ALLIED POWERS MUST HAVE TON FOR TON FROM GERMANY FOR EVERY SHIP SUNK OR NO DISCUSSION OF PEACE

Must Make Sure of This for Their Own Protection, Declares President of British Navy League; Also Must Recover Shipowners' Losses on Cargoes and of Earning Power of Destroyed Ships

London, Nov. 7.—Robert Yerburgh, president of the British Navy League, who has been the foremost leader in the conduct of the campaign for the exaction of full payment by Germany for the destruction of entente and neutral merchant ships, last evening said he had the support of 217 chambers of commerce in the British Isles and the most influential men in the business life of the nation.

"The destruction of British and allied merchant shipping by Germany unquestionably has the object of giving Germany the dominant position as a competitor for the ocean-going trade of the world after the war," said Mr. Yerburgh. "It would be equivalent to an act of national suicide should the allies allow Germany to retain her merchant shipping intact after peace is declared, in the face of the unlawful indiscriminate destruction of entente ships for which Germany is responsible. In torpedoing all entente ships at sight she hopes to destroy the strength of the merchant marines of the entente nations as to enable her immediately to jump into the leading place in the world's carrying commerce."

"The only basis for compensation which could conceivably give satisfaction to the allies is that Germany must hand over to her mercantile marine ship for ship, ton for ton, of equivalent value to those sunk by her war vessels against the laws of war. This means that Germany must agree before finding any possibility of talking about peace terms that she deliver her own ships to the allies until every one illegally sunk has been replaced by a German ship. It would not be enough for Germany to declare her willingness to pay for the torpedoes ships. It is handing over sufficient German ships to make up for the losses of the entente nations that we demand. Nothing short of that will do."

Losses Also.
"At the same time it must be distinctly understood and made part of the basis of peace negotiations that this ton-for-ton exaction must not preclude legitimate claims of shipowners for losses of their cargoes and loss of the earning power of their ships since they were destroyed. To put it succinctly, take the instance of the Lusitania. Great Britain would demand that Germany give one of her own ships of equal size to the Lusitania, besides which she must pay for the full loss of the cargo, which runs into millions of dollars; also the profit the Lusitania as a merchant ship would have earned for her owners had she stayed in service for the period of the war. The payment of losses to the owners will be an entirely different matter from replacing the ships. Up to now Great Britain has lost approximately 2,000,000 tons of shipping through the illegal torpedoing of her ships. This all must be replaced in actual tonnage together with any further losses that may occur, and every shipowner must be reimbursed for what his ships would have earned and given an indemnity for the lost cargoes."

SURVIVOR CALLS ON MR. WILSON TO ACT
American Who Was Saved From Marina Writes in London Paper

Witnessed Murder of Six Fellow-Horsemen
London, Nov. 7.—"Wilson, Avenger of Dead!" is the heading in the Weekly Dispatch this week over an article written by Samuel Devlin, formerly of the United States navy and one of the survivors of the torpedoed British steamship Marina, on which six Americans were killed. In the article Devlin addresses President Wilson with a description of the torpedoing, in part as follows:
"I am an American citizen who, with the others, has just landed at a safe place from submarines. I have just had a narrow escape from death by murder on the high seas. I have seen six of my partners, also Americans, go to their deaths without warning, without a chance to save themselves. We want to know what you are going to do. You keep telling us you will not have American lives imperilled and will not suffer American honor to be outraged."
"We left for the United States last Thursday week. It was so rough all one day that we could make only 20 miles. On Saturday it was as bad as ever. Huge seas swept the decks. At half-past three... suddenly, we felt an explosion. We learned afterward that it was the boiler, exploded by a torpedo. We slipped on lifebelts, and running on deck, heard that we had been attacked by a submarine."
Broke in Two.
"The Marina had been struck amidships. There was not the least excitement and little hurry. From a boat I noticed the periscope of the submarine. We were then 30 feet from the ship. The periscope moved slowly toward the port side, where a second torpedo was fired into her. The Marina broke in halves, the bow and stern rising toward the centre."
"The captain and the men still on the ship, including the six Americans, ran aft. The second explosion was so unexpected that it took them completely by surprise. They had time only to throw a life raft, but they could not reach the raft. The ship sank and the captain and the others, including the six Americans, were pulled under."
Then he describes his experiences of 27½ hours "in open boats on a stormy sea."
He concludes his story:
"That, Mr. President, is our story. If that was not murder of citizens of a neutral nation as cold-blooded and deliberate as the Lusitania murders, then we give up. We are only horsemen, but we are Americans, and we are entitled to the same protection as anyone in the United States."

MORE RECRUITS WILL COME FROM QUEBEC

Legislature, Opened To-day, Will Consider Steps; Programme for Session

Quebec, Nov. 7.—Measures to help the entente powers to win the great war, to stimulate recruiting, to help the Patriotic Fund and to prepare the province for the after-the-war activities and developments that cannot fail to occur are on the programme of work for the legislature of Quebec at the session which was opened this afternoon. Though the Conservative opposition is the smallest on record in the Quebec legislature, an interesting session is forecast. The main work in view is that of voting $1,000,000 to the Patriotic Fund as an inducement to volunteers to enlist. Also there is a fund of $500,000 to be voted for subscription to the Canadian national war loan.

The speech from the throne called the attention of the legislative assembly to the importance of the commission appointed by the Gouin cabinet for the purpose of finding employment for soldiers returning from the front. So far as is known, a great number of invalided soldiers have found employment and permanent situations through the commission.
Part of the work of the session will be the intended development of immigration of Europeans to this province after the war to assist in the working of the many copper, lead and molybdenite mines.

BRITISH SUBMARINE TORPEDOED AND DAMAGED TWO GERMAN DREADNOUGHTS OF KAISER CLASS, COMMANDER SAYS

Admiralty Announces That Later Report From Officer Commanding Undersea Craft Adds One Enemy Battleship to One Reported Yesterday as Having Been Damaged in North Sea

London, Nov. 7.—The statement that two German dreadnoughts were hit by the British submarine which yesterday was reported to have launched torpedoes at and struck a German dreadnought in the North Sea, is contained in a further report received from the commanding officer of the submarine, it was announced officially to-day. The two dreadnoughts struck were battleships of the Kaiser class.

The official statement reads:
"With reference to yesterday's communication regarding the torpedoing of a German battleship by one of our submarines, a further report now has been received from the commanding officer of the submarine. He now states that he hit two dreadnought battleships of the Kaiser class."
Dreadnoughts of the Kaiser class displace 24,700 tons, the complement of each being 1,658 men. Their length is 364 feet, their beam 55 feet and their draught 37 feet. Each of these battleships carries ten 12-inch guns, four 14-inch guns, twelve 24-pounders and four anti-aircraft guns and is fitted with five torpedo tubes. The class included the Kaiser, completed in October, 1912, Friedrich der Grosse, Kaiserin, Prinz Regent, Luitpold and Koenig Albert, completed in August, 1915, but in his report on the Battle of Jutland Admiral Jellicoe stated that one ship of the Kaiser class had been blown up by British destroyers and that it was believed that another battleship of the class had been sunk by gunfire. The German admiral did not admit the loss of one or two ships of this class. It was claimed semi-officially in Berlin that the Kaiser was only twice lightly hit by gunfire, one man being killed.

