POTERY.

A Dream of Childhood.

I had an hours dreaming,
When busy fancy's train
Brought, in its pleasant dreaming,
The happy past again!
I dream'd accustom'd places,
A little child once more;
I saw again lov'd faces
All smiling as of yore!

I saw beside the wildwood
Our pretty rustic cot,
Just as it stood in childhood,
The fairy-haunted spot.
I saw my father sitting
When sultry day was o'er;
My aged mother knitting
Her stocking at the door.

Then came my gentle sister—
Alas! long since inurned—
Yet there she was—I kissed her;
I felt her kiss returned!
I heard my brother's prattle,
His merry laugh once more;
Although he died in battle
Long since, on a far off shore!

My eyes wept on till aching
With such excess of joy;
Alas! that truth and waking
The charm should all destroy.
Strange freaks of fancy's showing;
I was in that brief span
A child, with light locks flowing—
I woke a gray old man!

CHICKENS HATCHED WITHOUT A HEN.

A friend living near our town, and whose veracity is unimpeachable, informs us that, a few weeks ago, his lady gave orders to the little "nigs" on the premises to be on the qui vive, and every time they heard a hen "cackle," to bring in a fresh egg, in view of a plantation Thanksgiving after "plough time" was over. Soon a collection of eggs were treasured up, and by some means, six eggs were placed away in a wardrobe among some cloth and some ginned cotton, and for the time forgotten. A few days ago, the gentleman had occasion to search the wardrobe for some article, and overhauling the forgotten eggs, lo! four of them had hatched out fine healthy young chickens, the other two were "pipped," and hatched out before sunset the same day. They were known to have been in the wardrobe two weeks, and as it generally requires about twenty days to hatch common farmyard fowl's eggs, it is supposed that the hen must have set on them three or four days before they were taken from the nest, though it is not certain. Such cases as the above are very rare. This indicates extreme hot weather.—Fort Valley (Ga.) Century.

LOVE has no age, as it is always renewing itself.

PRIDE MORTIFIED.—At a ball given in Pyrmont, a celebrated watering place in Germany, the tutor of a young count, a Göttingen student, requested a young lady to dance with him. Just as the dance was about to commence, the lady inquired of him: "with whom have I the honor of dancing?" "I am the tutor of Count Von Z," replied her partner. "And a commoner, I presume," she rejoined; to which he answered in the affirmative. "Oh, then," continued the lady, as she withdrew her hand from that of the tutor, "I beg you will excuse me, for mamma has forbidden me to dance with a commoner." This rebuff completely threw the modest preceptor out of countenance; for on the continent to be so deserted on the very eve of a dance, is to lose caste for the rest of the night, if not longer. It is supposed to indicate the existence of some moral taint discovered by the person who quits the side of another, and which is exaggerated into something heinous by the company, ignorant of what it is. This young man quitted the room and sought the open air to breathe more freely and collect himself. His pupil followed him, and learned the cause of his distress. "You shall soon have ample satisfaction, for this mortification," said the generous Count, and hastened back to the ball-room, followed by his tutor. The moment was propitious. Preparations were going forward for another waltz; the young Count requested the rejector of his tutor to be his partner in the dance, and she eagerly accepted the proposal, no doubt greatly rejoicing at the immense stride which she had taken from ranking with the humble tutor, to pairing off with the wealthy noble. Just before the dance began, he addressed to her the question she herself had put: "With whom have I the honor of dancing?" "With the lady Von B," she replied. "Oh, I beg your pardon," said the Count, "but papa has forbidden me to dance with any but Countesses," and instantly quitted her side. He had the satisfaction of hearing that his conduct was applauded by every sensible person present in room. Few will deny that it was well-merited punishment.

