PHILADELPHIAS WON WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP

Connie Mack's Men Took Their Fourth Game By 7 to 2—Cubs Admit the Superior Merits of the Champions.

(Times Leased Wire.)
 Chicago, Oct. 24.—With a regular Indian summer variety day, and with the usual ground rules, Philadelphia yesterday, by playing a much superior ball to the Chicago Cubs, won by the score of 7 to 2, thereby winning the world's championship.

Philadelphia took the lead at the outset when Hartel, who went to left field while Lord played center in place of Strunk, singled. He stole second while Lord was fanning, and brought in the first run on Collins' single to centre.

There were no scores until the eighth when Philadelphia again assumed the lead. Steinfeld's fumble gave Murphy a life at first, Barry sacrificed and Lapp, who relieved Thomas as catcher, singled him home.

In the eighth the Chicago team blew up. Brown held Coombs lightly and he singled, but later was forced by Hartel. Lord doubled and Hartel scored. Collins doubled and Lord scored. Collins, during the confusion, stole third, but was out at home on Baker's puny hit to Zimmerman. Davis walked, placing runners on first and second.

Then the Cubs aeroplaned. Murphy singled and Baker scored from second. Davis was at Baker's heels, and Hoffman, who relieved the hit, threw wild and Davis scored. A moment later Barry walked, but Lapp ended the hilarity with an easy grounder.

In their half Chicago took a brace and added one run, but that was all. Sheekard, the head of the batting list, doubled and went to third on Schultz's out. Hoffman fanned, but Chance singled and Sheekard scored. Zimmerman flew out. No runs were made thereafter.

The Philadelphia Athletics were world's champions and received a big

RAILWAY'S PLANS OUT AT LAST.

RAILWAY ANNOUNCEMENT IS AT LAST MADE PUBLIC

Canadian Northern to Run to Sooke and by Cowichan Lake to Alberni—No Mention of Ferry Connection.

The local organ of the McBride government yesterday morning made a longly inspired announcement respecting the plans of the Canadian Northern Pacific Railway Company for the construction of a line on Vancouver Island, in furtherance of the terms of the agreement between Messrs. Mackenzie & Mann and the government confirmed at the last session of the legislature.

The route to be followed is a circuitous one, giving Victoria connection with Alberni, Sooke and Otter Point, and to be touched and then the road runs north and skirts along the eastern and northern shores of Cowichan Lake; thence to the easterly shore of Barkley Sound and following the Alberni Canal to Alberni—in all a distance of 153 miles.

At Torre del Greco, it is reported, several were killed. The mountain continues active and the roar of the volcano can be heard for miles.

ROOSEVELT SILENT AS TO INSULT TO JUDGE

Alleged That He Called an Indianapolis Jurist a Crook and Jackass

(Times Leased Wire.)
 New York, Oct. 24.—Theodore Roosevelt refused to deny or confirm the report that he had founded the "Jackass Club" and had installed United States District Judge A. B. Anderson as a charter member.

According to the story, Roosevelt is alleged to have remarked at a reception in his honor, at the Columbia Club in Indianapolis, that Judge Anderson's ruling on the World Circuit suit was "the ruling of a damned crook and jackass."

It is said that Roosevelt's alleged remark was made to Harry S. New, former chairman of the Republican national campaign committee. The colonel said to-day:

"There is nothing I can say about this matter. It is just the kind of thing a man can expect in the closing days of the campaign. There have been other such instances."

"It can be definitely understood that I will not affirm or deny any statements made by third and fourth parties regarding what I said to them in a private conversation. The effort to draw me into saying something publicly is too obvious."

"I shall say nothing regarding any alleged remarks that I do not make publicly, or in regard to any statement supposed to have come from me but not over my signature."

Anderson Will Not Talk Either

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 24.—Judge Anderson, whom Col. Roosevelt is alleged to have called "a crook and a jackass," refused to-day to discuss the incident.

"I have nothing to say," Anderson said. "I will not be drawn into a discussion at this time." He would not even admit he had learned of the alleged remark.

AMERICA II WAS SAILING NORTH

FARMERS SIGHTED MISSING BALLOON

Dusseldorf II Has Probably Won International Race and Gordon Bennett Cup

(Times Leased Wire.)
 St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 24.—Belated advices that the balloon America II, that sailed in the international race, probably is safe, reached here to-day. The telegram stated that the balloon was seen Tuesday night passing over Thompsonville, Mich., going north. This would place the balloon in an entirely different locality from that where it is being sought.

The telegram was received by President Lambert, of the Aero Club. It was from Thompsonville and read: "America II passed here Tuesday headed due north. Farmers asked us to report these facts. Balloon passed west of Seneca, Michigan, just over Sutton's bay at dark. Talked with people eight miles north of here who saw the lighting on the balloon, E. S. Northrup."

