COUNT TOLSTOI PASSES AWAY.

FAMILY AT BEDSIDE WHEN AUTHOR DIES

Sketch of Career of Russian Who Devoted Life to Uplifting Peasants.

Astapova, Nov. 21.—Count Tolstoy died peacefully here yesterday. Dr. Makovetsky and the other attending physicians, Countess Tolstoy and the sons and daughters were at his side when the end came.

It was recognized long before that his case was hopeless, and at 5 o'clock in the morning, after the countess had been summoned and other members of the family had gathered in an adjoining room, the physicians issued a bulletin announcing that the activity of the heart had almost ceased and that Tolstoy's condition was extremely dangerous. Several of the physicians were greatly affected by the approaching death of Russia's great writer. His heart beat its last apparently without a clear moment to enable him to say farewell or cast a forgiving look upon his wife and children.

The countess all day was unceasing in her pitiful imploring of one doctor after another to gain entrance to the one-story humble out-dwelling with two windows facing the garden where Tolstoy lay. After the first cardiac attack, Dr. Thitchurovsky promised he would announce her presence to Tolstoy at a favorable opportunity. The second attack came just after a two hours' sleep. The members of the family were hurriedly summoned.

The condition of the patient, however, was so grave that he was put to sleep again by injections of morphia as the only means of deferring the end.

The family were then admitted for a few minutes to the bedside. Another attack occurred about 3 o'clock, and the family gathered again. The countess was with difficulty prevailed upon to retire.

Later, when the end came, in addition to the countess, four sons and three daughters were present.

Tolstoy, accompanied only by Dr. Makovetsky, left his home at Yasnya Poliana with the purpose of ending his life in solitude, to which he more and more inclined in his latter years. His pilgrimage led him to the monastery at Shamardine, in the province of Kaluga, where he remained as the guest of his sister Marie, who is a nun in the cloister. Learning that his retreat had been discovered, he insisted upon proceeding on his journey to the Caucasus, where he hoped to spend his last days close to the Tolstoyan colony on the shores of the Black sea. But on the railroad journey he was overcome with exhaustion and the cold, and Dr. Makovetsky was compelled to have him transferred to the ring station at Astapova, where he was made as comfortable as possible in the rude wooden building. For five days he had lain there, suffering first from bronchitis and later from inflammation of the lungs.

Count Lyof Nikolaevitch Tolstoy, usually known as Count Leo Tolstoy, was born August 28, 1828, at Yasnya Poliana, in the province of Tula, Russia. When 23 years old he entered the army and served in the Caucasus and the defence of Sebastopol against the British and French allied armies.

He first made a reputation in literature by a series of vivid sketches written from Sebastopol, and when he left the army after the Crimean war, he devoted himself entirely to literature.

Tolstoy wrote much on education and published several short stories and reminiscences of childhood and youth, but of recent years he had devoted himself to religious teachings. The religious views of Tolstoy were set forth in his "Christ's Christianity" and "My Religion." In 1893 Tolstoy wrote "The Kingdom of God Within Itself," and in 1895 he wrote "The Four Gospels Harmonized and Translated." His other works included "My Confession," "Criticism of Dogmatical Christianity," "What I Believe," "What Is to Be Done?" "The Death of Ivan Ivitch," "The Power of Darkness" (a drama), "On Life," "The Fruits of Enlightenment" (a comedy).

WATER.

Next Thursday the ratepayers of Victoria will have an opportunity to decide whether or not they want more and better water than they are at present getting. We hope they will decide that they want it because we want it, and we cannot get it unless a majority of the ratepayers also want it. We want more water and purer for our own use and the use of our friends, and also because we believe the prosperity of the city depends to a very large extent upon this question. Hundreds of people have in the past refused to make Victoria their home simply because we had nothing to offer them to drink.

It is the poor man who is most vitally interested in securing a supply of better water. Rich people can afford to buy ice and filters, but the poor man must take the water as it comes from the tap. It is useless to say that Elk lake water is wholesome. It is nauseous in the extreme, especially in summer. Everybody who drinks water knows that. For this reason we think that any man who is an advocate of total abstinence from intoxicating liquors will be a traitor to his cause if he votes against procuring a better supply.

The question of cost is one that should never enter into the calculation in looking for water. What Victoria wants is plenty of water of the best quality, and that she must have. The matter of cost in regard to the Goldstream works is for the arbitrators to say. It is useless for a person who knows nothing about it to try to compute the value of the works. If the city decides to expropriate under the act it will have to pay the cost of the work with interest and small bonus. The longer we wait the more we will have to pay. We believe from the official reports which have been made that we shall receive value for the money expended, and we therefore advise everyone to turn out and vote for the by-law.

