GERMANY MUST SIGN PACT OR BE ISOLATED

CHANGES STILL BEING MADE IN THE TEXT OF THE TREATY OF PEACE

Alterations of Phraseology Will Be Continued Up to the Last Possible Moment; Plans for Making Text of Treaty Public Still Are Vague

Paris, May 6.—It developed this afternoon that changes still were being made in the peace treaty and that the changing process probably would be continued up to the last possible moment. It is understood the alterations are largely those of phraseology.

The plans for making the treaty public textually are still vague. Seemingly the only plan perfected with regard to publicity is a decision to give out a 10,000-word digest of the treaty for publication on Thursday morning.

Brussels, May 6.—(Havas).—The Foreign Relations Committee of the Chamber of Deputies has approved unanimously the decision of the Crown Council and the Government to sign the peace treaty.

CHINESE VERY DISSATISFIED WITH PLAN FOR SHANTUNG

Paris, May 6.—The Chinese delegation to the Peace Conference is displaying great dissatisfaction with the announced settlement of the Shantung problem: While the Chinese probably will not refuse to sign the peace treaty, it appears likely that they will sign it with reservations.

Paris, May 6.—(Havas).—Marshal Petain, commander of the French army, was present at a conference Monday between President Wilson and Premier Clemenceau. Afterwards Premier Clemenceau conferred with several members of the French Cabinet concerning details of the preliminary peace.

PRAIRIE MINISTERS ON OTTAWA MISSION

Four in Capital Discussing Vital Problems; Crop Information Wanted

Ottawa, May 6.—Hon. Charles Stewart, Premier of Alberta, Hon. J. R. Boyle, Attorney-General, Hon. George Langley, Minister of Municipal Affairs of Saskatchewan, and Hon. W. E. Knowles, Provincial Secretary, are in Ottawa to-day on matters affecting the prairie provinces.

Mr. Langley stated that it was vital to them to know what was to be done this season regarding the tariff. He was deeply concerned regarding the marketing of the 1919 crop. All the old channels were not available, nor were the credits available that made that market possible.

"I am advocating that the Government take charge of the 1919 crop," he said. "We are drifting at present into chaos regarding it."

Mr. Knowles said there would be no satisfaction in the prairie provinces until the protectionist heel was removed from our neck, and the protectionist hand is removed from our pocket.

DEPORTATION OF MANITOBA ALIENS

S. O. Charambula, Winnipeg, in Affidavit Tells of Deportation Exemption Cards

Winnipeg, May 6.—S. O. Charambula, of Winnipeg, is the man who told H. A. Mackie, East Edmonton, that a politician employed by the Manitoba Government issued deportation exemption cards.

Charambula to-day made an affidavit to the effect that he acted as a clerk on a committee appointed by virtue of an Order-in-Council passed by the Provincial Government to compel foreigners to appear and show "cause why they should not be deported." A questionnaire was presented to the applicant, the affidavit states, and he was told that if he did not answer the questions and secure an exemption card certificate he would no longer be able to get a job, and the Manitoba Government would cause his deportation, and his property would be confiscated, leaving him only "with which to leave the country."

RAILROAD OPERATION COSTING UNCLE SAM A STEADY LOSS NOW

Washington, May 6.—The Government's loss in operating the railroads of the United States for the first three months of this year was $138,000,000, according to earnings figures of the so-called class 1, or the larger roads, reported to the Interstate Commerce Commission and compiled by the Bureau of Railway Economics.

TROOPS IN SUBURBS OF BUDAPEST NOW

Reuter Dispatch Says Men Under Gen. Humbert Probably There

London, May 6.—Reuter's learns that the army invading Hungary under General Humbert is progressing rapidly and probably has reached and occupied the suburbs of Budapest. The Roumans who are participating comprise six divisions, while there are two French divisions as well. They have been involved in heavy fighting. Czech-Slovak troops are following on the right wing of the Roumanian army. The situation in Bessarabia is good. Here there are four Roumanian and two French divisions. There also are additional Roumanian divisions in Moldavia, where practically the whole of the Roumanian army, whose spirit is magnificent, was mobilized.

The military situation in Roumania is regarded as absolutely safe.

Combon Fleet Budapest, May 5.—Via London, May 6.—Former Food Minister Combon, of the Soviet Government, has fled from this city with his family and has joined developments in the Pacific which state that he has declared he abandoned Bolshevism because "Bela Kun acted like a Caesar and would not take advice." Czech forces are reported within twenty-five miles of this city.

STEPHEN PICHON IS CHAIRMAN OF LEAGUE

Elected Presiding Officer of Provisional Organization of World League

Paris, May 6.—Stephen Pichon, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, of France, was elected chairman of the provisional organization of the League of Nations yesterday, according to an official statement. Sir Eric Drummond, of Great Britain, assumed his duties as Acting Secretary-General, an office to which he was elected at the meeting of the peace delegates last week. The text of the statement follows:

"The Organization Committee of the League of Nations, which was appointed by a resolution passed at a plenary session of the Conference on April 28, held its first meeting at the Hotel Chillon at four p. m. Monday, May 5, and agreed on a number of resolutions for the provisional organization of the League.

"On motion of Col. E. M. House, of the United States, M. Pichon, Minister of Foreign Affairs of France, was elected chairman and Sir Eric Drummond was invited to occupy his seat as Acting Secretary-General.

The following were present: M. Pichon, France, chairman; Lord Robert Cecil, Great Britain; Colonel E. M. House, United States; Marquis Imperiali, Italy; Viscount Chinda, Japan; M. Rolin Jacquemyns, Belgium; M. Venizelos, Greece; Senor Guinoo de Leon, Spain; and Antonio de Magalhães, Brazil.

SHERRY'S, NEW YORK TO CLOSE ITS DOORS

New York, May 6.—Sherry's, for more than twenty years one of this city's famous dining places, will close its doors within the next two weeks. In view of the expected demand after July 1 for sweet Louis Sherry, the proprietor, will again become a caterer.

WAY IS BEING MADE READY FOR TREATY WITH AUSTRIA

Paris, May 6.—Orders have been issued to the specialists on Austro-Hungarian subjects to rush their reports so that the treaty with Austria can be considered during the fifteen days that the Germans will be discussing the terms of peace to be submitted to them on Wednesday.

At the plenary session this afternoon, Captain Andre Tardieu, of the French delegation, will read an extended digest of the treaty for the information of the minor powers. The document itself is so voluminous that it is probable that no delegate has read all its sections.

NO FINANCIAL HELP FOR THE UNIVERSITY

Hon. J. D. MacLean Returns From Ottawa Without Assurances

LOCAL AID ACT WILL REMAIN INOPERATIVE

On his return from Ottawa this morning the Hon. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Education and Provincial Secretary, stated definitely that the Dominion Government would not increase the financial grant to the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment for the assistance of the University of British Columbia in the matter of vocational training. And by reason of the fact that a general understanding was reached before the Legislature was asked to vote additional Provincial aid, the Act passed upon the statute books at the recent session consenting to a conditional loan of $500,000 will therefore, remain inoperative on account of the Federal Government's decision. This was also made clear by the Minister to a representative of The Times, this morning.

Only Sympathetic. Dr. MacLean said that while the Dominion authorities were sympathetic in the matter of co-operation in university extension work they remained unconvinced that the suggestions of the Board of Governors of the University would add to the efficiency of training previously outlined by them for returned soldiers. The Minister was asked to inform the Legislature of the interior and the Department of the Board of Governors of the University would add to the efficiency of training previously outlined by them for returned soldiers. ALLIED FOREIGN MINISTERS WEIGH PLAN FOR ECONOMIC ISOLATION OF GERMANY IF HER DELEGATES BALK

Replacement Troops to Siberian Field From United States

Washington, May 6.—Orders were issued to-day by the War Department for the recruiting of 3,000 men to serve as replacement troops for American soldiers now in Siberia. A replacement detachment will be organized at San Francisco and the troops will be sent forward in units of 500 each as they become available.

AVIATORS AWAIT ATLANTIC REPORTS

Local Conditions in Newfoundland This Morning Favorable for Start

St. John's, Nfld., May 6.—A northwest wind prevailing here to-day contributes to the favorable weather conditions for flying but Atlantic conditions are not promising. The aviators will await the midday bulletin before deciding as to making a start.

U. S. Planes Delayed. New York, May 6.—The proposed start to-day of the Navy Department's trans-Atlantic flight by way of Halifax was postponed shortly after 9 o'clock this morning because of adverse weather conditions.

The departure will be made before 10 a. m. on the first day that favorable weather conditions are reported. Commander John G. Towers said.

Destroyers Aground. Trepanier, Nfld., May 6.—The destroyer Foots, one of the flotilla assembled here in connection with the American Navy Department's trans-Atlantic flight effort, went aground here early to-day. Naval officers said the ship was in no immediate danger and that they hoped to float her at high water as soon as the weather moderated.

The destroyer Maddox also drifted ashore but her plight was not considered serious. The tanker Hisko touched ground, but was soon blown afloat.

Ready for Arrival. Halifax, May 6.—Everything is in readiness at the seaplane base at Eastern Passage, across the harbor from Halifax, for the reception of the three United States naval seaplanes which are to fly here on the first leg of their trans-Atlantic trip. Local weather conditions are favorable for flying.

NO DAYLIGHT SAVING. Lethbridge, May 6.—Daylight saving lost on a placid here yesterday, the vote being against it by a two-thirds majority to carry.

Attempt To-morrow to Fly in Planes Over the Sierra Nevadas

New York, May 6.—An attempt to fly over the Sierra Nevada Mountains will be made to-morrow by army aviators, it was announced here to-day by army aviation officials. Lieut. J. M. Fetters, formerly of Spokane, in a Havilland plane, and Lieut. T. S. Curtis and William Beck, in Curtiss planes, will start from Mather Field, near Sacramento, Cal., for Ogden, Utah, a distance of about 700 miles.

GERMAN PROFITEERS MOVE THEIR FUNDS TO SWITZERLAND

Zurich, May 5.—The Neueste Zeitung of Stuttgart, affirms that despite regulations issued by the German Government, a great many capitalists, in particular those who made enormous war profits, are managing to export their money. The paper asserts that in the last two months 25,000,000,000 marks have been deposited in different Swiss banks.

SEATTLE MAY HAVE STREET CAR STRIKE

Seattle, May 6.—Seattle's municipal street car system is threatened with a strike. Special meetings of the Street and Electric Railway Employees' Association were held to-day to consider means of enforcing their demands for overtime pay made to the City Council. Yesterday the Council refused to grant immediate consideration of the men's petition. Officers of the union said a strike would follow on the city's lines if the Council should defer action on the demands.

Teutons Will Find They Must Sign Treaty at Versailles or Be Cut Off From Rest of World; Treaty May Be Disposed of Before June 1

Paris, May 6.—Complete economic isolation of Germany is being considered by the Council of Foreign Ministers of the Peace Conference as a measure to be adopted in the event of Germany refusing to sign the peace treaty.

The plan for the measure was submitted to the Ministers by the Supreme Economic Council.

Paris, May 6.—It seems now quite possible that the peace treaty with Germany will be disposed of before June 1, a member of the American delegation said to-day. Yesterday and to-day were days of pronounced activity.

ITALIANS WILL DEMONSTRATE LOYALTY TO THEIR ALLIES

Paris, May 6.—No actual compromise of the Adriatic problem has been arranged as yet with the Italian delegates to the Peace Conference, so far as is known here.

Members of the Italian delegation who remained in Paris while Premier Orlando was in Rome stated that dispatches in German newspapers suggesting that Italy had broken with the Entente have made it imperative for the Italians to demonstrate that they are still loyal to the Allies.

The decision of Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sonnino to return to Paris was taken spontaneously after conferences in Rome during the last few days, according to The Temps. The Council of Three did not reply to the telegram received from Baron Sonnino on Saturday.

Camille Barrere, the French Ambassador to Italy, during the past few days has been smoothing away differences with him have the support of the Marquis Imperiali, the Italian Ambassador to Britain, represented Italy at the meeting of the committee of the League of Nations yesterday afternoon.

(Concluded on page 4.) SPANISH ELECTION. Madrid, May 6.—The new Parliament which is to be elected on June 1 is expected to assemble June 6.

VISIT TO IRELAND IS NOT EXPLAINED

Two Representatives of American-Irish Societies Now in Island

London, May 6.—The visit of two representatives of American-Irish societies to Ireland—M. J. Ryan and E. F. Dunne—is creating great interest in Sinn Fein circles here and equal indignation in English quarters in Ireland and England. Among the reports in circulation is one that passports from Paris to Ireland were granted the mission at the request of President Wilson.

There is considerable mystery about the whole affair and it is not known whether Mr. Lloyd George has been in communication with the visitors at all. There is one report that he promised to receive them but has cancelled his engagement.

A question was addressed to the Government in the House of Commons yesterday with a view to establishing whether the envoys are accredited to the Irish Government, and also to establish their status. It also was asked if the Prime Minister had intended to receive them. The question was met evasively by the Home Secretary, who promised to make inquiries and said that this would occupy a week.

No Interference. "If it is true that Mr. Wilson is behind this intrigue against the union of the United Kingdom—and after the President's behavior toward Italy anything is credible—the American Ambassador," says The Post, "ought to be told that the United Kingdom does not tolerate interference in its domestic affairs. They are our business and the business of nobody else."

The Graphic says: "If any of the states of America were again to demand the right to secede from the Union, it is certain the American people would be bitterly indignant if such a demand should receive any kind of official encouragement from Great Britain. We apply the same standard."

Prisoners Freed. Disregarding recommendations of M. Zinoviev, Governor of Petrograd, Nikolai Lentze, the Russian Bolshevik Premier, recently has been releasing virtually all political prisoners in an effort to show that the Government is becoming more tolerant. One result of this step, it is believed by specialists here, may be to produce a leader who will ultimately organize opposition to the present regime.

Paris, May 6.—(Associated Press).—Specialists on Russian subjects attached to various Allied delegations at the Peace Conference expect decided changes in the Russian situation within the next few weeks. The Finnish military movement which has been threatening Petrograd and which has been shrouded with mystery, is now well defined. General Udenitch controls the southern end of the Kola Railway. The support of the Finnish Government and troops, and have recruited large numbers of Russian peasants who have become tired of the Bolshevik requisitions. General Udenitch controls the southern end of the Kola Railway and the support of the Bolshevik forces in the Kola Peninsula has been made impossible, and communication between Moscow and the Murman coast has been cut off. Under the direction of General Udenitch, the residents of the Karelia district, apparently are preparing to launch a movement looking to their annexation to Finland. This would annex to Finland the support of the Finnish Government and troops, and have recruited large numbers of Russian peasants who have become tired of the Bolshevik requisitions. Blocking Step. The Russian committee working for a united Russia here is trying to block that step. Many persons believe the Entente Powers are encouraging the Udenitch movement. If he should occupy Petrograd, the revictualing of the city by the Allies would be easy, and the apparent abandonment of the Nansen plan of revictualing Petrograd under neutral auspices is regarded as an indication that the Entente expects the Bolsheviks soon to be forced to withdraw to Moscow. Admiral Kolchak's Siberian army continues its movement westward toward the Volga, and it is expected that the cities of Vianka and Samara will fall into its hands soon. With Kolchak threatening the valley of the Volga and Udenitch menacing Petrograd, with Kiev in the hands of anti-Bolshevik troops and with Kolchak's northern army moving rapidly toward the line of communication between Moscow and Archangel, the Bolshevik military situation seems extremely precarious.

KINMEL CAMP RIOT COURT-MARTIAL CASES

Liverpool, May 6.—(Reuter's).—The court-martial hearing charges arising out of the Kinmel Park Camp riots has up to the present at fourteen days and tried twenty-one prisoners, of whom six were acquitted. There are thirty-one yet to be tried, six of whom pleaded not guilty yesterday. The accused were arrested near the quartermaster's stores, where a number of men were fitting on clothes and helping themselves to anything that lay around. The case was adjourned until to-day to obtain from the Judge-Advocate-General a ruling regarding the admission as evidence of certain statements by the accused. Private Joseph Johnson, 11th Reserve Battalion was acquitted.

EXPOSURE KILLED

ALBERTA FARMER

Lethbridge, May 6.—Investigation by a coroner reveals the fact that the Lomond farmer, who lost his life in the blizzard on Friday was Dougald McArthur, whose farm is half a mile west of Lomond. He started out at 11 o'clock Friday morning and, losing himself, was found dead near Lake McGregor, ten miles west. The storm piled drifts seven to fourteen feet deep in the Lomond district.

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT TO THE RHINE AREA TO MEET IN BERLIN

Visits Robertson and the British Army of Occupation in Germany

Namur, Belgium, May 6.—(Reuter's).—The Duke of Connaught, who arrived here to-day, was welcomed by General Plebus, Laurant, Hublet and Williams. The last-named commands the British Fourth Army. In honor of the occasion the British and Belgian authorities gave a dinner last night. A dispatch from London yesterday said the Duke of Connaught, attended by Sir Malcolm Murray, had left London to visit General Robertson and the army of occupation in the Rhineland, his intention being to be absent from London for ten days.

STATES GERMANS DESIRE TO WORK

Von Buelow Praises Ebert and Scheidemann for Work in Germany

Rome, May 6.—The Giornale d'Italia publishes an interview with Prince von Buelow, former German Imperial Chancellor, in which he praises President Ebert and Chancellor Scheidemann for having done everything possible to save Germany "from wreck." The Prince added that the danger of a revolutionary movement to re-establish the monarchical system would be eliminated if the Government was strong. "Germany," Prince von Buelow is quoted as having said, "wishes to set down and work and produce." Alluding to the Italian situation, the former Chancellor said: "Undoubtedly, Rome is an Italian town, and it will go to Italy. Premier Orlando's attitude is strong; Baron Sonnino's tenacity will win. The Entente will cede Rome before Italian determination. I am surprised at the attitude of Britain, and I do not understand why France fails to support Italy." Prince von Buelow said he hoped soon to return to Rome to reside in his villa there.

TO PROTECT SLOVENES.

