Jer. 17. 11. as partridge sitteth on eggs and h. not HATE.

To hate, is not always to be understood rigorously It frequently signifies no more than a lesser degree of love. Deut. 21. 45. If a man have two wives, one beloved, and enother hated that is, less beloved. Thus our Saviour says; that he who would follow him, must hate father and mother; that is, should love them less than and mother; that is, should ove tham less than Obrist, less than his own salvation; he might not to prefer them to God. Solomon says, that he that spareth his rod, hateth his soa, Prov. 13, 24. Fathers often spare their children out of an excessive love to them; but this the same recognitions of affection to the dren out of an excessive love to them; but this is not a proper instance of affection, to forbear correcting them; their fond affection is as pernicious to their children, as other men's hatted could be; they keep buck from them what would do them good. There is a mulicious hatted of the persons of men, not of this sins; thus Ahab hated the Lord's prophet Micaiali, 1 Kings 22. 8. And wicked men do thus hate the righteous. Psal. 31. 91, They that hate the righteous shall be desolate. There is also as hatted of the sins of men, not of their persons; thus the righteous have even the garment spotted with corruption, Jude 23. What 1 hate, that do 1. Kom, 7. 15. The godly hate. most, this the regions have each in gainem motied with corruption, Jude 23. What I hate, that do I, Rom. 7, 15. The godly hate sin, because it is a breach of God's law.

The head is the uppermost and chief part of the body. It is sometimes taken for the whole man. Prov. 10. 6, Elessings are upon the head of the just, that is, upon their persons. And God says of the wicked, I will recompense their way. says of the wicked, I will recompense their way upon their head, Exek. 9. 10. It is taken also for the life. Dan, 1. 10, Ye shall make me endanger my head to the king. It also signifies a chief or capital city. Isa. 7. 8, The head of Syria is Damascus. It denotes a chief or principal member in any vociety. Isa. 9. 14, 15. The Lord will cut off from Israel head and The Lord will cut on from 1stact near atual. The ancient and honourable, he is the head. It is said, Gen. 3. 15. The seed of the woman shall bruise the serpent's head; that is, Christ Jesus, the dessed seed of the woman, shall orienthrow the power, policy, and works of the devil. ead is taken for one that hath rule and pre-emiead is taken for one that halk rule and pre-emi-nence over others. Thus God is the head of Christ, as Mediator; from him he derives all his dignity and authority: Christ is the only spiritual head of his church, both in respect of eminence and influence; he communicates spiritual head of his church, on in respect of eminence and influence; he communicates life, motion, and strength to every behiever: also the husband is the head of his wife, because by God's ordinance he is to rule over her, Gen. 3. 10. Also in regard of pre eminence of sex, 1 Pet. 3, 7, and excellency of howledge, 10 Co. 14, 35. The apostle mentions this subordination. of persons in 1 Cor. 11, 3, But I would have you know, that the head of every man is Christ: and the head of the woman is the man; and the head of Christ is God.

he river in Paradise was divided into four heads, into four springs, four branches, Gen. z. 10. The stone which the builders rejected, was The stone which the builders rejected, was made the head of the corner, Psal. 118, 22, it was the first in the angle, whether it were disposed at the top of that angle to adorn and crown it, or at the bottom to support it. This in the New Testamer. posed at the top of that angle to adorn and erown tt, or at the bottom to support it. This in the New Testament is applied to Christ, who is the strength and beauty of the church, to unite the strength and beauty of the church, to unite the several parts thereof, namely, both Jews and Gentiles, together. Thou has caused men to ride over our heads, Psal. 66.12. Thou has given us masters who use us like slaves, yea, the beasts to carry their burdens. The Lord shall make thee the head, and not the tail, Pout, 28. 13. Thou shalt be always master, and never in subjection.

13. Thou shall be aways master, and nects in subjection.

llead is taken sometimes for poison, because the Hebrew word Rosch, which signifies head, signifies likewise poison. Job 20.16, He shall suck the poison, or head of asps. Signifies, (1) To receive a voice or wand by the ear, 2 Sam. 15. 10. (2) To grant or answer our prayer. Psal. 116. 1, 1 love the Lord, because he hath heard my vonce. It is often used in this sense, in the Psalms and elsewhere.
And God is said not to hear, when he does not prant one's desires. John 9. 31, We know that God heareth not sinners. (3) To listen to God's words only with the ontward sense of the ear.
Mat. 13. 19, When any one heareth the word of the kingdom and understandeth it not. Thus all winked men who are within the church do all wicked men who are within the church do all wicked men who are within the church do hear the word; they hear the sound of the words, but then they have not so much as a notional knowledge of these things, or cleer regard them not, never consider, or lay them to heart.

(4) To yield a willing assent in our minds to the word of God, with a firm purpose to obey to. John 8. 47, He that is of God, heareth God's word; he believes and obeys it. So in John 10. 27, My sheep hear my voice, and follow me. It is used often in this sense. Deut 1. 43, 1 snake upto you and ye would not hear: we word; he betteres and obeys it. So in John to 10, 27, My sheep hear my voice, and follow me. It is used often in this sense. Deut, 1, 43, I spake unto you, and ye would not hear; ye would not obey me. 1 Sam. 24, 9, Wherefore hearest thou men's words? Why believest thou which I have neared it mit; those through may he hash targht me, which he hath communicated to ms. (6) To approve of, and embrace. I John 4 5, They speak of the world, and the world heareth them; these seducers and false teachers preach such dectrines as moy gratify and comply with the corrupt affections of worldly men, and they greedly hearken to, approve, and sombrace such doctrines. (7) In judge and determine. 2 Sam. 15. 3. Thy oratters are good and right, but there is no man deputed of the king to hear thee ; to determine thy cause with justice and equity. Psal, 103, 20, ye angels h, to the voice of his word HEART.

