8 And when Asa heard these words, and the prophetic of Oded the prophet, he took courage, and put away the abominable idols out of all the land of Judah and Benjamin, and out of the cities which he had taken from mount Ephraim, and renewed the altar of the LORD that was before the porch of the LORD.

9 And he gathered all Judah and Benjamin, and the strangers with them out of Ephraim and Manasseh, and out of Simeon: (for they fell to him out of Israel in abundance, when they saw that the LORD his God was with him)

10 So they gathered themselves together at Jerusalem in the third month, in the sixteenth year of the reign of Asa.

11 And they offered unto the LORD of the same time, of the spoil which they had brought, seven hundred oxen, and seven thousand sheep.

12 And they entered into a covenant to seek the LORD God of their fathers, with all their heart and with all their soul;

13 That whosoever would not seek the LORD God of Israel, should be put to death, whether small or great, whether man or woman.

14 And they swore unto the LORD with a loud voice, and with shouting, and with trumpets, and with cornets.

15 And all Judah rejoiced at the oath: for they had sworn with all their hearts, and sought him with their whole desire, and he was found of them: and the LORD gave them rest round about.

16 And also concerning Maachab the mother of Asa the king, he removed her from being queen, because she had made an idol in a grove: and Asa cut down her idol, and stamped it, and burnt it at the brook Kidron.

17 But the high places were not taken away out of Israel: nevertheless, the heart of Asa was perfect all his days.

18 And he brought into the house of God the things that his father had dedicated, and that he himself had dedicated, silver and gold, and vessels,

In the six and thirtieth year of the reign of Asa, Baasha king of Israel came up against Judah, and built Ramah, to the intent that he might let none go out or come in to Asa king of Judah.

2 Then Asa brought out silver and gold out of the treasures of the house of the LORD, and of the kings house, and sent to Ben-hadad king of Syria, that dwelt at Damascus, saying,

5 And it came to passe, when Baasha heard it, that he left off building of Ramah, and let his work cease.

6 Then Asa the king took all Judah, and they carried away the stones of Ramah, and the timber thereof, wherewith Baasha was a building, and he built therewith Geba and Mizpah.

7 And at that time Hanani the seer came to Asa king of Judah, and said unto him, Because thou hast relied on the king of Syria, and not relied on the LORD thy God, therefore to the host of the king of Syria escaped out of thine hand.

2 And he placed garriſons in all the fenced cities of Judah, and ſet garriſons in the land of Judah, and in the cities of Ephraim, which Aſa his father had taken.

3 And the LORD was with Jehoshaphat, becauſe he walked in the ſtrict wayes of his father David, and ſought not unto Baalim:

4 But ſought to the LORD God of his father, and walked in his commandments, and not after the doings of Iſrael:

5 Therefore the LORD ſtabliſhed the kingdom in his hands, and all Judah brought to Jehoshaphat preſents, and he had riches and honour in abundance.

6 And his heart was lifted up in the wayes of the LORD: moreover, he took away the high places and groves out of Judah.

7 Alſo in the third year of his reign, he ſent to his princes, even to Ben-haii, and to Shadiah, and to Zechariah, and to Baruchai, and to Biſchalah, to teach in the cities of Judah.

8 And with them he ſent Levites, even She-mariah, and Jehonathab, and Jehoadab, and Aſahel, and She-mariah, and Jehonathab, and Adoniah, and Tobiah, and Tob-adoniah, Levites; and with them Eliahaza, and Jehoram, prieſts.

9 And they taught in Judah, and had the book of the law of the LORD with them, and went about throughout all the cities of Judah, and taught the people.

10 And the fear of the LORD fell upon all the kingdoms of the lands that were round about Judah, ſo that they made no war againſt Jehoshaphat.

11 And ſome of the Philiftines brought Jehoshaphat preſents, and ſilber, and the Arabians brought him flockes, ſeven thouſand and ſeven hundred rams, and ſeven thouſand and ſeven hundred he-goats.

12 And Jehoshaphat wared great exceedingly; and he built in Judah caſtles, and cities of ſtope. 13 And he had much built in the cities of Judah: and the men of war, mighty men of valour, were in Jeruſalem.

14 And theſe are the numbers of them according to the houſe of their fathers: Of Judah the captains of thouſands; Azab the chief, and with him mighty men of valour, three hundred thouſand.

15 And next to him was Jehuſhanai the captain, and with him two hundred and fourſcore thouſand.

16 And next to him was Amariah the ſon of Bilchiah, who willingly offered himſelf into the LORD, and with him two hundred thouſand mighty men of valour.

17 And of Benjamin, Eladai a mighty man of valour, and with him armed men with bowe and ſhield, two hundred thouſand.

18 And next to him was Jehozabab, and with him an hundred and fourſcore thouſand, ready prepared for the war.

19 Theſe waited on the king, beſides thoſe whom the king put in the fenced cities, throughout all Judah.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Jehoshaphat joyned in affinity with Ahab, is perſwaded to go with him againſt Ramoth-gilead. 4 Ahab ſeduced by falſe prophets according to the word of Micaiah, is ſlain there.

NOW Jehoshaphat had riches and honour in abundance, and joyned affinity with Ahab.

2 And after certain years, he went down to Ahab to Samaria; and Ahab killed ſheep and oxen for him in abundance, and for the people that he had with him, and perſwaded him to go up with him to Ramoth-gilead.

3 And Ahab king of Iſrael ſaid unto Jehoshaphat king of Judah, Tell thou go with me to Ramoth-gilead: And he answered him, I am as thou art, and my people as thy people, and we will be with thee in the war.

4 And Jehoshaphat ſaid unto the king of Iſrael, Enquire, I pray thee, at the word of the LORD to day.

5 Therefore the king of Iſrael gathered together of prophets four hundred men, and ſaid unto them, Shall we go to Ramoth-gilead to battell, or ſhall I forbear? And they ſaid, Go up, for God will deliver it into the kings hand.

6 But Jehoshaphat ſaid, Is there not here a prophet of the LORD beſides, that we might enquire of him?

7 And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto Jehoshaphat, There is yet one man, by whom we may enquire of the LORD: but I hate him, for he never propheth good unto me, but alwayes evil: the ſame is Micaiah the ſon of Jimſai. And Jehoshaphat ſaid, Let not the king ſay ſo.

8 And the king of Iſrael called for one of his officers, and ſaid, Fetch quickly Micaiah the ſon of Jimſai.

9 And the king of Iſrael and Jehoshaphat king of Judah, ſat either of them on his throne, clothed in their robes, and they ſat in a ſole place at the entering in of the gate of Samaria; and all the prophets propheticd before them.

10 And Zedekiah the ſon of Chenaanah, had made him horns of iron, and ſaid, Thus ſaith the LORD, With theſe thou ſhalt puſh Syria, until thou ſhalt be conſumed.

11 And all the prophets propheticd ſo, ſaying, Go up to Ramoth-gilead, and proſper for the LORD: ſhall deliver it into the hand of the king.

12 And the meſſenger that went to call Micaiah, ſpoke to him, ſaying, Behold, the words of the prophets declare good to the king: with one aſſent: let thy word therefore, I pray thee, be like one of theſe, and ſpeak thou good.

13 And Micaiah ſaid, As the LORD liveth, even what my God ſaith, that will I ſpeak.

14 And when he was come to the king, the king ſaid unto him, Micaiah, ſhall we go to Ramoth-gilead to battell, or ſhall I forbear? And he ſaid, Go ye up and proſper, and they ſhall be delivered into your hand.

15 And the king ſaid to him, How many times ſhall I adviſe thee, that thou ſay nothing but the truth to me in the name of the LORD?

16 Then he ſaid, I did ſee all Iſrael ſcattered upon the mountains, as ſheep that have no ſhepherd; and the LORD ſaid, Theſe have no maſter; let them return therefore every man to his houſe in peace.

the LORD, I saw the LORD sitting upon his throne, and all the host of heaven standing on his right hand, and on his left.

19 And the LORD said, Who shall entice Ahab king of Israel, that he may go up and fall at Ramoth-gilead? And one spake, saying after this manner, and another saying after that manner.

20 Then there came out a spirit, and stood before the LORD, and said, I will entice him. And the LORD said unto him, Wherewith?

21 And he said, I will go out, and be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And the LORD said, Thou shalt entice him, and thou shalt also prevail: go out, and do even so.

22 Now therefore behold, the LORD hath put a lying spirit in the mouth of these thy prophets, and the LORD hath spoken evil against thee.

23 Then Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah, came near, and smote Micaiah upon the cheek, and said, Which way went the spirit of the LORD from me, to speak unto thee?

24 And Micaiah said, Behold, thou shalt see on that day, when thou shalt go up into an inner chamber to hide thyself.

25 Then the king of Israel said, Take ye Micaiah, and carry him back to Amon the governour of the citie, and to Joash the kings son:

26 And say, Thus saith the king, Put this fellow in the prison, and feed him with bread of affliction, and with water of affliction, untill I return in peace.

27 And Micaiah said, If thou certainly return in peace, then hath not the LORD spoken by me. And he said, Hearken all ye people.

28 So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah went up to Ramoth-gilead.

29 And the king of Israel said unto Jehoshaphat, I will disguise my self, and will go to the battell, but put thou on thy robes. So the king of Israel disguised himself, and they went to the battell.

30 Now the king of Syria had commanded the captains of the chariots that were with him, saying, Fight ye not with small or great, save only with the king of Israel.

31 And it came to passe when the captains of the chariots saw Jehoshaphat, that they said, It is the king of Israel: therefore they compassed about him to fight: but Jehoshaphat cried out, and the LORD helped him, and God moved them to depart from him.

32 For it came to passe that when the captains of the chariots perceived that it was not the king of Israel, they returned back again from pursuing him.

33 And a certain man drew a bow at a venture, and smote the king of Israel between the joynts of the barnicle: therefore he said to his chariot-man, Turn thine hand, that thou mayest carry me out of the host, for I am wounded.

34 And the battell increased that day: howbeit the king of Israel layed himself up in his chariot against the Syrians, untill the even: and about the time of the sun going down, he died.

1 Jehoshaphat reproved by Jehu, visited his kingdom. 6 His instructions to the judges, 8 to the priests and Levites.

AND Jehoshaphat the king of Judah returned to his house in peace to Jerusalem.

out to meet him, and said to king Jehoshaphat, Shouldest thou help the ungodly, and love them that hate the LORD? therefore is wrath upon thee from before the LORD.

3 Nevertheless, there are good things found in thee, in that thou hast taken away the groves out of the land, and hast prepared thine heart to seek God.

4 And Jehoshaphat dwelt at Jerusalem: and he went out againsthorow the people, from Beer-sheba to mount Ephraim, and brought them back unto the LORD God of their fathers.

5 And he set judges in the land, thorowout all the fenced cities of Judah, citie by citie.

6 And said to the judges, Take heed what ye do: for ye judge not for man, but for the LORD, whose will ye follow in the judgement.

7 Wherefore now, let the fear of the LORD be upon you, take heed and do it: for there is no iniquitie with the LORD our God, nor respect of persons, nor taking of gifts.

8 Dozobover in Jerusalem did Jehoshaphat set of the Levites, and of the priests, and of the chief of the fathers of Israel, for the judgement of the LORD, and for controversies when they returned to Jerusalem.

9 And he charged them, saying, Thus shall ye do in the fear of the LORD, faithfully, and with a perfect heart.

10 And what cause soever shall come to you of your brethren that dwell in their cities, between blood and blood, between law and commandment, statutes and judgements, ye shall even warn them that they trespass, not against the LORD, and so wrath come upon you, and upon your brethren: this do, and ye shall not trespass.

11 And behold, Amariah the chief priest is over you in all matters of the LORD, and Zebadiah the son of Ishmael the ruler of the house of Judah, for all the kings matters: also the Levites shall be officers before you. Deal courageously, and the LORD shall be with the good.

2 Then there came some that told Jehoshaphat, saying, There cometh a great multitude against thee from beyond the sea on this side Syria, and behold, they be in Hazazon-tamar, which is En-gedi.

3 And Jehoshaphat feared, and set himself to seek the LORD, and proclaimed a fast thorowout all Judah.

7 Art not thou our God, † who didst drive out the inhabitants of this land before thy people Israel, and gavest it to the seed of Abraham thy friend for ever?

8 And they dwelt therein, and have built thee a sanctuary therein for thy Name, saying,

9 * If when evil cometh upon us, as the sword, judgement, or pestilence, or famine, we stand before this house, and in thy presence (for thy Name is in this house) and cry unto thee in our affliction, then thou wilt hear and help.

10 And now behold, the children of Ammon and Moab, and mount Seir, whom thou wouldst not let Israel invade, when they came out of the land of Egypt, but they turned from them, and destroyed them not:

11 Behold, I say, how they reward us, to come to cast us out of thy possession, which thou hast given us to inherit.

12 O our God, wilt thou not judge them: for we have no might against this great company that cometh against us: neither know we what to do, but our eyes are upon thee.

13 And all Judah stood before the LORD, with their little ones, their wives and their children.

14 ¶ Then upon Tabaziel the son of Zebariah, the son of Benalab, the son of Jehiel, the son of Bathanab, a Levite of the sons of Aaph, came the Spirit of the LORD in the midst of the congregation.

15 And he said, Hearken ye, all Judah, and ye inhabitants of Jerusalem, and thou king Jehoshaphat, Thus saith the LORD unto you, Be not afraid, nor dismayed by reason of this great multitude; for the battell is not yours, but Gods.

16 To morrow go ye down against them: behold, they come up by the cliff of Jezreel, and ye shall finde them at the end of the || brook, before the wilderness of Jeruel.

17 Ye shall not need to fight in this battell; set your selves, stand ye still, and see the salvation of the LORD with you, O Judah and Jerusalem: fear not, nor be dismayed; to morrow go out against them, for the LORD will be with you.

18 And Jehoshaphat bowed his head, with his face to the ground: and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem fell before the LORD, worshipping the LORD.

19 And the Levites, of the children of the Kohathites, and of the children of the Korhites, stood up to praise the LORD God of Israel with a loud voice on high.

20 And they rose early in the morning, and went forth into the wilderness of Tekoa: and as they went forth, Jehoshaphat stood and said, Hear me, O Judah, and ye inhabitants of Jerusalem, * Believe in the LORD your God, so shall you be established; beleve his prophets, so shall ye prosper.

21 And when he had consulted with the people, he appointed singers unto the LORD, and † that should praise the beauty of holiness, as they went out before the army, and to say, Praise the LORD, for his mercy endureth for ever.

22 ¶ And when they began † to sing and to praise, the LORD set ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab, and mount Seir, which were come against Judah, and || they were smitten.

23 For the children of Ammon and Moab, stood up against the inhabitants of mount Seir, utterly to slay and destroy them: and when they had made an end of the inhabitants of Seir, every one helped † to destroy another.

24 And when Judah came toward the watchtower in the wilderness, they looked unto the multitude, and behold, they were dead bodies fallen to the earth, and † none escaped.

25 And when Jehoshaphat and his people came to take away the spoil of them, they found among them in abundance, both riches with the dead bodies, and precious jewels (which they strip off for themselves) more than they could carry away: and they were three dayes in gathering of the spoil, it was so much.

26 ¶ And on the fourth day they assembled themselves in the valley of Berachah; for there they blessed the LORD: therefore the name of the same place was called, the valley of Berachah unto this day.

27 Then they returned every man of Judah and Jerusalem, and Jehoshaphat in the † forefront of them, to go again to Jerusalem with joy: for the LORD had made them to rejoyce over their enemies.

28 And they came to Jerusalem with psalteries, and harps, and trumpets, unto the house of the LORD.

29 And the fear of God was on all the kingdoms of those countreys, when they had heard that the LORD fought against the enemies of Israel.

30 So the realm of Jehoshaphat was quiet: for his God gave him rest round about.

31 ¶ And Jehoshaphat reigned over Judah: he was thirty and five yeers old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty and five yeers in Jerusalem: and his mothers name was Azubab the daughter of Shlhi.

32 And he walked in the way of Asa his father, and departed not from it, doing that which was right in the sight of the LORD.

33 Howbeit, the high places were not taken away, for as yet the people had not prepared their hearts unto the God of their fathers.

34 Now the rest of the acts of Jehoshaphat, first and last, behold, they are written in the † book of Jehu the son of Vanani, † who is mentioned in the book of the kings of Israel.

35 ¶ And after this did Jehoshaphat king of Judah joyne himself with Achaziah king of Israel, who did very wickedly:

36 And he joyned himself with him to make ships to go to Tarshish: and they made the ships in Ezion-geber.

37 Then Elizeer the son of Dodabab of Bersha, prophesied against Jehoshaphat, saying, Because thou hast joyned thy self with Achaziah, the LORD hath broken thy works: and the ships were broken, that they were not able to go to Tarshish.

were the sons of Jehoshaphat king of Israel. 3 And their father gave them great gifts of silver, and of gold, and of precious things, with fenced cities in Judah: but the kingdom gave he to Jehozam, because he was the first-born.

4 Now when Jehozam was risen up to the kingdom of his father, he strengthened himself, and slew all his brethren with the sword, and divers also of the princes of Israel.

5 Jehozam was thirty and two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem.

6 And he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, like as did the house of Ahab: for he had the daughter of Ahab to wife: and he wrought that which was evil in the eyes of the Lord.

7 Howbeit the Lord would not destroy the house of David, because of the covenant that he had made with David, and as he promised to give a light to him, and to his sons forever.

8 In his dayes the Edomites revolted from under the dominion of Judah, and made themselves a king.

9 Then Jehozam went forth with his princes, and all his chariots with him; and he rose up by night, and smote the Edomites which compassed him in, and the captains of the chariots.

10 So the Edomites revolted from under the hand of Judah unto this day. The same time also did Libnah revolt from under his hand; because he had forsaken the Lord God of his fathers.

11 Moreover, he made high places in the mountains of Judah, and caused the inhabitants of Jerusalem to commit fornication, and compelled Judah thereto.

12 And there came a writing to him from Elshah the prophet, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of David thy father; Because thou hast not walked in the wayes of Jehoshaphat thy father, nor in the wayes of Aha king of Judah,

13 But hast walked in the way of the kings of Israel, and hast made Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem to go a whoring, like to the whoredoms of the house of Ahab, and also hast slain thy brethren of thy fathers house, which were better than thy self:

14 Behold, with a great plague will the Lord smite thy people, and thy children, and thy wives, and all thy goods.

15 And thou shalt have great sickness by disease of thy bowels, untill thy bowels fall out, by reason of the sickness day by day.

16 Moreover, the Lord stirred up against Jehozam the spirit of the Philistines, and of the Arabians that were near the Ethiopians.

17 And they came up into Judah, and brake into it, and carried away all the substance that was found in the kings house, and his sons also, and his wives; so that there was never a son left him, save Jehoahaz the youngest of his sons.

18 And after all this the Lord smote him in his bowels with an incurable disease.

19 And it came to passe that in process of time, after the end of two years, his bowels fell out by reason of his sickness: so he died of sore diseases. And his people made no burning for him, like the burning of his fathers.

20 Thirty and two years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jerusalem eight years, and departed without being desired; howbeit, they buried him in the city of David, but not in the sepulchres of the kings.

CHAP. XXII.

Ahaziah succeeding, reigneth wickedly. In his confederacie with Joram the son of Ahab, he is slain by Jehu. Athaliah destroying all the seed royally, save Joash, whom Jehoshabeath his aunt hid, usurpeth the kingdom.

And the inhabitants of Jerusalem made Ahaziah his youngest son, king in his stead: for the band of men that came with the Arabians to the camp, had slain all the eldest. So Ahaziah the son of Jehozam king of Judah reigned.

2 Forty and two years old was Ahaziah when he began to reign, and he reigned one year in Jerusalem: his mothers name also was Athaliah the daughter of Omri.

3 He also walked in the wayes of the house of Ahab: for his mother was his counsellour to do wickedly.

4 Wherefore he did evil in the sight of the Lord, like the house of Ahab: for they were his counsellors after the death of his father, to his destruction.

5 He walked also after their counsell, and went with Jehozam the son of Ahab king of Israel, to war against Hazael king of Syria at Ramoth-gilead: and the Syrians smote Joram.

6 And he returned to be healed in Jezreel, because of the wounds which were given him at Ramah, when he fought with Hazael king of Syria. And Ahaziah the son of Jehozam king of Judah, went down to see Jehoram the son of Ahab at Jezreel, because he was sick.

7 And the destruction of Ahaziah was of God by coming to Joram: for when he was come, he went out with Jehozam against Jehu the son of Nimshi, whom the Lord had anointed to cut off the house of Ahab.

8 And it came to passe that when Jehu was executing judgement upon the house of Ahab, and found the princes of Judah, and the sons of the brethren of Ahaziah, that ministered to Ahaziah, he slew them.

9 And he sought Ahaziah: and they caught him, (for he was hid in Samaria) and brought him to Jehu: and when they had slain him, they buried him, because (said they) he is the son of Jehoshaphat, who sought the Lord with all his heart. So the house of Ahaziah had no power to keep still the kingdom.

10 But when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah, saw that her son was dead, she arose, and destroyed all the seed royally of the house of Judah.

11 But Jehoshabeath the daughter of the king, took Joash the son of Ahaziah, and stole him from among the kings sons that were slain, and put him and his nurse in a bed chamber. So Jehoshabeath the daughter of king Jehozam, the wife of Jehoiada the priest (for she was the sister of Ahaziah) hid him from Athaliah, so that she slew him not.

12 And he was with them hid in the house of God six years, and Athaliah reigned over the land.

CHAP. XXIII.

Jehoiada having set things in order, maketh Joash King. Athaliah is slain. Jehoiada restoreth the worship of God.

And in the seventh year Jehoiada strengthened himself, and took the captains of hundreds, Azariah the son of Jerobam, and Ishmael the son of Jehobanan, and Azariah the son son of Obed, and Baasab the son of Abiath, and Elthaphar the son of Achiz, into covenant with him.

2 And they went about in Judah, and gathered the Levites out of all the cities of Judah, and the chief of the fathers of Israel, and they came to Jerusalem.

3 And all the congregation made a covenant with the king in the house of God: and he said unto them, Behold, the kings son shall reign, as the LORD hath said of the sons of David.

4 This is the thing that ye shall do, A third part of you entering on the sabbath, of the priests and of the Levites, shall be porters of the doors,

5 And a third part shall be at the kings house, and a third part at the gate of the foundation: and all the people shall be in the courts of the house of the LORD.

6 But let none come into the house of the LORD, save the priests, and they that minister of the Levites, they shall go in, for they are holy: but all the people shall keep the watch of the LORD.

7 And the Levites shall compass the king round about, every man with his weapons in his hand, and whosoever else cometh into the house, he shall be put to death: but he who with the king when he cometh in, and when he goeth out.

8 So the Levites and all Judah did according to all things that Jehoiada the priest had commanded: and took every man his men that were to come in on the sabbath: for Jehoiada the priest dismissed not the courses.

9 Moreover, Jehoiada the priest delivered to the captains of hundreds, spears and bucklers, and shields, that had been king Davids, which were in the house of God.

10 And he let all the people (every man having his weapon in his hand) from the right side of the temple, to the left side of the temple, along by the altar and the temple, by the king round about.

11 Then they brought out the kings son, and put upon him the crown, and gave him the testament, and made him king: and Jehoiada and his sons anointed him, and said, God save the king.

12 Now when Athaliah heard the noise of the people running and praising the king, she came to the people into the house of the LORD.

13 And she looked, and behold the king stood at his pillar, at the entering in, and the princes, and the trumpets by the king: and all the people of the land rejoiced, and sounded with trumpets, also the singers with instruments of musick: and such as taught to sing psalm. Then Athaliah rent her clothes, and said, Treason, treason.

14 Then Jehoiada the priest brought out the captains of hundreds that were set over the house, and said unto them, Have her forth of the ranges: and whoso followeth her, let him be slain with the sword. For the priest said, Slay her not in the house of the LORD.

15 So they laid hands on her, and when she was come to the entering of the house-gate by the kings house, they slew her there.

16 And Jehoiada made a covenant between him, and between all the people, and between the king, that they should be the LORDS people.

17 Then all the people went to the house of Baal, and brake it down, and brake his altars, and his images in pieces, and New Baalam the priest of Baal before the altars.

18 And Jehoiada appointed the offices of the house of the LORD by the hand of the priests the Levites, whom David had distributed in the house of the LORD, to offer the burnt offerings of the LORD, as it is written in the law of Moses, with trumpets and with singing, as it was ordained by David.

19 And he set the porters at the gates of the house of the LORD, that none which was unclean in any thing should enter in.

20 And he took the captains of hundreds, and the nobles, and the governors of the people, and all the people of the land, and brought down the king from the house of the LORD: and they came throught the high gate into the kings house, and set the king upon the throne of the kingdom.

21 And all the people of the land rejoiced: and the city was quiet, after that they had slain Athaliah with the sword.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Joash reigneth well all the daies of Jehoia. 4 He giveth order for the repair of the temple. 15 Jehoiada his death and honourable buriall. 17 Joash falling to idolatry, slayeth Zechariah the son of Jehoia. 23 Joash is spoiled by the Syrians, and slain by Zabad and Jehoabad. 27 Amaziah succeedeth him.

Joash was seven years old when he began to reign; and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem: his mothers name also was Zibea of Beer-sheba.

2 And Joash did that which was right in the sight of the LORD all the dayes of Jehoiada the priest.

3 And Jehoiada took for him two wives, and he begat sons and daughters.

4 And it came to passe after this, that Joash was minded to repair the house of the LORD.

5 And he gathered together the priests and the Levites, and said to them, Go out unto the cities of Judah, and gather of all Israel money to repair the house of your God from year to year, and see that ye haste the matter: howbeit the Levites hastened it not.

6 And the king called for Jehoiada the chief, and said unto him, Why hast thou not required of the Levites to bring in out of Judah and out of Jerusalem, the collection, according to the commandment of Moses the servant of the LORD, and of the congregation of Israel, for the tabernacle of witness?

7 For the sons of Athaliah, that wicked woman, had broken up the house of God, and also all the dedicate things of the house of the LORD did they bestow upon Baalim.

8 And at the kings commandment they made a chest, and set it without at the gate of the house of the LORD.

9 And they made a proclamation throught Judah and Jerusalem, to bring in to the LORD, the collection that Moses the servant of God laid upon Israel in the wilderness.

10 And all the princes and all the people rejoiced, and brought in, and cast into the chest, until they had made an end.

11 Now it came to passe, that at what time the chest was brought unto the kings office, by the hand of the Levites: and when they saw that there was much money: the kings scribe, and the high priests officer came and emptied the chest, and took took it, and carried it to his place again. Thus they did day by day, and gathered money in abundance.

12 And the king and Jeholada gave it to such as did the work of the service of the house of the LORD, and hired masons and carpenters to repair the house of the LORD, and also such as wrought iron and brass to mend the house of the LORD.

13 So the workmen wrought, and the work was perfected by them, and they set the house of God in his state, and strengthened it.

14 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the money before the king, and Jeholada, whereof were made vessels for the house of the LORD, even vessels to minister, and to offer wheat, and spoons, and vessels of gold and silver: and they offered burnt-offerings in the house of the LORD continually, all the days of Jeholada.

15 ¶ But Jeholada waxed old, and was full of days when he died: an hundred and thirty years old was he when he died.

16 And they buried him in the city of David among the kings, because he had done good in Israel, both towards God, and towards his house.

17 Now after the death of Jeholada came the princes of Judah, and made obediency to the king: then the king hearkened unto them.

18 And they left the house of the LORD God of their fathers, and served groves and idols: and wrath came upon Judah and Jerusalem for this their trespass.

19 Yet he sent prophets to them, to bring them again unto the LORD, and they testified against them: but they would not give ear.

20 And the spirit of God came upon Zechariah the son of Jeholada the priest, which stood above the people, and said unto them, Thus saith God, Why transgress ye the commandments of the LORD, that ye cannot prosper? because ye have forsaken the LORD, he hath also forsaken you.

21 And they conspired against him, and stoned him with stones at the commandment of the king, in the court of the house of the LORD.

22 Thus Joash the king remembered not the kindness which Jeholada his father had done to him, but slew his son: and when he died, he said, The LORD look upon it, and requite it.

23 ¶ And it came to pass at the end of the year, that the host of Syria came up against him: and they came to Judah and Jerusalem, and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoil of them unto the king of Damascus.

24 For the armie of the Syrians came with a small company of men, and the LORD delivered a very great host into their hand, because they had forsaken the LORD God of their fathers: so they executed judgement against Joash.

25 And when they were departed from him, (for they left him in great diseases) his own servants conspired against him, for the blood of the sons of Jeholada the priest, and slew him on his bed, and he died: and they buried him in the city of David; but they buried him not in the sepulchres of the kings.

26 And there are they that conspired against him; ¶ Zabab the son of Shimeath an Ammonitess, and Jehoazabab the son of a Shimeath a Moabitess.

27 ¶ Now concerning his sons, and the greatness of the burdens laid upon him, and the repairing of the house of God, behold, they are written in the history of the book of the kings. And Amaziah his son reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Amaziah beginneth to reign. 3 He executeth justice on the traitours. 5 Having hired an armie of Israelites against the Edomites, at the word of a prophet he looeth the hundred talents, and dismisseth them. 11 He overthroweth the Edomites. 10, 13 The Israelites discontented with their dismissal, spoil as they return home. 14 Amaziah proud of his victory, serveth the gods of Edom, and despiseth the admonitions of the prophet. 17 He provoketh Joash to his overthrow. 25 His reign. 27 He is slain by conspiracy.

Amaziah* was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty and nine years in Jerusalem: and his mothers name was Jehoaddan of Jerusalem.

2 And he did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, but not with a perfect heart.

3 ¶ Now it came to pass, when the kingdom was established to him, that he slew his servants that had killed the king his father.

4 But he slew not their children, but did as it is written in the law in the book of Moses, where the LORD commanded, saying, The fathers shall not die for the children, neither shall the children die for the fathers, but every man shall die for his own sin.

5 ¶ Moreover, Amaziah gathered Judah together, and made them captains over thousands, and captains over hundreds, according to the houses of their fathers, throughout all Judah and Benjamin: and he numbered them from twenty years old and above: and found them three hundred thousand choice men, able to go forth to war, that could handle spear and shield.

6 He hired also an hundred thousand mighty men of valour out of Israel, for an hundred talents of silver.

7 But there came a man of God to him, saying, O king, let not the armie of Israel go with thee, for the LORD is not with Israel, to wit, with all the children of Ephraim.

8 But if thou wilt go, do it, be strong for the battle: God shall make thee fall before the enemy: for God hath power to help, and to cast down.

9 And Amaziah said to the man of God, But what shall we do for the hundred talents which I have given to the army of Israel? And the man of God answered, The LORD is able to give thee much more than this.

10 Then Amaziah separated them, to wit, the army that was come to him out of Ephraim, to go home again: wherefore their anger was greatly kindled against Judah, and they returned home in great anger.

11 ¶ And Amaziah strengthened himself, and led forth his people, and went to the valley of Sair, and smote of the children of Seir, ten thousand.

12 And other ten thousand left alive, did the children of Judah carry away captive, and brought them unto the top of the rock, and cast them down from the top of the rock, that they all were broken in pieces.

13 ¶ But the countess of the armie which Amaziah sent back, that they should not go with with him to battell, fell upon the cities of Judah, from Samaria even unto Beth-boan, and smote there thousand of them, and took much spoil.

14 ¶ Now it came to passe, after that Amaziah was come from the slaughter of the Edomites, that he brought the gods of the children of Seir, and set them up to be his gods, and bowed down himself before them, and burned incense unto them.

15 Wherefore the anger of the LORD was kindled against Amaziah, and he sent unto him a prophet, which said unto him, Why hast thou sought after the gods of the people, which could not deliver their own people out of thine hand?

16 And it came to passe as he talked with him, that the king said unto him, Art thou made of the kings counsell? forbear; why shouldst thou be smitten? then the prophet forbore, and said, I know that God hath determined to destroy thee, because thou hast done this, and hast not hearkened unto my counsell.

17 ¶ Then Amaziah king of Judah took advice, and sent to Joah the son of Jehohaz, the son of Jehu, king of Israel, saying, Come let us see one another in the face.

18 And Joah king of Israel sent to Amaziah king of Judah, saying, The which that was in Lebanon, sent to the cedar that was in Lebanon, saying, Give thy daughter to my son to wife: and there passed by a wilde beast that was in Lebanon, and trode down the thistle.

19 Thou sayest, Lo, thou hast smitten the Edomites, and thine heart lifteth thee up to boast: abide now at home, why shouldst thou meddle to thine hurt, that thou shouldst fall, even thou, and Judah with thee?

20 But Amaziah would not hear, for he came of God, that he might deliver them into the hand of their enemies, because they sought after the gods of Edom.

21 So Joah the king of Israel went up, and they saw one another in the face, both he and Amaziah king of Judah, at Beth-shemesh, which belongeth to Judah.

22 And Judah was put to the worse before Israel, and they fled every man to his tent.

23 And Joah the king of Israel took Amaziah king of Judah the son of Joash, the son of Jehohaz, at Beth-shemesh, and brought him to Jerusalem, and brake down the wall of Jerusalem, from the gate of Ephraim to the corner gate four hundred cubits.

24 And he took all the gold and the silver, and all the vessels that were found in the house of God with Obed-edom, and the treasures of the kings house, the hostages also, and returned to Samaria.

25 ¶ And Amaziah the son of Joash king of Judah, sithen after the death of Joash son of Jehohaz king of Israel, sixteen years.

26 Now the rest of the acts of Amaziah, first and last, behold, are they not written in the book of the kings of Judah, and Israel?

27 ¶ Now after the time that Amaziah did turn away from following the LORD, they made a conspiracy against him in Jerusalem, and he fled to Lachish: but they sent to Lachish after him, and slew him there.

28 And they brought him upon hoies, and buried him with his fathers in the city of Judah.

proud, he invaded the priests office, and is smitten with leprosie. 23 He dieth, and Joahm succeedeth him.

Then all the people of Judah took Uziah, who was sixteen years old, and made him king in the room of his father Amazab.

2 He built a cloath, and reedified it to Judah, after that the king slept with his fathers.

3 Sixteen years old was Uziah, when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty and two years in Jerusalem: his mothers name also was Jecoliah of Jerusalem.

4 And he did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his father Amaziah did.

5 And he sought God in the dayes of Zechariah, who had understanding in the visions of God: and as long as he sought the LORD, God made him to prosper.

6 And he went forth and warred against the Philistines, and brake down the wall of Gath, and the wall of Jabneh, and the wall of Ashdod, and built cities about Ashdod, and among the Philistines.

7 And God helped him against the Philistines, and against the Arabians that dwelt in Gur-baal, and the Debunims.

8 And the Ammonites gave gifts to Uziah, and his name spread abroad even to the entering in of Egypt, for he strengthened himself exceedingly.

9 Moreover, Uziah built towers in Jerusalem at the corner-gate, and at the valley-gate, and at the turning of the wall, and fortified them.

10 Also he built towers in the desert, and digged many wells, for he had much cattell, both in the low-country, and in the plains: husbandmen also, and vine-dressers in the mountains, and in Carmel: for he loved husbandry.

11 Moreover, Uziah had an host of fighting men, that went out to war by bands, according to the number of their account, by the hand of Heiel the scribe, and Daasiah the ruler, under the hand of Hananiah, one of the kings captives.

12 The whole number of the chief of the fathers of the mighty men of valour, were two thousand and six hundred.

13 And under their hand was an army, three hundred thousand and seven thousand and five hundred, that made war with mightie power, to help the king against the enemy.

14 And Uziah prepared for them throughout all the bow, shields, and spears, and helmets, and habergeons, and bowes, and slings to cast stones.

15 And he made in Jerusalem engines invented by cunning men, to be on the towers and upon the bulwarks to shoot arrows and great stones with all, and his name spread far abroad, for he was marvellously helped till he was strong.

16 ¶ But when he was strong, his heart was lifted up to his destruction: for he transgressed against the LORD his God, and went into the temple of the LORD, to burn incense upon the altar of incense.

17 And Azariah the priest went in after him, and with him fourscore priests of the LORD, that were valiant men.

18 And they withstood Uziah the king, and said unto him, It apperaineth not to thee, Uziah, to burn incense into the LORD, but to the priests the sons of Aaron, that are consecrated to burn incense: go out of the sanctuary, for thou hast transgressed, neither shall it be for thine honour from the LORD God.

1 Uziah succeeding, and reising well in the dayes of Zechariah, prospereth. 16 Waxing

19 Then Uzziah was moob, and had a cancer in his head to burn incense: and while he was worshipping the priests, the leprous even rose up in his forehead, before the priests in the house of the LORD, from beside the incense altar.

20 And Azariah the chief priest, and all the priests looked upon him, and behold, he was leprous in his forehead, and they thrust him out from thence, yea, himself * hasten also to go out, because the LORD had smitten him.

21 * And Azariah the king was a leper unto the day of his death, and dwelt in a * † lebrall house, being a leper, for he was cut off from the house of the LORD: and Jotham his son was over the kings house, judging the people of the land.

22 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Uzziah, first and last, did Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz write.

23 So Uzziah slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the field of the buriall which belonged to the kings; for they said, he is a leper: and Jotham his son reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Jotham reigning well, prospereth. 5 He subdueth the Ammonites. 7 His reign. 9 Ahaz succeedeth him.

Jotham* was twenty and five yeers old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen yeers in Jerusalem: his mothers name also was Jerushah, the daughter of Zadok.

2 And he did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his father Uzziah did: howbeit he entred not into the temple of the LORD. And the people did yet corruptly.

3 He built the high gate of the house of the LORD, and on the wall of Ophel he built much.

4 Moreover, he built cities in the mountaints of Judah, and in the forests he built castles and towers.

5 ¶ He fought also with the king of the Ammonites, and prevailed against them. And the children of Ammon gave him the same yeer, an hundred talents of silver, and ten thousand measures of wheat, and ten thousand of barley. † So much did the children of Ammon pay unto him, both the second yeer and the third.

6 So Jotham became mighty, because he prepared his wayes before the LORD his God.

7 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Jotham, and all his wayes, and his wayes, to, they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel and Judah.

8 He was sive and twenty yeers old when he began to reign, and reigned sixteen yeers in Jerusalem.

9 ¶ And Jotham slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David: and Ahaz his son reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 Ahaz reigning very wickedly, is greatly afflicted by the Syrians. 6 Judah being captivated by the Israelites, is sent home by the counsell of Oded the prophet. 16 Ahaz sending for aid to Assyria, is not helped thereby. 22 In his distresse he groweth more idolatrous. 26 He dying, Hezekiah succeedeth him.

Ahaz* was twenty yeers old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen yeers in Jerusalem: but he did not that which was right in the sight of the LORD, like David his father.

2 For he walked in the wayes of the kings of Israel, and made also molten images for Baalim.

3 Moreover, he burnt incense in the valley of the sonne of Hinnom, and burnt his children in the fire, after the abominations of the heathen, whom the LORD had cast out before the children of Israel.

4 He sacrificed also, and burnt incense in the high places, and on the hills, and under every green tree.

5 Wherefore the LORD his God delivered him into the hand of the king of Syria, and they smote him, and carried away a great multitude of them captives, and brought them to Damascus: and he was also delivered into the hand of the king of Israel, who smote him with a great slaughter.

6 ¶ For Pekah the sonne of Remaliah slew in Judah an hundred and twenty thousand in one day, which were all † valiant men; because they had forsaken the LORD God of their fathers.

7 And Zichi a mighty man of Ephraim, slew Baalalab the kings sonne, and Azikah the gubernour of the house, and Ekanab ear was † next to the king.

8 And the children of Israel carried away captives of their brethren, two hundred thousand women, sonnes and daughters, and took also away much spoil from them, and brought the spoil to Samaria.

9 But a prophet of the LORD was there, whose name was Oded: and he went out before the host that came to Samaria, and said unto them, Behold, because the LORD God of your fathers was wroth with Judah, he hath delivered them into your hand, and ye have slain them in a rage that reacheth up unto heaven.

10 And now ye purpose to keep under the children of Judah and Jerusalem for bond-men and bond-women unto you: but are there not with you, even with you, sins against the LORD your God?

11 Now hear me therefore, and deliver the captives again, which ye have taken captive of your brethren: for the fierce wrath of God is upon you.

12 Then certain of the heads the children of Ephraim, Azariah the son of Johanan, Berechiah the son of Bechikanoth, and Jehizkiah the son of Shallum, and Amasa the son of Hadlai, stood up against them that came from the warre, 13 And said unto them, We shall not bring in the captives hither: for whereas we have offended against the LORD already, ye intend to adde more to our sinnes, and to our trespass: for our trespass is great, and there is fierce wrath against Israel.

14 So the armed men left the captives and the spoil, before the princes and all the congregation.

15 And the men which were expressed by name, rose up, and took the captives, and with the spoil clothed all that were naked among them, and arrayed them, and shod them, and gave them to eat and to drink, and anointed them, and carried all the feeble of them upon asses, and brought them to Jericho,* the citie of palm-trees, to their brethren: then they returned to Samaria.

16 ¶ At that time did king Ahaz send unto the kings of Assyria to help him.

17 For again the Edomites had come and smitten Judah, and carried away captives.

18 The Philistines also had invaded the cities of the low-countray, and of the south of Judah, and had taken Bezbethemesh, and Alalon, and Gederoth, and Socho with the villages thereof, and 19 For the LORD brought Judah low, because of Abaz king of Israel: for he made Judah naked, and transfessed sore against the LORD.

20 And Tiglath-pileser king of Assyria came unto him, and distressed him, but strengthened him not.

21 For Abaz took away a portion out of the house of the LORD, and out of the house of the king, and of the princes, and gave it unto the king of Assyria: but he helped him not.

22 And in the time of this distresse did he trespassse yet more against the LORD: this is that king Abaz.

23 For he sacrificed unto the gods of Damascus, which smote him: and he said, Because the gods of the kings of Syria help them, therefore will I sacrifice to them, that they may help me: but they were the ruine of him and of all Israel.

24 And Abaz gathered together the vessels of the house of God, and cut in pieces the vessels of the house of God, and shut up the doors of the house of the LORD, and he made him altars in every corner of Jerusalem.

25 And in every severall city of Judah he made high places to burn incense unto other gods, and provoked to anger the LORD God of his fathers.

26 Now the rest of his acts, and of all his wayes, first and last, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel.

27 And Abaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city, even in Jerusalem: but they brought him not into the sepulchres of the kings of Israel: and Hezekiah his son reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Hezekiah his good reign. 3 He restoreth religion. 5 He exhorteth the Levites. 12 They sanctifie themselves, and cleanse the house of God. 20 Hezekiah offereth solema sacrifices, whercin the Levites were more forward then the priests.

Hezekiah began to reign when he was five and twenty years old, and he reigned nine and twenty years in Jerusalem: and his mothers name was Abiah the daughter of Zebaiab.

2 And he did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, according to all that David his father had done.

3 And he, in the first year of his reign, in the first moneth, opened the doors of the house of the LORD, and repaired them.

4 And he brought in the priests, and the Levites, and gathered them together into the east-street.

5 And said unto them, Hear me, ye Levites, sanctifie now your selves, and sanctifie the house of the LORD God of your fathers, and carry forth the filthinesse out of the holy place.

6 For our fathers have trespasssed, and done that which was evil in the eyes of the LORD our God, and have forsaken him, and have turned away their faces from the habitation of the LORD, and turned their backs.

7 Also they have shut up the doors of the porch, and put out the lamps, and have not burnt incense, nor offered burnt-offerings in the holy place unto the God of Israel.

8 Therefore the wrath of the LORD was upon Judah and Jerusalem, and he hath delivered them to troubles, to affliction, and to sildings, as ye see with your eyes.

9 For so, our fathers have fallen by the sword, and our sons, and our daughters, and our wives, are in captivity for this.

10 Now it is in mine heart to make a covenant, with the LORD God of Israel, that his fierce wrath may turn away from us.

11 My sons, be not now negligent: for the LORD hath chosen you to stand before him, to serve him, and that you should minister unto him, and burn incense.

12 Then the Levites arose, Sabath the son of Amasai, and Joel the son of Azariah, of the sons of the Kohathites: and of the sons of Merari, Kish the son of Abdi, and Azariah the son of Tahaleel: and of the Gershonites, Joab the son of Siminab, and Eden the son of Seab:

13 And of the sons of Elisaphan; Shimei, and Zebiel: and of the sons of Alaph; Zebaiab, and Adataniah.

14 And of the sons of Heman; Zebiel, and Shimei: and of the sons of Jeduthun; She-matah, and Uzziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified themselves, and came, according to the commandment of the king, by the words of the LORD, to cleanse the house of the LORD.

16 And the priests went into the inner part of the house of the LORD, to cleanse it, and brought out all the uncleannesse that they found in the temple of the LORD, into the court of the house of the LORD. And the Levites took it, to carrie it out abroad into the brook Kidron.

17 Now they began on the first day of the first moneth to sanctifie, and on the eighth day of the moneth came they to the porch of the LORD: so they sanctified the house of the LORD in eight dayes, and in the thirteenth day of the first moneth they made an end.

18 Then they went in to Hezekiah the king, and said, We have cleansed all the house of the LORD, and the altar of burnt-offering, with all the vessels thereof, and the shew-bread table with all the vessels thereof.

19 Moreover, all the vessels which king Abaz in his reign did cast away in his transgression, have we prepared and sanctified, and beheld, they are before the altar of the LORD.

20 Then Hezekiah the king rose early, and gathered the rulers of the city, and went up to the house of the LORD.

21 And they brought seven bullocks, and seven rams, and seven lambs, and seven hee-goats, for a sin-offering for the kingdom, and for the sanctuary, and for Judah: and he commanded the priests the sons of Aaron to offer them on the altar of the LORD.

22 So they killed the bullocks, and the priests received the blood, and sprinkled it on the altar: likewise when they had killed the rams, they sprinkled the blood upon the altar: they killed also the lambs, and they sprinkled the blood upon the altar.

23 And they brought forth the hee-goats for the sin-offering, before the king and the congregation, and they laid their hands upon them:

24 And the priests killed them, and they made reconciliation with their blood upon the altar, to make an atonement for all Israel: for the king commanded that the burnt-offering, and the sin-offering should be made for all Israel.

25 And he set the Levites in the house of the LORD with cymbals, with psalteries, and with harps, according to the commandment of David, and of Gad the kings seer. And Nathan the pro-

CHAP. XXX.

1 Hezekiah proclaimeth a solemn passcover on the second month for Judah and Israel. 13 The assembly having destroyed the altars of idolatry, keep the feast fourteen days. 17 The priests and Levites bless the people.

A D Hezekiah sent to all Israel and Judah, and wrote letters also to Ephraim and Manasseh that they should come to the house of the LORD at Jerusalem, to keep the passcover unto the LORD God of Israel.

2 For the king had taken counsell, and his princes, and all the congregation in Jerusalem, to keep the passcover in the second month.

3 For they could not keep it at that time, because the priests had not sanctified themselves sufficiently, neither had the people gathered themselves together to Jerusalem.

4 And the thing pleased the king, and all the congregation.

5 So they established a decree, to make proclamation throughout all Israel, from Beer-sheba, even to Dan, that they should come to keep the passcover unto the LORD God of Israel at Je-

Then all the children of Israel returned every man to his possession into their own cities.

1 And Hezekiah appointed the courses of the priests and the Levites after their courses: every man according to his service, the priests and Levites for burnt-offerings, and for peace-offerings, to minister, and to give thanks, and to praise in the gates of the tents of the LORD.
3 He appointed also the king's portion of his substance, for the burnt-offerings, to wit, for the morning and evening burnt-offerings, and the burnt-offering for the sabbaths, and for the new moons, and for the set feasts, as it is written in the law of the LORD.

7 In the third month they began to lay the foundation of the heaps, and finished them in the seventh month.

8 And when Hezekiah and the princes came and saw the heaps, they blessed the LORD and his people Israel.

9 Then Hezekiah questioned with the priests and the Levites concerning the heaps.

10 And Azariah the chief priest of the house of Zadok, answered him, and said, Since the people began to bring the offerings into the house of the LORD, we have had enough to eat, and have left plenty: for the LORD hath blessed his people; and that which is left, is this great store.

20 And thus did Hezekiah throughout all Judah, and wrought that which was good and right and truth before the LORD his God.

21 And in every work that he began in the service of the house of God, and in the law, and in the commandments to seek his God, he did it with all his heart, and prospered.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Sennacherib invading Judah, Hezekiah fortified himself and encouraged his people. 9 Against the blasphemies of Sennacherib by message and letters, Hezekiah and Isaiah pray. 21 An Angel destroyeth the host of the Assyrians, to the glory of Hezekiah. 24 Hezekiah praying in his sickness, God giveth him a signe of recovery. 25 His waking proud; humbled by God. 27 His wealth and works. 31 His error in the embassy of Babylon. 32 He dying Manasseh succeedeth him.

* 2 King. 18. 13, &c. Isa. 36. 1, &c.

A free * these things and the establishment thereof, Sennacherib king of Assyria came, and and entred into Judah, and incamped against the fenced cities, and thought † to win them for himself.

2 And when Hezekiah saw that Sennacherib was come, and that † he was purposed to fight against Jerusalem;

3 He took counsell with his princes, and his mighty men, to stop the waters of the fountains, which were without the citty: and they did help him.

4 So there was gathered much people together, who stopp'd all the fountains, and the brook that † ran thowgh the midst of the land, saying, Why should the kings of Assyria come, and finde much water?

5 Also he strengthened himself, and built up all the wall that was broken, and raised it up to the towers, and another wall without, and repaired Billo in the city of David, and made † darts and shields in abundance.

6 And he set captains of war over the people, and gathered them together to him in the street of the gate of the city, and † spake comfortably to them, saying,

7 Be strong and courageous, be not afraid, nor dismayed for the king of Assyria, nor for all the multitude that is with him: for there be more with us, then with him.

8 Which him is an * arm of flesh, but with us is the LORD our God, to help us, and to fight our battels. And the people † rested themselves upon the words of Hezekiah king of Judah.

9 * After this did Sennacherib king of Assyria send his servants to Jerusalem (but he himselfe laid siege against Lachish, and all his power with him) unto Hezekiah king of Judah, and unto all Judah that were at Jerusalem, saying,

10 Thus saith Sennacherib king of Assyria, Whereon do ye trust, that ye abide in the siege in Jerusalem?

11 Doth not Hezekiah persuade you to give over your selves to die by famine and by thirst, saying, The LORD our God shall deliver us out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

12 Hath not the same Hezekiah taken away his high places and his altars, and commanded Judah and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall worship before one altar, and burn incense upon it?

13 Know ye not what I and my fathers have done unto all the people of other lands? were the gods of the nations of those lands any wayes able to deliver their lands out of mine hand?

14 Who was there among all the gods of those nations, that my fathers utterly destroyed, that could deliver his people out of mine hand, that your God should be able to deliver you out of mine hand?

15 Now therefore let not Hezekiah deceive you, nor persuade you on this manner, neither yet believe him: for no god of any nation or kingdom was able to deliver his people out of mine hand, and out of the hand of my fathers: how much lesse shall your God deliver you out of mine hand?

16 And his servants spake yet more against the LORD God, and against his servant Hezekiah.

17 He wrote also letters to rail on the LORD God of Israel, and to speak against him, saying, As the gods of the nations of other lands have not delivered their people out of mine hand, so shall not the God of Hezekiah deliver his people out of mine hand.

18 Then they cryed with a loud voice in the Jews speech unto the people of Jerusalem that were on the wall, to affright them, and to trouble them, that they might take the citty.

19 And they spake against the God of Jerusalem, as against the gods of the people of the earth, which were the work of the hands of man.

20 For this cause Hezekiah the king, and the prophet Isaiah the son of Amos, prayed and cryed to heaven.

21 * And the LORD sent an angel which cut off all the mighty men of valour, and the leaders and captains in the camp of the king of Assyria: to be returned with shame of face to his own land. And when he was come into the house of his god, they that came forth of his own bowels, † slew him there with the sword.

22 Thus the LORD saved Hezekiah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem from the hand of Sennacherib the king of Assyria, and from the hand of all other, and guided them on every side.

23 And many brought gifts unto the LORD to Jerusalem, and † presents to Hezekiah king of Judah: so that he was magnified in the sight of all nations, from thenceforth.

24 * In those dayes Hezekiah was sick to the death, and prayed unto the LORD: and he spake unto him, and he † gave him a signe.

25 But Hezekiah repented not again, according to the benefit done unto him: for his heart was lifted up; therefore there was wrath upon him, and upon Judah and Jerusalem.

26 Now withstanding Hezekiah humbled himself for † the pride of his heart (both he and the inhabitants of Jerusalem) so that the wrath of the LORD came not upon them in the dayes of Hezekiah.

27 * And Hezekiah had exceeding much riches and honour: and he made himself treasures of silver, and for gold, and for precious stones, and for spices, and for shields, and for all manner of † pleasant jewels:

28 Store-houses also for the increase of corn, and wine, and oyl, and stalls for all manner of beasts, and cotes for flocks.

29 Moreover, he provided him citties, and possession of flocks, and herds in abundance: for God had given him substance very much.

30 This same Hezekiah also stopped the upper water-course of Oshon, and brought it straight down to the west-side of the citty of David. And Hezekiah prospered in all his works.

31 * Hovobert, in the businesse of the † ambassadors of the princes of Babylon, who † sent unto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the land, God left him to trie him, that he might know all that was in his heart.

32 * Now the rest of the acts of Hezekiah, and his † goodness, behold, they are written in the vision of Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amos, and in the booke of the kings of Judah and Israel.

33 And Hezekiah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the chiefest of the sepulchres of the sons of David: and all Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem did him honour at his death: and Manasseh his son reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXXIII.

2 But did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, like unto the * abominations of the heathen, whom the LORD had cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he built again the high places which Hezekiah his father had * broken down, and he reared up altars for Baalim, and made groves, and worshipped all the host of heaven, and served them.

4 Also he built altars in the house of the LORD, whereof the LORD had said, In Jerusalem shall my Name be forever.

5 And he built altars for all the host of heathen, in the two courts of the house of the LORD.

6 And he caused his children to pass through the fire in the valley of the son of Hinon; also he observed times, and used incantments, and used witchcraft, and dealt with a familiar spirit, and with wizards; he wrought much evil in the sight of the LORD, to provoke him to anger.

7 And he set a carved image (the idol which he had made) in the house of God, of which God had said to David, and to Solomon his son, In * this house, and in Jerusalem, which I have chosen before all the tribes of Israel, will I put my Name forever.

8 Neither will I anymore remove the foot of Israel from out of the land which I have appointed for your fathers; so that they will take heed to do all that I have commanded them, according to the whole law and the statutes, and the ordinances by the hand of Moses.

9 So Manasseh made Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem to erre, and to do worse then the heathen, whom the LORD had destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 And the LORD spake to Manasseh, and to his people; but they would not hearken.

11 Therefore the LORD brought upon them the captains of the host of the king of Assyria, which took Manasseh among the thorns, and bound him with ll fetters, and carried him to Babylon.

12 And when he was in affliction, he besought the LORD his God, and humbled himself greatly before the God of his fathers.

13 And prayed unto him, and he was intreated of him, and heard his supplication, and brought him again to Jerusalem into his kingdom. Then Manasseh knew that the LORD he was God.

14 Now after this he built a wall without the cite of David, on the west side of Sion, in the valley, even to the entering in at the fifth gate, and compassed about Dymek, and raised it up a very great height, and put captains of war in all the fenced cities of Judah.

15 And he took away the strange gods, and the idol out of the house of the LORD, and all the altars that he had built in the mount of the house of the LORD, and in Jerusalem, and cast them out of the cite.

16 And he repaired the altar of the LORD, and sacrificed thereon peace-offerings, and thank-offerings, and commanded Judah to serve the LORD God of Israel.

17 Nevertheless, the people did sacrifice still in the high places, yea, unto the LORD and their God only.

18 Now the rest of the acts of Manasseh, and his prayer unto his God, and the words of the seers that spake to him in the Name of the LORD God of Israel, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Israel.

19 His prayer also, and how God was intreated of him, and all his sin, and his trespass, and the places wherein he built high places, and set up groves and graven images before he was punished: behold, they are written among the sayings of the seers.

20 So Manasseh slept with his fathers, and they buried him in his own grave: and Amon his son reigned in his stead.

21 Amon was two and twenty years old when he began to reign, and reigned two years in Jerusalem.

22 But he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, as did Manasseh his father: for Amon sacrificed unto all the carved images which Manasseh his father had made, and served them;

23 And humbled not himself before the LORD, as Manasseh his father had humbled himself; but Amon * trespassed more and more.

24 And his servants conspired against him, and slew him in his own house.

25 But the people of the land slew all them that had conspired against king Amon, and the people of the land made Josiah his son king in his stead.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Josiah his good reign. 3 He destroyeth idolatry.

8 He taketh order for the repair of the temple.

14 Hilkiah having found a book of the law, Josiah sendeth to Huldah to enquire of the Lord. 23 Huldah prophesieth destruction of Jerusalem, but repiteth thereof in Josiah's time. 29 Josiah causing it to be read in a solemn assembly, reneweth the covenant with God.

Josiah * was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jerusalem one and thirty years.

2 And he did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, and walked in the ways of David his father; and declined neither to the right hand nor to the left.

3 For in the eighth year of his reign, while he was yet young, he began to seek after the God of David his father: and in the twelfth year he began to * purge Judah and Jerusalem from the high places, and the groves, and the carved images, and the molten images.

4 And they brake down the altars of Baalim in his presence, and the * images that were on high above them, he cut down, and the groves, and the carved images, and the molten images he brake in pieces, and made dust of them, and strowed it upon the graves of them that had sacrificed unto them.

5 And he burnt the bones of the priests upon their altars, and cleansed Judah and Jerusalem.

6 And so did he in the cities of Manasse, and Ephraim, and Simeon, even unto Naphtali, with their * mattocks, round about.

7 And when he had broken down the altars and the groves, and had braken the graven images into powder, and cut down all the tools thereof about all the land of Israel, he returned to Jerusalem.

8 Now in the eighteenth year of his reign, when he had purged the land, and the house, he sent Shephania the son of Azaliah, and Maasiah the governour of the cite, and Teab the son of Tobab, the recorder, to repair the bank of the LORD his God.

9 And when they came to Hilkiah the high priest, they delivered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the keepers that kept the doors, had gathered of the hand of Manasseh and Ephraim, and of all the remnant of Israel, and of all Judah, and Benjamin, and they returned to Jerusalem.

10 And they put it in the hand of the workmen, that had the oversight of the house of the LORD, and they gave it to the workmen that wrought in the house of the LORD, to repair and mend the house:

11 Then to the artificers and builders gave they it to buy hewen stone, and timber for couplings, and to floor the houses, which the kings of Judah had destroyed.

12 And the men did the work faithfully: and the overseers of them were Zabath, and Obadiah, the Levites, of the sons of Merari; and Zechariah, and Meshullam, of the sons of the Kohathites, to set it forward; and other of the Levites, all that could skill of instruments of musick.

13 Also they were over the bearers of burdens, and were overseers of all that wrought the work in any manner of service: and of the Levites there were scribes, and officers, and porters.

14 And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the LORD, Hilkiah the priest found a book of the law of the LORD, given by Moses.

15 And Hilkiah answered, and said to Shaphan the scribe, I have found the book of the law in the house of the LORD. And Hilkiah delivered the book to Shaphan:

16 And Shaphan carried the book to the king, and brought the king word back again, saying, All that was committed to thy servants, they do it.

17 And they have gathered together the money that was found in the house of the LORD, and have delivered it into the hand of the overseers, and to the hand of the workmen.

18 Then Shaphan the scribe told the king, saying, Hilkiah the priest hath given me a book. And Shaphan read it before the king.

19 And it came to passe when the king had heard the words of the law, that he rent his clothes.

20 And the king commanded Hilkiah, and Ahikam the son of Shaphan, and Abdon the son of Nibhah, and Shaphan the scribe, and Ahalah a servant of the kings, saying, 21 Go, enquire of the LORD for me, and for them that are left in Israel, and in Judah, concerning the words of the book that is found: for great is the wrath of the LORD that is poured out upon us, because our fathers have not kept the word of the LORD, to do after all that is written in this book.

22 And Hilkiah, and they that the king had appointed, went to Huldah the propheticke, the wife of Shallum the son of Tikvah, the son of Iehazrah, keeper of the wardrobe; (now she dwelt in Jerusalem in the college) and they spake to her to that effect.

23 And she answered them, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Tell ye the man that sent you to me,

24 Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, and upon the inhabitants thereof, even all the curses that are written in the book which they have read before the king of Judah:

25 Because they have forsaken me, and have burned incense unto other gods, that they might provoke me to anger with all the works of their hands; therefore my wrath shall be poured out upon this place, and shall not be quenched.

26 And as for the king of Judah, who sent you to enquire of the LORD, so shall ye say unto him, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel concerning the words which thou hast heard, 27 Because thine heart was tender, and thou didst humble thy self before God, when thou hearest his words against this place, and against the inhabitants thereof, and humbled thy self before me, and didst rend thy clothes, and weep before me; I have even heard thee also, saith the LORD.

28 Behold, I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be gathered to thy grave in peace, neither shall thine eyes see all the evil that I will bring upon this place, and upon the inhabitants of the same. So they brought the king word again.

29 ¶ Then the king sent, and gathered together all the elders of Judah and Jerusalem.

30 And the king went up into the house of the LORD, and all the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the priests, and the Levites, and all the people great and small: and he read in their ears all the words of the book of the covenant, that was found in the house of the LORD.

31 And the king stood in his place, and made a covenant before the LORD, to walk after the LORD, and to keep his commandments, and his testimonies, and his statutes, with all his heart, and with all his soul, to perform the words of the covenant which are written in this book.

32 And he caused all that were present in Jerusalem and Benjamin to stand to it. And the inhabitants of Jerusalem did according to the covenant of God the God of their fathers.

33 And Josiah took away all the abominations out of all the countries that pertained to the children of Israel, and made all that were present in Israel to serve, even to serve the LORD their God. And all his days they departed not from following the LORD the God of their fathers.

CHAP. XXXV.

1 Josiah keepeth a most solemn passcover. 20 He provoking Pharaoh Necho, is slain at Megiddo. 25 Lamentations for Josiah.

Moreover, Josiah kept a passcover unto the LORD in Jerusalem: and they killed the passcover on the fourteenth day of the first month.

2 And he set the priests in their charges, and encouraged them to the service of the house of the LORD,

3 And said unto the Levites that taught all Israel which were holy unto the LORD, But the holy ark in the house, which Solomon the son of David king of Israel did build; it shall not be a burden upon your shoulders: serve now the LORD your God, and his people Israel,

4 And prepare yourselves by the houses of your fathers, after your courses, according to the writing of David king of Israel, and according to the writing of Solomon his son.

5 And stand in the holy place according to the divisions of the families of the fathers of your brethren the people, and after the division of the families of the Levites.

6 So kill the passcover, and sanctifie your selves, and prepare your brethren, that they may do according to the word of the LORD by the hand of Moses.

7 And Josiah gave to the people, of the flock, lambs and kids, all for the passcover-offerings for for all that were present, to the number of thirty thousand, and three thousand bullocks: these were of the kings substance.

8 And his princes gave willingly unto the people, to the priests, and to the Levites: Bilhiah, and Sachariah, and Jehiel, rulers of the house of God, gave unto the priests for the passover offerings, two thousand and six hundred small cattell, and three hundred oxen.

9 Conantab also, and SHEMAIAH, and Aethaneel, his brethren, and Gashabiah, and Jehiel, and Jozabab chief of the Levites, gave unto the Levites for passover-offerings, five thousand small cattell, and five hundred oxen.

10 So the service was prepared, and the priests stood in their place, and the Levites in their courses according to the kings commandment.

11 And they killed the passover, and the priests sprinkled the blood from their bands, and the Levites slayed them.

12 And they removed the burnt-offerings, that they might give according to the divisions of the families of the people, to offer unto the LORD, as it is written in the book of Moses: and so did they with the oxen.

13 And they roasted the passover with fire, according to the ordinance: but the other holy offerings sod they in pots, and in cauldrons, and in pannes, and divided them speedily among all the people.

14 And afterward they made ready for themselves, and for the priests: because the priests the sons of Aaron were busied in offering of burnt-offerings, and the sac until night; therefore the Levites prepared for themselves and for the priests the sons of Aaron.

15 And the singers the sons of Asaph, were in their place, according to the commandment of David, and Asaph, and Heman, and Jeduthun the kings see; and the porters waited at every gate; they might not depart from their service; for these brethren the Levites prepared for them.

16 So all the service of the LORD was prepared the same day, to keep the passover, and to offer burnt-offerings upon the altar of the LORD, according to the commandment of king Josiah.

17 And the children of Israel that were present, kept the passover at that time, and the feast of unleavened bread seven days.

18 And there was no passover like to that kept in Israel from the days of Samuel the prophet, neither did all the kings of Israel keep such a passover as Josiah kept, and the priests, and the Levites, and all Judah and Israel that were present, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

19 In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josiah, was this passover kept.

20 After all this, when Josiah had prepared the temple, Necho king of Egypt came up to fight against Carchemish by Capphates: and Josiah went out against him.

21 But he sent ambassadors to him, saying, What have I to do with thee, thou king of Judah? I come not against thee this day, but against the house wherewith I have war: for God commanded me to make haste: forbear thee from meddling with God, who is with me, that he destroy thee not.

22 Nevertheless Josiah would not turn his face from him, but disguised himself that he might fight with him, and hearkened not unto the words of Necho from the mouth of God, and came to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

23 And the Archers shot at king Josiah; and the king said to his servants, Have me away, for I am sore wounded.

24 His servants therefore took him out of that chariot, and put him in the second chariot that he had; and they brought him to Jerusalem, and he died, and was buried in one of the sepulchres of his fathers: and all Judah and Jerusalem mourned for Josiah.

25 And Jeremias prophesied for Josiah, and all the singing men, and the singing women spake of Josiah in their lamentations to this day, and made them an ordinance in Israel: and behold, they are written in the lamentations.

26 Now the rest of the acts of Josiah, and his goodness, according to that which was written in the law of the LORD, 27 And his deeds first and last, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.

5 Jehoiakim was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem: and he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD his God.

6 Against him came up Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and bound him in all fetters to carry him to Babylon.

7 Nebuchadnezzar also carried of the vessels of the house of the LORD to Babylon, and put them in his temple at Babylon.

9 Jehoachin was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three moneths and ten days in Jerusalem, and he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD.

self before Jeremiah the prophet, speaking from the mouth of the LORD.

12 And he also rebelled against king Nebuchadnezzar, who had made him swear by God: but he stiffened his neck, and hardened his heart from turning unto the LORD God of Israel.

14 Moreover, all the chief of the priests, and the people transgressed very much, after all the abominations of the heathen, and polluted the house of the LORD, which he had tallowed in Jerusalem.

15 And the LORD God of their fathers sent to them ¶ by his messengers, rising up in besittues, and saying; because he had compassion on his people, and on his dwelling place.

16 But they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his words, and misused his prophets, until the wrath of the LORD arose against his people, till there was no remedy.

17 Therefore he brought upon them the king of the Chaldees, who slew their young men with the sword, in the house of their sanctuary, and had no compassion upon young man or maiden, old man, or him that stooped for age: he gave them all into his hand.

18 And all the vessels of the house of God, great and small, and the treasures of the house of the LORD, and the treasures of the king, and

CHAP. I.

1 The proclamation of Cyrus for the building of the temple. 5 The people provide for the return. 7 Cyrus restoreth the vessels of the temple to Sheshbazzar.

Now in the first year of Cyrus king of Persia, (that the word of the LORD * by the mouth of Jeremiah, might be fulfilled) the LORD stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, that he ¶ made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and put it also in writing, saying,

2 Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia, The LORD God of heaven hath given me all the kingdoms of the earth, and he hath * charged me to build him an house at Jerusalem, which is in Judah.

3 Who is there among you of all his people? his God be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem, which is in Judah, and build the house of the LORD God of Israel (he is the God) which is in Jerusalem.

4 And whosoever remaineth in any place where he sojourneth, let the men of his place ¶ help him with silver, and with gold, and with goods, and with beasts, besides the free-will-offering for the house of God that is in Jerusalem.

5 ¶ Then rose up the chief of the fathers of Judah and Benjamin, and the priests and the Levites, with all them whose spirit God had raised to go up, to build the house of the LORD which is in Jerusalem.

6 And all they that were about them, strengthened their hands with vessels of silver, with gold, with goods, and with beasts, and with precious things, besides all that was willingly offered.

7 ¶ Also Cyrus the king brought forth the vessels of the house of the LORD, * which Nebuchadnezzar had brought forth out of Jerusalem, and had put them in the house of his gods:

8 ¶ Even those did Cyrus king of Persia bring forth by the hand of Shethbazzar the treasurer, and numbered them unto * Sheshbazzar the prince of Judah.

9 And this is the number of them: thirty chargers of gold, a thousand chargers of silver, nine and twenty knives,

10 Thirty basons of gold, silver basons of a second sort four hundred and ten, and other vessels a thousand.

11 All the vessels of gold and of silver, were five thousand and four hundred. All these did Sheshbazzar bring up with them of † the captivity that were brought up from Babylon unto Jerusalem.

CHAP. III.

1 The altar is set up. 4 Offerings frequented. 7 Workmen prepared 8 The foundations of the temple are laid in great joy and mourning.

And when the seventh month was come, and the children of Israel were in the cities, the people gathered themselves together, as one man, to Jerusalem.

2 Then stood up // Jehua the son of Jozadak, and his brethren the priests, and // Zerubbabel, the son of // Shealtiel, and his brethren, and builded the altar of the God of Israel, to offer burnt-offerings thereon, as it is * written in the law of Moses the man of God.

3 And they set the altar upon his bases, ( for fear was upon them, because of the people of those countreys) and they offered burnt-offerings thereon unto the LORD, even burnt-offerings morning and evening.

4 They kept also the feast of tabernacles, as it is written, and * offered the daily burnt-offerings by number, according to the custome, † as the duty of every day required.

5 And afterward offered the continuall burnt-offering, both of the new moons, and of all the set feasts of the LORD, that were consecrated, and of every one that willingly offered a free-will-offering unto the LORD.

6 From the first day of the seventh month began they to offer burnt-offerings unto the LORD: but † the foundation of the temple of the LORD was not yet laid.

7 They gave money also unto the masons, and to the // carpenters; and meat, and drink, and oyl, unto them of Sidon; and to them of Tyre, to bring cedar-trees from Lebanon to the sea of * Toppa: according to the grant that they had of Cyrus king of Persia.

8 ¶ Now in the second year of their coming unto the house of God at Jerusalem, in the second month began Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Jehua the son of Jozadak, and the remnant of their brethren the priests and the Levites, and all that were come out of the captivity unto Jerusalem; and appointed the Levites, from twenty years old, and upward, to set forward the work of the house of the LORD.

9 Then stood Jehua with his sons and his brethren, Kadmiel and his sons, the sons of // Judah † together, to set forward the workmen in the house of God: the sons of Henadab, with their sons and their brethren the Levites.

10 And when the builders laid the foundation of the temple of the LORD, they set the priests in their apparel with trumpets, and the Levites the sons of Asaph, with cymbals to praise the LORD, after the * ordinance of David king of Israel.

11 And they sing together by course, in praising and giving thanks unto the LORD; because he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever towards Israel. And all the people shouted with a great shout, when they praised the LORD; because the foundation of the house of the LORD was laid.

12 But many of the priests and Levites, and chief of the fathers, who were ancient men that had seen the first house, when the foundation of this house was laid before their eyes, went with a loud voice, and many shouted aloud for joy:

13 So that the people could not discern the noise of the shout of joy, from the noise of the weeping of the people: for the people shouted with a loud shout, and the noise was heard afar off.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The adversaries being not accepted in the building of the temple with the Jews, endeavour to hinder it 7 Their letter to Artaxerxes. 17 The decree of Artaxerxes. 23 The building is hindred.

Now when the adversaries of Judah and Benjamin, heard that † the children of the captivity builded the temple unto the LORD God of Israel:

2 Then they came to Zerubbabel, and to the chief of the fathers, and said unto them, Let us build with you; for we seek your God, as ye do, and we do sacrifice unto him; since the dayes of Tarshaddon king of Assur, which brought us up hither.

3 But Zerubbabel and Jehua, and the rest of the chief of the fathers of Israel, said unto them, You have nothing to do with us, to build an house unto our God, but we our selves together will build unto the LORD God of Israel, as king Cyrus the king of Persia hath commanded us.

4 Then the people of the land weakened the hands of the people of Judah, and troubled them in building;

5 And hired counsellors against them, to frustrate their purpose all the dayes of Cyrus king of Persia, even until the reign of Darius king of Persia.

6 And in the reign of † Achsherus, in the beginning of his reign, wrote they unto him an accusation against the inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem.

7 ¶ And in the dayes of Artaxerxes wrote // Bishlam, Mithradath, Tabeel, and the rest of their † companions unto Artaxerxes king of Persia; and the writing of the letter was written in the Syllian tongue, and interpreted in the Syllian tongue.

8 Rehum the chancellour, and Shimshai the // scribe, wrote a letter against Jerusalem to Artaxerxes the king, in this sort:

9 Then wrote Rehum the chancellour, and Shimshai the scribe, and the rest of their † companions; the Dinaites, the Apharathchites, the Tarpelites, the Aparthites, the Archerites, the Babylonians, the Susanchites, the Debachites, and the Elamites,

10 And the rest of the nations whom the great and noble Amappar brought over, and set in the cities of Samaria, and the rest that are on this side the river, and † at such a time.

11 ¶ This is the copy of the letter that they sent unto him, even unto Artaxerxes the king, Thy servants on this side the river, and at such a time.

12 Be it known unto the king, that the Jews which came up from thee to us, are come unto Jerusalem, building the rebellious and the bad cite, and have // set up the wall thereof, and † fortified the foundations.

13 Be it known now unto the king, that if this cite be builded, and the walls set up again, then will they not † pay toll, tribute, and custome, and so thou shalt endamage the // revenue of the kings.

2 Then rose up Zerubbabel the son of She-altiel, and Jeshua the son of Jozadak, and began to build the house of God, which is at Jerusalem: and with them were the prophets of God helping them.

3 At the same time came to them Tatnai, them, Who hath commanded you to build this house, and to make up this wall?

to the province of Judaea, to the house of the great God, which is builded with great stones, and timber is laid in the walls, and this work goeth fast on, and prospereth in their hands.

9 Then asked we those elders, and said unto them thus, Who commanded you to build this

10 We asked their names also, to certify thee, that we might write the names of the men that God of heaven unto wrath, he gave them into the hand of * Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon the Caldian, who destroyed this house, and carried the people away into Babylon.

13 But in the first year of * Cyrus the king of Babylon, the same king Cyrus made a decree to build this house of God.

14 And the vessels also of gold and silver of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took out of the temple that was in Jerusalem, and brought them into the temple of Babylon, those did Cyrus the king take out of the temple of Babylon, and they were delivered unto one, whose name was Sheshbazzar, whom he had made a governour:

10r. deputy.

15 And said unto him, Take these vessels, go, carry them into the temple that is in Jerusalem, and let the house of God be builded in his place.

16 Then came the same Sheshbazzar, and laid the foundation of the house of God which is in Jerusalem. And since that time even until now, hath it been in building, and yet it is not finished.

17 Now therefore, if it seem good to the king, let there be search made in the kings treasure-house, which is there at Babylon, whether it be so that a decree was made of Cyrus the king, to build this house of God at Jerusalem, and let the king send his pleasure to us concerning this matter.

CHAP. VI.

1 Darius finding the decree of Cyrus, maketh a new

Then Darius the king made a decree, and where the treasures were I laid up in Babylon.

2 And there was found at I Achmetha, in the palace that is in the province of the Medes, a roll, and therein was a record thus written:

3 In the first year of Cyrus the king, the same Cyrus the king made a decree concerning the house of God at Jerusalem. Let the house be builded, the place where they offered sacrifices, and let the foundations thereof be strongly laid, the height thereof three score cubits, and the breadth thereof three score cubits:

4 With three rows of great stones, and a row of new timber : and let the expences be given out of the kings house.

5 And also let the golden and silver vessels of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took forth out of the temple which is at Jerusalem, and brought unto Babylon, be restored and brought again unto the temple, which is at Jerusalem, every one to his place, and place them in the house of God.

6 Now therefore Tatnai, governour beyond the river, Shethar-bozrai, and your companions the Apharhachites, which are beyond the river, be ye far from thence :

7 Let the work of this house of God alone, let the governour of the Jews, and the elders of the Jews, build this house of God in his place.

8 Moreover, I make a decree, what ye shall do to the elders of these Jews, for the building of this house of God : that of the kings goods, even of the tribute beyond the river, forthwith expences be given unto these men, that they be not hindered.

9 And that which they have need of, both young bullocks, and rams, and lambs, for the burnt-offerings of the God of heaven, wheat, salt, wine, and oyl, according to the appointment of the priests which are at Jerusalem, let it be given them day by day without fail :

10 That they may offer sacrifices of sweet savours unto the God of heaven, and pray for the life of the king, and of his sons.

11 Also I have made a decree, that whosoever shall alter this word, let timber be pulled down from his house, and being let up, let him be hanged thereon, and let his house be made a dunghill for this.

12 And the God that hath caused his Name to dwell there, destroy all kings and people that shall put to their hand, to alter and to destroy this house of God which is at Jerusalem : I Darius have made a decree, let it be done with speed.

13 ¶ Then Tatnai, governour on this side the river, Shethar-bozrai, and their companions, according to that which Darius the king had sent, so they did speedily.

14 And the elders of the Jews builded, and they prospered through the prophesying of Haggai the prophet, and Zechariah the son of Iddo, and they builded, and finished it, according to the commandment of the God of Israel, and according to the commandment of Cyrus and Darius, and Artaxerxes king of Persia.

15 And this house was finished on the third day of the month Adar, which was in the sixth year of the reign of Darius the king.

16 ¶ And the children of Israel, the priests and the Levites, and the rest of the children of the captivity, kept the dedication of this house of God, with joy.

17 And offered at the dedication of this house of God, an hundred bullocks, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs : and for a sin-offering for all Israel, twelve he-goats, according to the number of the tribes of Israel.

18 And they let the priests in their divisions, and the Levites in their courses, for the service of God, which is at Jerusalem ; * as it is written in the book of Moses.

19 And the children of the captivity kept the passover, upon the fourteenth day of the first month.

20 For the priests and the Levites were purified together, all of them were pure, and killed the passover for all the children of the captivity, and for their brethren the priests, and for themselves.

21 And the children of Israel, which were come again out of captivity, and all such as had separated themselves unto them, from the captivity of the heathen of the land, to seek the LORD God of Israel, did eat,

22 And kept the feast of unleavened bread, seven days with joy : for the LORD had made them joyful, and turned the heart of the king of Assyria unto them, to strengthen their hands in the work of the house of God, the God of Israel.

CHAP. VII.

1 Ezra goeth up to Jerusalem. 11 The gracious commission of Artaxerxes to Ezra, 27 Ezra blesteth God for his favour.

Now after these things, in the reign of Artaxerxes king of Persia, Ezra the son of Seraiah, the son of Azariah, the son of Bilkiah,

2 The son of Shalum, the son of Zadok, the son of Ahitub,

3 The son of Amariah, the son of Azariah, the son of Seraiah,

4 The son of Seraiah, the son of Uzzi, the son of Bukki,

5 The son of Abishua, the son of Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the chief priest.

6 This Ezra went up from Babylon, and he was a ready scribe in the law of Moses, which the LORD God of Israel had given : and the king granted him all his request, according to the hand of the LORD his God upon him.

7 And there went up some of the children of Israel, and of the priests, and the Levites, and the singers, and the porters, and the Bethshulams, unto Jerusalem, in the seventh year of Artaxerxes the king.

8 And he came to Jerusalem in the fifth month, which was in the seventh year of the king.

9 For upon the first day of the first month he came to go up from Babylon, and on the first day of the fifth month came he to Jerusalem, according to the good hand of his God upon him.

10 For Ezra had prepared his heart to seek the law of the LORD, and to do it, and to teach in Israel statutes and judgments.

11 ¶ Now this is the copy of the letter that the king Artaxerxes gave unto Ezra the priest, the scribe, even a scribe of the words of the commandments of the LORD, and of his statutes to Israel.

12 Artaxerxes king of kings, ¶ Unto Ezra the priest, a scribe of the law of the God of heaven, perfect peace, and at such a time.

24 Also we certify you, that touching any of the priests and Levites, singers, porters, Bethshims, or ministers of this house of God, it shall not be lawful to impose toll, tribute, or custom upon them.

25 And thou, Ezra, after the wisdom of thy God, that is in thine hand, let magistrates and judges, which may judge all the people that are beyond the river, all such as know the laws of thy God; and teach ye them that know them not.

26 And whosoever will not do the law of thy God, and the law of the king, let judgement be executed speedily upon him, whether it be unto death, or to banishment, or to confiscation of goods, or to imprisonment.

27 Blessed be the LORD God of our fathers, which hath put such a thing as this in the kings heart, to beautifie the house of the LORD which is in Jerusalem:

28 And hath extended mercy unto me before the king and his counsellors, and before all the kings mighty princes: and I was strengthened as the hand of the LORD my God was upon me, and I gathered together out of Israel chief men to go up with me.

11 And of the sons of Bebai; Sechariah the son of Bebai, and with him twenty and eight males.

12 And of sons of the Azgad; Tobanai the son of Hakkatan, and with him an hundred and ten males.

13 And of the last sons of Adonikam, whose names are these, Shippelot, Jehiel, and She'mariah, and with them threescore males.

14 Of the sons also of Bigvai; Uthai, and Shabbud, and with them seventy males.

15 And I gathered them together to the river that runneth to Abava: and there I abode two in tents three dayes: and I blessed the people, and the priests, and found there none of the sons of Levi.

16 Then sent I for Eltzer, for Artel, for She'mariah, and for Elnathan, and for Jariib, and for Elnathan, and for Parhan, and for Sechariah, and for Bethsillam, chief men: also for Jariib, and for Elnathan, men of understanding.

17 And I sent them with commandment unto Iddo the chief, at the place Casiphia, and I told them what they should say unto Iddo, and to his brethren the Bethshims, at the place Casiphia, that they should bring unto us ministers for the house of our God:

18 And by the good hand of our God upon us, they brought us a man of understanding, of the sons of Babil, the son of Levi, the son of Isaac, and Sherebiab, with his sons and his brethren, eighteen.

19 And Habbabiah, and with him Teshalah of the sons of Bebai, his brethren and their sons, twenty.

20 Also of the Bethshims, whom David and the princes had appointed for the service of the Levites, two hundred and twenty Bethshims: all of them were expressed by name.

21 Then I proclaimed a fast there, at the river Abava, that we might afflict our selves before our God, to seek of him a right way for us, and for our little ones, and for all our substance.

22 For I was ashamed to require of the king a band of soldiers and horsemen, to help us against the enemy in the way: because we had spoken unto the king, saying, The hand of our God is upon all them for good that seek him, but his power and his wrath is against all them that forsake him.

23 So we fasted and besought our God for this, and he was intreated of us.

24 Then I separated twelve of the chief of the priests, Sherebiab, Habbabiah, and ten of their brethren with them,

25 And weighed unto them the silver and the gold, and the vessels, even the offering of the house of our God, which the king, and his counsellors, and his lords, and all Israel there present, had offered.

26 I even weighed unto their hand, six hundred and sixty talents of silver, and silver vessels an hundred talents, and of gold an hundred talents :

27 Also twenty basons of gold, of a thousand drams, and two vessels of fine copper, of precious as gold.

28 And I said unto them, Ye are holy unto the LORD, the vessels are holy also, and the silver and the gold are a free-will-offering unto the LORD God of your fathers.

29 Watch ye, and keep them, untill ye weigh them before the chief of the priests, and the Levites, and chief of the fathers of Israel at Jerusalem, in the chambers of the house of the LORD.

30 So took the priests, and the Levites, the weight of the silver and the gold, and the vessels, to bring them to Jerusalem unto the house of our God.

31 ¶ Then we departed from the river of Ahava, on the twelfth day of the first month, to go unto Jerusalem; and the hand of our God was upon us, and he delivered us from the hand of the enemy, and of such as lay in wait by the way.

32 And we came to Jerusalem, and abode there three days.

33 ¶ Now on the fourth day was the silver and the gold, and the vessels weighed in the house of our God, by the hand of Meremoth the son of Uriah the priest, and with him was Eleazar the son of Phinehas, and with them was Tazabab the son of Jehuza, and Doabiah the son of Binui, Levites.

34 By number and by weight of every one; and all the weight was written at that time.

35 Also the children of those that had been carried away which were come out of the captivity, offered burnt-offerings unto the God of Israel, twelve bullocks for all Israel, ninety and six rams, seventy and seven lambs, twelve he-goats for a sin-offering: all this was a burnt-offering unto the LORD.

36 ¶ And they delivered the kings commissions unto the kings stewenants, and to the governors on this side the river, and they furthered the people, and the house of God.

CHAP. IX.

1 Ezra mourneth for the affinity of the people with strangers. 5 He prayeth unto God with confession of sins.

NOW when these things were done, the princes came to me, saying, The people of Israel, and the priests, and the Levites have not separated themselves from the people of the lands, doing according to their observations, even of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites.

2 For they have taken of their daughters for themselves, and for their sons; so that the holy seed have mingled themselves with the people of those lands: yea, the hand of the princes and rulers hath been chief in this trespass.

3 And when I heard this thing, I rent my garment and my mantle, and plucked off the hair of my head, and of my beard, and sat down astonished.

4 Then were assembled unto me every one that trembled at the words of the God of Israel, because of the transgression of those that had been carried away, and I sat astonished untill the evening sacrifice.

5 ¶ And at the evening sacrifice, I arose up from my seat, and having rent my garment, and my mantle, I fell upon my knees, and spread out my hands unto the LORD my God,

6 And said, O my God, I am ashamed and blush to lift up my face to thee, my God, for our iniquities are increased over our head, and our iniquity is grown up unto the heavens.

7 Since the dayes of our fathers, have we been in a great trespass unto this day, and for our iniquities have we, our kings, and our priests been delivered into the hand of the kings of the lands, to the sword, to captivity, and to a spoil, and to confusion of face, as it is this day.

8 And now for a little space grace hath been shewed from the LORD our God, to leave us a remnant to escape, and to give us a little rest in his holy place, that our God may lighten our eyes, and give us a little reviving in our bondage.

9 For we were bondmen, yet our God hath not forsaken us in our bondage, but hath extended mercy unto us in the sight of the kings of Persia, to give us a reviving to let up the house of our God, and to repair the desolations thereof, and to give us as a wall in Judah and in Jerusalem.

10 And now, O our God, what shall we say after this? for we have forsaken thy commandments, 11 Which thou hast commanded by thy servants the prophets, saying, The land unto which ye go to possess it, is an unclean land with the filthiness of the people of the lands, with their abominations, which have filled it from one end to another, with their uncleanness.

12 Now therefore give not your daughters unto their sons, neither take their daughters unto your sons, nor seek their peace, or their wealth for ever: that ye may be strong, and eat the good of the land, and leave it for an inheritance to your children for ever.

13 And after all that is come upon us, for our evil deeds, and for our great trespasses, seeing that thou our God hast punished us less than our iniquities deserve, and hast given us such deliverance as this:

14 Should we again break thy commandments, and join in affinity with the people of these abominations? wouldst not thou be angry with us till thou hadst consumed us, so that there should be no remnant nor escaping?

15 O LORD God of Israel, thou art righteous: for we remain yet escaped, as it is this day: behold, we are before thee in our trespasses: for we cannot stand before thee, because of this.

CHAP. X.

1 Shechaniah encourageth Ezra to reform the strange marriages. 6 Ezra mourning assembleth the people. 9 The people at the exhortation of Ezra, repent and promise amendment. 15 The care to perform it. 18 The names of them which had married strange wives.

NOW when Ezra had prayed, and when he had confessed, weeping and casting himself down before the house of God, there assembled unto him out of Israel, a very great congregation of men, and women, and children: for the people wept very sore.

2 Ann Shechaniah the son of Tabeel, one of the sons of Elam, answered and said unto Ezra, We have trespasses against our God, and have taken strange wives, of the people of the land: yet now there is hope in Israel concerning this thing.

3 Now therefore let us make a covenant with our God, to put away all the wives, and such as are born of them, according to the counsell of my lord, and of those that tremble at the commandment of our God, and let it be done according to the law.

4 Arise, for this matter belongeth unto thee, we also will be with thee: be of good courage, and do it.

5 Then arose Ezra, and made the chief priests, the Levites, and all Israel to swear, that they should do according to this word: and they swore.

6 Then Ezra rose up from before the house of God, and went into the chamber of Jothanan the son of Eliashib: and when he came thither, he did eat no bread, nor drink water: for he mourned because of the transgression of them that had been carried away.

7 And they made proclamation throughout Judah and Jerusalem, unto all the children of the captivity, that they should gather themselves together unto Jerusalem;

8 And that whosoever would not come within three dayes, according to the counsell of the princes and the elders, all his substance should be forfeited, and himself separated from the congregation of those that had been carried away.

9 Then all the men of Judah and Benjamin, gathered themselves together unto Jerusalem, within three dayes: it was the ninth month, and the twentieth day of the month, and all the people sat in the street of the house of God, trembling because of this matter, and for the great rain.

10 And Ezra the priest stood up, and said unto them, Ye have transgressed, and have taken strange wives to increase the trespass of Israel.

11 Now therefore make confession unto the Lord God of your fathers, and do his pleasure: and separate your selves from the people of the land, and from the strange wives.

12 Then all the congregation answered, and said with a loud voice, As thou hast said, so must we do:

13 But the people are many, and it is a time of much travaill, and we are not able to stand without, neither is this a work of one day or two: for we are many that have transgressed in this thing.

14 Let now our rulers of all the congregation stand, and let all them which have taken strange wives in our cities, come at appointed times, and with them the elders of every cite, and the judges thereof, until the fierce wrath of our God for this matter, be turned from us.

15 Onely Jonathan the son of Asabel, and Jazabab the son of Elhad, were employed about this matter: and Jehushlam, and Shabber, that the Levites helped them.

16 And the children of the captivity did so: and Ezra the priest, with certain chief of the fathers, after the house of their fathers, and all of them by their names were separated, and sat down in the first day of the tenth month to examine the matter.

17 And they made an end with all the men that had taken strange wives, by the first day of the first month.

18 And among the sons of the priests, there were found that had taken strange wives, namely, of the sons of Jehua, the son of Jezabab, and his brethren: Maasab, and Elizer, and Jarib, and Gedaliah.

19 And they gave their hands, that they would put away their wives; and being guilty, they offered a ram of the flock for their trespass.

20 And of the sons of Jammir: Vasaani, and Jeadiah.

21 And of the sons of Harim: Maasab and Eliah, and Schemajah, and Jehiel, and Uzziab.

26 And of the sons of Elam: Mattaniah, Zechariah, and Jehiel, and Addi, and Jeremoth, and Elah.

27 And of the sons of Jattu: Eltonai, Eliah, Mattaniah, and Jeremoth, and Jabad, and Aziza.

28 Of the sons also of Bebai: Jehobanan, Hamanah, Zabbai, and Achbai.

29 And of the sons of Bani: Meshullam, Malluch, and Adab, Jashub, and Sheal, and Ramoth.

30 And of the sons of Bhabab-moab: Arna, and Chelai, Benaiab, Maasab, Mattaniah, Bezaleel, and Binui, and Hanasseh.

31 And of the sons of Harim: Elizer, Ishab, Malchiah, Schemalah, Shimron.

THE BOOK OF NEHEMIAH.

CHAP. I.

1 Nehemiah understanding by Hanani, the misery of Jerusalem, mourneth, fasteth, and praiceth. 5 His prayer.

The words of Nehemiah the son of Hachabiah. And it came to passe in the month Chislen, in the twentieth year, as I was in Shushan the palace,

2 That Hanani, one of my brethren, came, he and certain men of Judah, and I asked them concerning the Jews that had escaped, which were left of the captivity, and concerning Jerusalem.

3 And they said unto me, The remnant that are left of the captivity there in the province, are in great affliction and reproach: the wall of Jerusalem also is broken down, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire.

4 And it came to passe when I heard these words, that I sat down and wept, and mourned certain dayes, and fasted, and prayed before the God of heaven,

5 And said, I beseech thee, O LORD God of heaven, the great and terrible God, that keepeth covenant and mercy for them that love him, and observe his commandments:

6 Let thine ear now be attentive, and thine eyes open, that thou mayest hear the prayer of thy servant, which I pray before thee now, day and night, for the children of Israel thy servants, and confesse the sins of the children of Israel, which we have sinned against thee: both I, and my fathers house have sinned.

7 We have dealt very corruptly against thee, and have not kept the commandments nor the statutes nor the judgements, which thou commandedst thy servant Moses.

8 Remember, I beseech thee, the word that thou commandedst thy servant Moses, saying, * If ye transgreesse, I will scatter you abysd among the nations:

9 But if ye turn unto me, and keep my commandments, & do them; * though there were of you cast out unto the utter most part of the heaven, yet will I gather them from thence, and will bring them unto the place that I have chosen to let my Name there.

10 Now these are thy servants, and thy people, whom thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy strong hand.

11 O LORD, I beseech thee, let now thine ear be attentive to the prayer of the servant, and to the prayer of thy servants, who desire to fear thy Name: and prosper, I pray thee, thy servant, this day, and grant him mercy in the sight of this man. For I was the kings cup-bearer.

CHAP. II.

1 Artaxerxes understanding the cause of Nehemiahs sadnesse, sendeth him with letters and commission to Jerusalem. 9 Nehemiah, to the grief of the enemies, cometh to Jerusalem. 12 He vieweth secretly the ruines of the walls. 17 He inciteth the Jews to build in despite of the enemies.

And it came to passe in the month Nisan, in the twentieth year of Artaxerxes the kings, that wine was before him: and I took up the wine, and gave it unto the king: now I had not been before-time sad in his presence.

2 Wherefore the king said unto me, Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou art not sick? this is nothing else but sorrow of heart. Then I was de-ry toe afraid,

3 And said unto the king, Let the king live for ever: why should not my countenance be sad, when the cite, the place of my fathers sepulchres lieth waste, and the gates thereof are consumed with fire?

4 Then the king said to me, for what dost thou make request? So I prayed to the God of heaven.

5 And I said unto the king, If it please the king, and if thy servant have found favour in thy sight, that thou wouldest send me unto Judah unto the city of my fathers sepulchres, that I may build it.

6 And the king said unto me, (The queen also †sitting by him) For how long shall thy journey be? and when wilt thou return? so it pleased the king to send me, and I set him a time.

7 Moreover, I said unto the king, If it please the king, let letters be given me to the governours beyond the river, that they may convey me over till I come into Judah:

8 And a letter unto Asaph the keeper of the kings forest, that he may give me timber to make beams for the gates of the palace which appertained to the house, and for the wall of the cite, and for the house that I shall enter into: and the king granted me, according to the good hand of my God upon me.

9 Then I came to the governours beyond the river, and gave them the kings letters: (now the king had sent captains of the army, and horsemen with me)

10 When Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the servant the Ammonite, heard of it, they grieved them exceedingly that there was come a man to seek the welfare of the children of Israel.

11 So I came to Jerusalem, and was there three dayes.

12 And I arose in the night, I and some few men with me, neither told I any man what God had put in my heart to do at Jerusalem: neither was there any beast with me, save the beast that I rode upon.

13 And I went out by night, by the gate of the valley, even before the dragon well, and to the dung-port, and viewed the walls of Jerusalem, which were broken down, and the gates thereof were consumed with fire.

14 Then I went on to the gate of the fountain, and to the kings pool: but there was no place for the beast that was under me to passe.

15 Then went I up in the night by the brook, and viewed the wall, and turned back, and entered by the gate of the valley, and so returned.

16 And the rulers knew not whither I went, or what I did, neither had I as yet told it to the Jews, nor to the priests, nor to the nobles, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that did the work.

17 Then said I unto them, Ye see the distresse that we are in, how Jerusalem lieth waste, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire: come and let us build up the wall of Jerusalem, that we be no more a reproach.

18 Then I told them of the hand of my God which was good upon me: as also the kings words that he had spoken unto me. And they said, Let as rise up and build. So they strengthened their hands for this good work.

19 But when Sambalath the Horonite, and Tobiah the servant the Ammonite, and Geshem the Arabian heard it, they laughed us to scorn, and despised us, and said, What is this thing that ye do? will ye rebell aginst the king?

20 Then answered I them, and said unto them, The God of heaven, he will prosper us; therefore we his servants will arise and build: but you have no portion, no right, nor memorial in Jerusalem.

CHAP. III.

1 The names and order of them that builded the wall.

Then Eliashib the high priest rose up with his brethren the priests, and they built the sheep-gate, they sanctified it, and set up the doors of it; even unto the tower of Sheph they sanctified it, unto the tower of Hananel.

2 And next unto him builded the men of Jericho, and next to them builded Zaccur the son of Imri.

3 But the fish-gate did the sons of Hallenath build, who also laid the beams thereof, and set up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof.

4 And next unto them repaired Beremoth the son of Aisab, the son of Coz; and next unto them repaired Meshullam the son of Berechiah, the son of Meshzabeel: and next unto them repaired Zadok the son of Baana.

5 And next unto them the Tekoites repaired; but their nobles put not their necks to the work of their Lord.

6 Moreover, the old gate repaired Jehosada the son of Paseah, and Meshullam the son of Besobaiab; they laid the beams thereof, and set up the doors thereof, and the locks thereof, and the bars thereof.

7 And next unto them repaired Melatiah the Gibeonite, and Jadon the Bersonehite, the men of Gibeon, and of Mizpah, unto the throne of the governour on this side the river.

8 Next unto him repaired Azriel the son of Harbatah, of the goldsmiths: next unto him also repaired Hananiah, the son of one of the apothecaries, and they fortified Jerusalem unto the broad wall.

9 And next unto them repaired Rephahab the son of Hur, the ruler of the half part of Jerusalem.

10 And next unto them repaired Jedaiab the son of Harumaph, even over against his house: and next unto him repaired Batusai the son of Bahabunab.

11 Balchisab the son of Bactin, and Baskub the son of Pahath-Moab, repaired the tower piece, and the tower of the furnaces.

12 And next unto him repaired Shalum the son of Balloeth, the ruler of the half part of Jerusalem, he and his daughters.

13 The valley-gate repaired Hanan, and the inhabitants of Zanaath: they built it, and set up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof, and a thousand cubits on the wall, unto the dung-gate.

14 But the dung-gate repaired Balchiah the son of Rechab, the ruler of part of Beth-bacerem: he built it, and set up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof.

15 But the gate of the fountain repaired Shalum the son of Col-hozab, the ruler of part of Mizpah: he built it, and covered it, and set up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof, and the wall of the pool of Siloah by the kings garden, and unto the stairs that go down from the city of David.

16 After him repaired Nehemiah the son of Azbuk the ruler of the half part of Beth-zur, unto the place over against the sepulchres of David, and to the pool that was made, and unto the house of the mighty.

17 After him repaired the Levites, Rehum the son of Bani: next unto him repaired Bahabiah the ruler of the half part of Kellab in his part.

18 After him repaired their brethren, Babai the son of Henadab, the ruler of the half part of Kellab.

19 And next to him repaired Ezer the son of Jesua, the ruler of Mizpah, another piece over against the going up to the armoury at the turning of the wall.

20 After him Barned the son of Sabbai earnestly repaired the other piece, from the turning of the wall unto the door of the house of Eliashib the high priest.

21 After him repaired Beremoth the son of Aisab, the son of Coz, another piece, from the door of the house of Eliashib, even to the end of the house of Eliashib.

22 And after him repaired the priests, the men of the plain.

23 After him repaired Benjamin, and Baskub over against their house: after him repaired Azariah the son of Maasiah, the son of Ananiah by his house.

24 After him repaired Binnai the son of Henadab, another piece from the house of Azariah, unto the turning of the wall, even unto the corner.

25 Balaai the son of Azai, over against the turning of the wall, and the tower which lieth out from the kings high house, that was by the court of the prison: after him, Bedaiab the son of Barosai.

26 Moreover, the Perinthians dwelt in Dophel, unto the place over against the water-gate toward the east, and the tower that lieth out.

27 After them the Levites repaired another piece, over against the great tower that lieth out, even unto the wall of Dophel.

28 From above the horse-gate repaired the priests, every one over against his house.

29 After them repaired Zadok the son of Immer, over against his house: after him repaired also Shematah, the son of Shebaniab, the keeper of the east-gate.

30 After him repaired Hananiah the son of Shelemiah, and Hannan the sixth son of Zalaph, another piece: after him repaired Meshullam the son of Berechiah, over against his chamber.

31 After him repaired Balchiah the goldsmiths son, unto the place of the Perinthians, and of the merchants, over against the gate Diphkad, and to the well going up of the corner.

32 And between the going up of the corner unto the sheep-gate, repaired the goldsmiths and the merchants.

CHAP. IIII.

1 While the enemies scoffe, Nehemiah prayeth & continueth the work. 7 Understanding the wrath and secrets of the enemy, he seeth a watch. 13 He armeth the labourers, 19 and giveth military precepts.

2 And he spake before his brethren and the army of Samaria, and said, What do these feeble Jews? will they fortifie themselves? will they sacrifice? will they make an end in a day? will they rebuild the stones out of the heaps of the rubbish, which are burnt?

3 Now Tobiah the Ammonite was by him, and he said, Even that which they build, if a fox go up, he shall even break down their stone wall.

4 Hear, O our God, for we are despised; and turn their reproach upon their own head, and give them for a prey in the land of captivity;

5 And cover not their iniquity, and let not their sin be blotted out from before thee: for they have provoked thee to anger before the builders.

6 So built we the wall; and all the wall was joyned together unto the half thereof: for the people had a minde to work.

7 But it came to passe that when Sanballat and Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Asdodites, heard that the walls of Jerusalem were made up, and that the breaches began to be stopp'd, then they were very wroth,

8 And conspired all of them together to come and to fight against Jerusalem, and to hinder it.

9 Nevertheless, we made our prayer unto our God, and set a watch against them day and night, because of them.

10 And Judah said, The strength of the bearers of burdens is decayed, and there is much rubbish, so that we are not able to build the wall.

11 And our adversaries said, They shall not know, neither see till we come in the midst among them, and slay them, and cause the work to cease.

12 And it came to passe that when the Jews which dwell by them, came, they said unto us ten times, From all places, whence ye shall return unto us, they will be upon you.

13 Therefore set I in the lower places behind the wall, and on the higher places, I even set the people after their families with their swords, their spears, and their bows.

14 And I looked, and rose up, and said unto the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, Be not ye afraid of them: remember the LORD which is great and terrible, and fight for your brethren, your sons and your daughters, your wives and your houses.

15 And it came to passe when our enemies heard that it was known unto us, and God had brought their counsell to nought, that we returned all of us to the wall, every one unto his work.

16 And it came to passe from that time forth, that the half of my servants wrought in the work, and the other half of them held both the spears, the shields, and the bows, and the habergeons; and the rulers were behinde all the house of Judah.

17 They which builded on the wall, and they that bare burdens, with those that sowed, every one with one of his hands wrought in the work, and with the other hand held a weapon.

18 For the builders, every one had his sword girded by his side, and so builded: and he that sounded the trumpet was by me.

19 And I said unto the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The work is great and large, and we are separated upon the wall, one far from another.

20 In what place therefore ye hear the sound of the trumpet, resort ye thither unto us: our God shall fight for us.

21 So we laboured in the work: and half of them held the spears, from the rising of the morning, till the stars appeared.

22 Likewise at the same time said I unto the people, Let every one with his servant lodge within Jerusalem, that in the night they may be a guard to us, and labour on the day.

23 So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my servants, nor the men of the guard which followed me, none of us put off our clothes, having that every one put them off for washing.

CHAP. V.

1 The Jews complain of their debt, mortgage, and bondage. 6 Nehemiah rebuketh the usurers, and causeth them to make a covenant of restitution. 14 He forbeareth his own allowance, and keepeth hospitality.

And there was a great cry of the people, and of their wives, against their brethren the Jews.

2 For there were that said, We, our sons, and our daughters are many: therefore we take up corn for them, that we may eat, and live.

3 Some also there were that said, We have mortgaged our lands, vineyards, and houses, that we might buy corn, because of the dearth.

4 There were also that said, We have borrowed money for the kings tribute, and that upon our lands and vineyards.

5 Yet now our flesh is as the flesh of our brethren, our children as their children; and lo, we bring into bondage our sons and our daughters, to be servants, and some of our daughters are brought unto bondage already, neither is it in our power to redeem them: for other men have our lands and vineyards.

6 And I was very angry when I heard their cry, and their words.

7 Then I consulted with my self, and I rebuked the nobles, and the rulers, and said unto them, We exact usury, every one of his brother. And I set a great assembly against them.

8 And I said unto them, We, after our ability, have redeemed our brethren the Jews, which were sold unto the heathen; and will you even sell your brethren? or shall they be sold unto us? Then held they their peace, and found nothing to answer.

9 Also I said, It is not good that ye do: ought ye not to walk in the fear of our God, because of the reproach of the heathen our enemies?

10 I likewise, and my brethren, and my servants, might exact of them money and corn: I pray you let us leave off this usury.

11 Restore, I pray you, to them, even this day, their lands, their vineyards, their olive-yards, and their houses, also the hundredth part of the money, and of the corn, the wine, and the oyl, that ye exact of them.

12 Then said they, We will restore them, and will require nothing of them; so will we do as thou sayest. Then I called the priests, and took an oath of them, that they should do according to this promise.

13 Also I took my lap, and said, So God shake out every man from his house, and from his labour, that performeth not this promise, even thus be he shaken out, and emptied, and all the congregation said, Amen, and praised the LORD. And the people did according to this promise.

14 Moreover, from the time that I was appointed to be their governour in the land of Judah, from the twentieth year, even unto the two and thirtieth year, of Artaxerxes the king, that is, twelve years I and my brethren have not eaten the bread of the governour.

15 But the former governours that had been before

16 Pea, also I continued in the work of this wall, neither bouzde we any land: and all my servants were gathered thither unto the work.

17 Nowover, these were at my table a hundred and fiftie of the Jews and rulers, besides those that came unto us from among the heathen that are about us.

18 Now that which was prepared for me daily, was one ox, and six choice sheep; also fowls were prepared for me, and once in ten dayes, store of all sorts of wine: yet for all this required not I the bread of the governour, because the bondage was heavy upon this people.

19 I think upon me, my God, for good, according to all that I have done for this people.

CHAP. VI.

1 Sanballat praefitech by craft, by tumouts, by hired propheties, to terrifie Nehemiah. 15 The work is finished to the terrour of the enemies. 17 Secret intelligence passeth between the enemies and the nobles of Judah.

NOW it came to passe, when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and Geshem the Arabian, and the rest of our enemies heard that I had builded the wall, and that there was no breach left therein; (though at that time I had not set up the doors upon the gates)

2 That Sanballat and Geshem sent unto me, saying, Come, let us meet together in some one of the villages in the plain of Dno: but they thought to do me mischief.

3 And I sent messengers unto them, saying, I am doing a great work, so that I cannot come down: why should the work cease, whilst I leave it, and come down to you?

4 But they sent unto me four times after this sort; and I answered them after the same manner.

5 Then sent Sanballat his servant unto me, in like manner the fifth time, with an open letter in his hand:

6 Wheresin was writtem; It is reported among the heathen, and all Gassum saith it, that thou and the Jews think to rebel: for which cause thou buildest the wall, that thou mayest be their king, according to these words.

7 And thou hast also appointed prophets to preach of thee at Jerusalem, saying, There is a king in Judah: and now shall it be reported to the king, according to these words. Come now therefore, and let us take counsell together.

8 Then I sent unto him, saying, There are no such things done as thou sayest, but thou seignest them out of thine own heart.

9 For they all made us afraid, saying, Their hands shall be weakened from the work that it be not done. Now therefore, O God, strengthen my hands.

10 Afterward I came unto the house of Shebaniah the son of Delaiab, the son of Shebtabel, who was with me: and he said, Let us meet together in the house of God, within the temple, and let us shut the doors of the temple: for they will come to slay thee, yea in the night will they come to slay thee.

11 And I said, Should such a man as I see? and who is there, that being as I am, would go into the temple to save his life? I will not go in.

12 And so I perceived that God had not sent him, but that he pronounced this prophetic against me: for Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him.

13 Therefore was he filled, that I should be afraid, and do so, and he, and that they might have matter for an evil report, that they might reproach me.

14 O God, think thou upon Tobiah and Sanballat, according to these their works, and on the prophetesse Haddiab, and the rest of the prophets, that would have put me in fear.

15 So the wall was finished, in the twenty and fifth day of the month Chul, in fifty and two dayes.

16 And it came to passe that when all our enemies heard thereof, and all the heathen that were about us saw these things, they were much cast down in their own eyes: for they perceived that this work was wrought of our God.

17 I November, in those dayes the nobles of Judah sent many letters unto Tobiah, and the letters of Tobiah came unto them.

18 For there were many in Judah worn unto him, because he was the son in law of Shebtabel the son of Arab; and his son Johanan had taken the daughter of Meshullam, the son of Berechiah.

19 Also they reported his good deeds before me, and uttered my words to him: and Tobiah sent letters to put me in fear.

1 Nehemiah committeth the charge of Jerusalem to Hanani and Hananiah. 5 A register of the genealogie of them which came at the first out of Babylon, 9 of the people, 39 of the priests, 43 of the Levites, 46 of the Nechinims, 57 of Solomons servants, 63 and of the priests which could not finde their pedigree. 66 The whole number of them with their substance. 70 Their oblations.

NOW it came to passe when the wall was builded, and I had set up the doors; and the porters, and the singers, and the Levites were appointed;

2 That I gave my brother Hanani, and Hananiah the ruler of the palace, charge over Jerusalem: (for he was a faithful man, and feared God above many.)

3 And I said unto them, Let not the gates of Jerusalem be opened until the sun be hot; and while they stand by, let them shut the doors, and bar them: and appoint watches of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, every one in his watch, and every one to be over against his house.

4 Now the city was large and great, but the people were few therein, and the houses were not builded.

5 And my God put into mine heart, to gather together the nobles, and the rulers, and the people, that they might be reckoned by genealogie: and I found a register of the genealogie of them which came up at the first, and found written therein.

6 These are the children of the province, that went up out of the captivity, of those that had been carried away, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away, and came again to Jerusalem, and to Judah, every one unto his city;

60 All the Rechinims, and the children of Solomons servants, were three hundred ninety and two.

61 * And these were they which went up also from Tel-melah, Tel-harsha, Cherab, Addon, and Tammer: but they could not show their fathers house, nor their seed, whether they were of Israel.

62 The children of Delalah, the children of Tobiah, the children of Bekoda, six hundred forty and two.

63 And of the priests: the children of Bahalab, the children of Koz, the children of Barsilai which took one of the daughters of Barsilai the Gileadite to wife, and was called after their name.

64 These sought their register among those that were reckoned by genealogie, but it was not found: therefore were they, as polluted, put from the priesthood.

65 And the Tirshatha said unto them, that they should not eat of the most holy things, till there stood up a priest with Urim and Thummim.

66 The whole congregation together, was fourty and two thousand three hundred and threescore.

67 Besides their men-servants, and their maid-servants, of whom there were seven thousand three hundred thirty and seven: and they had two hundred forty and five singing men and singing women.

68 Their horses, seven hundred thirty and six: their mules, two hundred forty and five:

69 Their camels, four hundred thirty and five: six thousand seven hundred and twenty asses.

70 And some of the chief of the fathers gave unto the work: the Tirshatha gave to the treasure, a thousand marks of gold, fifty balans, five hundred and thirty purple garments.

to the treasure of the work, twenty thousand drams of gold, and two thousand and two hundred pound of silver.

72 And that which the rest of the people gave, was twenty thousand drams of gold, and two thousand pound of silver, and therefore and seven priests garments.

73 So the priests and the Levites, and the porters, and the singers, and some of the people, and the Scribes, and all Israel, dwelt in their cities; and when the seventh month came, the children of Israel were in their cities.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The religious manner of reading and hearing the law. 9 They comfort the people. 13 The forwardness of them to hear, and be instructed. 16 They keep the feast of tabernacles.

1 And all the people gathered themselves together as one man, into the street that was before the water-gate, and they spake unto Ezra the scribe, to bring the book of the law of Moses, which the LORD had commanded to Israel.

2 And Ezra the priest brought the law before the congregation both of men and women, and all that could hear with understanding, upon the first day of the seventh month.

3 And he read therein before the street that was before the water-gate, from the morning until mid-day, before the men and the women, and those that could understand; and the ears of all the people were attentive unto the book of the law.

4 And Ezra the scribe stood upon a pulpit of wood, which they had made for the purpose; and beside him stood Mattithiah, and Shemah, and Ananiah, and Uzielah, and Vilkiah, and Maaseiah, on his right hand; and on his left hand Pekaiab, and Misael, and Malchiah, and Bakum, and Bashiadana, Zebadiab, and Bekuslam.

5 And Ezra opened the book in the sight of all the people, (for he was above all the people) and when he opened it, all the people stood up:

6 And Ezra blessed the LORD the great God; and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting up their hands: and they bowed their heads, and worshipped the LORD with their faces to the ground.

7 Also Jehua, and Bani, and Sherebiab, Jamin, Akib, Shabbethai, Hodshah, Maaseiah, Keliya, Azariah, Johabab, Hanan, Delaiab, and the Levites caused the people to understand the law; and the people stood in their place.

8 So they read in the book, in the law of God distinctly, and gave the sense, and caused them to understand the reading.

9 And Nehemiah, which is the Tirhatha, and Ezra the priest the scribe, and the Levites that taught the people, said unto all the people, This day is holy unto the LORD your God, mourn not, nor weep; for all the people wept when they heard the words of the law.

10 Then he said unto them, Do you weep, eat the fat, and drink the wine, and send portions unto them for whom nothing is prepared; for this day is holy unto our Lord: neither be you sorry, for the joy of the LORD is your strength.

11 So the Levites filled all the people, saying, Hold your peace, for the day is holy, neither be ye grieved.

12 And all the people went their way to eat and to drink, and to send portions, and to make great mirth, because they had understood the words that were declared unto them.

13 And on the second day were gathered together the chief of the fathers of all the people, the priests and the Levites, unto Ezra the scribe, even to understand the words of the law.

14 And they found written in the law, which the LORD had commanded by Moses, that the children of Israel should dwell in booths, in the feast of the seventh month:

15 And that they should publish and proclaim in all their cities, and in Jerusalem, saying, Go forth unto the mount, and fetch olive-branches, and pine-branches, and myrtle-branches, and palm-branches, and branches of thick trees, to make booths, as it is written.

16 So the people went forth, and brought them, and made themselves booths, every one upon the roof of his house, and in their courts, and in the courts of the house of God, and in the street of the water-gate, and in the street of the gate of Ephraim.

17 And all the congregation of them that were come again out of the captivity, made booths, and sat under the booths; for since the days of Joshua the son of Nun, unto that day, had not the children of Israel done so; and there was very great gladness.

18 Also day by day, from the first day into the last day, he read in the book of the law of God; and they kept the feast seven days, and on the eighth day was a solemn assembly, according unto the manner.

CHAP. IX.

1 A solemn fast, and repentance of the people. 4 The Levites make a religious confession of Gods goodness, and their wickedness.

Now in the twentieth and fourth day of this month, the children of Israel were assembled with fasting, and with sackcloths, and earth upon them.

2 And the seed of Israel separated themselves from all strangers, and stood and confessed their sins, and the iniquities of their fathers.

3 And they stood up in their place, and read in the book of the law of the LORD their God, one fourth part of the day, and another fourth part they confessed and worshipped the LORD their God.

4 Then stood up upon the stairs of the Levites, Jehua, and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherbiab, Bani, and Chenani, and cried with a loud voice unto the LORD their God.

5 Then the Levites, Jehua and Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabuniah, Sherebiab, Hodshah, Shebaniah, and Debaiab, said, Stand up and bless the LORD your God for ever and ever; and bless be thy glorious name, which is exalted above all blessing and praise.

6 Thou, even thou art LORD alone, thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens with all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein, the sea, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all, and the host of heaven worshippeth thee.

7 Thou art the LORD the God, who didst choose Abram, and broughtest him forth out of Ur of the Chaldees, and gavest him the name of Abraham:

8 And foundest his heart faithful before thee, and madest a covenant with him, to give the land of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Jebusites, and the Gergesites, to give it, I say, to his seed; and hast performed thy words, for thou art righteous:

9 And thou see the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and hearest their cry by the red sea :

10 And * shewedst signes and wonders upon Pharaon, and on all his servants, and on all the people of his land : for thou knewest that they sate proudly against thee : so didst thou get thee a name, as it is this day.

11 * And thou didst divide the sea before them, so that they went thowgh the midst of the sea, on the dale sand, and their persecuters thou threwest into the deeps, as a stone into the * mighty waters.

12 Moreover, thou * leddest them in the day by a cloudy pillar : and in the night by a pillar of fire, to give them light in the way wherein they should go.

13 * Thou canest down also upon mount Sinai, and spakest with them from heaven, and gavelst them right judgements, and † true laws, good statutes, and commandments :

14 And madest known unto them thy holy tabernacle, and commandedst them precepts, statutes, and laws, by the hand of Moses thy servant :

15 And * gavelst them bread from heaven, for their hunger, and * broughtest forth water for them out of the rock, for their thirst, and promisedst them that they should * go in to possesse the land, † which thou hast sworn to give them.

16 But they and our fathers dealt proudly, and hardened their necks, and hearkened not to thy commandments, 17 And refused to obey, neither were mindful of the wonders that thou didst among them : but hardened their necks, and in their rebellion appointed * a captain to return to their bondage : but thou art † a God ready to pardon, gracious and mercifull, slow to anger, and of great kindnesse, and forsookest them not.

18 Yea, * when they had made them a molten calf, and said, This is thy God that brought thee up out of Egypt, and had wrought great provocations :

19 Yet thou in thy manifold mercies forsookest them not in the wilderness : the * pillar of the cloud departed not from them by day, to lead them in the way ; neither the pillar of fire by night, to shew them light, and the way wherein they should go.

20 Thou gavest also thy * good spirit, to instruct them, and withheldst not thy * manna from their mouth, and gavest them * water for their thirst.

21 Yea forty years didst thou sustain them in the wilderness, so that they lacked nothing ; their * clothes waxed not old, and their feet swelled not.

22 Moreover, thou gavest them kingdoms, and nations, and didst divide them into corners : so they possessed the land of * Sihon, and the land of the king of Irbison, and the land of Og king of Bashan.

23 Their children also multipliedst thou as the stars of heaven, and broughtest them into the land, concerning which thou hadst promised to their fathers, that they should go in to possesse it.

24 So the children went in, and possessed the land, and thou subduedst before them the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, and gavest them into their hands, with their kings, and the people of the land, that they might do with them † as they would.

25 And they took strong cities, and a fat land, and possessed houses full of all goods, † wells digged, vineyards and olive-yards, and † fruit-trees in abundance : so they did eat, and were sated, and became fat, and delighted themselves in thy great goodnesse.

26 Never thelesse they were disobedient, and rebelled against thee, and cast thy law behind their backs, and slew thy * prophets which testified against them to turn them to thee, and they wrought great provocations :

27 Therefore thou deliveredst them into the hand of their enemies, who vexed them ; and in the time of their trouble, when they cryed unto thee, thou heardest them from heaven ; and according to the manifold mercies thou gavest them saviours, who saved them out of the hand of their enemies.

28 But after they had rest, † they did evil again before thee : therefore leftest thou them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion over them : yet when they returned and cryed unto thee, thou heardest them from heaven, and many times didst thou deliver them, according to thy mercies :

29 And testifiedst against them that they mightest bring them again unto thy law : yet they dealt proudly, and hearkened not unto thy commandments, but sinned against thy judgements (which if a man do, he shall live in them) and † witheld the shoulder, and hardened their neck, and would not hear.

30 Yet many yeers didst thou † forgive them, and testifiedst * against them by thy spirit † in thy prophets : yet would they not give ear : therefore gavest thou them into the hand of the people of the lands.

31 Nevertheless, for thy great mercies sake, thou didst not utterly consume them, nor forsake them ; for thou art a gracious and mercifull God.

32 Now therefore our God, the great, the * mighty, and the terrible God, who keepeth covenant and mercy ; let not all the † trouble seem little before thee, † that hath come upon us, on our kings, on our princes, and on our priests, and on our prophets, and on our fathers, and on all thy people, since the time of the kings of Assyria, unto this day.

33 Howbeit, thou art just in all that is brought upon us ; for thou hast done right, but we have done wickedly :

34 Neither have our kings, our princes, our priests, nor our fathers kept thy law, nor hearkened unto thy commandments, and thy testimonies wherewith thou didst testify against them.

35 For they have not senced thee in their kingdom, and in the great goodnesse that thou gavest them, and in the large and fat land which thou gavest before them, neither turned they from their wicked works.

26 Behold, we are servants this day, and for the land that thou gavest unto our fathers, to eat the fruit thereof, and the good thereof, behold, we are servants in it.

37 And it yeeldeth much increase unto the kings whom thou hast set over us, because of our sins ; also they have dominion over our bodies, and over our cattell, at their pleasure ; and we are in great distresse.

38 And because of all this, we make a sure covenant, and write it, and our princes, Levites, and priests, † seal unto it.

28 ¶ And the rest of the people, the priests, the Levites, the porters, the singers, the Perakim, and all they that had separated themselves from the people of the lands, unto the law of God, their wives, their sons, and their daughters, every one having knowledge, and having understanding.

29 They came to their brethren, their nobles, and entered into a curse, and into an oath to walk in God's law, which was given by Moses the servant of God, and to observe and do all the commandments of the Lord our Lord, and his judgments, and his statutes:

30 And that we would not give our daughters unto the people of the land, nor take their daughters for our sons.

31 ¶ And if the people of the land bring ware, or any victuals on the sabbath-day, to sell, that we would not buy it of them on the sabbath, or on the holy day: and that we would leave the seventh year, and the fraction of every debt.

32 Also we made ordinances for us, to charge our selves yearly, with the third part of a shekel, for the service of the house of our God, 33 For the shew-bread, and for the continuall meat-offering, and for the continuall burnt-offering, of the sabbaths, of the new moons, for the set feasts, and for the holy things, and for the sin-offerings, to make an atonement for Israel, and for all the work of the house of our God.

34 And we cast the lots among the priests, the Levites, and the people, for the wood-offering, to bring it into the house of our God, after the houses of our fathers, at times appointed, year by year, to burn upon the altar of the Lord our God, as it is written in the law.

35 And to bring the first-fruits of our ground, and the first-fruits of all fruit of all trees, year by year, unto the house of the Lord:

36 Also the first-born of our sons and of our cattle (as it is written in the law) and the firstlings of our herds, and of our flocks, to bring to the house of our God, unto the priests that minister in the house of our God:

37 ¶ And that we should bring the first-fruits of our dough, and our offerings, and the fruit of all manner of trees, of wine, and of oil, unto the priests, to the chambers of the house of our God, and the tithes of our ground unto the Levites, that the same Levites might have the tithes, in all the cities of our tillage.

38 And the priest the son of Aaron, shall be with the Levites, when the Levites take tithes: and the Levites shall bring up the tithes of the tithes unto the house of our God, to the chambers into the treasure-house.

39 For the children of Israel, and the children of Levi, shall bring the offering of the corn, of the new wine, and the oil, unto the chambers, where are the vessels of the sanctuary, and the priests that minister, and the porters, and the singers, and we will not forsake the house of our God.

CHAPTER XI.

1 The rulers, voluntary men, and the tenth man chosen by lot, dwell at Jerusalem. 3 A catalogue of their names. 20 The residue dwell in other cities.

And the rulers of the people dwell at Jerusalem: the rest of the people also cast lots to bring one of ten, to dwell in Jerusalem the holy city, and nine parts to dwell in other cities.

2 And the people blessed all the men that willingly offered themselves to dwell at Jerusalem.

3 Now these are the chief of the province that dwell in Jerusalem: but in the cities of Judah dwell every one in his possession in their cities, with Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the Perakim, and the children of Solomon's servants.

4 And at Jerusalem dwell certain of the children of Judah, and of the children of Benjamin: Of the children of Judah; Athiah the son of Uziah, the son of Zechariah, the son of Amariah, the son of Shephatiah, the son of Malchiah: of the children of Benjamin;

5 And Bakkiah the son of Barnuch, the son of Col-bereth, the son of Bezabab, the son of Adab, the son of Jotath, the son of Zechariah, the son of Shilon.

6 All the sons of Perez that dwell at Jerusalem, were four hundred threescore and eight valiant men.

7 And these are the sons of Benjamin, Sallu the son of Meshullam, the son of Jordi, the son of Pedaiah, the son of Kolai, the son of Manasseh, the son of Zebiel, the son of Zebad.

8 And after him Gabath, Sallai, nine hundred thorny and eight.

9 And Jeel the son of Fichai was their officer: and Judah the son of Sirinab, was second over the city.

10 And the priests: Jedaiab, the son of Jotath, Fachi.

11 Seraiah the son of Hilkiah, the son of Meshullam: the son of Zadok, the son of Meraioth, the son of Ahitub, was the ruler of the house of God.

12 And their brethren that did the work of the house, were eight hundred and thorny and two: and Adabai the son of Jerotam, the son of Delaiab, the son of Anzi, the son of Zechariah, the son of Pahur, the son of Malchiah.

13 And his brethren chief of the fathers, two hundred fourty and two: and Amashai, the son of Azareel, the son of Abai, the son of Meshilmoth, the son of Immer,

14 And their brethren mighty men of valour, an hundred twenty and eight: and their officers was Sabdel, the son of one of the great men, 16 And Shabbethai, and Jozabab of the chief of the Levites had the oversight of the outward business of the house of God.

17 And Bathanab the son of Micha, the son of Zaddi, the son of Alaph, was the principall to begin the thanksgiving in prayer: and Bakkubai the sould among his brethren, and Abda the son of Shammua, the son of Galai, the son of Jethuban.

18 All the Levites in the holy city, were two hundred fourscore and four.

19 Moreover, the porters, Akkub, Talmon, and their brethren that kept the gates, were an hundred seventy and two.

20 And the residue of Israel, of the priests, and the Levites, were in all the cities of Judah, every one in his inheritance.

21 But the Benjamins dwelt in Ophel: and Siba, and Gilpa were over the Benjamins.

22 The overseer also of the Levites at Jerusalem, was Uzzi the son of Bani, the son of Hashabai, the son of Bathanab, the son of Micha: of the sons of Alaph, the fingers were over the business of the house of God.

23 For it was the kings commandment concerning them, that a certain portion should be for the fingers, one for every day.

24 And Jethabiah the son of Jethazabel, of the children of Zerab the son of Judah, was at the kings hand in all matters concerning the people.

25 And for the villages, with their fields, some of the children of Judah dwelt at Ketzab-erba and in the villages thereof, and at Dibon and in the villages thereof, and at Tekabzeel and in the villages thereof.

26 And at Jeshua, and at Maladai, and at Beth-pherai, 27 And at Hazar-shual, and at Beer-sheba and in the villages thereof,

28 And at Fiklag, and at Bebonah and in the villages thereof,

29 And at En-rimmon, and at Zareah, and at Farath,

30 Jancab, Abullam, and in their villages, at Lachish, and the fields thereof, at Azekah and in the villages thereof. And they dwelt from Beer-sheba, unto the valley of Betanem.

31 The children also of Benjamin from Geba, dwelt at Bethmeth, and Alfa, and Bethel, and in their villages,

32 And at Anathoth, Nob, Ananiab,

33 Hazor, Ramah, Gibeon,

34 Hadad, Zeboim, Bethlat,

35 Lod, and Ono, the valley of craftsmen.

36 And of the Levites were divisions in Judah and in Benjamin.

CHAP. XII.

1 The priests, 8 and the Levites which came up with Zerubbabel. 10 The succession of high priests. 22 Certain chief Levites. 27 The solemnity of the dedication of the walls. 44 The offices of priests and Levites appointed in the temple.

Now these are the priests and the Levites that went up with Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua: Seraiab, Jeremias, Ezra, 2 Amariab, Hashub, Harub, 3 Shebaniah, Rehum, Zeremoth, 4 Jodo, Gimethoi, Abiath, 5 Blamin, Baniab, Bilgah,

6 Shematah, and Jatarib, Jedaiab,

7 Sallu, Amok, Bilgah, Jedaiab: these were the chief of the priests, and of their brethren in the days of Jeshua.

8 Moreover the Levites: Jeshua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiab, Judah, and Bathanab, which was over the thanksgiving, he and his brethren.

9 Also Bakkubai, and Anai, these brethren, were over against them in the watches.

10 And Jeshua begat Jotakim, Jotakim also begat Eliashib, and Eliashib begat Jolada, 11 And Jolada begat Jozabab, and Jozabab begat Jaddua.

12 And in the days of Jotakim, were priests, the chief of the fathers: of Seraiab, Seraiab: of Jeremias, Jhananab:

13 Of Ezra, Meshullam: of Amariab, Jehohanan:

14 Of Helic, Jonathab: of Shebaniah, Joseph.

15 Of Harim, Adna: of Merathb, Helkai:

16 Of Jodo, Jechariab: of Ginnethoi, Meshullam:

17 Of Abiath, Zichri: of Blamin, of Hosaiab, Hiltai:

18 Of Bilgah, Shammua: of Shematah, Jehonathab:

19 And of Jatarib, Bathanab: of Jedaiab, Uzzi:

20 Of Sallai, Sallai: of Amok, Eber:

21 Of Bilgah, Hashabaiab: of Jodab, Meshaneel.

22 The Levites in the days of Eliashib, Jolada, and Jozabab, and Jaddua, were recorded chief of the fathers: also the priests, in the reign of Darius the Persian.

23 The sons of Levi, the chief of the fathers, were written in the book of the chronicles, even until the days of Johanan the son of Eliashib.

24 And the chief of the Levites: Hashabaiab, Sherebiab, and Jeshua the son of Kadmiel, with their brethren over against them, to praise and to give thanks according to the commandment of David the man of God, ward over against ward.

25 Bathanab, and Bakkubai, Dadiab, Meshullam, Talmon, Akkub, were porters keeping the ward, at the thresholds of the gates.

26 These were in the days of Jotakim the son of Jeshua, the son of Jozabab, and in the days of Rehemias the governour, and of Ezra the priest, the scribe.

27 And at the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem, they sought the Levites out of all their places, to bring them to Jerusalem, to keep the dedication with gladness, both with thanksgivings, and with singing, with cymbals, psalteries, and with harps.

28 And the sons of the singers gathered themselves together, both out of the plain country round about Jerusalem, and from the villages of Bethpazeth.

29 Also from the house of Bilgal, and out of the fields of Geba, and Azbaber: for the singers had builded their villages round about Jerusalem.

30 And the priests and the Levites purified themselves, and purified the people, and the gates, and the wall.

31 Then I brought up the princes of Judah upon the wall, and appointed two great companies of them that gave thanks, whereof one went on the right hand upon the wall toward the dung-gate.

32 And after them went Meshabab, and half of the princes of Judah,

 35 And certain of the priests sonnes with trumpets; namely, Zachariah the sonne of Jonathan, the sonne of Shemaiab, the sonne of Mattaniah, the sonne of Michaiab, the sonne of Zaccur, the sonne of Alaph:
 36 And his brethren, Shemaiab, and Azarel, Bilaiab, Gilaiab, Baal, Bebaiel, and Judah, Hanani, with the musickall Instruments of Davids the man of God, and Ezra the scribe before them.
 37 And at the fountain gate, which was over against them, they went up by the stairs of the citie of David, at the going up of the wall, above the house of David, even unto the water gate, eastward.
 38 And the other company of them that gave thanks, went over against them, and I after them, and the half of the people upon the wall, from beyond the tower of the furnaces, even unto the broad wall:
 39 And from above the gate of Ephraim, and above the old gate, and above the Ash-gate, and the tower of Hananeel, and the tower of Mead, even unto the Shep-gate; and they stood still in the prison-gate.
 40 So stood the two companies of them that gave thanks in the house of God, and I, and the half of the rulers with me:
 41 And the priests: Eliakim, Maaseiah, Mattaniah, Michaiab, Elisoenai, Zachariah, and Hananiah with trumpets:
 42 And Maaseiah, and Shemaiab, and Eleazar, and Ezi, and Jehobanan, and Halesiah, and Elam, and Ezer: and the singers sang loud with Jezabab their overseer.
 43 Also that day they offered great sacrifices, and rejoiced: for God had made them joye with great joy: the wives also and the children rejoiced: so that the joy of Jerusalem was heard even a farr off.
 44 And at that time were some appointed over the chambers for the treasures, for the offerings, for the first-fruits, and for the tithes, to gather into them out of the fields of the cities, the portions of the law for the priests and Levites: for Judah rejoiced for the priests and for the Levites that walked.
 45 And both the singers, and the porters kept the ward of their God, and the ward of the purification, according to the commandment of David, and of Solomon his sonne.
 46 For in the dayes of David * and Alaph, of old, there were chief of the singers, and songs of praise and thanksgiving unto God.
 47 And all Israel in the dayes of Zerubbabel, and in the dayes of Nehemiah, gave the portions of the singers, and the porters, every day his portion, and they sanctified holy things unto the Levites, * and the Levites sanctified them unto the children of Aaton.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Upon the reading of the law, separation is made from the mixed multitude. 4 Nehemiah at his return causeth the chambers to be cleaned. 10 He reformateth the offices in the house of God. 15 The violation of the sabbath; 23 and the marriages with strange wives.
 O n that day they read in the booke of Moses in the audience of the people; and therein was found written, That the Ammonite and the Moabite should not come into the congregation of God for ever.

2 Because they met not the children of Israel with bread and with water, but * hired Balaam against them, that he should curse them: howbeit our God turned the curse into a blessing.
 3 Now it came to passe when they had heard the law, that they separated from Israel all the mixed multitude.
 4 And before this, Elashib the priest, bringing the oversight of the chamber of the house of our God, was called unto Tobiah:
 5 And he had prepared for him a great chamber, where sometime they laid the meat-offerings, the frankincense, and the vessels, and the tithes of the corn, the new wine, and the oyle, (which was commanded to be given to the Levites, and the singers, and the porters) and the offerings of the priests.
 6 But in all this time was not I at Jerusalem: for in the two and thirtieth year of Artaxerxes king of Babylon, came I unto the king, and after certain dayes I obtained I leave of the king:
 7 And I came to Jerusalem, and under stood of the evil that Elashib did for Tobiah, in preparing him a chamber in the courts of the house of God.
 8 And it grieved me sore, therefore I cast forth all the household stuffe of Tobiah out of the chamber.
 9 Then I commanded, and they cleaned the chambers; and wither brought I againe the vessels of the house of God, with the meat-offering, and the frankincense.
 10 And I perceived that the porters of the Levites had not been given them: for the Levites and the singers that did the work, were fled every one to his field.
 11 Then contended I with the rulers, and said, Why is the house of God forsaken? and I gathered them together, and set them in their place.
 12 Then brought all Judah the tithes of the corn, and the new wine, and the oyle unto the treasuries.
 13 And I made treasurers, over the treasures, Shelemiah the priest, and Zadok the scribe, and of the Levites, Gedaliah: and next to them was Hanani the son of Zaccur, the son of Mattaniah: for they were counted faithful, and their office was to distribute unto their brethren.
 14 * Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and wipe not out my good deeds that I have done for the house of my God, and for the offices thereof.
 15 In those dayes saw I in Judah, some treading wine-presses on the sabbath, and bringing in sheaves, and lading asses, as also wine, grapes, and figs, and all manner of burdens which they brought into Jerusalem on the sabbath-day: and I testified against them in the day wherein they sold victuals.
 16 There dwelt men of Tyre also therein, which brought Ash, and all manner of ware, and sold on the sabbath unto the children of Judah, and in Jerusalem.
 17 Then I contended with the nobles of Judah, and said unto them, What evil thing is this that ye do, and profane the sabbath-day?
 18 Did not your fathers thus; and did not our God bring all this evil upon us, and upon this citie? yet ye bring more wrath upon Israel by profaning the sabbath.
 19 And it came to passe, that when the gates of Jerusalem began to be dark before the sabbath,

I commanded that the gates should be shut, and charged that they should not be opened till after the sabbath: and some of my servants set I at the gates, that there should be no burden brought in on the sabbath-day.

20 So the merchants and sellers of all kinde of ware, lodged without Ierusalem once or twice.

21 Then I testified against them, and said unto them, Why lodge ye about the wall? if ye do so again, I will lay hands on you. From that time forth came they no more on the sabbath.

22 And I commanded the Levites, that they should cleanse themselves, and that they should come and keep the gates, to sanctifie the sabbath-day. Remember me, O my God, concerning this also, and spare me according to the greatness of thy mercy.

23 In those dayes also saw I Iewes that had married wives of Ahabod, of Ammon, and of Moab:

24 And their children spake half in the speech of Ahabod, and I could not speak in the Iewes language, but according to the language of each people.

25 And I contended with them, and I cursed them, and smote certain of them, and plucked off their haire, and made them swear by God, saying, Ye shall not give your daughters unto their sons, nor take their daughters unto your sons, or for your selves.

26 Did not Solomon king of Israel sin by these things: yet among many nations was there no king like him, who was beloved of his God, and God made him king over all Israel: neverthelesse, even him did ourlandish women cause to sin.

27 Shall we then hearken unto you to do all this great evil, to transgresse against our God, in marrying strange wives?

28 And one of the sons of Jehoiada, the son of Eliashib the high priest, was son in law to Sarbaisat the Hozonite: therefore I chased him from me.

29 Remember them, O my God, because they have defiled the priesthood, and the covenant of the priesthood, and of the Levites.

30 Thus cleansed I them from all strangers, and appointed the wardens of the priests and the Levites, every one in his businesse:

31 And for the wood-offering, at times appointed, and for the first-fruits. Remember me, O my God, for good.

CHAP. I.

1 Ahasuerus makech royall feasts 10 Valhti sent for, refuseth to come. 13 Ahasuerus by the counsell of Memucan, makech the decree of mens soveraigntie.

Now it came to passe in the dayes of Ahasuerus (this is Ahasuerus which reigned from Iudia even unto Ethiopia, over an hundred and seven and twenty provinces.)

2 That in those dayes, when the king Ahasuerus sat on the throne of his kingdom, which was in Shushan the palace,

3 In the third year of his reign, he made a feast unto all his princes, and his servants; the power of Persia and Media, the nobles and princes of the provinces being before him.

4 When he shewed the riches of his glorious kingdom, and the honour of his excellent manse, many dayes, even an hundred and fourscore dayes.

5 And when these dayes were expired, the king made a feast unto all the people that were present in Shushan the palace, both unto great and small, seven dayes, in the court of the garden of the kings palace,

6 Where were white, green, and blue hangings, fastened with cords of fine linen and purple, to silver rings, and pillars of marble: the bases were of gold, and silver, upon a pavement of red, and blue, and white, and black marble.

7 And they gave them drink in vessels of gold, (the vessels being divers one from another) and of royall wine in abundance, according to the rate of the king.

8 And the drinking was according to the law, none did compell: for so the king had appointed to all the officers of his house, that they should do according to every mans pleasure.

9 Also Vashti the queen made a feast for the women, in the royall house which belonged to king Ahasuerus.

10 On the seventh day, when the heart of the king was merrie with wine, he commanded Hehman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zerkar, and Carcas, the seven chamberlains that served in the presence of Ahasuerus the king, 11 To bring Vashti the queen before the king with the crown royall, to shew the people and the princes her beautie: for she was fair to look on.

12 But the queen Vashti refused to come at the kings commandment: by his chamberlains: therefore was the king very wroth, and his anger burned in him.

13 Then the king said to the wise-men which knew the times, (for so was the kings mannes towards all that knew law and judgement:

14 And the next unto him was Carshena, Sathar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Martena, and Memucan, the seven princes of Persia, and Media, which saw the kings face, and which sat the first in the kingdom)

15 What shall we do unto the queen Vashti, according to law, because she hath not performed the commandment of the king Ahasuerus, by the chamberlains?

16 And Memucan answered before the king and the princes, Vashti the queen hath not done wrong to the king onely, but also to all the princes, and to all the people that are in all the provinces of the king Ahasuerus.

17 For this deed of the queen shall come a broad unto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands in their eyes when it shall be reported. The king Ahasuerus commanded Ahasi the queen to be brought in before him, but she came not.

18 Likewise shall the ladies of Persia and Media say this day unto all the kings princes, which have heard of the deed of the queen. Thus shall there arise too much contempt and wrath.

19 If it please the king, let there go a royall commandment from him, and let it be written among the laws of the Persians and the Medes, that it be not altered, that Ahasi come no more before king Ahasuerus, and let the king give her royall estate unto another that is better then she.

20 And when the kings decree which he shall make, shall be published throughout all his empire, (for it is great) all the wives shall give to their husbands honour, both to great and small.

21 And the saying pleased the king and the princes, and the king did according to the word of Demucan:

22 For he sent letters into all the kings provinces, into every province according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language, that every man should bear rule in his own house, and that it should be published according to the language of every people.

CHAP. II.

1 Out of the choice of virgins, a queen is to be chosen. 5 Mordecai the nursing father of Esther. 8 Esther is preferred by Hegai before the rest. 12 The manner of purification, and going in to the king. 15 Esther best pleasing the king, is made queen. 21 Mordecai discovering a treason, is recorded in the chronicles.

After these things, when the wrath of king Ahasuerus was appeased, he remembered Ahasi, and what she had done, and what was decreed against her.

2 Then said the kings servants, that ministered unto him; Let there be faire young virgins sought for the king.

3 And let the king appoint officers in all the provinces of his kingdom, that they may gather together all the faire young virgins unto Shushan the palace, to the house of the women, unto the custodie of Hegai the kings chamberlain, keeper of the women, and let their things for purification be given them.

4 And let the maiden which pleased the king, be queen in stead of Ahasi. And the thing pleased the king, and he did so.

5 Now in Shushan the palace, there was a certain Jew, whose name was Mordecai, the son of Jethi, the son of Shimei, the son of Kis a Benjamite.

6 Who had been carried away from Jerusalem, with the captivity which had been carried away with Tereph king of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away.

7 And he brought up Hadassah (that is Esther) his uncles daughter: for she had neither father nor mother, and the maid was faire and beautiful, whom Mordecai (when her father and mother were dead) took for his own daughter.

8 So it came to passe, when the kings commandment and his decree was heard, and when many maidens were gathered together unto Shushan the palace, to the custodie of Hegai, that Esther was brought also unto the kings house, to the custodie of Hegai, keeper of the women.

9 And the maiden pleased him, and she obtained kindnesse of him, and he speedily gave her her things for purification, with such things as belonged to her, and seven maidens, which were meet to be given her, out of the kings house, and she preferred her and her maids, unto the best place of the house of the women.

10 Esther had not shewed her people, nor her kindred: for Mordecai had charged her, that she should not shew it.

11 And Mordecai walked every day before the court of the womens house, to know how Esther did, and what should become of her.

12 Now when every maids turn was come to go in to king Ahasuerus, after that she had been twelve moneths, according to the manner of the women, (so were the daies of their purifications accomplished, to wit, six moneths with oyl of myrre, and six moneths with sweet odours, and with other things for the purifying of the women)

13 Then thus came every maiden unto the king, whatsoever she desired was given her, to go with her out of the house of the women, unto the kings house.

14 In the evening she went, and on the morning she returned into the second house of the women, to the custodie of Shasbazar, the kings chamberlain, which kept the concubines: she came in unto the king no more, except the king delighted in her, and that she were called by name.

15 Now when the turn of Esther, the daughter of Abihail, the uncle of Mordecai (who had taken her for his daughter) was come to go in unto the king, she required nothing, but what Hegai the kings chamberlain, the keeper of the women appointed: and Esther obtained favour in the sight of all them that looked upon her.

16 So Esther was taken unto king Ahasuerus, into his house royall, in the tenth moneth (which is the moneth Tebeth) in the seventh year of his reign.

17 And the king loved Esther above all the women, and she obtained grace and favour in his sight, more then all the virgins: so that he set the royall crown upon her head, and made her queen in stead of Ahasi.

18 Then the king made a great feast unto all his princes and his servants, even Esthers feast, and he made a release to the provinces, and gave gifts, according to the state of the king.

19 And when the virgins were gathered together the second time, then Mordecai sat in the kings gate.

20 Esther had not yet shewed her kindred, nor her people, as Mordecai had charged her: for Esther did the commandment of Mordecai, like as when she was brought up with him.

21 In those daies (while Mordecai sat in the kings gate) two of the kings chamberlains, Bigthan and Teresh, of those which kept the doore, were woth, and sought to lay hand on the king Ahasuerus:

22 And the thing was known to Mordecai, who told it unto Esther the queen, and Esther certified the king thereof, in Mordecais name.

23 And when inquiry was made of the matter, it was found out; therefore they were hanged on a tree: and it was written in the book of the chronicles before the king.

CHAP. III.

1 Haman advanced by the king, and despised by Mordecai, seeketh revenge upon all the Jews. 7 He catcheth lots. 8 He obtaineth by calumination, a decree of the king to put the Jews to death.

After these things did king Ahasuerus promote Haman the son of Ammedatha the Agagite, and advanced him, and set his seat above all the princes that were with him.

2 And all the kings servants that were in the kings gate, bowed and revered Haman: for the king had so commanded concerning him: but Mordecai bowed not, nor did him reverence.

3 Then the kings servants, which were in the kings gate, said unto Mordecai, Why transgresseth thou the kings commandment?

4 How it came to passe when they spake daily unto him, and he harkened not unto them, that they told Haman, to see whether Mordecai his matters would stand, for he had told them that he was a Jew.

5 And when Haman saw that Mordecai bowed not, nor did him reverence, then was Haman full of wrath.

6 And he thought scorn to lay hands on Mordecai alone, for they had shewed him the people of Mordecai: wherefore Haman sought to destroy all the Jews, that were throughout the whole kingdoms of Ahasuerus, even the people of Mordecai.

7 In the first moneth (that is the moneth Nisan) in the twelfth year of king Ahasuerus, they cast Pur, that is the lot, before Haman, from day to day, and from moneth to moneth, to the twelfth moneth, that is the moneth Adar.

8 And Haman said unto king Ahasuerus, There is a certain people scattered abroad, and dispersed among the people, in all the provinces of thy kingdom, and their laws are diverse from all people, neither keep they the kings laws; therefore it is not for the kings profit to suffer them.

9 If it please the king, let it be written, that they may be destroyed: and I will pay ten thousand talents of silver to the hands of those that have the charge of the business, to bring it into the kings treasuries.

10 And the king took his ring from his hand, and gave it unto Haman the son of Ammedatha the Agagite, the Jews enemy.

11 And the king said unto Haman, The silver is given to thee, the people also, to do with them as it seemeth good to thee.

12 Then were the kings scribes called on the thirtieth day of the first moneth, and there was written according to all that Haman had commanded unto the kings lieutenants, and to the governors that were over every province, and to the rulers of every people of every province, according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language in the name of king Ahasuerus was it written, and sealed with the kings ring.

13 And the letters were sent by posts into all the kings provinces, to destroy, to kill, and to cause to perish all Jews, both young and old, little children and women, in one day, even upon the thirtieth day of the twelfth moneth, (which is the moneth Adar) and to take the spoil of them for a prey.

14 The copy of the writing for a commandment to be given in every province, was published unto all people, that they should be ready against that day.

15 The posts went out, being hastened by the kings commandment, and the decree was given in Shushan the palace: and the king and Haman sat down to drink, but the cite Shushan was perplexed.

CHAP. IIIII.

1 The great mourning of Mordecai and the Jews 4 Esther understanding it, sendeth to Mordecai, who sheweth the cause and adviceth her to undertake the suit. 10 She excusing her self, is threatened by Mordecai. 15 She appointing a fast, undertaketh the suit.

When Mordecai perceived all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth with ashes, and went out into the midst of the cite, and cryed with a loud and a bitter cry:

2 And came even before the kings gate: for none might enter into the kings gate clothed with sackcloth.

3 And in every province whither soever the kings commandment, and his decree came, there was great mourning among the Jews, and fasting, and weeping, and wailing, and many lay in sackcloth and ashes.

4 So Esthers maids, and her chamberlains came and told it her: then was the queen exceedingly grieved, and she sent raiment to clothe Mordecai, and to take away the sackcloth from him: but he received it not.

5 Then called Esther for Hatach, one of the kings chamberlains, whom he had appointed to attend upon her, and gave him a commandment to Mordecai, to know what it was, and why it was.

6 So Hatach went forth to Mordecai, unto the street of the cite, which was before the kings gate.

7 And Mordecai told him of all that had happened unto him, and of the sum of the money that Haman had promised to pay to the kings treasuries for the Jews, to destroy them.

8 Also he gave them the copy of the writing of the decree, that was given at Shushan to destroy them, to shew it unto Esther, and to declare it unto her, and to charge her that she should go in unto the king, to make supplication unto him, and to make request before him for her people.

9 And Hatach came and told Esther the words of Mordecai.

10 Again Esther spake unto Hatach, and gave him commandment unto Mordecai;

11 All the kings servants, and the people of the kings provinces do know, that whosoever, whether man or woman, shall come unto the king into the inner court, who is not called, there is one law of his to put him to death, except such to whom the king shall hold out the golden scepter, that he may live: but I have not been called to come in unto the king, these thirtie dayes.

12 And they told to Mordecai Esthers words.

13 Then Mordecai commanded to another Esther, Think not with thy self that thou shalt escape in the kings house, more then all the Jews.

14 For if thou altogether holdest thy peace at this time, then shall there be enlargement and deliverance arise to the Jews from another place, but thou and thy fathers house shall be destroyed: and who knoweth, whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this.

15 Then Esther bade them return Mordecai this answer.

CHAP. V.

1 Esther adventuring on the kings favour, obtaineth the grace of the golden scepter, and inviteth the king and Haman to a banquet. 6 She being encouraged by the king in her suit, inviteth them to another banquet the next day. 9 Haman proud of his advancement, repineth at the contempt of Mordecai. 14 By the counsell of Zeresh he buildeth for him a pair of gallows.

NOW it came to passe on the third day, that Esther went on her royall apparell, and stood in the inner court of the kings house, over against the kings house: and the king sat upon his royall throne in the royall house, over against the gate of the house.

2 And it was so when the king saw Esther the queen standing in the court, that she obtained favour in his sight: and the king held out to Esther the golden scepter that was in his hand: so Esther drew neerer, and touched the top of the scepter.

3 Then said the king unto her, What wilt thou, queen Esther? and what is thy request? it shall be even given thee, to the half of the kingdom.

4 And Esther answered, If it seem good unto the king, let the king and Haman come this day unto the banquet that I have prepared for him.

5 Then the king said, Cause Haman to make haste, that he may do as Esther hath said: so the king and Haman came to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

6 ¶ And the king said unto Esther at the banquet of wine, what is thy petition? and it shall be granted thee: and what is thy request? even to the half of the kingdom it shall be performed.

7 Then answered Esther, and said, My petition, and my request is:

8 If I have found favour in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to grant my petition, and if to perform my request, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I shall prepare for them, and I will do to morrow as the king hath said.

† Heb to do.

9 ¶ Then went Haman forth that day sorrowfull, and with a glad heart: but when Haman saw Mordecai in the kings gate, that he stood not up, nor moved for him, he was full of indignation against Mordecai.

10 Nevertheless, Haman refrained himself, and when he came home, he sent and † called for his friends, and Zeresh his wife.

11 And Haman told them of the glory of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the king had promoted him, and how he had advanced him above the princes and servants of the king.

12 Haman said moreover, Woe, Esther the queen did let no man come in with the king unto the banquet that he had prepared, but myself; and to morrow am I invited unto her also with the king.

13 Yet all this availeth me nothing, so long as I see Mordecai the Jew sitting at the kings gate.

† Heb. cree.

14 ¶ Then said Zeresh his wife, and all his friends unto him, Let a gallows be made of fifty cubits high, and to morrow speak thou unto the king, that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then go thou in merrily with the king unto the banquet. And the thing pleased Haman, and he caused the gallows to be made.

4 ¶ And the king said, Who is in the court? (now Haman was come into the outward court of the kings house, to speak unto the king, to hang Mordecai on the gallows that he had prepared for him.)

5 And the kings servants said unto him, Behold, Haman standeth in the court. And the king said, Let him come in.

6 So Haman came in: and the king said unto him, What shall be done unto the man † whom the king delighteth to honour? (now Haman thought in his heart, To whom would the king delight to do honour more then to myself?)