LEO TOLSTOI.

During the past week the attention of the civilized world has been riveted on the old man in Russia, Leo Tolstoy, who died yesterday morning in a little cabin at an almost unknown flag station in the Czar's dominions. The end was a fitting one for the man who loved to be thought a peasant and who from choice lived the life of the common people. Few people have read any of Tolstoy's writings, few understood his doctrines, and not many would agree with them if they were known. The romance of the man's life was the fact that he dared to beard the czar in his palace, and the Greek church before Iconk. While men were imprisoned for publishing the great man's writings, the great man himself was allowed to go free. While he was excommunicated from the church and debarred from entering St. Petersburg beyond that his personal liberty was not interfered with. As an officer in the Russian army fighting in the Crimea he saw the horrors of war, and throughout his life wrote and spoke against it. Although he fought against Great Britain when a young man, it was at last to the British press that he turned for the promulgation of his doctrines. Often he was impracticable, doubtless he was difficult to live with, yet in spite of this he was the greatest man of his generation in Russia, probably the greatest man of his age. He was born a century or two ahead of his time, but long after the present Czar and the dignitaries of the great Russian Church are forgotten his doctrines of peace will live, and his broad humanity will become incarnate in the lives of millions. It is childish to talk of a future life in the presence of the great man who passed away in the little wayside cabin, for he still lives. His abode is with the gods, for he is immortal.

A RADICAL CONSERVATIVE.

One of the most brilliant men Great Britain has to-day is F. E. Smith, the radical Conservative in politics, and the successful defender of Ethel Le Neve in the recent sensational trial. In some respects he resembles Theodore Roosevelt in that he has been leading a revolt against the present leaders of his party. He more than any other man in the country realizes the change which is gradually taking place in the country, and is ready to meet the people half way, or even more. He accuses his own leaders of their lack of initiative and blames them roundly for the present position of the Unionists in the country. On account of the prominent position he holds he has the ear of those Conservative newspapers which are most in touch with the New Conservatism, and it is predicted that it will not be many years before he is chosen as the leader of the party. Some even go so far as to intimate that victory will not lie with the Conservatives until they have Smith to lead them.

F. E. Smith is a lawyer and has made a great success at his profession. As a parliamentarian he has been in the front rank since he first entered the House as member for the Walton division of Liverpool. He makes use of epigrams which are much quoted, and being largely a self-made man he is looked upon with the greater favor by those who are following the tendency of the day in looking with more or less disfavor upon the representatives of the old families. We look forward to seeing Mr. Smith in a prominent position in the ranks of the Conservatives of the Old Country, believing that he will help to leave the old brigade of Tories, and to instill a new ambition into the party which in its time has done much to make Great Britain the leading civilized nation in the world.

A leader is a man who leads; that is the reason McBride is not a leader. There are more people to-day than ever before who think Victoria investments are the best in the country, and that is saying a good deal.

In spite of the advance of civilization it is usually found that the man who thinks as we do is a good fellow, but the man who holds a contrary opinion is a something else.

A sport, in the restricted acceptance of the term, is a man who wears his hat on one side and pretends to be a rake. A rake is not a man but a caricature of one, and often a bad caricature at that.

Canada must feel flattered at the large amount of attention given to her affairs by the British press. Some London dailies have column after column of news of this country, and news of Victoria is not neglected. We are at last appearing on the map of the world.

The difficulty with our democratic forms of government is that the people have not yet learned always to discern the difference between the false and the true, and between the essentials and the non-essentials. In the British elections more will be made of the Redmond collections, of the German fakes, and of other minor things, by the Conservative opposition than of the real point at issue.

If we had a government in this country that would give the settlers free lands ready surveyed, and that would also give some attention to the matter of clearing it, the country would advance by leaps and bounds. Plenty of people come here, but there is nothing for them when they arrive, and the result is they do not remain here.

By the system of education which obtains in England teachers have been produced at an abnormal rate and now there are hundreds who find themselves out of employment. Some have been working as dock laborers and in other capacities, but they are not a success. A similar condition obtains in India. Men are educated for professional work and then it is found that there is nothing for them to do. In These unemployed professional men become agitators against the government. In each case emigration of the unemployed would be a temporary expedient, but there should be some better way of arranging the supply to meet the demand.

They stand in a class by themselves absolutely. They produce that artistic, bell-like tone so much admired, but which is impossible to get in any other piano.