Paris, May 6.—In Jugo-Slavic circles in Paris the following is given as the reason for the advance of the Jugo-Slavs in Carinthia beyond the limits fixed in the armistice: "The Slovene population of Carinthia had been exposed to the exactions of undisciplined bands of German-Austrians. Jugo-Slav troops were in arms to cross the boundary and disarm the bands and occupy the districts temporarily."

GERMAN ASSEMBLY TO MEET IN BERLIN

Will Meet Thursday to Discuss Peace Terms, Says Berlin Paper

Berlin, May 6, via London, May 6.—The German National Assembly will convene next Thursday in Berlin for a few sessions to be held for the purpose of discussing the peace terms, says a dispatch to The Tagblatt from Weimar. The meeting place will be in the old library next to the former Palace of Kaiser Wilhelm on the Unter den Linden. The National Assembly will resume its sessions at Weimar in two or three weeks, the advices add.

A Weimar dispatch dated Saturday, May 3, said the German National Assembly leaders had decided not to convene the Assembly at Berlin as had been suggested. But that the members of the Peace and Constitution Committees had been instructed to hold the business in readiness to convene in Berlin for a discussion of matters connected with peace.

KOLCHAK PURPOSES TO TAKE MOSCOW

Siberian Leader Intends to Establish Democratic System of Government

Vladivostok, May 4.—(By W. E. Playfair, Canadian Press Correspondent).—At Omak on April 26 Admiral Kolchak defended his action in taking over the government of Russia in an interview with me on the ground that a strong military hand was needed in this disorganized country. He once more declared his intention of establishing a proper democratic system of government as soon as this was warranted by the capture of Moscow, and the consequent collapse of Bolshevism. Admiral Kolchak expressed deep gratitude to the British for their assistance in the capture of Moscow, and over the attitude of Japan and the United States. He stated that American representatives in Siberia had at times supported the Soviet Government, but he hinted that Russia recently had begun to be disappointed over the attitude of Japan and the United States. DUKE OF CONNAUGHT AT CANADIAN CAVALRY DINNER IN LONDON

London, May 6.—The Duke of Connaught and the Right Hon. Winston Churchill attended a dinner given by Major-General Seely to the officers of the Canadian Cavalry Brigade. General Seely described the Duke as the father of the Brigade, owing to the advice he gave to the Government that regular Canadian regiments should proceed from Canada to England as individual units. He spoke with pride of this little brigade which earned three Victoria Crosses and 123 other decorations. The Brigade had never been sent to defend a position that it did not hold and never attacked a place which it failed to take. General Patterson said that the Brigade would never have existed as such in France but for General Seely, who had kept it together and the efforts of higher powers to disband it. A hope expressed by several speakers that the Fort Garry Horse would become a permanent unit, was heartily cheered.

SHELLS NO LONGER FALLING IN LEMBERG

Paris, May 6.—The situation in Lemberg, Galicia, has greatly improved, according to advices reaching the Polish National Committee here. The Polish troops are said to have driven back the Ukrainians so far that Lemberg no longer is in danger from shells.

COUGHED, COUGHED ALL NIGHT LONG

Terribly wearing on the system is the cough that comes at night and prevents sleep. Sometimes it is a constant cough, cough that will not be quieted. Sometimes it is a choked-up, stuffed-up feeling that makes breathing difficult, and sleep trifling. Whatever kind of a cold or cough you have, Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is the remedy you need to cure it, for the simple reason that this valuable preparation combines all the lung healing virtues of the Norway pine tree with which is combined wild cherry bark, and the soothing, healing and expectorant properties of other excellent herbs and herbs.

CLEMENCEAU THINKS TREATY A GOOD ONE

Paris, May 6.—"I have done my best. I think it a good peace." This declaration was made to the editor of The Figaro by Premier Clemenceau. The editor adds that from the details he has been able to learn he is convinced that all France is weighing the immense advantages she will gain from collaboration with Great Britain and the United States. It is a good peace, the editor continues, it is also a better one, because it is an alliance with the two most powerful nations in the world.

WORLD RED CROSS LEAGUE IS FORMED

All Red Cross Societies to Be Members of Union Formed at Paris

Paris, May 6.—Henry P. Davison was elected chairman of the governing board of the League of Red Cross Societies which was organized here yesterday. All the world's Red Cross Societies will be members of the League, which will be controlled by a general council composed of representatives of the societies and with a governing board of fifteen members. The members of this board appointed yesterday are: Henry P. Davison, of the United States; Sir Henry Stanley, of Great Britain; Count Kerguelay, of France; Professor Nina Gawa, of Italy; and Professor Nina Gawa, of Japan. These five members will appoint ten more, who will serve until the general council convenes. The League is expected to extend Red Cross Societies throughout the world and ultimately to be universal in membership.

VON JAGOW GIVES HIS VERSION OF BEGINNING OF WAR

Paris, May 6.—Imaginary invasion of German territory by French troops was the pretext for the declaration of war, says Gottlieb von Jagow, former German Foreign Minister, in a book which he has just published entitled "The Universal War, Its Causes and Beginning." The late French incursions were reported to the German staff by subordinate officers, von Jagow says, and the staff communicated the information to the Government without the conditions to be enforced on Serbia was rejected so categorically by Germany.

BACK TO WINNIPEG.

Prince Rupert, May 6.—John Kennedy and R. C. Duncan, of the Grain Growers' Association, have returned to Winnipeg. Their visit here was in connection with land settlement in the Bulkley Valley, and the possibility of wheat shipments via Prince Rupert.

Suffered Day and Night for Years; After Taking Tanlac Looks Like Different Child

"My little daughter Jean, had gained ten pounds on Tanlac and now she's the very picture of health," said Jim Snell, well-known poultry and truck farmer of Raleigh, Tenn. "When Jean was only seven years old," continued Mr. Snell, "she was taken with something like nervous stomach trouble, and there wasn't a day or night she didn't suffer until we got Tanlac for her, and she's now fifteen years old. Her stomach was in such a bad condition she had to live on toast and eggs and milk, and she couldn't eat any kind of meats or vegetables. She complained of pains in her stomach all the time, and would spit up half digested food. She was nervous and would toss and roll all night, for she couldn't sleep well at all. She was bilious and her complexion was bad, and she looked plain and sickly all the time. We gave her most every kind of medicine we could think of, but nothing helped her. "After hearing of some of the good work Tanlac was doing," we got some for Jean, and it has done wonders for her. She actually looks and acts like a different child, and she's taken only two bottles of the medicine. She commenced picking up as soon as she started Tanlac, and she has gained ten pounds. She never has indigestion now, and eats just anything she wants—even such things as beans and other vegetable, and meats of all kinds. Why she eat corn for dinner yesterday, and it was the first time in eight years she dared taste corn, and she eats boiled bacon that's cooked with vegetables. She's nervous nor bilious now, and sleeps like a baby, and we never hear anything out of her from the time she goes to bed until she gets up in the mornings. Her skin has cleared up and her cheeks look fresh and rosy. You can just look at her and tell she's enjoying good health."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, corner Fort and Douglas.

HON. CHAS. W. FISHER DIES IN EDMONTON

Edmonton, May 6.—The death occurred shortly before last midnight at the Royal Alexandra Hospital here of Hon. Charles W. Fisher, Speaker of the Legislature of Alberta since the formation of the province in 1905.

The late Mr. Fisher filled his position as Speaker until March 28, during the last session of the Legislature, when he became ill with ear trouble. After being confined to his apartments in the Building for a couple of weeks he was removed to the Royal Alexandra Hospital. His condition was considered grave at the time the Legislature adjourned, but he rallied, and less than one week ago was regarded as on the way to rapid recovery. The sudden relapse was unexpected and was a severe shock to the family and friends. Throughout Mr. Fisher was cheerful and confident in the belief that he would recover, and refused to let other than reassuring news be sent to his wife and family.

The late Speaker first entered political life in 1903, when he was elected to the Legislative Council of the Northwest Territories for Banff. Two years later he was elected for the same constituency in the Alberta Legislature. When the constituency of Cochrane was formed in 1905 he was chosen as its representative, being re-elected in 1913 and 1917. He was a native of Hyde Park, Middlesex County, Ontario, and was fifty-three years old in 1907. He married Miss Helen Powell, of Ottawa. Seven children survive him.

WRITERS TO DESCRIBE VERSAILLES EVENT

Versailles, May 6.—About forty representatives of the press of the world, including five German correspondents, will be admitted to witness the delivery of the peace treaty to the German delegation and describe the proceedings for contemporary knowledge and future history. Italy probably will be represented; at any rate places will be assigned to the Italian delegates.

An Associated Press correspondent was admitted yesterday afternoon to see the arrangement of the members of the Council of Three had visited the room. The rearrangement of the tables takes the form of a square rather than a horseshoe. The chair for M. Clemenceau, who will preside, is in the centre of the head table. He will have on his right President Wilson and the other American plenipotentiaries, and on his left, Premier Lloyd George and the other British representatives.

MEETING IN ATHLONE STOPPED BY TROOPS

London, May 6.—British troops broke up a forbidden meeting at Athlone, Ireland, last night by charging upon the crowd with the bayonet. Several persons were wounded, and armored cars took possession of the place. Laurence Ginnell, member of Parliament for West Meath, attempted to address the meeting.

INLAND REVENUE IN MARCH $3,953,242

Ottawa, May 6.—The Inland Revenue receipts for the month of March totalled $3,953,242, an increase of over $900,000 as compared with March, 1918. The war taxes brought $1,258,139 into the public treasury during the month. Tobacco yielded $1,879,371, and spirits $812,216.

TROOPS CHEERED IN CITY OF MUNICH

People on Sunday Celebrated Victory Over the Soviet Government

Munich, May 6.—All Munich celebrated the victory over the Soviet Government Sunday. The streets were crowded with people who cheered the passing troops or gave them refreshments. Captured Spartacists were hooted as they were escorted through the streets, while bands played national airs outside the captured palace and the crowds sang patriotic anthems. The presence of armed passants was noted in the streets and 800 Austrians who fought with the German Government troops to regain the city were heartily cheered.

The Bavarian War Ministry will be transferred from Bamberg to Munich and a resolution dissolving the Bavarian army will be adopted by the Cabinet because of the poor work done by the Bavarian troops during the troubles in this city.

150 Killed.
Berlin, May 5.—Via London, May 6. (Associated Press)—One hundred and fifty persons were killed or executed during the fighting at Munich, according to an account of the fall of that city printed in The Lokal Anzeiger. Among the killed were Toller, Director of the Soviet Government, and Southheimer, a Communist leader. Seidl, said to have instigated the shooting of hostages, was reported beaten to death. The Tagblatt states that 5,000 arrests have been made in Munich, the prisoners including Dr. Levin, leader of the Bavarian Independent Socialists, and Town Governor Weber.

Von Stueck Escaped.
Berlin, May 5.—Via London, May 6. (Associated Press)—Professor von Stueck, a widely known Bavarian painter and architect, escaped when hostages held by the Soviet authorities at Munich were executed. Prominent people of Munich who went in hiding during the reign of terror, are reported to be returning to the city.

REPRESENTATIVE OF CANADA IN STATES

Commons is Told Permanent Representative Will Be Kept at Washington

Ottawa, May 6.—Canada is to be permanently represented at Washington. The War Mission will remain. Hon. Mr. Rowell told the House of Commons last night, until a permanent representative is appointed. Sir Robert Borden is now conferring with the Imperial authorities on the situation.

At the time the House was in supply on a vote of $50,000 for the Canadian War Mission and representatives at Washington.

While approving a Canadian representative at Washington, the Leader of the Opposition took the view that Parliament should have been consulted.

Earlier in the sitting, J. E. Armstrong, of London, made a strong plea for joint control of ocean freight rates.

Replying, Mr. Rowell said the question had already been discussed with the Imperial authorities, and was now being impressed on the attention of the British Government.

Immigration.
W. K. Baldwin was told that 173,413 persons had come from the United States to settle in Canada within the last three years.

In answer to a question by Sir Herbert Ames, the Government stated that 632 persons giving their vocation as farmers or stockraisers had been assessed under the income war tax in 1917. They were assessed for $417,347. The number who had a net income of $5,000 and the amount paid was $219,828.

WORK OF AIR BOARD DEBATED AT OTTAWA

Bill to Establish Body Now Stands for Third Reading

Ottawa, May 6.—The bill to establish an Air Board to control aeronautics in Canada, which has been before the Commons for some days, was reported out of committee last night and stands for third reading.

During the discussion Hon. A. K. Maclean, who has charge of the measure in the House, said there must be some development of commercial aviation in the immediate future. The Air Board would have entire control of any commercial or Government services.

H. B. Morphy, North Perth, asked if the Government intended to utilize returned Canadian officers' services on the Board.

Mr. Maclean replied that they would be represented on the Board. In reply to Mr. Stevens, Vancouver Centre, Mr. Maclean said the Government had not yet considered the advisability of entering the field of commercial aviation. Nor, said Mr. Maclean, in replying to Mr. Campbell, Pontiac, said the Government had not in mind the granting of exclusive privileges to any company for any routes.

Camp Borden.
Maj.-General Newburn said the Imperial authorities had spent millions of dollars at Camp Borden and the property had been turned over to the Militia Department for a mere song. It seemed to him that they could not continue at present the Royal Air Force in Canada, but he thought it best to protect the material in the buildings thoroughly, and there was a very small force there for the purpose. He said he had in mind the reorganization of the militia, and no doubt the Air Force would be one of the large features. The Air Board, he said, was only a temporary thing to keep them in touch with developments.

Mr. Lemieux suggested that Lieut.-Colonel W. A. Bishop should be on the Air Board.

General Newburn replied laughingly that at present Colonel Bishop was making something like $30,000 a month in the United States, and he thought there was not money enough in the Militia Department to induce him to act on the Board now, but probably he would be available later.

Dr. Alfred Thompson, Yukon, urged that consideration be given to the development of coastal patrols by sea planes for the protection of shipping. There was need for it, especially on the Pacific coast.

Mr. Maclean replied that the value of a coastal patrol service would have the consideration of the Board.

H. M. Mowatt, Parkdale, thought that the establishment of air services would interfere with the property rights of the public.

Mr. Maclean said that no doubt the regulations would provide that no aircraft should be brought within a certain number of feet of an inhabited dwelling.

Dr. S. F. Toimie, Victoria, thought aeroplanes might be of great value in rescuing persons from vessels wrecked near the coast.

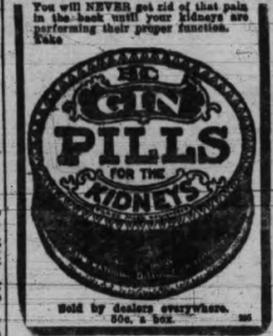

MOULDERS ON STRIKE

Hamilton, Ont., May 6.—Some 250 moulders and core makers employed by the Kerr & Coombs, Sawyer-Massey, Casthouse, Tins, Canadian Iron, Oil & Penson and Stewart & Mile Companies went on strike yesterday for an increase of wages from 60 to 75 cents an hour and an eight-hour day.

GOODS OF ENEMY ORIGIN

Washington, May 6.—Great Britain will not interfere with the shipment to the United States of goods of enemy origin owned by American firms where import licenses have been issued by the United States War Trade Board, the State Department has been advised.

BACK-ACHE!

NEED NOT REPAY 6,000,000,000 FRANCS

Belgium Freed From Necessity by Allied Powers; Other Conditions

Brussels, May 6.—Premier Delacroix, in a statement yesterday in connection with the decision of Belgium to adhere to the terms of the peace treaty and sign the document, said:

"We considered it impossible to withdraw from the conference, as our delegates had secured important results. The negotiations had arrived at a deadlock, but the powers had granted us very great concessions, releasing us from loans contracted during the war amounting to 5,000,000,000 francs, while we shall have priority in receiving 2,500,000,000 francs payable in gold to cover inter-provincial bonds issued during the war.

"We will have no financial charges resulting from the war, while we have 1,000,000,000 francs coming to us on various accounts. The question of the redemption of the German marks we hold is still pending, but we shall not be reimbursed for 7,500,000,000 francs."

"Regarding the question of reparation for damages sustained by private persons, which is also pending, we have submitted a claim for the amount of such losses, which will be considered by the Reparations Committee. We are told we shall be paid only in thirty years, which is disappointing, but we must accept what is being laid down.

"The Belgian domestic loan produced more than 1,000,000,000 francs. For the rest of the money we shall be able to borrow abroad and to rely on the support of the Allies."

Fiume.
London, May 6.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Paris last evening said the question regarding Fiume had been settled in full agreement with the Italian Government on the basis that Fiume shall remain an autonomous port for two years, when it will be assigned to Italy.

PERSHING IN LONDON ON EMPIRE DAY

London, May 6.—Commenting on the statement that General Pershing, Commander-in-Chief of the American forces in Europe, will come to London for Empire Day, May 24, when he will review a brigade of American troops brought from France through England on its way to the United States, The Daily Mail says:

"It will be our pride and privilege to give the men who fought at Chateau Thierry and broke the German line in the Argonne the warmest British welcome. We have not forgotten and never shall forget the part the United States played in one of the darkest hours of the war."

SIR F. STUPART IS TO GO TO PARIS

Ottawa, May 6.—Sir Frederick Stupart, Director of the Meteorological service of Canada, has been appointed to represent the Dominion at the coming international conference of the Allied nations at Paris called to discuss meteorological question of common interest.

SAVE YOUR HAIR AND BEAUTIFY IT WITH "DANDERINE"

Spend a few cents! Dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Try this! Hair gets beautiful, wavy and thick in few moments.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

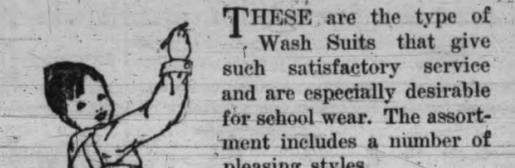

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots become loosened and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents; apply a little as directed, and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. It eventually—why not now?

WILL KNOW TOMORROW

To-morrow afternoon Germany will know the terms of peace she will have to meet, for at 3.15 o'clock the treaty upon which the Paris Conference has been laboring will be presented to her delegates at Versailles. In an interview with a Paris paper Premier Clemenceau said the treaty provided for a "good peace," not only on account of its own provisions but because it involved an alliance between France, the British Empire and the United States.

