40,000 TROOPS BATTLE IN SHANGHAI REGION BUT NO REAL GAIN BY EITHER SIDE

Battlefront Extends From Shanghai-Nanking Railroad to Yangtze River; Men and Women Conscripted for War Work; Force Ready to Protect Foreign Settlement in Shanghai.

Shanghai, Sept. 4. (6 p.m.)—Though troops estimated to number 40,000 battled throughout this sunshiny day, competent eyewitnesses declared to-night that neither side had made any material gain in the fighting.

The battlefront to-day extended from the line of the Shanghai-Nanking Railway to the Yangtze River, about eighteen miles from Shanghai at its nearest point, and about twenty-five miles at the most distant.

At several points the opposing fighters were hidden from each other by fields of growing grain, through which the rifle and machine gun bullets cut their way. Eyewitnesses said that undoubtedly the fighters were wasting large amounts of ammunition in the characteristic manner of Chinese troops, firing wildly.

The Kiangsu troops used artillery in their attack on Lieuchow, which ordinarily is a town of 3,000 population. There was no evidence that they had any co-operation from any naval forces on the Yangtze River. Indications were that the Chekiang troops would be able to hold that sector unless the attacking force were heavily reinforced.

FAITHFUL PETS PROVIDE CLUE TO SAD TRAGEDY

Body of 14-Year-Old Barbara Eldridge Found in Glen Lake

Met Death in Eight Foot of Water With No One to Hear Cries for Help

A faithful little airedale terrier puppy and two kittens patiently guarding the clothes of the little girl whose pets they had been and the puppy whining its distress, gave the clue which led to the discovery in eight foot of water at Glen Lake of Barbara Eldridge, fourteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Eldridge of Luxton. The body of the girl who had been missing since 7 o'clock yesterday, was found in the clear waters of the lake about twenty feet from the shore by Provincial Constable Hatcher and two friends of the family, who went out in a boat this morning. The police were notified last night but it was too dark to commence dragging. Little difficulty was experienced this morning in finding the body and confirming the worst hopes of the grief-stricken family. It was found near the spot where her pets had guarded her clothes.

Mrs. Eldridge was staying in Victoria at the time of the tragedy, and Mr. Eldridge, his sixteen-year-old son, Herbert, returned to the cabin at Luxton shortly after 7 o'clock last night expecting to find Barbara had prepared supper for them. There was no food prepared, and fears that she had been either lost in the woods or drowned were aroused. The girl was not a swimmer, but was able to float a little. Her brother had been giving her swimming lessons during the two or three weeks they had been staying at Luxton. The fears were aroused, and rushing to the lake they found the clothes on the shore, with the tiny pup standing guard. The two cats were close at hand. Returning to the home they found her bathing suit had been taken away, and with all the signs pointing to a tragedy the police were at once notified. Darkness prevented a search being made, and the relatives were forced to spend a night torn with fears that the little girl had met her fate.

BODY IN EIGHT FEET OF WATER

Where the body was discovered this morning the water is clear and about eight feet deep. There is a shelving beach, no weeds and the water is perfectly safe for a swimmer. It is presumed that the little girl in her ambition to swim ventured too far and when out of her depth vainly struggled to return to shore, but was unable at hand to hear her cries for help.

The deepest sympathy will be extended to Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge, who formerly lived in Esquimalt.

REMARKABLE CAREER ENDS

WILLIAM TRANT, 1844-1924

Who died at his Victoria home, 2409 Dalhousie Street, early to-day. He was a distinguished journalist and political and social writer of the last half of the last century when he was the associate of princes and statesmen. It was Mr. Trant who met Disraeli on the return of that statesman from the Congress of Berlin and gave to the eager world the historic "peace with honor" message.

A little later he waded through the welter of blood of the Paris Commune—after he had been arrested and sentenced to be shot as a spy—and told the world of the birth-pangs of the modern French Republic.

For the last six years he has been living quietly in Victoria, revered by a circle of friends that has been steadily growing. Since last Spring The Times has been publishing his reminiscences in weekly instalments. He is also widely known on the Prairies, where he lived for thirty-five years. He was editor of two Regina newspapers at different times and then magistrate.

Officials Make Presentation to Hon. John Hart

The esteem and popularity in which Hon. John Hart is held by the men and women who have worked under him in the Finance Department was strikingly evidenced to-day when they presented the retiring Finance Minister with a parting gift in the form of a handsome grandfather's clock. To Mrs. Hart the department staff presented a pair of beautiful cut glass vases. The presentation was made by E. D. Johnson, Deputy Minister of Finance; E. E. Lawson, Surveyor of Taxes, and John Mahoney, Government Agent in Vancouver. The presentation to Mrs. Hart was made by Miss M. Service.

CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATE

Moncton, N.B., Sept. 4.—Mayor P. Clifford Hickey of Chatham was nominated at the Liberal-Conservative convention in Newcastle yesterday to contest the County of Northumberland at the Federal by-election to be held October 7 to fill the vacancy created by the death of John Morrissey.

MACDONALD DECLARES FOR WIDER ARBITRATION AND GERMAN LEAGUE MEMBERSHIP

British Prime Minister Addresses League Assembly in Geneva; Urges Disarmament Conference in Europe With United States Spokesmen and Germans Among the Representatives.

Geneva, Sept. 4.—Premier MacDonald of Great Britain, speaking with feeling and forcefulness, declared to the Assembly of the League of Nations to-day that Great Britain saw the only hope of future peace in the extension of the policy of arbitration and the development of the League of Nations.

The British statesman warned the world against regarding national security as merely a military problem based on the preponderance of force and he urged the convocation of a disarmament conference in Europe attended by representatives of all countries, including the United States and Germany.

OLIVER TO HURRY EAST SATURDAY TO OPEN B.C. FREIGHT RATE ARGUMENT

Premier Oliver will leave here Saturday afternoon for Ottawa to fight before the Railway Board for lower western transportation rates. In announcing his plans for the Railway Board's hearing on September 17 the Premier expressed the opinion that the whole western rate question might go to the Supreme Court of Canada for a final settlement.

"The question which the Railway Board must face," the Premier explained, "as I see it, is not whether the present railway rate situation is unjust and inequitable. That is admitted by the railway companies. The board must decide whether it has the power to remedy that situation. In other words, the whole question is largely a legal one."

The board at its hearing on September 17 will deal exclusively with complaints raised by the re-inauguration of the Crow's Nest Pass rates, but it has no power to rescind these rates, because they are established by Parliament. It must consider, however, whether it can reduce other Western rates to the level of the Crow's Nest rates, and whether it can make the Crow's Nest rates operative on lines which were not in existence when the Crow's Nest agreement went into effect originally.

These questions are so involved that I shall not be surprised at all if they go to the Supreme Court of Canada for settlement. Our attitude before the railway board will be simply that we do not object to the Crow's Nest rates provided they apply on east-bound as well as on west-bound goods. I have numerous figures to present showing the absurd discrepancies existing as a result of the restoration of the Crow's Nest rates, but these are not so very important, as the inequity of the present situation is admitted by the railway companies.

The railway companies, in fact, pointed to those discrepancies in hearing against the restoration of the Crow's Nest rates. The question (Continued on page 2)

CROWD TO-DAY STRUGGLED AT VANCOUVER COURTROOM DOOR AS INQUEST STARTED

Vancouver, Sept. 4. (Canadian Press)—Storming the doors of the room where the coroner was holding an inquest on the death of Janet K. Smith, Shaughnessy Heights domestic, found dead on July 26 with a bullet wound in the head, the largest crowd ever assembled in the courthouse here fought for two hours to-day in a vain effort to gain admittance to the small room with a capacity of less than 100.

At the first coroner's inquest the jury brought in a verdict of accidental shooting. Backed by data collected by local Scottish societies, the body was ordered exhumed and a second autopsy performed.

Thirty-eight witnesses will give evidence at the second inquest, which opened to-day. After the usual forms peculiar to the empanelling of a jury in the coroner's court had been concluded, Coroner Bayliss announced the jurors would be taken to view the remains at the city morgue, after which they would visit the house where the tragedy took place.

ASSEMBLED EARLY

Long before the courthouse doors opened this morning men and women commenced to gather on the steps. With the opening of the building there was a mad rush through the corridors to the room where the inquiry was to be held. Fashionably-dressed women fought frantically, and old men jostled and exchanged angry threats with downy boys. Before 9 o'clock the entire corridor was blocked with a solid mass of humanity. Police assistance was necessary to get some of the jurymen and counsel, caught in the press, into the chamber.

As the policemen closed the door again after admitting these, the crowd almost beat it down, shouting, "This is not Russia. We are entitled to get in. You can not hold a coroner's inquest behind closed doors."

SEATS WERE FILLED

After the jury had been empanelled the coroner ordered that as (Continued on page 2)

WILLIAM TRANT DIES AT HOME HERE AFTER BRILLIANT CAREER

William Trant, noted international journalist, died at 6 o'clock this morning at his Victoria home, 2409 Dalhousie Street, the Willows. He was eighty years of age March 13 last.

