TO WATCH GERMAN DISARMAMENT

Allied Commission of Control to Resume Work

It Ceased to Operate Several Months Ago

Paris, June 8.—The Allied Council of Ambassadors has decided that the Inter-Allied Commission of Control, set up to supervise the disarmament of Germany, which abandoned its work several months ago, shall resume its duties.

The German Charge d'Affaires in Paris was handed an official note this morning informing his Government categorically and solemnly that the inter-Allied military control, must again be enforced and that the Reich must take such measures as are necessary to facilitate the commission's work and prevent obstruction tactics and annoyances of the Allied delegates.

Smaller Powers' Attitude

On the greatest blows to Lord Robert Cecil's project was the announcement by several of the smaller members of the League that they could not undertake any such arrangements. One of these is Switzerland.

The League's permanent Military Commission is also against the British plan, which it has declared impracticable.

The substitute suggested is a partial agreement among a smaller number of the states providing for immediate mutual aid in the case of menace. The compromise plan being discussed would be these local agreements with the general undertaking and institute provisions for reduction of armaments.

SEATTLE CHURCH TO HAVE CLINIC

Development Is New Departure in Religious Field

Seattle, June 8.—A church clinic for the treatment of diseases in the eye, ear, nose and throat and of the internal organs—all these and others, he declared, would be accepted for treatment in the clinic.

The precise manner in which this old-established Seattle church is approaching the healing problems, Dr. Hawkins declared, was unique. So far as he knew, no church in the world was seeking to attempt this form of human reclamation on a strictly scientific basis.

Peking, June 8.—The Chinese Foreign Office to-day sent a note to Tokio demanding an apology, indemnity and the punishment of the Japanese commander and his marines who shot down Chinese supporters of a Japanese boycott in Changsha, Province of Hopan, June 2.

The note demands the withdrawal of Japanese gunboats from Changsha, which is a treaty port on the Siang River, punishment of the Japanese commander and marines from the gunboat Fusuma, and compensation for the families of Chinese who were shot down during the disorders, an official apology from the Japanese Government and guarantees from Tokio that there will be no recurrence of such affairs.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR DISARMAMENT

World League Members Seeking Compromise Scheme

Plans Offered By Lord Cecil and Col. Requin, France

Geneva, June 8.—The temporary Armament Commission of the League of Nations finished its discussion yesterday without coming to a vote on Lord Robert Cecil's plan for disarmament and a guarantee pact among the powers.

It was decided to take up the question later, the commission meanwhile asking the opinion of the League's permanent Military Commission in regard to the French counter-project presented by Colonel Requin.

Lord Robert's project, in the opinion of many of the leading delegates, could not be accepted, and a compromise will be necessary in which some of the features of both his plan and that of the French will be incorporated.

The substitute suggested is a partial agreement among a smaller number of the states providing for immediate mutual aid in the case of menace. The compromise plan being discussed would be these local agreements with the general undertaking and institute provisions for reduction of armaments.

OAKS STAKES WON BY BROWNHYLDA

Shrove Second in Race in England; Teresina Third

Epsom Downs, Eng., June 8.—Brownhylda, by Steadfast out of Valkyrie, owned by Vicomte de Fontarion, won the Oaks Stakes, the classic event for three-year-old fillies, run here to-day. Sir Edward Holton's Shrove was second and H. H. Aga Khan's Teresina was third.

The betting on the winner was 10 to 1 against, on Shrove 100 to 7, and on Teresina 8 to 1 against. Brownhylda won by a neck and Teresina was only a head behind Shrove.

F. Straker's Shri, ridden by Archibald, an American jockey, and Lady Lorrington's Polydora, with Steve Donoghue, the winning Derby jockey up, were unplaced.

This was the 141st renewal of the Oaks Stakes and was run over a course of about one mile and a half.

CHURCH UNION NOW IS BEING DEBATED BY PRESBYTERIANS

General Discussion Preceding Vote Started at Session of Canadian Assembly in Port Arthur, Ontario, To-day; Many Commissioners Desire to Speak.

Port Arthur, Ont., June 8.—(Canadian Press)—Following the formal opening debate yesterday afternoon when the leaders of the three parties in the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada were heard from on the question of church union, the general discussion began this morning. The auditorium of the church was again crowded with commissioners, many of them eager to speak on the issue.

The debate is on the three reports, from the Union Committee, from the minority of the Union Committee and from the Moderates. The following paragraphs will set forth the different positions in official language. These constitute the real subject of the debate:

MOVE FOR SIGNING OF LAUSANNE TREATY; CONFERENCE LATER

Lausanne, June 8.—There was no sign visible to-day of a break in the deadlock at the Near East Peace Conference. The Turks, however, particularly the younger men attached to their delegations, including the proprietors of Constantinople newspapers, strongly favor an immediate peace, leaving the points in dispute for settlement at a later date.

The Greeks also are showing marked symptoms of nervousness and are urging the most rapid conclusion of peace possible so the Greek army can be demobilized.

New York, June 8.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in court here to-day against the stock brokerage firm of L. L. Winkelman & Company, second largest member of the New York Curb Market.

The liabilities of the Winkelman firm were placed at $1,750,000 and the assets at $1,500,000. Federal Judge Bondy named Charles L. Livingston Receiver.

The firm has offices in thirteen eastern cities. It was the largest house actively in business in the Curb Market to-day, the only other larger one, that of Jones and Baker, having gone into bankruptcy and been suspended last week.

GERMAN COAL FOR GAS PLANT IN BUDAPEST

Budapest, June 8.—The newspaper report that the municipal gas works has signed a contract with a German company for the purchase of 135,000 tons of coal.

First—From the Union Committee report:

"That the General Assembly hereby determine to proceed forthwith to the consummation of union with the Methodist Church and the Congregational Church of Canada on the terms of the draft bills herewith presented, which are hereby approved in principle and generally as to form, as necessary to give legal effect to the said union and to furnish the united church with legal authority requisite to corporate action and as by said bills provided.

"That the General Assembly provide for the appointment of 150 members to represent our church in the first General Council of the United Church in Canada."

Second—From the minority report of the Union Committee: "We therefore respectfully and most earnestly recommend that the Assembly, while declaring and endorsing in Christ a true believers, and seeking to foster in all helpful ways the spirit of brotherhood and co-operation, proceed no further in the matter of organic union until the attainment of the practical unanimity agreed upon by all parties in 1905 and 1911, and allow the church with our address clearly for the great work waiting to be done."

Conference Suggested. "Be it therefore resolved that the General Assembly record its judgment that under the existing conditions further efforts to consummate organic union by the proposed legislative action would be fraught with such difficulty as to be such an injury to the interests of religion as to make such efforts inadvisable at the present time, and, Instruct the Church Union Committee to arrange a conference of representatives of the advocates and of the opponents of organic union who shall meet at such a place and time as may be determined by the committee, with a view to the attainment of the practical unanimity which is the basis of the plan of 1905 and 1911, and to the recall of the Soviet envoys at Teheran and Kabul, as well as other matters in dispute."

Time For Debate. Rev. Dr. J. H. Turnbull, of Toronto, declared that Dr. Brown, in his address yesterday, had gone over fully to the anti-unionists. There should be time for discussion, for debate and for consideration. But there must also be a date for settlement, for final decision, and this time had now arrived. With reference to the name Presbyterian, he said that on the board at his church in Toronto, there were three words, High Park Church, Presbyterian. When the United Church was formed he did not propose to change the wording of this sign. All he proposed to do was add the words "In Connection with the United Church of Canada."

H. P. Blanchard, of St. Croix, N. S., said that he had for some years been connected with the United Fruit Growers of Nova Scotia and had thought much of the manner and spirit in which organizations could unite.

Only One Issue. Rev. Dr. E. Scott, of Montreal, the leader of the forces opposed to church union, said there was only one issue now before the assembly. It was not a general question of church union. The matter before the Assembly was a definite item, namely, the bill, thirteen years ago there has been submitted to the church a basis of union. This had been widely discussed. It then had been submitted to the people and voted on by the people and now, thirteen years afterward, there was submitted to the Assembly a bill. These two things, the basis of union and the legislation, should have been submitted together in 1910.

Would Lose Identity. This bill would destroy the existing church, said Dr. Scott, it would leave nothing of the Presbyterian Church which would be merged and lost in a union.

SANGSTER FORBIDS MOTORCYCLE RACES

Willows Track, Too Dangerous, He Rules, Calling Off To-morrow's Plans

Motorcycle races scheduled to take place at the Willows to-morrow are extremely dangerous, Alderman Sangster explained. The track there was not built for motorcycle racing and accidents very likely would occur. It is really absurd to think of motorcycle races there at all. Besides the fact that races at the Willows would be dangerous, the races also would ruin the track for the horse races that are to be held later in the year. The harm which the motorcycles would do could not be treated until next winter. Alderman Sangster explained that he had not heard until to-day that it was planned to hold motorcycle races at the Willows. As soon as he learned of these plans he forbade the races, he said.

CHURCH UNION NOW IS BEING DEBATED BY PRESBYTERIANS

The bill would coerce ministers and members of the church. It would sweep them either into the new church or to the street. It would strip ministers and elders who did not wish to enter the new church of everything. It was true that there were some arrangements to be made for some property in the course of time to those ministers and elders who did not enter union, but this was a conditional, undetermined matter, and so far as the rights of ministers and member were concerned, these would be gone forever. Liquor Conditions Discussed. At the session of the Assembly last night the Home Mission report was presented and there was a series of addresses on the subject, with many references to conditions in the Western provinces where the liquor question is under discussion, including Manitoba and British Columbia. Principal Smith, of Westminster Hall, announced conditions in the Pacific Coast provinces. Dr. Murray's Views. Port Arthur, Ont., June 8.—Principal Murray of the University of Saskatchewan, one of the recognized leaders of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, in an interview on the church union question dealt with the matter of coercion. It had been argued, he said, that those opposed to union were to be legislated into the United Church of Canada, a church which they never intended to join. Principal Murray said there was no coercion in the present bill but that it was in fact passed for the union of Presbyterian Churches in 1875. Then Ontario, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia made provision for the union within six months after the union took place. Quebec extended the time to two years. No province at that time made the slightest provision for a dissenting congregation to share in the general property of the church. Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island provided arbitration for the rights of members. If, in the present situation, a congregation were to vote itself out of the Presbyterian Church and would jeopardize its rights in the general property of the church. "De Drummond's amendment to the report of the committee favoring union," Principal Murray said, "means more than the abandonment of union; it means death."

JOINT ALLIED REPLY TO REPARATIONS PLAN OF GERMANY EXPECTED

The Times, which describes the note as virtually an invitation to the Allies to search Germany's pockets, thinks it would hardly be responsible for France to reject it because it does not renounce passive resistance in the Ruhr district. The newspaper hopes for a change in French opinion in this regard. It also believes Chancellor Cuno should disavow sabotage. The Times thinks that in such an event there would be a prospect of reaching a settlement of a problem which, "if unsettled, can only produce the gradual collapse of Western Europe."

Popularity in Britain of 106-in. Wheelbase Car

Manchester, England, June 4.—The Overland model that is proving the most popular in the United Kingdom is the one with the 106-inch wheelbase. This is the same size as the Blue Bird model introduced by the Toronto factory of Willys-Overland. The making of Overlands with the extra wheelbase has given a further impetus to Willys-Overland business here.