A HARD HIT.—A Cincinnati correspondent of the Kentucky Turf Register tells the following story: While playing at a late engagement in the "City of Porkers," Mr. Sullivan, an Irish tragedian of some note, was introduced to a distinguished inhabitant of that city who has the not always-to-be-commended habit of saying what he thinks and thinking what he pleases.—The first conversation between the distinguished tragedian and the democratic Cincinnati was upon that, to Mr. Sullivan, elevated and dignified subject, Mr. Barry Sullivan. Indeed, this is principally the subject of Mr. Sullivan's conversation. So much so was it in this particular case, that the democratic gentleman became disgusted, and suddenly stopping Barry in his eulogy upon Sullivan, asked: "Are you, sir, the Sullivan whom Tom Hyer whipped several years ago, and who afterward went to California and blew his brains out?" The tragedian smiled a la Richard. "No," he answered, at last recovering sufficient presence of mind; "no it is hardly possible I could be the man who blew his brains out." "I didn't know, and merely asked for information. You don't appear to have any!"

A MONSTER BALLOON.—C. Coe, of Rome, New York, is now constructing a monster balloon, with which he hopes to succeed in his project of aerial navigation. In September last, while endeavoring to disengage a balloon from a tree, he met with an accident, in consequence of which he subsequently suffered amputation of one of his arms. In April last he commenced work on his mammoth balloon, which is by this time completed. There are about 3,700 yards of cloth in this aerial ship; over this is the netting, weighing 900 pounds. The balloon when inflated is 208 feet high, its diameter being 118 feet, and to fill it requires 1,731,000 cubic feet of gas. The car and basket are 394 feet in circumference and 13 in diameter, made of rattan and to be carpeted with Brussels carpet; seats inside similar to those in an omnibus. Over 22 miles of sewing have been done on the balloon. Its lifting power is over 69,000 pounds. Mr. Coe intends to go to St. Louis or some other western city, from whence he will proceed east by means of the easterly current he is so sanguine of finding.

A YOUNG GIRL scarcely yet awake to the mysteries of her nature, and fluttering over the first demonstrations of love, is like a child sporting on the sand of the sea, when a high-tide is about coming in.

A HEALTH INSURANCE.—A thin, cadaverous looking German, about fifty years of age, entered the office of a health insurance company, in India, a few days ago, says the Daily Courier, and inquired; "Ish the man in vot insures the people's helts?" The agent politely answered, "I attend to that business, sir." "Vell, I wants mine helts insured; vat you charge?" "Different prices," answered the agent; "from three to ten dollars a week, in case of sickness." "Vell," said Mynheer, "I wants ten dollars vort." The agent then inquired the state of his health. "Vell, I ish sick all te time. I'se shut out te ped two or tree hours a tay, and te toctor says he can't to noting more dat I goot for me." "If that is the state of your health," returned the agent, "we can't insure it. We only insure persons who are in good health." At this Mynheer bristled up in great anger. "You must tink I'm a fool. Vot you tink I come to pay you ten dollars for insure my helt when I vas vell."

COLONEL FREMONT'S PROSPECTIVE WEALTH.—It is not, we believe, generally known how extensive are the works on the Fremont estate. To give an idea, then, we will state that there are seven quartz mills steadily at work there.—There is the "Large Benton (water) Mill," with 48 stampers that crushes 74 tons of rock per day; the "Small Benton (water) Mill," of 16 stampers, crushing 22 tons per day; the "Mount Ophir (steam) Mill," of 24 stampers crushing 30 tons per day; the Gaudaloupe (steam) Mill" of 18 stampers, crushing 20 tons per day; the "Princeton (steam) Mill" of 12 stampers, crushing 18 tons per day; the "Bear Valley (steam) Mill," of 8 stampers, crushing 14 tons per day; and "Agua Fria (steam) Mill," of 6 stampers, crushing 10 tons per day. The average yield of these mills recently was over $340 per day each, over $2,300 per day collectively and nearly $19,000 for eight days run! The last eight days' product reached $18,996 31 in gold bars, which arrived in this city on Monday last, consigned to Mark Brumagim & Co., bankers. The gold, we understand, is pretty evenly distributed throughout the quartz, so that there is no likelihood of much fluctuation in the yield. At this rate the Colonel will be entirely clear of all his complications in the course of two or three months, and then he will commence to realize near a million of dollars per annum! or (counting at that rate exactly) $2,585 34 every day of the year! No man better deserves fortune.—Mirror.

FOLLIES.—For a lady to be annoyed because gentlemen do not always give her the best half of the street, and the nicest seat at a concert, no matter if he did engage it previously.

