The measurements are given in millimetres. H. 350. Sub: 300. W. 400. Sub: 370 means that the height of the plate is 350 mm., the height of the subject is 300 mm., the width of the plate is 400 mm., and the width of the subject is 370 mm. In the large majority of cases the plate is engraved throughout its full width, so that the width of the subject is not given separately.

In the descriptions of the subjects the expressions "to right" and "to left" mean "to the spectator's right," or "left hand," respectively.

“AN AMORIST AGED.”

ANON:

[LOT AND HIS DAUGHTERS]

Man in a turban and furred coat; beard, &c.; seated at a table on which are a wine flagon, a knife, fruit in a dish, and a table-cloth (pushed to one side). His right arm is round the neck of a woman who hands him a cup with her right hand, while her left hand caresses his chin. Behind him, with her left hand on his shoulder, is another woman.

H. 280. Sub: 250. W. 210.

Inscribed in engraved lettering:—Rembrand pinx.

An Amorist aged.

THE BAPTISM OF THE EUNUCH.

ANON:

The Eunuch (facing to left) kneels in centre of foreground, by the side of a river. Philip stands behind him, holding a large book under his left arm. Behind, on a slight rise in the ground, a group round a chariot; horseman carrying a spear over his left shoulder, in front; armed men and servants, behind. Large-foliaged plants very prominent. Trees to right.

H. 587. W. 487.

Printed as heading to a list of "Theses Logicæ," dedicated "Serenissimo Principi ac Domino D. Francisco Alexandro-Principi Nassoviæ" &c. &c. by Franciscus Wilhelmus Antonius L. B. de Riedt. [The inscription printed with type]

“SOBIESKI.”

CHAS. MAURICE DETMOLD.

In the Print Collector's Quarterly for December 1922 there is an article by M: Campbell Dodgson on the brothers Maurice and Edward Detmold. In a catalogue, at the end of the article, of the etchings, &c. executed by the brothers, N^o 15 is thus described:—

 “Bust of Sobieski, after Rembrandt (Bode 228). $5\frac{1}{16} \times 3\frac{1}{2}$. Mezzo-

 Detmold alone. I have been unable to hear of an impression.

Born, like Nassau, Oppression to withstand;
The Guardian Angel of his native land.
Justice, to eternize this wond'rous Man,
To learn'd Voltaire consign'd th' impartial pen,
He proves, that Honour, not confin'd to birth,
Made Tell the brilliant Star of Patriot Worth.

NOTE. To distinguish between Houston's mezzotint of the Burgomaster Six and that by Purcell, N^o 146, the following details will be useful.

(a) HOUSTON. All outlines are heavily accentuated by dry-point etching. The staple on the window frame on a level with the top of the Burgomaster's head projects only 4 mm.

(b) PURCELL. No dry-point etching. The staple projects fully 6 mm. The face and hair are engraved much more coarsely than in (a), and the head is too large in proportion to the body.

CHRIST DISPUTING WITH THE DOCTORS.

Chaloner Smith (vol. II. p. 835) says that M^cArdell did a mezzotint of this subject. I have never seen it, nor is it mentioned in M^r Goodwin's catalogue of the works of M^cArdell.

At a sale at Messrs: Sothebys', 3 Dec: 1920, Lot 224 was described as "Christ disputing with the Doctors". It was really "The Tribute money" [see N^o 110], and probably the same engraving had misled Chaloner Smith.

Bartsch (Rembrandt, vol. II. Appendix. N° 63) referring to the mezzotint by B. Picart, N° 135, above, says:—"Ce même morceau a été gravé une seconde fois de plus grande forme avec peu de changemens. Dans cette seconde estampe on aperçoit une chaîne autour du cou du vieillard. Elle porte 9 pouces, 10 lignes de haut, y compris une marge de 6 lignes, et 7 pouces, 1 ligne de large. Je ne doute pas, que ce ne soit la même pièce dont Gersaint fait mention à l'article N° 405." [This should be 406.] "La ressemblance qu'il trouve avec le portrait de Lucien, et la mesure de la hauteur et de la largeur qu'il lui donne, semblent prouver mon opinion. Mais je ne sais pas, pourquoi il donne à ce portrait le nom de Sigismond Ragotski. Auroit on ajouté ce nom après coup? Il est certain, que Picart n'a jamais gravé un portrait de Ragotski; au moins la liste des estampes de ce maître qui se trouve imprimée à la fin de ses impostures innocentes, n'en fait pas mention".

In the Paignon-Dijonval catalogue N° 4789 is thus described:—"Le portrait en buste de Ragotski Sigismond, prince de Transylvanie. B. Picart fe. mezzotint en hauteur. 2 ép. dont une avant la lettre".

NOTE. Chaloner Smith says:—"This appears a different plate from that by Pether," [N^o 120 ante] "otherwise, as the size nearly corresponds, it might be taken to be an after-state of it." The difference that will be most easily recognized is that in Pether's plate the two jewels hanging from the clasp of the robe are level, while in Strange's plate the jewel on the left is decidedly below that on the right. There are many other differences.