10 Then the king said to Haman, Make haste, and take the apparell, and the horse, as thou hast said, and do even so to Mordecai the Jew, that sitteth at the kings gate: † let nothing fall of all that thou hast spoken.

11 Then took Haman the apparell and the horse, and arrayed Mordecai, and brought him on horseback through the street of the city, and proclaimed before him, Thus shall it be done unto the man whom the king delighteth to honour.

12 ¶ And Mordecai came again to the kings gate: but Haman basted to his house, mourning, and having his head covered.

13 And Haman told Zeresh his wife and all his friends, every thing that had befallen him. Then said his wife men, and Zeresh his wife unto him, If Mordecai be of the seed of the Jews, before whom thou hast begun to fall, thou shalt not prevail against him, but shalt surely fall before him.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the kings chamberlains, and basted to bring Haman unto the banquet that Esther had prepared.

CHAP. VII.

1 Esther entertaining the king and Haman, maketh suit for her own life and her peoples. 5 She accuseth Haman. 7. The king in his anger understanding of the gallows, which Haman had made for Mordecai, causeth him to be hanged thereon.

So the king and Haman came to banquet with Esther the queen.

2 And the king said again to Esther, on the second day, at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, queen Esther? and it shall be granted thee: and what is thy request? and it shall be performed even to the half of the kingdom.

3 Then Esther the queen answered and said, If I have found favour in thy sight, O king, and if it please the king, let my life be given me at my petition, and my people at my request.

4 For we are sold, I and my people, to be destroyed, to be slain, and to perish; but if we had been sold for bond-men and bond-women, I had held my tongue, although the enemy could not counterball the kings damage.

5 Then the king Ahasuerus answered and said unto Esther the queen, Who is he? and where is he? that durst presume in his heart to do so?

6 And Esther said, The adversary and enemy, is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afraid before the king and the queen.

7 And the king arising from the banquet of wine in his wrath, went into the palace-garden; and Haman stood up to make request for his life to Esther the queen: for he saw that there was evil determined against him by the king.

8 Then the king returned out of the palace-garden, into the place of the banquet of wine; and Haman was fallen upon the bed whereon Esther was. Then said the king, Will he force the queen also? before me in the house? As the word went out of the kings mouth, they covered Hamans face.

9 And Harbonah one of the chamberlains, said before the king, Behold also the gallows fifty cubits high, which Haman had made for Mordecai, who had spoken good for the king, standeth in the house of Haman. Then the king said, Hang him thereon.

10 So they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai. Then was the kings wrath pacified.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Mordecai is advanced. 3 Esther maketh suit to reverse Hamans letters. 7 Ahasuerus granteth to the Jews to defend themselves. 15 Mordecais honour, and the Jews joy.

On that day did the king Ahasuerus give the house of Haman the Jews enemy unto Esther the queen: and Mordecai came before the king; for Esther had told what he was unto her.

2 And the king took off his ring which he had taken from Haman, and gave it unto Mordecai. And Esther set Mordecai over the house of Haman.

3 And Esther spake yet again before the king, and fell down at his feet: and he sought him with tears, to put away the mischief of Haman the Agagite, and his device that he had devised against the Jews.

4 Then the king held out the golden scepter toward Esther. So Esther arose, and stood before the king.

5 And said, If it please the king, and if I have found favour in his sight, and the thing seem right before the king, and I be pleasing in his eyes; let it be written to reverse the letters devised by Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, which he wrote to destroy the Jews which are in all the kings provinces:

6 For how can I endure to see the evil that shall come unto my people? or how can I endure to see the destruction of my kindred?

7 Then the king Ahasuerus said unto Esther the queen, and to Mordecai the Jew, Behold, I have given Esther the house of Haman, and him they have hanged upon the gallows, because he laid his hand upon the Jews.

8 Write ye also for the Jews, as it liketh you, in the kings name, and seal it with the kings ring: for the writing which is written in the kings name, and sealed with the kings ring, may no man reverse.

9 Then were the kings scribes called at that time in the third month (that is, the month Sivan) on the three and twentieth day thereof, and it was written (according to all that Mordecai commanded) unto the Jews, and to the lieutenants, and the deputies and rulers of the provinces which are from India unto Ethiopia, an hundred twenty and seven provinces, unto every province according to the writing thereof, and unto every people after their language, and to the Jews, according to their writing, and according to their language.

10 And he wrote in the king Ahasuerus name, and sealed it with the kings ring, and sent letters by posts on horseback, and riders on mules, camels, and young domesticals:

11 Therein the king granted the Jews, which were in every city, to gather themselves together, and to stand for their life, to destroy, to slay, and to cause to perish all the power of the people and province, that would assault them, both little ones, and women, and to take the spoil of them for a prey:

12 Upon one day, in all the provinces of king Ahasuerus, namely, upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month Adar.

13 The copy of the writing, for a commandment to be given in every province, was published unto all people, and that the Jews should be ready against that day, to avenge themselves on their enemies.

14 So the posts that rode upon mules and camels went out, being hastened, and pressed on by the kings commandment; and the decree was given at Shush in the palace.

15 And Mordecai went out from the presence of the king, in royal apparel of blue and white, and with a great crown of gold, and with a garment of fine linen and purple; and the city of Shushan rejoiced and was glad:

16 The Jews had light and gladness, and joy and honour.

17 And in every province, and in every city, whithersoever the kings commandment and his decree came, the Jews had joy and gladness, a feast and a good day: and many of the people of the land became Jews; for the fear of the Jews fell upon them.

same, when the kings commandment and his decree decreed near to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Jews hoped to have power over them. (though it was turned to the contrary, that the Jews had rule over them that hated them)

2 The Jews gathered themselves together in their cities, throughout all the provinces of the king Ahasuerus, to lay hand on such as sought their hurt; and no man could withstand them: for the fear of them fell upon all people.

3 And all the rulers of the provinces, and the lieutenants, and the deputies, and officers of the king, helped the Jews: because the fear of Mordecai fell upon them.

4 For Mordecai was great in the kings house, and his fame went out throughout all the provinces: for this man Mordecai waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Jews smote all their enemies with the stroke of the sword, and slaughter, and destruction, and did what they would unto those that hated them.

6 And in Shushan the palace, the Jews slew and destroyed five hundred men.

7 And Parshandatha, and Dalphon, and Aspachah,

8 And Dazatha, and Adatha, and Ardatha,

9 And Armathaea, and Arisat, and Ardat, and Ajazatha,

10 The ten sons of Haman the son of Hammedatha, the enemy of the Jews, slew they; but on the spoil laid they not their hand.

11 On that day the number of those that were slain in Shushan the palace, was brought before the king.

12 And the king said unto Esther the queen, The Jews have slain and destroyed five hundred men of Shushan the palace, and the ten sons of Haman; what have they done in the rest of the kings provinces? now what is thy petition? and it shall be granted thee: or what is thy request further? and it shall be done.

13 Then said Esther, If it please the king, let it be granted to the Jews which are in Shushan, to do to morrow also according to this days decree, and let Hamans ten sons be hanged upon the gallows.

14 And the king commanded it so to be done; and the decree was given at Shushan, and they hanged Hamans ten sons.

15 For the Jews that were in Shushan, gathered themselves together on the fourteenth day also of the month Adar, and slew three hundred men at Shushan; but on the prey they laid not their hand.

16 But the other Jews that were in the kings provinces, gathered themselves together, and stood for their lives, and had rest from their enemies, and slew of their foes seventy and five thousand; but they laid not their hands on the prey.

17 On the thirteenth day of the month Adar, and on the fourteenth day of the same, rested they, and made it a day of feasting, and gladness.

18 But the Jews that were at Shushan, assembled together on the thirteenth day thereof, and on the fourteenth day of the same they rested, and made it a day of feasting, and gladness.

19 Therefore the Jews of the villages, that dwell in the unwalled towns, made the fourteenth day of the month Adar, a day of gladness and feasting, and a good day, and of sending portions one to another.

20 And Mordecai wrote these things, and sent letters unto all the Jews that were in all the provinces of the king Ahasuerus, both nigh and far,

21 To stablish this among them, that they should keep the fourteenth day of the month Adar, and the fifteenth day of the same yearly;

22 As the days wherein the Jews rested from their enemies, and the month which was turned unto them from sorrow to joy, and from mourning into a good day: that they should make them days of feasting and joy, and of sending portions one to another, and gifts to the poor.

23 And the Jews undertook to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written unto them.

24 Because Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, the enemy of all the Jews, had devised against the Jews to destroy them, and had cast Pur (that is, the lot) to consume them, and to destroy them:

25 But when Esther came before the king, he commanded by letters, that his wicked device which he devised against the Jews, should return upon his own head, and that he and his sons should be hanged on the gallows.

26 Wherefore they called these days Purim, after the name of Pur: therefore for all the words of this letter, and of that which they had seen concerning this matter, and which had come unto them, 27 The Jews ordained, and took upon them, and upon their seed, and upon all such as joined themselves unto them, so as it should not fail, that they would keep these two days, according to their writing, and according to their appointed time every year.

28 And that these days should be remembered and kept throughout every generation, every family, every province, and every city, and that these days of Purim should not fail from among the Jews, nor the memoriall of them perish from their seed.

29 Then Esther the queen, the daughter of Ahasuerus, and Mordecai the Jew, wrote with all authority, to confirm this second letter of Purim.

30 And he sent the letters unto all the Jews, to the hundred twenty and seven provinces of the kingdom of Ahasuerus with words of peace and truth;

31 To confirm these days of Purim in their times appointed, according as Mordecai the Jew, and Esther the queen had enjoined them, and as they had decreed for themselves and for their seed, the matters of the fastings and their day.

32 And the decree of Esther confirmed these matters of Purim, and it was written in the book.

1 Were was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job, and that man was perfect and upright, and one that feared God, & eschewed evil.

2 And there were born unto him seven sons and three daughters.

3 His substance also was seven thousand sheep, and three thousand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred she-asses, and a very great household: so that this man was the greatest of all the men of the east.

4 And his sons went and feasted in their houses, every one his day, and sent and called for their three sisters to eat and to drink with them.

5 And it was so, when the dayes of their feasting were gone about, that Job sent and sanctified them, and rose up early in the mornings, and offered burnt offerings according to the number of them all: for Job said, It may be that my sons have sinned, and cursed God in their hearts. Thus did Job continually.

6 Now there was a day, when the sons of God came to present themselves before the Lord, and Satan came also among them.

7 And the Lord said unto Satan, Whence comest thou? then Satan answered the Lord, and said, From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.

8 And the Lord said unto Satan, Hast thou considered my servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and escheweth evil?

9 Then Satan answered the Lord, and said, Doth Job fear God for nought?

10 Wast thou not made an hedge about him, and about his house, and about all that he hath on every side? thou hast blessed the work of his hands, and his substance is increased in the land.

11 But put forth thine hand now, and touch all that he hath, and he will curse thee to thy face.

12 And the Lord said unto Satan, Behold, all that he hath is in thy power, onely upon himselfe put not forth thine hand. So Satan went forth from the presence of the Lord.

13 And there was a day when his sons and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house:

14 And there came a messenger unto Job, and said, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding beside them:

15 And the Sabeans fell upon them, and took them away, yea, they have slain the servants with the edge of the sword, and I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

16 While he was yet speaking, there came also another, and said, The fire of God is fallen from heaven, and hath burnt up the sheep, and the servants, and consumed them, and I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

17 While he was yet speaking, there came also another, and said, The Chaldeans have broken out their bands, and fell upon the camels, and have carried ed them away, yea, and slain the servants with the edge of the sword, and I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

18 While he was yet speaking, there came also another, and said, Thy sons and thy daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house:

19 And behold, there came a great wind from the wilderness, and smote the four corners of the house, and it fell upon the young men, and they are dead, and I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

20 Then Job arose, and rent his mantle, and shaved his head, and fell down upon the ground, and worshipped, 21 And said, Naked came I out of my mothers womb, and naked shall I return thither: the Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away, blessed be the name of the Lord.

22 In all this Job sinned not, nor charged God foolishly.

CHAP. II.

1 Satan appearing again before God, obtaineth further leave to tempt Job. 7 He smiteth him with sore boils.

9 Job reproveth his wife, moving him to curse God.

11 His three friends console with him in silence.

Again there was a day, when the sons of God came to present themselves before the Lord, and Satan came also among them to present himselfe before the Lord.

2 And the Lord said unto Satan, From whence comest thou? And Satan answered the Lord, and said, From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.

3 And the Lord said unto Satan, Wast thou considered my servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and escheweth evil? and still he holdeth fast his integritie, although thou movest me against him, to destroy him without cause.

4 And Satan answered the Lord, and said, Skin for skin, yea all that a man hath will he give for his life.

5 But put forth thine hand now, and touch his bone and his flesh, & he will curse thee to thy face.

6 And the Lord said unto Satan, Behold, he is in thine hand, but save his life.

7 So went Satan forth from the presence of the Lord, and smote Job with sore boils, from the sole of his foot unto his crown.

8 And he took him a posser to scrape himself withall; and he sat down among the ashes.

9 Then said his wife unto him, Dost thou still retain thine integritie? curse God, and die.

10 But he said unto her, Thou speakest as one of the foolish women speaketh: what shall we receive good of the hand of God, and shall we not receive evil? In all this did not Job sin with his lips.

11 Now when Jobs three friends heard of all this evil that was come upon him, they came every one from his own place: Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Sophar the Naamathite: for they had made an appointment together to come to mourn with him, and to comfort him.

12 And when they lift up their eyes afar off, and knew him not, they lifted up their voice, and wept, and they rent every one his mantle, and sprinkled

CHAP. III.

1 Job curseth the day and services of his birth. 17 The ease of death. 20 He complaineth of life, because of his anguish.

After this he opened Job his mouth, and cursed his day.

2 And Job spake, and said, 3 * Let the day perish wherein I was born, and the night in which it was said, There is a man-child conceived.

4 Let that day be darkness, let not God regard it from above, neither let the light shine upon it. 5 Let darkness and the shadow of death stain it, let a cloud dwell upon it, let the blacknesse of the day terrifie it.

6 As for that night, let darkness seize upon it, let it not be joynd unto the dayes of the year, let it not come into the number of the monthes.

7 Lo, let that night be solitarie, let no joyfull voice come therein.

8 Let them curse it that curse the day, who are ready to ralle up // their mourning.

9 Let the stars of the twilight thereof be dark, let it look for light, but have none, neither let it see the dawning of the day:

10 Because it shut not up the doores of my mothers wombe, nor hid sorrow from mine eyes.

11 Why did I not from the wombe, why did I not glide up the ghost when I came out of the belly: 12 Why did the knees prevent me? or why the breasts that I should suck?

13 For now should I have lien still, and been quiet, I should have slept, then had I been at rest.

14 With kings and counsellors of the earth, which build desolate places for themselves:

15 Or with princes that had gold, who filled their houses with silver:

16 Or as an hidden untimely birth I had not been; as infants which never saw light.

17 There the wicked cease from troubling; and there the weary be at rest.

18 There the prisoners rest together, they hear not the voice of the oppressor.

19 The small and great are there, and the servant is free from his master.

20 Wherefore is light given to him that is in misery, and life unto the bitter in soul?

21 Why is light given to him that is in misery, and life unto the bitter in soul? 22 Why is light given to him that is in misery, and life unto the bitter in soul? 23 Why is light given to him that is in misery, and life unto the bitter in soul?

24 For my sighing cometh before I eat, and my roarings are poured out like the waters.

25 For I feared the thing which I greatly feared, is come upon me, and that which I was afraid of, is come unto me.

26 I was not in safety, neither had I rest, neither was I quiet: yet trouble came.

CHAP. IIIII.

1 Eliphaz reproveth Job for want of religion. 7 He teacheth Gods judgements to be not for the righteous, but for the wicked. 12 His fearful vision to humble the excellencies of creatures before God.

Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered and said,

2 If we assay to commune with thee, wilt thou be grieved; but who can withhold himself from speaking? 3 Behold, thou hast instructed many, and thou hast strengthened the weak bands.

4 Thy words have upheld him that was falling, and thou hast strengthened the feeble knees.

5 But now it is come upon thee, and thou faintest; it toucheth thee, and thou art troubled.

6 Is not this thy fear, thy confidence; the uprightnesse of thy wayes, and thy hope? 7 Remember, I pray thee, who ever perished being innocent: or where were the righteous cut off?

8 Even as I have seen, they that plow iniquity, and sow wickednesse, reap the same.

9 By the blast of Gods thy perih, and // by the breath of his wrath, isles are they consumed.

10 The roaring of the lion, and the voice of the fierce lion, and the teeth of the young lions are broken.

11 The old lion perisheth for lack of prey, and the stout lions whelps are scattered abroad.

12 Now a thing was I secretly brought to me, and mine care received a little thereof.

13 In thoughts from the visions of the night, when deep sleep fallen on men, 14 Fear came upon me, and trembling, which made // all my bones to shake.

15 When a spirit passed before my face, the hair of my flesh stood up.

16 It stood still, but I could not discern the form thereof: an image was before mine eyes, // there was silence, and I heard a voice, saying,

17 Shall mortal man be more just than God? shall a man be more pure then his maker?

18 Behold, he put no trust in his servants; // and his angels he charged with folly:

19 How much less on them that dwell in houses of clay, whose foundation is in the dust, which are crushed before the moth?

20 They are destroyed from mourning to evening: they perish for ever without any regarding it.

21 Doth not their excellencie which is in them go away: they die, even without wisdom.

CHAP. V.

1 The harm of inconsideration. 3 The end of the wicked is misery. 6 God is to be regarded in affliction. 17 The happy end of Gods correction.

All now if there be any that will answer thee, and to which of the saints wilt thou // turn?

2 For wrath killeth the foolishman, and // envy slayeth the silly one.

3 I have seen the foolish taking root: but suddenly I cursed his habitation.

4 His children are farre from safety, and they are crushed in the gate, neither is there any to deliver them.

5 Whose harvest the hungry eateth up, and taketh it even out of the thorns, and the colder swalloweth up their substance.

6 Although // affliction cometh not forth of the dust, neither doth trouble spring out of the ground:

 12 Am I a sea, or a whale, that thou lettest a watch over me?
 13 When I say, My bed shall comfort me, my couch shall ease my complaint;
 14 Then thou scarest me with dreams, and terrifiest me through visions.
 15 So that my soul chooseth strangling, and death rather than my life.
 16 I loath it, I would not live alway: let me alone, for my dayes are vanity.
 17 What is man, that thou shouldst magnifie him: and that thou shouldst set thine heart upon him?
 18 And that thou shouldst visite him every morning, and try him every moment?
 19 How long wilt thou not depart from me, nor let me alone till I swallow down my spittle?
 20 I have sinned, what shall I do unto thee, O thou preserver of men: why hast thou set me as a mark against thee, so that I am a burden to my self?
 21 And why doest thou not pardon my transgression, and take away mine iniquity: for now shall I sleep in the dust, and thou shalt seek me in the morning, but I shall not be.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Bildad sheweth Gods justice, in dealing with men according to their works. 8 He allegeth antiquity to prove the certain destruction of the hypocrite. 20 He applyeth Gods just dealing to Job.

Then answered Bildad the Shubite, and said,
 2 How long wilt thou speak these things? and how long shall the words of thy mouth be like a strong wind?
 3 Doth God pervert judgement? or doth the Almighty pervert justice?
 4 If thy children have sinned against him, and he have cast them away: for their transgression:
 5 If thou wouldest seek unto God betimes, and make thy supplication to the Almighty:
 6 If thou wert pure and upright, surely now he would awake for thee, and make the habitation of thy righteousness prosperous.
 7 Though thy beginning was small, yet thy latter end should greatly increase.
 8 For enquire, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thy self to the search of their fathers.
 9 For we are but of yesterday, and know nothing, because our dayes upon earth are a shadow.
 10 Shall not they teach thee, and tell thee, and utter words out of their heart?
 11 Can the rush grow up without mire? can the flag grow without water?
 12 While it is yet in his greenesse, and not cut down, it withereth before any other herb.
 13 So are the paths of all that forget God, and their hypocrites hope shall perish:
 14 Whose hope shall be cut off, and whose trust shall be as a spiders web.
 15 He shall lean upon his house, but it shall not stand: he shall hold it fast, but it shall not endure.
 16 He is green before the sun, and his branch flourisheth in his garden.
 17 His roots are wrapped about the heap, and he reacheth to the place of stones.

18 If he destroy him from his place, then it shall deny him, saying, I have not seen thee.
 19 Behold, this is the joy of his way, and out of the earth shall others grow.
 20 Behold, God will not cast away a perfect man, neither will he help the evil doers:
 21 Will he fill thy mouth with laughing, and thy lips with rejoicing.
 22 They that hate thee shall be clothed with shame, and the dwelling place of the wicked shall come to nought.

CHAP. IX.

1 Job acknowledging Gods justice, sheweth there is no contending with him. 21 Mans innocency is not to be condemned by afflictions.

Then Job answered and said,
 2 I know it is so of a truth: but how should man be just with God?
 3 If he will contend with him, he cannot answer him one of a thousand.
 4 He is wise in heart, and mighty in strength: who hath hardened himself against him, and hath prospered?
 5 Which removeth the mountains, and they know not: which overturneth them in his anger.
 6 Which maketh the earth out of her place, and the pillars thereof tremble.
 7 Which commandeth the sun, and it riseth not, and sealeth up the stars.
 8 Which alone spreadeth out the heavens, and treadeth upon the waves of the sea.
 9 Which maketh Boreas, Orion, and Pleiades, and the chambers of the south.
 10 Which doth great things past finding out, yea, and wonders without number.
 11 Lo, he goeth by me, and I see him not: he passeth on also, but I perceive him not.
 12 Behold, he taketh away, who can hinder him: who will say unto him, What dost thou?
 13 If God will not withdraw his anger, the proud helpers do stoop under him.
 14 How much less shall I answer him, and choose out my words to reason with him?
 15 Whom, though I were righteous, yet would I not answer, but I would make supplication to my judge.
 16 If I had called, and he had answered me: yet would I not believe that he had hearkened unto my voice.

17 For he breaketh me with a tempest, and multiplieth my wounds without cause.
 18 He will not suffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitterness.
 19 If I speak of strength, so, he is strong: and if of judgement, who shall let me a time to plead?
 20 If I justify myself, mine own mouth shall condemn me: if I say, I am perfect, it shall also prove me perverse.
 21 Though I were perfect, yet would I not know my soul: I would despise my life.
 22 This is one thing, therefore I said it, he despiseth the perfect and the wicked.
 23 If the scourge slay suddenly, he will laugh at the trial of the innocent.
 24 The earth is given into the hand of the wicked, he covereth the faces of the judges thereof: if not, where, and who is he?
 25 Now my dayes are quicker than a post: they flee away, they see no good.
 26 They are passed away as the smoke of a hearth, as the eagle that hath to the prey.
 27 If I say, I will forget my complaint, I will leave off my heaviness, and comfort my self.

 30 If I wash my self with snow-water, and make my hands never to clean;
 31 Yet shalt thou plunge me in the ditch, and mine own clothes shall I abhorre me.
 32 For he is not a man as I am, that I should answer him, and we should come together in judgement.
 33 Neither is there any man betwixt us, that might lay his hand upon us both.
 34 Let him take his rod away from me, and let not his fear terrifie me.
 35 Then would I speak, and not fear him; but it is not so with me.

CHAP. X.

1 Job, taking liberty of complaint, expostulateth with God about his afflictions. 18 He complaineth of life, and craveth a little ease before death.

My soul is weary of my life, I will leave my complaint upon my self; I will speak in the bitterness of my soul.
 2 I will say unto God, Do not condemn me; shew me wherefore thou contendest with me.
 3 Is igood unto thee, that thou shouldest oppress? that thou shouldst despise the work of thine hands? and shine upon the counsell of the wicked?
 4 Vast thine eyes of flesh? or seest thou as man seest?
 5 Are thy dayes as the dayes of man? are thy yeers as mans dayes,
 6 That thou enquirest after mine Iniquitie, and searchest after my sin?
 7 Can thou knowest that I am not wicked, and there is none that can deliuer me out of thine hand.
 8 Thine hands have made me and fashioned me together round about; yet thou dost destroy me.
 9 Remember, I beseech thee, that thou hast made me as the clay, and wilt thou bring me into dust again?
 10 Vast thou not poured me out as milk, and cruddled me like cheese?
 11 Thou hast clothed me with skin and flesh, and hast fenced me with bones and sinews.
 12 Thou hast granted me life, and labour and thy visitation hath preserved my spirit.
 13 And these things hast thou hid in thine heart: I know that this is with thee.
 14 If I sin, then thou mockest me, and thou wilt not acquit me from mine iniquity.
 15 If I be wicked, wo unto me, and if I be righteous, yet will I not lift up mine head; I am full of confusion, therefore see thou mine affliction.
 16 For it increaseth: thou humest me as a fierce storm; and again thou shewest thy self marvellous upon me.
 17 Thou renewest thy witness against me, and increasest thine indignation upon me; change and war are against me.
 18 Wherefore then hast thou brought me forth out of the wombe? Oh that I had giben up the a birth, and no eye had seen me!
 19 I should have been as though I had not been, I should have been carried from the wombe to the grave.
 20 Are not my dayes few? cease then, and let me alone that I may take comfort a little,
 21 Before I go whence I shall not return, even to the land of darknesse, and the shadow of death;

 22 A land of darknesse, as darknesse it self, and of the shadow of death, without any order, and where the light is as darknesse.

CHAP. XI.

1 Zophar reproveh Job for justifying himself. 5 Gods wisdom is unsearchable. 13 The assured blessing of repentance.

Then answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,
 2 Should not the multitude of words be answered? and should a man full of talk be justified?
 3 Should thy words make men bold their peace; and when thou mockest, shall no man make thee ashamed?
 4 For thou hast said, My doctrine is pure, and I am clean in thine eyes.
 5 But, O that God would speak and open his lips against thee,
 6 And that he would shew thee the secrets of wisdom, that they are double to that which is! know therefore that God exacteth of thee less, when thine iniquity deserueth.
 7 Canst thou by searching finde out God? canst thou finde out the Almighty unto perfection.
 8 It is as high as heaven, what canst thou do? deeper then hell, what canst thou know?
 9 The measure thereof is longer then the earth, and broader then the sea.
 10 If he be cut off, and shut up, or gather together, then who can hinder him?
 11 For he knoweth vain men: he seeth wickednesse also, will he not then consider it?
 12 For vain man would be wise, though man be horn like a wilde asses colt.
 13 If thou prepare thine heart, and stretch out thine hands towards him;
 14 If iniquity be in thine hand, put it far away, and let not wickednesse dwell in thy tabernacles.
 15 For then shalt thou lift up thy face without spot, yea, thou shalt be steadfast, and shalt not fear.
 16 Because thou shalt forget thy misery, and remember it as waters that passe away:
 17 And thine age shall be clearer then the noon-day; thou shalt shine forth, thour shalt be as the morning.
 18 And thou shalt be secure because there is hope, yea, thou shalt dig about thee, and thou shalt take thy rest in safety.
 19 Also thou shalt lie down, and none shall make thee afraid; yea many shall make suit unto thee.
 20 But the eyes of the wicked shall fail, and they shall not escape, and their hope shall be as the getting up of the ghost.

CHAP. XII.

1 Job maintaineth himself against his friends that reprove him. 7 He acknowledgeth the generall doctrine of Gods omnipotency.

And Job answered and said,
 2 No doubt but ye are the people, and wisdom shall die with you.
 3 But I have understanding as well as you, I am not inferior to you; yea, I who knoweth not such things as these?

7 But ask now the beasts, and they shall teach thee; and the fowls of the air, and they shall tell thee:

8 O: speak to the earth, and it shall teach thee; and the fishes of the sea shall declare unto thee.

9 Who knoweth not in all these, that the hand of the Lord hath wrought this?

10 In whose hand is the soul of every living thing, and the breath of all mankind.

11 * Dost not the ear try words, and the mouth taste his meat?

13 || With him is wisdom and strength, he hath counsell and understanding.

17 He leadeth counsellors away spoiled, and maketh the judges fools.

23 He increaseth the nations, and destroyeth them: he enlargeth the nations, and || straiteneth them again.

24 He taketh away the heart of the chief of the people of the earth, and causeth them to wander in a wilderness where there is no way.

25 They grope in the dark without light, and he maketh them to || stagger like a drunken man.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Job reproveth his friends of partiality. 14 He professeth his confidence in God, 20 and entreateth to know his own sins, and Gods purpose in afflicting him.

Lord, mine eye hath seen all this, mine ear hath heard and understood it.

2 What ye know, the same do I know also, I am not in secret unto you.

3 Surely I would speak to the Almighty, and I desire to reason with God.

4 But ye are foggers of lies: ye are all physicians of no value.

5 O that you would altogether hold your peace, and it should be your wisdom.

6 Hear now my reasoning, and hearken to the pleadings of my lips.

7 Will you speak wickedly for God: and call deceitfully for him?

8 Will ye accept his person? will ye contend for God?

9 Is it good that he should search you out? or as one man mocketh another, so ye so mock him?

10 He will surely reprove you, if ye do secretly accept persons.

11 Shall not his excellency make you afraid? and his dread fall upon you.

12 Your remembrances are like unto ashes, your bodies to bodles of clay.

13 Hold your peace, let me alone, that I may speak, and let come on me what will.

14 Wherefore do I take my flesh in my teeth, and put my life in mine hand?

15 Though he slay me, yet will I trust in him: but I will || maintain mine own wayes before him.

16 He also shall be my salvation: for an hypocrite shall not come before him.

17 Hear diligently my speech, and my declaration with your ears.

18 Behold now, I have ordered my cause, I know that I shall be justified.

19 Who is he that will plead with me? for now if I hold my tongue, I shall give up the ghost.

20 Only do not two things unto me: then will I not hide my self from thee.

21 Withdraw thine hand far from me: and let not thy dread make me afraid.

22 Then call thou, and I will answer: or let me speak, and answer thou me.

23 How many are mine iniquities and sins: make me to know my transgression and my sin.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and holdest me for thine enemy?

25 Wilt thou break a leaf of silver to and fro? and wilt thou pursue the dry stubble?

26 For thou wilt set bitter things against me, and * makest me to possess the iniquities of my youth.

27 Thou puttest my feet also in the stocks, and || lookest narrowly into all my paths: thou settest a yoke upon the yokes of my teeth.

28 And he, as a rotten thing consumeth; as a garment that is moth-eaten.

CHAP. XIV.

1 Job intreateth God for favour, by the shortnesse of life, and certainty of death. 7 Though life once lost be irrecoverable, yet he waiteth for his change. 16 By sin the creature is subject to corruption.

Man that is born of a woman, is || of few dayes, and full of trouble.

2 * He cometh forth like a flower, and is cut down: he fleeth also as a shadow, and continueth not.

3 And dost thou open thine eyes upon such an one, and bringest him into judgement with thee?

4 || Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? not one.

5 * Seeing his dayes are determined, the number of his months are with thee, thou hast appointed his bounds that he cannot passe.

6 Turn from him that he may rest, till he shall accomplish, as an hireling, his day.

7 For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut down, that it will sprout again, and that the tender branch thereof will not cease.

8 Though the root thereof was old in the earth, and the stock thereof die in the ground;

9 Yet through the tent of water it will bud, and bring forth boughs like a plant.

12 So man lieth down, and riseth not till the heavens be no more: they shall not awake, nor be raised out of their sleep.

13 O that thou wouldest hide me in the grave, that thou wouldest keep me secret, until thy wrath be past, that thou wouldest appoint me a set time, and remember me.

14 If a man die, shall he live again? all the dayes of my appointed time will I wait, till my change come.

15 Thou shalt call, and I will answer thee: thou wilt have a desire to the work of thine hands.

16 For now thou numbrest my steps, dost thou not watch over my sin?

17 My transgression is sealed up in a bag, and thou sewest up mine iniquity.

18 And surely the mountain falling, cometh to nought: and the rock is removed out of his place.

19 The waters wear the stones: thou wast away the things which grow out of the dust of the earth, and thou destroyest the hope of man.

20 Thou prevailest for ever against him, and he passeth: thou changest his countenance, and sendest him away.

21 His sons come to honour, and he knoweth it not: and they are brought low, but he perceiveth it nor of them.

22 But his flesh upon him shall have pain, and his soul within him shall mourne.

CHAP. XV.

1 Eliphaz reproveth Job of impiety in justifying himself. 17 He proveth by tradition the unquietnesse of wicked men.

Then answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and said,

2 Should a wise man utter vain knowledge, and fill his belly with the east-wind?

3 Should he reason with unprofitable talk? or with speeches wherewith he can do no good?

4 Yea, thou castest off fear, and restrainest prayer before God.

5 For thy mouth is uttereth thine iniquity, and thou chooseth the tongue of the crafty.

6 Thine own mouth condemneth thee, and not I: yea, thine own lips testify against thee.

7 Art thou the first man that was born? or wast thou made before the hills?

8 Hast thou heard the secret of God? and dost thou restrain wisdom to thyself?

9 What knowest thou that we know not? what understandest thou, which is not in us.

10 Methinks we are both the gray-headed, and very aged men, much elder then thy father.

11 Are the consolations of God small with thee: is there any secret thing with thee?

12 Why dost thine heart carry thee away: and what do thine eyes wink at, 13 That thou turnest thy spirit against God, and settest such words out of thy mouth?

14 What is man, that he should be clean? and he which is born of a woman, that he should be righteous?

15 Behold, he putteth no trust in his saintes; yea, the heavens are not clean in his sight.

16 How much more abominable and filthy is man, which drinketh iniquity like water?

17 I will shew thee, hear me; and that which I have seen, I will declare:

18 Which wise men have told from their fathers, and have not hid it:

19 Unto whom alone the earth was given, and no stranger passed among them.

20 The wicked man travelleth with pain all his dayes, and the number of years is hidden to the oppressour.

21 A dreadfull sound is in his eares; in privetie the destroyer shall come upon him.

22 He believeth not that he shall return out of darknesse, and he is waited for of the sword.

23 He wandreth abroad for bread, saying, Where is it? he knoweth that the day of darknesse is ready at his hand.

24 Trouble and anguish shall make him afraid; they shall prevail against him, as a king ready to the battell.

25 For he stretcheth out his hand against God, and strengtenth himself against the Almighty.

26 He runneth upon him, even on his neck, upon the thick bosses of his bucklers:

27 Because he covereth his face with his fatnesse, and maketh collops of fat on his flanks.

28 And he dwelleth in desolate cities, and in houses which no man inhabiteth, which are ready to become heaps.

29 He shall not be rich, neither shall his substance continue, neither shall he prolong the perfection thereof upon the earth.

30 He shall not depart out of darknesse, the flame shall drie up his branches, and by the breath of his mouth shall he go away.

31 Let not him that is deceived trust in vanity: for vanity shall be his recompence.

32 It shall be accomplished before his time, and his branch shall not be green.

33 He shall shake off his unripe grape as the vine, and shall cast off his flower as the olive.

34 For the congregation of hypocrites shall be desolate, and fire shall consume the tabernacles of habitery.

35 They conceive mischief, and bring forth vanity, and their belly prepareth deceit.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Job reproveth his friends unmercifulnesse. 7 He sheweth the pitifulnesse of his case. 17 He maintaineth his innocency.

Then Job answered and said,

2 I have heard many such things: I miserable comforters are ye all.

3 Shall I vain words have an end? or what emboldeneth thee that thou answerest?

4 I also could speak as ye do: if your soul were in my souls stead, I could heap up words against you, and shake mine head at you.

5 But I would strengthen you with my mouth, and the moving of my lips should allwage your grief.

6 Though I speak, my grief is not allwaged: and though I forbear, what am I eased?

7 But now he hath made me weary: thou hast made desolate all my company.

8 And thou hast filled me with wrinkles, which is a witness against me: and my leanness rising up in me, beareth witness to my face.

9 He reareth me in his wrath, who hateth me: he gnasheth upon me with his teeth; mine enemy hathereth his eyes upon me.

10 They have gaped upon me with their mouth, they have smitten me upon the cheek reproachfully, they have gathered themselves together against me.

11 God? hath delivered me to the ungodly, and turned me over into the hands of the wicked.

15 I have sowed sackcloth upon my skin, and defiled my horn in the dust.

16 My face is foul with weeping, and on my eye-lids is the shadow of death.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Job appealeth from men to God. 6 The unmerciful dealing of men with the afflicted, may astonish, but not discourage the righteous. 11 His hope is not in life, but in death.

MY breath is corrupt, my days are extinct, the grades are ready for me.

2 Are there not mockers with me? and doth not mine eye ↑ continue in their provocation?

3 Lay down now, put me in a surety with thee: who is he that will strike hands with me?

4 For thou hast hid thine heart from understanding; therefore shalt thou not exalt them.

5 He that speaketh flattery to his friends, even the eyes of his children shall fall.

6 He hath made me also a by-word of the people, and ↑ as of yoretime I was as a tabret.

7 Mine eye also is dim by reason of sorrows, and all ↑ my members are as a shadow.

8 Upright men shall be astonished at this, and the innocent shall stir up himself against the hypocrite.

9 The righteous also shall hold on his way, and he that hath clean hands ↑ shall be stronger and stronger.

10 But as for you all, do you return, and come now; for I cannot finde one wise man among you.

11 My days are past, my purposes are broken off, even ↑ the thoughts of my heart.

13 If I wait, the grave is mine house: I have made my bed in the darkness.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Bildad reproveh Job of presumption, and impatience. 5 The calamities of the wicked.

THEN answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,

2 How long wilt thou be, ere thou make an end of words? mark, and afterwards we will speak.

3 Wherefore are we counted as beasts, and reputed vile in your sight?

4 He teareth himself in his anger: shall the earth be for him for ever? and shall the rock be removed out of his place?

5 Yea, the light of the wicked shall be put out, and the spark of his fire shall not shine.

6 The light shall be dark in his tabernacle, and his candle shall be put out with him.

7 The steps of his strength shall be straitned, and his own council shall cast him down.

8 For he is cast into a net by his own feet, and he walketh upon a snare.

9 The gin shall take him by the heel, and the robber shall prevail against him.

10 The snare is laid for him in the ground, and a trap for him in the way.

11 Terrors shall make him afraid on every side, and shall ↑ drive him to his feet.

12 His strength shall be hunger-bitten, and destruction shall be ready at his side.

13 It shall devour the strength of his skin: even the first-born of death shall devour his strength.

14 His confidence shall be rooted out of his tabernacle, and it shall bring him to the king of terrors.

15 He shall dwell in his tabernacle, because it is none of his: but in stone shall be scattered upon his habitation.

16 His roots shall be dried up beneath, and above shall his bough be cut off.

17 His remembrance shall perish from the earth, and he shall have no name in the street.

18 He shall be driven from light into darkness, and chased out of the world.

19 We shall neither have son nor nephew among his people, nor any remaining in his dwellings.

20 They that come after him shall be astonished at his day, as they that ↑ went before ↑ were afflicted.

21 Surely such are the dwellings of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Job complaining of his friends cruelty, sheweth there is misery enough in him to feed their cruelty. 21, 28 He craveth pitie. 23 He beleeveth the resurrection.

THEN Job answered and said,

2 How long wilt thou vex my soul, and break me in pieces with words?

3 These ten times have ye reproached me: you are not ashamed that you shall make your selves strange to me.

4 And be it indeed that I have erred, mine error remaineth with my self.

5 If indeed ye will magnifie your selves against me, and plead against me my reproach:

6 Know now that God hath overthrown me, and hath compassed me with his net.

7 Behold, I cry out of ↑ wrong, but I am not heard: I cry aloud, but there is no judgement.

8 He hath fenced up my way that I cannot pass, and he hath set darkness in my paths.

9 He hath stripped me of my glory, and taken the crown from my head.

10 He hath destroyed me on every side, and I am gone: and mine hope hath been removed like a tree.

11 He hath also kindled his wrath against me, and he counteth me unto him, as one of his enemies.

26 // And though after my skin, worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God:

27 Whom I shall see for my self, and mine eyes shall behold, and not // another; though my reins be consumed // within me.

28 But ye should say, Why persecute we him, // seeing the root of the matter is found in me?

29 Be ye afraid of the sword: for wrath bringeth the punishments of the sword; that ye may know there is a judgement.

CHAP. XX.

Zophar sheweth the state and portion of the wicked.

Then answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,

2 Therefore do my thoughts cause me to answer, and for this // I make haste.

3 I have heard the check of my reproach, and the spirit of my understanding causeth me to answer.

4 Knowest thou not this of old, since man was placed upon earth,

5 * That the triumphing of the wicked is short, and the joy of the hypocrite but for a moment?

6 Though his excellency mount up to the heavens, and his head reach unto the // clouds;

7 Yet he shall perish for ever like his own dung; they which have seen him shall say, Where is he?

8 He shall fly away as a dream, and shall not be found: yea, he shall be chased away as a vision of the night.

9 The eye also which saw him, shall see him no more; neither shall his place any more behold him.

10 // His children shall seek to please the poor, and his hands shall restore their goods.

11 His bones are full of the sinne of his youth, which shall lie down with him in the dust.

12 Though wickedness be sweet in his mouth, though he hide it under his tongue;

13 Though he spare it, and forsake it not; but keep it still // within his mouth:

14 Yet his meat in his bowels is turned, it is the gall of asps within him.

15 He hath swallowed down riches, and he shall vomit them up again: God shall cast them out of his belly.

16 He shall suck the poison of asps: the vipers tongue shall slay him.

17 He shall not see the rivers, the // floods, the brooks of honey and butter.

18 What which he laboured for, shall he restore, and shall not swallow it down: // according to his substance shall the restitution be, and he shall not rejoyce therein.

19 Because he hath // oppressed, and hath forsaken the poor; because he hath violently taken away an house which he builded not:

20 * Surely he shall not // feel quietness in his belly, he shall not save of that which he desired.

21 // There shall none of his meat be left, therefore shall no man look for his goods.

22 In // the fulness of his sufficiencye he shall be in straits: every hand of the // wicked shall come upon him.

23 When he is about to fill his belly, God shall cast the fury of his wrath upon him, and shall rain it upon him while he is eating.

24 He shall flee from the iron weapon, and the bow of steel shall strike him through.

25 It is drawn and cometh out of // the body, yea the glittering sword cometh out of his gall's terrours are upon him.

26 All darkness shall be hid in his secret places: a fire not blown shall consume him; it shall gill with him that is left in his tabernacle.

27 The heaven shall reveal his iniquitie: and the earth shall rise up against him.

28 The increase of his house shall depart, and his goods shall flow away in the day of his wrath.

29 This is the portion of a wicked man from God, and the heritage // appointed unto him by God.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Job sheweth that even in the judgement of man he hath reason to be grieved. 7 Sometimes the wicked do so prosper, as they despise God. 16 Sometimes their destruction is manifest. 22 The happy and unhappy are alike in death. 27 The judgement of the wicked is in another world.

But Job answered and said,

2 Hear diligently my speech, and let this be your consolations.

3 Suffer me that I may speak, and after that I have spoken, mock on.

4 As for me, is my complaint to man? and if it were so, why should not my spirit be // troubled?

5 // Hasten me, and be astonished, and lay your hand upon your mouth.

6 Even when I remember, I am afraid, and trembling catcheth hold on my flesh.

7 * Wherefore do the wicked live, become old, yea, are mightie in power?

8 Their seed is established in their sight with them, and their offspring before their eyes.

9 Their houses // are safe from fear, neither is the rod of God upon them.

10 Their bull gendereth and calveth not, their cow calveth and catcheth not her calf.

11 They send forth their little ones like a flock, and their children dance.

12 They take their timbrel and harp, and rejoyce at the sound of the organ.

13 They spend their days // in wealth, and in a moment go down to the grave.

14 * Therefore they say unto God, Depart from us: for we desire not the knowledge of thy ways.

15 What is the Almighty, that we should serve him? and what profit should we have if we pray unto him?

16 Lo, their good is not in their hand, the counsel of the wicked is far from me.

17 How oft is the // candle of the wicked put out; and how oft cometh their destruction upon them: God distributeth sorrow in his anger.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Eliphaz sheweth that mans goodnesse profiteth not God. 5 He accuseth Job of divers sins. 21 He exhorteth him to repentance, with promises of mercy.

† Or, if he may be profitable, doth his good successe depend thereon?

When Eliphaz the Temanite answered and said,
2 Can a man be profitable unto God, || as he that is wise may be profitable unto himself?
3 Is it any pleasure to the Almighty that thou art righteous? or is it gain to him that thou makest thy wayes perfect?
4 Will he reprove thee for fear of thee? will he enter with thee into judgement?

22 Receive, I pray thee, the law from his mouth, and lay up his words in thine heart.

23 * If thou return to the Almighty, thou shalt be built up, thou shalt put away iniquity far from thy tabernacles.

24 Then shalt thou lay up gold || as dust, and the gold of Ophir as the stones of the brooks.

25 Yea, the Almighty shall be thy defence, and thou shalt have † plenty of silver.

26 For then shalt thou have thy delight in the Almighty, and shalt lift up thy face unto God.

27 Thou shalt make thy prayer unto him, and he shall hear thee, and thou shalt pay thy vows.

28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and it shall be established unto thee; and the light shall shine upon thy wayes.

29 When men are cast down, then thou shalt say, There is lifting up: and he shall save ¶ the humble person.

30 || He shall deliver the || stand of the innocent: and he is delivered by the purenesse of thine hands.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Job longeth to appear before God, & in confidence of his mercie. 8 God who is invisible, observeth our wayes. 11 Jobs innocency. 13 Gods decree immutable.

When Job answered and said,
2 When to day is my complaint bitter: † my stroke is heavier than my groaning.

3 O that I knew where I might finde him! that I might come even to his seat!

4 I would order my cause before him, and fill my mouth with arguments.

5 I would know the words which he would answer me, and understand what he would say unto me.

6 Will he plead against me with his great power? no, but he would put strength in me.

7 Where the righteous might dispute with him: so should I be delivered for ever from my Judge.

8 Behold, I go forward, but he is not there: and backward, but I cannot perceive him:

9 In the left hand where he doth work, but I cannot behold him: he hideth himself on the right hand, that I cannot see him.

10 But he knoweth † the way that I take: when he hath cried me, I shall come forth as gold.

11 My foot hath held his steps, his way have I kept, and nor declined.

12 Peltether have I gone back from the commandment of his lips, † I have esteemed the words of his mouth, more then || my necessary food.

13 But he is in one minde, and who can turn him? and what * his soul desireth, even that he doeth.

14 For he performeth the thing that is appointed for me: and many such things are with him.

15 Therefore

† Heb. a flood was poured upon their foundation. * Ch. 21. 14. || Or, to them. * Ch. 21. 16. * Pl. 127. 42. || Or, estate. || Or, their excellency. † That is, with God. * Ch. 3. 56.

† Heb. my hand.

† Heb. the way that is with me.

† Heb. I have hid, or, laid up. || Or, my appointed portion. * Pl. 115. 3.

15 Therefore am I troubled at his presence : when I consider, I am afraid of him.
 16 For God maketh my heart soft, and the Almighty troubleth me :
 17 Because I was not cut off before the darkness, neither hath he covered the darkness from my face.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Wickedness goeth often unpunished. 17 There is a secret judgement for the wicked.

Why, seeing times are not hidden from the Almighty, do they that know him, nor see his dayes ?

2 Some remove the * land-marks ; they violently take away flocks, and kill freed thereof.

3 They disve away the ass of the fatherless, they take the widows or for a pledge.

4 They turn the needy out of the way : the poor of the earth hide themselves together.

5 Behold, as wilde asses in the desert go they forth to their work, eating betimes for a prey : the wilderness yeeldeth food for them and for their children.

6 They reay every one his † corn in the field : and † they gather the vintage of the wicked.

7 They cause the naked to lodge without clothing, that they have no covering in the cold.

8 They are wet with the showres of the mountains, and embrace the rock for want of a shelter.

9 They pluck the fatherless from the breast, and take a pledge of the poor.

10 They cause him to go naked without clothing, and they take away the sheaf from the hungry.

11 Which make oil within their walls, and tread their wine-presses, and suffer thirst.

12 When groan from out of the cities, and the soul of the wounded crieth out : yet God layeth not folle to them.

13 They are of those that rebell against the light, they know not the wayes thereof, nor abide in the paths thereof.

14 The murderer rising with the light, killeth the poor and needy, and in the night is as a thief.

15 The eye also of the adulterer watcheth for the twilight, saying, No eye shall see me : and † disfigureth his face.

16 In the dark they dig thozow houses, which they had marked for themselves in the day time ; they know not the light.

17 For the morning is to them euen as the shadow of death : if one know them, they are in the territories of the shadow of death.

18 He is swift as the waters, their portion is cursed in the earth : he beholdeth not the way of the vineyards.

19 Drought and heat † consume the snow waters ; so doth the grave those which have sinned.

20 The womb shall forget him, the worm shall feed sweetly on him, he shall be no more remembred, and wickedness shall be broken as a tree.

21 He will entreate the barren that beareth not : and doth not good to the widow.

22 He draweth all to the mire with his power : he stretcheth up, and no man is sure of life.

23 Though it be given him to be in safety, when he seeketh ; yet his eyes are upon their wayes.

24 They are created for a little while, but † are gone and brought low, they are † taken out of the way as all other, and cut off as the tops of the cars of corn.

25 And if it be not so now, who will make me a star, and make my speech nothing worth ?

CHAP. XXV.

Bildad sheweth that man cannot be justified before God.

Then answered Bildad the Shubite and said, 2 Dominion and fear are with him, he maketh peace in his high places.

3 Is there any number of his armies ? and upon whom doth not his light arise ?

4 How then can man be justified with God ? or how can he be clean that is born of a woman ?

5 Behold euen to the moon, and it shineth not, yea the stars are not pure in his sight.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 Job approving the charitable spirit of Bildad, 5 acknowledgeth the power of God to be infinite and unsearchable.

But Job answered and said, 2 How hast thou helped him that is without power ? how savest thou the arm that hath no strength ?

3 How hast thou counselled him that hath no wisdom : and how hast thou plentifully declared the thing as it is ?

4 To whom hast thou uttered words ? and whose spirit came from me ?

5 Dead things are formed from under the waters, and the inhabitants thereof.

6 Hell * is naked before him, and destruction hath no covering.

7 He stretcheth out the north over the empty place, and hangeth the earth upon nothing.

8 He blindeth up the waters in his thick clouds, and the clouds is not rent under them.

10 He hath compassed the waters with bounds, † untill the day and night come to an end.

11 The pillars of heaven tremble, and are astonished at his reproof.

12 He divideth the sea with his power, and by his understanding he smecteth thozow † the proud.

1 Job protesteth his sincerity. 8 The hypocrite is without hope. 11 The blessings which the wicked have, are turned into curses.

Moreover, Job † continued his parole, and answered,

2 As God liveth, who hath taken away my judgement, & the Almighty, who hath † bereved my soul ;

3 All the while my breath is in me, and † the spirit of God is in my nostrils ;

4 My lips shall not speak wickedness, nor my tongue utter deceit.

5 God forbid that I should justify you : till I die, I will not remove my lategrip from me.

6 My righteousness I hold fast, and will not let it go : my heart shall not reproach me † so long as I live.

7 Let mine enemy be as the wicked, and he that stretcheth up against me, as the unrighteous.

11 I will teach you || by the hand of God; that which is with the Almighty, will I not conceal.

12 Behold, all ye your selves have seen it, why then are ye thus altogether vain?

13 This is the portion of a wicked man with God, and the heritage of oppressours, which they shall receive of the Almighty.

14 If his children be multiplied, it is for the sword; and his offspring shall not be sacrificed with bread.

15 Those that remain of him shall be buried in death: and * his widows shall not weep.

16 Though he heap up silver as the dust, and prepare raiment as the clay;

17 He may prepare it, but the just shall put it on, and the innocent shall divide the silver.

18 He buildeth his house as a moth, and as a booth that the keeper maketh.

19 The rich man shall lie down, but he shall not be gathered: he openeth his eyes, and he is not.

20 * Errors take hold on him as waters, and a tempest stealeth him away in the night.

21 The east-winde carrieth him away, and he departeth: and as a storm hurleth him out of his place.

22 For God shall cast upon him, and not spare: he would fain see out of his hand.

23 Men shall clay their hands at him, and shall hiss him out of his place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 There is a knowledge of naturall things. 12 But wisdom is an excellent gift of God.

Surely, there is || a vein for the silver, and a place for gold where they mine it.

2 Iron is taken out of the || earth, and brasse is molten out of the stone.

3 He seeketh an end to darknesse, and searcheth out all perfection: the stones of darknesse and the shadow of death.

4 The floud breaketh out from the inhabitant; even the waters forgotten of the foot: they are dried up, they are gone away from men.

5 As for the earth, out of it cometh bread: and under it is turned up as it were fire.

6 The stones of it are the place of sapphires; and it hath || dust of gold.

7 There is a path which no fowl knoweth, and which the vultures eye hath not seen.

8 The lions whelps have not troden it, nor the keerce lion passed by it.

9 He putteth forth his hand upon the || rock, he overturneth the mountains by the roots.

10 He catcheth out rivers among the rocks, and his eye seeth every precious thing.

11 He bindeth the floods || from overflowing, and he stayeth that is hid, bringing forth to light.

12 But where shall wisdom be found? and where is the place of understanding?

13 Man knoweth not the price thereof; neither is it found in the land of the living.

14 * The depth saith, It is not in me: and the sea saith, It is not with me.

15 It cannot be gotten for gold, neither shall silver be weighed for the price thereof.

16 It cannot be valued with the gold of Ophir, with the precious onyx, or the sapphire.

17 The gold and the crystal cannot equal it: and the exchange of it shall not be for || jewels of fine gold.

18 No mention shall be made of || coral, or of pearls: for the price of wisdom is above rubies.

19 The Topaz of Ethiopia shall not equal it, neither shall it be valued with pure gold.

20 * Whence then cometh wisdom? and where is the place of understanding?

21 Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all living, and kept close from the fowls of the || air.

22 Destruction and death say, We have heard the same thereof with our ears.

23 God understandeth the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.

24 For he looketh to the ends of the earth, and seeth under the whole heaven.

25 To make the weight for the windes, and he weigheth the waters by measure.

26 When he made a decree for the rain, and a way for the lightning of the thunder:

27 Then did he see it, and || declare it, he prepared it, yea and searched it out.

28 And unto man he said, Behold, * the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom, and to depart from evill is understanding.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Job bemoaneth himself of his former prosperitie and honour.

Misdearer, Job || continued his parable, and said,

2 Oh that I were as in moneths past, as in the daies when God preserved me:

3 When his || candle shined upon my head, and when by his light I walked thorow darknesse:

4 As I was in the daies of my youth, when the secret of God was upon my tabernacle:

5 When the Almighty was yet with me, when my children were about me:

6 When I washed my steps with butter, and the rock poured || me out rivers of oyl:

7 When I went out to the gate, and thorow the citie, when I prepared my seat in the street.

8 The young men saw me, and hid themselves: and the aged arose, and stood up.

9 The princes retained talking, and laid their hand on their mouth.

10 || The nobles held their peace, and their tongue cleaved to the roof of their mouth.

11 When the ear heard me, then it blessed me; and when the eye saw me, it gave witness to me:

12 Because I delivered the poor that cried, and the fatherlesse, and him that had none to help him.

13 The blessing of him that was ready to perish, came upon me: and I caused the widows heart to sing for joy.

14 I put on righteousness, and it clothed me: my judgement was as a robe and a diademe.

15 I was eyes to the blinde, and feet was I to the lame.

16 I was a father to the poor: and the cause which I knew not, I searched out.

17 And I brake || of the jaws of the wicked, and I plucked the spall out of his teeth.

18 Then I said, I shall die in my nest, and I shall multiply my daies as the sand.

19 My root was || spread out by the waters, and the dew lay all night upon my branch.

20 My gloze was || fresh in me, and my bowe was || renewed in my hand.

21 Unto me men gave ear, and waited, and kept silence at my counsell.

22 After my words they spake not again, and my speech dropped upon them.

23 And they waited for me, as for the rain, and they opened their mouth wide as for the latter rain.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Jobs honour is turned into extreme contempt. 15 His prosperity into calamitie.

At now they that are younger then I, have bin in derision, whose fathers I would have disdain'd to have set with the dogs of my flock.

2 Yea, whereto might the strength of these hands profite, in whom old age was perished?

3 For want and famine they were || solitary: fleeing into the wilderness † in former time delovlate and waste:

4 Who cut up mallowes by the bushes, and surntner roots for their meat.

5 They were driven forth from among men, (they cried after them, as after a thief.)

6 To dwell in the clefts of the valleys, in † caves of the earth, and in the rocks.

7 Among the bushes they layed, under the netles they were gathered together.

8 They were children of fools, yea, children of † bale men: they were wiler then the earth.

9 * And now am I their soun, yea, I am their by-word.

10 They abhor me, they flee far from me, † and spare not to spit in my face.

11 Because he hath loosed my cord and afflicted me, they have also let loose the biddie before me.

12 Upon my right hand rise the youth, they pass away my feet, and they raise up against me the wayes of their destruction.

13 They marre my path, they set forward my calamitie, they have no helper.

14 They came upon me as a wide breaking in of waters: in the desolation they rolled themselves upon me.

15 Errors are turned upon me: they pursue † my soul as the winde: and my wisface passeth away as a cloud.

16 And now my soul is poured out upon me: the dayes of affliction have taken hold upon me.

17 My bones are pierced in me in the night season: and my sinews take no rest.

18 By the great force of my disease, is my garment changed: it bindeth me about as the collar of my coat.

19 He hath cast me into the mire, and I am become like dust and ashes.

20 I cry unto thee, and thou dost not hear me: I stand up, and thou regardest me not.

21 Thou art † become cruell to me: with † thy strong hand thou opprest thy self against me.

22 Thou liftest me up to the winde; thou canstest me to ride upon it, and dissolvest my † substance.

23 For I know that thou wilt bring me to death, and to the house appointed for all living.

24 Howbeit, he will not stretch out his hand to the † grave, though they cry in his destruction.

25 * Did not I weep † for him that was in trouble: was not my soul grieved for the poor?

26 When I looked for good, then evil came unto me: and when I waited for light, there came darkness.

27 My bowels boiled and rested not: the dayes of affliction prevented me:

28 I went mourning without the sun: I stood up, and I cried in the congregacion.

29 * I am a brother to dragons, and a conspanion to owls.

30 My skin is black upon me, and my bones are burnt with heat.

31 My harp also is turned to mourning, and my organ into the voice of them that weep.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Job maketh a solemne protestacion of his integrity in severall duties.

I Made a covenant with mine eyes; why then should I think upon a maid?

2 For what portion of God is there from above? and what inheritance of the Almighty from on high?

3 Is not destruction to the wicked; and a strange punishment to the workers of iniquity?

4 * Doth not he see my wayes, and count all my steps?

5 If I have walked with vanity, or if my foot hath basted to deceit;

6 † Let me be weighed in an even balance, that God may know mine integrity.

7 If my step hath turned out of the way, and mine heart walked after mine eyes, and if any blot hath cleaved to my hands;

8 Then let me lowe, and let another eat; yea, let my off-spring be rooted out.

9 If mine heart have been deceived by a woman, or if I have laid wait at my neighbours door:

10 Then let my wife grinde unto another, and let others bow down upon her.

11 For this is an heinous crime, yea it is an iniquitie to be punished by the iudges.

12 For it is a fire that consumeth to destruction, and would root out all mine increase.

13 If I did despise the cause of my man-servant, or of my maid-servant, when they contended with me:

14 What then shall I do, when God eareth up? and when he visiteth, what shall I answer him?

15 Did not he that made me in the wombe, make him; and || did not one fashion us in the wombe?

16 If I have withheld the poor from their desire, or have caused the eyes of the widow to fall:

17 Or have eaten my morsell my self alone, and the fatherlesse hath not eaten thereof:

18 (For from my youth he was brought up with me, as with a father, and I have guided || her from my mothers wombe.)

19 If I have seen any perish for want of clothing, or any poor without covering:

20 If his loins have not blessed me, and if he were not warmed with the fleece of my sheep:

21 If I have lifted up my hand against the fatherlesse, when I saw my help in the gate:

22 Then let mine arm fall from my shoulder-blade, and mine arm be broken from || the bone.

23 For destruction from God was a terror to me, and by reason of his highnesse I could not endure.

24 If I have made gold my hope, or have said to the silve gold, Thou art my confidence:

25 If I rejoiced because my wealth was great, and because mine hand had † gotten much:

26 If I beheld † the sun when it shined, or the moon walking † in brightness:

27 And my heart hath been secretly enticed, or † my mouth hath kissed my hand.

28 This also were an iniquitie to be punished by the iudges: for I should have denied the God that is above.

29 If I rejoiced at the destruction of him that hated me, or if I lift up my self when evil found him:

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Elihu accuseth Job for charging God with injustice. 10 God omnipotent cannot be unjust. 31 Man must humble himself unto God. 34 Elihu reproverh Job.

Furthermore Elihu answered and said,
 2 Hear my words, O ye wise men, and give ear unto me, ye that have knowledge.

3 * For the ear trieth words, as the tongue tasteth meat.

4 Let us chuse to us judgement: let us know among our selves what is good.

5 For Job hath said, I am righteous; and God hath taken away my judgement.

6 Should I lie against my right? for my wound is incurable without transgression.

7 What man is like Job, who drinketh up scorn like water.

8 Which goeth in company with the workers of iniquity, and walketh with wicked men.

9 For he hath said, I professeth a man nothing, that he should delight himself with God.

10 Therefore hearken unto me, ye men of understanding: far be it from God, that he should do wickedness, and from the Almighty, that he should commit iniquity.

11 * For the work of a man shall be render unto him, and cause every man to finde according to his ways.

12 Verily surely God will not do wickedly, neither will the Almighty pervert judgement.

13 Who hath given him a charge over the earth? or who hath disposed the whole world?

14 * If he set his heart upon man, if he gather unto himself his spirit and his breath;

15 * All flesh shall perish together, and man shall turn again into dust.

16 If now thou hast understanding, hear this: hearken to the voice of my words.

17 Shall even be that hateth right, and govern? and wilt thou condemn him that is most just?

18 Is it fit to say to a king, Thou art wicked? and to princes, Ye are ungodly?

19 How much lesse to him that * accepteth not the persons of princes, nor regardeth the rich more then the poore? for they all are the work of his hands.

20 In a moment shall they die, and the people shall be troubled at midnight, and passe away: and the mighty shall be taken away without hand.

21 * For his eyes are upon the wayes of man, and he seeth all his goings.

22 There is no darkness, nor shadow of death, where the workers of iniquitie may hide themselves.

23 For he will not lay upon man more then right, that he should enter into judgement with God.

24 He shall break in pieces mighty men with our number, and let others in their stead.

25 Therefore he knoweth their works, and he overturneth them in the night, so that they are destroyed.

26 He striketh them as wicked men in the open sight of others:

27 Because they turned back from him, and would not consider any of his wayes.

28 So that they cause the crye of the poore to come unto him, and he heareth the crye of the afflicted.

29 When he giveth quietnesse, who then can make trouble? and when he hideth his face, who then can behold him? whether it be done against a nation, or against a man onely:

30 That the hypocrite reign not, lest the people be ensnared.

31 Surely it is meet to be said unto God, I have born chastisement, I will not offend any more.

32 That which I see not, teach thou me; if I have done iniquitie, I will do no more.

33 * Should it be according to thy minde? he will recompense it, whether thou refuse, or whether thou choose, and not I: therefore speak what thou knowest.

34 Let men of understanding tell me, and let a wise man hearken unto me.

35 Job hath spoken without knowledge, and his words were without wisdom.

36 I pray desire it that Job may be tried unto the end, because of his answers for wicked men.

37 For he addeth rebellion unto his sin, he clappeth his hands amongst us, and multiplieth his words against God.

CHAP. XXXV.

1 Comparison is not to be made with God, because our good or evil cannot extend unto him. 9 Many crye in their afflictions, but are not heard for want of faith.

Elihu speaketh moreover, and said,
 2 Thinkest thou this to be right, that thou sayest, My righteousness is more then Gods?

3 For thou sayest, What advantage will it be unto thee, and what profit shall I have if I be cleansed from my sin?

4 I will answer thee and thy companions with thee.

5 Look unto the heavens, and see and behold the clouds which are higher then thou.

6 If thou sinnest, what dost thou against him? or if thy transgressions be multiplied, what dost thou unto him?

7 * If thou be righteous, what giveth thou him? or what receiveth he of thine hand?

8 Thy wickedness may hurt a man as thou art, and thy righteousness may profit the son of man.

9 By reason of the multitude of oppressions, they make the oppressed to cry: they crye out by reason of the arm of the mighty.

10 But none saith, Where is God my maker, who giveth songs in the night?

11 Who teacheth us more then the beasts of the earth, and maketh us wiser then the fowls of heaven.

16. Therefore doth Job open his mouth in vain: he multiplieth words without knowledge.

CHAP. XXXVI.

Elihu sheweth how God is just in his wayes, & how Jobs sin hinder Gods blessings. 24 Gods works are to be magnified.

Elihu also proceeded, and said,
1 Suffer me a little, and I will shew thee, that I have yet to speak on Gods behalf.
2 I will fetch my knowledge from afar, and will ascribe righteousness to my maker.
3 For truly, my words shall not be false: he that is perfect in knowledge is with thee.
4 Behold, God is mighty, and despiseth not any: he is mighty in strength and wisdom.
5 He pierseth not the life of the wicked: but giveth right to the just.
6 He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous: but with kings are they on the throne: yea, he doth establish them for ever, and they are exalted.
7 And if they be bound in fetters, and be holden in cords of affliction:
8 Then be sheweth them their work, and their transgressions that they have exceeded.
9 He openeth also their ear to discipline, and commandeth that they return from iniquitie.
10 If they obey and serve him, they shall spend their dayes in prosperity, and their yeeres in pleasures.
11 But if they obey not, they shall perish by the sword, and their shall die without knowledge.
12 But the hypocrites in heart heare up words: they cry not when he bindeth them.
13 They die in youth, and their life is among the unclean.
14 He delivereth the K poor in his affliction, and openeth their ears in oppression.
15 Even so would he have removed thee out of the strait into a broad place, where there is no straitness, and that which should be set on thy cable should be full of fatnesse.
16 But thou hast fulfilled the judgement of the wicked: judgement and justice take hold on thee.
17 Because thou is wrath, beware lest he take thee away with his stroke: then a great ransom cannot deliver thee.
18 Will he esteem thy riches? no not gold, nor all the forces of strength.
19 Desire not the night, when people are cut off in their place.
20 Take heed, regard not iniquitie: for this hast thou chosen rather then affliction.
21 Behold, God exalteth by his power: who teacheth like him?
22 Who hath enjoyed him his way? or who can say, Thou hast wrought iniquitie?
23 Remember that thou magnifie his work, which men behold.
24 Every man may see it, man may behold it afar off.
25 Behold, God is great, and we know him not, neither can the number of his yeeres be searched out.
26 For he maketh small the drops of water: they pour down rain according to the vapour thereof;

28 Which the clouds do drop, and distill upon man abundantly.
29 Also can any understand the spreadings of the clouds, or the noise of his tabernacle?
30 Behold, he spreadeth his light upon it, and covereth the bottom of the sea.
31 For by them judgeth he the people, he giveth meat in abundance.
32 Which clouds be covereth the light; and commandeth it not to shine, by the cloud that cometh betwixt.
33 The noise thereof sheweth concerning it, the cattell also concerning the vapour.

CHAP. XXXVII.

God is to be feared because of his great works. His wisdom is unsearchable in them.

At this also my heart trembleth, and is moved out of his place.
1 Hear attentively the noise of his voice, and the sound that goeth out of his mouth.
2 He directeth it under the whole heaven, and his lightning unto the f ends of the earth.
3 After it a voice roareth: he thundreth with the voice of his excellency, and he will not stay them when his voice is heard.
4 God thundreth marvellously with his voice, great things doth he, which we cannot comprehend.
5 For he saith to the snow, Be thou on the earth, & likewise to the small rain, and to the great rain or his strength.
6 He sealeth up the hand of every man; that all men may know his work.
7 Then the bears go into dens, and remain in their places.
8 Out of the south cometh the whelwinde: and cold out of the north.
9 By the breath of God frost is given: and the breadth of the waters is straitened.
10 Also by watering he weareth the thicke cloud; he scattereth his thicke cloud.
11 And it is turned round about by his counsels: that they may do whatsoever he commandeth them upon the face of the world in the earth.
12 He causeth it to come, whether for correction, or for his land, or for mercy.
13 Hearken unto this, O Job: stand still, and consider the wondrous works of God.
14 Dost thou know when God disposed them, and caused the light of his cloud to shine?
15 Dost thou know the balancings of the clouds, the wondrous works of him which is perfect in knowledge?
16 How thy garments are warm, when he quieteth the earth by the south winde?
17 Hast thou with him spread out the skie, which is strong, and as a molten looking-glasse?
18 Teach us what we shall say unto him; for we cannot order our speech by reason of darkness.
19 Shall he be told him that I speak? if a man speak, surely he shall be swallowed up.
20 And now men see not the bright light which is in the clouds: but the winde passeth and cleanseth them.
21 Fair weather cometh out of the north: with God is terrible majesty.
22 Touching the Almighty, we cannot finde him out: he is excellent in power, and in judgement, and in plenty of justice: he will not afflict.

24 When do therefore fear him : he respecteth not any that are wise of heart.

25 Who hath divided a water-course for the overflowing of waters? or a way for the lightning of thunder.

26 To cause it to rain on the earth, where no man is: or on the wilderness wherein there is no man?

27 To satish the desolate and waste ground, and to cause the bud of the tender herb to spring forth.

28 Whether the rain a father? or who hath brought forth the drops of the dew?

29 Out of whose womb came the ice? and the hoary frost of heaven, who hath gendred it?

30 The waters are hid as with a stone, and the face of the deep is frozen.

31 Canst thou bind the sweet influences of Orion? or loose the bands of Atlas?

32 Canst thou bring forth Mazzaroth in his season, or canst thou guide Arcturus with his long?

33 Knowest thou the ordinances of heaven? canst thou set the dominion thereof in the earth?

34 Canst thou lift up thy voice to the clouds, that abundance of waters may cover thee?

35 Canst thou cease lightning, that they may go? and say unto thee, Here we are?

36 Who hath put wisdom in the inward parts? or who hath given understanding to the heart?

37 Who can number the clouds in wisdom, or who can stay the borders of heaven, 38 When the dust is gathered into bundles, and the clods cleave fast together?

39 Wilt thou hunt the prey for the lion? or fill with the appetite of the young lions?

40 When they couch in their dens, and abide in the covert to lie in wait?

41 Who provideth for the raven his food? when his young ones cry unto God, they wander for lack of meat.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 Of the wilde goats and hinds. 5 Of the wilde ass, 9 the unicorn, 13 the peacock, rook, and ostrich, 19 the horse, 26 the hawk, 27 the eagle.

Knowest thou the time when the wilde goats of the rock bring forth? or canst thou mark when the hinds calve?

2 Canst thou number the months that they fulfill? or knowest thou the time when they bring forth?

3 They know themselves, they bring forth their young ones, they call on their sorrows.

4 Their young ones are in good liking, they grow up with count: they go forth, and return not unto them.

5 Who hath sent out the wilde ass free? or who hath loosed the bands of the wilde ass?

6 Who hath made the wilderness, and the barren land his dwellings,

7 He hath made the multitude of the cities, neither regardeth he the crying of the dweller.

8 He hath made the range of the mountains his pasture, and he searcheth after every green thing.

9 Will the unicorn be willing to serve thee? or abide by thy crib?

10 Canst thou bind the unicorn with his band to the furrow? or will he harrow the valleys after thee?

11 Wilt thou trust him because his strength is great? or wilt thou leave thy labour to him?

12 Wilt thou believe him when he will bring home thy seed? and gather it into thy barn?

13 Gavest thou the goody wings unto the peacocks, or hast thou wings and feathers unto the ostrich?

14 Which leaveth her eggs in the earth, and warmeth them in the dust, 15 And forgetteth that the foot may crush them, or that the wilde beast may break them.

16 She is hardened against her young ones, as though they were not hers: her labour is in vain without fear.

17 Because God hath deprived her of wisdom, neither hath he imparted to her understanding.

CHAP. XL.

1 Job humbleth himself to God. 6 God stirreth him up to shew his righteousness, power, and wisdom.
 15. Of the behemoth.

Moreover, the LORD answered Job, and said,

2 Shall he that contendeth with the Almighty instruct him? he that reprovethe God, let him answer it.
 3 ¶ Then Job answered the LORD, and said,
 4 Behold, I am vile, what shall I answer thee? I will lay mine hand upon my mouth.
 5 Once have I spoken, but I will not answer: yea, twice, but I will proceed no further.
 6 ¶ Then answered the LORD unto Job out of the whirlwinde, and said,
 7 * Stir up thy loyns now like a man: I will demand of thee, and declare thoununto me.
 8 * Wilt thou also disannul my judgement? wilt thou condemn me that thou mayest be righteous?

* Chap. 38. 3.

* Psal. 5. 4.
Rom. 3. 4.

* Psal. 104. 1.

9 Hast thou an arm like God? or canst thou thunder with a voice like him?
 10 * Deck thyself now with majesty and excellency, and array thyself with glory and beauty.
 11 Cast abroad the rage of thy wrath; and behold every one that is proud, and abase him.
 12 Look on every one that is proud, and bring him low: and tread down the wicked in their place.
 13 Hide them in the dust together, and binde their faces in secret.
 14 Then will I also confesse unto thee, that thine own right hand can save thee.
 15 ¶ Behold now || behemoth which I made like thee, he eateth grass as an ox.
 16 Lo now, his strength is in his loyns, and his force is in the navel of his belly.
 17 || He moveth his tail like a cedar: the sinews of his bones are wrapped together.
 18 His bones are as strong pieces of brass, his bones are like bars of iron.
 19 He is the chief of the wayes of God: he that made him, can make his wood to approach unto him.
 20 Surely the mountains bring him forth food: where all the beasts of the field play.
 21 He lieth under the shady trees, in the covert of the reed and fens.

|| Or, the elephant, as some think.

|| Or, he stretch up.

22 The shady trees cover him with their shadow: the willows of the brook compass him about.
 23 Behold, † he drinketh up a river, and wasteth not: he trusteth that he can draw up Jordan into his mouth.
 24 || He taketh it with his eyes: his nose pierceth through snares.

CHAP. XLI.

Of Gods great power in the leviathan.
Canst thou draw out leviathan with an hook? or his tongue with a cord † which thou lettest down?
 2 Canst thou put an hook into his nose? or bore his jaw through with a thorn?
 3 Wilt thou make many supplications unto thee? wilt thou speak soft words unto thee?
 4 Wilt he make a covenant with thee? wilt thou take him for a servant for ever?
 5 Wilt thou play with him as with a bird; wilt thou bind him for thy maidens?
 6 Shall the companions make a banquet of him? shall they part him among the merchants?
 7 Canst thou fill his skin with barbed irons? or his head with fish-spears?
 8 Lay thine hand upon him, remember the battell, do no more.
 9 Behold, the hope of him is in vain: shall not one be cast down, even at the sight of him?
 10 None is so fierce that dare stir him up: who then is able to stand before me?
 11 ¶ Who hath prevented me that I should repay him? whatsoever is under the whole heaven is mine.
 12 I will not conceal his parts, nor his power, nor his comely proportion?
 13 Who can discover the face of his garment? or who can come to him || with his double bridle?

 17 They are joyned one to another, they stick together, that they cannot be sundryed.
 18 By his neckings a light doth shine, and his eyes are like the eyes of the morning.
 19 Out of his mouth go burning lamps, and sparks of fire leap out.
 20 Out of his nostrils goeth smoke, as out of a seething pot or caldron.
 21 His breath kindleth coals, and a flame goeth out of his mouth.
 22 In his nose remaineth strength, and † sorrow is turned into joy before him.
 23 † The flakes of his flesh are joyned together: they are firm in themselves, they cannot be moved.
 24 His heart is as firm as a stone, yea as hard as a piece of the nether millstone.
 25 ¶ When he raiseth up himself, the mighty are afraid: by reason of breakings they pursue themselves.
 26 The sword of him that layeth at him cannot hold: the spear, the dart, nor the † habergeon.
 27 He esteemeth iron as straw, and brass as rotten wood.
 28 The arrow cannot make him flee: slingstones are turned wch him into stubble.
 29 Darts are counted as stubble: he laugheth at the shaking of a spear.

34 We beholdeth all high things: he is a king over all the children of pride.

CHAP. XLII.

1 Job submitteth himself unto God. 7 God preferring Jobs cause, maketh his friends submit themselves, and accereth him. 10 He magnifieth and blesteth Job. 16 Jobs age and death.

Then Job answered the LORD, and said, 2 I know that thou canst do every thing, and shall no thought can be withholden from thee.

3 And who is he that hideth counsell without knowledge; therefore have I needed that I understand not things too wonderfull for me, which I knew not.

4 Hear, I beseech thee, and I will speak: I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.

5 I have heard of thee by the hearing of the ear: but now mine eye seeth thee.

6 Wherefore I abhor myself and repent in dust and ashes.

7 And it was so, that after the LORD had spoken these words unto Job, the LORD said to Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends: for ye have not spoken of me the thing that is right, as my servant Job hath.

8 Therefore take unto you now seven bullocks, and seven rams, and go to my servant Job, and offer up for yourselves a burnt-offering, and my servant Job shall pray for you, for I him will I accept: lest I deal with you after your folly, in that ye have not spoken of me the thing which is right, like my servant Job.

9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shubite, and Sophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the LORD commanded them: the LORD also accepted I Job.

10 And the LORD turned the captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends: also the LORD I gave Job twice as much as he had before.

11 Then came there unto him all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had been of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his house: and they bemoaned him, and comforted him over all the evil that the LORD had brought upon him: every man also gave him a piece of money, and every one an ear-ring of gold.

12 So the LORD blessed the latter end of Job more than his beginning: for he had fourteen thousand sheep, and six thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she-asses.

13 He had also seven sons and three daughters.

14 And he called the name of the first, Zemima, and the name of the second, Kezia, and the name of the third, Keren-happuch.

15 And in all the land were no women found so fair as the daughters of Job; and their father gave them inheritance among their brethren.

16 After this lived Job an hundred and forty years, and saw his sons, and his sons sons, even four generations.

17 So Job died being old, and full of dayes.

THE BOOK OF PSALMS.

PSAL. I.

1 The happinesse of the godly. 4 The unhappinesse of the ungodly.

Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsell of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornfull. 2 But his delight is in the law of the LORD, and in his law doth he meditate day and night.

3 And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither, and whatsoever he doth shall prosper.

4 The ungodly are not so; but are like the chaffe which the winde driveth away.

5 Therefore shall the ungodly not stand in the judgement, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous.

6 For the LORD knoweth the way of the righteous; but the way of the ungodly shall perish.

PSAL. II.

1 The kingdom of Christ. 10 Kings are exhorted to accept it.

Why do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing?

2 The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsell together, against the LORD, and against his anointed, saying,

3 Let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us.

4 We that siteth in the heavens shall laugh; the Lord shall have them in derision.

5 Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath, and shall be terrible in his face displeasure.

6 Yet have I set my kings upon my holy hill of Zion.

7 I will declare the decree: the LORD hath said unto me, Thou art my son, this day have I begotten thee.

8 Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession.

9 Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron, thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potters vessel

LORD, how are they increased that trouble me: many are they that rise up against me.
2 Many there be which say of my soul, There is no help for thee in God. Selah.

3 But thou, O LORD, art a shield for me; my glory, and the lifter up of mine head.
4 I cryed unto the LORD with my voyce, and he heard me out of his holy hill. Selah.

5 I ſaid me down and ſlept; I awaked, for the LORD sustained me.
6 I will not be afraid of ten thousands of people, that have ſet themſelves againſt me round about.

7 Arise, O LORD, ſave me, O my God; for thou haſt ſmiten all mine enemies upon the cheek-bone: thou haſt broken the teeth of the ungodly.

8 * Salvation belongeth unto the LORD: thy bleſſing is upon thy people. Selah.

CTo the chief muſician upon Organoth, A psalm of David.

Hear me, when I call, O God of my righteouſneſſe: thou haſt enlarged me, when I was in diſtreſſe, ſave me, and hear my prayer.

2 O ye ſons of men, how long will ye run my glory into ſhame? how long will ye love vanity, and ſeek after lying? Selah.

3 But know that the LORD hath ſet apart him that is godly, for himſelf: the LORD will hear when I call unto him.

4 Stand in awe, and ſin not: commune with your own heart upon your bed, and be ſtill. Selah.

5 Offer * the ſacrifices of righteouſneſſe: and put your truſt in the LORD.

1 David prayeth, and confeſſeth his ſudy in prayer. 4 God favoureth not the wicked. 7 David profeſſing his faith, prayeth unto God to guide him, 10 to deſtroy his enemies. 11 and to preſerve the godly.

CTo the chief muſician upon Nehiloth, A psalm of David.

Give ear to my words, O LORD, conſider my meditation.

2 Hearken unto the voyce of my cry, my King, and my God: for unto thee will I pray.

3 * My voice ſhalt thou hear in the morning. O LORD: in the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee, and will look up.

4 For thou art not a God that hath pleaſure in wickedneſſe: neither ſhall evil dwell with thee.

5 The ſcith all ſhall not ſtand in thy light: and thou hateſt all workers of iniquity.

6 Thou ſhalt deſtroy them that ſpeak lying: the LORD will abhor the bloody and deceitfull man.

7 But as for me, I will come into thy houſe in the multitude of thy mercy: and in thy fear will I worſhip toward thy holy temple.

8 Lead me, O LORD, in thy righteouſneſſe, becauſe of mine enemies; make thy way ſtraight beſore my face.

9 For there is no faithfullneſſe in their mouth, their inward part is very wickedneſſe: their throat is an open ſepulchre, they flatter with their tongue.

10 || Deſtroy thou them, O God; let them fall by their own counſels: caſt them out in the multitude of their tranſgreſſions, for they have rebelled againſt thee.

11 But let all thoſe that put their truſt in thee, rejoyce, let them ever ſhout for joy; becauſe thou defendeſt them: let them alſo that love thy name, be joyfull in thee.

12 For thou, LORD, wilt bleſſe the righteous, with labour wilt thou compaſſe him as with a ſhield.

3 My ſoul is alſo ſoze vexed: but thou, O LORD, how long?

4 Return, O LORD, deliver my ſoul: obſerve me for thy mercies ſake.

5 * For in death there is no remembrance of thee: in the grave who ſhall give thee thanks?

6 I am weary with my groaning, all the night make I my bed to ſoim: I water my couch with my tears.

7 Mine eye is conſumed becauſe of grief; it waereth out becauſe of all mine enemies.

8 * Depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity; for the LORD hath heard the voice of my weeping.

 7 So shall the congregation of the people compass thee about: for their takes therefore return thou on high.
 8 The LORD shall judge the people: judge me, O LORD, according to my righteousness, and according to mine integrity that is in me.
 9 Why let the wickedness of the wicked come to an end, but establish the just: for the righteous God trieth the heart and reins.
 10 Why defence is of God: which saveth the upright in heart.

PSALM VIII.

Gods glory is magnified by his works, and by his love to man.

To the chief musician upon Gittith, A Psalm of David.

O LORD our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth: who hast set thy glory above the heavens.
 2 Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou ordained strength; because of thine enemies, that thou mightest kill the enemy and the avenger.

3 When I consider thy heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the stars which thou hast ordained;
 4 What is man that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man that thou dost care for him?
 5 For thou hast made him a little lower than the angels, and hast crowned him with glory and honour.

6 Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thine hands, thou hast put all things under his feet.
 7 All sheep and oxen, yea, and the beasts of the field,
 8 The fowl of the air, & the fish of the sea, and whatsoever pasceth through the paths of the seas.
 9 O LORD our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth!

PSALM IX.

David praifeth God for executing of judgement
 11 He inciteth others to praise him. 13 He prayeth that he may have cause to praise him.
 To the chief musician upon Gath-labben, A Psalm of David.

I will praise thee, O LORD, with my whole heart: I will shew forth all thy marvellous works.

2 I will be glad and rejoyce in thee: I will sing praise to thy Name, O thou most high.
 3 When mine enemies are turned back, they shall fall and perish at thy presence.
 4 For thou hast maintained my right and my cause, thou hast laid in the throne judging right.
 5 Thou hast rebuked the heathen, thou hast destroyed the wicked; thou hast put out their name for ever and ever.
 6 O thou enemy, destructions are come to a perpetual end: and thou hast destroyed cities, their memorial is perished with them.
 7 But the LORD shall endure for ever: he hath prepared his throne for judgement.
 8 And he shall judge the world in righteousness, he shall minister judgement to the people in uprightness.
 9 The LORD also will be a refuge for the oppressed, a refuge in times of trouble.
 10 And they that know thy name will put their trust in thee: for thou, O LORD, hast not forsaken them that seek thee.
 11 Sing praises to the LORD, which dwelleth in Zion: declare among the people his doings.
 12 When he maketh inquisition for blood, he remembereth them: he forgetteth not the cry of the humble.
 13 Have mercy upon me, O LORD, consider my trouble which I suffer of them that hate me, thou shalt lift me up from the gates of death:
 14 That I may shew forth all thy praise in the gates of the daughter of Zion: I will rejoyce in the salvation.
 15 The heathen are sunk down in the pit that they made: in the net which they hid, is their own foot taken.
 16 The LORD is known by the judgement which he executeth: the wicked is snared in the work of his own hands: Higgaion, Selah.
 17 The wicked shall be turned into hell, and all the nations that forget God.
 18 For the needy shall not alway be forgotten: the expectation of the poor shall not perish for ever.
 19 Arise, O LORD, let not man prevail, let the heathen be judged in thy sight.
 20 Put them in fear, O LORD: that the nations may know themselves to be but men. Selah.

PSALM X.

David complaineth to God of the outrage of the wicked. 12 He prayeth for remedy. 16 He professeth his confidence.

Why standest thou afar off, O LORD? why hidest thou thy self in times of trouble?

2 The wicked in his pride doth persecute the poor: let them be taken in the devices, that they have imagined.
 3 For the wicked boasteth of his hearts desire, and is blisfit by the covetous, whom the LORD abhorreth.
 4 The wicked, through the pride of his countenance, will not seek after God: God is not in all his thoughts.
 5 His ways are alwayes grievous: thy judgements are far above out of his sight: as for all his enemies, he suffereth at them.
 6 He hath said in his heart, I shall not be moved: for I shall never be in adversity.
 7 His mouth is full of cursing, and deceit, and fraud: under his tongue is mischief & vanity, PSAL. XI.

1 David encourageth himself in God against his enemies. 4 The providence and justice of God.

¶ To the chief musician, A psalm of David.

IN the LORD put I my trust : how say ye to my soul, flee as a bird to your mountain? 2 For lo, the wicked bend their bowe, they make ready their arrow upon the string : that they may † privily shoot at the upright in heart. 3 If the foundations be destroyed, what can the righteous do? 4 * The LORD is in his holy temple, the LORDS throne is in heaven : his eyes behold, his eye-lids trie the children of men. 5 The LORD seeth the righteous : but the wicked and him that loveth violence, his soul hateth. 6 Upon the wicked he shall rain snares, fire and brimstone, and ¶ an horrible tempest : this shall be the portion of their cup. 7 For the righteous LORD loveth righteousness : his countenance doth behold the upright.

PSAL. XII.

1 David desireth of humane comfort, craveth help of God. 3 He comforteth himself with Gods judgements on the wicked, and confidence in Gods tried promises.

¶ To the chief musician upon Sheminith, A psalm of David.

HELPE LORD, for the godly man ceaseth : for the faithfull fail from among the children of men. 2 They speak vanity every one with his neighbour : with flattering lips, and with † a double heart do they speak. 3 The LORD shall cut off all flattering lips, and the tongue that speaketh ¶ proud things. 4 Who have said, With our tongue will we prevail, our lips † are our own : who is lord over us? 5 For the oppression of the poor, for the sighing of the needy, now will I arise (saith the LORD) I will see him in safety from him that ¶ putteth at him.

6 The words of the LORD are pure words : * as silver tried in a furnace of earth, purified severentimes. 7 Thou shalt keep them (O LORD) thou shalt preserve † them from this generation for ever. 8 The wicked walk on every side, when † the vilest men are exalted.

PSAL. XIII.

1 David complaineth of delay in help. 3 He prayeth for preventing grace. 5 He boasteth of divine mercy.

¶ To the chief musician, A psalm of David.

HOW long wilt thou forget me (O LORD) for ever : how long wilt thou hide thy face from me? 2 How long shall I take counsell in my soul, having sorrow in my heart daily : how long shall mine enemy be exalted over me? 3 Consider and hear me, O LORD my God : lighten mine eyes, lest I sleep the sleep of death. 4 Lest mine enemies say, I have prevailed against him : and those that trouble me rejoice when I am moved. 5 But I have trusted in thy mercy, my heart shall rejoice in thy salvation. 6 I will sing unto the LORD, because he hath dealt bountifully with me.

PSAL. XIII.

1 David describeth the corruption of a natural man. 4 He convinceth the wicked by the light of their conscience. 7 He glorieth in the salvation of God.

¶ To the chief musician, A psalm of David.

THE fool hath said in his heart, There is no God : they are corrupt, they have done abominable works, there is none that doth good. 2 The LORD looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any that did understand, and seek God. 3 They are all gone aside, they are all together become † filthy : * there is none that doth good, no not one. 4 Have all the workers of iniquity no knowledge : who eat up my people as they eat bread, and call not upon the LORD. 5 There I were they in great fear : for God is in the generation of the righteous. 6 You have shamed the counsel of the poor : because the LORD is his refuge. 7 † O that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion ! when the LORD bringeth back the captivity of his people, Jacob shall rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

PSAL. XV.

David describeth a citizen of Zion.

¶ A psalm of David.

WHO shall abide in thy tabernacle : who shall dwell in thy holy hill? 2 * He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart. 3 He that backbiteth not with his tongue, nor doth evil to his neighbour, nor ¶ saith up a reproach against his neighbour. 4 In whose eyes a vile person is contemned ; but he honoureth them that fear the LORD : he char spareth to his own hurt, and changeth not. 5 † He char puteth not out his money to usury, nor saitheward against the innocent. He that doth these things, shall never be moved.

PSAL. XVI.

David in distrust of meries, and hatred of idolatry fleeth to God for preservation, & sheweth the hope of his calling, of the resurrection, and life everlasting.

A Michram of David.

Preserve me, O GOD : for in thee do I put my trust.

O my soul, thou hast said unto the LORD,
Thou art my Lord : * my goodnesse extendeth not to thee :

3 Be to the saints that are in the earth, and to the excellent in whom is all my delight.

4 Their sorrows shall be multiplied, that haven after another god : their drink-offerings of blood will I not offer, nor take up their names into my lips.

5 * The LORD is the portion of mine inheritance, and of my cup : thou maintainest my lot.

6 The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places : yea, I have a good heritage.

7 I will bless the LORD, who hath given me counsell : my reins also instruct me in the right reason.

8 * I have set the LORD alwayes before me : because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moted.

9 Therefore my heart is glad, and my glorie rejoyceth : my flesh also shall rest in hope.

10 * For thou wilt not leave my soul in hell ;
neither wilt thou suffer thine holy One to see corruption.

11 Thou wilt shew me the path of life : in thy presence is fulnesse of joy, at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore.

PSAL. XVII.

David in confidence of his integrity, craveth defence of God against his enemies. 10 He sheweth their pride, craft and eagernesse. 13 He prayeth against them in confidence of his hope.

A prayer of David.

HEAR O LORD, attend unto my heele, give ear unto my prayer, that goeth f not out of feigned lips.

2 Let my sentence come forth from thy presence:
let thine eyes behold the things that are equal.

3 Thou hast proved mine heart, thou hast visited me in the night, thou hast tried me, and shalt finde nothing: I am purposed that my mouth shall not transgresse.

4 Concerning the works of men, by the word of thy lips, I have kept me from the paths of the deceyver.

5 Hold up my goings in thy paths, that my footsteps slip not.

6 I have called upon thee, for thou wilt hear me, O GOD : incline thine ear unto me, and hear my speech.

7 Shew thy marvellous loving kindnesse, O thou ! that savest by thy right hand, them which put their trust in thee, from those that rise up against them.

8 Keep me as the apple of the eye : bide me under the shadow of thy wings,

9 From the wicked f that oppresse me, from my deadly enemies, who compass me about.

10 They are inclosed in their own fat : with their mouth they speak proudly.

11 They have now compassed us in our steps :
they have set their eyes bowing down to the earth.

12 * Like as a lion that is greedy of his prey, and as he were a young lion f lurking in secret places.

13 Arise, O LORD, f disappoint thine, cast him down : deliver my soul from the wicked, // which is thy word :

14 // From men which are thy hand, O LORD, from men of the world, which have their portion in this life, and whose belly thou fillest with thy hid creature : // they are full of children, and leave the rest of their substance to their babies.

15 As for me, I will behold thy face in righte-ousnesse : I shall be satisfied when I awake, with thy likeness.

PSAL. XVIII.

David praisech God for his manifold and marvellous blessings.

To the chief musician, A psalm of David, the servant of the LORD, who spake unto the LORD the words of * this song in the day that the LORD delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul : and he said,

I will love thee, O LORD my strength.

2 The LORD is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer : my GOD, f my strength in whom I will trust, my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower.

3 I will call upon the LORD, who is worthy to be praised : so shall I be saved from mine enemies.

4 * The sorrows of death compassed me, and the floods of f ungodly men made me afraid.

5 The // sorrows of hell compassed me about :
the snares of death prevented me.

6 In my distresse I called upon the LORD, and cryed unto my GOD : he heard my voice out of his temple, and my cry came before him, even into his ears.

7 Then the earth shook and trembled; the foundations also of the hills moved and were shaken, because he was as wroth.

8 There went up a smoke out of his nostrills, and fire out of his mouth devoured : coals were kindled by it.

9 He bowed the heavens also and came down :
and darknesse was under his feet.

10 And he rode upon a cherub, and did flie :
yea, he did flie upon the wings of the wind.

11 He made darknesse his secret place : his pa-billon round about him, were dark waters, and thick clouds of the skies.

12 At the brightnesse that was before him his thick clouds passed, hail-stones and coals of fire.

13 The LORD also thundred in the heavens, and the highest gave his voice; hail stones and coals of fire.

14 He sent out his arrows, and scattered them; and he shot out lightnings, and discomfited them.

15 Then the channels of waters were seen, and the foundations of the world were discovered : at thy rebuke, O LORD, at the blast of the breath of thy nostrills.

16 He sent from above, he took me, he drew me out of // many waters.

17 He delivered me from my strong enemy, and from them which hated me : for they were too strong for me.

18 They prevented me in the day of my calamity :
but the LORD was my stay.

19 He brought me forth also into a large place:
he delivered me, because he delighted in me.

20 The LORD rewarded me according to my righteousnesse, according to the cleanness of my hands hath he recompensed me.

21 For I have kept the wayes of the LORD, and have not wickedly departed from my God.

22 For all his judgements were before me, and I did not put away his statutes from me.

23 I was also upright before him: and I kept my self from mine iniquitie.

24 Therefore hath the LORD recompensed me according to my righteousness, according to the cleanness of my hands in his eye-sight.

25 With the mercifull thou wilt shew thy self mercifull, with an upright man thou wilt shew thy self upright.

26 With the pure thou wilt shew thy self pure, and with the froward thou wilt shew thy self froward.

27 For thou wilt save the afflicted people: but wilt bring down high looks.

28 For thou wilt light my candle: the LORD my God will enlighten my darknesse.

29 For by thee I have run through a troupe: and by my God have I leaped over a wall.

30 As for God, his way is perfect: the word of the LORD is tried: he is a buckler to all those that trust in him.

31 For who is God save the LORD? or who is a rock save our God?

32 It is God that girdeth me with strength, and maketh my way perfect.

33 He maketh my feet like hinds feet, and setteth me upon my high places.

34 He teacheth my hands to war, so that a bowe of steel is broken by mine arms.

35 Thou hast also given me the shield of thy salvation: and thy right hand hath holden me up, and thy gentleness hath made me great.

36 Thou hast enlarged my steps under me; that I may feet did not slip.

37 I have pursued mine enemies, and overtaken them: neither did I turn again till they were consumed.

38 I have wounded them that they were not able to rise: they are fallen under my feet.

39 For thou hast girded me with strength unto battell: thou hast subdued under me those that rose up against me.

40 Thou hast also given me the necks of mine enemies: that I might destroy them that hate me.

41 They cryed, but there was none to save them: even unto the LORD, but he answered them not.

42 Then did I beat them small as the dust before the wind: I did cast them out as the dirt in the streets.

43 Thou hast delivered me from the scorbings of the people: and thou hast made me the head of the heathen: a people whom I have not known shall serve me.

44 As soon as they hear of me, they shall obey me: the strangers shall submit themselves unto me.

45 The strangers shall fade away, and be afraid out of their close places.

46 The LORD is liberty, and blessed be my rock: and let the God of my salvation be exalted.

47 It is God that avengeth me, and shall subdueth the people under me.

48 He delivereth me from mine enemies: yea thou hast me up above those that rise up against me: thou hast delivered me from the violent man.

49 Therefore will I give thanks unto thee O LORD among the heathen: and sing praises unto thy name.

50 Great deliverance gived he to his king: and shewed mercy to his anointed, to David, and to his seed for evermore.

PSAL. XIX.

1 The creatures shew Gods glory, 7 the word his grace. 12 David prayeth for grace.

To the chief musician, A psalm of David.

The heavens declare the glory of God: and the firmament sheweth his handy work.

2 Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge.

3 There is no speech nor language, nor where their voice is heard.

4 Their line is gone out through all the earth, and their words to the end of the world: in them hath he set a tabernacle for the sun,

5 Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber, and rejoiceth as a strong man to run a race.

6 His going forth is from the end of the heaven, and his circuit unto the ends of the earth: and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof.

7 The law of the LORD is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the LORD is sure, making wise the simple.

8 The statutes of the LORD are right, rejoicing the heart: the commandment of the LORD is pure, enlightening the eyes.

9 The fear of the LORD is clean, enduring for ever: the judgements of the LORD are true and righteous altogether.

10 Hope to be desired are they then gold, yea, then much fine gold: sweeter also then honey, and then the honey comb.

11 Moreover, by them is thy servant warned: and in keeping of them there is great reward.

12 Who can understand his errors? cleanse thou me from secret fautes.

13 Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins, let them not have dominion over me: then shall I be upright, and I shall be innocent from all the great transgression.

14 Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in thy sight, O LORD: and my strength and my redeemer.

PSAL. XX.

1 The church blesteth the king in his exploits. 7 Her confidence in Gods succour.

To the chief musician, A psalm of David.

The LORD hear thee in the day of trouble, the name of the God of Jacob defend thee.

2 Send thee help from the sanctuary: and strengthen thee out of Zion.

3 Remember all thy offerings, and accept thy burnt-sacrifice. Selah.

4 Grant thee according to thine own heart, and fulfill all thy counsel.

5 We will rejoice in thy salvation, and in the name of our God we will set up our banners: the LORD fulfill all thy petitions.

6 Now know I that the LORD is with me: he will hear him from his holy heaven, with the saving strength of his right hand.

7 Some trust in chariots, and some in horses: but we will remember the name of the LORD our God.

8 They are brought down and fallen, but we are risen and stand up: fight.

9 Save LORD, let the king hear us when we call.

5 His glory is great in thy salvation, honour and majesty hast thou laid upon him.

6 For thou hast made him most blessed for ever: thou hast made him exceeding glad with thy countenance.

7 For the king trusted in the LORD, and through the mercy of the most high, he shall not be moved.

8 Thine hand shall finde out all thine enemies, thy right hand shall finde out those that hate thee.

9 Thou shalt make them as a fiery oven in the time of thine anger: the LORD shall swallow them up in his wrath, and the fire shall devour them.

10 Their fruit shalt thou destroy from the earth, and their seed from among the children of men.

11 For they intended evill against thee: they imagined a mischievous device, which they are not able to perform.

12 Therefore shalt thou make them tnen their backs, when thou shalt make ready thine arrows upon thy strings, against the face of them.

13 Be thou exalted, LORD, in thine own strength: so will we sing and praise thy power.

David complaineth in great discouragement. 9 He prayeth in great distresse. 23 He praiseth God.

To the chief musician upon Alselech Shabat. A psalm of David.

My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me, and from the words of my roaring?

2 O my God, I cry in the day time, but thou hearest not; and in the night season, and I am not silent.

3 But thou art holy, O thou that inhabitest the praises of Israel.

4 Our fathers trusted in thee: they trusted, and thou didst deliver them.

5 They cried unto thee, and were delivered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded.

6 But I am a worm, and no man; a reproach of men, and despised of the people.

7 All they that see me, laugh me to scorn: they shoot out the lip, they make the dead, saying,

8 He trusted on the LORD, that he would deliver him: let him deliver him; let him be delighted in him.

9 But thou art he that took me out of the womb; thou didst make me hope, when I was upon my mothers breasts.

10 I was cast upon thee from the womb: thou art my God from my mothers belly.

11 Be not far from me, for trouble is near; for there is none to help.

12 Many bulls have compassed me: strong bulls of Bashan have beset me round.

13 They have gaped upon me with their mouths, as a ravening and a roaring lion.

14 I am poured out like water, and all my bones are out of joynt: my heart is like wax; it is melted in the midst of my bowels.

15 My strength is dried up like a potsherd:

and my tongue cleaveth to my jaws: and thou hast brought me into the dust of death.

16 For dogs have compassed me, the assembly of the wicked have inclosed me: they pierced my hands and my feet.

17 I may tell all my bones: they look and stare upon me.

18 They part my garments among them, and cast lots upon my vesture.

19 But be not thou far from me, O LORD: O my strength, haste thee to help me.

20 Deliver my soul from the sword; my darling from the power of the dog.

21 Save me from the lions mouth: for thou hast heard me from the horns of the unicorns.

22 I will declare thy name unto my brethren in the midst of the congregation, will I praise thee.

23 Ye that fear the LORD, praise him; all ye the seed of Jacob, glorifie him; and fear him, all ye the seed of Israel.

24 For he hath not despised, nor abhorred the affliction of the afflicted: neither hath he hid his face from him, but when he cryed unto him, he heard.

25 My praise shall be of thee in the great congregation: I will pay my vows before thee that fear him.

26 The meek shall eat and be satisfied: they shall praise the LORD that seek him, your heart shall live for ever.

27 All the ends of the world shall remember and turn unto the LORD: and all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before thee.

28 For the kingdom is the LORDS: and he is the governour among the nations.

29 All they that be fat upon earth, shall eat and worship: all they that go down to the dust, shall bow before him, and none can keep alive his own soul.

30 A seed shall serve him, it shall be accounted to the LORD for a generation.

31 They shall come, and shall declare his righteousness unto a people that shall be born, that he hath done this.

PSAL. XXIII.

Dauids confidence in Gods grace.

A psalm of David.

The LORD is my shepherd, I shall not want.

2 He leadeth me to lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters.

3 He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his names sake.

4 Yea, though I walk thowout the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me, thy rod and thy staffe they comfort me.

5 Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou shalt anoint my head with oyl, my cup runneth over.

6 Surely goodness and mercie shall follow me all the dayes of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the LORD for ever.

PSAL. XXVI.

David reſorteth unto God, in confidence of his integrity.

¶ A Pſalm of David.

Judge me, O LORD, for I have walked in mine integrity: I have truſted alſo in the LORD: therefore I ſhall not ſhede.

2 * Examine me, O LORD, and probe me: try my reins and my heart.
3 For thy loving kindneſſe is before mine eyes, and I have walked in thy truth.

4 * I have not ſat with vain perſons, neither will I go in with diſſemblers.
5 I have hated the congregation of evil doers: and will not ſit with the wicked.

6 I will waſh mine hands in innocency: ſo will I compaſſe thine altar, O LORD.
7 That I may publiſh with the voice of thankſgiving, and tell of all thy wondrous works.

8 LORD, I have loved the habitation of thy houſe, and the place † where thine honour dwelleth.

9 Gather not my ſoul with ſinners, nor my liſt with † bloody men:
10 In whole hands is miſchief: and their right hand is † full of viſes.

11 But as for me, I will walk in mine integrity: redeem me, and be merciful unto me.
12 My foot ſtandeth in an even place: in the congregations will I bleſſe the LORD.

PSAL. XXVII.

1 David ſuſtaineth his faith by the power of God, 4 by his love to the ſervice of God, 5 by prayer.

¶ A Pſalm of David.

The LORD is * my light, and my ſalvation, whom ſhall I fear? * the LORD is the ſtrength of my liſe, of whom ſhall I be afraid?

2 When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes, † came upon me to eat up my fleſh, they ſtumbled and fell.

3 * Though an hoſt ſhould encamp againſt me, my heart ſhall not fear: though war ſhould ſiege againſt me, in this will I be confident.

4 One thing have I deſired of the LORD, that will I ſeek after, that I may dwell in the houſe of the LORD all the dayes of my liſe, to behold the beauty of the LORD, and to enquire in his temple.

5 For in the time of trouble he ſhall hide me in his pavilion: in the ſecret of his tabernacle ſhall he hide me, he ſhall ſet me up upon a rock.

6 And now ſhall my head be liſted up above mine enemies round about me: therefore will I offer in his tabernacle ſacrifices † of joy, I will ſing, yea, I will ſing psalms unto the LORD.

P S A L. XXVIII.

1 David prayeth earnestly against his enemies. 6 He blesteth God. 9 He prayeth for the people.

A Psalm of David.

Unto thee will I cry, O LORD my rock, be not silent to me: lest if thou be silent to me, I become like them that go down into the pit.

2 Hear the voyce of my supplications when I cry unto thee: when I lift up my hands toward thy holy oracle.

3 Draw me not away with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquity: which speak peace to their neighbours, but mischief is in their hearts.

4 Give them according to their deeds, and according to the wickednesse of their induvours: give them after the work of their hands, and render to them their desire.

5 Because they regard not the works of the LORD, nor the operation of his hands, he shall destroy them, and not build them up.

6 Blessed be the LORD, because he hath heard the voyce of my supplications.

7 The LORD is my strength, and my shield, my heart trusted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart greatly rejoiceth, and with my song will I praise him.

8 The LORD is their strength, and he is the saving strength of his anointed.

9 Save thy people, and blese thine inheritance: feed them also, and lift them up for ever.

P S A L. XXIX.

1 David exhorteth princes to give glory unto God, by reason of his power, and protection of his people.

A Psalm of David.

Give unto the LORD (O ye mighty) give unto the LORD glory and strength,

2 Give unto the LORD as thy glory due unto his name; worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness.

3 The voyce of the LORD is upon the waters: the God of glory thundreth, the LORD is upon many waters.

4 The voyce of the LORD is powerful: the voyce of the LORD is full of majesty.

5 The voyce of the LORD breaketh the cedars: yea, the LORD breaketh the cedars of Lebanon.

6 He maketh them also to skip like a calf: Lebanon, and Sirion like a young unicorn.

7 The voyce of the LORD divideth the flames of fire.

8 The voyce of the LORD maketh the wildernesses of Kadesh: the LORD maketh the wildernesses of Kadesh.

9 The voyce of the LORD maketh the bindes to quake, and discovereth the forests: and in his temple doth every one speak of his glory.

10 The LORD sitteth upon the flood: yea, the LORD sitteth king for ever.

11 The LORD will give strength unto his people: the LORD will blese his people with peace.

P S A L. XXX.

1 David praisth God for his deliverance. 4 He exhorteth others to praisth him by example of Gods dealing with him.

A psalm and song, at the dedication of the house of David.

I will extoll thee, O LORD, for thou hast lifted me up, and hast not made my foes to rejoice over me.

1 O LORD my God, I cryed unto thee, and thou hast healed me.

2 O LORD, thou hast brought up my soul from the grave: thou hast kept me alive that I should not go down to the pit.

3 Sing unto the LORD (O ye saints of his) and give thanks at the remembrance of his holiness.

4 For his anger endureth but a moment; in his favour is life: weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning.

5 And in my prosperity I said, I shall never be moved.

6 O LORD, by thy favour thou hast made my mountain to stand strong: thou didst hide thy face, and I was troubled.

7 I cryed to thee, O LORD: and unto the LORD I made supplication.

8 What profit is there in my blood, when I go down to the pit? Shall the dust praise thee? Shall it declare thy truth?

9 Hear, O LORD, and have mercy upon me: LORD be thou my helper.

10 Thou hast turned for me my mourning into dancing: thou hast put off my sackcloth, and girded me with gladnesse.

11 To the end that my glory may sing praise to thee, and not be silent: O LORD my God, I will give thanks unto thee for ever.

P S A L. XXXI.

1 David shewing his confidence in God, craveth his help. 7 He rejoiceth in his mercy. 9 He prayeth in his calamity. 19 He praisth God for his goodness.

To the chief musician, a psalm of David.

I never be ashamed, do I put my trust, let me never be ashamed: deliver me in thy righteousness.

2 Bow down thine ear to me, deliver me speedily: be thou my strong rock, for an house of defence to save me.

3 For thou art my rock and my fortress: therefore for thy names sake lead me, and guide me.

4 Pull me out of the net, that they have laid privily for me: for thou art my strength.

5 Into thine hand I commit my spirit: thou hast redeemed me, O LORD God of truth.

6 I have hated them that regard lying vanities: but I trust in the LORD.

7 I will be glad, and rejoice in thy mercy: for thou hast considered my trouble; thou hast known my soul in adversities;

8 And hast not shut me up into the hand of the enemy: thou hast set my feet in a large room.

9 Have mercy upon me, O LORD, for I am in trouble: mine eye is consumed with grief, yea, my soul and my belly.

10 For my life is spent with grief, and my years with sighing: my strength faileth, because of mine iniquity, and my bones are consumed.

11 I was a reproach among all mine enemies, but especially among my neighbours, and a fear to mine acquaintance: they that did see me went out, fled from me.

12 I am forgotten as a dead man out of minde: I am like a broken vessel.

13 For I have heard the slander of many, fear was on every side, while they took counsel to gether against me, they devised to take away my life.

14 But I trusted in thee, O LORD: I said, Thou art my God.

15 My times are in thy hand: deliver me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that persecute me.

* Luke 23. 46.

† Heb. a vessel that perisheth.

16 Make thy face to shine upon thy servant: save me for thy mercies sake.

17 Let me not be ashamed, O LORD, for I have called upon thee: let the wicked be ashamed, and let them be silent in the grave.

18 Let the lying lips be put to silence: which speak grievous things proudly and contemptuously against the righteous.

19 O how great is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee; which thou hast wrought for them that trust in thee, before the sons of men!

20 Thou shalt hide them in the secret of thy presence from the pride of man; thou shalt keep them secretly in a pavilion from the strife of tongues.

21 Blessed be the LORD; for he hath shewed me his marvellous kindness, in all strong city.

22 For I said in my haste, I am cut off from before thine eyes: nevertheless thou heardest the voice of my supplications, when I cried unto thee.

23 O love the LORD, all ye his saints: for the LORD preferreth the faithful, and plentifully rewardeth the proud doer.

24 Be of good courage, and he shall strengthen your heart, all ye that hope in the LORD.

PSAL. XXXII.

1 Blessedness is confiteth in remission of sins. 3 Confession of sins giveth ease to the conscience. 8 Gods promises bring joy.

C || A Psalm of David, Balaichil.

Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered.

2 Blessed is the man unto whom the LORD imputeth not iniquity, and in whose spirit there is no guile.

3 When I kept silence, my bones waxed old: through my roaring all the day long.

4 For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me: my moisture is turned into the drought of summer. Selah.

5 I acknowledged my sin unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid: I said I will confess my transgressions unto the LORD; and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin. Selah.

6 For this shall every one that is godly, pray unto thee, in a time when thou mayest be found: surely in the floods of great waters, they shall not come nigh unto him.

7 Thou art my hiding place, thou shalt preserve me from trouble: thou shalt compass me about with songs of deliverance. Selah.

8 I will instruct thee, and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go: I will guide thee with mine eye.

9 Be ye not as the horse, or as the mule which have no understanding: whose mouth must be held in with bit and bridle, lest they come near unto thee.

10 Many sorrows shall be to the wicked: but he that trusteth in the LORD, mercy shall compass him about.

11 Be glad in the LORD, and rejoice ye righteous: and shout for joy all ye that are upright in heart.

PSAL. XXXIII.

1 God is to be praised for his goodness. 6 for his power, 12 and for his providence. 20 Confidence is to be placed in God.

Rejoice in the LORD, O ye righteous, for the LORD is comely for the upright.

2 Praise the LORD with harp: sing unto him with the psalterie, and an instrument of ten strings.

3 Sing unto him a new song, play skillfully with a loud noise.

4 For the word of the LORD is right: and all his works are done in truth.

5 He loveth righteousness and judgement: the earth is full of the goodness of the LORD.

6 By the word of the LORD were the heavens made, and all the host of them, by the breath of his mouth.

7 He gathereth the waters of the sea together as an heap: he layeth up the depth in storehouses.

8 Let all the earth fear the LORD: let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him.

9 For he spake, and it was done, he commanded, and it stood fast.

10 The LORD bringeth the counsell of the heathen to nought: he maketh the devices of the people of none effect.

11 The counsell of the LORD standeth for ever: the thoughts of his heart to all generations.

12 Blessed is the nation whose God is the LORD, and the people whom he hath chosen for his own inheritance.

13 The LORD looketh from heaven: he beholdeth all the sons of men.

14 From the place of his habitation he looketh upon all the inhabitants of the earth.

15 He fashioned their hearts alike: he considereth all their works.

16 There is no king saved by the multitude of an host: a mighty man is not delivered by much strength.

17 An horse is a vain thing for safety: neither shall he deliver any by his great strength.

18 Behold, the eye of the LORD is upon them that fear him: upon them that hope in his mercy.

19 To deliver their soul from death, and to keep them alive in famine.

20 Our soul waiteth for the LORD: he is our help and our shield.

21 For our heart shall rejoice in him: because we have trusted in his holy name.

22 Let thy mercy (O LORD) be upon us according as we hope in thee.

PSAL. XXXIII.

1 David praifeth God, and exhorteth others thereto by his experience. 8 They are blessed that trust in God. 11 He exhorteth to the fear of God. 15 The privileges of the righteous.

I will praise the LORD at all times: his praise shall continually be in my mouth.

2 My soul shall make her boast in the LORD: the humble shall hear thereof, and be glad.

3 O magnifie the LORD with me, and let us exalt his name together.

4 I sought the LORD, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears.

5 They looked unto him, and were lightened: and their faces were not ashamed.

6 His voice man cried, and the LORD heard him; and saved him out of all his troubles.

10 The young lions do lack, and suffer hunger: but they that seek the LORD shall not want any good thing.

11 Come ye children, hearken unto me: I will teach you the fear of the LORD.

12 What man is he that desireth life, and loveth many days, that he may see good?

13 Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from speaking guile.

14 Depart from evil, and do good: seek peace, and pursue it.

15 The eyes of the LORD are upon the righteous, and his ears are open unto their cry.

16 The face of the LORD is against them that do evil: to cut off the remembrance of them from the earth.

17 The righteous cry, and the LORD heareth: and delivereth them out of all their troubles.

18 The LORD is high ↑ unto them that are of a broken heart: and saveth such as be ↑ of a contrite spirit.

19 Many are the afflictions of the righteous: but the LORD delivereth him out of them all.

20 He keepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.

21 Evil shall slay the wicked: and they that hate the righteous // shall be desolate.

22 The LORD redeemeth the soul of his servants: and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate.

PSALM XXXV.

David prayeth for his own safety, and his enemies confusion. 11 He complaineth of their wrongfull dealing. 22 Thereby he inciteth God against them.

A Psalm of David.

Lead my cause (O LORD) with them that asperse with me: fight against them that fight against me.

Take hold of shield and buckler, and stand up for mine help.

Draw out also the spear, and stop the way against them that persecute me: say unto my soul, I am thy salvation.

Let them be confounded and put to shame that seek after my soul: let them be turned back and brought to confusion that desire my hurt.

Let them be as chaffe before the winde: and let the angel of the LORD chase them.

Let there be ↑ dark and slippery, and let the angel of the LORD persecute them.

For without cause have they bid for me their net: in a pit, which without cause they have digged for my soul.

Let destruction come upon him ↑ at unawares, and let his net that he hath bid, catch himself: into that very destruction let him fall.

And my soul shall be joyfull in the LORD: it shall rejoice in his salvation.

All my bones shall say, LORD, who is like unto thee, which deliverest the poor from him that is too strong for him, yea, the poor, and the needy, from him that persecuteth him?

False witnesses did rise up: ↑ they laid to my charge things that I knew not.

They rewarded me evil for good, to the spoiling of my soul.

But as for me, when they were sick, my clothing was sackcloth: I // humbled my soul with fasting, and my prayer returned into mine own bosome.

I ↑ behaved my self ↑ as though he had been my friend, or brother: I bowed down heavily, as one that mourneth for his mother.

But in mine ↑ adversity they rejoiced, and gathered themselves together: yea, the adversaries gathered themselves together against me, and I knew it not, they did fear me, and ceased not.

With hypocritical mockers in feasts: they gnashed upon me with their teeth.

LORD, how long wilt thou look on: rescue my soul from their destructions, my darling from the lions.

I will give thee thanks in the great congregation: I will praise thee among ↑ much people.

Let not them that are mine enemies ↑ wrongfully rejoice over me: neither let them wink with the eye, that hate me without a cause.

For they speak not peace, but they devise deceitfull matters against them that are quiet in the land.

Yea, they opened their mouth wide against me, and said, Aha, aha, our eye hath seen ic.

This thou hast seen (O LORD) keep not silence: O LORD, be not far from me.

Stir up thy self, and awake to my judgement: even unto my cause, my God and my LORD.

Judge me, O LORD my God, according to thy righteousness, and let them not rejoice over me.

Let them not say in their hearts, ↑ Ah, so would we have it: let them not say, We have swallowed him up.

Let them be ashamed and brought to confusion together, that rejoice at mine hurt: let them be clothed with shame and dishonour that magnifie themselves against me.

Let them shout for joy, and be glad, that favour ↑ my righteous cause: yea, let them say continually, Let the LORD be magnified, which hath pleasure in the prosperity of his servant.

And my tongue shall speak of thy righteousness, and of thy praise all the day long.

PSALM XXXVI.

The grievous estate of the wicked. 5 The excellencie of Gods mercie. 10 David prayeth for favour to Gods children.

To the chief musician, A Psalm of David, the servant of the LORD.

The transgression of the wicked catch within his heart, that there is no fear of God before his eyes.

For he flattered himself in his own eyes, ↑ until his iniquitie be found to be hateful.

The words of his mouth are iniquitie and deceit: he hath left off to be wise, and to do good.

He deviseth // mischief upon his bed, he setteth himself in a way that is not good: he abhorreth not evil.

Thy mercy (O LORD) is in the heavens; and thy faithfullnesse reacheth unto the clouds.

Thy righteousness is like ↑ the great mountains: thy judgements are a great deep; O LORD, thou preferrest man and beast.

How ↑ excellent is thy loving kindnesse, O God! therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wings.

They shall be abundantly satisfied with the fatnesse of thy house: and thou shalt make them drink of the river of thy pleasures.

For with thee is the fountain of life: in thy light shall we see light.

David persuadeth to patience, and confidence in God by the different estate of the godly and the wicked.

¶ A Psalm of David.

Fret * not thy self because of evil doers, neither be thou envious against the workers of iniquity.
2 For they shall soon be cut down like the grass, and wither as the green herb.
3 Trust in the LORD, and do good, so shalt thou dwell in the land; and thy verily thou shalt be fed.
4 Delight thy self also in the LORD; and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart.
5 ¶ Committ thy way unto the LORD: trust also in him, and he shall bring it to pass.
6 And he shall bring forth thy righteousness as the light, and thy judgement as the noon-day.
7 ¶ Rest in the LORD, and wait patiently for him: fret not thy self because of him who prospereth in his way, because of the man who bringeth forth his devices to passe.
8 Cease from anger, and forsake wrath: fret not thy self in any wise to do evil.
9 For evil doers shall be cut off: but those that wait upon the LORD, they shall inherit the earth.

11 * But the meek shall inherit the earth: and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace.
12 The wicked shall plotteth against the just, and gnasheth upon him with his teeth.
13 * The LORD shall laugh at him, for he seeth that his day is coming.
14 The wicked have drawn out the sword, and have bent their bowe to cast down the poor and needy, and to slay ¶ such as be of upright conversation.
15 Their sword shall enter into their own heart; and their bows shall be broken.
16 A little that a righteous man hath, is better then the riches of many wicked.
17 For the arms of the wicked shall be broken: but the LORD upholdeth the righteous.
18 The LORD knoweth the dayes of the upright: and their inheritance shall be for ever.
19 They shall not be ashamed in the evil time: and in the dayes of famine they shall be satisfied.
20 But the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of the LORD shall be as ¶ the fat of lambs, they shall consume; into smoke shall they consume away.
21 The wicked borroweth, and payeth not again: but the righteous sheweth mercy and giveth.
22 For such as be blessed of him, shall inherit the earth; and they that be cursed of him, shall be cut off.
23 The steps of a good man are ¶ ordered by the LORD: and he delighteth in his way.
24 Though he fall, he shall not be utterly cast down: for the LORD upholdeth him with his hand.

25 I have been young and now am old: yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken, nor his seed being bread.
26 He is ¶ ever mercifull, and lendeth: and his seed is blessed.
27 Depart from evil, and do good: and dwell for evermore.
28 For the LORD loveth judgment, and forsaketh not his saints, they are preserved for ever: but the seed of the wicked shall be cut off.
29 The righteous shall inherit the land, and dwell therein for ever.
30 The mouth of the righteous speaketh wisdom, and his tongue talketh of judgement.
31 The law of his God is in his heart, none of his ¶ steps shall slide.
32 The wicked watcheth the righteous, and seeketh to slay him.
33 The LORD will not leave him in his hand, nor condemn him when he is judged.
34 Wait in the LORD, and keep his way, and he shall exalt thee to inherit the land: when the wicked are cut off, thou shalt see it.
35 I have seen the wicked in great power, and spreading himself like ¶ a green bay-tree.
26 Yet he passed away, and lo, he was not: yea, I sought him, but he could not be found.
37 Back the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of char man is peace.
38 But the transgressors shall be destroyed together, the end of the wicked shall be cut off.
39 But the salvation of the righteous is of the LORD, he is their strength in the time of trouble.
40 And the LORD shall help them, and deliver them: he shall deliver them from the wicked, and save them because they trust in him.

DAY 8.

¶ A Psalm of David to bring to remembrance.
OLORD, rebuke me not in thy wrath: neither chasten me in thy hot displeasure.
2 For thine arrows stick fast in me, and thy hand presseth me sore.
3 There is no soundnesse in my flesh, because of thine anger: neither is there any ¶ rest in my bones, because of my sinne.
4 For mine iniquities are gone over mine head: as an heavy burden they are too heavy for me.
5 My wounds stink, and are corrupt: because of my foolishnesse.
6 I am ¶ troubled, I am bowled down greatly; I go mourning all the day long.
7 For my loynes are filled with a loathsome disease: and there is no soundnesse in my flesh.
8 I am feeble and sore broken: I have roared by reason of the disquietnesse of my heart.
9 Lord, all my desire is before thee: and my groaning is not hid from thee.
10 My heart panteth, my strength faileth me: as for the light of mine eyes, it also ¶ is gone from me.
11 My lobes and my friends stand aloof from my ¶ sore: and my neighbours stand afar off.
12 They also that seek after my life, say shames for me: and they that seek my hurt, speak mischievous things, and imagine deceits all the day long.

PSAL. XXXIX:

1 Davids care of his thoughts. 4 The consideration of the brevity and vanitie of life. 7 The reverence of Gods judgements, 10 and prayer, are his bridles of impatience.

To the chief musician, even to Jeduchun, A psalm of David.

I said, I will take heed to my wayes, that I sinne not with my tongue: I will keep to my mouth with a bridle, while the wicked is before me.

2 I was dumb with silence, I held my peace, even from good, and my sorrow was stirred.

3 My heart was hot within me, while I was musing the fire burned: then I spake with my tongue.

4 LORD, make me to know mine end, and the measure of my dayes, what it is, that I may know how fraite I am.

5 Behold, thou hast made my dayes as an handbreadth, and mine age is as nothing before thee: verily every man that at his best state is altogether vanity. Glah.

6 Surely every man walketh in a vain shew: surely they are disquieted in vain: he heapech up riches, and knoweth not who shall gather them.

7 And now Lord, what wait I for? my hope is in thee.

8 Deliver me from all my transgressions, make me not the reprovch of the foolish.

9 I was dumb, I opened not my mouth; because thou didst it.

10 Remove thy stroke away from me: I am consumed by the blow of thine hand.

11 When thou with rebukes dost correct man for iniquitie, thou makest his beauty to consume away like a moth: surely every man is vanity. Glah.

12 Hear my prayer, O LORD, and give ear unto my cry, hold not thy peace at my tears: for I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner, as all my fathers were.

13 Spare me that I may recover strength, because I go hence, and be no more.

PSAL. XL.

1 The benefit of confidence in God. 6 Obedience is the best sacrifice. 11 The sense of Davids evils inflameth his prayer.

To the chief musician, A psalm of David.

I waited patiently for the LORD, and he inclined unto me, and heard my cry.

2 He brought me up also out of an horrible pit, out of the mire clay, and set my feet upon a rock, and established my goings.

3 And he hath put a new song in my mouth, even praise unto our God: many shall see it, and fear, and shall trust in the LORD.

4 Blessed is that man that maketh the LORD his trust: and respecteth not the proud, nor such as turn aside to lies.

5 O my LORD my God, are thy wonderful works which thou hast done, and thy thoughts which are to usward: if they cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee: if I would declare and speak of them, they are more then can be numbered.

6 Sacrifice and offering thou didst not desire, mine ears hast thou opened: burnt-offering and sinne-offering hast thou not required.

7 Then said I, Lo, I come: in the volume of the book it is written of me:

8 I delight to do thy will, O my God: yea, thy law is within my heart.

9 I have preached righteousness in the great congregation: lo, I have not restrained my lips, O LORD, thou knowest.

10 I have not hid thy righteousness within my heart, I have declared thy faithfulness and thy salvation: I have not concealed thy loving kindness, and thy truth, from the great congregation.

11 Withhold not thou thy tender mercies from me, O LORD: let thy loving kindness and thy truth continually preserve me.

12 For innumerable evils have compassed me about, mine iniquities have taken hold upon me, so that I am not able to look up: they are mo then that the hates of mine head, therefore mine heart is failed me.

13 Be pleased, O LORD, to deliver me: O LORD, make haste to help me.

14 Let them be ashamed and confounded together, that seek after my soul to destroy it: let them be bitten backward, and put to shame, that wish me evil.

15 Let them be desolate for a reward of their shame, that say unto me, Aha, aha.

16 Let all those that seek thee, rejoyce and be glad in thee: let such as love thy salvation, say continually, The LORD will be magnified.

17 But I am poor and needy, yet the Lord thinketh upon me: thou art my help and my deliverer, make no tarrying, O my God.

PSAL. XLI.

To the chief musician, a psalm of David.

Blessed is he that considereth the poor: the LORD will deliver him in time of trouble.

2 The LORD will preserve him, and keep him alive, and he shall be blessed upon the earth; and all thou wilt not deliver him into the will of his enemies.

3 The LORD will strengthen him upon the bed of languishing: thou wilt make all his bed in his sickness.

4 I said, LORD be mercifull unto me, heal my soul, for I have sinned against thee.

We have heard with our ears, O God, our fathers have told us what work thou didst in their dayes, in the times of old.

PSAL. XLV.

1 The majestic and grace of Christs kingdom. 10 The duty of the Church, and the benefits thereof.

To the chief musician upon Shohammim, for the sonnes of Korah, || Psalm:
A song of loves.

My heart is inditing a good matter: I speak of the things which I have made touching the king: my tongue is the pen of a ready writer.

2 Thou art fairer then the children of men: grace is poured into thy lips: therefore God hath blessed thee for ever.

3 Gird thy sword upon thy thigh, O most mighty: with thy glory and thy majesty.

4 And in thy majesty ride prosperously, because of truth and meeknesse, and righteousness: and thy right hand shall reach thee terrible things.

5 Thine arrows are sharp in the heart of the kings enemies: whereby the people fall under thee.

6 Thy thine (O God) is for ever and ever: the scepter of thy kingdom is a right scepter.

7 Thou lovest righteousness, and hatest wickednesse: therefore God, thy God hath anointed thee with the oyl of gladnesse above thy fellows.

8 All thy garments smell of myrre, and aloes, and cassia: out of the ivory palaces, whereby they have made thee glad.

9 Kings daughters were among thy honorable women: upon thy right hand did stand the queen in gold of Ophir.

10 Hearken (O daughter) and consider, and incline thine ear: forget also thine own people, and thy fathers house.

11 So shall the king greatly desire thy beauty: for he is the Lord, and worship thou him.

12 And the daughter of Tyre shall be there with a gift, even the rich among the people shall intreat thy favour.

13 The kings daughter is all glorious within: her clothing is of wrought gold.

14 She shall be brought unto the king in raiment of needle-work: the virgins her companions that follow her shall be brought unto thee.

15 With gladnesse and rejoicing shall they be brought: they shall enter into the kings palace.

16 In stead of thy fathers shall be thy children, whom thou mayest make princes in all the earth.

17 I will make thy name to be remembered in all generations: therefore shall the people praise thee for ever and ever.

To the chief musician, A psalm || for the sonnes of Korah.

O clap your hands (all ye people) shout unto God with the voyce of triumph.

2 For the Lord our most high is terrible: he is a great king over all the earth.

3 He shall subdue the people under us, and the nations under our feet.

4 He shall choose our inheritance for us, the excellency of Jacob whom he loved. Selah.

5 God is gone up with a shout, the Lord with the sound of a trumpet.

6 Sing praises to God, sing praises: sing praises unto our King, sing praises.

7 For God is the King of all the earth, sing ye praises || with understanding.

8 God reigneth over the heathen: God sitteth upon the throne of his holinesse.

9 The princes of the people are gathered together, even the people of the God of Abraham: for the shields of the earth belong unto God: he is greatly exalted.

PSAL. XLVIII.

The ornaments and priviledges of the church.

A song, and psalm || for the sonnes of Korah.

Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised in the city of our God, in the mountain of his holinesse.

2 Beautiful for situation, the joy of the whole earth is mount Zion, on the sides of the north, the city of the great King.

3 God is known in her palaces for a refuge.

4 For so, the kings were assembled, they passed by together.

5 They saw it, and so they marvelled, they were troubled, and casted away.

6 Fear took hold upon them there, and pain, as of a woman in travell.

7 Thou brakest the ships of Tarshish with an east wind.

8 As we have heard, so have we seen in the city of the Lord of hosts, in the city of our God, God will establish it for ever. Selah.

9 We have thought of thy loving kindnesse, O God, in the midst of thy temple.

10 According to thy name, O God, so is thy praise unto the ends of the earth: thy right hand is full of righteousness.

+ Heb. when the morning appeareth.

+ Heb. an high place for us.

DAY 9.

Evening prayer.

11 Or, of.

11 Or, every one that hath understanding, for the voluntary of the people are gathered unto the people of the God of Abraham. 11 Or, of.

11 Let mount Zion enjoyce, let the daughters of Iudab be glad, because of thy judgements.
 12 Walk about Zion, and go round about her: tell the towers thereof.
 13 ¶ Hark yee will her bulwarks, || consider her palaces; that ye may tell it to the generation following.
 14 For this God is our God for ever and ever: he will be our guide even unto death.

PSAL. XLIX.

1 An earnest persuasion to build the faith of resurrection, not on worldly power, but on God. 16 Worldly prosperity is not to be admired.

¶ To the chief musician. A Psalm || for the sonnes of Korab.

HEARE this all ye people, give care all ye inhabitants of the world:
 2 Both low and high, rich and poor together.
 3 My mouth shall speak of wisdom: and the meditation of my heart shall be of understanding.
 4 * I will incline mine eare to a parable; I will open my dark saying upon the harp.
 5 Wherefore should I feare in the dayes of evil, when the iniquity of my deels shall compass me about.
 6 They that trust in their wealth, and boast themselves in the multitude of their riches:
 7 None of them can by any means redeem his brother, nor give to God a ransom for him:
 8 ( For the redemption of their soul is precious, and it ceaseth for ever )
 9 That he should still live for ever, and not see corruption.
 10 For he seeth that wise men die, likewise the fool and the brutish person perish, and leave their wealth to others.
 11 Their inward thought is, has their houses shall continue for ever, and their dwelling places for ever to all generations; they call their lands after their own names.
 12 Nevertheless, man being in honour, abideth not: he is like the beasts that perish.
 13 This their way is their folly; yet their posterity shall approve their sayings. Selah.
 14 Like they they are laid in the grave, death shall feed on them; and the upright shall have dominion over them in the morning, and their beauty shall consume in the grave, from their dwelling.
 15 But God will redeem my soule from the power of the || grave: for hee shall receive mee.
 16 Be not thou afraid when one is made rich, when the glory of his house is increased.
 17 * For when hee diech, he shall carry nothing away: his glory shall not descend after him.
 18 Though hee be blessed with riches, hee shall be blessed with his soule: and men will praise thee, when thou doest well to thy self.
 19 He shall go to the generation of his fathers, they shall never see light.
 20 Man that is in honour and understandeth not, is like the beasts that perish.

PSAL. L.

1 The Majesty of God in the Church. 5 His order to gather saints. 7 The pleasure of God is not in ceremonies, 14 but in sincerity of obedience.

A Psalm || of Asaph.

THe mighty God, even the Lord hath spoken, and called cheerfully from the rising of the sun, unto the going down thereof.

2 Out of Zion the perfection of beauty, God hath shined.
 3 Our God shall come, and shall not keep silence: a fire shall devour before him, and it shall be very tempestuous round about him.
 4 He shall call to the heavens from above, and to the earth, that he may judge his people.
 5 Gather my Saints together unto me: those that have made a covenant with me by sacrifice.
 6 And the heavens shall declare his righteousness: for God is judge himself. Selah.
 7 Peace, O my people, and I will speak; O Israel, and I will testify against thee: I am God, even thy God.
 8 I will not reprove thee for thy sacrifices, or thy burnt-offerings to have been continually before me.
 9 I will take no bullock out of thy house, nor hee-goats out of thy folds.
 10 For every beast of the forest is mine, and the cattell upon a thousand hills.
 11 I know all the fowls of the mountains; and the wilde beasts of the field are of mine.
 12 If I were hungry, I would not tell thee, for the world is mine, and the fulnesse thereof.
 13 Will I eat the fleish of bulls, or drink the blood of goats?
 14 Offer unto God thanksgiving, and pay thy vow unto the most high.
 15 And call upon me in the day of trouble; I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorifie me.
 16 But unto the wicked God saith, What hast thou to do to declare my statutes, or that thou shouldst take my covenant in thy mouth?
 17 * Seeing thou hatest instruction, and callest my words behind thee.
 18 When thou sawest a thief, when thou consentedst with him, and hast been partaker with adulterers.
 19 Thou givest thy mouth to evil, and thy tongue frameth deceit.
 20 Thou stealest and speakest against thy brother; thou slanderest thine own mothers sonne.
 21 These things hast thou done, and I kept silence: thou thoughtest that I was altogether such a one as thy selfe; but I will reprove thee, and set them in order before thine eyes.
 22 Now consider this, ye that forget God, lest I tear you in pieces, and there be none to deliver.
 23 Whoso offereth praise, glorifieth me: and to him that ordereth his conversation aright, will I shew the salvation of God.

be iustified when thou speakest, and be clear when thou iudgest.

5 Behold, I was shapen in iniquity: and in sin did my mother conceive me.

6 Behold, thou desirest truth in the inward parts: and in the hidden part thou shalt make me to know wisdom.

7 Purge me with hyssope, and I shall be clean: wash me, and I shall be whiter then snow.

8 Make me to hear joy and gladnesse: that the bones which thou hast broken, may restore.

9 Hide thy face from my sins; and blot out all mine iniquities.

10 Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me.

11 Cast me not away from thy presence; and take not thy holy Spirit from me.

12 Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation: and uphold me with thy free Spirit.

13 Then will I teach transgressours thy wayes, and sinners shall be converted unto thee.

14 Deliver me from blood-guiltinesse, O God, thou God of my salvation: and my tongue shall sing aloud of thy righteousnesse.

PSAL. LII.

1 David condemning the spitefulness of Doeg, propheseth his destruction. 6 The righteous shall rejoyce at it. 8 David upon his confidence in Gods mercy, giveth thanks.

C To the chief musician Bacheil, A psalm of David, * when Doeg the Edomite came and told Saul, and laid unto him, David is come to the house of Ahimelech.

Why boastest thou thy self in mischief, O mighty man? the goodness of God endureth continually.

2 The tongue deviseth mischiefs: like a sharp razor, working deceitfully.

3 Thou lovest evil more then good: and lying rather then to speak righteousnesse. Selah.

4 Thou lovest all devouring words, || O thou deceitfull tongue.

5 God shall likewise destroy thee for ever, he shall take thee away, and pluck thee out of thy dwelling place, and root thee out of the land of the living. Selah.

6 The righteous also shall see, and fear, and shall laugh at him.

7 Lo, this is a man that made not God his strength: but trusted in the abundance of his riches, and strengthened himself in his wickednesse.

8 But I am like a green olive-tree in the house of God: I trust in the mercie of God for ever, and ever.

9 I will praise thee for ever, because thou hast done it: and I will wait on thy name, for it is good before thy saints.

PSAL. LIII.

1 David describeth the corruption of a naturall man. 4 He convinceth the wicked by the light of their own conscience. 6 He glorieth in the salvation of God.

C To the chief musician upon Mahalath, Bacheil, A Psalm of David.

The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God; corrupt are they, and have done abominable iniquity: * there is none that doth good.

2 God looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any that did understand, that did seek God.

3 Every one of them is gone back, they are altogether become filthy; there is none that doth good, no not one.

4 Have the workers of iniquity no knowledge? who eat up my people, as they eat bread: they have not called upon God.

5 There were they in great fear, where no fear was: for God hath scattered the bones of him that encampeth against thee, thou hast put them to shame, because O God hath despised them.

6 * O that the salvation of Israel were come out of Sion! when God bringeth back the captivity of his people, Jacob shall rejoyce, and Israel shall be glad.

PSAL. LIIII.

1 David complaining of the Ziphims, prayeth for salvation. 4 Upon his confidence in Gods help, he promiseth sacrifice.

C To the chief musician on Beginoth, Bacheil, A psalm of David, * when the Ziphims came and said to Saul, Doth not David hide himself with us?

Save me, O God, by thy Name, and judge me by thy strength.

2 Hear my prayer, O God: give ear to the words of my mouth.

3 For strangers are risen up against me, and oppressours seek after my soul: they have not set God before them. Selah.

4 Behold, God is mine helper: the Lord is with them that uphold my soul.

5 He shall reward evil unto mine enemies; cut them off in thy truth.

6 I will freely sacrifice unto thee; I will praise thy Name, (O Lord) for it is good.

7 For he hath delivered me out of all trouble: and mine eye hath seen his deare upon mine enemies.

PSAL. LV.

1 David in his prayer complaineth of his fearfull case.

9 He prayeth against his enemies, of whose wickednesse and treachery he complaineth. 16 He comforteth himself in Gods preservation of him, and confusion of his enemies.

C To the chief musician on Beginoth, Bacheil, A psalm of David.

Give ear to my prayer, O God: and hide not thy self from my supplication.

2 Attend unto me, and hear me: I mourn in my complaint, and make a noise,

3 Because of the voice of the enemy, because of the oppression of the wicked: for they cast iniquity upon me, and in wrath they hate me.

4 My heart is sore pained within me: and the terrors of death are fallen upon me.

5 Fearfulness and trembling are come upon me, and horror hath overwhelmed me.

6 And I said, O that I had wings like a doves for then would I flee away, and be at rest.

7 Lo, then would I wander farre off, and remain in the wilderness. Selah.

8 I would have my escape from the windy storm and tempest.

9 Destroy, O Lord, and divide their tongues: for I have seen violence and strife in the city.

10 Day and night they go about it upon the walls thereof: mischief also and sorrow are in the midst of it.

11 Wickednesse is in the midst thereof: deceit and guile depart not from her streets.

12 For it was not an enemy that reproached me, then I could have borne it; neither was it he that hated me, that did magnifie himself against me; then I would have hid my selfe from him.

13 But it was thou, O man, mine equall, my guide, and mine acquaintance.

14 We took sweet counsell together, and walked into the house of God in company.

15 Let death selle upon them, and let them go down quick into hell: for wickednesse is in their dwellings, and among them.

16 As for me, I will call upon God: and the LORD shall save me.

17 Evening and morning and at noon will I pray, and cry aloud, and he shall hear my voice.

18 He hath delivered my soul in peace from the battell that was against me: for there were many with me.

19 God shall hear and afflict them, even he that abideth of old, Selah: because they have no changes, therefore they fear not God.

20 He hath put forth his hands against such as be at peace with him: he hath broken his covenant.

21 The words of his mouth were smoother then butter, but warre was in his heart: his words were softer then oyl, yet were they drawn sword.

22 Cast thy burden upon the LORD, and he shall sustain thee: he shall never suffer the righteous to be moved.

23 But thou O God, shalt bring them down into the pit of destruction: bloody and deceitfull men shall not live out half their dayes, but I will trust in thee.

PSAL. LVI.

1 David praying to God in confidence of his word, complaineth of his enemies. 2 He professeth his confidence in Gods word, and promiseth to praise him.

To the chief musician upon Jonath-elem-rechokim, // Stebam of David, when the Philistines took him in Gath.

Be merciful unto me, O God, for man would swallow me up: he fighting daily oppresseth me.

2 Mine enemies would daily swallow me up: for they be many that fight against me, O thou most high.

3 What time I am afraid, I will trust in thee.

4 In God I will praise his word, in God I have put my trust, I will not feare what flesh can do unto me.

5 Every day they wrest my words: all their thoughts are against me for evil.

6 They gather themselves together, they hide themselves, they mark my steps, when they wait for my soul.

7 Shall they escape by iniquity? in thine anger cast down the people, O God.

8 Thou tellest my wandlings, put thou my tears into thy bottell: are they not in thy book?

9 When I cry unto thee, then shall mine enemies turn back: this I know, for God is for me.

10 In God will I praise his word: in the LORD will I praise his word.

11 In God have I put my trust: I will not be afraid what man can do unto me.

12 Thy vows are upon me, O God: I will render praises unto thee.

13 For thou hast delivered my soul from death: wilt not thou deliver my feet from falling, that I may walk before God in the light of the living?

PSAL. LVII.

1 David in prayer seeing unto God, complaineth of his dangerous case. 7 He encourageth himself to praise God.

To the chief musician // Al-taschith, Stebam of David, when he fled from Saul in the cave.

Be mercifull unto me, O God, be mercifull unto me, for my soul trusteth in thee; yea in the shadow of thy wings will I make my refuge, until these calamities be overpast.

2 I will cry unto God most high: unto God that performeth all things for me.

3 We shall send from heaven and save me // from the reproach of him that would swallow me up: Selah. God shall send forth his mercy and his truth.

4 My soul is among lions, and I lie even among them that are set on fire, even the sonnes of men, whose teeth are spears and arrows, and their tongue a sharp sword.

5 Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens, let thy glory be above all the earth.

6 They have prepared a net for my steps, my soul is bowed down: they have digged a pit before me, into the midst whereof they are fallen themselves. Selah.

7 My heart is fixed, O God, my heart is fixed: I will sing and give praise.

8 Awake up my glory, awake psaltery and harp: I myself will awake early.

9 I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people: I will sing unto thee among the nations.

10 For thy mercy is great unto the heavens, and thy truth unto the clouds.

11 Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: let thy glory be above all the earth.

PSAL. LVIII.

1 David reproveth wicked judges, 3 describeth the nature of the wicked, 6 devoteth them to Gods judgements, 10 whereto the righteous shall rejoyce.

To the chief musician // Al-taschith, Stebam of David.

Do ye indeed speak righteousnesse, O congregation: do ye judge uprightly, O ye sonnes of men?

2 Yea, in heart you work wickednesse, you weigh the violence of your hands in the earth.

3 The wicked are estranged from the wombe, they go astray, as soon as they be born, speaking lies.

4 Their poison is like the poison of a serpent; they are like the deaf // adder that stoppeth her care.

5 Which will not hearken to the voice of charmers // charming never so wisely.

PSAL. LIX.

1 David prayeth to be delivered from his enemies. 6 He complaineth of their cruelty. 8 He trusteth in God. 11 He prayeth against them. 16 He praiseth God.

To the chief musician A-tacheth, Mich-tam of David: * when Saul sent, and they watched the house to kill him.

Deliver mee from mine enemies, O my God: & defend me from them that rise up against me.

2 Deliver me from the workers of iniquity, and save me from bloody men.

3 For lo, they lie in wait for my soul; they mighte are garbed against mee; nor for my transgression, nor for my sinne, O LORD.

4 They run and prepare themselves without my fault: awake & to help me, and behold.

5 Thou therefore, O LORD God of hosts, the God of Israel, awake to visit all the breaches: be not mercifull to any wicked transgressours. Selah.

6 They return at evening: they make a noise like a dog, and go round about the city.

7 Behold, they belch out with their mouth: words are in their lips; for * who, say they, doth hear?

8 But thou, O LORD, shalt laugh at them; thou shalt have all the breath in derision.

9 Because of his strength will I wait upon thee: for God is my defence.

10 The God of my mercy shall prevent me: God shall see me see my desire upon & mine enemies.

11 Slay them not, lest my people forget: scatter them by thy power; and bring them down, O Lord our shield.

12 For the lime of their mouth, and the words of their lips, let them even be taken in their pride: and for cursing and lying which they speak.

13 Consume them in wrath, consume them, that they may not be: and let them know that God ruleth in Jacob, unto the end of the earth. Selah.

14 And at evening let them return, and let them make a noise like a dog, and go round about the city.

15 Let them wander up and down & for meat, and grudge if they be not satisfied.

16 But I will sing of thy power, yea I will sing aloud of thy mercy in the morning: for thou hast been my defence and refuge in the day of my trouble.

17 Unto thee, O my strength, will I sing: for God is my defence, and the God of my mercy.

O God, * thou hast cast us off: thou hast & scattered us, thou hast been displeas'd, & turn thy self to us again.

2 Thou hast made the earth to tremble; thou hast broken it: heal the breaches thereof, for it shaketh.

3 Thou hast shewed thy people hard things: thou hast made us to drink the wine of astonishment.

4 Thou hast given a banner to them that fear thee: that it may be displayed because of the truth. Selah.

5 * That thy beloved may be delivered: save with thy right hand, and hear me.

6 God hath spoken in his holynesse, I will rejoyce: I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.

7 Gilead is mine, and Manasse is mine, Ephraim also is the strength of mine head: Judah is my law-giver.

8 Moab is my washpot, over Edom will I cast out my shoe: Philistia, I triumph thou because of me.

9 Who will bring me into the & strong city: who will lead me into Edom?

10 Wilt thou not thou, O God, which * hadst cast us off: and thou, O God, which didst not go out with our armies?

To the chief musician upon Maginath, a psalm of David.

Hear my cry, O God, attend unto my prayer.

2 From the end of the earth will I cry unto thee, when my heart is overwhelmed: lead me to the rock that is higher then I.

3 For thou hast been a shelter for me, and a strong tower from the enemy.

4 I will abide in thy tabernacle for ever: I will trust in the covert of thy wings. Selah.

5 For thou, O God, hast heard my vows: thou hast given me the heritage of those that fear thy Name.

6 & Thou wilt prolong the kings life: and his years & as many generations.

7 We shall abide before God for ever: O prepare mercy and truth which may praise be him.

8 So will I sing praise unto thy Name for ever, that I may daily perform my vows.

PSAL. LXIII.

1 Davids thirft for God. 4 His manner of blessing God. 9 His confidence of his enemies destruction, and his own safecie.

† Heb. weaz. y.
† Heb. with-out water.

A Psalm of Davids, when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

O God, thou art my God, early will I seek thee: my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and † thirsty land, † where no water is:

2 To see thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanctuary.

3 Because thy loving kindnesse is better then life: my lips shall praise thee.

4 Thus will I blesse thee, while I live: I will lift up my hands in thy Name.

5 My soul shall be satisfied as with † marrow and fatnesse: and my mouth shall praise thee with joyfull lips:

6 When I remember thee upon my bed, and meditate on thee in the night watches.

7 Because thou hast been my help, therefore in the shadow of thy wings will I resoyce.

8 My soul followeth hard after thee: thy right hand upholdeth me.

9 But those that seek my soul to destroy it, shall go into the lower parts of the earth.

10 † They shall fall by the sword, they shall be a portion for foxes.

11 But the king shall resoyce in God, every one that sweareth by him shall glory: but the mouth of them that speak lies, shall be stopped.

† Heb. they shall make him run out like water by the hands of the sword.

PSAL. LXIII.

1 David prayeth for deliverance, complaining of his enemies. 7 He promiseth himself to see such an evident destruction of his enemies, as the righteous shall resoyce at it.

* Psal. 11. 2.

† To the chief musician, a psalm of Davids.

Hear my voyce, O God, in my prayer: pelerve my life from fear of the enemy.

2 Hide me from the secret counsel of the wicked, from the insurrection of the workers of iniquity:

3 † Who whet their tongue like a sword, and bend their bows to shoot their arrows, even bitter words.

4 That they may shoot in secret at the perfect: suddenly do they shoot at him, and fear not.

5 They encourage themselves in an evil † matter: they commaune † of laying snares privily, they say, Who shall see them?

6 They search out iniquities, if they accomplish † a diligent search: both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart is deep.

7 But God shall shoot at them with an arrow, suddenly † shall they be wounded.

8 So they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves: all that see them, shall see away.

9 And all men shall fear, and shall declare the work of God: for they shall wisely consider of his doing.

10 The righteous shall be glad in the Lord, and shall trust in him, and all the upright in heart shall glory.

† To the chief musician, A psalm and song of David.

Praise † waiteth for thee, O God, in Sion, and unto thee shall the bow be performed.

2 † Thou that hearest prayer, unto thee shall all flesh come.

3 † Iniquities prevaile against me: as for our transgressions thou shalt purge them away.

4 Blessed is the man whom thou chusest and causest to approach unto thee, that he may dwell in thy courts: we shall be satisfied with the goodnesse of thy house, even of thy holy temple.

5 By terrible things in righteousness, wilt thou answer us, O God of our salvation: who art the confidence of all the ends of the earth, and of them that are afarre off upon the sea.

6 Which by his strength setteth fast the mountains, being girded with power.

7 Which stilleth the noise of the seas, the noise of their waves, and the tumult of the people.

8 They also that dwell in the uttermost parts are afraid at thy tokens: thou makest the out-goings of the morning and evening † to resoyce.

9 Thou visitest the earth and † waterest it: thou greatly enrichest it with the river of God which is full of water: thou preparest them corn, when thou hast so provided for it.

10 Thou waterest the ridges thereof abundantly: thou sellest the furrows thereof: † thou makest it soft with snowes, thou blessest the springing thereof.

11 Thou crownest † the year with thy goodnesse, and thy paths drop fatnesse.

12 They drop upon the pastures of the wilderness: and the little hills † resoyce on every side.

13 The pastures are clothed with flocks: the valleys also are covered over with corn: they shout for joy, they also sing.

1 David exorneth to praise God, 5 to observe his great works, 8 to blesse him for his gracious benefis. 12 He voweth for himself religious service to God. 16 He declareth Gods special goodnesse to himself.

† To the chief musician, A song or psalm.

M<sup>A</sup>ke a joyfull noise unto God, † all ye lands.

† Heb. all the earth.

2 Sing forth the honour of his Name: make his praise glorious.

3 Say unto God, How terrible are thou in thy works: through the greatnesse of thy power shall thine enemies || t submit themselves unto thee.

4 All the earth shall worship thee, and shall sing unto thee, they shall sing to thy Name. Selah.

5 Come and see the works of God: he is terrible in his doing to the children of men.

6 He turned the sea into dry land: they went through the flood on foot, there did we rejoyce in him.

7 He ruleth by his power for ever, his eyes behold the nations: let not the rebellious exalt themselves. Selah.

8 O blesse our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard.

9 Which t holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved.

10 For thou, O God, hast proved us: thou hast tried us, as silver is tried.

11 Thou broughtest us into the net, thou laidst affliction upon our loyns.

12 Thou hast caused men to ride over our heads, we went through fire and through water: but thou broughtest us out into t a wealthy place.

