Or waters, in scripture, 18 put, (1) For the ele-ment of water, Gen. 1, 10. (2) For troubles and affictions. Psal. 69.1, Save me, O God, for the waters are come in unto my soul. Often in the Psalms and elsewhere it it used in this sense: Hence is the phrase in Mat. 20, 22, of being baptized with Christ's haptism: that of being baptized with Christ's haptism; that is, "dipped and plunged in afflictions, as he was," (3) In the language of the prophets, waters often devote a great multitude of people. Isa. 8. 7. The Lord bringeth upon them the vaters of the river; that is, the Assyrian army. And in Rev. 17. 15, The waters which hou sawest, where the whore sitteth, are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues. (4) It is put for children or posterity. Num. 21. 7, He shall pour the water out of his buckets. And in Isa. 48. 1, Which are come forth out of the waters of Judah. (5) For the clouds. Psal. 104. 3, Who layeth the beams of his chambers in the maters. "Who founded, "as it were, the heavens upon the clouds." of his chambers in the waters. "Who foreaded," as it were, the heavens upon the chonds."

(6) Waters sometimes stand for tears. Jer. 9, 1, 0 that my head were waters, and mine eyes a fountain of tears. (7) For the doctrines of the gospel, beat. 32, 2, 1 Cor. 3, 6, (8) for the ordinances of the gospel, where the graces and comforts of the Holy Spirit are divensed. Isa, 55, 1, 110, every one that thirsteth, come to the waters. Or by waters her may be understood the graces and comforts of the Spirit themselves, which are frequently compared to derstood the graces and comforts of the Spirit themselves, which are frequently compared to waters, as in Isa. 12. 3. 135. 6, 7. Joho 7. 37, 38. (9) All kinds of drink, Exod. 23. 25. (10) Unlauful pleasures, Irov. 9, 17. As in scripture, bread is put for all sorts of food, or solid nourishment, so water is used for all sorts of drink. The Moubites and Ammonites are reproached for not meeting the Israelites with bread and water, that is, with proper effectments, Deut. 23. 4. Nabal says, in axintused manues to David's meetingers Shall. I sulting manner to David's messengers, Shall then take my bread and my water, and my flesh that I have killed for my shearers, and give it that I have killed for my shearers, and give it uoto men whom I know not whence they be? 1 Sam. 25.11. Stolen waters denote unlawful pleasures with strange women, Prov. 9.17. The Israelites are upbraided for having forsaken the fountain of living waters, and hewing out broken cisterns; that is, for having quitted the worship of God, for the worship of idole and false gods, Jer. 2, 13. The Hebrews called wrine, the waters of the feet, that they only wish their own ties in Melwey department. urine, the waters of the feet, that they onay briok their own piss; in Hebrew, the water of their feet, 2 Kings 18. 27.

The waters of Membah, so called because of the quarefling, the contention, and nummiring, of the Israelites against Moses and against God. Moses tells us, that when the Israelites came to Muses tells us, that when the Israelites come to Kadesh, and there happened to be in want of water, they raised a selution against him and his brother Aaron; this is recorded in Num. 20, 1, 2, 3, &c. It was on this oceasion that Moses committed that sin, with which God was so displeased, that he deprived him of the honour of uttroducing his people into the land of promise. The Psalmist, in Psal. 106. 32, 33. tells us, that Moses was coursed, vexed, or troubled at these marmurs of the people, and expressed some distrust by his words. He shewed some doubt un the promises of the Lord. God had absolutely promised him, that he should bring water out of the rock: Moses made some scrupte to betwee it; Must we fetch you water out of this. lieve it; Must we fetch you water out of this rock? He struck the rock twice: and God had rock? He struck the rock twice: and God had bid him only speak to it. He was afraid, that upon this occasion, God being provoked with his people, should refuse to fulfil the promises he had made, Moses and Aaron did not sanctify the Lord, they did not pay that howour that was due to him, by a strict, punctual, ond faithful obedience to his words. They did not sanctify him before the people: They gave the revelle occasion to conceive too low an idea of the sanctiff this before the people: I neg gave the people occasion to conceive too low an side of the yourer and goodness of God; they did an injury in some measure to his power, by shewing so little confidence in ii.

o go the way of all the earth, is put to signify dying and the grave, Josh. 23. 14. A hard way, is put to represent the way of sinners, a way of impiety. Judg, 2, 19. They ceased not from their stubborn way; in Hebrew, hard way, It is so called to signify, that although it seemed at first very tail, and easy, and pleasant, yet they would be tailly find that it was hard and difficult and troublement to the sant, yet they would be tainly find that it was hard and difficult, and troublesome to them, as an hard way is to the traveller. The course that leadeth to destruction is called a broad way, that is obsour to all, and in which many walk; on the contrary, that course of life which walk; on the contrary, that course of life which will bring a man to heaven, is named strait, varrow, difficult to find and to walk in: A course of holiness is unpleasing to flesh and blood, it does not at all graitly men's sensual appetitee; it is a varrow way, wherein men will meet with many crosses and temptations, Mat. 7, 13, 14.

Mai, 1. 13. 14. 6. because it is called the way, John 14. 6. because it is hy him alone that believers obtain eternal life, and an entrance into hearen. He eternal tife, and an entrance with march. is the way to heaven, by the doctrine which he taught; by his death, by which he purchased this heavenly inheritance for the elect; by his holy life and conversation, setting us an example, we should follow his steps; and by the inat we should follow in steps; and by the influence of his Spirit, whereby believers are sanctified, and made meet to be made partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light. The Psalmist says, Ihou will shew me the path of life, Psal. 16. 11. that is, "thou will pain of fife, Fact. 10. 11. that is, "thou will ruse my body from death to life, and conduct me to the place and state of everlasting happiness." WEEK.

The Hebrews had three sorts of weeks, (1) Weeks of days, which were reckoned from one sabbath to another. (2) Weeks of years, which were reckoned from one sabbatical year to another, and which consisted of seven years, (3) Weeks of seven times seven years, or of forty nine years, which are reckoned from one jubilee to another.