ALLEGED COMBINE AMONG WHOLESALERS

Important Evidence Will Be Tended to Commission on Cost of Living
A chorus of protest dating with the cold logic of statisticians' figures draws increasing attention to the problem of advancing cost of living, and therefore the work of the promised commissions is being waited with interest.
In order to present intelligent information to the local commission when the necessary order in council arrives giving power to the municipalities compelling firms to produce their books, or to dispatch an accountant to examine them, the secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association, H. A. Dibble, has been busy on the subject.
As a result he has lodged with the city council an important document charging certain wholesalers with an attempt to control prices. He says the association has obtained "indisputable and reliable evidence that such a combine does exist among the wholesale trade here, in at least two of the absolute necessities of life of such an extent that any or all competition is eliminated from among these wholesale dealers in the sale of these respective commodities to the retail trade."
Mr. Dibble offers when the inquiry comes off to supply all information gratuitously that he has gathered, and also on any other matters bearing directly or indirectly upon the ultimate price to the consumer of any food stuff necessary to life.
The council, however, has been unable to take any action of the order pending the receipt of the Dominion order in council creating the commission, the nature of which is unknown beyond brief press messages on the subject. There is no doubt, however, that some of the aldermen intend to act, and Alderman Porter is credited with the intention of posting a notice of motion in connection with the subject in the near future.
Alderman Todd seems to think that the work of the commission will have to be done not merely locally, but back in Montreal and Toronto, where food prices are established. From what Mr. Dibble indicates, however, considerable information promises to be available locally.

CARRANZA NOW FEARS LANDING BY BRITISH

Thinks Britain May Take Steps to Protect Tampico Oilfields
Washington, Nov. 7.—British intervention in Mexico is feared by the Mexican government, it was learned to-day in administration quarters. General Carranza has been advised that there is danger that Great Britain may land troops at Tampico to guard the oil properties there from possible attack by the revolutionists. It was learned also that the Carranza government is expecting a German submarine campaign off Tampico with the object of blocking the oil traffic from that port. That the British government also is apprehensive of this is indicated by a request that the state department warn Carranza and ask him to protect Mexico's neutrality.
Administration officials here have no information to confirm General Carranza's fear that Great Britain plans to land troops at Tampico. It is believed, moreover, that the British government would not do this without consulting Washington. The oil fields being in danger, the British government, it is admitted, might be forced to disregard the Monroe Doctrine.
The rebels are not operating in the vicinity of Tampico at present, it is understood, though since the war began there have been persistent reports of a German intrigue with the bandits to land troops at Tampico. It is believed that General Carranza has definite information concerning such a plot, and that, therefore, he fears measures by Britain with the purpose of preventing it.

PLAN TO RECRUIT MORE QUICKLY IN CANADA FOR NAVY

Ottawa, Nov. 7.—Provincial recruiting committees are being established in the different provinces to facilitate the enrolment of naval volunteers. Enrolment is proceeding at a fair rate, with indications of improvement, but fewer than 100 have gone overseas so far. There had been hopes of getting 2,000 by January 1.

72,981 Prisoners on Somme Front Since July 1, Paris Says

Paris, Nov. 7.—An official report issued this afternoon recapitulates the prisoners taken by the Franco-British troops in the course of fighting on the Somme front since July 1, giving their number up to November 1 as 71,532 men and 1,449 officers, while the number of guns captured is given at 173 field guns, 180 heavy guns, 215 trench mortars and 981 machine guns.

ITALIAN DESTROYER SAVED TRANSPORT

Sank Austrian Submarine Which Attacked Vessel and Was Sunk Herself
Italians Sank Vessel at Durazzo, Albania
Exceedingly Bold Raid Was Made on Pola by Italian Destroyers

Rome, Nov. 7.—An Austrian submarine and an Italian destroyer were sunk in a duel on the night of October 16, according to a statement issued by the admiralty to-day. The submarine had attacked a transport, which escaped. The text of the statement follows:
"An Austrian submarine attempted on the night of October 15-17 to torpedo one of our transports conveying troops, but was attacked by a convoying destroyer. The submarine and the destroyer sank but the transport reached its destination safely. The majority of the crew of the destroyer were saved and two officers and 11 men of the crew of the submarine were made prisoners."
"On the night of November 1 some of our destroyers, after crossing boldly and successfully a mine zone and surmounting by their daring solid obstacles defending the Fasana-Pola canal, managed to enter the customary anchorage of part of the Austrian fleet. Two torpedoes were fired against one large ship and were observed to catch in the vessel's torpedo net."
For Two Hours.
"For two hours our destroyers reconnoitred within a few hundred yards of the forts and strong citadel of Pola and withdrew only when they had accomplished difficult and most delicate missions. Numerous powerful searchlights beat the sky and sea and batteries opened random and futile fire."
"On the night of November 3 several of our destroyers sank a large Austrian steamship anchored at Durazzo (Albania) under the shelter of the defences and a mine zone. Enemy destroyers came out and were attacked by our ships, which forced their retreat. Our destroyers then returned safely to their base."
"On November 5 three enemy destroyers appeared at dawn before Santa Fildomare and began to bombard that part of the coast, although no military works are there. One of our armored trains rushed up and engaged and drove off the enemy. Two destroyers were hit. One was seen with a heavy list being assisted by others. The enemy's fire was ineffective, only one railroad man being slightly wounded and small damage done to private property."

REICHSTAG MUZZLED BY THE GOVERNMENT

Dismissed Saturday Amid Scenes of Indignation; No Speech by Chancellor
Amsterdam, Nov. 7.—The German Reichstag was dismissed on Saturday last amid scenes of considerable indignation by one of those sudden autocratic decisions which prove its powerlessness. The only full account of the proceedings in the German press is given by the Berlin correspondent of the Dusseldorfer Anzeiger, the other papers apparently having been muzzled.
The correspondent says that until a late hour on Friday both the Reichstag and the government expected that the session would be continued until Thursday next. The chancellor had promised to make a speech on Wednesday, but on consideration he had declared there should be no debate on his speech. The party leaders were asked to promise abstention from all discussion. The Centre and Freisinnige parties consented, but all the other factions announced their intention to speak on the motion for adjournment and to discuss the chancellor's speech.
The correspondent adds:
"For reasons which we are precluded from mentioning publicly, the House regards such a debate as in the highest degree undesirable. The matter was argued until late in the evening, but as the party leaders declined to agree to the government's proposal, the chancellor decided not to speak at all."
The correspondent adds that in the circumstances there is no longer any reason why adjournment should be postponed. The parties are agreed that this muzzling order was most undesirable, but "discipline and consideration of the interests of state" prevailed and "only the Socialists voted against the motion for adjournment."

GAINS BY BRITISH NORTH OF SOMME

Improved Position East of Butte-de-Warlencourt; French Report
London, Nov. 7.—Gains by British troops in the neighborhood of Butte-de-Warlencourt, north of the Somme, during operations last night were announced to-day by the war office.
The report says:
"During the night we improved our position east of Butte-de-Warlencourt. We successfully raided enemy trenches between Gommecourt and Serre, taking some prisoners and inflicting considerable casualties."
"An enemy patrol south of Monchy was dispersed by our fire."
"Heavy rains and strong south-westerly gales continue."
French Report.
Paris, Nov. 7.—Last night was barren of important happenings along the French front, the war office announced this afternoon, there being only intermittent cannonading on portions of the Somme front and on the right bank of the Meuse, in the Verdun sector.
German airmen dropped incendiary bombs on Nancy yesterday but did no damage. There were no casualties.
German Statement.
Berlin, Nov. 7.—North of the Somme yesterday British troops made an attack near Esaucourt-l'Abbaye, but were immediately beaten back, the war office announced to-day.
The text of the statement follows:

Bucharest, Nov. 7.—The Roumanian forces in Dobrudja, which recently assumed the offensive against Field Marshal von Mackensen's army, are continuing their success, the war office announced to-day. Progress by the Roumanians along the entire Dobrudja front is reported.

Paris, Nov. 7.—Considerable activity to the east of the Lake Presba region, towards the western end of the Macedonian front, was reported by the war office this afternoon. RECORD VOTE IN THE STATES TO-DAY

Fair Weather Greeted Electors in Practically All Parts of Country
New York, Nov. 7.—Fair weather, general throughout the country except in the upper Mississippi valley and in western Colorado, accompanied by agreeable temperatures, brought out the voting hosts early to-day. Reports at noon from practically all sections indicated that a heavy vote was being cast, and some points reported that the bulk of the vote had been recorded before 10 a.m.
All of the New England states in their early reports of voting dwelt on the heavy early balloting. Providence, R. I., reported that throughout the state it was the heaviest ever known.
New York state and other middle-Atlantic states reported an unusually large early vote, and similar reports came from the west and south.

