MURDER
Signifies, [1] The taking away of a man's life unlawfully, Mark 15.7. [2] All cruelty in thought, word, or deed, Mat. 19, 18, 1 John 3, 15. oluntary murder was always punished with death, but involuntary or avcidental murder, acain, our involuntary or accusental murder, among the Hobrews, was only punished by bi-nishment. Cities of refuge were appointed for involuntary manslaughtor, whither they might retire, and continue in safety, till the death f the high-priest; then the offender was at therety to research to his commentary. to return to his own city, and his own house, if he pleased. But as for the voluntary murdeier he pleased. But as for the voluntary mardier, he was put to death without any remission, and the kinsmen of the murdered person might kill him with impunity. Money could not redeem his life; he was dragged away, even from the aitar, if he had taken refuge there, Nun, 35, 27, 28, 31. The ceremony used by the Israelites, when a dead body was found in the ractices, when a acra very acry, fields slain by a murderer unknown, as it is re-corded, Deut. 21. from verse 1.to 9, may inform us, what idea they had of the heinousness of corded, Deut. 21. from verse 1.10 9, may suform us, what idea they had of the hemousness of murder, and how much horror they conceived at this crime; and also the fear they were in, that God might take vengeance for it on the whole country; and of the pollution that the country was supposed to contract, by the blood that was spilt in it, unless it were explated, or revenged upon him that was the occasion of it, if he could by any means be discovered.

Zech. 1.8. and he stood among the m. 10.11. MYSTERY

The word signifies a secret, a mystery ocing a thing kept secre: and hid from our understanding, till it be revealed to us. 1 Cor. 2, 7, We speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, eyen the hidden wisdom. Mysteries are said to be of two vorts: one sort are such as would never have been know. without revelution; but when revealed, may be an a good measure esplayned and understood. Such is the doctrine of the satisfaction of Christ, Such is the doctrine of the satisfaction of Christ, of the resurrection from the dead, of the forgiveness of sins for the sake of Christ's sufferings, and of evernal life in a future world. The other sort of mysteries are those, which when revealed to us, we know the existence, or reality and certainty of them, but cannot comprehend the maner and mode how they are. These are the mystery of the blessed Trinity, and the mystery wither wecenstown of Christ; or the waton of of the incurnation of Christ; or the union of the divine and human natures in one person. The eulling of the Gentiles, which was hid and kest secret for many ages, is called a mystery, Rom, 16. 25. Col. 1. 26, 27. The spiritual union between Christ and his church is called a mystery, because it exceeds human understanding, and is revealed only to the thi-dren of God, Eph. 5. 32. Mark 4. 11. The gospel is called the mystery of godliness, 1 Tim. 3, 16,

The prophecies concerning the person, the coming, the characters, the death and passion, of the Messiah, are to be found in a multitude of places Messiah, are to be found in a multitude of places in the Old Testament, but after a figurative and mystectous manner. The actions, the words, the eye of the prophets were a continual and general prophety, which was conscaled from the eyes of the people, and conctinues from the prophets themselves, and was not explained or discovered, till after the birth and death of Christ, and these mysters are the end of the control of teries were dispensed in so wonderful a method, and by so wise a providence, that the first served as a foundation for the second, and the succeeding gave new light to those that went before. They still improved in clearness and evidence, and the Holy Chost dispensed them by measure, and in due de Cross aspenses them by measure, and then ex-gress. Daniel is more explicit than the prophets hefine him; Hangai, Zechariah, and Malachi, speak of the coming of the drath, and of the presentioned of Jesus Christ, and of the calling of the Gentules, after a more plain and distinct manner than the other prophets before them.

the mysteries of the Christian religion, is that of the blessed Trinity, the incarnation of Christ, his the desised Francy, he take the homen nature, his hippostatical muon with his himan nature, his miraculous birth, his death, resurrection, and ascension, the predestination, and are probation of men; the grace of Jesus Christ, and the manner. of its operation in our hearts; the resurrection of the dead, with all the other mysteries revealed to us both in the Old and New Testament, are the objects of the faith of all true Christians; and the doctrine of the gospel, and these tenets of Christianity were called mysteries, not only became they were secrets which would not have heen known, if the Son of God, and his Holy Spirit had not revealed them to believers, but also because they were not revealed indifferently to every body. The command of our Lord Jesus every body. The communication of the communication in this case put in practice, Give not that which is holy unto dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, Mist. 7. 6. They preached the grapel only to those who seriously desired to be instructed in it; nor did they presently iscover to them all the mysteries of religion; but in proportion as they became copuble to receive then.

To swear falsly, or vithous occasion, and to mingle the name of God in our discourses, we our outly, either falsely, or rashly, or wantendy, or wincestarily, or presumptumsly God forbid to make mention of the names of other gods, Exod. 23. 13. other goas, Lead. 33. 18. He could not to much as have them named, or their names pronounced. The gods of the heathen are nothing at all, therefore the Israelites were to shew nothing but contempt for them: They hardly ever pronounced the name Baal, they distincted it for county to the name baal, they disingured it, for example, by saying, Mephi-bosheth, or Meribosheth, instead of Mephihaal, or Meriboal; where Bosheth signifies something or Methoda; there boshedt signifies something shameful, or contemptible.

To give a name, is a token of command and authority. The father gives names to his children and slaves. It is said, that Adam gave a name to his wife, and to all the animals, and that the name he gave them became their true name. God conged the name of Abram, Jacob and Sarai, which expresses his absolute dominion over all men, and his par ticular benevolence towards those whom he reticular benevolence towards those whom he re-ceives more especially into the number of his own: Hence it was that he gave a name, even before their birth, to some persons whom he appointed for great purposes, and who he-longed to him in a particular manner; such as to dedicial, or Solonon, son of David; to the Messiah, to John the Baptist, &c. o know any one by his name, I know thee by name, Exod. 33, 12, expresses a distinc-

o know any one by his name, I know thee by name, Exod. 33, 12. espresses a distinction, a friendship, a particular familiarity. It is spoken perhaps in allusion to the manner of the kings of the east, who had very little conversation with their subjects; they saw them but seldom, and hardly ever appeared in public: So that when they knew any one of their servourts by name, when they vouchsafed to speak to them, to call them, and to admit them and their necessaries it was extensed as a them into their presence, it was esteemed as a

By obscurity, or darkness, all kinds of adversity and calamity are resembled, as happiness and prosperity are by light, Isa. 58. 10. It is taid, that the Jews, after they were delivered from their dark and calamitous condition in the Babylonish captivity, observed a feast, which they called, The feast of lights; because so great a called, The teast of tights; because so great a happiness of being delivered from bondaga, and of having the service of the temple re-established, broke forth upon them beyond their hope, as the rays of the sun dart themselves through the clouds. Obscurity also signifies spiritual ignorance and blunders, from which God delivers his people, when he bestows upon them the elegan and some knowledge of them. them the clear and saving knowledge of truth, Isa. 29, 18.

The Hebrews had several kinds of offerings, which they presented at the tabernacle and temple. Some were free-will offerings, and others were of obligation. The first-fruits, the Tents, the Sin-offerings, were of obligation; the Peaceofferings, Vows, offerings of wine, oil, bread, and other things which were made to the temand other things which were made to the tem-ple, or to the ministers of the Lord, were offer-ings of devotion. The Hebrews called all of-ferings in general, Corban. But the offerings of bread, salt, fruits, and liquors, as vine and oil, which were presented to the temple, they called Mincha. The offerings of grain, meal, bread, cakes, fruits, wine, salt, oil, were com-mon in the temple and tabernacle. Sometimes these offerings were alone, and cometimes they these offerings were alone, and sometimes they accompanied the sacrifices. There were five ince operings were nione, and sometimes they accompanied the sacrifices. There were five sorts of these offerings, called in Hebrew, Mincha. 1. Fine flour or meal. 2. Cakes of teveral sorts, baked in an oven. 3. Cakes baked several worts, baked in an oven. 3. Cakes buked upon a plate. 4. Another sort of enkes baked upon a gradiron, or plate with holes in it. 5. The first-fruits of the new corn, which were offered either pure and without mixture, or roasted or parched in the ear, or out of the ear. The cakes were kneaded with oil-olive, or fried in oil in a pan, or only dipped in oil after they were baked. The bread offered to be presented upon the altar, was to be without leaven, for leaven was never offered upon the altar, nor with the sacrifices; partly to put them in mind of leaven was never offered upon them in mind of their deliverance out of Egypt, when they were forced through haste to take away their meal unleavened; partly to signify what Christ would have they though he mare and free from the and what they should be, pure and free print when the arm of the print all error in the faith and worship of God, and from all hypocrisy and malice, or wickedness, all which are signified by leaven, Mat. 16, 12. Mark 8, 15, 1 Cor. 5, 8, Gal. 5, 9.

Anna 6, 10. 1 Cor. 5. 6. Cat. 5. 9.
The offerings now mentioned were appointed in favour of the poorer sort, who could not go to the charge of sneething animals: And even those that offered living victims were not excused from giving meal, wine, and salt, which was to go along with the greater sacrifices: And also those that offered only oblations of bread, or of meal sincerity of grace, which in scripture is signified by sale, Mark 9. 49. Col. 4. 6. and which is necessary in all them that would offer an acceptable offering to God; or in testimony of that communion which they had with God in these exercises of his worship; salt being the great symbol of friendship in all nations and ages. The priest in waiting teceived the offer-ings from the hand of him that offered them. incs from the hand of him that offered them, lead a part of them upon the altar, and reserved the rest for his own subsistence: That was his right as a minister of the Lord: Nothing was quite burnt up but the incesse, of which the priest kept back nothing for his own shure.

When on Israelite offered a loaf to the priest or a whole cake, the priest broke the loaf or cake or a whole cake, the priest broke the loof or eake into two parts, setting that part aride that he reserved to himself, and broke the other into crumbs, poured oil upon it, salt, wine, and increase, and spread the whole upon the fire of the altar: If there offerings were accompanied by an animal for a sacrifice, it was all thrown upon the victim, to be consumed along with it. If these offerings were the ears of new corn, either of wheat or bailey, these ears were parehed at the fire, or in the flame, and rubbed in the hand, and then offered to the pries in a vessel; over which he put oil, inceuse, wine, and salt, and then burnt it upon the altar, first having taken as much of it as of right belonged to himself.

Me greatest part of these offerings were volun-

The greatest part of these offerings were voluntary, and of pure devotion. But when an animal was offered in sacrifice, they were not at liberty to omit these offerings: Every thing was to be supplied, that was to accompany the sacrifice, and which served at a seasoning to the victim five of Thanksgiving. The Holocaust was offered and quite burns up on the altar of burnt-offerings, without any reserve to the person that gave the victim, or to the priest that killed and savrificed it; only the priest that killed and sacrinced it; only the priest had the benefit of the skin; for before the sacrifices were offered to the Lord, their skins were flayed off, and their feet and entrails were washed, Lev. 7.8.

rification of a man who had fallen into an offence against the law, was not entirely consu into any med upon the fire of the altar. Nothing of it returned to him that had given it, but the racrificing priest had a share in it, and these are the particulars that were observed in this case; If it were the high-priest who had offended through sonorance, he offered a case without blemish: He brought it to the door of without blemish: He brought it to the door of the tabernacle, put his hand upon the head of the sacrifice, confessed his sin, asked pardon for it, killed and stuck the calf, carried its blood into the tabernacle, with his finger made seven aspersions towards the veil that separaseven aspersions towards the veil that separated the holy place from the sonetuary, put a little of this blood upon the alter of incense, and afterwards poured out all the rest at the foot of the alter of burnt-offerings: After this he took away the fat that covered the kidneys, the liver, and the bouchs; he put the whole upon the fire of the alter of burnt-offices; and as to the skin, the feet, the bowels, and the flesh of the tarrifice, he caused them to be burnt out of the camp, m a clean place, where they used to put the ashes that were taken away from the alter of burnt-sacrifices, Lev. 4.3, 4, &c.

ken away from the altar of burnt-sacrifices, Lev. 4.3, 4,6c.

f it were the Thole people that had offended, they were to offer a calf in like manner. The elders brought it to the dow of the tabernacle, put their nands upon its head, and confessed their offence; after which the priest stuck the victim, and did with it as has been said of the sin-offering of the high-priest, Lev. 4.13, 14. &c. 14, 50.

If a prince or ruler had offended, he offered a goat, brought it to the door of the tabernacle, put his hand upon its head, and confessed his put his hand upon its head, and confessed his in. The priest sacrificed it, put of the blood of the tictim upon the horns of the altar of burnt-offerings, pouted out the rest of the blood at the bottom of the same altar, and the rest of the sacrifice was for himself: He was obliged to cot it in the tabernacle, and was not allowed to carry any of it without, Lev. 4. 22, 23. 3c.

mieted an offence, he offered a sheep, or a sne goal without blemish. If he was not of ability to offer a sheep or a she-goat, he offered two twitles, or two young pigeous, one for his sin, the other or two young pigeous, one for his sin, the other for a burnt offering. But if he was so poor as that he could not afford to offer either o there, he might offer the tenth part of an cphah inete, he might offer the tenth pare of an ephah of meal, that is, a little more than a gallon, without oil or spice. He presented it to the priest, who took a handful of it, and three it upon the fire, and the rest was for himself, Lev. 5. 6, 7, &c.

he Peace-offering was offered to return thanks to God for his benefits, or to ask favours from him, or to satisfy any one's private devotion, or for the honour of God only. The Israelites of fered them when they pleased, and there was no law that obliged them to it. It was free to It was free to them to present what animals they would, pro-vided they were such as it was allowed them to sacrifice. In these sacrifices no distinction was to sacrifice. In these sacrifices no distinction was observed either of the age or set of the cictim, as was required in the burnt-sacrifices, and the sacrifice for sin, the law only required that their victims should be without blemish, Lev. 3. 1. He that presented them came to the door of the tabernacle, put his hand upon the head of the victim and killed it. The pricit The pricit poured out the blood about the alter of burntofferings; burnt upon the fire of the alter the ogerings; burn upon the pre of the attar the fat which overs the kidney, the liver, and bouels; and if it were a lamb, or a rain, he added to it the rimp of the animal, which in that country is always very fat. Before these things were set in order upon the fire of the altar, the pisest put them into the hands of the person that provided the victim, then made the person that provided the victim, then made him lift them up on high, and wave them to-wards the four quarters of the world, the priest supporting and directing his hands. The breast and the right shoulder belonged to the priest that performed the service; all the rest of the sacrifice belonged to him that pre-sented it to the priest, and he might cat it with his family and friends, as any other mean. meat ose sacrifices, in which they set at liberty a bird, or goat, were not properly Sacrifices; because there was no shedding of blood, and the victum remained alive and sound. It was the victum remained alive and wound. It was thus they set at liberty the sparrow that was offered for the purification of a leper, or of a house spotted with leprosy. They presented to the priest a couple of sparrows, or two clean birds, with a bundle made up of cedar-wood and hyssop, and tied with a scarlet string: The priest killed one of the birds over running water, which was in a clean vessel of fresh earth; ofterwards, tying the living sparrow to the bundle of cedar and hyssop, with the tail turned towards the landle of the vessel, he tail turned towards the landle of the vessel, he findled in it will be water developed with the plunged it in the water drenched with the blood of the first sparrow, sprinkled the leper or the house with it, then set the living sparor the house with it, then set the living spar-row at liberty, and let it go where it pleased Lev. 14.4, 5, 5, e.

The other sort of animal that was set at liberty was a goat; and this is the occasion upon which it was done: On the day of solemn expiation, the multisude of the children of Issael presented to the high-priest at the door of the tabernucle two goats for a sin-offering. The high-priest then cast lots upon the two goats which should be set at liberty, or be the Scane-coat, the be set at liberty, or be the Scape-goat, the Azazel, as the Hebrews call it. He that was Azazel, at the liebrews call st. He that was determined by lot to be sacryficed, was put to death, and offered for the sins of the people. He that was to be set at liberty was brought alive before the Lord. The high-priest said over him certain prayers, luid his two hains upon his head, conjessed the sins of the whose congregation, charged therewith the head of the goat with imprecations, then sent him into the wilderness by a man appointed for that office, Lev. 16. 5, &c. The scape-goat did bear upon him all their polynities, to a land not inhavittlerness by a man appointed.
Lev. 16. 5, &c. The scape-goat did bear upon him all their iniquities, to a land not inhabited.

Both the birds and goats typpied.

ich were the sacrifices of the Hebrews: Sacriuch were the survivees of the Medieus. Sacti-fices zery imperfect, and altogether incapable of themselves to purify the defilements of the soul. The apostle l'aul has comprehended the sacrifices, and the other ceremonies of the law under the character of weak and beggarly elements, Gal. 4.9. They represented grace unpurity, but they did not communicate it. They constinued the source of the necessity that uses encumbent on him, to purify himself, and of a satisfaction to be made to God; but they did not impart grace to him. But all these bactices use no other than prophecies and figures at Christ Jesus, the true Christian Sacrifice, which eminently includes all the virtues and qualities of the ather sacrifices; being at the same time an Holocaust, a Sacrifice for Sin, and a Sacrifice of Thanksgiving; but with this difference, that it contains the whole this difference, that it contains the whole substance and efficacy, of which the ancient sacrifices were only the shadow and representation

Job 22.15.the o. w. which wicked men have trodden OLDNESS.

Rom.7.6. that we should not serve in o. of the letter OLIVE

Is a tree full of fatness, which yields plenty of oil. The church of the Jews is compared to an Olive-tree, Jer. 11, 16. When God brought them into Canaan, he fixed them in a flourishing and prosperous state and condition, so that

them into Canaan, he fixed them in a flourishing and prosperous state and conditions, so that they were in a capacity both to have done much good to themselves, and to have brought him much glory, like a beautiful green olive-tree, fit to bear fair and goodly fruit.

There are two kinds of Olive-trees, the wild and natural, and those that require care and culture. The cultivated Olive-tree is of a moderate height, its trunk is knotty, its bark smooth, and of an ask-colour, its wood is solid and yellowish, the leaves are oblong, and almost like those of the willow, of a green colour, dark on the upper side, and white on the under side. In the month of June it puts out white flowers that grow in bunches: Each flower is of one piece, widening upwards, and dividing into four parts. After the flower succeeds the first fewer, then pole, and lastly black, when it is quite ripe: In the fieth of it is included a hard stone, full of an oblong seed. The wild Olive differs from this, in that it is smaller in all its parts.

ORACLE

1s by some taken for the Propitiatory, or Mercyseat, by translating the Hebrew word Caphoreth, Exod. 25. 18, 20. by Oracle: This word comes from the werb Caphar, which signifies to explate, to pardon sins, to cover: I may be rendered by a Covering, for it was the cover of the art of the community of the sacred be rendered by a Covering, for it was the cover of the ark of the covenant, or of the sacred chest in which the laws of the covenant were shut up. And perhaps by translating Caphoreth by propitintory or mercy-seat, it may be insi-nuated that from thence the Lord heard the vows and prayers of his people, and pardoned them their sins. And by translating it Oracle they would show, that it was from thence that God manifested his will and wheaver and saw God manifested his will and pleasure, and gave responses to Moses.

Oracle is taken for the sanctuary, or for the most holy place, wherein the ark of the covenant was deposited, I Kings 6. 5, 16, 17.

It is taken also for the Oracles of false gods; the most famous of which in Palestine was that of Baal-zebub, the god of Ekron, which the lews themselves of the west to consult & Kings. the most famous of which in Palestine was that of Baal-zebub, the god of Ekron, which the Jews themselves eften went to consult, 2 Kings 1.2, 3, 6, 16. There were also Teraphinus, as that of Micah, meutioned, Indg. 17, 5. and the false gods adored in the kingdom of Samaria, which had their false prophets, and consequently their oracles, whether these oracles were really delivered by the assistance of the detail, or that the priests and false prophets imposed upon the people, making them believe they were inspired, though they only spoke by their own reducing spirit.

Some have ascribed to Demons, all the oracles of antiquity; others have imputed them to the knavery of the priests; and others have pretended, that there were several kinds of oracles: Some were illusions and tricks of the devil; others were the effects of the jugging and contrivance of the priests. The Scripture affords examples of these sorts of oracles. Balaam, at the instigation of his own spirit, and urged on hy his avorice, fearners to low the recoverse that he was example.

own spirit, and urged on by his avariec, fear-ing to lose the recompence that he was promised by Balak, king of the Moabites, suggests a diabolical expedient to this prince, of gests a dispotent expedient to this prince, of making the Israelites to fall into idolutry and fornication, by which he assures him of a certain victory, or at least of a considerable advantage against the people of God, Num. 24, 14, 31, 16.

Micalah, the son of Ipilah, a prophet of the Lord, says, "That he sow the Almighty sitting upon his throne, and all the host of heaven round about him; and the Lord said, who upon his throne, and all the host of heaven round about him; and the Lord said, who shall tempt Ahab, king of Israel, that he may go to war against Raunothegliead, and fall in 1 Chr. 9.22. Co, and thou shalt prevail," I Kings 22. This dialogue prover these two things: First, that the devil could do nothing by his own power, and secondly, that with the permission of God he could inspire the false prophets, corcerve, and magicians, and make them velver fehe oracles. Among the Jews there were several soits of read oracles. [1] They had oracles that were delivered viva voce, as when God spake to Moses face to face, and as one friend speaks to another, Num. 12, 8. [2] Prophetical dreams sent by God; as the dreams which God sent to Joseph, and which foretold his future greatness, Gen. 37, 5, 6, [3] Visions. as when a prophet in an extany, being neither properly asleep nor awake, had supernatural revelations, Gen. 15, 1, 46, 2, Num. 12, 6, [4] The oracles of Urim and Thummim, which was in the Ephod, or Vectoral, worn by the high-priest, and which God enduced with the gift of foretelling things to come. This manwas in the Ephod, or Vectoral, worn by the gift of foretelling things to come. This manner of enquiring of the Lord was often made not of, from Joshua's time, to the erection of the temple at Jerusalem, 1 Sam. 23.9.

30.7. [5] After the building of the temple, they generally consulted the prophets, who were frequent in the kingdom of Judah and Israel. These oracles of truth had nonecessery connection either with time, or place, or any other irrumstance, or with the personal qualifications and merit of the person by whom they were uttered: The high-priest clothed with the Ephod and Pectoral gave a true ansuer, what mere were was the manner of his life. Sometime he gave an answer without knowing clearly himself what was the nubject of the question, he was consulted about. Caiaphas pronounces an oracle relating to our Lord Jesus Christ, whom he hated, and whose destruction he dean oracle relating to our Lord Jesus Christ, whom he hated, and whose destruction he desired, and an oracle which he understood not himself, John 11. 49, 50, 51, Ye know not hing at all, nor coosider that it is expedient for us, that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not. To which is added, And this spake he not of himself, but being high-priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for the nation. that nation.

