Seventy Orphan Children Visit Never Never Land

When Peter Pan scampered across the silver sheet of the T. D. & L. theatre this afternoon into the thrilling delights of the Never Never Land, he encountered a great, big, shaggy-haired lion, the bodyguard of seventy little orphans, who, with six nuns from Mother Cabrini's Preventatorium in San Fernando valley, came to the matinee performance as guests of Glendale Lions' club.

Sevently little faces shone with delight, and seventy little hearts were thrilled with the magic of story-book lore, as Peter Pan carried them away to his underground home and into adventures with Indians and pirates.

The good fairy of the tawny mane was more than delighted to see the happiness brought to the little orphan hearts by the beneficence of members of the Glendale Lions' club.

E. J. Vaughn, manager of the theatre, loyal Lion of the Glendale den, with W. B. Kelly, club president, made all plans for the matinee party. Their plans were consummated, when O. H. Smith, passenger traffic manager of the Pa-cific-Electric railway, who because the children are orphans and because they were charged no admission at the theatre, was able to provide two huge motor busses and drivers to transport them to and from Glendale, without violation of a ruling of the State Railroad commission

The Pacific Electric railway operates under the rules and regulations of the State Railroad commission and the state body is very strict about permitting free transportation. However, the circumstances surrounding the transporta-tion of the orphans were explained and Traffic Manager Smith very promptly an-nounced that his company would be only too happy to provide the two big busses for the little ones.

Members of the Glendale den of Lions have asked The Glendale Evening News to express sincere thanks to Manager Vaughn of the theatre and Traffic Manager Smith of the Pacific Electric for their

HIGHWAY'S GREATEST ASSET

California, in the number of automobiles registered, is only a few machines behind New York, and it is very likely that in the year 1925 we will lead all other states in the union in this regard. California is a land of wonderful scenery, delightful climate and magnificent distances, and the automobile has been one of the chief causes contributing to our development.

All of us but the very young can remember when the automobile was a luxury, how the cry of extravagance was heard when salaried men and laborers began to purchase cars. But now the automobile is an indispensable factor in business and has added tremendously to the earning power of the nation.

Not only has the automobile been the direct means of giving employment to millions of people, but it has been the agency that has transported the worker quickly and easily to and from his job, and it has kept the people more fit for work by promoting and encouraging the outdoor life.

This being true, California's greatest asset is her splendid highways. We should not be niggardly when it comes to providing the wherewithal to maintain and expand our highway

There is considerable opposition to the proposal to increase the present 2-cents a gallon tax on gasoline, but the San Francisco Chronicle presents good argument for such a step.

"It is admitted," says the Chronicle, "it would be futile to submit a new bond issue to the people, so that means of raising money is practically eliminated from the discussion. There remain the alternatives of adding a cent to the gasoline tax or revising the auto license fees upward. The only equitable means of creating additional funds is to increase the gas tax to 3 cents. This would resolve itself down to a simple method of paying as we go and strictly on a basis of how far we go. The operator of a truck or a passenger coach, or the owner of a car who uses it continuously on the highways, would by this plan pay more in proportion than the man who uses the roads to give his family a week-end outing. That this is a fair and just division of the tax there can be no dispute. It calls upon those who derive the largest returns on the investment to pay according to the benefits they receive.

"Likewise it is an established fact that it is the heaviest cars that cause the greatest wear and tear on the highways. They consume more gasoline in a given distance than the lighter machines.

"The 2-cent gas tax which has been in effect for more than a year has worked no hardship. It has not been noticeable to a single automobile driver in the state. It has not decreased the sale of gasoline nor the operation of cars. We venture that it has not induced a single autoist to curtail his mileage on a business or pleasure trip. Now what will an additional cent on a gallon of gasoline amount to? The records show that the car of moderate price and weight is by long odds in the majority in California. On an average they can travel twenty miles on a gallon of gasoline. It is the usual thing for the autoist to drive up to a gasoline station and order five gallons put in his tank. Under the proposed 3-cent tax he would pay 5 cents more for his gasoline than he does now-5 cents additional for operating his car 100 miles. Of course there are car owners who will pay more, but they are not so numerous as this 'little fellow.'