Obituary Record

To-morrow afternoon the remains of the late Dr. Harold B. Marchant will be laid to rest in Ross Bay cemetery. The funeral takes place from the family residence, 1731 Fort street, at 3 o'clock and half an hour later at the Emmanuel Baptist church. Rev. W. Stevenson will officiate.

Joseph Henry Winger, a native son, passed away yesterday morning at the Royal Jubilee hospital after a lengthy illness. Deceased was 34 years of age and was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Winger. He was well known locally and his large circle of friends will learn with sincere regret the news of his death. Two brothers, William, of this city, and George, Comox; and four sisters, Mrs. Shepherd and Mrs. D. Stephens, of this city; Mrs. L. Saunders, Seattle, and Mrs. J. Arthur, Lillooet, survive him. The funeral has been arranged to take place to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Stephens, 27 Erie street, and fifteen minutes later at St. James church. Rev. J. H. S. Sweet will officiate, and the remains will be interred in Ross Bay cemetery.

—Archdeacon Scriven conducted the services in Pemberton Chapel yesterday afternoon.

—J. E. Miller, inspector of Inland Revenue, has returned from an extended trip of inspection in the districts in Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and as far east as Fort William.

—Dr. J. Edward Wright, Montpelier, Vt., delivered a strong address before the congregation of the Unitarian Society last evening. Dr. Wright leaves to-day for Seattle, from which place he will shortly return to his Vermont home.

—The First Presbyterian Club this evening will have a rare treat for those who attend, this being "Canadian Night." The following ladies and gentlemen will assist in rendering songs, readings, and recitations: Miss Gould, Miss Sexsmith, D. A. Fraser, J. McLorie, R. Morrison, and J. G. Brown. The officers of the club extend a hearty welcome to the general public to attend. Refreshments will be served at the close of the literary and musical programme.

—The fifth lecture of the educational course under the direction of the Unitarian Society will be given on Thursday evening in Eagles' hall. The speaker will be Albert J. Pineo, of Victoria College, who will lecture upon "The Evolution of Life." The address will narrate the advance of life through the ages of the great earth history, and will be illustrated by many lantern slides representing the animals and plants of the successive periods.

—Friday evening, Dec. 2, should afford a treat for lovers of Scotch music, as all arrangements are now made by Robert Morrison, Victoria's popular baritone, for a concert on that date. Mr. Morrison has secured some of the best talent in the city, as well as Miss Munn, New Westminster, who is always in great demand at Scottish concerts on the mainland and gets a hearty reception whenever she appears. Possessing a rich soprano voice, Miss Munn is able to do justice to the songs of Scotland. Jack Melville, who lately returned to the city, will be on the programme twice with new comic songs. The prices of tickets are 75c, 50c, and 25c, and they can now be had from members of the St. Andrew's Society and at the Central Bakery.

BASTION STREET PAVEMENT.
Complications Which Have Arisen to Be Adjusted Shortly.

Shall all the property owners who are parties to the agreement to repave Bastion street be debarred in that purpose through the opposition of one man, who disapproves of the type of pavement it is proposed to lay down? This is the question which is bothering the owners in question and the members of the city council.

It was said this morning that there is every prospect of the matter being amicably adjusted. It appears that early in October the owners on Bastion street petitioned in favor of proceeding at once with asphalt, and that an agreement was entered into with the city, at the suggestion of the city solicitor, who assured the owners that there would be no legal obstacle to the work proceeding at once. Later the owners were informed by the same official that owing to the opposition of Mr. Gamble, public works engineer, on behalf of the provincial government, which was in charge of the project, in regard to the type of pavement, the work could not be proceeded with. An effort is now being made to have Mr. Gamble withdraw his objections, so as to allow the city engineer to authorize the work to be taken in hand at once, and it is believed that this effort will be successful.

BOY SCOUTS RALLY.

Their New Band Will Take Part in Programme at Theatre.

The Boy Scouts of Victoria are going to hold a monster-rally and concert at the Victoria theatre on Thursday evening, Dec. 25th, the proceeds of which will go to form the nucleus of a much needed band fund.

The Scouts' band, inaugurated by Canon Cooper, has rapidly grown into a very creditable organization, and its performance at the late exhibition won for the troop the handsome cup donated by the management. All its members have worked extremely hard to gain perfection. The formation of the band necessitated very great expense in the purchase of instruments and music, and this demand is greatly increasing with the enrolment of new members.

A first-class entertainment is promised, and the Victoria troops are each contributing items to the programme, which will be ready in about a week. It is to be hoped that the good people of the city will patronize the affair with their presence and support.