For a half-pay clerk to think he must buy gloves, cravats and silk socks for every festive occasion, because Joe. Brown, whose father is worth a hundred thousand dollars, does so.

For a young Miss to stay away from a party because she has worn all her dress and can't have a new one.

For a man to be extra-fastidious about colognes, diamond rings and pins, and perfumed handkerchiefs, and set society at defiance with his smoke and tobacco spit.

For a man to hope to pass himself for a gentleman because he touches his hat to a party of splendidly dressed ladies, while he refuses to pay his washerwoman.

For a married man to accept an invitation to shoot in the country without asking his wife's permission.

PAT'S NEW YEAR.—A tavern keeper in Newark, New Jersey, when giving New Year's presents to his "help," told his porter (a smart Irishman) that he was about the best man about the house, and therefore he would give him the most costly present. "Sure," said Pat, rubbing his hands with delight, "I always mane to do my duty." "I believe you," replied his employer, "and therefore I shall make you a present of all you have stolen from me during the past year."—"Thanks, yer honor," replied Pat, "and may all yer friends and acquaintances trate you as liberally."

TELL ME angelic hosts, ye messengers of love, shall swindled printers here below have no redress above? The shining angel band replied, "To us is knowledge given, delinquents on the printer's books can never enter heaven!"

It is said that "the hare is one of the most timid animals, yet it always dies game." Why shouldn't it, when it is made game of.

MRS. PARTINGTON makes Shakespeare say: "Sweet are the uses of advertisements." It's so—if he didn't say it.

JUSTICE is certainly an odd fish; she has only a single pair of scales.

A LADY'S home dress ought to last a long while; she never wears it out.

MEN who are really most fond of the ladies—who cherish for them the truest respect—are seldom the most popular with the sex. Men of great assurance, whose tongues are lightly hung, who make words supply the place of ideas, and place compliments in the room of sentiment, are the favorites. A due respect for women leads to respectful action towards them, and respect is mistaken by them for neglect or want of love.

A GOOD OLD DUTCHMAN and his frow sat up till gaping time, when the latter, after a full stretch, said:

"I wish I was in Haben."
Hans yawned and replied, "I wish I was in der still house."

Katrina's eyes flew wide open, as she exclaimed:
"I pe pound for you, you always wish yourself in ter pest place."

A BLUNT spoken, off-handed old gentleman, one day, previous to dinner, arose and delivered himself as follows:

"For what wears about to receive, may the Lord make us truly thankful—what wife! plain hash again to-day?"

It was all said in the same breath, and the effect was inexpressibly ludicrous.

WOMAN'S HOPES.—In early youth perhaps women said to themselves, "I shall be happy when I have a husband to love me best of all;" then, when the husband was too careless, "My child will comfort me;" then, through the mother's watching and toil, "My child will repay me all when it grows up." And at last, after the long journey of years has been wearily travelled through, the mother's heart is weighed down by a heavier burden, and her only hope is in Heaven.

It was a prime joke of Canning's who, when told by an eminent doctor that poverty was a virtue, remarked that he never knew what making necessity of a virtue meant till then.

SEA-SIDE WIT.—A Bostonian, who, recently spent several days at Horseneck Beach, was asked how he spent Sunday. "Well," said he, "among the Sabbath breakers."

SILENCE is more sociable than false speaking. A dog that we know is better company than a man whose language we do not understand.

"HONESTY is the best policy," said one Scotchman to another, who had narrowly escaped hanging for robbery. "I know it," said the other, "for I have tried both sides of the question."

DIDDLER invited two or three to drink and was telling big stories about himself—"Come," said one the party, "you have told us what you can do; now tell us what you cannot do."—"Well that's easily done," replied Diddler, "I can't pay for the drinks you have just had."

A GENEROUS mind identifies itself with all around it; a selfish one identifies all things with itself. The generous man seeks happiness in promoting that of others; the selfish reduces all things to his own interest.

NEGRO WIT.—Julius, why didn't you oblong your stay at the seaside? Kase, Mr. Smith, dey charge to much. How so, Julius? Why, de landlord charged dis colored individual with stealing the silver spoons.

DORA what did you do with that tallow that Mr. Jones greased his boots with this morning?