At the time of the planting of the Christian church, the gifts of prophecy and inspiration were very common: Christ Jesus, our great Prophet and High-Priest has himself taught us Prophet and High-Priest has himself staught us the mind and will of God about the way of our salvation, and by his Holy Spirit has inspired persons, chosen on purpore, to pen the doctrine which he taught in the Scriptures of the New Testament, and to open and unfold the mysteries of the Old: These revelations are the oracles, which Christians are to consult at all times, especially in all matters of moment and difficulty, and in the great affairs relating to their wouls and another life, Heb. 5, 12.

Is an upright, tall, fruit-bearing, flourishing, and shadowy tree, Psal. 92. 12. Caut. 7. 7, 8. Jer. 10. 5. It grows by the weet springs of waters, and continues long. It will not be pressed or bound downward, or grow crooked, though heavy weights be laid on it. This tree is one of the most fameus of all the forest, and is the usual tablem of constancy, fruitfulness, patience, and most Jameta of all the forest, and is ne usual emblem of constancy, fruitfulness, patience, and victory; which the more it is oppressed, the more it flourisheth; the higher it grows, the stronger and broader it is in the top. Some think it is the same with the Date-tree, which think is is the same with the Date-tree, which is not only of a beautiful aspect, but of a delightful taste, and is fit hold for food and drink; and this was perhaps the reason why the children of Israel pitched their camp at Elim. Num. 32. 9, because there were not unly twelve fountains of water there, but also three-score and ten Palm-trees. The Hebrews called it Thamar, and the Greeks, Phuowix Theinest and best Palm-trees were about Jericho, Engedi, and along the banks of Jordan. Palm-trees, from the same root, produce a great number of suckers, which form upwards a kind of forest by their spreading. It was under a little wood of Palm-trees of this kind that the number of suckers, which form upwards a kitud of forest by their spreading. It was under a little wood of Palm-trees of this kind that the prophetess Deborah dwels between Ramah and Bethel, Judg. 4, 5.

Beth-el, Judg. 4. 5. It was probably to this multiplication of the Palmtree that the prophet makes allusion, when he says, The righteous shall flourish like the Palotree, Psal. 92. 12. Or, it is made an emblem of a just man's person and condition, because it iconstantly green, flourishing, and fruisful.

a plant, or kind of bulrush, which grows in Egypt upon the banks of the Nile: The Egypregypt upon the banks of the Nile: The Egyptians applied it to several uses, as to make baskets, shoes, clothes, little boats to swim in upon the Nile, and paper to write on; it was of this that the little ark was made, in which the parents of Moses exposed him upon the banks of the Nile.

As to the writing-paper made use of by the anis to the writing-paper made the of oy the an-cients, it was very different from that in use amongst us, and was composed of the leaves of the paper-reeds, from whence it has its name. This is said to be their manner of working it. This is said to be their manner of working it. The trunk of this plant is composed of several leaves or films placed one over another, which were peeled off, and separated with a meedle: They were afterwards stretched out upon a testable, to the length and breadth of the intended table, to the length and breath of the intended lanf of paper; Over the pirst layer of the leaves of paper they put some than parte, or only some of the middy water of the Nile a little warmed, now which they spread a second layer of the leaves of the plant; Then they let it dry by the sun. The Ugyptians applied the paper-reeds to several uses, as to make baskets, show, clothes, bittle base to several. little boats to scinin in, and paper to write on.

This word is formed from the Greek, Parabolo, which comes from the verb Parabellein, signifying to compare things together. It is a similarine taken from natural things, to instruct us in the knowledge of things spiritual. The parabolism'

26. 7. The legs of the lame are not equal, so is a parable in the mouth of fools; that is, As it is uncomely and ridiculous to see a lame man dancing : no less absurd and indecent are wise and dancing on less abstrained and indecent are wise and poors speeches from a foolish and ungodly man, whose actions grossly contradict them, whereby he makes them contemptible, and himself ridiculous. The prophets made use of Parables, to give a stronger impression to prince and people, of the threatenings, or of the promises they made to them. Nathan reproved David under the parable of a tich man that had taken away and killed the lamb of a poor man, 2 Samuel 12, 2, 3, 6c. The woman of Tekoah, that was hired by Joak to reconcile the mind of the same prince towards his son Absalom, proposed to him the parable of her two sons that fought together in the fiest, and one of which having killed the other, they were going to put the murderer to death, and so to deprive her of both her sons at once, 2 Samuel 14, 2, 3, &c. In than, son of Gideon, proposed to the men of Jotham, son of Gideon, proposed to the men of Shechem, the parable of the bramble, whom the trees had a mind to choose for their king, Judges trees had a mind to choose for their king, Judges 9, 7, 8, &c. The prophets of ten reprove the infidelity of Jerusalem under the parable of an adulterous wife. They describe the violence of Social condens the names of the people of Cod, under the names of livns, eagles, bears, &c.

Our Saviour in the gospel often speaks to the people on parables, Matthew 13, 10, 13, &c. He made use of them to verify the prophecy of Isaiah, who overfold, that the people should see without knowing, and hear verthout understanding, and should continue in their blindness and hardness of heart, in the midst of the instructions they should rein the midst of the instructions they should re-ceive, Isa. 6. 9, 10. There are some parables in the New Testament, which are supposed to he true histories; there are others in which our Saviour seems to allude to some particular events PASSOVER This word comes from the Hebrew worb, pasach, which signifies to pass, to leap, or skip over. They gave the name of Passover to the feast which was established in commensoration of the coming forth out of Egypt, because the night before their departure, the destroying angel, who slew the first-born of the Egyptians, passed and stew the inscisor of the tell person are over the Israelites, because they were marked with the blood of the lamb which was killed the evening before; and which for this reason was evening before; and which for this reason was called the Paschal Lamb.

I was typical of the justice of God's passing over and sparing such who are sprinkled with the blond of Christ, I Cor. 5.7. As the destroying angel passed over the houses marked with the blond of the paschal lamb, so the wrath of God passes over them whose souls are sprinkled with the blond of Christ. The paschal lamb was killed before Israel was delivered; so it was necessary Christ should suffer before we could be redeemed. It was killed before Moses' law, or Anron's sactifiees, were enjurned; to shew, that deliverance comes to mankind by none of them, but only by the true Passover, that Lamb of God, slain from the foundation of the world. Rom. 3. 25. Heb. 9, 14. It was killed the first mouth of the year, which prefigured thas Christ should suffer death in that month, John 18. 28. It was killed in the evening, Exod. 12. 6. So Christ suffered in the last days, and at that time of the day, Mat. 27. 46, 11eb. 1. 2. At even also the sun sets, wheeh shews, that iwas the Sun of righteousness who was to suffered at the a this pastion invivered. called the Paschal Lamb. was the Sun of rightenusness who was to suffer and die; and that at his passion universal durkness should be upon the whole earth, lake 23. 44. The passover was roast with fire, to note the sharp and dreadful pains which Christ should suffer, not only from men, but from God also. It was to be eaten with bitter herbs, Exod. 12. 8. not only to put them in remem-Exod. 12. 8. not only to put them in remem-brance of their bitter bondage in Egypt, but also to terrify our mortification to sin, and reads ness to undergo afflictions for Christ, Col. 1,24, and likewise to teach us the absolute necessite of true repentance in all that would profitable feed on Christ.

PEACE.

This word is used in the scripture in different ways, as, (1) There is peace, or reconciliation with God: [1] By satisfaction for sins committed against him; this is done by the suffering, and merits of Christ, Eph. 2. 14. (11) There is peace with ourselves or our own consciences, s peace with ourselves or our own consciences, a thir arises from a sense of our reconciliation to God, which is the gift of Christ, and wrough in us by his Spirit, Rom. 14, 17. Phil. 4, 7 [2] Submission to the will of God, Job 22, 21 (111) Peace with men; [1] Mutual concord and agreement with Christian brethren, Psal 34, 14. Gal. 5, 22. [2] Deliverance or safety from such as are our enemies, Prov. 16, 7, Peace is opposed to war, when a state or kingdom snjoys a public tranquillity, when they are free from foreign and civil wars, 2 kings 20, 19. It is likewise token for the public tranquillity and quee, state of the chirch, when it is not troubled within by schisms and heresies, or verthout, by persecuting tyrouts, filling all with tunnilts, slanghters and bloody wars, I'sal, 1e2. 6. Acts 9. 31. Rev. 6. 4. Sometimes is signifies a league or curenant between one prince and another, 1 kings 5. 12. and sometimes only a cersotion of hostilities, Judg. 4, 17. The Paul, in the titles of his episites, generally ajwstle uisheth for grave and peace to the faithful to whom he writes, Rom, 1, 7, 1 Cor. 1, 3, This es buth a christian saintation, and an apostule val ministerial benediction; that is, I wish that the free, undeserved live and favour of loud, and a lively sense thereof in your souls, may be continued to, and increased in you; and that as a frust of this, you may enjoy all blessings, both inward and outward, especially peace incy, outh niwara and ontwara, expectatily peace of constituee, and a scene enjoyment of the love of God. Lastly, peace is put for that perfect rest, joy, ad felicity, which the same enjoy in heaven, where they are out of the reach enemies to disturb or molest them, Isa. 57. 2

PERICOSP.
This word is derived from the Greek word Pentecosp.
This word is derived from the Greek word Pentecoste, which signifies the fiftieth, because the feast of Pentecost was celebrated the fiftieth day after the sixteenth of Nisan, which was the second day of the feast of the passover. The Hebrews call it the Feast of Weeks, Exod. 34. 22. because it was kept seven weeks after the passover.

passiver, in the sixteenth day of the month Nisan, or March, the wave-offering of the first sheaf was to be made, to implore the devine blessing upon the ensuing harrest, which began about that time; that climate being so much warmer and farwarder than ours: And hity day, being allowed with that for the getting in all their corn; that is, the revaining fifteen in Nisan, (March) and twenty-nine in Lair or 2M (April) the sixth of Sivan (May) would be the day of Pentecost: When they were to hold the solemn festival of thanksgiving, for their participation of the harvest, together with a grateful commemoration of their being delivered from Ugyptian servitude, and enjaying their process, by reaping the fruits of their lobours, perty, by reaping the fruits of their lobours. perty, by reaping the fruits of their labours, Lev. 23. 10, 11, &c. The learned have ob-served, that the very day of Pentecost was the same day on which God delivered the law from same day on which God delivered the law from mount Sinai, Exod. 19, 11, as it was that, on which the apostles were filled with the Holy Chost, and the gaspel was attended with remarkable succest, Acts 2, 1.

They fasted often, made long prayers, paratheir tithes scrupulously, distributed much alma, had been also become the control of the control their times symposising, and corrupted by a but all this was rituated and corrupted by a spirit of pride, ostentation, hypocrisy, and self-live. Like to whitened sepulchies, they ap-peared benutiful without, whilst within was no peared beautiful without, whilst within was no toing but corruption and deforming. Mat. 23.

27. They wore large rolls of parchment upon their foreheads and wrists, on worth were written certain words of the law; and affected to have fringes and borders at the corners and homs of their garments, broader than the wher Jews wore, as a badge of distinction, and as greater observers of the law than others.

In matters of religion, the traditions of the ancients were the chief subject of their studies; and to these they made additions of their own, as they though fit, making their own opinion to puss for traditions of the ancients. By this means they had occluded addition of the world with a wast number of triffing observance,

Mat. 23, 14. He also reproaches them with compassing sea and land to make a proselyte, or to contert a Gentile: and after that to make him still a greater sinner than he was before, by teaching him a permicious doctrine, and making him more opposite to the gospel, instead of shearing him the true paths to piety, Mat. 23, 15. He says, they affect to build up the tombs of the old prophets, and openly to declare, that they disoppose of the actions of their forefathers who persecuted them, while they themselves were actuated by the same spirit, and oppose all thus that would reclaim them from the enormaties, Mat. 23, 29, Luke 11, 47, 48.

Acts 17, 18, then certain p, encountered him, and said PHYLACTERIES.

This word comes from the Greek and signifies, Things to be especially observed. These Phylacteries were certain little boses, or certain rolls of parchinent, wherein were written certain words of the law. These the Jews were upon their for cheads, upon their wrists, and the hem of their garments, which custom is founded upon what you read in Exod. 13, 9, 16, and in Num. 15, 38, 39. The Pharisees affected to have their Phylacteries broader than the other Jews work, as a badge of distinction, and Jews were, as a badge of distinction, and through estentation, which is that our Suviour

The chirch is called the pillar of truth, 1 Tim

3.15. It holds forth the mind of Christ, as a pillar does an edict, or proclamation, that air may take notice of it; so that the truths of God are published, supported, and kept from sinking by it, but do not derive their authority from it by it, but do not derive their authority from it.

Is an offering up of our desires to God for things limital and needful, with an humble confidence to obtain them through the alone mechation of Chits, to the praise of the mercy, truth, and power of God, Mat. 6. 6. John 16. 23, 24, 26. It is either mental, or vocal, ejaculatory, or occusional, either private, or public; for our selves, or others; for the procuring of god things, or the removing, or reventing of things eith, 1 'l'im. 2, 1, 2. As lied is the only object of prayer, Psul. 50, 15, and as we must now tor others, as will as for ourselves, Jamurou to the outer of the outer of ject of prayer, Psol. 50, 15, and as we must pray for others, as well as for ourselver, Jam 5, 16, so we are to pray fervently, Col. 4, 12 sincerely, Psal. 17, 1, constantly, Col. 4, 12 sincerely, Psal. 17, 1, constantly, Col. 4, 22 with faith, Jam. 5, 15, and mu without reper times, Psal. 66, 18, Jer. 36, 7, and by the help of the Holy Spriit, Rom. 8, 26, Tayer comes from a word in the Hebrew, which signifies appeal, interpellation, intercession; whereby we refer our own cause, and that of others, unto God as indee, calling upon him, appealing to him, or right, presenting ourselves and our cause unto him. The prayers that we direct to God, are the ordinary conveyance of the graess that we receive from him: Christ himself, the great example of the rightcour, one of the elect, taught us to pray, to inform, that it is by that we honour God, and dian down upon ourselves his favours ond graees. We pairs of Prayer are said to be invocation, down upon ourselves his favours and graces, the poits of Prayer are said to be invocation, adoration, confession, petition, pleading, dedication, thanksgiving, and blessing.

PREDESTINATE.

This word is taken for the design that God has been pleased to have from all eternity, of bringing by his free grace to faith and etendaduration, some certain persons, whom he loved advotton, some certain persons, whom he loves on Christ; whilst he leaves others to continue in their impledity, or in their corruptions: Whose that are so left are the Reprohate, and the others are the Elect, or Predestinated.

Rom. 8, 29, for whom he did foreknow, he did p. 30, and whom he did p. them he also called PREDESTINATED.

The Vriest under the law was a person conservated and ordoined of God, not only to teach the people and pray for them, but also to offen up sacrifices for his own sins, and those of the people, Lev. 4. 5, 6.

The Vriesthood was not annexed to a certain family, still after the promutegation of the law of Moses. Before that time the first-born of every family, the fathers, the princes, the kings, were priests, born in their city and in this house. Cain and Abel, Noah, Abraham, and Joh. The ordinary priests served immediately at the aitar, offered the sacrifices, killed and flayed them, and soured their blood at the foot of the altar, 2 Chioo. 29, 34, 35, 11. They kep to a continual fire upon the altar of burnt sacri-a continual fire upon the altar of buint sacri-fices, and in the lamps of the golden caudi-stick that was in the holy place; they kneaded the loaves of the shew-bread, baked them, offered them upon the golden altar, and changed them every sabbuth day. One of the chief employments of the priests, nest to attending upon the sacrifices and the service of the temple, was the instruction of the people; the distinguishing the several sorts of leprosy, the causes of disorce, the waters of jealousy, rows, the uncleannesses that were contracted setrees, the uncleannesses that were contracted several ways; all these were brought before the priests, Lev. 13, 13, Num. 5, 14, 15, Ilos. 4, 6, Mal. 2, 7.

The high priest only had the privilege of entering into the sanctuary once a year, which was the day of solemn expiation, to make atonement for any of soiemn explation, to make atonement for the sins of the whole people, Lev. 16. 2, 3, 4, &c. God had also appropriated to his person the oracle of his truth; so that when he was ha-bited with the proper ornaments of his dignity, and with the Urim and Thuonoim, he gave answers to the questions made to him, and God discovered to him secret and figure things. Frod discovered to him secret and future things, Exod.

The term Priest is most properly given to Christ, of whom the high-priests under the law were types and ngures, he being the High-priest, especially ordained of God, who, by the sacrifice of himself, ance alogered by himself, and alog with interession, might reconcile unto, and for eter kep in favour with God, all time believers, Heb. 7, 17, [9, 11, 12, 24, 25.

The word is also applied to every true believer, who is enabled to offer up himself spiritual sacrifices of prayer and praise to God, through Jesus Christ, 1, Pet. 2, 5, Rev. 1, 6.

19. Christ preached to the sinners of the old world by Noah, whom he inspired that he might be a preacher of righteounness, to warn that wicked generation of approaching judgments, and exhort them to repentance; whose souls, because of their disobedience, are reserved in the internal prison of hell, and were so at the time when the Apostle Peter wrote his epistle.

This is said of the contempt and abuse of holy things 1 if man who is defiled, and touches ony sacred thing pollutes or profanes 11. If profane person is one openly wicked. He that makes a yest of sacred things, who defiles himself by impure and shameful actions, is a profane person, lev. 21. 9, 12, The scripture calls Esau, pro-fane, because he sold his birth-right, which was considered as an holy thing, not only become the priesthood was annexed to it, but also because it was a privilege leading to Christ, and a type of his title to the heavenly inher-tance, 116, 12, 16. The priests of the race of Aaron were enjoured to distinguish between sarred and profaue, between pure and defiled, 10. 10. and for this reason the use of wine was forbid them in the temple, during their time of waiting. It was forbid them to keep the fiesh of the peace-offerings above two days, if they cat of it on the third day, they were punished as profauers of holy things, Lev.

To profame se temple, to profame the sabbath, to profame the altar, are expressions to detaile the violation of the holy vist of the subbath, the entering of foreigners into the temple, the irevertness that are committed there, the imposses inertifies that are offered on the altar of the Lord. To profane a rine, or a tree, is to make them common, and proper to be employed in ordinary uses, Deut, 20, 6. What man is be the set of the carties of the set of the s entering of foreigners into the lemple, the irevertices that are committed there, the improvement that are removed there, the improvement to the act of the Lard. To profave a vine, or a tree, is to make them common, and proper to be employed in ordinary uses, Deut. 20. 6. What man is be that hath planted a vineyard, and hath not ver profaned it. In Lev. 19. 23, 24, 4c. where Moses passes a law concerning the fruit of trees newly planted, he expressed the impurity of the first-fruits, by calling them macricomersed. For the three first years these fruits were cut off as impure: The fourth year they offered what was produced in the temple: slud in the pith year the ower had the liberty of making use of the fruit as his own, which then became profane, or common. word of bestowing blessings upon his people, 2

Pet. 1. 4. The word in the New Testament's often taken for those promises that God hereto
for emade to Abraham and the other patriarchs of sending the Messiah. It is in this sense that the apostle Paul commonly west the word promise, Romans 4. 13, 14. Galations 3. 16.
The promises of the new covenant are called better than those of the old, 14bc, 86, because they are more spiritual, clear, extensive, and universal, than those in the Mosaical covenant were. The time of the promise, Acts 7. 17, is the time of Dan those in the automated coverant were. The time of the promise, Acts 7, 17, is the time of the fulfilling of the promise. God had told Abram, Genesis 15, 13, 14, that his seed should be a stranger in a strange land, but that after four hundred years he would bring them out four hundred years he would bring them out thence; the time of the promise came, when these four hundred years were expired. The children of the promise are, [1] The Israelites descended from Isaac, in opposition to the Isbanalites descended from Isaac and Hagar, [2] The Jews converted to Christianity, in opposition to the increditions Jews, who will not believe in Christ; and [3] All true believers who are burnagain by the superinstand power of God's Spira, and by Jaith lay hold on the promise of salvation made in Christ; these are the spriitual seed of Abraham, to whom the spriitual blessings contained in the covenant and the inheritance do belong, Romans 9, 8, Galatians 4, 23. nce do belong, Romans 9. 8. Galatians 4. 28. tance do belong, Isomans 9, 8, Gatatinas 9, vis. The Holy Spirit of promine, Elphesiaus 1, 13, signifies, the Holy Ghost, which God has pro-mised to those that shall believe in him, which is the pledge of a believe's verificating happi-ness. The first commandment to which God has ness. The first commundment to which God has amnessed a promise, is that, Honour thy father and mother, Ephesians 6, 2. To which God has subjoined this promise, that their days shall be multiplied upon the earth, Exodus 20, 12. PROPHET.

PROPHET.

PROPHET.

Prophetes, which signifies one that forcets future events. The Hebrews at the beginning called them Seers, videos. Afterwards they colled them Nabi, which comes from the root Nibba, to forcetel, to divine. Also the scripture often gives them the name of Mea of God, and of Angels, or Messengers of the Lord. The verb Niba, to propher to the contract of the college of the Lord. The verb Niba, to propher to the college of the Lord. The verb Niba, to propher to the college of the Lord. Messengers of the Lord. The web Noba, to prophesy, is of great extent. Sometimes it signifies to forested what is to come: at other times to be inspired, to speak from God. It we said, Exodus 7.1. Aaron thy brother shall be thy prophet; that is, he shall explain and interpret prophet; that is, he shall explain and interprise thy sentiments and commands to Phatwoh and the people. The apostle Paul, in his chiefle to Tius, 1, 12, quoting a profune poet, cutik inm Prophet; because the Pagans thought their poets inspired by the gods. The serviture often guest the name of Prophet to impostrest, who facility boosted of inspiration, 1 Kings 18, 22, As the true Prophets, at the time that they nese transported by the metions of Cod's Spirit, new sometimes existed in a violent name of Mose is the true Prophets, at the time that they neve transported by the motions of God's Sprits, neve contestines agitated in a wickin thanner; those motions were called prophesying, which personerishined, who were fitted uith a good or experit. For example, Saul, being mored by an evel sprits, prophesided in his home, I Saul, 18. 10. that is, he was agitated with violence, and used strange and musual gestimes, signs, and speeches, as the Prophets dal. To prophesy is also put for to make or sing palms, or long of praise to God, I Saul, 10. 5, 0. I Chron 25. I This term is also used by St. Paul, joi explaining scripture, preaching, or speaking to the church in public, I Cer. 14, 1, 3, 4. The most isnata way by which God communicated himself to the Prophets was by inspiration, which consisted in illuminating the wind of the prophet, and exciting his will to proclaim what the Lord dictated to min from within. It is in this sense that all the authors 2; the canonical books of scripture, both of the Old and New Testament, are acknowledged at Prophets. Cod also communicated himself to the prophets by also communicated himself to the prophets by dreams and nocturnal visions. In Acts 10, 11, 12, is a said, that l'eter fell into an ecitacy at noon-day, and had a revelation concerning the call of the Gentiles to the faith. The Lord appeared to Job and to Moses in a cloud, and discovered his will to them, Nun. 11, 25.

Joh 38, 1. He has often made his voice to be heard in an articulate manner; thus he spake to Moses in the burning bush, and upon mount Simil, and to Samuel in the night, I Sam.