There is no reason why Italy should hold aloof from this function, even if no settlement of the Adriatic question has not been reached before to-morrow afternoon, for that issue is not involved in the negotiations with Germany. The prospects are that the treaty will bear the signatures of all the Allies, for none of the other Governments would be rash enough to isolate its country from a combination of the British Empire, the United States and France, the consequences of which would be much more disadvantageous than any territorial loss could be.

Within the orbit formed by those great powers lies the only insurance of protection for the future and successful recovery from the war. In it lies the hope of the small nations and of the new states which have sprung into being amid the ruins of ancient empires. In it also lies the only escape of a great part of the world from civil war and anarchy. There is no such security anywhere else. There is none in Germany or Russia, for they are economically helpless.

The true test of the peace treaty will be the common good of civilization, not the satisfaction of any selfish interest or national expediency. If it is not an earnest attempt to safeguard humanity against another plunge into barbarism, if it is not a reasonably sound measure of protection for posterity, if it does not eliminate many of the evils from the present war sprang, it will be Dead-Sea fruit, nothing less than sacrilege.

The sacrifices that have been made are too precious to be counter-balanced by any mere material national gain, by the gratification of any evanescent passion fomented in the unthinking mind, or by the satisfaction of mass sentiment which blazes up to-day and subsides to-morrow. Nothing too noble or too great, in the fullest sense of the term, for civilization can spring from the agony of the last five years, and the negotiation of a peace treaty which did not strive to reach the highest aims for the welfare of mankind, which did not provide a fitting monument for all time, would be like spurning the sacred dead.

YOUNGER CONSULAR SERVICE

There is much to commend in the action of the overseas department of the British Board of Trade in its decision to submit the consular service to a root and branch re-organization. It is to be hoped that the rubber stamp official—whose chief occupation was the signing of documents—is to be an obsolete pattern for evermore. On the other hand, considerable damage will be done if the intention to infuse more youth and vigor into a newer and more up-to-date service is allowed to find too many posts for the gifted youth whose commercial instincts may not be over developed.

Officially, of course, these young men of twenty to twenty-five are to be in possession of a sound general education and will have to pass an examination to prove it. Two years' training at a University in London, or in one of the provincial centres is to precede entrance to the consular service. The successful nominee will then be required to take his post and assist in the marketing of British goods abroad and to give advice on the best means to develop British enterprise in countries to which he has been sent. Provision is to be made also for candidates to enter the service from all the self-governing Dominions.

This is a much-needed reform. The consular service was a line of activity by which Germany expanded commercially to such a large extent in the United States. Her plan was to train men specially for the work, and the decision of the British Board of Trade to follow a similar course is hopeful. So long as the rejuvenated and youthful consular service has more of the atmosphere of the business house than of the tennis court and the pink tea, German competition abroad need not be feared.

THAT RAILWAY VOTE

The delegates to the Dominion-wide Liberal convention to be held in a few months should require from the leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons an explanation of the attitude of his side recently to the bill to incorporate the Canadian National Railway and to provide for the management of the country's national railway system.

Was the vote against the measure an expression of hostility to the principle of railway nationalization? Was it an attempt to form an alliance with powerful private interests for election purposes? Mr. Lemieux undoubtedly recorded himself as a champion of private enterprise against public enterprise. Mr. Jacques Bureau, another prominent member of the Opposition, flatly declared his antagonism to public ownership of railways. Does this mean that if those gentlemen and their associates were in office they would denationalize the Government railways and hand them over to strong private interests, thus creating an absolute private railway monopoly?

Western Liberals will desire to know all about that vote and its significance, and by what right the Opposition claimed the express the opinion of Canadian Liberalism on it. Montreal, of course, is the headquarters of the opposition to the public ownership idea, and unquestionably its view is shared by the big majority of the members of Parliament from the Province of Quebec, but Canadian Liberalism is not confined to the districts represented by the Opposition and its policy certainly is not correctly represented by the reactionary attitude of Mr. McKenzie and his associates.

Certainly there are more practical supporters of public ownership of railways on the Government side of the House than there are in the Opposition. Many of them were converted to their new faith against their will, for nationalization was the only safe solution of the railway problem. But, nevertheless, they are there and they believe it is the business of the country to make the most of the situation. That obligation rests also upon the Opposition. It devolves as much upon Mr. Lemieux as it does upon Sir Thomas White.

AND NOW VON JAGOW

Now comes another book by a member of the Prussian war camarilla. The author this time is Gottlieb von Jagow, German Secretary for Foreign Affairs when the conflict broke out; and his book is entitled "The Universal War, Its Causes and Beginning."

Von Jagow seems to have stolen a march on von Tirpitz, for his book actually has been published, while the ex-Grand Admiral so far only has sent out an advance press notice. There seems to have been a speed contest between the two, which is not surprising in view of the well-known fact that they never pulled together. Von Jagow lost his official head to the combined forces of von Tirpitz at the Admiralty and Falkenhayn at the War Office. We may take it for granted that his book nails the chief responsibility for the war to the military and naval heads of Germany, while that of von Tirpitz charges it to the blundering diplomacy of von Jagow and von Bethmann-Hollweg.

This precipitate rush into literature by the former German leaders is designed to achieve two purposes. One is to escape the opprobrium of posterity, and the other—much more practical—is to divert the lightning of the world's righteous wrath. Their books are so many lightning rods.

The spectacle of the overthrow "war lords," big and little, reeling off manuscript after manuscript in a feverish effort to beat one another to the publisher, and then to the public, is not a little amusing. Von Ludendorff crossed the tape first, for his book was out a few months after the armistice begun, which shows that no sooner had he dropped his sword than he grasped a pen and called for ink and paper. In a competition of that sort, however, speed is not the most important element. The advantage lies with the one who has the last say, and we surmise that the real contest will be between William Hohenzollern, the former Crown Prince and eminent professors like Harnack and Haackel. Perhaps they are collaborating on one ponderous work in which they will seek to prove by scientific theory that the war was the product of spontaneous combustion.

BOLSHEVIK MURDER CARNIVALS

Horrors of Bolshevism rule in Russia are set out in a Blue Book just issued by the British Government. Merciless cruelties are described by reliable eyewitnesses—many of them British subjects—as being without parallel in history. Documentary evidence within the pages of this official record declares a determination of the Bolsheviks to spread their creed of violence, crime and immorality throughout the civilized world.

Here is a sample of the Lenine-Trotsky doctrine culled from The Red Gazette under date of September 1, 1918: "We will make our hearts cruel, hard and immovable so that no mercy will enter them, and so that they will not quiver at the sight of a sea of enemy blood. We will let loose the floodgates of that sea. Without mercy, without sparing, we will kill our enemies in scores of hundreds. Let them be thousands."

And yet cheers for these estimable gentlemen have gone up from the throats of a few Canadian extremists. Labor in this Dominion, however, will see that the small Bolsheviki element is converted to the ranks of reason before it damages itself by following the wrong gleam.

UNCLE SAM BUSY

Industrial group organization (for the development of foreign trade) is proceeding rapidly in the United States already over eighty export associations have been formed under the Webb-Pomeroy law. Among the principle commodities represented by these organizations are: Steel, copper, lumber, textiles, automobiles, machinery, raw cotton, sugar, magnesia, paper, tanning materials, phosphates, etc. One association will limit its foreign trade to clothes-pins. The Government's billion-dollar fund for financing foreign trade will be available soon to exporters through loans from the War Finance Corporation. Regulations now being prepared by the Corporation to cover advances will provide for the lending of sums up to $50,000.00 to any individual firm, corporation or export association, probably at five and three-quarters per cent. interest for a maximum of five years on adequate collateral. Scores of informal applications for information or for advances have been received from individual exporting firms or representatives of the export associations organized under the Webb law.

RIGHT TO TAX OUTSIDE LEGACIES.

Mr. Justice Letellier, in the Superior Court last week rendered his decision in a case where the right of the Province of Quebec to levy a tax from estates on properties owned in other provinces were those of the Granville, Bronckov, Anderson and Whitehead estates against the provincial collector of revenue. The cases involved hundreds of thousands of dollars and would have subsequently affected millions of dollars worth of property willed outside this province by residents of this province. The court found that the province has a perfect right to levy succession duty on all such legacies made outside this province.

STEFANSSON'S PLAN FOR THE FAR NORTH

Urges Dominion Parliament to Create Huge Herds of Reindeer and Musk-Oxen

Ottawa, May 6.—A plan for converting the Arctic and sub-Arctic regions of Canada into a great wool, milk and meat producing area was presented to the Senate and House of Commons today by Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the famous explorer of the Canadian Arctic. Mr. Stefansson's ideas recently were placed before Hon. Arthur Meighen, Minister of the Interior, and it was thought advisable to have the explorer address Parliament. His project involves the introduction of large herds of reindeer and the domestication and development of great herds of musk-oxen. Both animals would furnish milk and meat supplies, and the musk-oxen also would afford a wool supply. The Canadian North, Mr. Stefansson said, could be utilized to help solve present and future food shortages, and development of his project would expedite the opening of mineral and other resources of the north.

Alaska. About twenty years ago, Mr. Stefansson, the Canadian explorer, introduced 1,200 domestic reindeer into Arctic Alaska. The sole aim was to give a possibility of economic independence to the Eskimo. Few of those who expected the enterprise to succeed even dreamed of its present magnitude or the meaning it would have for Alaska to-day or for the world to-morrow. Under Eskimo care these herds have increased at the rate of doubling in three years, but the few animals that are in the hands of white men are found to double in numbers every two years.

In due time, Mr. Stefansson said, Arctic Alaska will supply, not more than 7,000,000 reindeer, producing as much meat yearly as 14,000,000 sheep or seven times the present output of Canada. The Americans now realize, he declared, that they made a mistake in starting the industry on such a small scale, and he warned that Alaska should not make the same mistake.

Seattle, May 6.—Governor Thomas Riggs, Jr., of Alaska, acting on a suggestion made by Vilhjalmur Stefansson, has recommended several times recently that musk-oxen be introduced into Alaska, and that the great stretches of grazing land which lie north and west of the Yukon River.

NO FINANCIAL HELP FOR THE UNIVERSITY

(Continued from page 1) to such municipalities as desire to take advantage of the plan means for the purpose of erecting houses. These loans, it will be recalled, may be made for a period of twenty years at the rate of five per cent. interest, and principal repayable in forty semi-annual instalments.

Dominion Health Act

When the Minister was in Ottawa the Dominion Health Act had not passed through its final stages in the Senate. He made representation, however, to the Hon. N. W. Rowell and expressed his views as to the measure of co-operation that should be exercised between the Federal and Provincial Governments. Dr. MacLean agrees that in a matter of this kind a great deal depends upon the personnel of the Federal Health Board and the amount of financial responsibility assumed by the Dominion Government. He sees considerable benefit by advancing along sane and constructive lines on such subjects as supervision of child welfare and in the control of social diseases.

Dr. MacLean was assured that relief would be given to mental hospitals throughout the Dominion on the condition of peace by the deportation of all foreigners now undergoing treatment in this country.

Visited Old Home. Intervention of the Easter holidays delayed the Minister's return on account of the presence of several of the Federal Ministers during the brief recess. Taking advantage of the time at his disposal Dr. MacLean spent two days at his old home in Prince Edward Island, his first visit in seventeen years.

The very naturally found many changes, but was gratified that they had been of a highly progressive nature. The Island Legislature was in session, and the Minister took an opportunity of listening to a debate on the Budget.

Dr. MacLean reports Eastern Canada generally prosperous, and although social and economic unrest is manifest he describes it as a passing phase. While in Ottawa the Minister attended the debate on the abolition of titles and listened to discussion on the Government's railway measures.

ARMENIANS DESIRE TO BE INDEPENDENT

Paris, May 6.—The Armenian National Congress, which met here last week, in an appeal to the people of the Allied nations insists upon the necessity for a speedy solution of the Armenian question, and expresses the hope that the Peace Conference will make it possible for the Armenians to realize their wish for an independent state.

The Armenian territory beyond the Caucasus, it is added, has formed itself into a republic, and is willing to join with an independent greater Armenia.

The appeal was made in the name of Turkish Armenia, where the Armenians were treated most brutally and are yet liberated.

ANOTHER ATLANTIC AIR CONTESTANT

London, May 6.—Capt. J. Alcock yesterday entered his machine with the Royal Aero Club for the Trans-Atlantic flight for the $50,000 prize offered by The London Daily Mail. Capt. Alcock won the £5,000 for carrying out long distance bombing raids in the Mediterranean, including one against Constantinople. He will fly a Vimy-Bells two-engine aeroplane. His navigator will be Lieut. Arthur Whitten Brown, who was born in Glasgow.

Report on Military Service Act Tabled in House of Commons. Ottawa, May 6.—The report of Lieut.-Colonel Machin, Director of the Military Service Branch, tabled in the House this afternoon, reviews in detail the operations of the Military Service Act. It shows that in all the Military Service Branch made available for military service a total of 179,933 men, and that up to the signing of the armistice there were 113,461 men in the ranks of the military forces.

ITALIANS WILL DEMONSTRATE LOYALTY TO THE ALLIES

Position of Delegates.

On M. Clemenceau's right will be President Wilson and the other American delegates, while on his left Premier Lloyd George and the British representatives will be grouped. Flanking the Americans will come the French delegation with Marshal Foch in the centre. Next to these will be the representatives of Italy, Belgium, Brazil, Greece, Portugal and Serbia.

Fields Open for Canadian Exporters

London, May 6.—(Reuter's.)—It is learned that the credits established by the Canadian Government have been arranged with the two-fold object of assisting Allied countries in their work of construction by enabling them to obtain from Canada commodities they require, and at the same time providing new outlets for Canadian products. It was never intended that this method of increasing exports by Government aid should in any way render less necessary the duty of developing trade through the usual channels of private enterprise.

Yates Street, Phone 2164. J. RYLANDS, Prop. SPECIAL This week—Potatoes, $2.00 per sack. Cooked Meats of all kinds fresh daily.

An interesting letter received by to-day's mail, addressed to the Store with a Heart and a Soul. My dear Maria, these few lines will give you such a tip. Sure, after you have read this note, you'll let all cooking rip. And that's what I intend to do, how Summer's coming on. For you know how kitchen fires annoy my poor John. Last time we picnicked on the beach, it was indeed a treat: Though not a blessed thing I cooked, we had what's hard to beat. You see I'm wiser, and must think that Mrs. J. Want more. For she it was who put me on to going to RYLANDS STORE. And, Oh! the lovely things I bought, which saved that horrid cooking. I looked so happy, John remarked, "My dear, you're quite good-looking." We'd nice cold ham and sausages, pressed beef and three pork pies; Besides two roasted chickens, which gave John a great surprise. And then the way those children gorged, I really thought they'd bust. Why John himself ate two pork pies, yes, every bit of crust. And when I told him how I was done, and such a small expense. He said, "Old woman, you're a brick, you've shown real common sense." So when we take another trip, with luncheon by the sea; I'll bring up John, RYLANDS, see, he's the man for me. For as I can rely on Joe, I'll deal with him again. But now, my dear, I must remain, your loving sister, Jane.

Eight Deaths Are Caused by Fire

Columbus, Ohio, May 6.—Eight persons are known to have perished and a dozen were injured, several probably fatally, in a fire which destroyed a six-story apartment house in the downtown section here shortly after last midnight. Firemen continued during the day to search the debris for other victims who are believed to have perished when four floors at the rear of the building fell to the basement. The dead: Mrs. Carl Steigwald, Mrs. Charles C. Speakman, Mr. and Mrs. George Reifspyder, Louis, Mrs. Speakman's father, Caroline, aged twenty-seven, an elevator operator and an unidentified white woman aged forty.

Apartment House in Columbus, Ohio, the Scene; Gas Jet Was Cause

The flames, said to have originated from an open gas jet, quickly enveloped the single-stairway in the centre of the building and out of the escape of the sixty or more persons in the building. Men, women and children jumped from windows and several children were thrown from upper floors into fire nets.

A New Excuse

A BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and Bunty's Medicine

Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate, (By Howard R. Garis.)

"Oh, Bunty! Bunty! Bunty!" said he, as so stiff he couldn't move. called Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, to the little rabbit girl, who had been found in a hollow stump by Uncle Wiggily Longears. "Ho, Bunty! Bunty! Come here, quickly!" called the muskrat lady housekeeper of the rabbit's bungalow.

"Does Uncle Wiggily want to play tag with me, or hide-and-go-seek?" asked Bunty, as she came running in from the front yard. She had been playing dolls with Susie, Little-tail, the big rabbit girl, and with Lulu and Alice Wiggibobble, the duck girls. "Does Uncle Wiggily want to chase me?" asked Bunty.

"No, indeed!" answered Nurse Jane. "You are altogether too lively for Uncle Wiggily, I'm afraid. He is so stiff and lame, from having chased your doll yesterday, as you were pulling it along through the wood by a string—Uncle Wiggily is so lame from his last hopping that you'll have to go get Dr. Fossam."

"What for?" asked Bunty, who, was, indeed, a lively little rabbit girl, always wanting the bumpy gentleman to play with her and chase her. She said it kept him lively. Well, it did to a certain extent. "Why does Uncle Wig want Dr. Fossam?" asked Bunty, giving Mr. Longears one of his pet names.

"Because he is ill," said Nurse Jane. "He is so lame and stiff that he just sits in an easy chair and grunts. Dr. Fossam will come and give Uncle Wiggily some medicine and then he'll be better."

"All right! I'll go!" said Bunty, and pretty soon she came riding back with the animal doctor in his automobile.

"My! But you came quickly!" said Nurse Jane. Dr. Fossam stopped his car amid a shower of leaves, in front of Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow.

"I just had to!" said Dr. Fossam, getting out and curling his long tail around his satchel of pink, blue, red, yellow and skillimink colored pills. "Bunty said if I didn't ride here as fast as I could make the auto go, maybe Uncle Wiggily would never get better."

"Oh, I think it isn't quite as bad as that," said Nurse Jane. "Still, Uncle Wiggily is very lame and stiff. He says he can't move, from having hopped too lively yesterday."

