QUARTER OF MILLION DOLLAR INK PLANT LOCATES HERE

PLEASING OPERETTA IS PRESENTED BY INTERMEDIATES

High School Auditorium Filled
With Appreciative Audience;
Cast Well Drilled

"Sure as the darkness, the Fairies arrive; slowly the clock strikes the midnight; instantly all of the dolls come alive. But at the 5 o'clock warning dolls become dolls again, night becomes morning."

Such was the plot of the little operetta presented last night in the high school auditorium by members of the 8th class of the Intermediate school.

"The Toy Shop" was the title. The second scene showed Meredith Brown as a rheumatic toy maker putting lower price tags on a room full of gaily dressed dolls for a bargain sale.

Night descends as swiftly as the stage hands can manage the affair, and he dusts off the dolls, carefully puts on his heavy overcoat and wraps his white muffler around his neck and limps out into the blizzard on Harvard street.

Puck, played by Randolph Willis, dressed in a one-piece suit of tree green with a silver skull cap, in the third scene, leads the fairies on a raid of the toyshop. They find the dolls fast asleep.

"Sees Clock Is Stopped"
"O dolls of Japan! O dolls of Paris!" exclaim the Fairies. "You're a marvelous sight for the Fairies to see! You are pretty asleep without any mistake, but what queens you would be, if you'd only awake!"

Finally, Puck notices that the clock at the back of the stage is stopped and remarks:

"No wonder that the dolls have overslept! How could they know it was time to wake up?"

The clock is soon set faster than any watchmaker could ever do it, and the dolls one and all yawn drowsily and begin to show signs of animation.

With a pop two jumping jacks, Shirley Preston and Fred Fallis, attired in clown costumes, spring up from large boxes on the right and left side of the stage in front of the curtain and beat time to the music with toy balloons.

As soon as the dolls are awake, a great wall begins because of the bargain sale which does not suit their vanity. There is a great sobbing and blubbering until Puck calls their attention to the fact that "it is never tomorrow; always today." A (Continued on Page 13.)

LYMAN P. CLARK IS CHOSEN HEAD OF KIWANIS CLUB

Permanent Organization Now Effected; Talk Made by Franklin H. Keene

Permanent organization of the Glendale Kiwanis Club was effected at the meeting of fifty-eight Glendale business men at a luncheon yesterday noon in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

The meeting was presided over by Franklin H. Keene of the Kiwanis Club International and the following permanent officers were elected:

Lyman P. Clark, president; Herman Nelson, first vice president; D. C. Young, second vice president; T. H. Smith, treasurer; Fred Deal, district trustee; F. H. McClellan, secretary-at-arms.

The seven members of the board of directors which were chosen at yesterday's meeting include Henry Kuhn, M. B. Towman, William Reeves, A. L. Baird, Ray Bentley, C. W. Bentley, C. W. Ingledue and H. G. MacBain. Donald Webb, who has been one of the most enthusiastic and active organizers of the new club, was appointed secretary by the board of directors.

Mr. Keene, in a talk to those present, defined a grievance committee, which will be appointed by the members of the club, and its use, and said in part:

"I am not talking to a bunch of school boys, but to a group of leaders of men in the community. You will appoint on this grievance committee a group of men in whom you will have confidence. You won't appoint knackers. Kiwanians never knock."

Grievance Committee
"If you have a grouch you are not going out on the curbstone and air it, but will go to some fellow Kiwanian. You will go to the grievance committee and if they recognize your grievance, well and good. However, if they do not, you will have no redress. And, like the big fellow from good sport that you are, you will take that decision as final, go out, shut your teeth down hard, and take your medicine similingly."

Mr. Keene presented members of the organization with buttons of the Kiwanis design. After the reading and approval of the by-laws the meeting adjourned. A meeting of the board of directors was held this morning at which they assumed their official duties.

LOCAL AND BURBANK PATRIOTIC BODIES
P. E. O. CHAPTERS PAY TRIBUTE TO
AT LUNCHEON GENERAL GRANT

A very enjoyable scene was presented in the banquet hall of the First Methodist church Friday, when the members of the P. E. O. chapters of Glendale and Chapter U of Burbank attended the reciprocity luncheon held there. The tables were very attractive with decorations of California poppies and white roses and at each place was a tiny bountiful, while a corsage bouquet of red rosebuds awaited each guest of honor. The luncheon, which was served by Mrs. C. D. Lusby and her committee was dainty and appetizing.

Guests of honor present were members of the California State Chapter P. E. O. and included Mrs. Maude Clock of Long Beach, state president, in attendance at meeting.

Program Is Enjoyed
After luncheon the women adjourned to the parlors, where a program was enjoyed, the members of which were given by members of each chapter present. Mrs. Madeline Kelley, president of the Glendale P. E. O. Reciprocity Bureau, acted as chairman and welcomed the state officers and in her charming manner introduced each one.

A gorgeous bouquet was presented to the state president, Mrs. Maude Clock, by Mrs. Anna Goss, Glendale's mother of P. E. O., who closed her brief speech by saying, "Tis not the great and mighty deeds that make us sweet, but just the little deeds of love in those we meet."

The program, which was much enjoyed by those present, included the following numbers:

Songs by Miss Isabel Isgrigg of Chapter L:
"Song of Autumn" (Sibella).
"Sleep and Lambs" (Sidney Homer).
Songs by Mrs. Lucille Eames of Chapter A.H.:
"Forbidden Music" (Gastoldin).
"Dawn of Morn."

VOTE SCHOOL BONDS! THAT'S SLOGAN OF ORGANIZATIONS

Every Effort Is Being Made to Get Out Many Voters on Election Day, May 2

Apathy will not defeat the $600,000 Glendale Union high school bond issue. The united committees are extending every effort to get the voters to the polls, Tuesday, May 2, and besides the Chamber of Commerce, every improvement association has been called upon to put workers in the field.

The school children, the ministers, the theatres, the newspapers are all giving their loyal support, it is reported, and while no opposition has been noticed, a light vote might result in defeat. Therefore the activity today to show the world that Glendale is alive to its school needs.

Heads Auto Brigade
S. C. Packer has been named chairman of the automobile committee, according to Dr. Jessie Russell, and all those who will have cars in service Tuesday are requested to telephone the Packer Auto company.

W. E. Hewitt has charge of the publicity and is using every available means to get the matter before the people. The San Fernando Boulevard Improvement association, the Poothill Improvement association, East Side Advancement association, the various Parent-Teacher organizations and many individuals are actively interested, the names being too numerous to mention.

The watchword is "Vote the Bonds."
Let Us Forget
The Chamber of Commerce committee in charge of the campaign has prepared the following brief resume of the project; read it over and then clip it out:

H. R. PARKER TO IOWA
H. R. Parker, who has been enjoying a year in California at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Parker of 133 North Louise street, is leaving Monday for Iowa, where he will take charge of a poster advertising business operating in Waterloo, Marshalltown, Cedar Falls, Laporte City and Oskaloosa. Mr. Parker will remain here another month until her husband decides on whether to live in Marshalltown or Waterloo.

WORK ON FIRST UNIT OF MILL STARTS MONDAY ON TWO AND HALF ACRE TRACT, ANNOUNCED

Fifty Employees to Be Placed on Payroll of Newest Industry; Month of April Is Establishing
Mark Very Close to $1,000,000

April building permits will total $1,000,000, or so close to that figure that Glendale will be in the "million class," it was indicated at noon today as a final rush was made at the city hall.

The building department is remaining open this afternoon, and all applications for permits, including the $150,000 Presbyterian church, the $10,000 International Chemical Products factory, the Glendale Laundry $8,000 addition and many others will swell the total for the month, now $731,143. The year's total is $2,176,253.

Ground will be broken Monday on West Colorado street near San Fernando road for the first unit of the quarter million dollar International Chemical Products Company which has chosen Glendale as an industrial site over San Fernando and Burbank, according to an announcement made this morning by E. O. Fitz, president of the concern.

While printers' ink will be the principal product manufactured, Auto Pep, Spring Life oil, carbon remover, furniture and automobile polish and other chemical preparations will be turned out. It is expected to begin operations on the latter products within thirty days and the ink mills will be installed within sixty or ninety days.

Fifty employees will be on the payroll of this new industry, according to Mr. Fitz, and the first unit, for which a building contract has been let to the R. L. Kent company, will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000. The corporation purchased two and one-half acres of ground from Mr. Kent just east of the Superior Washing Machine factory.

Resident of Glendale
E. O. Fitz, the president of the concern, is a resident of 308 North Louise street and he is attending to the finances. He is a former banker and lumberman from Iowa and still owns a sawmill at Mena, Ark.

G. W. Strang of Tujunga is vice-president and general manager. He will be in charge of production. Incidentally, Mr. Strang has purchased a lot on Porter avenue and will move to Glendale within a short time.

Judge G. H. Shellenbarger of Los Angeles is secretary while R. F. Fitz of 210 Windsor Road is treasurer and assistant manager. He is a nephew of the president.

The board of directors is composed of G. H. Shellenbarger, G. W. Strang, R. F. Fitz, A. G. Mann of San Fernando; H. T. Poppleman of San Fernando; H. C. Hattschied of Glendale, and E. O. Fitz.

They Are Interested
Among the principal stockholders are Harry Chandler, general manager of The Los Angeles Times, who has been instrumental in obtaining the factory for the southwest; A. L. Funk, a Tulsa, Okla., oil man and Fred G. Kellogg, president of the Reichfield Oil & Refining company.

Messrs. Fitz and Strang will leave about May 10 for New York City to purchase the ink mills. The process is entirely new, the result of a year and a half research work, giving an instantaneously drying printers' ink for the newspaper and magazine publishing business.

Race for Million
The atmosphere around the building department in the city hall seemed electric as each contractor came rushing into the office with plans and blue prints for structures that would roll the tidal total higher and higher and put Glendale into the million dollar class for the month of April.

The race was almost thrilling for the narrow margin at 11 o'clock revealed that a little added effort must be made. Contractors were soon conferring with clients, representatives of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce were using the telephone to good advantage in getting the last-minute permits across.

More Time Is Granted
As the clock swung around to the noon hour when the offices usually close, City Manager W. H. Reeves instructed Building Superintendent E. G. Spaulding to include in April permits any work for which the applications were filed until tonight.

It is hoped that the actual total to be made known Monday will easily surpass the million-dollar mark.

Following is a list of the permits for which the department had time to issue before noon today:

J. Harvey McCarthy, 6 rooms, 242 Harvey Dr.,	5,000
J. Harvey McCarthy, 5 rooms, 1601 Hill Drive Hazel Hague, 8 rooms, 1227 S. Central Ave.,	5,000

Joseph Schroder, 1-room addition, 1400 Fifth St.,	150

CAMPAIGN IN BOYS' INTERESTS IS PLAN OF ROTARIANS

Free Show, Athletic Events and Other Features Outlined for May 12, 13, 14

Glendale's Rotary club will confine the National Boys' Week in three strenuous days, May 12, 13 and 14—a campaign to interest everyone in boys and to interest boys in themselves. Rotarians throughout the country are taking similar action in early May.

Richardson D. White is chairman of the invitation committee and he will be assisted by every member of the local club who will speak at the various schools of the city, urging the boys to attend a free show to be given Friday afternoon, May 12, at the Glendale Theatre.

William A. Howe, chairman, will be assisted on the entertainment committee by George B. Karr and George H. Bentley. A big treat is in store for the youngsters at the twilight performance.

Field Day Proposed
Saturday will be Boys' Day in Athletics with a field day, including all sorts of novelties, with plenty of prizes. While the boys are resting between events, the rotund Rotarians are expected to perform some amusing antics.

The committee for this big event is headed by V. M. Hollister, who will be aided and abetted by Owen C. Emery, H. S. Webb, William A. Tanner, G. H. Cowan, James M. Rhoades, C. C. Cooper, C. A. Redmond, J. E. Phillips, C. E. Neale, W. E. Hewitt, Arthur H. Dibbern and J. Herbert Smith.

Boys' Day in Church is the concluding event of the week and F. J. W. Henry will have Rene Olin and T. D. Watson as assistants in getting all of the youngsters into the front pews. While it will be Mothers' Day, the pastors undoubtedly will take due cognizance of the boys in the congregation.

All of the committee chairmen now are busy organizing their separate programs with the assurance that the Rotarians will show the boys of Glendale they are interested in them.

This City Leads In Number of Delegates

The Parent-Teacher associations of Glendale had the distinction of having the largest number of delegates present at the Los Angeles district convention of the Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations which has just concluded a two days' session in that city, there being seventy delegates present from Glendale.

A very keen contest was shown in the election of a president of the district for the ensuing year. Among the officers elected were the following: Mrs. Shelton Bissell of Venice, president; Mrs. Lee of Long Beach, second vice president; Mrs. Dike of Pasadena, fourth vice president; Mrs. A. L. Dechene of Alhambra, treasurer; Mrs. English of Long Beach, historian; and Mrs. E. B. Wyman, president of the Glendale high school parent-teacher association, as parliamentarian.