Jubilee to another. The seventy weeks, in Dan. 9. 24. It is agreed that these are weeks of years, and not of days. They consist of seven lunar or Hebrew years; by which reckoning the seventy weeks make up four hundred and ninety years. This way of reckoning years by days is not unusual in the sacred writings, See Lev. 25, 8. Exch. 4, 4, 5. En. 19. 6, 11.13. There was different. Rev. 12. 6. | 13. 5. There are many differe heel-12-0, 13-3. Include a fee are many angerent hypotheses concerning the beginning and end of Daniel's seventy weeks, even among Christion writers, who believe this prophecy marks out the time of the birth and death of our Saviour Jesus Christ. Some begin them from the first year of Darius the Mede, which is the epocha of Daniel's prophecy, and make them to determine at the profaution of the temple, which happened under the persecution of Autiochus Epphanes. Others begin them from the first year of Cyrus at liabylon, and place the end of them at the destruction of the temple by the Romans. Others fix the beginning at the first year of Darius the Mede, in which this revelation was made to Daniel; and put the end at the birth of Jesus Christ. Julius Africanus places the first year of the seventy weeks at the twentieth year of king Artaereres Longimanus, who gave a commission or decree to Nehemiah, to rebuild the walls of Jerusalem. From thence to the last week, in hypotheses concerning the beginning and end or Jerusalem. From thence to the last week, in which the Messiah was put to death, are reck-oned seventy weeks or four hundred and ninety onea seventy weeks or four ninurea and ninery lunar years. This hypothesis or aystem seems to be the most rational of any that have been pro-posed by the ancients, and is adhered to, some small particulars excepted, by the the greatest part of interpreters and chrowlogers.

part of interpreters and chronologers. The greatest difference among chronologers in the calculation of these years, does not exceed nine or ten years. Peterius, who has treated of this matter in his twelfth book De Doctrina temporum, reconciles all these differences by sheering that the words of the prophecy of Daniel, From the going forth of the commandment to restore and to build Jerusalem, ought to be understood of the complete execution of the order to rebuild Jerusalem, which was not next ordered that he Ne. Jerusalem, which was not performed but by Ne-hemiah. He shews also, that the twentieth year nemina. He snews asso, that the wentern year of Artasersec, mentioned Neb. 2.1. ought to be explained, not of the twentieth year of the reign of Artaserses alone, but of his twentieth year beginning from the time that his father associated him with himself in the kingdom, ten years before his death. These ten years being cinted him with himself in the kingdom, ten-years before his death. These ten years being deducted from the number of years that elapsed from the decree of Artacerses in Jasour of Ne-hemiah, to the death of Jesus Christ, deliver the chronologers out of heir perplesities, and dispel the difficulties that arose from the ten supernumerary years, given by their calculation of the four hundred and ninety years, contained in the seventy weeks of Daniel.

he modern Jews are not agreed among them-selves, fearing to be convicted, from this pro-phecy, that the Messiah is already come, and that their expectation of him is in vain. Some pronounce a curse against them that compute To woe to you that laugh now, ye shall with the time, saying, it is in vain to expect the time, saying, it is in vain to expect the Messiah, who hath been come a long white ago:
Others say he is not yet come, but that he would have come a great while ago, if the sirs of the Jews had not prepented him. Others place the beginning of the seventy weeks of the destruction of the first temple of Nobuchabhersar, and the end at the destruction of the second temple.

Is the greatest of fishes that we know of. Pro-fane authors have given extravagant accounts of the bigness of this creature; some say, that whales have been seen of six hundred feet long, and three hundred and sixty feet thick. Others write, that there have been seen some of eight hun-dred feet long. Modern writers say, that in America some whales measure ninety or an hun-dred feet from head to tail; and it is owned, that the whales in the north seas are yet larger than those that are found upon the coast of Guinea or in the Mediterrancan.

In the Mediterranean.

In sciipture three is mention made of the whale,
But the Hebrew word Thannim is generally used for all large fishes, whether of rivers or of the sea. The Leviathan mentioned in Joh 41. 1, is thought by a great many interpreters to be the whale, though others think it is the

the whale brings forth her young ones alive, as other perfect animals; But it brings but one, once perfect animats; Dut it orings but one, or two at most, and nontises it by the breast, with great care. Whales have generally no each, but only beards or whiskers on the throat, or about a span in breadth, and fifteen feet long, which end in fringes, like hings bristles at the end which at our are set with the matter. end, which at top are set in the palate, and ranged in order. These beards serve to extend and, which at top are set in the palate, one aranged in order. These heards serve to extend or contract the cheeks of this creature. Whales are maintained by a water or froth which they mak from the sea; and by some little jishes, as he sea; flea, the sea-spider, anchovies, sea-weed, be. Yet some of them have teeth, and in their beliefs have been formed by he. Yet some of them have teetn, una cod-fish bellies have been frond thirty or forty cod-fish. The Whale always keeps its young one under till it is weared. The winds always keept its young one move its firs, and never leaves it till it is weared, It has no udder, but it has nipples and teats, which contain milk in such obundance, that sometimes there have been drawn from it to the juantity of two hogsheads.

dow who had no children by her hutband, was allowed to not not entire to y her hutoana, was allowed to marty the brother of her deceased spouse, in order to raise up children who might enjoy his inheritance, and perpetuate his name and family. We find the practice of the ensuron before the law, in the person of Taner, who married successively Er and Onan, the who married successively Er and Onan, the sons of Judoh, and who was thesevise to have married Shelah, the third son of this patriarch, after the two former were dead without issue. Gen. 38, 6, 8, 9, 11. The law that appoint these marriages is delivered in Deut. 25, 6, 8. &c.

The motives that prevailed to the enacting of this he moirtes that pretained to one educting of this law were, the continuation of estates in the same family, and to perpetuate a man's name in Israel. It was looked upon as a great in-happiness for a man to die uithout an herr, and to see his inheritance pass into another family. This law was not confined to brothers-in-law only, but was extended to more distant relations only, but was extended to more distant relations of the same line; as may be seen in the example of Ruth, who married Doaz, after she had been refused by a nearer knusman. Widow hood, as well as barrenness, was a kind of shame and reproach in Israil. Isa. 54. 4. Thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, passed away in celibacy and barrenness, and shalt not remember the reproach of thy widowhood any your Is may measured, that a woman not remember the reproach of thy widowhood any more. It was presumed, that a woman of merit and reputation might have found a husband, either in the family of her deceased husband, if he died without children, or in some other family, if he had left children, or in some other family, if he had left children. The widows of kings continued in their widow hood. Adonijah was punished with death, for asking in marriage Abishag the Shumaniet, who had heen married to David, though he had

There were widows in the Christian church, who, be bands and childen, 1 Tim, 5, 3, 4, 5. There were widows in the Christian church, who, be cause of their poverty, were maintained at the charge of the faithful, and who were to attend upon the poor and sick. St. Paul did not allow any to be chosen into the number of these widows, meless they were threescore years old at least; they must be such as had not parted from their husbands and married again; they must produce ample testimony of their good work; that they had given good education to their children; that they had given secous to the saints; that they had given succour to the misterable and afficied, 1 Tim, 5, 9, 10.

feeding of cattle, and on which trees grow wild. So when wilderness is mentioned in scri, we are not always to imagine it to be a scripture, we are not always to imagine it to be a placs forsaken, abandoned, roid of cities or inhabi-tants; as this word often represents the hol-near a city or village which was appointed for pasture, and where the plough never came. Thus, in Scripture, there are few cities which had not their wilderness, that is, uncultivated places for woods and pastures. The deserts of Arabia, wherein the Israelites so-journed forty years after their denature on journed forty years after their departure out of Egypt, is called wilderness, by way of emi-nence, Neb. 9. 19, 21. Psal. 78. 40, 52 | 107.

oring intelligence concerning the tand o pro-mise, Num. 13.3. Moses seems to place mount Sinai in the country of Paian, when he says, that the Lord appeared to the Israelites up-on the mount of Paran, Deut. 33.2. And Habakkuk seems to say the same thing, Hab 3.3, The Holy One came from mount l'aran.