Angina Pectoris, which had been troubling him at times during the last couple of years, was the cause of his death. Sunday evening about 6:30 o'clock he was first taken with his last illness while he was enjoying one of the usual Sunday visits of some of the wide circle of friends that paid him frequent calls.

The following day he showed his usual recuperative powers after such an attack. Tuesday, however, was worse. William Trant, his son, came over from Vancouver and it was seen that it was only a matter of time with the father. He was in a sort of maze, as his physical powers ebbed out, but his mind was active, and sharp right up to the last. The house had to be kept silent, as the least noise would stir him to ask "What was that?" and he had to have a satisfactory reply before he would be satisfied. It was the same inquisitive and restless spirit always on the search for information that had characterized his life.

KING EDWARD'S KINDNESS TO HIM.

As Mr. Trant was nearing his hour to pass on during last night, the linotypes in The Times office were just finishing the setting of the installment of his reminiscences for publication next Saturday, in which he wrote of one of his characteristic experiences which occurred during the visit of King Edward VII. as Prince of Wales to India in 1875. At this time Mr. Trant was one of the journalists assigned to accompany the Prince through India, as the representative of a syndicate of British newspapers. Mr. Trant was taken suddenly ill and his failure to join the party going to Baroda "made me," as he wrote, "the recipient of one of those gracious acts of thoughtfulness and kindness which were characteristic of this Prince of Wales." The Prince arranged a sea trip for him on the Royal Flagship.

MANY FRIENDS HERE

Mr. Trant has lived in Victoria since May, 1916, when he moved here from Regina where he had become active in public affairs and magistrate after he retired from his European career and came to Canada. During his residence here he became widely known in literary, club and Masonic circles.

His eyesight had been failing for some time and medical specialists were unable to help him on any (Continued on page 2)

DEPUTY MINISTER OF HIGHWAYS OF ONTARIO IS VISITOR

Came West to Attend Good Roads Meeting in Penticton

That the trans-Canada Highway, when it comes to be constructed across the gap in Western Ontario, will probably not take the route through the wilderness which fringes the north shore of Lake Superior, but will proceed by North Bay to Cochrane, and thence roughly along the line of the Canadian National Railways system to the Manitoba boundary, was the statement to The Times this morning by S. L. Squire, Deputy Minister of Highways for Ontario. Mr. Squire is widely known throughout Canada as chairman of the executive of the Canadian Good Roads Association, an organization devoted to improving and developing the municipal and provincial highways of the Dominion, and stimulating a standard system of maintenance. ### PRINCE WILL NOT SEE FILERS ARRIVE

British Royal Visitor Declines Invitation to U. S. World Event

Wishes to Avoid Official and Semi-official Events During Holiday

Syosset, N.Y., Sept. 4.—The Prince of Wales spent a short time at polo practice this forenoon.

Captain A. F. Lascelles, of the Prince's party, said the Prince had declined an invitation to participate in the reception to the United States round-the-world fliers at Mitchell Field Sunday. He would not attend, he told Chairman Davidson of the citizens' committee in charge of the reception, because he considered the occasion as being of a semi-official kind, which he has rightly excluded from his holiday.

NOT NEW YORK VISITOR

Nor will the Prince accept an invitation of a group of English actors now in New York to give a special benefit performance on Sunday for the Milk Fund. Captain Lascelles said the Prince had refused many invitations to theatrical performances, and added that it was extremely improbable he would visit New York City at all.

CROWDS A SURPRISE

Inspector Carlson of Scotland Yard, one of the Prince's attendants, said he was surprised at the crowds which had followed the royal visitor since his arrival. He had seen the Prince the object of much public attention in Great Britain and the Dominions, he added, but observed that "an English crowd never breaks a cordon."

SIR DAVID BRUCE IS ILL IN TORONTO AFTER LONG TOUR

Toronto, Sept. 4.—Sir David Bruce, former president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, contracted a bad cold during the trip the visiting scientists made to the Pacific Coast and when the party arrived in Toronto to-day from Sudbury he was taken to the Toronto General Hospital in an ambulance. It is feared pneumonia may develop. Although he was aboard the train yesterday, he became seriously ill during the night.

SUGGEST TOWNS BE FREED OF BIG EDUCATION COST

Delegates to B.C. Municipalities Convention Will Urge Government Pay All

Penticton, B.C., Sept. 4.—A resolution suggesting that the Provincial Government consider taking over the entire cost of the educational service and relieving the municipalities of this heavy burden is before the Union of British Columbia Municipalities and probably will be adopted without dissent before the adjournment of the convention here to-day.

A rough draft of the resolution was submitted for discussion and suggestion and the consensus of opinion seemed to be that unless drastic legislation is enacted to furnish new revenues for school purposes from sources other than real property, the ever-increasing cost of education will mean that more and more property will revert year by year to the municipalities.

DECLARES NO WORK AWAITS NEWCOMERS

Canadian Delegate to British Labor Congress Speaks of Immigration

Says 183,000 People Left Canada in Years to Live in United States

London, Sept. 4. (Canadian Press Cable)—Addressing the British Trades Union Congress at Hull to-day, J. A. McClelland, a Canadian delegate, said the question of immigration had been troubling organized workers of Canada. The gates of Canada, he said, were wide open, but there was no work for the new arrivals. While there were 132,000 new immigrants in Canada last year, Mr. McClelland said 183,000 people had emigrated from the Dominion to the United States to find a living. Nevertheless, the shipping and railway companies and manufacturers' associations were endeavoring by every means within their power to encourage British people to go to Canada.

HON. J. ROBB AT UNEMPLOYMENT MEETING TO-DAY

Acting Minister of Finance to Answer Statements at Ottawa Conference

Ottawa, Sept. 4. (Canadian Press)—When the unemployment conference reconvened this morning, Hon. J. A. Robb, Acting Minister of Finance, took his seat beside the chairman, Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor. After last night's storm over protection, the air was one of comparative calm. Mr. Murdock intimated that now that the Acting Minister of Finance was present, representatives of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association might continue their remarks on the effects of the tariff if they so desired. Last night Mr. Murdock sharply objected when the manufacturers' representatives spoke of the tariff reductions being responsible for unemployment.

J. B. THOMSON SPOKE

J. B. Thomson, Vancouver, representing the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, then continued to discuss and analyze unemployment conditions on the Pacific Coast.

ADAM W. WAGNALLS, PUBLISHER, DIED

Head of Firm of Funk and Wagnalls Succumbed at Northport, N. Y.

New York, Sept. 4.—Arrangements are being made to-day for a funeral at Northport, Ohio, of the body of Adam W. Wagnalls, one of the founders and president of the publishing firm of Funk and Wagnalls, who died last night at the Northport, N.Y., home of his daughter, Mrs. Mabel Wagnalls Jones. Mr. Wagnalls came to New York in 1876.

MANY DIAMONDS PUT ON MARKET NOW IN RUSSIA

Moscow, Sept. 4.—Diamonds in Russia are cheaper relatively than food. Pure white, flawless stones, cut on American standards, can be had at $100 a carat. Slightly yellow or "cinnamon" diamonds sell as low as $50 a carat. But it is difficult to get them out of the country on account of the Soviet ban.

The sellers usually are members of the old aristocracy or nobility, who, like most of the other classes, find times extremely hard.

Director-Aldermen Ruling In Old Country Appealed

London, Sept. 4. (Canadian Press Cable)—The decision recently given by a judge of the High Court of Justice disqualifying directors of companies from continuing to serve as members of municipal corporations if their companies accepted contracts from the municipalities, has resulted in the resignation of two aldermen of Leeds.

The proceedings in which the judgment referred to was given were instituted against one of these aldermen by a section of the Leeds Council, although there was no suggestion of any irregularity on their part. In fact it was admitted, that the contracts in question had saved the city of Leeds many thousands of pounds.

The Leeds Council has ordered an inquiry extending three years back with regard to transactions between the city and the companies with director-members of the council. Several councillors who voted for the investigation expressed the opinion that the inquiry was unnecessary, but they said that after all the publicity given in the matter, if such an inquiry was not held it would be thought something was wrong.

The judgment in question will be appealed against as the municipalities are ignorant as to just how they stand in the matter of directors of companies being members of town councils.

AUSTRALIAN BEAM WIRELESS STATION TO COST £120,000

Melbourne, Sept. 4. (Canadian Press Cable via Reuters)—The House of Representatives yesterday read a third time the wireless agreement bill, which provides for the erection of a beam station in Australia to cost £120,000. The station will operate on a wave length of 100 metres.

Premier Bruce recently expressed the hope that the transmission rates by beam wireless service would be about half those under the high power system.

Philadelphia, Sept. 4.—In tests here yesterday preliminary to defending the Schneider cup, international seaplane trophy, a United States naval seaplane piloted by Lieut. Ralph A. Ortis registered an unofficial speed of 190 miles an hour, ten miles faster than the seaplane record for this country.