The morning session yesterday was also taken up with the presentation of resolutions. The speakers for the afternoon included Nicholas Ricciardi, president of the California Polytechnic school at San Luis Obispo, on "Does the State Own Your Boy Anything?" Leslie Henry of Pasadena gave a most interesting talk on "Giving the Child an Allowance."

BLUE SKY BILL PASSES

WASHINGTON, April 29.—With-out a record vote, the house has passed the Dennison "blue sky" securities bill, designed to bar "wildcat" securities from interstate commerce. The measure now goes to the senate for consideration.

W. V. Anderson Files Report on Accident

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Anderson were the occupants of the Hippomobile which was struck Thursday night at the corner of Central Avenue and Colorado street by another machine. They have filed a complete report with the police department and state they were proceeding south on Central Avenue at the time of the accident.

Mrs. Anderson, who has had experience as a trained nurse, aided her husband in removing J. W. Chastain from under the wrecked machine. Their own car being sent to the repair shop, they were taken to their home by a police car.

"I want to compliment the police department on the courtesy extended us. I also want to correct the impression that we hurried from the scene, as we were in no way to blame and did everything for the injured." Mr. Anderson told a representative of the Glendale Evening News this morning. He is a chemical engineer and an expert in handling picric acid, serving as a dollar a year man during the war.

Wedding Day Proves Family Reunion Date

The wedding day of Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Siple was also the occasion of a very happy reunion of the family of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Young of 528 West Doran street, the parents of the bride, all of their children and grandchildren being present at the event.

The immediate members of the family included Mr. and Mrs. Young, four daughters, Mrs. C. C. Kalbaugh, Mrs. Siple and Miss Goldie Young of Glendale; Mrs. L. F. Johnson of Oildale; one son, Dr. S. C. Young of Los Angeles; two grandchildren, Louise Johnson and Dallas Kalbaugh. Mrs. Young will accompany her daughter, Mrs. Johnson and her family, who leave today for their home in Oildale, near Bakersfield, where she will be their guest for an extended visit.

JUSTICE SHAW MOVES HERE

Justice Lucien Shaw of the State Supreme Court and wife are moving to Glendale next week from Los Angeles and have leased a house at 215 West Park avenue. Judge and Mrs. Shaw are the parents of Hartley Shaw of 212 West Park Avenue. They have purchased property in Glendale and are planning to build a house at the northwest corner of Acacia and Central avenues this summer.

Philathea Class Gives Program to Aid Fund

The members of the Philathea class of the First Methodist church, whose motto is "Service for Others," repeated the program given by them recently at the Casa Verdugo Methodist church for the benefit of the building fund of that church.

The program included the following numbers: Song, by glee club of the class, "Stars Brightly Shining"; saxophone duet by Miss Agnes Brown and Miss Helen Ingledue; negro lecture, "Apples," by Miss Vera Slotzhauser; songs by the glee club, "Beauteous Night," "Oh, Night of Love" and "A Cakeshop Romance"; violin solos by Miss Lois Murphy, "The Legend" (Wieniawski) and "Serenade" (Drda); vocal solos by Miss Joseph Oliver, "It Is Only a Tiny Garden" and "Song of Love"; songs by glee club, "Boy of Mine" and "The Lord is My Shepherd"; pianologue, "Soap," by Miss Alice Lookabaugh; and class song, "Service for Others," by the Philathea girls.

Robert McCourt, Jr. Host at Dancing Party

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McCourt of 336 North Central Avenue entertained with a dancing party at their home last night for their son, Robert McCourt, Jr. Music for dancing was furnished by Jerry Parker at the piano.

During the evening refreshments were served on the sun porch. The invited guests were a group of high school friends and included Ethel Gibson, Betty Fell, Miss Mona Gardner, Lynda Goertz, Evelyn Gregg, Kathleen Campbell, Dorothy Peart, Cornelia Wilson, Margaret Morgan, Bernice Hoskins, Audrey Eckles, Helen Vredenburg, Virginia Huntley, Dorothy McGinnis, Mildred Stanford, Theo. REGIMENTAL DANCE BY WOODMEN IS BIG SUCCESS

Exhibition Drill by Pasadena Team Is One Feature of Excellent Program

A blind pig with both eyes open was the guest of honor last night at the regimental ball given last night in the hall at Park avenue and Brand boulevard by the local drill team of the Modern Woodmen of America.

Liquor sizzled and foamed freely at the bar across the stage at the east side of the room. This was tended by Burt Coughran of 429 Palm drive and Marvin Bunting, who were kept on the jump shutting off the spigots.

However, the liquid was soft enough to have satisfied even Mr. Volstead. It consisted of root beer, ginger ale and loganberry soda—the first brew concocted under the direction of S. W. Brown at 459 West Los Feliz road in his new bottling works known as "The Home of Green Hill Ginger Ale."

Nourishment was very conspicuous during the evening. A midnight plate lunch was served which is said to have served several of the guests for breakfast. It consisted of assorted sandwiches, potato salad, coffee and cake. Its compilation was promoted by Millard Young of 232 South Kenwood street and Paul G. Wells of 630 Salem street. They insisted that everybody should be well fed.

Stage Exhibition Drill
During an intermission an exhibition drill was staged by a Forrester's drill team from Pasadena under the direction of Captain Joe Cook. This received many compliments for the skill and precision in which it maneuvered through the manual of arms.

"Jazz" for the evening was conducted by the Woodman Orchestra of Pasadena, consisting of clarinet, saxophone, banjo, drums and piano. The floor was occupied by a large number of couples. The blue uniforms of members of the lodge were noticeable. Managers of the dance, C. L. Hair of 1022 North Louise street, and Otto M. Clinton, of 422 Palm drive, made it a point to see that everyone present had a good time.

From the standpoint of both guests and management, the dance was considered quite a success. The proceeds will be placed into the fund to purchase uniforms for the newly organized local drill team of the Modern Woodmen of America.

Free Motion Picture Tonight Is Thrilling

Hundreds of spectators held fast and marveled at the sensational thrills at the first showing of "Something New," at the temporary open air theatre, 242 South Brand boulevard, last night, and those who did not have a chance to see the picture will have an opportunity tonight, announced L. P. Clark, of the Glendale Motor Car company, 246 South Brand boulevard, who was instrumental in getting the picture here.

The film, which was taken in the mountains of Mexico, is filled with thrills from the beginning to the end and the punishment which the Maxwell car receives as it climbs over huge boulders and up grades that look impassable, making its own road most of the time, causes the spectators to wonder whether it is really possible.

At times the car seems to be on the verge of falling backward, so steep are the grades which it climbs. These incidents, woven into a romance with Nell Shipman and Bert Van Tuyle as stars, make the picture a most interesting one.

Near the close of the picture, Mexican bandits give chase to the stars and they climb to the top of a roadless mountain in their Maxwell. But, just before reaching the top, a large boulder is directly in their path and they cannot pass around it. Then the brains of the star and the Maxwell are put to good use. The car is turned around and reversed. Then the rock is given several rams with the rear end of the car until it topples over the edge of the cliff and closes the path of the pursuing bandits.

Three shows were staged last night, a large crowd was present at each show and a repetition of last night's program will start tonight at 7:30 o'clock, lasting until 11 o'clock. Refreshments will be served in the salesrooms of the Glendale Motor Car company adjoining the open air theatre, after each show.

Lloyd Culver Is Guest of Honor on Birthday

Lloyd Culver was the guest of honor at a very delightful party given last night at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Culver, of 1134 San Rafael avenue, in celebration of his birthday anniversary. The evening was spent in games and a jolly social time. Refreshments of cakes, ice cream and punch were served during the evening.

Those present included Miss Garnet Peters, Miss Fern Peters, Miss Lois Schuyler, Miss Edith Schuyler, Miss Beulah Warren, Miss Lois Wimmer, Miss Hope Ireland, Miss Dorothy Bane, Roland Percy, Robert Howlett, Rhuark Dudley, Philip Davis, Mr. Pierce, Clifford Van Osdoll, Lloyd Culver and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Culver.

PURITY OF PRODUCT AT CREAMERY IS WELL ASSURED

Manager Smith MacMullin Is Receiving Compliments on New, Modern Plant

Visitors who inspected the modern plant of the Glendale Creamery company this week-end found that Manager Smith MacMullin has made numerous changes that bring the dairy business to the ultimate in Glendale. Here is what the visitor saw:

A brine pump for the ice boxes and cooling system operating night and day; a loading station where the milk is received from San Fernando valley ranchers mornings and evenings, the latter being served the retail trade during the night; a boiler room for the production of steaming hot water used in pasteurizing and cleansing processes; an efficient can washing rack; two modern mechanical bottle washers in which the glass containers are run through a boiling hot soda solution, rinsed in 200 degrees of steam and cooled dry in a vault; hand-washing equipment for any that do not pass inspection; a churn for butter and cheese products, and—

Here is where the purity of product is assured: Two glass-lined pasteurizers and a smaller one for cream handle all of the milk received and every night the piping is torn down and the equipment thoroughly sterilized, steamed and drained.

Not Touched by Hands
The milk is tested and standardized to 4.2 per cent butterfat, then aerated over twelve water coils and twelve brine coils so that it is bottled by automatic machinery at 35 degrees without being touched by the human hand.

The tray after tray of bottle milk is placed in the ice box for a few hours until the driver starts on the delivery about 1 a. m. There are twelve routes employing eight wagons and four motor trucks while thirty people are employed by the Glendale Creamery. Mr. MacMullin has three assistants in the office and an eating house is operated at the plant, located on West Doran street.

There are many other features which might be mentioned, but the people really are interested in the sanitary precautions and certainly these have been taken insofar as modern machinery makes it possible. All of the milk is bought on contract from valley ranchers and distributed here as a standardized, quality product by an efficient organization.

Dancing Pupils Give Splendid Exhibition

A delighted audience of 150 people witnessed the performance last night of pupils of Mrs. Pearl Keller Brattain's School of Dancing, given at the Art Exhibit in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

The little dancers displayed extraordinary talent, poise and fineness in their dancing.

Miss Cecilia Mae Fischer opened the program with an interpretative piece, "The Skater's Dance," charmingly performed despite its intricacy. She was followed by Miss Dorothy Dutton in a double number, "Humoresque" and "Minuette." The Misses Elizabeth and Dorothy Turner won the whole-hearted approval of the audience with their "Highland Fling" and later again with "The Gypsy Dance." Miss Shirley Hitchcock appeared in a cleverly executed dance, "The Crystal Dance," after which Miss Fischer appeared again, giving an exhibition of toe dancing in "The Dragon Fly." Few professional danseuse could have excelled her performance. Miss Glenn Hitchcock, following the Turner girls' second dance, displayed a whimsical and Chaplinesque humor in "An Eccentric Dance." The program of dancing concluded with a presentation of school technique by Miss Fischer and Miss Shirley Hitchcock.

Mr. Swartz made an urgent appeal to the people of Southern California to support its artists and to help them to make this section the real art center of the country.

Mrs. Lora W. Steere concluded the program with an exhibition of sculpturing, modeling a small plaque from Miss Fischer as the "Dragon Fly."

Tonight is the last night of the exhibition here.

HEALTH-AGAIN TALKS

By Dr. Otey
"ARE ALL OSTEOPATHIC CURES RAPID?"

Because most people take no notice of Osteopathy till some startling, seemingly miraculous cure is performed right under their eyes, they jump at the conclusion that all cures are instantaneous. They go forthwith to the nearest Osteopath and demand to be cured immediately.

One of the chief functions of Osteopathy is to correct structures so that the vital fluids and forces of the body, blood, lymph and nerve currents, may be unimpeded in their free flow to and from every part of the body. To do this, we must get every muscle relaxed, every ligament pliable, every joint freely movable and every bone and other structure in its proper place.

The best that any physician can do is to remove the conditions that interfere with nature's work and establish a normal flow of the vital fluids and forces of the human body. Naturally there will follow a condition of health as great as the remaining structure is capable of maintaining.

So many people say, "We do not see how you can do this." The same people do not see how the sun can shine, how the flowers bloom, or how the imperdurable electric current can drive the ponderous machinery of the factory.

You are invited to come in and let us explain how osteopathy would be expected to reach your case.

Locals and Personals

A. L. Peterson of Hollywood was a visitor with Glendale friends yesterday.

Albert G. Wheelon of 453 West Ivy street motored to San Dimas this afternoon where he was called on a business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Caswell of 230 North Central avenue had as dinner guests Thursday night Mr. and Mrs. Martinez and daughter.

Mrs. Frank Salmacia of 361 West California avenue is planning to leave next month on a visit to her relatives in Chicago, Grand Rapids, Kansas City and other eastern cities.

W. E. Cleveland and son, David Cleveland, of 417 West Lomita avenue, left last night for Balboa Beach to begin work on a bungalow court which they are building at the beach city.

L. W. Hoge of 431 West Colorado street is confined at his home with a severe case of grip. He expects to be able soon to return to his work at the Pulliam & Kiefer undertaking parlor.

Glendale folk who will be seen at Big Bear lake over the week-end include Mr. and Mrs. Herman Nelson, Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Young, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Baird and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Worley.

