GOING TO RESIGN.
(Associated Press.)
New York, May 30.—Earl Cadogan's term of office as Lord Lieutenant and Viceroy of Ireland is now near its close, according to a Herald dispatch from London. The announcement came, the dispatch adds, from His Excellency himself, when at the luncheon which followed his visit to the Cork exhibition on Thursday. Lord Cadogan announced his early resignation.

SENATOR'S FUNERAL.

Ottawa, May 30.—The funeral of the late Senator Clewlow took place this afternoon. Among those present were the Secretary of State, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Senators Miller, Peirce, Baker and MacMillan and Chief Justice Mills.

BURIED BY THE LIGHT OF LANTERNS

IMPRESSIVE EVENING FUNERALS AT FERNIE
The Bodies of One Hundred and Nine Victims of the Explosion Have Been Recovered.

(Special to the Times.)
Ferne, May 29.—The following is a further list of the bodies recovered from the Coal Creek mines: A. Featherston, Geo. Bever, John Stewart, Geo. Beach, Ed. Foley, Steve Balacti, Lucien Silla, Tony Angelo, Anthony Camer, Joseph Mataga, Ignace Matulak, Girardo Sida, John Shingara, Mike Lekar, Tom Kruppe, John Gabriel, Geo. Barber, Philip Tahbe, Larkin Amsted, Douglas Milroy, Jas. Muir, Jas. Crisp, one unknown, M. McLeod, Aaron Colclough, making 109 bodies found to date.
The names of 18 more entombed men are known, and it is thought that there are thirty more.

The decomposition of the corpses necessitates immediate burial.
The train with coaches and flat car, draped, carrying the coffins arrives from the mine at 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. The funeral procession is formed at the train on its arrival.
The evening funerals are very impressive, the hand leading with sacred music, followed by the corpses in all kinds of vehicles, societies and a large concourse of people. Upon their arrival each clergyman proceeds to his solemn work. The gleam from the lantern in each group shows the observer the different parts of God's Acre where interments are taking place.
The churches will be suitably draped for the next Sunday's service in memory of the deceased.
It is certain that the coroner's inquest will still cause a most rigid investigation, as so many theories as to the cause of the explosion are advanced. Some bodies have been recovered in a fairly good condition while others, not far distant, were badly mutilated. The different positions of the bodies make it difficult to understand the direction of the force exerted. Several groups of bodies have been found showing that they must have lived at least a short time, and were making a desperate and organized attempt to escape. It is known that the group in which were Stephens and Gloyer, two miners who knew the different tunnels well, might have escaped if they had known the old cudsone shaft was unsealed.

The relief fund has reached $15,000, but $100,000 will be required in order to relieve the suffering caused by the disaster.
Contributions.
(Associated Press.)
Sydney, C. B., May 29.—The Dominion Coal Company has sent a cheque for $500 to the Fernie relief fund, and the town of Sydney sends an equal amount.

DECORATION DAY.
Speeches Were Delivered by the President and Others at Washington.

(Associated Press.)
Washington, May 30.—Decoration Day was observed here today perhaps more generally than ever before. The local assignments were in charge of the department of the Potomac and included a parade of all the G. A. R. and other patriotic organizations, the decoration of monuments and graves and addresses by the President and other men prominent in the affairs of the government.

AT CHICAGO.
Chicago, May 30.—A parade, participated in by veterans of both the Civil and Spanish wars, was the feature of the Memorial Day demonstrations in this city today. Business was generally suspended and services were held in many churches. Owing to the perfect weather thousands of people visited the cemeteries.

CUP RACING.
Former Commodore Coates Does Not Consider It Necessary to Build a New Defender.
(Associated Press.)
New York, May 30.—Regarding the announcement that a new American cup challenger will be built in England, former Commodore Coates, of the Larchmont Yacht Club, said:
"If I did very well in Shamrock I, but I suppose both he and Watson profited by past experiences and the combination may prove a wise one. The Denny Bros. built a good boat in Shamrock II. So it is fair to suppose they will do well with a new one."
"Do you consider it necessary for us to build a new yacht to meet Shamrock II?" was asked. "No, we have a splendid boat in reserve in Constitution. I always believed she was the best boat and she will prove it. She has never yet done her best."

ANOTHER BIG UNDERTAKING.
(Associated Press.)
Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., May 29.—The Clewes are to build another great waterpower canal here. It will require the removal of 400,000 cubic yards of earth and 600,000 cubic yards of stone, and will be several years in building.

CORRIGAN'S SUCCESSOR.
The Names of Those Mentioned in Connection With the Appointment.
(Associated Press.)
Rome, May 30.—The Pope today received in audience Bishop Charles McDonnell, of Brooklyn, N. Y.
The statement published by the Daily Mail, of London, on May 29th, that at the consistory to be held June 9th, the Pope will nominate Archbishop Keane, of Dubuque, Ia., to succeed the late Archbishop Corrigan, of New York, is without foundation in fact. It appears now to be extremely improbable that the Pope will depart from his customary practice of appointing an archbishop's successor from among the clergy of the diocese in which the vacancy occurs. It is said that the three candidates will be Bishop McDonnell, Auxiliary Bishop John M. Farley, of New York, and Venerable Joseph Mooney, or Chancellor Charles M. Colton, Bishop of New York.

FLOOD OF IMMIGRATION.

Including Those on Water, Number Reaching New York During Month Is Over 88,000.
(Associated Press.)
New York, May 30.—Immigration is now at the highest point in the history of the country and the average of the class of people coming here is regarded by some of the officials as the lowest. Counting the immigrants on board steamships due to arrive to-day and tomorrow the immigration for the month will reach the record breaking total of 88,500. In May, 1893, the previous record month, 73,000 people came into the country in the steaming of the Atlantic liners. The bulk of the immigrants are from southern and south-eastern Europe. Immigration from Ireland, Germany, Norway, Sweden and Denmark has fallen off greatly. Seventy per cent. of the immigrants now coming are from Russia, Austria, Hungary and Italy. Most of these are non-producers. The immigration authorities say the great rush of aliens is due to the commercial prosperity of this country and industrial stagnation in nearly every European country.

BERNIER'S EXPEDITION

SUSTAINED BY A NARROW MAJORITY
LATEST FIGURES IN ONTARIO ELECTIONS
The Result of Polling the Closest in the Political Annals of the Dominion.
(Special to the Times.)
Ottawa, May 30.—The Ontario general election yesterday resulted in the Ross government being sustained by what appears likely to be the narrowest majority on record in Canadian political annals. At 2 p. m. to-day the latest figures at hand showed a majority for the government of two. In this election the Conservatives gained twelve seats, while the Liberals gained eight. The Liberal majority in the last legislature was ten.

The first general election in Ontario was held in January, 1875, and since then the strength of parties in the legislature has been as follows:
1875—Eighty-six members, Liberals 54, Conservatives 32, Liberal majority 22.
1879—Eighty-six members, Liberals 56, Conservatives 30, Liberal majority 26.
1884—Ninety-four members, Liberals 51, Conservatives 26, Patrons and Independents 17, Liberal majority over all 25.
1898—Ninety-four members, Liberals 51, Conservatives 42, Patron 1, Liberal majority 8.
1902—Ninety-eight members, Liberals 50, Conservatives 48, Liberal majority 2.

ANOTHER REPORT.
(Associated Press.)
Toronto, May 30.—The latest returns do not materially change the election situation. Albert is definitely Conservative and Manitoba has elected Gurney, Conservative. This gives a total of 51 Liberals and 47 Conservatives. Frontenac is in doubt and the Liberals may win it. This has been credited to the Conservatives. North Grey is in doubt, but the chances favor the Liberals. There is no definite change reported from the figures of last night, save Manitoulin.

GILLESPIE NOT GUILTY.
(Special to the Times.)
VERMONT, May 30.—Gillespie, charged with false pretences in connection with the business of the Woodman of the World, on the information of Graves, general manager for the province, was discharged this afternoon, the jury bringing in a verdict of not guilty.

An incident in the case was Lawyer Cherry, from the interior appearing before the court without a white tie. Judge Martin declined to listen to him, and called the attention of Associate Counsel Reid to the fact, stating that this was the first occasion in which counsel had taken a liberty of this sort.

LAVIGNE'S ARM BROKEN.

BILL TO AMEND THE FISHING LAWS

GOVERNMENT MEASURE DEALING WITH PERMITS
Fishery Commissioner to Replace Board and Overseers to Be Appointed — Tax on Cannery Outputs.
The Fisheries Bill, which was brought down by the government yesterday, provides a number of amendments to the act of 1901 in regard to the regulation of fishing in British Columbia waters, and especially in connection with the regulation of fishing under fishery licenses and permits. It provides for the appointment of a fishery commissioner, overseers and other officers and clerks by the Lieut.-Governor-in-Council, and constitutes every provincial constable, ex-officio, a fishery overseer with jurisdiction in every part of the province. The fishery commissioner replaces the board of commissioners provided in the act of 1901.

The bill gives wide regulating powers to the Lieut.-Governor-in-Council, section 8 providing that: "The Lieut.-Governor-in-Council may, from time to time, make regulations, and may, from time to time, vary, amend, alter or repeal all and every such regulation as may be found expedient for the better management and regulation of crown lands leased under the operation of this act, or of regulations made thereunder, or for the regulation of any fishing lease, license or permit which may be granted by virtue of this act, or of said regulations, and to prevent or destroy fish, and to forbid fishing in any waters within the province, except under authority of a fishing lease, permit or license, and for the purpose of carrying the provisions of this act into effect; and all regulations so made shall have the same force and effect as if hereby contained and enacted, and every offence against any such regulation may be treated as having been in contravention of this act."

Section 12 of the bill provides that: "The commissioner may issue, or authorize to be issued, fishery leases or fishery licenses for fisheries and fishing to be carried on in provincial waters, subject always to such regulations, conditions and restrictions as may from time to time be made, ordered, established or fixed in that behalf, as limited by above section by the Lieut.-Governor-in-Council, and published in the British Columbia Gazette, or as may be contained in the lease or license; but leases or licenses for any term exceeding five years shall be issued only under authority of the Lieut.-Governor-in-Council."

Section 15 of the 1901 act is repealed by section 13 of the bill, which provides for the payment of rental for the fishing lease or license, and a tax of 3 cents per case (4 dozen 13 pound cans) upon all fish (excepting dog salmon) put up by drying, salting, and any cold storage process, and $1 per ton for preserved dog salmon. The sub-sections of section 13 of the bill provide also that the tax shall be a lien upon the output of the fish canneries must make returns of number of cans, and variety of fish canned during the season to the local assessors or collectors. Penalties are provided for failure to make these returns and for false returns.

Section 15 of the bill provides for the appointment of fishery guardians: "The Lieut.-Governor-in-Council may, as may be deemed necessary for the effective protection of the rights granted by such leases; such guardians shall be sworn to the faithful discharge of their duties, and especially to prevent the taking or killing or attempting to take or kill fish in the waters covered by any such lease, or to take or kill, or attempt to take or kill, or attempt to take or kill fish in any such waters by any means not permitted by the terms of such lease; they shall be employed for such length of time as the Lieut.-Governor-in-Council may deem necessary, and their services shall be paid for by the lessee or licensee in such manner as may be determined by the Lieut.-Governor-in-Council."

Section 20 provides for the inspection of fishing implements: "Every person fishing in provincial waters under or by virtue of a fishery lease, fishing license or permit shall, whenever requested by any fishery officer so to do, permit the inspection and examination of all fishing implements and apparatus used by him; and in case any such person shall refuse to allow such inspection and examination, the fishery officer shall have power, and is hereby authorized, with or without a search warrant, to examine such implements and apparatus, and for that purpose to enter upon any building, boat, car or other place where such implements or apparatus are or reputed to be, whether within the limits covered by such lease, license or permit or not; and in case such person shall refuse to have in his possession any fishing implements or apparatus not permitted by the terms of such lease, license or permit, the fishery officer shall have power to take, confiscate and destroy such implements or apparatus: Provided, however, that this section shall only operate in respect of any crown lands held under a provincial lease, license

FAST SERVICE TO BE INAUGURATED

FIVE HOURS FROM VICTORIA TO NANAIMO
Delightful Trip Over Victoria Terminal System Touching at the Smelter Town.
A new era will shortly be opened in transportation between this city and Nanaimo, and a very short time will witness the inauguration of a daily service which is bound to afford the greatest satisfaction to the public at large. The Sidney & Nanaimo Transportation Company has recently been incorporated and will control the service between Sidney and Nanaimo in connection with the Victoria Terminal railway system. The first meeting of the board of directors will be held this afternoon.