HOME MISSIONS WORK IS ACTIVE

Presbyterian Assembly Hears of Progress Among Needy of All Religions. Port Arthur, June 8.—(Canadian Press)—The term "home missions," descriptive of one of the Presbyterian departments, covers a much wider scope than many realize, as the annual report of the Board of Home Missions and Social Service shows, as given at the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, in session here. While the phrase primarily and chiefly means the establishment of mission centres in districts without churches, thus providing "religious ordinances" for the people, the modern programme is many-sided, including numerous Social Service activities in the conduct of social settlements and redemptive homes, religious and educational work among non-Anglo-Saxons, welcoming the newcomer, and supporting the demands for the cure of national ills and the passing of desirable, non-Anglo-Saxon legislation. The denomination sustains nearly a thousand mission fields in every part of the Dominion, and reaching as wide a diversity of people as the hundred and twenty-five augmented charges, that is, receiving a grant from Home Missions funds, and four hundred and seventy-five are distinctly Home Mission fields—thirty fewer than a year ago. Some of these are open only during the Summer months, and others will have to be left without a supervisor in 1923 owing to financial conditions. Summer fields were recently assigned to two hundred and seventy-five theological students. The revenue of the Board for 1922 was $756,500, and expenditures were $731,500, thus releasing $25,000 to the reduction of the accumulated deficit, which now stands at $100,000, and is a serious handicap to the work. Receipts for the year were, however, $12,344 greater than in 1921. The Church collects five social settlements, in Vancouver, Winnipeg, Toronto and Montreal, and a United Mission in Sydney, N.S. In the six months ending March 31, 1923, 2,000 individuals and 2,300 families were helped during the year, the maximum group activities numbered forty-eight, and 1,500 were taken to fresh-air camps. In addition, over twenty different nationalities were represented in the total thus helped in manifold ways. In this service, a steady stream of all classes and faiths—Protestant, Catholic and Jew—were ministered to without distinction, constituting a fine example of applied Christianity. Seven redemptive homes, operated co-operatively in some cases, met the needs of yet another class, 173 women having received sympathetic help and guidance in the hotbeds of refuge during the year, and evidences were given that this practical form of service is productive of encouraging results. This Church emphasizes its work among non-Anglo-Saxons, representing a wide diversity of racial groups in East and West. In spite of many difficulties and drawbacks, many indications of stability and permanence were reported as the result of missionary activity in this department. Racial services, conducted in the native tongue of many foreign groups, were appreciated by the older people who cannot follow one in the English language. Chaplains did excellent work at the ports of Glasgow, St. John, Quebec and Montreal, and the cities of Toronto and Winnipeg.

EXPECTS MILLS TO BE ESTABLISHED

When we took office $24,000,000 had been spent on the P. G. E.," he said. "Some say we should have scrapped it, but any Government which had attempted to liquidate would have been defeated in the House. It is easy to be wise after the event, but even now will our opponents state that they were scrapping the Railway? If they do I have no hesitation in saying after serious study that I am not. Even although the Government when we took hold had an agreement to operate that road has now been merged with the National System, I would not scrap the P. G. E. The University. "Would our opponents scrap the University of British Columbia?" he asked. "We know the University was launched before its time, but I for one would not scrap it for one minute for abandoning that institution. It stands high throughout the educational world for the quality of its work. Our Government has introduced much humanitarian legislation. Which of these acts would our critics repeal? Let them state their policy before they criticize the expenditure."

Making a special exemption for His Worship, the ladies sent out a strong drill squad for the City's Chief Magistrate, and during the ceremony ranks of femininity. Mayor Hayward made the rounds of the Chapter Hall. He told the delegates that the Victoria convention would go down to fame in Northwest Moose circles as being the scene of the peculiar triumph of the ladies, as the efficiency with which they were getting through their programme of business was a lesson to the men in how they should carry on with forethought, system and loyalty to business first. Mayor Hayward, evidently pleased the ladies, their applause to his remarks lasted for minutes before they refrained to release the smart drill team to release the guest to his civic duties. "Armories Dance To-Night." This evening the Moose will welcome Victorians at a monster dance at the Drill Hall, which will be featured by the drawing of a tombola for a Star automobile. Dancing will commence at 9 o'clock, and continue until 1 o'clock to-morrow morning.

The Times thinks that in such an event there would be a prospect of reaching a settlement of a problem which, "if unsettled, can only produce the gradual collapse of Western Europe."

Separate Policy

There is strong press support for the conference idea. The Westminster, however, urges that the holding of a conference is to be taken as implying British endorsement of the French action in the Ruhr district, it had better not be held. Great Britain would then have to develop a separate peace policy, it says.

More Favorable Impression.

Brussels, June 8.—The German note embodying the latest amended proposals of that country for the settlement of reparations is couched in terms "much less arrogant" than heretofore, in the view of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. By recognizing the obligation to pay reparations, the note has created a much more favorable impression than the previous proposals from Chancellor Cuno because for the first time in the history of the post armistice negotiations Germany accepts Allied financial control and offers positive guarantees.

Italian View.

Rome, June 8.—The newspaper Messaggero says the new proposals of Chancellor Cuno are still far from realizing what is necessary for a possible understanding with the Allies, even taking as a basis their most moderate claims as set forth in the memorandum Premier Mussolini presented in London. The only noticeable improvement, continues the newspaper, is that in the new note Germany no longer asks evacuation of the Ruhr.

Statement by Rosenberg.

Berlin, June 8.—Germany concluded a hazard was preferable to insincerity when she dispatched to the Entente capitals the memorandum published yesterday, and therefore she refrained from fixing her reparations obligations, although she proposed security for them, according to a statement made by Baron von Rosenberg, Minister of Foreign Affairs, at a conference with the newspapermen. The form and substance of this latest document, Baron von Rosenberg said, was not its most important feature; its importance lay rather in its expression of Germany's readiness to reach a settlement which, if accomplished, would mean a boon not only for Germany but for all of Europe. Written exchanges had proved futile in the solution of the problem, and "it is necessary to get together round the table, look each other in the eye and talk to each other, and that is the reason why we asked for a conference."

A Difficult Decision.

The decision to dispatch the memorandum, said the Minister, "was hard to reach and was all the harder because our hopes so often have been disappointed in international politics. The May 2 note brought five answers, two so tightly closing the door to negotiations that only a small rift of an opening remained."

The other three had encouraged Germany to try again. Japan's message had been particularly appreciated. The new memorandum was confined to inquiries made by the Entente powers after they had received the previous note. The offer contained in the earlier document, the Minister declared, really amounted to the same sum as proposed previously by Andrew Bonar Law, then British Prime Minister, but unbridgeable differences had appeared in the technical method of payment proposed. Turning to the matter of interna-

The revenue of the Board for 1922 was $756,500, and expenditures were $731,500, thus releasing $25,000 to the reduction of the accumulated deficit, which now stands at $100,000, and is a serious handicap to the work. Receipts for the year were, however, $12,344 greater than in 1921. The Church collects five social settlements, in Vancouver, Winnipeg, Toronto and Montreal, and a United Mission in Sydney, N.S. In the six months ending March 31, 1923, 2,000 individuals and 2,300 families were helped during the year, the maximum group activities numbered forty-eight, and 1,500 were taken to fresh-air camps. In addition, over twenty different nationalities were represented in the total thus helped in manifold ways. In this service, a steady stream of all classes and faiths—Protestant, Catholic and Jew—were ministered to without distinction, constituting a fine example of applied Christianity. Seven redemptive homes, operated co-operatively in some cases, met the needs of yet another class, 173 women having received sympathetic help and guidance in the hotbeds of refuge during the year, and evidences were given that this practical form of service is productive of encouraging results. This Church emphasizes its work among non-Anglo-Saxons, representing a wide diversity of racial groups in East and West. In spite of many difficulties and drawbacks, many indications of stability and permanence were reported as the result of missionary activity in this department. Racial services, conducted in the native tongue of many foreign groups, were appreciated by the older people who cannot follow one in the English language. Chaplains did excellent work at the ports of Glasgow, St. John, Quebec and Montreal, and the cities of Toronto and Winnipeg.

EXPECTS MILLS TO BE ESTABLISHED

When we took office $24,000,000 had been spent on the P. G. E.," he said. "Some say we should have scrapped it, but any Government which had attempted to liquidate would have been defeated in the House. It is easy to be wise after the event, but even now will our opponents state that they were scrapping the Railway? If they do I have no hesitation in saying after serious study that I am not. Even although the Government when we took hold had an agreement to operate that road has now been merged with the National System, I would not scrap the P. G. E. The University. "Would our opponents scrap the University of British Columbia?" he asked. "We know the University was launched before its time, but I for one would not scrap it for one minute for abandoning that institution. It stands high throughout the educational world for the quality of its work. Our Government has introduced much humanitarian legislation. Which of these acts would our critics repeal? Let them state their policy before they criticize the expenditure."

Mayor Hayward made the rounds of the Chapter Hall. He told the delegates that the Victoria convention would go down to fame in Northwest Moose circles as being the scene of the peculiar triumph of the ladies, as the efficiency with which they were getting through their programme of business was a lesson to the men in how they should carry on with forethought, system and loyalty to business first. Mayor Hayward, evidently pleased the ladies, their applause to his remarks lasted for minutes before they refrained to release the smart drill team to release the guest to his civic duties. NOMINATION NOT GIVEN DEWART

Southwest Toronto Liberals Choose E. J. Curry for Legislature

Noisy Scene at the Nomination Convention

Toronto, June 8.—Hartley Dewart, K.C., former leader of the Liberal party in the Ontario Legislature, was defeated last night at the Liberal party convention in Southwest Toronto, at which he sought re-nomination for seat "A" in E. J. Curry, contractor, was chosen.

Mr. Dewart had represented Southwest Toronto in the Legislature since August, 1916.

There were charges that "crooked work had been perpetrated" that Mr. Dewart had not received British fair play.

Mr. Curry was greeted with cries of "You'll go down" when he rose to speak, and three members connected from five to ten years with the riding resigned, declaring they could not be parties to the plot which had been consummated, and that they stood solely for Mr. Dewart. An uproar filled the hall, which could not be suppressed, and which could only be allowed to wear itself out.

Mr. Dewart was not present at the convention, being on a speaking tour with Wellington Hay, the Liberal leader, in Northern Ontario.

DRYDOCK SUBSIDIES CHANGE PROPOSED

Amendment at Ottawa; Arrangement for Earlier Use of Money Provided

Ottawa, June 8.—A resolution to amend the Drydock Subsidies Act was introduced in the House yesterday afternoon by Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works, providing that when seventy-five per cent of the cost of the work and materials of a first or second-class dock had been expended the Government may pay interest at the rate of 4 1/2 per cent.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen said there should be an explanation, if possible, of this resolution, which provided for payment of interest on a larger portion of the cost than of the work carried out.

Dr. King said it was a simple amendment. The present act allowed payment of seventy-five per cent of the total when seventy-five per cent of the work was done. The amendment did not provide for any additional payment, but simply that the money provided might be used a little earlier than otherwise.

OFFER A CHURCH UNION AMENDMENT Moderates in Presbyterian Assembly Advise Delay

Port Arthur, Ont., June 8.—After the report of the Church Union Committee had been presented yesterday afternoon at the Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada by Rev. Dr. G. C. Pidgeon, of Toronto, advising the Assembly to proceed forthwith to union with the Methodist and Congregational Churches on the terms of the prepared bills, Principal D. J. Fraser, of Montreal, presented the report of the minority which the Union Committee recommending a policy of delay until practical unanimity can be secured.

Dr. Fraser did not move any amendment to the report of the Union Committee as submitted by Dr. Pidgeon, the plan of those opposed to union being to join forces with the Moderates and to support the amendment to be presented later by the Rev. Dr. R. Drummond, of Hamilton.

In submitting the report, Dr. Fraser stated that the minority was not fulfilling the instructions of the General Assembly of 1922, which appointed a committee comprised partly of union and partly of non-union men. The object of the church obviously was that an independent investigation should be made of the issues involved and of the legislation which might be enacted. What the Union Committee therefore should have done was to investigate all kinds of possible legislation that was actually done was that the joint committee of the three churches had prepared legislation and the non-union members of the committee had not been consulted.