"Hum! Anybody would be lively where Bunty Bunty was," spoke Dr. Fossam. "Now, I'll have a look at my Uncle Wiggily friend."

"Well, Dr. Fossam gave Mr. Longears red pills and pink pills and yellow pills and brown pills, but still, all that day, the rabbit gentleman sat in his chair and grunted and groaned and

HOW TO MAKE YOUR HAIR BEAUTIFUL

Ter Minute's Home Treatment Works Wonders. Stops Falling Hair, Dandruff and Makes the Hair Soft, Brilliant, Lustrous and Fluffy.

Better than all the so-called "hair tonics" in the world is a simple, old-fashioned home recipe consisting of plain Bay Rum, Lavona (de Compose) and a little Menthol Crystals. These work wonders with any scalp. Try it just one night and see. Get from your drug-gist, or from the Ter Minute's Home Treatment Works, 415 Broadway, New York. Dissolve the Crystals in the Bay Rum and pour in 5 oz. of water. Shake well and let it stand for an hour before using. Apply it by putting a little of the mixture on a soft brush and brush it slowly through the hair, taking just one small strand at a time. This cleanses the hair and scalp, and makes the hair soft, lustrous and fluffy. To stop the hair from falling and to make it grow again, rub the lotion briskly into the scalp with the finger tips or a medium stiff brush. Apply the mixture to the hair every day. You will not find a single loose or straggling hair. They will be locked on your heads as tight as steel. Dandruff will disappear. You will find fine downy new hairs sprouting up all over your scalp and your hair will grow with wonderful rapidity.

Any druggist can sell you the above. The prescription is very inexpensive and is a case of nothing so effective and certain in its results.

Popular Girl Contest—Miss Dolly Mescock, nominee for the Dominion Hotel, and Miss Trissie Hunt, nominated by the Yorkshire Bakery, were entered yesterday as candidates in the Popular Girl Contest, to be conducted in connection with the big pageant on May 24. The three girls already nominated and whose names have previously been published are Miss Nora Moray, candidate for the W. A. of the G. W. V. A.; Miss Grace Stevenson, for the Foundation Company, and Miss Lily Dooley. A number of ballot tickets have already been distributed in the leading stores, and votes are already being cast for the various candidates.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour, Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried, perhaps, bicarb, soda, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little bisurated magnesia—the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, oxide or milk, but the pure bisurated magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference it makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bitter or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow every thing you eat.

You will find that provided you take a little bisurated magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and moreover, the continued use of the bisurated magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.

WORLD-WIDE CAMPAIGN

AGAINST SOCIAL EVIL

Advocated by Conference of International Red Cross Societies at Cannes

In view of the steps taken to combat the social evil in British Columbia by the recent passing of the Act for the Suppression of Venereal Disease, every social worker and every citizen will be interested to learn that the delegates at the conference of Red Cross Societies at Cannes, in the Riviera, have considered an informal draft of the report of the venereal disease sub-committee of the Central International Health Bureau, which Dr. Ducey, Pija University, is chairman. The British representatives on the committee are Col. Harrison, R.A.M.C., Sir Arthur Newsholme, and Dr. Menzies.

World-Wide Campaign.

What the sub-committee advocates is nothing less than a great world-wide campaign against venereal disease, details of which would have to be decided by the Central International Health Bureau, which it is proposed to set up.

In their comprehensive report the committee draws attention to the social and moral problems involved in carrying out an active fight against this scourge of humanity. Particular emphasis was laid by several speakers on the most effective method of fighting the scourge by providing entertainments and recreation for people, by improving and safeguarding home influences and home comforts, and by the management of early marriages. Several delegates pleaded for the custodial care of the feeble-minded and isolation of infected individuals, who will be controlled by law.

Educational Propaganda.

Among measures suggested by individual delegates for the elimination of the conditions of environment favoring the dissemination of venereal disease were the repression of commercialized vice, abolition of state toleration of prostitution, repression of street soliciting, compulsory notification of disease, and improved medical treatment. An active campaign of educational propaganda was strongly advocated by means of the cinema, posters, lectures, and newspaper articles to bring home to the ordinary man and woman the knowledge now possessed by experts.

States Must Unite

Dr. Edouard Rist, of the French Health Service, remarked that in countries where vice was recognized by the State a considerable change of opinion was taking place, and abolition movements in England and Italy were making headway. If the Governments of the world had met to fight the white slave traffic, was there any reason why they should not do so to fight a danger so closely allied to it?

I. O. D. E. Chapter Meets.

Thirty members were in attendance at the regular monthly meeting of the Florence Nightingale Chapter, I. O. D. E., held at headquarters on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Middleton, Mrs. Eve and Mrs. Brenton were elected to the roster. The treasurer reported the financial statement of the entertainment given at the home of Mrs. Baker, by which the sum of $113.20 accrued to the chapter funds. A standing vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. Baker and to the various committees who had worked so indefatigably towards the success of the affair. Ten dollars was voted towards the work of the sewing committee, which will meet at the home of Mrs. Hudson, Fernwood Road, on Wednesday afternoon.

The more findings a man has the more he enjoys his outings.

"PATHFINDER" WILL BE NAME OF PLANE

Miss G. Richards Will Christen Machine To-morrow Afternoon; Programme of Stunts

Victoria's first aeroplane is to be known as the "Pathfinder," which is quite significant and fitting in view of the fact that this machine will be the pioneer of aviation in Western Canada.

At the big field day to be held at the Willows aerodrome to-morrow afternoon, commencing at 2 o'clock, Miss Richards will christen the machine. A bottle of champagne will be broken on the under-carriage and the sponsor will confer the name "Pathfinder" on the "bus."

Immediately after Miss Richards has christened the plane, Major-General Leckie, C.M.G., G.O.C., will make the first official swing of the propeller. Following this the "Pathfinder" will taxi along the race track in front of the grand stand and turn on the oval, where it will do several other manoeuvres while taxi-ing.

Amazing Stunts Flying alone Pilot Clemence will take the "Pathfinder" up to a high altitude and execute all the known tricks and feats in flying. He will loop the loop, spin, roll, half roll, perform the Immelman turn and other famous feats which will cause the spectators to hold their breath in a gasp.

Following the stunts the "Pathfinder" will carry several passengers. These will be the first official passenger-carrying flights. The Aerial League has a large list of people who wish to make flights in the plane. It is a novel means of transportation at present, but the future will see it as not only the fastest but safest of any form of transport.

This evening at 8:30 o'clock the "Pathfinder" will take off from the Willows and make a flight over this city. It will carry as a passenger a representative of the Y.M.C.A. The plane will hover over the Royal Athletic Park, when a baseball will be dropped. This ball will be used in a game between the rival teams in the Y.M.C.A. drive.

The "Pathfinder" will be kept quite busy carrying out work which has already been secured by the Aerial League. But this will only be in keeping with all pathfinders. In Fenimore Cooper's famous book, "The Pathfinder," this was the nickname given to the popular hero Natty Bumppo, and was also the sobriquet of General John C. Fremont, who explored the Rocky Mountains and found many new passages.

How Provincial Official Got Tax-Arrears From Non-Resident

If a recent incident which occurred on the Mainland may be taken as a criterion, escape from payment of arrears of income tax by former or present permanent residents of British Columbia appears to be extremely problematical. The particular incident narrated by the Provincial Department of Finance is a case where a former resident of this Province went to live in the United States; but he crossed the border with his memory unresponsive to a liability of over $500 in income tax arrears.

So well and so good; he, however, came to the Mainland recently by automobile—his own property, of course—and this particular fact became known to the Victoria assessor. Promptly enlisting the machinery of a sheriff's office, the car was gently pulloined as a temporary argument of support to the Government's claim upon at least five hundred dollars' worth of kind. Needless to say the perspicacity of the Victoria official, while performing duties on the Mainland, relieved the visitor from the other side of his liability in the shape of a perfectly good cheque and the Treasury got its due.

But the moral from the point of view of the Minister of Finance is not overlooking the unsuspecting offender who may chance to visit these parts from elsewhere, nor does it propose to be any less lenient with British Columbians who may regard taxes as little matters to be forgotten. The Department, however, is well pleased with the manner in which these arrears of taxes are coming in and, so far, extreme measures have not been necessary with resident British Columbians.

MAGGABEES MEET IN VANCOUVER

Many Victoria Delegates at Provincial Rally of Women's Benefit Association

The Provincial rally of the Women's Benefit Association of the Maggabees opened at the Vancouver Hotel yesterday morning, with Mrs. R. P. Pettipiece, district deputy, presiding. The session was public, and the programme opened with the singing of "The Maple Leaf" and "O Canada." The rally was called to order by Mrs. Minnie W. Aydelotte, D. S. C. Mrs. Pettipiece extended greetings to the supreme officers, and response was made by Miss Bina M. West, supreme commander, and Dr. Ella Field, superintendent medical examiner. Mrs. Agnes Turnbull gave greetings to the visiting members, and response was made by Mrs. Janet Carlow, secretary hospital board.

A large number of delegates from all over the Province were present. Among the delegates from Victoria were the following: Representing Queen Alexandra Review, Mrs. Angus Galbraith, Commander; Mrs. Carlow, Record Keeper; and Mesdames Ricketts, Irvine, McKoon, T. Watson, Campbell and Hall; Victoria Review, No. 1, Mrs. Lehmann, Commander; and Mrs. Grise, Past Commander; Baxter Review, Mrs. Brynman, Record Keeper, and Mesdames Harrison and Winter.

Miss West, the Supreme Commander, accompanied by Mrs. West and Dr. Field, made a short stay in Victoria on Saturday when on their way from Seattle to Vancouver. The distinguished visitors were met at the boat by the three Commanders of the local Review, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Galbraith and Mrs. Lehman, and were taken for a drive around the waterfront before re-embarking for Vancouver.

FARCE BALL GAME TO BE PLAYED TO-NIGHT

Teams in Y. M. C. A. Drive to Provide Free Amusement; Aeroplane Coming Over

There will be plenty of fun and amusement at the Royal Athletic Park this evening when two baseball teams of business men, representing the contesting teams in the Y.M.C.A. drive, take the field. They will attempt to play a game of ball, but it is expected that the umpire, James Fletcher, of Fletcher Bros., will have a difficult time holding the players down. It will be more of an open-air comedy than a demonstration of the national game.

Fred McGregor and Dr. M. Raynor, who captain the two teams, will do the pitching. They are both right-handers. This afternoon they were both receiving instruction from one of the umpire's boys to learn in how to throw a "splitter," out and in-curves. When the batters walk to the plate they will be mystified by the baffling curves served up.

Some of you know what a baseball glove is meant for and no doubt there will be some thrilling and hair-raising triple plays pulled off. All the players state that if the umpire makes any bad decisions there'll be a hot fight for men who do not deal in live goods.

Fred McGregor's team will consist of the following: A. E. Foreman, Kenneth Ferguson, Alex. McKenzie, R. W. McKoy, J. W. J. W. Maynard, J. W. Spencer and W. White.

Dr. Raynor is not prepared to give out his full line-up. He claims to have several dark horses which will be springing when the pinches come. Those whose reputations he does not wish to hide are as follows: Frank Holdridge, Dr. Morris Thomas, Capt. George McGregor, Sgt. Smith, M. J. and H. B. Witter.

The baseball which will be used in opening the game will be dropped from the "Pathfinder," which will swoop down over the park. Physical Director Thompson, who is making the flight as a passenger, will try and hit the grounds with the ball.

The ballgame is free and a big crowd is expected.

Good Progress Reported. Splendid progress is reported in connection with the drive which opened this morning. At a tugchen held in the Y.M.C.A. to-day it was reported that $2,000 had been subscribed. The workers were very enthusiastic and stated that they had been cordially received everywhere they went.

CAMPAIGN IS SUCCESS

Believed Development Association Drive for $7,000 is Over-Subscribed.

Publicity Commissioner W. A. McAdam, of the Victoria and Island Development Association, states that while all returns are not yet in he believes that the full amount of $7,000 which the Association set out to raise for publicity purposes in the drive which closed last night has been realized.

It is known definitely that about $6,500 has been subscribed, but a number of local houses have to refer to the morning. At a tugchen held in the Mainland before they can donate to the fund. Mr. McAdam thinks, however, that when complete returns are in it will be found that the amount which the Association set out to raise will be over-subscribed. The Association thanks all those who worked so hard in the campaign for funds.

Agnes Deans Cameron Chapter.—The monthly meeting of the Agnes Deans Cameron Chapter, I. O. O. E., was held Monday evening at headquarters, the Regent, Mrs. L. H. Hardie, president. A large amount of correspondence was dealt with, and delegates appointed to various committees. A very full and interesting report of Municipal Chapter, also of the Provincial Chapter, was given by Mrs. Woodson. Mrs. Dorman, for fields collectors, reported socks turned in for year 1918—899 pairs. Eight pairs for month of April. The book donated to the Y. W. C. A. by the late Mrs. Armstrong, by Mrs. Hudson Bernard. Arrangements were completed and committees appointed for the card party to be held at the home of Mrs. H. Currie, Cherrybank, on May 16. Mrs. G. S. Brown was welcomed by the chapter as a new member.

OBITUARY RECORD

The death occurred last evening at the Royal Jubilee Hospital of Hazel Ward, beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Ward of 1927 Queen's Avenue. The late Miss Ward was twenty-three years of age, born in Brockton, Mass., and had been a resident of this city for the past two weeks, formerly residing at Vancouver, B. C. She is survived by her parents, one sister, Mrs. J. W. Whitfield and two brothers, all residing in this city, and one sister, Mrs. J. Hill in Vancouver. The remains are reposing at the Sands Funeral Chapel. Funeral announcements will be made later.

John Haggerty, a resident of Victoria for the past twenty-one years, passed away last night at his home on Manor Road, Craigdarroch, at the age of sixty-one years. A native of Scotland the late Mr. Haggerty came to America with his parents when but nine years of age. For many years he carried on the business of contractor here, undertaking a number of important works. The remains are reposing at the B. C. Funeral Chapel, where private services will be held on Wednesday afternoon. The body will be forwarded for cremation. It is particularly requested that no flowers be sent.

The funeral of James R. Fraser took place yesterday afternoon from the family residence, McBride Avenue, at 2:30, Rev. Dr. Campbell officiating. The pallbearers were: A. M. Jones, Robert Jones, J. W. Jones, E. Harris, H. Pearce and F. Stanton. The remains were interred in Rose Bay Cemetery, the arrangements being in the hands of the Thomson Funeral Co.

The funeral of Anthony Hawkins has been arranged to take place on Thursday at 2:30 p.m. from the B. C. Funeral Chapel, where service will be held. Rev. J. W. Filston will officiate.

GIRLS, BY CAJOLERY, STORMED OUTER WHARF

Military Orders Ignored When Bevy of Beauty Appealed to Obliging Officer

Blandishments of the fair sex had the effect of over-ruing the better judgment of one of the more youthful officers attached to the local military establishment on the occasion of the arrival of the troopship Montezale and as a consequence of the persuasive powers of a bevy of beautiful damsels on the gallant but impressionable officer the military regulations regarding access to the wharf were hurried into the discard and the dock area thrown open to all who wished to promenade an incidentally greet the soldiers homebound from Siberia.

Immediately the hour of the arrival of the Montezale became known the soldiers went forth from military headquarters that the general public would not be allowed on the wharf and armed pickets were placed at the dock approaches to guarantee the enforcement of the instructions. For a while only shipping officials and those armed with passes were recognized by the soldiers on duty. Pretty girls anticipating the arrival of a friend or maybe a sweetheart, pleaded to be admitted, but the pickets had received their instructions and remained obdurate.

How It Was Done. Finally a youthful officer came along and the girls saw their chance. In a flash the officer was the centre of attraction. "May we go on the wharf?" and "Do give us permission to enter," they chanted collectively and the obliging officer, doubtless flattered by the attentions of the girlish throng, said in his best manner, "Oh, yes, let them in."

In the face of these orders from a superior officer the pickets were at a loss what to do, and without more ado the girls triumphantly raced across the intervening space, hailed by the boys who crowded the decks of the liner and received a rousing cheer in return. Subsequently the guard at the dock entrances allowed everybody on the wharf and by the time the Montezale was berthed alongside a good-sized crowd was there to extend the soldiers a welcome.

But this the landing of the first returning contingent of the Canadian Siberian Expeditionary Force would have been a very tame affair.

REORGANIZE 50TH GORDONS

Lieut.-Col. Ross Will Take Command of Famous Regiment; "Jocks" Always Popular.

The 50th Gordon Highlanders is to be reorganized immediately. Lieut.-Col. Lorne Ross, D.S.O., has received permission from Ottawa to proceed with the work. Prior to the outbreak of war the 50th Gordons was a crack regiment of this city. Unfortunately, it was unable to bear its standard in the fighting zone, but it sent many good men overseas.

In France the "Jocks," as the kilted regiments were always known, were the most popular. It was a common saying that there was a hard part of the line to take, "Oh, well, put the Jocks in, they'll take it."

There is little doubt but that the "Jock" regiments will be the most popular in peace days. The Gordon Highlanders will probably be recruited to a strength of 500. Col. Ross has had a great deal of experience with the kilted warriors. In the early days of the war he served with the 16th Battalion, better known as the "Canadian Scots," and was fifty-three years old. In 1907 he married Miss Helen Powell, of Ottawa. Seven children survive him.

Was Well-Known Here.—Hon. C. W. Fisher, Speaker of the Alberta Legislature, who passed away at Edmonton yesterday after a long illness, was well-known in Victoria, having spent last winter here in the interests of his health. The late Speaker first entered political life in 1903, when he was elected to the Legislative Council of the Northwest Territories for Banff. Two years later he was elected for the same constituency in the Alberta House. When the constituency of Cochrane was formed in 1909 he was chosen as its representative, being re-elected in 1913 and 1917. He was a native of Hyde Park, Middlesex County, Ontario, and was fifty-three years old. In 1907 he married Miss Helen Powell, of Ottawa. Seven children survive him.

FROM LANGEMARCK AT VPRES.

But in that line of the British right, There massed a corps amain, Of men who hailed from a far west land Of mountain and forest and plain;

Men new to war and its dreaded deeds, But noble and staunch and true; Men of the open, East and West, Brew of old Britain's brew.

