The State of New York has no official history of its record in the War of the Rebellion; to remedy this has been the object of the Compiler; who, after overcoming many difficulties, and giving to the work for eight years almost every moment not occupied by official duties, now lays before the Citizens of the Empire State such a history.

In its preparation every book treating of the War of the Rebellion, which, it was supposed, would furnish information relating to the troops of this State, was used, but especially General Humphry's Virginia Campaign of 1864 and 1865. Histories of New York organizations and of some of the other States were likewise consulted. The contents of the book were, however, obtained principally from the records of New York Volunteers on file in the office of the Adjutant-General of the State and in the State Bureau of Military Statistics, and from the reports of the Chief of the latter and the Adjutants-General; from Army and Navy registers, reports and orders; from the Provost Marshal General's reports; from the Medical History of the War; from the Official Records of the War, published by the War Department, and to some extent from the regimental records in the office of the Adjutant-General of the Army. Estimates, where such became necessary, were always made in such manner that it cannot justly be asserted that too much is claimed for the State.

The work is divided in three parts; part I treats of occurrences in, and matters affecting, the State; part II of occurrences in the field, and part III gives sketches of the organizations in the service from this State; the latter are necessarily condensed and do not go into particulars as regards marches, camps and actions on the field of battle, which must be left to regimental historians. In an appendix are reproduced some War Department statements of general interest. Each part and division is preceded by remarks, a perusal of which will explain their scope and intent. To bring the work within reasonable limits, much had to be condensed, but the principal facts and matters of importance have been recorded, and almost all is based on official records. It is, however, proper to say, that in many cases the records were incomplete and insufficient.

The Compiler acknowledges his obligations to Generals John G. Farnsworth and Josiah Porter, successive Adjutants-General of the State; and to Mr. J. W. Kirkly, Statistician of the War Department; many officers of Volunteers and other gentlemen have also furnished valuable information, but they are too many in number to mention by name.

BEFORE THE WAR.

The result of the presidential election in November, 1860, was received in the Southern States in such manner, that ambitious and unscrupulous politicians felt encouraged to advocate, and to endeavor to carry out, their long and well-designed theories and plans of secession. The Southern people were stimulated to violence by inflaming harangues and falsehoods. The voice of the Union-loving citizen was drowned in the excited and specious arguments of the demagogue and his recital of imaginary wrongs of the South, or terrorized into silence by lawless elements, encouraged by the leaders of the secession movement.

South Carolina passed an ordinance of secession on the 20th of December; Major Anderson, commanding the United States troops in Charleston harbor, aware of the traitorous plans of the secession element, concentrated his troops and successfully transferred them to Fort Sumter during the night of the 26th; a few days later the rebellious State seized the vacated forts, the arsenal, the custom-house and post-office, and floated over them the Palmetto flag.

The year closed amidst scenes purporting no good to the Union. The only ray of light in the darkened horizon was the acceptance by the President of the resignation of the then-Secretary of War, and the consequent change of attitude of the General Government toward the rebellious States. Yet, notwithstanding all that had passed, the people of this State who accepted the result of the late political canvass in their usual patriotic spirit were not willing to believe that civil war might not be averted.

The Legislature met on the first day of the new year, 1861, and the Governor in his annual message discoursed the attempt at disunion with firmness, but also in a conciliatory tone, stating that the State of New York was ready, in all honorable ways, to aid in reconciling estrangements, and as willing to guarantee the rights of the slave States, as to defend her own. In opening the Assembly the Speaker referred to the perils which environed the country, to the duty of the representatives of the people in the existing crisis, and to the importance of united councils. In the Senate a leading member of the party, which had opposed Abraham Lincoln's election, submitted a series of resolutions asserting it to be the religious, as well as the patriotic, duty of each State and citizen to make every necessary sacrifice to preserve the Union, and requesting the Governor to tender to the President, in the name of the people, the Militia of the State, to be employed, in his discretion, in enforcing the laws and maintaining the Constitution. On the following day there were introduced in the Legislature resolutions which received large support from both parties, and recognized slavery as a disturbing element in the National councils, and, to the end that this impediment to harmony be forever removed, proposed, after the admission of Kansas, then not yet a State, to divide the remaining territories into two States, to be admitted as soon as the inhabitants thereof should adopt a constitution republican in form.

Pacification in sentiment and preparation in act, were the order of the day. Select committees on federal relations were formed. Bills were brought forward for the more complete enrollment of the Militia; to prohibit the sale of munitions of war or the loan of money to States in rebellion; for defining treason; for providing arms; indeed for giving form in every way to the sentiment of the people. These measures were but a prelude to many others of like character recorded on almost every page in the legislative journals of that session. The members of both branches were united in action as to the duty of the hour, and the State officials were in harmony with them.

The united, firm and dignified stand of the great State of New York, coupled with changes in the President's Cabinet, and a disposition on the part of the General Government to stand by the Union, reanimated public confidence and strengthened the hopes of many, but to be disappointed, for adverse forces and traitorous minds were still at work.

On the 9th of January rebel batteries in Charleston harbor fired upon the Star of the West, a swift merchant steamer chartered by the General Government in New York city, and sent from there on the night of the 5th, loaded with needed supplies and men for the relief of Major Anderson; they continued their fire after the captain had displayed the flag of their country—of the United States.

The news of this act aroused the people of this State and of the whole country. Joint resolutions were promptly introduced in, and speedily adopted with but three dissenting votes by, the Legislature, referring to the outrage upon the Star of the West; to the seizures of National property by Southern States; to the treasonable avowals of Southern Senators; to the value of the Union and the necessity of its perpetuity; hailing with joy the special message of the President, in which he declared his intention to use the military power against all who resisted the Federal authority, and tendering him whatever aid in men and money he might require to uphold the authority of the government; they also expressed gratitude for the courage and patriotism of those representatives and citizens of and in the South, who labored to save their States from the vortex of secession. These resolutions truthfully reflected the sentiment of the people of the Empire State, and copies of them were transmitted to the President, the Governors of the States, and to the United States Senators from this State.

In the South these resolutions met with no favor. The Governor of Virginia understood them to be a declaration of the readiness of New York to coerce the slave-holding States into submission to Federal authority. By one or two of the Southern States the resolutions were returned without comment. The Convention of Georgia, then in session, as a response to them, adopted resolutions approving the seizure, by troops of the State, of Fort Pulaski, and requested the Governor to hold the fort until the relations of Georgia to the United States should be determined.

To add to the gloom of the situation Mississippi seceded on the same day the Palmetto secessionists fired upon their country's flag; Florida followed on the next day; Alabama on the 11th; Georgia on the 19th; Louisiana on the 26th of January, and Texas on the 1st of February.

On the 24th of January the Governor transmitted to the Legislature the resolutions of the General Assembly of Virginia, inviting all States, willing to unite in an earnest effort to adjust the existing controversies and to afford adequate guarantees to the slave-holding States, to appoint commissioners to meet in Washington on the 4th of February following. He recommended the appointment of a commission as requested, and that it be composed of men in whose character and patriotism the people could have full confidence; he also urged that no proper effort should be left untried to maintain by peaceful means the Union as it had existed for almost a century. Gladly responding to this invitation of Virginia to aid in effecting a settlement, if possible, of the serious and important questions agitating the public mind, the Legislature, a few days later, elected as commissioners from this State Messrs. David Dudley Field, William Curtis Noyes, James S. Wadsworth, James C. Smith, Amaziah B. James, Erastus Corning, Addison Gardiner, Greene C. Bronson, William E. Dodge, John A. King and John E. Wool. Mr. Gardiner declined and Mr. Thurlow Weed was appointed in his place. On Mr. Weed's non-acceptance Mr. Francis Granger was selected to succeed him, and took his seat in the convention. The proceedings of this body—the Peace Conference—were without results. It could not be otherwise, for on the day it met, the Provincial Congress or Convention of the seceded States met at Montgomery, Ala., and by the 18th of February had adopted and inaugurated a government, to be known as “the Confederate States of America.”

On the 5th of February the Governor of Georgia ordered the seizure, in the harbor of Savannah, of several vessels owned in the city of New York, in reprisal for the detention, by the Metropolitan police of the city, of arms consigned to the State of Georgia; three days later, however, the vessels were released. On the 21st this Governor again ordered the seizure of New York shipping at Savannah, and directed that the ships be detained until the arms, still held by the police, were delivered to his agent in New York city. Munitions of war were being shipped from the North to the Southern States. Proposing to stop this traffic, the police authorities of New York city, ordered in the latter part of January the detention of an invoice of arms about being shipped to Savannah. Correspondence by telegraph ensued, and a formal demand was made on the mayor of the city, by an agent of Georgia, for the release of the arms. A like demand was also made, by telegraph, by the Governor of Georgia on the Executive of this State, who responded that the grave character and unofficial form of the missive forbade action until better authenticated information should be received. Letters arrived in due time and to the renewed demand of Georgia's Governor Governor Morgan replied: “* * * Assuming I have authority to do so, you expect me to surrender (or formally to withhold) the property alleged to be in the possession of the superintendent of the Metropolitan police, by a given date. Permit me to say, that as Governor of this State, I have no power whatever over the officer who made the seizure, and had no more knowledge of the fact, nor have I any more connection with the transaction, than has any other citizen of this State; but I do not hesitate to say that the arms will be delivered whenever application shall be made for them. Should such not be the case however, redress is to be sought, not in an appeal to the Executive authority of New York to exercise a merely arbitrary power, but in due form of law, through the regularly constituted tribunals of justice of the State or of the United States, as the parties aggrieved may elect. It is but proper here to say, that the courts are at all times open to suitors, and no complaint has reached me of the inability or unwillingness of judicial officers to render exact justice to all. If, however, the fact be otherwise, whatever authority the Constitution and the laws vest in me, for compelling a performance of their duty, will be promptly exercised. In conclusion permit me to say that, while differing widely with your Excellency as to the right or policy of your acts and of the views expressed in your several communications, I have the honor to be, * * *." The police authorities delivered the arms in question to the agent of the State of Georgia on the 16th of March.

On the 18th of February the President-elect was received at the Capitol as the guest of the State, and was cordially welcomed by the Governor, the Legislature and the citizens. The chairman of the committee, on the part of the Legislature, pledged him the support of the State of New York in the discharge of his constitutional duties. For this he expressed his gratitude, and added: "While I hold myself, without mock modesty, the humblest of all individuals that have been elected to the presidency, I have a more difficult task to perform than any of them."

Events were daily rendering it more and more likely that the domestic discord would terminate in open hostilities. The probabilities of this, and the means for subduing the expected hostilities were discussed at every fireside throughout the land. The decadence of the military spirit of the people at large had been gradual, but nearly absolute. Public money expended to maintain a Militia establishment was regarded as wasted. But notwithstanding the general apathy of the people, there were still a few men in every portion of the State, and especially at the principal centres, who did not permit the military spirit wholly to die out, and specially noted among them was General Frederick Townsend of Albany, who as Adjutant-General of the State from 1857 to 1860 re-organized the uniformed Militia and made it a serviceable body. The principal lack was in material of war. The strength of the organized Militia was nominally nineteen thousand men; to arm this force the State possessed but about eight thousand muskets and rifles, and one hundred and fifty smooth-bore field pieces, of most every calibre. The National authorities were in no condition to supply the want, the late Secretary of War having, with treasonable intent, sent thousands of muskets from the Watervliet arsenal to the South. This want had however, been brought to the notice of the Legislature by the Governor, who in his annual message had pointed out the lack of serviceable military stores, and that the organized Militia was not provided with reliable weapons, and had asked the Legislature to take early measures to supply these deficiencies, recommending for that purpose an appropriation, to be used at the discretion of the military department of the State, and a bill had been introduced providing half a million dollars for the purchase of arms and equipments. This bill was, however, not passed by the Legislature until just before the close of the session, when events had demonstrated the imperative necessity of the measure.

AT THE BEGINNING OF THE WAR AND IN 1861.

At half-past four o'clock of the morning of the 12th day of April a shot was fired from the mortar battery near old Fort Johnson, and a moment later fell upon Fort Sumter, under the flag of the United States. This shot, although not the first fired upon the National flag, inaugurated a conflict of gigantic proportions and far-reaching consequences, from which the United States emerged forever as one country and one nation.

The bombardment of Fort Sumter was shortly followed by its surrender, which became known at the capital of the State on Sunday morning the 14th. The news came upon the people of this State as an event too sad for full belief. But the suddenness of the intelligence was followed by prompt and efficient action in every quarter. A meeting took place in the afternoon at the Executive chamber. There were present the Governor and other State officers, the Speaker of the Assembly and members of the military and finance committees of the two houses. A committee, consisting of the Attorney-General, the Adjutant-General, the Inspector-General, Mr. Blood of the Senate and Mr. Robinson of the Assembly, was appointed to draft a bill to be submitted to the Legislature the following morning. As drawn by the committee, the bill invested the Governor with the power of its execution, and provided for the enrollment of thirty thousand volunteer Militia to serve for two years, appropriating three million dollars to meet the expense. The Legislature connected the State officers with the Governor in the raising and organizing of these troops and passed the bill thus modified, and the Governor approved it on the 16th. The commission thus formed was popularly known as the "State Military Board," and consisted of the Governor of the State, Edwin D. Morgan; the Lieutenant-Governor, Robert Campbell of Bath; the Secretary of State, David R. Floyd-Jones of South Oyster Bay; the Comptroller, Robert Denniston of Salisbury Mills; the Attorney-General, Charles G. Myers of Ogdensburg; the State Engineer and Surveyor, Van Rensselaer Richmond of Lyons; and the State Treasurer, Philip Dorsheimer of Buffalo.

On the 15th of April the President issued his proclamation calling forth the Militia of the several States to the number of seventy-five thousand men, to suppress treasonable combinations and to cause the laws to be duly executed. The quota assigned to this State consisted of seventeen regiments, each of seven hundred and eighty officers and enlisted men, making in the aggregate a force of thirteen thousand, two hundred and eighty men.

The State Military Board met on the evening of the 16th and the Governor submitted a dispatch from the Secretary of War, to the effect that the men called for were to be mustered into immediate service, and that he would be gratified to have one or more regiments march to Washington before the close of the week. The situation demanded prompt action; the Governor at once issued orders for the available organized Militia to march; the Board resolved that seventeen regiments of seven hundred and eighty men each, be enrolled and mustered into service for two years, and made provisions for the prompt transportation to Washington of the regiments of the organized Militia ordered into service by the Governor, as well as of the volunteer Militia authorized by it, and for procuring necessary quarters; hospital, medical and other supplies. There was need of this action; communication with Washington was severed, and the condition of affairs there was such, that the State was left in most part to supply transportation for her troops; indeed every thing in the way of accommodations for volunteers, sick and well, was to be provided by the State authorities.

The Governor's military staff was composed of men, who were competent for the new and weighty duties now falling upon them. No time was given to deliberate, the work was pressed upon their attention at once. The details, as well as the general duties of the several staff departments were instantly and vigorously entered upon. An army of forty thousand men, including the organized Militia, was to be prepared for the field and all the staff officers were more than fully employed. During his administration Governor Morgan's staff consisted of: Adjutant-General J. Meredith Reed, Jr., of Albany, who resigned on account of ill health August 14, 1861, and was succeeded by Thomas Hillhouse of Geneva; Inspector-General William A. Jackson of Albany, who resigned May 17, 1861, to become Colonel of the 18th Volunteers, followed by Marsena R. Patrick, who resigned February 10, 1862, to become Brigadier-General of Volunteers, in whose place was appointed Chester A. Arthur, who resigned July 9, 1862, to become Quartermaster-General and who was succeeded by Cuyler Van Vechten; Judge-Advocate General William Henry Anthon of New York city; Quartermaster-General Cuyler Van Vechten of Albany, who July 9, 1862, was appointed Inspector-General and was replaced by Chester A. Arthur; Surgeon-General S. Oakley Vanderpoel of Albany; Paymaster-General Thomas B. Van Buren, succeeded by George Bliss, Jr., February 27, 1862, upon becoming Colonel of the 102d Volunteers; Engineer-in-Chief Chester A. Arthur, appointed Inspector-General February 10, 1862; Chief of Ordnance, the constitutional Commissary-General, Benjamin Welch, Jr., of Buffalo; Aides-de-Camp Edwin D. Morgan, Jr., of New York city, resigned May 13, 1861; Edmund Schriver from May 13 to September 2, 1861; Thomas B. Arden from September 2, 1861; Samuel D. Bradford, Jr., resigned January 31, 1862; Francis M. Rotch from February 12, 1862; Elliott F. Shepard and John H. Linsley. Several officers of the Regular Army were assigned to temporary duty at Albany about this period, to assist the military department by their experience; of these were Colonels Delafield, Schriver and Keyes, whose names are prominent in the annals of the war.

Depots were established at New York city, Albany and Elmira, and Brigadier-Generals Charles Yates, John F. Rathbone and Robert B. Van Valkenburgh of the organized Militia, respectively, placed in command of them. Branch depots were also opened at Syracuse and Troy, and Brigadier-Generals Robert M. Richardson and Darius Allen, respectively, assigned to their charge. Orders were issued for the rendezvous and organization of men, of whom many were already arriving at these depots — even before authority to receive them existed — often, indeed, presenting themselves unannounced; and such was the patriotic spirit of the people that many, obviously unfit physically and by reason of age, came with the able-bodied volunteers.

Worthily interpreting the spirit of their constituency, the Legislature prolonged its session and redoubled its labors. Loyal men of all political opinions rallied around the flag of their country; and it should be remembered as one of the noblest manifestations of that period of danger, how enthusiastically the last hours of the Senate and Assembly were devoted to the duties of patriotism. Nearly a score of these legislators, who with their votes initiated the work of preparing the way of their State, followed up the public pledge, then given, with the sword. The life blood of some of these earnest men too soon became the tribute of their devotion, and they stand conspicuous in the roll of the immortal as the representative heroes of the Legislature of the State. In this, the eighty-fourth session of the Legislature, the people of the State were represented

While officials were thus engaged, the people were alive with zeal in preparing to answer the call of the government. They held public meetings; adopted patriotic addresses; raised money and enrolled men; in every part of the State. Past political differences were forgotten. Flags were floating from church steeples, public buildings, school-houses and private residences. The thrilling tones of the loyal press penetrated every household, and gave utterance to the popular enthusiasm; its representatives threw down the pen and grasped the sword; they proposed to make the history, which they were afterward to chronicle. All was animation and a state of peace had suddenly been transformed into a condition of war. From every quarter came applications for authority to raise troops. The people were sensitively alive to the demands of the hour.* Real or fancied delays, whether inevitable or not, were censured without stint, if not without reason. Private liberality knew no bounds.

The emergency and the danger to the National Capital were great, and well it was that some of the genuine fire of the military spirit had been kept alive. The Militia regiments ordered out by the Governor for a service of three months, responded to the pressing call with an alacrity that stands to their perpetual credit. This prompt response no doubt saved the capital from capture and spoliation. The hearts of all were quickened, when the lightning flashed from Washington its missive of doubt and despondency, of painful peril, of glad and heartfelt relief! How startling was the first summons, flashed along the wires from the threatened seat of the government; how incessant the fiery messages thereafter. Numberless messages of alarm and counsel poured upon the Governor from Washington and all parts of the State; they were the throbbings of the heart of the people.

On the 18th of April the Governor issued his proclamation calling upon the people for volunteers for the seventeen regiments authorized by the State Military Board, under the act passed by the Legislature. On the 19th a great meeting of merchants was held in New York city; resolutions to sustain the government were adopted, and at the announcement that several regiments, then organizing, needed assistance, more than twenty thousand dollars were raised in ten minutes' time. On the same day the famous Seventh Militia, amidst great enthusiasm, left for the city of Washington.

