising of martens in this manner, and is willing to give the business the necessary attention will meet with decided success."

Not Difficult.

"Marten, well cared for are not hard to raise, and the work is very interesting, for they soon learn to know you and are not afraid that you will harm them.

"They will average five each year. I have had some of the old timers here tell me that they have two litters each year, but I cannot say that this is right, but will know more about it later on."

WILL RETAIN MEN AT RUPERT PLANT

Government Will Employ Staff For Emergency Repair Contracts. Prince Rupert, Nov. 8.—Between fifty and one hundred men will likely be kept working at the local drydock when the Government takes it over in the near future. There will have to be a good staff ready for emergency repair work, and it is possible that there may be some new buildings, although there is nothing definite as to this yet. The feeling is generally expressed that it would be a shame to keep the plant idle now that it is in good running order. J. H. Pillsbury, it is understood, will be in charge when the Government takes control.

PIMPLES ON FACE DIDN'T LIKE TO GO OUT

Those nasty little pimples that break out on the face and other parts of the body are simply indications that the blood is out of order and requires purifying. There is only one way to get rid of this obnoxious skin trouble, and that is by giving the blood a thorough cleansing which can best be done by that old reliable blood medicine, BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

and when the blood is purified the pimples will vanish and you will have a clear, healthy complexion. Miss Mary E. Finanagan, R. R. No. 3, Stella, Ont., writes: "I suffered for about two years with pimples and blotches breaking out on my face. The doctor said it was caused by bad blood. My face was so bad I didn't like to go out among a crowd of people. One day I was talking to a friend and she advised me to get a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and try it. I just took three bottles, and there was not a blotch or pimple of any kind left. Some of my friends asked me what I had used and I said, 'Burdock Blood Bitters chased them.'"

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salts If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles You. No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

CANDIDATES FOR CITY OFFICE FEW AND FAR BETWEEN

Police Board and Mayorality Possibilities Will Not Run

Opponents of Police Commissioner Dr. Ernest Hall may find it no easy task to bring out a strong candidate for the Police Commission at the December civic election. It was thought at the City Hall to-day, following the announcement that five out of six gentlemen mentioned as possible candidates had no intention of running.

Those mentioned as possible candidates for the Police Board are: Lester Patrick, Stephen Jones, D. E. Campbell, Alderman A. M. Aitken, Harry Savage and Alex. Peden. Each of these gentlemen, except Mr. Peden, have assured The Times that they have no intention of entering the field. Mr. Peden said to-day that he had not considered the matter at all. "I have no intention of coming out again," Mr. Savage stated. "There is nothing in the report at all. I have no idea of running," said Mr. Jones.

"I have no intention whatever of being a candidate," Mr. Campbell declared.

"The idea is quite without foundation," Alderman Aitken stated.

Mr. Patrick some days ago told friends who were pressing him to run for the Police Board. It is understood that he has not changed his mind since then.

"I really haven't given the matter a thought yet," Mr. Peden said. "I haven't decided whether I shall run or not, not having considered the question."

Not in Mayorality Fight.—Three possible mayoralty candidates, Alderman E. Todd, John Harvey and A. M. Aitken, announced to-day that they would not be in the field.

"I want it made clear that I have no intention of running for Mayor," said Alderman Todd.

When asked about the report that he might be a candidate for the Mayorality, Alderman Harvey, chairman of the civic industrial committee, gave out the following statement:

"Let me at once disclaim any intention of becoming a Mayorality candidate, as was suggested in a newspaper report this morning; but I will take this opportunity—earlier than I had intended to say that I do intend to seek re-election as an alderman, and if I am re-elected shall serve the city in a general way to the best of my ability and shall endeavor to work out new and other important problems, some of which are already engaging the attention of the industrial committee."

