

WINGATE-WRIGHT

FORMER GLENDALE GIRL MARRIES YOUNG PHYSICIAN OF PORTERVILLE

A marriage of much interest to her numerous friends in Glendale was that of Miss Ruth Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver E. Wright of 354 Burchett street, to Dr. Townsend A. Wingate, which occurred in Porterville, Cal., last Sunday evening. The bride had lived in Glendale since her girlhood, attending grammar and high school here. She was office nurse for Dr. H. R. Boyer until a year ago, when she left for Porterville to make her home with her sister, Mrs. John R. Alston, who was ill. It was in this city that she met Dr. Wingate. She is remembered as a most attractive young woman by a host of friends here, who wish her happiness.

Dr. Wingate, to quote an item from the Porterville News, is "a native of Los Angeles, a young man of sterling worth, who since making his home in Porterville a year ago, has proved himself to be a social as well as business and professional credit to the community. He is a public-spirited man, and an untiring worker in the local post of the American Legion."

The marriage took place quietly at the home of Rev. Harrison, pastor of the First Methodist church. The young couple will continue to make their home in Porterville, where Dr. Wingate has established himself in his profession.

Surprise Classmate

Mrs. J. M. Blankenship, 1317 N. Brand boulevard, who recently moved here from Texas, was given a surprise party yesterday afternoon by about twenty members of the Bible Class Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Philatheas. Mrs. Blankenship has been confined at home lately on account of her little daughter's broken limb, and was delighted to see her friends again. The ladies carried their fancy work, and the afternoon passed pleasantly. It happened that the surprised hostess had made ice-cream for dinner, so she in turn surprised her guests by serving refreshments.

October Party

An October party, which proved to be most delightful, was given by the R. T. W. Class of the First Baptist church on Thursday evening at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Kent, 522 North Central avenue. The rooms were attractively decorated with pink and white cosmos while in the sun-parlor a huge bowl of dahlias lent a riot of color. A special feature of the evening was the well-planned games which were so cleverly arranged that all those present were thoroughly acquainted by the time they were finished. Many of our new people in Glendale were among those present, there being fifty-six guests in all. Pumpkin pie and coffee made an interesting addition to the evening's pleasure.

LEGERDEMAIN ACTS

AMERICAN LEGION SHOW ON OCT. 19, WILL FEATURE FAMOUS MAGICIANS

A big show in magic and legerdemain will be given in Glendale on Tuesday evening, October 19, at the Palace Grand theater. This promises to be the most noteworthy entertainment held in our pleasure-loving Glendale for many years. True and bewildering magic and other forms of genuine world-wide entertainment has been assured by the American Legion committee who has been fortunate in securing the engagement of the best talent among the Los Angeles Society of Magicians. Every lover of the art of genuine and unexplainable magical diversions which are up-to-date and "snappy" will not fail to be present on the night of October 19 at the Palace Grand.

By special fortunate arrangements made with David M. Roth, the famous New York memory expert, it has been announced that Mr. Roth will be present on that occasion and give one of his widely-known mental demonstrations, which alone is worth going hundreds of miles to witness.

It is very seldom that we can promise as diversified and captivating an entertainment as this one will be, and all Glendale will be given something to think about and ponder over for many moons. Don't forget the Palace Grand on the evening of October 19.

AUTO CENTER

GLENDALE IS DECIDEDLY ON THE MAP IN AUTO INDUSTRY

With more than 20 autos of standard makes represented by competent agents in Glendale, with many repair garages and dozens of accessory stores and supply stations, as well as a branch office of the Automobile Club of Southern California presided over by a most efficient secretary, Glendale is becoming of first importance as an automobile center. Our dealers have all done a splendid business the past year and could have done far more if they could only have gotten cars to sell. Some of them have established branch agencies in nearby towns. This has given Glendale considerable prestige, and all this has been enhanced by the automobile section of the Evening News, which, since its inception a year ago last April, has published many columns of matter helpful to the industry and of benefit to our beautiful city. And in this work the paper has had the loyal support of the dealers. It is team work like this that builds up a city and its industries.

Verdugo Woodlands

A meeting attended by fifty residents of the Verdugo Canyon district was held Thursday evening at the historic Verdugo homestead and resulted in the formation of the Verdugo Woodlands Improvement Association. The purpose of the organization is declared to be the promotion of the welfare of the Verdugo Canyon section of the city and several matters of importance were discussed, among which were the matters of improved sanitation, street lighting, gas installation and telephone service. A committee was appointed to immediately investigate plan for the establishment of a sewer system in the district and to confer with the city officials of Glendale on the subject. Committees were also appointed to take up extension of gas service to the Canyon and the increase of the street lighting system. The officers of the Improvement Association are Mrs. J. R. Butler, secretary and treasurer, and Charles L. Chandler, president.

From New Hampshire

Rawson Chase of Spofford, N. H., is here to visit his sister, Miss Anna Chase, of 1471 East California avenue, and will probably spend the winter. He drove all the way out here in a Ford with Lee Cole of San Bernardino, who had been back there on a visit. They started August 31 and arrived here October 2 without having had an accident of any kind. They stopped for brief visits at Niagara Falls, Colorado Springs and the petrified forests of Arizona. The trip was a very pleasant one and they enjoyed the camping out every night.