The navy carried off the trophy last year at Cowes, Eng., and will defend it at Baltimore this year.

WILLIAM TRANT DIES

Lately he had been able to make out persons and objects only dimly. His mind and memory, however, remained almost as keen as they were in his prime. He spent his days with his correspondence and his books. He was personally friendly with many noted men of the day and still kept up correspondence with some of them, including George Bernard Shaw, Miss Dorothy Bissicks, his adopted daughter, read to him daily from the newspapers and his favorite books. There were always friends to see him in the evenings. Besides all these he had his radio with which he listened to concerts and lectures from as far away as California.

BUSY AND INTERESTED

Since early in the year, Mr. Trant has been busy in connection with the publication of his reminiscences by The Times. He supervised even the reading of the proofs and the selection of illustrations to go with the instalments. He called the member of The Times staff in charge of the reminiscences to his home for frequent conferences. At the last of these, towards the end of last month, Mr. Trant was in high spirits and delighted with the state of his health, which he attributed to this season of the year to the good weather. At the dinner table he was as bright and interesting as ever and his reminiscences on current events and the publication of his reminiscences had brought him much correspondence and personal calls from persons interested in the events which he described. This all brought him a new interest in life, so that time never hung heavily on him.

Besides this work, he was concerned himself with the publication of "Daisy Baines," a novel which he wrote. Until a couple of weeks ago he had been making his regular visits to town, to attend to his banking business, to visit the barber shop and then go to his club where he would have lunch and spend his day meeting and chatting with friends. One of the last prominent men he entertained was Prof. N. F. Black, Ph.D., of New Westminster, former of Saskatchewan, who was here to address the teachers' conference last month.

OUTSTANDING CHARACTER

When life flowed out early this morning from the tired body in the house behind the poplar trees on Dalhousie Street, there passed from the scene an associate of princes, a statesman, writer, scientist, a leader in advancing public opinion in Europe, a forceful speaker of the English radical school, and a participant in most of the stirring events of Britain and Western Europe during the last part of the nineteenth century.

William Trant was born at Leeds, England, March 13, 1844. His father was William Trant, and his mother was Isabella, a daughter of Joseph Hirst, of Dewsbury. His early education was gained chiefly in the Leeds Mechanics Institute, where he stood second in scholarship, and in the Leeds Free Grammar School. As a school boy he made a collection of postage stamps of all nations that attracted more than local attention and gave him premier honors as a philatelist. His regular schooling ended when he was fourteen, but though employed in the day he attended evening classes at the Y.M.C.A. At sixteen he competed in the Society of Arts examinations, and took first honors throughout the kingdom in astronomy and the highest position for his age in geometry. His enthusiasm for the science of astronomy led him about this time to found the Leeds Astronomical Society, which established an observatory, under the guidance of Sir John Herschel and Professor A. R. (Astronomer Royal) which is still in existence.

Mr. Trant's first employment, begun when he was fourteen, was as clerk with the Leeds Conservative Association, and at the age of sixteen he entered the office of a railway contractor and foreign shipper, and rose to the position of manager and cashier.

His connection with the press dates from 1865, when he became assistant reader on the Yorkshire Post. Soon afterwards his first contribution to the press, an article on "The Eclipse of the Sun," attracted favorable attention and he joined the editorial staff. In 1869 his career was transferred to London as reporter on the metropolitan press. About the same time he won the prize for an essay on "A Cheerful Disposition," offered by the "Association for the Education of Adults" (founded by the Prince Consort).

Mr. Trant now began to take part in politics, and became an active member of the Education League founded by Joseph Chamberlain, and also of the English branch of the Irish National League. On the downfall of Napoleon in 1871, during the Franco-Prussian War, he was co-delegate with George Odger in bearing the congratulatory address from the British proletariat to the new French republic. They escaped from Paris after the investment by the German troops, and while bearing the manifesto to the people of England were arrested as German spies, but their mission being revealed were released and arrived safely in London. Almost immediately, however, Mr. Trant returned to the continent of France as special correspondent, and was in Paris throughout the Commune. With its suppression, his letters having been intercepted, he was arrested, imprisoned, and sentenced to death, and had a narrow escape.

IN POLITICS AT HOME
After his return to England he became lecturer and parliamentary organizer for the Financial Reform Association. During this period was issued his successful book entitled "Financial Reform." He also won the £50 prize essay on "Trade Unions," a monograph which has gone through two editions and has also been published both in the United States and Australia.

OFF TO INDIA
If some respects the most eventful period of his life was the four years spent in India. Declining an invitation to enter the British House of Commons because he had previously accepted an appointment to India, in 1874 he became special correspondent for The Times of India (Bombay). He was present throughout the imbroglio that ended in the deposition of the Gaekwar of Baroda, and was the only "pale face" allowed to be present at the installation of his successor, the present Gaekwar. During the Sabarmuttee floods in India, in order to send away his dispatches he tried to swim across a broken culvert, and his life was gallantly saved by a railway fireman, to whom the Royal Humane Society of England awarded a medal for bravery. He next accompanied the Prince of Wales (Edward VII) on his tour throughout India and Ceylon, and received many marks of royal favor. He was present at Delhi at the proclamation of Queen Victoria as Empress of India. While in India Mr. Trant was government lecturer to the Sabarmuttee Institute, and also founded and edited The Masonic Standard (Bombay), which he relinquished on becoming editor of the Madras Athenaeum. He also served as lieutenant in the Madras Volunteer Guards.

MOVES TO CANADA
Returning to England in 1879, he became letter and leader writer from the press galleries of the House of Parliament, and afterwards editor of the Huddersfield News. In 1883 he was again in the political world of London. He founded the Radical and Federalist, over which he presided for two years, and through this avenue and about this time the Rt. Hon. John Burns may be said to have entered public life. Once again he was asked to enter Parliament, but for private reasons declined. Shortly afterwards he was sent on a press mission to France, Spain, Algeria, Morocco, the United States of America, and Mexico, and in 1884 came with his family into the Canadian North West, locating at Cotham, Assinibola. Since then, for nearly twenty-five years, he has continued his activities through the press and public affairs, and his service and writings have had a broad influence upon the development of the Northwest. He was particularly instrumental in obtaining for Cotham a school, a church and a postoffice; he served as school trustee and as justice of the peace, and has refused the request of his fellow citizens to stand for the Dominion House of Commons. In 1895 he became editor of the Regina Standard, and in 1902 was editor of the Regina Leader. He was called to the bar of Saskatchewan in 1904, and practiced in Regina until 1907, when he was appointed police magistrate of Regina in 1907.

BUSY WRITER
Mr. Trant has occupied high positions on many newspapers, and his contributions to the leading magazines always attract attention. One, "On the Punishment of Criminals," drew the following commendation from Chief Justice Coleridge: "You have said, and said well, what all my life I have been trying unsuccessfully to say." In 1911 and 1922 Mr. Trant was delegate from the Saskatchewan Government to the conventions of the American Prison Association. He was made member of the committee on the reform of the Canadian Government, the only person not resident of the United States to be so honored.

For a syndicate of English newspapers Mr. Trant wrote his experience under the title, "From the Pen to the Plough," in Cassell's Magazine he described life on the plains under the title, "Pick-a-Rant." He wrote "Prairie Philosophy" for The Western Review. An article in the same magazine on "The Treatment of the Canadian Indian" attracted his last noticed in both hemispheres. His last contribution to magazine literature "Jew and Chinaman," in The North American Review, April, 1923, attracted very great attention as an exposition of the so-called "yellow peril."

HIS BOOKS STILL STANDARD

His six speeches on financial reform published in book form by the Financial Reform Association in Britain, and were used as text books in succeeding campaigns. His "Origin and Objects, Influence and Efficiency," published in 1884, and which won the £50 prize offered by the Trades Union Congress, has become an attractive text book on trades unionism up to that period. This work of Mr. Trant's was afterwards published as an official publication by the American Federation of Labor and was through this that Mr. Trant and Sam Gompers became well known to one another. Mr. Trant is survived by two sons, William F. Van der Meer, and Walter H. of Edmonton; one daughter, Mrs. Robert Cruickshank of Moose Jaw, and his adopted daughter, Miss Dorothy Bissicks of Victoria. It has been decided yet whether the funeral will take place in Victoria or in Regina.

OLIVER TO HURRY EAST
SATURDAY TO OPEN B. C. FREIGHT RATE ARGUMENT

We must tackle it what the Railway Board can do to help us under the circumstances. TO OKANAGAN
The Premier announced that he would open the New Westminster fair on Monday, go to Vernon on Tuesday to discuss the problems of the fruit industry with the growers, and if possible meet Hon. J. H. King, who is expected in the interior nearly next week. On the following day the Premier will go to Penticton, where he will meet Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands. They will then motor south to Oliver and investigate the preparations for the government irrigation scheme there.

A considerable area of land served by the scheme, the Premier explained, is still unoccupied, and the Government is anxious to find settlers to buy it. "We intend to review the whole situation on the ground," Mr. Oliver stated.