"I never had any idea of running for Mayor at this election," was Alderman Aitken's emphatic assertion. Announcement that Alderman Todd, Harvey and Aitken need not be considered as possible Mayorality candidates leaves the field open to Mayor Porter and Alderman E. B. Andros, as far as members of the City Council are concerned.

The two gentlemen have seen fit yet to tell the voters what they intend to do. Announcement that the Mayor will seek a fourth term is expected daily at the City Hall now.

Addressed Scout Officers.—A patrol leaders banquet was held at the St. James Scout Troop headquarters last night, with some twenty leaders present. Rev. the Hon. T. R. Henge addressed the boys on "Leadership," pointing out the value of example. Scoutmaster Rideout occupied the chair.

Friendship Club Dance.—With a very large attendance and exceptional good music furnished by the orchestra of the Friendship Club dance, held in the K. of P. Hall, on Saturday last, proved a big success. The committee wish to announce that their dance on Saturday next will be in the form of an Armistice dance with special attractions.

Silver Tea.—A silver tea is to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Spaven, 124 John Street, on Wednesday, the 9th, from 3 to 6, for the purpose of raising money to send will be at home to spend Christmas. Mrs. Spaven hopes that the Ladies' Guild of Esquimalt, will influence as many friends as possible to attend the function.

Police Court.—Mrs. Isabella Tysley, a licensed second-hand dealer, was to-day fined $15 in the city police court for failure to report the purchase of a watch to the police. The court informed the accused that daily reports of all transactions were required. The watch was the property of Watson & McGregor, and was charged with being in possession of liquor unsealed, were remanded until Monday next for hearing, when R. C. Lowe will appear on their behalf. Failure to stop feet in rear of a street car slowing up, explaining that he was a stranger to this city, and not quite used to the British Columbia order, was not pursued by her, but by another. Yuen Ah Yip, Yuen Wing Leon, Yuen Don, Lee Wah Chan, Choy Men and Choy Jack, charged with being in possession of liquor unsealed, were remanded until Monday next for hearing, when R. C. Lowe will appear on their behalf.

DRURY PRYCE HEARD IN CONCERT

Last evening in the Emmanuel Baptist Church, a concert of a very high order was produced under the auspices of the Young People's Society, who were fortunate in securing the services of Drury Pryce, violinist, late concert master, Crystal Palace, London. Mr. Pryce, who is a recent arrival in the city, held the audience spellbound with his faultless technique and perfect tone, displaying in his programme great variety and complete mastery of arpeggio passages, double-stopping and brilliant vivace effects. He played Viextemps' "Reverie," and "Siciliano Rigandon," by Francaeur-Kreisler, giving an encore Kreislere's "Lieblich" and "Momente Musicale," by Schubert-Kreisler. Mr. Pryce was very sympathetically accompanied by Miss Margaret Campbell, pupil of Mrs. Huntley Green, who also played three pianoforte solos, in a very brilliant and finished manner, two of these being Strauss' "Lullaby" and Arensky's "Study," the third being an encore. Miss Beatrice McDonald, the well-known pupil of Gideon Hicks, sang in pleasing manner "Love Was Meant to Make Us Glad," by German; "Silent As Night," giving an encore "Butterfly."

An interesting change to the programme was afforded by Mrs. Alfred Todd, who gave four humorous recitations.

W. R. Woods' rich baritone voice obtained fine scope in the Bedouin "Love Song," which was rendered as an encore, his other numbers being "Drake Goes West" and "My Old Shako."

Mr. Guy's sweet tenor voice was heard in the songs "Good Company" and "Love's Old Sweet Song."

The Partitt quartette fully sustained their reputation in three excellent numbers, rendered with much spirit and clear enunciation.

Mrs. Frank Andrews very ably presided over the entertainment.

Vancouver Hot After New Whirlwind For The Centre Ice Post

Cyclone Taylor to Spend His Whole Time Coaching Man to Fill His Old Position; Millionaires Feel Team Is Weak Without Effective Centre; Forty Overtime Games In Coast Hockey.