The next day, the 20th, occurred that memorable meeting in Union Square, New York city, of two hundred thousand of the people. Leading citizens without distinction of party, met there to unite their voices in support of the government. The surging crowds that filled the streets, drowned all noises in their huzzas for the Union. The meeting was an important one in every sense; its action gave direction to popular sentiment everywhere, and the Union Defense Committee was then formed from the foremost citizens of the great Metropolis. Conventions and meetings were held on the same day in Schenectady, Hudson, Utica, Oswego and Rochester, and troops raised and means provided. The people of Poughkeepsie, Troy, Auburn, Syracuse and Buffalo also met to counsel on the best mode of responding to the country's call. Town and village, great and small, were likewise engaged. Albany and Elmira were changed, in a few hours, from business centres into military camps.

On the 21st, the Sixth, Twelfth and Seventy-first regiments of the Militia left the city of New York en route for Washington. On the 22d, a patriotic meeting of the Bench and Bar of New York city took place, at which money was subscribed by the thousands; the city of New York appropriated one million dollars for fitting out soldiers and supporting the families of volunteers; and the Twenty-fifth regiment of Militia left Albany for the endangered Capital of the country. The succeeding day, the 23d, witnessed a great meeting in Brooklyn, at which Robert J. Walker, a former Cabinet officer, and resident of a seceded State, addressed the people; and the departure from Brooklyn of the Thirteenth, and from New York city of the Eighth and Sixty-ninth regiments of the organized Militia of the State. On the 26th, the Secretary of War wrote to the Governor: "I have to repeat the acknowledgments of this department for your very prompt and energetic action in sending forward the troops of your State." On the 27th the Fifth regiment of Militia of New York city; on the 28th the Twentieth regiment of Militia of Kingston; on the 29th the Ellsworth Fire Zouaves, later the Eleventh Volunteers, a two years' regiment, of New York city, and on the 30th the Twenty-eighth regiment of Militia of Brooklyn, left the State for active service.

The remaining regiments of the organized Militia were preparing to march, when in the first days of May, their orders were countermanded upon receipt of information from the General Government, that no more three months' men were desired. Four companies of the Seventy-fourth Militia volunteered then, and left Buffalo for Elmira May 3d, escorted to the depot by the Home Guards, of which Ex-President Fillmore was major and in command.

The Militia regiments, when starting for Washington, were accompanied to the points of embarkation by immense crowds. Their line of march was a perfect ovation; thousands filled the sidewalks; private and public buildings were decorated with banners, and there were many touching scenes of farewell taking, but no faltering among the men.

The enlistment of volunteers under the Governor's proclamation of the 18th of April proceeded with great rapidity. On the 22d, only a week after the proclamation of the President, eighty-two companies had been accepted, and the State Military Board adopted a resolution "to organize the remainder of the force provided for in the act of April 16th."

Firearms were now the serious want. On the 24th of April an agent was sent to Europe to purchase twenty-five thousand stands of the most approved pattern, and also a supply of fixed ammunition. The agent carried a letter of credit for half a million dollars, and a communication from the Governor to Lord Palmerston, requesting him to sanction these purchases by the State. The Governor-General of Canada, meanwhile applied to for authority to purchase arms in his territory, replied that he was not permitted to allow munitions of war to be taken from that province. In Europe the agent found that large orders had been sent out from this country and that the Spanish government was a heavy purchaser of arms in the British markets. He, however, obtained nineteen thousand Enfield muskets at a cost of three hundred and thirty-five thousand dollars. His first shipment was refused passage by the English steamship company, though sent to Galway by the house of Baring Brothers.

On the 25th of April the Governor, in accordance with the resolution adopted by the State Military Board, issued his proclamation for volunteers for twenty-one additional regiments, making the total number of regiments to be organized for two years' service thirty-eight, and completing the force of volunteer Militia authorized by law.

Public manifestations increased. Nationalities vied with each other in the work of raising regiments and sustaining the government. On the 25th of April an enthusiastic meeting of the British residents was held in New York city; followed a few days later by a Union meeting of the French residents. The Germans met frequently in large assemblages, and other nationalities were equally active. Distinctive regiments of Irish, Scotch, Germans and French were being raised for the war. The Common Council of Buffalo made a large appropriation to equip a local regiment. Troy established a special depot and raised money for its support. Other cities and towns were not behind in the work. Collections were made in churches and at other assemblages for furnishing needed supplies for the soldiers and for supporting their families. Active patriotism prevailed in business circles; bankers and commercial men were furnishing money by the tens of thousands. Mechanics and manufacturers were vying with others in the work of forwarding men and providing for those at home. Representatives of all professions and pursuits were found in the ranks or hastening to the rendezvous. The Union Defense Committee, the Merchants' and the German committees, the Chamber of Commerce, churches and citizens of New York city and of other localities, throughout the State, assisted with money in defraying the expenses of the organizations springing up all over the country.

On the 7th of May the Governor, expressing his gratification at the alacrity and self-sacrificing spirit displayed by the people, announced, that the maximum number allowed by the act of April 16th, having been enrolled, no expenditure of time or means should be uselessly incurred by the patriotic citizens of the State in further efforts for new organizations.

May 3d, the President issued a call for forty-two thousand and thirty-four volunteers for a service of three years, and the War Department granted authority to committees and individuals to recruit regiments, crediting them to the State, so that when, May 25th, the organization of the thirty-eight two-years' regiments was completed, the number of men required from this State was found to be already filled, while but a part of the troops raised by the State authorities had been accepted by the General Government. This created a serious embarrassment, and a delay in forwarding troops. The term of service of the New York contingent had been fixed by law at two years and could therefore not be changed, otherwise matters could have been arranged more quickly. However, the State Board insisted that the troops raised by authority of the State should be received without regard to those tendered or raised by committees and unofficial persons, and finally, June 12th, Secretary of War Cameron ordered the muster into the United States service of all the regiments which had been enrolled into the State service. A small number of these had been, meanwhile, mustered in for three months, causing at the expiration of that time, when the Governor, at the request of the War Department, ordered them to continue in the United States service for the unexpired term of their State service, no little evil and dissatisfaction. Under the President's call of May 3d and authority received from the War Department, there were organized for a service of three years, principally under the auspices of the Union Defense Committee of New York city: The Garibaldi Guard, the Mozart Regiment, the De Kalb Regiment, the Tammany Jackson Guard, the Second, Ninth, Fourteenth and Seventy-ninth regiments of Militia.

May 14th the Secretary of War on the part of the President, again thanked the Governor and his staff, for seconding the call of the President for troops in such prompt and efficient manner.

Early in July the General Government requested some mounted troops and two companies were forwarded, one company composed of volunteers from the First, the other of volunteers from the Third, regiment of cavalry of the State Militia; they entered the United States service for three months.

By July 12th the last volunteer organization had left the State, and at that date there had been placed in the United States service by this State: Of the organized Militia for three months' service 8,534 men; of two years' volunteers 30,131 men; of three years' volunteers 7,557 men; making a total of 46,224 officers and enlisted men. The depots were closed and recruiting suspended.

The tide of volunteering was still at flood. Applications for authority to raise additional companies were as strongly pressed as at any time since the firing upon Fort Sumter, but the General Government declined to accept more men. The Governor asked for the privilege of accepting a certain number of companies and suggested that they be sent to camps of instruction within the State, and thus a well-drilled force be provided for emergencies. Long Island and the vicinity of Buffalo were two of the points suggested for the encampment, and the latter city formally tendered an eligible site on the shores of Lake Erie for this purpose. In regard to the former locality, a competent officer, after examining several points, had selected a suitable spot not far from New York city. The Federal authorities, however, had not assented to this policy, when the defeat at Bull Run, July 21st, changed the aspect of affairs, gave a new direction to the efforts of the State, and opened a new period of the War of the Rebellion.

The defeat at Bull Run, while it filled the people with pain and sorrow, had no depressing effect on their patriotic spirit; on the contrary the desire to uphold the Government, to preserve and protect the Union and the Nation seemed, if possible, to grow stronger than at any time before. The people at large were also beginning to appreciate that the struggle had but begun, and that the end was not as near as many had heretofore believed and expected. Men and means were liberally offered, and when on the day after the reverse, the President approved the act of Congress authorizing the organization of an army of five hundred thousand men, with power to increase the force whenever he should deem it necessary, his action and that of Congress were warmly applauded and supported.

At the request of the President, Governor Morgan issued, July 25th, a proclamation calling for twenty-five thousand volunteers for three years' service, to be organized in twenty-five regiments of infantry, and July 30th, the Governor, at the request of the War Department, called for volunteers for four additional regiments, two of cavalry and two of artillery.

On the 26th of July three regiments of colored men to serve during the war, were tendered to the Governor, with the assurance that their arms, equipments, clothing and pay, while in the service, would be provided by the colored population of the State. There being no authority to enroll colored men, the offer had to be declined; but this appreciation of the struggle before the country, and the loyal spirit the offer indicated, deserve to be placed on record.

On the 31st of July the depots at New York city, Albany and Elmira were reopened, with the same efficient officers in command, and recruiting and organizing recommenced with vigor and energy. No quota was assigned to the State at the time; the troops were raised under the act of Congress approved July 22d; however, when in June, 1862, it became necessary to determine what the quota should have been, in order to make further calls, it was decided that since the President's call of April 15th, this State should have been required to furnish one hundred and nine thousand and fifty-six three years' volunteers. The Union Defense Committee, the German and other committees of New York city, Brooklyn, and the other cities and localities of the State, which had rendered such valuable services in April and May, renewed their former efforts, and aided in every possible way the officers of the State. The ardor of the people cannot be described; requests for authority to raise regiments and to recruit companies flooded the military department, and it became necessary to establish branch depots for the reception of companies and the organization of regiments, to meet the spirit of the people and to enable prompt and fruitful co-operation on the part of the various committees and many persons of influence. Such depots were established between August 23d and November 2d, in the order named, at: Oswego, Saratoga, Buffalo, Rochester, Ogdensburgh, Auburn, Kingston, Westfield, in the first district of the county of New York, Syracuse, Brooklyn, Boonville, Geneseo, Cortlandville, Plattsburgh, Cherry Valley, Potsdam, Malone, Unadilla, Hancock, Madison Barracks, Lyons, Utica, Le Roy and Ninevah.

Up to this time the largest portion of the expenses incurred in recruiting, quartering, subsisting, uniforming, arming, transporting, and even paying the troops raised in the State, especially in the case of the Militia and the two years' regiments, had been borne by the State; but August 15th, the officers of the Regular Army, who had been detailed to muster in the new levy, were constituted disbursing officers of the General Government and, Congress having passed the necessary appropriation, provided with funds for the payment of expenses of the nature mentioned, relieving the State largely, but not entirely, from that duty.

In August the regiments of the organized Militia, which had so promptly marched to the front in April, and had since rendered valuable service on the field of battle and in camp and garrison, returned to their home stations and were received by a grateful people with enthusiastic demonstrations of approval and appreciation. Many of these men at once re-entered the service of their country as volunteers.

No better description can be given of the situation at this time, of the patriotic spirit prevailing all, than is contained in the proclamation of the Governor, issued on the 22d of August, and here reproduced, wherein, while appealing to the people, he speaks for them in unmistakable words: "A conspiracy, not the work of a day, but the result of years of false, wicked and traitorous machinations, has, for several months, disturbed the peace of the State of New York and of the Federal Union. Its movements have been marked by violence and fraud. Wherever it has manifested itself, it has disregarded the rights of citizens, coerced them into the ranks of its armies, and exercised an absolute control over persons and property, in utter defiance of the Constitution and laws of the land. Ambitious and designing men, disappointed in their personal aims, have been enabled, chiefly by misrepresenting the feelings of one portion of the country toward the other, to usurp and exercise a power which has become not only tyrannical and oppressive in the several States whose constitutional governments it has temporarily suspended, but dangerous to the entire Union. The pretences originally held forth as a justification for acts of lawlessness and treason have been laid aside. The intention of the leaders of this wicked Rebellion to destroy the Union, cemented by the blood of our forefathers, is now fully manifested; and elated by an accidental success, they audaciously threaten the National Capital. As Chief Magistrate of the State, it is my solemn duty to warn all good and loyal men of the dangers to which our institutions are exposed, and to urge upon them the necessity of an earnest and zealous co-operation with the authorities of the State and General Government, of a cheerful contribution of their means to support the public credit, and of active enrollment in the forces now being organized for the defence of the Union, convinced that the tranquillity of the country, so wantonly disturbed, can only be restored by the prompt and vigorous suppression of rebellion and treason wherever they may appear. The Representatives of the people of the United States, lately convened in Congress, at the call of a constitutionally elected President, in view of the perils which surround the Union, have, by legislative enactment, provided for liberal supplies of men and means for the enforcement of the laws, and have thus invited a hearty and zealous response on the part of the several States. New York has never wavered in her devotion to the Union. She prizes it on account of the many blessings which all parts of the country alike have received from it, on account of the memory of her patriot sons by whose blood it was purchased, and for the inestimable benefit it confers upon the present, and secures to future generations. Her noble response to the call of the President, in April last, was such as preserved to her the proud title she has long borne in the family of States. Another stage in the great Rebellion has been reached; and the Government, appreciating the dangers now menacing it, appeals for aid. The whole country, the civilized world, now looks to the State of New York. Let the response be worthy of her history. Let her answer go back in full ranks of earnest men, who justly valuing the magnitude of the interests involved, temporarily relinquish their pursuits and prepare to meet the crisis."

August 28th, the War Department authorized recruiting for organizations in the field, and ordered details from such as required recruits, to be sent to this State for that purpose.

Ever since May the War Department had been granting authority to individuals to recruit and organize regiments and batteries, independent of the State authorities. Some of these were worthy men, while others were not calculated to meet with success. Their recruiting parties were all over the State and created innumerable complications and annoyances for the authorities. September 5th, upon the representations of the Governor, the Secretary of War ordered all residents of the State, who had received from his department authority to recruit and organize, to report to the Executive of this State for orders, and to complete their respective organizations with his approval; empowering him to revoke any authority granted, or to consolidate organizations, as he deemed best for the interests of the country. This action was timely, and put an end to the many vexatious delays and interferences met with by the State officers.

To expedite and simplify the organizing, equipping, subsisting and forwarding of troops, Governor Morgan consented to accept the position of Major-General of United States Volunteers, and October 26th the President created the Military Department of New York, comprising the State, and placed the Governor, as Major-General, in command of it. Major-General Morgan assumed command November 1st.

October 28th, the General Government requested that no more regiments of cavalry be organized, and November 27th it extended the request also to infantry. December 3rd the War Department, in General Orders, directed that no more new regiments should be recruited; that incomplete organizations should be consolidated, and all organizations still in the States forwarded as quickly as possible. This of course discontinued recruiting. Steps were at once taken to consolidate incomplete organizations which, it was thought, would not be able to fill their ranks within a short time. Other regiments nearly completed, and whose ranks, it was known, could be filled in a few weeks, received special authority to continue recruiting.

The recruiting parties for organizations in the field had not been idle; it is estimated, no exact account having been recorded, that they recruited and sent to their respective organizations before the close of the year about eleven thousand men.

At the close of the year there had been sent to the front since August, or rather since September, for August was more a month of preparation than of action, forty-two regiments of infantry, ten regiments of cavalry, one battalion of mounted rifles, two regiments of artillery, two battalions of artillery, one rocket battalion, nine independent batteries, and four companies of Berdan sharpshooters, and there were still left in the State regiments ready to start, and others not completed, numbering fourteen thousand two hundred and eighty-three men; making the total number recruited for new and old organizations, seventy-five thousand three hundred and thirty-nine men.

IN 1862.

The Legislature of the State met in its eighty-fifth session a few days after the commencement of the year. Like its predecessor, it was composed of men worthy to represent a loyal and patriotic people. The Governor, in his message, ably portrayed the situation and described the work of the past year. The session was largely occupied in authorizing counties, cities, towns and villages to raise means for the equipment of volunteers and for the relief of their families. Ordinances and acts by communities, already passed and executed, appropriating money in aid of the defence of the National Union, were legalized. The Comptroller of the State was empowered to provide means to the extent of three hundred and fifty thousand dollars, for the pay of volunteers still in the State, due on the 1st of January, but not yet paid by the United States. There was no hesitation on the part of the authorities and the people in providing for the soldiers the State had called forth, and the families they had left behind. Measures were also provided by act for the proper payment and distribution, by the State, of such sums of their pay as may have been or may hereafter be assigned by the volunteers for the benefit of their families or others. Provision was made for the prompt payment of the direct tax levied by act of Congress and apportioned to the State; of expenses incurred in the organization, equipment and subsistence of troops; and for reimbursement of Militia regiments for clothing and equipments lost and destroyed while in the United States service. Toward the close of the session an act was passed for the better enrollment of the Militia, the organization and discipline of the National Guard, the designation given to the organized Militia, and for public defence. February 17th, the Legislature also passed a concurrent resolution giving thanks to the officers and soldiers for the recent victories of the National arms at Forts Henry and Donelson, at Roanoke Island, Savannah and other points. Chapter 420, passed April 22d, incorporated the Union Home and School for the education and maintenance of the children of volunteers, under the management of noble women of the State. In short every thing that could be done for the comfort of those who had entered their country's service, for those they left behind, and for those who were yet to enter the ranks, was promptly and loyally done by this Legislature, the members of which were:

The General Government had issued orders, to take effect January 1st, placing the recruiting service in the States, for the forces in the field, under the charge of General Superintendents, and directing that general depots be provided for the collection and instruction of recruits. Major John T. Sprague, of the Regular Army, was detailed by the War Department as General Superintendent for this State, and selected Elmira and Albany as points for the establishment of his general depots. The State authorities turned over the barracks, hospitals and other facilities at these points to the United States, Colonel E. F. Shepard, aide-de-camp, who had relieved General Van Valkenburgh on the 1st of December last, being directed, January 18th, to turn over the depot at Elmira to Major Sprague, and General Rathbone, in command of the depot at Albany, receiving similar directions March 21st. Under this order of the General Government the State authorities were relieved from the work of recruiting, except for new regiments and companies, but their assistance and co-operation were heartily given to the General Superintendent. These orders remained in force until April 3d only, when the recruiting service for old organizations was also discontinued. An error, whatever may have caused the suspension; men were needed to fill the regiments already in the field, and there was no recruiting going on in the State for new organizations. Not until June 6th was recruiting again resumed, but the State authorities issued orders, May 23d, for the recruiting and organization of companies for regiments in the field in which vacancies for such existed or could be made. January 25th General Yates was relieved from the charge of the depot at New York city to take effect February 1st, and Colonel George Bliss, Jr., detailed to perform the duties connected with the organization of volunteer regiments and companies in and about the city of New York.

The defences of New York Harbor had been a source of concern for some time, and on the 12th of March the Governor ordered General Chester A. Arthur, the Inspector-General of the State, to visit the forts in and around New York city, to report their condition and what would be necessary to place them in a complete state of defence. Upon that officer's report the Governor as commanding general of the department, furnished suitable garrisons and such armament as could be obtained from the General Government.

Early in April the Secretary of War requested Major-General Morgan to provide accommodation in New York city for the sick and wounded of the army on the Peninsula, who might be sent to the rear. The Legislature had already appropriated thirty thousand dollars for this purpose, and plans to expend this sum in such manner as would best promote the object in view, had been decided upon. On the 18th, the Governor ordered Colonel George Bliss, Jr., to put, under the supervision of the Surgeon-General, into proper condition for hospital purposes and for the good care of the sick and wounded of the troops from this State, such of the barracks for volunteers in or near the city of New York, as would be best calculated for that purpose; extensive accommodations were also prepared at Albany. At the request of the General Government the State turned over to it all these hospitals, except the Park Barracks Hospital at New York city, in which over fourteen thousand men of this and other States, received proper care and treatment, on the part of this State, during the months of April, May, June, July and August, when it was discontinued.