13 I will go into thy house, with burnt offerings: I will pay thee thy vows.

14 Which my lips have t uttered, and my mouth hath spoken when I was in trouble.

15 I will offer unto thee burnt-sacrifices of t facklings, with the incense of rammes; I will offer bullocks with goats. Selah.

16 Come and hear: all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my soul.

17 I cried unto him with my mouth, and he was extolled with my tongue.

18 If I regard iniquitie in my heart: the Lord will not hear me.

19 But verily God hath heard me: he hath attended to the voice of my prayer.

20 Blessed be God, which hath not turned away my prayer, nor his mercy from me.

1 A prayer for the enlargement of Gods kingdom, 3 To the joy of the people, 6 and the increase of Gods blessings.

To the chief musician on Regimoth, A psalm or song.

God be mercifull unto us, and blesse us, and cause his face to shine t upon us. Selah.

2 That thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations.

3 Let the people praise thee, O God; let all the people praise thee.

4 O let the nations be glad and sing for joy: for thou shalt judge the people righteously, and t govern the nations upon earth. Selah.

5 Let the people praise thee, O God, let all the people praise thee.

6 Then shall the earth yield her increase; and God, even our own God shall blesse us.

7 God shall blesse us, and all the ends of the earth shall fear him.

PSAL. LXVIII.

1 A prayer at the removing of the ark. 4 An exhortation to praise God for his mercies, 7 for his care of the church, 19 for his great works.

To the chief musician, A psalm or song of David.

Let God arise, let his enemies be scattered: let them also that hate him, flee t before him.

2 As smoke is driven away, so drive them away: as wax melteth before the fire, so let the wicked perish at the presence of God.

3 But let the righteous be glad: let them rejoyce before God, yea let them t exceedingly rejoyce.

4 Sing unto God, sing praises to his Name: extoll him that rideth upon the heavens by his name JAH, and rejoyce before him.

5 A father of the fatherless, and a sudge of the widows is God in his holy habitation.

6 God setteth the solitary t in families: he bringeth out those which are bound with chains, but the rebellious dwell in a dry land.

7 O God, when thou wentest forth before thy people, when thou didst march thow the wilderness. Selah.

8 The earth shook, the heavens also dropped at the presence of God, even Sinai it self was moved at the presence of God, the God of Israel.

9 Thou, O God, didst t send a plentiful rain, whereby thou didst t confirm thine inheritance, when it was weary.

10 Thy congregation hath dwelt therein: thou, O God, hast prepared of thy goodness for the poor.

11 The Lord gave the word, great was the t company of those that published it.

12 Kings of armies t did flee apace: and the that carried at home, divided the spoil.

13 Though ye have lien among the pots, yet shall ye be as the wings of a dove covered with silver, and her feathers with yellow gold.

14 When the Almighty scattered kings || in it, it was white as snow in Salmon.

15 The hill of God is as the hill of Bashan: an high hill as the hill of Bashan.

16 Why leav ye, ye high hills? this is the hill which God desireth to dwell in, yea the Lord will dwell in it for ever.

17 The chariots of God are twenty thousand, || even thousands of angels: the Lord is among them as in Sinai, in the holy place.

18 Thou hast ascended on high, thou hast led captivity captive: thou hast received gifts t for men; yea, for the rebellious also, that the Lord God might dwell among them.

19 Blessed be the Lord, who daily loadeth us with benefits, even the God of our salvation. Selah.

20 He that is our God, is the God of salvation: and unto God the Lord belong the issues from death.

21 But God shall wound the head of his enemies: and the hairy scalp of such a one as goeth on still in his trespasses.

22 The Lord said, I will bring again from Bashan, I will bring my people again from the depths of the sea.

23 That thy foot may be || dipped in the blood of thine enemies, and the tongue of thy dogs in the same.

24 They have seen thy goings, O God, even the goings of my God, my King, in the sanctuary.

25 The lingers went before, the players on instruments followed after; amongst them were the damsele playing with timbrels.

26 Blesse ye God in the congregations, even the Lord, || from the fountain of Israel.

PSAL. LXIX.

1 David complaineth of his affliction. 13 He prayeth for deliverance. 23 He doeth his enemies to destruction. 30 He praiseth God with thanksgiving.

To the chief musician upon Salsannahim, A Psalm of David.

Save me, O God, for the waters are come in unto my soule.

2 I sink in // deep mire, where there is no standing: I am come into // deep waters, where the floods over flow me.

3 I am weary of my crying, my throat is dried: mine eyes fail while I wait for my God.

4 They that hate mee without a cause, are more then the hairs of mine head: they that would destroy me being mine enemies wrongfully, are mighty: then I restored that which I took not away.

5 O God, thou knowest my foolishnesse; and my // sinnes are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that wait on thee, O Lord God of hosts, be ashamed for my sake: let not those that seek thee, be confounded for my sake, O God of Israel.

7 Because for thy sake I have borne reproach: shame hath covered my face.

8 I am become a stranger unto my brethren, and an alien unto my mothers children.

9 For the zeal of thine house hath eaten me up: // and the reproaches of them that reproached thee, are fallen upon me.

10 When I wept and chafened my soul with fasting, that was to my reproach.

11 I made sackcloth also my garment: and I became a proverb to them.

12 They that sit in the gate, speak against me; and I was the song of the // drunkards.

13 But as for mee, my prayer is unto thee, O Lord, in an acceptable time: O God, in the multitude of thy mercy hear me, in the truth of thy salvation.

14 Deliver me out of the mire, and let me not sink: let me be delivered from them that hate me, and out of the deep waters.

15 Let not the water-flood overflow me, neither let the deep swallow me up, and let not the pit shut her mouth upon me.

16 Hear me, O Lord, for thy loving kindness is good: turn unto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

17 And hide not thy face from thy servant, for I am in trouble: // bear me speedily.

18 Draw nigh unto my soul, and redeem it: deliver me because of mine enemies.

19 Thou hast known my reproach, and my shame, and my dishonour: mine adversaries are all before thee.

20 Reproach hath broken my heart, and I am full of heavinesse: and I looked for some // to take pittie, but there was none; and for comforters, but I found none.

21 They gave me also gall for my meat, // and in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink.

22 Let their table become a snare before them; and that which should have been for their welfare, let it become a trap.

23 Let their eyes be darkened that they see not, and make their loins continually to shake.

24 Pour out thine indignation upon them, and let thy wrathfull anger take hold of them.

25 Let their habitation be desolate, and // let none dwell in their tents.

26 For they persecute him whom thou hast smitten, and they talk to the grief of // those whom thou hast wounded.

27 Add // iniquity to their iniquity: and let them not come into thy righteousness.

28 Let them be blotted out of the book of the living, and not be written with the righteous.

29 But I am poor, and sorrowfull: let thy salvation O God // let me up on high.

30 I will praise the name of God with a song, and will magnifie him with thanksgiving.

31 This also shall please the Lord better then an ox or bullock that hath horns and hoofs.

32 The // humble shall see this, and be glad: and your heart shall live that seek God.

33 For the Lord heareth the poor, and // despiseth not his prisoners.

34 Let the heaven and earth praise him, the seas, and every thing that // moveth therein.

35 For God will have Sion, and will build the cities of Judah: that they may dwell there, and have it in possession.

36 Hee seed also of his servants shall inherit it: and they that love his name shall dwell therein.

PSAL. LXX.

1 David solliciteh God to the speedy destruction of the wicked, and preservation of the godly.

To the chief Musician, A psalm of David to bring to remembrance.

Make haste, O God, to deliver mee, make haste // to help me, O Lord.

2 Let them be ashamed and confounded that seek after my soul: let them be turned backward, and put to confusion, that desire my hurt.

3 Let them be turned back for a reward of their shame, that say, Aha, aha.

4 Let all those that seek thee, rejoyce, and be glad in thee: and let such as love thy salvation say continually, Let God be magnified.

5 But I am poor and needy, make haste unto me, O God: thou art my help and my deliverer; O Lord make no tarrying.

3 † Be thou my strong habitation, wherunto I may continually resort: thou hast given commandment to save me, for thou art my rock and my fortress.

4 Deliver me, O my God, out of the hand of the wicked, out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruell man.

5 For thou art my hope, O Lord God: thou art my crull from my youth.

6 By thee have I been holden up from the wombe: thou art he that took mee out of my mothers bowels, my praise shall be continually of thee.

7 I am as a wonder unto many, but thou art my strong refuge.

8 Let my mouth be filled with thy prayse, and with thy honour all the day.

9 Cast me not off in the time of old age, forsake me not when my strength faileth.

10 For mine enemies speak against me: and they that † lay wait for my soule, take counsell together, 11 Saying, God hath forsaken him: persecute and take him, for there is none to deliver him.

12 O God, be not farr from me: O my God, make haste for my help.

13 Let them be confounded, and confamed, that are adversaries to my soule: let them be covered with reproach and dishonour, that seek my hurt.

14 But I will hope continually, and will yet praise thee more and more.

15 My mouth shall shew forth thy righteousness, and thy saluation all the day: for I know not the numbers thereof.

16 I will go in the strength of the Lord God: I will make mention of thy righteousness, even of thine onely.

17 O God, thou hast taught me from my youth: and hitherto have I declared thy wonderous works.

18 Now also † when I am old and gray-headed, O God, forsake me not: untill I have shewed † thy strength unto this generation, and thy power to every one that is to come.

19 Thy righteousness also, O God, is very big, who hast done great things: O God, who is like unto thee?

20 Thou which hast shewed me great and sore troubles, shalt quicken me again, and shalt bring me up again from the depths of the earth.

21 Thou shalt encrease my greatness, and comfort me on every side.

22 I will also praise thee † with the psaltery, even thy truth, O my God: unto thee will I sing with the harp, O thou holy One of Israel.

23 My lips shall greatly rejoyce when I sing unto thee: and my soul which thou hast redeemed.

24 My tongue also shall talk of thy righteousness all the day long: for they are confounded, for they are brought unto shame, that seek my hurt.

1 The Prophet prevailing in a temptation, 2 sheweth the occasion thereof, the prosperitie of the wicked. 13 The wound given thereby, diffidence. 15 The victory over it; knowledge of Gods purpose in destroying of the wicked, and sustaining the righteous.

† A Psalm of Asaph.

How true God is good to Israel, even to such as are † of a clean heart.

2 But as for me, my feet were almost gone: my steps had well nigh slipped.

3 For I was envious at the foolish, when I saw the prosperitie of the wicked.

4 For there are no bands in their death: but their strength is † firm.

13 Verily, I have cleansed my heart in vain, and washed my hands in innocency.

 15 If I say, I will speak thus: behold, I should offend against the generation of thy children.
 16 When I thought to know this, it was too painful for me.
 17 An ill I went into the sanctuary of God; then understood I their end.
 18 Surely thou didst set them in slippery places: thou caldest them down into destruction.
 19 How are they brought into desolation, as in a moment: they are utterly consumed with terrors.
 20 As a dream when one awaketh; so, O Lord, when thou awaketh; thou shalt despise their image.
 21 Thus my heart was grieved, and I was plucked in my reins.
 22 So foolish was I, and ignorant: I was as a beast before thee.
 23 Nevertheless, I am continually with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand.
 24 Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and afterward receive me to glory.
 25 Whom have I in heaven but thee? and there is none upon earth that I desire besides thee.
 26 My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever.
 27 For lo, they that are farre from thee, shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that go a whoring from thee.
 28 But it is good for me to draw near to God: I have put my trust in the Lord God: that I may declare all thy works.

PSAL. LXXIII.

I The prophet complaineth of the desolation of the sanctuary. 10 He moveth God to help, in consideration of his power, 18 of his reproachfull enemies, of his children, and of his covenant.

Ch Psalm of Asaph.

O God, why hast thou cast us off for ever? why doest thine anger smoke against the sheep of thy pasture?
 2 Remember thy congregation which thou hast purchased of old: the rod of thine inheritance which thou hast redeemed, this mount Zion wherein thou hast dwelt.
 3 Lift up thy feet unto the perpetual desolations: even all that the enemy hath done wickedly in the sanctuary.
 4 Thine enemies roare in the midst of thy congregations: they set up their ensignes for signs.
 5 A man was famous according as he had lifted up axes upon the thick trees.
 6 But now they break down the carved work thereof at once, with axes and hammers.
 7 They have cast fire into the sanctuary, they have defiled by casting down the dwelling place of thy name to the ground.
 8 They said in their hearts, Let us destroy them together: they have burnt up all the synagogues of God in the land.
 9 Cleve not our signers, there is no more any prophet, neither is there among us any that knoweth how long.
 10 O God, how long shall the adversary reproach? shall the enemy blaspheme thy Name for ever?
 11 Why with a wail thou thy hand, even thy right hand? pluck it out of thy bosom.

12 For God is my King of old, working salvation in the midst of the earth.
 13 Thou didst divide the sea by thy strength: thou brakest the heads of the dragons in the waters.
 14 Thou brakest the heads of Leviathan in pieces, and gavest him to be meat to the people inhabiting the wilderness.
 15 Thou didst cleave the fountain and the flood: thou burstest up mighty rivers.
 16 The day is thine, the night also is thine: thou hast prepared the light and the sunne.
 17 Thou hast set all the borders of the earth: thou hast made summer and winter.
 18 Remember this, that the enemy hath reproached, O Lord, and that the foolish people have blasphemed thy Name.
 19 O deliver not the foule of the turtle-dove into the multitude of the wicked, forget not the congregation of thy poore for ever.
 20 Have respect unto the covenant: for the dark places of the earth are full of the habitations of cruelty.
 21 O let not the oppressed return ashamed: let the poore and needy praise thy Name.
 22 Arise, O God, plead thine own cause: remember how the foolish man reproacheth thee daily.
 23 Forget not the voice of thine enemies: the tumult of those that rise up against thee, increase continually.

PSAL. LXXV.

1 The prophet praiseth God. 2 He promiseth to judge uprightly. 4 He rebuketh the proud by consideration of Gods providence. 9 He praiseth God, and promiseth to execute justice.

Unto the chief musician A-tacheth, A psalm or song of Asaph.
 Unto thee, O God, do we give thanks, unto thee do we give thanks: for that thy name is near, thy wondrous works declare.
 2 When I shall receive the congregation, I will judge uprightly.
 3 The earth and all the inhabitants thereof are dissolved: I bear up the pillars of it. Setab.
 4 I said unto the fools, Deal not foolishly; and to the wicked, Lift not up the horn.
 5 Lie not up your horn on high: speak not with a stiff neck.
 6 For promotion cometh neither from the east, nor from the west, nor from the south.
 7 But God is the judge: he putteth down one, and setteth up another.
 8 For in the hand of the Lord there is a cup, and the wine is red: it is full of mixture, and he ponereth out of the same: but the dregs thereof all the wicked of the earth shall wring them out, and drink them.
 9 But I will declare for ever: I will sing praises to the God of Jacob.
 10 All the horns of the wicked also will I cut off; but the horns of the righteous shall be exalted.

 11 I will remember the works of the LORD: surely I will remember thy wonders of old.
 12 I will meditate also of all thy work, and talk of thy doings.
 13 Thy way, O God, is in the sanctuary: who is so great a God as our God?
 14 Thou art the God that doest wonders; thou hast declared thy strength among the people.

P S A L. LXXVIII.

1 And exhortation both to learn and to preach the law of God: 9 The story of Gods wrath against the incredulous and disobedient. 67 The Israelites being rejected, God chose Judah, Sion, and David.

C V Batchill of Asaph.

Give ear, O my 'people, to my law: encline your ears to the words of my mouth.
 2 * I will open my mouth in a parable: I will utter dark sayings of old:
 3 Which we have heard and known: and our fathers have told us.
 4 We will not hide them from their children, shewing it to the generation to come, the praises of the LORD: and his strength, and his wonderfull works that he hath done.
 5 For he established a testimony in Jacob, and appointed a law in Israel which he commanded our fathers: * that they should make them known to their children:
 6 That the generation to come might know them, even the children which should be born: who should arise and declare them to their children.
 7 That they might set their hope in God, and not forget the works of God: but keep his commandments.
 8 And might not be as their fathers, a stubborn and rebellious generation, a generation † that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit was not steadfast with God.
 9 The children of Ephraim being armed and † carrying bows, turned back in the day of battell.
 10 They kept not the covenant of God: and refused to walke in his law:
 11 And forgot his works: and his wonders that he had shewed them.
 12 Marvellous things did he in the sight of their fathers: in the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.
 13 * He divided the sea, and caused them to passe through: and he made the waters to stand as an heap.
 14 * In the day time also he led them with a cloud: and all the night with a light of fire.
 15 * He clave the rocks in the wilderness: and gave them drink as out of the great depths.
 16 He brought streams also out of the rock, and caused waters to runne down like rivers.
 17 And they sinned yet more against him: by provoking the most High in the wilderness.
 18 And they tempted God in their heart: by asking meat for their lust.
 19 * Yea, they spake against God: they said, Can God † furnish a table in the wilderness?
 20 * Behold, he smote the rock that the waters gushed out, and the streams overflowed; can he give bread also? can he provide flesh for his people?
 21 Therefore the LORD heard this, and was wroth, so a fire was kindled against Jacob, and anger also came up against Israel:
 22 Because they beleevd not in God: and trusted not in his salvation:
 23 Though he had commanded the clouds from above: and opened the doors of heaven:
 24 * And had rained down manna upon them to eat, and had given them of the corn of heaven:
 25 * Man did eat angels food: he sent them meat to the full.
 26 He caused an east-wind † to blow in the heaven: and by his power he brought in the south-wind.

27 He rained flesh also upon them as dust: and feathered towels like as the sand of sea.
 28 And he let it fall in the midst of their camp, round about their habitations.
 29 So they did eat, and were well filled: for he gave them their own desire.
 30 They were not estranged from their lust: but while their meat was yet in their mouths, 31 The wrath of God came upon them, and slew the fattest of them, and smote down the chosen men of Israel.
 32 For all this they sinned still: and believed not for his wonderful works.
 33 Therefore their days did he consume in vanitie, and their yeers in trouble.
 34 When he slew them, then they sought him: and they returned and enquired early after God.
 35 And they remembered that God was their rock: and the high God their redeemer.
 36 Neverthelesse, they did flatter him with their mouth: and they lyed unto him with their tongues.
 37 For their heart was not right with him: neither were they stedfast in his covenant.
 38 But he being full of compassion, forgave their iniquity, and destroyed them not; yea, many a time turned he his anger away, and did not stir up all his wrath.
 39 For he remembered that they were but flesh; a wind that passeth away, and cometh not again.
 40 How oft did they provoke him in the wilderness: and grieve him in the desert?
 41 Yea, they turned back and tempted God: and limited the holy One of Israel.
 42 They remembered not his hand: nor the day when he delivered them from the enemy.
 43 How he had wrought his signes in Egypt: and his wonders in the field of Zoan:
 44 And had turned their rivers into blood: and their floods that they could not drink.
 45 He sent divers sorts of flies among them, which devoured them: and frogs which destroyed them.
 46 He gave also their increase unto the caterpillar: and their labour unto the locust.
 47 He destroyed their vines with hail: and their sycamore trees with frost.
 48 He gave up their cattell also to the hail: and their flocks to hot thunderbolts.
 49 He cast upon them the fiercenesse of his anger, wrath and indignation and trouble, by sending evil angels among them.
 50 He made a way to his anger, he spared not their soul from death, but gave their life over to the pestilence.
 51 And smote all the first-born in Egypt: the chief of their strength in the tabernacles of Ham:
 52 But made his own people to go forth like sheep: and guided them in the wilderness like a flock.
 53 And he led them on safely; so that they feared not: but the sea overthrew their enemies.
 54 And he brought them to the border of his sanctuary: even to this mountain, which his right hand had purchased.
 55 He cast out the heathen also before them, and divided them an inheritance by line: and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.
 56 Yet they tempted and provoked the most high God, and kept not his testimonies:
 57 But turned back and dealt unfaithfully like their fathers: they were turned aside like a deceitfull bow.
 58 For they provoked him to anger with their high places, and moved him to jealousy with their graven images.

 59 When God heard this, he was wroth, and greatly abhorred Israel:
 60 So that he looked the tabernacle of Shiloh, the tent which he placed among men:
 61 And delivered his strength into captivity, and his glory into the enemies hand.
 62 He gave his people over also unto the sword: and was wroth with his inheritance.
 63 The fire consumed their young men: and their maidens were not given to marriage.
 64 Their priests fell by the sword: and their widows made no lamentation.
 65 Then the Lord awaked as one out of sleep: and like a mighty man that shouteth by reason of wine.
 66 And he smote the enemies in the hinder parts: he put them to a perpetual reproach.
 67 Moreover, he retained the tabernacle of Joseph: and chose not the tribe of Ephraim.
 68 But chose the tribe of Judah: the mount Zion which he loved.
 69 And he built his sanctuary like high palaces: like the earth which he hath established for ever.
 70 He chose David also his servant, and took him from the sheep-folds:
 71 From following the ewes great with young, he brought him to feed Jacob his people, and Israel his inheritance.
 72 So he fed them according to the integrity of his heart: and guided them by the skillfulness of his hands.

PSAL. LXXIX.

The psalmist complaineth of the desolation of Jerusalem. 8 He prayeth for deliverance, 13 and promisseth thankfulness.

A Psalm of Asaph.

God, the heathen are come into thine inheritance, thy holy temple have they desiled: they have laid Jerusalem on heaps.
 2 The dead bodies of thy servants have they given to be meat unto the fowls of the heaven: the flesh of thy saints unto the beasts of the earth.
 3 Their blood have they shed like water round about Jerusalem: and there was none to bury them.
 4 We are become a reproach to our neighbours: a scorn and derision to them that are round about us.
 5 How long Lord, wilt thou be angry for ever: shall thy jealousy burn like fire?
 6 Pour out thy wrath upon the heathen that have not known thee, and upon the kingdoms that have not called upon thy Name.
 7 For they have devoured Jacob, and laid waste his dwelling place.
 8 Remember not against us former iniquities: let thy tender mercies speedily prevent us: for we are brought very low.
 9 Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of thy Name, and deliver us, and purge away our sinnes for thy Names sake.
 10 Wherefore should the heathen say, Where is their God? let him be known among the heathen in our sight by the revenging of the blood of thy servants which is shed.
 11 Let the sighing of the prisoner come before thee, according to the greatness of thy power: preserve thou those that are appointed to die.
 12 And render unto our neighbours seven-fold into their bosome, the reproach wherewith they have reproached thee, O Lord.

1 The psalmist in his prayer complaineth of the miseries of the church. 8 Gods former favours are turned into judgements. 14 He prayeth for deliverance.

† To the chief musician upon Shoshannim-Couth, A Psalm † of Asaph.

Give ear, O Shepherd of Israel, thou that leadest Joseph like a flock, thou that dwellest between the eberubims, shine forth.

2 Before Ephraim, and Benjamin, and Manasse, stir up thy strength, and † come and save us.

3 Turn us again, O God: and cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

4 O LORD God of hosts, how long † wilt thou be angry against the prayer of thy people?

5 Thou feedest them with the bread of tears: and givest them tears to drink in great measure.

6 Thou makest us a strife unto our neighbours: and our enemies laugh among themselves.

7 Turn us again, O God of hosts, and cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

8 Thou hast brought a vine out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it.

9 Thou preparedst room before it, and didst cause it to take deep root, and it filled the land.

10 The hills were covered with the shadow of it, and the boughs thereof were like † the goodly cedars.

11 She sent out her boughs unto the sea, and her branches unto the river.

12 Why hast thou then broken down her hedges, so that all they which passe by the way do pluck her?

13 The boar out of the wood doth waste it: and the wild beast of the field doth devour it.

14 Return, we beseech thee, O God of hosts: look down from heaven behold and visit this vine:

15 And the vineyard which thy right hand hath planted: and the branch that thou madest strong for thy self.

16 It is burnt with fire, it is cut down: they perish at the rebuke of thy countenance.

17 Let thy hand be upon the man of thy right hand: upon the sonne of man whom thou madest strong for thy self.

18 So will not we go back from thee: quicken us, and we will call upon thy Name.

19 Turn us again, O LORD God of hosts, cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

1 The prophet looking for the communion of the sanctuary, 4 sheweth how blessed they are that dwell therein. 8 He prayeth to be restored unto it.

To the chief musician upon Gitteth, A psalm || for the sons of Kohath.

How amiable are thy tabernacles, O LORD of hosts!

2 My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the LORD: my heart and my flesh cryeth out for the living God.

3 Yea, the sparrow hath found an house, and the swallow a nest for her self: where she may lay her young, even thine altars, O LORD of hosts, my King, and my God.

4 Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be still praising thee. Selah.

5 Blessed is the man whose strength is in thee: in whose heart are the wayes of them.

6 Who passing throught the valley || of Baca, make it a well: the rain also filled the pools.

8 O LORD God of hosts, hear my prayer: give ear, O God of Jacob. Selah.

9 Behold, O God our shield, and look upon the face of thine anointed.

10 For a day in thy courts, is better then a thousand: for I had rather be a doo-keeper in the house of my God, then to dwell in the tents of wickednesse.

11 For the LORD God is a sun and shield: the LORD will give grace and glory: no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly.

12 O LORD of hosts, * blessed is the man that trusteth in thee.

1 The Psalmist out of the experience of former mercie, prayeth for the continuance thereof. 8 He promisseth to wait thereon, out of confidence of Gods goodnesse.

To the chief musician, A psalm || for the sons of Kohath.

LORD, thou hast been || favourable unto thy Jacob: thou hast brought back the captivitie of Jacob.

2 Thou hast forgiven the iniquity of thy people, thou hast covered all their sinne. Selah.

3 Thou hast taken away all thy wrath: thou hast turned thy self from the fiercenesse of thine anger.

4 Turn us, O God of our salvation, and cause thine anger towards us to cease.

5 Wilt thou be angry with us for ever? wilt thou draw out thine anger to all generations?

6 Wilt thou not revive us again: that thy people may rejoice in thee?

7 Shew us thy mercy, O LORD, and grant us thy salvation.

8 I will hear what God the LORD will speak: for he will speak peace unto his people, and to his saints: but let them not turn again to folly.

9 Surely his salvation is nigh them that fear him: that glory may dwell in our land.

10 Mercy and truth are met together: righteousness and peace have kissed each other.

11 Truth shall spring out of the earth: and righteousness shall look down from heaven.

12 Yea, the LORD shall give that which is good: and our land shall yield her increase.

13 Righteousnesse shall go before him: and shall set us in the way of his steps.

1 David strengtheneth his prayer by the conscience of his religion, 5 by the goodnesse and power of God, 11 He desireth the continuance of former grace. 14 Complaining of the proud, he craveth some token of Gods goodnesse.

|| A prayer of David.
Bow down thine ear, O LORD, hear me: for I am poor and needy.

2 Preserve my soul, for I am || holy: O thou my God, save thy servant that trusteth in thee.

3 Be mercifull unto me, O Lord: for I cry unto thee || daily.

4 Rejoyce the soul of thy servant: for unto thee (O LORD) do I lift up my soul.

5 * For thou LORD art good, and ready to forgive: and plenteous in mercie unto all them that call upon thee.

6 Give ear, O LORD unto my prayer: and attend to the voice of my supplications.

7 In the day of my trouble I will call upon thee: for thou wilt answer me.

8 Among the gods there is none like unto thee (O LORD) * neither are there any works like unto thy works.

9 All nations whom thou hast made shall come and worship before thee, O Lord: and shall glorifie thy Name.

10 For thou art great and doest wondrous things: * thou art God alone.

11 * Teach me thy way, O LORD, I will walk in thy truth: unite my heart to fear thy Name.

12 I will praise thee, O LORD my God with all my heart: and I will glorifie thy Name for evermore.

13 For great is thy mercie toward me: and thou hast delivered my soul from the lowest || hell.

14 O God, the proud are risen against me, and the assemblies of || violent men have sought after my soul: and have not set thee before them.

15 * But thou, O LORD, art a God full of compassion, and gracious: long-suffering, and plenteous in mercie and truth.

16 O turn unto me, and have mercy upon me, give thy strength unto thy servant: and save the soule of thine handmaid.

17 Shew me a token for good, that they which hate me may see it, and be ashamed: because thou, O LORD, hast holpen me, and comforted me.

1 The nature and glory of the Church. 4 The increase, honour, and comfort of the members thereof.

C A psalm or song // for the sonnes of Korah.

His foundation is in the holy mountains. 2 The LORD loveth the gates of Zion, more then all the dwellings of Jacob.

3 Glorious things are spoken of thee, O city of God. Selah.

4 I will make mention of Rahab, and Babylon, to them that know me; behold, Philistia, and Tyre, with Ethiopia: this man was born there.

5 And of Zion it shall be said, This and that man was born in her: and the highest himself shall establish her.

6 The LORD shall count when he visiteth up the people: that this man was born there. Selah.

7 As well the fingers, as the players on instruments shall be there: all my springs are in thee.

PSAL. LXXXVIII.

A prayer containing a grievous complaint.

C A song or psalm // for the sonnes of Korah, to the chief musician upon Mahalath Lemnoth, // Maschil of Heman the Ezrahite.

O LORD God of my salvation, I have cryed day and night before thee.

2 Let my prayer come before thee: incline thine ear unto my cry.

3 For my soul is full of troubles: and my life draweth nigh unto the grave.

4 I am counted with them that go down into the pit: I am as a man that hath no strength.

5 Free among the dead, like the slain that lie in the grave, whom thou rememberest no more: and they are cut off // from thy hand.

6 Thou hast laid me in the lowest pits, in darkness, in the deeps.

7 Thy wrath lieth hard upon me: and thou hast afflicted me with all thy waves. Selah.

8 Thou hast put away mine acquaintance far from me: thou hast made me an abomination unto them: I am shut up, and I cannot come forth.

9 Mine eye mourneth by reason of affliction, LORD, I have called daily upon thee, I have stretched out my hands unto thee.

10 Tell thou shew wonders to the dead: shall the dead arise and praise thee? Selah.

11 Shall thy loving kinnesse be declared in the grave: or thy faithfulness in destruction?

12 Shall thy wonders be known in the dark: and thy righteousness in the land of forgetfulness?

13 But unto thee have I cryed, O LORD, and in the morning shall my prayer prevent thee.

14 LORD, why castest thou off my soul? why hidest thou thy face from me?

15 I am afflicted and ready to die, from my youth up: while I suffer thy terrors, I am distracted.

16 Thy fierce wrath goeth over me: thy terrors have cut me off.

17 They came round about me // daily like water: they compassed me about together.

18 Lover and friend hast thou put far from me: and mine acquaintance into darkness.

PSAL. LXXXIX.

1 The psalmist praiseth God for his covenant, 5 for his wonderfull power, 15 for the care of his church, 19 for his favour to the kingdom of David. 38 Then complaining of contrary events, 46 he exhorteth, prayeth, and bleiseth God.

C Maschil of Ethan the Ezrahite.

I Will sing of the mercies of the LORD for ever: with my mouth will I make known thy faithfulness to all generations.

2 For I have said, Mercy shall be built up for ever: thy faithfulness shalt thou establish in the very heavens.

3 I have made a covenant with my chosen: I have sworn unto David my servant.

4 Thy seed will I establish for ever: and build up thy throne to all generations. Selah.

5 And the heavens shall praise thy wonders, O LORD: thy faithfulness also in the congregation of the saints.

6 For who in the heaven can be compared unto the LORD? who among the sonnes of the mighty can be likened unto the LORD?

7 God is greatly to be feared in the assembly of the saints: and to be had in reverence of all them that are about him.

8 O LORD God of hosts, who is a strong LORD like unto thee? or to thy faithfulness round about thee?

9 Thou rulest the raging of the sea: when the waves thereof arise, thou stillest them.

10 Thou hast broken // Rahab in pieces, as one that is slain: thou hast scattered thine enemies with thy strong arm.

11 * The heavens are thine, the earth also is thine: as for the world, and the fulness thereof, thou hast founded them.

12 The north and the south thou hast created them: Tabor and Hermon shall repose in thy name.

13 Thou hast // a mighty arm: strong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand.

14 Justice and judgement are the // habitation of thy throne: mercy and truth shall go before thy face.

15 Blessed is the people that know the // joyfull sound: they shall walk, O LORD, in the light of thy countenance.

16 In thy name shall they repose all the day: and in the righteousness shall they be exalted.

17 For thou art the glory of their strength: and in thy favour our horn shall be exalted.

18 For // the LORD is our defence: and the holy one of Israel our king.

19 Then thou speakest in vision to thy holy One, and saidst, I have laid help upon one that is mighty: I have exalted one chosen out of the people.

20 * I have found David my servant: with my holy oil have I anointed him.

21 With whom my hand shall be established: mine arm also shall strengthen him.

22 The enemy shall not exact upon him: nor the sonne of wickednesse afflict him.

23 And I will beat down his foes before his face: and plague them that hate him.

24 But my faithfulness and my mercy shall be with him: and in my name shall his horn be exalted.

25 I will set his hand also in the sea: and his right hand in the rivers.

26 He shall cry unto me, Thou art my father: my God, and the rock of my salvation.

27 Also I will make him my first-born: higher then the kings of the earth.

28 By mercy will I keep for him for evermore: and my covenant shall stand fast with him.

29 His seed also will I make to endure for ever: and his throne as the dayes of heaven.

30 If his children forsake my law: and walk not in my judgements:

31 If they break my statutes, and keep not my commandments:

32 Then will I visit their transgression with the rod, and will inquitte with stripes.

33 Nevertheless, my loving kindness shall not utterly take from him: nor suffer my faithfulness to fall.

34 By covenant will I not break: nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.

35 Once have I sworn by my holiness, that I will not lie unto David.

36 His seed shall endure for ever: and his throne as the sunne before me.

37 It shall be established for ever as the moon, and as a faithfull witness in heaven. Selah.

38 But thou hast cast off and abhorred: thou hast been wroth with thine anointed.

39 Thou hast made void the covenant of thy servant: thou hast profaned his crown, by casting it to the ground.

40 Thou hast broken down all his hedges: thou hast brought his strong holds to ruine.

41 All that passe by the way spoil him: he is a reproach to his neighbours.

42 Thou hast set up the right hand of his adversaries: thou hast made all his enemies to rejoyce.

43 Thou hast also turned the edge of his sword: and hast not made him to stand in the battell.

44 Thou hast made his glory to cease: and cast his throne down to the ground.

45 The dayes of his youth hast thou shortened: thou hast covered him with shame. Selah.

46 How long, LORD, wilt thou hide thy self for ever: shall thy wrath burn like fire?

47 Remember how short my time is: wherefore hast thou made all men in vain?

48 What man is he that liveth, and shall not see death? shall he deliver his soul from the hand of the grave? Selah.

49 LORD, where are thy former loving kindneses, which thou sharest unto David in thy truth?

50 Remember (LORD) the reproach of thy servants: how I do beat in my bosome the reproach of all the mighty people;

51 Wherewith thine enemies have reproached, LORD: wherewith they have reproached the footsteps of thine anointed.

52 Blessed be the LORD for evermore. Amen, and Amen.

PSAL. XC.

1 Moses setting forth Gods providence, 3 complaineth of humane fragilitye, 7 divine chastisements, 10 and brevity of life. 11 He praiech for the knowledge and sensible experience of Gods good providence.

L A prayer of Moses the man of God. D O, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations.

2 Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth in the world; even from everlastings to everlasting, thou art God.

3 Thou turnest man to destruction: and sayest, Returne children of men.

4 For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night.

5 Thou carriest them away as with a flood, they are as a sleep: in the morning they are like grashe which shall groweth up.

6 In the morning it flourisheth, and groweth up, in the evening it is cut down, and withereth.

7 For we are consumed by thine anger, and by thy wrath are we troubled.

8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, our secret finnes in the sight of the countenance.

9 For all our dayes are passed away in thy wrath: we spend our yeeres as a tale that is told.

10 The dayes of our yeeres are threescore yeeres and ten; and if by reason of strength, they be fourscore yeeres, yet is their strength labour and sorrow: for it is soon cut off, and we flie away.

11 Who knoweth the power of thine anger? even according to thy fear, so is thy wrath.

12 So teach us to number our dayes, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom.

13 Return (LORD) how long? and let it repent thee concerning thy servants.

14 O satisfie us early with thy mercy: that we may rejoyce and be glad all our dayes.

15 Make us glad according to the dayes wherein thou hast afflicted us, and the yeeres wherein we have been evil.

16 Let thy work appear unto thy servants, and thy glory unto their children.

17 And let the beauty of the LORD our God be upon us: and establish thou the work of our hands upon us, yea, the work of our hands establish thou it.

PSAL. XCII.

1 The prophet exhorteth to praise God, 4 for his great works, 6 for his judgements on the wicked, 10 and for his goodnesse to the godly.

A psalm or song for the sabbath day. It is a good thing to give thanks unto the LORD, and to sing praises unto thy name, O most high:

2 To shew forth thy loving kinnesse in the morning, and thy faithfullnesse † every night;

3 Upon an instrument of ten strings, and upon the psaltery: † upon the harp with † a solemn sound.

4 For thou, LORD, hast made me glad through thy work: I will triumph in the works of thy hands.

5 LORD, how great are thy works! and thy thoughts are very deep.

6 A brutish man knoweth not: neither doth a fool understand this.

7 When the wicked spring as the grasse, and when all the workers of iniquitie do flourish: it is that they shall be destroyed for ever.

8 But thou, LORD, art most high for evermore.

9 For lo, thine enemies, O LORD, for lo, thine enemies shall perish: all the workers of iniquitie shall be scattered.

10 But my horn shalt thou exalt like the horn of an unicorn: I shall be anointed with fresh oyl.

11 Mine eye also shall see my desire on mine enemies: and mine ears shall hear my desire of the wicked that rise up against me.

12 The righteous shall flourish like the palm tree: he shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon.

13 Those that be planted in the house of the LORD, shall flourish in the courts of our God.

14 They shall still bring forth fruit in old age: they shall be fat, and † flourishing;

15 To shew that the LORD is upright: he is my rock, and there is no unrighteousnesse in him.

PSAL. XCIII.

The majestic, power, and holinesse of Christs Kingdom.

The LORD reigneth, he is clothed with majesty, the LORD is clothed with strength wherewith he hath girded himself: the world also is established, that it cannot be moved.

2 Thy throne is established † of old: thou art from everlasting.

3 The floods have lifted up, O LORD, the floods have lifted up their voice: the floods lift up their waves.

4 The LORD on high is mightier then the noise of many waters, yea then the mighty waves of the sea.

5 Thy testimonies are very sure: holinesse becometh thine house, O LORD, † for ever.

PSAL. XCIII.

1 The prophet calling for justice, complaineth of tyranny and impiety. 8 He teacheth Gods providence. 12 He sheweth the blessednesse of affliction. 16 God is the defender of the afflicted.

LORD † God, to whom vengeance belongeth: O God to whom vengeance belongeth, † shew thy self.

2 Lift up thy self thou Judge of the earth: render a reward to the proud.

3 LORD, how long shall the wicked, how long shall the wicked triumph?

4 How long shall they utter and speak hard things? and all the workers of iniquity boast themselves?

5 They break in pieces thy people, O LORD; and afflict thine heritage.

6 They slay the widow and the stranger: and murder the fatherless.

7 Yet they say, The LORD shall not see: neither shall the God of Jacob regard it.

8 Understand, ye brutish among the people: and ye fools, when will ye be wise?

9 He that planted the ear, shall he not hear? he that formed the eye, shall he not see?

10 He that chaffeth the heathen, shall not be correct: he that teacheth man knowledge, shall not he know?

11 The LORD knoweth the thoughts of man: that they are vanity.

12 Blessed is the man whom thou chastenest, O LORD, and teachest him out of thy law:

13 That thou mayest give him rest from the dayes of adversity, untill the pit be digged for the wicked.

14 For the LORD will not cast off his people, neither will he forsake his inheritance.

15 But judgement shall return unto righteousnesse: and all the upright in heart † shall follow it.

16 Altho will rise up for me against the evil doers? or who will stand up for me against the workers of iniquity?

17 Unless the LORD had been my help, my soul had almost dwelt in silence.

18 When I said, My foot slippeth: thy mercy, O LORD, held me up.

19 In the multitude of my thoughts within me, thy comforts delight my soul.

20 Shall the throne of iniquity have fellowship with thee: which frameth mischief by a law?

21 They gather themselves together against the soul of the righteous: and condemn the innocent blood.

22 But the LORD is my defence: and my God is the rock of my refuge.

23 And he shall bring upon them their own iniquitie, and shall cut them off in their own wickednesse: yea, the LORD our God shall cut them off.

1 An exhortation to praise God, 4 for his greatness, 8 for his kingdom, 11 for his generall judgement.

1 Sing unto the LORD a new song: sing unto the LORD all the earth.

2 Sing unto the LORD, bless his Name: shew forth his salvation from day to day.

3 Declare his glory among the heathen: his wonders among all people.

4 For the LORD is great, and greatly to be praised: he is to be feared above all gods.

5 For all the gods of the nations are idols: but the LORD made the heavens.

6 Honour and majesty are before him: strength and beauty are in his sanctuary.

7 Owe unto the LORD (O ye kindreds of the people) give unto the LORD glory and strength.

8 Give unto the LORD the glory † due unto his Name: bring an offering, and come into his courts.

9 Worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness: fear before him all the earth.

10 Say among the heathen, that the LORD reigneth: the world also shall be established that it shall not be moved: he shall judge the people righteously.

11 Let the heavens rejoyce, and let the earth be glad: let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof.

12 Let the field be joyfull, and all that is therein: then shall all the trees of the wood rejoyce.

13 Before the LORD, for he cometh, for he cometh to judge the earth: he shall judge the world with righteousness, and the people with his truth.

1 The majesty of Gods kingdom. 7 The church rejoyceth at Gods judgements upon idolaters. 10 An exhortation to godlinesse and gladnesse.

1 The LORD reigneth, let the earth rejoyce: let the multitude of isles be glad thereof.

2 Clouds and darknesse are round about him: righteousness and judgement are the habitation of his Throne.

3 A fire goeth before him, and burneth up his enemies round about.

4 His lightnings enlightened the world: the earth saw and trembled.

5 The hills melted like wax at the presence of the LORD: at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

6 The heavens declare his righteousness: and all the people see his glory.

7 Confounded be all they that serve graven images, that boast themselves of idols: worship him all ye gods.

8 Sion heard, and was glad, and the daughters of Judah rejoyced because of thy judgements, O LORD.

9 For thou, LORD, art high above all the earth: thou art exalted far above all gods.

10 He that love the LORD, he preferberth the souls of his saints, he delivereth them out of the hand of the wicked.

1 The psalmist exhorteth the Jews, 4 the Gentiles, 7 and all the creatures to praise God.

† A Psalm.

1 Sing unto the LORD a new song, for he hath done marvellous things: his right hand, and his holy arm hath gotten him the victory.

2 The LORD hath made known his salvation: his righteousness hath he openly shewed in the sight of the heathen.

3 He hath remembered his mercy and his truth toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.

4 Make a joyfull noise unto the LORD, all the earth: make a loud noise, and rejoyce, and sing praise.

5 Sing unto the LORD with the harp: with the harp, and the voice of a psalm.

6 Blow trumpets and sound of cornet: make a joyfull noise before the LORD, the king.

7 Let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof: the world, and they that dwell therein.

8 Let the floods clap their hands: let the hills be joyfull together.

9 Before the LORD: for he cometh to judge the earth: with righteousness shall he judge the world, and the people with equity.

PSAL. XCIX.

1 The prophet setting forth the kingdom of God in Zion, 5 exhorteth all, by the example of forefathers, to worship God at his holy hill.

1 The LORD reigneth, let the people tremble: he sitteth between the cherubims, let the earth be moved.

2 The LORD is great in Zion, and he is high above all people.

3 Let them praise thy great and terrible Name: for it is holy.

4 The kings strength also loveth judgement, thou doest establish equity, thou executest judgement and righteousness in Jacob.

5 Great is the LORD our God, and worship at his footstool: for he is holy.

6 Moses and Aaron among his priests, and Samuel among them that call upon his Name: they called upon the LORD, and he answered them.

7 He spake unto them in the cloudy pillar: they kept his testimonies, and the ordinance that he gave them.

8 Thou answeredst them, O LORD our God: thou wast a God that forgavest them, though thou lookest vengeance of their inventions.

9 Great is the LORD our God, and worship at his holy hill: for the LORD our God is holy.

David maketh a vow and profession of godlinesse.

A psalm of David.

Will sing of mercie and judgement : unto thee, O LORD, will I sing.

I will behave my self wisely in a perfect way, when wilt thou come unto me ? I will walk within my house with a perfect heart.

I will let no wicked thing before mine eyes: I hate the work of them that turn aside, it shall not cleave to me.

A froward heart shall depart from me: I will not know a wicked person.

Who so wilfully slandereth his neighbour, him will I cut off: him that hath an high look, and a proud heart, will not I suffer.

Mine eyes shall be upon the faithfull of the land, that they may dwell with me: he that walketh in a perfect way, he shall serve me.

He that worketh deceit, shall not dwell within my house: he that collecteth lies, shall not carry in my sight.

I will early destroy all the wicked of the land: that I may cut off all wicked doers from the city of the LORD.

PSAL. CII.

The prophet in his prayer maketh a grievous complaint. 1: He taketh comfort in the eterny and mercie of God. 18 The mercies of God are to be recorded. 23 He sustaineth his weakness by the unchangableness of God.

A prayer of the afflicted when he is overwhelmed, and poureth out his complaint before the LORD.

Hear my prayer, O LORD, and let my cry come unto thee.

Hide not thy face from me in the day when I am in trouble, incline thine ear unto me in the day when I call, and cover me speedily.

For my dayes are consumed, as if like smoke: and my bones are burnt as an hearth.

My heart is smitten, and withered like grasse: so that I forget to eat my bread.

By reason of the voice of my groaning, my bones cleave to my skin.

I am like a pelican of the wilderness, I am like an owl of the desert.

I watch, and am as a sparrow alone upon the house top.

Mine enemies reproach me all the day: & they that are mad against me, are sworn against me.

For I have eaten ashes like bread, and mingled my drink with weeping:

Because of thine indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast lifted me up, and cast me down.

My dayes are like a shadow that declineth: and I am withered like grasse.

But thou, O LORD, shalt endure for ever, and thy remembrance unto all generations.

Thou shalt arise, and have mercie upon Zion: for the time to favour her, yea, the set time is come.

For thy servants take pleasure in her stones, and favour the dust thereof.

So the heathen shall fear the Name of the LORD: and all the kings of the earth thy glory.

When the LORD shall build up Zion, he shall appear in his glory.

He will regard the prayer of the destitute, and not despise their prayer.

This shall be written for the generation to come: and the people which shall be created, shall praise the LORD.

For he hath looked down from the height of his sanctuary: from heaven did the LORD behold the earth:

To hear the groaning of the prisoner, to loose those that are appointed to death.

To declare the Name of the LORD in Zion: and his praise in Jerusalem:

When the people are gathered together, and the kingdoms do to serve the LORD.

He hath weakened my strength in the way: he hath tyed my dayes.

I said, O my God, take me not away in the midst of my dayes: thy yeers are throughout all generations.

Of old hast thou laid the foundation of the earth: and the heavens are the work of thy hands.

They shall perish, but thou shalt endure, yea, all of them shall wax old like a garment: as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed.

But thou art the same, and thy yeers shall have no end.

The children of thy servants shall continue, and their seed shall be established before thee.

PSAL. CIII.

An exhortation to blesse God for his mercie, 15 and for the constancie thereof.

A psalm of David.

Blesse the LORD, O my soul: and all that is within me, blesse his holy Name.

Blesse the LORD, O my soul, and forget not all his beneficis.

Who forgetteth all thine iniquities: who healeth all thy diseases.

Who redeemeth thy life from destruction: who crowneth thee with loving kindness and tender mercies.

Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things: so that thy youth is renewed like the eagles.

The LORD executeth righteousness and judgement for all that are oppressed.

He made known his wayes unto Moses, his acts unto the children of Israel.

The LORD is mercifull and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.

He will not alwayes chide: neither will he keep his anger for ever.

He hath not dealt with us after our sinnes: nor rewarded us according to our iniquities.

For as the heaven is high above the earth: so great is his mercie toward them that fear him.

As farre as the east is from the west: so farre hath he removed our transgressions from us.

Like as a father pitteth his children: so the LORD pitteth them that fear him.

For he knoweth our frame: he remembereth that we are dust.

As for man, his dayes are as grasse: as a flower of the field, so he flourisheth.

For the wine passeth over it, and if it is gone, and the place thereof shall know it no more.

But the mercies of the LORD is from ever-lasting to everlasting upon them that fear him: and his righteousness unto childrens children:

To such as keep his covenant: and to those that remember his commandments to do them.

The LORD hath prepared his throne in the heavens: and his kingdome ruleth over all.

Evening Prayer.

Bless the LORD, O my soule, O LORD my God, thou art very great, thou art clothed with honour and majesty.

2 Who coverest thy self with light as with a garment: who stretchest out the heavens like a curtain.

3 Who layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters, who maketh the clouds his chariot, who walketh upon the wings of the wind.

4 Who maketh his angels spirits: his ministers a flaming fire.

5 Who laid the foundations of the earth: that it should not be removed for ever.

6 Thou coveredst it with the deep as with a garment: the waters stood above the mountains.

7 At thy rebuke they fled: at the voice of thy thunder they hasted away.

8 They go up by the mountains: they go down by the valleys unto the place which thou hast founded for them.

9 Thou hast set a bound that they may not passe over: that they turn not again to cover the earth.

10 † He sendeth the springs into the valleys, which † run among the hills.

11 They give drink to every beast of the field:
the wilde asses † quench their thirst.

12 By them shall the fowls of the heaven have the stork, the firre-trees are her house.

18 The high hills are a refuge for the wilde

PSAL. CVI.

1 The Psalmist exhorted to praise God. 4 He prayeth for pardon of sin, as God did with the fathers. 7 The story of the peoples rebellion, and Gods mercy. 47 He concludeth with prayer and praise.
 + Praise ye the LORD : O * give thanks unto the LORD, for he is good, for his mercie endureth for ever.
 2 Who can utter the mighty acts of the LORD : who can shew forth all his praise ?
 3 Blessed are they that keep judgement : and he that doth righteousnesse at all times.
 4 Remember me, O LORD, with the favour that thou bearest unto the people : O visit me with thy salvation :
 5 That I may see the good of thy chosen, that I may rejoyce in the gladnesse of thy nation : that I may glory with thine inheritance.
 6 We have sinned with our fathers : we have committed iniquitie, we have done wickedly.
 7 Our fathers understood not thy wonders in Egypt, they remembered not the multitude of thy mercies, * but provoked him at the sea, even at the Red-sea.

8 Nevertheless he saved them for his names sake : that he might make his mighty power to be known.
 9 He rebuked the Red sea also, and it was dried up : so he led them thow the depths as thow the eye widernesse.
 10 And he saved them from the hand of him that hated them : and redeemed them from the hand of the ene-my.
 11 * And the waters covered their enemies : there was not one of them left.
 12 * Then believed they his words, they sang his praise.
 12 * + They soon forgot his works, they waited not for his counsell :
 14 * But + lusted exceedingly in the wilderness, and tempted God in the desert.
 15 * And he gave them their request, but sent leanness into their soul.
 16 * They envied Moses also in the camp, and Aaron the saint of the LORD.
 17 * The earth opened and swallowed up Dathan, and covered the company of Abiram.
 18 * And a fire was kindled in their company : the flame burnt up the wicked.
 19 * They made a calf in their heart, and worshipped the molten image.
 20 Thus they changed their glory into the similitude of an ox that eateth grasse.
 21 They forgot God their Saviour, which had done great things in Egypt :
 22 Monstrous works in the land of Ham, and terrible things by the Red sea.
 23 * Therefore he said that he would destroy them, had not Moses his chosen stood before him in the breach : to turn away his wrath, lest he should destroy them.
 24 * Yea, they despised + the pleasant land : they believed not his word :
 25 * But murmured in their tents, and hearkened not unto the voice of the LORD.
 26 * Therefore he lifted up his hand against them, to overthrow them in the wilderness :
 27 + To overthrow their seed also among the nations, and to scatter them in the lands.
 28 * They fornyed themselves also unto Baal-peor, and ate the sacrifices of the dead.
 29 Thus they provoked him to anger with their inventions : and the plague brake in upon them.
 30 * Then stood up Balaam, and executed judgement : and so the plague was stayed.
 31 And that was counted unto him for righteousness, unto all generations for evermore.
 32 * They angered him also at the waters of strife, so that it went ill with Moses for their sakes :
 33 Because they provoked his spirit, so that he spake unadvisedly with his lips.
 34 They did not destroy the nations, * concerning whom the LORD commanded them :
 35 * But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their works.
 36 And they served their idols : which were a snare unto them.
 37 * Yea, they sacrificed their sonnes and their daughters unto devils,
 38 And shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sonnes and of their daughters, whom they sacrificed unto the idols of Canaan : and the land was polluted with blood.
 39 Thus were they defiled with their own works, and went a whooping with their own inventions.
 40 * Therefore was the wrath of the LORD kindled

PSAL. CVII.

1 The Pſalmiſt exhorteth the redeemed in praiſing God, to obſerve his manifold providence, 4 over travellers, 10 over captives, 17 over ſick men, 23 over ſea-men, 33 and in divers varieties of life.

O* Give thanks unto the LORD, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.
 2 Let the redeemed of the LORD ſay ſo, whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the enemy:
 3 And gathered them out of the lands, from the ſalt and from the weſt, from the north, and from the ſouth.
 4 They wandred in the wilderneſſe in a ſolitary way, they found no citie to dwell in.
 5 Hungry and thirſty, their ſoul fainted in them.
 6 Then they cryed unto the LORD in their trouble, and he delivered them out of their diſtreſſes.
 7 And he led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a citie of habitation.
 8 Oh that men would praiſe the LORD for his goodneſſe, and for his wonderfull works to the children of men.
 9 For he ſatiſfieth the longing ſoul, and filleth the hungry ſoul with goodneſſe.
 10 Such as lie in darkneſſe, and in the ſhadow of death, being bound in affliction and iron:
 11 Becauſe they rebelled againſt the words of God, and contemned the counſell of the moſt high:
 12 Therefore he brought down their heart with labour, they fell down and there was none to help.
 13 Then they cryed unto the LORD in their trouble, and he ſaved them out of their diſtreſſes.
 14 He brought them out of darkneſſe, and the ſhadow of death, and brake their bands in ſunder.
 15 Oh that men would praiſe the LORD for his goodneſſe, and for his wonderfull works to the children of men:
 16 For he hath broken the gates of braſſe, and cut the bars of iron in ſunder.
 17 Fools, becauſe of their tranſgreſſion, and becauſe of their iniquities, are afflicted.
 18 * Their ſoul abhorreth all manner of meat, and they draw near unto the gates of death.
 19 Then they cry unto the LORD in their trouble, he ſavech them out of their diſtreſſes.

20 He ſent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their deſtructions.
 21 Oh that men would praiſe the LORD for his goodneſſe, and for his wonderfull works to the children of men.
 22 And let them ſacrifice the ſacrifice of thank- giving, and declare his works with rejoicing.
 23 They that go down to the ſea in ſhips, that do buſineſſe in great waters:
 24 Theſe ſee the works of the LORD, and his wonders in the deep.
 25 For he commandeth, and riſeth the ſtormy winde, which liſteth up the waves thereof.
 26 They mount up to the heavens, they go down again to the depths, their ſoul is melted becauſe of trouble.
 27 They reel to and fro, and ſagger like a drunken man, and ſare at their wits end.
 28 Then they cry unto the LORD in their trouble, and he bringeth them out of their diſtreſſes.
 29 He maketh the ſtorm a calm, ſo that the waves thereof are ſtill.
 30 Then are they glad becauſe they be quiet: ſo he bringeth them unto their deſired haven.
 31 Oh that men would praiſe the LORD for his goodneſſe, and for his wonderfull works to the children of men.
 32 Let them exalt him alſo in the congregation of the people, and praiſe him in the aſſembly of the elders.
 33 He turneth rivers into a wilderneſſe, and the water-ſprings into dry ground:
 34 A fruitful land into barrenneſſe, for the wickedneſſe of them that dwell therein.
 35 * He turneth the wilderneſſe into a ſtanding water, and dry ground into water-ſprings.
 36 And there he maketh the hungry to dwell, that they may prepare a city for habitations.
 37 And ſow the fields, and plant vineyards, which may yeeld fruits of increaſe.
 38 He bleſſeth them alſo, ſo that they are multiplied greatly, and ſufferech not their cattell to de- creafe.

7 God hath spoken in his holynesse, I will rejoyce, I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.

8 Silead is mine, Danahesay is mine, Tophaim also is the strength of mine head, Judah is my lawgiver.

9 Doab is my washpot, over Edom will I cast out my shoe: over Philistia will I triumph.

10 Altho will bring me into the strong city: who will lead me into Edom?

11 Wilt not thou, O God, who hast cast us off? & wilt not thou, O God, go forth with our hols?

12 Give us help from trouble: for vain is the help of man.

13 Through God we shall do valiantly: for he it is that shall tread down our enemies.

1 David complaining of his slanderous enemies, under the person of Judas, devoteth them. 16 He sheweth their sin. 21 Complaining of his own misery, he prayeth for help. 30 He promiseth thankfulness.

To the chief musician, A Psalm of David.

1 Hold not thy peace, O God of my praise. 2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth of the deceitfull, are opened against me: they have spoken against me with a lying tongue.

3 They compassed me about also with words of hatred, and fought against me without a cause.

4 For my love, they are my adversaries: but I give my self unto prayer.

5 And they have rewarded me evil for good: and hatred for my love.

6 Set thou a wicked man over him: and let Satan stand at his right hand.

7 When he shall be judged, let him be condemned, and let his prayer become sin.

8 Let his dayes be few, and let another take his office.

9 Let his children be fatherlesse, and his wife a widow.

10 Let his children be continually vagabonds, and beg: let them seek their bread also out of their desolace places.

11 Let the extortioner catch all that he hath: and let the stranger spoil his labour.

12 Let there be none to extend mercy unto him: neither let there be any to favour his fatherlesse children.

13 Let his posterity be cut off, and in the generation following let their name be blotted out.

14 Let the iniquitie of his fathers be remembered with the LORD: and let not the sin of his mother be blotted out.

15 Let them be before the LORD continually, that he may cut off the memory of them from the earth.

16 Because that he remembered not to shew mercy, but persecuted the poor and needy man, that he might even slay the broken in heart.

17 As he loved cursing, so let it come unto him: as he delighted not in blessing, so let it be far from him.

18 As he clothed himself with cursing like as with his garment: so let it come into his bowels like water, and like oil into his bones.

19 Let it be unto him as the garment which covereth him: and for a girdle wherewith he is girded continually.

20 Let this be the reward of mine adversaries from the LORD, and of them that speak evil against my soul.

21 But do thou for me, O God the Lord, for thy names sake: because thy mercy is good, deliver thou me.

22 For I am poor and needy: and my heart is wounded within me.

23 I am gone like the shadow, when it declineth: I am tossed up and down as the locust.

24 My knees are weak through fasting: and my flesh faileth of farnesse.

25 I became also a reproach unto them: when they looked upon me, they shaked their heads.

26 Help me, O LORD my God: I have me according to thy mercy.

27 What they may know, that this is thy hand: that thou LORD hast done it.

28 Let them curse, but blesse thou: when they arise, let them be ashamed: but let thy servant rejoyce.

29 Let mine adversaries be clothed with shame: and let them cover themselves with their own confusion, as with a mantle.

30 I will greatly praise the LORD with my mouth: yea, I will praise him among the multitude.

31 For he shall stand at the right hand of the poor: to save him from those that condemn his soul.

1 The kingdom, 4 the priesthood, 5 the conquest, 7 and the passion of Christ.

A Psalm of David.

The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool.

2 The LORD shall send the rod of thy strength out of Zion: rule thou in the mids of thine enemies.

3 Thy people shall be willing in the day of thy power, in the beauties of holynesse: thou shalt descend from the womb of the morning: thou shalt the dew of thy youth.

4 The LORD hath sworn, and will not repent: Thou art a priest for ever, after the order of Melchizedek.

5 The LORD at thy right hand shall strike throned kings in the day of his wrath.

6 He shall judge among the heathen, he shall fill the places with the dead bodies: he shall wound the heads over many countreys.

7 He shall drink of the brook in the way: therefoze shall he lift up the head.

PSAL. CXI.

1 The psalmist by his example inciteth others to praise God for his glorious, 5 and gracious works. 10 The fear of God breedeth true wisdom.

Praise ye the LORD, I will praise the LORD with my whole heart, in the assembly of the upright, and in the congregation.

2 The works of the LORD are great, sought out of all them that have pleasure therein.

3 His work is honourable and glorious: and his righteousness endureth for ever.

4 He hath made his wonderfull works to be remembered: the LORD is gracious and full of compassion.

5 He hath given meat unto them that fear him: he will ever be mindfull of his covenant.

6 He hath shewed his people the power of his works, that he may give them the heritage of the heathen.

7 The works of his hands are veritie and judgement: all his commandments are sure.

8 They stand fast for ever and ever, and are done in truth and uprightness.

1 An exhortation by the example of the dumb creatures, to lear God in his church.
W hen Israel went out of Egypt, the house of Jacob from a people of strange language.
2 Judah was his sanctuary, and Israel his dominion.
3 The sea saw it, and fled; Jordan was driven back.
4 The mountains skipped like rams, and the little hills like lambs.
5 What ailed thee, O thou sea, that thou fleddest: thou Jordan, that thou wast driven back?

6 Ye nourcains, that ye skipped like rammes, and ye little hills like lambs?

PSAL. CXV.

1 Because God is truly glorious, 4 and idols are vanitie, 9 he exhorteth to confidence in God. 12 God is to be blessed for his blessings.
N O unto us, O LORD, not unto us, but unto thy Name give glory, for thy mercy, and for thy truthes sake.
2 Wherefore should the heathen say, Where is now their God?
3 But our God is in the heavens, he hath done whatsoever he pleased.
4 Their idols are silver and gold, the work of mens hands.
5 They have mouths, but they speak not: eyes have they, but they see not.
6 They have ears, but they hear not: noses have they, but they smell not.
7 They have hands, but they handle not: feet have they, but they walk not, neither speak they through their throat.
8 They that make them, are like unto them: so is every one that trusteth in them.
9 O Israel, trust thou in the LORD: he is their help and their shield.
10 O house of Aaron, trust in the LORD: he is their help and their shield.
11 Ye that fear the LORD, trust in the LORD: he is their help and their shield.
12 The LORD hath been mindful of us, he will blesse us, he will blesse the house of Israel, he will blesse the house of Aaron.
13 He will blesse them that fear the LORD, both small and great.
14 The LORD shall increase you more and more, you and your children.
15 You are blessed of the LORD, which made heaven and earth.
16 The heaven, even the heavens are the LORDS: but the earth hath he given to the children of men.

1 The psalmist professeth his love and duty to God for his deliverance. 12 He studieth to be thankfull.
I Love the LORD, because he hath heard my voice, and my supplications.
2 Because he hath inclined his ear unto me, therefore will I call upon him as long as I live.
3 The sorrows of death compassed me, and the pains of hell gat hold upon me: I found trouble and sorrow.
4 Then called I upon the name of the LORD; O LORD, I beseech thee, deliver my soul.
5 Gracious is the LORD, and righteous: yea, our God is mercifull.
6 The LORD preserveth the simple: I was brought low, and he helped me.
7 Return unto thy rest, O my soul, for the LORD hath dealt bountifully with thee.
8 For thou hast delivered my soul from death, mine eyes from tears, and my feet from falling.

PSAL. CXVIII.

1 An exhortation to praise God for his mercy. 5 The psalmist by his experience sheweth how good it is to trust in God. 19 Under the type of the psalmist, the coming of Christ in his kingdome is expressed.

* 1 Chr 16. 8. Psal. 106. 1. & 107. 1. & 136. 1.

O * Give thanks unto the LORD, for he is good : because his mercy endureth for ever.

2 Let Israel now say, that his mercy endureth for ever.

3 Let the house of Aaron now say, that his mercy endureth for ever.

4 Let them now that fear the LORD say, that his mercy endureth for ever.

5 I called upon the LORD † in distresse : the LORD answered me, and set me in a large place.

6 * The LORD is † on my side, I will not fear : what can man do unto me ?

7 The LORD taketh my part with them that help me : therefore shall I see my desire upon them that hate me.

8 It is better to trust in the LORD, then to put confidence in man.

9 * It is better to trust in the LORD, then to put confidence in princes.

10 All nations compassed me about, but in the name of the LORD will I † destroy them.

11 They compassed me about, yea, they compassed me about : but in the name of the LORD I will destroy them.

12 They compassed me about like bees, they are quenched as the fire of thorns : for in the name of the LORD I will † destroy them.

13 Thou hast thrust sore at me that I might fall : but the LORD helped me.

14 * The LORD is my strength and song : and is become my salvation.

15 The voice of rejoicing and salvation is in the tabernacles of the righteous : the right hand of the LORD doth valiantly.

16 The right hand of the LORD is exalted : the right hand of the LORD doth valiantly.

23 † This is the LORDS doing : it is marvellous in our eyes.

24 This is the day which the LORD hath made, we will rejoice and be glad in it.

25 Save now I beseech thee, O LORD : O LORD, I beseech thee, send now prosperity.

26 * Blessed be he that cometh in the name of the LORD : we have blessed you out of the house of the LORD.

27 God is the LORD, which hath shewed us light, binde the sacrifice with cords, even unto the horns of the altar.

28 Thou art my God, and I will praise thee ; thou art my God, I will extol thee.

29 O give thanks unto the LORD, for he is good : for his mercy endureth for ever.

PSAL. CXIX.

This psalm containeth sundry prayers, praises, and professions of obedience.

A L E P H

Blessed are they that walk in the law of the LORD,

2 Blessed are they that keep his testimonies, and that seek him with the whole heart.

3 They also do no iniquitie : they walk in his wayes.

4 Thou hast commanded us to keep thy precepts diligently.

5 O that my wayes were directed to keep thy statutes !

6 Then shall I not be ashamed, when I have respect unto all thy commandments.

10 With my whole heart have I sought thee : O let me not wander from thy commandments.

11 Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sinne against thee.

12 Blessed art thou, O LORD : teach me thy statutes :

13 With my lips have I declared all the judgements of thy mouth.

14 I have rejoiced in the way of thy testimonies, as much as in all riches.

15 I will meditate in thy precepts, and have respect unto thy wayes.

16 I will delight my self in thy statutes : I will not forget thy word.

L A M E D.

89 For ever, O LORD, thy word is settled in heaven.

90 Thy faithfulness is † unto all generations ; thou hast established the earth, and it † abideth.

91 They continue this day according to thine ordinances : for all are thy servants.

92 Unless thy law had been my delights : I should then have perished in mine affliction.

93 I will never forget thy precepts : for with them thou hast quickened me.

94 I am thine, save me : for I have sought thy precepts.

95 The wicked have waited for me to destroy me : but I will consider thy testimonies.

96 I have seen an end of all perfection ; but thy commandment is exceeding broad.

M E M.

97 O how love I thy law ! it is my meditation all the day.

98 Thou through thy commandments hast made me wiser then mine enemies : for † they are ever with me.

99 I have more understanding then all my teachers : for thy testimonies are my meditation.

100 I understand more then the ancients : because I keep thy precepts.

101 I have restrained my feet from every evill way : that I may keep thy word.

102 I have not departed from thy judgements : for thou hast taught me.

103 * O how sweet are thy words unto my † taste ! yea, sweeter then honey to my mouth.

104 Though thy precepts I get understanding : therefore I hate every false way.

N V N.

105 Thy word is a † lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path.

106 I have sinned, and I will performe it, that I will keep thy righteous judgements.

107 I am afflicted very much : quicken me, O LORD, according unto thy word.

108 Accept, I beseech thee, the free-will-offerings of my mouth, O LORD, and teach me thy judgements.

109 My soul is continually in my hand : yet do I not forget thy law.

110 The wicked have laid a snare for me : yet I erred not from thy precepts.

111 Thy testimonies have I taken as an heritage for ever : for they are the restoring of my heart.

112 I have inclined mine heart † to performe thy statutes alway, even unto the end.

S A M E C H.

113 I hate vain thoughts : but thy law do I love.

114 Thou art my hiding place, and my shield ; I hope in thy word.

115 * Depart from me ye evill doers ; for I will keep the commandments of my God.

116 Uphold me according unto thy word, that I may live : and let me not be ashamed of my hope.

117 Hold thou me up, and I shall be safe : and I will have respect unto thy statutes continually.

118 Thou hast trodden down all them that erre from thy statutes : for their decess is fallhood.

119 Thou † puttest away all the wicked of the earth like dross : therefore I love thy testimonies.

120 My flesh trembleth for fear of thee, and I am afraid of thy judgements.

A I N.

121 I have done judgement and justice : leave me not to mine oppressors.

122 Be surety for thy servant for good : let not the proud oppress me.

123 Mine eyes fail for thy salvation, and for the word of thy righteousness.

124 Deal with thy servant according unto thy mercy, and teach me thy statutes.

125 I am thy servant, give me understanding, that I may know thy testimonies.

126 It is time for thee, O LORD, to work, for they have made void thy law.

127 * Therefore I love thy commandments above gold, yea, above fine gold.

128 Therefore I esteem all thy precepts concerning all things to be right ; and I hate every false way.

P E.

129 Thy testimonies are wonderfull, therefore doth my soul keep them.

130 The entrance of thy words giveth light : it giveth understanding unto the simple.

131 I opened my mouth, and panted : for I longed for thy commandments.

132 Look thou upon me, and be mercifull unto me, † as thou usest to do unto those that love thy name.

133 Order my steps in thy word : and let not any iniquitie have dominion over me.

134 Deliver me from the oppression of man : so will I keep thy precepts.

135 Make thy face to shine upon thy servant : and teach me thy statutes.

136 Rivers of waters run down mine eyes : because they keep not thy law.

T S A D D I.

137 Righteous are thou, O LORD, and upright are thy judgements.

138 Thy testimonies that thou hast commanded, are † righteous, and very † faithful.

139 * My zeal hath † consumed me : because mine enemies have forgotten thy words.

140 Thy word is very † pure : therefore thy servant loveth it.

141 I am small and despised : yet do not I forget thy precepts.

142 Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, and thy law is the truth.

143 Trouble and anguish have † taken hold on me : yet thy commandments are my delights.

144 The righteousness of thy testimonies is everlasting : give me understanding, and I shall live.

K O P H.

145 I cried with my whole heart, Hear me, O LORD : I will keep thy statutes.

146 I cried unto thee, save me : and I shall keep thy testimonies.

147 I prevented the dawning of the morning, and cried : I hoped in thy word.

148 Mine eyes prevent the night-watches, that I might meditate in thy word.

149 Hear my voyce according unto thy loving kindnesse : O LORD quicken me according to thy judgement.

150 They draw nigh that follow after mischief : they are farre from thy law.

151 Thou art near, O LORD : and all thy commandments are truth.

152 Concerning thy testimonies, I have known of old, that thou hast founded them for ever.

 * A psalm of David.

I will praise thee with my whole heart, * before the gods will I sing praise unto thee.
 2 I will worship toward thy holy temple, and praise thy Name, for thy loving kindnesse, and for thy truth: for thou hast magnified thy word above all thy Name.
 3 In the day when I cryed, thou answeredst me: and strengthenedst me with strength in my soul.
 4 All the kings of the earth shall praise thee, O

LORD, when they hear the words of thy mouth.
 5 Yea, they shall sing in the waves of the LORD: for great is the glory of the LORD.
 6 Though the LORD be high, yet hath he respect unto the lowly: but the proud he knoweth afar off.
 7 Though I walke in the midg of trouble, thou wilt revive me, thou shalt stretch forth thine hand against the wrath of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall save me.
 8 The LORD will perfect that which concerneth me: thy mercy, O LORD, endureth for ever: forsake not the works of thine own hands.

PSAL. CXXXIX.

1 David praifeth God for his all-seeing providence, 17 and for his infinite mercies. 19 He denieth the wicked. 23 He prayeth for sincerity.
 O to the chief musician, A psalm of David.

OLORD, thou hast searched me, and known me.
 2 Thou knowest my down-sitting, and mine uprisings, thou understandest my thought afar off.
 3 Thou art compassed my path, and my lying down, and art acquainted with all my wayes.
 4 For there is not a word in my tongue, but so, O LORD, thou knowest it altogether.
 5 Thou hast belet me behinde and before, and laid thine hand upon me.
 6 Such knowledge is too wonderfull for me: it is high, I cannot attain unto it.
 7 Whither shall I go from thy spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?
 8 * If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there: if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there.
 9 If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea:
 10 Then there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me.
 11 If I say, Surely the darknesse shall cover me: even the night shall be light about me.
 12 Yea, the darknesse if I hide it not from thee, but the night shined as the day: † the darknesse and the light are both alike to thee.
 13 For thou hast possessed my reins: thou hast covered me in my mothers womb.
 14 I will praise thee, for I am fearfully and wonderfully made, marvellous are thy works, and that my soul knoweth † right well.
 15 My substance was not hid from thee, when I was made in secret, and curiously wrought in the lowest parts of the earth.
 16 Thine eyes did see my substance yet being imperfect, and in thy book † all my members were written, † which in continuance were fashioned, when as yet there was none of them.
 17 * How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God: how great is the sum of them?
 18 If I should count them, they are more in number then the sand: when I awake, I am still with thee.
 19 Surely thou wilt slay the wicked, O God: depart from me therefore ye bloody men.
 20 For thy speak against thee wickedly, and thine enemies take thy name in vain.
 21 Do not I hate them, O LORD, that hate thee: and am not I grieved with those that rise up against thee?
 22 I hate them with perfect hatred: I count them mine enemies.
 23 Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me, and know my thoughts.
 24 And see if there be any † wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting.

PSAL. CXL.

1 David prayeth to be delivered from Saul and Doeg: 8 He prayeth against them. 12 He comforteth himself by confidence in God.

¶ To the chief musician, A psalm of David.

Deliver me, O LORD, from the evil man: preserve me from the violent man: which imagine mischiefs in their heart; continually are they gathered together for war.

2 They have sharpened their tongues like a serpent; adders popsin is under their lips. Selah.

3 Keep me, O LORD, from the hands of the wicked, preserve me from the violent man, who have purposed to overthrow my goings.

4 The proud have hid a snare for me, and cords, they have spread a net by the way-side: they have set gins for me. Selah.

5 I said unto the LORD, Thou art my God: hear the voice of my supplications, O LORD.

6 O GOD the LORD, the strength of my salvation, thou hast covered my head in the day of battell.

7 Grant not, O LORD, the desires of the wicked, further not his wicked device, lest they exceed themselves. Selah.

8 As for the head of those that compass me about, let the mischief of their own lips cover them.

9 Let burning coals fall upon them, let them be cast into the fire; into deep pits, that they rise not up again.

10 Let not an evil speaker be established in the earth: evil shall hunt the violent man to overthrow him.

11 I know that the LORD will maintain the cause of the afflicted, and the right of the poor.

12 Surely, the righteous shall give thanks unto thy Name, the upright shall dwell in thy presence.

PSAL. CXLI.

1 David prayeth that his suit may be acceptable, 3 his conscience sincere, 7 and his life safe from snares.

¶ A psalm of David.

LORD, I cry unto thee, make haste unto me, give ear unto my voice, when I cry unto thee.

2 Let my prayer be set forth before thee as incense; and the lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice.

3 Set a watch (O LORD) before my mouth, keep the door of my lips.

4 Incline not my heart to any evil thing, to practise wicked works with men that work iniquity: and let me not eat of their dainties.

5 Let the righteous smite me, it shall be a kindness; and let him reprove me, it shall be an excellent oil, which shall not break mine head: for yet my prayer also shall be in their calamities.

6 When their judges are overthrowen in stony places, they shall hear my words, for they are sweet.

7 Our bones are scattered at the graves mouth, as when one cutteth and cleaveth wood upon the earth.

8 But mine eyes are unto thee, O GOD the LORD: in thee is my trust, I leave not my soul destitute.

9 Keep me from the snare which they have laid for me, and the gins of the workers of iniquity.

10 Let the wicked fall into their own nets, whilst that I withall escape.

PSAL. CXLII.

David sheweth that in his trouble all his comfort was in prayer unto God.

¶ A psalm of David; a prayer when he was in the cave.

I cryed unto the LORD with my voice: with my voice unto the LORD did I make my supplication.

2 I poured out my complaint before him; I shewed before him my trouble.

3 When my spirit was overwhelmed within me, then thou knowest my path: in the way wherein I walked have they privily laid a snare for me.

4 I looked on my right hand, and beheld, but there was no man that would know me; I failed me: no man cared for my soul.

5 I cryed unto thee, O LORD, I said, Thou art my refuge, and my portion in the land of the living.

6 Attend unto my cry, for I am brought very low; deliver me from my persecutors: for they are stronger then I.

7 Bring my soul out of prison, that I may praise thy Name: the righteous shall compass me about: for thou shalt deal bountifully with me.

PSAL. CXLIII.

1 David prayeth for favour in judgement, 3 He complaineth of his griefs, 5 He strengtheneth his faith by meditation and prayer, 7 He prayeth for grace, 9 for deliverance, 10 for sanctification, 12 for destruction of his enemies.

¶ A psalm of David.

Hear my prayer, O LORD; give ear to my supplications: in thy faithfulness answer me, and in thy righteousness.

2 And enter not into judgement with thy servant: for in thy sight shall no man living be justified.

3 For the enemy hath persecuted my soul, he hath smitten my life down to the ground: he hath made me to dwell in darkness, as those that have been long dead.

4 Therefore is my spirit overwhelmed within me: my heart within me is desolate.

5 I remember the days of old, I meditate on all thy works: I muse on the work of thy hands.

6 I stretch forth my hands unto thee: my soul thirsteth after thee, as a thirsty land. Selah.

7 Hear me speedily, O LORD, my spirit faileth: hide not thy face from me, lest I be like unto them that go down into the pit.

8 Cause me to hear thy loving kindness in the morning, for in thee do I trust: cause me to know the way wherein I should walk, for I lift up my soul unto thee.

9 Deliver me, O LORD, from mine enemies; I flee unto thee to hide me.

10 Teach me to do thy will, for thou art my God: thy spirit is good: lead me into the land of uprightness.

11 Quicken me, O LORD, for thy Names sake: for thy righteousness sake bring my soul out of trouble.

12 And of thy mercy cut off mine enemies, and destroy all them that afflict my soul: for I am thy servant.

DAY 30.

Morning prayer.

PSAL. CXLIII.

1 David bleſſeth God for his mercy both to him and to man. 5 He prayeth that God would powerfully deliver him from his enemies. 9 He promiſeth to praiſe God. 11 He prayeth for the happy eſtate of the kingdom.

A Pſalm of David.

Bleſſed be the LORD my ſtrength, which teacheth my hands to fight and my fingers to ſpell.

2 My goodneſſe and my ſtrength, my high tower, and my deliverer, my ſhield, and he in whom I truſt: who ſubdueth my people under me.

3 LORD, what is man, that thou takeſt knowledge of him? or the ſonne of man that thou makeſt account of him?

4 Man is like to vanity: his dayes are as a ſhadow that paſſeth away.

5 Bow the heavens, O LORD, and come down, touch the mountains, and they ſhall ſmoke.

6 Caſt forth lightning, and ſcatter them: ſhoot out thine arrows, and deſtroy them.

7 Send thine hand from above, rid me, and deliver me out of great waters: from the hand of ſtrange children.

8 Whole mouth ſpeaketh vanity: and their right hand is a right hand of falſhood.

9 I will ſing a new ſong unto thee, O God: upon a psalterie, and an instrument of ten ſtrings will I ſing praifes unto thee.

10 It is he that giveth ſabbath unto kings: who delivereth David his ſervant from the burſtfull ſword.

11 Rid me, and deliver me from the hand of ſtrange children, whole mouth ſpeaketh vanity: and their right hand is a right hand of falſhood.

12 That our ſons may be as plants grown up in their youth: that our daughters may be as corner ſtones: polished after the ſimilitude of a palace:

13 That our garners may be full, affording all manner of ſtore, that our ſheep may bring forth thousands, and ten thousands in our ſtreets.

14 That our oxen may be ſtrong to labour, that there be no breaking in, nor going out, that there be no complaining in our ſtreets.

15 Happy is that people that is in ſuch a caſe: yea happy is that people, whole God is the LORD.

PSAL. CXLV.

1 David praifeſh God for his fame, 8 for his goodneſſe, 11 for his kingdom, 14 for his providence, 17 for his ſaving mercy.

DAVIDS psalm of praife.

I will extoll thee, my God, O King, and I will bleſſe thy Name for ever and ever.

2 Every day will I bleſſe thee: and I will praife thy Name for ever and ever.

3 Great is the LORD, and greatly to be praifeſed: and his greatneſſe is unſearchable.

4 One generation ſhall praife thy works to another, and ſhall declare thy mighty acts.

5 I will ſpeak of the glorious honour of thy majeſtie, and of thy wondrous works.

6 And men ſhall ſpeak of the might of thy terrible acts: and I will declare thy greatneſſe.

7 They ſhall abundantly utter the memory of thy great goodneſſe, and ſhall ſing of thy righteousneſſe.

8 The LORD is gracious, and full of compaſſion: ſlow to anger, and of great mercy.

9 The LORD is good to all: and his tender mercies are over all his works.

10 All thy works ſhall praife thee, O LORD: and thy ſaints ſhall bleſſe thee.

11 They ſhall ſpeak of the glory of thy kingdom, and talk of thy power.

12 To make known to the ſons of men, his mighty acts, and the glorious majeſty of his kingdom.

13 Thy kingdom is an everlaſting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all generations.

14 The LORD upholdeth all that fall: and raiſeth up all thoſe that be bowed down.

15 The eyes of all wait upon thee, and thou giveth them their meat in due ſeaſon.

16 Thou openeſt thine hand, and ſatiffieſt the deſire of every living thing.

17 The LORD is righteous in all his wayes, and holy in all his works.

18 The LORD is high unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truſt.

19 He will fulfill the deſire of them that fear him: he alſo will hear their cry, and will ſave them.

20 The LORD preferbeth all them that love him: but all the wicked will he deſtroy.

21 My mouth ſhall ſpeak the praife of the LORD: and let all fleſh bleſſe his holy Name for ever and ever.

PSAL. CXLVI.

1 The psalmiſt voweth perpetual praifes to God. 3 He exhorteth not to truſt in man. 5 God for his power, juſtice, mercy and kingdom, is only worthy to be truſted.

† Praiſe ye the LORD: praife the LORD, O my ſoul.

2 While I live will I praife the LORD: I will ſing praifes unto my God while I have any being.

3 Put not your truſt in princes, nor in the ſon of man, in whom there is no help.

4 His breath goeth forth, he returneth to his earth: in that very day his thoughts periſh.

5 Happy is he that hath the God of Jacob for his help, whole hope is in the LORD his God:

6 Which made heaven and earth, the ſea, and all that therein is: which keepeth truth for ever:

7 Which reventeth judgement for the oppreſſed, which giveth food to the hungry: the LORD looſeth the priſoners.

8 The LORD openeth the eyes of the blinde: the LORD raiſeth them that are bowed down: the LORD looſeth the righteous.

9 The LORD preferbeth the ſtrangers: he relieveth the fatherleſſe and widow: but the way of the wicked he turneth upſide down.

10 The LORD ſhall reign for ever, even thy God, O Zion, unto all generations. Praiſe ye the LORD.

PSAL. CXLVII.

1 The prophet exhorteth to praife God, for his care of the church, 4 his power, 6 and his mercy: 7 to praife him for his providence: 13 to praife him for his bleſſings upon the kingdom, 15 for his power over the meteors, 19 and for his ordinances in the church.

Praiſe ye the LORD: for it is good to ſing praifes unto our God: for it is pleaſant, and praife is comely.

2 The LORD hath built up Jeruſalem: he gathereth together the outcaſts of Iſrael.

3 He healeth the broken in heart, and bindeth up their wounds.

4 He telleth the number of the ſtars, he calleth them all by their names.

Evening prayer.

† Heb. griefs.

† Heb. of his understanding no number.

5 Great is our Lord, and of great power : † his understanding is infinite.
 6 The LORD lieth up the meek: he casteth the wicked down to the ground.
 7 Sing unto the LORD with thanksgiving: sing praise upon the harp unto our God:
 8 Who covereth the heaven with clouds, who prepared rain for the earth, who maketh grass to grow upon the mountains.
 9 He giveth to the beast his food, and to the young ravens which cry.
 10 He delighteth not in the strength of the horse: he taketh not pleasure in the legs of a man.
 11 The LORD taketh pleasure in them that fear him, in those that hope in his mercy.
 12 Praise the LORD, O Jerusalem: praise thy God, O Zion.

* Job 38. 41. Psal. 104. 27, 28.

13 For he hath strengthened the barres of thy gates: he hath blessed thy children within thee.
 14 † He maketh peace in thy borders: and filleth thee with the † finest of the wheat.
 15 He sendeth forth his commandment upon earth: his word runneth very swiftly.
 16 He giveth snow like wool: he scattereth the hoar frost like ashes.
 17 He casteth forth his ice like morsels: who can stand before his cold?
 18 He sendeth out his word, and melteth them: he causeth his winde to blow, and the waters flow.
 19 He sheweth † his word unto Jacob, his statutes and his judgements unto Israel.

PSAL. CXLVIII.

1 The psalmist exhorteth the celestiall, 7 the terrestrial, 11 and the ratioll creatures to praise God.
 † Praise ye the LORD. Praise ye the LORD from the heavens: praise him in the heights.
 2 Praise ye him all his Angels: praise ye him all his hosts.
 3 Praise ye him sunne and moon: praise him all ye starres of light.
 4 Praise him ye heavens of heavens, and ye waters that be above the heavens.
 5 Let them praise the Name of the LORD: for he commanded, and they were created.
 6 He hath also stablished them for ever and ever: he hath made a decree which shall not passe.
 7 Praise the LORD from the earth, ye dragons and all deeps.
 8 Fire and ball, snow and vapour, stormy winde fulfilling his word.
 9 Mountains and all hills, fruitfull trees and all cedars.

THE PROVERBS

CHAP. I.

1 The use of the Proverbs. 7 An exhortation to fear God, and believe his word. 10 To avoid the enticings of sinners. 29 Wisdome complained of her contempt. 24 She threatneth her contemners.

 12 Both young men and maidens, old men and children.
 13 Let them praise the Name of the LORD: for his Name alone is excellent, his glory is above the earth and heaven.
 14 He also exalteth the horn of his people, the praise of all his saints: even of the children of Israel, a people meet unto him. Praise ye the LORD.

† Heb. birds of wing.

† Heb. exalted.

PSAL. CXLIX.

1 The prophet exhorteth to praise God for his love to the Church, 5 and for that power, which he hath given to the church to rule the consciences of men.
 † Praise ye the LORD: sing unto the LORD a new song, and his praise in the congregation of saints.
 2 Let Israel rejoyce in him that made him: let the children of Zion be joyfull in their king.
 3 Let them praise his Name // in the dance: let them sing praises unto him with the timbrell and harp.
 4 For the LORD taketh pleasure in his people: he will beautifie the meek with salvation.
 5 Let the saints be joyfull in glory: let them sing aloud upon their beds.
 6 Let the high praises of God be in their mouth, and a two edged sword in their hand:
 7 To execute vengeance upon the heathen, and punishments upon the people.
 8 To binde their kings with chains, and their nobles with fetters of iron.

father, and forsake not the law of thy mother. 9 For they shall be † an ornament of grace unto thy head, and chains about thy neck.

10 ¶ My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not.

11 If they say, Come with us, let us lay wait for blood, let us lurk privily for the innocent without cause :

12 Let us swallow them up all as the grave, and whole, as those that go down into the pit :

13 We shall finde all precious substance, we shall fill our houses with spoil :

14 Cast in thy lot among us, let us all have one purse :

15 My son, walk not thou in the way with them ; refrain thy foot from their path.

16 * For their feet run to evil, and make haste to shed blood.

17 Surely in vain the net is spread † in the sight of any bird.

18 And they lay wait for their own blood, they lurk privily for their own lives.

19 So are the wayes of every one that is greedy of gain : which taketh away the life of the owners thereof.

20 ¶ † * Wisdom crieth without, she uttereth her voice in the streets :

21 She crieth in the chief place of concourse, in the openings of the gates : in the city she uttereth her words, saying,

22 How long, ye simple ones, will ye love simplicity ; and the scorers delight in their scorings, and fools hate knowledge ?

23 Turn you at my reproof : behold, I will pour out my spirit unto you, I will make known my words unto you.

24 ¶ * Because I have called, and ye refused, I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded ;

25 But ye have set at nought all my counsell, and would none of my reproof :

26 I also will laugh at your calamity, I will mock when your fear cometh ;

27 When your fear cometh as desolation, and your destruction cometh as a whirlwind, when distress and anguish cometh upon you.

28 * Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer ; they shall seek me early, but they shall not finde me.

29 For that they hated knowledge, and did not choose the fear of the LORD.

30 They would none of my counsell : they despised all my reproof.

31 Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own devices.

32 For the LORD turning away from the simple shall slay them, and the prosperity of fools shall destroy them.

33 But whoso hearkeneth unto me, shall dwell safely, and shall be quiet from fear of evil.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Wisdom promised godlinesse to her children. 10 and safety from evill company, 20 and direction in good wayes.

My sonne, if thou wilt receive my words, and hide my commandments with thee ;

2 So that thou incline thine ear unto wisdom, and apply thine heart to understanding ;

3 Dea, if thou creest after knowledge, and † lift up thy voice for understanding :

4 * If thou seekest her as silver, and searchest for her, as for hid treasures.

5 Then shalt thou understand the fear of the LORD : and finde the knowledge of God.

6 * For the LORD giveth wisdom : out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding.

7 He layeth up sound wisdom for the righteous : he is a buckler to them that walk uprightly.

8 He keepeth the paths of judgements, and pre- serveth the way of his saints.

9 Then shalt thou understand righteousnesse, and judgement and equity ; yea, every good path.

10 ¶ When wisdom enticeth into thine heart, and knowledge is pleasant unto the soul.

11 Discretion shall preserve thee, understanding shall keep thee :

12 To deliver thee from the way of the evil man, from the man that speaketh froward things.

13 Who leave the paths of uprightnesse, to walk in the wayes of darknesse :

14 Who rejoyce to do evil, and delight in the frowardnesse of the wicked.

15 Whose wayes are crooked, and they froward in their paths.

16 To deliver thee from the strange woman, * even from the stranger which flattereth with her words :

17 Which forsaketh the guide of her youth, and forgetteth the covenant of her God.

18 For her heart inclineth unto death, and her paths unto the dead.

19 None that go unto her, return again ; neither take they hold of the paths of life.

20 That thou mayest walk in the way of good men, and keep the paths of the righteous.

21 * For the upright shall dwell in the land, and the perfect shall remain in it.

22 * But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressours shall be rooted out of it.

CHAP. III.

1 An exhortation to obedience, 5 to faith, 7 to mortification, 9 to devotion, 11 to patience. 13 The happy gain of wisdom. 19 The power, 21 and the benefits of wisdom. 27 An exhortation to charitableness, 30 peaceableness, 31 and contentednesse. 33 The cursed state of the wicked.

My son, forget not my laws ; but let thine heart keep my commandments.

2 For length of dayes, and † long life, and peace shall they add to thee.

3 Let not mercy and truth forsake thee : * binde them about thy neck, write them upon the table of thine heart.

merchandise

merchandise of silver, and the gain thereof then fine gold.

15 She is more precious then rubies: and all the things thou canst desire, are not to be compared unto her.

16 Length of dayes is in her right hand: and in her left hand riches and honour.

17 Her wayes are wayes of pleasantnesse, and all her paths are peace.

18 She is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her; and happy is every one that retaineth her.

19 The LORD by wisdom hath founded the earth; by understanding hath he established the heavens.

20 By his knowledge the depths are broken up, and the clouds drop down the dew.

21 O My sonne, let not them depart from thy eyes: keep sound wisdom and discretion.

22 So shall they be life unto thy soul, and grace to thy neck.

23 When shalt thou walk in thy way safely, and thy foot shall not stumble.

24 When thou itest down, thou shalt not be afraid: yea, thou shalt lie down, and thy sleep shall be sweet.

25 Be not afraid of sudden fear, neither of the desolation of the wicked, when it cometh.

26 For the LORD shall be thy confidence, and shall keep thy foot from being taken.

27 Withhold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thine hand to do it.

28 Say not unto thy neighbour, Go, and come again, and to morrow I will give; when thou hast it by thee.

29 Rebelle not evil against thy neighbour, seeing he dwelleth securely by thee.

30 Strike not with a man without cause, if he have done thee no harm.

31 Enter thou not into the oppression, and choose none of his wayes.

32 For the forehead is abomination to the LORD: but his secret is with the righteous.

33 The curse of the LORD is in the house of the wicked: but he blesteth the habitation of the just.

34 Surely he scorneth the scorners: but he giveth grace unto the lowly.

35 The wise shall inherit glory, but shame shall be the promotion of fools.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Solomon, to perswade obedience, 3 sheweth what instruction he had of his parents. 5 To study wisdom, 14 and to shun the path of the wicked. 20 He exhorteth to faith, 23 and sanctification.

Hear, ye children, the instruction of a father, and attend to know understanding.

2 For I give you good doctrine, forsake you not my law.

3 For I was my fathers sonne, tender and only beloved in the sight of my mother.

4 He taught me also, and said unto me, Let thine heart retain my words: keep my commandments and lbe.

5 Get wisdom, get understanding: forget it not, neither decline from the words of my mouth.

6 Forsake her not, and she shall preserve thee: love her, and she shall keep thee.

7 Wisdom is the principall thing, therefore get wisdom: and with all thy getting get understanding.

8 Enst her, and she shall promote thee: she shall bring thee to honour when thou dost embrace her.

9 She shall give to thine head an ornament of grace: a crown of glory shall she deliver to thee.

10 Hear, O my sonne, and receive my sayings: and the yeeres of thy life shall be many.

11 I have taught thee in the way of wisdom: I have led thee in right paths.

12 When thou goest, thy steps shall not be straitened, and when thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble.

13 Take fast hold of instruction: let her not go; keep her, for she is thy life.

14 Enter not into the path of the wicked, and go not in the way of evil men.

15 Avoid it, passe not by it, turn from it, and passe away.

16 For they sleep not, except they have done mischief: and their sleep is taken away unless they cause some to fall.

17 For they eat the bread of wickednesse, and drink the wine of violence.

18 But the path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day.

19 The way of the wicked is as darknesse: they know not at what they stumble.

20 O My sonne, attend to my words, incline thine ear unto my sayings.

21 Let them not depart from thine eyes: keep them in the midst of thine heart.

22 For they are life unto those that finde them, and health to all their flesh.

23 Keep thy heart with all diligence: for out of it are the issues of life.

24 But away from thee a froward mouth, and perverse lips put far from thee.

25 Let thine eyes look right on, and let thine eyelids look straight before thee.

26 Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy wayes be established.

27 Turn not to the right hand nor to the left: remove thy foot from evil.

CHAP. V.

1 Solomon exhorteth to the study of wisdom. 3 He sheweth the mischief of whoredom and riot. 15 He exhorteth to continencie, liberalitie, and chastitie. 22 The wicked are overtaken with their own finnes.

M y sonne, attend unto my wisdom, and how thine ear to my understanding.

2 That thou mayest regard discretion, and that thy lips may keep knowledge.

3 For the lips of a strange woman drop as an hony-combe, and her mouth is smooth as oil.

4 But her end is bitter as wormwood, sharp as a two edged sword.

5 Her feet go down to death: her steps take hold on hell.

6 Lest thou shouldest ponder the path of life, her wayes are moveable, that thou canst not know them.

7 Hear me now therefore, O ye children, and depart not from the words of my mouth.

8 Remove thy way far from her, and come not nigh the doore of her house:

9 Lest thou give thine honour unto others, and thy yeeres unto the cruel.

10 Lest strangers be filled with thy wealth, and thy labours be in the house of a stranger,

11 And thou mourn at the last, when thy flesh and thy body are consumed, 15 I Drink waters out of thine own cistern; and running waters out of thine own well.

 16 Let thy fountains be dispersed abroad, and rivers of waters in the streets.
 17 Let them be onely thine own, and not strangers with thee.
 18 Let thy fountain be blessed: and rejoyce with the wife of thy youth.
 19 Lether be as the loving hind, and pleasant roe, let her breasts fatisfie thee at all times, and let her ravish alwayes with her love.
 20 And why wilt thou, my son, be ravisht with a strange woman, and embrace the bosom of a stranger?
 21 For the wayes of man are before the eyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his goings.
 22 His own iniquities shall take the wicked himself, and he shall be holden with the cords of his sins.
 23 He shall die without instruction, and in the greatness of his folly he shall go astray.

CHAP. VI.

1 Against suretship. 6 Idleness, 12 and mischiefousness. 16 Seven things hatefull to God. 20 The blessings of obedience. 25 The mischiefs of whoredome.

My Sonne, if thou be suretie for thy friend, if thou hast stricken thy hand with a stranger,
 2 Thou art snared with the words of thy mouth, thou art taken with the words of thy mouth.
 3 Do this now, my sonne, and deliver thy self, when thou art come into the hand of thy friend: go humble thy self, and make sure thy friend.
 4 Give not sleep to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eye-lids.
 5 Deliver thy self as a roe from the hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.
 6 Go to the ant, thou sluggard, consider her wayes, and be wise:
 7 Which having no guide, overseer, or ruler, she bowleth her meat in the summer, and gathereth her food in the harvest.
 8 How long wilt thou sleep, O sluggard? when wilt thou arise out of thy sleep?
 9 Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleep.
 10 So shall thy poverty come as one that travaileth, and thy want as an armed man.
 11 A naughty person, a wicked man, walketh with a froward mouth.
 12 He winketh with his eyes, he speaketh with his feet, he teacheth with his fingers.
 13 Frowardnesse is in his heart, he deviseth mischief continually, he is foweth discorde.
 14 Frowardnesse is in his heart, he deviseth mischief continually, he is foweth discorde.
 15 Therefore shall his calamitie come suddenly: suddenly shall he be broken without remedy.
 16 O beleeve sic things doth the Lord hate: yea, seven are an abomination unto him:
 17 A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood,
 18 An heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in running to mischief,
 19 A false witness that speaketh lies, and him that soweth discorde among brethren.

 22 When thou goest, it shall lead thee: when thou sleepest, it shall keep thee; and when thou awakest, it shall talk with thee.
 23 For the reproofment is a lamp, and the law is light; and reproofs of instruction are the way of life.
 24 To keep thee from the evil woman, from the flatterie of the tongue of a strange woman.
 25 Lust not after her beauty in thine heart; neither let her take thee with her eye-lids.
 26 For by means of a whores woman a man is brought to a piece of bread: and the adulteresse will hunt for the precious life.
 27 Can a man take fire in his bosome, and his clothes not be burnt?
 28 Can one go upon hot coals, and his feet not be burnt?
 29 So he that goeth in to his neighbours wife: whosoever toucheth her, shall not be innocent.
 30 When do not despise a thirt, if he steal to satisfie his soul when he is hungry:
 31 But if he be found, he shall restore seven-fold, he shall give all the substance of his house.
 32 But who so committeth adulterie with a woman, lacketh understanding: he that doth so, dechorteth his own soul.
 33 A wound and dishonour shall he get, and his reproach shall not be wiped away.
 34 For jealousie is the rage of a man: therefore he will not spare in the day of vengeance.
 35 He will not regard any ranome, neither will he rest content, though thou givest many gifts.

CHAP. VII.

1 Solomon perswadeth to a sincere and kinde familiarity with wisdom. 6 In an example of his own experience, he sheweth the cunning of an whore, 22 and the desperate simplicie of a young wanton. 24 He dehorteth from such wickednesse.

My sonne, keep my words, and lay up my commandments with thee.
 2 Keep my commandments, and live: and my law as the apple of thine eye.
 3 Binde them upon thy fingers, write them upon the table of thine heart.
 4 Say unto wisdom, Thou art my sister, and call understanding thy kinswoman.
 5 That they may keep thee from the strange woman, from the stranger which flattereth with her words.
 6 For at the window of my house I looked through my casement,
 7 And beheld among the simple ones, I discerned among the youths, a young man void of understanding,
 8 Passing thowth the street near her corner, and he went the way to her house,
 9 In the twilight + in the evenings, in the black and dark night:
 10 And behold, there met him a woman with the attire of an harlot, and subtil of heart.
 11 She is loud and stubborn, her feet abide not in her house.
 12 Now is she without, now in the streets, and lieth in wait at every corner.
 13 So she caught him and kissed him, and with an impudent face said unto him, 14 I have peace-offerings with me; this day have I payed my vows.
 15 Therefore came I forth to meet thee, diligently to seek thy face, and I have found thee.

19 For the good man is not at home, he is gone a long journey.

20 He hath taken a bag of money with him, and will come home at the day appointed.

21 With much fair speech she caused him to yeele, with the flattering of her lips she forced him.

22 He goeth after her straightway, as an ore goeth to the slaughter, or as a fool to the correction of the stocks.

23 Till a dart strike through his liver, as a bier halleth to the snare, and knoweth not that it is for his life.

24 Hearken unto me now therefore, O ye children, and attend to the words of my mouth.

25 Let not thy heart decline to her wayes, go not astray in her paths.

26 For she hath cast down many wounded: yea, many strong men have been slain by her.

27 Her house is the way to hell, going down to the chambers of death.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The fame, 6 and evidence of wisdom. 10 The excellency, 12 the nature, 15 the power, 18 the riches, 22 and the clemency of wisdom 32. Wisdom is to be desired for the blessednesse it bringeth.

Doth not wisdom cry? and understanding put forth her voice?

2 She standeth in the top of high places, by the way in the places of the gates.

3 She cryeth at the gates, at the entry of the citie, at the coming in at the doors.

4 Unto you, O men, I call, and my voice is to the sons of man.

5 O ye simple, understand wisdom; and ye fools, be ye of an understanding heart.

6 Hear, for I will speak of excellent things: and the opening of my lips shall be right things.

7 For my mouth shall speak truth, and wickednesse is an abomination to my lips.

8 All the words of my mouth are in righteousness, there is nothing falseward or perverse in them.

9 They are all plain to him that understandeth, and right to them that finde knowledge.

10 Receive my instructions, and not silver; and knowledge rather then choice gold.

11 For wisdom is better then rubies, and all the things that may be desired, are not to be compared to it.

12 I wisdom dwell with prudence, and finde out knowledge of witty inventions.

13 The fear of the LORD is to hate evill; pride and arrogancy, and the evil way, and the froward mouth do I hate.

14 Counsell is mine, and sound wisdom: I am understanding, I have strength.

15 By me kings reign, and princes decree justice.

16 By me princes rule, and nobles, even all the judges of the earth.

17 I love them that love me, and those that seek me early shall finde me.

18 Riches and honour are with me; yea durable riches and righteousness.

19 My fruit is better then gold; yea, then fine gold, and my revenue then choice silver.

20 I'll lead in the way of righteousness, in the midst of the paths of judgement.

21 That I may cause those that love me to inherit substance; and I will fill their treasures.

22 The LORD possessed me in the beginning of his way, before his works of old.

23 I was set up from everlasting, from the beginning, or ever the earth was.

24 When there were no depths, I was brought forth: when there were no fountains abounding with water.

25 Before the mountains were settled; before the hills, was I brought forth:

26 While as yet he had not made the earth, nor the fields, nor the highest part of the dust of the world.

27 When he prepared the heavens, I was there: when he set a compass upon the face of the depth.

28 When he established the clouds above: when he strengthened the fountains of the deep.

29 When he gave to the sea his decree, that the waters should not passe his commandment: when he appointed the foundations of the earth:

30 Then I was by him, as one brought up with him: I was daily his delight, rejoicing at always before him:

31 Rejoycing in the habitable part of his earth, and my delights were with the sons of men.

32 Now therefore hearken unto me, O ye children: for blessed are they that keep my wayes.

33 Hear instruction, and be wise, and refuse it not.

34 Blessed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, waiting at the posts of my doors.

35 For whoso findeth me, findeth life, and shall obtain favour of the LORD.

36 But he that sinneth against me, wrongeth his own soul: all they that hate me love death.

CHAP. IX.

1 The discipline, 4 and doctrine of wisdom. 13 The custome, 16 and error of folly.

Wisdom hath builded her house, she hath hewen out her seven pillars.

2 She hath killed her beasts, she hath mingled her wine: she hath also furnished her table.

3 She hath sent forth her maidens, she crieth upon the highest places of the citie.

4 Altho' is simple, let him turn in hither: as for him that wanteth understanding, he saith to him,

5 Come, eat of my bread, and drink of the wine which I have mingled.

6 For sake the foolish, and live, and go in the way of understanding.

7 He that reprobeth a scooner, getteth to himself shame: and he that rebuketh a wicked man, getteth himself a blot.

8 Reprobe not a scooner, lest he hate thee: rebuke a wise man, and he will love thee.

9 Give instruction to a wise man, and he will be yet wiser: teach a just man, and he will increase in learning.

10 The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom: and the knowledge of the holy is understanding.

11 For by me thy dayes shall be multiplied, and the years of thy life shall be increased.

12 If thou be wise, thou shalt be wife for thy self: but if thou scoonest, thou alone shalt bear it.

 16 Who so is simple, let him turn in hither: and as for him that wanteth understanding, the sayth to him, 17 Stolen waters are sweet, and bread eaten in secret is pleasant.
 18 But he knoweth not that the dead are there; and that her guests are in the depths of hell.

CHAP. X.

¶ From this chapter to the five and twentieth, are sundry observations of morall vertues, and their contrary vices.

The proverbs of Solomon: * A wise sonne maketh a glad father; but a foolish sonne is the heavinesse of his mother.
 2 * Creatures of wickednesse profit nothing: but righteousnesse delivereth from death.
 3 * The L O R D will not suffer the soul of the righteous to famish: but he casteth away the substance of the wicked.
 4 * He becometh poor, that dealeth with a slack hand: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich.
 5 He that gathereth in summer, is a wise sonne: but he that sleepeth in harvest, is a sonne that causeth shame.
 6 Blessings are upon the head of the just: but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked.
 7 * The memory of the just is blessed: but the name of the wicked shall rot.
 8 The wife in heart will receive commandments: but a prating fool shall fall.
 9 * He that walketh uprightly, walketh surely: but he that perverteth his wayes, shall be known.
 10 * He that winketh with the eye causeth sorrow: but a prating fool shall fall.
 11 * The mouth of a righteous man is a well of life: but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked.
 12 Hatred stirreth up strifes: but * love covereth all finnes.
 13 In the lips of him that hath understanding, wisdom is found: but a rod is for the back of him that is void of understanding.
 14 * All men lay up knowledge: but the mouth of the foolish is near destruction.
 15 * The rich mans wealth is his strong citie: the destruction of the poor, is their poverty.
 16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life: the fruit of the wicked to sinne.
 17 He is in the way of life that keepeth instruction: but he that refuseth reproof, shall erreth.
 18 He that hideth hatred with lying lips, and he that uttereth a slander, is a fool.
 19 In the multitude of words there wanteth not sinne: but he that refraineth his lips, is wise.
 20 The tongue of the just is as choice silver: the heart of the wicked is little worth.
 21 The lips of the righteous feed many: but fools die for want of wisdom.
 22 The blessing of the L O R D, it maketh rich, and he addeth no sorrow with it.
 23 * It is a sport to a fool to do mischief: but a man of understanding hath wisdom.
 24 The fear of the wicked, it shall come upon him: but the desire of the righteous shall be granted.
 25 As the whirlwinde passeth, so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is an everlasting foundation.

 26 As vinegar to the teeth, and as smock to the eyes, so is the sluggard to them that send him.
 27 * The fear of the L O R D is prolongeth dayes, but the years of the wicked shall be shortened.
 28 The hope of the righteous shall be gladnesse: but the expectation of the wicked shall perish.
 29 The way of the L O R D is strength to the upright: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquitie.
 30 * The righteous shall never be removed: but the wicked shall not inhabit the earth.
 31 The mouth of the just bringeth forth wisdom: but the forward tongue shall be cut out.
 32 The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable; but the mouth of the wicked speaketh forwardnesse.

CHAP. XI.

A * † False balance is abomination to the L O R D: but † a just weight is his delight.
 2 * When pride cometh, then cometh shame: but with the lowly is wisdom.
 3 * The integrity of the upright shall guide them: but the perversnesse of transgressours shall destroy them.
 4 * Riches profit not in the day of wrath: but righteousnesse delivereth from death.
 5 The righteousnesse of the perfect shall direct his way: but the wicked shall fall by his own wickednesse.
 6 The righteousnesse of the upright shall deliver them: but transgressours shall be taken in their own naughtinesse.
 7 When a wicked man dieth, his expectation shall perish: and the hope of unjust men perisheth.
 8 * The righteous is delivered out of trouble, and the wicked cometh in his stead.
 9 An * hypocrite with his mouth destroyeth his neighbour: but through knowledge shall the just be delivered.
 10 When it goeth well with the righteous, the citie rejoiceth: and when the wicked perish, there is shouting.
 11 By the blessing of the upright the citie is exalted: but it is overthrowen by the mouth of the wicked.
 12 He that is † void of wisdom, despiseth his neighbour: but a man of understanding holdeth his peace.
 13 † A tale bearer revealeth secrets: but he that is of a faithful spiritt concealeth the matter.
 14 * Where no counsell is the people fall: but in the multitude of counsellours there is safety.
 15 He that is suretie for a stranger shall smare for it: and he that hateth † suretishipp, is sure.
 16 A gracious woman retaineth honour: and strong men retain riches.
 17 The mercifull man doth good to his own soul: but he that is cruel, troubleth his own flesh.
 18 The wicked worketh a deceitfull work: but to him that soweth righteousnesse shall be a sure reward.
 19 As righteousnesse tendeth to life: so he that pursueth evil, pursueth it to his own death.
 20 They that are of a froward heart are abomination to the L O R D: but such as are upright in their way, are his delight.
 21 Though hand joy in hand, the wicked shall not be unpunished: but the seed of the righteous shall be delivered.

22 As a jewel of gold in a ſwines ſnout, ſo is a fair woman which ⁊ is without deſecration.

23 The deſire of the righteous is onely good: but the expectation of the wicked is waſh.

24 There is that ſcaterech, and yet increaſeth; and there is that withholdeth more then is meet, but it tendeth to poverty.

25 * ⁊ The liberal ſoul, ſhall be made fat: and he that watereth, ſhall be watered alſo himſelf.

26 He that withholdeth corn, the people ſhall curſe him: but bleſſing ſhall be upon the head of him that ſelleth it.

27 He that diligently ſeeketh good, procureth favour: * but he that ſeeketh miſchief, it ſhall come unto him.

28 He that truſteth in his riches, ſhall fall: but * the righteous ſhall flourish as a byaſch.

29 He that troubleth his own houſe, ſhall inherite the wind: and the fool ſhall be ſervant to the wiſe of heart:

30 The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life; and he that ⁊ winneth ſoules, is wiſe.

31 * Behold, the righteous ſhall be recompenſed in the earth: much more the wicked and the ſinner.

CHAP. XII.

Whoſo loveth inſtruction, loveth know- ledge: but he that hateth reproof, is brutiſh.

1 A good man obtaineth favour of the LORD: but a man of wicked deviſes will be condemn.

2 A man ſhall not be eſtabliſhed by wicked- neſſe: but the * root of the righteous ſhall not be moved.

3 A vertuous woman is a crown to her huſ- band: but ſhe that maketh aſhamed, is as rotten- neſſe in his houſe.

4 The thoughts of the righteous are right: but the counſells of the wicked are deceit.

5 * The words of the wicked are to ſie in wait for blood: but the mouth of the upright ſhall deli- ver them.

6 The wicked are overthrow, and are not, but the houſe of the righteous ſhall ſtand.

7 A man ſhall be commended according to his wiſdom: but he that is ⁊ of a perverſe heart ſhall be deſpiſed.

8 He that is deſpiſed and hath a ſervant, is better then he that honoureth himſelf, and lacketh bread.

9 A righteous man regardeth the life of his beaſt: but the ⁊ tender mercies of the wicked are cruell.

10 * He that tilleth his land, ſhall be ſatisfied with bread; but he that followeth vain perſons is void of underſtanding.

11 The wicked deſireth ⁊ the net of evil men: but the root of the righteous yieldeth fruit.

12 * The wicked is ſnared by the tranſgreſ- ſion of his lips: but the juſt ſhall come out of trouble.

13 A man ſhall be ſatisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth, and the recompence of a mans hands ſhall be enjoyed unto him.

14 * The way of a fool is right in his own eyes: but he that hearkeneth unto counſell is wiſe.

15 A fools waſh is ⁊ preſently known: but a prudent man covereth ſhame.

16 He that ſpeaketh truth, ſheweth forth righ- teouſneſſe: but a falſe witneſſe, deceit.

17 * There is that ſpeaketh like the piercings of a ſword: but the tongue of the wiſe is heath.

18 The lip of truth ſhall be eſtabliſhed for ever: but a lying tongue is but for a moment.

19 Deceit is in the heart of them that imagine evil: but to the counſellers of peace is ſoy.

20 * There ſhall no evil happen to the juſt: but the wicked ſhall be filled with miſchief.

21 Lying lips are abomination to the LORD: but they that deal truly are his delight.

22 * A prudent man concealeth knowledge: but the heart of fools proclaimeth fooliſneſſe.

23 * The hand of the diligent ſhall bear rule; but the ⁊ ſlothfull ſhall be under tribute.

24 The righteous is more ⁊ excellent then his neighbour: but the way of the wicked ſeduceth them.

25 * The ſlothfull man roſteth not that which he took in hunting: but the ſubſtance of a diligent man is precious.

26 In the way of righteousneſſe is life, and in the path-way thereof there is no death.

CHAP. XIII.

A wife ſonne heareth his fathers inſtruction: but a ſcoyner heareth not rebuke.

1 * A man ſhall eat good by the fruit of his mouth: but the ſoul of the tranſgreſſours ſhall eat violence.

2 He that keepeth his mouth, keepeth his life: but he that openeth wide his lips, ſhall have deſtruction.

3 The ſoul of the ſluggard deſireth, and hath nothing: but the ſoul of the diligent ſhall be made fat.

4 A righteous man hateth lying: but a wicked man is lockſome, and cometh to ſhame.

5 * Righteouſneſſe keepeth him that is upright in the way: but wickedneſſe overthroweth ⁊ the ſinner.

6 There is that maketh himſelf rich, yet hath nothing: there is that maketh himſelf poor, yet hath great riches.

7 The ranſome of a mans life are his riches: but the poor heareth not rebuke.

8 The light of the righteous rejoyceth: * but the ⁊ lamp of the wicked ſhall be put out.

9 Only by pride cometh contention: but with the well adviſed is wiſdom.

10 * Wealth gotten by vanity, ſhall be diſmi- niſhed: but he that gathereth ⁊ by labour ſhall increaſe.

11 Hope deferred maketh the heart ſick: but when the deſire cometh, it is a tree of life.

12 Whoſo deſpiſeth the word, ſhall be deſtroy- ed: but he that ſearcheth the commandment, ⁊ ſhall be rewarded.

13 * The law of the wiſe is a fountain of life, to depart from the ſnare of death.

14 Good underſtanding giveth favour: but the way of tranſgreſſours is hard.

15 * Every prudent man dealeth with know- ledge: but a fool ⁊ layeth open his folly.

16 A wicked meſſenger ſaſteth into miſchief: but a faithfull ambaffadour is health.

17 Poverty and ſhame ſhall be to him that reſu- ſeth inſtruction: but he that regardeth reproof, ſhall be honoured.

18 The deſire accompliſhed is ſweet to the ſoul: but it is abomination to ſouls to depart from evil.

19 He that walketh with wiſe men, ſhall be wiſe: but a companion of fools ⁊ ſhall be deſtroyed.

20 Evil purſeth ſinners: but to the righteous good ſhall be repayed.

CHAP. XIII.

E very wise woman buildeth her house: but the foolish plucketh it down with her hands.
2 He that walketh in his uprightness, feareth the LORD: but he that is perverse in his wayes, despiseth him.
3 In the mouth of the foolish is a rod of pride, but the lips of the wise shall preserve them.
4 Where no oren are, the crib is clean: but much increase is by the strength of the ox.
5 * A faithfull witness will not lie: but a false witness will utter lies.
6 A scorner seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not: but knowledge is easie unto him that understandeth.
7 Go from the presence of a foolish man, when thou perceivest not in him the lips of knowledge.
8 The wisdom of the prudent is to understand his way: but the folly of fools is deceit.
9 * Fools make a mock at sime: but among the righteous there is favour.
10 The heart knoweth his own bitterness: and a stranger doth not intermeddle with his joy.
11 The house of the wicked shall be overthrowen: but the tabernacle of the upright shall flourish.

13 Even in laughter the heart is sorrowfull: and the end of that mirth is heavinesse.
14 The backslider in heart shall be filled with his own wayes: and a good man shall be satisfied from himselfe.
15 The simple beleeveth every word: but the prudent man looketh well to his going.
16 A wise man feareth, and departeth from evill: but the fool rageth and is confident.
17 He that is soon angry dealeth foolishly: and a man of wicked devices is hated.
18 The simple inherit folly: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.
19 The evil bow before the good, and the wicked at the gates of the righteous.
20 * The poor is hated even of his own neighbour: but the rich hath many friends.
21 He that despiseth his neighbour, sinneth: but he that hath mercy on the poor, happy is he.
22 Do they not erre that devise evill? but mercy and ruth shall be to them that devise good.
23 In all labour there is profit: but the talk of the lips tendeth only to penury.
24 The crown of the wise is their riches: but the foolishness of foolles is folly.
25 * A true witness delivereth souls, but a deceitfull witness speaketh lies.
26 In the fear of the LORD wisdom is strong confidence: and his children shall have a place of refuge.
27 * The fear of the LORD is a fountain of life, to depart from the snares of death.

32 The wicked is driven away in his wickedness: but the righteous hath hope in his death.
33 Wisdom resteth in the heart: of him that hath understanding: but that which is in the midst of fools is made known.

CHAP. XV.

A soft answer turneth away wrath: but grievous words stirre up anger.
2 The tongue of the wise useth knowledge aright: but the mouth of fools poureth out foolishnesse.
3 * The eyes of the LORD are in every place, beholding the evil and the good.
4 * A wholesome tongue is a tree of life: but perversnesse therein is a breach in the spirit.
5 * A fool despiseth his fathers instruction: but he that regardeth reproof, is prudent.
6 In the house of the righteous is much treasure: but in the revenues of the wicked is trouble.
7 The lips of the wise dispense knowledge: but the heart of the foolish doth not so.
8 * The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to the LORD: but the prayer of the upright is his delight.
9 The way of the wicked is an abomination unto the LORD: but he loveth him that followeth after righteousness.
10 Correction is grievous unto him that forsaketh the way: and he that hateth reproof shall die.
11 * Hell and destruction are before the LORD: how much more then the hearts of the children of men?
12 A scorner loveth not one that reproveth him: neither will he go unto the wise.
13 * A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance: but by sorrow of the heart, the spirit is broken.
14 The heart of him that hath understanding, seeketh knowledge: but the mouth of fools feedeth on foolishnesse.
15 All the dayes of the afflicted are evill: but he that is of a merry heart hath a continual feast.
16 * Better is little with the fear of the LORD, then great treasure, and trouble therewith.
17 * Better is a dinner of herbs where love is, then a stalled ox, and hated therewith.
18 * A wrathfull man stirreth up strife: but he that is slow to anger appealeth strife.
19 The way of the slothfull man is as a hedge of thorns: but the way of the righteous is made plain.
20 * A wise sonne maketh a glad father: but a foolish man despiseth his mother.
21 * Folly is joy to him that is destitute of wisdom: but a man of understanding walketh uprightly.
22 * Without counsell purposes are disappointed: but in the multitude of counsellours they are established.

27 He that is greedy of gain, troubleth his own house; but he that hateth gifts shall live.

28 The heart of the righteous studieth to answer; but the mouth of the wicked poureth out evil things.

29 * The LORD is farre from the wicked: but he heareth the prayer of the righteous.

30 The light of the eyes rejoiceth the heart: and a good report maketh the bones fat.

31 The ear that heareth the reproof of life, abideth among the wise.

32 He that refuseth instruction, despiseth his own soul: but he that heareth reproof, & getteth understanding.

33 The fear of the LORD is the instruction of wisdom; and before honour is humility.

CHAP. XVI.

The * preparations of the heart in man, and the answer of the tongue is from the LORD.

2 * All the waves of a man are clean in his own eyes, but the LORD weigheth the spirits.

3 * Count thy works unto the LORD, and thy thoughts shall be established.

4 The LORD hath made all things for himself: yea even the wicked for the day of evil.

5 * Every one that is proud in heart, is an abomination to the LORD: though hand joyn in hand, he shall not be unpunished.

6 By mercy and truth iniquity is purged; and by the fear of the LORD, men depart from evil.

7 When a mans ways please the LORD, he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him.

8 * Better is a little with righteousness, then great revenues without right.

9 * A mans heart deviseth his way: but the LORD directeth his steps.

10 † A divine sentence is in the lips of the king: his mouth transgresseth not in judgement.

11 * A just weight and balance are the LORDS: † all the weights of the bag are his work.

12 It is an abomination to kings to commit wickedness: for the throne is established by righteousness.

13 Righteous lips are the delight of kings: and they love him that speaketh right.

14 The way of a king is as messengers of death, but a wise man will pacifie it.

15 In the light of the kings countenance is life, and * his favour is as a cloud of the latter rain.

16 * How much better is it to get wisdom, then gold: and to get understanding, rather to be chosen then silver?

17 The high way of the upright is to depart from evil: he that keepeth his way, preserveth his soul.

18 * Hide goeth before destruction: and an haughty spirit before a fall.

19 Better it is to be of an humble spirit with the lowly, then to divide the spoil with the proud.

22 * Understanding is a well-spring of life unto him that hath it: but the instruction of fools is folly.

23 The heart of the wise & teacheth his mouth, and addeth learning to his lips.

24 Pleasant words are as a honey-combe, sweet to the soul, and healthy to the bones.

25 * There is a way that seemeth right unto a man: but the end thereof are the ways of death.

26 † He that laboureth, laboureth for himself: for his mouth & eateth it of him.

27 † An ungodly man diggeth up evil: and in his lips there is as a burning fire.

28 * A froward man & soweth strife, and a whisperer separateth chief friends.

29 A violent man enticeth his neighbour, and leadeth him into the way that is not good.

30 He shutteth his eyes to devise froward things: moving his lips he bringeth evil to passe.

31 The hoary head is a crown of glory, if it be found in the way of righteousness.

32 He that is slow to anger, is better then the mightie: and he that ruleth his spirit, then he that taketh a city.

33 The lot is cast into the lap: but the whole disposing thereof is of the LORD.

CHAP. XVII.

Better is * a dyle morsel, and quietnesse there with, then a house full of sacrifices with strife.

2 A wise servant shall have rule over a sonne that emulseth shame: and shall have part of the inheritance among the brethren.

3 * The sining pot is of silver, and the furnace for gold: but the LORD trieth the hearts.

4 A wicked doer giveth heed to false lips: and a liar giveth ear to a naughty tongue.

5 * Whoso mocketh the poor, reproacheth his maker: and he that is glad at calamities, shall not be unpunished.

6 * Childrens children are the crown of old men; and the glory of children are their fathers.

7 † Excellent speech becometh not a fool: much lesse do † lying lips a prince.

8 * A gift is as † a precious stone in the eyes of him that hath it: whithersoever he turneth, it prospereth.

9 * He that covereth a transgression, † seeketh love; but he that repeateth a matter, separateth very friends.

10 † A reproof enticeth more into a wise man, then an hundred stripes into a fool.

11 An evil man seeketh onely rebellion, therefore a cruel messenger shall be sent against him.

12 Let a bear robbed of her whelps meet a man, rather then a fool in his folly.

13 Whoso * rewardeth evil for good, evil shall not depart from his house.

14 The beginning of strife is as when one letteth out water: therefore leave off contention, before it be medled with.

15 * He that justifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the just, even they both are abomination to the LORD.

16 Therefore is there a price in the hand of a fool to get wisdom, seeing he hath no heart to it.

† Heb. heart.

19 He loveth transgression that loveth strife : and he that exalteth his gate, seeketh destruction.

20 He that hath a forward heart, findeth no good : and he that hath a perverse tongue falleth into mischief.

21 He that begetteth a fool, doth it to his sorrow : and the father of a fool hath no joy.

22 A merry heart doth good like a medicine : but a broken spirit drieth the bones.

23 A wicked man taketh a gift out of the bosome to pervert the wayes of iudgement.

24 Wisdom is before him that hath understanding : but the eyes of a fool are in the ends of the earth.

25 A foolish sonne is a grief to his father, and bitterness to her that bare him.

26 Also to punish the iust is not good, nor to strike princes for equitie.

27 He that hath knowledge, spareth his words : and a man of understanding is of an excellent spirit.

28 Even a fool, when he holdeth his peace is counted wise : and he that shutteth his lips, is esteemed a man of understanding.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Though desire a man having separated himself, seeketh and intermedleth with all wisdom.

2 A fool hath no delight in understanding, but that his heart may discover it self.

3 When the wicked cometh, then cometh also contempt, and with ignominie reproach.

4 The words of a mans mouth are as deep waters, and the well-spring of wisdom as a flowing brook.

5 It is not good to accept the person of the wicked, to overthrow the righteous in iudgement.

6 A fools lips enter into contention, and his mouth calleth for strokes.

7 A fools mouth is his destruction, and his lips are the snare of his soul.

8 The words of a tale-bearer are as wounds, and they go down into the innermost parts of the belly.

9 He also that is slothfull in his work, is brother to him that is a great waster.

10 The name of the LORD is a strong tower : the righteous runneth into it, and is safe.

11 The rich mans wealth is his strong citie : and as an high wall in his own conceit.

12 Before destruction the heart of man is haughty, and before honour is humilitie.

13 He that answereth a matter before he heareth it, it is folly and shame unto him.

14 The spirit of a man will sustain his infirmities : but a wounded spirit who can bear?

15 The heart of the prudent getteth knowledge; and the ear of the wise seeketh knowledge.

16 A mans gift maketh room for him, and bringeth him before great men.

17 He that is stiff in his own cause, seemeth iust, but his neighbour cometh and searcheth him.

18 The lot causeth contentions to cease, and parteth between the mighty.

19 A brother offended is harder to be wonne then a strong city : and their contentions are like the barres of a castle.

20 A mans belly shall be satisfied with the fruit of his mouth; and with the increase of his lips shall he be filled.

21 Death and life are in the power of the tongue; and they that love it, shall eat the fruit thereof.

22 Who so findeth a wife, findeth a good thing, and obtaineth favour of the LORD.

23 The poor useth intreaties, but the rich answereth roughly.

24 A man that hath friends, must shew himself friendly : and there is a friend that sticketh closer then a brother.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Better is the poor that walketh in his integrity, then he that is perverse in his lips, and is a fool.

2 Also, that the soul be without knowledge, it is not good; and he that hakerh with his feet, stumbleth.

3 The foolishnesse of man perverteth his way : and his heart fretteth against the LORD.

4 Wealth maketh many friends; but the poor is separated from his neighbour.

5 A false witness shall not be unpunished, and he that speaketh lies shall not escape.

6 Many will increat the favour of the prince; and every man is a friend to him that giveth gifts.

7 All the brethren of the poor do hate him; how much more do his friends go farre from him : he pursueth them with words, yet they are wanting to him.

8 He that getteth wisdom, loveth his own soul : he that keepeth understanding, shall finde good.

9 A false witness shall not be unpunished, and he that speaketh lies, shall perish.

10 Delight is not seemly for a fool : much lesse for a servant to have rule over princes.

11 The discretion of a man deferreth his anger, and it is his glory to passe over a transgression.

12 The kings wrath is as the roaring of a lion; but his favour is as dew upon the graske.

13 A foolish sonne is the calamity of his father; and the contentions of a wife are a continual dropping.

14 House and riches are the inheritance of fathers; and a prudent wife is from the LORD.

15 Slothfullnesse catcheth into a deep sleep; and an idle soul shall suffer hunger.

16 He that keepeth the commandment, keepeth his own soul; but he that despiseth his wayes shall die.

17 He that hath pity upon the poor, lendeth unto the LORD; and that which he hath given, will he pay him again.

18 Chasten thy son while there is hope, and let not thy soul spare for his crying.

19 A man of great wrath shall suffer punishment : for if thou deliver him, yet thou must do it again.

20 Heare counsel, and receive instruction, that thou mayest be wise in thy latter end.

21 There are many devices in a mans heart; nevertheless the counsel of the LORD, that shall stand.

22 The desire of man is his kindnesse : and a good man is better then a liar.

23 The fear of the LORD tendeth to life, and he that hath it shall abide satisfied : he shall not be visited with evil.

24 A slothfull man hideth his hand in his bosome, and will not so much as bring it to his mouth again.

25 Smite a scorner, and the simple will beware; and reprove one that hath understanding, and he will understand knowledge.

26 He that wasteth his father, and chasterh away his mother, is a sonne that causeth shame, and bringeth reproach.

CHAP. XX.

Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging: and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise.

2 * The fear of a king is as the roaring of a lion: whofoe provoketh him to anger, sinneth against his own soul.

3 It is an honour for a man to cease from strife: but every fool will be meddling.

4 * The sluggard will not plow by reason of the cold; therefore shall he beg in harvest, and have nothing.

5 * Counsell in the heart of man is like deep water: but a man of understanding will draw it out.

6 Hoast men will proclaim every one his own goodnesse: but a faithfull man who can finde?

7 The just man walketh in his integrity: * his children are blessed after him.

8 A king that sitteth in the throne of judgement, scattereth away all evill with his eyes.

9 * Who can say, I have made my heart clean, I am pure from my sinne?

10 * † Divers weights, and † divers measures, lord of them are alike abomination unto the LORD.

11 When a childe is known by his doings, whether his work be pure, and whether it be right.

12 * The hearing ear, and the seeing eye, the LORD hath made even both of them.

13 * Love not sleep, lest thou come to poverty: open thine eyes, and thou shalt be satisfied with bread.

14 It is nought, it is nought (saith the buyer) but when he is gone his way, then he boasteth.

15 There is gold, and a multitude of rubies: but the lips of knowledge are a precious jewel.

16 * Take his garment that is surety for a stranger: and take a pledge of him for a strange woman.

17 * † Bread of deceit is sweet to a man: but afterwards his mouth shall be filled with gravel.

18 * Every purpose is established by counsell: and with good advice make warre.

19 * He that goeth about as a tale-bearer, revealeth secrets: therefore meddle not with him thac † flattereth with his lips.

20 * Whoso curseth his father or his mother, his † layn shall be put out in obscure darkness.

21 An inheritance may be gotten hastily at the beginning: but the end thereof shall not be blessed.

22 * Say not thou, I will recompense evill: but wait on the LORD, and he shall save thee.

23 * Divers weights are an abomination unto the LORD: and † a false balance is not good.

24 * Vans goings are of the LORD, how can a man then understand his own way?

25 It is a snare to the man who devoureth that which is holy: and after vows to make enquiry.

26 * A wise king scattereth the wicked, and bringeth the wheel over them.

27 The spirit of man is the † candle of the LORD, searching all the inward parts of the belly.

28 * Mercy and truth preserve the king: and his throne is upholden by mercy.

29 The glory of young men is their strength: and * the beauty of old men is the gray head.

30 The bluenesse of a wound † cleanseth away evill: so do stripes the inward parts of the belly.

CHAP. XXI.

The kings heart is in the hand of the LORD, as the rivers of water: he turneth it whichever soever he will.

2 * Every way of a man is right in his own eyes: but the LORD pondereth the hearts.

3 * To do justice and judgement, is more acceptable to the LORD then sacrifice.

4 * † An high look, and a proud heart, and † the plowing of the wicked, is sinne.

5 The thoughts of the diligent tend onely to plentifulnesse: but of every one that is hasty, onely to want.

6 * The getting of treasures by a lying tongue, is a vanity tossed to and fro of them that seek death.

7 The robbery of the wicked shall † destroy them: because they refused to do judgement.

8 The way of man is froward and strange: but as for the pure, his way is right.

9 * It is better to dwell in a corner of the house top, then with † a bawling woman in † a wide house.

10 * The soul of the wicked desireth evill: his neighbour † findeth no favour in his eyes.

11 * When the scooner is punished, the simple is made wise: and when the wise is intenced, he receiveth knowledge.

12 The righteous man wisely considereth the house of the wicked: but God overthroweth the wicked for their wickednesse.

13 * Whoso stoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor, he also shall celeb himself, but shall not be heard.

14 * A gift in secret pacifieth anger: and a reward in the bosome, strong wrath.

15 It is joy to the just to do judgement: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquitie.

16 The man that wandereth out of the way of understanding, shall remain in the congregation of the dead.

17 He that loveth † pleasure, shall be a poor man: he that loveth wine and oyl, shall not be rich.

18 * The wicked shall be a ransom for the righteous; and the transgressor for the upright.

19 * It is better to dwell † in the wilderness, then with † a contentious and an angry woman.

20 There is a treasure to be desired, and oyl in the dwelling of the wise: but a foolish man spendeth it up.

21 He that followeth after righteousness and mercy, findeth life, righteousness and honour.

22 * A wise man scaleth the city of the mighty, and casteth down the strength of the confidence thereof.

23 * Whoso keepeth his mouth and his tongue, keepeth his soul from troubles.

24 Proud and haughty scooner is his name, who dealeth † in proud wrath.

25 The desire of the slothfull killeth him: for his hands refuse to labour.

26 We coveteth greedily all the day long: but the * righteous giveth, and spareth not.

27 * The sacrifice of the wicked is abomination: how much more, when he bringeth it † with a wicked minde?

28 * † A false witness shall perish: but the man that beareth, speaketh constantly.

29 A wicked man hardeneth his face: but as for the upright, he † directeth his way.

CHAP. XXIII.

BE not thou * envious against evil men, neither desire to be with them.

2 For their heart studieth destruction, and their lips talk of mischief.

3 Through wisdom is an house builded, and by understanding it is established:

4 And by knowledge shall the chambers be filled with all precious and pleasaunt riches.

5 A wise man † is strong, yea, a man of knowledge † increaseth strength.

6 For by wise counsell thou shalt make thy way: and in multitude of counsellors there is safety.

7 Wisdom is too high for a fool: he openeth not his mouth in the gate.

8 He that deviseth to do evil, shall be called a mischiefous person.

9 The thought of foolishness is sinne: and the scorner is an abomination to men.

10 If thou faint in the day of adversity, thy strength is † small.

11 If thou forsake to deliver them that are drawn unto death, and those that are ready to be slain:

12 If thou sayest, Behold, we knew it not: doth not he that pondereth the heart consider it? and he that keepeth thy soul, doth not he know it? and shall not he render to every man * according to his works?

13 Honour, eat thou honey, because it is good, and the honey-comb, which is sweet † to thy taste.

14 So shall the knowledge of wisdom be unto thy soul, when thou hast found it, * then there shall be a reward, and thy expectation shall not be cut off.

15 Lay not wait (O wicked man) against the dwelling of the righteous: spoil not his resting place.

16 For a just man falleth seven times, and riseth up again: but the wicked shall fall into mischief.

17 Rejoyce not when thine enemy falleth, and let not thine heart be glad when he stumblcth:

18 Lest the L O R D see it, and † it displease him, and he turn away his wrath from him.

19 If † free not thy self because of evil men, neither be thou envious at the wicked.

20 For there shall be no reward to the evil man, * the † candle of the wicked shall be put out.

21 Honour, fear thou the L O R D, and the king: and in middle note † with them that are given to change.

22 For their calamity shall rise suddenly, and who knoweth the cruine of them both?

23 These things also belong to the wise, * It is not good to have respect of persons in judgement.

24 He that saith unto the wicked, Thou art righteous; him shall the people curse, nations shall abhorre him.

25 But to them that rebuke him shall be delight, and † a good blessing shall come upon them.

26 Every man shall kiss his lips † that giveth a right answer.

27 Prepare thy work without, and make it fit for thy self in the field, and afterwards build thine house.

28 Be not a witness against thy neighbour without cause: and deceive not with thy lips.

29 Say not, I will do so to him as he hath done to me: I will render to the man according to his work.

30 I went by the field of the slothfull, and by the vineyard of the man void of understanding:

31 And so, it was all grown over with thorns, and nettles had covered the face thereof, and the stone wall thereof was broken down.

32 Then I saw, and † I considered it well: I looked upon it, and received instruction.

33 Yea a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleep:

34 So shall thy poverty come, as one that travaileth; and thy want as † an armed man.

1 Observations about kings, 8 and about avoiding causes of quarrels, and sundry causes thereof.

These are also proverbs of Solomon, which the men of Hezekiah king of Judah copied out.

2 It is the glory of God to conceal a thing: but the honour of kings is to search out a matter.

3 The heaven for height, and the earth for depth, and the heart of kings † is unsearchable.

4 Take away the droisse from the silver, and there shall come forth a vessel for the finer.

5 Take away the wicked from before the king, and his throne shall be established in righteousness.

6 Dut not forth thy self in the presence of the king, and stand not in the place of great men.

7 For better it is that it be said unto thee, Come up hither: then that thou shouldst be put lower in the presence of the prince whom thine eyes have seen.

8 Do not go forth hastily to strive, lest thou know not what to do in the end thereof, when thy neighbour hath put thee to shame.

9 Debate thy cause with thy neighbour himself; and † discover not a secret to another:

10 Lest he that heareth it, put thee to shame, and thine infamy turn not away.

11 A word † fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver.

12 As an ear-ring of gold, and an ornament of fine gold, so is a wise reprovder upon an obedient ear.

13 As the cold of snow in the time of harvest, so is a faithfull messenger to them that send him: for he refresheth the soul of his masters.

14 Hold holdest himself † of a false gift, is like clouds and winde without rain.

15 By long forbearing is a prince perswaded, and a soft tongue breaketh the bone.

16 Hast thou found honey? eat so much as is sufficient for thee, lest thou be filled therewith, and vomit it.

17 Draw thy foot from thy neighbours house: lest he be † weary of thee, and so bare thee.

18 A man that beareth false witness against his neighbour, is a man, and a word, and a waep arrow.

19 Confidence in an unfaithfull man in time of trouble, is like a broken tooth, and a foot out of soyn.

20 As he that taketh away a garment in cold weather, and as vinegar upon nitre: so is he that singeth songs to a heavy heart.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 Observations about fools, 13 about sluggards, 17 and about contentious busy-bodies.

As snow in summer, and as rain in harvest: so honour is not seemly for a fool.
2 As the bird by wandering, as the swallow by flying, so the curse causelesse shall not come.
3 * A whip for the horse, a bridle for the asse, and a rod for the fools back.
4 Answer not a fool according to his folly, lest thou also be like unto him.
5 Answer a fool according to his folly, lest he be wise in his own conceit.
6 He that leadeth a message by the hand of a fool, cutteth off the feet, and drinketh // damage.
7 The legs of the same ¶ are not equall: so is a parable in the mouth of fools.
8 ¶ As he that bindeth a stone in a sling: so is he that giveth honour to a fool.
9 As a thorn goeth up into the hand of a drunkard, so is a parable in the mouth of fools.
10 ¶ The great God that formed all things, both rewardeth the fool, and rewardeth transgressours.
11 * As a dog returneth to his vomit, so a fool ¶ returneth to his folly.
12 Seek thou a man wise in his own conceit? there is more hope of a fool then of him.
13 * The slothfull man saith, There is a lion in the way, a lion in the streets.
14 As the dooz turneth upon his hinges, so doth the slothfull upon his bed.
15 * The slothfull hideth his hand in his bosome, // he grieveth him to bring it again to his mouth.
17 The sluggard is wiser in his own conceit, then seven men that can render a reason.
17 He that passeth by, and // meddeth with strife belonging not to him, is like one that taketh a dog by the ears.
18 As a mad man who casteth ¶ fire-brands, arrows, and death:
19 So is the man that deceiveth his neighbour, and saith, Am not I in sport?
20 ¶ Where no wood is, there the fire goeth out: so * where there is no // tale-bearer, the strife ¶ ceaseth.
21 * As coals are to burning coals, and wood to fire; so is a contentious man to kindle strife.
22 * The words of a tale-bearer are as wounds, and they go down into the ¶ innermost parts of the belly.

26 ¶ Whose hatred is covered by deceit, his wickednesse shall be shewed before the whole congregation.
27 * Whoso diggeth a pit, shall fall therein: and he that collecth a stone, it will return upon him.
28 A lying tongue hateth those that are afflicted by it, and a flattering mouth worketh ruine.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Observations of self love, 5 of true love, 11 of care to avoid offences, 23 and of the household care.

* Bcast not thy self off to morrow: for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.
2 Let another man praise thee, and not thine own mouth: so a stranger, and not thine own lips.
3 A stone is ¶ heavy, and the sand weighty: but a fools wrath is heavier then them both.
4 ¶ Wrath is cruell, and anger is outrageous; but who is able to stand before // envie?
5 When rebuke is better then secret love.
6 * Faithfull are the wounds of a friend: but the kisses of an enemy are // deceitfull.
7 The full soul ¶ loatheth an hony-comb: but * to the hungry soul every bitter thing is sweet.
8 As a bird that wandereth from her nest: so is a man that wandereth from his place.
9 Dintment and perfume rejoyce the heart: so doth the docerinesse of a mans friend ¶ by hearty counsel.
10 Thine own friend and thy fathers friend forsake not: neither go into thy brothers house in the day of thy calamity: for * better is a neighbour that is near, then a brother far off.
11 * My son, be wise, and make my heart glad, that I may answer him that reproacheth me.
12 * A prudent man foreseeth the evil, and hideth himself: but the simple passe on, and are punished.
13 * Take his garment that is surety for a stranger, and take a pledge of him for a strange woman.
14 He that blesseth his friend with a loud voice, rising early in the morning, it shall be counted a curse to him.
15 * A continuall dropping in a very rainy day, and a contentious woman are alike.
16 Whosoever hideth her, hideth the winde, and the ointment of his right hand, which betrayeth it self.
17 Iron sharpeneth iron, so a man sharpeneth the countenance of his friend.
18 Whoso keepeth the fig-tree, shall eat the fruit thereof: so he that waiteth on his master shall be honoured.
19 As in water face answereth to face: so the heart of man to man.
20 Hell and destruction are ¶ never full: so * the eyes of man are never satisfied.
21 * As the sining pot for silver, and the sornace for gold; so is a man to his praise.
22 Though thou shouldst buy a fool in a market among wheat with a pesterill, yet will not his foolishnesse depart from him.
23 Be thou diligent to know the state of thy flocks, and ¶ look well to thy herds.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Generall observations of impiety and religious integrity.

The wicked flee when no man pursueth: but the righteous are bold as a lion.

2 For the transgression of a land, many are the princes thereof: but // by a man of understanding and knowledge the state thereof shall be prolonged.

3 A poor man that oppresseth the poor, is like a weeping rain // which leaveth no food.

4 They that forsake the law, praise the wicked: but (such as keep the law, contend with them.

5 Evil men understand not judgement: but they that seek the LORD, understand all things.

6 * Better is the poor that walketh in his uprightness, then he that is perverse in his wayes, though he be rich.

7 * Whoso keepeth the law, is a wise sonne: but he that // is a companion of riotous men, shameth his father.

8 * He that by usury and // unjust gain increaseth his substance, he shall gather it for him that will pisse the poor.

9 He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer shall be abomination.

10 * Whoso causeth the righteous to go astray in an evil way, he shall fall himself into his own pit: but the upright shall have good things in possession.

11 The rich man is wise // in his own conceit: but the poor that hath understanding searcheth him out.

12 * When righteous men do rejoyce, there is great glory: but when the wicked rise, a man is // hidden.

13 * He that covereth his sins shall not prosper: but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy.

14 Happy is the man that feareth alway: * but he that hardeneth his heart, shall fall into mischief.

15 As a roaring lion, and a ranging bear; so is a wicked ruler over the poor people.

16 The prince that wanteth understanding, is also a great oppressour: but he that hateth covetousnesse, shall prolong his dayes.

17 * A man that doth violence to the blond of any person, shall see to the pit, let no man stay him.

18 * Whoso walketh uprightly, shall be saved: but he that is perverse in his wayes, shall fall at once.

19 * He that tilleth his land shall have plenty of bread: but he that followeth after vain persons, shall have poverty enough.

20 A faithfull man shall abound with blessings: * but he that maketh haste to be rich, shall not be // innocent.

21 * To have respect of persons, is not good: for, for a piece of bread man will transgresse.

22 // He that hasteth to be rich, hath an evil eye, and considereth not that poverty shall come upon him.

23 * He that rebuketh a man, afterwards shall finde more favour then he that flattereth with the tongue.

24 Whoso robbeth his father or his mother, and saith, it is no transgression: the same is the companion of // a destroyer.

25 * He that is of a proud heart, stirreth up strife: but he that putteth his trust in the LORD, shall be made far.

26 He that trusteth in his own heart, is a fool: but whoso walketh wisely, he shall be delivered.

27 * He that giveth unto the poor, shall not lack: but he that hideth his eyes, shall have many a curse.

28 * When the wicked rise, men hide themselves: but when they perish, the righteous increase.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Observations of publike government, 15 and of private, 22 Of anger, pride, the very cowardise, and corruption.

The that being often reprobed, hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy.

2 * When the righteous are // in authority, the people rejoyce: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn.

3 * Whoso loveth wisdom, rejoyceth his father: * but he that keepeth company with harlots, spendeth his substance.

4 The king by judgement stablisheth the land: but // he that receiveth gifts, overthroweth it.

5 A man that flattereth his neighbour, // spreadeth a net for his feet.

6 In the transgression of an evil man there is a snare: but the righteous doth sing and rejoyce.

7 * The righteous considereth the cause of the poor: but the wicked regardeth not to know it.

8 Scornfull men // bring a city into a snare: but wise men turn away wrath.

9 If a wise man contendeth with a foolish man, whether he rage or laugh, there is no rest.

10 // The blood-thirsty hate the upright: but the just seek his soul.

11 A fool uttereth all his mind: but a wise man keepeth it in till afterwards.

12 If a ruler hearken to lies, all his servants are wicked.

13 * The poor and // the deceitfull man meet together: the LORD // lighteneth both their eyes.

14 * The king that faithfully judgeth the poor, his throne shall be established for ever.

15 * The rod and reproof give wisdom: but a // childe left to himself, bringeth his mother to shame.

16 When the wicked are multiplied, transgression increaseth: * but the righteous shall see their fall.

17 * Correct thy son, and he shall give thee rest: yea, he shall give delight unto thy soul.

18 Where there is no vision, the people // perish: but he that keepeth the law, happy is he.

19 A servant will not be corrected by words: for though he understand, he will not answer.

20 See thou a man that is // bawdy // to his words: there is more hope of a fool then of him.

21 He that delicately bringeth up his servant from a childe, shall have him become his son at the length.

22 * An angry man stirreth up strife, and a furious man aboundeth in transgression.

23 * A mans pride shall bring him low: but // honour shall uphold the humble in spirit.

24 Whoso is partner with a thief, hateth his own soul: he beareth cursing, and he will not be // delivered.

25 The fear of man bringeth a snare: but // whoso putteth his trust in the LORD, // shall be safe.

7 Two things have I required of thee, † denie me them not before I die.

8 Remove far from me vauitie and lies; give me neither povertye nor riches, * feed me with food † convenient for me;

9 * Lest I be full, and † denie thee, and say, Who is the LORD? or lest I be poor, and steal, and take the name of my God in vain.

10 † Accuse not a servant unto his master, lest he curse thee, and thou be found guilty.

11 There is a generation that curseth their father, and doth not blesse their mother.

12 There is a generation that are pure in their own eyes, and yet is not washed from their filthinesse.

13 There is a generation, O how * lofty are their eyes! and their eye-lids are lifted up.

14 * There is a generation, whose teeth are as swords, and their jaw-teeth as knives, to devour the poor from off the earth, and the needy scioin among men.

15 The horseleach hath two daughters, crying, Give, give. There are three things that are never satisfied, yea, four things say not, † It is enough;

16 The grave, and the barren wombe, the earth that is not filled with water, and the fire that saith not, It is enough.

17 The eye that mocketh at his father, and despiseth to obey his mother, the ravens of the valley shall pick it out, and the young eagles shall eat it.

18 There be three things which are too wonderful for me; yea, four, which I know not:

19 The way of an eagle in the aire, the way of a serpent upon a rock, the way of a ship in the † midst of the sea, and the way of a man with a maid.

20 Such is the way of an adulterous woman: she eateth, and wipeth her mouth, and saith, I have done no wickednesse.

21 For three things the earth is disquieted, and for four, which it cannot bear.

22 * For a servant when he reigneth, and a fool when he is filled with meat.

23 For an odious woman when she is married, and an handmaid that is heir to her mistress.

24 There be four things which are little upon the earth, but they are † exceeding wise:

25 * The ants are a people not strong, yet they prepare their meat in the summer;

26 The conies are but a feeble folk, yet make they their houses in the rocks;

27 The locusts have no kings, yet go they forth all of them † by bands;

28 The spider taketh hold with her hands, and is in kings palaces.

29 There be three things which go well, yea four are comely in going:

30 A lion which is strongest among beasts, and turneth not away for any,

31 A † hee-goat bound, an he-goat also, and a king against whom there is no rising up.

32 If thou hast done foolishly in lifting up thy self, or if thou hast thought evil, † lay thine hand upon thy mouth.

33 Surely the churning of milke bringeth forth butter, and the wringing of the nose bringeth forth blood: so the forcing of wrath bringeth forth strife.

The words of king Lemuel, the prophete that his mother taught him.

2 What, my sonne! and what, the sonne of my wombe! and what, the sonne of my bowes!

3 Give not thy strength unto women, nor thy wayes to that which destroyeth kings.

4 It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine, nor for princes, strong drink;

5 Lest they drink, and forget the law, and † pervert the judgement † of any of the afflicted.

6 * Give strong drink unto him that is ready to perish, and wine to those that be † of heavy hearts.

7 Let him drink, and forget his poverty, and remember his misery no more.

8 Open thy mouth for the dumb in the cause of all † such as are appointed to destruction.

9 Open thy mouth, † judge righteously, and plead the cause of the poor and needy.

† ECCLESIASTES, OR, THE PREACHER.

CHAP. I.

1 The preacher sheweth that all humane courses are vain: 4 because the creatures are restless in their courses: 9 They bring forth nothing new, and all old things are forgotten: 12 and because he hath found it so in the studies of wisdom.

These words of the preacher, the son of David king in Jerusalem.
2 * Vanity of vanities, saith the preacher, vanity of vanities, all is vanity.
3 * What profit hath a man of all his labour which he taketh under the sun?

4 One generation passeth away, and another generation cometh: * but the earth abideth for ever.
5 The sun also ariseth, and the sun goeth down, and † hasteth to the place where he ariseth.
6 The winde goeth toward the south, and turneth about unto the north: it whirleth about continually, and the wind returneth again according to his circuits.

7 * All the rivers run into the sea, yet the sea is not full: unto the place from whence the rivers come, thither they † return again.

8 All things are full of labour, man cannot utter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the ear filled with hearing.

9 * The thing that hath been, is that which shall be: and that which is done, is that which shall be done: and there is no new thing under the sun.

10 Is there any thing, whereof it may be said, See, this is new? It hath been already of old time, which was before us.

11 There is no remembrance of former things; neither shall there be any remembrance of things that are to come, with those that shall come after.

12 † The preacher was king over Israel in Jerusalem.

13 And I gave my heart to seek and search out by wisdom, concerning all things that are done under heaven: this sore travel hath given to the sons of man, if to be exercised therein.

14 I have seen all the works that are done under the sun, and behold, all is vanity and vexation of spirit.

15 * That which is crooked cannot be made straight: and † that which is wanting, cannot be numbered.

16 I communed with mine own heart, saying, Lo, I am come to great estate, and have gotten * more wisdom then all they that have been before me in Jerusalem: yea, my heart † had great experience of wisdom and knowledge.

17 * And I gave my heart to know wisdom, and to know madnesse and folly: I perceived that this also is vexation of spirit.

18 For in much wisdom is much grief: and he that increaseth knowledge, increaseth sorrow.

CHAP. II.

1 The vanity of humane courses in the works of pleasure. 12 Though the wife be better then the fool, yet both have one event. 18 The vanity of humane labour, in leaving it they know not to whom. 24 Nothing better then joy in our labour, but that is Gods gift.

I said in mine heart, Go to now, I will prove thee with mirth, therefore enjoy pleasure: and behold, this also is vanity.