The Pasadena fife and drum corps is supplying martial music today in Sycamore Grove, Los Angeles, for the picnic reunion of the Illinois society. A number of Glendale residents are attending.

Mrs. C. A. Redmond of 331 West Harvard street will be hostess on Wednesday to the members of the parliamentary law section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, of which Mrs. Harry Greenwalt is curator.

Mrs. S. L. Manson of 1010 North Pacific avenue returned several days ago from San Diego, where she enjoyed a week visiting with friends and relatives. Mrs. Manson recently came to Glendale from her home in Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Parker of 221 North Central avenue motored to Walnut recently, accompanied by Mrs. Lillian Dow and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Philp, where they were guests of Mrs. Parker's brother, Mr. A. St. Clair.

The employees of the Moreland Motor Truck company of Burbank, which includes a large number of Glendale residents, are planning a party which will take place tonight in the social hall of the administration building.

Mrs. Ida Embley of Wamego, Kan., who has been spending the winter in Venice, was the guest over Friday night of Mrs. J. W. Sharpe of 709 South Glendale avenue. Mrs. Embley leaves next Wednesday for her home in Kansas.

At the meeting Thursday of St. Mark's guild of which Mrs. Mortimer Baker is president, it was decided to hold all-day meetings during the month of May to prepare for the bazaar to be held June 3. At these all-day meetings pot luck lunches will be served at noon.

Mrs. Sarah Binns of 110 East Maple street, returned Thursday from Stag, where she has been the guest of her son for the past two weeks. She reports the desert flowers unusually fine in that vicinity and brought home some very beautiful specimens.

The Glendale order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, of which Mrs. Orma V. Naudain is worthy high priestess, will hold its first class initiation at the regular meeting next Wednesday night at Masonic Temple, at which time five candidates will be taken into the order.

Mrs. Edward Kehl of Long Beach has been the guest of her cousin, Mrs. C. E. Snively of 106 East Maple street, for the past two days. Her husband is a member of the Masonic drill team that went to New Orleans recently and are now on their way home. Mrs. Sydney Bowen of Los Angeles spent Friday in Glendale as the guest of Mrs. Snively.

Dr. E. P. Swift of 124 South Brand boulevard reports that the baby of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Sauter from whose stomach an open safety pin about one and a quarter inches long was removed Wednesday at the Glendale Research hospital is getting along nicely and will be all right in about ten days. Mrs. Sauter was sewing and dropped the pin from her lap which the infant picked up and put in his mouth.

Locals and Personals

Mrs. Asa Dixon, Jr., of Blair, Neb., is a guest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. A. Puffer, Jr., of 463 West Vine street. Mrs. Dixon came to California to attend the funeral services of her mother, Mrs. Asa Dixon, Sr., of Los Angeles.

J. K. Gilkerson, 322 North Kenwood, chiropractor, recently bought a large house and lot at 137 North Orange from J. B. Doran. Mr. Gilkerson will occupy the newly acquired property as soon as Mr. Doran moves into his new house.

A party of local high school students, including Clarence Hall, Russell Eiffer and Clayton Phillips, left this morning for the Sespe river, where they expect to be on hand Monday for the opening of the 1922 trout season. The youthful nimrods expect to return to Glendale on Wednesday or Thursday.

Mrs. Emma Hughes of Beatrice, Neb., was a visitor during the past week at the home of Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Norton of 801 East Wilson avenue. Mrs. Hughes, who was formerly a neighbor of Rev. and Mrs. Norton in Iowa, is spending the spring months with friends in Los Angeles.

Lee Lilly, former resident of this city who has been living in Los Angeles for the past two years, was recently a visitor at the home of Joe Wilson of West Chestnut street prior to his going to San Francisco, where he sailed for Honolulu. He expects to remain in 116 Hawaiian Islands for several months.

Several dozen members of the Glendale lodge of Elks motored to Alhambra last night, where they attended the regular meeting and special entertainment of the E. P. O. E. organization of that city. The affair was officially announced as "Glendale night," it being similar to "Alhambra night," which was held at the local lodge at last Monday night's meeting.

George Murphy, formerly of Los Angeles, has purchased a residence at the corner of Concord and Doran streets, in which he and his family will make their home. Mr. Murphy, who is an automobile man, is a nephew of J. E. Doner of the real estate firm of Doner-Heneway-Burn, 119 South Brand boulevard, which firm made the sale to Mr. Murphy.

The members of the Christian Endeavor societies of the Glendale district enjoyed a social get-together meeting last night in the basement of the new Christian church at Louise and Harvard streets, with 125 present. Miss Helen Engle, social superintendent of the Glendale district was in charge of the evening's festivities, which continued until about 11:30 o'clock. Various games were played and later in the evening refreshments were served.

Mrs. Raymond Kimble of 199 West Chestnut street, was hostess at a very pretty luncheon Thursday of this week, her guests being the members of the Thursday social club. The table was prettily decorated with pink roses and lilies. Members present were Mrs. Albert Pickles, Mrs. Herbert Gray, Mrs. Marie M. Petty, Mrs. Gus A. Lavison, Mrs. Robert McMullen, Mrs. Joseph E. Foy, Mrs. C. E. Snively, Mrs. H. D. Van Heuklyn and Mrs. Kimble.

The members of the Mizpah class of the First Baptist Sunday school entertained their husbands last night at a cafeteria dinner given at the home of Mrs. G. H. Rowe, 216 South Orange street, with eighteen present. At that time also the election of officers for the ensuing year took place, the following being chosen: Reverend E. E. Ford, teacher; Mrs. Zella Robinson, president of the class; Mrs. Charles Bam, vice president; Mrs. Edward Davis, secretary-treasurer. Decorations of yellow and green were used throughout the house.

Much Activity Shown at Glendale Heights

Nearly $40,000 worth of property was sold in Glendale Heights during the month of April, according to a statement given out by Lon J. Haddock of the Haddock-Nibley Company.

The new unit on the west side of Adams street moved so rapidly that the surveyors were unable to stake off the lots fast enough to keep up with the demand, and from all indications the demand for this wonderful hillside property is going to keep up for some time, it is stated.

The main water extensions and hydrants are all in on Adams street from Palmer almost to the limits of the tract, and the grading for sidewalks and curbing is being pushed ahead as fast as men and means can make it.

According to Peter L. Perry, the contractor, the sidewalks and street work on Green street will be put in during the coming week. Dick Michel, local builder, announces that he will begin four new houses in Glendale Heights immediately, and Carl Mossberg, who built the first house, has his second residence already up to the square.

Yale, Princeton and Berkeley drives have now been graded out sufficiently to permit of safe auto traffic and it is anticipated that hundreds of Glendale folk will take advantage Sunday of this opportunity to visit this wonderful property, enjoying the inspiration which the view of the valley from Tropico Grove, topping the hill, presents.

"The new residential direction of Glendale is southeast," says Mr. Haddock. "When one reflects that Glendale Heights is the closest property to Los Angeles and that it is also the nearest point to the New Pacific Electric subway outlet and that Adams street, which bisects the tract, must shortly be opened to Verdugo road, lessening the distance between the two cities by over a mile, you can appreciate the significance of this statement."

"We believe the Hupmobile to be the best car of its class in the world." -Adv.

COMMENT
THAT'S ALL

Science to Combat Frost
Other Elements Mastered
"Man Without a Country"
Speaking of Automobiles

By Gil A. Cowan
CITRUS growers of southern California are meeting today in California to plan ways and means for scientifically combatting the disastrous frost.

Every appliance will be discussed and a program determined upon to end once and for all the danger of the cold winters which make their appearance about ten years apart.

This "frostless convention" should be a success, for if it does nothing more than bring out some new system of effective smudging, it will mean millions saved to this section of the country.

It is wonderful what science can do. Hundreds of lives and millions of property have been lost in years heretofore by the Mississippi river floods.

Now the greatest flood in history is jumping the banks in only a few places, it is reported, and while damage may be great, the loss of life is much smaller than previously.

Science slowly is conquering all of the elements and in time to come there will not be a river, rain, wind or storm snap that will not be used to good advantage.

The harnessing of the Colorado, the use of the air for airplanes and wireless, the mastery of the sea by submarines—no, the limits of science do not exist.

Once again "the man without a country" has been found. Captain O'Neill of the steamer Esparta which arrived in New York yesterday knows not whence he came, nor what the C. stands for in his name. Following is part of an interview granted the International News Service:

"My home is the sea," Captain O'Neill said. "I have had no other home since I was 10 years old."

"I have traveled 2,180,000 miles over the seven seas in 38 years as a seaman."

"Married? I should say not. I wouldn't share my home—and my home is my ship—with any woman. And there ain't no wife in every port for me. I don't go ashore any more."

"A man's life ain't safe ashore any more, with women going around the way they do."

"No woman gets aboard my ship unless she has a husband and she's got to stick close to him or go ashore."

The deck around the captain's cabin looked like a flower garden. His cabin looked like a studio apartment.

Again we have the automobiles with us in their special section of The Glendale Evening News. Here is something to think about:

Can you name five makes of sewing machines?

The chances are you cannot. Well, at the Chicago exposition there were 120 makes on display. That number has been reduced now to eleven.

The same will be true, in time, in the automotive business. The process of elimination is now going on. In 1921 ten machines formed 83 per cent of the cars sold in southern California. It is reported that three makes of trucks comprised 90 per cent sold in the nation.

You can draw your own conclusions.

Now that Clean Up Week is drawing to a happy conclusion, Postal Improvement Week, a national event, looms.

Yes, you are going to get the opportunity of getting acquainted with the postmaster and everyone else. It promises to be a big handshaking time, filled with punch, pep and perhaps postage, for there is no indication that the government will allow letters to be mailed free.

The Glendale postoffice, after four months of independence, is going to exert itself on this occasion.

Be sure to stop and shake hands with the fellow who attends to your needs there and if you have the time, step around to the side entrance and get an introduction to the personnel, an insight to the facilities and a knowledge of the work involved in the proper handling of the United States mails.

WORK FOR SCHOOL BONDS

The San Fernando Road Improvement association not only unanimously indorsed the issuance of bonds to provide the community with a $600,000 high school plant, but it has appointed a committee to work on Tuesday, which is election day. Members are William Griffin of 806 South San Fernando road, president of the association; Roy Johnson, 1133 South San Fernando road; Mrs. Geraldine E. Binns, 1251 South Central avenue; A. M. Salver, 1253 South Orange street; Arthur L. Holzate, 1513 North San Fernando road, and H. V. Johnson, 121 Fairview avenue.

LEAVE FOR SALT LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Hewlett of 312 East Doran street are leaving today for their home in Salt Lake City, Utah. After looking after business interests there they are looking forward to returning to Glendale to make their permanent home.

The Glendale Evening News

Entered as second-class matter January 12, 1922, at the postoffice at Glendale, Calif., under act of Congress of March 3, 1879. Published daily except Sunday.

UNIQUE VAUDEVILLE ACT FEATURE AT
T. D. L. TODAY

Show Christie Movie Comedies
In Conjunction With Film;
'Wet Gold' Is Coming

"Fox and Fletcher," the Christie Film comedians, appear in person at the T. D. & L. theatre again tonight and often their uproarious vaudeville act in conjunction with the feature picture, "The Lane That Had No Turning."

A hidden will, a wild chase after a villain by the heroine, in an old fashioned carriage, a duel between the two principal male characters, a villain who could hardly be excelled villainy—these are a few of the features of Sir Gilbert Parker's Paramount picture, "The Lane That Had No Turning," which was the attraction last night at the T. D. & L. theatre. It will be repeated tonight only.

Much favorable comment for the new star, Agnes Ayres, was heard on all sides. She was charming and acted superbly. The role she plays is a heavy and emotional one. Theodore Kosloff, Mahlon Hamilton, Frank Campeau and others have the leading male roles.

The story concerns the marriage of Madelinette to Louis, and his supposed inheritance of an old estate in French Canadian provinces. He is injured and develops a hunchback, but his wife sticks by him until he himself ends it and she marries Pournel, the rightful owner of the Seigneurie.

Sunday's Show
The sensational feature, "Wet Gold," will be the attraction at the T. D. & L. Sunday. Fights, romance, adventure, drama—they crowd this sensational story of a battle for buried gold at the floor of the ocean.

"Wet Gold" will lift you out of this humdrum world and take you into the land of sheer romance. The trail jumps down the length of a continent and then plunges to the very bottom of the sea. Harold Lloyd's comedy, "An Ozark Romance," will split your sides with laughter. Come and laugh with the Comedy King.

Monthly business and covenant meeting on Wednesday evening at 7:30. Interesting reports will be given of the work of the church during the year closing April 30.

An epicure says that six things are necessary in order to make a home happy. The first is a good cook and the other five are money.

Buick Agency Will Make Special Display

A special display representing the "Call of the Open Road Week" is being constructed and will be placed in the salesrooms of Tanner & Hall, 237 South Brand boulevard, local Buick distributors, they announced today.

The display will comprise tents, canopies, coats and practically everything that can possibly be of use to the camper, on a trip during this well known week.