These were the men out there that night, When Hell boomed close ahead; Who saw that pitful, hideous rout, And breathed those gasps of dread; While some went under and some went mad; But never a man there fled.

For the word was "Canada," theirs to fight, And keep on fighting still; Britain said fight, and fight they would, Though the Devil himself in sulphurous mood Came over that hideous hill.

Yea, stubborn, they stood, that hero band, Where no soul hoped to live; For five, 'gainst eighty thousand men, Were hopeless odds to give.

Ringed round, hemmed in, and back to back, They fought there under the dark, And won for Empire, God and Right, At grim, red Langemarck.

Bannockburn, Inkerman, Balaclava, Marathon's god-like stand; But never a more heroic deed, And never a greater warrior breed, In any war-man's land.

This is the ballad of Langemarck, A story of glory and might; Britain said fight, and fight they would, Of the vast Hun horde, and Canada's part In the great, grim fight.

Major Gray, of Winnipeg, together with the city treasurer, went to New York recently to put through a bond conversion which would make the bond sold in England payable in New York, and thus create a saving on exchange. It is hoped to reduce the city's debt by $15,000, but the actual cash saving will be about $55,000, according to city officials.

RESTRICTED BUSINESS AREA FOR CHINAMEN

City Must Have Additional Powers to Cope With Menacer, Says Alderman

The growing menace of Chinese competition in the retail business of Victoria was discussed briefly by the City Council last night.

Should Draw a Line. Let the Government go further then insisted Alderman Johns. We did not think we would get that law enacted.

GRANTING OF MILK LICENCES DEBATED

Aldermen Disposed to Retain Power Intended for Health Officer

The milk problem which has been before the City Council for some weeks past, was up again for discussion at last night's meeting of the Aldermen.

Reporting to the Council following a lengthy discussion of the milk situation last week, City Solicitor Hanington stated that already the Health Officer had power to prosecute offenders against the by-law, as was desired by the Council.

The Council, however, in spite of its decision last week, did not appear disposed to approve the amendment whereby the Health Officer would be given power to issue licenses.

Alderman Sargent saw no reason why the Council should not continue to grant vendors' licenses as little "red tap" was thus involved.

The Alderman, describing the new plan as an "objectionable feature," moved that the by-law be shelved.

The practice of referring vendor's licenses to the Council was really useless, Alderman Cameron contended, as the Council always followed the Health Officer's advice.

WOULD CLEAN UP AND RE-NAME FOWL BAY

Present Name Thought to Distract From Popularity of Resort

Fowl Bay beach should be cleaned and renamed, the City Council was told last night in a letter from P. R. Pike.

Pointing out that the partial cleaning of the beach last year had been much appreciated, Mr. Pike urged that the city should remove the logs which at present covered the sand.

It is regrettable, wrote Mr. Pike, that one of Victoria's most popular beauty spots should be consistently ignored and neglected.

LETTERS

VETERANS' GENEROSITY.

To the Editor.—I noticed by Saturday Times that the Comrades of the Great War have decided to combine with the other ex-service organizations in promoting the Victoria Day festival.

To the Editor.—Early in October, 1919, the Canada Food Board made an order commanding butter throughout Canada.

There was nothing in this order that gave them possession of any portion of the butter in storage. It has been quite generally reported by the manufacturers of butter throughout the country.

During the winter months the Food Board would not permit exportation of creamery butter, or cream, except by special permit.

In March, this year, the Food Board altered their attitude re export and permitted butter to be shipped out of the country.

That October to March cold storage holding for higher prices indicates how certain parties connected with the Food Board, or their friends in close touch with that Board, could make large profits as a result of those actions.

As the workers and consumers generally have reason to believe that such profiteering took place behind the Board when grain, flour, feedstuffs and substitutes were being controlled, is it not in the public interest that the Dominion Parliament should now cause thorough and precise inquiry to be made into such operations of the Food Board during recent years?

Receives Statement.—The provisional statement of the Local Improvement Commissioners on the Pandora Avenue expropriation was received by the City Council last night.

Grant For Nurses.—A grant of $500 for the Victorian Order of Nurses was decided upon by the City Council last night.

Notice.—Dr. Bechtel wishes to announce that the National Adjusting Association of Los Angeles, in sending out threatening letters to his patients for the purpose of collecting accounts, are acting without his authority and his patients are warned to ignore these letters and send no money to them.

Will Rent Fire Halls.—Three of the city's vacant fire halls, now out of commission will be rented, as a result of a decision of the City Council last night. Tenders for the rental of the buildings will be received until Monday, May 12.

To Settle Accounts.—By voting the sum of $603.15, the City Council at last night's meeting cleared up the last of the indebtedness incurred in connection with the opening of the Emergency Hospital during the influenza epidemic of last fall.

Will Not Work in Rain.—When it rains Victoria's street cleaners will not work, in spite of their intimation that the wet weather has no effect on their labors. The City Council is of the opinion that, though rain facilitates street cleaning, the men's health should be the first consideration.

Claim Damages.—The closing of Alpha Street to the east has depreciated the value of a number of lots in Block Three to the extent of fifty per cent. The City Council was informed last night in a letter from Alexis Martin, acting for the owners of the property involved. Mr. Martin, therefore, made formal application for damages. The communication was referred to the City Solicitor for a reply.

To Remove Fence.—The City Council is literally "going after" the much-discussed Craighdarroch fence. That is, the Council, after hearing last night a report on the legal aspect of the case, instructed the Engineer to remove the fencing, which was taken away to form one boundary of H. E. Munday's property. Mr. Munday served in part, Civic employees put the fence on my lot, and if you want it you can take it away whenever you like." Reporting to the Council that he had threatened Mr. Munday with a legal action unless he paid the $16.25 in dispute, City Solicitor Hamington said that the only step to be taken was for the city to go and remove the fence. In view of Mr. Munday's remarks, he considered that it would be useless to bring action against him.

Friendly Help Association.—Sixteen members were present at the meeting of the Friendly Help Association this evening. A cordial welcome was extended to Mrs. Williscroft, who attended after an absence of many years. A vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. Watson, who very kindly took charge of the rooms for the past week. A resolution of sympathy was passed to the family of the late Miss McDowell, who had been a faithful worker and recording secretary of the Association. The Friendly Help Association acknowledges, with grateful thanks, the following donations received in April: Cash, from the city, Griffiths Hughes, C. F. Todd, A. Laidler, J. D. Virtue, A. Daily Co., J. E. Painter & Son, Richard Hall & Sons, W. Walker & Sons and James Adam. Clothing, from Mrs. H. Martin, Mrs. Goulding Wilson, Mrs. Talbot, Mrs. Price, Mrs. Huddleston, Fairlie Red Cross, Mrs. Douglas Bullen, Mrs. Leigh, Jan, Mr. Taylor; vegetables, Mrs. Pemberton; cakes, Victoria West Brotherhood. Summer clothing for children is very much needed, especially for little girls, and a suit of clothes for a fourteen-year-old boy.

EXPRESSES OPINION ON ROTHERD SMELTER

Industrial Committee of Victoria Reconstruction Group Sends View to Government

That the Rotherd electric furnace proposed for British Columbia by an American syndicate should be developed by the British Columbia Government, and that the unused electric energy of the Stamp Falls should be utilized by the Government to provide the electrical energy needed for the development of the iron and steel industry of the Province, is the substance of a resolution passed by the Industrial Committee of the Victoria Reconstruction Group.

Copies have been sent to each member of the Executive Council.

As the situation stands at present, the Cabinet has been asked by the Vancouver delegation asking for subsidy assistance to the plant, and to bring it to the Vancouver district, while the Industrial Committee, composed of representatives of the returned soldiers' organizations here, has requested the Government to suspend action until members have an opportunity to hear the results of inquiries they are prosecuting with a view to operation of the smelter themselves.

The resolution of the Industrial Committee of the Victoria Reconstruction Group sets out that the policy of guaranteeing bonds as in direct contravention to the policy of the Industrial Committee. Reference is made also to the provincial experience of guaranteeing bonds of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

It is therefore urged "that the industries of the Province should be developed by Provincial finances for the benefit of the community, at large rather than for that of certain individuals."

VICTORIA COUNTY SPRING ASSIZES COMMENCED TO-DAY

Chief Justice Hunter Speaks on Functions of Grand Juries

OBJECTIONABLE CASES IN CALENDAR HERE

Ten indictments charged against six men were referred to the Grand Jury by Chief Justice Hunter this morning when the Spring Assize opened here. His Lordship will also consider the case of Rose Churton, charged with theft, and in whose case the Court of Appeal at its last sitting here ordered a new trial.

Grand Jury Functions
His Lordship called attention to the fact that in recent years it had become the habit of public authorities to pay very little attention to presentments of Grand Juries, and there was also a tendency to advocate the abolition of Grand Juries, which he deplored.

It fell to see the reason for this course, seeing that Grand Juries are constituted of men of independence and responsibility. It is a good thing to have such men visit our public institutions and bring in recommendations for bettering conditions.

"It has been suggested, and I believe by resolution in our own Legislature, that the Grand Jury be abolished. The only reason I can see for this suggestion is on account of the expense. We all know that institutions which are designed to obtain liberty and keep law and order in the community cost money to maintain. There can therefore be no well-founded objection if the institution continues to fulfil its useful functions. If it serves the purpose of seeing that people are not improperly prosecuted, if it will still be served as a bulwark of British Justice."

Would Be "Fatal Move."
"The idea of substituting the Attorney-General for the Grand Jury, a responsible body of citizens, no matter how wise the Attorney-General might be, would be a fatal move, and would result in the latter being placed in an unfortunate position on frequent occasions.

"During my experience on the bench I have never known a case of the kind where the Grand Jury being misused or misled," said His Lordship.

The Judge then went on to say that to change the present system would open the way to all sorts of bribery in connection with prosecutions and the miscarriage of justice in many ways.

He advised the jury to visit public institutions, to investigate everything that deals with public morality, public health or justice. "Complaints have been made about the milk situation, and it is claimed that persons are unwilling to do so. It is your privilege to investigate all these things and bring in your presentments," concluded His Lordship.

The Cases.
Dealing with the cases on the calendar, the Chief Justice said: "I regret that on the present occasion there are among the ten indictments brought before you for consideration, some that are rather unusual and of a character that the Court is not often called upon to deal with."

He then explained the duties of the Grand Jury, and reviewed briefly the cases to be dealt with as follows: The cases charged with stealing a bicycle from a man named Newman.

Britt, three charges of receiving stolen property.

Lum Boue, charged with having carnal knowledge of a girl under fourteen years of age.

Gigliello, charged with a similar offence.

Under Singh, charged with an offence in connection with three small boys.

His Lordship also told the jury they would have to consider another charge of a heinous nature against another prisoner.

The Jury.
Fred E. Pemberton was elected foreman of the jury, which includes the following: Alfred Edward Allen, John Andrew Bechtel, Thomas Cooper, Gordon Holdcroft, Richard Jackson, John Lewellyn Leigh, Samuel Machure, Herbert Macklin, Francis Joseph O'Reilly, Thomas Stevenson, Francis Wilton Stevenson and David Scott Spencer.

To Extend Observatory Buildings.—Dr. Plaskett, of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory at Saanich, has received notice that the Federal supplementary estimates will make provision for the sum of $38,000, to be used in the completion of the Observatory building, as laid down in the original plan. This sum will cover the cost of erection of two dwellings, one for Dr. Plaskett and the other for one of the astronomers, and also an office building, to include rooms for photographic work and measuring.

VICTORIA THE NORTHWEST WORLD

The Victoria Cricket Club Will Be Strengthened by Several New Players

Writing on the Victoria Cricket Club, Hubert Lefthay, hon. secretary-treasurer, remarks: From present indications it would appear that the Victoria Cricket Club—the premier club in the city—is likely to have a most successful season.

It will give the faithful supporters of the club—gentlemen who have been the means of keeping the Victorias' flag flying during the past most difficult four years—any amount of pleasure to think that the future of the club is absolutely assured.

Duke of Devonshire Patron. His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire has very kindly consented to act as patron, a letter from Mr. Arthur Sladen, his private secretary, having been received to this effect.

From the foregoing it will be easily seen that the aggregation is a most powerful one and will make a lot of batting. Their first match will be staged at the Jubilee Hospital ground next Saturday, when they meet the "Foundation Ramblers."

Notable Players. The Victoria C.C. is extremely fortunate in having once more on its list of members such notable players as J. Hobden Gillespie, Sholto Gillespie and D. L. Gillespie (brothers), L. S. V. York, and G. C. Grant, each requiring little or no introduction. The Gillespies are all "Loretto" boys, good batsmen, whilst "Sholto" was, and undoubtedly still is, one of the best medium paced bowlers in the Province; Hedden is at present in Vancouver; but it is hoped that he will be seen in the eleven before very long.

L. S. V. York is undoubtedly one of the most reliable all-round cricketers in the city, and good things are expected from him. G. C. Grant will take charge of the stumpers' duties, and in addition to securing many victims behind the "sticks," he is relied upon to credit the score sheet with many runs. He is a left-handed batsman of excellent calibre, and from Saturday's showing has apparently struck his stride right away.

A Popular Skipper. It is only right and proper to state, before going any further, that the popular "skipper" of the team—H. A. Goward—has undoubtedly been one of the chief factors in keeping the club together during the past few years, and, under his leadership, the "Victorians" will carry off many honors in 1919. "Giddy" possesses a delightful personality and has the happy knack of getting the best out of his men at the right moment—many a contest is won in this fashion. Goward's motto is "No match is lost until the last ball has been bowled." Outside of his ability as a captain "Gid" can be relied upon to "clean up" many a powerful side, whilst he is also capable of demoralizing any bowler—he is the biggest hitter playing cricket in Victoria; he bats and bowls left-handed.

A Veteran Vice-Captain. J. W. D. York (the vice-captain) has been with the club for numerous years, and can always be counted upon to come off at the right moment either as a batsman or bowler. With the yellow he is more than useful—a sound defence, a variety of strokes, the late cut, however, being his pet. As a trundler he is not to be despised—a most dangerous man to take liberties with, as many an excellent batsman has found to his sorrow.

J. R. Matson was seen with the club at the latter part of season 1918, and it was then generally admitted he would prove quite an asset. "Jack," who comes from "Harrow," bowls real well, seems to possess tons of energy, and will have numerous victims before the summer ends. He bats left-handed and is of the forcing type—a type that is most useful when runs are headed badly at the right moment.

New Comers. J. H. and W. B. Wilson (also "Loretto" boys) will be seen in Victoria cricket circles for the first time this year—the former is a slow left-handed bowler of good ability, and a batsman with a variety of strokes; whilst the latter will also give a good account of himself before the season has advanced.

J. L. Irvine is also a new arrival in town. He comes from "North of the Tweed" and has played quite a lot of cricket in the west of Scotland League. Frundling is his "long suit."

A. F. Mitchell, a sound and careful batsman and a very good change bowler, is also with the club, whilst W. H. M. Robertson, W. M. Ivel and F. Wright (a most industrious man in the field) can all be relied upon to

HOCKEY CHAMPIONS PRESENTED WITH CUP

Stars of the Steel Blades Tried a Hand at Oratory

As captain of the Foundation Hockey team, Charlie Burnett, on behalf of the boys who carried off the city championship, received the Dudley Cup to add to the Foundation Company's collection of pots at an enjoyable banquet held at the Jubilee Cafe last night. The genial president, John Mowat, made an excellent chairman and several of the stars of the ice hockey game with varying success tried their skill at after-dinner speaking before Auld Lang Syne wound up the programme. After the toast of the King had been honored a silent tribute was paid to "our fallen comrades."

The Champs. Darrell Spence proposed the toast of "the league champions," who, according to the toast list, "bore their blushing honors thick upon them." He considered that hockey was the king of sports. They had developed a league that brought out the best in a man. It had always been his assumption that if a man were a good sportsman he was a good man and one that could be banked upon. Charlie Burnett in responding to the same toast, thanked the league officials for the manner they had conducted the league during the past season.

Percy Richardson, donor of the Dudley Cup, in presenting the silverware to the Foundation captain, said that last season amateur hockey enjoyed the greatest season it had ever experienced, and the amateurs had come to stay. Much of the success had been due to the earnest work of the league president, "Mr. Fatima Mowat," and the secretary, "Mr. Mowat." Hearty applause was accorded the Foundation captain as he stepped forward to receive the trophy.

The Hon. John Hart presented prizes of rings to the individual members of the team, and incidentally mentioned that it was a coincidence that he should present the prizes to the company which he had been credited with being instrumental in bringing to Victoria. Although the president had announced him as a former hockey player he confessed that all the hockey he had played was as a captain of a grass hockey team in Victoria.

A touching feature of the presentation was when the father of Bobby Morgan, who was one of the players who helped the shipbuilders to win the 1918 championship, presented him with a ring on behalf of his son, who has since died of Spanish influenza.

Mr. Jenkins, after the rings were presented, thanked Hon. John Hart on behalf of the Foundation team. Mr. Hart, he mentioned, was instrumental in getting the Foundation Company to Victoria, and he was looked to as an honored guide for business activities the company planned for the future.

The Secretary. A ring was also presented to the Secretary in acknowledgment of the work he has done for the league. In responding, Mr. Watson said some people thought that because a secretary took home the minutes that he had all kinds of time on his hands. (Even after a long pause some of the steel blade artists were still thinking it over). Mr. Watson gave a brief resume of the season's work and pointed out that more people had attended the amateur hockey games last season than any other season.

After "Senator" George Strath had "fallen down" on the duty his teammate, Mr. Quinn, proposed "Our National Winter Game."

Hockey History. Lester Patrick, in reply, gave some interesting facts on the history of hockey. Hockey in some form or other, he said, had been played for over a thousand years. They had proofs that the Romans played hockey, but whether it was on skates they were unable to say. It was first known in Canada in 1880, and the first league was organized in 1887, when the famous Stanley Cup, emblematic of the world's championship, was donated.