MR. WILSON'S RECORD PASSED UPON TO-DAY

Great Interest in Election in All Sections of United States
New York, Nov. 7.—The jury is arriving at its verdict. In every state of the union the performances of the Wilson administration are being passed upon by the supreme tribunal—the people. The decision will determine whether there is to be continuance in power in the nation of the Democratic party, headed by Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, and Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana, or whether Republicanism is to be given the reins with Charles E. Hughes as president and Charles W. Fairbanks as vice-president leading.
Voting began to-day with both sides supremely confident. At the last moment a wealth of Wilson money drove the betting odds in New York and Chicago down to 9 to 10, with Hughes still the favorite and even money being wagered in many instances.
The reports received at Republican and Democratic headquarters emphasized the great interest in the result in every section of the country. Long before the polls opened, in various cities long lines of voters were in waiting. Here in New York city the reports from the various polling places showed that despite the complex ballot the votes were coming in fast. Similar reports came from the upstate cities and the veteran political experts declared that this indicated generally straight ballots with very little cutting.
The last statement of the national campaign managers to-day as they waited for the closing of the polls were as follows:
William R. Wilcox, Republican—"Mr. Hughes will have at least 100 votes to spare in the electoral college."
Vance C. McCormick, Democrat—"Late reports from the West seem to indicate that I gave Mr. Hughes too many votes when I allotted him 70 in the electoral college. We are going to carry every one of the so-called doubtful states."

GRAND TRUNK ACCEPTS FINDINGS OF BOARD

Ottawa, Nov. 7.—The Grand Trunk Railway Company has accepted the findings of the board of arbitration appointed to inquire into the dispute between the company and its maintenance-of-way men regarding wages and hours of labor. The report was made two weeks ago, but the company hesitated to accept the findings at first.

WILL BE TRIED FOR MURDER AT EVERETT

Five of Men Who Fired Revolvers Have Been Identified

Seattle, Nov. 7.—Five of the 284 men held by the Seattle police have been positively identified by Everett deputies and citizens as having fired from the deck of the steamer Verona into the posse of Everett citizens gathered on the city dock there on Sunday, killing two and wounding 18. All of the men thus identified were wounded by bullets fired by the posse and are patients in the city hospital.

The men identified as having participated in the pistol battle are Ed. Roth, said by the Seattle police to be a leader among the I. W. W.'s; Albert Scribner, a marine engineer; John Barry, Robert Mulholland, 18 years old, and Dan J. McCarthy. The bodies of Hugo Gestel and Felix Baron, two of the five I. W. W.'s killed, were identified as those of men who had participated in the shooting.

Partial identification of several other men held in jail here also has been made. Their names were not announced pending corroboration.

According to O. F. Webb, prosecuting attorney of Snohomish county, the men identified as having used firearms against the Everett citizens' committee probably will be taken to Everett to stand trial for murder.

The condition of all the wounded, both here and at Everett, is reported favorable.

TALES OF VILLISTAS' ACTS OF CRUELTY

El Paso, Nov. 7.—Tales of Pancho Villa's fiendish cruelty, rivaling the weird tales of Aztec tortures, were brought to El Paso to-day by refugees from Chihuahua City. The bandit's fiendishness reached its high point when he took Santa Rosalia, according to the refugees.

Two women who resisted the advances of his men were bound, oil was poured over them and matches applied, they declared. Dr. C. H. Fisher, an American physician, was murdered while his friends were trying to raise $2,000 which Villa demanded as ransom. Advice to authorities here to-day stated that but four Americans were left in Chihuahua City. These were Mr. and Mrs. George Brittingham, their son Juan, and Dr. F. Emerson.

Reports of the evacuation of Chihuahua conflicted to-day. Following the arrival at Juarez of official reports from Chihuahua federal agents wired the authorities at Washington that Gen. Trevino had begun evacuation. This was disputed to-day by a Mexican doctor, who said Trevino was pledged to remain until the last man fell. It was admitted, however, that all out four of the cannon guarding the city had been placed on freight cars.

SEATTLE MAN BUYS INTO PACIFIC COAST STEEL

San Francisco, Nov. 7.—William R. Pigott, of Seattle, is reported here to-day to have purchased the holdings of the D. P. Doak interests in the Pacific Steel Company at the rate of $300 per share, the total figure involved being estimated at $1,800,000.

The Pacific Coast Steel Company has plants at South San Francisco, Portland and Seattle and with the Pigott foundry and shops in Seattle would hold an important place in Pacific coast circles.

Extensive munitions contracts from the Russian government held by Pigott are said to have inspired the purchase.

ANOTHER IS PLACED ABOVE VON BATOCKI

London, Nov. 7.—A Berlin dispatch forwarded by way of Copenhagen says The Berlin Post announces that Gen. Groener, who, according to a recent report, was to become head of the department of munitions, will be made dictator of economics, with absolute power to deal with exports and imports and to have control of the appointment of all officers connected with food questions.

According to The Post, Adolf von Batocki, president of the food organization board, has been placed under Gen. Groener, unless, "as expected," he prefers to retire.

TWO OF GERMAN CREW RESCUED BY BRITISH

Admiralty States Truth About What Germans Call "Second Baralong Case"

London, Nov. 7.—The admiralty last night in a published communique denied that it had ever issued orders that survivors of German submarines need not be rescued. The communique states that the German newspapers are trying to make capital out of what they describe as the second Baralong case in order to influence American opinion against Great Britain, or for a pretext for an unrestrained submarine campaign.

The communique recites the facts of the case, showing that a British auxiliary flying a neutral flag on September 24, 1915, approached a German submarine in the west channel engaged in sinking a British merchantman. When in range the auxiliary hoisted the white ensign, fired on and sank the submarine and then rescued the crew of the merchantman from the small boat. When this had been done she also rescued two of the submarine's crew who had climbed into a drifting boat.

The communique points out that the use of a neutral flag was justified as shown by the German practice in the case of the German raider Moeve and in other instances, and says that nobody but a German could base an allegation of brutality on the lapse of a few minutes between the rescue of Britishers and of Germans.

GERMAN VESSEL FROM ANTWERP TO ROTTERDAM

London, Nov. 7.—A Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam says that the German steamship Atto, which had been lying at Antwerp since the war, arrived in Flushing with the purpose of continuing the voyage to Rotterdam to-day. A military guard is aboard the vessel, which probably will be interned.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you know someone who is troubled with head noises, or Catarrhal Deafness, cut out this formula, and hand it to them, and you will have been the means of ending some suffering, perhaps from total deafness. Recent experiments have proved conclusively that Catarrhal Deafness, head noises, etc., were the direct cause of constitutional disease, and that salves, sprays, inhalers, etc., merely temporize with the complaint and seldom, if ever, effect a permanent cure. This being so, much time and money has been spent of late by a noted specialist in perfecting a pure, gentle, yet effective tonic that would quickly dispel all traces of the catarrhal poison from the system. The effective prescription which was eventually formulated, and which has aroused the belief that deafness will soon be extinct, is given below in understandable form, so that any one can treat themselves in their own home at little expense.

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parment (Double Strength), about 7c. worth. Take this home and add to it 1 pint of hot water and 4 oz. granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

The first dose should begin to relieve the distressing head noises, headache, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., while the hearing rapidly returns as the system is invigorated by the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell and mucus dropping in the back of the throat, are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrhal poison, and which are often entirely overcome by this efficacious treatment. Nearly ninety per cent. of all ear troubles are directly caused by catarrh; therefore, there must be many people whose hearing can be restored by this simple home treatment.