On the 18th of April General S. Oakley Vanderpoel, Surgeon-General of the State, was directed to proceed to Fort Monroe and to General McClellan's army to make and superintend on the part of the State, such arrangements for the care and treatment of sick and wounded volunteers, and for their transportation home, as in consultation with the medical officers of the army, he should find best to promote these objects. On the 24th Colonel Francis M. Rotch, aide-de-camp to the Governor, was dispatched to assist the Surgeon-General. May 8th, General Arthur was sent to Yorktown for the same purpose. Every effort was made by these officers, as far as in their power, to provide prompt transportation to the State of, and the needful comforts for, the sick. June 12th these efforts were renewed and General Benj. Welch, Jr., Chief of Ordnance, and Colonel Rotch, again, sent to Fort Monroe and the Army of the Potomac to insure success. Colonel Rotch had also a mission to the army relating to the regiments from this State, their condition and the appointment and promotion of officers.

The military department was employed from the beginning of the year to the end of April in completing and forwarding the organizations left in the State on the last day of the past year. By enlistments these had been increased in number, so that when they were turned over to the General Government, their total strength was nineteen thousand and three men, formed in two regiments and four independent batteries of artillery and nineteen regiments of infantry.

May 21st, the War Department indicated that an additional force of infantry volunteers for three years, would be accepted, and on the 23d, the Governor issued orders to raise as many companies as practicable, designating the depots New York city, Elmira and Albany as places of rendezvous and assigning as commandants of these depots Colonels George Bliss, Jr., and E. F. Shepard, and General Cuyler Van Vechten, of his staff, respectively. Colonel Shepard was relieved by Colonel R. B. Van Valkenburgh July 21st, 1862, and he by Major Samuel M. Alley August 14th, 1862. On the completion of sufficient companies, they were to be formed, at the depots, into regiments under field officers appointed by the Governor.

The movements of the enemy in the Shenandoah Valley were now developing themselves to the disadvantage of the Federal arms, and on the 24th of May the Secretary of War requested the Governor to forward at once regiments of the organized Militia — the National Guard. The Governor promptly responded to the request by ordering the Guard to march without delay. Between the 26th of May and the 4th of June twelve regiments, the Seventh, Eleventh, Twenty-second, Seventy-first, Eighth, Thirty-seventh, Thirteenth, Forty-seventh, Sixty-ninth, Nineteenth, Twenty-fifth and Twelfth, completely armed and equipped, numbering in the aggregate eight thousand five hundred and eighty-eight men, left the State and entered the service of the United States for three months; the Seventh called out but for thirty days, volunteered for the longer term. More regiments were preparing to follow, but as the Secretary of War, the impending danger having been averted, requested that no more three months' men be sent, their marching orders were revoked. The promptness with which the National Guard responded to the call of the Governor is worthy of notice. Composed mainly of citizens engaged in active business pursuits, it involved no light sacrifice. Most of the regiments had volunteered under a similar exigency in 1861, and the value of their services had been fully appreciated and acknowledged by the General Government. On this occasion their presence at a critical period, was no less opportune, and the Secretary of War expressed his approval of the alacrity with which they moved to the front, and his sense of the importance of the services rendered to the country.

June 3d, under the act of the Legislature passed April 23d, the Governor ordered an enrollment to be made, forthwith, of all persons within the State liable to military duty, and intrusted the work to the commanding officers of regiments and companies of the National Guard. The enrollment was made, however, but imperfectly.

June 18th, the Trustees of Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, having generously tendered a portion of their grounds for the interment of soldiers, in the volunteer service from this State, who may fall in battle or die of disease, regulations governing such interments, were published by the Adjutant-General.

June 28th, at the suggestion of the Chief Magistrate of this State, the Governors of the loyal States united in, and forwarded, the following to the President: "The undersigned, Governors of States of the Union, impressed with the belief that the citizens of the States which they respectively represent, are of one accord in the hearty desire that the recent successes of the Federal armies may be followed up by measures which must ensure the speedy restoration of the Union, and believing in view of the important military movements now in progress, and the reduced condition of our effective forces in the field, resulting from the usual and unavoidable casualties of the service, that the time has arrived for prompt and vigorous measures to be adopted by the people, in support of the great interests committed to your charge, we respectfully request, if it meets with your entire approval, that you at once call upon the several States for such numbers of men as may be required to fill up all military organizations now in the field, and add to the arms heretofore organized such additional numbers of men as may, in your judgment, be necessary to garrison and hold all of the numerous cities and military positions that have been captured by our armies, and to speedily crush the rebellion that still exists in several of the Southern States, thus practically restoring to the civilized world our great and good Government. All believe that the decisive moment is near at hand, and to that end the people of the United States are desirous to aid promptly in furnishing all reinforcements that you may deem needful to sustain our Government." To this the President replied, July 1st: "Gentlemen—fully concurring in the wisdom of the views expressed to me in so patriotic a manner, by you, in the communication of the 28th day of June, I have decided to call into the service an additional force of three hundred thousand men. I suggest and recommend that the troops should be chiefly of infantry. The quota of your State would be ——. I trust that they may be enrolled without delay, so as to bring this unnecessary and injurious civil war to a speedy and satisfactory conclusion. An order fixing the quota of the respective States will be issued by the War Department tomorrow."

The Governor, on the next day, the 2d of July, called upon the people of this State, in the following proclamation, to respond to the President's reply: "The President of the United States has duly called upon the country for an additional force of three hundred thousand volunteers to serve for three years, or the war. The wisdom of this is obvious to all. Our army in the field has been reduced by the ordinary casualties of the service and must be recruited, and the positions captured by our arms must be held by military authority. The people appreciate these facts. They fully estimate the magnitude of the great struggle, and the sacred obligations imposed upon them, and the necessity of exerting a power that will speedily quell the rebellion, restore the rightful authority of the Government and give peace to the country. This appeal is to the State of New York; it is to each citizen. Let it come to every fireside. Let the glorious example of the Revolutionary period be our emulation. Let each feel that the Commonwealth now counts upon his individual strength and influence to meet the demands of the Government. The period has come when all must aid. New York has not thus far stood back. Ready and more than willing, she has met every summons to duty. Let not her history be falsified, nor her position be lowered. We cannot doubt that the insurrection is in its death throes; that a mighty blow will end its monstrous existence. A languishing war entails vast losses of life, of property, the ruin of business pursuits, and invites the interference of foreign powers. Present happiness and future greatness will be secured by responding to the present call. Let the answer go back to the President and to our brave soldiers in the field, that in New York the patriotic list of the country's defenders is augmented. It will strengthen the hands of the one, and give hope and encouragement to the other. An order fixing the quota of this State, with others, will be immediately issued from the War Department. The details of organization will be in accordance with the orders from the Adjutant-General of New York. The State will be districted, local committees will be appointed, and regimental camps established."

The quota of this State was fixed at fifty-nine thousand seven hundred and five men, and July 7th orders were issued constituting the senatorial districts, except the first seven, regimental districts, and directing the formation of a regimental camp in each. Colonels were selected and appointed, to be commissioned when the regiments were recruited. Over three thousand authorizations to recruit companies were issued. The State became a vast military camp. Prominent citizens in each district were invited to form military committees, to assist the State officers in recruiting in their respective districts. The response of these gentlemen was what could be anticipated from men who, whatever may have been the difference in their political views, were earnestly desirous of supporting the Government, and ready to devote to that object their means and influence; and the rapidity with which the quota of the State was organized and placed in service, is due in a great measure to their unremitting, gratuitous and well-directed efforts.

As a further means of encouraging prompt enlistments, the Governor issued on the 17th of July the following proclamation offering a bounty on the part of the State: "Formal meetings of the people in different portions of the State, and individuals possessing the public confidence, have recommended me to convene the Legislature, to the end that a uniform bounty may be provided, to pay volunteers raised under the recent requisition of the President, in such manner that the burden shall not fall unequally upon localities. A call of the Legislature and the deliberation incident to the action of that body, necessarily involve delay, at a period when immediate action is of vital consequence to the military service. The popular will seems emphatically to demand that an additional premium be at once offered to promote enlistments. The exigency clearly requires the promptest action. Now, therefore, confidently believing that the people, through their representatives, will ratify and confirm this act, and after consultation with those officers, charged especially by law with superintending the fiscal concerns of the State, I do hereby offer and declare, that in addition to the bounty offered by the General Government, a bounty of fifty dollars will at once be paid to each private soldier who shall hereafter volunteer into the service of the United States. Regulations to that end will be immediately prepared and issued. This provision applies as well to recruits for regiments in the field, as to volunteers for the regiments now being raised. Individual and organized efforts are in no degree to be intermitted in consequence of this offer. On the contrary, it is hoped and expected that both will be stimulated thereby. The thinned ranks of our brave soldiers in the field appeal to us. Duty to ourselves, patriotism, every thing we hold most dear, urge us to action. Shall we prove unequal to the crisis? Let the next thirty days answer the momentous question." This was an important measure and its effects were immediate. The Commercial Bank of Albany advanced the State the money. On the 30th day of August this bounty was ordered to be paid after the 6th of September, only to men enlisting in organizations which were in the field before the 2d day of July last, and on the 24th day of September it was announced that no bounty would be paid by the State for enlistments made after the 30th day of that month.

On the 2d day of October it was officially proclaimed that the quota of the State was not only filled, but that there was also a surplus of twenty-nine thousand men to the credit of the State; recruiting for three years' men on the part of the State, was suspended, and the depots opened for nine months' men.

The arming, clothing and equipping of this large force was a labor second only to that of recruiting and organizing it. The United States officers would turn over to the State authorities from time to time the supplies necessary to prepare the troops for service and the issues to the latter were made through the Quartermaster-General, and the Commissary-General of Ordnance of the State, to whom great credit is due for the efficiency of their respective departments.

The regiments of the National Guard, which went into service in May last, having returned to the State, the Governor issued September 6th, the following orders recognizing their services: "The Commander-in-Chief avails himself of the occasion of the return of the Seventh, Eighth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Nineteenth, Twenty-second, Twenty-fifth, Thirty-seventh, Forty-seventh, Sixty-ninth and Seventy-first regiments of the National Guard to the State of New York, to thank them for the services they have rendered to the country, and for the honor they have reflected on the State. Summoned for the second time within thirteen months, by a sudden and urgent call, to the aid of the General Government, they consented cheerfully to the sacrifice of private interests, and abandoned, at almost a moment's notice, all private occupations to hasten to the defence of the National Capital, then in danger. Habituated to the comforts and enjoyments of wealthy and peaceful communities, they have, during their prolonged absence from their homes, submitted without a murmur to the hardships, the privations and the labors incidental to the life of a soldier, and have discharged with fidelity and alacrity, every duty they were asked to perform, and have stood ready to encounter every danger they might be called upon to meet. Their conduct has entitled them to the thanks of the Government they were summoned to defend, and has won for them the gratitude and confidence of the people. It gives assurance that, notwithstanding the vast army of volunteers that the State of New York has sent to the defence of the Union, she has, in her National Guard, always at her command a military force ready, now as heretofore, to respond to any call that may be made on it by the General Government, and able at the same time to preserve the peace, maintain the rights and defend the liberties of her own people, in whatever form or from whatever quarter they may be assailed. The Commander-in-Chief will always esteem it among the most important of his duties to aid, by every means in his power, in promoting the interests and contributing to the efficiency of the citizen soldiery of the State."

September 24th, the Governors of the loyal States, with them the Chief Magistrate of this State, met at Altoona, Pa., and pledged the General Government their cordial support in the prosecution of the war; they recommended the creation of a reserve army of one hundred thousand men; the emancipation of the colored people, and paid deserved tribute to the army in the field.

August 4th, the President, to increase the strength of the regiments in the field, issued his proclamation calling out three hundred thousand of the Militia of the loyal States for a service of nine months; Congress having previously passed an act lengthening the term of service for which Militia could be called out, to that period, at the discretion of the President. On the 7th, the War Department issued orders directing that the quotas of this force should be furnished forthwith, and prescribing the manner in which the draft should be conducted in States, where no laws existed providing for a draft, or where such laws were in any manner defective. The quota of this State was fifty-nine thousand seven hundred and five men. By the law of the State the strength of the organized Militia was limited to twenty thousand men, and of these over eight thousand were already in the field. It became necessary, therefore, to have recourse to a draft. The method provided by law, for a draft of the reserve Militia, on careful examination was found to be inadequate, and on the 13th it was decided to adopt the plan prescribed by the War Department, and the work of enrollment commenced. On the 14th of October, the enrollment being nearly completed and the books filed, commissioners and surgeons were appointed for the different counties, to hear and determine claims for exemption. It now became necessary to determine the number of volunteers already furnished by counties and towns, and this duty was assigned to the existing committees, organized in each district, as already explained, to promote recruiting, and, in order not to defeat the object of the draft, it was decided not to allow credit for volunteers furnished previous to July 2d, last. The 10th of November was finally selected for making the draft; but in consequence of the failure of a number of counties to furnish returns of the volunteers to be credited, the deficiency for which the draft was to be made could not be ascertained; in the case of other counties where the deficiency was not large, the committees were desirous of a further extension of time to enable them to fill their quotas and avoid a draft altogether. Under these circumstances the draft was suspended, and, December 3d, the commissioners directed to await further orders.

This delay in answering the requisition for nine months' Militia was not prejudicial to the interests of the country. It resulted in increasing the force of three years' volunteers, men of more value than nine months' men, much beyond what it would have been had the draft taken place in September as originally directed. At that time the quota of three years' men, under the call of July 2d, was not completed, and to have then resorted to a compulsory levy would at once have stopped enlistments for the longer period. In delaying the draft and promoting enlistments for three years, the State not only succeeded in completing the quota of July 2d, but also in satisfying the demand of August 4th, the surplus of three years' men each counting for four nine months' men in the settlement with the United States, and leaving still a surplus of men to the State's credit. The Tenth regiment of the National Guard, Albany, volunteered for a service of nine months, and went into the United States' service as the One Hundred and Seventy-seventh regiment of Volunteers.

On the 20th December, Governor Morgan established a bureau in the office of the Adjutant-General, to be known as the Bureau of Military Statistics. The Legislature of 1863 recognized this bureau by making an appropriation for its support and defining the purpose for which it was established. In 1864, the Legislature repealed the act of 1863, made the institution an independent bureau, and declared the objects of said bureau to be: to collect and preserve in a permanent form the name of every person who has volunteered or been mustered, or who may hereafter volunteer or be mustered, into the service of the General Government, since April 15, 1861, and the personal history of such person while in such service, so far as the same can be ascertained; a record of the service of the several regiments, including an account of their organization and subsequent history, and also an account of the aid afforded by the several towns, cities and counties of the State. In 1865, the Legislature changed the name of the bureau to that of "Bureau of Military Record," and later, May 11th, passed an act to provide a suitable repository for the records of the War of the Rebellion and for other purposes; the fire-proof structure to be called the "Hall of Military Record." The city of Albany was to furnish the ground; seventy-five thousand dollars were voluntarily to be subscribed by the people of the State, and when thirty-five thousand dollars had been received work might be commenced. The city of Albany offered suitable ground; voluntary subscriptions to the amount of $35,353.69 were collected, and are still deposited with the State Treasurer; but the building was not commenced, owing, probably, to the building of the New Capitol, in which it was supposed suitable accommodation would be provided for the safety and care of the relics and records of the war. April 20, 1864, fifty-one battle-flags were, in the presence of the Governor, the Senate and the Assembly, presented to the State; July 4, 1865, another presentation of flags took place in the presence of the Governor and General Grant. These flags and many other relics of interest are deposited in the bureau. May 8th, 1868, by an act of the Legislature the bureau was discontinued as an independent office, and re-transferred to the department of the Adjutant-General of the State, and the appropriation limited to the taking care of the relics. April 30, 1887, the Legislature authorized the Adjutant-General to establish in his office a "Bureau of Records of the War of the Rebellion," and made a small appropriation to carry out the act of 1864. This bureau has been established in part, and the means appropriated devoted to secure from the Adjutant-General of the United States Army, as far as they will go, records of volunteers of this State not on file in the office of the Adjutant-General of the State; but in 1889 the Secretary of War discontinued the arrangement made with the Adjutant-General of the army to furnish missing records, and the work is not completed. It is to be hoped that rooms will be provided in the New Capitol, when finished, which will admit of the proper display of the relics and care of the records of the war; and that the War Department will, at an early date, succeed in publishing the record of all who served in the war, as proposed by it.

With this year closed the administration of Governor Morgan, the first of the war Governors of the State, and during his term the State furnished for the prosecution of the war:

A record of which the State and the outgoing Governor could well be proud, and which, more than any thing else, showed the loyalty and love of country of the citizens of New York.

IN 1863.

On the 1st day of January a new administration came in, and Horatio Seymour took the gubernatorial chair of the State, appointing the following, members of his military staff during his term of office: Adjutant-General, John T. Sprague, an officer of the Regular Army; Inspector-General, Josiah T. Miller of Seneca Falls; Judge-Advocate-General, Nelson J. Waterbury of New York city; Surgeon-General, John V. P. Quackenbush, of Albany; Quartermaster-General, S. Visscher Taleott, of Albany; Commissary-General of Subsistence, Anthony Eickhoff, of New York, resigned August 1, 1863, and succeeded by Charles G. Halpine, of New York city; Paymaster-General, John D. Van Buren, of New Windsor; Engineer-in-Chief, Isaac Vanderpoel, of Albany; Chief of Ordnance, the constitutional Commissary-General, Benjamin Welch, Jr., of Buffalo, who died April 14, 1863, and was succeeded by James A. Farrell, of Hudson; Aides-de-Camp, Bleecker Tibbits, of Albany, from October 21, 1863, and Major Frederic Shonnard, Sixth New York Volunteer Artillery, of Yonkers, from August 3, 1864; Military Secretary, William Kidd, of Albany, from February 15, 1863.

The change of administration indicated no change in the support by the State of the General Government in its defence of the Union. In his message to the Legislature Governor Seymour took occasion to say: "While our soldiers are periling their lives to uphold the Constitution and restore the Union, we owe it to them, who have shown an endurance and patriotism unsurpassed in the history of the world, that we emulate their devotion in our field of duty."