He have in the Old Testament the writings of the sixteen Prophets; that is, of four greate and twelve lesser Prophets. The four great and twelse lesser Prophets. The four great Prophets are Isaiah, Jesceniah, Ezekiel, and Damel. The twelse lesser Prophets are, Hosea, Joel, Amos, Obadiah, Jonah, Micah, Nahun-Habakkuk, Zephaniah. Huggai, Zechariah, and Ezekiel, and Malachi.

This is nearly the chionological order in which they muy be ranged mention is made of his having prophesied under to many kings, is not als own, but some ancient thinscriber's; and that the true beginning of this Prophet's nork is at Verse 2. The beginning of the word of the Lord: For, say they, if he had prophesied under the reign of all these princes, he must have lived a very long time; by a moderate calculation, for the space of one hundred and twelve years.

Amos begun to prophesy the second year before

Amos began to prophesy the second year before the earthquake, which was in the reign of king Uzziah, about six years hefore the death of Jeroboam II, king of Israel.

Isaiah began to prophesy at the death of Uzziah, and at the beginning of the reign of Jotham king of Judah. He continued to prophesy to the reign of Jamasseh, who caused him to he put to death.

Jonah lived in the kingdom of Israel under the kings Joash and Jeroboam II, about the same time as Hosen, Isaiah, and Amos.

Micah lived under Jothao. Ahaz, and He-same time as Hosen, Isaian, and Amos.

Micah literd under Jothao, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah; he was contemporary with Isaiah, but hegan lates to prophety.

Nahum appeared in Judah under the reign of Hezekiah, and after the expedicion of Sennache-

Jeremiah becau in the thirteenth year of the sereman begin in the intricents year of the reign of Josiah king af Judah. He continued to prophesy under the reigns of Shallum, Jehoia, kin, Jeconiah, and Zedekiah, to the taking of Jerusalem by the Chaldeans, and it is thought he died two years offer in Egypt; Baruch was his disciple and amanurusis.

Zephaniah appeared at the beginning of the reign of Josiah, and before the weaty-eighth year of this prince: he was contemporary with Jeremiah.

Joel prophesied under Josiah about the same time as Jeremiah and Zephaniah.
D. Daniel was tuken into Chaldea in the fointh year of Jehoiakim king of Judah, and pro-phesied at Babylon to the end of the cuppaeses as desired earliest Babylon, along sith Jeconiah king of Judah, in the year of the world 3405. He began to prophesy in the year 3409. He continued till towards the end of the behavioral and the year shoughted mezzar, who died in the year reign of Nelmchadnezzar, who died in the year of the world 3442.

I Habakkik Iried in Judea at the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim, about the year 3394, and before the country in 1398. He dwelt in Judea during the captivity.

3. Obadiah dwelt in Judea after the taking of Jerusalem, and before the devolation of Idunea. I Haggai was born in all probability at Babyson, from whence he returned with Zerubbabel, In the second year of Durius son of Hystaspes, he was excited by God to exhort Zerubhabel, the prince of Judah, and the highest holds, to resume the work of the temple, which had been interingted for so long time, when he had been interingted for so long time, when he was to revoke that permission whereby he had empowered the lews to rebuild their temple. And Cambyses the son of Cytus coming to the erown, renewed the same prohibition; So that the temple for furthern years continued in the some state wherein the Jews had put it immediately after their retrien.

Zechariah prophesied in Judea at the sum

Zeenarian prophesied in Judea at the same time as 'laggai, and he seems to have continued to prophesy after him.
 Malachi, the last prophet, has not put any date to his prophecies. If he was the same as 'Ezra, as some think, he may have prophesied un-der Nehemiah, who returned into Judea 3550.

Besides these, there are found the names of a great many more prophets in scripture, such as Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Moses, Joshua, Samuel, Nathan, David, Solomon, &c. Christ Jesus is the great Prophet of his church; Moses prophesying of him, Deut. 18, 15, says, God will raise up a Prophet like unto me; that tool will raise up a Prophet like unto me; that is, such a prophet as I am, resembling me the nature and office, being a man and mediator, as I am, though more excellent, and in a more singular sort; I us a seriant, he as a Son and Lord of his church, who will teach them the will be foot me which he was not to be the son metals he sand of the entrear, who will teach first the chill of God, not only in his own person on earth, but by his word and Spirit when exalted in the right hand of power in heaven.

1 Kings 7. 36, according to the p, of every one Job 41. 12, 1 will not conceal his covery p. Rom. 12. 6. let us prophesy according to p. of faith PROSELYTE,

This term comes from the Greek word, Proselytos, which signifies a stranger, one that comes from abroad, or from another place. The Hebrew word Ger or Necher, has the same signification. In the language of the lews, they go by this name, who come to dwelf in their contry, or who embrace their religion, though they are not Jews by birth.

The Hebrews distinguish two kinds of Proselytes. The first are called Proselytes of the Gate, and the others Proselytes of Justice. The first are those who dwelt in the land of Israel, are those who duelt in the land of Israel, or even out of that country, and who, without obliging themselves to circumcision, or to any other ceremony of the law, feared and worshipped the true God, observing the rules that were imposed upon the children of Noah: These precepts are seven in number, [1] De Judicis. Obedence is due to judges, magistrates, and princes. [2] De cultu extraneo. The worship of false gods, superstition, and sacrilege, are absolutely farbidden. [3] De maledictione nominis sanctissium. As also cursing the name of God, blasphenier, and false oaths. [4] De Gud, blasphenies, and fulse oaths. [4] De revelatione turpidudinum. Likewise all inces-tuous and unlawful conjunctions or cognitations, revelations unjudindus. Lincuis or an intession to unitations, as sodomy, besindity, crimes against nature, [5] De sanguinis edusioni, The effusion of the blood of all sorts of animals, murder, wounds, and mutilations, [6] De rapina. Thefis, cheats, lying, Sc. [7] De membro animalis viventis. The parts of an animal still alive are not to be caten, as was practised by some pagans. Of this number was Naamao, the Syrian, Cornelius the centurion, the ennuch of Queen Candace as I others: Such as would enter themselves as "I'r nelytes of habitation, or of the gate, promised with an oath, in the presence of three entherses, to keep those seven of the entherses, to keep those seven procepts. Their provideges were suit to be, Virst, that by the observation of the rules of natural justice, and by exemption from idolatry, bluspheny, necest, adultery, and murder, they thought they were in the path to eternal life. Secondly, they might dwell in the land of Israe.

Secondly, they might dwell in the land of Israel, and have a share in the outward prosperities of the people of God, Prov. 1, 32, the p. of fools shall destroy them the people of God, which is the those that were converted to Judaism, who had engaged thin scives to receive circumcision, and to observe the whole law of Moscs. Thus they were admented to all the prerogatives of the people of God, as well in this life as in the other. The Rabbins say, that before circumcision was administered to them, and before they were admit. Gen. 24.21 whether the Lord made his journey p.

ted into the religion of the Hebrews, they were examined about the motives of their conversion; to know whether their change was voluntary, or whether it proceeded from any reasons of interest, fear, ambition, or such tike. Three things were required in a complete Proselyty, what were, washing or plunging his body in a cistern of water, circumvision, and succifice; but the reason mile making and secrifice; ted into the religion of the Hebrews, they were cissers of water, circumcisson, and succeptives but for women, only nathing and succeptives. The Hebrews gire the name of Proverbs, Parables, or Similitudes, to moral sentences, maxims, comparisons, or enigmas, expressed in a style that is poetical, figurative, close, and sententious: They call this kind of Proverbs, Mishle. Solomon says, that in his time maxims of this sort were the chief study of the learned. A wise man will endeavour, says he, tendentiand a provent and the interpretalearned. A wise man will endeavour, says he, to understand a proverb, and the interpretation, the words of the wise and their dark sayings, Prov. 1.6. In the Proverbs of Solomon we find rules for the conduct of all conditions of life; for kings, courters, men engadin the offairs of the world; for masters, servants, fathers, mothers, and chidren.

PSALTERIES, See CYNDALS. PUBLICAN,

In Greek, Telones, was a farmer, or a receiver of public money, an officer of the revenue, a man employed in collecting such impositions as are employen in collecting such impositions as are hateful to the people. Among the Romans there were two sorts of Farmers: Some were ceneral Farmers, who in every province had their deputies, and under-farmers, who collected their deputies, and under-farmers, who collected Neh. 8.15. should p. that they bring pine-branches the revenues and other profits of the empire, of which they gave an account to the Emperor. These principal Farmers were men of great outsideration in the government; and Cicero says, that among these were to be found the flower of the Roman knights, the ornament of the city, and the strength of the commenwealth. But the deputies, the under-farmers, the commence of the deputies, the under-farmers, the commence of the city, and the strength of the lower order, were looked upon as so many thieves and pick pockets. Theoretius being once asked, H hich was the mest cruck of all beasts, made answer, the Publicans of the lower order, the city and the strength of the commence of the commence of the commence of the commence of the city and the strength of the commence of the city. The commence of the commence of the commence of the city and the strength of the commence o the city, they were the Publican and the Parasite.

Among the Jews, the name and profession of a Publican was the most odious thing in the world. This nation, in a particular manner, valued themselves upon their freedom. We be Abraham's seed, and were never in bondage to any man, John 8, 33. They could not without the utmost reluctancy, see Publicans in their countries with the country of the country of the critical and imtry, rigorously exacting those tributes and im-positions that were laid on them by the Ro-maos: Especially the Galileans or Herodians maos: Especially the Galileans or Herodians submitted to this badge of servitude not without the greatest impatience, and thought it even unlawful to pay tribute to a foreign power; as they shewed by that question they put to or Saviour. Luke 20, 22, Is it lawful for us to give tribute to Cesar, or no? Those of their own nation that undertook this employ, they looked upon as no better than heathen. Let him be unto thee as ao neathen ouan, and a Publican, Mat. 18, 17. It is said, that they would not allow them to come into their temple, or their synagoness, nor admit them to wattake of not allow them to come into their temple, or their synagognes, nor admit them to partake of their public prayers, or of their offices of judicature, or allow them to give testimony in a court of justice; and for certain they would not accept of their presents at the temple, no more than they would of the price of postitution or of blood, or of any thing else of the literature. like nature.

here were many Publicans in Judea, in the time here were many Publicans in Muca, in the time of our Saviour. Zaccheus probably was one of the principal Farmers, since he is called the chief among the Publicans, Luke 19.2, but Matthew was only an inferior Publican. The neather was only an inferior Publican. The Jews reproached our Saviour with heing a friend of Publicans and sinners, and of eating with them, Luke 7, 34. And our Saviour told the Jews, That harlots and Publicans went into the kingdom of heaven before them, Mac. 21, 31. In the morable of the Uniform and 21. the kingdom of heaven before them, Mat. 21.
31. In the parable of the Publican and Pharisee, who made their prayers together in the temple, we see with what sentiments of humility the view of his condition inspired the Publican; he keeps afar aff, and probably daven not so much as enter the court of the people; he is agriad to lift up his eyes to heaven; he smites his breast, and submissively ask pardom of God, Luke 18. 10, &c. Zaccheus tays to our Survour, that he was ready to give half of his goods to the poor, and to restore fourfold of his goods to the poor, and to restore fourfold of his goods to the poor, and to restore fourfold of his goods to the poor, and to restore fourfold of his goods to the poor, and to restore fourfold of his period hat the the Roman laws required that twhenever any Publican was convicted of extortion, he should be oblived to render four times the value of what he had extorted. extorted.

There were several sorts of punishment ir use among the Jews, which are mentioned in the serip-ture, as, [1] The punishment of the cross: This was a service proustment, which was in-dicted on the viles of slaves: To be crucity-was a great murk of infamy to afficers, and men of quality. The common way of erucity-try was by fastening the criminal with mails, one at each hand, and one at both his feet, or was a cook of them. They were there in house one at each name, and one at out mis jees, in one at each of them. They were likewise bound frequently with cords; and this penalty, which seems in one sense gentler, because it occasious less pain, in another was more cruel, because sess pain, in another was more truet, occasive the condemned person by this means was made to languish for a longer time. Before they vailed the person to the cross, they generally securged him with whipt, or leathern lashes. Our Saviour was severely scourged during his passion; Pulate having pronounced sentence against him, ordered him to be scourged, and delivered him up to he crucified. The law or dained, that the person executed should not be actived, that the person executed should not be left upon the cross after sun-set, because he that is hunged in this manner is cursed by God, Deut. 21, 22, 23, [2] Suspension, hanging, or the punishment of the tope. The Jews maintain that none but idol-tope. The Jews maintain that none one radiators and blasphemers underwent this punishment. Haman and his sons were hing non a high gallows, Esth. 7. 10. Pharaoh's chief baker was first beheaded, and afterwards high gipon a gibbet, Gen. 40. 22. We read in the scripture, that sometimes they hung up men alive, and sometimes hung up their earcases after they were dead, Josh. 8, 29, 2 Sam.

[S] Stoning, or putting to death by casting stones. This punishment was very much in use among the Hebrews: It is said, that this penalty was inflicted upon all those criminals that the law condemns to death, eithout expressing the particular kind of death: For example, the invest of a son with his mother, or of the son with his mother-in-law, or of a father with his daughter, or with his daughter-in-law; or of a man that debanches a numan that is contracted; or of her that is contracted, and consents to another; her that is contracted, and consent to another; these that are guilty of the crimes of sadomy or bestiality; idolators, blasphemers, magicians, conjuners, breakers of the sabbath; those that entice others to idolatry; a son rebellious to his father, and condemned by the judges. This punishment was very common. When Judgeh was informed that his daughter what I have maded have in-law Tamar was with child, he would have had her burnt as an adulteress, Gen. 38. 24. The law of Moses influes the punishment of the fire upon the daughters of the priests, who were guilty of fornication, Lev. 21. 9. Nebu-chadnezzar caused Daniel and his companious to be thrown into a burning flery furnace, be-cause they would not worship his golden image, Dan. 3. 21. And by the law he was ordered

Dan. 3. 21. And hy the law he was ordered to be hunt alive, who should marry the mother and her daughter, Lev. 20. 14.

3] The punishment of the rack, or tympanum, This is met with in the Greek of St. Paul to the Helrews, 11. 35. Interpreters are divided about the sense of this word, Tympanizein, Some have explained it of the Tressel or Chivalet, a nent very frequent in antiquity, but very much unknown at this day: Others think that the Apostle alludes to the death of John the Baptist, and to that of St. James, who were both beheaded. Some think it signifies to flay alive, others take it in a general sense, for all kinds of capital punishments and violent deuths: But interpreters are generally of opidenth; But interpreters are generally of opi-vion, that the Apostle here means the Basti-tudo, or the punishment of the whip, and that where is an aliusion to the ernelties exercised upon old Eleazar, and the seven brethren the Maccabees. The second book of Mac. 6, 19, tyeaking of the marterdom of Eleazar, says, that be came to the Tympanum.

[6] Imprisonment. This was not always consi-dered as a punishment, but was to keep and tecure a person accused or suspected. Joseph detained his brother Simeon in prism, till he whould be assured of the truth of what his bre-thren had told him concerning his father and two brother Benjanin, Gen. 42, 19. The blat-themer that was brought to Moses, Lev. 24, 12, and the man that was found gathering sticks on the sabbath-day, Nun. 15, 34, were put in ward will the Lord declared the kind of punishment they were to undergo.

often imprisonment was made a punishment when it was attended nith shame and screrities. When Joseph was unjustly accused by Potiphar's wife, he was yet in prison, and loaded with fetters, Go 1. 39. 20. Samson was taken by fetters, Go. 1. 39. 20. Samson was taken by the Philistines, east into a dungeon, had his eyes put out, and forced to grind at the mill, Judg. 16. 2: Bonds, fetters, shackles, manacles and chains, which usually attended im-prisonment, must be looked upon as punishments.

The sword, or beheading. In scripture there are several instances of Decapitations Pharaoh's chief baker had his head eut off after which his body was hung upon a gibbet Gen. 40. 19. Ahmelech, son of Gideon, cut of Decapitations. off the heads of seventy sons of Gideon, his brethren, upon one stone, Judg. 9. 5. The peovicineen, upon one stone, Jung, 9, 5. The peo-ple of Sauaria cut off the heads of seventy of the sour of Ahab, and sent them in baskets to Jehu, 2 Kings 10. 7. John the Bayrrer was beheaded in prison, by the voler of Herod, Mat. 10.

The precipice, or throwing headlong from the top of a rock: This was not a common punishment: If it has been sometimes used among the Hebrews, it was in singular cases. Amaziah king of Judah overcame ten thousand Idumeans, and made them prisoners of war, Idumeans, and made them prisoners of war and east them down from the top of a high rock

2 Chron. 25, 12.

2 Chron. 25. 12. J To be torn in pieces by thorns, or under harrows or sledges of iron. There are some examples of these punishments in scriptum. When Gideon returned from pursuing the Midianites, he tore with thorns and brambles of dianties, he tore with thorns and oranhors of the desert the chief men of the city of Succoth who had insulted him, Judg. 8. 16. And Pavid made the Aomonites undergo a pusishment more errol and severe, 2 Sam. 12, 31. He put them under harrows and axes of iron, He pit them under harrows and axes of tron, and made them pass through the brick-kiln. These harrows or sledges of tron were machines proper for threshing of corn, in order to get the grain out of the straw, which were loaded with iron or stanes, for braining the straw, by the Brick-kiln, is either meant the furnace in which the bricks were burnt, or the place where the carth was don't and maceinted, in which these miserable wretches were ex-

The saw, to be cut through the middle This punishment was not know among the He-brews; Some are of opinion, that it came brews; Some are of opinion, that it came originally from the Persians or Chaldeans; It is certain that it is still in use among the Switzers, and that they put it is practice not many years ago, upon one of these countrymen guilty of a great crime: they ret him in a Switzers, and that they put it in practice not many years ago, upon one of these countrymen guilty of a great crime: they fit him in a kind of coffin, and saved him at ength, beginning at this head, as a piece of soud is sawn. The apostle I'ani, in his Epistic to the Hebrews, 11. 37, speaking of the calamities suffered by the prophets and saun, of the Ottoment, says, that they were sown assunder: Testument, says, that they were sown asunder: Several of the ancients have explained this Several of the ancients have explained this passage concerning the death of Isaiah, who is said to have been put to death by king Manas-

Sich, with a saw.

1] Cutting off the hair of the guilty person:
This seems to be a publishment rather shame. ful than painful; and yet it is thought that pain likewise was added to the disgrace; and that they were not contensed to share or cut that they were not concented to state or the hair, but two it off with violence, as if they had been plucking a bird alive. This much the Hebrew signifies in Neh. 13. 25. I contended with theo, and smote certain of them, and plucked off the hair.

12] To pluck out the eyes: This is a punishment.

[2] To pluck out the eyes: Whis is a punishment not common; and though Moses had appointed that an eye should be given for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth. Livd. 21, 24, yet it is the opinium of Commentators that this law was very seldom put in practice according to the letter; and that the offender was generally punished by a pecuniary penalty, which was converted to the use of the upined party. When the Philistines had laid hold on Sanson and intuited a wavest hid daily them. son, and intended to prevent his doing them son, and intended to prevent his doing them any more harm, they put him in prison, and bored out his eyes, Judg. 16.21. Nebuchad-nezzar took king Zedekah, and had his children put to death in his presence, then caused his eyes to be put out, and afterwards had him carried to Babylon in chains, a decision. Kings 25. 7.

To cut off the extremities of the feet and hands was a piece of crucity formerly exercised by Adont bezek Aing of Bezek, upon seventy og ruden bezar king og reker, upper setenty kings who had been conquered by him, and who cat the dogs under his table. But tood thought fit to have him tortured after the same manner that he had fortured others. The Israelites con that he had cortined enters. The issues were appeared bin, took him, and cut of the extremition of his hands and feet, Judg. 1. 5, 6, 7. David treated the murderers of 1shoosheth in the same manner, and had their budges hing up over the pool of Hebron, 2 Sam. 4, 12,

PURIM,
Or Pur, or Phur; that is to say, Lots. This was a very solemn feast of the Jews, instituted in memory of the Lots that were cost by Haman the enemy of the Jews. These Lots were cast in the first month of the year, Esth. 3.7. and marked out the twelfth month of the same year, for the execution of Haman's design, which was for the execution of Haman's design, which was to destroy all the Jews of the kingdom of Persia. Thus the superstition of Haman, in casting and pursuing the event of these Lots, was the cause of his som nun, and of the preservation of the Jews; who had now time to avert this blow, by Jews; who had now time to evert this blow, by means of Esther the sponse of Ahaswerus, and to remove those ill impressions he had conceived of the Jews. In memory of this so signal and miraculous descretance, the Jews instituted a feast, to which they gave the name of Tur, or Purim

QUAILS, Birds somewhat less than suggests: God gave Quails to the Israelites upon two eccasions: First, in the widderness of Sin, or Xin, a few days after they had passed over the Red-sea, Frad 16, 13.

The second time was at the c. campment, called Int Hebrew, Kibroth-hataavah, or the graves of lust, Num, 11, 32. The number of them was miraculous; for it is taid, that God rained flesh upon them as dust, and feathered flowls like as upon them as dust, and feathered fowls like as the sand of the sea, Psal, 78.27. They are said to be birds larger than spairous, and we are told that their flesh is very delicious and agree able. When God fed the Israelies with these it happened to be in the spring, when the Quails passed from Asia into Europe. Then they are to be found in great numbers upon the coasts of the Red-sea and the Mediterranean. God caused a wind to arise, that drove them within and about the eamp of the Israelites; and it is in this that the mercale consists, that the it is in this that the meracle consists, that they were brought so seasonably to this place, and in were oring it so sectionary to this prace, that is signed numbers, as to suffice above a million up persons above a mouth. Some authors aftern, that in those eastern and southern countries, Quails are innumerable, so that in one part of Quants are innumerance, so that in one part of Haily, within the compass of five miles, there were taken about an hundred thousand of them every day for a mouth together; and that some-times they fly so thirk over the sea, that being times they fly so thick over the sea, that bei weary they fall into ships, sometimes in su numbers, that they sink them with their weight, Lood. 16. 13. that at even q. came up and covered Anm. 11. 31, a wind from the Lord brought q. 32. the people stood and they gathered the q. To put one to the question, was a punishment among the Romans. They put eriminals to the question, or endeavoured to extoit confessions from them, by whipping them aith whip, or scourges. Some think that the offender as stripped to his waist, and that his hands were tied to a pillar, that his buck might be stretched out to receive the Mone. Other nees of out. out to receive the blows. Others are of opinion that his hands were fasiened to a stake drove into the ground, of a foot and a half or two feet high, so that the criminal stooping with feet high, so that the crimmal stooping with his face towards the ground, might present his nuked back to such as were appointed to scourge him. nem. here is an example of this in Acts 22.22. When the apostle Paul made an oration to the people at Jerusalem, and related to them the people at Jerusalem, and related to them the manner of his conversion, they listened to him very attentively till he came to that part of his discourse, where he told them that God had sent him to preach to the Gentiles; then they raised their voices, and cried ont, that he was not fit to live, and were going to put him to death; I Sysias the tribine gave command, that he should be examined by sconging, or he put to the question, as the French expression is, agreeable to the Greek word here used; but when they were binding him, Franl maked the centurion there present, Is it lauful for you to scourge a Roman citizen, and wiecondemined tupon which Lysias caused him to be unbound.

