Dictionary Anglo-Britannicum:
OR, A GENERAL
English Dictionary,

COMPREHENDING

A Brief, but Emphatical and Clear Explication of all sorts of difficult WORDS, that derive their Original from other Ancient and Modern Languages; as also, of all Terms relating to Arts and Sciences, both Liberal and Mechanical, viz. Divinity, Law, Philosophy, Physick, Surgery, Anatomy, Chymistry, Pharmacy, Botanicks, Mathematicks, Grammar, Rhetorick, Logick, Musick, Heraldry, Maritime Affairs, Military Discipline, Traffick, Husbandry, Gardening, Handicrafts, Confectionery, Cookery, Horsemanship, Hunting, Hawking, Fowling, Fishing, &c.

To which is Added,

A Large Collection of WORDS and PHRASES, as well Latin as English, made use of in our Ancient Statutes, Old Records, Charters, Writs, and Processes at Law, never before publish'd in so small a Volume: Besides an Interpretation of the proper Names of Men and Women, and several other remarkable Particulars mentioned in the Preface. The whole Work Compil'd, and Methodically Digested, for the Benefit of Young Students, Tradesmen, Artificers, Foreigners, and others, who are desirous thoroughly to understand what they Speak, Read, or Write.

The PREFACE.

FOrasmuch as so many Useful DICTIONARIES, Compiled by able Hands, and Comprehending the several Branches of Polite Literature, have been publish'd within these few Years; it seems altogether needless to make any fresh Attempt of the like Nature, or obtrude new Systems upon the Publick: However, if it be duly consider'd, that the greater Part of such Elaborate WORKS are Voluminous, and that those of a lesser Bulk, are in several Respects defective or imperfect; it will appear, there is still Room for farther Improvements, and consequently, there are good Grounds to hope, that the present Undertaking will not be unacceptable to the Ingenious. And indeed, our main Design in Compleating this Portable Volume, (which may be had at an easie Rate) was to make as entire a Collection, as is possible, of all sorts of hard WORDS and TERMS of ART that are to be found in any of our Noted Writers; with a concise, but plain, and familiar Explication of them: For besides the numerous Articles relating to Divinity, Law, Philosophy, Physick, Surgery, Anatomy, Pharmacy, Mathematicks, Botannicks, Heraldry, Handicrafts, &c. here is fix'd a noble Magazine of WORDS us'd in our Ancient Statutes, Old Records, Charters, Evidences, Writs, and Proceses at Law; as also the proper Names of Men and Women, the Appellatives of Metals, Drugs, and Plants, with the principal Offices of the Grecian and Roman Empires, a succinct Account of all sorts of Coins, Weights, and Measures, &c. all which Particulars, Collectively taken, are not to be mix'd with in any one Single DICTIONARY of the Lower Class, hitherto Extant.

SO that upon the Whole, this WORK must needs be of great Use to Private Gentlemen, Young Students, Tradesmen, Shop-keepers, Artificers, Strangers, and in general, to all Persons, who are desirous to inspect the vast Treasures of our English Tongue, which is so superlatively

The PREFACE.

Eminent, even above most other European Languages, for its Copiousness, Elegancy, variety of Phrases, and other admirable Beauties: But if any are for making a more strict Search into the inmost Recesses of this Imperial Mine, they need only have recourse to the last Edition of Phillips's Dictionary, set forth by us, with very large Additions and Improvements, An. 1706. where they'll find the various sorts of rich Oar amply display'd in their natural Order and Position. To Conclude, the Compiler has no other View, than to render himself, at least in some Measure, Serviceable to his Native Country, and upon all Occasions, to express his Zeal for promoting the Publick Benefit.

Limmer, a mongrel Dog.

To Limn, to paint in Water-Colours.

Limonia, (G.) the Emony; a Flower

Limonia Pala, Lemmons; a Fruit.

Limonates, the Emerald; a precious Stone.

Limonitor or Limonium, Winter-green, or wild Beers; an Herb.

Limonuade, a cooling Liquor, made of Limmons, Water and Sugar.

† Limosity, a being muddy; Muddiness.

Limosum Sarum, the Mud-stone; a Stone, so call'd because it is soon dissolved into Dirt.

Limp, limber, supple.

To Limp, to halt, or go lame.

Limpid, pure, clear, transparent.

Limpin, the Shell-fish, otherwise call'd a Muscle.

Linamentum, (L.) Thread made of Flax, Linnen; also a Tent, or Lint for a Wound.

Linaria, Toads-flax, an Herb; Also the Linnet, or Flax-finch; a Bird.

Lintch, (S.) a bank, wall, or cauey, to distinguish Bounds.

Linch-pin or Lins-pin, an Iron-Pin that keeps on the Wheel to the Axle-tree of any sort of Carriage.

Lincoln, a noted City, the chief of the County of the same Name.