Tickets are now in the hands of members of the brigade and these can be exchanged, a couple of days before the concert, for reserved seats at the box office of the theatre.

Another field day for the Scouts will be held next Saturday. The commissioner, Lieut.-Col. J. A. Hall, has the scheme completed and particulars will be given to the troops at their weekly meetings this week. It is expected to entail the detention of the city by the city troops, the attacking force being comprised of the troops outside the limits. The rendezvous is to be the drill hall, where all taking part will assemble or a brigade march through town, headed of course by the Victoria and the band.

CAFE CHANTANT.

Committees Busy To-Day Preparing for the Week.

Preparations for the opening of the Cafe Chantant in Institute hall to-morrow evening, under the auspices of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society, are progressing favorably, and a full dress rehearsal will be held this evening. The decoration committee, consisting of Mrs. Genge, Mrs. Curtis Sampson and the Misses Pitts, have been working hard all day, and the hall has undergone a most surprising transformation. Flags, kindly loaned by officers at Work Point barracks and navy yard and by the fire department have been used extensively, and the effect of them in conjunction with red electric light bulbs and bunting in the same shades has rendered the hall most cheery and inviting.

In a flag-screened booth to the right on entering Miss Butchart will sell cigars and cigarettes, and on the left Mrs. Beauchamp Tye will preside over an attractive candy booth. The centre of the room will be taken up with attractively-appointed refreshment tables, which may be reserved upon application to Miss Violet Pooley. On either side will be rows of chairs for those who wish to sit and watch the entertainment, which will be carried on continuously on the stage for five evenings, commencing with Tuesday.

The performances each evening will be different, and a programme will be published daily. No pains will be spared by the committees in charge to make each evening thoroughly enjoyable. The proceeds will be in aid of the sanitarium at Tranquille.

LOCAL NEWS

The Friendly Help Society is making an appeal for a small heater for a poor woman who is ill and has sickness in her family. Anyone who can spare one, may telephone 532.

Mrs. Williscroft will be at home to the members of the W. C. T. U. on Thursday, from 3 to 6 p. m. at the Mission, Store street. The "at home" will take the form of a reunion and is also for the collection of members' dues. Afternoon tea will be served.

The Young People's Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church have made arrangements with Dr. Ernest Hall to deliver his illustrated lecture entitled "Alcoholism" this evening at 8. Special music is being prepared.

The Ladies' Musical Club have organized a choral class which will meet for practice every Monday evening at 8:30 in the drawingroom of the Balmoral hotel, under the leadership of Paul Edmonds. The first practice, which was to have been held this evening has been postponed until next week.

The heroine of the Crimea, Florence Nightingale, will be the subject of an address to be given by Miss Drader, at the Young People's Union of the Emmanuel Baptist Church at eight o'clock this evening. All are welcome.

Provincial appointments include: M. B. Jackson, Victoria, and George Ogston, Fraser Lake, notaries public; Dr. Arthur B. Chandler, Rossland, coroner; John F. Burns, Kelowna, acting police magistrate; James O'Hara, Victoria, T. H. Lee, Savona, and Alexander Stewart, Nakusp, provincial constables.

John Castilaneu is charged with threatening the life of the foreman of the Bissinger tannery, and wants to go back to San Francisco. The U. S. immigration authorities, however, will not allow him to go. This morning he was offered an opportunity by the court and police to go to Vancouver, but says he cannot get work there. The evidence against him was that he threatened the foreman and on one occasion struck him. A second witness named Fenner said there was no harm in the man and that the foreman had no necessity to be afraid of him. He was remanded until to-morrow without a verdict being arrived at, and the police will in the meantime, see what can be done towards his deportation.

Owing to the inclement weather conditions on Saturday afternoon the paper chase of the Victoria Hunt Club was postponed. The riders were to have assembled at the residence of Hon. C. E. Pooley, Lamson street, and followed a paper trail through the Transfer field, and on towards the Four Mile House. The officials of the club are endeavoring to have the chase held some time during the middle of the present week, but no definite arrangements have yet been announced.

A GROWL ABOUT THE LIBRARY.

To the Editor: What is the matter with our public library, anyway? It is ages since there were any of the leading magazines in the men's reading room, the only thing in that line being an occasional empty cover with a notice pasted inside saying that on account of the magazine being stolen, in future it would only be given out on application to the librarian. Surely this state of affairs cannot last for ever. Seeing that Victoria is recovering so quickly from a disastrous fire, is it not about time the library recovered from the loss of a 15c magazine. If there is no other way to keep the magazines in the reading room, why not chain them to the tables as they do in the Vancouver library.