RABBI.

Rab, Rabhin, Rahban, Rabbam; a name of dignity omong the Hebrews, signifying Doctor, or Master. The name of Rab was given to their masters and doctors, to the chief of a class, and to the principal officers of the court of a prince: For example, Nebuzar-adan, General of the army of king Nebuchadnezzar, is always called Rab Tabachim, the master of the butchers, cooks, or guards, 2 Kings 25, 8, 20. Daniel speaks of Ashpenaz the Rab of the ennuchs of the hone of Nebuchadnezzar, Dan. 1.3. and of the Rab of the saganim, or chief of the governors, or peers, Dan. 2. 48. This prophet himself was preferred to be the chief of the interpreters of dieams, or the Rab of the Chartunim, Dan. 5. 11. It appears that his name came originally from the Chaldees, for before the capturing, when any mention was nade of Judea, it is not found that it was used, but only when any mention was to be made of the others of the time of Babulon was to be made of but only when any mention was to be made of the officers of the king of Babylon.

Rab, or Rabban, properly significs Master, or one that excels in any thing. Rabbi, or Rabbani, is my Master; Rabbin is the plural. Thus Rab is of greater dignity than Rabbi; and Rabbin, or Rabbim, is a word of greater dignity than either Rab, or Rabbi.

Or Racha, is a Syriac word, which properly signifies empty, vain, beggarly, foolish, and which includes in it a strong idea of contempt. Lightfoot says, that in the books of the Jews, the word Raca is a term of the utmost contempt, and is used to be pronounced with certainly. tempt, and is used to be pronounced with cer-tum gestures of indignation, as spitting, turn-ing away the head, &c. The Pharisess in their lectures upon this law, Thou shalt not kill, extend it no further, than that a man should not, without a warrant, actually take away the tije of another. But our Saviour gave them another sense of this law, namely, that if a man doth but in his heart nourth wrath and anger against another without a just cause and anger ogainst another without a just eause; and lets it grow up into malitee, and thoughts, and desires, of private revenge, though he be not by it obnozious to court to justice, yet he is accountable to God, and liable to his judgment: But if men infler their passions to break out into reviling and opprobriums language, such as Raca, or Thou food, they are not only liable to the estimal tenseance of (ind. but liable to the eternal vengeance of God, but ought to be subjected to the punishment of the and vilifying speeches being the beginning of muder, proposetiver to 11, and indications of murder, bearts. Is the vapours exhaled by the sun, which fall from the clouds to the earth in drops, Lect. 11.2
There are some who think, by some expressions of the scripine, that the ancient Hebrews imagined the Rain to be derived from certain great reservatories, which they supposed to be above the heavens, and which Moses calls the waters above the immenent, by way of contradiction from the inferior waters, which are those of the sea, rivers. See I've examples distinction from the inferior waters, which are those of the sea, rivers, be. For example, Moses says, that at the time of the Deluge, the Rain did not fall according to the order and the time of the deluge, the fail did not fall according to the order acts, the floodgates of heaven, were set open Gen, 7.11, All the fountains of the great deep were broken up, and the windows of heaven were opened. And Hosea says, that is times of great dringht the clouds cry to the Lard beseeching him to permit the vater

The sacred writers often speak of the Rain of the former season, and of the Rain of the latter season. Deut. 11. 14, I will give you the rain teason. Deut. 11.14, I will give you the rain of your land in his due season, the first Rain and the latter Rain: Also in Hos. 6. 3. Traice and the latter Kain: Also in Hos. 0. 3. Twice in the year there fell plenty of ratu in Judea; in the beginning of the civil year, about september or October, and holf a year after in the mouth Abib or March, which was the first month in the ecclesiastical or holy year, whence it is called the latter rain in the first month, Let 2 03

The Hehrews often compare speech and discourse to Rain. Dent. 32. 2, My doctrine shall drop as the rain; that is, Is rain falling upon herbs and grass makes them fresh, fragment and fiburishing, the same effect I may justly expect and hope that my discourse will have espect and more content by useful as a more inposition hearts, namely, to make them soft, pliable, and fruitful. Job says, that in the time of his prosperity he was attended to with great respect and eagerness, that his discourse distilled like soft rain: That they expected it like rain, and opened their mouth to receive his words, and therewith to satisfy their thirst, as the parched earth opens its mouth to receive the Rain of the latter season, Jub 29, ceive the Rain of the latter season, Job 29, 22, 23.

The Psalmist says, that God maketh lightnings for the rain, Psal, 135, 7. He bringeth water even out of the fire; he maketh thick clouds, which being broken produce lightnings, and so are disolved into shawers of rain: Or, he maketh lightnings with rain, Jer, 10, 13. He causeth both of them to come out of the same court. Or they, I lightning says the fore through cause to oan of these to come out of the same cloud. Or thus: Lightuing goes before thunder and rain; and when we percesse lightuing, and hear a fresh clop of thunder during a storm, we conclude that the shower will soon come, we conclude that the shower will soon come. This is easily applied. Lightning and thun-der are produced only by the shork of clouds one against another; and the same thock is the cause of rain also. The prophet there-fore may observe here, that lightning is are it were the forenumer and the natural token of rain.

Is a signification made, or price paid, for the redeeming of a captive, or for procuring a pardon for some notorious offender. God, giving directions to his ministers how to behave towards penitent sinners, says, Deliver him from going down to the pit, I have found a ransom, Job 33. 24. Declare to him that I have pardoned and will head him; for I have found out an espedient, and a way of ransoming and redeeming sinners from death, both spiritual and eternal, which they by their sins have deserved; which which they by their sins have deserved; which which they by their sins have deserved; which is by the death of my Son, the Kedeemer and Sariour: Hence Christ is caded a Ransom. I Tim. 2. 6, Who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time. Man being in a lost and deplorable condition, and liable to eternal death on account of his sins; the eternal Son of God, moved by his divine love, understook to restore fullen man to the favour of God, and within the surface the maniferaction of conditional and manually endured the maniferaction days. and voluntarily endured the purishment due to our sins, and gave his most precuns life and blood as the price of our redemption: And therefore such as Christ redeems from the spiritual bondage of sin and Satan, a ransomed of the Lord, Isa. 35, 10. RANSOM, Substantive. those friends who before were at variance, as tood and the elect were, through sin, till of enemies they became friends, through the atone ment made in the blood of Christ, and received both to God hy the cross. Col. 1. 21, Ye were enemies, yet now bath he reconciled you. The ministry of the gospel is called, the ministry of reconciliation, 2. Cor. 5. 18. because reconciliation is thereby published and declared to such as are yet enemies to God.

To the making of reconciliation three things are required in him who is Mediator of it, [1] That he make intercession for the offender. [2] That he satisfy the offended party for the word done. Signifies, [1] To bny again something that had been sold, by paying back the price unto him that bought it, Lev. 25. 25. [27. 20. [2] To deliver and bring out of bondage with a wrong hand, and without any ransom, such as were kept prisoners by their enemies, Deut. 7. 5. [32. 6. [3] To deliver sinners from the tyranny of Satan, from sin, drath, and helt, by the purchase of Christ's blood, and the power of his grace. Thus is Christ both the Ransomer, and ransom, Luke 1. 68. 1 Tion. 2. 6. Tit. 2. 14.

Redemption sometimes signifies deliverance both edemption sometimes signifies deliverance both from the guilt and power of sin, by forgive-ness and sanctification, Eph. 1.7. Sometimes it is taken for the whole work of a sinner's sulvation, comprehending all things that belong to it. Heb. 9.12, Having obtained eternal redemption for us. Our whole redemption, from the first act to the last, both for merit and efficacy, is wholly from Christ, and not at all from ourselves. Lastly, the last act of our efficacy, is wholly from Christ, and not at all pom ourselves. Lastly, the last act of our invation is the resurrection of our bidies and the sentence of the last judgment, after which the saints shall be glorified as the sons of God by adoption, their souls and bidies being remitted; in this sense redemption is taken, Luke 21, 28, Rom, 8, 23.

To redeem time, Eph. 5. 16. To emor me and improve every opportunity of doing good. It is a metaphor taken from merchants that diligently observe the time of huying and selling, and easily white the time of mixing and secong, and easily port with their pleasures for gain; that is, deny yourselves in your ease, pleasure, &c. to guin an opportunity of doing good.

REFUGE

Is a strong hold, or place of safety, to fly to in danger, where men may be protected and escape the enemy, Nun. 35. 13. God is called the refuge of his people, Dent. 33, 27. By defends them against the assaults of all their enemies. Christ is a refuge in his righteoisness and blood, 18a, 25. 4.

Cities of refuge. In order to provide for the severity of these who appeares and without any curity of those, who unawares and without any design should kill a man, the Lord commanded design should kill a man, the Lord commanded Moses to appoint six vities of refuge, that whoever studenty and against his will should spill the blood of a man, might retire thither, and have time to prepare for his defence and justification before the judges, so that the kinsman of the deceased might not pursue him thirder and kill him. Of these cities there were three on each side Jordan, those on this side Jordan neer Kedesh of Naphtali Hebron and Jordan were Kedesh of Naphtali, Hebron, and Shechem. Those beyond Jordan were Bezer. Shechem. Golan, and Ramoth-gilead, Josh, 20. 7, These cities were to be easy of access, and to have smooth and good roads to them, and bridges where there should be occasion: When there were any cross-rouds, they took care to set up were any cross-rands, they took care to set up posts with an inscription, directing the way to the city of reluge. This city was to be well rupplied with water and all kind of provisions. It was not allowed there to make any weapons, that the relations of the deceased might not be furnished there with arms to gratify the revenge. Though the manslayer had fied to the revenge. Though the manslayer had fled to the city of refuge, yet he was not thereupon exempt from the pursuits of justice: An information was preferred against him, he was summoned bryore the judges, and before the people, to clear himself, and to prove the mouder was movedy casual and involuntary. If he was found innocent, he dwelt safely in the city to which he had retired it otherwise he was not to the contract of the cont movely casual and involuntary. If he was found innocent, he duelt safely in the city to unlich he had retired; if otherwise, he was put to death, according to the severity of the law. Though he was found innocent, he was not therefore immediately set at tiberty; but to inspire the greater horror, even of involuntary murder, it seems as if the law would panish it with a kind of banishment; for he was obliged to dwell in this city, without going out of it, till the death of the high-priest: And if before this time he should any where go out of the cits, the revenger of blood might safely kill him, Num, 35, 25, 60, 71, 8c.

REGENERATION

Is the change and renovation of the soul by the Spirit and grace of God, John 3.5, 6. It is called the new-birth, and consists in the injusion of spiritual tije into the soul, John 5. 35. whereby it is enabled to perform spiritual actions, and live to God, Rom. 14.8. Tit. 3.5, Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us hy the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost. Jam. 1. 18, Of his own will begat he us by the word of truth. And our Saccour speaking to Nicodenius, says, Verily I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God, John 3. 3, 4, 5. And the apostle Peter says in like manner, Hat God I ath begotten us again unto a lively hope, by the resurrection of Christ from the dead, I Pet. 1.3. that is, he hath given us a new-birth, 1 Pet. 1.3. that is, he hath given us a new-birth, he hath regenerated and renewed us, and thereby wrought in us such a hope or assurance of salvatron, as puts life into our souls; which hope is built upon the resurrection of Christ, and the doctrines depending on it, as the foundation of our resurrection and future glory, since the membets must partake of the same condition with the head, John 14, 19, It is said, Mat. 19, 58 e which have followed me in the regeneration when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, ye shall also sit upon thrones. Ye which have tollowed me in the regeneration, that is, ye my aposites, who have been by my dortime reforming the world; while I have been by my dortime reforming the world; while I have been regenerating my church, and putting it into a new state; Or, joining regeneration with the following words, In the regeneration with the following words, In the regeneration when the Son of man shall sit, &c. that is, at the day of judgment, when there shall be new heavens and earth, and your bodies shall be anised my again. bers must partake of the same condition with the and your bodies shall be raised up again in a glorious manner, and your souls made per feetly happy; then you shall not only partake of the hearenly treasure, but shall be in the highest degree of dignity there.

To renew cometimes signifies to establish, or con-firm. I Sam. 11. 14, Let us go to Gilgal, and renew the kingdom there: Let us raify the coverant between Saul and the weople concerning the kingdom, and instal him rublicly and solemnly into it. As renewed the altar of the Lord, 2 Chron. 15.8. He repaired, or rebuilt it, after it had been decayed through long built it, after it had been decayed through long use, or broken down by idolaters: Or, he consecrated and dedicated the altar, which had been polluted by idolaters, and needed purification. Joh says, that God renewed his witnesses against him, Joh 10.17. that is, He brought fresh plagues and judgments upon him, which were the witnesses and evidences both of his sin, and God's displeasure against him. In another place he says, that his how was renewed in his hand, Joh 29, 20. Or, as it is in the Hebrew, it changed itself, grew as it were a new bow, when other bows by much use grow weak and useless: Or, it changed its strength, and got new force, as the word is used in Isa. and got new force, as the word is used in 1sa, 40.31, They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall grow stronger and stronger in faith and patience. Go news the face of the earth, Psal, 104, 30. God his providence he preserves the succession of living creatures upon the earth, which other wise would be desolve, and without inhabitants. Renew our days as of old, says Jeremiah, Lam. 5. 21. that is, Bring ns out of our captivity, and restore us to our former flourishing and restore us to condition.

Renewing is taken either, [1] For that work enewing is taken either, [1] for that work of the Spirit, whereby the clect, if cuemies to God, and children of wrath, become the children of Cod, citizens with the saints, heirs and co-heirs with Christ, being by faith made portakers of his righteowness and sufferings, and having the image of God, which consists in righteowness image of God, which consists in righteouries, and holiness, restored in their souls; and this is the same with regeneration, or being born again, Vit. 3. 5. Prov.17.9.he that r.matter, separateth very friend REPENT.

Repentance is taken [1] For that regret and re Inclance that arise in a person, after having done something that he ought not to have done. When Judas saw that Christ was condemned, it is said of him that he repented of what he had done, Mat. 27. 3. He was mightily afficied in his mind about it, and wished at had not been done. But this repentance arises from a fear of the punishment denounced against sin, and i. not accompanied with hatred of sin; as when a malefactor suffers for his crimes, he reflects upon his actions with sorrow; but this not being a upon his actions with sorrow; but this not being a sacred act, but proceeding from a violent princi-ple, is consistent with as great a love to sin as he had before, and may be entirely terminated on humself; he may be sorry for his crimes, as they have exposed him to punishment, and yet mu be grieved that thereby he has offended God. This is legal repentance. [2] For that saving s legal repentance. [2] For that saving wrought in the soul by the Spirit of God, whereby a suner is made to see and be sensible of his sin, is grieved and humbled before God on account of it, not so much for the punishment to which sin has made him table, as that thereby God is dishonoured and offended, his laws violated, and his own soul polluted and defiled; and this greef arises from love to God, and is accompanied with a hatred of sin, a love to holiness, and a fixed resolution to forsake sin, and an expectation of favour and syn-giveness, through the merits of Christ. This is evangelical or gospel repentance, Mat. 5. 2, 8. Acts 3. 19. 2 Cor. 7. 10.

The sacred writers often represent God as with regret, or repentance, or relenting, for having suffered or resolved upon certain things ine suffered or resolved upon certain things. It is said, that God repented that he had made man, seeing that his wickedness had proceeded to such an extremity, Gen. 6.6. It is elsewhere said, that he repented of having made Saut king over his people. I Sam. 15. 11. This is not to be understood, as if God had conceived any regret at any thing that he had done wrong, or that he repents of a false step that he had made, as a man does when he perceives he has committed an error. God is not capable of repentance in this sense. But sometimes he committed an error. God is not capacing re-pentance in this sense. But sometimes he changes his conduct towards those that are un-faithful to him, and after having treated them with mercy, he corrects them with severity, as whe had repented of what he had before down in their favour. Alto God is said to repent of the evil he was about to inflict; when mored with compassion towards the miserable, or en-treated by their propers, he remits the punish-ment of their sins, or does not execute the threatenings he had made against them: Thus it is said in the Psalms, that he repented according to the multitude of his mercies, Psal. 106. 45. See Jer. 18. 8.

RESPECT.

God had respect to Abel, and to his offering Gen. 4.4. He looked to him with a favourable

God had respect to Abel, and to his offering, Gen. 4.4. He looked to him with a favourable and gracious eye, he kindly accepted and owned him and his sacrifice, and testified this to Cain and all there present, either by an andible voice, or by some visible sign, by consuming his sacrifice by fire from heaven, as is generally conjectured; by which token God did afterwards frequently signify his acceptance of sacrifices. Lev. 9, 24. Judg. 6, 21. 1 kings 13, 38, Respect of persons. God appointed, that the Judges should pronounce their sentences without any respect of persons, Lev. 19, 15. Dent. 1. 17. That they should consider neither the poor, nor the rich, nor the weak, nor the powerful, but only attend to truth and justice, and give rentence according to the merists of the cause. God hath no respect of persons, Deut, 10, 17, 2 Chron. 19, 1, He deals justly and equally with all sorts of men, and as every one that truly fears and obeys him shall be accepted, we all incorrigible transgressors shall be severely pusished, whether Jews or Gentlies, of whas ever to the look of the ten and he so five. ever nation, family, name, or quality, they be.

joice in hope of the glory of God, Mat. 11, 20 tleb. 4. 3. For we which have believed to enter into rest. [6] God's sacred rest from the works of creation, Ileb. 4. 4. And God direct the seventh day from all his works; that is after God had perfected the invisible and visible world, on the review of all his works findin them very good, he was satisfied in all those dr. coveries of his own perfections in the works of his hands. God always enjoyed his own gloig everies of his own perfections in the works of his hands. God always enjoyed his own glory and blessedness even from oternaty: But the rest hath respect to the precedent work of erection, and that yoght reflection that God made upon his own works; because they were according to the model of his infinite windom, he was infinitely pleased in them. This swered rest and that which was promised to the Israelites and that which was promised to the Israelite in the land of Cautana, are mentioned by the apostles as illustrations of that rest which he satust shall enjoy in heaten after all then works done for the glory of God on earth. Heb 4.9. There remaineth therefore a rist to the people of God. The Israelites were at first harasted in Egypt with erul oppression, and heave and wild they were to pust through a waste and wild they were to puss through a waste and wild wilderness, wherein they were to have many hard and difficult journeys: To those that did believe and obey, Caman was promised as a land of rest; but this temporal Caman was only a type of the heuvenly Camani, the land above, that flows with milk and honey; that is, where holmess, and joy, and pleasure are for ever in perfection. RESTRAINTS.

Jer. 14, + 1, the word of the Lord concerning r. RESTS.

1 Kings 6. 6. he made narrowed r. round about RESURRECTION.

The belief of a general resurrection of the dead, which will come to pass at the end of the world, and which will be followed with an immortality and which will be followed with an immortative either of happiness, or misery, at a principal atticle of religion in common to the lew and the Christian: It is very expressly taught both in the Old and New Testament. Job 19.25, 20, 27, And though after my skin worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God, 4c. John 5.28, 29, Marvel not at this, found in the control of for the hour is coming, in which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice, and shall come forth, they that have done good, unto the re-surrection of life; and they that have done evil, upto the resurrection of damnation.

The resurrection is a doctrine unknown to the nisest heathens, and peculiar to the gospel. Some glimmering, they had of the soul's unnor tality, but no knowledge of the reviving of the cality, but no knowledge of the review of the body. But reason assists faith in this point, both as to the will of God, and his power for the performing it. The divine laws are the rate of ditty to the entire man, and not to the soul only; and they are obeyed, or violated by the soul and body in conjunction. The soul designs, the bidy executes. The senses are the designs, the body executes. The senser are two open ports to admit temptations. Carnal affections deprace the soul, corrupt the mind, and mislead it. The heart is the fountain of programeness, and the tongue expresses it: Thus the members are iostrumeurs of iniquity. And the body is obedient to the holy soul in doing, without for God; and denies its sensual or suffering for God; and denies its sensual appetites and satisfactions in compitance with reason and grace; the monthers are instruments of righteonsuess. Hence it follows, that there will be an universal resurrection, that the rewarding guidness of God may appear in making the bodies of his servants glortowily happy with may be manifest, in punishing the bodies of the may be manifest, in punishing the budies of the wicked with eternal torments answerable to their guilt. And as to the possibility of the resurrection, the continual production of things is the world, is a clear demonstration of the power of God for that effect. There is an instance that our Swiyns and the apostle Paul made use of, as an image of the resurrection: A grain of corn sowed in the earth, corrupts and they are any after springs up on the corner of the same after the same dies, and after springs up entire; its h is n disposition to life, John 12, 24, or. 15, 36. The essays of God's power in the works of returning nature, flowers and finite in their season, instruct us how easily he can make those that are in the dust to awake

But more especially the resurrection of Christ is the argument, the claim, and assurance of the resurrection of believers to glory. For God chose and appointed him to be the example and couse and upparted him to be the example and pinciple, from whom all divine blessings should be derived to them; accordingly he tells his disciples, Because I live ye shall live also, John 14, 19. He is called the first-fruits of them that slept, I Cor. 15, 20, because as the first fruits were a pledge and assurance of the following harvest; and os from the condition of the first fruits being offered to God, the whole Saviour's resurrection to the life of glory is the earnest and assurance of ours. He is the earnest and assurance of ours. He is the Head, helievers are his members; and therefore shall have communion with him in his life. is recorded, to confirm the hope of believers, how early his power was displayed in forcing the grass to release its captives. Mat. 27, 52, 53, And many bodies of saints which slept, arose, and came out of the graves after his and came out of the graves after his resurrec-tion, and went into the holy city, and appeared unto many. From what he has done, to what he can do, the consequence is clear. THE RESURRECTION OF CHRIST is the most in resource (10N of Chais) if the most important article of the gospel, and the demonstration of all the rest; hence St. Paul 10ys, 1 Cor. 15. 14, 1f Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain: And verse 17, If Christ be not raised your faith is vain, ye are yet in your sins.

The apostles being sent to convert the world, were to lay this down as the foundation of their preeching, That Jesus Christ was raised from the dead, that all might widd faith and obe-dience to him. Acts 1, 21, 22, Wherefore of these aren which have companied with us, all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and out among us, beginning from the baptism of John, unto the same day that he was taken on, unto the same day that he was taken up from us, must one be ordained to be a witness with us of his resurrection. The resurrection of Christ confirms the faith of Christians in his person, as he is thereby declared to be the Son of God with power, Kom. clared to be the Son of God with power, Rom.

