STORMS SWEEP OVER THE EASTERN STATES

Damage Results From Water in Streets and From Fire

WIRES ARE TANGLED TREES BLOWN DOWN

Chicago Wakes to Snow-Covered Streets and Biting Atmosphere

GENERAL FROSTS DOWN COAST TOUCH FLORIDA

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 21.—The eastern shore of Maryland was visited by a furious storm of wind and rain last night and practically every town along the shore suffered severe damage from high water, the tide being the highest experienced in twenty years. In many places the water covered the streets from twelve inches to five feet in depth. A new $20,000 concrete bridge near Eason was carried away and the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's building in Easton caught fire and was burned with a loss of about $5,000.

Chicago Under Snow.
Chicago, Oct. 21.—Chicago awoke this morning to witness the first heavy snowstorm of the season, which at times was almost a blizzard. Light snow began falling last evening and continued all through the night, becoming heavier at daylight. Early this morning the mercury dropped below the freezing point.

Blinded by the storm, Charles Blake, forty years old, a switchman, was run down by a freight train and instantly killed.

Stagnant on the surface and elevated roads was delayed by blizzards and half a dozen persons were reported injured in accidents caused by the snow and ice.

The season's first touch of wintry weather was general to-day east of the Mississippi.

Shifting gales which whipped the Middle Atlantic coast and the lakes region had made their way to sea, leaving crisp, cool areas behind and promises of light snow in some of the regions. General frosts to-day touched the South Atlantic regions as far down as Florida, and there was freezing weather through the Mississippi and Ohio valleys.

Swept New England.
Boston, Mass., Oct. 21.—Tangled wires, prostrated trees and other inland wreckage marked the wake today of the Ohio storm, the tail of which swept New England last night on its way down the St. Lawrence Valley.

Loss $40,000.
Norfolk, Va., Oct. 21.—To-day's estimates of damage by shifting gales which swept the coast here yesterday place the losses as low as $40,000.

Shivering Down South.
Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 21.—The entire country southeast of the Mississippi river shivered this morning. The temperature here was 30 degrees, the coldest in October in 24 years. Killing frosts occurred last night in Tennessee and Northern Georgia and Alabama.

JOINT FUNERAL SERVICE IN DIRIGIBLE DISASTER

Prince on Way to Attend Runs Down and Seriously Injured Child.

Berlin, Oct. 21.—Impressive joint funeral services were held to-day over the bodies of twenty-three of the twenty-eight victims of Friday's disaster to the Zeppelin airship at Johan-nisdal. The emperor and his son were present, accompanied by the empress and the crown princess, while Count Zeppelin and about a thousand officers of the army and navy also attended.
Prince Eitel Fritz, while coming from Potsdam in his automobile to attend the funeral ceremony, struck a five-year-old boy with the wheel of his machine while the child was crossing the street. The boy was seriously injured.

CAR PASSENGERS GET SHOCK FROM BULLET

Seattle, Oct. 21.—Passengers on a Ballard Beach car were temporarily panic-stricken last night when a bullet crashed through one of the windows as the car was crossing Harrison street at First avenue, West. The car was brought to a stop and a number of passengers disembarked in an effort to find the man with the gun.
Later the police department was notified and motorcycle policemen were sent out to investigate.
After puncturing a pane in one of the car windows the missile damaged a newspaper in the hands of a passenger and imbedded itself in the opposite side of the car.

Germany Will Connect Her Colonies With Six High Wireless Towers

Berlin, Oct. 20.—The post office department announces that Germany will have regular wireless service with all her African colonies by May 15, 1914. The German Telefunken Company is working day and night on the erection of five towers of 500 feet in height and one of 128 feet.

This latter will be the highest wireless station in the world except that on the Eiffel Tower in Paris. It will be used in communicating with South Africa, the West Indies and the United States. A gigantic machine, invented by Count Arco, is being built for use on this tower.

It is claimed that this machine is equal to the Goldschmidt invention, which was recently bought by the Marconi company, which acquired control in the French company owning the one-tenth of the energy used by the Goldschmidt invention for the same distance.

EUROPEAN CAPITAL

COMING TO CANADA

Investment Funds Will Be Available and Supplied at Rapid Rate

Winnipeg, Oct. 21.—Advice received in this city during the past ten days from financial centres of Europe would indicate that very large sums of money will be available in the future for investment purposes in this country.
Millions have already been forwarded for loaning purposes in the prairie provinces from the countries of continental Europe, as well as from Great Britain, and the letters to hand from Europe would seem to indicate that those who furnished these funds are well satisfied with developments here.

GOVERNMENT AGAIN HAS CONTROL IN PORTUGAL

Lisbon, Portugal, Oct. 21.—Many arrests were made in the Portuguese capital late last night when several groups of opponents of the government attacked police stations and detachments of the Republican guards in various parts of the city and also attempted to release political prisoners confined in Limverio jail. They succeeded in setting free one prisoner from the district prison. The authorities, eventually suppressed the outbreaks and the government to-day declares itself master of the situation.

TACOMA ENGINEER CONDEMNS U. P. TUNNEL

Tacoma, Oct. 21.—Without warning 1,000 cubic yards of earth caved into the Union Pacific tunnel yesterday morning, leaving a hole 40 feet square in the middle of South Yakima avenue at Jefferson avenue. This is the third cave-in during the last few months.
To-day's cave-in broke a big gas main.
City Engineer Raleigh declares the entire tunnel a menace to the houses and streets over it, and says the city should force the Union Pacific interests to have an adverse effect on military recruiting in Austria.

IMMIGRATION BILL UP BEFORE AUSTRIAN HOUSE

Vienna, Oct. 21.—The Austrian government, as the result of recent developments in the immigration traffic from Austria to the United States and Canada, introduced into the lower house of the Austrian parliament a bill prohibiting any immigration likely to have an adverse effect on military
recruiting in Austria.

SCHMIDT DECLARED SANE.

New York, Oct. 21.—Hans Schmidt, the man who confessed to slaying Anna Ammer and dismembering her body, was sane when the murder was committed, according to the report of four alienists who examined him. The report was made public to-day by District Attorney Whitman.

BORAH TO DENOUNCE MILITANT METHODS

Committee Notified of Senator's Attitude Towards Mrs.
Emmeline Pankhurst

Congratulatory Messages Pour in for the British Suffragette Leader

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21.—Senator Borah, of Idaho, has written the Women's Political Union, of Newark, N. J., that he will not take part in any suffrage meeting where Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst appears without taking the opportunity to denounce militant methods. Responding to an invitation to speak in Newark Saturday night, Senator Borah wrote that if "the visitor now seeking admission should be present at the meeting or if the meeting itself should indicate any sympathy of her gospel of lawlessness and crime, I should feel compelled to express my views in plain and unmistakeable terms."

"While I am most anxious to assist in the cause," wrote Senator Borah, "I will not by silence or by the most indirect way seem to endorse the vicious principles which have been invoked in the fight for woman suffrage in other countries."

New York, Oct. 21.—Hundreds of congratulatory telegrams poured in today on Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, militant British suffragette, admitted to this country at the instance of President Wilson after her brief deteniation at Ellis Island.

She spent the day resting at the home of Mrs. O. H. Belmont, preparatory to delivering an address for the cause of woman suffrage at Madison Square Garden to-night.

BANDHOLTZ EXPECTS PHILIPPINE RISING

Jones Bill Would Relieve Situation
Says Best Informed Authority

Manila, Oct. 21.—That the Philippines face a period of sporadic uprising if the Jones bill fails to pass within a reasonable time is the opinion of an official of the government whose position entitles him to be the best-informed man in the islands on native political affairs.

This prediction is made in the last annual report of Brigadier-General H. H.
Bandholtz. He sees in the Dismal Society an organization of malcontents which is composed of ignorant Philippines, who, while unwilling to start fighting on their own account, are ready and eager to do so under other leadership.

In his report General Bandholtz pays his respects to the local American newspapers for publishing supposedly authoritative accounts of impending insurrections, especially the one scheduled for July 4, and says that no little unbusiness was occasioned to the American community thereby.

RAN SEVERAL BLOCKS WITH KNIFE IN RIBS

Seattle, Oct. 21.—Gus Johnson, 42 years old, ran several blocks early this morning with a long soldier's knife in his ribs. He met a policeman and was taken to the city hospital, where a fresh wound in his back was dressed.

SULZER'S CAMPAIGN TO BE STRONG ONE

the outcome of William Sulzer's race for the legislature? This was the question foremost to-day in the minds of the politicians around the capital.

WILSON OWNS CAT AND MOUSE LICENSE

London, Oct. 21.—President Wilson, it was revealed at the weekly suffrage meeting yesterday, is in possession of one Miss Annie Kenny's "cat and mouse" license, issued when she formally was released from Holloway jail. Almost dead from the effects of the prolonged hunger strike, the suffrage, who is a loyal lieutenant of Mrs. Pankhurst, was borne into the gathering yesterday on a stretcher and sold her last prison license at auction for 22s.

ELECTRIC TEST BEING MADE IN MOUNTAINS

President of C. P. R. Says If Successful System Will Be Electrified

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 21.—The entire system of the Canadian Pacific Railway will be electrified. This was the declaration to-day of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the road, as he started for Winnipeg to inspect sites there for new terminals.

The work now being started in the Rocky Mountains toward the operation of electric instead of steam locomotives over several divisions is merely an experiment, he declared, preliminary to installation of electricity throughout the system; if the experiments prove successful, the Rocky Mountain division, where the experimental work is being done, presents every problem of handling traffic, and if electricity succeeds there its universal adoption is certain on the entire system.

COMMISSION ON WATER LEVELS IS APPOINTED

Members Ready to Start Business but Do Not Agree on Headquarters.

Montreal, Oct. 21.—A commission to report upon the question of water levels on the St. Lawrence and the great lakes with particular reference to the effect upon them of different schemes of water power development has been selected, but a start at operations is delayed owing to a difference of opinion as to whether the operating headquarters should be at Montreal or Ottawa.

The commission as proposed consists of Prof. McLeod, of McGill; Arthur Surveyor, of Montreal, and C. R. Coult, of Montreal. Inquiry to-day effected the statement that no definite arrangements have yet been made for proceeding with the work, mainly owing to the above reason.

DEADLY GERMS FOUND IN LETTER BY MAIL

Chicago, Oct. 21.—A letter, the contents of which may reveal a new deadly method of extortion, was investigated yesterday by the postal inspectors. The epistle was received by Frederick M. Steele, a millionaire manufacturer. The letter, the sender wrote, was filled with deadly germs from which the handler could not avoid contracting a deadly disease, for which only the sender knew the cure.
Mr. Steele said the writer demanded $1500 and the cure would be mailed.

TO LEAVE MEXICO ALONE UNTIL APPROACHING ELECTION IS OVER

British Foreign Minister Notifies United States of Its Present Attitude; United States Inquires Regarding Report of German Subjects Detained at Torreon Before Kaiser's Representative Takes Action

London, Oct. 21.—In his discussion of Mexican affairs with American Ambassador Walter Hines Page yesterday, Sir Edward Grey declined to bind the British government to any particular policy after the elections in Mexico.
In this respect, therefore, the policy of the British government differs from that of the United States.

The British attitude, according to Sir Edward Grey, is that matters should be based on the result.
Ambassador Page explained to the British foreign secretary at some length the policy of the United States and Sir Edward Grey in reply pointed out that nothing thus far had occurred to change the British view that recognition of the provisional government in Mexico was the correct policy.

OPTIMISTIC FOR PASSAGE OF CURRENCY MEASURE BEFORE END OF EXTRA SESSION

President Wilson Willing to Accept Substantial Amendments in Hope of Obtaining Speedy Action From Congress on New Bill

Washington, Oct. 21.—With President Wilson willing to accept substantial amendments to the administration currency bill in the hope of obtaining speedy action on the measure in the senate committee, supporters of the administration grew optimistic to-day over the chances for the passage of the measure before the end of the extra session of congress.

The president in a letter to Majority Leader Underwood announced his willingness to consider a proposal for a recess for the house because he said conferences with members of the senate committee led him to believe the bill would be reported to the senate the first week in November and passed at the present season.

Republican members of the committee and Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, were inclined to look upon this plan as too optimistic, but other members of the committee said they hoped

DAUCOURT WILL TRY TO FLY 3,348 MILES

Issy les Moulineaux, France, Oct. 21.
—The longest aeroplane flight ever attempted was started from here to-day by Pierre Daucourt. He was accompanied by another French aviator, Henri Roux, as a passenger. Daucourt departed on the way to Cairo, Egypt, a distance of 3,348 miles.

Stops are planned at Schaffhausen, Germany; Vienna, Budapest, Belgrade, Bucharest, Varna, in the Black Sea; Constantinople, and other various cities in Asia Minor, including Jerusalem. The flight is to be concluded by way of Port Said and the Egyptian capital.

SAFE WAS ROBBED WHILE RECORDER IN HOSPITAL

Portland, Ore., Oct. 21.—While City Recorder Leaton, of East Side, a small town in Coos county, Oregon, was in the hospital for an operation his safe was robbed of over $2,000 and the combination changed so that it had to be drilled to effect an entrance. The money was paid in for improvement assessments. One hundred dollars taken belonged to Leaton. The affair is shrouded in mystery and the prosecuting attorney is investigating.

WANT TARIFF AGAINST GOODS FROM AMERICA

St. Petersburg, Oct. 21.—The Novos Vremya demands that the government impose a prohibitive tariff on all American products imported into Russia as a reprisal for the American tariff regulations imposing five per cent on goods from countries where no treaty exists. In an angry article the Novos Vremya declares: "America has sacrificed its old friends, France and Russia, to the Jewish magnates under whom the American people have bowed their heads."

expectations. A reduction in the number of reserve banks, fixed by the administration bill at twelve, and the removal of the secretary of agriculture and the comptroller of the currency from the federal reserve board which would control the new currency system, were the amendments which the president let it be known he would not oppose. Almost all the witnesses before the senate committee have contended for these amendments and a majority of the committee is believed to favor them.

The proposed amendments would retain the federal reserve board as a strictly governmental institution, but would provide that it be composed of seven members, six to be appointed by the president and to devote their entire time to the work of the board, and the seventh to be the secretary of the treasury.

WARRANTS FOR SEVEN FROM SCHOOL HAZING

Portland, Ore., Oct. 21.—Samuel Suter, a hotelman of Chilliwack, last night caused John Doe warrants to be issued for seven cadets of Hill Military academy, a school for boys here, and cited them to appear before the juvenile court next Saturday as delinquents.
Suter accuses the boys of having tortured and feathered his son, Clarence Suter, from head to foot, last Tuesday night. The facts concerning the hazing became public immediately after it happened, and were admitted by Dr.
J. W. Hill, principal of the academy, but the identity of the hazers was withheld by young Suter until his father arrived and, with Sheriff Word, conducted an investigation.

Roosevelt and the representative of the ception room in the naval arsenal, which was decorated with Brazilian flags and the Stars and Stripes intertwined.

PANIC PREVENTED BY GIRL PIANIST'S ACTION

San Francisco, Oct. 21.—A girl pianist employed at a local moving picture theatre prevented a panic among the spectators yesterday when, without attracting the attention of the audience, she notified the manager of the fire in the picture operator's room. The blaze was extinguished almost before the audience realized there was a fire. The girl continued playing.

DIFFERENCE IN TIME

FOUND BY WIRELESS

Exchange of Signals From the Eiffel Tower to Arlington Arranged

Paris, Oct. 18.—Wireless telegraphy has enabled the French and American authorities to determine within the one-hundredth part of a second the difference in time between Paris and Washington, but experiments are still in progress for the purpose of eliminating all errors.

The French government has sent a commission to Washington to renew jointly with the American officers at Arlington the exchange of wireless signals with the Eiffel tower. It is composed of Martial Simonin, an astronomer of the observatory of Paris; Capt. A. Carrier, of the colonial infantry; and Naval-Lieut. Gignou. Prof. Henri Abraham, of the Sorbonne, sailed later to join the party, with the object of studying with photographic registration wireless signals and experiment in the velocity in the propagation of wireless waves. Later in the year the first party returns to Paris, and will be replaced by Elot Vignot, an astronomer of the observatory of Paris, and P. Auvary, an ensign of the navy, who have been working in the Eiffel tower.