Vancouver is in a fretful mood. It wants a new centre ice man for its millionaire hockey team and can't find one.

Last Winter Manager Cook announced that he had unearthed a new cyclone. His name was Sid Desreux. Came out of the tall timbers up round the Rocky Mountains. Sid played a couple of years and nearly wrecked the league. He made all the fellows laugh so much by his antics that there came near being no hockey. They called him the "wild man." He didn't last for long. He finally became a bench-warmer and Jack Adams was used to fill in at centre when Cy Taylor could not be pulled out from his lair.

Taylor to Coach Him. They've got to figuring that there is no player at large at present who can fill the bill. So they're going to develop a star and Taylor is going to help them do it. Taylor has been signed by the Millionaires for the sole purpose of coaching a centre ice man.

winning marker. Victoria triumphed over the opposition ten times. New Westminster turned in one overtime victory in three seasons in the P. C. H. A. Spokane capped one, while Portland is credited with two.

Entering the Coast League in 1921-22, Taylor in nine years, gathered in a total of 159 goals and 114 assists for a grand aggregate of 273 points, a mark for others to shoot at in this and coming seasons. His record in the Coast League is of interest at this time. Here it is:

Table with columns: Goals, Assists, Pts. Rows: 1912-13 (10, 8, 18), 1913-14 (24, 22, 46), 1914-15 (32, 22, 54), 1915-16 (22, 14, 24), 1916-17 (14, 14, 28), 1917-18 (32, 22, 54), 1918-19 (32, 22, 54), 1919 (6, 6, 12), 1920 (6, 6, 12), 1920-21 (6, 6, 12)

The decision of the Pacific Coast Hockey Association to put the overtime matches after the first 60 minutes has resulted in an effort to break the tie will receive the endorsement of fans throughout the country, the consensus of opinion being that to call on the purchasers to continue to wage war in some cases until the midnight hour is unreasonable.

Forty Overtime Games. And while on the subject of overtime matches, it is interesting to note that in the ten years in which the "coasters" have been operating and serving up the thrilling ice sport, there have been exactly forty overtime matches played on the circuit, and that that number Vancouver has capped the winning goal in fifteen. Seattle comes next, having broken up eleven overtime sessions with the

Collegian Rugger Showed Great Form Against Vancouver

Played With Fourteen Men After Palmer Tore a Tendon In His Leg; Ternan Dropped Beautiful Goal From Twenty-Five Yard Line and Scored a Try As Well; Stewart Made Vancouver's Only Points; Score 7-3.

Vancouver, Nov. 8.—Gee Ternan's trusty boot enabled Varsity to triumph over Vancouver's rep squad in yesterday's McKeechie Cup match, the Collegians winning a brilliantly played game, 7-3, before a big holiday crowd.

The Varsity squad took the offensive at the start of the game, carrying the play into Vancouver's territory with a rush. Here it remained during the greater part of the first half, although the rep. rugger made two threatening sallies to the college end.

Pete Palmer, the speedy right winger on the Varsity three-quarter line, was injured early in this period, and the Collegians had to go more than three-quarters of the game with one man missing.

A Beautiful Kick. Gee Ternan supplied the thrill that comes once in a lifetime when he booted the pinkin over the bar from the 25-yard line for the first score of the game.

The Vancouver squad then took matters into their own hands and for a short time the Varsity line was hard pressed. Relief was at hand, however, in the shape of some beautiful kicks to touch by Dominey and Buchanan.

A Sixty-Five Yard Run. Then Al Buchanan stepped into the limelight with a wonderful sixty-five yard run, that finished with a neat pass to Gee Ternan, who went over the line for the second Varsity score. "Buck" collared the ball in a maul, and was away like a shot, heading straight for the Vancouver defence.

The rep. squad came back strong in the closing minutes of this half, pressing the college squad, anxious to make a few points and even, up the line, one of Varsity, cracked a couple of ribs in this period, but he kept right on playing the game, putting up a first class exhibition.