Auto Smash

There was quite an auto smash on West Doran, in front of J. R. Gray's residence, No. 667, yesterday. Miss Carolyn Gray was driving but from the home grounds in the Studebaker Six and collided with a Nash driven by Miss Anne C. Spaulding of Burbank. The left front wheel of the Studebaker was broken off, both left fenders bent and the steering knuckle broken. The Nash had both right fenders bent and the bumper broken. Neither driver was hurt.

GREAT PLANT

HOT HOUSES TO COVER MANY ACRES IN GRAND VIEW DISTRICT

The big steel and glass hothouse of the Glendale Davis Co. in the Grand View district is the center of attraction to passengers on the P. E. Burbank line and to motorists traveling along the San Fernando Road, as its commanding position on the upslope toward the Verdugo mountains makes it very prominent. This is the first and smallest unit of a great group of hot houses and packing plants which are to cover the greater portion of 20 acres in the very heart of this beautiful district annexed to the city two years or more ago. Many vegetables and fruits that have their seasons, even in California, will be raised all the year around and Mr. Davis promises peaches plucked from the trees on Christmas Day, and the finest of cucumbers, tomatoes and other vegetables at the same time. He has devoted years to this business and owns a $250,000 plant of that kind in Aurora, Ill., as well as smaller ones in other cities in that section, so he certainly knows his business and his promises can be relied on. Mr. Davis expects to make his home on his Glendale acreage when the great plant is completed and personally looks after the growing and shipping of his products.

Friends Entertained

Miss Dorothy Jane Bolt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Everson, 611 North Central avenue, entertained nine of her High School friends at a luncheon and matinee party today. The color scheme of orange was carried out in decorations and table appointments. A box party at the Orpheum followed lunch. The guests were Misses Billie Gregg, Lois Webb, Helen Beach, Helen Vendenberg, Edith Haggman and Eva Green of Glendale, Misses Marguerite Manderville of La Canada, and Lucile Baker of Hollywood.

Entertains Artists

Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, 525 S. Central avenue, entertained a number of out-of-town friends at a musical and dinner party last night. The guests were all gifted artists, and a beautiful program was rendered. The house was decorated in dahlias, and trailing honeysuckle. Those present besides the hostess were: Mr. and Mrs. Milton S. May, Miss Sofete Mason, Messrs. William Wogan, George Seymour Lennox, James T. Scott and DeLong of Los Angeles; Mrs. Katherine Ring of Des Moines, Iowa, and Miss Sophia M. Burns of San Antonio, Texas.

Relief in Sight

With the best Northern Burbank potatoes advertised by Glendale dealers for as low as $2.89 a hundred pounds, and some other food commodities away down it begins to look like the day of H. C. L. is passing. New crop walnuts have declined 30 per cent already and are back to the pre-war basis. The packers are still keeping meats up to a high level while paying much lower prices for live stock, but the general trend is downward for foodstuffs.

Collides With Hydrant

Mrs. H. D. Marshall and her daughter, Mrs. A. H. Gregg, both of Whittier, were driving west on Broadway yesterday and at the crossing of Verdugo Road Mrs. Gregg, who was driving, turned sharply to avoid striking a car driven south by Frank L. Park, and ran into a fire hydrant, breaking the windshield of her car and the radiator.

Peculiar Accident

Whl Shaver of the Broadway Garage received quite a gash over his left eye and some scratches on his face when his jack slipped as he was preparing to tow Dr. Young's disabled car to his garage Thursday evening. Mrs. Ella W. Richardson will entertain at dinner Sunday, Prof. Thaddeus Shindar Fritz. Prof. Fritz is an authority on civic and recreation centers and therefore since Glendale is interested in such a proposition Mrs. Richardson invites all who care to hear Prof. Fritz's views in this matter to come to her house tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. No doubt the professor will be able to make some interesting and valuable suggestions. He is a publicist, economist, educator, and was special lecturer in eastern and southern colleges and universities on applied psychology.

Music Section T. A. Club

The Music Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club opened the season with a meeting at the home of its Curator, Mrs. Charles Marlenee, on Friday afternoon. The hostess gave piano selections, to the great enjoyment of all present. The rest of the afternoon was spent at needle work. Decorations were red and yellow dahlias. A two-course luncheon was served the guests, who were Mesdames R. D. Angelica, Charles Sanders, Jack Hearnshaw, Bert Woodard, C. Thom, Lou Sherman, John Fanset, James Flint, E. Augustine, W. Monahan and W. Custer.

Fire Hydrants Marked

In line with the suggestion of The Evening News yesterday the fire hydrants have all been re-painted so as to be quite conspicuous and a fifteen-foot space marked off on either side by dark red paint in a wide band on the curb. Between these two marks, which means a space of thirty feet, no auto is allowed to park, on penalty of fine.

W. R. C. Meeting

The Woman's Relief Corps held its regular business meeting yesterday afternoon, Mrs. C. S. Peckham, the president, presiding. New members were initiated, and the regular business of the organization was given attention.

DIXON PLACE

ONE FAMILY HAS OWNED IT OVER 30 YEARS, MAY BE SUBDIVIDED

Fred S. Dixon, who now owns the six acres at the southeast corner of Verdugo Road and Colorado street which has been in the family for more than 30 years, his father having acquired it in the latter '80s, is contemplating some improvements to the place, which will bring it up in line with the advancing city. The pigeon lofts, which were brought up to such large proportions by Fred's brother, Sidney R., who died over a year ago, are still conducted very profitably by Fred S., though on a somewhat smaller scale. He has about 4800 pigeons now, nearly all Carneau and says the demand for squabs is very heavy.