WE ARE ALL ALIKE

Those who come from foreign shores to visit us on one errand or another never hesitate to tell us of our deficiencies as a people and as a country ere they depart. A charming European, just the other day, when about to leave us, declared that she found it a matter for grave concern that our women all look alike, they are becoming standardized. She couldn't tell the shop girls from the society women.

Another "thoughtful student" from London spent five months visiting our colleges, and though he found some good things to say of them, he summed up as follows:

"Although one meets students who obviously show promise of becoming great engineers and so forth, one rarely meets a student who seems destined to become a Darwin, a Beethoven, a Shelley. One of the main reasons why the American Uni- fic aspect turns this day's influversity system is not going the right way to produce men of ences to good, according to asgenius in art and philosophy, pure science and literature, is be- trology. Earlier Saturn and cause diversity of character is not encouraged but suppressed; Uranus are adverse. for genius is the flower of exceptional diversity. . . . The tyranny of categories is pushed to an extreme point and has a sign for theatrical affairs. Plays very important effect in reducing the individual to a mere and players should benefit this member of a category, and robbing him of his individuality to what I consider a dangerous extent.'

The complaint of the visitor that she could not tell our shop are forecast for this season which girls from our society women would seem "nothing to worry about," as far as we are concerned; in fact, it should be a matter for congratulation.

But there is truth in the charge so often made that we are becoming standardized. Go into an American home and you definitely marked in art and litwill find the same kind of furniture as in every other American news crowd and you will find the topics of conversation are the same. If we dare to be "different" we are ridiculed. If we choose the line of least resistance and follow the crowd we are standardized. It's a hard life. But, although we may look and act | than usual in 1925. just like everybody else, no one can prevent us from feeling superior.

COST OF EDUCATION

Every now and then some statistician is trying to take the joy out of life and frighten us out of our extravagant habits by compiling figures showing just how much we spend foolishly each year. Heretofore we have been proud of our generosity toward the cause of education, but Capper's Weekly admonishes us to consult the following figures whenever we think we are spending too much on the schools.

Our yearly expenditures for education-all schools and colleges-total $1,100,000,000. We spend exactly twice this well as unrest among workers. amount for tobacco; candy and soft drinks cost us $400,000,000 more than schools. We spend $8,000,000,000 on the movies, $3,000,000,000 for joy rides and pleasure resorts, and $10,000,-000,000 for luxurious foods and service. Luxuries and nonessentials take 25 per cent of our national income as compared tion the mind should be safewith the 11/2 per cent spent for education.

Bad Checks By DR. FRANK CRANE

There are two kinds of bad checks. One is given by man, the other by nature.

One kind is written on paper, the other on character.

One is worth nothing, the other may be worth everything.

The first is a worthless check passed by a orger. The second is when a bolt of misfortune -a bad check in the advancement toward your goal-comes out of a blue sky. Then you have to do one of two things: quit, or work harder than ever. A horse's mettle is tested by pulling on the reins; a man's by receiving a bad check from nature.

Most of us can do so much more than we are doing that an obstacle we have to climb often makes us accomplish more with a handicap than we would have done without it.

Huber is the case of another blind man who made a bad check redound to his success. Although he was blind, he became the greatest authority during his lifetime on the subject of

It will be found, in the history of most men who have achieved success, that this has been due to their overcoming of obstacles, and not to their having had no obstacles to overcome. In fact, obstacles are put before us as a challence to our ability. Overcoming what is unpleasant or what is a difficulty in our way has a tendency to develop our faculties.