The Hebrews look upon the heart as the source of wit, understanding, love, courage, grief, and pleasure. Hence are derived many ways of speaking. An honest and good heart; that is, a heart studious of holiness, being prepared by the Spirit of God, to entertain the word with due of sections of holiness. due affections, dispositions, and resolutions, Luke 8. 15. We read of a broken heart, a clean heart, an evil heart, a hardened heart, clean heart, an evil heart, a hardened heart, a liberal heart, a heart that does an act of kindness, freely, voluntarily, with generosity. To incline the heart to God; to beseech him to change our stony hearts into hearts of flesh; to love with all one's heart, &c. To turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, Mal. 4. of that is, to cause them to be perfectly recon-ciled, and that they should be of the same mind. Let no man's heart fail; let no man be discouraged, 1 Sam. 17. 32.

o want heart, s. metimes denotes to want under-standing and prudence. Hos. 7. 11, Ephraim is like a silly dove, without heart; they call to Egypt, they go to Asyria. They have no judgment or understanding of the right way, to free themselves from their troubles, which is free themselves from their troubles, which is seen in their seeking to Expyt and Assyria. O fools and slow of heart, ignorant men without insight and miderstanding, Luke 24. 25. This people's heart is waxed gross; lest they should understand with their heart, lest they should understand with their heart, Mat. 13. 15. Their heart is stupified, so as to be destitute of understanding; they resist the light, and reject all impressions of truth. The prophets prophesy out of their own hearts, Exek. 13. 2. They prophesy according to their own inclinations and affections, and what their own imaginations suggest to them, without any warrant from God. To lay any thing to heart, to set one's heart on any thing; that is, to remember it, to apply one's self to it, to have it at heart. No man layeth it to heart, no one concerns himself about it, Jer. 12. 11. The heart dialets with jou, contracts with sadness, at heart. No man layeth it to heart, no one concerns himself about it, let. 12. 11.

The heart dilates with Joy, contracts with sadness, breaks with sorrow, grows fat, and hardens in prosperity; it resists truth; God opens it, prepares and turns it as he pleases. To steal one's heart, is an expression in Geo. 31. 120. Jacob stole away the heart of Laban; that is, he went away without his knowledge and consent. The heart melts, under discouragement; the heart forsakes one, under terror; the heart is described, in amazement; the heart is fluctuating, in doubt. To speak to one's heart, to comfort him, to say pleasing and affecting things to him. By the heart likewise the middle of any thing is meant: Thre is in the heart of the seas, in the heart, or midst of the seas, Esch. 27. 4. We will not fear, though the mountains be carried into the heart, or midst of the seas, Psal. 40. 2. As Jonas was three days and three nights in the whale's helly; so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the whale's helly; so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth, in the grave, Mat. 12. 40.

The God of the Hebrews is named, not only by the lews, but also by the heathens and strange people, the God of Heaven, Erra 1, 2, 5, 11, 6, 9, 10, 7, 12, Jonah 1, 9, because the Jews adored nothing overeign dominion over all creatures. ne heaven of heavens is the highest heaven, as the 30ng of 50ngs is the most escellent song, the God of gods, the Lord of lords; the greatest of the gods, the most powerful of lords. From these passinges it appears, that the liebrews acknowledged three heavens: (1) The acreal heaven, where the birds fly, the winds blow, and the showers are firmed. (2) The heaven, or firmament, wherein the stars are disposed. (3) The heaven of heavens, or the stard heaven, which is the place of God's residence, the duelling of angels and the blessed. This is the true palace of God, entirely separated from the impurives and imperfections, the alterations and changes, of the lover world; where he and changes, of the lower world; where he reigns in eternal peace. It is the temple of the dwine Majesty, where his excellent glory is reteated in the most conspicuous manner. It is the habitation of his holiness, the place where the habitation of his holiness, the place where his honour dwells. It is the sacred massion of light, and joy, and glory.

Heaven, or heavens, is put for God, who dwelleth and reigneth there. Dan. 4, 26, After thou shalt have known that the heavens do rule. So in Luke 15, 21, I have sinned against heaven. Most joy for the angels in heaven. Joh 15, 15, The heavens are not clean in his sight; the angels that dwell in heaven are not pure simply, perjectly, and comparatively to God. It is put also for the visible church. Rev. 12, 7, 9, There was war in heaven. Heaven by an huperbole is put for a great height. Deut. 1, 28, Their cities are walled up to heaven. It is taken for great glory and royal majesty. Isa. 25, their cities are waited up to neaven. It is taken for great glory and royal majesty, Isa, 14. 12, How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, soo of the morning! speaking of the overthrow of the king of Babyloo by the Medes overthrow of the king of Babyloo by the Medes and Persians.

The expoyment of the divine presence in heaven, is the supreme and everlasting felicity of the saints; whatsoever is requisite to their complete blessedness is enjoyed there; there is an exemption from all evits; sin and all the penal consequences are abolished; the body is revived to a glorious life, and the soul lites in communion with God and Christ. The understanding there shall be clearly enlightened with the knowledge of God. Here the retelation of God, in his works and word, is according to cur capacities, but in heaven it is most glorious, and our faculties are raised and refined to receive it. The communion also of the angels and saints in heaven affords the purest pleasure. And the fulness of joy in heaven it everlasting, without defect, and without end. In Hebrew, Scheol. This word most commonly signifies the grave, or the place or state of the dead, Jacob says, Gen. 37. 35. I will go down into the grave, unto my son, mourning. I will diec. So in Gen. 42. 38, If mischief hefal Benjamus, then shall ye bring down my grey hairs with sorrow to the grave. I no will make me, who am worn away already, to die with grief. The conspirators, Korah, Dathan, and Abiram, were swallowed up in the earth, and descended quick into the grave; they were boried aliene. Num. 16. 30.

lowed up in the earth, and descended quick into the grave; they were buried alive, Num. 16. 30. 31. Thou wilt not leave my soul in hell; Thou wilt not suffer my body to putrify in the grave, Psal. 16.10. which is prophetically spoken of the Messiah. And in Psal. 55. 15, Let death seize upon them, and let them go down death seize upon them, and let them go down quick into hell, into the grave. Jouah says, that he cried to the Lord out of the belly of bell; that is, out of the belly of a fish, wherein he was shut up as in the grave, Jonah 2. This word School is sometimes put jor hell, the place where the wicked or the damned are tornuented; as in Job 11. 8, The secrets of God's providence are high as heaven, and deeper than hell. And in Prov. 15. 11, Ilell and destruction are before the Lord; the place and state of the damned are towen to God. The wicked shall be turned into hell, Psal, 9. 17.

destruction are helore the Lori; the place and state of the damned are known to God The wicked shall be turned into hell, Psal, 9, 17.