Mr. Dixon is contemplating a subdivision of the place, with two new streets cut through, with a home for himself and family on one of the lots facing on Colorado. The present home faces on Verdugo Road.

Mr. Dixon is wonderfully pleased over Glendale's progress the past year, by far the greatest in his 30 years' observation of its growth and is determined to keep step with the march of events.

LAW OR ANARCHY

IS CALIFORNIA GOING TO SEcede FROM UNION, WILL SHE CARRY REFERENDUM NO. 2?

Mr. A. T. Cowan, Editor Glendale Evening News:

One of the most serious political situations in California's history faces her people at this moment and will be settled in the election on November 2nd. Fearing that there are many readers of our evening paper who do not realize the importance of this Referendum, I am taking the liberty of suggesting that every law-abiding citizen acquaint himself or herself with what is known as the Harris Bill and which will appear on the November Ballot as Prohibition Enforcement Act, and will be No. 2 on the Ballot.

National Prohibition was ratified by 45 of the 48 sovereign states, and for enforcement purposes, Congress, by a vote of more than two-thirds of each house, passed the Volstead Act, and the California Legislature enacted the Harris Law to conform to the aforesaid Act. The two laws are substantially the same. Both the Amendment and the Volstead Act have been declared unanimously by the Supreme Court to be constitutional and valid. It follows that the Harris law is valid.

Now, by a referendum put on the ballot by those who do not propose to support the laws of the nation it is hoped by its supporters that we declare as a state against maintaining the Law of the Union. The referendum of the Harris Law is an attack on the Constitution itself, for the prevention or crippling of law enforcement in California.

The U. S. Government has less than a dozen enforcement offices in this county and without the help of the state and its law enforcement machinery, we face a situation that will put California on record as defiant of the constitution and a wide open place for lawlessness and violation of the laws of the land. Shall our state refuse to assist in law enforcement?

Is it not a spirit of treason and secession when a great commonwealth defies a mandate of the Supreme Court which says in declaring valid the Prohibition Act: The laws of the U. S. are the supreme laws of the land. The 18th Amendment has become a part of the constitution and must be respected and given effect the same as other provisions of that instrument. The Second Section declaring 'The Congress and the several states shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation' does not enable Congress or the several states to defeat or thwart prohibition, but only to enforce it by appropriate means.

Shall we not urge the people of Glendale to go to the polls on November 2nd and vote "Yes" on Amendment 2, "Prohibition Enforcement Act?" Or shall we be secessionists?

CLIFFORD A. COLE.

The Western Pickle Jar

The pickle shelf in the well-filled store room of the western housewife justifies the pride of its owner and creator. With every product of garden, orchard and vineyard at her command it is small wonder that western pickles set a standard for the world to follow as best it may.

Chopped Pickle Melange: Chop 3 quarts of green tomatoes, sprinkle with 1/2 cup of salt, allow to stand overnight and drain. Chop 6 green peppers and 4 onions and separate 1 head of cauliflower into pieces. Mix the vegetables and add 2 quarts of vinegar, 2 teaspoons pepper, 3 teaspoons each of ground mustard, cinnamon, cloves and allspice and 1-3 cup mustard seed. Boil 25 minutes and store in a sterilized crock.

Succotash Relish: Score 1 dozen ears of corn and scrape out the pulp. Cook 2 lbs. of Lima beans until tender and drain. Chop 1 small cabbage, 2 red peppers and 3 green peppers, combine, add 3 pints of vinegar and 2 cups of sugar and boil. Mix 1 tablespoon tumeric and 2 tablespoons each of flour, dry mustard and salt with 1 cup of vinegar and add to the boiling mixture. Cook slowly until cabbage is tender and seal it in sterilized jars.

Pepper Relish: Discard the seeds from 1 dozen green and 1 dozen red peppers and soak overnight. In the morning drain, chop and pour boiling water over them. Drain and add 1 dozen chopped onions, 1 quart of vinegar, 2 tablespoons of salt and 2 cups of sugar. Boil 15 minutes and seal in sterilized jars.

Spiced Tomato Butter: Scald, peel and chop 5 lbs. of ripe tomatoes, add 1 cup of vinegar and allow to stand overnight. In the morning add 1 cup of vinegar, 1 1/2 lbs. of brown sugar, 1 tablespoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper and 1 tablespoon each of whole cloves, stick cinnamon and whole allspice tied in a bag. Cook until thick, about 2 hours. Seal in sterilized jars.

Grape Catsup: Crush 5 lbs. of grapes, add 2 cups of vinegar, cook until soft and rub through a colander. Add 1 tablespoon each of ground cloves, cinnamon and allspice and 1/2 tablespoon each of salt and pepper and 4 cups of sugar. Cook slowly until thick. Seal in sterilized bottles.

CONVENTION ECHOES

JAMES M'BRYDE ENTHUSIASTIC OVER GREAT AMERICAN LEGION MEETING

James F. McBryde is full of enthusiasm over his experiences at the second annual national convention of the American Legion at Cleveland last week. He was one of the two delegates attending from the Ninth congressional district of California, which was entitled to three, but the third appointee failed to attend. Representation in the convention is entirely by congressional districts and is on the basis of one delegate for every 1000 members and major fraction thereof in the district. Mr. McBryde's colleague was Dr. Thompson of Huntington Park, the holder of a congressional medal, he being also a member of the G. A. R. and thus entitled to a seat on the platform.

