NEW MINISTRY IN FRANCE SHORT-LIVED

Expected Marsal Cabinet, Just Formed, Will be Defeated at Once

Battle Between President Millerand and Chamber at Decisive Stage

Paris, June 9.—Frederic Francois-Marsal has succeeded in forming a Cabinet to succeed the Poincare Ministry. It is composed of the following: Premier and Minister of Finance, M. Francois-Marsal; Foreign Affairs, Edmond Lefebvre du Prey; Justice, Senator Antony Batier; Interior, Justin de Selves; War and Pensions, Andre Maginot; Labor and Hygiene, Paul Jourdain; Navy, Desire Ferry; Public Works, Yves Le Troquer; Education, M. Landey; Commerce, Pierre Flaudin; Agriculture, M. Capus; Devastated Regions, Louis Marin; Colonies, Jean Fabry.

The ministry was made known after a final interview yesterday between President Millerand and Francois-Marsal. It will make its appearance before Parliament Tuesday, when the Premier will read a message from President Millerand in the Chamber explaining the political situation as the President sees it. Simultaneously the Minister of Justice will perform a similar duty in the Senate.

HAIR AND FAREWELL!
The initial appearance of the Cabinet before the Chamber is likewise likely to prove its farewell. The general impression is that Francois-Marsal has been without responsible Government since June 1, will have one Tuesday, but only for a few hours. (Concluded on page 1.)

DALY, FORMER HEAD OF HOME BANK, DIED

Succumbed in Toronto This Morning After Illness of Several Months

Was President of Bank From 1920 Till Its Failure Last August

Toronto, June 9.—Herbert J. Daly, president of the defunct Home Bank of Canada, died at his home here this morning.

Mr. Daly was one of the ten former directors and officials of the bank, which failed on August 17 last, awaiting trial on charges of making false returns under the Bank Act and with conspiracy in connection with the suspension of the institution.

For some time after the closing of the bank, Mr. Daly was confined to his summer home at Lake Simcoe seriously ill and was unable to attend the hearings in the preliminary stages of the case in the Ontario court here. He recovered sufficiently to put in an appearance late last year and was reported to be improving gradually.

For the past two weeks, however, he had been confined to his home and as the days passed it was seen that his condition was steadily growing worse. Several of the leading physicians of Toronto held consultations on Saturday, but all efforts failed and the end came early this morning.

Mr. Daly and other members of the family were at his bedside. The funeral will be held Wednesday morning from the Holy Trinity Church, with interment in Mount Hope Cemetery.

BORN IN ONTARIO

He was born in Peterboro, Ont., in 1854 and after attending the Orillia High School entered a Montreal grocery store in 1879, coming to Toronto a year later to conduct a similar business.

He subsequently occupied positions with the Dominion-Permanent Loan (Concluded on page 2.)

Caterpillar Plague In Edmonton Area; Crops so Far Safe

Edmonton, June 9.—Edmonton and the surrounding district is threatened with a plague of caterpillars. Already they have appeared in millions in some parts and have stripped the trees bare. They cover railway tracks and cause the engine wheels to skid, stopping the trains temporarily, and invade the houses and make life uncomfortable for the dwellers. Farmers of the district say the caterpillars have not attacked the crops yet.

TORONTO DOCTOR IN NEW YORK CLAIMS CAUSE OF CANCER FOUND

Philadelphia, Pa., June 9.—The North American says to-day in an article withheld from publication for fifteen months, "in the interest of science," that the cause of cancer has been discovered, as has also a treatment for it, which, though still in the experimental stage, is producing remarkable results.

The discoverer is Dr. T. J. Glover, a native of Toronto, Canada, who, the article says, has established scientifically that the disease is due to a micro-organism and who has isolated the germ and proved by the "conclusive laboratory test known as the 'Koch Cycle' its part as the causative factor."

Dr. Glover has conducted his research work in New York City for four years.

OBSERVERS BELIEVE PEAK OF BIG AGITATION AGAINST THE U.S. IN JAPAN HAS ALREADY PASSED

Tokio, June 9.—Belief that the peak of the agitation in Japan against the enactment of an immigration law barring Japanese, had passed, was expressed in well-informed circles here to-day. The active phase of the agitation, it was agreed, cannot continue more than two or three weeks.

Regardless of that forecast, however, efforts to extend the Japanese boycott against things American could be observed to-day. Delegations of members of the "Great Forward Society," the organization which arranged Saturday night's demonstration at the Imperial Hotel, visited the larger department stores, trying to persuade the stores not to sell United States merchandise.

SUNDAY EVENTS

Tokio, June 9.—Tokio's Sunday was largely given over to the various phases of the anti-United States agitation.

Throughout the day the grave in Aoyama Cemetery of the unknown Japanese who committed hari-kari as a protest against enactment of the United States Japanese exclusion measure was a Mecca for thousands of pilgrims, who came to pay their devotion to the man who has become a martyr in the public eye.

A mammoth crowd attended a public memorial service over the grave. Hundreds of wreaths were banked around the small mound of earth where the body lies. Viscount Kato, newly-named Premier, and former Premier Taka sent wreaths.

The "Great Forward Society" was responsible for the demonstration in the Imperial Hotel Saturday night when a gang of rosin, or political ruffians, disrupted a dance to make anti-United States speeches.

SEPARATION URGED

Mounting the pulpit of the Giza Methodist Church after the service yesterday, the group announced that they intended to campaign for a separation of the Japanese Christian churches from United States bodies and all the native Christian organizations.

Buddhist priests held an anti-United States meeting at the central Buddhist Hall in Tokio last night.

Several organizations of "modern women" have combined to form the Japanese Mutual Love Association, with the avowed purpose of promoting an anti-United States boycott. (Concluded on page 2.)

New Glasgow, N.S., June 9.—John H. Sinclair, ex-M.P., a member of the board of directors of the Canadian National Railway, died here last evening.

Born of Scottish parents on May 27, 1848, in Goshen, Guysboro County, Nova Scotia, he was an outstanding figure in public service for more than thirty years.

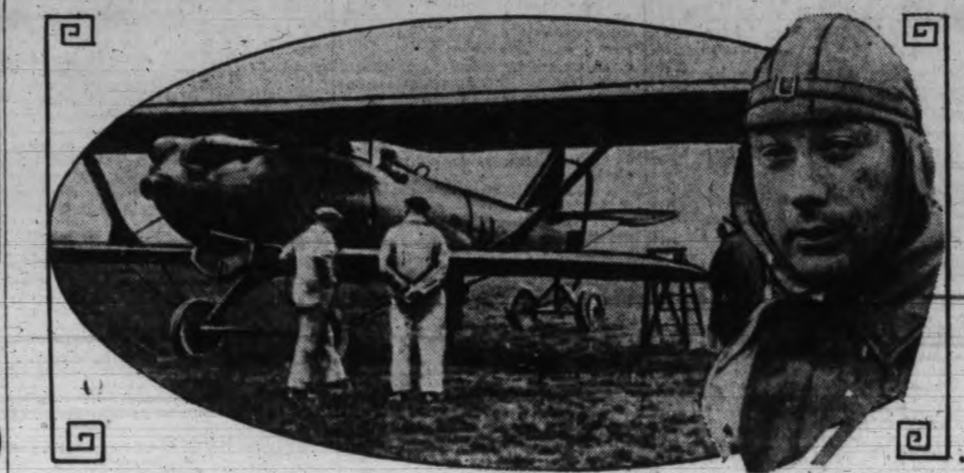

He was educated in the common schools of Goshen and the Goshen Academy and graduated from Dalhousie University, Halifax, in July, 1876. He married Jessie, daughter of the late Senator J. W. Carmichael.

He was elected mayor of New Glasgow 1890 and 1891. From the municipal field he went to the provincial field, being elected a member of the Nova Scotia Legislative Assembly as a Liberal in 1894. He held his seat there till he entered Federal politics in 1894, when he was elected in the constituency of Antigonish and Guysboro. He was re-elected in 1905, 1911 and 1917. He retired from the Federal House in 1921, when, on the reorganization of the Canadian National Railways, he was appointed to the directorate.

The council views with regret the continued local business men

Capt. D'Oisy, Frenchman, Completes Paris-Tokio Flight in Forty-Five Days

Tokio, June 9.—Successfully completing a hazardous and spectacular flight across Europe, Asia and part of the Orient, Captain Georges Pelletier d'Oisy, intrepid French aviator, landed at the army flying field at Tokorosawa, fifteen miles northwest of here, at 11:40 o'clock this morning. He was given an enthusiastic reception by a throng of several thousand spectators, which included the entire staff of the Yasunitsu, chief of the Japanese French Embassy and Lieut-General army aviation service.

Except for an accident at Shanghai, which necessitated the use of a new plane from there to Tokorosawa, owing to damage to the machine in which he left Paris, d'Oisy's long hop was remarkably successful and devoid of mishaps.

His flight from Paris to Tokio in forty-five days shatters by many weeks the previous record made by Italian fliers in 1920.

LAUSANNE PACT SUBJECT OF DISCUSSION TO-DAY IN THE CANADIAN COMMONS

Statement By Premier King On Government's Course In Not Asking Parliament's Approval; C.N.R. Branch Bills Before Senate; Vancouver Island Bills Killed By Upper House

Ottawa, June 9 (Canadian Press).—Members of the Senate and the House of Commons are beginning to discuss the date of proration. Usually the Senate is ready to wind up proceedings early and has to wait for the Commons to finish its business, but it is being suggested in some quarters that the Senate may keep the house waiting this session. There are rumors of the session lasting till the end of July or even later, and there are optimists who still hope for the closing by the end of the present month. The prevalent opinion at present, however, leans to the view that proration will come about the middle of July.

This week opens with a debate in the Commons on the much-discussed Treaty of Lausanne. The Premier is expected to give a full explanation of the course pursued by the Government in not asking Parliament to approve the treaty. The Government leader in the Senate, Hon. Raoul Dandurand, informed that body recently that Canada is at peace with Turkey, in consequence of the action of His Majesty in ratifying the Treaty of Lausanne, and it is anticipated that Premier King will interpret the relation between Senator Dandurand's statement and the decision not to ask Parliament to approve the treaty. Additional interest is lent to the debate by the discussion of the Lausanne Treaty in the British House of Commons in which Premier MacDonald expressed himself in favor of a conference on the constitutional relations of the nations of the Empire.

LIQUOR PROFITS REACH NEW HIGH LEVEL; SIX MONTHS' BUSINESS NETS $1,634,601

British Columbia's Government liquor stores produced a net profit of $1,634,601 in the six-month period from October 1, 1923 to March 31, 1924—the largest profit for any six-month period to date—according to figures given out by the Finance Department to-day. This makes the total liquor profits from June 15, 1921, when Government control was inaugurated, to the end of last March, $7,135,256.

Of the profits from liquor sales during the last six-month period, $776,435 will be paid into the consolidated revenues of the Province $543,505 will be turned over to municipalities, $239,930 will go to hospitals and charities, and $81,730 will be added to the liquor reserve fund.

Out of the total profits earned by the liquor system since its inauguration the consolidated revenue fund will have received $3,348,003 after the present payment; municipalities will have received $2,757,963, the reserve fund $493,519, and hospitals $610,939. Steady growth in the profits of the Government liquor system is indicated in the figures released to-day.

In their first period of operation, from June 15, 1921, to September 30, 1921, the liquor stores returned a profit of $841,096. In the next period, the six months from September 30, 1921, to March 31, 1922, the profit was $1,231,356. In the next six months this dropped to $1,075,258, but in the following six-month period it jumped to $1,250,195. In the period from April 1, 1922, to September 30 of last year, the profits reached the new high level of $1,402,499, and then, as stated, in the six months ending March 31, of this year, they rose to $1,634,601.