The second half was featured by a continuous bombardment of the Varsity line by the rep squad. Time after time the Vancouver forwards carried the play right into the college territory, and once or twice the Varsity men were forced to save.

Vancouver's One Score. Cam Stewart earned the applause of the multitude by a number of excellent runs which he made during this period, when he grabbed the ball on a lineout at the Varsity five-yard line and went over. It was a lovely piece of work, timed to perfection.

The "Rep" team fell down badly in their passing and handling of the ball. There were several men, however, who are deserving of considerable credit. Goodacre at fullback played a great game. His tackling and kicking left little to be desired.

The amateur problem has developed into a live issue. On the mainland the matter has been under consideration for some time, but this will be the first meeting held here.

The meeting will appoint a delegate to attend the annual meeting of the B. C. A. A. U. which is to be held in Vancouver on Friday night.

MARIE LOHR WILL APPEAR HERE SOON IN LONDON SUCCESSES

When Miss Marie Lohr makes her first appearance here at the theatre in "Fedora" and "The Marionettes," two of her biggest London successes, local theatregoers will see for the first time the flower of the London stage of to-day. Miss Lohr has come across the Atlantic for the first time to tour this country under the auspices of Trans-Canada Theatres, Ltd., and she has brought with her the entire London Globe Theatre production and cast for both plays, which means that Canada will see these plays exactly as London saw them, both as to scenery and artists.

Endowed by nature with rare beauty, gifted beyond the ordinary with histrionic talents, and with a unique record of successes during a meteoric career, Miss Lohr, still a young woman, occupies a unique position of distinction at an age when many actresses are still striving for recognition. She is the idol of the London theatregoer, and for years she has been a fixture in the Metropolis for her regular will not let her go into the provinces, even for a few weeks.

Now she comes to Canada to demonstrate her art in two widely differing roles. As "Fedora" she proves her right to be considered a great emotional actress, and in the character of Fernande, the fascinating social butterfly of "The Marionettes," she proves that she is equally well-entitled to be considered a brilliant comedienne.

Her supporting cast and her scenic settings are the same in every detail as were used by her at the Globe Theatre in London.

Miss Lohr will open her Victoria engagement on Monday next at the Royal Victoria Theatre, for one week.

SUCH IS FAME!

Rupert Hughes, Goldwyn Eminent Author and playwright, has received the following letter from an admirer:

"I enjoy your acting very much and am making a collection of favorite movie picture stars, and would be pleased if you would send me your picture to add to my collection."

PRINCESS

"A Stitch in Time" is the title of the play chosen by the Mildred Page Players for their farewell production at the Princess Theatre.

Miss Page will be seen as Phoebe Ann, a character which is one well-suited to the capable little actress, who has won so many friends in Victoria.

Miss Page is planning on saying "good-bye" to a number of her little friends at the Saturday matinee, for there will be a reception of the stage after the performance Saturday afternoon, and all the little folks are invited.

All who wish to witness the last play to be produced by the present company should be reminded that the size of the house will not permit a great number to be present at one performance, and if every one leaves it to Saturday night many will be disappointed. So why not get your tickets for some time earlier in the week and be sure not to miss a charming play, and also what will be Miss Page's last appearance in Victoria for some time. Mr. Aldenn will have a splendid part too, and his many friends will "go" when he bids his "good-bye" as well. So remember "A Stitch in Time" will be Saturday night, and then "Au revoir."

ROYAL VICTORIA

If you think the making of an animal picture is not difficult, listen to the wail of Director Harry Revier who had charge of the making of "The Revenge of Tarzan," which will be the attraction at the Royal Victoria Theatre again to-day.

Mr. Revier, in addition to handling more than six hundred human artists was blessed with sixty-three beasts some of which had no previous experience working with groups of people and others totally new to captivity.