The officers of both navies will thus work first on one side and then on the other, so as to eliminate as far as possible the errors arising from the personal equation. The astronomical instruments used in the observations will also be employed first on one side and then on the other to correct such slight variations as may be due to mechanical imperfection.

SEND WORLD'S SHIPS

THROUGH THE CANAL

In 1915 International Fleet to Be Gathered in American Waters

London, Oct. 18.—Great Britain to the United States government to send representative vessels of the British navy to the gathering of the international fleet in Hampton Roads early in 1915. The fleet will celebrate the completion of the Panama canal by making a voyage to the Pacific through the new waterway.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21.—Anchored in Hampton Roads early in 1915 will be the greatest international fleet ever gathered in American waters, assembled in answer to the invitation of the United States government to celebrate the opening of the Panama canal by making a voyage to the Pacific through the new waterway. Some of the nations with great navies may be represented by squadrons of four or more warships; others by only one or two, and some of the countries practically without navies, including vessels of the first-class, will be represented only in the personnel of their legations and commissions to the Pan-American Exposition.

The president will go to Hampton Roads to review the assembled fleets as they start on their voyage to San Francisco. The international fleet probably will be under command of an American, in all likelihood Vice-Admiral Caperton, McR. Winslow, for it is expected that congress, which authorized the assembly, will make provision for this new grade rather than have the American commander outranked by some foreign naval officer.

The ceremonies at Hampton Roads, and the time required for a visit to Washington by the foreign visitors will consume about a week or ten days, and then, headed by the American fleet, probably with the super-dreadnought New York at the right of the column, the great Armada will make its way southward for Colon.

It is estimated that about four days will be required to pass the fleets through the locks and the canal, and about twice that length of time will suffice to replenish the coal bunkers and oil tanks of the ships before they resume their cruise, this time steaming northward for San Francisco. Altogether it is planned to make the complete voyage from Hampton Roads to the Golden Gate in forty-two days, which will include a stop of a day or two at some convenient harbor or roadstead on the Pacific coast, probably Magdalena Bay, for additional fuel and supplies.

At San Francisco elaborate ceremonies will be conducted.

GERMANY IS DEAF TO CHURCHILL'S MESSAGE

Suggestion for Naval Holiday Meets With No Response From Kaiser.

Berlin, Oct. 22.—The proposal by Right Hon. Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the British Admiralty, that Great Britain and Germany should declare a "naval holiday" in 1914, was received without sympathy by the German government, which regards it as not calling for a reply.

It is generally considered doubtful whether any official notice will be taken of the suggestion, although it is thought the imperial chancellor may perhaps refer to the subject later on in the course of the debate in the imperial parliament.

The naval authorities here consider that the proposition that Germany should not buy any warships while Great Britain is constructing at least three, cannot be discussed.

ARMED GUARDS ADDED AT FORBES COAL CAMP

One Killed and Three Shot in Pitched Battle in Colorado Yesterday.

Trinidad, Colo., Oct. 20.—Twenty-five armed guards were added to-day to the force at Forbes, the coal camp ten miles north of here, where yesterday the strike broke out. A deputy sheriff shot in a pitched battle between strikers and deputies, it is reported, the wounded deputy, is in a serious condition in a hospital here. Quiet prevailed this morning at Forbes. No arrests have been made. Sixty-one striking miners held in the county jail for picketing at the McLaughlin mine were released to-day at the request of General Manager J. E. McLaughlin, who caused the arrests. Five strikers had been released previously and five are still held for carrying concealed weapons.

MANY PARTIES HUNT IN THE YELLOWHEAD

Edmonton, Oct. 21.—The Yellowhead Pass district is a big game hunters' paradise. A few years ago, previous to the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway, only vague stories were told by the Indians and half-breeds of the wonderful mountain sheep and big bear to be found in that section, but when the steel reached the Yellowhead with the easy access afforded by the railway, advantage was taken of this wonderful game country by famous hunters from not only America, but Europe. Since the season commenced for mountain sheep, goats and bear on September 1, many parties have been taken out by the guides from Jasper, Alberta.

BARBAROUS CUSTOM IS REVIVED BY INDIANS

Douglas, Ariz., Oct. 20.—The ancient custom of heralding victory by making public demonstrations with the heads of the conquered, was revived at Fuerte, Sinaloa, at the time of its occupation by the rebels two weeks ago according to stories told by travellers who reached here to-day.

Following the invasion of Fuerte, the story runs, Yaqui Indians pursued the retreating federal army and captured, among others, Prefecto Torres, a federal commander. The Indians put him to death, and returned with his head, parading it about the streets on a pole. Torres, it is reported, had threatened to execute any constitutionalist who fell into his hands.

NOT AT EXPOSITION. Santiago, Chile, Oct. 20.—The Chilean government definitely decided to-day not to take part officially in the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco, owing to the financial situation of the republic.

Is Guest of Women's Union and Elated at Her Early Release

New York, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette, landed on Manhattan island at 1 o'clock yesterday from Ellis island, where she had been detained since Saturday by the immigration authorities. She had been ordered deported as an undesirable alien, but President Wilson and Secretary of Labor Wilson intervened on her appeal from this decision, and instructed Anthony Caminetti, commissioner-general of immigration, to release her on her own recognizance and without bond. Mrs. Pankhurst will be able to carry out her contemplated lecture tour in this country. She expects to sail for Europe November 28.

Shortly after she landed, Mrs. Pankhurst was taken in an automobile to the residence of Mrs. G. H. Belmont, where she had luncheon, and last night she was dined at the Aldine Club by the Women's Political Union. She was highly elated over her release.

"The American people did it—it is their will," she said. "What will the English say?" Then she paid her respects to Right Hon. Reginald McKenna, the British home secretary, characterizing him as the "chief torturer of England." She said it was not her purpose to preach militancy in this country, but that she would confine herself to an exposition of the treatment accorded the suffragettes in England.

Commissioner-General Caminetti has issued a formal statement outlining the reasons for his decision in the case.

"There is nothing in the record or before me," said the statement, "to indicate that the British government desires that Mrs. Pankhurst shall be returned to England, and the evidence of record indicates that while she was placed under a sentence of three years' penal servitude she has served only a small part of the sentence, and apparently no effort has been made to compel her to serve the remainder, but as a matter of fact, marked leniency has been shown toward the applicant by the English authorities.

MISS KENNY CHEERED BY WOMEN FRIENDS

Idol of Votes Movement Makes Dramatic Appearance After Hunger Strike.

London, Oct. 20.—A dramatic appearance at the weekly suffragettes' meeting to-day was made by Miss Annie Kenny, organizer of the Woman's Social and Political Union, the militant organization.

Suffering from the effects of a "hunger strike" in Holloway jail, the idol of the women's movement, looking extremely feeble, was borne into the hall on a stretcher and given a memorable reception by the crowded audience of women who stood on chairs and cheered until they were weary.

This was Miss Kenny's first appearance in public since her release and she reacted the hall in an ambulance, escorted by a guard of militant suffragettes in taxicabs.

The stretcher placed on chairs was placed in the middle of the platform, where Miss Kenny lay motionless; only able to whisper a few words to her friends.

GEORGE BERNARD SHAW LECTURES TO WOMEN

Says Society Cannot Afford to Be Poor, and Many Other Things.

London, Oct. 21.—George Bernard Shaw, lecturing to a gathering of women artists, said art could not flourish beside poverty, and society could not afford to be poor. Poverty ought to be a penal offence, and every hungry child found on the streets ought to be seized by the police and ruthlessly fed. Everybody from birth ought to have a life pension.

"What is the value of the artist's work?" asked Mr. Shaw.

"Intrinsic merit has nothing to do with it. A young lady displaying her art on the stage has motor cars and furs, and enters society. Jesus Christ and Joan D'Arc were put to the crucifix and the guillotine. The price of talent equalled the price of fish, being regulated by the supply and demand. The artist's only escape from competition lies in the formation of a union demanding subsistence wages."

BARBAROUS CUSTOM IS REVIVED BY INDIANS

Douglas, Ariz., Oct. 20.—The ancient custom of heralding victory by making public demonstrations with the heads of the conquered, was revived at Fuerte, Sinaloa, at the time of its occupation by the rebels two weeks ago according to stories told by travellers who reached here to-day.

Following the invasion of Fuerte, the story runs, Yaqui Indians pursued the retreating federal army and captured, among others, Prefecto Torres, a federal commander. The Indians put him to death, and returned with his head, parading it about the streets on a pole. Torres, it is reported, had threatened to execute any constitutionalist who fell into his hands.

NOT AT EXPOSITION.

WILLIAM III. STATUE RESTORED IN ENGLAND

Lord Selborne Unveils Memorial That Was Erected During 1793

Petersfield, England, Oct. 21.—The Earl of Selborne has unveiled at Petersfield the restored equestrian statue of William III., which has stood in the market place since about the year 1783. The statue was one of the memorials erected to commemorate William of Orange, as the result of a movement started by the Whig party for this purpose.

The cost of the statue was defrayed by money left for the purpose by Sir William Jolliffe, member of Parliament for Petersfield from 1784 to 1791, and the statue was originally set up in the courtyard of Petersfield house. When the house was demolished in 1793 the statue was moved to its present position.

Three years ago the necessity of renovating the statue was considered, and the work was eventually entrusted to Prof. W. Robert Colton, A. R. A., who has remodeled certain parts that had perished.

In unveiling the statue, Lord Selborne said that William of Orange was a great man and a great king, and now they could see how great his influence had been in shaping the destinies of the nation and the empire. From the time of William III. dated those relations of the countries and peoples of Europe which we called modern international politics. From the same time dated the traditional attitude of their country towards the rest of Europe. From the time of William dated their constitutional monarchy and the evolution of their parliamentary system.

Therefore, it was true to say, that it was in the reign of William III. that the future of their race was settled both in its external and in its internal relations, and what was that but to say that from William III. dated the system under which the British empire had grown and thriven.

William III. was still an influence to-day. He had had experience of that during the years that it was his privilege to act in South Africa, when they were trying to smooth away and remove a misunderstanding between two peoples that had lasted many generations. When he pointed out to the Boers that the national hero from Holland was also one of England's greatest kings and that it was from his time that the constitutional monarchy dated, which succeeding sovereigns of England had given to the people of South Africa, the Boer's interest became quickened, and thoughts, aspirations and ideals which had never before occurred to him began to shape themselves in his mind. It is therefore the birthday of a great remembrance that the time had been when England in her extremity had looked to Holland for a sovereign.

SPURIOUS CANADIAN COINS IN VANCOUVER

Police Believe Small Change is Being Made at Plant in Terminal City.

Vancouver, Oct. 21.—Later developments in the police investigation of activities of the counterfeit gang which has invaded the city show that there is a large quantity of spurious Canadian coins in circulation in Vancouver at the present time. The material of the fake Canadian money is similar to that used in the manufacture of the 50-cent United States coinage which was picked up on Robson and Howe streets on Saturday afternoon after an exciting chase after an alleged counterfeit.

The detectives are searching in every part of the city and are keeping watch at the smaller cigar stands, fruit stores and other places where coin of this nature are most likely to be passed. The finding of the Canadian money has led the police to favor the theory that there is a plant located in or near Vancouver.

STREETS SOON CLEARED BY FIVE LARGE LIONS

Leipzig, Germany, Oct. 21.—Five lions belonging to an animal circus obtained the freedom of the streets of Leipzig owing to a collision between a street car and their cage while it was on the way to a railroad station after a performance. The cage was torn open by the shock and the appearance of the wild animals in the centre of the city created a general panic among the tens of thousands of people here to attend the celebration of the centennial of the "Battle of the Nations."

One of the lions entered an hotel, rushed upstairs and proceeded along the corridors, driving the visitors before it into their rooms. It was some time before policemen arrived and shot the animal. The other four were also shot in various parts of the city. No body was attacked by the lions.

CANADIAN INFIRM ARE SHOWN IN STATISTICS

Census Bureau at Ottawa Show Number of Blind Persons Become Less

Ottawa, Oct. 21.—The census bureau has just issued a bulletin dealing with the infirm people in the Dominion. The bulletin states that a strict comparison of the number of infirm, especially in the case of the insane, cannot be made between provinces. For example, the insane of Saskatchewan and Alberta are to be found in some instances in the hospitals of Manitoba and British Columbia.

The number of blind in the Dominion in 1911 was 4,328; of deaf and dumb, 4,584; of insane, 14,792; of idiotic, 5,387, making a total of defectives of 26,611, of which 15,530 were males and 11,081 females. From 1901 to 1911 the population increased by 24.17 per cent.; for the same period the total number of infirm increased from 26,145 to 26,611, an increase of 1.82 per cent. in the decade.

The statistics of the blind show that the number is steadily decreasing. For each census period there was a greater number of males than females. In 1911, for Canada there were 106 males to every 75 females incapacitated by blindness. Although the actual numbers of blind have increased during the last ten years in every province, excepting in the maritime provinces, yet there has been a decrease for every province in the proportion per 10,000 of the population.

The proportion for deaf and dumb per 1,000 of population is smaller for every province in 1911 than it was in 1901, and only in the western provinces are there increases in actual numbers for 1912 over 1911. There has been an increase in actual numbers and in proportion of the population of unsound minds in every province excepting New Brunswick.

The highest proportion is shown by Prince Edward Island with 41.701 per 1,000 of population, followed by Ontario with 41.999; Nova Scotia, 33.615, and Quebec with 32.841 per 1,000. The number of persons of unsound mind for this census are classified under two heads—insane and idiotic.

The greater number of the insane are in public institutions, as are also the majority of the idiotic. Although the total number of unsound mind (insane and idiotic) is greater in 1911 than in 1901, yet the proportion per 1,000 in 1911 was 28.847, as against 41.014, in 1901, and for Canada there were 853 mentally unbalanced women to every 1,000 men.

"Say, Mollie, I was just looking at the way this stove is made!

"I know something about the way most stoves are made—but, do you know, this has got them all beat a mile!

"Simple as A, B, C—but the method of construction is what gets me.

"After you have examined this stove and are talking about wood-stoves—you can think of this kind only—THE

Cole's Original Air-Tight Wood Stove

"This is the kind for me.

"See that double-seamed bottom? And that lock-seam in the body?

"No door frame to leak air and spoil your fire control.

"See that patent hinge on the ash door that lets it shut up just like a pump valve?

"See how the outside polished sides are protected from actual contact with the flames, and yet they will radiate heat from only a burning newspaper.

"I tell you what, we made a dandy 'buy' when we got this wood-stove.

"There is nothing that will touch it for economy and comfort."

"We got our money's worth, sure enough.

"And have you noticed how all the folks admire it?"

"Gee, it makes me feel quite chesky to own it."

If you want that "chesky" feeling aslo, Mr. Stove Buyer, come in—we have more stoves of the same kind.

"Cole's," the Original Patented Air-Tight Heater, is sold only by us.

THE BATTLE OF TRAFALGAR.

One hundred and eight years ago today the sea off Cape Trafalgar was the scene of Britain's greatest naval battle and the crowning achievement of her most illustrious sailor.

The Battle of Trafalgar removed an even more formidable menace. Napoleon had gathered an immense army at Boulogne with the object of invading England.

Britain's gain at Trafalgar, however, actually turned out to be continental Europe's loss. Napoleon, baffled in his project of crossing the channel, diverted his devastating activities in another direction.

That Spain should have contributed to the French enterprise at Trafalgar illustrates the extraordinary vagaries which characterized that remarkable period.

tyrant by driving his ablest marshals and veteran soldiers across the Pyrenees. The Battle of Trafalgar teaches two outstanding lessons. One is embodied in that never-to-be-forgotten signal, "England expects every man will do his duty."

DISCORDANT NOTES.

There is a notable want of harmony in the utterances of the two organs in this city with respect to the operations of the Canadian Northern Railway.

THE NAVAL HOLIDAY.

According to press dispatches Mr. Churchill's invitation to the powers to take a year's vacation in naval construction has fallen upon deaf ears.