Progress and in the city of Montreal there were somewhere in the neighborhood of 600 organized hockey clubs which meant about 6,000 players. Hockey was universally recognized as the most strenuous game in the world, and certainly was the most strenuous. It was recognized not as Canada's national winter game, but as Canada's national game. Hockey has contributed a great share to the making of the Canadian Expeditionary Force man any other sport, he declared.

Athletic training, he declared, was essential to the making of good citizens. In providing clean sport for young people they were moulding the way for good citizens.

Jack O'Brien proposed "The Press." Patrick, W. Nesbit, T. Elder and Lester Patrick contributed to the entertainment.

BASEBALL COUPONS WILL BE PERMIT TO FLY

Coupons are being issued by the Victoria Baseball Club, which will entitle the holder of the winning number to a flight in an aeroplane over the ball grounds on Saturday afternoon during the Victoria-Vancouver series. The coupons will be distributed around the city previous to the game, but the holder must be present at the game to be entitled to a flight in the clouds with one of the members of the aerial League of Canada. Exhibition stunts over the grounds will be given on Friday, although Manager Brown points out neither the Teyes or the daring aviator are inviting any of the fans to take the flight on the day set for the circus stuff.

LADY IN RUNNING AT OREGON SHOOT

Arlington Representative With Score of 147 is Leading

Pendleton, Ore., May 5.—W. K. France, of Arlington, with a score of 147 for the day, leads to-night in the first half of the six hundred target championship event of the Oregon State Trapshoot which opened here to-day. There were twenty-two full squads at the traps. Aside from Hugh Poston, San Francisco professional, four amateurs tied for second place in the day's event with 146 each. F. Troeh, of Vancouver, Wash.; L. Rayburn, of Portland; J. Seavey, of Portland, and H. Sharrman, of Salt Lake. H. P. Furman, San Francisco professional, shot 145. A. E. Cathay, of Portland; Guy Cheeseman, of Lewis-Clabok, Keller, of Portland, and J. Troeh, Vancouver, each broke 143.

Blair and Miss Ada Schilling divided fourth place with 142 each. Seavey took the Evering trophy, a 25-bird handicap event, by shooting twenty-four targets in a shoot-off with eight others, tied at twenty-five. Third place was divided nine ways and fourth place fifteen. Poston has an unfinished high run of thirty-eight to start the second day. Fifteen amateurs recorded runs of better than 80, each to-day.

Rain Interfered. Baltimore, May 5.—After Birmingham had scored five runs in the opening half of the third inning this afternoon, rain requiring a four-run lead, rain broke up the contest with the Orioles.

PLANS FOR GOLF CLUB AT NELSON MADE

The organization of a Nelson Golf and Country Club is proposed and application has been obtained on the De Kinder and Saxon ranches, adjoining the Rosemont addition to Nelson, consisting of all of twenty-two acres, and in addition certain Canadian Pacific railway lands in the vicinity are being leased for the company for a term of years at a nominal rental. There is on the De Kinder ranch a residence that can, with comparatively little expense, be converted into a satisfactory club house, which is accessible by road in about eight minutes by motor car or fifteen minutes by walking, from town.

It is expected that within a month's time from the formation of the company and the acquisition of the property, it will be possible for the members to play golf. A nine-hole course has been laid out by Mr. Geary and Mr. Biker, and in addition space has been left adjoining the club house for five acres of extra land for this member to be used for the annual tournament of the Kootenay Lawn Tennis Association.

It is proposed to form a company with a capital of $25,000, consisting of 200 shares at $125 each, of which 100 shares are to be issued at the present time and the balance kept in the treasury for the possible purpose in the future of extending the course to an eighteen-hole one.

Under the Ohio law, the Mayor of Toledo is permitted to grant consent. Under decision of the court one is privileged to employ boxers to give exhibitions when a purse is not fought for.

An octagon shaped arena to accommodate between 50,000 and 60,000 spectators has been erected at a point convenient to the city. The admission charge will range from $5 to $50, according to the location of the seats. Both pugilists will train for at least five weeks at the scene of the contest, in accordance with the terms of the contract made with Richard.

Toledo, Ohio, May 6.—Plans were being drawn to-day for an immense arena in Bayview Park on Maumee Bay, in which the Willard-Dempsey twelve-round bout for the heavyweight championship of the world will be staged July 4.

Toledo's publicity anticipates receiving $21,000 as a result of the bout, figuring seven per cent of the gate receipts, estimated by Frank Flourney, associated with Tex Rickard, who promoted the bout, to run about $300,000. The Toledo boxing commission to-day issued a permit for the bout.

The arena in which the fight will be staged at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of July 4 will seat 50,000 when completed.

VICTORIA LAWN TENNIS CLUB'S COURTS BUSY

The Victoria lawn tennis courts were fully occupied last Saturday afternoon, some forty odd players taking advantage of the fine weather. From now on additional courts will be put in playing order as fast as possible until the entire five courts are available. Next Saturday tea will be served from four to 6 o'clock. Applications for membership have been coming in freely, and it is expected that many more will be received now that the weather is settled and warm.

STRAITH'S NINE IN BETTER FORM AGAINST CANADIAN COLLIERIES

Hit Up Nine Runs and Hold McFarlane's Boys Down by Good Fielding

Strath's Two Jacks nine were in better form last night against the Canadian Colliers than they were in the opening game of the season against the Foundation players, and bagged the points after a game of nine runs to five.

Harold Carne, pitching for McFarlane's boys, made a big hit with the 100 spectators, although he did not manage to pitch a winning game. His drop ball had the Two Jacks men puzzled, and he hung up a good percentage of strike outs. Three Baker brothers helped the Colliers, and Jack Clemence—quit flying long enough to guard the second bag. Jack has also a good batting eye and helped chalk up the runs.

Four runs in the first innings gave Strath's Two Jacks a good lead which McFarlane's lads were never able to reduce. Fortin pitched the first four innings, and when George Strath went on the mound had three bases filled and not a man out. Before George got his control he walked one man and gave the Colliers their fifth, but shut them out for the rest of the game.

The teams were: Canadian Colliers—H. Baker, C. Baker, T. Baker, W. Steele, J. Clemence, Stevens, Copps, Gorman, Whaler and Tucker. James Strath's Two Jacks—George Strath, Sid Elmer, White, Moore, Burns, Canning, Townsley, Cottett and Fortin.

The Next Game. Secretary Dilworth announced that the next game will be played to-morrow evening at 8.30, when Strath's Two Jacks will stack up against Yarrows at Royal Athletic Park.

HEAVYWEIGHT BOUT WILL BE STAGED AT TOLEDO, OHIO, IN JULY

Cincinnati, O., May 6.—Joseph Nolan, sporting editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, will stage a "Tex" Rickard last night that he had been appointed official timekeeper for the Willard-Dempsey bout to be held at Toledo, July 4. Mr. Nolan said he would accept the appointment.

New York, May 6.—The Jess Willard-Jack Dempsey heavyweight championship fight will be staged at Toledo, Ohio on the afternoon of Friday, July 4.

The pugilists will enter the ring at 3 p.m., and will box twelve rounds unless a knockout terminates the contest earlier in the clash. If the bout goes the limit, a referee, to be selected later, will award a decision on points. The details were announced by Promoter Tex Rickard here last night.

Not For Purse. New York, May 6.—Willard and Dempsey will be paid for their services Rickard explained, and will not fight for a purse, which is against the laws of Ohio.

"Having consulted my attorneys," he said, "I find I am entirely within the laws of Ohio, according to a decision of law on such cases. Therefore, I have accepted Toledo's offer to hold the boxing exhibition there."

Under the Ohio law, the Mayor of Toledo is permitted to grant consent. Under decision of the court one is privileged to employ boxers to give exhibitions when a purse is not fought for.

An octagon shaped arena to accommodate between 50,000 and 60,000 spectators has been erected at a point convenient to the city. The admission charge will range from $5 to $50, according to the location of the seats. Both pugilists will train for at least five weeks at the scene of the contest, in accordance with the terms of the contract made with Richard.

Toledo, Ohio, May 6.—Plans were being drawn to-day for an immense arena in Bayview Park on Maumee Bay, in which the Willard-Dempsey twelve-round bout for the heavyweight championship of the world will be staged July 4.

Toledo's publicity anticipates receiving $21,000 as a result of the bout, figuring seven per cent of the gate receipts, estimated by Frank Flourney, associated with Tex Rickard, who promoted the bout, to run about $300,000. The Toledo boxing commission to-day issued a permit for the bout.

The arena in which the fight will be staged at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of July 4 will seat 50,000 when completed.

LACROSSE

Representatives of three clubs were present at the meeting of the Victoria Lacrosse Association held last night at the Dominion Hotel. President Ed. Christopher in the chair. Sidney, the Nationals and Victoria West, all expressed a desire to take part in the intermediate league.
Sidney Strong. J. Burton and McDonald, represented the Sidney Club, Homer Alexander the Nationals and Ed. Popham Victoria. It was decided to leave the entry list open until May 15.

More Clubs Expected. It is anticipated that two more clubs will enter before the Intermediate League gets started. Oak Bay and another Foundation team are mentioned as possible starters. The election of officers was left over until a later meeting, when it is hoped the other clubs will be represented; in the meantime the present will carry on the duties with Bob McInnis as secretary.

Exhibition Games. The Sidney stockhandlers, who threw out a challenge some time ago, are anxious to play and a team from Victoria will probably make the journey for an exhibition game, May 24. It is expected that the intermediate league schedule will not start until after that date, although the shipbuilders' senior team will play the first game in the race for the gold trophy on Victoria Day morning.

Seattle Will Organize. Foundations for a lacrosse team to represent Seattle were laid last night, when about fifty men interested in the Canadian game met at the Arena. A

When father came home to dinner he observed a vacant chair at the table. "Where's the boy?" he asked, nodding to the chair.
"Harry is upstairs," came in a tone of painful precision from the mother.
"I hope he is not sick."
There was an anxious pause. "No he is not sick," continued the mother. "It grieves me to say, Richard, that our son, your son, has been heard swearing on the street. I heard him myself."
"Swearing!" exclaimed the father. "I'll teach him to swear!" And with that the angry parent started upstairs in the dark. Half-way up he stumbled and came down with his chin on the top-step.
When the confusion had subsided, Harry's mother was heard saying from the hall-way, "That will do, Richard, dear. You have given him enough for one lesson."

HORRIBLE FEAR. Marie—"Don't cry dear. You must be brave while Jack is away with the army. Remember the war won't last forever, and then he will return to you!" Betty—"Y-yes; but I'm afraid that before he comes back some other hateful man will marry me!"

Get a Stake in Canada

With Victory Bonds being quoted as high as 106, securities issued by the Government of Canada are bound to look pretty good to those who desire a safe and remunerative investment. Canadians are proud of the Victory Loan campaigns, which brought in money in a veritable flood, surprising both themselves and the world. It is also with a great deal of pleasure that they observe these bonds climbing point by point above par, for it appeals to their patriotism. As for those in whom this spirit does not burn as brightly, the rising quotations appeal strongly to their pocketbooks.

Thus between one influence and another the country seems to be quite ripe for a Get-a-Stake-in-Canada campaign. Those who have invested in Victory Bonds have even now been so well repaid that they are disposed to put further money into anything that the Dominion Government has to offer. This is especially true of the holders of bonds of the $50 and $100 denomination. They are glad that they even got a chance to put money into Victory Bonds, and, if properly approached, will take kindly to War Savings Stamps, for in buying the latter they are only getting little Victory Bonds over again.

In this Get-a-Stake-in-Canada campaign people of foreign birth should receive a great deal of attention. They constitute a class which, because of their thrifty character, should be a veritable gold mine to any movement that is able to tap their savings. In the United States these people have easily set the high-water mark for savings, and so many of them now manifest a desire to emigrate that the bankers are becoming alarmed. It is estimated that 1,300,000 intend to go home taking on an average $2,000 with them.

No figures are available that enable one to estimate in Canada the value of savings held by persons of foreign birth; but enough is known to demonstrate that it is a huge sum. Consequently if these people can be induced to put their money into War Savings Stamps, it will be a decided gain both to the W. S. S. movement and to the country. There is no reason why they should not do so. They will, if the advantages are demonstrated to them. The point is to show them that a War Savings Stamp is a Victory Bond in miniature, that it is as well backed and yields a good return. That done, these people will buy War Savings Stamps, because being shrewd, they know a good thing when they see it.

life, and to the boys and girls in the schools. Filled with pride over the deeds of their brothers on the battle-fields of Europe, they are pulsating with enthusiasm for Canada and all things Canadian. Get-a-Stake-in-Canada! Why of course they will, if the buying of War Savings and Thrift Stamps is put to them in that way. They want to help Canada, and to this end they will do anything within reason.

Get-a-Stake-in-Canada will take well, because this country is one of the best countries in the world. It has the resources, it has the credit, and its war record shows that it has the people possessing the spirit that makes any country great.

THE FLYING MEN.

One of Kipling's famous short stories was called "The Night Mail." In it he described with daring imagination the flight of a great airplane from Canada to Britain. It was a striking bit of fiction, and in that day his readers little realized how soon invention would bring the reality. It was at the end of 1902 that the Wright brothers made a short successful flight with an aeroplane equipped with a gasoline motor. In November, 1906, Santos Dumont made the record flight up to that time—249 yards. In the following year Farman flew nearly a thousand yards. Next year, progress was comparatively rapid, and Farman flew twelve miles in twenty minutes. The summer of 1909 brought an event which made all the world wonder. Louis Blériot flew across the English Channel in less than half an hour. In 1916 Failland made the first flight from London to Manchester, 136 miles, and in July of that year Zeppelin scored his first actual success with a big dirigible. With the beginning of the war aviation development became rapid, for the great nations took it up without regard to cost, devoting to experiments and to manufacture the best brains they could command. From that time forward courage and enterprise, working under the highest pressure, made progress little short of miraculous. The crossing of the Atlantic by both aeroplanes and dirigibles is now expected at almost any time, and if Kipling lives but a little longer he may make a trip from Britain to Canada and actually enjoy the very sort of experience he describes so vividly when he launched "The Night Mail."—St. John Telegraph.

Crime which speakers said was caused by former soldiers unable to secure employment was discussed at the Convention of Police Chiefs held at New Orleans. William A. Pinkerton, one of the speakers, declared he believed the present increase in daylight robberies was due in large measure to unemployment among discharged soldiers.

THE DEAD.

The following verses, written (excepting a slight change) by Will Carleton, in 1866, to commemorate the dead in the American Civil War, 1861-1865, were sent to The Ottawa Journal by Miss Alice Kerwin, Ottawa, with a request for publication.

Cover them over with beautiful flowers, Deck them with garlands, those brothers of ours; Lying so silent by night and by day, Sleeping the years of their manhood away; Years they had marked for the joys of the brave, Years they must waste in the sloth of the grave, All the bright laurels they fought to make bloom Fell to the earth when they went to their tomb, Give them the meed they have won in the past; Give them the honors their merits forecast; Give them the chaplets they won in the strife; Give them the laurels they lost with their life. Cover them over—yes, cover them over— Parent and husband, and brother, and lover.

Crown in your hearts these dead heroes of ours, And cover them over with beautiful flowers.

Cover the FACES that motionless lie, Shorn from the blue of the glorious sky;

Faces once lit with the smiles of the gay— Faces now marred by the frown of decay— Eyes that beamed friendship and love to your own; Lips that sweet thoughts of affection made known; Brows you have soothed in the day of distress; Cheeks you have flushed by the tender caress; Faces that brightened at war's stirring cry; Faces that streamed when they bade you good-bye; Faces that glowed in the battle's red flame; Palling for naught till the Death Angel came. Cover them over—yes, cover them over— Parent, and husband, and brother, and lover. Crown in your hearts these dead heroes of ours; And cover them over with beautiful flowers.

Cover the HANDS that are resting crossed on the bosom, or low by the side;

Hands to you, mother, in infancy thrown; Hands that you, father, close hid in your own; Hands where you, sister, when tired and dismayed, Clung for protection, and counsel and aid; Hands that you, brother, for faithfulness knew; Hands that you, wife, wrung in bitter adieu; Bravely the cross of their country they bore; Words of devotion they wrote with their gore. Grandly they grasped for a garland of light, Catching the mantle of death-darkened night. Cover them over—yes, cover them over— Parent, and husband, and lover, and brother. Clasp to your hearts these dead heroes of ours, And cover them over with beautiful flowers.

Cover the FEET that, all weary and torn, Hither by comrades were tenderly borne; Feet that have trodden, through love-lighted ways, Near to your own in the old happy home; Feet that have pressed in life's opening morn, Roses of pleasure and Death's poisoned thorn; Swiftly they rushed to the help of the right, Firmly they stood in the shock of the fight; Ne'er shall the enemy's hurrying tramp Summon them forth from their death-guarded camp. Ne'er all Eternity's bugle shall sound, Will they come out from their couch in the ground. Cover them over—yes, cover them over— Parent, and husband, and brother and lover. Rough were the paths of those heroes of ours; Now cover them over with beautiful flowers.

Cover the HEARTS that have beaten so high, Beaten with hopes that were born but to die; Hearts that have burned in the heat of the fray; Hearts that have yearned for the homes far away; Hearts that beat high in the charge's wild tramp; Hearts that fell low on the battle-fields' damp. Once they were swelling with courage and will; Now they are lying all pulseless and still. Once they were glowing with friendship and love; Now the great souls have gone soaring above, Bravely their blood to the Empire they gave, Then in return they found them a grave. Cover them over—yes, cover them over— Parent, and husband, and lover, and brother. Crown in your hearts these dead heroes of ours, And cover them over with beautiful flowers.

Cover the THOUSANDS who sleep far away— Sleep where their friends cannot find them to-day. They who in mountain and hillside and dell Rest where they wearied, and lie where they fell. Softly the grass-blades creep round their repose, Sweetly above them the wild poppy blows; Zephyrs of freedom float gently o'er-head, Whispering praise for the patriot dead. So in our souls we will bless them once more, So in our hearts we will cover them o'er. Roses and lilies and violets blue Bloom in our souls for the good and the true. Think of these far-away heroes of ours—

And cover them, over with beautiful flowers.

When the long years have crept slowly away, Even to the dawn of Earth's funeral day; When at the Arch Angel's trumpet and tread Rise up the faces and forms of the dead; When the great world its last judgment awaits; When the blue sky shall swing open its gates, And our long column march silently through, Past the Great Captain, for final review.