Ray Galvin, of that company, in commenting upon the automobile conditions, said that they had established a new record in their sales department, having sold eight Buicks within the last six days and advises those thinking about buying a car to place their order very soon, as the shortage is showing up. The new Buick special roadster is causing quite a bit of interest in Glendale, as well as other parts of the country, and many of them can be seen gliding along the streets here in their coat of crimson paint and a contented smile on the man behind the wheel.

Harry D. Balestier Moves His Family Here

Harry D. Balestier, of the Glendale De Luxe Auto Top Company, 120 South Maryland, who recently opened this establishment with H. DuBois, has rented a house on West Acacia street and his family will move to Glendale today. Mr. Balestier has been attending to his business here during the day and going to Los Angeles, where he has been living, at night.

The top company is very busy and Mr. Balestier necessarily stays in Glendale until late in the evening at times, and living in Glendale will make it more convenient for his business. They also do all kinds of upholstering work, both of furniture and automobiles.

Shipment Of Oakland Autos Arrives Here

Those people that have been waiting impatiently for an Oakland car can satisfy their desires, provided they come in a hurry. The local Oakland Agency at 115 West Harvard has just received a shipment of new cars which comprises three roadsters, one coupe and a touring model. Max Green, of the agency, said that some of this shipment has been sold, but it is possible to make immediate delivery on certain models. The carload of new cars, direct from the factory, are beauties and are worth the time of almost anyone who will come down to the salesrooms and look them over, said Mr. Green.

A. G. Dentman Says Canada Gas 65 Cents

Motorists of California are quite fortunate when it comes to the price of gasoline if the experiences of A. G. Dentman, 113 West Broadway are to be taken into consideration.

Mr. Dentman, who has been in Glendale about two months, arrived here from Canada and he said that the price of gasoline when he left there, was selling at 65 cents per imperial gallon.

As an example of the unevenness of the prices, Mr. Dentman said that oats were selling in Canada at the same time for 17 cents per bushel.

When it comes to a question of staying qualities the undertaker can lay the puglist out.

Beautiful Forest Lawn

"The City of Dreams"

"Nor Could They Wish Couch More Magnificent." —Bryant

Surely nature was in her tenderest mood when she produced the setting for Forest Lawn—and Nature has been aided by all the art of the Landscape Artist. Magnificent trees, carefully chosen shrubbery, beautiful flowers and wondrous carpet of emerald green—with the protecting hills in the background, all unite in making Forest Lawn an ideal resting place. They would not wish a couch more magnificent—the sacred dead who slumber in the bosom of Forest Lawn. Sweet, indeed, must be their long dreams, soothed by the care that loving hearts have provided for their last rest in so beautiful and so fitting a manner.

Wide, graceful driveways are laid out in such manner that all lots are easy of access, and none are obscure. Perpetual care is given every lot, a substantial portion from the sale of every lot being set aside in a fund for this purpose. It is comforting to know that the last resting place of a loved one will never be neglected, that hands as considerate, as painstaking as your own could be, will keep the spot bright and beautiful forever.

AUTO BUSINESS IS 43 PCT. BETTER, FIGURES SHOW

Sales Record in State Proving Highly Satisfactory to Dealers, Distributors

Automobile business in the state of California for the first quarter of this year is 43 per cent better than the same period last year, according to a report published in an issue of the Motor Registration News, a statistical trade journal published in Oakland.

Other interesting facts brought out by the trade journal show that in the northern counties among the fifty leading automobiles, judged from the sales records, nineteen recorded a loss this season against the same period a year ago, or from 6 to 65 per cent.

Thirty-one makes in the northern counties gained from 14 to 1100 per cent.

In the eleven southern counties, eighteen makes appear with losses of from 1 to 78 per cent. As is true in the north, the heaviest decreases appear with makes whose volume is not large. Thirty-two cars show better sales by from 1 to 392 per cent.

Biggest Year in Sight

What is really gratifying to the dealers and distributors is the percentage of gain registered by the medium and high priced cars. All the so-called standard cars in this division are slated to have the biggest year's trade they have ever experienced in California if the present demand keeps up.

One of the highest priced automobiles is credited with an increase in the north of 126 per cent and a gain of over 188 per cent in the south. In the class of about $3,000, one make shows a jump in sales in the north of 309 per cent, while in the south, 56 per cent.

Around the $2,000 class one make has a gain in the north of 193 per cent and of 93 per cent in the south, and another in the same price competition advanced 119 per cent in the north and 175 per cent in the south. Therefore the automobile business is really on a good, sound basis with an added increase over last year's business that is startling.

Ample Supply of Gas

The Federal Bureau of Mines is giving close study to the gasoline situation, because of the requirements of the 10,595,660 automobiles and trucks in use in this country. An ample supply of gasoline is reported for this year.

Boys and Girls! Here's Chance to Win $5 With Ease

For the best essay written by a boy or girl on any automobile advertisement in the Saturday automobile section of The Glendale Evening News, a prize of $5 will be given by this newspaper.

The only requirements necessary to enter this contest are for the boy or girl to be under 14 years of age, the essay not to be over 100 words and to be written as neatly as possible on one side of the paper. The contest will be competitive and the selection of the winner will be made by the publisher of this paper.

No member of the family of any member of The Evening News will be eligible to compete.

All essays must be turned in at the office of The Evening News, 139 South Brand boulevard, not later than 6 p. m. Wednesday. The winner will be announced in the following Saturday's automobile section.

All future authors are invited to test their ability in this contest and the only costs are a few minutes of time and a bit of thought.

Contract Awarded on Last Gap of Road

Contract for the last gap of the San Bernardino-Imperial valley lateral, bridging the desert portion between Banning and the edge of the irrigated section near Westmoreland, twelve and one-half miles from Banning to Whitewater, has been awarded by the California highway commission to the Lee Moor Contracting company of El Paso, Tex., on a basis of reinforced concrete for $177,880, this sum plus state furnished material makes a total cost for the section of $274,584.

Fifteen bids were received on specifications calling for prices on both asphaltic concrete five inches thick and sixteen feet wide, and reinforced concrete five inches thick, sixteen feet wide with a seven-inch edge. The lowest bid for asphaltic concrete was $274,243.

Power Vs. Horses

The automobiles owned in the United States have a power equal to that of more than 300,000,000 horses, while the total number of real horses and mules in the country is less than one-tenth that amount.

AUTO CLUB TELLS WAY TO SOUTH'S BEST STREAMS

Millions of Rainbow Trout Are Awaiting Anglers; Big Season Assured

With the opening of the fishing season, the Automobile club has furnished some data and routes of various fishing places near Glendale for the use of the early anglers. It is stated that more than four millions of trout were planted last year by the California Fish and Game commission in counties of southern California, practically all of which came from the Mount Whitney and Bear Valley hatcheries.

Conditions and routes to some of the nearby fishing places given out by the club are as follows:

Here's the Dope

Sespe River—This river is carrying a large stream of water this season and there are many deep pools. It is reached by way of Fillmore, and it is possible to drive up to Henley's camp. Motorists must prepare to carry their camping outfit as full accommodations can not be secured at this camp to date. It is not advisable to drive beyond Henley's camp. Good camping space.

Ventura River—Reached either by way of Santa Paula or Ventura. Fine fishing is promised in waters of this stream and Matilija Hot Springs. The roads are in splendid condition and plenty of fish are in sight close to the resort. Those wishing to fish below Matilija Hot Springs will find good sport near Sophie's Ranch which is located at the junction of Matilija Hot Springs and North Fork.

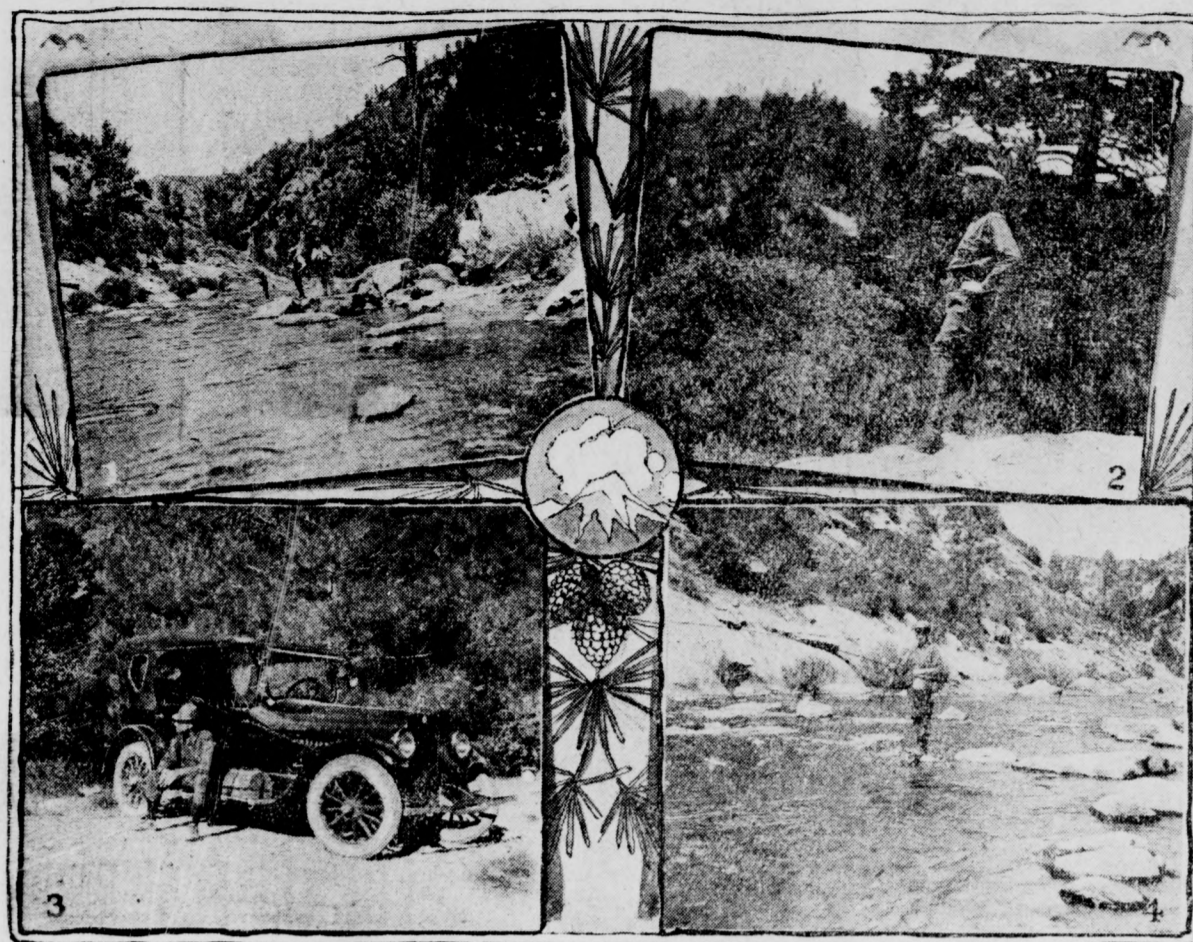

Close to Home

Big Tujunga River—Near Sunland, is reached by the way of San Fernando boulevard. At present this stream can not be forded by machines and it is necessary to pack to Switzer's camp or Colby's camp up the Arroyo Seco. Waters are high, but clear.

San Gabriel River—Is reached by the way of the Foothill boulevard and Azusa. The new cut in the road at the entrance of the canyon is almost completed and is expected to be ready for traffic by May 1. It is possible to drive approximately 10 miles on this road, then it is necessary to hike the rest of the way to various forks of the streams which have an abundance of clear water and good trout fishing.

Big Bear Creek—Is best reached at present by the way of the Victorville route to Bear lake, thence by hiking to Bear creek.

ANSWERING THE CALL OF THE OPEN ROAD

(1) Playing a big trout in the upper Kern river country; (2) Rene Olin, local accountant, on Greenhorn mountain, looking toward Sequoia national forest; (3) Mr. Olin and his Studebaker Special Six; (4) Whipping the stream. Photographs taken on a trip made in the Studebaker last August by Mr. Olin and other local fishermen.

Thousands To Hear Call

"The Call of the Open Road" is heard in Southern California, as well as the country at large. A few years ago several motorists in the far flung southwest originated the phrase, and, like Topsy, it "jes' grew and grew!"

Now "the call" is answered by thousands of automobile owners who think nothing at all of going from the Pacific to the Atlantic and back in less than a summer's time. Yes, "automobumming" has become a pastime with the public and it is literally true that "bakers and butchers and candlestick makers" shut up shop and go joy riding whenever they please.

Of all the places, however, that appeal to the mid-westerner, none compare with that territory from "out where the west begins." The national parks have added zest to the joy of living. In California you have the Yosemite and the Roosevelt and the Sequoia. In Utah there is the Zion, in Arizona the Grand Canyon, in Wyoming the Yellowstone, in Washington the Rainier, in Oregon the Crater Lake, in Montana the Glacier, etc.

All you have to have is the car—a good, sturdy car, a tent, the gasoline and grub, besides the desire, and you can see your fill of scenery in four or five months. Will you be one to answer "the Call of the Open Road?"