The company takes over the steamers Iquois and Strathcona, the latter of which will soon be plying daily between Sidney and Nanaimo. She is now on the ways at Port Simpson, and a number of men were sent up by the Hudson's Bay Company last night to bring her down. She will be towed here by the tug Albion, which leaves about Monday next. She will arrive here about Monday week. The Caladonia is also on the ways at Port Simpson, and it will be necessary to launch her first before the men can get at the Strathcona. The Strathcona will give a daily service between Sidney and Nanaimo stopping at Crofton and Chemainus en route. She will leave Nanaimo at 7 a. m. and passengers leaving on her will arrive at Victoria by noon. The Victoria Terminal train will leave the station at 2 p. m., and passengers will arrive at Nanaimo on the Strathcona at 7 p. m. Daily connection will be made at Crofton with the Lenora & Mosses Slicker railway, so that those desiring to Mount Sicker will have an opportunity of doing so over this splendid little road.

The Strathcona will make about fourteen or fifteen miles an hour, and as will be seen by the schedule just mentioned, the hours of departure from both termini and also hours of arrival will certainly suit the convenience of the travelling public.

Five hours between this city and Nanaimo is excellent time, and as the trip is one unsurpassed in the coast for scenic beauty and general enjoyment. Besides this there is the fact that the company as extensively as possible. Until the arrival of the Strathcona the steamer Union, built by the United Cannery, will be operated on the Sidney and Crofton route. She made her first trip to the smelter site yesterday, and her passengers were most favorably impressed with the trim little craft's capacity. The Union is a new boat and a great improvement on the Mystery. She can handle one hundred and twenty-five tons of freight and about forty passengers. The Mystery will be henceforth utilized for ferry work, towing the Georgian and Great Northern ferry cars from the Mainland to Crofton and Sidney. The ship at Sidney has been completed. That at Crofton is almost finished, so that a few days will see the Mystery and her cargo in regular service between Island and Mainland. In connection with the chartering of the Union it is interesting to note that the first installation of actual smelting machinery was shipped to Crofton this consisted of the crusher for the smelter.

The act to incorporate the Victoria Terminal Railway Company is not to be dissolved after all. General Manager Anderson has received word from Ottawa to this effect, effectively disposing of the apprehension created by the communication of the Attorney-General to the city council a few weeks ago. It will also prove interesting information to that section of the council who have had the possibility of the dissolution of the act with ill-concealed delight.

The attitude of certain members of the council at the meeting on Monday last plainly showed that there was considerable antagonism toward the project in the municipal legislature, but the fact that the company intend improving the facilities in every particular indicates that they are there to stay. They have expended about one hundred and fifty thousand dollars on the enterprise, have constructed slips, wharves, completed their system to the city, established very excellent offices in the market building and mean to keep the ball rolling.

The trip among the islands or from Victoria to Nanaimo during the summer months will undoubtedly prove one of the greatest attractions for tourists in this part of the country.

CONSOLIDATION OF BANKS.
(Associated Press.)
Chicago, Ill., May 30.—The consolidation of the First National Bank and the Metropolitan National bank has been formally approved at a meeting held by the stockholders of the two institutions. The actual transfer of assets will take place to-morrow and Sunday and on Monday evening Chicago will have opened for business its first $100,000,000 bank.

THE WRECKAGE ON TRIANGLE ISLAND

DESCRIPTION OF THAT SEEN BY PROSPECTORS
Pilot House From Small Vessel Was Painted White—Bones of a Human Being.
Walter Leek, of Vancouver, was one of the copper prospecting party who went north a month ago on the steamer Eagle to Triangle Island and other places along the coast. Describing the wreckage found on the bleak west shore of the island, Mr. Leek says he does not believe it came from any one large wreck, but rather accumulated from disasters at some time to a small fishing boat or boats. The wreckage consisted principally of a window sash of a cabin and a helmsman's seat. On one piece the word "Doll" was painted. A number of pine boards were painted white. There were also several broken pieces of oars, and the blades of which remained, and slabs which appeared as though they came from the side of a sloop or fishing boat. There was part of a fisherman's net and what looked like the end board of a sloop. The wreckage looked as if it had been there several months and apparently accumulated.

The pilot house referred to in last evening's Times as having been found on the small vessel, it was painted white on the exterior and was finished on the inside in wood in appearance. The wreckage was two boxes found were believed by members of the party to be none other than those of a human being, one being like that of a tibia bone, well examined by the prospectors, and was so badly broken and worn by the action of the sea and rocks that recognition of it was recognizable, there being no vessel of the name "Doll" missing so far as shipping men are aware.

There is a possibility, however, that the fishing boats referred to were those of some of the informants who endeavored to make their escape from one or other of the vessels known to have foundered off the coast during the past winter.

Immediately north of Triangle Island is Goose Island, and here also much wreckage has been deposited, but completely obliterated with marks of identification in either case that there is little to show from what the wreckage originally came.

Triangle Island is a very hard place to reach in rough weather, and the little tug Eagle, which carried the copper prospecting expedition, rather made three trips before being successful. The news of the discovery of the wreckage was learned in Victoria from an officer of the steamer Amur, which has been in port during the last few days.

DEADMAN'S ISLAND.
(Special to the Times.)
Vancouver, May 30.—T. Ludgate, of Deadman's Island fame, is here, and does not intend going on with the project which Mr. Macdonell, his counsel, recently made to the city council, regarding the city allowing the Dominion lease he already has, and exhibits a letter from Hon. Dr. Borden stating that the decision of Judge Martin will be appealed to the Privy Council to see whether the province or Dominion owns Deadman's Island and Stanley park. The department of loggers has refused the privilege to loggers to store booms near the island on account of the possible interference with Mr. Ludgate's rights.

The jury stand around, some leaning against the building and others over the corpse, whilst the coroner is seated on an empty barrel. The body is stretched out at full length on a plank, with a blanket thrown over it. A few Indians, one or more idle miners, and a half dozen dogs make up the attendance.

"We should lay out a public park. Within five minutes' walk from the town's centre an ideal spot opens out to the sea and gives a view of the most-treasured Olympic ranges. To the right is the entrance to Victoria harbor, and the pretty curve that half encircles it. The place to which allusion is made is a short distance south of Governor Douglas's residence, and the curious ones may reach it by turning off from "Kinnaird" way. We should remember that a large portion of our property must come from Victoria's attractions as a place of residence or a point of resort. We have advantages in this respect possessed by few towns in their outfit, and if we are wise we will develop them."

PROCEEDINGS OF THE LEGISLATURE

R. CURTIS'S TRADES UNION BILL DEFEATED

Important Alterations Are Made in Committee to the Municipal Elections Act.

Press Gallery, May 29th. The excitement incident to the receipt of returns from the Ontario elections pervaded the House this evening.

Trades Unions.

E. C. Smith resumed the debate on Mr. Curtis's bill re Actions Against Trades Unions and Kindred Associations. In doing so he said three-quarters of the time of the House was taken up with the capitalistic class who swarmed the lobbies of the House.

He wanted to see the employer protected to the limit, but he wanted to see the workmen equally protected. He appealed to the House to treat the bill with consideration.

Mr. Curtis said he had been asked if he would allow section two to be amended as proposed by Mr. Hawthorthwaite if the second reading was allowed.

Mr. Martin agreed voting down the bill altogether, as Mr. Hawthorthwaite's amendment was directly contrary to the intention of the principle.

The bill was defeated on second reading by a vote of 10 to 23. Messrs. Curtis, E. C. Smith, Tatlow Helmecken, Oliver, Hawthorthwaite, Green, Fulton, Neill and Gifford voting aye, and the remainder of the House against.

Supreme Court Act.

Mr. Curtis moved the second reading of a bill amending the Supreme Court Act, thus providing that no restraining order shall be granted on an ex parte application on any railway building or operating in British Columbia.

Hon. Mr. Eberts said that the sections of the bill had already been rejected by the House when they had come before him, members as amendments to another bill. He did not consider that the railway companies required the protection provided by the bill.

Mr. Helmecken opposed the bill on much the same grounds as Hon. Mr. Eberts and recommended its withdrawal.

On a division the bill was defeated by 15 votes to 14.

Highway Traffic Bill.

On the motion of Mr. Helmecken the Highway Traffic Regulation Act Amendment Bill was read the second time. The bill provides that section 8 of the act shall not apply to city municipalities except with their consent.

S. P. C. A. Act.

Mr. Helmecken moved the second reading of the bill to amend the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals incorporated act. He stated that the bill provided that any agent or officer of the society, or of any branch thereof, might lawfully examine, seize and destroy or cause to be destroyed any animal found to be at large, abandoned or in the possession of any person who is not properly caring for said animal.

Mr. Neill took strong objection to the bill. He pointed out that section 2 would permit any crank, on the testimony of two other cranks that an animal was injured past recovery, to kill that animal so as to put it out of its misery.

Mr. A. W. Smith was also opposed to the bill, the provisions of which would, he thought, be likely to cause hardship and trouble to farmers and others.

Mr. Oliver said that he had been among cattle all his life and was satisfied that the bill would not do at all.

Hon. Mr. Eberts said that he had seen many cases of cruelty to animals in Victoria. He had seen old horses quite unfit to work turned adrift in the city, and the society had at present no means of dealing with such cases.

Mr. Martin had no doubt that the bill was put forward with the very best motives, but he did not think such powers as those proposed by the bill should be given to private citizens.

Hon. Mr. Prentice said that cattle ranchers might be put to a great deal of inconvenience by the provisions of the bill. Cattle sometimes wandered away and got in poor condition before they could be found, and it would be possible for such cattle to be destroyed by an agent of the society.

Mr. Curtis supported the principle of the bill, but suggested certain amendments which would, he thought, make the bill more workable.

Hon. Mr. Eberts agreed with Mr. Curtis. He had seen old or sick horses turned adrift in the upper country to be worried and starved to death.

Mr. McPhillips said that Mr. Martin had disagreed with the Attorney-General and he hoped that this time the Attorney-General would not accordingly change his mind and vote with Mr. Martin.

Hon. Mr. Eberts—You are out of order. The bill before the House is dealing with cruelty to animals.

Mr. McPhillips said he knew what was before the House, but he hoped that for once the government benches would rise superior to the hypnotic influence of Mr. Martin. He was proceeding to dilate eloquently upon this well-known position of Mr. Martin in the House when he was called to order by the Attorney-General.

Mr. McPhillips—I know the Attorney-General is afraid of my criticism.

Hon. Mr. Eberts—No; I am only a little anxious about your state of health. (Laughter.)

Mr. McPhillips—You need not be afraid. I am willing to submit myself to an examination by any two reputable citizens. (Loud laughter.)

Continuing, Mr. McPhillips said that the Attorney-General's political state of health was very low indeed. He would support the second reading, but thought that it would have to be amended in committee so as to throw more responsibility upon the society.

The second reading was carried by 20 votes to 11.

Trades Unions Liability.

Mr. Martin moved the second reading of the bill to amend the law relating to trades unions. The bill provided that no action or other proceeding at law or in equity should be maintainable against any trade union, or against any persons in their representative capacity as officers or trustees of any trade union, for any wrongful act committed by any officer, trustee, servant, agent or member of such trade union in furtherance, or purporting to be in furtherance, of any strike, lock-out or trade dispute between employers and workmen, unless it be proved that the council, committee or other governing body of such trade union expressly authorized or were privy to such wrongful act.

Dominion Act, and those were the only unions included in the operation of Mr. Martin's bill. He had made inquiries, and he found that out of about 100 trade unions and organizations in the province only one was registered under the statute of Canada; and that was the only union that would be affected if the bill became law.

He objected to the word "privy" as it appeared in the bill, which word might be construed by a judge to mean "having a participation of interest or knowledge." Thus the bill would make a union liable for damages if the council of the union had knowledge of a wrongful act whether the council were in favor of or opposed to that act.

Mr. Hawthorthwaite hoped the second reading would be carried. Mr. Martin had agreed to an amendment to the bill which had been approved by the Labor Council of Victoria, and he thought that so amended the bill would meet the wishes of the laboring classes.

Mr. Gilmour also supported the bill, although he hinted at certain amendments of his own which he intended to move in committee.

