GOVERNMENT APPEALS TO ELECTORATE

Strike Negotiations Are to Be Renewed In London To-morrow

Industrial Crisis Temporarily Bridged; Coal Miners' Chiefs to Meet Government Representatives; Railwaymen Postpone Their Proposed Strike.

London, Oct. 23.—(Associated Press)—The industrial crisis was temporarily bridged late this afternoon, when the striking coal miners accepted an invitation to meet the Government for renewed discussion of the miners' demands, and the railroad men at the request of the miners postponed their sympathetic strike movement under which the railway employees would have ceased work at midnight Sunday. This sensational close of a day of the most intense anxiety came as the result of informal discussions during the morning by representatives of the Government, coal mine owners and miners' leaders and a subsequent joint meeting of the National Union of Railwaymen's and Miners' executive bodies.

It was generally understood that the Government had drafted new proposals for adjustment of the miners' demands which are more acceptable to the mine workers. In any event, the miners decided to accept the invitation to re-open the discussions. The miners' representatives will meet the Government to-morrow.

London, Oct. 23.—Informal conversations between the Government and individual leaders of the striking coal miners were resumed this morning. These discussions followed a conference with Premier Lloyd George and several other members of the Government in which the secretary of the miners' organization was one of the participants.

Representatives of the mine owners also conferred with the Government. The view expressed in Government circles this afternoon was that the strike situation was by no means without hope of a favorable solution. During the discussion between the Government and the miners informal proposals were expected to be made which might contain a nucleus for an ultimate settlement.

The Evening Standard says the miners' executive committee is to be asked to meet the Premier and his experts at the Premier's official residence in Downing Street, although the time for such a meeting has not been fixed. It asserts also that the Government is formulating a formula slightly more favorable to the miners than has been sketched and that this has unofficially been approved by prominent miners' leaders, although this does not necessarily mean that the miners as a whole would accept it.

MAGSWINEY IN CRITICAL STATE

Officials Deny Sister's Admission So He May Be Nursed Carefully

London, Oct. 23.—Grave reports were in circulation at non-to-day regarding the condition of Lord Mayor Macswiney of Cork on the seventy-second day of his hunger strike in Brixton prison.

A statement issued by the Exchange Telegraph at that hour declared the Lord Mayor's last moments were at hand. A bulletin of the Irish Self-Determination League on the Lord Mayor's condition, however, stated the League had been informed that he was in about the same condition as recently. He was unconscious, its informant said.

"However," added the statement, "the Home Office has placed a ban on the use of the telephone for communicating news to the outside, and has forbidden the Lord Mayor's sisters, Mary and Annie, to visit him."

The Home Office explained the denial of admission to the Lord Mayor's sisters as being due only to the belief that their visits interfered with the careful nursing which the prisoner's extremely critical condition required.

"Lord Mayor Macswiney's condition continues critical," said the Home Office. "The scurvy has been slightly remedied."

Recommends to Lieut.-Governor Dissolution of Legislature

HON. JOHN OLIVER

Liquor Importation Votes in Four of Provinces Monday

Four provinces of Canada will vote on Prohibition next Monday—Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Nova Scotia. The question in all four provinces will be the same—whether importation of liquor from points outside the province is to be prohibited. The following dispatches indicate conditions in Alberta and Manitoba:

Edmonton, Oct. 23.—Reports from all districts in Northern Alberta indicate that there is no great interest in Monday's referendum. Registration of voters was light, and so while a large percentage of those on the lists will vote, the percentage of those entitled to vote who will cast their ballots will not be heavy. All indications point to a large majority in favor of prohibition of importation, the headquarters of the provincial temperance organization claiming a majority of at least 50,000.

KEYLESS ROOMS ARE BOLSHIEV PLAN

London, Oct. 22.—Door keys are considered unnecessary in the Bolshevik scheme of life in Russia. Only privileged persons are supposed to possess them.

When The Associated Press correspondent who recently crossed Russia asked for a doorknob in one of the nationalized hotels at Omsk he was informed by the hotel "commissar," formerly the owner, that under the Red regime doors are not supposed to be bolted.

An appeal to the Omsk Bolshevik commandant resulted in the American correspondent obtaining an official document granting him a key and the privilege of locking the door of his room.

"Mr. Ballantyne's vague insinuations will not satisfy the public," said Mr. Duff. "Perhaps he will answer some more questions which I will propound."

ATTENDED SESSIONS OF BROTHERHOOD

Congress at Washington Marked Rapid Growth of Brotherhood Movement

Dr. W. J. Sippell, pastor of the Metropolitan Church, has returned from Washington, where he represented Western Canada at the sessions of the World Brotherhood Congress, which took place from October 13 to 19, with 300 delegates present from all parts of the world.

Dr. Sippell said that, while it was not definitely so stated, he believed the Congress was held in Washington this year in order to stimulate the growth of the movement in the United States, where it has only recently been introduced.

He explained that the Brotherhood movement is a purely British idea, which has spread like wildfire through the European States and has gained a strong hold in the Eastern Provinces of Canada.

The newspapers of the large centres of the Eastern States considered the Congress sufficiently important to cause many of them to have special writers present at the sessions. In explanation, he said, the aim of the Brotherhood Movement, Dr. Sippell stated that in the same way as the League of Nations was a practical organization to preserve the peace of the world by police methods, the Brotherhood Movement will cultivate public opinion, so making it easy for the League to demand all over Europe for the formation of Brotherhood units, and cites the condition in France, where since the war over one hundred societies have been started and demands are now on file for assistance in organizing two hundred more.

The Brotherhood Movement is undenominational and although directed by church workers, is more for the benefit of the man who has no church affiliation and is designed to get such men into social work for the benefit of the community, and to educate men to support movements of value to his country and the world in general.

Dissolution of Legislature Settled By Executive Council This Afternoon at Full Cabinet Meeting; Nominations Will Be Held On November 10.

The British Columbia Legislature was dissolved shortly after two o'clock this afternoon. Nomination day has been set as Wednesday, November 10, with the election on Wednesday, December 1.

Premier Oliver and all the members of his Cabinet were in session most of the morning and right through until two o'clock. During the morning it was admitted that they had decided on dissolution, but they found it difficult to fix the date of the election. This kept them in the Premier's office during lunch hour trying to come to an agreement acceptable to the majority of the electorate.

According to gossip that leaked out at times, the dates discussed ran to December 15. It was decided, however, to hold the election as early as possible, so that it would not interfere in any way with Christmas shopping.

At noon it was thought that there would be no announcement to-day regarding dissolution. Shortly after, however, it was decided that a decision should be reached and the announcement made to-day so that a couple of days' time at least should be gained and the election held that much further ahead of the Christmas season.

Drove to Government House. At 1 o'clock Premier Oliver called up Lieutenant-Governor Prior and told him he might want to see him this afternoon. The Lieutenant-Governor said that he would be at Government House all afternoon, and ready to receive the Premier at any time.

The Premier then went back into the council meeting with his Ministers. At 2 o'clock he came out and drove to Government House with the formal documents of dissolution to be signed by the Lieutenant-Governor. The business at Government House took only a few minutes, and the public announcement was immediately made.

Announcement of the dissolution of the Legislature has been expected all this week. The Premier, however, in the middle of the week invited all the Cabinet Ministers to be in Victoria for a meeting to-day. Five of them at that time were scattered over various parts of the Province. By yesterday afternoon they had all reached Victoria.

When he arrived at the Parliament Buildings this morning, the Premier immediately instructed his secretary to call a meeting of the executive as soon as the ministers could be assembled. The Ministers came to the Premier's office at 10:30 o'clock prepared for what they knew was the momentous meeting. There was some delay in beginning the session, however, as the Premier was held for some time in the office of the Hon. Dr. King, Minister of Public Works.

While the council was in session the Premier was called out several times by officials and visitors from other parts of the Province. Shortly after the council started officials were called in and instructed to prepare the formal documents necessary in connection with the dissolution. Election and nomination notices were also in preparation while the cabinet ministers were agreeing on a date.

End of Its Terms. The present Legislature which was elected on September 14, 1915, is the fourteenth. It is the first straight Liberal Government in British Columbia to have had the time of Sir Richard McBride's Conservative regime Government in this Province was not carried on long parties.

When Sir Richard McBride concluded his long term of power in 1915 the present Legislature was elected on September 14, 1915, is the fourteenth. RAILWAYMEN TOLD TO AVOID POLITICS

Winnipeg Labor Men Object to Order From C. N. R. Officials

Winnipeg, Oct. 23.—Enforcement of the political embargo on all employees of the Canadian National Railways by an order recently issued by the president of the company will precipitate action on the part of the workers, it was stated here last night. The ultimatum to George H. Palmer, Labor member for the Provincial constituency of Dauphin, to leave the service of the company or the Legislature, has created a high feeling of indignation at the Labor Temple and among the men. Winnipeg railway unions will ask the withdrawal of the order.

Robertson's Statement

Ottawa, Oct. 23.—When shown a news dispatch from Toronto to the effect that Toronto Labor men objected to any regulations prohibiting employment of the Canadian National Railways from participating in politics, Senator Robertson, Minister of Labor, remarked that the matter was one which should be taken up with the management of the Canadian National Railways, and not the Federal Government.

"The Government," he said, "has nothing to do with the management of the Canadian National Railways. The Labor men should take the matter up with President Hanna, who is in charge of the system."

President D. B. Hanna's warning to Canadian National Railway employees that they must keep out of Provincial and Federal politics, which order caused a storm of indignation at a recent railway employees' convention in Winnipeg, is stated here to be nothing more than an extension of a Government practice to the Canadian National employees, and placing them on the same basis as employees of the rest of the Government railway system.

Toronto, Oct. 23.—"We could not prevent him from taking his seat in the House, but we could deal with him as an employee of the company," said R. C. Vaughan, assistant to D. B. Hanna, president of the Canadian National Railways, when asked here as to the position of James Higgins, the Soldier-Labor candidate in the by-election in Northeast Toronto for the Ontario Legislature, with reference to the company's order forbidding any employee participating in political affairs. "We shall deal with the question when the time comes, if he is elected," Mr. Vaughan added.

NO BOARD OF COMMERCE NOW

Members Resigned and No New Appointments Will Be Made

Ottawa, Oct. 23.—The Board of Commerce is no more. Announcement was made from the Prime Minister's office last night that the members of the Board had tendered their resignations to the Government, and that no appointments to the vacant positions would now be made.

The announcement from the Prime Minister's office followed a series of meetings of the Cabinet which were held yesterday, the last of them convening at 5.30 o'clock in the afternoon and lasting for a couple of hours.

The statement issued last night said that when a decision is given by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council as to the extent of the Federal authority in relation to the Board of Commerce Act, "it will be for the Government to consider what should then be done."

