ERALIZED SYSTEM OF PREFERENCES

Title V of the Trade Act of 1974 (Pub. L. 93-618, 88 Stat. 1978, hereinafter referred to as the "Trade Act") sets forth the procedures and conditions under which the President may establish a Generalized System of Preferences (GSP) providing duty-free treatment for eligible articles from beneficiary developing countries. In conformity with sections 503(a) and 131(a) of the Trade Act, notice is hereby given of articles which will be considered for designation as eligible articles for purposes of the GSP.

I. List of articles which will be considered for designation as eligible articles. The articles listed below will be considered for designation as eligible articles for purposes of the GSP. The listed articles are identified by reference to five-digit item numbers of the Tariff Schedules of the United States (TSUS) (19 U.S.C. 1202) and consist of all articles in such listed item numbers except as limited by the addition of two-digit statistical suffixes of the United States Tariff Schedules Annotated (1975)¹ and by footnote descriptions. The list does not include any articles which are excluded from eligibility by subparagraphs (c) (1) (A), (c) (1) (B), (c) (1) (E), and (c) (2) of section 503 of the Trade Act. The list includes articles which, pursuant to subparagraphs (c) (1) (C), (c) (1) (D), (c) (1) (F) and (c) (1) (G) of section 503 of the Trade Act, may not be designated as eligible articles if the President determines them to be import-sensitive. No decisions with respect to the import-sensitivity of any of the listed articles will be made until after public hearings have been held and advice has been received from the International Trade Commission on the probable economic effect of the institution of the GSP for the articles listed in this notice on industries producing like or directly competitive products and on consumers.

III. Supplemental notices. From time to time as may be appropriate, other notices may be published for the purpose of informing the public of proposed actions under Title V of the Trade Act which are not announced in this notice.

IV. Public hearings. Sections 503(a) and 133 of the Trade Act require that the President afford an opportunity for any interested person to present his views concerning the possible designation of any article listed in this notice as an eligible article for purposes of the GSP, any article which should be listed for such possible designation, or any other matter relevant to the GSP. The time and place of these hearings, to be held by the Office of the Special Representative for Trade Negotiations through an interagency committee to be designated by the Special Representative for that purpose, will be announced in the near future.

V. Advice of the International Trade Commission. In accordance with sections 503(a) and 131 of the Trade Act, the International Trade Commission is being furnished this notice with the list of articles published in paragraph I, and the lists of countries published in paragraph II; of this notice. Sections 503(a) and 131 require that with respect to each article the Commission, within six months following receipt of the list of articles, advise the President of its judgment as to the probable economic effect of the institution of the GSP on industries producing like or directly competitive articles and on consumers. The Commission is being requested to take into account, in preparing its advice, not only the designated beneficiary developing countries listed in paragraph IIA of this notice, but also the potential designations as beneficiaries of the countries listed in paragraph IIB of this notice.