Mr. Helmecken commented on the general mix-up of bills and amendments dealing with the liability of trades unions.

Mr. McPhillips could not support the second reading of the bill. He thought legislation of the kind ought to be approached slowly and carefully, and he did not believe that the province ought to go further than the laws of Great Britain in such matters.

Mr. Gilmour said that he had been in a judicial decision in the House of Lords, and that decision did not necessarily affect the courts of British Columbia. He believed that the proposed legislation was of an academic character, as no case had yet arisen in the province calling for an alteration in the laws.

Mr. Gilmour said that he had no intention of changing his mind on the question. The present bill was not so drastic in character as that introduced by Mr. Curtis, but he did not consider that any legislation on such lines was necessary at present.

Mr. Hawthorthwaite said the principle of one man, one vote, was in the interests of the poor man, as against the man of wealth. If a man happened to have a pecuniary interest in a city in which he did not reside it was no reason why he should come and dictate to those who were to be governed.

Mr. Oliver spoke against Mr. McPhillips's amendment, which he said would kill the bill.

Mr. McPhillips's amendment was lost. Mr. Martin then advised striking out the word "a resident," thus making it possible for a non-resident to vote. He said if the amendment was not carried he would move on the third reading to strike out the whole clause.

Mr. Hawthorthwaite protested against any amendment made to the members. What if the honorable member did vote so, he had only one vote, and he hoped honorable members would show their independence by opposing the amendment.

Mr. Martin said that he had not suggested this, but the vote had been close and his vote and another being changed might endanger the bill.

Mr. Hawthorthwaite said he was glad the honorable member's influence extended only to another besides himself.

The amendment carried. Mr. McPhillips moved to strike out section one of the bill, and to substitute a voter exercising his franchise in more than one ward. In doing so he said that if the section became law it would mean that Victoria would have to have a special charter. To all large cities the ward system and the right to vote in each ward where property was owned existed.

After a long debate Mr. McPhillips's motion was defeated.

After two hours' discussion of the bill Mr. Curtis suggested that the bill be referred back to the committee. The bill was full of absurdities, incongruities, anomalies and contradictions, and possibly no bill brought into the House had been subjected to such criticism. Yet he (Mr. Curtis) had been disciplined for failing to submit his amendments to this committee.

Legal Professions Bill.

The Legal Professions Bill was committed, but it being 11 o'clock the committee rose and the House adjourned.

Special police precautions are being taken with the annual spring parade of German troops to be held at the Temple of Field, which will be witnessed by Emperor William, the Shah of Persia, and the Crown Prince of Siam. The precautionary measures are particularly aimed at photographers, as a photograph of His Majesty has recently been much annoyed.

The British mule camp, which has been maintained at Lathrop, Mont., since May, 1901, during which time 8,000 horses and mules for use in South Africa have been handled, is to be moved to Toronto, Ont., immediately.

he said was desired by the medical men in his constituency.

On the motion of Mr. Hawthorthwaite the debate was adjourned.

Code Signals in Mines.

Mr. Curtis moved the second reading of the bill to amend the Inspection of Metalliferous Mines Act Amendment Act, 1901. The object of this bill was, he said, to repeal the two sections of the act which provided a certain code of signals which had to be used in the engine rooms of the mines in the province.

This code had been found to be unworkable by the mine managers at Rossland and elsewhere. They were anxious to do all they could to secure the safety of the miners, but this system had proved to be impractical. Although there was a penalty provided for mine owners who did not use the code, it was not, as a matter of fact, used in any of the mines. He believed that the miners themselves were quite willing to have the code done away with.

Replies to Questions.

The following questions by Mr. Tatlow were answered by the Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works: (1) Is it the policy of the government to protect the wages of men employed on government works?

Answer: In so far as the government is able and warranted in doing so.

2. Is the Chief Commissioner aware that one Max S. Wilson has not received wages due for painting the government buildings at Princeton, although the work was done in October?

Answer: No steps can be taken by the government.

EVENING SESSION.

The House resumed at 9 o'clock and proceeded to the orders of the day. On report of the Municipal Elections Act Mr. Oliver moved an amendment that property owners to vote at municipal elections must have their places of business in the municipality and be assessed to the amount of $100.

This was attacked by Mr. Martin, who held it absurd that a man who owned property in a city and who was a British subject should be deprived of the right to vote.

Mr. McPhillips moved to strike out clause 2 altogether, holding that any meddling with the present law was more likely to result in harm than in good.

Mr. Gilmour defended the refusal of the franchise to a non-resident as being in pursuance of the principle of one man, one vote.

Mr. Green held the same view, and said it was about time that British Columbia became progressive enough to adopt that principle.

Mr. Hawthorthwaite said the principle of one man, one vote, was in the interests of the poor man, as against the man of wealth. If a man happened to have a pecuniary interest in a city in which he did not reside it was no reason why he should come and dictate to those who were to be governed.

Mr. Oliver spoke against Mr. McPhillips's amendment, which he said would kill the bill.

Mr. McPhillips's amendment was lost. Mr. Martin then advised striking out the word "a resident," thus making it possible for a non-resident to vote. He said if the amendment was not carried he would move on the third reading to strike out the whole clause.

GRAIN AND FLOUR.

One thousand tons of Canadian flour will be taken to Australia by the Miowera, which departs this evening. This is one of the largest shipments of this product transported to the southern continent this year, and indicates what favor flour manufactured by Canada obtains there.

The district court of Washington gave judgment against the Plotbek for $22,830, of which $9,830 was awarded to the owners, captain and crew of the steamer Mattawan and $13,000 to the Puget Sound Tugboat Company for salvage at San Francisco on Tuesday.

The appellant claims that the towage service rendered was not worth more than $200. The value of the Plotbek was admitted to be $60,000, and the salvage awarded is alleged to be more than 38 per cent. of the value of the property. The appellant admits that the damage to the Mattawan caused by the breaking of her windlass is $2,512, but avers

EASTERN FREIGHT FOR DAWSON CITY

Twenty-eight car-loads coming west.

V. L. & M. Company Making Arrangements to Ship to Points on the Mainland.

That cities of the coast have no longer control of the business of the far north is now beyond doubt. Not only has the North American Company been making great inroads into this business, diverting it from its former channels into new ones, but the big companies of Dawson themselves have of late become independent to a certain extent of the merchants of British Columbia and Sound cities.

A well-informed railway and steamship man said yesterday that there were at present just 28 carloads of Eastern goods on the way to the coast for shipment to Dawson, and the Eastern business does not appear to be spasmodic, for freight has been coming West for the northern country for some time.

According to the Times' informant the effect of this will have a very important bearing on the local trade of the wholesale merchants. They have not to compete against any partial arrangement with the transportation companies, but simply with the merchants of Dawson, who find that they can buy as cheaply in the East as elsewhere, besides saving all commissions.

Neither Vancouver or Victoria are doing the same amount of trade with the north that they did a year ago at this time and the reason of it, he thinks, is to be found in the above explanation. Navigation in the north is believed now to be open, yet the amount of the cargo which the steamers handle does not seem to indicate any particular activity. The Amur will go out to-night with only a partial load, and what she receives at Vancouver will be mostly, if not all, Eastern freight.

A small number of passengers have been locally booked for the steamer.

WILL SHIP EAST.

The Victoria Lumber & Milling Company, whose lease of operations is at Chemainus, will shortly be in a position to make shipments by rail to eastern ports, and this company for a trade in which they have been more or less handicapped by reason of the mill's situation. The Vancouver Millhand mills are now enjoying a monopoly of this business, which has recently grown to very considerable proportions, but will not for long possess many advantages over the Island concern.

The V. L. & M. Company have for some time been at work on a branch line of railway which will connect their mill at Chemainus with the E. & N. railway line, and when this has been completed, which will be in the near future, the company will be in a position to make rail shipments to any point on the continent.

The mill has during the past year been one of the busiest in the province. Last month the lumber shipments were as follows: German ship Ostara, for South Africa, 1,065,061 feet; American barque Sonoma, for Sydney, 731,419 feet; American barque Star of Bengal, for Adelaide, 1,508,402 feet; American barque King Cyrus, for Sydney, 844,747 feet.

The American barque Louisiana, Capt. Hale, and the German barque An'ig are at the mill, the former for Sydney and the latter for the United Kingdom.

On Wednesday the tug Yellow Jacket arrived with a tow of 14 sections of logs from Hood's canal. The company is working up quite a trade with the mines on Texada Island, and the steamers Oscar and Selkirk have been calling regularly on their way up to the island.

The Great West mill all day on Wednesday taking on an order for the Marble Bay mines.

SAANICHOON NOTES.

(Special Correspondence of the Times.) On Wednesday a lecture, which was educational and amusing, and delivered with great ability and humor, was delivered in the Methodist church, Saanich, on the American Aborigines, by Rev. W. H. Barracough. It was skillfully illustrated by beautiful magic lantern views, photographed by the lecturer, the strong resemblance of the ancient Mexican hieroglyphics to those of the Egyptians suggested that the two races had a common origin, and it was hoped the future would discover a solution of these marvelous cryptograms.

The Egyptian picture writings had been identified by the discovery of the Rosetta stone, on which were also Greek and Arabic writings, and these afforded the key which unlocked the secret, and in some such way in the future the Mexican cryptograms might reveal their meaning. In moving a vote of thanks to the able lecturer, attention was drawn to the great benefit such lectures confer on the people.

On Sunday next Rev. Mr. Winslow will deliver his farewell sermon at the Methodist church, Saanich. Throughout Saanich regret will be felt at the departure of a man who has been so long a member of his church, but members of all denominations are sorry to lose a man who is so much beloved. Mrs. Winslow has been suffering a severe illness, and it is hoped that the efficacy of Asilcroft, to which place Mr. Winslow has been transferred, will benefit her.

The Premier of Newfoundland, Sir Robert Bond, left St. John's, Nfld., last evening via Quebec for London, where he will participate in the functions attendant upon the coronation of the King.

IN AID OF HOSPITAL.

Enjoyable Concert Held in the Hall at Cumberland.

Cumberland hall was crowded on Monday evening, the occasion of the hospital concert. Magistrate Abrams presided, and opened the proceedings with a few appropriate remarks, in which he referred to the needs of the hospital.

Those who went for amusement were ably catered to by Messrs. Tanusay and Scargate, the former bringing down the house with his topical song "No Honour For Me." Professor Schindler proved himself an able violinist, and it would be difficult to excel his cornet performance. The trio by Miss Halcom, Miss Harrison and Mr. Morgan and the famous old duet, "The Minute Gun at Sea," rendered by Messrs. Moore and Weber, were worthy of commendation.

Miss Laura Abrams gave an interesting reading in her usual mastery style. Miss Cameron, Miss Abrams and Mr. Morgan gave interesting solos, and Vivian and Aurelie Bate received a well-deserved ovation for their character duet.

The orchestra opened each part with a tit-bit nicely arranged and in good time. The negro plantation songs were very interesting. The hospital will benefit to the extent of nearly a hundred dollars.

TANNER SANDS.

Marriage Ceremony Conducted Last Evening By Rev. W. H. Barracough.

Last evening Rev. Gordon Tanner, B. A., and Miss Emily Sands, both of this city, were united in marriage by Rev. W. H. Barracough, B. A. The ceremony was a quiet and unostentatious one, only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Tanner left last night on the steamer Majestic for the Sound, where they will spend a few days, returning to Victoria towards the latter end of next week.

The bride is well-known in Victoria and the Coast cities. For the past year she has resided with her mother in Victoria, West, prior to her marriage. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Barracough, and is a sister of Mr. H. H. Barracough, being engaged in journalistic work in that city. A third brother, C. E. Sands, is connected with several papers in the Kootenays. The groom, Rev. Gordon Tanner, has officiated as pastor of the Victoria-West Methodist church for the past year, and was recently appointed to the new district at Ladysmith and Wellington. He and his bride will take up their residence at the latter place about the middle of June.

Emperor William made a speech after the sham fight conducted by German forces at Gravelotte, Alsace-Lorraine, in which the German defenses in certain battles of the Franco-German war were repeated. His Majesty is reported to have said in his speech that in the next war 4,000 men with machine guns would be able in similar positions to stand off 50,000 men, and that at Gravelotte 4,000 men so armed would have put 20,000 men out of action.

ONTARIO ELECTIONS.