Peace, Marm, I baked the griddle cakes with it.

You did eh? Confound you, I thought you had wasted it.

SAYS the lovely Julia to the bewitching Fanny, "Why is a new baby like a cow's tail?" Guv it up. "Because it was never seen before." Fanny ph-ainted.

A YOUNG fellow having been charged with getting drunk the night before, and wishing to justify himself, declared that he never was drunk, nor never meant to be, for it always made him feel so bad the next morning.

SOME OF FRANKLIN'S MAXIMS.—Plow deep while sluggards sleep, and you will have corn to sell and to keep.

Pride is as loud a beggar as want, and a great deal more saucy.

Silks and satins, scarlets and velvets, put out the kitchen fire.

Diligence is the mother of good luck. Pride breakfasted with plenty, dined with poverty, and supped with infamy.

Extravagance and improvidence end at the prison door.

THE BEST FLOUR MILL IN THE STATE.
—At the last Agricultural State Fair, the Knight's Landing Eagle Steam Flour Mill received the First Premium (a silver ice bowl, $50). This confirms our statements made some time ago, that there is no other mill in the State that can compete with it, nor is there any other than Mr. Z. Gardner who would do more to make any and all the late improvements requisite to make good flour. We can also recommend his flour to everybody. "Hurrah for Knight's Landing."

PUBLIC SPEAKING.—On Thursday night last Dr. Read, candidate, on the Republican ticket, for Assembly, and Mr. Wyckoff, candidate, on the Douglas ticket, for the same position, in accordance with previous notice, addressed the citizens of this place, at length, upon the political issues of the day. Mr. Wood, the candidate of the Breckinridge Democracy, for the Assembly, was prevented, we are sorry to say, by sickness from being present and participating in the discussion. Dr. Reed and Mr. Wyckoff occupied the time until a late hour and at the conclusion of Mr. Wyckoff's remarks Mr. Baldwin was called for, who responded in a brief manner to a few of the points under discussion, taking issue with both the gentlemen who had spoken, and expressing his regret that the evening was so far spent as not to permit a more elaborate investigation. Good attention was given by the audience, which was large—filling the house. Fairness and candor characterized the discussion.

DRUG STORE.—A. B. Smith & Co., of Sacramento are going to open a drug store in this place. They intend to be ready for business in about two weeks.

Interesting to Business Men—The Stationery Trade.

Gradually the light dawns upon us, and one by one the facts break forth, that we, anation of ten years' growth, are fast becoming civilized. Not only the rudiments of intellect, as manifested in the various mechanical contrivances of our mines and farms, but literature and the fine arts are taking unto themselves a local habitation and a name in our midst. Stationery follows closely upon the heels of refinement, and few persons are aware of the extent and importance of this branch of our trade. The word Stationer, originally, signifies Bookseller, from his occupying a stand or station, but as the publication and sale of books increased, it was separated from that of the other, the name Stationer, remaining with the vendor of Paper, Ink, Pens, &c.

At this day, and in our country, a book and Stationery store is a perfect thermometer of the nature extent and quality of the community. Wherever you see a neat, well kept establishment of this kind, with a gentlemanly and intelligent proprietor, you may be sure you are in the midst of an intellectual, refined and well informed people.

About two years ago, Mr. Albert L. Bancroft, brother of the eminent Publisher and Bookseller, conceived the idea of taking Stationery and making it a separate and distinct branch of trade devoting his best energies to that alone. No house exclusively Stationery had as yet been started upon the Pacific Coast. Accordingly after having spent one year in preparation, the requisite arrangements were consummated for receiving regular supplies from the Mills and Manufactories of the United States, England, France and Germany, and the enterprise launched in San Francisco, early in 1860, under the name of A. L. Bancroft & Co., Mr. H. H. Bancroft becoming junior partner in the firm.

So far it has proved a decided success, there not being a town of any consequence in California, Oregon, Washington or Utah which does not contain one or more customers of this house. Closely allied to the interests of this new firm, stands the old house of H. H. Bancroft & Co. with its large warehouses crowded to overflowing with books in every department of literature. The customers of these two houses derive great advantages in their being able to make up their entire stock from them, and by each department of their business being carried on separately and upon its own merits. We heartily say patronize the new house of A. L. Bancroft & Co., they deserve it.