Victoria's share of the new liquor profits will be $525,774. Saanich will receive $15,701, Oak Bay $6,143 and Esquimalt $6,826. Vancouver will receive the largest single contribution, $140,935. Cheques for these amounts were sent to the municipalities to-day by officials of the Finance Department.

Three Who Left Seattle in Plane Are Now Missing

Seattle, June 9.—Search was being made to-day for Early Gray, a commercial aviator of this city, his wife and a mechanic named Johnson, who left here yesterday for Seaside, Oregon, in an aeroplane that Captain Roald Amundsen carried north last year in an attempt to fly over the North Pole.

Gray had bought the Amundsen machine, an eight-passenger all-metal Junker, and changed it to land gear from sea gear.

BANK LAME DUCK, MURDOCK WAS TOLD
Deputy Speaker of Commons Testifies About the Home Bank

Tells Committee He and Labor Minister Discussed The Institution

Ottawa, June 9.—G. N. Gordon, Deputy Speaker of the House of Commons, this morning gave the Committee on Privileges and Elections a review of his conversation with Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor, in regard to the condition of the Home Bank.

"I intimated to him that it was a lame duck and would be the next to go," said Mr. Gordon in answer to questions by W. M. German, Liberal member for Welland.

The conversation, he said, took place in the office of the Minister of Labor on August 5, six days before Mr. Murdock withdrew $4,000 from the bank.

"Did you have any information on which to base your statement?" nothing special. He knew the stock of the bank had been away down for some time. He had also talked with lawyers and others who were in the condition of a few something about the condition of the bank and had

SIDNEY ELECTORS CROWD TO HEAR PREMIER OLIVER

Liberal Chieftain Attracts Biggest Audience on Record

M. B. Jackson, K.C., Has Earned Re-election by Hard Work, Premier Says

Asserting belief that the wisdom of the late Lieut.-Governor T. W. Paterson had, in 1913, temporarily stayed the payment of artificially boosted prices for the Port Mann railway terminals of the Canadian Northern Pacific Railway, Premier Oliver closed an address to the electorate of Sidney on Saturday night, when he spoke to more than two hundred men and women in the Auditorium Theatre.

"Sidney will be interested to know that that level-headed business man, who so well represented you some years before he became Lieutenant-Governor was in my opinion, the stumbling block which prevented the release in 1913 of over one million dollars of cash realized from the sale of bonds backed by the guarantee of the people of the Province.

"I cannot tell what went on behind the closed doors of the Executive Chamber, but the documents were all prepared, the order to the bank was in readiness, but at that time the deal did not go through; I believe the late Mr. Paterson refused to countenance the matter."

PRaises MR. JACKSON
The Premier dealt with the record of the Liberal administration, declaring that Sidney and the Islands constituency had received eight years of excellent constructive service from M. B. Jackson, K.C., on whose behalf he was speaking. He pointed out that the opponents of the Liberal candidate had been emphatically rejected in their attempts to secure (Concluded on page 1.)

The audience gave a most attentive, and at times enthusiastic hearing to the candidates. Dr. Raynor, J. B. Clearhugh and S. J. Drake spoke on health, education and freight rates respectively.

WINNIPEG CITIZENS WILL PROTEST ANY RENEWAL OF FREIGHT RATE AGREEMENT

Winnipeg, June 9.—Public protest against renewal of the Crow's Nest Pass freight rate agreement will be made at a meeting of Winnipeg citizens to-night.

Aroused over the possibility of the present suspension not being continued, local business men have joined forces with other western cities in opposition to renewal of the agreement, which will expire July 6 next.

Among those there to speak are Mayor S. J. Farmer, Premier John Bracken or Hon. F. M. Black, Travis Sweetman, K.C., F. C. Taylor, K.C., and other prominent business men.

gathered the impression that the Home Bank was not in good shape. BANK INSPECTION We were talking over the work of the session. Mr. Gordon said in explaining how the discussion arose, "and I said I thought it would have been wise for the Government to have brought in some measure of bank inspection. I said the Home Bank might have to be taken over."

"Your opinion was not founded on any inside information?" asked R. B. Hanson, Conservative, York-Sunbury, N.B.

"I won't say that," was the reply.

VERY DIFFICULT Mr. Gordon replied that he had been in conversation with H. J. Daly, former president of the Home Bank, some time before and Mr. Daly had told him that it was extremely difficult for smaller institutions to get on.

"Did he say the bank would fail?" "No."

"And the failure came as a shock to you?" pursued Mr. Hanson.

"Well, I thought it was coming," replied Mr. Gordon.

"Did you know Mr. Murdock had a deposit in the Home Bank?" he was asked.

Mr. Gordon replied he had not known this at the time.

TOLD PREMIER He was asked if he had mentioned the matter to anyone else and replied he thought he had told the Premier the Home Bank was in bad condition.

He said the bank had been talked

Company and the National Cash Register Company, being general manager for Canada of the latter concern from 1905 to 1918.

Mr. Daly then took over the firm trading as the Daly Company Limited. He became president of J. A. Ogilvie Limited, Montreal, a director of the Murray-Kay Company, Toronto, president of the Arnprior Cabinet Company, vice-president of the Western Canada Pulp & Paper Company, president of Porcelain Products Limited, vice-president of the K. & S. Rubber Company, and president of the Manufacturers' Holding and Investment Corporation.

He became president of the Home Bank in 1920. He is survived by the widow, four sons and one daughter.

OTHER DEATHS The organization, development and failure of the Home Bank of Canada has had a singular accompaniment of deaths among its principals.

Brigadier-General James Mason, who, with the late Sir Frank Smith developed the bank from the Home Savings Company, died some years ago.

Colonel J. Cooper Mason, son of General Mason, who succeeded his father as general manager of the bank, died on August 6, 1923, just eleven days before suspension of the bank.

T. S. O'Connor, who was private secretary to President Daly and who was held as a material witness in connection with the bank's failure, died on December 17 last as a result of a fracture of the skull received in a fall downstairs.

Lord Armaghdale Died in London

TWO HUNDRED AT BURNSIDE BOWLING CLUB'S OPENING

Silver Mounted Miniature Lawn Bowl Presented to Hon. F. A. Pauline

Nearly 200 watched the flag-raising at the opening ceremony on Burnside Bowling Green Saturday.

Hon. F. A. Pauline, who was the recipient of a silver mounted miniature lawn bowl as a memento of the occasion, spoke suitably, and after declaring the green open for play led the cheers, which greeted the flag hoisted by Major J. R. Hibben.

Robert Macnicol of Saanich spoke appreciatively of the enterprise shown in the construction of the green and said he saw no reason why similar efforts should not be made in other sections of the municipality and surrounding districts, with corporation help if necessary, as was being done in many cities both in this country and abroad.

The president of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club, H. Dorrell made an eloquent speech, extolling the enthusiasm and determination of the club into the accomplishing of such interesting memorials. Referring to ancient times he had visited whose walls the centuries had crumbled while the monks bygone days delighted in following the bowl still remained green and popular avenues of enjoyment were the color of the day before.

Mr. Dorrell was roundly applauded at the conclusion of his remarks.

At this point in the proceedings, the chairman James H. Crawford, who was presiding, presented a most admirable and witty manner allowed the interjection of an unexpected item into the programme. J. M. Boyd an old member of the Beacon and club and a charter member, in the new club, stepped forward and tendered the Burnsides Club's hearty thanks to secretary Vallance, presenting him with a solid token of esteem.

After the speechmaking a short game of bowls was played by sides representing the colors of the club all uniting in declaring the condition of the green surpassed expectations.

Tea, partaken of by a large assembly proved a convivial affair with more speeches by W. Mackay, and D. Dewar. The latter reviewed the history of the past two years and while giving credit to all who took part in the work declared that Mr. Boyd deserved special mention.

Mr. Boyd who has taken great interest in the game since he came from England three years ago was presented with a silver souvenir while the company sang a familiar ditty.

A vote of thanks to the ladies proposed by Mr. Mackay just leaving for a visit to Edinburgh was heartily endorsed and the ladies adjourned to form a lawn bowling club of their own.

PEAK OF ANTI-U.S. AGITATION IN JAPAN HAS PASSED

ANOTHER SUICIDE Tokio, June 9.—Another funeral, protest by suicide at the Japanese embassy, the new United States Law, is reported by a correspondent of The Nichi Nichi. The correspondent asserts a youth threw himself in front of a train and was killed. A letter asserting he was committing suicide as a protest against the attitude of the Japanese government regarding Japanese immigration said to have been found on his body, was not made public.

MORE BOYCOTT Tokio, June 9.—Attributing their action to "public demand," owners of motion picture theatres in Tokio, at a general meeting to-day, launched a boycott against United States films. Beginning July 1, the theatre proprietors will not buy or rent United States films or show them in their theatres, according to a resolution passed at the meeting.

Several motion picture theatres showing United States films, were forced to close when they were invaded by gangs of rovin (political) agitators Saturday night.

LONDON, June 9.—The anti-United States demonstration in the Imperial Hotel in Tokio has focused attention here afresh on the United States immigration trouble and the comment of the morning newspapers is tinged with anxiety.

The Morning Post, expressing sympathy with both the Americans and Japanese, says the former have the legitimate ambition to protect their country against a "peaceful invasion" which might threaten its economic stability, while the latter have a legitimate grievance.

"It is one of the most difficult and dangerous problems facing our age," the paper says. "It is a manifestation of a racial struggle which, unless carefully halted, may replunge the world into bloodshed."

The Daily Mail declares the situation concerns all countries whose interests for international amity throughout the world is uppermost. However, while dwelling upon the seriousness of the position, the newspaper expresses satisfaction that the relations of the two countries have not yet been strained beyond the breaking point.

FRANK DISCUSSION The Daily Express thinks it would be the grossest folly to minimize the possibility of a sudden and malignant expansion such as demonstrated as that in Tokio. It urges the United States to attempt to bridge the differences by frank discussion with Japan and advises Japan to condemn the demonstration and take every step to prevent its recurrence.

The diplomatic correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says the incident in Tokio has added to the general and increasing anxiety of diplomatic circles and expresses fear over the outcome.

NEW MINISTRY IN FRANCE SHORT-LIVED

purpose of its formation, will find the Government in a minority upon the first vote.

NO RECOGNITION

The adversaries of M. Millerand have determined to refuse to recognize the Marsal Ministry. This may result in the entire left bloc leaving the Chamber as the Cabinet appears in the House on Tuesday.

Should this occur some deputies friendly to the President will address the Chamber on the Government's foreign policy, forcing a vote, in which the Le-millerandists will be defeated. The Millerand followers have made up their minds the Chamber must take a position on the "residential question" beyond the shadow of a doubt, whether on the matter of foreign policy or direct resignation.

Whatever happens it would not be possible for the two Chambers meeting as a congress at Versailles to elect a new President of the Republic before Friday.

AT DISADVANTAGE

The battle which has been going on between President Millerand and the Chamber for the last eight days has reached a decisive stage.

Members of the Radical and Socialist parties at a special session yesterday afternoon appeared loath to place themselves on record as to the unseating of the President, but voted a motion that "they would have nothing to do with the Marsal Cabinet if it presented itself before the Chamber."

RADIO DIVORCE SUIT IS SETTLED

Minneapolis Man Limited to One-Tube Set and no Profanity

Minneapolis, Minn., June 9.—Minneapolis "radio divorce suit" was settled out of court, in a novel manner to-day.

The divorce action was instituted recently by Mrs. Cora May White on grounds alleging cruel and inhuman treatment because of "radio mania." The husband's answer admitted his weakness for radio, but insisted he was forced to turn it on as a means of self-defence against "snoring."

