WASHINGTON LETTER

(Special Correspondence.)

The incident of the week in Washington was the visit of the dog eating Igorrotes and Moros who came from the Philippine concession at the St. Louis fair to shake hands with the president.

Before reaching the capital the "Pill pins domed trousers, the Moros wore brilliantly colored Japanese blouses and tightly fitting trousers and the Igorrotes white duck suits with sashes of crimson silk.

Antero, a fifteen-year-old Igorrota was the interpreter of the party. He presented each of the chiefs to President Roosevelt.

The visitors were amazed by the sight of silver and gold in the treasury vaults and impressed by the armaments at the navy yard.

They presented the president with some handsome gifts, including curiously carved native pipes, a beautifully embellished spear and two shields.

The President Getting Fat.

President Roosevelt has troubles other than politics. He is getting fat. He had been "portly" or "rather stout," but since he has passed the 200 pound mark he is simply fat. He weighs now 210 pounds, and the last ten pounds he has put on worry him.

The president has put in some hard days in the last month at Oyster Bay racing about the tennis court in the heat of the day in an effort to get himself down to weight.

Horseback riding, upon which he has always depended, failed him. Now he puts in most of the "weight reducing" exercise at tennis.

Visit of Island Teachers.

Six hundred Porto Rican schoolteachers have been visiting the capital on their way home to the summer school at Boston, where they have been studying at the expense of the United States government. Commissioner Macfarland had charge of their entertainment, which included a reception at the White House.

Vacations Cost Three Millions.

The federal government is generous to its hired help and goes down in its wallet to the extent of $3,000,000 to give them a summer outing at the seashore and in the mountains. This sum is for the army of employees in Washington alone and does not include the thousands of others who are on duty and on the payrolls in other places.

Liberal lawmakers decided that ten months in a year was long enough for employees of the government to work and that thirty days should be given for sickness and thirty days additional for annual leave to rest up from the laborious duties. This law was for the clerks and did not take in printers, pressmen, navy yard employees, etc., but eventually these also were given the annual leave.

Success of City Gardens.

Several of the promoters of the city gardens have been given an official demonstration of the fact that these institutions have passed the experimental stage. Superintendent Charles E. Bartlett has collected a large market basket of the vegetables that had been grown by the city's amateur farmers. In the basket were a large head of cabbage, tomatoes that would make the mouth of an epicure water, cucumbers, thin leucous, beans and potatoes, summer squash and other edibles that would have made proud the most expert market gardener. All the vegetables were grown on vacant lots by persons to whom the gardens were lent without cost and from seeds supplied without cost by the City Gardens association.

Commissioner Ware's Resignation.

Although Commissioner Ware of the pension office repeatedly has denied the rumor that he will retire at an early day from the position he holds at the head of that important branch of the government service, indications seem to point to the coming severance of his official connection with the office. The facts that his family has left Washington, that he has given up the house here which he has continuously occupied almost since his induction into the commissionership and that it is generally understood that his family will not return to the city for the coming season of congressional and social activity are taken to mean that he will take an early opportunity of submitting his resignation.

War Relics as Ornaments.

Within the past week a number of old smoothbore guns have been sent to Fort Washington by the army authorities here and will be used for display about the Fort Washington grounds. The old guns look like relics of the civil war, but are well preserved and are handsome pieces of ordnance. They came from an army storage post in the north, where they have been for the past forty years, and will now see peaceful service as ornaments at the fort. The old guns, it is stated, will be mounted and placed about the parade grounds.

A Federal Rat Hunt.

For the first time in years the department of agriculture is free from rats. The accomplishment is not due to any of the department's scientists, but to a professional rat catcher.

The bushels of seeds stored in the buildings at the department draw the rodents, and they cause hundreds of dollars of loss to Uncle Sam's supplies and indirectly limit the generosity of congressmen to their rural constituents. The rat question at the department of agriculture had become a pressing political one, and now that it has been solved there is relief from one of the many burdens of the campaign.

It took fifteen nights to accomplish the task. Many rat holes were found where clerks and employees had never surmised that a rat could dig or gnaw.

Gerome's famous statue, "The Eagle of Waterloo," was unveiled on the field of Waterloo on the anniversary of the battle, June 18.

During the last five years, the world's average production of cotton per annum has been 16,000,000 bales, calculated at 500 pounds to the bale.

A Minneapolis investigator reports what may surprise some people—that the milling industry of the United States is the third largest in the country.

At New York the other day Judge Goff gave two ex-convicts nine years and six months each in prison for having held up and robbed a woman of 36 cents.

The British possessions in west Africa cover 500,000 square miles, contain 20,000,000 negroes and easily capable of producing a yearly cotton crop of 10,000,000 bales.

The Welland and St. Lawrence canals were made free of all tolls during 1903, and it appears that the effect on trade was satisfactory, traffic of all kinds increasing.