Then for the blood that has flown for the right, Crowns shall be given untarnished and bright. Then the glad ear of each warrior-martyred son Proudly shall bear the good judgment, "Well done." Blessings for garlands shall cover them over, Parent, and husband, and lover, and brother. God will reward these dead heroes of ours, And cover them over with beautiful flowers.

Conditions are not active in the byrite industry in Canada, and there seems to be a general lack of inquiry for either pyrite or sulphur. The Quebec mines of Eustis and Weedon are reported to be the only shippers from that Province, while the Sulphide, Ontario mines of the General Chemical Company, is shipping at the rate of 8,000 tons a month.

CLOUD LIFTING FROM MEXICAN PROBLEM

Business Man Here From Capital Says Carranza is Entrenched

Reporting that business conditions in Mexico have shown a marked improvement recently, as compared with the constant unrest of the last decade G. Verdugo is now in the city with his wife. Mr. Verdugo is a business man of Mexico City, who is on a trade tour en route to Chicago. He states that considerable difficulty has been occasioned by the financial disorganization, which led to the closing of the banks, leaving only branches of Canadian banks open; together with one or two American and private concerns, effectively shutting off the business of the Mexican institutions. While there has been a great deal of difficulty in maintaining transportation on the railways during the political unrest, the line is now open to Vera Cruz on the coast and Laredo in the north, he says; and a fairly good service is maintained. In fact Mr. Verdugo came out from

The Monthly Cheque That Never Fails

How the Money was Lost

"You see I had only a few thousand dollars left after the estate was settled—" and my brother borrowed some to help him along, of course that went and then—

I simply had to help father with his business, he was so worried—and I thought it best to invest something in real estate at once. Well, that failed—and, really, if it were not for the monthly income cheque from the Canada Life I don't know how I should be getting along now."

It is all so simple and effective! Just a few dollars set aside regularly, and the Canada Life will guarantee to your home a continuous monthly income.

What a relief to know that no matter what may happen, the monthly cheque that never fails, issued regularly by the Canada Life, will come to your home!

Your present Life Insurance will no doubt "clear the mortgage," pay off the obligations of your estate, and leave something for your family, but

Consider This:

In addition to a "lump sum" of money, you should provide a definite income that cannot fail.

A weekly or monthly income is the natural thing for most people.

A woman can keep a family together on even a small income, provided it is regular.

Financial problems should not be thrust upon a woman who is not used to business deals.

The hands of unscrupulous men are always outstretched for money held by the unwary.

The Monthly Income Plan

You will be surprised to learn what a reasonable proposition can be made to you; how only a few dollars saved and set aside from your regular earnings can be multiplied into a substantial income for your Beneficiary.

no clear title. Hart, as sheriff, is an innocent party to his schemes, but when he learns the truth, goes to Chicago after the crook and brings him back to justice. Beautiful Seena Owen is the girl, and Bert Sprotte has the heavy role.

VARIETY

Her screen admirers call Mae Marsh a "Mother's girl." This is because they have observed her keenly in her Goldwyn Pictures. They have noticed her appealing simplicity (who could imagine this elusive personality in a problem play?) and the perfection with which she fits into the domestic environment. A shaded lamp, a bit of knitting and a playful kitten—who could imagine a more fitting picture of Mae Marsh? And if a mother-hog in the background, then the picture is complete. All this, except the mother, her admirers will find in "The Bondage of Barbara," her new Goldwyn Picture, which opened at the Variety yesterday. Mae Marsh is herself the mother.

ROMANO

Those who see Harold Lockwood in his latest Metro starring vehicle, "The Land'oper," an adaptation of Holman Day's novel of the same name, when it is shown at the Romano to-day and to-morrow, will have an opportunity to see the beauties of Palm Beach Florida, for a number of scenes in "The Land'oper" were photographed at that famous Florida winter resort. The scenes made in Palm Beach are those in which Walker Parr (Harold Lockwood) figures when, as a young man of wealth, he wagers that he can assume the role of a knight of the highway for three months and thus prove his theory that any man can find happiness, no matter what his station in life may be.

"GOING UP."

Combining pleasant gaiety, continuous life and "pep" catchy music, pretty girls and wholesome fun that is only provided at rare intervals in the theatre of to-day, "Going Up," a musical comedy presented by Cohan and Harris, provides an evening's entertainment that is as welcome as it is unusual.

The stamp of approval was placed on "Going Up," last season in New York, where it had a phenomenal run of nearly two years at the Liberty Theatre, and which will be the attraction at Royal Victoria, on Wednesday and Thursday next. The book and lyrics of "Going Up" were written by Otto Harbach and James Montgomery, while the music from the pen of that well-known composer Louis A. Hirsch. It is a tremendously joyous affair, full of tinkly music, pretty girls and dance numbers, a few of the more popular ones, are "Tickle-Toe," "If You Look in Her Eyes," "The Touch of a Woman's Hand," "Going Up," "I Want a Determined Boy," "Do It For Me" and "When the Curtain Falls."

GRIPPING PLAY IS OFFERED AT ROYAL

"Man Who Came Back" is Stirring Acted; Tense Situations

At all times interesting, and frequently gripping, the William A. Brady production, "The Man Who Came Back," offered at the Royal Victoria Theatre last evening, delighted an audience that was not large enough to measure up to the merits of the play. That the piece has an appeal may be judged from the fact that it ran in New York for fifty-seven weeks, and that appeal may be summed up as due to the elements of romance, a weak but otherwise likable young man's fight to get a grasp of himself, the passionate love of a young woman who believed in him and several bizarre scenes, and lastly the young man's winning of the fight.

The story in brief is that of a young man, Henry Potter, who, born of wealthy New York parents, has pursued a course of idleness and dissipation. He is turned out by his father with $500 and a one-way ticket to California in the hope that he will come to his senses and become a man. He is next seen in a San Francisco cabaret, where he meets the first woman he has ever really loved, but even then he does not realize just what she means to him. They part, but only to meet again in Shanghai, China, in Sam Shew Sing's "hop joint," the vilest den in Asia. There the truth is revealed to him, and together they begin the hard climb up to the heights from which they have fallen. They go to Honolulu, where on a pineapple plantation they again face a great crisis in their love, but in the end they reach New York, where a great surprise awaits them; their marriage receiving the benediction of the elder Potter.

It was Frank Morgan's task to depict "Henry Potter's" soul-dracking battle against dissipation and general weakness of character ruptured in an early life in which a wealthy father had indulged his every whim, and the growth of his love for the woman who would have gone to any length to help him win his desperate fight. He did this in a manner most convincing. His vocal expression and a sparing use of gesture indicated a careful study of the part, and when the final triumph came in his father's recognition of his complete reformation and the strength of his love for the woman whose love had made the change possible—indeed brought it about—the applause accorded by the audience was every bit deserved.

Mr. Morgan's success could not have been marked without the excellent support given by Miss Dorothy Bernard as Marcelle, the young woman who followed him into the depth and fought upward with her own desire for success and happiness. Her acting in the opium den scene—a most unusual and gripping one—was a display of real art. The other principal part, that of the erring and finally self-reclaimed young man, was filled by Clifford Dempsey with commendable fidelity to type. The rest of the cast, fourteen in number, supplied a balanced performance, displaying evidences of careful training. As an evening's entertainment the play, which will be repeated this evening, is distinctly worth while.

VICTORIA KIDDIES BEFORE FOOTLIGHTS

Operetta, "Queen Flora's Garden Party," at Princess Tonight; to Help Sailors

Fifty Victoria kiddies will trip before the footlights at the Princess Theatre to-night in the operetta of "Queen Flora's Garden Party," Curwen's catchy musical play, which is well known to many Victorians who have seen, and even played in it, in the Old Country.

The operetta will be produced to-night and to-morrow night in aid of the local seamen's institutes and the work of the Boys' Naval Brigade, and will be given under the auspices of the Victoria Branch of the Navy League of Canada. T. Wright Hill, director, Mrs. W. Poyah, pianist, and Miss J. White, dance instructor, have worked indefatigably for some weeks past in training the children, and have shown great patience and perseverance in moulding the little youngsters into finished artists. Mrs. W. H. Thornbrow, violin, Mr. Thornbrow, clarinet, and Mr. Fletcher, organ, are assisting in the orchestra.

Mr. Hill wishes to call attention to the fact that the performance will begin promptly at 8 o'clock, owing to the fact that there are some very small children in the production, and he is anxious that they should not be kept up too late by delay in starting. He, therefore, asks that patrons will take their seats in good time.

Though the Juvenile Choir of the Connaught Seamen's Institute has appeared in public on former occasions, the production of Queen Flora's Garden Party is the first really ambitious affair to be attempted by the local youngsters; and Mr. Hill is hoping that they will receive a generous reception at the hands of the local theatre-goers, who are anxious to see home talent encouraged. Some pretty dances will be introduced, including the Fan Song, the Rose Song, the Action Song, the Sweeping Brush Brigade, the Flower Beds Dance, Minuet and the pretty May-Pole dance.

PLAYFUL PONIES IN ANIMATED TOYSHOP

Novelty Animal Performance and Five Other Big Acts Make Pantages Attractive

Six acts brimful of enjoyment occupy the boards at the Pantages in the current vaudeville show. The topline is a circus offering which differs greatly from the average run of animal performances. The antics of the tiny Shetland ponies and fox terriers in "Gautier Brothers' Animated Toyshop" will fill the youthful element of the community with joyful exuberance and the very novelty of the performance is sufficient to hold the closest interest of all vaudeville patrons.

The educated ponies display the most surprising intelligence in the presentation of a variety of tricks and these same equines are responsible for much of the comedy that is a feature of the act. When the curtain goes up the Shetlands are seen posing as toy horses in a well-stocked toyshop and the fun commences with the entrance of a slightly inebriated and prospective purchaser. At a signal from the director these clever little animals step down from the rockers and swings and give an exhibition that is highly entertaining.

The inebriate is the butt of their playful ways and his efforts to escape their attentions creates a riot of fun. The group of canines are a great asset to the show and distinguish themselves as bare-back riders.

Willard's "Box of Jewels" is a novelty musical act of the headline variety. This act is programmed as "six tons of strange machinery," a distinctly appropriate definition. This mechanical musical act is a novelty that is "something new" in vaudeville. The feature of this weird musical demonstration is a wonderful arrangement of revolving axes from which, under the skilful manipulation of the operators, emanates sparks of flame and a remarkable variety of mechanical noises.

Appearing on the bill as the "Chinese Castles," Joe and Rosie Moy, hailing from the Fowery Kingdom, present a high-class dancing and singing act. These two Orientals make an instantaneous hit. They swing Hawaiian and other popular songs in really good English and the dancing of this pair creates a surprise. In all the modern steps they are adepts. Harry Tsuda is a Japanese equilibrist who performs some daring tricks while balancing himself in a wide variety of positions on chairs perched upon a huge globe. Rookie Lewis, as "A Tar Baby Re-eruit," is a laugh generator, while Mort Fox and Geo. F. Britt have an entertaining line of patter and put over some acceptable songs. Interesting news pictures are shown on the Pantagescope.

DOUBLE-BARRELLED CANNON.

Probably you have heard of the multi-barrelled pistols of the so-called pepper box design, which were popular a couple of generations ago. While you have heard, too, of the multi-charge cannon, in which powder chambers were arranged along the barrel, so as to add impetus to the projectile as it passed along the barrel.

But have you ever heard of the double-barrelled cannon No. 2. Probably not, for there is only one in existence. You may find it on the town hall lawn at Athens, in the United States.

The idea of this extraordinary piece of artillery was to attach the ends of a chain, about fifty feet in length, to two cannon-balls, which formed the charge. It was hoped that when these two cannon-balls left the barrels they would diverge, draw the chain taut, and cut a wide swath through whatever was in front of them.

COUNCIL HELPLESS BEFORE INSECT PEST

Has Not Sufficient Money to Fight Caterpillars; People Should Act

While acknowledging its inability to cope with the pest, the City Council last night expressed the utmost apprehension respecting the swarm of tent caterpillars expected this summer.

The Council was advised to take measures to cope with the caterpillar pest by W. Downes, assistant entomologist. Destruction of the webs, it was stated, should be started immediately before the caterpillars attained their full growth.

"No, they take good care not to," replied Alderman Fullerton. "It seems useless to do work on any individual street unless we are prepared to go in for it extensively," added Alderman Sargent.

"Until the Council is prepared to make people take care of their own property it is useless for us to spend money on the city's property," advised Alderman Patrick.

"Well," said the Mayor, "the Parks Superintendent tells me that the pest is worse this year than ever before. The oak trees are filled with them in the park. In fact it's hopeless to cope with them."

"Why to get rid of those caterpillars you have to go over them and over them," said Alderman Johns. "You weed them out to-day and they appear to-morrow. If we were to undertake to clear the town of the pests we would have to spend all the money we voted to the Engineer."

FAR TOO MANY "TAGS" TO SUIT THE COUNCIL

Cessation of Street Collections Next Year Fore-shadowed

Tag days are far too numerous in Victoria to suit the City Council, and if many of the present Aldermen are in office for another term it is altogether probable that this form of collecting money will be ended.

Discussion of tag days was provoked at last night's meeting of the Council by the request of the L. O. D. E. for permission to be allowed to sell heather on the streets on August 26. It was pointed out that this date was within a few days of another tag day, so the Mayor was requested to adjust the matter to the best of his ability.

"We are having altogether too many of these tag days," exclaimed Alderman Clark. "We have got to make a stand somewhere. I have heard several complaints on the question, and I don't think we should grant the request."

What You Get for the Last $10

WHAT is it worth to you that your C.C.M. will be running more smoothly after long use than many ordinary wheels do when that it will still be giving sturdy service years after an inferior wheel is played out—that fewer repairs are needed owing to C.C.M. sincerity of workmanship in every part—that, in case of accident you can get C.C.M. service almost everywhere in Canada?

Imagine getting all this extra service for the last ten dollars you pay. Spread over the much longer life of your C.C.M. the cost to you is but a trifle.

Every running part of a C.C.M. bicycle is made true as a watch. And it keeps true.

Every rider of an ordinary wheel has felt the hard pedalling caused by inaccuracies in the crank-hanger—the power plant of a bicycle. He feels an alternate looseness and tightness, indicating friction and loss of driving power.

Every strain-bearing part of the C.C.M. frame has a reserve of strength. In fact, such features of sincerity are typical of the whole bicycle.

And the Hercules Coaster Brake—the brake without the side arm. All C.C.M. bicycles have it. Lightest and simplest of all brakes, the Hercules is sensitive, sure and powerful. The clutch engages with utmost smoothness. We back this brake with a hard and fast guarantee.

Look at the C.C.M. After years of hard use its graceful lines are still enhanced by the sparkle of its brilliant enamel. The handle bars, and all bright parts, defy the rain—these are nickelled over a heavy coat of copper—and copper can't rust.

Ride a C.C.M. bicycle. Don't miss this health-giving exercise. There's a C.C.M. dealer not far away.

MUST CONTINUE THE PROHIBITION FIGHT

Ex-Mayor G. F. Cotterill Warns Hearers Against Slackening of Efforts to Control Liquor

Strongly condemning "the subtleties of the moderation idea and the pitfalls that may be encountered by those who take sides with the forces urging the slackening of the barrier against drunkenness that has been built up by prohibition," G. F. Cotterill, ex-Mayor of Seattle, gave a spirited address at St. Andrew's Church last night on the occasion of the founding of Good Templary in the Province of British Columbia.

Though the audience consisted of only slightly over one hundred, what was lacking in numbers was made up in enthusiasm. Mr. Cotterill impressed upon his hearers the necessity of continuing the fight. The prohibition forces had always been at work, but it was only when a great crisis came that people realized the terrible effects of drink, he said.

"We must not be off our guard for a single instant. There are many, many ways in which drinkers and seilers of drink will endeavor to get back to their old ways of living, which we have already seen are so harmful to the home life of the nation," said the speaker, who attacked the Moderationists.

MUST CONTINUE FIGHT

"Unless we keep up our fight against the stuff through individual education, the fight will have to be waged over and over again," he declared.

The speaker, in his opening remarks, referred to the splendid work achieved on by the Good Templars. Their constitution was one that stood for all good and honorable things, including a lifetime pledge of abstinence. Many adherents to the cause had national honor and decency, and for higher ideals and better conditions in the homes. These things could not prevail if liquor were to hold its own sway over millions of people.

George Bell, M.P.P., moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Cotterill and Mrs. Spafford seconding the motion, both in doing so referring to the ardor and enthusiasm which Mr. Cotterill had always displayed in the cause. The resolution was carried amid loud applause. During the evening Messrs. French and Myers contributed musical numbers, which were greatly enjoyed by those present.

The Polish Diet has decided the sum of nine hundred million marks to be used in the purchase of cotton necessary to the Polish textile industry. A bill was also passed providing for the construction of new railways to provide for unemployment.

TENT CATERPILLARS

In view of the probability of a heavy infestation of these pests during the coming season, owners of gardens and orchards are urgently requested to adopt the following precautions to prevent or mitigate the damage and inconvenience that otherwise will be caused. Webs are now appearing on the bushes and trees and should be cut off and burned. DO IT NOW. It is easier to destroy these small webs than big ones later on. Apply the following spray:

Lead Arsenate Paste . . . 4 oz.
Water 4 gals.

This is harmless to foliage but deadly to caterpillars. If it is desired to destroy Aphids at the same time add to the above:

"Blackleaf 40" 1/2 oz.
Soap 3 oz.

FOCH SAYS SAFEGUARDS FOR FRANCE INADEQUATE; WOULD NOT SIGN THE PEACE PACT

Paris, May 6.—The peace treaty was presented to the delegates of the minor powers at a secret plenary session of the Conference this afternoon which adjourned at 5.15 o'clock. The draft of the treaty is considered now as having passed the final stage before being presented to the Germans.

Marshal Foch, in a speech at the plenary session, declared that the security given France was inadequate from a military point of view and said it was his personal conviction that the treaty should not be signed.