Declared Coercive.
The church was not tied down to this type of legislation, said Dr. Fraser. It has been framed in a partisan spirit. It was legislation of a character which would add tremendously to the difficulty of the minority to save its life in fact it would render it impossible. It would be coercive legislation. It would legislate thousands of persons into a communion which they did not wish to enter. Parliament would enter the domain of conscience and dictate the church to which thousands of people must belong. The bill gave these people six months to vote themselves out, but into what were they to vote themselves? Into the wilderness, in which they became a homeless, nameless, scattered folk. The law was restoration of feudalism: It was tenth century legislation.

A bill had been prepared by the Presbyterian Church, which would union as an entity, said Dr. Fraser. A bill might have been prepared which would allow those who wanted to go into union to do so, and those who did not want to go in as they were. They who were in favor of church union had made the mistake of supposing that the anti-unionists merely had a preference for the Presbyterian Church, whereas what they really had was a conviction. The unionists were under the delusion that those who were opposed to union would not vote themselves out, said Dr. Fraser. It was apparent they had not kept their ears to the ground.

To Congregations.
The Presbyterian Church Association asked that this legislation should be sent to the congregations for consideration. They wanted not union, but a federation of the churches. All the advantage of union could thus be gained without the tragedy of a disrupted church. These people wished to remain in their church in which they were born and baptized, reared and nourished. It was not to ask that the policy of the union party was to refuse it, said Dr. Fraser. They were facing a great battle not only for religious liberty, but for civil freedom.

Amendment.
The amendment to the union report moved by Rev. Dr. R. Drummond, leader of the Moderates, was for delay. The danger of going forward was too great. There was no gain in sight to compensate for the great loss, it was declared. Whatever the fortunes of the church might be in the future, there ought to be one great guiding principle, namely, that the Presbyterian communion should stay together. If they were to go into union, they should go in together. Otherwise, they should stay out together.

United Now.
Dr. Drummond referred to the meaning of the term "organic union" and argued that the various Christian churches were organically united now. They were all branches of the same tree. The prayer of the Master had not waited 2,000 years for an answer, he said. He personally knew the various churches of the United States had met in conference to prove that they were organically united, all members of the same body, all rolled in the same army in the fight against moral evil.

All that was really involved in the present question, Dr. Drummond said, was a matter of method, and great church like the Presbyterian Church in Canada should not divide on a question of method. He wanted to preserve the Presbyterian Church, but he wanted to preserve it only because it was an instrument which could be used for the good of Canada. At the present moment there were great problems which the church had to face, and there was no situation which the church could not face if it was only united.

In Difficulties.
Already great damage had been done through the bitter difference of opinion on this issue. He personally knew the number of ministers who were in difficulties over the issue. There was no reason in the world why a Presbyterian delegation should not go to the other bodies and state exactly what the situation was, and the Presbyterian Church could go on with its great work in the world, declared Dr. Drummond.

Legal Proceedings.
In seconding the amendment, Rev. Dr. W. H. Sedgewick, of Hamilton, Ont., said it was necessary to warn the General Assembly that if it should be proposed to go through with the recommendations of the union committee, legal proceedings would be started immediately against it, and every effort would be made to prevent the passing of the enabling legislation.

Non-Concurrence.
Before the debate opened, the Rev. R. G. Macbeth, of Vancouver, placed in the hands of the Moderator a certificate signed by sixteen commissioners to the effect that if the Union Committee report was adopted, those signing the caveat would declare their non-concurrence, and further, that those who signed would remain in the Assembly during the debate, but would not thereby give any form of approval to ultimate proceedings.

and that they would not be bound by the vote of the Assembly if it was against them.

NEW SETTLERS ARE GIVEN AID

Stewart Tells Commons About Hebrideans Now in Alberta

Ottawa, June 8.—Speaking in the Commons yesterday afternoon of 400 Scottish migrants who recently came to Canada from the Hebrides, Alfred Speakman, Progressive, Red Deer, Alberta, declared 200 of the party were camped in a dilapidated building near Red Deer, unable to go on the land or to find work.

Hon. Charles Stewart, Acting Minister of Immigration, admitted that a few of the party were dissatisfied, but emphatically denied there was any suffering. All the single men were at work on farms, and half of the married men were placed, and it was hoped to have them all placed by the first of next month. A difficulty was that they wished to settle in colonies.

"I say now," warmly added Mr. Stewart, "that not a single member of this party is suffering in consequence of any legislation on the part of the Department. They are all comfortably housed, and will be housed just such times as they are settled permanently."

Mr. Speakman brought up the question on a motion to adjourn the House. Following discussion the motion was withdrawn.

During the discussion Mr. Stewart described the arrangements made by the department to give the newcomers every care, even to the extent of asking the Catholic Bishop of Edmonton to send a man to look after their welfare. The best way was to get these people settled among others and not place them thirty or forty miles from their work.

Forke's Views.
Robert Forke, Progressive leader, said that as a Scottish immigrant, he could quite understand the feelings of these newcomers. He was pleased with the Minister's reply and glad to know the department was doing everything possible for them. The main point was to be careful to see who came in, and when they were in, to see they were not lost track of. He hoped the department would do its best to see there was a continuous stream of settlers to Canada—the Scotland of North America.

Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, regretted Mr. Speakman's attitude, based on articles in the Calgary Alberta.

"Is this the way to get immigration?" he asked. It looked to him as if Mr. Speakman was looking for trouble rather than trying to solve it.

D. F. Kellner, Progressive, Edmonton West, declared it was wholly untrue to assert that Progressive members were seizing this as an opportunity to criticize the Government. The affair merely emphasized the fact that settlers could not come into the West and make a success without a considerable sum of money. If the Immigration Department was going to employ agents in Europe to encourage people to come to Canada, it must also employ satisfactory agents to take care of them.

Apparently these people were not satisfied.

Only Five Dissatisfied.
Mr. Stewart: I have definite information that five out of 416 are not satisfied.

Mr. J. Manion, Conservative, Fort William, observed that the debate showed the great necessity of taking care of immigrants who came to Canada. The old method of dumping immigrants into the country and leaving them to take care of themselves would not do. They must be helped on their arrival and assisted in their selection of lands.

William Irvine, Labor, Calgary, said the situation in which these immigrants found themselves was striking criticism of the Government's immigration policy. He had wired to an official of the Alberta Government to ask if any request for assistance had been received from the party of immigrants, and he had wired to the Calgary Alberta to ascertain whether the reports were correct.

The Alberta Government had replied that no request for assistance had been received from those in charge of the immigrants, but that individual requests had been received. The editor of The Morning Alberta had replied that the situation was serious, and that the reports regarding it were correct.

Mr. Stewart replied that he had already given them assurances. Representatives of the Soldier Settlement Board, of church organizations and of the Deputy Minister, W. J. Black, either were on the ground or on their way there.

"Am I to understand that nobody has suffered; that all of these statements in telegrams and in the newspapers are baseless?" asked Mr. Irvine.

The Minister replied that there was a difference between suffering and dissatisfaction. It was entirely erroneous to say the people were suffering. No newspaper items had suggested that.

THAT HIGHWAY.

When Dr. MacLean makes his contribution to the discussions that will take place at the Good Roads Convention at Hamilton a few days hence we shall hope that he will emphasize British Columbia's special case for rather more liberal treatment at the hands of the Dominion Government in the matter of grants for trunk highways.

The fact that this Province is the only one in the whole Dominion of Canada in which Eastern and Western extremes are unconnected by a through highway cannot be too often or too emphatically pointed out. And everybody would like to see this serious defect in the highway system of British Columbia well and truly remedied. For it goes without saying that the missing link in the one section of the country which has a tremendously valuable holiday and tourist appeal is of national as well as provincial importance.

This section of the Province is vitally interested in the trans-provincial highway. That interest has been quickened by the knowledge of business that may be deflected from the Coast because of the inability to cross the Province by a through road—to the middle Interior as a consequence of the opening of the Banff-Windermere highway. This is not to say that the cities on the Coast are nursing anything in the nature of a dog-in-the-manger attitude. They are aware that any tourist coming from the country to the South of us will naturally include Vancouver Island and the nearby Mainland in his holiday itinerary. The important point to bear in mind is that if a through connection can be established the automobile holiday travel to this part of the country will undoubtedly increase. That would mean good business for the Province and good business for the Dominion. On this account the missing link in British Columbia is by no means a narrow question.

We are still of the opinion that it would be a good move on the part of the Provincial Government if it were to consider very seriously the question of removing the rails from the Squamish-Clinton section of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway and replace them with a good highway surface. We are not aware of the cost that would be involved in this undertaking or what competent engineers think about its feasibility from all angles. In any event it should be possible to get sufficient data upon this proposal before the Legislature meets in October. Incidentally it goes without saying that development will not progress as fast as it should progress in the Interior of the Province until there is a through road. Once that has been furnished there should soon be sufficient revenue produced to warrant the construction of the smaller but equally important roads upon which the farmer depends to such an extent.

IT ALL DEPENDS UPON FRANCE.

Until France has had an opportunity to frame her attitude towards the latest German reparations offer it is not possible to predict what will happen as a result of the new move from Berlin. The most that can be said at this stage is that the debtor nation is somewhat less arrogant than she has been hitherto. Her terms include no stipulation about the position which France has occupied in the Ruhr. In the previous note she took the stand that nothing could be done until French troops were withdrawn. This time Chancellor Cuno has been silent on the subject. In other words Germany is gradually climbing down. It may be that this offer will be thrown out on the grounds that the guarantees offered do not conform to French requirements. But the implied concessions go to prove the theory that the debtor can pay and will pay when she has been driven far enough. France very properly intends to stick to her guns until she has a reasonably good chance of getting something for her trouble. Germany does not propose to play the role of host to French troops indefinitely. On that account she will sooner or later put forward a proposal that will satisfy her chief creditor.

MR. SLOAN AND BLUE SKY LAW.

In a speech at Nelson the other day Mr. Sloan is reported to have said that the Government is endeavoring to protect the public without a blue sky law in British Columbia. Personally he had never been in favor of such legislation as he felt that it simply meant that before a mining company could start operations it had to secure a sort of certificate from the Government and when it could go ahead and do as it pleased. It is not difficult to believe that Mr. Sloan was either too briefly or incorrectly reported. The Minister of Mines would be the last person in the world to stand in the way of any measure that would protect capital for which mining development is thirsting at the present time. He will agree that any venture, no matter of what kind, that cannot stand the light of ordinary inquiry as to its bona fides is not welcome in British Columbia. A blue sky law is the very machinery that is required to prevent any concern from "going ahead and doing as it pleases." Legislation of this kind does not hinder industrial development. It insures the establishment of healthy enterprises.

One has only to recall the L. R. Steel crash—the law in Manitoba prevented the loss of even a single dollar—and other similar failures during the last few years to recognize the necessity of adequate protection for the dollars of people who do not seem to possess the faculty of looking after them themselves. And Mr. Sloan's department of the Government is too important a branch of the public service of this Province to be exposed to the abuses of wild speculation.

FORGETTING THE FINE THINGS.

There is something tragic in the announcement that the widow of the man who fed the British armies is obliged to sell his decorations to obtain money for her maintenance. As Quartermaster-General the late Sir John Cowans made a name for himself that will always be associated with one of the greatest triumphs in the greatest "adventure" the world has ever known. His was the organizing ability that kept seven million troops as well fed as was possible under circumstances that demanded perfection in distribution. It is equally gratifying to learn that the sale will be consummated by a private purchaser who intends to allow Lady Cowans to retain the souvenirs until her death. No wonder that the widow ruminates on the large sums given to men who have held relatively unimportant secretarial positions. The head of the Cabinet secretariat pocketed £25,000 for three years of service—a fairly handsome sum when one considers that Lord Kitchener received only £50,000 for his fine work in the South African campaign—and his adroit handling of the peace negotiations.

UPHOLD THE LAW.