Is the happiness of heaver is expressed in scripture under the idea of a feast or wedding, at which there is a great deal of light, 90y, and pleasure; so hell, in the New Testament, is set forth by such representations as may power-fully instruct and terrify even the most carnal man. Nothing is more intolerably painful, than suffering the violence of fire curaged with brimstone; and hell is described by a lake of fire and brimstone, Rev. 19, 20, 21, 8. It is represented as a dismally dark place, where there is nothing but grief, sadness, veration, rage, despair, and gnashing of teeth, like one excluded or shut out, during the obscurity of the night, and severity of the cold, Mat. 8, 12. The wicked in hell not only undergo the prinsiment of sense, but also that of loss, which is a separation from God, a privation of his sight and of the beatific vision. Add to these the eternity of their misery, which above all other considerations makes it intolerable. Their worm dieth not, and their fire is not quenched, Mark 9, 48.

By the gates of hell, Mat. 16, 18, is meant tha power and policy of the devil, and his instruments. The sorrows of hell, the pains on hell; that its, deadly or killing pains, such agonies and horrors as dying persons used to few within themselves, or such sorrows as bring to the brink of the grate, Psal, 18, 5, 116, 3, 506 11, 8, deeper than h, what canst thou know 26, 6, h, is naked before him, and destruction Psal, 9, 17, the wicked shall be turned into h. 16, 10, thou will not leave my soul in h. SECT.

Sect. From the very beginning of the Christian church there were very dangerous and peruicious here sies; for the most essential doctrines of religion were attacked, such as the divinity of Christ, his quality of Messiah, the reality and truth of his incarnation, the resurrection of the dead, the liberty of Christians, and their freedom from the legal ecremontes, and other points of this nature. The most ancient of these founders of heresy, is Simon the magician, the this nature. The most ancient of these foun-ders of heresy, is Simon the magician, who desired to buy the gift of God with money, and afterwards set himself up for Messiah, and God Almighty the Creator, Acts 8, 9, 10. The false apostles, against whom 8t. I'aul so aften speaks in his epistles, had a mind that the faithful should receive circumcision, and subject themselves to all the legal observances Gal. 5, 11, 16, 12. The Nivolultans allowed of a community of women, and without any sexuale commutated the most

Sal. 5, 11. [6, 12].
The Nicolaitans allowed of a community of women, and without any scruple committed the most ignominious actions, and followed the supersitions of heathcuism. It is said, they went over to the sect of the Caininsts, who acknowledged a power superior to that of the Creator, St. John speaks of the Nicolaitanes, as a seet of hereits then subsisting, and producing great disorders in the churches of Asia, Rev. 2. 6, 15. At the same time there were false Christs, and false prophets, I John 2, 18, 22 2 John 7. St. Paul speaks of Hymeneus and Philetus, who departed from the truth, saying that the resurrection is already past, 2 Tim. 2, 17, 18. He foretold that in the last times there would be some who should forsake the faith, and give themselves up to the spirit of error, and the doctrines of devils, 1 Tim. 4, 1 St. Veter and Jude forecte the same thing, 2 Pet, 2, 1 Jude 18. And herein they only copy what Jesus Christ himself had said in the gaspel. Mat. 7, 15, | 24, 24, Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves. For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders; insomuch that, if it were possible, they they shall deceive the very elect.

Signifies, [1] To conceal, or keep any thing from ignifies, [1] To conceal, or keep any thing from the sight and knowledge of others, I Sam. 20. 2, Why should my father hide this thing from me? Gen. 18. 17, Shall I hide from Abraham that thing which I do? I will not, I cannot hide it; it is against the laws of friendskip to conceal my secrets from him. [2] Not to son-fess one's sins, or to excuse and extenuas them. Psal. 32, 5, I acknowledged my sin unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid. And in Paras 19. 13. I de hat conversels his sine store. and mine iniquity have I not hid. And in Prov. 28, 13, He that covereth his sins shall Prov. 28, 13, He that covereth his sins shall not prosper. That does not confess them to God, and men too, when occasion requires it: That being convinced, or adminished of his sins, either justificht, or denieth, or excused them. [3] To cover sin by free pardon and forgiveness. Psal. 51, 9, Hide thy face from my sins; look not upon them with an eye of revenge, out forget and forgive them. [4] To protect and keep safe. Psal. 27, 5, In the time of trouble he shall hide me in his pavilion. The saints are called the hidden ones. Psal. 3, 3 They have consulted acaust thy hidden. 83. 3, They have consulted against thy hidden os. 3, They have consulted against thy fidden ones; against thy people, when then hidest as a precious treasure, and protectest from the rage of their enemies. [5] To put one's self under the protection of the Almighty by faith, prayer, and repentance. Prov. 22, 3, The prident man foreseeth the evil, and hideth himself. Thus the godly hide themselves under the wings of God's promises. The Psalmist says, I have not hid thy righteous-

The Psalmist says, I have not hid thy righteousness within my heart, Psal. 40. 10. that is, I have not smothered, or shut it my there, but spread it abroad for thy glory, and the good of the world. Our first parents hid themselves from the presence of God, after they had eaten the first day fruit, being filled with shame and and conscience of their guilt, and dread of judgment, Gen. 3. 8. The Psalmist prays. That God would not hide bimself from his supplication, Psal. 55. 1. that is, that he would not turn area his tace and ear, as one resulted. supplication, Fig. 33. I. that is, that is, the would not turn away his face and ear, as one resolved not to hear nor help; but that he would be pleased to hear him, to look favourably upon him. It is spoken after the manner of men, who show their aiersion and estrangement, by hiding their face, by turning from any one. In Psal. 119, 19, David prays to God, not to hide his commandments from him; to discoverto him the sense and meaning of them.

High places, in Hebrew, Bamoth. They are often spoken of in scripture, and the prophets upbraid the Israelites for nothing with so much real as for worshipping upon the high places. The destroying of these high places is a commendation given but to few princes in the stripture; and many of them, though otherwas vealous for the observance of the law, had not the contrage to run these eminences, and present the people from sacrificing upon them.