The desert of Sio. There are two deserts of this name in scripture, the first is written purely Sin, with a Samech, and lies between Him and mount Sinai, Exod. 16. 1. The second is written Zin, or Tzin with a Tzade: it is near Kadeshbarnea, where Miriam the stster of Moses died, Num. 20. 1.
The desert of Sinai, is that which lies about, and is adjucent to, mount Sinai. The people examped there a long time, and received the greatest part of those laws which are written in the books of Moses, Exod. 19. 2.
It is said in Isa. 41. 18, I will make the wilderness a pool of water; that is, "these people that are like a dry and barren wilderness, I will obundantly water them with my blessing and make them fruifful and beautiful." The desert of Sio. There are two deserts of this

Is that faculty of the soul whereby we freely choose or refuse things. It is of the nature of the will, to will freely whatsoever it wills, of the will, to will freely whatsoever it wills, for the will cannot be compelled; but it is unable, till it he changed by grace, to move itself toward God, and to will any good thing pleasing to him. Psal. 110. 3. Simply to will any thing, is of nature; but to will what it good, is of grace; our will being free in respect of sinful acts, but bound in respect of good works till it be made free by Christ. John 8. 30, if the Son therefore shall rule voo free, ye shall be wade free by Christ. John to 30, 100 Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed. And in John 15, 5, Without me ye can do nothing. And Phil. 2, 13, It is lood who worketh in you, both to will and to do of his good pleasure. And St. Austen says. do of his good pleasure. Prov. 11. 30. and he that w. souls is wise WIND.

The Hebrews acknowledged four principal winds, as no do, Ezek. 42, 16, 17, 18, 11e measured the east-side, in Hebrew, the east wind, $\frac{2}{3}c. The east-wind is called in Hebrew, Kadim; the north-wind, Tzaphon; the south-wind, Darcm; and the west-wind, or from wind, Darem; and the vest-wind, or from the Mediterranean sen, Rouach-Ilajam. Solomon says, in Prov. 25, 23, That the north wind disperses the clouds and the rain; but other Interpretess translate it, It produces rain. The wind Euroelydon, see EUROCLYDON.

ROCLYDON.

The powerful operations and motions of God's Spirit, quickening or reviving the heart toward tind, are compared to the blowing of the wind, John 3. 8. For as it is with the wind, man perceives, by the effects of it, that there is such a thing, and that it does blow, yet his power cannot restrain it, neither can his reason reach to know whence it rises, or from how far it reaches; so is the power cannot restrain it, neither each his rea-son reach to know whence it rises, or from how far it comes, or how far it reaches; so is the spiritual change wrought in the soul, freely, where, in whom, when, and in what measure the Spirit pleases; and also powerfully, so as to make an evident sensible change, though the manner thereof be incomprehensible. Else-where the motions of the Spirit are set forth by wind, as in Cant. 4. 16. The judgments of God are compared to wind, as in Isa. 27. 8, He stayeth his rough-wind in the day of his east-wind. He assuages the fury of the storm, and misigates he severity of the judgment. It is said in Isa. 20. 18, We have been with child, we have, as it were, brought forth wind; that is, "We have been in expectation of help," and we have not been able to do any thing "towards our own deliverance." So in Ilos "a trake flatter themselves with rain delinding

See East, Four, Scatter, Stormy. Hand. 7. 25. all sorts of temptations are thus described, The rain descended, the floods came, the winds blew. And in Jet. 4. 11, 12, the coming in of an army swiftly and flercely, destroying all before them, see pressed by a dry wind, a full wind.

The Aposite Paul compares vain and inconstant opinions and doctrines to wind. Eph. 4. 14, Laried about with every wind of doctrine. At the wind is a whitle body, so these doctrines are subtile, but without substance of truth The wind is uncertain, now blowing from one quarter, now from another, now lowd, and yet and such wind, and all the winds are substile, but without substance of truth The wind is uncertain, now blowing from one quarter, now from another, now lowd, and yet and the said, open the w. castward sently silent; so false doctrines are uncertain, Prot. 7. 6. at the w. of my house I looked through the winding a great noise, and suddenly vanish Acts 20. 9. there sat in a 1. a certain young man

WINE.

Several of the ancients were of opiniou, that wine was not in use before the deluge, and that Noah was the first who wed this liyour. If wine, say they, had been known before the flood, Abed would not have failed to bring an offering of it to the Lord, and Noah would have been upon his guard, so as not to hate drank of it to excess. But, on the other hand, it is maintained heart that it is the same that the same that we had a support to the same that the same that the same that we had a same that the same th by others, that it is much more probable that the first men were not ignorant of the use of wine, which is a liquor so generally useful and wine, which is a liquor so generally useful and agreeable, that it could scarcely be unknown even to cldam himself. And as to Noah, they say, that though he knew the intoricating quality of wine, yet he migh be deceived in the strength of it, and think, that the quantity he drank of it was not capable of causing the drunkenness in him that he afterwards found it did. it did.

The use of wine was forbidden to the priests during all the time they were in the tobernacle, and employed in the service of the altar, Lev. 10. 9. Drankentess is so odious a sin in itself, especially in a minister, and most of all in the time of his alminister, ton of sacred things, that the use of wine was strictly forbidden on those occasions. WING.

