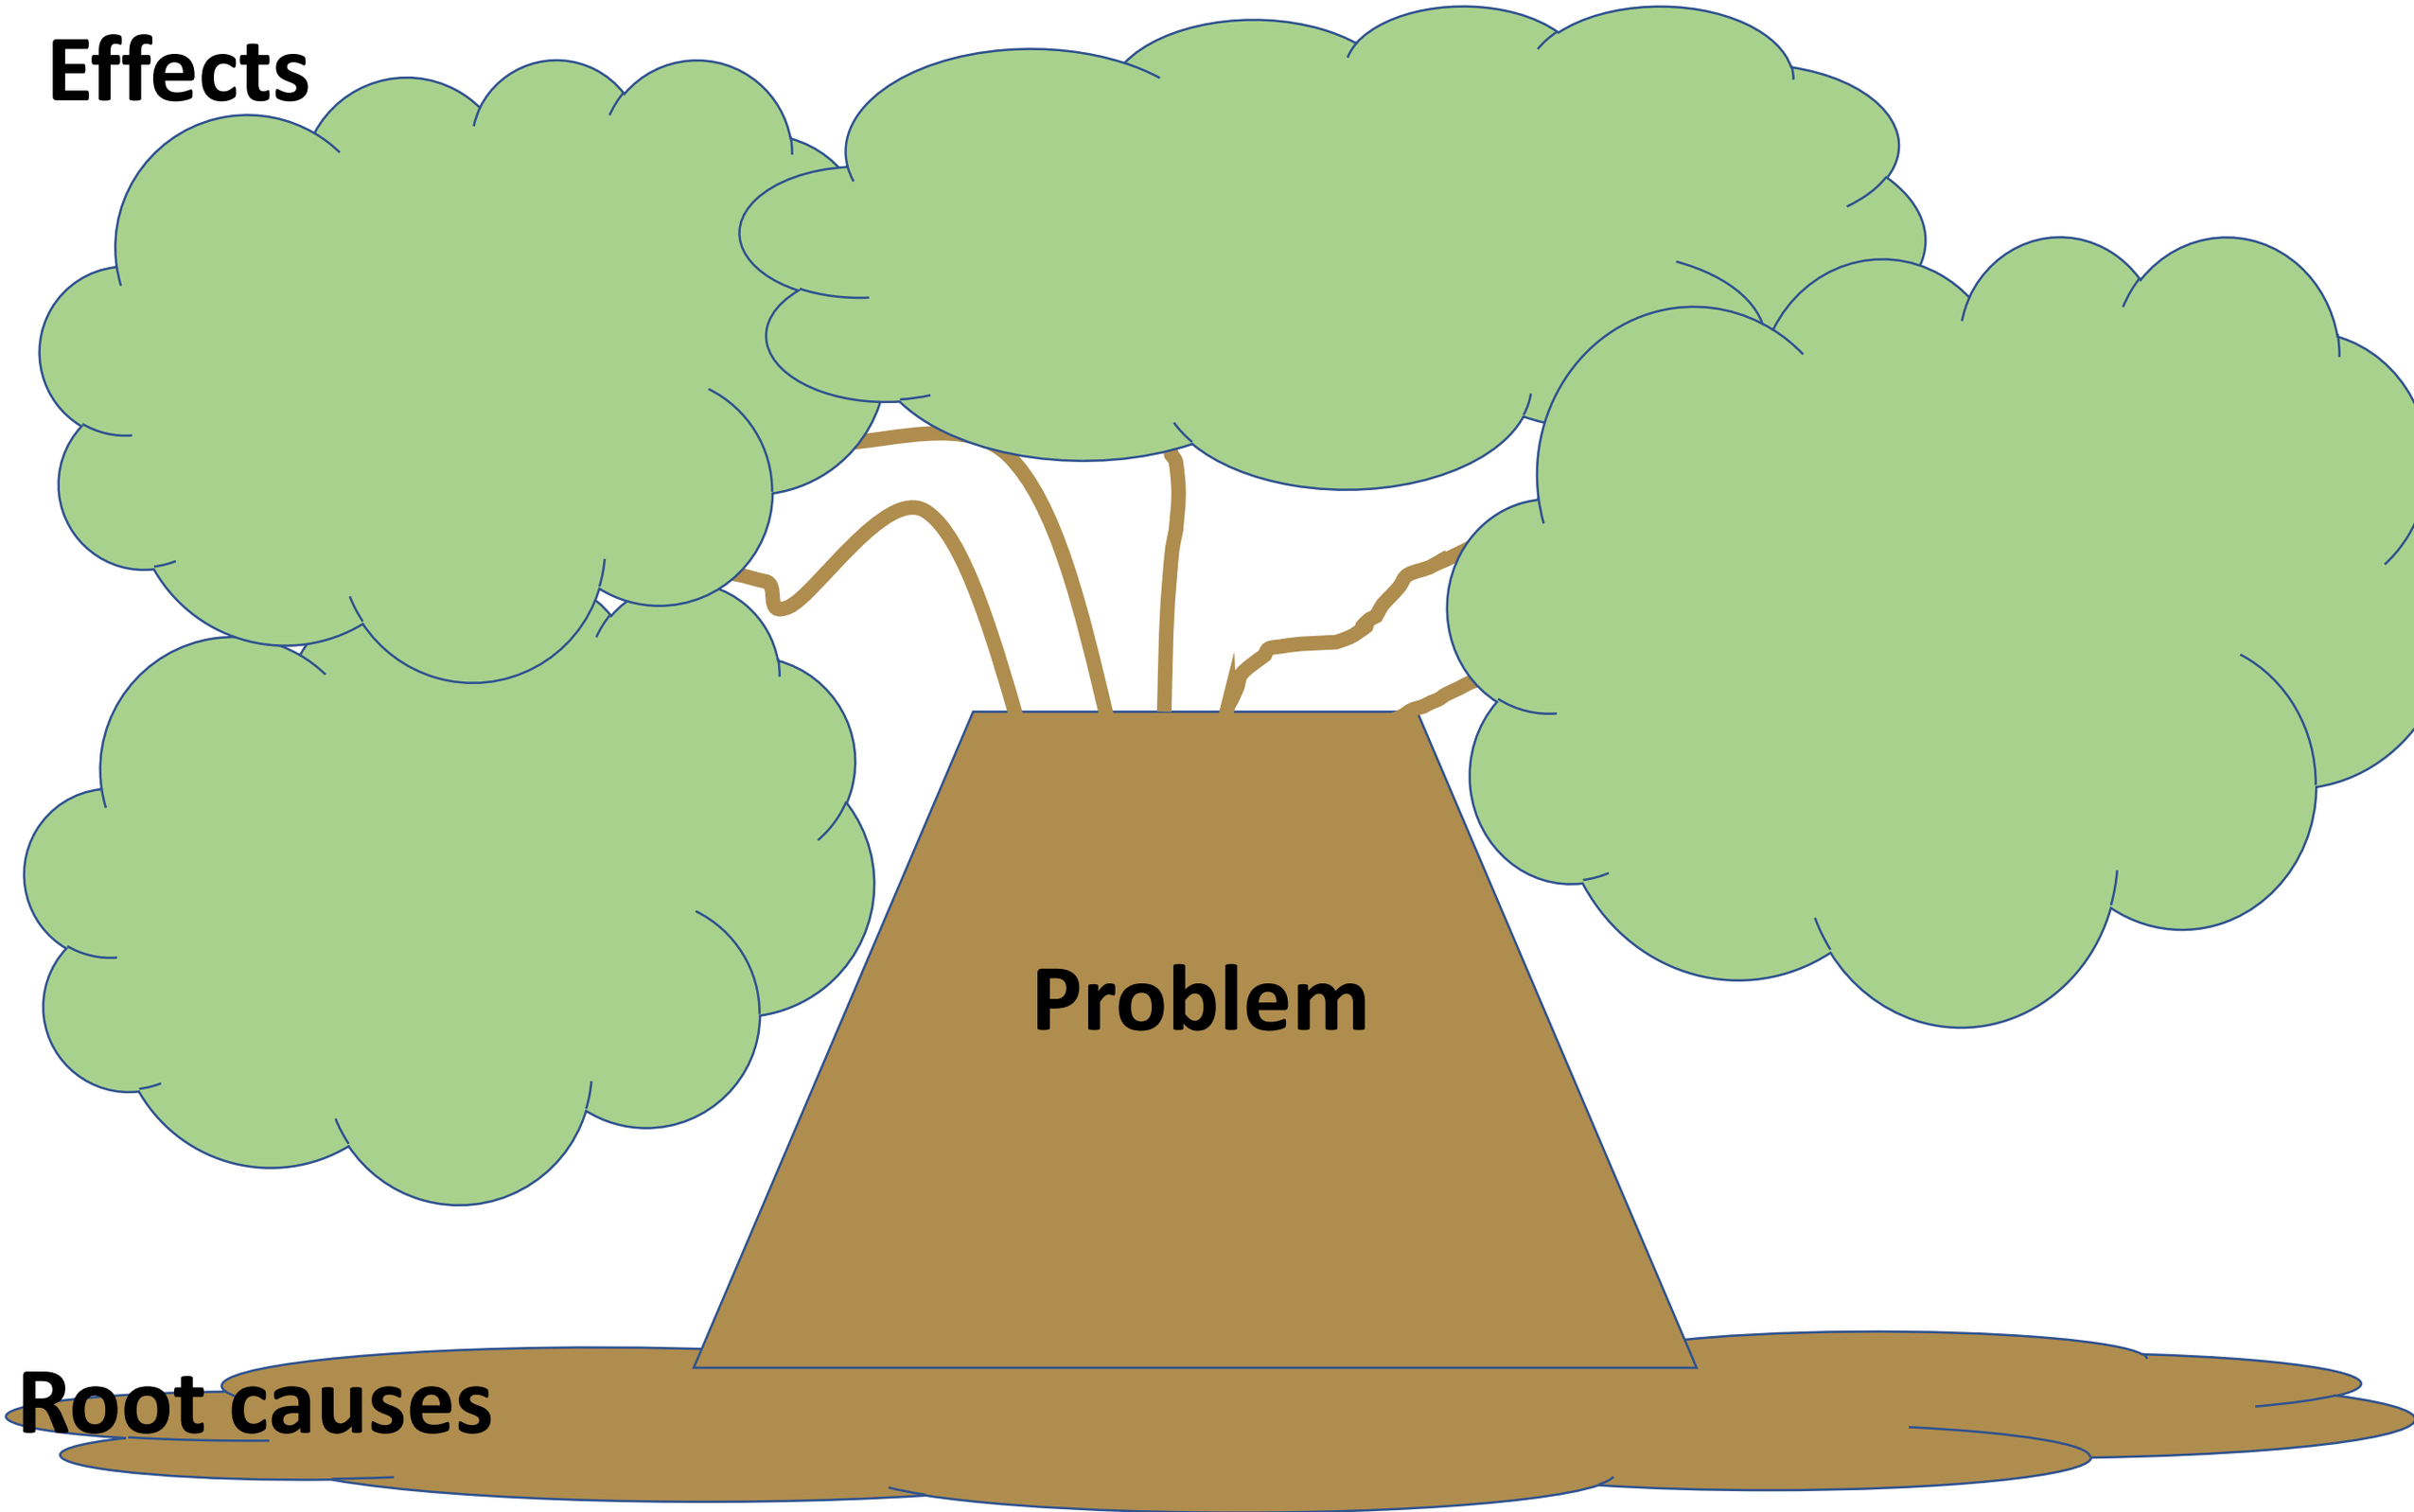
Problem tree

Effects



Root causes

Effects

The project will not meet its Targets like the number of articles added and the number of participants.

Participants won't have optimum concentration due to a non-conducive space.

Volunteers and facilitators will have to put in more effort to facilitate the workshop and training.

Most students and teachers won't participate during the workshop and training.

Problem

Not enough computers, internet connections and a conducive space for training and workshop

Root causes

Teachers and students don't have personal computers or laptops.

The ICT Unit does not have enough tools for digital learning or training.

Inadequate funding to provide enough gadgets in the computer room.

Conducive Spaces in the school are fully booked or in use.

The Government does not see digital literacy as an essential need for schools

Effects

The long term impact of getting teachers to use Wikipedia as a learning and teaching tool will not be achieved.

The school graduates students that cant add value in their field with no relevant soft skills.

Problem

Teachers not open to the idea and opposing new ideas because they are not ready to change or learn.

Root causes

They are not motivated to improve themselves and are not interested in making learning interesting for students.

They have so much workload and don't want more.

Teachers lack passion for the work, so they stick to their comfort zone.

They are understaffed

They are ignorant of the possibilities of OERs

Effects

The project team experience burnout.

Admins delete added contents on Igbo Wikipedia because they lack citations.

The project not well planned and executed

The project exceeds the timeline because of the delay in issuing a grant.

Problem

Project team not getting enough support from community members, online resources and the foundation.

Root causes

The volunteers or community members might be busy with their work.

The volunteers are not motivated Intrinsically or extrinsically to commit to work or participate.

The number of people that can contribute to OERs in the Igbo language is not digitally literate.

The grants department has backlogs of work.

The grants department are understaffed.