It is obvious that the newly-appointed supervisor of enforcement for the Liquor Control Board is on firm ground when he declares that it is against the law for club officials to sell beer. It has already been established by the Court of Appeal that beer is liquor within the meaning of the Liquor Control Act.

In this and in other particulars connected with the liquor-business of this Province the people as a whole should assist the authorities to enforce the law. Individuals who will wrangle over the definition of liquid that is obviously intoxicating are not showing that respect for good government which ought to be assured. Nor is the question of price any argument for desiring to evade the law by making sales over club counters. The club that sells it is going to make a profit and it cannot make a profit and purvey to its members at a less cost than that for which the individual may go to the official vendor and lay in his supply.

The Attorney-General and the Liquor Control Board have plenty of difficulties in the ordinary way of things. It is just possible that all the tactics employed to assure a reasonable respect for the law are not the wisest; but that is not the point. These officials are entitled to the full support of the people as a whole. There will be little trouble if this be given.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Victoria cannot complain of insufficient musical entertainment these days. The Moose bands show what can be done in this connection.

Newcastle's president of the Chamber of Commerce in that city was born in Vancouver. One of the visiting members of the Vancouver Board of Trade was born in Newcastle. How about that for a fifty-fifty split!

Great Britain has denied that she is exercising any influence in Soviet Asia. Why should she? She does not consider Bolshevism a menace to be counteracted. She realizes that the doctrine of Lenine and Trotzky already has condemned itself.

Why will people still try to argue that beer is not liquor when the provisions of the Liquor Control Act are as plain as a pikestaff to the ordinary mortal? One of these days we shall be told that bread is not food because it does not conform to some crank's idea of nutriment.

What a business politics is! Some busy-body must raise the question of Hebridean discontent in the House of Commons and get the newspapers of the country plastered with a mountain of the molehill type. Happily Mr. Stewart was able to put the questioner in possession of information that painted the picture in a much less drab color.

Mlle. Floriane has been doing dances in London at one hundred pounds a week. Only a little more than three months ago she was an assistant in a boot and shoe store in Paris. She gave a dance at a cabaret and was seen by a London dancing expert who invited her to give a dance at Monte Carlo. The dance was duly given and she was offered her present salary with a long engagement. This is how things go. Five hundred dollars a week makes a Cabinet Minister's salary look like five cents; but we suppose we shall still have to conduct campaigns for the hospitals and let education bow the knee to the fox trot of Mlle. Floriane.

OUR CONTEMPORARIES

CONVENIENCE OF CANADA. London Advertiser:—Englishmen arriving too late to get into the United States are coming to Canada, and will stay here until the time comes to cross the line in Canada a sort of waiting-room for the United States?

THE RIVALS. Ottawa Journal:—When Sir John Simon and Lord Birkenhead clashed in the Lords, flint met steel. The two men, probably the two most brilliant young parliamentarians of their time, have been rivals for years. They were rivals at Oxford, and, according to report, tossed a coin to determine the respective party which each should join (it being agreed that one party was not big enough for the two). Since then Simon has been Attorney-General and declined a Lord Chancellorship, while Birkenhead has been Lord Chancellor. And now Simon sits in the House as the prospective successor to the leadership of the Liberal party, while Birkenhead flirts between Conservatism and Lloyd George, an enigma of British politics.

"SAANICH DAY" MEETING

To the Editor:—Will you allow me to take this means of notifying all members of the Tillamook Voters' Association that the Municipal Council has advised me that a meeting to discuss the celebration of a Saanich Day on Monday, July 2, has been called for Monday evening next in the Toimie School, and that they are requested to attend the same so that the wishes of all parties whether in favor or otherwise may be ascertained. Perhaps I may add that the idea of such a community picnic is by no means a new one, and is properly handled and if all will really work to make it a success instead of leaving it, as so often happens, to one or two to shoulder the burden, and whether the most attractive form of entertainment would be sports or lectures on "citizenship" may be a matter of opinion but the meeting on Monday next can settle that question.

W. RIDGWAY WILSON, President. June 7, 1923.

PREVENTION

To the Editor:—The visit of Dr. Price to our city revealed the fact that there is a terrible amount of sickness of various kinds and deformities in our city. The number of these unfortunates who crowd to his meetings was startling and sad, and doubtless a large number remained at home. It is the same in other cities. Why do not the clergy face this fact and tell their congregations—the cause and the remedy? Surely prevention is better than cure. Sir Henry Newbolt when in Victoria complained that the Bible is not studied enough; this probably applies to the preachers as well as to the people. They give us pleasant essays upon popular subjects. But are their hearers "rebellious people, lying children that will not hear the word of the Lord, which say to the preachers; Preach not to us right things, speak unto us smooth things, preach deceits?"

God tells us in very plain words in the Bible why there is sickness of all kinds, and not only among human beings, but among our animals, crops, fruit trees, and so forth. God also tells us very clearly how all the above can be avoided, and we can be blessed in the city, in the country, in our bodies and in everything we have and do. But the preachers keep silent; "they are blind, they are all ignorant, they are all dumb dogs that cannot bark, crying woe, woe, woe, until the wrath of the Lord arises against His people, till there be no remedy, until the Son of Man comes." A PROPHET IN ISRAEL. THE GALLANT FIFTH.

To the Editor:—Will you permit me through your columns to make a general appeal to the citizens of Victoria on behalf of the Fifth Regiment, Canadian Garrison Artillery. This regiment consists of four batteries, and training is given on various nature of guns, including 3.5 pounder field guns, 8-inch Howitzers, 5.5-inch guns and 12 pounder quick firing guns.

We are now concentrating our efforts on the training of specialists for all batteries including signallers, gun layers and range finders. We want about fifty young men to take up this work. Training in the regiment does not interfere with any man's civil occupation, as the classes for instruction are held in the evenings. The rate of pay for drills, though not large, is sufficient to provide a goodly sum for pocket money.

The regiment will hold its annual camp next month. The 5th Battery goes to Saanich, near Calgary, for camp, and for those who can attend this camp a good opportunity is provided for a very interesting trip and holiday. The other three batteries hold their annual camp at Macaulay, where drills are held in the evenings, so that a man's daily occupation is not interfered with.

Since the war there appears to be a greater lack of interest and enthusiasm in the militia than in former years. This is not hard to understand, as it is a natural reaction from the strain of the war, but it makes the task more difficult for those who believe that the organization of the militia should be kept intact.

The Fifth Regiment is the oldest militia unit in Canada, and has been actively identified with the civil life in Victoria for forty-five years, during which time hundreds of leading citizens of Victoria have served in the unit.

We are now in need of about fifty more young men whom we require to carry out our training properly, and we make this appeal not only to the young men of Victoria themselves, but also to parents to encourage their boys and to employers to encourage their employees to help a good cause and become active members of the regiment.

Last year the Fifth Regiment had first success in winning the first prize in Canada for gun practice and second prize for general efficiency. It is hoped that the high standard obtained last year and frequently in former years will be maintained this Summer.

Training in the regiment is not limited to soldiering; militia training includes physical and character development as well. Our drill hall is the best in Canada, and the splendid swimming pool, gymnasium and club rooms provide the best of facilities for physical training and sports.

Weekly drills are held every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. An invitation is extended to all young men who

NEWS IN BRIEF

The secretary of the G.W.V.A. wishes to recover a discharge certificate and personal papers belonging to Francis Chapman, a member of the organization, who lost them last Tuesday night.

Attention is being attracted to the window at 707 Fort Street, displaying the Anti-Vivisection Society's literature. Pictures of well-known anti-vivisectionists and of human and animal "material" are also exhibited.

The Kumtuka Club will hold its monthly business meeting on Monday evening at 8 o'clock at 626 Vancouver Street. As matters of great importance to the club, including the forthcoming Business Women's Convention in Portland, Ore., will be discussed, members are urged to make a special effort to attend.

In a short session of the Esquimalt Police Court yesterday afternoon John Locke was fined $10 for permitting the new sun-room at the Johnson-Locke, F. A. Graham, charged on two counts with infractions of the building by-law, was remanded for hearing. H. Zanelli, charged with operating a car without its tail light, was fined $5. Court was held at the Municipal Hall before Magistrate Jay.

The Tuberculous Veterans' Association, affiliated with the G. W. V. A., wishes to thank the merchants of this city for their great kindness in furnishing the new sun-room at the Fairbanks-Morse Block, which the tuberculous veterans will have the privilege of using. Thanks are extended to the Hudson's Bay Company, T. N. Hibben & Son, City Auction Mart, proprietor Harris; Victoria Book and Stationery Company; and Tydesley's. Other donations will be gratefully received and may be left with the G. W. V. A. secretary, Broad and Johnson Street, telephone 400.

Damages to the extent of $1,000 were awarded by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald in the Supreme Court yesterday, at the close of the hearing of Cripps versus Leonard in the afternoon session of the court. Costs on the County Court scale were allowed. W. A. Brethour appeared for the plaintiff, Harold Proctor, Cripps, 463 Garbally Road, and H. B. Robertson, K.C., for the defendant, Miss E. M. Leonard, 1567 Fernwood Road. Plaintiff sought $10,000 as the result of injuries received when he was knocked down while walking on the Gorge Road at night by a car owned by the defendant.

Mrs. Don Campbell, of Fernie, gave an address on "The Formation of Character" before the Girls' Corner Club at its meeting last evening. Mrs. J. S. Patterson sang a solo which was much appreciated. The girls are busy making preparations for the garden party to take place at "Clovelly," North Quadra Street, on June 27, the proceeds of which will go to the Shaftsbury Society. Plaintiff sought $10,000 as the result of injuries received when he was knocked down while walking on the Gorge Road at night by a car owned by the defendant.

CHINAMEN SENT BACK TO SEATTLE

Two Chinamen, reported to be deported from Seattle, were taken from the President Grant at the Ordan Point docks at 6 o'clock last night outbound for the Orient by U. S. Immigration officials. Following a long distance telephone message to the local office the two Chinamen were secured aboard the outgoing vessel and will be returned to Seattle by this afternoon's boat.

No Extension of Service on Sooke Branch of C.N.R.

Following an application for the extension of the gas car service on the Sooke branch of the Canadian National Railway, the Tourist Trade group of the Chamber of Commerce was today informed that owing to labor difficulties the existing service was in jeopardy. It was reported that the company had received a complaint from labor unions asking for a four-man train crew, an additional cost of which, it was stated, would add greatly to the operating expenses, and that therefore any extension of service at the present time was out of the question.

WILL HONOR FROLIC QUEEN

Miss Dora Rolls Will Be Guest of Honor at Civil Service Association Function Shortly

Arranged as a congratulatory function to honor her entrant in the Queen contest, the Civil Service Association will be hosts at a dinner and dance on Friday next at which Queen Dora Rolls, formerly of the Maytime Frolic Court, will be thanked for the splendid way in which she fulfilled her onerous reign.

The function will be held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, commencing at 7:15 p. m. The maids of honor of the Maytime Court will be invited to attend. A specially attractive programme concluding with a dance has been prepared, and the members of the committee in charge of the function plan to make the event one to be remembered in the annals of the Association. Tickets may now be had from the secretary of the organization, a specialty of the committee in charge of the event.

FEAR TAXI MEN WOULD OPPOSE

Owing to the statement that the taxi drivers of this city are dissatisfied with the actions of the Chamber of Commerce in supplying motor cars to the district, the Tourist Trade Group of the Chamber of Commerce cannot decide whether or not it should conform with the request made by the taxi men to supply thirty automobiles for the afternoon of the first day of that organization's convention.

If it is the intention of the Macbees to purchase a camp site at some point on the lower part of this island, and somewhere near the city of Victoria, if the association can find a suitable place, this camp site will be for the use of the girls of the Province who are under the care of the Macbees. Representatives of the Macbees to-day came before a meeting of the Tourist Trade Group and requested that thirty cars be supplied to take the visiting women about the city and show them the sights of the city.

Some members of the Tourist Trade Group declared that Secretary Warren had gone outside his authority in making this statement.