While the temple was not built, there was nothing in high places expressly contrary to the law, provided God only was adored thore, and that no incense or victims were offered to idols. Under the Judges they seem to have been tolerated; out Samuel offered sacrifices in several places besides the tabernacle, where the ark was places besides the tabernacle, where the ark was places besides the tabernacle, where the ark was not present. I ren in David's time, they sacri-ficed to the Lord at Shiloh, Jerusalem, and Gibeon. But after that the temple was built, and a place prepared for the fired settlement of the ark, it was no more allowed of to sacrifice out of Jerusalems. Solomon in the beginning out by Jerusalem. Solomon in the beginning of his reign, usen to Gibeon to sacrifice there, 1 kings 3. 4. But from that tame we see no lawful survives offered out of the temple. Dr. Prideaux thinks it probable that the Proscuebay, which he says, were open courts, hull the temple in which the temple was a proper courts, but the control of the temple.

It is commanded in the law, that the hireling should be paid as soon as his work is over. Lev. 19. 13. The wages of him that is hired shall not abide with thee all night until the morning; because his urgent necessities require it for present subsistence. An hireling's day or year, is a kind of proverb, signifying a full year, without abating any thing of it. Are not his days like the days of an hireling? a full year, without abouting any thing of it.

Are not his days like the days of an hireling?

Job 7, 1. The days of mun are like those of Joh 7, 1. The days of man are like those of an hireling as nothing is deducted from them, so nothing is added to them. And in Job 14. 6, I ll he shall accomplish as an hireling his day; to the time of his deeth, which he waits for as the hireling for the end of the day. See 1sa. 16. 14. 21. 16. In John 10. 12, 13. the hireling is set in opposition to the true shepherd; the first neglects the sheep, and aims when at his own advantage: the second loves herd; the first neglects the sheep, and arms only at his own advantage; the second loves and guides them carefully. The hirelings, whom the Father of the family, that is, God, sends into his vineyard, are the prophets and apostles, Jews and Christians; the second succeeded the forecasted of the forecasted.

And in Isa. 7, 18, The Lord shall hiss for the fly, and shall bring it to him, that is in the uttermost part of the rivers of Legypt, and for the bee that is in the land of Assyria. The By and the bee, which God will bring this with a hiss, are the kings of Egypt and Assyria: they shall come with their troops into the territories of Israel, and shall disperse themselves over the whole country. Theodoret, writing upon Isaiah, remarks, that in Syria, and Palestine, they who looked after bees drew them out of their hives, carried them into the sound of a flute and the noise of hissing. Zechariah, speaking of the return from the Bahylonish captivity, says, that the Lord will gather them, as it were with an hiss, and bring them hack into their country. Zech. 10.

Or to honour, in scripture tiple, is taken not only for the inward or outward respect which people have and pay to persons the are imperior to them; and to them they one parsicular marks of deference and distinction; but tiken is e.g. to real services which are due to them. Exod. 20, 12, Honour thy father and thy mother. This precept requires, not only that we should still worth the worth parents respect and descrence, but likewise that we should active and versely and versely many times. John 4. 44.

12, Honour thy father and thy mother. This precept requires, not only that we should show our parents respect and descrence, but likewise that we should assist and relieve them, and perform such services for them as they may stand in need of; as this precept is explained by our Saviour; Mat. 15. 4, 5, 6. Honour is likewise that we should assist and relieve them, and perform such services for them as they may stand in need of; as this precept is explained by our Saviour; Mat. 15. 4, 5, 6. Honour is likewise them, also be the same lump to make one vesel to h, the same sense in 1 Tim. 5. 3, 17.

only respect, but also relieve them. Let elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honour. Let them have a liberal minintenance, Honour is taken for a recompense, or return, Num. 24, 11, I thought to pronote thee unto great honour, but lo, the Lord hath kept theo back from honour; that is, hath deprived them that he had the respect to the same that the sam of the reward I designed for thee. By honour is also understood that adoration which is due to God only. Psal. 29, 2, Gire unto the Lord the honour due unto his name. So in Mal. 1, 6, If then I be a father, where is onine honour. And in Tim. 1, 17, Unto the only wise God. And in 1 1m. 1. 17, Unto the only wise Gol-be honour and glory. It is put for an k-nourable function, or office, such as was that of the holy presthood under the law. 11eb. 5. 4, No man taketh this honour, this honourable office, unto himself, but he that is called of office, unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was slaron. Bees are some of the smallest creatures that fly, and dees are some of the smallest creatures that fly, and the produce of them is the succeess thing in the world. The scripture describing a troop of enemies pursuing with obstinacy and warmth, makes use of the similitude of bees. Deut, 1. 44, The Amorites chased you as bees. And in I'sal. 118. 12, They compassed me about like bees. As to honey, God did not permit any to be offered to him upon his altar. Lev. 2. 11, Ye shall burn no leaven, nor any honey, in any offering of the Lord made by five. There are many reasons eigen for the enculrons of the offering of the Lord made by the. There are many reasons given for the expedency of this law; such as, that honey does not agree well with other things, which are offered in the way of sacrifice, that it makes bread sour, and is not good wik roast meat; or because bees are insects which are judged to be unclean, Lev. 11.23. Or because honey is the symbol of carnal pleasures; or, lastly, to keep at a distance from the customs of the heathers, who were vised to affer home; in their executors.

tance from the customs of the heathents, who were used to offer honey in their scarrifices. But at the same time that God forbids any honey to be offered to him in sacryfice, he commonds the first-fruits of it to be presented to him, Lev. 2.