We should not complain, therefore, when Nature or events put difficulties before us. We should hitch up our belt a notch tighter, and tackle them, for in so doing we develop our strength, and make ourselves much fitter to meet future dangers.

Life is just one obstacle after another, and "to him that overcometh shall be given the crown of

This passage of Scripture is one that we should always keep in mind, for it is our overcoming ability that demonstrates the amount and quality of life in us. We are constantly running away from difficulties, but, after all, it is these that bring out the best there is in us.

The Best of By CLARK KINNARD

The twentieth century has frequently been called "the century of the child." But Ellen Key points out that, even in our century, parents for the most part may be divided into two classes: those who act as if their children existed only for their benefit, and those who act as if they existed only for their children's benefit; the results, she adds, being alike deplorable.

For the first group of parents tyrannize over the child, seek to destroy its individuality, exercise an arbitrary discipline too spasmodic to have any of the good effects of discipline and would model him into a copy of themselves, though really, she adds, it ought to pain them very much to see themselves exactly copied.

The second group of parents may wish to model their children, not after themselves, but after their ideals, yet they differ chiefly from the first class by their over-indulgence, by their anxiety to pamper the child by yielding to all his caprices and artificially protecting him from the natural results of those caprices, so that, instead of learning freedom, he has merely acquired self-will. These parents do not indeed tyrannize over their children, but they do worse; they train their children to be tyrants.

Against these two tendencies Ellen Key declares her own Alpha and Omega of the art of education:

Try to leave the child in peace; live your own life beautifully, nobly, temperately, and in so living you will sufficiently teach your children to live.

There are endless theories of education, but no greater agreement concerning the value of any of them, and the whole question of education remains open. "Education, whatever else it should or should not be, must be an inoculation against the poisons of life and an adequate equipment in knowledge and skill for meeting the changes of life." the definition given by Havelock 1251/2 N. Brand Blvd. Ellis, who has been called the most civilized of living English-

Do You Know the "Savings Feeling"?

A SENSE of prosperity and independence belongs to the saver. He is prosperous, for in his savings pass book is the key to financial advancement. He is independent, for his savings provide a bulwark against adversity and through them he may purchase whatever he wants that money can buy.

The saver holds his head high. He feels that he is a more important citizen of his community-and actually is. The possession of property of any sort from a savings account to the many things that grow out of it-engenders better citizenship.

That is the "savings feeling." It may be purchased in small monthly pay-ments through a teller's window at this bank.

"Come on, Uncle Wiggily! Come! "Oh!" gasped Uncle Wiggily. "I didn't know it was you." "Well, I knew it was you." snarled the Bob Cat. "I heard you singing, and I've come to nibble you!"

Uncle Wiggily looked at his soapy lather brush and at his razor. Then he looked at the Bob Cat's whiskers which were quite long.
"Oh, I never could think of letting you nibble me with such long, straggily whiskers as you have," cried the bunny. "First I must shave your long whiskers off!" And with that Uncle Wiggily made a jump toward the Bob Cat, holding the lathery brush and the razor.

"No! No! I don't want to be shaved!" howled the Bob Cat. "Don't you dare cut my whiskers off!" And out of the bath room window he jumped and sprained his left toenail. For the Bob Cat was very proud of his whiskers, not to say vain, and the longer they grew the better he liked them. So he couldn't bear to think of being shaved.

"Well, I fooled him all right, laughed Mr. Longears, as he finished trimming his own beard. Then he and Nurse Jane went to see Aunt Lettie. And the goat lady laughed so much, when the bunny told her about the Bob Cat jumping out of the window, that she wasn't ill at all any more. And I think that was the best thing