Nine lions, five leopards, fifteen apes, six tigers, two chimpanzees, two elephants and twenty-four monkeys constitute the animalistic contribution to "The Revenge of Tarzan" and in some of the scenes, ten or more animals of varied species were used and it was in these episodes that Director Revier's work was cut out for him.

In a scene in which Gene Pollard as Tarzan drops from among a group of apes, nesting in trees, to the ground and has his bare hand held against the lion, it required hours upon hours to induce the apes to remain quiet in the presence of the jungle king.

Again when Tarzan rides off on the head of his elephant, the huge beast, sentling the lion, balked and tore off through the under brush and several days were spent trying to accustom the elephant to the lion.

At no time would the monkeys properly face the camera, if any lions, tigers or man-eaters were within smelling distance and a continual combat between the apes of different species so disturbed the director and players that a number of highly interesting scenes were deleted because of the apes' actions.

The two fights between Tarzan and the lions were staged just as shown on the screen. A well trained lion, but with teeth and talons unimpaired with actually battled with Tarzan and of course, permitted the man to win and at a word from his trainer, "played dead" just as a trained dog would—with the result that a most unusual effect is achieved.

Ten days of constant companionship between Tarzan and the apes were necessary to induce the apes to follow Tarzan about.

Pollard lived at the studio and fed the apes each day for more than a week, then when the animals became used to his kindness, the scenes were staged and in order to get proper camera effects, the scenes were made over no less than ten times.

Elephants became temperamental, lions aggravated, apes and monkeys over-playful and human artists scared to death; all of which contributed to the director's worries, but a sensational film resulted and the sixty thousand feet of negative exposed and seven thousand feet of entertainment achieved therefrom, were well worth the time and danger.

With good Christie comedy "Man Versus Woman" and a slow motion Golf Picture showing how the game should be played the programme of pictures has been well looked after.

Miss-Liv Holt will again be heard in two new songs that will no doubt please any audience.

SOTHERN-MARLOWE SHAKESPEARIAN REVIVAL PLEASES

Notable Couple Receive Applause of New York Audience

By Ben Deacon, Canadian Press Correspondent.

New York, Nov. 8.—The theatrical event of outstanding interest for Canadians last week was probably the opening of a new season of Shakespearean drama by E. H. Sothern and Julia Marlowe. Many thousands of devotees of the classic drama in the Dominion will doubtless recall with gratitude Sothern's hysterically magnificent performance as the boastful yet artistic Petruchio, and his impressive Shylock and will have pleasant memories of Miss Marlowe's beguiling Viola, her dignified Portia, and her fascination for her portrayal of Katharina, the shrew. For Sothern and Marlowe have crossed the border again in their respective tours, and are numbered among their staunchest and most enthusiastic admirers. Just when they will reach the Dominion in their respective tours, and are numbered among their staunchest and most enthusiastic admirers. Just when they will reach the Dominion in their respective tours, and are numbered among their staunchest and most enthusiastic admirers. Just when they will reach the Dominion in their respective tours, and are numbered among their staunchest and most enthusiastic admirers.

"Twelfth Night" offers Miss Marlowe exceptional opportunities for the display of her wonderful elocutionary powers. The role of all the classic roles in which she has appeared, probably best suited her poetic temperament and charm of personality. Last night a great audience at the Century sat spellbound, completely enthralled by the magic of her tones, earnest, wistful longing, and heart-reaching melancholy alternating with fascinating mischievousness and delightful buoyancy of spirit. Fervent and unselfish love is still the dominant note.

Mr. Sothern once more fills the role of Malvolio with a wealth of comedy and egotism as emphasized, yet Mr. Sothern will consummate artistly introduces an under current of sincerity which at times serves to arouse a feeling of sympathy for the self-deceived fool.

Changes in Company.