Every person who is troubled with head noises, catarrhal deafness, or catarrh in any form should give this prescription a trial.

Important Note.—In ordering Parment always specify that you want double strength. Your druggist has it or he can easily get it for you. If not send 7c. postal note or money order, to the International Laboratories, 74 St. Antoine St., Montreal, Que., Can., and they will supply you.

TO FRANCE.

London, Nov. 7.—The following Canadian officers have gone to France—Lieuts. A. Litch, M. Robertson, B. Taylor, P. Watson, J. Morton, E. Brown, T. Kennedy, F. Forneri, W. Harding, Chaplain Green, Hon. Captain A. Ramsay.

Nurses: G. Apter, L. Beer, A. Cameron, K. Reed, L. Stinson, A. Crawford and G. Spalding also have crossed to France.

DYES FROM GERMANY.

Washington, Nov. 7.—The customs department announced to-day that with special permission from Great Britain, a shipment of dyes, reported to be worth $1,000,000, now was en route to New York from Germany for use by this country in printing paper money. The dyes were shipped through Holland and are on board the liner Nieuwe Amsterdam.

VILLAGE FOR HUGHES.

Pittsburg, Mass., Nov. 7.—New Ashford, the smallest town in the state, had the distinction of being the first to make its election returns to-day. The polls closed at 10 a.m. and the count showed: Hughes, 16; Wilson, 7. In 1912 New Ashford gave Wilson 9 votes, Taft 7 and Roosevelt 6.

BELGIANS HELPING TO FEED BELGIANS

Those 'Outside' Belgium at Work but More Help Needed

Montreal, Nov. 7.—Recalling the German claim that Belgium is doing nothing for her people, permitting them to starve, and the starvation indicated by the German occupants of the country, a Dutch newspaper shows that up to the end of October, 1915, the Belgian government and Belgians throughout the world had given nearly $65,000,000 towards the amount needed for re-feeding the people.

Belgium is doing her part—doing all she can and all she can be expected to do considering the terrible blow that fell on the nation and the way she stemmed the onrush of the German forces while Britain prepared.

Thus the Dutch paper explodes the argument of the Germans, but in the meantime the fact remains that Belgium cannot do all and that even with the help of the British government there must be such outside contribution, for no matter how little the food issued to each of these people, is, the aggregate is considerable because there are 7,000,000 of them to be fed.

Seven millions—and the majority of them heroic women and helpless children! Each town, village and city of Belgium to-day presents a scene of squalor and misery caused by hunger. Amid the ruins of what once were homes, and homes as happy as any, those emaciated women, thinly clad, their faces showing the lines of sorrow, walk, clasping to the tiny kiddies, crying for food that they cannot have.

Canadians who wish to help the suffering people of Belgium—and that should mean all Canadians—may send their contributions either to the nearest local committee or to the headquarters for Canada, the Belgian Relief Committee, 59 St. Peter street, Montreal.

NEW YORK EXPECTED TO GO DEMOCRATIC

New York, Nov. 7.—Clear skies and moderate weather prevailed for the voting in New York City to-day. At the last presidential election more than 600,000 votes were cast.

This city, both parties concede, will go Democratic as usual in national elections, and the question at issue between the parties is the size of the plurality. The Democrats claim a lead of 100,000, while the Republicans declare the Democratic plurality will not be 70,000 at the most. Both sides claim Brooklyn, where political results in past years have shown more variance than in any other borough of the city.

VOTES OF WOMEN

Do women realize that they already vote in the most effective way on important questions?

Every time a woman buys an article it is a vote, backed by money, for that article, a sincere approval of its merits.

So women have been voting on the question of health. When they have suffered from women's ailments their vote has been overwhelmingly for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which they have bought and used with satisfaction.

MR. BOWSER'S COURSE.

The morning paper, after explaining and complimenting itself to the extent of a quarter of a column, quotes us as stating that the constitution and election laws "require" that Mr. Bowser should resign immediately upon his defeat, and expresses amazement at the hopeless ignorance of the constitution and the law such a statement indicated.

In his dissertation on the constitution, however, the morning paper overlooked the actual point at issue, namely, Mr. Bowser's contention that he could not legally resign office until the Agent-General's certificate of the soldiers' vote had been received by the Deputy Provincial Secretary.

With absolute legality Mr. Bowser could have retired in two weeks after the election of September 14; and the Lieutenant-Governor could have called upon Mr. Brewster to form a cabinet, and writs for by-elections could have been issued any time.

If Mr. Bowser had anything like a clear conception of the great fundamental principles underlying our system of government or a decent respect for public opinion he would have vacated office within a few days after it became patent to everybody that the people had rejected him.

beyond its statutory limit, and now, two months after a decisive verdict against him at the polls, he still clings to office on a dishonestly unsound pretext. Bearing this course in mind, can there by the slightest doubt, that if the Agent-General's certificate of the soldiers' vote count were delayed or lost in transit he would urge the fact as a further excuse for clinging to power?

WHO ARE THEY?

"The Liberals of British Columbia, that is, those of them whose opinions on any subject are worth anything at all, admit that Mr. Bowser is acting correctly in deferring his resignation until the full election returns are in."

The Liberals of British Columbia, including those "whose opinions on any subject are worth anything at all," do not admit that Mr. Bowser is acting correctly in deferring his resignation until the Agent-General's certificate is received. On the contrary they think he is making an exhibition of himself and of the country.

In the whole of British Columbia not a corporal's guard of Liberals can be found who endorse Mr. Bowser's action. How could they in the face of the facts, the law and the precedents?

OFF THE TRACK AS USUAL.

Certain Tory journals and publicists in the east, operating on a single track as usual, find fault with Sir Wilfrid Laurier on the ground that at one of the Imperial Conferences in London he opposed a resolution for imperial reorganization advanced by Sir Joseph Ward of New Zealand.

Mr. Asquith further declared that the scheme would be absolutely fatal to the present system of responsible government. Mr. Fisher, Premier of Australia, observed that Sir Wilfrid had voiced his own view, and that there was nothing the matter with the empire except in regard to subsidiary matters which an Imperial conference could remove.

"It is the policy of decentralization which has made the Empire—the power granted to the various peoples to govern themselves. It is the liberty which these peoples have enjoyed and enjoy under the British flag which has bound them to the Mother Country."

Sir Edward Morris, Prime Minister of Newfoundland, also opposed Sir Joseph Ward's policy. Last, but not least, the people of New Zealand evidently opposed it, for in the next election Sir Joseph was forced out of office.

Our contemporary repudiates the description "Bowser Organ" applied to it by the Manitoba Free Press. We also do not think the expression accurate. In the days when the morning nished by this war, a system which Earl Derby observed the other day did not need any tinkering.

TIME TOO SHORT.

Four years ago Woodrow Wilson was elected president of the United States and was inaugurated in March, 1913. He had barely entered upon the life of the White House before his party managers began to prepare for the election now in progress.

Republicans are pointing out that since Andrew Jackson has a Democrat president succeeded himself. The reason for this is easily seen. It is not because the president's policies are failures but because there is not sufficient time for them to get properly started. As the platform of Uncle Sam's Democratic party is normally radical, especially its fiscal plans, and designed to effect many domestic reforms as opposed to the conservative, cut-and-dried policy of the Republicans, long in operation, its application necessarily must cause a great amount of dislocation and dissatisfaction.

THE HYPHENATE VOTE.

A few weeks ago the majority of the German-American vote was said to be slated for Hughes because it regarded Wilson as pro-ally. This would be quite in accord with what we know of German psychology. In the opinion of this element Wilson favors the allies because he permits United States firms to sell munitions to them.

Canada having two ministers of war, we wonder which one shall have precedence in the event of any little matter involving differences of opinion cropping up. We imagine that Sir Sam is not the kind of a bird to tamely submit to having his wings clipped, his plumes torn, or his tail feathers pulled out.