The Marshal emphasized the necessity of France holding the bridgeheads along the Rhine and said that occupation limited to fifteen years was not sufficient.

The Chinese delegates presented a brief formal and dignified protest concerning the disposition of Kiaochow.

The Portuguese delegates expressed dissatisfaction regarding the treatment accorded to Portugal.

The protestations made by the various delegations are not regarded as serious as no definite reservations were made by the protestants.

Italy was represented at the session by Signor Rispoli, who said he desired to make reservation concerning any provisions in the treaty not acceptable to Italy.

Paris, May 6.—The final meeting of the Council of Three before the presentation of the peace treaty to the Germans was held this morning. It is understood that the last details of the treaty presentation ceremony were discussed.

Also under discussion were the time and method of making public the digest of the peace treaty, now in its final stage of preparation, which will be cabled all over the world before tomorrow's ceremony at Versailles.

TOWN WAS WRESTED FROM BOLSHEVIKI BY ALLIED TROOPS

London, May 6.—Allied troops, advancing southward along the Murmansk railway on Saturday, captured Medvegi, a twenty-five mile town south of Orososero, a War Office announcement says. The Bolshevik resistance was strong.

SINGULAR POSITION OF CATHOLIC CATHEDRAL

Writ to Restrain City of Victoria From Tax Sale of Property

Vancouver, May 6.—In an effort to prevent the City of Victoria from selling the site on which the Catholic Cathedral stands, F. A. McDiarmid this morning issued a writ in the Supreme Court Registry asking for injunction and declaration that the City Council of Victoria can not offer the land for sale for arrears of taxes. Other Victoria churches, it is said, will be affected by the decision of the court.

Under the compulsory tax sale amendment to the Municipal Clauses Act, the City of Victoria is compelled to hold a sale this year, and the date of the sale has been fixed for May 26.

The cathedral, which is located at the corner of View and Blanshard Streets, occupies one of the best corners in the business section of Victoria. Taxes amounting to more than $5,000 are owing on the assessment of the city dating from 1912.

It is contended by Mr. McDiarmid that the city cannot assess or sell for taxes the land covered by the cathedral, or any church, it being stipulated in the revised statutes of 1911, that the amendment of 1912, that buildings dedicated to the worship of God cannot be assessed or taxed.

The argument to be advanced is similar to the famous decision in the case of Shylock vs. Antonio, in the Venetian courts, reported in Shakespeare, wherein Shylock was entitled to his pound of flesh, but in taking it could not shed a single drop of Antonio's blood.

By the statutes of 1906, the church buildings were exempted from assessment and taxation. In the revised statutes of 1911, the site on which any church stood was also exempted, but a year later the exemption in respect to the site was removed. Since that time the City of Victoria has been assessing and taxing the lands on which the churches of that city stand, but it is said, the collection of taxes was not successful, the arrears piling up until the Cathedral was charged with more than $5,000 and several other downtown churches are said to be owing equally large amounts.

The buildings being exempted, it is contended by Mr. McDiarmid in issuing his writ, they can not be disturbed, and necessarily the ground on which they stand must also be freed from the encumbrances of taxation.

Edith—Did you say Alice treated you rather coolly when you called last night? Jack—No, but her father did; he let the furnace fire go out.

RUSH FOR LAND FOR RETURNED MEN

Ex-Soldiers Crowd to Offices of Settlement Board in Vancouver

Vancouver, May 6.—Applications by returned soldiers for assistance from the Dominion Government to take up farming have now passed the 2,000 mark at the Soldier Settlement Board offices in Vancouver. Apparently the rush has only started at the office, for every day the place is crowded with men making inquiries as to terms under which land may be secured. This morning there was hardly standing room, so great was the crush.

Several hundred men already have been actually located on the land and others are scouring the country looking for locations. The Board will give advice as to locations, but it will not take the responsibility of selecting the land for the men. The Government takes the view that the men pay for the land and they must make the choice.

The qualification committee of the Board, consisting of J. W. Berry and Professor Clement, has caught up with the applications, and now it is the Loan Committee that is flooded with work. This committee will sit regularly until all those who have received their qualification certificates have been heard. On Saturday the committee passed thirty-five loans.

COMMISSION HEARS VIEWS IN EDMONTON

Trades and Labor Council Representatives Testify Before Mathers Group

Edmonton, May 6.—A. Farinlo, secretary of the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council, told the Industrial Relations Commission at its session here this morning that industrial unrest was not an evil in itself, since it was only by a wholesale discontent with what was wrong that "right conditions" could be established. A general co-operation between employees and employers would be the first step towards the eradication of evils. Large numbers of unemployed were to be expected during the transition period, but a strong effort must be made to provide work for them.

Mr. Farinlo urged a forty-four-hour week as another step toward remedying conditions. Some of the employers had shown a narrow vision in this respect, and efforts to secure a one-day rest in seven at the recent session of the Legislature had failed. The hotels, for instance, had not been willing to come into line.

Wider Scope.

The general condition of industry in Alberta was referred to by the witness. The scope of the Commission should be widened, he thought, and all conditions in the mining industry should be investigated by it.

The main grievances of the miners, said Mr. Farinlo, were against their housing conditions and certain conditions in regard to the supply of cars must be eliminated and proper hospital accommodation must be supplied. As to wages, the industry had no right to refuse to pay a living wage. The miners were in favor of the nationalization of the coal industry, he declared, as a means of establishment of their conditions.

State control of health, even to the extent of putting medical men on Government guarantee, also was favored.

Mr. Farinlo admitted that the tendency to-day was for the workman to become slipshod and to work for money instead of doing the best that was in him.

A higher standard of work was desirable, but the tendency to eliminate apprentices was having harmful effects. He advocated workmen were produced by the present system. Labor was too casual now, and should be made more permanent.

Industrial unrest was not so much a local as a basic condition, said Mr. Farinlo. Workmen were generally dissatisfied, and there were now probably between 700 and 1,000 men unemployed in and around Edmonton. The Industrial Disputes Act had not been a success, claimed Mr. Farinlo, but a greater measure of co-operation between employer and employee would bring about a fairer way of settling labor troubles.

Government Ownership.

J. W. Findlay, also for the Trades and Labor Council, favored government ownership of essential industries, such as the mines and meat packing plants. He also advocated nationalized life insurance, a national educational system along economic lines, the nationalization of the medical profession and a national minimum of living conditions. At present there was an antagonistic attitude on the part of the employers, and the owning class were exploiting the workers.

Edmonton was known as one of the "scabbiest" cities in Canada, declared Mr. Findlay, who instanced a number of shops where union labor had been locked out.

Provision for the insurance of workmen against sickness and for the insurance of workers' dependents was urged as one of the remedies for the present unrest.

National prohibition was needed in the interests of the laboring classes, said Mr. Findlay, and he considered it absolutely necessary. The last strike in Edmonton had been uncontrolled for lack of such a measure. Asked as to what he would prohibit, Mr. Findlay said, "Anything over two per cent."

Mr. Findlay also thought that the Parliament of Canada should be made up only of members engaged in the essential industries. Nine-tenths of the present members of Parliament would be shut out if this were applied, and actual producers of wealth would be the only men eligible for election.

TRIAL IN SEATTLE OF RUTH GARRISON

Witnesses for Prosecution Testify on Murder Charge; No Cross-Examination

Seattle, May 6.—Witnesses for the prosecution were questioned to-day at the trial of Miss Ruth Garrison, charged with the murder of Mrs. Grace Gatz Storrs, rival for the love of her husband, D. M. Storrs.

Córoner C. C. Tiffin, the first witness, told the story of his examination of the body of Mrs. Storrs after she had been poisoned while eating lunch in a departmental store here on March 13.

Eight witnesses were examined during the first forty-five minutes of the trial. No cross-examination was conducted by the attorneys for the defence.

One of the witnesses was Professor William H. Dehn, of the University of Washington, who made a chemical analysis of the contents of the stomach of Mrs. Storrs.

Five other witnesses were employees of the tea room of the department store where Miss Garrison entertained Mrs. Storrs at luncheon on the day of the poisoning. Two other witnesses were the mother and sister of Mrs. Storrs.

NEW DISEASE.

Two girls were quarreling. "Oh," said one, "I'm sick of you. I believe you can't hold it, though. You've got a chanfer's tongue."

"What?" cried the other girl, quite scared. "Is it catching? How does one get it?"

"It," said the other pointedly, "through constantly running people down."

CHICAGO GRAINS

CLOSED HIGH

(By Burdick Bros. & Brett, Ltd.)

Chicago, May 6.—The pit assumed a waiting attitude this morning until Mr. Barage had made his speech. There was nothing in his remarks to influence grain prices upward or the other, but after he had concluded local, at first sold and commission houses bought. The buying side proved the most all turned to that side, causing sharply higher prices.

LONGSHOREMEN IN CONVENTION

Delegates From Prince Rupert to Mexican Border Meet at Seattle

Seattle, May 6.—The delegates attending the annual convention here of the Pacific Coast District of the International Longshoremen's Association held their second day's session to-day.

Sydney Lines, of Bellingham, vice-president, who is presiding, said before the meeting convened that no special programme had been laid out for the day.

Last night it was announced resolutions would be introduced to-day urging action in support of Seattle longshoremen who claim several employers are trying to enforce "open shop" conditions. Every port from Prince Rupert, B. C., to the Mexican border is represented.

Organization plans will be the principal topic of discussion at the convention, which will remain in session the rest of the week.

The district will elect officers for the ensuing year before adjournment and interest will centre in the election of a president to succeed Gordon J. Kelly, of Vancouver, B. C., who died of influenza last fall. Sidney R. Lines, of Bellingham, vice-president, is serving as president at the present time.

The convention was opened with the annual report of the president, made by Acting-President Lines, Jack Cavanaugh, of Vancouver, president of the new Western Canadian Industrial Union, was the leading speaker at the morning session. Several local labor leaders made addresses of welcome.

CONCERT TRIO IN PLEASING PROGRAMME

Talented Baritone, Harpist and Pianist Delight Enthusiastic Audience

It is to be regretted that the first recital by Edwin Swain and his two fellow artists coincided with numerous other attractions in the city last night. For this trio is deserving of a larger audience than gathered in the Empress Hotel for the first cycle of their series, and it is to be hoped that the spacious ballroom will be filled to overflowing for to-night's concert.

Last night's programme was one which appealed to the popular taste, particularly the numbers chosen by the vocalist, Edwin Swain, two of his most popular offerings being "Oley Speaks" and "On the Road to Mandalay," and a little negro "spiritual" by Guion, "My Little Soul's Gwine to Shine." Mr. Swain has a voice of pure baritone quality, wonderfully flexible and under excellent control. Pleasing in his singing of a number of lyrics, he showed his ability in declamatory work in his powerful rendering of Handel's Aria, "Hear Me Ye Wind and Waves," where the volume and range of his voice was revealed at its best. Gifted with that elusive quality—tenderness—his interpretation of Purcell's "Passing By" was delightful in

"There's a Reason"

TO TRY AND MAKE BETTER MEN FOR TO-MORROW'S NEED

Speakers Emphasize Importance of Y. M. C. A. Work at Banquet Last Night

SOLDIERS RELATE WORK DONE BY RED TRIANGLE

"Let us not only invest our money and resources but also our lives in the making of better men for to-morrow's need."

This striking sentence concluded a very brief yet forceful address by Mayor E. H. Cotterill, of Seattle, at the great banquet given in the Y. M. C. A. last evening. Despite the fact that he had a large meeting to address at 6 o'clock, Mr. Cotterill agreed to attend the banquet in order that he might add his weight to the campaign which has been inaugurated for the purpose of securing funds for the carrying on of the great work of the Red Triangle Club.

Mr. Cotterill paid eloquent tributes to the association which he claimed was a vital factor in the life of every city and country. He pointed out that unless the people were prepared to invest their money in the making of men of character during the critical period of reconstruction, all the development of resources and other things would go for naught.

Military Testimonies.
Splendid testimonies of the work of the Y. M. C. A. in Europe were given by several speakers representing the militia men who had been across and were able to personally witness its activities in the theatre of war.

Lieut. Col. Lorne Ross, D.S.O., who went overseas at the outset of the war and later returned here and took the 67th Battalion to France, stated that he had had the privilege of watching the Y. M. C. A. grow from its infancy to the great organization it was at the end of the war. He remembered how the Y. M. C. A. men tried to look after the boys in the early days, carrying them word looking for canteen stocks and literature. They established their tents well up into the fighting line and on the Somme. Stanley Young established a "Y" within a mile of the line. On many occasions these places were blown up by German shells. The Colonel stated that the work was a credit to the association. Not only in France was the great work in evidence. In the British Isles every effort was made to look after the man on leave and his rear the association had greatly assisted in the establishment of the khaki College, which was doing such splendid educational work amongst the boys waiting for their turn to come home.

"The money we invest in the Y. M. C. A. will pay dividends in better manhood, better character and better citizenship," declared the Colonel in conclusion.

Here Tells a Story
When Lieut. Stronach, M.C., M.M., was called on the whole audience rose to its feet and sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." Lieut. Stronach left Victoria in the ranks of the 67th Battalion, and when the war concluded he was scout officer of the 7th Battalion. He told a simple, plain story of the work of the Y. M. C. A. as it had appeared to him.

"When coming out of the line dead tired and all in," declared Lieut. Stronach, "you could see a little light flickering in an old cellar or tin shack on the side of the road, and you would know that it was the old 'Y.' We would get a cup of tea or coffee and it would back us up great. When during the drive the 'Y' chased us up the line and was never more than a couple of days behind us; in some instances it followed us very closely—that bringing with it a complete stock of cigarettes, biscuits, chocolates and other things that come in fine after a hard fight."

The soldier emphasized the good work done by the 'Y' in the trenches. Here it was impossible to obtain "fags," biscuits and chocolates from the civilian population. A few days afterwards the Y. M. C. A. arrived with a stock of everything. Then when the division moved out to Belgium and was held there for two months awaiting orders to move to England, the Red Triangle came to the relief of the boys again and established canteens and libraries throughout the places they were billeted in, distributed large quantities of sporting goods, organized food races and other athletic events and greatly relieved the monotony of their life.

Then on the troop trains in France, he stated, there was the Y. M. C. A. worker, and in England the association was trying to help the soldier in everything and anything it could. On the transport coming home there was the 'Y' man arranging concerts and entertainment on the trains from Halifax through were other Association men.

"So everywhere you went, in England, in France, in Belgium, in Germany or in Canada, you met the Y. M. C. A., and it did everything possible to help the boys," stated Lieut. Stronach. "The boys welcomed the sign of the Red Triangle, as there information or assistance would readily be given."

Of Help to Medicals
Major George Hall, D.S.O., told of the great assistance given to the Medical Corps by the Y. M. C. A., especially at the forward dressing stations. In the open warfare of the last three months of the war the Association did its best work.

"The Y. M. C. A. fed a large percentage of the wounded," declared Major Hall. "Had it not been for the supply of food the men would not have received a thing to eat until they had reached sections well to the rear. All this was done for nothing. The Y. M. C. A. workers also were always ready to assist the wounded and lend a hand to the hard-pressed medical people."

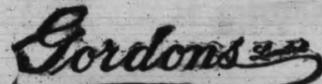

During the period when the men were sent from the line to rest camps in the rear, Major Hall said that the Y. M. C. A. did a good work in giving these men plenty of opportunity for outdoor exercise and sport, and the best of literature to read. In this manner they assisted in making over a lot of the men who had undergone terrible strains.

In recognition of the splendid work of the association, especially to the medical corps, he wishes the Y. M. C. A. every success in its drive and hoped that the citizens would respond heartily to the call.

directors, explained the great purposes of the association and the programme which would be carried out. If the funds were forthcoming, Fred McGregor told of the plan outlined for the canvas of the city, and ex-Fire Chief Watson, who was a Y. M. C. A. worker overseas for some time, told of the good work carried out in the forestry camps by the association.

H. Ballantyne, national secretary of the Y. M. C. A., spoke of the national work of the association. Sufficient funds were available to conclude the work amongst the troops overseas. The national fund would now be devoted to carrying on work on the troopships bringing home the warriors, to provide them with comfort on the train and to operate twelve Red Triangle Clubs throughout Canada. The work in the sixty-five hospitals in Canada had to be continued. Wherever the Canadian soldier was the work would be carried on. He also emphasized the work which would be carried on amongst the 200,000 boys in the country.

Wonderful Scene
The banquet last evening was one of the most inspiring sights seen in the city for a long time. Shortly before 6 o'clock about 350 boys, representing the Junior Naval Brigade, in uniform, the band from the University School, in khaki, and the boys from schools and various employments, sat down to a dinner in the Boys' Department. A. E. Foreman presided and addresses were delivered by Col. Ross and Dr. Raynor. At 8:30 o'clock 400 "dads," from the high financier down to the man who works by the sweat of his brow, assembled in the gymnasium to a splendid dinner. While in the midst of the repast the bugle band of the University School broke in violently and into the gallery marched the boys. They lined the railing and immediately unfurled banners calling for support from the "dads." Some of the inscriptions were: "Be a Sport, Dad," "Come Across, Dad," "To-day's Dad, To-morrow's Man," "Look to the Boys from Whom Strong Men Are Made," "$14,000 for Publicity, How Much for Us?"

The men were greatly impressed with the assemblage of boys, and they arose and gave three cheers and a tiger, which was immediately reciprocated by the lads.

Capt. George McGregor presided over the great gathering, and at the head table were the following guests: Mayor Porter, Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, George Bell and F. Giotina, city members in the Provincial Legislature; Lieut. Colonel Lorne Ross, D. S. O.; Major George Hall, M. D., D. S. O.; ex-Mayor Cotterill, of Seattle; Lieut. Charles Stronach, M. C., M. M.; H. Ballantyne, National Secretary of the Y. M. C. A.; Lieut. Rideout, of the Aerial League of Canada; Thomas Watson, ex-fire chief; Dr. M. Raynor, E. S. Woodward, representing Trades and Labor Council; J. M. Fletcher and others.

The C.P.R. will go on with its works in western Canada according to Grant Hall, vice-president of the company. Although definite information cannot be given until the application for new charters, conditions are such as to warrant the carrying out of improvements and betterments announced last January.