The noted Shakespearean stars, in replacing "The Taming of the Shrew" by "Twelfth Night" have succeeded in bringing back with them a number of the former members of their company, several of whom were with them at the last Canadian tour. Alma Kruger again portrays the love-lorn, romantic Olivia. Frederick Lewis, who played Ursino, is back in the same role. The drunken Sir Toby Belch, is again in the hands of Roland Buckstone, who provides a great deal of boisterous fun in the scenes in which the roistering old knight appears. The Sebastian is Sydney Mather, replacing Henry Stanford, whose death has come since last he played opposite Miss Marlowe. Mr. Mather gives an intelligent and sincere reading of the lines, but to regard him as a twin brother of the actor requires an earnest effort of imagination.

The scenic fitting of the play are similar to those used two seasons ago. Draperies, blends of dull greens and grays are used as a background in preference to the conventional draps. These are beautifully arranged, and with the articles of furniture required in the various scenes create an atmosphere of dignity and charm thoroughly in keeping with the high artistic levels of the performance.

One reason for the all-round excellence of the Sothern-Marlowe productions is that nothing is considered insignificant to receive serious attention. Even the "heavy thinking parts," or most of them, are in the hands of experienced actors. They are prepared to act in various roles at a moment's notice and when not required to substitute they do not get many chances at the regular roles, for the members of the company are a healthy lot—they appear in the court and mob scenes. Thus the old-time roughness and bungling of the "supers" in the scenes requiring large groups of people is done away with.

Anna Pavlova, famous Russian dancing star, who opened a New York engagement at the Metropolitan Opera House Monday night, is this year demonstrating that art and merriment will mix. Her new programme includes a novelty of rare gaiety in a sort of pantomime ballet, called "Fairy Tales." This picturesque ballet which is new to New York but has already been presented by Pavlova in several Canadian cities, is an episode from Tchaikovsky's "Sleeping Beauty." The New York critics received it with high praise.

The remainder of the programme as presented in New York, Monday night, is made up of a number of dances set to eight of Chopin's best-known pieces, and a group of divertissements, all old friends of former

It was in that year that the first distribution of trees was made under the co-operative scheme of the Forestry Branch of the Interior Department. From a small beginning the distribution of trees from the nurseries at Indian Head and Sutherland has grown until it now averages about 5,000,000 seedlings and cuttings each season, half of which are planted in Saskatchewan and the balance in Alberta and Manitoba. As a consequence of this distribution we now find in all parts of these provinces examples of excellent farm shelter belts—Norman M. Ross, Dominion Forest Nursery Station, Indian Head, Sask.

BRINGING UP FATHER—By GEORGE McMANUS. I UNDERSTAND YOU HAVE EMPLOYED A NEW SECRETARY. I WOULD LIKE TO SEE THIS SECRETARY. WHY? YES! OH! SECRETARY WANTED MAN. SMILES THAT WON'T come off can usually be found on the faces of the folk who advertise their lost articles, used cars, and will-exchange items. If that room is still unrented there must be something wrong—is it in the classified column?

Ready to Proceed With Waterworks Extension Now

With the expiry of the thirty days from registration of the Saanich Waterworks Extension By-Law, the Council is now free to proceed with construction, as the Reeve has tentatively placed $100,000 of the debentures at an advantageous figure.

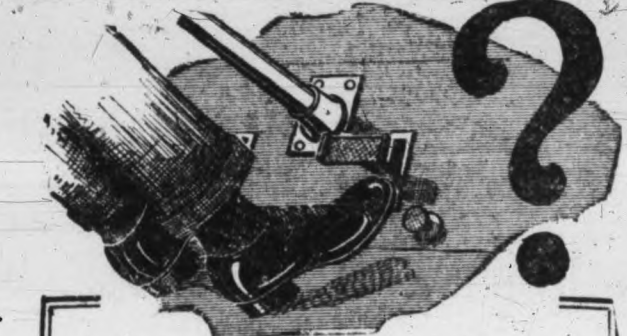

The tenders for materials have been advertised for some time, meanwhile arrangements are being made to secure a large quantity of two-inch pipe for distribution services, in order that when the Council authorizes a start on construction to meet the unemployed situation in the municipality, that it will not be handicapped for lack of material.