12, As for the oblation of the first-fruits, ye shall offer them unto the Lord; but these first-fruits and offerings were designed for the support and sustenance of the priests, and were not offered upon the altar. The Rabbins, by the word honey in the attar. is extracted. The expressions of scripture which import so frequently that Valestine was a land flowing with milk and honey, are a good pring that honey was formerly very common in that country. Moses says, that the Lord made his people to suck honey out of the rock, and oil out of the flinty rock, Deut. 32. 13. Honey ran upon linty tock, Deut. 32, 13. Honey ran upon the ground in the forest, where Jonathan disped the end of his staff in this liquor, and con-veyed it to his mouth, 1, Sam. 14, 25, 26, 27, John the Baptist fed upon wild honey, which was found to be in the rocks up and down the was found to be in the rocks up and down the country, or in hollow trees, Mat. 3. 4. Children were fed with mith, creum, and honey. Isa. 7. 15, Butter and honey shall he eat, that he may know to refuse the evil, and choose the good. This was the success and more down. thing which was then known before the intention and preparation of snigar, and therefore things that are sizet, pleasant, and agreeable, are in scripture compared to 1t. The principal defence and greatest strength of horned beasts consists in their horns; and the scripture mentions the horn as the symbol of strength. Moses compares Joseph to a young bullock, and says, that his horns are like the horns of unicorns; that is, his strength and power shall be very great, Deut, 33. 17. And in Psal. 132. 17, I will make the horn of David to bud; I will make his power and glory to flourish and increase. I will cut off the horns of the wicked, Psal 75. 10. So in Jer. 48. 25, The horn of Moab is cut off. In Psal. 44. 5, a victory over enemies is expressed 48. 25. The horn of Mondo is cut on. 28. Psal. 44. 5, a victory over enemies is expressed by these words, Through thee we will push down our enemies: in Hebrew, we will smite with the horn, we will subdue, destroy, and disperse them, as a built disperses every thing that comes before him with his horns.

yourselves either arragens, boasting of your own strength, or teornfully and maliciously toyourselves either arrogen, a boasting of your own strength, or scorifully and maliconatify betwards me, Psal. 75. 4. In Hah. 3. 4, it is said, God came from Paran, and his brightness was as the light, and he had horns conning out of his hand, or, beams and rays of light, that is, glorious manifestations of his power in these his acts. Or, according to others, has my his hands armed with flaming dusts, and fiery arrows.

Kingdoms and great powers are often described by the word horns. It is thus Daniel represents the power of the Persians, of the Greeks, of Syria and Egypt. He represents Darius and Alexander like a goat and a ram running tolently at each other with their horns, Da8. 3, 5, 6. The Hebrews, by the word horn, 8. 3, 5, 6. The Hebrews, by the word horn, sometimes understood an enumence, an angle, a corner. Isa. 5. 1. My well-beloved bath a vineyard in a very fruitful hill, Heb, in the horn of the son of oil: my beloved has a sine-yard situoted on an enumence, or on the corner of a rich and fertile mountain. The horns of the altar of burnt offering were emineuses or the distance of the distance of the situation of the fore corners of it, which were not only for ornament, but also for use, either to keep things put upon them from fall ng, or vhat beasts to be offered might be bound to them, as beasis to be offered might be bound to them, or the Psalmist reems to uninuate, Psal, 118, 37. As the ancients frequently made use of horus to hold tiquors, the cessels wherein oil was put and perfumes, are called often horns, whether they really users of horn, or of any other matter, Fill thine horn with oil, tags the Lud of Samuel, and go anoint David king, 1 Sam.

HORNET.
Hornets are a sort of strong flies which the Lord used as instruments to plague the enemies of his people. They are of themselves very troublesome and mischievous; but those the Lord made use of user, it is thought, like the flies wherewith he plagued Egypt, of an extraordinary bigues, and permiciousness. It is said, they live as the waps, that they have a king or captain, and pestilent stings as bees, and that if usenty-sistent them stine nam or beast, it is excitant pessilent stings as bees, and that if twenty-se-ven of them sting man or beast, it is ceital death to either. Nor is it strange that such creatures did drive out the Cauaanities from their lubituations; for many heathen uriters give initiances of some people driven from their seats by frogs, others by mice, others by bea and uasps; of which see Herodous, Diodorus and wasps; of which see Herodotus, Diodorus thuy, Æhan, Justia, &c. And it is said, that "a christion city, being beiseged by Sapores," king of Perr., was delivered by horoets; for "the elephants and beasts boing sing by their "wased waruly, and so the whole ormy fled."

Lzek.7.18.A.shallcover them, and shame on all faces HORSE.

Is a very common beast, and very well known in these countries; but very real known in these countries; but very rare among the Hebrews till Solomon's time. Before him we find no horsenen mentioned in the armies of Israel. God forbids the kings of his people to keep many horses, Dent. 17. 16. Hereby God would prevent oppression and tyranny, and the imposition of unnecessary birdens and taxes upon his people; as also carnal confidence in the kings, which by this means would be promoted. It in Psal. 20.7, Some trust in chariots, and some in horses. By this God would likewise prevent their having commerce with Egypt, which was famous for horses. David having won a great battle against Hadadezer king of Zobah, took set enteen hundred horses, and lamed all belonging to the chariots of war, reserving only an hundred chariuts, 2 Sam. 8.4. The Judges and Princes of Israel used generally to ride on mules, or asses. ide on mules, or asses.

Solomon is the first king of Judah who had a great number of horses, and he kept them rather for pomp than for war. He had forty thousand stalls of horses for his chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen distributed in his fortified places, 1 Kings 4.26. Some are of opinion, that these horses were sacrificed to the sun: Others, that every morning they were put to the chariots dedicated to the mor, whereof there is mention made in the some passage, and that the king, or some of his officers, got up and rode to meet the sun in its trising, as far as from the eastern gate of the temple to the suburbs of Jerusalem. Xenophon Xenophon test her that both these were the customs of the lersians, and Armenians: He describes a solemn sacrifice of horses, which was made with socenn sacrince of horses, which was made with ceremony to the sun: they were all of the finest, and were led with a white charlot, crowned, and consecrated to the sume god. Lastly, others are of opinion, that these horses were wood, stone, or metal, exected in the temple in honour of the sun. en. 49, 17, an adder in path that biteth the h. heels

HOSANNA

Is an Hebrew word, which signifies, Save I beseech s an Hebrew word, which signifies, Save I beseem, you. It is a form of acclamation, of blessing, or wishing one well. Thus not the Savious's entrance into Jerusalem, when the people cred Hosama to the Son of David; their meaning was, Lord preserve this Son of David; this king: heap favours and blessings on him. The word is found in Mat. 21. 9, 15. Mark 11. 9, 10. John 12. 13.