Rene Olin's Camera and Fishing Outfit, Too, Good at Catching

Rene Olin, public accountant in the Chamber of Commerce building, hears the Call of the Open Road. He has spent every night this week getting the fishing outfit ready for the first of May.

Incidentally, he has a camera that is equally good at catching things. Eddie Polo, noted daredevil, presented it to Mr. Olin when the latter was business manager at Universal City.

Mr. Olin resides at 400 North Isabella street and is well known as a sportsman, club member and church worker.

Having had the pleasure of visiting the Kern river country last fall, Mr. Olin is planning a trip to the Big Bear creek in the very near future.

And he isn't the only one, either.

CAMPAIGN TO CUT DOWN LISTS OF AUTO CRASHES

Jail Sentences May Be Given
Those Who Go Faster Than Forty-five Miles, Stated

Wherever the local motorist decides to tour this spring in southern California he will be met with a concerted effort to keep him from being reckless.

According to a report just issued by the Automobile Club of Southern California through its legal department there is on foot at present a spirit of co-operation among the southern counties to cut down auto accidents.

Administrators of justice in practically every county have apparently decided that the day of the reckless motorist past is over. Word has been received at the various Auto club offices that there is to be a general tightening up of speed regulations in all districts.

May Get Jail Term

It is likely that jail sentences will be given for a rate of speed exceeding forty-five miles an hour instead of fifty as at present. Heavy fines for motorists are to become the order of the day. It will cost hard money to get reckless on southern California roads in the future.

This action on the part of the various courts is being taken in the interest of touring in the southern part of the state—to make the highways safe for those who are careful. San Diego county, Los Angeles county, Madera county, Tulare county and Orange county are at present leading in the war on speeders. Other counties are going to follow in line.

Incompetent motorists, those who cannot operate a car in a safe manner whether they be speeders or not, are also going to be heavily fined and entirely removed from the boulevards if they are seriously involved. Incompetent drivers are deemed as dangerous as the speeder and both are to be unpopular in the future.

Foreign Autos Race

At an automobile race, recently held over Madonia Circuit in Sicily, entries were made by France, Germany, Italy and Austria. This was the first time since the war that French automobiles competed with German machines.

In California automobile dealers and service station men have started a "repair it now" campaign.

New York Actress, Now In Glendale, Buys Willys-Knight

Here is a Willys-Knight decked out with special California top, individual steps, wire wheels, trunk racks, etc., for Miss Reta Goff, a New York actress, now living in Glendale. The purple lake maroon color of the car is lost in the reproduction.

The records of the New York and Chicago automobile shows of the last three years have listed a series of triumphs for the so-called "California top," the enclosed type of motor car that can be made into an open car at will and in a few moments of time, with minimum of trouble.

It is only recently, in fact, that motorists have come to realize that enclosed cars are really as acceptable in keeping out the wind and dust that sometimes prevails during the summer months as they are in winter in preventing rain and cold from making motor car travel uncomfortable.

Miss Reta Goff, New York actress, who is now living in Glendale, has recently taken delivery on a fine, specially built Willys-Knight fitted with a "California top," individual steps and wire wheels. The car is purple lake maroon in color and with its special trunk rack at the rear, has the appearance of a car costing two or three times the price of the Willys-Knight.

"We have had a tremendous demand for Willys-Knight cars during the last few weeks," says G. T. Smith, proprietor of the local Willys-Overland agency, 228 South Brand boulevard. "The demand for this type of car and for the special Knight with speedster body has been phenomenal."

Standard Oil Raises Gasoline Price 1 Cent

NEW YORK, April 29.—The Standard Oil company of New York has raised the price of gasoline 1 cent a gallon to 26 cents.

Naphtha was also advanced one cent to 25 cents a gallon.

The Standard Oil of New Jersey followed with an increase of 1 cent a gallon in gasoline in New Jersey to 25 cents and 2 cents a gallon in North and South Carolina, and from 1 to 2 cents in West Virginia and Maryland.

LOCAL FISHERMEN GET READY FOR NEXT MONDAY

Plenty of Good Spots in Which to Cast; Plenty of Sport Is Assured to Fans

Trout fishing will necessarily be the first step for the local fishermen this season, as the reservoirs will not be open, owing to the fact that there is a city ordinance in Los Angeles against it. However, several petitions are before the Los Angeles city council. The petitions are to have the reservoirs open to sportsmen, according to information from there this morning, and it is wished that they be open by next Monday, the first day of the season.

"The trout fishing, although poor at the beginning of the season on account of the heavy streams and muddy water, will attract the attention of many on the opening day," said Albert Cornwell, of the firm of Cornwell & Kelly, 107 South Brand boulevard, local hardware company, which carries a full line of fishing tackle.

Fish Close to Top
Mr. Cornwell bases his opinion from his knowledge of the different streams within a radius of seventy miles of Glendale and upon the demand he is receiving for fishing tackle. He said that the call for flies, spinners and plugs shows that the fishermen intend to fish close to the top of the water.

The following streams where trout fishing is considered to be good at the opening of the season are:

The Big Tujunga creek, which lies about fifteen miles north of Glendale and is easy to get to with an automobile. To the northeast about seventy miles, the Ventura lies, also a good trout ground. Other good spots are the Arroyo Seco above Pasadena, Sesepe creek about sixty miles northwest of Glendale, near Fillmore; the San Gabriel, twenty-two miles to the east. This is the main stream and there are forks of this stream which are reported to be exceptionally good, with special mention of the west fork. However, the roads are bad for automobiles, said Mr. Cornwell.

Sportsmen Stock Up
A great number of sportsmen who are stocking up with fishing tackle in the local store, are mentioning Big Bear, saying that they are going up there on Saturday so that they will be ready for early fishing Monday morning. Fishing at Big Bear is said to have a large number of fish this season and in general all of the streams have a good supply of fish on account of the abundance of water and feed during the winter months, it is said.

In reference to the ocean fishing, Mr. Cornwell said that this is done very little at the beginning of the season, and to no great degree until later in the season.

W. E. Cleveland Likes Maxwell Performance

After climbing many steep grades going from Glendale to Bouquet Canyon in their new Maxwell sedan, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cleveland, 417 West Lomita, returned home, and, to their astonishment, had used but a very small amount of gasoline.

Mr. Cleveland, who has owned a Maxwell for some time, desired a new car, so his first thought was the Glendale Motor Car company. He went to their sales room at 246 South Brand boulevard and purchased the new sedan. The service which he is realizing in this new car, as well as his old one, which he uses for business purposes, is all that can be expected of an automobile, he says.

Mr. Cleveland, being a contractor, is necessarily traveling from one place to another continuously and he finds that the Maxwell car, which is light in weight, and, therefore, economical with gasoline, fits his needs, he says.

New York state has 21,950 miles of improved highways, 8,950 miles of which have been built by the state and 13,000 miles by the counties and towns.

Hupmobile Owners are Loyal

The conspicuous absence of the Hupmobile from the used-car advertising columns simply means that when the Hupmobile owner has occasion to re-purchase, he usually buys another Hupmobile.

Hupmobile owners give sound and ample reason for this pronounced loyalty.

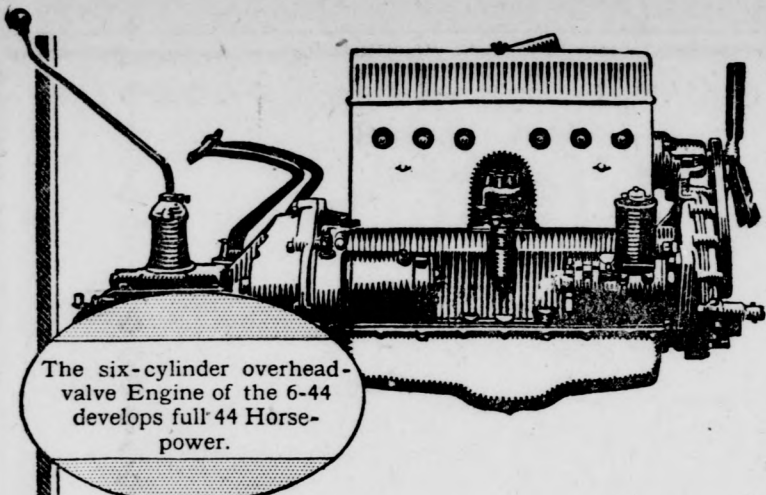

They will tell you the Hupmobile's depreciation is slower and smaller; that its price as a used car is proportionately higher.

The qualities which win their highest regard, however, are the everlasting regularity of performance and service, the consistent economy and efficiency, which have always stamped the Hupmobile an extraordinary motor car value.

ARREST THOUSANDS FOR FAILURE TO GET LICENSES

State Motor Vehicle Department Conducting Campaign to Get Law Enforcement

Raids in various parts of California will be conducted by the State Motor Vehicle Department in the immediate future to enforce the law, particularly with regard to the headlight and 1922 licenses, according to Director C. J. Chenu of the department.

Mr. Chenu also announced the adding of eight new inspectors to his staff, making seventeen in all, who will scour the state from end to end, and from the mountains to the sea, under directions of Chief Inspector Steve Neal.

A preliminary skirmish in the campaign was enacted in Stockton and its vicinity, and after a few hours the inspectors had rounded up some 620 persons who had failed for one reason or another to get new licenses. The force went to Santa Clara Valley and down into the upper portion of Salinas Valley, and there arrested nearly a thousand violators.

Make Many Arrests

One inspector in Santa Clara Valley, San Jose and vicinity, in one week arrested 729 violators of the motor vehicle law. Chenu announced it will be the policy of his department to clean up northern California first, after which Chief Inspector Neal will take the entire force to southern California and clean up things here.

Neal declared his men are meeting with hearty co-operation with the police officers and sheriffs of communities visited, and that every attempt is made to catch every violator by covering all avenues of travel and remaining upon the job until almost every car driver knows of the raid and is either caught or corrects the violation himself.

New inspectors added include two former chiefs of police and men who have had considerable experience with traffic matters. Walter P. Greer, former Sacramento police force traffic patrolman, is now with the state. The new inspectors added are: Walter P. Greer, Merton L. Britt, Frank S. Quinn, Fred Vallejo, Charles D. Reade, Frank J. Duncan, James A. Morrison and Charles H. Walker.

F. S. Hill's Specialty Is Fine Machine Work

What is said to be the most centrally located garage in Glendale is that of F. S. Hill, 121 South Brand. Mr. Hill makes a specialty of machine work, although he does all kinds of automobile repairing. His shop is equipped with a lathe which enables him to do his work in the right way. He has been in business here for the past seven years, he stated.

Do not fail to observe the caution signs placed on the roads by automobile clubs and associations—there is a reason for them being there.

RECKLESS DRIVERS TO RECEIVE BRAND OF HARD NAME

Just What They Will Be Called to Depend Upon Outcome of Contest Under Way

Along with the pledging and branding of the good drivers of automobiles in California by the Automobile Club of Southern California, comes a plan from the American Automobile association to brand the reckless driver with a name that will stick to him in a sense of ridicule.

Local motorists have taken kindly to the automobile club's good drivers' pledge and the little round stickers on the windshield are becoming as common along the streets of Glendale as the autos.

"The auto and sticker are an inseparable pair," remarked a local man when the stickers happened to be the subject of a conversation. New the attitude of the motorists in regard to the A. A. A. plan remains to be seen.

The plan of the A. A. A. is to brand the reckless motorist with a name that will be as comprehensive and will become as fitting as the term "jaywalker," which is now applied to the careless pedestrian.

Cash Prize Is Offered For such a term the organization is offering $25 in cash. The hunt is to be conducted in contest form and all persons having what they consider a suitable name for reckless drivers are invited to submit their choice to the national headquarters of the A. A. A. at Washington.

The millions of orderly and careful motorists in the country suffer because of the few thousands who are rowdy and careless. A name is wanted to show these drivers that they do not "belong." Police records show that a heavy percentage of accidents are due to the recklessness of pedestrians, but that places a further responsibility upon the motorist to take extra precautions for safety.

The contest, which is to be open to all, will close May 15, and the award will be made May 29. Persons wishing to submit should address Contest Editor, American Automobile Association, 1108 Sixteenth street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Days of '49 Return In Prairie Schooner

While filming a picture displaying the Nash car near here, F. R. Eldridge, cameraman, and party from the Glendale Nash Sales, 112 South Maryland avenue, ran across a real prairie schooner that was traveling the state highway in the vicinity of La Canada.

The motion picture camera was put to work and the Sooners from Oklahoma wondered if it were a part of the regular reception southern California gives newcomers. The immigrants were on their way to the San Joaquin valley, having crossed the desert during the winter and left home after harvest last fall.

Not knowing the easy riding qualities of the Nash, the family from the prairies are enjoying their trip overland very much.

Convert War Plants

Automobile interests in France are planning to change machinery, once used for war work, for the manufacture of cars on a wholesale scale in factories of that country.