By the name wing, the Hebrews understand not only the wings of birds, but also divers things which have some kind of resemblance to wings, as, (1) The lappet or skirt of a garmeut, Rull 3. 9. Spread thy skirt over thine handmaid, in Hebrew thy wing. And in Jer. 2. 34, In thy skirts, Heb. wings is found the blood of the souls of the poor innocents. (2) The wings of an army. Isalah syeaking of the arof the souls of the poor innocents. (2) The wings of an army, I saids speaking of the army of the king of Assyria, that was coming into the land of Judah, says, The stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy out or his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O Inmanuel, Iaa. 8, 8. See also Jer. 48, 40. (3) Wing is put for the extremity or utmost part of n country, Job 38, 13, That it might take hold of the ends of the earth, in Heb, the wings or the earth. So in Isa. 24, 16, From the uttermost part of the earth have we heard songs: the Hebrew says, from the wing of the earth. (4) It is put for the sails of a ship, Isa. 18. 1, Woe to the land shadowing with wings: meaning Egypt, which abounded with ships, whose sails are like wings, that shadow the ship. (5) The name of wings is given to the sun-beams. Mal. 4. 2, The sun of righteousness shall arise with healing in his wings. This being applied to Christ, denotes that he should appear in the flesh, and by his doctrine, merit, and Spirit, should bring a remedy for all spiritual sicknesses and diseases. Some have observed, that by and diseases. Some have observed, that by the word wings, may be instituted the healing virtue that went forth from Christ to such as by faith did but touch the hen of his garment Mat. 9. 20, 21, 22. (6) Wing is purfor the battlement of an house. Mat. 4. 5. The ment Min. 9. 20, 21, 22. (D) wing is put for the battlement of an house. Mat. 4.5, The Jer. 36, 22, now the king sat in the w-house devil set our Saviour on a pinnacle or wing Amos 3.15.1 will smite w-house with summer-house of the temple. (7) Wings, in a figurative metaphorical sense, are put for protection a defence. God says in Exod. 19. 4, that he bare his people on the wings of eagles; that is, that he had brought them safely out of Egypt "that he had orings them safety out or Egypt, Exod. 39. 3. they cut gold plates into w. to work it WISDOM, In Greek, Sophia; in Hebrew Chachemah. It is in Greek, Sophia; in Hebrew Chachemah. It is put, 1. For that prudence and discretion, which enables men to perceive what is fit to be done, according to the circumstances of time, place, persons, manners, and end of doing. Eccl. 2, 13, 14, I saw that wisdom excelleth folly, for the wise man's eyes are in his head. "The wise man has the use of his eyes and reason, he sees his way, and orders all his affairs with discretion; he foresees and orderis ment dones. cretion; he foresees, and so avoids many dangers and mischiefs." Knowledge directs a man what wisdom directs him how to do things duly, cor-remiently, and fitly. It was this sort of wisdom that Solomon intrected of God with so much earnestness, and which God granted him with grent liberality, 1 Kings 3. 9, 12, 28.

II. Wisdom is taken for quickness of invention, and dexterity in the execution of several works, and desterity in the execution of several works, which require not so much strength of body, as industry and labour of the mind. Wisdom is the gift of God, who told Moses, that he had filled with wisdom, and understanding, and knowledge, Besalect and Aholiah, to invent and perform several sorts of work for completing the tubernacle, Exod. 31. 2, 3. tubernacie, Exod. 31. 2, 3.

111. Wisdom is used for croft, cunning, and statagem, and that whether good or evil. Exod. 1. 10, Come on, said Pharaoh, leit us deal wisely with the Israelites: "Let us fall west wisely with the Israelites: Let us fait upon some stratagem, whereby we may exhoust both their wealth and their strength." It is observed of Jonadab, the friend of Amnon, and nephew of David, that he was very wise, that is, very subtile and erafty, 2 Sam. 13. 3. And in Job 5, 13, it is said, that God taketh the in Job 5, 13, it is said, that wise in their own craftiness.

wise in their own craftiness.

IV. Wisdom is taken for doctrines, learning, and experience. Job 12, 12, With the accient is usidom. Ind in Acts 7, 22, it is said of Moses, that he was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians; "He was instructed in the "knowledge of those aris and sciences, for which, in those times, the Egyptians were famous,"

V. It is taken for true piety, or the fear of God, which is spiritual wisdom. Psal. 90, 12, 80 teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts noto wisdom; "Trut we may "devite ourselves to the study and practice of "true piety." And in Job 28, 28, The fear of the Lord, that is wisdom.

VI. Wisdom is put for Jesus Christ, the eternal,

VI. Wisdom is put for Jesus Christ, the eternal, essential Wisdom, the word, the Son of Ged. It was by Wisdom that God established the heavens, and founded the earth. Prov. 3. 19, It was this Wisdom that the Lord possessed from everlasting, from the beginning, or ever the earth was, Prov. 8. 22, 23. He was set up, the earth was, Prov. 8. 22, 23. He was set up, we use a mointed from everlasting, before all worlds, to be the person by whom the lather resolved to do ull his works, first to create, and then to uphold, govern, and judge, and afterwards to redeem and save the worta; all which wands to redeem and save the worta; all which works are in scripture particularly ascribed to the Son of God. Solomon, in Prov. 8, discourses largely and profoundly of this Wisdom.

The Psalmist rays. Psal. 37, 30, The moath of the righteous speaketh wisdom. When the discourses of other men are either wicked or vain, his are pious and profitable, they flow from and ore so many studences of wisdom, and have a 547

Job 28. I.2. having mentioned several hidden things which men's wisdom has joined out, Job asky this question, But where shall wisdom be found. He means that sublime and eminent wisdom, which consists in the exact knowledge of all God's counsels and ways, and of the sere ral manners and reasons of his governing the ral manners and reasons of his governing the world, and dealing with good and bad men; this is far above man's reach, and is the prerogative of God alone. Job says to his three friends, chap. 12. 2. No doubt but ye are the people, and wisdom shall die with you. This is an ironical expression; that is to say, "You are the god's only would for empression and wisdom. are the only people for eminency of Wisdom, you have engrossed all the reason of mankind, and you think that all the wisdom and know " ledge of divine things, which is in the world,

" lives in you, and will die and be utterly lost when you die

Wisdom is put for natural instinct and sagacity.

Joh 39. 17, The ostrich is hardened against her young ones, because God hath deprived her of wisdom: "Because God hath not implanted in her that natural instinct, care, and affection

"her that natural matinet, care, and affection, which he hath put into other brids and beasts, "towards their young." Wisdom is likewise put for the doctrine of the gospel. I Cor. 2. 6, 7, Howbeit we speak wisdom among them that are perfect; yet not the wisdom of this world, or of the prices of this world, that come to nought: that is, "The subject-matter of my nor of the princes of this worth, that is, "The subject-matter of my preaching is the most wise contrivance and counsel of God, concerning the salvation of man by Christ crucified, and so it will be most on the subject of the subje which teaches how to manage our temporal affairs, only in order to a comfortable life here; neither is it the maxims of state-po " licy, which statesmen count the only wisdom who yet by all their plots and policies cannot secure themselves from ruin; But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, even hidthe virtam of God in a mystery, even hid-den vision; it is such as no creature could make any discovery of, and was hidden for-merly under holy mysteries and Jewish types, it was but Jarkly spoken of by the prophets, and altogether unknown to the Gentiles."