The Legislature assembled on the 6th day of January in its eighty-sixth session and was composed of,

This Legislature, like its predecessors, promptly did all in its power to support the contest, and passed laws, legalizing and confirming ordinances and acts of cities, towns, counties and villages, and enabling the same in the future, to raise money to aid in recruiting, and to assist the families of volunteers in, or who might yet enter, the military service. February 21st, the action of Governor Morgan offering in July, 1862, a bounty on the part of the State, was confirmed and an appropriation passed for the payment of the debt contracted thereby. April 17th, a law was passed which provided a bounty of one hundred and fifty dollars for each member of the two years' regiments, who, having served his term of enlistment, would re-enter the service for not less than two years, and a bounty of seventy-five dollars to all others, who had enlisted since November 1st, 1862, or would hereafter enlist, for three years. April 24th, two very important acts became laws of the State; the first incorporated the "Soldiers' Home," and the second authorized the Governor to appoint agents to provide for the transportation and the care of the sick, wounded, and the dead, volunteers of the State, and appropriated two hundred thousand dollars for this purpose. Among the incorporators of the Soldiers' Home were Lieutenant-General Scott, Generals McClellan, Wool and Wadsworth, and the purpose was "to provide a home and maintenance for officers and soldiers who have served, are now serving, or may hereafter serve, in the volunteer forces raised or furnished by, or from, the State of New York, who by reason of wounds or other disabilities received, or produced, in the service of the United States, or of the State of New York, shall be unable to support themselves, and all who, having been honorably discharged, shall be decrepit or homeless in their old age." The management of the Home was in the hands of trustees, provided for in the act. This was the precursor of the Soldiers' Home, now in existence, and was to be modelled mainly after the Home of the Regular Army at Washington, D. C. The State agents provided by the second act, when the law came to be executed, furnished relief to the sick, wounded, furloughed and discharged soldiers of this State, while being transported to and from their homes: they ascertained the names and condition of all patients from this State, in the army hospitals; kept a register of the same and furnished information to all who made inquiry concerning them, and thousands of relatives and friends obtained through them accurate information of fathers, husbands, brothers and children in the service; they facilitated the removal of bodies of deceased soldiers to their friends, when such action was desired, and later on, they also assisted the discharged soldiers in obtaining arrearages of pay and bounty due them. Agencies were established at suitable points, but the main agency was located in New York city, where quarters were also rented and provided for the accommodation of volunteers of this and other States, passing through the city; over one hundred and ten thousand volunteers received relief and comfort at this main agency — known as the Soldiers' Depot — alone, and this depot was not closed until March 25, 1866; the sub-agency at Albany was continued as the Soldiers' Home until 1869, when on the 15th of June its inmates were transferred to the National Home for disabled volunteer soldiers then opened in the State of Maine and the agency was closed. April 27th, the Legislature appropriated one million dollars for the defence of the harbor of New York and the frontiers of the State.

March 3d, the President approved the act of Congress, providing a law, and prescribing a method, for drafting men for the military service, whenever needed, and authorizing him to call forth the National forces by draft. The law created a Provost-Marshal-General for the United States and a Provost-Marshal for each congressional district of the States; provided boards of enrollment for each district and other regulations for drafting men. May 1st, all enlistments for volunteers were, by the General Government, placed also in charge of the Provost-Marshal-General, who divided this State into three districts, northern, southern, and western, and to assist him appointed for these districts Acting Assistant Provost-Marshal-Generals. The officers acting in these capacities were during the existence of the districts, in the northern: Brevet Brigadier-General Frederick Townsend, United States Army; in the southern: Colonel Robert Nugent, Sixty-ninth New York Volunteers, until October 27th, 1863; Brigadier-General William Hays, United States Volunteers until January 31st, 1865; Brigadier-General E. W. Hinks, United States Volunteers, until February 27th, 1865; and Major R. I. Dodge, Twelfth United States Infantry to the close of the office; in the western:

Major A. S. Diven, Assistant Adjutant-General United States Volunteers, until December 9, 1864, Major John A. Haddock, of the Veteran Reserve Corps, until April 10, 1865, and Major Samuel B. Hayman, Tenth United States Infantry, to the close of the office.

Between April 25th and July 4th, the thirty-seven two years' regiments, still in the service, returned to the State to be mustered out. Of the Third Artillery (Nineteenth Infantry originally), the Third, Tenth, and Twelfth regiments of infantry, which continued in the service, only the men entitled to be discharged, returned to the State. The Second Independent Battery, formed principally of two years' men, was also mustered out. These regiments, which had left the State with over thirty thousand men, brought back less than half that number; their losses by death alone had been about four thousand officers and enlisted men. They had served in many health-destroying campaigns and hard-fought battles; and, faithful servants of the country, they were now received by the people with proud approbation, heartfelt joy and congratulation. Happiness returned with them to many hearts, and the sorrow for those, who would never return, was gently tempered for many more.

June 15th the Secretary of War telegraphed to the Governor to furnish as large a force of the Militia as possible, say twenty thousand men, for a short term of service. The movements of the enemy had then sufficiently developed to indicate that an invasion of Maryland and Pennsylvania was contemplated. The Governor replied "I will spare no efforts to send you troops at once," and issued marching orders to the National Guard of the State. On the 18th, the Adjutant-General of the State informed the Secretary of War that about twelve thousand men were then on their way to Harrisburg. On the 21st Secretary Stanton telegraphed for Militia to be forwarded to Baltimore. Troops continued to be sent with the utmost dispatch. July 2d, the Governor of Pennsylvania asked for more troops and three more regiments were placed en route for that State. The regiments which took the field in this emergency were the Seventh, Eighth, Eleventh, Twenty-third, Seventy-first, Fifth, Twelfth, Twenty-second, Thirty-seventh, Sixty-fifth, Seventy-fourth, Fourth, Thirteenth, Twenty-eighth, Fifty-sixth, Sixth, Twenty-first, Forty-seventh, Fifty-second, Fifty-fifth, Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, Sixty-ninth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth and Eighty-fourth. They were mustered in the service of the United States for thirty days. Besides these, the detachments of volunteers scattered throughout the State, were organized, equipped and forwarded to Harrisburg. The National Guard received the thanks of the President and War Department for their prompt response and service on this occasion.

The General Government, to replenish the army in the field, had decided in June, without the issue of a formal call for troops, to draft the necessary number, and on the 11th of July the State authorities received information that the draft was on that day to commence in New York city. There were then about six hundred men of the National Guard in the city; the State was virtually stripped of troops; disturbances were apprehended, and the Adjutant-General was sent to Washington to request a postponement of the draft, until a sufficient military force would be on hand. July 13th, there commenced in New York city a riot, unparalleled for atrocity and fiendishness. It is claimed that originally a number of honest working men assembled to protest against the draft; if so, this element rapidly disappeared, and the dregs of the city took advantage of the excitement. It is inconceivable that any decent and intelligent being can have taken part in the riot. All available State troops were ordered to New York city, and as the Hudson River Railroad was torn up, they were directed to take steamers at Albany. The troops in the Harbor, Regulars and Volunteers, Navy and Marine, one company from West Point; and one from New Jersey, arrived on the 13th; and the Seventh regiment of the National Guard on the 16th. These troops and the magnificent police of the city checked the mob and broke the wild phantasy of the miserable creatures; and on the 17th, law and order reigned once more supreme in New York city. In other localities disturbances were feared, but did not take place; in one or two places, however, riots were prevented by the presence of troops only. The draft was for the time suspended, but took place in August without any further disturbance.

November 14th, Major-General Dix, commanding the Military Department of the East, of which this State formed part, represented to the Governor that a necessity existed for the employment of a military force to protect a portion of the frontier of this State from threatened invasion by traitors sojourning in Canada, and asked that a regiment of the National Guard be ordered to report to him for such service. The Governor at once placed the Seventy-fourth regiment of Buffalo under his orders and the regiment entered the United States service for thirty days.

October 17th, the President called on the country for three hundred thousand men, and the quota of this State was placed at eighty-one thousand nine hundred and ninety-three men. It is proper to recall here the fact that since May 1st, the State had no authority to recruit men for the army at large. All this was performed by the Provost-Marshals under the orders of the Provost-Marshal-General, and the whole machinery and management for procuring men was in the hands of the General Government; only the recruiting of new companies and regiments, sanctioned by the War Department, was left to the State authorities.

The organizations in the State on the 1st of January and not fully organized numbered about two thousand men; no bounties being paid then, recruiting was almost at a standstill; February 23d, Colonel H. S. Lansing, Seventeenth New York Volunteers, was placed in charge of all the troops in process of organization in New York Harbor and city; the incomplete organizations were consolidated and the regiments formed turned over to the United States.

About the time the two years' regiments were to return to the State, authority was received from the War Department, to re-organize the same or to form new ones of the returned volunteers. Probably three-fourths of these men re-entered the service and their example bore fruit. Every effort was made, besides the authorized regiments, to organize full companies for such of the regiments in the field as had vacancies for them. Still more to encourage enlistments it was later decided, that the State bounty, authorized by the Legislature in April, should be paid to all men enlisting in the army for three years, who should be credited to the State by the orders of the War Department.

During the year there were organized and turned over to the United States on the part of the State authorities, of cavalry: the Twelfth; Fourteenth; Sixteenth; Twentieth; First and Second Veteran regiments; nine companies, each, of the Thirteenth and Fifteenth; ten companies, each, of the Eighteenth and Twenty-first; six companies of the Twenty-fourth; two companies of the Twenty-third, regiments, and three companies of the Second Mounted Rifles; of artillery: four batteries of the Eleventh; five batteries, each, of the Thirteenth and Sixteenth; ten batteries of the Fourteenth; eleven batteries of the Fifteenth; one battery of the Third, regiments, and the Thirty-third Independent Battery; of sharpshooters: the Sixth, Seventh, Eighth and Ninth companies; of engineers: one company for the Fifteenth regiment; and of infantry: the Seventeenth Veteran, the One Hundred and Sixty-eighth, the One Hundred and Seventy-eighth regiments; four companies of the Fifth Veteran, three companies for the Sixty-third regiments, and two companies for the Independent Battalion.

The One Hundred and Sixty-eighth and One Hundred and Seventy-seventh regiments of infantry, and the Ninth company of sharpshooters, nine months' organizations, were mustered out October 31st, September 10th, and August 5th, 1863, respectively.

This Legislature passed laws to promote the re-enlistment of volunteers, and to encourage the enlistment of persons into organizations already in the service; it authorized the boards of supervisors of counties to borrow money and to levy taxes for the payment of bounties to volunteers, or for the expenses of their enlistment, for aid to their families, to pay any liabilities incurred therefor, or that may hereafter be incurred; it legalized the ordinances of municipalities and other corporations, already passed, for the same purposes; it appropriated means to provide grounds for the final resting place of the remains, and for monuments to perpetuate the memory of the soldiers of this State, who fell in the defence of the Union on the battle-fields of Gettysburg and Antietam; it perfected an amendment to the Constitution of the State, providing for the vote of electors while in the military service of the United States, and passed a law for the protection of the civil rights of the citizens of the State, while serving in the army or navy of the country.

Special permission was received from the War Department to recruit two regiments and one hundred companies for one, two, or three years' service.

In organizing and completing these, difficulties were encountered; the machinery of the provost marshal's office gave greater facilities to citizens, who were acting as recruiting officers, than the State could offer, and the payment of bounty on the part of the State ceased under the operations of the law on the 31st of March.

On the 21st of April the Secretary of War requested the Governor to furnish one or two regiments of Militia to guard deserters, stragglers, etc., being forwarded to the army. On the 23d of the same month, Major-General Dix, by the authority of the President, called on the Governor for one or two more regiments to occupy the defences of New York harbor. July 5th, the Secretary of War, a rebel force having invaded Maryland, requested the Governor to furnish a military force to serve not more than one hundred days, to which the Governor replied: "I will do what I can." The necessary steps to comply with these requests were promptly taken, and the following regiments entered the United States service for one hundred days: the Sixty-ninth, Eighty-fourth, Ninety-third, Fifty-fourth, Fifty-sixth, Seventy-seventh, One Hundred and Second, Twenty-eighth, Ninety-eighth, Ninety-ninth, Fifty-eighth; First Battalion of artillery and companies A and B of the Fiftieth regiment; for thirty days the Thirty-seventh and Fifteenth.

In August, September and October there were again appearances of possible disturbances on the northern frontiers of the State, and all the necessary steps were taken by the State Government to defend them; the Militia along the frontier was ordered to be in readiness for instant service and portions of the Sixty-fifth and Seventy-fourth regiments of the National Guard were in October and November placed on active duty, until later in November the General Government took charge of the protection of the frontier.

The term of service of a large number of the volunteer organizations expired in the course of this year and they returned to the State for final discharge. Many regiments had re-enlisted in the field in the latter part of 1863 and early part of this year, they also returned to the State on veteran furlough, invariably taking the field with increased numbers. All these organizations met in the State with brilliant and joyful receptions and ovations, showing fully the high appreciation of their services by the people, and the respect entertained by all for the country's brave defenders.

In the course of the year there were recruited, organized and forwarded by the State authorities, of cavalry: six companies for the Second; three companies, each, for the Thirteenth and Fifteenth; two companies, each, for the Eighteenth and Twenty-first; nine companies for the Second Mounted Rifles; six companies for the Twenty-fourth; the Twenty-second and Twenty-fifth regiments, complete; of artillery: one company, each, for the Third and Sixth; seven companies, each, for the Thirteenth and Sixteenth, and two companies for the Fourteenth regiments; of engineers: one company for the Fifteenth, and two companies for the Fiftieth regiments; of infantry: one company, each, for the Fifty-seventh, Sixty-third, Eightieth, One Hundred and Twenty-fourth; One Hundred and Thirty-seventh; One Hundred and Forty-second and One Hundred and Fifty-ninth; three companies, each, for the Sixty-ninth and Ninetieth; six companies for the One Hundred and Eighty-seventh; nine companies for the One Hundred and Eighty-eighth, and the Seventh Veteran; the One Hundred and Seventy-ninth, One Hundred and Eighty-fourth, One Hundred and Eighty-fifth, One Hundred and Eighty-sixth and One Hundred and Eighty-ninth regiments, complete.

The accounts between the State and the United States as to the number of men furnished by the former since 1861 were not brought into harmony until after July this year; the differences existing caused a great deal of annoyance at times, but were finally settled to the satisfaction of all.

With this year closed the administration of the second war Governor of the State, Horatio Seymour; and during it the State furnished men for the defence of the country:

IN 1865 AND CLOSE OF THE WAR.

Another change in the administration of the State took place with this year, and Reuben E. Fenton was inaugurated, January 1st, as the Chief Magistrate of the Empire State. In his message to the Legislature the Governor stated that on the 1st of December last, the State was credited by the War Department with an excess of men furnished of five thousand three hundred and one, and recommended that the laws relating to bounties paid by localities should be amended so as to fix the maximum amount which each locality could raise by legal taxation, and to enable them to raise and pay these bounties with a view to future contingencies, so that men could be obtained in advance of future calls, and he concluded his message as follows: "The Constitution of the Union makes it the duty of the National Government to maintain for the people of all the States republican governments. It is no less the duty of each State to throw its whole weight and influence firmly on the side of this great fundamental requirement. This Government our fathers intended to establish and transmit as a legacy to posterity. Irrespective of the divisions into States, we are called upon to maintain and perpetuate the trust. Eighty years of enterprise, prosperity and progress have not lessened our obligations, nor checked our devotion to the great cause of civil liberty. It is not a mistake to assume that, whatever exigency may follow, whether domestic or foreign, the great body of the people will go forward to meet and overcome it with the same firm and irresistible energy which characterized our ancestors, and has marked the subsequent course of our civilization. In this patriotic determination of the people for unity, liberty and the Constitution, I shall, at all times, earnestly join."

As his military staff the Governor appointed: Adjutant-General, William Irvine, of Corning; Inspector-General, George S. Batcheller, of Saratoga Springs; Judge-Advocate-General, Alexander W. Harvey, of Buffalo; Quartermaster-General, Edwin A. Merritt, of Pierpont; Surgeon-General, Sylvester D. Willard, of Albany, died April 2d, 1865, succeeded by James E. Pomfret, of Albany; Paymaster-General, Selden E. Marvin, of Jamestown; Engineer-in-Chief, James B. Swain, of New York city; Chief of Ordnance, the constitutional Commissary-General, James A. Farrell, of Hudson, until April 25, 1865, when succeeded by Frank Chamberlain, of Albany; Aides-de-Camp, Michael J. Farrell, George B. Lincoln, Jr., George W. Palmer, and Military Secretary, George S. Hastings (only those are named who were in office until June 30th, 1865).

The eighty-eighth session of the Legislature of the State commenced January 3d; its members were in the

Such duties as fell to the Legislature to promote the prosecution of the war, were promptly carried out by it. February 10th, an act was passed establishing a uniform system of bounties throughout the State, and assuming their payment by the State. This act contemplated and allowed the payment of a bounty of two hundred and fifty dollars to every drafted man; of three hundred dollars to every volunteer enlisted for one year's service; of four hundred dollars to every volunteer enlisted for two years; of six hundred dollars to every volunteer enlisted for three years; and according to length of service, the same amount to each person furnishing a substitute. The law was not perfect however, and was amended from time to time until April 7th, when it was placed in condition permitting operations under it. The intention originally, was to have the bounty paid by State officials to the persons, entitled, themselves; but owing to the delay in perfecting the law, localities were authorized to continue the system under which they had acted heretofore, and were finally reimbursed by the State in accordance with this act and chapter 325, passed later in the session.

February 24th, the Legislature passed a concurrent resolution giving the thanks of the people of this State to the men who volunteered to defend the integrity of the Union and the flag, which represents its sovereignty, on the bloody fields where rebellion has raised armed opposition to the National Government.

On the 25th of March the Legislature, representing the people, in concurrent resolutions, gave thanks to Brigadier-General N. Martin Curtis, the Third, One Hundred and Twelfth, One Hundred and Seventeenth, One Hundred and Forty-second, Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, One Hundred and Fifteenth, One Hundred and Sixty-ninth regiments of Infantry and the Sixteenth regiment of Artillery, New York Volunteers, commanded respectively by Captain James Reeves, Colonel John F. Smith, Lieutenant-Colonel Francis R. Meyer, Colonel Albert W. Barney, Colonel Christopher MacDonald, Lieutenant-Colonel W. B. Coan, Lieutenant-Colonel Nathan Johnson, Colonel Alonzo Alden and Major F. W. Princee for the gallant achievements at Fort Fisher, North Carolina.

December 19, 1864, the President called for three hundred thousand men, and January 17, 1865, notice was received that the quota of the State was sixty-one thousand and seventy-six men. To avoid a general draft in the State, authority was asked and obtained from the War Department, to organize new regiments and independent companies. When on the 14th of April the Secretary of War ordered the discontinuance of recruiting and of the draft, the State Military Department had turned over to the General Government: five companies for the Twenty-sixth regiment of Cavalry; one company, each, for the Seventy-fifth, and the One Hundred and Ninetieth; two companies for the One Hundred and Ninety-first; the One Hundred and Ninety-second, One Hundred and Ninety-third, and One Hundred and Ninety-fourth regiments, complete; and the Thirty-fifth and a number of other, incomplete, independent companies, of infantry; and the State had received credit on this last call and quota, as having furnished, 34,196 men.

June 7th, the Governor issued the following congratulatory address to the soldiers from this State: "Soldiers of New York: your constancy, your patriotism, your faithful services and your valor have culminated in the maintenance of the Government, the vindication of the Constitution and the laws and the perpetuity of the Union. You have elevated the dignity, brightened the renown, and enriched the history of your State. You have furnished to the world a grand illustration of our American manhood, of our devotion to liberty, and of the permanence and nobility of our institutions. Soldiers! your State thanks you, and gives you the pledge of her lasting gratitude. She looks with pride upon your glorious achievements and consecrates to all time your unfaltering heroism. To you New York willingly intrusted her honor, her fair name and her great destinies; you have proved worthy of the confidence reposed in you, and have returned these trusts with added lustre and increased value. The coming home of all our organizations, it is hoped, is not far distant. We welcome you and rejoice with you upon the peace your valor has achieved. Your honorable scars we regard as the truest badges of your bravery and the highest evidences of the pride and patriotism which animated you. Sadly and yet proudly we receive as the emblems of heroic endurance your tattered and worn ensigns, and fondly deposit these relics of glory, with all their cherished memories and endearing associations, in our appointed repositories. With swelling hearts we bade God speed to the departing recruit; with glowing pride and deepened fervor we say welcome! to the returning veteran. We watched you all through the perilous period of your absence, rejoicing in your victories and mourning in your defeats. We will treasure your legends, your brave exploits, and the glorified memory of your dead comrades, in records more impressive than the monuments of the past, and enduring as the liberties you have secured. The people will regard with jealous pride, your welfare and honor, not forgetting the widow, the fatherless, and those who were dependent upon the fallen hero. The fame and glory you have won for the State and the Nation, shall be transmitted to our children as a most precious legacy, lovingly to be cherished and reverently to be preserved."