The Evening Chit-Chat. BY RUTH CAMERON. During the Christmas season all the girls stood all day long-- from 8 to 12 in the morning-- and from 1 to 3 at night the first days; from 1 at noon to 10 and 11 at night, as the season progressed; and on the last dreadful nights, from noon to the following midnight. One of the girls had been through the last terrible day under pressure of shanty, suffering. She could not afford to go home, and the floor walker would not let her sit down. "At midnight on Christmas eve, as the still crowd of girls walked out of the great store into the brilliant New York street, someone said: 'How are you, Kitty?'" "She made no reply for a minute. Then she said wretchedly, 'Oh, I hope I'll be dead before next Christmas.'" There are two quotations from a recent magazine article on the working girl that probably concern you intimately. Maybe you don't see just how, so I'll tell you. We are responsible for any evil to which we give countenance by accepting the benefits and conveniences that come from it. If you are one of the majority of people who do their Christmas shopping in the last week or two before Christmas you are one of the people responsible for the conditions which those quotations show. All of which is just a roundabout but I trust more graphic way of giving the old advice, "Do your Christmas shopping as early as you can." The Yuletide is supposed to be the season of the year when everybody is happiest. Surely you can't be happy on Christmas day if you think you have helped to make this season the most dreaded and the most unendurable time of the year for some of your sisters. I recently heard of a sane and simple way in which one of my friends has long solved the problem of Christmas shopping. She begins in October and every time she goes into the shopping district for any purpose whatsoever, buys at least one Christmas gift. She makes that a Medes-and-Persians rule for herself and behold the results. In the first place, her shopping is all done before the rush season so she can hold herself not guilty of adding a last straw to the shop girl's back and heart and health breaking strain. Moreover, many benefits accrue to herself. She does not get tired out by trying to do up all her Christmas shopping in one or two days. She often gets the benefit of better prices than prevail just before Christmas. She has time for more care and thought in selecting her gifts. She gets better attention from the clerks. The strain on her purse being spread

HUNDRED MILES OF STEEL DOWN.

Progress of Work on Grand Trunk Pacific Line From Coast

Prince Rupert, Nov. 19.—The laying of steel to the end of the first 100 mile section has been completed, and if the frost keeps off ballasting can proceed, and this section of the railway will shortly be in shape to carry general traffic.

General Superintendent W. C. Mehan says that satisfactory progress is being made. The river bridge at Kit-sunkalum has been completed for trains and from Mile 45 up to Hazelton and possibly beyond. Four or five inches of snow is reported. Should the frost not supervene ballasting work for the completion of this section can proceed, but if it freezes up the work will have to stop.

The grading for the roundhouse and temporary shops at the foot of Seventh street has been completed.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

Trail, Nov. 19.—A shooting accident took place here whereby Paul Kohon lost his life. Kohon and Bruno Rux, who were employed on the Hintz ranch, three miles west of the city, had been visiting a family named Rabe, and on leaving they said they would fire some shots when they reached the top of the hill. When the point agreed upon was reached, Rux held the revolver up in the air and pulled the trigger two or three times, but the cartridges did not explode. He commenced to examine it and the weapon went off, and Kohon received the shot in the stomach. When Rux saw what had been done he rushed on to the Hintz ranch, secured a rig and drove the injured man to the hospital, where he expired about an hour after his admittance.

Coroner J. B. Thom held an inquest and a verdict of "accidental death" was returned, the jury adding a rider that there should be more stringent regulations governing the purchase and carrying of firearms.

MILL MANAGER DEAD.

Revelstoke, Nov. 19.—James Anson Magee, aged 51, manager of the Adams River Lumber Company's mill at Chase, Lake Shuswap, died suddenly here of heart failure. Mr. Magee was born on November 22, 1858, in the state of Wisconsin, U. S. A., coming west in 1889. In 1895 he reached the Kootenays, and was for some time representing Mr. Bostock as manager of the old Kootenay Lumber Company, and founded the town of Comaplix in 1896. In 1907 he founded the new thriving town of Chase on Lake Shuswap and started the Adams River Lumber Co., of which he was manager at the time of his death.

RECORD OUTPUT OF COAL.

Nanaimo, Nov. 19.—It was announced several days ago that the Pacific Coast Coal Company's mines at South Wellington had broken the record daily output by an output of 1,093 tons. On Friday the old record was shattered by almost 300 tons, the amount of coal hoisted to the surface being 1,392 tons. With this increase within such a short period it should not be long ere a daily output of 1,500 tons is reached.

MILES OF LUMBER WALKS.