BOUNDARY EFFORT DISAPPOINTS CARSON

He Disapproves of Irish Border Commission Drawn From Dominions

Belfast, June 9 (Canadian Press Cable)—In a speech here Sunday, Lord Carson, one of the leaders in the Ulster opposition to Free State dominance in Ireland, said he was disappointed that the British Government found it necessary to "go to Timbuctoo or some other place" to find somebody to solve the knotty Irish boundary question. He was sure that whoever was chosen would do his best, but the speaker did not envy him his job. No matter how many men were brought from the Antipodes to decide the affair they would come down in the long run to the solid question whether they were going to settle the frontier between Ulster and the Free State, or fitch Ulster territory.

Premier MacDonald announced in the House of Commons last week that the Chief Justice of Australia had consented to become a member of the proposed judicial committee to settle the constitutional or judicial issues involved in the Irish boundary question, and that he hoped a member of the Canadian bench would also be available.

HOWARD CARTER NOW IN TORONTO

Speaks of High Quality of Civilization in Ancient Egypt

Toronto, June 9.—Howard Carter, co-discoverer with the late Lord Carnarvon of the Tutankhamen tomb in Egypt who is here to-day, emphasized in an interview the high standard of civilization prevailing in Egypt in ancient times as revealed by recent discoveries in Egypt, and referred in contrast to the present day tendency to sacrifice the beautiful for the useful.

Mr. Carter is of the opinion that, except for modern mechanical inventions, the civilization of ancient Egypt was in some respects higher than that of the present day. During thirty-four years of excavation work in the country, Mr. Carter stated he had never found figures of an indecent nature, which is far from being the case as regards the other ancient civilizations. This fact, he said, argues a high moral standard and culture among ancient Egyptians. The Egyptians, moreover, were actuated by a love for the beautiful, as is proved by the artistic beauty of their work.

Himself a worshipper of the aesthetic, Mr. Carter wonders whether the present day is not inclined to destroy individuality and standardization. This tendency he noticed particularly with regard to cities in the United States, in which he found a monotonous sameness.

AN AUTO FATALITY

St. Catharines, Ont., June 9.—Harry Miller was instantly killed Saturday night and Walter Fisher, fourteen, was injured when a car driven by Gerald Price struck them. The driver was arrested.

"I don't know, ma'am. I can't tell till I get a better look at you. If you've a wart on the side of your nose, she's out."

HOUSE SHORTAGE PROBLEM ATTACKED IN SOUTH AUSTRALIA

Adelaide, Australia, June 9 (Canadian Press Cable)—The South Australian Government is boldly tackling the house shortage problem by inviting tenders for the erection and completion within a year of 1,000 homes of fourteen different designs in various suburbs. Families with children will be given the privilege of securing the houses by depositing £25 and other families by depositing £100.

BRITISH LEGION EVENT IN LONDON

Ex-Service Men Held Annual Service; 1,000,000 Represented at Conference

London, June 9 (Canadian Press Cable)—The Duke of York yesterday inspected 2,000 members of the British Legion, who afterwards, led by bands, marched to the Cenotaph, where the Legion's annual memorial service was held. The Duke of York and Field Marshal Haig, together carried the Legion's poppy—wreath and deposited it on the Cenotaph.

The chairman, at the opening of the annual conference of the Legion, at which more than 1,000,000 ex-service men were represented, pointed out that half a million ex-service men were still unemployed, and he urged the appointment of a great national committee to tackle the question.

tempts to bring the Government Merchant Marine and the Canadian National Railways into the sphere of public.

WELL MANAGED

The British Columbia Lumber and Shingle Manufacturers' Association, representing thirty-eight of the lumber companies operating in British Columbia in a letter, a copy of which has been forwarded to the Prime Minister of Canada, also outlines the views of its members as expressed at a recently held meeting. It was the unanimous opinion that the purchasing department of the Canadian National was efficiently managed in the interests of the Railway and the Dominion.

"I do not think it would be a difficult matter," says the secretary-treasurer of this association, "for Senator J. D. Taylor or his representatives to be allowed access to the order files of anyone, or all of our member lumber mills, and to determine whether the Canadian National Railways are paying more than others for their lumber. What gives us more concern than anything else is the all-too-evident desire to bring these services into the political arena, and the unanimous opinion that the country as a whole, but British Columbia in particular, is sensibly against this attempted procedure.

"Recent investigations, based on the statements of discharged employees, have not given us any confidence in the result of investigations so inaugurated and I am to state that the general feeling of the lumber industry is that the general management of these services is much more capable of supervising the various departments of these services than either the Senate of Canada or the House of Commons of Canada, and the also credit them with being on the alert for routine out any disadvantage which the service would be under by inefficient or incapable management of the departments."

B. C. SERVICES

Dealing with the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, the British Columbia Lumber and Shingle Manufacturers' Association emphasizes the value of the services maintained from British Columbia ports.

"We wish to state unqualifiedly that the lumber industry, which is the premier and most important industry in the province, has been greatly benefited through the co-operation of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine and various instances can be cited where orders have been secured through the instrumentality of this organization," says the letter. "Some of these orders were obtained at times when they were vitally necessary to the lumber industry of British Columbia, which means that they were vitally necessary to the working population of this province."

NEW MARKETS

"Previous to the inauguration of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine the lumber export sales to China, India and Java were very small, but since the Canadian Government Merchant Marine put on services to those countries markets have been opened up which give an outlet for a grade of lumber which in the past had been very hard to dispose of.

"We wish to stress the point of the competition which we run against with the United States Shipping Board, which have inaugurated a line to New Zealand and Australia, giving monthly sailings, these sailings favoring United States shippers to secure space for parcel shipments. Consequently one of the most vital features to which we call the attention of the Senate of Canada is the amount of good that could be done by representations to the Minister of Marine of the necessity of continuing the service of these steamships to Australia, New Zealand, China, and if possible India."

CO-OPERATION

"We speak only of what we know, and that is that the present western management of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine has always been willing to co-operate in any way with the lumber industry in opening up new markets, and we desire to bring to your attention the advisability of every effort being made not only to keep the present service but to extend them at any favorable opportunity."

SAVINGS DEPOSITS IN CANADA GROW

Ottawa, June 9.—An increase of approximately $19,000,000 in the total savings deposits in Canadian banks during the month of April is shown by a statement issued by the Department of Finance. Demand deposits also show an increase of more than $10,000,000 during the month.

The value of forests is placed at nearly $2,000,000,000, the manufactures at $1,972,000,000 (including machinery, stocks on hand, etc.), and household furnishings, clothing, automobiles, etc. at $1,144,000,000. The specie held by chartered banks and estimated for public holdings was $292,000,000.

The value of Canada's mines was estimated at $659,514,000.

SECOND TRIAL FOR U.S. GIRL BANDIT

Buffalo, N.Y., June 9.—The jury in the case of Stella Mackoyka, the alleged girl bandit, on Saturday night failed to agree and was discharged.

The girl was indicted jointly with Frank Minnick and George W. Bittle after a robbery of the August H. Hoyer jewelry store in Genesee Street. A clerk was shot and fatally wounded, allegedly by Minnick during the robbery. Minnick has been convicted and is awaiting execution in the Sing Sing death house. In the case of Bittle, the jury disagreed. He is to be retried.

RULING BY COURT ON INCOME TAX

Nelson, June 9.—An Ottawa wire received here announces that the Supreme Court has granted the appeal in Kent vs. Rex, in which the appellant, former owner of the Surprise Mine in the Stocan district, escapes payment of retroactive income tax imposed on him as a non-resident for income derived from the Surprise Mine in years for which the statutory tax of two per cent. has already been paid. This reverses the British Columbia Court of Appeal's decision.

The case was argued in Ottawa last month.

DR. TOLMIE POLITICIAN OR DR. TOLMIE, VETERINARY?

BEFORE he became a politician, Dr. Tolmie was a competent veterinary. But Dr. Tolmie, politician, apparently is a different type of individual from Dr. Tolmie, veterinary.

As politician and anxious to bring in the racing ponies for the boys, Dr. Tolmie declares before a Conservative meeting that "horses are not subject to foot and mouth disease; they are not known to be carriers of it."

But the experts who ought to know, the members of the British Columbia Veterinary Association with whom Dr. Tolmie used to fraternize and who are still interested in safeguarding the health of the live stock of the Province from a costly plague such as that which recently swept Southern California, apparently think differently from Dr. Tolmie, the politician.

When the Department of Agriculture, on the advice of its experts, took steps to protect the stock of farmers here by eliminating every possible source of foot and mouth infection, including racehorse carriers from infected areas, the British Columbia Veterinary Association held a meeting in Vancouver and unanimously passed the following resolution:

"That the council of the B.C. Veterinary Association, representing the veterinary profession in British Columbia, heartily endorse the action of the Minister of Agriculture in the steps he has taken with a view to preventing the introduction of the foot and mouth disease into this country, and pledges itself to do all in its power to further any additional efforts he may make in this direction."

The exclusion action followed the advice of the publications of the United States Department of Agriculture on the disease in which it was made clear that generally speaking the disease confined itself to cloven-hoofed animals, but horses and other animals were carriers.

Dr. Tolmie used to appeal for Victoria's support on the grounds that he was not a politician. But from his course recently he seems to have fallen in evil ways.

Why is it necessary for Dr. Tolmie as politician to be so different from what Dr. Tolmie would be in this case as veterinary?

ANOTHER SENATE BLOCKADE OF THE C.N.R.

THE Conservative majority in the Senate, which last year killed the Canadian National Branch Line Bill on the pretext that it was a "blanket" measure which it could not amend, has adopted new tactics with respect to the series of bills presented by the Mackenzie King Government during the present session.

The "three-year programme calls for an expenditure, mostly in the West, including that for thirty-four miles on Vancouver Island, of about $29,000,000. The bill has been passed by the House of Commons and is now before the Senate Railway Committee.

Now the somewhat preposterous proposal has been made by Sir James Loughheed, Conservative leader, and other Conservative Senators that each bill shall be subjected to expert testimony and that the Canadian Pacific Railway, the competitor of the Canadian National, shall be called on to pass upon each and every branch proposed and to say whether it is necessary or not. Each Branch Line Bill is being vigorously criticized and fought in the Senate Committee, including that for the Vancouver Island lines, which are necessary to tap the heavy timber areas and to provide traffic to make the present Island lines pay.

The question of Senate reform or abolition is thus brought again into the limelight. Nothing will be so effective in consolidating opinion in the West on the uselessness of the Senate in its present form as the exhibitions of political obstruction that have been given by that body during the last session as well as this.

Too bad that the Mayor didn't ask Mr. Bowser something about Johnson Street Bridge contributions while he had him in such a sweet, promising mood.

TABULATING THE DAYS OF MAN

SOME person with a statistical frame of mind has amused himself by tabulating for the London Daily Herald, the Labor Government's organ, what he calls "a bill of life." Assuming that the average man lives seventy-five days in excess of the Biblically assigned seventy years, he divides this time among the various human activities as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Activity, Days. Sleep 23, Sickness 14, Eating 2, Washing, shaving, dressing 2, School 13, Work 18, Reading 7, Play 3, Entertainment, etc. 1/2, Walking, trains, etc. 2 1/2, Waiting for trains, etc. 15, Sweating 2 1/2, Sundries 7, Total 75

The anonymous statistician admits that his schedule "varies greatly according to where we live, and the taste, temperament, and social conditions of the individual." Readers who feel that such important items as Nos. 8 and 12 are seriously underestimated may take heart from this admission.

SCOPE FOR FINANCIAL GENIUS

HON. T. G. COVENTRY, who, it may be necessary to recall, is the candidate against Mr. Speaker Pauline in Saanich, has been almost totally eclipsed by Mr. Herbert Carmichael, who has loomed as a public debt wizard.

This is the Mr. Carmichael who has not been satisfied with what British Columbia's debt actually is but for political purposes wants to make it appear anywhere from two to three times as big.