The journey to Cleveland was marred somewhat by wrecks, the trains being held up by four of them, mostly on the D. & R. G., which made them twenty-four hours late in searching their destination.

The most important measure up before the convention, one that led acrimonious debate at times was the question of whether or no the Legion should take any part or stand in politics as an order. The constitution and by-laws as adopted at last year's meeting forbade this, but some of the delegates held that the language in which this prohibition was couched was vague and susceptible of an opposite interpretation. The debates were on whether to accept the wording as forbidding any participation in politics or allowing posts to interpret the meaning to suit themselves. It was finally decided by a substantial majority vote to allow no interpretations but to declare unequivocally for no interference in politics. The Japanese exclusion measure caused some debate, also, but as only the New York delegation opposed the measure they were voted down and finally unanimous approval of stand taken by California was voted.

There were between 1200 and 1500 delegates present, Mr. McBryde says, some of them very prominent men.

The homeward trip was most enjoyable, including, as it did, a visit to New York City. A day was spent in Chicago and several hours in Kansas City. Both Mr. and Mrs. McBryde were very favorably impressed with Cleveland, finding it to be a beautiful city, well kept up. The latter said if she had to spend a winter in the East, she would choose Cleveland over all the other cities visited.

Prices and Wages

The manufacturers of automobiles, cotton cloth and other commodities who have slashed prices, have been careful not to cut wages, and say they have no expectation of doing so, at least for the present. This tendency extends through all the important industries and affects virtually all wage-earners in America.

Here we have, then, the most fortunate situation in which American labor ever found itself. It is getting boom wages, established to meet live, on the whole, more comfortably and profitably than ever before, on this abnormal basis, because in the skilled trades at least, wages have risen more than prices. And now prices are going down, with the prospect of continuing to a far lower level, while wages remain almost stationary.

An obvious comment is that this is the time, of all times, for a workman to get ahead—to save a cash competence, or to buy a home, or to make a good investment.

But this fortunate plight will last, and can last, only on one condition. This is, that the workman shall earn the high wages which he is paid. It is purely a question of efficiency and productivity.

Some of the employers who are now cutting prices may be merely lopping off excess profits, and can still afford to pay high wages on their present cost of production. Where this is true, it is an exception. In general, the only way in which industries can make enough profit to pay for the use of their capital and keep them going, at markedly lower selling prices for their product, is to increase their volume of production. This is up to the workmen more than anybody else, and it is of more importance to the workmen than anybody else.

If employers cannot make a fair chop 1 1/2 dozen apples. Chop 1 large onion and 2 green peppers, discarding seeds. Add 1 1/2 cups each of seedless raisins and sugar, 1 tablespoon each of salt and ground ginger and a few grains of cayenne pepper. Moisten with 4 cups vinegar, cook slowly until thick. Store in a sterilized crock.

Sweet Vegetable Pickle: Boil 3 cups vinegar, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 bay leaf, 1 teaspoon each of whole cloves and stick cinnamon, the grated rind of 1 lemon and 1 tablespoon of salt for 15 minutes. Add 1 cup each of sliced cooked carrots, cooked Brussels sprouts and cooked string beans. Boil for 5 minutes and seal in sterilized jars.

profit after lowering prices to a fair level, they will either have to raise prices again, or cut wages. The latter remedy will be the easier one. It is a going to be a case, therefore, of employes working harder, if they are to keep the remarkable prosperity on which they are now entering.—Long Beach Telegram.

Seasons vs. the Calendar

The ever-increasing congestion at the various resorts is sure to eventually result in motorists planning their vacations a little farther in advance than has been customary. Each season finds the proprietors of mountain and beach hotels, tent cities, etc., forced to turn down a lot of aspiring vacationists who hadn't thought to make reservations until there weren't any more. Perhaps because a very large percentage of Southern California's population originally lived in the East, we feel bound to "vacationate" by the calendar instead of by the season. The real vacation season, as far as the weather is concerned, begins at least a month or six weeks earlier in Southern California than it does in the East, but just because nobody would think of starting on a vacation before July 1st back in the old home town a lot of people wait until that time out here, passing up some of the very best weather supplied by our ever-generous Nature.—Touring Topics.

HARTLEY SHAW
 GLENDALE MAYOR, CANDIDATE FOR SUPERIOR JUDGE, WELL FITTED FOR OFFICE

Attorney Hartley Shaw, President of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, who asks the support of voters at the November election in the interest of his candidacy for Superior Judge (short term) is well fitted for the office as the following sketch of his life will show:
 Hartley Shaw is the son of Justice Lucien Shaw, of the California Supreme Court.
 He was born at Bloomfield, Greene county, Indiana, in 1874, and came to California in 1883, residing in Fresno until 1887. He has resided in Los Angeles county for thirty-three years.
 Educated at the University of Southern California, with Degree of Ph.D.; Hastings College of Law, of the University of California, graduating in 1897 with Degree of LL.B.