One hundred and fifty women of the Macbees are to visit this city next Thursday, and will remain here until Saturday. They are representatives from every part of the United States, and a number of the 70,000 women of their organization.

D. W. Poupard made the report of his committee that several local service clubs had given support to the project of inviting kindred organizations to this city during the Summer months. The Gyros, Kumtuka, Retail Merchants and Kiwanians all endorsed the movement. The Rotary will take action on the subject in the near future.

Frank Waring was chairman of the meeting.

CITY SEEKS TO PROTECT BRIDGE

Plan Regulations to Keep Shipping From Damaging New Viaduct

Regulations to govern shipping while it is passing under the new Johnson Street Bridge are under consideration by the city authorities at present. Before the city can enforce effective measures to protect the bridge from shipping it will have to secure further powers from Ottawa, it was explained at the City Hall to-day.

The city's main purpose is to force ships to use tugs when going under the bridge during a blow. It was stated to-day that some time ago a large ship going under the bridge was driven by a strong westerly wind into one of the bridge piers. Another collision of this sort might crack the pier, it is feared.

An elaborate set of shipping regulations, drafted to protect the bridge, has been drawn up by the Inner Harbor Association and is under consideration by the Council.

RAINS CHECK FOREST FIRES

Heavy rains and exceptionally wet conditions in most parts of the Province, just before the present spell of hot weather resulted in checking the increase in the number of forest fires, which had assumed alarming proportions during the latter part of May, according to the report issued to-day by P. Z. Caverhill, chief forester.

During the last week there were 38 forest fires in the Province, bringing the total for the year so far up to 289.

MOTOR MORONS TO BE OUTLAWED UNDER TEST SCHEME

Medical, mental and driving efficiency examinations may be required before any person can drive his or any other motor car, according to Police Commissioner Tom Harnett, of Vancouver, who has been at the Parliament Buildings discussing Vancouver affairs with Attorney-General Manson.

Such a requirement is now necessary in this Province to protect not only the public but other motor car drivers from moron-drivers, he said. He told of what he himself saw on Sunday just outside of Vancouver, when a woman came dashing along in a high-powered car, which she apparently did not know how to stop or drive. She knocked another car off the road with such force that it careened over its top in the ditch. She did not stop, but her car went right on wobbling from side to side. The police commissioner managed to get his car to one side of the road in time to escape this female juggernaut.

Examination of all persons before they are allowed to get behind the steering wheel of a motor car is now being carried out in places in the East and is part of a continent-wide movement to make motoring more safe. Commissioner Harnett said. He declared that provision for regulation would have to be Province-wide because if it were not persons from districts where there was no examination would be driving into the protected district.

Such a provision would also give police here a chance to test brakes of all motor cars and eliminate those persons who run around now with brakes so worn that they do not stop a car at all.

JAY-WALKING SUBJECT OF APPEAL COURT

Vancouver City By-Law to Prevent Crossing at Improper Points in Dispute

The traffic regulation by-law of the City of Vancouver to prevent what is commonly known as "jay-walking" received some notice in the Court of Appeal here this morning during the hearing of Sufferin versus McGivern, an appeal from a damage award. Part of the by-law was cited in the appeal book, being that portion dealing with the infringement of cutting across the street at other than an intersection.

That the plaintiff-respondent, Mrs. Sufferin, had crossed Granville Street in front of the Globe Theatre, passing in front of a street car, to be only cut down by a motor car driven by the defendant-appellant McGivern, was cited by R. M. Macdonald as proof of the negligence of Mrs. Sufferin, held by the City Honor Judge Grant, in the Country Court at Vancouver, while not questioning the by-law at length had questioned the by-law at the City Council to enact such a measure, said Gordon Wismer, for the respondent.

Mr. Wismer said he had wished the entire by-law incorporated in the appeal book but found that this had not been done. It had been open to him to make a motion to Court to that effect before the hearing and he had not taken that course, pointed out their Lordships. The by-law was passed under the powers of the city charter, held Mr. Macdonald, though the point had not been discussed at the trial but merely commented on by the trial judge.

Rate of Speed.

That the defendant-appellant was travelling "at an excessive rate of speed" and had not exercised due caution under the circumstances, held Mr. Wismer. The plaintiff-respondent would not have been struck if she had stood still after escaping the street car and not run in front of the motor car, held Mr. Macdonald. People, under similar circumstances, could not be expected to do better, he said, to the best means of avoiding the danger, observed Mr. Justice Martin, pointing out that the trial judge had found an excessive rate of speed on the part of the driver of the motor car. The hearing continues with Mr. Wismer yet to be heard. Opening yesterday afternoon the appeal was heard.

Montreal, June 8.—Lady Macmaster, widow of Sir Donald MacMaster, Bart., died yesterday in London, according to a cable received by friends here.

KING'S DAUGHTERS SHOW MAGNIFICENT YEAR OF SERVICE

Sick and Needy Materially Assisted; Mrs. L. H. Hardie Again, President

Provincial officers of the King's Daughters for the coming year will be as follows: Hon. president, Miss M. Leitch, Victoria; president, Mrs. L. H. Hardie, Victoria; vice-president, Mrs. H. A. S. Morley, Victoria; secretary, Miss M. S. Ross, Vancouver; treasurer, Miss A. G. Henderson, Vancouver; Central Council member, Miss M. Leitch.

At this morning's session a number of Circle reports were given, inclusive of the Order's non-spectacular but none the less magnificent work among the sick and destitute. Various matters pertaining to the internal administration of the Order were discussed at length.

During the year the Nurses' Home had been added, and the building formerly used for the nurses was converted into a tuberculosis ward. The Nurses' Home cost $5,200, and the T. B. Ward to date had cost $2,400, with $150 still due for the painting of the building.

Additional equipment acquired during the year included a large sterilizer for dressings, an ether spray and a dental chair. An up-to-date X-ray machine is badly needed, but the hospital is not at present in the position to install one.

President's Address. Mrs. L. H. Hardie, in her presidential address noted that the 730 members of the Order had between them raised $11,425.25 worth of work of achievement. After referring with much pleasure to her official visit to the Vancouver branch last year, Mrs. Hardie expressed the hope that the coming year would see the consummation of their effort to erect a convalescent home.

The Victoria branch of the Order reported an active year spent in service for the sick and needy. The Children's Aid Home and Protestant Orphanage inmates had been remembered on many occasions with gifts of various kinds, $190 was given to the King's Daughters' Hospital at Duncan, together with a handsome set of surgical instruments, while the maintenance of the rest room was always one of the Order's first cares.

Waterproofing the Dining Porch. "I'd like to use this little square side porch as a dining porch," meditated a suburban housewife, "and of course we could have it open out of the regular dining room, instead of out of this side entry, by cutting one of the dining room windows down into a French door. But the real difficulty is that whenever it rains, this entire porch is simply drenched. It beats in here terrifically whenever we have a hard storm."

WOMEN'S MOVEMENT SPREADING RAPIDLY

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt Impressed With Progress in Central Europe

New York, June 8.—The women's movement is the one movement in the world not calling names or mobilizing armies, but now, she said, she had found the women's movement the world over. It is the one united movement in the world.

Mrs. Catt said she had gone to Central Europe to help women organize to retain the political and personal freedom they had gained after the war, but she had found the women there protecting their newly-found freedom. Women everywhere, she said, were convinced the time had not come to dissolve their organizations.

The Latin peoples, she declared, once had been the wall in the path of woman's suffrage, but now, she said, "the wall has leaped the wall and is rolling through the Orient as well."

In Rome, she said, she received certain information that the Roman Catholic Church would not oppose the enfranchisement of women. By next year, she declared, she hoped the Mohammedan churches will have capitulated.

The suffrage leader expressed the opinion that the women of South America are a long way from the vote as yet. First, she said, they must be educated and must obtain the nullification of the Napoleonic code under which they live. South America must wait a decade for women's suffrage, she declared.

She said she was so well pleased with the progress women were making that she was going to devote her "few remaining years to the men."

She urged that the United States lead the way out of the European maze through some form of international co-operation. She expressed the opinion that unless something was done the Ruhr conflict would shake the foundation of the world. Already, she added, it was referred to in France and Germany as "the war."

Mrs. E. G. Prior entertained at her home on St. Charles Street yesterday afternoon with bridge and also at a mah-jongg in the evening. Among the guests were Mrs. J. A. Macdonald, Mrs. Genge, Mrs. J. S. C. Fraser, Mrs. Herbert Wilson, Mrs. W. Todd, Mrs. B. S. Hetzlerman, Mrs. Jack Ribbet, Mrs. Harry Adams, Mrs. Charles Todd, Mrs. A. C. Flumerfelt and Mrs. T. S. Gore.

Mrs. Edward Anderson, of Winnipeg, was the guest of honor at a delightful bridge-tea given by Lady Bury at the Jericho Country Club, Vancouver, on Wednesday afternoon. Pastel-shaded columbines made an effective centre for the tea table, which was presided over by Mrs. Helen Drummond and Mrs. Wroughton, while Mrs. Hendrie Leggat cut the ices. Assisting in serving were Mrs. J. M. Scott, Mrs. W. A. Anstie, Jackie and Miss Margaret MacKenzie.

The gingham dance given last night by the ladies' guild of the Sailors' Club, Esquimalt, and held in the large assembly hall, was a social and financial success, in spite of many counter-attractions, and a very enjoyable evening was spent. Mrs. Yanna was general co-ordinator and served a tempting supper of "fish and chips," which proved a very popular deviation from the more conventional refreshments. Miss Tina and her well-known orchestra supplied the music.

All members were invited to be present at a social tea to take place in the parish room on the afternoon of Thursday, June 21. MONEY TAKEN BY NANAIMO THIEF

Burglar Not Attracted By Jewelry in Houses He Visited

Nanaimo, June 8.—The activities of a mysterious thief who has successfully burglarized a number of residences here but who apparently scorns any other booty than money is engaging the attention of this town. From one or two residences the burglar took small sums of money, but left other portable valuables, even jewelry. He ransacked the sheriff's house, where he found no money. He attempted to enter the residence of Chief of Provincial Police Stevenson, but did not succeed. He has always managed to get clear away.

MOOSE BANDS GIVE VICTORIANS A GOOD CONCERT ON LAWNS

Musicians Enjoy Practical Joke On Route; Thousands Applaud Fine Playing

Thousands of Victorians and loyal Moose last night enjoyed the concert given on the Parliament Buildings lawns by the massed bands of the lodges attending the big convention of the Northwest Moose Association. The procession down Government Street from office headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium was made through a dense crowd of spectators, the cheerful chorals attracting everyone within a mile of the route to the scene.

WILLIAM DEE DIED IN NANAIMO

period of instruction will be completed this evening. Any members of the battalion who were unable to take part in the camp are expected to report as soon as possible in order that accommodation may be provided.

As the leading band was approaching the Post Office Building on the way to the Causeway it struck up a lament which has become a sort of war cry among members of this and other conventions. "How dry I am" wailed the cornets, echoed to the full by basso and clarinet. Some wag with quickened intelligence, promptly stepped out from the kerbside, and with an air of grandiloquent authority barred the road ahead, extended a directional arm towards the East, and the obedient cohorts swung around in pursuit of the new marshal, whose backward pacing ended at the south side of the Belmont Block.

The witicism aroused a great burst of laughter from the bandmen and paraders, but in a moment they were wrathfully seeking their betrayer, for the government employees struck up their interrupted musical lamentations as they wended their way around the rear of the Empress Hotel towards the scene of their later splendid efforts to entertain Victorians.