1.4. He was the Son of God from eteratity, as the Wordy; and from the first moment of his tricarnation os God-Man; yet the honour of this relation was much eclipsed in his poor life and innominous death; but in his resurrection God did publicly own him in the face of the world; therefore he is represented testifying from heaven, Thou art my Son, this day have 1 begotten thee, Acts 13, 33. His resurrection was tikewise a most pregnant proof of the all-sufficiency of his satisfaction. The curse of te law accompanied his death, and seemed like an infinite weight to the on his grace; but me rising again, the value and virtue of his sufferings was fully declared. Rom, 4, 25, IIwas delivered for our offences, and was raised gain for our justification: Hoving as our Surety paid our debt, and given full satisfaction. was delivered for our officiees, and was raised again for our justification: Howing as our Surety paid our debt, and given full satisfaction to divine justice, he was released from the grave, and the discharge was most solerally published to the world. On this duetrine of his published to the world. On this doctrine of his resurrection, as was suid, is also built our faith in his promises, to give life and glory to his terrants. For how could ne believe him to be the duthor of life, who remained under the power of death? If he had been confined to the grave, all our hopes had been buried with him. But his resurrection is the cause, pattern, and argument of ours; and Christ may he said, not only to have raived his body from the grave, but also his church with him.

only to have raised his body from the grave, our die his church with him.

13. Also to make a person understand any part of divine truth which he knew not, or was in a mixture about height. of divine truth which he knew not, or was in a mistake about before. It in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveal even this unto you, Phil. 3, 15. The aposite Paul speaking of the gospel, says, That therein is the righteousness of God revealed, Rom. 1, 17, that is, That way, or method of becoming righteous, which is of God's institution, ordination, appointment, and establishment, and which alone the roll necessary of the life wangle by feather the pointeen, and establishment, and which alone he will accept of to life, namely by faith in Christ, is fully and plainly discovered in the gospel; which was wholly unknown to the Gentiles, and but obscurely made known to the Jews. And in verse 18, he says, That the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodiness of men: His displeasure was made known by those judgments which he in-flicts upon sinners, and by their remorse and the challenges of their consciences.
Revelation, in Greek Apocal; psis, is the name given in particular to that part of the holy scriptures which was revealed to John the Divine, in the 1ste of Patmos, whither he had been banished by Domitian, and which chiefly contains banished by Domitian, and which chiefly contains prophecies, or predictions concerning the state of the church in future ages. It is also called Revelation, when God makes manifest any thing to man in an extraordinary and supernatural manner, whether by dieam, vision, estays, or otherwise. St. Paul says, That he had not received the gospel by the ministry of men, but by a partitudar Revelation from tind, who had immediately conveyed the knowledge of dirine things unto him, Gal. 1.12. And elsewhere, That he did not go up to Jetusalem after his conversion by the mire motion of his commitmed, but in consequence of a revelation after his conversion by the mere motion of his own mind, but in consequence of a revelation that he had for that purpose, Gal. 2, 2. The word Apocalypsis is used thexive to express the manifestation of Christ to the Jews and Gentles, Luke 2, 32. The manifestation of the glow with which God will glority his elect and his faithful servants at the last judgment, Rooi, 8, 18. And the declaration of his judgment, Rooi, 8, 18. REVENGE.

Revence, as it includes a sense of sorrow and treuble for the injuries that are done to us, caunat by any means belong to God. None of his creatures can disturb his peace, or cause to him any trouble or resentment. Man has recouve to revence, only because he is galled and sensible of injuries. When therefore it is said in construct that God expense himself it makes sible of injuries. When therefore it is said in serryture, that God revenges himself, it speaks after a popular and improper manner. He vindicates the injuries done to his justice and his majesty, and to the order he has established in the world, yet without any emotion of pleasure or displeasure. He revenges the injuries done to his servants because he is just, and because to his servants because he is just, and because order and justice must be preserved. Mon revenge themselves out of wankness, because they are offended, because they are too much influenced by self-love. At great soul overlooks and despites injuries; a soul enlightened by and despites injuries; a some entigeneea of grace and faith, leaves the judgment and revenue of them to God, who has sufficiently declared himself, to make it understood by good men, that vengeance belongeth only to him; To me helongeth vengeance and recompence, Deut. 32. 35. He forbids malice and revenge, in express terms; he will not allow us to keep any resentment in our hearts against our brethren. Thou shalt not hate thy brother in thine heart thou shalt in any wise rebuke thy neighbour, and not suffer sio upon him: Thou shalt not and not suffer sin upon him: Thou shalt not avenge, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people, Lev. 19. 17, 18. And when God established the Lex Talionis, he does not thereby allow of revenge, but sets timits to t. Non fremes, sed limes furoris est, says Austin. He does not intend to provoke to anger, but to stop the progress and consequences of it. Non ut id quod sopitum erat, hine accenderetur sed ne id quod ardebat, ultra extenderetur Ir. 15 15. Reverence, when it is said to be given to man is a submissive humble carriage and respect, which inferiors owe to their superiors; thus, Mephibosheth did reverence to David, and acknowledged him for his sovereign, 2 Sam. 9. 6. And wives are commanded to reverence their husbands, Eph. 5. 33. that is, to esteem them, to fear them, not with a service, but ingentions to fear them, not with a service, but ingentions fear, and such as proceeds from love, and to manifest their estrem by the whole of their carriage inwards them. But when God is the object of our reverence, it signifies, That holy, humble, and filial fear of his displeasure, and that submissipe, lowly, and self-abasing temper of spirit, with which we should approach to him to the duties of his worship, and with which we should demean aursetnes under his chastenings; this consequence have challed by the servers and means. this temper being absolutely necessary and most congruous with respect to God, upon the account of his sovereignty, instive, and goodness, declared in his chastenings; and with respect to our fraility, our dependance upon him, our obnotifraiting, our aependance upon thim, our obnories to his law, and our obligations to him, that he will please to afficit us for our good. To this purpose the apostle speaks; Heb. 12.

9, We have had fathers of our flesh who corrected us, and we gave them reverence; shall rected us, and we gave them reverence; shall we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father of spirits, and live? We have had our natural yarents, who were our instructors and the word, for our natural, yet our bowels turned towards them; we have been covered with shame and blooking for yet fails and have whitten for yet fails and have whitten and blushing for our faults, and have submitted and blushing for our faults, and have submitted to their correction, so as to reform and turn from the faults for which they chastised us: and shall we not much ruther submissively receive correction from God, reform under it, and resign our souls to him who is the Creator and resign our souls to him who is the Creator of them, and the sovereign, guardian, protector, and disposer of them? Likewise in the duties of prayer, hearing the word, and the like, an humble conception of God, as the supreme, etrational, and infinitely perfect Being; as the omnipresent, onniscient, and an incomprehensibly glorious Majesty, whose throne is in heaven; whose Vame alone is excellent, whose eding is whose Name alone is excellent, whose glory is above the earth and heaven, would engage u above the earth and neaters, would engine us to approach him with deep reverence and holy fear. Heb. 12, 28, 29. Let us have grace, wherehy we may serve God acceptably, with reverence and godly fear; for our God is a consuming fire.

ROBE.

God gives orders to Moses to make the robe of the ephod, Exod. 28. 31. In Hebrew it is called Megnil: It was a long garment worn next under the ephod, which was girded about the high-priest's body with the curious girdle of the ephod. Our Savious says, Beware of the Scribes, who desire to walk in long robes, Luke 20, 46. The Scribes wore those garments in token of greater gravity than others: Christ condemns not the garb, but their affectation, ambition, valuations and the service of the service o greater gravity than others: Christ condenus not the garb, but their affectation, ambition, vain-glory, and seeming holiness, whereby they deceived the people. The best rohe is the righteousness of Christ imputed to believers for their justification, Luke 15, 22. Heaveulg glary is thexuise set forth by white rohes, Rev. 6, 11. White rohes were given them, speaking of the martyrs: their innocency was cleared, and they made perfectly happy.

Israel, Num. 20, 10, 11.
The name of rock is also given to God, by way of metuphor, because God is the strength, the refuge, and the asylim of his people, as the rocks were in those places, whither the peopl retured in case of an unforeseen attack or struption of in case of an unforeseen attack of rington of the enemy, The Lord is my rock and my for-tres; who is a rock, save our God? The rock from which the Israelites were supplied with water, was a figure and type of Christ, as the apostle observes, 1 Cor. 10. 4. They drank of that spiritual rock that followed them, and that rock was Christ. Believers have their spiritual refreshing from Christ, as the thirsty Israelites were refreshed with the waters that gushed out of the rock in the wilderness. ROOT

Is that part of a plant which extends itself downward, and which fustens the plant to the earth, Job 14. 8. It is said of such as received the steed into stony places, that they had no root in themselves, Mat. 13. 21. They had not the toil of a sincere heart, solid affections, firm and fixed resolutions, and habitual dispositions of grace. It is taken for the fountain, the cause, or occasion of any thing. I Tim. 6. 10, The love of money is the root of all evil. Lest there be among you a root that beareth gall there be among you a root that beareth gall and wormwood, Dent. 29. 18. Lest there should be among you some close idolaters, who conceiling themselves from the public view, might secretly infect and poison others, and so draw down upon you the effects of God's anger. It is also taken for parents or progenitors. Isa. 11. 29. Out of the serpeut's root shall come forth a cockatrice; meaning Hezekiah, who should be born of the royal family of David. And the apostle Paul, speaking of the conversion of the Jews, says, Rom. 11.16. If the root he holy, so are the branches; that is, If Abraham and the patriarchs, from whom the Jews descended were in convent with find the hold. descended, were in covenant with God, the body of the nation is also in covenant with him, consecrated to him, and therefore God will cast them off for ever. Christ Jesus is by a me-tonomy called the root of Jesse, Isa, 11, 10. And the root of David, Nev. 5. 5. instead of a Branch growing out of the root: He is therid's son, as he is man, yet David's Root and Lord, as son, as a isman, yet Dama's Root and Lord, as he is God, and gave a being to him and his family. Psal, 110. 1, Their root shall be rottenness, and their blossom shall go up as dust, Isa. 5, 24, that is, They shall be utterly destroyed, both root and branch, scients and children, old and young, as a tree that is rotted at the root cannot arrow a root and branch.

To run is to move with a swift face, 2 Sam. 18.19. The Christian conversation is called a race or running. I Cor. 9, 24, So run that you may obtain: that is, Use such diligence, care, and constancy in your Christian course, that ye may obtain the prise of eternal glory set before you? It is spoken in allusion to the custom in their It is spoken in allission to the custom in their races, of hanging up a crown or garland at the goal, and such as first laid hold on it and took it down, had it as a reward. St. I'aul says to the Galatians, Ye did run well, who did hinder you' Gal. 5. 7. that is, Ye were forward formerly in adhering to the true doctrine of justification by faith in Christ, and to Christian liberty, and you practised accordingly; who has turned you out of your way, or hindered you in your trace, that you now espect to be justified by the works of the law, and submit yourselves to the woke of certainties? The same Apostic compares his submr and diligence in the work of his ministry to a rwee. Phil, 2. 16, Ilolding forth the word of life, that I may rejoice in the day of Christ, that . have not run in vain. And an eager pursuat or inful courses is also by the apostle Peter compared to a race. 1 Pet. 4. 4. "That ye run not with them to the same excess of riot.

Or rather Zabaoth, an Hebrew word, that significable for Armies. Jehovah Sabaoth, The Lord of hosts, Rom. 9, 29. Whose host alterestures are, whether the host of heaven, or the angel, and ministers of the Lord; or the stars and planets, which are as an army ranged in battle-array, and performing the will of God. Or the people of the Lord, both of the Old and New Testament, which is truly the army of the Lord, of which God is the General and Commander. The Hebrew word Zaba is also accounted to signify the service that his ministers perform for him in the takeinale; secure they are there, as it were, tolders or guards actualing at the court of their Prince, Num. 4, 3, 23, 30. tending ut to 4, 3, 23, 30,

This word in Hebrew signifies Rest, created the world in six days, rested on the seventh, Gen. 2. 2. that is, after God had perventh, Gen. 2, 2, that is, after God had per-fected the intistible and tasible worlds, on the review of all his works, finding them very good, he took pleasure, he was satisfied in all those discoveries of his own perfection in the works of his hands. He blessed this day, and sancti-fied it, because he had rested upon it. From that time he set it apart, and appointed it in that time he set it apart, and appointed it in a peculiar manner for his worthip. And the Hebrews afterwards, in consequence of this designation, and to preserve the memory of the creation, sanctified, by his order, the Sabbath, day, or the seventh day, by abstaining from all work, labour, and service employments, and by applying themselves to the service of the Lo d, to the study of his law, and to maer. And at mount Sinal by a positive, moral, and perpetual commandment God hath appointed we day in the seven to be kept hely to himself, which in the New Testament is called the Lord's day, and is to be continued to the end of the world as the Christian Sabbath.

abbath is also taken for the whols neek. Luke 18, 12, I fast twice in the week; in the Greek it is, I fast twice in the Sabbath. Sometimes for the sabbatical year, which was celebrated for the Sabbatical year, which was eclebrated animy the lews every seventh year, when the land was to rest, and to be left without euline, Lev. 25. 2, 4. certain space on that day, at least to the temple or tabernacle from the remote parts of the city or corry. And St. Luke says, that the mount of Olives was distant from Jerusalem the space of a sabbath-day's journey, Acts 1, 12. The Rabbins generally fix this space at two thousand cubics; that is, about a mile.

The second sabbath after the first, Luke 6, 1,

Some have taken it for the second, others for the last day of unleavened bread; and some for the day of Pentecost: The Passover was the first sabbath, according to them, and Pente-cost the second. Others have thought, that the first grand sabbath was the first sabbath of the orst grand sanoam was the first sanotat of the evil year, in the month Tizri; and that the tecend was the first of the holy year, or of the month Nisan. The opinion most generally followed, is of those who think that to have been the first sabbath, which followed the second day of unleavened bread. The Jews thus reckoned their sabbaths from the Passover to Pentecost; the first was called secundo-primum, or second the first was called secundo-primum, or second ofter the first; that is, the first after the second day of unleavened bread: The second was called secundo-secundum, or the second day of the subbath after the second day of unleavened bread: The third was called secundo-tertium, or the third day of the subbath after the second day of unleavened bread: And so of all the rest, as far as secundo-septimum; that is, the second day of the subbath after the second day. seventh day of the sabbath after the second day of unleavened bread. This seventh sabbath immediately preceded Pentecost, which was cele-

The preparation of the sabbath; in Greek, Para-scene. The Jews gave the name of Parasceue to the right day of the week, because being not allowed on the sabbath to prepare their food, they provided the day before what was necessary for their subsistence on the sabbath. The for their subsistence on the sabbath The Frangelist John says, that Friday, on which our Saviour suffered, was the preparation of the passover, John 19, 14, because the passover the passiver, John 19, 14, because the passiver was to be celebrated the day following. St. Matthew marks out the day by these worse, The day that followed the Parascene, Mar. 27, 62. All the Eungelists observe, that May delayed not to take down Christ from the crois, and to put him in the rearest tomb, because it was the evening of the Parascene, and that the sabbath was to begin immediately after the setting of the sun, or the rising of the stars.

Is an offering made to God upon hir altars by the hand of a lawful minister, to acknowledge his power, to one entire dependence on him, or to conciliate his favour. A sacrifice differs from a mere oblation in this, that in a sacrifice there must be a real change or destruction of the thing offered; whereas an oblation is but a simple offering of a gift. As men have always been under an obligation of acknowledging the supreme dominion of God over them, and whatever belongs to them; and as there have always been found persons that have conscientiously acquitted themselves of the duty, it is probable, that there have been always sacrifices in the world.

zedek, before the law, have offered to God real sacrifices. The law did only ascertain the quality, the number, and other circumstances of quality, the number, and other circumstances of sacrifices: Before that, all was arbitrary. They offered the fruits of the earth, the fat of the milk of animals, the fleeces of sheep, or the blood and the fiesh of the victims: Every one pursued his own humour, his acknowledgment, his zeal, or his devotion: But among the lews, the law appointed what they were to offer, and in what quantities. Before the law was given, every one was the priest and minister of his own sacrifices; at least he was at liberty to choose what priest he pleased to offer his victims: This humour was generally conferred upon the most ancient, or head of a family, on princes, or men of the greatest virtue and integrity. But after Moses this was wholly confined to the family of Action.

these sacrifices some were encharistical, and are called peace-offerings, by which the sacri-ficer acknowledged the bounty of God, ond his own unworthiness, and rendered praise for a favour received, and desired the divine blessing. Javour received, and desired the divine ofessing. Others were expiatory, the sin-offerings, for averting of God's wrath: These offerings signified, That man is a sinner, and therefore obnoximus to the just indignation and extreme displeasure of the holy and righteous God; and that God was to be propitiated, and that he might pardon him: That God would not forgree might pardon him: That God would not jorgire sin without the etimement of justice, which re-quired the death of the offender; but it being tempered with mercy, accepted a sacrifice in his secod. There was a double guilt contracted by those that were under the Mosaical dispensation, [1] Typical, from the breach of a ceremonia. constitution which had no relation to morality, constitution which had no relation to morality, such were accidental diseases, the touching if dead body, y.c. which were estemed victors according to the law, and the defiled were excluded from sacred and civil society: but as these pullations were penal, merely by the positive will of God, so the exercise of his supreme right being tempered with usedom and equity, he or during that the the pull should be abolished by a version and that the guilt should be abolished by a version and that they thank be fully restored. dained that the guilt should be abolished by a secrifice, and that they should be fully restored to their former privileges: Thus the apostle says, lich. 9, 13, That the blood of those secri-fices sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh; that is, communicated a legal purity to the officers, and consequently a right to approach the holy piace. The reason of these institutions offerer, and consequently a right to approach the holy place. The reason of these institutions was, that the legal impurity might represent the true defilements of sin, and the expadory sacrifices prefigure that great and admirable Oblimowhich should purge away all sin. [2] They had constructed a real guilt which respects the conscience, from the breach of the moral law and which subjected the effender to death temporal and eternal. This could not be purged away by those sacrifices: For how is it possible, that the blood of a beast should cleanse the soul of man, or satisfy the finite of an affinded God? On the contrary, they restred the midof sin, and reinforced the rigour of the law and were a public profession of the mistry of men. As the moral contained a declaration of SAC

The disciples of Sadoc. They constituted one sy the four principal Sects of the Jews. What chiefly distinguished them from the other Jews was, the opinion they mantained concerning the chiefly distinguished them from the other lews was, the opinion they maintained concerning the existence of angels, and the immortality of the soul. They did not deny but that we had rassonable soult; but they maintained this value was murtal; and by a necessary consequence they denied the rewards and punishments of another life. They presended also, that what is said of the existence of angels, and of a future resurrection, are nothing but illusions. Epi phanius, and after him Austin, have advanced that the Sadducees denied the Holy Choir. But neither the Leangelists nor Josephus accuse them of any error life this. They are likewise necessed of rejections all the book of scripture, except those of Moses; and to support this opinion it is observed that our Savino if they had been to choose out of the canonical Scriptures, the Pentatench was less favourable to them than any other hook, since it so often makes mention of angels. Besides, the Sadducees were present in the temple, and at other religious assemblies, where the books of the prophets were read indifferently, as well as those of Moses. They were in the chief employed the nation, many of them were even priests. Would the Jews have suffered in these employed. ments persons that rejected the greatest part of their Scriptures?

As the Sadducces acknowledged neither punishments nor recompences in another life, so they were inexorable in their chustening transgressors. were incrorable in their chastering (inagessors, They observed the law themselves, and caused it to he oranged by others with the utmost rigour. They admitted of none of the traditions, explications, or modifications of the Pharisees; they kept only to the text of the law; and maintained, that only whot was written was to be observed.

As to Sadoc the founder of their Sect, it is said,

SALE.

Lev. 25.27, let him count the years of the s, thereof 50. price of his s. shall be according to the year Deut. 18. 8. besides that which cometh of the s.

In Greek, Hals; in Hebrew, Melach, God appointed that Salt should be used in all the sacrifies that were offered to him: Every oblation of thy meat-offering shalt thou season with salt; neither shalt than wolfing the Life. fices that were offered to him: Every obtation of thy meat-offering shalt thou season with salt; neither shalt thou suffer the salt of the covenant of thy God to be lacking from thy meat-offering: With all thine offerings thou shalt offer salt, Lev. 2. 13. This signified that incertupation of mind, and sincerity of grace, which are necessary in all them that would offer an acceptable offering unto God; or it denoted that communion which they had with God in these exercises of his worship, salt being a symbol both of friendship and incorruption. It appears from Ezek. 16. 4, that heretyfore they rubbed new-born children with salt; in the day thou wast burn, thou wast not salted at all, nor swaddled at all. Some think they did this, to day up the humidity that abounds in children; and to close up the poves, which are then too open. Others say, that salt hardens then shins of children, and makes them more firm. Others thunk, it was to hinder any corruptions that might proceed from cutting of the nacel-string. Whatever was their end in it, the manufact that with a continued allemant the same acceptance of the same repriors that might process from cutting of the nated-string. Whatever was their end in it, the prophet here, in a continued allegory, describes the worthless, helpless, and despicable condition of the lews at first, till God pitted and helped them, and bestowed all manner of the lews at the string of the lews at the lews precious blessings upon them.
In 2 Kings 2, 21, the prophet Elisha being den & Nings 2, 21, the prophet Elisha heing desired to sweeten the waters of the fountain of Jericho, and make them fit to drink, required a new vessel to be brought to him, and some salt to be put therein. They followed his arders: He threw this salt into the spring, and said; Thus saith the Lord, I have healed these waters; and for the future they shall not be the occasion either of death or barrenness: So the waters became good for drinking. and host the waters became good for drinking, and loss all their former had qualities. Naturally the salt must only have served to increase the brackishness or bitterness of this fountain; but the prophet is directed to make use of a remedy that seemed contrary to the effect which was produced, that the miracle might become the more evident.

Our Saviour, in his sermon on the mount, tells his disciples. Ye are the salt of the earth, Mat. disciples. Ye are the salt of the earth, Mat. 5.13. Ye are persons, who being endued with grace yourselves, ought to season others, and preserve them from corruption; and the doctrine which ye profess is as opposite as can be to the putrefaction of the world, both in respect to the purefaction of the world, out in respect to corrupt doctrive and corrupt manners. Salt has an acrimony by which it pierceth the lump; so the word is piercing, Heb. 4. 12. By the salt of the earth, sowe understand mail, with which they manure their land in some countries, which they manure their land in some countries, instead of thing.

Salt is the symbol of wisdom, Col. 4. 6. Let your speech be always with grace, seasoned with salt. It is the symbol of verpetuity and incorruption: Thus they said of a covenant, it is a covenant of salt for ever, before the Lord, Num. 18. 19. And in 2 Chron. 13. 5. The Lorn God of Israel gave the kingdon over Israel to David for ever, even to him, and to his sons by a covenant of salt. Salt to his sons, by a covenant of salt. Salt is the symbol also of barrenness and sterility. When Abimeleon took the city of Shechem, he destroyed it, and soued the place with salt, that it might always remain desert and unfruitful, Judg. 9. 45. Rephanial threatens the Ammonites and Moahites, from the Lord, Month shall be as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorrah, even the breeding of nettles, and salt-pits, and a perpetual desolation, Zeph. 2.9. Salt is likewise the symbol of haspitulety, and of that fidelesy that is due from servants, friends, guests, and domestics, to those that entertain them, and receive them at their tables. The (invernors of the provinces beyond the Emphrates, writing to king Artaxerxes, tell the Euphrales, writing to king Artaxerxes, tell him, Because we have maintenance from the king's palace, &c. Erra 4, 14, which in the Chaldee is, Because we are salted with the salt of the palace.