The four groups of statuary on the Broad street pediment of the New York Stock Exchange are described as a superb exhibition of high art and a fine demonstration of anatomy.

A handsome monument of granite and bronze fifteen feet high has been erected upon the lot in the Hildreth cemetery at Lowell, Mass., where the remains of the late General B. F. Butler and members of his family lie.

In the year 1903 New Zealand exported the following quantities of frozen meat: Beef, 21,027,464 pounds; lamb, 76,564,464 pounds; mutton, 146,311,528 pounds. The total exceeded the exports of 1902 by 17,000,000 pounds.

A French government report announces that in Cambodia cutting off a man's head is absolutely the most serious insult that can be offered him. "Happily," the report adds, "this prejudice is not shared by the other people of Indo-China."

Australia has no orphan asylums. Every child who is not supported by parents becomes a ward of the state and is paid a pension for support and placed in a private family, where board and clothes are provided until the fourteenth birthday.

The state veterinarian of Oregon has ordered that the thousands of wild horses which roam the unfenced ranges of that state shall be shot down. This is to be done to prevent the spread of mange, which is communicated to cattle and other live stock.

In the Argentine Republic, where nearly all the railways belong to English companies, the English language is spoken to a considerable extent, whereas in Brazil no effort is made to make it easy for foreigners, who are obliged to learn the language of the country.

The New York legislature in February, 1895, passed a bill prohibiting the display of foreign flags on any public building in the state. In the same year and month Colorado by act of legislature forbade the display of any foreign flag in that state except on the buildings occupied by foreign consuls.

The Japanese American Commercial Weekly, a newspaper published weekly in Japanese in New York city, has been transferred to the St. Louis fair for the joint purpose of making an exhibit of a Japanese newspaper plant and reporting the fair. Hajima Hoshi is the editor. Nine Japanese reporters and native typesetters get out the weekly.

A school to accommodate from 120 to 125 children is to be built in the depth of the Juniperbush woods, near Berlin, and the children will remain there the whole day, special arrangements being made to supply them with their meals. They are only to receive from two to three hours' instruction daily and are to spend the rest of the day in taking healthy exercise in the forest.

The deepest sounding ever made by any vessel was by the United States ship Nero while on the Honolulu-Manila cable survey. When near Guam the Nero got 3,269 fathoms, or 31,614 feet, only sixty-six feet less than six miles. If Mount Everest, the highest mountain on earth, were set down in this hole, it would have above its summit a depth of 2,612 feet, or nearly half a mile, of water.

The smallest man in Columbus, O., lives on the north side. Here is the evidence: Some time ago a reiner finding a property which suited him in every particular except that the house was not supplied with a cellar decided to put one in at his own expense, the landlord refusing to do so. This he did, and when completed it represented many dollars. Imagine his surprise when the landlord raised the rent $3 on the month because of the improvement.

The city of Manila contains 216,028 inhabitants, which includes 15,501 who reside on vessels in the harbor, while 11,460 live in the limits of the city walls. General Sanger says the aborigines of the Philippines are believed to be the Negroites, of whom 23,000 still remain. They are very short in stature, the males averaging only four feet ten inches and the females even less. Their color is black, their hair woolly and bushy, and their toes are remarkably prehensile, they using them as well as fingers.

CHAS. O. DUNBAR

THE political card of Chas. O. Dunbar appears in another column. Mr. Dunbar is asking the people to endorse the excellent record he made in the last State Legislature as assemblyman from the 14th Dist. by reelecting him to that place.

Nothing would tend more to the improvement of honest government than a proper and substantial appreciation, on the part of the people for official duty honestly performed.

Mr. Dunbar made an exceptionally good record at Sacramento and naturally expects to be returned. His many friends in this section speak very encouragingly of his chances.

A jolly Sonoma crowd utilized a large bus Saturday evening and paid Mr. Francis, manager of Boyes' Hot Springs, a very pleasant call. The genial host proved an ideal entertainer and a most delightful time was had. Bathing, music and a delicious lunch were features of the evening's pleasure.

Dr. and Mrs. Gottenberg, Miss Lowell and Mrs. Burlingame returned Saturday afternoon from their camping trip through Napa, Lake and Mendocino counties. They report having had a great time.

H. W. brought home symptoms of Populism but claims that he has not changed his political faith.

Chas. Dalpoggetto is preparing the plans for his new stone building on Napa street. A fine store room, 28x58 feet, with plate glass and steel front will be on the lower floor and fine office rooms and rooms en suite will occupy the upper floor, reached by stairs, front and back. The building will be very substantial and a great ornament and improvement to that part of the city.

AGUA CALIENTE

Great improvements are in contemplation at the famous Agua Caliente Springs. The popular proprietor will soon commence to build a four-story stone structure near the main entrance to the grounds.

The lower floor will be utilized as a store, post office, express office, etc., and the upper floors, reached by an elevator, will contain eighty rooms en suite with gaslight, bath and electric bell in each suite.