 Has practiced law in the City of Los Angeles for twenty-three years. He studied law for some time in the office of White & Monroe (the firm of the late Senator, Stephen M. White); was for three years in the office of the late John D. Pope; Assistant City Attorney of Los Angeles under W. B. Mathews for three years; Chief Deputy District Attorney of Los Angeles county, in charge of all county civil law business, covering the same ground as the office of County Counsel, for six years under John D. Fredericks; City Attorney of Eagle Rock five years; City Attorney of Tropico two years; is now a City Trustee of the City of Glendale, and President of the City Board of Trustees; has also served as a member of the High School Board of the Glendale Union High School.
 Married in 1901 to Miss Fern E. West and has two daughters and one son. A member of the Congregational Church of Glendale, also a member of the Masonic Order.
 Politics—Republican.
 Mr. Shaw has had wide experience in civil law, particularly laws pertaining to municipal and governmental affairs. He assisted in drafting the Street Opening Act of 1903, and also helped revise the City Building Ordinance.

While in the District Attorney's office he assisted in drafting the Highway Commission Act of 1907. He also drafted a number of amendments to the Tax Laws for the purpose of simplifying them, and got them passed by the California Legislature.
 He also drafted a revision of the High School Law and persuaded the Legislature to pass it.
 He defended many important civil actions brought against the County of Los Angeles, principally brought to recover taxes which it was claimed had been illegally assessed. Most of these actions were decided in favor of the county.
 Mr. Shaw wrote a great number of opinions in regard to questions of law arising in the conduct of city and county affairs, which were of great value to the officials conducting the affairs of the municipal government.
 It will be seen from the foregoing that Mr. Shaw's education, training and experience have peculiarly fitted him for the position of Superior Judge.
 Practically all the leading attorneys of the county have endorsed Hartley Shaw.

Operas From the Screen
 Announcement of the directors of the Opera Comique of Paris that they have had a libretto prepared from an American film play opens the way for improvement in the intelligibility of grand operas. This is the first time that a screen drama has been transformed into an opera, but there is every reason for believing that the experiment will be a success and will be repeated.
 The photo play and the opera are alike in the respect that understanding of the story depends on action rather than words. It is true that the music drama purports to develop the plot through the instrumentality of language, but since most of the grand operas presented in this country are unintelligible to all but a few and the audiences are compelled, if they wish to understand the plot, to have recourse to a translation of the libretto, or to interpret the acting. This is often necessary even in the case of operas given in English, since

INCOME ENDOWMENT

Insurance is about the easiest thing to sell to a man who loves his family and wants to protect them against his premature death or his dependency in old age that I have ever attempted. When a man once gets the vision of just what this will do and sees that it is the consummation of all his desires leaving no contingency unprovided for, believe me, he wants all of it he can possibly see his way to pay for.

If you can't provide $200 a month of this form or $100 a month, you can provide $50 a month or $30. (It takes over $5000 of lump sum insurance to pay $30 a month for 20 years), and this will mean more to them than you have ever imagined.

Let me tell you all about it. THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE.

During the month of September there were 111 new water connections added by the Public Service Department, making the total to date 4512, and 100 new light connections, bringing that total to 4927.

Mrs. C. F. Parker, 221 North Central avenue, entertained at dinner Wednesday evening for Mrs. George Cheney of Coronado, who is visiting Mrs. R. W. Meeker, 1320 East Colorado. The guests were Mesdames Lillian E. Dow, R. W. Meeker and George Cheney.

COLLARS LAUNDERED INTO STYLE

Yes, a man's just as particular about a little kink in his collar as a woman is about the style of her hat. We make it our business to please particular men.

We starch men's collars evenly, work the starch in thoroughly and when a collar is ironed it comes out smooth without starch blisters; pliable but with a firm body.

Then there's the knack of folding collars trimly and yet leaving space for the tie to slip through easily. And there's the shape of the collar to be considered—distinctive touches to be preserved.

These are little details but the doing of them means satisfaction for particular men.

Buy the collar you like best, then send it to us for laundering

MOTORISTS ASKED TO CONSIDER CONSEQUENCES OF PICKING UP STRANGE CHILDREN

Chaos in state reform institutions and city schools will be brought about by motorists in California if they don't stop giving strange children free rides.

This fact has been conveyed to the officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California by state reform officers and by the chief probation officer of Los Angeles county. According to the club, it is not a whim, but a serious fact.

Children everywhere are begging rides along the streets and roads in the southern counties, say motorists, and it is hard to refuse them.

But motorists should figure the consequences of such an act, points out the Auto Club, for not only is the driver of the car responsible for the safety of those riding with him, but he is also liable for heavy damages if a strange child is hurt while in his machine.

Further than this, however, the truancy officers report that free rides given by motorists do more than any other one thing to encourage "ditching" from schools and class-rooms. It is just as dangerous to give a child a free ride as it is for him to steal a ride on the back of a truck.

Boys and girls who succeed in escaping from state reform schools are often helped in this by motorists who give them free rides along the road, says the Auto Club. It enables the children to evade the vigilance of the officers sent to capture them.

Auto stealing is likewise encouraged by the practice, say theft bureau officials, because boys given a free ride to a certain destination will be tempted to steal an automobile in which to get back to the city from whence they came.

FORD MEN

R. R. MINE, FOREST WORKERS TO RECEIVE FORD WAGES, BONUS, OTHER BENEFITS

During the last two months, Henry Ford and the Ford Motor Co. have purchased the Detroit and Ironton Railroad, a 400-acre timber tract in Northern Michigan, and a coal mine in Kentucky, and it is rumored that other purchases are under consideration.

Two thousand railroad workers are automatically made "Ford men." In the future they will be permitted to share in the investment opportunity with the thousands of other Ford employees. The minimum wage system and bonus distribution will also apply to the railroad men.

The Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad will soon be known by another name. Avoiding congestion centers, the railway is a direct line to the coal fields of Southern Ohio and the West Virginia and Kentucky boundaries. Solid coal trains may be routed through to Detroit without delay or interference.

Timber from virgin forests of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan will be used to furnish lumber for Ford automobile bodies and other requirements. Another link added to the chain of Ford industries is the Ford saw-mill, located just outside of Detroit.

These acquisitions are wonderful links in the chain of Ford industries. Fewer outside organizations are being depended on year by year.

Already work on the Ford car and Fordson tractor commences with the ore in Ford furnaces. Soon coal will be transported from mines on a Ford railway, and soon the timber will be cut from Ford virgin forests.

Including these new additions, the direct Ford payroll contains approximately 100,000 names.

FAVORABLE COMMENT ALL OVER COUNTRY ON FORD PRICE REDUCTION

"The reduction of prices by the Ford Motor Company was probably looked upon with more favorable comment than anything Henry Ford has ever done for the American people. It was a big philanthropic idea of his and he was able to go ahead with it for the reason that Mr. Ford and his son, together, own all the Ford Motor Company stock, having purchased all that had been on the market and therefore did not have to put it before a number of shareholders who would be afraid of losing some big dividends," said B. L. Graves, manager of the Los Angeles branch of the Ford Motor Company.

"The news was spread simultaneously all over the country, giving no one the advantage of buying motor stock short and thus being able to clean up an immense sum of money. If Mr. Ford had been a gambler or in the least out of the way in any of his dealings, he could have bought motor stock short all over the country and no one can make even an approximate guess of how much he could have made by so doing, and all without one cent invested.

"But he didn't," went on Mr. Graves, "and I even lost around $200 on a Ford Sedan I had purchased just a few days before the big drop and I know a great many others who are in the same boat as myself, but we all agree that it was a wonderful thing for the whole country and I, for one, am not begrudging my personal loss in the least. Few people can grasp what Mr. Ford has done for the country, even stretching as far as some of the

U. S. Good Roads

The time is rapidly passing when the bad roads of America can be pointed out as a reproach. In every section of the country work is in progress to give the United States a system of roads which will compare favorably with those of other countries. Roads are being built at 2,985 different points. Fully 30,000 miles of road have been approved by the Secretary of Agriculture. It is estimated that this construction will cost the country nearly $400,000,000. At the end of June, 1920, the Government reported that 2,116 different projects or a total of 16,000 miles of roads had been completed.—October Boys' Life.

The grand jury charges that the reason the Chicago nine didn't win the world series was the Chicago eight.

European nations, in setting the lead in the automobile industry and it has been noticed that any number of automobile concerns have followed his move. Immediately after the drop of the Ford prices, merchandise of all classes broke in price but they haven't reached the end yet, for they are still sky high and it is generally believed it will be some time before things will reach a pre-war status such as the Ford Motor Company was able to do in one big jump.

It was surprising to see the orders for Ford cars, tractors and trucks roll in after the decline in price and from a rather slow moving market we are now taking orders so fast our clerical force is swamped with work. It is my advice to prospective Ford buyers to place their orders early or else they will have to wait a fairly long while before theirs can be filled."

BATTERY ADVICE

LIKE OTHER FREE PRODUCTS, A DRUG ON THE MARKET, SAYS MR. CIZEK

"Battery advice is free," says Mr. Cizek, Willard Service Station Dealer, "and like all free products it is a drug on the market. It is estimated that if a car owner would try to do all the things suggested by the trade papers, the car builders and the battery manufacturers, he would have no time to drive, to attend to business or keep up a speaking acquaintance with his family.

"As a matter of fact, a battery does not need a great deal of care, and the average driver gets good results by putting in a little water every week or so, and making regular calls at the service station.

"It is always important to give a battery the right start, and the first thing every purchaser of a car—new or old—should do is to drive around to the service stations so that his battery could be registered and given the right sort of start toward a useful and active life."

Path of Evolution

Some scientists have asserted that there has been no physical or intellectual progress of the human race during the last 2000 years. Doubtless there has been no physical progress to speak of, even during the last 20,000 years. Except for perhaps a further shrinking of the little toe and a corresponding increase in the size of the great toe, coupled with the decrease and value of the wisdom teeth, there have been few and minor evolutionary changes in the human body.

Can this be said of the intellectual evolution of the race? To some extent, when we examine the minds of Plato, Aristotle and Socrates, we might safely say that there has been no increase in human intellect. Have we produced an intellect greater than the illustrious men of ancient Greece?

Wherein we have progressed in the advancement of knowledge whereby man has triumphed over the forces of nature on land, sea, and air. This new path of progress is one of the greatest ever obtained, and who can foresee to what end this mastery of the forces of nature will come?

MORE MONEY FOR CALIFORNIA FARMERS

Commanding a premium of $4.20 per ton over common barley, Mariout barley introduced to the farmers throughout the state by the College of Agriculture of the University of California, has met with a favorable reception by the malsters and brewers of the English and Scotch malting trade, who are bidding from 5 to 6 shillings more per quarter on Mariout over common barley, the equivalent at the present rate of exchange being from 17 to 21 cents per hundred weight, according to cable advices received by the Sutter Raisin Company of Sacramento through their London agents, W. D. Sheldon & Co., and reported to the State University.