Premier Meighen's statement did not create much surprise, as it was felt here that the resignations of the members of the Board were certain to be handed in, following the Cabinet's reversal of the Board's order with regard to the maximum price of 21 cents a pound for sugar.

The three Commissioners who have now resigned are Captain William White, who was formerly secretary of the Board, and who was appointed a Commissioner on the resignation of the original Commissioner, F. A. Acland, Deputy Minister of Labor, and Major G. A. Dillon, purchasing agent for the Department of Justice. The formal announcement of Captain White's appointment as Chief Commissioner of the Board of Commerce is gazetted in this week's Canada Gazette, published to-day.

Temporary.

The appointment of the three gentlemen who have now tendered their resignations was stated to be a temporary measure, following the resignations of Judge H. A. Robson, of Winnipeg, the first chairman, W. F. O'Connor, K. C., and James Murdoch, Labor representative on the Board. Mr. Murdoch's letter of resignation, written to Sir Robert Borden, then Prime Minister, was the subject of much discussion just prior to the ending of the last session of Parliament.

The right of the Board to issue orders placing certain restraints on the export of Canadian products was challenged in connection with the export of pulp and paper. In regard to this, the Prime Minister's statement is gazetted in this week's Canada Gazette.

The jurisdiction of the Board will shortly come before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council for final determination. The Dominion Government has been pressing to possible delay, but at the least have this case heard with the least possible delay, but as the provinces have a right to be heard, it has not yet been possible to have the exact date of the hearing decided upon.

When a decision is given as to the extent of the Federal Government's authority in relation to the Board of Commerce Act, it will be time for the Government to consider what should then be done.

Intending British Emigrants Are Advised to Move to Dominions

London, Oct. 23.—Recent offers of transportation by the Peruvian Government for British emigrants are being resented in official circles here. The Foreign Office of the general question of emigration to South America. The officials admit frankly that they look with disfavor upon the British emigration to South and Central America. Previous experiments, as in Argentina before the war, proved unsuccessful and numbers of British subjects were left stranded or were repatriated. The Britons being unable to cope with the problems of life in their new homes.

The overseas office is advising intending emigrants that under no circumstances should Britishers emigrate to South America, where the language, laws and standards of living, wages and labor conditions are entirely different from those in the United Kingdom. It is pointed out that the warning does not apply to persons of means who obtain a guarantee of employment. The official view of these cases, however, is that emigration should be toward the Dominions, there being plenty of similar opportunities there. It is similar to that in Great Britain and where there is the possibility of the emigrants retaining their citizenship.

It is stated hundreds of other applicants are waiting. They have been informed of the difficulties of pioneering in the new country, the consular officials say.

CANADA IS NOT EXPORTING BUTTER

Montreal, Oct. 23.—Export of butter is now practically non-existent, and wholesale butter merchants here are exercising caution over the position.

Canada produces more butter than she can consume, it is claimed, and the usual export balance. Some butter has been exported to European countries, it appears, but Canada's big customer is Great Britain, and the price set by the British Government is considerably too low for merchants unless they are willing to take a heavy loss.

The rate of exchange is the main factor that prevents sales, but, besides that is speculation, which it is claimed, has caused merchants to lay in heavy stocks at unduly high prices.

Granada, Spain, Oct. 23.—Much interest has been caused by the first action for disposing a tenant farmer from the Duke of Wellington's estate, which opened in the courts yesterday.

The farms in question have been occupied by tenants whose families have held them since the Napoleonic wars.

SCIENTISTS GOING TO AMAZON WILDS

Specialists Expect to Discover New Drugs; To Study Oils and Reptiles

New York, Oct. 23.—Starting early next January a large party of American scientists will explore more than 1,000 square miles of almost virgin territory in the great Amazon basin of South America. It is announced at Columbia University.

The party will be headed by Dr. Henry H. Rusby, dean of the Columbia School of Pharmacy, who has been in many South American expeditions since 1885, including searches for new drugs throughout sections of the Southern and Eastern Andes and part of Northern Colombia.

Dr. Ruthven to Study Frogs.

Professors and scientists representing many universities will make the trip. Dr. David Starr Jordan, President of Leland Stanford University, and Dr. Carl H. Eigenmann, Dean of the University of Indiana, will make a study of fish and reptiles. Dr. Edward Kremers of the University of Wisconsin will go as an expert in volatile oils, and Prof. Augustus H. Gill of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology as a specialist on fixed oils from seeds. A study of frogs will be made by Dr. Ruthven of the University of Michigan. Besides these men there will be several zoologists from the American Museum of Natural History.

"There remains this 1,000-mile tract along Eastern Ecuador and Peru from which no specimens of any kind have ever been procured," Dr. Rusby said. "This section was penetrated by Dr. Hamilton Rice, the map expert, but he did no natural history work. We know from the natives that there are remarkable narcotics in this great unexplored region, and we expect to discover many new and valuable specimens that will be of medicinal use to mankind. The expedition will be undertaken."

MRS. B. DEBECK TELLS A STRIKING STORY

In Simple Words Relates Treatment Which Relieved Acute Stomach Trouble

Sufferers from indigestion and stomach trouble will read with interest the method used by Mrs. B. Debeck, of 2129 Scotia Street, Vancouver whereby she obtained relief from a case of stomach trouble of years standing. The treatment is the more interesting in as much as Mrs. Debeck had tried many treatments without success. She passed on to fellow sufferers her message in the hope that they may be led, as she was, to start the treatment and obtain relief.

Mrs. Debeck expresses herself as follows: "I have suffered with stomach trouble and indigestion for years and have tried several different remedies without any success whatever. On the advice of a friend I consented to give Wonder Health Restorer a trial. As a result I am in a position to state that I have experienced wonderful relief after taking this medicine for only a few months. So satisfied am I that I have no hesitation in recommending the use of Wonder Health Restorer by any person suffering from similar ailments."

TWO-CHAMBER DIET IS POLISH PLAN

Warsaw, Oct. 23.—The Diet to-day passed the second reading of the clause of the constitution providing for the senate and giving the chief of state the title of president of the Republic. The vote by which these provisions were passed was 195 to 139.

Commotion, which lasted more than an hour, followed adoption of the clause of the constitution providing for a two-chamber parliament. Left wing socialists and peasant and labor members rapped upon their desks and sang revolutionary songs as a protest.

Finally the uproar reached such a stage that the speaker was compelled to adjourn the sitting. The recently-elected German members from Pomerania cast the six deciding votes to call the session of the constitution is expected within a few weeks.

How the League Issue Is Splitting the Parties

The desertion of the Harding camp by a former Republican National Committeeman and a number of other prominent pro-League Republicans after Senator Harding's uncompromising rejection of the League of Nations in its present form in his Des Moines speech, convinces many observers that the League has taken its place at the eleventh hour as a clear-cut issue of the Presidential campaign. But if the League issue is now rending the Republican ranks, it is also a matter of common newspaper remark that earlier in the campaign it won over to the Harding banner many Irish-American and German-American voters who supported Wilson in 1916. And it will be remembered that it was on this issue that the Hearst papers abandoned their traditional Democratic allegiance.

In the Democratic camp Senator Harding's Des Moines speech was greeted with every appearance of rejoicing. The New York Times (Dem.) declares that "the election of Cox means a League of Nations acceptable to President Wilson, and Republican success apparently precludes American participation in the League," but, affirms the Baltimore American (Rep.), all that Senator Harding has done in this matter has been to "turn his back upon the Wilson League and turn his face toward the Constitution and toward the Senate," and the New York Globe (Rep.) is "convinced that Senator Harding will be compelled to move for the ratification of the Treaty of Versailles."

A most interesting and instructive analysis and digest of public opinion on the League of Nations issue will be found in the leading article of THE LITERARY DIGEST for October 23d. Other striking news-features in this number are:

A PROVINCIAL ELECTION.

If there existed in the minds of any section of the electorate that public economy would have been better served by an appeal to the people on a joint issue of politics and liquor the decisive nature of Wednesday's vote will have dispelled the idea. Such a clear and definite instruction to the Government is remarkably cheap at the price. And justification for the submission of a plebiscite—unfettered by political or other considerations—upon one of the most highly controversial subjects of the day is found in the size of the vote, the large majority recorded for the favored method, and the general interest manifested throughout the length and breadth of the Province.

On the same basis of argument the Government is well advised to provide the electorate with an immediate opportunity to select its representatives with whom the responsibility shall rest for the making of a law which will meet the wishes of the majority and assure to the protagonists of prohibition such safeguards as will contribute to its rigid enforcement. Upon the present Administration, however, will rest the obligation for the submission of a broad outline of a statute that it would be prepared to present to the Legislature, if re-elected to office, in order that the electorate may arrive at its own conclusion as to whether such a policy would lend itself to conversion into the ultimate law with which its elected representatives would require to concern themselves when Parliament meets in January.

That identical obligation, of course, may not escape the Leader of the Opposition, whose statement will have to bear comparison with that of the Oliver forces during the bid for return to the Treasury benches that is about to be conducted by both parties. Conditions in this instance are different from those which obtained in 1916 when an Act of the Legislature was submitted to the electorate. On this occasion it will be a skeleton policy whose details may be filled in only by the members of the Legislature in session.

It will be understood by the people as a whole, however, that a majority in favor of the principle of Government control and sale does not mean a return to the "bar" or "wide open" conditions. No matter upon which party the duty of working out the provisions of the controlling statute devolves its regulating machinery will require to be of a rigid type if serious abuses are to be avoided. At the same time the general public will not tolerate any sort of ambiguity in the final prescribed method of dealing with the new order of things. To be successful the Act must be smooth working and clear in all its detail.

NEARING SETTLEMENT.

Unless any new deadlock develops to prevent it there is every indication that Great Britain will emerge from her industrial crisis without any more serious harm than has attended a week's idleness in the coal mining industry. At a late hour this afternoon the striking miners accepted an invitation to meet the representatives of the Government for a renewed discussion of the men's demands. This more hopeful turn of events similarly resulted in a postponement of the sympathetic strike of railwaymen which had been set for midnight to-morrow.

The advent of mediatory negotiations at the eleventh hour is one more proof that the workingmen of Great Britain and the Government of the country always may be depended upon to place the interests of the nation before political and personal concern when an industrial dispute reaches a stage from which it would appear to be a short step to a state of virtual revolution. And although a very definite determination on both sides will have to be bridged by a warmer spirit of conciliation than has yet been demonstrated before the crisis may be considered at an end, there is tangible hope that the resumption of negotiations to-day, and the conference between the miners' representatives and the Government to-morrow, will enable the country and her industries to get back to normal at an early date.