Teachers' Convention.

The Yolo County Teachers' Institute, met at Cacheville on Saturday last, and proceeded to business by the election of C. S. Smyth, President pro tem. and W. S. Reavis Secretary.

Mr. Frink asked and obtained consent to read a letter from Mr. Gaddis, the County Superintendent, congratulating them upon their zealous efforts in behalf of the cause of education, and excusing himself for not attending. The following officers were then elected: Henry Gaddis, President; Mr. Pierce, Secretary; Mr. Frink, Critic, and some others whose names I did not obtain.

When the following resolves were unanimously carried, that Mr. Frink will deliver the address at the next meeting, and that Messrs. Reavis, Smyth and Spencer, each will present an essay on the "subject of the Institute," and that all the Teachers in this County, whether engaged in teaching at present, or not, be requested to join the Institute. Miss Templeton, was elected an honorary member of the Institute.

The meeting then adjourned to meet again at the Court House, at 7 o'clock, A. M. Long before the hour arrived, the house was full to overflowing. When the hour arrived, Mr. Smyth called the house to order and introduced Mr. Pierce to the audience; who spoke for near 2 hours. If the production was designed as an encouragement to parents, to lend their aid to the cause of education, as I suppose it was. It was a poor effort, it lacked all that plain common placed argument that the occasion required; but as a literary production—it was good, and done credit to its author.

Mr. Chinn was called—after some remarks of rather an apologetical character, he proceeded to describe a something that he said came up in his stomach, (or went down, I do not remember which), and then traveled around through the corporeal to his head, by way of his boots, and then back to his boots again, that he first thought was a speech, but after a close inspection he found to be something else—that brought the house down with a will.

At the close of Mr. Chinn's remarks, Mr. McCormick was called, but he declared Mr. Smyth was called; he spoke but a few words of encouragement to the cause, and concluded by a playful sally at Mr. Chinn, which caused a good deal of merriment. Mr. Frink was called but refused to speak.

But in my judgement the speech of the occasion, was made by Judge Davies. He handled the subject in a plain, but I thought very appropriate style. He showed that the whole fabric of civil liberty, vested solely upon the culture of the masses, that in proportion as the body politic was educated, the nation would rise in the scale of grandure; that in fact every moral, political and social endowment of man, worth preserving, owes its greatest virtue to the training of the mind. The whole thing was a complete success, and shadowed forth the first dawning of a new era in the educational system of our County.

The next meeting will be held in January, at Yolo City.

Yours, Z.

LETTER FROM SACRAMENTO.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 18th, 1860.

Murder! Murder! Murder! Do you think I am raising a false alarm? Then read what follows. I am not one of those who get frightened easily, as I have seen too much blood shed in my life to feel any particular horror on the announcement that a homicide has been committed. But the bloody record of former times, at least since I have been the correspondent of the NEWS, has been entirely eclipsed by the past week, so far as this vicinity is concerned, if I except that one murderous exploit of Wells. The first bloody affair I have to record occurred on Saturday night, between ten and eleven o'clock, James Sears, a butcher by trade, while in an intoxicated state, entered the house of a courtesan by the name of Eliza Petit Jean, residing on the west side of Third street, near the corner, between K and L streets where some difficulty arose between the two, and the noise brought to her assistance Jules Martenot, a keeper of a restaurant on Second street, but who resides in the rear of Eliza's house. The woman and Martenot state that as soon as Martenot came in at the back door, Sears fired his revolver and ran out, followed by the wounded man; and while Sears was running to the corner, Martenot discharged two shots at him, but without effect. Sears was arrested soon after by Chief Watson, on a discription given of him by the woman.

On Monday night last, information was lodged at the Police office in this city, that a murder had been committed in Yolo county, near Willow Slough. It appears that the cause of the quarrel which led to the homicide was a dispute about the possession or ownership of a farm in the possession of Jacob Ryherd. The other parties claiming the land were a Dr. Merritt and brother, and who, accompanied by Judd McClerg, J. Haynes and four or five others, went to the ranch about sundown last night, in a wagon, and on driving up to where Ryherd and his hired man, named Frank Eakle, were standing; a quarrel commenced which led to the firing of some four or five shots from the wagon by some of the party, when Ryherd was shot dead and Eakle wounded in the leg.