In making his offer Mr. Churchill risks the anger of the armament ring in Britain, with the brigade of dukes, peers, parliamentarians and newspaper proprietors who adorn its directorates.

The offer raises an interesting question. If accepted and an agreement were entered into, would it bind the dominions? Canada's proposed contribution, of course, would have to go by the board, because it would come under the head of warship construction contemplated by the Admiralty.

further construction while ships were being built right along in Australia or Canada, should the latter adopt a policy on similar lines.

SOME HEROES.

The Colonist to-day prints two pictures. One is that of a form all Britons are familiar with, or ought to be familiar with, the delicate face and figure of the immortal hero of Trafalgar, Nelson and Bronte.

But if Mr. Rogers kept his tongue in wise restraint during the campaign, Mr. Morris spoke. He said some things that would look curious if printed in a loyal and patriotic British newspaper like the Colonist.

COMING AROUND.

A number of newspaper supporters of the federal government have begun to advocate the removal of the duty from wheat coming into Canada in order that this country may avail itself of the offer of Washington for reciprocity in this product.

Even the Toronto News, the spoiled darling of high protection, and perhaps more intimately related to the Prime Minister than any other Conservative paper unless it be the Ottawa Journal, has this to say on the subject:

Advertisement for Klirk & Co. featuring the slogan 'NOBODY SHOULD USE KIRK'S COAL' and listing their address at 618 Yates St. and phone numbers 212 and 139.

manufacture chiefly for foreign markets, may not be greatly prejudiced, while possibly freight rates may be favorably affected.

The Ottawa Citizen is even more radical. It demands a sweeping reduction of the duties all along the line. In this connection it may be mentioned that the Citizen has always been a reciprocity champion at heart.

Reciprocity in wheat, therefore, is a certainty. And just as soon as this is effected an agitation will arise in Canada for an equalisation of the tariff all around, as urged by the Ottawa Citizen.

Reciprocity in wheat will be a fine thing for the farmers, and will spur them on to demand the abolition or the reduction of taxation on other things.

In overruling the decision of the New York immigration inspector for Mrs. Pankhurst's deportation the Washington authorities took the proper course.

Mrs. Pankhurst may feign to be hurt by her short detention in custody at New York. But in reality it was the very thing she needed in her business.

A new menace is being raised. Now it is Italy and Austria whose naval construction programme is being viewed with alarm.

Macdonald, who entered the service of the federal works department in this city in 1875, and was of late years an accountant of the department at New Westminster, has been appointed agent of the department in British Columbia. A. Wilson has been promoted to be chief accountant to succeed Mr. Macdonald.

Drowned at Salt Spring—John Falow, for several years a resident of Fulford Harbor, Salt Spring Island, was drowned on Friday evening while going out from shore in a canoe to a yacht. The canoe capsized and before aid could be got he had sunk for the last time, but the body was later recovered. A widow and a large family are left. The funeral took place at Salt Spring.

Books Workman Injured—Thomas Johnston, a workman employed on the Sooke waterworks scheme, was injured yesterday by a fall, and sustained some bad cuts on the head. He came into the city for treatment, and after getting first aid at the police station from Constables Ireland and Bishop he was taken in the police ambulance to the Royal Jubilee hospital, where his wounds were attended.

Missing From Home—The whereabouts of William Smith, bachelor, of this city, and causing his mother and other relatives much anxiety, and on Sunday the police were asked to look out for him. Smith left his home on Pandora street ostensibly for a few minutes, as in reply to his mother's suggestion that he put on his overcoat he said it was not necessary as he was only going a short distance. He did not return, and no trace of him has been found since. For some time he has been in poor health and remarks made to some of his friends have led to an idea that he might end his life.

Drowned in Campbell Lake—W. F. DeVoe, of Los Angeles, a young engineer who has been in the service of the provincial government for a few weeks on the demarcation survey of Strathcona park, was accidentally drowned early on Sunday morning, October 13, according to advices received at the government buildings on Saturday. He was on his way from Campbell river to his camp at the head of Campbell lake and left the lower take at 2 o'clock in the morning to continue the journey. Between the two lakes the canoe upset and DeVoe sank at once, while his companion had difficulty in reaching shore. The body has not been recovered.

Record of Milk Yield—Permanent milk records of every herd in the province are to be kept by inspectors appointed by the department of agriculture and paid partly by the province and partly by the various cow-testing associations. It is announced that there will be a competent inspector, trained in the work, with the necessary outfit, for every district where there are at least four hundred cows pasturing, and Chilliwack has been chosen as the first district with two inspectors. There are some sixty-three farmers with an aggregate of twelve hundred cows in the district. The night and morning milk of every cow will be weighed and tested at least once a month, and the results tabulated so as to obtain the annual yield of each animal.

Buy a Cord of Our Dry Wood and have peace in the family for once. Geo. Burt, 735 Pandora St. Tel. 823.

Social To-morrow Evening—A Halloween social and dance will be held in the Progressive Thought Temple, corner of Pandora avenue and Blanchard streets to-morrow evening from 8 till 11 p. m. The programme will consist of Halloween's games, amusements and Gypsy fortune telling. Refreshments will be served.

Adopted Constitution—By-laws governing the body were passed when the Cumberland and Westmoreland Association met last. Officers also were elected, Mr. McDonald being made president until the general election in January. Following the meeting refreshments were served and cards and dancing enjoyed. About 80 were present.

Pioneer Lived Here—John R. Williamson, who passed away recently at Seattle at the age of 95, at one time lived in this city, having come here about 1855 from San Francisco. He was engaged to build and operate the Puget Sound sawmills, which have been running for the past sixty years. The late Mr. Williamson was a native of the state of New York.

Deutscherverein Celebrates—The hundredth anniversary of the battle of Leipzig, which celebrated Napoleon's victory, was celebrated on Saturday evening by the members of the Deutscherverein in connection with the birthday celebrations in honor of Emperor Frederick. The proceedings, which were enjoyed by a large number of guests, took place in the club-rooms. Herr Carl Lowenberg, the German consul, presided, and together with Baron von Gisevold, delivered an imperial speech, which was enthusiastically applauded, and followed by loyal toasts.

Winners of Prize Drawing—The draw for the Art Union prize-drawing was made Saturday. When the various books were collected it was found that there had been only 240 tickets in all sold this year, this, at 25c each making the stock of tickets very low. The prizes were as follows: 1st (winner to the value of $50), Miss Callingham, Alexandra Club (No. 1995); 2nd, Mrs. Paterson, Government House (No. 407); 3rd, Mr. F. H. Mayhew, (No. 531); 4th, Mrs. Brooker, Rosebank, Esquimalt (No. 1645); 5th, G. Rosher, P. O. Box 476, (No. 268). The four last-mentioned winners drew prizes of the value of $10 each.

Gizah Patrol Ball—At a recent meeting of the Gizah Patrol of the Masons held recently the final plans for the ball to be held by the Gizah Patrol on October 31 were drawn up. Chief Davis was appointed head of the catering committee, and this department was divided into sections. Other arrangements are also in the hands of capable committees. Tickets are already selling rapidly, these being, however, limited to members of the Masonic fraternity. The ceremonial session, fixed for December 6, has been postponed to December 13 at the request of Imperial Potentate W. Irwin. Members of the patrol are to attend the ball to be held this evening.

Concert at Metchoin—The ladies of Metchoin were responsible for a very successful Harvest Home concert and dance given in the Metchoin hall on Wednesday last, most of the performers at the concert going out by motor from Victoria earlier in the evening. The following assisted on the programme, which was much enjoyed by the large crowd present: Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Hicks, Mrs. R. H. Pooley, Miss Skelton, Mrs. J. C. Reid, Dr. Perkins and Mr. East, all of whom sang; Mrs. Gray and Mr. Sprague, violin solos; and Mrs. Hermann Robertson, pianoforte solo. Miss Weir and Miss Griffiths acted as accompanists, and Mr. W. Griffiths acted as master of ceremonies.

Ambulance Classes—The St. John ambulance committee met on Friday evening to draw up plans for the lectures for the coming winter, and it was decided that a ladies' class in first aid would be started as soon as sufficient names had been sent to the class secretary, Mrs. A. J. Thomas, 647 Fort street. Another class in first aid, for men, will, it is expected, be started in the near future, and C. Whitney Griffiths, P. O. Box 858, is acting as class secretary. This class, however, cannot be started with less than 25 members, and it is hoped that the requisite number of applicants will send in their names. A fee of $2.50 will be charged each member of both classes, this being the sum required to cover the cost of books, bandages, stents, diagrams, etc. Required. There will be eight lectures in the course.

HELPING MRS. HOMEBODY!

The articles designed to save labor in the kitchen are numbered by the tens of thousands.
In the stock of a modern housewares store are frequently as many as 50,000 different articles.
And for each thing the merchant has stocked he has probably excluded ten others.
Wise women keep posted on the new labor saving devices.
They visit the stores when they can. They read the advertising in the daily newspapers every day.
They want to know. They want to be efficient. They want to save labor, and time, and trouble.
This is a season when the advertising of the stores is particularly interesting. Turn over to-day's TIMES and see for yourself.
There are 5000 devices for helping Mrs. Homebody; but none so good nor so inexpensive—none really so helpful—as the advertising in your favorite daily newspaper.

THE GOODLY THING.

The sands are running through the glass.
The hours, days, and swift years pass.
And carry us along,
They bring us joys, they bring us woes;
They bring us hopes, they bring us fears;
They bring us grief and song.

A mood of pleasure and of pain,
Our share of sunshine and of rain,
Unwisely they give;
And we, despite our plaint of woe,
Cling close to them, because we know
It has been good to live!

HINDUS PROTEST

Meeting is Largely Attended; Panama Maru Immigrant Cases Are Discussed.

The situation with regard to the Hindus who arrived by the Panama Maru on Friday, the bulk of whom are still under surveillance at the detention sheds, engaged the principal attention at the mass meeting of the local colony held at the Sikh temple on Sunday afternoon. The chief speaker was Karlee Singh, the priest, who alluded to the comments and criticism of H. H. Stevens, M.P., on their nationality as grossly unjust and unfair, blaming the Canadian people to their claim as immigrants and setting them in a false light before the people of this country.

Steps were discussed by the speakers as to what course they thought should be adopted to deal with the situation so created, and to place before the Canadian people the actual facts about their beliefs, manner of living and activities.

It was alleged by the speakers that there had been a breach of the immigration law in the refusal to allow the Hindus on the Panama Maru to be represented by counsel. Mention was made of the fact that only 18 of the 55 had been released up to that time. It was stated that the men had had no opportunity to secure the food to which they had been accustomed all their lives.

Reference was also made to the question of cremation in this city and to the negotiations for these concessions. There was a large attendance at the gathering, including a number from Vancouver.

"QUO VADIS"

A striking achievement in the photo drama world is George Kleime's production of the marvelous Cinca picture, "Quo Vadis," arranged in eight parts and subdivided into three acts with eight minutes' intermission between each act. Special music was composed to fit the subject, and is rendered on the organ by most talented musicians. The artistic note is carried out in detail, and it is not to be wondered at that Mr. Kleime's production created such a sensation at the Astor theatre in New York City, in Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago and everywhere else it has been presented. Mr. Kleime's "Quo Vadis" will be the attraction at the Victoria theatre on October 23 for three nights, with matinees Friday and Saturday.

CONTRALTO COMING

Schumann-Heink is Billed for Wednesday, October 23, at Victoria Theatre.

On October 23, but eight days hence, Mme. Schumann-Heink will sing at the Victoria theatre under the auspices of the Ladies' Musical Club, and, being the first of the professional concerts of the season and given by one of the most popular singers of the day, the event is attracting wide notice. Although Victoria cannot rank among them, there are many cities in North America where Mme. Schumann-Heink is perfectly at home, so often has she sung in them, and so popular is she with her audiences. There are towns in Germany where the name of the great singer is almost magical; Bayreuth, the Wagner Mecca, is one of these. It has been said by musical reviewers of the German newspapers and magazines that no singer of the generation has greater influence with the widow and son of the great composer. That, it may be assumed, accounts for the number of young singers whom Madame Schumann-Heink has introduced at the Festspielhaus, and through her kindly offices have had their opportunity to sing in the hallowed home of Wagner's music.

Although Schumann-Heink has taken on many of the customs of her

THE STORY OF THE STEINWAYS

Several years ago, in his magazine, "The Fra," Elbert Hubbard—"Fra Elbertus"—told, in his own terse, interesting way, the story of the Steinways. Anyone who had the pleasure of reading that story will understand what it was that formed the basis for the wonderful Steinway prestige, the Steinway quality that has passed from generation to generation, touching simple folk in their homes, and kings and queens in their palaces.

"So," said Hubbard, bringing his moving tale to a close, "wherever human hearts are sad or glad, and songs are sung, and strings vibrate, and keys respond to love's caress, there is known, respected, revered—loved—the name and fame of Steinway."

The story of the Steinways is no more wonderful nor interesting than the story of the Steinway. And yet, it is a simple story of faith and work and honesty to purpose. The Steinway Piano is the best that can be made. An ideal piano is created in an atmosphere where every environment is conducive to the attainment of perfect results. The Steinway Piano has been made with such surroundings ever since the first instrument was offered to the public. It is the best that can be made. Kings of the nations use it. You can buy it here in Victoria. Your piano will then be as good as that of the most illustrious monarch that reigns.

YEAR'S RECORD LIST HANDLED BY SOPHIA

Princess Brings 256 Passengers South; Three Sitings at Every Meal

Bringing south 256 passengers, the largest list carried by any vessel so far this season, the C. P. R. steamer Princess Sophia, Capt. Campbell, steamed into port this morning from Skaguay and Prince Rupert. The trip was the most interesting the northern ship has had since entering the coasting trade. The Polkard Opera Company joined the steamer at Rupert and they entertained the trip considerably with songs, recitations, instrumental selections and witty sayings.

Every berth on board the Sophia was taken and in order to accommodate all the passengers, the ship had to be made up in the saloon and other parts of the ship. For each meal there were three sittings in the dining room and the waiters had an exceedingly hard time on the voyage south, as no sooner was one meal finished than it was time for the next call. One hundred and fifty of the passengers embarked at Skaguay, the majority coming on the train from Atlin. A number of Shushanna prospectors came south, including Mr. James, who with Nels Nelson discovered the new Alaska strike. Col. Jackling, of Salt Lake City, the copper king of Alaska, was also a passenger on the Sophia. At Vancouver his palatial new yacht, the Cypress, recently launched at Seattle, was waiting for him, and he proceeded to the Sound on the half a million dollar steamer.

The Princess Sophia is going north again on Friday night.

Royal Home From River. Completing her first trip to Powell River the C. P. R. steamer Princess Royal reached Victoria this morning, after an uneventful run. She sails out of here on Friday. The Royal handled a large number of passengers on the trip and the new service is able to prove very successful.

TO LENGTHEN MARY WHEN SHE LIES UP

Princess Coming Here Next Week to Be Altered; Princess Beatrice Replacing Her

When the C. P. R. steamer Princess Mary arrives here next week to be up she will not only be slated for the installation of oil-burners, but also for lengthening. The vessel is to have a new section, approximately 10 feet in length, inserted in her hull and this will make her five feet longer than the Princess Sophia, and the same distance from stem to stern as the Princess May. It is more than likely that the big job will be carried out by one of the local shipbuilding yards.

Last winter it was announced that the Mary was to have her hull lengthened, but owing to the fact that the C. P. R. required all the boats early in

TAKEN IN CHARGE AND BROUGHT SOUTH

Passenger on Prince George Became Mentally Affected; Business Keeps Up

Sane and sensible on the voyage north, a male saloon passenger after leaving the C. P. R. steamer Prince George, Capt. Donald, at Prince Rupert and walking along the main thoroughfares of that city, became mentally affected, created a disturbance, was placed under arrest and made the return trip south on the George under the care of a constable booked through to the asylum at New Westminster.