EXIT BOARD OF COMMERCE?

Very probably one of the most important actions to be performed by the Board of Commerce "in the public interest" is the presentation of its resignation to the Prime Minister. His decision to appoint no successors for the time being suggests that Mr. Meighen similarly has realized that the general public has grown thoroughly weary of Commissions whose existence means nothing more than a financial vote of expenditure in the Public Accounts of the country. The general impression will remain that the Board has now prevented itself from doing further mischief. And not a few people in possession of fairly good memories will ask themselves the question as to whether Mr. James Murdock was not very near the mark when he warned the country that the Board of Commerce "was manipulated to serve certain interests with the knowledge and consent of Cabinet Ministers." In the meantime it will not make very much difference to the pocketbook of the average consumer to know whether the Board has or has not protected him during the rising market to the extent to which it should have been possible.

THE WRONG TURNING.

While its value to the cause of aerial research may not be so important as an exploration of the uncharted regions which embrace the Rockies it was a pity that the magnificent Trans-Canada flight should have ended by a "wrong turning" in its last lap of the already commercialized aerial route between Vancouver and Victoria. In his address at the Girls' Central School on Thursday Major Hobbs, who made the trip from the Atlantic, ascribed the reason for mistaken direction to the absence of a chart lacking full details of all the islands on this section of the coast. Surely such an unfortunate ending to the first important national enterprise might have been avoided if proper precaution had been taken before leaving Vancouver. Were it not for the fact that particular attention has been attracted to the outstanding success of the United States aerial mail pilot—to whom fog, wind, rain and darkness between here and Seattle have been no deterrent—comment would be less to the point.

KING ALEXANDER

It may not be fitting to deride the suggestion made by the eminent French physician that the injuries inflicted upon the King of Greece by one of the descendants of the alleged ancestry of the human race were actually part of a determined plot to bring about the monarch's death; but it will very probably occur to the average mind that the employment of a monkey to satisfy the appetite of the revolutionary anarchists' wing in Greece is an altogether novel procedure and suggestive of a broad vista of possibilities in the realm of social upheaval. It is true, of course, that the monkey actually did demonstrate a penchant for the Royal flesh and brought about a serious illness from which His Majesty is making slow recovery. At the same time the infection and consequent prolongation of the attack is traceable to the fact that the monkey was a victim of rabies. But to suggest an artificial inoculation with premeditated design to infect the King looks a little bit far-fetched even for this advanced age.

THAT COMMITTEE.

Presumably because of his address delivered recently in New York upon the Irish question the Rev. Thomas Shields, a Baptist minister of Toronto, has received an invitation from the Willard Committee of One Hundred to appear and testify before the Commission of Inquiry which will be charged with an investigation into the alleged atrocities in Ireland. But Mr. Shields apparently does not intend to fall over his feet in accepting such an invitation, and he very properly indulges in a little dry humor when he asks from whom the Commission of Inquiry is to receive its commission. He likewise asks the promoters of the fantastic proposal if their committee is self-appointed and if so who would be influenced by its findings. Nobody, of course, is taking the Commission seriously. In the meantime, however, it will probably provide William Randolph Hearst with an opportunity to manufacture additional anti-British propaganda, while the activities of the body as a whole cannot be expected to have any more effect upon public opinion either on this or the other side of the Atlantic than did the famous voyage of the Oscar II.

OTHER PAPERS' VIEWS

This is the seventy-second day of Lord Mayor Macswiney's hunger strike and he is still alive. One of the greatest surprises to the world would be the announcement of his death.

The League of Nations is discussing an international court of justice and the policy of disarmament which it will evolve to guarantee the peace of the world. It is to be hoped that in a few years' time the peoples of the earth will feel that universal amity will be an accomplished fact eventually.

Ben Spoor, one of Great Britain's moderate Labor leaders and a member of the House of Commons, told a Montreal newspaper yesterday that the nationalization of the British mining industry is inevitable. That may be so; but the electorate will have to be educated before it reaches a desire to entrust its coal mining business to any Government. Nevertheless the Administration might have saved itself a great deal of trouble had it chosen to discuss the principle of nationalization as recommended by the Sankey Commission.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Bishop Reeve's Rejoinder. (The Canadian Churchman.) Re the epitaph found on the marble slab—the only "headstone ever erected in the cemetery" of Alma, mentioned in your columns of last week, on page 615. I remember hearing one very like it when I was a little boy about eight years old. A gentleman was keeping us in his room by his jokes and anecdotes, and amongst others mentioned this epitaph: "Remember, man, as you pass by. As you are now, so was I, As I am now, so you must be. Therefore prepare to follow me." But some of you wrote underneath: "To follow in you I'm not content. Until I know which way you went."

WHERE IT STARTED

SALUTATIONS. (Copyright, 1920, By The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.) The form of verbal greeting which we now use came from the expression of a wish for good luck to the person addressed, which was believed to ward off the machinations of evil spirits. Salutations by actions—removing the hat, bowing, etc.—were formerly very exactly graded according to the person addressed. Bowing symbolized the submission of an inferior to a superior, touching the hat meant the yielding of goods. Our democracy has lost these meanings.

WHY

IS THE "MARATHON" RACE SO CALLED? (Copyright, 1920, By The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.) The Marathon footrace, revived in the modern Olympic Games held for the first time in Athens in 1896, takes its name from the historic feat of the messenger who ran from Marathon, Greece, to Athens, carrying the news that the Greek forces had vanquished the Persians, in spite of the fact that they had been outnumbered ten to one.

The Greek leader, Miltiades, commanding the small body of men from Athens and the surrounding country and contrived to stage the crucial battle of his campaign at Marathon, and when the Persians, under Datis and Artabanus, were forced to retreat, they left more than 6,000 dead upon the fields. Knowing that Athens was eagerly awaiting the news of the conflict, Miltiades called for a volunteer to carry the glad tidings. A youthful soldier stepped out of the ranks and agreed to run the distance—26 miles, 385 yards, which later became the classic marathon measure. Historians state that the soldier's name was Pheidippides, but nothing has been found to support the tradition that the messenger fell dead at the end of his journey. Haasas Kolehmainen, of Finland, who won the Marathon in this year's Olympic Games, holds the world's record for the event, having covered the distance in 2 hours, 52 minutes, 45 seconds.

Tension Relaxed. London, Oct. 22.—Extreme tension over the coal miners' strike and the threatened walk-out of railroad workers seemed slightly relaxed this morning. Leaders of the National Union of Railwaymen and the Miners' Federation were ready for their conference as to the situation and there appeared to be indications the former would not call a strike until after the Traffic Union Congress meeting next Wednesday. The virtual ultimatum presented by the Government on Thursday by the railwaymen called upon it to begin negotiations with the miners to-day.

CONFERENCE

Informal conferences between Government officials and miners' representatives are going on but those engaged in them are reticent as to subjects discussed. There have been no developments since efforts to find a road to peace were begun, but the public has not given up hope that some way of adjusting the views of the parties may be the result of the conversations between them. This feeling of optimism is considered as responsible for the decision of the House of Commons to defer until Monday consideration of a measure giving the Government wide powers to meet any grave situation that might develop.

RAILWAYS

Government agencies have perfected machinery for carrying on the operation of railways with volunteers should the railwaymen strike. Members of the Transport Workers' Union, especially the drivers of trams and buses, are said to be against striking at present.

INAUGURATE TRAINING
TEEN AGE GIRLS

C. G. T. Conference Now in Session With High Hopes of Satisfactory Results

At a session of the Canadian Girls in Training Conference, held last night at the Metropolitan Church, with the President, Mrs. Bishop in the chair, Miss Ziegler outlined the project, and enrolled 150 girls as leaders. About 250 girls and leaders were present.

Miss Ziegler stated that the C.G.T. movement had grown out of a meeting of leaders of the various churches, who were imbued with the idea that some programme was essential to hold the interest and foster the development of the teen age girls in Sunday schools.

Following an interesting address by Miss Ziegler, the Rev. H. T. Archbold, M.A., of St. James' Church gave an inspiring talk to the teen age girls present, pointing out that character was the true goal of individuality, illustrating his points with a delicate paraphrase of Beauty and the Beast, where Beauty stood for all that was worth while in life, and the Beast the antithesis of the former.

At the close the groups were assigned according to ages, and a leader in charge of each group which consists of eighteen or twenty girls. The ten leaders in charge of groups are: Mrs. Daniels, Miss Garbutt, Miss Kealey, Miss Litter, Mrs. McIntyre, Miss Henderson, Miss Graham, Miss Stewart, Miss DeWolfe and Miss Collingwood.

The conference continues to-day, with group sessions of the girl leaders in the morning, and a demonstration of the fourfold programme in the afternoon. The Y.W.C.A. secretaries have been enlisted in co-operation of the movement, and are assisting with the work of the sessions. Following the business of the afternoon sessions the members of the conference will adjourn to the Y.M.C.A. building, where a banquet is to be held. A strong toast list has been arranged at which most of the girl leaders will speak. H. C. Cross, boys' secretary of the Y.M.C.A., will speak at the banquet.

NAVAL BRIGADE HOLDS PARENTS' MEETING

Attractive Entertainment Provided at Marry Gathering
Last Night

The local division of the Boys' Naval Brigade last night held a "Parents' evening" in the schoolroom of St. John's Church. With George Bushby in the chair, the proceedings went with a swing from the commencement. The boys contributed some popular turns to the evening's entertainment, and gave a very effective display of the nautical practice of "Bends and Hitches."

Mr. Diggon and his "coon" partner, Mr. E. Turner, of the Army and Navy Veterans, and others, made up a programme that left nothing to the imagination and one that was as appreciatively received, as it was attractively presented.

Mr. P. A. Raynor gave a short address on the objects of the gathering and referred in brief to the aims of the Boys' Naval Brigade. The Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick gave a short address, complimenting the boys on their efficient appearance. As a conclusion to the merry entertainment ice cream, in liberal quantities, was supplied to the appreciative gathering.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application of two of sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

Dr. W. J. Sipprell Explains Position Regarding Superintendency of Missions

In explanation of the present situation regarding the office of Superintendent of Home Missions in British Columbia for the Methodist Church, Dr. W. J. Sipprell, who has returned from the East, this morning stated that while the office had been offered to him by the Mission Board, he had not as yet accepted the post, and should he do so, he would not enter upon the duties until next May, and possibly not until May, 1922.

Dr. Sipprell said that while Dr. J. H. White, the present Superintendent in British Columbia, is anxious that a successor should relieve him at as early a date as possible, he was willing to continue to supervise the Mission work in British Columbia until such time as Dr. Sipprell should be able to take over control.