As Sacramento county has sins enough of its to bear in the murder line, just remember that this line belongs to your county—Yolo.

On Monday night, as T. L. Schell, late Purser of the Pacific Steamship Golden Age, was passing up Ninth street, towards the residence of Mr. Gibbs, and when on the west side of the street, between G and H, some villain approached and struck him a blow on the head with a slung shot. Mr. Schell grappled the man, when they fell, an Schell bit the robber on the face, and the robber gouged badly one of Schell's eyes! In the tussle the robber got no booty, but retired with the loss of his hat, which was taken to the police office, covered with blood. Schell has recovered from the effects of the blow given him, and went down to San Francisco yesterday afternoon.

It may be proper to state here that the physician of Jules Martenot; yesterday said that his patient was getting along finely.

A dispatch to the Bee yesterday from San Francisco announces the death of Gen. Clarke, Commander of the United States forces on the Pacific coast.

I heard Hon. M. Gwin make a speech last night at the Forrester Theater. He made himself out to be a persecuted individual, and declared himself abused and misrepresented by the "subsidized press." He was in favor, in regard to the overland mails, of letting the Butterfield contract run out, and after that to have all our mail matter brought by the Central Route. He had been charged, he said with being a disunionist. As an answer to the charge, he pointed to his hair, and said he was too old to be a revolutionist. He was now fighting for the Union and for the equal rights of all sections of it.

I have no doubt Gwin is furnishing a large portion of the "sinews of war" for his party in the present campaign; but at the same time I think him a mill-stone on the neck of the party. Many Breckinridge men in this city declare they will not vote for the Breckinridge Legislative ticket in this county for the reason that the nominees will not declare themselves opposed to the re-election of Gwin to the Senate. At one time I thought the Breckinridge Legislative ticket would receive as many votes as Breckinridge; but now I do not think so. Gwin's unpopularity will be the cause, if the ticket runs behind Breckinridge.

A dispatch in the Bee last Saturday stated that a man, supposed to be the murderer Wells, had been arrested at a place called New York of the Pacific. It is believed to be a hoax, as no intelligence has been received since confirming the dispatch. Rumors were in circulation yesterday that Wells had been brought up overland, and lodged in the Station house; but they were, of course, without foundation in fact.

It is now but a short time to the election, and yet very little enthusiasm is manifested by the supporters of either Presidential candidate. The Republicans, I think, stir up about all the enthusiasm that is felt, because they feel almost sure of electing their President, whether they carry the State or not. I hope this lack of enthusiasm in the different parties will not result in a small vote being cast. With four Presidential candidates in the field, and every shade of politics represented, the people will have a good opportunity to choose from. Our census, too, has just been taken, and I would like to see how many voters we actually have. With a population about half as large as New York city, we have more voters than the great metropolis. Then every voter should take into consideration the importance of one vote. One simple vote sent Oliver Cromwell to the long Parliament, Charles Stuart to the scaffold, revolutionized England and made Great Britain free. One vote made Thomas Jefferson President, and has made Governors; one vote gave us Texas, made war with Mexico, purchased California, turned the tide of emigration, and laid the foundation for the grandest empire in the world.

W. H. Brown, who shot W. W. Corcoran, and who was refused to be admitted to bail by the Police Judge, was, on a writ of habeas corpus, taken before the Supreme Court, and admitted to bail in the sum of $10,000.

S. H. Brooks to-day bet $2,000 that Douglas would not receive more votes in this State than Breckinridge. Betting seems to be all the rage just now with the politicians.

Yours,
P.

Inquest of Jacob Ryherd.