New Westminster, Nov. 19.—Contracts for 17 miles of sidewalks totaling in the neighborhood of $21,000 were let by the Burnaby municipal council at a special meeting, the cost of these to be taken from the $70,000 which the ratepayers authorized the council to borrow for laying sidewalks throughout the municipality. The work will be started almost at once.

and a few weeks show see substantial 3-foot and 4-foot sidewalks laid on some of the principal streets of the district for the use of the residents. The contracts for additional work along this line will be let in the near future.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

Vancouver, Nov. 19.—"Hands up!" was the orthodox cry which greeted James Stout, as he was walking along the point Grey road at about 9 o'clock last night, and the glint of a gun barrel served as a hint to him that he had better obey the injunction. With his hands in the air, he submitted to be searched by the highwayman, who had him at his mercy. All his pockets were carefully gone through and their contents extracted before the robber let Mr. Stout proceed. When he did so he was $7 in cash and a cheque for $12.50 poorer. His watch was not taken, nor was he hurt, except so far as his dignity and his personal feelings were concerned.

FLIES IN SNOWSTORM.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 21.—Mr. Hoxsey, the aviator, held the field at Overland park again Saturday, with three flights in his Wright biplane. One of them was made above the clouds in a snowstorm. About 20,000 people crowded the field and dotted the hill-crests behind it in expectation of seeing Mr. Hoxsey race against a horse and compete with J. C. Mars, of the Curtiss camp. The horse was not forthcoming, however, and neither was Mr. Mars, who stayed with his machine in a hangar beside the track and differed with the management as to what would constitute a well-conducted flight. An extra $1,000 for Mr. Hoxsey prevented the programme from overlapping. Mr. Hoxsey flew southwest, aided by a high wind, circling the United States military reservation at Fort Logan, three miles from the city, and returned, climbing 2,500 feet in his struggle against the wind. Part of the time he was above the clouds and he did not encounter the snowstorms until on his way down. After the first flight, the weather cleared, and Hoxsey lighted the crowd with two more flights of eleven minutes each, in which it soared, skidded and dipped back and forth across the field.

A complete list of Local Improvement Works, authorized by Bylaw, from time to time, will be found posted on the Bulletin Board at the main entrance to the City Hall.

A BY-LAW

To assess, levy and collect the cost of the Work of Local Improvement (No. 24) under By-Law No. 568, and to raise upon debenture loan the necessary monies to repay the temporary loan made in anticipation of this assessment.

Whereas the Council, by the 'Permanent Sidewalk and General Construction (No. 24) Local Improvement By-Law, 1908,' directed certain works or improvements, viz.: the construction of permanent sidewalks on both sides of Frances Avenue and the grading and macadamizing of roadways 24 feet wide between Douglass street and Burnside Road; the construction of permanent sidewalk on the West side of Houghton Street between Pembroke street and Denman street; the construction of permanent sidewalks on both sides of Stanley Avenue and Houghton street; the grading, macadamizing and construction of permanent sidewalk with boulevards, curbs and gutters on both sides of Fernwood road from Edmonton road and Cedar Hill road; the construction of permanent sidewalks on the east side of Fern street from Cadboro Bay road (Douglas street) to Pandora Avenue; the construction of permanent sidewalks on the West side of Government street in front of lot 534, Block H, and in front of Johnson street to Pandora Avenue; the construction of permanent sidewalks with gutters on both sides, and grading and macadamizing roadway 24 feet wide on Pandora Avenue between Fernwood road and Stanley Avenue; the construction of permanent sidewalks on both sides of Cross street with curbs, gutters and boulevards, and the grading and macadamizing of roadway

And Whereas, the Council, by resolution, affirmed that the said work of local improvement benefits the Municipality at large and that it would be inequitable to raise the whole cost of such improvement by special assessments upon the persons otherwise assessable therefor, and propose to contribute the said amount of $19,232.07 out of the revenue of the Municipality, being approximately one-fourth of the total cost;

And Whereas the Council has decided to distribute the payment of the cost of said work, proposed to be assessed hereunder over a period of ten years and to borrow the necessary sum to defray such cost upon the special rates levied hereunder upon the lands and improvements benefited, upon the guarantee of the Corporation at large;

And Whereas the total frontage upon the said work of local improvement of the real property and portion of real property immediately benefited is 15,646 feet, 4 inches, and the proportion of the cost chargeable to the property benefited is, as aforesaid, $45,569.55;

And Whereas, the said amount which the Council proposes to contribute cannot be so contributed, as aforesaid, without submitting the By-law to the Electors entitled to vote upon money By-laws;

SPORT NOTES:

Johnny Evers, second baseman of the Chicago Cubs, announced that he had accepted the terms of the United States naval academy at Annapolis to coach the navy baseball team. Evers said he would take the job whether Frank Chance agrees to it or not. Evers has a letter from Chance, written after the announcement of the navy offer, saying that Evers would be expected to report to Chicago for spring practice. Evers signed the navy contract before replying to Chance's missive. Then he informed Chance what he had done by wire.