Dr. Sipprell stated that, in view of his recent appointment to the pastorate at the Metropolitan Church, he considered that it was due to the congregation that he continue to serve them for as long a period as was practicable, and as Dr. White was agreeable to continuing to supervise the mission duties for some months at least, he was taking that time before making any definite acceptance of the new post.

Choir Recital—On Thursday evening next the choir of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will give Menzies' Thirteenth Psalm. A miscellaneous programme will also be given, in which the following will take part: Mrs. Jessie Longfield, Miss Mary Purdy, Miss Lilla Robertson, Miss Irene Bick (violinist), Messrs. E. MacKenzie, Harold Hicks, E. R. Locke. Jessie Longfield will be at the organ. Further particulars will be announced.

ATTRACTIVE CRAFTS AT CLUB'S EXHIBIT

Annual Exhibition of Arts and Crafts Club to Open Next Week

Evidence of a renewal of interest in matters pertaining to the arts and handicrafts is conveyed by this year's exhibition of original work under the auspices of the Island Arts and Crafts Club, which is to be held at the Belmont Building from Monday, October 25, to Saturday, October 30. The number of exhibitors in each section is considerably larger than ever before in the history of the club and throughout the work is of the highest standard.

The exceptional activity and reviving interest in the handicrafts finds its reflection in the sections devoted to this branch, which more than fills the two rooms allocated for its display. Hand-weaving, spinning, embroidery, rug-making, metal work, clay and plastics modelling, various forms of needlework, china-painting, repousse work and leather tooling finds expression in the attractive exhibits.

One table is given over to a display of weaving and includes some wonderfully fine silk woven by hand by Mrs. Metro, a Victoria resident whose birthplace was in the Isle of Evia, off Greece, while similar samples of the work of Mrs. Metro's mother are also shown. A sheet woven from fleecy grown in Forfarshire, Scotland, one hundred and forty years ago and still in a wonderful state of color and preservation testifies to the durability of the material, besides which the products of to-day appear of evanescent quality.

Samples of wool in all stages of preparation from the raw wool to the finished garment are shown by Mrs. Dennis Harris, while fascinating rug rugs represent the handiwork of Mrs. G. E. Napier and Miss Hilda Harris. A display of the pillows and paraphernalia of lace-making is being shown by the members of the recently formed Lace Club, together with lovely samples of cobwebby hand-made lace.

Very beautiful copper and brass repousse work, beaten metal work, enamelling on wood, and china-painting occupies a large share of the space, while several striking needlework panels, representing among others the work of Mrs. Napier and Mrs. Hartley, strike the eye. Particularly interesting is the exhibit of beautiful combs and hairpins made of real tortoise-shell by Miss Ailene of Victoria, while Mr. James, of the Provincial Government Bindery, is exhibiting some beautiful leather work and samples of book-binding.

In the arts section the exhibit promises to be unusually large and representative, but owing to the fact that the committee had not yet finished the hanging of the pictures and no catalogue being available, extended reference to this section will not be possible before Monday. The exhibition will be open daily from 12 till 4.30 p.m., and tea will be served each afternoon. It is hoped that the general public will show its appreciation of the enterprise of the club by supporting the exhibition generously.

LIEUT. CLEARIHUE'S LECTURES TO BEGIN HERE NEXT MONDAY

The series of four lectures to be delivered free to the general public by Lieut. J. R. Clearihue, B.A. (McGill), M.M.A., B.C.L. (Oxon), and one of Victoria's Rhodes Scholars, will commence at the G. W. V. A. Club, Fort Street, on Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Clearihue has prepared a series of lectures on economics and political science, which will be delivered in rotation on four consecutive Mondays, and are as follows: 1. Scientific Management, the introduction of which into industry will raise wages, shorten hours, and give greater production. 2. Industrial Fatigue: A scientific method of overcoming the fatigue of the toilers. 3. Industrial Psychology: A study of the psychological influences of industry upon the workman. 4. Co-operation of Labor and Capital: A practical method of uniting the forces of industry and solving the industrial problem.

As the subject is so important to the present industrial situation, the officials of the G. W. V. A. are exceedingly anxious to diffuse this knowledge as widely as possible, and for this reason the auditorium of the G. W. V. A. will be open to the general public, both ladies and gentlemen. To the young patriots who lost valuable years in their building manual, the lectures are an education in themselves, and will partly reimburse them for time lent to the country.

CANADIAN NATIONAL WILL HAVE CENTRAL OFFICE IN VICTORIA

Lease Taken on 911 Government Street and Extensive Alterations Are Planned

In accordance with the plans of the Canadian National Railways a start shortly will be made in outfitting the new offices which will house the local branch of the passenger organization.

An excellent site in the centre of the business district at 911 Government Street has been secured on a long lease and plans have been prepared for the conversion of the ground-floor into offices suitable for the accommodation of the railway and steamship staffs.

The cost of the alterations will be in the neighborhood of $6,000, embracing fittings and fixtures.

Early Next Year. The present tenancy expires at the end of the year and it is expected that the alterations will be undertaken and promptly completed by the beginning of the new year.

The front of the building will be utilized for the passenger offices and another section will be devoted to freight business. A mezzanine floor will accommodate telegraph operators. The headquarters of D. O. Lewis, district engineer, will also be at the new location.

On his recent visit here, D. B. Hanna, chairman of the Board of Directors, Canadian National Railways, emphatically intimated that it was not the intention at the present time to build the proposed new office block at the junction of Port and Government Streets. The offices at 911 Government Street, it is expected, will be able to take care of the business offering for some time to come.

As soon as the new building is ready for occupation the Canadian National organization, now located in the Pemberton Building, and the Grand Trunk Pacific organization, Wharf Street, will be merged and housed in the new central location.

Kirketind, Seattle-built Craft, Ordered Disposed of to Satisfy Creditors

Seattle, Oct. 22.—To satisfy the claims of numerous creditors, including her crew, the motorship Kirketind, one of the four motor schooners designed and built at the plant of the Elliott Bay Shipbuilding Company, two years ago, has been ordered sold here by Federal Judge Jeremiah Netzer. The sale will be by public auction at 11 o'clock on the morning of Thursday, November 4, at the west door of the postoffice building, with United States Marshal J. M. Boyle as auctioneer. No bid less than $150,000 will be accepted.

The Kirketind was launched early in 1919 and her total mileage to date has been a cruise of about five miles when, after loading a cargo of lumber on Lake Union, she went to the West Waterway to take on fuel oil for a trip to South Africa. She was seized by the United States marshal on filing a libel action. That was about ten and one-half months ago, and the Kirketind has been tied up in the harbor ever since.

Imperator and Kaiserin Auguste Victoria Complete Term to Cunard Line

New York, Oct. 22.—(By Canadian Press)—Two former German passenger liners, the Imperator and the Kaiserin Auguste Victoria, are making what may be their last voyages in the service of the Cunard line. The Imperator, next to the Leviathan, the largest ship afloat, and the Kaiserin Auguste Victoria, have been running in the Cunard service for the last year. They were taken over by the latter Allied Maritime Council at Hamburg following the signing of the Armistice. With other ships they were assigned to the British Ministry of Shipping, and then loaned to the United States for the purpose of transporting home troops. When this work was completed they were allocated by Great Britain to the Cunard line for seven round trip voyages.

Officers here of the Cunard line say that the arrival of these two vessels in England on their present trip will end the term of their allocation. The future of both ships is unknown here. Recent reports from London wire that they were included among the seized German vessels to be offered for sale at auction in the near future. Whether the Cunard line will make a bid for them is not known.

TWO MORE LIQUOR CASES FOLLOW RAIDS Evidence Procured After Raiding Party Tussle With Bartender Sgt. Blackstock and Jailer Hall had two cases to report this morning as a result of carefully planned and cleverly executed raid on downtown premises, disguised as laymen with comprehensive thirst. Sgt. Blackstock remained on the street until Jailer Hall had made a find, and then together the officers would clean up the premises in a search that revealed all the "evidence." The first place tackled was the bar, where Jailer Hall secured his evidence for the price of twenty-five cents, and the trouble of asking for it. After the inmates found out that they had sold whisky to a police officer, there was some signs of a fight from the bartender, and the officer made into the street with his "evidence" securely tucked away in a sample bottle provided for that purpose. Sgt. Blackstock and Jailer Hall then re-entered the establishment, and took the names of those implicated. As a result of the first objective case for the prosecution was not prepared paid $300 for the offense of his employees, Mrs. McNiven—fined a like amount. The third party in the case for the prosecution falls to the credit of the police anchorman of tug-of-war fame. During the tussle the "evidence" was knocked out of Jailer Hall's hands, and was lost. A warrant has been issued.

LABOR-MARKET FEELS DEPRESSION Weekly Report of Labor Bureau Shows Large Increase in Unemployment

According to the report of the Victoria Branch of the Employment Service of Canada, for the week ending October 23, the number of unemployed, both men and women, is steadily growing larger in this city. At the same time the reports from points in Northern and Eastern British Columbia show that there are still numerous vacancies which the Employment Service has been unable to fill, this situation also applying to the coal mining districts of Vancouver Island. Superintendent Creech reports that, while placements in the past week have been unusually quiet, the major reason for the rapid growth in unemployment here is due to the influx of men from out of town work which has now ceased, the workers returning to their families already residing here. Large numbers of men from the Pacific Provinces, looking for work to take the funds brought to defray their winter expenses, also depress local labor conditions. While referring to the fact that Dominion, city and railway undertakings all combine to promote the expenditure in Victoria of many millions of dollars in the coming year, Superintendent Creech stated that there is little probability of much of this work being started in time to affect the labor market during the coming winter months. In the women's branch of the service, there was the usual demand for domestic workers, sixteen permanent placements being made, while eighteen women were provided with daily work. There are now many applicants for this type of work, and the Bureau will welcome additional registrations.

"See how it runs" SUBSTITUTE CHARGE AFTER THE ARREST Magistrate Jay Decides Action of Prosecution Not Correct

"If this foolish old man had not lost his money nothing would have been heard of this case," stated Magistrate Jay to-day, in the trial of Lizzie Taylor on a charge of vagrancy. "The unfortunate girl was not arrested on a charge of vagrancy, but for the suspicion of theft, and when it was found that there was not sufficient evidence to convict her the charge of vagrancy was laid. There is no doubt that the girl has been leading an unwise life, but as that is not sufficient to cover the case I dismiss the charge." The above judgment was handed down in police court after a lengthy trial scene in which the prosecution endeavored to support a charge of vagrancy that had been laid against the accused. Detective Inspector Perdue and Detectives Phipps and Siciliano were put in the box in turn, each telling of the circumstances of the case. It appears that William Dunlop, an elderly man, had last night met the accused at the Lodge Cafe and taken her to his room in company with another man whose name he did not know. Some time during the night Dunlop woke up to find the two gone, and later missed a hundred dollar bill that he had tucked away in a tobacco sack in a pocket. Detective Siciliano accompanied the informant to the rooms of the accused, and later entered an open charge against her in the effort to secure a conviction. Magistrate Jay upheld the plea of the defending counsel and told her to find work and to give up the practices of which she had been suspected.