Coroner Taylor, of Washington, Yolo county, yesterday afternoon subpoenaed a jury in the case of Jacob Ryherd, killed on Monday night, in Cache Creek township, before whom the following testimony was taken, and the following verdict given:

Samuel Kirkham sworn—I was called on at eight o'clock, last evening; I found the body in the field, some men present; I do not know the men; the deceased was lying on his back; the deceased held an eight-inch revolver, Eagle Company, in his left hand, between the fore finger and thumb, the fore finger through the guard; the pistol was cocked; the barrels were all empty but two; one loaded barrel had passed the hammer without being discharged, or showing any signs of being snapped; I took charge of the pistol and had the body removed to the house, and then, with the assistance of the doctor, we made an examination; we found the ball had entered the left side of the spine, about level with the heart, passing through and coming out of the breast bone of the right side and lodging under the skin; Dr. Fisk extracted the ball which I now show to the jury; we washed the wound and dressed the body; the deceased's name is Jacob Ryherd; I should think he was between twenty-five and thirty years of age; this all occurred on the evening of the 15th of October, 1860, in Yolo county.

William Schuder sworn—I reside in Yolo county, near the shooting, half a mile distant; a man came running up to our house and said there were two men shot; I came on down and found the man that was wounded lying on the ground; I stayed there until some other men came; I then left the wounded man (Eakle) and went to the house for some sticks to carry him home, and in some 300 or 400 yards I came across another man that was lying on the ground shot dead; his name is Jacob Ryherd; this occurred on the 15th of October, in the evening, between sundown and dark.

T. C. Eakles sworn—I left the pistol at Jacob Ryherd's house last week, and believe the pistol shown me to be the same one that I left.

Catharine Ryherd sworn—The first words I heard was some person in the wagon halloo out to my husband and brother, "G—d—d—d your hearts, leave here;" he repeated the above language; brother started off in a lopp towards the house, the party in the wagon following them and shooting at them; they shot my brother off his horse; my husband jumped off his horse, and ran about two hundred yards; they shot him down; my little brother started after my brother whom they had shot; they turned after him and shot at him several times, saying, "G—d—d your little heart I will kill you too if you do not leave here, and the last one on the ranch that comes near;" that is the way I understood them; I think they followed my little brother about one hundred yards, shooting at him; then turned after me, shooting at the same time; I got on my brother's horse that he was shot from, and went to my mother's residence; I think that all the party in the wagon were shooting, except the driver (I believe to be John Haynes), at my husband and brother; the names of the party in the wagon were Dr. Merritt, Al Merritt and Judah McClerg, and I believe one to be John Gonner and one Bullard, and I think another a Frenchman, and another whom I do not know, but have seen before; this shooting was done on our own ranch, or on the one which we claim, on the evening of the 15th of October 1860, in Yolo county; the deceased's name is Joseph Ryherd and he is 27 years old; the deceased had on his person over one hundred dollars yesterday evening, and after the shooting the purse when found in his pocket was empty; my husband had a note against Dr. Merritt; where it is I do not know; after leaving on the horse, some four or five hundred yards, I looked back and saw two of the party out of the wagon on the ground somewhere in the vicinity where my husband was killed.

DISPOSITION OF E. F. EAKLE.

B. F. Eakle on oath says, that on the evening of the 15th October, 1860, in the township of Cache creek, county of Yolo, went to the northwest corner of Jacob Ryherd's claim, where he (Ryherd) was making preparations for removing his house; went both on one horse to the place and stopped. Soon after, Albert Merritt, Dr. Merritt, John Haynes, Judah McClerg and some three others, armed with guns and pistols, came up in a wagon at a fast gate, when Albert and Merritt said to us, "Stand back!" Mr. Ryherd said he wouldn't. Albert Merritt then jumped out of the wagon and said he would make him stand back. About this time both Merritt and Judah McClerg fired upon us, hitting me in the thigh, breaking it; fired about the time Ryherd was getting off the horse. Ryherd then started to run, when Haynes said, "Follow him to the house." Albert Merritt followed after him, not being able to overtake him, called to the driver of the wagon, Haynes, to come on. Merritt got into the wagon; they put the horses into a run, I soon heard a gun and Ryherd halloo. Dr. Merritt came back by me, cursed me, and said that was the way they would do with all of us. I was a hired man by Ryherd, and was in no way armed.

VERDICT.

We, the jury, find that the deceased came to his death from a bullet shot from a rifle or revolver, discharged by Dr. Merritt, Judah McClerg or some other person named in the testimony, to the jury unknown, on the 15th day of October, 1860, in Yolo county, California; and that his age was twenty-seven years.