It is also the same Mr. Carmichael who was detected trying to put over on rural audiences the suggestion that the Government of John Oliver was responsible for loading on the Province the $40,000,000 guarantee on Mr. Bowser's P.G.E. Railway. It was necessary to check up Mr. Carmichael by bringing out the fact, which he carefully suppressed, that although this $40,000,000 guarantee was saddled on the Province by Mr. Bowser's late Government, Mr. Oliver was able to free the Province from it in the Canadian National settlement, so that the Dominion Government assumed it and the Province does not have to pay one cent.

And it is the same Mr. Carmichael who was so overcome in his enthusiasm for piling up new debt records, that he had not time to mention a little thing like the $12,139,543.92 of sinking funds which Hon. John Hart as Minister of Finance has built up against the actual debt.

If Mr. Carmichael is seeking exercise for his financial genius he can find plenty of scope for it in trying to explain the contrast between the accumulation of the $12,139,543.92 of sinking funds under the Oliver Government and the state of affairs in the Treasury which caused alarm in financial circles all over the country at the time Mr. Bowser was put out of office when it was discovered that British Columbia was $428,000 short in its sinking funds.

SUNSHINE PAYS BIG DIVIDENDS IN HEALTH

SIR HERBERT BARKER, the manipulative surgeon, recently started a campaign to popularize sun-bathing in England, and now at the International Health Conference at Wembley, Dr. Rollier, an eminent Swiss physician, has read a paper on the power of the sun against tuberculosis.

Numerous experiments, Dr. Rollier said, had proved that the light of the sun by absorption in the blood became a reservoir of circulating energy, reinforcing the defensive powers of the body, and thus tending to produce immunity from disease. The skin, which was not merely an organ of protection but of respiration, nutrition and elimination, had become atrophied to a large extent by the wearing of unhygienic clothes. The effect of the direct action of the air and sun upon the skin was to produce greatly increased resistance to disease. Dr. Rollier said that in no direction was the remarkable curative power of the sun more apparent than in cases of surgical tuberculosis.

Perhaps it is because the people of Canada, especially those in the larger cities in the East, take so little real advantage of the sunshine that tuberculosis in past years has grown to the proportions of a plague.

We are led to the question whether even the people of Victoria take the advantage they should of the almost record amount of sunshine which this city enjoys year after year. For those who have not been taking advantage of it, now is the time to start. It pays great dividends in health.

Anyway, Harry Price was not doorkeeper Saturday night.

Conservative whooper-up meeting seems to have consisted chiefly of superlatives and cheers.

"Will you give the municipalities a square deal?" Mayor Hayward says he asked Mr. Bowser. "I will," promised Mr. Bowser. Such is the story of Mayor Hayward's wedding to the Conservative Party campaign as related by him Saturday night. Could one want anything more touching as evidence of love at first sight?

Look in my face: my name is Might-have-been; I am also called No-more, Too-late, Farewell; Unto thy ear I hold the Lead Sea shell; Cast up thy life's foam-frothed feet between; Unto thine eyes the glass where that is seen; Which had been form and Love's, but by my spell is now a shaken shadow intolerable; Of ultimate things unuttered the frail screen; Mark me, how still I am! But should there dart One moment through my soul the soft surprise Of that winged Peace which lulls the breath of sighs; Then shall thou see my smile, and turn apart thy visage to mine amidst all thy heart's sleepless with old confessions; —Dante Gabriel Rossetti.

On "Learn How to Wait"

(Copyright)

THE one that is bound to come to grief is the one that cannot wait.

Impatience is the root of discouragement. We are cast down and weep because we will not listen to To-morrow.

Impatience is the foe of faith. How can we believe in any good force if we close the books to-night?

It is of the very essence of goodness that it endures, that it outlives evil, that it is ever-green, while wickedness is deciduous. And how are you going to know that unless you wait and see?

Impatience destroys wisdom. One ingredient of every truth is Time. If you cannot allow for Time how can you ever come to any dependable knowledge?

Impatience disturbs Poise. And Poise is perhaps the greatest quality of great souls. To be fixed, stable, sure and stand like an oak defying the storm, or like a mountain peak challenging the seasons, this surely is the mark of majesty. And can such stature be reached by the petulant?

Impatience corrodes Love. Love that cannot wait, that cannot tolerate weakness until it shall pass; that cannot hold on, "for better, for worse, in sickness and health, for richer, for poorer, till death do us part," is not True Love, but the flare of Passion or the purr of stroked Vanity.

The mother who cannot wait is a poor mother. For nine-tenths of the sins of youth are the unpleasures of adolescence. Time will cure them. Few children will not yield to Love and Patience, and few will not be ruined by Love and Impatience.

Impatience is the worm in the apple of Education. The real educator is growth. Unless the teacher reckons with the wisdom-producing effect of time, the teaching will be worth little.

Impatience is a characteristic of Childhood. The ability and the willingness to wait shows the adult mind.

Most crimes, and all suicides, come from Impatience. It is the sister of Fear, and the mother of Panic.

To know how "to labor and to wait" is the crown of wisdom, the ripe fruit of maturity, the morning star that glows in the forehead of the overcomers.

The Troubles of Baron de Lahontan

ON June 9, 1666, was born Louis Armand de Lom d'Arce, third Baron de Lahontan, at Lahontan not far from Montreal in the South of France. His grandfather, a few weeks later, was that Comte de Guiche, whom Rostand has presented, not entirely to the former's advantage, in his immortal play, "Cyrano de Bergerac," and his godmother was the Marquise de Lons.

The auspicious circumstances of this his start in life presaged nothing of the misfortune that was to befall him, which was to overtake him before that life's close. Yet, it was this very avalanche of calamity which kept in Canada for so long a period so bright a figure and so happy a wit, to write such brilliant comment upon conditions and people of our country's early youth.

When Louis was very young his father, who had been a distinguished civil engineer, died, leaving him the title and a very much impaired and litigiously involved estate. He came to Canada in the Autumn of 1683 as an officer in a regiment of marines sent as reinforcements to the Governor of Canada, Lefebvre de la Barre, in his struggle with the savage Iroquois.

Billed that Winter at Beauport, where he hunted much of the time in the company of the unhappy expedition against the Mohawks in the Summer of 1684, which expedition was the cause of the Governor's recall. Next Winter he spent in garrison at Montreal, and the Spring of 1685 found him guarding the frontier at Chambly, when he spotted a very agreeable Summer in hunting and fishing with the natives. Then he was billed for eighteen months at Boucherville, where he managed to get in a great deal more hunting, especially of elk. These ramblings by forest and stream with the Indians profited him greatly by the acquisition of woodcraft, the use of the Indian languages, and in knowledge of the Indian character and customs. Yet, wherever he went he carried with him the culture of Europe in his books—Homer, Anacreon, Lucian, Petronius, and event, at time, Aristotle.

IN 1687 he accompanied the new Governor, the Marquis de Denonville, in his invasion of the Iroquois country. His affairs in France were now in desperate tangle, but the Governor cancelled his home leave to send him as commandant to the little Fort St. Joseph on the site of the present city of Port Huron, Michigan, where the St. Clair River leaves Lake Huron. Here he had more hunting in the Autumn, but suffered intensest boredom through the Winter, with the result that the next Summer he went off on a wild expedition with an Indian war party. Then, hearing of the razing of Fort Niagara, he abandoned that position most lightly and returned to Quebec.

Again he obtained leave to France, but the Count Frontenac, coming back as Governor, countermanded it and held him at Quebec, as a friend, however, and companion in the Chateau St. Louis and at his own table. He fought through the siege of Quebec by Sir William Phips from Massachusetts in October, 1690, and shared the splendid triumph which Frontenac won. Sent by his chief to carry the welcome news to the Court of France, he found his fortune irretrievably dissipated and no chance of redress.

Next season, in September, 1691, he was again at Quebec, enjoying the Governor's favor and hospitality as before. It was during this Winter of gaiety at the little wilderness capital that the Governor, the Bishop, the Intendant, a wealthy and friendly English prisoner, and various other prominent members of the society of the little place conspired to marry him to the charming Genevieve d'Amours, daughter of a distinguished member of the Sovereign Council and friend of the Governor. They almost succeeded, but Lahontan could not bring himself to be caught. Stalling off his captivation from month to month, finally forced against the wall, he had to confess to the Governor that he could never surrender his liberty. This meant temporary loss of favor and promotion, but, reinstated through his wit, resource and ability in Frontenac's good graces, he was sent to France on duty in 1692. In 1693 he came out as Lieutenant-Governor for the King in Newfoundland and Acadia, but quarrelled with the jealous and avaricious Governor, and in fear of his life from that irate official, escaped without leave to Holland. Having left his post, he was now an exile and remained so for the rest of his days. In his restless wanderings he visited Germany, Denmark and England.

Hoping you will give this the same prominence as was given the part I took at that meeting.

MUNICIPAL-PROVINCIAL RELATIONS

To the Editor:—In your issue of 6th inst. you editorially take a column and a quarter to object to Mayor Hayward and Alderman Todd drawing the attention of the public to the unsatisfactory relations that exist between the Provincial Government and the cities and municipalities of this Province.

Permit me to say that this is not an opinion confined to Mayor Hayward and myself, nor is it a "Today" drawing of trumped-up figures of the mayors, reeves, aldermen and councillors of the cities and municipalities of this Province. It is no more "political" than to organize resistance against any other predatory attempts against our homes and city, and it is very unfortunate that discussions of matters such as these are so frequently avoided for fear of "politics." This fear is in itself, I think, a very good reason for getting rid of "politics" in provincial affairs.

A. E. TODD, June 7, 1924.

NOT AN EMPLOYEE

To the Editor:—Will you kindly be good enough to correct a wrong impression which may be created by the Sunday Colonists report of the Conservative meeting held in this city on Saturday evening last.

In this report a certain Mr. Roger Berry was mentioned, and the writer implies that this gentleman is an employee of the Liquor Control Board. Such an assumption is quite incorrect. Mr. Berry is not now, nor was he at that time, an employee of the board.

No employee of the Liquor Control Board is permitted to take part in politics.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With
When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Do not use perfume, soap or anything else that contains too much free alkali. For this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It is inexpensive and beats anything else all to pieces. Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to manage. You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any drug store, and a few ounces will last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package. (Adv.)

RUPERT HUGHES OFFENDS WOMEN

Tells Federation That Women's Place is at Home

Los Angeles, June 9.—An address before the General Federation of Women's Clubs by Rupert Hughes here Saturday afternoon left the 600 delegates and visitors in a state of confusion and bewilderment, little short of an uproar.
Mr. Hughes suggested that a woman's place was in the home, not "travelling around the country," and regarded the federation's idea of censorship as very faulty.

Many Victoria golfers who made the acquaintance of Miss Doreen Kavanagh, the brilliant player, when she was in this city for the Pacific Northwest Tournament two years ago, will be interested in the following from the San Francisco Examiner: "A romance of the golf course took definite form with the announcement of the engagement of Miss Doreen Kavanagh, four times California woman golf champion, and W. W. Campbell of Los Angeles and Virginia country clubs. The announcement was made at the home of Miss Kavanagh's mother and the marriage is set for the latter part of June. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked very charming in her traveling costume of fawn pique tulle with becoming hat of fawn trimmed with French flowers. VISITING PRESSMEN DEPART FOR HOME

Enjoyed Visit to Butchart Gardens and Norfolk Lodge Yesterday

After a round of social engagements which proved a pleasant culmination to their transcontinental trip, the members of the Canadian Press Association and their wives left yesterday afternoon for Vancouver en route for their respective homes.
AT "BENVENUTO"
Yesterday morning the visitors motored to the beautiful gardens at "Benvenuto," Tod Inlet, where they were cordially received by Mr. and Mrs. Butchart. After a tour of the gardens, every corner of which excited the enthusiastic admiration of the visitors, the host and hostess threw open their charming home to the party.

An impromptu concert on the electric pipe-organ was followed by the serving of refreshments, and it was with much reluctance that the guests tore themselves away after individually thanking Mr. and Mrs. Butchart for their kindly welcome and genial hospitality.