The end had come, and at last the greatest and most causeless rebellion was suppressed; the army was gradually disbanded, and the sons of New York returned to their State victors in a just and glorious cause. It is not necessary to describe their reception at their homes. The joy of the people was tempered by the knowledge of the sacrifices made by all, and that with the many who gave their lives to save this country and its people, was numbered the man, selected by God as leader in this momentous and fearful struggle.

MEN CALLED FOR, AND IN THE UNITED STATES SERVICE, FROM THIS STATE.

QUOTAS AND CREDITS RECEIVED AND CLAIMED.

Although for a time the accounts of the State did not agree with those of the United States, the figures of the War Department as far as they go, are here used and accepted, as their total was also accepted by the State in 1864.

April 15th, 1861, the United States Government took the first decided step toward offensive efforts against the rebellion, the President calling on that day for seventy-five thousand Militia for three months' service. The quota assigned to this State, filled by Militia and Volunteer Militia, was . . . . .	13,280
And the War Department reports, as furnished by the State . . . . .		13,906

On the 3d of May, 1861, the President issued a proclamation calling into service thirty-nine regiments of volunteer infantry, and one regiment of cavalry, forty-two thousand and thirty-four men, for a service of three years, unless sooner discharged. No quota was assigned, but at the request of the President, the Governor called, July 25th, for twenty-five thousand volunteers.

Congress in its acts of July 22d, 25th and 31st, 1861, authorized the President to accept the services of volunteers for three years in such numbers, not exceeding one million, as he might deem necessary for the purpose of repelling invasion and suppressing insurrection. No formal call was issued, but men and regiments were furnished by the State by the authority of the War Department, under the act of Congress passed July 25th, 1861.

Before the next call it became necessary to determine the quotas of the States for 1861. This was done in June, 1862, by apportioning the number of men in the field, five hundred and forty-eight thousand one

It soon becoming apparent that under this last call no men would be obtained to fill up the regiments in the field, the President ordered, August 4th, 1862, a draft of three hundred thousand Militia to serve for a term of nine months. The draft, for reasons elsewhere stated, did not take place in this State, and on the quota of .....	59,705
There were furnished by voluntary enlistment but .....		1,781
Under the act passed by Congress March 3d, 1863, the Provost-Marshal-General of the United States, without a formal call on the State, caused a draft in part to take place in July and August. The men received thereby were credited on the next regular call for troops.
October 17th, 1863, the President issued a call for three hundred thousand men, to fill the companies and regiments in the field; no quota was assigned.
February 1st, 1864, another call was made; this time for five hundred thousand men, to include the number called for October 17th, 1863. The quota of the State was placed at .....	81,993

And for a service of thirty days, in both cases from the National Guard .....	791
		6,431
Total of all quotas .....	507,148
Total of all men furnished .....		482,313

The difference between the number credited to the State on the general calls and the quotas called for, is 42,329 men, and arises from the fact that the quota of 59,705 nine months' men, and on which only 1,781 men are credited, was completed by credit of 14,481 three years' men, excess of credit on previous calls, equaling 57,924 nine months' men, and that the quota on the last general call, owing to the close of the war, was not completed.

The Adjutant-General of the United States Army under date of November 9th, 1880, supplemented by a statement dated July 15th, 1885, reports the total number of enlistments made under the various calls of the President, to have been 2,865,028, including therein 86,724 who furnished commutations, but not taking into consideration the enlistments for a period of less than sixty days. He credits this State as having furnished of these enlistments 467,047, including 18,197 who paid commutation, but not including the thirty days' men. In proportion to the total, the enlistments credited to this State are as 1 to 6.134, or 16.30+ per cent.

But in this statement there is a credit included for enlistments in the Regular Army of only 6,089, while as shown later, the State justly claims an additional credit of..... 11,671

For service in the United States Navy and Marine there were credited to the State 42,155 enlistments, but here again, as shown later, the State is justly and fairly entitled to credit for additional enlistments to the number of..... 8,781

The thirty days' men furnished by the State, not credited by the Adjutant-General of the Army, numbered 15,266 enlistments; but are already included in the number furnished under the special calls.

The State therefore is entitled to additional credit for 20,452 enlistments; these added to the number credited as furnished under the general and special calls, will make the total furnished by this State 502,765, or in round numbers and allowing for possible errors, not less than five hundred thousand men.

CREDITS, DUE THE STATE, FOR SERVICE IN THE ARMIES AND NAVIES OF THE UNITED STATES.

For Service in the Regular Army.

The statement of the Adjutant-General of the United States Army, dated July 15th, 1885, estimates the number of men in the Regular Army during the war at 67,000. As far as can be determined from the reports of the Assistant Provost-Marshal-General of this State, as published in the reports of the Adjutant-General of New York for the years 1863 to 1865, the number of men credited to this State, enlisting or re-enlisting in the Regular Army, is 6,089, and covers only the period of the war from December, 1863, to April, 1865, and no men were credited for such enlistments prior to December, 1863.

There were in the Regular Army, July 1, 1861, as officially reported, 16,422 officers and enlisted men; up to this time the large cities of this State were the principal recruiting fields of that army, and taking therefore from this number but one-fifth (by no means an over-estimate), as having been enlisted in this State, would entitle New York to a credit of..... 3,284

As already stated from December, 1863, to April, 1865 — seventeen months — there were credited to the State for enlistment in the Regular Army 6,089 men; and it is but fair to suppose that the State furnished from July 1, 1861, to November, 1863 — twenty-nine months

—a proportionate number, and an additional credit is therefore claimed of.....	10,387
Total additional claim for credit for service in the Regular Army..	13,671

and the total of.....	19,760

will give the number of men, who it is claimed, served in the Regular Army of the United States, and were enlisted in, or credited to, New York.

Under orders of the War Department the enlistment or transfer of volunteers into the Regular Army was permitted in 1862 and part of 1863, and it is estimated that probably two thousand volunteers of this State, a liberal estimate, were thus transferred; to avoid all appearance of making excessive claims these two thousand men are deducted, and on the part of the State claim is made for additional credit, for service in the Regular Army, for 11,671 men only.

For Service in the Navy and Marine Corps.

No men were credited to New York for service in the Navy and Marine until February, 1864, and then credit was received for 28,427, as having been enlisted in this State since April 15th, 1861. The Adjutant-General of the United States Army, under date of July 15th, 1885, credits New York with 35,144 enlistments in the Navy, which includes no doubt those enlisted in the Marine Corps, a few hundred only. From the statements of the Assistant Provost-M Marshals-General it appears however, that they credited the State with 41,380 such enlistments. The Secretary of the Navy, under date of April 10th, 1884, in a communication to the United States Senate, reported the number enlisted in the Navy between April 15th, 1861, and February 24th, 1864, to have been 67,200, of whom there were credited to this State 28,427 men; that the number enlisted between February 24th, 1864, and the 30th day of June, 1865, was 37,577, of whom were credited to this State .....

are due to New York. This report of the Secretary of the Navy, although it places the number credited to this State at a higher figure than even the records of the Assistant Provost-M Marshals-General, is here accepted as the correct statement.

But to it must be added the number of men in service April 1st, 1861, which an annual report of the Navy places at 7,600 men; and of this number there is claimed as due to this State the same percentage as has been found of those enlisted between April 15th, 1861, and June 30th, 1865, namely 39.192 per cent, or.....

This would make the total number who served in the Navy during the war, 132,554, of whom there came from this State..... 51,936

As with the Regular Army, so were for a time volunteers permitted to enlist in, or to be transferred to the Navy, and it is estimated that at the most one thousand men were thus transferred, and these require to be deducted from the claims made here for additional credit.

It is accepted as a fact that 42,155 men were duly credited to New York, and the remainder, deducting those transferred from the volunteers, of 8,781 men is fairly due to the State.

For Service in the United States Volunteers.

In his statement of July 15th, 1885, the Adjutant-General U. S. Army estimates the number of officers and enlisted men, who served in this body at about 11,000, but as far as this State is concerned only the general and staff officers of U. S. Volunteers appointed from this State, and four companies of Berdan or First U. S. Sharpshooters are claimed due to New York, about 1,375 officers and enlisted men, and these were no doubt duly credited at the time by the proper authorities.

For Service in the United States Veteran Volunteers (Hancock's Veteran Corps).

In the statement of the Adjutant-General U. S. A., already quoted, the number of men who served in this body, is given as 10,833, but there are no records available from which even an approximate number, of those furnished by this State, could be obtained. As shown under "Quotas and Credits Received," etc., New York furnished of all the enlistments 16.30+ per cent; allow the same percentage of those who served in the United States Veteran Volunteers, and the State would be entitled to credit for 1,770 men for service in this branch of the army. As these were veterans, who had served in the war before, and their entry into the service was undoubtedly credited at the time, no claim can, however, be made for extra credit.

For Service in the Veteran Reserve Corps.

The number of officers and enlisted men who served in this corps is stated as 60,508, and the portion of this number due New York, based on the same percentage as in the foregoing case, would be 9,862 men. These were men transferred from the volunteers, or enlisted after a service as volunteers, and have all no doubt been duly credited to the State. In this number are included 222, who re-enlisted as veterans in this corps, and were specifically credited to New York.

For Service in the Colored Troops.

In the afore-mentioned statement the number of colored troops in the United States service is reported as 178,975; the State is, however, credited with but 4,125, and although evidence is on file in the office of the Adjutant-General of New York that 5,829 men are claimed as due the State, no claim for extra credit is made, and the figure reported by the United States authorities is accepted as correct and final. The Twentieth, Twenty-sixth and Thirty-first regiments of these troops were organized in this State.

For Service in the Volunteers of Other States.

That men of this State entered the volunteers of other States, is a well-known fact. A correct number of them is impossible to obtain, but it is believed that they numbered at least five hundred, and that the State received due credit for the same.

For Service in the Militia and National Guard.

Of the Militia and National Guard there entered in the service of the United States for short periods 38,028 officers and enlisted men, of whom there served for one hundred days in 1864, 5,019; for three months in 1861, 8,534; in 1862, 8,588; in 1864, 621; total, 17,743 men; for thirty days in 1863, in the Pennsylvania campaign, 13,971, at Buffalo in November, 504, in 1864, in New York harbor, 791, total, 15,266 men. The Adjutant-General of the U. S. Army gives the State credit for all, except the thirty days' men; and there is therefore a credit claimed on this account of 15,266.

For Service in the Volunteers of the State.

For service in this branch of the armies of the United States, 370,652 enlistments are claimed; this number, originally estimated, has been confirmed by count and part estimates of the number of men who served in each volunteer organization of the State, appearing in another place; of these it is estimated that 2,000 were transferred to the Regular Army; 1,000 to the Navy and Marine Corps; and 800 to the United States Volunteers as general and staff officers. Drafted men and substitutes, are counted here as volunteers.

For Men who Commuted their Service.

Under the laws regulating the drafts, those drafted were accorded the privilege, by payment of a certain sum, to commute their service; the money thus obtained was used by the Provost-Marshal-General of the United States to pay bounties to volunteers re-enlisting in the service. The Adjutant-General of the Army credits this State on this account on the call of February 1st, 1864, with 15,912; on that of March 14th, 1864, with 2,267; of July 18th, 1864, with 5; of December 19th, 1864, with 13; total, 18,197 men.

For Representative Recruits.

In July, 1864, the Provost-Marshal-General of the United States appealed to the patriotism and generosity of persons not required by law to perform military duty, but who possessed ample means, to cause themselves to be represented in the service by men procured by themselves. Under this appeal 1,292 representative recruits were obtained, and credited to the respective States; President Lincoln being one of the first to respond to the appeal. From this State there were obtained 119 men; while this may seem a small number, it is susceptible of proof that citizens of this State, before this official appeal, had quietly procured men to serve in the army as their representatives. Those of this State who acted on his suggestion, are reported by the Provost-Marshal-General to have been (arranged according to the, then, congressional districts):

PERIODS OF SERVICE OF THE MEN ENLISTED.

Of the men credited to this State there served during the war, or rather enlisted for service, for periods ranging from thirty days to four years—for thirty days, 15,266; for three months, 17,743; for one hundred days, 5,019; for nine months, 1,781; for one year, including estimated number in the Navy, 62,500; for two years, 34,723; for three years, 347,395; for four years, 141; commuted their service, 18,197; total, 502,765, or all reduced to a three years' standard, considering those who commuted their service as three years' men, 412,568.

DRAFTS IN THE STATE AND THEIR RESULTS.

The census of 1860 gave this State a population of 3,880,735, of whom 1,933,532 were males, and 1,947,203 were females, being an excess of the latter over the former of 13,671.

Under the call of August 4th, 1862, for three hundred thousand nine months' men, the State authorities made arrangements for a draft, which however were not carried out. The enrollment, not entirely completed, showed a population of 3,829,707; had it been completed it would probably not have varied much from the census of 1860, notwithstanding the number of men who had entered the service and left the State. Subject to military duty, according to the laws of the State, that is between the ages of 18 and 45 years, were found to be 764,603 males, and of these had been declared exempt from military service at the time proceedings closed 139,158. The average ratio of the number enrolled to the population was one to five and one-tenth; the ratio of exempts to the number enrolled was one to five and five-tenths.

When in 1863 the General Government took charge of drafting and general recruiting, drafts when made, were only for such numbers as would insure the filling of the quota called at the time. The enrollment made in the State, under the supervision of the Provost-Marshal-General's Bureau from June, 1863, to April, 1865, numbered 431,462 men, or 22.31 per cent of the male population, or 11.11 per cent of the total population according to the census of 1860. This enrollment included males between the ages of 20 and 45. The total number drawn was 151,488; of these there were held to personal service, 3,210; furnished substitutes, 13,332; paid commutation, 18,197; not examined for various reasons, 48,743, and exempted after examination, 68,006 men. Of those exempted from military duty, 32,086 were thus exempted for physical or mental disability, or 31.22 per cent of those examined — 102,745 men.

The result of each of the drafts was as follows:

Draft of July and August, 1863, the number drawn was.....	95,795
Of these there were held to personal service, 2,300; furnished substitutes, 6,998; paid commutation, 15,912; total.....	25,210

	33,753

Of the men exempted after examination, there were exempted for physical and mental disability at draft in July and August, 1863, 25,701; at draft under call of March, 1864, 2,391; at draft under call of July, 1864, 1,030, and at draft under call of December, 1864, 2,964.

NUMBER OF INDIVIDUALS IN THE SERVICE FROM THIS STATE.

The numbers so far dealt with represent enlistments or entries into service, and, as many men entered twice, three and probably even four times, the number of enlistments does not represent the number of individuals who served during the war. No positive data or information is on record on this subject, and to obtain this number of individuals recourse must be had to estimates.

It is well known, that of the Militia and National Guard a very large proportion entered the volunteer service after the expiration of a short service in the Militia, and that a considerable number performed a second and third, and some even a fourth, short service in the Militia; also that a number of discharged volunteers served short terms in the National Guard, especially in 1863. Estimate then, that of those in service in 1861 — 8,534 — all re-entered the service in one way or another except. . . . .	500

That of those in service in 1862 — 8,588 — all re-entered the service or had been in service except . . . . .	500
That of those in service in 1863 — 14,475 — all re-entered the service or had been in service except . . . . .	3,000
And that of those who served in 1864 — 6,431 — all served again or had served before except . . . . .	4,000

This would make the number of individuals who rendered service in the Militia or National Guard exclusively. . . . .	8,000
Of those who served in the Regular Army , from this State, 19,760, less 2,000 estimated to have been transferred from the volunteers. . . . .	17,760
there are known to have re-enlisted to the credit of the State 2,137, but it is estimated that the number re-enlisted during the war is at least. . . . .	2,500

These deducted would make the number of individuals from this State serving in the Regular Army exclusively. . . . .	15,260
Of those who served in the Navy and Marine Corps , from this State, 51,936 less 1,000 estimated to have been transferred from the volunteers. . . . .	50,936
it is estimated in the absence of any kind of data on the subject, that ten per centum entered the service twice at least, this would be. . . . .	5,094

And these deducted, would make the number of individuals from this State serving in the Navy and Marine Corps exclusively. . . . .	45,842
---	--------

Of those who served in the United States Volunteers , from this State, 1,375, less 800 estimated transferred from the State volunteers, 575, it is supposed that about 75 re-enlisted, which would leave the number of individuals in the service specially as. . . . .	500
--	-----

Those who served in the United States Veteran Volunteers and in the Veteran Reserve Corps had all entered the service or served previously in the volunteers, and no individuals can be allowed for service in those bodies only.

Those who served in the U. S. Colored Troops and are credited to this State represent but one entry into service, and there are credited therefore individuals . . . . .	4,125

Of those who served in Volunteers of other States , but were credited to this State — 500 — there are credited to the State as re-enlisted ninety-one; these it is supposed were not originally credited to the State, and their re-enlistment would constitute a claim for individuals to the number of . . . . .	91
---	----

Of those who served in the Volunteers of this State , 370,652, it is estimated that of the nine months' men — 1,781 — there re-entered the service . . . . .	1,200
---	-------

That of the two years' men, who entered the service in 1861 — 30,131 — there re-entered the service . . . . .	18,000
---	--------

Of the three years' men enlisted up to April 30th, 1862, there are known to have re-enlisted as veterans in the field, from December, 1863, to April, 1864. . . . .	18,076
---	--------

It is estimated that of those discharged in 1864 by reason of the expiration of their terms of service, there re-entered the service. . . . .	4,000
---	-------

And that of the men discharged for disability, reported by the Provost-Marshal-General in his final report as 24,908 men, there probably re-entered the service . . . . .	3,200
---	-------

The total of re-entries into service would therefore be 44,476, and this number deducted from the number of enlistments or entries into the State volunteers, 370,652, would credit the State volunteers with individuals who served therein to the number of . . . . .	326,176
---	---------

The total of individuals thus obtained as having served in the war, from this State, would be . . . . .	399,994
---	---------

Or in round numbers four hundred thousand individuals.

The United States census of 1860, from which the State census of 1865 varies but slightly, gave New York a population of 3,880,735, of whom 1,933,532 were males; based on these figures the individuals in service during the war, from this State, bear the ratio of 1 to 9.7, or 10.30 per cent of the population of the State, and of 1 to 4.8 or 20.68 per cent of the male population of the State.

NATIVITIES OF THE INDIVIDUALS IN SERVICE.

Mr. B. A. Gould, actuary of the United States Sanitary Commission, in his "Investigations in the Military and Anthropological Statistics of the American Soldier, 1869," gives the nativity of 337,800 individual soldiers from this State, based on that of 230,267 men obtained from official records, as follows: Natives of the United States, 203,622; of foreign birth, 134,178. Of those of foreign birth, 19,985 were born in British America; 14,024 were of English birth; 51,206 were born in Ireland; 36,680 in Germany, and 12,283 in other foreign countries.

The nativities obtained by him must have been principally of enlistments made in 1863, 1864 and 1865; to obtain the nativity of most of the men entering in 1861 and 1862 from the records, except possibly company descriptive books, is as far as this State is concerned, almost impossible. It is well known that more men of foreign birth entered the service in 1863 and 1864, than in 1861 and 1862, and thus it may be explained why Mr. Gould's figures of persons of foreign birth in the service to the credit of this State, are so large, 39.71 per cent of the whole, and why they are considered too high.

The history of a regiment of the Regular Army, organized in July, 1861, and receiving about three-fifths of its membership in 1861 and 1862, gives the nativity of its 3,574 members as ascertained from official records. This regiment received in 1865 up to April almost no men, and in many other particulars is a fair example of a regiment serving through the war, and estimates based on the figures set forth in that history, applied to the men furnished by this State, are deemed to be more equitable than those of Mr. Gould.