Unless the America II has gone further, the German balloon Dusseldorf II won the international balloon race and the Gordon Bennett cup, according to an announcement of the officials of the Aero club, which promoted the race, to-day.

The Dusseldorf is also credited with a new world's record, having alighted 1,210 miles, as the crop flies, from the starting point at St. Louis. The former record was 1,132 miles. The Dusseldorf landed at Kiskiskin, Quebec.

All search for the America II so far has been confined to the province of Quebec, where others of the international racers lagged.

William Hawley, a brother of Pilot Allan Hawley, and E. Stoddard, a friend, are en route to Canada to lead the search.

DUNSMUIR SUES FOR A MILLION

HAS COMMENCED ACTION AGAINST WM. MACKENZIE

Action Arises Out of Recent Transfer of Immense Coal Mining Interests.

Messrs. Bodwell & Lawson, acting attorneys for Hon. James Dunsmuir, have instituted a suit against Wm. Mackenzie, president of the Canadian Northern Railway, on claims that will aggregate a million dollars. The litigation arises out of the recent sale of the Dunsmuir coal properties to the Canadian Northern magnates.

The transaction was completed June 17 last, on which date the price fixed, $1,000,000, was paid and the properties duly handed over. All the expenses in connection with the running of the properties had been met to June 1 and it was agreed as a matter of convenience that the running expenses from June 1 to June 17 should be paid by the new owners, who were to recoup themselves by retaining a sufficient sum out of moneys due the former owner.

It is out of this arrangement that the present lawsuit has arisen. According to the allegations made in the suit filed on behalf of Mr. Dunsmuir, the defendant capitalists since taking over the property on June 17 have persistently refused to make any accounting.

It is alleged that on June 17 there was due to the Wellington Colliery Company, which in this connection is another name for Mr. Dunsmuir, $50,000 for coal shipped and sold in the ordinary way of business. There were also 25,000 tons of coal ready mined at Extension and Cumberland and 15,000 tons of coke at Union Bay, besides upwards of 40,000 tons of coal, worth some $150,000, which had been sold to the C. P. R. and delivered at Vancouver, the understanding being that the C. P. R. was to pay for it from time to time as they used it.

All of these assets, it is claimed, belong to Mr. Dunsmuir, but the defendants are alleged to have collected large sums on account of these outstanding accounts and neglected and refused to pay plaintiff or to account to him therefor. The defendants are alleged to have delivered the above-mentioned coal and coke, and to have refused an accounting.

Therefore the plaintiff asks that the defendants be compelled to pay over to him the sums received from these various assets, with interest, less the running expenses of the property from June 1 to June 17.

RUMORED HILL PLANS

His Agricultural Expert Makes Trip Through Central Oregon

Portland, Ore., Oct. 24.—The rumor that the Hill system contemplates the construction of a railroad line through central and southwestern Oregon was revived to-day, following the arrival in Portland of Prof. Thomas Shaw, agricultural expert in J. J. Hill's personal employ.

Accompanied by his son, W. T. Shaw, Prof. Shaw has just completed a thousand-mile automobile trip through the central and western part of Oregon.

He expects to return to St. Paul soon, where he will submit an exhaustive report covering the agricultural possibilities of the country lying between Ontario and Prineville, Oregon, to J. J. Hill personally.

Prof. Shaw said that he had no specific information as to the reason why he had been sent on the trip. He admitted, however, that Hill never had the habit of sending men out for a pleasure jaunt.

Seven thousand people tried to crowd into the church to hear the pastor's decision.

PARLIAMENT ASKED BY CHINESE PEOPLE

The New Imperial Senate Springs Surprise in Memorial to Throne

Peking, Oct. 24.—A surprising revolt has taken place against the government. The Imperial senate, not three weeks old, has voted to memorialize the throne for the early opening of the general parliament. This action appears to indicate that the new senate will not be a submissive or mock institution, but one with which the grand council must reckon.

As far back as last June an informal demand was made for the immediate convocation of a national parliament, the establishment of which had been promised for the year 1915. An Imperial decree was then issued refusing the demand, which was adopted by delegates to the provincial assemblies and was supported by organizations of merchants throughout the country.

The Imperial senate no sooner assembled on October 3 than the provincial delegates formed an opposition party and arrayed themselves against the throne. The question of the parliament was brought up daily and the demand was made that it have executive power. The campaign culminated yesterday, when impassioned speeches were made in which it was pointed out that a change was imperative for the salvation of the country. This plea won over a large majority.