According to officers of the steamer, the passenger did not excite any special attention on the way north and apparently was sound in mind when he stepped off the gangplank. He had not been ashore long, how-

WAVE STRIKES COOK OF BARQUE AND KILLS HIM

Portland, Oct. 21.—With 250 tons of general cargo the French barque Ernest Legouve, reached the Mersey dock from Glasgow Saturday evening, completing the passage to the river in 143 days. When seven days out, Orion, the cook, was struck by a mammoth wave which hurled him against the rail of the vessel. The force of the blow killed him and the body was consigned to the sea.

The skipper said that he encountered both good and bad weather throughout the passage. It took 17 days to make the run around Cape Horn. After the cargo of the Ernest Legouve has been discharged she will be loading grain for the United Kingdom. She is under charter to Balfour, Guthrie & Co.

Coming in ballast the British barque Birkdale arrived at Linnton at 7.30 o'clock this morning. She completed the run to the river from Huasco, Chile, in 57 days, which is a better showing than made by the average sailing vessel. The captain states that the run to the equator was made in 21 days and a week later the vessel was in 14 degrees north latitude. In 20 degrees north, she got northeast and northerly winds. The voyage was uneventful.

The Birkdale is a small carrier and she will take out only 2500 tons

SADO AND IXION TO DOCK HERE FRIDAY

Japanese Liner Late Coming; Blue Funnel Ship Well Up to Schedule

Two inbound liners due to berth at this port during the present week were spoken by wireless last night. The operator at Estevan heard the Sado Maru, Capt. Asakawa, of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, calling for one of the coast stations at 11.30 o'clock, and upon opening communication with the Marconi man on board the Japanese steamship he learned that she was 500 miles from Victoria at 8 o'clock. Half an hour after speaking with the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, calling for one of the coast stations at 11.30 o'clock, and upon opening communication with the Marconi man on board the Japanese steamship he learned that she was 500 miles from Victoria at 8 o'clock. Half an hour after speaking with the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, calling for one of the coast stations at 11.30 o'clock, and upon opening communication with the Marconi man on board the Japanese steamship he learned that she was 500 miles from Victoria at 8 o'clock.

It was expected that the Sado Maru, which is coming in from Hongkong, would reach William Head some time on Thursday afternoon, but she will not reach the quarantine station until late in the night, coming up here on Friday morning. The Japanese liner was one day late clearing from Yokohama, and has been unable to pick up any of the lost time. She is bringing in a fair cargo and has 370 tons to discharge at Victoria. Her list of passengers is not large. About 70 Orientals will leave the ship here.

New Wireless Record.

The Ixion, which is making her second outward voyage from Liverpool via the Far East, has relieved the Titan of the blue ribbon for long distance wireless communication. It was somewhat of a surprise for shipping men to learn the position of the ship this morning. The Blue Funnel liners as a rule do not report by wireless until the day before they are due in port, their wireless sets being very small. The Titan on her last inward trip spoke one of the coast stations 900 miles away. Now the Ixion has been picked up 1,120 miles off, which is the best performance ever credited to a Holt steamship. The Ixion, it is expected, will reach William Head on Friday morning.

Awa Off For Orient.

Late this afternoon the Nippon liner Awa Maru, Capt. Schindler, left port for the Orient, laden to her capacity with cotton, lumber, machinery, fish, flour, wheat and general merchandise. She carried a full list of passengers, including an excursion party of Japanese. Five saloon travellers embarked here, including Miss Eddy, who is going to London, Eng., and Miss Julius, who will accompany Miss Eddy as far as Yokohama and return on the next boat. Eighty Orientals also joined the ship at the outer docks.

THE VOLTURNO AFIRE

Destruction of the steamer Volturno in mid-ocean. Drawn from wireless description of the disaster and a photo of the liner.

ever, before he caused a crowd to gather on one of the principal streets through his peculiar action. The man was escorted to the police station, where he was held until the Prince George was ready to sail southward.

Travel Keeping Up.

Southbound travel out of Prince Rupert is keeping up surprisingly well. The Prince George brought on her trip 30 saloons and 50 steerage passengers. Business northward has dropped somewhat, but the travel out of Prince Rupert is more than sufficient to warrant the G. T. P. in maintaining the semi-weekly service for some time yet.

Yesterday morning the Prince George sailed from this port for the north.

STOKER WAS TREATED BY WIRELESS AT SEA

Capt. N. Griffiths, of the C. P. R. steamer Monmouth, which has just arrived in Montreal, has furnished proof that wireless telegraphy can be utilized for other purposes than calling for assistance in the event of a vessel being in danger, or transmitting news of vessels during the trip. One of the firemen fell suddenly sick and had frequent hemorrhages of a serious character that his life was endangered. Unhappily there was no doctor on board, and the fireman's condition was getting worse. The captain resolved to send a message by wireless to the doctor on board the steamship Hesperian, which was within hailing distance, and ask him what was to be done. The doctor instructed the captain what to do, and a few days later, inquired about his far-distant patient. When the Hesperian was too far away, the physician of the steamship Montezuma, another of the C. P. R. boats, continued the treatment.

The patient is now fully recovered, thanks to the wireless.

LITTLE DAMAGE TO SHIP.

San Francisco, Oct. 21.—According to advices received here by the Merchants' Exchange, the damage suffered by the British freighter Indrawadi in collision at Shimonosaki a few days ago did not tie up the vessel for any length of time. Temporary repairs were made at Moji and the freighter proceeded to Kobe for permanent repairs. The damage was above the water line, and the greater part of it was on the port quarter.

CAPTAIN FRANCIS INCH

Captain of the ill-fated Volturno, burned in mid-ocean. The captain is credited with being one of the most heroic men on the ship during its destruction.

Only One More Trip. It was announced this morning by an official of the B. C. coast service that the Princess Mary would make only one more run to Granby Bay before being withdrawn. She is leaving Vancouver to-morrow, and will probably cross the Gulf to Victoria one week from to-day. She is to be replaced by the steamer Princess Beatrice, which is now in port undergoing an extensive overhauling.

The work of cutting the Mary in two and inserting the new section will be one of the biggest lengthening jobs carried out on this coast for a long time. The steamer Cheukamus, formerly the Cheslakee, was cut in two here last spring, and a new piece 20 feet in length rivetted in. Together with the installing of the oil system the alterations and repairs to the Mary will total a large amount, and will take about two months to complete. The Princess will be about 250 feet in length when the new piece is inserted.

Maquinna About Ready.

The steamer Princess Maquinna, which has been on the Victoria Machinery Depot slip for some weeks past, will be launched in a few days, and will make her first sailing to the west coast on the first of next month, replacing the steamer Tees.

MANY JAPANESE LINERS ARRIVE; OTHERS COMING

San Francisco, Oct. 21.—The Japanese turbine Shinyo Maru, of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, is expected to reach port from the coast of Asia about noon today. The Shinyo is bringing 358 passengers. The liner's cargo measures 2,650 tons, 650 tons of which are for overland shipment. The arrival of the Shinyo will make three trans-Pacific carriers in port, the others being the Korea and the Hongkong Maru.

Another of a quartette of Japanese freighters dispatched to the Golden Gate from the Orient with coal, reached here yesterday. The Senji Maru, Captain Uchiyama, is the second of the fleet to arrive. She was twenty-six days from Moji, and brought 5,000 tons of coal to Hind, Rolph & Co.

Two other vessels of similar type are also headed this way, making the largest fleet of Japanese freight carriers to come to this coast.

NEWPORT READY FOR RUN REPAIRS COST $200,000

San Francisco, Oct. 21.—Practically rebuilt throughout, the Pacific Mail steamer Newport has been recommissioned and will resume service on the Panama run, leaving here October 23. The vessel was sunk at Halboa over a year ago, and was raised with considerable difficulty. Captain Drennan brought her safely back here, where she lay idle for some months while the insurance was being adjusted. Repairs to the Newport are said to have cost in the neighborhood of $200,000. New cabins and public rooms have been installed. The staterooms are fitted with electric lights, fans and steam heat and the berths have been arranged for comfort.

The crew of the steamer Acapulco, which is to be laid up for repairs, has been transferred to the Newport, with Captain Trank in command.

These Governor-General's bronze medals have been so unfairly distributed during the past seven years that having one is a very doubtful honor. The Premier, by permitting such a state of affairs to continue year after year, has set a bad example to the youth of the province. The moral drawn being that Might is Right.

Insult

The Minister of Education, in reply to a member of the Legislature, proved that this false explanation had been sent in August, 1908, to Dr. Offerhaus, a school trustee; that these bronze medals were offered where a high school had been established. He also proved that Ladysmith three years in succession, 1906-07-08, without a high school, had got a medal; also that Chilliwack those three years go no medal though it has had a high school since 1903.

Affront

The Minister of Education in 1908, on information supplied by the superintendent, informed Major Coote, Secretary of the Chilliwack School Board, that those medals were given where there was the most competition at the high school entrance examination.

Pitiful

The Minister of Education gave the following answer in 1910: Q. Did the superintendent of education explain to the Provincial school trustee convention at Revelstoke that the Governor-General's bronze medals were given to places that sent up the most pupils at the high school entrance examination? A. No.

The dread of 7 years in the Penitentiary for perjury has prevented any one from backing up ON OATH the Minister's denial, and getting $500 for a hospital.

Mean, Unfair, Unmanly

That explanation given to Major Coote in 1908 is one of the meanest, most unfair and most unmanly acts that a government could do. Major Coote, being a straightforward man, did not doubt the truth of the explanation, and so he left "perfectly satisfied."

Facts for 1907

Golden, with a high school a few months and 5 competitors got no medal; Spallumcheen, with a high school a year, and 10 competitors got no medal; Chilliwack, with a high school since 1903 and 18 competitors, got no medal. Ladysmith, without a high school and 12 competitors, got a medal. Kelowna, without a high school and 10 competitors, got a medal. There were 10 districts that got a medal with LESS COMPETITION THAN CHILLIWACK. There were 11 districts that got no medal with MORE COMPETITION THAN GOLDEN.

Facts for 1908

Golden, with 10 competitors, got a medal; Chilliwack city had 17 competitors, and Chilliwack rural had 15, yet neither got a medal; Ladysmith, without a high school and only 12 competitors, got a medal; Cumberland, with a high school, got no medal. There were 8 districts that got a medal with LESS COMPETITION than either of the Chilliwack districts. There were 18 districts that got no medal with MORE COMPETITION than Kelowna with only 4 competitors.

Contumely

In neither 1908 nor 1909 was the medal given to the best scholar in Spallumcheen district. In 1910 it was taken away from Spallumcheen, with a high school and 11 competitors, and given to North Vancouver city, without a high school and only 9 competitors.

How Truthful

The department caused Premier McBride to inform me on September 24, 1912, that the list of winners of these medals had already appeared in THE PUBLIC PRESS in August. The department wrote on October 15 that no list had been published, and again on Oct. 18 that it presumed it had been published in several papers. A reward of $500 elicited the fact that a semi-weekly in the interior more than 300 miles from Victoria had published it in August.

Pity Premier McBride

Some one assured Parker Williams, M. P. P., that the Premier would answer all my education questions, otherwise they would have been placed on the journals of the House last session. A false reply instead of answers to the ten questions was sent to me.

The Ten Questions

1. Did His Royal Highness, the Governor-General, indicate the manner in which he wished his first ten bronze medals to be distributed among the school districts of this province in 1912? If yes, what was it?

2. Did His Royal Highness, the Governor-General, name the school districts to which his twelve additional bronze medals should be given in 1912? If yes, what were they?

3. How many pupils passed the High School entrance examination in the school year 1912 (a) in South Vancouver School District, (b) in Spallumcheen, (c) in North Vancouver City, (d) in Vernon, (e) in Saanich?

4. How many credit marks did the best scholar get at the High School entrance examination in the Spallumcheen School District in the school year (a) 1908, (b) 1909?

5. How many credit marks did the scholar get at the High School entrance examination in Spallumcheen School District, to whom the Governor-General's bronze medal was given (a) in 1908, (b) 1909?

6. How many credit marks did the best scholar get at the High School entrance examination in the school year 1906 (a) in the province, (b) in the City of Enderby, (c) in the City of Trail?

7. How many pupils passed the High School entrance examination in the school year 1906 (a) in Enderby, (b) in Trail?

8. How many pupils passed the High School entrance examination in the school year 1909 (a) in the City of Cumberland, (b) in the City of Enderby?

9. How many pupils passed the High School entrance examination in the school year 1910 (a) in Spallumcheen, (b) in North Vancouver City?

10. How many pupils passed the High School entrance examination in the school years 1907 and 1908 respectively (a) in Golden, (b) in Spallumcheen, (c) in Chilliwack Rural (d) in Chilliwack City?

The False Reply

Education Office, Victoria, February 4th, 1913.

J. N. Muir, Esq. Sir,—Your letter of the 29th ult., addressed to the Honorable the Premier, has been handed in to this office. I have carefully gone over the several questions which you submit to the Premier and am of the opinion that nearly all these questions can be answered by reference to the last Annual School Report, a copy of which I am forwarding to your address under separate cover.

I have, etc.

ALEXANDER ROBINSON,
Superintendent of Education.

Easy Money

If there be one school trustee who still believes that the education department is truthful, let him send to the Times Office, on Fort Street, the correct answers to ANY FIVE of the above ten questions, together with the pages of the last Annual School Report on which these answers are found, and he will receive ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS.

Distribution of 1912

The proposed distribution for 1912 was exposed and 12 additional medals were asked for, in order to give one to the first 22 districts in regular order. His Royal Highness very graciously forwarded the 12 medals; but with this string (so says the Minister of Education) that they be given to 12 districts named.

The following 8 facts seem to indicate that His Royal Highness did not intend to name the districts: 1. He sent the 12 medals asked. 2. He did not name one of the districts for which they were asked. 3. He wished them to be given as education prizes. 4. Prince Rupert, where he did not see the pupils, was named; whilst Burnaby, where he led the assembled pupils in singing the National Anthem, was not. 5. Eight cities which had already got one of the first 10 medals were named. 6. Two medals were thus given to Vernon, whose best pupil had only 660 marks, and only one to Chilliwack, which had 12 pupils each with more marks than Vernon's best; another district had 160 pupils each with more marks than the pupil who got the second medal at Vernon; there were over 400 pupils who got no medal, yet had more credit marks than this pupil; Langley, whose best had over 800 marks, was not named, etc., etc. 7. He wished to be informed in due course how these medals were distributed. 8. Premier McBride permitted a false reply on February 4, instead of answers to those ten questions.

Distribution of 1913

This year's distribution was also challenged, and the following facts pointed out to His Royal Highness: 1. That South Vancouver had nearly six times as much competition as Grand Forks, and its head pupil had 69 marks more than Grand Forks; but no medal for South Vancouver. 2. That Point Grey, with 13 more passes and a better scholar too than Grand Forks, got no medal. 3. That Burnaby, with two more passes than Grand Forks, was also passed over. All these districts wrote on the same days, on the same questions, and the results were compiled by the same examiners.

THE REMEDY

Will all lovers of Fair Play please unite in asking H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught and Earl Grey to ignore the unfair distribution of the past seven years, and to forward a sufficient number cast in some other material than bronze, so that the possession of one may be a real honor, not a doubtful one.

On behalf of the public school pupils,

J. N. MUIR.

GREAT RUGBY STRUGGLE YESTERDAY; STUDENTS DEFEATED WELSH BY ONE POINT

Ron. Gillespie and Hill Starred; Game Had Dramatic Finish

The match between the Law Students and the Welsh yesterday was productive of two things. It revealed the fact that these two teams are almost equally matched in their race for the Barnard trophy and it uncovered a new star three-quarter in young Hill, of the Welsh. It is hard to see how the selectors can ignore the Welsh's new inside three-quarter, in choosing a representative team, for his work was at all times clever and cleanly executed, his tackling being especially sound.

The Law Students ran up all their points in the first half; the Welsh in the second. The latter should certainly have scored more, but their "threes" failed miserably on several occasions to snap up golden opportunities. And this was the main reason why they lost. Their backs did not possess that necessary burst in the last ten yards which means tries in Rugby and medals on the sprinting track. They were good enough in the open, but were brought down on the line time and time again when an extra yard would have sent them over for a touch down. Hinds, on the left wing, was a big factor in the scoring, dropping a splendid goal halfway through the second half and scoring in the corner just in the last minute.