Dan. 3.21, these men were bound in their k, and hats HOSPITALITY

Signifies love to strangers, expressed in entertaining and using them kindly, Rom. 12, 13. It has always been very much in esteem among civilized people. The Scripture formishes with several examples of hospitality exercised by the patetarists. Airmann received three angels, and carnestly united them, and several them himself; while Sarah his suffer look care to make the contraction of the to make ready prosisions of the guests, Gen. 18. 2, 3, &c. Lot wasted at the estimate to receive such guests a might come thinker, Gen. 19. 1, 2, &c., St. Paul makes use of Abraham's and Lot's cumple to encourage the faishful, and persuade them to the exercise of hospitality, runny these them who have consisted in his. and persuade them to the exercise of hospitatity, saying, that they who have practised it, hat is had the honour of receiving angels under the form of me, Heb. 13. 2.

The primitive Christians made one principal part of their duty to consist in the exercise of hospitality; and they were to exact in the discharge of it that the very heathens admired them for it. They were hospitable to all trangers, but chiefly to those that were at the same faith and communion. Believers scarce ever near without letters of communion, and the testified the purity of their furth; this was sufficient to procure them reception in all those places where the name of Jesus Christians 19 12 distributions.

The ancient Hebrews did not divide the day by he ancient Henrews and not arouse the any by hours: The day was divided into four parts, morning, high day or noon, the first evening, and the last evening; and the night was divided into three parts, night, mid-night, and the mor-ning-watch. But ufterwards, when the lews came to be under the Romans, they followed them in dividing the night into four parts, which they called watches, because they relieted their centinels every three hours. Thus in Mat. 14. 25. it is said, that in the fourth watch of the

20. It is said, that in the fourth watch of the night, lesus went to his disciples, walking on the sea; that is, about three hours before the riving of the sun.

In the books of the New Testament we see clearly the day divided into twelve equal hours, after the manner of the Greeks and Romans, Mat. 20. 1, 2, 3, &c. John 11.9. These hours were could be about the season of the sun of 20. 1, 2, 3, &c. John 11.9. These nours were equal to each other, but unequal with respect to the different seasons. The twelve hours of the longest days in summer were much longer than those of the shortest days in winter. The first longest days in summer were much longer than those of the shortest days in winter. The first hour was that which followed the rising of the sun, and was answerable to our vix o'clock in the morning in the Equinor; and to other times in proportion to the length or shortness of the days. The third hour was answerable to nine o'clock of the morning in the Equinor; the sisth at all times to noon, and so on.

2 Chron. 16. 8. the Ethiopians and Lubims a h. host HUMBLE.

Humility is a most excellent grace of the Spirst, evidences the subject of it to be a child of God, and is accompanied with contenument, peace, and submission to the will of God. The sense of the weakness of our understanding, which is the effect of humility, is a temper of soul that prepares syon faith: Partly ass it puts us on a serious consideration of those things which are revealed to us in the word; partly as it stops all curious enquiries letts 20, 19, serving the Lord with all h. of mind that those things which are unsearchable; and principally as it graciously entitles to the promise, God giveth grace to the humble, I Pet. 15.5. This our Saciour makes a necessary qualification in all those who shall enter into his IUNDRED. mise, God giveth grace to the hundle, I Pet. 5.5. This our Sacion makes a necessary qualification in all those who shall enter into his Augdom. Mat. 18. 3, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven. And since pride arises out of ignorance, the gospel, to cause pride arises out of ignorance, the gospel, to cause in us a lowly sense of our unworthiness, discovers the sinfulness, nakedness, and misery of the human nature, directed of its primitive righteousness. We have the example of our Survoir, in whom there is an union of all divine and human perfections, debasing himself to the form of a servant, to instruct us to be meek and lowly. Mat. 11, 29, Learn of me, for 1 am meek and lowly. Humility is pur for an humble, dejected, and low estate. Luke 1.48, Ile hath regarded the low estate of his hand-maiden; in Greek, Tankirvander, the humility is properties. maiden ; in Greek, ταπέινωσιν, the humility.

To humble signifies to afflict, to prove, to try. Deut. 8. 2. God led thee in the wilderness to humble thee. To humble a woman, is to lie humble thee. To humble a woman, is to lie with her, to rob her of her honour. Deut. 21. 14, Thou shalt not make merchandise of her, because thou hast humbled her. And in Ezek, 22. 10, In thee have they humbled her that was set apart for pollution: They came near a woman at a certain particular time when the Hunting has been called a kind of an apprenticeskip to war, and an imitation of it. Nimod was a mighty hunter before the Lord, Cen.

10, 9. Some think he did good with his hunting, served his country by ridding it of the wild beasts which did injest it, and so insinvated himself into the rifections of his neighbours, and got to be their prince. Others think, under presence of hunting, he gathered men under his command, and by their help estoblished a tyramical and absolute power overmen: He was a nighty hunter; that is, he was a violent invader of his neighbours' rights and properties, and a persecutor of innocent men;