2 I said of laughter, It is mad: and of mirth, What doth it?

3 * I sought in mine heart to give my self unto wine (yet acquainting mine heart with wisdom) and to lay hold on folly, till I might see what was that good for the sons of men, which they should do under the heaven, † all the dayes of their life.

4 I made me great works, I builded me houses, I planted me vineyards.

5 I made me gardens and orchards, and I planted trees in them of all kinde of fruits.

6 I made me pools of water, to water there, with the wood that bringeth forth trees.

7 I got me servants and maidens, and had † servants born in my house; also I had great possessions of great and small cattell, above all that were in Jerusalem before me.

8 * I gathered me also silver and gold, and the peculiar treasure of kings, and of the provinces: I gat me men-singers, and women-singers, and the delights of the sonnes of men, as † musickall instruments, and that of all sorts.

9 So I was great, and increased more then all that were before me in Jerusalem; also my wisdom remained with me.

10 And whatsoever mine eyes desired, I kept not from them, I withheld not my heart from any joy: for my heart reioyced in all my labour, and this was my portion of all my labour.

11 Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labour that I had laboured to do: and behold, all was vanity and vexation of spirit; and there was no profit under the sunne.

12 And I turned my self to behold wisdom, and madnesse and folly: for what can the man do, that cometh after the king? All even that which hath been already done.
13 Then I saw that wisdom excelleth folly, as farre as light excelleth darknesse.
14 The wise mans eyes are in his head, but the fool walketh in darknesse: and I my self perceived also, that one event happeneth to them all.
15 Then said I in my heart, As it happeneth to the fool, so it happeneth even to me; and why was I then more wise? Then I said in my heart, that this also is vanity.
16 For there is no remembrance of the wise more then of the fool for ever; seeing that which now is, in the dayes to come shall all be forgotten: and how dieth the wise man, as the fool.
17 Therefore I hated life, because the work that is wrought under the sunne is grievous unto me: for all is vanity and vexation of spirit.
18 O Dea, I hated all my labour which I had taken under the sunne: because I should leave it unto the man that shall be after me.
19 And who knoweth whether he shall be a wife man or a fool? yet shall he have rule over all my labour wherein I have laboured, and wherein I have shewed my self wise under the sunne. This is also vanity.
20 Therefore I went about to cause my heart to despair of all the labour which I took under the sunne.
21 For there is a man whose labour is in wisdom and in knowledge, and in equity: yet so a man that hath not laboured therein, shall he leave it for his portion. This also is vanity and a great evil.
22 For what hath man of all his labour, and of the vexation of his heart wherein he hath laboured under the sunne?
23 For all his dayes are sorrows, and his travaill grief; yea, his heart taketh not rest in the night. This is also vanity.
24 There is nothing better for a man, then that he should eat and drinke; and that he should make his soul enjoy good in his labour. This also I saw that it was from the hand of God.
25 For who can eat? or who else can haue hereunto more then I?
26 For God giveth to a man that is good in his sight, wisdom and knowledge, and joy: but to the sinner he giveth travell, to gather and to heape up, that he may give to him that is good before God. This also is vanity and vexation of spirit.

CHAP. III.

1 By the necessary change of times, vanity is added to humane travell. 11 There is an excellency in Gods works. 16 But as for a man, God shall judge his works there, and here he shall be like a beast.

Every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven.
2 A time to be born, and a time to die: a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted.
3 A time to kill, and a time to heal: a time to break downe, and a time to build up.
4 A time to weep, and a time to laugh: a time to mourne, and a time to dance.
5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather their stones together: a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing.

6 A time to get, and a time to lose: a time to keep, and a time to cast away.
7 A time to rent, and a time to sew: a time to keep silence, and a time the speak.
8 A time to love, and a time to hate: a time of warre, and a time of peace.
9 What profit hath he that worketh, in that wherein he laboureth?
10 I have seen the travell which God hath given to the sons of men to be exercised in it.
11 He hath made every thing beautifull in his time: also he hath set the world in their hearts, so that no man can finde out the work that God maketh from the beginning to the end.
12 I know that there is no good in them, but for a man to rejoyce, and to do good in his life.
13 And also that every man should eat and drinke, and enjoy the good of all his labour: it is the gift of God.
14 I know that whatsoever God doth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it: and God doth it, that men should fear before him.
15 That which hath been, is now; and that which is to be, hath already been, and God requirerh that which is past.
16 And moreover, I saw under the sunne the place of judgement, that wickednesse was there; and the place of righteousness, that iniquity was there.
17 I said in mine heart, God shall judge the righteous and the wicked: for there is a time there for every purpose, and for every work.
18 I said in my heart concerning the estate of the sonnes of men, that God might manifest them, and that they might see that they themselves are beasts.
19 For that which befallerh the sons of men, befallerh beasts, even one thing befallerh them: as the one dieth, so dieth the other, yea, they have all one breath, so that a man hath no preeminence above a beast: for all is vanity.
20 All go unto one place, all are of the dust, and all turn to dust again.
21 Who knoweth the spirit of man that goeth upward, and the spirit of the beast that goeth downward to the earth?
22 Therefore I perceive that there is nothing better, then that a man should rejoyce in his own works: for that is his portion: for who shall bring him to see what shall be after him?

CHAP. IIIII.

1 Vanity is increased unto men by oppression, 4 by envie, 5 by idleness, 7 by covetousnesse, 9 by solitarienesse, 13 by wilfulness.

I returned, and considered all the oppressions that are done under the sun, and behold, the tears of such as were oppressed, and they had no comforter: and on the side of their oppressours there was power, but they had no comforter.
2 Therefore I praised the dead which are already dead, more then the living which are yet alive.
3 Yea, better is he then both they, which hath not yet been, who hath not seen the evil work that is done under the sunne.
4 Again I considered all travell, and every right work, that for this a man is envied of his neighbour: this is also vanity, and vexation of spirit.

6 * Better is an handfull with quietnesse, then both the hands full, with travell and vexation of spirit.

7 ¶ When I returned, and I saw vanitie under the sunne.

8 There is one alone, and there is not a second; yea, he hath neither child nor brother: yet is there no end of all his labour, neither is his eye satisfied with riches, neither saith he, For whom do I labour, and bereave my soul of good? this is also vanitie, yea, it is a soze travell.

9 ¶ Two are better then one; because they have a good reward for their labour.

10 For, if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow; but two to him that is alone, when he falleth: for he hath not another to help him up.

11 Again, if two lie together, then they have heat: but how can one be warme alone?

12 And if one prevail against him, two shall withstand him; and a threefold cord is not quickly broken.

13 ¶ Better is a poor, and a wise child, then an old and foolish king, † who will no more be admonished.

14 For out of prison he cometh to reign, whereas also he that is boyn in his kingdom becometh poor.

15 I considered all the living which walk under the sunne, with the second child that shall stand up in his stead.

16 There is no end of all the people, even of all that have bene before them: they also that come after, shall not rejoyce in him: surely, this also is vanitie and vexation of spirit.

CHAP. V.

1 Vanities in divine service, 8 in murmuring against oppression, 9 and in riches. 18 Joy in riches is the gift of God.

Keep thy foot when thou goest to the house of God, and be more ready to hear, * then to give the sacrifice of fools: for they consider not that they do evill.

2 Be not rash with thy mouth, and let not thine heart be hasty to utter any † thing before God: for God is in heaven, and thou upon earth: therefore let thy words * be few.

3 For a dream cometh through the multitude of business, and a fools voice is known by multitude of words.

4 * When thou dovest a vow unto God, deferre not to pay it: for he hath no pleasure in fools: * pay that which thou hast vowed.

5 Better is it that thou shouldst not vow, then that thou shouldst vow and not pay.

6 Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesh to sin, neither say thou before the angel, that it was an error: wherefore should God be angry at thy voice, and destroy the work of thine hands?

7 For in the multitude of dreams and many words, there are also divers vanities: but fear thou God.

8 ¶ If thou seeest the oppression of the poor, and violent perverting of judgement and justice in a province, marvel not † at the matter: for he that is higher then the highest, regardeth, and there he is higher then they.

9 ¶ Moreover the profit of the earth is for all: the king himself is served by the field.

10 He that loveth silver, shall not be satisfied with silver; nor he that loveth abundance, with increase: this is also vanitie.

12 The sleep of a labouring man is sweet, whether he eat little or much: but the abundance of the rich will not suffer him to sleep.

13 There is a soze evil which I have seen under the sunne, namely, riches kept for the owners thereof to their hurt.

14 But those riches perish by evill travell: and he begetteth a sonne, and there is nothing in his hand.

15 * As he came forth of his mothers wombe, naked shall he return to go as he came, and shall take nothing of his labour, which he may carry away in his hand.

16 And this also is a soze evill, that in all points as he came, so shall he go: and * what profit hath he that hath laboured for the winde?

17 All his dayes also he eateth in darknesse, and he hath much sorrow, and wrath with his sicknesse.

18 ¶ Behold that which I have seen: * † it is good and comely for one to eat and to drinke, and to enjoy the good of all his labour that he taketh under the sunne, † all the dayes of his life, which God giveth him: for it is his portion.

19 Every man also to whom God hath given riches and wealth, and hath given him power to eat thereof, and to take his portion, and to rejoyce in his labour: this is the gift of God.

20 † For he shall not much remember the dayes of his life: because God answereth him in the joy of his heart.

CHAP. VI.

1 The vanitie of riches without use, 3 of children 6 and old age without riches. 9 The vanitie of fight and wandring desires. 11 The conclusion of vanities.

There is an evill which I have seen under the sunne, and it is common among men:

2 A man to whom God hath given riches, wealth, and honour, so that he wanted nothing for his soul of all that he desireth, yet God giveth him not power to eat thereof, but a stranger eateth it: this is vanitie, and it is an evill disease.

3 ¶ If a man beget an hundred children, and live many years, so that the dayes of his years be many, and his soul be not filled with good, and also that he have no buriall, I say that an untimely birth is better then he.

4 For he cometh in with vanitie, and departeth in darknesse, and his name shall be covered with darknesse.

5 Moreover, he hath not seen the sunne, nor known any thing: this hath more rest then the other.

6 ¶ Yea, though he live a thousand yeeres, whether cold, yet hath he seen no good: do not all go to one place?

7 All the labour of man is for his mouth, and yet the † appetite is not filled.

8 For what hath the wise more then the fool: what hath the poor, that knoweth to walk before the living?

9 ¶ Better is the sight of the eyes, † then the wandring of the desire: this is also vanitie and vexation of spirit.

10 That which hath been, is named already, and it is known that it is man: neither may he be counted with him that is mightier then he.

11 ¶ Seeing there be many things that increase vanitie, what is man the better?

CHAP. VII.

1 Remedies against vanitie, are a good name, 2 mortification, 7 patience, 11 wisdom. 23 The difficulty of wisdom.

A * Good name is better then pretious oymment: and the day of death, then the day of ones birth.

2 C It is better to go to the house of mourning, then to go to the house of feasting: for that is the end of all men, and the living will lay it to his heart.

3 Sorrow is better then laughter: for by the sadnesse of the countenance the heart is made better.

4 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning; but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth.

5 * It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise, then for a man to hear the song of fools.

6 For as + the crackling of thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fool: this also is vanitie.

7 Surely oppression maketh a wise man mad, * and a gift delecteth the heart.

8 Better is the end of a thing then the beginning thereof: and the patient in spirit is better then the proud in spirit.

9 * Be not hasty in thy spirit to be angry: for anger resteth in the bosome of fools.

10 Say not thou, What is the cause that the former dayes were better then these: for thou dost not enquire + wisely concerning this.

11 Wisdom is good with an inheritance: and by it there is profit to them that see the sunne.

12 For wisdom is a + defence, and money is a defence: but the excellency of knowledge is, that wisdom giveth life to them that have it.

13 Consider the work of God: for * who can make that straight which he hath made crooked?

14 In the day of prosperitie be joyfull, but in the day of adversitie consider: God also hath + set the one over against the other, to the end, that man should finde nothing after him.

15 All things have I seen in the dayes of my vanitie: there is a just man that perisheth in his righteousness, and there is a wicked man that prolongeth his life in his wickednesse.

16 Be not righteous overmuch, neither make thy self over-wise: why shouldst thou + destrict thy self?

17 Be not overmuch wicked, neither be thou foolish: why shouldst thou die + before thy time?

18 It is good that thou shouldst take hold of this, yea also from this which is not thine hand: for he that feareth God, shall come forth of them all.

19 * Wisdom strengtheneth the wise, more then ten mightie men which are in the citie.

20 * For there is not a just man upon earth that doth good, and sinneth not.

21 Also + take no heed unto all words that are spoken: lest thou hear thy servant curse thee.

23 For oftentimes also thine own heart knoweth, that thou thy self likewise hast cursed others.

23 C All this have I proved by wisdom: I said, I will be wise, but it was far from me.

24 That which is far off, and exceeding deep, who can finde it out?

25 + I applied my heart to know, and to search, and to seek out wisdom, and the reason of things, and to know the wickednesse of folly, even of foolishnesse and madnesse.

26 * And I finde more bitter than death, the woman whose heart is snares and nets, and her hands as bands: + who so pleasech God shall escape from her, but the sinner shall be taken by her.

27 Behold, this have I found, (saith the preacher) || counting one by one, to finde out the account:

28 Which yet my soul seeketh, but I finde not: one man among a thousand have I found, but a woman among all those have I not found.

29 Lo, this onely have I found, * that God hath made man upright: but they have sought out many inventions.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Kings are greatly to be respected. 6 The divine providence is to be observed. 12 It is better with the godly in adversitie, then with the wicked in prosperitie. 16 The work of God is unsearchable.

Who is as the wise man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? * a mans wisdom maketh his face to shine, and + the boldnesse of his face shall be changed.

2 I counsell thee to keep the kings commandment, and that in regard of the oath of God.

3 Be not hasty to go out of his sight: stand not in an evill thing, for he doth whatsoever pleasech him.

4 Where the word of a king is, there is power: and who may lay unto him, What dost thou?

5 Who so keepeth the commandment + shall feel no evill thing: and a wise mans heart discerneth both time and judgement.

6 Because to every purpose there is time, and judgement: therefore the misery of man is great upon him.

7 For he knoweth not that which shall be: for who can tell him || when it shall be?

8 There is no man that hath power * over the spirit to retain the spirit: neither hath he power in the day of death: and there is no + discharge in that warre, neither shall wickednesse deliver those that are given to it.

9 All this have I seen, and applied my heart unto every work that is done under the sun: there is a time wherein one man ruleth over another to his own hurt.

10 And so I saw the wicked buried, who had come and gone from the place of the holy, and they were forgotten in the citie where they had so done: this is also vanitie.

11 Because sentence against an evill work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sonnes of men is fully set in them to do evill.

12 C Though a sinner do evill an hundred times, and his dayes be prolonged, yet surely I know that * it shall be well with them that fear God, which fear before him.

13 But it shall not be well with the wicked, neither shall he prolong his dayes which are as a shadow, because he feareth not before God.

14 There is a vanitie which is done upon the earth, that there be just men unto whom it * happeneth according to the work of the righteous: I said, that this also is vanitie.

15 * When I commended mirth, because a man hath no better thing under the sunne, then to eat, and to drink, and to be merry: for that shall abide with him of his labour, the dayes of his life, which God giveth him under the sunne.

17 ¶ Then I beheld all the work of God, that a man cannot finde out the work that is done under the sunne: because though a man labour to seek it out, yea further, though a wise man thinke to know it, yet shall he not be able to finde it.

CHAP. IX.

1 Like things happen to good and bad. 4 There is a necessity of death unto men. 7 Comfort is all their portion in this life. 11 Gods providence ruleth over all. 13 Wisdom is better then strength.

¶ D all this ¶ I considered in mine heart even to declare all this, that the righteous, and the wise, and their works are in the hand of God: no man knoweth either love, or hatred, by all that is before them.

2 ¶ All things come alike to all, there is one event to the righteous and to the wicked; to the good and to the clean, and to the unclean; to him that sacrificeth and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner; and he that soweth, as he that reareth an oath.

3 ¶ This is an evil among all things that are done under the sunne, that there is one event unto all: yea, also the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and madnesse is in their heart while they live, and after that they go to the dead.

4 ¶ For to him that is joined to all the living, there is hope: for a living dog is better then a dead lion.

5 ¶ For the living know that they shall die: but the dead know not any thing, neither have they any more a reward, for the memory of them is forgotten.

6 ¶ Also their love, and their hatred, and their envy is now perished; neither have they any more a portion for ever in any thing that is done under the sunne.

7 ¶ So thy way, eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with a merry heart; for God now accepteth thy works.

8 ¶ Let thy garments be alwayes white; and let thy head lack no ointment.

9 ¶ Live joyfully with the wife whom thou lovest, all the dayes of the life of thy vanitie, which he hath given thee under the sunne, all the dayes of thy vanitie: * for that is thy portion in this life, and in the labour which thou takest under the sunne.

10 ¶ Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might: for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the grave whither thou goest.

11 ¶ I returned, and saw under the sunne, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battell to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favour to men of skill, but time and chance happeneth to them all.

12 ¶ For man also knoweth not his time, as the fishes that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare; so are the sons of men * snared in an evil time, when it falleth suddenly upon them.

13 ¶ This wisdom have I seen also under the sun, and it seemed great unto me:

14 There was a little cite, and few men within it: and there came a great king against it, and besieged it, and built great bulwarks against it:

15 Now there was found in it a poor wise man, and he by his wisdom delivered the cite; yet no man remembereth that same poor man.

16 ¶ Then said I, Wisdom is better then strength: never helpe, the poor mans wisdom is despised, and his words are not heard.

17 ¶ The words of wise men are heard in quiet, more then the cry of him that ruleth among fools.

18 ¶ Wisdom is better then weapons of war; but one sinne destroyeth much good.

CHAP. X.

1 Observations of wisdom and folly. 16 Of riot, 18 slothfulness, 19 and money. 20 Mens thoughts of kings ought to be reverend.

¶ D God flies cause the ornament of the apostecacy to send forth a stinking savour: so doth a little folly him that is in repucation for wisdom and honour.

2 ¶ A wise mans heart is at his right hand; but a fools heart at his left.

3 ¶ Yea, also when he that is a fool, walketh by the way, ¶ his wisdom falleth him, and he saith to every one that he is a fool.

4 ¶ If the spirit of the ruler rise up against thee, leave not thy place; for yielding pacifieth great offences.

5 ¶ There is an evil which I have seen under the sunne, as an error which proceedeth ¶ from the ruler.

6 ¶ Folly is set ¶ in great dignitie, and the rich sit in low place.

7 ¶ I have seen servants * upon horses, and princes walking as servants upon the earth.

8 ¶ He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it; and whoso breaketh an hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

9 ¶ Whoso removeth stones shall be hurt therewith: and he that cleaveth wood shall be endangered thereby.

10 ¶ If the iron be blunt, and he do not whet the edge, then must he put to more strength: but wisdom is profitable to direct.

11 ¶ Surely, the serpent will bite without enchantment, and ¶ a babler is no better.

12 ¶ The words of a wise mans mouth are ¶ gracious: but the lips of a fool will swallow up himself.

13 ¶ The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishnesse: and the end of ¶ his talk is mischievous madnesse.

14 ¶ A fool also ¶ is full of words, a man cannot tell what shall be: and * what shall be after him, who can tell him?

15 ¶ The labour of the foolish wearieth every one of them, because he knoweth not how to go to the cite.

16 ¶ ¶ Wo to thee, O land, when thy king is a child, and thy princes eat in the morning.

17 ¶ Blessed are thou, O land, when thy king is the sonne of nobles, and thy princes eat in due season, for strength, and not for drunkennesse.

18 ¶ By much slothfulness the building decayeth, and through idleness of the hands the house droppeth through.

19 ¶ A feast is made for laughter, and * wine ¶ maketh merry: but money answereth all things.

20 ¶ Curse not the king, no not in thy thought, and curse not the rich in thy bed-chamber: for a bird of the aire shall carry the voice, and that which hath wings shall tell the matter.

3 If the clouds be full of rain, they empty themselves upon the earth: and if the tree fall toward the south, or toward the north; in the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be.

4 He that observeth the winde, shall not sow; and he that regardeth the clouds, shall not reap.

5 As thou knowest not what is the way of the spirit, nor how the bones do grow in the womb of her that is with child: even to thou knowest not the works of God, who maketh all.

6 In the morning sow thy seed, and in the evening withhold not thine hand: for thou knowest not whether it shall prosper, either this, or that, or whether they both shall be alike good.

7 Truly the light is sweet, and a pleasant thing it is for the eyes to behold the sunne.

8 But if a man live many years, and rejoyce in them all; yet let him remember the dayes of darkness, for they shall be many. All that cometh is vanity.

9 Rejoyce, O young man, in thy youth, and let thy heart cheer thee in the dayes of thy youth, and walk in the wayes of thy heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but know thou, that for all these things God will bring thee into judgement.

10 Therefore remove || sorrow from thy heart, and put away evil from thy flesh; for childhood and youth are vanitie.

CHAP. XII.

1 The Creatour isto to be remembered in due time. 8 The preachers care to edifie. 13 The fear of God is the chief antidote of vanity.

Remember now thy Creatour in the dayes of thy youth, while the evil dayes come not, nor the years draw nigh when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them:

2 While the sun, or the light, or the moon, or the stars be not darkned, nor the clouds return after the rain:

3 In the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall bow themselves, and || the grinders cease, because they are few, and those that look out of the windows be darkned:

4 And the doore shall be shut in the streets, when the sound of the grinding is low, and he shall rise up at the voice of the bird, and all the daughters of mullick shall be brought low.

5 Also when they shall be afraid of that which is high, and fears shall be in the way, and the almond-tree shall flourish, and the grasshopper shall be a burden, and desire shall fail: because man goeth to his long home, and the mourners go about the streets.

6 Never the silver cord be loosed, or the golden bowl be broken, or the pitcher be broken at the fountain, or the wheel broken at the cistern.

7 Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was: and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it.

8 Vanitie of vanities (saith the preacher) all is vanitie.

9 And moreover, because the preacher was wise, he still taught the people knowledge; yea, he gave good heed, and sought out, and || set in order many proverbes.

10 The preacher sought to finde out || acceptable words, and that which was written was upright, even words of truth.

11 The words of the wise are as goads, and as nails fastned by the makers of assemblies, which are given from one shepherd.

12 And further, by these, my son, be admonished: of making many books there is no end, and much || study is a wearinesse of the flesh.

13 Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man.

THE SONG OF SOLOMON.

CHAP. I.

1 The churches love unto Christ. 5 She confesseth her deformity, and prayeth to be directed to his flock. 8 Christ directeth her to the shepherds tents: 9 and shewing his love to her, 11 giveth her gracious promises. 12 The church and Christ congratulate one another.

The Song of Songs, which is Solomons.

2 Let him kisse me with the kisses of his mouth: for || thy love is better then wine.

3 Because of the labour of thy good olivments, thy name is as olivment poured forth, therefore do the virgins love thee.

4 * Draw me, we will run after thee: the king hath brought me into his chambers: we will be glad and rejoyce in thee, we will remember thy love more then wine: || the upright love thee.

5 I am black, but comely ( O ye daughters of Jerusale. ) as the tents of Kedar, as the curtains of Solomons.

6 Look not upon me because I am black, because the sun hath looked upon me: my mothers children were angry with me, they made me the keeper of the vineyards, but mine own vineyard have I not kept.

7 Tell me ( O thou whom my soul loveth ) where thou feedest, where thou makest thy flock to rest at noon: for why should I be || as one that turneth aside by the flocks of thy companions?

8 I If thou know not, ( O thou fairest among woman ) go thy way forth by the footsteps of the flock, and feed thy kids beside the shepherds tents.

9 I have compared thee, O my love, to a company of horses in Sharaods chariots.

10 Thy cheeks are comely with rows of jewels, thy neck with chains of gold.

11 We will make thee borders of gold with studs of silver.

12 O Abille the king sitteth at his table, my spikenard sendeth forth the smell thereof.

13 A bundle of myrrhe is my well beloved unto me; he shall lie all night betwixt my breasts.

CHAP. II.

1 The mutuall love of Christ and his church 8 The hope, 10 and calling of the church. 14 Christs care of the church. 16 The profession of the church, her faith and hope.

I Am the rose of Sharon, and the lillie of the valleys.

2 As the lillie among thorns, so is my love among the daughters.

3 As the apple-tree among the trees of the wood, so is my beloved among the sonnes. † I sat down under his shadow with great delight, and his fruit was sweet to my † taste.

4 He brought me to the banquetting house, and his banner over me was love.

5 Stay me with flagons, † comfort me with apples; for I am sick of love.

6 His left hand is under my head, and his right hand doth embrace me.

7 † I charge you, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, by the roses, and by the bindes of the field, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love, till he please.

8 ¶ The voice of my beloved, he cometh leaping upon the mountains, skipping upon the hills.

9 * My beloved is like a roe, or a young hart; behold, he standeth behinde our wall, he looketh forth at my lattice, † shewing himself through the lattice.

10 My beloved awake, and said unto me, Rise up my love, my fair one, and come away:

11 For lo, the winter is past, the rain is over, and gone.

12 The flowers appear on the earth, the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land.

13 The fig-tree putteth forth her green figs, and the vines with the tender grape give a good smell. Arise, my love, my fair one, and come away.

14 ¶ O my dove, that art in the clefts of the rock, in the secret places of the stairs, let me see thy countenance, let me hear thy voice; for sweet is thy voice: and thy countenance is comely.

15 Take us the foxes, the little foxes, that spoil the vines: for our vines have tender grapes.

16 ¶ O my beloved is mine, and I am his: he feedeth among the lillies.

17 * Until the day break, and the shadows flee away: turn my beloved, and be thou * like a roe, or a young hart upon the mountains † of Becher.

CHAP. III.

1 The church her fight and victory in the temptation. 6 The church glorieth in Christ.

B P night on my bed I sought him whom my soul loveth, I sought him, but I found him not.

2 I will arise now, and go about the city in the streets, and in the broad wayes I will seek him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.

3 The watchmen that go about the city, found me: to whom I said, Saw ye him whom my soul loveth?

4 It was but a little that I passed from them, but I found him whom my soul loveth: I held him, and would not let him go, until I had brought him into my mothers house, and into the chamber of her that conceived me.

5 * I charge you, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, by the roses, and by the bindes of the field, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love till he please.

6 ¶ Who is this that cometh out of the wilderness like pillars of smoak, perfumed with myrrhe and frankincense, with all powders of the merchant?

7 Behold, his bed which is Solomons, three-score vallant men are about it, of the vallant of Israel.

8 They all hold swords, being expert in war: every man hath his sword upon his thigh, because of fear in the night.

9 King Solomon made himself † a chariot of the wood of Lebanon.

10 He made the pillars thereof of silver, the bottom thereof of gold, the covering of it of purple; the midst thereof being paved with love, for the daughters of Jerusalem.

11 Go forth, O ye daughters of Zion, and behold king Solomon with the crown wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his espousals, and in the day of the gladnesse of his heart.

CHAP. IIIII.

1 Christ searcheth forth the graces of the Church. 8 He sheweth his love to her. 16 The church prayeth to be made fit for his presence.

* Behold, thou art fair, my love, behold, thou art fair, thou hast doves eyes within thy locks: thy hair is as a * flock of goats, † that appear from mount Silead.

2 Thy teeth are like a flock of sheep that are even shorn, which came up from the washing: whereof every one beate twins, and none is barren among them.

3 Thy lips are like a thread of scarlet, and thy speech is comely: thy temples are like a piece of a pomegranate within thy locks.

4 Thy neck is like the tower of David builded for an armoury, whereon there hang a thousand bucklers, all shields of mighty men.

5 * Thy two breasts are like two young doves that are twins, which feed among the lillies.

6 * Until the day † break, and the shadows flee away, I will get me to the mountain of myrrhe, and to the hill of frankincense.

7 * Thou art all fair, my love, there is no spot in thee.

8 ¶ Come with me from Lebanon (my spouse) with me from Lebanon: look from the top of Amanah, from the top of Shenir * and Hermon, from the lions dens, from the mountains of the leopards.

9 Thou hast † ravished my heart, my sister, my spouse; thou hast ravished my heart with one of thine eyes, with one chain of thy neck.

10 How fair is thy love, my sister, my spouse! * how much better is thy love than wine! and the smell of thine ointments then all spices.

11 Thy lips, O my spouse, drop as the honey-comb: honey and milk are under the tongue, and the smell of thy garments is like the smell of Lebanon.

12 A garden † that is inclosed is my sister, my spouse: a spring shut up, a fountain sealed.

CHAP. V.

1 Christ awaketh the church with his calling. 2 The church having a taste of Christ's love is sick of love.

3 A description of Christ by his graces.

I Am come into my garden, my sister, my spouse; I have gathered my myrrhe with my spice, I have eaten my honey-comb with my honey, I have drunk my wine with my milk: eat, O friends, drink, || ye, drink abundantly, O beloved.

2 O I sleep, but my heart waketh: it is the voice of my beloved that knocketh, saying Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my undefiled: for my head is filled with dew, and my locks with the drops of the night.

3 I have put off my coat, how shall I put it on? I have washed my feet, how shall I defile them?

4 My beloved put in his hand by the hole of the door, and my bowels were moved || for him.

5 I rose up to open to my beloved, and my hands dropped with myrrhe, and my fingers with || sweet smelling myrrhe, upon the handles of the lock.

6 I opened to my beloved, but my beloved had withdrawn himself, and was gone: my soul faded when he spake: I sought him, but I could not finde him: I called him but he gave me no answer.

7 The watchmen that went about the citie, found me, they smote me, they wounded me: the keepers of the walls took away my pall from me.

8 I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, if ye finde my beloved, || that ye tell him that I am sick of love.

9 What is thy beloved more than another beloved, O thou fairest among women? what is thy beloved more than another beloved, that thou dost so charge us?

10 My beloved is white and ruddy, || the chiefest among ten thousand.

11 His head is as the most fine gold, his locks are || bushie, and black as a raven.

12 His eyes are as the eyes of doves by the rivers of waters, washed with milk, and || sweetly set.

13 His cheeks are as a bed of spices, as || sweet flowers: his lips like lilies, dropping sweet smelling myrrhe.

14 His hands are as gold-rings set with the beryl: his belly is as bright ivory overlaid with sapphires.

15 His legs are as pillars of marble, set upon sockets of fine gold: his countenance is as Lebanon, excellent as the cedars.

16 His mouth is most sweet, yea he is altogether lovely. This is my beloved, and this is my friend, O daughters of Jerusalem.

CHAP. VI.

1 The church professeth her faith in Christ. 4 Christ sheweth the graces of the church. 10 and his love towards her.

Whither is thy beloved gone? O thou fairest among women, whither is thy beloved turned aside that we may seek him with thee.

2 My beloved is gone down into his garden, to the beds of spices, to feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies.

3 I am my beloveds, and my beloved is mine: he feedeth among the lilies.

4 Thou art beautiful, O my love, as Tetzah, comely as Jerusalem, terrible as an army with banners.

5 Turn away thine eyes from me, for || they have overcome me: thy hair is * as a flock of goats that appear from Gilead.

6 Thy teeth are as a flock of sheep which go up from the washing, whereof every one beareth twins, and there is not one barren among them.

7 As a piece of a Pomegranate are thy temples within thy locks.

8 There are threescore queens, and fourscore concubines, and virgins without number.

9 My dove, my undefiled is but one; she is the onely one of her mother, she is the choice one of her that bare her: the daughters saw her, and blessed her: yea, the queens and the concubines, and they praised her.

10 Who is he that looketh forth as the morning, fair as the moon, clear as the sunne, and terrible as an army with banners.

11 I went down into the garden of nuts to see the fruits of the valley: and to see whether the vine flourished, and the pomegranates budded.

12 O ever I was aware, my soul || made me like the chariots of Ammi-nadib.

13 Return, return, O Shulamite, return, return, that we may look upon thee: what will ye see in the Shulamite: as it were the company || of two armies.

CHAP. VII.

1 A further description of the church her graces 10 The church professeth her faith and desire.

How beautifull are thy feet with shoes, O princes daughter! the joints of thy thighs are like jewels, the work of the hands of a cunning workman.

2 Thy navell is like a round goblet, which wanteth || nor liquor: thy belly is like an heap of wheat, set about with lilies.

3 Thy two breasts are like two young roes that are twins.

4 Thy neck is as a tower of ivory, thine eyes like the fish-pools in Heshbon, by the gate of Bath-rabbim: thy nose is as the tower of Lebanon which looketh toward Damascus,

5 Thine head upon thee is like || Carmel, and the hair of thine head like purple, the king is || held in the galleries.

6 How fair and how pleasant art thou, O love, for delights!

7 This thy stature is like to a palm-tree, and thy breasts to clusters of grapes.

8 I said, I will go up to the palm-tree, I will take hold of the boughs thereof: now also thy breasts shall be as clusters of the vine, and the smell of thy nose like apples.

9 And the roof of thy mouth like the best wine, for my beloved that goeth down || sweetly, causing the lips || of those that are asleep, to speak.

10 I am my beloveds, and his desire is towards me.

11 Come my beloved, let us go forth into the field: let us lodge in the villages.

12 Let us get up early to the vineyards, let us see if the vine flourish, whether the tender grape || appear, and the pomegranates bud forth: there will I give thee my loves.

That thou wert as my brother that sucked the breasts of my mother; when I should finde thee without, I would kisse thee, yet I should not be despised.

I would lead thee, and bring thee into my mothers house, who would instruct me: I would cause thee to drink of spiced wine of the hyces of my pomegranate.

His left hand should be under my head, and his right hand should embrace me.

I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love until he please.

Alho is this that cometh up from the wilderness, leaning upon her beloved? I raised thee up under the apple-tree: there thy mother brought thee forth, there she brought thee forth that bare thee.

We have a little sister, and she hath no breasts, what shall we do for our sister, in the day when she shall be spoken for?

If she be a wall, we will build upon her a palace of silver: and if she be a door, we will enclose her with boards of cedar.

I am a wall, and my breasts like towers: then was I in his eyes, as one that found rest for labour.

Solomon had a vineyard at Baal-hamon, he let out the vineyard unto keepers: I every one for the fruit thereof was to bring a thousand pieces of silver.

My vineyard which is mine, is before me: thou (O Solomon) must have a thousand, and those that keep the fruit thereof two hundred.

Thou that dwellest in the gardens, the companions hearken to thy voice: cause me to hear it.

Make haste, my beloved, and be thou like a roe, or to a young hart upon the mountains of spices.

THE BOOK OF THE Prophet ISAIAH.

CHAP. I.

Isaiah complaineth of Judah for her rebellion. 5 He lamenteth her judgements. 10 He upbraidech their wolenest service. 16 He exhorteth to repentance, with promises and threatnings. 21 Bewailing their wickednesse, he denounceth Gods judgements. 25 He promisethe grace, 28 and threatmeth destruction to the wicked.

The vision of Isaiah the sonne of Amoz, which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem, in the dayes of Ahziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah kings of Judah.

Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth: for the LORD hath spoken, I have nourished and brought up children, and they have rebelled against me.

The ox knoweth his owners, and the asse his masters crib: but Israel doth not know, my people doth not consider.

Oh full nation, a people laden with iniquitie, a seed of evil doers, children that are corrupters, they have forsaken the LORD, they have provoked the holy One of Israel unto anger, they are gone away backward.

Why should ye be stricken any more? ye will rebel more and more: the whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint.

From the sole of the foot even unto the head, there is no soundness in it: but wounds and bruises, and purifying sores: they have not been closed, neither bound up, neither mollified with ointment.

Your countrey is desolate, your cities are burnt with fire: your lands, strangers devour it in your presence, and it is desolate as overthrowen by strangers.

And the daughter of Zion is left as a cottage in a vineyard, as a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, as a beleeged citie.

Except the LORD of host had left unto us a very small remnant, we should have been as Sodom, and we should have been like unto Gomorrah.

Hear the word of the LORD, ye rulers of Sodom: give ear unto the law of our God ye people of Gomorrah.

To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices unto me, saith the LORD? I am full of the burnt-offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts, and I delight not in the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of he-goats.

When ye come to appear before me, who hath required this at your hand to tread my courts?

Bring no more vain oblations, incense is an abomination unto me, the new moons and sabbaths, the calling of assemblies I cannot away with, it is iniquity, even the solemn meeting.

Do not new moons, and your appointed feasts my soul hatech: they are a trouble unto me, I am weary to hear them.

And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: yea, when ye shall make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of blood.

Wash ye, make you clean, put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes, cease to do evil.

17 Or, righteous.

17 Learn to do well, seek judgement, & relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow.

18 Come now and let us reason together, saith the LORD: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow, though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool.

19 If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land.

20 But if ye refuse and rebell, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it.

21 How is the faithfull citie become an harlot? it was full of judgement, righteousness lodged in it; but now murderers.

22 Thy silver is become dross, thy wine mixt with water.

23 Thy princes are rebellions, and companions of thieves: every one loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards: they judge not the fatherless, neither doth the cause of the widow come unto them.

24 Therefore saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts, the mighty One of Israel, Ah, I will ease me of mine adversaries, and avenge me of mine enemies.

25 And I will turn my hand upon thee, and I purely purge away thy dross, and take away all thy iniquity.

26 And I will restore thy judges as at the first, and thy counsellors as at the beginning: afterward thou shalt be called, The city of righteousness, the faithful city.

27 Zion shall be redeemed with judgement, and her converts with righteousness.

28 And the destruction of the transgressors and of the sinners shall be together, and they that forsake the LORD shall be consumed.

29 For they shall be ashamed of the oaks which ye have desired, and ye shall be confounded for the gardens that ye have chosen.

30 For ye shall be as an oak, whose leaf fadeth, and as a garden that hath no water.

31 And the strong shall be as tow, and the maker of it as a spark, and they shall both burn together, and none shall quench them.

CHAP. II.

1 Isaiah prophesieth the coming of Christ's kingdom.

2 Wickednesse is the cause of Gods forsaking.

3 He exhorteth to fear, because of the powerful effects of Gods majestic.

The word that Isaiah the sonne of Amos saw, concerning Judah and Jerusalem.

2 And it shall come to passe in the last dayes, that the mountain of the LORDS house shall be established in the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills; and all nations shall flow unto it.

3 And many people shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, to the house of the God of Jacob, and he will teach us of his wayes, and we will walk in his paths; for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem.

4 And he shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people: and they shall beat their swords into plow-shares, and their spears into pruning-hooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

5 O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the LORD.

6 Therefore thou hast forsaken thy people the house of Jacob, because they be replenished from the east, and are soothsayers like the Philistines, and they please themselves in the children of strangers.

7 Their land also is full of silver and gold, neither is there any end of their treasures: their land is also full of horses, neither is there any end of their chariots.

8 Their land also is full of idols: they worship the work of their own hands, that which their own fingers have made.

9 And the mean man boweth down, and the great man humbleth himself: therefore forgive them not.

10 Enter into the rock, and hide thee in the dust, for fear of the LORD, and for the glory of his majestic.

11 The lofty looks of man shall be humbled, and the haughtinesse of men shall be bowed down, and the LORD alone shall be exalted in that day.

12 For the day of the LORD of hosts shall be upon every one that is proud and lofty, and upon every one that is lifted up, and he shall be brought low.

13 And upon all the cedars of Lebanon, that are high and lifted up, and upon all the oaks of Bashan,

14 And upon all the high mountains, and upon all the hills that are lifted up,

15 And upon every high tower, and upon every fenced wall,

16 And upon all the ships of Tarshish, and upon all the pleasant pictures.

17 And the loftinesse of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtinesse of men shall be made low: and the LORD alone shall be exalted in that day.

18 And the idols he shall utterly abolish.

19 And they shall go into the holes of the rocks, and into the caves of the earth for fear of the LORD, and for the glory of his majestic, when he ariseth to shake terribly the earth.

20 In that day a man shall cast his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which they made, each one for himself to worship, to the moles, and to the bats:

21 To go into the clefts of the rocks, and into the tops of the ragged rocks, for fear of the LORD, and for the glory of his majestic: when he ariseth to shake terribly the earth.

22 Cease ye from man whose breath is in his nostrils: for wherein is he to be accounted of?

CHAP. III.

1 The great confusion which cometh by sine. 9 The impudency of the people. 12 The oppression and covetousnesse of the rulers. 16 The judgements which shall be for the pride of the women.

For behold, the LORD, the LORD of hosts doth take away from Jerusalem, and from Judah, the stay and the staffe, the whole stay of bread, and the whole stay of water,

2 The mighty man, and the man of war, the judge, and the prophet, and the prudent, and the ancient,

3 The captain of fifty, and the honourable man, and the counsellor, and the cunning artificer, and the eloquent orator.

4 And I will give children to be their princes, and babes shall rule over them.

5 And the people shall be oppressed, every one by another, and every one by his neighbour: the childe shall behave himself proudly against the ancient, and the base against the honourable.

8 For Jerusalem is ruined, and Judah is fallen : because of their tongue and their doings are against the LORD, to provoke the eyes of his glory.

9 ¶ The shew of their countenance doth witness against them, and they declare their sin as Sodom, they hide it not : wo unto their soul, for they have rewarded evil unto themselves.

10 Say ye to the righteous, that it shall be well with him : for they shall eat the fruit of their doings.

11 Wo unto the wicked, it shall be ill with him : for the reward of his hands shall be given him.

12 ¶ As for my people, children are their oppressours, and women rule over them : O my people, ¶ they which lead thee, cause thee to erre, and ¶ destroy the way of thy paths.

13 The LORD standeth up to plead, and standeth to judge the people.

14 The LORD will enter into judgement with the ancients of his people, and the princes thereof : for ye have ¶ eacen up the vineyard ; the spoil of the poor is in your houses.

15 What mean ye that ye beat my people to pieces, and grinde the faces of the poor, saith the LORD GOD of hosts ?

16 ¶ Moreover, the LORD saith, Because the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walk with stretched forth necks, and ¶ wanton eyes, walking, and ¶ misning as they go, and making a tinkling with their feet :

17 Therefore the LORD will smite with a scab the crown of the head of the daughters of Zion, and the LORD will ¶ discover their secret parts.

18 In that day the LORD will take away the bravery of their tinkling ornaments about their feet, and their ¶ caul, and their round tires like the moon, and their ¶ chains, and the bracelets, and the ¶ mufflers,

19 The ¶ hatts, and the ornament of the legs, and the head-bands, and the ¶ tablets, and the ear-rings,

22 The glasses, and the fine linen, and the hoods, and the valls.

23 And it shall come to passe, that in stead of sweet smell, there shall be stink ; and in stead of a girdle, a rent ; and in stead of well set baits, baldnesse ; and in stead of a stomacher, a girding of sackcloth ; and burning in stead of beauty.

24 Thy men shall fall by the sword, and thy ¶ mighty in the war.

25 And her gates shall lament and mourn, and she being ¶ desolate, shall sit upon the ground.

CHAP. IIII.

In the extremity of evils, Christs kingdome shall be a sanctuary.

AND in that day seven women shall take hold of one man, saying, We will eat our own bread, and wear our own apparell : only ¶ let us be called by thy name, ¶ so take away our reproach.

2 In that day shall the branch of the LORD be ¶ beautifull and glorious, and the fruit of the earth shall be excellent and comely : for them that are escaped of Israel.

3 And it shall come to passe, that he that is left in Zion, and be that remaineth in Jerusalem, shall be called holy, even every one that is written ¶ among the living in Jerusalem :

4 When the LORD shall have washed away the filth of the daughters of Zion, and shall have purged the blood of Jerusalem from the midst thereof, by the spirit of judgement, and by the spirit of burning.

5 And the LORD will create upon every dwelling place of mount Zion, and upon her assemblies a ¶ cloud, and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night : for ¶ upon all the glory shall be ¶ a defence.

6 And there shall be a tabernacle for a shadow in the day time from the heat, and for a place of refuge, and for a covert from storm and from rain.

CHAP. V.

1 Under the parable of a vineyard God executeth his severe judgement. 8 His judgements upon covetousnesse, 11 upon lasciviousnesse, 13 upon impie- tie, 20 and upon injustice. 26 The executioners of Gods judgements.

NOW will I sing to my beloved, a song of my beloved touching his vineyard : my beloved hath a ¶ vineyard in ¶ a very fruitful hill.

2 And he ¶ fenced it, and gathered out the stones thereof, and planted it with the choicest vine, and built a tower in the midst of it, and also ¶ made a wine-press therein : and he looked that it should bring forth grapes, and it brought forth wilde grapes.

3 And now, O inhabitants of Jerusalem, and men of Judah, judge, I pray you, betweene me and my vineyard.

4 What could have been done more to my vine- yard, that I have not done in it : wherefore when I looked that it should bring forth grapes, brought it forth wilde grapes ?

5 And now go to, I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard, I will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be caren up : and break down the wall thereof, and it shall be ¶ troden down.

6 And I will lay it waste : it shall not be pruned, nor digged, but there shall come up briers and thorns : I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it.

7 For the vineyard of the LORD of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah ¶ his pleasant plant : and he looked for judgement, but beheld ¶ oppression ; for righteousnesse, but beheld a crime.

8 ¶ Wo unto them that sayn ¶ house to house, that lay field to field, till there be no place, that they may be placed alone in the midst of the earth.

9 ¶ In mine ears said the LORD of hosts, ¶ Of a truthen many houses shall be desolate, even great and fair without inhabitant.

10 ¶ Ten acres of vineyard shall yeeld one bath, and the seed of an homer shall yeeld an ephab.

11 ¶ ¶ Wo unto them that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink, that continue untill night, till wine ¶ enslave them.

1 Isaiah in a vision of the Lord in his glory, ye being terrified, is confirmed for his message. 2 He sheweth the obstinacy of the people, unto their desolation. 13 A remnant shall be saved.

In the year that king Uzziah died, I * saw also the Lord sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up, and his train filled the temple.

9 And he said, Go and tell this people, * Hear ye † indeed, but understand not: and see ye indeed, but perceive not.

10 Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heave, and shut their eyes: lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and convert and be healed.

11 Then said I, LORD, how long? And he answered, Until the cities be wasted without inhabitant, and the houses without man, and the land be † utterly desolate, 12 And the LORD have removed men far away, and there be a great forsaking in the midst of the land.

13 But yet in it shall be a tenth, † and it shall return, and shall be eaten: as a tepl-tree and as an oak whose † substance is in them, when they cast their leaves: so the holy seed shall be the substance thereof.

CHAP. VII.

1 Ahaz being troubled with fear of Rezin and Pekah, is comforted by Isaiah. 10 Ahaz having liberty to choose a signe, and refusing it, hath for a signe, Christ promised. 17 His judgements is prophesied to come by Assyria.

And it came to passe in the dayes of * Ahaz the son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah king of Judah, that Rezin the king of Syria, and Pekah the son of Remaliah, king of Israel, went up towards Jerusalem to war against it, but could not prevail against it.

2 And it was told the heart of David, saying, Syria is confederate with Ephraim: and his heart was moved, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the wood are moved with the winde.

3 Then said the LORD unto Isaiah, Go forth now to meet Ahaz, thou, and † Shear-jashub thy son, at the end of the * conduit of the upper pool in the † high way of the fullers field:

4 And say unto him, Take heed, and be quiet: fear not, † neither be faint-hearted for the two tails of these smoking fire-brands, for the fierce anger of Rezin with Syria, and of the son of Remaliah.

5 Because Syria, Ephraim, and the sonne of Remaliah have taken evil counsell against thee, saying,

7 Thus saith the Lord GOD, It shall not stand, neither shall it come to passe.

8 For the head of Syria is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin, and within threescore and five yeeres shall Ephraim be broken, † that it be not a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remallabs son: † if ye will not beleve, surely ye shall not be established.

10 ¶ Moreover, the LORD spake again unto Ahaz, saying,

11 Ask thee a signe of the LORD thy God, I will ask it either in the depth, or in the height above.

12 But Ahaz said, I will not ask, neither will I tempt the LORD.

13 And he said, Hear ye now, O house of David, Is it a small thing for you to weary men, but will ye weary my God also?

14 Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a signe, Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and † shall call his name Immanuel.

15 Butter and honey shall he eat, that he may know to refuse the evill, and chuse the good.

16 For before the childe shall know to refuse the evill, and chuse the good, the land that thou abhorrest shall be forsaken of both her kings.

17 ¶ The LORD shall bring upon thee and upon thy people, and upon thy fathers house, dayes that have not come, from the day that Ephraim departed from Judah seven the king of Assyria.

18 And it shall come to passe in that day, that the LORD shall bite for the site, that is in the uttermost part of the rivers of Egypt, and for the bee that is in the land of Assyria.

19 And they shall come, and shall rest all of them in the desolate valleys, and in the holes of the rocks, and upon all thorns, and upon all bushes.

20 In the same day shall the Lord have with a * ransour that is hired, namely by them beyond the river, by the king of Assyria, the head, and the hair of the feet: and he shall also consume the beard.

21 And it shall come to passe in that day, that a man shall nourish a young cow, and two sheep:

22 And it shall come to passe for the abundance of milke that they shall give, he shall eat butter: for butter and honey shall every one eat, that is left † in the land.

23 And it shall come to passe in that day, that every place shall be, where there were a thousand vines at a thousand silverlings, it shall even be for byers and thorns.

24 With arrows and with bowes shall men come thither, because all the land shall become byers and thorns.

25 And on all hills that shall be digged with the mattock, there shall not come thither the fear of byers and thorns: but it shall be for the sending forth of oxen, and for the treading of lesser cattell.

CHAP. VIII.

1 In Maher-shal-hash-baz he prophesied that Syria and Israel shall be subdued by Assyria. 5 Judah likewise for their infidelity. 9 Gods judgements shall be irresistible. 11 Comfort shall be to them that fear God. 19 Great afflictions to idolaters.

Moreover the LORD said unto me, Take thee a great roll, and write in it with a mans pen, concerning † Maher-shal-hash-baz.

2 And I took unto me faithful witnesses to record, Uriah the pitee, and Jehaziah the sonne of Teberchiah.

3 And I went unto the propheteesse, and she conceived and bare a sonne, then said the LORD to me, Call his name Maher-shal-hash-baz.

4 For before the childe shall have knowledge to cry, My father and my mother, † the riches of Damascus, and the spoile of Samaria shall be taken away before the king of Assyria.

5 ¶ The LORD spake also unto me again, saying,

6 Forasmuch as this people refuseth the waters of Shiloah that go softly, and joyce in Rezin, and Remallabs sonne:

7 Now therefore, behold, the Lord bringeth up upon them, the waters of the river, strong and many, even the king of Assyria, and all his glory: and he shall come up over all his channells, and go over all his banks.

8 And he shall passe thowow Judah, he shall overflow and go over, he shall reach even to the neck: and † the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of the land, O Immanuel.

9 ¶ Associate your selves, O ye people, † and ye shall be broken in pieces: and give ear all ye of faire countreys: gird your selves, and ye shall be broken in pieces: gird your selves, and ye shall be broken in pieces.

10 Take counsell together, and it shall come to nought; speak the word, and it shall not stand: for God is with us.

11 ¶ For the LORD spake thus to me † with a strong hand, and instructed me that I should not walk in the way of this people, saying, 12 Say ye not, A confederacy to all them to whom this people shall say, A confederacy; neither fear ye their fear, nor be afraid.

13 Sanctifie the LORD of hosts himself, and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread.

14 And he shall be for a sanctuary; but for * a stone of stumbling, and for a rock of offence to both the houses of Israel, for a ginne, and for a snare to the inhabitantes of Jerusalem.

15 And many among them shall stumble and fall, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken.

16 Bind up the testimony, seal the law among my disciples.

17 And I will wait upon the LORD that hideth his face from the house of Jacob, and I will look for him.

18 ¶ Behold, I and the children whom the LORD hath given me, are for signes, and for wonders in Israel: from the LORD of hosts, which dwelleth in mount Zion.

19 ¶ And when they shall say unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar spirits, and unto wizards that peep, and that mutter: should not a people seek unto their God? for the living to the dead?

20 ¶ To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is † no light in them.

21 And they shall passe thowow it hardly beset and hungry: and it shall come to passe, that when they shall be hungry, they shall see themselves, and curse their king, and their God, and look upward.

22 And they shall look unto the earth: and behold, trouble and darknesse, dimnesse of anguish, and they shall be driven to darknesse.

upon Israel for their pride. 13 For their hypocricie, 18 and for their impenitencie.

2 * The people that walked in darknesse, have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined.

3 Thou hast multiplied the nation, and || not increased the joy; they joy before thee, according to the joy in harvest, and as men rejoyce when they divide the spoil.

4 || For thou hast broken the yoke of his burden, and the staffe of his shoulder, the rod of his oppressour, as in the day of * Midian.

5 || For every battell of the warriour is with confused noise, and garments rolled in blood, || but this shall be with burning and † fewell of fire.

6 For unto us a childe is born, unto us a * Sonne is given, and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called, Wonderfull, Counsellour, The mighty God, The Everlasting Father, The Prince of peace.

7 Of the increase of his government and peace * there shall be no end, upon the throne of David and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgement and with justice, from henceforth even for ever: the * zeal of the L O W D of hosts will perform this.

8 ¶ The Lord sent a word into Jacob, and it hath lighted upon Israel.

9 And all the people shall know, even Ephraim and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in the pride and stoutnesse of heart,

10 The bricks are fallen down, but we will build with heven stones: the scymozers are cut down, but we will change them into cedars.

11 Therefore the L O W D shall set up the adversaries of Rezin against him, and † join his enemies together.

12 The Syrians before, and the Philistines behinde, and they shall devour Israel † with open mouth: * for all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

13 ¶ For the people turneth not unto him that smiteth them, neither do they seek the L O W D of hosts.

14 Therefore the L O W D will cut off from Israel head and tail, branch and rish in one day.

15 The ancient and honourable, he is the head: and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the tail.

16 For || the leaders of this people cause them to erre, and || they that are lead of them, are † destroyed.

17 Therefore the Lord shall have no joy in their young men, neither shall have mercy on their fatherlesse and widows: for every one is an hypocrite, and an evil doer, and every mouth speaketh, a folly: for all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

18 ¶ For wickednesse burneth as the fire: it shall devour the briars and thornes, and shall kindle in the thickets of the forest, and they shall mount up like the lifting up of smoke.

19 Though the wrath of the L O W D of hosts is the land darkened, and the people shall be as the † fewell of the fire: no man shall spare his brother.

20 And he shall † snatch on the right hand, and be hungry; and he shall eat on the left hand, and they shall not be satisfied: they shall eat every man the flesh of his own arm.

21 Danasseh, Ephraim: and Ephraim, Danasseh: and they together shall be against Judab: for all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

CHAP. X.

1 The wo of tyrants. 5 Assyria, the rod of hypocrites, for his pride shall be broken. 20 A remnant of Israel shall be saved. 24 Israel is comforted with promise of deliverance from Assyria.

WD unto them that decree unrighteous decrees, and || that write grievousnesse which they have prescribed:

2 To turn aside the needy from judgement, and to take away the right from the poor of my people, that widows may be their prey, and that they may rob the fatherlesse.

3 And what wilt ye do in the day of visitation, and in the desolation which shall come from far? to whom wilt ye see for help? and where will ye leave your glory?

4 Without me they shall bow down under the prisoners, and they shall fall under the slain: * for all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

5 ¶ The Assyrian, the rod of mine anger, || and the staffe in their hand is mine indignation.

6 I will lend him against an hypocritical nation, and against the people of my wrath will I give him a charge to take the spoil, and to take the prey, and † to tread them down like the mire of the streets.

7 Howbeit, he meaneth not so, neither doth his heart think so; but it is in his heart to destroy, and cut off nations not a few.

8 * For he saith, Are not my princes altogether kings?

9 Is not Calno, as Carchemish: is not Hamath, as Arpad: is not Samaria as Damascus?

10 As my hand hath found the kingdoms of the idols, and whose graven images did excell them of Jerusalem, and of Samaria:

11 Shall I not, as I have done unto Samaria and her idols, so do to Jerusalem and her idols?

12 Therefore it shall come to passe, that when the L O W D hath performed his whole work * upon mount Zion, and on Jerusalem, I will † punish the feat † of the stout heart of the king of Assyria, and the glory of his high looks.

13 For he saith, By the strength of my hand I have done it, and by my wisdom: for I am prudent: and I have removed the bounds of the people, and have robbed their treasures, and I have put down the inhabitants: || like a valiant man.

14 And my hand hath found as a nest the riches of the people: and as one gathereth eggs that are left, have I gathered all the earth, and there was none that moved the wing, or opened the mouth, or peeped.

15 Shall the axe boast it self against him that beweth therewith? or shall the saw magnifie it self against him that shaketh it? || as if the rod should shake it self against them that lift it up, or as if the staffe should lift up || it self, as if it were no wood.

16 Therefore shall the Lord, the Lord of hosts, send among his fat ones leanness, and under his glory he shall kindle a burning like the burning of a fire.

19 And the rest of the trees of his forest shall be † few, that a childe may write them.

20 ¶ And it shall come to passe in that day, that the remnant of Israel, and such as are escaped of the house of Jacob, shall no more again stay upon him that smote them: but shall stay upon the L O R D, the holy One of Israel in truth.

21 The remnant shall return, even the remnant of Jacob, unto the mighty God.

22 * For though thy people Israel be as the sand of the sea, yet a remnant † of them shall return: the congregation decreed shall overflow † with righteousness.

23 For the Lord G O D of hosts shall make a consumption, even determined in the midst of all the land.

24 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord G O D of hosts, O my people that dwellest in Zion, be not afraid of the Assyrian: he shall smite thee with a rod, † and shall lift up his staffe against thee, after the manner of * Egypt.

25 For yet a very little while, and the indignation shall cease, and mine anger in their destruction.

26 And the L O R D of hosts shall stirre up a scourge for him, according to the slaughter of * Midian at the rock of Oreb: and as his rod was upon the sea, so shall he lift it up after the manner of Egypt.

27 And it shall come to passe in that day, that his burden † shall be taken away from off thy shoulder, and his yoke from off thy neck, and the yoke shall be destroyed because of the anointing.

28 He is come to Aath, he is passed to Migron: at Richmah he hath laid up his carriages.

29 They are gone over the passage: they have taken up their lodging at Geba, Ramah is afraid, Shebath of Saul is fled.

30 † Lift up thy voice, O daughter of Gallim: cause it to be heard unto Laish, O poor Anathoth.

31 Madmenah is removed, the inhabitants of Gebim gather themselves to flee.

32 As yet shall he remain at Bethel that day: he shall shake his hand against the mount of the daughter of Zion, the hill of Jerusalem.

33 Behold, the Lord, the L O R D of hosts shall lay the bougth with terror: and the high ones of stature shall be hewen down, and the haughty shall be humbled.

34 And he shall cut down the thickets of the forests with iron, and Lebanon shall fall A by a mighty one.

CHAP. XI.

1 The peaccable kingdom of the branch out of the roote of Jesse. 10 The victorious restauration of Israell, and vocation of the Gentiles.

AND there shall come forth a rod out of the stem of * Jesse, and a branch shall grow out of his roots.

2 And the spirit of the L O R D shall rest upon him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge, and of the fear of the L O R D:

3 And shall make him of † quick understanding in the fear of the L O R D, and he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes, neither reprove after the hearing of his eares.

4 But with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and he reprove with equity, for the meek of the earth: and he shall * smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked.

5 And righteousness shall be the girdle of his loyns, and faithfulness shall be the girdle of his reins.

6 * The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid: and the calf, and the young lion, and the sucking colt, etber, and a little childe shall lead them.

7 And the cow and the bear shall feed, their young ones shall lie down together: and the lion shall eat straw like the ox.

8 And the sucking childe shall play on the hole of the aspe, and the weaned childe shall put his hand on the cockatrice den.

9 They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the L O R D, as the waters cover the sea.

10 ¶ And in that day there shall be a roote of Jesse, which shall stand for an ensigne of the people: so it shall be * Gentiles seek, and his rest shall be † glorious.

11 And it shall come to passe in that day, that the Lord shall set his hand again the second time, to recover the remnant of his people which shall be left, from Assyria, and from Egypt, and from Pathros, and from Cush, and from Elam, and from Sennar, and from Hamath, and from the islands of the sea.

12 And he shall set up an ensigne for the nations, and shall assemble the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah, from the four † corners of the earth.

13 The erble also of Ephraim shall depart, and the adherentes of Judah shall be cut off: Ephraim shall not erble Judah, and Judah shall not ber Ephraim.

14 But they shall flie upon the shoulders of the Philistines toward the west, they shall spoil † them of the east together: † they shall lay their hand upon Edom and Moab, † and the children of Ammon shall obey them.

15 And the L O R D shall utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea, and with his mighty winde shall he shake his hand over the river, and shall smite it in the seven streams, and make men go over † dry-shod.

16 And there shall be an high-way for the remnant of his people, which shall be left from Assyria, * like as it was to Israel in the day that he came up out of the land of Egypt.

CHAP. XII.

AND in that day thou shalt say, O L O R D, I will praise thee: though thou wast angry with me, thine anger is turned away, and thou comfortest me.

3 Therefore with joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of salvation.

4 And in that day shall ye say, * Praise the L O R D, † call upon his Name, declare his doings among the people, make mention that his Name is exalted.

1 God mustereth the armies of his wrath. 6 He threat-neth to destroy Babylon by the Medes. 19 The desolation of Babylon.

The burden of Babylon, which Isaiah the son of Amos did see.

2 Lift ye up a banner upon the high mountain, erect the voice unto them, shake the hand, that they may go into the gates of the nobles.

3 I have commanded my sanctified ones, I have also called my mighty ones for mine anger, even them that rejoyce in my highnesse.

4 The noise of a multitude in the mountains, † like as of a great people: a tumultuous noise of the kingdomes of nations gathered together: the L O R D of hosts mustereth the host of the battell.

5 They come from a far countrey, from the end of heaven, even the L O R D of hosts, and the weapons of his indignation, to destroy the whole land.

6 ¶ Howl ye, for the day of the L O R D is at hand; it shall come as a destruction from the Almighty.

7 Therefore shall all hands be faint, and every mans heart shall melt.

8 And they shall be afraid: pangs and sorowes shall take hold of them, they shall be in pain as a woman that travaileth; they shall † be amazed
† one at another, their faces shall be as † flames.

9 Behold, the day of the L O R D cometh, cruel both with wrath and fierce anger, to lay the land desolate; and he shall destroy the sinners thereof out of it.

10 For the stars of heaven, and the constella-ons thereof shall not give their light: the sun shall be † darkned in his going forth, and the moon shall not cause her light to shine.

11 And I will punish the world for their evil, and the wicked for their iniquitie; and I will cause the arrogancy of the proud to cease, and will lay low the haughtinesse of the terrible.

12 I will make a man more precious than fine gold; even a man than the golden wedge of Ophir.

13 Therefore I will shake the heavens, and the earth shall remove out of her place in the wrath of the L O R D of hosts, and in the day of his fierce anger.

14 And it shall be as the chafed ree, and as a sheep that no man taketh up: they shall every man turn to his own people, and flee every one into his own land.

15 Every one that is found shall be thrust thorow: and every one that is joynd unto them, shall fall by the sword.

16 Their children also shall be † dashed to pieces before their eyes, their houses shall be spoiled, and their wives ravished.

17 Behold, I will stirre up the Medes against them, which shall not regard silver, and as for gold, they shall not delight in it.

18 Their bows also shall dash the young men to pieces, and they shall have no pity on the fruit of the womb; their eye shall not spare children.

19 ¶ And Babylon the glory of kingdomes, the beauty of the Caldees excellency, shall be † as when God overthroweth † Sodom and Gomorrah.

20 It shall never be inhabited, neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation: neither shall the Arabian pitch tent there; neither shall the shepherds make their fold there.

21 But † wilde beasts of the desert shall lie there, and their houses shall be full of † dolefull creatures, and † owls shall dwell there, and satyres shall dance there.

22 And † the wilde beasts of the islands shall crye in their † desolate houses, and dragons in their pleasant palaces: and her time is near to come, and her dayes shall not be prolonged.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Gods mercifull restauration of Israel. 4 Their triumphant insultation over Babel. 24 Gods purpose against Assyria. 29 Palestina is threatened.

For the L O R D will have mercy on Jacob, and will yet chuse Israel, and set them in their own land: and the strangers shall be joynd with them, and they shall cleave to the house of Jacob.

2 And the people shall take them, and bring them to their place: and the house of Israel shall possesse them in the land of the L O R D, for servants and handmaidens: and they shall take them captives, † whose captives they were, and they shall rule over their oppressours.

3 And it shall come to passe in the day that the L O R D shall give thee rest from thy sorrow, and from thy fear, and from the hard bondage wherein thou wast made to serve,

4 ¶ That thou shalt take up this † proverb against the king of Babylon, and say, How hath the oppressour ceased: the † golden citie ceased?

5 The L O R D hath broken the staffe of the wicked, and the scepter of the rulers.

6 He who smote the people in wrath with † a continual stroke; he that ruled the nations in anger, is persecuted, and none hindereth.

7 The whole earth is at rest and is quiet: they break forth into singing.

8 Pea the firs trees rejoyce at thee, and the Cedars of Libanus, saying, Since thou art laid down, no feller is come up against us.

9 ¶ Hell from beneath is moved for thee, to meet thee at thy coming: it stretcheth up the dead for thee, even all the † chief ones of the earth: it hath raised up from their thrones, all the kings of the nations.

10 All they shall speak and say unto thee, Art thou also become weak as we? art thou become like unto us?

21 Thy pomp is brought down to the grave, and the noise of thy viols: the worm is spread under thee, and the worms cover thee.

12 How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, son of the morning: how art thou cut down to the ground, which didst weaken the nations?

13 For thou hast said in thy heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north.

14 I will ascend above the heights of the clouds, I will be like the most High.

15 Yet thou shalt be brought down to hell, to the sides of the pit.

16 They that see thee, shall narrowly look upon thee, and consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, that did shake kingdomes?

17 That made the world as a wilderness, and destroyed the cities thereof, that † opened not the house of his prisoners?

18 All the kings of the nations, even all of them lie in glory, every one in his own house.

19 But thou art cast out of thy grave like an abominable branch: and as the raiment of those that are slain, thrust thorow with a sword, that go down to the stones of the pit, as a cartcase troden

CHAP. XV.

The lamentable state of Moab.

The burden of Moab. Because in the night Ar of Moab is laid waste, and brought to silence, because in the night Kir of Moab is laid waste, and brought to silence:

1 He is gone up to Basith, and to Dibon, the high places, to weep: Moab shall howl over Nebo, and over Medeba, * on all their heads shall be baldness, and every beared cut off.

2 In their streets they shall gird themselves with sackcloth: on the tops of their houses, and in their streets every one shall howl, + weeping a-bandantly.

3 And Heshbon shall cry, and Elealeh: their voice shall be heard even unto Jazer: therefore the armed souldiers of Moab shall cease out, his life shall be grievous unto him.

4 My heart shall cry out for Moab, / his fugitives shall see unto Jozr, an * heifer of three yeers old: for by the mounting up of Luhith with weeping shall they go to it: for in the way of Monoptam, they shall raise up a cry of + desolation.

5 For the waters of Diminim shall be + desolate:
for the hay is withered away, the grass faileth,
there is no green thing.

7 Therefore the abundance they have gotten, and that which they have laid up, shall they carry away to the brook of the willows.

8 For the cry is gone round about the borders of Moab: the howling thereof unto Eglaim, and the howling thereof unto Beer-elim.

9 For the waters of Dimen shall be full of blood: for I will bring + more upon Dimonitions upon him that escapeth of Moab, and upon the remnant of the land.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Moab is exhorted to yeeld obedience to Christs kingdom. 6 Moab is threatened for her pride. 9 The prophet bewaileth her. 12 The judgement of Moab.

Send ye the lamb to the ruler of the land from Sela to the wilderness, unto the mount of the daughter of Zion.

2 For it shall be that as a wandering bird // cast out of the nest: so the daughters of Moab shall be at the fords of Arnon.

3 + Take counsell, execute judgement, make thy shadow as the night in the midst of the noonday, hide the out-casts, bewray not him that wan-dereth.

4 Let mine out-casts dwell with thee, Moab, be thou a covert to them from the face of the spotter: for the + extortioner is at an end, the spoiler ceaseth, + the oppressours are consumed out of the land.

5 And in mercy * shall the throne be // establised, and he shall sit upon it in truth, in the tabernacle of David, judging and seeking judgement, and hating righteousness.

6 We have heard of the * pride of Moab, (hee is very proud) even of his haughtinesse, and his pride, and his wrath: but his lies shall not be so.

7 Therefore shall Moab * howl for Moab, every one shall howle: for the foundations of Kirharezeth shall ye // mourn, surely they are stricken.

8 For the fields of Heshbon languish, and the vine of Sibmah: the lords of the heathen have broken down the principall plants thereof, they are come even unto Jazer, they wandered thorow the wilderness, bee branches are // stretched out, they are gone over the sea.

9 Therefore I will betray with the weeping of Jazer, the vine of Sibmah: I will water thee with my tears, O Heshbon, and Elealeh: for // the shouting for the summer fruits, and for thy harvest, is fallen.

10 And * gladnesse is taken away, and joy out of the plentiful field, and in the vineyards there shall be no singing, neither shall there be shouting: the treaders shall tread out no wine in their presses: I have made their vintage-shouting to cease.

11 Wherefore my botwels shall sound like an harp for Moab, and mine inward parts for Kir-harezeth.

12 And it shall come to passe, when it is seen that Moab is wearie on the high place, that he shall come to his sanctuarie to pray, but he shall not prevail.

13 This is the word that the LORD hath spoken concerning Moab since that time.

14 But now the LORD hath spoken, saying, Within three yeers, as the yeers of an hiring, and the gloie of Moab shall be contented: with all that great multitude; and the remnant shall be very small and // feeble.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Syria and Israel are threatened. 6 A remnant shall forsake idolatry. 9 The rest shall be plagued for their impiety. 12 The wo of Israels enemies.

The burden of Damascus, Behold, Damascus is taken away from being a city, and it shall be a ruinous heap.

2 The cities of Aroer are forsaken: they shall be for flocks which shall lie down, and none shall make them afraid.

3 The fortreffe also shall cease from Ephraim, and the kingdom from Damascus, and the remnant of Syria: they shall be as the glory of the children of Israel, saith the LORD of hosts.

4 And in that day it shall come to passe, that the glory of Jacob shall be made thin, and the fatness of his flesh shall wax lean.

5 And it shall be as when the harvest-man gathereth the corn, and reapeth the ears with his arm: and it shall be as he that gathereth ears in the valley of Rephaim.

6 (¶) Yet gleanings grapes shall be left in it, as the shaking of an olive tree, two or three berries in the top of the uppermost bough: four or five in the outmost fruitfull branches thereof, saith the LORD God of Israel.

7 At that day shall a man look to his Maker, and his eyes shall have respect to the holy One of Israel.

8 And he shall not look to the altars, the work of his hands, neither shall respect that which his fingers have made, either the groves, or the images.)

9 ¶ In that day shall his strong cities be as a forsaken bough, and an uppermost branch, which they left, because of the children of Israel: and there shall be desolation.

10 Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy salvation, and hast not been mindful of the rock of thy strength: therefore shalt thou plant pleasant plants, and shalt set it with strange slips.

11 In the day shalt thou make thy plant to grow, and in the morning shalt thou make thy seed to flourish: but the harvest shall be a heap in the day of grief, and of desperate sorrow.

12 ¶ Cō to the multitude of many people, which make a noise like the noise of the seas; and to the rushing of nations, that make a rushing like the rushing of mighty waters.

13 The nations shall rush like the rushing of many waters, but God shall rebuke them, and they shall flee far off, and shall be chafed as the chaffe of the mountains before the winds, and like a rolling thing before the whirlwinds.

14 And behold, at evening-tide trouble, and before the morning he is not: this is the portion of them that spoil us, and the lot of them that rob us.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 God in care of his people will destroy the Ethiopians. 7 An access thereby shall grow unto the Church.

¶ To the land shadowing with wings, which is beyond the rivers of Ethiopia:

2 That sendeth ambassadors by the sea, even in vessels of bulrushes upon the waters, saying, Go ye swift messengers to a nation scattered and peeled, to a people terrible from their beginning hitherto: a nation meeted out and troden down; whose land the rivers have spoiled.

3 All ye inhabitants of the world, and dwellers on the earth, see ye, when he lifteth up an ensigne on the mountains; and when he bloweth a trumpet, hear ye.

4 For so the LORD said unto me, I will take my rest, and I will consider in my dwelling place like a clear beat upon herbs, and like a cloud of dew in the heat of harvest.

5 For afore the harvest when the bud is perfect, and the softne grape is ripening in the flower: he shall both cut off the sprigs with pruning hooks, and take away, and cut down the branches.

6 They shall be left together unto the fowls of the mountains, and to the beasts of the earth: and the fowls shall summer upon them, and all the beasts of the earth shall winter upon them.

7 ¶ In that time shall the present be brought unto the LORD of hosts, of a people scattered and peeled, and from a people terrible from their beginning hitherto: a nation meeted out and troden under foot, whose land the rivers have spoiled, to the place of the name of the LORD of hosts, the mount Zion.

CHAP. XIX.

1 The confusion of Egypt. 11 The foolishnesse of their princes. 18 The calling of Egypt to the church. 23 The covenant of Egypt, Assyria, and Israel.

The burden of Egypt: behold, the LORD rideth upon a swift cloud, and shall come into Egypt, and the idols of Egypt shall be moved at his presence, and the heart of Egypt shall melt in the midst of it.

2 And I will set the Egyptians against the Egyptians: and they shall fight every one against his brother, and every one against his neighbour; city against city, and kingdom against kingdom.

3 And the spirit of Egypt shall fail in the midst thereof, and I will destroy the counsell thereof: and they shall seek to the idols, and to the charms, and to them that have familiar spirits, and to the wizards.

4 And the Egyptians will I give over into the hand of a cruel lord; and a fierce king shall rule over them, saith the LORD, the LORD of hosts.

5 And the waters shall fail from the sea, and the river shall be wasted and dried up.

6 And they shall turn the rivers far away, and the brooks of defence shall be emptied and dried up: the reeds and flags shall wither.

7 The paper reeds by the brooks, by the mouth of the brooks, and every thing sown by the brooks shall wither, be driven away, and be no more.

8 The fishers also shall mourn, and all they that cast angle into the brooks shall lament, and they that spread nets upon the waters shall languish.

9 Moreover they that work in fine flax, and they that weave net-works shall be confounded.

10 And they shall be broken in the purposes thereof, all that make bucces and ponds for fish.

11 ¶ Surely the princes of Zoan are fools, the counsel of the wise counsellors of Pharaoh is become brutish: how say ye unto Pharaoh, I am the son of the wise, the son of ancient kings?

12 Where are they? where are thy wise men? and let them tell thee now, and let them know what the LORD of hosts hath purposed upon Egypt.

13 The princes of Zoan are become fools, the princes of Noph are deceived, they have also seduced Egypt, even they that are the stay of the tribes thereof.

16 In that day shall Egypt be like unto women: and it shall be afraid and fear, because of the shaking of the band of the LORD of hosts, which he shaketh over it.

17 And the land of Judah shall be a terrour unto Egypt, every one that maketh mention thereof, shall be afraid in himself; because of the counsell of the LORD of hosts, which he hath determined against it.

18 In that day shall five cities in the land of Egypt speak the language of Canaan, and swear to the LORD of hosts: one shall be called the citie of destruction.

19 In that day shall there be an altar to the LORD in the midst of the land of Egypt, and a pillar at the border thereof to the LORD.

20 And it shall be for a signe, and for a witness unto the LORD of hosts in the land of Egypt: for they shall cry unto the LORD, because of the oppressours, and he shall send them a saviour, and a great one, and he shall deliver them.

21 And the LORD shall be known to Egypt, and the Egyptians shall know the LORD in that day, and shall do sacrifice and oblation, yea, they shall bow a bow unto the LORD, and perform it.

22 And the LORD shall smite Egypt, he shall smite and heal it, and they shall return even to the LORD, and he shall be intreated of them, and shall heal them.

23 In that day shall there be an high way out of Egypt to Assyria, and the Assyrian shall come into Egypt, and the Egyptian into Assyria, and the Egyptians shall serve with the Assyrians.

24 In that day shall Israel be the chief with Egypt, and with Assyria, even a blessing in the midst of the land;

25 Whom the LORD of hosts shall blesse, saying, Blessed be Egypt my people, and Assyria the work of my hands, and Israel mine inheritance.

CHAP. XX.

A type prefiguring the shamefull captivitic of Egypt and Ethiopia.

In the year that Tartan came unto Ashdod (when Sargon the king of Assyria sent him) and fought against Ashdod, and took it.

2 At the same time spake the LORD by Isaiah the sonne of Amos, saying, So, and loose the sackcloth from off thy loyns, and put off thy shoe from thy foot; and he did so, walking naked and bare-foot.

3 And the LORD said, Like as my servant Isaiah hath walked naked and bare-foot, three yeers for a signe and wonder upon Egypt, and upon Ethiopia:

4 So shall the king of Assyria lead away the Egyptians prisoners, and the Ethiopians captives, young and old, naked and bare-foot, even with their buttocks uncovered, to the shame of Egypt.

5 And they shall be afraid and ashamed of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their glory.

6 And the inhabitant of this isle shall say in that day, Behold, such is our expectation whither we flee for help to be delivered from the king of Assyria: and how shall we escape?

CHAP. XXI.

1 The prophet bewailing the captivitic of his people, seeth in a vision the fall of Babylon by the Medes and Persians. 11 Edom scorning the prophet, is moved to repentance. 13 The 1st time of Arabias calamitic.

The burden of the desert of the sea. As whirlwinds in the south passe thorough; so it cometh from the desert, from a terrible land.

2 A grievous vision is declared unto me, and the treacherous dealer dealeth treacherously, and the spoiler spoileth: go up, O Lam: besiege, O Media: all the fighting thereof have I made to cease.

3 Therefore are my loyns filled with pain: pangs have taken hold upon me, as the pangs of a woman that travaileth: I was bowed down at the bearing of it. I was dismained at the seeing of it.

4 My heart panted, fearfullnesse affrighted me: the night of my pleasure hath been turned into fear unto me.

5 Prepare the table, watch in the watch-tower, eat, drink: arise, ye princes, and anoint the shield.

6 For thus hath the LORD said unto me, So, set a watchman, let him declare what he seeth.

7 And he saw a chariot with a couple of horsemen, a chariot of asses, and a chariot of camels; and he hearkened diligently with much heed.

8 And he cried, A lion: my lord, I stand continually upon the watch-tower in the day time, and I am set in my ward all whole nights.

9 And behold, here cometh a chariot of men, with a couple of horsemen: and he answered and said, * Babylon is fallen, is fallen; and all the graven images of her gods he hath broken unto the ground.

10 O my thirsting, and the foam of my floor: that which I have heard of the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, have I declared unto you.

11 The burden of Dumah, He calleth to me out of Seir, Watchman, what of the night? watchman, what of the night?

12 The watchman said, The morning cometh, and also the night: if ye will enquire, enquire ye: return, come.

13 The burden upon Arabia. In the forest in Arabia shall ye lodge, O ye travelling companies of Dedanim.

14 The inhabitants of the land of Tema brought water to him that was thirsty, they prevented with their bread him that fled.

15 For they fled from the words, from the drawn sword, and from the bent bow, and from the grievousnesse of warre.

16 For thus hath the LORD said unto me, With in a year, according to the yeers of an hireling, and all the glory of Kedar shall fail.

17 And the residue of the number of archers, the mighty men of the children of Kedar shall be diminished: for the LORD God of Israel hath spoken it.

CHAP. XXII.

1 The prophet lamenteth the invasion of Jery by the Persians. 8 He reproveh their humane wisdom, and worldly joy. 15 He prophesieth Shebas deprivation, 20 and Eliakim, prefiguring the kingdom of Christ, his substitution.

The burden of the valley of vision. What aileth thee now, that thou art wholly gone up to the house tops?

2 Thou that art full of stores, a turkious city, a populous city: thy slain men are not slain with the sword, nor dead in battell.

3 All thy rulers are fled together, they are bound by the archers: all that are found in thee are bound together, which have fled from sarre.

20 And it ſhall come to paſſe in that day, that I will call my ſervant Eliakim the ſon of Hiskiah;

21 And I will clothe him with thy robe, and ſtrengthen him with thy girdle, and I will commit thy government into his hand, and he ſhall be a father to the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and to the houſe of Judah.

22 And the key of the houſe of David will I lay upon his ſhoulder: ſo he ſhall open, and none ſhall ſhut, and he ſhall ſhut, and none ſhall open.

23 And I will faſten him as a nail in a ſure place; and he ſhall be for a glorious throne to his fathers houſe.

24 And they ſhall hang upon him all the glory of his fathers houſe, the offspring and the iſſue, all veſſels of ſmall quantitie: from the veſſels of cups, even to all the veſſels of ſtagons.

25 In that day, ſaith the Lord God of hoſts, ſhall the nail that is faſtned in the ſure place, be removed, and be cut down, and fall down the burden that was upon it ſhall be cut off: for the Lord God hath ſpoken it.

1 The miſerable overthrow of Tyre. 17 Their unhappy return.

The burden of Tyre. How ye ſhips of Tarſiſh, for it is laid waſte, ſo that there is no houſe, no entering in: from the land of Chittim it is revealed to them.

2 We ſtill ye inhabitants of the iſle, thou whom the merchants of Sidon, that paſſe over the ſea, have replenished.

3 And by great waters the ſeed of Sihor, the harbeſt of the river is her revenue, and ſhe is a mart of nations.

4 Be thou aſhamed, O Sidon; for the ſea hath ſpoken, even the ſtrength of the ſea, ſaying, I travail not, nor bring forth children, neither do I nourish up young men, nor bring up virgins.

5 As at the report concerning Egypt, ſo ſhall they be ſorely pained at the report of Tyre.

6 Paſſe ye over to Tarſiſh, how ye inhabitants of the iſle.

7 Is this your joyous city, whole antiquitie is of ancient days? her own feet ſhall carry her † a far off to ſolour.

8 Who hath taken this counſel againſt Tyre, the crowning city, whole merchants are princes, whole traffickers are the honourable of the earth?

9 The Lord God of hoſts hath purpoſed it, † to ſtain the pride of all glory, and to bring into contempt all the honourable of the earth.

10 Paſſe thou over the land as a river, O daughter of Tarſiſh; there is no more † ſtrength.

11 We ſtreched out his hands over the ſea, he ſhook the kingdoms: the Lord God hath given a commandment againſt † the merchant citie, to deſtroy the ſtrong holds thereof.

12 And he ſaid, Thou ſhalt no more rejoyce, O thou oppreſſed virgin, daughter of Sidon: ariſe, paſſe over to Chittim, there alſo ſhalt thou have no reſt.

13 Behold, the land of the Chaldeans, this people was not all the Aſſyrian founded it for them that dwell in the wilderness: they ſet up the towers thereof, they railed up the palaces thereof, and he brought it to ruine.

14 How ye ſhips of Tarſiſh: for your ſtrength is laid waſte.

15 And it ſhall come to paſſe in that day, that Tyre ſhall be forgotten ſeventy years, according to the days of one king: after the end of ſeventy years † ſhall Tyre ſing as an harlot.

16 Take an harp, go about the city, thou harlot that haſt been forgotten, make ſweet melody, ſing many ſongs, that thou mayeſt be remembered.

17 And it ſhall come to paſſe after the end of ſeventy years, that the Lord God will viſit Tyre, and ſhe ſhall turn to her hire, and ſhall commit fornication with all the kingdoms of the world upon the face of the earth.

18 And her merchants, and her hire ſhall be holineſſe to the Lord God: it ſhall not be treaſured, nor laid up: for her merchandise ſhall be for them that dwell by ſeas, to eat ſufficiently, and for durable clothing.

down, and scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof

2 And it shall be, as with the people, so with the h * pless; as with the servant, so with his master; as with the maid, so with her mistress; as with the buyer, so with the seller; as with the lender, so with the borrower; as with the taker of usury, so with the giver of usury to him.

3 The land shall be utterly emptied, and utterly spoiled: for the L O R D hath spoken this word.

4 The earth mourneth and fadeth away, the world languisheth and fadeth away, the haughty people of the earth do languish.

5 The earth also is defiled under the inhabitants thereof: because they have transgressed the laws, changed the ordinance, broken the everlasting covenant.

6 Therefore hath the curse devoured the earth, and they that dwell therein are desolate: therefore the inhabitants of the earth are burned, and few men left.

7 The new wine mourneth, the vine languisheth, all the merry-hearted do sigh.

8 The mirth of tabrets cealeth, the noise of them that rejoice endeth, the joy of the harp cealeth.

9 They shall not drink wine with a song, strong drink shall be bitter to them that drink it.

10 The citie of confusion is broken down: every house is shut up, that no man may come in.

11 There is a crying for wine in the streets, all joy is darkned, the mirth of the land is gone.

12 In the city is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction.

13 Althen thus it shall be in the midst of the land among the people: there shall be as the shaking of an olive tree, and as the gleaning grapes when the vintage is done.

14 They shall lift up their voice, they shall sing for the majestie of the L O R D, they shall cry aloud from the sea.

15 Therefore, glorifie ye the L O R D in the Riffes, even the flame of the L O R D God of Israel in the titles of the sea.

16 From the † uttermost part of the earth have we heard songs, even glory to the righteous: but I said, † My leanness, my leanness, wo unto me: the treacherous dealers have dealt treacherously, yea, the treacherous dealers have dealt very treacherously.

17 Fear, and the pit, and the snare are upon thee, O inhabitant of the earth.

18 And it shall come to passe, that he who fleeth from the noise of the fear, shall fall into the pit: and he that cometh up out of the midst of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for the windows from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth do shake.

19 The earth is utterly broken down, the earth is clean dissolved, the earth is moved exceedingly.

20 The earth shall reel to and fro like a drunkard, and shall be removed like a cottage, and the transgression thereof shall be heavy upon it, and it shall fall and not rise again.

21 And it shall come to passe in that day, that the L O R D shall † punish the host of the high ones that are on high, and the kings of the earth upon the earth.

22 And they shall be gathered together † as prisoners are gathered in the † pit, and shall be shut up in the prison, and after many dayes shall they be visited.

23 When the † moon shall be confounded, and the sun ashamed, when the L O R D of hosts shall reign in mount Zion and in Jerusalem, and † before his ancients gloriously.

CHAP. XXV.

1 The prophet praiseth God for his judgements, 6 for his saving benefits, 9 and for his victorious salvation.

O L O R D, thou art my God, † I will exalt thee, † I will praise thy name; for thou hast done wonderful things; thy counsels of old are faithfulness and truth.

2 For thou hast made of a citie, an heap; of a defended citie, a ruine: a palace of strangers to be no citie, it shall never be built.

3 Therefore shall the strong people glorifie thee, the citie of the terrible nations shall fear thee.

4 For thou hast been a strength to the poor, a strength to the needy in his distresse, a refuge from the storm, a shadow from the heat, when the blast of the terrible ones is as a storm against the wall.

5 Thou shalt bring down the noise of strangers, as the heat in a drie place; even the heat with the shadow of a cloud: the branch of the terrible ones shall be brought low.

6 And in this mountain shall the L O R D of hosts make unto all people a feast of fat things, a feast of wines on the lees, of fat things full of marrow, of wines on the lees well refined.

7 And he will † destroy in this mountain the face of the covering † cast over all people, and the ball that is spread over all nations.

8 We will † swallow up death in victory, and the L O R D G O D will † wipe away tears from off all faces, and the rebuke of his people shall he take away from off all the earth: for the L O R D hath spoken it.

9 And it shall be said in that day, L O, this is our God, we have waited for him, and he will save us: this is the L O R D, we have waited for him, we will be glad and rejoice in his salvation.

10 For in this mountain shall the hand of the L O R D rest, and † Soab shall be † troden down under him, even as straw is † troden down for the dung-hill.

11 And he shall spread forth his hands in the midst of them, as he that swimmeth spreadeth forth his hands to swimme: and he shall bring down their pride together with the spoils of their hands.

12 And the forefront of the high fort of thy walls shall be bring down, say low, and bring to the ground, even to the dust.

1 A song inciting to confidence in God, 5 for his judgements, 12 and for his favour to his people. 20 An exhortation to wait on God.

In that day shall this song be sung in the land of Iubah, We have a strong citie, salvation will God appoint for walls and bulwarks.

2 Open ye the gates, that the righteous nation which keepeth the † truth may enter in.

3 Thou wilt keep him in † perfect peace, whose † minde is staid on thee: because he trusted in thee.

4 Trust ye in the L O R D for ever: for in the L O R D I T H O D E A S is † everlasting strength.

9 With my ſoul have I deſired thee in the night, yea, with my ſpirit within me will I ſeek thee early: for when thy judgements are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousneſſe.

10 Let favour be ſhewed to the wicked, yet will he not learn righteousneſſe: in the land of uprightneſſe will he deal unjuſtly, and will not behold the majeſty of the L O R D.

11 L O R D, when thy hand is lifted up, they will not ſee: but they ſhall ſee, and be aſhamed for their envie // as the people, yea the ſire of thine enemies ſhall devour them.

C H A P. XXVIII.

1 The prophet threateth Ephraim for their pride and drunkenneſſe. 5 The reſidue ſhall be advanced in the kingdome of Chriſt. 7 He rebuketh their error. 9 Their untowardneſſe to learn, 14 and their ſecurity. 16 Chriſt the ſure foundation is promiſed. 18 Their ſecurity ſhall be tried. 23 They are incited to the conſideration of Gods diſcreet providence.

Word to the crown of pride, to the drunkards of Ephraim, whoſe glorious beauty is a fading flower, which are on the head of the fat valleys of them that are overcome with wine.

2 Behold, the L O R D hath a mighty and ſtrong one, which as a tempeſt of hail, and a deſtroying ſtorm, as a flood of mighty waters overflowing, ſhall caſt down to the earth with the hand.

3 The crown of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim ſhall be troden under feet.

4 And the glorious beauty which is on the head of the fat valley, ſhall be a fading flower, and as the haſty fruit before the ſummer: which when he ſhall lookeſt upon it, leaſt it, while it is yet in his hand be ſeeth it up.

8 For all tables are full of vomit and filthinesse, so that there is no place clean.

9 ¶ Whom shall he teach knowledge? and whom shall he make to understand doctrine: them that are weaned from the milk, and drawn from the breasts.

10 For precept // must be upon precept, precept upon precept, line upon line, line upon line, here a little, and there a little.

11 For with // hammering lips and another tongue // will he speak to this people.

12 To whom he said, This is the rest wherewith ye may cause the weary to rest, and this is the refreshing: yet they would not hear.

13 But the word of the LORD was unto them; precept upon precept, precept upon precept, line upon line, line upon line, here a little and there a little: that they might go and fall backward, and be broken, and snared, and taken.

14 ¶ Therefore hear the word of the LORD, ye scornfull men that rule this people which is in Jerusalem.

15 Because ye have said, We have made a covenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement, when the overflowing scourge shall passe through, it shall not come unto us: for we have made lies our refuge, and under falsehood have we hid our selves:

16 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation, * a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner-stone, a sure foundation: he that beleeveth, shall not make haste.

17 Judgement also will I lay to the line, and righteousness to the plummet, and the hail shall sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding place.

18 ¶ And your covenant with death shall be disannulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand: when the overflowing scourge shall passe through, then ye shall be // troden down by it.

19 From the time that it goeth forth, it shall take you: for morning by morning shall it passe over, by day and by night, and it shall be a vexation, onely // to understand the report.

20 For the bed is shorter then that a man can stretch himself on it, and the covering narrower then that he can wrap himself in it.

21 For the LORD shall rise up as in mount Perazim, he shall be woth as in the valley of Sibon, that he may do his work, his strange work, and bring to passe his act, his strange act.

22 Now therefore be ye not mockers, lest your hands be made strong: for I have heard from the Lord GOD of hosts a consumption, even determined upon the whole earth.

23 ¶ Obey ye ear, and hear my voice, hearken and hear my speech.

24 Doth the plowman plow all day to sow? doth he open and break the clods of his ground?

25 When he hath made plain the face thereof, doth he not cast abroad the sitches, and scatter the cummin, and cast in // the principal wheat, and the appointed barley, and the // rice in their // place?

26 // For his God doth instruct him to discretion, and doth teach him.

27 For the sitches are not threshed with a threshing instrument, neither is a cart-wheell turned about upon the cummin: but the sitches are beaten out with a staffe, and the cummin with a rod.

28 Bread-corn is husled; because he will not ever be threshing it, nor break it with the wheel of his cart, nor husle it with his hoysmen.

29 This also cometh forth from the LORD of hosts, which is wonderfull in counsell, and excellent in working.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Gods heavy judgement upon Jerusalem. 7 The unfaithfulness of her enemies. 9 The senselesnesse, 13 and deep hypocrisie of the Jews. 18 A promise of sanctification to the godly.

¶ W D to Ariel, to Ariel // the city where David dwelt: adde ye year to year; let them // kill sacrifices.

2 Per I will distresse Ariel, and there shall be heaviness and sorrow: and it shall be unto me as Ariel.

3 And I will camp against thee round about, and will lay siege against thee with a mount, and I will talke for // against thee.

4 And thou shalt be brought down, and shalt speak out of the ground, and thy speech shall be low out of the dust, and thy voice shall be as of one that hath a familiar spirit, out of the ground, and thy speech shall // whisper out of the dust.

5 Moreover, the multitude of thy strangers shall be like small dust, and the multitude of the terrible ones shall be as chaffe that passeth away: yea it shall be at an instant suddenly.

6 Thou shalt be visited of the LORD of hosts with thunder, and with earthquake, and great noise, with storm and tempest, and the flame of devouring fire.

7 ¶ And the multitude of all the nations that fight against Ariel, even all that fight against her and her munition, and that distresse her, shall be as a dream of a night vision.

8 It shall even be as when a hungry man dreameth, and behold he eateth; but he awaketh, and his soul is empty: or as when a thirsty man dreameth, and behold he drinketh; but he awaketh, and behold, he is faint, and his soul hath appetite: so shall the multitude of all the nations be, that fight against mount Zion.

9 ¶ Stay your selves and wonder, // cry ye out, and cry: they are drunken, but not with wine; they stagger, but not with strong drink.

10 For the LORD hath poured out upon you the spirit of deep sleep, and hath closed your eyes: the prophets and your // rulers, the seers hath he covered.

11 And the vision of all is become unto you, as the words of a // book that is sealed, which men delivered to one that is learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee; and he saith, I cannot, for it is sealed:

12 And the book is delivered to him that is not learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee; and he saith, I am not learned.

13 ¶ Therefore the Lord said, * Forasmuch as this people draw neer me with their mouth, and with their lips do honour me, but their heart removed their heart far from me, and their fear towards me is taught by the precept of men:

14 Therefore behold, // I will proceed to do a marvellous work among this people, even a marvellous work and a wonder: * for the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the understanding of their prudent men shall be hid.

15 ¶ Who unto them that seek deep to hide their counsell from the LORD, and their works are in the dark, and they say, * Who seeth us? and who knoweth us?

CHAP. XXX.

1 The prophet threateth the people for their confidence in Egypt, 8 and contempt of Gods word. 18 Gods mercies towards his Church. 27 Gods wrath, and the peoples joy in the destruction of Assyria.

WD to the rebellious children, saith the LORD, that take counsell, but not of me, and that cover with a covering, but not of my spirit, that they may adde sin to sin:

2 That walk to go down into Egypt, (and have not asked at my mouth) to strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh, and to trust in the shadow of Egypt.

3 Therefore shall the strength of Pharaoh be your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confusion.

4 For his princes were at Swans, and his ambassadors came to Hanes.

5 They were all ashamed of the people that could not profit them, nor be an help nor profit, but a shame and also a reproach.

6 The burden of the beasts of the south: into the land of trouble and anguish, from whence come the young and old lion, the viper and fiery flying serpent, they will carry their riches upon the shoulders of young asses, and their treasures upon the bunches of camels, to a people that shall not profit them.

7 For the Egyptians shall help in vain, and to no purpose: therefore have I cryed concerning this, Their strength is to sit still.

8 Now go, write it before them in a table, and note it in a book, that it may be for a time to come for ever and ever:

9 That this is a rebellious people, lying children, children that will not hear the law of the LORD:

10 Which say to the seers, See not; and to the prophets, Prophesie not unto us right things, speak unto us smooth things, prophesie deceits:

11 Get you out of the way, turn aside out of the path, cause the holy one of Israel to cease from before us.

12 Therefore thus saith the holy one of Israel, Because ye despise this word, and trust in oppression and pervernesse, and stay thereon:

13 Therefore this iniquity shall be to you as a breach ready to fall, swelling out in a high wall, whose breaking cometh suddenly at an instant.

14 And he shall break it as the breaking of the potters vessel, that is broken in pieces, he shall not spare, so that there shall not be found in the bursting of it, a sheard to take fire from the hearth, or to take water withall out of the pit.

15 For thus saith the LORD GOD, the holy one of Israel, In returning and rest shall ye be saved, in quietnesse and in confidence shall be your strength, and ye would not.

16 But ye said, No, for we will flee upon horses; therefore shall ye flee: and we will ride upon the swift; therefore shall they that pursue you be swift.

17 One thousand shall see at the rebuke of one: at the rebuke of five shall ye flee, till ye be left as a beacon upon the top of a mountain, and as an ensigne on an hill.

18 And therefore will the LORD wait that he may be gracious unto you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may have mercy upon you: for the LORD is a God of judgment; * blessed are all they that wait for him.

19 For the people shall dwell in Zion at Jerusalem: thou shalt weep no more: he will be very gracious unto thee, at the voice of thy cry; when he shall hear, he will answer thee.

20 And though the Lord give you the bread of adversity, and the water of affliction, yet shall not thy teachers be removed into a corner any more, but thine eyes shall see thy teachers:

21 And thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, walke, ye in it, when ye turn to the right hand, and when ye turn to the left.

22 Ye shall defile also the covering of thy graven images of silver and the ornament of thy molten images of gold: thou shalt cast them away as a menstruous cloth, thou shalt say unto it, Get thee hence.

23 Then shall he give the rain of thy seed that thou shalt sow the ground withall, and bread of the increase of the earth, and it shall be fat and plenteous: in that day shall thy cattell feed in large pastures.

24 The oven likewise and the young asses that eat the ground, shall eat: and clean provender which hath been winnowed with the shovel and with the fanne.

25 And there shall be upon every high mountain, and upon every high hill, rivers and streams of waters, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall.

26 Moreover, the light of the moon shall be as the light of the sunne, and the light of the sunne shall be seven fold, as the light of seven dayes, in the day that the LORD bindeth up the breach of his people, and healeth the stroke of their wounds.

27 Behold, the name of the LORD cometh from farre, burning with his anger, and the burden thereof is heavy: his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue as a devouring fire.

28 And his breath as an overflowing stream, shall reach to the midst of the neck, to sift the nations with the sieve of banitie: and there shall be a bridle in the jaws of the people, causing them to erre.

29 Ye shall have a song as in the night, when a holy solemnitie is kept, and gladnesse of heart, as when one goeth with a pipe to come into the mountain of the LORD, to the mighty one of Israel.

32 And † in every place where the grounded staffe shall passe, which the LORD shall † lay upon him, it shall be with tabrets and harps: and in battels of shakings will he fight † with it.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 The prophet sheweth the cursed folly in trusting to Egypt, and forsaking of God. 6 He exhorteeth to conversion. 8 He sheweth the fall of Assyria.

WD to them that go down to Egypt for help, and stay on horses, and trust in chariots, because they are many; and in horsemen, because they are very strong: but they look not unto the holy One of Israel, neither seek the LORD.

2 Yet he also is wise, and will bring evil, and will not † call back his words: but will arise against the house of the evil doers, and against the help of them that work iniquitie.

3 Now the Egyptians are men and not God, and their horses flesh and not spirit: when the LORD shall stretch out his hand, both he that helpeth shall fall, and he that is holpen shall fall down, and they all shall fall together.

4 For thus hath the LORD † spoken unto me, Like as the lion and the young lion roaring on his prey, when a multitude of shepherds is called forth against him, he will not be afraid of their voice, nor abate himself for the † noise of them: so shall the LORD of hosts come down to fight for mount Zion, and for the hill thereof.

5 As birds flying, so will the LORD of hosts defend Jerusalem, defending also he will deliver it, and passing over he will preserve it.

6 I turne ye unto him, from whom the children of Israel have deeply revolted.

7 For in that day every man shall † cast away his idols of silver, and † his idols of gold, which your own hands have made unto you for a sinne.

8 ¶ Then shall the Assyrian fall with the sword, not of a mighty man; and the sword, not of a mean man shall devour him: but he shall flee † from the sword, and his young men shall be † † discomfited.

9 And he shall passe over to † † his strong hold for fear, and his princes shall be afraid of the ensigne, saith the LORD, whose fire is in Zion, and his furnace in Jerusalem.

1 The blessings of Christs kingdom. 9 Desolation is foreshewn. 15 Restauration is promised to succeed.

BEhold, a king shall reign in righteousness, and princes shall rule in judgement.

2 And a man shall be as a hiding place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest: as rivers of water in a dry place, as the shadow of a † great rock in a weary land.

3 And the eyes of them that see, shall not be dim, and the ears of them that hear, shall hearken.

4 The heart also of the † rash shall understand knowledge, and the tongue of the stammerers shall be ready to speak † plainly.

5 The vile person shall be no more called liberal, nor the churl said to be bountifull.

6 For the vile person will speak villany, and his heart will work iniquitie, so practise hypocritie, and to utter error against the LORD, to make empty the soul of the hungry, and he will cause the drink of the thirsty to fall.

7 The instruments also of the churl are evil: he deviseth wicked devices to destroy the poor, with lying words, even † when the needy speaketh right.

8 But the liberall doeth liberal things, and by liberall things shall he † stand.

9 ¶ Rise up ye women that are at ease, hear my voice ye carelesse daughters, give ear unto my speech.

10 Many † dayes and years shall ye be troubled, ye carelesse women: for the vintage shall fail, the gathering shall not come.

11 Tremble ye women that are at ease: be troubled, ye carelesse ones: strip ye and make ye bare, and gird sackcloth upon your loynes.

12 They shall lament for the tents, for † the pleasant fields, for the fruitfull vine.

13 Upon the land of my people shall come up thorns and briers: yea upon all the houses of joy in the joyous cite:

14 Because the palaces shall be forsaken, the multitude of the cite shall be left, the † forts and towers shall be for dens for ever, a joy of wilde asses, a pasture of flocks:

15 Untill the spirit be poured upon us from on high, and † the wilderness be a fruitful field, and the fruitfull field be counted for a forest.

16 Then judgement shall dwell in the wilderness, and righteousness remain in the fruitfull field.

17 And the work of righteousness shall be peace, and the effect of righteousness, quietnesse and assurance for ever.

18 And my people shall dwell in a peaceable habitation, and in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting places:

19 ¶ When it shall fall, coming down on the forehead: † and the city shall be low in a low place.

20 Blessed are ye that sow beside all waters, that send forth thither the seed of the ox and the asse.

2 O LORD, be gracious unto us, we have waited for thee: be thou their arm every morning, our salvation also in the time of trouble.

3 At the noise of the trumpet the people fled: at the lifting up of thy self the nations were scattered.

4 And your spoil shall be gathered like the gathering of the caterpiller: as the running to and fro of locusts shall he run upon them.

stability of thy times, and strength of † salvation :
the fear of the LORD is his treasure.

7 Behold, their valiant ones shall cry without : the embassadours of peace shall weep bitterly.
8 The high wayes lie waste, the way-faring man crieth, he hath broken the covenant, he hath despised the cities, he regardeth no man.

9 The earth mourneth and languisheth : Lebanon is ashamed and is bowed down : Sharon is like a wilderness and Bashan and Carmel shake off their fruits.

10 How will I rise saith the LORD : now will I be exalted, now will I lift up my self.

11 He shall conceive chaffe, he shall bring forth stubble : your breath as fire shall devour you.

12 And the people shall be as the burnings of lime : as thorns cut up shall they be burnt in the fire.

13 Hear ye that are far off, what I have done; and ye that are near, acknowledge my might.

14 The sinners in Zion are afraid, fearfulness hath surprised the hypocrites : who among us shall dwell with the devouring fire ? who amongst us shall dwell with everlasting burnings ?

15 He that walketh † righteously, and speaketh
† uprightly, he that despiseth the gain of † oppres-

16 He shall dwell on † high : his place of defence shall be the munitions of rocks, bread shall be given him, his waters shall be sure.

they shall behold † the land that is very far off.

18 Thine heart shall meditate terror : Where is the scribe ? where is the † receiver ? where is he that counted the towers ?

19 Thou shalt not see a fierce people, a people of a deeper speech then thou canst perceive ; of a stammering tongue, that thou canst not understand.

20 Look upon Zion, the citie of our solemnities :
thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a tabernacle that shall not be taken down, nor one of the stakes thereof shall ever be removed, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken.

21 But there the glorious LORD will be unto us a place † of broad rivers and streams ; wherein shall go no galley with oares, neither shall gallant ship passe thereby.

22 For the LORD is our iudge, the LORD is our † lawgiver, the LORD is our King, he will save us.

23 Thy tacklings are loosed, they could not well strengthen their waist, they could not spread the sail : then is the prey of a great spoil divided, the same take the prey.

24 And the inhabitant shall not say, I am sick :
the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 The judgements wherewith God revengeth his church. 11 The desolation of her enemies. 16 The certainty of the prophesie.

Come near ye nations to hear, and hearken ye people : let the earth hear, and † all that is therein : the world, and all things that come forth of it.

2 For the indignation of the LORD is upon all nations, and his fury upon all their armies : he hath utterly destroyed them, he hath delivered them to the slaughter.

3 Their slain also shall be cast out, and their stink shall come up out of their carcases, and the mountains shall be melted with their blood.

4 And all the host of heaven shall be dissolved, and the heavens shall be † rolled together as a scroll, and all their host shall fall down as the leaf falleth off from the vine, and as a † falling fig from the fig-tree.

5 For my sword shall be bathed in heaven : behold, it shall come down upon Idumea, and upon the people of my curse to judgement.

6 The sword of the LORD is filled with blood, it is made fat with fatnesse, and with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of the kidneys of rams : for the LORD hath a sacrifice in Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Idumea.

7 And the unicorns shall come down with them, and the bullocks with the bulks, and their land shall be † soaked with blood, and their dust made fat with fatnesse.

8 For it is the day of the LORD † vengeance, and the year of recompences for the controversie of Zion.

9 And the streams thereof shall be turned into pitch, and the dust thereof into brimstone, and the land thereof shall become burning pitch.

10 It shall not be quenched night nor day, † the smoke thereof shall go up for ever : from generation to generation it shall lie waste, none shall passe through it for ever and ever.

11 But the † crocodile and the bittern shall possesse it, the owl also and the raven shall dwell in it, and he shall stretch out upon it the line of confession, and the stones of emptinesse.

12 They shall call the nobles thereof to the kingdom, but none shall be there, and all her princes shall be nothing.

13 And thornes shall come up in her palaces, nettles and brambles in the fortresses thereof, and it shall be an habitation of dragons, and a court for † owls.

14 The wilde beasts of the desert shall also meet with † the wilde beasts of the islands, and the sarpent shall cry to his fellow, the † screech-owl also shall rest there, and finde for her self a place of rest.

15 There shall the great owl make her nest, & lay and hatch, and gather under her shadow : there shall the vultures also be gathered, every one with her mate.

16 Seek ye out of the book of the LORD, and read : no one of these shall fail, none shall want her mate : for my mouth it hath commanded, and his spirit he hath gathered them.

17 And he hath cast the lot for them, and his hand hath divided it unto them by line : they shall possesse it for ever, from generation to generation shall they dwell therein.

1 The joyfull flourishing of Christs kingdom. 3 The weak are encouraged by the vertues and privileges of the Gospell.

The wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad for them : and the desert shall rejoyce, and blossome as the rose.

2 It shall blossom abundantly, and restore even with joy and singing : the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the excellency of Carmel and Sha-

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Sennacherib invaded Judah. 4 Rabbahch sent by Sennacherib, by blasphemous persuasions, solliciteth the people to revolt. 22 His words are told to Hezekiah.

NOW * it came to passe in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah, that Sennacherib king of Assyria came up against all the fenced cities of Judah, and took them.

2 And the king of Assyria sent Rabbahch, from Lachish to Jerusalem, unto king Hezekiah, with a great army: and he stood by the conduit of the upper pool in the high way of the fullers field.

3 Then came forth unto him Eliakim Hilkiahs sonne, which was over the house, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah Asaphs son the recorder.

4 ¶ And Rabbahch said unto them, Say ye now to Hezekiah, Thus saith the great king, the king of Assyria, What confidence is this wherein thou trustest?

5 I say, sayest thou, (but they are but † bañ words) // I have counsel and strength for warre: now on whom dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Lo, thou trustest in the * staffe of this broken reed, on Egypt: whereon if a man lean, it will go into his hand and pierce it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt: to all that trust in him.

7 But if thou say to me, We trust in the L O R D our God: is it not he, whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and said to Judah and to Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar?

8 Now therefore give a pledges, I pray thee, to my master the king of Assyria, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set others upon them.

9 How then wilt thou turn away the face of one captain of the lead of my masters servants, and put thy trust on Egypt, for chariots and for horsemen?

10 And am I now come up without the L O R D against this land to destroy it? the L O R D said unto me, Go up against this land, and destroy it.

11 ¶ Then said Eliakim and Shebna and Jo-ah unto Rabbahch, Speak, I pray thee, unto thy servants in the Syrian language: for we understand it: and speak not to us in the Jews language, in the ears of the people that are on the wall.

12 ¶ But Rabbahch said, Hath my master sent me to thy master and to thee, to speak these words? hath he not sent me to the men that sit upon the wall, that they may eat their own dung, and drinke their own piss with you?

13 Then Rabbahch stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jews language, and said, Hear ye the words of the great king, the king of Assyria.

14 Thus saith the king, Let not Hezekiah deceive you, for he shall not be able to deliver you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you trust in the L O R D, saying, The L O R D will surely deliver us, this city shall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Assyria.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the king of Assyria, // I have made an agreement with me by a present, and come out to me: and eat ye every one of his vine, and every one of his figtree, and drinke ye every one the waters of his own cistern:

17 Untill I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards.

18 Beware lest Hezekiah persuade you, saying, The L O R D will deliver us. Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

19 Where are the Gods of Hamath and Arpad: where are the gods of Sepharvaim? and have they delivered Samaria out of my hand?

20 Who are they amongst all the gods of these lands, that have delivered their land, out of my hand, that the L O R D should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?

21 But they held their peace, and answered him not a word: for the kings commandment was, saying, Answer him not.

22 ¶ Then came Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, that was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph the recorder, to Hezekiah, with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Rabbahch.

AND * it came to passe when king Hezekiah heard it, that he rent his clothes, and covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of the L O R D.

2 And he sent Eliakim, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the priests covered with sackcloth, unto Isaiah the prophet the son of Ami.

3 And they said unto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of // blasphemie: for the children are come to the birth, and there is not strength to bring forth.

Assyria his master hath sent to reproach the living God, and will reprove the words which the LORD thy God hath heard: wherefore lift up thy prayer for the remnant that is left.

5 So the servants of king Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

6 ¶ And Isaiah said unto them, Thus shall ye say unto your master. Thus saith the LORD, Be not afraid of the words that thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed me.

7 Behold, I will send a blast upon him, and he shall hear a rumour, and return to his own land, and I will cause him to fall by the word in his own land.

8 ¶ So Rabshakeb returned, and found the king of Assyria waiting against Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish.

9 And he heard say concerning Tirhakah, king of Ethiopia, He is come forth to make war with thee: and when he heard it, he sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying,

10 Thus shall ye speak to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying, Let not thy God in whom thou trustest deceive thee, saying, Jerusalem shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.

11 Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands by despoiling them utterly, and shall thou be delivered?

12 Have the gods of the nations delivered them which my fathers have destroyed, as Gozan, and Hænan, and Rzepsh, and the children of Eden which were in Elassar?

13 Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arpad, and the king of the cite of Sepharvaim, Hena and Ibab?

14 ¶ And Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it: and Hezekiah went up unto the house of the LORD, and spread it before the LORD.

15 And Hezekiah prayed unto the LORD, saying,

16 O LORD of hosts, God of Israel that dwellest between the cherubims, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth, thou hast made heaven and earth.

17 Encline thine ear, O LORD, and hear; open thine eyes, O LORD, and see: and hear all the words of Sennacherib, which hath sent to reproach the living God.

18 O faithful LORD, the kings of Assyria have laid waste all the nations, and their countreys;

19 And have cast their gods into the fire; for they were no gods, but the work of mens hands, wood and stone: therefore they have destroyed them.

20 Now therefore, O LORD our God, save us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know, that thou art the LORD, even thou only.

21 ¶ Then Isaiah the son of Amos sent unto Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Whereas thou hast prayed to me against Sennacherib king of Assyria:

22 This is the word which the LORD hath spoken concerning him, The virgin, the daughter of Zion hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorn, the daughter of Jerusalem hath shaken her head at thee.

23 Whom hast thou reproached and blasphemed, and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice, and lifted up thine eyes on high? even against the holy One of Israel.

24 ¶ By thy servants hast thou reproached the LORD, and hast said, By the multitude of my chariots am I come up to the height of the mountains, to the sides of Lebanon, and I will cut down the tall cedars thereof, and the choice fire-trees thereof: and I will enter into the height of his border, and || the forest of his Carmel.

25 I have digged and drunk water, and with the sole of my feet have I dried up all the rivers of the || besieged places.

26 ¶ Hast thou not heard long ago, how I have done it, and of ancient times that I have formed it: now have I brought it to passe, that thou shouldst be to lay waste defended cities into ruinous heaps.

27 Therefore their inhabitants were of small power, they were dismayed and confounded: they were as the grass of the field, and as the green herb, as the grass on the house tops, and as corn blasted before it be grown up.

28 But I know thy abode, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy rage against me.

29 Because thy rage against me, and thy tumult is come up into mine ears: therefore will I put my hook in thy nose, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou camest.

30 And this shall be a signe unto thee, We shall eat this year such as groweth of it self: and the second year that which springeth of the same: and in the third year sow ye and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof.

31 And of the remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah, shall again take root downward, and bear fruit upward.

32 For out of Jerusalem shall go forth a remnant, and they that escape out of mount Zion: the seal of the LORD of hosts shall do this.

33 Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the king of Assyria, He shall not come into this city, nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it with shields, nor cast a bank against it.

34 By the way that he came, by the same shall he return, and shall not come into this cite, saith the LORD.

35 For I will defend this cite to save it, for mine own sake, and for my servant Davids sake.

36 Then the angel of the LORD went forth, and smote in the camp of the Assyrians a hundred and fourscore and five thousand: and when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses.

37 ¶ So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and went, and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh.

38 And it came to passe as he was worshiping in the house of Nisroch his god, that Adramellech and Sbarzer his sonnes smote him with the sword; and they escaped into the land of Armenia: and Esar-haddon his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 Hezekiah having received a message of death, by prayer hath his life lengthened. 8 The sunne goeth ten degrees backward for a signe of that promise. 9 His song of thanksgiving.

I * those dayes was Hezekiah sick unto death: and Isaiah the prophet the sonne of Amos came unto him, and said unto him, Thus saith the LORD, Set thine house in order: for thou shalt die, and not live.

bleseth thee, how I have walked before thee in truth, and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiah wept + fore.

4 Then came the word of the LORD to Isaiah, saying,

5 So and say to Hezekiah, Thus saith the LORD, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will add unto thy days fifteen years.

6 And I will deliver thee, and this city, out of the hand of the king of Assyria: and I will defend this city.

7 And this shall be a signe unto thee from the LORD, that the LORD will do this thing that he hath spoken.

8 Behold, I will bring again the shadow of the degrees which is gone down in the sun-dial of Ahaz ten degrees backward: so the sunne returned ten degrees, by which degrees it was gone down.

9 The writing of Hezekiah king of Iudah, when he had been sick, and was recovered of his sickness:

10 I said in the cutting off of my dayes, I shall go to the gates of the grave: I am deprived of the residue of my yeeres.

11 I said, I shall not see the LORD, even the LORD in the land of the living: I shall behold man no more with the inhabitants of the world.

12 Mine age is departed, and is removed from me as a shepherds tent: I have cut off like a weaver my life: he will cut me off like a weaver my life: he will cut me off with pining sickness: from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.

13 I reckoned till morning, that as a lion, so will he break all my bones: from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.

14 Like a crane or a swallow, so did I chatter: I did mourn as a dove: mine eyes fail with looking upward: O LORD, I am oppressed, undertake for me.

15 What shall I say? he hath both spoken unto me, and himself hath done it: I shall go softly all my yeers in the bitterness of my soul.

16 O LORD, by these things men live, and in all these things is the life of my spirit: so wilt thou recover me, and make me to live.

17 Behold, for peace I had great bitterness; but I thou hast in love to my soul delivered it from the pit of corruption: for thou hast call all my sins behind thy back.

18 For the grave cannot praise thee, death cannot celebrate thee: they that go down into the pit cannot hope for thy truth.

19 The living, the living, he shall praise thee, as I do this day: the father to the children shall make known thy truth.

20 The LORD was ready to save me: therefore will sing my songs to the stringed instruments, all the dayes of our life, in the house of the LORD.

21 For Isaiah had said, Let them take a lump of figs, and lay it for a plaster upon the boyl, and he shall recover.

22 Hezekiah also had said, What is the signe, that I shall go up to the house of the LORD?

CHAP. XXXIX.

- 1 Merodach-baladan sending to visit Hezekiah because of the wonder, hath notice of his treasures.
- 3 Isaiah understanding thereof, foretelleth the Babylonian captivity.

That time Merodach-baladan the Sonne of Baladan king of Babilou, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had been sick, and was recovered.

2 And Hezekiah was glad of them, and shewed them the house of his precious things, the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, and the precious ornament, and all the house of his armour, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that Hezekiah shewed them not.

3 Then came Isaiah the Prophet unto king Hezekiah, and said unto him, What said these men? and from whence came they unto thee? And Hezekiah said, They are come from a far countrey unto me, even from Babylon.

4 Then said he, What have they seen in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house have they seen: there is nothing among my treasures that I have not shewed them.

5 Then said Isaiah to Hezekiah, Hear the word of the LORD of hosts.

6 Behold, the dayes come, that all that is in thine house, and that which thy fathers have laid up in store until this day, shall be carried to Babylon: nothing shall be left, saith the LORD.

7 And of the soimes that shall issue from thee, which thou shalt beget, shall they take away; and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon.

8 Then said Hezekiah to Isaiah, Good is the word of the LORD which thou hast spoken: he said moreover, For there shall be peace and truth in my dayes.

4 Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low: and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough places plain.

5 And the glory of the LORD shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it.

6 The voice said, Cry. And he said, What shall I cry? All flesh is grass, and all the goodnesse thereof is as the flower of the field.

7 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: because the spirit of the LORD bloweth upon it: sure-ly the people is grass.

8 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but the word of our God shall stand for ever.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The office of Christ graced with meeknesse and confidence. 5 Gods promise unto him. 10 An exhortation to praise God for his gospel. 17 He reproveth the people of incredulity.

Behold * my servant, whom I uphold, mine elect in whom my soul * delighteth: I have put my spirit up in him, he shall bring forth judgement to the Gentiles:

2 He shall not cry, nor lift up, nor cause his voice to be heard in the street.

3 A bruised reed shall he not break: and the smoking flax shall he not † quench: he shall bring forth judgement unto truth.

4 He shall not fall, nor be † discouraged, till he have set judgement in the earth: and the isles shall wait for his law.

5 Thus saith God the LORD, he that created the heavens, and stretched them out: he that spread forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it, he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein:

6 I the LORD have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, for * a light of the Gentiles:

7 To open the blinde eyes, to * bring out the prisoners from the prison, and them that sit in * darkness out of the prison-house.

8 I am the LORD, that is my name, and my * glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images.

9 Behold, the former things are come to passe, and new things do I declare: before they spring forth I tell you of them.

10 Sing unto the LORD a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth: ye that go down to the sea, and † all that is therein: the isles and the inhabitants thereof.

11 Let the wilderness and the cities thereof lift up their voice, the villages that Kedar doth inhabit: let the inhabitants of the rock ling, let them shout from the top of the mountains.

12 Let them give glory unto the LORD, and declare his praise in the islands.

13 The LORD shall go forth as a mighty man, he shall stirre up jealousy like a man of warre: he shall cry, yea, roar; he shall prevail against his enemies.

14 I have long time holden my peace, I have been still, and refrained my self: now will I cry like a travailling woman, I will destroy, and † devour at once.

15 I will make waste mountains and hills, and dry up all their herbs, and I will make the rivers islands, and I will dry up the pools.

16 And I will bring the blinde by a way that they knew not, I will lead them in paths that they have not known: I will make darkness light before them, and crooked things † straight. These things will I do unto them, and not forsake them.

17 They shall be * turned back, they shall be greatly ashamed that trust in graven images, that say to the molten images, Ye are our gods.

18 Hear ye deaf, and look ye blinde, that ye may see.

19 Who is blinde, but my servant: or deaf as my messenger that I sent: who is blinde, as he that is perfect, and blinde as the LORDS servant?

20 Seeing many things, but thou observest not: opening the ears, but he heareth not.

21 The LORD is well pleased for his righteousness sake, he will magnifie the law, and make it honorable.

22 But this is a people robbed and spoiled, they are all of them snared in holes, and they are hid in prison-houses: they are for a prey, and none delivereth: for † a spoil, and none saith, Redeem.

23 Who among you will give ear to this: who will hearken, and bear † for the time to come?

24 Who gave Jacob for a spoil, and Israel to the robbers? did not the LORD, he against whom we have sinned: for they would not walk in his wayes, neither were they obedient unto his law.

25 Therefore he hath poured upon him the fury of his anger, and the strength of barell: and he hath set him on fire round about, yet he knew not; and he burned him, yet he laid it not to heart.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 The Lord comforteth the church with his promises. 8 He appealeth to the people for witness of his omnipotency. 14 He foretellet them the destruction of Babylon, 18 and his wonderfull deliverance of his people. 22 He reproveth the people as inexorable.

But now thus saith the LORD that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel, fear not: for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name thou art mine.

2 When thou wast through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burnt: neither shall the flame kindle upon thee.

3 For I am the LORD thy God, the holy One of Israel thy Saviour: I gave Egypt for thy ransom, Ethiopia and Seba for thee.

7 Even every one that is called by my Name: for I have created him for my glory, I have formed him, yea, I have made him.

8 Bring forth the blinde people that have eyes, and the deaf that have ears.

9 Let all the nations be gathered together, and let the people be assembled: who among them can declare this, and shew us former things: let them bring forth their witnesses, that they may be justified: or let them hear and say, It is truth.

10 Ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and beleve me, and understand that I am he: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me.

11 I, even I, am the LORD, and beside me there is no Saviour.

12 I have declared, and have saved, and I have shewed, when there was no strange god among you: therefore ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, that I am God.

13 Yea, before the day was, I am he; and there is none that can deliver out of my hand: I will work, and who shall  $\dagger$  let it?

17 Which bringeth forth the chariot and horse, the army and the power, they shall lie down together, they shall not rise, they are extinct, they are quenched as tow.

19 Behold, I will do a  $\dagger$  new thing: now it shall spring forth, shall ye not know it? I will even make a way in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert.

21 This people have I formed for my self, they shall shew forth my praise.

22 But thou hast not called upon me, O Jacob, but thou hast been weary of me, O Israel.

23 Thou hast not brought me the  $\dagger$  small cattell of thy burnt-offerings, neither hast thou honoured me with thy sacrifices. I have not caused thee to serve with an offering, nor wearied thee with incense.

24 Thou hast bought me no sweet cane with money, neither hast thou  $\dagger$  filled me with the fat of thy sacrifices: but thou hast made me to serve with thy finnes, thou hast wearied me with thine iniquities.

25 I, even I, am he that blot out thy transgressions for mine own sake, and will not remember thy finnes.

26 Put me in remembrance: let us plead together: declare thou, that thou mayest be justified.

27 Thy first father hath sinned, and thy  $\dagger$  teachers have transgressed against me.

28 Therefore I have profaned the  $\dagger$  princes of the sanctuary, and have given Jacob to the curse, and Israel to reproaches.

CHAP. XLIIII.

1 God comforteth the Church with his promises. 2 The vanity of idols, 3 and folly of idol makers. 21 He exhorteth to praise God for his redemption and omnipotencie.

YEt now hear, O Jacob my servant, and Israel whom I have chosen.

2 Thus saith the LORD that made thee, and formed thee from the womb, which will help thee, Fear not, O Jacob my servant, and thou Jerusalem whom I have chosen.

3 For I will  $\dagger$  pour water upon him that is thirsty, and floods upon the dry ground: I will pour my spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine off-spring:

4 And they shall spring up as among the grass, as willows by the water-courses.

5 One shall say, I am the LORDS: and another shall call himself by the name of Jacob: and another shall subscribe with his hand unto the LORD, and surname himself by the name of Israel.

6 Thus saith the LORD the King of Israel, and his Redeemer the LORD of hosts: I am the first, and I am the last, and besides me there is no God.

7 And who, as I, shall call, and shall declare it, and set it in order for me, since I appointed the ancient people? and the things that are coming, and shall come? let them shew unto them.

8 Fear ye not, neither be afraid: have not I told thee from that time, and have declared it: ye are then my witnesses. Is there a God besides me? yea, there is no  $\dagger$  God, I know not any.

9 They that make a graven image are all of them vanity, and their  $\dagger$  delectable things shall not profit, and they are their own witnesses, they see not, nor know; that they may be ashamed.

10 Who hath formed a god, or molten a graven image that is profitable for nothing?

11 Behold, all his fellows shall be  $\dagger$  ashamed, and the workmen, they are of men: let them all be gathered together, let them stand up; yet they shall fear, and they shall be ashamed together.

12 The Smith with the tongs both worketh in the coals, and fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with the strength of his arms: yea, he is hungry, and his strength faileth: he drinketh no water, and is fatir.

13 The carpenter stretcheth out his rule: he marketh it out with a line: he fixeth it with planes, and he marketh it out with the compass, and maketh it after the figure of a man, according to the beauty of a man; that it may remain in the house.

14 He heweth him down cedars, and taketh the cypresse and the oak, which he  $\dagger$  strengtheneth for himself among the trees of the forest: he planteth an ash, and the rain doth nourish it.

15 When shall it be for a man to burn: for he will take thereof and warm himself: yea, he kindleth it, and baketh bread: yea he maketh a god, and worshippeth it: he maketh it a graven image, and falleth down thereto.

16 He burneth part thereof in the fire: with part thereof he eateth flesh: he collecteth rook, and is satisfied: yea, he warmeth himself, and saith, Ah, I am warm, I have seen the fire.

17 And the residue thereof he maketh a god, even his graven image: he falleth down unto it, and and worshippeth it, and prayeth unto it, and saith, Deliver me, for thou art my God.

18 They have not known, nor understood: for he hath shut their eyes, that they cannot see; and their hearts, that they cannot understand.

19 And none considereth in his heart, neither is there knowledge nor understanding to say, I have burnt part of it in the fire, yea also I have baked bread upon the coals thereof: I have roasted flesh and eaten it, and shall I make the residue thereof an abomination? shall I fall down to the stock of a tree?

20 Hee feedeth of ashes: a deceived heart hath turned him aside, that he cannot deliver his soul, nor say, Is there not a lie in my right hand?

21 Remember these O Jacob and Israel, for thou art my servant: I have formed thee, thou art my servant; O Israel, thou shalt not be forgotten of me:

22 I have blotted out as a thick cloud, thy transgressions, and as a cloud, thy sinnes: return unto me, for I have redeemed thee.

23 Sing, O ye heavens; for the LORD hath done it: shout ye lower parts of the earth: break forth into singing ye mountains, O forest, and every tree therein: for the LORD hath redeemed Jacob, and glorified himself in Israel.

24 Thus saith the LORD thy redeemer, and he that formed thee from the wombe, I am the LORD that maketh all things, that stretcheth forth the heavens alone, that spreadeth abroad the earth by my self:

25 That frustrate the tokens of the liars, and maketh diviners mad, that turneth wise men backward, and maketh their knowledge foolish:

26 That confirmeth the word of his servant, and performeth the counsell of his messengers, that saith to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be inhabited; and to the cities of Judah, ye shall be built, and I will raise up the decayed places thereof:

27 That saith to the deep, Be dry, and I will dry up thy rivers:

28 That saith of Cyrus, He is my shepherd, and shall perform all my pleasure, even saying to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be built: and to the temple, Thy foundation shall be laid.

CHAP. XLV.

1 God calleth Cyrus for his churches sake. 5 By his omnipotencie he challengeth obedience. 20 He convinceth the idols of vanity by his saving power.

Thus saith the LORD to his anointed, to Cyrus, whose right hand I have holden, to subdue nations before him: and I will loose the loynes of kings to open before him the two leaved gates, and the gates shall not be shut.

2 I will go before thee, and make the crooked places straight: I will break in pieces the gates of brass, and cut in sunder the bariers of iron.

3 And I will give thee the treasures of darkness, and hidden riches of secret places, that thou mayest know that I the LORD, which call thee by thy name, am the God of Israel.

4 For Jacob my servants sake, and Israel mine elect, I have even called thee by thy name: I have surnamed thee, though thou hast not known me.

5 I am the LORD, and there is none else, there is no God besides me: I girded thee, though thou hast not known me:

6 That they may know from the rising of the sunne, and from the west, that there is none besides me, I am the LORD, and there is none else.

7 I form the light, and create darkness: I make peace, and create evil: I the LORD do all these things.

8 Drop down ye heavens from above, and let the skies pour down righteousness: let the earth open, and let them bring forth salvation, and let righteousness spring up together: I the LORD have created it.

9 Go unto him that stretcheth with his maker: let the potsherd strive with the potsherd of the earth: shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What maketh thou? or thy work, He hath no hands?

10 Go unto him that saith unto his father, What begettest thou; or to the woman, What hast thou brought forth?

11 Thus saith the LORD, the holy One of Israel, and his Maker, Ask me of things to come concerning my houses, and concerning the work of my hands command ye me.

12 I have made the earth, and created man upon it: I, even my hands have stretched out the heavens, and all their host have I commanded.

13 I have called him up in righteousness, and I will direct all his wayes: he shall build my cite, and he shall let go my captivity, not for price nor reward, saith the LORD of hosts.

14 Thus saith the LORD, The labour of Egypt, and merchandise of Ethiopia, and of the Sabaeans, men of stature shall come over unto thee, and they shall be thine, they shall come after thee, in chains they shall come over; and they shall fall down unto thee, they shall make supplication unto thee, saying, Surely God is in thee, and there is none else, there is no God.

15 Surely thou art a God that hidest thy self, O God of Israel the Saviour.

16 They shall be ashamed, and also confounded all of them: they shall go to confusion together that are makers of idols.

17 But Israel shall be saved in the LORD with an everlasting salvation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded world without end.

18 For thus saith the LORD that created the heavens, God himself that formed the earth and made it, he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited, I am the LORD, and there is none else.

19 I have not spoken in secret, in a dark place of the earth: I said not unto the seed of Jacob, Seek ye me in vain; I the LORD speak righteousness, I declare things that are right.

20 Assemble your selves and come: draw near together ye that are escaped of the nations: they have no knowledge that set up the wood of their graven images, and pray unto a god that cannot save.

21 Tell ye, and bring them near, yea, let them eake counsell together: who hath declared this from ancient time? who hath told it from that time? have not I the LORD; and there is no God else beside me, a just God and a Saviour, there is none beside me.

22 Look unto me, and be saved all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else.

23 I have sworn by my self, the word is gone out of my mouth in righteousness, and it shall not return, that unto me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear.

24 Surely, shall one say, In the LORD have I righteousness and strength: even to him shall men come, and all that are incensed against him shall be ashamed.

25 In the LORD shall all the seed of Israel be justified, and shall glory.

CHAP. XLVI.

1 The idols of Babylon could not save themselves.
3 God saveth his people to the end. 5 Idols are not comparable to God for power, 12 or present salvation.

Bel boweth down, Nebo stoupeth, their idols were upon the beasts, and upon the cartell: your carriages were heavy loaden, they are a burden to the weary beast.

2 They stoupe, they bow down together: they could not deliver the burden, but themselves are gone into captivity.

3 Hearken unto me, O house of Jacob, and all the remnant of the house of Israel, which are born by me, from the belly, which are carried from the womb.

4 And even to your old age I am he, and even to hoar hairs will I carry you: I have made, and I will bear, even I will carry and will deliver you.

5 To whom will ye liken me, and make me equal, and compare me, that we may be like?

6 They labsthe gold out of the bag, and weigh silver in the balance, and hire a goldsmith, and he maketh it a god: they fall down, yea, they worship.

7 They bear him upon the shoulder, they carrie him, and set him in his place, and he standeth; from his place shall he not remove: yea, one shall cry unto him, yet can he not answer, nor save him out of his trouble.

8 Remember this, and shew your selves men: bring it again to minde, O ye transgressours.

9 Remember the former things of old, for I am God, and there is none else: I am God, and there is none like me,

10 Declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying, My counsell shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure:

11 Calling a ravenous bird from the east, the man that executeth my counsell from a farre country: yea, I have spoken it, I will also bring it to passe, I have purposed it, I will also do it.

12 Hearken unto me, ye stout hearted, that are farre from righteousness.

13 I bring near my righteousness: it shall not be farre off, and my salvation shall not tarrie: and I will place salvation in Zion for Israel my glory.

CHAP. XLVII.

1 Gods judgement upon Babylon and Caldea, 6 for their unmercifulnesse, 7 pride, 10 and overboldnesse, 11 shall be unresistable.

Come down and sit in the dust, O blesst daughter of Babylon, sit on the ground: there is no thyrone, O daughter of the Caldeans: for thou shalt no more be called tender and delicate.

2 Take the millstones, and grinde meal, uncover thy locks, make bare the leg, uncover the thigh, passe over the rivers.

3 Thy nakednesse shall be uncovered, yea, thy shame shall be seen: I will take vengeance, and I will not meet thee as a man.

4 As for our redeemer, the LORD of hosts is his Name, the holy One of Israel.

5 Sit thou silent, and get thee into darknesse, O daughter of the Caldeans: for thou shalt no more be called the lady of kingdoms.

6 I was wroth with my people, I have polluted mine inheritance, and given them into thine hand: thou didst shew them no mercy, upon the ancient hast thou very heavily laid thy yoke.

7 And thou saidst, I shall be a lady for ever: so that thou didst not lay these things to thy heart, neither didst remember the latter end of it.

8 Therefore hear now this, thou that art given to pleasures, that dwellest carelessly, that sayest in thine heart, I am, and none else besides me, I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall I know the losse of children.

9 But these two things shall come to thee in a moment in one day, the losse of children and widow-hood: they shall come upon thee in their perfection, for the multitude of thy forceries, and for the great abundance of thine enchantments.

10 For thou hast trusted in thy wickednesse: thou hast said, none seeth me: thy wisdom and thy knowledge, it hath deceived thee: and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none else besides me.

11 Therefore shall evil come upon thee, thou shalt not know from whence it riseth: and mischief shall fall upon thee, thou shalt not be able to put it off: and desolation shall come upon thee suddenly, which thou shalt not know.

12 Stand now with thine enchantments, and with the multitude of thy forceries, wherein thou hast laboured from thy youth; if so be thou shalt be able to profit, if so be thou mayest prevail.

13 Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels: let now the astrologers, the star-gazers, the prognosticators stand up, and save thee from these things that shall come upon thee.

14 Behold, they shall be as stubble, the fire shall burn them, they shall not deliver themselves from the power of the flame, there shall not be a coal to warm at, nor fire to sit before it.

15 Thus shall they be unto thee which whom thou hast laboured, even the merchants from thy youth, they shall wander every one to his quarter, none shall save thee.

CHAP. XLVIII.

1 God, to convince the people of their fore-known obstinacie, revealed his prophesies. 9 He saveth them for his own sake. 12 He exhoreth them to obedience, because of his power and providence. 16 He lamenteth their backwardnesse. 20 He powerfully delivereth his out of Babylon.

Hear ye this, O house of Jacob, which are called by the name of Israel, and are come forth out of the waters of Judah, which swear by the Name of the LORD, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth, nor in righteousness.

2 For they call themselves the holy city, and say themselves upon the God of Israel, and the LORD of hosts is his name.

3 I have declared the former things from the beginning: and they went forth out of my mouth, and I shewed them, I did them suddenly, and they came to passe.

4 Because I knew that thou art obstinate, and thy neck is an iron sinew, and thy brow brass:

5 I have even from the beginning declared it to thee: before it came to passe I shewed it thee: lest thou shouldest say, Mine idol hath done them, and my graven image, and my molten image hath commanded them.

6 Thou hast heard, see all this, and wilt not yet declare it: I have shewed thee new things from this time, even hidden things, and thou didst not know them.

7 They are created now, and not from the beginning,

12 Hearken unto me, O Jacob, and Israel my called, I am he, I am he, I am the first, I also am the last.

13 Mine hand also hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heavens; when I call unto them, they stand up together.

14 All ye assemble your selves and hear: which among them hath declared these things; the LORD hath loved him: he will do his pleasure in Babylon: and his arm shall be on the Caldeans.

15 Yeven I have spoken, yea, I have called him: I have brought him, and he shall make his way prosperous.

16 Come ye near unto me, hear ye this, I have not spoken in secret from the beginning, from the time that it was, there am I: and now the Lord GOD and his spirit hath sent me.

17 Thus saith the LORD thy redeemer, the holy one of Israel, I am the LORD thy God which teacheth thee to profit, which leadeth thee by the way that thou shouldst go.

18 O that thou hadst hearkened to my commandments, then had thy peace been as a river, and thy righteousness as the waves of the sea.

19 Thy seed also had been as the sands, and the offspring of thy bowels like the gravel thereof: his name should not have been cut off, nor destroyed from before me.

20 Go ye forth of Babylon, flee ye from the Caldeans, with a voice of singing declare ye, tell this, utter it even to the end of the earth: say ye, The LORD hath redeemed his servant Jacob.

21 And they thirsted not when he led them through the deserts: he caused the waters to flow out of the rock for them: he clave the rock, also and the waters gushed out.

22 There is no peace, saith the LORD, unto the wicked.

CHAP. XLIX.

1 Christ being sent to the Jews, complaineth of them. 5 He is sent to the Gentiles, with gracious promises. 13 Gods love is perpetuall to his church. 18 The ample restauration of the church. 24 The powerfull deliverance out of captivity.

Listen, O Iles, unto me, and hearken ye people from far, the LORD hath called me from the womb, from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name.

2 And he hath made my mouth like a sharp sword, in the shadow of his hand hath he hid me; and made me a polished shaft, in his quiver hath he hid me,

3 And said unto me, Thou art my servant, O Israel, in whom I will be glorified.

4 Then I said, I have laboured in vain, I have spent my strength for nought, and in vain; yet surely my judgement is with the LORD, and my work with my God.

5 And now, saith the LORD that formed me from the womb to be his servant, to bring Jacob again to him, || Though Israel be not gathered, yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the LORD, and my God shall be my strength.

6 And he said, || It is a light thing that thou shouldst be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved of Israel: I will also give thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation, unto the end of the earth.

7 Thus saith the LORD the redeemer of Israel, and his holy one, || to him whom man despiseth to him whom the nation abhorreth, to a servant of rulers, kings shall see and arise, princes also shall worship, because of the LORD that is faithful, and the holy one of Israel, and he shall choose thee.

8 Thus saith the LORD, * In an acceptable time have I heard thee, and in a day of salvation have I helped thee: and I will preserve thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, to establish the earth, to cause to inherit the desolate heritages;

9 O that thou mayest say * to the prisoners, Go forth: to them that are in darkness, Show your selves: they shall feed in the wayes, and their pastures shall be in all high places.

10 They shall not hunger nor thirst, neither shall the heat nor sunne smite them: for he that hath mercie on them, shall lead them, even by the springs of water shall he guide them.

11 And I will make all my mountains a way, and my highwayes shall be raised.

12 Behold, these shall come from farre: and lo, these from the north, and from the east, and these from the land of Shinar.

13 Sing, O bendens, and be joyfull, O earth, and break forth into singing, O mountains: for God hath comforted his people, and will have mercie upon his afflicted.

14 But Zion said, The LORD hath forsaken me, and my LORD hath forgotten me.

15 Can a woman forget her sucking child, that she should not have compassion on the sonne of her wombe? yea they may forget, yet will I not forget thee.

16 Behold, I have graben thee upon the palms of my hands, thy walls are continually before me.

17 Thy children shall make haste; thy destroyers, and they that made thee waste shall go forth of thee.

18 Uplift up thine eyes round about, and behold: all these gather themselves together and come to thee: as I live, saith the LORD, thou shalt surely clothe thee with them all, as with an ornament, and binde them on thee, as a bride doth.

19 For thy waste and thy desolate places, and the land of thy destruction shall even now be too narrow by reason of the inhabitants, and they that swallowed thee up shall be farre away.

20 The children which thou shalt have, after thou hast lost the other, shall say again in thine ears, The place is too strait for me: give place to me that I may dwell.

21 Then shalt thou say in thine heart: Who hath begotten me these, seeing I have lost my children, and am desolate, a captive, and removing to and fro? and who hath brought up these? Behold, I was left alone, these, where had they been?

24 Shall the prey be taken from the mighty, or the lawfull captive delivered?
25 But thus faith the LORD, Even the captives of the mighty shall be taken away, and the prey of the terrible shall be delivered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will save thy children.
26 And I will feed them that oppress thee, with their own flesh, and they shall be drunken with their own blood, as with sweet wine: and all flesh shall know that I the LORD am thy saviour and thy redeemer, the mighty one of Jacob.

CHAP. L.

1 Christ sheweth that the dereliction of the Jews is not to be imputed to him, by his abilitie to save, 5 by his obedience in that work, 7 and by his confidence in that assistance. 10 An exhortation to trust in God, and not in ourselves.

Thus faith the LORD, Where is the bill of your mothers divorcement whom I have put away? or which of my creditours is it to whom I have sold you? Behold, for your iniquities have you sold your selves, and for your transgressions is your mother put away.
2 Wherefore when I came, was there no man? when I called, was there none to answer? Is my hand shortened at all, that it cannot redeem? or have I no power to deliver? behold, at my rebuke I dry up the sea, I make the rivers a wilderness: their fish stinketh, because there is no water, and they die for thirst.
3 I clothe the heavens with blacknesse, and I make sackcloth their covering.
4 The Lord GOD hath given me the tongue of the learned, that I should know how to speak a word in season to him that is weary: he wakeneth mourning by mourning: he wakeneth mine ear to hear as the learned.
5 The Lord GOD hath opened mine ear, and I was not rebellious, neither turned away back.
6 I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from shame and spitting.
7 For the Lord GOD will help me, therefore shall I not be confounded: therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed.
8 He is near that justifieth me, who will contend with me: let us stand together: who is mine adversary? let him come near to me.
9 Behold, the Lord GOD will help me; who is he that shall condemn me? lo, they all shall wax old as a garment: the moth shall eat them up.
10 Who is among you that feareth the LORD, that obeyeth the voice of his servant, that walketh in darkness, and hath no light? let him trust in the name of the LORD, and stay upon his God.
11 Behold, all ye that kindle a fire, that compass your selves about with sparks: walk in the light of your fire, and in the sparks that ye have kindled. This shall ye have of mine hand, ye shall lie down in sorrow.

1 An exhortation after the patern of Abraham to trust in Christ, 3 by reason of his comforable promises, 4 of his righteous salvation, 7 and mans mortality. 9 Christ by his sanctified arm defendeth his from the fear of man. 17 He bewaileth the afflictions of Jerusalem. 21 and promiseth deliverance.

Hearken to me, ye that follow after righteousness, ye that seek the LORD: look unto the rock whence ye are hewn, and to the hole of the pit whence ye are digged.
2 Look unto Abraham your father, and unto Sarah that bare you: for I called him alone, and blessed him, and increased him.
3 For the LORD shall comfort Zion: he will comfort all her waste places, and he will make her wilderness like Eden, and her desert like the garden of the LORD: for joy and gladnesse shall be found therein, thanksgiving, and the voice of melody.
4 Hearken unto me, my people, and give ear unto me, O my nation: for a law shall proceed from me, and I will make my judgement to rest for a light of the people.
5 My righteousness is near: my salvation is gone forth, and mine arms shall judge the people: the illes shall wait upon me, and on mine arm shall they trust.
6 Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look upon the earth beneath: for the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall wax old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall die in like manner: but my salvation shall be for ever, and my righteousness shall not be abolished.
7 Hearken unto me, ye that know righteousness, the people in whose heart is my law, fear ye not the reproach of men, neither be ye afraid of their reviling.
8 For the moth shall eat them up like a garment, and the worm shall eat them like the wooll: but my righteousness shall be for ever, and my salvation from generation to generation.
9 Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of the LORD: awake, as in the ancient dayes, in the generations of old. Art thou not it that hath cut Rahab, and wounded the dragon?
10 Art thou not it which hath dried the sea, the waters of the great deep, that hath made the depths of the sea a way for the ransomed to passe over?
11 Therefore the redeemed of the LORD shall return, and come with singing unto Zion, and everlasting joy shall be upon their head: they shall obtain gladnesse and joy, and sorrow and mourning shall flee away.
12 I even I am he that comforteth you: who art thou, that thou shouldst be afraid of a man, who char shall die, and of the sonne of man, which shall be made as grass?
13 And forgettest the LORD thy maker, that hath stretched forth the heavens, and laid the foundations of the earth, and hast feared continually every day, because of the fury of the oppressour, as if he were ready to destroy? and where is the fury of the oppressour?
14 The captive erile hasteneth that he may be loosed, and that he should not die in the pit, nor that his bread should fail.
15 But I am the LORD thy God, that dried the sea, whose waves roared: the LORD of hosts is his name.
16 And I have put my words in thy mouth, and and have covered thee in the shadow of mine hand, that I may plant the heavens, and lay the foundations of the earth, and say unto Zion, Thou art my people.

17 ¶ Awake, awake, stand up, O Jerusalem, which hast drunk at the hand of the LORD the cup of his fury; thou hast drunken the dregs of the cup of trembling, and wrung them out.

18 There is none to guide her among all the sons whom she hath brought forth; neither is there any that taketh her by the hand, of all the sonnes that she hath brought up.

19 ¶ These two things are come unto thee: who shall be sorry for thee? desolation, and destruction, and the famine, and the sword: by whom shall I comfort thee?

20 Thy sonnes have fastened, they lie at the head of all the streets as a wilde bull in a net; they are full of the fury of the LORD, the rebuke of thy God.

21 ¶ Therefore hear now this, thou afflicted, and drunken, but not with wine.

22 Thus saith thy Lord the LORD, and thy God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Behold, I have taken out of thine hand the cup of trembling, even the dregs of the cup of my fury; thou shalt no more drink it again.

23 But I will put it into the hand of them that afflict thee: which have said to thy soul, Bow down, that we may go over: and thou hast laid thy body as the ground, and as the street to them that went over.

CHAP. LII.

1 Christ perswadeth the church to beleve his free redemption. 7 To receive the ministers thereof, 9 to joy in the power thereof, 11 and to free themselves from bondage. 13 Christs kingdom shall be exalted.

AWake, awake, but on thy strength, O Zion, put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem the holy city: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised, and the unclean.

2 Shake thy self from the dust: arise, and sit down, O Jerusalem: loose the self from the bands of thy neck, O captive daughter of Zion.

3 For thus saith the LORD, Ye have sold your selves for nought: and ye shall be redeemed without money.

4 For thus saith the Lord God, My people went down sometime into Egypt to sojourn there, and the Assyrian oppressed them without cause.

5 Now therefore, what have I here, saith the LORD, that my people is taken away for nought? they that rule over them, make them to howl, saith the LORD, and my name continually every day is blasphemed.

6 Therefore my people shall know my name: therefore they shall know in that day, that I am he that doth speak, behold, it is I.

7 ¶ How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace, that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation, that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth!

8 Thy watchmen shall lift up the voice, with the voice together shall they sing: for they shall see eye to eye, when the LORD shall bring again Zion.

9 ¶ Break forth into joy, sing together ye waste places of Jerusalem: for the LORD hath comforted his people, he hath redeemed Jerusalem.

10 The LORD hath made bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations, and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God.

11 ¶ Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch no unclean thing, go ye out of the midst of her, be ye clean, that bear the vessels of the LORD.

12 For ye shall not go out with haste, nor go by flight: for the LORD will go before you: and the God of Israel will be your rearward.

13 ¶ Behold, my servant shall deal prudently, he shall be exalted and extolled, and be very high.

14 As many were astonished at thee (his visage was so marred more than any man, and his form more then the sonnes of men)

15 So shall he sprinkle many nations, the kings shall shut their mouths at him: for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard, shall they consider.

CHAP. LIII.

1 The prophet complaining of incredulity, excuseth the scandall of the crose, 4 by the benefit of his passion, 10 and the good success thereof.

WHO hath beleved our report? and to whom is the arm of the LORD revealed?

2 For he shall grow up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground: he hath no form, nor comeliness: and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him.

3 He is despised and rejected of men, a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and he hid as it were our faces from him; he was despised, and we esteemed him not.

4 Surely he hath born our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted.

5 But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him, and with his stripes we are healed.

6 All we like sheep have gone astray: we have turned every one to his own way, and the LORD hath laid on him the iniquity of us all.

7 He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth.

8 He was taken from prison and from judgement: and who shall declare his generation? for he was cut off out of the land of the living: for the transgression of my people was he stricken.

9 And he made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death, because he had done no violence, neither was any deceit in his mouth.

10 ¶ Yet it pleased the LORD to bruise him, he hath put him to grief: when thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin, he shall see his seed, he shall prolong his dayes, and the pleasure of the LORD shall prosper in his hand.

11 He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many: for he shall bear their iniquities.

12 Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong: because he hath poured out his soul unto death: and he was numbed with the transgressours, and he bare the sinne of many, and made intercession for the transgressours.

* Sing O barren, thou that didst not bear; break forth into singings, and cry aloud, thou that didst not travail with child: for more are the children of the desolate, than the children of the married wife, saith the LORD.

2 Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them stretch forth the curtains of thine habitations; spare not, lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes.

3 For thou shalt break forth on the right hand and on the left; and thy seed shall inherit the Gentiles, and make the desolate cities to be inhabited.

4 Fear not, for thou shalt not be ashamed: neither be thou confounded, for thou shalt not be put to shame: for thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, and shalt not remember the reproach of thy widowhood any more.

* Luk. 1. 32.

5 For thy maker is thine husband, (the LORD of hosts is his name) and thy redeemer the holy one of Israel, the God of the whole earth shall he be called.

6 For the LORD hath called thee as a woman forsaken and grieved in spirit, and a wife of youth, when thou wast refused, saith thy God.

7 For a small moment have I forsaken thee, but with great mercies will I gather thee.

8 In a little wrath I hid my face from thee, for a moment; but with everlasting kindness will I have mercy on thee, saith the LORD thy redeemer.

14 In righteousness shall thou be established: thou shalt be farre from oppression, for thou shalt not fear; and from terrour, for it shall not come near thee.

15 Behold, they shall surely gather together, but not by me: whosoever shall gather together against thee, shall fall for thy sake.

16 Behold, I have created the smith that bloweth the coals in the fire, and that bringeth forth an instrument for his work, and I have created the wader to destroy.

17 No weapon that is formed against thee, shall prosper; and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgement, thou shalt condemn. This is the heritage of the servants of the LORD, and their righteousness is of me, saith the LORD.

1 The prophet with the promises of Christ, calleth to faith, 6 and to repentance. 8 The happy successe of them that believe.

5 Behold, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, and nations that knew not thee, shall run unto thee, because of the LORD thy God, and for the holy one of Israel; so shall he be glorified thee.

6 Seek ye the LORD while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near.

7 Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return unto the LORD, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon.

10 For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth a bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater:

11 So shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.

12 For ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace: the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hand.

13 In stead of the thorn shall come up the fir-tree, and in stead of the bryer shall come up the myrtle-tree: and it shall be to the LORD for a name, for an everlasting signe that shall not be cut off.

CHAP. LVI.

1 The prophet exhorteth to sanctification. 3 He promisieth it shall be general without respect of persons.

9 He inveigeth against blinde watchmen.

10 Thus saith the LORD, Keep ye judgement, and do justice: for my salvation is near to come, and my righteousness shall be revealed.

107. equite.

2 Blessed is the man that doth this, and the son of man that layeth hold on it, that keepeth the sabbath from polluting it, and keepeth his hand from doing any evil.