En route home a call was made at "Norfolk Lodge," Elk Lake, where Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Oldfield welcomed the visitors and entertained them with luscious strawberries. After a peep at the wonderful rock garden, for which "Norfolk Lodge" is justly famed, the journey to town was resumed to enable the visitors to catch the afternoon boat.

On Saturday afternoon the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Nichol welcomed the party at Government House, receiving their guests on the lawn. A delicious tea was served in the main Summer house, after which the guests wandered around the beautiful grounds.

In the evening the Press men and their wives were the guests of honor at a dance given in the Empress Hotel by the Victoria Press Club. The orchestra furnished the music for dancing from 8.20 to midnight. As a pleasant diversion Miss Helen Macdonald delighted the gathering with two graceful solo dances with Mrs. A. J. Gibson at the piano. Mr. R. R. Webb sang two songs in his own inimitable style.

On arrival in the city each of the lady members of the party was presented with a bouquet of purple and yellow iris on behalf of the local Press, and on their departure the ladies were presented with a quaint Colonial bouquet and the gentlemen with a boutonniere, the gift of Mrs. J. R. Rathorn, the widow of a former well-known newspaperman.

A garden tea under the auspices of the Women's Educational Club of Columbian College will be held on Thursday afternoon, June 26, at the home of Mrs. T. R. Cusack, 931 Pemberton Road.

TO ERECT ARCHWAY AT HEALTH CENTRE

Silver Tea at "Cloverdale" to Raise Necessary Funds

On Tuesday, June 17, from 5 to 5 p.m., a silver tea will be held at the home of the Misses Tolmie, Cloverdale Avenue.

The proceeds of this function will go to the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Saanich War Memorial Health Centre and will be used by them for the purpose of further equipping the Health Centre, which is situated on Glanford Avenue, Saanich.

The ladies have done very excellent work during the past few years for the Health Centre, having spent no less than the sum of $975 in supplying extra furniture and equipment to the centre. At the present time they are considering the question of erecting an archway at the entrance to the Health Centre grounds and a decision will be arrived at in the very near future as to the type of arch to be erected.

The building was erected at a cost of $25,000 as a memorial to those who fell in the Great War. It is hoped that the residents of Saanich will render every support to the work of the Ladies' Auxiliary in connection with the centre.

PUEBLO MOTHER AND CHILD

By ROY J. GIBBONS

Santa Fe, N.M., May 28—Pueblo Indians of New Mexico are nearing the end of the trail. Members of the oldest civilization extant in America are now battling for life against a combination of desperate odds. Great stretches of cultivated lands they claim are occupied by white settlers. Numerous diseases are taking great toll. And dope, bought by factions that claim to use it for religious and medicinal purposes, has brought on the added peril of internal strife. According to estimates obtained from reliable sources, half of New Mexico's Pueblo Indians are afflicted with a disease of the eyes, while many are victims of tuberculosis. At one time the Pueblos held title to some $30,000 acres of land. Part of this was given them during the days of the old Spanish sovereignty. Other tracts were purchased outright by the Pueblos or else were confirmed upon them by Congress. To-day the Pueblos, who number slightly in excess of 8,000 members, claim that practically all but 15,000 acres of the 30,000 acres in their original holdings susceptible of cultivation, have been taken from them. The Pueblo charge that most of this land was irrevocably passed from their hands in an illegal manner. A sharp difference in opinion has sprung up between young members of the race who have been away to school and the old Indians. The educated Pueblos have shown resentment against many of the older traditions, and federal Indian Service employees say that they have had to protect some of these dissenters who refuse to participate in the worship of eagle-feathers and otherwise take part in the tribal ceremonies. Peyote, a narcotic distilled from the button of the cactus plants, has served to widen the breach between the two factions. In the Pueblo of Taos, the most northern of all Pueblo villages in New Mexico, peyote eaters, as they are called, have virtually broken up the unity of the settlement, according to many of the oldest members of the council who talked with the writer. These old Indians said that peyote is received through the mails by those who use it and when a fresh shipment of the narcotic comes in, the addicts go into the hills until they have used all their drug.

HUNTERS ALL
If you have an apartment to rent you have an advertising problem of the regular sort—to be worked out in the regular way. That is the classified advertising way, and through it a majority of the apartments are rented. It never costs over-much—often so little that the expense hardly counts. Classified advertising gives to home-hunters the facts upon which they base their home-hunting expeditions.

Furnished rooms are money-earners—Income-helpers. If you keep them tenanted with desirable people. The expense of properly advertising furnished rooms is so small that it may usually be met out of your pocket money, or spare change. It will be a rare sight. Many have evinced a desire to see the pick of the British navy under full steam, to catch the first glimpse of the world's largest battleship—H.M.S. Hood and H.M.S. Repulse, followed by the light cruisers Delhi, Danae, Dauntless, Dragon and H.M.A.S. Adelaide. Admiral Sir Frederick Field's colors will be flying at the masthead of the Hood, the flagship of the fleet.

E. S. FARR SPEAKS ON CITIZENSHIP Gyros Hear Welcome Address By Local Educationist E. S. Farr, instructor at the Victoria High School, gave an exceptionally illuminating and instructive address to the Gyros yesterday at its regular weekly luncheon. Mr. Farr spoke upon the duties involved in true Canadian citizenship and the advantages of citizenship. He pointed out, through the course of time, up to the present stage of civilization, which, he believes, is steadily advancing towards a better mutual understanding. "We must pursue and overcome the responsibilities which weigh upon us as Canadian citizens," said Mr. Farr, "before we can see Canada that desirable place which we all wish to be: a country of thriving hubs of industry, great agricultural centres and clean, wholesome homes."

PROCEED TO EXTEND THE CHILDREN'S AID HOME BUILDING After weeks of delay a start has length been made on the extension of the Children's Aid Home on Pandora Avenue. The building permit has been issued, on the same terms as previously announced, to Thomas Thirkell, at a cost of $3,936. It will be recalled that the committee had recommended the acceptance of the tender the lowest submitted, but the start was held up by the attempt to place some of the children in the Protestant Orphanage, an effort which failed. It was found the conditions of admission were entirely different. This building will provide the inmates with a dining-room and dormitory accommodation upstairs.

Shipbuilder Was on Way From South America to New York New York, June 8.—Viscount Pirrie, seventy-three, head of the firm of Harland & Wolff, famous shipbuilders of Belfast, Ireland, died suddenly Saturday night of bronchial pneumonia on board the steamship "Gyros" while on his way from South America. Viscount Pirrie was accompanied by his wife and four children. The body will arrive here on the Gyros Friday and will be buried in Ireland on the Cedric, sailing for Queenstown on Saturday.

William James Pirrie, master shipbuilder of the British Empire, was born of a peasant family in Quebec, May 31, 1847. When Wm. James was still a boy he was taken to Belfast and later went to the primary schools there and the Belfast Royal Academi-cal Institute.

When he was only fifteen he became a premium apprentice with the Harland & Wolff Works, where only 190 men were employed then. The head of the firm, Sir Edward Harland, in a very short time saw the young apprentice had the makings of a great shipbuilder and he advanced him rapidly, so that when the ocean was designed in 1869 Pirrie was chief draughtsman. Five years later, twelve years after he had left the Academy, he was taken into partnership and in a few years he became chairman of the board.

There is a very sweet girl who stutters. One night, when a man friend was leaving, she accompanied him to the door and said: "George, are you coming again next S-a-s-a-s?"

The dog was on the doorstep. After George was half a mile down the road, with the dog gaining on him at every leap, it occurred to him that possibly the girl had intended to say "Sunday" instead of "Sete him"; but it didn't occur to the dog for a mile or so beyond that.

DO YOU KNOW BASEBALL?

1. Men are on first and second. Batman hits to the right of the shortstop, who makes a great play and by a quick throw forces the runner at third. The third baseman threw to first for a double play, but the first baseman missed the ball and the batsman reached first in safety. Is the first baseman charged with an error?—F.M.

2. With a runner on first base, a ground ball is hit to the first baseman, who touches first, retiring the batter, then throws to second ahead of the runner. Does this make a force play at second or must the runner be tagged out? Is he entitled to first or second provided he can reach either one safely?—E.D.F.

ANSWERS

1. The first baseman is charged with an error, if by holding the throw of the third baseman he would have retired the batsman and completed a double play.

2. When the first baseman fields the ground ball and touches first, retiring the batsman, he removes the force on the man going to second. The runner going into that base must be tagged out. The mere throwing of the ball to that base ahead of his arrival does not retire him. He is entitled to either first or second, provided he can reach either one in safety.

HEAVYWEIGHTS

Big Heart, a neglected factor in the betting, having gone to the post at slightly better than 6 to 1 against, just lasted long enough in a hard stretch drive to beat Heel Taps of the E. F. Whitney stable for the first money.

Therefore, continuous operation and at the same time the economical upkeep of these trucks are matters to which we devote considerable study as they vitally affect the general results of our business.

We find that efficient lubrication is one of the best roads to economy and service.

"CODE OF THE SEA" SHOWS OLD THREE-MASTED SHIP WITH HER MUTINOUS CREW

A sailing ship, whose decks ran red with the blood of a mutinous crew more than fifty-one years ago, was used by Paramount in filming scenes for "Code of the Sea," in which Rod La Rocque and Jacqueline Logan are featured.

This old three-master, in the heyday of its glorious youth, was known as one of the smartest schooners plying the Pacific shipping lanes. Once, on a trip around the Horn with a cargo from San Francisco to New York, a heavy storm made its crew anxious to abandon the vessel. Its captain with a few loyal seamen fought the mutinous ones into submission. Four lives were lost in the encounter and many more, including the captain, were grievously wounded.

Rod La Rocque is the leading man in this drama, with a particularly strong supporting cast, including George Fawcett, Maurice Flynn, Luke Cosgrave, Lillian Leighton and Sam Appel. All are true artists of the silver screen.

These who have seen Mr. La Rocque in earlier attractions, remember him as a dashing, handsome hero, with those fine features which denote strength of character and power of mind, and his physique, together with his manliness in other particulars, make him a well chosen leader in his role. George Fawcett, whose best parts are in stories such as these, with his leathery, weather-beaten countenance, and his superb acting, is ever a popular character, whether he be of the kindly or cruel stamp. In this picture he excels himself.

Jaqueline Logan is the featured lady in the production. In the picture, Mr. La Rocque has the role of Bruce McDow, first mate on the light ship Barrier Reef. One night a great storm comes up, and the yacht Neroid, on which is Jenny Hayden (Miss Logan), McDow's sweetheart, goes on the rocks and is breaking up fast. At the same time the passenger steamer Northern, Captain Hayden, played by George Fawcett, is trying to make port with 300 passengers. A wireless message from the steamer orders McDow to remain at his station so the Northern can clear the reef in safety.

The lightship springs one of her forward chains, but McDow orders his men to ride it out until they break loose. He puts out to the Neroid in a small boat, picking up a life-line, which has been shot out from a shore station and fallen short. He just about makes the Neroid in time—sees all on board taken safely ashore in the breeches buoy—for the frail craft disappears beneath the waves with the captain and himself aboard. Is that the end of him? The picture will be on view at the Capitol until Saturday.

John Barrymore Worked Hard in Two Star Parts

Stars at Dominion in "Beau Brummel" With Notable Cast

Seventeen hours a day is a long time to spend on a job, especially a star whose weekly pay envelope contains a larger sum than is found on the yearly income tax statement of the average worker.

John Barrymore, the famous stage favorite, who is Beau Brummel in the current adaptation of the stage success of that name, did that very thing—not one day, but scores of them—during the filming of the picture at the Warner Brothers' West Coast studios.