For a precedent Mr. Bowser can point to the fact that while a president will be elected in the United States to-day, his predecessor will hold office until March 4, 1917.

STRANGE REMEDIES FOR DUMBNESS.

Almost daily we hear of some new instance of the restoration of speech lost by shell-shock. In discussing the subject the week ago the Observer gave the following list of strange cures which it had noticed: 1. Grew excited over a game of cards.

above fields where the sons of France have poured out their blood with unquenchable bravery in the fight for freedom. It speaks to them of Verdun, where these sons held the gate with a heroism which has yet to be surpassed. And to-day the Guards play it in a new way, with a kind of poignant pride sounding in it, and defiance that struggles with agony and overthrows it. You might think it was their own National Anthem, and this in a sense is what they seem to feel, for, at any rate, it is the anthem of their brothers in a brotherhood sealed with much blood. The Garde have not before heard it played in such a way by us, and it thrills them.

TO AMUSE THE INSURGENTS.

The Mail and Empire suggests that the slowness of recruiting may be due to criticism of the Government. As a matter of fact, the treatment of Sir Robert Borden by opposition journals has been fair and even generous, while the treatment of Sir Wilfrid Laurier by the Mail and Empire and the News has been notoriously unfair and venomous.

Greater Production. Important legislation also will be introduced by the government to increase the agricultural production in the province. To this end the people will be offered attractive inducements to return to the land and increased settlement in remote sections wherever agriculture may be developed will be encouraged. Already new roads are being built into remote settlements where land and other grants are being increased. Another step will be taken by the government to induce intensive production of farm products, which, by the way, will help to lessen the high cost of living, in that which will enable the holders of vast timber limits situated in good agricultural centres to abandon their holdings, in exchange for which the government would grant them other timber limits in more remote regions. Legislation will be submitted to authorize the government to effect such exchanges as it deems advisable in the public interest.

The law governing the privileges of builders and workmen given rise, as it is couched at present, to difficulties in application which sometimes render it elusive. A new bill will be introduced to give workmen all the protection to which they are entitled.

in the Y. W. C. A. building, 912 Douglas street. These lectures are planned for men and women alike, and it is hoped that both will seize the opportunity to attend. To-night's speaker will be Rev. John Gibson Inkster, the subject will be "Some Lessons from Canadian History" in which much will be told of the history of the Hudson's Bay Company. C. H. Lugin will give a fifteen minute talk at the commencement of the proceedings on "Current Events." Mrs. A. E. Mitchell will preside at the meeting which is to commence at 8 o'clock.

Shop for Prisoners.—A Christmas gift shop is being opened by Mrs. Fred Pemberton the last week in November, and the proceeds from the sale of the various articles which are to be disposed of will go to the supply of comforts and food for the Canadian prisoners-of-war in Germany. Mrs. Pemberton will take personal charge of the undertaking, and assisting her will be the Misses Pemberton, Miss Gladys Pitts, Miss Robertson, and a host of other young ladies. From Mrs. Stillhoe and others who are deeply interested in the prisoners-of-war as well as from the prisoners-of-war themselves come letters which all too strongly endorse the intimation that the men are in need both of food and clothing. This shop is for the purpose of giving everyone an opportunity to help, and beside the sale of articles there will be tea, and entertainments will be arranged.

AT THE THEATRES

DOMINION THEATRE.

The Metro feature attraction, "The Come-Back," a five-part production in which Harold Lockwood and May Allison, the popular young stellar combination, are starred, is now being shown at the Dominion theatre to-day and Wednesday. This feature, which was produced by the Quality Pictures Corporation, marks the debut of Mr. Lockwood and Miss Allison on the Metro programme, where they will appear hereafter, exclusively. They are surrounded by a strong supporting cast including Lester Cuneo, Howard Truesdell, Bert Starkey, Mitchell Lewis, George Henry, Charles Selwyn and other well known artists of the screen and stage.

VARIETY THEATRE.

Having danced their way to fame in the European capitals and in South America, the internationally celebrated Maurice and Florence Walton are now making their motion picture debut in the Famous-Players Paramount picture, "The Quest of Life," which will be presented at the Variety theatre to-day and to-morrow. It was Maurice who introduced the Argentine Tango to Europe and America after he had studied it in South America. The celebrated Apache dance, which is performed in "The Quest of Life," was also created by Maurice after he had seen the crude performance in the Apache dens of Paris.

In support of Maurice and Miss Walton, Director Miller has assembled an excellent cast including Julian L'Estrange, Russell Bassett and others of note.

RUSSIAN DANCERS SCORE

Pantages Bill This Week Scintillates With Entertaining Features.

With at least three acts that are top-liners figuring on the programme, the bill presented for popular approval at the Pantages this week is vaudeville of the highest class.

A more graceful, spirited or novel dancing turn than the ballet divertissement staged by W. Horelik and Miss Schepp, featuring Mile. Natcha and Mile. Tatiana, has not been seen in this city for some time. Mile. Natcha particularly has all the fire and abandon of a Pavlova, being a most clever exponent of the poetry of motion. The act embodies all the attributes of the Slavic and Bohemian dances with all the wild abandon of these races evident, but none the less gracefully interpreted by pastmasters in the torch-bearing art. One of the big features of this act is a special dance by Mile. Natcha, who won well-merited applause at the hands of a delightful first night audience. The two principals are surrounded by a large company, and some remarkable demonstrations of agility and grace are given by the male members of the cast.

Schepp's comedy circus is a most trained animal act which is about the most pretentious of its kind ever seen on the circuit. Dogs, ponies and monkeys, also freaks of nature, all go to make up this exceptional and pleasing offering. Schepp introduces plenty of comedy into his work among the animals, and in this he is ably assisted by the bucking pony which positively refuses to carry anyone on its sleek back for more than the fraction of a second. But few avail themselves of the invitation to ride this equine tartar. The wonderful work of the dogs of the troupe show careful and patient training. Walking, skipping, tumbling and jumping is all in the day's work with these intelligent and well-groomed little canine pets. They work as if they thoroughly enjoyed it, and are always eager for more. A high jump by several of the dogs is a feature of the turn.

Another big act is put on by Hughie Howard and Johnny Fields, the famous blackface artists, who, as minstrel men, have a continental reputation. Howard and Fields, assisted by George Hinkel, presenting the "Dining Car Minstrels," are one of the real hits of the show. The act is a riot.

Santucci, the genius of the accordion, is a musical marvel, who gets the sweetest melody out of his instrument. His ability with the accordion is remarkable, and in this he is ably assisted by the accordion.

Oscar Lee offers a real treat in the presentation of his character songs. Fear, Baggott and Fear do things with the bat that are entirely foreign to the average baseball player. They juggle everything but baseballs, and the act is further illuminated by the efforts of a droll humorist.

The show opens with a characteristic Charlie-Chaplin comedy.

Delegates Tell of Conference of Women's Institutes Held in Victoria.

The monthly meeting of the Shawnigan and Cobble Hill Women's Institute was held at Shawnigan Lake on Thursday last, when there was a good attendance to hear the well considered report of the official delegate to the recent conference of Island Institutes in Victoria. Mrs. Wheelton dwelt briefly on the leading points of the various papers, and spoke of the kindness and efficiency. Much interest was aroused by the important letter addressed to the women's institutes of the province by the provincial board of health in connection with the sanitation of rural schools, which was referred to a sub-committee for consideration. The programme committee presented its suggestions for the 1917 season, and it was resolved to collect $2 a month during the war in aid of the Y. M. C. A. military camp work in this province; and to devote the proceeds of the tea at the two monthly meetings to the support of a starving Belgian family, in addition to the pledges already given. Details of the Christmas Fair in aid of the Red Cross funds were laid before the meeting and every kind of assistance solicited. The good results of "tag day," $46.20, were announced, the total Red Cross receipts for the month amounting to

HURRYING DOES NOT MEAN HASTE

Definition of Word From Nanaimo Authority Gives New Idea of Meaning

YOUNGER PLANTA TRIES TO EXPLAIN DIFFICULTY

Defence in Gosden Case Yesterday Calls Four Witnesses

The chief interest in the Gosden trial yesterday centred in the evidence of the Plantas, aine et fils, who claim to have seen M. A. Macdonald on the street in the vicinity of the post office about nine o'clock on the evening of April 25 last.