3 Neither let the sonne of the stranger, that hath joynd himself to the LORD, speak, saying, The LORD hath utterly separated me from his people: neither let the eunuch say, Behold, I am a dyle tree.

4 For thus saith the LORD unto the eunuchs that keep my sabbaths, and choole the things that please me, and take hold of my covenant:

5 Even unto them will I give in mine house, and

and within my walls, a place, and a name better then of sons, and of daughters: I will give them an everlasting name, that shall not be cut off.

6 Also the sons of the stranger, that join themselves to the LORD, to serve him, and to love the name of the LORD, to be his servants, every one that keepeth the sabbath from polluting it, and taketh hold of my covenant:

7 Even them will I bring to my holy mountain, and make them joyfull in my house of prayer: their burnt-offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted upon mine altar; for mine house shall be called an house of prayer for all people.

8 The LORD GOD, which gathereth the outcasts of Israel, saith, Yet will I gather others to him, besides those that are gathered unto him.

9 All ye beasts of the field, come to devour, ye, all ye beasts in the forest.

10 His wa: chmen are blinde: they are all ignorant, they are all dumb dogs, they cannot bark; sleeping, lying down, loving to lumber.

11 Yea, they are greedy dogs which can never have enough, and they are shepherds that can not understand: they all look to their own way, every one for his gain, from his quarter.

12 Come ye, say they, I will fetch wine, and will fill all our selves with strong drink, and to morrow shall be as this day, and much more abundant.

CHAP. LVII.

1 The blessed death of the righteous. 3 God reproveth the Jews for their whorish idolatry. 13 He giveth Evangelicall promises to the penitent.

The righteous perisheth, and no man layeth it to heart; and mercifull men are taken away, none considering that the righteous is taken away from the evil to come.

2 He shall enter into peace: they shall rest in their beds, each one walking in his uprightness.

3 But draw near hither, ye sons of the sorceresse, the seed of the adulterer, and the whore.

4 Against whom do ye sport your selves? against whom make ye a wide mouth, and draw out the tongue? are ye not children of transgression, a seed of falsehood?

5 Enslaming your selves with Idols under every green tree, slaying the children in the valleys under the cliffs of the rocks?

6 Among the smooth stones of the stream is thy portion; they, they are thy lot: even to them hast thou poured a drink-offering, thou hast offered a meat-offering. Should I receive comfort in these?

7 Upon a loftie and high mountain hast thou set thy bed: even thither wentest thou up to offer sacrifice.

8 Behinde the doors also and the posts hast thou set up thy remembrance: for thou hast discovered thy self to another then me, and art gone up: thou hast enlarged thy bed, and made a covenant with them, thou lovedst their bed where thou dwellest.

9 And thou wentest to the king with ornament, and didst increase thy perfumes, and didst send thy messengers far off, and didst debate thy self even unto hell.

10 Thou art wearied in the greatness of thy way; yet saidst thou not, There is no hope: thou hast found the life of thine hand; therefore thou wast not grieved.

11 And of whom hast thou been afraid or feared, that thou hast lied, and hast not remembered me, nor said it to thine heart? have not I held my peace even of old, and thou fearest me not?

12 I will declare thy righteousness, and thy works, for they shall not profit thee.

13 When thou criest, let thy companies deliver thee: but the winde shall carry them all away; vanity shall take them: but he that putteth his trust in me, shall possess the land, and shall inherit my holy mountain:

14 And shall say, Cast ye up, cast ye up; prepare the way; take up the stumbling block out of the way of my people.

15 For thus saith the high and lofty one that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy, I dwell in the high and holy place; with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones.

16 For I will not contend for ever, neither will I be alwayes wroth; for the spirit should fail before me, and the souls which I have made.

17 For the iniquity of his covetousnesse was I wroth, and smote him: I hid me, and was wroth, and he went on forwardly in the way of his heart.

18 I have seen his wayes and will heal him: I will lead him also, and restore comforts unto him, and to his mourners.

19 I create the fruit of the lips; peace, peace to him that is far off, and to him that is near, saith the LORD, and I will heal him.

20 But the wicked are like the troubled sea, when it cannot rest, whose waters cast up mire and dirt.

21 There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.

CHAP. LVIII.

I The Prophet being sent to reprove hypocritic, 3 expresseth a counterfeite fast and a true. 8 He declareth what promises are due to godlinesse, 13 and to the keeping of the sabbath.

Cry aloud, spare not, lift up thy voyce like a trumpet, and shew my people their transgression, and the house of Jacob their sin.

2 Yet they seek me daily, and delight to know my wayes, as a nation that did righteousness, and forsook not the ordinance of their God: they ask of me the ordinances of justice: they take delight in approaching to God.

3 Therefore have we fasted, say they, and thou seest not? wherefore have we afflicted our soul, and thou takest no knowledge? Behold, in the day of your fast you finde pleasure, and exact all your labours.

4 Behold, ye fast for strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickednesse; ye shall not fast as ye do this day, to make your voice to be heard on high.

5 Is it such a fast that I have chosen? A day for a man to afflict his soul? is it to bow down his head as a bulrush, and to spread sackcloth and ashes under him? wilt thou call this a fast, and an acceptable day to the LORD?

6 Is not this the fast that I have chosen: to loose the bands of wickednesse, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye break every yoke?

7 Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are all cast out, to thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him, and that thou hide not thy self from thine own flesh?

10 And if thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfie the afflicted soul: then shall thy light rise in obscuritie, and thy darknesse be as the noon-day.

11 And the L O R D shall guide thee continually, and satisfie thy soul in ¶ drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters shall not.

12 And they that shall be of thee, shall build the old waste places: thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations; and thou shalt be called, the repairer of the breach, the restorer of paths to dwell in.

CHAP. LIX.

1 The damnable nature of sinne. 3 The sinnes of the Jews. 9 Calamitie is for sinne. 16 Salvation is only of God. 20 The covenant of the redeemer.

Behold, the L O R D S hand is not shortned, that it cannot save: neither is his ear heavy, that it cannot hear.

2 But your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your finnes have hid his face from you, that he will not hear.

3 For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquity, your lips have spoken lies, your tongue hath muttered perversnesse.

4 None calleth for iustice, nor any pleadeth for truth: they trust in vanitie, and speak lies; they conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity.

5 They hate cockatrice eggs, and weave the spiders web: he that eateth of their eggs dieth: and that which is crushed, beaketh out into a viper.

6 Their webs shall not become garments, neither shall they cover themselves with their works: their works are works of iniquity, and the act of violence is in their hands.

7 Their feet run to evill, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are thoughts of iniquitie, wasting and destruction are in their paths.

8 The way of peace they know not, and there is no judgement in their goings: they have made them crooked paths: whatsoever goeth therein, shall not know peace.

9 Therefore is judgement far from us, neither doth justice overtake us: we wait for light, but behold obscuritie; for brightnesse, but we walk in darknesse.

10 We grope for the wall like the blinde, and we grope as if we had no eyes: we stumble at noon-day, as in the night; we are in desolate places as dead men.

11 We roar all like bears, and mourn sope like doves: we look for judgement, but there is none; for salvation, but it is far off from us.

12 For our transgressions are multiplied before thee, and our sins testify against us: for our transgressions are with us, and as for our iniquities, we know them.

13 In transgressing and lying against the L O R D, and departing away from our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood.

14 And judgement is turned away backward, and justice standeth a far off: for truth is fallen in the street, and equitie cannot enter.

15 Peace, truth, faith, and he that departeth from evil, maketh himself a prey: and the L O R D saw it, and it displeaseth him that there was no judgement.

16 And he saw that there was no man, and wondered that there was no intercessour: therefore his arm brought salvation unto him, and his righteousness, it sustained him.

17 For he put on righteousness as a breastplate, and an helmet of salvation upon his head; and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeal as a cloke.

18 According to their deeds, accordingly he will repay, fury to his adversaries, recompence to his enemies, to the islands he will repay recompence.

19 So shall they fear the Name of the L O R D from the west, and his glory from the rising of the sunne: when the enemy shall come in like a flood, the spirit of the L O R D shall lift up a standard against him.

20 And the redeemer shall come to Zion, and unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob, saith the L O R D.

21 As for me, this is my covenant with them, saith the L O R D, My spirit that is upon thee, and my words which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seeds seed, saith the L O R D, from henceforth and for ever.

CHAP. LX.

1 The glory of the church in the abundant access of the Gentiles, 15 and the great blessings after a short affliction.

Arise, shine, for thy light is come, and the glory of the L O R D is risen upon thee.

2 For behold, the darknesse shall cover the earth, and grosse darknesse the people: but the L O R D shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee.

3 And the Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising.

4 Lift up thine eyes round about, and see; all they gather themselves together, they come to thee, thy sons shall come from far, and thy daughters shall be nurtled at thy side.

5 Then thou shalt see and stand together, and thine heart shall fear, and be enlarged, because the abundance of the sea shall be converted unto thee, the forces of the Gentiles shall come unto thee.

6 The multitude of camels shall cover thee: the dromedaries of Arabia and Cyprus; all they from Sheba shall come: they shall bring gold and incense, and they shall shew forth the praises of the L O R D.

7 All the flocks of Cedar shall be gathered together unto thee, the rammes of Gebasoch shall minister unto thee: they shall come up with acceptance on mine altar, and I will glorifie the house of my glory.

8 Who are these that flie as a cloud, and as the doves to their windows?

9 Surely the eies shall wait for me, and the ships of Tarshish first, * to bring thy sonnes from farre, their silver and their gold with them unto the name of the LORD thy God: and to the holy one of Israel, because he hath glorified thee.

10 And the sonnes of strangers shall build up thy wals, and their kings shall minister unto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my favour have I had mercy on thee.

11 Therefore thy gates shall be open continually, they shall not be shut day nor night, that men may bring unto thee the sacrifices of the Gentiles, and that their kings may be brought.

12 For the nation and kingdom that will not serve thee, shall perish: yea those nations shall be utterly walled.

13 The glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, the firre-tree, the pine-tree, and the box together, to beautifie the place of my sanctuary, and I will make the place of my feet glorious.

14 The sonnes also of them that afflicted thee, shall come bending unto thee: and all they that despised thee shall bow themselves down at the soles of thy feet: and they shall call thee, The city of the LORD, the Zion of the holy one of Israel.

15 Whereas thou hast been forsaken and hated, so that no man went through thee, I will make thee an eternall excellency, a joy of many generations.

16 Thou shalt also suck the milke of the Gentiles, and shalt suck the breast of kings, and thou shalt know that I the LORD am thy saviour and thy redeemer, the mighty one of Jacob.

17 For brass I will bring gold, and for iron I will bring silver, and for wood brass, and for stones iron: I will also make thy officers peace, and thine exactours righteousnesse.

18 Violence shall no more be heard in thy land, wasting nor destruction within thy borders: but thou shalt call thy walls salvation, and thy gates praise.

19 The sun shall be no more thy light by day, neither for brightnesse shall the moon give light unto thee: but the LORD shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory.

20 Thy lumme shall no more go down, neither shall thy moon withdraw it selfe: for the LORD shall be thine everlasting light, and the dayes of thy mourning shall be ended.

21 Thy people also shall be all righteous: they shall inherit the land for ever, the branch of my planting, the work of my hands, that I may be glorified.

22 A little one shall become a thousand, and a small one a strong nation: I the LORD will hasten it in his time.

CHAP. LXI.

1 The office of Christ. 4 The forwardnesse, 7 and blessings of the faithfull.

The spirit of the Lord GOD is upon me, because the LORD hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek, he hath sent me to binde up the broken hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound.

2 To proclaim the acceptable year of the LORD, and the day of vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourn:

3 To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for ashes, the oyl of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heavinesse, that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the LORD, that he might be glorified.

4 And they shall build the old wastes, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the waste cities, the desolations of many generations.

5 And strangers shall stand and feed your flocks, and the sonnes of the alien shall be your plowmen, and your vine-dressers.

6 But ye shall be named the priests of the LORD: men shall call you the ministers of our God: ye shall eat the riches of the Gentiles, and in their glory shall you boast your selves.

7 For your shame you shall have double: and for confusion they shall rejoyce in their portion: therefore in their land they shall possess the double: everlasting joy shall be unto them.

8 For I the LORD love judgement, I hate robbery for want offering, and I will direct their work in truth, and I will make an everlasting covenant with them.

9 And their seed shall be known among the Gentiles, and their offspring among the people: all that see them shall acknowledge them, that they are the seed which the LORD hath blessed.

10 I will greatly rejoyce in the LORD, my soul shall be joyfull in my God, for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decketh himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorneth herself with her jewels.

11 For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth: so the Lord GOD will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations.

CHAP. LXII.

1 The fervent desire of the prophet, to confirm the church in Gods promises. 5 The office of the ministers (unto which they are incited) in preaching the gospel, 10 and preparing the people thereto.

For Jerusalems sake will I not hold my peace, and for Jerusalems sake I will not rest, until the righteousness thereof go forth as brightness, and the salvation thereof as a lamp that burneth.

2 And the Gentiles shall see thy righteousness, and all kings thy glory: and thou shalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of the LORD shall name.

3 Thou shalt also be a crown of glory in the hand of the LORD, and a royall diadem in the hand of thy God.

4 Thou shalt no more be termed, Forsaken; neither shall thy land any more be termed, Desolate: but thou shalt be called // Hephzi-bah, and thy land, // Beulah: for the LORD desireth in thee, and thy land shall be married.

5 For as a young man marrieth a virgin, so shall thy sonnes marry thee: and as the bridegroom rejoyceth over the bride, so shall thy God rejoyce over thee.

6 I have set watchmen upon thy walls, O Jerusalem, which shall never hold their peace day nor night: // ye that make mention of the LORD, keep not silence.

9 But they that have gathered it, shall eat it, and praise the LORD; and they that have brought it together, shall drink it in the courts of my holiness.

10 O Go thow, go thow, the gates; * prepare you the way of the people, cast up, cast up the high way, gather out the stones, lift up a standard for the people.

12 And they shall call them, The holy people, the redeemed of the LORD; and thou shalt be called, Sought out, a city not forsaken.

CHAP. LXIII.

1 Christ sheweth who he is, what his victory over his enemies, 7 and what his mercy towards his church.

10 In his just wrath he remembereth his free mercy.

15 The Church in their prayer, 17 and complaint, professeth their faith.

W Ho is this that cometh from Edom, with died garments from Bosrah; this that is glorious in his apparell, travelling in the greenesse of his strength; I that speak in righteousness, mighty to save.

2 Therefore art thou red in thine apparell, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the vine-sar?

3 I have troden the vine-press alone, and of the people there was none with me: for I will tread them in mine anger, and trample them in my fury, and their blood shall be sprinkled upon my garments, and I will stain all my raiment.

4 For the * day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the year of my redeemed is come.

5 And I looked, and there was none to help; and I wondered that there was none to uphold: therefore mine own * arm brought salvation unto me, and my fury, it upheld me.

6 And I will tread down the people in mine anger, and make them drunk in my fury, and I will bring down their strength to the earth.

7 I will mention the loving kindnesse of the LORD, and the praises of the LORD, according to all that the LORD hath bestowed on us, and the great goodnesse towards the house of Israel, which he hath beloved on them, according to his mercie, and according to the multitude of his loving kindnesse.

8 For he said, Surely they are my people, children that will not lie: so he was their saviour.

9 In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them: * in his love and in his pity he redeemed them: and he bare them, and carried them all the dayes of old.

10 O But they * rebelled, and vexed his holy spirit: therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and he fought against them.

11 Then he remembered the dayes of old, Moses and his people, saying, Where is he that * brought them up out of the sea, with the // shepherd of his flock; where is he that put his holy spirit within him?

12 That led them by the right hand of Moses, with his glorious arm, * dividing the water before them, to make himself an everlasting name?

13 That led them thow the deep, as an horse in the wilderness, that they should not stumble?

14 As a beast goeth down into the valley, the spirit of the LORD caused him to rest: so didst thou lead thy people, to make thy self a glorious name.

15 O Look down from heaven, and behold from the habitation of thy holinesse and of thy glory: where is thy real and thy strength, // the sounding of thy bowes, and of thy mercie towards me? are they restrained?

16 Doubtlesse thou art our father, though Abraham be ignorant of us, and Israel acknowledge us not: thou, O LORD, art our Father, // our redeemer, thy name is from everlasting.

17 O LORD, why hast thou made us to erre from thy wayes; and hardened our heart from thy fear; * return for thy servants sake, the tribes of thine inheritance.

18 The people of thy holinesse have possessed it but a litle while: our adversaries have troden down thy sanctuary.

19 We are thine, thou never barest rule over them, * they were not called by thy name.

CHAP. LXIII.

1 The church prayeth for the illustration of Gods power. 5 Celebrating Gods mercy, it maketh confession of their naturall corruptions. 9 It complaineth of their affliction.

O that thou wouldest rent the heavens, that thou wouldest come down, that the mountains might flow down at thy presence.

2 As when // the melting fire burneth, the fire causeth the waters to boyl, to make the name known to thine adversaries, that the nations may tremble at thy presence.

3 When thou didst terrible things which we looked not for, thou camest down, the mountains flowed down at thy presence.

4 For since the beginning of the world * men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye // seen, O God, besides thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him.

5 Thou meetest him that rejoiceth, and worketh righteousness, those that remember thee in thy wayes: behold, thou art wroth, for we have sinned: in thole is continuance, and we shall be saved.

6 But we are all as an unclean thing, and all our righteousnesses are as filthy rags, and we all do * fade as a leaf, and our iniquities, like the winde, have taken us away.

7 And there is none that calleth upon thy name, that stretch up himself to take hold of thee: for thou hast hid thy face from us, and hast // consumed us because of our iniquities.

8 But now, O LORD, thou art our father: we are the clay, and thou our potter, and we all are the work of thy hand.

9 O We not // wroth very sore, O LORD, neither remember iniquitie for ever: behold, see, we beseech thee, we are all thy people.

10 Thy holy cities are a wilderness, Zion is a wilderness, Jerusalem a desolation.

11 Our holy and our beautiful house, where our fathers praised thee, is burnt up with fire: and all our pleasant things are laid waste.

CHAP. LXV.

1 The calling of the Gentiles. 2 The Jews, for their incredulity, idolatry, and hypocrisie, are rejected. 8 A remnant shall be saved. 11 Judgements on the wicked, and blessings on the godly. 17 The blessed state of the new Jerusalem.

I *Am sought of them that asked not for me : I am found of them that sought me not : I said, Behold me, behold me, unto a nation that was not called by my Name.

2 I have spread out my hands all the day unto a rebellious people, which walketh in a way that was not good, after their own thoughts :

3 A people that provoked me to anger continually to my face, that sacrificeth in gardens, and burneth incense † upon altars of brick :

4 Which remain among the graves, and lodge in the monuments, which eat swines flesh, and whose brood of abominable things is in their vessels :

5 Which say, Stand by thy self, come not near to me, for I am holier than thou : these are a smoke in my † nose, a fire that burneth all the day.

6 Behold, it is written before me, I will not keep silence, but will recompence, even recompense into their bosome,

7 Your iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers together ( saith the LORD ) which have burnt incense upon the mountains, and blasphemed me upon the hills : therefore will I measure their former work into their bosome.

8 Thus saith the LORD, As the new wine is found in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not, for a blessing is in it : so will I do for my servants sakes, that I may not destroy them all.

9 And I will bring forth a seed out of Jacob, and out of Judah an inheritour of my mountains : and mine elect shall inherit it, and my servants shall dwell there.

10 And Sharon shall be a fold of flocks, and the valley of Achor a place for the herds to lie down in, for my people that have sought me.

11 But ye are they that forsake the LORD, that forget my holy mountain, that prepare a table for that † troop, and that furnish the drink-offering unto that † number.

12 Therefore will I number you to the sword, and ye shall all bow down to the slaughter : * because when I called, ye did not answer ; when I spake, ye did not hear, but did evil before mine eyes, and did choose that wherein I delighted not.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, my servants shall eat, but ye shall be hungry ; behold, my servants shall drink, but ye shall be thirsty ; behold, my servants shall rejoice, but ye shall be ashamed.

14 Behold, my servants shall sing for joy of heart, but ye shall cry for sorrow of heart, and shall howl for † vexation of spirit.

15 And ye shall leave your name for a curse unto my chosen : for the Lord GOD shall slay thee, and call his servants by another name :

16 That he who blesseth himself in the earth shall blesse himself in the God of truth, and he that sweareth in the earth, shall swear by the God of truth ; because the former troubles are forgotten, and because they are hid from mine eyes.

17 For behold, I create * new heavens, and a new earth : and the former shall not be remembered, nor † come into minde.

18 But be you glad and rejoyce for ever in that which I create : for behold I create Jerusalem a rejoycing, and her people a joy.

19 And I will rejoyce in Jerusalem, and joy in my people, and the * voice of weeping shall be no more heard in her, nor the voice of crying.

20 There shall be no more thence an infant of days, nor an old man that hath not filled his days : for the child shall die an hundred yeers old, but the sinner being an hundred yeers old shall be accursed.

21 And they shall build, houses, and inhabit them ; and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them.

22 They shall not build, and another inhabit : they shall not plant, and another eat : for as the dayes of a tree, are the dayes of my people ; and mine elect † shall long enjoy the work of their hands.

23 They shall not labour in vain, nor bring forth for trouble : for they are the seed of the blessed of the LORD, and their offspring with them.

24 And it shall come to passe, that * before they call, I will answer ; and while they are yet speaking, I will hear.

25 The * wolf and the lamb shall feed together, and the lion shall eat straw like the bullock : and dust shall be the serpents meat. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain, saith the LORD.

CHAP. LXVI.

1 The glorious God will be served in humble sincerity. 5 He comforteth the humble with the marvellous generation, 10 and with the gracious benefits of the church. 15 Gods severe judgements against the wicked. 19 The Gentiles shall have an holy church, 24 and see the damnation of the wicked.

Thus saith the LORD, * The heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool : where is the house that ye build unto me ? and where is the place of my rest ?

2 For all those things hath mine hand made, and all those things have been, saith the LORD : but to this man will I look, even to him that is poor, and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my word.

3 He that killeth an ox, is as if he slew a man : he that sacrificeth a flamb, as if he cut off a dogs neck : he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swines blood : he that † burneth incense, as if he blessed an idol : yea, they have chosen their own wayes, and their soul delighteth in their abominations.

4 I also will choose their † delusions, and will bring their fears upon them ; * because when I called, none did answer ; when I spake, they did not hear : but they did evil before mine eyes, and chose that in which I delighted not.

5 Hear the word of the LORD, ye that tremble at his word, Your brethren that hated you, that cast you out for my Names sake, said, * Let the LORD be glorified : but he shall appear to your joy, and they shall be ashamed.

6 A voice of noise from the city, a voice from the temple, a voice of the LORD that rendereth recompence to his enemies.

THE BOOK OF THE prophet JEREMIAH.

CHAP. I.

1 The time, 3 and the calling of Jeremiah. 11 His Propheticall visions of an almond rod, and a seething pot. 15 His heavy message against Judah. 17 God encourageth him with his promise of assistance.

1 The words of Jeremiah the sonne of Hiskiah, of the priests that were in Anathoth in the land of Benjamin:

2 To whom the word of the LORD came in the dayes of Iosiah the sonne of Amon king of Iudah, in the thirtenth year of his reian.

3 It came also in the dayes of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, unto the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, unto the carrying away of Jerusalem captiv: in the fifth month.

4 Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

5 Before I formed thee in the belly, I knew thee; and before thou camest forth out of the womb, I sanctified thee, and I ordained thee a prophet unto the nations.

6 Then said I, Ah Lord GOD, behold, I cannot speak, for I am a child.

7 But the LORD said unto me, Say not, I am a child: for thou shalt go to all that I shall send thee, and what I command thee thou shalt speak.

8 Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the LORD.

9 Then the LORD put forth his hand, and touched my mouth, and the LORD said unto me, Behold, I have put my words in thy mouth.

10 See, I have this day set thee over the nations, and over the kingdoms, to root out, and to pull down, and to throw down, to build, and to plant.

11 Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Jeremiah, what seest thou? and I said, I see a rod of an almond-tree.

12 Then said the LORD unto me, Thou hast well seen: for I will hasten my word to perform it.

13 And the word of the LORD came unto me the second time, saying, What seest thou? and I said, 14 Then the LORD said unto me, Out of the north, an evil † shall break forth upon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 For so, I will call all the families of the kingdoms of the north, saith the LORD, and they shall come, and they shall set every one his throne at the entering of the gates of Jerusalem, and against all the walls thereof round about, and against all the cities of Judah.

16 And I will utter my judgements against them touching all their wickedness, who have forsaken me, and have burnt incense unto other gods, and worshipped the works of their own hands.

17 ¶ Thou therefore gird up thy loins, and arise, and speak unto them all that I command thee: be not dismayed at their faces, lest I be confounded thee before them.

18 For behold, I have made thee this day a defended city, and an iron pillar, and brazen walls against the whole land, against the kings of Judah, against the princes thereof, against the priests thereof, and against the people of the land.

19 And they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee, saith the LORD, to deliver thee.

CHAP. II.

1 God having shewed his former kindnesse, expostulateth with the Jews their causelesse revolt, beyond any example. 14 They are the causes of their own calamities. 20 The finnes of Judah. 31 Her confidence is rejected.

1 M<sup>oreover</sup>, the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2 O, and cry in the ears of Jerusalem, saying, Thus saith the LORD, I remember † thee, the kindnesse of thy youth, the love of thine espousals, when thou wentest after me in the wilderness, in a land that was not sown.

3 Israel was holinesse unto the LORD, and the first fruits of his increase: * all that devour him, shall offend; evil shall come upon them, saith the LORD.

4 Hear ye the word of the LORD, O house of Jacob, and all the families of the house of Israel.

5 ¶ Thus saith the LORD, What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and have walked after vanity, and are become vain?

6 Neither said they, Where is the LORD that brought us up out of the land of Egypt: that led us thorow the wilderness, thorow a land of deserts, and of pits, thorow a land of drought, and of the shadow of death, thorow a land that no man passed thorow, and where no man dwelt.

7 And I brought you into a plentiful country, to eat the fruit thereof, and the goodnesse thereof; but when ye entered, ye defiled my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

8 The priests said not, Where is the LORD? and they that handle the law, knew me not: the pastors also transgressed against me, and the prophets prophesied by Baal, and walked after things that do not profit.

9 ¶ Therefore I will yet plead with you, saith the LORD, and with your childrens children will I plead.

10 For passe I over the fles of Chittim, and see; and send unto Kedar, and consider diligently, and see if there be such a thing.

11 Hath a nation changed their gods, which are yet no gods? but my people have changed their glory, for that which doth not profit.

12 Be astonished, O ye heavens, at this; and be horribly afraid, be ye very desolate, saith the LORD.

13 For my people have committed two evils: they have forsaken me the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns that can hold no water.

14 ¶ Is Israel a servant? is he a home-born slave? why is he spoiled?

15 The young lions roared upon him, and yelled, and they made his land waste: his cities are burnt without inhabitant.

16 Also the children of Noph and Tabananes have broken the crown of thy head.

17 Hast thou not provoked this into thy self, in that thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, when he led thee by the way?

18 And now what hast thou to do in the way of Egypt, to drink the waters of Sihor? or what hast thou to do in the way of Assyria, to drink the waters of the river?

19 Thine own wickednesse shall correct thee, and thy back-slidings shall reprove thee: know therefore and see, that it is an evil thing and bitter that thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, and that my fear is not in thee, saith the Lord GOD of hosts.

20 ¶ For of old time I have broken thy yoke, and burst thy bands, and thou saidst, I will not transgresse: when upon every high bill, and under every green tree thou wanderest, playing the harlot.

21 Yet I had planted thee a noble vine, wholly a right seed: how then art thou turned into the degenerate plant of a strange vine unto me?

22 For though thou shalt wash thee with nitre, and take thee much soap, yet thine iniquity is marked before me, saith the Lord GOD.

23 How canst thou say, I am not polluted, I have not gone after Baalim? see thy way in the valley, know what thou hast done: thou art a wolf in a homedary reverting her ways, 24 ¶ A wilde asse † used to the wilderness, that snuffeth up the winde at her pleasure, in her occasion who can turn her away? all they that seek her, will not weary themselves, in her month they shall finde her.

25 Withhold thy foot from being washed, and thy throat from thirst: but thou saidst, There is no hope. So, for I have loved strangers, and after them will I go.

26 As the thief is ashamed when he is found: so is the house of Israel ashamed; they, their kings, their princes, and their priests, and their prophets.

27 Saying to a stork, Thou art my father, and to a stone, Thou shalt be my father: for they have turned † their back unto me, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble they will say, Arise, and save us.

28 But where are thy gods that thou hast made thee? let them arise if they can save thee in the time of thy trouble: for according to the number of thy cities are thy gods, O Judah.

29 Therefore will ye plead with me? ye all have transgressed against me, saith the LORD.

30 In vain have I smitten your children, they received no correction: your own sword hath devoured your prophets, like a destroying lion.

31 ¶ O generation, see ye the word of the LORD: have I been a wilderness unto Israel: a land of darkness? wherefore say my people, We are lords, we will come no more unto thee?

34 Also in thy skirts is found the blood of the souls of the poor innocents: I have not found it by secret search, but upon all these.

35 Yet thou sayest, Because I am innocent, surely his anger shall turn from me: behold, I will plead with thee, because thou sayest, I have not sinned.

36 Why gaddest thou about so much to change thy way? thou also shalt be ashamed of Egypt, as thou wast ashamed of Assyria.

37 Yea, thou shalt go forth from him, and thine hands upon thine head: for the LORD hath rejected thy confidences, and thou shalt not prosper in them.

CHAP. III.

1 Gods great mercy in Judahs vile whoredom. 6 Judah is worse then Israel. 12 The promises of the gospel to the penitent. 20 Israel reproved, and called by God, maketh a solemn confession of their sins.

1 They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go from him, and become another mans, shall he return unto her again? shall not that land be greatly polluted? but thou hast played the harlot with many lovers; yet return again to me, saith the LORD.

2 Lift up thine eyes unto the high places, and see where thou hast not been sicut with: in the wayes hast thou sat for them, as the Arabian in the wilderness, and thou hast polluted the land with thy whoredoms, and with thy wickednesse.

3 Therefore the showers have been withholden, and there hath been no latter rain, and thou hast a whores forehead, thou refusedst to be ashamed.

4 Wilt thou not from this time cry unto me, My father, thou art the guide of my youth?

5 Will he reserve his anger for ever? will he keep it to the end? Behold, thou hast spoken and done evil things as thou couldst.

6 The LORD said also unto me in the dayes of Josiah the king, Hast thou seen that which back-sliding Israel hath done? she is gone up upon every high mountain, and under every green tree, and there hath played the harlot.

7 And I said after she had done all these things, Turn thou unto me: but she returned not, and her treacherous sister Judah saw it.

8 And I saw, when for all the causes whereby back-sliding Israel committed adultery, I had put her away, and given her a bill of divorce: yet her treacherous sister Judah feared not, but went and played the harlot also.

9 And it came to passe though the lightnesse of her whoredom, that she defiled the land, and committed adultery with stones and with stocks.

10 And yet for all this, her treacherous sister Judah hath not turned unto me with her whole heart, but feignedly, saith the LORD.

11 And the LORD said unto me, The back-sliding Israel hath justified her self more then treacherous Judah.

12 Come, and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, Return thou back-sliding Israel, saith the LORD, and I will not cause mine anger to fall upon you: for I am mercifull, saith the LORD, and I will not keep anger for ever.

13 Onely acknowledge thine iniquity that thou hast transgressed against the LORD thy God, and hast scattered thy wayes to the strangers under every green tree, and ye have not obeyed my voice, saith the LORD.

14 Turn, O back-sliding children, saith the LORD, for I am married unto you: and I will take you one of a city, and two of a family, and I will bring you to Zion.

15 And I will give you pastours according to mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and understanding.

16 And it shall come to passe, when ye be multiplied and increased in the land; in those dayes saith the LORD, they shall say no more, The ark of the covenant of the LORD: neither shall it come to minde, neither shall they remember it, neither shall they visit it, neither shall it be done any more.

17 At that time they shall call Jerusalem the throne of the LORD, and all the nations shall be gathered unto it, to the name of the LORD, to Jerusalem: neither shall they walk any more after the imagination of their evil heart.

18 In those dayes the house of Judah shall walk with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the north, to the land that I have given for an inheritance unto your fathers.

19 But I said, How shall I put thee among the children, and give thee a pleasant land, and a goodly heritage of the best of nations? and I said, Thou shalt call me, My father, and shalt not turn away from me.

20 C Surely, as a wife treacherously departeth from her husband: so have you dealt treacherously with me, O house of Israel, saith the LORD.

21 A voice was heard upon the high places, weeping and supplications of the children of Israel: for they have perverted their way, and they have forgotten the LORD their God.

22 Return ye back-sliding children, and I will heal your back-slidings: behold, we come unto thee, for thou art the LORD our God.

23 Truly in vain is salvation hoped for from the hills, and from the multitude of mountains: truly in the LORD our God is the salvation of Israel.

24 For shame hath devoured the labour of our fathers from our youth; their flocks and their herds, their sons and their daughters.

25 We lie down in our shame, and our confusion covereth us: for we have sinned against the LORD our God, we and our fathers from our youth even unto this day, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD our God.

CHAP. IIII.

1 God calleth Israel by his promise. 3 He exhorteth Judah to repentance by fearful judgements. 19 A grievous lamentation for the miseries of Judah.

2 And thou shalt swear, The LORD lieth in truth, in judgement, and in righteousness; and the nations shall bless themselves in him, and in him shall they glory.

3 For thus saith the LORD to the men of Judah and Jerusalem, Break up your fallow ground, and sow not among thorns.

fury come forth like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings.

5 Declare ye in Judah, and publish in Jerusalem, and say, Blow ye the trumpet in the land: cry, gather together, and say, Assemble your selves, and let us go into the defenced cities.

6 Set up the standard toward Zion: || retire, stay not; for I will bring evil from the north, and a great destruction.

7 The lion is come up from his thicket, and the destroyer of the Gentiles is on his way; he is gone forth from his place to make the land desolate, and thy cities shall be laid waste, without an inhabitant.

8 For this * gird you with sackcloth, lament and howl: for the fierce anger of the L O R D is not turned back from us.

9 And it shall come to passe at that day, saith the L O R D, that the heart of the king shall perish, and the heart of the princes: and the priests shall be astonished, and the prophets shall wonder.

10 Then said I, Oh Lord G O D, surely thou hast greatly deceived this people, and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall have peace, whereas the sword reacheth unto the soul.

11 At that time shall it be said to this people, and to Jerusalem, A drie winde of the high places in the wilderness toward the daughter of my people, not to fan, not to cleanse, 12 Even || a full winde from those places shall come unto me: now also will I † give sentence against them.

13 Behold, he shall come up as clouds, and his chariots shall be as a whirlwinde: his horses are swifter then eagles: I wo unto us, for we are spoiled.

14 O Jerusalem, * wash thine heart from wickednesse, that thou mayest be saved: how long shall thy vain thoughts lodge within thee?

15 For a voice declarereth * from Dan, and publisheth affliction from mount Ephraim.

16 Make ye mention to the nations, behold, publish against Jerusalem, that watchers come from afar countrey, and give out their voice against the cities of Judah.

17 As keepers of a field are they against her round about: because the hath been rebellious against me, saith the L O R D.

18 * Thy way and thy doings have procured these things unto thee, this is thy wickednesse, because it is bitter, because it reacheth unto thine heart.

19 O My * bowels, my bowels, I am pained at † my very heart, my heart maketh a noise in me, I cannot hold my peace, because thou hast heard, O my soul, the sound of the trumpet, the alarm of war.

20 Destruction upon destruction is cried, for the whole land is spoiled: suddenly are my tents spoiled, and my curtains in a moment.

21 How long shall I see the standard, and hear the sound of the trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish, they have not known me, they are foolish children, and they have none understanding: they are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge.

23 I beheld the earth, and lo, it was without form and void: and the heavens, and they had no light.

24 I beheld the mountains, and lo, they trembled, and all the hills moved lightly.

25 I beheld, and lo, there was no man, and all the birds of the heavens were fled.

26 I beheld, and lo, the fruitful place was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken down at the presence of the L O R D, and by his fierce anger.

27 For thus hath the L O R D said, The whole land shall be desolate: * yet will I not make a full end.

28 For this shall the earth mourn, and the heavens above be black: because I have spoken it, I have purposed it, and will not repent, neither will I turn back from it.

29 The whole eitie shall flee for the noise of the bowmen and bowmen, they shall go into thickets, and climb up upon the rocks: every eitie shall be forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 And when thou art spoiled, what wilt thou do? though thou clovest thy self with crimson, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold, though thou rentest thy † face with painting, in vain shalt thou make thy self fair, thy lovers will despise thee, they will seek thy life.

31 For I have heard a voice as of a woman in travail, and the anguish as of her that bringeth forth her first child, the voice of the daughter of Zion: that bewalleth her self, that spreadeth her hands, saying, Who is me now, for my soul is wearied because of murderers.

C H A P. V.

1 The judgements of God upon the Jews, for their perversnesse, 7 for their adultery, 10 for their impiety, 19 for their contempt of God, 25 and for their great corruption in the civill state, 30 and ecclesiasticall.

R Un ye to and fro thorow the streets of Jerusalem, and see now and know, and seek in the broad places thereof, if ye can finde a man, if there be any that executeth judgement, that seeketh the truth, and I will pardon it.

2 And though they say, The L O R D lieth, surely they wear falsly.

3 O L O R D, are not thine eyes upon the truth? thou hast * stricken them, but they have not grieved; thou hast consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction: they have made their faces harder then a rock, they have refused to return.

4 Therefore I said, Surely these are poor, they are foolish, for they know not the way of the L O R D, nor the judgement of their God.

5 I will get me unto the great men, and will speak unto them; for they have known the way of the L O R D, and the judgement of their God: but these have altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bonds.

6 Therefore a lion out of the forest shall lay them, and a wolf of the shepherds shall spoil them, a leopard shall watch over their cities: every one that goeth out thence shall be torn in pieces: because their transgressions are many, and their backslidings † are increased.

7 How shall I pardon thee for this? thy children have forsaken me, and troyn by them that are no gods: when I had fed them to the full, they then committed adultery, and assembled themselves by troops in the barbers houses.

8 * They were as fed horses in the morning: every one neighed after his neighbours wife.

 30 A wonderful and horrible thing is committed in the land.
 31 The prophets prophesie falsely, and the priests bear rule by their means, and my people love to have it so: and what will ye do in the end thereof?

CHAP. VI.

The enemies sent against Judah, 4 encourage themselves. 6 God searcheth them on work because of their sin. 9 The prophet lamenteth the judgements of God because of their sins. 18 He proclaimeth Gods wrath. 26 He calleth the people to mourn for the judgement on their sins.

O Ye children of Benjamin, gather your selves so flee out of the midst of Jerusalem, and blow the trumpet in Tekoa: and set up a signe of fire in Beth-gaccerin: for evil appeareth out of the north, and great destruction.
 2 I have likened the daughter of Zion to a comely and delicate woman.
 3 The shepherds with their flocks shall come unto her: they shall pitch their tents against her round about: they shall feed every one in his place.
 4 Prepare ye war against her: arise and let us go up at noon: wo unto us, for the day goeth away, for the shadows of the evening are stretched out.
 5 Arise, and let us go by night, and let us destroy her palaces.
 6 For thus hath the Lord God of hosts said, Bewe down trees, and I cast a mount against Jerusalem: this is the citie to be visited, she is wholly opprest in the midst of her.
 7 As a fountain casteth out her waters, so she casteth out her wickednesse: violence and spoile is heard in her, before me continually is grief and wounds.
 8 Beh thou instructed, O Jerusalem, lest my soul depart from thee: lest I make thee desolate, a land not inhabited.
 9 Thus saith the Lord God of hosts, They shall thoroughly glean the remnant of Israel as a vine: turn back thine hand as a grape-gatherer into the baskets.
 10 To whom shall I speak and give warning, that they may hear? behold, their ear is uncircumcised, and they cannot hearken: behold, the word of the Lord is unto them a reproach, they have no delight in it.
 11 Therefore I am full of the fury of the Lord God: I am weary with holding in; I will pour it out upon the children abroad, and upon the assembly of young men together: for even the husband with the wife shall be taken, the aged with him that is full of dayes.
 12 And their houses shall be turned unto others, with their fields and wives together: for I will stretch out my hand upon the inhabitants of the land, saith the Lord God.
 13 For from the least of them even unto the greatest of them, every one is given to covetousnesse: and from the prophet even unto the priest, every one dealeth falsly.
 14 They have healed also the hurt of the daughter of my people slightly, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.
 15 Were they not ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore they shall fall among them that fall: at the time that I visit them, they shall be cast down, saith the Lord God.
 16 Thus saith the Lord God, Stand ye in the wayes and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall finde rest for your souls: but they said, We will not walk therein.
 17 Also I set watchmen over you, saying, Hearken to the sound of the trumpet: but they said, We will not hearken.

25 Go not forth into the field, nor walk by the way; for the word of the enemy and fear is on every side.

26 O Daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, and wallow thyself in ashes; make thee mourning, as for an only son, most bitter lamentation; for the spoiler shall suddenly come upon us.

27 I have set thee for a tower, and a fortress among my people, that thou mayest know and try their way.

28 They are all greedy revolvers, walking with slanders; they are brass and iron, they are all corrupters.

29 The bellows are burnt, the lead is consumed of the fire, the founder melteth in vain; for the wicked are not plucked away.

30 All Reprobate silver shall men call them, because the LORD hath rejected them.

CHAP. VII.

1 Jeremiah is sent to call for true repentance, to prevent the Jews captivity. 8 He rejecteth their vain confidence, 12 by the example of Shiloh. 17 He threateth them for their idolatry. 21 He rejecteth the sacrifices of the disobedient. 29 He exhorteth to mourn for their abominations in Tophet, 32 and the judgements for the same.

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,

2 Stand in the gate of the LORDS house, and proclaim there this word, and say, Hear the word of the LORD, all ye of Judah, that enter in at these gates to worship the LORD.

3 Thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Amend your ways, and your doings, and I will cause you to dwell in this place.

4 Trust ye not in lying words, saying, The temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD are these.

5 For if ye thoroughly amend your ways, and your doings; if ye thoroughly execute judgement between a man and his neighbour;

6 If ye oppress not the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow, and shed not innocent blood in this place, neither walk after other gods to your hurt:

7 Then will I cause you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers, for ever and ever.

8 Behold, ye trust in lying words, that cannot profit.

9 Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and wear a false, and burn incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye know not;

10 And come and stand before me in this house which is called by my Name, and say, We are delivered to do all these abominations;

11 To this house, which is called by my Name, become a den of robbers in your eyes; behold, even I have seen it, saith the LORD.

12 But go ye now unto my place which was in Shiloh, where I set my Name at the first, and see what I did to it, for the wickedness of my people Israel.

13 And now because ye have done all these works, saith the LORD, and I spake unto you, rising up early, and speaking, but ye heard not; and I called you, but ye answered not:

14 Therefore will I do unto this house which is called by my Name, wherein ye trust, and unto the place which I gave to you, and to your fathers, as I have done to Shiloh.

15 And I will cast you out of my sight, as I have cast out all your brethren, even the whole seed of Ephraim.

16 Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them, neither make intercession to me, for I will not hear thee.

17 O Shereb, thou hast seen what they do in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem;

18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead their dough to make cakes to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto other gods; that they may provoke me to anger.

19 Do they provoke me to anger, saith the LORD; do they not provoke themselves to the confusion of their own faces?

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, mine anger and my fury shall be poured out upon this place, upon man and upon beast, and upon the trees of the field, and upon the fruit of the ground; and it shall burn, and shall not be quenched.

21 Thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Your burnt-offerings unto you sacrifices, and eat flesh.

22 For I spake not unto your fathers, nor commanded them in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt-offerings or sacrifices.

23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: and walk ye in all the ways that I have commanded you, that it may be well unto you.

24 But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear, but walked in the counsel, and in the imagination of their evil heart, and went backward, and not forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came forth out of the land of Egypt unto this day, I have even sent unto you all my servants the prophets, daily, rising up early, and sending them.

26 Yet they hearkened not unto me, nor inclined their ear, but hardened their neck, they did worse than their fathers.

27 Therefore thou shalt speak all these words unto them, but they will not hearken to thee: thou shalt also call unto them, but they will not answer thee.

28 But thou shalt say unto them, This is a nation that obeyeth not the voice of the LORD their God, nor receiveth his correction: truth is perished, and is cut off from their mouth.

for, instruction.

29 Cut off thine hair, O Jerusalem, and cast it away, and take up a lamentation on high places, for the LORD hath rejected and forsaken the generation of his wrath.

30 For the children of Judah have done evill in my sight, saith the LORD: they have set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to pollute it.

31 And they have built the high places of Tophet, which is in the valley of the son of Binjamin, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire, which I commanded them not, neither came it into my heart.

32 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the LORD, that it shall no more be called Tophet, nor the valley of the son of Binjamin, but the valley of slaughter: for they shall bury in Tophet, till there be no place.

33 And the carcasses of this people shall be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth, and none shall stray them away.

34 Then will I cause to cease from the cities of Judah, and from the streets of Jerusalem, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladnesse, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride: for the land shall be desolate.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The calamity of the Jews both dead and alive. 4 He upbraideth their foolish and shamelesse impenitencie. 13 He sheweth their grievous judgement, 18 and bewaileth their desperate estate.

At that time, saith the LORD, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of his princes, and the bones of the priests, and the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem out of their graves.

2 And they shall spread them before the sun, and the moon, and all the host of heaven whom they have loved, and whom they have served, and after whom they have walked, and whom they have sought, and whom they have worshipped: they shall not be gathered, nor be buried, they shall be for dung upon the face of the earth.

3 And death shall be chosen rather then life, by all the residue of them that remain of this evill family, which remain in all the places whither I have driven them, saith the LORD of hosts.

4 Woe upon them that say unto them, Thus saith the LORD, Shall they fall, and not arise? shall be turn away, and not return?

5 Why then is this people of Jerusalem hidden back, by a perpetuall back-sliding? they hold fast deceit, they refuse to return.

6 I hearkened and heard, but they spake not aright: no man repented him of his wickednesse, saying, What have I done? every one turned to his course, as the horse rusheth into the battell.

7 Vea, the fowl in the heaven knoweth her appointed times, and the turtle, and the crane, and the swallow observe the time of their coming, but my people know not the judgement of the LORD.

8 How do ye say, We are wise, and the law of the LORD is with us? Lo, certainly in vain made he it: the pen of the scribes is in vain.

9 The wise men are ashamed, they are dismayed and taken, lo, they have rejected the word of the LORD, and say what wisdom is in them?

10 Therefore will I give their wives unto others, and their fields to them that shall inherit them: for every one from the least even unto the greatest is given to covetousnesse, from the prophet even unto the priest, every one dealeth falsly.

11 For they have healed the hurt of the daughter of my people slightly, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

12 Where they are ashamed when they had committed abomination: nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore shall they fall among them that fall, in the time of their visitation they shall be cast down, saith the LORD.

13 I will surely consume them, saith the LORD; there shall be no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the fig-tree, and the leaf shall fade, and the things that I have given them shall passe away from them.

14 Why do we sit still? assemble your selves, and let us enter into the defended cities, and let us be silent there: for the LORD our God hath put us to silence, and given us water of gall to drink, because we have sinned against the LORD.

15 We looked for peace, but no good came: and for a time of health, and behold trouble.

16 The snoring of his horses was heard from Dan: the whole land trembled at the sound of the neighing of his strong ones, for they are come, and have devoured the land, and all that is in it, the city, and those that dwell therein.

17 For behold, I will send serpents, cockatrices among you, which will not be charmed, and they shall bite you, saith the LORD.

18 When I would comfort my self against sorrow, my heart is faint in me.

19 Behold, the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people, because of them that dwell in a far country: is not the LORD in Zion? is not her king in her? why have they provoked me to anger with their graven images, and with strange vanities?

20 The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved.

21 For the hurt of the daughter of my people am I hurt, I am black: astonishment hath taken hold on me.

22 Is there no balm in Gilead? is there no physician there? why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered?

CHAP. IX.

1 Jeremiah lamenteth the Jews for their manifold sinnes, 9 and for their judgement. 12 Disobediencie is the cause of their bitter exalmy. 17 He exhorteth to mourn for their destruction, 23 and to trust not in themselves, but in God. 25 He threatneth both Jews and Gentiles.

That my head were waters, and mine eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people.

2 What I had in the wilderness a lodging place of wayfaring men, that I might leave my people, and go from them: for they be all adulterers, an assembly of treacherous men.

3 And they bend their tongues like their bowe for lies: but they are not valiant for the truth upon the earth, for they proceed from evill to evill, and they know not me, saith the LORD.

4 Take ye heed every one of his neighbour, and trust ye not in any brother: for every brother will utterly supplant, and every neighbour will walk with flanders.

5 And they will deceive every one his neighbour, and will not speak the truth: they have taught taught their tongue to speak lies, and weary themselves to commit iniquity.

6 Ebine habitation is in the midst of deceit, through deceit they refuse to know me, saith the LORD.

7 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will melt them, and try them; for how shall I do for the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongue is as an arrow shot out, it speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in heart he layeth his wait.

9 Shall I not visit them for these things, saith the LORD? shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

10 For the mountains will I take up a weeping and wailing, and for the habitations of the wilderness a lamentation, because they are burnt up, so that none can pass through them, neither can men hear the voice of the cattell, & both the fowl of the heavens, and the beasts are fled, they are gone.

11 And I will make Jerusalem heaps, and a den of dragons, and I will make the cities of Judah desolate, without an inhabitant.

12 Who is the wise man that may understand this, and who is he to whom the mouth of the LORD hath spoken, that he may declare it for what the land perissheth, and is burnt up like a wilderness that none passeth through?

13 And the LORD saith, Because they have forsaken my law which I set before them, and have not obeyed my voice, neither walked therein;

14 But have walked after the imagination of their own heart, and after Balaam, which their fathers taught them;

15 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will feed them, even this people, with wormwood, and give them water of gall to drink.

16 I will scatter them also among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers have known: and I will send a wood after them, till I have consumed them.

17 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Consider ye, and call for the mourning women, that they may come, and send for cunning women, that they may come.

18 And let them make haste, and take up a wailing for us, that our eyes may run down with tears, and our eyelids gush out with waters.

19 For a voice of wailing is heard out of Zion, how are we spoiled? we are greatly confounded, because we have forsaken the land, because our dwellings have cast us out.

20 Yet hear the word of the LORD, O ye women, and let your ear receive the word of his mouth, and teach your daughters wailing, and every one her neighbour lamentation.

21 For death is come up into our windows, and is entered into our palaces, to cut off the children from without, and the young men from the streets.

22 Speak, Thus saith the LORD, Even the carcases of men shall fall as dung upon the open field, and as the band shall alter the harvest man, and none shall gather them.

23 Thus saith the LORD, Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches.

24 But let him that glorieth, glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the LORD which exercise loving kindness, judgement and righteousness in the earth: for in these things I delight, saith the LORD.

25 Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will punish all them which are circumcised but not the circumcised, 26 Egypt, and Judah, and Edom, and the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all that are in the utmost corners, that dwell in the wilderness: for all these nations are uncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are uncircumcised in the heart.

CHAP. X.

1 The unequal comparison of God and idols. 17 The prophet exhorteth to flee from the calamity to come. 19 He lamenteth the spoil of the tabernacle by foolish pastours. 23 He maketh an humble supplication.

Hear ye the word which the LORD speaketh unto you, O house of Israel.

2 Thus saith the LORD, Learn not the way of the heathen, and be not dismayed at the signes of heaven, for the heathen are dismayed at them.

3 For the customs of the people are vain: for one cutteth a tree out of the forest (the work of the hands of the workmen) with the ax.

4 They deck it with silver and with gold, they fasten it with nails and with hammers, that it move not.

5 They are upright as the palm-tree, but speak not: they must needs be bran, because they cannot grow: neither are afraid of them, for they cannot do evil, neither alle is in them to do good.

6 Forasmuch as there is none like unto thee, O LORD, thou art great, and thy name is great in might.

7 Who would not fear thee, O king of nations? to thee doth it appertain: forasmuch as among all the wise men of the nations, and in all their kingdoms there is none like unto thee.

8 But they are fit altogether vanity and foolishness: the stock is a doctrine of vanities.

9 Silver spread into plates is brought from Tarshish, and gold from Cyprus, the work of the workman, and of the hands of the founder: blue and purple is their clothing: they are all the work of cunning men.

10 But the LORD is the true God, he is the living God, and an everlasting King: at his wrath the earth shall tremble, and the nations shall not be able to abide his indignation.

11 Thus shall ye say unto them, The gods that have not made the heavens and the earth, even they shall perish from the earth, and from under these heavens.

12 He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heavens by his description.

13 When he uttereth his voice there is a multitude of waters in the heavens, and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth: he maketh lightnings with rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.

14 Every man is brutish in his knowledge, every founder is confounded by the graven image, for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them.

15 They are vanity, and the work of error: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

16 The portion of Jacob is not like them: for he is the former of all things, and Israel is the rod of his inheritance; and the LORD of hosts is his name.

20 My tabernacle is spoiled, and all my cozds are broken: my children are gone forth of me, and they are not: there is none to stretch forth my tent any more, and to set up my curtains.

21 For the pastors are become brutish, and have not sought the LORD: therefore they shall not prosper, and all their flocks shall be scattered.

22 Behold, the noise of the bruite is come, and a great commotion out of the north countrey, to make the cities of Judah desolate, and a den of dragon.

23 ¶ O LORD, I know that the way of man is not in himself: it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps.

24 ¶ O LORD, correct me, but with judgement; not in thine anger, lest thou bring me to nothing.

25 ¶ Pour out thy fury upon the heathen, that know thee not, and upon the families that call not on thy name: for they have eaten up Jacob, and devoured him, and consumed him, and have made his habitation desolate.

CHAP. XI.

1 Jeremiah proclaimeth Gods covenant, 8 rebuketh the Jews disobeying thereof, 11 propheseth evils to come upon them, 18 and upon the men of Anathoth, for conspiring to kill Jeremiah.

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,

2 Hear ye the words of this covenant, and speak unto the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem,

3 And say thou unto them, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Cursed be the man that obeyeth not the words of this covenant,

4 ¶ Which I commanded your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, from the iron furnace, saying, Obey my voice, and do them, according to all which I command you: so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God:

5 That I may perform the oath which I have sworn unto your fathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey, as it is this day. Then answered I, and said, ¶ So be it, O LORD.

6 Then the LORD said unto me, Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, saying, Hear ye the words of this covenant, and do them.

7 For I earnestly protested unto your fathers, in the day that I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, even unto this day, rising early, and protesting, saying, Obey my voice.

8 Yet they obeyed not, nor inclined their ear, but walked every one in the imagination of their evil heart: therefore I will bring upon them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do, but they did them not.

9 And the LORD said unto me, A conspiracy is found among the men of Judah, and among the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

10 They are turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to hear my words: and they went after other gods to serve them: the house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken my covenant which I made with their fathers.

11 ¶ Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will bring evil upon them which they shall not be able to escape; and though they shall cry unto me, I will not hearken unto them.

12 Then shall the cities of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem go, and cry unto the gods unto whom they offer incense; but they shall not save them at all in the time of their trouble.

13 For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, O Judah; and according to the number of the streets of Jerusalem, have ye set up altars to that I shamefull thing, even altars to burn incense unto Baal.

14 Therefore I pray not thou for this people, neither lift up a cry or prayer for them: for I will not hear them in the time that they cry unto me for their trouble.

15 ¶ That hath my beloved to do in my house, seeing the hath wrought lewdnesse with many; and the holy flesh is passed from thee: when thou dost evil, then thou rejoicest.

16 The LORD said called thy name, A green olive-tree, fair and of goodly fruit: with the noise of a great tumult he hath kindled fire upon it, and the branches of it are broken.

17 For the LORD of hosts that planted thee, hath pronounced evil against thee, for the evil of the house of Israel, and of the house of Judah, which they have done against themselves to provoke me to anger, in offering incense unto Baal.

18 ¶ And the LORD hath given me knowledge of it, and I know it, then thou shewest me their doings.

19 But I was like a lamb or an ox that is brought to the slaughter, and I knew not that they had devised devices against me, saying, Let us destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name may be no more remembered.

20 But, O LORD of hosts, that judgest righteously, that triest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I revealed my cause.

21 Therefore thus saith the LORD of the men of Anathoth, that seek thy life, saying, Prophesie not in the name of the LORD, that thou die not by our hand:

22 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will punish them: the young men shall die by the sword, their sons and their daughters shall die by famine.

23 And there shall be no remnant of them, for I will bring evil upon the men of Anathoth, even the year of their visitation.

RIGHTeous art thou, O LORD, when I plead with thee: yet let me talk with thee of thy judgements: ¶ Therefore doth the way of the wicked prosper: wherefore are all they happy that deal very treacherously?

9 ¶ Mine heritage is unto me as a ¶ speckled bird, the birds roome about are against her; come ye, assemble all the beasts of the field, ll come to devour.

10 Many pastours have destroyed my vineyard, they have troden my position under foot, they have made my † pleasant position a desolate wilderness.

11 They have made it desolate, and being desolate, it mourneth unto me; the whole land is made desolate, because no man layeth it to heart.

12 The spoilers are come upon all high places thoro' the wilderness: for the word of the L O R D shall devour from the one end of the land even to the other end of the land: no flesh shall have peace.

13 * They have sown wheat, but shall reap thorns: they have put themselves to pain, but shall not profit: and they shall be ashamed of their revenues, because of the fierce anger of the L O R D.

14 ¶ Thus saith the L O R D against all mine evil neighbours, that touch the inheritance which I have caused my people Israel to inherit, Behold, I will † pluck them out of their land, and pluck out the house of Judah from among them.

15 And it shall come to passe after that I have plucked them out, I will return, and have compassion on them, and will bring again every man to his heritage, and every man to his land.

16 And it shall come to passe, if they will diligently learn the wayes of my people, to swear by my name, The L O R D I live: (as they taught my people to swear by Baal) then shall they be built in the midst of my people.

17 But if they will not * obey, I will utterly pluck up, and destroy that nation, saith the L O R D.

CHAP. XIII.

1 In the type of a linen girdle hidden at Euphrates, God prefigureth the destruction of his people. 12 Under the parable of the bottles filled with wine, he foretelleth their drunkennesse in misery. 15 He exhorteth to prevent their future judgements. 22 He sheweth their abominations are the cause thereof.

¶ Thus saith the L O R D unto me, Go, and get thee a linen girdle, and put it upon thy loyns, and put it not in water.

2 So I got a girdle, according to the word of the L O R D, and put it on my loyns.

3 And the word of the L O R D came unto me the second time, saying,

4 Take the girdle that thou hast got, which is upon thy loyns, and arise, go to Euphrates, and hide it there in a hole of the rock.

5 So I went and hid it by Euphrates, as the L O R D commanded me.

6 And it came to passe after many dayes, that the L O R D said unto me, Arise, go to Euphrates, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then I went to Euphrates and digged, and took the girdle from the place where I had hid it; and behold, the girdle was marred, it was profitable for nothing.

8 Then the word of the L O R D came unto me, saying,

9 Thus saith the L O R D, After this manner will I marre the pride of Judah, and the great pride of Jerusalem.

10 This evil people which refuse to hear my words, which walk in the ¶ imagination of their heart, and walk after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, shall even be as this girdle, which is good for nothing.

11 For as the girdle cleaveth to the loyns of a man, so have I caused to cleave unto me the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Judah, saith the L O R D; that they might be unto me for a people, and for a name, and for a praise, and for a glory: but they would not hear.

12 ¶ Therefore thou shalt speak unto them this word, Thus saith the L O R D God of Israel, Every bottle shall be filled with wine: and they shall say unto thee, Do we not certainly know, that every bottle shall be filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the L O R D, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, even the kings that sit upon Davids throne, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem with drunkennesse.

14 And I will dash them † one against another, even the fathers and the sons together, saith the L O R D: I will not pity, nor spare, nor have mercy, † but destroy them.

15 ¶ Hear ye, and give ear, be not proud: for the L O R D hath spoken.

16 Give glory to the L O R D your God before he cause * darkness, and before your feet stumble upon the dark mountains, and while ye look for light, he turn it into the shadow of death, and make it grosse darkness.

17 But if ye will not hear it, my soul shall weep in secret places for your pride, and * mine eye shall weep sore, and run down with tears, because the L O R D S flock is carried away captive.

18 Say unto the king, and to the queen, Humble your selves, sit down: for your ¶ principalities shall come down, even the crown of your glory.

19 The cities of the south shall be shut up, and none shall open them; Judah shall be carried away captive all of it, it shall be wholly carried away captive.

20 Lift up your eyes, and behold them that come from the north: where is the flock that was given thee, thy beautiful flock?

21 ¶ What wilt thou say when he shall † punish thee? (for thou hast taught them to be captives, and as chief over thee) shall not sorrows take thee as a woman in travail?

2 Judah mourneth, and the gates thereof languish, they are black unto the ground, and the cry of Jerusalem is gone up.

3 And their nobles have sent their little ones to the waters, they came to the pits, and found no water, they returned with their vessels empty, they were ashamed and confounded, and covered their heads.

4 Because the ground is chapt, for there was no rain in the earth, the plow-men were ashamed, they covered their heads.

5 Pea, the hind also calved in the field, and forsook it, because there was no grass.

6 And the wilde asses did stand in the high places, they snuffed up the winde like dragons: their eyes did fail because there was no grass.

7 O LORD, though our iniquities testify against us, do thou it for thy Names sake: for our backslidings are many, we have sinned against thee.

8 O the hope of Israel, the saviour thereof in time of trouble, why shouldest thou be as a stranger in the land, and as a wayfaring man, that turneth aside to tarry for a night?

9 Why shouldest thou be as a man astonished, as a mighty man that cannot save? yet thou, O LORD, art in the midst of us, and † we are called by thy Name, leave us not.

12 * When they shall say I will not hear their cry, and when they offer burnt-offering and oblation, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence.

13 Then said I, Ah Lord GOD, behold, the prophets say unto them, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall ye have famine, but I will give you † assured peace in this place.

14 Then the LORD said unto me, The prophets prophesie lies in my Name, * I sent them not, neither have I commanded them, neither spoke unto them: they prophesied unto you a false vision and divination, and a thing of nought, and the deceit of their heart.

17 Therefore thou shalt say this word unto them, * Let mine eyes run down with tears night and day, and let them not cease: for the virgin daughter of my people is broken with a great breach, with a very grievous blow.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The prophet under the types of abstaining from marriage, from houses of mourning and feasting, foresheweth the utter ruine of the Jews; 10 because they were worse then their fathers. 14 Their return from captivity shall be stranger then their deliverance out of Egypt. 16 God will doubly recompen'e their idolatry.

The word of the LORD came also unto me, saying,

2 Thou shalt not take thee a wife, neither shalt thou have sons nor daughters in this place.

3 For thus saith the LORD concerning the sons, and concerning the daughters that are born in this place, and concerning their mothers that bare them, and concerning their fathers that begat them in this land,

4 They shall die of * grievous deaths, they shall not * be lamented, neither shall they be buried: but they shall be as dung upon the face of the earth, and they shall be continued by the sword, and by famine, and their * carcases shall be meat for the fowls of heaven, and for the beasts of the earth.

5 For thus saith the LORD, Enter not into the house of * mourning, neither go to lament, nor bemoane them: for I have taken away my peace from this people, saith the LORD, even loving kindnesse and mercies.

6 Both the great and the small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, nor * cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them.

7 Neither shall men * tear themselves for them in mourning to comfort them for the dead, neither shall men give them the cup of consolation to drink for their father or for their mother.

8 Thou shalt not also go into the house of feasting, to sit with them to eat and to drink.

9 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, * I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, and in your dayes, the hope of misch, and the voyce of gladnesse, the voyce of the bridegroom, and the voyce of the bride.

10 And it shall come to passe when thou shalt shew this people all these words, and they shall say unto thee, * Wherefore hath the LORD pronounced all this great evil against us? or what is our iniquitie? or what is our blame that we have committed against the LORD our God?

11 Then shalt thou say unto them, Because your fathers have forsaken me, saith the LORD, and have walked after other gods, and have strud them, and have worshipped them, and have forsaken me, and have not kept my law:

12 And ye have done * worse then your fathers, (for behold, ye walk every one after the * imagination of his evil heart, that they may not hearken unto me)

13 * Therefore will I cast you out of this land into a land that ye know not, neither ye nor your fathers, and there shall ye leave other gods day and night, where I will not shew you favour.

14 Therefore behold, the * dayes come, saith the LORD, that it shall no more be said, The LORD liveth that brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt;

15 But the LORD liveth that brought up the children of Israel from the land of the north, and from all the lands whither he had driven them, and I will bring them again into their land that I gave unto their fathers.

16 And behold, I will send for many fishers, saith the LORD, and they shall fish them; and after will I send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the holes of the rocks.

17 For mine * eyes are upon all their wayes: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquity hid from mine eyes.

18 And first I will recompense their iniquity, and their sinne double; because they have defiled my land, they have filled mine inheritance with the carcases of their detestable and abominable things.

19 O LORD, my strength and my fortress, and my refuge in the day of affliction, the Gentiles shall come unto thee from the ends of the earth, and shall say, Surely our fathers have inherited lies, vanity, and things wherein there is no profit.

1 The captivity of Judah for her sinne. 5 Trust in man is cursed, 7 in God is blessed. 9 The deceitfull heart cannot deceive God. 12 The salvation of God. 15 The prophet complaineth of the mockers of his prophesie, 19 He is sent to renew the covenant in hallowing the sabbath.

The sinne of Judah is written with a * pen of iron, and with the † point of a diamond; it is graven upon the table of their heart, and upon the horns of your altars:

2 Whilist they childeen remember their altars and their * grobes by the green trees upon the high hills.

3 O my mountain in the field, * I will give thy substance, and all thy treasures to the spoils, and thy high places for sinne, throughout all thy borders.

4 And thou, even † thy self shalt discontinue from thine heritage that I gave thee, and I will cause thee to serve thine enemies in the land which thou knowest not; for ye have kindled a fire in mine anger, which shall burn for ever.

5 Thus saith the LORD, Curled be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the LORD.

6 For he shall be like the heach in the desert, and shall not see when good cometh, but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, in a salt land and not inhabited.

7 * Blessed is the man that trusteth in the LORD, and whose hope the LORD is.

8 For he shall be * as a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not see when heat cometh, but her leaf shall be green, and shall not be carefull in the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit.

9 The heart is deceitfull above all things, and desperately wicked, who can know it?

10 I the LORD * search the heart, I trie the reins, even to give every man according to his wayes, and according to the fruit of his doings, 11 As the partridge sitteth on eggs and hatcheth them not; so be that getteth riches and not by right, shall leave them in the midst of his dayes, and at his end shall be a fool.

12 A glorious high throne from the beginning, is the place of our sanctuary.

13 O LORD, the hope of Israel, * all that depart forsake thee shall be ashamed, and they that depart from me shall be written in the earth, because they have forsaken the LORD, the * fountain of living waters.

14 Heal me, O LORD, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise.

15 Behold, they say unto me, * Where is the word of the LORD, let it come now.

16 As for me, * I have not hastened from being a pastor: † to follow thee, neither have I desired the wofull day, thou knowest: that which came out of my lips, was right before thee.

17 Be not a terror unto me, thou art my hope in the day of evil.

18 * Let them be confounded that persecute me, but let not me be confounded: let them be dismayed, but let not me be dismayed: being upon them the day of evil, and † destroy them with double destruction.

19 O Thus said the LORD unto me, Go and stand in the gate of the childeen of the people, whereby the kings of Judah come in, and by the which they go out, and in all the gates of Jerusalem, 20 And say unto them, Hear ye the word of the LORD, ye kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, that enter in by these gates.

21 Thus saith the LORD, * Take heed to your selves, and bear no burden on the sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Jerusalem.

22 Neither carry forth a burden out of your houses on the sabbath-day, neither do ye any work, but hallow ye the sabbath-day, as I * commanded your fathers.

23 But they obeyed not, neither inclined their ear, but made their neck stiffe, that they might not hear, nor receive instruction.

24 And it shall come to passe, if ye diligently hearken unto me, saith the LORD, to bring in no burden through the gates of this cite on the sabbath-day, but hallow the sabbath-day, to do no work therein:

25 * Then shall there enter into the gates of this city, kings and princes sitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots, and on horses, they and their princes, the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and this city shall remain for ever.

26 And they shall come from the cities of Judah, and from the places about Jerusalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the plain, and from the mountains, and from the south, bringing burnt-offerings, and sacrifices, and meat-offerings, and incense, and bringing sacrifices of praise unto the house of the LORD.

27 But if ye will not hearken unto me to hallow the sabbath-day, and not to bear a burden, even entering in at the gates of Jerusalem on the sabbath-day: then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

2 Arise and go down to the potters house, and there I will cause thee to hear my words.

12 And they say, * There is no hope, but we will walk after our own devices, and we will every one do the imagination of his evil heart.

13 Therefore thus saith the LORD, * Ask ye now among the heathen, who hath heard such things, the virgin of Israel hath done a very horrible thing.

14 ¶ Till a man leave * the snow of Lebanon which cometh from the rock of the field? or shall the cold flowing waters that come from another place, be forsaken?

15 Because my people hath forgotten * me; they have burnt incense to vanity, and they have caused them to stumble in their ways from the * ancient paths, to walk in paths, in a way not cast up.

16 To make their land * desolate, and a perpetual biding: every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished, and wag his head.

17 I will scatter them as with an east-winde before the enemy: I will shew them the back and not the face in the day of their calamity.

18 ¶ Then said they, Come, and let us devise devices against Jeremiah: * for the law shall not perish from the priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet: come and let us smite him * with the tongue, and let us not give heed to any of his words.

19 Give heed to me, O LORD, and hearken to the voice of them that contend with me.

20 Shall evil be recompensed for good? for they have digged a pit for my soul: remember that I stood before thee to speak good for them, and to turn away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore * deliver up their children to the famine, and † pour out their blood by the force of the sword, and let their wives be bereaved of their children, and be widows, and let their men be put to death, let their young men be slain by the sword in battell.

22 Let a cry be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring a troop suddenly upon them: for they have digged a pit to take me, and hid snares for my feet.

23 ¶ Yet LORD, thou knowest all their counsel against me † to slay me: forgive not their iniquity, neither blot out their sinne from thy sight, but let them be overthrowen before thee; deal thus with them in the time of thine anger.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Under the type of breaking a potters vessell, is fore-shewed the desolation of the Jews for their sinnes.

Thus saith the LORD, Go and get a potters earthen bottle, and take of the ancients of the people, and of the ancients of the priests,

2 And go forth unto the valley of the sonne of Hinnom, which is by the entry of † the east-gate, and proclaim there the words that I shall tell thee:

3 And say, Hear ye the word of the LORD, O kings of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, the which whosoever heareth, his ears shall * tingle.

4 Because they have forsaken me, and have estranged this place, and have burnt incense in it unto other gods, whom neither they nor their fathers have known, nor the kings of Judah, and have filled this place with the blood of innocents.

5 They have built also the high places of Baal, to burn their sonnes with fire for burnt-offerings unto Baal, * which I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my minde.

6 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the LORD, that this place shall no more be called Tophet, nor the valley of the sonne of Hinnom, but the valley of slaughter.

7 And I will make void the counsel of Judah and Jerusalem in this place, and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hands of them that seek their lives: and their * carcases will I give to be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth.

8 And I will make this city * desolate, and an biding: every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished and hisse, because of all the plagues thereof.

9 And I will cause them to eat the * flesh of their sonnes, and the flesh of their daughters, and they shall eat every one the flesh of his friend in the siege and straitnesse, wherewith their enemies, and they that seek their lives, shall straiten them.

10 Then shalt thou break the bottle in the sight of the men that go with thee, 11 And shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Even so will I break this people and this city, as one breaketh a potters vessell that cannot † be made whole again, and they shall * bury them in Tophet, till there be no place else to bury.

12 Thus will I do unto this place, saith the LORD, and to the inhabitants thereof, and even make this city as Tophet.

13 And the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses of the kings of Judah shall be defiled as the place of Tophet, because of all the houses upon whose * roofs they have burnt incense unto all the host of heaven, and have poured out drink-offerings unto other gods.

14 Then came Jeremiah from Tophet, whether the LORD had sent him to prophesie, and had stood in the court of the LORD S house, and said to all the people.

15 Thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring upon this city and upon all her towns all the evil that I have pronounced against it; because they have hardened their necks, that they might not hear my words.

CHAP. XX.

1 Pashur smiting Jeremiah's, receiveth a new name, and a fearful doom. 7 Jeremiah complaineth of contempt, 10 of treacherie, 14 and of his birth.

Now Balthur the son of * Immer the priest, who was also chief governour in the house of the LORD, heard that Jeremiah prophesied these things.

2 Then Balthur smote Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the high gate of Benjamin, which was by the house of the LORD.

3 And it came to passe on the morrow, that Balthur brought forth Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then said Jeremiah unto him, The LORD hath not called by name Balthur, but Nagog: mistakib.

4 For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will make thee a rerour to thy self, and to all thy friends, and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall behold it: and I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall carry them captive into Babylon, and shall slay them with the sword.

 6 And thou Dabne, and all that dwell in thine house, shall go into captivity, and thou shalt come to Babylon, and there thou shalt die, and shalt be buried there, thou and all thy friends, to whom thou hast prophesied lies.
 7 I O L O R D, thou hast deceived me, and I was deceived: thou art stronger than I, and hast prevailed: I am in derision daily, every one mocketh me.
 8 For since I spake, I cried out, I cried violence and spoil; because the word of the L O R D was made a reproach unto me, and a derision daily.
 9 Then I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his Name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and * I could not stay.
 10 For I heard the defaming of many, fear on every side: Report, say they, and we will report it: † all my familiars watched for my halting, saying, peradventure he will be enticed, and we shall prevail against him, and we shall take our revenge on him.
 11 But the L O R D is with me as a mighty terrible one: therefore my persecutors shall stumble, and they shall not * prevail, they shall be greatly ashamed; for they shall not prosper, their * everlasting confusion shall never be forgotten.
 12 But, O L O R D of hosts that * triest the righteous, and seest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I opened my cause.

 17 Because he slew me not from the womb: or that my mother might have been my grave, and her womb to be alwayes great with me.
 18 * Wherefore came I forth out of the womb to see labour and sorrow, that my dayes should be consumed with shame?

CHAP. XXI.

1 Zedekiah sendeth to Jeremiah to enquire the event of Nebuchadrezzars war. 3 Jeremiah foretelleth a hard siege and miserable captivity. 8 He counselleth the people to fall to the Caldeans, 11 and unbraided the kings house.
The word which came unto Jeremiah from the L O R D, when king Zedekiah sent unto him Dabur the son of Belshibab, and Sephaniah the sonne of Masbiah, of the priest, saying,
 2 Enquire, I pray thee, of the L O R D for us, (for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon maketh war against us) if so be that the L O R D will deal with us according to all his wondrous works, that he may go up from us.

7 When also Beremah unto them, Thus shall ye say to Zedekiah,
 4 Thus saith the L O R D God of Israel, Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war, that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Babylon, and against the Caldeans, which besiege you without the walls, and I will assemble them into the midst of this cite.
 5 And I myself will fight against you with an * outstretched hand, and with a strong arm, even in anger, and in fury, and in great wrath.
 6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this cite, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence.
 7 And afterwards, saith the L O R D, I will deliver Zedekiah king of Judah, and his servants, and the people, and such as are left in this cite from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seek their life, and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword: he shall not spare them, neither have pittie, nor have mercy.
 8 And unto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the L O R D, Behold, I set before you the way of life, and the way of death.
 9 He that * abideth in this cite, shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out and selleth to the Caldeans that besiege you, he shall live, and * his life shall be unto him for a prey.
 10 For I have set my face against this cite for evil, and not for good, saith the L O R D; it shall be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.
 11 And touching the house of the king of Judah, say, Hear ye the word of the L O R D.
 12 O house of David, thus saith the L O R D, * † Execute judgement in the morning, and deliver him that is spoiled out of the hand of the oppressour, lest my fury go out like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings.
 15 Behold, I am against thee, O † inhabitant of the valley, and rock of the plain, saith the L O R D; which say, Who shall come down against us? or who shall enter into our habitations?
 14 But I will † punish you according to the * fruit of your doings, saith the L O R D: and I will kindle a fire in the forest thereof, and it shall devour all things round about it.

CHAP. XXII.

1 He exhorteth to repentance with promises and threats. 10 The judgement of Shallum, 13 of Jehoiakim, 20 and of Coniah.
Thus saith the L O R D, Go down to the house of the king of Judah, and speak there this word,
 2 And say, Hear the word of the L O R D, O king of Judah, that sittest upon the throne of David, thou, and the servants, and thy people that enter in by these gates:
 3 Thus saith the L O R D, * Execute ye judgement and righteousness, and deliver the spoiled out of the hand of the oppressour: and do no wrong, do no violence to the stranger, the fatherless, nor the widow, neither shed innocent blood in this place.

riots, and on horses, he, and his servants, and his people.

5 But if ye will not hear these words, I swear by my self, saith the LORD, that this house shall become a desolation.

6 For thus saith the LORD unto the kings house of Judah, Thou art like a head unto me, and the head of Lebanon: yet surely I will make thee a wilderness, and cities which are not inhabited.

7 And I will prepare destroyers against thee, every one with his weapons, and they shall cut down thy choice cedars, and cast them into the fire.

8 And many nations shall passe by this city, and they shall say every man to his neighbour, * Wherefore hath the LORD done thus unto this great city?

9 Then they shall answer, Because they have forsaken the covenant of the LORD their God, and worshipped other gods, and served them.

10 Weep ye not for the dead, neither bemoan him, but weep sore for him that goeth away: for he shall return no more, nor see his native country.

11 For thus saith the LORD touching Shallum the son of Josiah king of Judah, which reigned in stead of Josiah his father, which went forth out of this place, he shall not return thither any more.

12 But he shall die in the place whither they have led him captive, and shall see this land no more.

13 I will do unto him * that buildeth his house by unrighteousness, and his chambers by wrong: that useth his neighbours service without wages, and giveth him not for his work:

14 That saith, I will build me a wide house, and I large chambers, and cutteth him out || windows, and it is celen with cedar, and painted with vermilion.

15 Shalt thou reign because thou closest thy self in cedar? did not thy father eat and drink, and do judgement and justice, and then it was well with him?

16 He judged the cause of the poor and needy, then it was well with him: was not this to know me, saith the LORD?

17 But thine eyes and thine heart are not but for thy covetousness, and for to spy innocent blood, and for oppression, and for || violence to do it.

18 Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, They shall not lament for him, saying, Ah my brother, or ah sister: it shall not lament for him, saying, Ah Lord, or ah his glory.

19 He shall be buried with the buriall of an ass, drawn and cast forth beyond the gates of Jerusalem.

20 Go up to Lebanon, and cry, and lift up thy voice in Bashan, and cry from the passages: for all thy lovers are destroyed.

21 I spake unto thee in thy prosperity, but thou saidst, I will not hear: this hath been thy manner from thy youth, that thou obeyedst not my voice.

22 The winde shall eat up all thy pastours, and thy lovers shall go into captivity, surely then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded for all thy wickedness.

23 O inhabitant of Lebanon, that makest thy nest in the cedars, how gracious shalt thou be when pangs come upon thee, the pain as of a woman in travell?

24 As I live, saith the LORD, though Coniah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah were the signet upon my right hand, yet would I pluck thee thence.

25 And I will give thee into the hand of them that seek thy life, and into the hand of them whose face thou fearest, even into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of the Caldreans.

26 And I will cast thee out, and thy mother that bare thee, into another country, where ye were not born, and there shall ye die.

27 But to the land whereunto they desire to return, thither shall they not return.

28 Is this man Coniah a despised broken idol? is he a vessel wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they cast out, he and his seed, and are cast into a land which they know not?

29 O earth, earth, earth, hear the word of the LORD.

30 Thus saith the LORD, Write ye this man childlesse, a man that shall not prosper in his dayes: for no man of his seed shall prosper, sitting upon the throne of David, and ruling any more in Judah.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 He propheseth a restauration of the scattered flock. 5 Christ shall rule and save them. 9 Against false prophets, 33 and mockers of the true prophets.

W D be unto the pastours that destroy and scatter the sheep of my pasture, saith the LORD.

2 Therefore thus saith the LORD God of Israel against the pastours that feed my people, Ye have scattered my flock, and driven them away, and have not visited them: behold, I will visit upon you the evil of your doings, saith the LORD.

3 And I will gather the remnant of my flock, out of all countreys whither I have driven them, and will bring them again to their folds, and they shall be fruitful and increase.

4 And I will set up * shepherds over them which shall feed them, and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall they be lacking, saith the LORD.

5 Behold, the dayes come, saith the LORD, that I will raise unto David a righteous branch, and a king shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgement and justice in the earth.

6 In his dayes Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely: and this is his name whereby he shall be called, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS.

7 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the LORD, that they shall no more say, The LORD lieth, which brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt:

8 But the LORD lieth, which brought up, and which led the seed of the house of Israel out of the north countrey, and from all countreys whither I had driven them, and they shall dwell in their own land.

9 Mine heart within me is broken because of the prophets, all my bones shake: I am like a drunken man, and like a man whom wine hath overcome; because of the LORD, and because of the words of his holiness.

10 For the land is full of adulterers, for because of || swearing the land mourneth: the pleasant places of the wilderness are dried up, and their || course is evil, and their force is not right.

11 For both prophet and priest are profane, for in my house have I found their wickedness, saith the LORD.

12 Therefore their way shall be unto them as slippery ways in the darkness: they shall be driven on and fall therein: for I will bring evil upon them, even the year of their visitation, saith the LORD.

13 And I have seen || folly in the prophets of Samaria; they prophesied in Baal, and caused my people Israel to erre.

14 I have seen also in the prophets of Jerusalem || an horrible thing: they commit adultery, and walk in lies: they strengthen also the hands of evil doers, that none doth return from his wickedness: they are all of them unto me as * Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorrah.

15 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, concerning the prophets, Behold, I will feed them with * wormwood, and make them drink the water of gall: for from the prophets of Jerusalem is || profaneness gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Hearken not unto the words of the prophets that prophesse unto you, they make you vain: they speak a vision of their own heart, and not out of the mouth of the LORD.

17 They say still unto them that despise me, The LORD hath said, * Ve shall have peace: and they say unto every one that walketh after the || imagination of his own heart, No evil shall come upon you.

18 For who hath stood in the || counsell of the LORD, and hath perceived and heard his word? who hath marked his word, and heard it?

19 Behold, * a whirlwinde of the LORD is gone forth in fury, even a grievous whirlwinde, it shall fall grievously upon the head of the wicked.

20 The * anger of the LORD shall not return, until he have executed, and will he have performed the counsels of his heart: in the latter dayes ye shall consider it perfectly.

21 * I have not sent these prophets, yet they ran: I have not spoken unto them, yet they prophesied.

22 But if they had stood in my counsell, and had caused my people to hear my words, then they should have turned them from their evil way, and from the evil of their doings.

23 Am I a God at hand, saith the LORD, and not a God afar off?

24 Can any || hide himself in secret places that I shall not see him, saith the LORD: do not I fill heaven and earth, saith the LORD?

25 I have heard what the prophets said, that prophesse lies in my Name, saying, I have dreamed, I have dreamed.

26 How long shall this be in the heart of the prophets that prophesse lies? yea they are prophets of the deceit of their own heart:

27 Which think to cause my people to forget my Name by their dreams, which they tell every man to his neighbour, as * their fathers have forgotten my Name, for Baal.

28 The prophet † that hath a dream, let him tell a dream; and he that hath my word, let him speak my word faithfully: what is the chaffe to the wheat, saith the LORD?

29 Is not my word like as a fire, saith the LORD: and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces?

30 Therefore behold, * I am against the prophets, saith the LORD, that steal my word every one from his neighbour.

31 Behold, I am against the prophets, saith the LORD, || that use their tongues, and say, We saith.

32 Behold, I am against them that prophesse false dreams, saith the LORD, and do tell them, and cause my people to erre by their lies and by their lightnesse, yet I sent them not, nor commanded them: therefore they shall not profit this people at all, saith the LORD.

33 † And when this people, or the prophet, or a priest shall ask thee, saying, What is the burden of the LORD? thou shalt then say unto them, What burden? I will even forsake you, saith the LORD.

34 And as for the prophet, and the priest, and the people that shall say, The burden of the LORD, I will even † punish that man and his house, 35 Thus shall ye say every one to his neighbour, and every one to his brother, What hath the LORD answered? and what hath the LORD spoken?

36 And the burden of the LORD shall ye mention no more: for every mans word shall be his burden: for ye have perverted the words of the living God, of the LORD of hosts our God.

37 Thus shalt thou say to the prophet, What hath the LORD answered thee? and what hath the LORD spoken?

38 But litch ye say, The burden of the LORD; therefore thus saith the LORD, Because you say this word, The burden of the LORD, and I have sent unto you, saying, Ve shall not say, The burden of the LORD.

39 Therefore behold, I, even I will utterly forget you, and I will forsake you, and the city that I gave you and your fathers, and cast you out of my presence.

40 And I will bring * an everlasting reproach upon you, and a perpetual shame, which shall not be forgotten.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Under the type of good and bad figs, 4 he foreshe-eth the restauration of them that were in captivity, 8 and the desolation of Zedekiah and the rest.

The LORD shewed me, and behold, two baskets of figs were set before the temple of the LORD, after that Nebuchadrezzar † king of Babylon had carried away captive Zedekiah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah, and the princes of Judah with the carpenters and smiths from Jerusalem, and had brought them to Babylon.

2 One basket had very good figs, even like the figs that are first ripe: and the other basket had very naughty figs, which could not be eaten † they were to ban.

3 Then said the LORD unto me, What seeest thou, Jeremiah? and I said, I figs: the good figs, very good; and the evil, very evil, that cannot be eaten, they are to evil.

4 † Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

5 Thus saith the LORD the God of Israel, Like these good figs, so will I acknowledge † them that are carried away captive of Judah, whom I have sent out of this place into the land of the Caldeans for their good.

6 For I will set mine eyes upon them for good, and I will bring them again to this land, and I will plant them, and not pull them down; and I will plant them, and not pluck them up.

7 And I will give them * an heart to know me, that I am the LORD, and they shall be * my people, and I will be their God: for they shall return unto me with their whole heart.

8 † And as the * evil figs, which cannot be eaten, they are to evil: (surely thus saith the LORD) so will I give Zedekiah the king of Judah,

10 And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence among them, till they be consumed from off the land, that I gave unto them and to their fathers.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Jeremiah reproving the Jews disobedience to the Prophets, 8 foretelleth the seventy years captivity, and after that the destruction of Babylon. 15 Under the type of a cup of wine, he foresheweth the destruction of all nations. 34 The howling of the shepherds.

The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the sonne of Josiah king of Judah, that was the first year of Nebuchad-rezzar king of Babylon:

2 The which Jeremiah the Prophet spake unto all the people of Judah, and to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying,

3 From the thirteenth year of Josiah the sonne of Amon king of Judah, even unto this day (that is the three and twentieth year) the word of the LORD hath come unto me, and I have spoken unto you, rising early and speaking, but ye have not hearkned.

4 And the LORD hath sent unto you all his servants the Prophets, rising early, and sending them, but ye have not hearkned, nor inclined your ear to hear.

5 They said, Turn ye again now every one from his evil way, and from the evil of your doings, and dwell in the land, that the LORD hath given unto you and to your fathers, for ever and ever:

6 And ye do not after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, and provoke me not to anger with the works of your hands, and I will do you no hurt.

7 Yet ye have not hearkned unto me, saith the LORD, that ye might provoke me to anger with the works of your hands, to your own hurt.

8 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Because ye have not heard my words, 9 Behold, I will send and take all the families of the North, saith the LORD, and Nebuchad-rezzar the king of Babylon my servant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations round about, and will utterly destroy them, and make them an astonishment, and an hissing, and perpetual desolations.

10 Moreover, I will take from them the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladnesse, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride, the sound of the mill-stones, and the light of the candle.

11 And this whole land shall be a desolation, and an astonishment; and these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years.

12 And it shall come to passe when seventy years are accomplished, that I will punish the king of Babylon, and that nation, saith the LORD, for their iniquity, and the land of the Caldeans, and will make it perpetual desolations.

13 And I will bring upon that land all my words which I have pronounced against it, even all that is written in this book, which Jeremiah hath prophesied against all the nations.

14 For many nations and great kings shall serve themselves of them also: and I will recompense them according to their deeds, and according to the works of their own hands.

15 I For thus saith the LORD God of Israel unto me, Take the wine-cup of this fury at my hand, and cause all the nations, to whom I send thee, to drink it.

16 And they shall drink, and be mowed, and be mad, because of the sword that I will send among them.

17 Then took I the cup at the LORDS hand, and made all the nations to drink, unto whom the LORD had sent me:

18 To wit, Jerusalem, and the cities of Judah, and the kings thereof, and the princes thereof to make them a desolation, an astonishment, an hissing, and a curse, (as it is this day)

19 Pharaoh king of Egypt, and his servants, and his princes, and all his people,

20 And all the mingled people, and all the kings of the land of Uz, and all the kings of the land of the Philistines, and Akelen, and Azah, and Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod,

21 Edom, and Moab, and the children of Ammon,

22 And all the kings of Tyrus, and all the kings of Sidon, and the kings of the Isles which are beyond the sea,

23 Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all that are in the utmost corners,

24 And all the kings of Arabia, and all the kings of the mingled people that dwell in the desert,

25 And all the kings of Timel, and all the kings of Elam, and all the kings of the Medes, 26 And all the kings of the north, saere and near, one with another, and all the kingdoms of the world, which are upon the face of the earth, and the king of Sheba shall drink after them.

27 Therefore thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Drink ye and be drunken, and saye and fall, and rise no more: because of the sword which I will send among you.

28 And it shall be, if they refuse to take the cup at thine hand to drink, then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Ye shall certainly drink.

29 For lo, I begin to bring evil on the cite, which is called by my name, and should ye be utterly unpunished? ye shall not be unpunished: for I will call for a sword upon all the inhabitants of the earth, saith the LORD of hosts.

30 Therefore prophesie thou against them all these words, and say unto them, The LORD shall roar from on high, and utter his voyce from his holy habitation, he shall mightily roar upon his habitation, he shall give a shout, as they that tread the grapes, against all the inhabitants of the earth.

31 A noise shall come even to the ends of the earth: for the LORD hath a controversy with the nations; he will plead with all flesh, he will give them that are wicked to the sword, saith the LORD.

32 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, evil shall go forth from nation to nation, and a great whirlwinde shall be raised up from the coasts of the earth.

33 And the flain of the LORD shall be at that day from one end of the earth even unto the other end of the earth: they shall not be lamented,

CHAP. XXVI.

Jeremiah by promises and threatenings, exhorteth to repentance. 8 He is therefore apprehended, 10 and arraigned. 11 His apologie. 16 He is quit in judgement, by the example of Micah, 20 and of Urijah, 24 and by the care of Ahikam.

In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the sonne of Josiah king of Judah, came this word from the LORD, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD, Stand in the court of the LORDS house, and speak unto all the cities of Judah, which come to worship in the LORDS house, all the words that I command thee to speak unto them : * dimittish not a word :

3 If to be they will hearken, and turn every man from his evill way, that I may * repent me of the evill which I purpose to do unto them, because of the evill of their doings.

4 And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD, If ye will not hearken to me, to walk in my Law which I have set before you,

5 To hearken to the words of my servants the Prophets whom I sent unto you, both rising up early, and sending them, (but ye have not hearkened)

6 Then will I make this house like * Shiloh, and will make this citie a curse to all the nations of the earth.

7 So the priests and the prophets, and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the house of the LORD.

8 ¶ Now it came to passe when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking all that the LORD had commanded him to speak unto all the people, that the priests, and the prophets, and all the people took him, saying, Thou shalt surely die.

9 Why hast thou prophesied in the Name of the LORD, saying, This house shall be like Shiloh, and this citie shall be desolate without an inhabitant : and all the people were gathered against Jeremiah, in the house of the LORD.

10 ¶ When the princes of Judah heard these things, then they came up from the kings house unto the house of the LORD, and sat down in the entry of the new gate of the LORDS house.

11 Then spake the priests and the prophets unto the princes, and to all the people, saying, † This man is worthy to die, for he hath prophesied against this citie, as ye have heard with your ears.

12 ¶ Then spake Jeremiah unto all the princes, and to all the people, saying, The LORD sent me to prophete against this house, and against this citie all the words that ye have heard.

13 Therefore now * amend your wayes and your doings, and obey the voice of the LORD your God, and the LORD will * repent him of the evill that he hath pronounced against you.

14 As for me, behold, I am in your hand : do with me † as seemeth good and meet unto you.

15 But know ye for certain, that if ye put me to death, ye shall surely bring innocent blood upon your selves, and upon this citie, and upon the inhabitants thereof : for of a truth the LORD hath sent me unto you, to speak all these words in your ears.

16 ¶ Then said the princes, and all the people unto the priests, and to the prophets, This man is not worthy to die : for he hath spoken to us in the Name of the LORD our God.

17 Then rose up certain of the Elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying,

18 * Micah the Dozabhibite prophesied in the Dayes of Hezekiah king of Judah, and spake to all the people of Judah saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, * Zion shall be plowed like a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of the forest.

19 Did Hezekiah king of Judah and all Judah put him at all to death? did he not fear the LORD, and besought † the LORD, and the LORD repented him of the evill which he had pronounced against them? thus might we procure great evill against our souls.

20 And there was also a man that prophesied in the Name of the LORD, Urijah the sonne of Shemaiah of Kirjath-earim, who prophesied against this citie, and against this land, according to all the words of Jeremiah.

21 And when Jehoiakim the king with all his mighty men, and all the princes heard his words, the king sought to put him to death; but when Urijah heard it, he was afraid, and fled, and went into Egypt.

22 And Jehoiakim the king sent men into Egypt, namely Elnathan the son of Achbor, and certain men with him into Egypt.

23 And they set forth Urijah out of Egypt, and brought him unto Jehoiakim the king, who slew him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the graves of the common † people

24 Hebertheleste, the hand of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, was with Jeremiah, that they should not give him into the hand of the people, to put him to death.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Under the type of bonds and yokes, he prophesieth the subduing of the neighbour kings unto Nebuchadnezzar. 8 He exhorteth them to yeeld, and not to beleve the false prophets. 12 The like he doth to Zedekiah. 19 He foretelleth the remnant of the vessels shall be caried to Babylon, and there continue untill the day of visitation.

In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim, the sonne of Josiah king of Judah, came this word unto Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD to me, Make thee bonds and yokes, and put them upon thy neck,

3 And send them to the king of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the Ammonites, and to the king of Cyprus, and to the king of Sidon, by the hand of the messengers which come to Jerusalem unto Zedekiah king of Judah.

6 And now have I given all these lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon * my servant, and the beasts of the field have I given him also to serve him.

7 And all nations shall serve him and his sonne, and his sonnes sonne, untill the very time of his land come, and then many nations and great kings shall serve them selves of him.

8 And it shall come to passe, that the nation and kingdom which will not serve the same Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, and that will not put their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, that nation will I punish, saith the LORD, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, untill I have consumed them by his hand.

9 Therefore hearken not ye to your prophets, nor to your diviners, nor to your dreamers, nor to your enchanters, nor to your soothsayers, which speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Babylon :

10 For they prophesse a lie unto you, to remove you far from your land, and that I should drive you out, and ye should perish.

11 But the nations that bring their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him, those will I let remain still in their own land, saith the LORD, and they shall till it, and dwell therein.

12 ¶ I spak also to Zedekiah king of Judah according to all these words, saying, Bring your necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him and his people, and live.

13 Why will ye die, thou and thy people, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the LORD hath spoken against the nation that will not serve the king of Babylon ?

14 Therefore hearken not unto the words of the prophets that speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Babylon : for they prophesse a lie unto you.

15 For I have not sent them, saith the LORD, yet they prophesse a lie in my name, that I might drive you out, and that ye might perish, ye, and the prophets that prophesse unto you.

16 Also I spake to the priests, and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the LORD, hearken not to the words of your prophets, that prophesse unto you, saying, Behold, the vessels of the LORDS house shall now shortly be brought again from Babylon ; for they prophesse a lie unto you.

17 Hearken not unto them, serve the king of Babylon and live : wherefore should this citie be laid waste ?

18 But if they be prophets, and if the word of the LORD be with them, let them now make intercession to the LORD of hosts, that the vessels which are left in the house of the LORD and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem, go not to Babylon.

19 ¶ For thus saith the LORD of hosts concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remain in this citie,

20 Which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took not, when he carried away * captive Jeconiah the sonne of Jehoiakim king of Judah, from Jerusalem to Babylon, and all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem :

21 Thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that remain in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Judah and of Jerusalem, 22 They shall be * carried to Babylon, and there shall they be untill the day that I * visit them, saith the LORD : then will I bring them up, and restore them to this place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 Hananiah prophesied falsely the return of the vessels and of Jeconiah. 5 Jeremiah wishing it to be true, sheweth that the event will declare who are true prophets. 10 Hananiah breaketh Jeremiahs yoke. 12 Jeremiah telleth of an iron yoke, 15 and foretelleth Hananiahs death.

AND it came to passe the same year, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fourth year, and in the sixth moneth, that Hananiah the son of Azur the prophet, which was of Sibeon, spake unto me in the house of the LORD, in the presence of the priests, and of all the people, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, saying, I have broken the yoke of the king of Babylon.

3 Within + two full years will I bring again into this place all the vessels of the LORDS house, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took away from this place, and carried them to Babylon.

4 And I will bring again to this place, Jeconiah the sonne of Jehoiakim king of Judah, with all the + captives of Judah that went into Babylon, saith the LORD ; for I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon.

5 ¶ Then the prophet Jeremiah said unto the prophet Hananiah in the presence of the priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the house of the LORD,

6 Even the prophet Jeremiah said, Amen : the LORD do so, the LORD perform thy words which thou hast prophesied, to bring again the vessels of the LORDS house, and all that is carried away captive from Babylon into this place.

7 Nevertheless, hear thou now this word that I speak in thine ears, and in the ears of all the people,

8 The prophets that have been before me, and before thee of old, prophesied both against many countries, and against great kingdoms, of warre, and of evil, and of pestilence.

9 The prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the word of the prophet shall come to passe, then shall the prophet be known, that the LORD hath truly sent him.

10 ¶ Then Hananiah the prophet took the * yoke from off the prophet Jeremiahs neck, and brake it.

11 And Hananiah spak in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith the LORD, Even so will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon from the neck of all nations within the space of two full years : and the prophet Jeremiahs went his way.

12 ¶ Then the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah the prophet (after that Hananiah the prophet had broken the yoke from off the neck of the prophet Jeremiahs) saying, 13 So, and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD, Thou hast broken the yokes of wood, but thou shalt make for them yokes of iron.

14 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God

15 ¶ Then said the prophet Jeremiah unto Hananiah the prophet, Hear now, Hananiah, The LORD hath not sent thee, but thou makest this people to trust in a lie.

16 Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will cast thee from off the face of the earth: this year thou shalt die, because thou hast taught * rebellion against the LORD.

17 So Hananiah the prophet died the same year, in the seventh month.

CHAP. XXIX.

I Jeremiah sendeth a letter to the captives in Babylon, to be quiet there, & not to believe the dreams of their prophets, 10 and that they shall return with grace after seventy years. 15 He foretelleth the destruction of the rest for their disobedience. 20 He sheweth the fearful end of Ahab and Zedekiah, two lying prophets. 24 Shemaiah writeth a letter against Jeremiah. 30 Jeremiah readeth his doom.

Now these are the words of the letter that Jeremiah the prophet sent from Jerusalem unto the residue of the elders which were carried away captives, and to the priests, and to the prophets, and to all the people whom Nebuchadrezzar had carried away captive from Jerusalem to Babylon,

2 ¶ After that * Jeconiah the king, and the queen, and the eunuchs, the princes of Judah and Jerusalem, and the carpenters, and the smiths were departed from Jerusalem)

3 By the hand of Eliaah the sonne of Shaphan, and Semariah the sonne of Bilkiah, (whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent unto Babylon to Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon) saying,

4 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel unto all that are carried away captives, whom I have caused to be carried away from Jerusalem unto Babylon.

5 Build ye houses, and dwell in them, and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them.

6 Take ye wives, and beget sones and daughters, and take wives for your sones, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may bear sones and daughters, that ye may be increased there, and not diminished :

7 And seek the peace of the citle, whither I have caused you to be carried away captives, and pray unto the LORD for it: for in the peace thereof shall ye have peace.

8 ¶ For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Let not your prophets and your diviners that be in the midst of you, * deceive you, neither hearken to your dreames which ye cause to be dreamed.

9 For they prophesse † falsely unto you in my name: I have not sent them, saith the LORD.

10 ¶ For thus saith the LORD, That after * seventy years be accomplished at Babylon, I will visite you, and perform my good word towards you, in causing you to return to this place.

11 For I know the thoughts that I think towards you, saith the LORD, thoughts of peace and not of evil, to give you an † expected end.

12 Then shall ye * call upon me, and ye shall go and pray unto me, and I will hearken unto you.

13 And ye shall seek me, and finde me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart.

14 And I will be found of you, saith the LORD, and I will turn away your captivity, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places whither I have driven you saith the LORD, and I will bring you again into the place whence I caused you to be carried away captive.

15 ¶ Because ye have said, The LORD hath raised us up prophets in Babylon :

16 Know that thus saith the LORD, of the king that sitteth upon the throne of David, and of all the people that dwelleth in this cite, and of your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captivity :

17 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will send upon them the * sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like vile * figs that cannot be eaten, they are so evil.

18 And I will persecute them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence, and will deliver them to be removed to all the kingdoms of the earth, † to be a curse, and an astonishment, and an hissing, and a reproach among all the nations whither I have driven them :

19 Because they have not hearkened to my words, saith the LORD, which * I sent unto them, by my servants the prophets, rising up early, and sending them, but ye would not hear, saith the LORD.

20 ¶ Hear ye therefore the word of the LORD, all ye of the captivity, whom I have sent from Jerusalem to Babylon :

21 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, of Ahab the sonne of Holoab, and of Zedekiah the sonne of Baasiah, which prophesse a lie unto you in my name, Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and he shall slay them before your eyes.

22 And of them shall be taken up a curse by all the captivity of Judah, which are in Babylon, saying, The LORD make thee like Zedekiah, and like Ahab, whom the king of Babylon rolled in the fire.

23 Because they have committed villanie in Israel, and have committed adultery with their neighbours wives, and have spoken lying words in my name, which I have not commanded them, even I know, and am a witness, saith the LORD.

24 ¶ Thus shalt thou also speak to Shemalab the H Rebelamite, saying,

25 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thy name unto all the people that are at Jerusalem, and to Zephaniah the sonne of Baasiah the priest, and to all the priests, saying,

26 The LORD hath made thee priest in the stead of Jehoiada the priest, that ye should be officers in the house of the LORD, for every man that is * mad and maketh himself a prophet, that thou shouldst put him in prison, and in the stocks :

27 Now therefore, why hast thou not reproved Jeremiah of Anathoth, which maketh himself a prophet to you ?

28 For therefore he sent unto us in Babylon, saying, This captivity is long, build ye houses and dwell in them, and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them.

29 And Zephaniah the priest read this letter in the ears of Jeremiah the prophet.

30 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying,

31 Send to all them of the captivity, saying, Thus saith the LORD concerning Shemalab the Rebelamite, Because that Shemalab hath prophesied,

CHAP. XXX.

1 God sheweth Jeremiah the return of the Jews. 4 After their trouble they shall have deliverance. 10 He comforteth Jacob. 18 Their return shall be gracious. 20 Wrath shall fall on the wicked.

The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the LORD God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the words that I have spoken unto thee in a book.

3 For so, the dayes come, saith the LORD, that I will bring again the captivity of my people Israel and Judah, saith the LORD, and I will cause them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it.

4 And there are the words that the LORD spake concerning Israel, and concerning Judah.

5 For thus saith the LORD, We have heard a voice of trembling, of fear, and not of peace.

6 Alas ye now, and see whether a man doth travel with childre; wherefore do I see every man with his hands on his loins, as a woman in travell, and all faces are turned into paleness?

7 * Alas, for that day is great, so that none is like it: it is even the time of Jacobs trouble, but he shall be saved out of it.

8 For it shall come to passe in that day, saith the LORD of hosts, that I will break his yoke from off thy neck, and will burst thy bonds, and strangers shall no more serve themselves of him.

9 But they shall serve the LORD their God, and * David their king, whom I will raise up unto them.

10 Therefore * fear thou not, O my servant Jacob, saith the LORD, neither be dismayed, O Israel; for so, I will save thee from asace, and thy seed from the land of their captivity, and Jacob shall return, and shall be in rest and quiet, and none shall make him afraid.

11 For I am with thee, saith the LORD, to save thee: though I make a full end of all nations whither I have scattered thee, yet will I not make a full end of thee: but I will correct thee * in measure, and will not leave thee altogether un-punished.

12 For thus saith the LORD, Thy bruise is incurable, and thy wound is grievous.

13 There is none to plead thy cause, † that thou mayest be bound up: thou hast no healing medicines.

14 All thy lovers have forgotten thee: they seek thee not: for I have wounded thee with the wound of an enemy, with the chastisement of a cruel one, for the multitude of thine iniquitie: because thy sinnes were increased.

15 Why * criest thou for thine affliction? thy sorrow is incurable, for the multitude of thine iniquitie: because thy sinnes were increased, I have done these things unto thee.

At the same time, saith the LORD, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people.

2 Thus saith the LORD, The people which were left of the sword, found grace in the wilderness, even Israel, when I went to cause him to rest.

3 The LORD hath appeared † of old unto me, saying, Oea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore I with loving kindnesse have I drawn thee.

way wherein they shall not stumble : for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is my first-born.

10 Hear the word of the LORD, O ye nations, and declare it in the isles afar off, and say, He that scattered Israel will gather him, and keep him, as a shepherd doth his flock.

11 For the LORD hath redeemed Jacob, and ransomed him from the hand of him that was stronger than he.

12 Therefore they shall come and sing in the height of Zion, and shall flow together to the goodness of the LORD, for wheat, and for wine, and for oil, and for the young of the flock and of the herd : and their soul shall be as a watered garden, and they shall not sorrow any more at all.

13 Then shall the virgin rejoice in the dance, both young men and old together : for I will turn their mourning into joy, and will comfort them, and make them rejoice from their sorrow.

14 And I will satiate the soul of the priests with fatness, and my people shall be satisfied with goodness, saith the LORD.

15 Thus saith the LORD, A voice was heard in Ramah, lamentation and bitter weeping : Rachel weeping for her children, refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not.

16 Thus saith the LORD, Refrain thy voice from weeping, and thine eyes from tears : for thy work shall be rewarded, saith the LORD, and they shall come again from the land of the enemy.

17 And there is hope in thine end, saith the LORD, that thy children shall come again to their own border.

18 I have surely heard Ephraim bemoaning himself thus, Thou hast chastised me, and I was chafed, as a bullock unaccustomed to the yoke : turn thou me, and I shall be turned ; for thou art the LORD my God.

19 Surely after that I was turned, I repented ; and after that I was instructed, I smote upon my thigh : I was ashamed, yea, even confounded, because I did hear the reproach of my youth.

20 Is Ephraim my dear sonne ? is he a pleasant child ? for since I spake against him, I do earnestly remember him still : therefore my bowels are troubled for him ; I will surely have mercy upon him, saith the LORD.

21 Set thee up way-marks, make thee high heaps : set thine heart toward the high way, even the way which thou wentest : turn again, O virgin of Israel, turn again to these thy cities.

22 How long wilt thou go about, O thou backsliding daughter ? for the LORD hath created a new thing in the earth, A woman shall compass a man.

23 Thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, As yet they shall use this speech in the land of Judah, and in the cities thereof, when I shall bring again their captivity, The LORD bless thee, O habitation of justice, and mountain of holiness.

24 And there shall dwell in Judah it self, and in all the cities thereof together, husbandmen, and they that go forth with flocks.

25 For I have satiated the weary soul, and I have replenished every sorrowfull soul.

26 Upon this I awaked, and beheld, and my sleep was sweet unto me.

28 And it shall come to passe, that like as I have watched over them, to pluck up, and to break down, and to throw down, and to destroy, and to afflict : so will I watch over them, to build, and to plant, saith the LORD.

29 In those days they shall say no more, The fathers have eaten a sower grape, and the childrens teeth are set on edge.

30 But every one shall die for his own iniquity, every man that eateth the sower grape, his teeth shall be set on edge.

31 Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah :

32 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand, to bring them out of the land of Egypt, (which my covenant they brake, although I was an husband unto them, saith the LORD.)

33 But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel, After those days, saith the LORD, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts, and will be their God, and they shall be my people.

34 And they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the LORD : for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the LORD : for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sinne no more.

35 Thus saith the LORD, which giveth the sunne for a light by day, and the ordinances of the moon and of the starres for a light by night, which divideth the sea when the waves thereof roar ; the LORD of hosts is his name.

36 If those ordinances depart from before me, saith the LORD, then the seed of Israel also shall cease from being a nation before me for ever.

37 Thus saith the LORD, If heaven above can be measured, and the foundations of the earth searched out beneath, I will also cast off all the seed of Israel, for all that they have done, saith the LORD.

38 Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that the cite shall be built to the LORD from the tower of Hananeel unto the gate of the corner.

39 And the measuring line shall yet go forth over against it, upon the hill Gareb, and shall compass about to Gath.

40 And the whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the ashes, and all the fields unto the brook of Kidron, unto the corner of the horse-gate, towards the east, shall be holy unto the LORD, it shall not be plucked up, nor thrown down any more for ever.

3 For Zedekiah king of Judah had that him up, saying, Wherefore dost thou prophesie, and say, Thus saith the LORD, * Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it.

4 And Zedekiah king of Judah shall not escape out of the hand of the Caldeans, but shall surely * be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, and shall speak with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall behold his eyes,

5 And he shall lead Zedekiah to Babylon, and there shall he be until I visit him, saith the LORD, though ye fight with the Caldeans, ye shall not prosper.

6 ¶ And Jeremiah said, The word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

7 Behold, Hanameel the son of Sballum thine uncle shall come unto thee, saying, Buy thee my field that is in Anathoth : for the * right of redemption is thine to buy it.

8 So Hanameel mine uncles sonne came to me in the court of the prison, according to the word of the LORD, and said unto me, Buy my field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the countrey of Benjamin : for the right of inheritance is thine, and the redemption is thine, buy it for thy self : then I knew that this was the word of the LORD.

9 And I bought the field of Hanameel my uncles sonne, that was in Anathoth, and weighed him the money, even || seventeen shekels of silver.

10 And I subscribed the evidence, and sealed it, and took witnesses, and weighed him the money in the balances.

11 So I took the evidence of the purchase, both that which was sealed according to the law and custome, and that which was open.

12 And I gave the evidence of the purchase unto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, the sonne of Naaleiah, in the sight of Hanameel mine uncles sonne, and in the presence of the witnesses that subscribed the book of the purchase, before all the Jews that sat in the court of the prison.

13 ¶ And I charged Baruch before them, saying,

14 Thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Take these evidences, this evidence of the purchase, both which is sealed, and this evidence which is open, and put them in an earthen vessel, that they may continue many dayes.

15 For thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Houses, and fields, and vineyards shall be possessed again in this land.

16 ¶ Now when I had delivered the evidence of the purchase unto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, I prayed unto the LORD, saying, 17 Ah Lord GOD, behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power and stretched out arm, and there is nothing that thou hast not done.

18 Thou shewest * loving kindnesse unto thou sands, and recompenseth the iniquity of the fathers into the bosome of their children after them : the great, the mighty God, the LORD of hosts is his name,

19 Great in counsell, and mighty in * work, (for thine * eyes are open upon all the wayes of the sonnes of men, to give every one according to his wayes, and according to the fruit of his doings)

20 Which hast set signes and wonders in the land of Egypt, even unto this day, and in Israel, and amongst other men, and hast made thee a name as at this day,

21 And hast brought forth thy people Israel * out of the land of Egypt with signes and with wonders, and with a strong hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with great terrour, 22 And hast given them this land which thou didst swear to their fathers to give them, a land flowing with milk and honey.

23 And they came in and possessed it, but they obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy law, they have done nothing of all that thou commandedst them to do : therefore thou hast caused all this evil to come upon them.

24 Behold the * mounts, they are come unto the city to take it, and the city is given into the hand of the Caldeans that fight against it, because of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence, and what thou hast spoken is come to passe, and behold, thou seest it.

25 And thou hast said unto me, O Lord GOD, Buy thee the field for money, and take witnesses : for the city is given into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 ¶ Then came the word of LORD unto Jeremiah, saying,

27 Behold, I am the LORD, the * God of all flesh : Is there any thing too hard for me ?

28 Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the Caldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and he shall take it.

29 And the Caldeans that fight against this city, shall come and set fire on this city, and burn it with the houses, * upon whose roofs they have offered incense unto Baal, and poured out drink-offerings unto other gods, to provoke me to anger.

30 For the children of Israel, and the children of Judah have onely done evil before me from their youth : for the children of Israel have onely provoked me to anger with the work of their hands, saith the LORD.

31 For this city hath been to me, as a provocation of mine anger and of my fury, from the day that they built it, even unto this day : that I should remove it from before my face,

32 Because of all the evil of the children of Israel, and of the children of Judah which they have done to provoke me to anger, they, their kings, their princes, their priests, and their prophets, and the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

33 And they have turned unto me the * back, and not the face : though I taught them rising up early, and teaching them, yet they have not hearkened to receive instruction.

34 But they * set their abominations in the house (which is called by my name) to defile it.

35 And they built the high places of Baal, which are in the valley of the sonne of Hinnom, to * cause their sonnes and their daughters to pass through the fire unto * Molech, which I commanded them not, neither came it into my minde, that they should do this abomination to cause Judah to sinne.

36 ¶ And now therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel concerning this citie, whereof ye say, It shall be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence :

37 Behold, I will * gather them out of all countreys, whither I have driven them in mine anger, and in my fury, and in great wrath : and I will bring them again unto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely.

38 And they shall be * my people, and I will be their God.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Jeremiah prophesieth the captivite of Zedekiah and the cite. 8 The princes and the people having dismissed their bond-servants, contrary to the covenant of God, reassume them. 12 Jeremiah for their their disobedience, giveth them and Zedekiah into the hands of their enemies.

The word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, (* when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and all his armie, and all the kingdoms of the earth † of his dominion, and all the people sought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities thereof) saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD the God of Israel, So and speak to Zedekiah king of Judah, and tell him, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.

3 And thou shalt not escape out of his hands, but shalt surely be taken, and delivered into his hands, and thine eyes shall behold the eyes of the king of Babylon, and † he shall speak with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt go to Babylon.

4 Yet heare the word of the LORD, O Zedekiah king of Judah, Thus saith the LORD of thee, Thou shalt not die by the sword,

5 But thou shalt die in peace, and with the burnings of thy fathers the former kings which were before thee: so shall they burn odours for thee, and they will lament thee, saying, Ah lord; for I have pronounced the word, saith the LORD.

6 Then Jeremias the prophet spake all these words unto Zedekiah king of Judah in Jerusalem, 7 When the king of Babylons armie fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities of Judah that were left, against Lachish, and against Azekah: for these defended cities remained of the cities of Judah.

8 This is the word that came unto Jeremias from the LORD, after that the king Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people which were at Jerusalem to proclaim liberty unto them;

9 That every man should let his man-servant, and every man his maid-servant, being an Hebrew or an Hebrewesse, go free, that none should serve himself of them, to wit, of a Jew his brother.

10 Now when all the princes and all the people, which had entered into the covenant, heard that every one should let his man-servant, and every one his maid-servant go free, that none should serve themselves of them any more, then they obeyed and let them go.

11 But afterwards they turned and caused the servants and the handmaids, whom they had let go free, to return, and brought them into subjection for servants and for hand-maids.

12 Therefore the word of the LORD came to Jeremias from the LORD, saying,

13 Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: I made a covenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bond-men, saying,

14 At the end of seven yeeres, let ye go every man his brother an Hebrew, which I have sold unto thee: and when he hath served thee six yeeres, thou shalt let him go free from thee: but your fathers hearkned not unto me, neither inclined their ear.

15 And ye were † now turned, and had done right in my sight, in proclaiming libertie every man to his neighbour, and ye had made a covenant before me in the house † which is called by my name.

16 But ye turned and polluted my name, and caused every man his servant, and every man his hand-maid, whom he had let at liberty at the pleasure, to return, and brought them into subjection, to be unto you for servants and for hand-maids.

17 Therefore thus saith the LORD, We have not hearkened unto me in proclaiming libertie, every one to his brother, and every man to his neighbour: behold, I proclaim a libertie for you, saith the LORD, to the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine, and I will make you † to be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth.

18 And I will give the men that have transgressed my covenant, which have not performed the words of the covenant which they had made before me, when they cut the calf in twain, and passed between the parts thereof;

19 The princes of Judah, and the princes of Jerusalem, the eunuchs, and the priests, and all the people of the land which passed between the parts of the calf;

20 I will even give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life, and their dead bodies shall be for meat unto the fowls of the heaven, and to the beasts of the earth.

21 And Zedekiah king of Juda, and his princes will I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life, and into the hand of the king of Babylons army which are gon up from you.

22 Behold, I will command, saith the LORD, and cause them to return to this cite, and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burn it with fire, and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation without an inhabitant.

CHAP. XXXV.

1 By the obedience of the Rechabites, 12 Jeremias condemneth the disobedience of the Jews. 18 God blesteth the Rechabites for their obedience.

The word which came unto Jeremias from the LORD, in the dayes of Zedekiah the sonne of Josiah king of Judah, saying,

2 Go unto the house of the Rechabites, and speak unto them, and bring them into the house of the LORD, into one of the chambers, and give them wine to drink.

3 Then I took Jazaniah the sonne of Jeremias, the sonne of Habaziniah and his brethren, and all his sonnes, and the whole house of the Rechabites.

4 And I brought them into the house of the LORD, into the chamber of the sonnes of Banan, the sonne of Jozabab a man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was above the chamber of Washeth, the sonne of Shalum, the keeper of the † doo.

5 And I set before the sonnes of the house of the Rechabites pots full of wine, and cups, and I said unto them, Drink ye wine.

6 But they said, We will drink no wine: for Jonadab the sonne of Rechab our father commanded us, saying, Ye shall drink no wine, neither ye nor your sonnes for ever.

7 Neither shall ye build house, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor have any: but all your dayes ye shall dwell in tents, that ye may live many dayes in the land where ye be strangers.

8 Thus have we obeyed the voice of Jonadab the sonne of Rechab our father, in all that he hath charged us, to drink no wine all our dayes, we, our wives, our sonnes, nor our daughters;

10 But we have dwelt in tents, and have obeyed, and done according to all that Jonadab our father commanded us.

11 But it came to passe when Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came up into the land, that we said, Come, and let us go to Jerusalem for fear of the army of the Caldeans: and for fear of the army of the Syrians: so we dwell at Jerusalem.

12 Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying,

13 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Go and tell the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, Will ye not receive instruction to hearken to my words, saith the LORD?

14 The words of Jonadab the sonne of Rechab, that he commanded his sonnes not to drink wine, are performed: for unto this day they drink none, but obey their fathers commandment: notwithstanding I have spoken unto you, rising early, and speaking, but ye hearkened not unto me.

15 I have sent also unto you all my servants the prophets, rising up early, and sending them, saying, Return ye now every man from his evill way, and amend your doings, and go not after other gods to serve them, and ye shall dwell in the land, which I have given to you, and to your fathers: but ye have not inclined your ear, nor hearkened unto me.

16 Because the sonnes of Jonadab the sonne of Rechab, have performed the commandment of their father, which he commanded them, but this people hath not hearkened unto me:

17 Therefore thus saith the LORD God of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, all the evill that I have pronounced against them: because I have spoken unto them, but they have not heard, and I have called unto them, but they have not answered.

18 And Jeremiah said unto the house of the Rechabites, Thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Because ye have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according unto all that he hath commanded you:

19 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Jonadab the sonne of Rechab shall not want a man to stand before me for ever.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Jeremiah causeth Baruch to write his prophecies, 5 and publickly to read it. 11 The princes having intelligence thereof by Michaiah, send Jehudi to fetch the roll and read it. 19 They will Baruch to hide himself and Jeremiah. 20 The king Jehoiakim being certified thereof, heareth part of it, and burneth the roll. 27 Jeremiah denounceth his judgement. 32 Baruch writeth a new copie.

AND it came to passe in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the sonne of Josiah king of Judah, that this word came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,

2 Take thee a roll of a book, and write therein all the words that I have spoken unto thee against Israel, and against Judah, and against all the nations, from the day I spake unto thee, from the dayes of Josiah, even unto this day.

3 It may be that the house of Judah will hear all the evill which I purpose to do unto them; that they may return every man from his evill way, that I may forgive their iniquity and their sinne.

4 Then Jeremiah called Baruch the sonne of Neriah, and Baruch wrote from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the LORD, which he had spoken unto him, upon a roll of a book.

5 And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying, I am shut up, I cannot go into the house of the LORD:

6 Therefore go thou, and read in the roll which thou hast written from my mouth, and the words of the LORD in the ears of the people in the LORDS house upon the falling day: and also thou shalt read them in the ears of all Judah, that come out of their cities.

7 It may be that they will present their supplication before the LORD, and will return every one from his evill way; for great is the anger and the fury that the LORD hath pronounced against this people.

8 And Baruch the son of Neriah did according to all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, reading in the book the words of the LORD in the LORDS house.

9 And it came to passe in the sixth year of Jehoiakim the sonne of Josiah king of Judah, in the ninth moneth, that they proclaimed a fast before the LORD to all the people in Jerusalem, and to all the people that came from the cities of Judah unto Jerusalem.

10 Then read Baruch in the book the words of Jeremiah in the house of the LORD, in the chamber of Gemariah, the sonne of Shaphan the scribe, in the higher court, at the entry of the new gate of the LORDS house in the ears of all the people.

11 ¶ Then Michaiah the sonne of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan, had heard out of the book all the words of the LORD,

12 Then he went down into the kings house into the scribes chamber, and to, all the princes late there, even Elishama the scribe, and Delaiah the sonne of Shematah, and Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the sonne of Hananiah, and all the princes.

13 Then Michaiah declared unto them all the words that he had heard when Baruch read the book in the ears of the people.

14 Therefore all the princes sent Jehudi the sonne of Methaniah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Cushi, unto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roll wherein thou hast read in the ears of the people, and come. So Baruch the sonne of Neriah took the roll in his hand, and came unto them.

15 And they said unto him, Sit down now, and read it in our ears. So Baruch read it in their ears.

16 Now it came to passe when they had heard all the words, they were afraid both one and other, and said unto Baruch, We will surely tell the king of all these words.

17 And they asked Baruch, saying, Tell us now, how didst thou write all these words at his mouth?

18 Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these words unto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the book.

19 Then said the princes unto Baruch, Go hence thee, thou and Jeremiah, and let no man know where ye be.

20 And they went in to the king into the court, but they laid up the roll in the chamber of Elshama the scribe, and told all the words in the ears of the king.

21 So the king sent Jehudi to fet the roll, and he took it out of Elshama the scribes chamber, and Jehudi read it in the ears of the king, and in the ears of all the princes, which stood beside the king.

22 Now the king sat in the winter house, in the ninth moneth; and there was a fire on the hearth burning before him.

23 And it came to passe that when Jehudi had read three or four leaves, he cut it with the penknife, and cast it into the fire that was on the hearth, untill all the roll was consumed in the fire that was on the hearth.

24 Yet they were not afraid, nor rent their garments, neither the king, nor any of his servants that heard all these words.

25 Neverthelesse, Elnathan, and Delajah and Gemariah had made intercession to the king, that he would not burn the roll: but he would not hear them.

26 But the king commanded Jerahmeel the sonne of Hammelech, and Seraiah the sonne of Ariel, and Shelemiah the sonne of Abdeel, to take Baruch the scribe, and Jeremiah the prophet: but the LORD hid them.

27 When the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah (after that the king had burnt the roll, and the words which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah) saying, 28 Take thee again another roll, and write in it all the former words that were in the first roll, which Jehoiakim the king of Judah hath burnt.

29 And thou shalt say to Jehoiakim king of Judah, Thus saith the LORD, Thou hast burnt this roll, saying, Why hast thou written therein, saying, The king of Babylon shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall cause to cease from thence man and beast?

30 Therefore thus saith the LORD of Jehoiakim king of Judah, He shall have none to sit upon the throne of David, and his dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the frost.

31 And I will punish him, and his seed, and his servants, for their iniquity, and I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and upon the men of Judah all the evill that I have pronounced against them, but they hearkened not.

32 Then took Jeremiah another roll, and gave it to Baruch the scribe the sonne of Neriab, who wrote therein from the mouth of Jeremiah, all the words of the book which Jehoiakim king of Judah had burnt in the fire, and there were added besides unto them many like words.

CHAP. XXXVII.

1 The Egyptians having raised the siege of the Caldeans, king Zedekiah sendeth to Jeremiah to pray for the people. 6 Jeremiah propheseth the Caldeans certain return and victorie. 11 He is taken for a fugitive, beaten, and put in prison. 16 He assureth Zedekiah of the captivity. 18 Intreating for his libertie, he obtaineth some favour.

And king Zedekiah the sonne of Josiah reigned in stead of Coashah the son of Jehoiakim, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon made king in the land of Judah.

2 But neither he, nor his servants, nor the people of the land, did hearken unto the words of the LORD, which he spake by the prophet Jeremiah.

3 And Zedekiah the king sent Jehucal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Jehpaniah the sonne of Baasaiah the priest, to the prophet Jeremiah saying, Pray now unto the LORD our God for us.

4 Now Jeremiah came in and went out among the people: for they had not put him into prison.

5 Then Pharaohs arme was come forth out of Egypt: and when the Caldeans that besieged Jerusalem, heard tidings of them, they departed from Jerusalem.

6 Then came the word of the LORD unto the prophet Jeremiah, saying,

7 Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Thus shall ye say to the king of Judah, that sent you unto me to enquire of me, Behold, Pharaohs arme which is come forth to help you, shall return to Egypt into their own land.

8 And the Caldeans shall come again, and fight against this citie, and take it, and burn it with fire.

9 Thus saith the LORD, Deceive not your selves, saying, The Caldeans shall surely depart from us: for they shall not depart.

10 For though ye had smitten the whole arme of the Caldeans that fight against you, and there remained but wounded men among them, yet should they rise up every man in his tent, and burn this citie with fire.

11 And it came to passe that when the arme of the Caldeans was broken up from Jerusalem, for fear of Pharaohs arme, 12 Then Jeremiah went forth out of Jerusalem to go into the land of Benjamin, to separate himself thence in the midst of the people.

13 And when he was in the gate of Benjamin, a captain of the ward was there, whose name was Iriah, the sonne of Selemiah, the sonne of Hananiah, and he took Jeremiah the prophet, saying, Thou fallest away to the Caldeans.

14 Then said Jeremiah, It is false, I fall not away to the Caldeans: but he hearkned not to him: so Iriah took Jeremiah, and brought him to the princes.

15 Therefore the princes were wroth with Jeremiah, and smote him, and put him in prison in the house of Jonathan the scribe: for they had made that the prison.

16 When Jeremiah was entred into the dungeon, and into the cabins, and Jeremiah had remained there many dayes:

17 Then Zedekiah the king sent, and took him out; and the king asked him secretly in his house, and said, Is there any word from the LORD? And Jeremiah said, There is: for said he, thou shalt be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon.

18 Moreover, Jeremiah said unto king Zedekiah, What have I offended against thee, or against thy servants, or against this people, that ye have put me in prison?

19 Where are now your prophets which prophesed unto you, saying, The king of Babylon shall not come against you, nor against this land?

20 Therefore hear now, I pray thee, O my lord the king, let my supplication, I pray thee, be accepted before thee; that thou cause me not to return to the house of Jonathan the scribe, lest I die there.

21 Then Zedekiah the king commanded that they should commit Jeremiah into the court of the prison, and that they should give him dayly a piece of bread out of the bakers street, untill all the bread in the cite were spent. Thus Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 Jeremiah by a false suggestion is put into the dungeon of Malchiah. 7 Ebed-melech by suit getteth him some enlargement. 14 Upon secret conference he counselleth the king by yielding to save his life. 24 By the kings instructions, he concealeth the conference from the princes.

Then Shephattah the sonne of Mattan, and Gedaliah the sonne of Passur, and Jucal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Pashur the son of Malchiah, heard the words that Jeremiah had spoken unto all the people, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD, He that remaineth in this cite shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence; but he that goeth forth to the Caldeans shall live: for he shall have his life for a prey, and shall live.

3 Thus saith the LORD, This cite shall surely be given into the hand of the king of Babylons arme, which shall take it.

4 Therefore the princes said unto the king, We beseech thee let this man be put to death: for thus he weakeneth the hands of the men of warre that remain in this cite, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words unto them: for this man seeketh not the welfare of this people, but the hurt.

5 Then Zedekiah the king said, Behold, he is in your hand: for the king is not he that can do any thing against you.

6 Then took they Jeremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Malchiah the sonne of Banumelech that was in the court of the prison: and they set down Jeremiah with cords: so in the dungeon there was no water, but mire: so Jeremiah sunk in the mire.

7 Now when Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, one of the eunuchs which was in the kings house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon, (the king then sitting in the gate of Benjamin)

8 Ebed-melech went forth out of the kings house, and spake to the king, saying,

9 O Lord the king, these men have done evill in all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they have cast into the dungeon, and he is like to die for hunger in the place where he is, for there is no more bread in the cite.

10 Then the king commanded Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Take from hence thirtie men, and take up Jeremiah the prophet out of the dungeon before he die.

11 So Ebed-melech took the men with him, and went into the house of the king under the treasure, and took thence old cast clouts, and old rotten rags, and let them down by cords into the dungeon to Jeremiah.

12 And Ebed-melech the Ethiopian said unto Jeremiah, But now these old cast clouts, and rotten rags under thine arns-holes, under the cords; and Jeremiah did so.

13 So they drew up Jeremiah with cords, and took him up out of the dungeon, and Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

14 Then Zedekiah the king sent, and took Jeremiah the prophet unto him into the third entry that is in the house of the LORD, and the king said unto Jeremiah, I will ask thee a thing: hide nothing from me.

15 Then Jeremiah said unto Zedekiah, If I declare it unto thee, wilt thou not surely put me to death: and if I give thee counsell, wilt thou not hearken unto me?

16 So the king sware secretly unto Jeremiah, saying, As the LORD liveth, that made us this soul, I will not put thee to death, neither will I give thee into the hand of these men that seek thy life.

17 Then said Jeremiah unto Zedekiah, Thus saith the LORD the God of hosts, the God of Israel, If thou wilt assuredly go forth unto the king of Babylons princes, then thy soul shall live, and this cite shall not be burnt with fire, and thou shalt live, and thine house.

18 But if thou wilt not go forth to the king of Babylons princes, then shall this cite be given into the hand of the Caldeans, and they shall burn it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their hand.

19 And Zedekiah the king said unto Jeremiah, I am afraid of the Jews that are fallen to the Caldeans, lest they deliver me into their hands, and they mock me.

20 But Jeremiah said, They shall not deliver thee: obey, I beseech thee, the voice of the LORD, which I speak unto thee: so it shall be well unto thee, and thy soul shall live.

21 But if thou refuse to go forth, this is the word that the LORD hath shewed me.

22 And behold, all the women that are left in the king of Judahs house, shall be brought forth to the king of Babylons princes, and those women shall say, Thy friends have let thee on, and have prevailed against thee: thy feet are sunk in the mire, and they are turned away back.

23 So they shall bring out all thy wives and thy children to the Caldeans, and thou shalt not escape out of their hand, but shalt be taken by the hand of the king of Babylon: and thou shalt cause this cite to be burnt with fire.

24 Then said Zedekiah unto Jeremiah, Let no man know of these words, and thou shalt not die.

25 But if the princes hear that I have talked with thee, and they come unto thee, and say unto thee, Declare unto us now what thou hast said unto the king, hide it not from us, and we will not put thee to death: also what the king said unto thee:

26 Then thou shalt say unto them, I presented my supplication before the king, that he would not cause me to return to Jonathans house to die there.

27 Then came all the princes unto Jeremiah, and asked him, and he told them according to all these words that the king had commanded: so they left off speaking with him, for the matter was not perceived.

28 So Jeremiah abode in the court of the prison, untill the day that Jerusalem was taken, and he was there when Jerusalem was taken.

CHAP. XXXIX.

2. And in the eleventh year of Zedekiah, in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, the cite was broken up.

3 And all the princes of the king of Babylon came in, and sat in the middle gate, even Nergal-Sharzar, Sargar-Nebo, Sarcuchin, Rab-saris, Nergal-Sharzer, Rab-mag, with all the residue of the king of Babylon.

4 And it came to passe, that when Zedekiah the king of Judah saw them, and all the men of war, then they fled, and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the kings garden, by the gate betwixt the two walls, and he went out the way of the plain.

5 But the Caldeans armie pursued after them, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him up to Nebuchadnezar king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he gave judgement upon him.

6 Then the king of Babylon slew the sonnes of Zedekiah in Riblah, before his eyes: also the king of Babylon slew all the nobles of Judah.

7 Moreover, he put out Zedekiahs eyes, and bound him with chains to carry him to Babylon.

8 And the Caldeans burnt the kings house, and the houses of the people with fire, and brake down the walls of Jerusalem.

9 Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive into Babylon the remnant of the people that remained in the cite, and those that fell away, that fell to him, with the rest of the people that remained.

10 But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left of the poor of the people which had nothing in the land of Judah, and gave them vineyards and fields at the same time.

11 Now Nebuchadnezar king of Babylon gave charge concerning Jeremiah to Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, saying, 12 Take him, and look well to him, and do him no harm, but do unto him even as he shall say unto thee.

13 So Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard sent, and Nebuchadan, Rab-saris, and Nergal-Sharzer, Rab-mag, and all the king of Babylons princes:

14 Then they sent, and took Jeremiah out of the court of the prison, and committed him unto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, that he should carry him home: so he dwelt among the people.

15 Now the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, while he was shut up in the court of the prison, saying, 16 Go and speak to Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring my words upon this cite for evill, and not for good, and they shall be accomplished in that day before thee.

17 But I will deliver thee in that day, saith the LORD, and thou shalt not be given into the hand of the men of whom thou art afraid.

18 For I will surely deliver thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a prey unto thee: because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the LORD.

CHAP. XL.

1 Jeremiah being set free by Nebuzaradan, goeth to Gedaliah. 7 The dispersed Jews repair unto him. 13 Johanan revealing Shmaels conspiracie, is not believed.

The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, after that Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, had let him go from Ramath, when he had taken him being bound in chains among all that were carried away captive of Jerusalem and Judah, which were carried away captive unto Babylon,

2 And the captain of the guard took Jeremiah, and said unto him, The LORD thy God hath pronounced this evill upon this place.

3 Now the LORD hath brought it, and done according as he hath said: because ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing is come upon you.

4 And now behold, I looke thee this day from the chains which were upon thine hand: if it seem good unto thee to come with me into Babylon, come, and I will look well unto thee: but if it seem ill unto thee to come with me into Babylon, to beare: behold, all the land is before thee; whither it seemeth good and convenient for thee to go, chuse thou go.

5 Now while he was not yet gone back, he said, Go back also to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon hath made governour over all the cities of Judah and dwell with him among the people: or go where-soever it seemeth convenient unto thee to go. So the captain of the guard gave him victuals, and a reward, and let him go.

6 Then went Jeremiah unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah, and dwelt with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 Now when all the captains of the forces which were in the fields even they and their men heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam governour in the land, and had committed unto him men, and women, and children, and of the poor of the land, of them that were not carried away captive to Babylon:

8 Then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, even Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Bariah, and Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth, and the sons of Ephiai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the son of a Maachathite, they and their men.

9 And Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan, swore unto them and to their men, saying, Fear not to serve the Caldeans: dwell in the land and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you.

10 As for me, Behold, I will dwell at Mizpah to serve the Caldeans, which will come unto us: but ye, gather ye wine, and summer-fruits, and oyl, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities that ye have taken.

11 Likewise when all the Jews that were in Moab, and among the Ammonites, and in Edom, and that were in all the countreys, heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant of Judah, and that he had set over them Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan:

12 Then all the Jews returned out of all places whither they were driven, and came to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah unto Mizpah, and gathered wine and summer-fruits, very much.

13 Moreover Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, 14 And said unto him, Dost thou certainly know that Baalis the king of the Ammonites hath sent Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah to slay thee: But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam believed them not.

16 But Gedaliah the sonne of Abikam said unto Johanan the son of Kareah, Thou shalt not do this thing; for thou speakest falsely of Ithmael.

CHAP. XLI.

1 Ithmael treacherously killing Gedaliah and others, purpoſeth with the residue to flee unto the Ammonites. 11 Johanan recovereth the captives, and mindedeth to flee into Egypt.

NOW it came to passe in the seventh moneth, that Ithmael the sonne of Nehemiah the sonne of Elishama of the seed royall, and the princes of the king, eventen men with him, came unto Gedaliah the sonne of Abikam to Mizpah, and there they did eat bread together in Mizpah.

2 Then arose Ithmael the sonne of Nehemiah, and the ten men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah the son of Abikam the sonne of Shephania with the sword, and slew him, whom the king of Babylon had made governour over the land.

3 Ithmael also slew all the Jews that were with him, even with Gedaliah at Mizpah, and the Caldeans that were found there, and the men of war.

4 And it came to passe the second day after he had slain Gedaliah, and no man knew it.

5 That there came certain from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, even fourscore men having their beards shaven, and their clothes rent, and having cut themselves, with offerings and incense in their hand, to bring them to the house of the LORD.

6 And Ithmael the sonne of Nehemiah went forth from Mizpah to meet them, † weeping all along as he went: and it came to passe as he met them, he said unto them, Come to Gedaliah the sonne of Abikam.

7 And it was so when they came into the midst of the city, that Ithmael the sonne of Nehemiah slew them, and cast them into the midst of the pit, he and the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were found among them that said unto Ithmael, Slay us not: for we have treasures in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oyl, and of honey: so he forbore, and slew them not among their brethren.

9 Now the pit wherein Ithmael had cast all the dead bodies of the men (whom he had slain) † because of Gedaliah) was it, which Aia the king had made for fear of Baasha king of Israel: and Ithmael the sonne of Nehemiah filled it with them that were slain.

10 Then Ithmael carried away captive all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, even the kings daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had committed to Gedaliah the son of Abikam, and Ithmael the sonne of Nehemiah carried them away captive, and departed to go over to the Ammonites.

11 ¶ But when Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, heard of all the evill that Ithmael the sonne of Nehemiah had done,

12 Then they took all the men, and went to fight with Ithmael the sonne of Nehemiah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

13 Now it came to passe, that when all the people which were with Ithmael saw Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, then they were glad.

14 So all the people that Ithmael had carried away captive from Mizpah, cast about and returned, and went unto Johanan the sonne of Kareah.

15 But Ithmael the sonne of Nehemiah escaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the Ammonites.

16 Then took Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Ithmael the sonne of Nehemiah, from Mizpah (after that he had slain Gedaliah the sonne of Abikam) even mighty men of warre, and the women and the children, and the eunuchs whom he had brought again from Gibeon.

17 And they departed and dwelt in the habitation of Chibham, which is by Beth-sehem, to go to enter into Egypt.

18 Because of the Caldeans: for they were afraid of them, because Ithmael the sonne of Nehemiah had slain Gedaliah the sonne of Abikam, whom the king of Babylon made governour in the land.

CHAP. XLII.

1 Johanan desireth Jeremiah to enquire of God, God promising obedience to his will. 7 Jeremiah assureth him of safety in Judea, 13 and destruction in Egypt.

19 He reproveth their hypocrisie in requiring of the Lord that which they meant not.

THEN all the captains of the forces, and Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and Jeremiah the sonne of Hosaijah, and all the people from the least even unto the greatest, came near,

2 And said unto Jeremiah the Prophet, ¶ Let, we beseech thee, our supplication be accepted before thee, and pray for us unto the LORD thy God, even for all this remnant, (for we are left but a few of many, as thine eyes do behold us)

3 That the LORD thy God may shew us the way wherein we may walk, and the thing that we may do.

4 Then Jeremiah the Prophet said unto them, I have heard you; behold, I will pray unto the LORD your God according to your words, and it shall come to passe, that whatsoever thing the LORD shall answer you, I will declare it unto you: I will keep nothing back from you.

5 Then they said to Jeremiah, The LORD be a true and faithfull witness between us, if we do not even according to all things for the which the LORD thy God shall send thee to us.

6 Whether it be good, or whether it be evill, we will obey the voice of the LORD our God, to whom we send thee: that it may be well with us, when we obey the voice of the LORD our God.

7 ¶ And it came to passe after ten dayes, that the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah.

8 Then called he Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces which were with him, and all the people from the least even to the greatest,

9 And said unto them, Thus saith the LORD,

the † Heb. in going and weeping.

† Or, near Gedaliah.
† Heb. by the hand, or, by the side of Gedaliah.

† Or, let our supplication fall before thee.

the God of Israel, unto whom ye sent me to present your supplication before him, 10 If ye will still abide in this land, then will I build you, and not pull you down, and I will plant you, and not pluck you up: for I repent me of the evil that I have done unto you.

11 Be not afraid of the king of Babylon, of whom ye are afraid: be not afraid of him, saith the LORD: for I am with you to save you, and to deliver you from his hand.

12 And I will shew mercies unto you, that he may have mercie upon you, and cause you to return to your own land.

13 ¶ But if ye say, We will not dwell in this land, neither obey the voice of the LORD your God,

14 Saying, No, but we will go into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no warre, nor hear the sound of the trumpet, nor have hunger of bread, and there will we dwell:

15 (And now therefore hear the word of the LORD, ye remnant of Judah, Thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, If ye wholly set your faces to enter into Egypt, and go to sojourn there)

16 Then it shall come to passe, that the sword which ye feared, shall overtake you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine whereof ye were afraid, shall follow close after you there in Egypt, and there ye shall die.

17 † So shall it be with all the men that set their faces to go into Egypt to sojourn there, they shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence: and none of them shall remain or escape from the evil that I will bring upon them.

18 For thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, As mine anger and my fury hath been poured forth upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem: so shall my fury be poured forth upon you, when ye shall enter into Egypt: and ye shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, and an reproach, and ye shall see this place no more.

19 ¶ The LORD hath said concerning you, O ye remnant of Judah, So ye not into Egypt: know certainly, that I have † admonished you this day.

20 For I have dissembled in your hearts, when ye sent me unto the LORD your God, saying, Pray for us unto the LORD our God, and according unto all that the LORD our God shall say, so declare unto us, and we will do it.

21 And now I have this day declared it to you, but ye have not obeyed the voice of the LORD your God, nor any thing for the which he hath sent me unto you.

22 Now therefore know certainly, that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, in the place whither ye desire to go, and to sojourn.

CHAP. XLIIII.

1 Johanan discrediting Jeremiahs prophecie, carrieth Jeremiah and others into Egypt. 8 Jeremiah prophesieth by a type the conquest of Egypt by the Babylonians.

Ad it came to passe, that when Jeremiab had made an end of speaking unto all the people, all the words of the LORD their God, for which the LORD their God had sent him to them, even all these words,

2 Then spake Azariah the sonne of Boshabab, and Johanan the sonne of Kareab, and all the proud men, saying unto Jeremiab, Thou speakest falsly: the LORD our God hath not sent thee to say, So not into Egypt to sojourn there.

3 But Baruch the sonne of Neriah lettered thee on against us, for to deliver us into the hand of the Caldeans, that they might put us to death, and carry us away captives into Babylon.

4 So Johanan the sonne of Kareab, and all the captains of the forces, and all the people obeyed not the voice of the LORD, to dwell in the land of Judah.

5 But Johanan the son of Kareab, and all the captives of the forces, took all the remnant of Judah, that were returned from all nations whither they had been dwiven, to dwell in the land of Judah,

6 Even men, and women, and children, and the kings daughters, and every person that Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had left with Sedaiab the sonne of Abihai the sonne of Shaphan, and Jeremiab the prophet, and Baruch the son of Neriah.

7 So they came into the land of Egypt: for they obeyed not the voice of the LORD; thus came they even to Taphnes.

8 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiab in Taphnes, saying,

9 Take great stones in thine hand, and hide them in the clay in the brick-kiln, which is at the entry of Pharaohs house in Taphnes, in the sight of the men of Judah:

10 And say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I will send and take Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon my servant, and will set his throne upon these stones that I have hid, and he shall spread his royall pavilion over them.

11 And when he cometh, he shall smite the land of Egypt, and deliver such as are for death, to death; and such as are for captivity, to captivity; and such as are for the sword, to the sword.

12 And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt, and he shall burn them, and carry them away captives, and he shall aray himself with the land of Egypt, as a shepherd putteth on his garment, and he shall go forth from thence in peace.

13 He shall break also the † images of H Beth-stemesh, that is in the land of Egypt; and the houses of the gods of the Egyptians shall be burn with fire.

CHAP. XLIIII.

1 Jeremiab expresseth the desolation of Judah for their idolatry. 11 He prophesieth their destruction, who commit idolatry in Egypt. 15 The obstinacie of the Jews. 20 Jeremiab threatneth them for the same, 29 and for a signe, prophesieth the destruction of Egypt.

The word that came to Jeremiab concerning all the Jews which dwell in the land of Egypt, which dwell at Migdol and at Taphnes, and at Noph, and in the countrey of Pathnos, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Ye have seen all the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, and upon all the cities of Judah, and behold, this day they are a desolation: and no man dwelleth therein.

3 Because of their wickednesse which they have committed to provoke me to anger, in that they went to burn incense, and to serve other gods whom they knew not, neither they, nor your fathers.

4 Wherefore I sent unto you all my servants the prophets, rising early, and sending them, saying,

† Heb. shall cleave after you.
† Heb. so shall all the men be.

† Heb. testified against you.
† Or, you have used deceit against your souls.

* Cha. 15. 2. Zech. 11. 9.

† Heb. statues, or, standing images.
† Or, the house of the sunne.

Do not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they hearkened not nor inclined their ear to turn from their wickedness, to burn no incense unto other gods.

6 Therefore my fury and mine anger was poured forth, and was kindled in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, and they are wasted and desolate, as at this day.

7 Therefore now thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel, Therefore commit ye this great evil against your souls, to cut off from you man and woman, child and suckling † out of Judah, to leave you none to remain.

† Heb. out of the midst of Judah.

8 In that ye provoke me unto wrath with the works of your hands, burning incense unto other gods in the land of Egypt, whither ye be gone to dwell, that ye might cut your selves off, and that ye might be a curse, and a reproach among all the nations of the earth.

† Heb. wickedness, or, punishments, &c.

9 Have ye forgotten the † wickedness of your fathers, and the wickedness of the kings of Judah, and the wickedness of their wives, and your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives, which they have committed in the land of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem?

† Heb. contrite.

10 They are not † humbled even unto this day, neither have they feared nor walked in my law, nor in my statutes that I set before you, and before your fathers.

* Amos 9.4.

11 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will set my face against you for evil, and to cut off all Judah.

12 And I will take the remnant of Judah, that have set their faces to go into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, and they shall all be consumed, and fall in the land of Egypt: they shall even be consumed by the sword, and by the famine: they shall die, from the least, even unto the greatest, by the sword, and by the famine: and they shall be an execration and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach.

13 For I will punish them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I have punished Jerusalem by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

14 So that none of the remnant of Judah, which are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, shall escape or remain, that they should return unto the land of Judah, to the which they † have a desire to return to dwell there: for none shall return but such as shall escape.

† Heb. lift up their soul.

15 Then all the men which knew that their wives had burnt incense unto other gods, and all the women that stood by, a great multitude, even all the people that dwell in the land of Egypt in Pathos, answered Jeremiah, saying,

16 As for the word that thou hast spoken unto us in the name of LORD, we will not hearken unto thee.

17 But we will certainly do what soever thing goeth forth out of our own mouth to burn incense unto the † queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto her, as we have done, we and our fathers, our kings and our princes, in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem: for then had we plenty of † victuals, and were well, and saw no evil.

|| Or, frame of heaven.

* Cha. 7. 18.

† Heb. bread.

18 But since we left off to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto her, we have wanted all things, and have been consumed by the sword, and by the famine.

* Cha. 7. 18.

19 And when we burnt incense to the queen of heaven, and poured out drink offerings unto her, did we make her cakes to worship her, and pour out drink-offerings unto her without our men?

|| Or, husband.

20 Then Jeremiah said unto all the people, to the men and to the women, and to all the people which had given him that answer, saying,

21 The incense that ye burnt in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, ye and your fathers, your kings and your princes, and the people of the land, did not the LORD remember them, and came it not into his mind?

22 So that the LORD could no longer bear, because of the evil of your doings, and because of the abominations which ye have committed: therefore is your land a desolation, and an astonishment, and a curse without an inhabitant, as at this day.

23 Because you have burnt incense, and because ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD, nor walked in his law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies: therefore this evil is happened unto you, as at this day.

24 Moreover Jeremiah said unto all the people, and to all the women, Hear the word of the LORD, all Judah, that are in the land of Egypt.

25 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Ye and your wives have both spoken with your mouths, and fulfilled with your hand, saying, We will surely perform our vows that we have vowed, to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto her: ye will accomplish your vows, and surely perform your vows.

26 Therefore hear ye the word of the LORD, all Judah that dwell in the land of Egypt, Behold, I have sworn by my great Name, saith the LORD, that my Name shall no more be named in the month of any man of Judah, in all the land of Egypt, saying, The LORD GOD liveth.

27 Behold, I will watch over them for evil, and not for good, and all the men of Judah that are in the land of Egypt shall be consumed by the sword, and by the famine, until there be an end of them.

28 Yet a small number that escape the sword, shall return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah; and all the remnant of Judah that are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, shall know whose words shall stand, † mine or theirs.

† Heb. from me or from them.

29 And this shall be a signe unto you, saith the LORD, that I will punish you in this place, that ye may know that my words shall surely stand against you for evil.

30 Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will give Pharaoh-Hophra king of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seek his life, as I gave Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon his enemy, and that sought his life.

CHAP. XLV.

1 Baruch being dismayed, 4 Jeremiah instructeth and comforteth him.

The word that Jeremiah the Prophet spake unto Baruch the son of Neriah, when he had written these words in a book at the mouth of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Zedekiah the son of Josiah king of Judah, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD the God of Israel unto thee, O Baruch,

3 Thou didst say, Wo is me now, for the LORD hath added grief to my sorrow, I fainted in my sighing, and I finde no rest.

4 Thus shalt thou say unto him, The LORD saith, saith thus, Behold, that which I have built, will I break down, and that which I have planted, I will pluck up, even this whole land.

* Cha. 39. 18

5 And seekest thou great things for thy self? seek them not: for behold, I will bring evil upon all flesh, saith the LORD; but thy life will I give unto thee: for a prey in all places whither thou goest.

CHAP. XLVI.

1 Jeremiah prophesieth the overthrow of Pharaohs army at Euphrates, 13 and the conquest of Egypt by Nebuchadrezzar. 27 He comforteth Jacob in their chastisement.

THE word of the LORD which came to Jeremiah the Prophet, against the Gentiles,

2 Against Egypt, and against the army of Pharaoh Necho king of Egypt, which was by the river Euphrates in Carchemish, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon smote in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah.

3 Order ye the buckler and shield, and draw near to battell.

4 Harness the horses, and get up ye horsemen, and stand forth with your helmets, flourish the spears, and put on the biganones.

5 Wherefore have I seen them dismayed, and turned away back? and their mighty ones are beaten down, and are fled apace, and look not back: for fear was round about, saith the LORD.

6 Let not the swift flee away, nor the mighty man escape: they shall stumble, and fall toward the north by the river Euphrates.

7 Who is this that cometh up as a flood, whose waters are moved as the rivers?

8 Egypt riseth up like a flood, and his waters are moved like the rivers, and he saith, I will go up, and will cover the earth, I will destroy the city, and the inhabitants thereof.

9 Come up ye horses, and rage ye chariots and let the mighty men come forth, the Ethiopians, and the Lybians that handle the shield, and the Lydians that handle and bend the bowe.

10 For this is the day of the Lord God of hosts, a day of vengeance, that he may avenge him of his adversaries: and the Word shall be, and it shall be fulfilled, and made drunk with their blood: for the Lord God of hosts hath a sacrifice in the north country by the river Euphrates.