Ronald Gillespie was the best forward on the field. His rushes with the ball at his toe were reminiscent of Pihlman, at his best, while his work in the scrums and line-outs was of the "highest quality." Ron. has played many fine games in his football career, but never did he show to better advantage than yesterday. He was responsible for all three tries scored by the Students, and he converted one of them himself.

The ability of Gillespie's brilliance, however, the Welsh forwards dominated the scrum. In the second half of yesterday's game the Welsh pack was the best seen in Victoria for many moons. Their heeling-out was remarkably clean, while their wheeling was effective.

Superior weight also told against the Students, who, however, were seen to better advantage in the line-outs. The Law Students' three-quarters were disappointing in attack, though excellent in defence. Their tackling was very sure, but they never seemed to get properly going, and there was very little combined handling. Martin once or twice got started and used his deadly hand-off with good effect, but he was always brought down in time. Several times the Students' star tried to get round on the blind side of the scrum, but he found that alley always blocked too. The other three never got properly going, mainly owing to the fact that the forwards so seldom got the ball out of the scrum.

The Law Students were better served at half than their opponents, though all the halves displayed the over-complacency of being too ready to part with the ball and giving their man his pass just when his opponent was in a good position for a tackle.

The finish of the game was dramatic enough for anyone. At the end of the first half and until twenty minutes from the end of the game the Law Students led by eleven points to nil. Welsh could do everything but score.

Then came the change. Hinds picked up in centre field and, while feinting to pass to Hill, coolly dropped a goal from about fifteen yards. Hardly had the cheering subsided when Hinds started the best three-quarter movement of the day and Hill went over near the flag with a fine little burst of speed. The subsequent kick missed the desired haven by a very few feet from a difficult angle and the Law Students were only four points ahead. The score stood 11-7 until a minute from time when after a pretty run Hinds crossed the line for the last score of the day. His place kick just missed the post as "no-side" sounded, and the Welsh lost by one point.

Welsh Club—Backs, S. E. Davis; three-quarters, J. Hinds, F. Hill, S. Honeychurch, S. Thomas; halves, Sid Hendra and Bailey; forwards, H. Ward, Miller, Adams, Boyd, Montgomery.

Law Students—Backs, Haggis; three-quarters, Marshall, Martin, Talbot, Ogden; halves, Morton and Shree; forwards, McCallum, Monteith, White, Norris, Hill, R. Gillespie, O'Halloran, Beeston.

VICTORIA GOLFERS IN BOGEY COMPETITION

An optional sweep bogey competition was played yesterday over the links of the Victoria Golf Club at Oak Bay. No fewer than 47 contestants turned out and the play was of excellent quality. The play was over 36 holes. Biggest score was 11 and the first and H. G. Garrett a good second:

The leading players were:

Biggest score	11 down
H. G. Garrett	8 down
W. G. Maclean	8 down
C. M. Roberts	8 down
J. S. Matterson	8 down
F. Cancellor	8 down
Colonel Peters	9 down

NATIVE SONS WERE AGAIN THE VICTORS

Old Countryites Did Most of the Pressing, but Could Not Score

By the score of 2-0, the Native Sons' soccer eleven defeated the Old Country team at Beacon Hill yesterday in a very evenly contested match. The Native boys' defence was too strong for the Old Country soccerites, and well-meant rushes were broken time after time by the local half back division. The score would indicate that the play was greatly in favor of the Native Sons, but this was not the case, as the play was in the Natives' territory the greater part of the time. A crowd of about 500 witnessed the contest.

The Old Country's attack was wonderful, and more than once Robertson, the goal-tender, was called upon to save what looked like sure tallies. After about 20 minutes of play the Natives began to press their opponents hard, and Peden broke through the defence and scored the first goal of the game.

The Old Country players tried in vain to even up the score before the whistle blew for half time. Again the Native Sons' goal was in danger, but the shots that rained in were neatly blocked by the Natives' backs. About 20 minutes from time another brilliant rush by the forward division resulted in the second tally of the game, McGregor netting the ball. From this stage until the whistle blew for time the Native Sons played entirely on the defensive.

In a mix-up in the goal mouth Bob Whyte, one of the local backs, was kicked and rendered unconscious. It was thought for a time that he would be unable to continue, but he pluckily resumed playing. McInnes, another of the Native Sons, was also laid out, being hit on the head by the ball. Until time was called the Old Country players endeavored in vain to avoid a whitewash, and the game ended with the score 2-0 in the Native Sons' favor. Archie Muir and Hymers played well for the Old Country, while Robertson, Petticrew and the backs starred for the Native Sons. Referee Halla handled the game nicely. Linemen were Messrs. Lock and Malbow. The teams lined up as follows:

Old Country—Goal, Blondell; backs, Newland and Hymers; halves, Niven, Thomas and Davison; forwards, Douglas, Muir, Pilkington, Youson and Sherwin.

Native Sons—Goal, Robertson; backs, Taylor and Whyte; halves, McDonald, Petticrew and Fred Brown; forwards, Baker, Peden, McGregor, Prevost and McInnes.

ENGLAND LAMENTING LACK OF YOUNG STARS

With the prospects none too favorable for a successful quest for the Davis cup in 1914, English lawn tennis authorities are lamenting the lack of young first flight racket wielders. It is pointed out that the standard of English court play remains stationary while that of other tennis playing nations continues to improve. High ranking players between twenty and twenty-five years of age are almost unknown in England. The various national and sectional title holders are players well advanced in years and cannot be expected to increase either in ability or physical power. Hope Crisp, the former Cambridge University tennis team captain, appears to be the most promising of the younger players, although he is nearer thirty than twenty.

"BIG SIX" PLAY CHECKERS.
Portland, Ore., Oct. 21.—When Christy Mathewson, of the New York Giants, reaches Portland he will be called upon to play a game of checkers with Fielder Jones, president of the Northwestern League, for the baseball players' checker championship. Matty claims the title of champion in checkers among baseball players, and Fielder Jones disputes this.

ORIGINAL CUP WINNER IS STILL FLOATING

While British and American yachtsmen are preparing to spend half a million dollars to win or retain possession of the America's Cup, the old schooner that captured the trophy, originally known as the Queen's Cup, floats in the sluggish tide of Fort Point Channel, beside the South Station in Boston. The America is owned by former Congressman Butler Ames, of Lowell, who inherited her from his grandfather, Gen. Benjamin F. Butler. After her famous exploit in English waters, the America became a Confederate blockade runner under the name "Memphis" and was scuttled in the St. John's River, Fla., during the war. The federal government raised her, and subsequently General Butler purchased the old yacht. She has been replanked several times, and her interior fittings, including many of her frames, have been renewed, but her model is practically the same that James Eslers designed 62 years ago.

The America was last in commission in 1901, when she swung for several days beside the Horse Shoe at Sandy Hook at the time of Sir Thomas Lipton's second cup lifting attempt with Shamrock II, on one side and Columbia on the other.

HEAVYWEIGHT BOXER SEIZED WITH INSANITY

Portland, Ore., Oct. 21.—Patsy Cardiff, the retired Portland fighter, who years ago fought the heavyweight champions of three countries, yesterday was examined by County Physician Geary relative to his sanity. Patsy was taken into custody Saturday with a bad case of delirium tremens, which has developed into insanity. Cardiff believes someone is trying to shoot him, and has been violent at times. If he still is possessed of this hallucination at the end of the week he probably will be sent to Salem.

Patsy Cardiff became world-famous January 18, 1887, when he fought a six-round draw with John L. Sullivan at Minneapolis. After the fight was over it developed that Sullivan had broken his left arm over Cardiff's head at some period of the bout, but that incident should not detract from the showing made by Cardiff, who did not know of the accident.

TO-DAY IN PUGILISTIC ANNALS.

1868—Joe Wormald and E. Baldwin fought a 10-minute draw at Lynnfield, Mass., the cops stopping the bout. Wormald had won the championship belt in 1865 by defeating Marsden, but he later forfeited it to Jem Mace. In 1867 the title was again in dispute, and Wormald claimed it. In that year Mace and Baldwin fought a draw in America, and in 1868 Wormald and Baldwin fought for the title and $1,600 a side. Both men soon disappeared from the arena, and Jem Mace came back and in 1870 again became the undisputed champion by whipping Allen in a battle for the world's title.

1908—Marvin Hart defeated Jack (Twin) Sullivan in 5 rounds, foul, at Boston.

1912—Tony Caponi defeated Ray Marshall in 4 rounds, stopped, at St. Joseph, Mo.

WANDERERS WON EASILY.

The newly-formed Fifth Regiment cut up roughly against the Wanderers on Saturday. The better condition and pace of the Wanderers' backs led to a sad undoing. Their line was crossed eight times and the final score was 32 points to nil.

It was a good kick-off for the Wanderers and they showed great form. The opposition flattered them. Several times when a Wanderers' scorer crossed the line the opposition had given up the chase. The Fifth forwards, however, were very dogged, and Heincky tolled like a giant.

The brothers Grant were in fine form for the Wanderers.

WANDERERS WERE BEATEN.

At Nanaimo yesterday the Victoria Wanderer Rugby fifteen met defeat at the hands of the Nanaimo Hornets by the score of 8-6. The result was always in doubt.

ALL-BLACKS WIN AGAIN.

Stanford University, Cal., Oct. 21.—New Zealand defeated Stanford Saturday by a score of 56 to 0. The Cardinal team, somewhat weakened by the use of several second-string men, lost the game Saturday to the visiting All-Blacks by two points more than on Wednesday, when they were defeated by 54 to 0.

TAKE IT FROM ME

There was some crowd at The Hub on Saturday. The bargains offered during the Creditors' Sale have spread throughout the town like a house on fire, and there's a reason, and it's not Grape-Nuts. You can save from five cents on two pairs of shoe laces to fifteen dollars on a good suit or overcoat at $14.99, and that's going some. Better get in on the good things mentioned below, as the savings here are enormous, and that means money in your pocket or more goods—better goods—for less money than you will buy around Victoria. The Hub's big stock is sacrificed in order to raise $15,000 for the creditors, and watch yours truly get it.

The excitement starts again to-morrow at 9 a.m. The Hub's the place.

Their backs did not possess that necessary burst in the last ten yards which means tries in Rugby and medals on the sprinting track. They were good enough in the open, but were brought down on the line and time again when an extra hurl would have sent them over for a touch down. Hinds, on the left wing, was a big factor in the scoring, dropping an splendid goal halfway through the second half and scoring in the corner just in the last minute.

Ronald Gillespie was the best forward on the field. His rushes with the ball at his toe were reminiscent of Pillinar, at his best, while his work in the scrums and line-outs was of the highest quality. Ron, has played many fine games in his football career, but never did he show to better advantage than yesterday. He was responsible for all three tries scored by the Students, and he converted one of them himself.

In spite of Gillespie's brilliance, however, the Welsh forwards dominated the scrum. In the second half of yesterday's game the Welsh pack was the last seen in Victoria for many moons. Their heeling-out was remarkably clean, while their wheeling was effective.

Superior weight also told against the Students, who, however, were seen to better advantage in the line-outs. The Law Students' three-quarters were disappointing in attack, though excellent in defence. Their tackling was very sure, but they never seemed to get properly going, and there was very little combined handling. Martin once or twice got started and used his deadly hand-off with good effect, but he was always brought down in time. Several times the Students' star tried to get round on the blind side of the scrum, but he found that alley always blocked too. The other three never got properly going, mainly owing to the fact that the forwards so seldom got the ball out of the scrum.

The Law Students were better served at half than their opponents, though all the halves displayed the over-complacency fault of being too ready to part with the ball and giving their man his pass just when his opponent was in a good position for a tackle.

The finish of the game was dramatic enough for anyone. At the end of the first half and until twenty minutes from the end of the game the Law Students led by eleven points to nil. Welsh could do everything but score. Then came the change. Hinds picked up in centre field and, while feinting to pass to Hill, coolly dropped a goal from about fifteen yards. Hardly had the cheering subsided when Hinds started the best three-quarter movement of the day and Hill went over near the flag with a fine little burst of speed. The subsequent kick missed the desired haven by a very few feet from a difficult angle and the Law Students were only four points ahead. The score stood 11-7 until a minute from time when after a pretty run Hinds crossed the line for the last score of the day. His place kick just missed the post as "no-side" sounded, and the Welsh lost by one point.

NATIVE SONS WERE AGAIN THE VICTORS

Old Countryites Did Most of the Pressing, but Could Not Score

By the score of 2-0, the Native Sons soccer eleven defeated the Old Country team at Beacon Hill yesterday in a very evenly contested match. The Native boys' defence was too strong for the Old Country soccerites, and well-meant rushes were broken time after time by the local half back division. The score would indicate that the play was greatly in favor of the Native Sons, but this was not the case, as the play was in the Natives' territory the greater part of the time. A crowd of about 500 witnessed the contest.

The Old Country's attack was wonderful, and more than once Robertson, the goal-tender, was called upon to save what looked like sure tallies. After about 20 minutes of play the Natives began to press their opponents hard, and Peden broke through the defence and scored the first goal of the game.

The Old Country players tried in vain to even up the score before the whistle blew for half time. Again the Native Sons' goal was in danger, but the shot that rained in was neatly blocked by the Natives' backs. About 20 minutes from time another brilliant rush by the forward division resulted in the second tally of the game, McGregor netting the ball. From this stage until the whistle blew for time the Native Sons played entirely on the defensive.

In a mix-up in the goal mouth Bob Whyte, one of the local backs, was kicked and rendered unconscious. It was thought for a time that he would be unable to continue, but he pluckily resumed playing. McInnes, another of the Native Sons, was also laid out, being hit on the head by the ball. Until time was called the Old Country players endeavored in vain to avoid a whitewash, and the game ended with the score 2-0 in the Native Sons' favor. Archie Muir and Hymers played well for the Old Country, while Robertson, Fettergrew and the backs starred for the Native Sons. Referee Kicks handled the game nicely. Linesmen were Messrs. Lock and Malbow. The teams lined up as follows: Old Country—Goal, Blondell; backs, Newlands and Hymers; halves, Niven, Thomas and Davison; forwards, Douglas, Muir, Pilkington, Youson and Sheratt.

Native Sons—Goal, Robertson; backs, Taylor and Whyte; halves, McDonald, Fettergrew and Fred Brown; forwards, Baker, Peden, McGregor, Prevost and McInnes.

ENGLAND LAMENTING LACK OF YOUNG STARS

With the prospects none too favorable for a successful quest for the Davis cup in 1914, English lawn tennis authorities are lamenting the lack of young first flight racquet wielders. It is pointed out that the standard of English court play remains stationary while that of other tennis playing nations continues to improve. High ranking players between twenty and twenty-five years of age are almost unknown in England. The various national and sectional title holders are players well advanced in years and cannot be expected to increase either in ability or physical power. Hope Crisp, the former Cambridge University tennis team captain, appears to be the most promising of the younger players, although he is nearer thirty than twenty.

"BIG SIX" PLAY CHECKERS. Portland, Ore., Oct. 21.—When Christy Mathewson, of the New York Giants, reaches Portland he will be called upon to play a game of checkers with Fielden Jones, president of the Northwestern League, for the baseball players' checker championship. Matty claims the title of champion in checkers among baseball players, and Fielden Jones disputes this.

ORIGINAL CUP WINNER IS STILL FLOATING

While British and American yachtmen are preparing to spend half a million dollars to win or retain possession of the America's Cup, the old schooner that captured the trophy, originally known as the Queen's cup, floats in the sluggish tide of Port Point Channel, beside the South Station in Boston. The America is owned by former Congressman Butler Ames, of Lowell, who inherited her from his grandfather, Gen. Benjamin F. Butler. After her famous exploit in English waters, the America became a Confederate blockade runner under the name "Memphis" and was scuttled in the St. John's River, Fla., during the war. The federal government raised her, and subsequently General Butler purchased the old yacht. She has been replanked several times, and her interior fittings, including many of her frames, have been renewed, but her model is practically the same that James Steers designed 62 years ago. The America was last in commission in 1904, when she swung for several days inside the Horse Shoe at Sandy Hook at the time of Sir Thomas Lipton's second cup lifting attempt with Shamrock II, on one side and Columbia on the other.