The Russo-Japanese agreement with reference to the annexation of Korea by Japan has been employed by the agitators and the press during the last few months to create a wave of patriotism, and this propaganda has made considerable progress among the intelligent classes, the progressive party showing a strong front against the united officials and the Manchurian army.

The prince regent is generally recognized as one who is sincerely in the desire that the best interests of the country be served, and that he has resisted the plan to change, because he has been advised to do so by the venerable grand councillors, who believe that the country is not prepared for such a sweeping change and that the establishment of liberal institutions might result in a calamity.

Following this action of the senate there are intimations that many political leaders are determined to obtain their demands. In private conversations, educated Chinese speak of the revolution within two years unless the throne surrenders. A factor in the situation, however, is the garrison in Peking and army divisions stationed in neighboring districts, which are all Manchurian. The Chinese troops are always kept at a distance from the new capital.

DIABETES

From late figures the hope of recovery under the new emollient treatment seems to be about as follows:

In people of sixty and over results are quite uniform, probably nine-tenths recovering. While at fifty and over a large majority of all cases yield to the treatment, below fifty and approaching forty the disease gets more stubborn, and between thirty and forty the percentage is not high, probably not much over half yielding.

Under thirty the percentage is less and in children recoveries have been very few and most of these were obtained with the aid of skilled physicians forcing nutrition, with alkaline treatment to prevent formation of acetone.

The new emollient treatment is known as Fulton's Diabetic Compound. It is sold in Victoria at D. E. Campbell's drug store.

We desire every patient to write us who is not noting the usual improvement by the third week. Always state age. Literature mailed free. Jno. J. Fulton Co., 637 Battery Street, San Francisco, Cal. We invite correspondence with physicians who have obstinate cases.

NEW MINISTER GETS SUBSTANTIAL MAJORITY

Hon. W. R. Ross Re-Elected in Fernie Over His Socialist Opponent

Fernie, Oct. 24.—Hon. W. R. Ross, minister of lands, was returned to the legislature at the bye-election here on Saturday, necessitated by his elevation to the cabinet, by the substantial majority of 249 votes, which may be increased with belated returns.

The vote polled throughout the riding was a light one, but the ministerial candidate showed consistent proportional gains throughout the district. Bennett, his Socialist opponent, carried but two polling divisions, obtaining a majority of 33 in Coal Creek and of 12 in Michel. Hosmer gave Mr. Ross a majority of 53 and Corbin a majority of 6. In Fernie Mr. Ross secured a majority of 217.

Indicative of the meagre vote polled is the fact that in Fernie but 617 votes were cast, as compared with the 772 of the last election.

eral outline of the route, although there is a proviso in the announcement that it is still open to modification.

We have no wish to attack any railway scheme. We realize that the Barkley Sound road when built will assist materially in the development of the island, but we must again say that the announcement was most disappointing.

When seen on Saturday Mr. Mackenzie seemed to be in a particularly good humor with himself. He was all smiles. He had just come from a long conference with Premier McBride, and apparently he had been able to hold the first minister down to everything he wanted.

The arrogant Chicago Cubs have been taught a lesson. Everything is not slow that comes from Philadelphia.

Premier McBride may have waged a strong fight with William Mackenzie for the redemption of pledges made during the last election campaign, but if he did the fact is quite apparent that poor Richard had to take an awful drubbing.

Hallfax is facing a deficit of something like sixteen thousand dollars in connection with its fall fair. Since the first fair in that city the deficits have in all amounted to a sum aggregating approximately $100,000.

The essential, not to say the vital, feature of the Barkley Sound railway, as originally outlined by Hon. Richard McBride was that the scheme would form an integral portion of a transcontinental railway.

Rev. Dr. Carman, chairman of the General Board of Missions of the Methodist Church, at a recent meeting of that board objected to the appointment of Professor R. P. Bowles as both a member of the West China Education Committee and a member of the board of governors of the West China Union University.

Professor Hart of Harvard University says the original English strain of population is dying out in the New England States. Judging by the immigration returns, to which we referred on Saturday, the English strain is fast being driven out by a Latin strain in every part of the United States.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. de Blaquier will be very pleased to know that their little son is much improved and has left the hospital.

CROFTON TERMINUS OF COWICHAN LAKE LINE

Big Mill Will Also Be Erected There by the American Securities Company

As was forecasted by the Times some months ago, Crofton, on the east coast of Vancouver Island, is to be made the terminus of the short line to Cowichan Lake from tidewater, to be constructed by the C. P. R. in accordance with the terms of the agreement between the company and the American Securities Company of New York.