On this basis, there would have been of the four hundred thousand individuals 279,040 natives of the United States, and 30.24 per cent or 120,960 of foreign birth. Of the latter 42,095 are to be credited to Ireland; 41,179 to Germany; 12,756 to England; 11,525 to British America; 3,693 to France; 3,333 to Scotland; 2,014 to Wales; 2,015 to Switzerland, and 2,350 to other foreign countries.

It is claimed for the Excelsior Brigade that in its ranks (in the Seventieth regiment) there served a representative of China and that he was killed at Gettysburg; and it is positively known that in the Forty-third N. Y. Volunteers there served a man born in Hindostan of natives of that country.

AGES OF THE INDIVIDUALS IN SERVICE.

Mr. B. A. Gould in his work, already referred to, gives the ascertained ages of 183,281 New York volunteers. Based on his figures, which compare favorably with the ascertained ages of a smaller number of men, there were of the four hundred thousand individuals furnished by the State at the time of their entry into the service:

37 thirteen years old; 137 fourteen years old; 334 fifteen years old; 978 sixteen years old; 1,526 seventeen years old; 43,074 eighteen years old; 35,427 nineteen years old; 24,638 twenty years old; 44,143 twenty-one years old; 29,875 twenty-two years old; 25,133 twenty-three years old; 20,707 twenty-four years old; 18,873 twenty-five years old; 15,899 twenty-six years old; 13,581 twenty-seven years old; 14,517 twenty-eight years old; 9,934 twenty-nine years old; 11,946 thirty years old; 7,174 thirty-one years old; 9,893 thirty-two years old; 7,267 thirty-three years old; 6,842 thirty-four years old; 8,479 thirty-five years old; 6,268 thirty-six years old; 4,803 thirty-seven years old; 5,912 thirty-eight years old; 4,055 thirty-nine years old; 6,890 forty years old; 2,767 forty-one years old; 5,024 forty-two years old; 4,513 forty-three years old; 6,870 forty-four years old; 1,814 forty-five years old; 190 forty-six years old; 89 forty-seven years old; 116 forty-eight years old; 50 forty-nine years old, and 225 fifty and over, years old.

Making the average age 25 years, 7 months and 26 days; or taking into consideration that, in order to be accepted, many less than 18 and 21 years old, gave their age as such, twenty-five years.

WHERE THE MEN, IN THE SERVICE, WERE OBTAINED.

It is impracticable, in fact impossible, to obtain any accurate figures of the number of men furnished during the war by each county, city, town and village of the State. Up to July 2d, 1862, no account was kept with localities by the State. When for the purpose of drafting, quotas were assigned, they were constantly more or less modified; credits were given, deficiencies were added, before and after assigning the quotas, and were it practicable to collate the records of the Provost-Marshal, it would still leave about 150,000 men unaccounted for. The best that can be done, is to indicate here the organizations (original or new; recruits not considered) to which the counties of the State contributed men; those marked * being entirely recruited in the county, to which they are credited, all others only in part. There were recruited:

OFFICERS, FROM THIS STATE, IN THE ARMIES AND NAVIES OF THE UNITED STATES.

In the reports of the Adjutants-General of the State for 1861 to 1865, and in that for 1867, there appear registers of the officers of the Militia or National Guard and of the Volunteers of the State. The names of these officers are therefore not reproduced here. Moreover there is a prospect that Congress will authorize the publication of perfected registers of these officers and also of the enlisted men who served in these organizations. The registers published by the War Department of the officers of the U. S. Veteran Volunteers, of the Veteran Reserve Corps, and the United States Colored Troops do not give the States from which the officers were appointed, nor is it practicable to obtain the names of the enlisted members of the same from this State; no register appears therefore here. The registers of the Navy do not give the States from which the officers of the Volunteer Navy, who discontinued to be in service in 1861, 1862 and 1863, were appointed; as therefore not a complete list of these could be obtained, no register of officers of the Volunteer Navy is added here. It has also been impracticable to obtain the names of the men, from this State, who served in the Regular Army, Navy and Marine Corps of the United States.

OFFICERS FROM STATE IN SERVICE OF UNITED STATES. 61

Registers are given here therefore only of the general and staff officers of the U. S. Volunteers; of the officers of the Regular Army, Regular Navy and of the Marine Corps, appointed from, and credited on the official registers to, this State.

GENERAL AND STAFF OFFICERS OF THE UNITED STATES VOLUNTEERS.

General Orders No. 15, War Department, May 4th, 1861, provided that the volunteer forces called for by the President in his proclamation of May 3d, 1861, shall be organized into three divisions of from three to four brigades each; that there shall be to each division one Major-General, whose staff shall consist of two Aides-de-Camp, with rank of captain or lieutenant, and one Assistant Adjutant-General with rank of major; and to each brigade one Brigadier-General, who shall have a staff of one Aide-de-Camp of the rank of lieutenant; one Assistant Adjutant-General of the rank of captain; one Surgeon; one Assistant Quartermaster of the rank of captain, and one Commissary of Subsistence, also of the rank of captain. The act of Congress approved July 22d, 1861, authorized the President to appoint, not to exceed, six Major-Generals, and eighteen Brigadier-Generals of volunteers, and increases the number of Aides-de-Camp for Major-Generals to three and for Brigadier-Generals to two. The act of Congress approved July 25th, 1861, authorized the President to appoint such number of Major-Generals and Brigadier-Generals as in his judgment may be required for the organization of the volunteer forces. Act of Congress approved August 5th, 1861, authorized the appointment of such number of (additional) Aides-de-Camp, with the rank of captain, major, lieutenant-colonel and colonel, in addition to those already authorized, as the exigencies of the service may, in the opinion of the President, require. Act approved May 20th, 1862, authorized the President to appoint, if he shall deem it necessary, a Chaplain for each permanent hospital. Act approved July 2d, 1862, provided for the appointment of forty Surgeons and one hundred and twenty Assistant Surgeons, in which number shall be included the brigade surgeons heretofore authorized, to be known as Surgeons of U. S. Volunteers. Act of July 5th, 1862, limited the number of Major-Generals to forty and those of Brigadier-Generals to two hundred. Act of July 17th, 1862, reduced the number of Aides-de-Camp allowed under act approved July 22d, 1861, for Major-Generals to two and for Brigadier-Generals to one; provided as a staff for each army corps one Assistant Adjutant-General, one Assistant Inspector-General, one Quartermaster, one Commissary of Subsistence, each of the rank of lieutenant-colonel, and three Aides-de-Camp, one with the rank of major and two with the rank of captain; it also provided for the appointment of a Judge-Advocate, of the rank of major, for each army in the field. Act approved May 2d, 1863, authorized the appointment, in addition to the number allowed, of thirty Major-Generals and seventy-five Brigadier-Generals. Act approved March 3d, 1863, authorized the organization of a Signal Corps. Act of Congress approved July 4th, 1864, authorized the assignment of a Quartermaster to each army in the field of more than one corps, to each military depot and principal depot, as Chief Quartermaster, who while thus assigned shall have the temporary rank of colonel. The Additional Paymasters were appointed under an old law, section 25, act of Congress, approved July 5th, 1838. The officers marked * were also officers of the Regular Army. Under these acts there were appointed as:

COST OF THE WAR TO THE STATE.

IN MONEY.

The Legislature of the State passed in 1865, an act requiring supervisors, county treasurers and certain city officials, to report to the chief of the Bureau of Military Records the amount of money expended by them officially for every purpose connected with the war. In his last report, made in 1868, the chief of this bureau reported having received statements from forty-seven counties to Dec. 31, 1865; from twelve counties to Dec. 31, 1864; from five cities to Dec. 31, 1864; from seven hundred and seventy-one towns to Dec. 31, 1865; from one hundred and thirty-two towns to Dec. 31, 1864; none at all from one county and twenty-five towns. With the transfer of the bureau to the Adjutant-General's Department, the collection of the wanting reports ceased. According to the statements received, the amounts paid for bounties, fees and expenses, interest on loans, and for the support of the families of soldiers were:

In the forty-seven counties, which rendered full reports.	$58,523,509 01
In the twelve counties, which rendered incomplete reports . . . . .	7,404,447 50
In the five cities, which rendered incomplete reports. . . . .	2,694,666 27
In the seven hundred and seventy-one towns, which rendered full reports . . . . .	32,265,128 95
In the one hundred and thirty-two towns, which rendered incomplete reports. . . . .	4,142,991 60
	<hr/>	$105,030,743 33
Estimates based on the reports received, where no complete, or no reports at all were made, would give additional amounts:
For the twelve counties, which rendered incomplete reports, for 1865. . . . .	$1,851,111 84
For the five cities, which rendered incomplete reports, for 1865 . . . . .	898,222 09
For the one hundred and thirty-two towns, which rendered incomplete reports, for 1865. . . . .	1,380,997 20
For the one county, which rendered no report at all, for the whole period . . . . .	1,148,797 87
For the twenty-five towns, which rendered no reports at all, for the whole period . . . . .	1,046,210 00
	<hr/>	6,325,339 00
Voluntary contributions and subscriptions on the part of the people were reported in five hundred and thirty-five towns to have amounted to. . . . .	$1,757,184 17
Add to this estimated amount, for the remaining towns. . . . .	1,290,788 85
	<hr/>	3,047,973 02

The State paid and expended:
 In organizing, subsisting, equipping, uniforming and transporting Volunteers, $5,101,873.79; of which the General Government has reimbursed the State over $4,000,000, and more may yet be obtained; but it is estimated that owing to lack of proper evidence of legal expenditure, or incomplete vouchers, unless the existing laws be modified, no allowance will be made by the U. S. Treasury officials for at least . . . . . $900,000 00

August 5, 1861, Congress placed a direct tax of $20,000,000 upon the States; the amount allotted to New York was $2,603,918.32; the State assumed this tax, and, receiving a rebate of 15 per cent, paid.....	$2,213,332 86
Bounties have been paid by the State, under the proclamation of Governor Morgau, and chapter 184, Laws of 1863, $9,182,000; under chapter 29, Laws of 1865, as reported by Paymaster-General Selden E. Marvin, $25,749,243 96; total of.....	34,931,243 96
	$38,044,576 82
Grand total.....	$152,448,632 17

The amount credited to the five cities does not include voluntary contributions and subscriptions; and covers almost exclusively expenses for bounties only. No allowance is made for interest on loans subsequent to 1865. Assistance to families of soldiers did not cease with that year. Nor are disbursements for the Militia in July, 1863, and at other times, made necessary by the war, included. Thousands of dollars were contributed by the people in the shape of provisions, clothing, hospital and sanitary supplies. While there is scarcely a doubt but that the cost of the war in actual outlay of money to the State and its people was two hundred millions, the sum of one hundred and sixty millions only is here claimed as being susceptible of easy proof.

IN LIVES.

Of those who from this State served their country in the armies and navies of the United States during the war, computed to have been four hundred thousand individuals, there died while in service fifty-two thousand nine hundred and ninety-three.

Suppose that there were in the service from this State, without making any allowance for deaths, discharges before expiration of service, and desertions, for the first year to April, 1862, 150,000; in the second year to April, 1863, 250,000; in the third year to April, 1864, 250,000; in the fourth year to April, 1865, 200,000 men; and that their average age was twenty-five years; this number of men would have lost in time of peace, according to the mortuary tables of life insurance companies, but 7,000 by death; the excess is to the State the cost of the war in lives.

And yet this does not cover the deaths of men discharged from the Volunteers and the short-termed Militia and National Guard, due to causes contracted while in service, and which occurred before the close of the war. Nor does it cover the deaths of persons not in the service, directly due to casualties occurring in the same, or in exertions made in assisting the Union in one way or another.

Before proceeding further with the consideration of this subject, attention is called to the tables of death losses following hereafter, wherein the loss of each organization is given in detail.

The losses of the State Militia, National Guard and Volunteers are based on the figures of the War Department; where they differ, it is owing to statements found in the records of these organizations, which authorize increased numbers; for instance, men whose final record reads "missing since * * *," "seen to fall on the field" or "known to have been badly wounded," can well be reported dead. The War Department, however, reports only those in its death lists, of whose death evidence has been received in the shape of final statements from commanding officers, and from surgeons in charge of hospitals; or who appear on the registers or death records of prisons, northern and southern hospitals, burial records of cemeteries; or whose death has been satisfactorily demonstrated before the Bureau of Pensions or the accounting officers of the United States Treasury. As far as deaths within the Union lines are concerned the figures of the War Department are almost conclusive, but they are acknowledged to be incomplete as to deaths among prisoners of war.

The losses claimed of the Regular Army, United States Volunteers, United States Veteran Volunteers, United States Colored Troops, United States Veteran Reserve Corps, and of the Navy and Marine Corps, are proportions of the total loss of the same, based upon the number of men computed as having served therein as of this State.

The column in the table of deaths "of other known causes" includes all deaths resulting from quarrels, riots and the like, which are not definitely reported as murder; from being shot for insubordination, or by provost guards or sentinels in attempting to escape or pass the lines; from exhaustion or exposure; killed while depredating upon the property of citizens; and all other causes not embraced in the preceding columns.

War Department Statement of Loss by Death.

The Adjutant-General of the U. S. Army, under date of June 1, 1885, published a "Statistical Exhibit of Deaths in the United States Army during the Late War," prepared by Mr. J. W. Kirkley of his office. (See appendix.) This, as its title indicates, does not include the losses of the Navy and the Marine Corps; and according to it there died while in the armies of the United States:

Killed in action, 4,142 officers, 62,916 enlisted men, aggregate 67,058; of wounds received in action, 2,223 officers, 40,789 enlisted men, aggregate 43,012; of disease and other causes, 3,219 officers, 246,239 enlisted men, aggregate 249,458; total, 9,584 officers, 349,944 enlisted men, aggregate 359,528; of whom are reported as having died in the hands of the enemy 219 officers, 29,279 enlisted men, aggregate 29,498.

Mr. Kirkley in making his report to the Adjutant-General states: "With the deaths occurring among prisoners of war the result is not so satisfactory. Unfortunately, the records of southern prisons in possession of the Department are very incomplete. In fact, the death registers of some of the principal places of confinement for Union soldiers have not been secured. Notably among these are Americus, Atlanta and Augusta, Ga.; Camps Ford and Tyler, Tex.; Camps Oglethorpe and Macon, Ga.; Charleston, S. C.; Lynchburg, Va.; Marietta, Ga.; Mobile and Montgomery, Ala.; Savannah, Ga., and Shreveport, La. Besides these, only partial records were obtained from the following-named important prisons: Catawba, Ala.; Camp Asylum, Columbia and Florence, S. C.; Millen, Ga., and Salisbury, N. C. It is true that evidence of death was often communicated to the proper military authorities by surviving comrades, and the report of burials in National cemeteries, or "Roll of Honor," supplies a large number; but these sources of information, together with the Confederate records obtained by the Government, have proved deficient.

As to the incompleteness of the interment record, a report prepared in the office of the Quartermaster-General, in 1869, says: "It is well known that at many places, as for instance, at Salisbury, N. C., and at Florence, S. C., etc., the bodies were buried in trenches, often two, three, sometimes even four deep, so that the accurate number of bodies interred at these places cannot be determined."

These facts warrant the belief that the actual number of Union soldiers who died in Confederate hands exceeds the number shown by the table. And there is no doubt about it; the number mentioned is 29,498; and there are buried at Andersonville, Ga., 13,714; at Salisbury, N. C., 12,126, and at Florence, S. C., 2,998, making a total at these three places alone of 28,838. Although men are buried in these cemeteries, whose remains were gathered from the surrounding country to a distance of many miles, still these figures show that the number officially reported is below the actual fact. Could the records be perfected, the number of those who died in the hands of the enemy would be at least 45,000. Some authorities place the number as high as 71,000.

Since the completion of the statement referred to, May 22d, 1865, to Oct. 19th, 1889, the War Department has added to its death rolls 710 men, almost all of whom died in the hands of the enemy; this addition has not been credited to States and can therefore not be taken into consideration here.

Those who served in the war will readily recall names of comrades known to have been captured, of whom nothing has since been heard. There were also men in the service, who had no homes or near friends; who served under assumed names; or whose friends forgot the organization in which they served; in cases of this sort no inquiries for their record are or can be made, and if they were captured and died, or killed in battle and reported missing, there is no one to see, or no one can see, to the discovery of their fate. Men are also known to have died at home, and as (in many cases) no evidence of this was sent to their regiments, they were finally dropped or reported deserted. There were over 2,000 (2,047) regiments in the U. S. service. Allowing as unaccounted for an average of only ten men per regiment, the total will be 20,000 men. While some regiments have not this number unaccounted for, in many regiments the number is from twenty to thirty and more.

It may therefore be asserted that the total number of men who died while in the Army of the United States is in round numbers at least 380,000, and including the loss of the Navy and Marine Corps, probably 385,000.

The loss credited to this State in the above-mentioned statement is:

Killed in action, 772 officers, 11,329 enlisted men, aggregate 12,101; died of wounds received in action, 371 officers, 6,613 enlisted men, aggregate 6,984; died of disease and other causes, 387 officers, 27,062 enlisted men, aggregate 27,449; total, 1,530 officers, 45,004 enlisted men, aggregate 46,534; of whom there are reported as having died in the hands of the enemy 40 officers and 5,506 enlisted men, aggregate 5,546.

A comparative statement of the number of enlistments and of deaths in the army, issued by the Adjutant-General of the U. S. army July 15th, 1885, shows that the above loss occurred among the members of the Militia, National Guard and Volunteers of the State, no credit being given for losses among those who served as of this State in other branches of the army. In this statement (see Appendix) there are deducted from the total enlistments furnished to the General Government (2,865,028) those who commuted their service, who served in the Navy and Marine Corps, in the Colored troops and those credited to the Indian Nations, leaving as due to the States 2,494,592 enlistments. New York is credited with 409,561 enlistments. The total loss of the troops credited to the States is reported as 312,821; that credited to New York has already been stated.

Based on the statements of loss, issued by the Adjutant-General U. S. army, as above, percentages show the following results:

The total number of deaths in the U. S. Armies (359,528) is to the total number of enlistments (2,778,304) in the same, men who commuted their service not included, as 1 to 7.727 or 12.94 per cent.

The total number of deaths credited to New York (46,534) is to the total number of enlistments (448,850) credited to the State, men who commuted their service not included, as 1 to 9.652 or 10.36 per cent.

The total number of deaths credited to the States (312,821) is to the total number of enlistments (2,494,592) credited to the States, War Department Statement of July 15th, 1885, as 1 to 7.974 or 12.54 per cent.

The total number of deaths credited to New York (46,534) is to the total number of enlistments (409,561) credited to the State, War Department Statement of July 15th, 1885, as 1 to 8.802 or 11.36 per cent.

The total number of deaths credited to New York (46,534) is to the total number of deaths (359,528) occurred in the U. S. Army, Statement of June 1st, 1885, as 1 to 7.727 or 12.94 per cent.

The total number of deaths credited to New York (46,534) is to the total number of deaths (312,821) credited to the States, Statement of July 15th, 1885, as 1 to 6.724 or 14.87 per cent.

The number of enlistments credited to New York (448,850) is to the total number of enlistments (2,778,304) furnished the General Government, men who commuted not included, as 1 to 6.190 or 16.15 per cent.

The number of enlistments credited to New York (409,561) is to the total number of enlistments (2,494,592) credited to the States, War Department Statement of July 15, 1885, as 1 to 6.093 or 16.41 per cent.

Statement of Loss by Death as Claimed for the State.