Mineral salt; or salt that is dug out of mines, in form of a hard stone. It is thought that Lot's wife was changed into a status of such mits ral salt, that she became as a rock or stone of sal', Gen. 10.6 Gen.

salt, that she became as a rock or stone of sal', Gen. 19, 26, The Salt-sea, Gen. 14, 3, is the Dead-sea, or tae lake of Sodom, called likewise the lake Asphal-tiles, because of the great quantity of bitumen in it, so that no fish can live in its waters, in it, so that no fish can live in its waters, and a man cannot verthout difficulty sink in them, by reason of the weight and density of them. The crimes of the inhabitants of Sadom, Gomorrah, Zeloim, and Admah, were come to such an height, that God destroyed these cities, together with their inhabitants, by fire from heaven. The plain wherein they stood, which before was pleasant and fruitful, like an earthly Paradise, was first inflamed by lightning, which put fire to the bitumen, with which it was replete, and was afterwards overflowed by the waters of the Jovdam, which diffused them selves there, and formed the Dead-sea, or Salt-sea. This lake receives all the water of Jorstat. It is take receives an the water of Jos-ilan, of the brooks Arnon and Jabbok, and other waters which descend from all the neigh-houring mountains; and notwithstanding it has no visible issue, it does not overflow. It is be-lieved that it discharges itself by some subtertieved that it discharges itself by some subtraneous channels into the Red-sea, or into the Mediterranean. According to Josephus' account, the lake of Sadom is 580 farlongs in length, from the mouth of the river Jordan to Zoar, that it, about two and twenty leagues, at these miles to a league; and 150 furlongs wide; that is to say, about five leagues of the same measure.

The Hebrews but rarely make use of concrete terms, as they are called, but often of abstracted. Thus, instead of saying that God taxes them, and protects them; they say, that God is their salvation. Thus, the word of salvation, the joy of salvation, the rock of salvation, the shield of salvation, the rock of salvation, the tower of salvation, &c. is as much as to say. prayer.

To separate, ordain, and appoint the Messiah to be the King and Head of his chulch. John 10. 36, Say ye of him whom the Father thath sanctified, thou hlasphenest, because I said, I am the son of God? that is, If the title of Gods be given to those to whom God has given some part of his domnion, then surely it does much more properly and truly belong to me, whom my Father has appointed to rule over all with himself, and whom he has separated and ordained for Aledator and King of his church; which office cannot be assumed or excuted by any mete creature, but only by the cuted by any mere creature, but only by the eternal Son of God.

I'm sanctify is also spoken of man, and signifies. To purify, and to be in a proper condition to appear before the Lord, and to partake of holy things. Exod. 19, 10, 11, 22. And the Lord said unto Moses, Go unto the people, and sanctify them to-day tify them to-day and to-morrow and let them wash their clothes; and be ready against the third day to receive the law. And let the priests also which come near to the Lord, sanctify themselves, lest the Lord hreak forth upon

To prepare. Num. 11, 18, Sanctify yourselves against to-morrow, and ye shall eat flesh. Josh. 3, 5, Sanctify yourselves, for to-morrow the Lord will do wonders among you. That is, Prepare yourselves, endeavour to bring your Prepare yourselves, endeavour to bring your Prepare gourselves, endeavour to bring your hearts to a holy frame, that with faith, rexerence, and admiration, you may behold the great work that God will do for you.

It praise God, to acknowledge his majesty, to worship him, to endeavour to make him known, udored, praised, and beloved by all those that are capable of it: thus men hallow or sanc-tify the name of God. Isa. 8. 13, Sanctify y the name of God. Isa. 8. 13, Sanctify Lord of hosts himself, and let him be you the Lord of hosts himself, and let him be your fear. And Mat. 6. 9, Itallowed be thy name. When we desire of God, that his name may be sauctified or hallowed, it is, that he may be honoured, praised, and glorified through the whole world, and especially by those who have the happiness of knowing him. Let them sancify it by their holy lives, their fidelity, their submission to his orders: And they that know him not, that they may come to the knowledge of him, may hear his word, may become tractable to the instructions of his ministers. What is meant by sanctifying the name come tractable to the instructions of his mini-ters. What is meant by sanctifying the name of God, may be yet better apprehended, by what is opposite to it; that is profaving the name of God by van swearing, blasphemy, and ascribing his name to idols; by furnishing wicked men and infield with an incaving blaspheming it by a bad life and scandalous contestation. It is said, Lev. 10. 3, I will be expected in them that come with we in contestation. It is said, Lev. 10. 3, I will be sanctified in them that come nigh we; in his priests, when by the terrible and exemplary punishment of Nadab and Abihu, the Lord shewed what purity he required in his scrvants, what punctual exactness he expected in his service. In Num. 20 12, the Lord complains, that Moses and Aaron did not sanetyly himbefore the people of Israel: And how did himber not sanetify him? By sheeing some distributed his words. Because ye believed me not, hint, holy halings are serviced.

to his words. Peccuse ye bettered me not.

Saint, holy, holiness, are epithets, which in a sovereign manner are aeribed to Grd, the author of all sanctity and holiness. So the Cherubims and Seraphims cry to him without ceasing, Holy, Holy, Holy, Ita, 6. 3. He

9.15. gathered their brethren, and s. themselves is named by way of excellence, in the Saint the Holy One of Israel, Isra. 10. 20. All our hotness before him is nothing but pollution; his name is Holy, or rather Holiness

To sauctify may be reduced to the four following

10 Sauciny rady or reduced to the year following significations.

1. It signifies, To confess and celebrate that so be holy, which in itself was so before, Mat. 6, 4) and thus it is to be understood wheresoever God

That this it is to be understood wherestoever God is said to be sanctified.

To make persons holy, who were impure and defiled before, 1 Cor. 6. 11. And this is the sense of the word in those passages of scripture where the elect are said to be sanctified.

To separate and set apart some things, or per sons, from a common unto an holy use, as the tubernucle, temple, priests, &c.

To employ a thing in holy and religious exer-cises, in the worship of God in public and pi-vate, and the celebration of his works; in this and the former sense the seventh day is sanctified, Exad. 20. 8.

fied, EAGL 20, 8.
Sanctification differs from Justification, thus:
1. Justification, is the absolution of a sinner from the guilt of six and death; whereas sanctification is an alteration of qualities from exit to good.

Justification consists in remission of sins through the imputation of Christ's righteonsness; sanctification is the renoration of nature ness; sanctification is the renovation of nature by the Holy Spirit. Justification is perfect this life ; so is not sanctification.

11. Into the ; is to a sacretification,
I Justification is in nature before sanctification, but not in order of time; for God only sanctifies
those that are justified.

Signifies A holy or sanctified place, a dwellingplace of the Most High. They called by this name that part of the temple of Jerusalem, which was the most secret, and most retired of all the rest, in which was the ark of the covenant, and wherein nume but the high-priest might enter, and wherein nume but the high-priest might enter, and he but once in a year, which was wight enter and he but once in a year, which was new was also given to the most sacred part of the tabernoide, which was set up in the wilderness, and which remained still some time after the building of the tenule. Each of these were called and which remained still some time after the building of the temple: Each of these were called Sauctuary, or the Holy of Holies, or the Most Holy Place, Lev. 4.6. 1 Kings 6. 16. It was a square of trenty cubits, and divided from the holy place by a curtain or veil of rich cloth. Solomon had embellished the viside of st with palm-trees in relievo, and cherubins of wood covered with plates of gold; and in general, the whole Sanctuary was adorned, and, as it were, overlaid with plates of gold. From hetween the cherubins which covered the mercy-seat, Gold eave answers to his people, when they tween the cherubins which covered the mercy-seat, God gave answers to his people, when they consulted him about momentous and important matters; hence, says the Ysalmist, The Lord soud thee help from the sanctuary, Psal. 20. 2. It was a type of Heaven, which is also called by the name of Sanctuary, Psal. 102. 19. For he hath looked down from the height of his Sanctuary; from heaven did the Lord behold the earth.

the earth.

Sometimes the word Sanctuary is used in general for the temple, taking its denomination from its principal part. 2 Chron. 20. 8, They have built thee a Sanctuary therein, for thy have built thee a Sanctuary therein, for thy name. Sometimes for the holy place, for the place appointed for the public worship of the Lord. Psal. 73. 17, Until 1 went into the Sanctuary of God. It is taken likewise for the holy land, the lond of Canaao. Evod. 15, 17, Thou shalt bring them in, and plant them in the Sanctuary which thay hands have established. Or, by Sanctuary here may be understood the temple on mental Moriah, which God would certainly cause to be built and established: The past tense being built and established: The past tense being put for the future, to note the certainty of it, according to the style of the prophets. It is according to the style of the prophets. It is said, Psal. 114. 2, Judah is God's Sanctuary; that is, The children of Israel are the people of God's holiness, at they are called. 13a. 63, of God's holiness, or they are called. 18a, 63, 18a, or his holy people, sanctified and set apart from all the nations of the world, to be his peculiar people and possession. Lastly, Sanctuary is taken for a refune, defence, or protection, isa, 8, 14, 11e shall be your sanctuary. Exch. 11, 16, 1 will be to them as a little Sanctuary.

The kingdom of Satan, Mat. 12, 26. Our Sa or represents Satan as a monarch, who other subordinate devils obedient to him VIOUR has other supprairate acrits opeaune so him. Deelzebub is, as it were, their king. If Beel-zebuh, says he, east out devils, his kingdom is divided against itself, he labours for his own rain, which is by no means creable; it is therefore false, that I drive out devils in the name of Beelzebub. The apostle Paul declares in Acts 26. 18, that all those who believe not we Christ are under the empire and power of Satan he synagogue of Satan, of which the evange, John makes mention, Rev. 2. 9. are pro bably the unbelieving Jews, the false sealors for the law of Moses, who at the beginning were the most cager persecutors of the Christians. They were very numerous at Smyrna, to the angel of which church St. John speaks in the anger of such this passage.

the depths of Satan. St. John, writing to the Christians, of the church of Thyatira, says to them, You know not the depths of Satan, the denths of Satan, them, You know not the depths of Satan which have not known the depths of Satan τὰ βαθεκ τε çατάνε, Rev. 2. 24. That is the mysteries of the Nicolaitans, and of the Simonians, who concealed their errors under a Simonians, who conceated their errors mysterious abstructures: they spoke of certain intelligences that had created the world, and that more in onwesition to the Creator. They intelligences that had created the world, and that were in opposition to the Creator. They taught a profound knowledge concerning the na-ture of the angels, and their different degrees. They had secret books written in an abstruse and mysterious manner; and these are called the depths of Satan. Then Christ sent forth his disciples to preach in the cities and villages of Judea, they re-turned back with great joy, and told him, say-ing, Lord, even the devils are subject to us through thy name. Jesus tells them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven, Luke Satan as lightning fall from leaven, Luke 10, 17, 18. He seems to allude to that passage of Isain; How art thou fallen from heaven, O Luctier, son of the morning! Isa. 14, 12. By which he unimated, that the kingdom of the devil was coming to a period; kingdom of the derit was coming to a period; that Satan should soon lose his power and dominion in the world, by the preaching and miracles of the aposities. And in Luke 22.31, the says, Simon, Simon, behold Satan hat desired to have thee, that he may sift thee as wheat; but I have prayed for thee that thy faith fail not; shewing thereby what vain ef-forts the devil would make to destroy the infant church.

By collecting the passages where Satan Devil is mentioned, it may be observed: that he fell from heaven, with all his company; he fell from heaven, with all his company; that God case him down from thence for the punishment of his pride; that by his envy and malice, sin, death, and all other evils, came into the world; that by the permission of God he exercises a sort of government in the world over his subordinates, over apostate angels like himself, that God makes use of him to prove good men, and chastise bud ones; that he is a lying spirit in the mouth of jalse prophets, schwers, and heretics; that it is he, or some of his, that torment or possess men, that inspire them with evil designs, as he did David when he suggested to him to number his people, and to Judas to betray his Lord and Master, and to Ananias, and Sapphira, to conecal the price of sherr field. That he roves full of rage, like a roaring lion, to tempt, to betray, to destroy us, and to involve us in guilt and wicked ness. That his power and malice are restrained within certain limits, and controlled by the will of God. In a word, that he is an enemy to of God. In a word, that he is an enemy of God and man, and uses his utmost endeavours to rob God of his glory, and men of their souls. See DEVIL.

4. To God. Jer. 17. 14. Save me, O Lord, and 1 shall he saved. God is often called by the name of Saviour. 2 Samuel 22. 3. The Lord is my refuge and my Saviour. Hosea 13. 4.
There is no Saviour hesides me. Intuch 45. 15.
Verly thou art a God that hidest thyself, O
God of Israel, the Saviour. God is the Saviour of saviours, and the God of gods; vertiout him there is nether salvation, nor deliverance, nor succour to be hoped for. It is he that raises up Saviours to his people: He raised them up a Saviour in the person of Othniel, the son of Kener, agamst the king of Mesopotamia, who oppressed them, Judg. 3. 9. He raised them up another in Elind son of Gerah, agamst Eglon, king of the Moahites, Judg.

to judge the mountain of Esau, Obad. 21.

2. To Christ. The name Saviour is appropriated to the Messiah, teho was prefigured by all those to whom the scriptures of the Old Testament give the name of Saviour, as Josha, the judge of Israel, the kings, David, Solomon. Josish, and the great men rais d up in an extraordinary manner to deliver the people of God. The prophets had marked out Christ willer the name of Saviour. Isaah 19.20, The Lord shall send them a Saviour, and a great One and he shall deliver them. And the apostles and sacred vortices of the New Testament generally give to Christ the name of Saviour by way of eminence. When whe angel Proclamed his birth he raid that he skould be Bernour by way of eminence. When the angel proclaimed his birth, he said that he should be called less, that is, a Saviour, for he shall lave his people from their sins, Matthew 1, 21, And in John 4, 42, he is called the Saviour of the world. See Acts 13, 23, Phil. 3, 20.

This name is properly given to Christ. He saves his people from sin, from hell, and destruction: he hath not only merited salvation for them by his death; but he applies the purchased redemption by shedding abroad the Holy Ghost into their hearts, and by maintaining and constantly preserving the graces that are implanted in them, serving the graces that are implanted in inem, as the mataral head doth distil and derive sense, worton, and lyfe, into the natural body. He is a Saviour by merit, and a Saviour by efficacy: Hence he is said to be the Author of eternal salvation to all them that obey him, Heb. 5. 9. And to have obtained eternal redemption for us, Heb. 6. 19. Heb. 9. 12, Salvation is attributed to faith, to the word of God, to haptism, and to men: These are only God, to haptism, and to men: There are on instruments and means which God makes use either for beginning or furthering this work. Luke 7, 50. Jesus said to the woman, thy faith hath saved thee, go in peace. Jam. 1. 21, Receive with meekness the ingrafted word, Receive with meekiness the ingratted word, which is able to save your souls. 1 Pet. 3. 21, The like figure wherenato, even haptism, doth also now save us. Rom, 11. 14, If by any means I may provoke to emulation them which are my flesh, and might save, that is, be an intrinument of saving, some of them. And in 1 Cor. 7. 16, For what knowest thou, O wife, I Cor. 7. 10, For what knowest thou, O wile, whether thou shalt save thy husband? or how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt save thy wife? The word directs and points out where salvation may be hed; fath is the hand or instrument that receives Christ the author of salvation. salvation; haptism becomes an effectual means of salvation, not from any virtue that is in the of salvation, not from any virtue that is in the outward administration of it, but only by the blessing of Christ, and the working of his Spirit in them to believe and hearity to acquiesce in the covenant, which they make with God at bay-tism, whereof it is the seal. Good men likewise, by their admonitions and good example, are wade instrumental in converting others to the faith. I m. 5. 20. aith, Jam. 5. 20.

Savour properly signifies a scent or smell. Eccl. 10. 1, Dead flies cause the ointment of the apothecary to send forth a sticking savour, or smell. It also signifies acidity, sharpness, or smell. It also signifies acidaty, sharpness, ta tness, or that quality in hodies by which they give a relish to other bodies, and make them palatable, or by which they corrode other hodies. Mat. 5. 13, But if the salt have lost its avour; that is, its actimony or acidity. It is likewise put for name, reputation, or character. Exod. 5. 21, You have made our savour to be abhorred in the eyes of Pharaoh. It is often said of sacrifices or offerings, that is often said of sacrifices or offerings, that be abhorred in the eyes of Pharaoh. t is often said of sacrifices or offerings, that they were of a sweet savour unto the Lord. When Noah had built an altar, and offered burnt-offerings upon it, the Lord is said to have smelled a sweet savour, or a savour of rest, Gen. 8. 21. that is, God graciously accepted of his sacrifice, it was pleasing and delighful to him, being a fruit of Noah's fath and thankfulness: These sacrifices God was reactiously pleased to accept of, as they represent the same of the same and thanky invests? God for man is by the apostle Paul called a sacrifice of a sweet-swelling savour, Eph. 5. 2. God is suitisfied and appeared thereby, The same apostle says, 2 Cor. 2, 15, We are unto God a sweet savour of Christ in are unto God a sweet savour of Christ in them that are saved, and in them that perish; that is, We are earful to discharge our duty to all men by preaching the way of substation to them, and hy warring them of the danger of a suffil course; and our labours are acceptable to God, whatever effects they have upon south. For God, whom we serie, will not judge of us, nor reward us, according to our success, but according to our faithfulness and different in his work. God accepteth of our labours a to good men, to whom we are instruments of eternal tife and salution: and though other despise the gospel, and refuse to hear the sweet eternal type and sattation: and though other despise the gospel, and refuse to hear the successand joyful sound of it, yet as to them also we are a sweet savour to God: For it is not for any neglect in us, as to our duty, if any perish, but from their own wilfulness and per reservoirs. verseness.

SCEPTRE. In Greek, Skeptron; in Hebrew, Shebet. This word signifies, I. A rod of command, a stoff of authority, which is supposed to be in the hand of kings, of sovereigns of a province, of the chief of the people. Abasuerus carried in his hould a status Newster Feb. 8. 4. The Scentre 18. of kings, of sovereigns of a province, of the chef of the people. Ahasuerus carnied in his hold a golden Sceptre, Esth. B. 4. The Sceptre is a sign of power and authority; hence says Isa-iah, 'The Lord hath broken the Sceptre, or the power of the rulers, Isa. 14. 5. And Amos re-presents the sovereign power by him that holds the Sceptre, Amos 1. 5, B.

11. The Sceptre, or the word Sliebet, is put for the rod of correction, for the sourceign authority that punishes and humbles. Thou shalt break that pointines and numbles. Thou shall break them with a rod of iron, or with an iron Scep-tre, Psal. 2.9. Solomon uces the word Shehet, to express the rod with which the disobaleut son is disciplined, Prov. 22. 15. [1]. The Sceptre is often taken for a tribe, proba-tion to the second of the s

hly, because the princes of each tribe carried a Sceptre, as a wund of command, to shew their dignity; thus the nord Shebet is rendered in 1 Sam. 9. 21. | 10. 19, 20, 21. | 15. 17. 1 Kings

11. 32. V. The Sceptre, or the Hebrew word Shebet, signifies a shepherd's wond, Lev. 27. 32. The truncheon of a warrior, or any common staff, 2 Sam. 23. 21. And the rod or flail with which they thresh the smaller grains, Isa. 28 which they thresh the smaller grains, 1sa. 28 e7.

1acob foretold to Judah, that the Sceptre should not depart from Judah, nor a Lawgiver from between his feet, till Shiloh come, Cen. 49.

10. By the Sceptre and Lawgiver, nee meant divers forms of government: the first being the mark of regal power or sovereignty; the other title respects these, whose power succeeded that of their kings, in the person of Zerubbabel and his successors: And this is that which should not depart from Judah till Shiloh, or the Messiah, should come. This prophesy doth not precisely respect the person of Judah, for he never ascended the throne, nor possessed the empire over his brethien; neither doth it respect his posterity as a tribe distinguished from the rest, although it had special advantages from the rest, although it had special advantages from that time: For the banner of Judah led the camp in their march through the wilderness, Num, 2. 3. That eribe had the first possession of the land of Canaan, Josh, 15. 1. And these were the beginnings of its future glory. And from David to the captivity, that tribe possessed the kingdom, but the first possession we the land of Stanel, in the person of Zedekiah. Therefore the full meaning of the prophesy regards the people of Israel, in the sceptre was low in the person of Zedekiah. Therefore the full meaning of the prophesy regards the nation from the city and Benjamin; so that the nation from that time tend its and the right to dispose of the sceptre was always in the texthe of Judah; For that tribe alone returned entire from the copririty, with some relies of Levi and Benjamin; so that the nation from that: so that the nation from the find his for the Levies that ruled after that time received their power from them: So that the vicent of the prophesy is, that after the establishment of the supreme power in the Jamily Judah Judah; should not pass trut the lands of strangers, but as a certain presace, ame time 27. Jacob diate forerunner of the coming of Shiloh. Ano this was fully accomplished: For in the contivity there was an interruption, rather than an extinction of their government; there than an extinction of their government; there than was promitted at the time they were carried captives to Babylon: But at the coming of Christ, Judea was a province of the Roman empire: Herod, an Edomite, sat on the throne, and as the tribe of Judah in general, so the Jimilly of David in particular, was in such a Jimilly of David in particular, was in such a Jimilly of David in particular, was in such a Jimilly of David in particular, was in such a first that Joseph and Mary, who were descended from him, were constrained to lodge in a stodle at Bethlem. And since our blessed Satiour hath appeared on the earth, the Jows have lost all authority, their civil and exclessisatical state is nutterly ruined, and that exclessisatical state is nutterly ruined, and the ecclesiastical state is utterly ruined, and they bear the visible signs and marks of infamous servitude. For though great numbers of this people swarm all over the world, since the de struction of their city and temple by litus, yet they have never been able to embody again into a nation, either in their own, or any other the a nation, either in their own, or any other land; nor have they to this day ever found a place where they could re establish their old con-stitution of law, or have a prince of their own to govern them by it.

