Licensing [ edit | edit source ]

This media is a faithful reproduction of two-dimensional public domain work of art and it was the result of a GLAM partnership between the Museu Paulista, NeuroMat and the Wikimedia Users Group in Brazil. The Museu Paulista of the University of São Paulo (also known as "Museu do Ipiranga") is a Brazilian history museum located in the Southeast region of the city of São Paulo and it contains a huge collection of furniture, documents and historically relevant artwork, especially relating to the Brazilian Empire era.

Attribution in English: Public domain / Museu Paulista (USP) Collection
Attribution in Portuguese: Domínio público / Acervo Museu Paulista (USP)

The author died in 1927, so this work is in the public domain in its country of origin and other countries and areas where the copyright term is the author's life plus 80 years or less.

This work is in the public domain in the United States because it was published (or registered with the U.S. Copyright Office) before January 1, 1923.

This file has been identified as being free of known restrictions under copyright law, including all related and neighboring rights.

Check what is already on Wikimedia projects

- Wikimedia volunteers have often already created Wikipedia articles and/or Wikidata items for part of the content you want to upload
  - Avoid creating duplicate items on Wikidata -> reconcile well!
- And there will already be some images on Commons
  - How do these compare to the (quality of the) files you want to upload?
  - Upload better images as NEW files (don't overwrite old ones)

+Edit summary or reason

This is a very powerful tool, and it is strongly suggested that you test your edits before running a batch task. You are fully responsible for your edits. Replacement is done row-by-row from top. Rows with empty or invalid pattern fields are skipped. When not using RegExp-replace only the first occurrence of the pattern in each file will be replaced.

| Nr | Flags | Pattern to match | Text to insert instead |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1. | R. → /R\./g /R/ %V% | lauthor=Peeter Allik | lauthor={{Creator:Peeter Allik}} |
| 2. | /R/ %V% | text or pattern to be replaced | text or variables to be inserted instead |

Preserve nowikis, comments. Do this as secure as possible (internal split into array). (recommended)
Also preserve the following areas from being replaced.
RegExp without flags enclosed in (): /(toPreserve)/ Example: /(<gallery>(?:.|\n)*?<\/gallery>)/

Salman Rushdie

A C-class article from Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Sir Ahmed Salman Rushdie[a] FRSL (born 19 June 1947) is a British Indian novelist and essayist. His second novel, Midnight's Children (1981), won the Booker Prize in 1981 and was deemed to be "the best novel of all winners" on two separate occasions, marking the 25th and the 40th anniversary of the prize. Much of his fiction is set on the Indian subcontinent. He combines magical realism with historical fiction; his work is concerned with the many connections, disruptions, and migrations between Eastern and Western civilizations.

His fourth novel, The Satanic Verses (1988), was the subject of a major controversy, provoking protests from Muslims in several countries. Death threats were made against him, including a fatwā calling for his assassination issued by Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, the Supreme Leader of Iran, on 14 February 1989. The British government put Rushdie under police protection.

In 1983 Rushdie was elected a fellow of the Royal Society of Literature, the UK's senior literary organisation. He was appointed Commandeur de l'Ordre des Arts et des Lettres of France in January 1999.[5] In June 2007, Queen Elizabeth II knighted him for his services to literature.[6] In 2008, The Times ranked him thirteenth on its list of the 50 greatest British writers since 1945.[7]

Since 2000, Rushdie has lived in the United States. He was named Distinguished Writer in Residence at the Arthur L. Carter Journalism Institute of New York University in 2015.[8] Earlier, he taught at Emory University. He was elected to the American Academy of Arts and Letters. In 2012, he published Joseph Anton: A Memoir, an account of his life in the