The Liberal government of Ontario was sustained yesterday for the seventh or eighth time. Its majority is not very large, but still sufficient. The result seems to be about the same as that produced at the general elections of four years ago, when the government's majority was about seven. The situation then was complicated by the defeat of two of the Ministers. Yesterday all the Ministers were victorious, winning by good majorities. The administration will gain in strength. There is no doubt whatever about its ability to carry on the business of the province, because in Ontario the lines of demarcation between the parties are clearly defined. There is never any doubt about the position of the members. There is no record in the Ontario Legislature of representatives abandoning the principles they had maintained with vehemence for the sake of an illusory local advantage, hoped for personal gain, petty social ambition, the gratification of malignant personal dislikes, or maintaining chaotic conditions in the belief that such will fill the public mind with disgust and clear a path for their own political advancement. To obtain good honest government the political situation must be stable, as we knew to our cost in British Columbia.

This new triumph of Liberalism in Canada cannot be properly estimated by the size of the majority. It was recognized from the beginning of the campaign that the contest was to be a very fierce one. The Conservatives had won by a considerable majority in the Dominion general elections. They did not stop to consider that their victory was brought about with the assistance of the infamous race campaign and the no less infamous gerrymander carried on by unscrupulous politicians who would not hesitate about precipitating a race war if it promised to place them in power. It was proclaimed exultantly from the Tory headquarters at Ottawa that the Dominion elections showed Ontario to be Liberal by at least two votes to one, therefore it was almost certain that the old provincial Liberal stronghold would become Conservative at the first opportunity. The Tories delighted upon it with a blare of trumpets. Here was a chance for the hungry office-seekers who have been wandering so helplessly in the wilderness, for what no doubt seems to them an unreasonable length of time, to find rest for the soles of their weary feet. It must be remembered that the west is now the only part of the Dominion flowing with milk and honey for the Tory patriots who hunger and thirst to serve their country for a consideration. All east of the prairies is Liberal. These joyous, hopeful hosts were joined by the prohibitionists, who were not satisfied with the Ross government's proposition to test the sentiments of the electors of the province in regard to prohibition by the referendum. They wanted prohibition without delay, regardless of the consequences. These again were reinforced by the liquor men, who thought the temperance people should have been told to go about their business and leave well enough alone. No doubt there were also a considerable number of electors of the unreasoning kind who took no account of thirty years of the clearest coupled with the most progressive government any portion of the British Empire has ever been blessed with, and joined in the opposition onslaught because they thought it was "time for a change." Taking everything into consideration, we are not surprised that our Tory Journalistic brethren in the East sent out telegrams announcing that Whitney would sweep Ontario. To-day these men are suffering from the effects of a reaction. Their depression is no doubt very deep. They have shot their great bolt, and the Government is practically as strong as it was four years ago. There will be no break in the line of Liberal succession in Ontario. Manitoba is still the only stronghold in possession of the Conservative forces. When the next Dominion general election comes round the citadel of the chief province of the Dominion will not be used by the enemies of a government which has done more than all its predecessors to augment the material prosperity and add to the renown of Canada in the Mother Country as a centre from which to direct their attack. At the next session of the Dominion Parliament the notorious government act of the Macdonald government, the inequities of which were multiplied by the successors of that government, will be repealed. In our future elections in the province of Ontario will it be possible for counties containing a large Liberal majority to be so divided as to return two Conservatives by small majorities and one Liberal by three votes to one. Henceforth the election returns will represent the true political sentiments of the voters.

It is tolerably safe to say that never since the Dominion general elections of 1896 have there been so many Conservatives in Canada arrayed in sackcloth and with the ashes of mourning upon their heads as in the case to-day. They were so sure of victory and they came so very near securing it.

THE EXHIBITION.

It is a pity some means cannot be devised of constituting a body to take charge of the Victoria exhibition and run it in somewhat the same manner as some of our other public institutions are conducted. A board which is yearly being fortified with new material, as our hospital boards are, might meet the case. We cannot afford to let the Victoria exhibition drop after such a good beginning as was made last year. But it must be made to fit its way as other institutions of a similar character do. The exhibitors' burdens are heavy enough at present, while the calls upon our business men have of late been very numerous. There are some who had an experience in connection with the exhibition they will not care to repeat. With grounds and buildings provided, and a fast-growing farming community around us, there should be no question about the exhibition proving a financial success. Those in charge are given to understand what is required of them. The trouble in connection with most institutions whose permanence is guaranteed by the public is extravagance and recklessness in management. If any vauca reason can be shown why the fall fair should not prove a success from every point of view it should be dropped. Vancouver thinks an exhibition is necessary to lend dignity to its position, and is talking about securing grounds and erecting buildings. We have everything necessary to the holding of a show, yet we are considering the propriety of withdrawing from this necessary enterprise. It will do us harm to even discuss such a proposal.

OBSTACLES TO FEDERATION.

Mr. Salisbury advises those who are addressing the cause of Imperial Federation that they are treading on delicate ground and should approach the subject cautiously. We are under the impression that a statesman in Canada issued the same warning some time ago and was accused by an over-enthusiastic but irresponsible scholar of being afraid of the Quebec cables. The Imperial preference of Canada was the first step in the direction of Imperial federation. One of the great political parties of Canada denounced it and contended that we should insist upon a quid pro quo. If that were not granted then our preference should be withdrawn. It is quite certain the cause we all favor and which is making progress would not be advanced by such action. There is no one in Canada who is not in favor of Great Britain granting a preference to Canadian goods. The British looks at the matter from a different standpoint. Most of the products we send to Great Britain are foodstuffs. A preference for Canada means a tax upon food. It has been argued to the contrary, but, whether it be a superficial view or not, the impression produced upon the ordinary mind is that a tax upon food means dearer food. The electors of the one constitution in which an election has been held proved that they took that position when they rejected a Conservative for a seat formerly held by a supporter of the government and returned a Liberal. Now a government is bound to consider such possibilities. It is not improbable that most of the members of the Salisbury administration value the possession of power more highly even than a step in the direction of Empire consolidation. They will all do the best that in them lies for the Empire as a whole, but the part in which all their personal interests are centered must always remain first with them. But the seed has been sown, and it is being carefully tended and nurtured there can be little doubt as to its growth. The one thing to guard against at the present time is a set-back reaction. We all hope that the tax on foreign grain may be maintained and that that of the colonies will be admitted free into the British markets. There is no doubt that the wave of population at present moving towards the Canadian Northwest will rise higher as it progresses. Our territories will soon produce enough wheat to make up the difference between production and consumption in Great Britain. The people of the old land do not know that the fact must be demonstrated to them. They need to be convinced that if the Empire is to maintain its old-time relative position as a power in the face of national hostility and present-day industrial and commercial movements there must be co-operation between its different parts. Nor are the obstacles to be overcome all to be found in Great Britain. All parts of the Empire regard the matter with more or less suspicion as yet. Australia stands farther off than Canada. She has taken no step in the direction in which so far only the eyes are directed. But she is young and has scarcely "found herself" as a confederation. After the Colonial Conference we shall all have a clearer understanding of the matter. The discussions promise to produce results which will affect the future of all the continents of the earth.

In another column Mr. Morley draws attention to some of the subjects which will probably be brought up for discussion before the Voters' League, the society recently formed for the purpose of endeavoring to educate the electors up to a proper sense of the responsibilities which rest upon them. No one will deny that many reforms are necessary before we shall attain to an ideal height provincially or municipally. Unfortunately, in Victoria it appears to be impossible to sustain interest in public questions all the year around. We elect our representatives and then retire into seclusion, leaving them to attend to business in which we should at all times be actively interested. There can never be intelligent, effective criticism under such conditions. If the League succeeds in keeping interest in public affairs alive all the year round its work will not be in vain.

The energy with which the active spirits in the Victoria Tourists' Association are presenting the work to which they have set themselves cannot but have good results. Indeed the results are apparent already: All the railway companies operating on the other side are joining the association in its efforts. Cheap rates between the Coast and cities as far east as St. Paul have been established. When the heated term arrives the natives of the interior will begin to pant after the cool atmosphere of the Coast.

Hon. G. W. Ross, who has been sustained as Premier of Ontario, is one of Canada's great men. He is a cultivated gentleman, learned, witty, and one of the few orators this country has produced. It would have been a crime against the country generally if such a man had been rejected in favor of one of the calibre of Whitney.

Dyea is as dead as St. Pierre. The United States post office department has closed up its office there, which is a sure sign there is no business being done. Skagway will look pretty small too after the all-Canadian line to the Yukon is built.

THE BEAUTIFUL LIFE AND DEATH.

Beautiful faces are those that wear it. Matters little if dark or fair—Whole-souled honesty printed there. Beautiful eyes are those that show like crystal panes where heart fires glow. Beautiful thoughts that burn below. Beautiful lips are those whose words leap from the heart like the hearts of birds. Yet whose utterance prudence guards. Beautiful hands are those that do work that is earnest and brave and true. Moment by moment a long life through. Beautiful feet are those that go on kindlier ministries to and fro—Down lowliest ways, if God will so. Beautiful shoulders are those that bear ceaseless burdens of kindly care. With patient grace and daily prayer. Beautiful lives are those that bless—Whose hidden foundations but few may guess. Beautiful twilight at set of sun. Beautiful goal with race well won. Beautiful rest with work well done. Beautiful graves where grasses creep. Where blown leaves fall, where drifts lie deep. Open worn-out hands—oh, beautiful sleep!

A FUNERAL JOKE.

Philadelphia Times. At the funeral of a lawyer of state reputation, who lived and practiced in a town not far from Philadelphia, and who was known by his friends throughout as an unbeliever, an eminent gentleman from Philadelphia reached the house after the minister had begun the sermon. Not knowing how far the service had progressed, he accented a well known Quaker of the town, who was a friend of the deceased, and who was noted for his great sense of humor, and, leaning over his shoulder, asked in a whisper: "What part of the services have they reached?" To which the Quaker, without a smile, replied: "Just opened for the defence."

VOTERS' ATTENTION! To the Editor:—In the name of the Voters' League I would remind all voters that in the franchise we have an irresistible power for better conditions if used along lines of combined intelligence. The League offers us the opportunity of so doing, and thereby bringing such pressure to bear upon existing evils as can be done through no other channel. His Worship the Mayor, realizing the value of this public movement, has kindly offered the league the use of the Town Hall for its regular meetings on each Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock sharp. In earnestly requesting all voters to attend I can assure equal welcome and fair hearing to all. You who realize that there are abuses in our methods of doing the franchise, come out and devise means for regulating it. You who are justly indignant at the degradation and loss of our fair city and province through the condition of our legislature come out and stay out, until through proper exercise of the franchise you have so changed the conditions as to make such shameful doings impossible. You who have forgotten that the life-principle of political economy is "that you ensure lasting individual welfare," come out and let us pull together for "our" permanent well-being. You who are anxious for the quick opening of the reserve and consequent direct traffic to Victoria West and Esquimaux, for the Carnegie library, for a more perfect and complete sewer system, for more plentiful water supply, for better summer service for more railroads and wagon roads, obtained quickly and to the best present and future interests of the people, you who have any matters of a public character to discuss, come out and let us reason together. And to you who have grown weary in well-doing, and who have, through the failure of past attempts, lost faith in yourselves and your fellow men, I would say in all kindness that if Victoria and British Columbia are to hold their own in the coming history of the Pacific coast you must either come out and help us in the same spirit and with the same tireless energy that has ever characterized the true Briton, or stand aside where you will not block the path of more hopeful and helpful men. A. J. MORLEY, Secretary Voters' League. May 30th, 1902.

WANT OF STOKERS. The undermanning in stoker ratings in the navy is notorious, and in the Mediterranean squadron recently, during full-power trials, the stoker ratings were largely augmented by deck hands. To quote actual figures, however, there was in June, 1900, a total deficiency of 700 stoker ratings in the reserves and depots, even on the admiralty attenuated basis, whilst in December this number was largely exceeded, and in addition there was a considerable shortage of artificers. When the cruisers Diana and Niobe were ordered to escort the Ophir, in order to ensure their continuous steaming, about forty-eight stokers were added to the complements of each ship, and as their normal complement is 110, this represented an increase of 43 per cent. Extra engineer officers were also appointed. When additions are made in this manner, the official explanation frequently given is that the men are lent for training purposes; but experience has shown that, for continuous high-speed steaming, these additions are absolutely necessary. The very important question, therefore, arises as to how they are to be found in time of war. Viewed merely from a commercial standpoint, under-manning results in: 1. Increased cost of maintenance and repairs. 2. Decreased efficiency of machinery. 3. Increased liability to break down. The prevailing opinion of marine engineers, as disclosed by the discussions at the various institutions, is that the existing scale of engine-room complements does not satisfy the requirements of efficiency; and that, in the event of a naval war, grave weaknesses in the engineer branch will be revealed to the admiralty and the nation.—Engineering.