London agents report that Glasgow and Midlands malsters and brewers are greatly pleased with California Mariout barley and they advise California shippers to keep Mariout separate from other qualities as it will bring a considerably higher price.

Acting Dean Walter Mulford declared that in introducing Mariout barley into California the State University has given the farmer a better variety which has increased his yield by an average of four sacks per acre, and has given a superior product now commanding a premium of $4.20 per ton over the common barley.

A forecast was recently made at the College of Agriculture that 200,000 acres in California this year will be planted to Mariout barley.

They have outlived all their contemporaries in the business except probably the Shaver Grocery Company, and that, of course is now under different management than when it was opened. Mr. Wyvell has never fully recovered from the effects of a street car accident two years ago, and was advised by his doctor that a long rest was needed so put him on his feet again.

Eleventh Birthday

Master Philip Goss, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Goss of 514 East Harvard, celebrated his eleventh birthday Friday afternoon with a jolly party. Games and refreshments, consisting of ice-cream and the always looked forward to birthday cake with its candles, one for each year and one to grow on, delighted the guests, who were Esther Wilson, Edith Goss and Jean Williams, Herman and Vincent Nelson, John and Robert Henderson, Harold Foss and Will Goss.

Our Army

Just now the Allies are pulling Germany's remaining teeth one by one, a painful but a necessary operation. Fifty thousand machine guns, 12,000 field guns, huge masses of shells are being scrapped, all of which is according to program.

But how about disarming the rest of the world? With Germany, Austria and Bulgaria absolutely helpless and destined to remain impotent for decades to come, are the other belligerents taking advantage of the opportunity to get rid of the heaviest part of the military burden that is bankrupting them? The reason for the huge armaments is gone; there is every reason, God knows, to reduce state expenses and return the armed men to useful productive work. Is it being done? If not, what is the reason? Can it be that they are afraid, do not trust one another? And where, oh where, is the era of universal brotherhood, of everlasting peace and harmonious understanding for which we went to war?

Europe may maintain millions of men under arms, but it just can't be done in America. Congress may decree a standing army of 325,000 men but the appropriation does not produce the recruits. The average American who participated in the late war has been permanently and thoroughly cured of any desire to lead the soldier's life. He just can't be persuaded to enlist. No matter what inducements are offered, he won't don the uniform. As a result the army is shrinking daily until some regiments consist almost entirely of officers, commissioned and non-coms. And even they won't stay. In the post-war American army privates are as scarce as hired cooks in the American kitchen, and so far no method except compulsion or unprecedented wages has been found to lure free born Americans into either institution.

If England, separated from the snarling continent by a scant thirty miles of salt water, can get along with an army of 250,000, surely the United States is secure with half that number—if Uncle Sam has a navy able to keep his shores clear no matter who comes along with a chip on his shoulder. Unfortunately though, navy life appeals to the civilian as strongly as army routine. When Secretary Daniels visited the Democratic convention, a large number of destroyers, cruisers and even battleships had to be placed "in reserve"—stripped of what was left of their crews—in order to obtain men enough to send a portion of the fleet to San Francisco. Yet we are blithely continuing to build more war ships, hoping that somehow men will be found to run them.

Of course they will come forth by the million—provided the country really is in danger. But they decline to strip themselves of their rights as citizens of a free republic when no emergency exists. They are through with militarism, all through. That's why congress failed to pass a universal training law. And that's why the United States should without more delay adopt a real world policy for peace and harmony and press it home actively, persistently, aggressively. If the present rudderless drifting continues for another year, compulsory universal training will become a necessity.—Sunset Magazine.

Birthday Surprise

Mrs. John Washter of 645 North Central Avenue, formerly of Tucson, Arizona, was much surprised and delighted Wednesday evening when she returned from the early show, accompanied by Mrs. Estelle Goodman, to find a party of her new neighbors gathered at her home prepared to celebrate with her the passing of the fifty-eighth milestone in the journey of life. Mrs. Goodman, her neighbor and friend, had arranged the party and bidden the guests. Delicious refreshments had been planned and included a large birthday cake, decorated with pink roses. Progressive five hundred afforded amusement for the evening. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. Larson, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Jamieson, Mrs. Mary Anderson, Mrs. Marion Sargent, Miss Sargent, Mrs. Gunstrum of Hollywood and R. T. Kilpatrick of Los Angeles.

Housing Commission

There are at present nine independent agencies of the federal government occupying themselves with the housing problem. They are not accomplishing a great deal because there is too much duplication of effort and none of them have enough power and funds. Nearly every state in the Union is engaged in some way or other with the same problem. So is nearly every city. There is a vast amount of effort, but it is confused, and, with a few exceptions, gets nowhere.

Herbert Hoover proposes to remedy this by the adoption of a federal housing policy, with the establishment of a federal commission in complete charge of a big, adequate national housing program. Is there any other way in which the matter can be handled satisfactorily?

The importance of building great numbers of houses with as little delay as possible needs no urging in any industrial community in America. The facts are so well known as to make mention of them superfluous. Mr. Hoover considers the problem just as vital, and just as much a legitimate field of federal action, as transportation. The government is probably the only agency that can handle the matter adequately, controlling building prices, facilitating the financing of new construction, providing standard dwellings of various types and furnishing the necessary impetus to put over the big enterprise.