Both witnesses were very positive as to seeing Mr. Macdonald, but were vague or entirely ignorant or forgetful as to any other events of that evening. That matter seemed fixed in their minds to the exclusion of everything else, and no consideration of time of night, light, or lack of acquaintance with Mr. Macdonald, whom the junior witness had only seen for the first time that evening and then without knowing who it was, as he swears, will lead them to think they may be mistaken.

Planta, senior, who was under cross-examination in the earlier part of the afternoon, replied to Crown Prosecutor Moresby in a very low tone, so subdued that it was at times very difficult to catch what he had to say. The boy was just as opinionated and positive as he was at the legislative inquiry and the trial in June. In June he had to consult with his father in the corridors of the court house as to the evidence he should give, and yesterday he again had a consultation with his father on a point of their joint evidence.

It is only fair to say that yesterday it seems to have been the father who broached the subject. Both have said that the man they saw on Government street walked north ahead of them at a leisurely gait, while they were hurrying to the theatre, as the lad puts it, and yet they did not overtake him until they got to the corner of Fort street, and then because he stopped to look in a shop window. Yesterday it was stated by the lad that the man was twenty feet ahead of them across from the post office. From there to the corner of Fort street is 475 feet.

The explanation is that there is some "common sense" use of the word "hurrying," which apparently attaches to the Nanaimo school of physiologists and is used in relation to a person going to the theatre. One says they are "hurrying to the theatre" but they do not mean that they are proceeding at a quick pace! The distinction is as clear as mud—or as the character study and assumptions of superiority which this case was heard of.

Under cross-examination by Crown Prosecutor Moresby after court resumed Mr. Planta said the first time he told what he had seen was the next afternoon, about six o'clock, in the room adjoining Premier Bowser's office in the legislative buildings. There were there—Mr. Bowser, Mr. Miller, Mr. Mackay, Mr. Watson, Mr. Thomson and others. Mr. Mackay was reading a paper and he supposed the Vancouver case was talked of.

Mr. Moresby—You did not tell us about Mr. Mackay reading the paper at the last trial.

My recollection is not particularly clear. I could not tell you what took place.

Did Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald leave the dining-room before you did?

I do not know.

At the last trial you told us your recollection was that they did. What have you to say about that?

That may have been my impression at that time. I do not recollect at all now.

Have you any recollection of his leaving and coming back?

I have no recollection.

If you had seen him leave and return you would have recalled it, because your attention was focussed on him?

It was not; it was focussed on the dinner.

Then it was only in a casual way you observed him? There was nothing particular to attract your attention towards him?

Nothing particular.

But you did observe that he was not looking very happy that night?

If I made that answer it was my recollection. That was my sworn testimony then.

Mr. Planta repeated his assertion of the first trial that he did not see anyone else at the Empress that night that he afterwards recalled, L. W. Shatford, for instance, or anyone.

"I might have seen a good many people I saw before," he added. "I was not, perhaps, as much interested in seeing them as Mr. Macdonald because he was in the limelight."

Mr. Moresby—Mr. Shatford was as much in the limelight?

Well, I have known him, personally. I think you have said that you do not know Mr. Macdonald personally.

That is right.

You told the committee you had seen Mr. Macdonald in the rotunda of the hotel. Do you recall that?

I do not remember doing so.

At the last trial, as the transcript shows, you were asked if you remembered saying this before the committee: "I had seen Mr. Macdonald in the rotunda of the hotel some time before that." Do you remember telling the committee that you were asked and you told the court "I do not recall that particular evidence." You went on to say to the committee: "And my attention was directed to him as I walked from the Empress to the Belmont block."

I do not remember now, but my memory was fresher then than now.

So you might possibly have said that to the committee?

I have no recollection of saying so.

If you did make that statement it was probably correct?

It might not have been, because one staying at the same hotel would see guests many times and might possibly be confused as to the time they saw them.

For the same reason might you not be confused as to seeing him on Government street as to seeing him at any other place?

Not as to seeing him on Government street because I had occasion to discuss it.

You had occasion to discuss as to seeing him in the rotunda?

No.

You thought it of sufficient importance to tell the committee that?

I might have been asked the question if I saw him and I might think that I did.

And you might have made this answer I have read out?

I do not think that is a positive statement I did see him.

Well, I will read it to you again. Mr. Brewster was cross-examining you and you were telling him that you were taking your son to Pantages; that it was like a father taking his son to the circus; and you said: "I had seen Mr. Macdonald in the rotunda of the hotel some time before that and my attention was attracted to him as I walked from the Empress to the Belmont block."

It might have been earlier in the day; I do not remember now at all.

Earlier in the day? Explain that?

It might have been earlier in the evening; before he went into the dining-room or after. I cannot explain now in details.

If he and his wife went in at twenty minutes to eight it is not likely you would be there before him?

I might have been in before him or seen him arrive.

Do you remember telling us at the last trial that you were in your room for half an hour before you went down to dinner?

I do not know. I may have done so. You would sooner rely on your evidence before the committee than at this trial or the last?

Yes, I think my evidence would be fresher.

His lordship ruled that counsel must read the actual statement to the witness and ask for his memory upon that.

It could not have been or he would not have used this word.

You remember him at the last trial telling us that before he came into court he asked you in the corridor outside: "Father, what shall I say if they ask me if I recognized Macdonald in the hotel?"

The question was not put to him in the same way. You asked him if he asked me any question and the answer was no. You did not give him a chance to explain what he did ask me. The only question he asked me—he had seen Mr. Macdonald in the dining-room when we were sitting there together, and not until I pointed him out was it that he knew it was Mr. Macdonald. He was puzzled as to what answer would be right if he was asked if he saw Macdonald in the dining-room when he did not know until after that the man he saw was Macdonald.

How could that question of hurrying have any bearing on the case?

It might have considerable bearing.

Ah! In what way?

We could not have been, from the fact of Macdonald crossing the street and reaching our side before we passed him, hurrying.

Certainly, and therefore you had to argue that out? At the last trial and to the committee you said that Macdonald was walking in a leisurely manner and with his head down, and that he crossed the street?

And he did.

And that notwithstanding the fact of your hurrying along to the theatre you did not pass him till you got to the corner of Fort street?

Exactly.

So that the statement made by your son that you were hurrying had some bearing on the case?

If we were hurrying we could not have allowed Macdonald time to get to the sidewalk ahead of us.

And it was necessary, therefore, to explain to the judge and jury why he said "hurrying," because if that statement was allowed to go it would affect your evidence. Is that not the fact?

I am not studying evidence; I am trying to give it in a straightforward way as I remember it. It is easy for one to be pressed into giving an answer which does not convey the meaning they intended it to convey.

The witness said that he first recognized the man as Mr. Macdonald before they had left the roadway from the Empress grounds, although he was across on the other side of Government street, half way along the front of the post office and walking with his head down and his hands in his pockets.

Mr. Moresby—You thought the actions of the man peculiar; that he was dodging about, you told the court before; you thought he would bear watching, and you told your son to watch him and see what he was doing when you got to Fort street?

I asked him to look around.

The witness described the man he says was Mr. Macdonald as having a dejected air, hands in his pockets and his head down; it was attitude rather than facial expression he went on, witness said, when counsel pointed out that they had not seen the face of the man.

Mr. Moresby—As a matter of fact you never did have a good look at his face after you got out on the street?