Two new wells will be sunk and a very valuable spring on the bank of Sonoma creek developed. The analysis of the water of this spring, showing its wonderful medicinal properties, is as follows:

RACES

More horses, faster horses, great rivalry and enthusiasm will be marked features of the race meet of the Sonoma Driving Club in Sonoma on Sept. 9th, next Friday.

A large crowd is expected from San Francisco, Petaluma, Santa Rosa, Napa and the towns all over the valley.

To say that the racing will be more interesting and exciting than that on the 4th of last July, is putting it mildly. Don't miss the fun which will commence at 2 P. M. on Admission day.

A Cold Settled in His Kidneys.

A. J. Jenness, 9201 Butler St., Chicago, writes: "I am a switchman and am out in all kinds of weather. I took a cold which settled in my kidneys and I was in bad shape. I tried several advertised remedies with no benefit, until I was recommended to try Foley's Kidney Cure. Two-thirds of a bottle cured me." For sale by L. S. Simmons, druggist.

What Is Life?

In the last analysis nobody knows, but we do know that it is under strict law. Abuse that law even slightly, pain results. Irregular living means derangement of the organs, resulting in Constipation, Headache or Liver trouble. Dr. King's New Life Pills quickly re-adjust this. It's gentle, yet thorough. Only 25c at Shoults' Drug Store.

Fearful Odds Against Him.

Bedridden, alone and destitute. Such, in brief, was the condition of an old soldier by name of J. J. Havens, Versailles, O. For years he was troubled with Kidney disease and neither doctors nor medicines gave him any relief. At length he tried Electric Bitters. It put him on his feet in short order and now he testifies: "I'm on the road to complete recovery." Best on earth for Kidney and Liver troubles and all forms of Stomach and Bowel Complaints. Only 50c. Guaranteed by Shoults, Druggist.

Given Up To Die.

B. Spiegel, 1204 N. Virginia St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over five years I was troubled with kidney and bladder affections which caused me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and was all run down, and a year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians who did me no good and I was practically given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured." Sold by L. S. Simmons, Druggist.

Cured of Bright's Disease.

Geo. A. Sherman, Lisbon Red Mills, Lawrence Co., N. Y., writes: "I had kidney disease for many years and had been treated by physicians for twelve years; had taken a well known kidney medicine and other remedies that were recommended but got no relief until I began using Foley's Kidney Cure. The first half bottle relieved me and four bottles have cured me of this terrible disease. Before I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure I had to make water about every fifteen minutes, day and night, and passed a brick-dust substance, and sometimes a slimy substance. I believe I would have died if I had not taken Foley's Kidney Cure. Sold by L. S. Simmons, Druggist.

Abscess.

W. H. Harrison, Cleveland, Miss., writes, Aug. 15, 1902: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail, which caused the cords in my leg to contract and an abscess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg, so one day I went to J. F. Lord's drug store (who is now in Denver, Colo.) He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment; I got a 50c size and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world. Abscesses, with few exceptions, are indicative of constipation or debility. They may, however, result from blows or from foreign bodies introduced into the skin or flesh, such as splinters, thorns, etc. Sold by L. S. Simmons, prescription druggist, Sonoma, Cal.

Did Sonoma's Win a Game?

One more victory for the Sonomas can not be stated in this week's issue with any degree of truthfulness.

The score, 16 to 1 in, favor of the Athenians tells the sad tale of poor ball on one side.

It seems to be a common thing for 16 to 1 to tell sad tales. It's a good losing cry all right. Ask Mr. Bryan, he's tried it.

But next Sunday's game will be a retriever. Don't miss it, for "The Game of the Season" is promised, between the home team and the North Stars of San Francisco. Remember it's to be the game of the season.

There are Others.

One of the rarest specimens of floral beauty we ever saw was brought to the Expositor office yesterday. It is a double yellow sun flower raised by Mrs. J. M. Cheney in her home garden.

Santa Rosa is not the only pebble on the beach when it comes to producing fine fruits and flowers. Mrs. Cheney has a great many of these and other beauties in which she takes great pride.

GENERAL ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Mrs. D. A. Fussell and Miss Laura spent Saturday in the bay city.

Miss May Finley of S. F. was a guest at Monahan Villa a few days last week.

Miss Bessie Brady and the Misses Power of S. F. were visitors here last Sunday.

Lots of sport! Don't miss the races in Sonoma on the 9th. of Sept. '04.

Attend the races next Friday Sept. 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hooper of the Occidental Hotel and child were guests of G. S. Harris and family Saturday and Sunday last.

Preaching services will be held in the El Verano school house next Sunday afternoon at 8 o'clock. Rev. Kinne will conduct the services. Everybody welcome.

J. E. Coleman, the popular clerk of Shoults' Pharmacy, is taking a month's vacation. Dr. Shoults is taking his place for a few days until a substitute is secured.