The latter concern a year ago acquired some 52,000 acres of fine timber lands in the Cowichan Lake district. A large mill, costing $1,000,000, will be erected at Crofton. One hundred and fifty acres of land have recently been purchased on the north boundary of the township adjoining the old smelter property on Osborne bay. Docks will be constructed along the long tidal flat which occurs at this point and a large area will be piled and used for yards and sidings.

Years ago Mumm almost became a synonym for champagne. It is one of those brands that enjoy a world-wide celebrity, and is as well known in the Far East as it is in Paris or London or New York. Each succeeding year increases the demand for this wine, the importations of which are steadily rising in consequence. When Mumm's Champagne was first given to the world in 1811, scarcely anyone could have anticipated the brilliant future which was to be realized as a result of this new departure in trade. Business has its triumphs as well as war, and the history of champagne chronicles nothing more brilliant than the achievement of G. H. Mumm & Co.'s "Extra Dry." See that the bottle you are supplied with bears the rose-colored capsule. There is no genuine "Extra Dry" without this distinguishing mark. Pither & Leiser, Sole Agents for B. C.

(Times Leased Wire.) Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 24.—The middleweight championship of the world, made vacant by the death of Sam Langford, was assumed by Sam Langford's brother, Saturday. Manager Joe Woodman, who for Langford, issued a sweeping challenge to all aspiring middleweights to come and take the title away.

TWO WRESTLERS COME TO GOTCH

HACKENSCHMIDT AND GAMA WANT MATCHES

Russian Arrives Next Month—Hindu Coming During Winter—Must Meet Each Other

New York, Oct. 24.—In some respects the heavyweight wrestling situation resembles the pugilistic field. The mat champion Gotch, is not besieged with challengers from every town and country, as is Johnson, but there are two men now active who claim that they are justified in asking for a match. They occupy about the same places in regard to the wrestling title as do Kaufman and Langford in the pugilistic field. Perhaps Hackenschmidt and the Hindu wrestler Gama have more enthusiastic backers than the two boxers.

At any rate both the Russian, who will reach Montreal next month, and the Hindu, have signified their intention of coming to this country in the winter and seeking a match with Gotch. A regular report creeps forth in dull times that the champion has retired. Sometimes it goes ignored, and frequently the monotony is still further varied by an immediate denial.

If Gama and Hackenschmidt come here this winter some city should see an interesting bout. Before either of them draws Gotch into an encounter they will probably be matched against each other. Hackenschmidt was in Australia last winter. A report states that a California fight promoter cabled to the Russian saying that he had secured Gotch's consent to a match, and advising Hackenschmidt to come here.

Gama was a sensation for a time in London. He had defeated every good man in India, and went to London seeking new worlds to sit on. He was unable to get a match until Dr. F. E. Roller, of Seattle, appeared. Gama defeated Roller in short order, and Roller had two ribs broken during the contest. He then wrestled two hours trying to throw Zybseco, but could not destroy the bridge in which the Pole took refuge.

SPORT NOTES

That score of Sergt. Hatcher's at 500 yards range at Clover Point on Saturday where he made seven bulls is the highest score made at any range in British Columbia last Saturday. Pte. Godfrey and Capt. Boult of the Sixth D. C. R. A. each got 34 at the 500 yards at Richmond ranges.

Two Rugby games here next Monday. Secretary Spaulding has word this morning that Vancouver Rowing Club, the senior Rugby club of Vancouver, will be here and play Victoria Monday morning at Oak Bay at 11 a. m. In the afternoon the Argos will play James Bay on the same ground.

The Rowing club has won every game played in Vancouver this season, having defeated the Welsh, Argos, Firemen, Crusaders and McGill. The Argos has lost one, drawn two and won two, and is equal with Welsh for second place at the end of the first round of the Vancouver series, which was completed Saturday.

The schools Rugby game will take place Wednesday afternoon when the High school and the University school teams will meet for the second time this winter. The University won the first game, and as the margin was only three points the game on Wednesday is expected to be very interesting.

The B. C. Marine Railway Company employees want a soccer match for Thanksgiving Day. They have a combination that is willing to play any team in the city, or any combination of soccer teams.

There is already one soccer game for the holiday, between the bread and the bread makers. The butchers play the bread makers.

New York, Oct. 24.—Jack Johnson, heavyweight champion of the world, will receive his diamond studded championship belt just before he enters his racing automobile to try conclusions with Barney Oldfield, the speed king, to-morrow. Friends of Johnson to-day are planning the details of the presentation.

FINANCE MINISTER LEAVES

Vernon, Oct. 24.—Hon. Price Ellison left Saturday for Great Britain, and in his capacity of minister of agriculture will attend the exhibitions of British Columbia fruit in England, Scotland and Ireland. He is accompanied by Mrs. Ellison, and expects to return about Christmas. The apples sent from the Okanagan this year to the Old Country are superior in color to those forwarded last year.