WANDERERS WON EASILY.

The newly-formed Fifth Regiment cut up roughly against the Wanderers on Saturday. The better condition and pace of the Wanderers' backs led to a sad undoing. Their line was crossed eight times and the final score was 32 points to nil.

It was a good kick-off for the Wanderers and they showed great form. The opposition flattered them. Several times when a Wanderers' scorer crossed the line the opposition had given up the chase. The Fifth forwards, however, were very dogged, and Heineke tolled like a giant.

The brothers Grant were in fine form for the Wanderers.

WANDERERS WERE BEATEN.

At Nanaimo yesterday the Victoria Wanderer Rugby fifteen met defeat at the hands of the Nanaimo Hornets by the score of 8-4. The result was always in doubt.

HEAVYWEIGHT BOXER SEIZED WITH INSANITY

Portland, Ore., Oct. 21.—Patsy Cardiff, the retired Portland fighter, who years ago fought the heavyweight champions of three countries, yesterday was examined by County Physician Geary relative to his sanity. Patsy was taken into custody Saturday with a bad case of delirium tremens, which has developed into insanity. Cardiff believes someone is trying to shoot him, and has been violent at times. If he still is possessed of this hallucination at the end of the week he probably will be sent to Salem.

Patsy Cardiff became world-famous January 18, 1887, when he fought a six-round draw with John L. Sullivan at Minneapolis. After the fight was over it developed that Sullivan had broken his left arm over Cardiff's head at some period of the bout, but the incident should not detract from the showing made by Cardiff, who did not know of the accident.

TO-DAY IN PUGILISTIC ANNALS.

1865—Joe Wormald and E. Baldwin fought a 10-minute draw at Lynnfield, Mass., the cops stopping the bout. Wormald had won the championship belt in 1865 by defeating Marsden, but he later forfeited it to Jem Mace. In 1867 the title was again in dispute, and Wormald claimed it. In that year Mace and Baldwin fought a draw in America, and in 1868 Wormald and Baldwin fought for the title and $1,000 a side. Both men soon disappeared from the arena, and Jem Mace came back and in 1870 he again became the undisputed champion by whipping Allen in a battle for the world's title.

1908—Marvin Hart defeated Jack (Twin) Sullivan in 5 rounds, foul, at Boston.

1912—Tony Caponi defeated Ray Marshall in 4 rounds, stopped, at St. Joseph, Mo.

ALL-BLACKS WIN AGAIN.

Stanford University, Cal., Oct. 21.—New Zealand defeated Stanford Saturday by a score of 56 to 0. The Cardinal team, somewhat weakened by the use of several second-string men, lost the game Saturday to the visiting All-Blacks by two points more than on Wednesday, when they were defeated by 54 to 6.

TAKE IT FROM ME

There was some crowd at The Hub on Saturday. The bargains offered during the Creditors' Sale have spread throughout the town like a house on fire, and there's a reason, and it's not Grape-Nuts. You can save from five cents on two pairs of shoe laces to fifteen dollars on a good Suit or Overcoat at $14.99, and that's going some. Better get in on the good things mentioned below, as the savings here are enormous, and that means money in your pocket or more goods—better goods—for less money than you will buy around Victoria. The Hub's big stock is sacrificed in order to raise $15,000 for the creditors, and watch yours truly get it.

The excitement starts again tomorrow at 9 a.m. The Hub's the place.

PACIFIC CHAMPION HAD A HARD BOUT

Good Boxing Tourney Staged at the Victoria Theatre Last Evening

Though not pulled off exactly as scheduled, it was the general verdict that the boxing and wrestling bouts staged at the Victoria theatre last evening were among the J. B. A. A.'s most successful ventures in this direction. In future it would be well to cut down the number of bouts and shorten the intervals between the bouts, as it was almost midnight before the final bell rang.

However, the last and headliner bout between Al Davies, Pacific coast kintam champion, and Archie Baird, of Seattle, was worth waiting for. Unlike most young stars, Baird lived up to all the good things which have been said about him, and while not clever enough to stop the victorious career of young Davies, took the battle to an extra round, and got more blows through the local boy's magnificent guard than has any scrapper he has met in months.

Archie Baird is built like a young heavyweight round the shoulders, has consequently plenty of hitting power, and displays fine footwork. Davies had all he could do to keep him out, and the Seattle boy came very near administering a sleep-producer on more than one occasion. Al's face guard is, however, a thing of wonder, and it needed more skill than Archie Baird possessed to work the oracle. In the deciding round Al carried the fight to his man, and fully deserved the decision.

For an exhibition of pure slugging the bout between Scotty McKay and Al Hatch, of Vancouver, could hardly be surpassed. Hatch has won some fame as a wrestler, but nature never intended him for a boxer. However, he has a punch like the kick of a horse, and he went after Scotty from the bell. Scotty also went after him. The result was a terrific interchange of lusty knocks without a great deal of science. Scotty was obviously out of condition. Both men were pretty nearly out on their feet at the end of the third; however, the audience clamored for an extra round, and they got it. Hatch had the best of the round. Afterwards it transpired that Hatch had broken his right hand in the first round, a fact which makes his game display all the pluckier.

Probably the cleanest exhibition during the evening was the 125-pound bout, in which Charlie Motherall, of the J. B. A. A. was outpointed by A. Pinkham, a clever scrapper from Seattle. The judges disagreed, (no one knew why) at the end of the third round, and the battle went to a fourth. As in the three previous Pinkham did most of the leading and won hands down. To be just, the battle should never have gone to the extra round for the local boy was clearly outpointed, outmanoeuvred and outclassed.

In the heavyweight division Blaney Scott got a well-deserved decision over Charley Dayton, of Vancouver. Scott kept a very useful left working overtime, and won in the extra round.

Donald McKay and N. Wood turned on the fireworks through three rounds of a bout at 135 pounds, and the fight was much appreciated. Referee Barney McClave stopped the bout near the end of the final round. In the other boxing bout Scott Cropper clearly outpointed Buckman, of the J. B. A. A., and earned the decision of the judges.

Runchey, a clever little wrestler from Seattle, and Pacific coast champion at 125 and 135 pounds, used the half Nelson hold to good effect on M. McLennan, of the J. B. A. A., whom he downed in 3 minutes 5 seconds. The local man was on the defensive from the first, but put up a good showing. Middleton's bout with Hickson, of Seattle, lasted only a few seconds. The local man swung his opponent off the mat, and pinned down his shoulders in a jiffy. In the 145-lb. wrestling J. Shulds got the decision over Bill McDonald after two periods. There was no fall. Results:

160 lbs. boxing.—B. Scott, J. B. A. A., won decision over R. Leighton, V. A. C., extra round.

135 lbs. wrestling.—O. Panchey, S. A. C., won over M. McLennan, J. B. A. A., in 1 min. 5 sec.

135 lbs. boxing.—Freeman, V. A. C., won decision over Harry Motherall, J. B. A. A., three rounds.

125 lbs. boxing.—Donald McKay, J. B. A. A., won from N. Wood, V. A. C., three rounds.

145 lbs. wrestling.—J. Schulds, J. B. A. A., won decision over W. McDonald, J. B. A. A., two bouts.

145 lbs. boxing.—Al Hatch, V. A. C., won over Scotty McKay, extra round.

155 lbs. wrestling.—J. Middleton, J. B. A. A., won over R. Hickson, S. A. C., 1 min.

125 lbs. boxing.—Scotty Cropper, J. B. A. A., won decision over Buckman, J. B. A. A., three rounds.

115 lbs. boxing.—A. Davies, J. B. A. A., won decision over E. Baird, S. A. C., extra round.

Officials: Judges, Messrs. Morenby and McMann (they replaced Messrs. Woods and Lidel); referee of boxing, Barney McClave; referee of wrestling, C. Wrigglesworth; timekeeper, L. Oliver; announcer, W. R. Radke.

A peculiar circumstance arose in the bout between Harry Motherall and Freeman. The decision was given to Freeman, of Vancouver, and the verdict of the judges was received with derision and much boozing by the on-lookers. Motherall had easily the best of the bout and deserved the decision. It afterwards transpired that both the judges had mistaken their men and awarded the decision to the wrong party.

J.B.A.A. WORKOUT.

All J.B.A.A. Rugby players are requested to be present at the club tonight at 8 o'clock for a workout in the hall.

REGRETS OUTBURST.

Apropos of a regrettable incident in the soccer match yesterday, the following letter has been received by the sporting editor of the Times:

Sir:—From the day when the first agent of an English professional football club came to Scotland looking for players until to-day I have followed the game; and this Thanksgiving Day I saw for the first time a player slap a linesman in the face because his decision did not please.

True, the said linesman did not appear to be very capable and yesterday's referee seemed unequal to his task. (A referee should train.) But aside from yesterday's game I have noticed that there is an undesirable percentage of players in Victoria who lack self-control and resent discipline.

There are some good individual players in this city, but if we are ever to have anything like third league football there will have to be a governing authority which players have a wholesome respect for, and the spectators must be roped off at least 15 feet from the line. Without at least these two things the popular and financial success of the "passing game" is impossible. Anyway so says AN INNOCENT NEWCOMER.

VICTORIA ELEVEN TRIUMPHS.

A team of Victoria boys under the name of the Thistle Strollers made a journey to Cowichan and there defeated the Hillhurst eleven on Saturday last by the score of 1-3. The Victoria boys found it hard to break through their opponents' wonderful defense.

BUSH WELCOMED HOME.

Brainerd, Minn., Oct. 21.—Several thousand enthusiastic fans greeted Leslie Bush, of the Philadelphia Athletics, upon his arrival home yesterday. As he stepped from the train the band struck up "See the Conquering Hero Comes" and Bush was seized and tossed aloft by fifty hands. Every whistle in town screamed a welcome and several factories and business houses closed to permit employees to attend the celebration, which included an automobile parade.

BARRIEAU WON EASILY.

Vancouver, Oct. 21.—Frank Barrieau, Canada's aspirant to the world's lightweight championship, made "Rough House" Charley Burns, of Chicago, look like a novice over the twelve-round route at Steveston arena to-day. The Vancouver boy, weighing 135 pounds two hours before the fight, went after the Chicago man from the start and landed at will. There was no record in which Burns held his own. Barrieau will probably be matched with Bud Anderson for early in December.

TWO FOOTBALLERS KILLED.

London, Oct. 21.—McIvor, the Irish international footballer, was fatally injured to-day in a practice game. Alick Brady, the famous forward, is also dead.

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

Dr. Frederick Henry Sykes, who last March was chosen president of the new Connecticut College for Women at New London, was born at Queensville, Ont., fifty years ago to-day, and has long been prominent as an educator in both Canada and the United States.

Prof. Sykes, as director of the School of Practical Arts at Teachers' College, Columbia University, became the head of a new movement which has as its main purpose the creation of a new earth for the first time by the elimination, as far as possible, of household drudgery.

"Throughout the man's world," Dr. Sykes has pointed out, "machines have taken the place of hands, but that branch of human labor which has been regarded as distinctively woman's has had comparatively little attention paid to it by inventors. Women are now the victims of a tragic waste of time and effort in mere drudgery, most of which could be as well or better done by machinery, and with the expenditure of but a fraction of the time and muscular and mental effort. Rescue women from her drudgery, and you will rescue the race.

"The twentieth century is destined to begin a new era for women, in the application of the sciences to her life and work. Manufacturers and merchants are taking up 'scientific management,' and the 'business engineer' has already accomplished wonders. The next development will be the 'household engineer.' The home has been the last place in which we have tried to introduce efficiency, but the new era has already dawned. Women have been too busy with the endless tasks of 'keeping house' to evolve new and improved methods. The poet told it when he penned the lines: 'Man's work is but from sun to sun,

HELPLESS CRIPPLE

FROM RHEUMATISM

Toronto Lady Took "Fruit-a-tives" and Cured Herself

4 Home Place, Toronto, Dec. 15, 1909.

"I was a helpless cripple from Rheumatism for nearly a year. All down the right side, the pain was dreadful and I could not move for the agony. I was treated by two physicians without benefit. I saw 'Fruit-a-tives' advertised and decided to try them. After taking one box, I was much better.

"When I had taken three boxes, I could use my arm and the pain was almost gone.

"After taking five boxes I was entirely well again. The cure of my case by 'Fruit-a-tives' was indeed splendid because all the doctors failed to even relieve me. Fruit-a-tives cured me."

while woman's work is never done." Dr. Sykes, the prophet of a new era for women, was educated at the University of Toronto, and began his career as an educator in the secondary schools of his native province. Later he became a lecturer at the Ontario School of Pedagogy, examiner in English of the Ontario department of education and the University of Toronto, and professor of English and history at Western University, London, Ont. He joined the faculty of Columbia University ten years ago. His name appears on the title pages of many books on educational topics.

Louis Napoleon Parker, dramatist and composer, was born in Calvados, France, sixty-one years ago to-day. He wrote his first play when only seventeen. Upon leaving the Royal Academy of Music he was appointed director of music at the Sherborne school in Dorset, England, and remained there nineteen years, when he resigned to devote his entire time to the writing of plays. "Joseph and His Brethren," "Pomander Walk," "Drake" and "The White Sister" are only a few among a multitude of dramatic successes. He adapted "Cyrano de Bergerac" for the late Richard Mansfield, and provided Maude Adams with "L'Algon." Mrs. Patrick Campbell starred in his "The Sorceress," and "Cat in the Hat" in "Beauty and the Beast." Otis Skinner starred in "The Day" and Mr. Parker provided the translation for Viola Allen's production of Bernstein's "The Fold." Mr. Parker started the peasant movement in England, and inspired the Sherbourne, Warwick, York St. Edmunds, Dover, Colchester, Bury and other famous pageants.

TORONTO WOMAN WELL AGAIN

Freed From Bearing Down Pains, Backache and Pain in Side by Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Toronto, Ont.—"Last October, I wrote to you for advice as I was completely run down, had bearing down sensation in the lower part of bowels, backache, and pain in the side. I also suffered terribly from gas. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now entirely free from pain in back and bowels and am stronger in every way. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound highly to all expectant mothers."—Mrs. E. WANDY, 92 Logan Avenue, Toronto, Ontario.

Consider Well This Advice. No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for nearly forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony of the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

The following is from the Nanaimo Herald of Sunday last: The reception given Rev. Canon and Mrs. Silva White last evening by the Ladies' Guild of St. Paul's church was largely attended. The hall shined bright and dainty with a profusion of flowers, local grown, which is remarkable when one thinks it is but two months until Christmas. The large table placed in the centre of the hall was beautifully arranged. The color scheme was white and pink and with the dainty china, silver and old-fashioned tea and coffee urns, together with Nanaimo grown grapes, the effect was pretty in the extreme. Mesdames Skinner, Dobson, Priestly and Charman poured tea and coffee, while a dozen young ladies, carrying out the color scheme of white and pink waited on the guests. Mrs. Arnold and Mrs. W. H. Thompson assisted Canon and Mrs. Silva White to receive—Nanaimo Herald.

The marriage of Miss Ada Leach-Buckner, of Witney, Oxford, England, and Mr. Thomas Henry Hayward, formerly of the County of Lambton, Ontario, was celebrated last Wednesday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Macdonald, 1503 Chambers street, Rev. Wm. Stevenson, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist church, performing the ceremony. The bride wore a very stylish suit of purple brocade, with hat to match, and was attended by Miss Lillian Panting, her sister, who was attired in a pretty suit of grey with black and white hat trimmed with white tulle. Mr. Richard Truant acted as best man. After the ceremony a reception was held, Mr. and Mrs. Hayward leaving later in the day for a trip through Vancouver island, including Shawigan lake district. On their return to the city they will take up their residence on Blackwood avenue. The happy pair were the recipients of many handsome presents, some from England and Toledo, Ohio. The employees of Wilson Bros., of which firm Mr. Hayward is a member, presented a beautiful Morris chair to the couple.

Mrs. V. McN. Rolfe, "Enfor Cottage," 1215 Scavien avenue, will receive on Thursday and on the fourth Thursday of the month following.

