FOR PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

HENRY CLAY,

OF KENTUCKY.

Subscribed to the National Convention.

FRIDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 1, 1830.

IT is to be noted that ALL SAINTS' DAY, in observance of custom, no paper will be issued from this office.

ALL SAINTS' DAY.

It is difficult to imagine a more touching and beautiful ceremony than that which occurs once a day at the hour in the solemn remembrance of dead.

The mother mourns her child, the wife her husband, the sister her brother, the friend his mate, the daughter her father, the son his mother, the wife her husband, and the mother her son.

How touching are these scenes!

Our city is fast filling up with strangers, every steamer and ship arriving at our port is crowded with them.

NILES' NATIONAL REGISTER.

The valuable and popular journal of the time.

THE BOSTONIAN.

The Bostonian, Boston, Mass.—Mr. Higgins is spoken of as a man of industry, experience and tact, and highly qualified to maintain the reputation he has earned.

OUR COUNTRY.

—The love still lingers around the grave of heroes, keeps its melancholy vigil by the side of its most renowned fathers, and burns incense at the tombs of those, whom, living, it adored, and glorified.

The mother mourns her child, the wife her husband, the sister her brother, the friend his mate, the daughter her father, the son his mother, the wife her husband, and the mother her son.

How touching are these scenes!

STEAM PACKET LINE BETWEEN EUROPE AND THE SOUTH.

The vessel, as to the punctuality of arrival, stands first in both Europe and America.