The Jews seek is vain to put forced meaning upon this prophecy of Jacob, soying, that the Sceptre intimates the dominion of strangers, to which they have been in subjection, or the hope of seeing, one day, the sceptre, or supreme pomer, settled again among themselves. In vain theories they take refige in their Achondourcha; that is, The Head of the captivity: Such an officer the Babylooish Jews had, to whom they paid a voluntury submission, and who was always chosen by them out of the home of David. If such an officer be still there in being, he is no more than what their Alabarcha was he is no more than what their Alabarcha was at Alexandria, their Ethoarcha, at Antioch, or their Episcopus Judworum, in England; that is, the head of that sect in that place, that is, the head of that sect in that place, without sword or sceptre, or any power of vercion, or authority of jurisdiction, but what he hath by the voluntary submission of the Jews of that country, which was the case with their Babylonian Achinalotarcha. Nothing therefore can be more vain than what the Jews urge ns to this matter: that is, that in this Achinalotarcha is still preserved both the Sceptre and the Law-giver in the trihe of Judah, and that therefore the prophecy of Jacoh is not yet fulfilled, nor the Messiah as yee come.

Is n word formed from the Greek word Schisma which signifier inpture, or division. The apostle Paul withouts the Corinthians to live in union Paul ethorts the Corinthians to live in muon togeture, that there he no divisions, or schisms, among them, 1 Cor. 1. 10, 11, 12. As heresy is n departing from the communion of the church, in respect of doctrine, or some fundamental article of religion, so Schism it taken for a separation from the society of the church for external things. Thus the divisions among the Corinthians never not about matters of least the Corinthians were not about matters of faith, but occasioned from their having men's persons in admiration; every ooe of you saith, I am of Paul, and I of Apollos, and I of Cephas,

Though it cannot be doubted, but that religious and hough it connot be doubted, but that religious and deteout mon, from the first beginning of man kind, did take care to instruct their children and families in the fear of God, yet, for man ages, their is no mention made of academies, or schools erected for this jurpose. The school or colleges of the prophets are the first a which we have any accounts in scripture; when which we have any accounts in seriotare; when the children of the prophets, that is, their de-ciples, lived in the exercise of a retired an-auster life, in tudy, and meditation, and read-ing of the law of Ood. It is said, I Sain 13. 18, David fled, and escaped, and came to

Samuel to Ramah; and told him all that Saul had done to him: And he and Samuel went and dwelt at Naioth. This Naioth, which was in the suburbs of Ramah, was the agadeny of the prophets. And it is probable, that amout them Samuel close to spend all the lessure tim re could get, from the necessary avocations of this public duty. He find more also under the prophets Elijah and Elisha, at Beth-el, and in plain of Jericho, 2 Kings 2, 3, 5. the plain of Jericho, 2 Kings 2,3,5. These graphers were consulted upon affairs of importance: People went to hear their lessons, as appears from the woman of Shunen, with whom Elisha had lodged. Her husband asked when, Why she went to see the prophet, seeing that dry was neither the Sabbath, nor the newmon, 2 Kings 4 23, which institutes that these were the chief and usual times in which the converted with analysis of interaction. These they resorted to the prophets for instruction. These Schools continued down to the captivity Bubylon, and it should seem, that even the entitives went still to hear the prophets, when there were any in the places where they resided. Ezekiel relates several conversations that he had with the elders of Israel, who came to see him, and to rousult him several times, Ezek, 14, 1, 2, | 20. 1, 2, 3. There Schools, or Societies, of the prophets, were succeeded by the synagogues. See SYNGOGUE.

See SYNGOGUE.

Some make it a doubt whether there were any sunagognes before the captivity of Babylon. Yet we read in Psal. 74 8, They have burnt up all the synagogues of God in the land. It up all the synagogues of God in the land. It is a firmed, however, that they were become so numerous in Iudea, after the return from the captivity, that in the city of Jerusalem unly, there were nuwords of four hundred, according to some; ar three hundred, and ninety-four,

according to others.
The method of teaching in the Synagogues and in the method of teaching in the Synagogues and in the Schools, is observable in the Gisspels and in the Acts. When Lesus was of the age of tweive years, he was found in the temple in the midst of the doctors, hearing them, and asking them questions, Luke 2. 46. By which it should seem, that the doctors of the law give a general liberty to any person to propound questions to them about the law of God, to which they gave answers. Our Swivian entering another day line answers, Our Swivian entering another day into the synagogue of Nazareth, his arm country, they presented to him the volume of the prophet Isaiah: He vusfolded and opened it, and having read a passage out of the prophet, he rolled it up again, and sat down to speak, scholars that were the greatest proficients, were upon benches just below their master; and the Acts 19. 9, disputing in the s, of one Tyraunus SCHOOL-MASΓER.

The punist ment of the scourge, or whip, was very common emong the Jews. The law ordains, that cannon emong the Jews. The lawordams, that if the wicked man be worthy to be beaten, the judge shall cause him to lie down, and to be beaten before his face, according to his fault, by a certain number: Forty stripes he may give him, and not exceed: lest, if he should exceed, and beat him above these with many stripes, and beat him above these with many stripes, then thy brother should seem vie unto thee, Deut. 25. 1, 2, 3. There were two ways of giving the lash; one with thougs or whips, made of royes ends, or straps of leather; the other, with rods, twees, or branches of some tree.

The Rabbins think, that ordinary fundts com-mitted against the law, and submitted to the mitted against the law, and submitted to the penalty of the scource, were punished, not with blust with a rad, hut with a whip. They hild, that all punishable faults, to which the law has not annexed the kind or degree of punish-ment, are to be punished by the scource. The offender was stript from his shudders to his middle, and was tied by his arms to a wretty law uller, that he might lean forward. his middle, and was tien by his arms to a pricity low piller, that he might hean forward, and the executioner might the more easily some at his back. The law directed that they should not exceed the number of forty stripes: and the lews that they might not stripes; and the lews that they might not transgress this law, seem to have made thirty-nine blows a fixed unmber, which they never went begand, as may be guthered from 2 Cor 11, 24, where the positions, Of the Jews five times at sivel 1 fears stripes save one hve times he sveit I tend stripes save one bine it is resid, that is greater faults they stemek with greater violence.

The which spirither say, that the paralty of tender, we see was not at all ignomination moning them and that it could not be objected as a disgracate to those that had suffered it. They pretend, that we Israelite, met so much as the king, or -priest, was exempted from this law, high-press, was exempted from this time, when he had committed any fault that deserved this putishment. But this miss be understood of the punishment of whipping that was inflicted in their synagogics, and which was rather a legal and particular penalty, than a public and shanight correction. Philo, speaking of the manner in which Flacous treated the lews of Alexandry was he made them underso the out manner in which Flacous iteated the lews of Alexandria, says, he made them undergothe put nishment of the whip, which, says he, is not less unsupportable to a free man, than death rist ft. Our Surious speaking of the pains and ignoming of his passion, commonly puts its security in the first place, Mat. 20. 19. Mark 10. 31, Luke 18. 33

10. 34. Luke 18. 33. The punishment of scourging inflicted on our Satiour, which is mentioned in Mat. C7. 26. has given occasion for several conjectures: Some say, that this punishment among the Romans was a solemn p eparative to cruefysion, but this would make scounging a part of the sentence of death pronounced wow our Satiour, which is a not as a newest from John 10. which it was not, as appears from John 19.1, 4,6, &c. where it is said, that Pilate again and again sought to release him, even after he was securged, and that he told the Jews that he found no fault in him; but heing pressed upon ty the Iews, he at lost gave sentence against Some place the original of Scribes under Moses; Mat. 8, 19, a s. said, Master, I will follow theo but their name does not appear till under the 13, 52, s. instructed unto the kingdom of heaver, not till some time after he had been seourged. Grotius explains this of the punishment of putting one to the question, which was common among the Romans, an example of which we do not some time of the writer, Indeed, and the pen of the writer, Indeed, S. 14, Others I Kings 4, 3, Elihoreph and Ahiah, sons of Shisha. not titl some time after he had been sconreed. Grotius explains this of the punishment of putting one to the question, which was common among the Romans, an example of which we note in Acts 22. 24. Concerning which, see QUESTION, But the gaspels give no ground for this conjecture. The reason generally assigned for our Saviour's being scourged is, that Pilate, willing to deliver him from a capital sentence, appointed this of scourging to be inflicted on him: He proposed to the Jews the scourging of him, as a lighter punishment, proportionable to the crimes they laid against him, intending afterwards to release him. So that the various n, intending afterwards to release him. that the notion of his scourging was that of a lighter punishment, to release him from a greater; though when that was indicted, he was prevailed upon to gratify the lews, by deliverurite well the employment of a Scribe or writer was very considerable.

A Scribe is put for a Commissary or Mustermaster of an army, who makes the reciew of the troops, keeps the list or roll, and calls them over: Under the reign of Vizzaah king of Judah, when is found Jul the Scribe, who had under his h ad the king's armies, 2 Chron, 26, 11. And at the time of the invitation is said. and at the time of the instructy, it is said, the captain of the guard, among other con-tiderable persons, took the principal Scribe of host, the host, or Secretary of nar, who mustered the people of the land, 2 Kings 25, 19.

the people of the land, 2 Kings v3 19.

II. Scribe is put for an able and skilful man, a doctor of the law, a man of learning, that unterstands affairs. Jonathan, David's mode by the futher's side, was a connsellor, a wise mai, and a Scribe, 1 Chron. 27. 32. Baruch, the disciple and secretary of Jereniah, is called a scribe; Jer. 36. 26. And Exra is celebrated 68 a skylful Scribe in the law of his Gad, Exra 7. 6. The Scribes of the worls, who are os a serviu Serve in the taw of his Gad, Extra 7.6. The Servibus of the people, who are equently mentioned in the gospel, were public reters, and gred seed duct is of the law, which they that under, cannot to the people think that David first instituted them, when that varia first visititied them, when he established the several classes of the priests and Levites. The Scribes were of the tribe of Levi; and at the time that David is said to have made the regulation of that tribe, we read that six thousand of them were constituted Officers and Judges, I Chron. 23. 4. amang whom it is reasonable to believe, the Scribes were included: For in I Chron. 24 6. we read of Shemaiah, the Scribe, one of the Levites; and in 2 Chron. 34, 13, we find it written. Of the Levites, there were Scribes and Officers.

t is not unlikely that they might have had their is in an unlikely that they might have had their education among the colleges of the prophets; since we do not read of any other schools of learning than among them. Their very name implies some degree of scholurship, and that no inconsiderable one; since we find our Lord joining prophets and wise new, and Scribes together, Mat. 23 34. Ind the prophet Isaiah, and after him the apostle I'aul, instancing them as such: Where is the wise? where is the Scribe? where is the disputer of this world? Isa. 33, 18, 1 Cor. 1, 20.

The Scribes, and doctors of the law, in scripturephrase, mean the same thing: And he that in
Mat. 22. 35. is called a doctor of the law, or a lawyer, in Mark 12. 38. is named a Scribe, or ane of the Scribes. They seem to have had the

And on Like 20 1, 2, while Christ was praching the gospel, the chief priest and Scribes come upon him, with the elders saying, tell us by what authority doest thou these things? or what authority doest thou these things? or who is he that gave thee this authority? which they thought no one had a right to but them selves.

Though they were employed to be the judges, inter nonga they were employed to be the judges, inter-preters, and preachers of the law to the people, we find that they came, in length of time, greatly to abuse their trust; by delivering traditions, instead of Scripture, and thereby setting aside even the law itself. Thus they very pertly de-manded of Christ, Matthew 15, 2, 3, 4c. Wey do thy disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? which our Lord fully answers by an-other question; Why do you transgress the commandment of God by your tradition? For God commanded, saying, honour thy father,

Their departure from the true faith in doctrine, was accompanied, as is generally the case, with a depravity of morals in their lives; for all their outward seed and profession, they had little or no true religion at bottom. Therefore our Saxiour says to his audience upon the mount, Except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the Scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven, Mat. 5.20. Or Writing. There is great dispute concerning the first inventor of letters and writing. Some maintain that there was writing before the deluge, and that Adam was the inventor of letters. Others think, that Moses is the first author of whom we have any writings, and that before him there were no written mountments. Through the whole lives of the patriatchs, these are found no toostern of any ments. Thro archs, there are found na justiteps of any writing; neither does Moses quote any writing, that was estant before his own; for the bool of the wars of the Lord, mentioned Num. 21 of the wars of the Lord, mentioned Num. 21 4, some think that it is a passage added to to the test of Moses, or that it was a writing compused in his time. Others take it as a prophecy of that should afterwards be recorded in the books of Joshua and Judges; and instead of reading the test, it is said in the book of the wars of the Lord, they say the Hebrew will bear to be read in the future tente, It shall be said in the book of the wars.

del agree that it is an admirable invention: To paint speech, and speak to the eyes, and by tracing out characters in different forms to give colour and body to thoughts. It is also agreed by all, that there is nothing estant this. agrees by an, that there is nothing established day in the world, either more ancient, or more authentic, than the books of Mosses, but it does not follow from theme, that there was no will ing before him. It appears, on the contrary ing before him. It appears, on the contrary that writing was known and common enough at that time both among the Egyptians and He brews. This people seemed already prepares and accustomed to express their thun, his and sentiments after this manner. And it is a and accustomed to express their thou, his ard sentiments ofter this manner. And it is a be supposed, that the thief of the nation read the tables of the law. Moses had been instructed in all the knowledge of the Egyptians, and, doubtless, had learned their manner of writing. The word Scripture generally stands for the sawn books of the Old and New Testament, writers by holy men, as they were inspired, instructed, and enabled by the Holy trhost. 2 Ton. 3. F. gospet of Jesus Christ, in which we may appear with confort before God. Scripture is some-times taken for some one sentence or passage of the sacred writings. Mark 15, 28, The scrip-ture was fulfilled, which saith, And he was numbered with the transgressors. The passage The passage numbered with the transgressors. The passage referred to is recorded in Isa. 53. 12. Seripture is also taken for the Holy Ghost speaking in the scripture, by whose inspiration the scripture was written. Gal. 3. 8. The scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the heather through faith, preached before the gospel into Abraham, saying, I in thee shall all nations be blessed. And in John 5. 39, our Saviour says, Search the scriptures for in themse thinks. blessed. And in John 5. 39, our Saviour says, Search the scriptures, for in them ye think ye have eternal life, and they are they which tave electrial the, and they are they which testify of me; that is. The inspired writings of the Old and New Testa-ments are called, the Scriptures, the Bible, or the Book, by way of eminence and distinction; because they far excel all other books: For (1) They contain the whole will of God necessary to be known for our salvation. (2) They contain that wisdom which is far above all the wisdom very the world, 1 Cor. 2, 7. (3) They were inspired by the Holy Chost, 2 Tim. 3, 16, 2 Pet. epired by the Holy Ghost, 2 Tim. 3, 16, 2 Pet. 1 21. (4) They were penued by the most crecitent of men, for wisdom and holiness, as Moses, David, Solomon, the prophets, apostles, and evangelists. (5) They are most perfect, pure, deep, and immutable, and contain all things necessary for fath and practice, Psal. 19. 7. 2 Tim. 3, 16, 17, 1 Pet. 1, 23. (6) No writings or scriptures but these bring such glory to God, or have such an efficacy in converting a soul, Psal. 19, 7, 8. Heb. 4, 12. (7) Though these books were written by divers men in divers ages books were written by divers men in divers ages, yet there is as great harmony in them, as if they had been written by one man. Jer. 27.19, saith Lord, concerning the pillars and s. SEA, Hebrew, Jum; in Greek, Thalasse,

In Hebrew, Jum; in Greek, Thalasse. It is taken for that general collection of waters, which encompasses the earth, and has several mane given it, according to the countries it uashes, Gen. I. 10. Exod. 20. 11. Psal. 95. 5. The Hebrews gave the name of Sea to all great collections of water, to great lakes or pools. Thus the Sea of Galilee, or of Therias, or of Cinnerett, is no other than the lake of Tiberias or Gennesarch in Galilee, Mat. 4. 18. 18. 32. John 6. 1, 18. The Dead Sea or Salt Sea, Sea Salt. The Sea of Jazer is the lake that was near the city of Lazer, beyond Jordan, Jer. 48. 3. The Great Sea is the Mediterranean. They gave also the name of Sea to a very great brazen basin, that Solumon caused to be made for the temple, for the convenience of the privats. for the temple, for the convenience of the privata, out of which they drew water for washing their hands or feet or wither things as occasion required. 1 Kings 7. 23.

The Arabians, and Orientals in general, some-times give the name of Sea to great rivers, as the Nile, the Euphrates, the Tigris, aim others, which by their magnitude, and by the extent of their overflowing, seem as little Seas or great lakes. Hence the country of Babylon or great takes. Hence the country of Babylon which was watered by the Euphrates is called the Desert of the Sea, Isa. 21. 1. Jeremiah speuks of it in the same manner. Jer. 51. 36, 1 will dry up her sea, and make her springs dry. By which some understand, that God would deprive her of all necessaries for her cod would deprive her of all necessaries for her succour; though others refer it to the particular stratagem by which Cyrus took Bahylon, namely, by drying up in some measure the river Euphrates, that is, turning it into other channels. And Ezekiel describing the king of Egypt says, Ezek, 32. 2, Thou art as a whale in the seas; because his habitation was upon the banks of the Nile.

sea is taken for a multitude, a deluge of enemies. Jer. 51. 42, The sea is come up upon Babylon. Also for the inhabitants of the islands of the sea. Isa. 60. 5, The abundance of the sea shall be converted unto thee. The islands or nations that formerly hated thee, shall love thee, and join with thee in religious worship; and shall bring their wealth, which they get by their merchandise, unto thee. Job says, Am I as sea or a whale, that thou settest a watch over me? Job 7. 12. Am I so muruly, and so ungovernable a creature, that thou needest to use extraordinary power to rule and subdue me? Am I as fierce and unruly as the sea, which would overwhelm the earth, and destroy its inhabitants, if thou didst not appoint boundaries to it? Or is my strength so great as that of the sea, which can endure so many coundaries to it? Or is my strength so great as that of the sea, which can endure so many violent stoims one after another, and yet can subsist under them, and after them? No, Lord; thou knowest that I am but a weak, feeble creature, whom thou caust crush in a moment, without putting these chains upon me; without without pitting these counts upon me; without these insupportable pains and miseries. The prophet Micah says, Thou will cast all their sins into the depth of the sea, Mic. 7. 19. What is cast into the depth of the sea, is ordinary. navily accounted as lost, we have no espectation of finding it any more; so to cast sins ioto the depth of the sea, imports the full and free pardon of them.

don of them, by the sea of glass, mentioned Rev. 4.6. most probably is signified the blood of Christ, whereby our persons and services are made acceptable to God. It is culted a sea in all sion to that large vessel in the temple, out of which are priests drew water to wash themselves, and the sacrifices, and the instruments which and the sacrifices, and the intruments which they made use of for sacrificing, I Kings 7. 23. Its being represented as a sea of glass like unto crystal, may denote the spotless innocence of our Lord Jesus Christ, in his suffering; that it was not the blood of a malefactor, but of an innocent person.

Is an instrument well known, wherewith letters and other writings are sealed and ratified. The ancient Hebrews were their seals or signets rings on their fingers, or in bracelets on their army. Jezebel wrote letters to the elders of 1sarmi. Jekwer wine terters to the enter of is-rael to condeam Naboth, and sealed them with king Ahab's seal, I Kings 21. 8. Haman the Agite sealed the decree of king Ahancrus against the Jews with the king's seal, Esth. 3. 12 Pliny observes, lib. 33. cap. 1. that the use of seals or signets was yet rure at the time of the Trojan war, and that they were obliged to shut ny their letters with several knots: Eura among the Hebrews they are much more ancient. Judah the son of Jacob left his seal, his brace-Judan the son of Jacob left in Seal, his orace-let, and his staff, as a pledge with Tamar, whom he did not know, Gen. 38, 18, 25. And it is said in Deut, 32, 34 Is not this laid up in store with me, and sea.ed up among my treasures? Joh says, that God keeps the stars as under his seal, that he is governor and mass the of them, and allows them to appear when he thinks proper, Joh 9. 7, He sealeth up the stars; And in chap. 14. 17, My transgression is scal-

11, Abraham received the sign of circumcision a seal of the righteoniness of faith. Rom. 4, 11, Abraham received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteonisess of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised. Circumcision was a seal and on assurance, on God's part, both to Abraham and his spiritual seed, that he would give them Christ the promised seed out of the hoirs of Abraham, and in him accept of them as his operation to the register of their form their natural corruption, eignified by their cutting off their foreskins. It was a confirmation of the covenant of grace, and of the righteonismess therein promised upon believing in believing Ephesians, says, in whom also, after that ye believed, ye were sealed with that Holy Spirit of promise, Eph. 1, 13. In Christ that ye believed, ye were sealed with that Ho-y Spirit of promise, Eph. I. 13. In Christ as your head and representative ye were sealed, that is, assured and ascertained of your interest on the heavenly inheritance, which assurance was wrought in your rouls by the immediate tes-timony of the Holy Spirit. I is said in 2 Tim. 2, 19, The foundation of God standeth sure, having this seal, the Lord knoweth them that an his; that is, God's decree of election is unchangeable, upon which, as a firm foundation, the salvation of the elect depends; and also the work of grace, on principle of holineis, which God has laid in the hearts of the elect, to be as a foundation, t, or seed, for e ernal life, remains smine. soc, of seed, for e eval tipe, remains immo-able, has ing this seal, confirmation, or securi-that God discerns his people from others, and will take eare of them, and preserve them e eternal life. The apartle of 10r, 9.2, call the Corinthians the seal of his apostleship. The seal of mine apostleship are ye to the Lord. Ye are the certain evidence of mu ai-Lord. Ye are the certain evidence of my na-tine call; my apostical office hath a work-mation in you by the effect, as the writing s-conditioned by the scale. I on how can you throw that the hiessing of God doubted so far accom-pany the gospel which I peach, as to turn you from Pagan idolates, and your leved courses of life, to the true Christian religious, and to an him he and conventions of God Sad on the holy life and conversation, if God had not been with me and sent me?

nith me and sent me?
In Rev. 5, 1, John saw a book sealed with seven seals. This was the book of God's decrees and purposes relating to his chareth, as to what remarkable things should happen to it to the end of the world; its being sealed denotes that the matter contained in it was locked up from and unknown to the creatures. Lisewhere and nuknown to the creatures. Elsewhere scaling denotes secrecy, no in 18a. 8. 16. Dain 12. 4. It also denotes security, as in Rev. 20, 3, He cast him into the lottomless pit, and shut him up, and set a seal upon him. He put a restraint upon him, and made him absolutely incapable of doing any considerable mischief to the church. And in Mat. 27.00, They went and made the sepulchre sure, sealing the