11 So go into Gilead, and take balm, O virgin, the daughter of Egypt: in vain shalt thou use many medicines: for thou shalt not be cured.

12 The nations have heard of thy name, and thy cry hath filled the land: for the mighty man hath stumbled against the mighty, and they are fallen both together.

13 The word that the LORD spake to Jeremiah the Prophet, how Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon should come and smite the land of Egypt.

14 Declare ye in Egypt, and publish in Migdol, and publish in Moph, and in Tahpanhes: say ye, Stand fast, and prepare thee: for the sword shall devour round about thee.

15 Why are thy valiant men swept away? they stood not, because the LORD did use them.

16 He I made many to fall, yea one fell upon another, and they said, Arise, and let us go again to our own people, and to the land of our nativity, from the oppressing word.

17 They did erie there, Pharaoh king of Egypt is but a noise, he hath passed the time appointed.

18 As I live, saith the king, whose Name is the LORD of hosts, Surely as Tabor is among the mountains, and as Carmel by the sea; so shall he come.

19 O thou daughter dwelling in Egypt, flourish thy self to go into captivity: for Egypt shall be waste and desolate without an inhabitant.

20 Egypt is like a very fat heifer, but destruction cometh: it cometh out of the north.

21 Also her hired men are in the midst of her, like fenced bullocks, for they also are turned back, and are fled away together; they did not stand, because the day of their calamitie was come upon them, and the time of their visitation.

22 The voice thereof shall go like a serpent, for they shall march with an army, and come against her with axes, as hewers of wood.

23 They shall cut down her forest, saith the LORD, though it cannot be searched, because they are more then the grasshoppers, and are innumerable.

24 The daughter of Egypt shall be confounded, she shall be delivered into the hand of the people of the north.

25 The LORD of hosts the God of Israel saith, Behold, I will punish the multitude of No, and Pharaoh, and Egypt with their gods, and their kings, even Pharaoh and all them that trust in him.

26 And I will deliver them into the hand of those that seek their lives, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of his servants, and afterwards it shall be inhabited, as in the days of old, saith the LORD.

27 But fear not thou, O my servant Jacob, and be not dismayed, O Israel: for behold, I will save thee from a farre off, and thy seed from the land of their captivity, and Jacob shall return and be in rest and at ease, and none shall make him afraid.

28 Fear thou not, O Jacob my servant, saith the LORD, for I am with thee, for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have driven thee, but I will not make a full end of thee, but correct thee in measure, yet will I not leave thee wholly unpunished.

CHAP. XLVII.

The destruction of the Philistines.

THE word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet against the Philistines, because that Pharaoh smote Gaza.

2 Thus saith the LORD, Behold, waters rise up out of the north, and shall be an overflowing flood, and shall overflow the land, and all that is therein, the city, and them that dwell therein: then the men shall erie, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howl.

3 At the noise of the stamping of the hoofs of his strong horses, at the rushing of his chariots, and at the rumbling of his wheeles, the fathers shall not look back to their children for feebleness of hands.

4 Because of the day that cometh to spoil all the Philistines, and to cut off from Tyris and Sidon every helper that remaineth: for the LORD will spoil the Philistines, the remnant of it the country of Egypt.

5 Baldwinne is come upon Gaza, Ashkelon is cut off with the remnant of their valley, how long wilt thou cut thy self?

CHAP. XLVIII.

1 The judgement of Moab, 7 for their pride, 11 for their security, 14 for their carnal confidence, 26 and for their contempt of God and his people. 47 The restoration of Moab.

A Saint Moab thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, I count unto Rebo, for it is spoiled: Kiriatbaim is confounded and taken, I Moab is confounded and dismayed.

2 There shall be no more praise of Moab: in Hesbon they have devised evil against it; come and let us cut it off from being a nation; also thou shalt be cut down, O Madmen, the sword shall pursue thee.

3 A voice of crying shall be from Hozonaim, spoiling and great destruction.

4 Moab is destroyed, her little ones have caused a cry to be heard.

5 For in the going up of Lubeth, † a continuall weeping shall go up, for in the going down of Hozonaim the enemies have heard a cry of destruction.

6 Flee, save your lives, and be like the * heath in the wilderness.

7 For because thou hast trusted in thy works and in thy treasures, thou shalt also be taken, and Chemosh shall go forth into captivity with his priests and his princes together.

8 And the spoiler shall come upon every citie, and no city shall escape: the valley also shall perish, and the plain shall be destroyed, as the LORD hath spoken.

9 O the wings unto Moab, that it may flee and get away: for the cities thereof shall be desolate, without any to dwell therein.

10 Cursed be he that doeth the work of the LORD deceitfully, and cursed be he that keepeth back his sword from blood.

11 For Moab hath been at ease from his youth, and he hath sciled on his lees, and hath not been emptied from vessel to vessel, neither hath he gone into captivity: therefore his taste remained in him, and his sent is not changed.

12 Therefore, behold, the dayes come, saith the LORD, that I will send unto him wanderers that shall cause him to wander, and shall empty his vessels, and break their bottles.

13 And Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of * Beth-el their confidence.

14 How say ye, We are mighty and strong men for the war?

15 Moab is spoiled, and gone up out of her cities, and † his chosen young men are gone down to the slaughter, saith the king, whose name is the LORD of hosts.

16 The calamity of Moab is near to come, and his affliction hasteth fast.

17 All ye that are about him bemoan him, and all ye that know his name, say, How is the strong staff broken, and the beautiful rod!

18 Thou daughter that dost inhabit Dibon, come down from thy glory, and sit in thirst, for the spoiler of Moab shall come upon thee, and he shall destroy the strong holds.

19 O † inhabitant of Aroer, stand by the way and espie, ask him that fleeth, and her that escapeth, and say, What is done?

20 Moab is confounded, for it is broken down: * howl and cry, tell ye it in Arnon, that Moab is spoiled,

21 And judgement is come upon the plain country upon Holon, and upon Kabazah, and upon Be-pbaath,

22 And upon Dibon, and upon Rebo, and upon Beth-diblatbaim,

23 And upon Kiriatbaim, and upon Beth-gamul, and upon Beth-meon,

24 And upon Kerioth, and upon Bozra, and upon all the cities of the land of Moab, far or near.

25 The horn of Moab is cut off, and his arm is broken, saith the LORD.

26 O Wake ye him drunken: for he magnified himself against the LORD: Moab also shall wallow in his vomit, and he also shall be in derision.

27 For was not Israel a derision unto thee? was he found among theeves: for since thou spakest of him, thou || skippedst for joy.

28 O ye that dwell in Moab, leave the cities and dwell in the rocks, and be like the dove that maketh her nest in the sides of the holes mouth.

29 We have heard the * pride of Moab (he is exceeding proud) his loftiness and his arrogancy, and his pride, and the haughtiness of his heart.

30 I know his wrath, saith the LORD, but it shall not be for, || his lies shall not so effect it.

31 Therefore will I howl for Moab, and I will cry out for all Moab, mine heart shall mourn for the men of Kir-heres.

32 O vine of Sibmah, I will weep for thee, with the weeping of Tazer: thy plants are gone over the sea, they reach even to the sea of Tazer, the spoiler is fallen upon thy summer-fruits, and upon thy vintage.

33 And * joy and gladness is taken from the plentiful field, and from the land of Moab, and I have caused wine to fail from the wine-presses, none shall tread with shouting, their shouting shall be no shouting.

34 From the cry of Hesbon even unto Eleah, and even unto Iabaz, have they uttered their voice, * from Zoar even unto Hozonaim, as an heifer of three years old: for the waters also of Dimrim shall be † desolate.

35 Moreover, I will cause to cease in Moab, saith the LORD, him that offereth in the high places, and him that burneth incense to his gods.

36 Therefore mine heart shall sound for Moab like pipes, and mine heart shall sound like pipes for the men of Kir-heres: because the riches that he hath gotten is perished.

37 For * every head shall be bald, and every beard † clip: upon all the hands shall be cuttings, and upon the loins sackcloth.

38 There shall be lamentation generally upon all the house tops of Moab, and in the streets thereof: for I have broken Moab like a vessel, wherein is no pleasure, saith the LORD.

39 They shall howl, saying, How is it broken down? how hath Moab turned the † back with shame? so shall Moab be a derision, and a dismay- ing to all them about him.

40 For thus saith the LORD, Behold, he shall see as an eagle, and shall spread his wings over Moab.

41 || Kerioth is taken, and the strong holds are surprised, and the mighty mens hearts in Moab at that day shall be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.

42 And Moab shall be destroyed from being a people, because he hath magnified himself against the LORD.

upon thee, O inhabitant of Boab, saith the LORD.

44 He that fleeth from the fear, shall fall into the pit, and he that getteth up out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for I will bring upon it, even upon Boab, the year of their visitation, saith the LORD.

45 They that fled, stood under the shadow of Heshbon, because of the force: but a fire shall come forth out of Heshbon, and a flame from the midst of Sihon, and shall devour the corner of Boab, and the crown of the head of the tumultuous ones.

46 Wo be unto thee, O Boab, the people of Chemosh perisheth: for the sons are taken, captives, and thy daughters captives.

47 Yet will I bring again the captivity of Boab in the latter dayes, saith the LORD. Thus far is the judgement of Boab.

CHAP. XLIX.

1 The judgement of the Ammonites. 6 Their restauration. 7 The judgement of Edom, 23 of Damascus, 28 of Kedar, 30 of Hazor, 34 and of Elam. 39 The restauration of Elam.

Concerning the Ammonites, thus saith the LORD, Hach Israel no sons? hach he no heir? why then doth their king inherit? Sad, and his people dwell in his cities?

2 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the LORD, that I will cause an alarm of war to be heard in Rabbah of the Ammonites, and it shall be a desolate heap, and her daughters shall be burnt with fire: then shall Israel be vnto them that were his heirs, saith the LORD.

3 How, O Heshbon, for Ai is spoiled: cry ye daughters of Rabbah, gird ye with sackcloth: lament and run to and fro by the bedges, for their king shall go into captivity, and his priests and his pinners together.

4 Therefore gloriest thou in the balters, in thy flowing valley, O backsliding daughter: that trusted in her treasures, saying, Who shall come unto me?

5 Behold, I will bring a fear upon thee, saith the Lord God of hosts, from all those that be about thee, and ye shall be diuident out every man right forth, and none shall gather up him that wandereth.

6 And afterward I will bring again the captivity of the children of Ammon, saith the LORD.

7 Concerning Edom, thus saith the LORD of hosts, Is wisdom no more in Teman: is counsel perished from the prudent? is their wisdom vanished?

8 Fleeve, turn back, dwell deep, O inhabitants of Dedan, for I will bring the calamity of Esau upon him, the time that I will visit him.

9 If grape-gatherers come to thee, would they not leave some gleaning grapes? if beebees by night, they will destroy till they have enough.

10 But I have made Esau bare, I have uncovered his secret places, and he shall not be able to hide himself: his seed is spoiled, and his brethren and his neighbours, and he is not.

11 Leave thy fatherlesse children, I will preserve them also, and let thy widows trust in me.

12 For thus saith the LORD, Behold, they whose judgement was not to drink of the cup, have assuredly drunken, and are thon he that shall altogether go unpunished: thou shalt not go unpunished, but thou shalt surely drink of it.

13 For I have sworn by my self, saith the LORD, that Bozrah shall become a desolation, a reproach, a waste, and a curse, and all the cities thereof shall be perpetual wastes.

14 I have heard a rumour from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent unto the heathen, saying, Gather ye together, and come against her, and rile up to the battell.

15 For lo, I will make thee small among the heathen, and despised among men.

16 Thy terriblest hath deceived thee, and the pride of thine heart, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, that holdest the height of the hill: though thou shouldst make thy nest as high as the eagle, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the LORD.

17 Also Edom shall be a desolation: every one that goeth by it, shall be astonished, and shall hiss at all the plagues thereof.

18 As in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah, and the neighbour cities thereof, saith the LORD: no man shall abide there, neither shall a son of man dwell in it.

19 Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the swelling of Jordan against the habitation of the strong: but I will suddenly make him run away from her, and who is a chosen man that I may appoint over her? for who is like me? and who will appoint me the time? and who is that shepherd that will stand before me?

20 Therefore bear the counsell of the LORD, that he hath taken against Edom, and his purposes that he hath purposed against the inhabitants of Teman: surely the least of the flock shall devour them out: surely he shall make their habitations desolate with them.

21 The earth is moved at the noise of their fall: at the cry, the noise thereof was heard in the red sea.

22 Behold, he shall come up and flie as the eagle, and spread his wings over Bozrah: and at that day shall the heart of the mighty men of Edom be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.

23 Concerning Damascus, Hamath is confounded, and Arpad: for they have heard evil tidings, they are faint-hearted, there is sorrow in the sea, it cannot be quiet.

24 Damascus is ward feeble, and turneth herself to flee, and fear hath sealed on her: anguish and sorrows have taken her as a woman in travail.

25 How is the cite of psalle not left, the cite of my joy?

26 Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets, and all the men of warre shall be cut off in that day, saith the LORD of hosts.

27 And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus, and it shall consume the palaces of Benhadab.

28 Concerning Kedar, and concerning the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon shall smite, thus saith the LORD, Arise ye, go up to Kedar, and spoil the men of the east.

29 Their tents and their flocks shall they take away, they shall take to themselves their curtains and all their vessels, and their camels, and they shall cry unto them, Fear is on every side.

30 Flee, get you farre off, dwell deep, O ye inhabitants of Hazor, saith the LORD, for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath taken counsell against you, and hath conceived a purpose against you.

31 Arise, get you up unto the wealthy nation, that dwelleth without care, saith the LORD, which have neither gates nor barres, which dwell alone.

32 And their camels shall be a booty, and the multitude of their cattell a spoil, and I will scatter

The word that the L O R D spake against Babylon, and against the land of the Caldeans, † by Jeremiah the prophet.

2 Declare ye among the nations, and publish, and † set up a standard, publish and conceal not: say, Babylon is taken, Bel is confounded, Berodach is broken in pieces, her idols are confounded her images are broken in pieces.

3 For out of the north there cometh up a nation against her, which shall make her land desolate, and none shall dwell therein: they shall reinow, they shall depart both man and beast.

4 ¶ In those dayes, and in that time, saith the L O R D, the children of Israhel shall come, they, and the children of Judah together, going and weeping: they shall go, and seek the L O R D their God.

5 They shall ask the way to Zion with their faces thitherward, saying, Come, and let us joyne our selves to the L O R D, in a perpetual covenant that shall not be forgotten.

6 My people have been lost sheep: their shepherds have caused them to go astray, they have turned them away on the mountains: they have gone from mountain to hill, they have forgotten their † resting place.

7 All that found them have deboured them, and their adversaries said, We offend not, because they have sinned against the L O R D, the habitation of justice, even the L O R D the hope of their fathers.

8 Remove out of the midst of Babylon, and go forth out of the land of the Caldeans, and be as the he-goats before the flocks.

9 ¶ For lo, I will raise and cause to come up against Babylon an assembly of great nations from the north countrey, and they shall set themselves in aray against her, from thence she shall be taken: their arrows shall be as of a mighty † expert man: none shall return in vain.

14 Put your selves in aray against Babylon round about: all ye that bend the bow, shoot at her, spare no arrows: for she hath sinned against the L O R D.

15 Shout against her round about: she hath given her hand: her foundations are fallen, her walls are thrown down: for it is the vengeance of the L O R D: take vengeance upon her, as she hath done, do unto her.

19 And I will bring Israhel again to his habitation, and he shall feed on Carmel and Bashan, and his soul shall be satisfied upon mount Ephraim and Gilad.

according to her work; according to all that she hath done, do unto her: for she hath been proud against the LORD, against the holy one of Israel.

Therefore shall her young men fall in the streets, and all her men of warre shall be cut off in that day, saith the LORD.

Behold, I am against thee, O thou most proud, saith the LORD God of hosts: for thy day is come, the time that I will visit thee.

And the most proud shall stumble and fall; and none shall raise him up: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall devour all round about him.

Thus saith the LORD of hosts, The children of Israel and the children of Judah were oppressed together, and all that took them captives held them fast, they refused to let them go.

Their redeemer is strong, the LORD of hosts is his name, he shall thoroughly plead their cause, that he may give rest to the land, and disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon.

A sword is upon the Caldeans, saith the LORD, and upon the inhabitants of Babylon, and upon her princes, and upon her wise men.

A sword is upon the pillars, and they shall vote: a sword is upon her mighty men, and they shall be dismayed.

A sword is upon their horses, and upon their chariots, and upon all the mingled people that are in the midst of her, and they shall become as women: a sword is upon her treasures, and they shall be robbed.

A drought is upon her waters, and they shall be dried up: for it is the land of graven images, and they are mad upon their idols.

Therefore the wilde beasts of the desert, with the wilde beasts of the islands shall dwell there, and the owls shall dwell therein: and it shall be no more inhabited for ever: neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation.

As God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and the neighbour cities thereof, saith the LORD: so shall no man abide there, neither shall any sonne of man dwell therein.

Behold, a people shall come from the north, and a great nation, and many kings shall be raised up from the coasts of the earth.

They shall hold the bow and the lance: they are cruell and will not shew mercy: their voice shall roar like the sea, and they shall ride upon horses every one put in aray like a man to the battell, against thee, O daughter of Babylon.

The king of Babylon hath heard the report of them, and his hands ward feeble: anguish took hold of him, and pangs as of a woman in travail.

Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the swelling of Jordan, unto the habitation of the strong: but I will make them suddenly run away from her: and who is a cholen man that I may appoint over her? for who is like me, and who will appoint me the time? and who is that shepherd that will stand before me?

Therefore hear ye the counsel of the LORD, that he hath taken against Babylon, and his purposes that he hath purposed against the land of the Caldeans: surely the least of the flock shall draw them out: surely he shall make their habitation desolate with them.

At the noise of the taking of Babylon the earth is moved, and the cry is heard among the nations.

The severe judgement of God against Babylon, in revenge of Israel. 59 Jeremiah delivereth the book of this prophesie to Seraiah, so be cast into Euphrates, in token of the perpetuall sinking of Babylon.

Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will raise up against Babylon, and against them that dwell in the midst of them that rise up against me, a destroying winde;

And will send unto Babylon famers, that shall come her, and shall emprise her land: for in the day of trouble they shall be against her round about.

Against him that bendeth let the archer bend his bow, and against him that lifteth himself up in his bygadines, and spare ye not her young men, destroy ye utterly all her host.

Thus the slain shall fall in the land of the Caldeans, and they that are chyned thereof in her streets.

For Israel hath not been forsaken, nor Judah of his God, of the LORD of hosts: though their land was filled with sinne against the holy one of Israel.

Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and deliver every man his soul: be not cut off in her iniquitie: for this is the time of the LORDS vengeance: he will render unto her a recompence.

Babylon hath been a golden cap in the LORDS hand, that made all the earth drunken: the nations have drunken of her wine, therefore the nations are mad.

Babylon is suddenly fallen and destroyed: howl for her, take balm for her pain, if so be she may be healed.

We would have healed Babylon, but she is not healed: forsake her, and let us go every one into his own cuntry: for her judgement reacheth unto heaven, and is lifted up even to the skies.

The LORD hath brought forth our righteousness: come and let us declare in Zion the work of the LORD our God.

Woe shall be to the arrows: gather the shields, the LORD hath raised up the spirit of the kings of the Medes: for his debtor is against Babylon, to destroy it; because it is the vengeance of the LORD, the vengeance of his temple.

Set up the standard upon the walls of Babylon, make the watch strong, set up the watchmen, prepare the ambushes: for the LORD hath both devised and done that which he spake against the inhabitants of Babylon.

O thou that dwellest upon many waters, abundant in treasures, thine end is come, and the measure of thy covetousnesse.

The LORD of hosts hath sworn by himself, saying, Surely I will fill thee with men, as with cattellpillars, and they shall lift up a shout against thee.

We hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heaven by his understanding.

When he uttereth his voice there is a multitude of waters in the heavens, and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth, he maketh lightnings with rain, and bringeth forth the winde out of his treasures.

Every man shall be confounded by his knowledge: every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them.

They are vanity, the work of errorours: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

21 And with thee will I break in pieces the horse and his rider, and with thee will I break in pieces the chariot and his rider:

22 With thee also will I break in pieces man and woman, and with thee will I break in pieces the old and young, and with thee will I break in pieces the strong man and the maid:

23 I will also break in pieces with thee, the shepherd and his flock, and with thee will I break in pieces the husbandman and his yoke of oxen, and with thee will I break in pieces captains and rulers.

24 And I will render unto Babylon, and to all the inhabitants of Caldea, all their evil that they have done in Zion in your sight, saith the LORD.

25 Behold, I am against thee, O destroying mountain, saith the LORD, which destroyest all the earth, and I will stretch out mine hand upon thee, and roll thee down from the rocks, and will make thee a burnt mountain.

26 And they shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for foundations: but thou shalt be desolate for ever, saith the LORD.

27 Set ye up a standard in the land, blow the trumpet among the nations, prepare the nations against her, call together against her the kingdoms of Ararat, Minni, and Ashchenaz, appoint a captain against her, cause her boxes to come up as the rough caterpillars.

28 Prepare against her the nations with the kings of the Medes, the captains thereof, and all the rulers thereof, and all the land of his dominion.

29 And the land shall tremble and sorrow: for every purpose of the LORD shall be performed against Babylon, to make the land of Babylon a desolation without an inhabitant.

30 The mighty men of Babylon have forborne to fight, they have remained in their holds, their might hath failed, they became as women: they have burnt her dwelling places, her bars are broken.

31 One post shall run to meet another, and one messenger to meet another, to shew the king of Babylon that his city is taken at one end, 32 And that the passages are stopped, and the reeds they have burnt with fire, and the men of war are affrighted.

33 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, The daughter of Babylon is like a chafing floor; it is time to chafe her; yet a little while, and the time of her harvest shall come.

34 Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon hath devoured me, he hath crushed me, he hath made me an empty vessel, he hath swallowed me up like a dragon, he hath filled his belly with my delicates, he hath cast me out.

35 *The violence done to me and to my flesh, be upon Babylon, shall the inhabitant of Zion say; and my blood upon the inhabitants of Caldea, shall Jerusalem say.

36 Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will plead thy cause, and take vengeance for thee, and I will dry up her sea, and make her springs dry.

37 And Babylon shall become heaps, a dwelling place for dragons, an astonishment, and a hissing without an inhabitant.

38 They shall roar together like lions: they shall yell as lions whelms.

39 In their heat I will make their seas, and I will make them drunken; that they may rejoice, and sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the LORD.

40 I will bring them down like lambs to the slaughter, like rams with he-goats.

41 How is Shebath taken? and how is the praise of the whole earth supplied? how is Babylon become an astonishment among the nations?

42 The sea is come up upon Babylon: the is covered with the multitude of the waves thereof.

43 Her cities are a desolation, a dry land and a wilderness, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doth any son of man pass thereby.

44 And I will punish Bel in Babylon, and I will bring forth out of his mouth that which he hath swallowed up, and the nations shall not flow together any more unto him, yea the wall of Babylon shall fall.

45 *Ye people, go ye out of the midst of her, and deliver ye every man his soul from the fierce anger of the LORD.

46 And lest your heart faint, and ye fear for the rumour that shall be heard in the land: a rumour shall both come one year, and after that in another year shall come a rumour, and violence in the land, ruler against ruler.

47 Therefore behold, the days come, that I will do judgement upon the graven images of Babylon, and her whole land shall be confounded, and all her slain shall fall in the midst of her.

48 When the heaven and the earth, and all that is therein, shall sing for Babylon: for the spoilers shall come unto her from the North, saith the LORD.

49 *As Babylon hath caused the slain of Israel to fall: so at Babylon shall fall the slain of all the earth.

50 Ye that have escaped the sword, go away, stand not still: remember the LORD a far off, and let Jerusalem come into your mind.

51 We are confounded, because we have heard reproach, shame hath covered our faces: for strangers are come into the sanctuaries of the LORDS house.

52 Therefore behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will do judgement upon her graven images, and throw all her land the wounded shall groan.

53 Though Babylon should mount up to heaven, and though she should fortifie the height of her strength, yet from me shall spoilers come unto her, saith the LORD.

54 A sound of a cry cometh from Babylon, and great destruction from the land of the Caldians.

55 Because the LORD hath spoiled Babylon, and destroyed out of her the great voice when her waves do roar like great waters, a noise of their voice is uttered.

56 Because the spoiler is come upon her, even upon Babylon, and her mighty men are taken, every one of their houses is broken: for the LORD God of recompenses shall surely require.

57 And I will make drunk her princes, and her wise men, her captains, and her rulers, and her mighty men: and they shall sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the king, whose name is the LORD of hosts.

59 ¶ The word which Jeremiah the prophet commanded Seraiab the son of Neriah, the son of Zedekiah, when he went // with Zedekiah the king of Judah, into Babylon, in the fourth year of his reign; and chis Seraiab was a ll quier pince.

60 So Jeremiah wrote in a book all the evill that shoud come upon Babylon, even all these words that are written against Babylon.

61 And Jeremiah said to Seraiab, When thou comest to Babylon, and shalt see, and shalt read all these words, 62 Then shalt thou say, O LORD, thou hast spoken against this place, to cut it off, that none shall remain in it, neither man nor beast, but that it shall be † desolate for ever.

63 And it shall be when thou hast made an end of reading this book, that thou shalt binde a stone to it and cast it into the midst of Euphrates.

64 And thou shalt say, Thus shall Babylon sink, and shall not rise from the evil that I will bring upon her: and they shall be weary. Thus far are the words of Jeremiah.

CHAP. LII.

1 Zedekiah rebelleth. 4 Jerusalem is besieged and taken. 8 Zedekiahs sons killed, and his own eyes put out 12 Nebuzaradan burneth and spoileth the city. 24 He carrieth away the captives. 31 Evil-merodach advanceth Jehoiakin.

Zedekiah was * one and twenty year old when he † began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem, and his mothers name was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

2 And he did that which was evill in the sight of the LORD, according to all that Jehoiakin had done.

3 For through the anger of the LORD it came to passe in Jerusalem and Judah, till he had cast them out from his presence, that Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.

4 ¶ And it came to passe in the * ninth year of his reign, in the tenth moneth, in the tenth day of the moneth, that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came, he and all his army against Jerusalem, and pitched against it, and built fosses against it round about.

5 So the citie was besieged unto the eleventh year of king Zedekiah.

6 And in the fourth moneth, in the ninth day of the moneth, the famine was sore in the city, so that there was no bread for the people of the land.

7 Then the citie was broken up, and all the men of war fled, and went forth out of the citie by night, by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the kings garden, (now the Caldreans were by the citie round about) and they went by the way of the plain.

8 ¶ But the armie of the Caldreans pursued after the king, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho, and all his army was scattered from him.

9 Then they took the king, and carried him up unto the king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath; where he gave judgement upon him.

10 And the king of Babylon slew the sonnes of Zedekiah before his eyes: he slew also all the princes of Judah in Riblah.

11 Then he † put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and the king of Baby on bound him in // chains, and carried him to Babylon, and put him in † prison till the day of his death.

12 ¶ Now in the fifth moneth, in the tenth day of the moneth (which was the thirteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon) came Nebuzaradan // † captain of the guard, which † served the king of Babylon, into Jerusalem, 13 And burnt the house of the LORD, and the kings house; and all the houses of Jerusalem, and all the houses of the great men burnt he with fire.

14 And all the armie of the Caldreans that were with the captain of the guard, brake down all the walls of Jerusalem round about.

15 Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive certain of the poor of the people, and the residue of the people that remained in the citie, and chose that fell away, that fell to the king of Babylon, and the rest of the multitude.

16 But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left certain of the poor of the land for vine-dressers, and for husbandmen.

17 Also the * pillars of brass that were in the house of the LORD, and the bases, and the brasen sea that was in the voule of the LORD, the Caldreans brake, and carried all the brasse of them to Babylon.

18 The cauldrons also, and the // shovels, and the snuffers, and the // bowls, and the spoons, and all the vessels of brass wherewith they ministered, took they away.

19 And the basons and the // fire-pans and the bowls, and the cauldrons, and the candlesticks, and the spoons, and the cups; that which was of gold in gold, and that which was of silver in silver, took the captain of the guard away.

20 The two pillars, one sea, and twelve brasen bulks that were under the bases, which king Solomon had made in the house of the LORD: † the brasse of all these vessels was without weight.

21 And concerning the * pillars, the height of one pillar was eighteen cubits, and a † fillet of twelve cubits did compass it, and the thicknesse thereof was four fingers: it was hollow.

22 And a chapter of brass was upon it, and the height of one chapter was five cubits, with network and pomgranates upon the chapters round about, all of brass: the second pillar also and the pomgranates were like unto these.

23 And there were ninetie and six pomgranates on a side, and all the pomgranates upon the network, were an hundred round about.

24 ¶ And the captain of the guard took Seraiab the chief priest, and Septhanah the second priest, and the three keepers of the † door.

25 He took also out of the citie an eunuch, which had the charge of the men of war, and seven men of them that † were near the kings prison which were found in the citie, and the // principall scribe of the host, who mustered the people of the land, and the residue men of the people of the land that were found in the midst of the citie.

26 So Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard took them, and brought them to the king of Babylon to Riblah.

27 And the king of Babylon smote them, and put them to death in Riblah, in the land of Hamath: thus Judah was carried away captive out of his own land.

28 This is the people whom Nebuchadrezzar carried away captive in the seventh year, three thousand and three hundred and thirtie.

29 In the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar he carried away captive from Jerusalem eight hundred thirtie and two † persons.

31 And he came to pass in the seven and thirtieth year of the captivity of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, in the five and twentieth day of the month, that Evil-merodach king of Babylon, in the first year of his reign, lifted up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah, and brought him forth out of prison,

32 And spake kindly unto him, and set his throne above the throne of the kings that were with him in Babylon, 33 And changed his prison-garments : and he did continually eat bread before him all the days of his life.

34 And for his diet, there was a continuall diet given him of the king of Babylon, † every day a portion untill the day of his death, all the days of his life.

THE LAMENTATIONS OF JEREMIAH.

CHAP. I.

1 The miserable estate of Jerusalem by reason of her sin. 12 She complaineth of her grief, 18 and confesseth Gods judgement to be righteous.

How both the city sit solitary, that was full of people, how is she become as a widow? she that was great among the nations, and princesse among the provinces, how is she become tributary?

2 She weepeth sore in the night, and her tears are on her cheeks: among all her lovers she hath none to comfort her, all her friends have dealt treacherously with her, they are become her enemies.

3 Judah is gone into captivity, because of affliction, and † because of great servitude: she dwelleth among the heathen, she findeth no rest: all her persecutors overtook her between the straits.

4 The waves of Zion do mourn, because none come to the solemn feasts: all her gates are desolate: her pillars sigh, her virgins are afflicted, and she is in bitterness.

5 Her adversaries are the chief: her enemies prosper: for the Lord hath afflicted her: for the multitude of her transgressions, her children are gone into captivity before the enemy.

6 And from the daughter of Zion all her beauty is departed: her princes are become like harts that finde no pasture, and they are gone without strength before the pursuer.

7 Jerusalem remembered in the dayes of her affliction, and of her miseries, all her pleasant things that she had in the dayes of old, when her people fell into the hand of the enemy, and none did help her, the adversary saw her, and did mock at her sabbaths.

8 Jerusalem hath grievously sinned: therefore she is removed: all that honoured her, despite her, because they have seen her nakednesse: yea, she is digged, and turned backward.

9 Her filthinesse is in her skirts, she remembereth not her last end, therefore she came down wonderfully: she had no comforter: O Lord, behold my affliction: for the enemy hath magnified himself.

10 The adversary hath spread out his hand upon all her pleasant things: for she hath seen that she heathen entered into her sanctuary, whom thou didst command that they should not enter into thy congregation.

11 All her people sigh, they seek bread, they have given their pleasant things for meat || to relieve the soul: see, O Lord, and consider, for I am become vile.

12 ¶ Is it nothing to you, all ye that † passe by? behold and see, if there be any sorrow like unto my sorrow, which is done unto me, whereby the Lord hath afflicted me in the day of his fierce anger.

13 From above hath he sent fire into my bones, and it prevaileth against them: he hath spread a net for my feet, he hath turned me back: he hath made me desolate and faint all the day.

14 The yoke of my transgressions is bound by his hand: they are weighed, and come up upon my neck: he hath made my strength to fail, the Lord hath delivered me into their hands, from whom I am not able to rise up.

15 The Lord hath troden under foot all my mighty men in the midst of me, he hath called an assembly against me, to crush my young men: the Lord hath troden the virgin, the daughter of Judah, as in a wine-press.

16 For these things I weep, mine eye, mine eye runneth down with water, because the comforter that should † relieve my soul, is far from me: my children are desolate, because the enemy prevailed.

17 Zion speaketh forth her hands, and there is none to comfort her: the Lord hath commanded concerning Jacob, that his adversaries should be round about him: Jerusalem is as a menstruous woman among them.

18 The Lord is righteous, for I have rebelled against his commandment: hear I pray you, all people, and behold my sorrow: my virgins and my young men are gone into captivity.

19 I called for my lovers, but they deceived me: my priests and mine elders gave up the ghost in the city, while they sought their meat to relieve their souls.

20 Behold, O Lord, for I am in distress, my bowels are troubled: mine heart is turned within me, for I have grievously rebelled: abroad the sword bereaveth, at home there is as death.

21 They have heard that I sigh, and there is none to comfort me: all mine enemies have heard of my trouble, they are glad that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring the day that thou hast healed, and they shall be like unto me.

22 Let all their wickednesse come before thee: and do unto them, as thou hast done unto me for all my transgressions: for my sighs are many, and my heart is faint.

CHAP. II.

1 Jeremiah lamenteth the misery of Jerusalem. 20 He complaineth thereof to God.

1 How hath the Lord covered the daughter of Zion with a cloud in his anger, and cast down from heaven unto the earth the beauty of Israel, and remembered not his footstool in the day of his anger.

2 The Lord hath swallowed up all the habitations of Jacob, and hath not pitied: he hath thrown down in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Judah: he hath brought them down to the ground: he hath polluted the kingdom and the princes thereof.

3 He hath cut off in his fierce anger all the horn of Israel: he hath drawn back his right hand from before the enemy, and he burned against Jacob like a flaming fire which devoureth round about.

4 He hath bent his bow like an enemy: he stood with his right hand as an adversary, and slew all that were pleasant to the eye, in the tabernacle of the daughter of Zion: he poured out his fury like fire.

5 The Lord was as an enemy: he hath swallowed up Israel, he hath swallowed up all her palaces: he hath destroyed his strong holds, and hath increased in the daughter of Judah mourning and lamentation.

6 And he hath violently taken away his tabernacle, as if it were of a garden; he hath destroyed his places of the assembly: the Lord hath caused the solemn feasts and sabbaths to be forgotten in Zion, and hath despised in the indignation of his anger the king and the priest.

7 The Lord hath cast off his altar: he hath abhorred his sanctuary: he hath given up into the hands of the enemy the walls of her palaces; they have made a noise in the house of the Lord, as in the day of a solemn feast.

8 The Lord hath purposed to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion: he hath stretched out a line, he hath not withdrawn his hand from destroying, therefore he made the rampart and the wall to lament; they languished together.

9 Her gates are sunk into the ground; he hath destroyed and broken her bars; her king and her princes are among the Gentiles; the law is no more, her prophets also finde no vision from the Lord.

10 The elders of the daughter of Zion sit upon the ground, and keep silence: they have cast up dust upon their heads, they have girded themselves with sackcloth, the virgins of Jerusalem hang down their heads to the ground.

11 Mine eyes do fall with tears, my bowels are troubled, my liver is poured upon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people, because the children and the sucklings swoon in the streets of the city.

12 They say to their mothers, Where is corn and wine? when they swooned as the wounded in the streets of the city, when their soul was poured out in their mothers bosom.

13 What thing shall I take to witness for thee? what thing shall I liken to thee, O daughter of Jerusalem? what shall I equal to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter of Zion? for thy breach is great like the sea; who can heal thee?

14 Thy prophets have seen vain and foolish things for thee, and they have not discovered thine iniquities, to turn away thy captivity; but have seen for thee false burdens, and causes of banishment.

15 All that passe by, clap their hands at thee, they hiss and wag their head at the daughter of Jerusalem, saying, Is this the city that men call 'the perfection of beauty, the joy of the whole earth?'

16 All thine enemies have opened their mouth against thee: they hiss and gnash the teeth: they say, We have swallowed her up: certainly this is the day that we looked for: we have found, we have seen it.

17 The Lord hath done that which he had devised: he hath fulfilled his word that he had commanded in the dayes of old: he hath thrown down, and hath not pitied: and he hath caused thine enemy to rejoyce over thee, he hath set up the horn of thine adversaries.

18 Their heart cried unto the Lord, O wall of the daughter of Zion, let tears run down like a river day and night: give thy self no rest, let not the apple of thine eyes cease.

19 Arise, cry out in the night: in the beginning of the watches pour out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift up thy hands towards him, for the life of thy young children, that faint for hunger in the top of every street.

20 Behold, O Lord, and consider to whom thou hast done this: shall the women eat their fruit, and children of a span long? shall the priest and the prophet be slain in the sanctuary of the Lord?

21 The young and the old lie on the ground in the streets, my virgins and my young men are fallen by the sword: thou hast slain them in the day of thy anger, thou hast killed and not pitied.

22 Thou hast called as in a solemn day my terrors round about, so that in the day of the Lord's anger none escaped nor remained: those that I have swaddled and brought up, hath mine enemy consumed.

CHAP. III.

1 The faithfull bewail their calamities. 22 By the mercies of God they nourish their hope. 37 They acknowledge Gods justice. 55 They pray for deliverance, 64 and vengeance on their enemies.

I Am the man that hath seen affliction by the rod of his wrath.

2 He hath led me and brought me into darknesse, but not into light.

3 Surely against me is he turned, he turneth his hand against me all the day.

4 My flesh and my skin hath he made old, he hath broken my bones.

5 He hath builded against me, and compassed me with gall and travell.

6 He hath set me in dark places, as they that be dead of old.

7 He hath hedged me about, that I cannot get out: he hath made my chain heavy.

8 Also when I cry and shout, he smutted out my prayer.

9 He hath enclosed my wayes with heuon stone; he hath made my paths crooked.

10 He was unto me as a bear lying in wait, and as a lion in secret places.

11 He hath turned aside my wayes, and pulled me in pieces: he hath made me desolate.

12 He hath bent his bow, and set me as a mark for the arrow.

13 He hath caused the arrows of his quiver to enter into my reins.

14 I was a decision to all my people, and these song all the day.

15 He hath filled me with bitterness, he hath made me drunken with wormwood.

16 He hath also broken my teeth with gravel stones, he hath covered me with ashes.

17 And thou hast removed my soul far off from peace: I forgot prosperity.
18 And I said, My strength and my hope is perished from the LORD:
19 I Remembering mine affliction and my misery, the wood and the gail.
20 My soul hath them till in remembrance, and is humbled in me.
21 This I recall to my minde, therefore have
I hope.
22 It is of the LORDS mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions fail not.
23 They are new every morning: great is thy faithfulness.
24 The LORD is my portion, saith my soul, therefore will I hope in him.
25 The LORD is good unto them that wait for him; to the soul that seeketh him.
26 It is good that a man should both hope and quietly wait for the salvation of the LORD.
27 It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his youth.
28 He stretcheth alone, and keepeth silence, because he hath borne upon him.
29 He putteth his mouth in the dust, if so be there may be hope.
30 He giveth his cheek to him that smiteth him, he is filled full with reproach.
31 For the Lord will not cast off for ever.
32 But though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies.
33 For he doth not afflict willingly, nor grieve
the children of men.
34 To crush under his feet all the prisoners of the earth,
35 To turn aside the right of a man before the face of the most high.
36 To subvert a man in his cause, the Lord appropieth not.
37 Who is he that saith, and it cometh to pass, when the Lord commandeth it not?
38 Out of the mouth of the most High proceedeth not evil and good.
39 Therefore doth a living man complain,
a man for the punishment of his sins:
40 Let us search and trie our wayes, and turn again to the LORD.
41 Let us lift up our heart with our hands unto God in the heavens.
42 We have transgressed and have rebelled, thou hast not pardoned.
43 Thou hast covered with anger, and persecu-ted us: thou hast slain, thou hast not pitied.
44 Thou hast covered thy self with a cloud, that our prayer should not passe thy word.
45 Thou hast made us as the off-scouring and refuse in the midst of the people.
46 All our enemies have opened their mouthes against us.
47 * Fear and a snare is come upon us, desolation and destruction.
48 Mine eye runneth down with rivers of water, for the destruction of the daughter of my people.
49 Mine eye tricketh down and ceaseth not,
without any intermission:
50 Till the LORD look down and behold, from heaven.
51 Mine eye affecteth my heart, because of all the daughters of my city.
52 Mine enemies chafed me sore like a bird, without cause.
53 They have cut off my life in the dungeon, and cast a stone upon me.

ear at my breathing, at my cry.
57 Thou dwellest near in the day that I called upon thee: thou saidst, Fear not.
58 O LORD, thou hast pleaded the causes of my soul, thou hast redeemed my life.
59 O LORD, thou hast seen my wrong, judge thou my cause.
60 Thou hast seen all their vengeance, and all their imaginations against me.
61 Thou hast heard their reproach, O LORD, and all their imaginations against me.
62 The lips of those that rose up against me, and their device against me all the day.
63 Behold their sitting down and their rising up, I am their music.
64 I Render unto them a recompense, O
LORD, according to the work of their hands.
65 Give them sorrow of heart, thy curse unto them.
66 Persecute and destroy them in anger, from under the heavens of the LORD.

CHAP. III.

1 Zion bewaileth her pitifull estate. 13 She confesseth her sins. 21 Edom is threatened. 22 Zion is comforted.
How is the gold become dim! how is the most fine gold changed! the stones of the sanctuary are poured out in the top of every street.
2 The precious sons of Zion, comparable to fine gold, how are they esteemed as earthen pitchers, the work of the hands of the potter!
3 Even the sea-monsters draw out the breast, they give suck to their young ones: the daughter of my people is become cruel, like the ostriches in the wilderness.
4 The tongue of the sucking child cleaveth to the roof of his mouth for thirst: the young children ask bread, and no man breaketh it unto them.
5 They that did feed delicately, are desolate in the streets: they that were brought up in scarlet, embrace dung hills.
6 For the punishment of the iniquity of the daughter of my people, is greater then the punishment of the lin of Sodom, that was overthrown as in a moment, and no hands stayed on her.
7 Her Nazarites were purer then snow, they were whiter then milk, they were more ruddy in body then rubies, their polishing was of sapphire.
8 Their visage is blacker then a coal: they are not known in the streets: their skin cleaveth to their bones: it is withered, it is become like a stick.
9 They that be slain with the sword, are better then they that be slain with hunger: for these † pine away, stricken throught for want of the fruits of the field.
10 The hands of the pitifull women have sodden their own children, they were their meat in the destruction of the daughter of my people.
11 The LORD hath accomplished his fury, he hath poured out his fierce anger, and hath kindled a fire in Zion, and it hath devoured the foundations thereof.
12 The kings of the earth, and all the inhabitants of the world would not have believed, that the adversary and the enemy should have entered into the gates of Jerusalem.
13 * For the sins of her prophets, and the in-iquities of her priests, that have hid the blood of the just in the midst of her;

15 They cryed unto them, Depart ye, || it is unclean, depart, touch not, when they fled away and wandered : they said among the heathen,
They shall no more sojourn there.
16 The anger of the LORD hath divided them; he will no more regard them : they respected not the persons of the priests, they favoured not the elders.

17 As for us, our eyes as yet failed for our vain help : in our watching we have watched for a nation that could not save us.

18 They hunt our steps that we cannot go in our streets, our end is near, our dayes are fulfilled, for our end is come.

19 Our persecuters are swifter then the eagles of the heaven; they pursued us upon the mountains, they laid wait for us in the wilderness.

20 The breath of our nostrils, the anointed of the LORD was taken in their pits, of whom we said, Under his shadow we shall lye among the heathen.

21 Rejoyce and be glad, O daughter of Edom, that dwellest in the land of Uz, the cup also shall passe thorow unto thee: thou shalt be drunken, and shalt make thy self naked.

22 The punishment of thine iniquity is accomplished, O daughter of Zion, he will no more carry thee away into captivity: he will visit thine iniquity,
O daughter of Edom, he will discover thy sins.

CHAP. V.

A pitfull complaint of Zion, in prayer unto God.

Remember, O LORD, what is come upon us : consider and behold our reproach.

Our inheritance is turned to strangers, our houses to aliens.

We are orphans and fatherlesse, our mothers are as widows.

4 We have drunken our water for money, our wood is sold unto us.

5 Our necks are under persecution: we labour and have no rest.

6 We have given the hand to the Egyptians, and to the Assyrians, to be satisfied with bread.

7 Our fathers have sinned and are not, and we have born their iniquities.

8 Servants have ruled over us : there is none that doth deliver us out of their hand.

9 We eat our bread with the perill of our lives, because of the sword of the wilderness.

10 Our skin was black like an oven, because of the terrible famine.

11 They ravished the women in Zion, and the maids in the cities of Judah.

12 Princes are hanged up by their hand, the faces of elders were not honoured.

13 They took the young men to grind, and the children fell under the wood.

14 The elders have ceased from the gate, the young men from their musick.

15 The joy of our heart is ceased, our dance is turned into mourning.

16 The crown is fallen from our head : wo unto us that we have sinned.

17 For this our heart is faint, for these things our eyes are dim.

18 Because of the mountain of Zion, which is desolate, the fowls walk upon it.

19 Thou, O LORD, remainest for ever : thy throne from generation to generation.

20 Wherefore dost thou forget us for ever, and forsake us so long time ?

21 Turn thou us unto thee, O LORD, and we shall be turned : renew our dayes as of old.

22 But thou hast utterly rejected us : thou art very wroth against us.

1 The time of Ezekeiels prophetic at Chebar. 4 His vision of four cherubims, 15 of the four wheels, 26 and, of the glory of GOD.

NOW it came to passe in the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, in the fifth day of the moneth, (as I was among the captives by the river of Chebar) that the heavens were opened, and I saw visions of God.

2 In the fifth day of the mo-neth, (which was the fifth year of King Zedekias captivity)

3 The word of the LORD came expressly unto Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans, by the river Chebar, and the hand of the LORD was there upon him.

4 And I looked, and behold, a whitelinde came out of the north, a great cloud, and a fire infoldding it self, and a brightnesse was about it, and out of the midst thereof as the colour of amber, out of the midst of the fire.

5 Also out of the midst thereof came the likenesse of four living creatures. And this was their appearance, They had the likenesse of a man.

6 And every one had four faces, and every one four wings.

7 And their feet were straight feet, and the sole of their feet was like the sole of a calves foot, and they sparkled like the colour of burnished brass.

8 And they had the hands of a man under their wings on their four sides, and they four had their faces and their wings.

9 Their wings were joynd one to another, they turned not when they went every one straight forward.

10 As for the likenesse of their faces, they four had the face of a man, and the face of a lion on the right side, and they four had the face of an ox on the left side : they four also had the face of an eagle.

11 Thus were their faces: and their wings were stretched upward, two wings of every one were joynd one to another, & two covered their bodies.

12 And they went every one straight forward :
whither the spirit was to go, they went : and they turned not when they went.

13 As for the likenesse of the living creatures, their appearance was like burning coals of fire, and like the appearance of lamps: it went up and down among the living creatures, and the fire was bright, and out of the fire went forth lightning.

14 And the living creatures ran, and returned as the appearance of a flash of lightning.

15 ¶ Now as I beheld the living creatures, behold, one wheel upon the earth by the living creatures, with his four faces.

16 The appearance of the wheels, and their work was like unto the colour of a beryl: and they four had one likeness, and their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel in the middle of a wheel.

17 When they went, they went upon their four sides; and they returned not when they went.

18 As for their stings, they were like high that they were dreadful, and their || rings were full of eyes round about them four.

19 And when the living creatures went, the wheels went by them: and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up.

20 Whither soever the spirit was to go, they went, thither was their spirit to go, and the wheels were lifted up over against them: for the spirit || of the living creature was in the wheels.

21 When those went, these went; and when those stood, these stood; and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up over against them: for the spirit || of the living creature was in the wheels.

22 And the likeness of the firmament upon the heads of the living creature was as the colour of the terrible crystal, stretched forth over their heads above.

23 And under the firmament were their wings straight, the one toward the other, every one had two which covered on this side, and every one had two which covered on that side their bodies.

24 And when they went, I heard the noise of their wings, like the noise of great waters, as the voice of the Almighty, the voice of speech as the noise of an host: when they stood they let down their wings.

25 And there was a voice from the firmament, that was over their heads, when they stood, and had let down their wings.

26 ¶ And above the firmament that was over their heads, was the likeness of a throne, as the appearance of a sapphire stone, and upon the likeness of the throne was the likeness as the appearance of a man above upon it.

27 And I saw as the colour of amber, as the appearance of fire round about within it: from the appearance of his loyns even upwards, and from the appearance of his loyns even downward, I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and it had brightness round about.

28 As the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about. ¶ This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the LORD: and when I saw it, I fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spake.

CHAP. II.

1 Ezekiels commission. 6 His instruction. 9 The roll of his heavie prophesie.

And he said unto me, Son of man, stand upon thy feet, and I will speak unto thee.

2 And the spirit entered into me, when he spake unto me, and let me upon my feet, that I heard him that spake unto me.

3 And he said unto me, Son of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to a rebellious nation that hath rebelled against me, they and their fathers have transgressed against me, even unto this very day.

4 For they are ¶ impudent children and stiff hearted: I do send thee unto them, and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God.

5 And they, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear, (for they are a rebellious house) yet shall know that there hath been a prophet among them.

6 ¶ And thou son of man be not afraid of them, neither be afraid of their words, though || byers and thornes be with thee, and thou dost dwell among scorpions: be not afraid of their words, nor be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house.

7 And thou shalt speak my words unto them, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear, for they are ¶ most rebellious.

8 But thou, son of man, hear what I say unto thee, Be not thou rebellious like that rebellious house: open thy mouth and eat that I give thee.

9 ¶ And when I looked, behold, an hand was sent unto me, and lo, a roll of a book was therein.

10 And he spread it before me, and it was written within and without, and there was written therein lamentations, and mourning, and wo.

CHAP. III.

1 Ezekiel eateth the roll. 4 God encourageth him. 15 God sheweth him the rule of prophesie. 22 God shutteth and openeth the prophesie mouth.

Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, eat that thou findest; eat this roll, and go speak unto the house of Israel.

2 So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat that roll.

3 And he said unto me, Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee. Then did I eat it, and it was in my mouth as honey for sweetness.

4 ¶ And he said unto me, Son of man, go get thee unto the house of Israel, and speak with my words unto them.

5 For thou art not sent to a people ¶ of a strange speech, and of an hard language, but to the house of Israel.

6 Not to many people ¶ of a strange speech, and of an hard language, whose words thou canst not understand: ¶ surely, had I sent thee to them, they would have hearkened unto thee.

7 But the house of Israel will not hearken unto thee: for they will not hearken unto me: for all the house of Israel are ¶ impudent and hardhearted.

8 Behold, I have made thy face strong against their faces, and thy forehead strong against their foreheads:

9 As an adamant harder than flint have I made thy forehead: ¶ fear them not, neither be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house.

10 Moreover, he said unto me, Son of man, all my words that I shall speak unto thee, receive in thine heart, and hear with thine ears.

11 And go, get thee to them of the captivity, unto the people, and speak unto them, and tell them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear.

12 When the spirit took me up, and I heard he said me a voice of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of the LORD from his place.

13 I heard also the noise of the wings of the living creatures that ¶ touched one another, and the noise of the wheels over against them, and a noise of a great rushing.

14 So the spirit lifted me up, and took me away, and I went in bitterness, in the heart of my spirit, but the hand of the LORD was strong upon me.

15 ¶ Then I came to them of the captivity at Tel-abib, that dwelt by the river of Chebar, and I sat where they sat, and remained there astonished among them seven days.

16 And it came to pass at the end of seven days, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 17 Son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me.

18 When I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die, and thou tellest him not warning, nor speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life: the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

19 Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor forsake his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou shalt be delivered thy soul.

20 Again, when a righteous man doth turn from his righteousness, and commit iniquity, and I lay a stumbling block before him, he shall die: because thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his righteousness which he hath done shall not be remembered; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

21 Nevertheless, if thou warn the righteous man, that the righteous sin not, and he doth not sin, he shall surely live, because he is warned: also thou shalt deliver thy soul.

22 ¶ And the hand of the LORD was there upon me, and he said unto me, Arise, go forth into the plain, and I will there talk with thee.

23 Then I arose, and went forth into the plain, and behold, the glory of the LORD stood there, as the glory which I saw by the river of Chebar; and I fell on my face.

24 And the spirit entered into me, and set me upon my feet, and spake with me, and said unto me, Go, shut thy self within thine house.

25 But thou, O son of man, behold, they shall put hands upon thee, and shall bind thee with them, and thou shalt not go out among them.

26 And I will make thy tongue cleave to the roof of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be to them a reprover: for they are a rebellious house.

27 But when I speak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt lay unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, he that heareth, let him hear, and he that seeth, let him see; for they are a rebellious house.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Under the type of a siege, is shewed the time from the defection of Jeroboam to the captivity. 2 By the provision of the siege is shewed the hardness of the famine.

THOU also son of man, take thee a tile, and lay it before thee, and pour water upon it the city, even Jerusalem.

2 And lay siege against it, and build a fort against it, and cast a mound against it: set the camp also against it, and set battering rams against it round about.

3 Moreover, take thou unto thee an iron pan, and set it for a wall of iron between thee and the city, and let thy face against it, and it shall be be-lieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it: this shall be a sign to the house of Israel.

4 Lie thou also upon thy left side, and lay the iniquity of the house of Israel upon it: according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon it, thou shalt bear their iniquity.

5 For I have laid upon thee three years of their iniquity, according to the number of the days, three hundred and ninety days: so shalt thou bear the iniquity of the house of Israel.

6 And when thou hast accomplished them, lie again on thy right side, and thou shalt bear the iniquity of the house of Judah forty days: I have appointed thee for each day for a year.

7 Therefore thou shalt set thy face toward the siege of Jerusalem, and thine arm shall be uncovered, and thou shalt prophesy against it.

8 And behold, I will lay hands upon thee, and thou shalt not turn thee from one side to another, till thou hast ended the days of thy siege.

9 ¶ Take thou also unto thee, wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentiles, and millet, and chickpeas, and put them in one vessel, and make thee bread thereof, according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon thy side: three hundred and ninety days shalt thou eat thereof.

10 And the meat which thou shalt eat, shall be by weight twenty shekels a day: from time to time shalt thou eat it.

11 Thou shalt drink also water by measure, the fifth part of an hin: from time to time shalt thou drink.

12 And thou shalt eat it as barley cakes, and thou shalt bake it with dung that cometh out of man in their sight.

13 And the LORD said, When thus shall the children of Israel eat their desired bread among the Gentiles, whither I will drive them.

14 Then said I, Ah Lord GOD, behold, my soul hath not been polluted: for from my youth up even till now, have I not eaten of that which dieth of it self, or is torn in pieces, neither came there abominable flesh into my mouth.

15 Then he said unto me, Lo, I have given thee cows dung for mans dung, and thou shalt prepare thy bread therewith.

16 Moreover, he said unto me, Son of man, behold, I will break the staffe of bread in Jerusalem, and they shall eat bread by weight, and with care, and they shall drink water by measure, and with astonishment.

17 That they may want bread and water, and be skonted one with another, and consume away for their iniquity.

CHAP. V.

1 Under the type of hair, is shewed the judgement of Jerusalem for their rebellion, 12 by famine, sword and dispersion.

AD thou son of man, take thee a sharp knife, and take thee a barbores razor, and cause it to passe upon thine head, and upon thy beard, then take the balances to weigh and divide the hair.

2 Thou shalt burn with fire a third part in the midst of the city, when the doles of the siege are fulfilled, & thou shalt take a third part, and smite about it with a knife, and a third part thou shalt scatter in the wind, and I will draw out a flood after them.

3 Thou shalt also take thereof a few in number, and burn them in thy skirts.

4 Then take of them again, and cast them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire; for thereof shall a fire come forth into all the house of Israel.

saem : I have set it in the midst of the nations and countreys that are round about her.

6 And she hath changed my judgements into wickednesse more then the nations, and my statutes more then the countreys that are round about her : for they have refused my judgements, and my statutes, they have not walked in them.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Because ye multiplied more then the nations that are round about you, and have not walked in my statutes, neither have kept my judgements, neither have done according to the judgement of the nations that are round about you :

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I, even I am against thee, and will execute judgements in the midst of thee in the sight of the nations.

9 And I will do in thee that which I have not done, and whereunto I will not do any more the like : because of all thine abominations.

10 Therefore the fathers shall eat the sons in the midst of thee, and the sons shall eat their fathers, and I will execute judgements in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter into all the windes.

11 Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, Surely because thou hast defiled my sanctuary with all thy detestable things, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also diminish thee, neither shall mine eye spare, neither will I have any pitty.

12 ¶ A third part of thee shall die with the pestilence, and with famine shall they be consumed in the midst of thee : and a third part shall fall by the sword round about thee : and I will scatter a third part into all the windes, and I will draw out a sword after them.

13 Thus shall mine anger be accomplished, and I will cause my fury to rest upon them, and I will be comforted : and they shall know that I the LORD have spoken it in my zeal, when I have accomplished my fury in them.

14 Moreover, I will make thee waste, and a reproach among the nations that are round about thee, in the sight of all that passe by.

15 So it shall be a reproach and a taunt, an instruction and an astonishment unto the nations that are round about thee, when I shall execute judgements in thee in anger and in fury, and in furious rebukes : I the LORD have spoken it.

16 ¶ When I shall send upon them the evil arrows of famine, which shall be for their destruction, and which I will send to destroy you : and I will increase the famine upon you, and will break your staffe of bread.

17 So will I send upon you famine, and evil beasts, and they shall bereave thee ; and pestilence and blood shall passe thorow thee, and I will bring the sword upon thee : I the LORD have spoken it.

CHAP. VI.

1 The judgement of Israel for their Idolatry. 8 A remnant shall be blessed. 11 The faithfull are exhorted to lament their calamities.

And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, set thy face towards the mountains of Israel, and prophesse against them,

3 And say, Ye mountains of Israel hear the word of the Lord GOD, Thus saith the Lord GOD to the mountains and to the hills, to the rivers and to the valleys, Behold, I, even I will bring a sword upon you, and I will destroy your high places.

4 And your altars shall be desolate, and your images shall be broken : and I will cast down your slain men before your idols.

5 And I will lay the dead carcases of the children of Israel before their idols, and I will scatter your bones round about your altars.

6 In all your dwelling places the cities shall be laid waste, and the high places shall be desolate ; that your altars may be laid waste, and made desolate, and your idols may be broken and cease, and your images may be cut down, and your works may be abolished.

7 And the slain shall fall in the midst of you, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

8 ¶ Yet will I leave a remnant, that ye may have some that shall escape the sword among the nations, when ye shall be scattered thorow the countreys.

9 And they that escape of you shall remember me among the nations, whither they shall be carried captives, because I am broken with their whores heart which hath departed from me, and with their eyes which go a whooring after their idols : and they shall loath themselves for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations.

10 And they shall know that I am the LORD, and that I have not said in vain, that I would do this evil unto them.

11 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD, Smite with thine hand, and stamp with thy foot, and say, Alas, for all the evil abominations of the house of Israel : for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

12 He that is far off shall die of the pestilence, and he that is near shall fall by the sword, and he that remaineth and is belleged shall die by the famine : thus will I accomplish my fury upon them.

13 Then shall ye know that I am the LORD, when their slain men shall be among their idols round about their altars, upon every high hill in all the tops of the mountains, and under every green tree, and under every thick oak, the place where they did offer sweet savour to all their idols.

14 So will I stretch out my hand upon them, and make the land desolate ; yea, I more desolate then the wilderness towards Diblath, in all their habitations, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAP. VII.

1 The final desolation of Israel. 16 The mournfull repentance of them that escape. 20 The enemies desfile the sanctuary because of the Israelites abominations. 23 Under the type of a chain, is shewed their miserable captivity.

Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Also thou son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD unto the land of Israel, An end, the end is come upon the four corners of the land.

3 Now is the end come upon thee, and I will send mine anger upon thee, and will judge thee according to thy wayes, and will recompense upon thee all thine abominations.

4 And mine eye shall not spare thee, neither will I have pitty : but I will recompense thy wayes upon thee, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

5 Thus saith the Lord GOD, An evil, an only evil, behold, is come.

7 The morning is come upon thee, O thou that dwelleſt in the land: the time is come, the day of trouble is neer, and not thee: ſounding againe of the mountains.

8 Now will I ſhortly pour out my fury upon thee, and accompliſh mine anger upon thee: and I will iudge thee according to thy wayes, and will recompenſe thee for all thy abominations.

9 And mine eye ſhall not ſpare, neither will I have pittie: I will recompenſe thee according to thy wayes, and thine abominations that are in the miſt of thee, and ye ſhall know that I am the LORD that ſpeaketh.

10 Behold the day, behold, it is come, the morning is gone forth, the rod hath bloſomed, pride hath budded.

11 Uplonde is riſen up (into a rod of wickedneſſe: none of them ſhall remain, nor of their multitude, nor of any of them), neither ſhall there be waiting for them.

12 The time is come, the day watcheth neer, let not the buyer rejoyce, nor the ſeller mourn: for wrath is upon all the multitude thereof.

13 For the ſeller ſhall not returne to that which he ſold, † although they were yet alive: for the viſion is touching the whole multitude thereof, which ſhall not returne: neither ſhall any ſtrengthen himſelf in † the iniquity of his liſe.

15 The word is without, and the penitence and the famine which in he that is in the field ſhall die with the word; and he that is in the cite, famine and penitence ſhall devour him.

16 ¶ But they that eſcape of them, ſhall eſcape, and ſhall be on the mountains like doves of the valleys, all of them mourning, every one for his iniquity.

17 All hands ſhall be feeble, and all knees ſhall be weak as water.

18 They ſhall alſo * gird themſelves with ſackcloth, and doctour ſhall cover them, and ſhame ſhall be upon all faces, and baldneſſe upon all their heads.

20 ¶ As for the beauty of his ornament, he ſet it in maieſtie: but they made the images of their abominations, and of their detestable things therein: therefore have I ſet it far from them.

21 And I will give it into the hands of the ſtrangers for a prey, and to the wicked of the earth for a ſpoil, and they ſhall pollute it.

22 ¶ Yet ſay will I turn alſo from them, and they ſhall pollute my ſecret place: for the ſcoundrels ſhall enter into it, and deſile it.

23 ¶ Make a chain: for the land is full of bloody crimes, and the cite is full of violence.

24 ¶ Therefore I will bring the woſt of the heathen, and they ſhall poſſeſſe their houſes: I will alſo make the pomp of the ſtrong to ceaſe, and theyr holy places ſhall be deſiled.

25 ¶ Deſtruction cometh, and they ſhall ſeek peace, and there ſhall be none.

26 ¶ Which ſhall come upon miſchiefe, and enmour ſhall be upon rumour, then ſhall they ſeek a viſion of the prophet: but the law ſhall periſh from the prieſt, and counſil from the ancients.

27 The king ſhall mourn, and the prince ſhall be clothed with deſolation, and the hands of the people of the land ſhall be troubled: I will do unto them after their way, and according to their deſerts will I iudge them, and they ſhall know that I am the LORD.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Ezekiel in a viſion of God at Jerusalem, ſhewed the image of jealousie, 7 the chambers of imagery, 13 the mourners for Tammuz, 15 the worſhippers towards the ſun. 18 Gods wrath for their idolatry.

AND it came to paſſe in the ſixth year, in the ſixth moneth, in the fifth day of the moneth as I ſat in mine houſe, and the elders of Judah ſat before me, that the hand of the Lord GOD ſell there upon me.

2 Then I beheld, and lo, a likeneſſe as the appearance of fire: from the appearance of his loyns even downward, fire; and from his loyns even upward, as the appearance of brightneſſe, as the colour of amber.

3 And he * put forth the form of an hand, and took me by a lock of mine head, and the ſpirit lift me up between the earth and the heaven, and brought me in the viſions of God to Jeruſalem, to the doore of the inner gate, that looketh toward the north, where was the ſeat of the image of jealousie, which provoked to jealousie.

* Dan. 5. 5.

4 And behold, the glory of the God of Iſrael was there, according to the viſion that I * ſaw in the plain.

* Chap. 1. 23

5 ¶ Then ſaid he unto me, Sonne of man, liſt up thine eyes now the way towards the north: ſo I liſt up mine eyes the way toward the north, and behold, northward at the gate of the altar, this image of jealousie in the entry.

6 He ſaid furthermore unto me, Sonne of man, ſeeſt thou what they do? even the great abominations that the houſe of Iſrael committeth here, that I ſhould go farre off from my ſanctuary: but turn thee yet againe, and thou ſhalt ſee greater abominations.

7 ¶ And he brought me to the doore of the court; and when I looked, behold, a hole in the wall.

8 Then ſaid he unto me, Sonne of man, dig now in the wall: and when I had digged in the wall, behold a doore.

9 And he ſaid unto me, So in, and behold the wicked abominations that they do here.

10 So I went in and ſaw, and behold, every form of creeping things, and abominable beaſts, and all the tools of the houſe of Iſrael pourtraied upon the wall round about.

11 And there ſtood before them ſeventy men of the ancients of the houſe of Iſrael, and in the miſt of them ſtood Jaazaniab the ſon of Shabban, with every man his censer in his hand, and a thicke cloud of incenſe went up.

12 Then ſaid he unto me, Son of man, haſt thou ſeen what the ancients of the houſe of Iſrael do in the dark, every man in the chambers of his imagery: for they ſay, * The LORD ſeeeth us not, the LORD hath forſaken the earth.

* Chap. 9. 9.

13 ¶ He ſaid alſo unto me, Turn thee yet againe, and thou ſhalt ſee greater abominations that they do.

14 Then he brought me to the doore of the gate of the LORDS houſe, which was towards the north, and behold, there ſat women weeping for Tammuz.

15 ¶ Then ſaid he unto me, Haſt thou ſeen

chis, O some of man: turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations than these.

16 And he brought me into the inner court of the LORDS house, and behold, at the door of the temple of the LORD, between the porch and the altar, were about five and twenty men, with their backs toward the temple of the LORD, and their faces toward the east, and they worshipped the sunne toward the east.

17 ¶ Then he said unto me, Hast thou seen this, O some of man? Is it a light thing to the house of Judah, that they commit the abominations, which they commit here: for they have filled the land with violence, and have returned to provoke me to anger: and to they put the branch to their nose.

18 Therefore will I also deal in fury: mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: and though they cry in mine ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them.

CHAP. IX.

1 A vision whereby is shewed the preservation of some, and the destruction of the rest. 8 God cannot be intreated for them.

¶ He cried also in mine ears with a loud voice saying, Cause them that have charge over the city, to draw near, even every man with his destroying weapon in his hand.

2 And behold, six men came from the way of the higher gate, which lieth toward the north, and every man had a slaughter-weapon in his hand: and one man among them was clothed with linen, with a writers inkhorn by his side, and they went in and stood beside the brazen altar.

3 And the glory of the God of Israel was gone up from the Cherub whereupon he was, to the threshold of the house, and he called to the man clothed with linen, which had the writers inkhorn by his side:

4 And the LORD said unto him, Go thorow the midst of the city, thorow the midst of Jerusalem, and set a mark upon the foreheads of the men that sigh, and that cry for all the abominations that be done in the midst thereof.

5 ¶ And to the others he said in mine hearing, Go ye after him thorow the city, and smite: let not your eye spare, neither have ye pity.

6 Say ¶ utterly old and young, both maids and little children, and women: but come not near any man upon whom is the mark; and begin at my sanctuary: then they began at the ancient men which were before the house.

7 And he said unto them, Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slain, so ye shall say: and they went forth and slew in the city.

8 ¶ And it came to pass while they were slaying them, and I was left, that I fell upon my face and cried, and said, Ah, Lord GOD, wilt thou destroy all the residue of Israel, in thy pouring out of thy fury upon Jerusalem?

9 Then said he unto me, The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceeding great, and the land is full of blood, and the city full of iniquity: for they say, The LORD hath forsaken the earth, and the LORD seeth not.

10 And as for me also, mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity, but I will recompense their way upon their head.

11 And behold, the man clothed with linen, which had the inkhorn by his side, reported the matter, saying, I have done as thou hast commanded me.

CHAP. X.

1 The vision of the coals of fire to be scattered over the citie. 8 The vision of the cherubims.

¶ Then I looked, and behold, in the firmament that was above the head of the cherubims, there appeared over them, as it were a sapphire stone, as the appearance of the likeness of a throne.

2 And he spake unto the man clothed with linen, and said, Go in between the wheels, even under the cherub, and fill thine hand with coals of fire from between the cherubims, and scatter them over the citie. And he went in my sight.

3 Now the cherubims stood on the right side of the house, when the man went in, and the cloud filled the inner court.

4 ¶ Then the glory of the LORD went up from the cherub, and stood over the threshold of the house, and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of the LORDS glory.

5 And the sound of the cherubims wings was heard even to the utter court, as the voice of the Almighty God when he speaketh.

6 And it came to pass, that when he had commanded the man clothed with linen, saying, Take fire from between the wheels, from between the cherubims; then he went in, and stood beside the wheels.

7 And one cherub stretched forth his hand from between the cherubims unto the fire that was between the cherubims, and took thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed with linen: who took it, and went out.

8 ¶ And there appeared in the cherubims, the form of a mans hand under their wings.

9 And when I looked, behold, the four wheels by the cherubims, one wheel by one cherub, and another wheel by another cherub: and the appearance of the wheel was as the colour of a beryl stone.

10 And as for their appearances, they four had one likeness, as if a wheel had been in the midst of a wheel.

11 ¶ When they went, they went upon their four sides; they turned not as they went, but to the place whither the head looked, they followed it: they turned not as they went.

12 And their whole body, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels were full of eyes round about, even the wheels that they four had.

13 As for the wheels, it was cried unto them in my hearing, O wheel.

14 And every one had four faces: the first face was the face of a cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

15 And the cherubims were lifted up: this is the living creature that I saw by the river of Chebar.

16 And when the cherubims went, the wheels went by them: and when the cherubims lift up their wings, so mount up from the earth, the same wheels also turned not from beside them.

17 ¶ When they stood, these stood, and when they were lifted up, these lift up themselves also: for the spirit of the living creature was in them.

18 ¶ Then the glory of the LORD departed from off the threshold of the house, and stood over the cherubims.

19 And the cherubims lift up their wings, and mounted up from the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheels also were besides them, and 20 This is the living creature that I saw under the God of Israel, by the river of Chebar, and I knew that they were the cherubims.

21 Every one had four faces apiece, and every one four wings, and the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings.

22 And the likeness of their faces was the same faces which I saw by the river of Chebar, their appearances and themselves: they went every one straight forward.

CHAP. XI.

1 The presumption of the Princes. 4 Their sine and judgement. 13 Ezekiel complaining, God sheweth him his purpose in having a remnant, 21 and punishing the wicked. 22 The glory of God leaveth the city. 24 Ezekiel is returned to the captivity.

Moreover, the spirit lift me up, and brought me unto the east-gate of the LORDS house, which looked east-ward: and behold, at the door of the gate five and twenty men; among whom I saw Jaazaniah the sonne of Azur, and Pelatiah the son of Benatah, princes of the people.

2 Then said he unto me, Son of man, these are the men that devise mischief, and give wicked counsel in this city.

3 Which say, It is not<sup>r</sup> meet, let us build houses: for this city is the cauldron, and we be the flesh.

4 Therefore prophesse against them, prophesse, O Son of man.

5 And the spirit of the LORD fell upon me, and said unto me, Speak, Thus saith the LORD, Thus have ye said, O house of Israel: for I know the things that come into your mind, every one of them.

6 Ye have multiplied your slain in this city, and ye have filled the streets thereof with the slain.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Your slain whom ye have laid in the midst of it, they are the flesh, and this city is the cauldron: but I will bring you forth out of the midst of it.

8 Ye have feared the sword, and I will bring a sword upon you, saith the Lord GOD.

9 And I will bring you out of the midst thereof, and deliver you into the hands of strangers, and will execute judgements among you.

10 Ye shall fall by the sword, I will judge you in the border of Israel, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

11 This city shall not be your cauldron: neither shall ye be the flesh in the midst thereof, but I will judge you in the border of Israel.

12 And ye shall know that I am the LORD: for ye have not walked in my statutes, neither executed my judgements, but have done after the manners of the heathen that are round about you.

13 And it came to passe when I prophesied, that Pelatiah the sonne of Benatah died: then fell I down upon my face, and cryed with a loud voice, and said, Ah Lord GOD, wilt thou make a full end of the remnant of Israel?

14 Again the word of LORD came unto me, saying,

15 Son of man, thy brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel wholly are they, unto whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, Get ye farre from the LORD: unto us is this land given in possession.

16 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Although I have cast them far off among the heathen, and although I have scattered them among the countreys, yet will I be to them as a little sanctuary in the countreys where they shall come.

17 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord GOD, I will even gather you from the people, and assemble you out of the countreys where ye have been scattered, and I will give you the land of Israel.

18 And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all the detestable things thereof, and all the abominations thereof from thence.

19 And I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within you; and I will take the stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them an heart of flesh:

20 That they may walk in my statutes, and keep mine ordinances, and do them: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

21 But as for them whose heart walketh after the heart of their detestable things, and their abominations, I will recompense their way upon their own heads, saith the Lord GOD.

22 And then did the cherubims lift up their wings, and the wheels besides them, and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.

23 And the glory of the LORD went up from the midst of the city, and stood upon the mountain, which is on the east side of the city.

24 Afterwards the spirit took me up, and brought me in vision by the spirit of God into Caldea, to them of the captivity: so the vision that I had seen went up from me.

25 Then I spake unto them of the captivity, all the things that the LORD had shewed me.

The word the LORD also came unto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, thou dwellest in the midst of a rebellious house, which have eyes to see, and see not: they have ears to hear, and hear not: for they are a rebellious house.

3 Therefore thou sonne of man, prepare thee a staffe for removing, and remove by day in their sight, and thou shalt remove from thy place to another place in their sight: it may be they will consider, though they be a rebellious house.

4 Then shalt thou bring forth thy staffe by day in their sight, as a staffe for removing: and thou shalt go forth at even in their sight, as they that go forth into captivity.

5 And dig thou thozow the wall in their sight, and carry out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou bear it upon thy shoulders, and carry it forth in the twilight: thou shalt cover thy face that thou see not the ground: for I have set thee for a signe unto the house of Israel.

7 And I did so as I was commanded: I brought forth my staffe by day, as a staffe for captivity, and in the even I digged thozow the wall with mine hand, I brought it forth in the twilight, and I bare it upon my shoulder in their sight.

8 And in the morning came the word of the LORD unto me, saying,

11 Say, I am your signe: like as I have done, so shall it be done unto them: they shall remove and go into captivity.

12 And the prince that is among them shall bear upon his shoulder in the twilight, and shall go forth: they shall dig thowen the wall to carry out thereby: he shall cover his face that he see not the ground with his eyes.

13 My * net also will I spread upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare; and I will bring him to Babylon to the land of the Caldeans, yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there.

14 And I will scatter towards every winde all that are about him to help him, and all his hands, and I will draw out the word after them.

15 And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countreys.

16 But I will leave a few men of them from the word, from the famine, and from the pestilence, that they may declare all their abominations among the heathen whither they come, and they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

17 Moreover, the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, eat thy bread with quaking, and drink thy water with trembling and with carefulnesse,

19 And say unto the people of the land, Thus saith the Lord GOD, of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and of the land of Israel, They shall eat their bread with carefulnesse, and drinke their water with astonishment, that her land may be desolate from all that is therein, because of the violence of all them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that are inhabited shall be laid waste, and the land shall be desolate, and ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

21 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

22 Sonne of man, what is that proverb that ye have in the land of Israel, saying, The dayes are prolonged, and every vision faileth?

23 Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord GOD, I will make this proverb to cease, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Israel: but say unto them, The dayes are at hand, and the effect of every vision.

24 For there shall be no more any vain vision, nor flattering divination within the house of Israel.

25 For I am the Lord GOD: I will speak, and the word that I shall speak shall come to passe: it shall be no more prolonged: for in your dayes, O rebellious house, will I say the word, and will perform it, saith the Lord GOD.

26 And the word of the Lord GOD came to me, saying,

27 Sonne of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that he seeth is for many dayes to come, and he prophesieth of the times that are farre off.

28 Therefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, There shall none of my words be prolonged any more, but the word which I have spoken shall be done, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The reproof of lying prophets, 19 and their untempered mortar. 17 Of prophetesses and their pillows.

And the word of the Lord GOD came unto me, saying,

2 Some of man, prophesse against the prophets of Israel that prophesse, and say thou unto them that prophesse out of their own hearts, Hear ye the word of the Lord GOD.

3 Thus saith the Lord GOD, Alas unto the foolish prophets, that follow their own spirit, and have seen nothing.

4 O Israel, thy prophets are like the foxes in the deserts.

5 We have not gone up into the gaps, neither made up the hedge for the boule of Israel, to stand in the battell in the day of the Lord.

6 They have seen vanity, and lying divination, saying, The Lord saith, and the Lord hath not sent them: and they have made others to hope, that they would confirme the word.

7 Have ye not seen a vain vision, and have ye not spoken a lying divination, whereas ye say, The Lord saith it, albeit I have not spoken?

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Because ye have spoken vanity, and seen lies, therefore behold, I am against you, saith the Lord GOD.

9 And mine hand shall be upon the prophets, that see vanity, and that divine lies: they shall not be in the assembly of my people, neither shall they be written in the writing of the boule of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel, and ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

10 Because, even because they have seduced my people, saying, Peace, and there was no peace: and one built up a wall, and lo, others daubed it with untempered mortar.

11 Say unto them which daub it with untempered mortar, that it shall fall: there shall be an overflowing flood, and ye, O great hail-stones shall fall, and a stormy winde shall rent it.

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said unto you: Where is the daubing wherewith ye have daubed it?

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, I will even rent it with a stormy winde in my fure: and there shall be an overflowing flood in mine anger, and great hail-stones in my fury to consume it.

14 So will I break down the wall that ye have daubed with untempered mortar, and bring it down to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be discovered, and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the midst thereof: and ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

15 Thus will I accomplish my wrath upon the wall, and upon them that have daubed it with untempered mortar, and will say unto you, the wall is no more, neither they that daubed it;

16 To wit, the prophets of Israel, which prophesse concerning Jerusalem, and which see visions of peace for her, and there is no peace, saith the Lord GOD.

17 Likewise thou son of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophesse out of their own hearts: and prophesse thou against them,

18 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Alas to the women that sew pillows to all arm-holes, and make kerchiefs upon the head of every stature to hunt souls: Will ye hunt the souls of my people, and will ye save the souls alive that come unto you?

19 And will ye pollute me among my people for handfuls of barley, and for pieces of bread, to slay the souls that should not die, and to save the souls alive that should not live, by your lying to my people that hear your lies?

21 Your kerchiefs as I will I tear, and deliver my people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your hand to be hunted, and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

22 Because with lies ye have made the heart of the righteous sad, whom I have not made sad; and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not return from his wicked way, I will promising him life.

23 Therefore ye shall see no more vanity, nor divine divinations, for I will deliver my people out of your hand, and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

CHAP. XIII.

1 God answereth idolaters according to their own heart. 6 They are exhorted to repent, for fear of judgments, by means of seduced prophets. 12 Gods irrevocable sentence of famine, 15 of noisome beasts, 17 of the sword, 19 and of pestilence. 22 A remnant shall be reserved for example of others.

Then came certain of the elders of Israel unto me, and sat before me.

2 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

3 Son of man, these men have set up their idols in their heart, and put the stumbling block of their iniquity before their face: should I be enquired of at all by them?

4 Therefore speak unto them, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Every man of the house of Israel that setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumbling block of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet, I the Lord will answer him that cometh, according to the multitude of his idols,

5 That I may take the house of Israel in their own heart, because they are all stranged from me through their idols.

6 Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Repent and turn from your idols, and turn away your faces from all your abominations.

7 For every one of the house of Israel, or of the stranger that sojourneth in Israel, which separateth himself from me, and setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumbling block of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to a prophet to enquire of him concerning me; I the Lord will answer him by my self.

8 And I will set my face against that man, and will make him a sign and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midst of my people, and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

9 And if the prophet be deceived, when he hath spoken a thing, I the Lord have deceived that prophet, and I will stretch out my hand upon him, and will destroy him from the midst of my people Israel.

10 And they shall bear the punishment of their iniquity: the punishment of the prophet shall be even as the punishment of him that seeketh unto him:

11 That the house of Israel may go no more astray from me, neither be polluted any more with all their transgressions: but that they may be my people, and I may be their God, saith the Lord God.

12 The word of the Lord came again to me, saying,

13 Sonne of man, when the land sinneth against me by trespassing grievously, then will I stretch out mine hand upon it, and will break the staffe of the bread thereof, and will send famine upon it, and will cut off man and beast from it:

14 Though these three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job were in it, they should deliver but their own souls by their righteousness, saith the Lord God.

15 If I cause noisome beasts to passe through the land, and they shall spoil it, so that it be desolate, that no man may passe through because of the beasts:

16 Though these three men were in it, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither sonnes nor daughters: they onely shall be delivered, but the land shall be desolate.

17 If I bring a sword upon that land, and say, Sword, go through the land; so that I cut off man and beast from it:

18 Though these three men were in it, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither sonnes nor daughters, but they onely shall be delivered themselves.

19 If I send a pestilence into that land, and pour out my fury upon it in blood, to cut off from it man and beast:

20 Though Noah, Daniel, and Job were in it, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither sonne nor daughter: they shall but deliver their own souls by their righteousness.

21 For thus saith the Lord God, How much more when I send my four judgments upon Jerusalem, the sword, and the famine, and the noisome beast, and the pestilence, to cut off from it man and beast?

22 Yet behold, therein shall be left a remnant that shall be brought forth, both sonnes and daughters: behold, they shall come forth unto you, and ye shall see their way, and their doings: and ye shall be comforted concerning the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, even concerning all that I have brought upon it.

23 And they shall comfort you when ye see their ways and their doings: and ye shall know that I have not done without cause all that I have done in it, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XV.

3 By the unfitness of the vine-branch for any work, 6 is shewed the rejection of Jerusalem.

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Some of man, What is the vine-tree more then any tree, or then a branch which is among the trees of the forest?

3 Shall wood be taken thereof to do any work? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereon?

4 Behold, it is cast into the fire for sawell; the fire devoureth both the ends of it, and the midst of it is burnt: is it meet for any work?

5 Behold, when it was whole it was meet for no work: how much lesse shall it be meet for any work, when the fire hath devoured it, and it is burned?

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, As the vine-tree among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for sawell, so will I give the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

7 And I will set my face against them, they shall go out from one fire, and another fire shall devoure them, and ye shall know that I am the Lord God, when I set my face against them.

Under the similitude of a wretched infans, is shewed the naturall state of Jerusalem. 6 Gods extraordinary love towards her. 15 Her monstrous whoredom. 35 Her grievous judgement. 44 Her sin matching her mother, and exceeding her sisters Sodom and Samaria, calleth for judgements. 60 Mercy is promised her in the end.

Gain the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, cause Jerusalem to know her abominations.

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD unto Jerusalem, Thy birth, and thy nativity is of the land of Canaan, thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother an Hittite.

4 And as for thy nativity in the day thou wast born, thy navel was not cut, neither wast thou washed in water to supple thee: thou wast not salted at all, nor washed at all.

5 None eye pitied thee, to do any of these unto thee, to have compassion upon thee, but thou wast cast out in the open field, to the loathing of thy person, in the day that thou wast born.

6 And when I passed by thee, and saw thee polluted in thine own blood, I said unto thee when thou wast in thy blood, Live: yea, I said unto thee when thou wast in thy blood, Live.

7 I have caused thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou hast increased and wares great, and thou art come to excellent ornaments: thy breasts are fashioned, and thine hair is grown whereas thou wast naked and bare.

8 Now when I passed by thee, and looked upon thee, behold, thy time was the time of love, and I spread my skirt over thee, and covered thy nakedness: yea, I wore unto thee, and entered into a covenant with thee, saith the Lord GOD, and thou becamest mine.

9 Then washed I thee with water: yea, I thoroughly washed away thy blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oil.

10 I clothed thee also with bordered work, and shod thee with badgers skin, and I girded thee about with fine linnen, and I covered thee with silk.

11 I decked thee also with ornaments, and I put bracelets upon thine hands, and a chain on thy neck.

12 And I put a setsel on thy forehead, and earrings in thine ears, and a beautiful crown upon thine head.

13 Thus wast thou decked with gold and silver, and thy raiment was of fine linnen, and silk, and bordered work; thou didst eat fine flour, and honey, and oil: and thou wast exceeding beautifull, and thou didst prosper into a kingdom.

14 And thy renown went forth among the heathen for thy beauty: for it was perfect through my comeliness which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord GOD.

15 But thou didst trust in thine own beauty, and playedst the harlot because of thy renown, and pouredst out thy fornications on every one that passed by; his it was.

16 And of thy garments thou didst take, and deckedst thy high places with divers colours, and playedst the harlot thereupon: the like things shall not come, neither shall it be so.

17 Thou hast also taken thy fair jewels of my gold and of my silver, which I had given thee, and madest to thy self images of men, and didst commit whoredom with them,

18 And tookest thy bordered garments, and coveredst them: and thou hast set mine oil and mine incense before them.

19 My meat also which I gave thee, fine flour and oil, and honey wherewith I fed thee, thou hast even set it before them for a sweet savour: and thus it, was saith the Lord GOD.

20 Moreover, thou hast taken thy sons and thy daughters, whom thou hast born unto me, and these hast thou sacrificed unto them: to be disboured: is this of thy whoredoms a small matter,

21 That thou hast slain my children, and delivered them to cause them to passe thro' the fire for them?

22 And in all thine abominations and thy whoredoms thou hast not remembered the dayes of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, and wast polluted in thy blood.

23 And it came to passe after all thy wickedness, (wo, wo unto thee, saith the Lord GOD)

24 That thou hast also built unto thee an eminent place, and hast made thee an high place in every street.

25 Thou hast built thy high place at every head of the way, and hast made thy beauty to be abhorred, and hast opened thy feet to every one that passed by, and multiplied thy whoredoms.

26 Thou hast also committed fornication with the Egyptians thy neighbours, great of flesh, and hast increased thy whoredoms, to provoke me to anger.

27 Behold therefore, I have stretched out my hand over thee, and have diminished thine ordinary food, and delivered thee unto the will of them that hate thee, the daughters of the Philistines, which are ashamed of thy lewd way.

28 Thou hast played the whore also with the Assyrians, because thou wast insatiable: yea, thou hast played the harlot with them, and yet couldest not be satisfied.

29 Thou hast moreover multiplied thy fornication in the land of Canaan unto Caldea, and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

30 How weak is thine heart, saith the Lord GOD, seeing thou dost all these things, the work of an imperious whorish woman?

31 In that thou buildest thine eminent place in the head of every way, and makest thine high place in every street, and hast not been as an harlot (in that thou scornest hire)

32 As a wife that committeth adultery, which taketh strangers in stead of her husband.

33 They give gifts to all whores, but thou givest thy gifts to all thy lovers, and breest them, that they may come unto thee on every side for thy whoredome.

34 And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy whoredoms, whereas none followeth thee to commit whoredoms: and in that thou givest a reward, and no reward is given unto thee; therefore thou art contrary.

35 Wherefore, O harlot, hear the word of the LORD.

36 Thus saith the Lord GOD, Because thy faithfulness was poured out, and thy nakedness discovered through thy whoredoms with thy lovers, and with all the idols of thy abominations, and by the blood of thy children, which thou didst give unto them;

37 Behold therefore, I will gather all thy lovers, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loved, with all them that thou hast hated: I will even gather them round about against thee, and will discover thy nakedness unto them, that they may see all thy nakedness.

39 And I will also give thee into their hands, and they shall throw down thine eminent place, and shall break down thy high places: they shall strip thee also of thy clothes, and shall take † thy fair jewels, and leave thee naked and bare.

40 They shall also bring up a company against thee, and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust the thorn with their swords.

41 And they will burn thine houses with fire, and execute judgements upon thee in the sight of many women: and I will cause thee to cease from playing the harlot, and thou also shalt give no hire any more.

42 So will I make my fury towards thee to rest, and my jealousy shall depart from thee, and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry.

43 Because thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, but hast crested me in all these things: behold therefore, I also will recemede thy way upon thine head, saith the Lord GOD: and thou shalt not commit this lewdnesse, above all thine abominations.

44 Behold, every one that useth proverbs, shall use this proverb against thee, saying, As is the mother, so is her daughter.

45 Thou art thy mothers daughter, that loatheth her husband and her children, and thou art the sister of thy sisters, which loathed their husbands, and their children: your mother was an Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

46 And thine elder sister is Samaria, she and her daughters that dwell at the left hand: and thy younger sister that dwelleth at the right hand, is Sodom and her daughters.

47 Yet hast thou not walked after their ways, nor done after their abominations: but as if that were a very little thing, thou wast corrupted more then they in thy ways.

48 As I live, saith the Lord GOD, Sodom thy sister hath not done, she nor her daughters, as thou hast done, thou and thy daughters.

49 Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Sodom; pride, fulnesse of bread, and abundance of idleness was in her and in her daughters, neither did she strengthen the hand of the poor and needy.

50 And they were haughty, and committed abomination before me: therefore I took them away as I saw good.

51 Neither hath Samaria committed half of thy sins, but thou hast multiplied thine abominations more then they, and hast justified thy sisters in all thine abominations which thou hast done.

52 Thou also which hast judged thy sisters, bear thine own shame for thy sinnes that thou hast committed more abominable then they: they are more righteous then thou: yea, be thou confounded also, and bear thy shame, in that thou hast justified thy sisters.

53 When I shall bring again their captivity the captivity of Sodom and her daughters, and the captivity of Samaria and her daughters, then will I bring again the captivity of thy captives in the midst of them, 54 That thou mayest bear thine own shame, and mayest be confounded in all that thou hast done, in that thou art a comfort unto them.

55 When thy sisters, Sodom and her daughters, shall return to their former estate, and Samaria and her daughters shall return to their former estate, then thou and thy daughters shall return to your former estate.

56 For thy sister Sodom was not mentioned by thy mouth in the day of thy pride.

57 Before thy wickednesse was discovered, as at the time of thy reproach of the daughters of † Syria, and all that are round about her, the daughters of the Philistines which despise thee round about.

58 Thou hast † born thy lewdnesse, and thine abominations, saith the Lord.

59 For thus saith Lord GOD, I will even deal with thee as thou hast done, which hast despised the oath in breaking the covenant.

60 I therefore will remember my covenant with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will establish unto thee an everlasting covenant.

61 Then thou shalt remember thy ways, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receive thy sisters, thine elder and thy younger, and I will give them unto thee for daughters, but not by thy covenant.

62 And I will establish my covenant with thee, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

63 That thou mayest remember, and be confounded, and never open thy mouth any more: because of thy shame, when I am pacified toward thee, for all that thou hast done, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Under the parable of two eagles and a vine, it is shewed Gods judgement upon Jerusalem for revolting from Babylon to Egypt. 22 God promiseth to plant the cedar of the Gospel.

¶ AND the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, put forth a riddle, and speak a parable unto the house of Israel,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD, a great eagle with great wings, long winged, full of feathers, which had divers colours, came unto Lebanon, and took the highest branch of the cedar:

4 He cropt off the top of his young twigs, and carried it into a land of traffique; he set it in a city of merchants.

5 He took also of the seed of the land, and planted it in a fruitful field, he placed it by great waters, and set it as a willow tree.

6 And it grew, and became a spreading vine of low stature, whose branches turned toward him, and the roots thereof were under him: so it became a vine, and brought forth branches, and shot forth sprigs.

7 There was also another great eagle with great wings and many feathers, and behold, this vine did bend her roots towards him, and shot forth her branches towards him, that he might water it by the furrows of her plantation.

8 It was planted in a good soil by great waters that it might bring forth branches, and that it might bear fruit, that it might be a goodly vine.

9 Say thou, Thus saith the Lord GOD, shall it prosper: shall he not pull up the roots thereof, and cut off the fruit thereof that it wither? it shall wither in all the leaves of her spring, even without great power, or many people to pluck it up by the roots thereof.

10 Yea behold, being planted, shall it prosper? shall it not utterly wither, when the east-winde toucheth it: it shall wither in the furrows where it grew.

11 Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

12 Say now to the rebellious house, Know ye not what these things mean? tell them, Behold, the king of Babylon is come to Jerusalem, and hath taken the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and led them with him to Babylon.

† Heb. brought him to an oath. † Heb. to keep his covenant, to stand to it.

13 And hath taken of the kings seed, and made a covenant with him, and hath † taken an oath of him: he hath also taken the mighty of the land.

14 That the kingdom might be bale, that he might not lift it self up, † but that by keeping of his covenant it might stand.

15 But he rebelled against him in sending his ambassadors into Egypt, that they might give him horses and much people: shall he prosper? shall he escape that doth such things? or shall he break the covenant and be delivered?

16 As I live, saith the Lord God, surely in the place where the king dwelled that made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose covenant he brake, even thither will I in the midst of Babylon he shall die.

17 Neither shall Pharaoh with his mighty armie and great company make for him in the warr, by casting up mounds, and building forts, to cut off many persons.

18 Seeing he despised the oath, by breaking the covenant (when lo, he had given his hand) and hath done all these things, he shall not escape.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, As I live, surely mine oath that he hath despised, and my covenant that he hath broken, even it will I recompense upon his own head.

20 And I will † spread my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare, and I will bring him to Babylon, and will plead with him there for his trespass that he hath trespassed against me.

21 And all his fugitives with all his bands shall fall by the sword, and they that remain shall be scattered towards all windes: and ye shall know that I the Lord God have spoken it.

22 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also take of the highest branch of the high cedar, and will set it: I will crop off from the top of his young twigs a tender one, and will plant it upon a high mountain and eminent.

23 In the mountain of the height of Israel will I plant it: and it shall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a goodly cedar, and under it shall dwell all fowl of every wing: in the shadow of the branches thereof shall they dwell.

24 And all the trees of the field shall know that I the Lord God have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree to flourish: I the Lord God have spoken and have done it.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 God reproveth the unjust parable of sowre grapes. 5 He sheweth how he dealeth with a just father, 10 with a wicked son of a just father, 14 with a just son of a wicked father, 19 with a wicked man repenting, 24 with a just man revoking. 25 He defendeth his justice, 31 and exhorteth to repentance.

AND the word of the Lord came unto me again, saying.

2 What mean ye, that ye use this proverb concerning the land of Israel, saying, The fathers have eaten sowre grapes, and the childrens teeth are set on edge?

3 As I live, saith the Lord God, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Israel.

4 Behold, all souls are mine, as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine: the soul that sinneth, it shall die.

5 But if a man be just, and do † that which is lawful and right.

6 And hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lift up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, neither hath † defiled his neighbours wife, neither hath come near to † a menstruous woman.

7 And hath not † oppressed any, but hath restored to the debtor his † pledge, hath spoiled none by violence, hath † given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment,

8 He that hath not given forth upon † usury, neither hath taken any increase, that hath withdrawn his hand from iniquity, hath executed true judgement between man and man,

9 Hath walked in my statutes, and hath kept my judgements to deal truly; he is just, he shall surely live, saith the Lord God.

10 If he beget a sonne that is a † robber, a shedder of blood, and † that doth the like to any one of these things.

11 And that doth not any of those duties, but even hath eaten upon the mountains, and defiled his neighbours wife,

12 Hath oppressed the poor and needy, hath spoiled by violence, hath not restored the pledge, and hath lift up his eyes to the idols, hath committed abomination,

13 Hath given forth upon usury, and hath taken increase: shall he then live? he shall not live: he hath done all these abominations, he shall surely die, his † blood shall be upon him.

14 ¶ Now is, if he beget a sonne that seeth all his fathers sinnes which he hath done, and considereth, and doth not such like,

15 That hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lift up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, hath not defiled his neighbours wife,

16 Neither hath oppressed any, † hath not withholden the pledge, neither hath spoiled by violence, but hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment,

17 That hath taken off his hand from the poor, that hath not received usury nor increase, hath executed my judgements, hath walked in my statutes; he shall not die for the iniquity of his father, he shall surely live.

18 As for his father, because he cruelly oppressed, spoiled his brother by violence, and did that which is not good among his people, lo, even he shall die in his iniquity.

19 ¶ Yet say ye, Why? doth not the sonne bear the iniquity of the father? when the sonne hath done that which is lawful and right, and hath kept all my statutes, and hath done them, he shall surely live.

20 The soul that sinneth, it shall die: † the sonne shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the sonne: the righteousnesse of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickednesse of the wicked shall be upon him.

21 But if the wicked will turn from all his sinnes that he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right he shall surely live, he shall not die,

22 All his transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned unto him: in his righteousness shall he be thought, he shall live.

23 ¶ Where I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die, saith the Lord God? and not that he should return from his wayes, and † live?

24 ¶ But when the righteous turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and doth according to all the abominations that the wicked man doth, shall he live? all his righteousness that he hath done shall not be mentioned: in his trespass that he hath trespassed, and in his sinne that he hath sinned, in them shall he die.

CHAP. XIX.

A lamentation for the princes of Israel, under the parable of lions whelps eaken in a pit: 10 and for Jerusalem, under the parable of a wasted vine.

Moreover, take thou up a lamentation for the princes of Israel,

2 And say, What is thy mother? a lionesse: she lay down among lions, she nourished her whelps among young lions.

3 And she brought up one of her whelps: it became a young lion, and it learned to catch the prey, it devoured men.

4 The nations also heard of him, he was taken in their pit, and they brought him with chains unto the land of Egypt.

5 Now when she saw that he had waited, and her hope was lost, then she cook another of her whelps, and made him a young lion.

6 And he went up and down among the lions, he became a young lion, and learned to catch the prey, and devoured men.

7 And he knew in their desolate palaces, and he said waste their cities, and the land was desolate, and the fulnesse thereof by the noise of his roarings.

8 Then the nations set against him on every side from the provinces, and they spread their net over him: he was taken in their pit.

9 And they put him in ward in chains, and brought him to the king of Babylon: they brought him into holds, that his voice should no more be heard upon the mountains of Israel.

10 The mother is like a vine in thy bloud, planted by the waters, she was fruitfull and full of branches by reason of many waters.

11 And she had strong rods for the scepters of them that bare rule, and her stature was exalted among the thick branches, and she appeared in her height with the multitude of her branches.

12 But she was plucked up in fury, she was cast down to the ground, and the east winde dried up her fruit: her strong rods were broken and withered, the fire consumed them.

13 And now she is planted in the wilderness, in a dry and chalkie ground.

14 And fire is gone out of a rod of her branches, which hath devoured her fruit, so that the barb nor strong rod to be a scepter to rule: this is a lamentation, and shall be for a lamentation.

CHAP. XX.

1 God refused to be consulted by the elders of Israel. 5 He sheweth the story of their rebellion in Egypt, 10 in the wilderness, 27 and in the land. 33 He promisseth to gather them by the gospel. 45 Under the name of a forrest he sheweth the destruction of Jerusalem.

And it came to passe in the seventh year, in the fifth month, the tenth day of the month, that certain of the elders of Israel came to enquire of the LORD, and sat before me.

2 Then came the word of the LORD unto me, saying,

3 Son of man, speak unto the elders of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the LORD GOD, Are ye come to enquire of me? as I live, saith the LORD GOD, I will not be enquired of by you.

4 Willst thou? I will iudge them, sonne of man, wilt thou? I will iudge them: cause them to know the abominations of their fathers:

5 And say unto them, Thus saith the LORD GOD, In the day when I chose Israel, and I lifted up mine hand unto the seed of the house of Jacob, and made my self known unto them in the land of Egypt, when I lifted up mine hand unto them, saying, I am the LORD your God,

6 In the day that I lifted up mine hand unto them to bring them forth of the land of Egypt, unto a land that I had espied for them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands:

7 Then said I unto them, Cast ye away every man the abominations of his eyes, and desile not your selves with the idols of Egypt: I am the LORD your God.

8 But they rebelled against me, and would not hearken unto me: they did not every man cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idols of Egypt: then I said, I will poure out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.

9 But I wrought for my Names sake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, in whose sight I made my self known unto them, in bringing them forth out of the land of Egypt.

10 Wherefore I caused them to go forth out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness.

11 And I gave them my statutes, and I shewed them my judgments, which if a man do, he shall even live in them.

12 Moreover also, I gave them my sabbaths, to be a signe between me and them, that they might know that I am the LORD that sanctifie them.

13 But the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, and they despised my judgments: which if a man do, he shall even live in them: and my sabbaths they greatly polluted: then I said I would poure out my fury upon them in the wilderness to consume them.

14 But I wrought for my Names sake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet also I lifted up my hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands.

16 Because they despised my judgements, and walked not in my statutes, but polluted my sabbaths: for their heart went after their idols.

17 Nevertheless, mine eye spared them from destroying them, neither did I make an end of them in the wilderness.

18 But I said unto their children in the wilderness, Alas ye not in the statutes of your fathers, neither observe their judgements, nor shall your selves walk their idols.

19 I am the LORD your God: walk in my statutes, and keep my judgements and do them:

20 And hallow my sabbaths; and they shall be a sign between me and you, that ye may know that I am the LORD your God.

21 Notwithstanding, the children rebelled against me: they walked not in my statutes, neither kept my judgements to do them, which if a man do, he shall even live in them: they polluted my sabbaths: then I said, I would pour out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the wilderness.

22 Nevertheless I withheld my hand, and wrought for my Names sake, that it should not be polluted in the sight of the heathen, in whose sight I brought them forth.

23 I lifted up mine hand unto them also in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the heathen, and disperse them thorow the countreys;

24 Because they had not executed my judgements, but had despised my statutes, and had polluted my sabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers idols.

25 Therefore I gave them also statutes that were not good, and judgements whereby they should not live.

26 And I polluted them in their own gifts, in that they caused to passe * thorow the fire all that openeth the womb, that I might make them desolate, to the end that they might know that I am the LORD.

27 Therefore son of man, speak unto the house of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the LORD GOD, Yet in this your fathers have blasphemed me, in that they have † committed a trespass against me.

28 For when I had brought them into the land, for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to them, then they saw every high hill, and all the thick trees, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented the provocation of their offering: there also they made their sweet savour, and poured out there their drink-offerings.

29 Then † I said unto them, What is the high place wherunto ye go? and the name thereof is called Bamah unto this day.

30 Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the LORD GOD, Are ye polluted after the manner of your fathers? and commit ye whoredom after their abominations?

31 For when ye offer your gifts, when ye make your sons to passe thorow the fire, ye pollute your selves with all your idols even unto this day: and shall I be enquired of by you, O house of Israel? As I live, saith the LORD GOD, I will not be enquired of by you.

32 And that which cometh into your minde, shall not be at all, that ye say, We will be as the heathen, as the families of the countreys, to serve wood and stone.

33 As I live, saith the LORD GOD, surely with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with fury poured out will I rule over you.

34 And I will bring you out from the people, and will gather you out of the countreys wherein ye are scattered with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with fury poured out.

35 And I will bring you into the wilderness of the people, and there will I plead with you face to face.

36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I plead with you, saith the LORD GOD.

37 And I will cause you to passe under the rod, and I will bring you into the bond of the covenant.

38 And I will purge out from among you the rebels, and them that transgress against me: I will bring them forth out of the countrey where they sojourn, and they shall not enter into the land of Israel, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

39 As for you, O house of Israel, thus saith the LORD GOD, So ye, serve ye every one his idols, and hereafter also, if ye will not hearken unto me: but pollute ye my holy Name no more with your gifts, and with your idols.

40 For in mine holy mountain, in the mountain of the height of Israel, saith the LORD GOD, there shall all the house of Israel, all of them in the land serve me: there will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings; and the first-fruits of your oblations, with all your holy things.

41 I will accept you with your † sweet savour, when I bring you out from the people, and gather you out of the countreys wherein ye have been scattered; and I will be sanctified in you before the heathen.

42 And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall bring you into the land of Israel, into the countrey, for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to your fathers.

43 And there shall ye remember your ways, and all your doings, wherein ye have been defiled, and ye shall loath your selves in your own sight, for all your evils that ye have committed.

44 And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have wrought with you for my Names sake, not according to your wicked ways, nor according to your corrupt doings, O ye house of Israel, saith the LORD GOD.

45 Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

46 Son of man, set thy face toward the south, and drop thy word toward the south, and prophesie against the forest of the south field;

47 And say to the forest of the south, Hear the word of the LORD, Thus saith the LORD GOD, Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall devour every green tree in thee, and every die tree: the flaming flame shall not be quenched, and all faces from the south to the north shall be burnt therein.

48 And all flesh shall see that I the LORD have kindled it: it shall not be quenched.

49 Then said I, O LORD GOD, they say of me, Doth he not speak parables?

5 That all flesh may know, that I the LORD have drawn forth my sword out of his sheath: it shall not return any more.

6 Sigh therefore thou son of man, with the breaking of thy loynes; and wick bitterness sigh before their eyes.

7 And it shall be when they say unto thee, Wherefore sighest thou? that thou shalt answer, For the tidings, because it cometh: and every heart shall melt, and all hands shall be feeble, and every spirit shall faint, and all knees shall be weak as water: behold, it cometh, and shall be brought to passe, saith the Lord GOD.

8 Again, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

9 Son of man, prophesie and say, Thus saith the LORD, Say, a sword, a sword is sharpened and also fourbished.

10 It is sharpened to make a sore slaughter, it is fourbished, that it may glitter: should we then make mirth? It is containeth the rod of my son, as every tree.

11 And he hath given it to be fourbished, that it may be handled: the sword is sharpened, and it is fourbished to give it into the hand of the slayer.

12 Cry and howl, son of man, for it shall be upon my people: it shall be upon all the princes of Israel: || ceruours; by reason of the sword, shall be upon my people: * smite therefore upon thy thigh.

13 Because it is a trespass, and what if the sword containe even the rod? It shall be no more, saith the Lord GOD.

14 Thou therefore, son of man, prophesie, and smite thine hands together, and let the sword be doubled the third time, the sword of the slain, it is the sword of the great men that are slain, which entreth into their pryvy chambers.

15 I have set the sword point of the sword against all their gates, that their heart may faint, and their ruines be multiplied: ah, it is made bright, it is || wrought up for the slaughter.

16 Go thee one way or other, either on the right hand, or on the left, whithersoever thy face is set.

17 I will also smite my hands together, and I will cause my fury to rest, I the LORD have said it.

18 The word of the LORD came unto me again, saying,

19 Also thou son of man, appoint thee two wayes, that the sword of the king of Babylon may come: both twain shall come forth out of one land, and choosethou a place, choote it at the head of the way to the cite.

20 Appoint a way, that the sword may come to Rabbah of the Ammonites, and to Judah in Ierusalem the defended.

21 For the king of Babylon stood at the parting of the way, at the head of the two wayes, to use divination: he made his || arrows bright, he consulted with || images, he looked in the silver.

22 At his right hand was the divination for Ierusalem to appoint || captains, to open the mouth in the slaughter, to lift up the voice with shouting, to appoint battering rams against the gates, to cast a mount, and to build a fort.

23 And it shall be unto them as a false divinat.

on in their sight, || to them that have sworn oaths: but he will call to remembrance the iniquitie, that they may be taken.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Because ye have made your iniquitie to be remembered, in that your transgressions are discovered, so that in all your doings your sins do appear: because I say, that ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand.

25 And thou profane wicked prince of Israel, whose day is come, when iniquity shall have an end.

26 Thus saith the Lord GOD, Remove the diadem, and take off the crown: this shall not be the same, exalt him that is low, and abase him that is high.

27 I will overturn, overturn, overturn it, and it shall be no more until he come whose right it is, and I will give it him.

28 And thou some of man, prophesie and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD concerning the Ammonites, and concerning their reproach: even say thou, The sword, the sword is drawn, for the slaughter: it is fourbished, to consume because of the glittering:

29 Whiles they see vanity unto thee, whiles they divine a lie unto thee, to bring thee upon the necks of them that are slain, of the wicked whose day is come, when their iniquity shall have an end.

30 Shall I cause it to return into his sheath? I will judge thee in the place where thou wast created, in the land of thy nativity.

31 And I will pour out mine indignation upon thee, I will blow against thee in the fire of my wrath, and I will deliver thee into the hand of || brutish men, and shall fall to destroy.

32 Thou shalt be for fetwell to the fire: thy blood shall be in the midst of the land, thou shalt be no more remembered: for I the LORD have spoken it.

4 Thou art become guilty in thy blood that thou hast || shed, and hast desired thy self in thine idols, which thou hast made, and thou hast caused thy daies to draw neare, and art come even unto thy yeares, therefore have I made thee a reproach unto the heathen, and a mocking to all countreys.

5 Those that be near, and those that be farre from thee, shall mock thee, which art || infamous, and much vexed.

6 Behold, the princes of Israel, every one were in thee to their || power to shed blood.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because ye at all become drosse, behold therefore I will gather you into the midst of Jerusalem.

20 As if they gather silver, and brass, and iron, and lead, and tin into the midst of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it, to melt it; so will I gather you in mine anger, and in my fury, and I will leave you there, and melt you.

C H A P. XXIII.

1 The whoredoms of Aholah and Aholibah. 2 Aholibah is to be plagued by her lovers. 36 The prophet reproveth the adulteries of them both, 45 and sheweth their judgements.

The word of the Lord God came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, there were two women the daughters of one mother.

3 And they committed whoredoms in Egypt, they committed whoredoms in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the tears of their virginitie.

4 And the names of them were Aholah the elder, and Aholibah her sister: and they were mine, and they bare sons and daughters: thus were their names, Samaria is Aholah, and Jerusalem Aholibah.

5 And Aholah played the harlot when she was mine, and she doted on her lovers, on the Assyrians her neighbours.

6 Which were clothed with blue, captains and rulers; all of them desirable young men, horsemen riding upon horses.

7 Thus she committed her whoredoms with them, with all them that were of the chosen men of Assyria, and with all on whom she doted, with all their idols she defiled her self.

8 Neither left she her whoredoms brought from Egypt: for in her youth they lay with her, and they bruised the breasts of her virginitie, and penetrated their whoredom upon her.

9 Therefore I have delivered her into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the Assyrians, upon whom she doted.

10 These discovered her nakednesse, they took her sons and her daughters, and slew her with the sword: and she became famous among women, for they had executed judgement upon her.

11 And when her sister Aholibah saw this, she was more corrupt in her inordinate love than she, and in her whoredoms more than her sister in her whoredoms.

12 She doted upon the Assyrians, her neighbours, captains and rulers clothed most gorgeously, horsemen riding upon horses, all of them desirable young men.

13 Then I saw that she was defiled, that they took both one way,

14 And that she increased her whoredoms: for when she lay n eu poured upon y wall, the images of the Caldeans pourtrayed with vermilion,

15 Girded with girdles upon their loyns, exceeding in dyed attire upon their heads, all of them princes to look on, after the manner of the Babylonians of Caldea, the land of their nativity:

16 And at noon as she saw them with her eyes, she doted upon them, and sent messengers unto them into Caldea.

17 And the Babylonians came to her into the bed of love, and they defiled her with their whoredom, and she was polluted with them, and her minde was alienated from them.

18 So she discovered her whoredoms, and discovered her nakednesse, then my minde was alienated from her, like as my minde was alienated from her sister.

+ Heb. at the sight of her eyes. + Heb. children of Babel. + Heb. loosed, or, disjoyned.

19 Ver she multiplied her whoredoms, in calling to remembrance the dapes of her youth, where in she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 For she doted upon their paramours, whose flesh is as the flesh of asses, and whose issue is like the issue of horses.

21 Thus thou calledst to remembrance the lewdnesse of thy youth, in burning thy teats by the Egyptians, for the paps of thy youth.

22 ¶ Therefore, O Aholah, thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will raise up thy lovers against thee, from whom thy minde is alienated, and I will bring them against thee on every side;

23 The Babylonians, and all the Caldeans, Dekod, and Shoas, and Kon, and all the Assyrians with them: all of them desirable young men, captains and rulers, great lords and renowned, all of them abiding upon horses.

24 And they shall come against thee with chariots, wagons, and wheels, and with an assembly of people which shall set against thee buckler, and shield, and helmet round about: and I will set judgement before them, and they shall judge thee according to their judgements.

25 And I will let my jealousie against thee, and they shall deal furiously with thee: they shall take away thine nose, and thine ears, and thy remnant shall fall by the sword: they shall take thy sons and thy daughters, and thy residue shall be devoured by the fire.

26 They shall also strip thee out of thy clothes, and take away thine fair jewels.

27 Thus will I make thy lewdnesse to cease from thee, and thy whoredom brought from the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift up thine eyes unto them, nor remember Egypt any more.

28 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will deliver thee into the hand of them whom thou hatest, into the hand of them from whom thy minde is alienated.

29 And they shall deal with thee hatefully, and shall take away all thy labour, and shall leave thee naked and bare, and the nakednesse of thy whoredoms shall be discovered, both thy lewdnesse and thy whoredoms.

30 I will do these things unto thee, because thou hast gone a whooring after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idols.

31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister, therefore will I give her cup into thine hand.

32 Thus saith the Lord God, Thou shalt drink of thy sisters cup deep and large: thou shalt be laughed to scorn and had in derision: it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt be filled with drunkennesse and sorrow, with the cup of astonishment and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria.

34 Thou shalt even drink it and suck it out, and thou shalt break the shards thereof, and pluck off thine own breasts: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God.

35 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because thou hast forgotten me, and cast me behinde thy back, therefore bear thou also thy lewdnesse, and thy whoredoms.

36 The Lord God said moreover unto me, Son of man, wilt thou judge Aholah and Aholibah? yea, declare unto them their abominations;

37 That they have committed adultery, and blood is in their hands, and with their idols have they committed adultery, and have also caused their sons whom they bare unto me to passe for them thow the fire to devour them.

38 Moreover, this they have done unto me: they have defiled my sanctuary in the same day, and have profaned my sabbaths.

39 For when they had slain their children to their idols, then they came the same day into my sanctuary to profane it, and so, thus have they done in the midst of mine house.

40 And furthermore, that ye have sent for men to come from far, into whom a messenger was sent, and so, they came, for whom thou didst wash thy self, paintedst thy eyes, and deckedst thy self with ornaments,

41 And latest upon a stately bed, and a table prepared before it, whereupon thou hast set mine incense, and mine oyl.

42 And a voice of a multitude bring an ease was with her, and with the men of the common sort were brought the Sabaeans from the wilderness, which put bracelets upon their hands, and beautiful crowns upon their heads.

43 Then said I unto her that was old in adulteries, Will they now commit whoredoms with her, and she with them?

44 Ver they went in unto her, as they go in unto a woman that playeth the harlot: so went they in unto Aholah and unto Aholibah the lewd women.

45 ¶ And the righteous men they shall judge them after the manner of adulteresses, and after the manner of women that shed blood; because they are adulteresses, and blood is in their hands.

46 For thus saith the Lord God, I will bring up a company upon them, and will give them to be removed and spoiled.

47 And the company shall stone them with stones, and I dispatch them with their swords; they shall slay their sons and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire.

48 Thus will I cause lewdnesse to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught not to do after your lewdnesse.

49 And they shall recompence your lewdnesse upon you, and ye shall bear the sins of your idols, and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

CHAP. XXIII.

Under the parable of a boiling pot, is shewed the irrevocable destruction of Jerusalem. 15 By the sign of Ezekiel not mourning for the death of his wife, is shewed the calamity of the Jews to be beyond all sorrow.

Again in the ninth year, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, write thee the name of the day, even of this same day: the king of Babylon set himself against Jerusalem this same day.

3 And utter a parable unto the rebellious house, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Set on a pot, set it on, and also pour water into it.

4  Gather the pieces thereof into it, even every good piece, the thigh and the shoulder, fill it with the choice bones.

5 Take the choice of the flock, and burn also the bones under it, and make it boil well, and let him see the bones of it therein.

6 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Wo to the bloody city, to the pot whose issue is therein, and whose scum is not gone out of it: bring it out piece by piece, let no lot fall upon it.

7 For her blood is in the midst of her, she set it upon the top of a rock, she poured it not upon the ground to cover it with dust:

8 That it might cause fury to come up to take vengeance: I have set her blood upon the top of a rock, that it should not be covered.

9 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, * Woe to the bloody citie, I will even make the pile for fire great.

10 Wrap on wood, kindle the fire, consume the flesh, and spice it well, and let the bones be burnt.

11 Then let it empty upon the coals thereof, that the haste of it may be hot, and may burn, and that the fithinesse of it may be molten in it, that the scum of it may be confumed.

12 She hath wearied herself with lies, and her great scum went not forth out of her: her scum shall be in the fire.

13 In thy fithinesse is lewdnesse: because I have purged thee, and thou wast not purged, thou shalt not be purged from thy fithinesse any more, till I have caused my fury to rest upon thee.

14 If the LORD have spoken it, it shall come to passe, and I will do it, I will not go back, neither will I spare, neither will I repent, according to thy wayes, and according to thy doings shall they judge thee, saith the Lord GOD.

15 Also the word of LORD came unto me, saying,

16 Sonne of man, behold, I take away from thee the desire of thine eyes with a stroke: yet neither shalt thou mourne nor weep, neither shall thy tears f run down.

17 † Forbear to cry, make no mourning for the dead, binde the tire of thine head upon thee, and put on thy shoes upon thy feet, and cover not thy † lips, and eat not the bread of men.

18 So I spake unto the people in the morning, and at even my wife died; and I did in the morning as I was commanded.

19 And the people said unto me, Wilt thou not tell us what these things are to us, that thou dost so?

20 Then I answered them, The word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 21 Speak unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will profane my sanctuary, the excellency of your strength, the desire of your eyes, and † that which your soul pitteth; and your sons and your daughters whom ye have left shall fall by the sword.

22 And ye shall do as I have done: ye shall not cover your lips, nor eat the bread of men.

23 And your tires shall be upon your heads, and your shoes upon your feet: ye shall not mourne nor weep, but ye shall pine away for your iniquities, and mourne one towards another.

24 Thus Ezekiel is unto you a signe: according to all that he hath done shall ye do: and when this cometh, ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

25 Also thou sonne of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them their strength, the joy of their glory, the desire of their eyes, and † that whereupon they set their mindes, their sons and their daughters, 26 That he that escapeth in that day, shall come unto thee, to cause thee to hear it with thine ears.

27 In that day shall thy mouth be opened to him which is escaped, and thou shalt speak and be no more dumb, and thou shalt be a signe unto them, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

1 Gods vengeance for their infolencie against the Jews, upon the Ammonites, 8 upon Moab and Seir, 12 upon Eddom, 15 and upon the Philistines.

The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, set thy face * against the Ammonites, and prophesie against them;

3 And say unto the Ammonites, Hear the word of the Lord GOD: thus saith the Lord GOD, Because thou hast sold thy sanctuary, when it was profaned; and against the land of Israel, when it was desolate; and against the house of Judah, when they went into captivity;

4 Behold, therefore, I will deliver thee to the † inn of the east for a possession, and they shall let their palaces in thee, and make their dwellings in thee: they shall eat the fruit, and they shall drink thy milk.

5 And I will make Rabbah a stable for camels, and the Ammonites a couching place for flocks: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

14 And I will lay my vengeance upon Edom by the hand of my people Israel, and they shall do in Edom according to mine anger, and according to my fury, and they shall know my vengeance, saith the Lord GOD.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will stretch out mine hand upon the Philistines, and I will cut off the Cherethims, and destroy the remnant of the † sea-coast.

CHAP. XXVI.

- 1 Tyrus for insulting against Jerusalem, is threatened.
- 7 The power of Nebuchadrezzar against her. 15 The mourning and astonishment of the sea at her fall.

As it came to passe in the eleventh year, in the first day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, because that Tyrus hath said against Jerusalem, Ah, she is broken that was the gates of the people: she is turned unto me, I shall be replenished, now she is laid waste;

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I am against thee, O Tyrus, and will cause many nations to come up against thee, as the sea causeth his waves to come up.

4 And they shall destroy the walls of Tyrus, and break down her towers: I will also scrape her dust from her, and make her like the top of a rock.

5 It shall be a place for the spreading of nets in the midst of the sea: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God, and it shall become a spoil to the nations.

6 And her daughters which are in the field shall be slain by the sword, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

7 I For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will bring upon Tyrus Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, a king of kings, from the north, with horses, and with chariots, and with horsemen, and companies, and much people.

8 We shall slay with the sword thy daughters in the field, and he shall make a foil against thee, and shall cast a moue against thee, and lift up the buckler against thee.

9 And he shall set engines of war against thy walls, and with his axes he shall break down thy towers.

10 By reason of the abundance of his horses, their dust shall cover thee, thy walls shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the whetels, and of the charrets, when he shall enter into thy gates, and as men enter into a cite wherein is made a breach.

11 With the hoofs of his horses shall he tread down all thy streets, he shall lay thy people by the sword, and thy strong garlions shall go down to the ground.

12 And they shall make a spoil of thy riches, and make a prey of thy merchandis, and they shall break down thy walls, and destroy thy pleasant houses, and they shall lay thy stones, and thy timber, and thy dust in the midst of the water.

13 And I will cause the noise of thy songs to cease, and the sound of thy harps shall be no more heard.

14 And I will make thee like the top of a rock: thou shalt be a place to spread nets upon: thou shalt be built no more: for I the Lord have spoken it, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus saith the Lord God to Tyrus, Shall not the Isles shake at the sound of thy fall, when the wounded cry, when the slaughter is made in the midst of thee?

16 Then all the princes of the sea shall come down from their thrones, and lay away their robes, and put off their bordered garments: they shall clothe themselves with trembling, they shall sit upon the ground, and shall tremble at every noise, and be astonished at thee.

17 And they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and say to thee, How art thou destroyed that wast inhabited of sea-faring men, the renowned city which wast strong in the sea, she and her inhabitants, which cause their terrour to be on all that haunt it?

18 Now shall the Isles tremble in the day of thy fall; yea the Isles that are in the sea shall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus saith the Lord God, When I shall make thee a desolate cite, like the cities that are not inhabited, when I shall bring up the deep upon thee, and great waters shall cover thee;

20 When I shall bring thee down with them that descend into the pit, with the people of old time, and shall set thee in the low parts of the earth, in places desolate of old, with them that go down to the pit, that thou be not inhabited, and I shall let glory in the land of the living;

21 I will make thee a terrour, and thou shalt be no more: though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou never be found again, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXVII.

- 1 The rich supply of Tyrus. 26 The great and unrecoverable fall thereof.

The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,

2 Now thou son of man, take up a lamentation for Tyrus;

3 And say unto Tyrus, O thou that art situated at the end of the sea, which art a merchant of the people for many Isles, Thus saith the Lord God, O Tyrus thou hast said, I am of perfect beauty.

4 Thy borders are in the midst of the seas, thy builders have perfected thy beauty.

5 They have made all thy ship-boards of fir-trees of Senir: they have taken cedars from Lebanon, to make masts for thee.

6 Of the oaks of Bashan have they made thine oars: in the company of the Assurites have made thy benches of ivory, brought out of the Isles of Chittim.

7 Fine linen with bordered work from Egypt was that which thou spreadest forth to be thy sail: blue and purple from the Isles of Elisha, was that which covered thee.

8 The inhabitants of Sidon and Arvad were thy mariners: the wise men of Tyus, that were in thee, were thy pilots.

9 The ancients of Gebal, and the wise men thereof were in thee thy calkers, all the ships of the sea with their mariners were in thee to occupy thy merchandis.

10 They of Persia, and of Lud, and of Shut were in thine army, thy men of warre: they hanged the shield and helmet in thee, they set forth thy comeliness.

11 The men of Arvad with thine army were upon thy walls round about, and the Gammadims were in thy towers: they hanged their shields upon thy walls round about: they have made thy beauty perfect.

12 Carthage was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of all kinde of riches: with silver, iron, tinne, and lead they traded in thy fairs.

13 Iavan, Tubal, and Meshech, they were thy merchants: they traded the persons of men and vessels of brass in thy market.

14 They of the house of Togarmah traded in thy fairs with horses, and horsemen, and mules.

15 The men of Dedan were thy merchants, many Isles were the merchandis of thine hand: they brought thee for a present, boxes of ivory and ebony.

16 Soria was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of the wares of thy making: they occupied cupies in thy sales with emeralds, purple, and bordered work, and fine linen, and copall, and agate.

17 Judah and the sons of Israel they were thy merchants: they traded in thy market wheat of Minnich, and Pannag, and gony, and oil, and balm.

18 Damascus was thy merchant in the multitude of the wares of thy making, for the multitude of all riches: in the wine of Helbon, and white wooll.

19 Dan also and Jaban I going to and fro, occupied in thy sales: bright iron, cassia, and calamus were in thy market.

20 Dedan was thy merchant in † precious clothes for chariots.

21 Arabia, and all the princes of Kedar, † they occupied with thee in lambs, and rams, and goats: in these were they thy merchants.

22 The merchants of Shebah and Raamah, they were thy merchants: they occupied in thy sales with chief of all spices, and with all precious stones, and gold.

23 Haran and Camneh, and Eden, the merchants of Sheba, Akbar, and Chilmad were thy merchants.

24 These were thy merchants in † all sorts of things, in blue † clothes, and bordered work, and in coats of rich apparel, bound with cords, and made of cedar among thy merchandise.

25 The ships of Tarshish did sing of thee in thy market, and thou wast replenished, and made very glorious in the midst of the seas.

26 † Thy rowers have brought thee into great waters: the east-wind hath broken thee in the † midst of the seas.

28 The † suburbs shall shake at the sound of the cry of thy pilots.

29 And all that handle the oar, the machines, and all the pilots of the sea, shall come down from their ships, they shall stand upon the land;

30 And shall cause their voice to be heard against thee, and shall cry bitterly, and shall cast up dust upon their heads, they shall wallow themselves in the ashes.

31 And they shall make themselves utterly bald for thee, and gird them with sackcloth, and they shall weep for thee with bitterness of heart, and bitter weeping.

32 And in their weeping they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and lament over thee, saying, What city is like Tyrus, like the destroyed in the midst of the sea?

33 When thy wares went forth out of the seas, thou filledst many people, thou didst enrich the kings of the earth, with the multitude of thy riches, and of thy merchandise.

34 In the time when thou shalt be broken by the seas in the depths of the waters, thy merchandise and all thy company in the midst of thee shall fall.

35 All the inhabitants of the isles shall be astonished at thee, and their kings shall be sore afraid, they shall be troubled in their countenance.

36 The merchants among the people shall hiss at thee, thou shalt be † a terror, and † never shalt be any more.

1 Gods judgements upon the prince of Tyrus, for his sacrilegious pride. 11 A lamentation of his great glory corrupted by sin. 20 The judgement of Zidon. 24 The restauration of Israel.

The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, say unto the prince of Tyrus, Thus saith the Lord God, Because thine heart is lifted up, and thou hast said, I am a god, I sit in the seat of God, in the † midst of the seas; † yet thou art a man and not God, though thou set thee heart as the heart of God;

3 Behold, thou art wiser than Daniel; there is no secret that they can hide from thee;

4 With thy wisdom and with thine understanding thou hast gotten thee riches, and hast gotten gold and silver into thy treasures;

5 † By thy great wisdom, and by thy traffique hast thou increased thy riches, and thine heart is lifted up because of thy riches;

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because thou hast set thine heart as the heart of God;

7 Behold therefore, I will bring strangers upon thee, the terrible of the nations: and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of thy wisdom, and they shall defile thy brightness.

8 They shall bring thee down to the pit, and thou shalt die the death of them that are slain in the midst of the seas.

9 Will thou yet say before him that slayeth thee, I am God; but thou shalt be a man, and no God in the hand of him that † slayeth thee.

10 Thou shalt die the death of the uncircumcised, by the hand of strangers: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God.

11 † Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

12 Son of man, take up a lamentation upon the king of Tyrus, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord God, Thou shalt up upon the sum full of wisdom and perfect in beauty.

13 Thou hast been in Eden the garden of God; every precious stone was thy covering, the † sardius, topaz, and the diamonds, the † beryl, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, the † emerald, and the carbuncle, and gold: the workmanship of thy tabrets and of thy pipes was prepared in thee, in the day that thou wast created.

14 Thou art the anointed cherub that covereth; and I have set thee so; thou wast upon the holy mountain of God; thou hast walked up and down in the midst of the stones of fire.

15 Thou wast perfect in thy wayes from the day that thou wast created, till iniquity was found in thee.

16 By the multitude of thy merchandise they have filled the midst of thee with violence, and thou hast sinned: therefore I will cast thee as profane out of the mountain of God: & I will destroy thee, & covering cherub, from the midst of the stones of fire.

17 Thine heart was lifted up because of thy beauty; thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightness: I will cast thee to the ground, I will lay thee before kings, that they may behold thee.

18 Thou hast defiled thy sanctuaries by the multitude of thine idolities, by the iniquity of thy traffique; therefore will I bring forth a fire from the midst of thee, it shall devour thee, and I will bring thee to ashes upon the earth, in the sight of all them that behold thee.

23 For I will send into her, pestilence, and blood into her streets, and the wounded shall be judged in the midst of her by the sword upon her on every side; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

24 ¶ And there shall be no more a picking thyer unto the house of Israel, nor any grieving thorn of all that are round about them that despised thee, and they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

25 Thus saith the Lord GOD, When I shall have gathered the house of Israel from the people among whom they are scattered, and shall be sanctified in them in the sight of the heathen, then shall they dwell in their land, that I have given to my servant Jacob.

26 And they shall dwell // safely therein, and shall build houses, and plant vineyards: yea, they shall dwell with confidence when I have executed judgements upon all those that // despise them round about them, and they shall know that I am the Lord their GOD.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 The judgement of Pharaoh, for his treachery to Israel. 8 The desolation of Egypt. 13 The restauration thereof after forty yeers. 17 Egypt the reward of Nebuchadrezzar. 21 Israel shall be restored.

I In the tenth year, in the tenth month, in the twelfth day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, set thy face against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and prophesse against him, and against all Egypt.

3 Speak and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I am against thee, O Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great dragon that lieth in the midst of his rivers, which hath said, My river is mine own, and I have made it for my self.

4 But I will put hooks in thy jaws, and I will cause the fish of thy rivers to stick unto thy scales, and I will bring thee up out of the midst of thy rivers, and all the fish of thy rivers shall stick unto thy scales.

5 And I will leave thee thrown into the wilderness, thee and all the fish of thy rivers: thou shalt fall upon the † open fields, thou shalt not be brought together, nor gathered: I have given thee for meat to the beasts of the field, and to the fowls of the heaven.

6 And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know that I am the LORD, because they have been a † staff of reed to the house of Israel.

7 When they took hold of thee by thy hand, thou didst break, and rent all thy shoulder: and when they leaned upon thee, thou brakest, and marrest all their legs to be at a stand.

8 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will bring a sword upon thee, and cut off man and beast out of thee.

9 And the land of Egypt shall be desolate and waste, and they shall know that I am the LORD; because he hath said, The river is mine, and I have made it.

10 Behold therefore, I am against thee, and against thy rivers, and I will make the land of Egypt † utterly waste and desolate, from the river of † Syene even unto the border of Ethiopia.

11 No foot of man shall passe thowow it, nor foot of beast shall passe thowow it, neither shall it be inhabited fourety yeers.

12 And I will make the land of Egypt desolate in the midst of the countreys that are desolate, and her cities among the cities that are laid waste, shall be desolate fourey yeers: and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them thowow the countreys.

13 ¶ Yet thus saith the Lord GOD, At the end of fourey yeers will I gather the Egyptians from the people whither they were scattered.

14 And I will bring again the captivity of Egypt, and will cause them to returne into the land of Pathros, into the land of their habitation, and they shall be there a † bale kingdom.

15 It shall be the basel of the kingdoms, neither shall it exalt it self any more above the nations: for I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule over the nations.

16 And it shall be no more the confidence of the house of Israel, which bringeth their iniquitie to remembrance, when they shall look after them: but they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

17 ¶ And it came to passe in the seven and twentieth year, in the first month, in the first day of the month, the word the LORD came unto me, saying,

18 Son of man, Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon caused his army to serve a great service against Tyus: every head was made bald, and every shoulder was peeled: yet had he no wages, nor his army for Tyus, for the service that he had served against it.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will give the land of Egypt unto Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and he shall take her multitude, and † take her spoil, and take her prey, and it shall be the wages for his army.

20 I have given him the land of Egypt // for his labour wherewith he served against it, because they wrought for me, saith the Lord GOD.

21 ¶ In that day will I cause the horn of the house of Israel to bud forth, and I will give thee the opening of the mouth in the midst of them, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The desolation of Egypt, and her helpers. 20 The arm of Babylon shall be strengthened to break the arm of Egypt.

The word of the LORD came again unto me saying,

2 Sonne of man, prophesse and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Howl ye, wo worth the day.

3 For the day is near, even the day of the LORD is near, a cloudy day, it shall be the time of the heathen.

4 And the sword shall come upon Egypt, and great // pain shall be in Ethiopia, when the slain shall fall in Egypt, and they shall take away her multitude, and her foundations shall be broken down.

5 Ethiopia, and † Libya, and Lydia, and all the mingled people, and Chub, and the † men of the land that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword.

uphold Egypt shall fall, and the pride of her power shall come down: from the tower of Syene shall they fall in it by the sword, saith the Lord God.

7 And they shall be desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are wasted.

8 And they shall know that I am the Lord God, when I have set a fire in Egypt, and when all her helpers shall be destroyed.

9 In that day shall messengers go forth from me in ships, to make the carelesse Ethiopians afraid, and great pain shall come upon them, as in the day of Egypt: for so, it cometh.

10 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon.

11 He and his people with him, the terrible of the nations shall be brought to destroy the land: and they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and fill the land with the slain.

12 And I will make the rivers dry, and sell the land into the hand of the wicked, and I will make the land waste, and I will cut off the strength of Egypt, and I will cut off the multitude of Egypt.

13 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also destroy the idols, and I will cause their images to cease out of Moph: and there shall be no more a prince of the land of Egypt, and I will put a fear in the land of Egypt.

14 And I will make Pathros desolate, and will set fire in it: I will execute judgements in No.

15 And I will pour my fury upon Sin in the strength of Egypt, and I will cut off the multitude of No.

16 And I will set fire in Egypt, Sin shall have great pain, and No shall be rent asunder, and Moph shall have distressful days.

17 The young men of Hohen and of Phibeseth shall fall by the sword: and these cities shall go into captivity.

18 At Tebapnehes also the day shall be darkened, when I shall break there the pikes of Egypt: and the pomph of her strength shall cease in her: as for her, a cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into captivity.

19 Thus will I execute judgements in Egypt: and they shall know that I am the Lord God.

20 And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first month, in the seventh day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

21 Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt: and lo, it shall not be bound up to be healed, to put a roller to bind it, to make it strong to hold the sword.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will break his arms, the strong, and that which was broken: and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand.

23 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them thorow the countries.

24 And I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and put my word in his hand, but I will break Pharaohs arms, and he shall groan before him with the groanings of a deadly wounded man.

25 But I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and the arms of Pharaoh shall fall down; and they shall know that I am the Lord God, when I shall put my sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall stretch it out upon the land of Egypt.

26 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them among the countries, and they shall know that I am the Lord God.

CHAPTER XXXI.

1 A relation unto Pharaoh, 3 of the glory of Assyria, 10 and the fall thereof for pride. 18 The like destruction of Egypt.

And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the third month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, speak unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, and to his multitude, Whom art thou like in thy greatness?

3 Behold, the Assyrian was a cedar in Lebanon with fair branches, and with a shadowing broud, and of an high stature, and his top was among the thick boughs.

4 The waters made him great, the deep set him up on high with her rivers running round about his plants, and sent out her little rivers unto all the trees of the field.

5 Therefore his height was exalted above all the trees of the field, and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches became long because of the multitude of waters, when he shot forth.

6 All the fowls of heaven made their nests in his boughs, and under his branches dwelt all the beasts of the field being forth their young, and under his shadow dwelt all great nations.

7 Thus was he fair in his greatness, in the length of his branches: for his root was by great waters.

8 The cedars in the garden of God could not hide him: the firre-trees were not like his boughs, and the chestnut-trees were not like his branches: not any tree in the garden of Eden was like unto him in his beauty.

9 I have made him fair by the multitude of his branches: so that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God envied him.

10 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because thou hast lifted up thy self in height, and be hath shot up his top among the thick boughs, and his heart is lifted up in his height;

11 I have therefore delivered him into the hand of the mighty one of the heathen: he shall surely deal with him, I have driven him out for his wickedness.

12 And strangers, the terrible of the nations have cut him off, and have left him: upon the mountains and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are broken by all the rivers of the land, and all the people of the earth are gone down from his shadow, and have left him.

13 Upon his ruine shall all the fowls of the heaven remain, and all the beasts of the field shall be upon his branches.

14 To the end that none of all the trees by the waters exalt themselves for their height, neither shoot up their top among the thick boughs, neither their trees stand up in their height, all that drink water: for they are all delivered unto death to the nether parts of the earth in the midst of the children of men, with them that go down to the pit.

15 Thus saith the Lord God, In the day when he went down to the grave, I caused a mourning, I covered the deep for him, and I restrained the floods thereof, and the great waters were stayed; and I caused Lebanon to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him.

16 I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to hell with them that descend into the pit: and all the trees of Eden, 17 They also went down into hell with him unto them that be slain with the sword, and they that were his arm that dwelt under his shadow in the midst of the deathen.

18 ¶ To whom art thou thus like in glory and in greatnesse among the trees of Eden? yet shalt thou be brought down with the trees of Eden unto the nether parts of the earth; thou shalt lie in the midst of the uncircumcised, with them that be slain by the sword: this is Ibarah and all his multitude, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 A lamentation for the fearfull fall of Egypt, 11 The sword of Babylon shall destroy it. 17 It shall be brought down to hell among all the uncircumcised nations.

AND it came to passe in the twelfth year, in the twelfth moneth, in the first day of the moneth, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, take up a lamentation for Ibarah king of Egypt, and say unto him, Thou art like a young lion of the nations, and thou art as a whale in the seas: and thou earnest forth with thy rivers, and troubledst the waters with thy feet, and soudest their rivers.

3 Thus saith the Lord God, I will therefore spread out my net over thee, with a company of many people, and they shall bring thee up in my net.

4 Then will I leave thee upon the land, I will cast thee forth upon the open field, and will cause all the fowls of the heaven to remain upon thee, and I will fill the beasts of the whole earth with thee.

5 And I will lay thy flesh upon the mountains, and fill the valleys with thy height.

6 I will also water with thy blood the land wherein thou dwinnest, even to the mountains; and the rivers shall be full of thee.

7 And when I shall put thee out, I will cover the heaven, and make the starres thereof dark: I will cover the sun with a cloud, and the moon shall not give her light.

8 All the bright lightes of heaven will I make dark over thee, and set darknesse upon thy land, saith the Lord God.

9 I will also vex the hearts of many people, when I shall bring thy destruction among the nations, into the countreys which thou hast not known.

10 Yea, I will make many people amazed at thee, and their kings shall be horribly afraid for thee, when I shall bring my sword before them, and they shall tremble at every moment; every man for his own life, in the day of thy fall.

11 ¶ For thus saith the Lord God, The sword of the king of Babylon shall come upon thee.

12 By the swords of the mighty will I cause thy multitude to fall, the terrible of the nations all of them; and they shall spoil the pomps of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof shall be destroyed.

13 I will destroy also all the beasts thereof from besides the great waters, neither shall the foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hoofs of beasts trouble them.

14 Then will I make their waters deep, and cause their rivers to run like oyl, saith the Lord God.

15 When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate, and the countrey shall be destitute of that wherof it was full, when I shall imlue all them that dwell therein, then shall they know that I am the Lord.

16 This is the lamentation wherewith they shall lament her, the daughters of the nations shall lament her: they shall lament for her, even for Egypt and for all her multitude, saith the Lord God.

17 ¶ It came to passe also in the twelfth year, in the first day of the moneth, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

18 Son of man, wail for the multitude of Egypt, and cast her down, even her, & the daughters of the famous nations, unto the nether parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit.

19 Whom dost thou praise in beauty? go down, and be thou laid with the uncircumcised.

20 They shall fall in the midst of them that are slain by the sword: he is delivered to the swords draw her and all her multitudes.

21 The strong among the mighty shall speak to him out of the midst of hell with them that help him: they are gone down, and they lie uncircumcised, slain by the sword.

22 A thorn is there, and all her company; his graves are about him: all of them slain, fallen by the sword.

23 Whose graves are set in the sides of the pit, and her company is round about her grave: all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which caused their error in the land of the living.

24 There is Clam and all her multitude round about her grave, all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which are gone down uncircumcised into the nether parts of the earth, which caused their error in the land of the living, yet have they born their shame with them that go down to the pit.

25 They have set her a bed in the midst of the slain with all her multitude: her graves are round about him, all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword: though their error was caused in the land of the living, yet have they born their shame with them that go down to the pit: he is put in the midst of them that be slain.

26 There is Deshech, Tubal, and all her multitude: her graves are round about him, all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword, though they caused their error in the land of the living.

27 And they shall not lie with the mighty, that are fallen of the uncircumcised, which are gone down to hell with their weapons of war: and they have laid their swords under their heads, but their iniquities shall be upon their bones, though they were the terror of the mighty in the land of the living.

28 Yea, thou shalt be broken in the midst of the uncircumcised, and shalt lie with them that are slain with the sword.

29 There is Chem, her kings and all her princes, which with their might are laid by them that were slain by the sword: they shall lie with the uncircumcised, and with them that go down to the pit.

30 There be the princes of the north all of them, and all the Sidonians, which are gone down with the slain, with their terror they are ashamed of their might, and they lie uncircumcised with them that be slain by the sword, and bear their shame with them that go down to the pit.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 According to the duty of a watchman, in warning the people, 7 Ezekiel is admonished of his duty. 20 God sheweth the justice of his wayes towards the penitent, and towards revolvers. 17 He maintaineth his justice. 31 Upon the news of the taking of Jerusalem, he prophesieth the desolation of the land. 30 Gods judgement upon the mockers of the prophets.

A Gain the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, speak to the children of thy people, and say unto them, † When I bring the sword upon a land, if the people of the land take a man of their coasts, and set him for their watchman;

3 If when he seeth the sword come upon the land, he blow the trumpet, and warn the people;

4 Then † whosoever heareth the sound of the trumpet, and taketh not warning; if the sword come, and take him away, his blood shall be upon his own head.

5 He heard the sound of the trumpet, and took not warning, his blood shall be upon him: but he that taketh warning, shall deliver his soul.

6 But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned; if the sword come and take any person from among them, he is taken away in his iniquity: but his blood will I require at the watchmans hand.

7 * So thou, Son of man, I have set thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore thou shalt hear the word at my mouth, and warn them from me.

8 When I say unto the wicked, † Wicked man, thou shalt surely die; if thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at thine hand.

9 Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it: if he do not turn from his way, he shall die in his iniquity, but thou hast delivered thy soul.

10 Therefore, † thou son of man, speak unto the house of Israel, Thus ye speak, saying, If our transgressions and our sinnes be upon us, and we pine away in them, how should we then live?

11 Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord God, † I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turn from his way and live: turn ye, turn ye from your evil wayes; for * why will ye die, O house of Israel?

12 Therefore thou son of man, say unto the children of thy people, The * righteousnesse of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression; as for the wickednesse of the wicked, he shall not fall thereby in the day that he turneth from his wickednesse, neither shall the righteous be able to live for his righteousnesse in the day that he sinneth.

13 When I shall say to the righteous, that he shall surely live: if he trust to his own righteousnesse, and commit iniquity; all his righteousnesse shall not be remembered, but for his iniquity that he hath committed he shall die for it.

14 Again, when I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die: if he turn from his sinnes, and do † that which is lawfull and right;

15 If the wicked restore the pledge, give again that he had robbed, walk in the statutes of life without committing iniquity; he shall surely live, he shall not die.

16 None of his sinnes that he hath committed shall be mentioned unto him: he hath done that which is lawfull and right; he shall surely live.

17 † Yet the children of thy people say, The way of the Lord is not equall: but as for them, their way is not equall.

18 When the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, he shall even die thereby.

19 But if the wicked turn from his wickednesse, and do that which is lawfull and right, he shall live thereby.

20 † Yet ye say, * The way of the Lord is not equall: O ye house of Israel, I will judge you every one after his wayes.

21 † And it came to passe in the twelfth year of our captivity, in the tenth moneth, in the fifth day of the moneth, that one that had escaped out of Jerusalem came unto me, saying, * The citie is smitten.

22 Now the hand of the LORD was upon me in the evening, afore he that was escaped came; and had opened my mouth until he came to me in the morning, and my mouth was opened, and I was no more * dumb.

23 Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

24 Sonne of man, they that inhabit those wastes of the land of Israel, speak, saying, Abraham was one, and he inherited the land: but we are many, the land is given us for inheritance.

25 Therefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Ye eat with the blood, and lift up your eyes toward your idols, and shed blood; and shall ye possess the land?

26 Ye stand upon your sword, ye work abomination, and ye desire every ones his neighbours wife; and shall ye possess the land?

27 Say thou thus unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, As I live, surely they that are in the wastes shall fall by the sword, and him that is in the open field will I give to the beasts † to be devoured: and they that be in the forts and in the caves, shall die of the pestilence.

28 For I will lay the land most desolate, and the * pomp of her strength shall cease: and the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, that none shall passe thorow.

29 Then shall they know that I am the LORD, when I have laid the land most desolate, because of all their abominations which they have committed.

30 † Also thou sonne of man, the children of thy people still are talking against thee by the walls, and in the doores of the houses, and speak one to another, ever one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and hear what is the word that cometh forth from the LORD.

31 And they come unto thee † as the people cometh, and † they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but they will not do them: for with their mouth † they shew much love, but their heart goeth after their covetousnesse.

32 And lo, thou art unto them as † a very lovely song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument: for they hear thy words, but they do them not.

33 And when this cometh to passe (so it will come) then shall they know that a prophet hath been among them.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 A reproof of the shepherds. 7 Gods judgment against them. 11 His providence for his flock. 20 The Kingdom of Christ.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Some of man, prophesie against the shepherds of Israel, prophesie and say unto them, Thus saith the LORD GOD unto the shepherds, Alas be to the shepherds of Israel that do feed themselves: should not the shepherds feed the flocks?

3 Ye eat the fat, and ye clothe you with the wooll, ye kill them that are fed: but ye feed not the flock.

4 The diseased have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken, neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye sought that which was lost; but with force and with cruelty have ye ruled them.

5 And they were scattered because there is no shepherd: and they became meat to all the beasts of the field, when they were scattered.

6 My sheep wandered throughout all the mountains, and upon every high hill: yea, my flock was scattered upon all the face of the earth, and none did search or seek after them.

7 Therefore ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD,

8 As I live, saith the LORD GOD, surely because my flock became a prey, and my flock became meat to every beast of the field, because there was no shepherd, neither did my shepherds search for my flock, but the shepherds fed themselves, and fed not my flock:

9 Therefore, O ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD.

10 Thus saith the LORD GOD, Behold, I am against the shepherds, and I will require my flock at their hand, and cause them to cease from feeding the flock, neither shall the shepherds feed themselves any more; for I will deliver my flock from their mouth, that they may not be meat for them.

11 For thus saith the LORD GOD, Behold, I, even I will both search my sheep, and seek them out.

12 As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered: so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places, where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day.

13 And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countreys, and will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Israel by the rivers, and in all the inhabited places of the countrey.

14 I will feed them in a good pasture and upon the high mountains of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel.

15 I will feed my flock, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the LORD GOD.

16 I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will binde up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick: but I will destroy the fat and the strong, I will feed them with judgment.

17 And as for you, O my flock, thus saith the LORD GOD, Behold, I judge between you and your cattell and kids, and the fat goats.

18 Seemeth it a small thing unto you, to have eaten up the good pasture, but ye must tread down with your feet the residue of your pastures: and to have drunk of the deep waters, but ye must foul the residue with your feet.

19 And as for my flock, they eat that which ye have troden with your feet: and they drink that which ye have fouled with your feet.

20 Therefore thus saith the LORD GOD unto them, Behold, I, even I will judge between the fat cattell, and between the lean cattell.

21 Because ye have thrust with side and with shoulder, and pushed all the diseased with your horns, till ye have scattered them abroad:

22 Therefore will I save my flock, and they shall no more be a prey, and I will judge between cattell and cattell.

23 And I will set up one shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even my servant David, he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd.

24 And I the LORD will be their God, and my servant David a prince among them, I the LORD have spoken it.

25 And I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cause the evil beasts to cease out of the land, and they shall dwell safely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods.

26 And I will make them and the places round about my hills a blessing; and I will cause the shower to come down in his season: there shall be showers of blessing.

27 And the tree of the field shall yield her fruit, and the earth shall yield her increase, and they shall be safe in their land, and shall know that I am the LORD, when I have broken the bands of their yoke, and delivered them out of the hand of those that served themselves of them.

28 And they shall no more be a prey to the heathen, neither shall the beasts of the land devour them: but they shall dwell safely, and none shall make them afraid.

29 And I will raise up for them a plant of renown, and they shall be no more consumed with hunger in the land, neither bear the shame of the heathen any more.

30 Thus shall they know that I the LORD God am with them, and that they, even the house of Israel are my people, saith the LORD GOD.

31 And ye my flock the flock of my pasture are men, and I am your God, saith the LORD GOD.

CHAP. XXXV.

The judgement of mount Seir, for their hatred of Israel.

MOREOVER, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Some of man, set thy face against mount Seir, and prophesie against it,

3 And say unto it, Thus saith the LORD GOD, Behold, O mount Seir, I am against thee, and I will stretch out mine hand against thee, and I will make thee most desolate.

4 I will lay thy cities waste, and thou shalt be desolate, and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.

5 Because thou hast had a perpetual hatred, and hast shed the blood of the children of Israel by the force of the sword in the time of their calamitie, in the time that their iniquitie had an end:

6 Therefore, as I live, saith the LORD GOD, I will prepare thee into blood, and blood shall pursue thee: for thou hast not hated blood, even blood shall pursue thee.

7 Thus will I make mount Seir most desolate,

9 I will make thee perpetual desolations, and thy cities shall not return, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

10 Because thou hast said, These two nations, and these two countries shall be mine, and we will possess it, whereas the Lord was there:

11 Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord God, I will even do according to thine anger, and according to thine envy which thou hast used out of thy hatred against them: and I will make my self known amongst them, when I have judged thee.

12 And thou shalt know that I am the Lord, and that I have heard all thy blasphemies which thou hast spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying, They are laid desolate, they are given us to consume.

13 Thus with your mouth ye have boasted against me, and have multiplied your words against me: I have heard them.

14 Thus saith the Lord God, When the whole earth respecteth, I will make thee desolate.

15 As thou didst rejoice at the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so will I do unto thee: thou shalt be desolate, O mount Seir, and all Idumea, even all of it, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 The land of Israel is comforted both by destruction of the heathen, who spitefully used it, 8 and by the blessings of God promised unto it. 16 Israel was rejected for their sin, 21 and shall be restored without their desert. 25 The blessings of Christ's kingdom.

Also thou son of man, prophesse unto the mountains of Israel, and say, Ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord.

2 Thus saith the Lord God, Because the enemy hath said against you, Aha, even the ancient high places are ours in possession:

3 Therefore prophesse and say, Thus saith the Lord God, Because they have made you desolate, and swallowed you up on every side, that ye might be a possession unto the residue of the heathen, and lye are taken up in the lips of talkers, and are an infamy of the people:

4 Therefore ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord God, Thus saith the Lord God to the mountains, and to the hills, to the rivers and to the valleys, to the desolate wastes, and to the cities that are forsaken, which became a prey and desolation to the residue of the heathen that are round about:

5 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Surely in the fire of my jealousy have I spoken against the residue of the heathen, and against all Idumea, which have appointed my land into their possession, with the joy of all their heart: with despite shall I send to cast it out for a prey.

6 Prophecie therefore concerning the land of Israel, and say unto the mountains and to the hills, to the rivers and to the valleys, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I have spoken in my jealousy and in my fury, because ye have born the name of the heathen.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I have lifted up mine hand; Surely the heathen that are about you, they shall bear their shame.