a violent invader of his neighbours' rights and properties, and a prosecutor of innocent men; carrying all before him, and endeavouring to make all his own by force and violence. The prophets sometimes express war under the name of hunting. Jer. 16. 16, I will send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the holes of the rocks. He speaks of the Chaldeans or Persians, who took the Jews, and held them under their dominion. Some are of environ shar the hunters mentioned by Jeremusia. quaion that the hunters mentioned by Jeremanh are the Persians, who set the Hebrews at liberty and, in a more circulated sense, the Apostles, who were as hunters, that endeavoured to take men with their prenching. Micch complains that exercy one laws amisseader; Micch is neighbour, and that one brother hunts after another to destroy him. Mic. 7. 2, They all lie in wait for blood, they hunt every man his brother with a net. Ezekel inverges expansion the false prophetesses, who place cushooss under the elbors of sinners, thereby promising them the false prophetesses, who place cushooss under the elbors of sinners, thereby promising them the service weight excells they were expense. the false prophetesses, who place cushions under the elsows of sinners, thereby promising them ease and security, while really they were spreading a net, as hunters do, to devour it. Comes from the Greek, Hypocrisis: It is a coun terfeiting religion and virtue; an affectation of the name, joined with a disaffection to the thing; or, the having a form of godliness with denying the power of it. Thus he is a hypocrite thing, or, the having a form of gouiness with then just the power of it. Thus he is a hypocrite who feight to be what he is not, who puts on a false person, like the actors in Tragedies and Comedies. Our Saviour frequently accused the Pharisees of hypocrisy, Mat. 23.13, 14, &c. Their character is drawn out in that chapter; as (1) They say and do not, verse 3, their practice was not agreeable to their doctrine, and therefore their example was not to be imitated; jor they imposed many seriet injunctions, over and above what the law required, and severely exacted obedience thereto from others, but did not observe the least part thereof themselves, verse 4. (2) What good things they did, were only for ostenation, to be seen of men, verse 5. (3) They ambitiously affected titles, vain aptiance, and the precedency at entertainments, verse 6—12. (4) They had their crying sint worder the colourable appearance of virtues, and presended to boliness that they might sin with 302 less suspicion and more security, verse 14. These our Saxiour compares to whited sepulchres, that within contain sorded dust and rottenness, verses 27, 28. (5) They were exact in light matters, they tithed mint and cummin, but neglected substantial duties: They were exactous in the outward parts of religious worship and neglected richtenness and mean, think righteousness and mercy, thinking to compensati their dejects in the duties of one table, by strictly their aejects in the antiry of one saute, or stretch othering the duties or the other, verses 23,24 (6) They studied rather an external parity than the inward parity of the heart, verse 25, (7) These hypoeritical Scribes and Pharisees pre-(1) these hyportheat serioes and that sees pre-tended a great deal of respect to the ancient pro-phets, and to disallow what their fathers did to them, and yet were as ready to practise the like themselves to Christ and his Apostles, verses 29, 30, 31. (8) Hypocrites pray to God only in 29, 30, 31. (8) Hypocrites pray to God only in the time of sickness and danger, when by their the time of steerness and danger, containing afficients they are driven to it, but show no love to prayer or delight in God in time of prosperity, Job 27, 8, 9, 10. (9) They judged accusated others severely for smaller faults, being in the mean time themselves guilty of greater crimes, Mat. 7.5. (10) They were more for outward ceremonies and human traditions than outward ceremonies and miniman traditional man for the true and spiritual worship of God, Mat 12, 1, 2, 7, 15, 2, 7, 8, 9. (11) In worldly affairs they were quick-sighted, not so in spiri-tual and heatenly things, Mark 3, 4, (12) Hypocrites in public calamities are fearful, Isa.

This sin of hypocrisy is difficultly cured, in that it is not easily discovered by men, and does not expose to shame, but is inderevient to many carnal ends. Men cannot dive into the hearts of others, and cannot discern between the pant of hypocrisy and the life of holiness. Hypocrisy also with the means of saltation into making for the freeze the means of saltation into crisy also curns the means of saluation into poison; for the frequent exercise of religious duties, which is the means to sanctify others, confirms and hardens hypocrites.

the effectual means to cute it, is a steadfast belief of the pure and all-seeing eye of God; who sees sin wherever it is, and will bring it into judgment. A hypocriv may hide his sin from the eyes of others, and sometimes from his the eyes of others, and sometimes from his own conscience, but can never impose upon God. The steadfast belief of this truth will cause frequent and solemn thoughts of God, as our Inspector and Judge: Our Savour makes use of it as an argument against hypocrisy. Luke 12. 1, 2, 3, Beware ye of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy. For there is nothing covered that shall not be revealed; neither hid that shall not be known Are nothing coverage that shall not be known, &c.

Psal. 51. 7, Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean: that is, As lepeis and other unclean persons are by thy appointment purified by the use of hyssop and other things, so do thou cleane me, a most leprous and polluted creature, by thy grace, and by the virtue of the blood of Christ, which is represented and signifies by those ceremonal usages. montal usages.

Hyssop is a shrub, which shoots out abundance of suckers from one root only: it is us hard as any large wood, and grows about a foot and an hulf As particular distances on both sides of high. At particular distances on both sides of its stock it pushes out longish leaves, which are hard, odortferous, warm, and a little little to the taste. The blossom of it appears at the top of the stem, of an asture colour, and like an ear of corn. There are two sorts of 11, the garden, and mountain hyssop. It is rery probable that hyssop grows to a very great height in Judea, since it is said in the gospel, that the soldiers having filled a sunce with renews, they want to make filled a spunge with vinegar, they put it upon a stick of hyssop, and presented it to our Su viour's mouth, who was then upon the cruss, MANDRAKES Is a kind of plant, whose root at some distance from es upper part, is generally divided into two branches, which is the reason that this root had something (f

the figure of a man, whose two thighs are repre-sented by the two branches. It is said some times to stupity, and cause phrensy; some call it a provocative, and that therefore it was used in pailtres; and that this was the reuson why Rachel so earnestly desired to obtain them from Rachel to earnestly desired to obtain them from leath, she being very desirons of having children. There are two sorts of Mondrakes; the female, whose leaves are of a very disagreeable scene; and the male, whose scent is said to be very pleasant and agreeable. It is reported, that in the province of Tekin in China, there is a kind of Mandrake in valuable, that a pound of that sout is worth thrice its weight in silver; for them say it so wenderfully resource the sinding soot is worth theire its weight in silver: for they say it so wonderfully restores the sinking they say it so wonderfully restores the suching spirits of dying persons, that there is often time for the use of other means, and thereby recovering them to life and health. Those Mandrakes which Reuben brought home to his mother, are by some called Violets, by others Lilies, or dessainin, by others Citrons. Some reckon there to be such agreeable flowers of the field, wherewith children were pleased; Reuben that gathered them being then only five or six years