Ripley Comments on Post Card Rate Raise

Action of the United States Senate late yesterday, increasing the charge on postal cards from 1 cent to 2 cents, will not tend to decrease the volume of mail, according to Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson and other officials at the Glendale postoffice. One change will be apparent, officers said. There will be few postcards used in the future, the public prefer-ring the privacy of the enclosed s long as the postage price is the same. The action will not affect "direct-by-mail" advertisers who use printed circulars, officials said, despite the fact that an attempt to increase the circular rate to 2 cents will be made shortly. This would have the effect of curtailing such means of advertising, Postmaster Jackson said. Postal employes hailed the news that a 2-cent rate on postcards had passed the Senate as indicating postal wage increases are near at

Adam's Apple Covered Up In Best Of Society, Rule Of Fashion Today

By AILEEN LAMONT

Special Correspondent of The Glen-dale Evening News, Copyright, 1925. WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 .- If Eve were alive today she would have made herself a fern neckpiece as well as a fig leaf apron. For ears now may be revealed, decolletes may be low, backs may be bare and skirts may be short-but the Adams apple should not be unadorned. Chokers are cherished whether they consist of a string of beads, a scarf, a neckpiece of fur, or a woolen semblance of the

The number of high necked, long sleeve dresses is so remarkable that the trend is not to be Scarfs are worn with practically every costume from a boudoir robe to a bathing suit and from sport dresses to low necked evening frocks. But it is in furs and their imitations that the fashion makes itself most evident. Women who spend time and thought on their costumes are buying the pelts themselves-sable, fox, squirrel and lynx-and having their chokers made from their own designs. In nearly every instance these neck coverings are wrapped high, tight and close with per-haps, head, claws and tail forming the fastening at one side.

Style In Scarfs winter resort costumes carry out these designs in the lighter summer furs. Some of the new scarfs are made of wide reversible ribbons joined together and fringed. Other scarfs are fastened close about the neck with gay colored leather flowers. A bow with a single loop serves the same purpose with others.

It is not essential that the scarfs have long ends. Some have only the proportions of a cravat and are tied close about the throat with the same knot used for a navy neckerchief. The jewel chokers range from crystal beads to pearls and balls of gold and silver filigree.

The real novelty, however, is the snug-fitting chokers knitted of zephyr wool in such a manner as to give the effect of a row of pompon about the neck. These are made in the pastel and jewel shades so popular for spring

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, Jan. 27 .-One of the most successful dances ever given by the La Crescenta Women's club was held last Saturday night. Specially arranged lights made the school auditorium where the affair was held a fairylike place. Overhead in the center of the room was a large silver crystal which when lighted by the spotlight threw the reflections of the dancers from every angle in glowing colors. Refreshments were served by Mesdames C. A. Haskins, Fred Anderson and Mark S. Collins, under whose auspices the dance was given. On Wednesday afternoon the La Crescenta Women's club will dena, will present its program. There also will be a number of dances in costume given by the pupils of the Norma Gould school. These meetings are held in the school auditorium and begin at

High Cost Of Keeping Clean Reaches Large Amount; Campaign Is On

By O. L. SCOTT pecial Correspondent of The Glen-ale Evening News, Copyright, 1925 CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—The cost of keeping clean in Chicago has jumped with such leaps and bounds of late that a new rumpus under way hereabouts to jostle the city fathers into some sort of action that will bring their metropolis back among the other big places of the country where laundry bills are normal.

A cry against this winter's smoke is extending from the highest to the lowest and from the oldest to the youngest inhabitants, accelerated by estimates of the Chicago smoke abatement commission that soot adds $42,-000,000 to this city's laundry bill These mathematicians have it that smoke costs each Chicago family $50 a year, and any family will vouch for the fact that the estimate is far too

There's nothing like ft in the country, although Pittsburgh and Cincinnati have per capita laundry bills that approximate Chicago's and this does not take into consideration the extra effort that housewives and washwomen put into this increasingly difficult business of keeping down the city's grime.