The second illustrated lecture on China will be given by Rev. F. W. Reed at the Cong. Church next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend.

The Western Union Telegraph Co., Mrs. A. Pauli local agent, has established a money order transfer service in Sonoma. Parties so desiring can now send money away by this method.

Abram Marcucci purchased the property of Mrs. Steadman of Embarcadero last Wednesday. At his present rate of purchases there will soon be but one landowner at the old landing and that will be Mr. Marcucci.

The fourth issue of "Saul's Sunday Letter," a new Santa Rosa publication, is spicy and well edited by a fearless writer of ability. It is full of interesting thought, and we wish the editor, Mr. Rod. M. Saul, the abundant success he deserves.

MARRIED IN THE CITY.

The Examiner of last Monday reports the marriage in San Francisco, Sunday, of Dr. F. F. Sprague of this city and Miss Julie Granice, daughter of H. H. Granice and the late Catherine Granice. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. C. Adams of the First Congregational Church, San Francisco, and was witnessed by relatives of the contracting parties.

El Verano News

Rumor has it that F. Clerici will be married in the near future.

Mrs. J. Carlson left for San Francisco the fore part of the week.

George and James Baines were visitors on the Baines' ranch Sunday.

L. Pilastre is to make a trip to Santa Rosa where he will take in the circus next Thursday.

R. Ent returned from San Francisco Monday night. With him he brought two of the finest singing birds.

Mr. Lord of Nashville, Tennessee is visiting his father, S. A. Lord, of this place, after an absence of eighteen years.

Stedman - Potter Nuptials.

An elaborate wedding of much pleasurable interest to many Sonoma Valley people occurred in Alameda last week, the high contracting parties being Mr. Chas. Stedman of Los Angeles and Miss Emily May Potter of Alameda.

The groom is a prominent business man of the "Orange City" and the bride, who is a sister of J. H. and Chas. Potter, is a charming and accomplished Sonoma girl who formerly attended the High School here.

Mr. and Mrs. Stedman will make their future home in Los Angeles. The many friends of the happy couple extend congratulations and best wishes for their future happiness and prosperity.

Will Speak Saturday Night

Hon. Theodore A. Bell, our able and popular representative in congress, will open the campaign in Sonoma by a speech in Union Hall tomorrow, Saturday evening, September 3.

Mr. Bell is a talented and entertaining orator and a large crowd will doubtless be in attendance to hear him. It is freely predicted on all sides that Mr. Bell will be chosen by the people for a second term, as a just appreciation of the good and faithful work he has done for his district as well as for the country at large.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright have sold their home adjoining the Clewe property on Second street east to Chas. Weber and have bought of D. H. Twing the Justi house and lot on Broadway.

Two guards from San Quentin were in Sonoma Sunday in search of the two escapes from that state detainer. They did not find any trace of the convict here and left Monday morning.

The Equal Rights Association will hold its next meeting at the home of Miss Wooster on September 6. All members are requested to be present as matters of importance are to be discussed. By order of President.

P. M. Robin has been in San Francisco the past few weeks in the employ of the Decoration Committee of the Sir Knights' Conclave. Mr. Robin has great talent in the art of decorating and is always sought for when great events are scheduled to take place.

The many friends of A. B. Pehrson will learn with pleasure that he has been selected as foreman of the Winkle Ranch, east of town, recently purchased by Mr. Macintosh of San Francisco.

Rented A Rig, Then Sold It

Warrant Sworn Out. Con- Ryan Starts in Pursuit

Last Saturday afternoon as Deputy Sheriff Jos. Ryan was sitting in front of Union stable he noticed some campers passing along with one of G. S. Harris' rigs, he had hired to another party the Wednesday morning previous.

He immediately stopped the party and the rig was brought in to the stable claiming that a person can take his property wherever he pleases.

The case produced a bill of sale for the rig, showing that they had paid $50 for the horse and buggy near Elmira, Solano county. The bill was signed by B. A. Hoppacker and B. Hoppacker who claimed to be his wife, and was dated August 24, 1904.

The man and woman spent some time at Lawrence Villa and stated when they hired the rig that they would probably want it for two or three days.

The man's real name is A. De Alfredo and he is known in San Francisco and Sonoma.

Officer Ryan left here Saturday afternoon for Elmira with a warrant, in search of the culprit but found that he and the woman and child had left Elmira the day before, presumably for San Francisco. The address given by the purchaser of the horse and buggy was 3040 Mission street, but upon going to that location Sunday morning the detective and Officer Ryan found a sand lot instead of a home.

Officers in several counties are on the lookout and Mr. A. De Alfredo and lady will probably soon be caught for selling another man's rig.

GUS WEYL IS MARRIED?

Gus Weyl, cutter for Lewis & Cummings, has been the recipient of many congratulations this week, owing to the report that went the rounds of various county papers, that he had been married on Sunday last.