Well, a sufficiently good look to recognize the man.

Did you ever in your experience meet anyone who told you they had met you at such-and-such a place or time, when you knew you were not there?

I do not remember but it is possible it might have been. I can pick out several men that do not look unlike me at a distance.

It is not unusual for a man to tell you he has met you before when you have to tell him it is not so?

It is not unusual.

This man would not have had a chance to go around the corner and give anyone $50 while you had him in view?

No.

The court—You admit the difference of opinion between yourself and Mr. Mackay as to his presence at that conference when there were a number of politicians present?

Yes, I remember Mr. Mackay said that. I think that is easily accounted for.

There is apparently a difference between you, however, his lordship went on, "and there is a difference between you and your son, if one is to accept language at the ordinary meaning that is given to it, as to the speed at which you were walking to the theatre. Two years ago I was trying a case at the Vancouver assizes in which identity played a large part. While it was in progress I was served at breakfast, and spoke to the waiter, Harry, who nearly always served me. He was there at breakfast but at lunch-time he was not there; or so I believed. When I asked the waiter who served me at luncheon where the other man was he told me that he was not there that day; that it was he who had waited upon me at breakfast, and that words I mentioned as having addressed to Harry I had really addressed to him. A few days later Harry returned and confirmed the statement that he had not been there at all that day. It is quite evident that I was wrong in my impression that I had been served by the man Harry that morning and yet I was not satisfied that I was not until he came back. Have you never heard instances of that kind? In the face of such a case are you sure?"

Mr. Planta—Absolutely no possibility of my being mistaken in the man I saw as Mr. Macdonald.

Clive M. F. Planta, amateur physiologist and student of human nature, aged about 20, trained in Nanaimo, had come down from Nanaimo with his father in their car and left it at the Empress. What they did with it later that night he was unable to say. They had a shoe-shine, went up to their room for a wash and then went in to dinner. In the dining-room he saw Mr. Macdonald and his wife, but at the time he did not know who they were. After dinner they left the hotel, by what door he did not remember, and on the way, on Government street, his attention was attracted, by something his father said to the gentleman he had seen in the hotel walking along in front of him. At that time Mr. Macdonald was about "as far as from me to Mr. Gosden"—twenty feet—and walked on ahead of them. They overtook him about the Brown Jug block, where he had stopped to look into a window.

Mr. Taylor—There is no doubt that was Mr. Macdonald? Absolutely no doubt at all.

Who was the man looking in the shop window?

Mr. Macdonald.

After passing this gentleman, witness said, he looked back at his father's request and saw the man turn back towards the hotel again.

The crown prosecutor—Have you been talking about this case to your father since last trial?

Yes.

When was the last time?

This morning, as a matter of fact.

What about?

Nothing particular; ordinary routine of evidence.

Anything particular?

No, nothing particular at all.

You are sure of that?

Perfectly positive.

Did your father ask you anything about any particular part of the evidence?

No.

You are positive of that; absolutely sure; the same as you have no doubt about this man being Mr. Macdonald?

Yes.

Just as emphatic as that?

Yes.

Would you be surprised to hear that your father just now told us that you were discussing your hurrying to the Pantages?

No.

That was not important?

No, I do not think so.

It did not strike you that if you were hurrying you would have passed Macdonald?

It did strike me in that manner.

That had to be cleared up?

Yes.

You had to explain why you said that?

Yes.

Because it was not true; you were not hurrying?

Passed him looking in the shop window.

Where did the man get on the sidewalk in front of you?

I am not prepared to swear positively.

Was it in front of the post office or a little further up?

A little further up.

When he walked across the street was it straight across or diagonally, and was it towards you or from you?

I did not see him till he was getting on the sidewalk diagonally in front of us.

Mr. Moresby—Did he walk along in a leisurely way?

He walked along in front of us.

Did he walk along in a leisurely way?

He walked along in what you might call a half-leisurely way.

How did he walk, was it leisurely or not?

I do not know what you mean by leisurely.

The court (sharply to witness)—use language in the usual everyday manner of using it.

Witness—He was walking along very leisurely.

Mr. Moresby—If you were hurrying, you would have overtaken him?

To overtake a twenty-foot lead, according to their own evidence.

Then either you did not hurry or the man was walking faster than what people consider leisurely? That needs some explanation, does it not?

(No answer.)

The witness did not recall anything else that he and his father talked about that morning. He acknowledged that at the last trial he had asked his father what he would say if asked if he recognized Mr. Macdonald in the dining-room, and explained that it was because he did not know who it was in his attention had been attracted by in the dining-room. He did not think that a proper answer would be that he knew Mr. Macdonald there when it was not until after that he knew the man he had noticed to be Mr. Macdonald. He complained that the crown prosecutor had not given him an opportunity of explaining the full details.

The court—Did you start to explain it and were cut off?

Not that I recollect.

"It was the first time I had been in a court and you know how you feel before a lot of men," added the witness confidentially to the court.

"You do not show any indications of being embarrassed here," his lordship observed. "You are as self-satisfied a young man as I have seen in the box for a long time."

Mr. Moresby had been hunting up the transcript of the first trial and read out the questions of the then presiding judge (Mr. Justice Murphy), who took the matter up the minute counsel brought out the fact that father and son had been consulting about the evidence the latter should give. Counsel read where the court asked a direct question which gave witness the opportunity he claims he did not get. He now explained that he thought it would be for the counsel for the accused, who had brought him there as a witness, to bring this out.

Mr. Moresby—Was it not that you were so thunderstruck when you found I knew about the matter that you had no explanation ready?

At that time it struck me as very peculiar that you had got hold of what I said.

And you had no answer because you had to study it out?

No, everything is so clear to me it does not need studying.

Then your answer a minute ago does not give with that, when you say you were hurrying and yet did not overtake the man ahead of you on Government street, and so you had to study it out?

We were not walking along fast; in the common sense of the term, we were hurrying to the theatre.

"It is a very uncommon sense," said his lordship.

The witness enlightened the court to the extent that "there is a maximum and a minimum," but the court did not grasp what it meant any more than the witness seemed to know himself.

Reference was made to a remark made by the witness at the inquiry and again at the first trial as to his knowledge of an inquiry being on and "something going decidedly wrong" for Mr. Macdonald.

"I very seldom read the newspapers and I did not know what was going on" the witness said.

MANY APPOINTMENTS IN MILITARY ORDERS

Local Officers Get Promotions and Confirmation of Rank... The following is an interesting extract from a letter written by Lieut. Aubrey Kent, of the 9th Battery of the 10th Artillery Brigade, to his father Herbert Kent, from "Somewhere in France"...

DESCRIBES DISMAL HIGHWAY IN FRANCE

"The trip to the battery in the present position is certainly a dismal one. It is all captured territory and of course torn all to bits. Part of the way is on a narrow road where traffic usually gets jammed and it is far from pleasant to get shelled at such a time when it is impossible to move. We were stuck for a little while to-night, but luckily not shelled. One of the batteries got it rather badly last night. About a mile of the journey is across country with no road at all and shell holes everywhere. It takes from eight to twelve teams, or rather horses (six teams) to every vehicle, and the ground is dry at that, so goodness knows how many it will take when it rains."

London, Nov. 7.—The Times this morning published another instalment of articles by D. Thomas Curtin, of Boston, who is back in this country after spending ten months in Germany...

"Peace is always the German idea. Peace and food talk do not always result from the shortage, but from the difficulty of getting what is to be obtained and the increasing monotony..."

"Notices summoning semi-revolutionary meetings were whispered among women standing in the food lines. These women did not pay attention to the bell ringings, displays of flags and other manifestations ordered by the government upon every possible occasion..."