Amateur Tangle Will Be Discussed By B.C.A.A.U.

Important Meeting to Be Held on Tuesday Night; New Secretary to Be Appointed; More Rugby Players Will Be Put on Black List After To-day's Match.

Discussion of the amateur tangle and the appointment of a new secretary will form the chief business of the regular monthly meeting of the local branch of the B. C. A. A. U. which is to be held on Tuesday evening next at 8 o'clock in Room 510, Sayward Building. All representatives are requested to be in attendance as this will be one of the most important meetings the union has held for some time.

The applications for reinstatement of several suspended amateurs are to come up. The most interesting will be one from Vic Gravelin, who was outlawed through playing against his brother, Walter, in a baseball game. Vic handed his application to Arthur Manson, president of the provincial branch of the union, last week and on Saturday proceeded to play in a rugby match with the result that 23 other amateurs were suspended, including Jack Matterson, who had only a week or two previously been re-instated for his participation in the cricketers' professional ball players exhibition game.

More Out To-Day.

Another dozen athletes are liable to suspension by playing in to-day's rugby fixture between the Wanderers and the Old Boys. The Wanderers have in their line-up Penderay, who was suspended for playing against the pro ball players, and who refused to apply for reinstatement. Most of the Old Boys are already "in dutch" with the union. All the Wanderers will now go on the amateur union's black list.

This will mean that forty-five athletes, some of them the most prominent in this city, are not permitted to play in the various sports. The large number to have outlawed in view of the fact that many of them participate in other branches of sport, and are anxious to play in them. The B. C. A. A. U. has no control over the Rugby players, but can stop them from playing in the branches which they do control. If the union is successful in holding up its end it will mean that the outlaws will have to form independent leagues in every branch of sport, which will mean the crippling of every team in this city, and result in very mediocre play and small attendance. The sporting public wants to see the best games the athletes of the city can provide, but with a cleavage in the amateur ranks the games are bound to be affected.

Depend on Hockey.

Everything at present hangs on the decision to be made by the Amateur Ice Hockey Association at its meeting on Tuesday evening. The promoters of the move to oust the B. C. A. A. U. are hoping that the puck-chasers will secede from the union. Quite a number of the prominent hockey players, however, have announced that they will not sacrifice their amateur standing. They do not believe that it is necessary for them to go on the outlaw list when the object of having the amateur rules changed can be achieved just as well while they are still in the union.

Was Once Peer of First-Basemen Now Faces Very Serious Charge

HAL CHASE

Way back in the early years of this century this great player tore about on the old diamond at Oak Bay. He came up from California and played ball here with the famous Amity nine. Chase gradually worked his way up to the big leagues and was a sensation at the first crack. His speed in covering and taking lows high and low was marvelous. When he played with the Yankees New York went wild over him. A season or two back he was suddenly dropped by the club and the fans wondered. Now the secret is out. Chase's wonderful record as a ball-player will be blotted out by the revelations of the grand jury.

Testimony Shows Chase Was One of Ring-Leaders

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Indictments against thirteen persons believed to have been implicated in the "throwing" of games in the 1919 world's series by Chicago American League players returned yesterday by the special Cook County grand jury which has been investigating the baseball scandal for more than a month. Further indictments are expected when the jury convenes again next week, state officials declared.

The Charge.

All of the indictments charge conspiracy to commit an illegal act, a crime for which a penitentiary sentence can be given under the laws of Illinois.

Chase and Burns, former major league players, and Attel, once the featherweight boxing champion of the world, have been accused by witnesses of being three of the clique which "framed" the world series and arranged to bribe Chicago White Sox players for sums said to range from $2,000 to $10,000 to try to lose games in the contests for the world baseball championship.

According to testimony "at least several hundred thousand dollars was bet and won on the world series. Chase was the first man to suggest "throwing" the series, it was said, and called in the others to help him. Harry Long, a Chicagoan, told the jury he alone placed $27,000 in bets on Cincinnati for "Sport" Sullivan, of Boston, and testimony has been received concerning many other large bets, it was said.

It All Points To Chase.

Officials of the state's attorney's office yesterday revealed sufficient of the jury proceedings to show that testimony has been given that Chase, who was expelled from the major leagues and barred from league parks in the West for alleged gambling, was one of the chief instigators of the game selling.

The jury was said to have received more testimony concerning Chase than any of the others. President Heydler, of the National League; Garry Herrmann, owner of the Cincinnati Reds; Manager John McGraw, President Stoneham, Fred Tomey and Benny Kauff of the New York Giants; and others, testified concerning the man who during his

Carpentier Has Fifteen Ways of Getting His Man

Tom Webster, Famous English Authority, Gives Reason Why Carpentier Left Himself Open In Levinsky Fight; Georges Says He Boxes a Fighter and Fight a Boxer.

New York, Oct. 23.—And now of Monsor Carpentier and Mister Levinsky, the post mortem! What of Georges and why of Bat. Did the fight bring forth the wonder man in all his purple and spangles? There was one man who watched that fight the other night and he chuckled softly to himself when some of the very wisest across around the ring threw their hands to the high heavens when they saw Carpentier leave what they believed to be openings as wide as the entrance to Central Park. That man was one of the keenest students of boxing in the Old World. Tom Webster, the English sports cartoonist of London Daily Mail, he was, and he chuckled because as he said:

TENNIS CHAMPION TO PLAY IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver, Oct. 23.—Four of the world's greatest lawn tennis players will be in Vancouver on November 10, when the C. S. Davis cup team arrive here to sail for Australia for the challenge round of the trophy competition. Arrangements are now being made by the Vancouver Tennis Club to entertain these players while in the city and matches will be played against four of the leading city players. "It amused me when I heard some of my American cousins guffawing over Carpentier's supposedly over-the-hill style when down in my heart I knew that they were seeing Carpentier in only ONE of his FIFTEEN styles of fighting."

Misled By His Tongue.

"The man is unfathomable. I tell you candidly, old man, he is practically unbeatable. He fights no two men alike. He knows instinctively the fighting habits of the man in front of him, for instance, when he faced opponent quicker than Georges Carpentier, I noticed that you mentioned the fact that he fight with his tongue stuck out through his parted lips."

"I was one of the few English sportsmen who was allowed to see Carpentier fight for Beckett. I had met him in Paris, in fact, I lived at his training quarters while he was preparing for Smith, the man he whipped on his return to the ring after the war. I noticed his tongue and some of my friends advised that Beckett would chop it off entirely with one of his punches. Georges persisted in letting it protrude."

The Different Way.

"But Joe didn't chop it off. My word for it, if he had, he would have hit any part of Carpentier, let alone the vicinity of his tongue. He fought Beckett quite differently than he did with the man who was so quick to let it fly with a right that came right off the hip. Beckett he fought as he did Gumbert Smith, carefully, covered and safe as a crab."

"I have not seen Dempsey fight. He must be a great man, but he will meet a great man, a brilliant fighter, in Carpentier, the back Carpentier, no matter what the price. Don't believe that you saw all of Carpentier. He was simply boxing one-fifteenth part of himself. If he fights Dempsey remember what I have said. He will adopt one of his fifteen styles of fighting and Dempsey will be the most surprised man in the world."

Works Over His Man.

"Jack," he said to me. "I take every fighting man as a new problem, just as a chess player does each and every game he plays. I work furiously, but I work sanely to find what the other fellow has. Many of my felicitous, all of my misadventures, are deliberate that I may find what this fellow in front of me has in the way of following up an advantage. The sooner I find out the sooner I know what I must do."

"My fight always depends upon what the other fellow has or hasn't got. He may be a fighter of combined cleverness and hitting power. He must be fought along a certain line. The best way is the effective way. If he is unusually clever, then all the plans change. I have no set scheme, but I am the first man in the building to discover the fact if the other fellow has in his hand, it is a narrow road to this. I fight a boxer and I box a fighter."

FAMOUS SELKIRK TEAM RECEIVES DEATH BLOW

Winnipeg, Oct. 23.—The Selkirk hockey team is practically out of existence for the time being. It received its death-blow when Joe Simpson, individual star of the greatest players in the game, boarded the train for Edmonton, there to line-up in the Eskimo defence with Hal Winkler, who has shifted from Moose Jaw. Ernie Anderson, the Selkirk forward, accompanied Joe. He also will don Eskimo colors. Depleted of so many stars, the Selkirk team is a mere shadow of its former self, and a rumor implicates certain others of the Fish-town aggregation with intentions of Western travel. It is scarcely likely that the club will be able to participate in local senior hockey during the coming season.

What the Experts Say

With many vulcanisers the peel pack method is employed with great success. It is economical because it saves the use of new tread stock.

The first step in making a repair of this kind is to cut across the tire through the centre of the blow out, then strip back the tread with the breaker strip for a sufficient distance on either side so as not to interfere with putting in the new section.

Byron Aldern as the young politician who is above bribery and corruption; instead his brilliant dominant personality into full play and sweeps the dark shadows of vice and hypocrisy out of his path with all the fearless daring of youth full of high ideals.

The Powers That Be will continue to-day with the usual Saturday matinee.

An amusing incident took place on the "set" when Sir James M. Barrie's "Half an Hour," the Paramount production starring Dorothy Dalton, which is now at the Dominion Theatre, was filmed at the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation studios in New York.

Director Knolke next week to find out a way to offset the expense and suggested that she collect a dollar from each of her admirers and that he—less than a week she'd have enough to cover her outlay.

A pretty little seventeen-year-old actress makes her screen debut supporting Charles Ray in "Red Hot Dollars," his latest Thomas H. Ince production at the Princess Theatre, Monday and Tuesday of next week.

Miss George was born in Maine of a theatrical family and made her first stage appearance at the age of three. She played in Winthrop Ames' Broadway production, "The Betrothal," and has appeared as "Suzette" in "The Better Ole" throughout the United States.

"Red Hot Dollars" presents Charles Ray as a youthful machinist and is said to be a thoroughly entertaining picture. It is a Paramount-Artcraft, directed by Jerome Storm.

Over the plains of Arizona, sometimes called the desert by native sons—there wended a wagon and automobile train recently, consisting of ninety-six horses pulling great lumbering wagons, fifty-six pack horses and twenty automobiles.

It was not an army marching upon Mexico, but Douglas Fairbanks and his company moving 100 miles inland where they could shoot some wild and out-of-the-ordinary scenes in his next "Big Four" picture, "The Mollycoddle," which will be shown at the Variety Theatre to-day for the last time.