A. G. Waidelich Tells Of Oldsmobile Tests

A. G. Waidelich, 634 North Kenwood, an employe of the United States government, purchased a four-cylinder Oldsmobile a few weeks ago and in a conversation this week, said that the car fits his needs to a "T."

Mr. Waidelich, who works in Los Angeles and lives in Glendale, naturally went to the local Oldsmobile agency to make his purchase. He also learned of the good service which customers of the J. C. Pollock & company, 208-10 West Broadway, receive, which was another drawing card.

"The oil used by the Oldsmobile-four is practically nothing," said Mr. Waidelich. "I have been driving this car for several weeks and have not put in a drop. By the way, better look and see if it needs any." Lifting the hood and looking at the gauge, it was found full.

In order to test out the motor, it was desired to heat it to the boiling point of the water in the radiator. Mr. Waidelich and another man drove out in the mountains and climbed the steepest hills, with the spark retarded, they could find. This wouldn't heat the motor, so it was necessary to cover the entire front of the radiator and retard the spark and after climbing another steep hill, their experiment was a success.

Mr. Waidelich's praise for the Oldsmobile is a series of adjectives and are all based upon his personal experiences with his car, and he has owned and driven many makes of cars, he says.

H. D. Hamm's Family Now Glendale Residents

Mrs. H. D. Hamm and daughter, Jane, have arrived from San Francisco and joined Mr. Hamm here. Mr. Hamm, who is a member of the firm of the Glendale Battery & Ignition Company, 120 South Maryland, has rented a cottage at 441 West Doran street where he and his family will reside.

Mr. Hamm said that since he and Mr. Shaw, another member of the ignition company, have been in business in Glendale, they have been busy. The spring overhauling of motor cars at this time of the year has caused a great number of people to have their generator and starter completely cleaned and new brushes put in. This is usually necessary and a good many cars are running around the streets that need this as well as battery inspection, he stated.

D. D. MacDonald Has Open Air Salesroom

A large lot at the northwest corner of Brand and Lomita streets has been rented by D. D. MacDonald and he will use it for the display of used cars. Mr. MacDonald was busy this morning running his cars of various makes and various vintages to their new headquarters.

The NEW 22-54 Special BUICK

A Surprise? No—the new Buick Special Six-54 Roadster just lives up to Mr. Valve-in-Head's old maxim:

"When Better Automobiles are Built, Buick will Build Them."

It's a trim, snappy sport model, built on a real foundation—the proven Buick chassis. With everything in its favor, the new Roadster will prove a real answer to the demand for a sport car with stamina, speed, good looks, and, best of all, economical upkeep. Beside every comfort and convenience, the new Roadster boasts a tailored top, maroon body, smart nicked equipment, wire wheels and new drum type head lamps.

It's the newest jewel in the Buick family and a sure winner. Seeing is believing.

James Neill Gets Verse About William Hay; It's Good Right Now Or Any Other Day

James Neill of 126 West Lomita avenue received a sprightly epitaph from a Denver friend yesterday which he thinks every motorist should read and deeply consider before journeying out on the highway again. Here's the big idea:

"Here lies the body of William Hay,
Who died maintaining his right of way;
He was right, quite right, as he sped along,
But he's just as dead as though he'd been wrong."

Painting And Plating Is Done By Experts

From the delicate petals of a lily to the rough work on a rusty bumper, the Glendale Painting & Plating Company, 120 South Maryland, is perfectly at home, it is declared.

At present, a sample of their painting work can be seen in their shop. A closed car is on the paint stand and G. M. Stombs will be glad to have anyone interested in painting to call and see the class of work this company does on automobiles.

Mr. Stombs will also show anyone the lily which he treated and then plated with copper. The flower takes its natural shape and when painted, resembles the real very closely.

The company does all kinds of plating work on any metals that will take a plate. Many automobile headlight reflectors are rusty or scratched and the owner wonders why he cannot see at night. A new plate of nickel will make them like new, said Mr. Stombs.

Caring for a car is more than a mere matter of keeping it filled with gas, oil and water.

F. O. Hickman Sets Good Mark on Trip

Over 1,000 miles of desert roads without the slightest bit of trouble and one gallon of oil, is the record set by F. O. Hickman, who recently left Glendale and made a round trip to Needles, California, Oatman and Kingman, Arizona.

Mr. Hickman left Glendale at 9 o'clock at night and drove the entire night, reaching Needles at 9:30 o'clock the following morning. From there he made the other two towns and owing to the number of requests for mileage on gasoline, Mr. Hickman took special notice of it and reports the Studebaker Special Six, which he was driving, averaged more than eighteen miles per gallon.

S. C. Packer, of the Packer Auto Company, South Brand boulevard, local distributors of the Studebaker motor cars, reports that the sales of cars at the present time are way above normal, and the great landslide of Studebaker business which has covered the east is felt out here in the shortage of cars. At present there are six orders on the books of the local company waiting for the cars, he said. These orders, however, will be filled in a few days and all future business will likewise be taken care of, he asserted.

Three Hupmobiles Sold By Bartlett & French

The recently reported increase in automobile sales throughout the country and which at present is holding sway in Glendale, has not failed to register on the order books of Bartlett & French, 603 South Brand boulevard, local Hupmobile dealers, to the tune of three cars within the last few days.

The customers of the Hupmobile dealers seem to have varied desires when it comes to choosing styles. The three sales mentioned comprise a touring car, roadster and sedan. J. M. Grand of Eagle Rock is the new owner of a Hupmobile touring car, Frank H. Vesper, 321 East Lomita the sedan, and Miss B. M. Morehouse, 1909 East Lomita, the roadster.

When questioned as to the present business conditions, in the automobile field, Mr. Bartlett said that things look very bright just now and he is having practically no trouble with trade-ins. A second-hand Hupmobile sedan was taken in with one of the above mentioned sales and it was not in the possession of the company much over an hour before it was sold. This, he pointed out, shows the rapidity with which the Hupmobile moves on the used-car market.

C. L. Smith Offers To Give Tip To Fishermen

Anyone wishing to go fishing next week and is in doubt as to where to find the largest and best trout, are invited to call on C. L. Smith, 400 East Broadway, local Chevrolet agent, and get a tip on the best fishing grounds. But, of course, the fisherman should ride to the grounds in a Chevrolet, then both Mr. Smith and the fisherman will be pleased, says Mr. Smith.

Mr. Smith announced that the ground will be broken for their new location at Orange and Colorado the early part of next week and until the building is finished, the company will use the corner lot at Broadway and Kenwood streets for the display of their used cars.

When asked about the business conditions of the past week, Mr. Smith said that five Chevrolets were sold in one day, and an average of one a day the remainder of the week. One of the salesmen for Mr. Smith sold three cars in a single day within the last week. The specially equipped Chevrolet, with wire wheels and nickel trimmings, is creating considerable interest and a bunch of people can be seen gathered about the car, commenting upon the snappy appearance of this model, at almost any hour of the day.

D. H. Smith Is Owner Of New Cadillac Car

D. H. Smith, manager of the local branch of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings bank on Brand, near Broadway, purchased a new Cadillac, suburban model from the W. H. Court Motor company, 228 South Brand, within the last week.

Mr. Smith is very much pleased with the car. It is a closed type and is equipped with many new features. One, in particular, is a control from the dash where the operator can adjust his front lights while the car is rolling along. The light can be made to extend a long distance in front of the car for driving in the country or the rays can be made to fall on the road just a few feet from the car, which is for town or city driving.

Weigh Truck Loads

In a campaign to prevent destruction of the highways by overloaded vehicles, the state department of public works of Massachusetts has inspectors stationed on all of the important traffic routes in the state for the purpose of weighing the loads of motor trucks.

Families of moderate circumstances will readily agree that there are no comparisons between an ideal home and an automobile. The one assures happiness, contentment, ideal environments, protection and absolute assurance of investment, one that increases rather than depreciates in value, and the up-keep of an automobile will go a long way toward meeting living expenses.

We concede that an automobile is a modern attraction, but it is folly for families who are not proud possessors of their own homes to undertake automobile ownership.

Our photographic plan service will tell you in advance what the home will look and be like and what it will cost to build, and you are to feel welcome to advise with this service at your convenience.

Home Owning Is Modern Declaration of Independence and Represents the Best of Investments

PLANS NO. 1749-1750

This inexpensive home plan with its compact and conveniently arranged alternate rooms, conveys ideas that are meeting with popular favor, and is being adopted by home builders whose requirements can be cared for in a small home. In Plan No. 1749 a bed closet has been provided in the living room, giving this room double usage. A careful study of the room arrangements shown, together with the uniqueness of exterior design, will show the most practical combination of modern, inexpensive ideas that it is possible to create. Any additional information regarding plans, costs, etc., will be gladly given by addressing the Home Building Editor, care of this paper.

Home Owners are the backbone of any community, of any nation.

They are the people who count in any locality.

To be a really effective force in any neighborhood, you must belong to that locality.

To be known as a Home Owner is the best recommendation possible for you.

It gives you the stamp of stability.

It ranks you among the earnest, thrifty people who are successful or on the way to success.

It gives you the confidence, not only of your immediate neighbors, but of the banker, the merchant, the community at large.

Success is founded on the confidence people have in you.

Owning your home helps you in business. No matter what your work or position may be, owning your home will help you to better things.

But Home Owning means more than material help; its great effect is on character.

To own a home makes for steadfastness of character; to move from place to place as a renter encourages shiftless habits of thought and action.

Home Owning brings content; renting leads to restlessness.

Home Owning brings independence, not only of circumstances, but also of character and thought.

Home Owning tends to make one a better father, a better mother, a better citizen.

It gives your children the invaluable benefit of real home influence.

No man has reached his full stature as a man and a citizen until he owns his home.

Do not put off home buying until you have the other things you want. Your first investment should be for a home. This was the way of our fathers; this way lies true Americanism.

The best American in the nature of things is the man who owns part of America—his home.

A Home First—Then An Automobile.

One More Story Is Wanted In Contest

By GEORGE VAN SANDS
Radio Editor The Evening News

Last Saturday we announced through this column that the radio editor was going to run a prize story contest—that we wanted six stories, and that the first six such stories to reach The Evening News office would be the prize entrants; that we would run one of these stories each day until the entire six had been published. And then the readers were to send in their votes as to which was the best story, each reader being entitled to one vote; we would then count the votes, and the winner's name would be announced through this column and he would be awarded the prize. The prize would be his or her choice of a year's subscription paid in advance to either of the three well known radio magazines: "Radio," "Radio News" and "Science and Invention."

This announcement was made just the one time, and up to now we have received five stories as entrants to the prize contest. Now, somebody get busy and bring in just one more story so we will have the whole six, and we will start the contest next week. There was no restriction at all, except that the story must be about radio and not longer than 400 words.

Now, to you readers who have submitted your stories—I want to thank you for the interest shown and assure you that the contest will be run whether we get the one remaining story or not, but, of course, it will be much more interesting to have the whole six of them, so again let me urge that someone hurry and bring me in the one more story. Do not worry about spelling or anything like that, as that will all be fixed up. Do you know, I have to get my column, and Questions and Answers in a day ahead of their publication and I have never been able to figure it out unless, perhaps, that it takes them the extra day to correct the spelling. So do not let a little thing like that deter you from submitting a story, seeing it published and perhaps being the lucky one to draw the prize.

ASK HARDING TO EXPLAIN

WASHINGTON, April 29.—President Harding is asked by the senate to explain his use of executive orders in appointing government employes without civil service examinations.

A resolution sponsored by Senator Harrison, Democrat, of Mississippi, embodying the request, was passed without a record vote. It also requested the president to name all employes so employed and to cite a reason for the abandonment of the civil service rules.

DAMPING AND DECREMENT

"Damping" of oscillations and their "decrement" when damped are terms commonly used in radio work. They may sound rather formidable to some, but they are very easily understood. For example, the familiar pendulum when drawn to one side from its position of rest and then released swings to and fro for a time and comes to rest. The force applied to start the swings is, of course, the forcible displacement of the pendulum when drawn to one side. As the pendulum swings, it meets the resistance due to the friction between itself and the air. During each swing this resistance uses up some of the energy and the pendulum swings grow smaller and smaller in amplitude until they finally cease. This decrease of amplitude of each succeeding swing is due to the damping effect of the frictional resistance. And the relation of the height of one swing to the preceding swing in the same direction would be a measure of this damping. The ratio would be found to be fairly constant with any given pendulum. Therefore this ratio may be called the "decrement" or, technically speaking, the "decrement" of the pendulum swings or oscillations. An alternating current, regardless of its frequency, swings back and forth through an electrical circuit and increases and decreases in strength periodically in each direction of flow. It can be compared to the pendulum swings. The maximum current value attained in each direction of flow can be compared to the pendulum swings. The maximum current value attained in each direction of flow can be compared with the height of the pendulum swings in each direction. If the maximum values of current in opposite directions decrease, the alternating current or oscillations are damped. Their decrement depends upon the resistance to current flow present in the circuit. Usually this decrement (the measure of the damping) is a constant. That is, the ratio of one current amplitude to the preceding one in the same direction of current flow will be the same as all the other ratios. The current then ceases to flow after a time unless an electrical pressure is again applied. Such an alternating current (or oscillations which are only high frequency alternating current) is said to be damped. Undamped oscillations would have no decrement; that is, their decrement would be zero.

