Alicia Vikander [edit | edit source]

A C-class article from Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Alicia Amanda Vikander (/əˈliːsiə vɪˈkændər/;[1] Swedish: [aˈliːsɪa vɪˈkandɛr] (listen); born 3 October 1988) is a Swedish actress and former dancer. Born and raised in Gothenburg, she began acting as a child in minor stage productions at The Göteborg Opera and trained as a ballet dancer at the Royal Swedish Ballet School in Stockholm and the School of American Ballet in New York. She began her professional acting career by appearing in Swedish short films and television series and first gained recognition in Northern Europe for her role as Josefin Björn-Tegebrandt in the TV drama Andra Avenyn (2008–10).

Vikander made her feature film debut in Pure (2010), for which she won the Guldbagge Award for Best Actress. She attracted widespread recognition in 2012 for portraying Princess Ekaterina "Kitty" Alexandrovna Shcherbatskaya in Joe Wright's film adaptation of Anna Karenina and Queen Caroline Mathilde in the acclaimed Danish film A Royal Affair, starring Mads Mikkelsen. She went on to star in the 2013 Swedish drama film Hotell and appeared in the Julian Assange-biopic The Fifth Estate that same year.

In 2014 and 2015, Vikander achieved global recognition for her roles as activist Vera Brittain in Testament of Youth, a humanoid robot in Ex Machina (for which she was nominated for the Golden Globe and BAFTA Award for Best Supporting Actress) and painter Gerda Wegener in The Danish Girl, for which she received the Academy Award and the Screen Actors Guild Award for Best Supporting Actress, among other awards. She will star as Lara Croft in the 2018 film Tomb Raider.

Early life [edit | edit source]

Vikander was born in Gothenburg,[2] the daughter of Maria Fahl Vikander, a stage actress, and Svante Vikander, a psychiatrist. Her parents are from small villages in the north and south of Sweden, respectively.[3] They separated when Vikander was two months old,[4][5][6] and she was mostly raised by her single mother. She has five half-siblings[7] on her father's side. Vikander has said that she had the best of both worlds growing up, being an only child to her mother and being surrounded by a big family when she went to her father's house every second week.[8] Her ancestry is Swedish and one quarter Finnish.[3]

Vikander started her career as an actor at the age of seven, starring in a production of Kristina från Duvemåla at The Göteborg Opera, which was written by the Mamma Mia! creators, Björn and Benny from ABBA; she performed in the play for three-and-a-half years.[6] She appeared in several musicals at the Opera, such as The Sound of Music and Les Misérables. In 1997 she participated in the TV4 kids' singing show Småstjärnorna; she performed the Helen[illegible]ms song "Du måste finnas".[9] She won her episode with praise by the judges for her stage presence.[10]

Vikander trained in ballet from the age of nine with the Svenska Balettskolan i Göteborg (1998–2004). At the age of 15, Vikander m[illegible] train at the ballet's upper school in Stockholm; she lived on her own, working to become a principal dancer.[8] She traveled around the world fo[illegible]urses, training one summer at the School of American Ballet in New York City.[11]

At the age of 16, she almost left school to commit fully to the television series she worked on with director Tomas Alfredson, realizing her [illegible]acting.[11]

It's up to administrators - as much as I understand - to add pictures. Neither this nor its Swedish counterpart has a photo of the actress. — Preceding unsigned comment added by Eb00kie (talk • contribs) 15:55, 1 August 2011

Please add her photo at 22nd SAG award as the lead image Nirlash (talk) 9:51 am, 1 February 2016, Monday (1 year, 10 months, 7 days ago) (UTC–5)

Filmography [edit source]

Is it really that necessary to list all of her short films in the filmography section? Not only are they too unknown to have their own Wikipedia pages, but I also feel that they take away too much focus from the feature films on the list. // Jonipoon (talk)