Original plans for "Beau Brummel" called for completion in three months, but so elaborate were many of the big sets that it was necessary to extend the time limit several weeks. In the meantime Mr. Barrymore had signed a contract for a revival of his "Hamlet" in New York.

The November light in California is suitable for picture photography only between the hours of 7 o'clock in the morning and 2 in the afternoon, and every minute of this time was utilized by Director Harry Beaumont during the last two weeks of the filming of "Beau Brummel." When the light failed, after a hasty luncheon the star and company remained until midnight or later working on "interiors."

In New York the members of the "Hamlet" company were engaged in rehearsals without the star.

But Barrymore was not neglecting his New York engagements. Every moment that he was not engaged on set was spent in reciting the lines of Shakespeare's famous character. "Paul," his valet, would furnish the cues, and the famous star's marvelous stage voice would vibrate through the vast studio as it never did in any theatre.

Sometimes Alec Francis, also a former Shakespearean star, would read the lines of the characters in "Hamlet." Mary Alden, Irene Rich and other members of the company also "cued" the star until he was once more letter perfect in his most famous character.

"Beau Brummel" adapted from the famous Clyde Fitch play which the great Mansfield immortalized on the stage, comes to the Dominion Theatre for an engagement of six days, starting to-night. It is the well known story of the elegant beau to whom a perfect crowd and cut of a suit was more important than the favors of a thousand beauties, and whose fall from royal favor to destitution is one of the fascinating stories of history.

Ruth Mix, Child Actress, Features Pantages Bill

Daughter of Screen Star is Contributor to Entertaining Programme

Those who have taken a delight in watching the adventurous Tom Mix of the screen in his famous Western films will take a special interest in the offering at Pantages Theatre next week for Tom's daughter Ruth Mix, who is starring in one of the feature items of the programme.

Miss Mix appears in a sentimental little play with her own company. The young star takes the role of a sophisticated youngster of the streets and gives a characterization in which comedy is the predominant element. "Heartstrings" is the story of two foundlings, one of whom finds the other, a baby, in a basket on the doorstep of a mansion and carries it inside. The two receive a kindly welcome from a lonely man.

Sheffell's Southland Follies provide the other feature act. Joe Sheffell is one of vaudeville's best known producers and he is supported by an all-star colored organization featuring Minta Cato and Bob Williams in a modern revue of song and dance doing south of the Mason and Dixie line. It's a programme with lots of merry making, melody and syncopation.

La France Brothers are said to be the world's greatest head balancers and they offer a variety of exceptional merit, smoking, eating, drinking, juggling and playing musical instruments while standing on their heads.

Clifford and Marlon appear in an entertaining comedy sketch entitled "Just a Type."

Joe Devine and Grayce Gould have a bright and witty offering known as "Post Haste," featuring new dances and songs.

There will be one show on Tuesday night and one on Wednesday and Thursday.

Drama Begins at Altar, And Shows Married Storms

Royal Presents Picture Illustrative of Troublesome Seas of Matrimony

"Why Men Leave Home," the John M. Stahl production which opened to-day at the Royal Theatre, is a romantic drama, which begins where most dramas end—at the altar.

It is not a story of courtship days, but a story of modern married life, a story of the lives of thousands of young couples who let romance die the morning after they have said "I do."

We don't know where Stahl learned so much about life, but we know that he knows it as no other director does, and he portrays it in a human, simple manner, which makes you forget that it is only a picture.

He makes you live in it; he makes you breathe the very atmosphere of the scenes and gradually leads you to an unexpected climax, which makes you sorry that the picture can't continue many reels longer.

While the story is adapted from Avery Hopwood's satirical drama of every-day married life, it possesses a distinctly Stahl touch because the director has eradicated the sting which Hopwood's play had on the stage. He has not shifted the burden of blame to either side, though he has given the women the best of it—just as the women should have the best of it.

Stahl has a reputation for being a consistent producer of successful pictures, but none of his former productions, as successful as they have been, can approach "Why Men Leave Home" for real drama, suspense and human interest. It stands out pre-eminently, even among Stahl productions.

The picture is one of the very best of First National's programme this year.

Thrill of The East Indies is Columbia Feature

"Thundering Dawn" is Presented to Depict Tidal Wave in Java

Local screen goers are promised an unusual film offering, when "Thundering Dawn," a strange and dramatic production of the Java Coast, comes to the Columbia Theatre, to-day. It is a Universal Super Jewel production, made by Harry Garson, and starring the popular J. Warren Kerrigan and Anna Q. Nilsson. Tom Strasschi, long a screen favorite, and Winifred Bryson, rated as the prettiest "vamp" on the screen, play important roles in the picture. Although one of the most picturesque and colorful spots in the world, peopled by an odd assortment of strange characters congregated there from the seven seas, Java has seldom been used as the setting for a screen romance. Its exotic lure and its half-savage gaiety have rarely been pictured. "Thundering Dawn," however, is said to take full advantage of the tropical melting pot and its hectic life, and to present a story which grips with its intensity and thrills with its dramatic action.

The big punch in the picture is a realistic reproduction of a destructive typhoon followed by a tidal wave, which smashes and washes away the coast settlement in which the action of the story is laid. This reproduction is said to be the most striking and awe-inspiring catastrophe ever duplicated for motion pictures. Expert hydraulic and construction engineers were engaged to stage it and millions of gallons of water were impounded by a specially constructed dam, to provide the devastating floods. The project was one of great danger and several players and technicians narrowly escaped with their lives in the rush of water and debris.

Young Newrich had spent twelve months abroad, and on his return was greeted warmly by his father, accompanied by guests. "Well, Charlie, old boy, enjoyed yourself," cried old Newrich, joyously. "And how you've grown!" "Grown, father, grown," corrected his son, annoyed at the suppressed chuckles. "Well, I'm blessed," replied the old man, in a surprised tone. "Rum notions you pick up abroad. What have I to groan for?"

YOUR HEALTH

HOW TO LOSE WEIGHT AND GAIN NEW STRENGTH

By Royal S. Copeland, M.D.

Among your friends and acquaintances there is many a one who carries around a burden of twenty-seven pounds or more every day.

It is true that among the persons who are overweight are many who are notably jolly individuals.

That is, the boy or the girl, the young man or the young woman, who is burged with excess of flesh is not seriously inconvenienced.

A lean horse for the long race, is the finding of the mathematician—investigators who know the facts about figures of both kinds.

Let us suppose you are a woman, that you are thirty-five, that you are five feet, five inches tall and weigh 165 pounds.

Your shortness of breath when you exercise, your more or less frequent cases of indigestion, your occasional headaches, loudly proclaim that you should do something about it and at once.

When your doctors are through with you, make up your mind to drink lots of water—plenty of water each day, but never during your meals, if you are fat.

Reduce the quantity of food you eat at each meal. Choose it wisely with the help of your family physician.

You must take systematic daily exercise—not the listless "going through it and getting through it" sort in which many folks indulge.

Bathe regularly, sleep regularly—not too much listless "snoring," but good honest sleep—and you will soon find that the scales will give you regular, happy news.

Keep up the good work and those twenty-seven pounds, that constituted a really fearful burden, will be lifted from you.

"That's a remarkably strong sauce you have, Mrs. T-basco," said the visitor, as he wiped a tear from his eye.

"Yes," was the reply. "We always have a bottle on the table, although we don't use it ourselves."

NEW CHURCH BUDGET TOTALS $1,800,000

Report of General Board Laid Before Presbyterian General Assembly

Owen Sound, Ont., June 9 (Canadian Press)—Despite the prevalence of difficult financial conditions and of customs that do not contribute to the high ideals of life and service, honesty is still the outstanding report of the General Board of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, as presented to the General Assembly here to-day.

The report pays tribute to the loyalty and liberality of the people and their abiding interest in the things of the church.

It is noted that the givings of congregations for 1923 exceeded those of 1922 by $17,000, the report continues.

The total amount received from all sources for the maintenance of the missionary, educational and benevolent work of the church, including both the budget and the Women's Missionary Societies, was more than $2,000,000.

Home missions and social service $557,000, foreign missions $557,000, Colleges: Halifax $21,000, Montreal $18,000, Queen's $9,000, Knox $25,500, Manitoba $13,000, Saskatoon $9,000, Robertson $9,000, Westminster Hall $8,000, Missionary and Deaconess Training Home $10,000, Point-aux-Trembles $25,000, Sabbath schools and Y. P. societies $40,000, aged and infirm ministers' fund $54,000, widows' and orphans' fund (West) $45,000, widows' and orphans' fund (East) $2,000, buryary $2,500, general expense $99,000. Total $1,800,000.

The budget plan adopted by the church has met with real success, says the report.

The year 1923 was a year of unusual effort in missionary information and education, and more than 1,200 congregations were specially visited by representatives of the boards of the church.

The total receipts for the forward movement peace thank-offering during the years 1918 to 1923, were $4,557,722, or about eighty per cent. of the amount subscribed.

"Good morning, uncle," said his long-married niece. "I hope you sleep well."

"Not at all, not at all," remonstrated Uncle James, politely. "I was all right. I got up now and then during the night and rested a bit."

The playwright rushed up to the critic at the club.

"I've had a terrible misfortune," he announced. "My three-year-old boy got at my new play and tore it to pieces."

"Extraordinary that a child so young should be able to read," said the critic.

Crops Suffer With Too Much Sunshine

The drought still continues and the condition of many crops will become serious if rain does not come soon.

General farm crops all the way up the island as far as Comox Valley are suffering from lack of moisture.

Strawberries are now on the market in considerable quantities and it is expected that the Saanich and Gordon Head Fruit Growers' Association will ship their first crop about June 15 or 12.

The strawberry crop will be light in the Cowichan Valley owing to reduced acreage.

Some patches on the Soldier Settlement area at Merville look particularly promising.

"Corridor Dogs" In Cleveland Now

Cleveland, O. June 9.—They called it "trench feet" in France; here in Cleveland it is "corridor dogs."

It is a disease which becomes epidemic at all United States national conventions, and is the common lot of the garden variety of delegates and alternates, and of all reporters.

It comes from hours of standing around on hard stone floors trying to find out what's going on, which is usually nothing.

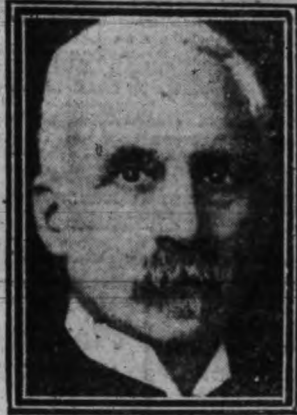

"Good morning, uncle," said his long-married niece. "I hope you sleep well."

"Not at all, not at all," remonstrated Uncle James, politely. "I was all right. I got up now and then during the night and rested a bit."

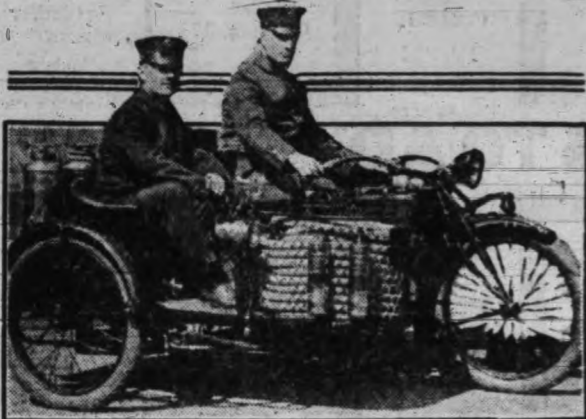

"I've had a terrible misfortune," he announced. "My three-year-old boy got at my new play and tore it to pieces."

"Extraordinary that a child so young should be able to read," said the critic.

CAUGHT IN BOND DEALS.—When Aemilius Jarvis, Sr.; his son, Aemilius Jarvis, Jr.; and Harry G. Pepall, manager of the Jarvis Company, appeared in Toronto Police Court charged with conspiracy in connection with the sale of Provincial Government succession duty free bonds, they were remanded eight days without plea or election. Left to right: Aemilius Jarvis, Sr.; Aemilius Jarvis, Jr.; and Harvey G. Pepall.

