Note;

Some of the readers of this pamphlet may wonder that it is not more complete, but few may appreciate the many difficulties encountered in its compilation. Much of the material was very difficult to obtain and some of it arrived very late. More cuts would have been included and better ones in some cases, could they have been obtained, but many of the soldiers whose records appear herein, never had any kind of likeness made, while others had only one, and frequently that one very poor, and very hard to copy. Amateur work will account for some other defects.