HUMAN BODY AND ELECTRICITY. The body resembles nothing so much as a machine for generative electricity. Occasionally it gets out of repair and consequently fails to produce the amount of power needed to keep us alive; and it is upon this subject that Professor D'Ondard has much of interest to say. Pointing out the various static machines and queer instruments which were shown at his hospital, he explained: "It may at once be said that while there is hardly any result that cannot be explained by means of electricity and the physical forces, suitable and adapted, yet this electricity must be conveyed in doses as accurately measured as to time, quantity and intensity as the most powerful drug; its effects also vary in the most remarkable manner according to the strength, quantity and quality of the current. "It is possible by its means to increase by one-fourth the quantity of oxygen in the blood; to increase or diminish the supply of blood to any part of the organism, however deeply seated; to raise or lower the temperature; to increase or diminish the frequency and quality of the pulse and respiration; to stimulate or slacken the function of any organ; to re-charge exhausted organic cells and to make them proliferate new cells of a superior type; to cause a hundred and one other things which 50 years ago would have been looked upon as miracles, and last but not least, by its use it is possible to sustain the circulation of the blood and the respiration in cases where without such help, syncope or asphyxia would supervene. According to this last method, I have kept patients alive for days, until at length the new supply of electricity has told upon the system and snatched them from death's door." THE MOST ADVANTAGEOUS. Time to begin a commercial course, if you have in view the purpose of obtaining employment, is now. Our experience teaches us that in the spring and fall we place the greatest number of students, because at that time the business of our cities, and in fact the whole province, creates a larger demand. Remember, the volume of commerce is not stationary, but is increasing from year to year. If you want speedily to obtain a position, you should begin your course now, as we will be able to place you into a business office as soon as you are through. This is a guarantee which we can safely make, and we are not speculating on a possibility of our luck, but we are relying on the experience of past years. It only remains with you to advance yourself in the world, we are in a position to give you a start. One point more, the demand for young men is always larger than the supply, in fact we need young men very much, as we have four positions now which we are unable to fill, and if you are a young man who has a fairly good education, you cannot help but get ahead. You know how to do what has to be done in a business office in a businesslike way. Please consider that the young man of today must, in the natural course of human events, be the business man of ten years hence. The business world is like a tree, it has to take its increase from where it is planted, and the business of the province needs fresh young minds in order to grow. KINGHAM & CO. GOAL OFFICE, 34 BROAD ST., COR. TROUNCE ALLEY. Telephone 647. It follows from these considerations that the rocks which form the earth's crust over the surface of the continents and the islands, or beneath the beds of ocean, must have a lessening average year by year. These rocks must, therefore, submit to compression, either continuous or from time to time, and the necessary yielding of the rocks will in general take place in those regions where the materials of the earth's crust happen to have comparatively small powers of resistance. The acts of compression will often, and perhaps generally, be preceded with uniformity, but rather with small successive shifts, and even though the displacements of the rocks in these shifts be actually very small, yet the pressures to which the rocks are subjected are so vast that a small shift will correspond to a great terrestrial disturbance. The concert to be given by the Fifth Regiment band in aid of sufferers by the Fernie disaster will take place in the Victoria theatre next Friday night, instead of Thursday as previously announced. The date has been changed in order not to conflict with St. John's church bazaar, which is to be held on Thursday.

Police Magistrate Hall this morning came in for one of those matrimonial squabble cases that are the despair of all magistrates. Fortunately, however, of a little sparring in court, the parties came to the sensible conclusion that they had better kiss and be friends again, and finally drove off together towards their home apparently in the highest spirits.

The parties to the case were Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Tait, who own a milk ranch on Moss street. Mrs. Tait alleging desertion and a few other things. Frank Higgins appeared for the wife, and Harold Robertson for the husband.

DEATH OF A PIONEER. Peter Steele, Proprietor of Steele's Saloon, Died Last Night.

Peter Steele, one of the best known among the old-timers of Victoria, died last night in his residence on Gray street, after a long illness. He had been ill for some time past, and his death was not unexpected.

Peter Steele was a native of Quebec province, and came to Victoria in '63 and went into the retail liquor trade. He has had several saloons in the city, but during the last 20 odd years he has remained in the premises known as Steele's saloon in Bastion square, where he did a good business.

In the old days when Victoria was booming it was comparatively easy to make money, especially in the saloon business, and, unlike many of his contemporaries, Peter Steele invested the money he made instead of spending it all, and it is said that he has amassed a considerable fortune. His investments were principally in real estate.

Decceased long employed by Peter Steele, jr., who has been employed for some time past as bar-tender at Wilson's hotel, and by whom it is thought, the Bastion square business will be carried on in the future.

The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon.

IN THE LEGISLATURE. Mr. Martin Will Move Adjournment of House to Discuss Government Appointment.

In the House this afternoon Mr. Gillmore denied a report in the Colonist that he had compared trades unions to anarchists. He had made no such statement.

Mr. Martin asked if a press report that Mr. J. N. Hewitt, of Port Steele, had been employed by the provincial government to represent the government in the inquiry into the Fernie disaster was correct.

The Attorney-General replied that the government had been urged to be represented, and he had asked the Chief Commissioner, who had recommended Mr. Hewitt, who was the only lawyer in the vicinity, and he believed was a competent man.

Mr. Martin expressed his indignation that the government should employ a man into whose conduct Mr. Bullock had already expressed grave charges had been made.

Mr. Christie drew the attention of the government to the fact that the law in regard to inspection of boilers was working out most unsatisfactorily.

Mr. Martin then moved the adjournment of the House to discuss the report of the government in employing Mr. Howie when serious charges against him were being investigated.

This was done in threatening tones, Mr. McBride observing "Are you really mad?"

The speaker said the motion was not in order until questions had been answered, and Mr. Martin said he would move the motion then.

PASTOR GIVEN A FAREWELL SOCIAL

CONGREGATION BIDS REV. HASTINGS GOOD-BYE

Large Gathering in Emmanuel Baptist Church Last Evening When Preacher Received Address.

Rev. J. G. Hastings left last evening for Southern Manitoba where, after a brief rest, he will enter into business. Rev. Mr. Hastings has been pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church for three years, and his congregation, as well as many outside friends he has made while in Victoria, gathered together last evening to bid farewell.

The last address of the preacher's flock was said in the church room, the affair taking the form of a social service. It was opened by the singing of the hymn, "Oh God, Our Help in Ages Past." The Rev. Mr. Hastings then spoke in part as follows:

You will receive my closing words as an admonition to those who go and to those who remain. There never was a time in the whole world more than at this age that this admonition was more needed. "Stand fast in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free." It is the easiest thing in the world to drift and no effort is required in simply casting away from the moorings. To secure a good anchorage is to stand fast. We read about our Canadian soldiers who stood fast in their post of duty and died there until only a few were left. These soldiers understood what it meant to stand fast.

The Lord Jesus Christ said, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." Mr. Hastings then offered a short prayer, after which he told the congregation that he laid down the trust which had been given to him, and though he knew that in their hearts he was still their pastor, he was now only nominally so.

Mr. Marchant on taking the chair took the opportunity of saying a few words. He said that he had forgotten to name known on Sunday the kindly gift of a number of books to the Sunday school by the pastor, and he was sure they would all appreciate this most heartily.

The Sunday school would also lose a most faithful usher, as Charlie Hastings had filled the post of usher for a long period. At this point the speaker laid stress on the importance of the members of the church taking more interest in the Sunday school work. He went on to say that this was an occasion when he could not make merry, but still he asked why should we be always serious? The good-bye has in it joy as well as sorrow. We cannot help saying we are sorry, but still we ought to feel glad for him who is going away and be able to say "God speed the parting guest." The way God leads is not a way that some would wish, but if it be God's will we should we not with bowed heads say "God speed the parting guest." One of the world's watch with keen interest the future paths into which God called their pastor. On the part of the church and congregation, he thanked God for the faithful ministry performed and the way in which the truth had been earnestly and faithfully preached.

Mr. Marchant then gave an opportunity to those who would like to speak. Mr. Campbell, referring to the closing words of the pastor, recommended standing fast and to keeping on the good work that had been begun.

Rev. Mr. Fraser spoke. He said it was the first time he had spoken in the Baptist church, and he was delighted with the closing words of the pastor. This was a time when that warning was most needed, when people are drifting away from the church and Sunday school up in Tangana, and to the park to hear "The Good-bye" to the pastor was going away, and the congregation was losing one of the most faithful, humble and sincere servants of the Master. He might not be a popular minister, but he did not breach for popularity. The crowds did not want the truth preached. They wanted to hear about some political question. A man who preaches nothing but the truth was never popular. They wanted to kill Jesus when he was here on earth.

The next speaker was Mr. Hailes. He said he knew of Mr. Hastings before he came out here. God would bless him wherever he called him to speak in the Baptist church, and he was delighted with the closing words of the pastor. This was a time when that warning was most needed, when people are drifting away from the church and Sunday school up in Tangana, and to the park to hear "The Good-bye" to the pastor was going away, and the congregation was losing one of the most faithful, humble and sincere servants of the Master. He might not be a popular minister, but he did not breach for popularity. The crowds did not want the truth preached. They wanted to hear about some political question. A man who preaches nothing but the truth was never popular. They wanted to kill Jesus when he was here on earth.

Rev. Mr. Vincent next took the opportunity of saying a few farewell words to the pastor and his family. He thought all this must be rather painful for the pastor. He had not had the opportunity of saying good-bye to Mr. Hastings, but now wished all the good things that had been said this night about him and been freely and frequently said when he was not listening. There would be a severe loss felt in the Baptist convention. Mr. Hastings had faithfully given his assistance and service in this work. Any work he undertook he faithfully performed. He remembered when he first came to Victoria Mr. Hastings gave him a glad reception. He hoped the Divine blessing may rest on the departing one wherever he went, and that he might be enabled to take up the preaching of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

A. J. Pineo then presented the following address, together with a well filled purse.

Dear Pastor:—After three years of fellowship as pastor and people, the time has come for us to separate. To-night we have assembled to say the final good-bye and bid you and your family Godspeed as you leave for new scenes and new activities. That this occasion has in it much of sadness does not need to be said. During the three years of your faithful, earnest ministrations among us you have won our high esteem and unbounded respect, and though our paths now divide, it may be never to cross again of earth, we trust that you will ever feel that your circle of sincere friends during your residence among us extends to more than the membership of our church and congregation. For it is the general testimony of these individual members that they have been greatly helped, strengthened and uplifted under your earnest, faithful preaching, while your devoted ministrations in the homes visited by sickening death, have been the means of bringing much comfort and consolation to sorrowing and afflicted ones. We cannot, therefore, but regret the necessity for this separation. None can deplore more deeply than ourselves the financial inadequacy of our church, which has practically made it impossible for you to remain as our pastor, but having done what was in our power, we are compelled to accept the inevitable with whatever loss it may mean to us. But permit us to assure you that, as you go from us to your new field of labor, you carry with you our sincerest wishes for your material prosperity, and the earnest hope that you may find in the new work and new conditions to which you go, not only abundant satisfaction, but that recuperation of health which you so much need. We also wish to convey to Mrs. Hastings our kindest expression of appreciation and good wishes. We want to remember her genial presence and regret her departure. May the richer blessing of the Eternal Father attend you both through all your future years, which we hope may be many. In conclusion we ask you to kindly accept, as a fitting token of our esteem, this small gift. May it prove of service, and may there be associated with the recollection of it only pleasant memories of your pastorate in connection with Emmanuel church.

On behalf of said church, A. J. PINEO. Victoria, B. C., May 29.