8 But ye, O mountains of Israel, ye shall shoot forth your branches, and yeild your fruit to my people of Israel, for they are at hand to come.

9 For behold, I am for you, and I will turn unto you, and ye shall be tilled and sown.

10 And I will multiply men upon you, all the house of Israel, even all of it, and the cities shall be inhabited, and the wastes shall be builded.

11 And I will multiply upon you man and beast, and they shall increase and bring forth fruit, and I will let you after your old estates, and will do better unto you then at your beginnings, and ye shall know, that I am the Lord.

12 Yea, I will cause men to walk upon you, even my people Israel, and they shall possess thee, and thou shalt be their inheritance, and thou shalt no more henceforth bereave them of men.

13 Thus saith the Lord God, Because they say, Unto you, Thou land desolatest us men, and hast bereaved thy nations;

14 Therefore thou shalt devour men no more, neither shalt thou bereave thy nations any more, saith the Lord God.

15 Neither will I cause men to bear in thee the shame of the heathen any more, neither shalt thou bear the reproach of the people any more, neither shalt thou cause thy nations to fall any more, saith the Lord God.

16 Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

17 Son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their own land, they defiled it by their own way, and by their doings: their way was before me as the uncleanness of a removed woman.

18 Therefore I poured my fury upon them, for the blood that they had shed upon the land, and for their idols wherewith they had polluted it.

19 And I scattered them among the heathen, and they were dispersed thorow the countries: according to their way, and according to their doings I judged them.

20 And when they entered unto the heathen whither they went, they profaned my holy Name, when they said to them, These are the people of the Lord, and are gone forth out of his land.

21 But I had pite for mine holy Name, which the house of Israel had profaned among the heathen whither they went.

22 Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, I do not this for your sakes, O house of Israel, but for mine holy Name's sake, which ye have profaned among the heathen, whither ye went.

23 And I will sanctifie my great Name, which was profaned among the heathen which ye have profaned in the midst of them, and the heathen shall know that I am the Lord, saith the Lord God, when I shall be sanctified in you, before their eyes.

24 For I will take you from among the heathen, and gather you out of all countries, and will bring you into your own land.

25 Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean: from all your filthinesse, and from all your idols will I cleanse you.

26 A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you, and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you an heart of flesh.

27 And I will put my spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my commandments, and do them.

28 And ye shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers, and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

29 I will also save you from all your uncleanness, and I will call for the corn, and will increase it, and lay no famine upon you.

30 And I will multiply the fruit of the tree, and the increase of the field, that ye shall receive no more reproach of famine among the heathen.

31 Then shall ye remember your own evill wayes, and your doings that were not good, and shall loath your selves in your own sight, for your iniquities, and for your aboutment sone.

32 Not for your sakes do I this, saith the Lord GOD, he it known unto you: be ashamed and confounded for your own wayes, O house of Israel.

33 Thus saith the Lord GOD, In the day that I shall have cleansed you from all your iniquities, I will also cause you to dwell in the cities, and the wastes shall be builded.

34 And the desolate land shall be filled, where as it lay desolate in the sight of all that passed by.

35 And they shall say, This land that was desolate is become like the garden of Eden; and the waste, and desolate, and ruined cities are become fenced, and are inhabited.

36 Then the heathen that are left round about you, shall know that I the Lord build the ruined places, and plant that that was desolate: I the Lord have spoken it, and I will do it.

37 Thus saith the Lord GOD, I will yet for this be enquired of by the house of Israel: to do it for them, I will increase them with men like a flock.

38 As the holy flock, as the flock of Jerusalem in her solemn feasts; so shall the waste cities be filled with flocks of men, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXVII.

1 By the resurrection of dry bones, 11 the dead hope of Israel is revived. 15 By the uniting of two sticks, 18 is shewed the incorporation of Israel into Judah. 20 The promises of Christs kingdom.

The hand of the Lord was upon me, and carried me out in the spirit of the Lord, and set me down in the midst of the valley which was full of bones,

2 And caused me to passe by them round about, and behold, there were very many in the open valley, and lo, they were very dry.

3 And he said unto me, Sonne of man, can these bones live? and I answered, O Lord GOD, thou knowest.

4 Again he said unto me, Prophecie upon these bones, and say unto them, O ye dry bones, hear the word of the Lord,

5 Thus saith the Lord GOD unto these bones, Behold, I will cause breath to enter into you, and ye shall live.

6 And I will lay flesh upon you, and will bring up flesh upon you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you; and ye shall live, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

7 So I prophesied as I was commanded: and as I prophesied there was a noise, and behold, a shaking, and the bones came together bone to his bone.

8 And when I beheld, lo, the sinews and the flesh came up upon them, and the skin covered them above; but there was no breath in them.

9 Then said he unto me, Prophecie unto the bones, prophesie, some of man, and say to the winds, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live.

10 So I prophesied as he commanded me; and the breath came into them, and they lived and stood up upon their feet an exceeding great army.

11 Then he laid unto me, Sonne of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel: behold, they say, Our bones are dried, and our hope is lost, we are cut off for our parts.

12 Therefore prophesie and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, O my people, I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves, and bring you unto the land of Israel.

13 And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I have opened your graves, O my people, and brought you up out of your graves, 14 And shall put my spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I shall place you in your own land: then shall ye know that I the Lord have spoken it, and performed it, saith the Lord.

15 The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,

16 Moreover thou sonne of man, take thee one stick, and write upon it, For Judah, and for the children of Israel his companions: then take another stick, and write upon it, For Joseph the stick of Ephraim, and for all the house of Israel his companions.

17 And join them one to another into one stick, and they shall become one in thine hand.

18 And when the children of thy people shall speak unto thee, saying, Wilt thou not shew us what thou meaneest by these?

19 Say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will take the stick of Joseph which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his fellows, and will put them with him, even with the stick of Judah, and make them one stick, and they shall be one in mine hand.

20 And the sticks wheron thou wastest, shall be in thine hand before their eyes.

21 And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will take the children of Israel from among the heathen whither they be gone, and will gather them on every side, and bring them into their own land.

22 And I will make them one nation in the land, upon the mountains of Israel, and one king shall be king to them all: and they shall be no more two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms any more at all.

23 Neither shall they defile themselves any more with their idols, nor with their detestable things, nor with any of their transgressions: but I will save them out of all their dwelling places, wherein they have sinned, and will cleanse them: so shall they be my people, and I will be their God.

24 And David my servant shall be king over them: and they all shall have one shepherd: they shall also walk in my judgements, and observe my statutes, and do them.

25 And they shall dwell in the land that I have given unto Jacob my servant, wherein your fathers have dwelt, and they shall dwell therein, even they and their children; and their childrens children for ever, and my servant David shall be their prince for ever.

26 Moreover, I will make a covenant of peace with them, it shall be an everlasting covenant with them, and I will place them, and multiply them, and will set my sanctuary in the midst of them for evermore.

27 My tabernacle also shall be with them; yea, I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

28 And the heathen shall know that I the Lord do sanctifie Israel, when my sanctuary shall be in the midst of them for evermore.

1 The army, 8 and malice of Gog. 14 Gods judgement against him.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, set thy face against * Gog, the land of Magog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal, and prophesse against him,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal.

4 And I will turn thee back and put hooks into thy claws, and I will bring thee forth, and all thine army, horses and horsemen, all of them clothed with all sorts of armour, even a great company with bucklers and shields, all of them handling swords.

5 Persia, Ethiopia, and Libya with them; all of them with shield and helmet:

6 Gomer, and all his bands, the house of Togarmah of the north quarters, and all his bands, and many people with thee.

7 Be thou prepared, and prepare for thy self, thou and all thy company that are assembled unto thee, and be thou a guard unto them.

8 After many dayes thou shalt be visited: in the latter years thou shalt come into the land that is brought back from the sword, and is gathered out of many people against the mountains of Israel, which have been alwayes waste: but it is brought forth out of the nations, and they shall dwell safely all of them.

9 Thou shalt ascend and come like a storm, thou shalt be like a cloud to cover the land, thou and all thy bands, and many people with thee.

10 Thus saith the Lord GOD, It shall also come to passe; that at the same time shall things come into thy minde, and thou shalt think an evil thought.

11 And thou shalt say, I will go up to the land of unwalled villages, I will go to them that are at rest, that dwell safely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither barres nor gates, 12 To take a spoil, and to take a prey, to turn thine hand upon the desolate places that are now inhabited, and upon the people that are gathered out of the nations, which have gotten cattell and goods, that dwell in the midst of the land.

13 Sheba and Dedan, and the merchants of Tarshish, with all the yong lions thereof, shall say unto thee, Art thou come to take a spoil: hast thou gathered thy company to take a prey? to carry away silver and gold, to take away cattell and goods, to take a great spoil.

14 Therefore sonne of man, prophesse and say unto Gog, Thus saith the Lord GOD, In that day when my people of Israel dwelleth safely, shalt thou not know it?

15 And thou shalt come from thy place out of the north parts, thou and many people with thee, all of them riding upon horses, a great company, and an mighty army.

16 And thou shalt come up against my people of Israel, as a cloud to cover the land, it shall be in the latter dayes, and I will bring thee against my land, that the heathen may know me, when I shall be sanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes.

17 Thus saith the Lord GOD, Art thou he of whom I have spoken in old time? by my servants the prophets of Israel, which prophesied in those dayes many yeares, that I would bring thee against them?

18 And it shall come to passe at the same time, when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, saith the Lord GOD, that my fury shall come up in my face.

19 For in my jealousy, and in the fire of my wrath have I spoken: Surely in that day there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel;

20 So that the fishes of the sea, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the field, and all creeping things that creep upon the earth, and all the men that are upon the face of the earth, shall shake at my presence, and the mountains shall be thrown down, and the steep places shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground.

21 And I will call for a sword against him throughout all my mountains, saith the Lord GOD: every mans sword shall be against his brother.

22 And I will plead against him with pestilence, and with bloud, and I will rain upon him and upon his bands, and upon the many people that are with him, an overflowing rain, and great hail-stones, fire and brimstone.

23 Thus will I magnifie my self, and sanctifie my self, and I will be known in the eyes of many nations, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 Gods judgement upon Gog. 8 Israels victory.

11 Gogs buriall in Hamon-gog. 17 The feast of the fowls. 23 Israel having been plagued for their sinnes, shall be gathered again with eternal favour.

THEREFORE thou sonne of man, prophesse against Gog, and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal.

2 And I will turn thee back, and I will leave but the sixth part of thee, and will cause thee to come up from the north parts, and will bring thee upon the mountains of Israel:

3 And I will smite thy bowe out of thy left hand, and will cause thine arrowes to fall out of thy right hand.

4 Thou shalt fall upon the mountains of Israel, thou and all thy bands, and the people that is with thee: I will give thee unto the ravenous birds of every sort, and to the beasts of the field to be devoured.

5 Thou shalt fall upon the open field, for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD.

6 And I will send a fire on Magog, and among them that dwell carelesly in the cities, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

7 So will I make my holy Name known in the midst of my people Israel, and will not let them pollute my holy Name any more; and the heathen shall know that I am the LORD, the holy One in Israel.

8 Behold, it is come, and it is done, saith the Lord GOD, this is the day whereof I have spoken.

9 And they that dwell in the cities of Israel shall go forth, and shall set on fire and burn the weapons, both the shields and the bucklers, the bows and the arrowes, and the hand-staves and the speares, and they shall burn them with fire seven yeares.

10 So that they shall take no wood out of the field, neither cut down any out of the forests: for they shall burn the weapons with fire, and they shall spoil those that spoiled them, and rob those that robbed them, saith the Lord GOD.

11 And it shall come to passe at that day, that I will give unto Gog a place there of graves in Israel,

Israel, the valley of the passengers on the east of the sea: and it shall stop the noses of the passengers, and there shall they bury Gog and all his multitude, and they shall call it, The valley of Hamon-Gog.

12 And seven months shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that they may cleanse the land.

13 Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them, and it shall be to them a renown the day that I shall be glorified, saith the Lord God.

14 And they shall sever out men of continual employment, passing through the land to bury with the passengers those that remain upon the face of the earth to cleanse it: after the end of seven months shall they search.

15 And the passengers that pass through the land, when any seeth a mans bone, then shall he set up a signe by it, till the buriers have buried it in the valley of Hamon-gog.

16 And also the name of the city shall be Hamorrah: thus shall they cleanse the land.

17 And thou some of man, thus saith the Lord God, Speak unto every feathered fowl, and to every beast of the field, Assemble your selves, and come, gather your selves on every side to my sacrifice that I do sacrifice for you, even a great sacrifice upon the mountains of Israel, that ye may eat flesh, and drink blood.

18 Ye shall eat the flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of rammes, of lambs, and of goats, of bullocks, all of them fatlings of Bashan.

19 And ye shall eat fat till ye be full, and drink blood till ye be drunken, of my sacrifice which I have sacrificed for you.

20 Thus ye shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots, with mighty men, and with all men of war, saith the Lord God.

21 And I will set my glory among the heathen, and all the heathen shall see my judgement that I have executed, and my hand that I have laid upon them.

22 So the house of Israel shall know that I am the Lord their God from that day and forthward.

23 And the heathen shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquitie: because they trespassed against me, therefore hid I my face from them, and gave them into the hand of their enemies: so fell they all by the sword.

24 According to their uncleanness, and according to their transgressions have I done unto them, and hid my face from them.

25 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Now will I bring again the captivity of Jacob, and have mercy upon the whole house of Israel, and will be jealous for my holy Name:

26 After that they have borne their shame, and all their trespasses whereby they have trespassed against me, when they dwelt safely in their land, and none made them afraid.

27 When I have brought them again from the people, and gathered them out of their enemies lands, and am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations;

28 Then shall they know that I am the Lord their God, which caused them to be led into captivity among the heathen: but I have gathered them unto their own land, and have left none of them any more there.

29 Neither will I hide my face any more from them: for I have poured out my spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XL.

1 The time, manner, and end of the vision. 6 The description of the east gate, 20 of the north gate, 24 of the fourth gate, 32 of the east gate, 35 and of the north gate. 39 Eight tables. 44 The chambers. 48 The porch of the house.

In the five and twentieth year of our captivity, in the beginning of the year, in the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after that the cite was smitten, in the self-same day the hand of the Lord was upon me, and brought me thither.

2 In the visions of God brought he me into the land of Israel, and set me upon a very high mountain, by which was as the frame of a cite on the south.

3 And he brought me thither, and behold, there was a man, whose appearance was like the appearance of brasse, with a line of flax in his hand, and a measuring reed; and he stood in the gate.

4 And the man said unto me, Sonne of man, behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, and set thine heart upon all that I shall shew thee; for to the intent that I might shew them unto thee, art thou brought hither: declare all that thou seest, to the house of Israel.

5 And behold, a wall on the outside of the house round about, and in the mans hand a measuring reed of six cubits long, by the cubit, and an handbreadth: so he measured the breadth of the building, one reed, and the height one reed.

6 Then came he unto the gate which looked toward the east, and went up the stairs thereof, and measured the thresholds of the gate, which was one reed broad, and the other threshold of the gate, which was one reed broad.

7 And every little chamber was one reed long, and one reed broad, and between the little chambers, were five cubits, and the thresholds of the gate, by the porch of the gate within was one reed.

8 He measured also the porch of the gate within, one reed.

9 Then measured he the porch of the gate, eight cubits, and the posts thereof two cubits, and the porch of the gate was inward.

10 And the little chambers of the gate eastward, were three on this side, and three on that side, they three were of one measure, and the posts had one measure on this side and on that side.

11 And he measured the breadth of the entry of the gate ten cubits, and the length of the gate thirteen cubits.

12 The space also before the little chambers was one cubit on this side, and the space was one cubit on that side, and the little chambers were six cubits on this side, and six cubits on that side.

13 He measured then the gate from the roof of one little chamber to the roof of another: the breadth was five and twentieth cubits, door against door.

14 He made also posts of threescore cubits, even unto the post of the court round about the gate.

15 And from the face of the gate of the entrance unto the face of the porch of the inner gate, were fiftie cubits.

16 And there were narrow windows to the little chambers, and to their posts within the gate round about, and likewise to the accers: and windows were round about inward: and upon each post were palm-trees.

17 Then brought he me into the outward court, and lo, there were chambers, and a pavement

Or, upon which.

Heb. whose face was the way toward the east.

Heb. limit, or, bound.

Heb. closed.

made for the court round about : thirty chambers were upon the pavement.

18 And the pavement by the side of the gates over against the length of the gates was the lower pavement.

19 Then he measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate, unto the forefront of the inner court without, an hundred cubits eastward and northward.

20 ¶ And the gate of the outward court that looked toward the north, he measured the length thereof, and the breadth thereof.

21 And the little chambers thereof were three on this side, and three on that side, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof were after the measure of the first gate : the length thereof was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

22 And their windows, and their arches, and their palm-trees, were after the measure of the gate that looketh toward the east, and they went up unto it by seven steps, and the arches thereof were before them.

23 And the gate of the inner court was over against the gate toward the north, and toward the east, and he measured from gate to gate an hundred cubits.

24 ¶ After that he brought me toward the south, and beheld a gate toward the south, and he measured the posts thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures.

25 And there were windows in it, and in the arches thereof round about, like those windows : the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

26 And there were seven steps to go up to it, and the arches thereof were before them, and it had palm-trees, one on this side, and another on that side upon the posts thereof.

27 And there was a gate in the inner court toward the south, and he measured from gate to gate toward the south, an hundred cubits.

28 And he brought me to the inner court by the south gate, and he measured the south gate according to these measures.

29 And the little chambers thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures, and there were windows in it, and in the arches thereof round about : it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.

30 And the arches round about were five and twenty cubits long, and five cubits broad.

31 And the arches thereof were toward the utter court, and palm-trees were upon the posts thereof, and the going up to it had eight steps.

32 ¶ And he brought me into the inner court toward the east, and he measured the gate according to these measures.

33 And the little chambers thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof were according to these measures, and there were windows therein, and in the arches thereof round about : it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.

34 And the arches thereof were toward the outward court, and palm-trees were upon the posts thereof on this side, and on that side, and the going up to it had eight steps.

35 ¶ And he brought me to the north gate, and measured it according to these measures.

36 The little chambers thereof, the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, and the windows to it round about : the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

37 And the posts thereof were toward the utter court, and palm-trees were upon the posts thereof on this side, and on that side, and the going up to it had eight steps.

38 And the chambers, and the entries thereof were by the posts of the gates, where they washed the burnt-offering.

39 ¶ And in the porch of the gate were two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, to lay thereon the burnt-offerings, and the sin-offering, and the trespass-offering.

40 And at the side without, as one goeth up to the entry of the north-gate, were two tables, and on the other side, which was at the porch of the gate, were two tables.

41 Four tables were on this side, and four tables on that side, by the side of the gate; eight tables, whereupon they slew their sacrifices.

42 And the four tables were of hewn stone for the burnt-offering of a cubit and an half long, and a cubit and a half broad, and one cubit high : whereupon also they laid the instruments wherewith they slew the burnt-offering and the sacrifice.

43 And within were || hooks, an hand broad, fastened round about, and upon the tables was the flesh of the offering.

44 ¶ And without the inner gate were the chambers of the singers in the inner court, which was at the side of the north gate : and their prospect was toward the south, one at the side of the east gate, having the prospect toward the north.

45 And he said unto me, This chamber whose prospect is toward the south, is for the priests the keepers of the || charge of the house.

46 And the chamber whose prospect is toward the north, is for the priests the keepers of the charge of the altar : these are the sons of Zadok among the sons of Levi, which come near to the L O R D to minister unto him.

47 So he measured the court, an hundred cubits long, and an hundred cubits broad, foursquare, and the altar that was before the house.

48 ¶ And he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured each post of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side : and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this side, and three cubits on that side.

49 The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits, and he brought me by the steps whereby they went up to it : and there were pillars by the posts, one on this side, and another on that side.

CHAP. XLI.

The measures, parts, chambers, and ornaments of the temple.

Afterward he brought me to the temple, and measured the posts, six cubits broad on the one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the tabernacle.

2 And the breadth of the || door was ten cubits, and the sides of the door were five cubits on the one side, and five cubits on the other side : and he measured the length thereof fourty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits.

3 Then went he inward, and measured the post of the door two cubits, and the door six cubits, and the breadth of the door seven cubits.

4 So he measured the length thereof, twenty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits before the temple, and he said unto me, This is the most holy place.

5 After he measured the wall of the house six cubits, and the breadth of every side-chamber four cubits round about the house on every side.

Or, from without, + Heb. whose face was.

† Heb. side-chamber over side-chamber.
 † Heb. be holden.
 † Heb. is made broader and went round.

6 And the side-chambers were three, † one over another, and † thirty in order, for they entered into the wall which was of the house for the side-chambers round about, that they might † have hold, but they had not hold in the wall of the house.

7 And † there was an enlarging and a winding about still upward of the side-chambers, for the winding about of the house went still upward round about the house: therefore the breadth of the house was still upward, and so increased from the lowest chamber to the highest by the midst.

8 I saw also the height of the house round about; the foundations of the side-chambers were a fall reed of six great cubits.

9 The thickness of the wall which was for the side-chamber without, was five cubits, and that which was left, was the place of the side-chambers that were within.

10 And between the chambers was the wideness of twenty cubits round about the house on every side.

11 And the doors of the side-chambers were toward the place that was left, one door toward the north, and another door toward the south, and the breadth of the place that was left, was five cubits round about.

12 Now the building that was before the separate place, at the end toward the west, was seventy cubits broad, and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length thereof ninety cubits.

13 So he measured the house, an hundred cubits long, and the separate place and the building with the walls thereof, an hundred cubits long.

14 Also the breadth of the face of the house, and of the separate place toward the east, an hundred cubits.

15 And he measured the length of the building over against the separate place which was behind it, and the galleries thereof on the one side, and on the other side an hundred cubits with the inner temple, and the porches of the court.

16 The door-posts, and the narrow windows, and the galleries round about on their three stories, over against the door † ciled with wood round about, † and from the ground up to the windows, and the windows were covered.

17 To that above the door, even unto the inner house, and without, and by all the wall round about within and without, by † measure.

18 And it was made with cherubims and palm-trees, so that a palm-tree was between a cherub and a cherub, and every cherub had two faces.

19 So that the face of a man was toward the palm-tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm-tree on the other side: it was made throughout all the house round about.

20 From the ground unto above the door were cherubims and palm-trees made, and on the wall of the temple.

21 The † posts of the temple were square, and the face of the sanctuary: the appearance of the one as the appearance of the other.

22 The altar of wood was three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubits; and the corners thereof, and the length thereof, and the walls thereof were of wood: and he said unto me, This is the table that is before the L O R D.

23 And the temple and the sanctuary had two doors.

24 And the doors had two leaves apiece, two turning leaves; two leaves for the one door, and two leaves for the other door.

25 And there were made on them, on the doors of the temple, cherubims and palm-trees, like as were made upon the walls; and there were thick planks upon the face of the porch without.

26 And there were narrow windows and palm-trees on the one side and on the other side, on the sides of the porch, and upon the side-chambers of the house, and thick planks.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The chambers for the priests. 13 The use thereof. 19 The measures of the outward court.

Then he brought me forth into the utter court, the way toward the north, and he brought me into the chamber that was over against the separate place, and which was before the building toward the north.

2 Before the length of an hundred cubits was the north door, and the breadth was fifty cubits.

3 Over against the twenty cubits, which were for the inner court, and over against the pavement which was for the utter court, was gallery against gallery in three stories.

4 And before the chambers was a walk of ten cubits breadth inward, a way of one cubit, and their doors toward the north.

5 Now the upper chambers were shorter: for the galleries † were higher than these, † than the lower and then the middlemost of the building.

6 For they were in three stories, but had not pillars as the pillars of the courts: therefore the building was straiter more than the lowest, and the middlemost from the ground.

7 And the wall that was without over against the chambers, towards the utter court on the fore-part of the chambers, the length thereof was fifty cubits.

8 For the length of the chambers that were in the utter court was fifty cubits: and so, before the temple were an hundred cubits.

9 And † from under these chambers was † the entry on the east side, † as one goeth into them from the utter court.

10 The chambers were in the thickness of the wall of the court toward the east, over against the separate place, and over against the building.

11 And the way before them was like the appearance of the chambers, which were toward the north, as long as they, and as broad as they, and all their goings out were both according to their fashions, and according to their doors.

12 And according to the doors of the chambers that were toward the south, was a door in the head of the way, even the way directly before the wall toward the east, as one entereth into them.

13 ¶ Then said he unto me, The north chambers and the south chambers, which are before the separate place, they be holy chambers, where the priests that approach unto the L O R D shall eat the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meat-offering, and the sin-offering, and the trespass-offering, for the place is holy.

14 When the priests enter therein, then shall they not go out of the holy place into the utter court, but there they shall lay their garments, wherein they minister: for they are holy, and shall put on other garments, and shall approach to those things which are for the people.

15 Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth toward the gate, whose prospect is toward the east, and measured it round about.

16 He measured the east † side with the measuring reed, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about.

† Or, severall walks, or, walks with pillars.

17 He measured the north side five hundred reeds, with a measuring reed round about.
 18 He measured the south side five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed.
 19 ¶ He turned about to the west side, and measured five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed.
 20 He measured it by the four sides: it had a wall round about, five hundred reeds long, and five hundred broad, to make a separation between the sanctuary and the profane place.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 The returning of the glory of God into the temple. 7 The sin of Israel hundred Gods presence. 10 The prophet exhorteth them to repentance, and observation of the law of the house. 13 The measures, 18 and the ordinances of the altar.

Afterward he brought me to the gate, even the gate that looketh toward the east.
 2 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the east: and his voice was like a noise of many waters, and the earth shined with his glory.

3 And it was according to the appearance of the vision which I saw, even according to the vision that I saw, when I came to destroy the city; and the visions were like the vision that I saw by the river Chebar: and I fell upon my face.

4 And the glory of the LORD came into the house by the way of the gate, whose prospect is toward the east.

5 So the spirit took me up, and brought me into the inner court, and behold, the glory of the LORD filled the house.

6 And I heard him speaking unto me out of the house, and the man stood by me.

7 ¶ And he said unto me, Son of man, the place of my throne, and the place of the soles of my feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel for ever, and my holy name shall the house of Israel no more defile, neither they, nor their kings, by their whoredom, nor by the carcases of their kings in their high places.

8 In these things of their threshold by my thresholds, and their pit by my posts, and the wall between me and them, they have even defiled my holy name by their abominations that they have committed: wherefore I have consumed them in mine anger.

9 Now let them put away their whoredom, and the carcases of their kings far from me, and I will dwell in the midst of them for ever.

10 ¶ Thou sonne of man, shew the house to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities, and let them measure the pattern.

11 And if they be ashamed of all that they have done, shew them the form of the house, and the fashion thereof, and the goings out thereof, and comings in thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the laws thereof: and write it in their sight, that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them.

12 This is the law of the house; upon the top of the mountain, the whole limit thereof round about shall be most holy: behold, this is the law of the house.

13 ¶ And these are the measures of the altar after the cubits; the cubit is a cubit: and an handbreadth, even the bottom shall be a cubit, and the breadth a cubit, and the border thereof by the edge thereof round about shall be a span, and this shall be the higher place of the altar.

14 And from the bottom upon the ground, even to the lower settle, shall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit, and from the lesser settle even to the greater settle shall be four cubits, and the breadth one cubit.

15 So ¶ the altar shall be four cubits, and from the altar and upward shall be four horns.

16 And the altar shall be twelve cubits long, twelve broad, square in the four squares thereof.

17 And the settle shall be fourteen cubits long, and fourteen broad in the four squares thereof, and the border about it shall be half a cubit, and the bottom thereof shall be a cubit about, and his stairs shall look toward the east.

18 ¶ And he said unto me, Son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD, These are the ordinances of the altar, in the day when they shall make it, to offer burnt offerings thereon, and so sprinkle blood thereon.

19 And thou shalt give to the priests the Levites that be of the seed of Zadok which approach unto me, to minister unto me, saith the Lord GOD, a young bullock for a sin-offering.

20 And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the four horns of it, and on the four corners of the settle, and upon the border round about, thus shalt thou cleanse and purge it.

21 Thou shalt take the bullock also of the sin-offerings, and he shall burn it in the appointed place of the house without the sanctuary.

22 And on the second day thou shalt offer a kid of the goats without blemish for a sin-offering, and they shall cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse it with the bullock.

23 When thou hast made an end of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a young bullock without blemish, and a ram out of the flock, without blemish.

24 And thou shalt offer them before the LORD, and the priests shall cast salt upon them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt-offering unto the LORD.

25 Seven days shalt thou prepare every day a goat for a sin-offering: they shall also prepare a young bullock, and a ram out of the flock without blemish.

26 Seven days shall they purge the altar and purifie it, and they shall consecrate themselves.

27 And when these days are expired, it shall be that upon the eighth day, and so forward, the priests shall make your burnt-offerings upon the altar, and your peace offerings; and I will accept you, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 The east gate assigned onely to the prince. 4 The priests repoved for polluting of the sanctuary. 9 Idolaters uncapable of the priests office. 15 The sons of Zadok are accepted thereto. 17 Ordinances for the priests.

Then he brought me back the way of the gate of the outward sanctuary which looketh toward the east, and it was shut.

2 Then said the LORD unto me, This gate shall be shut, it shall not be opened, and no man shall enter in by it; because the LORD the God of Israel hath entered in by it, therefore it shall be shut.

3 It is for the prince; the prince, he shall sit in it to eat bread before the LORD; he shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate, and shall go out by the way of the same.

4 ¶ Then brought he me the way of the north-gate before the house, and I looked, and behold, the glory of the LORD filled the house of the LORD, and I fell upon my face.

† Or, ward, or ordinance: & so vers. 4. and 16.

8 And ye have not kept the charge of mine holy things: but ye have set keepers of my charge in my sanctuary for your selves.

9 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD, No stranger uncircumcised in heart, nor uncircumcised in flesh shall enter into my sanctuary, of any stranger that is among the children of Israel.

10 And the Levites that are gone away far from me, when Israel went astray, which went astray away from me after their idols, they shall even bear their iniquity.

11 Per they shall be ministers in my sanctuary, having charge at the gates of the house, and ministering to the house: they shall slay the burnt-offering, and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before them to minister unto them.

12 Because they ministered unto them before their idols, and † caused the house of Israel to fall into iniquity; therefore have I lift up mine hand against them saith the Lord GOD, and they shall bear their iniquity.

13 And they shall not come near unto me to do the office of a priest unto me, nor to come near to any of my holy things in the most holy place: but they shall bear their shame, and their abominations which they have committed.

14 But I will make them keepers of the charge of the house for all the service thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

15 ¶ But the priests the Levites, the sons of Zadok, that kept the charge of my sanctuary, when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall come near to me to minister unto me, and they shall stand before me to offer unto me the fat and the blood saith the Lord GOD.

16 They shall enter into my sanctuary, and they shall come near to my table to minister unto me, and they shall keep my charge.

17 ¶ And it shall come to pass, that when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with linen garments, and no wooll shall come upon them, whilst they minister in the gates of the inner court and within.

18 They shall have linen bonnets upon their heads, and shall have linen breeches upon their loins: they shall not gird themselves † with any thing that causeth sweat.

19 And when they go forth into the utter court, even into the utter court to the people, they shall put off their garments wherein they ministered, and lay them in the holy chambers, and they shall put on other garments, and they shall not sanctify the people with their garments.

20 Neither shall they have their heads, nor suffer their locks to grow long, they shall only poll their heads.

21 Neither shall any priest drink wine, when they enter into the inner court.

CHAP. XLV.

1 The portion of the land for the sanctuary, 6 for the city, 7 and for the prince. 9 Ordinances for the prince.

M DROEB, † when ye shall divide by lot the land for inheritance, ye shall offer an oblation unto the LORD, † an holy portion of the land: the length shall be the length of five and twenty thousand reeds, and the breadth shall be ten thousand: this shall be holy in all the borders thereof round about.

† Heb. when ye cause the land to fall. † Heb. holiness.

2 Of this there shall be for the sanctuary five hundred in length, with five hundred in breadth, square round about, and fifty cubits round about, for the † suburbs thereof.

3 And of this measure shalt thou measure the length of five and twenty thousand, and the breadth of ten thousand: and in it shall be the sanctuary, and the most holy place.

† Or, void places.

4 The holy portion of the land shall be for the priests the ministers of the sanctuary, which shall come near to minister unto the LORD, and it shall be a place for their houses, and an holy place for the sanctuary.

5 And the five and twenty thousand of length, and the ten thousand of breadth shall also the Levites the ministers of the house have for themselves for a possession for twenty chambers.

6 ¶ And ye shall appoint the possession of the city five thousand broad, and five and twenty thousand long over against the oblation of the holy portion: it shall be for the whole house of Israel.

7 ¶ And a portion shall be for the prince on the one side and on the other side of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the possession of the city, before the oblation of the holy portion and before before the possession of the cite, from the west side west-ward, and from the east side east-ward; and the length shall be over against one of the portions, from the west border unto the east border.

8 In the land shall be his possession in Israel, and my princes shall no more oppress my people, and the chief of the land shall they give to the house of Israel according to their tribes.

9 ¶ Thus saith the Lord G O D, Let it suffice you, O princes of Israel: remove violence and spoil, and execute judgement and justice, take away your vexations from my people, saith the Lord G O D.

10 Ye shall have just balances, and a just ephah, and a just bath.

11 The ephah and the bath shall be of one measure, that the bath may contain the tenth part of an homer, and the ephah the tenth part of an homer: the measure thereof shall be after the homer.

12 And the shekel shall be twenty gerahs: twenty shekels, five and twenty shekels, fifteen shekels shall be your maneh.

13 This is the oblation that ye shall offer, the first part of an ephah of an homer of wheat, and ye shall give the fifth part of an ephah of an homer of barley.

14 Concerning the ordinance of oil, the bath of oil, ye shall offer the tenth part of a bath out of the ear, which is an homer of ten baths, for ten baths are an homer.

15 And one lamb out of the flock, out of two hundred, and of the fat pastures of Israel for a meat-offering, and for a burnt-offering, and for peace-offerings, to make reconciliation for them, saith the Lord G O D.

16 All the people of the land shall give this oblation for the prince in Israel.

17 And it shall be the princes part to give burnt-offerings, and meat-offerings, and drink-offerings, in the feasts, and in the new moons, and in the sabbaths, in all solemnities of the house of Israel: he shall prepare the sin-offering, and the meat-offering, and the burnt-offering, and the peace-offerings, to make reconciliation for the house of Israel.

18 Thus saith the Lord G O D, In the first month in the first day of the month, thou shalt take a young bullock without blemish, and cleanse the sanctuary.

19 And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin-offering, and put it upon the posts of the house, and upon the four corners of the settle of the altar, and upon the posts of the gate of the inner court.

20 And so thou shalt do the seventh day of the month, for every one that erreth, and for him that is simple: to shall ye reconcile the house.

21 In the first month, in the fourteenth day of the month ye shall have the passover, a feast of seven days, unleavened bread shall be eaten.

22 And upon that day shall the prince prepare for himself, and for all the people of the land, a bullock for a sin-offering.

23 And seven dayes of the feast he shall prepare a burnt-offering to the Lord G O D, seven bullocks, and seven rams without blemish daily the seven dayes, and a kid of the goats daily for a sin-offering.

24 And he shall prepare a meat-offering of an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and an hin of oyl for an ephah.

25 In the seventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month shall he do the like in the feast of the seven dayes, according to the sin-offering, according to the burnt-offering, and according to the meat-offering, and according to the oyl.

1 Ordinances for the prince in his worship, 9 and for the people. 16 An order for the princes inheritance. 19 The courts for boyling and baking.

Thus saith the Lord G O D, The gate of the inner court that looketh toward the east, shall be shut the six working dayes: but on the sabbath it shall be opened, and in the day of the new moon it shall be opened.

2 And the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate without, and shall stand by the post of the gates, and the priests shall prepare his burnt-offering, and his peace-offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate: then he shall go forth, but the gate shall not be shut until the evening.

3 Likewise the people of the land shall worship at the door of this gate before the Lord G O D, in the sabbaths, and in the new moons.

4 And the burnt-offering that the prince shall offer unto the Lord G O D in the sabbath-day, shall be six lambs without blemish, and a ramme without blemish.

5 And the meat-offering shall be an ephah for a ramme, and the meat-offering for the lambs, as he shall be able to give, and an hin of oil to an ephah.

6 And in the day of the new moon it shall be a young bullock without blemish, and six lambs, and a ramme: they shall be without blemish.

7 And he shall prepare a meat-offering, an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram: and for the lambs according as his hand shall attain unto, and an hin of oil to an ephah.

8 And when the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the porch of that gate, and he shall go forth by the way thereof.

9 ¶ But when the people of the land shall come before the Lord G O D, in the solemn feasts, he shall erreth in by the way of the north gate to worship, shall go out by the way of the south gate: and he that erreth by the way of the fourth gate, shall go forth by the way of the north gate: he shall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but shall go forth over against it.

10 And the prince in the midst of them when they go in, shall go in, and when they go forth, shall go forth.

11 And in the feasts, and in the solemnities, the meat-offering shall be an ephah to a bullock, and an ephah to a ram and to the lambs, as he is able to give, and an hin of oil to an ephah.

12 Now when the prince shall prepare a voluntary burnt-offering or peace-offerings, voluntarily unto the Lord G O D, one shall then open him the gate that looketh toward the east, and he shall prepare his burnt-offering and his peace-offerings, as he did on the sabbath-day, then he shall go forth, and after his going forth, one shall shut the gate.

13 Thou shalt daily prepare a burnt-offering unto the Lord G O D, of a lamb of the first year without blemish; thou shalt prepare it every morning.

14 And thou shalt prepare a meat-offering for it every morning, the sixth part of an ephah, and the third part of an hin of oil, to temper with the fine flour, a meat offering continually, by a perpetual ordinance unto the Lord G O D.

15 Thus shall they prepare the lamb, and the meat-offering, and the oil, every morning, for a continual burnt-offering.

16 ¶ Thus saith the Lord G O D, If the prince

17 But if he give a gift of his inheritance to one of his servants, then it shall be his to the year of liberty; after, it shall return to the prince: but his inheritance shall be his sons for them.

18 Moreover, the prince shall not take of the peoples inheritance by oppression to thrust them out of their possession; but he shall give his sons inheritance out of his own possession: that my people be not scattered every man from his possession.

19 After, he brought me thow the entry, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers of the priests, which looked toward the north: and behold, there was a place on the two sides westward.

20 Then said he unto me, This is the place where the priests shall boil the trespass-offering and the sin-offering, where they shall bake the meat-offering: that they bear them not out into the utter court, to sanctifie the people.

21 Then he brought me forth into the utter court, and caused me to passe by the four corners of the court, and behold, † in every corner of the court there was a court.

22 In the four corners of the court there were courses: I found of forty cubits long, and thirty broad: these † four corners were of one measure.

23 And there was a new building round about in them, round about them four, and it was made with boiling places under the rows round about.

24 Then said he unto me, These are the places of them that boil where the ministers of the house shall boil the sacrifice of the people.

1 The vision of the holy waters. 6 The virtue of them. 13 The borders of the land. 22 The division of it by lot.

Afterward he brought me again unto the door of the house, and behold, waters issued out from under the threshold of the house eastward: for the fore-front of the house stood toward the east, and the waters came down from under from the right side of the house, at the south-side of the altar.

2 Then brought he me out of the way of the gate northward, and led me about the way without into the utter gate by the way that looketh eastward, and behold, there ran out waters on the right side.

3 And when the man that had the line in his hand, went forth eastward, he measured a thousand cubits, and he brought me thow the waters: the † waters were to the ankles.

4 Again he measured a thousand, and brought me thow the waters: the waters were to the knees: again he measured a thousand, and brought me thow the waters were to the loyns.

5 Afterward he measured a thousand, and it was a river that I could not passe over: for the waters were risen, † waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed over.

6 And he said unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen this? then he brought me and caused me to return to the brink of the river.

7 Now when I had returned, behold, at the † bank of the river were very many trees on the one side and on the other.

8 Then said he unto me, These waters issue out toward the east country, and go down into the † desert, and go into the sea: which being brought forth into the sea, the waters shall be healed.

9 And it shall come to passe, that every thing that liveth, which moveth whither ever the † rivers shall come, shall live: and there shall be a very great multitude of fish, because these waters shall come thither: for they shall be healed, and every thing shall live whither the river cometh.

10 And it shall come to passe, that the fishers shall stand upon it, from En-gedi, even unto Engedain: they shall be a place to spread forth nets; their fish shall be according to their kinds, as the fish of the great sea, exceeding many.

11 But the mire places thereof, and the marishes thereof, shall not be healed, they shall be given to salt.

12 And by the river upon the bank thereof on this side, and on that side, † shall grow all trees for meat, whose leaf shall not fade, neither shall the fruit thereof be consumed: it shall bring forth † new fruit according to his months, because these waters they shall issue out of the sanctuary, and the fruit thereof shall be for meat, and the leaf thereof † for medicine.

13 Thus saith the Lord GOD, This shall be the border, whereby ye shall inherit the land according to the twelve tribes of Israel: Joseph shall have two portions.

14 And ye shall inherit it, one as well as another: concerning the which I † lifted up mine hand to give it unto your fathers, and this land shall fall unto you for inheritance.

15 And this shall be the border of the land toward the north-side, from the great sea, the way of Bethlon, as men go to Sedad:

16 Hamah, Berothah, Shihaim, which is between the border of Damascus, and the border of Hamath: † Hazar-hatticon, which is by the coast of Hauran.

17 And the border from the sea, shall be Hazarenan the border of Damascus, and the north northward, and the border of Hamath: and this is the north side.

18 And the east side ye shall measure † from Hauran, and from Damascus, and from Ostead, and from the land of Israel by Jordan, from the border unto the east sea: and this is the east side.

19 And the south side southward from Tamar, even to the waters of † Arise in Kadish, the † river to the great sea: and this is the south side † southward.

20 The west side also shall be the great sea from the border, till a man come over against Hamath: this is the west side.

21 So shall ye divide this land unto you, according to the tribes of Israel.

22 And it shall come to passe, that ye shall divide it by lot for an inheritance unto you, and to the strangers that sojourn among you, which shall buyet children among you, and they shall be unto you as born in the country among the children of Israel: they shall have inheritance with you among the tribes of Israel.

23 And it shall come to passe, that in what tribe the stranger sojourneth, there shall ye give him his inheritance, saith the Lord GOD.

9 The oblation that ye shall offer unto the LORD, shall be of five and twenty thousand in length, and of ten thousand in breadth.

10 And for them, even for the priests shall be his holy oblation, toward the north, five and twenty thousand in length, and toward the west, ten thousand in breadth, and toward the east ten thousand in breadth, and toward the south five and twenty thousand in length, and the sanctuary of the LORD shall be in the midst thereof.

11 It shall be for the priests that are sanctified, of the sons of Zadok, which have kept my charge, which went not astray when the children of Israel went astray, as the Levites went astray.

12 And this oblation of the land that is offered, shall be unto them a thing most holy by the border of the Levites.

19 And they that serve the city shall serve it out of all the tribes of Israel.

20 All the oblation shall be five and twenty thousand, by five and twenty thousand: ye shall offer the holy oblation four-square, with the possession of the citie.

21 And the residue shall be for the prince on the one side and on the other of the holy oblation, and of the possession of the citie over against the five and twenty thousand, of the oblation toward the east border, and west-ward over against the five and twenty thousand toward the west border, over against the portions for the prince, and it shall be the holy oblation, and the sanctuary of the house shall be in the midst thereof.

22 Moreover, from the possession of the Levites, and from the possession of the citie, being in the midst of that which is the prince, between the border of Judah, and the border of Benjamin, shall be for the prince.

THE BOOK OF DANIEL.

C H A P. I.

1 Jehoiakims captivity. 3 Ashpenaz taketh Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. 8 They refusing the kings portion, do prosper with pulse and water. 17 Their excellency in wisdom.

In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah, came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, unto Jerusalem, and besieged it.

2 And the Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with part of the vessels of the house of God, which he carried into the land of Shinar to the house of his god, and he brought the vessels into the treasure-house of his god.

3 And the king spake unto Ashpenaz the master of his eunuchs, that he should bring certain of the children of Israel, and of the kings seed, and of the princes;

4 Children in whom was no blemish, but well-favoured, and skillfull in all wisdom, and cunning in knowledge, and understanding science, and such as had ability in them to stand in the kings palace, and whom they might teach the learning, and the tongue of the Chaldeans.

5 And the king appointed them a daily portion of the kings meat, and of the wine which he drank: so nourishing them three years, that at the end thereof they might stand before the king.

6 Now among these were of the children of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah:

7 Unto whom the prince of the eunuchs gave names: for he gave unto Daniel the name of Belteshazzar; and to Hananiah, of Shadrach; and to Mishael, of Meshach; and to Azariah, of Abednego.

8 But Daniel purposed in his heart, that he would not defile himself with the portion of the kings meat, nor with the wine which he drank: therefore he requested of the prince of the eunuchs, that he might not defile himself.

9 Now God had brought Daniel into favour and tender love with the prince of the eunuchs.

10 And the prince of the eunuchs said unto Daniel, I fear my lord the king, who hath appointed your meat and your drink: for why should he see your faces worse looking than the children which are of your sort? then shall ye make me endanger my head to the king.

11 Then said Daniel unto him, Belshazzar, whom the prince of the eunuchs had set over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, 12 Probe thy servants, I beseech thee, ten dayes, and let them give us pulse to eat, and water to drink.

13 Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenance of the children that eat of the portion of the kings meat: and as thou seest, deal with thy servants.

14 So he consented to them in this matter, and proved them ten dayes.

15 And at the end of ten dayes, their countenances appeared fairer, and fatter in flesh than all the children which did eat of the portion of the kings meat.

16 Thus Belshazzar took away the portion of their meat, and the wine that they should drink: and gave them pulse.

17 As for these four children, God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom, and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams.

18 Now at the end of the dayes that the king had said he should bring them in, when the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar.

19 And the king communed with them, and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: therefore stood they before the king.

20 And in all matters of wisdom and understanding that the king enquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and astrologers that were in all his realm.

21 And Daniel continued even unto the first year of king Cyrus.

AD in the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar dreamed dreams, wherewith his spirit was troubled, and his sleep brake from him.

2 Then the king commanded to call the magicians, and the astrologers, and the sojourners, and the Chaldeans, for to shew the king his dreams: so they came and stood before the king.

3 And the king said unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and my spirit was troubled to know the dream.

4 Then spake the Chaldeans to the king in Syriack, O king, live for ever: tell thy servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation.

5 The king answered and said to the Chaldeans, The thing is gone from me: if ye will not make known unto me the dream, with the interpretation thereof, ye shall be cut in pieces, and your houses shall be made a dunghill.

6 But if ye shew the dream, and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receive of me gifts, and rewards, and great honour: therefore shew me the dream, and the interpretation thereof.

7 They answered again and said, Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation of it.

8 The king answered and said, I know of certainty that ye would gain the time, because ye see the thing is gone from me.

9 But if ye will not make known unto me the dream, there is but one decree for you: for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words, to speak before me, till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that ye can shew me the interpretation thereof.

Or. see. Chap. 5. 17.

† Cald. buy.

10 ¶ The Caldeans answered before the king, and said, There is not a man upon the earth that can shew the kings matter: therefore there is no king, lord, nor ruler, that asked such things as any magician, or astrologer, or Caldean.

11 And it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can shew it before the king, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh.

12 For this cause the king was angry and very furious, and commanded to destroy all the wise men of Babylon.

13 And the decree went forth that the wise men should be slain: and they sought Daniel and his fellows to be slain.

14 ¶ Then Daniel answered with counsell and wisdom to Arioch the captain of the kings guard, which was gone forth to slay the wise men of Babylon:

15 He answered and said to Arioch the kings captain, Why is the decree so hasty from thee king: then Arioch made the thing known to Daniel.

16 Then Daniel went in, and desired of the king that he would give him time, and that he would shew the king the interpretation.

17 Then Daniel went to his house, and made the thing known to Hananiab, Mishael, and Azariah his companions:

18 That they would desire mercies of the God of heaven concerning this secret: so that Daniel and his fellows would not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon.

19 ¶ Then was the secret revealed unto Daniel in a night vision: then Daniel blessed the God of heaven.

20 Daniel answered and said, Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever: for wisdom and might are his.

21 And he changeth the times and the seasons: he removeth kings, and setteth up kings: he giveth wisdom unto the wise, and knowledge to them that know understanding.

22 He revealeth the deep and secret things: he knoweth what is in the darkness, and the light dwelleth with him.

23 I thank thee, and praise thee, O thou God of my fathers, who hast given me wisdom, and might, and hast made known unto me now what we desired of thee: for thou hast now made known unto us the kings matter.

24 ¶ Therefore Daniel went in unto Arioch whom the king had ordained to destroy the wise men of Babylon: he went and said thus unto him, Destroy not the wise men of Babylon: bring me in before the king, and I will shew unto the king the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought in Daniel before the king in haste, and said thus unto him, I have found a man of the captives of Judah, that will make known unto the king the interpretation.

26 The king answered and said to Daniel, whose name was Belshazzar, Art thou able to make known unto me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Daniel answered in the presence of the king, and said, The secret which the king hath demanded, cannot the wise men, the astrologians, the magicians, the soothsayers, shew unto the king:

28 But there is a God in heaven that revealeth secrets, and hath made known to the king Nebuchadnezzar, what shall be in the latter days. Thy dream, and the visions of thy head upon thy bed, are these:

29 As for thee, O king, thy thoughts came into thy minde, upon thy bed, what should come to passe hereafter: and he that revealeth secrets maketh known unto thee what shall come to passe.

30 But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me, for any wisdom that I have more then any living, but for their sakes that shall make known the interpretation to the king, and that thou mightest know the thoughts of the heart.

31 ¶ Then, O king, I sawest; and behold, a great image: this great image whose brightness was excellent, stood before thee, and the form thereof was terrible.

32 This images head was of fine gold, his breast and his arms of silver, his belly and his thighs of brass.

33 His legs of iron, his feet part of iron and part of clay.

34 Thou sawest till that a stone was cut out without hands, which smote the image upon his feet that were of iron and clay, and brake them to pieces.

35 Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver and the gold broken to pieces together, and became like the chaffe of the lumner chreshing-stones, and the winde carried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth.

36 ¶ This is the dream; and we will tell the interpretation thereof before the king.

37 ¶ Thou, O king, art king of kings: for the God of heaven hath given thee a kingdom, power and strength and glory.

38 And wheresoever the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field and the fowls of the heaven hath he given into thine hand, and hath made thee ruler over them all: thou art the head of gold.

39 And after thee shall arise another kingdom inferiour to thee, and another third kingdom of brass, which shall bear rule over all the earth.

40 And the fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron: forasmuch as iron breaketh in pieces, and subbeth all things: and as iron that breaketh all these, shall it break in pieces, and buile.

41 And whereas thou sawest the feet and toes, part of potters clay, and part of iron: the kingdom shall be divided, but there shall be in it of the strength of the iron, forasmuch as thou sawest the iron mixed with mikle clay.

42 And as the toes of the feet were part of iron and part of clay; so the kingdom shall be partly strong, and partly broken.

43 And whereas thou sawest iron mixed with mikle clay, they shall mingle themselves with the seed of men: but they shall not cleave one to another, even as iron is not mixed with clay.

44 And in the days of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed: and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces, and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever.

45 Forasmuch as thou sawest that the stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it brake in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the great God hath made known to the king what shall come to passe hereafter: and the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof sure.

46 ¶ Then the king Belshazzar fell upon his face, and worshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should offer an oblation, and sweet odours unto him.

47 The king answered unto Daniel, and said, Of a truth it is, that your God is a God of gods, and a Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, seeing thou couldest reveal this secret.

48 Then the king made Daniel a great man, and gave him many great gifts, and made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon, and chief of the governours over all the wise men of Babylon.

49 Then Daniel requested of the king, and he let Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego obey the affairs of the province of Babylon: but Daniel sae in the gate of the king.

CHAP. III.

1 Nebuchadnezzar dedicateth a golden image in Bura. 2 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego are accused for not worshipping the image. 13 They being threatened, make a good confession. 19 God delivereth them out of the furnace. 26 Nebuchadnezzar seeing the miracle, blesteth God.

Nebuchadnezzar the king made an image of gold, whose height was threescore cubits, and the breadth thereof six cubits: he set it up in the plain of Dura, in the province of Babylon.

2 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent to gather together the princes, the governours, and the captains, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up.

3 Then the princes, the governours, and captains, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces were gathered together unto the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up: and they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

4 Then an herald cried aloud, To you I do commanden, O people, nations, and languages,

5 That at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psalterey, dulcimer, and all kindes of musick, ye fall down and worship the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king hath set up.

6 And whoso falleth not down and worshippeth, shall the same hour be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

7 Therefore at that time, when all the people heard the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psalterey, and all kindes of musick, all the people, the nations, and the languages fell down and worshipped the golden image, that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up.

8 Therefore at that time certain Caldeans came near and accused the Jews.

9 They spake and said to the king Nebuchadnezzar, O king, live forever.

10 Thou, O king, hast made a decree, that every man that shall hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psalterey, and dulcimer, and all kindes of musick, shall fall down and worship the golden image:

11 And whoso falleth not down and worshippeth, that he should be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

12 There are certain Jews whom thou hast set over the affairs of the province of Babylon, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego: these men, O king, I have not regarded thee, they serve not thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up.

13 Then Nebuchadnezzar in his rage and fury commanded to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego: then they brought these men before the king.

14 Nebuchadnezzar spake and said unto them, It is I true, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego: do not ye serve my gods, nor worship the golden image which I have set up?

15 Now if ye be ready that at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psalterey, and dulcimer, and all kindes of musick, ye fall down and worship the image which I have made, well: but if ye worship not, ye shall be cast the same hour into the midst of a burning fiery furnace, and who is that God that shall deliver you out of my hands?

16 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego answered, and said to the king, O Nebuchadnezzar, we are not carefull to answer thee in this matter.

17 If it be so, our God whom we serve, is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and he will deliver us out of thine hand, O king.

18 But if not, be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up.

19 Then was Nebuchadnezzar full of fury, and the foam of his visage was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego: therefore he spake and commanded that they should heat the furnace one seaven times more then it was wont to be heat.

20 And he commanded the most mighty men that were in his armie, to binde Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace.

21 Then these men were bound in their coats, their hosen, and their hats, and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

22 Therefore because the kings commandment was urgent, and the furnace exceeding hot, the flame of the fire slew those men that took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego.

23 And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

24 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was astonished, and rose up in haste, and spake, and said unto his counsellors, Did not we cast these men bound into the midst of the fire? They answered and said unto the king, True, O king.

25 He answered and said, Lo, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they have no hurt, and the fourth is like the Sonne of God.

26 Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the mouth of the burning fiery furnace, and spake and said, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, ye servants of the most High God, come forth, and come hither. Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, came forth of the midst of the fire.

27 And the princes, governours and captives, and the kings counsellors being gathered together, saw these men, upon whose bodies the fire had no power, nor was an haire of their head singed, neither were their coats changed, nor the smell of fire had passed on them.

28 Then Nebuchadnezzar spake, and said, Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, who hath sent his angel, and delivered his servants that trusted in him, and have changed the kings words, and yielded their bodies, that they might not serve nor worship any god, except their own God.

29 Therefore I make a decree, That every

CHAP. IIII.

1 Nebuchadnezzar confesseth Gods kingdome, 4 maketh relation of his dream, which the Magicians could not interpret. 8 Daniel heareth the dream. 19 He interpreteth it. 28 The story of the event.

Nebuchadnezzar the king, unto all people, nations and languages that dwell in all the earth, peace be multiplied unto you.

2 † I thought it good to shew the signes and wonders, that the Lord God hath wrought toward me.

3 How great are his signes! and how mighty are his wonders! his kingdome is * an everlasting kingdome, and his dominion is from generation to generation.

4 † I Nebuchadnezzar was at rest in mine house, and flourishing in my palace:

5 I saw a dream which made me afraid, and the thoughts upon my bed, and the visions of my head troubled me.

6 Therefore made I a decree, to bring in all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might make known unto me the interpretation of the dream.

7 Then came in the Magicians, the astrologers, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers: and I told the dream before them: but they did not make known unto me the interpretation thereof.

8 † But at the last Daniel came in before me (whose name was Belteshazzar, according to the name of my God, and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods) and before him I told the dream, saying.

9 † Belteshazzar, * master of the Magicians, became I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no secret troubleth thee, tell me the visions of my dream that I have seen, and the interpretation thereof.

10 Thus were the visions of mine head in my bed, † I saw, and behold, a tree in the midst of the earth, and the height thereof was great.

11 The tree grew and was strong, and the height thereof reached unto heaven, and the sight thereof to the end of all the earth.

12 The leaves thereof were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all: the beasts of the field had shadow under it, and the fowls of the heaven dwelt in the boughs thereof, and all flesh was fed of it.

13 I saw in the visions of my head upon my bed, and behold, a watcher, and an holy One came down from heaven.

14 He cried † aloud, and said thus, Hew down the tree, and cut off his branches; shake off † his leaves, and scatter his fruit; let the beasts get away from under it, and the fowls from his branches.

15 Nevertheless, leave the stump of his roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts in the grass of the earth.

16 Let his heart be changed from mans, and let a beasts heart be given unto him, and let seven times passe over him.

17 This matter is by the decree of the watchers, and the demands by the word of the holy ones: to the intent that the living may know, that the most high ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will, and setteth up over it the basest of men.

18 This dream I king Nebuchadnezzar have seen: now thou, † Belteshazzar declare the interpretation thereof, so far as much as all the wise men of my kingdome are not able to make known unto me the interpretation: but thou art able, for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

19 † Then Daniel (whose name was Belteshazzar) was astonished for one hour, and his thoughts troubled him: the king spake, and said, Belteshazzar, let not the dream, or the interpretation thereof trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered, and said, My lord, the dream be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.

20 The tree that thou sawest, which grew, and was strong, whose height reached unto the heaven, and the sight thereof to all the earth:

21 Whose leaves were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all, under which the beasts of the field dwelt, and upon whose branches the fowls of the heaven had their habitation:

22 It is thou, † king, that art grown, and become strong: for thy greatnesse is grown, and reacheth unto heaven, and thy dominion to the end of the earth.

23 And whereas the king saw a watcher, and an holy one coming down from heaven, and saying, Hew the tree down, and destroy it, yet leave the stump of the roots thereof in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass in the tender grass of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till seven times passe over him:

24 This is the interpretation, † king, and this is the decree of the most high, which is come upon my lord the king:

25 That they shall * drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field, and they shall make thee to eat grass as oxen, and they shall wet thee with the dew of heaven, and seven times shall passe over thee, till thou know that the most high ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will.

26 And whereas they commanded to leave the stump of the tree-roots, thy kingdome shall be sure unto thee, after that thou shalt have known that the heavens do rule.

27 Wherefore, † king, let my counsell be acceptable unto thee, and break off thy sinnes by righteousness, and thine iniquities by shewing mercy to the poor; if it may be a lengthening of thy tranquillity.

28 † All this came upon the king Nebuchadnezzar.

29 At the end of twelve months he walked † in the palace of the kingdome of Babylon.

30 The king spake, and said, Is not this great Babylon that I have built for the house of the kingdome, by the might of my power, and for the honour of my majestie?

31 While the word was in the kings mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, saying, † king Nebuchadnezzar, to thee it is spoken, The kingdome is departed from thee.

32 And they shall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field; they shall make thee to eat grass as oxen, and seven times shall passe over thee, until thou know

33 The same hour was the thing fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar, and he was dyen from men, and did eat grasse as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his haire were grown like eagles feathers, and his nails like birds claws.

34 And at the end of the dayes, I Nebuchadnezzar lift up mine eyes unto heaven, and mine understanding returned unto me, and I blessed the most high, and I praised and honoured him that liveth for ever, whose dominion is an everlasting dominion, and his kingdom is from generation to generation.

35 And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing, and he doth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth: and none can stay his hand, or say unto him, What dost thou?

36 At the same time my reason returned unto me, and for the glory of my kingdom, mine honour and brightnesse returned unto me, and my counsellers and my lords sought unto me; and I was established in my kingdom, and excellent majesty was added unto me.

37 Now I Nebuchadnezzar praise, and extoll, and honour the king of heaven, all whose works are truth, and his wayes judgement, and those that walk in pride he is able to abase.

CHAP. V.

1 Belshazzars impious feast. 5 A hand-writing unknown to the magicians, troubleth the king. 10 At the commendation of the queen, Daniel is brought.

17 He reproving the king of pride and idolatry, 23 readeth and interpreteth the writing. 30 The monarchy is translated to the Medes.

Belshazzar the king made a great feast to a thousand of his lords, and drank wine before the thousand.

2 Belshazzar, whyles he tasted the wine, commanded to bring the golden and silver vessels, which his father Nebuchadnezzar had taken out of the temple which was in Jerusalem, that the king and his princes, his wives and his concubines might drink therein.

3 Then they brought the golden vessels that were taken out of the temple of the house of God which was at Jerusalem; and the king and his princes, his wives and his concubines drank in them.

4 They drank wine, and praised the gods of gold, and of silver, of brasse, of iron, of wood, and of stone.

5 In the same hour came forth fingers of a mans hand, and wrote over against the candlestick upon the plaister of the wall of the kings palace; and the king saw the part of the hand that wrote.

6 Then the kings countenance was changed, and his thoughts troubled him, so that the heart of his servants were loosed, and his knees smote one against another.

7 The king cried aloud to bring in the astrologers, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers; and the king spake and said to the wise men of Babylon, Whosoever shall read this writing and shew me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with scarlet, and have a chain of gold about his neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom.

8 Then came in all the kings wise men, but they could not read the writing, nor make known to the king the interpretation thereof.

9 Then was king Belshazzar greatly troubled, and his countenance was changed in him, and his lords were astonished.

10 Now the queen, by reason of the words of the king and his lords, came into the banquet-house: and the queen spake and said, O king live for ever: let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed.

11 There is a man in thy kingdom, in whom is the spirit of the holy gods, and in the dayes of thy father, light, and understanding, and wisdom like the wisdom of the gods, was found in him, whom the king Nebuchadnezzar thy father, the king, I say, thy father made master of the magicians, astrologers, Chaldeans, and soothsayers.

12 Forasmuch as an excellent spirit, and knowledge, and understanding, and interpreting of dreams, and shewing of hard sentences, and dissolving of doubts were found in the same Daniel, whom the king named Belteshazzar: now let Daniel be called, and he will shew the interpretation.

13 Then was Daniel brought in before the king: and the king spake, and said unto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Jewry?

14 I have even heard of thee, that the spirit of the gods is in thee, and that light, and understanding, and excellent wisdom is found in thee.

15 And now the wise men, the astrologers have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and make known unto me the interpretation thereof: but they could not shew the interpretation of the thing.

16 And I have heard of thee, that thou canst make interpretations, and dissolve doubts: now if thou canst read the writing, and make known to me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with scarlet, and have a chain of gold about thy neck, and shalt be the third ruler in the kingdom.

17 Then Daniel answered and said before the king, Let thy gifts be to thy self, and also thy rewards to another, yet I will read the writing unto the king, and make known to him the interpretation.

18 O thou king, the most high God gave Nebuchadnezzar thy father a kingdom, and majesty, and glory, and honour.

19 And for the majesty that he gave him, all people, nations and languages trembled and feared before him: whom he would he slew, and whom he would he kept alive, and whom he would he set up, and whom he would he put down.

20 But when his heart was lifted up, and his minde hardened in pride, he was depoled from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him.

21 And he was dyen from the sons of men, and his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wilde asses; they fed him, with grasse like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till he knew that the most high God ruled in the kingdom of men, and that he appoynteth over it whomsoever he will.

22 And thou his son, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thy heart, though thou knewest all this:

23 But hast lifted up thy self against the Lord of heaven, and thy have brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou and thy lords, thy wives and thy concubines have drunk wine in them;

them, and thou hast praised the gods of silver and gold, of brass, iron, wood and stone, which see not, nor hear, nor know: and the God in whose hand thy breath is, and whose are all thy wayes, hath thou not glorified.

24 Then was the part of the hand sent from him, and this writing was written.

25 ¶ And this is the writing that was written, M E S S A G E, T E R R E M O R I A.

26 This is the interpretation of the thing; M E S S A G E, God hath numbered the kingdom, and finished it.

27 T E R R E M O R I A, thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting.

28 M O R I A, thy kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians.

29 Then commanded Belshazzar, and they clothed Daniel with scarlet, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made a proclamation concerning him, that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom.

30 ¶ In that night was Belshazzar the king of the Chaldeans slain.

31 And Darius the Median took the kingdom, being || about threescore and two years old.

CHAP. VI.

1 Daniel is made chief of the presidents. 4 They conspiring against him, obtain an idolatrous decree.

10 Daniel accused of the breach thereof, is cast into the lions den. 18 Daniel is saved. 24 His adversaries devoured, 25 and God magnified by a decree.

¶ The king Darius set over the kingdom an hundred and twenty princes, which should be over the whole kingdom.

2 And over these three presidents, (of whom Daniel was first) that the princes might give accounts unto them; and the king should have no damage.

3 ¶ Then this Daniel was preferred above the presidents and princes, because an excellent spirit was in him; and the king thought to set him over the whole realm.

4 ¶ Then the presidents and princes sought to find occasion against Daniel concerning the kingdom, but they could find none occasion nor fault: soasmuch as he was faithful, neither was there any error or fault found in him.

5 ¶ Then said these men, We shall not find any occasion against this Daniel, except we finde it against him concerning the law of his God.

6 ¶ Then these presidents and princes assembled together to the king, and said thus unto him, King Darius, live for ever.

7 All the presidents of the kingdom, the governors and the princes, the counsellors and the captains have consulted together to establish a royal statute, and to make a firm || decree, that whosoever shall ask a petition of any God or man for thirty dayes save of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions.

8 ¶ Now, O king, establish the decree, and sign the writing; that it be not changed, according to the * law of the Medes and Persians which || altereth not.

9 Wherefore king Darius signed the writing and the decree.

10 ¶ Now when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house; and his windows being open in his chamber * toward Jerusalem, he kneeled upon his knees * three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did afore-time.

11 ¶ Then these men assembled, and found Daniel praying, and making supplication before his God.

12 ¶ Then they came near, and spake before the king concerning the kings decree. Hast thou not signed a decree, that every man that shall ask a petition of any God or man, within thirty dayes, save of thee, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions? The king answered, and said, The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

13 ¶ Then answered they and said before the king, That Daniel which is of the children of the captivity of Judah, regardeth not thee, O king, nor the decree that thou hast signed, but maketh his petition three times a day.

14 ¶ Then the king when he heard these words, was sore displeas'd with himself, and let his heart on Daniel to deliver him: and he laboured till the going down of the sun to deliver him.

15 ¶ Then these men assembled unto the king, and said unto the king, Know, O king, that the law of the Medes and Persians is, that no decree nor statute which the king establisheth, may be changed.

16 ¶ Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions: now the king spake, and said unto Daniel, Thy God whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee.

17 ¶ And a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den, and the king sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his lords; that the purpose might not be changed concerning Daniel.

18 ¶ Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting; neither were || instruments of musick brought before him, and his sleep went from him.

19 ¶ Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions.

20 ¶ And when he came to the den, he cryed with a lamentable voice unto Daniel, and the king spake and said to Daniel, O Daniel, servant of the living God, is thy God whom thou servest continually, able to deliver thee from the lions?

21 ¶ Then said Daniel unto the king, O king, live for ever.

22 ¶ My God hath sent his angel, and hath shut the lions mouths that they have not hurt me: soasmuch as before him innocency was found in me; and also before thee, O king, have I done no hurt.

23 ¶ Then was the king exceeding glad for him, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den: so Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he believed in his God.

24 ¶ And the king commanded, and they brought those men which had accused Daniel, and they cast them into the den of lions, them, their children, and their wives; and the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones in pieces || ever they came at the bottom of the den.

25 ¶ Then king Darius wrote unto all people, nations and languages that dwell in all the earth, Peace be multiplied unto you.

26 ¶ I make a decree, that in every dominion of my kingdom, men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel: for he is the living God, and steadfast for ever, and his kingdom that which shall not be * destroyed, and his dominion shall be even unto the end.

CHAP. VII.

1 Daniels vision of four beasts, 9 of Gods kingdom.
15 The interpretation thereof.

I In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon, Daniel † had a dream, and visions of his head upon his head: then he wrote the dream, and told the summe of the kinatters.

2 Daniel spake, and said, I saw in my vision by night, and behold, the four windes of the heaven arose upon the great sea.

3 And four great beasts came up from the sea diverse one from another.

4 The first was like a lion, and had eagles wings: I beheld till the wings thereof were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made stand upon the feet as a man, and a mans heart was given to it.

5 And behold, another beast, a second like to a bear, and it raised up it self on one side, and it had three ribs in the mouth of it between the teeth of it: and they said thus unto it, Arise, devour much flesh.

6 After this I beheld, and lo, another like a leopard, which had upon the back of it four wings of a fowle, the beast had also four heads, and dominion was given to it.

7 After this I saw in the night-visions, and behold, a fourth beast, dreadful and terrible, and strong exceedingly, and it had great iron teeth: it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with the feet of it, and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it, and it had ten horns.

8 I considered the horns, and behold, there came up among them another little horn, before whom there were three of the first horns plucked up by the roots: and behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking great things.

9 I beheld till the thrones were cast down, and the ancient of dayes did sit, whose garment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like the pure wool: his throne was like the fiery flame, and his wheels as burning fire.

10 A fierce stream flued, and came forth from before him: * thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him: the judgement was set, and the * books were opened.

11 I beheld then, because of the voice of the great words which the horn spake: I beheld even till the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and given to the burning flame.

12 As concerning the rest of the beasts, they had their dominion taken away: yet † their lives were prolonged for a season and time.

13 I saw in the night-visions, and behold, one like the sonne of man, came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the ancient of dayes, and they brought him near before him.

14 And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all people, nations, and languages, should serve him: his dominion is an * everlasting dominion, which shall not passe away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed.

15 I Daniel was grieved in my spirit in the midst of my † booke, and the visions of my head troubled me.

16 I came neer unto one of them that stood by,
and asked him the trieth of all this: so he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things.

17 These great beasts, which are four, are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth.

18 But the saints of the † most high shall take the kingdom, and possesse the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever.

19 Then I would know the truth of the fourth beast, which was diverse † from all the others, exceeding dreadful, whose teeth were of iron, and his nails of brasse, which devoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with his feet,

20 And of the ten horns that were in his head, and of the other which came up, and before whom three fell, even of that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake very great things, whose look was more stout then his fellows.

21 I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them;

22 Untill the ancient of dayes came, and judgement was given to the saints of the most high: and the time came, that the saints possessed the kingdom.

23 Thus he said, The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces.

24 And the ten horns out of this kingdom are ten kings, † war shall arise: and another shall rise after them, and he shall be diverse from the first, and he shall subdue three kings.

25 And he shall speak great words against the most high, and shall wear out the saints of the most high, and shall think to change times and laws: and they shall be given into his hand, untill a time and times, and the dividing of time.

26 But the judgement shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume, and to destroy it unto the end.

27 And the * kingdom and dominion, and the greatnesse of the kingdom under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the most high, whose kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all † dominions shall serve and obey him.

28 Hitherto is the end of the matter. As for me Daniel, my cogitations much troubled me, and my countenance changed in me: but I kept the matter in my heart.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Daniels vision of the ram, and he-goat. 13 The two thousand three hundred dayes of sacrifice.
15 Gabriel comforteth Daniel, and interpreteth the vision.

I In the third year of the reign of king Belshazzar,
I a vision appeared unto me, even unto me Daniel, after that which appeared unto me at the first.

2 And I saw in a vision ( and it came to passe when I saw, that I was at Shulhan in the palace, which is in the province of Ham ) and I saw in a vision, and I was by the river of Uai.

3 When I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, there stood before the river, a ram which had two horns, and the two horns were high: but one was higher then the other, and the higher came up last.

4 I saw the ram pushing west-ward, and north-ward, and south-ward: so that no beasts might stand before him, neither was there any that that could deliver out of his hand, but he did according to his will, and became great.

5 And as I was considering, behold, an he-goat came from the west on the face of the whole earth, and it touched not the ground: and the goat had a notable horn between his eyes.

6 And he came to the ram that had two horns, which I had seen standing before the river, and ran unto him in the fury of his power.

7 And I saw him come close unto the ram, and he was moved with choler against him, and smote the ram, and brake his two horns, and there was no power in the ram to stand before him, but he cast him down to the ground, and stamped upon him, and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his hand.

8 Therefore the he-goat waxed very great, and when he was strong, the great horn was broken: and for it came up four notable ones, toward the four winds of heaven.

9 And out of one of them came forth a little horn, which waxed exceeding great, toward the south, and toward the east, and toward the pleasant land.

10 And it waxed great, even to the host of heaven, and it cast down some of the host, and of the stars to the ground, and stamped upon them.

11 Yea, he magnified himself even to the prince of the host, and by him the daily sacrifice was taken away, and the place of his sanctuary was cast down.

12 And his host was given him against the daily sacrifice by reason of transgression, and it cast down the truth to the ground, and it practised and prospered.

13 Then I heard one saint speaking, and another saint said unto me that certain saints which spake, How long shall be the vision concerning the daily sacrifice, and the transgression of desolation, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be troden under foot?

14 And he said unto me, Unto two thousand and three hundred days; then shall the sanctuary be cleansed.

15 And it came to passe, when I, even I Daniel had seen the vision, and sought for the meaning, then behold, there stood before me as the appearance of a man.

16 And I heard a mans voice between the banks of Ulai, which called, and said, * Gabriel, make this man to understand the vision.

17 So he came near where I stood: and when he came, I was afraid, and fell upon my face: but he said unto me, Understand, O sonne of mans; for at the time of the end shall be the vision.

18 Now as he was speaking with me, I was in a deep sleep on my face toward the ground: but he touched me, and set me upright.

19 And he said, Behold, I will make thee know what shall be in the last end of the indignation: for at the time appointed the end shall be.

20 The ram which thou sawest having two horns, are the kingdoms of Media and Persia.

21 And the rough goat is the king of Grecia, and the great horn that is between his eyes, is the first king.

22 Now that being broken, whereas four stood up for it, four kingdoms shall stand up out of the nation, but not in his power.

23 And in the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressours are come to the full, a king of fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences, shall stand up.

24 And his power shall be mighty, but not by his own power: and he shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper, and practise, and shall destroy the mighty, and the holy people.

25 And though his politic also he shall cause craft to prosper in his hands, and he shall magnifie himself in his heart, and by his peace shall destroy many: he shall also stand up against the picture of princes, but he shall be broken without hand.

26 And the vision of the evening and the morning which was told, is true: wherefore shut thou up the vision, for it shall be for many daies.

27 And I Daniel fainted and was sick certain daies; afterward I rose up, and did the kings business, and I was astonished at the vision, but none understood it.

CHAP. IX.

1 Daniel considering the time of the captivity, maketh confession of sins, 16 and prayeth for the restauration of Jerusalem. 20 Gabriel informeth him of the sevenie weeks.

In the first year of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the seed of the Medes, which was made king over the realm of the Caldeans.

2 In the first year of his reign, I Daniel understood by books the number of the years whereof the word of the LORD came to Jeremia the prophet, that he would accomplish sevenie years in the desolations of Jerusalem.

3 And I set my face unto the LORD GOD, to seek by prayer and supplications, with fasting and sackcloth, and ashes.

4 And I prayed unto the LORD my God, and made my confession, and said, O LORD, the great and dreadful God, keeping the covenant and mercie to them that love him, and to them that keep his commandments:

5 We have sinned, and have committed iniquitie, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even by departing from thy precepts, and from thy judgements.

6 Neither have we hearkened unto thy servants the prophets, which spake in thy name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

7 O LORD, righteousnesse belongeth unto thee, but unto us confusion of faces, as at this day: to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and unto all Israel that are near, and that are far off, through all the countreys whither thou hast driven them, because of their trespasses that they have trespassed against thee.

8 O LORD, * to us belongeth confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against thee.

9 To the LORD our God belong mercies and forgivenesses, though we have rebelled against him.

10 Neither have we obeyed the voyce of the LORD our God, to walk in his laws which he set before us, by his servants the prophets.

11 Yea, all Israel have transgressed thy law, even by departing that they might not obey thy voice, therefore the curse is poured upon us, and the oath that is written in the law of Moses the servant of God, because we have sinned against him.

12 And he hath confirmed his words which he spake against us, & against our judges that judged us, by bringing upon us a great evil: for under the whole heaven hath not been done, as hath been done upon Jerusalem.

13 As it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil is come upon us: yet we made not our

CHAP. X.

1 Daniel having humbled himself, seeth a vision. 10 Being troubled with fear, he is comforted by the Angel.

1 In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia, a thing was revealed unto Daniel, (whose name was called Belteshazzar) and the thing was true, but the time appointed was long, and he understood the thing, and had understanding of the vision.

2 In those dayes I Daniel was mourning thre full weeks.

3 I ate no pleasant bread, neither came flesh, nor wine in my mouth, neither did I anoint my self at all, till these whole weeks were fulfilled.

4 And in the four and twentieth day of the first month, as I was by the side of the great river, which is * Tigris:

5 Then I lift up mine eyes, and looked, and behold, I saw a certain man clothed in linen, whose loyns were girded with fine gold of Cyprus:

6 His body also was like the beryl, and his face as the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as lamps of fire, and his arms and his feet like in colour to polished brass, and the voice of his words like the voice of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel alone saw the vision, for the men that were with me saw not the vision: but a great quaking fell upon them, so that they fled to hide themselves.

8 Therefore I was left alone, and saw this great vision, and there remained no strength in me: for my * comeliness was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no strength.

9 Yet heard I the voice of his words: and when I heard the voice of his words, then was I in a dead sleep on my face, and my face toward the ground.

10 And behold, a hand touched me, which set me upon my knees, and upon the palms of my hands.

11 And he said unto me, O Daniel, I am greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak unto thee, and stand upright: for unto thee am I now sent; and when he had spoken this word unto me, I stood trembling.

12 Then said he unto me, Fear not, Daniel: for from the first day that thou didst see thine heart to understand, and to chasten thy self before thy God, thy words were heard, and I am come for thy words.

13 But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty dayes: but lo, Michael one of the chief princes came to help me, and I remained there with the kings of Persia.

14 Now I am come to make thee understand what shall befall thy people, in the latter dayes: for yet the vision is for many dayes.

15 And when he had spoken such words unto me, I set my face toward the ground, and I became dumb.

16 And behold, one like the similitude of the sons of men touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake, and said unto him that stood before me, O my lord, by the vision my sorrows are turned upon me, and I have retained no strength.

17 For how can I the servant of this my lord, talk with this my lord? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither is there breath left in me.

18 Then there came again and touched me one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me, 19 And said, O man greatly beloved, stand not, prayer before the Lord our God, that we might turn from our iniquities, and understand thy truth.

14 Therefore hath the Lord watched upon the evil, and brought it upon us: for the Lord our God is righteous in all his works which he doth: for we obeyed not his voice.

15 And now, O Lord our God, what hast brought thy people forth out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and hast gotten thee renown as at this day: we have sinned, we have done wickedly.

16 O Lord, according to all thy righteousness, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy fury be turned away from thy city Jerusalem, thy holy mountain: because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and thy people are become a reproach to all that are about us.

17 Now therefore, O our God, hear the prayer of thy servant, and his supplications, and cause thy face to shine upon the sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lords sake.

18 O my God, incline thine ear and heare, open thine eyes and behold our desolations, and the city, which is called by thy name: for we do not present our supplications before thee for our righteousnesses, but for thy great mercies.

19 O Lord hear, O Lord forgive, O Lord hearken and do, defer not, for thine own sake, O my God: for the city, and the people are called by thy name.

20 And whiles I was speaking, and praying, and confessing my sin, and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before the Lord my God, for the holy mountain of my God:

21 Yea, whiles I was speaking in prayer, even the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, being caused to fly swiftly, touched me about the time of the evening oblation.

22 And he informed me, and talked with me, and said, O Daniel, I am now come forth to give thee skill and understanding.

23 At the beginning of thy supplications the commandment came forth, and I am come to shew thee, for thou art greatly beloved: therefore understand the matter, and consider the vision.

24 Seventie weeks are determined upon thy people, and upon thy holy city, to finish the transgression, and to make an end of sinnes, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up the vision and prophesie, and to anoint the most holy.

25 Know therefore and understand, that from the going forth of the commandment to restore and to build Jerusalem, unto the Messiah the prince, shall be seven weeks: and threescore and two weeks the street shall be built again, and the wall even in troublous times.

26 And after threescore and two weeks shall Messiah be cut off, but not for himself: and the people of the prince that shall come, shall destroy the city, and the sanctuary, and the end thereof shall be with a flood, and unto the end of the war desolations are determined.

27 And he shall confirm the covenant with many for one week: and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, and for the overspreading of abominations, he shall make it desolate, even until the consummation, and that determined shall be poured upon the desolate.

21 But I will shew thee that which is noted in the Scripture of truth: and there is none that holdeth with me in these things, but Michael your prince.

C A H P. XI.

1 The overthrow of Persia by the king of Grecia. 5 Leagues and conflicts between the king of the south and of the north. 30 The invasion and tyranny of the Romanes.

ALo I, in the first year of Darius the Mede, even I stood to confirm and to strengthen him.

2 And now will I shew thee the truth. Behold, there shall stand up yet three kings in Persia, and the fourth shall be farre richer then they all: and by his strength though his riches he shall stir up all against the realm of Grecia.

3 And a mighty king shall stand up, that shall rule with great dominion, and do according to his will.

4 And when he shall stand up, his kingdom shall be broken, and shall be divided toward the four windes of heaven; and not to his posteritie, nor according to his dominion which he ruled: for his kingdom shall be plucked up, even for others besides those.

5 ¶ And the king of the South shall be strong, and one of his princes, and he shall be strong above him, and have dominion: his dominion shall be a great dominion.

6 And in the end of years they shall joyn themselves together: for the kings daughter of the south shall come to the king of the north to make ¶ an agreement, but she shall not retain the power of the arm, neither shall he stand, nor his arm: but she shall be given up, and they that brought her, and she that begat her, and she that strengthened her in these times.

7 But out of a branch of her roots shall one stand up in his estate, which shall come with an armie, and shall enter into the forrests of the king of the north, and shall deal against them, and shall prevail:

8 And shall also carry captives into Egypt, their gods with their princes, and with ¶ their precious vessels of silver and of gold, and he shall continue more years then the king of the north.

9 So the king of the south shall come into his kingdom, and shall return into his own land.

10 But his sonnes shall be stirred up, and shall assemble a multitude of great forces: and one shall certainly come and overflow, and passe thowes: then shall he return, and be stirred up even to his forrests.

11 And the king of the south shall be moved with cholere, and shall come forth and fight with him, even with the king of the north: and he shall set forth a great multitude, but the multitude shall be given into his hand.

12 And when he hath taken away the multitude, his heart shall be lifted up, and he shall cast down many ten thousands: but he shall not be strengthened by it.

13 For the king of the north shall return, and shall set forth a multitude greater then the former, and shall certainly come (¶ after certain years) with a great armie, and with much riches.

14 And in chole times there shall many stand up against the king of the south: also ¶ the robbers of the people shall exalt themselves to establish the vision, but they shall fall.

15 So the king of the north shall come, and cast up a mount, and take ¶ the most fenced cities, and the arms of the south shall not withstand, neither ¶ his chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to withstand.

16 But he that cometh against him, shall do according to his own will, and none shall stand before him: and he shall stand in the ¶ glorious land which by his hand shall be continued.

17 He shall also see his face to enter with the strength of his whole kingdom, and ¶ upright ones with him: thus shall he do, and he shall give him the daughter of women, ¶ corrupting her: but she shall not stand on his side, neither be for him.

18 After this shall he turn his face unto the isles, and shall take many: but a prince ¶ for his own behalf shall cause ¶ the reproach offered by him, to cease: without his own reproach he shall cause it to turn upon him.

19 Then he shall turn his face towards the fort of his own land: but he shall stumble and fall, and not be found.

20 Then shall stand up in his estate ¶ a ruler of cares in the glory of the kingdom; but within few dayes he shall be destroyed, neither in ¶ anger, nor in battell.

21 And in his estate shall stand up a vile person, to whom they shall not give the honour of the kingdom: but he shall come in peaceably, and obtain the kingdom by flatteries.

22 And with the arms of a flood shall they be overflowed from before him, and shall be broken; yea also the prince of the covenant.

23 And after the league made with him, he shall work deceitfully: for he shall come up, and shall become strong with a small people.

24 He shall enter ¶ peaceably, even upon the fattest places of the province, and he shall do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers fathers, he shall scatter among them the prey and spoil, and riches: yea, and he shall ¶ forecast his devices against the strong holds, even for a time.

25 And he shall stir up his power and his courage against the king of the south with a great armie, and the king of the south shall be stirred up to battell with a very great and mighty armie; but he shall not stand: for they shall forecast devices against him.

26 Yea, they that feed of the portion of his meat, shall destroy him, and his armie shall overflow: and many shall fall down slain.

27 And both these kings ¶ hearts shall be to do mischief, and they shall speak lies at one table, but it shall not prosper: for yet the end shall be at the time appointed.

28 Then shall he return into his land with great riches, and his heart shall be against the holy covenant: and he shall do exploits, and return to his own land.

29 At the time appointed he shall return and come toward the south, but it shall not be as the former, or as the latter.

30 ¶ For the ships of Chittim shall come against him: therefore he shall be grieved, and return, and have indignation against the holy covenant: so shall he do, he shall even return, and have intelligence with them that forsake the holy covenant.

31 And arms shall stand on his part, and they shall pollute the sanctuary of strength, and shall take 32 And such as do wickedly against the covenant, shall be a corrupt by flatteries: but the people that do know their God, shall be strong, and do exploits.

33 And they that understand among the people, shall instruct many: yet they shall fall by the sword, and by flame, by captivity, and by spoil many daies.

34 Now when they shall fall, they shall be holpen with a little help: but many shall cleave to them with flatteries.

35 And some of them of understanding shall fall to cryll them, and to purge, and to make them white, even to the time of the end: because it is yet for a time appointed.

36 And the king shall do according to his will, and he shall exalt himself, and magnifie himself above every god, and shall speak marvellous things against the God of gods, and shall prosper till the indignation be accomplished: for that that is determined, shall be done.

CHAP. XII.

1 Michael shall deliver Israel from their troubles. 5 Daniel is informed of the times.

And at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people, and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation, even to that same time: and at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book.

2 And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, // some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt:

3 And they that be // wife // shall shine as the brightness of the firmament, // they that turn many to righteousness, as the stars for ever and ever.

4 But thou, D Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book even to the time of the end: many shall run to and fro: and knowledge shall be increased.

7 And I heard the man clothed in linen, which was upon the waters of the river, when he // held up his right hand, and his left hand unto heaven, and swore by him that liveth for ever, that it shall be for a time, times, and // an half: and when he shall have accomplished to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.

8 And I heard, but I understood not: then said I, D my lord, what shall be the end of these things?

9 And he said, Go thy way Daniel: for the words are closed up and sealed till the time of the end.

10 Many shall be purified and made white and tried: but the wicked shall do wickedly: and none of the wicked shall understand, but the wise shall understand.

11 And from the time that the daily sacrifice shall be taken away, and the // abomination that // maketh desolate set up, there shall be a thousand two hundred and ninety daies.

HOSEA.

CHAP. I.

I Hosea, to shew Gods judgement for spiritual whoredom, taketh Gomer, 4 and hath by her Jezreel, 6 Lo ruhamah, 8 and Lo-ammi. 10 The restoration of Judah and Israel.

The word of the Lord which came unto Hosea, the son of Beeri, in the dayes of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the dayes of Jeroboam the son of Neah king of Israel.

2 The beginning of the word of the Lord which came unto Hosea: and the Lord said to Hosea, Go, take unto thee a wife of whoredoms, and children of whoredoms: for the land hath committed great whoredom, departing from the Lord.

3 So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim, which conceived and bare him a son.

4 And the Lord said unto him, Call his name Jezreel, for yet a little while, and I will revenge the blood of Jezreel upon the house of Jehu.

Jesus, and will cause to cease the kingdom of the house of Israel.

5 And it shall come to passe at that day, that I will break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel.

6 And she conceived again, and bare a daughter; and God said unto him, Call her name || Lo-rubamah; for I will no more have mercy upon the house of Israel; || but I will utterly take them away.

7 But I will have mercy upon the house of Judah, and will save them by the LORD, and will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battell, by bowles, nor by holmen.

8 Now when she had weaned Lo-rubamah, she conceived and bare a son.

9 Then said God, Call his name || Lo-ammi: for ye are not my people, and I will not be your God.

10 Yet the number of the children of Israel shall be as the sands of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered; and it shall come to passe, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people, there it shall be said unto them, Ye are the sons of the living God.

11 Then shall the children of Judah, and the children of Israel be gathered together, and appoint themselves one head, and they shall come up out of the land; for great shall be the day of Jezreel.

CHAP. II.

1 The Idolatry of the people. 6 Gods judgements against them. 14 His promises of reconciliation with them.

Say ye unto your brethren, || Ammi, and to your sisters, || Rubamah.

2 Bleed with your mother, plead; for I will not save her, neither am I her husband; let her therefore put away her idols, and her adulteries from between her breasts;

3 Lest I strip her naked, and let her as in the day that she was born, and make her as a wilder nesse, and let her like a die land, and slay her with thirst.

4 And I will not have mercy upon her children; for they be the children of whoredoms.

5 For their mother hath plaid the harlot: she that conceived them hath done shamefully: for she said, I will go after my lovers, that give me my bread, and my water, my wool and my flax, mine oyl and my drink.

6 Therefore behold, I will hedge up thy way with thorns, and I will make a wall, that she shall not finde her pathes.

7 And she shall follow after her lovers, but she shall not overtake them, and she shall seek them, but shall not finde them: then shall she say, I will go and return to my first husband, for then was it better with me then now.

8 For she did not know that I gave her corn, and I wine, and oyl, and multiplied her silver and gold, which they prepared for Baal.

9 Therefore will I return, and take away my corn in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and will recover my wooll and my flax, given to cover her nakednesse.

10 And now will I discover her nakednesse in the sight of her lovers, and none shall deliver her out of mine hand.

11 I will also cause all her meted to cease, her feast dayes, her new moons, and her sabbaths, and all her solemn feasts.

12 And I will destroy her vines and her fig trees, whereof she hath said, These are my rewards that my lovers have given me: and I will make them a forest, and the beasts of the field shall eat them.

13 And I will visit upon her the dayes of Baalim, wherein she burnt incense to them, and she decked her self with her ear-rings, and her jewels, and she went after her lovers, and forgot me, saith the LORD.

14 Therefore behold, I will allure her and bring her into the wilderness and speak || I comfortably unto her.

15 And I will give her her vineyards from thence, and the valley of Achor for a doore of hope, and she shall sing there, as in the dayes of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt.

16 And it shall be at that day, saith the LORD, that thou shalt call me || Ibi; and shalt call me no more || Baali.

17 For I will take away the names of Baalim out of her mouth, and they shall no more be remembered by their name.

18 And in that day will I make a covenant for them with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, and with the creeping things of the ground; and I will break the bow and the sword, and the battell out of the earth, and will make them to lie down safely.

19 And I will betroth thee unto me for ever, yea, I will betroth thee unto me in righteousness, and in judgement, and in loving kindness, and in mercie.

20 I will even betroth thee unto me in faithfulness, and thou shalt know the LORD.

21 And it shall come to passe in that day, I will hear, saith the LORD, I will hear the heavens, and they shall hear the earth, 22 And the earth shall bear the corn and the wine and the oyl, and they shall bear Jezreel.

23 And I will sow her unto me in the earth, and I will have mercy upon her that had not obtained mercie, and I will say to them which were not my people, Thou art my people; and they shall say, Thou art my God.

CHAP. III.

1 By the expiation of an adulteresse, 4 is shewed the desolation of Israel before the restauration.

Then said the LORD unto me, So yet, love a woman (beloved of her friend, yet an adulteresse) according to the love of the LORD toward the children of Israel, who look to other gods, and love flagons of wine.

2 So I bought her to me for fifteen pieces of silver, and for an homer of barley, and an half-homer of barley.

3 And I said unto her, Thou shalt abide for me many dayes, thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt not be for another man, so will I also be for thee.

4 For the children of Israel shall abide many dayes without a king, and without a prince, and without a sacrifice, and without an image, and without an ephod, and without a teraphim.

5 Afterward shall the children of Israel return, and seek the LORD their God, and David their king, and shall fear the LORD, and his goodness in the latter dayes.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Gods judgements against the sinnes of the people, 6 and of the priests, 13 & against their idolatry. 15 Judah is exhorted to take warning by Israels calamity.

2 By swearing, and lying, and killing, and stealing, and committing adultery, they break out, and blood toucheth blood.

3 Therefore shall the land mourn, and every one that dwelleth therein shall languish with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, yea the fishes of the sea also shall be taken away.

4 Yea let no man strive, nor reprove another: for they people are as they that strive with the priest.

5 Therefore shall they fall in the day, and the prophet also shall fall with thee in the night, and I will destroy the mother.

6 For people are destroyed for lack of knowledge: because thou hast rejected knowledge, I will also reject thee, that thou shalt be no priest to me: seeing thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, I will also forget thee children.

7 As they were increased, so they sinned against me: therefore will I change their glory into shame.

8 They eat up the sin of my people, and they set their heart on their iniquity.

9 And there shall be like people, like priest: and I will punish them for their ways, and reward them their doings.

10 For they shall eat, and not have enough; they shall commit whoredom, and shall not increase: because they have left off to take heed to the LORD.

11 Whoredom, and wine, and new wine take away the heart.

12 For people ask counsell at their stocks, and their staffe declareth unto them: for the spirit of whoredoms hath caused them to erre, and they have gone a whoring from under their God.

13 They sacrifice upon the tops of the mountains, and burn incense upon the hills under oaks and poplars, and elms, because the shadow thereof is good: therefore your daughters shall commit whoredome, and your spouses shall commit adultery.

14 For I will not punish your daughters when they commit whoredom, nor your spouses when they commit adultery: for themselves are separated with whores, and they sacrifice with harlots: therefore the people that doth not understand, shall fall.

15 Though thou Israel play the harlot, yet let not Judah offend, and come not ye unto Gilgal, neither go ye up to Beth-aven, nor swear: The LORD lieth.

16 For Israel slideth back, as a back-sliding heifer: now the LORD will feed them as a lamb in a large place.

17 Ephraim is joined to idols: let him alone.

18 Their drink isis sown: they have committed whoredome continually: her rulers with shame do love, she ye.

19 The wind hath bound her up in her wings, and they shall be ashamed because of their sacrifices.

CHAP. V.

Gods judgements against the Priests, the people, and the princes of Israel for their manifold sins, 15 until they repent.

Heare ye this, O priests, and hearken ye house of Israel, and give ye ear, O house of the king: for judgement is toward you, because ye have been a snare on Mizpah, and a net spread upon Tabor.

2 And the rebolders are profound to make slaughter, although I have been a rebuker of them all.

3 I know Ephraim, and Israel is not hid from me: for now, O Ephraim, thou committest whoredome, and Israel is defiled.

4 For they will not frame their doings to turn unto their God: for the spirit of whoredoms is in the midst of them, and they have not known the LORD.

5 And the pride of Israel doth testify to his face: therefore shall Israel and Ephraim fall in their iniquity: Judah also shall fall with them.

6 They shall go with their flocks, and with their herds to seek the LORD: but they shall not finde him, he hath withdrawn himself from them.

7 They have dealt treacherously against the LORD: for they have begotten strange children; now shall a moneth devour them with their portions.

8 Blow ye the cornet in Sibeah, and the trumpet in Ramah: cry aloud at Beth-aven: after thee, O Benjamin.

9 Ephraim shall be desolate in the day of rebuke: among the tribes of Israel have I made known that which shall surely be.

10 The princes of Judah were like them that remove the bound: therefore I will pour out my wrath upon them like water.

11 Ephraim is oppressed, and broken in judgement: because he willingly walked after the commandment.

12 Therefore will I be unto Ephraim as a moth: and to the house of Judah as a rottenness.

13 When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah saw his wound, then went Ephraim to the Assyrian, and sent it to king Jareb: yet could he not heal you, nor cure you of your wound.

14 For I will be unto Ephraim as a lion, and as a young lion to the house of Judah: I even I will rear and go away: I will take away, and none shall rescue him.

15 I will go and return to my place, till they acknowledge their offence, and seek my face: in their affliction they will seek me early.

CHAP. VI.

An exhortation to repentance. A complaint of their untowardness and iniquity.

Come and let us return unto the LORD: for he hath torn, and he will heal us; he hath smitten, and he will binde us up.

2 After two dayes will he revive us, in the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live in his sight.

3 When shall we know, if we follow on to know the LORD: his going forth is prepared as the morning; and he shall come unto us as the rain, as the latter and former rain unto the earth.

4 O Ephraim, what shall I do unto thee? O Judah, what shall I do unto thee? for your goodnesse is as a morning cloud, and as the dew that goeth away.

5 Therefore have I bewetted them by the prophets: I have slain them by the words of my mouth, and their judgements are as the light that goeth forth.

6 For I desired mercie, and not sacrifice, and the knowledge of God, more then burnt offering.

7 But they like men have transgressed the covenant: there have they dealt treacherously against me.

8 Glad is a ciste of them that work iniquity; and is polluted with blood.

CHAP. VII.

1 A reproof of manifold sins. 11 Gods wrath against them for their hypocricie.

When I would have healed Israel, then the iniquity of Ephraim was discovered, and the wickedness of Samaria: for they commit falsehood: and the thief cometh in, and the troop of robbers spoileth without.

2 And they consider not in their hearts that I remember all their wickedness: now their own doings have beset them about, they are before my face.

3 They make the king glad with their wickedness, and the princes with their lies.

4 They are all adulterers, as an oven heated by the baker, who ceaseth from raising after he hath kneaded the dough, until it be leavened.

5 In the day of our king, the princes have made him sick with bottles of wine, he stretched out his hand with scorners.

6 For they have made ready their heart like an oven, whilst they lie in wait: their baker sleepeth all the night, in the morning it burneth as a flaming fire.

7 They are all hot as an oven, and have devoured their judges, all their kings are fallen, there is none among them that calleth unto me.

8 Ephraim, he hath mixed himself among the people, Ephraim is a cake not turned.

9 Strangers have devoured his strength, and he knoweth it not: yea, gray hairs are there and there upon him, yet he knoweth not.

10 And the pride of Israel ceaseth to his face, and they do not return to the LORD their God, nor seek him for all this.

11 Ephraim also is like a silly dove without heart, they call to Egypt, they go to Assyria.

12 When they shall go, I will spread my net upon them, I will bring them down as the fowls of the heavens, I will chastise them as their congregation hath heard.

13 Wo unto them, for they have fled from me: destruction unto them, because they have transgressed against me: though I have redeemed them, yet they have spoken lies against me.

14 And they have not cried unto me with their heart, when they howled upon their beds: they resemble themselves for corn and wine, and they rebel against me.

15 Though I have bound, and strengthened their arms, yet do they imagine mischief against me.

16 They return, but not to the most high: they are like a deceitful bow: their princes shall fall by the sword for the rage of their tongue: this shall be their destruction in the land of Egypt.

CHAP. VIII.

1, 12 Destruction is threatened for their impiety, 5 and idolatry.

See the trumpet to thy mouth: he shall come as an eagle against the house of the LORD, because they have transgressed my covenant, and I have passed against my law.

2 Israel shall cry unto me, O God, we know thee.

3 Israel hath cast off the thing that is good: the enemy shall pursue him.

4 They have set up kings, but not by me: they have made princes, and I knew it not: of their ill-ver and their gold have they made them idols, that they may be cut off.

5 Thy calf, O Samaria, hath cast thee off, mine anger is kindled against them: how long will it be ere they attain to innocencie?

6 For from Israel was it also, the workman made it, therefore it is not God: but the calf of Samaria shall be broken in pieces.

7 For they have sown the winds, and they shall reap the whirlwinds: it shall blow, and the stub shall yield no meal: if so be it yeeld, the strangers shall swallow it up.

8 Israel is swallowed up, now shall they be among the Gentiles, as a vessel wherein is no pleasure.

9 For they are gone up to Assyria, a wilde asse alone by himself, Ephraim hath hired lovers.

10 Yea, though they have hired among the nations, now will I gather them, and they shall sorrow a little for the burden of the king of princes.

11 Because Ephraim hath made many altars to sinne, altars shall be unto him to sin.

12 I have written to him the great things of my law, but they were counted as a strange thing.

13 They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifices of mine offerings, and eat it; but the LORD accepteth them not: now will he remember their iniquities, and visit their sins: they shall return to Egypt.

14 For Israel hath forgotten his maker, and buildeth temples; and Judah hath multiplied fenced cities: but I will send a fire upon his cities, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

CHAP. IX.

The distresse and captivity of Israel for their sins and idolatry.

Rejoyce not, O Israel, for joy, as other people: for thou hast gone a whoring from thy God, thou hast loved a reward upon every corn-floor.

2 The floor and the wine-press shall not feed them, and the new wine shall fail in her.

3 They shall not dwell in the LANDS land; but Ephraim shall return to Egypt, and they shall eat unclean things in Assyria.

4 They shall not offer wine-offerings to the LORD, neither shall they be pleasing unto him: their sacrifices shall be unto them as the bread of mourners: all that eat thereof shall be polluted: for their bread for their soul shall not come into the house of the LORD.

5 What will ye do in the solemn day, and in the day of the feast of the LORD?

6 For so, they are gone, because of destruction: Egypt shall gather them up, Memphis shall bury them: the pleasant places for their silver, nettles shall possess them: thorns shall be in their tabernacles.

7 The dayes of visitation are come, the dayes of recompence are come, Israel shall know it; the prophet is a fool, the spiritual man is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquity, and the great hatred.

8 The watchman of Ephraim was with my God: but the prophet is a snare of a fowler in all his ways, and hated in the house of his God.

9 They have deeply corrupted themselves, as in the dayes of Sheah: therefore he will remember their iniquity, he will visit their sins.

10 I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness: I saw your fathers as the first ripe in the fig-tree at her first time: but they went to Baal-peor, and separated themselves unto that shame; and their abominations were according as they loved.

11 As for Ephraim, their glory shall flie away like a bird, from the birch and from the womb, and from the conception.

12 Though they bring up their children, yet will I bereave them that there shall not be a man left: yea, wo also to them when I depart from them.

13 Ephraim, as I saw Egiptus, is planted in a pleasant place: but Ephraim shall bring forth his children to the murderer.

14 Give them, O LORD: what wilt thou give? give them a miscarriage womb, and dry breasts.

15 All their wickednesse is in Gilgal: for there I hated them: for the wickednesse of their doings I will drive them out of mine house, I will love them no more: all their princes are revolters.

16 Ephraim is smitten, their root is dried up, they shall bear no fruit: yea, though they bring forth, yet will I slay even the beloved fruit of their womb.

17 My God will call them away, because they did not hearken unto him: and they shall be wanderers among the nations.

CHAP. X.

Israel is reproved and threatned for their impiety and idolatry.

Israel is an empty vine, he bringeth forth fruit unto himself: according to the multitude of his fruit, he hath increased the altars: according to the goodnesse of his land, they have made goodly images.

2 Their heart is divided: now shall they be found faultie: he shall break down their altars: he shall spoil their images.

3 For now they shall say, We have no king, because we feared not the LORD: what then should a king do to us?

4 They have spoken words, swearing falsly in making a covenant: thus judgement springeth up as hemlock in the furrows of their field.

5 The inhabitants of Samaria shall fear, because of the calves of Beth-aben: for the people thereof shall mourn over it, and the priests thereof shall rejoyce on it, for the glory thereof, because it is departed from it.

6 It shall be also carried unto Assyria for a present to a king: Ephraim shall receive shame, and Israel shall be ashamed of his own counsell.

7 As for Samaria, her king is cut off as the fowne upon the water.

8 The high places also of Aven, the sinne of Israel shall be destroyed: the thorn and the thistle shall come up on their altars: and they shall say to the mountains, Cover us, and to the hills, Fall on us.

9 O Israel, thou hast sinned from the dayes of Shebah: there they stood, the battell in Shebah against the children of iniquity did not overtake them.

10 It is in my desire that I should chastise them: and the people shall be gathered against them, when they shall binde themselves in their two furrows.

11 And Ephraim is as an heifer that is taught, and loveth to tread out the corn, but I passed over upon her side neck: I will make Ephraim to reeve: Judah shall plow, and Jacob shall break his clods.

12 Sow to your selves in righteousness, reap in mercy: break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the LORD, till he come and raine righteousness upon you.

13 Ye have plowed wickednesse, ye have reaped iniquity, ye have eaten the fruit of lies, because ye did not trust in thy way, in the multitude of thy mighty men.

14 Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people, and all thy fortresses shall be spoiled, as Shalman spoiled Beth-arbel in the day of battell: the mother was dashed in pieces upon her children.

15 So shall Beth-el do unto you, because of your great wickednesse: in a morning shall the king of Israel utterly be cut off.

CHAP. XI.

1 The ingratitude of Israel unto God for his benefites, 5 His judgement. 8 Gods mercie toward them.

When Israel was a child, then I loved him, and called my sonne out of Egypt.

2 As they called them, so they went from them: they sacrificed unto Baalim, and burnt incense to graven images.

3 I taught Ephraim also to go, taking them by their arms, but they knew not that I healed them.

4 I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love, and I was to them as they that take off the yoke on their jaws, and I laid meat unto them.

5 He shall not return into the land of Egypt, but the Assirian shall be his king, because they refused to return.

6 And the word shall abide on his ettles, and shall consume his branches, and devour them, because of their own counsells.

7 And my people are bent to backsliding from me: though they called them to the most high, none at all would exalt him.

8 How shall I give thee up, Ephraim: how shall I deliver thee, Israel: how shall I make thee as Admah: how shall I set thee as Sebottim: mine heart is turned within me, my repentings are kindled together.

9 I will not execute the fiercenesse of mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man, the holy one in the midst of thee, and I will not enter into the city.

10 They shall walk after the LORD: he shall roar like a lion: when he shall roar, then the children shall tremble from the west.

11 They shall tremble as a bird out of Egypt, and as a dove out of the land of Assyria: and I will place them in their houses, saith the LORD.

12 Ephraim compasseth me about with lies, and the house of Israel with deceit: but Judah yet ruleth with God, and is faithful with the saints.

CHAP. XII.

1 A reproof of Ephraim, Judah, and Jacob. 3 By former favours he exhortheth to repentance. 7 Ephraims sinnes provoke God.

Ephraim feedeth on windes, and followeth after the east-winde: he daily increaseth lies and desolation, and they do make a covenant with the Assyrians, and oyl is carried into Egypt.

2 The LORD hath also a controversie with Judah, and will punish Jacob according to his wayes: according to his doings will he recompense him.

3 He took his brother by the heel in the wombe, and by his strength he had power with God:

4 Yea, he had power over the angel and prevailed: he wept and made supplication unto him: he found him in Beth-el, and there he spake with us.

5 Even the LORD God of hosts, the LORD is his memoriall.

6 Therefore turn thou to thy God: keep mercy and judgement, and wait on thy God continually.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Ephraims glory by reason of idolatry, vanisheth. 5 Gods anger for their unkindness. 9 A promise of Gods mercy. 15 A judgement for rebellion.

When Ephraim spake, trembling, he exalted himself in Israel: but when he offended in Babel, he died.

2 And now they sin more and more, and have made them molten images of their silver, and idols according to their own understandings, all of it the work of the craftsmen: they say of them, Let the men that sacrifice, kisse the calves.

3 Therefore they shall be as the morning cloud, and as the early dew it passeth away, as the chaffe that is driven with a whirlwinde out of the floor, and as the smook out of the chimney.

4 Yet I am the LORD thy God from the land of Egypt, and thou shalt know no God but me: for there is no saviour beside me.

5 I did know thee in the wilderness in the land of great drought.

6 According to their pasture, so were they filled: they were filled, and their heart was exalted: therefore have they forgotten me.

7 Therefore I will be unto them as a lion: as a leopard by the way will I observe them.

8 I will meet them as a bear that is bereaved of her whelps, and will rent the caul of their heart, and there will I devour them like a lion: & the wilde beast shall rear them.

9 O Israel, thou hast destroyed thy self, but in me is thine help.

whom thou saidst, Give me a king and princes?

11 I gave thee a king in mine anger, and took him away in my wrath.

12 The iniquity of Ephraim is bound up: his sin is hid.

13 The sorrows of a travelling woman shall come upon him, he is an unwise son, for he should not stay long in the place of the breaking forth of children.

14 I will ransom them from the power of the grave; I will redeem them from death: O death, I will be thy plagues; O grave, I will be thy destruction; repentance shall be hid from mine eyes.

15 Though he be fruitful among his brethren, an east-winde shall come, the winde of the LORD shall come up from the wilderness, and his spring shall become dry, and his fountain shall be dried up: he shall spoll the treasure of all pleasant vessels.

16 Samaria shall become desolate, for she hath rebelled against her God: they shall fall by the sword; their infants shall be dashed in pieces, and their women with child shall be ripped up.

CHAP. XIII.

1 An exhortation to repentance. 4 A promise of Gods blessing.

Israel return unto the LORD thy God; for thou hast fallen by thine iniquity.

2 Take with you words, and turn to the LORD, say unto him, Take away all iniquity, and receive us graciously: so will we render the calves of our lips.

3 Altho shall not save us, we will not ride upon horses, neither will we say any more to the work of our hands, Ye are our gods: for in thee the fatherlesse findeth mercy.

4 I will heal their back-sliding, I will love them freely: for mine anger is turned away from him.

5 I will be as the dew unto Israel: he shall grow as the lillie, and cast forth his roots as Lebanon.

6 His branches shall spread, and his beauty shall be as the olive-tree, and his smell as Lebanon.

7 They that dwell under his shadow shall return, they shall revive as the corn, and grow as the vine: the scent thereof shall be as the wine of Lebanon.

8 Ephraim shall say, What have I to do any more with idols? I have heard him, and observed him: I am like a green fir-tree, from me is thy fruit found.

9 Who is wise, and he shall understand these things: prudent, and he shall know them: for the wayes of the LORD are right, and the just shall walk in them: but the transgressours shall fall therein.

JOEL.

CHAP. I.

1 Joel declaring sundry judgements of God, exhorteth to observe them, & and to moum. 14 He prescribeth a fast for complaint.

The word of the LORD that came to Joel the son of Pethuel.

2 Hear this, ye old men, and give ear, all ye inhabitants of the land: hath this been in your dayes, or even in the daies of your fathers?

3 Tell ye your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and their children another generation.

4 That which the palmer-worm hath left, hath the locust eaten; and that which the locust hath left, hath the canker-worm eaten; & that which the canker-worm hath left, hath the caterpiller eaten.

5 Awake ye drunkards, and weep, and howl all ye drinkers of wine, because of the new wine, for it is cut off from your mouth.

Heb. the residue of the palmer-worm.

6 For a nation is come upon my lands, strong, and without number, whose teeth are the teeth of a lion, and he hath the cheek-teeth of a great lion.

7 He hath laid my vine waste, and I barked my fig-tree: he hath made it clean bare, and cast it away, he the branches thereof are made white.

8 I lament like a virgin girded with sackcloth for the husband of her youth.

9 The meat-offering, and the drink-offering is cut off from the house of the LORD: the priests the LORDS ministers mourn.

10 The field is wasted, the land mourneth; for the corn is wasted; the new wine is I diled up, the oil languisheth.

11 Be ye ashamed, O ye husbandmen: howl, O ye vine-dressers, for the wheat and for the barley, because the harvest of the field is perished.

12 The vine is dried up, and the fig-tree languisheth, the pomegranate-tree, the palm-tree also, and the apple-tree, even all the trees of the field are withered: because joy is withered away from the sons of men.

13 Gird your selves, and lament, ye priests: howl, ye ministers of the altar: come, lie all night in sackcloth, ye ministers of my God: for the meat-offering, and the drink-offering is withholden from the house of your God.

14 Sanctifie ye a fast, call a solemn assembly, gather the elders, and all the inhabitants of the land into the house of the LORD your God, and cry unto the LORD.

15 Alas for the day: for the day of the LORD is at hand, and as a destruction from the Almighty shall it come.

16 Is not the meat cut off before our eyes? yea, joy and gladness from the house of our God?

17 The fig-tree is rotten under thick clouds, the garners are laid desolate, the barns are broken down: for the corn is withered.

18 How do the beasts groan? the herds of cattell are perplexed, because they have no pasture; yea, the flocks of sheep are made desolate.

19 O LORD, to thee will I cry: for the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness, and the flame hath burnt all the trees of the field.

20 The beasts of the field cry also unto thee: for the rivers of waters are dried up, and the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness.

CHAP. II.

1 He sheweth unto Zion the terrible of Gods judgement. 2 He exhorteth to repentance, 15 presenteth a fast. 18 promisceth a blessing thereon. 21 He comforteth Zion with present, 28 and future blessings.

Blow ye the trumpet in Zion, and sound an alarm in my holy mountain: let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the day of the LORD cometh, for it is nigh at hand;

2 A day of darkness, and of gloominess, a day of clouds and of thick darkness, as the morning spread upon the mountains: a great people and a strong, there hath not been ever the like, neither shall be any more after it, even to the years of many generations.

3 A fire devoureth before them, and behinde them a flame burneth: the land as the garden of Eden before them, and behinde them a desolate wilderness, yea, and nothing shall escape them.

4 The appearance of them is as the appearance of fishes and as hostmen, so shall they run.

5 Like the noise of chariots on the tops of mountains shall they leap, like the noise of a flame of fire that devoureth the stubble, as a strong people set in battell array.

6 Before their face the people shall be much pained: all faces shall gather I blackness.

7 They shall run like mighty men, they shall climb the wall like men of warre, and they shall march every one on his wayes, and they shall not break their ranks.

8 Neither shall one thrust another, they shall walk every one in his path: and when they fall upon the sword, they shall not be wounded.

9 They shall run to and fro in the city: they shall run upon the wall, they shall climb up upon the houses: they shall enter in at the windows like a thief.

10 The earth shall quake before them, the heavens shall tremble, the sun and the moon shall be dark, and the stars shall withdraw their shining,

11 And the LORD shall utter his voyce before his armie: for his camp is very great: for he is strong that executeth his word: for the day of the LORD is great and very terrible, and who can abide it?

12 Therefore also now, saith the LORD, Turn ye even to me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning.

13 And rent your heart and not your garments, and turn unto the LORD your God: for he is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repenteth him of the evil.

14 Who knoweth if he will return and repent, and leave a blessing behinde him, even a meat-offering and a drink-offering unto the LORD your God?

15 Blow the trumpet in Zion, sanctifie a fast, call a solemn assembly.

16 Gather the people: sanctifie the Congregation: assemble the elders: gather the children, and those that suck the breasts: let the bridegroom go forth of his chamber, and the bride out of her closet.

17 Let the priests, the ministers of the LORD, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, Spare thy people, O LORD, and give not thine heritage to reproch: that the heathen should rule over them: wherefore should they say among the people, Where is their God?

18 Then will the LORD be zealous for his land, and pitee his people.

19 Pray, the LORD will answer and say unto his people, Behold, I will send you corn, and wine, and oil, and ye shall be satisfied therewith: and I will no more make you a reproch among the heathen.

20 But I will remove farre off from you the northern armie, and will drive him into a land barren and desolate, with his face toward the east sea, and his hinder part towards the utmost sea; and his stink shall come up, and his ill favour shall come up, because I have done great things.

21 Fear not, O land, be glad and rejoyce: for the LORD will do great things.

22 Be not afraid, ye beasts of the field: for the pastures of the wilderness do spring, for the tree beareth her fruit, the fig-tree and the vine do yield their strength.

23 Be glad then ye children of Zion, and rejoyce in the LORD your God: for he hath given you the former rain I moderately, and he will cause to come down for you the rain, the former rain; and the latter rain in the first month:

24 And the flocks shall be full of wheat, and the fatts shall overflow with wine and oil.

26 And ye shall eat in plenty and be satisfied, and praise the name of the LORD your God, that hath dealt wonderously with you: and my people shall never be ashamed.

27 And ye shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am the LORD your God, and none else: and my people shall never be ashamed.

28 And it shall come to passe afterward, that I will pour out my Spirit upon all flesh, and your sons and your daughters shall prophesie, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions:

29 And also upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those dayes, will I pour out my Spirit.

30 And I will shew wonders in the heavens, and in the earth, blood and fire and pillars of smoke.

31 The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great and the terrible day of the LORD come.

32 And it shall come to passe that whosoever shall call on the name of the LORD shall be delivered: for in mount Zion and in Jerusalem shall be deliverance, as the LORD hath said, and in the remnant whom the LORD shall call.

CHAP. III.

1 Gods judgement: against the enemies of his people. 9 God will be known in his judgement. 18 His blessing upon the church.

Behold, in those dayes and in that time when I shall bring again the captivity of Judah and Jerusalem,

I will also gather all nations, and will bring them down into the valley of Jehoshaphat, and will plead with them there for my people, and for my heritage Israel, whom they have scattered among the nations, and parted my land.

And they have cast lots for my people, and have given a boy for a harlot, and sold a girl for wine, that they might drink.

Yea, and what have ye to do with me, O Tyre and Sidon, and all the coast of Palestine: will ye render me a recompence? and if ye recompense me, swiftly and speedily will I return your recompence upon your own head.

Because ye have taken my silver and my gold, and have carried into your temples my goodly vessels and things.

6 The children also of Judah, and the children of Israel have ye sold unto the Grecians, that ye might remove them far from their border.

7 Behold, I will raise them out of the place whither ye have sold them, and will return your recompence upon your own head.

8 And I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hand of the children of Judah, and they shall sell them to the Sabeans, to a people far off: for the LORD hath spoken it.

9 Declaim ye this among the Gentiles: prepare war, wake up the mighty men, let all the men of war draw near, let them come up.

10 Beat your plough-shares into swords, and your pruning-hooks into spears, let the weak say, I am strong.

11 Assemble your selves, and eorse all ye heathen, and gather your selves together round about: either I cause thy mighty ones to come down, or the LORD.

12 Let the heathen be wakened, and come up to the valley of Jehoshaphat: for there will I sit to judge all the heathen round about.

13 But ye in the cite, for the harvest is ripe; come, get you down, for the presse is full, the fats overflow, for the wickedness is great.

14 Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision: for the day of the LORD is near in the valley of decision.

15 The sun and the moon shall be darkned, and the stars shall withhold their shining.

16 The LORD also shall roar out of Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem, and the heavens and the earth shall shake; but the LORD will be the hope of his people, and the strength of the children of Israel.

17 So shall ye know that I am the LORD your God dwelling in Zion, my holy mountain: then shall Jerusalem be for joy, and there shall no strangers passe thorough her any more.

18 And it shall come to passe in that day, that the mountains shall drop down new wine, and the hills shall flow with milk, and all the rivers of Judah shall flow with waters, and a fountain shall come forth of the house of the LORD, and shall water the valley of Shittim.

19 Egypt shall be a desolation, and Edom shall be a desolate wilderness, for the violence against the children of Judah, because they have shed innocent blood in their land.

20 But Judah shall dwell for ever, and Jerusalem from generation to generation.

AMOS.

CHAP. I.

1 Amos sheweth Gods judgement upon Syria, 6 upon the Philistines, 9 upon Tyrus, 11 upon Edom, 13 upon Ammon.

The words of Amos, who was among the herd-men of Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel, in the dayes of Uzziah king of Judah, and in the dayes of Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel, two years before the earthquake.

2 And he said, The LORD will roar from Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem: and the habitations of the shepherds shall mourn, and the top of Carmel shall wither.

3 Thus saith the LORD, for three transgressions of Damascus, and for four I will not turn away the punishment thereof, because they have threshed Silead with threshing instruments of iron.

4 But I will send a fire into the house of Hazael, which shall devour the palaces of Benhadad.

5 I will break also the bar of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant from the plain of Aven; and him that holdeth the scepter from the house of Eden, and the people of Syria shall go into captivity unto Kir, saith the LORD.

† Or, yea for four. † Or, convert is, or, let it be quiet: and so verse 6, & c.

† Or. Bkathaven. † Or. Betheden.

* Zech. 14. 5. * Jer. 25. 30. Joel 3. 16.

6 Thus saith the LORD, for three transgressions of Gaza, and for four I will not turn away the punishment thereof: because they carried away captive the whole captivity, to deliver them up to Edom.

7 But I will send a fire on the wall of Gaza, which shall devour the palaces thereof.

8 And I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod, and him that holdeth the scepter from Ashkelon; and I will turn mine hand against Ekron; and the remnant of the Philistines shall perish, saith the LORD God.

9 Thus saith the LORD, For three transgressions of Tyrus, and for four I will not turn away the punishment thereof: because they delivered up the whole captivity of Chem, and remembered not the brotherly covenant.

10 But I will send a fire on the wall of Tyrus, which shall devour the palaces thereof.

11 Thus saith the LORD, For three transgressions of Edom, and for four I will not turn away the punishment thereof: because he did pursue his brother with the sword, and did cast off all pity, and his anger did tear perpetually, and kept his wrath for ever.

12 But I will send a fire upon Teman, which shall devour the palaces of Bozrah.

13 Thus saith the LORD, For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, and for four I will not turn away the punishment thereof: because they have ripped up the women which child of Gilead, that they might enlarge their border.

14 But I will kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah, and it shall devour the palaces thereof, with shouting in the day of battle, with a tempest in the day of the whirl-wind.

15 And their king shall go into captivity, he, and his princes together, saith the LORD.

CHAP. II.

1 Gods wrath against Moab, 4 upon Judah, 6 and upon Israel. 9 God complaineth of their unthankfulness.

Thus saith the LORD, For three transgressions of Moab, and for four I will not turn away the punishment thereof, because he burnt the bones of the king of Edom into lime.

2 But I will send a fire upon Moab, and it shall devour the palaces of Kirioth, and Moab shall die with tumult, with shouting, and with the sound of the trumpet.

3 And I will cut off the judge from the midst thereof, and will slay all the princes thereof with him, saith the LORD.

4 Thus saith the LORD, For three transgressions of Judah, and for four I will not turn away the punishment thereof: because they have despised the law of the LORD, and have not kept his commandments, and their lies caused them to erre, after the which their fathers have walked.

5 But I will find a sin upon Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.

6 Thus saith the LORD, For three transgressions of Israel, and for four I will not turn away the punishment thereof: because they sold the righteous for silver, and the poor for a pair of shoes.

7 That pant after the dust of the earth on the head of the poor, and turn aside the way of the meek: and a man and his father will go in unto the same man, to profane my holy Name.

8 And they lay themselves down upon clothes laid to pledge, by every altar, and they drink the wine of the libation in the house of their God.

9 Yet destroyed I the Amozite before them, whose height was like the height of the cedars, and he was strong as the oaks, yet I destroyed his fruit from above, and his roots from beneath.

10 Also I brought you up from the land of Egypt, and led you fourtie years thro' the wilderness, to possess the land of the Amorite.

11 And I raised up of your sonnes for prophets, and of your young men for Nazarites. Is it not even thus, O ye children of Israel? saith the LORD.

12 But ye gave the Nazarites wine to drink, and commanded the prophets, saying, Prophecie not.

13 Behold, I am pressed under you, as a cart is pressed that is full of sheaves.

14 Therefore the slight shall perish from the swift, and the strong shall not strengthen his force, neither shall the mighty deliver himself.

15 Neither shall he stand that handleth the bowe, and he that is swift of foot shall not deliver himself, neither shall he that rideth the horse deliver himself.

16 And he that is courageous among the mighty, shall slee away naked in that day, saith the LORD.

CHAP. III.

1 The necessity of Gods judgement against Israel. 9 The publication of it, with the causes thereof.

Heard this word that the LORD had spoken against you, O children of Israel, against the whole family which I brought up from the land of Egypt, saying,

2 You only have I known of all the families of the earth: therefore I will punish you for all your iniquities.

3 Can two walk together, except they be agreed?

4 Will a lion roar in the forest, when he hath no prey? will a young lion cry out of his den, if he have taken nothing?

5 Can a bird fall in a snare upon the earth, where no gin is for him? shall one take up a snare from the earth, and have taken nothing at all?

6 Shall a trumpet be blown in the citie, and the people be not afraid? shall there be evil in a citie, and the LORD hath not done it?

7 Surely the Lord God will do nothing, but he revealeth his secret unto his servants the prophets.

8 The lion hath roared, who will not fear? the Lord God hath spoken, who can but prophesie?

9 Publish in the palaces at Ashdod, and in the palaces in the land of Egypt, and say, Assemble your selves upon the mountains of Samaria, and behold the great tumults in the midst thereof, and the oppressed in the midst thereof.

10 For they know not to do right, saith the LORD, who rose up violence and robbery in their palaces.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, An adversary there shall be even round about the lands; and he shall bring down thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shall be spoiled.

12 Thus saith the LORD, As the shepherd taketh out of the mouth of the lion two legs, or a piece of an ear; so shall the children of Israel be taken out that dwell in Samaria, in the corner of a bed, and in Damascus in a couch.

13 Hear ye, and testify in the house of Jacob, saith the Lord God, the God of hosts, 14 That in the day that I shall visit the transgressions of Israel upon him, I will also visit the altars of Beth-el, and the horns of the altar shall be cut off, and fall to the ground.

CHAP. III.

1 He reproveth Israel for oppression, 4 for idolatry, 6 and for their incorrigible sense.

Hear this word ye king of Basan, that are in the mountain of Samaria, which oppresse the poor, which crush the needy, which say to their masters, Bring, and let us drink.

2 The Lord GOD hath sworn by his holiness, that to the daves shall come upon you, that he will take you away with hooks, and your posterity with fish-hooks.

3 And ye shall go out at the breaches, every cov at that which is before her, and ye shall cast them into the palace, saith the LORD.

4 Come to Beth-el and transgress, at Gilgal multiply transgression, and bring your sacrifices every morning, and your clothes after three yeeres.

5 And offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving with leaven, and proclaim and publish the free offerings; for it is thus likely you, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord GOD.

6 And I also have given you cleanness of teeth in all your cities, and want of bread in all your places: yet have ye not returned unto me saith the LORD.

7 And also I have withholden the rain from you, when there were yet three moneths to the harvest, and I caused it to rain upon one cite, and caused it not to rain upon another cite: one piece was rained upon, and the piece wherupon it rained not, withered.

8 So two or three cities wandered unto one cite, to drink water; but they were not satisfied: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD.

9 I have smitten you with blasting and mildew, when your gardens and your vineyards, and your fig-trees, and your olive-trees increased, the palmer-worm devoured them: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD.

10 I have sent among you the pestilence, after the manner of Egypt: your young men have I slain with the sword, and I have taken away your horses, and I have made the stink of your camps to come up unto your nostrils: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD.

11 I have overthrowen some of you, as God overthroweth Sodom and Gomorrah, and ye were as a firebrand pluckt out of the burning: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD.

12 Therefore thus will I do unto thee, O Israel: and because I will do this unto thee, prepare to meet thy God, O Israel.

13 For so he that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought, that maketh the morning darkness, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth, the LORD, the God of hosts is his name.

CHAP. V.

1 A lamentation for Israel. 4 An exhortation to repentance. 21 God rejecteth their hypocritical service.

Hear ye this word which I take up against you: even a lamentation, O house of Israel.

2 The virgin of Israel is fallen, she shall no more rise: she is forsaken upon her land, there is none to raise her up.

3 For thus saith the Lord GOD, the cite that went out by a thousand, shall leave an hundred, and that which went forth by an hundred, shall leave ten to the house of Israel.

4 For thus saith the LORD unto the house of Israel, Seek ye me, and ye shall live.

5 But seek not Beth-el, nor enter into Gilgal, and passe not to Beer-sheba: for Gilgal shall surely go into captivity, and Beth-el shall come to nought.

6 Seek the LORD, and ye shall live, lest he break out like fire in the house of Joseph, and devour it, and there be none to quench it in Beth-el.

7 Ye who turn judgement to wormwood, and leave off righteousness in the earth,

8 Seek him that maketh the seven stars and Orion, and turneth the shadow of death into the morning, and maketh the day dark with night: that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth, the LORD is his name.

9 That strengtheneth the spoiled against the strong: so that the spoiled shall come against the fortress.

10 They hate him that rebuketh in the gate, and they abhorre him that speaketh uprightly.

11 Forasmuch therefore as your treading is upon the poor, and ye take from him burdens of wheat, ye have built houses of hewn stone, but ye shall not dwell in them: ye have planted pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drink wine of them.

12 For I know your manifold transgressions, and your mighty sinnes: they afflict the just, they take a bribe, and they turn aside the poor in the gate from their right.

13 Therefore the prudent shall keep silence in that time, for it is an evil time.

14 Seek good and not evil, that ye may live: and so the LORD the God of hosts shall be with you, as ye have spoken.

15 Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgement in the gate: it may be that the LORD God of hosts will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph.

16 Therefore the LORD the God of hosts, the Lord saith thus, Weeping shall be in all streets, and they shall fall in all the highways, Alas, Alas: and they shall call the husbandman to mourning, and such as are skillfull of lamentation, to weeping.

17 And in all vineyards shall be weeping: for I will passe thorough thee, saith the LORD.

18 Wo unto you that desire the day of the LORD: to what end is it for you? the day of the LORD is darkness and not light.

19 As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him, or went into the house, and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him.

20 Shall not the day of the LORD be darkness, and not light? even very dark, and no brightness in it?

21 C I hate, I despise your feast days, and I will not smell in your solemn assemblies.

22 Though ye offer me burnt-offerings and your meat offerings, I will not accept them; neither will I regard the peace-offerings of your fat beasts.

23 Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs, for I will not hear the melody of thy viols.

24 But let judgement run down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream.

25 Have ye offered unto me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness forty yeeres, O house of Israel?

1 The wantonnesse of Israel, 7 shall be plagued with defolation, 12 and their incorrigibleness.

W O to them that are at ease in Zion, and trust in the mountain of Samaria, which are named * || chief of the nations, to whom the house of Israel came.

2 Pass ye unto Calneh, and see: and from thence go ye to Hamath the great: then go down to Gath of the Philistines: be they better then these kingdoms? or their border greater then your border?

3 Ye that * put far away the * evil day, and cause the || seat of violence to come near.

5 That || chant to the sound of the viol, and invent to themselves instruments of musick, like David.

6 That drink || wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief ointments: but they are not grieved for the || affliction of Iosiph.

7 Therefore now shall they go captive with the flock that go captive, and he banquet of them that stretched themselves, shall be removed.

8 * The Lord GOD hath sworn by himself, saith the LORD the God of hosts, I abhorre the excellency of Jacob, and hate his palaces: therefore will I deliver up the city, with || all that is therein.

9 And it shall come to passe, if there remain ten men in one house, that they shall die.

10 And a mans uncle shall take him up, and he that burneth him, to bring out the bones out of the house, and shall say unto him that is by the sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee? and he shall say, No: then shall he say, * Hold thy tongue; for || I may not make mention of the Name of the LORD.

11 For behold, the LORD commandeth, and he will smite the great house with || breaches, and the little house with clefts.

12 Shall oxen run upon the rock? will one plow there with oxen? for ye have turned judgement into gall, and the fruit of righteousness into hemlock.

13 Ye which refuse in a thing of nought, which say, Have we not taken to us horns by our own strength?

14 But behold, I will raise up against you a nation, O house of Israel, saith the LORD the God of hosts, and they shall afflict you from the entering in of Hamath, unto the || river of the wilderness.

CHAP. VII.

1 The judgements of the grasshoppers, 4 and of the fire, are diverted by the prayer of Amos. 7 By the wall of a plumb-line is signified the rejection of Israel. 10 Amaziah complaineth of Amos. 14 Amos sheweth his calling, 16 and Amaziah's judgement.

Thus hath the Lord GOD shewed unto me, and behold, he formed || grasshoppers in the beginning of the budding up of the latter growth, and so, it was the latter growth after the kings mowing.

2 And it came to passe, that when they had made an end of eating the grass of the land, then I said, O Lord GOD forgive I beseech thee; || By whom shall Iacob arise: for he is small.

3 The LORD repented for this: It shall not be, saith the LORD.

4 Thus hath the Lord GOD shewed unto me, and behold, the Lord GOD called to contend by fire, and it devoured the great deep, and did eat up a part.

5 Then said I, O Lord GOD, cease, I beseech thee; || By whom shall Iacob arise: for he is small.

6 The LORD repented for this: This also shall not be, saith the Lord GOD.

7 Thus he shewed me, and behold, the Lord stood upon a wall made by a plumb-line, with a plumb-line in his hand.

8 And the LORD said unto me, Amos, what seekest thou? and I said, A plumb-line. Then said the Lord, Behold, I will set a plumb-line in the midst of my people Israel, I will not againe passe by them any more.

9 And the high places of Isaac shall be desolate, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste: and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword.

10 Then Amaziah the priest of Beth-el sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: the land is not able to bear all his words.

11 For thus Amos saith, Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall surely be led away captive, out of their own land.

12 Also Amaziah said unto Amos, O thou seer, go, flee thee away into the land of Judah, and there eat bread, and prophesie there.

13 But prophesie not againe any more at Beth-el: for it is the kings || chappell, and it is the || kings court.

14 Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, I was no prophet, neither was I a prophets sonne, but I was an herdsman, and a gatherer of || hycomore fruit.

15 And the LORD took me || as I followed the flock, and the LORD said unto me, Go, prophesie unto my people Israel.

16 Now therefore hear thou the word of the LORD: thou sayest, Prophesie not against Israel, and * drop not thy word against the house of Isaac.

17 Therefore thus saith the LORD, Thy wife shall be an harlot in the city, and thy sonnes and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be divided by line: and thou shalt die in a polluted land, and Israel shall surely go into captivity forth of his land.

CHAP. VIII.

1 By a basket of summer-fruit, is shewed the propinquity of Israels end. 4 Oppression is reproved. 11 A famine of the word threatned.

Thus hath the Lord GOD shewed unto me, and behold a basket of summer-fruit.

2 And he said, Amos, what seekest thou? And I said, A basket of summer-fruit. Then said the LORD unto me, The end is come upon my people of Israel, I will not againe passe by them any more.

3 And the songs of the temples || shall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord GOD; there shall be many dead bodies in every place, they shall cast them forth || with silence.

6 That we may buy the poor for silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes; yea, and sell the refuse of the wheat?

7 The LORD hath sworn by the excellency of Jacob, Surely I will never forget any of their works.

8 Shall not the land tremble for this, and every one mourn that dwelleth therein? and it shall rise up wholly as a flood; and it shall be cast out and drowned as by the flood of Egypt.

9 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord GOD, that I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the clear day.

10 And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and your songs into lamentation, and I will bring up sackcloth upon all hips, and baldness upon every head: and I will make it as the mourning of an only sonne, and the end thereof as a bitter day.

11 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord GOD, that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of the LORD.

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the north even to the east, they shall run to and fro to seek the word of the LORD, and shall not finde it.

13 In that day shall the fair virgins and young men faint for thirst.

14 They that swear by the sinne of Samaria, and say, Thy God, O Dan, liveth, and the manner of Beerthaba liveth; even they shall fall and never rise up again.

CHAP. IX.

1 The certainty of the desolation. 11 The restoring of the tabernacle of David.

I saw the Lord standing upon the altar, and he said, Smite the lintell of the dooe, that the posts may shake: and cut them in the head all of them; and I will slay the last of them with the sword: he that fleeth of them, shall not flee away; and he that escapeth of them, shall not be delivered.

2 Though they dig into hell, thence shall mine hand take them: though they climb up to heaven, thence will I bring them down.

3 And though they hide themselves in the top of Carmel, I will search, and take them out thence:

and though they be hid from my sight in the bottom of the sea, thence will I command the serpent, and he shall bite them.

4 And though they go into captivity before their enemies, thence will I command the sword, and it shall slay them: and I will set mine eyes upon them for evil, and not for good.

5 And the Lord GOD of hosts is he that toucheth the land, and it shall melt, and all that dwell therein shall mourn, and it shall rise up wholly like a flood, and shall be drowned, as by the flood of Egypt.

6 It is he that buildeth his towers in the heaven, and hath founded his troop in the earth, he that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poneth them out upon the face of the earth: the LORD is his name.

7 Are ye not as children of the Ethiopians unto me, O children of Israel, saith the LORD? have not I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt? and the Hittites from Caphtor, and the Assyrians from Kir?

8 Behold, the eyes of the Lord GOD are upon the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from off the face of the earth; saying that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, saith the LORD.

9 For lo, I will command, and I will lift the boule of Israel among all nations, like as corn is sited in a sieve, yet shall not the least grain fall upon the earth.

10 All the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, which say, The evil shall not overtake nor prevent us.

11 In that day will I raise up the tabernacle of David that is fallen, and I will close up the breaches thereof, and I will raise up his ruins, and I will build it as in the dayes of old:

12 That they may possess the remnant of Edom, and of all the heathen, which are called by my Name, saith the LORD that doth this.

13 Behold, the dayes come, saith the LORD, that the plowman shall overtake the reaper, and the reeder of grapes, him that soweth seed, and the mountains shall drop sweet wine, and all the hills shall melt.

14 And I will bring again the captivity of my people Israel, and they shall build the waste cities and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof; they shall also make gardens, and eat the fruit of them.

15 And I will plant them upon their land, and they shall no more be pulled up out of their land which I have given them, saith the LORD thy God.

2 Behold, I have made thee small among the heathen: thou art greatly despised.

3 The pride of thine heart hath deceived thee:

thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, whose habitation is high, that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground?

4 Though thou exalt thy self as the eagle, and though thou set thy nest among the stars, thence will I bring thee down, saith the LORD.

CHAP. I.

1 Jonah sent to Nineveh, fleeth to Tarshish. 4 He is bewrayed by a tempest, 11 thrown into the sea, 17 and swallowed by a fish.

† Called, Mat. 12. 39. Jonas.
 * Gen. 10. 13, 12. Chap. 3. 3.
 † Heb. cast forth.
 † Heb. thought to be brokca.

NOW the word of the L O R D came unto † Jonah the sonne of Amittai, saying,
 2 Arise, go to Nineveh that * great cite, and cry against it; for their wickednesse is come up before me.
 3 But Jonah rose up to flee unto Tarshish from the presence of the L O R D, and went down to Toppa; and he found a ship going to Tarshish: so he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it to go with them unto Tarshish, from the presence of the L O R D.
 4 † But the L O R D † sent out a great winde into the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship † was like to be broken.
 5 Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man unto his god, and cast forth the wares that were in the ship, into the sea, to lighten it of them: but Jonah was gone down into the sides of the ship, and he lay, and was fast asleep.
 6 So the ship-master came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou, O Sleeper? arise, call upon thy God, if so be that God will think upon us, that we perish not.
 7 And they said every one to his fellow, Come, and let us cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. So they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah.
 8 Then said they unto him, Tell us, we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us, what is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and of what people art thou?

 9 And he said unto them, I am an Hebrew, and I fear the L O R D the God of heaven, which hath made the sea and the dry land.
 10 Then were the men † exceedingly afraid, and said unto him, Why hast thou done this? (for the men knew that he fled from the presence of the L O R D, because he had told them)
 11 † Then said they unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea † may be calm unto us? (for the sea † † wrought and was tempestuous)
 12 And he said unto them, Take me up, and cast me forth into the sea; so shall the sea be calm unto you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is upon you.

CHAP. II.

1 The prayer of Jonah. 10 He is delivered from the fish.

Then Jonah prayed unto the LORD his God out of the fishes belly,

2 And said, I * cried by reason of mine affliction unto the LORD, and he heard me; out of the belly of the bell cried I, and thou heardest my voyce.

3 For thou hadst cast me into the deep, in the midst of the seas, and the floods compassed me about, all thy billows and thy waves passed over me.

4 Then I said, I am cast out of thy sight; yet I will look again toward thy holy Temple.

5 The waters compassed me about even to the soul: the depth closed me round about, the weeds were wrapt about my head.

6 I went down to the bottoms of the mountains; the earth with her barres was about me for ever: yet hast thou brought up my life from corruption, O LORD my God.

7 When my soul fainted within me, I remembered, O LORD, and my prayer came in unto thee, into thine holy Temple.

8 They that observe lying bankes, forsake their own mercy.

9 But I will sacrifice unto thee with the voyce of thanksgiving, I will say that that I have vowed: * salvation is of the LORD.

10 And the LORD spake unto the fish, and it vomited out Jonah upon the dry land.

CHAP. III.

1 Jonah sent again, preacheth to the Ninevites, 5 upon their repentance, 10 God repenteth.

And the word of the LORD came unto Jonah the second time, saying,

2 Arise, Go unto Nineveh that great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee.

3 So Jonah arose and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of the LORD: (now Nineveh was an exceeding great city of three dayes journey)

4 And Jonah began to enter into the cite a dayes journey, and he cried, and said, Yet forty dayes and Nineveh shall be overthrowen.

5 So the people of Nineveh beleev'd God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth from the greatest of them even to the least of them.

6 For word came unto the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, and he laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, and sat in ashes.

7 And he caused it to be proclaimed, and published throughout Nineveh (by the decree of the king and his nobles) saying, Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock taste any thing; let them not feed, nor drink water.

8 But let man and beast be covered with sackcloth, and cry mightily unto God: yea, let them turn every one from his evill way, and from the violence that is in their hands.

9 Who can tell if God will turn and repent, and turn away from his fierce anger, that we perish not?

10 And God saw their works, that they turned from their evill way, and God repented of the evill that he had said that he would do unto them, and he did it not.

CHAP. IIIII.

1 Jonah repining at Gods mercy, 4 is reproved by the type of a gourd.

But it displeas'd Jonah exceedingly, and he was very angry.

2 And he prayed unto the LORD, and said, I pray thee, O LORD, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? Therefore I * fled before unto Tarsish: for I knew that thou art a gracious God and mercifull, slow to anger and of great kindnesse, and repentest thee of the evill.

3 Therefore now, O LORD, take, I beseech thee, my life from me; for it is better for me to die then to live.

4 Then said the LORD, Dost thou well to be angry?

5 So Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the east side of the city, and there made him a booth, and sat under it in the shadow, till he might see what would become of the cite.

6 And the LORD God prepared a floure gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shadow over his head, to deliver him from his grief. So Jonah was exceeding glad of the gourd.

7 But God prepared a worm, when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd that it withered.

8 And it came to passe when the sunne did arise, that God prepared a vehement east-winde; and the sunne beat upon the head of Jonah, that he fainted, and wish'd in himself to die, and said, It is better for me to die then to live.

9 And God said to Jonah, Dost thou well to be angry for the gourd? and he said, I do well to be angry even unto death.

10 Then said the LORD, Thou hast had pity on the gourd, for the which thou hast not labour'd, neither madest it grow, which came up in a night, and perished in a night.

11 And should not I spare Nineveh that great city, wherein are more then sixscore thousand persons that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand, and also much cattell?

CHAP. I.

1 Micah sheweth the wrath of God against Jacob, for idolatry. 10 He exhorteth to mourning.

The word of the LORD that came to Micah the Moreshite, in the dayes of Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, which he saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.

2 Hear all ye people, * hearken, O earth, and † all that therein is, let the Lord God be witness against you, the Lord from his holy Temple.

3 For behold, * the LORD cometh forth out of his place, and will come down, and tread upon the high places of the earth.

4 And * the mountains shall be molten under him, and the valleys shall be cleft: as was before the fire, and as the waters that are poured down † a steep place.

and for the finnes of the house of Israel. What is the transgression of Jacob? is it not Samaria? and what are the high places of Judah? are they not Jerusalem?

6 Therefore I will make Samaria as an heap of the field, and as plantings of a vineyard; and I will pour down the stones thereof into the valley, and I will discover the foundations thereof.

7 And all the graven images thereof shall be beaten to pieces, and all the hires thereof shall be burnt with the fire, and all the idols thereof will I lay desolate: for the gathered it of the hire of an harlot, and they shall return to the hire of an harlot.

8 Therefore I will wail and howl, I will go stripe and naked: I will make a walling like the dragons, and mourning as the j obols.

9 For her wound is incurable, for it is come unto Judah: he is come unto the gate of my people, even to Jerusalem.

10 Declare ye it not at Gath, weep ye not at all: in the house of Aphrah roll thy self in the dust.

11 Passe ye away, thou inhabitant of Saphir, having thy shame naked; the inhabitant of Zaanan came not forth in the mourning of Beth-zel, he shall receive of you his standing.

12 For the inhabitant of Maroth waited carefully for good; but evil came down from the LORD unto the gate of Jerusalem.

13 O thou inhabitant of Lachish, binde the chariot to the swift beast: he is the beginning of the sin to the daughter of Zion: for the transgressions of Israel were found in thee.

14 Therefore shall thou give presents to Dorseth-gath: the houses of Achizib shall be a lie to the kings of Israel.

15 Yet will I bring an heir unto thee, O inhabitant of Marithab: he shall come unto Adullam the glory of Israel.

16 Make thee bald, and poll thee for thy delicate children, enlarge thy baldness as the eagle, for they are gone into captivity from thee.

CHAP. II.

1 Against oppression. 4 A lamentation. 7 A reproof of injustice and idolatry. 12 A promise of restoring Jacob.

W D to them that devise iniquitie, and work evil upon their beds: when the morning is light, they practise it because it is in the power of their hand.

2 And they cover fields, and take them by violence; and houses, and take them away: so they oppress a man and his house, even a man and his heritage.

3 Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, against this family do I devise an evil, from which ye shall not remove your necks, neither shall ye go haughtily: for this time is evil.

4 In that day shall one take up a parable against you, and lament with a dolefull lamentation, and say, We be utterly spoiled: he hath changed the portion of my people: how hath he removed it from me? turning away he hath divided our fields.

5 Therefore thou shalt have none that shall call a cord by lot in the congregation of the LORD.

6 With a droppe ye not, say they to them that prophesse: they shall not prophesse to them, that they shall not take shame.

7 O thou that art named the house of Jacob, is the spirit of the LORD restrained? are these his doings? do not my words do good to him that walketh uprightly?

8 When I of late my people is risen up as an enemy: ye pull off the robe with the garment, from them that passe by securely, as men abersle from warre.

9 The women of my people have ye cast out from their pleasant houses, from their children have ye taken away my glory for ever.

10 Arise ye and depart, for this is not your rest: because it is polluted, it shall destroy you even with a soze destruction.

11 If a man I walking in the spirit and fall-hood, do lie, saying, I will prophesie unto thee of wine and strong drink; he shall even be the prophet of this people.

12 I will surely assemble, O Jacob, all of thee: I will surely gather the remnant of Israel, I will put them together as the sheep of Bozrah, as the flock in the midst of their fold: they shall make great noise by reason of the multitude of men.

13 The breaker is come up before them: they have broken up, and have passed through the gates, and are gone out by it, and their king shall passe before them, and the LORD on the head of them.

CHAP. III.

1 The cruelty of the princes. 5 The falshood of the prophets. 8 The securitie of them both.

AND I said, Hear, I pray you, O heads of Jacob, and ye princes of the house of Israel, is it not for you to know judgement?

2 Who hate the good, and love the evill, who pluck off their skinne from off them, and their flesh from off their bones:

3 Who also eat the flesh of my people, and slay their skinne from off them, and they break their bones, and chop them in pieces as for the pot, and as flesh within the cauldron.

4 Then shall they cry unto the LORD, but he will not hear them: he will even hide his face from them at that time, as they have behaved themselves ill in their doings.

5 Thus saith the LORD concerning the prophets that make my people erre, that bite with their teeth, and cry, Peace: and he that putteth not into their mouths, they even prepare war against him.

6 Therefore night shall be unto you, that ye shall not have a vision, and it shall be dark unto you, that ye shall not divine, and the sunne shall go down over the prophets, and the day shall be dark over them.

7 Then shall the seere be ashamed, and the diviners confounded: yea, they shall all cover their lips, for there is no answer of God.

8 But truly I am full of power by the Spirit of the LORD, and of judgement, and of might, to declare unto Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sinne.

9 Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and princes of the house of Israel, that abhorre judgement, and pervert all equity.

10 They build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity.

11 The heads thereof sudge for reward, and the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets teere of divine for money: yet will they lean upon the LORD, and say, Is not the LORD among us? none evill can come upon us.

12 Therefore shall Zion for your sake be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house, as the high places of the forest.

1 BUt in the last dayes it shall come to passe, that the mountain of the house of the LORD shall be established in the top of the mountains, and it shall be erected above the hills, and people shall flow unto it.

2 And many nations shall come and say, Come and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, and to the house of the God of Jacob, and he will reach us of his wayes, and we will walk in his paths: for the law shall go forth of Zion, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem.

3 And he shall judge among many people, and rebuke strong nations afar off, and they shall beat their swords into plow-shares, and their spears into || pruning-books: nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

4 But they shall sit every man under his vine, and under his fig-tree, and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the LORD of hosts hath spoken it.

5 For all people will walk every one in the name of his god, and we will walk in the Name of the LORD our God for ever and ever.

6 In that day, saith the LORD, will I assemble her that halteth, and I will gather her that is driven out, and her that I have afflicted, 7 And I will make her that is halting, a remnant, and her that was cast far off, a strong nation; and the LORD shall reign over them in mount Zion, from hence forth, even for ever.

8 And thou, O tower of the flock, the strong hold of the daughter of Zion, unto thee shall it come, even the first dominion, the kingdom shall come to the daughter of Jerusalem.

9 Why dost thou cry out aloud? is there no king in thee: is thy counsellor perished? for pangs have taken thee, as a woman in travail.

10 We in pain, and labour to bring forth, O daughter of Zion, like a woman in travail: for now shalt thou go forth out of the citie, and thou shalt dwell in the field, and thou shalt go even to Babylon, there shalt thou be delivered: there the LORD shall redeem thee from the hand of thine enemies.

11 Now also many nations are gathered against thee, that say, Let her be defiled, and let our eye look upon Zion.

12 But they know not the thoughts of the LORD, neither understand they his counsell: for he shall gather them as the sheaves into the floor.

13 Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion: for I will make thine horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brass, and thou shalt beat in pieces many people: and I will consecrate their gain unto the LORD, and their substance unto the Lord of the whole earth.

2 But thou * Beth-lehem Ephrath, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come forth unto me, that is to be ruler in Israel: whose goings forth have been from of old, from everlasting.

3 Therefore will he give them up, untill the time that she which travelleth hath brought forth:

then the remnant of his brethren shall return unto the children of Israel.

4 And he shall stand and feed in the strength of the LORD, in the majestic of the Name of the LORD his God, and they shall abide: for now shall he be great unto the ends of the earth.

5 And this man shall be the peace when the Assyrian shall come into our land: and when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seven shepherds, and eight || principall men.

6 And they shall || waste the land of Assyria with the sword, and the land of Nimrod in the entrances thereof: thus shall he deliver us from the Assyrian when he cometh into our land, and when he treadeth within our borders.

7 And the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many people, as a dew from the LORD, as the showres upon the grass that tarieth not for man, nor waltereth for the sonnes of men.

8 And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the Gentiles in the midst of many people, as a lion among the beasts of the forest, as a young lion among the flocks of || sheep: who if he be caught, both treadeth down, and teareth in pieces, and none can deliver.

9 Thine hand shall be lifted up upon thine adversaries, and all thine enemies shall be cut off.

10 And it shall come to passe in that day, saith the LORD, that I will cut off thy horses out of the midst of thee, and I will destroy thy chariots:

11 And I will cut off the cities of the land, and throw down all thy strong holds:

12 And I will cut off witchcrafts out of thine hand, and thou shalt have no more sooth sayers.

13 Thy graven images also will I cut off, and thy || standing images out of the midst of thee, and thou shalt no more worship the work of thine hands.

14 And I will pluck up the groves out of the midst of thee: so will I destroy thy || cities.

15 And I will execute vengeance in anger, and fury upon the heathen, such as they have not heard.

CH A P. VII.

1 The church complaining of her small number, 3 and the generall corruption, 5 putteth her confidence not in man, but in God. 8 She triumpheth over her enemies. 14 God comforteth her by promises, 16 by confusion of the enemies, 18 and by his mercies.
WD is me, for I am as when they have gathered the summer fruits, as the grape gleanings of the vintage: there is no cluster to eat: my soul desired the first ripe fruit.
 2 The good man is perished out of the earth: and there is none upright among men: they all lie in wait for blood: they hunt every man his brother with a net.
 3 ¶ That they may do evil with both hands earnestly, the prince asketh, and the judge asketh for a reward: and the great man he uttereth his mischievous desire: so they wrap it up.
 4 The best of them is as a brier: the most upright is sharper then a thorn-hedge: the day of thy watchmen, and thy visitation cometh: now shall be their perplexitie.
 5 ¶ Trust ye not in a sceld, put ye not confidence in a guide: keep the doores of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosome.