RUGBY MATCHES ON THE HOLIDAY

VANCOUVER AGAINST VICTORIA AT 11 A.M.

James Bay Plays Argos in Afternoon—Nelson and Nanaimo Write for Dates

The Vancouver Rowing Club Rugby team will play in Victoria against the Victoria Rugby Club fifteen at Oak Bay ground next Monday morning at 11 o'clock. The match is definitely arranged, according to advice received this morning from Vancouver by Secretary Spaulding, of the Victoria Rugby union.

Vancouver rowing club wrote asking for the game, but as the James Bay team had arranged to have the Vancouver Argos over here Thanksgiving Day, the Victoria club officers did not want to clash with the Bays, so after conferences and correspondence the game has been fixed up for the morning of the holiday, with the Argos-James Bay match to follow in the afternoon.

Secretary Spaulding is also in receipt of letters from Nanaimo, where the new three-team Rugby union has been formed, asking for McKee's cup dates for a representative Nanaimo Rugby team.

The Victoria union secretary has received from Nelson, where a Rugby union is just being established, a request for games with Victoria, and asks for a guarantee of $1,100 for the trip.

Victoria has the champion Rugby team of the coast and province, and the idea of the champions having to gather a guarantee to pay for a holiday trip to the coast for a bunch of beginners like Nelson and district, is too absurd; but the officials will write and inform the Nelson union that if they want to come to Victoria to play the Victoria team the total net gate receipts will be given them, because the Victoria clubs want to boost the Rugby game throughout the province.

FIFTH PLACE GOES TO PORTLAND NINE

Everett and North Yakima Pull Against Victoria for Sixth Northwestern Team

Victoria, as announced in the sporting columns of the Times last Tuesday, on the authority of special Seattle advices, is the choice of the Northwestern league for sixth team next year.

Portland was allowed to enter on continuous ball by the Coast league, which meant putting a Northwestern league team in the town next year, and the Northwestern has now, at a special meeting held in Seattle, approved the plan.

Portland was unanimously agreed on as the fifth team and as announced on Tuesday last, Victoria is the sixth. The deposit of $1,000, as a show of good faith, has been made on behalf of Victoria capitalists who propose to run the ball club, by Ed. Householder, the right fielder of the Vancouver team, who will be manager of the Victoria team next year.

Everett and North Yakima are pulling against Victoria for the sixth place, but so far have not put up any money, and as Dugdale, owner of the Seattle franchise, and also boss of the league, is favoring Victoria, there is very small chance that the deposit of the Victoria syndicate will be returned.

The Northwestern league has a meeting called for within a few days and at this gathering the franchise will be awarded.

THE ADVANCE MAN

Mme. Nazimova. There is no actress on the English-speaking stage to-day who knows more about the art of make-up than Mme. Nazimova, the eminent artist who comes to the Victoria theatre on Wednesday next. Part of this famous actress' training in the Moscow Conservatory was the mastery of this subtle accomplishment. Nazimova, although one of the youngest dramatic stars before the public, underwent a long and hard training in her native land, Russia, before she moved to the United States and learned the English language. So, although she leapt into fame as an English-speaking actress in a single night, success came to her through no such instantaneous process. It was while she was studying in Moscow that she learned, among other things, the art of changing her personal appearance so radically that in no two plays does she seem like the same woman. Her genius in this direction extends even to the matter of height. In some roles she appears to be a very tall woman, and again, as for instance, when she is seen as Nora in "A Doll's House," she is petite and doll-like.

Mme. Nazimova was born in Russia in 1879, in the little town of Yalta, Crimea, a Tartar village in the Black Sea region. It has been called the Newport of Russia, for to it in summer flock the fashionable from St. Petersburg and Moscow. The Czar himself has his summer palace at Lyvador, a suburb of the town. Nazimova's father was a chemist, and ranked very high in his profession. There, in her youth, the actress had an opportunity to meet many of the great men of Russia who had come to Yalta to improve their health. Nazimova left her native town with her family when she was three years old and did not return again until she was sixteen. She studied for the stage in the dramatic school of the Philharmonic Society of Moscow, en-

Mr. Hackett is the distinguished romantic actor, will be seen at the Victoria theatre for two performances only, on Thursday and Friday of this week, when he will present Anthony Hope's ever-popular drama, "The Prisoner of Zenda."

There are many near-romantic dramas like "The Prisoner of Zenda," those that are not already dead will live long. For many years to come that delightful phantasy will insist upon taking the boards and crowding out realists and faddists of the advanced sort in a provoking manner. Rudolph Rassendyll's sword will clear the stage for the dream people of Ruritania for years to come.