DAVE CARLEY

An Appreciation BY R. E. GOSNELL

Reading in the Victoria papers of the death of Dave Carley, so known to all his friends, I called to mind the day he "struck" Vancouver in 1888. That evening, as a "sub," he worked in the composing room of The News-Advertiser, which was next to the single editorial and news room, Mr. Cotton, the editor, and I sitting on opposite sides of a small table, largely occupied by exchanges, the pile of which daily grew larger and which he never allowed to be removed or destroyed. Carley's presence was more or less of a distraction, because he talked very loud and very fast, and laughed a great deal. He was on occasion what you would call a "noisy" printer. Jim Wright, well known to the early printing fraternity of Vancouver, was foreman, and I remember Mr. Cotton suggesting that he should ask "that man in there" to subdue his conversation somewhat. For a time it was subdued but by degrees it became loud and strenuous as before. We learned from the foreman that Dave had been a Nile "voyageur," something I tried very hard to be myself, and we forgave him and bore with him. Moreover, he had been, and still was as a matter of fact what was known as a "stramp," printer and writer, after his return from Egypt, had worked at his trade in nearly every town and city of any importance in the Great Republic, and was overjoyed and exulted on account of being back once more on the native soil of Canada. Incidentally, he was broke. This species of printer to which not a few of the early members of the craft in British Columbia belonged, is now almost extinct; but thirty or forty years ago, he was recognized as a legitimate and not at all a disreputable member of the fraternity. He was accepted as a matter of course. The conversation on this occasion was in the main carried on between him and "Maimy" Simpson, then a typist as well as a lacrosse player in the Vancouver team, champions of that year, and I am bound to say he was a much better lacrosse player than a compositor. Dave Carley worked in The News-Advertiser as a "sub" until he had money enough to go to Victoria, where he got a permanent job in The Colonist composing room. He had since returning from the Nile, and most probably as the result of his experience there, acquired the restlessness so characteristic of the "stramp" printer, and bit of their tendency to spend as they went. When under the "influence," as he was on his advent in Vancouver, he was exuberantly funny. Even Mr. Cotton, who rarely even smiled, could not restrain laughter, and I think rather enjoyed Carley's temporary stay in the composing room. One thing certain, his editorials in the morning were much more human than usual when Dave had a case during the night. All at once in Victoria, and shortly after he wended there, he settled down and ever after, so far as I know, was strictly teetotal. He started several years later a little weekly paper called The Home Colonist, to which the late Judge Schults contributed, occasionally myself—anonously, of course—and I'll hazard a bet that so also did W. J. Taylor, K. C., who was a friend of Carley's, and who keenly enjoyed getting one over on some one he had a crow to pick with him. The Home Journal was a spicy, gossipy paper, but never vulgar or scurrilous. Carley had no yellow streak in him, and only saw the humorous side of life in its pleasant aspects. He enjoyed the fun and banter in his own columns as much as any of his readers could possibly do. Though he apparently took life easy, almost loafing on the job, always having lots of time to "yarn," which he loved to do, he was really a very hard, though irregular worker. He was his own editor, compositor, make-up man, pressman, mail clerk, bookkeeper, collector and solicitor—everything. He did a great deal of his work at night, and often worked into the small hours of the morning. In 1897, I think it was, The Journal came to a conclusion, or rather he brought it to a conclusion of his own accord. He thought he saw better prospects in Nelson, where he started The Economist. Carley was considerable of a reader, and I bought most of his well selected collection of books for the Legislative Library. He had several rare volumes, one being an unexpurgated edition of Hawthorne, which I kept in a secluded part of the library along with some others of its ilk. For a time in 1898 he ran a daily called, if I mistake not, The Canadian. It was really a campaign sheet in the interests of the Turner government, and was, of course, short-lived. As in Victoria, he did most of his own work, being tireless in endeavor. Without making much money he always kept ahead of the game, and when he came again to the coast he was able

Eighteen Sprinters Seek Honors in Dash

Visiting Athletes Here to Take Part in Moose Sports at Willows To-morrow Afternoon; Events Added for Boys and Girls; Man and Horse Will Race Over 100 Yards

One of the finest programmes of field and track events has been arranged here for some time to be staged at the Willows track to-morrow afternoon commencing at two o'clock. The sports are being held in connection with the Moose convention by the V.I.A.A. with Billy Davies in charge.

A number of star athletes from the mainland and Washington are coming to participate in the events, and it is expected that the star local sprinter, Cecil Hay, will be home in time to compete. He left Montreal on Monday and is due to-morrow morning. Hay is conceded a splendid chance of winning all the sprints although the competition will be very keen and there will be no runaway.

Seattle Star Here Detective Watson, the sensational sprinter and jumper of Seattle, arrived to-day to pick out the bulk of the honors. He is assured of plenty of hot competition, particularly in the sprints.

Victoria has a lot of promising young athletes who will appear to-morrow. The University School has a couple of sprinters who are knocking off the hundred yards race in ten seconds flat, while the High School has some lads who can bustle over the dashes. McCallum and Clark are two local boys who can step the hundred in lively fashion.

Eighteen sprinters have entered in the 100 and 220 dashes. This will make it necessary to run heats, and the finalists should come close to shattering some of the British Columbia records of long standing.

A Varied Programme The programme is a varied one and will provide plenty of stiff competition. An added thrill will be given when the winner of the 100-yard dash engages in an exhibition race with a race horse ridden by Lieut. Carley. Both man and horse will have a standing start, and as the pistol shot will break for the tape, some folks will wonder who will lead the horse, but the bulk of opinion seems to favor the equine winning handsomely.

The track at the Willows has been put in splendid shape and the athletes will have nothing to complain about. The loose earth has been well packed and will provide a gripping surface for the boys who wear spiked shoes.

As a result of a demand for races for youngsters, the V.I.A.A. has announced this morning that events had been added to the programme for boys and girls. All kiddies under ten are invited to take part. A chance to test themselves out in competition. There will be races for boys and girls under ten years and similar events for those under twelve years.

MITCHELL AND DUNCAN PROVE TOO STRONG FOR SARAZEN AND W. HAGEN

ATV, Scotland, June 8.—George Mitchell and Alvin Duncan, the British professionals, yesterday defeated Gene Sarazen and Walter Hagen, Americans, four up and three to play in a local four-ball match.

FIRPO NOT AFRAID Havana, June 8.—Luis Firpo, the South American heavyweight fighter, held in answer to a statement by a local boxing promoter that he had declined to meet Antolin Fierro, the Cuban heavyweight champion, because he was "too dangerous," that he would fight Fierro "any time and anywhere provided it does not interfere with arrangements I already have made."

Automotives to Go IN QUEST OF GAME C. P. R. Will Find Mechanics Hard to Dispose of To-morrow Afternoon

Automotives and C.P.R. will provide the excitement in to-morrow afternoon's amateur baseball fixture at the Stadium. The fans are assured that the game will be a hot one, as it is rumored around the ball circles that the motormen have strengthened their line-up considerably and will be able to make either of their two opponents step lively.

Now that the Eagles have lived things up by beating the railroaders it is the desire of the Autogen to chalk up a win over the fast C.P.R. squad. Ray Parfitt, the star twirler of the mechanics, will be on the mound for them, and with a wink of support in the field he will make the railway men scratch for their bits. He has had hard luck this season pitching a brand of ball that should net him a win, but has been given poor support by his teammates, both at bat and in the field. In his last game against the Autogen he pitched a gem, but Jackson caused the Automotives to go down to defeat.

"Red" McIntyre or Chambers will be the "box" for the C.P.R. The company nine will be out after five as they wish to get back to even terms with the Eagles for the league membership. A loss would throw them two games behind in the league, so the mechanics will have to step lively if they expect to hand them a trimming.

SONS AND SPENCERS WILL MEET TO-NIGHT Leadership of Commercial League at Stake; Clash at Central Park

The Sons of Canada, top dogs of the Commercial Baseball League, and Spencer's, who are at present occupying second position, will meet to-night at Central Park at 6:45 o'clock. This is the first meeting of these two teams since the last time they met in the field, when a hard fought battle resulted in a draw.

The Sons have yet to taste their first defeat, having stacked up against the two other teams and coming out on top in the feathered score. Spencer's have only met defeat once and are anxious to hand the Canadians their first trimming. The following represent the Native Sons: Hilton, Curtis, More, Salloway, Miller, C. Campbell, H. Auckinvel, B. Holman and W. Nachtrieb.

Figures in Baseball Trade

HANK GOWDY

Boston, June 8.—Jess Barnes, pitcher, and Earl Smith, catcher of the New York Giants, will come to the Boston National League club in exchange for John Watson, pitcher, and Hank Gowdy, veteran catcher, the Boston club announced to-night. No cash is involved in the deal.

Hank Gowdy burst into the sporting spotlight in 1914 with a vengeance and held it ever since. Gowdy is one of the most popular players that ever graced the National League. Hank Gowdy was a raw recruit when he joined the Giants in 1910. He didn't make much of an impression on McGraw and when the opportunity came to arrange a trade with Boston for Charley Herzog, Gowdy was shoved along in company with Art Bridwell and a bundle of cash.

He said that the fight would be conducted on a "proper" basis.

Champion Will Not Be Able to Put On Gloves Until Next Week; Will Do Road Work Only; Tommy Gibbons Starts Training With 16-Mile Hike; Has Lots of Friends

Great Falls, Mont., June 8.—A big patch of court plaster holding in place over his eye a wad of cotton kept Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, out of the ring yesterday and until the first of next week, his repository of training activities will consist of long hikes with Jerry, the bull pup, and struggles at the pinocchio table.

Dempsey's eye was injured on Wednesday when he was butted by Rocco Stramaglia, a local light heavyweight, during a session in training ring. At the time the injury was thought to be of little consequence, but yesterday it proved to be sufficiently serious to place a ban on the champion's ring work for several days.

His Departed

After butting the champion, the Coast boxer led him a pretty foot-race during the remainder of the bout, but beyond giving Dempsey a chance to improve his wind over a swiftly paced course, contributed little to the conditioning of the champion. Yesterday Stramaglia was not at the camp and a report had it that his departure followed a broad hint to the effect that Dempsey is training for a championship boxing match, not a training match.

Frank Powers, New York Middleweight, Also Left Dempsey's Camp Yesterday

Frank Powers, New York middleweight, also left Dempsey's camp yesterday. He is the first to drop out because of his inability to absorb the punishment these clubs has suffered defeat as yet.

Should Be Close Game

The Albions and United Services are expected to have the toughest game. The Services hung up their initial win of the season last Saturday by squeezing through by a single run over the Five C's. The Albions have displayed considerable batting strength and unless the side falls badly it should be able to account for the Tommies. Should the Services win they would immediately jump up and become a factor in the race, although it is generally conceded that the real tussle will be between the Incoogs, last year's champions, and Victoria.

Plenty of Friends

The morning mail for Gibbons contained a St. Paul, Minn., city directory on which was written: "This is a partial list of the St. Paul friends who wish you good luck and the championship." The message was signed by Frank Ubel.

ROYAL VICTORIA

For the sake of art Richard Barthelmess in his new First National picture, "Fury," which will be shown again to-day at the Royal, endures more punishment than falls to the lot of the sporting partner of a champion preparing for a world title battle. The author, Edmund Goulding, wanted to draw a picture of the lives of the rough, sea-going characters who live by force and settle every dispute with the fist or knife.

That the bump and thump he received at the hands of Tyrone Power were of a character that could be felt, was shown when Mr. Barthelmess was obliged to take a short vacation before going on with the making of the picture in order that his bruised body could be made normal again.

Mr. Power was in his college days a celebrated athlete, and he put force behind every blow he delivered. The star, realizing that the story demanded such treatment, accepted as another incident in the chapter of life before the camera.

roles, and the feature at the Dominion Theatre to-day. It was of a first meeting of Brenon and Tearle in the years intervening between their one previous professional association and the work on this Paramount picture.

Reminiscences of "when" were the order of the day throughout the production work. Mutual friends and fellow workers came in for their share of discussion. An Conway Tearle maintains that Herbert Brenon is the director of the hour, while Herbert Brenon is confident that Conway Tearle is the best actor on the screen to-day!