HOW ABOUT THIS FOR VICTORIA?—This motorcycle fire apparatus, now being tried out in Boston's narrow and crooked streets, is designed to save minutes when they count most. In automobile and grass fires, where it can replace heavier equipment, it is expected to save the city $25,000 a year. The outfit complete cost $750. It carries 300 feet of chemical hose, fire extinguishers, hose guns, axes, rakes and brooms.

STATION S-P-H-I-N-X CANT BROADCAST.—One of the triumphs of the ancients meets a triumph of the moderns and the result is a picture of interesting contrasts. However, the sphinx appears unimpressed. The moderns seem to have a little the best of it for their square box with its metal horn can talk, whereas the sphinx has never revealed its secret. Could one of the sphinx-builders return, he doubtless would sign up the radio program for the nearest oracle.

OVER YONDER

BACK HOME.—Carrie Jacobs Bond, composer of "A Perfect Day," is back in her home in Hollywood, Calif., following an extended visit in the Philippines Islands. Her song has reached the million mark in its sales.

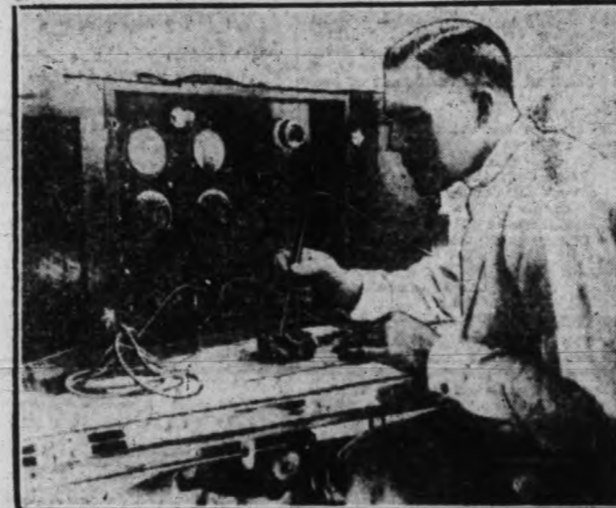

ALONE! ALONE! YES ALL ALONE!—Being a traffic cop has its great problems. How would you like to be in the position of this solitary police constable on the boulevard at Sunnyside, Toronto, one of the busiest roads in Canada, with its approaching oceans of motors? And they usually all want to go in different directions at once.

STYLE MENTOR.—If you would know what the well-dressed man should wear study the sartorial masterpiece here shown. It is none other than Andre de Fouquieres, long the most respected styles critic of Paris—and hence the world.

KING PLAYS ENGINEER.—The King out-Roosevelted the late Theodore Roosevelt when he ran the engine of the Royal train on the return trip from Wembley to Windsor. The Queen's dainty costume worried the trainmen more than it did her.

RADIO KNIFE LATEST.—Dr. R. J. Carveth demonstrates the power of the radio knife by means of which medical experts expect to create a revolution in surgical treatment of cancerous troubles. The knife is really a needle and waves sent out at the rate of 3,290,000 a second burn the tissue away, searing the edges of the cut and thus preventing loss of blood.

SAYS BANDITRY DOESN'T PAY.—Buffalo's bobbed-haired bandit had only a brief career. She is alleged to have been one of a trio who held up a jewellery store recently. During this escapade a clerk was shot and killed and $5,000 worth of diamonds stolen. Left, Frank H. Minnick, who is said to have been living with Estelle Mackosky, centre, alias Vera Lamont, the 19-year-old gun girl. On right, George Bittle, taxi-driver, who is alleged to have acted as lookout while the other two were robbing the jewellery store.

HE'S NOT HIDING.—This man is not hiding from his wife. Nor playing a new kind of a game. He is wearing the newest swimming cap, invented by A.G. Johnson of Washington, designed to keep water out of his eyes, ears and nose. He might as well stay home, eh?

CANNOT MARRY.—Mrs. Rita de Acosta Lvdig, wealthy New York society woman, and Rev. Percy Stickney Grant, rector of the Church of Ascension, have broken off their engagement "owing to Bishop Manning's refusal to give his consent to a marriage because the beautiful divorcee has two previous husbands living."

Earth Tremors Felt Before Explosion Occurred in Crater Yesterday

Two Sailors of British Empire Squadron Had Narrow Escape From Death

Volcano, which has been in a somewhat quiescent condition for nine days following a period of great activity the latter part of last month, is again violently active.

The first explosion within the crater since May 30 occurred yesterday. It was preceded immediately by a short series of earth tremors.

The explosion was not very violent, but the dust clouds emitted from the crater were heavier than had been the case with many others.

Professor T. A. Jaggar, volcanologist, who has made a special study of Kiluea, and who hurried back here from the continental United States last month to observe the current phenomena, said the earthquakes were a bad sign and indicated renewed activity within the volcano.

Vincent O'Connor and Robert Dykes, sailors from the British Empire cruising squadron now visiting Hawaii, had narrow escapes from death yesterday. They had been taking pictures of the volcano and had left the rim of the crater only a few minutes when the section on which they had been standing caved in. The explosion followed this cave-in.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Movie Worm

(Copyright, 1924, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

By Howard R. Garis

Uncle Wiggily hopped out of bed in his hollow stump bungalow one day, spun around on one toe like a top and laughed as he twinkled his pink nose.

"Oh, I feel very fine this beautiful day," cried the bunnyman. "I hope I have a wonderful adventure, and I hope I may help somebody out of trouble."

Then he washed his face and paws and slid down the stair banister ralaring to the kitchen where Nurse Jane was broiling the carrots for breakfast.

"My! You must feel gay!" laughed the muskrat lady housekeeper.

"I do!" answered Uncle Wiggily.
"I feel sure I am going to have a wonderful adventure to-day. But before I go, may I have the pleasure of doing anything to help you, Jane?"

"Oh, it might bring in some wood for the stove," answered Nurse Jane.
"It is too hot to keep a coal fire going all day, and I'll get dinner and

"Oh, excuse me!" said the rabbit.

supper with a wood blaze."

So Uncle Wiggily brought in some chips and sticks of wood and then, calling good-bye to Miss Fuzzy Wuzzey, off he hopped, over the fields, and through the woods, looking here and there for adventures.

"This certainly is wonderful weather!" cried Uncle Wiggily, dancing up and down in a shady nook in the woods.

"Hi, there, if you please!" suddenly cried a little voice. "Look out where you're dancing! You almost stepped on me!"

"Bless my pink, twinkling nose!"
exclaimed the rabbit gentleman, suddenly stopping his dance and looking around. "Who are you and where are you?" he asked. "I don't see any one on whom I nearly stepped."

"Here I am, down on the ground right between your two feet," was the answer, and, looking down, Mr.
Longears saw a worm crawling along. It was a red fish worm, or angle-worm, and it was a lady worm, and she wore a little sunbonnet on her head.

"Oh, excuse me! I didn't see you,"

SERIAL STORY

The Back Gang

By CYRIL MCNEILE, "Sapper"
Author of "Bull-dog Drummond," "No Man's Land," etc.

Drummond paused at the door.
"I am going straight to Scotland
Yard. I shall there tell Sir Bryan Johnstone the whole story from A to Z, at the same time handing him a little bag containing diamonds which has recently come into my possession."

"You admit you've got them," snapped the other, letting the mask drop for a moment.

"That's better, Carl—much better."
Drummond came back into the room.
"I admit I've got them—but they're in a place where you can never find them, and they will remain there until six o'clock to-night, when they go straight to Scotland Yard—unless, Carl—unless my wife is returned to me absolutely unscathed and unhurt before that hour. It is five o'clock now."

"And if she is returned—what then?"

"You shall have the diamonds," said the other.

"For a space the two men stared at one another in silence, and it was the girl who finally spoke.

"What proof have you that you'll keep your word?"

"Common sense," said Hugh quietly. "My wife is somewhat more valuable to me than a bagful of diamonds. In addition, you know the well enough to know that I can't break my word. Anyway, those are my terms—take them or leave them.
But I warn you that should anything happen to her nothing will prevent me going straight to the police. No consideration of unpleasant results for me will count even for half a second. Well, do you accept?"

"There is just one point, Captain Drummond," remarked the clyerman mildly. "Supposing that I am able to persuade certain people to —expedite the return of Mrs.
Drummond in exchange for that little bag, where do you and I stand after the bargain is transacted. Do you still intend to call the police of your extraordinary situations in response to me?"

"Not unless they should happen to become acquainted with the ridiculous hallucination that I am the leader of the Back Gang," answered Drummond. "That was for your ear alone, my little one, and as you knew it already you won't get fat on it, will you? No, my intentions—since we are having a heart-to-heart talk —are as follows. Once the exchange is effected we will start fair and square—just like last time. Carl, it doesn't pay you to go to the police, it doesn't pay me, so we'll have a single on our own. I am frightfully anxious to add you to my collection of specimens, and I can't believe you are burning a heart-to-heart talk.
See, Carl, we'll see. Only—no more monkey-tricks with my wife. Don't let there be any misunderstanding on that point."

The clyer man smiled benevolently.

"How aptly you put things!" he murmured. "I accept your terms, and I shall look forward afterwards to the single on our own that you speak of. And now—as to details. You must bear in mind that just as Mrs.
Drummond is more valuable to you than diamonds, she is also somewhat larger in other words. It will be obvious at once whether those whom I represent have kept their side of the bargain by producing your wife.
It will pay you to be obvious whether you have kept yours. The diamonds may or may not be in your pocket, and once you have your wife in your arms again the incentive to return the diamonds would be diminished.
So I suggest, Captain Drummond, that you should bring the diamonds to me—here in this room, before six o'clock as a proof of good faith. You may keep them in your possession; all that I require is to see them. I will then engage on my side to produce Mrs. Drummond within a quarter of an hour."

"For a moment Drummond hesi-tated, fearing a trick. And yet it was a perfectly reasonable request, as he admitted to himself. From their point of view it was quite true that they could have no proof that he would keep his word, and once Phyllis was in the room there would be very enjoyable entertainment was given Friday evening when the First

JAPAN RECEIVES CANADIAN CATTLE

Advice received by the Chamber of Commerce from Japan are to the effect that the shipment of Alberta cattle through Victoria recently arrived in good condition. The shipment of cattle which was purchased by a Japanese firm is the first to be made to the Orient, and the Department of Agriculture sent a representative with the shipment in an endeavour to foster trade with Japan.

First Shipment from Alberta Through Victoria Arrives in Good Condition

Statistics received by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce show that excepting only in sheep Canadian live stock and live stock products show an increase in shipments to the United States all along the line in the January-February period of this year, compared with the corresponding months of last year. Cattle shipments to the United States in that period were 11,190 compared with 10,810; calves 1,787, compared with 1,267; beef 92,400 lbs., compared with 44,800 lbs.; bacon 81,700 lbs., compared with 30,190 lbs.; pork 165, 500 lbs., compared with 90,800 lbs.
and mutton 2,400 lbs. compared with 700 lbs.

Shipment of Livestock and Livestock Products to the States Increases

"It is wonderful how Nature provides for the needs of mankind."
"I quite agree with you. What,
for instance, could be more convenient than cars to hook one's spectacles over?"

Irate passenger (to bus conductor, whose vehicle keeps stopping):
"I could walk the distance in the time."

Conductor (pleasantly): "It's the rest, not the ride, you pay for, sir."

THIRD PARTIES SLIPPING, DR. TOLMIE FINDS

Are Being Discredited All Over World, He Says; Government Attacked

Third parties everywhere are losing their hold as political conditions in every part of the world settle down to normal, Hon. S. F. Tolmie, M.P. for Victoria, declared at the Conservative meeting in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium Saturday night.