The formal confirmation of the by-law from the Inspector of Municipalities is expected at the Municipal Hall this week.

Ladies Remove Their Corns in a Very Simple Way

No pain, no trouble, costs only a quarter. It is a very simple thing to paint on—a small application of good old "Putnam's" night and morning. To remove corns, get entirely free from them, use Putnam's Corn and Wart Extractor. It is guaranteed, 25c, at all dealers. Refuse a substitute.

Arrogance dims the lustre of the most brilliant intellect and dulls the edge of the sharpest wit.

Are you stepping on the brake or the accelerator?

The food you eat does make a difference.

Heavy, starchy foods often do slow down body and mind—often steal the energy that belongs to the day's work. Grape-Nuts is a go-ahead food. It contains the perfected nourishment of Nature's best grains. It includes all those elements needed to nourish body and brain. It is easy to digest. It gives energy without taking energy.

How about your breakfast or lunch—does it give, or take?

Grape-Nuts is sweet, crisp, delightful to the taste, and is an ideal source of power for a busy and difficult day.

Mrs. G. Henderson of Cowichan was elected member of the Provincial Advisory Board at last week's conference of the Vancouver Island District Institutes. Mrs. Henderson is particularly well-fitted to fill this position by reason of her long and varied experience in Institute matters and in other semi-public organizations. She has been a member of Cowichan Women's Institutes since its inauguration, being on the directorate for one year and has been convenor of its education committee for at least four years. Consolidation of schools in the Cowichan district was effected largely through the joint efforts of Mrs. Henderson and the late Mrs. Blackwood-Wileman.

In other directions, Mrs. Henderson has been associated with the Cowichan Field Naturalist Club as director for six years and as secretary-treasurer for the past two years. She is vice-president of the Red Cross Cowichan Electoral District Health Centre; vice-president of the Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society; a member of the Social Welfare Council recently organized in Cowichan; secretary-treasurer of the Lord's Day Alliance, and was secretary of the local Prohibition Committee during the campaign for prohibition.

MAYOR URGES VOTE ON BURIAL SCHEME

Wants By-law Before New Cemetery Started

The city's new cemetery scheme was complicated to-day by Mayor Porter's announcement that he favored the submission of a cemetery by-law to the people before work on a new cemetery was started.

"If the city should establish a new cemetery without the assistance of adjoining municipalities I think we should submit a by-law on the question to the electors," the Mayor announced. "It is true that we secured power at the last session of the Legislature to allow us to go ahead with the project without submitting a by-law and we can use that power. But that legislation was passed when it was understood that the new cemetery was to be an inter-municipal scheme in which Victoria and the adjoining municipalities would be interested. The Legislature perceived that the submission of cemetery by-laws by several municipalities would be impracticable, so it was decided to make an exception in this case."

"But if we are going ahead alone we should, I think, submit a by-law to the people. It is said on some sides that such a by-law would be defeated, although the need of a new cemetery must be apparent to all. Personally I can't see how the electorate could veto such a measure when it is known that the present cemetery will provide accommodation only for a limited time and that the new cemetery will not be ready a

WORK TO MAKE LIVE FARMERS IN B.C. SCHOOLS

Hon. J. D. MacLean Gives Details of District Agricultural Education

British Columbia now has twelve directors and district supervisors teaching agriculture in schools and allied work and they labor "from early morning till late at night at least six days a week," the Hon. J. D. MacLean informs members of the Legislature as a result of questions put to him by J. W. Jones, of South Okanagan. None of these teachers are provided with automobiles, Dr. MacLean points out.