DOMINION

"I knew him when." So say both Herbert Brenon and Conway Tearle when discussing the other, with the And it's literally true, for Herbert Brenon directed Conway Tearle years ago in the much-discussed photoplay, "The Fall of the Romanoffs."

In the swift moving history of motion pictures that event is considered almost prehistoric. Herbert Brenon has directed motion pictures all over the world since the days when he was producing the ill-fated story of the Russian royal family. He spent several years on the Continent, directing in England and Italy.

Conway Tearle has been equally busy in his line of endeavor. Pictures by the dozen have followed his early efforts with Herbert Brenon.

Recently Herbert Brenon was engaged to produce "The Rustle of Silk," with Betty Compton and Conway Tearle featured in the principal

CAPITOL

Since prohibition has become more or less effective it has become a common sight to witness raids on different resorts suspected of selling liquor. This was amply evidenced during the filming of scenes for Dorothy Dalton's latest Paramount production, "Fog Bound," which is showing at the Capitol Theatre. All exterior for this picture were shot in the vicinity of Palm Beach, Florida. One sequence shows a raid by revenue officers on one of the many inns in that section, and great curiosity was manifested in the event by society folk at this exclusive resort. At times the crowd was so great that production work had to be suspended for a time until the spectators were persuaded to move back. Willard, the producer, decided to run no risks of a retake and so made several records of the shot, which is said by those who have seen the production to be one of the most thrilling and interesting episodes ever screened. David Powell is Miss Dalton's leading man, and Maurice Costello and Martha Mansfield are included in the strong supporting cast.

COLUMBIA

The new Zane Grey photoplay, "Golden Dreams," adapted from his story of the same title, by the producer, Benjamin B. Hampton, for Goldwyn release, showing to-day at the Columbia Theatre, boasts one of the best all-around casts that Mr. Hampton has ever selected.

Beautiful Claire Adams, the Zane Grey heroine—because she has played the feminine lead in nearly every Zane Grey novel that has been dramatized—is cast as Mercedes McDonald, who is in love with Sandy Buchanan, the American mining engineer in charge of the oil wells on the McDonald estate in the mysterious Spanish state in America, called Chinora. Carl Gantvoort, the man recruited from grand opera, who played opposite Claire Adams in the "Romance Rides," another Hampton-Zane Grey picture distributed by Goldwyn, is the American engineer.

Mme. Rose Dione, who has appeared in several Goldwyn pictures and in the production of half a dozen other motion picture companies, plays the role of Mercedes' aunt, Bertram Grayson, a young English actor well known on the legitimate stage and on the screen, is cast as the villainous Duke of Othome, while Frank Leigh, an actor with twenty years' experience on stage and screen, plays his equally villainous uncle, Don Felipe de Cristobal.

Frank Hayes, known to fame as the Keystone cop, appears as a comic circus man, Babe London, a graduate from the two-reel comedy, who has appeared with Chaplin, Vitagraph and Lyons-Moran, helps Hayes put the comedy across. Walter Perkins, well-known character actor on the stage before going into the "movies," and remembered by fans for his characterizations in "Bill Henry" and "Peaceful Valley," is the proprietor of the American circus trying to recoup its fortunes in Chinora. Mary Jane Irving, aged seven, as the circus girl, gives a delightful touch to the film.

challenge by taking the Englishman to a small cafe in a side street off Piccadilly, reference to which he showed him in a passage from Dickens, and by leaving him in two warehouses at the East India Docks, first, the bill of lading for a certain cargo of tea sent to Boston with a resting place in Boston Harbor; and secondly, a name of Charles Lamb, written in a ledger, as having been employed there in a clerical capacity.

The Englishman acknowledged his indebtedness to Mr. Wade for his introduction to three such interesting records, and presented him with the documents on whose account he had been challenged.

These documents which include the commission granted to Governor Blanehard, the instructions sent therewith, and the original passenger list of the first emigrant ship coming to Victoria, are now preserved in the Provincial Archives.

STARTLING SPIRIT PICTURES TO BE SHOWN BY DOYLE

It is confidently expected that the audience which greets Sir Arthur Conan Doyle at the Capitol next Tuesday night will be greatly impressed by the personality of the speaker on psychic phenomena and also by the solidity of the lecturer. Easily the most remarkable of these is the one taken at the London cenotaph proceedings, which shows the crowd honoring England's dead war heroes. Floating above the heads of the crowd are the forms of dead soldiers in uniform. When this picture was thrown on the screen for a few moments in Sir Arthur's first lecture at New York City, the audience sat motionless with amazement for a moment, then sob and cries could be heard from women through the vast crowd.

Sir Arthur holds that an ethereal body, an exact duplicate of the human frame, disengages itself pleasantly and painlessly from the body at the moment of death and that it is the spirit which can be recalled after death through mediumistic seances.

The lecture subject, which will be illustrated with startling spirit pictures, is "Recent Psychic Evidence," and will be given in the Capitol Theatre. The plan and tickets are now at Fletcher Bros' music-house.

Francis Mackay Driver to Leading Tenor

James T. Pilling, Formerly of Victoria, Dies in Oakland

Announcement is made from Oakland, California, of the death there, at the home of James T. Pilling. Death took place following a long illness.

Mr. Pilling began life in the humble position of a hack driver in this city. His tenor voice attracted attention, and he was sent to New York to have his voice trained.

He won the highest praise when he took the concert platform, both in the United States and in England. He was regarded as one of the outstanding tenor singers of the continent, and wherever he was engaged a hearty welcome awaited him.

Eventually he became Northwest representative of the Orpheum circuit, and thus returned occasionally to this city, where his success received the warm commendation of his friends. Subsequently he became a pleasure park manager.

Thirty years ago Mr. Pilling was one of the best lacrosse players in this district, and in 1892 captained a team which won the East and won the world's championship.

NEWS AND NOTES FROM THE MINES

G. W. McAllister, of Calgary, arrived in Prince George, B.C., to complete outfitting for his annual trip into the Peace River country, where the Peace River Mining and Milling Company has a large group of low-grade gold properties. This company is an Ontario concern in which J. Barr, of St. Thomas, is the president, and R. Millard, an engineer of the same place, is interested with Mr. McAllister, together with a number of others.

The mineral claims are located on what is known as the Selkirk deposit, about eight miles below the junction of the Parson and Findlay rivers, and is some 225 miles from Prince George, B.C. by reason of the water route, is the nearest point from which to take in supplies. The claims have been under location by the men interested in the company since 1898. The mineral deposit is conceded to be one of the greatest on the continent, and within the past few years has been examined by a number of eminent mining engineers and geologists. It has been so far from any means of transportation that its value, consistent as they were conceded to be, failed to attract the capital necessary for its commercial development.

Last summer the St. Thomas company undertook the first systematic sampling of the gold-bearing quartz. An idea of the magnitude of the deposit may be gathered from the statement that it has been prospected for a width of about half a mile, can be traced for over two and one-half miles along the mountain side. This may sound like a fairly large area, it is a plain statement by Mr. McAllister of the conditions which his company is dealing with in the Mount Selkirk.

There has not been sufficient work done to establish the contact of the quartz deposit, but from indications it is estimated that it lies between a granite and a schist, with the granite for a footwall. The elevation of the upper claims are said to be 2,400 feet above the Peace river by aneroid measurement.

Trail Shipments.

A small shipment of ore from the Lightning Peak mine in the Arrow lakes district and a shipment of 53 tons from the Silver Star Mining Company at Pine Creek, Idaho, are features of the current list of receipts at the Trail smelter, covering the last 10 days of May. The receipts for the 10 days were 38 tons, bringing the total for the five months of 1923 to 192,858 tons. Of this total, 170,374 tons is from the properties of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. of Canada.

The statement for the 10 days is made up as follows: Alamo Mill, 52; Bell, Beaverdell, 36; Knob Hill, Republic, Wash, 181; Lone Pine-Surprise-Last Chance, 385; Lightning Peak, Edgewood, 3; Mollie Hughes, New Denver, 10; Quip, Republic, 295; Rosebery-Surprise, New Denver, 43; Sidney Leasing Company, Pine Creek, Idaho, 58; SilverSmith, Sandon, lead 172, zinc 125; company mines, 10,135.

Boulder Creek Claims.

A deal is pending for a good prospect on Boulder Creek, ten miles from the railway and a few miles east of New Hazelton, between the Granby Co. and the owners, A. R. Macdonald and Jos. Hicks, both well known in this north country. Hicks' claims are included in the deal, and if it goes through will mean a big boost for the mining industry of this district.

The Granby Co. has an option on the eight claims, and this summer will file 40 considerable work on them to ascertain the depth. At the present time A. R. Macdonald is doing the assessment work, and after the snow is all gone the Granby people will send in an engineer to make an examination. Last summer an engineer went over the property and sampled it. The results of the assays were very favorable, and acting on his report, the company decided to investigate further and to spend some money in prospecting at depth.

The ore, is a grey copper, with the chief values in silver. It is an exceptionally good ore for smelting, and the surface showings are good.

F. C. WADE WINS WAGER IN LONDON

Gains Papers for B. C. By Knowledge of Secluded Spots

An interesting anecdote with regard to the wide knowledge of literary and historical points of interest around London, England, possessed by B. C.'s Agent General, was told to the Victoria Branch of the Canadian Authors Association at its meeting this week.

It was a story which would doubtless please F. C. Wade, K.C., himself as much as anyone. Mr. Wade's great interest in the Dickens' characters, and locations has been widely known in the coast cities, where he has frequently lectured on various phases of the famous novelist's works, but it was not so widely known that he was equally at home in other phases of the literary associations of London.

The matter was brought to the attention of the association by C. C. Pemberton, as based on an article on a Vancouver paper recently.

The story relates that Mr. Wade was promised certain papers by a well-known English nobleman if he could take the Englishman to some eating place of historical or literary association with which he was not already familiar, and also show him two places of historical or literary interest of which he did not already know.

Mr. Wade, it is stated, won the

The new Zane Grey photoplay, "Golden Dreams," adapted from his story of the same title, by the producer, Benjamin B. Hampton, for Goldwyn release, showing to-day at the Columbia Theatre, boasts one of the best all-around casts that Mr. Hampton has ever selected.

Beautiful Claire Adams, the Zane Grey heroine—because she has played the feminine lead in nearly every Zane Grey novel that has been dramatized—is cast as Mercedes McDonald, who is in love with Sandy Buchanan, the American mining engineer in charge of the oil wells on the McDonald estate in the mysterious Spanish state in America, called Chinora. Carl Gantvoort, the man recruited from grand opera, who played opposite Claire Adams in the "Romance Rides," another Hampton-Zane Grey picture distributed by Goldwyn, is the American engineer.

Mme. Rose Dione, who has appeared in several Goldwyn pictures and in the production of half a dozen other motion picture companies, plays the role of Mercedes' aunt, Bertram Grayson, a young English actor well known on the legitimate stage and on the screen, is cast as the villainous Duke of Othome, while Frank Leigh, an actor with twenty years' experience on stage and screen, plays his equally villainous uncle, Don Felipe de Cristobal.

Frank Hayes, known to fame as the Keystone cop, appears as a comic circus man, Babe London, a graduate from the two-reel comedy, who has appeared with Chaplin, Vitagraph and Lyons-Moran, helps Hayes put the comedy across. Walter Perkins, well-known character actor on the stage before going into the "movies," and remembered by fans for his characterizations in "Bill Henry" and "Peaceful Valley," is the proprietor of the American circus trying to recoup its fortunes in Chinora. Mary Jane Irving, aged seven, as the circus girl, gives a delightful touch to the film.

challenge by taking the Englishman to a small cafe in a side street off Piccadilly, reference to which he showed him in a passage from Dickens, and by leaving him in two warehouses at the East India Docks, first, the bill of lading for a certain cargo of tea sent to Boston with a resting place in Boston Harbor; and secondly, a name of Charles Lamb, written in a ledger, as having been employed there in a clerical capacity.