"and altogether unknown to the Gentues," hrist Jesus is said to be made of God unto us wisdom, 1 Cor. 1.30. "He reveals the will "and knowledge of God to us, and makes us "wise unto salvation." In Mat. 11.19, our Saviour speaking of the bad treatment that John the Baptist and himself met with from the Jew. says, But Wisdom is justified of her children says, But Wisdom is justified of her children. Some take the meaning to be this; I who am "the wisdom of God, am justified by you, who "truly believe on me: You know I am no glutton, no wine-bibber, no friend of publicans," ond sinners." Others thus, "Religion, i" all the branches and duties thereof, enjoined of your god, or the various methods that God uses to refully sinners, is conselved and achieved the second of t to reclaim sinners, is comed and acknowledged to be full of wisdom, holiness, and equity and also vindicated from the cavits and unity inst imputatious of all ungodly persons, by just imputatious of all ungodly persons, by those who have devoted themselves to the study

"those who have devoted themselves to the study "and practice of religion."

[James speaks of the wisdom that is from above, which comes from God, and teaches us to be humble and holy in all our conversation, James 3. 17. It is known and expressed by several properties: It is pure, it makes men extension of the properties of the world any definement by sin and error, and to adhere both to truth and holiness. It is proposable it disversely near to meate, both as nit o avoid any defilement by sin and error, and to adhere both to truth and holiness. It is peaceable, it disposeth men to peace, both as the making and keeping it, so far as is consistent with purity, and may be done without sin. It is gentle, it disposes men to bear with the infirmities of others, to forgive injuries, to tenterpret all things for the best, to recede from their own right, for peace sake. It is easy to the intreated, it makes men yield to the persuasions of the word, to good counsel, good reason, it is full of mercy, it makes us gity others that are afficted, or that offend. It is full of good fruits, of beneficence, tiberality, and all other offices of humanity, which proceed from mercy. It is without partiality it does not make a difference between person and person, upon candacounts, it is also without hypocrisy, or counterfeiting, as they do that judge others, being guilty of the same things themselves; it is unfergued and sincere. Wisdom is put for the holy scriptures, Luke 11, 49.

WITNESS

Is one that gives testimony to any thing. Thus it is said, You are witness, a faithful witness, a faiths witness, or of it witness, &c.
Wuness in Greek is Martys, or Martyr, and sigvitness in Greek is Martys, or Martyr, and sig-nifies one that gives testimony to the truth at the expence of his life. Iesus Christ is the fathful witness, Rev. 1.5. He is so called, because, as the great Prophet of his church, he hath revealed the will of God jaithfully, plantly, and fully, so far as is necessary to the satu-tion of men: This Isaiah prophesied of him. Isa. 55. 4, I have given him for a witness to the people, to be a Prophet and Teacher, to de-clare the connect and will of God concerning the duty and salvation of men, to bear witness unto duty and salvation of men, to hear witness unto the truth, as Christ himself affirms before Pouthe truth, as Christ himself affirms before Poulsar Pilate, John 18, 37. Whenefore Paul saith, 1 Tim, 6, 13, that Christ witnessed a good confession before Pontius Pilate. He is called the faithful xinness, not only because he revealed all truth, and bare record to the truth that the confession with the said of the s before Pilate, but also because he sealed it with his blood; he died, and was a martyr of the truth, which proves him to be a faithful, the truth, which proves him to be a faithful, constant witness.

The law appoints, that two, or three witnesses should be sufficient in matters of judicature, but one witness only was not sufficient, Deut 17. 6. When any one was condemned to die the witnesses were the first that began the execution. They threw the first stone, for example, if the party was to be stoned, Deut. 17. 7. The law condemned a false witness to undergo the same punishment that he would have subjected his neighbour to, Deut. 19. 16, 17, 18, 19. Ilhan God is said to be a witness to sing as in Jer. 29. 23. it signifies, that he not only as in Jer. 29. 23. it signifies, that he not only knows it, but he will also punish it: He is both judge and wilness, he does not stuy for any one to accuse the wicked to him, he has no nexa one to accuse the wicked to him, he has no nera of the testimony or accusation of men, to know the demerits of the guilty. He accuses them, himself, he punishes them, he condemns them he knows all their transgressions, by his wisdom, his juxtice, his infinite penetration.

In Mal. 3. 5. God threatens perjured persons, adulterers, and other wicked men, with ven geance, I will be a swift witness against false swearers, Sc. This it spoken of Christ Che Messiah, to whom the lather hath committed all judgment, John 5.22. The prophets and suffering for God, have given testimony to the truth of our holy religion. The apostle culs them a cloud of witnesses, Heb. 12. 1. The oppostless also are still wore witnesses, of the coming, the mission, the doctrine, the reserves apostices also are still one with season, yet coming, the mission, the doctrine, the result of tion of Christ. 1 Cor. 15. 14, 15, 1f Christ not risen, then we are found false extincises of God. And St. Peter says We are unnesses place of Judas, they thought fit to appoint one who had been a witness of the resurrection along with them, Acts 1, 22.

The apostle Paul, in Rom. 8, 16, says, that the Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God. The Spirit of God by an inward and secret suggestion, of God by an inward and secret suggestion, speaks the same things, gives the same evidence, concerning the truth of grace, and our sonship, and so ratifies what our enlightened and renewed consciences say. In Heb, 11.4, it is said, that Abel obtained witness that he was righteness, God testified to his opirit that he was justified by the rightenusness of Christ; and God witnessed from heaven to the truth of his state by accepting of his person and sacrifice, and by giving a visible sign of it, so as that Cain could observe it: It is thought that God sent fire from heaven and consumed Abel's sacrifice, as he did when s givernard.

fire from heaven and consumes as he did others a ferruards, Job says. Thou renewest the witnesses against me, Job 10, 17. Thou bringest fresh plagues and judgments upon me, which are the witnesses and evidences both of my sins, and of the consumer against me. In Psal, 89, 37, Chemid thy displeasure against me. 10 Psat. 89. 37. shall be established for ever as the moon, and as a faithful witness in heaven. By faithful witness, some understana the moon, which is called a witness of God's covenant of the night, Jer. 33, 20, so the meaning is. And though the Jer. 33, 20, so the meaning is. And though the mon be subject to eclipses and manifold changes, yet it still abides in heaven, as a witness of my covenant of the night, so shall the house and kingdom of David, who mas a type of the Messiah, continue for ever, notwithstanding the changes and calamites that beful it. Others understand by this the runbow, which is God's faithful and prepetual witness, Gen. 9, 12, 16. Witness is put for the miracles of Christ, which gave testimony to his Deity and Mediatorship, John 5, 36, 110, 25. John 5. 36. | 10. 25.