The people who attended his first recital in Scottish Rite Hall Thursday night—and there were so many of them that the place would hold no more—went there in the spirit of the man from Missouri; they wanted to be "shown." The young Russian transformed their attitude from incredulity into belief.

The recital began with the C major prelude from the first book of the Well-Tempered Clavichord, the one which Reimann calls Olympian. It revealed the player as an artist who creates beauty in his own image. At first the tone rose and fell in waves; then came a long crescendo. It was a conceit original with Moiseiwitsch and the god Demos nodded approval.

In the "Appassionata" the pianist dared to be young. He was venturing his impressionable nature in a realm where the most mature move with trepidation; but he trod with confidence and gave us a revelation of Beethoven that reminded me of Milton's "Such dreams as youthful poets dream On summer eve by haunted stream."

There were occasional harshnesses of movement when I felt that the music will mean more to the artist with the lapse of years; but the Andante had a noble gravity and the latter part of the work, when the composer takes fire, pulsated with eager emotion. There were occasional harshnesses of diction and that phrase which sighs like a refrain had more exasperation than one is accustomed to listen for. But the reading was Moiseiwitsch's own. It was a personal inspiration and, though I would be loath to call it the artist's final word on the subject, I think that the most rooted devotees of tradition will admit its sincerity.

In the Schumann "Carnaval," Moiseiwitsch put himself in the position of Schumann, the poet and lover. There were moments of pure lyric ecstasy and the well remembered strains vibrated like a new telling of an old and beautiful story.

In the Stravinsky Etude in F sharp the pianist enjoyed himself among the pungent dissonances as if he were Pickwick's fat boy trying to make your flesh creep. And there was a bird song of Palmgren in which he showed extraordinary virtuosity in the contrasting of shades of tone. This number he had to repeat.

The Chopin numbers appealed to me less. But I am inclined to think that that was because the programme was a trifle too long.

One thing is sure. Benno Moiseiwitsch is an artist not merely with the finger tips, but with heart and brain. He will be with us again on Sunday week.

"CAMOUFLAGE" HERE MONDAY AND TUESDAY
To those who have not heard them before it might be necessary to explain that Evans and Birch are two of the most entertaining of the various entertainment corps in France.

All the returned men who have heard Evans and Birch of the fourth division theatrical party since "All Dotted U's" will know where to go Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 25 and 26.

The piece has been re-written by Capt. Plunkett, who has given it a lavish production, and its dress "Camouflage" promises to be the biggest sensation of the year in Canadian theatrics.

"The Maple Leafs" will be the attraction at the Royal Victoria Theatre, Monday and Tuesday next.

HUMORESQUE HEAR ALL NEXT WEEK
Fannie Hurst's greatest story, "Humoresque," will be adapted to the screen and will be shown at the Dominion Theatre all next week. It is a tale of youthful genius and mother-love with the scene laid chiefly in New York's Manhattan.

Miss Hurst is well-known, is right at home in portraying with a realistic touch the characters of New York's habitués, and "Humoresque" is said to contain intense heart-appeal. Humor and pathos are deftly mingled in the picture.

"Humoresque" has been hailed everywhere as one of the greatest photoplays of the year. And Victoria theatre goers who visit the Dominion next week can be assured of seeing something remarkable in photoplay production.

MAGNIFICENT CAST IN "CHU CHIN CHOW" COMING TO VICTORIA
More gorgeous in detail, more elaborate in settings than any other American production, "Chu Chin Chow," the famous Oscar Asche musical extravaganza of the Orient, comes to the Royal Victoria Theatre, Tuesday, November 2 for five days showing, with the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinee.

Owing to the enormous size of the production it will be impossible to get ready for the Monday opening as first announced.

In color and detail and richness of dress which total 200,000, without an equal on the stage, and there is every indication from the great advance demands for seats that "Chu Chin Chow" will exceed all local records.

Thirteen scenes are included in the three acts, ranging from the scenes of the great feast of Kasim Baba to the cave of the forty thieves, and the moonlight orchards to the blue hall revel, with ballets and music, and concurrent action generously intermingled. The slave mart scene, the ballet in the Blue Hall, together with the dance of the cave spirits amid the jewels and wealth of the robbers' band, are said to be wonderfully colorful; and an unusual characteristic scheme of settings are found in the closed scenes which front the heavier backgrounds and allow the introduction of many pleasing musical numbers by the cast and company which total 200.

The cast includes Majorie Wood, Henry Latimer, Eugene Cowles, Don W. Ferrandou, Roy Cropper, Elsie Malstad, Adelaide Mesmer, Alfred Lawson, Marie Compton, Edgar Kiefer and many others, including a ballet of sixty. In announcing the engagement of their production, F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest explained that owing to the lack of proper stage room this attraction will not play in Vancouver. This will be the only time in history that a company of this size has ever been offered to local theatregoers, and positively the only engagement of "Chu Chin Chow" in Victoria.

WINS RUMANIAN MEDAL

Esquimaux Hospital Singled Out For Honor Because of Paschendale Heroism.

Sergt. Alfred Anthony, who came here from Portland, Ore., to enlist, went overseas in February, 1916, with the Royal Canadian Regiment, and is now a patient in the Esquimaux Military Hospital, has just been awarded the Order of the Crown of Rumania, Medaille Barbetie si Credentia, for conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Paschendale, when an urgent call came for ammunition from an advance post in a part of the front line hard-pressed by the enemy and the path to which was under the most extremely heavy shelling.

Impossible for anyone to live through the barrage," says the official statement with the medal. "Pte. Anthony volunteered for this most dangerous work and succeeded in passing twice through the barrage carrying ammunition to the post, thus saving the entire situation in that sector of the line. Throughout more than two years in the campaign this man has displayed sterling qualities of fidelity to duty."

It seems fitting to introduce the business books recently catalogued in the Public Library, by a group dealing with office organization. An office is more than a room which houses the operatives, or the framework or system which ties the parts together," says Lee Galloway, in his "Office Management." "When we speak of an office, we should think of a living organization." From the office, all activities must function smoothly, with speed, accuracy and dependability. "Specialization is only one-half the cause of modern industrial development. Co-ordination is the other half. A modern highly specialized business enterprise would be as helpless as a jellyfish, if it did not have its specialized activities controlled and co-ordinated by a highly developed office." Having thus emphasized the important position of the office in modern business, the author proceeds to deal with the basic principles of office administration.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $5.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup. To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex in a 16-oz. bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make 16 ounces—more than you can buy ready-made for $2.50. It is pure, good and pleasant—children like it. You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—infamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness or any ordinary throat ailment. Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt relief of colds. Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. "Commercial Letters," J. B. Opydyke and C. A. Drew, Toronto, Ont.

tration in its widest sense. The book deals primarily with the organization, equipment, and various activities of the office, but gives special consideration to the employment, training, and payment of office workers.

"Office Organization and Management" is the title of a volume with a somewhat similar scope, by L. P. Dicksee and H. E. Blair. The object of the book is to provide business men with a practical handbook of information upon matters ordinarily arising in the management and general conduct of office work in connection with business transactions both large and small. It aims to point out directions in which the new methods may be found of advantage, and to suggest a systematic organization of every detail of office work.

Efficiency. Another volume of special interest to the office worker, to those whose daily tasks are the execution of the thoughts and orders of business men, is "The Efficient Secretary," by E. I. Spencer. The author endeavors to give practical suggestions, information and help to secretarial workers in all branches of their work.

One branch of secretarial work, typewriting, is considered in Rupert Sothelle's "Office Training for Stenographers," which contains a series of exercise blanks, valuable in beginning work in this branch. "High Speed in Typewriting" by A. M. Kennedy and F. Jarrett is a series of advanced lessons for the development of expertness in the operation of the standard keyboard typewriter.

A book which is in no sense technical, but which aims to explain a simple and most practical manner, is Vincent Collinge's "Card Index System." The suggestions which this book contains will enable the business man to appreciate the possibilities of the card index, and a multitude of useful hints are given for those who use it. "Indexing and Filing," by E. R. Hudders is a manual of standard practice in the same field.

A subject to which scientific attention has only recently been directed, is discussed in "Business Statistics" by M. T. Copeland. The use of statistics is not confined to large corporations, therefore the articles in this book have been collected with a view to illustrating the uses of these various kinds of statistics, and the methods of their collection and presentation in both large and small businesses.

Aid To Statistics.

A readable and useful book for anyone dealing with complex facts of business or government is Willard Brinton's "Graphic Methods for Presenting Facts." A definite effort has been made to produce a work which can serve as a handbook for anyone who may have occasional charts to prepare for reports, magazine illustration, or for advertising. Facts do not speak for themselves, they require assistance. "As the cathedral is its foundation, so an effective presentation of facts to the data." A. L. Bowley's "Elementary Manual of Statistics" is another volume for those who desire a knowledge of statistical methods and results without going deeply into technicalities or undertaking mathematical analysis.

"Man, money, and message—character, coin, and correspondence—these are the prominent points in the triangle of business. Whether it be a big business or a little business, man is in command, money is the ammunition, and message the necessary action." Nine-tenths of the work of business is performed by letters, and much attention is being given to the efficient writing of these. "Effective Business Letters" by E. H. Gardner gives specific directions for the various types of letters commonly used in business. There is a strong demand for subordinates who can write letters independently, thereby relieving the employer of the burden of dictation. This book will be very useful for subordinates who desire the necessary training to do this. It should appeal also to the business man who wants his letters to be effective.

Letters of Value.

Another practical book is Dwyer's "Business Letter." Its purpose is to develop the ability to write letters that have life and personality, that the free form meaningless formalities and that will draw trade. Two other books which present good examples of the principle types of business letters, and give lessons in the writing of same, are Opydyke and Drew's "Commercial Letters," and Warner's "Business Letter Writing and Follow-up Systems."

"How to become a Private Secretary" by Robert Rose is a book for the ambitious shorthand student, who would grow into larger things. "Graham's Business Shorthand," as simplified by C. Sexton, will be found useful by those who are seeking quicker and more efficient methods.

BOYS AND GIRLS PRIZE COLORING COMPETITION

This contest has been running now for six weeks. Hundreds of children have been sending in the colored entries, and every week sixteen of those children are getting money prizes. But there are still many school children in the Province who do not realize that they can actually win some real money to help out with their Christmas gifts, or buy books or anything else they desire. This is a genuine competition, and the simple rules governing it are given below. Right now, there are Numbers 5, 6 and 7 of the pictures on which you can still compete, and six more to come. If you only received one of the smallest prizes given each week, it would mean several dollars before the end of the competition.