PUSH FORWARD

Mr. Squire pointed out that the Trans-Canada Highway must be constructed in a route which would render possible some return, and that the more serious road work would be the opening up of a valuable section of the mining and agricultural area of New Ontario, justifying its construction as a colonization road.

Mr. Squire, however, indicated that for a long time the more urgent question, in view of steamer competition from Lake Superior, to the head of the lakes, was the linking up of the roads under construction between Fort William and the Manitoba coast. It was not very easy to persuade Manitoba to press its connection eastward because the pressure was to improve the surface between Winnipeg and the coast.

HIS NEW POSITION

Since Mr. Squire accepted an appointment last October as Deputy Minister, he has had an exceptionally busy time, and has been able to apply to practice many of the suggestions which the Good Roads Association has preached in past years. The Ontario Highway department is saving money, and giving the certificate of approval to the construction of roads.

SEEKING STANDARDIZATION

Mr. Squire says the Canadian Good Roads Association is very anxious to encourage the various provinces to standardize their roads to set a limit to the fast-driving-of-heavy trucks, owing to the damage done by trucks over a certain class of roads. He said that the authorities would get together to pass legislation forbidding heavy trucks on highways, the manufacturers would cease to do so, and the roads would be improved to road surfaces, and the community would greatly benefit thereby. Mr. Squire left for the East again to-day.

PRINCE WILL NOT SEE FLIERS ARRIVE

day to-day, after indulging in twenty-four hours of almost complete rest as far as athletic exertions were concerned. He was scheduled to attend the first formal party since he landed. As a guest of the Piping Rock Club at Locust Valley, the prince, who was with the British and American polo teams, for whom the dinner on the eve of the international match has become a custom.

AVOIDED CROWDS

The Prince when attending two polo games yesterday eluded the major portion of two audiences. At the Meadowcroft Club, where he sat alone and while few were conscious of his presence, he escaped by conceding no more than a few snapshots. But at the W. R. Grace grounds, where the Americans played, he was discovered and followed by a crowd that, though small, was persistent enough to cling to him until he had stepped into his motor car after climbing a rail fence.

The Prince paid a call at the home of John W. Davis, Democratic nominee for the presidency of the United States, on his way to the polo grounds. Mr. Davis was not there, being engaged in the West, so he was received by Mrs. Davis.

ROYAL STANDARD SHOWN

The Piping Rock Club dinner was strictly a star affair. On the wall behind the Prince's place at the table was his coat of arms, flanked on one side by the British Royal Standard and on the other by the Stars and Stripes. The British flag was draped over the entrance of the dining-room.

There were toasts to the President of the United States, King George, and the Prince himself. To the last one the Prince responded with a few impromptu remarks, expressing thanks to the Piping Rock Club, and to the polo players and the hunting families of Long Island for the pleasure of his holiday. Discussing the fellowship between the British and Americans, the Prince said again that he believed there was no better way to strengthen this fellowship than by study of the past and the present.

CLOTHES OBSERVED

The representatives of fashion journals who have followed the Prince since his appearance on the deck of the Britannia, where the ship anchored have found but little material on which to base predictions for forthcoming men's styles. The royal visitor has spent a large part of his time in a regulation polo suit. On the ship and again at the races he wore a light grey sack suit with a white stripe. When he returned from Washington he wore a blue serge. Yesterday he wore a check suit.

HON. J. A. ROBB AT

ing the prohibition of the export of logs. He pointed out that the Pacific Coast had for many years been urging the appointment of a Canadian customs officer at New York. He thought the appointment of such an officer and the development of traffic between east and west via the Panama Canal would result in greater western purchases of eastern products.

Protection necessary to maintain the manufacture of logging and mining machinery had been removed this year. "We feel," declared Mr. Thomson, "that the solution of the whole unemployment question is to allow those who are engaged in the production of manufactured goods to enjoy their home market so they may develop their market abroad."

Mr. Thomson urged that the problem of unemployment should be met by a readjustment of the tariff, with retention of adequate protection. IMPORTATION OF SHOES
L. L. Deslogchamps, Montreal, president of the Canadian Shoe Manufacturers' Association, emphasized the seriousness of the Canadian shoe industry of the imports of boots and shoes from the United Kingdom. He attributed the increase in these imports to low wages in the United Kingdom and the low rates under the preferential tariff. Mr. Robb submitted statistics to show that the exports of Canadian boots and shoes to the United Kingdom were increasing. Mr. Deslogchamps charged that British manufacturers were using Russian leather, tanned in Germany and bought under the advantage of reduced currency. He declared that some of the so-called British boots were really German, simply labelled "Made in England."

CAR WORKERS IDLE

In one railway shop in Montreal, said Frank McKenna of the Car Shops Federation, 500 men had been laid off recently and the prevailing conditions were reflected in the short hours worked by 4,000 employees in car shops throughout Canada.

MacDONALD DECLARES
FOR WIDER ARBITRATION

the foundations of peace. The future happiness of the world must be based on agreements reached through the League. Warning against attempting to base peace upon force, he said:

"If we can not devise a system of arbitration, then do not let us fool ourselves that we are going to have peace."

NEW RELATIONSHIPS

In his references to Germany's place in the League, the Premier said: "We can not sit endlessly with a vacant chair in our midst. The London Conference created new relationships between the east of Europe and Germany. She should have her seat here."

He asked for action along this line at the present session of the Assembly.

POSITION OF RUSSIA

He referred also to Russia's attitude toward the League. The agreement reached in London between the Soviet and Great Britain, he said, was the first indication that Russia was returning to the affairs of Europe and was headed toward co-operation at Geneva.

In another part of his address, he remarked: "Europe for the last few years has not offered the United States very attractive companionship. Yet we have never asked the United States to do an important thing but what she has always agreed to do."

DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE

The British Premier urged the time had come to arrange a new disarmament conference with all the powers, including Germany, including the United States plan, had been turned over to a special commission, which would study them all and seek a basis for the conference, he added.

Mr. MacDonald said the British Government desired to sign the optional clause of compulsory arbitration of the Permanent Court of International Justice, but before doing so it wanted that clause revised by a commission of experts, which should inaugurate the work immediately. He said nobody seemed to be sure whether this clause was to be operative both in war time and peace time.

MANY CONSRIPTED

Conscription of both men and women workers for war work was reported continuing to-day in many sections of the Chinese territory adjacent to Shanghai. This drafting was started a week ago, when hostilities became probable. It has had the effect of bringing thousands of Chinese into the French and international settlements here, seeking foreign protection against the conscripting officials.

PROTECTIVE MEASURES

Washington, Sept. 4.—A protective cordon composed of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps and American, British, Japanese and French sailors will be thrown about the foreign settlement in Shanghai to prevent the entry of armed Chinese forces there.

Shanghai, Sept. 4.—Chang Tso-Lin, Military Governor of Manchuria, has issued an ultimatum to the Peking Government declaring that unless it "stops its attack" on General Lu Yung-Hsiang, Chang himself will immediately mediate by force, says a Japanese news agency telegram from Peking.

NATIONS DISCUSSING CONTROL OF ARMS

U.S. Leaders Say Conference Should Be Separate From Disarmament Gathering

Washington, Sept. 4.—The suggestion reported to have been advanced at Geneva that the proposed international conference on control of the arms traffic might be broadened readily to include disarmament received little support to-day in high administration circles here.

The two subjects are so dissimilar in their meaning and in their execution, it was said, that it would be hard to conceive a common relationship other than their admitted connection in any general programme affecting world peace.

In the case of arms, United States diplomats were said to agree that practically every nation would hold varying views as to the size necessary for the legitimate functions of its own and of that necessary in its neighbor.

VIEWS DIFFER AT CONFERENCE

Municipal Delegates Wish Greater Federal Efforts in Unemployment Relief

Murdoch's Statement of Government's Attitude Brings Many Questions

Ottawa, Sept. 4.—Mayor S. J. Farmer of Winnipeg, addressing the Unemployment Conference yesterday afternoon, said he was opposed to private employment agencies. Laborers were sent sometimes many miles on journeys in search of work, while others worked for months to find his employer had no money to pay him. Then there was the problem of the married men who could not afford to accept work which would keep them employed only a few months. Then there were outsiders coming into districts where men were already available. These came back to cities to demand municipal relief, rise on the river banks as vagrants in the most complicated municipal government.

DEPLORABLE CONDITIONS DOES NOT HELP

He disagreed with the suggestion that work should be held over until the winter. To keep men out of work in summer in order to give them work in the winter would not help matters. The standard of wages was not high enough to enable a man to keep a family on six months' work. The amount of public work a municipality could undertake was limited and Winnipeg, for one city, was almost entirely dependent on the Federal and Provincial Governments for public works. Provincial government public works, financially guaranteed by the Federal Government, would be a good way to deal with the problem. He thought the Government of Manitoba would be willing to go ahead with such a scheme if the Federal Government was favorable.