The Englishman acknowledged his indebtedness to Mr. Wade for his introduction to three such interesting records, and presented him with the documents on whose account he had been challenged.

These documents which include the commission granted to Governor Blanehard, the instructions sent therewith, and the original passenger list of the first emigrant ship coming to Victoria, are now preserved in the Provincial Archives.

Francis Mackay Driver to Leading Tenor

James T. Pilling, Formerly of Victoria, Dies in Oakland

Announcement is made from Oakland, California, of the death there, at the home of James T. Pilling. Death took place following a long illness.

Mr. Pilling began life in the humble position of a hack driver in this city. His tenor voice attracted attention, and he was sent to New York to have his voice trained.

He won the highest praise when he took the concert platform, both in the United States and in England. He was regarded as one of the outstanding tenor singers of the continent, and wherever he was engaged a hearty welcome awaited him.

Eventually he became Northwest representative of the Orpheum circuit, and thus returned occasionally to this city, where his success received the warm commendation of his friends. Subsequently he became a pleasure park manager.

Thirty years ago Mr. Pilling was one of the best lacrosse players in this district, and in 1892 captained a team which won the East and won the world's championship.

G. W. McAllister, of Calgary, arrived in Prince George, B.C., to complete outfitting for his annual trip into the Peace River country, where the Peace River Mining and Milling Company has a large group of low-grade gold properties. This company is an Ontario concern in which J. Barr, of St. Thomas, is the president, and R. Millard, an engineer of the same place, is interested with Mr. McAllister, together with a number of others.

THE BOOMERANG.
 Part I.

Of course Mr. Fox never had heard of a boomerang, so if any one had told him that his well laid plan to get Woody Chuck out of his home proved to be a boomerang he would not have known what was meant.

But that was just what happened as you will learn when you finish this story, and if you do not know the exact meaning of boomerang you look in the dictionary and see if what Mr. Fox planned did not prove to be one in his case.

Mr. Fox had chased Woody Chuck across the pasture in a cool, drowsy morning in the Spring more than once, but Mr. Woodchuck was not as plump then as he is late in the Summer, and Mr. Fox has never been able to catch him.

He saw his black heels twinkling in the sunshine and had been able one morning to find Woody's home, but to get him out was quite another matter. Or if Woody had left his home after Mr. Fox saw him enter he had used one of his other doorways.

At any rate Mr. Fox could not catch him.

"No use trying now to dig him out," thought Mr. Fox. "He will be awake and on the watch." And then right there Mr. Fox had one of his bright ideas. "I'll get Jimmy Skunk to help me," said he.

So off he trotted to find Jimmy, but he did not tell him he needed his help. Instead he told him that Woody Chuck said he wasn't afraid of Jimmy Skunk or any creature his size.

"Of course I had to laugh at the conceit of Woody Chuck," said Mr. Fox. "Why, he would run the minute you came in sight, Jimmy. But I thought you ought to know how he is boasting, for he is making some of the wood folk believe he really isn't afraid of you."

Jimmy Skunk is quick tempered in spite of the fact that he is not at all a quarrelsome little fellow. "Oh, he isn't afraid of me," said Jimmy.

Mr. Fox dodged, for Jimmy was beginning to show anger. "Now, Jimmy, wait a minute," he said. "I know you would make him run, but I am just telling you what he said, so you mustn't get angry at me you know."

"No, that is so, Mr. Fox," replied Jimmy good naturedly. "You are a friend of mine, I see that. Where does this Woody Chuck live?"

"This was just what Mr. Fox wanted and he replied quickly, 'Over in the pasture. I'll show you the way if you like. I have an errand to do that will take me that way.'"

Mr. Fox went bounding along, but Jimmy Skunk always takes his time, and Mr. Fox had to check his hurry and go more slowly.

Mr. Fox thought his plan was working beautifully, for he knew Woody Chuck was not at home, and he did not want him to be when Jimmy Skunk called.

What he was planning was that Jimmy should go in Woody's house in a very angry mood and throw about his weapon of defence, which is a very bad acid smelling fluid which Jimmy always carries to drive away his enemies and which never fails to protect him.

Everything was working so well that Mr. Fox had a hard time to keep from leaping for joy, but he could not drive Jimmy, and so he had to go his pace.

was sent to the Duncan Hospital. The amount raised during the year was $4,287.43 with expenditure $3,831.32.

Of this sum $1,954.75 was spent in relief work with 18 layettes were given to needy cases, 68 Christmas hampers distributed, flannellets and a motor for the sewing machine supplied for the Children's Aid. Over 100 families were helped by gifts of fuel, clothing, food, beds and bedding, stoves and other gifts of furniture. In two instances the whole family was supplied with clothing, and in all the Order distributed 1,073 articles of clothing. Five widows are also being given monthly donations. In addition to all this social service, the Circles have carried on a splendid work among the needy in the hospitals.

New Westminster.
 With its forty members the New Westminster district branch raised $415.12 with tea at the homes of members, a tag day, and other activities. At Christmas eighteen hampers were sent out together with gifts for the children. The taxes of an elderly woman who has been paid by the branch, this being but one of the many cases to which ma-royal again, was hot in pursuit of him. He went aboard a British frigate, the Bellerophon, asking to be received as a refugee, but being treated as a deserter. He was taken to Plymouth and from Plymouth straight to the lonely tropical island of St. Helena.

There he remained until his death from cancer in 1821, leaving himself chiefly to the preparation of his memoirs, which were designed to exhibit the chief events of his life in a misleading and one-sided light and to minimize his worst blunders. One or two of the men with him recorded his conversations and set down their impressions of him.

The Holy Alliance.
 These works had a great vogue in France and Europe. The Holy Alliance of the monarchs of Russia, Austria and Prussia (to which other monarchs were invited to adhere) labored under the delusion that in defeating Napoleon they had defeated the revolution, turned back the clock of fate and restored grand monarchy on a sanctified basis for evermore.

The cardinal document of the scheme of the Holy Alliance is said to have been drawn up under the inspiration of the Baroness von Krudener, who seems to have been a devotee of mysticism, and the Russian emperor. It opened, "In the name of the Most Holy and Individual Trinity," and it bound the monarchs to maintain, each other, protect true religion, and urge their subjects to strengthen and exercise themselves in Christian duties. It was declared, "regarding the real king of France, as well as a very Merovingian king, one may remark, with these reigning sovereigns as his mayors of the palace, back the clock of fate and power to sign this document, the Pope and the sultan were not asked; the rest of the European monarchs, including the king of France, adhered. But the king of Poland did not sign because there was no king in Poland; Alexander, in a mood of pious abstraction, was sitting on the greater part of Poland. The Holy Alliance never became an actual legal alliance of states; it gave place to a real league of nations, the Concert of Europe, which France joined in 1818, and from which Britain withdrew in 1822.

The Napoleonic Cult.
 There followed a period of peace and dull oppression in Europe over which Alexander brooded in attitudes of orthodoxy; pious and unquenchable self-satisfaction. Many people in those hopeless days were disposed to regard even Napoleon with charity, and to accept his claim that in some inexplicable way he had, in asserting himself, been asserting the revolution and France. A cult of him as of something mystically heroic grew up after his death.

SONS OF CANADA OPEN CAMPAIGN

Must Swell Membership to 500; Present Number 340

A campaign for new members is being undertaken by the Native Sons of Canada, Victoria Assembly, No. 1, and at last night's meeting at the headquarters, 101 W. Goggin, it was decided that teams should be organized to compete in bringing in members. With this end in view several team captains were elected: J. A. Daly, H. Creech, H. Howard, H. W. Goggin, H. Killam, C. J. McDowell, J. W. Dobbie, J. B. Clearhue, W. J. Lemm, A. C. Pike, R. A. Hunt and H. J. McConnel.

The present number of the members of the local Sons of Canada is 340, and the new mark set is 500.

Prizes are being awarded for the winners. Individual members bringing in new men are in competition for the following prizes: First, $45 suit of finest clothes, from Geo. Strath; second, a portable shower bath from McDowell and Mann; third, a $1,000 life insurance policy from J. D. O'Connell. Members of the winning team will also secure prizes, and to their captain will be given a $25 camera, donated by Ivel's Drug Company.

The delegates to Vancouver for the annual meeting of the Grand Council were chosen last night. These men will be in Vancouver July 2, for the meeting. These are as follows, from the officers: Col. D. McGugan, president; W. E. Walsh, historian; from the members, F. R. Carlow, R. D. Smith, J. A. Kenning; alternates, H. W. Goggin, M. J. Little and R. A. Hunt.

The Grand Council will consider many important questions, one of them in connection with the permission to women to join the organization. This once being allowed would necessitate the changing of the name of the club. A policy, as applicable to all assemblies, will be discussed and possibly arranged.

Saturday evening, in the Empress Hotel, George E. McCrossan, of Vancouver, will speak on a subject which should prove of great interest to all Canadians. He has chosen for his title, "The Status of Canada in the Empire." It is something that has aroused a great deal of discussion in recent years, and it is the privilege of every citizen as well as his duty, to hear an excellent speaker on a subject with which he is well acquainted. Members of the Provincial Cabinet have been invited to attend the dinner at the Empress Hotel, given in honor of McCrossan, by the Sons of Canada, Saturday, 6 o'clock.

WILD LIFE CAPTOR AGAIN COLLECTING

Ellis S. Joseph, Well-Known Here, Embraced By Pet Chimpanzee

Victorians who have admired the remarkable collections of animal and bird life brought from Australasia by Ellis S. Joseph will be interested in an interview recently published in an Adelaide (South Australia) newspaper.

Mr. Joseph, who is notable for his physical appearance, is kindly regarded for his pets, and for his wonderful experiences in gathering the denizens of the jungle, the scrub, and the watercourse, comes to Victoria periodically with a new collection of wild life for the zoological gardens of this continent. He is now on a collecting tour in Australia, and from the Commonwealth will proceed to Central Africa.

Mr. Joseph was last in Adelaide in 1921. This time he crossed the Pacific on the steamer City of Manila, and journeyed down the coast to his home at Highland Hall, Granville, Sydney, taking with him an unusual collection of beasts and birds, but no fishes. Taking about tapirs, he had on board the only South American tapir ever landed in Australia. The Indian tapir is different from its South American prototype. The collector declares he was lucky in having been able to secure three South American tapirs, and when he arrived in America two of them were promptly bought. Among the arboreal denizens which Mr. Joseph stripped from their native trees are Curassow monkeys from South America, and many other rare specimens. This is just the place to introduce an extraordinary yarn about him, but nevertheless a true one. He had a chimpanzee which he disposed of to the Sydney Zoo. About two years later he went to the Zoo to see how the animal was progressing. It immediately recognized him, and in its delight at seeing a friendly face clasped him around the neck and proceeded to perform actions which might pass for kisses between loving humans. The chimpanzee severely lacerated its friend's face, but the will was taken for the deed.

Mr. Joseph is a great lover of birds. He is ever after rare specimens. He has brought to Australia Manchurian ear pheasants, Melanotus pheasants, and English ring-necked pheasants.

A Consignment of Platypus.

Once upon a time a curious error occurred in the announced desire of New Zealand to procure a certain valuable bird. The story goes that New Zealand wanted swallows. There came across a message that the Dominion was in need of sparrows, and Australia, which had a few sparrows that it could spare, promptly responded. Whether New Zealand now has swallows it is hard to say, but the moral of the anecdote is that the United States wanted the platypus in the live state, and that, at last, it got one through Mr. Joseph's agency. On May 12 last year he left for America with five of these Australian marsupial freaks. The adventurer placed one platypus in the New York Zoo, and not only was the feat loudly proclaimed in the American press, but in that of London, Alas! the platypus lived exactly seven weeks. But the fact remained, Americans had seen a live duckbill.