Mr. Hastings responded as follows: "Mr. Chairman, Mr. Marchant, and friends, I have heard to-night what I did not know before, and I am somewhat slow to believe. I do not believe one half of what has been said about me or about my ministry. I am just a plain, honest, nervous, ordinary man. If there is anything of God's blessing in it to see the development of our lives in Jesus Christ. When I see that I will be satisfied. I have not labored in vain. I love to make friends. God has blessed me with as many friends as the majority. It is utterly impossible for a man to labor for three years among you, and say things that will not give offense. I have not sought to say smooth things nor pleasant things, only the truth in Jesus Christ, and if I have done anything that has wounded any one of you it has been with the purest and highest motives. I sincerely think you will put all thoughts of offense away with the thought that I have been laboring for your good. There is no need of saying good-bye. I am only going a little distance. I cannot lay the harness down while God has the reins. God has put me in this work and He is going to keep me in it. I want to God I had been able to do more for you than I have done. Let us stand fast in the liberty wherewith Christ has made us free. I do not know that I have to thank you for this gift. It does not appear to me of the affection. Brethren and sisters, I will meet you again, and I will be glad to see you. I have been privileged more than this you have given me. God will bless you if you stand fast in your duty. Give to him who comes to you as your pastor your sympathy and some of the nice things while he labors with you."

After the singing of the hymn, "God be with you till we meet again," these present spent the remainder of the evening in a social manner, many taking advantage of the opportunity to say farewell individually. Refreshments were served by the ladies.

The Rev. P. H. McEwen, as previously announced, will take charge of the church until a permanent appointment has been made.

REUNION MEETING. General Committee Held Largely Attended Session Last Evening.

Last evening in the Pioneer hall, commencing at 8 p. m., a meeting of the general committee having in hand the arrangements for Societies' Reunion Day, which takes place on June 27th, was held. It was moved directly after the calling of the meeting to order. "That the committee as a whole do adjourn to the city hall to attend the public meeting called by the Mayor for the purpose of planning some means of celebrating with fitting ceremony His Majesty King Edward's Coronation Day." This was carried unanimously and immediately adjourned.

On the resumption of business after the adjournment of the meeting held in the city hall the sports committee's report was considered and adopted, while the grounds committee's report was referred back for some more details. The intention of Dominion lodge to withdraw from the celebration committee was announced and Bros. Hanna and Kettle reported themselves as delegates representing Royal Arcanum and Dauntless lodge, C. O. F., respectively.

AGRICULTURAL

THE TIME TO CUT HAY.

The aim of our farmers in growing forage crops is to produce from a given area as large a quantity as possible of the digestible nutrients in a palatable form. The time at which a forage crop is harvested may affect the crop in three ways, viz., in the quantity of material harvested, in the composition of the crop and in the palatability of the fodder. As a general rule it has been found that the greatest amount of dry matter is secured when forage crops are allowed to fully mature and ripen. The only exception to this is in the case of clover and other legumes, where the best results are obtained if they are cut before or during the process of cutting.

It does not follow that when a plant increases in the yield of dry matter that its nutritive value has proportionately increased. It is quite possible that changes in texture and composition of the dry substance may offset the greater yield. The dry matter of mature grass contains a large proportion of crude fibre than the immature. The plant hardens in texture and loses in both palatability and digestibility. It is, therefore, usually advisable to begin cutting hay early, and where there is a large crop to be gathered work should begin early in order that it be completed before the grass seeds are ripe enough to shell from the heads of the late-cut grass. Chemical analysis has shown that plants are richer in protein in the earlier stages of growth than when full grown or nearly mature. The chief difficulty with which our feeders have to contend is the lack of protein in the various made up of our common feeding stuffs, and they should recognize the fact that by cutting early they can get two crops of highly nutritious fodder, where they only get one by late cutting. Cutting the first crop even before the heads are fully grown, will tend to cause a vigorous new growth, and in this way a good crop of mown is secured.

The two crops are more valuable, especially for feeding dairy cows, than one mature crop, on account of the increased proportion of protein. The early cut hay seems more palatable to stock, and weighs for weight more dry matter. On the other hand, by late cutting we secure considerably larger quantity of carbohydrates, which are valuable for feeding, and of crude fibre which is of low feeding value.

For the dairy cows and sheep, grass should be cut early, since these animals do not relish hay that is woody and lacking in aroma, as is the case with late cut hay. For horses and fattening cattle, later cutting is advisable, as these animals subsist mostly on concentrated feed, and hay serves more for "filling," as horsemen say. In tests made by Professors Sanborn and Henry in fattening steers with early and late cut hay, it was found that late cut hay gave the best results. If cutting is delayed too long the stems of the grass become tough and stringy, and the seeds scatter from the heads. Such hay has little aroma and lacks palatability if not nutritious. Though an indigestible quantity, the aroma of grass has real value in rendering hay more palatable. When the sun dissipates the late cut hay, the escaping aroma, because the dew is rising carries some of it into the air. This is one reason why hay should not remain scattered over the field at night. Green colored, sweet smelling hay is really the best, and green hay is the best for stock, such as sheep, and also for preserving the aroma and preventing moulding.

P. W. HUDSON, Live Stock Commissioner.

QUARANTINE OFFICER.

Dr. Arthur G. Hopkins has recently been appointed to represent the veterinary branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture in Great Britain, with headquarters at Glasgow. His official designation will be "Veterinary Quarantine Officer for Canada," and he will assume the duties of his office last season. Dr. J. G. Rutherford, now chief veterinary adviser to the department of agriculture, Dr. Hopkins, while still a young man, has had a wide experience, not only as a practical veterinarian, but also in the varied duties of lecturer, author and editor. He was graduated from Toronto Veterinary College in 1891 with the degree of B. Sc., and from the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, in 1892, with the degree of B. Agr., from the veterinary department of the Iowa State College, and of M.D.V. (post grad.) from McTear College, Chicago.

For several years Dr. Hopkins practiced his profession in Manitoba, and was at a later date appointed instructor in animal husbandry at the Agricultural College, University of Wisconsin. This position he resigned to become associate editor of the Farmers' Advocate, Winnipeg, Man., with which paper he remained until called to his present duties. Dr. Hopkins is also the author of "Veterinary Elements," a manual for farmers and agricultural students, which has been recognized as a text book of great value to every man who has stock under his care. Dr. Hopkins leaves immediately for Great Britain in order to be prepared for this season's importations of live stock. His address until the close of navigation on the St. Lawrence will be 52 St. Enoch Square, Glasgow, Scotland. The certificates issued by him will be accepted by the United States authorities in the same way as were those issued by Dr. Rutherford last season.

SPORTING

BASEBALL.

LADIES' DAY TO-MORROW.
To-morrow will be the first "Ladies' Day" of the season at the local ball grounds, and it is to be hoped that a large crowd of the fair sex will be on hand to cheer for the home team in their struggle with the Port Townsend aggregation of ball tossers. The Victoria's will present a slightly different appearance on the field to-morrow in several different ways, both in the lineup of the team and in the way of uniforms. Brown caps, stockings, and "Victoria" in brown letters across the chest fronts of the players' jerseys, will be the changes in the uniforms, and in general improvement over the old combination of colors.

The make-up of the team will not be decided until this evening, but it is safe to say that it will be materially different from that which has taken the field in the games already played.

The Port Townsend Colts will be over on the morning Sound boat. They are a strong team, and no mistake about it. Their battery is a good one, and of the old team only four men are on the present team.

The stationing of a company of United States artillery at Townsend, most of the members of which are good ball players, gives Townsend an opportunity to strengthen their team, which they were not doing in taking advantage of Jones, the catcher, and Fay, the pitcher, as well as two or three other players on the team, are men whose names are on the Coast Artillery, United States Army.

Should the weather prove favorable, there will be no doubt but a large and smart crowd on the occasion of the "Ladies' Day" of the present season.

The idea will be the guests of the club, no charge for admission being made either at the gate or grand stand.

The game will be called at 3 p. m. in the South, will handle the indicator. Tickets will be on sale at the usual places.

YACHTING.

THE NEW CHALLENGER.

London, May 29.—William Pitt and George J. Watson have collaborated on the plans for a new challenger for the America cup, which will be held by the Duncans at Dunbarton, Scotland. Capt. Robert Wingo, who, with Capt. Hogarth, was on board Shamrock I. in her series of races for the cup, will be in supreme command of the new yacht. All the plans are now completed, and arrangements have been made for closing the building contract. The new yacht will be constructed under the shed beneath which Shamrock I. was built.

CRICKET.

WON BY OFFICERS.

A match between the gun room officers and men of H. M. S. Grafton was played at the Canton grounds yesterday afternoon, resulting in a victory for the officers by 35 runs. The scores were: gun room, 91; men, 60. Lieut. Woodward distinguished himself by his fine bowling.

THE RIFLE.

WON BY SHEARWATER.

A match at Clover Point between teams from H. M. S. Grafton and Shearwater was won by the latter yesterday by eighteen points.

FROM SEA TO SEA.

"The vast extent of Canada and its boundless possibilities is, perhaps, not fully realized by the Canadian himself. 'A man must needs travel the land, from north to south and from east to west, to obtain a correct idea of its capacity or its immensity. It contains within its boundaries 3,453,383 square miles, one and a quarter million of which are covered with forest growth. For three thousand miles, from St. Johns to Queen Charlotte Islands stretches an unbroken blur of British red; two thousand miles of the same colour cover Prince William to the north of Baffin's Land; sixteen hundred miles of British territory between Fort Macleod and Bank's Land, and for three hundred miles north of these northern boundaries the Arctic Sea is blotched with crimson splashes—Prince Patrick's Island, Bathurst, Grinnell's Land, North Devon, and further still, stretching away fourteen hundred and eight-seventy miles toward the pole—North Lincoln, Teary, this young giant of the north has ample room for growth."

FOR PRACTICE.

"The idea that cats out-of-cruelty play with a mouse before killing is a mistake," says a cat-fancier. "Notice what happens when a cat catches a sparrow. The bird is not played with, but slain at once. If the cat tried any game with it, the sparrow, though wounded, could easily fly out of reach. A mouse cannot escape in that way, so the cat practices upon the unfortunate animal a variety of experiments, in order to keep its paws as a hunter up to the mark. That is why it gives the mouse chances of getting away, and the harder the task he sets himself the more will his skill be improved. If he did not take such lessons, he would soon become a second-rate mouse."

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

By the time he was 16, Guglielmo Marconi had modeled various instruments which were undoubted evidences of his latent genius. They showed an insight into mechanical problems far beyond his years, and were of sufficient promise to be worthy of the encouragement of his friends. It was not until he was 24, however, that his great life began directing its energies toward the problems of some interested in the work of Professor Heinrich Hertz, a German scientist, who, in attempting to discover the nature of electricity, accidentally produced electric, or electromagnetic waves, and detected their presence in the ether by means of a wire loop so broken that the electricity sparkled across the gap. No one, not even Hertz himself, realized the tremendous importance of his discovery. Men like Prof. Lodge, Lord Kelvin, Sir William Preece, Popoff and others prominent in electrical science, talked about Hertz's work, and some of them reproduced his experiments, but it remained for this young Italian to jump across the gap of years of scientific study and make practical the most important discovery since Faraday invented the induction coil. When one remembers that the dynamo, electric lights, the telegraph, and the telephone, the significance of the discovery is almost overwhelming. Hertz's work was the beginning of wireless telegraphy. No one knows that better than Marconi himself. He does not wish the credit of originality in this matter, but he deserves all the credit and praise the world can bestow upon one who has made a theory practical by conquering unexpected difficulties by unflinching perseverance. Marconi read the work of Hertz early in 1894, when he was barely 20 years of age. How the thought came to him that there was a principle which could be applied to communication over great distances, no one will know. Looking back on it, in the light of what has since been thought, seems almost natural—even absurdly simple. Hertz detected a spark in a broken loop, a few feet away from the flash of an induction coil. Why didn't he get a better detector than a broken loop, and a better transmitter than a small induction coil, and send out the flashes in such a manner that the detector would record a message? Why, indeed? Perhaps, if Hertz had lived, he might have thought of the possibilities of his discovery. But in the few months of his life which followed his greatest experiment, the important thought did not come to him. Herein, it seems to me, lies the distinction—that subtle distinction which is all-important between a great man and a genius. The former, by a long struggle, almost gains the height of the latter leaps to it, by the aid of the spark, divine or superhuman, which his brain possesses. Why didn't Professor Lodge, or Lord Kelvin, or Sir Wm. Preece, or any one of a hundred of the other great scientists of the time, think of utilizing Hertz's discovery? Marconi, himself, when the thought occurred to him, believed that the idea must have come or would soon come to one of these. To him they were unnamable; he was not acquainted with the scientists. He was not an electrician, he had no hold on academic or scientific degree which testified to his having satisfactorily completed any college course. It seemed preposterous to try. He waited almost a year, all the time turning the matter over in his mind—all the time watching for the announcement of a system of wireless telegraphy by Hertzian waves, but none came. The young man became impatient; and, more because of the genius-burning within him for outward expression, perhaps, than that he might outstrip others, he began to experiment. This was in December, 1894.—Herbert Wallace, in Success.