A NON-DISTORTING AMPLIFYING TRANSFORMER

A great deal of the distortion experienced when using radio amplifiers for voice amplification in the past has been traced directly to the transformer. Due to stray fields

There has also been considerable trouble at times occasioned by "howling" when many audio-frequency stages were coupled together.

The core construction of the transformer illustrated is such that there is very little tendency for the setting up of stray magnetic fields. Both primary and secondary windings are wound upon a middle leg of the closed iron core. The core is laminated. Maximum potential on the grid of the amplifier tube is what is desired and this is made possible by reducing the distributed capacity of the secondary winding to a low value.

The primary winding has a direct current resistance of 1100 ohms and the resistance to alternating current is 11,000 ohms at 1000 cycles. The reactance at 1000 cycles is 66,000 ohms. For the secondary winding the direct current resistance is 5500 ohms, resistance at 1000 cycles alternating current is 130,000 ohms and reactance 700,000 ohms.

This transformer is well designed mechanically and is very compact. It may be mounted in any position by means of the four feet, which have screw holes for the purpose. The binding posts are easily accessible and will take a large size wire. The iron core and the coil are finished in black and the brackets and binding posts are nickel plated.

MURATORE TO TAKE REST

CHICAGO, April 29.—Lucien Muratore, famous tenor, has cancelled all his professional engagements and prepared to spend several weeks in the south recuperating from a nervous strain that came near bringing on a physical collapse. He will rest for several weeks before going abroad for the summer.

Questions on Radio and Their Answers

QUESTION: Would you advise the purchase of the stock of the Radio Corporation of America as an investment, and is this a going concern? S. A., Glendale.

Answer: Sorry, but will have to decline to answer your first question as I am frank to say my advice would not be worth much on this point. This concern is the largest of its kind in America, or Europe or anywhere else as far as I know. They are tied up with licenses and cross-licenses and patents with the General Electric Company and the telephone company and half a dozen others, and there is no question whatever about them being a going concern, but as stated above, do not take my advice, as I lost my reputation as a financial wizard down at Tia Juana.

Question: Has it been demonstrated or proven that the electrical vibrations that are the means of carrying the human voice can only pass through the ether or air, or can they pass through water or mountain ranges? C. L. C., Glendale.

Answer: A submarine being submerged has sent and received wireless messages while at sea, which would pretty certainly demonstrate that the vibrations pass through water. Steinmetz, of electrical fame, claims that these same vibrations can pass through the earth as readily as through ether, and when a man makes such a statement, we have to believe him, as I do not know of anyone else that would be qualified to even dispute him.

Question: I believe that I have by mere chance arranged a certain hook-up on my regenerative set that greatly increases its range and tone. If this should prove original, what steps should I take to secure whatever financial returns there might be in it for me? X. Y. Z., Glendale.

Answer: You are perfectly justified in signing these initials to the foregoing, and I would lose no time in consulting a reputable patent attorney who is prepared and equipped to give you the necessary advice on the patent law, for you to take the required steps to secure a patent. The Evening News sincerely hopes you are on the track of an improvement such as you state, and if it proves out what you believe for it, we will be more than glad to give the matter publicity at the proper time, because such a thing would mean additional publicity for Glendale, which naturally means a better Glendale for all of us.

Question: I have a pair of very good ear phones that I lately purchased in a pawn shop in Los Angeles and have just discovered that they bear the stamp of the U. S. Signal Corps. Is it against the law to have such property in my possession? R. T. S., Glendale.

Answer: This makes about the sixth question having a legal aspect that has been handed me for an answer; folks will begin to think that among my other duties I am practicing law on the side, and while the answer to your question follows, please do not construe that I claim to be an authority on Blackstone. Broadly speaking, a civilian is not supposed to have government property in his possession, unless such property was originally sold or otherwise disposed of through the salvage or surplus property division of the army, provided, of course, it was army equipment, which your ear phones would come under. All the boys who were in the service recollect that there were several little items that they had used so long that they thought Uncle Sam would let them take home with them, but when it came time to get on the train to go back to the "home town" we were lucky to even keep a raincoat or a blanket, much less side arms, head phones or a hundred and one other little things that we had been using right along. Personally, I do not think there is a chance in the world of Uncle Sam sending you to Fort Leavenworth on account of your having a set of his head phones that you got hold of in the manner described.

DENIES REVIEW PETITION

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The Supreme Court of the United States has denied a petition of C. H. Verner for a review of an adopted plan by the Southern Pacific company for disposing of its oil lands to the Pacific Oil company, under a dissolution scheme required by the commodities clause of the Hepburn railroad law. The dissolution plan involved $525,000,000. This case has no connection with the Southern Pacific-Central Pacific dissolution suit.

COME DWELL IN IVANHOE THE HILLS OF IVANHOE

You are tired of the "long daily drag" between the house and your "downtown" office.

For months you have passed, on Glendale Boulevard, only 3 miles from Broadway, picturesque Ivanhoe Hills, held in acreage as a part of the Griffith estate. Often you have thought how convenient would be a home on their slopes, overlooking the San Fernando valley and Glendale, and affording a panorama of the Sierra Madres. Possibly you have even pictured the joy of a "before-breakfast" walk along the quiet waters of Silver Lake.

All these things are possible now. Large, well restricted homesites may be purchased on Ivanhoe Hills. Water is in. Buildings may start at once. Gas and electricity are within a day's work from the tract. We pay for all improvements. Courteous salesmen will call for you on request.

COOKING CLASSES,
TRICE'S STORE

School Complete Success From Every Angle, Is Verdict of Local Housewives

Splendid attendance has marked the domestic science class held at the Trice Furniture Company's store this week under the direction of Mrs.
Mary Marchmont. Sperry products demonstrator, who used the enameled, sanitary Sanico gas range for cooking purposes.

From every angle the school was successful and the many women who attended are entered in the prize contest describing the good points of the range. They are high in commendation of the course and Mr. Trice may rest assured that his efforts will be well repaid.

The manufacturers of the Sanico gas range, which is considered the ultimate of its kind, also may feel satisfied that these free classes are a great benefit to themselves and the community at large. Following are a few more select recipes used by
Mrs. Marchmont:

Coffee Cake
First Part, Sponge:
1 cup scalded milk.
1 compressed yeast cake, dissolved in
1/2 cup lukewarm water.
1 1/2 cups Sperry Drifted Snow Flour.
Second Part, Dough:
1/2 cup melted butter.
1/2 cup sugar.
1 egg, well beaten.
1 teaspoon almond flavoring.
1/2 teaspoon salt.
3 (about) cups Sperry Drifted
Snow Flour.
Method of Preparation: Cool milk to lukewarm, then add dissolved yeast cake and one and one-half cups flour. Beat until smooth and put in warm place until light. This will take about one hour. Sponge is light when full of bubbles. Then add other ingredients, turn on board and knead until smooth and elastic and does not stick to hands or board.
Place in well-greased bowl, brushing over top of dough with melted shortening. Allow to rise to two and one-half times its original size. This will take two hours or more. Then the dough is ready for the various coffee cakes.

If a richer dough is desired, double the quantity of shortening and eggs, using only one-half cup of milk.

Tea Ring
Use coffee cake foundation. When light, roll out to about one-half inch thickness. Brush over with melted shortening, sprinkle with sugar, cinnamon and seedless raisins, or raisins and chopped walnuts. Roll up like a jelly roll, join the ends forming a ring, place on well greased pan, and with scissors cut three-fourths through the ring of dough in pieces about two inches apart. After cutting, turn each piece over, brush over with yolk of egg diluted with two tablespoons of milk. Let rise again and bake in a medium oven. When baked, brush over top with unbeaten white of egg. This gives a high gloss. Have oven at moderate heat.

Plain Coffee Cake
Use coffee cake foundation recipe.
When light, roll out to about two inches thick, place in well-greased shallow pan, and brush over top with yolk of egg diluted with two tablespoons of milk and then sprinkle top with following mixture:
1/2 cup of soft bread crumbs.
Cinnamon.
2 tablespoons sugar.
2 tablespoons melted butter.
Let coffee cake stand until light and bake in a moderate oven.

Risks
Use coffee cake foundation recipe.
When light cut off pieces of dough the size of a walnut and place on a greased cookie pan about three inches apart. Brush over with the yolk of an egg to which two tablespoons of milk have been added.
When light, bake in a medium hot oven, and, when cooked, glaze with confectioners' icing, which is made by taking one tablespoon of hot water and adding enough powdered sugar to thicken, also a few drops of vanilla.

Mrs. John W. Cotton Is Luncheon Hostess

Mrs. John W. Cotton of 1137 San Rafael street entertained with a pretty luncheon Friday in honor of Mrs. E. O. Thayer of Del Rosa who was observing her birthday anniversary. The table was decorated with dark red roses, and a delicious luncheon served, with a birthday cake with the customary candles. Guests were Rev. and Mrs. E. O. Thayer, Mrs. L. F. Drake, Mrs. R. D. Jones,
Mrs. E. J. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs.
J. W. Cotton.

The party were invited to the home of Mrs. Charles Walker for the afternoon where Mrs. Thayer was surprised by a number of her old friends. A pleasant afternoon was spent in social conversation and light refreshments were served. Mrs.
Thayer was the recipient of many lovely gifts. The guests numbered twenty-five. Rev. and Mrs. Thayer leave today for their home in Del
Rosa, going by way of Eagle Rock where they will call upon friends.

FIVE NEW MEMBERS PLEASED OPERETTA ARE GREETED BY LOCAL LEGION

City Manager Reeves Recites Poems for Benefit of Post; 'Midnight Luncheon'

Five local former service men were initiated into Glendale Post No. 127 of the American legion at last night's regular weekly business and social meeting of the organization. The initiatory ceremonies were conducted by the officers of the post, with the exception of Post Commander Emil Kiefer, who substituted for Second Vice Commander Jesse Flower.

The new members are Harold D. Charlton, Arthur H. Schott, De Lette P. Hartwick, Reid H. Dunlap and Jefferson D. Love.

City Manager William H. Reeves, who is a member of the post, was called upon to entertain and he responded with several recitations of war poetry. "The Firing Squad," "Now That It's All Over" and "Let's Go" were among the favorites. The last named poem, of which Mr. Reeves is the author, drew more applause than any of the others.

Sheriff to Give Talk
Frank C. Weller, chairman of the house entertainment committee announced that at the meeting on the night of May 19 the Legionnaires will be favored with a brief address from Sheriff William Traeger of Los Angeles county. Mr. Traeger's subject will be "The Problems of the Sheriff's Office."

Following the resignation of Sid Simon as chairman of the entertainment committee Commander McBryde appointed T. Ralph Goodman to take his place. Mr. Simon's reason for resigning was the fact that he is planning to make a trip east soon.

Following the closing of the meeting the members enjoyed a "midnight luncheon," which was served by Gerald Delgado's specially appointed kitchen police committee.

Several selections by the newly organized three-piece jazz orchestra were rendered, one of which was accompanied by a vocal solo by Leroy G. Fortier. The orchestra was composed of J. E. McKnight, L. V. Van de Car and Eddie Moniot.

Sagamore Park Wins Many Lot Purchasers

Chief Sagamore was "the leading citizen" of his tribe and Sagamore Park is the peer of any other tract on the market at the present time. So announced E. G. Warren and John J. Deakin of the firm of Warren & Deakin, who maintain an office at 300 South Brand boulevard, exclusive local representatives of the Wesley Roberts Company of Los Angeles.

"Even a wooden Indian could sell property in this new subdivision," declared Mr. Warren, commenting upon the early painted wooden figures of Chief Sagamore one of which stands just outside the firm's office on the southeast corner of Brand boulevard and Colorado street, and the other which has been placed upon an elevation near Verdugo road and Colorado street.

Another one has been planted in Gassell Park, Los Angeles.

"There are plenty of Indians scattered about to show Glendale tribes the way to the park," he continued. "Local 'Indians' cannot do better than follow the suggestion of Chief Sagamore and visit his park."

Sagamore Park is located on the slope of a hill just outside the city limits of Glendale on Verdugo road four blocks south of Colorado street. It is five blocks from the new high school site.

The elevation, which provides an excellent view over the surrounding territory, is one of the talking points. Mr. Warren declares that the price of the property is no higher than that charged for flat lots nearby.

On account of the splendid drainage as well as the beautiful view, he is positive that hillside lots are the best for residential purposes. He calls attention to the fact that lots cost for about $3000 on Kenneth street, and that the same lots for $500 on the level and that an acre in the same region is valued at $30,000 and appraised at only about $2,000 on a lower level.

Most of the lots in Sagamore Park are listed for less than $1,000 and $550 seems to be a fair average. Mr. Warren states that the terms are very reasonable. Five per cent discount is deducted for cash and five per cent for an agreement to begin building operations at once.