Greek Lycos; In Hebrew Zeeh; it is a wild creature very well known. The scripture takes notice of these remarkable things of the wolf:

That it lives upon rapine: That it is violent, cruel, and bloody: That it is voracious and greedy: That it goes abroad by night to seek greedy: That it goes abroad by night to seek sts prey: That it is the great enemy of flocks of sheep: That Benjamin shall ravin as a wolf: That false teachers are wolves in sheep: Clothing: That the persecutors of the church, and false pastors, are also rovening wolves. The prophets Jeremiah, Habakkuk, and Zephaniah, speak of the wolves of the evening. It hath been observed that towards evening wolves are most dangerous, as being then more hum-are most dangerous, as being then more hun-gry. Instead of the wolves of the evening, the Setuagint translate it, The wolves of Arabia; because the Hebrew word Arah sig-nifies both the evening and Arabia. Wolves are common in Arabia, but they have nothing peculiar liar in that country; so that there be no reason to have recourse to that can be no reason to have recourse to the translation.

Est to what is said in Gen. 49, 27, that Benjamin shall ravin as a wolf; this denotes the warlike and fierce disposition and carriage of this tribe. The Chaldee interpreters explaint of the altar of burnt-offerings, which was at Jerusalem in the tribe of Benjamin, and upon which they burnt the morning and evening sacrifices to the Lord. Others refer it to that violent seisure which was made by the children of Benjamin, of the young women that came to the service was made by the chimsen, of the young women that came to the tabernacle at Shiloh, ludg. 21, 21, 23. Others again refer it to Mordecai, or to Saul, or to Paul, who were of the tribe of Beniamin jamin. Isauch describing the tranquillity of the reign of the Messiah, says, The noof shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid, &c. 1sa. 11.6. This is to be under-This is to be underthe kid, Sc. 18a. 11.6. This is to be under-stood spiritually, and metaphorically; that is to say, "Men of fierce, cruel, and ungovernable" dispositions, shall be so transformed by the "preaching of the gospel, and by the grace of "Christ, that they shall become most humble," gentle, and tractable, and shall no more ver "and persecute, but shall live and converse in 691 "the same church with other poor Christians" quietly and harmlessly." Persecutors are elsewhere compared to wolves. Mat. 10, 16, Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves. Both Jews and Pagans were at first like ravenous and voracious wolves, let toose against the faithful. They persecuted and put to a violent death almost all the Apostles and disciples of our Saviour. But at last some and disciples of our Saviour. But at last some of these wolves themwives became converts, and grew to be lambs; St. Paul, one of the most caser to resentors of the church, was afterwards one of its most zealous defenders.

The wolf, as it is said, as a fierce creature, abiding in forests, an enemy to cattle, ravenous, greedy, crafty, of an expuisite quickness of smell, hairing an head something square, and his hair inclined to grey. It is commonly said, that what makes him so voracious is, that he that what makes him so voracious is, that he has but one very large, short gut, in which his food stays but a little time: But this is a popular mirtake: His guts are as long as any other animals, or as a dog's, being himself a kind of wild dog.

It times of great famine, when they can get no prey, wolves are said to destroy one awother; for when they meet together, bemoaning themselves are some another.

for when they meet together, beinvaning themselves one to another, as it were by consent, they run round in a civile, and the first which, through giddiness, falleth to the ground, is forthwich derowed by the rest. Whey are frightened at the throwing of stones, at fire, at the sound of bells, and at the singing of men or women. When they set upon sheep, they make choice of a dark, cloudy day, that they may oscape the more sajely; and they go against the wind, to prevent the dogs smelling them. It is said also, that the female bringeth forth one the first year, two the second, and so on till the first year, two the second, and so on till the first year, two the second, and so on till the ninth year. If the young one lap as a dog, she rejecteth it; if it suck the water as a swine, or hite as n bear, she nourishes it. Many other things are said of this animal.

It is recorded that one Gelon of Syracusa, then a It is recorded that one Gelon of Syracusa, then a scholar at school, was thus preserved: A wolf entering the school, sersed on Gelon's writing table and hasted to be gone; Gelon pursued after his table: in the mean time the school-house fell down, whereby both masters and scholars nere all killed, Gelon done being preserved. Many other things are reported of them. Gen. 49 27. Benjamin shall ravin as a w. God having created all the animals in pairs, male and female, and having brought them to Adam, that he might give them names; in this review that Adam made of all living creatures, could not observe that an use of them were the seed of the many seed them were the seed of the s could not observe that any one of them was take himself, or created for him, Gen. 2, 19, 20. But God was pleased to give him a companion and assistant, is he had done to all the other creatures. He therefore cast Adam into a profound sleep, and when he was fast asleep, God took a rib out of his side, of which he formed the woman. When Adam awoke, he perceived it, and cried nut. This is bone of my bones, the woman, When Adam awoke, he perceived it, and cried nut, This is bone of my bones, and llesh of my flesh; she shall be colled by a name derived from that of man, because she is tuken out of man. Wherefore a man shall forsake father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife, and they two shall be one flesh; or, when they different hadies.

nts wife, and they two shall be one nest; or,
"they shall be but one in two different bodies, because of the production of children, which are the blood of both." Gen. 2. 21, 22, 3c.
Some writers have thought, that Adam was created of both sees; because it is said in Gen. 1. 25, 77. Let us make man in our image, after our likeness, and let him have dominion over the fish of the sea: So God created man in his fish of the sea: So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them. He speaks of the work of the sixth day. And in the following chapter he relates the formation of the woman in the manner before mentioned. of the woman in the manner expore mentioned. It is therefore affirmed, that man was already were created even from the tirth day, but joined and justened sidewise to each other; and that afterwards God sent a deep sleep on cleam, and then separated the woman from him; chut they ciplain those words, Gen. 2, 21. He took one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh instead thereof; they translute the Hebrew thus. He took one (woman) out of his side, and put flesh in its place. The opinion that generally prevails is, that the man and woman were created on the sidely day according to 12 and tails is, that the man and woman were created on the sixth day, according to Gen. 1, 27, and that what is related chap. 2, 20, 8c. is only a recapitulation, or a supplement, to what had been before mentioned in a concise manner. Woman was created to be a companion and asfoman was created to be a companion and as-sistant to man: She was equal to him in that authority and jurisdiction that God gave them over all other animals: But after the fall, God made her subject to the government of man. Gen. 3. 16, Thy desire shall be to thy hus band, and he shall rule over thee. Besides the duties prescribed by the law, common to men and women, there were certain regulations weedlar to this sex; a were those lead on men and women, there are certain regulations peculiar to this sex; as were those legal in cleannesses which they contracted during the times of their ordinary infirmities, Lev. 15. 19. and those that attended their lying in, Lev. 12. and those that attended their lying-in, Lev. 12.

2, and those which proceeded from certain fluxes of humours, at those seasons appointed by narwer, Lev. 15. 25. The law also made them liable to the trial of the waters of jealousy, if their husbands had entertained any welf-grounded suspicious of their fidelity, Num. 5.