Provincial News.

KALHOOPS. Robert Bruce, another of Cariboo's pioneers, passed away at the Provincial Home on Monday night after a brief illness. He was admitted to the home in 1895, coming from Savona, where he had lived and mined in Cariboo. He was born at Leith, Scotland, 70 years ago.

FLAGS. The flag was hoisted at half-mast on the works of the New Vancouver Coal Company and elsewhere in the city yesterday, out of respect to the memory of John Rosenfelds, who died at New York on his way from Europe. He was a large shareholder in the New Vancouver Coal Company, and for many years his home has been San Francisco, where his company's coal. Many times he has visited this city on business, and was a personal friend of Superintendent Robinson.

HOSSELAND. The cage of the Nettle Plate mine ran away yesterday afternoon just as the crew was coming off shift. Seven men were on the cage, and all but one were injured. The men were at the 600-foot level and dropped from there to the 800-foot level. James Pearson, James Williamson and R. M. Croft are badly hurt, and may not survive. J. Gould had his left arm broken, while Napoleon E. Amara and Frank Andre received internal injuries. Stanley Sillier was slightly injured and was able to walk away after the accident.

WEDDING. A quiet wedding was celebrated on Monday afternoon at the residence of J. T. Reed, when John Dublin was united in marriage to Miss Lena Jacobsen, Rev. A. M. Sanford, B.A., participating.

NEW WESTMINSTER. Richard Bailey Lister, who died on Wednesday, was 40 years of age, and a native of Yorkshire, and he came to this city in 1884, accompanying his parents. Of naturally fine physique, he became a valued forward of the local football team, and was captain of that organization for several seasons. He then entered the service of the provincial police as a guard at the provincial jail for a year, and was then given an outside post, as assistant to Chief Constable Bullock-Watson, whom he succeeded upon that gentleman's proceeding to the Yukon. He had also previously been constable and revenue tax collector on Thurlow Island for a year.

DEATH. The death occurred on Tuesday of William Bleuch, aged 31 years, and a native of Ontario. Deceased was a patient of the provincial hospital for the insane, but the immediate cause of death was measles.

VANCOUVER. In response to the call of His Worship the Mayor for a public meeting, the city council chamber was filled on Wednesday evening. The matter discussed was the celebration of Canada's natal day and His Majesty's coronation. A strong committee was formed that has had ample experience in all kinds of public functions.

STEAMER. Steamer Cassiar brings word of serious forest fires along the British Columbia coast. They saw the fires making much headway, and fear that several lumber camps will be burnt out.

W. B. MORRIS. W. B. Morris, C. E., is here to take charge of the construction of the Vancouver Powder Company, who are to commence at once on the big undertaking, which involves the driving of a tunnel through a mountain of rock for two miles to join lakes Beautiful and Coquitlam.

AT THE ASSIZES. At the assizes yesterday, Rex vs. Sakaghi came up for trial. The evidence of the crown went to show that the prisoner, when drunk, went into the house of a man named Take, at Port Essington. Words ensued, and Take attempted to put the prisoner out, who was stabbed the Sakaghi. The defence says the man Take attempted to gouge out his eye, and he stabbed in an attempt to get away. The jury returned a verdict of stabbing with intent. Judgment was reserved. The case of Rex vs. Gillespie took up all the afternoon. The evidence is all in, and counsel will address the jury to-day. Gillespie is accused of forging the name of Graves, provincial manager of the Woodmans of the World, in an attempt to get an insurance risk for that order.

SETTLER'S RIGHTS. To the Editor:—Will you allow me through the columns of your paper to thank those members of the legislature who stood up for the rights of settlers, and who have done so often and long been fighting to obtain? Do you not think it is hard that I should be forced to do without my just rights for over twenty-six years? Nothing will satisfy me but a clear title to the land where I have made my home. When I settled I expected my rights would be protected, and that the land was not to be exempt from settlement except from speculators.

By decision of the Supreme court of British Columbia all settlers who were on their lands prior to the 12th of May, 1882, are entitled to surface timber, coal, oil, gold, silver, and all minerals thereon, heretofore and hereafter. (Page 92 of Hogan appeal case).

W. M. JACK. Wellington, B. C. Store open until 11 o'clock Saturday night at the Mammoth Bankrupt Nothing Sale, 111 Government St.

At Wallerwick, Suffolk, a bride of seventy-five has been wedded to a bridegroom of similar age. A grandson of the lady effected his betrothal, which he grand daughter acted as bridesmaid. The wedding presents numbered thirteen.

SAILED FOR SOUTH AFRICA.

Last Section of Mounted Rifles Embarked Last Friday. All the 4th Canadian Mounted Rifles are now en route to South Africa, the last section, which included the Victoria troops, having left on Friday last. In another letter to Capt. Royds, written at Halifax on the 22nd, Serjt. C. L. Royds said they would embark on the Corinthian at 7 o'clock the following morning. He had been transferred to 1st troop, and was senior sergeant of the squadron. They had lots to do every day, in fact they were kept going from 5.30 a. m. to 10.30 p. m. The writer was feeling much better when the letter was written, being none the worse for the slight touch of pneumonia mentioned in a brief note received yesterday. Mrs. McTavish has received a picture from her grandson, Lieut. Bert Vernon, written just before the ship sailed. It was dated on board the Corinthian, Friday last, so the vessel is now ploughing her way across the Atlantic. Lieutenant Vernon says all the Victoria men are in good health.

SUNDAY'S CONCERT.

Excellent Programme Prepared For Goldstream—Several Trips Outward. The Fifth Regiment band has prepared an excellent programme for its concert at Goldstream park on Sunday. Trains will leave at 9 and 10.30 a. m., at 2 and 4.25 p. m., and returning leave Goldstream at 9 and 7.40 p. m. These concerts last year were of the most enjoyable character, and guaranteed a continuation of the present fine weather Sunday's should prove no exception to the rule. Women In The Home. Incessant Work, Worry and Cares Tell Severely on the Nervous System.

Paine's Celery Compound WOMAN'S SYSTEM BUILDER AND HEALTH GIVER.

Incessant work, worry and household cares will, in time, weaken and wreck the nervous system of the strongest woman. Perhaps the commonest symptom and warning of disease with women is headache with sharp and piercing pains in some cases the pain may be dull and heavy. Recurring headache frequently arises from loss of sleep, fatigue, disordered digestion, sluggish blood, irritability or despondency. Frequently a sluggish liver and inactive kidneys will produce agonizing headaches.

Paine's Celery Compound should be used without delay to fortify the weakened and inflamed nerves, to create a healthy action of the liver and kidneys, to free the system from morbid waste materials. The use of Paine's Celery Compound will quickly purify the blood, induce refreshing sleep, good digestion and mental activity. Headaches, dizziness, Paine's Celery Compound will restore life and sparkle to the eyes, it will clear the complexion, and give a rosy and sick women that full health which makes them happy and lovable.

AN ESPECIALLY FINE NUMBER. There are some striking features in the June Canadian Magazine. Mr. L. O. David, of Montreal, a personal friend of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, writes a charming sketch of his life, showing his struggles, his ambitions and his accomplishments. Capt. Carstairs writes of Nigeria, under the title "What Britain is Doing in West Africa." Mrs. Sarah Tooley, the noted English author, contributes a sketch of King Edward VII. and Queen Alexandra. These three articles are profusely illustrated. John C. Brown, a British Columbian legislator, suggests an amendment to the Canadian Constitution. A Canadian resident in the United States writes a sketch entitled "The Anims of '76'." Robert C. Dunbar, under the heading "Perils of Eloquence," describes the dangers through which every public speaker runs before the newspaper report appears. In addition, there are the usual poems, stories and departments. This number is an excellent one and a creditable Canadian enterprise.

DOMINION OF CANADA SYNOPSIS OF REGULATIONS For Disposal of Minerals on Dominion Lands in Manitoba, the Northwest Territories, and the Yukon Territory.

GOAL. Goal lands may be purchased at $10.00 per acre for soft coal, and $20.00 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at such rate as may from time to time be specified by Order in Council shall be collected on the gross output. QUARTZ. Persons of eighteen years and over and joint stock companies holding Free Miner's Certificates may obtain entry for a mining location. A Free Miner's Certificate is granted for one or more years, not exceeding five, upon payment in advance of $10.00 per annum for an individual, and from $50.00 to $100.00 per annum for a company, according to capital.

A Free Miner having discovered mineral in place may locate a claim 1,500x1,500 feet by marking out the same with two legal posts, bearing location notices, one at each end and on the line of the lode or vein. The claim shall be recorded within fifteen days if located within the limits of a Mining Recorder's Office, one additional day allowed for every additional ten miles of location. The fee for recording a claim is $5.00. At least $100.00 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the Mining Recorder in lieu thereof. When $500.00 has been expended or paid the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1.00 an acre.

Permitted mining may be granted by the Minister of the Interior to locate claims containing iron and mica, also copper, in the Yukon Territory, of an area not exceeding 100 acres. The extent for a mining location shall provide for the payment of royalty on the sales not exceeding five per cent. PLACER MINING IN MANITOBA AND THE N. W. T., EXCEPTING THE YUKON TERRITORY. Placer mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5.00, renewable yearly. The rights of the locator in such claims are either bar or bench, the former being 100 feet long and extending between high and low water marks. The latter includes bar diggings, but extends back to the base of the hill or bank, but not exceeding 100 feet. Where stream power is used, claims 200 feet wide may be obtained. DREDGING IN THE RIVERS OF MANITOBA AND THE N. W. T., EXCEPTING THE YUKON TERRITORY. A Free Miner may obtain only two leases of five miles each for a term of twenty years or four miles in the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee's right is confined to the submerged bed or bars of the river below low water mark and extending between high and low water marks. The lessee may, however, dig for and remove any mineral beneath the submerged bed or bars in the river below low water mark, that boundary to be fixed by its position on the 1st day of August in the year of the date of the issue. The lessee shall have one dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles, but where a person or company has obtained a lease of one lease one dredge for each five miles, or fraction is sufficient. Rental $10.00 per annum for each five miles, plus one-half per cent. collected on the output after it exceeds $150,000.00. DREDGING IN THE YUKON TERRITORY. Six leases of five miles each may be granted to a free miner for a term of twenty years, also renewable.

The lessee's right is confined to the submerged bed or bars in the river below low water mark, that boundary to be fixed by its position on the 1st day of August in the year of the date of the issue. The lessee shall have one dredge in operation within two years from the date of the lease, and one dredge for each five miles within six years from such date. Rental, $10.00 per mile for first year, and $10.00 per mile for each subsequent year, plus one-half per cent. on the output in excess of $150,000.00. PLACER MINING IN THE YUKON TERRITORY. Creek, Gulch, River and Hill Claims shall not exceed 200 feet in length, measured on the base line or general direction of the creek or gulch, the width being not less than 2,000 feet. All other Placer Claims shall be 200 feet square.

Claims are marked by two legal posts, one at each end bearing notices. Entry must be obtained within ten days if the claim is within ten miles of Mining Recorder's office. One extra day allowed for each additional ten miles of location. The person or company staking a claim, and each person in his or its employment, except house servants, must hold a Free Miner's Certificate. The discoverer of a new mine is entitled to a claim 1,000 feet in length, and if the party consists of two, 1,500 feet altogether, and the output of which no royalty is charged, the cost of the party ordinary claims only. Entry fee $15.00. Royalty at the rate of five per cent. charged on the gross output of the claim, with the exception of an annual exemption of $5,000.00.

No Free Miner shall receive a grant of more than one mining claim on each separate river, creek or gulch, and no person or company may hold any number of claims by purchase, and Free Miners, not exceeding ten, may hold claims by purchase, but no partnership, by filing notice and paying fee of $20.00. A claim may be abandoned and another obtained on the same creek, gulch or river, by giving notice, and paying a fee. Work must be done on a claim each year to the value of at least $200.00, or in lieu of work payment may be made to the Mining Recorder each year for the first three years of $200.00 and after that $400.00 for each year. A certificate that work has been done or fee paid must be obtained each year; if not the claim shall be deemed to be abandoned, and open to occupation and entry by a Free Miner. The boundaries of a claim may be defined absolutely by having a survey made, and publishing notices in the Yukon Official Gazette.