In British Columbia, said Dr. Tolmie, the Provincial Party had come in at the tail-end of the race. The demand for third parties, he explained, had been created by world-wide conditions following the upheaval of the war.

The ineffectiveness of third parties, Dr. Tolmie pointed out, had been proved in Ontario, where such an organization, professing principles of strict economy, had increased the public debt from $7,000,000 to $240,000,000 in three-and-a-half years.

The Conservative candidates in Victoria delivered vigorous attacks on the Oliver Government.

H. D. Twigg waxed sarcastic over the Government's attitude toward campaign funds.

Mayor Reginald Hayward assailed the Government's treatment of municipalities. He intimated that he had been unable to get concessions from the Government because he and the chairman of the finance committee were Conservatives.

Major Gus Lyons went into the Province's financial situation, accusing the Government of reckless extravagance.

That the Mothers' Pension Act, passed by the Liberal Government, was a splendid piece of legislation, but that its administration was "rotten," was the assertion of Joshua Hinchliffe. The Government's decision to hold an educational survey, he intimated, had been based on political considerations.

EXPLAINS PROGRESS ON SUMAS SCHEME

erson had said there would be more available land in the reclaimed area than in the whole municipality of Delta. "You can readily appreciate the amount of lumber, of hardware, automobiles, clothing and everything else which will be required to supply a farming community of that dimension," he remarked.

When he passed the other day there were left about 500 to 600 acres of water in the lake, and Mr. Barrow contrasted the present conditions, with a large area now under crop, with what prevailed before the reclamation scheme was undertaken.

Mr. Barrow showed that the crop which was growing up was answering effectively the criticism that they would find the reclaimed land sour and unfit for production for many years.

He alluded to the handicaps they had met in reclaiming the land, and the problems presented by the freshets of the Fraser, and said it was inevitable the Sumas scheme had cost more than had been expected.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT

Mr. Barrow dealt at some length with the work of his department, in answering the allegation that agriculture in British Columbia was on the down grade. He criticized the planks dealing with agricultural reform in the Conservative platform, as being impossible to square with economy, and pointed out that the Conservative land policy of farmers' loans had resulted not in adding to production mainly, but in transferring from private to the public loan obligations of farmers who had previously been indebted to mortgage companies. Only one-third of the amount, he pointed out, had actually gone to sustain production.

Mr. Barrow quoted a statement that none dealt with the welfare of the people primarily. He spoke of the necessity of conserving the natural resources, re-afforestation to protect timber for posterity, and other reforms. He pleaded for the young men and women who were leaving for the United States, and who should know what opportunities their natural resources provided in their development. Much as had been done in social legislation in B. C., much had yet to be done for the conservation of human life. The lot of the war had shown how many men were physically unfit. Still with all the information gained in war-time, many boys and girls were growing up with physical defects which ought to be corrected. He deprecated the large amount spent in patent medicines, sufficient money sent out of the Province, he was satisfied, to maintain the health of B. C. He concluded with an appeal for greater interest in health, looking to a system of health insurance, which would be to the benefit of the whole of the people.

EDUCATION

Education, said Mr. Clearhue, ought not to be treated as a political subject. Opponents of the Government criticized the expenditure on education, yet when come to mortgage costs, while the Liberals had brought this figure down to 15.9 cents on the dollar of revenue. To municipalities the Oliver Government last year paid out $172 for every dollar so distributed by Mr. Bower's administration, he said.

Since 1919 educational costs had gone up, but then 1,000 additional classes had been opened. With the cost of living had come the increase in teacher's salaries accordingly. Those two causes chiefly occasioned the increase, not waste in the department of education administration. The department had standardized the contributions since 1918. Since that year the capita limit to secure a school had risen from eight to six pupils. Correspondence schools for outlying districts had been established. Out of this plan 250 children were so educated. Education to the miners was now available in correspondence schools at one third of the cost of private enterprise schools for boys and girls had been attended, and 3,900 pupils were taking advantage therefrom. Medical service, dental and nursing service had been established, as well as a school for deaf and blind in the Province.

The principle of technical schools the working man's college—had been developed, and agricultural education had been introduced into the schools.

He made no claim for perfection in educational development, because education was a growing living organism, but he hoped much from the educational survey which would be certainly efficiently conducted by Dr. Weir, of the University of B. C. He, however, held out no hope of reduced cost.

Examining the curricula, Mr. Clearhue pointed out there was a movement towards making the subjects of closer association with the everyday things of life. Mr. Clearhue passed on to suggest his view with regard to educational reform. He believed teachers' life certificates should not be granted under two years' practical experience. Regular attendance at Summer Schools should be made compulsory. In the Normal Schools too much attention was given to teaching in grading schools, not the varied conditions of the rural schools.

He believed in the Californian system of endowment to provide assistance in weak schools. The same State had an equalization fund to supplement the districts requiring aid to maintain general efficiency.

He declared that the policy of the Liberal Government was to give every child an equal opportunity in education, a sentiment which was cordially applauded.

FREIGHT RATES

Believing that the same confidence which the electors of Onk Bay had reposed in him as Councillor and Reeve would be continued, S. J. Drake said he felt full support would be accorded to him in his candidature for the Legislature.

Behind the issue of industrial questions was the freight rates problem which Premier Oliver had tackled so thoroughly. He pointed out that no manufacturers could expect to face the situation here in the present, with a tariff wall to the South, and a freight rate wall to the East. Illustrating what had been done so far in bringing grain west, he reminded them that an increase of 30 per cent of the growing season would result from a cut of 25 cents more per hundred in western shipments. What were the facts about the mountain haul? The grade between Edmonton and the East over of money on easy terms, said the minister, often resulted in diminishing the initiative of the borrower. The Department, however, was proceeding along wise lines in helping the farmers, he contended. As a consequence the value of agricultural production since the Liberal Government office had risen from $32,000,000 to $59,000,000. The establishment of creameries in outlying sections, under a local co-operative association, as at Vanderhoof, Quesnel, Golden, and recently at Pouce Coupe, had resulted in the production of a commodity for the farmer, and shipped to its markets. The production of butter had been stimulated by the sending in of experienced buttermakers from various centres. As the local association learned its work, by the end of a season it was ready to take over the creameries.

CATTLE CLUBS

Mr. Barrow traced the establishment of the cattle clubs to supply registered dairy stock to the districts, affording both a market for outlying centres, and also a market for the grade stock of the Coast herds. He explained the operation of Egg Markets, located in view of the demand for eggs were now coming into British Columbia, also the improved marketing of fruit, and the steps taken to increase small quantities of stumping power to the farmers.

The Minister had a fine reception throughout.

SOCIAL LEGISLATION

Speaking on the question of provincial economic policy, the Conservative and Provincial candidates Dr. Melbourne Raynor pointed out that the vast extent and limited population of the unorganized area of B. C. made it difficult to reduce expenditures. How difficult was it to reduce provincial expenditures when there was so much private spending on automobiles, liquor and amusements, Dr. Raynor alluded to the large proportion of liquor expenditure which went out of the country, and said it ought to be carefully noted that the needs of their young people. He criticized the various planks of the Conservative platform, stating that none dealt with the welfare of the people primarily. He spoke of the necessity of conserving the natural resources, re-afforestation to protect timber for posterity, and other reforms. He pleaded for the young men and women who were leaving for the United States, and who should know what opportunities their natural resources provided in their development. Much as had been done in social legislation in B. C., much had yet to be done for the conservation of human life. The lot of the war had shown how many men were physically unfit. SIDNEY ELECTORS CROWD TO HEAR PREMIER OLIVER

election to the Legislature by other FAR IN THE LEAD

Mr. Oliver reminded the meeting that governments were not designed to keep the people alive, but kept alive by the people. To do for the whole what the individual could not do. He then discussed briefly the social legislation carried into effect by the Liberal Party, and declared that no land, save possibly New Zealand, had gone so far towards amelioration of the lot of the average man and woman.

Economy in the Civil Service, and the grants in aid of municipalities, were compared with conditions prior to the advent of Liberal administration. On the former head, Premier Oliver showed that the Bower Government paid out thirty-four cents of every dollar of revenue in civil service costs, while the Liberals had brought this figure down to 15.9 cents on the dollar of revenue. To municipalities the Oliver Government last year paid out $172 for every dollar so distributed by Mr. Bower's administration, he said.

Premier Oliver dealt with the P. G. E. on lines already followed at previous meetings, pointing out that "Bower's founding on my doorstep" was costing the people of this Province more than the total collected from income tax. "The farmer complaints of the raised taxes on his lands, they have been doubled; but how about the income tax payers? They contributed last year nearly ten times as much, as they used to do. "Taxation in British Columbia would be negligible but for the P. G. E. and you have not got 'the snarl of a fin' at the end of the year; I will not accept the paternity of Bower's brat."

the Canadian National Railways was greater than that from Edmonton to Vancouver, while in the Canadian Pacific Railway the line received a large part of the trackage from the Government, as well as its land and grants on the prairies. He said the opposition to lower freight rates came from eastern directors of corporations.

Mr. Drake referred to the good financial standing of B. C. bonds, and to its social legislation. He said the Government was doing splendid work with its Mother's Pension system administered at 2 1/2 per cent cost as against the average cost of 16 per cent in financial and insurance administration.

INDUSTRIAL PROTECTION

The candidate quoted figures to show the amount paid out for injuries and medical aid in the past seven years under the Workmen's Compensation Act, totalling over $13,000,000. There were on an average eighty accidents in B. C. daily coming under the Act, he pointed out.

The value of the Employment Bureau was emphasized by Mr. Drake. On the basis of 22 a head, a return on a job in the old days, compared with the placements of 1923, the working men were saved $100,000 through the operation of the Bureau. Much had been said in the election regarding increased aid to municipalities, and he quoted figures to show that B. C. was more generous than Alberta, Manitoba, and Saskatchewan, those provinces taking more from the municipalities, and returned less per capita.

Many questionnaires had been submitted to the candidates, but for his part he would answer none of them, because he believed in no election pledges.

Captain A. M. Aitken, who presided, commended Dr. Raynor as one who had sat with him on the Victoria School Board; J. B. Clearhue as a distinguished scholar, a returned man who had won the M. C. under fire, and a member who had taken an active part in the debates in the Legislature; and Samuel J. Drake as a successful business man who thrice had been Reeve of Oak Bay.

NEED MR. JACKSON

Touching upon taxation on timber, the Premier admitted that timber and leaseholders were entitled to better terms, and considered Mr. Jackson should be returned to the Legislature to take part in the framing of those revised regulations.

"He is one of the able men of judgment we need when the revision comes before the House," urged the Premier.

As the Premier and his party were late in arriving at Sidney, Chairman Alex. Macdonald presented a musical programme which lasted an hour, the artists being ladies of Sidney and district.

M. B. Jackson shared the platform with Premier Oliver, but confined his remarks to thanks for the attendance, appreciation of the artistic singing and the floral tributes decorating the platform.

AT SALT SPRING ISLAND

In the afternoon Premier Oliver and Mr. Jackson spoke to over two hundred electors at the Puffin Harbor Institute Hall, on Salt Spring Island, many of the audience having made long launch trips to be present at the meeting. Alfred Buckle presided, and the address followed similar lines to that at Sidney, except that Mr. Jackson spoke for thirty minutes, and there were a number of constructive questions.

At both gatherings the tone of the audiences was distinctly friendly, occasional bursts of applause greeting the Premier when he made some more than ordinarily striking salty at his opponents.

Are your dairy cows and heifers causing you trouble?

Are you obtaining results in calves and milk that satisfy you?

Do your cows (according to your knowledge of their capacity) produce as much milk as they should—or are you marking time and feeding a number of boarders that should be sent to the butcher?

These are matters that can be put right. Delays are fatal. Why not consult