A Chance for Every Child

Each week prizes will be given as follows: First, $5.00; second, $3.50; third, $3.00; fourth, $1.50; fifth and sixth, $1.00 each. No child can win the first or second prizes more than twice during the competition, but after winning two of the major prizes they can compete for the $1.00 prizes. Every child has a chance to win some prize every week. See the names of the winners of the third picture at the right. Picture No. 4 will be judged next week and winners announced. This week's picture, No. 7, will be judged and prizes awarded four weeks from to-day, so you have plenty of time to do the coloring. Do not delay, but start in to-day. Age is taken into consideration in making the awards.

Mothers and Fathers

Here is an opportunity to have your children color pictures that have the zest of competition in them. Urge them to try it.

Teachers

Put on an extra coloring lesson each week, and have your pupils use the pictures of this contest which have already been judged, as the basis of these lessons. Pictures Nos. 1 and 2, which appeared on September 11 and September 18, and also picture No. 3 of September 25, prize winners for which are given here, can be used. Stimulate the desire of these children for coloring. Have them strive for the prizes. Pupils must not be helped in the coloring of the pictures to be entered in the competition, but we suggest that you use the pictures already judged for them to practice on.

Nervous Breakdown

"I am so nervous it seems as though I should fly"—"My nerves are all on edge"—"I wish I were dead." How often have we heard these expressions or others quite as extravagant from some loved one who has been brought to this state by some female trouble which has slowly developed until the nerves can no longer stand up under it. No woman should allow herself to drift into this condition without giving that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

Read the Letters of These Two Women.

North East, Md.—"I was in ill health four or five years and doctored with one doctor after another but none helped me. I was irregular and had such terrible pain in my back, lower part of my body and down each side that I had to go to bed three or four days every month. I was very nervous, tired, could not sleep and could not eat without getting sick. A friend asked me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am sorry I did not take it sooner for it has helped me wonderfully. I don't have to go to bed with the pain, can eat without being sick and have more strength. I recommend your medicine and you are at liberty to publish my testimonial."—ELIZABETH WEAVER, R. R. 2, North East, Md.

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was run down and nervous, could not rest at night and was more tired in the morning than when I went to bed. I have two children, the youngest three months old and it was drudgery to care for them as I felt so irritable and generally worn out. From lack of rest and appetite my baby did not get enough nourishment from my milk so I started to give him two bottle feedings a day. After taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman, full of life and energy. It is a pleasure to care for my children, and I am very happy with them and feel fine. I nurse my baby exclusively again, and can't say too much for your medicine."—Mrs. A. L. MILLER, 2833 E. 24th St., Minneapolis, Minn.

(7) THE TALE OF THE SEVEN WHITE SWANS
So, while Elsie worshipped the King for his loving kindness, she remained dumb out of loyalty to the task she was still pursuing to deliver her dear brothers from the spell of the bad Queen. Every night she stole away from the King's side to work on the shirts of nettle yarn; but when she had completed the fifth she found to her dismay that there was no more material available. Then she remembered that in a churchyard nearby there were many nettles growing; so she determined to secure enough to carry out her work. At midnight she stole from the castle and went in the direction of the graveyard. There she saw some disgusting witches, who frightened her, but she kept bravely on and gathered the nettles. Only one human being had seen her, and that was the Archbishop, who was taking a late walk. He at once came to the conclusion that Elsie must be in league with the witches, so he went and told the King.

"You know my father had a nervous breakdown when he was my age."

"AND what has that to do with you?" "Well, I have been worried a lot lately, and feel that my nerves are playing out. Besides, I believe that nervous troubles are hereditary, and I guess I am doomed."

"Now, old man, the sooner you get rid of that idea the better. You may inherit a nervous temperament, but not disease of the nerves. It is up to you to take care of yourself, and not allow your nervous system to become exhausted."

"But I am afraid it is too late, so far as I am concerned. My nerves are all shot to pieces. I am restless and fidgety, cannot sleep at night. Everything seems to worry me, and I cannot stand it much longer."

"Why don't you go away for a while and take a good rest?"

"Simply because I cannot. My business requires my constant attention."

"Then I will tell you what to do. Go to your druggist and buy a dozen boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I will guarantee that by the time you have used it you will feel like an entirely different man."

"Oh, I have been taking medicine enough from my doctor, and what good has it done me? Perhaps I have had a night's rest occasionally as a result, but certainly no permanent benefit."

"That is just the point. You have sought relief by deadening the nerves instead of restoring them. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food works on an entirely different principle. It forms new, rich blood, and nourishes the depleted nerve cells back to health and vigor."

"That sounds good to me."

"Because the Nerve Food works in this natural way you cannot expect much change after the first box or two. It takes a little time to build up an exhausted nervous system, but if you have a little patience the results will make it worth your while."

"I will follow your advice, for I have been terribly oppressed of late by the hopeless outlook. I know you would not recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food unless you felt sure it would restore my health, so I shall do my part and give it a thorough trial."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50c a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto. Refuse substitutes, and look for portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., on the box you buy.

PROMPT ACTION PREVENTS DAMAGE

Fire Department Praised For Efficient Work in Fire at Fairfield Hotel

Illustrating the fact that a little appreciation for good work done is not considered ill-timed, the boys of the fire department show with a pride a letter of appreciation from a prominent real estate dealer, who wrote to compliment the city's fire fighting force after the recent outbreak in the Fairfield Building. The fire broke out in the Fairfield Hotel on Friday, getting its start in the basement of the building. Owing to the promptitude and success of the efforts of the fire department, the damage was confined to a few dollars' worth of decorations in the cellar portion of the building. The grateful estate agent signed his approval of the efforts of the fire fighters in a very warm letter of thanks, backed up by a more practical form of appreciation.

MOOSE JAW HEARS LIBERAL LEADER

Moose Jaw, Sask., Oct. 22.—Before an audience of 1,300 people who braved a heavy rain driven before a thirty-mile northwest wind, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal Leader, made an eloquent appeal to the progressive groups in Canada, and particularly in the West to unite and fight "the common enemy." Mr. King declared that the so-called National Liberal and Conservative Party which is in power at Ottawa was not a representative Government but a Government dominated by the big interests and autocratic in everything which it attempted. He declared that proof of its autocracy lay in the fact that it proposed to hold its seat in office by the same game which history showed all autocrats used to hold power. Germany had struck her blow when she believed the forces against her were divided and she would have been victorious had the Allies not been successful in uniting. The policy of the National Liberal and Conservative party was that of the autocrats because it aimed to keep the forces of the progressive elements divided. He declared he wished to make this point clear to the friends of progress in the West, that he had come to the West to say to the farmers and workers, "let you and me fight the common enemy."

GREEK KING IN GRAVE CONDITION

Athens, Oct. 22.—The condition of King Alexander continues most grave, according to a statement from the Royal sick chamber this morning. His Majesty, it was stated, was frequently delirious.

Dr. Vidal. Paris, Oct. 22.—Dr. Georges Fernand Vidal, a noted French specialist, has returned here from Athens, where he attended King Alexander. It is understood he treated the King with injections of serum prepared from the wound itself.

The morgue wife of the King, known as Mademoiselle Manos, who was a trained nurse, remains at the King's bedside night and day, fighting for his life with all the skill and experience she gained during the war.

Venezolas. Premier Venezolas has gone to Keppels, near the royal country house at Tatol, where the King is staying, to be in closer touch with the situation.

LIQUOR IMPORTATION VOTES IN FOUR OF PROVINCES MONDAY

public interest with the visit of Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal Leader, who will be in the city on Monday.

One week ago no person could be found who would venture the opinion that the wets had even a fighting chance. The British Columbia result though a different issue was at stake in the coast province, has changed that. The wets have taken heart and many are claiming a victory now. Straw votes taken in the Parliament buildings and City Hall show an almost equal division of opinion with the wets having a slight edge on the drought defenders.

Newspaper advertisements have been used extensively in the campaign in the interests of prohibition. On the other hand, the wet forces, if there are any, have not attempted any open campaigning.

Manitoba. Winnipeg, Oct. 22.—(Canadian Press)—After a campaign unmarked by any sensational feature, men and women of Manitoba will go to the polls Monday to decide one aspect of the liquor question—whether or not importation from other provinces is to be continued.

Advertising issued by the no-importation advocates have claimed that a "dry" vote on Monday will permit Manitoba to be master in her own house of the whole situation, with the privilege of making such provisions for handling the sale of intoxicating liquor as the people demand. A full page advertisement to-day signed by "the Moderation League of Manitoba" declares the issue is more restricted. "You vote solely," it is declared, "as to whether or not you will order wines and spirits from Kenora or buy them in twelve-ounce containers for medicinal purposes on doctors' prescriptions here."

Few public meetings have been held. The "drys" assert that they are confident of victory. Nova Scotia, Alberta and Saskatchewan will vote on the same question Monday.

SERVICES IN THE CITY CHURCHES

LOCAL UNITARIANS AT BELLINGHAM

Four Delegates From This City Attend Recent Conference

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Green, J. W. Bolden and F. R. Reed were the delegates from the First Unitarian Church at the meeting this week in Bellingham of the northern section of the Pacific Coast conference. The day's programme included devotional and business meetings and a reception at the home of the local pastor of the Unitarian Rev. N. A. Baker, in the late afternoon, followed by a largely attended meeting in the evening at which Rev. W. G. Elliott, of Portland, delivered the conference sermon upon "The Sovereignty of God."

Professor E. A. Starr, of Seattle, was the presiding officer at the meetings. This conference was one part of the Pacific Coast Conference of Unitarians, which meets collectively once in three years at San Francisco. On the other years the conference meets in various sections one of which includes the churches in Washington, Oregon and British Columbia.

Mr. Elliott's address. The service at the Unitarian chapel on the corner of Forest and Cedar streets, was most impressive. The sermon by Mr. Elliott was a discussion for the need of the world for a conception of sovereignty which assumed on the part of men that they were moral beings in a moral universe and that God's government was not as that of an omnipotent power over men, but that of a moral governor over moral beings who might do wrong, but were ever bound to achieve by discovering righteousness and learning to seek it.

The programme. At 12.30 the men attending the conference, lunched at the Columbia grill and the women at the Pheasant Terrace.

In the afternoon there was an address by Rev. John C. Perkins, of Seattle University church on "The Church's Worthy Task" and an address by Rev. N. A. Baker, of Bellingham, on "The Pilgrims." Miss Catherine Montgomery, of this city, addressed the conference on "The Religious Education of the Child."