FIRST SUGGESTIONS

Mayor Webster, Calgary, said it seemed to have been left to the municipalities to make the first suggestions. Dr. King, Minister of Public Works, he thought, had failed to give the definite outline promised of the Federal Government's policy of public works for the coming winter. Calgary as a municipality had laid out a bigger programme than usual of public works, which might have been done more easily in the summer so workers might go out in the harvest fields. Calgary would carry on public works this winter to the extent of $85,000. The city, however, could do no more and for whatever unemployment might result, he thought the Federal and Provincial Governments should take the responsibility. Ten per cent. of Calgary's municipal taxes had gone into unemployment relief in the last few years, he said. The city could do no more. Immigrants had been dumped into Calgary and left without means to become charges on the city. A close supervision of immigration was needed to prevent the influx from foreign countries of city dwellers. There were also tubercular immigrants now being supported by the city, and also mentally deficient persons.

CANADIAN PORTS

Mayor F. L. Potts of St. John, N.B., suggested that prairie farmers should use Canadian ports during winter months for the export of their grain. This would benefit Canadians and was as reasonable a principle as the use of Canadian made goods. Mayor Potts said he fully expected the Minister of Public Works had this to offer as a keynote to constructional activity next winter.

POSITION DEFINED

Mr. Murphy of Halifax asked the chairman as to whether or not the Government would, in any circumstances, moderate its position. Mr. Murdoch replied that he was only one member of the Cabinet and could hardly answer such a question. He must, however, bear in mind that the Government had considered the question several times since 1920 and that it had arrived at a very clear understanding as to its proper position in the matter.

GOOD GOVERNMENT

Several delegates expressed dissatisfaction with the Government's statement of policy and to tell them that the whole problem was one for their solution.

Mr. Murdoch said that the Government had not intended to make such an elaborate statement. That was not the purpose for which the conference had been called. It had been hoped to establish through the collaboration of the various interested parties present some practical scheme of co-operation between the Governments, manufacturers and labor to forestall unemployment in Canada this winter. However, there was such a general tendency to put the responsibility for unemployment on the Federal Government that it was necessary to define the Federal Government's position and to quote chapter and verse to show the Federal Government could take no financial responsibility in the matter. Those who urged that present conditions had arisen out of the war and therefore should be recognized as part of the war debt overlooked the fact that Canada had already incurred a debt of $1,500,000,000, that account, with no financial help from the provinces.

Clearly Stated

"It is, of course, conceivable that a large percentage of the people might be plunged into poverty," said the Minister, "and that on human grounds the Federal Government would be unable to do other than to afford assistance."

"It is possible the Federal Government would not consider it to be the part of wisdom to assume the aggressive by instructing Provincial Governments as to their duties in this regard. But in order that the situation may be clarified and that the people of Canada generally may be instructed as to where the constitutional liability legitimately lies, it should be stated that the British North America Act clearly established responsibility for relief."

Withdrawal of Artillery Unit Begins Evacuation Under New Agreement

Brussels, Sept. 4.—The Belgian military evacuation of the Ruhr will begin to-night with the withdrawal of a battalion of the Sixteenth Artillery, which will join the garrison at Tillemont. Other units will be taken out from time to time. Orders for the movement of special branches such as the heavy artillery, tanks and aviation arm have already been issued.

The retirement of these units will constitute the first stage of the evacuation. The second stage will be the removal of the infantry, which will be brought back by entire regiments instead of by battalions.

Frank R. Heartz Is Named New P.E.I. Lieut.-Governor

Ottawa, Sept. 4.—Frank Richard Heartz of Charlottetown has been appointed Lieutenant-Governor of Prince Edward Island, in succession to Murdoch Mackinnon. Mr. Heartz comes of United Empire Loyalist stock, was born on Prince Edward Island, and is a member of a family which has lived on the island three generations. He is in his early forties.

Government to consider. The chairman said they were and Mr. Moore went on to ask if the recommendations of a group of people, representing millions of citizens who asked only the right to earn their living, could not reasonably claim their joint recommendations affected the peace, order and good government of the country.

Mayor Farmer of Winnipeg interrupted the Minister, who was moving for the sixth time that the conference adjourn for the dinner recess. Mr. Farmer said that the Government had nothing less uncompromising to offer the conference might as well disband instead of adjourning. The Minister moved for adjournment for two hours, and the conference rose.

At the evening session on the motion of Mayor H. W. Hiltz of Toronto, the conference appointed a representative committee to summarize the views expressed throughout the day and draft a resolution for presentation at to-day's session.

Real Old-timer Vouches for "Dreco"

Mr. R. Lyons, for Thirty-nine Years a Resident of the Western Metropolis, Gets Splendid Help From Dreco, the Famous Herbal Remedy

"I suffered for a long time from stomach trouble," says Mr. Lyons. "My food would sour and form gas and the pains it caused were so bad at times that I could hardly stand. My kidneys were weak, too, and I often had pains across my back, while rheumatism in my arms and legs bothered me a lot. My liver was sluggish. I often had bilious attacks and was chronically constipated."

"I have just finished my third bottle of Dreco and feel like a new man. My food digests properly now and the pains in my back have all gone, and so has my rheumatism. My liver is active again and I haven't had a bilious attack since starting with Dreco. My bowels are regular, too."

Dreco is made from the pure extracts of twelve medicinal herbs, roots, barks and leaves and contains no mercury, potash or habit-forming drugs.

His Greatest Find

Noted Prospector Crowns Interesting and Useful Career With Discovery of Dreco

Mr. Charles Keddy of Lake Ramsay, New Ross, Nova Scotia, great grandson of the founders of the city of Halifax and whose parents and grandparents bore almost equally distinguished parts in the early development of the city, is himself famous all over Canada as a successful prospector and mineralogist.

He located the first tin ore in the solid in Canada and discovered radioactive ore in the solid, but it is doubtful if any of these successes brought him greater personal satisfaction than his timely discovery of Dreco, as a health-builder.

Mr. Keddy, at seventy-three years of age, found that years of hardship and exposure had told on even his robust constitution. To-day, thanks to Dreco, Mr. Keddy is again active and strong and straight as a flag-staff. He feels fit enough to break again the trails of his vigorous youth. Here is Mr. Keddy's statement:

Testimonials Convinced Him

"For a long time I suffered from rheumatism so bad that I could not work. My back ached terribly and I was almost bent double. I had pains in my knees and feet and every time I moved my joints cracked. Some time ago I had an operation for an ulcer below my knee and was in the hospital for two months. After that my troubles seemed to spoken of in tones of the deepest gratitude by people he knew well. What more natural than that he should decide to try it himself?"

"Although I have only taken a bottle and a half of Dreco, it has done me a world of good already," states Mr. Elvin. "Last winter I had an attack of lumbago, which left my system in a very badly rundown condition. Pains shot across my back over my kidneys. My stomach would not digest my food properly, causing gas to raise after each meal, and I often had bilious attacks."

"After reading of the help people I knew were receiving from Dreco, I thought it might also benefit me, and I have not been disappointed in any way. The pains in my back have greatly improved, my stomach is much better, and I have had no gastric or bilious spells since I started taking this medicine."

"My bowels are regular. I get up feeling fine and refreshed in the mornings and my day's work is done much easier. I have recommended Dreco to many already. They will be glad to find that it actually does tone and regulate the system and improve the general health. Dreco is made from herbs, roots, bark and leaves, and contains no mercury, potash or habit-forming drugs."

At the Fraser Mills dock, the Diana Dollar and the Rigi are now berthed. The Canadian Inventor is at Fraser Dock No. 2 loading lumber for Montreal.

Ottawa, Sept. 4.—An estimate placing the total wheat production of Alberta at 65,714,000 bushels, or forty per cent. of last year's crop in that Province, is made by the superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Station of Lethbridge in a report to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. He reports that August rains helped the yield of late-sown coarse grains, but that their effect on wheat, beyond better filling, will be small.

LOAN TO BE RAISED IN AUSTRALIA SOON

Melbourne, Sept. 4.—The Federal Treasurer announced in the House of Representatives yesterday that the Commonwealth Government loan of £10,000,000, to be floated locally on behalf of the various states, will bear interest at the rate of six per cent., and that the price will be ninety-eight-and-a-half. The loan will have five or ten years to run, and the interest will be subject to Commonwealth, but not to state taxation.

This is the only loan the Commonwealth and the state will issue for new money in the current financial year.

CLAIMS AGAINST HOME BANK PAID

Toronto, Sept. 4.—I. E. Weldon, joint liquidator with G. T. Clarkson of the Home Bank, states good progress is being made in meeting preferred claims against the bank's assets. He said that out of $1,700,000 notes of the bank, $1,600,000 had been paid and the others would be dealt with as they appeared.

In order to pay the dividend of 25 per cent. to depositors, a total of $3,700,000 had been required, of which $2,400,000 had been borrowed from other banks, but of the latter sum $1,600,000 or 66.2-3 per cent. had been paid back. The liquidators proposed next to deal with the obligation of $1,200,000 to the Ontario Government, which is a preferred depositor under the law.