Public Meeting Called On W. Broadway Cutoff

A meeting of the property owners on West Broadway from Brand to San Fernando Road, and on Central avenue, one block in either direction from West Broadway, interested in the proposed straightening out the jag in Broadway at the intersection of Central avenue, will be held next Wednesday night at the garage of the Sunset Motor Works, Pacific and Broadway.

The object of the meeting is to get all the property owners together and discuss the feasibility of the proposition to remove the jag in Broadway and Central avenue and if a petition will be signed. The estimated cost of the new street, in addition to the right-of-way necessary, will also be taken up at this meeting.

MRS. ADDIE ALLEN BETTER

Mrs. Addie Allen, mother of Mrs. R. V. Hogue of 329 North Jackson street, and who has been quite ill at her home for the past week, is improving.

PLEASED OPERETTA IS PRESENTED BY INTERMEDIATES

High School Auditorium Filled With Appreciative Audience; Cast Well Drilled

dance follows, which is full of "joy and abandon." Each doll carries out the motif of its nationality in the type of its dance.

French Dolls Attractive
Attired in delicately-tinted dresses a la Mary Picklefect and wearing picture hats the French dolls step forward for a song and dance. Among them are Alice Castillo Jean Ingram, Lillian Owens, Dorothy Hertzog, Kathryn Stanley, Dorothy Steiner, Mabel Todd and Elizabeth Walker.

This is followed by a solo dance by Leona Hunt as a Chinese doll, who sings "My Dreamy China Lady" by Messrs. Kahn and Van Alstyne, who are well known by Jerome H. Remick.

Wooden shoes do not seem to hamper the movements of the quartet of Dutch dolls, who have the next action. Lucille Forrest and Ruth Vogel are attired as maidens from the Alikes—no, not of The Wash but of Holland. Vernon Foster is quite conspicuous in brilliant red pantaloons while Lewis Doty is equally brilliant in conspicuous lavender pantaloons. Well, maybe it was the other way around. Anyway, no one in the audience missed seeing them.

An Eskimo song is led by Alexander Chase, who is considerably dressed up in a fur coat and beaver cap. He keeps threatening to return to the north pole to play in the ice and snow but the chorus begs him to remain in southern California. At the end of his number he exits, stage left, and his audience is left in awful suspense.

Tin Soldiers Make Hit
Kimonos wrap the Japanese dolls who sing "The Japanese Maiden" by Alice C. D. Riley. They are Janice Fletcher, Evelyn Harris, Edna O'Mahy and Helen Vroeland.

The tin soldiers in red uniforms and red Tommy Atkins' quart hats next stage a drill in which they illustrate the manual of arms—and feet, too. Their squad includes Harold Begg, Glen Cunningham, Marcell Gezell, Stanley Livingstone, Roland Oliver, Warren Rigdon, Donald Weyand and Lytle Wheeler.

A song laments the fate of the paper doll, played by Eleanor Dewey, who must wait until she's cut before she can cut any capers.

As a rag doll Alice Garber commenced quite a commotion which almost breaks up the show until Fack suggests that a lullaby might soothe her. Faster than King Morpheus himself could do the trick she is sent to Slumber Land and dawn descends upon the toy until soon all of the dolls are fast asleep again.

A Fairies' dance occupies the first scene. This is staged in a mountain meadow. The audience knows that this is so because the white back drop is hung with ivy. The moon flutters and flickers as obligingly as possible as the color wheel is rotated by Willard Roberts and Albert Hewett of the high school student body.

Fairy Queen Is There
The fairy queen is the first on the spot. You can tell that she is the queen because two horns of tinsel miss a coronation for her forehead. Together with the others of her "gang" she is dressed completely in white. All of them wear honest to gosh gossamer wings. One by one they join the party. Those in the romp are Ruth Cox, Alice Garber, Ethel Paulson, Theodora Peterson, Elva Post, Esther Trull, Bessie Vaughn and Viola Van Pelt.

The herald, who announces the prelude, is Georgia Young. She is dressed in a jaunty costume of black. Music during the intermissions was furnished by the Intermediate Orchestra under the direction of Miss Elsa Brenneman. During the pantomime the piano accompaniment is played by Janice Fletcher. "Kiss Me Again" was played as a violin solo by Mary Agnes Cobb.

The performance was directed by Miss Ada Salstrom of 221 West Colorado street and Miss Vera Sinclair of 245 Sinclair avenue, members of the Intermediate faculty.

Angelus Park Property Favored by Investors

Glendale commuters are having their attention called by Rigali & Veselich, who maintain real estate offices at 1139 Merchants' National Bank building, Los Angeles, to the convenience of Angelus Park.

The last unit of this subdivision has been put on the market. This consists of three blocks of high class residential lots.

The remarkable development of this tract is commented upon by Albert J. Rigali. He calls attention to the fact that the subdivision is now nearly sold out and that those who wish to take advantage of the opportunity to secure a desirable homestead must act quickly. He says that, as a sales proposition, this tract will soon pass into history.

Angelus Park is located immediately south of the city limits of Glendale between Glendale and Tropic-Los Feliz boulevards.

Being within the city limits, the 140 new homes already constructed have the advantage of city telephone, gas, water and electricity service. The carfare to any point in Los Angeles, of course, is five cents.

Prices for the lots range between $775 and $1100. Stephen P. Veselich inquires where is it possible to secure similar property at such prices. Both curbs and sidewalks have been installed.

Tract offices are being maintained by Rigali & Veselich on the corner of Boyce avenue and Glendale boulevard and Boyce avenue and Los Feliz road.

HOSTESS BEHALF MUSIC SECTION

Delightful Program Is Given With More Than Fifty Persons in Attendance

Miss Eva Daniels and Mrs. Goodman Phillips, of 324 West Colorado street, were hostesses yesterday afternoon to the members of the music section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, of which Mrs. Charles L. Marlenee is curator, with over fifty members and guests present. A delightful program of French and other music had been arranged for the occasion. The house was decorated with bouquets of spring flowers and in the living room was a large bowl of bridal wreath, Cherokee roses and iris.

A short business session, in charge of Mrs. Marlenee, preceded the program. It was announced that the music section would be represented at the state convention of music clubs at San Francisco by Mrs. E. W. Kinney, who was curator of the section when the same became a member of the state federation. "She was instructed to convey the message at the convention that the music section endorses Mrs. Mattison B. Jones as president of the state music federation. Mrs. Jones is president of the Glendale Music club and for the past year has acted in the capacity as first vice-president of the state federation and has been in charge of its extension work."

Plan Afternoon Tea
The members of the section are planning to have an afternoon tea some time the latter part of May. Mrs. L. N. Hagood spoke of the coming election of officers for the Tuesday afternoon club.

A very interesting paper on French music was given by Mrs. Paul Hoffman, which she traced back to the Celtic inhabitants. With the coming of Christianity, she stated, the influence of the chant was noted, and later the Teutons added a martial note when their armies inhabited parts of Gaul. Music is indebted to France for the system of notation now in use. The first French opera appeared in 1669 and from that time a preference has been shown for that kind of music. Mrs. Hoffman also gave a brief and interesting outline of the history of Gounod, whose greatest work was the opera "Faust." The program for the afternoon also included the following numbers, all of which were very well rendered: "Kamennoi-Ostrow" (Rubinstein), and "Caprice Viennois" (Kreisler), piano selections by Miss Reba Phillips.

Varied Musical Numbers
Violin solos by Miss Genevieve Mulligan, accompanied at the piano by Miss Reba Phillips, "Swan" (Saint-Saens), and "Rosary" (Nevin).

Vocal solos by Mrs. Charles A. Parker, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. L. N. Hagood, "Farewell at Morning" (Passard) and "Street Song" (Weckerlin), and an encore. Piano solo, Miss Reba Phillips "Sarabande" (Bach).

Vocal solos, Mrs. Helen Graham Cole, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. L. N. Hagood, "Could My Songs Their Way Be Winged" (Hahn), and "Open Thy Blue Eyes" (Massenet), and an encore sang "The Perfect Hour" (Hahn).

At the close of the afternoon, delicious refreshments of ice-cream, home-made cakes and candies were served and a social hour enjoyed.

VAUDEVILLE FEATURE IS DIRECT FROM ORPHEUM; SHIRLEY MASON IN PICTURE

Juggling Mathieu, direct from the Orpheum, is one of the headliners on the big vaudeville bill at the Glendale theatre tonight, the best yet presented, so be early. Walker and West present "After the Show," filled with laughs, featuring songs and including dancing. Mlle. Suzanne Lingarde, another big-time artist, has a European posing novelty that is as startling as staturary seen at the art show.

"I Wanta Pass" as presented by Hahn and Curtis is another laugh-fiesta while the Rathburn Four are considered the ultimate in the way of a musical melange which will make you "Say It With Music."

Shirley Mason Film
Equally entertaining is the film feature, "Little Miss Smiles," with Shirley Mason. It is a story of New York's lower East Side, in which Miss Mason plays the part of a little tenement heroine who is delightfully human. The reappearance of Belmont and Krake, violinist and harpist, in conjunction with Paul Carson at the Sunday evening concert, there will be pictures well worth seeing. "Poverty of Riches," by Leroy Scott, a Goldwyn picture, coming to the Glendale theatre for three days, commencing Sunday, deals with the most noble theme of humanity—motherhood. It is a Reginald Barker production.

TOMMY SMITH IS INJURED

A fall from an "acting" bar on the Central avenue school grounds yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock resulted in a double fracture at the right ankle for 8-year-old Tommy Smith, son of T. I. Smith of 1100 North Central avenue. The foot has been placed in a plaster cast and it is not expected that Tommy will be able to attend school again until next fall.

REV. COLE GIVES ADDRESS

Rev. C. A. Cole, pastor of the Central Christian church, last night addressed the San Fernando Valley Sunday School association, which met at Van Nuys, on the subject of "The Sunday School As Life Investment."

GIVE 5-CT. DANCE TONIGHT

The "5-cent" dance in Odd Fellows' hall will be repeated tonight. A. D. Hurd of 110 South Adams street promised the usual good time to all who attend.

STRANGE, LURING NUMBERS ARE EASY OF ACCESS WITH THIS BOOKLET IN USE

Say, folks, when looking over your memorandum book at the beginning of the week did you ever see stuck down on one corner of a page "Call Glendale 1259-117"? And you couldn't for the life of you think whose number that was— And you wonder if it was something important— And then you think some more— And the more you think about it the surer you are that it WAS something important— And finally you get down the telephone book— And look at every number in it— And at last you find it after an hour's search, the last name in the Zs— And it is Mr. Zynder's, your vegetable dealer, to whom you intended to phone for a box of potatoes— And you have got yourself all riled up over something that didn't amount to a hill of beans— And wasted a lot of valuable time— And have gone through your entire golfing vocabulary several times— Did that ever happen to you?

Appreciate Directory
If so, you will appreciate the new directory, being gotten out by The Glendale Evening News in which the usual order of things is just reversed. Instead of the names being arranged alphabetically the numbers are arranged numerically.

If you had been the possessor of one of these books you could have found that number in just about two seconds and saved yourself a lot of trouble.

This, however, is only one of the features. The pamphlet will also contain a classified directory of all the live business houses in Glendale and a booster section in which many interesting facts about the city may be found. Altogether, it will be a very handy little book to have around.

These books are now being prepared at The Evening News office and will be ready for distribution in a few weeks. They are free. Don't fail to get one.

There are three kinds of lies—white lies, black lies and society fibs.

Grand Jury to Probe Klan's Mob Violence

LOS ANGELES, April 29.—The impaneling of the 1922 county grand jury for a sweeping investigation of the Ku Klux Klan and mob violence, particularly the Inglewood raid, which is expected to result in wholesale arrests, was begun today in Superior Judge Houser's court. Nineteen jurors, the regular number, were to be chosen.

Efforts were made to complete the jury by tonight so that the investigation of the Ku Klux Klan, the reason for the impaneling of the inquisitorial body, can be started Monday. Arrangements were made for the calling of the first witness and the submission of the documentary evidence seized when the Ku Klux Klan headquarters were raided Wednesday night.

"We're ready for the grand jury investigation," District Attorney Woolwine announced. "We have sufficient evidence for a strong case against the Ku Klux Klan and we expect to uncover additional information during the investigation."

Partly on evidence seized in the raid on the Los Angeles headquarters of the Klan three men were arrested in Bakersfield on indictment returned by the Kern county grand jury, investigating the Klan and mob violence. The evidence was submitted by District Attorney Dorsey, who made a special trip to Los Angeles to inspect the papers seized in the raid. Dorsey returned to Bakersfield with the names of officers of the Klan in Bakersfield and Taft.

Former service men who are members of the Klan were today in possession of a statement issued by Buron R. Fitts, former state commander of the American Legion and now national committeeman for the organization, who bitterly condemned the Inglewood raid.

MRS. ROBERT KUHN LEAVES

Mrs. Robert Kuhn, who has been visiting for the past six weeks with Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Robinson at 1520 Lorraine street, is leaving tonight for her home in St. Louis. She has made a number of trips to Southern California and declares that she likes Glendale better each time. Business interests of her husband in the middle west make it impossible for her to remain here permanently.