Mr. Hackett is the Rudolph Rassendyll of to-day, and there will never be like him in 30, the years that the Elphbergs will rule upon the stage. In the words of Colonel Sapt, "By—, he's the noblest Elphberg of them all."

Mr. Hackett is supported by an excellent company, consisting of over twenty-five experienced players, including Arthur Hoops and Miss Beatrice Beckley, and the production will be in keeping with the standard of plays always maintained by Mr. Hackett in his many previous productions, both in New York city and on tour.

The engagement of Mr. Hackett is for two nights. On Thursday he will present "The Prisoner of Zenda," and on Friday "Monsieur Beaucaire."

Three headline photoplays feature on the new bill. "The Man Who Learned" is an educational drama and no more effective means could be devised for teaching a practical lesson. The story is based on the little child of a country girl who marries and resides in the city of New York. The child becomes ill and the mother, seeing milk advertised in a store as coming from her father's farm, procures her supply there. The milk is proved to be impure and the child becomes worse. The grandfather is summoned and the parents denounce his unscrupulous methods. He returns to his farm chastened and proceeds to introduce modern sanitary measures, which are all skilfully depicted, and has the joy of reuniting the family and restoring the grandchild to robust health. "An Excursion to the Abruzzi" is a picturesque description of an expedition to a little known part of the Italian Alps. The scenery is wild and interesting. "Fatal Imprudence" is a story of a poacher who is falsely arrested for slaying a gamekeeper who has met with a fatal gun accident. At the right moment the gamekeeper's son, who witnessed the accident, fortunately appears and explains the circumstance. "The Old Swimming Hole," a pretty rural drama; "Western Chivalry," a clean-cut western comedy, and "Butter Sweets," a comedy full of laughter and a few tears, complete the bill.

CHIEF JUSTICE'S CHARGE TO JURY

DISPASSIONATE REVIEW OF THE CASE

Points Out Weaknesses and Discrepancies in Crippen's Story—Sentenced at Once

London, Oct. 24.—The closing scenes of the Crippen case are still a dispassionate general discussion. The verdict of the jury caused a profound sensation in court, as, after the address of the Lord Chief Justice, it was quite expected. There would be a disagreement or acquittal. The prisoner was sentenced at once. On removal to jail he had a fainting fit and the prison surgeon had to be summoned.

Lord Chief Justice Alverstone complimented counsel on both sides on the way they had discharged their duty, and expressed the view that the jury, in deciding the case, would go entirely upon the sworn evidence they had heard. It was an unfortunate incident of our present mode of life that public discussion of criminal cases takes place before they have been brought to trial. It was for the crown to make out its case. If the jury had any reasonable doubt whether the crown had done this, they must give the prisoner the benefit of it. They must not allow the question whether minor points had been established to influence their judgment. If, upon the whole of the evidence, they had no doubt as to the result, Mr. Tobin had used the expression "certainty," and rightly understood it was not misleading, but if by that it was to be supposed the jurists were not to act upon evidence, unless it put them in the position of having actually seen the thing done, it was a misleading expression. But if they were not satisfied by the evidence that the crown had made out its case, the prisoner was entitled to be acquitted.

Springfield had been said about Dr. Crippen not having given evidence before either magistrate or coroner. His lordship did not agree with Mr. Tobin that it was a prudent thing for an innocent man in any case to reserve his defence. It was an error into which legal advisers had fallen for many years as a result of an old practice, and the sooner this was recognized the better for the case of an innocent man, and the less difficult the task of the lawyer in dealing with it. But in this case it did not make any material difference, as the crown were possessed of Crippen's case, apart from the medical aspect, owing to Crippen's statement to Inspector Dew. From the first he had not wavered from his position. There was no question of suggesting that by some other means Dr. Crippen caused the death of his wife, and that he had poisoned her, mutilated the body and buried the remains in the cellar. The charge, of course, involved two questions, not really independent but still which ought to be considered somewhat separately.

First, were the remains found the remains of Belle Elmore? If they were not, then there was an end to the case; if they were, then the jury had to ask themselves if her death was occasioned by the willful act of Dr. Crippen. If not, then the defendant was again entitled to be acquitted. Those were the two questions on which the jury were asked to concentrate their attention. Defendant had not contented himself with saying the crown had not satisfied the jury that the remains were the remains of Belle Elmore, or that the crown had not satisfied the jury that Belle Elmore had died from hyoscine poisoning; he said that as far as he knew she was not dead but had left him of her own accord. If that fact were made out they need not trouble any more about whose remains they were that were found.