The National Committee of Home Bank Depositors, which has not met since Parliament laid over until next session the claim for compensation, has been called to a conference in this city on October 1.

Scouts Theory of Canals on Mars

San Jose, Cal., Sept. 4.—Dr. Robert G. Aitken, assistant director of Lick Observatory, in an address on astronomy before the San Jose Rotary Club yesterday, commented upon the markings on Mars as evidence of life on that planet. He said that to be visible to astronomers of the earth, markings would have to be fifty to one hundred miles wide, hence the notion that such markings, plainly visible as they were, were canals such as would be built on the earth, was absurd.

"It is not likely they are canals," he added, "unless they do things very differently on Mars than on the earth."

What a Grocer Thinks

We were talking to a grocer the other day. He says he sells five cases of Pacific Milk to one of any other kind, and the reason, in his mind, is quite simple—Being a B.C. product has nothing to do with it, he believes, but its superior flavor, richness and freshness would place it first in any market, without regard to where it comes from. It is his belief, from experience, that women will buy the best quality. If it is a local product, so much the better, or if two equal qualities, they will demand the Made-in-B.C. mark.

What a Grocer Thinks

We were talking to a grocer the other day. He says he sells five cases of Pacific Milk to one of any other kind, and the reason, in his mind, is quite simple—Being a B.C. product has nothing to do with it, he believes, but its superior flavor, richness and freshness would place it first in any market, without regard to where it comes from. It is his belief, from experience, that women will buy the best quality. If it is a local product, so much the better, or if two equal qualities, they will demand the Made-in-B.C. mark.

WILLIAM TRANT

AFTER completing thirty-five years of residence in this country and at the ripe old age of eighty, Mr. William Trant of this city passed his last rest this morning. Some years ago his medical adviser in Regina, where he settled and had lived ever since he left his native Britain, prescribed the more equable climate of the Pacific Coast as necessary to the preservation of his health. For a very considerable period the pleasant surroundings and friendly atmosphere of Victoria had enabled him to maintain that interest in the world's affairs upon which his whole life's work had been based.

The late Mr. Trant was a journalist by choice and instinct. As a young man, like others who identified themselves with the press of Great Britain during the latter half of the last century, he commenced to grow with the times and won the regard and confidence of many public men whose names shine brilliantly in the pages of history. He was intimately acquainted with celebrities in all walks of life, while for his own part in the realms of literature and politics and diplomacy he was a prominent figure.

Away back in the days when Mr. T. P. O'Connor had made his name as a journalist of considerable prominence, after the period of his sub-editorship on The Daily Telegraph and long before he founded and began to edit The Star, the present "Father of the House of Commons" regarded Mr. Trant as one of the most promising among the younger journalists of the Old Country. He represented the Central News in the press gallery at Westminster and numerous assignments of world-wide note. He made much of this opportunity; it furnished him with a fund of information upon which he could at all times draw with convincing and entertaining effect. It gave him an intimate association with moving events, a personal contact with men of distinguished biographies, and the wide experience thus gained enabled him to view more recent happenings in the field of international polity with a penetrating mind.

To those who knew the late Mr. Trant intimately and were privileged to peep into a mind so well stored his passing will come as a great shock. For, despite his great age and failing strength, he revelled in reminiscence. It was a delight to talk to him. He could lift the veil and reveal more than half a century's history at will—a capacity which only few enjoy.

To the reading public of Victoria Mr. Trant was no stranger. His reminiscences which have been published in installments in The Times tell an engrossing story of interesting experiences in many fields. It was of special interest to him that he should live to see the evolution of the Labor Party from small beginnings to a mighty power dominating the political firmament of the country. He had seen trades unionism strengthened and protected and its influence widened by the passage of numerous measures in the House of Commons. In the promotion of many of these he played no small part. He also wrote prolifically on labor questions and never abated his respect for the principles for which the wise and moderate element in the British Labor Party stand.

During his residence in Regina Mr. Trant identified himself with many progressive movements and ill-health alone has compelled him to take life easily during the last few years. Of him it can be said with perfect truth that he leaves a stage on which he played a man's part with much success; a world better for his having lived in it.

SMALL COMFORT FOR THEM

CONSERVATIVES in Montreal are trying to extract some comfort from the reduction in the majorities of the successful Liberal candidates in St. Antoine and Rimouski under those of the election of 1921, and profess to regard this as an indictment of the Government. A few months ago, however, we were told by the Conservative organizers, captained by Dr. Tolmie, that the Government had suffered so great a decline of prestige in Quebec that there actually was a strong prospect of that Province swinging into their party column. To confirm the accuracy of that prediction Mr. Meighen made one of the biggest fights of his political career in St. Antoine, which the Conservatives really thought they were going to win.

The constituency had been generally Conservative since its establishment some thirty years ago. It was supposed to be strongly protectionist in its attitude to fiscal policy. The Liberal who had represented it had resigned in protest against the reduction of customs duties on the implements of production. The Conservative candidate, Mr. Birks, one of Canada's most prominent men of business, was regarded as the strongest representative Mr. Meighen could put in the field. The Conservative leader himself campaigned on behalf of his standard bearer and made the fiscal policy of the Government the chief target of his attack.

Nevertheless St. Antoine, like Rimouski, remains Liberal, and it is certain that they express the sentiment of the Province as a whole. It is a favorite belief of Conservative commentators that Quebec is the stronghold of high protection in Canada. In that case the results of the by-elections on Tuesday must be very disheartening to Mr. Meighen and his followers.

OUR GREATEST INDUSTRY

THE ultimate prosperity of British Columbia is to a very great degree dependent on the goodwill of its citizens towards the industrial forces that are developing its natural resources.

It is a common fault of all countries richly endowed with natural wealth to minimize the hardships and overrate the rewards of the operators engaged in the conversion of the raw material into the finished product.

The sympathy of the public with the industrial groups that are building up national wealth is only effective when it is the outcome of an intelligent knowledge of the scope of those industries and a study of their economic issues.

In the case of the British Columbia lumber industry it is difficult to account for any lack of interest in its problems by the citizens of the province for the reason that in no country in the world, perhaps, has a basic industry so entwined itself with the destiny of the community.

We suspect that the lumber industry of British Columbia is so omnipresent that it is very much taken for granted, even by those who are dependent on it for a livelihood.

It is a commonplace to us that we are the owners of one of the very finest stands of soft-wood timbers in existence. We dimly recognize that our forest industries have been the main factor in transforming our settlements into cities and our waterfronts into wharves. We have an idea that but for shipments of wood products by land and sea our railroads would not pay and our harbors would attract but little shipping.

The Timber Industries Council of British Columbia, in a series of articles now running in our pages, are publishing some remarkable facts and figures concerning the great importance of the forest industries to the Province. It is stated that our lumbermen contribute a third of the revenue of British Columbia; that they directly employ one-fourth of the workers in British Columbia and that they are responsible for a third of the industrial payroll of the Province. Further, that the combined forest industries represent an annual purchasing power of not less than $100,000,000, or something like $200 per capita of the whole population.

With facts such as these staring us in the face some loyal interest in the problems of this vast industrial force becomes a duty of our citizens. The goodwill and support of the people of British Columbia are, after all, the main security upon which our lumbermen have freely invested a sum exceeding two hundred million dollars. If that security depreciates into indifference the vast investment becomes imperilled and disaster faces both parties to the contract.

On the other hand complete co-operation and understanding between the public and the lumber industry can only result in the confident investment of further millions, more intensive development of our resources, and the consequent prosperity accruing to the Province.

That great wave of Conservatism which Dr. Tolmie said was sweeping the country hit a rock at Rimouski and St. Antoine.

Dr. Sutherland is a staunch advocate of good roads; but his spending capacity is limited to the amount which the public sanctions.

The rebels in the provincial Conservative Party are somewhat silent about the cause of their defeat at Nelson. They are not able to blame Mr. Bowser this time.

The morning paper says the people of British Columbia have some right to know what are the Provincial Party's intentions. Are they really concerned about the fortunes of General McRae's forces now—especially after Nelson?

No doubt the Island's roads could be a good deal better; but to suggest that they have "gone to the dogs" is drawing the long bow. Nor do we completely swallow the intimation that many visitors have turned back at Bellingham because our roads are "atrocious."

WANING SUMMER

Phoebus now prepares for parting
 Out from Leo's starry lair,
 Down his fiery chariot darts,
 Toward the realm of Virgo fair.
 Summer fond, it seems, is waning—
 Losing fast her gentle ways;
 But, with greater age attaining,
 Decks herself in proud array.
 Gay and gorgeous garlands wears she,
 Verdure of the richest hues;
 Flowers brilliant smiling bears she,
 Sparkling with the morning dew.
 Golden-rod her features brightens—
 Greets with gladness her eye;
 All her splendours richly heightens,
 Eye she bids us fondly bid adieu.
 Thistle-down, a dingy yellow,
 Yells the meadow's bosom o'er;
 Wafts on high and zephyrs mellow,
 Glad to upward idly soar.
 Ripen fields of grain all golden,
 Ready for the sickle's sweep;
 Now bespeaking season older—
 Summer's waning days serene——Father Cassidy, Ottawa University.