Mr. Weyl says that he is saving them for a collection.

The fact of the matter is Mr. Weyl was not married at all but a sly joker reported that he had gone to San Francisco for that purpose, when he really went to see the trained savages, Jeffries and Monroe, do the bull dog act.

Henry Bates took in the State Fair at Sacramento this week.

Mrs. Claude Burlingame went to Sacramento on Monday last.

Temple Lodge, F. and A. M. had a special meeting for degree work, Tuesday evening.

Wednesday was the last day of the season that deer could be killed in Sonoma county.

A fine baby boy and heir came Sunday night to brighten the home of Jas. Kiser, below town. Mother and child are doing nicely.

Mrs. Ronique, wife of the proprietor of Vineyard Villa, is quite ill. Her friends hope to hear of an improvement in the near future.

Geo. Breitenbach has treated his harness and bicycle hop to a new coat of paint. Drs. Wilson and Engler were the artists employed.

Mr. Nunn of Yountville, Mendocino county, returned to his home Wednesday morning after a few days' visit at the home of T. J. McGimsey.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Walker, nee Humphreys, of San Jose, are the happy parents of a fine new baby girl, who arrived at their home there on Monday, August 29.

SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

The entertainment given last Saturday evening at Union Hall in aid of St. Francis Church was in every way a pleasant success. The singing and instrumental music were excellent. The conspicuous feature of the program was a presentation of the reproduction of the farce "A Box of Monkey"; it was laughable from the start to the finishing part. Those who took part in the cast were from S. F. The role of the leading lady was the American Cousin and was well played by Miss A. Mullery. The young lady is a handsome brunette and a graceful performer. The part of the visiting English cousin was sustained by Miss A. McSorley. The haughtiness of her expression and refinement of her manners displayed talent of a high order.

Mr. John Rafter and Miss Whalen assumed the part of an elderly English couple of the old school and well deserved the applause they received.

The part of Stanislas Riley was very amusing, he was perfectly fascinated with the winsome ways of the English cousin and his crude courtship caused much merriment. Mr. Hugh McCann made a swell butler; he is a clever performer and an affable speaker and added materially to the success of the play.

After the performance a social dance was indulged in until 12 o'clock. It indeed goes without saying that all those who enjoyed the evening's entertainment will be glad to again repeat the pleasure.

A large number of tickets were sold and a neat sum was realized.

MRS. ROSA SARTORI DEAD

Between midnight and 1 o'clock this morning, at her home here, the soul of Mrs. Rosa Sartori took its flight.

She had been quite sick for about a week and her death was not altogether unexpected. She was a native of Ireland, about 67 years of age at the time of her death and had lived in Sonoma, where she is well known, for over 30 years.

As far as could be learned, she leaves to mourn her loss a sister who lives in Boston, a brother in Ireland and a niece now living in Los Angeles.

Her late husband died in Sonoma in 1880.

Her maiden name was Rosa McDaniel. Deceased was an industrious and economical woman and had laid by a neat sum, probably 7000 or $8000.

The funeral will be held from the home of F. T. Duhring, at 10:30 Saturday morning.

Interment will be in Mountain Cemetery by the side of her late husband.

Score A Success

A good, large audience heard the famous California humorist and entertainer at Union hall last evening.

Prof. C. B. Newton's work is of the highest order and he kept his audience in a continual roar of laughter. His portrayal of "Aunt Stuttsnaker" and "The Boy" and "Uncle Johnnie" were simply great. He is a whole show within himself and a very excellent one too and leaves his audience wishing for more.

It Wins The Confidence of Women.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription wins the confidence of women because of its "superior curative properties." There is no test which can be applied to this great medicine for weak and sick women which does not increase the esteem in which it is held as a safe and sure remedy for womanly ills. No wonder that "Favorite Prescription" "has a large number of friends among suffering women."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It is a superior tonic and nerve for weak, nervous, run-down women.

"I do not believe," writes Mrs. C. B. Lind, President of the "Harmony" Woman's Club, Milwaukee, Wis., "any honest physician who would prescribe Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for female troubles and observe the results could help but acknowledge it to be one of the finest remedies on the market today. Have tried it myself several times during the past three years, and have found it very satisfactory for a woman's system. A friend who is a chemist analyzed it and gave it unstinted praise as a highly concentrated herbal remedy, having superior curative properties. Your medicine has a large number of friends among suffering women, and I have yet to hear one speak disparagingly of its merits."

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription" and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics. It is well described as "a highly concentrated herbal remedy having superior curative properties."

Sick women, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most desirable laxative for delicate women.

FORCE OF LIGHTNING

SOME OF THE FEATS PERFORMED
BY THE MYSTIC FLUID.

The Way Great Masts of Ships Have Been Shattered—When a Bolt Strikes a Tree It Generates Steam From the Sap and Explodes the Bark.