SUGAR PROFITEERS LOSE

There will be little public sympathy for the speculators who, according to a Boston sugar man, have lost fortunes as a consequence of manipulations of the market. A shrinkage of $250,000,000 in the value of stocks, as reported, will not bear heavily, we may be sure, on any legitimate holders of sugar.

All sympathy for distresses growing out of the situation of the last few years will be reserved for general consumers, the people who have been mulcted not only, but frequently have been unable to supply their needs at any price.

The Boston man who has been enlightening the attorney general of Massachusetts, so far as his testimony is available, gives few details of the manipulations, but a fair inference from the news report is that unconscionable hoarding of sugar by some interests is the explanation not only of the high prices that have been exacted but of the scarcity of the commodity at groceries.

We believe that there was not available at all times all the sugar that the American people required, but it appears that the shortage was far less than was represented. Otherwise there could not have been the enormous losses asserted to have been suffered by holders of the commodity when the price began to slump. Popular opinion will hold to this until there is evidence to the contrary.

RICE INDUSTRY INTRODUCES SERIOUS PROBLEMS

That the introduction of the rice industry into California and the vast amounts of standing water necessary to its cultivation have introduced serious health and sanitation problems in the matter of malaria-bearing mosquitoes and the control of horseflies was the assertion made today by the Division of Entomology and Parasitology of the University of California College of Agriculture.

"It is probable that the rice fields proper do not remain wet continuously over a period long enough for horseflies, which have been incriminated in the transmission of anthrax among domesticated animals, to go through their immature stage demanding wet mud. However, the amount of water necessary for rice culture has raised the water level sufficiently to produce pools outside the rice fields in sloughs and depressions producing both horseflies and mosquitoes. With the exception of the elimination of breeding pools little is known concerning horsefly control," it was stated.

Investigations on these important problems are now being carried out by the Division of Entomology and Parasitology of the State University, which is planning further to investigate the problem of Oriental worm infections through the infection of the rice fields and the disposal of field water at the end of the season without injuring the sources of city water supplies.

Tourists From Detroit

Tourists from Detroit, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. F. H. West, called at the Evening News office yesterday to purchase a paper, and express their enthusiasm over Glendale as a home city. They have been traveling all over the state, with a view to settling in California eventually, and they like Glendale far better than any other city or section, after spending only one day here. The fact that most others hold the same opinion, is what has increased the population of the city over 400 per cent in ten years.

Many Want Homes

The Evening News office is still visited daily by many people wishing to find places to rent so they can live in this delightful city of homes and nearly all the real estate offices have a similar experience. Certain it is that we are failing to secure many desirable citizens simply because we have no homes for them.

Tribute to Dead

Edgar L. Snyder was born in Portland, Indiana, September 1, 1902. He died Oct. 4, 1920, at Maricopa, Calif., where he had been taken by his sister Leota, a few weeks before, with the hope that the change of climate would benefit his health. He was the youngest of four children born to Frank H. and Disa G. Snyder. With the members of his family he had moved to Glendale, early in 1913.

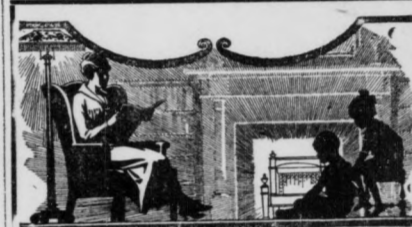

From the very beginning of his residence in Glendale he became a favorite among his new mates and friends; winning his way through his sweet disposition and endearing ways. Just at the turn of his 12th year his mother—his dear friend and companion—died. It is probable that he never fully rallied from this loss. Soon a naturally frail body showed signs of breaking. The little lad had fought bravely during the passing years but the disease, tubercular trouble of the hip joint, showed that it was determined to be master, and soon, very soon, the end came. Father, brother and sisters are left to mourn the young life thus cut short at the very threshold of young manhood, but the dear mother now has welcomed her boy to that land of eternal rest. A FRIEND.

Europe Is Travel-Mad

Central Europe—chiefly Austria, Hungary, Rumania and adjacent countries—are "travel-mad." In spite of government limitations, journeys are made on slight pretexts. Whole families go wandering from town to town. To the representative of a New York paper, Queen Marie of Rumania voiced the feelings of thousands of her subjects when she said, "How I envy you your travels." Admiral Horthy, Hungary's regent, remarked that he wakes up at night now thinking of the sea and in his dreams hears the sound of the ocean. "I have sailed the world around and now I can't even get a glimpse of blue water," he told an interviewer.

The general restlessness of the populations of Central Europe is a logical aftermath of the hysteria of war. This part of the world lived through the tense years of conflict, with its accompaniment of terror and privation, and now feels a natural reaction against the pallor of peacetime days. Not the least to be said against war, in fact, is the way in which it develops the appetite for highly-spiced sensation and atrocities or destroys the quieter but sounder pleasure which people normally take in the commonplace round of work and play. The business of living sensibly and serenely is monotonous to war-torn nerves. Hence the delight in feverish amusements, in the extremes of getting and spending, in wanton waste, in gross extravagance.

A good deal of what is the matter with the world in general today is due to the swing of the pendulum from the excitement of war to the wholesome monotony of peace. Central Europe, which got more of war than most of us, simply has an aggravated case which is correspondingly long in mending. But if Central Europe and the rest of us are going to get anywhere, the hysteria which expresses itself in a lust for travel or for any other form of useless excitement must be cured. And the cure lies within ourselves.