Charge for Towels studies of the 400,000 smoke stacks that grace the Chicago sky line convince the abatement commission that at least $8,000,000 is lost annually in the poor use of fuel, while loss of health and business losses from such palls of smoke as settle over the city when clouds hang low, was not computed. Health Commissioner Herman Bundesen has said though, that a Chicago baby

has a black coating in his lungs

before he's three months old,

while emphasizing that every Chicagoan is a smoke burner. Now the smoke business is striking out to take the pennies away from school children, with a tax placed on washed hands and faces. The towel bill alone in Chicago schools totals $22,000, which the school board is balking at paying. It proposes to charge a penny a towel for each one used. Even this charge would result in only a partial recovery of the ex-

SUNLAND NOTES

SUNLAND, Jan. 27 .- One of he recent weddings of interest to Sunland was that of Miss Emily McKinstry and Anders Wodder, which took place at the home of Rev. Edgar W. Pasko, Tujunga. The bride's mother and father and Mr. and Mrs. James Owen, her aunt and uncle, attended the couple. The bride wore a gown of tan satin crepe, braided in tan, brown velvet hat trimmed in os-trich feather pompons, with slip-pers and hose to match. The bridal couple spent Saturday and Sunday in Los Angeles and upon their return to Sunland Sunday evening a wedding supper served in their honor by relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Wodder will be at home to their friends at their home on Hill street, between Flower and First street, Sunland.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schriefer were given a surprise farewell party on the eve of their departure for El Monte, where they will go into business. Games were played and refreshments served. Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Lancaster, Mr. Mrs. Colin C. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Blumfield, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. A. Adams, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Adams; Mesdames E. Banished Coach Willing to Tell Judge Everything He Knows of Bribe

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Cozy
Dolan, the man who may yet get around to the matter of remem-bering what he forgot, if anything, is coming back to Broadway within the next forty-eight hours to answer for his part, if any, in baseball's latest scandal.

His attorney, William J. Fallon, reaffirmed today his statement that Dolan will welcome a reopening of the case, but neglected to state just when Cozy will furnish visible evidence of this sentiment.

One report had it that Dolan will appear at the district attorney's office today, to be questioned at or about the same time as Horace Ford, Philadelphia second baseman, the first man to whom Sand told of O'Connell's attempted bribery. But nothing has been heard of Dolan leaving his home at Oshkosh, Wis. In fact, Dolan's silence has been almost painful during recent months.

No Jurisdiction
Assistant District Attorney Brothers, conducting the investigation, is believed to know of Dolan's intentions, but Brothers is saying very little these days. He did admit, however, that if Dolan declines to appear, nothing immediate could be done about it.

The former Giant coach, alleged by O'Connell to have been the inspiration behind his, O'Connell's, attempted bribe, has been barred from baseball; therefore he no longer is under the jurisdiction of Judge Landis' office. The judge has notified the district attorney's office that he can and will produce all others identified with the case excepting Dolan and O'Conneil, the two men dropped from the lists as a result of the original inquiry.

Wife Says Dolan In Chicago on Business

OSHKOSH, Wis., Jan. 27.— Cozy Dolan is in Chicago "on business" but cannot be reached there, according to Mrs. Dolan, his wife, who came here with him some weeks ago. Mrs. Dolan refused them. STILL GOOD DRAW

Beating at Hands of Delaney Fails to Distract From His Ring Ambitions

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925 NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Newark, N. J. promoters who called off the Ted Moore-Tiger Flowers engagement when Delaney knocked out Flowers in New York are now realizing that they cted hastily.

It was the shrewd Tex Rickard who convinced them of this. Believing—and wisely so—that Flowers' drawing powers had not been hurt by his knockout, he signed him to meet Barlenbach and don't think there won't be a crowd to see this show.

In the meantime, Flowers is proceeding with his plans to be the hero of a film series which will be displayed in movie houses patronized by colored folk. Neither he nor his manager, nor the public, for that matter, seem to feel that all was lost when he collided with Delaney's right fist. Berlenbach was similarly unfortunate, but see how they still pack 'em in when he does battle.