The explosive force of lightning acting on dead wood is not, as a rule, so great as when living trees are struck, though Sir William Harris shows that "the masts of ships of the line, three feet in diameter and 110 feet long, bound with hoops of iron half an inch thick and five inches wide, the whole weighing about eighteen tons, have been in many instances torn asunder and the hoops of iron scattered about the decks." It will be found, as a rule, that trees are struck by lightning far more often than are practically any other objects on the earth. If the trees and buildings are close together. This is partly because the trees are higher.

But there must probably be some unknown reason not only for the frequency with which trees are struck, but for the recurrence of such shocks in the case of particular trees or trees in the same locality. The commonest form of injury is that the current passes down the trunk of the tree, stripping off the bark, wider or narrower, from top to bottom. Sometimes on an oak two or three of these lightning marks are seen, evidently caused at different times.

There must be something in the form or situation or earth below the trees which endangers them. An instance is quoted in Mr. Anderson's descriptive book of the Church of St. Mary in Genoa, which was frequently struck by lightning, sometimes as often as twice a year. It was noticed that the electric force always followed the same track. It was discovered later that the walls were clamped with iron, and that the lightning had followed the patch in which the metal offered the greatest continuity, destroying the zone between.

If the ground below the tree or building is hard and dry, the contact with the earth, in which the lightning expands its force and disperses, is difficult, and the destruction of the object struck is likely to result. This may explain the frequency with which a "blasted" tree is seen extending its dead arms on the summit of some rocky cliff or peak. The ground below it is dry and does not easily lead away the current into the earth.

At the same time thunderclouds undoubtedly tend to discharge, or perhaps it would be safer to say that the transmission from the cloud to the earth more frequently takes place, near pieces of water and along the courses of rivers than elsewhere.

In a park in one of the eastern counties of England there is a large lake. The park contains many trees, and lightning from the whole of the rest of the estate. Some miles away is a road called locally the "Lightning road" from the frequency with which accidents have occurred there either to trees, horses, cattle or passengers. In this park there recently occurred an instance of the explosive effect in certain circumstances not perfectly known.

A very tall spruce, probably 100 feet high, was "exploded" from top to bottom into pieces the size of the wood used in making chairs. Every shred of bark was stripped from them, and the wood looked as if it had been shredded up for firing. A similar instance occurred some years ago when an oak in the grove below the foot of the White lodge in Richmond park exploded under lightning shock. The bark flew off and simply disappeared from the trunk, and the rest of the tree was shattered into white fragments.

In these cases it is probable that the current sets up such a tremendous heat that all the sap in the tree is converted into superheated steam, which explodes. The greater the heat the more of the cells in which moisture lies are exploded and the greater the destruction of the tissues of the tree. As there is most moisture within the bark and the trunk the first and greatest explosion takes place there, instantly driving the bark away into space. Frequently the explosion only takes place at that point.

As Sir Hiram Maxim pointed out after the great explosion of Mont Pelée, a very similar method is now used by the American manufacturers of wood pulp. The logs of fir are placed in a stone chamber, and then subjected to the action of superheated steam until the water in every cell is converted into explosive gas. The chamber is then opened and the log explodes, converting itself into wood powder.—London Spectator.

Egyptian Weather.

As a topic of conversation the weather is branded with infamy in Egypt. It is never mentioned—except by a fool. I am not saying this maliciously, for I was that fool often enough. More than once on being introduced to Europeans I would pass the usual compliments and add, "What a charming day it is!" I got more than one withering look of contempt for this species of crass forgetfulness. Why, the sun shines like a ball of fire for eight months each year, and there is practically no variation in the weather. In my diary I read the following entries: "Beautiful morning"; "Beautiful morning again"; "Another beautiful morning"; "Oh, brother, they are all beautiful mornings here, so I must take it for granted."—Alexandria Correspondence.

The Frolicsome Scallop.

The scallop takes life less seriously and scoffily than his cousins, the clams and oysters. The oyster moves from his place; the clam can, but rarely does. The scallop is as free as a bird almost to the end of his days. Then, again, the scallop has temperament. He exhibits the frolicsomeness of childhood, as higher animals do. We see little scallops by tens and dozens darting swiftly here and there in the water by a quick opening and shutting of the two valves of their shells. They are as graceful as a flock of snowbirds and as vivacious. Capture one, lay it on the sand, and it snaps its valves impatient of the interruption, if we interpret the signs aright. It is altogether bappy if put back in the pool.—Country Life in America.

LIQUOR OF THE HOUR

Prepared.

The proprietor of a large building, who had a room for his own use in one of the upper stories, was surprised one morning by the entrance of a man with a valise.

"Don't you want something, sir?" began the caller, "in the way of a new and improved outfit for marking handkerchiefs, undergarments and—"

"No, I don't," interrupted the proprietor. "How did you get up here? We don't allow peddlers or canvassers in this building."

"You don't?"

"That's what I said."

"I saw no sign to that effect."