Lincoln-College, a College in Oxford.

Lincolns-Inn, one of the Inns of Court, for Students of the Law.

Linctus, (L.) a Licking, or sucking down softly: Also a Medicine to be licked or sucked in by Degrees.

Linden-tree, or Linette, a Tree that bears broad Leaves and sweet Flowers.

Line, Part of a Writing; also the Twelfth Part of an Inch In Geometry, a Quantity stretch'd out in Length, but suppos'd to be void of Breadth and Depth.

Right Line or Straight Line, a Line, whose Points are equally plac'd between the two Extremes, or Ends.

Crooked Line or Curve, a Line, the Points of which are not equally plac'd between its two Extremes.

Line of Measures, the Diameter of the Original Circle in the Projection of the Sphere in Plane.

Line of Numbers or Gunter's Line, is usually plac'd on a Ruler, or on the Back of a Sector, which running parallel with it, shews the Artificial Lines.

In the Art of War, Lines, signify the Posture of an Army drawn up for Battel, so as its Front may be stretch'd out as far as the Ground will allow.

Line of the Anomaly of a Planet, (in Astron.) is a Right Line drawn from the Center of the Eccentric, to the Center of the Planet.

Line of the Apogee of a Planet, is a Right-Line drawn from the Center of the World thro' the Point of the Apogee, as far as the Zodiack of the Primum Mobile.

Line of the Apes, is a Line passing thro' the Center of the World, and that of the Eccentric; whose two Ends are, one the Apogee, and the other the Perigee of the Planet.

Line horizontal, is a Right-Line parallel to the Horizon.

Line of greatest or least Longitude of a Planet, is that Part of the Line of the Axes, which reaches from the Center of the World, to the Apogee or Perigee of the Planet.

Line of Mean Longitude, is one drawn thro' the Center of the World at Right Angles to the Line of the Apes; and its extreme Points are call'd the Mean Longitudes.

Line of Mean Motion of the Sun, is a Right Line drawn from the Center of the World as far as to the Zodiack of the Primum Mobile.

Line of Mean Motion of the Sun in the Eccentric, is a Right-Line drawn from the Center of the Eccentric to the Center of the Sun, and parallel to the former.

Line of Real Motion of the Sun, is a Line drawn from the Center of the World to the Center of the Sun, and lengthen'd as far as the Zodiack of the Primum Mobile.

Line of the Nodes of a Planet, is a Right-line from the Planet to the Sun, being the common place of Intersection of the Plane of the Planet's Orbit, with that of the Ecliptick.

Line Synodical, (with respect to some Appearances of the Moon) is a Right-line suppos'd to be drawn thro' the Centers of the Earth and Sun.

Line of the mean Syzygies, is a Right-line imagined to Pass thro' the Earth's Center, and the mean Place of the Sun.

Line of the Real or True Syzygies, a Right-line said to be drawn thro' the Center of the Earth, and the Real Place of the Sun.

In Dialling, the Equinoctial Line, is the common Place where the Equinoctial, and the Plane of the Dial, mutually intersect, or cut another.

Lines Hoary or Hour-lines, are the common Intersections of the Hour-Circles of the Sphere, with the Dial-Plane.

Line Horizontal, is the common Intersection of the Horizon, and the Dial-Plane.

Line Substylar, is that Line on which the Style or Cock of the Dial is set up, and represents such an Hour-circle as is perpendicular to the Plane of that Dial.

In Fortification, a Line, is that which is drawn from one Point to another, in making a Draught upon Paper: On the Ground in the Field, a Trench with a Breast-work; or a row of Gabions, or Bags full of Earth, set out in length.

Lines of Approach or of Attack, are the Ways or Trenches dug along in the Earth, towards a Town, that is Belieged.

Line of the Base, is a Right-line which joyns the Points of the two nearest Bastions.

Line Capital, a Line drawn from the Angle of the Gorge, to the Angle of the Bastion.

Line of Circumpallation, a Line or Trench, with a Breast-work made by the Besiegers, quite round their Camp, within Cannon-shot of the Place.

Line Cogital, a Line drawn from the Angle of the Center, to that of the Bastion.

Lines of Communication, are those that run from one Work to another.

Line of Contradivallation, is a Trench with a Breast-work, which the Besiegers make next the Place besieged, to secure themselves against the Sallies of the Garrison.

Line of Defence, a straight Line which shews the Course of a Bullet, according to the Situation it ought to have to defend the Face of the Bastion.

Line of Defence Fitchant or Fired, is a Line drawn from the Angle of the Courtin, to the flanked Angle of the opposite Bastion.

Line of Defence Razant, that which is drawn from the point of the Bastion along the Face, till it comes to the Courtin which shews how much of the Courtin will clear or scour the Face.

Line forming the Flank, a Line drawn from the Angle made by the two Demi-Gorges of the Bastion, to the Angle at the Flank.