Signifies, ANOINTED. It is applied principally, and by way of eminence, to that sovereign Deliverer, who was expected by the Jews, and whom they varuly espect even to this day since he is already come at the appointed time since he is already come at the appointed time. They used to anoint kines, high-priests, and sometimes prophets, Saul, David, Solomon, and Joash, received the royal unction: Aaron and his sons received the sacerdotal; and Elisha, the disciple of Elijah, received the prophetic unction, at least God ordered Elijah to give it, 1 Kings 19. 16, and therefore the name Messiah, or Anointed, it given to the kings, 1 Sam. 12. 3, 5, and also to the patitarch or prophets, 1 Chron. 16. 22. Psal. 105. 15. But this name chiefly belongs to Jesus Christ, by way of excellence, who was the object of the desire and of the expectation of the saints. Hannah, the mether of Samuel, plainly alludes to Jesus Christ, when at the of the saints. Hannah, the mether of Samuel, plainly alludes to Jesus Christ, when at the end of her hymn, and at the time when there was no king in Israel, she says, The Lord shall give strength to his King, and exalt the horn of his Amented, 1 Sam. 2, 10. See also Psal. 2, 2, 45, 7, Dan. 9, 25, 26. It is not found any where, that Jesus Christ ever received any sensible uncetion; or that the apostles anounced the faithful with any particular or external oil or ointment. The unction that the nowthest and the apostles mostles treat ticular or external oil or onniment. In unc-tion that the prophets and the apostles speak of, when Jesus Christ or his disciples are un-derstood, is the spiritual and internal unction of grace and of the Holy Ghost, of which the untward and sensible unction, with which they anciently anointed long, priests, and prophets, was but the figure and symbol.

the a supernatural operation performed alone by the power of God, John 3, 2, | 9, 16. Acts 2, 22, | 15, 12, Our Savious confirmed the docthe power of Cod, John 3. 2, [9, 16. Active the power of Cod, John Savious confirmed the decetiving which he taugh by a train of sucontestible miracles: They were so great in their nature, so real and solid in their proof, so divine in the manner of performing them, by the power of his will; so holy in their end, to confirm a doctrine most becoming the wisdom and other glarious attributes of God, and for the accomplishment of the prophecies concerning the Messiah, whose coming was fortfold to be with miraculous healing benefits; that there was the greatest assurance, that mone without the omnipotent hand of God could do them. The miraculous healing benefits; that there was the greatest assurance, that mone without the omnipotent hand of God could do them. The miraculous performed durers wenders in Expt, but they were outdone oy Moses, to convince the spectaturs, that he was sent from a power infinitely superior to that of civil spirits. Real miracles that are contrary to the oder, and exceed the power of nature, can only be produced by creating power, and are invulyed to give a credut to those who are sort from tod; and when God permits false miracles to be done by seducery, that would thereby obtain authority and credit among men, the deception is not invincible; for it is forefuld expressly, to give women in the that the man of sin shall come with credit among men, the acception is a solution cible; for it is foretail expressly, to give in warning, that the man of sin shall come with lying wonders after the working of Satan, 2 Thess. 2, 9, but the heavenly doctrine of the gospel has been confirmed by real miracles, incomparably greater than all the strange things done to give credit to doctrines opposed farmer for the celebration of their jeasts and re-ligious ceremonies, which began with the month figures ceremonies, which began with the munth Mison, or March; the latter for the ordering of their political or civil affairs, which be-gin in Tivi, or September. The ancient He-brews hid no particular names to express their Months; they raid, the hist, second, third, and so on. In Exod, 13.4, we find Mose moket mention of the month Abib, or the month of the young ears of corn, or of the new fruits, which is probably the name that the Egyptians gave to the month which the Hebrews afterwards gare to the month which the ITEOFEWS after 12 is called Nissun, and which was the first of the hely year; every where else Moses marks out the months only by their order of succession, which method is continued in the books of Joshua, Judges, and Samuel. Under Solomon, I Kings 6, 1. we read of the month Zif, which is the second month of the hely year, and which ansuers to that which afterwards had the name of har, or April. In the same chapter, verse 38. we read of the month Bul, which is the eighth we read of the month with which is the eighth of the holy year, and answers to Marchesvan, or tictober. Lastly, in I hings B. 2. we read of the month Ethanim, which answers to I ist, or the seventh of the holy year. The critics are or the seienth of the holy year. The critics are not agreed about the origin of these names of the months, or from rhom they were borrow of But after the captivity of Eabylon, the Hobrews took the names of the months, as they found them among the Chaldenus and Persian, among whom they had lived so long a time. Here follow the names of these months, and the order in which they follow one another. The names of the library months, according to the index of the library was the order of the library was.

The names and order of the months in the Civil vear, are the same us in the preceding table, only beginning the year with lists, or September, only beginning the year with I isn, or September, and ending with Eul, or August.

At first they measured their months according to the sun, and then every munth consisted of thirty days, which appears by the enumeration of the days the flood was upon the earth, namely, a hundred and fifty days, which made find months, Gen. 7. 11, [8, 4]. But after they came out of Egypt, they measured their months by the course of the mon, and then the first came out of regypt, they measured their mobilish by the course of the moon, and then the first month was of thirty days, the next of twenty, nine, and so on alternately: That which his thirty days was called a full or complete month: inity days was called a full or complete month: and that which had but twenty-nine days we called incomplete, or deficient. The new moon was always the beginning of the month, and that day they called Neomenia, new Moon, or new Moon, or that day they called Noomenia, new Mooth, or new Month.

When it is said, that the Hebrew month, answered to ours; that Nisan, for example, answered to ours; that Nisan, for example, answered to March, it must be understood with some latitude; for the linar month can never he reduced exactly to solar ones. The vertex dequinox falls in the month of March, according to the course of the solar year. But in the linar year, the new mon will fall in the month of March, and the full moon in the month of March, and the full moon in the will commonly inswer to two of our months.

mouth of April, So that the Hebrew months will commonly answer to two of our months, and partake of both. The twelve linear months making but three hundred and fifty-four days, and six hours, the Jewish year was thost of the Roman by treels days. But to recover the equinoctial point again, from which this difference of the solar and linear year would siparate the new moon of the first month, the Jews took care every thice the first month, the Jews took care every three years to intercalate a thirteenth month ent years to intercalate a thirteenth month the their year, which they called Ve-adur, or the second Adar: And by this means their lunar year equalled the solar; hecause in thirty-six months, according to the Sun, there would be thirty-six ren according to the Moon.