The grace of sanctification wrought in the soul by the Holy Ghost, is the seal of assutance of our redemption to come, of a joyful resurrection, Fph. 4, 30, And grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed into the day of redemption. One observes, that in the comparison of our sauctification with sealing, there are the following excumitances of theness, [1] The letter written, or cabinet filled with termane, is every good Christian, 2 Cor. 4, 7. Heb. 10, 16. [2] The war appointed to be sealed, is the relenting heart of man, apt to take any impression, Psal 22, 14, [3]. The scale is, is the Holy Ghost, Iph. 1, 13, [4, 30, [4]]. The seal itself is the word of God, when the sealer is the act of applying the word of took whether pricept, or promise, by the Holy Ghost whether pricept, or promise, by the Holy Ghost whether precept, or promise, by the Holy Ghost within, and the minister usthout, to the hearer. [6] The print, or impression passive, or the mage of the seal left in the war, is the know ledge, faith, and love of that truth, holines, and happiness which God argunally bath in himself and his word from him, and the new man hotal the time image thereof in hims lf, Eph. 4.23 Col. 3. 10. [7] The use and end of this scalin, is the secrecy and safety of the thing scaling from the eyes of curiosity and hands of violence So the children of God are past the censure of the wirked world, 1 Cor. 2, 15: [4.3. They are preserved as precums things, for God's on use, to be with him in heaven, 2 Tim. 2, 20, 21. They are freed toon the molice and violence of men and drysh, and from the strate of God's men and devils, and from the stroke of God's justice, Ezek, y. 4 Mat, 10, 18. The spowers in the Canticles wishes to be set as a seal upon her beloved's heart, as a seal upon his arm, Cant. 8, 6, that is, that she might be ingraven upon the talves of his heart, that his graven upon the talves of his heart, that his mind and heart may be constantly set upon her. There seems to be an allusion to the gravitables which were frequently worn upon the becast; and to the signet on a man's arm to hand, which men prived at a more than ordinary rate; is appears from Aer. 22. 24. This word is the same in the Greek with the word heresy, though the sound be not a odinas. Among the Jews were known four several Sects, which were distinguished by the singularity of their practices and opinions, and yet continuing matted in comminuous with each wher, and with the body of their nation. These Sects are those of the Pharisees, the Saddavees, the Essenians, and the Herodians. It so the just two Sec 5; see the Significations on Pharisees, and Saddevees. DUCKES.

the Essentians, or Essenes, are not mentioned in Seripure, but they are described by Josephue and other historians I dosephue be bello, his 2, cap. 12. He says, that they live in perfect much among themselves, and abnor voluptioning the most dangerous consequence. They do not marry, but they bring up other men's children with as much care as up other men's children with as much care as up other men's children and nations. The Essenes generally live long, and many rearns the age of an hundred years; which is sout it, be awing to the simplicity of sheer deep and inegreat regularity of their lives. They shee as incredible firmness under toments, where were some eminent examples during the war between the Romans and the Jews. Just hold the souts of men to be immortal, and be lieve that they descend from the most election part of the air that he badies, which are aurmated by them, whither they are drawn by some natural attraction, which they are not able to resist, lifter death, they return with rapidity to the place from whence they eame, being as it were freed from a long and melancholy captivity. As to the state of men's souts upter death, they have the some settiments almost when lace the some of good men the heathens, who place the some of good in the Flysian fields, and those of wicked

Although the Esseues mere the most religious of their nation, they nevertheless did not go to the temple of Jerusalem, nor offered any bloody sacrefices. They were against of being politics by the conversation of other worn, whose their offerings thather, and themselves offered by the God the succince of a clean-least, free fracting guilt of any great affends. They know a distance from the sensione, by fear of being corrupted by the conversation of strangers and assume from the sensione, by fear of being their values to duell in the fields, that in critics, and applied themselves to agricultura and other luborious electrices, which id in take them out of that solitone khereof they made profession.

pentance. The Herodians, so named from Herod, never another. Sect, which was among the Jews in our Sixinar's time, who had a leaven, or particular doctrines, distinct from those of the Pharisees and Sadducees, against whom our Saxtour requires his followers to guard themselves, Mark 8, 15. People are much divided about this Sect. Some believe that the Herodians took Herod for the Messiah; but as there were several throus who were known to have were several Herods, who were known to have reigned over the Jews, they are still divided to Anow which of them was achieveleded for the Messiah. The generality are for Herod the Great, the son of Antipater, who died in a short time after the birth of Christ. They short time after the birth of Christ. They say, that the Herodians grounded their opinion of Herod's being the Messiah upon the celebrated prophecy of Jacob, Gen. 49. 10, The scepire shall not depart from Judah, nor a lawgiver from between his feet, until Shiloh come; and unto him shall the gathering of the people be. These warks they, mistoking the nature of Christ's kingdom, thought snited exactly with Herod; because he was a stronger, and withat a powerful, brave, and worlike prince, and appeared at a time, when all the world were in expectation of the Messiah. And Herod is said to have procured the genealogical memoirs of the hone of David to be burnt, that so no one might be able to prove that he was not of a family, from which it was well known that the Messiah was to spring.

Others are of opinion, that Herod 11. surnamed Others are of opinion, that Herod II. surnamed Antipas, and Tetrarch of Galike, was the head of the Herodians. He was a very ambitious and very politic prince, for our Saviour calls him Fox, Luke 13.32. He might be very well thought to be umbitious of passing for the Messiah.

Sime others believed Herod Agrippa, who was appointed king of Judea by Calipula, to have given name to the Herodians. But how is this opinion maintoinable, since the Herodians were already known some years before this prince weended the through.

Many of the Fathers, and several Commentators Many of the Fathers, and several Communitators, have asserted, that the Herodians were people of Herod's retinue, who, to satisfy their curiosity, or make their court to their master, came with the Pharisees to tempt Christ upon paying tribute: But by the rectal of the Franceshits it appears, that the Herodians were a Sett subsisting in Judea without any dependence on king Herod, and his power at Jerusalem. Some will have it, that the Herodians were politically who frances the deviution of Meand.

Seed in scripenre is taken [1] Properly, for that thin, hot, and spirituous humour in man's body, which is fitted by nature for the generation of mankind, Geo. 38. 9. Likewise for that matter which in all plants and fruits is dispersed for the propagation of the kind, Gen. 1. 11. [47. 19. [2] Figuratively, for that which is beginten; and this is spoken either, (1) Collectively, of many, of children, or posterity in general, as in Gen. 17. 7, 8, God says to Abraham, I will establish my covenant hetween me and thee, and thy seed after thee in their generations. I will give unto thee, and to thy seed after thee, the land wherein thou art a stranger. Or, (2) Individually, of one alone, as of Seth, Gen. 4, 25, God hath appointed me another Mark 4, 26, if a man should cast s, into the groun Gen. 3, 25, God nam appointed me another seed: He noth given me another son. Also of Jerus Christ, Gen. 3, 15, I will put enmity between thy seed and the woman's weed. Gal. 3, 16, He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one; and to thy Seed which is Christ. (3) Ior works of mercy, Eccl.

The seed of Abraham, signifies, [1] The whole posterity of Abraham, according to the flesh, including both the bad and good. Rom. 9. 7, Neither because they are the seed of Abraham, Neither because they are the seed of Abraham, are they all children. [2] The faithful only, whether Jews or Gentles, who are endued with such a faith as Abraham had. Rom. 4, 16, To the end the promise might be sure to all the seed, not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham [3] Christ who came of Abraham according to the fiesh. Gal. 3. 16, To thy seed, which is Christ. Or thus, Persons, are called Abraham's seed, either curnally only, as they who valued themselves on account of their descens from Abraham after the flesh, John 8. 33, 37, Or carnally and spiritually two, as the believing laws, it is also believed to consider the continually only as the Gentiles. Or carnally and spiritually 100, as the octivering Jews: Or spiritually only, as the Gentiles, who had the same faith with Abraham, though they did not come out of his loins. The word of God is compared to seed, Luke 8, 5, 11, which is sown in the heart, as the hus-bundman casts his seed into the ground. The 23. hecause continuing still the same, and being immutable in itself, it changes and renews the hearts of those that by faith receive it. Or, it may be understood of its being incorruptible effectively, because it leads and tends to immoreffectively, occanie it is and and tends to innon-ial life; it begets in the soul an absting life, which shall continue for ever. Hence it is raid, 1 John 3. 9. Whosoever is born of God, doth not commit sin; for his seed remaineth in doth not commit sin: for his seed remaineth in him: The new or divine nature, the principle or habit of grace or holiness in the heart, remaineth or abideth in him.

The apostle Paul, writing to the Romans, quotes a pussage mut of Isaiah, Except the Lord of sabaoth had left us a seed, we had been as Sodom, and heen made like unto Gomorrah, Rum. 9. 29. What the apostle calls seed, is by the prophet called a remnant, Isa. 1. 9. It is an allusion to the custom among husbandmen, who spend the greatest part of their corn in bread and other food, reserving a small quantity of the choicest and best for seed: So would Gud deal with the Israelites; though they were innumerable as the sand, or as the stars, yet a acid with the israelites; things long were in-numerable as the sand, or as the stars, yet a few of them only should be delivered out of Babylon, and he would afterwards bring but a few of them, comparatively, to believe in Christ. Jer. 49. 24. Damascus is feeble, fear hath s. on her Jer, 49, 24. Damascus is weine, reaction of SELAH.

This Hebrew word is found seventy-four times in the book of Psalms, and thrice in Habakkuk.

The Septiacini, and other interpreters, translate Selah by Διάψαλυα Diapsalma, which signifies Seemin of Since view single sor a change of tone, according to others. Some will have it, that Sclah marks the beginning of a new sense, or a new measure of serses. Others translate Selah new measure of review. Others translate Selah by for ever, and say, that it joins what fol-lows to that which ever hefore, and shows that what has been said describes to be always re-

Intermission or cessation of the actual inspire tion of the Psalmist, or of the nuteral motions of his devotions. There are who say that Selah. of his devotions. There are who say that Selah, has no signification, and that it is only a note of the ancient music, whose use is no longer known: for Selah may be saken away from all the places where it is found, without interrupting the sense of the Psalm. Others say, it was a note which showed the clevation of the voice, and that in those places the reader should vize out, and make an exploration.

But it is generally agreed and conclu int it is generally agreed and concluded, that the proper signification of Selah is, the end, or a pause: And though it be not always found at the end of the sense, not at the end of a Psalm yet the ancient musicians might sometimes pu Selah in the margin of their Psalters, to she takes the pause was to be made, and where the time ended: For if the ancient Hebrews sang with according to the sense in the s time enach: Ivr y the ancient fleerews sang with great pauses, ending all at once, and also be ginning again all at once, which some think they did; then it was necessary to mark in the margin of the Psalm the place of the pause, and of the end, that the whole choir might rest at once, and begin ugain at the same time. But without it is generally placed at some re-markable passage; which gives occasion to think that it served also to quicken the atten tion or observation of the singer and hearer. Tit. 1. 7. for a bishop must not be s.-willed 2 Pet. 2. 10. presumptuous are they, s.-willed SELL

In case of extreme necessity the Hebrews allowed to sell their own libers. I. 2.25.3), If thy brother that dwelleth by thee be waxen pnor, and be sold unto thee; thou shalt not compel him to serve as a bond-servent. The rialt not oppress him, nor sell him again as a three; he shall abide with thee only as a work-man for hire; und must be used kindly, as a hiother, and as a number of the church of G d as well as thyself. Eathers had a power of sell-ing the liberty of their children. Exod. 21, 7, ing the liberty of their children. Exod. 21
If a man sell his daughter to be a maid-servan she shall not go out as the meo-servants do Her master shall not dismiss her, as another once is dismissed at the sabbatical year. He consil take her as his wife, or shall marry her to his son. If he cares to do neither of these, he shall set her at liberty

They sold areo insolvent debtors, and even their children, as appears from 2 Kings 4. 1. and Mat. 18. 25. Sometimes they sold free-men for Mat. 18. 25. Sometimes they sold free-men for feares, as Joseph uas sold by his brethren. This crime was cailed Plagium, and the law punished it with death. Exod. 21. 6. He that stealeth a man, and selleth him, or if he be found in his hand, he shall surely be put to death. The Jews confine this to the theft of a man of their own nation. The apostle Paul, writing to Timothy, places plagiaries amongst the greatest miscreants, 1 Tim. 1, 10, 'Avopx-type of Christ, who was to be a first-born: and of the church called God's first-born, Exed 4. of the churen called God's first-born, Exod 3, 22, and of the great privileges of the church; particularly adoption, and eternal life. He 12, 23, It is said, that the Lord had sold his people to their enemies, as a master parts with a vicious slave, to punish him for his bifdelity and disobedience. Deut. 32, 30, How should a house a thousand, and two put ten though the said of the said thousand, and two put ten though the said of the and disobedience. Deut. 32, 30, How should one chase a thousand, and two put ten thousand to flight, except their rock had sold them? See Judg. 2, 14, \{3, 8, \}10, 7.

The propher Elijah saud to Ahab, 1 Kings 21, 20, Ihon hast sold thyself to work evil in the sight of the Lord. The like is said of the idolatrous Israelies, 2 Kings 17, 17. The aportle Paul says, Rom. 7, 14, But I am carnal, sold under sin. He did not sell himself to sin, or to commit sin, as it is said of Ahah; but only he was overpowed sometimes by the tyranny of corruption, like a slave forced to be subject to a ornel master; he was not sin's servant or slave, but many times he was sin's captive against his will, as himself declares, Rom. 7, 23. Or meaning of scripture. It is said, Neh, 8. 8, They read in the book, in the law of God dis-tinctly, and gave the sense, and caused them to understand the reading. A learned outhor says, that these five different Senses may be distinguished in the Scripture. The Grammatical Sense. The Historical or Literal Sense. The Allegorical or Figurative Sense The Analogical Sense. The Tropological or Manalogical Sense. Moral Sense

The Grammatical Sense is that which the The Grammatical Sense is that which the words of the test present to the mind, according to the proper and usual signification of those words. Thus when it is said, that God repents, that he is in anger, that he ascends or descends, that he has eyes open, or ears attentive, &c, the grammatical Sense of all these expressions might induce one to think that God is corporeal, and subject to the same neatnesses as ourselves. But as reason and sound faith do assure us, that he has none of our infirmaties and imperfec-tions; upon such occasions we are not to abide by, or confine ourselves to, the Grammatical Sense.

The Literal and Historical Sense is that Seripture immediately present to the mind. Scripture immediately present to the mind. Thus when it is said, that Abraham married Hagar, that he afterwards sent her away, that Isaac was horn of Sarah, that he reverved cur-cumcision: All these facts, taken in the historical and literal Seuse, mean nothing else than what is expressed in the history; that is, the marriage of Abraham with ilagar, the birth of Isaac, Ac.

1. The Allegorical and Figurative Sense is that which examines what may be concealed under the terms, or under the event mentioned in the history. Thus the marriage of Abraham with Hagar, who was afterwards regulated and driven away because of her insolence, and that of her son, is a figure or is quescentation of the Synagogue, which was only as it were a Slave, and which was divorced and rejected, because of its infidelity and ingrattude Sarah is the figure of the Christian Church, and Isnae of the people chosen of God, Cal. 4, 22,

3. 24, &c.
The Analogical Sense, or Sense of Analogy and Agreement, is that which refers some expressions of Scripture to eternal life and happipressions of Scriptine to eternal life and happiness; because of some conformity or similitide between the terms that are brought to express something coming to pass in this world, and what shall come to pass in heaven. For example, on occasion of the Sabbith, or of the seventh day's rest that was enjoined the people of God, a transition may be made "s that re-pose or rest that the saints enjoy in heaven. On occasion of the Israelites entering into the land of promise, we naturally pass to tent up the entering of the Elect into heaven: These transitions the Apostle makes, Ileb. 3. 18, 19.

. The Moral or Tropological Sense, is that which deduces moral reflections for the conduct of life, and for the reformation of manners, from what is related historically or literally in from what is related artiolities of including in Scripture. For example, on occasion of these words of Dent 25, 4, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn, St. Paul says, that those that preach the gospel, and in-stinct us in the way to solvetion, ought to be supplied with the necessaries of life, 1 Cor. 9, 10, 11, 14.

Senses may be observed in this one word, J. rusalem. According to the Grammat teal Sense, it signifies the Vision of peace according to the literal and historical, the capital sense is the literal and historical, the capital sense is the literal and historical, the capital sense is the literal and historical. tal city of Judea; according to the allegorical, the church militant; according to the analogs. cal, the church triumphant; according to the moral, a faithful soul, of which Jerusal in is kind of figure.

Zech. 7. 3. should I weep in the ufth month, s. SEPULCHRE,

SEPULCHRE,
The Hebrews have always taken great care about the burial of their dead. The greatest part of their Sepulchres were hollow places due into rocks, as was that bought by Abraham, for the burying of Sarah, Gen. 23.
6. those of the kings of Jadah and Israel; and O. those of the kings of Jodan and Israel; and that wherein our Saviour was laid in mount Calvary. Sometimes also their graves were dug in the ground, and commonly without their towns in burying-places, set apart on purpose. Generally they used to put some hewn stone, or other thing, over the grave, to shew it was a burying place, that passengers might be warned not to come near it, that they might not be polluted,

Our Saviour in Mat. 23.7. compares the hypo-critical Pharisees to whited sepulchres, which critical Pharises to whited sepalchres, which appeared fine without, but inwardly were full of rottenness and corruption. It is said, that every year, on the fifteenth of February, the lews took care to whiten their sepulchres ance. In Luke 11. 44, he compares them to graves which appear not, and the men that walk over them are not aware of them, or know not that the places are unclean, so that they contract an unknown and involuntary summity. So an unknown and involuntary impurity. So they that conversed with the Pharisees, being deceived by their fair shews of religion and devo-tion, were easily ensuared and drawn into sin is said, Mat. 23, 29, 30, 31, Wo unto you ts said, Mat. 23, 29, 30, 31, We unto you Scribes and Pharisees; because ye build the tembs of the prophets, and garnish the sepulchres of the righteous; And say, if we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets. Wherefore ye be not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets. Wherefore ye be witnesses unto yourselves, that ye are the children of them which killed the prophets. As if our Saviour had said, Ye pretend a great deal of respect to the ancient prophets, and to distallow what you fathers did to them, by building and garniching their tombs; yet this practice of your seems rather to be an approbation of your fathers' wickchasts, if one how noon it, either in the nature of the thing, for hereby you keep in memory what your fathers did against them: whereas, if you did detest it, you would rather do all you could that it might be interly forgotten; or if one may judge of your affections to the dead prophets, by your lange of the living, namely, Myself and my Aposiles. SERPENT.

In Greek, Ophis; in Hebrew, Nachash. The craft, the wisdom, the subtilty of the Serpent, craft, the wisdom, the subrity of the Serpent, are things insisted on in Scripture, as qualities that distinguish them from other animals. Moses instroduces the relation of Eve's tempta too by affirming. Now the strent was more subtile than any heast of the field which the Lord God had made, Gen. 3, 1. And our Saviour recommends to his Apostles to have the wisdom of the Serpeut, Mat. 10. 16. They bring seteral proofs of this substity of the Serpeut. They say, that the Cerastes hides himself in the sand, in order to bits the hurself in the sand, in order to bits the hurself in the sand, in order to bits the hurself in the hurself in the sand, or order to bits the hurself too, that he might throw his rider. Jacob makes an allusion to this in the blessing has gave to Dan, Gen. 49. 17, Dan shall be a serpent by the way, an adder in the path; that bittelt the horse-heels, so that his rider shall fall backward. It is thewese said of the Serpeot, that when he is old, he has the secret of growing young again, and of stripping off Serpeot, that when he is old, he has the secret of growing young again, and of stripping off his old skin or slough, by squeezing hinself between two rocks. He assaults a man if he has its clothes on, but fleer if he finds him naked. When he is assaulted, his chief care is to secure his head; because his heart being under this throat, and very near his head; the readiest way to kill him is to squeeze or cut off his head thence in the curse that God gave the Serpeothe told him, The seed of the woman shall bruise the serpent's bead, that is, the principal seat of his life, Gen. 3, 15. Ind many nave bruise the serpent's head, that is, the principal seat of his life, Gen. 3. 15. And many nave supposed that his chief subtilly, or wisdom, as the gospel calls it, consists in this, that he chooses to expose his whole body to danger, that he may save his head. When he goes to drink at a fountain, he first vomits my all his positor, for fear of poisoning himself as he is drinking. Though this observation be not assented to yevery body, it has nevertheless a great many defenders.

It is raid further of the Serpent's subtility, that it tops up its ears that it may not hear the voice of the charmer or enchanter. The Psalmist takes notice of this piece of subtility of the Adder. Psal. SB. 4, They are like the deaf adder, that stoppeth her ear; which will deaf adder, that stoppeth her ear; which will not hearken to the voice of charmers, charming never so wisely. It is said, it applies one of its ears hard to the ground, and stops up the other with the said of its tail. Others say the substitly of the Serpent consists in us againty and suppleness; or in a secret it has in recovering its sight by the juice of femnel. Every one proposes his own conjectures on this matter.

some place the venom of the Serpeot in its gall, others in its tought, and others in its tought, others in its tought, and others in its teeth. The Scripture in different passages expresses streety sometimes as supposing the gall of the Serpeot to be its renom, Joh 20, 14. His meat in his bowels is tarned, it is the gall of asps within aim. David seems to place it in the tongue. Psal, 140, 3, They have sharpeued their tongues 'ike a serpent. And Solomon in the teeth, Prov 23, 32. Jaming other kinds of Serpents mentioned in Scripture are these fiery, Jujing serpents, that made so great a destruction among the Israelites, and were the death of so many people in the desert, Num. 21. 6. The Hebrew word here wied for Serpent, is Saraph, which properly signifies to burn; and it is thought that this name was a since the either hecoused in name was given to it, either because of its

It was upon this occasion that the Lord commanded Moses to make the brasen serpent, or the figure of the Serpent Saraph, and to raise it upon a pole, that the people who were but by the Serpents, by looking upon this image, might be pressully healed. Moses did so; and the event was answerable to this promise. By this series was answerable to this promise. By this series was answerable to the promise. event was answerable to this promise. By this account from Scripture we may understand something of greatest consequence was represented by it: For the only wise God ordains nothing without just reason. Why must a Serpent of brass be elevated on a pole? Could not the divine power recover them without it? Why must shay look towards it? Could not a healing rithe be conveyed to their winds, but through their eyes? All this had a direct reference to the mystery of Christ, and expressed the through their eyes? All this had a direct reference to the mystery of Christ, and expressed the manner of his death, and the benefits derived from it. Therefore Christ being the minister of the circumcision, chose this figure for the interferior of the Jew, John 3, 14. As Moses lifted up the Serpent in the wilderness, even so lifted up the Serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up. The bring of the Israelites by the fiery serpent doth naturally represent the effects of sin, that torment the conscience, and inflame the soul with the apprehension of future judgment. And the ereiting of a brasen serpent upon a pole, that had the figure, not the poison of those serpents, doth in a lively manner set forth the lifting up of Jesus Christ on the cross, who only had the simulation of sinjul flesh. The looking towards the brasen serpent, is a fit resemblance of believing in Christ crucifed for salvation. The sight of the eye was the only means to derive virtue from it; and the faith of the heart is the means by which the sovereign efficacy of is the means by which the sovereign efficacy of our Heddemer is conveyed. John 5. 40, I his is the will of him that sent me, that every one which seeth the Son and believeth on him, may have everlasting life.

This brasen serpent was preserted among the Israelites down to the time of Hezekiah, who being informed that the people paid a superistions worship to it, had it broken in pieces, and by may of contempt gave it the name of Nehushian, that is, a brazen bauble or trifle,