HYDRAULIC MINING, YUKON TERRITORY. Locations suitable for hydraulic mining, by a franchise of from one to five miles, and a depth of one mile or more, may be leased for twenty years, provided the ground has been prospectively by the applicant or his agent; is found to be suitable for placer mining; and does not include within its boundaries any mining claims already granted. A rental of $150.00 for each mile of frontage, and a royalty of five per cent. on the gross output, less an annual exemption of $25,000.00, are charged. Operations must be commenced within one year from the date of the lease, and not less than $5,000.00 must be expended annually. The lessee excludes all base metals, quartz and coal, and provides for the withdrawal of unoperated land for agricultural or building purposes.

HYDRAULIC MINING, YUKON TERRITORY. All unappropriated Dominion Lands shall, after the 1st of July, 1902, be open to prospecting for petroleum. Any person or company who discovers oil or gas in paying quantities may acquire 640 acres of available land, including any surrounding lands, by discovery at the rate of $1.00 an acre, subject to royalty at such rate as may be specified by Order in Council. JAMES A. SMYTH, Deputy of the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, 10th Dec., 1901.

INTERNATIONAL POLO.
American Team Which Will Meet English Players To-Morrow.

(Associated Press.)
London, May 29.—Foxhall Keene, the captain, today definitely settled the English team which is to oppose the American polo team which is to be played for the international cup. The players are: R. L. Agassiz, J. E. Cowdin, Foxhall Keene and I. Waterbury.
The personnel of the English team, as decided upon by the Hurlingham committee, May 24th, is as follows: C. F. Nickalls, Potters, W. Nickalls, Walter H. Buckmaster, captain, and Charles D. Miller.
The betting strongly favors the English team.

KING EDWARD'S BIRTHDAY
Was Celebrated in the United Kingdom Today—New Colors for Irish Guards.

(Associated Press.)
London, May 29.—The birthday of King Edward, who was born November 9th, 1841, was celebrated today, it having been decided, as announced in the official Gazette, April 10th, that His Majesty's birthday was to be celebrated in London and on the home stations on May 29th, being the most suitable time for a military display. On the other hand, military parades will celebrate it, November 9th, the actual anniversary of His Majesty's birth.
General interest in the celebration was apparently not seriously diminished by the series of events surrounding the coronation. The towns throughout the Kingdom were fully decorated and held up today.
Today was observed at all the home military and naval headquarters, with parades and salutes. The chief celebration of the day was the ceremony of "draping the colors" on the Horse Guards parade, and the presentation of colors to the new Irish Guards. The colors were draped with crimson cloth, were erected on three sides of the parade grounds and were seen by thousands of privileged spectators, including the United States ambassador, Joseph Choate, and Mrs. Choate and the Secretary of the United States embassy, Henry White. The standards of other people were grouped closely around the base of the colors. The troops taking part in the ceremony were battalions of the Irish Guards, Scots Guards, and detachments of the Life Guards.
The military cheering ceased the appearance of the King and his brilliant escort, which included many nobilities. His Majesty, who rode between the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Connaught, wore the uniform of colonel of the Irish Guards. Lord Roberts, the commander-in-chief of the forces, who led the procession, also wore the uniform of colonel of the Irish Guards.
Queen Alexandra and other members of the royal family viewed the scene from the windows of the Horse Guards.
The crowds present bared their heads while His Majesty proceeded to the saluting point. After an inspection of the line of troops and the presentation of the colors, the ceremony ended with a review of all the troops on the ground.
The King, during the afternoon, presented colors to the King's company of the Grenadier Guards.
The weather was wet and raining.

MURDERS BY FILIPINOS.
One Native Killed Soldier Because He Had Vaccinated Him.

Washington, May 28.—The Philippine mails today brought to the war department the records of a number of interesting court martial cases in the Philippines. Private Charles L. Leonard, Company C, Sixth Infantry, was assisting an enlisted man of the hospital corps in vaccinating the native inhabitants of Bacang. Among the natives vaccinated was one named Almin, who at first was reluctant to have the operation performed, but who later submitted to it with seeming willingness. He then complained the two soldiers on their rounds, apparently friendly, and much interested in their work. But on leaving the house of a person whom he had just vaccinated Private Leonard was waylaid outside the door by Almin, who struck him on the head with a brick, inflicting a mortal wound. Almin rebuked the crime and said that he murdered Leonard because he had vaccinated him. Gen. Chaffee approved the sentence of death imposed by a court martial.
Basilio Leynes, a native, stabbed to death another native named Diocampo while the latter was seated at breakfast in the public market at Hagan Batangas. The only motive for the crime appeared to be the fact that Diocampo was in the employ of the United States. Leynes was sentenced to hang.
Nicolas Espada, a native, surrendered and took the oath of allegiance to the United States. He was given his liberty, returned to the mountains and resumed his calling as an insurgent chief and later was captured with arms in his hands and directing his followers in firing upon United States forces. A military commission sentenced him to hang and Gen. Chaffee, while declaring that the sentence was fully justified by the laws of war, commuted the sentence to ten years' imprisonment at hard labor, on the recommendation of the brigade and department commanders.

COVERED WITH ASHES.

(Associated Press.)
New Orleans, May 29.—The British steamer Lombard, of the West India line, which left here from Trinidad and Colon, passed through the storm of ashes precipitated by Mount Pelee, being covered several inches deep with them. The atmosphere was so thick with clouds and haze that it seemed as if night had set in. Capt. Edwards took observations and found that he was about 19 miles from Martinique.

THE KAISER LED GUARDS.

(Associated Press.)
Berlin, May 29.—The annual spring festival of the garrison of the Berlin military district was held to-day. The weather was superb. The Shah of Persia was present in an open carriage drawn by four horses, and the Crown Prince of Siam attended on horseback. Emperor William led the second regiment of the Guards past the Shah, who acknowledged the compliment by standing up in his carriage.

THE FORD TRAGEDY.

Report That Author Was Given One Week in Which to Write Novel.

New York, May 29.—In connection with the Ford tragedy which occurred recently in this city, a story hitherto unpublished is in circulation regarding the cause of the shooting which cost the lives of the author, Paul Lester Ford, and his brother, Malcolm, the famous athlete.
It is to the effect that Malcolm, who was not provided for in his father's will, notified Paul a week before the shooting that he must have $25,000, which he claimed was his due because he signed a waiver relinquishing the proceeds of the will to his father. Paul had declared he would not give the money, and to have become much incensed when Paul replied that he did not have the sum on hand, adding that he should consult other members of the family. Malcolm is said to have replied that one of the heirs had left the agreement, but that he would not consult the others, with the declaration that he would return a week hence for the money, failing to receive it, he should resort to desperate means.

FOUR DROWNED.

By the Capsizing of a Row-Boat in the Columbia River.

Portland, May 29.—Word reached here today that four people were drowned last night by the capsizing of a row boat in the Columbia river near Martin's Bluff, twelve miles above Lullwater. The drowned are Herbert Martin, aged 24; Lily Martin, aged 16; Lily Drake, aged 21; Nettle Drake, aged 18.

BIG GUNS.

A Visit to Krupp's Works at Essen in Prussia.

It is rare indeed to find a large engineering house building up its name and fortune out of the profits of war and commercial prosperity; but from the great iron and steel works, whose furnaces and power-houses pour black smoke over Essen, in Prussia, the demands of these impatient customers are supplied.
On the 23rd of April, 1910, was born Alfred Krupp, the son of a small farmer. So minute was his father's business, that in 1838, when Herr Krupp succeeded to the management of the works, the whole personnel consisted of three men, and the financial position was hedged round with debts. Yet such was the force of his genius, that at the time of his death in 1887 his works covered over 1,000 acres, and gave employ to 20,000 men.
The history of the rise of this great firm illustrates the growth of the steel and iron industry in Germany, and emphasizes strongly the advantages to be gained by leading new discoveries, and by being the first to apply them to ancient manufactures.
In 1857 the discovery of the Bessemer process for manufacturing steel revolutionized the engineering world, and at Essen soon appeared the first works in Germany for its production; while at this center of industry the first forging hammer that Germany had ever seen was set up. With these advantages Herr Krupp's works eclipsed all others on the continent, and poured forth in a continual stream the great masses of steel demanded by railways and shipbuilders.

ABLE TO WORK AGAIN.

Mr. John L. Coughenour, of Clearwater, Somerset Co., Penna., writes: "I had been doctoring for about a year and a half, being unable to work most of the time. The doctor said I had heart disease and indigestion. I began with a choking and oppressed feeling in the chest; later on I was troubled with a burning feeling, and I seemed to be raw from my throat clear down into my stomach. My appetite was unusually poor. I was weak and nervous, and my heart kept throbbing continually, and I was short of breath. Finally I wrote to you for advice. I did not think your diagnosis was right, but I ordered six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and began its use. After using three bottles I began to improve slowly and soon went to work, and I have been working ever since."
"I feel that I would be doing an injustice to you if I did not send you a statement of my case. I am now able to work, and I feel better than I have for several years. I would recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to all who are troubled as I was. I am now sixty years old and I thank you most sincerely for the happy relief you have given me."
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets assist the action of the "Discovery" and should be used with it when a laxative is needed.

HAMMER TOO HEAVY.
The 125-ton steam hammer erected at the works of the Bethlehem Steel Company, South Bethlehem, Pa., in 1892—the largest steam hammer in the world—is being demolished. The hammer, as visitors who saw the full-size model at the World's Fair, in Chicago, in 1893, will remember was a vertical action steam engine with a heavy ram at the lower end of the piston rod. The internal diameter of the steam cylinder was 79 in. and the normal stroke of the piston 10 ft. The total weight of the piston, piston rod and hammer was 125 tons. The hammer was operated by admitting steam below the piston to raise the ram, which was then permitted to drop by gravity. The machine stood 90 ft. high and was 38 ft. on the longest dimension across the base. The experience with this hammer was rather unsatisfactory; the action of the blow being so rapid that the compression of large pieces of metal could not be distributed uniformly through the formation of flaws. For heavy forging it was found that hydraulic pressure was more satisfactory.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures the diseases of the stomach and digestive and nutritive system, which prevent the proper nourishment of the body. In that way the body is once more strengthened in the only way possible, by food properly digested and perfectly assimilated.
Any person suffering from disease in chronic or aggravated form, is invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence strictly private and confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
There is no alcohol in "Golden Medical Discovery," and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.
Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." The main object of its substitution is the desire of the dealer to make a little more profit out of you by selling you a less meritorious medicine.

I began with a choking and oppressed feeling in the chest; later on I was troubled with a burning feeling, and I seemed to be raw from my throat clear down into my stomach. My appetite was unusually poor. I was weak and nervous, and my heart kept throbbing continually, and I was short of breath. Finally I wrote to you for advice. I did not think your diagnosis was right, but I ordered six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and began its use. After using three bottles I began to improve slowly and soon went to work, and I have been working ever since."
"I feel that I would be doing an injustice to you if I did not send you a statement of my case. I am now able to work, and I feel better than I have for several years. I would recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to all who are troubled as I was. I am now sixty years old and I thank you most sincerely for the happy relief you have given me."
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets assist the action of the "Discovery" and should be used with it when a laxative is needed.

WHERE SCIENCE BEATS NATURE.
The eye and the ear have long been regarded as marvels of mechanism, quite the most wonderful things in the world. But compared with the implements of the present-day laboratory, the sensitiveness of all human organs seems gross enough. A photographic plate, coupled with a telescope, will reveal the presence of millions of stars whose light does not affect the retina in the least. The microscope, too, with its revelations of the world of the infinitely small, tells us how crude, after all, is this most delicate of the senses. Indeed, we may liken it to a piano, where only a single octave, towards the middle, sounds. From the ultra violet to the lowest reaches of the spectrum is a range of some nine octaves of light vibrations, of which save for our new mechanical senses, we should never have been conscious of but one. The ear hears little of what is going on around us. By means of a microphone the tread of a fly sounds like the tramp of cavalry. Our heat sense is very vague; we need a variation of at least one-fifth of a degree on a thermometer to realize any difference in temperature. Professor Langley's little bolometer will note the difference of a millionth of a degree. It is two hundred thousand times as sensitive as our skin. Carl Sayer in Harper's Magazine.