Jack Johnson, the heavyweight champion pugilist, collapsed at Portland after another attack of nervous indigestion, and physicians worked over him for more than an hour before they were able to bring him around. Johnson was alarmed, but after recovering announced that he would continue his theatrical engagements here to-night and to-morrow. He said he would cancel all other dates until after he had taken a rest. The collapse, it was stated by Johnson's physicians, probably was the forerunner of a complete breakdown, and it is against their advice that Johnson decided to go on at the theatre in the evening.

OVER HUNDRED KILLED

Dispatches From Puebla, Mexico, Increase Death List in Recent Fight.

Mexico City, Nov. 19.—Estimates of the number of killed in the fight between soldiers and police on one side and revolutionists on the other at Puebla, continued to-day to be placed at from 100 to 170.

Dispatches from that city say it is certain over 100 had been killed in the conflict.

Aquiles Cernan, whose house was the scene of the fight, was killed while resisting arrest in a tunnel where he had taken refuge. He fought to the last, firing at the officers as soon as they found his hiding place.

According to the late advices from Puebla, there was no fear of further trouble, as the troops are in control of the situation.

A special telegram from Puebla to the Mexican Herald, after midnight, says that revolutionists made trouble for the authorities at Santa Cruz last night, and are in control. Santa Cruz is between Mexico City and Puebla. No details were given.

TWENTY YEARS' IMPRISONMENT.

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—Twenty years in San Quentin prison was the sentence imposed on Robert Thompson, convicted of the murder in the second degree due to the performance of an operation on Miss Eva Swan, a young stenographer, whose mutilated body was discovered under the flooring of a vacant house. The court denied a motion for a new trial, holding that sufficient evidence had been introduced by the prosecution to confirm the story of Marie Messerschmidt, a nurse in Thompson's employ.

The inaugural concert of the season of the city concert band in the Victoria theatre last evening, was well-attended despite the inclement weather. A fine programme was rendered by the band, under the leadership of Prof. Pferdnér, and there were vocal and instrumental numbers by Mrs. R. H. Pooley, F. Walter, Thos. J. Price, George Gaiger, Prof. Claudio and Mrs. Lombard, accompanists.

Clothes Style Preferred

Intuition or Environment?

Men consult not only their own preference but often the opinion of others in purchasing their clothes. We seem compelled to strive for those things which will make us rise in the estimation of others, and we purchase those things which are approved by those whose esteem we most covet.

That particular style of clothing which is preferred by one's own class of society is always an argument and an influencing factor in the choice.

So that one's own taste must always be influenced by environment.

DIVER HELD BENEATH WATER

RESCUED BY COMRADE FROM AWFUL DEATH

Two Men Afraid to Help, But Third Does Heroic Deed

Frank H. Nyström, a professional diver, stood waist deep in sand and rock for four hours in his diving suit, a prisoner under a fallen ton weight of earth and rock at the bottom of the Harlem river, New York. Yet thanks to the faithfulness of his colleagues in pumping air to him, he was alive in his home in the Bronx, with only a sprained ankle and a bruised body to mark his terrible experience.

Late in the afternoon he received a message from the New York Submarine Contracting company, which employs him, to report for work at the foot of Lincoln avenue, where the company is laying a four-foot gas main on the bed of the Harlem river across the stream to Second avenue. Arrived there, he donned his diving suit and descended to the bottom of the river. He worked until 8 o'clock, when he came to the surface for his supper and a rest. He was at work again at the bottom of the river in half an hour.

"I was in a trench," said Nyström, "that was being dug for the gas main, and was busy feeding an eight-inch suction pipe, when I noticed that the suction wasn't working properly. I was feeling about to see if I couldn't locate the trouble, when suddenly the upper crust of the trench caved in. The big rocks glanced over my shoulder and a great pile of sand and pebbles rained on me from above, until I was buried waist deep in sand.

"The rocks falling on my left ankle pinioned me securely to the floor of the trench. My foot would have been broken, but the sand saved it from the full force of the rocks.

"I realized it would be folly to signal my comrades above to haul me out. If they could have done this they would have torn my leg from its body. But at last I took a chance and pulled the emergency cord, sending up a signal of danger and distress. A response came swiftly that help was coming.