At 6 p.m. the local Unitarians tendered the visiting delegates a banquet at the Hotel Leopold at which there was an impromptu after dinner programme. The evening programme was in the nature of a platform meeting upon the Laymen's cause and the Unitarian campaign was being organized by the league for the purpose of raising a three million dollar fund. Addresses were given by J. W. Bolden, of Victoria; W. T. Church, of Vancouver; J. E. Horton, of Seattle, and F. E. Eddy, of Bellingham. Miss Green took part in the Women's Alliance sessions.

S. D. Schofield, Bishop of Columbia, is expected to return to Victoria in the course of next week. The Bishop will preach in Christ Church Cathedral on Sunday week, October 31, at both morning and evening services.

FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

Referring to the proposed union of the Presbyterian, Congregational and Methodist Churches in Australia, the Rev. Harold Wheeler, of Sydney, general secretary of the Methodist young people's department, states that if the union were brought about, it would solve an almost universal difficulty experienced by each of the denominations caused by the shortage of buildings for work amongst young people. Between the three churches there should be ample accommodation in most centres.

Dean Quainton at Cathedral.—The Dean of Columbia will preach at the 11 o'clock service to-morrow morning in Christ Church Cathedral on the report of the Lambeth Conference dealing with a subject of fresh importance in the light of post-war problems, namely "Missions," which has been taken up by the official bodies associated with the churches in an indication of the attitude which is being adopted toward the movement. I should say that a large majority ought to be necessary in the final question regarding union. This will be submitted to the people when the adjustments regarding

PROGRESS WITH CHURCH UNION IN AUSTRALIA

Dr. Adam Working in Endeavor to Bring Three Free Churches Together

The Rev. D. S. Adam, M.A.B.D. (professor of church history and systematic theology at Ormond College, Melbourne University), is touring in Australia in connection with the movement for the union of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational Churches. Professor Adam is convener of the joint central committee on church union. This committee of 120 representatives of the three denominations from all States in Australia. It has agreed upon a basis of union as regards doctrine and policy, and this has been submitted to the Supreme Courts or councils of the churches concerned, but adopted by all of them as one which an amalgamation may be consummated. Dr. Adam has had important experience in the matter of church union as he was a member of committee which drew up the basis that brought about the alliance of the Free and United Presbyterian Churches of Scotland in 1908. Seven years later he came to Australia, and he has been one of the intellectual forces behind the union movement. He will remain in South Australia until next Friday. He conducted services at Kent Town Methodist and Chalmers Churches on Sunday, and the next few days will be devoted to meetings in connection with the church union proposal. Then he will proceed to Ballarat, and subsequently Tasmania, for the same purpose.

The Minor Tribunals. The basis of union for the Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational churches was referred by the Supreme Courts or councils to the minor tribunals—the state assemblies and presbyteries of the Presbyterian Church, the annual conferences, quarterly meetings, and Synods of the Methodist Church, and the State councils of the Congregational Church. It was approved as a basis on which union might be effected by the State assemblies and annual conferences, by a large majority of the Synod and quarterly meetings, and by all the State councils of the Congregational Church, except Western Australia. The question, "Do you approve of union on the proposed basis of doctrine and polity" is now being referred to the congregations and adherents of the churches. Of a large number of suggested amendments, submitted from all quarters, the most favorable change in the doctrinal standard or formula could not be affected for a good many years, as there is such a tremendous adjustment of details to be made.

In the Presbyterian Church it will be necessary to secure a three-fifths majority of the presbyteries and those taking part in the final vote in the Assembly. Before any change in the doctrinal standard or formula can be adopted, it will largely depend upon the people themselves whether union shall be effected, and the action which has been taken by the official bodies associated with the churches is an indication of the attitude which is being adopted toward the movement. I should say that a large majority ought to be necessary in the final question regarding union. This will be submitted to the people when the adjustments regarding finance and property have been made. Some are under the impression that the vote they will give before September 1 will decide the whole question; but that is not so. Scarcely that the official bodies controlling the denominations have given the members and adherents an opportunity to vote on the question of doctrine and polity; it is hardly likely that the practical matters of finance and the really business side of the whole scheme will not be referred to them for a further vote on the whole subject."

Work of Bishop Rowe to Be Marked By Fund. "On November 30, the twenty-fifth anniversary of the consecration of Bishop Peter Trimble Rowe as the first bishop of Alaska, who recently visited Victoria, it has been decided to hold a public gathering at Jeneau at which the bishop will be present, and the national committee has decided that the most appropriate memorial to the bishop would be the establishment of the "Bishop Rowe Foundation Fund for $100,000." The annual income from which would be used by the bishop toward the equipment and maintenance of his work in Alaska, this fund to be raised among the friends and admirers of the bishop in the parishes in the states and in Alaska; the fund to be presented on the occasion of the anniversary," says a letter which Governor Riggs has sent out, asking for subscriptions. Bishop Rowe's long service in Alaska was described as follows:

"The work of Bishop Rowe during the past twenty-five years—of which half of everyone in Alaska who he might help in any way, his journeys by dog team and small boat even before the present routes were established, his providing of hospitals and schools, club rooms and churches and his example of splendid Christian manhood—altogether makes up such a unique record of pioneer service in the history of our territory that the church at large in the United States represented by a national organization (the) has decided that such an anniversary ought to be observed in some special way, both in honor of Bishop Rowe and as an inspiration to us all; and we believe that the people in Alaska will heartily respond to the idea.

"Besides building schools and churches at thirty different points in Alaska, hospitals were erected and maintained by the bishop at Skagway, Valdez and Fairbanks; and for many years these places did heroic work for many who rushed to the country; and but for these houses of mercy many would have had no medical or surgical attention in sickness or accident.

Concert and Pageant.—Members of the Sunday School of the First Presbyterian Church will hold a concert in the church schoolroom on Tuesday next at 8 p.m. A first class programme has been arranged, including songs, duets, elocution, instrumental members, a special feature in the programme will be a pageant, in which a number of schools will take part.

INTERESTING DEBATE AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Wednesday night proved a great success for the Young People's Department at the First Presbyterian Church, there being over eighty people present. The meeting opened after which Mr. Hoyle spoke briefly, taking as a subject, "Wisdom."

The main feature of the evening was a debate, in order that the true spirit of the noble art of debating, here was the task of finding a subject, speakers and appointing judges. Mr. J. Keenan spoke first for the affirmative and cited several instances as to where countries had improved their commercial standing through competition. Miss D. Aird then spoke for the negative and was followed by Miss D. Fraser. Mr. R. Lipsey then endeavored to confound his opponents by presenting some good arguments of his own, but did not succeed, as the judges awarded the palm to Mr. Keenan and his able partner, Miss Fraser.

As next week is hallowe'en, the department has decided to have a great hallowe'en social on Wednesday night. The full responsibility of the refreshments and entertainment rests on the capable shoulders of Miss Bessie Harkness, convener of the social committee. THE EXCHANGE RATE II. What Controls It?

THIS series, published each week, is intended to remove misunderstandings as to the cause of fluctuation in the exchange value of our dollar in other countries. When the demand for any commodity is greater than the supply, the price of that article is sure to rise. A foreign dollar is a commodity in Canada, that is something to be bought or sold and not current money, and similarly the Canadian dollar is a commodity in a foreign country and not current money there.

THE CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE Capital Paid up $15,000,000 Reserve Fund $15,000,000 This series, when completed, will be published in pamphlet form. If you desire a copy, write to our Head Office, Toronto. 537R

TO BUILD HOME FOR GARDENERS Senator Barnard this week had contractors start the erection of a large double garage and a cottage garden house for the staff who look after the Senator's gardens at his Rockland Avenue residence. The double garage will cost $1,200. Mayor Foster has started the construction of a building at 1321 Pembroke Street for the housing of motor cars.

Northern Manitoba Mines.
Members of the Manitoba Government, after a eleven-day tour of the mining districts of Northern Manitoba, have returned impressed with its natural resources and with the necessity of improving transportation facilities through the construction of a standard gauge railway. In a special article in the Manitoba Free Press, Wilson Blue, who accompanied the party, says that the consensus of opinion among members of the Legislature was that railway construction and water power development should be so directed that ample and economical service would be assured for industries of the North, and its natural resources be conserved for the Province. With the expansion of the mining industry, members also thought that consideration should be given to agricultural settlement in the clay belts and pulp and paper manufacture in the forest areas.

The Big Chief.
The big chief, as Taylor Statten, National Boys' Work Board Secretary, is called, was born in Peel County, Ontario, says the Christian Guardian. As a boy, he was leader of a "gang" that brought terror to the neighborhood. He later found himself in Toronto, and joined Central "Y" in 1910, working with the Leaders' Corps, working with under-privileged boys. In 1905 he became Boys' Work Secretary. He was appointed Secretary for Ontario and Quebec in 1911, and in 1912 was called to join the National Boys' Work Board staff, where he has been ever since. It is due to the untiring efforts of "The Chief" that the great National C. S. E. T. programme has been so wonderfully developed.

training, taught the two great virtues of obedience and self-control, and it is simply remarkable how the small boy tries to live up to the scout law."

CLAIMS AERIAL FORESTRY PATROL USEFUL TO LOGGERS

Writing in the October issue of The Canada Lumberman and Woodworker, Ellwood Wilson gives an interesting account of the finding of the Laurentine Company, Ltd., of Montreal, on timber cruising from the air. He says: "A boundary survey of some limits had to be made, and the starting point was difficult to locate, for if all the work were to be done on the ground, 22 miles of chaining through the woods would be necessary to locate an intersection from which to commence. The plane was sent up and the three sides of the triangle, necessary to locate the intersection, were photographed in one day, and the course the new line would have to follow was also photographed, showing all the lakes, streams and hills which the line would cross.

"On two sides of the triangle, lines which already existed, were visible in the photographs at numerous places on the ground and could easily be joined. Thus, all of the field work is practically checked up before beginning the work, which can now be planned with great exactness. It is proposed to put provisions on the lakes which the line will cross, ahead of the party so they will only have to carry enough to last for a short time, and save heavy portaging through the woods.

"Explorers were taken over territory which was offered for sale, and of which there were no maps. The observer sketched in the burns, timbered areas and other information, and at the same time got a very good idea of the country as a whole. Then, taking the sketch maps, he went in on the ground and estimated the timbered areas, saving much time which would have been wasted in locating the burnt areas. In one trip a reconnaissance of about four hundred square miles was made. The logging manager made several trips of this kind and with his sketch maps and his bird's-eye view of the country was able to lay out and direct the work of his explorers. Several flights were made to note the progress of drives, and it was very easy to see just how the work was progressing and whether the streams were being swept clean or not. In one case a large number of rollways of logs were discovered and photographed, which had been left in the woods the previous season. Trips were also made to look over and estimate the number of men required to saw so as to finish before the winter, could be determined. The logging manager and his superintendent were taken to and from distant points of their work and much valuable time saved.