"Well, you'll see one the next time you come. I shall have one put up."

"In that case," rejoined the man, opening his valise with alacrity, "you will need one of these."

Here he displayed a neatly painted card over a foot long and nearly as wide, with this inscription in large letters:

"No Peddlers or Canvassers Allowed In This Building on Any Pretext Whatever."

In recognition of his caller's cleverness, genial humor and businesslike forethought, the owner of the building not only bought the card, but invested in one of the marking outfits.—Youth's Companion.

A lecturer who gave a very fine lecture on "The Influence of Pure English" gave his address before a woman's club.

At the close of the talk a very much over-dressed woman of the "fuss and feathers" type came up to him and said: "I did enjoy your talk ever so much, and I agree with you that the English language is decaying awfully. Hardly no one talks proper nowadays, and the land only knows what the next generation will talk like if nothing ain't done about it."—Kansas City Independent.

Agreed With Him.

A rather pompous orator rose on one occasion to make an extended speech at an electioneering meeting. He began in his rather sententious fashion, "Mr. Chairman, I have lived long enough—"

"Hear! Hear!" yelled a number of the audience. And such a storm of laughter broke out that the aspirant for political honors was forced to resume his seat.—Tit-Bits.

As Usual.

First Sportsman—Look here, old boy, that fish basket is ten times too big. We shall never manage to fill it.

Second Sportsman—That is to carry the bottles in. I have the fish basket in my pocket.

Not a Corrective.

Gibbey—Lots of words misspelled in this letter, Miss Keyler. I shall have to devise some means of curing you of a bad habit. Guess I shall have to kiss you for every word spelled wrong.

Miss Keyler—Mercy! That would make me so nervous I shouldn't be able to spell even the simplest word right.—Boston Transcript.

A Prediction.

"Mrs. X's new suit came home this morning, and she's afraid to show the bill to her husband."

"Why, is it so large?"

"No. It's $10 smaller than usual, and she thinks he'll cut her allowance if she doesn't keep it up to the usual high figure."—Detroit Free Press.

An Exception.

"You can't get a money order for more than $100, can you?"

"Don't you believe it. I got one the other day for $200."

"Through the postoffice?"

"Sure. It was from my wife. She said, 'Send me $200 at once.'"—Brooklyn Eagle.

Dangerous Ground.

Mrs. Newbridge—You know when you called me up last night to say you were detained at the office?

Mr. N.—Yes, dear. What about it?

Mrs. N.—Well, the wires must have been crossed, for I could hardly make out a word you said.—Brooklyn Life.

Suspicious.

Nephew (to rich uncle, who has fallen downstairs)—I hope you are not hurt.

Uncle—Oh, do you, do you? You know very well that I must be either hurt or dead.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Eccentric Fisherman.

The scientific fisherman—Behold him standing there! Could anybody wish a man a more contented air?

The finest fish line reels he off. He has the finest pole, and with the outfit stands he off To find the clear trout hole.

He reels the finest line of all. When he no catch doth bring And thinks that in the eyes of all He is the "reel" thing.

—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Bound to Come.

Mamma—My dear, what are you doing? Little Daughter—Making a dolly for my little sister. Mamma—But you haven't any little sister. Little Daughter—No, not yet, but Sally Stuckup has just got one, and I know we always get everything the Stuckups do.

Beat Her to the Altar.

"Why is it that Ethel has never married?"

"She has too many pretty girl friends."—Cleveland Leader.

RAW FISH AND WASABI.

An Appetizing Dish That is a Favorite in Japan.

Not so well known among the occidentals as soy sauce, but of equal merit as an appetizer, is wasabi. Its use is universal in Japan. It serves the same purpose that horseradish does on occidental tables, but is less acrid.

My own introduction to wasabi was unique. I count among my most pleasing experiences in this sunrise land my meeting with Tsumo Yano, novelist and diplomat. And not the least item in my debt of gratitude to him is that he taught me to appreciate my raw fish and wasabi. Mr. Yano has been the mikado's ambassador to China and other lands. One night at the Nippon club he led up to a delicate subject on the menu with much diplomacy. He finally got my assent to the statement that a cosmopolitan appetite is one of the distinguishing marks of cultivated travel. Then he passed me raw fish!

I confessed that I was willing to be a stick in the mud or any other variety of sibilant rather than take place with the international elect by eating such a dish. My host, however, was painfully insistent, finally adding that with raw fish they, of course, ate wasabi. Now, I did not have even a vague notion of what this might be, but with that raw disposition before me it was comforting to know that at least it was to be diluted with something. I conjured up an experience in taking castor oil unadorned under sherry and sarsaparilla, which, while not a beverage one would grow to crave, might have been worse. I figured out also that with my gaudieries with chopsticks I might manage without exciting suspicion to drop the fish before the fatal moment, and eat only the mysterious wasabi. But whether through cowardice or courage I cannot say, fish and relish came quick and simultaneous journey to my reluctant palate, and in the never to be forgotten instant there flashed into my consciousness the undeniable truth that in all my occidental years I had been denied one of the most savory dishes in the world. Charles Lamb's Chinaman had jubilant delight over his first taste of roast pig, but that is a degraded passion compared with an Anglo-Saxon's initial ecstasy over an oriental morsel of raw mandau garnished with the appetizing roots of Eutrema wasabi. All honor to triumphant agricultural Japan, and may this far eastern member of the mustard family take deep root and spread and flourish in my native land!—Harold Boice in Booklovers' Magazine.