Whatever might be the jury's legitimate views on the case they must all agree that defendant was an extraordinary man. If guilty he had committed a ghastly crime; he had endeavored to cover up that ghastly crime in a ghastly way and had behaved in a most brutal manner. If an innocent man, it was almost impossible to understand his mind or character; utterly indifferent to the charge of murder, but yet, having according to himself, means to establish his innocence, he steps have been taken by him to establish his innocence or support or confirm the case he had made out in the box, that Belle Elmore had left her home on the morning of February 1.

In his lordship's judgment that was one of the most important parts of the case. It was an incident which the defendant had raised, and he was entitled to have that incident questioned. Of course, the jury could not have sat in the box for long without realising that they could not rely upon a mere statement by Crippen. He had, by his own confession, lied for his own purposes, and even when he was purporting to tell the truth certain things were false, and false to their own knowledge. Yet they were to believe the story that Belle Elmore left in this way. His lordship was not going through the lying in order to get to the conclusion that this game was so enormously dangerous that Crippen could not possibly have carried it out, if he had thought his wife might appear again, then they must ask themselves again whether they could believe his story of her having left home. Nearly nine months had now passed since this case had arisen.

JAMES K. HACKETT.

Newspapers of two continents had been full of it. Now, if Belle Elmore were alive, must not all this have come to her knowledge?

"Does this man in the dock," asked his lordship, "suggest that this woman is so abominably wicked as to let him stand his trial without making any sign?"

After inquiring his lordship, resuming, said that the court was not a court of morals, but a court of law. The jury must not act against defendant because he was a liar, or because he was an immoral man. What they had to do was to take into consideration those circumstances which had a direct bearing on the case. He commented on the fact that Belle Elmore was said by Crippen to have left Hilldrop Crescent, leaving clothes, furs and jewelry behind, although she was found of all three, and said he regarded that fact as such a very remarkable incident in the case that he thought it right to question Crippen on this in the witness box. Crippen could only say that when he arrived at the house on February 1 he found one room in confusion and believes one trunk was taken.

His lordship then dealt with the question of the remains, asking how long they had been under ground. He thought it unfortunate from the view of the defence that no explanation had been made regarding the scrap of pyjamas, which the crown suggested had been used to wrap the remains in it being thought it would never come to light again. He did not think it worth while calling attention to Crippen's evidence, because in the box he made statements which he had to admit were not true. Assuming that the jury were satisfied that the remains had been buried in the cellar at a time consistent with Belle Elmore's disappearance, were they her remains? It was not seriously disputed they were the remains of a woman, being clothed in woman's garments. He thus came to the battle-ground in the case of the piece of flesh. They had it was contended, that it came from the lower part of the abdomen. Possibly the jury would come to the opinion that there was no more than one person in the case and that the answer to the question, "who killed her," answered the question, who buried her.

His lordship went into the question of the cause of death and hyoscine found in the remains. He concluded his summing up as follows: If the jury were of opinion that Crippen's story of his wife's going away were true, and they were of opinion that the crown had failed to prove that Mrs. Crippen was poisoned by hyoscine, they would return a verdict of not guilty, but they ought not to hesitate in returning the verdict which they were satisfied upon, on the evidence submitted, without fear or suggestion as to what might occur in the future. There had been ample opportunity to get hold of Mrs. Crippen if alive, and they could not approach the case with the idea that she was alive.

As the jury were leaving their box Crippen stood up, nervously stroking his moustache with his right hand, looked at each juror, spoke once or twice to the attendant warden in an undertone, and made his way towards the entrance of the dock, as though he expected to go out.

In the closing portion of his address to the jury Crown Prosecutor Muir, dwelling upon the question of identity, said that the remains were those of Belle Elmore, from the facts that on February 1 at 1.30 a. m. prisoner and his wife were found together in their bedroom, and that through all the months down to July 12, when the remains were found buried in prisoner's cellar, Parisian Sage is a discovery of a celebrated scientist, who spent the best years of his life in perfecting this great hair tonic.

In giving his recipe to the American people, he said, "Parisian Sage is the most delightful hair dressing in the world, but it is more than a hair dressing. It cures dandruff by killing the germs that infest the roots of the hair; it stops falling hair; it gives vigor and strength to the hair roots." Dr. E. BIG BARQUE IN INNER HARBOR

DUMFRIESHIRE TOWS TO THE SOUND TO-DAY

Vessel Biggest Ever Inside—Capt. Furneaux, 27 Years Master, is Wood-Carver

In tow of the tug Lorne, the British four-masted barque Dumfriesshire leaves her berth at the chemical wharfs to-day and will be towed to Seattle to discharge a general cargo.

strangely out of place over the trees and houses of the James Bay district. Not only is the Dumfriesshire the largest sailing vessel that has been brought in as far as the chemical works wharf, but she is the largest windjammer of the famous "Shire" line.