"The diver paused near me, and seemed to be taking in my situation. He did not seem exactly to like the look of things. Finally he came a little closer, and began to dig away at the sand in the trench. But that did not do any good, 'As fast as he dug out the sand it was swept back into the trench by the water.

"There is a way that divers have under water of communicating with each other. It is by pressing together the heads of their copper helmets. Then their voices can be clearly distinguished. I extended my arm toward my companion in the manner of divers wanting to have verbal communication, but he recoiled at my touch and backed away from me. I made beseeching gestures for him to come to my side, but he wouldn't come near me. He stood viewing me at a safe distance.

"When I saw it was useless to try to induce him to return, I sent up another distress and danger signal, more urgent than the first. Presently another diver appeared. Like the first diver, though, he was afraid to venture very near me. I could see that they were afraid I would grab them in the iron grip of a desperate man, and that they were afraid of sharing my fate in the trench. I called, caajoled, and pleaded to them in the language of the submarine diver, but they refused to come near me.

"Then I sent up another call for assistance, and a third diver was sent down. He, too, like the others, would have nothing to do with me.

"By this time I was beginning to feel a little discouraged. The air pump was working all right. As I learned afterward, faithful Stanislaus Schnitzke, the man who was at the pump, refused to leave his post until he saw me safely out of danger. But the air was beginning to feel heavier and was less easy to breathe. I was suffering great pain.

"The sand and the pebbles that enveloped my body, from the waist down, squeezed me tight and the blood in my temples was throbbing until I thought my head would burst. I had been in an upright position for what seemed an eternity, and my strength was rapidly leaving me. The tide gurgled by me, and between the pressure of clay against my body and the pressure of water above me I thought I must soon collapse.

"And all the while grimly watching me, but afraid to touch me, stood my fellow-diver.

"I forgot my position for the time and began to think of other things—my wife Minnie and the two children of my wife's sister, who make their home with us.

"How long I stood this way I do not know. But at last another diver appeared on the scene. I found out afterward it was John Anderson, the fireman. He came to me with none of the

VANCOUVER TO WELCOME RAINBOW.

Civil and Military Authorities Will Co-Operate in Reception

Vancouver, Nov. 21.—At a meeting of the civic finance committee, a letter was read from Rear-Admiral Kingsmill stating that H. M. C. S. Rainbow would make its first appearance at Vancouver next Wednesday. It will arrive at 3.30 p.m. and will stay in the waters hereabouts for one week.

Major Duff Stuart appeared before the committee on behalf of the military forces and stated that the soldiers wished to co-operate with the city in tendering a hearty welcome to the 210 officers and men of the ship. Major Holme also spoke, suggesting that beer and sandwiches should be provided for the gallant crew, remarking that in the case of the officers he had no doubt but that the various clubs of the city would be thrown open to them. In Victoria a magnificent reception was accorded the men and the mayor suggested that the city should take the initiative and that the reception in Vancouver should be held under the joint auspices of the city and the military bodies.

Ald. McGlone remarked that they treated the Japanese generously on the occasion of their visit to this port and he saw no reason why the doors of hospitality should not be thrown wide open to the men of their own race. The committee decided to appoint a committee, consisting of the mayor, the mayor, Ald. Crowe, McFarquhar and Ramsay, to confer with representatives of the military forces, and that they be invested with powers to act as circumstances demand. The civic committee and the military men meet in the mayor's parlour, when most probably a detailed programme will be drafted.

NORTHWEST PASSAGE.

Newfoundland Navigator Will Attempt to Traverse Route Taken by Captain Amundsen.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 21.—Joe Bernard, a Newfoundland navigator, is heading eastward from Point Barrow, Alaska, in his fifteen-ton gasoline schooner Teddy Bear, in an effort to retrace the route followed by Captain Roald Amundsen four years ago, when he sailed the northwest passage. News of Bernard's endeavor was brought to Seattle by Captain Louis Knaflich of the power schooner Bender Brothers, who has just returned from his annual journey to the most northerly point in Alaska.

At Point Barrow the Bender Brothers took on some furs sent in by Capt. Bernard, who has been trading in the Arctic. While at Barrow, Captain Knaflich received word by Eskimo courier from Captain Bernard, saying that he was going to push eastward through the northwest passage in the hope of finding new trading grounds, with the chance of retracing Captain Amundsen's route and coming out on the Atlantic.

Capt. Bernard is well supplied with provisions. The Teddy Bear is a staunch craft and has seen much service in the Arctic. She was built on Lake Washington several years ago.