SPORTING RIGHTS.

Only Source of Income of Many Titled English Families.

Were it not for the enormous sums paid for fishing and shooting rights many people of ancient names and goodly title would, in the most literal sense, have no means of livelihood whatever, and only the other day out of the best known property agents of the west end of London drew up for the winter a list of a dozen people mixing in society of an exclusive kind, every penny of whose income is derived from the letting of sporting rights.

Nearly all the money thus expended has been made in commerce, and the agent referred to above showed documentary evidence proving that there are lots of men who do not mind paying as much as £100 for every deer, £3 for every trout and £20 every salmon as they kill, plus the sport of killing them. One of the most remarkable features of this letting is the fact that only about one in every hundred of the owners of ancient sporting rights ever enjoys his privileges as a sportsman. He either prefers or is compelled to part with such privileges, and those who take advantage of them are nearly all people in business.

The renting of fishing and sporting has even extended down to comparatively humble people in the provinces. Many a small Yorkshire farmer is being kept, and well kept, not by his farming, but by the letting of some comparatively insignificant sporting right.—London Tit-Bits.

Holmes' Inspiration.

There is hardly room for doubt that Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes was encouraged to write his "Autocrat of the Breakfast Table" by reading "Table Talk"—being "The Discourses of John Seiden, Esq., or His Sense of Various Matters of Weight and High Consequence Relating Especially to Religion and State." The work belongs to 1634-54 and treats of such topics as articles, baptism, Bible, bishops, books, ceremony, Christmas, clergy, confession, conscience, creed, duel, epitaph, faith and works, gentlemen, holy days, idolatry, Jews, juggling, king, law, lectures, liturgy, marriage, money, oaths, oracles, poetry, popery, presbytery, prayers, religion, sacraments, trade, truth, university, wit and women. For the thousandth time, "Nothing new under the sun!"—New York Press.

Field Arrived.

After Eugene Field's return from his first trip to Europe, where he spent his patrimony like a prince, and before he went to Denver, he had a little close personal experience with hard times. One day he walked into a leading St. Louis hotel and, squaring himself before the register, inscribed his name in his well known copperplate chirography. The clerk had never heard of him, but he read the name with a quick glance and said:

"Do you wish a room, Mr. Field?"

"No," was the answer.

"Dinner?"

"No."

"Then may I ask what you do want?" continued the clerk.

"I just wanted to arrive," replied Field solemnly. "I had not arrived at a good hotel for many months. I feel better. Thank you," and he stalked out with long, heavy strides.

Time's Changes.

"Is the story you have written a historic novel?"

"No," answered the litterateur in hard luck. "It's a modern novel now. But I guess it will be historic before I get it published."—Washington Star.

Corelli and Caine.

Marie Corelli's first story, "A Romance of Two Worlds," which made her name, was sent to the London publishing house of Bentley. Hall Caine was the principal reader of that house, and his report condemned the book so strenuously that it was rejected. Miss Corelli was deeply discouraged, but after some time she was persuaded to send the manuscript to another publisher. He accepted it eagerly and made a big fortune out of it and out of her later novels.

Accounted For.

"Phizzer has started up a soda water fountain."

"Well, I heard him say he had the fountain charged."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

An Exposure.

"Johnny" said the teacher, "a lie can be acted as well as told. Now, if your father was to put sand in his sugar and sell it he would be acting a lie and doing very wrong."

"That's what mother told him," said Johnny impetuously, "but he said he didn't care."—London Tit-Bits.

Her Case Exactly.

It is related of a clergyman who was the happy father of a charming and beautiful daughter that one day while preparing his Sunday discourse he was suddenly called from his desk on a mission of mercy. The sentence at which he left off was this: "I never see a young man of splendid physique and the promise of a glorious manhood almost realized but my heart is filled with rapture and delight."

His daughter, happening to enter the study, saw the sermon and read the words.

Sitting down, she wrote underneath, "Them's my sentiments, papa, exactly."

Animals' Love of Sweets.

This love of sweets is very common in our animal neighbors, from the bee to the horse. If you want to please a horse try giving him two or three lumps of sugar. Not only the bees, but the wasps, flies, butterflies and indeed nearly all insects, are conspicuously attracted to sweets, and it is this sweet tooth which leads the insect to visit flowers and thus help them to produce seeds.—St. Nicholas.