Dr. Frank Crane on "Whole Wheat Bread"

(Copyright)
THE campaign for bread made of the whole grain of the wheat is not only rampant in America but in Europe.

The efforts of millers to please the eye by whitening the flour, and to do so by extracting all things that interfere with its perfect color, have resulted in taking away from the flour those elements of the grain which are necessary for the sustenance of the human body.

A book, recently published in England, holds that cancer, which is increasingly prevalent in civilization, is due to devitalized food and that the best cure for this mysterious and horrible disease is the preventative influence of whole wheat or whole meal bread. Doctors are not yet agreed upon that to which the germ of cancer is due, but it is the general impression that it must be due to malnutrition of some sort, at least that malnutrition furnishes it a favorable soil on which to work.

Another terrible disease is that of blood poisoning, such as took off the son of President Coolidge. It is averred, in some circles, that blood poisoning only attacks those whose vitality is weakened by under nourishment and that the continuous use of the products of devitalized products is favorable to blood poisoning.

Whatever conclusion we may reach as to the influences which react favorably to these two diseases it cannot be doubted that the continued use of devitalized flour is not beneficial to the race. We have seen considerable instances recently of attempts to popularize whole wheat flour and the products of the same. What is the natural food of the human body and probably more people live upon the products of wheat than upon any other one thing except those of rice.

It is established that devitalized rice, or polished rice, brings on the disease known as beri-beri.

It is also well known that the disease of pellagra is caused by the eating of food products made of devitalized flour.

Just what nourishes the human body is among the secrets of that mysterious science known as organic chemistry, but there are considerable grounds for believing that the use of whole wheat flour, or the use of the whole grain in some way, is beneficial and that the use of devitalized flour, or flour made white in the endeavor to make it pretty, is responsible for diseases of more than one kind.

In the interest of good health, therefore, the use of whole wheat flour should be encouraged.

The Beginnings Of Winnipeg

ON September 4, 1812, while war was raging and the United States was arming 500,000 men in her port to take Upper and Lower Canada, a ceremony was taking place on the ground where the city of Winnipeg now stands, which inaugurated the British colonization of the vast new areas of the Canadian West.

The Governor, Miles Macdonell, appointed by Lord Selkirk, with his promoter of the great enterprise, invited three gentlemen from the Northwest Company, several French-Canadian and half-breeds from their quarters nearby, and some Indians from their camp, to come to his bivouac at the Forks, on the east side of the Red River, just north of the Assiniboine. There, with his two hundred, odd soldiers drawn up in ceremonial order, with an officer's guard under arms, with colors flying, himself an officer from the War of the American Revolution, he faced Fort Gibraltar across the river and ordered the patent of Lord Selkirk to be read aloud, formally taking "delivery and seisin" of the great area which Lord Selkirk had secured from the Hudson's Bay Company, the Crown, and the Indians. For the information of the French Canadians and of the half-breeds a Hudson's Bay officer translated the significant parts into French. Then, when the solemn reading was over, all of Lord Selkirk's artillery, and all of the artillery of the Hudson's Bay Company in that district, consisting altogether of six little swivel guns, was fired in a grand salute.

The ceremony over, the visitors did not disperse. The leaders and the gentlemen were liberally drunk. Outside the crowd in general made merry round a keg of whiskey.

So began the magnificent venture of faith in a great land, a venture which the Earl of Selkirk had dreamed and planned long years before amid the romantic surroundings of his country seat in St. Mary's Isle. A man of action as well as of dreams he had worked systematically against tremendous and unexpected odds, first slowly securing control of the august Company of Gentlemen Adventurers Trading into Hudson's Bay, and then moving that great corporation and the various Departments of the Imperial Government to grant him land and to allow and help him to get his colonists together and started off from Scotland. Few more romantic figures than His Lordship have appeared on the pages of Canadian History. Misunderstood, vilified, opposed by overt and underhand means from the start of his great colonization ventures to the end of his life, he paid the price that idealists so often pay, and died broken hearted and worn out by the struggle, having lived long enough to see all his efforts seemingly wasted and his colonies broken up. Yet the Province of Manitoba to-day venerates his memory as the founder of its destiny and large numbers of the inhabitants of the province are proud to be the descendants of the sturdy Highlanders moved to the "great lone land" by his generosity.

That animal life ascends the mountains far beyond plant growth is one of the discoveries of the Mount Everest expedition.
 "The highest growing plant observed was blue vetch of 18,000 feet," writes Lieut.-Col. E. F. Norton, leader of the expedition. "Yet animals possess permanent habitations as high as 22,000 feet. A minute and inconspicuous black spider hops about on the rocky cliffs and hides beneath stones in those bare places which happen to be exempt from snow by the wind. I cannot think on what it lives at such a height."
 "In these altitudes there is no other living thing—nothing but rock and ice. This little spider is worthy of note, being the highest permanent inhabitant of the earth. We therefore find life on the highest mountains far above the permanent snowline."

Trees Purchased in the "Eighties" Only Just Being Cut for the Market

It may interest those who imagine that timber is bought to-day and cut tomorrow, to know that some of the areas that are being logged to-day have been in the possession of the holders since the "eighties."

For 40 years these stands have been paying increased taxation exposed to the risk of destruction by fire, storm and decay.
 Before the axe touches the timber of British Columbia, thousands of dollars are spent in staking up its boundaries, in making preliminary reconnaissances have to be made of the area and then one or more cruises to ascertain the quantity and quality of the timber. Then the services of experienced engineers are called in and the ground gone over in detail to find out the possibilities of getting the timber out by railroad. Grade problems presenting seemingly overwhelming difficulties and entailing heavy expenditure have to be overcome or the investment must be abandoned. Finally a suitable logging ground must be located where the logs are to be dumped for rafting to the market.

When all this preliminary investigation is concluded the timber is purchased and the long period anticipatory to logging commences. During this wait the owner has to hold his own against the elements and the ever busy tax collector.
 Finally, perhaps, after a period of long years the timber is cut and the public asserts its further demands in addition to the carrying charges by claiming thousands of dollars cash or royalty fees.
 Last year the Government collected one and a half millions of dollars in royalties alone before the material that paid that amount was placed on the market.

 Toronto, Sept. 4—The seventh annual championship of the Canadian Golf Association opened yesterday afternoon on the course of the Toronto Club and, as was expected, the number of competitors broke the previous record of 135 by a considerable margin, 148 players turning in cards for the first half of the championship, and nearly a dozen others failed to make a return. The second half will be played to-day, and the championship is still an open matter, as there are ten players with scores of eighty-five or better, and the two leaders, F. A. Parker, of Lambton, and P. D. Ross, of Royal Ottawa, had cards of eighty-two, while George S. Lyon, of Lambton, six times champion, was third with eighty-three. Five players have eighty-fours and two have eighty-five.
COMER WAS SECOND
 Altoona, Pa., Sept. 4—Fred Comer won second place in the 250-mile automobile race here Labor Day and not Tommy Milton, as had been officially announced at the conclusion of the race, it is declared by Paul C. Pommer, official scorer, following a check of the tape of the electrical scoring machine. Milton had been given second place and Comer third. A loss of a lap for Comer in the operation of score board was said by the official to have caused the error.

WILL GOVERNMENT RESUME ADMINISTRATION OF PILOTAGE ON PACIFIC COAST?

DEEPEST OCEAN POINT LOCATED

Precipice and Volcano Are Found Off Japanese Coast

What is expected to form the centre of serious seismic disturbances in the future has been located by the Japanese naval survey ship Manabu, attached to the Yokosuka naval station, at sea bottom last thirty-five miles off Boshu district, according to exchanges to based on the liner Empress of Australia. The Manabu is assigned to the duty of making a survey of the coast facing the Pacific, more particularly along the coast where last year's earthquake caused serious damage.

While closely conducting a survey of Choshi Bay, Kanagawa, the Manabu described a deep bottom, and, on closer survey, it was found that the neighboring waters are the deepest in the world. The deepest bottom in the world had hitherto been believed to be east of the Philippines, where the sea is 9,558 metres deep, but the new bottom found off Boshu is more than 9,700 metres. A steep precipice exists in the water, and if this precipice collapses, a more serious earthquake may take place in Kwanto district, it is said.

The survey ship also found a volcano double Mount Fuji in height in the sea off Cape Ushio in Kii province facing the Pacific, and the eruption of the submarine volcano may cause ruin to Kwanai district, it is feared. The matter was reported at once to the Geological Department in the Tokio Imperial University.

It is expected that an investigation will be started by Dr. Inamura, geological authority of the University, on the reported discovery of the precipice off Boshu district.

Plan New Service With Great Britain

Melbourne, Sept. 4.—(Canadian Press cable via Reuters)—The Melbourne Argus says the Federal Premier, S. M. Bruce, is impressed with the scheme which the Government is considering to establish a fast fortnightly mail and passenger and a chilled meat shipping service between Australia and Great Britain. The scheme involves the payment of a substantial Government subsidy.