CAPT. FURNEAUX, OFFICERS AND APPRENTICES

Of the barque Dumfriesshire, Capt. Furneaux has been master of "Shire" line sailing ships continuously for nearly twenty-eight years.

and traditions that extend back to the palm days of sail still play a large part in the management of these vessels. Few sailing ships carry as many apprentices as the Dumfriesshire, which accommodates no less than 10, all clean, bright-eyed youths, whose smart uniforms give them the air of naval "middies."

Capt. B. W. Furneaux is making his second trip to Puget Sound in the Dumfriesshire, of which vessel he has been master for seven years past. He has commanded vessels of the "Shire" line for nearly 28 years, entering the employ of Law & Company as master in January, 1883.

three-master and her head swung for the open sea. Three days later she was moored in Tacoma harbor. The tug Lorne picked the Dumfriesshire up off Point Wilson after her wonderful escape. Capt. Furneaux cleverly disguised the fact that his anchors and chains were gone and contracted to be taken to a buoy, thus avoiding an exorbitant demand for towage.

Visitors to the Dumfriesshire while she was in port were greatly interested by a number of fine wood-carvings which have been turned out by Capt. Furneaux in his spare time. On his last voyage home from the Sound the general master carved from a huge block of cedar a complete upper-mast for the ship's saloon.

The American schooner J. W. Clise, for which grave fears were entertained, has arrived at Port Townsend from Redondo, Cal. after a remarkably slow passage of 25 days.

Repairs to the steamer Forager, owned by Leeming Bros., of this city, necessitated by the vessel stranding at Orcas Island, include the renewal of a dozen frames and the fixing of a new keel and keelson.

The schooner Bangor, which was towed off Bedford Island in Beecher Bay by the tug Lorne and taken to Port Townsend on Saturday, arrived in a sinking condition with her starboard rail two feet under water. She will have to be unloaded, docked and repaired.

Coming from Chimboote, to which port she carried coal for the United States navy, the British steamship Ilford passed up this morning for Vancouver, where she will load lumber for the west coast of South America. The Ilford arrived yesterday morning and reported that the first mate was in charge, Capt. Adam being seriously ill.

laded her Indian hunters. The Pescawha, being manned entirely by white men, came direct from the Behring port. The schooner Umbria, which is looked for during the next few days, was spoken by the Pescawha coming south with a total catch of 817 skins, of which 544 were taken in the Behring Sea. Both the Pescawha and the Thomas F. Bayard reported that their cruise in the north was without untoward incident.

MARINE NOTES

The Pacific Coast Steamship Company, owner of the steamship President, which recently picked up the disabled steamer Santa Monica off the Oregon coast and towed her to the Sound, has libelled the schooner for $20,000 on account of salvage.

Not less than $100,000 will probably be required to repair the British steamship Damara which was recently salvaged from the rocks at San Francisco by the Union Iron Works gang under the direction of Capt. Logan.

The G. T. P. steamer Prince Rupert returned to port on Saturday night from the north and sailed again last night after making the regular round trip to Seattle. N. J. Ross, superintendent of the Canadian Express Company, returned to the mainland on the steamer Prince Rupert last night after establishing a local agency for the company at the C. T. P. offices. W. E. Duperow, local passenger agent of the company, will act as agent, and a general express and money order business will be conducted.

CRUISER RAINBOW IS AT ACAPULCO TO-DAY

Preparations Being Made to Welcome Vessel on Arrival at Esquimalt

To-day the cruiser Rainbow, first vessel of the Pacific division of Canada's navy, is due at Acapulco, Mexico, where she will most probably be met by H. M. S. Algerine, which sailed south from Esquimalt on the 11th. The Rainbow is due to leave Acapulco tomorrow and will make a direct run to this port. Probably the first news of her nearness to the port will be conveyed by the west coast wireless stations which will be instructed to listen for the cruiser's signal.

BANKDALE UNDERGOES DIVER'S EXAMINATION

Big British Tramp, Here With Nitrates, Touched on Humboldt Bar

With 4,000 tons of nitrates and ore, including 400 tons of the former freight for the Victoria Chemical Works, the British steamship Bankdale, under charter to W. R. Grace & Company, arrived off the harbor yesterday. Crossing the bar of the Humboldt river the Bankdale touched on the sands and to-day she is anchored in Esquimalt undergoing a diver's examination. It is thought that the steamship's propeller is slightly damaged and on the diver's report will rest the decision of her owners to have her docked for survey or not.