To obtain a correct statement of losses due the State, there must be taken the losses by death not only of the Militia, National Guard and Volunteers, but also of those who served, as of this State, in the other divisions of the Army of the United States and in the Navy and the Marine Corps. This loss is taken from the tables below, where it is recorded: of the State organizations, as reported by the Adjutant-General of the army, corrected by final records and histories of the same; of all other divisions pro rata of their total loss, based upon the proportion of men furnished by the State for the same; and the total is:

Killed in action, 866 officers, 13,344 enlisted men, aggregate 14,210; died of wounds received in action, 414 officers, 7,143 enlisted men, aggregate 7,557; died of disease and other causes, 506 officers, 30,720 enlisted men, aggregate 31,226; total, 1,786 officers, 51,207 enlisted men, aggregate 52,993; of whom 53 officers, 5,933 enlisted men, aggregate 5,986, died in the hands of the enemy.

And this loss occurred among the 502,765 enlistments claimed for New York, or the four hundred thousand individuals shown to have been in the service of the country from this State during the war.

The total number of deaths claimed for the State (52,993) bears to the total number of enlistments claimed for the same, less those who commuted their service (502,765—18,197=484,568) the proportion of 1 to 9.14 or 10.9 per cent.

The total number of deaths claimed for the State (52,993) bears to the number of individuals in the service from this State (400,000) the proportion of 1 to 7.54 or 13.26 per cent.

Statement of the Loss of the Volunteers of this State.

The real fighting force of the State were the Volunteers, who carried the banners of the Empire State. Based upon the tables of detailed losses below, their loss by death is:

Killed in action, 834 officers, 12,142 enlisted men, aggregate 12,975; of wounds received in action, 397 officers, 6,838 enlisted men, aggregate 7,235; of disease and other causes 402 officers, 27,453 enlisted men, aggregate 27,855; total 1,633 officers, 46,433 enlisted men, aggregate 48,066; of whom it is reported, there died in the hands of the enemy 51 officers, 5,715 enlisted men, aggregate 5,766.

The records of Volunteers of this State in the War Department and especially in the office of the Adjutant-General of the State, are notoriously incomplete. The loss credited by the Adjutant-General U. S. Army is decidedly less, but that given in the tables is perhaps not more than one thousand less than the actual loss, and this deficiency is no doubt due principally to deaths of men while in the hands of the enemy.

The burial records or "Rolls of Honor," published by the Quartermaster-General of the United States Army, show by name the burial of about 40,000 Volunteers of this State; the bodies of probably 2,000 were sent to the State for burial, possibly 1,000 died in the State, leaving at least 5,000 sleeping in nameless or unknown graves.

In another place it has been estimated that there were 370,652 enlistments in the Volunteers of the State, and that these enlistments represented 326,176 individuals. From this number there must be deducted the 3,000 men estimated to have been transferred from the Volunteers to the Regular Army and the Navy; the 800 General and Staff officers of the U. S. Volunteers, also transferred from them; the 1,770 men who, after a service in the State Volunteers, enlisted in the U. S. Veteran Volunteers, and the 9,640 men who were transferred from the Volunteers to, or after a term of service in the latter entered, the Veteran Reserve Corps, making a total of 15,210 individuals, who contribute no death loss as State Volunteers. This makes the number of individuals among whom the death losses of the Volunteers occurred, in round numbers, 311,000.

It will be noticed that the statement above shows quite a difference in the number of officers who died, compared with that of the Adjutant-General of the Army. This is explained principally by the fact that the United States recognized only those as officers who had been mustered in, while the State must properly recognize as such all who received its commission, even though they died without having been mustered in, and this rule has been followed in preparing the death losses of the State organizations.

The register of Volunteer officers issued by the Adjutant-General of the Army shows 18,037 New York Volunteer officers to have been in the U. S. service; the register published by the Adjutant-General of the State, contains those also, who were commissioned but not mustered in, who are now, however, being recognized by the War Department; but neither of the registers is complete, many omissions having been found in them; and a number of the officers were promoted or transferred from one regiment to another; taking all this in consideration, it is estimated that 18,000 individuals served as officers of New York Volunteers, but of these must be deducted those transferred as General and Staff officers to the U. S. Vols., 800, leaving 17,200 N. Y. Vol. officers among whom the death losses of such officers occurred; this would leave the number of individuals who served as enlisted men in the State Volunteers at 293,800. (311,000 — 17,200.)

Percentages based on the foregoing will give the following results of the loss of the State Volunteers:

LOSS IN THE UNITED STATES VOLUNTEERS.

General and Staff officers appointed from New York Volunteers or from this State, and four Companies, A, B, D and H, of the First U. S. Sharpshooters, estimated in all to be 1,375 men, come under this head. The loss of officers and enlisted men claimed is taken from official records. (See recapitulation.)

LOSS IN THE UNITED STATES VETERAN VOLUNTEERS.

Of this branch 1,770 of the 10,883 officers and enlisted men who served in it, are claimed for this State. The total loss is 106 officers and enlisted men, or  $\frac{9}{100}$  per cent of the men in service, and the same percentage of those claimed for, would be due to, New York. (See recapitulation.)

LOSS IN THE VETERAN RESERVE CORPS.

The number of men serving in this corps is officially estimated at 60,508; of these 9,862 are estimated to have been from this State. The total loss reported is 30 officers and 1,642 enlisted men; aggregate 1,672, or 2.76 per cent of those in service. The same percentage of loss of those claimed for, would be due to, this State. (See recapitulation.) The officers are taken from actual count.

LOSS IN THE COLORED TROOPS.

The deaths occurring in the 178,975 colored troops are reported as 36,847 officers and enlisted men. The losses of three colored regiments, 574, are not included in this number, but were credited to the State to which they belonged — Massachusetts. The State of New York is credited with 4,125 colored soldiers, or 2.30 per cent of the whole, and is entitled to credit of a pro rata loss. The officers are, however, taken from actual count. (See recapitulation.)

LOSS IN THE REGULAR ARMY.

The number of officers and enlisted men of the Regular Army, among whom the reported casualties occurred is officially estimated at 67,000; of these 19,760, or 29.46 per cent, are claimed for this State. The loss reported is 260 officers and 5,538 enlisted men, aggregate 5,798; of this New York is entitled to credit on a pro rata loss. The officers are, however, taken from actual count. (See recapitulation.) Officers, who at the time of their death, held commissions in the Volunteer service are not included here, but are credited to the Volunteers.

LOSS IN THE NAVY AND MARINE CORPS.

In his report of 1865, the Secretary of the Navy gives the losses of the Navy during the war as killed in action, 1,406; wounded in action, 1,638; missing in action, 176; total loss, 3,220. In that official's report of 1866 the casualties incident to battle are reported: Died from gunshot fractures, 495; from gunshot flesh wounds and other injuries, 659; drowned, 308; scalded to death, 342; total, 1,804; the casualties incident to the service but not to battle are given: Drowned, 265; died of scalds, 37; died of other accidents, 71; in the hands of the enemy, 95; total, 468. In the report of 1867, the men who died of disease in the various fleets from April, 1861, to June 30, 1865, are recorded as numbering 2,532.

The loss of the Navy during the war would, therefore, appear to have been:

Died of casualties incident to battle, including 308 drowned and 342 scalded to death .....	1,804
Died of casualties not incident to battle, including 265 drowned and 37 scalded to death .....	373
Died of disease .....	2,532
Died of disease, presumably so, but in the hands of the enemy .....	95
	2,627

Total loss by death . . . . . 4,804

The report for 1866 gives the number wounded in action, 3,266 from the effects of gunpowder, 456 scalded and 308 drowned, total 4,030; in this are included those killed outright and those who died of wounds, which latter cannot be ascertained from the reports. Deduct the number who died of casualties, due to battle, 1,804, and there will remain, wounded in action who recovered, 2,226 officers and enlisted men.

The report of 1865 gives missing 176; the later reports make no mention of this kind of loss, except that 95 men died in the hands of the enemy; the number given in 1865 as missing in action is therefore accepted as correct.

The total number of men who served in the Navy, as elsewhere stated, is 132,554; the number of casualties incident to battle is 1,804, or 1.36 per cent; the number who died of causes not due to battle is 2,905, or 2.19 per cent; the number who died in the hands of the enemy is 95, or .071 per cent; the number wounded in action is 2,226, or 1.68 per cent of the number of men in service. New York furnished 51,936 men, and as casualties, the percentages given above, of this number are due to the State. The number due as having been wounded is 872. (See recapitulation.) The names of the officers of the Volunteer Navy from this State who died in the service of the United States during the war could not be ascertained.

LOSS IN THE VOLUNTEERS OF OTHER STATES, BUT DUE TO THIS.

Of persons from this State serving in the Volunteers of other States, the loss cannot be ascertained. Four who held commissions in the Volunteers of other States, but served in the Volunteers of this State before, were found to have died in the service and are here credited to New York.

BATTLE LOSSES.

Under this head are considered the losses of the State Volunteers in battle by reason of wounds and capture (although not exactly appropriate to this part of the work, Part I. In the State), as to the tables of losses by death, for convenience, has been attached also the loss in wounded and captured. Of the Militia and National Guard the losses of this nature being small, no consolidation is given; nor is there of the other divisions of the service, as it was impracticable to obtain the necessary figures and statements.

WOUNDED IN ACTION.

According to the tables of losses, the number of State Volunteers wounded in action, including those who died of their wounds, is 3,149 officers and 52,672 enlisted men; aggregate 55,821. These figures are based almost entirely on battle reports, but nevertheless do not give a correct total; to obtain which is almost, if not quite, impossible. It is an acknowledged fact, that the reports of losses in the Peninsular Campaign of 1862; in General Pope's Campaign in Northern Virginia, 1862; of the period between Chancellorsville and Gettysburg, 1863; in the Red River Campaign, 1864, and in the trenches before Richmond and Petersburg, 1864-1865, at least as far as regiments are concerned, are inaccurate and incomplete; besides there were quite a number of men wounded on outpost at other times, in skirmishes, scouts and other minor affairs, of which no detailed reports exist.

The late Major-General A. A. Humphreys estimated that the number killed is to the number wounded as one to a mean between four and five; Colonel W. F. Fox in his "Regimental Losses in the Civil War" makes the proportion, based on more complete reports and figures, four and eight-tenths. While this proportion is reliable as an average based on battle reports, it is not safe to use it with numbers of killed made up from final records, for in the battle reports many men are reported missing who on final records are reported killed.

The number died of wounds is sixty-four per cent of the number killed in action, based on the War Department totals of such losses. The battle reports when being prepared for publication in the "Official Records of the War of the Rebellion" are revised by the War Department, so as to show, as far as practicable, the captured wounded included with the wounded, and not with the missing or captured. On final records many men appear as killed, who in battle reports were reported wounded, making another cause of discrepancy between the former and the latter. To arrive at a fair estimate it is therefore necessary to take as a basis the killed and died of wounds received in action. The proportion of killed is 1 to 4.8, taking Colonel Fox as authority, or 100 killed to 480 wounded; the proportion of died of wounds to the killed, based on the War Department rather than State figures, is sixty-four per cent; this will give the following formula:

Killed and died of wounds 164 to every 416 wounded, or 1 to 2.5; that is, to every 1 killed or died of wounds 2.5 were wounded and survived.

The final figures of State Volunteers killed and died of wounds are: Killed in action 12,976, died of wounds 7,235; total 20,211; in this number are included 420 who died of their wounds while in the hands of the enemy, and as it is a fact that the mortality among prisoners was at least twice the rate of that among non-prisoners, it is but proper to equalize conditions, to deduct one-half of them from this total, which will leave, to estimate upon, 20,001. The formula 2.5 applied to this, gives 50,002, and the number died of wounds (7,235) added thereto makes the total wounded 57,237 officers and enlisted men, or distributed pro rata 3,228 officers and 54,009 enlisted men, a difference of 1,416 against the total recorded in the tables, which, distributed equally among the Volunteer regiments or equivalents of such, would increase the recorded loss of each regiment by six.

The ratio of mortality among the wounded based on the above would be 12.6 per cent; in the Crimean War this ratio is stated to have been 13.7 per cent; in the Franco-Prussian War 11.2 per cent.

Many men were wounded in more than one affair; there are however no United States or State records from which to form even an estimate. In the Franco-Prussian War it is recorded that of 95,928 there were wounded in more than one engagement 1,423 men, or 1.4 per cent. This war lasted but eleven months, and about 1,600 engagements took place in it; the War of the Rebellion lasted four years (fighting time) and about four thousand engagements took place. There was therefore more time for wounded to return, and more opportunity for men to be wounded again, and it is estimated that five per cent of the wounded were wounded in more than one engagement.

Based on the above estimate, the number of individual State Volunteers wounded (57,237, less 5 per cent, 2,861, equals 54,376) would bear to the number of individuals estimated as having served in New York Volunteers (326,176) the proportion of 1 to 5.99 or 16.69 per cent; the number of officers wounded (3,228, less 5 per cent, equals 3,067) to the number of individual New York Volunteer officers (18,000) the proportion of 1 to 5.86 or 17 per cent; the number of enlisted men wounded (54,009, less 5 per cent, equals 51,309) to the number of individual enlisted men (308,176) to the proportion of 1 to 6 or 16.66 per cent; practically an even loss.

CAPTURED AND REPORTED MISSING.

The total number of State Volunteers captured, according to the tables, is 890 officers and 24,473 enlisted men, who are supposed to have returned from captivity, and 51 officers and 5,715 enlisted men, who are reported to have died in the hands of the enemy; total 941 officers and 30,188 enlisted men; aggregate 31,129. The Surgeon-General of the Army in the "Medical History of the War" gives the total number captured as 184,791; this is now known to be below the actual figures; the loss of this nature being something over 210,000. In the tables preceding this, those who were reported missing, but were not captured are included as captured, and it is believed that this number balances at least the number of men captured, who are not credited and of whose capture no official reports, in detail, were made; the number given is therefore accepted as correct.

The captured of the Militia and National Guard are but few in numbers, and no tabulated statement has been made; of the other divisions of the service the necessary data to make a tabulated statement were not available.

As with the wounded, there were men who were captured twice and even three times. No data can be obtained on this subject. Attention is called to the fact that in the tables several regiments of infantry show a total loss of all kinds, larger than the number of men in the same; this is explained by the fact that these regiments were captured in toto, exchanged, and then practically commenced their real service in the war.

The number of men, State Volunteers, who died in the hands of the enemy, 5,766, bears to the number captured, 31,121, the proportion of 1 to 5.4 or 18.5 per cent; as however probably four-fifths of the deaths occurred subsequent to June, 1863, after which but few exchanges were made, and the number captured from that time to the close of the war can be estimated as half of the total, the following comparison would be more in consonance with facts; the number died in the hands of the enemy, 4,500, is to the number captured, 16,000, as 1 to 3.55 or 28.16 per cent; but here again must be borne in mind that the record of deaths of this nature is incomplete, and the number is believed to be nearly 1,000 more than recorded.

The number captured, 31,121, bears to the number of enlistments in New York Volunteers, 370,652, the proportion of 1 to 11.91, or 8.39 per cent.

NUMBER OF MEN IN THE ORGANIZATIONS AMONG WHOM THE LOSSES OCCURRED.

This column added to the tables of losses shows the number of men who actually served in each organization before the end of April, 1865. An effort has been made to omit those who joined after the fighting had ceased, which it is believed has generally been successful. The numbers were obtained by actual count, except of fourteen regiments, which had to be estimated; where the number was obtained by actual count, in the case of regiments the units were left off entirely, but with batteries the units above and below five were omitted; where it has been estimated the tens and units were omitted. Those transferred from one company to another in the same regiment, as also those who re-enlisted as veterans in the field, were counted but once. Those transferred from one regiment or battery to another are counted in each; the transfers made after April, 1865, were counted but once. The total number thus obtained is 371,890.

Before the end of April, 1865, there were discontinued the 4th and 7th cavalry; the 2d, 4th, 9th, 10th, 14th, 15th, 29th and 31st batteries; the two years' regiments (except the 3d, 10th and 19th); the 42d, 44th, 53d, 55th, 57th, 67th, 70th, 71st, 72d, 74th, 76th, 78th, 82d, 83d, 84th, 87th, 92d, 101st, 105th, 145th, 163d, 168th, 174th and 177th regiments of infantry, and their members not discharged with them, estimated at 18,000 men, transferred to other organizations; the men transferred individually from one regiment or battery to another are estimated at 2,000; these, being counted twice, total 20,000, must be deducted from the total obtained above, which will leave a remainder of 351,890; from this must still further be deducted the men who served in the New York Volunteers but to the credit of other States, and who of course appear on the records of the organizations of this State, perhaps 1,500, leaving 350,390.

In another place the number of enlistments in the State Volunteers has been estimated at 370,642; but in this number the veteran re-enlistments in the field, known to have been 18,000, are not only included, but counted twice, enlistment and re-enlistment. These deducted once will leave 352,642.

The difference between the figures obtained is so small (350,390 and 352,642) that the numbers in the tables (almost entirely obtained by actual count, with the units omitted) prove the number of enlistments, 370,642, claimed for New York Volunteers, to be substantially correct.

In the list of organizations the "unassigned men and independent companies" are credited with 20,000 men; this includes men who deserted from recruiting depots and rendezvous, and about one-half of the men furnished under the last call estimated not to have joined regiments before the close of the fighting period, or who were not assigned to regiments at all.

In making comparisons of the loss of an organization with the number of men who served in it, proper consideration should be given to the number reported deserted, and to the fact that there were always men who were non-combatants, and a deduction of 12 per cent made from the number credited to the organization. The Provost-Marshal-General of the United States gives in his final report the number of deserters from New York Volunteers as 36,149; this includes men whose desertion was but technical, and whose record can be corrected under late laws; men erroneously reported deserted; men who deserted at recruiting depots and rendezvous before being assigned to, or who deserted en route to an organization; men captured, etc.; no small number, and estimated to reduce desertions from organizations to at least 28,000; a proportion of the enlistments credited to the State Volunteers (370,642) of 1 to 13.23, or 7.55 per cent. In regiments about to go into action there were always men who for the time at least were non-combatants: Cooks, musicians, sick, men on guard, hospital stewards, quartermaster and commissary sergeants, chaplains, quartermasters, commissaries and surgeons; there were also men on duty as teamsters, orderlies, clerks, etc., and it is but a fair estimate to allow on this score a deduction of 5 per cent. This shows the foundation for a reduction from the total of 12 per cent a moderate claim.

To compare losses in single engagements with the number of men taken into the action, of regiments or of the State, is impossible. While in some instances and of some organizations the number of men taken into action is known, in the large majority of cases no reports are given, or no satisfactory numbers can be obtained. It is estimated that the average strength of a regiment, ten companies, after having been in the field six months, was about four hundred men.

DEATHS SINCE THE CLOSE OF THE WAR.

It has been estimated that the number of individuals who served in the war to the credit of the State was 400,000. Of these there died while in the service 52,993. The Commissioner of Pensions estimates that of the soldiers discharged during the war there died up to July 1st, 1865, 25,284; the pro rata share of this number as from this State would be more than 4,000; and added to those who lost their lives while in the service, would make a total number of deaths of 57,000, leaving of the 400,000 individuals at the close of the year, 1865, three hundred and forty-three thousand survivors.

In another place the average age of the men at the time of their entry into the service has been computed to have been twenty-five years. The enlistments in 1861 (about 122,500), and in 1862 (about 132,000), represent a larger proportion of individuals than those in 1863 (about 59,000), and in 1864 (about 155,000), and it may therefore be estimated that the average age of the survivors at the close of the year 1865, was twenty-eight years.