 6 For the son dishonoureth the father, the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter in law against her mother in law; a man's enemies are the men of his own house.
 7 Therefore I will look unto the LORD: I will wait for the God of my salvation: my God will hear me.
 8 ¶ Rejoyce not against me, O mine enemy: when I fall, I shall arise; when I sit in darkness, the LORD shall be a light unto me.
 9 I will bear the indignation of the LORD, because I have sinned against him, until he plead my cause, and execute judgement for me: he will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold his righteousnesse.
 10 ¶ Then thee that is mine enemy shall see it, and shame shall cover her which said unto me, * Where is the LORD thy God: mine eyes shall behold her: now I shall see she be troden down as the mire of the streets.
 11 In the day that thy walls are to be built, in that day shall the decree be far removed.
 12 In that day also he shall come even to thee from Assyria, and from the fortified cities, and from the fortress, even to the river, and from sea to sea, and from mountain to mountain.
 13 ¶ Notwithstanding the land shall be desolate because of them that dwell therein, for the fruit of their doings.
 14 ¶ Feed thy people with thy rod, the flock of thine heritage, which dwell solitarily in the wood, in the midst of Carmel: let them feed in Bashan and Gilead, as in the dapes of old.
 15 According to the dapes of thy coming out of the land of Egypt will I shew unto him marvelous things.
 16 ¶ The nations shall see and be confounded at all their might: they shall lay their hand upon their mouth, their ears shall be deaf.
 17 They shall lick the dust like a serpent, they shall move out of their holes like worms of the earth: they shall be afraid of the LORD our God, and shall fear because of thee.
 18 ¶ Who is a God like unto thee, that pardoneth iniquitie, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage: he retaineth not his anger for ever, because he delighteth in mercy.
 19 He will turn again, he will have compassion upon us: he will subdue our iniquities: and thou wilt cast all their sins into the depths of the sea.

9 What daye imagine against the LORD? he will make an utter end: affliction shall not rise up the second time.
10 For while they be solden together as thorns, and while they are drunken as drunkards, they shall be devoured as stubble fully drie.
11 Ther: is one come out of thee, that imagineth evil against the LORD: † a wicked counsellor.
12 Thus saith the LORD, † Though they be quiet, and likewise many, yet thus shall they be cut down, when he shall passe thorum: though I have afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no more.
13 For now will I break his pole from off thee, and will burst thy bonds in sunder.
14 And the LORD hath given a commandment concerning thee, that no more of thy name be soken: out of the house of thy gods will I cut off the graven image, and the molten image, I will make thy grave, for thou art vile.
15 Behold upon the mountaints the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace: O Judah, † keep thy solemn feasts, perform thy vows: for † the wicked shall no more passe through thee, he is utterly cut off.

CHAP. II.

The fearful and victorious armies of God against Nineveh.

1 He that dasheth in pieces is come up before thy face: keep the munition, watch the way, make thy lions strong, fortifie thy power mightily.
2 For the LORD hath turned away † the excellency of Jacob, as the excellency of Israel: for the emptiers have emptied them out, and marred their vine-branches.
3 The shield of his mighty men is made red, the balliant men are † in scarlet: the chariots shall be with † flaming torches in the day of his preparation, and the fire-trees shall be terribly shaken.
4 The chariots shall rage in the streets, they shall juggle one against another in the broad wayes: † they shall seem like torches, they shall run like the lightning.
5 He shall recount his † worthes: they shall stumble in their walk: they shall make haste to the wall thereof, and the † defence shall be prepared.
6 The gates of the rivers shall be opened, and the palace shall be † dissolved.
7 And † Huzab shall be † led away captive, she shall be brought up, and her maidens shall lead her as with the voice of doves, tabying upon their byfalls.
8 But † Nineveh is † of old like a pool of water: yet they shall flee away. Stand, stand, shall they cry: but none shall † look back.
9 Take ye the spoil of silver, take the spoil of gold: † for there is none end of the store, and glory out of all the † pleasant furniture.
10 She is empty, and void, and waste, and the heart melteth, and the knees smite together, and much pain is in all loyns, and the faces of them all gather blacknesse.
11 Where is the dwelling of the lions, and the feeding place of the young lions? where the lion, even the old lion walked, and the lions whelp, and none made them afraid.
12 The lion did tear in pieces enough for his whelps, and strangled for his lionesses, and filled his holes with prey, and his dens with ravine.

13 Behold, I am against thee, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will burn her chariots in the smock, and the wood shall devour the young lions, and I will cut off thy prey from the earth, and the voice of thy messengers shall no more be heard.

CHAP. III.

The miserable ruine of Nineveh.

1 What to the † blondy city, it is all full of lies and robbery, the prey departeth not.
2 The noise of a whip, and the noise of the rattling of the wheels, and of the prancing horses, and of the jumping chariots.
3 The horseman lifteth up both † the bright sword, and the glittering spear, and there is a multitude of slain, and a great number of carcases; and there is none end of their corpses: they stumble upon their corpses.
4 Because of the multitude of the whoredoms of the well-favoured harlot, the mistress of witchcrafts, that selleth nations through her whoredoms, and families through her witchcrafts.
5 Behold, I am against thee, saith the LORD of hosts, and † I will discover thy skirts upon thy face, and I will shew the nations thy nakednesse, and the kingdoms thy shame.
6 And I will cast abominable filth upon thee, and make thee vile, and will set thee as a gazing-stock.
7 And it shall come to passe, that all they that look upon thee, shall flee from thee, and say, Nineveh is laid waste, who will remean her? whence shall I seek comforters for thee?
8 Art thou better then † the populous No, that was situate among the rivers, that had the waters round about it, whose rampart was the sea, and her wall was from the sea?
9 Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength, and it was infinite, but and Lubim were † thy helpers.
10 Yet was he carried away, she went into captivity: her young children also were dashed in pieces at the top of all the streets: and they cast lots for her honourable men, and all her great men were bound in chains.
11 Thou also shalt be † drunker, thou shalt be hid, thou also shalt seek strength because of the enemy.
12 All thy strong holds shall be like fig-trees with the first ripe figs: if they be shaken, they shall even fall into the mouth of the eater.
13 Behold, thy people in the midst of thee are women: the gates of thy land shall be set wide open unto thine enemies, the fire shall devour thy bars.
14 Draw thee waters for the siege, fortifie thy strong holds: go into clay, and tread the mortar, make strong the brick-kiln.
15 There shall the fire devour thee: the sword shall cut thee off: it shall eat thee up like the cankerworm: make thy self many as the locusts.
16 Thou hast multiplied thy merchants above the stars of heaven: the cankerworm † spoileth and flieth away.
17 Thy crowned men are as the locusts, and thy captains as the great grasshoppers which camp in the hedges in the cold day: but when the sunne arieth they flee away, and their place is not known where they are.
18 Thy shepherds slumber, O king of Assyria: thy nobles shall dwell in the dust: thy people is scattered upon the mountains, and no man gathereth them.

CHAP. I.

1 Unto Habakkuk complaining of the iniquity of the land, 5 is shewed the fearful vengeance of the Caldeans. 12 He complaineth that vengeance should be executed by them who are far worse.

Deburden which Habakkuk the prophet did see.

2 D LORD, how long shall I cry, and thou wilt not hear: even cry out unto thee of violence, and thou wilt not save!

3 Celthy dost thou show me iniquity, and cause me to behold grievance: for spoiling and violence are before me: and there are that raise up strife and contention.

4 Therefore the law is slaked, and judgement doth never go forth: for the wicked both compass about the righteous: therefore shall wrong judgement proceedeth.

5 Lehold ye among the heathen, and regard, and wonder marvellously: for I will work a work in your days, which ye will not believe, though it be told you.

6 For lo, I raise up the Caldeans, that bitter and haughty nation, which shall march thowd the breadth of the lands, to possess the dwelling places that are not theirs.

7 They are terrible and dreadful: their judgement and their dignity shall proceed of themselves.

8 Their horses also are swifter than the leopards, and are more fierce than the evening wolves: and their horsemen shall spread themselves, and their horsemen shall come from far: they shall fly as the eagle that hasteth to eat.

9 They shall come all for violence: their faces shall be as the east-wind, and they shall gather the captivity as the fan.

10 And they shall scoff at the kings, and the princes shall be a scorn unto them: they shall despise every strong hold, for they shall heap dust and take it.

11 Then shall his minde change, and he shall passe over, and offend, imputing this his power unto his god.

12 CArt thou not from everlasting, O LORD my god, mine holy one: we shall not die: O LORD, thou hast ordained them for judgement, and thou mighty God, thou hast established them for correction.

13 Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and canst not look on iniquity: wherefore lookedst thou upon them that deal treacherously, and holdest thy tongue when the wicked devoureth the man that is more righteous than he?

14 And makest men as the fishes of the sea, as the creeping things that have no ruler over them.

15 They take up all of them with the angle: they catch them in their net, and gather them in their dragge, therefore they rejoice and are glad.

16 Therefore say they that use into their net, and burn incense unto their dragge: because by their net their portion is fat, and they eat plentifully.

17 Shall they therefore empty their net, and not spare continually to slay the nations?

CHAP. II.

1 Unto Habakkuk waiting for an answer, is shewed that he must wait by faith, 5 the judgement upon the Caldean for uncharitableness, 9 for covetousnesse, 12 for cruelty, 15 for drunkennesse, 18 and for doloury.

I Will stand upon my watch, and set me upon the tower, and will watch to see what he will say unto me, and what I shall answer him when I am reproved.

2 And the LORD answered me, and said, Write the vision, and make it plain upon the tables, that he may run that readeth it.

3 For the vision is yet for an appointed time, but at the end it shall speak, and not lie: though it tarry, wait for it, because it will surely come, it will not tarry.

4 Behold, his soul which is lifted up, is not upright in him: but he is just shall live by his faith.

5 CHea also, because he transferred by wine, he is a proud man, neither keepeth at home, who enlargeth his desire as hell, and is as death, and cannot be satisfied, but gathereth unto him all nations, and heapeth unto him all people:

6 Shall not all these take up a parable against him, and a taunting proverb against him, and say, CHo to him that exaltaeth that which is not his: how long? and to him that saith himself will thicke clay.

7 Shall they not rise up suddenly that shall bite thee, and awake that shall vex thee, and thou shalt be for booties unto them?

8 Because thou hast spoiled many nations, all the remnant of the people shall spoil thee: because of mens blood, and for the violence of the land, of the citie, and of all that dwell therein.

9 CHo to him that is covetous an evil covetousnesse to his house, that he may set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the power of evil.

10 Thou hast consulted shame to thy house, by cutting off many people, and hast sinned against thy self.

11 For the stone shall cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber shall answer it.

12 CHo to him that buildeth a towne with blood, and stablisheth a citie by iniquity.

13 Behold, shall not of the LORD of hosts, that the people shall labour in the very fire, and the people shall weary themselves for very vanity?

14 For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea.

15 CHo unto him that gloryeth his neighbour with drink: that putteth thy bottle to him, and maketh him drunken also, that thou mayest lock on their nakednesse.

16 Thou art filled with shame for glory: drink thou also, and let thy forehead be uncovered: the cup of the LORDS wrath shall be turned unto thee, and thine full spilling shall be on thy glory.

17 For the violence of Chanaan shall cover thee: and the spoil of beards which made them afraid because of mens blood, and for the violence of the land, of the citie, and of all that dwell therein.

18 * Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them in the day of the L O R D, S wrath, but the whole land shall be * devoured by the fire of his zealouse: for he shall make even a speedy riddance of all them that dwell in the land.

CHAP. II.

1 An exhortation to repentance. 4 The judgement of the Philistines, 8 of Moab and Ammon, 12 of Ethiopia and Assyria.

Gather you selves together, yea, gather together, O nation || not desired.

2 Before the decree bring forth, before the day passe as the chaffe, before the fierce anger of the L O R D come upon you, before the day of the L O R D S anger come upon you.

3 Seek ye the L O R D, all ye meek of the earth, which have wrought his judgement, seek righteousness, seek meeknesse: it may be, ye shall be hid in the day of the L O R D S anger.

4 ¶ For Gaza shall be forsaken, and Ashkelon a desolation: they shall drive out Ashdod at the noon day, and Ekron shall be rooted up.

5 ¶ Wo unto the inhabitants of the sea-coast, the nation of the Cherethites: the word of the Lord is against you: O Canaan, the land of the Philistines, I will even destroy thee, that there shall be no inhabitant.

6 And the sea-coast shall be dwellings and cottages for shepherds, and folds for flocks.

7 And the coast shall be for the remnant of the house of Judah, they shall feed thereupon, in the houses of Ashkelon shall they lie down in the evening: || for the L O R D their God shall visit them, and turn away their captivity.

8 ¶ I have heard the reproach of Moab, and the revilings of the children of Ammon, whereby they have reproached my people, and magnified themselves against their border.

9 Therefore as I live, saith the L O R D of hosts, the God of Israel, Surely Moab shall be as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorrah, even the breeding of nettles, and salt-pits, and a perpetual desolation, the residue of my people shall spoil them, and the remnant of my people shall possess them.

10 This shall they have for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the people of the L O R D of hosts.

11 The L O R D will be terrible unto them: for he will * furnish all the gods of the earth, and men shall worship him, every one from his place, even all the isles of the heathen.

12 ¶ Of Ethiopians also, ye shall be slain by my sword.

13 And he will stretch out his hand against the north and destroy Assyria, and will make Nineveh a desolation, and dye like a wilderness.

14 And flocks shall lie down in the midst of her, and all the beasts of the nations: both the || * crow, and the bittern shall lodge in the || upper shuttles of it: their voice shall sing in the windows, desolation shall be in the thresholds: || for he shall uncover the cedar work.

15 This is the joycing citie that dwelt carelessly, that said in her heart, * I am, and there is none beside me: how is she become a desolation, a place for beasts to lie down in! every one that passeth by her, shall hiss and wagge his hand.

CHAP. III.

1 A sharp reproof of Jerusalem for divers sinnes. 8 An exhortation to wait for the restauration of Israel. 14 And to rejoyce for their salvation by God.

VV D to || † her that is filthy and polluted, to the oppressing citie.

2 She obeyed not the voice: she received not || correction: she trusted not in the L O R D: she drew not near to her God.

3 * Her princes within her are roaring lions; her judges are evening wolves, they gnaw not the bones till the morrow.

4 Her * prophets are light and trenchourous persons: her priests have polluted the sanctuary, they have done * violence to the law.

5 The just L O R D is in the midst thereof: he will not do iniquitie: † every morning doth he bring his judgement to light, he saileth not, but the unjust knoweth no shame.

6 I have cut off the nations: their || towers are desolace, I made their streets waste, that none passeth by: their cities are destroyed, so that there is no man, that there is none inhabitant.

7 I said, Surely thou wilt fear me: thou wilt receive instruction, so their dwelling should not be cut off, howe ever I punished them: but they rose early, and corrupted all their doings.

8 ¶ Therefore wait ye upon me, saith the L O R D, until the day that I rise up to the prey: for my determination is to gather the nations, that I may assemble the kingdoms, to pour upon them mine indignation, even all my fierce anger: for all the earth shall be devoured with the fire of my * zealouse.

9 For then will I turn to the people a pure † language, that they may all call upon the name of the L O R D, to serve him with one † consent.

10 From beyond the rivers of Ethiopia, my suppliants, even the daughter of my dispersed shall bring mine offering.

11 In that day shall thou not be ashamed for all thy doings, wherein thou hast transgressed against me: for then I will take away out of the midst of thee them that rejoyce in thy pride, and thou shalt no more be haughtie † because of my holy mountain.

12 I will also leave in the midst of thee an afflicted and poor people, and they shall trust in the name of the L O R D.

13 The remnant of Israel shall not do iniquity, nor speak lies: neither shall a deceitfull tongue be found in their mouth: for they shall feed and lie down, and none shall make them afraid.

14 ¶ Sing, O * daughter of Zion, shout O Israel, be glad and rejoyce with all the heart, O daughter of Jerusalem.

15 The L O R D hath taken away thy judgements, he hath cast out thine enemy: the king of Israel, even the L O R D is in the midst of thee: thou shalt not see evil any more.

HAGGAI.

CHAP. I.

1 Haggai reproved the people for neglecting the building of the house. 7 He inciteth them to the building. 12 He promisieth Gods assistance to them being forward.

In the second year of Darius the king, in the first month, in the first day of the month, came the word of the LORD † by Haggai the prophet unto Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, † the governour of Judah, and to Ioshua the son of Josedech the high priest, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, This people say, The time is not come, the time that the LORDS house should be built.

3 Then came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying,

4 Is it time for you, O ye, to dwell in your cieled houses, and this house lie waste?

5 Now therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, † Consider your wayes.

6 Ye have sown much, and bring in little: ye eat, but ye have not enough: ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink: ye clothe you, but there is none warme: and he that earneth wages, earneth wages, to put it into a bag † with holes.

7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Consider your wayes.

8 Goe up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build the house; and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith the LORD.

9 Ye looked for much, and lo, it came to little, and when ye brought it home, I did blow upon it: why, saith the LORD of hosts? because of mine house that is waste, and ye run every man unto his own house.

10 Therefore * the heaven over you is stayed from dew, and the earth is stayed from her fruit, 11 And I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the new wine, and upon the oyl, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattell, and upon all the labour of the hands.

12 ¶ Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Iosua the son of Josedech the high priest, with all the remnant of the people, obeyed the voyce of the LORD their God, and the words of Haggai the prophet, (as the LORD their God had sent him) and the people did fear before the LORD.

13 Then spake Haggai the LORDS messenger in the LORDS message unto the people, saying, I am with you saith the LORD.

14 And the LORD stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, governour of Judah, and the spirit of Iosua the sonne of Josedech the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people, and they came and did work in the house of the LORD of hosts that God,

1 He encourageth the people to the work, by promise of greater glory to the second temple, then was in the first. 10 In the type of holy things and unclean, he sheweth their sinnes hindered the work. 20 Gods promise to Zerubbabel.

In the seventh month, in the one and twentieth day of the month, came the word of the LORD † by the prophet Haggai, saying,

2 Speak now to Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel governour of Judah, and to Iosua the sonne of Josedech the high priest, and to the residue of the people, saying,

3 Who is left among you that saw this house in her first glory? and how do ye see it now? is it not in your eyes in comparison of it as nothing?

4 Yet now be strong, O Zerubbabel, saith the LORD, and be strong, O Iosua, sonne of Josedech the high priest, and be strong all ye people of the land, saith the LORD, and work: for I am with you, saith the LORD of hosts;

5 According to the word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of Egypt, so my spirit remaineth among you: feare ye not.

6 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, * Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land.

7 And I will shake all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come, and I will fill this house with glory, saith the LORD of hosts.

8 The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the LORD of hosts.

9 The glory of this latter house shall be greater then of the former, saith the LORD of hosts: and in this place will I give peace, saith the LORD of hosts.

10 ¶ In the fourth and twentieth day of the sixth month, in the second year of Darius came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying,

11 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Ask now the priests concerning the law, saying,

12 If one bear holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch bread, or pot-tage, or wine, or oyl, or any meat, shall it be holy? and the priests answered and said, No.

13 Then said Haggai, If one that is unclean by a dead body, touch any of these, shall it be unclean? and the priests answered and said, It shall be unclean.

14 Then answered Haggai, and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the LORD, and so is every work of their hands, and that which they offer there is unclean.

15 And now, I pray you, consider from this day and 16 Since those dayes were, when one came to an heap of twenty measures, there were but ten: when one came to the presse-fat for to draw out fifty vessels out of the presse, there were but twenty.

17 I smote you with blasting, and with mildew, and with hail, in all the labours of your hands; yet ye turned not to me, saith the LORD.

18 Consider now from this day, and upward from the four and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, even from the day that the foundation of the LORDS temple was laid, consider it.

19 Is the seed yet in the barn & pea, as yet the vine and the fig-tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive-tree hath not brought forth: from this day will I blesse you.

1 Zechariah exhorteth to repentance. 7 The vision of the horses. 12. At the prayer of the angel comfortable promises are made to Jerusalem. 18 The vision of the four horns, and the four carpenters.

In the eighth moneth, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto Zechariah, the sonne of Barachiah, the sonne of Iddo the prophet, saying,

2 The LORD hath been & sore displeased with your fathers.

3 Therefore say thou unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, * Turn ye unto me, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will turn unto you, saith the LORD of hosts.

4 Be ye not as your fathers, * unto whom the former prophets have cried, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, * Turn ye now from your evill wayes, and from your evill doings: but they did not hear nor hearken unto me, saith the LORD.

5 Your fathers, where are they? and the prophets, do they live for ever?

6 But my words and my statutes, which I commanded my servants the prophets, did they not take hold of your fathers? and they returned and said, * Like as the LORD of hosts thought to do unto us, according to our wayes, and according to our doings, so hath he dealt with us.

7 Upon the four and twentieth day of the seventeenth moneth, which is the moneth Shebat, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto Zechariah, the sonne of Barachiah, the sonne of Iddo the prophet, saying,

8 I saw by night, and behold, a man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle-trees that were in the bottom: and behinde him were there red horses, speckled and white.

9 Then said I, O my Lord, what are these? And the angel that talked with me, said unto me, I will shew thee what these be.

10 And the man that stood among the myrtle-trees answered and said, These are they whom the LORD hath sent to walk to & fro thorow the earth

11 And they answered the angel of the LORD that stood among the myrtle-trees, and said, We have walked to and fro through the earth, and behold, all the earth steech still, and is at rest.

12 Then the angel of the LORD answered and said, O LORD of hosts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Jerusalem, and on the cities of 20 And again the word of the LORD came unto Haggai in the four and twentieth day of the moneth, saying,

21 Speak to Zerubbabel governour of Judah, saying, I will shake the heavens and the earth, 22 And I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the heathen, and I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride in them, and the horses and their riders shall come down, every one by the sword of his brother.

23 In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, will I take thee O Zerubbabel my servant, the son of Shealtiel, saith the LORD, and will make thee as a signet: for I have chosen thee, saith the LORD of hosts.

Judah, against which thou hast had indignation these threescore and ten yeeres?

13 And the LORD answered the angel that talked with me, with good words, and comfortable words.

14 So the angel that communed with me, said unto me, Cry thou, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, I am * jealous for Jerusalem, and for Zion with a great jealousy.

15 And I am very sore displeased with the heathen that are at ease: for I was but a little displeased, and they helped so forward the affliction.

16 Therefore thus saith the LORD, I am returned to Jerusalem with mercies: my house shall be built in it, saith the LORD of hosts, and a line shall be stretched forth upon Jerusalem.

17 Cry yet, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, My cities through prosperitie shall yet be spread abroad, and the LORD shall yet comfort Zion, and shall yet choose Jerusalem.

18 Then lift I up mine eyes, and saw, and behold four horns.

19 And I said unto the angel that talked with me, What be these? and he answered me, These are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem.

20 And the LORD shewed me four carpenters.

21 Then said I, What come these to do? and he spake, saying, These are the horns which have scattered Judah, so that no man did lift up his head: but these are come to fray them, to cast out the horns of the Gentiles, which lift up their horn over the said of Judah to scatter it.

3 And behold, the angel that talked with me, went forth; & another angel went out to meet him,

4 And said unto him, Run, speak to this young man, saying, Jerusalem shall be inhabited as towns without walls for the multitude of men and cattell therein.

5 And I ſaid, Let them ſet a fair mitre upon his head: ſo they ſet a fair mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments, and the Angel of the LORD ſtood by.

1 By the golden candleſtick is ſoſhewed the good ſucceſſe of Zerubbabels foundation. 11 By the two olive trees, the two anointed ones.

¶ AD the angel that talked with me, came again and waked me, as a man that is wakened out of his ſleep,

4 So I answered and ſpake to the Angel that talked with me, ſaying, What are theſe, my lord?

5 Then the angel that talked with me, answered, and ſaid unto me, Knoweſt thou not what theſe be? And I ſaid, No, my lord.

6 Then he answered and ſpake unto me, ſaying, This is the word of the LORD unto Zerubbabel, ſaying, Not by might, nor by power, but by my ſpirit, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

7 Who art thou, O great mountain? before Zerubbabel thou ſhalt become a plain, and he ſhall bring forth the head ſtone thereof with ſhoutings, crying, Grace, grace unto it.

CHAP. VI.

1 The vision of the four chariots. 2 By the crowns of Joshua, is shewed the temple and Kingdom of Christ the Branch.

And I turned, and lift up mine eyes, and looked, and behold, there came four chariots out from between two mountains, and the mountains were mountains of brass.

2 In the first chariot were red horses, and in the second chariot black horses,

3 And in the third chariot white horses, and in the fourth chariot grinded and bay horses.

4 Then I answered, and said unto the Angel that talked with me, What are these, my lord?

5 And the Angel answered and said unto me, These are the four spirits of the heavens, which go forth from standing before the Lord of all the earth.

6 The black horses which are therein, go forth into the north country, and the white go forth after them, and the grinded go forth toward the south country.

7 And the bay went forth, and fought to go, that they might walk to and fro through the earth: and he said, Get ye hence, walk to and fro through the earth. So they walked to and fro through the earth.

8 Then cried he upon me, and spake unto me, saying, Behold, these that go toward the north country have quieted my spirit in the north country.

9 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

10 Take of them of the captivity, even of Heldai, of Tobiah, and of Jedaiah, which are come from Babylon, and come thou the same day, and go into the house of Josiah the sonne of Zephaniah:

11 Then take silver and gold, and make crowns, and set them upon the head of Joshua, the sonne of Josedech the high priest.

12 And speak unto him, saying, Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, saying, Behold, the man whose Name is the BRANCH, and he shall grow up out of his place, and he shall build the temple of the Lord:

13 Even he shall build the temple of the Lord, and he shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule upon his throne, and he shall be a priest upon his throne, and the counsell of peace shall be between them both.

14 And the crowns shall be to Helem, and to Tobiah, and to Jedaiah, and to Hen the sonne of Zephaniah for a memoriall in the temple of the Lord:

15 And they that are farre off shall come and build in the temple of the Lord, and ye shall know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me unto you. And this shall come to passe, if ye will diligently obey the voice of the Lord your God.

1 The captives enquire of fasting. 4 Zechariah reproveth their fasting. 8 Sin the cause of their captivity.

And it came to passe in the fourth year of king Darius, that the word of the Lord came unto Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth moneth, even in Chilleu:

2 When they had sent unto the house of God Shezerer, and Regem-melech, and their men to pray before the Lord:

3 And to speak unto the priests which were in the house of the Lord of hosts, and to the prophets, saying, Should I weep in the fifth moneth, separating my self, as I have done these so many years?

4 Then came the word of the Lord of hosts unto me, saying,

5 Speak unto all the people of the lands, and to the priests, saying, When ye fasted, and mourned in the fifth and seventh moneth, even those sevenie years, did ye at all fast unto me, even to me?

6 And when ye did eat, and when ye did drink, did not ye eat for your selves, and drink for your selves?

7 Should ye not hear the words which the Lord hath cryed by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited, and in prosperitie, and the cities thereof round about her, when men inhabited the south of the plain?

8 And the word of the Lord came unto Zechariah, saying,

9 Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, saying, Execute true judgement, and shew mercy, and compassions every man to his brother.

10 And oppress not the widow, nor the fatherlesse, the stranger, nor the poore, and let none of you imagine evill against his brother in your heart.

11 But they refused to hearken, and pulled away the shoulder, and stopped their ears, that they should not hear.

12 Yea, they made their hearts as an adamant stone, lest they should hear the law, and the words, which the Lord of hosts hath sent in his spirit by the former prophets: therefore came a great wrath from the Lord of hosts.

13 Therefore it is come to passe, that as he cryed, and they would not hear, so they cryed, and I would not hear, saith the Lord of hosts.

14 But I scattered them with a whirlwinde among all the nations whom they knew not: thus the land was desolate after them, that no man passed through nor returned: for they laid the pleasant land desolate.

1 The restoration of Jerusalem. 9 They are encouraged to the building by Gods favour to them. 16 Good works are required of them. 18 Joy and enlargement are promised.

Again the word of the Lord of hosts came to me, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, I was zealous for Zion with great zealousness, and I was zealous for her with great fury.

3 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, I am returned unto Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem, and Jerusalem shall be called a city of truth, and the mountain of the Lord of hosts, the holy mountain.

6 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, If it be marvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in these dayes, should it also be marvellous in mine eyes? saith the LORD of hosts.

7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will save my people from the east-countray, and from the west-countray,

8 And I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem, and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness.

9 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Let your hands be strong, ye that hear in these dayes these words by the mouth of the prophets, which were in the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts was laid, that the Temple might be built.

10 For before these dayes if there was no hire for man, nor any hire for beast, neither was there any peace to him that went out, or came in, because of the affliction: for I set all men, every one against his neighbour.

11 But now I will not allow the residue of this people, as in the former dayes, saith the LORD of hosts.

12 For the seed shall be prosperous, the vine shall give her fruit, and the ground shall give her increase, and the heavens shall give their dew, and I will cause the remnant of this people to possess all these things.

13 And it shall come to passe, that as ye were a curse among the heathen, O house of Judah, and house of Israel; so will I save you, and ye shall be a blessing: fear not, but let your hands be strong.

14 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, As I thought to punish you, when your fathers provoked me to wrath, saith the LORD of hosts, and I repented not;

15 So again have I thought in these dayes to do well unto Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah: fear ye not.

16 These are the things that ye shall do, * Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour: † execute the judgement of truth and peace in your gates.

17 And let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbour, and love no false oath: for all these are things that I hate, saith the LORD.

18 And the word of the LORD of hosts came unto me, saying,

19 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, The fast of the fourth month, and the fast of the fifth, and the fast of the seventh, and the fast of the tenth shall be to the house of Judah joy and gladnesse, and cheerful feast, therefore love the truth and peace.

20 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, It shall yet come to passe, that there shall come people, and the inhabitants of many cities.

21 And the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying, * Let us go up † speedily † to pray before the LORD, and to seek the LORD of hosts: I will go also.

22 Yea, many people and strong nations shall come to seek the LORD of hosts in Jerusalem, and to pray before the LORD.

23 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, In those dayes it shall come to passe, that ten men shall take hold out of all languages of the nations, even shall take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying, We will go with you: for we have heard that God is with you.

1 God defendeth his church. 2 Zion is exhorted to rejoyce for the coming of Christ, and his peaceable kingdom, 12 Gods promises of victorie and defence. The burden of the word of the LORD in the land of Hadach, and Damascus shall be the rest thereof: when the eyes of man, as of all the tribes of Israel shall be toward the LORD.

2 And Hamath also shall border thereby; Tyrus and Sidon, though it be very wile.

3 And Tyus did build her self a strong hold, and heaped up silver as the dust, and fine gold as the mire of the streets.

4 Behold, the Lord will cast her out, and he will smite her power in the sea, and she shall be devoured with fire.

5 Ashkelon shall see it, and fear: Gaza also shall see it, and be very sorrowfull, and Ekron: for her expectation shall be ashamed, and the king shall perish from Gaza, and Ashkelon shall not be inhabited.

6 And a bastard shall dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines.

7 And I will take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his teeth: but he that remaineth, even he shall be for our God, and he shall be as a godencour in Judah, and Ekron as a Jebusite.

8 And I will encamp about mine house because of the army, because of him that passeth by, and because of him that returneth, and no oppressour shall passe through them any more: for now have I seen with mine eyes.

9 Rejoyce greatly, O daughter of Zion: shout, O daughter of Jerusalem: behold, thy king cometh unto thee: he is just, and he having salvation, lowly, and riding upon an asse, and upon a colt, the foal of an asse.

10 And I will cut off the chariot from Ephraim, and the horse from Jerusalem, and the battellbowe shall be cut off: and he shall speak peace unto the heathen: and his dominion shall be from sea even to sea, and from the river even to the ends of the earth.

11 As for thee, also // by the blood of thy covenant, I have sent forth thy prisoners out of the pit, wherein is no water.

12 Turn ye to the strong hold, ye prisoners of hope, even to day do I declare, that I will render double unto thee:

13 When I have bent Judah for me, filled the bowe with Ephraim, and reeled up thy sonnes, O Zion, against thy sonnes, O Gilead; and made thee as the woord of a mighty man:

14 And the LORD shall be seen over them, and his arrow shall go forth as the lightning: and the Lord God shall blow the trumpet, and shall go with whirlwinds of the South.

15 The LORD of hosts shall defend them, and they shall debour, and // subdue with sling-stones, and they shall drink, and make a noise as through wine, and they shall be filled like bowls, and as the corners of the altar.

16 And the LORD their God shall save them in that day as the flock of his people, for they shall be as the stones of a crown, lifted up as an ensigne upon his lam.

17 For how great is his goodness, and how great is his beauty? corn shall make the young men // cheerful, and new wine the maids.

2 For the * flocks have spoken vanity, and the disiners have seen a lie, and have told false dreams; they comfort in vain: therefore they went their way as a flock, they || were troubled, because there was no shepherd.

3 Mine anger was kindled against the shepherds, and I † punished the goats: for the L O R D of hosts hath visited his flock the house of Judah, and hath made them as his goodly horse in the battell.

4 Out of him came forth the corner, out of him the nail, out of him the battell-bow, out of him every opposessour together.

5 And they shall be as mightie men, which tread down their enemies in the mire of the streets in the battell, and they shall fight, because the L O R D is with them, and || the riders on horses shall be confounded.

6 And I will strengthen the house of Judah, and I will save the house of Joseph, and I will bring them again to place them; for I have mercy upon them: and they shall be as though I had not cast them off: for I am the L O R D their God, and will hear them.

7 And they of Ephraim shall be like a mighty man, and their hearts shall rejoyce, as through wine: yea, their children shall see it, and be glad, their heart shall rejoyce in the L O R D.

8 I will bite for them, and gather them, for I have redeemed them: and they shall increase as they have increased.

9 And I will sow them among the people; and they shall remember me in far countreys, and they shall live with their children, and turn again.

10 I will bring them again also out of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria, and I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon, and place shall not be found for them.

11 And he shall passe through the sea with affliction, and shall smite the waves in the sea, and all the deeps of the river shall rise up: and the pride of Assyria shall be brought down, and the scepter of Egypt shall depart away.

12 And I will strengthen them in the L O R D, and they shall walk up and down in his name, saith the L O R D.

C H A P. XI.

1 The destruction of Jerusalem. 3 The eck being cared for, the rest are rejected. 10 The staves of Beutie and Bands broken by the rejection of Christ. 15 The type and curse of a foolish shepherd.

10 Open thy doors, O Lebanon, that the fire may devour thy cedars.

2 Howl fir-trees, for the cedar is fallen; because all the || mighty are spoiled; howl, O ye oaks of Bashan, for || the Forrest of the vintage is come down.

3 There is a voice of the howling of the shepherds; for their glory is spoiled: a voice of the roaring of young lions; for the pride of Jordan is spoiled.

4 Thus saith the L O R D my God, Feed the flock of the slaughter.

5 Whose possessours slay them, and hold themselves not quillite: and they that sell them, say, Blessed be the L O R D, for I am rich: and their own shepherds pite them not.

6 For I will no more pity the inhabitants of the land, saith the L O R D: but so, I will † deliver the men every one into his neighbours hand, and into the hand of his king, and they shall smite the land, and out of their hand I will not deliver them.

7 And I will feed the flock of slaughter, || even you, O poor of the flock: and I took unto me two staves: the one I called Beauty, and the other I called || Bands, and I fed the flock.

8 Three shepherds also I cut off in one moneth, and my soul † loathed them, and their soul also abhorred me.

9 When said I, I will not feed you: * that that dieth, let it die: and that that is to be cut off, let it be cut off; and let the rest eat every one the flesh † of another.

10 And I took my staffe, even Beauty, and cut it asunder, that I might break my covenant which I had made with all the people.

11 And it was broken in that day: and || so the poor of the flock that waited upon me, knew that it was the word of the L O R D.

12 And I said unto them, † If ye think good, give me my pice: and if not, forbear: so they † weighed for my pice thirty pieces of silver.

13 And the L O R D said unto me, Cast it unto the * pottor: a goodly pice that I was puffed at of them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast them to the pottor in the house of the L O R D.

14 Then I cut asunder mine other staffe, even || Bands, that I might break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

15 And the L O R D said unto me, Take unto thee yet the instruments of a foolish shepherd.

16 For so, I will callse up a shepherd in the land, which shall not visit those that be || cut off: neither shall seek the young one, nor heal that that is broken, nor || feed that that standeth still: but he shall eat the flesh of the fat, and tear their claws in pieces.

17 Wo to the stol shepherd that leaveth the flock: the sword shall be upon his arm, and upon his right eye: his arm shall be clean dried up, and his right eye shall be utterly darkned.

1 Jerusalem a cup of trembling to herself, 3 and a burdensome stone to her adversaries. 6 The victorious restoring of Judah. 9 The repentance of Jerusalem.

The burden of the word of the L O R D for Israel, saith the L O R D, which stretcheth forth the heavens, and layeth the foundation of the earth, and formeth the spirit of man within him.

2 Behold, I will make Jerusalem a cup of || trembling unto all the people round about, || when they shall be in the siege both against Judah, and against Jerusalem.

3 And in that day will I make Jerusalem a burdensome stone for all people: all that burden themselves with it, shall be cut in pieces, though all the people of the earth be gathered together against it.

4 In that day, saith the L O R D, I will smite every horse with astonishment, and his rider with madness, and I will open mine eyes upon the house of Judah, and will smite every horse of the people with blindness.

5 And the governours of Judah shall say in their heart || The inhabitants of Jerusalem shall be my strength in the L O R D of hosts their God.

6 In that day will I make the governours of Judah like an heath of fire among the wood, and like a torch of fire in a sheaf: and they shall devour all the people round about, on the right hand and on the left: and Jerusalem shall be inhabited again, in her own place, even in Jerusalem.

8 In that day shall the Lord defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and he that is feeble among them at that day shall be as David; and the house of David shall be as God, as the angel of the Lord before them.

9 And it shall come to passe in that day, that I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem.

10 And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplications, and they shall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his onely son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his first-born.

11 In that day shall there be a great mourning in Jerusalem, as the mourning of Hadadrimmon, in the valley of Begedon.

12 And the land shall mourn, every family apart: the family of the house of David apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart.

13 The family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart, the family of Simeon apart, and their wives apart.

14 All the families that remain, every family apart, and their wives apart.

C H A P. XIII.

1 The fountain of purgation for Jerusalem, 2 from idolatry, and false prophetic, 7 The death of Christ, and the trial of a third part.

In that day there shall be a fountain opened to the house of David, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for sinne, and for uncleanness.

2 And it shall come to passe in that day, saith the Lord, that I will cut off the names of the idols out of the lands, and they shall no more be remembered; and also I will cause the prophets, and the unclean spirit to passe out of the land.

3 And it shall come to passe, that when any shall yet prophesse, then his father and his mother that begat him, shall say unto him, Thou shalt not live: for thou speakest lies in the name of the Lord: and his father, and his mother that begat him, shall thrust him through when he prophelleth.

4 And it shall come to passe in that day, that the prophets shall be ashamed every one of his vision, when he hath prophelied: neither shall they wear a rough garment to deceive.

5 But he shall say, I am no prophet, I am an husbandman: for man taught me to keep cattell from my yong.

6 And one shall say unto him, What are these wounds in thine hands? Then he shall answer, Those with which I was wounded in the house of my friends.

7 Awake, sword, against my shepherd, and against the man that is my fellow, saith the Lord of hosts: smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered: and I will turne mine hand upon the little ones.

8 And it shall come to passe, that in all the lands, saith the Lord, two parts therein shall be cut off, and die, but the third shall be left therein.

9 And I will bring the third part thorow the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will trie them as gold is tried: they shall call on my name, and I will hear them: I will say, It is my people: and they shall say, The Lord is my God.

1 The destroyers of Jerusalem, destroyed. 4 The coming of Christ, and the graces of his kingdom. 12 The plague of Jerusalem's enemies. 16 The remnant shall turn to the Lord, 20 and their spoils shall be holy.

Behold, the day of the Lord cometh, and thy spoil shall be divided in the midst of thee.

2 For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battell, and the cite shall be taken, and the houses riled, and the women ravished, and half of the cite shall go forth into captivity; and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the cite.

3 Then shall the Lord go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battell.

4 And his feet shall stand in that day upon the mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east, and the mount of Olives shall cleave in the midst thereof toward the east, and toward the west, and there shall be a very great halley, and half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, and half of it toward the south.

5 And ye shall flee to the valley of the mountains: for the valley of the mountains shall reach unto Azel: yea, ye shall flee like as ye fled from before the earthquake in the dayes of Uzab king of Judah: and the Lord my God shall come, and all the saints with thee.

6 And it shall come to passe in that day, that the light shall not be clear, nor dark.

7 But it shall be one day which shall be known to the Lord, not day nor night: but it shall come to passe, that at evening time it shall be light.

8 And it shall be in that day, that living waters shall go out from Jerusalem: half of them toward the former sea, and half of them toward the hinder sea: in summer and in winter shall it be.

9 And the Lord shall be King over all the earth: in that day shall there be one Lord, and his name one.

10 All the land shall be turned as a plain from Geba to Rimmon, south of Jerusalem: and it shall be lifted up and inhabited in her place: from Benjamins gate unto the place of the first gate, and to the corner-gate, and from the tower of Hananel unto the kings wine-presses.

11 And men shall dwell in it, and there shall be no more utter destruction, but Jerusalem shall be safely inhabited.

12 And this shall be the plague wherewith the Lord will smite all the people, that have fought against Jerusalem: their flesh shall consume away while they stand upon their feet, and their eyes shall consume away in their holes, and their tongue shall consume away in their mouth.

13 And it shall come to passe in that day, that a great tumult from the Lord shall be among them, and they shall lay hold every one on the hand of his neighbour, and his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbour.

14 And Juda also shall fight at Jerusalem: and the wealth of all the heathen round about shall be gathered together, gold, and silver, and apparell in great abundance.

15 And so shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camell, and of the asse, and of all the beasts that shall be in these tents, as this plague.

16 And it shall come to passe, that every one that is left of all the nations which came against

18 And if the family of Egypt go not up, and come not, that have no rain: there shall be the plague wherewith the LORD will smite the heathen that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

19 This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all nations that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

20 In that day shall there be upon the bells of the oxen, HORSES AND THE CATTLE; and the pots in the houses shall be like the bowls before the altar.

CHAP. I.

1 Malachi complaineth of Israels unkindnesse. 6 Of their irreligiousnesse, 12 and profanenesse.

Be burden of the word of the LORD to Israel † by Malachi.

2 I have loved you, saith the LORD: yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? was not Esau Jacobs brother: saith the LORD:

† I loved Jacob.

3 And I hated Esau, and laid his mountains, and his heritage waste, for the dragons of the wilderness.

4 Whereas Edom saith, We are impoverished, but we will return and build the desolate places: thus saith the LORD of hosts, They shall build, but I will throw down; and they shall call them the border of wickednesse, and the people against whom the LORD hath indignation for ever.

5 And your eyes shall see, and ye shall say, The LORD will be magnified † from the border of Israel.

6 A sonne honoureth his father, and a servant his master: if then I be a father, where is mine honour? and if I be a master, where is my fear? saith the LORD of hosts unto you, O priests, that despise my Name: and ye say, Wherein have we despised thy Name?

7 Ye offer polluted bread upon mine altar; and ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, The table of the LORD is contemptible.

8 And if ye offer the blinde † for sacrifice, is it not evil? and if ye offer the lame and sick, is it not evil? offer it now unto thy governour, will he be pleased with thee, or accept thy person? saith the LORD of hosts.

9 And now I pray you, beseech † God that he will be gracious unto us: this hath been † by your means: will he regard your persons, saith the LORD of hosts?

10 Who is there even among you that would shut the doors for nought? neither do ye kindle fire on mine altar for nought. I have no pleasure in you, saith the LORD of hosts, neither will I accept an offering at your hand.

11 For from the rising of the sunne even unto the going down of the same, my Name shall be great among the Gentiles, and in every place incense shall be offered unto my Name, and a pure offering: for my Name shall be great among the heathen, saith the LORD of hosts.

12 But ye have profaned it, in that ye say,

The table of the LORD is polluted, and the fruit thereof, even his meat is contemptible.

13 Ye said also, Behold, what a wearinesse is it, and we have smitted at it, saith the LORD of hosts, and ye brought that which was torn, and the lame, and the sick: thus ye brought an offering: should I accept this of your hands? saith the LORD.

14 But cursed be the deceiver, which hath in his flock a male, and boweth and sacrificeth unto the Lord a corrupt thing: for I am a great King, saith the LORD of hosts, and my Name is dreadful among the heathen.

5 My covenant was with him of life and peace, and I gave them to him, for the fear wherewith he feared me, and was afraid before my Name.

6 The law of truth was in his mouth, and iniquity was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and equity, and did turn many away from iniquity.

7 For the priests lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: for he is the messenger of the LORD of hosts.

8 But ye are departed out of the way: ye have caused many to stumble at the law: ye have corrupted the covenant of Levi, saith the LORD of hosts.

every man against his brother, by profaning the covenant of our fathers :

11 ¶ Judah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Jerusalem: for Judah hath profaned the holiness of the LORD which he loved, and hath married the daughter of a strange god.

12 ¶ The LORD will cut off the man that doth this: the master and the scholar cut of the tabernacles of Jacob, and him that offereth an offering unto the LORD of holts.

13 And this have ye done again, covering the altar of the LORD with tears, with weeping, and with crying out, inasmuch that he regardeth not the offering any more, or receiveth it with good will at your hand.

14 ¶ Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the LORD hath been witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously: yet is she thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant.

15 And did not he make one? yet had he the residue of the spirit: and wherefore one? that he might seek a godly seed: therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none deal treacherously against the wife of his youth.

16 For the LORD the God of Israel saith, that he hateth putting away: for one covereth violence with his garment, saith the LORD of holts: therefore take heed to your spirit, that you deal not treacherously.

17 ¶ Ye have wearied the LORD with your words: yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? when ye say, Every one that doth evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delighteth in them, or where is the God of judgement?

CHAPTER III.

1 Of the messenger, majesty, and grace of Christ. 7 Of the rebellion, 8 sacrilege, 13 and infidelity of the people. 16 The promise of blessing to them that fear God.

Behold, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the LORD whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, he shall come, saith the LORD of holts.

¶ But who may abide the day of his coming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a refiners fire, and like fullers sope.

3 And he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver: and he shall purifie the sonnes of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the LORD an offering in righteousness.

4 Then shall the offerings of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto the LORD, as in the dayes of old, and as in former years.

5 And I will come near to you to judgement, and I will be a swift witness against the sojourners, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherlesse, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the LORD of holts.

6 For I am the LORD, I change not: therefore ye sonnes of Jacob are not consumed.

7 ¶ When from the dayes of your fathers ye are gone away from mine ordinances, and have not kept them: I will return unto you, saith the LORD of holts: but ye said, Wherein shall we return?

8 ¶ Will a man rob God? yet ye have robbed me: but ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? In riches, and offerings.

9 Ye are cursed with a curse: for ye have robbed me, even this whole nation.

10 ¶ Bring ye all the tithes into the store-house, that there may be meat in mine house, and probe me now herewith, saith the LORD of holts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it.

11 And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes: and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground, neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the LORD of holts.

12 And all rations shall call you blessed: for ye shall be a delightful land, saith the LORD of holts.

13 ¶ Your words have been stout against me, saith the LORD: yet ye say, What have we spoken so much against thee?

14 Ye have said, It is vain to serve God: and what profit is it, that we have kept his ordinance, and that we have walked mournfully before the LORD of holts?

15 And now we call the proud happy: yea, they that work wickednesse are set up; yea, they that tempt God are even delivered.

16 ¶ Then they that feared the LORD, spake often one to another, and the LORD hearkned, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the LORD, and that thought upon his Name.

17 And they shall be mine, saith the LORD of holts, in that day when I make up my jewels, and I will spare them as a man spareth his own sonne that serveth him.

18 ¶ Then shall ye return and discern between the righteous, and the wicked, between him that serveth God, and him that serveth him not.

CHAPTER IIIII.

1 Gods judgement on the wicked, and his blessing on the good. 4 He exhorteth to the studie of the law, 5 and telleth of Elijahs coming and office.

Behold, the day cometh that shall burn as an oven, and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly shall be stubble, and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the LORD of holts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch.

2 ¶ But unto you that fear my Name, shall the sunne of righteousness arise with healing in his wings: and ye shall go forth and grow up as calves of the stall.

3 And ye shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet, in the day that I shall do this, saith the LORD of holts.

4 ¶ Remember ye the law of Moses my servant, which I commanded unto him in Horeb for all Israel, with the statutes and judgements.

5 ¶ Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet, before the coming of the great and dreadfull day of the LORD.

6 And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, lest I come and smite the earth with a curse.

I. ESDRAS.

CHAP. I.

1 Josias his charge to the priests, and Levites. 7 A great passover is kept. 32 His death is much lamented. 34 His successors. 53 The temple, city, and people are destroyed. 56 The rest are carried unto Babylon.

And Josias held the feast of the passover in Jerusalem unto his Lord, and offered the passover the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

2 Having set the priests according to their daily courses, being arrayed in long garments, in the temple of the Lord.

3 And he spake unto the Levites the holy ministers of Israel, that they should hallow themselves unto the Lord, to let the holy ark of the Lord in the house that king Solomon the sonne of David had built:

4 And said, Ye shall no more bear the ark upon your shoulders: now therefore serve the Lord your God, and minister unto his people Israel, and prepare you after your families and kindreds,

5 According as David the king of Israel prescribed, and according to the magnificence of Solomon his sonne: and standing in the temple according to the severall dignity of the families of you the Levites, who minister in the presence of your brethren the children of Israel.

6 Offer the passover in order, and make ready the sacrifices for your brethren, and keep the passover according to the commandment of the Lord, which was given unto Moses.

7 And unto the people that was found there, Josias gave thirty thousand lambs, and kids, and three thousand calves: these things were given of the kings allowance, according as he promised to the people, to the priests, and to the Levites.

8 And Helkias, Zacharias, and 11 Sielus, the governors of the temple, gave to the priests for the passover, two thousand and six hundred sheep, and three hundred calves.

9 And Jeonias, and Samaias and Nathanael his brother, and Ababias, and Dchiel, and Tozani, captains over thousands, gave to the Levites for the passover, five thousand sheep, and seven hundred calves.

10 And when these things were done, the priests and Levites having the unleavened bread, stood in very comely order according to the kindreds, 11 And according to the severall dignities of the fathers before the people, to offer to the Lord, as it is written in the book of Moses: † and thus did they in the morning.

12 And they roasted the passover with fire, as appertained: as for the sacrifices, they sod them in brasie pots, and pans // with a good labour, 13 And let them before all the people, and afterward they prepared for themselves, and for the priests their brethren the sonnes of Aaron.

14 For the priests offered the fat un ill night: and the Levites prepared for themselves, and the priests their brethren the sonnes of Aaron.

15 The holy singers also the sonnes of Alaph, were in their order, according to the appointment of David, to wit, Alaph, Zacharias, and Jehuthun who was of the kings retinue.

16 Moreover the porters were at every gate, it was not lawfull for any to go from his ordinary service: for their brethren the Levites prepared for them.

17 Thus were the things that belonged to the sacrifices of the Lord accomplished in that day, that they might hold the passover, 18 And offer sacrifices upon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandment of king Josias.

19 So the children of Israel which were present, held the passover at that time, and the feast of sweet bread seven dayes.

20 And such a passover was not kept in Israel since the time of the prophet Samuel.

21 Yea, all the kings of Israel held not such a passover as Josias, and the priests and the Levites, and the Jews held with all Israel that were found dwelling at Jerusalem.

22 In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josias was this passover kept.

23 And the works of Josias were upright before his Lord, with an heart full of godlinesse.

24 As for the things that came to passe in his time, they were written in former times, concerning those that sinned, and // did wickedly against the Lord above all people and kingdoms, and how they grieved him // exceedingly, so that the word of the Lord rose up against Israel.

25 * Now after all these acts of Josias, it came came to passe that Pharaoh the king of Egypt came to raise warre at Carchamis upon Euphrates: and Josias went on against him.

26 But the king of Egypt sent to him, saying, What have I to do with thee, O king of Judra?

27 I am not sent out from the Lord God against thee: for my warre is upon Euphrates, and now the Lord is with me, yea, the Lord is with me hastinck me forward: depart from me, and be not against the Lord.

28 Howbeit Josias did not turn back his chariot from him, but undertook to fight with him, not regarding the words of the prophet Jeremie, spoken by the mouth of the Lord:

29 But joynd battell with him in the plain of Magaddo, and the pines came against king Josias.

30 Then said the king unto his servants,

Carrie me away out of the battell: for I am very weak: and immediately his servaunts took him away out of the battell.

31 Then gat he upon his second chariot, and being brought back to Jerusalem, died, and was buried in his fathers sepulchre.

32 And in all Iury they mourned for Tostias, yea, Ieremie the prophet lamented for Tostias, and the chief men with the women made lamentation for him unto this day: and this was given out for an ordinance to be done continually in all the nation of Israel.

33 These things are written in the book of the stories of the kings of Iudah, and every one of the acts that Tostias did, and his glory, and his understanding in the law of the Lord, and the things that he had done before, and the things now recited, are reposed in the book of the kings of Israel and Iudæa.

34 And the people took Joachaz the son of Tostias, and made him king in stead of Tostias his father, when he was twenty and three yeers old.

35 And he reigned in Iudæa and in Jerusalem three moneths: and then the king of Egypt deposed him from reigning in Jerusalem.

36 And he set a tax upon the land of an hundred talents of silver, and one talent of gold.

37 The king of Egypt also made king Joachin his brother king of Iudæa and Jerusalem.

38 And he bound Joachin and the nobles: but Saraces his brother he apprehended, and brought him out of Egypt.

39 Five and twenty yeers old was Joachin when he was made king in the land of Iudæa and Jerusalem, and he did evil before the Lord.

40 Therefore against him Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon came up, and bound him with a chain of brasse, and carried him unto Babylon.

41 Nabuchodonosor also took of the holy vessels of the Lord, and carried them away, and let them in his own temple at Babylon.

42 But those things that are recorded of him, and of his uncleannesse and impietie, are writen in the chronicles of the kings.

43 And Joachin his sonne reigned in his stead: he was made king being eighteen yeers old:

44 And reigned but three moneths and ten dayes in Jerusalem, and did evil before the Lord.

45 So after a yeer Nabuchodonosor sent and caused him to be brought into Babylon, with the holy vessels of the Lord.

46 And made Zedechias king of Iudæa and Jerusalem, when he was one and twenty yeers old, and he reigned eleven yeers:

47 And he did evil also in the sight of the Lord, and cared not for the words that were spoken unto him by the prophet Ieremie from the mouth of the Lord.

48 And after that king Nabuchodonosor had made him to swear by the Name of the Lord, he forsooke himself and rebelled, and hardening his neck, and his heart, he transgressed the laws of the Lord God of Israel.

49 The governours also of the people and of the priests did many things against the laws, and passed all the pollutions of all nations, and defiled the temple of the Lord which was sanctified in Jerusalem.

50 Nevertheless, the God of their fathers sent by his messenger to call them back, because he spared them and his tabernacle also.

51 But they had his messengers in derision, and look when the Lord spake unto them, they made a sport of his prophets:

52 So farre forth, that he being wroth with his people for their great ungodlinesse, commanded the kings of the Caldees to come up against them:

53 Who slew their young men with the sword, yea even within the compass of their holy temple, and spared neither young man nor maid, old man nor childe among them, for he delivered all into their hands.

54 And they took all the holy vessels of the Lord, both great and small, with the vessels of the ark of God, and the kings treasures, and carried them away into Babylon.

55 As for the house of the Lord, they burnt it, brake down the walls of Jerusalem, set fire upon her towers.

56 And as for her glorious things, they never ceased till they had consumed and brought them all to nought: and the people that were not slain with the sword, he carried unto Babylon:

57 Who became servants to him and his children, till the Persians reigned, to fulfill the word of the Lord spoken by the mouth of Ieremie:

58 Untill the land had enjoyed her sabbaths, the whole time of her desolation shall she lie rest untill the full term of seventy yeers.

CHAP. II.

1 Cyrus is moved by God to build the temple, 5 and giveth leave to the Jews to return and contribute to it. 11 He delivereth again the vessels which had been taken thence. 25 Artaxerxes forbiddeh the Jews to build any more.

IN the first yeer of Cyrus king of the Persians, that the word of the Lord might be accomplished that he had promised by the mouth of Ieremie:

2 The Lord raised up the spirit of Cyrus the king of the Persians, and he made proclamation through all his kingdome and also by writing,

3 Saying, Thus saith Cyrus king of the Persians, The Lord of Israel, the most high Lord, hath made me king of the whole world,

4 And commanded me to build him an house at Jerusalem in Iury.

5 If therefore there be any of you that are of his people, let the Lord, even his Lord be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem: and build the house of the Lord of Israel: for he is the Lord that dwelleth in Jerusalem.

6 Whosoever then dwell in the places about, let them help him (those I say that are his neighbours) with gold and with silver,

7 With gifts, with horses, and with cattell, and other things which have been let forth by vow, for the temple of the Lord at Jerusalem.

8 When the chief of the families of Iuda, and of the tribes of Benjamin stood up: the priests also and the Levites, and all they whose minde the Lord had moved to go up, and to build an house for the Lord at Jerusalem:

9 And they that dwelt round about them, and helped them in all things with silver and gold, with horses and cattell, and with very free gifts of a great number whose mindes were stirred up thereto.

10 King Cyrus also brought forth the holy vessels which Nabuchodonosor had carried away from Jerusalem, and had set up in his temple of idols.

11 Now when Cyrus king of the Persians had brought them forth, he delivered them to Bithpatanes his treasurer:

13 And this was the number of them, A thousand golden cups, and a thousand of silver, † censers of silver twenty nine, vails of gold thirty, and of silver seven thousand four hundred and ten, and a thousand other vessels.

14 So all the vessels of gold and of silver, which were carried away, were † five thousand four hundred threescore and nine.

15 These were brought back by Sanabassar, together with them of the captivity, from Babylon to Jerusalem.

16 * But in the time of Artaxerxes king of the Persians, Belenus, and Pithiadates, and Tabellius, and † Rathumus, Beletechinus, and † Semellus the secretary, with others that were in commission with them, dwelling in Samaria and other places, wrote unto him against them that dwelt in Iudæa and Jerusalem, these letters following:

17 To king Artaxerxes our lord, thy servants Rathumus the scribe-writer, and Semellus the scribe, and the rest of their counsell, and the judges that are in Coelozyria and Phenice.

18 Be it now known to the lord the king, that the Jews that are come up from you to us, being come into Jerusalem (that rebellious and wicked city) do build the market-places, and repair the walls of it, and do lay the foundation of the temple.

19 Now if this city, and the walls thereof be made up again, they will not onely refuse to give tribute, but also rebel against kings.

20 And forasmuch as the things pertaining to the temple are now in hand, we think it meet not to neglect such a matter.

21 But to speak unto our lord the king, to the intent, that if it be thy pleasure, it may be fought out in the books of thy fathers:

22 And thou shalt finde in the chronicles what is written concerning these things, and shalt understand that that cite was rebellious, troubling both kings and cities:

23 And that the Jews were rebellious, and raised alwayes wars therein: for the which cause even this city was made desolate.

24 Wherefore now we do declare unto thee, (O lord the king) that if this city be built again, and the walls thereof set up anew, thou shalt from henceforth have no passage into Coelozyria and Phenice.

25 Then the king wrote back again to Rathumus the scribe-writer, to Beletechinus, to Semellus the scribe, and to the rest that were in commission, and dwellers in Samaria, and Syria, and Phenice, after this manner:

26 I have read the epistle which ye have sent unto me: therefore I commanded to make diligent search; and it hath been found, that that cite was from the beginning, practising against kings.

27 And the men therein were given to rebellion, and warre, and that mighty kings and fierce were in Jerusalem, who reigned and exacted tributes in Coelozyria and Phenice.

28 Now therefore I have commanded to hinder those men from building the city, and heed to be taken, that there be no more done in it:

29 And that those wicked workers proceed no further to the annoyance of kings.

30 Then king Artaxerxes his letters being read, Rathumus, and Semellus the scribe, and the rest that were in commission with them, removing in haste towards Jerusalem with a troop of horsemen, and † a multitude of people in battell array, began to hinder the builders; and the building of the temple in Jerusalem ceased until the second year of the reign of Darius king of the Persians.

CHAP. III.

4 Three strive to excell each other in wise speeches.
 9 They referre themselves to the judgement of the king. 18 The first declareth the strength of wine.

NOW when Darius reigned, he made a great feast unto all his subjects, and unto all his household, and unto all the princes of Media and Persia,

2 And to all the governours and captains, and lieutenants that were under him, from India unto Ethiopia, of an hundred twenty and seven provinces.

3 And when they had eaten and drunken, and being satisfied were gone home, then Darius the king went into his bed-chamber, and slept, and soon after awaked.

4 Then three young men that were of the guard, that kept the kings body, spake one to another,

5 Let every one of us speak a sentence: he that shall overcome, and whose sentence shall seem wisest then the others, unto him shall the king Darius give great gifts, and great things in token of victory:

6 As to be clothed in purple, to drink in gold, and to sleep upon gold, and a chariot with hidles of gold, and an head-piece of fine linen, and a chain about his neck:

7 And he shall sit next to Darius, because of his wisdom, and shall be called Darius his counsil.

8 And then every one wrote his sentence, sealed it, and laid it under king Darius his pillow,

9 And said, that when the king is risen, some will give him the writings, and of whose side the king and the three princes of Persia shall judge, that his sentence is the wisest, to him shall the victory be given, as was appointed.

10 The first wrote, Mine is the strongest.

11 The second wrote, The king is the strongest.

12 The third wrote, Women are strongest, but above all things, Truth beareth away the victory.

13 Now when the king was risen up, they took their writings and delivered them unto him, and so he read them.

14 And sending forth, he called all the princes of Persia and Media, and the governours, and the captains, and the lieutenants, and the chief officers,

15 And sat him down in the Royall seat of judgement, and the writings were read before them:

16 And he said, Call the young men, and they shall declare their own sentences. So they were called, and came in.

17 And he said unto them, Declare unto us your minde concerning the writings. Then began the first, who had spoken of the strength of wine:

18 And he said thus, O ye men, hold exceeding strong is wine! It causeth all men to erre that drink it:

19 It maketh the minde of the king, and of the fatherlesse child, to be all one; of the bond-man and of the free-man, of the poor man and of the rich:

20 It turneth also every thought into folly and mirth, so that a man remembereth neither sorrow nor debt:

||Or-a great number of soldiers.

||Or. counsell

21 And it maketh ever heart rich, so that a man remembereth neither king nor governour; and it maketh to speak all things by talents:
 22 And when they are in their cups, they forget their love both to friends and brethren, and a little after draw out swords:
 23 But when they are from the wine, they remember not what they have done.
 24 O ye men, is not wine the strongest, that enforcech to do thus? And when he had so spoken, he held his peace.

CHAP. III.

1 The second declareth the power of a king, 14 the third the force of women, 33 and of truth, 41 The third is judged to be wisest, 47 and obtaineth letters of the king to build Jerusalem. 58 He praisech God, and sheweth his brethren what he had done.

Then the second that had spoken of the strength of the king, began to say,
 2 O ye men, do not men excell in strength, that bear rule over sea and land, and all things in them?

3 But yet the king is more mighty: for he is lord of all these things, and hath dominion over them, and whatsoever he commandeth them they do.

4 If he bid them make war the one against the other, they do it: if he send them out against the enemies, they go, and break down mountains, walls, and towers.

5 They slay and are slain, and transgresse not the kings commandment: if they get the victory, they bring all to the king, as well the spoil, as all things else.

6 Likewise for those that are no souldiers, and have not to do with warres, but use husbandry, when they have reaped again that which they had sown, they bring it to the king, and compell one another to pay tribute unto the king.

7 And yet he is but one man: if he command to kill, they kill. if he command to spare, they spare:

8 If he command to smite, they smite; if he command to make desolate, they make desolate; if he command to build, they build:

9 If he command to cut down, they cut down; if he command to plant, they plant.

10 So all his people and his armies obey him: for he maketh them to be set down, he eateth and drinketh, and taketh his rest.

11 And these keep (watch) round about him, neither may any one depart, and do his own business, neither disobey they him in any thing.

12 O ye men, how should not the king be mightiest, when in such sort he is obeyed? And he held his tongue.

13 Then the third, who had spoken of women, and of the truth (this was Zorobabel) began to speak.

14 O ye men, it is not the great king, nor the multitude of men, neither is it wine that excelleth; Who is it then that ruleth them, or hath the lordship over them? are they not women?

15 Women have born the king, and all the people, that bear rule by sea and land.

16 Even of them came they: and they nourished them up that planted the vineyards from whence the wine cometh.

17 These also make garments for men, these bring glory unto men; and without women cannot men be.

18 Pea, and if men have gathered together gold and silver, or any other goodly thing, do they not love a woman, which is comely in favour and beauty?

19 And letting all those things go, do they not gape, and even with open mouth fix their eyes fast on her; and have not all men more desire unto her, then unto silver or gold, or any goodly thing whatsoever?

20 A man leaveth his own father that brought him up, and his own country, and cleaveth unto his wife.

21 He sticks not to spend his life with his wife, and remembereth neither father nor mother, nor country.

22 By this also you must know, that women have dominion over you: do ye not labour and toll, and give and bring all to the woman?

23 Pea a man taketh his sword, and goeth his way to rob, and to steal, to sail upon the sea, and upon rivers;

24 And looketh upon a lion, and goeth in the darknesse; and when he hath stolen, spoiled and robbed, he bringeth it to his love.

25 Wherefore a man loveth his wife better then father or mother.

26 Pea many there be that have run out of their wits for women, and become servants for their sakes.

27 Many also have perished, have erred, and sinned for women.

28 And now do ye not beleve me? is not the king great in his power? do not all regions fear to touch him?

29 Yet did I see him and Apame the kings concubine, the daughter of the admirable Barta-cas, sitting at the right hand of the king, 30 And taking the crown from the kings head, and setting it upon her own head, she also stroke the king with her left hand.

31 And yet I for all this, the king gaped and gazed upon her with open mouth: if she laughed upon him, he laughed also: but if shee took any displeasure at him, the king was faine to flatter, that she might be reconciled to him again.

32 O ye men, how can it be but women should be strong, seeing they do thus?

33 Then the king and the princes looked one upon another: so he began to speak of the truth.

34 O ye men, are not women strong? great is the earth, high is the heaven, swift is the sunne in his course, for he compasseth the heavens round about, and fetcheth his course again to his own place in one day.

35 Is he not great that maketh these things? therefore great is the truth, and stronger then all things.

36 All the earth calleth upon the truth, and the heaven blesteth it, all works shake and tremble at it, and with it is no unrighteous thing.

37 Wine is wicked, the king is wicked, women are wicked, all the children of men are wicked, and such are all their wicked works, and there is no truth in them; in their unrighteousnesse also they shall perish.

38 As for the truth it endureth, and is always strong, it loveth and conquereth for evermore.

39 With her there is no accepting of persons, or rewards, but she doth the things that are just, and restrained from all unjust and wicked things, and all men do well like of her works.

40 Neither in her judgement is any unrighteousnesse, and she is the strength, kingdom, power, and majesty of all ages. Blessed be the God of truth.

41 And with that he held his peace: and all the people then shouted, and said, Great is truth, and mighty above all things.

For, have the command.

Or, grow desperate.

42. Then said the king unto him, Ask what thou wilt more than is appointed in the writings, and we will give it thee; because thou art found wisest, and thou shalt sit next me, and shalt be called my counsa.

43. Then said he unto the king, Remember thy vow which thou hast vowed to build Jerusalem in the day when thou camest to thy kingdome,

44. And to send away all the vessels that were taken away out of Jerusalem, which Cyrus set apart, when he vowed to destroy Babylon, and to send them again thither.

45. Thou also hast vowed to build up the temple which the Edomites burnt when Judea was made desolate by the Caldees.

46. And now, O Lord the king, this is that which I require, and which I desire of thee, and this is the princely liberality proceeding from thy self: I desire therefore that thou make good the vow, the performance whereof with thine own mouth thou hast vowed to the king of heaven.

47. Then Darius the king stood up and kissed him, and wrote letters for him unto all the treasurers and lieutenants, and captains and governours, that they should safely conyey on their way, both him, and all those that go up with him to build Jerusalem.

48. He wrote letters also unto the lieutenants that were in Coelozria and Phenice, and unto them in Libanus, that they should bring cedarwood from Libanus unto Jerusalem, and that they should build the city with him.

49. Moreover he wrote for all the Jews that went out of his realm up into Iury, concerning their freedome, that no officer, no ruler, no lieutenant, nor treasurer, should forcibly enter into their doores;

50. And that all the country which they hold, should be free without tribute, and that the Edomites should give over the villages of the Jews which then they held.

51. That there should be yearly given twenty talents to the building of the temple untill the time that it were built;

52. And other ten talents yearly to maintain the burnt-offerings upon the altar every day. (as they had a commandment to offer seventeen)

53. And that all they that went from Babylon to build the cite, should have free liberty as well they as their posterity, and all the priests that went away.

54. He wrote also concerning the charges, and the priests vestments wherein they minister.

55. And likewise for the charges of the Levites, to be given them, untill the day that the house were finished, and Jerusalem builded up.

56. And he commanded to give to all that kept the city, penions and wages.

57. He sent away also all the vessels from Babylon that Cyrus had set apart, and all that Cyrus had given in commandment, the same charged he also to be done, and sent unto Jerusalem.

58. Now when this young man was gone forth, he lifted up his face to heaven, toward Jerusalem, and praised the king of heaven,

59. And said, From thee cometh victory, from thee cometh wisdom, and thine is the glory, and I am thy servant.

60. Blessed art thou who hast given me wisdom: for to thee I give thanks, O Lord of our fathers.

61. And so he took the letters, and went out, and came unto Babylon, and told it all his brethren.

Or, Reward.

Or, portions of land.

62. And they praised the God of their fathers, because he had given them freedom and liberty.

63. To go up, and build Jerusalem, and the temple which is called by his name: and they feasted with instruments of musick and gladnesse seven dayes.

4 The names and number of the Jews that returned home. 50 The altar is set up in his place. 57 The foundation of the temple is laid. 73 The work is hindred for a time.

After this were the principall men of the families chosen according to their tribes, to go up with their wives, and sonnes, and daughters, with their men-servants and maid-servants, and their cattell.

2 And Darius sent with them a thousand horsemen, till they had brought them back to Jerusalem safely, and with musickall [instruments] tabrets and flutes.

3 And all their brethren played, and he made them go up together with them.

4 And these are the names of the men which went up, according to their families, amongst their tribes, after their severall heads.

5 The priests the sons of Phinees, the sonne of Aaron: Jehus the sonne of Josidec, the son of Saratas, and Joachim the sonne of Josephab, the son of Salathiel of the house of David, cut of the kindred of Davars, of the tribe of Judah;

6 Who spake wise sentences before Darius the king of Persia, in the second year of his reign, in the month Assan, which is the six month.

7 And these are they of Jewry that came up from the captivity, where they dwelt as strangers, whom Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon had carried away unto Babylon.

8 And they returned unto Jerusalem, and to the other parts of Jewry, every man to his own cite, who came with Zorobabel, with Jehus, Nehemias, and Zacharias, and Resaias, Euenius, Gardochus, Beelarus, cApharalus, d Reellus, Romus, and Baana, their guides.

35 All the main sters of the temple, and the sons of the servants of Solomon, were three hundred seventy and two.
36 These came up from Thermolet, and The- teras, Chacaachalar leading them, and Aalar.
37 Neither could they show their families, nor their stock, how they were of Israel: the sonnes of e Laban, the sonne of f Ban, the sonnes of g De- codan, six hundred fifty and two.

38 And of the priests that urged the office of the priesthood, and were not found, the sonnes of h Oodia: the sonnes of i Accoz, the sonnes of k Adius, who married Augia one of the daugh- ters of Berzelus, and was named after his name.
39 And when the description of the kindred of these men was sought in the register, and was not found, they were removed from executing the office of the priesthood.
40 For unto them said || Nehemias and Atha- rias, that they should not be partakers of the holy things, till there arose up an high priest, clothed with doctrine and truth.
41 So of Israel from them of twelve yeeres old and upward, they were all in number four- tien thousand, besides men-servants and wo- men-servants, two thousand three hundred and sixtie.
42 Their || men-servants and handmaids were seven thousand three hundred forty and seven: the singing men and singing women, two hundred forty and five.
43 Four hundred thirty and five camels, se- ven thousand thirtie and six horses, two hun- dred fourtie and five mules, * five thousand five hundred twenty and five || beasts used to the yoke.
44 And certain of the chief of their families, when they came to the temple of God that is in Jerusalem, vowed to set up the house again in his own place, according to their ability.
45 And to give into the holy treasure of the works, a thousand pounds of gold, five thousand of silver, an hundred priestly vestments.
46 And to dwell the priests, and the Levites, and the people in Jerusalem, and in the country: the singers also and the porters, and all Israel in their villages.
47 But when the seventh moneth was at hand, and when the children of Israel were every man in his own place, they came all together with one consent into the open place of the first || gate which is towards the east.
48 Then stood up Jesus the sonne of Nosedec, and his brethren the priests, and Zoebabel the sonne of Salathiel, and his brethren, and made ready the altar of the God of Israel.
49 To offer burnt-sacrifices upon it, according as it is expressly commanded in the book of Moses the man of God.
50 And there were gathered unto them out of the other nations of the land, and they erected the altar upon his own place, because all the nations of the land were at enmitie with them, and oppressed them, and they offered sacrifices according to the time, and burnt-offerings to the Lord both morn- ing and evening.
51 Also they held the feast of tabernacles, as it is commanded in the law, and offered sacrifices daily, as was meet:
52 And after that, the || continuall oblations, and the sacrifice of the sabbaths, and of the new moons, and of all holy feasts.
53 And all they that had || made any vow to God, began to offer sacrifices to God from the first day of the seventh moneth, although the tem- ple of the Lord was not yet built.
54 And they gave unto the masons and carpen- ters, money, meat and drink with cheerfulness.

from Libanus, which should be brought by flotes to the haven of Egypt, according as it was commanded them by Cyrus king of the Persians.

56 And in the second year and second moneth, after his coming to the temple of God at Jerusalem, began Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Jesus the sonne of Josedec, and their brethren, and the priests, and the Levites, and all they that were come unto Jerusalem out of the captivity:

57 And they laid the foundation of the house of God in the first day of the second moneth, in the second year after they were come to Iury and Jerusalem.

58 ¶ And they appointed the Levites from twentie yeeres old, over the works of the Lord. Then stood up Jesus and his sonnes and brethren, and Cadmiel his brother, and the sonnes of Masabun, with the sonnes of Joda the sonne of Eliaoum, with their sonnes and brethren, all Levites with one accord ¶ letters forward of the businesse, labouring to advance the works in the house of God. So the workmen built the temple of the Lord.

59 And the priests stood arrayed in their vestments with muscalle instruments, and trumpets, and the Levites the sonnes of Aaph had cymbals, 60 Singing songs of thanksgiving, and praising the Lord, ¶ according as David the king of Israel had ordained.

61 And they sung with loud voices songs to the praise of the Lord: because his mercy and glory is for ever in all Israel.

62 And all the people sounded trumpets, and shouted with a loud voice, singing songs of thanksgiving unto the Lord, for the rearing up of the house of the Lord.

63 ¶ Also of the priests and Levites, and of the chief of their families, the ancients who had seen the former house, came to the building of this with weeping and great crying.

64 But many with trumpets and joy shouted with loud voice,

65 Inasmuch that the trumpets might not be heard for the weeping of the people: yet the multitude sounded marvellously, so that it was heard afarre off.

66 Wherefore when the enemies of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin heard it, they came to know what that noise of trumpets should mean.

67 And they perceived that they that were of the captivity, did build the temple unto the Lord God of Israel.

68 So they went to Zorobabel and Jesus, and to the chief of the families, and said unto them, We will build together with you.

69 For we likewise, as you, do obey your Lord, and do sacrifice unto him from the dayes of ¶ Nabazareth the king of the Assyrians, who brought us hither.

70 Then Zorobabel and Jesus, and the chief of the families of Israel said unto them, It is not for us and you to build together an house unto the Lord our God.

71 We our selves alone will build unto the Lord of Israel, according as Cyrus the king of the Persians hath commanded us.

72 But the heathen of the land being heavy upon the inhabitants of Judea, and holding them halt, hindered their building:

73 And by their secret plots and popular persuasions and commotions, they hindered the finishing of the building, all the time that king

Cyrus lived: so they were hindered from building for the space of two yeeres, ¶ until the reign of Darius.

CHAP. VI.

1 The prophets stir up the people to build the temple. 8 Darius is sollicitous to hinder it. 27 But he doth further it by all means, 32 and threateth those that shall hinder it.

NOW in the second year of the reign of Darius, Aggeus, and Zacharias the son of ¶ Addo the prophets prophesied unto the Jews, in Ierury and Jerusalem in the name of the Lord God of Israel ¶ which was upon them.

2 Then stood up Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Jesus the sonne of Josedec, and began to build the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, the prophets of the Lord being with them, and helping them.

3 ¶ At the same time came unto them, ¶ Sittines the governour of Syria and Phenice, with ¶ Sathabuzanes and his companions, and said unto them,

4 By whose appointment do you build this house and this roof, and perform all the other things? and who are the workmen that perform these things?

5 Nevertheless the elders of the Jews obtained favour: because the Lord had visited the captivity.

6 And they were not hindered from building until such time as signification was given unto Darius concerning them, and an answer received.

7 The copy of the letters which Sittines governour of Syria and Phenice, and Sathabuzanes, with their companions, rulers in Syria and Phenice, wrote and sent unto Darius: To king Darius, greeting.

8 Let all things be known unto our lord the king, that being come into the countrey of Judea, and entered into the cite of Jerusalem, we found in the cite of Jerusalem the ancients of the Jews that were of the captivity, 9 Building an house unto the Lord, great and new, of heben and costly stones, and the timber already laid upon the walls.

10 And those works are done with great speed, and the work goeth on prosperously in their hands, and with all glory and diligence is it made.

11 Then asked we these elders, saying, By whose commandement build ye this house, and lay the foundations of these works?

12 Therefore to the intent that we might give knowledge unto thee by writing, we demanded of them who were the chief doers, and we required of them the names in writing of their principall men.

13 So they gave us this answer, We are the servants of the Lord which made heaven and earth.

14 And as for this house, it was builded many yeeres ago by a king of Israel, great and strong, and was finished.

15 But when our fathers provoked God unto wrath, and sinned against the Lord of Israel which is in heaven, he gave them over into the power of Nabuchodonozor king of Babylon, of the Caldees:

16 Who pulled down the house, and burnt it, and carried away the people captives unto Babylon.

17 But in the first year that king Cyrus reigned over the countrey of Babylon, Cyrus the king wrote to build up this house.

18 And the holy vessels of gold and of silver that that Nabuchodonosor had carried away out of the house at Jerusalem, and had set them in his own temple, those Cyrus the king brought forth again out of the temple at Babylon, and they were delivered to || Sojobabel and to Sanabassar the rulers, 19 With commandment that he should carry away these same vessels, and put them in the temple at Jerusalem, and that the temple of the Lord should be built in his place.

20 Then the same Sanabassars being come hither, laid the foundations of the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, and from that time to this, being still a building, it is not yet fully ended.

21 Now therefore, if it seem good unto the kings, let search be made among the || records of king Cyrus.

22 And if it be found, that the building of the house of the Lord at Jerusalem hath been done with the consent of king Cyrus, and if our lord the king be so minded, let him signifie unto us thereof.

23 Then commanded king Darius to seek among the records at Babylon: and so at Cebatana the palace which is in the countrey of Media, there was found a || roll wherein these things were recorded.

24 In the first year of the reigne of Cyrus, king Cyrus commanded that the house of the Lord at Jerusalem should be built again where they do sacrifice with continual fire.

25 Whole height shall be sixty cubits, and the breadth sixty cubits, with three rows of hewen stones, and one row of new wood of that countrey, and the expences thereof to be given out of the house of king Cyrus.

26 And that the holy vessels of the house of the Lord both of gold and silver that Nabuchodonosor took out of the house at Jerusalem, and brought to Babylon, should be restored to the house at Jerusalem, and be set in the place where they were before.

27 And also he commanded that Sisinnes the governour of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, and their companions, and those which were appointed rulers in Syria and Phenice, should be careful not to meddle with the place, but suffer Sojobabel the servant of the Lord, and governour of Judea, and the elders of the Jews, to build the house of the Lord in that place.

28 I have commanded also to have it built up whole again, and that they look diligently to help those that be of the captivitie of the Jews, till the house of the Lord be finished.

29 And out of the tribute of Coelozyria and Phenice, a portion carefully to be given these men, for the sacrifices of the Lord, that is, to Sojobabel the governour, for bullocks, and rammes, and lambs:

30 And also eorn, salt, wine and oyle, and that continually every year without further question, according as the priests that be in Jerusalem shall signifie to be daily spent:

31 That || offerings may be made to the most high God, for the king, and for his children, and that they may pray for their lives.

32 And he commanded, that whosoever should curse, or make light of any thing aforesaid spoken or written, out of his own house should a tree be taken, and he thereon be hanged, and all his goods sold for the king.

33 The Lord therefore whose name is there called upon, utterly destroy every king and nation, that stretcheth out his hand to hinder or endamage that house of the Lord in Jerusalem.

34 I Darius the king have ordained, that according unto these things it be done with diligence.

1 Sisinnes and others help forward the building. 5 The temple is finished, and dedicated. 10 The passeover is kept.

Then Sisinnes the governour of Coelozyria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, following the commandments of king Darius,

2 Did very carefully oversee the holy works, assisting the ancients of the Jews, and governours of the temple.

3 And so the holy works prospered, when Aggeus and Zacharias the prophets prophesied.

4 And they finished these things, by the commandment of the Lord God of Israel, and with the consent of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes kings of Persia.

5 And thus was the holy house finished in the three and twentieth day of the month Adar, in the sixth year of Darius king of the Persians.

6 And the children of Israel, the priests and the Levites, and other that were of the captivitie, that were added unto them, did according to the things written in the book of Moses.

7 And to the dedication of the temple of the Lord, they offered an hundred bullocks, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs;

8 And twelve goats for the sinne of all Israel, according to the number of the || chief of the tribes of Israel.

9 The priests also and the Levites stood arrayed in their vestments according to their || kindreds, in the services of the Lord God of Israel, according to the book of Moses: and the poets at every gate.

10 And the children of Israel || that were of the captivitie, held the passeover the fourteenth day of the first month, after that the priests and the Levites were sanctified.

11 They that were of the captivitie, were not all sanctified together: but the Levites were all sanctified together.

12 And so they offered the passeover for all them of the captivitie, and for their brethren the priests, and for themselves.

13 And the children of Israel that came out of the captivitie did eat, even all they that had separated themselves from the abominations of the people of the land, and sought the Lord.

14 And they kept the feast of unleavened bread seven dayes, making merrv before the Lord:

15 For that he had turned the || counsell of the king of Assyria towards them, to strengthen their hands in the works of the Lord God of Israel.

of Abiath, the sonne of Phinees, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron the chief priest.

3 This Elias went up from Babylon, as a scribe, being very ready in the law of Moses, that was given by the God of Israel.

4 And the king did him honour: for he found grace in his sight in all his requests.

5 There went up with him also certain of the children of Israel, of the priests, of the Levites, of the holy singers, porters, and ministers of the temple, unto Jerusalem,

6 In the seventh year of the reign of Artaxerxes, in the sixth moneth (this was the kings seventh year) for they went from Babylon in the first day of the first moneth, and came to Jerusalem, according to the prosperous journey which the Lord gave them.

7 For Elias had very great skill, so that he omitted nothing of the law and commandments of the Lord, but taught all Israel the ordinances and judgments.

8 Now the copie of the commission which was written from Artaxerxes the king, and came to Elias the priest and reader of the law of the Lord, is this that followeth:

9 King Artaxerxes unto Elias the priest and reader of the law of the Lord, sendeth greeting.

10 Having determined to deal graciously, I have given order, that such of the nation of the Jews, and of the priests, and Levites being within our realm, as are willing and desirous, should go with thee unto Jerusalem.

11 As many therefore as have a mind thereunto, let them depart with thee, as it hath seemed good both to me, and my seven friends the counsellors;

12 That they may look unto the affairs of Judea and Jerusalem, agreeably to that which is in the law of the Lord.

13 And carry the gifts unto the Lord of Israel to Jerusalem, which I and my friends have vowed, and all the gold and silver that in the countrey of Babylon can be found, to the Lord in Jerusalem,

14 Altho that also which is given of the people, for the temple of the Lord their God at Jerusalem: and that silver and gold may be collected for bullocks, rams, and lambs, and things thereunto appertaining;

15 To the end that they may offer sacrifices unto the Lord, upon the altar of the Lord their God, which is in Jerusalem.

16 And whatsoever thou and thy brethren will do with the silver and gold, that do, according to the will of thy God.

17 And the holy vessels of the Lord which are given thee for the use of the temple of thy God which is in Jerusalem, thou shalt set before thy God in Jerusalem.

18 And whatsoever thing else thou shalt remember for the use of the temple of thy God, thou shalt give it out of the kings treasure.

19 And I king Artaxerxes have also commanded the keepers of the treasures in Syria and Phenice, that whatsoever Elias the priest and the reader of the law of the most high God shall send for, they should give it him with speed, 20 To the sum of an hundred talents of silver, likewise also of wheat even to an hundred cors, and an hundred peeces of wine, and other things in abundance.

21 Let all things be performed after the law of God diligently unto the most high God, that may come not upon the kingdome of the king and his sonnes.

22 I command you also, that ye require no tax, nor any other imposition of any of the priests or Levites, or holy singers, or porters, or ministers of the temple, or of any that have doings in this temple, and that no man have authority to impose any thing upon them.

23 And thou Elias, according to the wisdom of God, ordain judges and justices, that they may judge in all Syria and Phenice, that all those that know the law of thy God; and those that know it not, thou shalt teach.

24 And whosoever shall transgresse the law of thy God, and of the king, shall be punished diligently, whether it be by death, or other punishment, by penalty of money, or by imprisonment.

25 I then said Elias the scribe, Blessed be the only Lord God of my fathers, who hath put these things into the heart of the king, to glorifie his house that is in Jerusalem, 26 And hath honoured me in the sight of the king and his counsellors, and all his friends and nobles.

27 Therefore was I encouraged by the help of the Lord my God, and gathered together men of Israel to go up with me:

28 And these are the chief according to their families and severall dignities, that went up with me from Babylon in the reign of king Artaxerxes.

29 Of the sonnes of Phinees, Serfon: of the sonnes of Athamar, Samael; of the sonnes of David, Lerus: the sonne of Sechenias:

40 Of the sonnes of Bago, Achi the sonne of Italeurus, and with him seventy men:

41 And these I gathered together to the river called Theras, where we pitched our tents three dayes: and then I surpased them.

42 But when I had found there none of the priests and Levites,

43 Then sent I unto Eleazar and Iduel, and Adalman,

44 Daddens the captain, || who was in the place of the creature:

46 And commanded them that they should speak unto Daddens, and to || his brethren, and to the treasurers in that place, to send us such men as might execute the priests office in the house of the Lord.

47 And by the mighty hands of our Lord they brought unto us skillfull men of the sonnes of || Goliath the sonne of Levi, the sonne of Israel, || Asebebia and his sonnes, and his brethren, who were eighteen.

48 || And Asebia, and Annuus, and Delas his brother of the sonnes of Channuneus, and their sonnes were twenty men.

49 And of the servants of the temple whom David had ordained, and the principall men, for the service of the Levites (to wit) the servants of the temple, two hundred and twenty, the catalogue of whose names were shewed.

50 And there I || vowed a fast unto the young men before our Lord, to desire of him a prosperous journey both for us and them that were with us, for our children and for the † cattell.

51 For I was ashamed to aske the king footmen, and horsemen, and conduct for safeguard against our adversaries.

52 For we had said unto the king, that the power of the Lord our God should be with them that seek him, to support them in all wayes.

53 And again we besought our Lord, as touching these things, and found him favourable unto us.

54 Then I separated twelve of the chief of the priests, || Serebias, and Ashanias, and ten men of their brethren with them.

55 And I weighed them the gold, and the silver, and the holy vessels of the house of our Lord, which the king, and his counsell, and the princes, and all Israel had given.

56 And when I had weighed it, I delivered unto them six hundred and sixty talents of silver, and silver vessels of an hundred talents, and an hundred talents of gold, 57 And twenty golden vessels, and † twelve vessels of brasse, even of fine brasse, glittering like gold.

58 And I said unto them, Both you are holy unto the Lord, and the vessels are holy, and the gold and the silver is a vow unto the Lord, the Lord of our fathers.

59 Watch ye, and keep them selfe ye deliver them to the chief of the priests and Levites, and to the principall men of the families of Israel in Jerusalem, into the chambers of the house of our God.

60 So the priests and the Levites who had received the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, brought them unto Jerusalem into the temple of the Lord.

61 And from the river Theras we departed the twelfth day of the first month, and came to Jerusalem by the mighty hand of our Lord, which was with us: and from the || beginning of our journey, the Lord delivered us from every enemy, and so we came to Jerusalem.

62 And when we had been there three dayes, the gold and silver that was weighed, was delivered into the house of our Lord on the fourth day unto † Parmoth the priest the sonne of Iri.

63 And with him was Eleazar the sonne of Thines, and with them were Josabab the sonne of Jesu, and || Moeth the sonne of Sabban, Levites: all was delivered them by number and weight.

64 And all the weight of them was written up the same hour.

65 Moreover they that were come out of the captivity offered sacrifice unto the Lord God of Israel, even twelve bullocks for all Israel, four score and sixteen rams, 66 † Threescore and twelve lambs, goats for a peace-offering, twelve, all of them a sacrifice to the Lord.

67 And they delivered the kings commandments unto the kings stewards, and to the governors of Coelozria and Phenice, and they honoured the people, and the temple of God.

68 Now when these things were done, the rulers came unto me, and said, 69 The nation of Israel, the princes, the priests, and Levites have not put away from them the strange people of the land, nor the pollutions of the Gentiles, two wit, of the Canaanites, Hittites, Hiberites, Jebusites, and the Moabites, Egyptians, and Chaldees.

70 * For both they and their sonnes have married with their daughters, and the holy seed is mixed with the strange people of the land, and from the beginning of this matter, the rulers and the great men have been partakers of this iniquitie.

71 And askeone as I had heard these things, I rent my clothes, and the holy garment, and pulled off the hair from off my head and beard, and sat me down sad, and very heavy.

72 So all they that were then moved at the word of the Lord God of Israel, assembled unto me whilest I mourned for the iniquitie: but I sat still full of heavinesse, untill the evening sacrifice.

73 Then rising up from the fast with my clothes and the holy garment rent, and bowing my knees, and stretching forth my hands unto the Lord,

74 I said, O Lord, I am confounded, and ashamed before the face;

75 For our finnes † are multiplied above our heads, and our ignorances have reached up unto heaven.

76 For ever since the time of our fathers we have been and are in great sinne, even unto this day.

77 And for our finnes and our fathers, we with our brethren, and our kings, and our priests, were given up unto the kings of the earth, to the sword, and to captivity, and for a prey with shame unto this day.

78 And now in some measure hath mercy been shewed unto us from thee, O Lord, that there should be left us a root, and a name in the place of thy sanctuary.

79 And to discover unto us a light in the house of the Lord our God, and to give us † food in the time of our servitude.

80 Yea, when we were in bondage we were not forsaken of our Lord; but he made us gracious before the kings of Persia, so that they gave us food;

81 Yea, and honoured the temple of our Lord, and raised up the desolate Sion, that they have given us a sure abiding in Fury and Jerusalem.

82 And now, O Lord, what shall we say, being these things? for we have transgressed thy commandments which thou gavest by the hand of thy servants the prophets, saying, 83 That the land which ye enter into to possesse as an heritage, is a land polluted with the pollutions of the strangers of the land, and they have filled it with their uncleannesse.

84 Therefore now shall ye not soyn your daughters unto their sonnes, neither shall ye take their daughters unto your sonnes.

85 Moreover, you shall never seek to have peace with them, that ye may be strong, and eat the good things of the land, and that ye may leave the inheritances of the land unto your children for evermore.

86 And all that is befallen, is done unto us for our wicked works and great sinnes: for thou, O Lord, didst make our sinnes light, 87 And didst give unto us such a root: but we have turned back again to transgresse thy law, and to mingle our selves with the uncleannesse of the nations of the land.

88 ¶ Dignest not thou be angry with us to destroy us, till thou hadst left us neither root, seed, nor name?

89 O Lord of Israel, thou art true: for we are left a root this day.

90 Behold, now are we before thee in our iniquities, for we cannot stand any longer by reason of these things before thee.

91 And as Eneas in his prayer made his confession, weeping, and lying flat upon the ground before the temple, there gathered unto him from Jerusalem a very great multitude of men, and women, and children: for there was great weeping among the multitude.

92 Then Iechonias the sonne of Ieelus, one of the sonnes of Israel called out and said, O Eneas, we have sinned against the Lord God, we have married strange women of the nations of the land, and now is all Israel ¶ aloft.

93 Let us make an oath to the Lord, that we will put away all our wives, which we have taken of the heathen, with their children, 94 Like as thou hast decreed, and as many as do obey the law of the Lord.

95 Arise, and put in execution: for to thee doth this matter appertain, and we will be with thee: do valiantly.

96 So Eneas arose, and took an oath of the chief of the priests and Levites, ¶ of all Israel, to do after these things, and so they sware.

CHAP. IX.

1 Eldras assembleth all the people. 10 They promise to put away the strange wives. 20 The names and number of them that did so. 40 The law of Moses is read and declared before all the people. 49 They weep, and are put in minde of the feast day.

Then Eneas rising from the court of the temple, went to the chamber of Ioanan the sonne of Eliahib,

2 And remained there, and did eat no meat nor drink water, mourning for the great iniquities of the multitude.

3 And there was a proclamation in all Iury and Jerusalem, to all them that were of the captivity, that they should be gathered together at Jerusalem:

4 And that whosoever met not there within two or three dayes, according as the elders that bare rule appointed, their cattell should be sold to the use of the temple, and himself ¶ cast out from them that were of the captivity.

5 And in three dayes were all they of the tribe of Iuda and Benjamin gathered together at Jerusalem the twentieth day of the ninth moneth.

6 And all the multitude came trembling in the broad court of the temple, because of the present foul weather.

7 So Eneas arose up and said unto them, We have transgressed the law in marrying strange wives, thereby to increase the sinnes of Israel.

8 And now by confession give glory unto the Lord God of our fathers, 9 And do his will, and separate your selves from the heathen of the land, and from the strange women.

10 Then cried the whole multitude and said with a loud voice, Like as thou hast spoken, so will we do.

11 But soasmuch as the people are many, and it is foul weather, so that we cannot stand without, and this is not a work of a day or two, seeing our sinne in these things is spread farre:

12 Therefore let the rulers of the multitude ¶ say, and let all them of our habitations that have strange wives, come at the time appointed,

13 And with them the rulers and iudges of ebery place, till we turn away the wrath of the Lord from us for this matter.

14 Then Jonathan the sonne of Azael, and Zacharias the sonne of Theocamus, accordingly took this matter upon them: and Holothai, and Levis, and Sabbathus helped them.

15 And they that were of the captivity, did according to all these things.

16 And Eneas the piest chose unto him the principall men of their families, all by name: and in the first day of the tenth moneth, they sat together to examine the matter.

17 So their cause that held strange wives was brought to an end, in the first day of the first moneth.

18 And of the priests that were come together, and had strange wives, there were found:

19 Of the ionnes of Ieelus the sonne of Iosedec, and his brethren; ¶ Baruchias, and Eleazar, and ¶ Toribus, and ¶ Ioanias.

 35 And of the sons of Echim, Bazittas, Zaba-

 36 All these had taken strange wives, and they put them away with their children.
 37 And the priests and Levites, and they that were of Israel dwelt in Jerusalem, and in the countrey, in the first day of the seventh moneth: so the children of Israel were in their habitations.
 38 And the whole multitude came together with one accord, into the broad place of the holy porch toward the east.
 39 And they spake unto Edras the priest and reader, that he would bring the law of Moses that was given of the Lord God of Israel.
 40 So Edras the chief Priest brought the law unto the whole multitude from man to woman, and to all the priests, to hear the law in the first day of the seventh moneth.
 41 And he read in the broad court before the holy porch from morning unto mid-day, before both men and women; and all the multitude gave heed unto the law.
 42 And Edras the priest, and reader of the law stood up upon a pulpit of wood which was made for that purpose.
 43 And there stood up by him Mattathias, Samuinus, Ananias, Azarias, Arias, Cecias, Ba-lasamus, upon the right hand.

44 And upon his left hand stood Phaladatus, Di-fael, Helchias, Lothalibus, and Nabarias.
 45 Then took Edras the book of the law before the multitude: for he sat & honourably in the first place in the sight of them all.
 46 And when he opened the law, they stood all straight up. So Edras blessed the Lord God most High, the God of hosts Almighty.
 47 And all the people answered, Amen; and lifting up their hands they fell to the ground, and worshipped the Lord.
 48 Also Jesus, Anus, Sarabias, Admus, Jacubus, Sabatreas, Autens, Baianeas, and Cali-cas, Azarias, and Jozabodus, and Ananias, Biatas, the Levites, taught the law of the Lord, making them wishak to understand it.
 49 Then spake Archareus unto Edras the chief priest and reader, and to the Levites that taught the multitude, even to all, saying, 50 This day is holy unto the Lord, (for they all wept when they heard the law)
 51 So then and eat the fat, and drink the sweets, and send part to them that have nothing.
 52 For this day is holy unto the Lord, and be not sorrowfull; for the Lord will bring you to honour.
 53 So the Levites published all things to the people, saying, This day is holy to the Lord, be not sorrowfull.
 54 Then went they their way, every one to eat and drink, and make merry, and to give part to them that had nothing, and to make great cheer.
 55 Because they understood the words wherein they were instructed, and for the which they had been assembled.

1 Esdras is commanded to reprove the people 24 God threateneth to cast them off, 35 and to give their hou-

Ezra 7.1.

Or. Shallum

The second book of the prophet E-dras, the son of Saratas, the son of Azarias, the son of Helchias, the son of Sabanaias, the son of Sadoc, the son of Archibob,
 2 The son of Achias, the son of Phinees, the sonne of Beli, the sonne of Amarias, the sonne of Aziel, the son of Harimoth, the son of Arna, the son of Oziar, the son of Bozith, the son of Abfeli, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar;
 3 The son of Aaron, of the tribe of Levi: which was captiue in the land of the Medes, in the reign of Artaxerxes king of the Persians.
 4 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,
 5 So thy way, and shew my people their sinfull deeds, and their children their wickednesse which they have done against me; that they may tell their childrens children.
 6 Because the sins of their fathers are entread in them: for they have forgotten me, and have offered unto strange gods.
 7 Am not I even he that brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage?
 but they have provoked me unto wrath, and despised my counsels.

1Sa. 58.1.

8 Pull thou off them the hair of thy head, and cast all euill upon them, for they have not been obedient unto my law, but it is a rebellious people.
 9 How long shall I forbear them, unto whom I have done so much good?
 10 Many kings have I destroyed for their sakes; * Pharaoh with his servants, and all his power have I smitten down.
 11 * All the nations have I destroyed before them, and in the east I have scattered the people of two provinces, even of Tyrus and Sidon, and have slain all their enemies.
 12 Speak thou therefore unto them, saying,
 Thus saith the Lord,
 13 * I led you through the sea, and in the beginning gave you a large and safe passage, * I gave you Moses for a leader, and Aaron for a priest.
 14 * I gave you light in a pillar of fire, and great wonders have I done among you, yet have you forgotten me, saith the Lord.
 15 Thus saith the Almighty Lord, The * quails were as a token for you, I gave you tents for you. safeguard, neverthelesse you murmured there,
 16 And triumphed not in my name for the destruction of your enemies, but ever to this day do ye yet murmur.
 17 Where are the benefits that I have done for you? when you were hungry and thirsty in the wil-us to have serbed the Egyptians, then to die in this wilderness.

19 Then had I pittie upon your mournings, and gave you Manna to eat: * fo ye did eat Angels bread.

20 * When ye were thirsty, did I not cleave the rock, and waters flowed out // to your fill? for the heat I covered you with the leaves of the trees.

21 I divided among you a fruitful land, I cast out the Canaanites, the Herezites, and the Philistines before you: * what shall I yet do more for you? saith the Lord.

22 Thus saith the Almighty Lord, When you were in the wilderness // in the river of the Amorites, being thirsty, and blaspheming my Name, 23 I gave you not fire for your blasphemies, but cast a tree in the water, and made the river sweet.

24 What shall I do unto thee, O Jacob: thou * Juda wouldst not obey me: I will turn me to other nations, and unto those will I give my Name, that they may keep my statutes.

25 Seeing ye have forsaken me, I will forsake you also; when ye desire me to be gracious unto you, I shall have no mercy upon you.

26 * Whosoever you shall call upon me, I will not hear you: for ye have defiled your hands with blood, and your feet are swift to commit man slaughter.

27 Ye have not as it were forsaken me, but your own selves, saith the Lord.

28 Thus saith the Almighty Lord, Have I not prayed you as a father his sonnes, as a mother her daughters, and a nurse her young babes;

29 That ye would be my people, // and I should be your God, that ye would be my children, and I should be your father?

30 * I gathered you together, as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings: but now, what shall I do unto you? I will cast you out from my face.

31 * When you offer unto me, I will turn my face from you: for your solemn feast-dayes, your new moons, and your circumcissions have I forsaken.

32 I sent unto you my servants the Prophets, whom ye have taken and slain, and torn their bodies in pieces, whose blood I will require of your hand, saith the Lord.

33 Thus saith the Almighty Lord, Your house is desolate, I will cast you out as the winde doth stubble.

34 And your children shall not be fruitful, for they have despised my commandment, and done the thing that is evill before me.

35 Your houses will I give to a people that shall come, which not having heard of me, yet shall beleve me, to whom I have shewed no signes, yet they shall do that I have commanded them.

36 They have seen no prophets, yet they shall call their sins to remembrance, and acknowledge them.

37 I take to witness the grace of the people to come, whose little ones rejoyce in gladnesse: and though they have not seen me with bodily eyes, yet in spirit they beleve the thing that I say.

38 And now, brother, behold what glory: and see the people that cometh from the East.

39 Unto whom I will give for leaders, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, Elias, Amos, and Zacharias, Isai, Abdias, and Iozas, 40 Nahum, and Abacuc, Sophonias, Aggeus, Zacharie, and Malachie which is called also an Angel of the Lord.

CHAP. II.

1 God complaineth of his people: 10 Yet Esdras is willed to comfort them. 34 Because they refused, the Gentiles are called. 43 Esdras seeth the Sonne of God, and those that are crowned by him.

Thus saith the Lord, I brought this people out of bondage, and I gave them my commandments by my servants the prophets whom they would not hear, but despised my counsels.

2 The mother that bare them saith unto them, Go your way ye children, for I am a widow, and forsaken.

3 I brought you up with gladnesse, but with sorrow and heavinesse have I lost you: for ye have sinned before the Lord your God, and done that thing that is evill before him.

4 But what shall I now do unto you? I am a widow and forsaken: go your way, O my children, and ask mercy of the Lord.

5 As for me, O Father, I call upon thee for a witness over the mother of these children, which would not keep my covenant,

6 That thou bring them to confusion, and their mother to a spall, that there may be no offspring of them.

7 Let them be scattered abroad among the heathen, let their names be put out of the earth: for they have despised my covenant.

8 Wo be unto thee, Assur, thou that hidest the unrighteous in thee; O thou wicked people, remember * what I did unto Sodom and Gomorrah:

9 Whose land lieth in clods of pitch, and heaps of ashes: even so also will I do unto them that bear me not, saith the Almighty Lord.

10 Thus saith the Lord unto Esdras, Tell my people that I will give them the kingdome of Jerusalem, which I would have given unto Israel.

11 Their glory also will I take unto me, and give these the everlasting tabernacles, which I had prepared for them.

12 They shall have the tree of life for an ornament of sweet labour, they shall neither labour, nor be weary.

13 Go, and ye shall receive: pray for few dayes unto you, that they may be spoiled: the kingdome is already prepared for you: watch.

14 Take heaven and earth to witness; for I have broken the eill in pieces, and created the good: for I live, saith the Lord.

15 Hoer, embrace thy children, and // bring them up with gladnesse, make their feet as fast as a pillar: for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord.

16 And those that be dead will I raise up again from their places, and bring them out of the graves: for I have known // my Name in Israel.

17 Fear not thou mother of the children: for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord.

18 For thy help I will send my servants Esay and Jeremie, after whose counsell I have sanctified and prepared for thee, twelve trees laden with divers fruits, 19 And as many fountains flowing with milk and hony, and seven mighty mountains, whereupon there grow roses and lilies, whereby I will fill thy children with joy.

20 Do right to the widow; judge for the fatherlesse, give to the poore, defend the orphan; clothe the naked, 21 Heal the broken and the weak, laugh not at a lame man to scorn, defend the malmed, and let the blinde man come into the sight of my clearenesse.

 the beginning, may be halloved.
 42 * I Eldras saw upon the mount Sion a great people, whom I could not number, and they all praised the Lord with songs.
 43 And in the midst of them there was a young man of a high stature, taller then all the rest, and upon every one of their heads he set crowns, and was more exalted; which I marvelled at greatly.
 44 So I asked the angel and said, † Sit, what are these?
 45 He answered and said unto me, These be they that have put off the mortall clothing, and put on the immortall, and have confessed the Name of God, now are they crowned, and receive palms.
 46 Then said I unto the angel, What young person is it that crowneth them, and giveth them palms in their hands?

47 So he answered and said unto me, It is the Sonne of God, whom they have confited in the world. Then began I greatly to commend them that stood so stily for the name of the Lord.
 48 Then the angel said unto me, Go thy way, and tell my people what manner of things, and how great wonders of the Lord thy God thou hast seen.

CHAP. III.

1 Eldras is troubled, 23 and acknowledgeth the finnes of the people: 28 yet complaineth that the heathen were lords over them, being more wicked then they.

I In the thirtieth year after the ruine of the cite,
 I was in Babylon, and lay troubled upon my bed, and my thoughts came up over my heart.

2 For I saw the desolation of Sion, and the wealth of them that dwelt at Babylon.

3 And my spirit was sore moved, so that I began to speak words full of fear to the most High,
 and said,

4 O Lord, who bearest rule, thou spakest at the beginning, when thou didst plant the earth (and that thy self alone) and commandedst the people,

5 * And gavest a body unto Adam without soul, which was the workmanship of thine hands, and didst breathe into him the breath of life, and he was made living before thee.

6 And thou leddest him into paradise, which thy right hand had planted, before ever the earth came forward.

7 And unto him thou gavest commandment to love thy way: which he transgressed, and immediatly thou appointedst death in him, and in his generations, of whom came nations, tribes, people, and kindreds out of number.

8 * And every people walked after their own will, and did wonderfull things before thee, and despised thy commandments.

9 * And again in processe of time thou brought-est the flood upon those that dwelt in the world, and destroyedst them.

10 And it came to passe in every of them, that as death was to Adam, so was the flood to these.

11 Nevertheless, one of them thou sekest, namely, * Noah with his household, of whom came all righteous men.

12 And it happened, that when they that dwelt upon the earth began to multiply, and had gotten them many childzen, and were a great people, they began again to be more ungodly then the first.

13 Now when they lived so wickedly before thee, * thou didst chuse thee a man from among them, whose name was * Abraham.

14 Him thou lovedst, and unto him onely thou shewedst thy will:

15 And madest an everlasting covenant with him, promising him that thou wouldest never so-sake his seed.

16 * And unto him thou gavest Isaac, and * unto Isaac also thou gavest Jacob and Esau.
 As for Jacob thou * didst chuse him to thee, and put by Esau: and so Jacob became a great multitude.

17 And it came to passe that when thou ledst his seed out of Egypt, * thou broughtest them up to the mount Sina.

18 And bowing the heavens, thou didst set fast the earth, movedst the whole world, and madest the depths to tremble, and troubledst the men of that age.

19 And thy glory went through four gates, of fire, and of earthquake, and of winde, and of cold: that thou mightest give the law unto the seed of Jacob, & diligence unto the generation of Israel.

20 And yet tookest thou not away from them a wicked heart, that thy law might bring forth fruit in them.

21 For the first Adam bearing a wicked heart, transgressed, and was overcome; and so be all they that are born of him.

22 Thus infirmity was made permanent; and the law (also) in the heart of the people with the malignity of the roor: so that the good departed away, and the evil abode still.

23 So the times fallen away, and the yeers were brought to an end: * then didst thou raise thee up a servant, called David:

24 * Whom thou commandedst to build a city unto thy Name, and to offer incense and oblations unto thee therein.

25 When this was done many yeers, then they that inhabited the cite forsook thee.

26 And in all things did even as Adam, and all his generations had done, for they also had a wicked heart.

27 And so thou gavest thy cite over into the hands of thine enemies.

28 Are their deeds then any better that inhabit Babylon, that they should therefore have the dominion over Sion?

29 For when I came thither, and had seen impieties without number, then my soul saw many evil doers in this thirtieth yeer, so that my heart failed me.

30 For I have seen how thou sufferest them sinning, and hast spared wicked doers: and hast destroyed thy people, and hast preserved thine enemies, and hast not signified it.

31 If I do not remember how this way may be left: Are they then of Babylon better then they of Sion?

32 Or is there any other people that knoweth thee besides Israel? or what generation hath so beloved thy covenants as Jacob?

33 And yet their reward appeareth not, and their labour hath no fruit: for I have gone here and there through the heathen, and I see that they flourish in wealth, and think not upon thy commandments.

34 Weigh thou therefore our wickedness now in the balance, and theirs also that dwell in the world, and so shall thy Name no where be found, but in Israel.

35 Or when was it that they which dwell upon the earth have not sinned in thy sight? or what people hath so kept thy commandments?

36 Thou shalt finde that Israel by name hath kept thy precepts: but not the heathen.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The Angel declareth the ignorance of Eldras in Gods judgements, 13 and adviseth him not to meddle with things above his reach, 23 Nevertheless Eldras asketh divers questions, and receiveth answers to them.

And the Angel that was sent unto me, whose name was Ariel, gave me an answer,

2 And said, Thy heart hath gone too far in this world, and thinkest thou to comprehend the way of the most High?

3 Then said I, Yea, my lord: and he answered me, and said, I am sent to shew thee three visions, and to set forth thre similitudes before thee:

4 Whereof if thou canst declare me one, I will shew thee also the way that thou desirest to see, and I shall shew thee from whence the wicked heart cometh.

5 And I said, Tell on my lord. Then said he unto me, So thy way, weigh me the weight of the fire, or measure me the blast of the winde, or call me again the day that is past.

6 Then answered I, and said, What man is able to do that, that thou shouldst ask such things of me?

7 And he said unto me, If I should ask thee how great dwellings are in the midst of the sea, or how many springs are in the beginning of the deep, or how many springs are above the firmament, or which are the out-goings of Paradise:

8 Peradventure thou wouldst say unto me, I never went down into the deep, nor as yet into hell, neither did I ever climbe up into heaven.

9 Nevertheless, now have I asked thee but only of the fire, and winde, and of the day where-through thou hast passed, and of things from which thou canst not be separated, and yet canst thou give me no answer of them.

10 He said moreover unto me, Thine own things, and such as are grown up with thee, canst thou not know?

11 How should thy besfell then be able to comprehend the way of the Highest, and the world being now outwardly corrupted, to understand the corruption that is evident in my sight?

12 Then said I unto him, It were better that we were not at all, then that we should live still in wickedness, and to suffer, and not to know wherefore.

13 We answered me, and said, I went into a forest into a plain, and the trees took counsell, 14 And said, Come, let us go and make warre against the sea, that it may depart away before us, and that we may make us more woods.

15 The floods of the sea also in like manner took counsell, and said, Come, let us go up and subdue the woods of the plain, that there also we may make us another cuntry.

16 The thought of the wood was in vain, for the fire came and consumed it.

17 The thought of the floods of the sea came likewise to nought, for the sand stood up and stopped them.

18 If thou wert judge now betwixt these two, whom wouldst thou begin to justify? or whom wouldst thou condemn?

19 I answered and said, Verely it is a foolish thought that they have both devised, and for the ground is given unto the wood, and the sea also hath his place to bear his floods.

20 Then answered he me, and said, Thou hast given a right judgement, but why judgest thou not thy self also?

21 For like as if the ground is given unto the wood, and the sea to his floods; even so they that dwell upon the earth may understand nothing but that which is upon the earth: and he that dwelleth above the heavens, may only understand the things that are above the height of the heavens.

22 Then answered I, and said, I beseech thee, O Lord, let me have understanding.

23 For it was not my minde to be curious of the high things, but of such as passe by us daily, namely, wherefore Israel is given up as a reproch to the heathen, and for what cause the people whom thou hast loved, is given over unto ungodly nations, and why the law of our forefathers is brought to nought, and the written covenants come to none effect.

Or, no where.

24 And we passe away out of the world as grasshoppers, and our life is astonishment and fear, and we are not worthy to obtain mercy.

25 What will be then do unto his name, whereby we are called? of these things have I asked.

26 Then answered he me, and said, The more thou searchest the more thou shalt marvel, for the world hathed fast to passe away.

27 And cannot comprehend the things that are promised to the righteous in time to come: for this world is full of unrighteousnesse and iniquities.

28 But as concerning the things whereof thou askest me, I will tell thee; for the evil is sown, but the destruction thereof is not yet come.

29 If therefore that which is sown be not turned upside down, and if the place where the evil is sown passe not away, then cannot it come that is sown with good.

30 For the grain of evil seed hath been sown in the heart of Adam from the beginning, and how much ungodlinesse hath it brought up unto this time, and how much shall it yet bring forth until the time of the rising come?

31 Wonder now by thy self, how great fruit of wickednesse the grain of evil seed hath brought forth.

32 And when the ears shall be cut down which are without number, how great a floor shall they fill?

33 Then I answered and said, How, and when shall these things come to passe? wherefore are our yeere few and evil?

34 And he answered me, saying, Do not thou hasten above the most highest: for thy balke is in vain to be above him, for thou haste much exceeded.

35 Did not the souls also of the righteous ask question of these things in their chambers, saying, How long shall I hope on this fashion? when cometh the fruit of the floor of our reward?

36 And unto these things, Ariel the archangel gave them answer, and said, Even when the number of seeds is filled in you: for he hath weighed the world in the balance.

37 By measure hath he measured the times, and by number hath he numbred the times; and he doth not move nor stir them, until the said measure be fulfilled.

38 Then answered I, and said, O Lord, that bearest rule, even we all are full of impiety.

39 And for our sakes peradventure it is that the floors of the righteous are not filled, because of the sinnes of them that dwell upon the earth.

40 So he answered me, and said, So thy way to a woman with child, and ask of her when she hath fulfilled her nine months, if her wombe may keep the birth any longer within her.

41 Then said I, No, Lord, that can the not. And he said unto me, In the grave, the chambers of souls are like the wombe of a woman:

42 For like as a woman that travaileth, maketh haste to escape the necessity of the travail: even so do these places haste to deliver those things that are committed unto them.

43 From the beginning look what thou desirest to see, it shall be shewed thee.

44 Then answered I, and said, If I have found favour in thy sight, and if it be possible, and if I be meet therefore, 45 Shew me then whether there be more to come then is past, or more past then is to come.

46 What is past I know, but what is for to come I know not.

47 And he said unto me, Stand up upon the right side, and I shall expound the similitude unto you.

48 So I stood and saw, and behold, an hot burning oven passed by before me: and it happened that when the flame was gone by, I looked, and behold, the linoak remained still.

49 After this there passed by before me a watery cloud, and sent down much rain with a storm, and when the stormy rain was past, the drops remained still.

50 Then said he unto me, Consider with thy self: as the rain is more then the drops, and as the fire is greater then the linoak; but the drops and the linoak remain behinde: so the quantity which is past did more exceed.

51 Then I prayed, and said, May I live, thinkest thou until that time? or what shall happen in those dayes?

52 He answered me, and said, As for the tokens whereof thou askest me, I may tell thee of them in part; but as touching thy life, I am not sent to shew thee, for I do not know it.

CHAP. V.

1 The signes of the times to come. 23 He asketh why God chusing but one people did cast them off. 30 He is taught that Gods judgements are unsearchable, 46 and that God doth not all at once.

Nevertheless, as concerning the tokens, behold, the dayes shall come, that they which dwell upon earth shall be taken in a great number, and the way of truth shall be hidden, and the land shall be barren of fruit.

2 But iniquity shall be increased above that which now thou seest, or that thou hast heard long ago.

3 And the land shall be that thou seest now to have root, shall thou see wasted suddenly.

4 But if the most High grant thee to live, thou shalt see after the third trumpet, that the Sunne shall suddenly shine again in the night, and the Moon thrice in the day.

5 And blood shall drop out of the wood, and the stone shall give his voice, and the people shall be troubled.

6 And even he shall rule whom they look not for that dwell upon the earth, and the fowls shall take their flight away together.

7 And the Sodomitish sea shall cast out fish, and make a noise in the night, which many have not known: but they shall hear the voice thereof.

8 There shall be a confusion also in many places, and the fire shall be oft sent out again, and the wilde beasts shall change their places, and menstuous women shall all bring forth monsters.

9 And salt waters shall be found in the sweet, and all friends shall destroy one another, then shall wit hide it self, and understanding withdraw it self into his secret chamber,

10 And shall be sought of many, and yet not be found: then shall unrighteousnesse and incontinen- cie be multiplied upon earth.

11 One land also shall ask another, and say, Is righteousness that maketh a man righteous gone thow thou? And it shall say, No.

12 At the same time shall men hope, but nothing obtain: they shall labour, but their wayes shall not prosper.

13 To shew thee such tokens I have leave, and if thou wilt pray again, and weep as now, and fast seven dayes, thou shalt hear yet greater things.

14 Then I awaked and an extreme fearfulness went thowow all my body, and my minde was troubled, so that it fainted.

15 So the angel that was come to talk with me, held me, comforted me, and set me up upon my feet.

16 And in the second night it came to passe that Salarheli the captain of the people came unto me, saying, Where hast thou been, and why is thy countenance so heavy?

17 Knowest thou not that Israel is committed unto thee in the land of their captivity?

18 Up then, and eat bread, and forsake us not, as the shepherd that leaveth his flock in the hands of cruel wolves.

19 Then said I unto him, So thy wayes from me, and come not nigh me. And he heard what I said, and went from me.

20 And so I fasted seven daies mourning and weeping, like as Gabriel the angel commanded me.

21 And after seven daies, so it was that the thoughts of my heart were very grievous unto me again.

22 And my soul recovered the spirit of understanding, and I began to talk with the most High again.

23 And said, O Lord that bearest rule, of every wood of the earth, and of all the trees thereof, thou hast chosen thee one onely vine:

24 And of all lands of the whole world thou hast chosen thee one pit: and of all the flowers thereof, one lillie:

25 And of all the depths of the sea, thou hast filled thee one river: and of all builded cities thou hast hallowed Sion unto thy self:

26 And of all the fowls that are created, thou hast named thee one dove: and of all the cattell that are made, thou hast provided thee one sheep:

27 And among all the multitude of peoples, thou hast gotten thee one people: and unto this people whom thou lovedst, thou gavest a law that is approved of all.

28 And now, O Lord, why hast thou given this one people over unto many? and li upon the one root hast thou prepared others, and why hast thou scattered thy onely one people among many?

29 And they which did gainsay thy promises, and beleevd not thy covenants, have troden them down.

30 If thou didst so much hate thy people, yet shouldst thou punish them with thine own hands.

31 Now when I had spoken these words, the angel that came to me the night afore, was sent unto me, 32 And said unto me, Hear me, and I will instruct thee: hearken to the thing that I say, and I shall tell thee more.

33 And I said, Speak on my Lord: then said he unto me, Thou art sore troubled in minde for Israels sake: lovest thou that people better then he that made them?

34 And I said, No Lord, but of very grief have I spoken: for my reins pain me every hour, while I labour to comprehend the way of the most High, and to seek out part of his judgement.

35 And he said unto me, Thou canst not: and I said, Wherefore Lord? whereunto was I born then? or why was not my mothers womb then my grave, that I might not have seen the travell of Jacob, and the wearisome coil of the stock of Israel?

36 And he said unto me, Number me the things that are not yet come, gather me together the drops that are scattered abroad, make me the flowers green again that are withered,

37 Open me the places that are closed, and bring me forth the winds that in them are shut up, web me the image of a voice: and then I will declare to thee the thing that thou labourest to know.

38 And I said, O Lord that bearest rule, who may know these things, but he that hath not his dwelling with men?

39 As for me, I am unwise: how may I then speak of these things whereof thou askest me?

40 Thou said he unto me, Like as thou canst do none of these things that I have spoken of, even to cause thou not finde out my judgement, or in the end the love that I have promised unto my people.

41 And I said, Behold, O Lord, yet art thou nigh unto them that be reserved till the end: and what shall they do that have been before me, or we (that be now) or they that shall come after us?

42 And he said unto me; I will liken my judgement unto a ring: like as there is no slackness of the last, even so there is no swiftness of the first.

43 So I answered and said, Coudest thou not make those that have been made, and be now, and that are for to come, at once; that thou mightest shew thy judgement the sooner?

44 Then answered he me, and said, The creature may not haue above the maker, neither may the world hold them at once that shall be created therein.

45 And I said, As thou hast said unto thy servant, that thou which givest life to all, hast given life at once to the creature that thou hast created, and the creature bare it: even so it might now also bear them that now be present at once.

46 And he said unto me, Ask the womb of a woman, and say unto her, If thou bringest forth children, why dost thou it not together, but one after another? pray her therefore to bring forth ten children at once.

47 And I said, She cannot, but must do it by distance of time.

48 Then said he unto me, Even so have I given the womb of the earth to those that be sown in it, in their times.

49 For like as a young child may not bring forth the things that belong to the aged, even so have I disposed the world which I created.

50 And I asked, and said, Seeing thou hast now given me the way, I will proceed to speak before thee: for our mother of whom thou hast told me that she is young, diatheth now nigh unto age.

51 We answered me, and said, Ask a woman that beareth children, and she shall tell thee.

52 Say unto her, Wherefore are not they whom thou hast now brought forth, like those that were before, but lesse of stature?

53 And she shall answer thee, They that be born in the strength of youth, are of one fashion, and they that are born in the time of age (when the womb falleth) are otherwise.

54 Consider thou therefore also, how that ye are lesse of stature then those that were before you.

55 And so are they that come after you lesse then ye, as the creatures which now begin to be old, and have passed over the strength of youth.

56 Then said I, Lord, I beseech thee, if I have found favour in thy sight, shew thy servant by whom thou didstest thy creature.

CHAP. VI.

1 Gods purpose is eternall 8 The next world shall follow follow this immediately. 13 What shall fall out at the last. 31 He is promised more knowledge, 38 and reckoneth up the works of the creation, 57 and compleineth that they have no part in the world for whom it was made.

Ad he said unto me, In the beginning, when the earth was made, before the borders of the world stood, or ever the winds blew.

2 Before it rained, and lightened; or ever the foundations of paradise were laid;

3 Before the fair flowers were seen, or ever the moveable powers were established, before the innumerable multitude of angels were gathered together;

4 Or ever the heights of the air were lifted up, before the measures of the firmament were named, or ever the chimneys in Sion were hot;

5 And ere the present years were fought out, and or ever the inventions of them that now sin, were named, before they were sealed that have gathered faith for a treasure :

6 Then did I consider these things, and they all were made through me alone, and through none other : by me also they shall be ended, and by none other.

7 Then answered I, and said, What shall be the parting asunder of the times ? or when shall be the end of the first, and the beginning of it that followeth ?

8 And he said unto me, From Abraham unto Isaac, when Jacob and Esau were born of him. * Jacobs hand held I first the heel of Esau.

9 For Esau is the end of the world, and Jacob is the beginning of it that followeth.

10 The hand of man is betwixt the heel and the hand; other question, Esdras, ask thou not.

11 I answered then, and said, O Lord, that bearest rule, if I have found favour in thy sight, 12 I beseech thee, shew thy servant the end of thy tokens, wherof thou shewest me part the last night.

13 So he answered and said unto me, Stand up upon thy feet, and hear a mighty sounding voice.

14 And it shall be as it were a great motion, but the place where thou standest shall not be moved.

15 And therefore when it speaketh, be not afraid: for the word is of the end, and the foundation of the earth is understood.

16 And why? because the speech of these things trembleth and is moved: for it knoweth that the end of these things must be changed.

17 And it happened that when I had heard it, I stood up upon my feet, and hearkened, and behold, there was a voice that spake, and the sound of it was like the sound of many waters.

18 And it said, Behold, the dayes come, that I will begin to draw nigh, and to visit them that dwell upon the earth.

19 And will begin to make inquisition of them, what they be that have hurt unjustly with their unrighteousness, and when the affliction of Sion shall be fulfilled.

20 And when the world that shall begin to vanish away, shall be finished, then will I shew these tokens: the books shall be opened before the firmament, and they shall see all together.

21 And the children of a year old shall speak with their voices, the women with child shall bring forth untimely children, of three or four monthes old, and they shall live, and be called up.

22 And suddenly shall the town places appear unfolow, the full store-houses shall suddenly be found empty.

23 And the trumpet shall give a sound, which when every man heareth, they shall be suddenly afraid.

24 At that time shall friends fight one against another like enemies, and the earth shall stand in fear with those that dwell therein, the springs of the fountains shall stand still, and in three hours they shall not run.

25 Whosoever remaineth from all these that I have told thee, shall escape and see my salvation, and the end of your world.

26 And the men that are received shall see it, who have not tasted death from their birth: and the heart of the inhabitants shall be changed, and turned into another meaning.

27 For evil shall be put out, and deceit shall be quenched.

28 As for faith it shall flourish, corruption shall be overcome, and the truth which hath been so long without fruit, shall be declared.

29 And when he talked with me, behold, I looked by little and little upon him before whom I stood.

30 And these words said he unto me, I am come to shew thee the time of the night to come.

31 If thou wilt pray yet more, and fast seven daies again, I shall tell thee greater things than by day, then I have heard.

32 For thy voice is heard before the most High: for the Almighty hath seen thy righteous dealings, he hath seen also thy chastity which thou hast had ever since thy youth.

33 And therefore hath he sent me to shew thee all these things, and to say unto thee, Be of good comfort, and fear not.

34 And hasten not with the times that are past, to think vain things, that thou mayest not hasten from the latter times.

35 And it came to passe after this, that I wept again, and fasted seven daies in like manner, that I might fulfill the three weeks which he told me.

36 And in the eighth night was my heart vexed within me again, and I began to speak before the most High.

37 For my spirit was greatly set on fire, and my soul was in distress.

38 And I said, O Lord, thou spakest from the beginning of the creation, even the first day, and saidest thus, * Let heaven and earth be made, and thy word was made a perfect work.

39 And then was the spirit, and darkneses, and silence were on every side; the sound of mans voice was not yet formed.

40 Then commandedst thou a fair light to come forth of thy treasures, that thy work might appear.

41 Upon the second day thou madest the spirit of the firmament, and commandedst it to part asunder, and to make a division betwixt the waters, that the one part might go up, and the other remain beneath.

42 Upon the third day thou didst command that the waters should be gathered in the seventh part of the earth: the parts that thou dyed up and kept them, to the intent that of these some being planted of God and filled, might serve thee.

43 For as soon as thy word went forth, the work was made.

44 For immediately there was great and innumerable fruit, and many and divers pleasures for the taste, and flowers of unchangeable colour, and odours of wonderfull smell: and this was done the third day.

45 * Upon the fourth day thou commandedst that that the sunne should shine, and the moon give her light, and the starres should be in order:

* Gen. 1. 15. Deut. 4. 19.

46 And gavest them a charge to do * service unto man, that was to be made.

* Gen. 1. 10.

47 Upon the fifth day thou saidst unto the seventh part, * where the waters were gathered, that it should bring forth living creatures, fowls, and fishes; and so it came to passe.

48 For the dumb water, and without life, brought forth living things at the commandment of God, that all people might praise thy wondrous works.

Behemoth.

49 Then didst thou ordain two living creatures, the one thou calledst B Enoch, and the other L eviathan;

50 And didst separate the one from the other: for the seventh part (namely where the water was gathered together) might not hold them both.

51 Unto Enoch thou gavest one part which was dried up the third day, that he should dwell in the same part, wherein are a thousand hills.

52 But unto Leviathan thou gavest the seventh part, namely the moist, and hast kept him to be devoured of whom thou wilt, and when.

53 Upon the sixth day thou gavest commandment unto the earth, that before thee it should bring forth beasts, cattell, and creeping things:

54 And after these, Adam also whom thou madeest lord of all thy creatures: of him come we all, and the people also whom thou hast chosen.

55 All this have I spoken before thee, O Lord, because thou makeest the world for our sakes.

56 As for the other people which also come of Adam, thou hast said that they are nothing, but be like unto spittle, and hast likened the abundance of them unto a drop that falleth from a vessel.

57 And now O Lord, behold, these heathen which have been ever reputed as nothing, have begun to be lords over us, and to devoure us:

58 But we thy people (whom thou hast called thy first-born, thy onely begotten, and thy servant lover) are given into their hands.

59 If the world now be made for our sakes, why do we not possesse an inheritance with the world: how long shall this endure?

CHAP. VII.

4 The way is narrow. 12 When it was made narrow. 28 All shall die, and rise again. 33 Christ shall sit in judgement. 46 God hath not made paradise in vain: 62 and is mercifull.

And when I had made an end of speaking these words, there was sent unto me the Angel which had been sent unto me the nights afore.

2 And he said unto me, U P Ethas, and hear the words that I am come to tell thee.

3 And I said, S peak on, my God. Then said he unto me, T he sea is set in a wide place, that it might be deep and great.

4 But put the case the entrance were narrow, and like a river,

5 Who then could go into the sea to look upon it, and to rule it? if he went not through the narrow, how could he come into the broad?

6 There is also another thing. A city is builded, and set upon a broad field, and is full of all good things:

7 The entrance thereof is narrow, and is set in a dangerous place to fall, like as if there were a fire on the right hand, and on the left a deep water.

8 And one onely path between them both, even or, steep place.

between the fire and the water, so small that there could but one man go there at once.

9 If this city now were given unto a man for an inheritance, if he never shall passe the danger set before it, how shall he receive this inheritance?

10 And I said, I t is so, Lord. Then said he unto me, Go to also to Israels portion:

11 Because for thir lakes I made the world: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then was decreed that now is done.

12 Then were the entrances of this world made narrow, full of sorrow and travell: they are but few and evill, full of perils, and very painfull.

13 For the entrances of the elder world were wide and sure, and brought immortall fruit.

14 If then they that live, labour not to enter these strait and vaine things, they can never receive those that are laid up for them.

15 Now therefore why disquietest thou thy self, seeing thou art but a corruptible man? and why art thou moved, whereas thou art but mortall?

16 Why hast thou not considered in thy minde this thing that is to come, rather then that which is present?

17 Then answered I, and said, O Lord that bearest rule, thou hast ordained in thy * law, that the righteous should inherit these things, but that the ungodly should perishe:

* Deut. 8. 1.

18 Nevertheless, the righteous shall suffer straight things and hope for wide: for they that have done wickedly, have suffered the straight things, and yet shall not see the wide.

19 And he said unto me, T here is no hedge above God, and none that hath understanding above the Highest.

20 For there be many that perishe in this life, because they despise the law of God that is set before them.

21 For God hath given strait commandment to such as came, and what they should do to live, even as they came, and what they should observe to avoid punishment.

22 Nevertheless, they were not obedient unto him; but spake against him, and imagined vaine things:

23 And deceived themselves by their wicked deeds, and said of the most High, that he is not, and knew not his wayes.

24 But his law have they despised, and denied his covenants; in his statutes have they not been faithfull, and have not performed his works.

25 And therefore Ethas, for the empty are empty things, and for the full are the full things.

26 Behold, the time shall come, that these tokens which I have told thee shall come to passe, and the wide shall appear, and the coming forth shall be seen, that now is withdrawn from the earth.

27 And whosoever is delivered from the foresaid evils, shall see my wonders.

28 For my son Jesus shall be revealed with those that be with him, and they that remain shall rejoyce within four hundred years.

29 After these years shall my son Christ die, and all men that have life.

30 And the world shall be turned into the old silence seven dayes, like as in the former judgements: so that no man shall remain.

or, left beginning.

31 And after seven dayes, the world that yet awaketh not, shall be raised up, and that shall die that is corrupt.

32 And the earth shall restore those that are set up in her, and to kill the dull those that dwell in silence, and the secret places shall deliver those souls that were committed into them.

33 And

33 And the most High shall appear upon the seat of iudgement; and misery shall passe away, and the long-suffering shall have an end.

34 But iudgement onely shall remain, trueth shall stand, and faith shall war strong:

35 And the work shall follow, and the reward shall be shewed, and the good deeds shall be of force, and wicked deeds shall bear no rule.

36 Then said I, * Abraham prayed first for the Sodomites, and * Moses for the fathers that sinned in the wilderness:

37 And Iesus after him for Israel in the time of Achan:

38 And Samueh, and * Davud for the destruction: and * Solomou for them that should come to the sanctuary:

39 And * Velias for those that received rain, and for the dead, that he might live.

40 And * Ezechias for the people in the time of Sennacherib; and many for many.

41 Even so now, seeing corruption is grown up, and wickednesse increased, and the righteous have prayed for the ungodly: wherefore shall it not be so now also?

42 He answered me and said, This present life is not the end where mach gloyp doth abide; therefore have they prayed for the weak.

43 But the day of doom shall be the end of this time, and the beginning of the immortality for to come, wherein corruption is past, 44 Intemperance is at an end, infidelity is cut off, lighteousnesse is grown, and truth is sprung up.

45 Then shall no man be able to save him that is destroyed, nor to oppresse him that hath gotten the victory.

46 I answered then and said, This is my first and last saying, that it had been better not to have given the earth unto Adam: or else when it was given him, to have restrained him from sinning.

47 For what profit is it for men now in this present time to live in heavynesse, and after dearty to look for punishment?

48 O thou Adam, what hast thou done? for though it was * thou that sinned, thou art not fallen alone, but we all that come of thee.

49 For what profit is it unto us, if there be promised us an immortal time, whereas we have done the works that bring death?

50 And that there is promised us an everlasting hope, whereas our selves being most wicked are made vain?

51 And that there are laid up for us dwellings of health and safety, where as we have lived wickedly?

52 And that the gloyp of the most High is kept to defend them which have led a warty life, where as we have walked in the most wicked wayes of all?

53 And that there should be shewed a paradise, whose fruit endureth for ever, wherein is // security and medicine, sith we shall not enter into it?

54 ( For we have walked in unpleasant places ) 55 And that the faces of them which have used abstinence, shall shine above the starres, whereas our faces shall be blacker then darknesse?

56 For while we lived, and committed iniquity, we considered not that we should begin to suffer for te after death.

57 Then answered he me, and said, This is the // condition of the battell, which man that is born upon the earth shall fight.

58 That if he be overcome, he shall suffer as thou hast said: but if he get the victorie, he shall receive the thing that I say.

59 For this is the life whereof Moses spake unto the people while he lived, saying, * Choose thee life that thou mayest live.

60 Nevertheless, they beleved not him, nor yet the prophets after him, no nor me which have spoken unto them, 61 That there should not be such heavynesse in their destruction, as shall be joy over them that are persuaded to salvation.

62 I answered then and said, I know, Lord, that the most high is called mercifull, in that he hath mercy upon them which are not yet come into the world,

63 And upon those also that turn to his la'n;

64 And that * he is patient, and long suffereth those that have sinned, as his creatures;

65 And that he is bountifull, for he is ready to give where it needeth;

66 And that he is of great mercy, for he multiplieth more and more mercies to them that are present, and that are past, and also to them which are to come.

67 For if he shall not multiply his mercies, the world would not continue with them that inherite therein.

68 And he pardoneth; for if he did not so of his goodnesse, that they which have committed iniquities, might be eased of them; the ten thousand part of men should not remain living.

69 And being judge, if he should not forgive them that are // cured with his word, and put out the multitude of // contentions, 70 There should be very few left peradventure in an innumerable multitude.

C H A P. VIII.

1 Many created, but few saved. 6 He asketh why God destroyeth his own work, 26 and prayeth God to look upon the people which only serve him. 41 God answereth that all seed cometh not to good, 52 and that glory is prepared for him and such like.

A ND he answered me, saying, The most High hath made this world for many, but the world to come for few.

2 I will tell thee a similitude, O was, As when thou askest the earth, it shall say unto thee, that it giveth mach moist wherof earthen vessels are made, but little dust that gold cometh of: even so is the course of this present world.

3 * There be many created, but few shall be saved.

4 So answered I, and said, swallow then down, O my soul, understandings, and devour wisdom.

5 For thou hast agreed to give ear, and art willing to prophesse: for thou hast no longer space then onely to live.

6 O Lord, if thou suffer not thy servant that we may pray before thee, and // thou give us seed into our heart, and culture to our understanding, that there may come fruit of it; how shall each man live that is corrupt, who beareth the place of a man?

7 For thou art alone, and we all one workmanship of thine hands, like as thou hast said.

8 For // when the body is fashioned now in the mothers womb, and thou givest it members, thy creature is preferred in fire and water, and nine moneths doth thy workmanship endure thy creature which is created in ber.

9 But that which keepeth, and is kept, shall both be preferred: and when the time cometh, the womb preferred delivereth up the things that grew in it.

10 For thou hast commanded out of the parts of the body, that is to say, out of the breasts, milk to be given, which is the fruit of the breasts, 11 That the thing which is fashioned, may be nourished for a time, till thou disposest it to thy mercie.

12 Thou broughtest it up with thy righteousness, and nurturedst it in thy law, and reformedst it with thy judgement.

13 And thou shalt nourish it as thy creature, and quicken it as thy work.

14 If therefore thou shalt destroy him which with to great labour was fashioned, it is an easie thing to be ordained by thy commandment, that the thing which was made might be preserved.

15 Now therefore, Lord, I will speak touching man in general, thou knowest best, but touching thy people, for whose sake I am loquy;

16 And for thine inheritance, for whose cause I mourn; and for Israel, for whom I am heavy; and for Jacob, for whose sake I am troubled;

17 Therefore will I begin to pray before thee, for my self, and for them: for I see the falls of us that dwell in the land.

18 But I have heard the wilfulness of the judge which is to come.

19 Therefore hear my voyce, and understand my words, and I shall speak before thee: this is the beginning of the words of Elias, before he was taken up: and I said,

20 O Lord, thou that dwellest in everlastingnesse, which beholdest from above, things in the heaves, and in the aere,

21 Whose thronne is inestimable, whose glory may not be comprehended, before whom the hosts of Angels stand with trembling,

22 Whose service is conuerfant in winde and fire) whose word is true, and sayings constant, whose commandment is strong, and ordinance fearfull,

23 Whose look drieth up the depths, and indignation maketh the mountains to melt away, which the truth witnesseth:

24 I hear the prayer of thy servant, and give ear to the petition of thy creature.

25 For while I live, I will speak, and so long as I have understanding, I will answer.

26 I look not upon the finnes of thy people: but on them which serve thee in truth.

27 Regard not the wicked inventions of the heathen, but the desire of those that keep thy testimonies in afflictions.

28 Think not upon those that have walked feignedly before thee: but remember them which according to thy will have known thy fear.

29 Let it not be thy will to destroy them which have slied like beasts; but to look upon them that have clearly taught thy law.

30 Take thou no indignation at them which are deemed worse then beasts; but love them that alway put their trust in thy righteousness and glory.

31 For we and our fathers I do languish of such diseases: but because of us sinners thou shalt be called mercifull.

32 For if thou I hast a desire to have mercy upon us, thou shalt be called mercifull, to us namely, that have no works of righteousness.

33 For the just which have many good works laid up with thee, shall out of their own deeds receive reward.

34 For what is man that thou shouldst take displeasure at him? or what is a corruptible generation, that thou shouldst be so bitter toward it?

35 For in truth there is no man among them that be born, but he hath dealt wickedly, and among the fatchfull there is none which hath not done amisse.

36 For in this, O Lord, thy righteousness and thy goodnesse shall be declared, if thou be mercifull unto them which have not the confidence of good works.

37 Then answered he me, and said, Some things hast thou spoken aright, and according unto thy words it shall be.

38 For indeed I will not think on the disposition of them which have sinned before death, before judgement, before destruction.

39 But I will rejoyce over the disposition of the righteous, and I will remember also their pilgrimage, and the salvation, and the reward that they shall have.

40 Like as I have spoken now, so shall it come to passe.

41 For as the husbandman soweth much seed upon the ground, and planteth many trees, and yet the thing that is sown good in his season cometh not up, neither doth all that is planted, take root: even so is it of them that are sown in the world, they shall not all be saved.

42 I answered then, and said, If I have found grace, let me speak.

43 Like as the husbandmans seed perissheth, if it come not up, and receive not thy rain in due season, or if there come too much rain, and corrupt it:

44 Even so perissheth man also, which is formed with thy hands, and is called thine own image, because thou art like unto him, for whose sake thou hast made all things, and likened him unto the husbandmans seed.

45 Be not wroth with us, but spare thy people, and have mercy upon thine own inheritance: for thou art mercifull unto thy creature.

46 Then answered he me, and said, Things present are for the present, and things to come, for such as be to come.

47 For thou comest far short, that thou shouldst be able to love my creature more then I: but I have oft times drawn nigh unto thee, and unto it, but never to the unrighteous.

48 In this also thou art marvellous before the most High:

49 In that thou hast humbled thy self as it becometh thee, and hast not judged thy self worthy to be much glorified among the righteous.

50 For many great miseries shall be done to them that in the latter time shall dwell in the world, because they have walked in great pride.

51 But understand thou for thy self, and seeke out the glory for such as be like thee.

52 For unto you is paradise opened, the tree of life is planted, the time to come is prepared, plenteousnesse is made ready, a city is builded, and rest is allowed, yea perfect goodnesse and wisdom.

53 The root of evil is sealed up from you, weakness and the moth is hid from you, and corruption is fled into hell to be forgotten.

54 Sorowes are passed, and in the end is shewed the treasure of immortality.

55 And therefore aske thou no more questions concerning the multitude of them that perish.

56 For when they had taken liberty, they despised the most High, thought scorn of his law, and forsook his ways.

57 Whereover, they have troden down his righteousnesse,

60 But they which be created, have defiled the name of him that made them, and were unthankfull unto him, which prepared life for them.

61 And therefore is my judgement now at hand.

62 Theſe things have I not ſhewed unto all men, but unto thee, and a few like thee. Then answered I, and ſaid, 63 Behold, O Lord, now haſt thou ſhewed me the multitude of the wonders which thou wilt begin to do in the laſt times : but at what time thou haſt not ſhewed me.

CHAP. IX.

7 Who ſhall be ſaved, and who not. 19 All the world is now corrupted, 22 yet God doth ſave a few. 33 He complaineth that thoſe periſh which keep Gods law, 38 and ſeech a woman lamenting in a field.

HE answered me then, and ſaid, Meaſure thou the time diligently in it ſelf : and when thou ſeeſt part of the ſignes paſt, which I have told thee before,

2 Then ſhalt thou underſtand, that it is the very ſame time, wherein the higheſt will begin to viſit the world which he made.

3 Therefore when there ſhall be ſeen *earth- quakes, and uprores of the people in the world :

4 Then ſhalt thou well underſtand, that the moſt high ſpake of theſe things from the dayes that were before thee, even from the beginning.

5 For like as all that is made in the world hath a beginning, and an end, and the end is manifeſt :

6 Then to the times alſo of the higheſt, have plain beginnings in wonders and powerfull works, and endings in effects and ſignes.

7 And every one that ſhall be ſaved, and ſhall be able to eſcape by his works, and by faith, where- by ye have beleevd,

8 Shall be preſerved from the ſaid perils, and ſhall ſee my ſalvation, in my land, and within my borders : for I have ſanctified them for me from the beginning.

9 Then ſhall they be in pitifull caſe which now have abuſed my wayes : and they that have caſt them away deſpightfully, ſhall dwell in torment.

10 For ſuch as in their life have received bene- fits, and have not known me :

11 And they that have loathed my law, while they had yet liberty; and when as yet place of re- pentance was open unto them, underſtood not, but deſpised it :

12 The ſame muſt know it after death by pain.

13 And therefore be thou not curious, how the ungodly ſhall be puniſhed, and when : but enquire how the righteous ſhall be ſaved, whoſe the world is, and for whom the world is created.

14 Then answered I, and ſaid,

15 I have ſaid before, and now do ſpeak, and will ſpeak it alſo hereafter; that there be many mo of them which periſh, then of them which ſhall be ſaved.

16 Like as a wave is greater then a drop.

17 And he answered me, ſaying, Like as the field is, ſo is alſo the ſeed : as the flowers be, ſuch are the colours alſo : ſuch as the workman is, ſuch alſo is the work : and as the husbandman is him- ſelf, ſo is his husbandry alſo : for it was the time of the world.

18 And now when I prepared the world which was not yet made, even for them to dwell in that new live, no man ſpake againſt me.

19 For then every one obeyed, ſ but now the manners of them which are created in this world that is made, are corrupted by a perpetuall ſeed; and by a law which is unſearchable, rid them- ſelves.

20 So I conſidered the world, and behold there was perill, becauſe of the devitees that were come into it.

21 And I ſaw and ſpared it greatly, and have kept me a // grape of the cluſter, and a plant of a great people.

22 Let the multitude periſh then, which was born in vaine, and let my // grape be kept, and my plant : for with great labour have I made it perfect.

23 Nevertheleſſe, if thou wilt ceaſe yet ſet en dayes moe (but thou ſhalt not ſaſt in them, 24 But go into a field of flowers, where no houſe is builded, and eat only the flowers of the field; taſt no fleſh, drink no wine, but eat flowers only)

25 And pray unto the higheſt continually, then will I come and talk with thee.

26 So I went my way into the field which is called Ardath, like as he commanded me, and there I ſat amongſt the flowers, and did eat of the herbs of the field, and the meat of the ſame ſanctified me.

27 After ſeven dayes I ſat upon the graſſe, and my heart was vexed within me, like as be- fore.

28 And I opened my mouth, and began to talk before the moſt high, and ſaid, 29 O Lord, thou that knoweſt thy ſelf unto us, thou waſt * ſhewed unto our fathers in the wilder- neſſe, in a place where no man // treadeth, in a bar- ren place when they came out of Egypt.

30 And thou ſpakeſt, ſaying, Hear me, O Iſ- rael, and mark my wordes, thou ſeed of Jacob.

31 For behold, I ſow my law in you, and it ſhall bring fruit in you, and ye ſhall be honoured in it for ever.

32 But our fathers which received the law, kept it not, and obſerved not the ordinances : and though the fruit of thy law did not periſh, neither could it, for it was thine;

33 Yet they that received it, periſhed, becauſe they kept not the thing that was ſown in them.

34 And ſo it is a cuſtom when the ground hath received ſeed, or the ſea a ſhip, or any veſſel meat or drink, that, that being periſhed wherein it was ſown, or caſt into,

35 That thing alſo which was ſown or caſt therein, or received, doth periſh, and remaineth not with us : but with us it hath not happened ſo.

36 For we that have received the law periſh by ſinne, and our heart alſo which received it.

37 Notwithſtanding, the law periſheth not, but remaineth in his force.

38 And when I ſpake theſe things in my heart, I locked back with mine eyes, and upon the right ſide I ſaw a woman, and behold, ſhe mourned and wept with a loud voice, and was much grieved in heart, and her clothes were rent, and ſhe had aſhes upon her head.

39 Then let I my thoughts go that I was in, and turned me unto her, 40 And ſaid unto her, Wherefore weepeſt thou ? why art thou ſo grieved in thy minde ?

41 And ſhe ſaid unto me, and ſide, let me alone, that I may bewail my ſelf, and add unto my ſorrow, for I am ſore vexed in my minde, and brought very low.

And now becauſe the time of the world was come, when I was pre- paring the world, &c.

But when the world was made, both now and then the manners of every one created were corrupted by a never failing har- veſt, and a law un- ſearchable.

42 And I said unto her, What aileth thee? cell mee.

43 She said unto me, Thy seruant have been barren, and had no child, though I had an husband thirty yeers.

44 And those thirty yeers I did nothing else day and night, and every hour, but make my prayer to the highest.

45 After thirty yeers God heard me thine handmaid, looked upon my misery, considered my trouble, and gave me a sonne: and I was very glad of him, so was my husband also, and all my neighbours, but we gave great honour unto the Almighty.

46 And I nourished him with great travel.

47 So when he grew up, and came to the time that he should have a wife, I made a feast.

CHAP. X.

1 He comforteth the woman in the field. 17 She vanisheth away, and a city appeareth in her place. 40 The angel declareth these visions in the field.

And it so came to passe, that when my sonne was entered into his wedding-chamber, he fell down and died.

2 Then we all overthrow the lights, and all my neighbours rose up to comfort me, so I took my rest unto the second day at night.

3 And it came to passe when they had all left off to comfort me, to the end I might be quiet: then rose I up by night and fled, and came hither into this field, as thou seest.

4 And I do now purpose not to return into the city, but here to stay, and neither to eat nor drink, but continually to mourn, and to fast until I die.

5 Then left I the meditations wherein I was, and spake to her in anger, saying;

6 Thou foolish woman above all other, seest thou not our mourning, and what happeneth unto us?

7 How that Sion our mother is full of all heaviness, and much humbled, mourning very sore?

8 And now seeing we all mourn, and are sad, for we are all in heaviness, art thou grieved for one sonne?

9 For ask the earth, and she shall tell thee, that it is she which ought to mourn for the fall of so many that grow upon her.

10 For out of her came all at the first, and out of her shall all others come, and behold, they walk almost all into destruction, and a multitude of them is utterly rooted out.

11 Who then should make moze mourning, then she that hath lost so great a multitude, and not thou which art sorry but for one?

12 But if thou sayest unto me, My lamentation is not like the earths, because I have lost the fruit of my womb, which I brought forth with pain, and bare with sorrows;

13 But the earth not so: for the multitude present in it, according to the course of the earth, is gone, as it came.

14 Then say I unto thee, Like as thou hast brought forth with labour: even so the earth also hath given her fruit, namely man, ever since the beginning unto him that made her.

15 Now therefore keep thy sorrows to thy self, and bear with a good courage that which hath befallen thee.

16 For if thou shalt acknowledge the determination of God to be just, thou shalt both receive thy son in time, and shalt be commended amongst women.

17 So thy way then into the city, to thine husband.

18 And she said unto me, That will I not do: I will not go into the city, but here will I die.

19 So I proceeded to speak further unto her, and said,

20 Do not so, but be counselled by me: for how many are the adversities of Sion? be comforted in regard of the sorrow of Jerusalem.

21 For thou seest that our sanctuary is laid waste, our altar broken down, our temple destroyed.

22 Our palace is laid on the ground, our song is put to silence, our rejoicing is at an end, the light of our candlestick is put out, the ark of our covenant is spoiled, our holy things are defiled, and the name that is called upon us, is almost profaned: our children are put to shame, our priests are burnt, our Levites are gone into captivity, our virgins are defiled, and our wives ravished, our righteous men carried away, our little ones destroyed, our young men are brought in bondage, and our strong men are become weak:

23 And, which is the greatest of all, the seal of Sion hath now lost her honour: for she is delivered into the hands of them that hate us.

24 And therefore shake off thy great heaviness, and put away the multitude of sorrows, that the mighty may be mercifull unto thee again, and the highest shall give thee rest, and ease from thy labour.

25 And it came to passe while I was talking with her, behold, her face upon a sudden shined exceedingly, and her countenance glistered, so that I was afraid of her, and mused what it might be.

26 And behold, suddenly she made a great cry very fearful: so that the earth shook at the noise of the woman.

27 And I looked, and behold, the woman appeared unto me no more, but there was a city builded, and a large place shewed it self from the foundations: then was I afraid, and cried with a loud voice, and said, 28 Where is * Ariel the angel, who came unto me at the first? for he hath caused me to fall into many trances, and mine end is turned into corruption, and my prayer to rebuke.

29 And as I was speaking these words, behold, he came unto me, and looked upon me.