Bay Chimo Ready To Save Cargo of Lady Kindersley

Crew of Stranded Vessel Probably Safe on Bay Chimo by Now

Canadian Skirmisher Taking Cargo at Six Cents Per Ton at Vancouver

No further word was received today from the crew of the Hudson's Bay gas schooner Lady Kindersley. They are safely off the ship and are probably on board the company steamer Bay Chimo at Point Barry. The latter vessel, it is understood, will stand by for some days in the hope that she may be able to penetrate the ice field to the Lady Kindersley.

There is still a possibility that the Kindersley may be saved, and there is also the chance that the cargo on board might be recovered. If not, the Arctic's hungry maw will have a new titbit offered it in the shape of a big wireless outfit. In days gone by the northern waters have taken everything, from ships and men to guns, furs and provisions, but never before had they the opportunity to absorb such a fine radio set as that which the Lady Kindersley took north to be erected on Herschel Island for the Dominion Government.

LOCH MONAR TAKING BIG LOAD OUTWARD

Growth of Canadian Export Trade Indicated by Shipping

The development of Canadian products for export is being shown by the sailings of the United Kingdom-Continental liners out of Pacific ports. This growth also illustrates the tendency felt throughout the West to ship, when possible, by the water route out of Vancouver and Victoria. A total of 1,500 tons of Canadian products will be loaded out on the Loch Monar, now in port at Vancouver. This quantity is about an average barrel of general cargo for the ships sailing for Europe. The Loch Monar freight includes butter from

SEATTLE SHIPPING

Seattle, Sept. 4.—Intercoastal freight offerings are showing an upward trend, in the opinion of Floyd N. Bush, resident manager for Suddon and Christensen, agents for the United American Lines intercoastal service and its North European line on the Pacific Coast. He based his statements on all units of the fleet being booked to load capacity allotment for the next three months.

The steamship Mount Clinton completed loading here yesterday and shifted to Tacoma to discharge and load additional cargo.

Two hundred and nineteen passengers arrived on the Pacific Steamship Company's Southwestern Alaska liner Admiral Evans yesterday from northern ports.

The steamship Jacob Luckenbach of the Luckenbach Line, due here yesterday with general cargo from Gulf of Mexico and United States ports, will be tied up on discharging her cargo on October 6, M. J. Wright, general agent here for the service, announced yesterday.

DAMAGES AGAINST GERMAN STEAMER

Collided With Evans, Coleman and Evans Pier in Vancouver

Defendants Put Up Bond For $3,500 and Entered No Defence

Damages against the German tramp steamer Alich amounting to about $3,500 and costs, the amount of damages to be ascertained by the registrar and confirmed by the court were allowed by Mr. Justice Martin in the Admiralty Court at Victoria this morning. D. N. Hossie appeared for the plaintiffs, Coleman & Evans Limited and Evans Coleman Wharf Company. He asked for default judgment, damages to be assessed, defendants not having put in appearance. Affidavits filed to prove claim showed that when the Alich put into the port of Vancouver last month she collided with Evans, Coleman and Evans No. 1 pier, knocked the shed and pier two feet out of alignment, and damaged piles to an extent where they must either be repaired or replaced, and also did other damage.

The master of the ship agreed that the steamer, which was traveling under her own steam when she collided and was not being towed, was responsible for the damage, and the ship put up bond for $3,500 before the writ of summons was issued.

The affidavits showed that at the time of the collision and for some time before it the engines were not in reverse. She was caught between the tide and eddy and drifted in an easterly direction, traveling fast for a boat about to berth. The port engine was dropped about 100 feet from the pier, but did not stop the boat from colliding. She did not get close enough to No. 2 pier for a line to be got to her.

ONE VOYAGE DAILY FOR MOTOR FERRY

Remainder of Season Will See Sidney-Bellingham Boat on Half Schedule

The schedule of the motor ferry Motor Princess, of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, operating between Sidney, Vancouver Island and Bellingham, Washington, was cut yesterday from two to one round trip daily. The ferry now leaves Sidney at 10:45 a.m. and arrives in Bellingham at 2:30 p.m. She leaves Bellingham at 5:30 a.m. and arrives at Sidney again at 9:30 a.m.

The Canadian Pacific agents announced here today that the Motor Princess would in all probability remain on this schedule until the end of the month, for the motor travel shows no signs of slackening at the present time. Labor Day was particularly good, authorities report, and was only bettered by the Fourth of July crowds.

PRINCE OF WALES, NOW VISITING AMERICA, PHOTOGRAPHED IN HIS DIFFERENT MOODS

SETTING MALE STYLES—Here is the latest picture of the Prince of Wales for the tailors' trade magazines to show the latest thing in men's clothes styles, which all the fashionable young men in the English speaking world are said to be anxious to copy. The picture was taken just after he had got his outfit in London to start on his trip to New York, and from there on to Calgary. The Prince's style is a gray felt hat with black band. The rim is piped with white soft color, same material as the shirt, with solid dark tie. His coat is double-breasted, three buttons each side and squares off. The pockets are not patch pockets, but they have no flaps. The suit is of gray with a pronounced white stripe. Note that the cane has no handle to hook over the arm. His shoes are grey suede.

WISER NOW — Josephine Gang, sixteen, has gone home to St. Joseph, Mich., a sadder and a wiser girl. For when the lake boat landed at Chicago, she learned her "husband," Harry Moran, was not a millionaire California Furniture manufacturer, but a grocery clerk in South Haven, Mich. And then she was told he had stolen $100 from his employer and that he had another wife, besides. They had been "married" after an acquaintanceship of just two weeks.

KING DAVID'S PLATE—The plate recently presented to the National Museum at Washington by Miss Leila Lieberman, which is claimed to be the oldest in the world and was once owned by King David. It bears ancient Hebrew inscriptions and is about fourteen inches in diameter.

WHERE THE PRINCE EATS AND SLEEPS—This is the handsome mansion on "Woodside," the estate of James A. Burden at Syosset, L.I., where the Prince of Wales will do most of his eating and sleeping during the Meadowbrook polo matches. The Burdens will not be home, for they are in Europe now, so the Prince will have the run of the place.

LISTENING IN ON MARS—With Mars and Mother Earth running neck to neck, Dr. David Todd (left), former director of astronomy at Amherst College, and C. Francis Jenkins, spend many a sleepless night watching this automatic recorder set to pick up any unusual radio signal which the Martians might have flashed.

CHAMP STENO—Charles L. Swern, personal stenographer to the late President Wilson, won the international championship trophy in the National Shorthand Reporters' Association tests for the second consecutive year. He will retain it permanently if he wins it again next year.

MONKEY ON THE BRAIN—Little Freda Hoyle has no time for dolls since her dad brought home a monkey. The monkey has his own pipe and "speaks."

TRAVELS WITH PRINCE—Mrs. Richard Norton, beautiful Englishwoman, who was dancing partner of the Prince of Wales during his cross-Atlantic voyage on the Berengaria.

WITH PRINCE—Gerald Frederic Trotter, Brigadier-General, who is accompanying the Prince of Wales on his trip to the United States and Canada.

SCHOOL DAYS

WED "MYSTIC CULT" DISCIPLE—Mrs. Barbara Rutherford Hetch, daughter of Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, who startled the exclusive "400" circles by marrying Winfield Nicholas, a disciple and attendant of Pierre Bernard who has become known as "Oom, the Omnipotent," head of a mysterious organization known as Tান্তrik. Bernard, said to have once been a barber, is reported to have gathered into his meetings members of exclusive and wealthy circles and to have amassed a fortune. He ran afoul of the police a dozen years ago after neighbors had complained of "going on" but was dismissed for lack of evidence. He appeared some time ago as head of the Bras Burn Country Club, near Nyack, N.Y., where a new "mystic cult" was rumored as having been started.

HONORED BY FRANCE—Prof. John Souair of Toronto University, who has received the Cross of Chevalier de Legion d'Honneur from France. He is one of the authors of the French grammar used throughout Canada.

HIGH AND DRY—During a heavy fog the Cross-Channel steamer Newhaven went on the rocks under the cliffs at Dieppe. No lives were lost.

DARROW'S GREATEST FIGHT—Here is Clarence F. Darrow, veteran Chicago criminal lawyer, at the climax of the greatest fight of his long career—his battle to save Nathan F. Leopold Jr. and Richard A. Loeb from the gallows. Chief Justice John R. Caverly's court was crowded when the "old lion" began his final argument. Darrow was the attraction. And Darrow did not disappoint them. Despite his sixty-seven years, he was delivering the greatest oration of all his forty-six years at the bar. Never had a greater plea been made in the little court room. Behind Darrow sits his chief aide, Attorney Benjamin Bachrach (No. 2). Right back of Bachrach is Leopold (No. 3). Next to Nathan is Dickie Loeb (No. 4). Never once did their eyes leave the man who is making the last supreme effort to deny the state their lives.