The scriptural duration of man's life is three score and ten. Life insurance statistics on an average make it about the same. Yet service in the war left its effects on every one, especially those who served any length of time, or who were disabled by disease or wounds. The theory of the survival of the fittest can be applied only to the period of service, but not to that succeeding. The Commissioner of Pensions finds the effect of the service in cases of men, pensioners, who were wounded or otherwise disabled while in service to be equal to the shortening of the expectation of life by twelve years, and bases his statement on the examination of sixteen thousand cases; he also estimates the number subject to this shortening of life to be about one-third of the survivors. The report of the Superintendent of the Soldiers and Sailors' Home of this State, for the year ending September 30th, 1889, shows a loss of seventy-five inmates of the Home by death, whose average age was sixty years, equal to a ten years' shortening of the expectation of life; the majority of those living at the Soldiers' Homes are not pensioners. Grand Army papers chronicle every week the deaths of numbers of veterans of the war, and an examination will show that the ages of those there reported are from 45 to 60 years, and but few above the latter age. It is beyond dispute that his service in the field affects the length of life of every veteran, whether disabled in the service or not.

Considering the foregoing, it is estimated that the expectation of life is shortened by ten years for one-third of the survivors, and by four years for the remaining two-thirds, and based on this estimate and life insurance mortality tables there would have died between January 1st, 1866, and December 31st, 1890, 101,713; by December 31st, 1900, 80,312 more, and by October 31st, 1915, fifty years after the close of the war, an additional 135,125, leaving but 25,850 survivors, who will not long delay the final review of that Grand Army, which fought for the existence of the Republic.

THE WOMEN OF THE STATE.

The successful prosecution of the war is due to the women of the loyal States as much as to the men, and this record would be incomplete, if it failed to chronicle the patriotism of the women of New York. Their faith cheered the soldier in the dark days of the war and presaged victory. Their prayers were with him in the camp, on the field of battle, and on the bed of pain and of death. The thought of the dear ones at home, mother, wife, sister, or the chosen one, was comfort in the hardships of the campaign, encouragement on the field of strife, and support in adversity. Next to the Supreme Ruler, women were the soldiers' mainstay. The children and orphans of the latter became their wards; and their efforts and deeds were felt from early in April, 1861, to the end of the struggle in the Christian and Sanitary Commissions; in the thoughtful comforts sent to the field, and to the hospitals, where also the closing moments of many lives were smoothed by their hands. They fought as great battles as the men, though on different fields; yes—greater ones. Willingly, though with pain and sorrow, they gave fathers, husbands, sons, brothers and lovers to the country. With staunch hearts they bore the ever-present anxiety for their treasures in peril, and gave them comfort with words and with deeds. When the sacrifice of their offering was complete, they bore and still bear the loss and sorrow, though with broken hearts, as only women can, uncomplainingly, unselfishly, finding consolation in the knowledge of an eternal meeting and a restored country. Victory did not bring peace to them all. "Women must weep." All honor to their loyal and unflinching spirit; to the courage with which they bore and bear their cross; to the faith which upheld them in their darkest hour of trial.

The Legislature by an act passed April 24th, 1886, authorized the Department of New York of the Grand Army of the Republic, to erect a monument on the Capitol grounds at Albany, "in honor of the women of said State, for their humane and patriotic acts during the war." May it be worthy of the heroic women of this State.

THE ROLL OF HONOR.

To mention by name the noble men and women of this State, who by special services would be entitled to be enrolled under this heading, would be a pleasing task, but one not practicable. To give the names of the enlisted men, who gave their lives for their country is impossible here, and can only be done by the War Department. The names of the officers who died in the service; of those who received medals of honor and brevets; and the actions, etc., in which organizations from this State took part, only, can be recorded here. The original intention was to give also the names of those who were favorably mentioned in battle reports, but it was found that in many instances no battle reports were on file, and that the total number of names would be more than fifteen thousand, and, therefore, the plan could not be carried out.

The Navy Department issued medals of honor to 327 men for noteworthy service during the war; the announcements of the names of these men do not show where they were enlisted; this information could be obtained only by examining the records of several hundred vessels, which was not practicable; this will explain why the names of but a few men are here recorded as of this State.

OFFICERS FROM THIS STATE, WHO RECEIVED BREVETS FROM THE UNITED STATES.

Under the act of Congress approved March 3d, 1863, the following officers of Volunteers, from this State, were "Brevetted" for "gallant action or meritorious conduct during the War," by the President, with the consent of the Senate of the United States. The highest brevet obtained only is given: as a rule the grades between that and the actual rank held at the time, have also been conferred on the officer. The brevets conferred on officers of the Regular Army, in that branch of the service, are not recorded here, but are given in the register of officers, from this State, in that army. Those marked * were also officers in the Regular Army, and those of the general officers marked † obtained the full grade, subsequent to having been brevetted to the same.

There were accordingly brevetted in the United States Volunteers as BATTLES, ENGAGEMENTS, ACTIONS, SIEGES, AFFAIRS AND SKIRMISHES, ETC., IN WHICH NEW YORK VOLUNTEER ORGANIZATIONS TOOK PART, CHRONOLOGICALLY ARRANGED.

This chronological list of engagements, etc., is almost entirely taken from official records; from the official records of the war, now in process of publication by the War Department; from monthly returns, bi-monthly muster-rolls, and the muster-out-rolls of organizations; a few of the engagements were obtained through correspondence with officers. The constant aim has been to give correct dates; an effort attended with more difficulties than would be imagined; official reports, in many instances, disagreeing in this particular, and often giving dates not agreeing with other records. It will be noticed that frequently several designations are given to the same engagement; the one given first is the name under which it is more generally known.

A decision of the War Department is to this effect: Troops on the ground (battle-field), though not engaged, are entitled to be credited with the engagement. This rule has been followed, except in minor affairs, where adherence to it would make it preposterous. Engagements of any duration, as for instance, "Seven Days' Battle, General Pope's Campaign, Port Hudson, Red River Campaign, Atlanta Campaign, Spotsylvania, Cold Harbor," etc., have been subdivided into the more important actions of which they consisted; credit has been given for the general engagement to all on the ground, for the subordinate actions and affairs to those who, it could be ascertained, took active part therein. "Before Petersburg and Richmond," implies service before those cities, in and out of the trenches, and covers every thing, except those important actions, which are reported separately.

Tables of losses will be found of the more important engagements; these are taken from the official records of the war, already published or still to be published; those not already published (of 1864 and 1865) are, however, subject to revision, which will probably not affect organizations of this State. In these tables are also given the numbers and names of the brigades and divisions and numbers of the corps in which the organizations served, as they stood at the beginning of an action; where this rule has not been observed, a note after the designation of the engagement will explain the difference. Sometimes the losses of several engagements are united in one, this is also indicated by a note. The names of commanding officers of organizations are mostly from official records; those not from official records were obtained from survivors of the organizations; in a few cases the successors of those killed or wounded could not be ascertained.

The letters found after names, and other signs, indicate: The letter (c) that the officer commanded a brigade during the action, if even but for a short time; the letter (k) that he was killed; the letter (w) that he was wounded; the letter (m) that he was captured; the sign (*) that the loss, if any, has not been reported; (t) is a local sign, the explanation of which will be found at the end of the table in which it appears.

SKETCHES OF ORGANIZATIONS.

In the preparation of the sketches of organizations, official data and regimental histories where available, information from survivors, and newspaper accounts of the period and home locality of the organizations, have been used and consulted; but only an outline sketch can be given here. To follow organizations in their marches and on the battlefield, would require a volume, almost, for each one, and cannot here be attempted. Nevertheless a careful reader, with the help of a good general history of a campaign or of the war, can readily trace their footsteps from day to day. In Part II, in the chronological list of engagements there are tables of losses, all based on official and corrected reports; these losses have been transferred here under the record of the proper organization, but where the final records or regimental histories showed a larger loss by death, or correspondence developed larger losses of wounded, a few cases only, the figures have been corrected accordingly; in the official reports made after an engagement, men were frequently reported missing, who, by the final records, are shown to have been killed or to have died of wounds, a correction of these official reports became, therefore, necessary in many instances. Of many skirmishes, etc., no direct reports exist, and the losses reported, are taken from the final records, from muster rolls, from histories, and letters of survivors; but in many instances no losses could be obtained, and probably none were sustained; the final records frequently show men were captured, but indicated none killed or wounded in these minor affairs. The sketches have been made as complete as available records and patient examination and study would permit. While the losses of organizations as far as wounded and captured are in many instances no doubt incomplete, the loss by death is almost perfect. The list of engagements credited to each organization, taken from direct official reports, from muster rolls, from monthly returns, from indirect indications in official correspondence, from final records of men, all official, is considered also almost perfect. Omissions will no doubt be found, for evidence is on hand of minor affairs participated in by regiments, for which no dates could be obtained and of which no record could, therefore, be made.

SYNONYMS OF NEW YORK ORGANIZATIONS.

Almost all the organizations from this State had some name derived mostly from local influences or causes, and were for times almost entirely known by these names; regiments and batteries were also very often mentioned and known in reports and otherwise by the names of their respective commanding officers. A list of these designations, of the names of the companies of regiments and captains of batteries is here attached to facilitate the finding of the numerical designations of an organization, when only its synonym is known. The list also gives the names of organizations not accepted, not completed, never numbered, or consolidated with others. Organizations of the National Guard of the State are entered generally under the heading of Militia.

 VOLUNTEERS OF THE STATE.

Under the act of the Legislature of April 16th, 1861, the State Board proposed to organize the thirty-eight regiments of volunteer militia, authorized to be raised for two years' service, into four divisions and nine brigades; the War Department declining to recognize general officers not appointed by the President, the plan could of course not be carried out. The officers of those regiments were, under the Militia Laws of the State, elected by the officers and enlisted men and then appointed by the Governor, until an act of Congress conferred the absolute power of appointment of the officers of volunteer organizations in the service of the United States, upon the Governor of the State which furnished them.

Under General Orders of the War Department issued in fall of 1863 and spring of 1864, men in the service, who had served two years, were permitted to re-enlist for three years or the war, and were denominated Veteran Volunteers; organizations, of whose members fifty per cent re-enlisted in this manner, were designated Veteran Volunteer regiments or batteries, and are here indicated by the designation "Veteran" in brackets, after their State designation; the men received furloughs for thirty days, and the organization usually went in a body on this furlough, leaving those not re-enlisting or who were not entitled to do so, in the field attached to other bodies of troops.

In May, 1865, orders were issued for the muster out of organizations, requiring, however, the men whose term of service would expire after October 1st, to be transferred to other regiments not then to be mustered out, but of whom the men whose service would expire before October 1st were ordered to be mustered out; this caused a great many transfers, and even re-organizations of regiments. The order was not always carried out, and later on ceased to be of effect.

Organizations which were offered to the State and not accepted, or which were consolidated with others without receiving a State designation or number are not included in these sketches, but the list of synonyms will show their transfer or non-acceptance.

To the list of actions, etc., in which an organization took part, is added a table of losses, showing the number killed, wounded and captured, and of the wounded, the number who died and the number who recovered.

McMahan was placed in command, and it was designated the 164th Regiment of Volunteers. The 4th Regiment was formed of the original 2d Regiment; Col. Peter McDermott was assigned to its command, and the regiment designated the 170th Regiment of Volunteers. ## SCROGGS' OR EAGLE BRIGADE.

General Gustavus A. Scroggs, of the State Militia and of Buffalo, received authority from the War Department, Aug. 19th, 1861, to recruit a brigade of four regiments. Authority to organize regiments for the brigade was granted to Cols. Daniel Ullman, James M. Brown, John P. Jenkins and George A. Buckingham.

Only one regiment was completed, the 2d, Col. Brown, which was designated by the State authorities, the 100th Regiment of Volunteers; the 1st regiment, Col. Ullman, and the men recruited by Col. Jenkins, for the 4th regiment, were consolidated with Col. S. McK. Elliott's regiment, and designated the 78th Regiment of Volunteers; the men enlisted for a so-called 3d regiment, formed Companies I and K of the 95th Volunteers; and the 5th regiment, Col. Buckingham, known also as the 53d Volunteers second organization, was consolidated with the 132d and 162d Regiments of Volunteers.

SICKLES' OR EXCELSIOR BRIGADE.

Under authority of the President, dated May 18th, 1861, Mr. Daniel E. Sickles recruited and completed this brigade in the summer of 1861 at considerable personal expense, notwithstanding many obstacles placed in his way.

The 1st regiment was organized with Mr. Sickles as temporary Colonel, and was later known as the 70th Volunteers; the 2d regiment was organized under Col. Geo. B. Hall and Lt.-Col. H. L. Potter, and known as the 71st Volunteers; the 3d regiment was organized under Col. Nelson Taylor, and known as the 72d Volunteers; the 4th regiment was organized under Col. James Fairman, and known as the 73d Volunteers; the 5th regiment was organized under Col. Chas. K. Graham, and known as the 74th Volunteers.

These regiments were turned over to the State as part of its volunteer force, and, in accordance with the orders of the Secretary of War of Dec. 5th, 1861, were numbered by the State authorities, Dec. 11th, 1861; they served together while in service as the Excelsior or Sickles' Brigade in the 3d and 2d Corps, and Mr. Daniel E. Sickles was successively appointed Brigadier and Major-Gen. U. S. Vols., and disabled (loss of right leg) at the battle of Gettysburg, Pa.

There were, also, recruited for the brigade two batteries, the 1st and 2d Excelsior Batteries; a third battery, not completed, was consolidated with the 2d; these batteries received the State designation, 5th and 10th Independent Batteries, respectively.

SPINOLA'S OR EMPIRE BRIGADE.

The Hon. F. B. Spinola received, with the sanction of the General Government, June 2d, 1862, authority from Gov. Morgan to recruit a brigade of four or five regiments; the strength of the brigade was limited to four regiments July 23d, 1862. Mr. Spinola, who was later appointed Brig. Gen. U. S. Vols. by the President, was assigned, temporarily, as Colonel of the 1st regiment, and July 14th, 1862, James Jourdan was appointed Colonel to succeed him. Cols. W. B. Olmsted, Peter J. Claassen, Hale Kingsley and James C. Burke were authorized to recruit regiments for the brigade. Col. Hale Kingsley declined and was succeeded by Marion N. Croft, and he by F. H. Braulick. In Sept., 1862, the brigade consisted of the 1st regiment, Col. James Jourdan, known as the 158th Regiment of Volunteers; the 2d regiment, Col. Peter J. Claassen, known as the 132d Regiment of Volunteers; the 3d regiment, Col. F. H. Braulick, known as the 163d Regiment of Volunteers.

The 4th regiment, Col. James C. Burke, Phoenix Regiment, incomplete, was transferred to the Corcoran Brigade Sept. 22d, 1862, and was finally known as the 164th Regiment of Volunteers. Col. Olmsted's regiment, the Thurlow Weed Guards, was merged into Col. Claassen's regiment, which had also received, Sept. 10th, 1862, about 250 men of the 53d Regiment of Volunteers, second organization.

The regiments did not serve together in the field as a brigade.

STATISTICAL EXHIBIT OF DEATHS IN THE UNITED STATES ARMY DURING THE LATE WAR.

COMPILED UNDER THE DIRECTION OF

BRIG.-GEN. RICHARD C. DRUM, ADJUTANT-GENERAL U. S. ARMY,

BY

JOSEPH W. KIRKLEY.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, May 22d, 1885. }

Brig.-Gen. RICHARD C. DRUM,
Adjutant-General United States Army:

SIR: I have the honor to report the completion of the statistical statement of deaths in the United States Army during the late war, compiled in obedience to your order of June 2d, 1884.

In the prosecution of the work all records of this office affording information upon the subject have been carefully and thoroughly examined. The table herewith submitted exhibits the result.

The aggregate mortality within the Union lines is the nearest approximation to the real loss attainable, and may be regarded as conclusive.

With the deaths occurring among prisoners of war the result is not so satisfactory. Unfortunately, the records of Southern prisons in possession of the Department are very incomplete. In fact, the death registers of some of the principal places of confinement for Union soldiers have not been secured. Notably among these are Americus, Georgia; Atlanta, Georgia; Augusta, Georgia; Camp Ford, Tyler, Texas; Camp Oglethorpe, Macon, Georgia; Charleston, South Carolina; Lynchburg, Virginia; Marietta, Georgia; Mobile, Alabama; Montgomery, Alabama; Savannah, Georgia; and Shreveport, Louisiana. Besides these, only partial records were obtained from the following-named important prisons:

Cahawba, Alabama; Camp Asylum, Columbia, South Carolina; Florence, South Carolina; Millen, Georgia; and Salisbury, North Carolina.

It is true that evidence of death was often communicated to the proper military authorities by surviving comrades, and the report of burials in national cemeteries, or "Roll of Honor," supplies a large number; but these sources of information, together with the Confederate records obtained by the Government, have proved deficient. As to the incompleteness of the internment record, a report prepared in the office of the Quartermaster-General, in 1869, says: "It is well known that at many places, as, for instance, at Salisbury, North Carolina, and at Florence, South Carolina, etc., the bodies were buried in trenches, often two, three, sometimes even four deep, so that the accurate number of bodies interred at these places cannot be determined." These facts warrant the belief that the actual number of Union soldiers who died in Confederate hands exceeds the number shown by the table.

It will also be seen that the cause of death in 12,121 cases is not of record in this office. Future investigations will probably, to a certain extent, elicit the cause, and thus diminish the number appearing under that head. A corresponding increase of other classifications would naturally follow. It is, however, fair to assume that the grand aggregate will not hereafter be materially altered.

The column of "other known causes" includes all deaths resulting from quarrels, riots and the like, and which are not definitely reported as murder; from being shot for insubordination, or by provost guards or sentinels in attempting to escape or pass the lines; from exhaustion or exposure; killed while depredating upon the property of citizens; and all other causes not embraced in the preceding columns.

The period represented by the phrase "during the late war," in the caption of the table, embraces, in the case of the Regular Army, the time comprehended between April 15, 1861, and August 1, 1865. For the volunteers, of all descriptions, it covers the period from date of muster in to the date of final muster out of each organization, excepting prisoners of war who died after the discharge of their commands. These, so far as known, are counted.

The greater portion of the Volunteer Army was disbanded during the summer and fall of 1865, but the subsequent gradual reduction of the force was not fully consummated until late in 1867. The last white organization was disbanded November 18th, 1867, and the last colored regiment December 20th, 1867. The last officer of the volunteer general staff was mustered out July 1st, 1869.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

J. W. KIRKLEY.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

With the exception of three Massachusetts regiments (organized and officered exclusively by the State authorities) whose casualties are included with those of the white troops from that State, all losses in the 178,975 colored troops are reported separately, irrespective of any credits allowed upon the quotas of the States. The deaths in the excepted regiments aggregated 574.

In all other cases the figures in the column of deaths represent only such as occurred among the white troops and Indians. Information relative to the number of deaths in the Navy and Marine Corps belongs to the Navy Department. The colored soldiers organized under the direct authority of the General Government and not credited to any State were recruited as follows:

In Alabama, 1,969; Arkansas, 5,525; Colorado, 95; Florida, 1,044; Georgia, 3,486; Louisiana, 24,092; Mississippi, 17,469; North Carolina, 5,035; South Carolina, 5,462; Tennessee, 29,133; Texas, 17; Virginia, 5,723.

There were also 5,896 negro soldiers enlisted at large or whose credits are not specifically expressed by the records. Of the number of colored troops credited to the States, 5,032 were obtained, under the provisions of section 3, act of Congress approved July 4, 1864, from the States that had seceded.

The number of officers and men of the Regular Army among whom the casualties herein noted occurred is estimated at 67,000; the number in the Veteran Reserve Corps was 60,508; and in Hancock's Veteran Corps, 10,883.

The other organizations of white volunteers, organized directly by the U. S. authorities, numbered about 11,660.