What these men do is set out as follows by Dr. MacLean:

(1) Teaching in their respective high schools a two-year course in agriculture as outlined by the College of Agriculture and the Department of Education as preparatory to matriculation, and, in most cases, a real course in mental science preliminary to more advanced science and agriculture.

(2) Supervision of instruction in elementary agriculture in the public schools of their respective districts, including nature-study and elementary science, school gardening, devoting some of their time to other agricultural projects, such as potato-growing, corn-growing, seed-growing, chicken-raising, and the feeding and management of pure-bred breeding pigs, market hogs and calves.

The District Supervisor visits the schools of his district regularly, assisting the teachers by giving instruction in the class-room and in the garden, and by generally assisting the teachers in carrying out this part of their school-work most effectively.

(3) Special out-of-school instruction for high school students in general farm methods, including farm surveys, spraying, orcharding, stock judging, draining, field crops, etc.

(4) Special extension courses for boys and girls not attending school, including adults who may wish to devote part of their time during the winter months to agricultural studies. These courses are sometimes held in conjunction with the College of Agriculture short courses.

(5) The District Supervisors at Duncan, Courtenay, Vernon and Kelowna, by arrangement with the Department of Agriculture, devote half their time to the local work of that Department, dealing with such problems and undertaking such duties as may be assigned to them. For example, in the Vernon and Kelowna districts, the District Supervisors, working in conjunction with the Department of Agriculture, have undertaken an exhaustive investigation of what is destined to become the biggest problem of the future to the Okanagan fruit-growers, viz., the maintenance of soil-fertility in permanent orchards with a view to economic and efficient management.

(6) Supplying timely articles on live agricultural topics for the benefit of the public through the local press.

(7) Personal advice and assistance to farmers and fruit-growers, gardeners, etc., in their respective districts dealing with many important local problems.

(8) Assisting and working in co-operation with farmers' organizations in their respective districts.

(9) Assisting the School Boards and the Department in the matter of school grounds improvement.

(10) Assisting in and usually leading in all local organizations for the benefit of the young people, such as athletic associations and community organizations.

ous loss to the agricultural interests of the Province, Mr. MacLean replies, "Emphatically no."

"Agricultural interests in British Columbia have already suffered, and must continue to suffer, from a scarcity of farmers who understand the fundamentals of agricultural science and their application to modern farm practice until the sons and daughters of our Province have, through the work of skilled instructors in agriculture, become alive to the tremendous importance of the industry and have mastered its essential principles," Dr. MacLean goes on. "Yearly resolutions aimed against farming by Orientals in British Columbia will not do as much to save and develop British Columbia agriculture as will a well-balanced and co-ordinated system of instruction in agriculture for our own sons and daughters."

What They Get

"Names and other details of the skilled agricultural staff" are given as follows by Dr. MacLean:

J. W. Gibson, Director, Elementary Agricultural Education, Victoria; salary, $3,420. Training expenses, 1920-21, $861.60. District Supervisors of Agriculture: J. C. Rowley, Chilliwack District; salary, $4,120. J. E. Britton, Kelowna District; salary, $2,220. E. L. Small, Surrey District; salary, $2,220. S. H. Hopkins, Courtenay District; salary, $2,120. H. E. Hallwright, Victoria District; salary, $2,120. A. M. McDermott, New Westminster District; salary, $1,900. J. M. Shales, Langley District; salary, $2,020. W. B. Fleming, Duncan District; salary, $1,900. J. J. Munro, Armstrong-Endersby District; salary, $1,900. V. E. Robinson, Vernon District; salary, $1,900. T. H. Jones, Penticton-Summersland District; salary, $1,900.

The regular traveling expenses of District Supervisors are met by the School Boards concerned as part of their agreement with the Department, Dr. MacLean explains. In the case of the District men at Duncan, Courtenay, Vernon, and Kelowna, the traveling expenses are met by the School Boards and the Department of Agriculture conjointly, in lieu of services rendered by these men to that Department.

Total cost of the work is $55,750 a year.