Admirers of Will Carleton, author of "Over the Hills to the Poor House," "Betsy and I Are Out," and other homely classics, will celebrate to-day the sixty-eighth anniversary of the birth of the "poet of the people." The man whose gems of verse were read by millions throughout the English-speaking world died at his home in Brooklyn last December. Few modern bards have attained so wide a popularity, and his career proves that "poetry does not pay." In a financial sense, although he lived modestly and was a lecturer and journalist as well as a bard, he left an estate worth only $5,000. If he had been a little more extravagant in his tastes and a little less industrious he might have figured in some such pathetic incident as that described in his "Over the Hills to the Poorhouse." Carleton's widespread popularity proves that the heart of the "great common people" is still attuned to poetry, but it also proves that they did not pay much for it in cold cash. Few poets of to-day make a living exclusively from writing verse. Perhaps a majority of the volumes of verse that issue from the presses are at the expense of their authors. A poet must needs be very famous and popular indeed for a publisher to risk the publication of his works in book form. Alfred Noyes, the young English poet, is said to make an excellent living exclusively from his verse. Kipling could undoubtedly depend upon the muse, if he chose, to provide all the necessities and most of the luxuries of life. It has been said that Arthur Guiterman and Berton Briley are the only present-day Americans who depend exclusively for their income on the writing of poetry. Thomas A. Daly, of Philadelphia, and Bliss Carman, the Canadian bard, are among others who have found poetry profitable.

SCRAP BOOK.

Birthday of Will Carleton, the "Poet of the People."

Admirers of Will Carleton, author of "Over the Hills to the Poor House," "Betsy and I Are Out," and other homely classics, will celebrate to-day the sixty-eighth anniversary of the birth of the "poet of the people." The man whose gems of verse were read by millions throughout the English-speaking world died at his home in Brooklyn last December. It has been said that Arthur Guiterman and Berton Briley are the only present-day Americans who depend exclusively for their income on the writing of poetry. Thomas A. Daly, of Philadelphia, and Bliss Carman, the Canadian bard, are among others who have found poetry profitable.

Will Carleton was born in Hudson, Mich., October 21, 1845, and after graduating from college devoted himself to newspaper work in Chicago and Detroit. His first job was on an agricultural publication, and, although most of his life was spent in large cities, he was best known as the poetic interpreter of farm life. He acquired a reputation as a poet with "Betsy and I Are Out," written when he was twenty-six years old, and originally published in the Toledo Blade. Practically every paper in the United States reprinted the verses. In 1872 a collection of his poetical works, entitled "Farm Ballads," was published, and 40,000 copies were sold in less than two years. The poet's wife died some years ago, and he left no children nor relatives nearer than a nephew, who inherited his small estate.

Trafalgar Day, the 108th anniversary of Nelson's great victory which made England the mistress of the seas. At the expense of his own life and that of many of his brave comrades, Nelson was completely victorious over the allied fleets of France and Spain. Every school-boy knows how well and bravely the English tars responded to Nelson's admonition, "England expects that every man will do his duty." To-day, as on every anniversary of the battle for many years, the great Nelson column in Trafalgar Square, London, will be decorated with flowers in memory of England's greatest naval hero. Among those who fought with Nelson at Trafalgar was Robert H. Barclay, who so valorously commanded the English fleet in the battle of Lake Erie a century ago. Barclay lost an arm at Trafalgar, and was severely wounded during the conflict on Lake Erie.

THANKSGIVING DAY OBSERVED QUIETLY

National Holiday Was Enjoyed Yesterday by Victorians in Variety of Ways

Thanksgiving Day was spent quietly but happily by the citizens of Victoria yesterday. The day is always well observed here, being the last holiday before the winter season arrives and therefore taken full advantage of for outdoor pleasure.

There were many attractions in the city and out, and every taste was met. For those who love mainly sport there were football matches; indeed, the day marked the opening of the rugby season. Skating was indulged in by hundreds at the rink. Hunters were busy during the day in the chase and success appeared to be theirs judging from the well-filled bags that were seen last night.

The theatres did a good business and found it necessary to give extra performances to accommodate the audience that sought admittance. By motor and horse and on foot hundreds went into the lovely districts surrounding the city and it was only a touch of chill in the air that prevented picnics being held.

On the religious side Victorians did not neglect their duty. In addition to the services held on Sunday in all the churches there were a number of special services held yesterday. In St. Andrew's church there was a joint gathering of members of the Presbyterian congregations, at which the sermon was preached by Rev. J. G. Inkster, of the First Presbyterian church.

ROYAL YEAST CAKES USED BY ALL BEST HOME PROFESSIONAL BAKERS. DECLINE SUBSTITUTES.

Mr. Inkster dwelt on the causes for thankfulness over the material harvest and went on to point out the need for work in the gathering in of the spiritual harvest. At the Church of Our Lord morning prayer was read and Rev. T. W. Gladstone spoke.

MET INSTANT DEATH

Logger is Crushed Between Engine and Car of Steel Rails; Inquest Held.

A coroner's jury on Saturday afternoon found that Samuel Berg had met death accidentally at Sooke Harbor by being caught between a logging engine and the ends of some steel rails which projected from a car which was being hauled by the engine.

The only person who could tell anything about the accident was Julius C. Clauson. He told the jury that the two of them were engaged in moving two trucks laden with rails for a logging road. He was on the engine and Berg was standing on the footboard at the back ready to put the coupling bar in place as the locomotive was backed up to the flat cars.

move the rails into position for laying on Friday he volunteered to run the engine. While he was not a certified engineer he had driven engines previously and knew how to do so.

OUR LETTER BOX

Letters for publication in Daily Times must be received at the Times office not later than the day before the day of publication. What received later they will be held over until the following day.

While unobjectionable anonymous communications will be published, the name and address of every writer of such letters must be given to the editor.

COL. THOMSON'S POSITION. To the Editor:—Could you kindly inform me whether the American gentleman, Col. Thomson, employed by the Conservative government at Strathcona park is paid the municipal salary of $18,000 per year, or is he paid only for the time he works there?

CURIOUS ONE.

PITY SAANICH.

To the Editor:—It appears that Saanich would like to have a lady school trustee, and proposes to invite a lady to be a candidate. The minister of education amended the School Act last session so as to prevent all rural municipal school districts from having such a trustee by inserting in the act the word "male."

This special legislation has an ugly look on the face of it. Why were those districts singled out? All other school districts may still have a lady trustee. Did the minister of education vote for woman suffrage last session?

J. N. MUIR. Brunswick Hotel, October 20.

A QUESTION OF VERACITY.

To the Editor:—I am enclosing you again a copy of a letter I am sending to the Colonist by this mail. I trust you will be good enough to publish it, together with this, to let your readers know how readily the Colonist is prepared to resort to subterfuge and duplicity in order to defend a lost cause.

WALTER W. BAER. Vancouver, Oct. 18, 1913.

Editor, Daily Colonist:—I was much surprised this morning on opening the Colonist to discover that your editorial page is a reference to some statements made by me in a former communication to you respecting an alleged

"bridge" across an inlet separating Masset from Delkaha. You reproduce in your paper a photograph of this alleged bridge, and state that as the camera cannot lie a question of veracity is raised, presumably as between the camera and myself. There is no question of veracity as between either the camera or myself. Both of us have told the truth, one in a letter which you did not publish and the other in a photo, which is an exact reproduction of the piers and bents which have been put in place by the government at Delkaha, exactly in the manner I described in my letter to you a few days ago.

By your refusal to publish my letter and your reproduction of a side view photograph of the alleged bridge you lend yourself to a form of deception which should be unworthy one who holds up continually to your readers such high ideals of editorial ethics and editorial honesty. You make yourself responsible for participation in a form of deception which can deceive none but those who do not know the facts. I said in my letter to you, a letter which you did not publish, that the bents and cross beams are in place but that no cross planking has been done on this "bridge," the only means of crossing it being two rows of planks laid lengthwise one of which rows of planks was laid by and at the expense of the people of Delkaha. If you had been sincere or honest in your effort to attack my veracity you would have reproduced a photo of the "roadway" of this bridge. Had you done so that photo would have shown the surface of the bridge to be exactly as I described unless, indeed, it had been "surfaced" since July 23, the date on which I last saw it.

I challenge you to produce a photograph of the surface of this bridge within the next month and that date limit gives you plenty of time. If you wish to rehabilitate yourself in public confidence in this matter you will do otherwise you must stand completed of participation in a shallow attempt at fraud and duplicity which I cannot find language to describe.

I challenge your Mr. Johnstone, or any one else, to make oath and say that the bridge, at the time I described it, had half a dozen feet of cross planking or that a horse or team could be driven ten yards from either end of the structure to an extent to cross over. You have espoused the cause of the government in this matter and in doing so you have again committed yourself to the same form of sophistry which has, of late years, characterized all your attempts to whitewash and varnish that moribund administration. I am sending a copy of this letter to the editor of the Colonist very well that it will be published in that paper. It stands to me that common self respect, if not decency, should compel you to assume the appearance of honesty in this matter, if indeed it is possible for your paper to do that in any case where the administration you support is concerned.

WALTER W. BAER. Vancouver, Oct. 18, 1913.

WORK AND WORKERS.

To the Editor:—Seeing the great amount of unemployment in Victoria at the present time and knowing the amount of misery it entails, may I ask through your columns if any of your readers can tell when the dry-dock work will be started, as this work would be the means of saving a lot of people from dire want at the present time. We all recall the official utterances and the rise in real estate at the time. But, must we wait till the eve of the next election before this work is carried out. In Sunday's Colonist I saw the article, "The War Lord Speaks," and quite from it what I think coincides with the above. The official press will applaud the official utterances, and we shall never know what will be said by the masses; but that the words will set people thinking is as certain as that the sun will rise tomorrow, and when the people once begin to think no one can tell what the end may be.

Examine your skin closely

See if the pores have become large and clogged, if it has lost its smoothness, if it has grown colorless. These conditions of the skin are a natural result of the constant strain imposed upon it during the winter months when we eat heavy foods and take almost no exercise. Each Spring, the skin needs refreshing.

How to refresh your skin. Wash your face with care and take plenty of time to do it. Lather freely with Woodbury's Facial Soap and rub in gently until the skin is softened and the pores open. Then rinse several times in very cold water, or better still, rub with a lump of ice.

"THE GIRL FROM MUMMIES"

Sheehan & Beck's beautiful production of "The Girl From Mummies," the dainty and fascinating Parisian musical comedy, with Miss Olive Vail, America's popular comedienne, will be the attraction at the Victoria Theatre to-night and Wednesday. "The Girl From Mummies" is unlike the usual run of musical comedies in that it has a strong ludicrous story which runs throughout the three acts.

GIRLS! THICKEN AND BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR

Bring Back Its Gloss, Lustre, Charm and Get Rid of Dandruff. To be possessed of a head of beautiful, soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine. It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance; fresh, new, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower; destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.

IS DESCENDANT OF LORD COLLINGWOOD

C. Collingwood Denny, Victoria, Great Great Grandson, Writes of Trafalgar

A great great grandson of Vice-Admiral Lord Collingwood, who, on his ship Royal Sovereign, was second in command at the battle of Trafalgar, is living in the city in the person of C. Collingwood Denny. Mr. Denny forms an intimate link with the famous events which are being commemorated throughout the British Empire to-day.

Mr. Denny, in honor of the great battle in which his famous ancestor took part, has written the following story of the victory for the Times:
The morning of October 21, 1805, dawned gray and cloudy. The wind was very light. A heavy swell, telling of storms to come, broke in from the Atlantic. The enemy, 33 French and Spanish ships of line, were in sight, standing southward in a long irregular line between the British fleet and the shore.
At daylight Nelson came on deck. He

NELSON'S GREAT COMRADE

VICE-ADMIRAL CUTHBERT, LORD COLLINGWOOD

Who took command at Trafalgar after the death of Lord Nelson. He led the engagement in the Royal Sovereign wore his old dress uniform, on the breast of which were seen, as was his custom, the stars of the four orders, won in battle. All other officers were in full parade dress.

At 6.45 a.m. the Victory signalled to form line of battle in two columns, the northernmost, of eleven vessels led by Nelson, the southernmost by Collingwood with fifteen vessels. Another ship, the Africa, accidentally separated, lay far to the north. Then came the signal to prepare for battle, and the immortal message, "England expects every man will do his duty." was flashed from the Victory. Two more signals followed, one to anchor at the close of day, the other, "to engage more closely," after which the captains knew as each vessel came up to the enemy's line they were left to themselves for their individual share of fighting, "a pell-mell battle," as Nelson said, and "every man to take his own bird."

It was just before noon that the French battleship Fougues opened fire upon the Royal Sovereign, flying Vice-Admiral Collingwood's flag, and so began hostilities. Thenceforward the battle progressed, and incidents followed in rapid succession, recorded chiefly on board the Victory. Then about 1.30 p.m. came the tragic shot from the mizen top of the Redoubtable and Nelson fell.

Dr. Beatty and others give familiar details, the affectionate farewells of Hardy and others, the report of the victory to the dying man, his last wishes, and so on until: "a victory having been reported to Viscount Lord Nelson, he died of his wounds."
It was shortly after 3 o'clock that the battle was won. Of the eighteen French and Spanish ships captured, four were retaken by the allies who swooped down on their worn-out prize crews; some were wrecked, some foundered, one was scuttled, and of the total only four were brought safely to the British naval station at Gibraltar.
There have been many naval battles in modern times, but none of such magnitude or with so far-reaching effects. The sea power of France and Spain was broken, and with it the first real move towards the overthrow of Napoleon, which culminated on the field of Waterloo, ten years later. Above all, the bogey of invasion, which had been keeping England on tenterhooks for many years was dispelled by this memorable battle for over a century.

Ratepayers' Meeting.—There will be a meeting of the Ward Two Ratepayers' Association of Saanich in St. Mark's hall on Friday evening at 8 o'clock to discuss the coming elections and the question of annexation to the city.

SIMON FRASER'S VISION—COMING TRUE

IN 1805, over a century ago, Simon Fraser, a daring frontiersman, journeyed across the Rocky Mountains and penetrated into the then unknown Central British Columbia. After following down the Fraser River, which now bears his name, Simon Fraser traversed up the Nechaco River and made his headquarters at the confluence of the Upper and Lower Nechaco Rivers. From this point numerous trips were made to the North, to the West and to the South. His historians and biographers tell us, "Of the thousands of miles that Simon Fraser covered in his travels through Central British Columbia, his favorite spot was where he made his headquarters. At night, before the camp fire, Simon Fraser pictured to his followers the day when this vast country would be opened up by transportation, when the thousands upon thousands of acres of fertile land would be put under cultivation by thrifty settlers, and when, on the spot where they were then camped, a mighty city would be given birth, would grow and command the trade of this new empire. His comrades called him visionary."
On the spot where Simon Fraser camped, the prosperous city of Fort Fraser is now being built.

WHAT CONVENTION OF TRUSTEES MEANS

Session This Week Has Important Problems of Education to Thresh Out

The trustees' convention of this province has become to education in British Columbia what the provincial union of municipalities is to civic and rural administration, a factor which comes home to the whole of the people in a very real way through the management of the public schools.

It is the meeting place of the various members and the clearing house for ideas. In this session this week in Victoria the trustees will have real problems of administration to thresh out, and the opportunity to discuss subjects of great benefit to the province. The attention being given to technical and construction schools appears to indicate a desire to meet the exceptional circumstances of a new and scattered province.

There are some 1,200 trustees of schools throughout the province. They have on this occasion given their rightful place to the health of the child, and in the sessions of the Royal Sanitary Institute to-morrow adequate time will be given to the physical side of the child's life, for without healthy bodies the educational advantages must necessarily be largely crippled. The physical defects arising before child age, which hamper the teacher in imparting education subsequently, are to be the subject of a paper from the Inspector of Victoria board, Dr. Home, Victoria physician, also in to talk on child mortality. An expert on hygiene in the person of Miss Alice Ravenhill will also speak.

The educational side in its strictest sense will occupy the attention of inspectors and principals, while the growth of a common sentiment in western Canada along educational lines will be directed by the reports from the representatives to the prairie conventions. Capt. McIntosh, the president, will himself report for Manitoba.