The prophet Isaiah says, As for my people, women rule over them; that is, weak and effeminate men, Isa. 3, 12, And in chap, 19, 16, In that day shall Egypt be like unto woman; that is, feeble and fearful. The prophet Exektel represents the kingdoms of Israel and means that is a same stock by that is, jeede and jenijut. The primit Eze-kel represents the kingdoms of Israel and Judah, who both sprung from the same stock by two women, the daughters of one mother, Eeck, 23. 2, 44. And in Rev. 12. 1, the church is ripresented by a woman clothed with the sun and the moon under her feet. The church is compared to a woman, as she is the spouse of compared to a woman, as she is the spouse of Christ; and as the woman is the weaker sex, so the church hath always been the weakest part of the world. The Antichristian church is always represented as a woman sitting on a scarlet coloured beast, full of names of blasphemy, Rev. 17. 3, etc. 2.22, and the rib of the man made he a w, 23 she shall be called wishe was taken out of man

In Hebrew, Dabar; in Greek, Rhema, or Logos It signifies, 1. The eternal Son of God, the It signifies, 1. The eternal Son of God, the uncreated Wisdom, the second Person of the most hely Trinity equal and consubstitutial with the lather. The Luangelist John, chap. 1. 1. the Lather. The Lyangelist John, chap. 1. 1.

more expressly than any other has opened the mystery of this WORD, when he tell sus, in the beginning was the Word, was God. The same was in the beginning with God. All things were made by him, and without him was not any thing made that was made. Christ Jesus is celled the WORD, I In represent of his presenthing made that was made. Christ Jesus is called the WORD, (1) In respect of his person, he being the espress image of the Father, as we are told, Ileb. 1. 3. as our words are of our thoughts. (2) In respect of his office, because the Father made known his will to the church in all ages by him, as us declare our minds one to another by our words, John 3. 34. (3) Because the Messiah was called The Word of God by the Jesus. The Chaldee Paraphrasts, the most ancient Jewish writers extant, generally make use of the word MEMICA, which signifies the Word, in those places where Moses puts the name Jebovah. And it is genewhich signifies the Word, in those places where ally thought, that under this term the Paraphrasts would intimate the Son of God, the second result in the Trinity. Now their testimony is so much the more considerable, as having lived before Christ, or at the time of Christ, they are trefragable witnesses of the sentiments of their nation concerning this article, since their Targum, or Explication, has always been, and still is, in moneral esteem amone the Joves. still is, in universal esteem among the Jews, And as they ascribe to Memra all the attributes

And as they ascribe to Memra all the attributes of the Desty, it is concluded from thence, that they believed the diounity of the WORD.

They say, that it was MEMIRA, or the WORD, which created the world; which appeared to Moses on mount Sinan; which gave him the law which had been all the metal. appeared to Moses on mound Sinai; which gate than the low; which spoke to him face to face; which brought Israel out of Egypt; which marched before the people; which wrought all those miracles which are recorded in the book of Exodus. It was the same WORD that appeared Exodus. It was the same WORD that appeared to Abraham in the plain of Manne; that was seen of Jucob at Beth-el, to whom Jacob made his vow, and acknowledged as Cod, Gen. 28. 20, If God will be with me, and will keep me in this way that I go, &c, then shall the Lord be this way that I go, &c. then shall the Lord be my God.

1. The word is taken for what is written in the sacred hooks of the Old and New Testament, Luke 21. 28. Blessed are they that hear the vord of God and keep it. Jam. 1. 22. Be ye down of the word. This is the inspired and created word. 111. For the dir ine law, which teaches and commands good things, and for bids evil. Psal. 129. 101, I have refrained my feet from every evil way, that I night keep thy word. This is the word of precept or commandment. V. For every promise of God, touching any good things, whether temporal or ciernal. Psal. 119. 25. Quicken thou me according to thy word. So in verses 38. 49, Staolish thy word unto thy servant, who is devoted to thy tear. Remember the word unto thy servant, upon which thou hast caused me to hope. This is the word of promise. V. For prophecy, or vision, 1sa. 21, The word that Isaian saw. VI. Word also signifies the command of God. Psal. 147, 18, He sendeth out his word and melieth them; speaking of the ice. One word shall dissolve them. So in Luke 5. 5, Nevertheless at thy word I will let down the net. It was thus the pood Centurion said to Christ. It was thus the good Centurion said to Christ, Wherefore neither thought 1 asyself worthy to come unto thee; but say in a word, and my servant shall be healed, Luke 7. 7. This is a word of authority, ordering things to be done effectually.

In Mat. 4, 3, 4, the devil putting our Saviour upon istat. 3. 3, 4 we cert paining our section apon an unnecessary proof of his devinity, and a dis-trust of God's providence, by desiring him to turn the stones into bread; our Saviour answers him, that man does not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the month of every word that proceeden out of the month of God; that is, by whatsoever the providence of God shall afford, and bless for our support; yeu, a man may live by his power and will only without any means at all, if God so please; or befel by ravens, as Elijoh was; and therefore no man should absolutely rest upon the means, and, with out warrant, run to an extraordinary course for supply, but should trust in Cod, and wait on him to provide us he pleases.

Roon. 14. 20. for meat destroy not the w. of God. Roon. 14. 20. 29, Ints is the hork of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent. The work of redemytion is attributed to the Three Persons of the Trinity, and their acts hersin are of the same extent: The Father leves those that are given to Christ in the evenant of redemytion, and Christs is the Saviour of those that are lived by the Father; and the Spirit sanctifies those that ore justified through the merits of Christ's blood. Thus there is a chain in salvation, the blood. Thus there is a chain in salvation, the beginning is from the Father, the dispensation through the Son, and the application by the Spirit: So in looking after the comfort of election, believers must first look inward to the work of the Spirit on their hearts, then outward to the work of Christ on the cross, then input of the verticating love of the Father in heaven, 1 Pet. 1.2.

By good works one to be understond all manner of the control of the salvation with the control of the salvation.

by good works are to be understood all manner of duties inward and outward, as well thoughts, a words and actions, toward God or man, which are commanded in the law of God, and proceed from a pure heart and foith unfeigned, and are referred unto God's glovy; for it is necessary that good works proceed from right principles, and have right motives and ends, namely, a principle of love to God, the motive of obedi principle of love to God, the morrie of occar-ence to God's law, and the glove of God as the chief end. 1 Cor. 10. 31, Whether therefore ye eat or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God. good works good works, is said, James 2, 24, You see that hy works a man is justified. The Apostle does not there treat of our justification in the sight of God, but of the justification of our faith in the sight of man, and therefore asserts that justification is by works, Yer. 18, I will shew thee my faith by my works, for works justifie our faith, and declare us to be justified before men, who cannut see nor know our faith but by eur works. St. Paul, in his Epistles to the Romans and Galatians, asserts, by many arguments, our justification by faith, that reto the komans and Galatians, assetts, by many arguments, our justification by fatth, that receiver and relies upon the righteourness of Christ, that is, his obedience and sufferings, kom. 3.24, 28. And surely the apostles, being wispired by the same Spirit, cannot be supposed to contradict one another.