As for Delaney, he seems to be in the unfortunate position of not being able to pick up good money through meeting second raters. He has got to fight the top notchers to rake in soft coin in any volume.

ly to Cincinnati's chances of finishing up at the top. From what not San Francisco held him at such a high price.

As it is, the Reds have signified their intenton of usng Bressler at first, although he is not as good as his predecessor, and according to the experts who have seen both, not as good as Ellison. Cincinnati needs a good first baseman this year, as the remainder of the infield will be made over to some extent and a first baseman who cannot help the youngsters will handicap the team.

Jack Hendricks, the Red manager, has confidence in Bressler's ability to do well. Bressler has filled in now and then at first, 25 to 15, at the Harvard High ter-mile test much more difficult but it is one thing to fill in and another to play the game every day. It is more and more evident that much of the success of favored to administer a more any ball club depends upon a high stinging defeat to the churchmen ball club depends upon a highclass first baseman.

The Chicago Nationals have been handicapped in their fights for the championship because they have not had a good first baseman for some time and the trade with Pittsburgh was made as much to get a high class first baseman as anything else. The splendid play of Judge at first base for Washington contributed largely to the winning of the 1924 championship. Ellison batted 381 in 1924 in 201 games. If he could do that well in California, he should be a .350 batter in the National league. And even if he batted only .325 he would be a lot of help to the Reds. Daubert at his best was not a uniform hitter of that

The San Francisco club is in need of pitchers and some major organization that needs a first baseman and has some pitchers to spare might make a dicker for Ellison.

Cincinnati is likely to let Caveney go and if the National league club passes him along through waiver channels it is figured that Detroit will be sure to take him, as Caveney can play a little at second base in a pinch. And to this day the Detroits are looking for the second baseman who is to lead them to the pennant they have been seeking so long under management of Hughey Jennings and Ty Cobb.

VACANT LOTS AND ACRES

"TOLD

We-ve been "warning" you—from day to day—that our SACRIFICES of the MILLION DOLLAR VIEW LOTS will soon be a thing of the past. All at once they have begun to "stampede"—last minute stuff as usual. Right now there are only 4 lots at less than $2,000. Of course even our $2500 lots can't be duplicated for less than $1000 more. But when you can still buy a $25250 lot for only $1900—a $2750 lot (60 ft.) for $1750, and

Head of Department Store Returns After Buying Trip Through East

Establishment of a New York office was announced today by H. S. Webb, on his return from a two-week eastern business trip. H. S. Webb & Co. has associated itself with one of the largest ready-to-wear chain stores in the middle west and east, Mr. Webb added, and Grover C. Gant has been placed in charge of this department in the main store at 139 North Brand boulevard.

Mr. Gant comes from the east nd has had a wide experience in ready-to-wear merchandise, according to Mr. Webb. Under his supervision, with the purchasing power gained through the chain store association and the New York office, this department will be able to sell goods not only as cheap but cheaper than the Los Angeles stores, he said, and these goods will be of high quality, in large variety.

Mr. Webb greeted each employe personally on his return, a custom of years' standing, and one of the many that, say his friends, has enabled the human qualities of this well known Glendale merchant to impregnate the very fabric of his commercial success.

Visits Chicago Leaving Glendale January 3 Mr. Webb stopped off in Chicago en route to New York, and again visited the Illinois metropolis on the return trip. Everywhere he found conditions good, particularly in the east, where he declared that the confidence of Wall street has had inspiriting effect on business in general.

In the middle west, farmers are getting good prices for their crops, with the result that conditions are much improved, he said. Transcontinental lines are running three and more sections out of Chicago on all trains, according to Mr. Webb, whose prediction is that Southern California is getting a very big tourist travel this season.

Business everywhere is good and getting better," said Mr. Webb. "The year just past was nothing to brag about generally, but people throughout the middle west and east are satisfied 1925 Sewer in first section under conservations.