DOMINION TRUST APPEAL JUDGMENTS

Findings of Misfeasance Against Directors Set Aside in "Interim Judgment"

JUDGMENT IN APPEAL REGARDING INSURANCE

Vancouver, Nov. 7.—Two important judgments of the court of appeal in connection with the Dominion Trust Company were handed down to-day at the opening of the Vancouver hearings, in one of which the judges allow the appeal of the insurance companies against the $200,000 judgment which the liquidator of the Dominion Trust holds, and in the other case allow the appeal of the Dominion Trust directors against Mr. Justice Murphy's findings of misfeasance.

Both judgments are of an involved character, that in regard to the misfeasance suit being characterized by the chief justice as "an interim judgment in an interim appeal," and is not regarded by the legal fraternity as being a final decision on the question of the directors liable for misfeasance. In the appeal of the insurance companies against the judgment of Chief Justice Hunter, the appeal court was divided, two of the judges taking the view that the appeal should be allowed and the remaining two judges taking the view that the judgment should be set aside on the ground that the trial judge had erred in consolidating the actions.

Immediately after their lordships had taken their seats on the bench, Chief Justice Macdonald leaned forward and announced that in the case of the Dominion Trust directors, the court had decided to allow the appeal. S. S. Taylor, K. C., who was present in court on behalf of F. R. Stewart, jumped to his feet. "I have a motion in this matter which I wished to present before judgment is given, on behalf of F. R. Stewart, together with a statement by Mr. Stewart incorporated in a long affidavit," said Mr. Taylor.

Explaining to counsel the effect of the decision in the directors' misfeasance case, Chief Justice Macdonald said the court had decided to allow the appeal in part and the cross-appeal in part. "We think the judge of the lower court was right in dismissing the misfeasance directors," said his lordship, "but the learned judge went too far in finding misfeasance established against the other directors before finding that losses had been caused. We think that having satisfied himself as far as he had gone, the trial judge should have proceeded with the trial and found out whether any losses had been caused before he could properly find these directors liable for misfeasance. We will allow the appeal so far as to set aside the findings of misfeasance. The trial is not complete. This is an interim judgment in an interim appeal."

In regard to the decision in the Arnold case, at the trial before Chief Justice Hunter there were three different companies sued by the Dominion Trust Company for a total of $215,000. The cases appeared in order on the trial list, but Chief Justice Hunter ordered them consolidated, taking the view that the evidence would be the same and that it was a waste of the court's time and of clients' money to have three separate trials. E. P. Davis, K. C., for the New York Life, opposed the consolidation. In the trial, Chief Justice Hunter found all three companies liable for the full amount of the policies, taking the view that it had not been shown that Arnold committed suicide, as claimed by the defendants.

There are only four judges left on the appeal court bench since the death of Mr. Justice Irving, and of the four judges who heard the appeal two of them are for allowing the appeal and two dissenting the claims of the Dominion Trust Company, while the other two wish merely to set the judgment aside and order separate trials on the ground that the trial judge erred in ordering the cases to be consolidated.

VICTORIA OFFICER KILLED IN ACTION

Captain Geo. S. Powell Died Fighting on October 1; Other Casualties

Word was received yesterday afternoon by Roland H. Powell, of the death of his brother, Captain S. Powell, of the firm of George Powell & Sons, hardware, merchants, Government street.

Captain Powell was born in San Francisco forty-one years ago, but lived practically all his life in this city, having come here with the family as a lad of eight in 1882. He was educated in the Central school, and many of his former schoolfellows are to-day men of affairs in the city and province. On leaving school he decided to adopt the sea as a profession and he left Victoria on a sailing vessel. For some years he was so engaged, in the course of that time taking his papers as master for both deep-sea and coasting craft. Returning to the province Captain Powell entered the service of the C. P. N. company, and he was on the Islander as mate when she was lost on the way from Alaska. About ten years ago he forsook the sea and entered the business with his father and brother. Since the death of the father he and his brother Roland have carried it on together under the old firm name.

Captain Powell left here in June, 1916, on a voyage to the coast. He was engaged in survey work for a short time in the northern districts, and was chief in the office of the road superintendent at Bella Coola. He went overseas with the 102nd. He is 42 years of age and his wife and child reside at Bella Coola.

THE LATE PTE. PHILIP WOOLFITT

Who is reported to have died of wounds received about three weeks ago. Pte. Woolfitt was a native of Newark-on-Trent, England, where his parents still live. He came out to this country about seven years ago. Later he went to Edmonton to join an uncle who was engaged in surveying, but returned to Victoria to enlist with the 88th Battalion, with which unit he went overseas. He transferred to the bombing section of the 42d Battalion.

On September 12 Captain Powell was wounded in action and was in hospital for two weeks. As soon as he was able to get back to his regiment he did so, and he can hardly have reported for duty again before being killed. He died in fighting on the Somme on October 1. A rumor of his death reached his friends here and R. H. Powell made inquiry from the war office, resulting in the message received yesterday.

Captain Powell leaves very many friends in this city who will regret his death. He was unmarried. There survive his mother, Mrs. George Powell, one brother, and two sisters, Mrs. William Broderick, Victoria, and Mrs. Hasland, Southsea, England. Captain Powell was a member of the Odd Fellows.

Word has come that Lieut. Cpl. McEwan, of the 2nd C. M. R., was killed in action on September 16. The deceased soldier was a native of Scotland, and came to this country five years ago from Perth. He was employed at the Modern Cleaners, Government street, before enlisting. It was in September of last year that he went to France with the Canadian Mounted Rifles, and until the time of his death had been through all the heavy fighting in which the unit was engaged. In the terrible bombardment through which his battalion passed in the first week of June he escaped without a scratch. The young soldier, who was 28 years of age, had no relatives in the city, but his many friends will regret to learn of his death.

The latest casualty list contains the name of Pte. E. P. Shaw, son of J. P. Shaw, of 1073 Monterey avenue, Oak Bay. Pte. Shaw joined the Cyclist Corps under Capt. Sellers in November, 1915, and left on December 15 last year for Ottawa. There the unit remained in

PATRIOTIC WORKER THOUGH OVER EIGHTY

Late Mrs. Sarah Taylor McCulloch, Who Died Yesterday, Knitted Constantly

An aged patriotic worker and one of the oldest residents of the Island passed away last evening in the person of Mrs. Sarah Taylor McCulloch. The deceased lady was 83 years of age, but apart from the fact that she had been almost totally deaf for many years she was in full possession of all her faculties until quite recently, and took a keen interest in everything that went on about her. Her last illness was brief.

The late Mrs. McCulloch was a native of Chorley, Lancashire, her father being a well-known local Methodist preacher in that county during his life. She came to Victoria round the Horn, travelling on the Robert Lowe and reaching port in 1863 after a voyage lasting four months and a half. Among the passengers on the same vessel was Noah Shakespeare, who was to become one of the prominent men of the then young city.

From the first Mrs. McCulloch, who married Capt. McCulloch the year after her arrival in the city, took a keen interest in the affairs of the city. She was married by Rev. R. F. Lucas, pastor of the Pandora avenue church, in which congregation she afterwards became known as one of the most active workers. She was one of the first to attend services regularly in the Metropolitan Methodist church, and for years was a constant member of the congregation.

Captain McCulloch died ten years ago. When the family first settled down their home was in Chatham street. Afterwards they removed to Michigan street, and Mrs. McCulloch made that her home until her husband's death. Latterly she had been living with her son, George McCulloch, of Cambridge street.

In spite of her infirmity Mrs. McCulloch was remarkably cheerful and a very active knitter. During the last two years she had made 125 pairs of socks to send to soldiers. She was a life member of the W.C.T.U., and only last September took part in a prohibition parade. For many years she was a regular subscriber to the Manchester Wesleyan Mission of Lincoln, England. The funeral is to take place on Thursday at 2 o'clock from the Metropolitan Methodist church, Rev. Thomas Hughes, Rev. A. B. Osterhaut and Rev. Dr. Osborne to take charge of the service.