posed to contradict one unother.
Man, becouse he is depraved and weakened with original sin, is not able to fulfil the law, and cannot be justified or accepted before God, or account of his works, for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified, Rom. 3, 20, Gal. 2, 16. The righteousness of Christ is the tale meritorious cause of our justification; but thuse that are justified, are also sanctified, and will be careful to maintain good works, for without holiness no man shall see the Lord Heb. 12. 14. Christ's rightcourness, received by faith, and imputed to true believers, is the by fath, and imputed to true believers, is the cause of their justification, and gives them a gracious title to heaven, and sanctification makes them meet for it: beenard says, Bona opers sunt via ad regnum, con causa regnandi, "Good works are the way to the "kingdom, not the cause of entering the "kingdom." " kingdom

In Greek, Cosmos; in Hebrew, Thebal. It is taken for the whole universe; comprehending the heavens, earth, sea, the elements, the angels, men, unimals, in a word, all created being, John 1, 10. The world was made by him. John 1, 10. The world was made by him, It is also put for the race of mankind; sometimes in an extensive sense, for all the posterity of Adam. Rom 5, 12, By one man sin entered into the world, "Sin eame to be "among mankind;" it is a metonymy, the thing containing, being put for the inhabitants contained. Sometimes it is taken in a more restricted events at its laken in a more restricted events. thing containing, being put for the inhabitants contained. Sometimes it is taken in a more restricted sense, as in John 15. 18. it is just for the worked in the world, for unregenerated unrenewed persons. If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you, ye list and savour mething but worldly designs. It is put likewise for God's chosen people, whether Jews or Gentiles. 2 Cor. 5. 19, God was in Christ, reconciling the world to himself. And in John 3. 16, God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son to die in their stead, and give satisfaction for them to his justice. Believers are called the world, both because they are taken from among Jews and Gentiles, and do participate in the corruption of the world. World is put for the Gentles only. Rom. 11. 22, If the fall of them be the riches of the world. The Jews rejecting the goosel, and so falling from being God's people, was the occasion of God's manifesting his abundant grace in the conversion of the Gentles. It is put for sensual lusts and pleasures, for the riches, honours, and dignities of the world. I Jofn 2. 15, Love not the world. It also stands for the good things of this world. In Heb. 2. 5. the apostle calls the gospel-state of the church the world to come. It is put for the Roman empire, Iake 2. 1. Concerning the creation of the world, it is asked if the whole mass of matter was created all at order at the same time; or only in the space of seven days, as Moses describes in the beginning of Genesis? Some interpreters are of opining, that God created all the matter of the universe out of nothing in an instant, by one simple act of his almighty will; but they are not agreed about the other question. Some maintain agrees about the other question. Some maintain that sensible beings were not brought to their full perfection, till after the space of seven days was completed. This opinion is founded upon Moses' narration, who expresses it mean diswas completed. It is obtained by Moses' narration, who expresses it very distinctly. Besides, it cannot be easily conceived that the chaos should settle into any regular order, till after an infinite variety of different order, till after an injunite variety by afferent motions, by which the parts of matter separated from one enother, which were of different and incompatible qualities, and till there should be an union and coalescence of those which were of the same form and nature; and that all those motions could not be performed till after a sufficient space of time.

titt after a sufficient space of time, theres, fearing that consequences contrary to the immutability and omnipotence of the Creutor might be drawn from the opinion of a successive creation, have thought, that nothing should be inferred from Moses' description, but a mental successive and that he only servessive. succession of order, and that he only represents the creation as performed in succession of time. to accommodate himself to the apprehensions of the vulgar, and to give a more intelligible ac the vulgar, and to give a more intelligable ac-count of it. Matter, always obedient to the commands of the Almighty, had no need of preparation. But the first opinion has the greatest number of followers. is also inquired, at what season of the year the world was created? The generality of the fathers think it was created in the Spring. But a great number of others, among whom are the most learned Chronologists, contend that the most learned Chronologists, contend that the world was created in Autumn. They urge, 1. That the Hebrews, the Egyptians, and most of the Orientalt, began this year at Autumn which custom they had received from their avectors, and they from the first men, who would naturally commence their year from the time when the world began. 2, Ween God created Adam and Eve, and all other aximals, he was a provide them with necessary nonvisionent. the many tree, and an other arimats, he was to provide them with necessary nourishment.

Concerning the Jewish year. See MONTH. It is said in Geo, 15, 13, and in Acts 7, 6, that they should entreat them evil four hundred years: But in Exod, 12, 40, it is said, the sojourning of the children of Israel who dwelt Israe, 0, 1. add ye, to v, let them kill sacrifices in Egypt, was four hundred and thirty years.

Zern difference is reconciled by distinguishing the free ecount, which, if taken from Abraham's leaving of Chaldea, and irections the first promise of Canaan, when his Judg. 11, 40, daughters of Israel was y, to lament sojourning did begin; then from that time to the giving of the law, there will be five Anni dred and thirty years, as it is in Exodus:

But if it be token from Abraham's seed, that is, from the birth of Isaac, which was in the hundredth year of Abraham's oge, and so thirty years after his departure from Chaldea, then it must consequently be thirty years less from thence to the giving of the law; and so that will agree exactly with the four hundred years mentioned in Genesis and in the Acts, which are assigned to his seed's sojourning in a strange land; by the strange land both Canaan and I gypt being to be understood; for the Chaldee Paraphrast, and the generality of the Jews, determine the space wherein they sojourned in Egypt, to be but two hundred and fifteen. sojourning did begin; then from that time to and fifteen.

ZEAL

Is a mired passion, composed of grief and anger fervent love and desire; for what a man love earnestly, he is careful to see it honowed, and grieved when it is dishonowed. Phinchs as commended for having expressed much zeal against those wicked persons that violated the law of the Lord, Nam. 25. 11, 13. And in Psal. 69, 9, the Psalmist says, The seal it thine house hath caten me up: "My earnes, "desire to have all things duly ordered about "thy worship, and my just displeasue and in "dignation at all obuses therein, have overcums" me, have wasted my natural moisture and vital spirits."

Zeal is taken either in good or ill part. There may be an eagerness in purning good things.

eal is taken cither in good or ill part. There may be an eagerness in pursuing good things, when neither the end nor manner of doing it is good. Such was the zeal of Jehu, 2 Kings 10. 16 He was eager in executing the commands of God, but he did it to be seen of men: Come, see my zeal for the Lord. Such also was the zeal of those Jevs whom St. Paul speaks of Rom. 10, 2, They have a seal of God, but not according to knowledge, "They have an earaccording to knowledge, "They have an ear"nest desire to maintain the law and worshy