The problem of the rural schools is one of particular interest. The advantage of consolidation will doubtless be urged.

Some social relaxation is to be given the delegates, in a festive gathering on Thursday night, and visits round the city on the following day.

HOW THE CONTRACTS ARE ON WATERWORKS

Graff Company's Offer is Made With Reluctance; Will Convey Pipe

In spite of the decision of the council to keep away from waterworks matters for a space, the correspondence continues to force its way into civic attention.

Explanation has already been made of the increase of the cost of the telephone service, for which F. H. Folsom was the lowest bidder, and of the inability of the Macdonald-Godson Company to buy the Thetis Cove plant from the receiver of the Westholme Lumber Company for $3,000. It is now stated that the Macdonald-Godson Company undertakes now to put in a local plant of modern construction for the riveting of the steel plates into pipe if the contract for ten miles of steel pipe is awarded to it.

Something of the reluctance of the Graff Construction Company to provide a 42-inch diameter concrete pipe, at the same cost as a 40-inch, is reflected in a letter sent to the council. This says that it agrees to the course "not altogether voluntarily, nor cheerfully," and that the city's action "is unjust and places an extra burden upon the company." However, it accepts the terms, and undertakes to put a resident chief in charge of the undertaking.

The terms in which the contractors are prepared to allow the city to withdraw from the specified obligation of delivering the pipe on the right-of-way are explained. The company wants 54 cents per foot along the flow line. The contract it undertakes to complete by April 1, 1915.

From a report on the waterworks engineering staff between October of last year and September this year it appears that the consulting engineer drew $41 commission on the salaries of men engaged by him at Sooke waterworks.

The mayor described as a pipe-dream the proposal of Alderman Cuthbert to have the engineers report upon the extension of a 48-inch pipe up the lakes at Sooke from the intake to the Upper Lake, when the subject was brought up in council last evening. The resolution was laid on the table after Alderman Cuthbert had responded that the mayor had again unwarrantably insulted him.

The same end befell a proposal to reject the bids for the riveted steel pipe, in order of being in line a local tender which has been rejected as informal.

TALE OF TRAFALGAR BEING TOLD TO-DAY

Story of Famous Battle on Many Lips in Many Parts of British Empire

To-day in all parts of the British Empire the tale is being told of the famous victory 168 years ago in Trafalgar Bay, which represented as much to England as the defeat of Xerxes' fleet off Salamis long centuries before represented to the Greeks. Just as the destruction of the Persian fleet brought safety to the Attics, so did Trafalgar kill for all time the menace of an invasion of England, and raise the cloud which had enveloped the British Isles for twenty years, as well as being an omen of the final conflict ten years later on a Belgian plain, when Napoleon's regime was finally shattered.

Preparing for Battle

A local historian has sketched for the Times the events which led up to Trafalgar. The well-known chase of Villeneuve, the French admiral, to the West Indies, and back to Europe, enabled Nelson to obtain news of his opponents, and the Curieux was despatched to take the word to the Admiralty. She reached Plymouth on July 7, 1805, and Lord Barham, First Lord of the Admiralty, was notified. On the 19th day of July Nelson himself reached Gibraltar, and sailed thence for England. Villeneuve after the engagement of Cape Finisterre with the Ferrol squadron under Sir John Calder, had put into Corunna, and thence returned to Brest.

During August Collingwood was watching Villeneuve, who had returned to Cadix, with a fleet growing daily. Nelson joined the British fleet on September 20, and took command. Villeneuve then heard on October 19 he was to be superseded by Admiral Rosily. Determined to do something before being superseded he sailed out on October 19 with thirty-three ships intending to enter the Mediterranean.

"There's a Reason"

Canadian Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Windsor, Ont.

Nelson barred the entrance to the straits and October 21 was charmed to find there was at last a chance of a battle. The enemy were arranged roughly in a crescent, the British fleet, twenty-six ships, was in two lines heading directly for the enemy to strike him in front of the middle of his line. The wind was very light, the ships had every sail set and presented an imposing appearance as they drifted rather than sailed all forenoon towards their foe.

The Two Columns

Nelson's ship, the Victory, led one column, Collingwood's Royal Sovereign the other. The Royal Sovereign recently returned from refit and freshly coppered, sailed better than the other ships and so Collingwood broke into the enemy's line (just behind the middle he aimed to be) about twenty minutes before any other ship came up.

"What would not Nelson give to be here!" said Collingwood.

"See how that noble fellow, Collingwood, takes his ship into action," observed Nelson.

An hour later he was himself engaged, having parted from Blackwood with the mournful prophecy: "God bless you, Blackwood, I shall never speak to you again."

The Victory tried to reach the French flagship, but her way was barred by the redoubtable, which bravely pushed forward in her admiral's defence. It was by a bullet fired from her mizen-top that Nelson was at 1.30 mortally wounded.

"He fell and told Captain Hardy,

"They have done for me, Hardy; my backbone is shot through."

He was carried below into the cockpit sheltered from shot, but hot and stuffy as could be—the place is still to be seen in the Victory at Portsmouth—and there he lived till about 4.30. He was very anxious about the prizes, and when Hardy told him there were 13 or 14 he exclaimed: "I bargained for 20—in fact there were in all 23."

Then "kiss me, Hardy; God bless you, Hardy," and with his last words: "Thank God I have done my duty," the great seaman died.

Afterwards

The fleet was left in the competent hands of Collingwood, and under him weathered the gales of the next few days. No English ship was lost. The Victory reached Gibraltar to refit on October 28 and reached England in December. Meanwhile the news was sent to England by the Pickle, reaching the Admiralty at 1 a.m. on November 1. But the joy of victory was hushed in the sorrow of Nelson's death.

"He is dead," they said.

Lord Nelson's body was brought to Greenwich and lay there in state till the funeral at St. Paul's was arranged. He had done his work. Three times he had saved the country—never again was it in as great risk from Napoleon who never again could rebuild a fleet to take the place of what he lost at Trafalgar. Besides, he has given the English a watchword quoted by Germans and Japanese as the great lesson to be learned from English naval history: "Thank God I have done my duty."

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

Louis Riel's first rebellion began forty-four years ago to-day, Oct. 21, 1869. Aroused to enthusiasm by the wild eloquence of their leader, a small army of half-breeds, armed with rifles, took possession of the road leading from the international boundary to Fort Garry. It had been announced that on the following December 1st the territory would be transferred to Canada, and in the meantime William McDougall was appointed provisional governor. He was dispatched to take over the administration from the agents of the Hudson's Bay Company and to arrange the constitutional system. When he reached the border he was met by Riel's men, who had taken possession of the highway over which he must pass, and was warned that he must not cross the frontier. In spite of Riel's threats the new governor, Sir John A. Macdonald, proceeded to Fort Garry, but was intercepted by the rebels, and was forced to return to Pembina, Dakota, where he awaited the arrival of a military force to quell the insurrection.

October 21 is the birthday of J. Stewart Tupper, barrister, eldest son of Sir Charles Tupper, at Amherst, N. S., 1851; and of Prof. Frederick Henry Sykes, educator, at Queensville, Ont., 1852. The Duke and Duchess of York sailed from Halifax twelve years ago to-day, after an empire tour without precedent in history. One hundred years ago to-day Gen. Hampton and an American force of 6,000 entered Lower Canada, intending to march on Montreal, but were soon turned back. The contract for the building of the Canadian Pacific was signed thirty-three years ago to-day. Hon. J. Israel Tarte resigned from the Dominion cabinet on this date in 1902.

One of the many boundary disputes between Canada and the United States involved T's ownership of the Little Island of San Juan, to the south-east of Vancouver Island. By the Treaty of Oregon in 1846 the 49th parallel of north latitude was declared to be the boundary between British and American territory from the Rocky mountains westward to the middle of the channel which separates the continent from Vancouver's Island. But there were several channels and several islands, which both nations claimed. The Hudson's Bay Company had a post on San Juan, while the few settlers were chiefly from the United States. At length, in 1858, the quarrel of an American and an Englishman over a trespassing pig nearly brought on a war. American soldiers were landed on the island and British warships appeared on its coast. Happily it was agreed in the following year that there should be a joint occupation of San Juan until its ownership could be settled. So the matter stood for eleven years, when it was decided, by the Treaty of Washington, that Emperor William of Germany should be asked to arbitrate. He made his award on October 21st, 1872, upholding the claim of the United States, so the British troops were promptly withdrawn.

10 CENT "CASCARETS" STRAIGHTEN YOU UP

When Headachy, Bilious, Constipated, Stomach Sour, Breath Bad
Get a 10-cent box now.
Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out to-night and keep them out with Cascarets.
Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.
Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour, fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.
A Cascaret to-night straightens you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean, healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never gripe or sicken.

FIRST THINGS

The first great and decisive naval battle in history was fought at Salamis, between the Greek and Persian fleets, 2,593 years ago, October 20, 480 B. C. Themistocles, the Athenian commander, had 206 vessels to oppose the Persian fleet of nearly 2,000 sail. Facing such a superior force, most of the Greeks wanted to sail away, but Themistocles was determined upon immediate battle. He sent word to Xerxes, the Persian king, informing him that the Greek fleet would attempt to escape, and advising him to guard both ends of the strait. The Persian monarch followed this advice and the Greeks, "bottled up," were forced to light. The battle began early in the morning and continued throughout the day. The Persian king, who hoped to make Greece a province of Persia as the fruit of the conflict, "stepped on the rocky brow which looks o'er sea-born Salamis," and gazed down to "where ships by thousands lay below." Byron continues: "He counted them at break of day—and when the sun set where were they?" The Greeks were completely victorious, and on the day after the battle the bay was covered with the wrecks of Asia's fleet.

BUSINESS PEOPLE, the Telephone Co.'s new directory will be out in November, and we are then going to publish a much needed article, i. e., a modern telephone locator. Ours will be semi-annual. We don't intend to take yearly contracts from advertisers and go out of business after the first issue. We only ask for part of the money when the first edition is published and the balance when the second semi-annual issue is published. This book will not only be read by all the subscribers in Victoria and on the island to see if their number is right, but will contain very interesting classical reading and witty poetry from Greeks and Romans centuries B.C. This will be one of the best advertising mediums in Victoria, and business people will get results from ads there. Phone two seven double seven and one of our men will see you about a good copy. ALGHERI'S CHICKEN A LA KING

A rich, delicate, elaborately prepared entrée, for the first time put up in this convenient form. Slices of tender spring chicken in a deliciously rich sauce of fresh cream with a very slight dash of choicest wine. Most temptingly garnished with pimientos, truffles, fresh mushrooms, etc., etc.

Ready to serve on toast or in petty shells, either from chafing dish or by simply heating the tin in boiling water. You would pay nearly twice as much where such delicacies are served.

TRUSTEES COMMENCE TENTH CONVENTION

Many Interesting Subjects on Programme; Delegates Arrive in City

By boats and trains in the last 24 hours delegates have reached the city for the tenth convention of the School Trustees' Association of British Columbia. This gathering is taking place in the George Jay school, which, although some distance from the centre of the city, possesses the largest school auditorium.

The sessions last over four days, tomorrow's gathering being held in conjunction with the sessions of the Royal Sanitary Institute. The attendance this year is expected to number over 300 members. The principal outside speaker invited is the minister of education, who is expected to address the delegates to-morrow afternoon if he arrives from the north in time.

There is a particularly good representation from the Okanagan district, including V. H. and Mrs. Rice, of Vernon, and from the municipalities of the Lower Mainland. Some valuable papers on educational and physical characteristics of the children of British Columbia have been arranged. Municipal School Inspector J. S. Gordon, of Vancouver, will speak on school administration from the trustees' point of view at Thursday morning's session. The same speaker is also charged with delivering the report of the Saskatchewan conference.

President Captain McIntosh will deliver his address this evening, and Secretary J. J. Douglas's report will be taken up as the first item of business to-morrow morning. Officers will not be elected till the final meeting on Friday. One interesting paper on a subject which has not received much attention in the province is that on school gardens. Principal H. B. McLean, of the George Jay school, who made a study of the subject last year during his tour and has already approached the local board for assistance in developing a plan, will handle the subject.

Among the delegates selected to read papers are Mrs. Ellen R. C. Webber, of Maple Ridge; J. W. Dickinson, of Duncan; H. J. Pollard, municipal director of the Victoria schools; Miss Alice Ravenhill, Dr. Watson, Mrs. Peter McNaughton, of Vancouver, and Dr. Home, of Victoria.

The social gathering of delegates will be held on Thursday evening, the local committee in charge including Chairman George Jay, of the city board; Munro Miller, of the Saanich board, and Leonard Tall, of the Esquimalt board. The Oak Bay trustees are not members of the convention. The headquarters of the delegates are at the Dominion hotel.

The programme for to-day: Opening session, 3 p.m.—Address of welcome by mayor and president of board of trade and other public works; appointing of credential, resolution and auditing committee; resolutions.

address: report of the Saskatchewan convention, J. S. Gordon, B. A., municipal inspector Vancouver city schools; greetings from the Saskatchewan delegates; "Professional Pride in our Public Schools," Mrs. Ellen R. C. Webber, Maple Ridge municipal board; discussion; resolutions.

Wednesday. Morning session, 9 o'clock—Secretary's report; "The Rural School Its Problems and Some Suggestions," J. W. Dickinson, Duncan board; discussion; "Primary Singing in the Public Schools," Mr. Pollard, musical instructor, Victoria; resolutions.

Afternoon session, 2 o'clock—Under auspices Royal Sanitary Institute, British Columbia branch, Capt. D. McIntosh in the chair; 2.30, opening address, "Work of the Royal Sanitary Institute," the Hon. H. E. Young, M. D., B. A., LL. D., honorary president of the association; 3.00, "Six Factors of Improvement in School Hygiene," Miss Alice Ravenhill, F. R. San. I.; 3.45, "Physical Defects Arising Before School Age," H. J. Wason, M. D.; 4.30, "Health as an Asset to the Student, and Our Methods of Protecting It," Mrs. Peter McNaughton; questions and discussion; resolution.

Evening session, 8 o'clock—"The Organization of Health Protection" and "The Scope of Public Health Legislation in B. C.," Miss Alice Ravenhill, F. R. San. I.; "Why Children Die," W. E. Home, R. N., M. D.; resolutions.

NOTICE

To the Public:—The statement has gone forth in and around Victoria regarding the sick, the ailing, and the afflicted, that it is impossible for them to take an Ethernic treatment without obtaining immediate results, and that such is the case with each and every treatment. This is a strong statement and we would suggest, if your health is not what you want it to be in every way, that you call at their office and see for yourself as to its truthfulness.

They contend that the proper remedy for hunger in food, and that it is always beneficial when properly given. They also contend that the proper remedy for the sick and afflicted is the Ethernic treatment, and that it is likewise, always beneficial when taken. They are nature's remedies and nature's remedies always stand without an equal and supreme.

Great claims are being made concerning the efficacy of the Ethernic treatment. While it is not the purpose of this notice to say whether the many claims made for this "startling new treatment" is true or not, yet we would advise those of you who are suffering in any way to investigate it very carefully.

This you can do without cost to yourself, by going to their office and calling for a free consultation. We trust that you will do this at an early date as possible so that you can answer, from personal knowledge, the many questions that are being asked as to its worth and merit.

ammunition to look for imaginary enemies. Poirier luckily hit no one by his fusillade of shots at rocks and bushes, but he vented vengeance on one of the newly-installed hydrants in connection with the waterworks system of the Sooke Harbor Water Corporation. He fired several shots into the opening of the hydrant and blew off the top of it.

In response to urgent calls for aid from the residents, Constables Owen and Armstrong were sent out and they arrested Poirier at Otter Point. At that time he had slept off the effect of his spree, but he was unable to explain why he had attacked the hydrant.

ATTACKED A HYDRANT. Peter Poirier was in Provincial Police Court This Afternoon for His Actions at Sooke Harbor.

In the provincial police court this afternoon Magistrate Jay heard of the panic into which Peter Poirier threw the settlement at Sooke Harbor on Wednesday night last, when he drank not wisely and then started out with a shotgun and a plentiful supply of
